The issue will be decided at a meeting late this afternoon.

CARVELL'S OPINION

Toronto, June 9.—Hon. Frank Carvell, Minister of Public Works, interviewed here Saturday, said he did not agree with the opinion expressed by Sir William Hearst, Premier of Ontario, that legislation enforcing an eight-hour day and collective bargaining was within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government. In this view it was for the Provincial Legislatures to take action if they desired.

STATEMENT BY W. J. BULLMAN

Toronto, June 9.—The Winnipeg policemen who had been performing their duties under suspension of the Strike Committee received an ultimatum from the Police Commission ordering them to sever their connection with the strikers, according to W. J. Bullman, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who arrived in Toronto Sunday.

NO IMPORTANCE

London Express Comments on Senate's Resolution Regarding Sinn Feiners

London, June 9.—"We do not mind it for it is purely domestic politics," said The Sunday Express in commenting upon the resolution passed by the United States Senate asking the United States peace delegates in Paris to secure a hearing for the Sinn Fein delegates before the Peace Conference.

"It affects the Anglo-American relations," the newspaper continued, "no more than if the House of Lords were to recommend that the Peace Conference receive a delegation from the Philippines to hear the reasons why their aspirations for freedom from American control should not be realized, or a delegation from Porto Rico with a similar mission."

"But as Kipling says, that is another story, and the House of Lords does not depend for its existence on votes, and there is no organized propaganda in this country to 'free' western islanders who are doing as well under the Americans as the Irish under the British."

SEAMEN'S STRIKE AT MELBOURNE CLOSSES INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

Melbourne, June 9.—(Reuter's)—Light and power restrictions have been imposed in consequence of the seamen's strike here. The result is that many factories are closed and thousands of hands idle.

The seamen's Union largely ignored the ballot on whether work should be resumed pending arbitration of the dispute. As a consequence in four states of the Commonwealth, the ballot was largely abortive.

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN OF THE R.A.F.

London, June 9.—(Reuter's)—A specially formed unit of the Royal Air Force will leave for headquarters in the field shortly. It will consist of twenty officers who were attached to the various army divisions. Their purpose will be to search for any possible traces of missing officers and other ranks of the Royal Air Force on the western front. This is being undertaken to ensure as far as humanly possible that no members of the force are being detained and lying helpless in the hands of the enemy.

GERMANS HOPED FOR SWISS REVOLUTION

General Staff Send Terrorist Agents; Hoped Revolution Would Spread

Zurich, June 9.—Via London, June 9.—At the trial of the twenty-eight alleged secret agents and anarchists who have been brought before a court here on a charge of having plotted to bring about an anarchistic uprising in Italy, Dr. Staempfli, the Swiss Attorney-General, yesterday severely scored the German General Staff for sending agents from Berlin "who maintained in Switzerland a terrorist service in order to bribe Italian anarchists to organize a revolution."

He said: "Germans hoped for a universal revolution beginning on Swiss soil."

Erless, one of the German witnesses at the trial, was attacked to-day at Zurich by Italian anarchists. He was roughly handled, his skull and several ribs were fractured and he is not expected to recover.

AMERICAN IRISH AGENTS SAY THERE IS FIGHTING IN IRELAND

Paris, June 9.—Guerrilla warfare of a character "which usually precedes a major conflict is going on in Ireland," declared Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, delegates from Irish societies in the United States. In a supplementary report which they have forwarded to President Wilson regarding conditions in Ireland.

Walsh and Dunne affirm that clashes between Irish volunteers and the army forces in Ireland, in which men on both sides are killed, are of daily occurrence.

Vancouver Man Gets Rid of Three Years' Trouble and Gains Twenty-six Pounds by Taking Tanlac

"I wasn't looking so much for gain in my back as I was for relief from my awful suffering," said C. A. Baldwin, of 1184 Seymour Street, Vancouver, in a conversation, recently, "but I have gotten both and, of course, I'm strong for Tanlac, for if ever a person had gotten in such a bad condition that it just seemed to boil with sour gas, I had no appetite, and what little I did eat would cause me hours of pain and misery. In fact, my food seemed to do me more harm than good. I lost weight and strength all the time, and if I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy for breakfast it would unfit me for work."

There was such an awful pain in my back at times that I would have to go home and lay down, and my nerves were so shattered that just any little noise would upset me. I could never get a good night's sleep, got up in the mornings all tired out, and that exhausted feeling would stay with me all day. Then to cap it all, I got rheumatism in my legs, arms and shoulders. My hands got in such a bad fix with this rheumatism that I could hardly hold anything.

"My condition was terrible and kept getting worse until someone talked me into taking Tanlac. Well, Tanlac has given me the surprise of my life. My very first bottle made a wonderful change in my feelings, and I just started to commence picking up in weight and strength right off. I have taken six bottles now, and my appetite is so big that I just can't get enough to eat. I can eat just anything without the least trouble afterwards, and besides getting all my strength back I have actually gained twenty-six pounds in weight and am still gaining. All the pain has left my back, my nerves are better than they have been in a long time, and I don't feel a sign of the rheumatism any more. I sleep just the way I ought, haven't felt so strong and well in years."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Avenues.

STATE OF IDAHO HAS HOT SPRINGS

Pocatello, Idaho, June 9.—Work immediately is to get under way for the rehabilitation of Lava Hot Springs in this country, insofar as the state's interests in the famous baths and medicinal plunges is concerned. The last state Legislature appropriated $5,000 for building purposes, as against the previous administration's $5,000 appropriation. Last term the fund was used for the purpose of erecting a bath house for the resort.

The state's plans are entirely completed and as Lava Springs have grown into a village of some proportions during the past three years and several institutions are in course of construction, including hotels, the state will endeavor to bring its property into popularity and make it a place of enjoyment for the public, as well as providing a spa of interest to the sick.

CONFIDENCE IN DELEGATES ASKED

Churchill Invites British Commons to Trust Representatives at Versailles

London, June 9.—(Reuter's)—Just before the adjournment for the Whitsun holidays, Sir Donald Maclean, Leader of the Opposition, opened a debate in the Commons on the present situation as regards the peace terms and the question of the respective military operations of the British and Allied forces in Russia. He contended that apart from unavoidable actions in the Archangel and Murmansk regions, it was a huge mistake to continue an unrefined policy of intervention there.

He enquired whether the importation of food into Germany was unrestricted.

Rt. Hon. Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, inter-rupting, said that very large quantities of food were being sent there by the Supreme Economic Council. Any concern in the country could send food there and could receive goods from Germany.

Sir Donald Maclean, in concluding his speech, expressed the hope that the blockade would be removed as speedily as possible.

CONFIDENCE ASKED

Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, replying to Sir Donald Maclean and other members of the House, invited the House to extend a generous and clear confidence to the representatives of the British nation in Paris. The negotiations, he said, were approaching that climax which usually arrive just before a settlement is reached. He submitted that the question of the publication of any part of the peace negotiations or documents should be left entirely in the hands of the representatives while they were endeavoring to reach the goal of a speedy peace.

As regarded the situation in Russia, he said, "we are endeavoring to wind up our affairs in North Russia, which we hope will become self-supporting before the end of the summer. Then we shall be enabled to come away, having 'honorably discharged our duties to those people.'"

TWO BATTALIONS

In Siberia, he said, there were only two British battalions, which were hundreds of miles from the fighting. They were stationed at Omsk, the seat of the Government, as a symbol of British sympathy.

Since the armistice was signed the British casualties in all parts of Russia had been 13 officers and 116 men killed, 34 officers and 152 men wounded, 2 officers and 36 men missing.

He ridiculed the idea that such a number of casualties in seven months represented operations that were likely to drain away British energies and resources and commit the nation to a vast overseas journey into the heart of Russia. (Cheers.)

Obviously, he said, the operations were more in the nature of police work than real warfare.

COMMISSION TO HEAR POLICE GRIEVANCES

Shortt Says Present Conditions in England Cannot Continue

London, June 9.—(Reuter's)—In the House of Commons on Saturday Rt. Hon. Edward Shortt, Home Secretary, who asserted that the Police Union had broken the agreement entered into last August and was associated with the extremist policy, stated that the Government had definitely decided by the present state of things could not continue. The Government, he said, would set up a statutory body under which the policemen would be entitled to take their grievances to the highest authority.

Members of the police force would be called from the Police Union and men insisting on remaining would cease to be policemen.

STATE OF WYOMING MAY BE TAXLESS

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 9.—Dreams of a taxless Wyoming may soon be realized. One section of state-owned land will be paying a royalty of $300,000 annually before the end of the present year, and if other state properties prove out anywhere nearly so well the annual revenue to the state will reach impressive figures.

Under the provisions of an act, Wyoming was given Sections 16 and 36 of every township for the maintenance of the same. In this manner the state possesses title to large areas and in many instances oil has recently been discovered on these tracts. It is from royalties on production secured on state lands that Wyoming may be enabled to meet its current expenses.

The lease on one of the most valuable sections in Wyoming is about to expire by limitation, and negotiations looking toward its renewal are pending. The section is situated in the Salt Creek field. The first sand has been largely exhausted, but it is believed that geologists acquainted with the field that the Second Wall Creek sand underlies the entire area. If it does, it is the most valuable property in the state. Last fall a well was brought in the same township and it is the largest producer yet discovered in Wyoming. It is from this sand that great production is expected.

An oil company which now holds the lease in question is paying royalties. Under the pending negotiations it is thought certain that the present royalty will be multiplied at least by four, and perhaps by five. The lease does not expire until December of the present year.

A Pimply Face or Poor Complexion Quickly Restored

Thousands of young men and women would be handsome and attractive were it not for unsightly pimples, blackheads, and rough uneven skin. Custom seems to recommend lotions and salves, but unfortunately their effect is but temporary. These disfiguring blemishes do not originate in the skin—their birth in every case goes further back, to the blood, which must be cleansed of humors before the pimples depart for good.

A physician who has made a careful study of such cases, says that the quickest cure comes from a blood-building medicine like Ferrozone. The minute Ferrozone strikes the blood its good work begins. Poisons and foul matter are expelled. Every trace of humor is driven out, and the whole life current is supplied with nutriment and health-giving qualities. You can always tell a Ferrozone complexion when you see it—the cheeks are clear and rosy, no signs of sallowness—the eyes are bright and expressive because rich, red blood is circulating through the whole system carrying health, energy and strength with it. Not only will all skin eruptions disappear, but an increase in vital strength, an all-round improvement will be apparent. No rebuilding tonic could be more efficient. Get Ferrozone to-day—Good for young and old, for well folks and sick ones, too. 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarisone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LORD RONALDSHAY ON BENGAL'S POSITION

Governor Delivers Interesting Statement on Eastern Dependency

London, June 9.—One of the most interesting of recent statements upon conditions of trade in India was that made by Lord Ronaldshay, Governor of Bengal, in the course of a lecture delivered in Calcutta. Lord Ronaldshay is a master of his subject and whilst he dealt almost exclusively with Bengal, those who have studied the question are aware that the experience of the rest of India, in the matter of trade and industry during the war, has been much the same as that of the great northeastern province.

Certainly the effect of the war upon the development of trade and industry in Bengal has been wholly favorable. As Lord Ronaldshay pointed out, it was only when war began and external sources of supply were cut off, that India was suddenly and unexpectedly thrown back on her resources and was faced with the problem of producing for herself what she could no longer obtain elsewhere. As the result of this, such activities as the iron and steel trade and coal mining have experienced enormous development.

Coal in Demand.

Bengal coal has been in great demand by the British government for military and naval work in the Mid-East, and is being almost entirely used on the military railways in Mesopotamia and for transports. Then, the

Will D. D. McKenzie be the Next Liberal Leader?

The temporary leader of the Liberal party in the House, D. D. McKenzie, is settling into his new job better than his nominators expected or hoped, declares J. K. Munro, in June MACLEAN'S. Will he be confirmed in the leadership at the coming Liberal Convention? "If anyone is making a book this summer, take a small ticket on Daniel Duncan McKenzie," writes Mr. Munro.

"The Undercurrents" is a pithy and impartial article, giving a great deal of inside information backed up by shrewd forecasts. It is the clearest and most readable review of political events published anywhere in Canada. For instance, did you know—

- That a regular old-time Conservative party was reorganized recently at the behest of Hon. Bob Rogers?
- That Hon. T. A. Crerar is at present the most potential man in the House?
- That D. D. McKenzie is becoming acceptable as a leader to many in the Liberal party?
- That Union Government through force of circumstances is safely settled in power for some time more?
- These are just a few of the points that the inimitable Munro touches upon. Read "The Undercurrents"—it is entertaining and enlightening.

The Best Articles for a Canadian Audience

Here are a few of the other outstanding features of June MACLEAN'S:

- "Victory Stuff." By Robert W. Service. The first of a new series of magnificent war poems by this famous young Canadian.
- "The Gold Wolf." By W. A. Fraser. A remarkable Western story by this well-known Canadian author.
- "Solving the Problem of the Arctic." By Vilhjalmur Stefansson. The third instalment of his official story of his five years' explorations for the Canadian Government, appearing exclusively in MACLEAN'S.
- "The Menace in the South." By Agnes C. Laut. A sensational article on the growth of Bolshevism.

The Best from all other Magazines

In the Review of Reviews Department is found in condensed form the best articles selected from all magazines published the world over. Here are a few of the best in the June issue:

- Would Armies Have Been Wiped Out?
- Muzzling the Truth at Paris

engineering industry has been working steadily, at high pressure, turning out war material of all kinds; while in the great iron districts of Bihar and Orissa new works have been opened in many places, and large extensions made to those already in existence. New blast furnaces have been constructed, and, as the demand is fully expected to continue, owing to the requirements of reconstruction, other blast furnaces are under contemplation. Finally, the development of these industries has resulted in the creation of others, such as the making of firebricks, tin plates, and sulphuric acid on a large scale.

Much to Assist. It is particularly welcome to find that the government, fully awake to the tremendous importance of these developments, has done everything it could to assist them. Thus, as Lord Ronaldshay pointed out, in the matter of the highly important leather trade, the provincial government is establishing a research tannery, while the impetus and encouragement given to the trade in recent years has resulted in the construction of two tanneries in Calcutta and the reorganization and reconstruction of others.

NEW YORK NOW HAS AERIAL POLICE FORCE

150 Flyers Compose First Body of Its Kind; Do Good Work

A volunteer aerial police service, fully equipped and composed of 150 expert flyers, which represents the first organization of its kind, is now ready for duty in New York City and is regulating aerial traffic rules in and about Manhattan. The work of this force will be to make aviation safe with regard to traffic and to prevent amateur flying which might cause damage to the city.

The value of the aerial service in time of fire will be particularly great, according to Colonel Thompson, who is in charge of the force, who cited the instance of the work done by two aviators at Minola at the time of the explosion at Morgan, New Jersey. Largely by their aid in reporting observations from time to time the city was kept safe from fire, he said. This incident prompted the establishment of an aerial police squadron for New York City which is considered as important as the police reserve of other branches.

"Another use for the aerial police reserve is that of observing the harbor and waterways," he continued. "The police boats cannot cover the distance so efficiently as aviators. The point of observation from a boat is not so satisfactory. The waterways must be policed and information of violations will be learned through aerial photography and records.

"With the coming of prohibition the air squad will undoubtedly be called on, for there is every reason to believe that smuggling from one state to another through the air will develop. Such business comes within the scope of the police.

"There were 5,000 aviators at Minola when the war stopped. The majority of these men do not intend to give up flying. They will enter the work commercially, for pleasure, or will become members of the police force of the sky."

FRENCH BOXER TAKES FIGHT FROM AMERICAN

Paris, June 6.—"Ted" Jamieson, of Milwaukee, National A. A. U., 115-pound champion in 1917 and runner-up in the amateur light-heavyweight class in the American Expeditionary Forces boxing championships was defeated by Lefevre, a French boxer, in the third round of a bout here.

"Do you act towards your wife as you did before you married her?" "Exactly. I remember just how I used to act when I first fell in love with her. I used to lean over the fence in front of her house and gaze at her shadow on the curtains, afraid to go in. And I act just the same way now when I get home late."

ASQUITH AND LORD FRENCH

Mr. Asquith's reply last Tuesday to certain allegations made by Lord French in a book on the war which is being published in serial form in the press, appears to have placed the Field-Marshal in a difficult position. Judging by the comments of British newspapers of all political shades the former commander-in-chief has raised a storm which promises to do him and his military reputation more damage than it will do to anybody else.

Among the accusations made by the Field-Marshal was one to the effect that the Government of the day did not adequately support him in the supply of munitions. In his speech last week Mr. Asquith read a letter written to him by Lord French at the time of the formation of the coalition Government declaring that "in the whole history of war no general in the field has ever been helped in a difficult task by the head of his Government as I have been supported and strengthened by your unflinching sympathy and encouragement."

Mr. Asquith also read from a report by Lord Kitchener in which the latter stated that he had been "authorized by Field-Marshal French to tell you that the present supply of ammunition will be as much as the troops will be able to use over the next forward movement." Mr. Asquith added that after the introduction of high explosive shells Field-Marshal French on November 6, asked for fifty per cent. shrapnel and fifty per cent. high explosives, but a week later telegraphed that the proportion of high explosives should be twenty-five per cent. instead of fifty per cent.

But this was not the most serious part of the former Prime Minister's rejoinder. In his book Lord French bitterly criticizes Lord Kitchener for coming to France on September 1, 1914, and "asserting the right to exercise the power and authority of a commander-in-chief in the field." Mr. Asquith intimates why Lord Kitchener made that trip. It was, he says, because the Government had been filled with consternation by the contemplated movements of Lord French. These movements, he explained, "would have had the effect of leaving the French army in the lurch in the moment of supreme need," and this also was the view of the French Government.

The former Prime Minister did not detail the nature of those movements, as far as the cabled synopsis of his speech shows, but as they are matters of record they will be made public in due time. It has been intimated elsewhere, however, that Lord French had informed the British Government during the retreat from Mons that the condition of his army made it necessary for him to withdraw it from the battle-line into the heart of France to recruit, and that the President of France, hearing of this intention, sent an appeal to London pointing to the deadly peril this would involve. That peril, of course, meant the destruction of the French army and the capture of Paris.

Following that message, it is further intimated, Lord Kitchener immediately went to France and forbade the contemplated withdrawal. Whether this intimation is correct or not will be disclosed later, but the intended "movements" referred to by Mr. Asquith, who, it should be remembered, is able to speak by the record, would have had to be of the most startling character to have had the "effect of leaving the French army in the lurch."

In his book Lord French criticizes the battle of Le Cateau, conducted by General Smith-Dorrien during the retreat from Mons, on the ground that the losses were so great that the "effect upon the British army was to render the subsequent conduct of the retreat more difficult and arduous." But in his official dispatch a fortnight after the battle was fought Lord French said: "I cannot close the brief account of the glorious stand of the British troops without putting on record my appreciation of the valued services rendered by General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien. I say, without hesitation, that the saving of the left wing of the army under my command on the morning of the 26th of August could never have been accomplished, unless a commander of rare and unusual coolness, intrepidity and determination had been present to personally conduct the operation." The natural query arises: why is the battle, declared by Lord French in 1914 to have saved the left wing of his army, now stated by him to have been a mistake which made the retreat of that army more difficult?

On August 29, 1914, the Fifth French army, on Lord French's right, delivered a successful counter-attack at Guise. In his dispatch written at the time Lord French said that he did not attempt to follow up the operation because "it was not a part of General Joffre's plan to pursue that advantage." In his book he now says that Joffre came to him on that day and asked him to hold his ground, but he (Lord French) declined to do as his army was not in condition to fight. On August 30, the book also says, Joffre again asked him to stand but he said he would not be in a position to do so for several days. Hence, while according to the Field-Marshal's official dispatches at the time, the plan for the long retreat—to the Marne—was Joffre's, his book now states that the French commander-in-chief several times wanted to make a stand and that he (Lord French) favored the longer retreat. Whatever may have been the actual situation certainly there are some striking contradictions between Lord French's official dispatches and his book which will have to be cleared up. The bitter reflection upon Lord Kitchener—unhappily unable to write a book in reply—will be very deeply resented in Great Britain and Mr. Asquith's grave assertion that the great war chieftain went to France during the retreat to forbid Lord French carrying out a movement "which would have had the effect of leaving the French army in the lurch" will accentuate a general demand for a full inquiry. Such inquiry may show, too, why Lord French issued his book before peace was declared. Was it to anticipate charges he knew subsequent controversy must produce?

NEGOTIATIONS DEADLOCKED

If the Provincial Department of Railways were incompetent to deal with railway matters it would not be difficult to understand why there should be a discrepancy between its own and the Canadian National's opinions in connection with the condition of the Victoria and Sidney tracks. Mr. Hanna is advised that nearly $6,000 must be expended before one mile and a half of the system would be capable of accommodating C. N. R. trains, and a like sum in the immediate future for shore protection. Premier Oliver, as Minister of Railways in this Province, is advised that about $500 should be sufficient to meet the case for the moment and allow the service to be resumed at an early date.

Hence, negotiations so far have reached a point where the Government-owned system is not inclined to pay for such repairs as it deems necessary, but contents itself with the suggestion that if the line is placed in order, as prescribed by its own engineer, it will operate it and maintain the service. But Mr. Hanna does not consider the C. N. R. should be asked to incur any expense up to that stage. Let us remind him, however, in spite of the two opinions, that the national line is seeking business on Vancouver Island where it has a competitor, a competitor already committed to considerable expansion immediately. Moreover, the island branches of the C. N. R. form part of the people's transcontinental, for which the officials of the road have prophesied a rosy future.

Aside from the novelty of the C. N. R. hesitating at $6,000, while it is spending $30,000,000 on general railroad works, let us remind Mr. Hanna that the people's system would get the benefit of the haul from Victoria to Sidney as well as the subsequent business. And, after all, $6,000 is not a very staggering sum to charge against the use of the road. On the other hand, if there is another objection to taking over the service it should be known quickly, because the people of Sidney and intervening points are much inconvenienced without adequate transportation facilities.

BERLIN "KIDDING" ITSELF

An energetic correspondent in Berlin appears to believe that the German counter-proposals are going to trap the Allied Peace delegates into a spirit of contrition. He says that while the German correspondents at Versailles take a gloomy view of the forthcoming answer, official circles in Berlin appear more hopeful.

We are some six thousand miles away from Versailles, but we have a sort of intuition that the correspondents upon the spot—and particularly German correspondents—are in a position to judge at least as well as official Berlin. It may not be overstepping the mark to express the opinion that Berlin, in common parlance, is "kidding" itself.

The German mind is still hopelessly out in its reckoning. It seems to imagine that a minor industrial somersault in France, a temporary differing view about certain sections of the Entente terms, will touch some sort of a button in Allied circles and create a tableau of Teuton design. But the correspondent—who says that German optimism is by no means over-reaching itself—crowns his yarn with the expectation that the Entente leaders will not dare to assume the moral responsibility of slamming the door in the face of the German envoys.

WHAT IS BEHIND IT?

In his letter of resignation to Senator Lougheed, Colonel Bell, Director of Medical Services for the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, does not specify in detail all his objections to the manner in which the medical branch of the organization is at present being administered. It is significant to note, however, that in his opinion, this branch has been made secondary in importance to almost every other branch. He likewise asserts that radical changes are necessary to make it an efficient and semi-permanent organization, suggesting, at the same time, that a partial investigation of the work of the Department by competent business men and physicians would prove the soundness of his criticisms.

The general public gets little chance of judging for itself in a detailed sense the management of such semi-military organizations as the Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment. It believes, however, that the soldier's gradual return to civil life through the hands of the Department should be aided by the best medical treatment it is possible to give. The Tommy's association with this branch of re-establishment is occasioned by disability of some kind, and it will strike the average mind that its medical section should be above criticism—and least of all from its director.

STILL RETAINS HIS SPOTS

Four months ago the German Peasants' Union met in conference at Berlin and advocated the restoration of the monarchy, declaring the ex-Kaiser's sojourn in Holland to be of a temporary nature, until things had "blown over." Obsessed with this idea and, presumably for the purpose of aligning itself with something in common with the trend of events, the League built up its own case against the ex-All Highest. It agreed that the blame should be placed on the exiled monarch; he should be made to answer to the German people for delaying his declaration of war until so late a date.

Sequels to classic works are not infrequently disappointing, the theme often becomes a little ragged and off the track. But Bernhardi still retains his original vision, for he has now delivered a new epic dealing with the ex-Kaiser's responsibility for the war. There is no ambiguity in his latest pronouncement; he declares unblushingly that Hohenzollern's guilt—his only guilt—lies in not beginning the war early enough when his opponents were not equipped. Did the disastrous application of his original theory oblige him to reply upon the German Peasants' Union to provide the theme for the sequel?

The leaders in the strike movement are not foreigners, he said. When he left Winnipeg there was no sign of a break in the deadlock.

London News Comments. London, June 9.—The Daily News, in an editorial on the strikes in Canada, quoting its New York correspondent as bringing out new facts, says that "the strikers' movement is the general strike committees in Toronto, ten members were born in Britain, four in Canada and one only in Russia. This, it suggests, is purely conscious evidence that such Bolshevist influence as is found in the movement is due to the attractiveness of the soviet plan and has nothing to do with the person of the leader, Mr. Morrow. Moreover, the paper declares, it may be said with confidence, that the idea most clearly working to-day in the labor world is the idea of the 'red union,' an idea which since the war has been spreading with great force in the ranks of unskilled workers of the western American states."

The New Statesman says it is no exaggeration to say that with the exception of these islands last March, no English-speaking country has come so near to industrial revolution as the Dominion at this moment.

The Spectator thinks the situation has not grown less serious in recent days, despite the discovery that the community can do much on its own behalf against deliberate and sustained efforts to paralyze its functions and facilities.

DAISY CHAIN CHAPTER HEARS MISSIONARY Miss Campbell, of Nasik, India, on I. O. D. E. Work. The Daisy Chain Junior Chapter, I.O.D.E., met at the home of the regent, Mrs. E. M. Love, on Saturday afternoon and listened to an interesting address by Miss Campbell, a missionary of Nasik, India. The members contribute $40 per year to the support of a small Indian child, Lilawati Lal, in the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission at Nasik, at which Miss Campbell is stationed, so that her account of the activities of the mission was of personal interest to the children of the chapter. I.O.D.E. in India. Miss Campbell announced that there are three I.O.D.E. Chapters in India, one in the Queen Mary High School, Bombay; one in the Industrial Home at Jaunpur, and one in Poona. The mission hospital at Nasik is supported solely by Canadian contributions and contains six beds supported by Canadian chapters of the I.O.D.E. The Indian soldiers who gave their lives during the great war. The Indian government has offered a grant of $2,000 to the building, and it is hoped to raise the remaining $2,000 in Canada. The missionary stated that the sum of $600 would keep a lady doctor or missionary for one year in India; $50 for a native teacher; $50 for a hospital bed $25 to keep a native convert in the Converts' Home, while $40 would keep a child for one year at the Zenana. During her tour of Canada she has addressed a number of I.O.D.E. chapters on her experiences in India. Chapter's Indian Protégé. An interesting feature of the meeting was the reading of a letter from Lilawati Lal, the chapter's little Indian protégé. To enable them to continue their work in this direction, the chapter plans to hold a sale of work and tea at the home of Mrs. Stuart Robertson in September. At the conclusion of Saturday's meeting, the chapter adjourned for the summer vacation, and will meet again in September.

RAILROAD RATES IN U. S.

Washington, June 9.—Investigation of proposed new tariffs and regulations on the shipment of all classes of perishable freight was ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission today at the request of the Director-General of Railroads, who has had the new regulations under discussion with representatives of producers and shippers throughout the country. Examiner R. C. Marshall was assigned to hold hearings at Los Angeles July 7, Portland July 16, Denver July 23.

JEWS APPEAL TO OTTAWA.

Hamilton, Ont., June 9.—At a mass meeting here under the auspices of the Canada Jews' Congress a resolution was passed calling upon the Dominion Government to appeal to the Peace Conference to intervene in the interest of the Jews of Poland and the Ukraine. It was stated they were being slaughtered and plundered mercilessly in both countries.

LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY.

London, June 9.—The offer to Colonel Adams, of the Canadian Medical Corps, of the Vice-Chancellorship of Liverpool University is cordially welcomed by the Manchester Guardian, which describes him as a genial man of affairs who has wide knowledge and many friends outside his own subject. The Montreal man may be expected to exert a powerful influence on the growth of Liverpool medical school, the paper says.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE AT ROCKSIDE FARM.

There's striking fever in the air, which does a lot of harm. And RYLANDS says the cussed thing has spread to ROCKSIDE FARM. With Wimpel's example, 'twas what might be expected. For chicks and pigs, like human genes, with notions get affected.

"'Twas one of Brigham Young's old hens, who now that eggs are dear, Refused to lay on Sundays, and called Joe a profiteer; So all the other feathered tribes, the cows and pigs as well, Went out on sympathetic strike—and then Miss Christabel—"

A rather ancient pullet, said, a hunger strike would mean That Joe would never twist their necks, because they'd be so lean. Then all the stock at ROCKSIDE FARM went on a hunger strike, They said: "We've got a Union, and we'll do just as we like."

But there they made a great mistake—they never could succeed, For Christabel, the chicks and pig, Joe forcibly did feed. He thrumped the pigs, and kicked the cows, crammed Christabel with meal. Although he used no stomach pump, my word! those pigs did squeal.

At ROCKSIDE now the strike is o'er, and peace reigns there supreme. The cows in such condition that the milk is all pure cream. The hens lay eggs three times the size, the pigs they live in clover. The roosters "Cock-a-doodle" crow, because the strike is over.

DEFINITION OF TERMS OFTEN USED BY FLYERS

Aerobatics—Aerial manoeuvre stunts.
Bank—To raise one wing for the purpose of turning.
Bumps—Disturbances or roughness in the air, due either to changes of temperature, clouds or wind.
Cockpit—The pilot's seat.
Cold Feet—A complaint, otherwise known as aerosthenia or nervousness of going into the air.
Conk—The engine is said to "conk" when it fails.
Dope—A preparation used to paint the wings in order to render them taut and weatherproof.
Dual Control—A system of levers and controls, for the engine and machine, so that either the pilot or passenger can operate them.
Flying Speed—The speed of a machine through the air necessary to maintain its support.
Gas-Bag—Slang term for airships.
Ground Speed—The speed of the machine relative to the ground, which may be equal to, greater, or less than the air speed; therefore, ground speed is equal to air speed plus or minus wind speed.
Knock—Slang term for a person learning to fly.
Knock—A peculiar noise emanating from the engine and indicating some kind of mechanical trouble.
Pocket Air—A disturbance in the air causing the machine to drop.
Pusher—A machine in which the propeller is fitted behind the main planes.
Quirk—A person learning to fly; slang term for pupil.
Roll—A manoeuvre in which the machine does a sideways turn or circle and then continues in the same direction as before.
Rider—Bar—a pivoted lever, foot operated, controlling the rudder.
Vertical Bank—A loosely applied phrase, referring to any bank over 45 degrees.
Volplane—A glide.
Wind Up—To be frightened of going into the air.
Zoom—To ascend very steeply after flying level at full speed.

This is how a High School girl recently parsed the sentence, "He kissed me":
"He," she began, with a fond lingering word that brought the crimson to her cheeks, "is a pronoun, third person, singular number, masculine gender, a gentleman, and pretty well off, universally considered a good catch, circumstantialized. "Me—oh, well, everybody knows me!" And she sat down.

NATIONAL OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP MEETING

Newton, Mass., June 9.—For the first time since 1916 the crack golfers of the United States got away at the Braeburn County Club course today for the national open golf championship. There were 135 starters with Charles (Chick) Evans of Edgewater, the titleholder among them. A drizzle last night slowed up the course and favored players, who depend more on carry than roll for distances. The greens were fast. The entire field will play eighteen holes to-day and eighteen to-morrow and the sixty-four returning the lowest cards will play thirty-six holes Wednesday. The player with the lowest card will win the title, a gold medal and $500 in cash. If an amateur wins he will receive a medal, and the $500 cash prize will go to the professional returning the lowest card.

Oak Bay Estimates—The Oak Bay estimates for the year, as passed by the municipal council on Saturday night, include a $500 grant for the Victoria and Island Development Association, $120 towards the Travelers' Aid Branch of the Y.W.C.A., $500 for the Victoria Public Library, $200 for the Victorian Order of Nurses, $225 toward the construction and upkeep of a municipal tennis court, and $25 for the B.C. Hospital Association. The rate for the year will be 18.9 mills net, as against 14.6 mills net, of last year.

HIS SALVATION.

"Crack! Crack! Crash!" The skaters turned and fled. But one less fortunate than the rest was overturned by the spinning crack, threw up his arms and fell in with a hearty splash.
"Help! He's drowning!" At last a ladder was procured. Cautiously approaching the pool, which was ornamented by the luckless man's head and shoulders, the park-keeper placed the ladder in position and commenced to creep along it.
"Come in a bit closer," he shouted.
"I can't swim," answered the impromptu bather.
"But you're only up to the waist," said the park-keeper. "You ain't got no need to swim. Walk."
"Walk, be blowed!" replied the other. "This water's eight feet deep."
"Eight feet deep," exclaimed the park-keeper. Then how do you keep up?"
"How?" retorted the bather. "Why, I'm standing on the fat bloke that broke the ice!"—Tit-Bits.

TWO CENTURIES IN YORKSHIRE-ESSEX GAME

London, June 9.—The cricket scores in matches played Saturday were as follows:
Yorkshire 348, Essex 354.
Hirst for Yorkshire scored 120 runs, Russell for Essex 118.
Lancashire 293, for five wickets and 123 for six wickets. Northamptonshire 306, and 95 for two wickets, a draw.
Nottinghamshire 255, beat Derbyshire by an innings and 33 runs.
Derbyshire 12 runs, all out.

OAK BAY INCREASES ITS LIBRARY GRANT

But Will Not Levy Tax as Suggested by the City

In the estimates passed on Saturday night, the Oak Bay Council allowed for an increase in its contribution toward the Victoria Public Library, following the request of the city.
During the last two years Oak Bay contributed $350 annually toward the upkeep of the Library or paid 2.06 per cent of the institution's upkeep. It was pointed out to the municipal council by a delegation from the City Library Commission, however, that if the municipality paid in proportion to its use of the Library it would have to contribute $900. The delegation suggested, therefore that a levy of one quarter of a mill tax on the general assessment for library purposes.
Oak Bay has rejected this proposal, but has increased its grant to $500.
By an amendment to the Library by-law, the city now has the right to deny the use of the Library to municipalities which do not contribute toward Library upkeep a sum which the city thinks suitable. Oak Bay takes the stand, however, that the large numbers of her residents who pay taxes in the city entitle her to use the institution. Whether the $500 contributed will be considered sufficient by the city remains to be seen.

PREMIER TO SPEAK

Mr. Oliver Will Be Guest of New Westminster Board of Trade at Dinner To-night

Premier Oliver left the city on yesterday afternoon's boat for Vancouver and, in accordance with arrangements already made, he will deliver an address at a dinner to be held under the auspices of the New Westminster Board of Trade this evening.
The Premier will deal with the present financial condition of the province and give to the members of the Royal City's business organization an account of his stewardship, touching briefly upon some of the most recent legislation.

"WHISPERING" FOR A LIVING.

The Recorder of London recently asked a Melbourne detective the meaning of "whisperer." "Did it mean a racing 'tout'?" The witness replied, "Yes, it is Australian slang." The Recorder did not know, and the Melbourne man made an inaccurate answer.
Strictly speaking the term is cosmopolitan. The landlady of London's Cafe Frocope, more than twenty years ago in the West-end of London. Their favourite me. My ears have been pulled down to my boots.
Borrowing is "pulling a man's ear." An everlasting borrower is "always at the earhole."
A racing "whisperer" is one who "tells the tale," not necessarily on the course. There are plenty of "whisperers" in the West-end of London. Their favourite "whisper" is that they can secure for a victim wonderful odds about some horse.—Tit-Bits.

UNIQUE WAR MEMORIALS.

At least two war memorials have been planned which are distinctly out of the ordinary.
The heroism of the Anzacs is to be kept green by a huge equestrian monument on the banks of the Suez Canal, where it can be seen by all who pass through that busy waterway.
An even more ambitious monument is a replica of the statue of Liberty which was presented some years ago to the United States by France, and which stands 300 feet above the water level at the entrance to New York harbor, bearing aloft a powerful electric light which can be seen from the Atlantic. A copy of this great statue has been offered to France by the United States, and it is proposed to erect it on the coast of France, near the mouth of the Gironde, where it will be a prominent object as seen by vessels passing through the Bay of Biscay.—Tit-Bits.

SEND A DELEGATE TO EXAMINE LEAGUE

Vancouver Business men Have Representative Here Regarding Loyalty League

That Vancouver organizations of business men are watching carefully the trend of events in Victoria, in view of the rapid development of the strike in the Terminal City, was shown by a special delegate coming over here yesterday to confer with the officers of the Loyalty League.

It was stated to The Times that the creation of a new organization—the Returned Citizens Law and Order League—has accelerated action. As messages from Vancouver published in this newspaper have shown, several bodies of Mainland city during the past week. It was therefore the mission of Mr. McKim, the business representative who was here yesterday, to inquire how the Victoria Loyalty League is organized, and how it will operate when an emergency arises. On that basis it is intended to model a similar body in Vancouver.

Mr. McKim indicated that it is the intention of Vancouver business men to maintain the services to the community which occur in normal times. It is stated that the meeting which was held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute, at 3 o'clock to-night under the auspices of St. James Church in connection with the movement in James Bay to reduce the cost of living.

Calgary inflated some time ago a distribution depot such as has been suggested should be instituted in James Bay. In the face of considerable opposition from business men, who, says Mrs. Grevett, strongly opposed a movement that meant less business and less profits for them, the women of Calgary set about business. A cartload of frozen chickens was the first large order secured, and this was distributed in the Calgary market. Fruit, coal, and other household necessities were next arranged for, and the Consumers League of Calgary is now a going concern, and is saving many dollars for the householders.

High Cost of Living Meeting To-night Will Hear Mrs. Grevett

Mrs. F. Grevett, of Calgary, who has proved such a source of inspiration to the workers in the interests of women and children on the coast during her present visit to Vancouver and Victoria, will address the meeting which will be held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute, at 3 o'clock to-night under the auspices of St. James Church in connection with the movement in James Bay to reduce the cost of living.

Beat You

Yes, he reached the top first, but at the expense of his stockings.

Perhaps this was your boy and you gave him a scolding. But it really wasn't his fault, he wouldn't be normal if he wasn't hard on stockings.

Because we knew boys, we designed Buster Brown Stockings. Made them to stand the strenuous use of the average boy.

We knitted them from extra-long yarn made by ourselves to ensure uniform quality. Our employees have had years of special training in knitting Buster Brown quality into hosiery.

We knitted good looks as well as durability into Buster Brown Stockings. They are made to fit—to give a dressy, gentlemanly appearance. They are suitable for any occasion.

Because of all these features, Buster Brown Stockings cost less—and they require less mending.

Will You Save Your Natural Teeth or Wear Artificial Teeth . . . ?

Here is a most important matter for your decision: either you will have your natural teeth cared for properly or you'll surely lose them through decay.

Nature's own teeth are undoubtedly the best teeth to have, and when decayed teeth can be successfully restored to a good condition it is nothing short of madness to have them extracted because of toothache and other trouble.

IT IS YOUR PLAIN DUTY TO SAVE YOUR TEETH—everyone of them. Otherwise you will have to lose them one by one, and, in the end wear artificial teeth. Now artificial teeth are very serviceable and efficient the way they are fitted to-day, but there's no getting away from the fact that NATURE'S TEETH ARE THE BEST. So your duty to your teeth—and health is plain.

Will you wisely see us before decay gets too firm a hold in your mouth?—decide to do your duty NOW.

Our modern service is moderately priced—fully guaranteed and there's every chance may pay as you can. Open each Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening.

GARDEN CITY INSTITUTE

Members Addressed by Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman Girls Present Laysette to V. O. N.

On Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman, Chairman of the Advisory Board of Women's Institutes for Vancouver Island, gave a most inspiring address to the members of the Garden City Women's Institute on, "How to make the Institute a Power in the Community."

A report on the Federation of Institutes was also given when Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman stated that the Women's Institutes of Great Britain and America wished to federate with those of Canada. It was to be noted that in Great Britain, $2,000 a year was now set aside to be devoted to the running of a school for the Mothercraft. During the afternoon, Miss Tina Grant on behalf of the Girls Club, presented to Miss Forshaw, the Victorian Order Nurse for Saanich, a layette made by the girls for the use of the Order. Miss Forshaw thanked the girls and complimented them on the efforts they had put forward in the making of the different garments.

Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman in a short speech expressed her pleasure at finding such a live club in the district, and commended the girls very highly for their splendid work. She then offered to give two special prizes for plain sewing made by girls and exhibited at the Flower Show in September. At the end of the afternoon a very dainty tea was served.

On Wednesday, June 11, at 2 p.m., the usual monthly meeting, will be held at the home of Mrs. Sea on Burnside Road, when Miss Maria Lawson will give an address to the members of the Institute.

ARMENIAN AND SYRIAN RELIEF.

To the Editor,—Thanks to the aid of kind friends I have been able to send off more than the hundred dollars a month for the starving people in the East, besides what I have collected from door to door, I may mention:

From an Israelite$ 5.00
Collected by Mr. Perry 7.00

The news received this morning through Mr. Pierce, of Toronto, is so appalling that one is ashamed of the trifling efforts being made in our city to help to rescue this great multitude of starving, dying people.

Rev. I. W. Pierce writes from his office in Toronto, 108 McKinnon Building, and sends a copy of the cable from Constantinople, April 1913. It is as follows:

"On the streets of Alexandria on the day of my arrival 122 corpses were picked up. This is far below the average per day. One-seventh of the refugees are dying each month. At Ejehmadin I look for a time at a refugee burial. Seven bodies were thrown indiscriminately into a square pit as carrion and covered with the earth without any suggestion of care for pity. As I looked at the workmen I saw a hand protruding from the loose earth. It was a woman's hand, and seemed to be stretched out in mute appeal. To me this hand reaching upward from the horrible pit symbolized starving Armenia. The workmen told me that the seven in this pit were the first load of thirty-five to be brought out from the village that morning. The cart had gone back for another load."

"The Turk and his racial confederates are carrying forward with growing efficiency the policy of extermination developed during the war by the method of starvation. Starvation is aided by typhus, already, as if in anticipation of the season, cholera is developing."

It makes one quiver to read it, but we must not quiver—we must help, and ask others to help.

Who will try to get up a big meeting that Mr. Pierce can address in Victoria. He suggests doing so in the autumn.

In the meantime, please will all help send something? We must help, and ask others to help.

We simply must help if we have any feelings at all, and don't forget to pray. Pray with all your hearts. Think of the suffering of the little children and the mothers; ask prayers of others. Cry out to God. He has the listening, loving ear, and He cares—far more than we do—He cares, the Father of All.

Surely our churches will remember

AN UNSOUND PROPOSAL.

To the Editor,—Your issue of the 6th inst. contains a proposal to build a transcontinental wagon road, also an editorial showing the heavy financial responsibility of the country.

Now this wagon road proposition is simply an automobile extravaganza and would cost, it seems, $35,000,000. How far would such a sum go in putting returned soldiers on the land, building smelters, if advisable, building docks, improving harbors and in many other ways promoting enterprises that are hanging back for want of money? What use would it be to assist in bearing the heavy burden of the $115,000,000 of interest that some one must put up out of hard productive work? None; the farmers do not want it nor the miners, nor anyone else who is busily and usefully employed.

As to the main roads in England the writer happens to have been brought up near to one, the main highway between Liverpool and London. It is a splendidly built road, by guess from 60 to 100 feet wide and finely maintained—but where is the traffic? Since the railways are running the travel on it is insignificant.

The railways and waterways are the main roads of the present day. If money is to be spent on roads let it be spent on roads acting as feeders to the ports and stations from farming districts, mines, lumber woods, etc., and local roads for farmers' produce into the larger cities.

What is wanted now is sound, bed-rock financing with every dollar working for economic production.

AN INQUIRY AND A SUGGESTION

To the Editor,—This city has been disturbed for quite a while in view of a threatened sympathetic strike. A modern sympathetic strike, as everyone knows, often develops into a riot.

I saw it stated, however, at one of the union meetings, that it was declared by resolution, or by one of the speakers, that it was determined that if the impending strike should come off, it would be made an exception to the rule and that law, and order

BRITISH CLOTHING NO CHEAPER.

Despite the 7 1/2 per cent reduction in the raw wool prices, effective April 1, there is little prospect of any decrease in the cost of wool clothing in Great Britain, as it will not be before the end of the year that articles made from the cheaper wool will be available to the public. Production charges are increasing, coal and carriage are likely to cost more, while the wool trade operatives to receive the same wages for a forty-eight-hour week as previously for fifty-five and one-half hours. The problem confronting the British woolen trade is to meet the enormous demands for civilian clothing resulting from demobilization.

CITIZEN.

If, in view of what has been said, disorder should occur, it would be conclusive evidence to the people that one or more of these three bodies has been false to them.

FORMER VICTORIAN DEAD

David S. McIntosh Stricken Suddenly at Juneau on Saturday.

Word was received in the city yesterday of the sudden death at Juneau, Alaska, on Saturday morning, of David S. McIntosh, formerly a well-known business man of Victoria.
 Mr. McIntosh, who was born in Glenora, Ont., came to Victoria about twenty-five years ago and for a considerable time was one of the proprietors of the Victoria Steam Laundry when it was operated on the present site of the Dominion Theatre on Yates Street. After disposal of his interests in this concern he engaged in business in Seattle, subsequently moving to Juneau. He returned to Victoria about eleven years ago to engage in the real estate business. Later he went back to Juneau, where he became connected with the laundry business, in which he was engaged when he was overtaken by death.
 Mr. McIntosh, who was about fifty-one years of age, had a wide circle of friends in Victoria who will be deeply grieved to learn of his death. He leaves a widow, a daughter of Mrs. Wm. McKittrick, of this city, to whom he was married during his first residence here. Mrs. McIntosh, who has been visiting relatives in Victoria and Vancouver, was just about to leave for home when she received a message announcing the sad news.

CONVULSION LEAGUE TO REDETERMINE BODY

Guarantees Assistance to Provide City With Adequate Meat Supply

Irrespective of whether the present unrest industrially in Victoria should terminate in a partial or general sympathetic strike, the Loyalty League at its meeting this morning resolved to continue its existence. For that purpose, and to interest the business men who cannot spare the time during the morning hours, evening meetings will be held, probably about twice a week, and the executive will continue to sit daily each morning.
 As the membership is by the nature of things free, it will be necessary to establish a fund for finances, and steps in this regard were taken to-day, with a view to a solicitation for funds. The committee decided to continue its work of education to remove the distrust and suspicion of the league's motives, which still exists in some quarters.

Meat Supply.

One of the most interesting features of to-day's session was the statement made by J. E. Dickson, Manager of Richards & Company's stores here, on the meat supply. Mr. Dickson stated that there is not a day's supply in his stores of fresh meat, and on the whole he estimates there is only about enough fresh meat available for the city to carry on for four days. Of other meats he estimates there is about ten days' supply. He indicated to the membership that he did not wish to incur liability of about $10,000 to get in an adequate supply from the northwest without a guarantee of being able to deliver it. He therefore asked the League to guarantee assistance in unloading the shipment, and was assured that such would be forthcoming through the Mayor by their members when the shipment arrived.
 The League funds itself itself still meeting the suggestions from outside born of prejudice. One of these is that in the case of a strike the sawmills would be operated by Chinamen—under the protection of the League. This, in fact, the chairman of the publicity committee explained, is mendacious upon the face of the statement, in view of the fact that many of the operations of the mill could not be performed by Chinamen. Therefore it is needless to say the League has no intention along this line.
 Members renewed their aspirations made at earlier meetings that no attempt would be made to intimidate or interfere in the present unrest, but that they were purely a protective body for the welfare of the whole group of citizens.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BOIL Doctor Said Abscess

Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscroft, N. B., under date of February 9th, 1918, writes as follows: "About five months ago a lump came on my jawbone. I thought it was a boil, and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger, and I went to a doctor and he said it was an abscess, and lanced it. He gave me a wash for it, so I went by his directions until it healed up, but it commenced coming again in about three weeks. It broke itself. I thought it would get better, but it didn't. A neighbor advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I sent and got a bottle, and by the time it was all gone the abscess had disappeared, and now it is all better.
 Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers, and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have never applied it to a cut, wound, sore or ulcer, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses. It takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes the growth of healthy tissue. So, too, when taken internally, by its power of eliminating all impurities from the blood and making that vital fluid rich, red and pure, it cuts off the origin and source of the foul matter that goes to make boils, pimples, sores, ulcers, abscesses and the like, and at the same time the purified and enriched blood creates healthy tissue where there was formerly, perhaps, a sore full of pus.
 Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for forty years. Manufactured by T. M. Muburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WHY DO WOMEN SUFFER

When There is Such a Remedy for Their Ills as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Mishawaka, Ind.—"I had such a severe female weakness that I could not do my work and I could not get anything to relieve me. A physician treated me, but it did me no good. I had been in this condition for three months when I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (tablet form) and it cured me. I keep house and am able to do my work now. I certainly praise your medicine." Mrs. S. R. OLDFATHER, 548 West Second Street, Mishawaka, Ind.

Women who suffer from such ailments should not continue to drag around and do their work under such conditions, but profit by the experience of Mrs. Oldfather and thousands of others who have tried this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found relief from such suffering. If complications exist write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years' experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

MINISTER OF LANDS REPLIES TO CRITICS OF HOUSING SCHEME

Explains Elasticity of Ten Years' Residence Clause in Detail

DOES NOT THINK COST WILL BE VERY HEAVY

Seeking to remove any misunderstanding which may exist in connection with the Better Housing Act and its working out between the Provincial Government and the municipalities of the Province, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, referred to various published items in discussing the question with "The Times" representative this morning. The Minister stated that from reports published the inference might be drawn that the Government is attempting to impose unfair stipulations upon municipalities in connection with the Act's operation. The situation, he says, is apparently not understood by some of the municipalities.
 "Under the terms of the Dominion Order-in-Council it was necessary for the Province to enter into arrangements with the Dominion Government in accordance with the terms of the Federal Order," said Mr. Pattullo by way of explanation. "There is nothing in these terms," the Minister proceeded, "that need worry anyone and they are the only terms which we are imposing upon the municipalities, with the exception of a special section, made necessary as a consequence of the Province giving a rebate of $300 per home to returning British Columbia soldiers. In respect of this section some misunderstanding seems to exist."
 "Ten Year Occupancy Clause."
 "I have seen it intimated," Mr. Pattullo recalled, "that we require ten years' occupancy of the property in order to take advantage of the Act. In order to prevent speculation, however, and so as to encourage home-owners, a soldier, to get the advantage of the rebate of $300, must occupy the premises for ten years. But in the case of his inability to do so for any cause, he can transfer his interests to another soldier, who can fulfil and carry out the conditions of the contract. Or in the event of the soldier not being able to find another soldier purchaser, he can sell to any civilian, in which event, however, the rebate of $300 will not apply.
 "This leaves the situation flexible and elastic, does not unduly tie down the soldier in case he finds it necessary to move; at the same time it will prevent speculation. The real reason behind any criticism that has been made," continued the Minister, "is that some municipalities feel that there is likely to be some loss, and this the municipalities hesitate to assume, asserting that the responsibility rests either with the Dominion or Provincial Governments."
 "When responsibility rests upon public bodies in connection with the Better Housing project," the Minister proceeded, "the least responsibility rests upon the Provincial Government. Yet the Provincial Government has not hesitated to father the measure, although the operation of the Act is certain to place some financial responsibility upon the Province."

Municipal Benefits.

"The argument used by the Ottawa Government was that the municipalities know their own requirements best; they specially and particularly benefit from the expenditure of the money, the relieving of housing shortage and the increase in taxable property, as well as the immediate general benefit to the community."
 "There is no doubt," Mr. Pattullo went on, "that the municipalities have the necessary machinery to handle the project with little additional cost, whereas if handled by the Provincial Government it would mean the creation of additional machinery and consequently increased cost either to the soldiers or to the people of the province at large. It seems to me that the communities which specially benefit ought to be willing to assume some of the responsibility."
 "The whole project," he said, "may possibly cost the Dominion something, may cost the Province something, and not impossibly may cost the municipalities something; but it will not be heavy upon any of these bodies, and the benefits to be derived will much more than offset the responsibilities involved. As a matter of fact, nearly all of the municipalities have already indicated their desire to participate in the benefits of the Act and have applied for very considerably more than their quota. An agreement," the Minister concluded, "has already been entered into with the City of Vancouver, which, of course, is the largest single allotment."
 W. C. T. U. Convention Postponed.—Owing to the prevailing winter conditions in Vancouver the W. C. T. U. Provincial Convention, scheduled to be held in the mainland city this week, has been postponed.

FINE MERCHANTS FOR NOT COVERING BREAD

Eleven Convictions Made in Police Court This Morning; Two Cases Remanded

Thirteen keepers of grocery stores and restaurants appeared in the police court this morning charged with not providing sufficient protection for bread against flies and dust as necessitated in the city by-law. Eleven convictions were made. In the other two cases the counsel for the defendants were granted remands until Friday.

Fines of $10 were imposed on the White Lunch, N. Pappas, T. Regas and J. Rabinchale and Copas & Young, Hannan & Patch, William Dann, Lou Poy, C. Codkas, Frank Triantafila and Edward J. Wall were each fined $5.

When the cases against Copas & Young and Mr. Wall were called strong objections were raised by the defendants. They stated that they had constructed proper glass cases in which to keep their bread and took every precaution in keeping their biscuits covered.

Mr. Wall informed the court that the door to the bread case might have been opened at the time. The firm had always done its best to comply with the laws and this was the first intimation he had received that they had not done so. He said it was impossible to keep the cases closed and seal bread. He considered the action not prosecution but persecution.

Lou Poy, a Chinaman, brought his bread case to court to show the magistrate that he had complied with all the requirements in the construction of it. However, the door was open when the sanitary inspector called. That was sufficient to convict him.

Several additional cases will be heard in the police court to-morrow morning.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor, I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over."

I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used a whole box, when I felt like a different person.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their heart."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OBITUARY RECORDS

The death occurred Saturday morning at the Jubilee Hospital of Richard Tyson, aged twenty-seven years, a native of England and a resident of Victoria for the past five years. He is survived by his widow, residing at 30 Dupplin Road. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2 o'clock from the Thomson Funeral Chapel, Rev. M. T. Habershon will officiate. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

W. M. Wilson, at 345 Grant Street, has received news of the death of his brother, S. T. Wilson, of Gladstone, Man., who died last week at the age of sixty-three years. The late Mr. Wilson was a well-known pioneer of the West, starting in the freighting business in Manitoba sixty years ago.

The death occurred on Saturday evening of Hannah Warren, relict of the late Capt. J. D. Warren, at her home, 826 Montreal Street. The late Mrs. Warren was a native of Lancashire, England, and seventy-eight years of age. The funeral has been arranged for Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 from the Thomson Funeral Chapel.

The remains of the late Herbert Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davies, 45 Boyd Street, who met his death in the wreck of the Princess Sophia, were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon. An impressive service was conducted at the Salvation Army Citadel at 2.30, Commandant Jaynes officiating. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends, while a wealth of beautiful floral tributes testified to the popularity of the deceased. The Salvation Army Band headed the funeral cortege, which wended its way to the cemetery where the last rites were conducted by officers of the Orange Lodge here.

HUTCHISON BROS. MAY BUILD PLANES HERE

Two Members of Firm Makes Flights Over City on Saturday and Are Optimistic

After making a trip in the Pathfinder on Saturday afternoon, Robert Shore, foreman of Hutchinson Bros., made the statement that his firm would most likely commence building aeroplanes in this city in the near future. He was greatly interested in the flight and surprised to find that travel by air does not produce all the sensations and involve the numerous dangers which a person usually conjures in his mind before going aloft.

Mr. Shore predicted a wonderful future for the aeroplane and believes that a new branch of manufacture awaits development in British Columbia. An interesting statement should be forthcoming in the near future from the company in regard to its actual construction policy.

D. E. Hutchinson, one of the partners of the firm of Hutchinson Bros., also made a flight on Saturday afternoon. On landing he paid tribute to the skill of his pilot and was unable to see any great danger in flying provided the pilot flew steadily and did not take chances. He also congratulated the Aerial League on its resources and initiative in bringing a plane to this city.

Owing to the numerous applications received from ladies who wish to fly, the league has decided to auction off the aviators being the first three women to fly in Victoria. The league removed the controls from the passenger's cockpit in order to eliminate any chance of mishap in case a person should become excited.

MAY ACCEPT TERMS

Minister of Lands Will Meet Mayor Porter This Week and Debate Housing Question Again

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, stated to The Times representative this morning that he had arranged an interview with Mayor Porter for some time this week, which an endeavor will be made to come to some arrangement in connection with the city's share of the national housing fund.

It is anticipated that Victoria may yet avail itself of $150,000 for the construction of some sixty houses under the Better Housing Act, and the Minister is hopeful that the present deadlock will be overcome by a better understanding of the agreement offered.

AGITATION KEEPS GIRLS AND WOMEN FROM PARK

The civic authorities have learned with some concern that as a result of a recent agitation, the park has become comparatively deserted by girls and young women.

The movement which has had this effect originated when the City Council was asked to cut down part of the broom in which, it was alleged, "degenerates" were in the habit of lurking. It was further stated to the Council that it was not safe for young women to enter the park alone at dusk.

Before this agitation arose large numbers of young girls and women were in the habit of enjoying the beautiful surroundings of the Park. Now, according to information reaching the civic authorities, only a few of the persons who formerly frequented the resort are to be seen there.

Mrs. Callen—"I suppose you find your daughter very much improved by her two years' stay at college?"

Mrs. Proud-Mother—"Oh, yes. Mary is a carnivorous reader now, and she frequently imitates music. But she ain't a bit stouter up, she's unanimous over everybody, and she never keeps a caller waiting for her to dress; she just runs in, non de plume, and you know that makes one feel so comfortable!"

Dominion Tire Leadership
Attested by Continued Popularity

DOMINION TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

After all, the best proof of the quality of a tire is in the number of motorists who have used it and continue to use it. There may be some personal reason for the people in one town or one section of the country buying a particular tire. But when the motorists of an entire NATION prefer Dominion Tires, there can be no question that Dominion Tires have made good on every type of car, under every condition of road and climate.

Dominion Tires Have Proved Their Leadership in Every Section of Canada

for business as well as for pleasure; on small cars and delivery rigs as well as on touring cars and stately limousines. The enormous demand for Dominion Tires has resulted in a corresponding increase in production; and this increased production in turn has resulted in Dominion Tires being manufactured at a lower cost per tire. This saving in manufacturing cost will now be shared with all motorists who believe that Dominion Tires ARE good tires. The following popular sizes indicate the trend of prices for Dominion Tires effective June 2:

SIZE	NOBBY TREAD	CHAIN TREAD	DOMINION NON-SKID	GREY TUBE	RED TUBE
30 x 3 1/2	$22.75	$21.75	$20.70	$3.25	$3.60

COURT OF APPEAL

Case of Royal Bank vs. McLeod Heard To-day Raises Interesting Point. The Court of Appeal to-day is hearing the case of Royal Bank, Plaintiff (Appellant) and John McLeod, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., is counsel for the Bank and John A. MacInnes appears for McLeod. The appeal is taken from a judgment rendered by Mr. Justice Clement last March. The case involves a very interesting question with regard to banks, and that is, whether if among several securities for general indebtedness the bank has a small mortgage and after obtaining a quit claim to the mortgage for the purpose of selling, it does sell and realizes a nominal amount the bank can be enjoined from suing for the balance of the indebtedness. Mr. Justice Clement held that the bank could be so enjoined, and this point is the issue in the appeal.

WAR GARDEN BRINGS GIRL INTO TUNNEL

Fell Down Shaft and So Saved Life of Lover

Upon the open pages of the paper-backed edition of "Her Sainted Love" fell two large and shiny tears. The erstwhile owner of the tears beheld them with dismayed surprise. The eyes widened, the chin quivered for a moment and then she threw "Her Sainted Love" against the opposite wall with a sudden whack.

"Boots," which will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria all this week, the owner of the tear-stained eyes, was done with the crying. Also, with paper-backed books—that told of sainted lovers. To her trusting mind the thing had worked out differently. Her sainted lover had apparently turned out to be a devilish liar instead.

She remembered how she came by her name—through shining the shoes of the boarders in the London apartment. She reflected on the landlady whose fish-wife tongue had curled around nothing but abusive adjectives in the four years of her service. She had stood it because, orphaned, she had no place to go. She recalled the moments stolen with some book or other in learning to read and write. And her war garden. She looked wonderingly at it now. It was growing, and the only reason it was, was because of HIM.

She had come to the boarding house late at night, in fact, just after that woman boarder whom Boots hated with all the fire of her-soul. She had blacked his boots and this woman's, and there had been so many that she could not remember them. She had stepped into a pair of his and clattered through the hall to the rooms, in her blithe spirit of youth, reaching his door after a standing jump, in his broad footgear. And he had opened the door in front of her. She smiled sadly as she remembered how she had run down the hallway.

Then this woman, Mariana, she called herself, and had her room full of those horrible statues. She was always pounding on something, and she made Boots feed her pet mice, an operation that sent the cold chills up the little slavey's back. Boots knew there was something wrong with this woman, for ever since the little romance between Boots and Everett White had begun to develop, Mariana had been stepping in the way.

What she did not know was that Mariana was one of a Bolshevik council, that her business in this house was to locate an underground passage, and on a certain day when the world peace delegates would be in the building next door, place a bomb beneath the place and blow the peacemakers to atoms. White had taken no interest in this Mariana woman at first, but with Boots had nourished the war garden and told her ever so many things that she had needed to know. And that day they had gone punting; he had saved her from drowning, and she had called him her hero.

But to-day had brought her little castle crashing down around her ears. She had found him—kissing Mariana. She did not know that White was really a Secret Service man, and that he was there primarily to block Mariana in her murderous attempt. And White could not tell Boots, who he loved dearly, why he had been doing the things that were breaking her heart. It was the end for Boots, her faith was broken.

Boots gazed at the war garden. It presented itself in an array of boxes filled with dirt and many growing plants. More dirt was needed. So, trudging down the stairs, pail and shovel in hand, she reached the back yard and began to dig. In her need for the physical expense of her emotions, she sank the shovel deep and fast into the soft dirt. Suddenly the earth gave way, and in the mass of falling dirt she landed ten feet or more below in an underground tunnel. Dazed for the moment, she sat up and stared, then listened. There were sounds of a struggle near her, a moan and then a ticking sound. Boots crept along the floor until she saw a faint light. There stood Mariana, bending over a black box which she was adjusting. On the ground near her lay White, bound and gagged.

Boots crept stealthily behind the woman and leaped upon her, bringing her to the floor, and in the struggle succeeded in dazing the adventuress and tying her. She tore the gag from White's mouth, in time to hear him cry out to her to throw the bomb outside.

Seizing the engine of death, Boots ran wildly through the tunnel until she saw light. An entrance had been cut through the room occupied by Mariana. Through this ran the little slavey and out to the rear of the house, where she cast the bomb from her into the river below. A moment later came the crashing roar of the explosion. Boots fainted, and when she awoke it was in the arms of the man she had thought was traitor to her.

Comedy Special REILLY'S WASH DAY

Lewis J. Seznick announces that he has had Eugene O'Brien insured for $1,000,000, this being the first instance in which a producer has protected himself by placing "limit insurance" on a male star. As one expression of the importance of the series of Seznick pictures to be made starring Eugene O'Brien, this corporation announced that it has taken out policies on the life of this popular star, which set a new record in this field. H. E. Rosen, the agent in the transaction, said this week that the companies are writing their limit on Mr. O'Brien's life, and that several have already issued policies for $100,000 each, toward the aggregate total which will reach $1,000,000.

Douglas Fairbanks is thirty-six years old, because he declared a holiday last week and the whole studio helped him celebrate even his young son came out West for the express purpose of seeing daddy. Several barrels of powder and a case of blank cartridges were used in the various Wild West dances and other amusements. Fred Burns, the famous cow puncher gave Doug a real Wyoming horse and others in the company presented the celebrated star useful presents.

ANITA STEWART IS HEROINE OF PLAY

Will 'Star at Dominion in "Mary Regan" This Week

Miss Anita Stewart in "Mary Regan" which will be shown at the Dominion has the part of a beautiful girl who, aided by a detective, saves from a coterie of society blackmailers and intriguers a dissipated young man whom the plotters are ruining to get his money. The picture takes the movie lover through that fascinating region, the Broadway "white light district" where the profiteers of "Big Business" spend their bloated fortunes, watched vulture-eyed by genteel cut-throats. In this setting of hollow splendor, where hearts are broken as the painted women dance and the champagne corks pop, Miss Stewart appears as Mary Regan, daughter of a society woman, and of a notorious criminal. Her mother is dead, but her father is serving time for a crime which put his name on every newspaper's first page. The disgrace is keenly felt by Mary who is determined that she will never marry and force a man to help her bear the shame. This is her reason for refusing Robert Clifford, a young detective who was present at the arrest and conviction of her father, but who has seen enough of Mary to satisfy himself that she is sincere in her desire to live a worthy life. No sooner has she turned from Clifford than she is surrounded by the society leeches, who knew her father, and whose leader, Peter Loveman, recognizes in her the making of a splendid bait for prospective victims. Loveman invites Mary to aid him. She refuses, but still bent on using her, Loveman sends Jack Morton, the son of a wealthy man, who has been reprimanded by his father for following the "primrose path" of Broadway, to a mountain hotel where Mary is staying. Young Morton is in charge of a lieutenant of Loveman's, who is to "reform" the young man. Mary sensing Loveman's intention of robbing the young man who is to come into an inheritance soon, undertakes to watch over him. He makes love to her and she consents to marry him, out of a desire to protect and reform him. They are married, but are separated when the elder Morton finds them, and cannot get a proper explanation for their presence together at a hotel. These events, and others which rapidly follow lead to the capture of Jack Morton by the plotters, and the biggest scenes of the picture come when Clifford then breaks into a Broadway cabaret, where Jack is being held in a private room, to rescue him. The place is completely wrecked, the blackmailers are arrested, and then comes the picture's biggest surprise.

ALEXANDER WILL RETURN NEXT WEEK

Man Who Created Furore Will Be Back at Royal Victoria

To those who witnessed and were mystified by the unusual performances of Alexander, "The Man Who Knows," during his previous local engagement, he now that he is to return for a special stay will be welcomed, while those who failed to see him will doubtless be on the qui vive for his appearance, scheduled for the Royal Victoria Theatre for a period of six days, opening June 16, with a special matinee for the ladies only on Friday and a general matinee Saturday. Alexander has enlarged the magical part of his show this season until the press wherever he has appeared has conceded the Alexander attraction to be the greatest mystery show that has ever toured. Of course it is the famed Simla Science that has caused his name to be the sesame to the world of science, for it is in this that, while trying to answer questions, written in any language and sealed in any manner desired. Something in human nature compels every individual to knock at the door of the future and Alexander gives a most interesting as well as astonishing example of opening the door at least a little way and letting some one in turn have a peep into his coming fate. Sensibly enough Alexander does not claim any supernatural power, nor pretend to be a medium of spiritualistic communication. But he does claim that his success in the psychic field is owing to a lifetime of study and to his power of concentration and his use of the positive knowledge that lies in the field opened by that power. While the Simla Science is admitted by scientists the world over to be the ultimate in occult, Alexander is this season presenting a series of tests that have never before been given publicly. Included among these is the famous slate test, in which a question selected at random and a verse in the Bible appear mysteriously upon the slate, the same being held by prominent people in the audience, hereby obviating any probability of rickety on the part of the mystic. As Alexander explains, if there is any "ske attached" to the experiment the auditors themselves must of a necessity be responsible for it, as they lean the slates, tie and hold them during the demonstration. The Nartel Sisters, vivacious twins from the Far East, are introducing to lovers of Oriental dances the best from an extensive repertoire, including a recent creation, the dance of Abbai Radhi Myral, or the crystal dance of India, a subtle number which allows them ample opportunity to display their knowledge of the esoteric theosophy of motion. They are proud of the land of their nativity and are conscientiously endeavoring to perpetuate their own folk dances. Lillian Marion, a prima donna soprano of renown in light and grand opera circles, will be heard and seen in a number of her specialty songs, and for her pleasing voice, commanding stage presence and unusual personality fitting in consistently with the atmosphere engendered by the impressive stage setting and incidental music.

NEW GOLDWYN FILM NOW AT COLUMBIA

"A Man and His Money" Will Be Here Three Days

Unique and replete with touches of originality is the description given of "A Man and His Money," the new Goldwyn Picture, in which Tom Moore will be seen at the Columbia for three days beginning to-day. It is a comedy-drama of society life, with a background of polo matches, country-club, fashionable drawing-rooms and mountain lodges. By no means a light play, in spite of its delicate character drawing and satire, "A Man and His Money" tells the story of a young man who is made aware of the futility of his life when his fiancée breaks their engagement. Promptly he gives up his luxurious bachelor quarters, assigns his income to an attorney, and resolves to make his own living. Naturally his harrer adventures begin at this point. Forced by necessity, he becomes caretaker of a wealthy woman's four dogs, thereby earning the added contempt of the girl he still loves when she sees him at his lowly tasks. Unknown to both, the girl is on the brink of great danger through the attentions of another man. The plot involving her is unconsciously furthered by Harry Lathrop (Tom Moore), who, when he realizes what is about to befall her, makes a powerful effort to avert a catastrophe. How he succeeds—and at what cost—is splendidly told in the succeeding scenes. Chief in the support of Mr. Moore is the beautiful Seema Owen, an ideal foil in a comedy-drama of society life such as is found in the new play. Best known for her Attarea "The Princess Beloved," in D. W. Griffith's "The Fall of Babylon," Miss Owen surprises her admirers in the Tom Moore play by portraying a modern girl with equal charm and distinction. The beautiful gowns she wears as Betty Dalrymple in the latter play she wears with no less perfect effect than the barbaric raiment in the Biblical play. And her acting is as subtle and delicate as the new play demands.

STIRRING STORY FOR THE VARIETY PATRONS

"Hearts of the World" Will Be Here This Week

Picture fans who for various reasons missed seeing David Griffith's masterpiece of the great war, "Hearts of the World," during its original presentation at a local theatre a few months ago, are to enjoy the privilege of seeing it this week, when it is to be presented on the Variety screen, and doubtless there will be many among those who have already viewed the absorbing photodrama of love and war in a Northern French village who will want to see it again. "Hearts of the World" required eighteen months in the making and many of the scenes were taken on the actual battlefields of France by

Mr. Griffith, with the official aid and assistance of the British and French Governments. Mr. Griffith, however, is anxious to remove any apprehension that "Hearts of the World" is primarily a war picture. It is, he announces, primarily a love story, in which war figures as the grim background. It may be called "the story of a village," and for more than forty minutes during the exposition of the story there is not a cannon shot, not a suggestion of war's alarms. There is the pretty romance of two girls each in love with the same man; there is the quiet and peaceful atmosphere of a small French town before the holocaust of the war. Then comes the conflict, with its ensuing effects upon the fortunes of those in the little village. The battle scenes shown are actual battle scenes taken right in the trenches during the death struggles of the French and the Germans; only occasionally has it been found necessary to piece the story of the battles together by means of acted scenes. Thus one sees the life in the trenches; the charges of the French soldiers; the thrilling hand to hand conflicts and the thrust of bayonets; the havoc of the shells; the great guns in action; the tanks; the attack by liquid fire; the charges and the retreat; the German pill-boxes; the flight of the villagers; the ruthless destruction of property; the treatment of young girls who fall into the hands of the Germans; and other things too numerous to mention, the whole culminating in the arrival of the American troops, of ultimate victory and a hint of future happiness for those who have endured this terrible struggle. Mr. Griffith is anxious to have it understood that while "Hearts of the World" deals with war and love, it is a drama he has staged rather than a propaganda film. Prominent in the cast of "Hearts of the World" are the beautiful Dorothy Gish, sisters Lillian and Dorothy, Robert Harron, George Fawcett, George Seigman and other well-known players. Mildred Moore leading woman for Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran at Universal City, is an accomplished musician. Though she plays piano, sitar, oboe, Jew's harp, banjo and accordion, she is applying herself to master the piccolo. Niles Welch, who supported Enid Bennett in the latest picture of her making, has been retained as leading man for her in a new production, which she will begin in a few days at the Thomas H. Ince Studio in Culver City, Cal.

Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne in Metro Picture

An elaborate charity ball is one of the noteworthy features in "Under Suspicion," a Metro picture starring Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, which will be presented at the Romano to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The orchestra was stationed in front of a golden, shell-shaped sounding-board, festooned with electric lights. It is at this charity ball that the great robbery of the Woolworth diamonds is enacted with such gripping realism.

Euegen Pallette, who has just returned from the United States army, will play the part of the villain, the William Fox play that Scott Dunslop is putting on with Albert Ray and Ellnor Fair as his stars.

DANDY TABLOID IS CHEERY TOPLINER

Bright Musical Comedy Leads on New Bill at Pantages This Week

The sunny tabloid musical comedy, "Some Baby," starring Agnes Burr and Johnnie Keenan, is the topline feature at the Pantages this week.

Coming next in prominence on the billing to the headline attraction is the offering of Stever and Lovejoy, a clever singing and dancing team who are making their initial debut in vaudeville after several successful seasons as musical comedy stars.

Madie De Long, a clever character comedian offering a series of type-studies ranging from the Swedish maid to the youthful male baseball fan, will delight audiences with her originality and "pep." In her baseball number Miss De Long imitates the antics of a pitcher in a game for great comedy results.

The Victoria Four are a quartette of male singers offering a routine of popular and classic music in unison and in solo.

Will Morris is a cyclist-comedian who performs thrilling stunts on a bicycle while offering much comedy pantomime.

PRICE OF BERRIES HIGHER THIS YEAR

Strawberries Will Bring $4.50 to $5 a Crate; Large Shipments This Week

Local strawberries will sell to the consumer at a price ranging from $4.50 to $5 a crate this year, which is considerably higher than the price paid during other years.

Gordon Head has been shipping strawberries to the local market in small quantities during the past week, but it is anticipated that by the end of this week large shipments will be moving.

As announced some time ago, the necessary number of strawberry pickers to handle this season's crops has been enlisted.

The world's ship tonnage before the war, of ships over 500 tons gross, was approximately 40,000,000, of which the British owned 18,500,000.

Registration is still proceeding for these fields at the Women's Branch of the Government Employment Office. Pickers are also required for the Okanagan fruit crop, in connection with which a special transportation rate of one cent a mile has been arranged, full fare to be paid on returning.

BELGIAN INDUSTRIES WRECKED BY WAR

Careful Scrutiny of Conditions is Made by Expert Investigators

The present condition of Belgian industries is described in a report to the Department of Commerce from the Commissioner Harry T. Collings at Brussels. This report is based upon information supplied by the Comité Central Industriel de Belgique, the official organization of the Belgian government, which was charged with the collection of information regarding the destruction of property in Belgium by actual warfare or with deliberate intention of crippling the country's industries. The information which this committee has collected shows innumerable cases of the destruction of industries.

Some Spared.

"Some industries, however, have been spared. The interests of the invaders themselves induced them to respect to a certain extent the food industries (mills, sugar refineries, breweries, etc.), the public utilities (gas, water, electricity and telegraph works), and coal mines. Other enterprises were taken possession of and exploited to the profit of the enemy in spite of the resistance by their owners and workmen. All these industries have, in the main, preserved their equipment and will be able to render valuable assistance in the work of economic reconstruction, provided they receive the necessary support.

"Actual warfare in Belgium caused much destruction, particularly south from Antwerp to Termonde and throughout West Flanders. In other parts of the country the destruction was largely warlike, the Germans having removed driving belts, copper, electric motors and all tools, even when raw materials were not taken.

"The coal mines, which continued to work in fact, with the exception of the abnormal wear and tear on equipment—notably the hoisting cables, which will call for immediate replacement—great numbers of coal miners have been left without fuel and have suffered confiscations of metal, baking apparatus, etc. Partial operations have, however, been resumed.

"Charleroi, which were requisitioned and placed under forced operation by the enemy, all large steel plants have suffered considerable dismantling and destruction, which will entail prolonged idleness.

"A certain number of shops, especially those devoted to locomotive and car construction, were spared, the owners being permitted to exploit them for the needs of its railroads. They will be able to resume production as soon as supplied with the necessary raw materials.

Pottery and Chemicals.

"The amount of damage to the pottery industry is variable. A few works have resumed work, while others have been halted by the loss of belts or electric motors. On the whole, partial operation is possible. The glass industry situation is analogous to that of the pottery industry. With a few exceptions, the plate and window glass factories are in shape to resume work.

"The great chemical industries have unfortunately suffered very severely. Of twenty-seven plants which were manufacturing sulphuric acid before the war, only five have been able to keep their lead chambers and remain in condition to operate. At the present time the best method is being sought to work them for the profit of the entire industry. On the other hand, the soda factories of the firm of Solvay Co. are in condition to operate provided that they can obtain belting and other materials of like nature. The powder factories are, as a rule, in the same condition, although the manufacture of dynamite and safety explosives have been seriously affected. Plants making matches, mineral and vegetable oils, soaps, pigments and pharmaceutical products are in a position to resume work. The linseed industry in West Flanders is in bad shape. There is no exact information available as to other chemical industries.

Food and Metals.

"In general, food industries have been spared; the requisitions of copper from the refineries and breweries did not result in all the consequences feared, as it was found possible to employ iron to replace copper. Many replacements will be necessary, however, because of lack of upkeep.

"At Ghent, the principal centre of the cotton industry, the situation is as follows: The Belgian cotton industry comprises 1,600,000 spindles and 250,000 twisting spindles, of which about 300,000 spindles are in a position to resume work immediately, as soon as the raw material (American and Indian cotton) and the operating accessories, such as belts, cables, coal, oil, grease, etc., are available. About 400,000 spindles may be put in operation in three or four months' time, if they can obtain bronze (for transmissions, etc.) and other accessories. The remaining 400,000 spindles must remain idle for a longer period because of the removal of copper, turbines, electric motors, etc. The essential equipment (spindles) of these establishments has, however, suffered little or not at all.

Weaving.

"The weaving factories, on the whole are in a position to resume work with the chief part of their equipment, as soon as the raw materials (chiefly spun cotton) and such industrial accessories as belts, cables, coal, oil, grease, gams, etc., are obtainable. Part of the looms must remain inactive for a time because of the removal by the German army of axles, transmissions, pulleys and the copper of the sizing and soaking machines.

"The lumber and furniture manufacturing situation is not very bad, except for the loss of numerous wood-working machines. A serious consequence of this was the loss of the stocks of dried and seasoned lumber, the replacement of which, in equivalent quantity, will require considerable time.

"Contractors for public construction work have lost considerable quantities of equipment as the result of requisitions, which will seriously hinder their work for the present. They count a great deal upon the supplies which the military authorities may offer them during demobilization, and also upon the utilization of the stocks of wood and other materials abandoned in Belgium by the enemy.

"In the hide and leather industry the destruction, as a rule, extended only to minor objects, such as belts, etc. The factories may proceed with their work, their equipment being in fact. There is no factory deserving special mention because of the treatment which it has received. Gas and electric plants have not ceased to function, in spite of many difficulties, such as in the case of electric plants, the requisitioning of the very important article, copper.

"From the paper-mills the enemy removed, in particular, the copper sheeting, sometimes even entire frames. A partial production may soon be possible, however if wood pulp can be obtained. The printing and binding industry has been subject to a great deal of stripping; rotary presses and linotypes from the daily papers; lithographic presses and forms wheels, inking pads, electric motors, etc. It is, however, in a position to resume partial operation."

RECORD ENTRY FOR TITULAR GOLF EVENTS

Largest Field in History of Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—The largest field in the history of the Trans-Mississippi Gold Association championship tournament began teeing off early to-day at the St. Louis Country Club.

With nearly 300 entered and paid fees to help swell the funds of the Red Cross, more than 100 contented themselves with aiding charity.

Among the southern entries were Nelson Whitney and Ruben Bush, of New Orleans, both of whom are picked as likely finalists in the contest for the title held by G. L. Conley of Kansas City, who was unable to defend his honor on account of business.

From the headquarters of the Mississippi the entrants included Harry G. Legg, of Minneapolis, five times winner of the title, the Dudley Mudge, of St. Paul. There were also many starters from Far Western states. The growth of golf in the southwest was indicated by the unusually large number of entries from Oklahoma and Texas.

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP INCREASING WORK

Toledo, Ohio, June 9.—Jess Willard began the second week of serious training to-day for his heavyweight championship contest with Jack Dempsey here July 4. The champion plans to increase his boxing until he has reached the 12-round limit, the distance he is to travel against his youthful challenger.

There was criticism because the champion doubled the price of admission yesterday to visitors to his fifty-cent camp. The champion charged 50 cents as week days and the receipts were $2,084, about double the cost of training expenses for a week. Dempsey declined to take advantage of the Sunday throng and charged the customary twenty-five cents. There were 1,600 paid admission at the Dempsey camp.

Reports that Bill Browne, a New York referee, had been selected for the big fight were denied. It was announced that the referee question would not be settled until two weeks before the contest. Willard said he had not given the question of a referee any consideration.

SALMON AND TROUT FRY TO BE PLACED IN COAST LAKES

The enthusiasts of the rod and fly will be pleased to know that the fishery department is preparing to release the sporting varieties of fry in large numbers through the Cowichan Lake, Gerrard and New Westminister hatcheries. The old fishing haunts of the province will be replenished with the steelhead, cut-throat, eastern brook and Kamloops trout, and also Atlantic salmon.

Stave Lake is to receive 40,000 Atlantic salmon fry; Chute Lake, near Pentiction, 15,000 and 10,000 cut-throat trout fry; Deer Lake, near Ioco, 40,000 Atlantic salmon; Silver Lake, off the Fraser River, 5,000 of the latter variety, and the North Shore streams of Burrard Inlet will be restocked with 30,000 steelhead trout.

Although the department anticipates distributing these fish in the course of the next few days, it should be remembered that it will take at least three years before they arrive at maturity, so as to be suitable for the table.

TENDER GUMS — A WARNING

Beware of gum brands that warn of Pyorrhoea. Four out of five people ever forty have Pyorrhoea—many use Car forty also. Loosening teeth leads to Pyorrhoea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—those inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—inflicting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhoea, if used in time and used correctly. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All Drugists.

PRINCESS ADELAIDE SAILING TO-NIGHT Indianapolis to Maintain Daily Service Between Victoria and Seattle

Announcement was made at the offices of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service this morning that the steamship Princess Adelaide will leave the Belleville Street wharves at 11:45 o'clock to-night for Vancouver.

The steamship Indianapolis, of the Puget Sound Navigation Company's fleet, was to-day pressed into the Seattle-Victoria service, the vessel having been dispatched from Seattle at 9 o'clock this morning for this port.

The Princess Patricia is continuing to maintain the daylight service between Victoria and Vancouver, leaving here at 3:30 p. m. daily.

The C. F. R. proposes to dispatch the Princess Maquima from this port tomorrow night for Quatsino Sound and intermediate ports on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

The company is making a strong effort to reorganize the service which is clearly emphasized by the announcement of additional sailings from time to time.

The O. T. E. steamship Prince Rupert, which left here yesterday morning for Seattle, was tied up on her return to Vancouver to-day.

PEDERSEN AND SON ACQUITTED BY JURY ON MURDER CHARGE

Trial of Well-known Sailing Skipper Concluded at New York To-day

New York, June 9.—Captain A. C. Pedersen and his son Adolph were acquitted by a Federal jury to-day of the charge of causing the death of Axel Hansen, a sailor on the barkentine Puako, of which they were officers.

The jury was out six minutes. The trial ended Saturday when both sides agreed to eliminate rebuttal. Judge Hough denied a motion to dismiss the indictments but consented to hear further argument this morning.

Captain Pedersen admitted Saturday under cross-examination that although once when he had fallen overboard, he owed his life to a towline but he did not order his crew to pull in the line to which Hansen is said to have clung after leading into the sea.

Admitted Quarrel. After he had admitted having a quarrel with Hansen on the fact voyage, Captain Pedersen repeated his contention that it was impossible to turn his ship around to pick up Hansen because of the gale he said was raging.

Captain John Cameron, an expert witness, said he had sailed forty-seven years before the mast. He declared that even in the gale described by the defence, the Puako could have been put back to Hansen's Rescue "if the gallant yard had been dropped."

SKINNER AND EDDY SENT 51ST STEAMER AFLOAT SATURDAY

Seattle, June 9.—Starting on the second lap of the century mark in ship construction, the Skinner & Eddy plant Saturday sent the big 5,600-ton steamship, the fifty-first product of the plant, into the waters of Elliott Bay.

Besides being the first vessel over the half-century mark at the plant, the Elmsport is the ninth ship launched at this yard this year. Three more vessels are scheduled to be launched June 14, 24 and 29.
