WORK ON PENSIONS SHOWS INEQUALITY IN CITY SALARIES

Details of the new superannuation scheme which will go into effect in the City Hall service shortly are being whipped into shape by a special committee of the City Council now. The scheme as drafted by this committee will go before the Council for approval during the next week or two, it was announced today. Aldermen who have been working on the superannuation scheme have discovered what appears to be strange inequalities in the salaries of officials doing equally important work. It has been discovered, for instance, that the City Treasurer, who is responsible for the proper handling of millions of dollars a year and whose advice can make or lose large sums for the city, is paid only $300 a month, as compared with higher salaries in other departments.

TOWN PLANNING TO COME UP AGAIN

Following the bill submitted by Mary Ellen Smith, member for Vancouver, at the last session of the Legislature to provide for a system of town planning and which was held over for further consideration, Premier Oliver and his cabinet today completed the appointment of a committee to investigate and make recommendations to the Government before the next sitting of the Legislature. The committee consists of A. V. Pineo, legislative counsel; H. J. Crane, inspector of legal offices; Robert Baird, inspector of municipalities; G. N. Napier, assistant public works engineer; H. Whittaker, provincial architect; E. A. Cleveland, controller of water rights; J. E. Umbach, surveyor-general.

Island Ferries Are Busy Now

The increase in motor traffic to and from the mainland and Vancouver Island has been brisk by the Anacortes-Sidney and other ferry boats. The City of Angeles, on the Anacortes-Sidney run, came over here last Sunday with a record load and carried a number of cars and passengers back with her. The totals for the day were 47 motors and 223 passengers. This is the largest load carried by any ferry so far this season in one day's work on regular runs. It is a record for the Anacortes-Sidney route.

LAWYERS PROPOSE NEW LICENSE PLAN

New methods of taxing lawyers here will be proposed to the City Council by the Victoria Bar Association this week. The Association will recommend that city business license fees as far as they apply to the legal profession be based on the number of lawyers practicing in any firm, regardless of whether they are members of the firm or not. Thus large firms will pay heavier licenses than small firms doing much less business.

UNWARY LIABLE TO PROSECUTION

Two Unusual Street Regulations Bring Men Into Court. If the reader should have the misfortune to break a bottle on the streets, would he stop to pick up the glass? If he were asked to drive a flock of sheep through the streets, would he first go to the police for a permit? These two regulations of the streets by-law were alleged to have been neglected by defendants before Magistrate Jay today in police court.

The time is here when we must think of spraying—in the orchards and in the garden. Right now is the time when spraying must be done. The eggs of insect pests hatch with the first touch of spring. The larvae eat voraciously and before you know it are eating the bloom. You must spray—and get ready now—if you want perfect fruit or bloom.

SEQUEL TO DISCOVERY

Following the seizure of 1,000 rounds of ammunition in Chinese premises on Esquimalt Street recently, a charge will be laid in the city police court to-morrow, it is understood. Two Chinamen are said to be concerned in the proceedings that will be taken. The ammunition was of the Mauser pistol pattern.

CROWN APPEALS BAKER'S ACQUITTAL

Department of Customs and Excise Seeks to Collect Revenue On Taxable Pastry. An appeal by the Crown from acquittal in the police court of a baker who was said to have neglected to pay excise tax on taxable pastry alleged to be due under the Special War Revenues Act opened in the County Court today before His Honor Judge Lippman. William Strain appears for the Department of Customs and Excise in this case; and Frank Higgins, K.C., for the respondent, Archibald Hugo Hunter, the proprietor of a bakery on Fort Street. The respondent was charged before Magistrate Jay in the police court recently for neglect to pay 4 1/2 per cent. on 60 per cent. of the manufacturer's cost of pastry held to be taxable under the Act. The claim was denied, and it was set up in return that the defendant-respondent was not a manufacturer in the meaning of the Act. The charge was then dismissed. To-day in the appeal before the County Court the same evidence was adduced on behalf of the Crown. F. W. Davey, Collector of Customs and Excise, and D. O'Sullivan told of requesting Mr. Hunter to pay this tax assessed in this case at $49.50 plus $2 license fee. All who manufactured taxable pastry for sale by retail were liable to the tax, contended Mr. Strain. The defendant was not a manufacturer in the sense intended, said Mr. Higgins, but merely cooked to fill small orders on a gas stove in the rear of his premises. He did not manufacture for sale from stock, contended Mr. Higgins. The hearing is important in that it is the first local appeal by the Crown from such prosecution. In general, as testified by witnesses in the lower court, about half of the bakeries alleged to be liable for this tax have failed to meet the obligation. The case is in the nature of a test one to decide the point at issue. The present hearing turns mainly on the definition of the word "manufacturer" as to what was intended by Parliament in the framing of the Act.

SENATE'S ACTION MAY COST B. C. OVER $100,000 FOR POLL

Senator Taylor's Views. During the discussion Senator Taylor declared the will of the people should be ascertained by plebiscite before the House of Commons passed such legislation. This bill would deprive British Columbia ports of the privilege that Pacific and Atlantic ports had of being depots for ships sailing to the United States to leave that liquor and pick it up on the return voyage.

Montreal, June 20 (Canadian Press)—An attempt made at the opening of the trial this morning of Rev. Father Adelard Delorme, charged with the murder of his half-brother, Romuald, in January, 1922, to have the question of the abbe's sanity established, failed. The attempt was made by Gustave Monette, counsel for the curator of Delorme's estate. The case was ordered by the court to proceed on its merits. Father Delorme is represented by Allen Taschereau, K.C., Quebec, and C. H. Cahan, K.C., Montreal; the Crown in addition to R. L. Calder, K.C., by August Angers, K.C., and the trustee by Gustave Monette and Ephraim Filion.

RATES OF INTEREST WERE DISCUSSED

Number of Bank Bill Clauses Approved By Commons Proposal for Banks With Small Capital Dropped

Ottawa, June 20.—Numerous clauses of the Bank Bill were approved by the House in committee yesterday afternoon and last night. G. G. Coote, Progressive, McLeod, announced in the afternoon that he did not intend to move the amendment which he had given notice Monday night to allow the establishment of banks with less than $500,000 capital. He said he had found it difficult to decide upon a minimum figure. He took occasion, however, to urge on the Minister of Finance the desirability of making it easier for groups of individuals to start new banks with small capital. Difficult to Compete. Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, agreed that something was to be said for the small bank, but there was also something to be said against it. Small banks would have great difficulty in competing with the larger banks. The argument that they would appeal to local favor was also an argument against them. They would devote themselves to local interests and if any mishap occurred to one of these interests, it might be disastrous for the bank and those involved in it. William Irvine, Labor, Calgary East 1. He would ask the Minister what possible harm could result from reducing the initial capital, say to $250,000. Mr. Fielding said he thought it would be unwise to reduce the amount of capital required. Half a million dollars was not too much. Election of Directors. W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant, Ont., moved an amendment to the clause providing that a person must have not less than a majority of the number of shares cast at an election before becoming a bank director. The amendment was defeated and the clause carried. Organization. J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Centre Winnipeg, moved an amendment to allow "officers, clerks and servants of a bank the right of an association for all lawful purposes." The amendment was lost. On the clause providing that the shareholder have one vote for each share held by him, Mr. Good suggested that the shareholder's voting power should have some limit placed upon it. Clauses 32 to 55 were then approved. Audit. On the clause covering the shareholders' audit, Mr. Woodsworth moved that the Governor-in-Council should appoint a competent person whose duty it would be to examine the reports of auditors on the part of the Government. Mr. Coote submitted an amendment to sub-section 9 of the clause providing that the auditor should report once a year to the Minister on all loans amounting to more than five per cent of the paid up capital of the bank and state whether they were adequately secured. Hon. A. K. Maclean deprecated the suggestion made by various speakers that the state had an interest in the control or asset of the bank. Mr. Coote asserted the clause dealing with the issue and circulation of notes by banks. He urged that the issue of the Government be curtailed and that Dominion notes be issued in greater quantity. "What advantage would that be to the country?" asked Mr. Maclean. Mr. Coote replied that people had more faith in Dominion notes. In his opinion it would mean increased revenue to the Government. (Concluded on page 4.)

HIGH PRICE FOR MANITOBA BONDS

Government Accepts Bid of 99.93 for Issue of $1,000,000 Said to Be Best Price in Recent Years

Winnipeg, June 20.—(Canadian Press)—A record price for a Government bond issue, said to be the highest figure obtained for the securities of any Government issue in recent years, was received yesterday when the Government of Manitoba, accepted a bid of 99.93 from the Canadian Bank of Commerce for $1,000,000 one-year five per cent bonds. A second issue of $2,500,000 twenty-year five per cent debentures was sold at 97.25 and secured interest Winnipeg funds, for payment and delivery, to a syndicate, it was announced. The syndicate is composed of the Gardner-Clarke Company, Toronto; McLeod, Young, Weir and Company, Toronto; and Nesbitt Thompson Company, Montreal; Edward Brown and Company, Winnipeg and John McGregor and Baker Company, Winnipeg. A feature of the issue is the fact that provision is made for a sinking fund. One half of one per cent will be set aside annually for refunding of the flotation. In the past no provision was made in the majority of bond issues of the province for a sinking fund. The bonds sold yesterday will be used in refunding a sterling issue which will fall due July 1, while the long term flotation is to meet capital expenditures, farm loan needs and part of the sterling issue.

SURPLUS REPORTED IN NEW ZEALAND

Government Finances Brought Into Improved Condition

Special to The Times. Auckland, New Zealand, June 19. "Bad times" have gone as far as New Zealand finances are concerned. During the past financial year exports totalled $210,000,000 and imports $30,000,000 less. This is a complete reversal of the conditions of two years ago when the Government found itself unable to make ends meet and the land boom based on the high prices of agricultural produce collapsed completely. "There is a big Government surplus, and though the Reform Party lost many seats at the general election through its policy of rigid economy and reduction of expenses, Mr. Massey is now able to say his policy was justified and that the Dominion is being led out of its difficulties. There is little unemployment, trade is doing well and the outlook for the future, with the continued improvement in demand for New Zealand's raw products, gives every prospect of stable development. Back to Asylum. Posing as a wanderer from the mental hospital, an escaped lunatic led the search for himself through the suburbs of Auckland and pressed hundreds of residents into the hunt. He entered houses where old women lived, and telling them a murderer was at large from the asylum, induced them to look under beds and peer in frightened fashion into dark cupboards. He organized a party of men armed with revolvers to search the city's outskirts. Finally he disappeared and late at night a motorist found him unconscious on a road. He had been run over by a passing motor car in the dark. Taken to a hospital, he is now recovering. He will be returned to the asylum on discharge. He is not a murderer, but a very harmless patient.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

Duncan News. (Special to The Times.) Duncan, June 19.—The regular baby clinic was held in the Cowichan Women's Institute rooms on Friday afternoon. There were seven babies examined and five children of pre-school age. Seven mothers present and two visitors. Dr. H. N. Watson in charge. Miss Hall, the District Health Centre nurse, was kindly assisted by Mrs. L. T. Price and Miss Horner, of the King's Daughters' Hospital. Tea was served by Mrs. Warwick and Miss Fleming. Strenuous efforts are being made by the committee in charge to gain the amount required for the purchase of a vicarage for the Duncan-Somenos Parish, of which Rev. A. Bischoff is vicar. The price of the house and property to be purchased is $3,500 and they have already $1,200 in hand. A canvass is to be made this week, and any donations will be gratefully received by Mr. Neal, churchwarden. The dance given at the Recreation Club, Genoa Bay, on Saturday evening, was a very enjoyable affair. The prize waits proved a great attraction. Mrs. Douglas Sherman and Mrs. Gilbert Robinson being finally adjudged the winners. Further results in the Bundeck Cup competition being played on the Cowichan Golf Club links are as follows: W. C. Harper beat M. L. Helen 2 and 1. F. Gilmour beat H. W. Dickie 1 up. A. H. Peterson beat Dr. Watson 5 and 4. J. Leeming beat Dr. Robertson 6 and 5. E. G. Williams beat G. G. Share 2 and 1. (24-hole match.) J. S. Robinson beat G. Smith. W. B. Powell beat C. S. Crane 4 and 2. H. Punnett beat W. L. B. Young 2 up. R. W. ### PROMISE OF GREAT CROPS ON PRAIRIES

Winnipeg, June 20.—Crop prospects are the brightest in years in the districts served by the Canadian National Railway, according to a crop report issued here. In the three prairie provinces little damage has been caused by pests, while many districts report ample moisture and in some there has been sufficient to carry the crops through to maturity. Both Saskatchewan and Alberta reports indicate conditions are the best since 1915. In Alberta an increase of ten per cent is noted in the wheat acreage. With the exception of some unimportant districts east of the Red River and north of Winnipeg, there has been ample moisture in Manitoba.

Marcia Mason's Lucky Star

By BESS STREETER ALDRICH
Romance Comes to a Pretty Little School Teacher in the One Way She Would Have Thought Impossible.

"You teach there?"
"I do." She looked at her wrist watch. "And in fifty minutes I'm to teach before the superintendent of the Capitol City school, if I haven't died of fright. He was on the car. Did you see him—a big husky Vandyker?" Mr. Wheeler had noticed him.
"I want to make a professional hit with him," Marcia went on confidentially. "I've simply got to teach in Capitol City next year. I love a city. I want to walk in the crowds and eat at tea rooms. I want to go to the theatre and sit in a box."
Mr. Wheeler looked judiciously, appraisingly, at her. "I don't believe," he said soberly, "it would injure the looks of the box."
Hunting the Violet.
They both laughed. Marcia was enjoying herself immensely. He was like that for the whole hour they were together, keen, clever, interesting. In comparison with him all the home boys and college boys of her numerous friendships faded quietly into a blurred massing background. In the light of his clever, repartee Marcia revealed. To his questioning she told him a great deal about herself. She described faculty members to the last comic case. Mr. Wheeler enjoyed it, apparently, so she made fun of the training school for his benefit. She spared no one. She mocked the artificial manners of the student teachers and imitated the head of the department. His hearty, virile laugh was ample payment for her pains.
It lacked seven minutes of the hour. Marcia slipped down from the bridge rail with: "I go like the quarry slave at night scurried to his digger in the dark. See! I'll take you to the violet blossoms and leave!" She took them out of her belt—"attach them to the dandelion root, and wrap my handkerchief around the centre as though it were damp—and there you are!"
"But, see here, they're nothing alike," he protested.
"Oh, we should worry!" said the blithe Miss Mason. "Thank you for helping me. You can come along if you want to, and see me teach. I'm frightened senseless any more. The Vandyker, so one or two more able-bodied men won't matter."
Mr. Wheeler said he would be delighted to see the dandelion man-querading before the great man. So they hurried up the gravel driveway to the huge training-school building. Marcia pointed out the door where he was to go. "I have to go in another way," she explained; "the righteous way of the wicked, you know."
The model primary-room was an awe-inspiring place. Eleven student teachers, notebooks in hand, sat by the side walls. The head supervisor, notebook in hand, walked through the room as though to remind one of the day of Judgment. The Capitol City superintendent was there, and two or three lesser lights. Marcia and nine small pupils held the centre of the arena after the manner of the early Christian martyrs. Her heart was beating suffocatingly, but she conducted a very creditable little reading class whose lesson was based on a violet plant that was much less modest than it should have been, owing to the fact that its pedal extremities, so to speak, had been granted from God.

EXTENDING THE BOOTLEGGERS LIFE.

As a result of the action of the Conservative members of the Canadian Senate last night the people of British Columbia will have to expend something like $100,000 to reaffirm their approval of a principle that they understood would follow in operation after their rejection of the old Prohibition Act.

The measure which passed the House of Commons was an amendment to the Canada Temperance Act designed to give the Government of the Provinces of British Columbia the sole right to import intoxicants. Liquor administration officials in both these parts of the Dominion supported their requests to the Dominion authorities with the very reasonable declaration that as long as the private individual could import liquor without limit the bootlegger would thrive and actually thwart the will of the majority of the people.

While the Conservative members of the Senate are on sound ground in their advocacy of the principle of reference to the people in respect of all matters of even minor importance, they are perfectly well aware of their own insincerity when they press this point to the limits characterized by their action of last night.

The use of Canada's "white coal" comes to the forefront periodically and each time industrial concerns substitute power for "black diamonds," the coal problems of the country is nearer solution.

It is to be noted to his credit that Sir George Foster was not led away by the spurious arguments of his colleagues. He and four other members of the Opposition were counted on the Government side of the vote.

Incidentally we should like to know how many people in British Columbia are in the habit of patronizing their favorite distillers in dozen case lots. We should also like to ask the Liquor Control Board if there are any of the well known and popular brands of liquor produced on the other side of the Atlantic that cannot be procured from the official vending establishments.

World wide interest will centre upon the Olympic's arrival in New York. The prohibition enforcement officers must either board the liner and grab all the liquor allowed or create a precedent that would effectively nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court.

Sooner or later it was expected that one of the large shipping companies would test the latest Volstead dictum. The Olympic has undertaken the job. When she left Southampton to-day she carried liquor stocks for her return journey in a special store room sealed by four seals of the British Customs Service.

World wide interest will centre upon the Olympic's arrival in New York. The prohibition enforcement officers must either board the liner and grab all the liquor allowed or create a precedent that would effectively nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court.

THE PENSIONS BILL.

The Senate has deferred the second reading of the pensions bill pending an examination of its provisions by a select committee. Whether this is preliminary to weakening or strengthening of the measure remains to be seen, but the Senators may be assured that their course will be followed by thousands of very sharp eyes and sharper minds which will very promptly detect any organized effort to undermine its essential terms.

TO ELECTRIFY MOUNTAIN GRADES.

News that plans for the electrification of the Canadian Pacific Railway main line through the Rocky Mountains, or at least those sections where the existing grades are heavy, are being considered is of particular interest and importance to the people of British Columbia.

Information available indicates that the company is already engaged in surveys of the water power available on the Columbia River in the vicinity of the main line. Mr. Coleman was not inclined to commit himself to a statement that the project would be commenced next year; but he went so far as to say that the step would not be longer delayed.

It goes without saying that the electrification of the heavier grades would effect an enormous reduction in operation and enable the company to improve its service to a very considerable extent. In this phase British Columbia's interest in freight rates becomes immediately centred.

At present the Chicago and Milwaukee Railway and the Compagnie du Midi in France are the only two systems in the world that have adopted electrification as the solution for heavy grade traffic. The former operates a continuous stretch of 209 miles from Tacoma to Othello and a 440-mile stretch from Avery to Harlowton—649 miles in all; but when the 226-mile gap between has been similarly treated—now in progress—the company will have electrified the whole of the Cascade section of the line—975 miles.

The use of Canada's "white coal" comes to the forefront periodically and each time industrial concerns substitute power for "black diamonds," the coal problems of the country is nearer solution.

SOMEWHAT IRONICAL.

Nobody would attempt to justify an unbusinesslike or extravagant administration of the affairs of the League of Nations. It is just as necessary to conform to well ordered principles in the management of an organization designed to avert economic disturbances and world wide dislocation as it is to run a business for profit.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We observe that members of the Police Force are engaging in revolver practice after their daily duties have been performed. We presume that this gets round the legal regulation that a policeman must not take a "shot" in a public place unless extenuating circumstances demand it.

In another column we print a dispatch from Moscow that contains a fairly lengthy extract from a speech delivered by Leon Trotsky before the all-Russian Congress of metal workers. Since humor usually stands on its own base we merely direct the attention of our readers to the best comic effort ever put forth by the Soviet War Minister.

Many will agree with The Vancouver Province in its sympathy with French policy when it says that if Britain "could gag such writers as Gardiner and cause Mr. Lloyd George to withdraw for a time 'the pageant of his bleeding heart' there would be a better chance for Mr. Baldwin or Lord Curzon to work out some sort of mediation."

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

RETURNING DISILLUSIONED. Quelp Mercury: Scores of Canadians are returning home, disillusioned, and with a sense of being sold out. They are not so much concerned as their Canadian wage did. The distant green field had a parched appearance as the workers got a closer acquaintance with it. Conditions in Canada are good enough for the average man who wants to get ahead, and they will be a lot better before many months.

EXPLOITING CANADIAN AUTHORS. Calgary Alberta:—The two Houses of Parliament have decided to exploit the Canadian authors in the interest of the Canadian publishers, which is no credit to the Canadian Parliament. Canadian authors have little encouragement in this country. Now Parliament has adopted a Copyright Act, which is a further discouragement and places authors at the mercy of unscrupulous publishers.

DUNCAN PROTEST.

To the Editor:—The Parent-Teacher Association of the Duncan School District strongly protests against the decision of the Board of School Trustees in declining to accept the invitation of our Association to attend a meeting held on June 12 to further consider the complaint of some of our members, four of the teachers, that they had been unjustly dismissed.

Our Association has heard the teachers' side of the question and apparently there has been an injustice inflicted. We were desirous, however, before arriving at a decision, of hearing the matter from the Trustees' standpoint, hence the invitation.

The Trustees have referred us to their meeting at or near the end of June, this, of course, would be too late for our purpose, and, in our opinion, would have the effect of the whole question being shelved.

We, therefore, take this opportunity of stating our case and saying we regret the Trustees' decision in the matter, as their non-appearance gives us to understand they had no justifiable reason for their action.

THE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION OF THE DUNCAN SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Mr. Garland, moved to amend Section 76, which sets forth the powers of banks, by inserting further provisions to prevent a bank or bank officer from interfering in the placing of insurance on security given to a bank. He said the present section would operate unfairly against mutual insurance companies.

After several Western members had spoken in favor of the amendment, Mr. Fielding pointed out that unless the banks were satisfied with the character of the security offered they would not grant loans and that therefore the clause imposed no disability on customers of the banks.

The amendment was defeated twenty-eight to forty-six. An extended discussion took place on an amendment by E. P. Kellner, Progressive, Edmonton, to exempt from seizure by banks personal property except under the laws of a province. In the end, at the suggestion of the Finance Minister, section 80, the clause affected, was allowed to stand.

J. T. Shaw, Labor, Calgary, moved an amendment to the first section of clause 91, that permits banks to stipulate rates of interest not exceeding seven per cent. Mr. Shaw's amendment would have made it possible in cases where a greater rate of interest has been paid by the applicant for a loan for him to recover the excess at any time within two years after the transaction.

Hon. A. K. Maclean pointed out the disadvantages of a fixed rate of interest. Elasticity as to interest was the greatest safeguard against abnormal conditions. Mr. Maclean denied the existence of a money monopoly.

L. J. Lauder, Conservative, Vancouver South, submitted that it would be absurd to restrict the interest rate charged by banks, unless the interest rates charged by other institutions, the way to remedy interest rates, he said, was "through the ordinary method of supply and demand." The remedy would not be effective unless there was a Federal reserve system.

A. M. Carmichael, Progressive, Kinross, Sask., declared that on the prairies a farmer must be in exceptionally good circumstances to get money at eight per cent. The majority of them paid nine, and some as high as ten. The banks paid but three per cent for the money which they loaned at the higher rates. The Weyburn Security Bank was an exception. It paid four per cent.

Canada controlled her railway rates and proposed to control rates on lake shipping, said John Miller, Progressive, Qu'Appelle. Why should she not also control bank interest rates?

Mr. Irvine said he would be willing to dispense with the restriction on interest if the banking monopoly were broken up. The amendment was defeated, thirty-eight to sixty-four, the Conservatives voting with the Government.

Mr. Coote moved to fix the maximum rate of interest at eight per cent, with similar efforts of every member of the opposition proposed by Mr. Shaw.

Mr. Garland remarked that the interest rate question was of tremendous importance to Western Canada. The term of loans in Southern Alberta was three months. This was entirely too short. The rate charged was eight per cent, or over, and in some cases it ran up to twelve per cent. The section which stipulated a rate of interest in such a way that it would be evaded was "a camouflaged, futile falsehood."

Mr. Coote's amendment was then defeated on a binding vote by fifty to twenty-four. The Liberals and Conservatives joined a united front in opposing it, while the Progressives were solid in supporting it. The clause then carried.

Nineteenth Century Progress
Shortcomings of Socialism

The Marxist system points us to an accumulation of revolutionary forces in the modern world. These forces will continually tend toward revolution. But Marx assumed too hastily that a revolutionary impulse would necessarily produce an ordered state of a new and better kind. A revolution may stop half-way in mere destruction. No socialist sect has yet defined its projected government clearly; the Bolsheviks in their Russian experiment seem to have been guided by a phrase, the dictatorship of the proletariat, and in practice, we are told, Trotsky and Lenin have proved as autocratic as the less intelligent but equally well-meaning czar, Alexander I. We have been at some pains to show from our brief study of the French revolution that a revolution can establish nothing permanent that has not already been thought out beforehand and apprehended by the general mind. The French republic, confronted with unexpected difficulties in economics, currency, and international relationships, collapsed to the egotisms of the newly rich people of the Directory, and finally to the egotism of Napoleon. Law and a plan, steadily upheld, are more necessary in revolutionary times than in ordinary humdrum times, because in revolutionary times society degenerates much more readily into a mere scramble under the ascendancy of the forcible and cunning. If in general terms we take stock of the political and social science of our age, we shall measure something of the preliminary intellectual task still to be done by mankind before we can hope to see any permanent constructive achievements emerging from the mere traditionalism and adventuring that rule our collective affairs to-day. This socialism, which professes to be a complete theory of a new social order, we discover, when we look into it, to be no more than a partial theory—very illuminating, so far as it goes—about property. We have already discussed the relationship of social development to the resurrection of the idea of property. There are various schools of thought which would restrict property more or less completely. Communism is the proposal to abolish property altogether, or, in other words, to hold all things in common. Modern socialism, on the other hand—or, to give it a more precise name, "collectivism"—does clearly distinguish between personal property and collective property. Some Questions of Ownership. Again, what community is it that is to own the collective property? Is it to be the sovereign or the township or the county or the nation or mankind? Socialism makes no clear answer. Socialists are very free with the word "nationalize," but we have been subjecting the ideas of "nationalism" and "nationalism" to some destructive criticism in this Outline. If socialists object to a single individual claiming a mine or a great stretch of agricultural land as his own individual property, with a right to refuse or barter its use and profit to others, why should they permit a single nation to monopolize the mines or trade routes or natural wealth of the territories in which it lives, against the rest of mankind? There seems to be great confusion in socialist theory on this matter. And unless human life is to become a mass meeting of the race in permanent session, how is the community to appoint its officers to carry on its collective concerns? After all, the private owners of land or a business or the like is a sort of public official in so far as his ownership is sanctioned and protected by the community. Instead of being paid a salary or fees, he is allowed to make a profit. The only valid reason for dismissing him from his ownership is that the new control to be substituted will be more efficient and profitable and satisfactory to the community. And, being dismissed, he has at least the same claim to consideration from the community that he himself has shown in the past to the worker thrown out of employment by the mechanical invention. This question of administration, the sound and adequate way to much immediate socialism, brings us to the still largely unsolved problem of human association; how are we to secure the best direction of human affairs and the maximum of willing co-operation with that direction? This is ultimately a complex problem in psychology, but it is absurd to pretend that it is an insoluble one. There must be a definite best, which is the right thing, in these matters. But if it is not insoluble, it is equally unreasonable to pretend that it has been solved. The problem in its completeness involves the working out of the best methods in the following departments, and their complete correlation: (i) Education.—The preparation of the individual for an understanding of the following co-operation in the world's affairs. (ii) Information.—The continual truthful presentation of public affairs to the individual for his judgment and action. Closely connected with this need for current information is the codification of the law, the problem of keeping the law plain, clear and accessible to all. (iii) Representation.—The selection of representatives and agents to act in the collective interest in harmony with the general will based on this education and plain information. (iv) The Executive.—The appointment of efficient agents and the maintenance of means for keeping them responsible to the community, without at the same time hampering intelligent initiatives. (v) Thought and Research.—The systematic criticism of affairs and laws to provide data for popular judgments, and through those judgments to insure the secular improvement of the human organization. These are the five heads under which the broad problem of human society presents itself to us. In the work around us we see a mass of devices at work in all those branches, ill co-ordinated one with another and unsatisfactory in themselves. We see a technical system meanly financed and equipped, badly organized and crippled by the interventions and hostilities of religious bodies; we see popular information supplied chiefly by sensational press dependent upon advertisements and subsidies; we see farcical methods of election returning politicians to power; an unrepresentative to any hereditary ruler or casual conqueror; everywhere the executive is more or less influenced or controlled by groups or rich adventurers, and the pursuit of political and social science and of public criticism is still the work of devoted and eccentric individuals rather than a recognized and honored function in the state. There is a gigantic task before right-thinking men in the cleansing and sweetening of the politician's stable; and until it is done, any complete realization of socialism is impossible. While private adventurers control the political life of the state, it is ridiculous to think of the state taking over collective economic interests from private adventurers. Not only has the socialistic movement failed thus far to produce a scientifically reasoned scheme for the corollation of education, law, and the exercise of public power, but even in the economic field, as we have already pointed out, creative forces wait for the conception of a right organization of credit and a right method of payment and interchange. It is a truism that the willingness of the worker depends among other things, upon his complete confidence in the purchasing power of the currency in which he is paid. As this confidence goes, work ceases, except in so far as it can be rewarded by payment in goods. But there is no sufficient science of business and business psychology to restrain governments from the most disturbing interferences with the public credit and with the currency. And such interferences lead straight to the cessation of work, that is, of the production of necessary things. Upon such vital practical questions it is scarcely too much to say that the mass of these socialists who would recast the world have no definite ideas at all. Yet in a socialist world quits as much as in any other sort of world, people must be paid money for their work rather than be paid in kind if any such thing as personal freedom is to continue. Here, too, there must be an ascertainable right thing to do. Until that is determined, history in these matters will continue to be not so much a record of experiments as of floundering. Failure in International Relations. And in another direction the social and political thinking of the nineteenth century was, in the face of the vastness of the mechanical revolution, timid, limited, and insufficient, and that was in regard to international relations. The reader of socialistic literature will find the socialists constantly writing and talking of the "State," and never betraying any realization that the "State" might be all sorts of organizations in all sorts of areas, from the republic of San Marino to the British Empire. It is true that Karl Marx had a conception of a solidarity of interests between the workers in all the industrialized countries, but there is little or no suggestion in Marxist socialism of the logical corollary of this, the establishment of a democratic world federal government (with national or provincial "state" government) as a natural consequence of his projected social revolution. At most there is a vague aspiration. But if there is any logic about the Marxist, it should be his declared political end for which he should work without ceasing. Put to the test of the war of 1914, the socialists of almost all the European countries showed that their class-conscious internationalism was veneered very thinly indeed over their patriotic feelings, and had to no degree replaced them. Everywhere during the German war socialists denounced that war as made by capitalist governments, but it produces little or no permanent effect to denounce a government or a world system unless you have a working idea of a better government and a better system to replace it. We state these things here because they are facts, and a living and necessary part of a contemporary survey of human history. It is not our task either to advocate or controvert socialism. But it is in our picture to note that political and social life are, and must remain, chaotic and disastrous without the development of some such constructive scheme as socialism sketches, and to point out clearly how far away the world is at present from any such scheme. Years Needed for Plans. An enormous amount of intellectual toil and discussion and education and many years—whether decades or centuries, no man can tell—must intervene before a new order, planned as ships and railways are planned, runs as the cables and the postal deliveries run, over the whole surface of the earth. And until such a new order draws mankind together with its net, human life, as we shall presently

Your Home

Have you placed the "guardian angel" of life insurance over your home?

A home protected by life insurance—covering the mortgage and the necessities of life—is one of the happiest places possible. There is no dread of the future; no fear of losing the home through forced sale should death occur to the bread-winner; nor is there any likelihood of the mother having to supplement a meagre income by working, nor of the children having to forego the advantages of an education.

The guardian angel of life insurance simply takes your place and "carries on." With a mighty three billions of dollars she is standing watch over thousands of Canadian homes, where the parents and children all live in the happiness that comes through the knowledge of adequate protection.

Life Insurance representatives are the great ambassadors to your home. They will be pleased to show you how simply and easily you can throw the "mantle of protection" around it.

NOTHING CAN EVER TAKE THE PLACE OF YOUR HOME. IT IS A WORLD IN ITSELF ABOUT WHICH EVERYTHING REVOLVES.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or three compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling, that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and, moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Firemen from a grass fire at Uplands and two at Beacon Hill furnished runs for the department at 6:08 p. m., 6:24 p. m., and 6:53 p. m. respectively.

Merchants' Representative to Meet There in Connection Weekly Half Holiday

Members of the Retail Merchants Association, at an executive meeting yesterday afternoon, appointed a delegate to take up with the executive board in Vancouver, the attitude of Victoria merchants towards an amendment of the weekly half-holiday act. Some information with regard to the situation in Victoria as a result of an investigation by Secretary J. W. Wallis was laid before the members.

The Association decided to hold a meeting with the Esquimalt branch of the association at the offices of Mr. Hodgson, corner of Esquimalt Road and Hazel Street, on Wednesday at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of considering details leading to the amalgamation of the two associations. It is expected that as a result of negotiations a union will be brought about.

In view of the early meeting of the executive board in Vancouver, the association also expressed its desire to express its policy on the question of a schedule of dues for members based upon the capacity of the business of the respective members. The Board will also be asked to take up the question of a magazine for the retail trade at this meeting.

CALLS PARLEY ON CITY HALL REFORM

Mayor and Committee to Start Work On Finance Reorganization

Reorganization of the city's financial machinery as arranged by the City Council at its recent peace dinner will be started tomorrow when Mayor Hayward will call into conference the committee named by the Council to draft out the duties of the new city controller and the respective members.

When this committee meets tomorrow it will have as a basis to work on a list of recommendations prepared by the mayor. These recommendations outline in detail the work of the controller and treasurer. It is expected that they will be changed about to meet the wishes of the Council as expressed at the peace dinner and then laid before the Council for final approval Monday.

If the mayor's committee gets through its work tomorrow as it is expected to do and its recommendations are approved by the Council Monday, applications for the position of controller will be called immediately and an appointment made during the next few weeks.

Aldermen David Leeming and W. J. Seeger will co-operate with the mayor in drafting the duties of the controller and treasurer for the approval of the Council.

METROPOLITAN YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM HAS ENJOYABLE EVENING

An enjoyable meeting of the Young People's Forum of the Metropolitan Church was held on Monday evening in the church parlors under the auspices of the literary committee jointly with the social committee. An interesting paper on the great Canadian poet, Dr. Henry Drummond, was read by one of the members. The article proved to be particularly interesting.

Miss Mary McFadden at the close of the reading recited two of Drummond's French Canadian poems, both of which were conceded applause. The dramatic style in which Miss McFadden recited these two poems were very much appreciated.

OFFICER'S MISTRUST REVEALED BOTTLE

A suspicious looking package in the arms of a Chinaman who did not stop to wish Constable Blaine good-bye, drew the attention of that officer yesterday, and the sequel led to the city police court this morning when Chow Won Sing was fined $50 for possession of a bottle of unsealed Chinese whisky and the bottle confiscated. J. A. Aikman appeared to plead guilty for the accused and to pay the fine.

LAW FIRM REFUSES CLAIM FOR SERVICES

Say They Acted As Agents for Disclosed Principal

The hearing of Gow versus MacInnes & Arnold continued in the Court of Appeal to-day with G. L. Fraser for the plaintiff-respondent and E. C. Mayers for the defendants-appellants. The appeal is one by J. A. MacInnes and C. S. Arnold, barristers in partnership in the city of Vancouver, against a judgment of Judge Ruggles in the County Court. The judgment of the lower court awarded Walter D. Gow, a Calgary barrister, $973 on a claim for professional services extended on behalf of the defendants in a matter taken on the ground that the appellants were agents of a disclosed principal and as such were not liable in person. The hearing continues.

Gould vs. Thompson.
At the close of the hearing of Gould vs. Thompson yesterday the appeal was allowed, Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting. The appeal was by Mrs. Annie Gould, of Kerrievale, against a ruling of Judge Grant in the County Court at Vancouver, who dismissed a claim for $400 alleged to be due to the appellant as interest.

Nicol Thompson, a manufacturer's agent in Vancouver, respondent, contended that the money, which was cited as interest on deferred payment on a $400 house, was not due as no agreement had been made to pay interest. The appeal was taken on the ground that similar contracts and agreements of sale carried the usual interest, and that interest had been implied. E. C. Mayers appeared for the plaintiff-appellant and W. C. Brown, K. C., for the defendant respondent.

URGENT VETERANS TO COME TO VICTORIA

That a special boat be run from the mainland to bring to Victoria delegates to the Great War Veterans' Association reunion in Vancouver June 30 to July 7 was the proposal advanced at a meeting of the local branch of the G. W. V. A. here last night. Conrad Graham, vice-president of the Vancouver G. W. V. A. spoke at last night's meeting on the Vancouver reunion, and he was urged to see that the reunion delegates also visited Victoria during their stay in the West.

The veterans were assured last night that they would be given a royal welcome in British Columbia on their excursion there July 2. Large numbers of tickets for this excursion are being sold now. Those desiring to take part in the excursion are advised to make their reservations with the C.P.R. here early so as to avoid disappointment.

CHARACTERISTICS OF MASTER MUSICIANS TOPIC OF LECTURE

Analyzing the characteristics of the old masters in music and drawing an analogy between the art of music and architecture, Mrs. Blanche Harbour gave the second of her interesting series of lectures, entitled last evening at Fletcher's music store. The lecture gained much from the inspiring performance through the medium of the Duo-Art piano of such eminent pianists as Therese Carreno and Harold Bauer. Illustrations of the Handel compositions was furnished by Mrs. Jesse Longfield and Mrs. Bertram Mayell, who sang excerpts from "The Messiah" very beautifully, and Frank Waddington, who contributed a Handel group when Mayor Hayward's brilliant play, the Scarlatt Pastorale, illustrating the early Italian school, and Miss Margaret Campbell gave a finished interpretation of the first movement of the Moonlight Sonata (Beethoven). The next lecture will be held on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Moss Street.

VISIT TO FARM.

The Victoria and District Gardeners' Association will visit the Experimental Farm on Saturday next. This also will take the form of a basket picnic. Special rates have been secured from the B. C. Electric. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Association. Train will leave the Interurban depot at 1:30 p. m.

There will be fifty boys present at the camp, in all, and these will be under the charge of Lieut. R. H. Oland B. C. N. Other instructors will be on hand to see to it that the boys are taught their duties in a manner from which they will derive most benefit.

PUBLICITY BUREAU TO HAVE DISPLAYS

Fruit and Natural Resources of Island Will Be Featured in Offices

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is arranging with the Provincial Government for a window display of the Island's resources, featuring those natural riches which up to the present have not been developed. The display, as it has been planned by Frank Gloima, will be a very elaborate affair. Minerals, soil products and other products of the industry which might be developed on the Island will have their place in the window display.

The bureau also expects to have a display of fruit, built in the form of a pyramid, inside the offices and where the climatic changes will have no great effect upon it.

The publicity bureau would like very much to receive communications regarding the following list of Indian names, and hopes that anyone knowing the derivation of the word and its original meaning will be kind enough to enlighten the bureau through the mail. Esquimalt, which is supposed to have been made gradually, meaning "a big strong tribe"; Koksilah; Somenos; Chemainus; Nanooos; Quaiquo; Quaiquo; Cloos; Tsohalem; Kyoquot, meaning a hunting or fishing place; Songites; Soohk; Shannigan; Saameh; Quataichan; Sahltian and Nitina.

TEN DAYS' MAIL MAKES RECORD

Is Fastest Time Since Termination of Hostilities

The post-war record from England to Victoria in the delivery of mails has been broken. Although it is not the actual record, the mail arrived in ten days, leaving Southampton on June 9 and reaching the local Post Office on June 19.

The pre-war record was nine days, but Cherbourg was not then included in the ship's schedule of calls. Leaving Queenstown the mail generally arrived in Victoria nine days after, but the call at Cherbourg creates a delay of something like a day and a half after leaving Southampton.

The English mail, which arrived on June 19, comprised 12 boxes of letters and 11 bags of papers, and left by the Mauretania from Southampton on June 9. Five days at sea and five days across the continent representing the mail's time.

Critics Hail Fault in Dempsey's Guard

Pittsburg Light-Heavy Rips Left Hook to Stomach and Starts Calamity Gossip; Gibbons in Most Strenuous Workout He Has Indulged In Since Training For Title Bout

Great Falls, Mont., June 20.—A heavy rainstorm of all day duration forced Jack Dempsey, who already is suffering from a slight cold, to work out today in the old dance pavilion, converted into an indoor gymnasium at this camp and to forego his usual run over the hills.

The champion indulged in a workout equivalent to ten rounds, boxing six rounds with a trio of sparring partners before running back through the rain to his living quarters for ten minutes of calisthenics and a brisk rub down.

Critics agreed that Jack Burke, the Pittsburgh light-heavyweight, disclosed one weakness in Dempsey's defence, which may make him an easy target for one of Tom Gibbons' favorite punches, ripping left hook to the stomach. Burke hit Dempsey solidly in the pit of the stomach as he came tearing in close. The St. Paul challenger, who is much faster than Burke and a more accurate hitter, uses this blow, with a right cross, very effectively, hooking it to the body after a point to the head.

that jabbed in and out with bewildering rapidity and accuracy. Frequently he slammed in a right across and dug into Herman's lower ribs with a twisting right smash.

Shelby's Camp, June 20.—While Shelby was shivering in another chilly downpour that lasted throughout the day, Tom Gibbons yesterday afternoon indulged in the most strenuous workout he has had since he began training for his title bout here with Jack Dempsey July 4.

Major Jim Johnson of Shelby, treasurer of the fight, was in conference with Dan Tracey, new executive in charge of business affairs, yesterday afternoon.

Railroad Nine on Heavy End of High Score

Beat Automobiles 13-6 in Last Night's City League Fixture

Hits were flying off the C.P.R. ball nine's bats last evening like hail off a tin roof when they walloped the Automobiles to the tune of thirteen to six. Everybody was hitting, with the result that their noble number of slashes numbered seventeen. Parfitt started on the mound for the auto men but made a hasty retreat to the showers in the sixth frame after scoring eleven runs. Todd took up the heavy burden and held the railroaders to two tallies.

Saunders in Box

The railroaders' classy southpaw, Saunders, was in the box for them and he had the motormen completely baffled until the final stanza, when he became wild and walked the three first men to face him, with the result that three runs trickled across the rubber. A clean double play from H. Copas to Gravella cut off the short-lived rally.

Heavy Hitting

Poke Gravlin grabbed the batting honors of the day, collecting a home run, a double and a clean single out of six times at bat. Falconer Campbell's mighty war club knocked out four singles at half a dozen trips with the bat. The old veteran Bob Whyte knocked out three safe wallops out of five trips to the plate.

Fine Plays

During the evening's performance snappy fielding was staged by both clubs. The feature play was Eddie Newman's catch of Jackson's sky-high fly after running backwards for the elusive pill.

The next scheduled league game will be played on Thursday evening, when the Eagles, league leaders, will clash with the Automobiles.

Surf-board riding and out-rigger canoeing, favorite sports of the tropics, are no longer mysteries to Betty Compson, the petite Paramount star who went to Hawaii for the purpose of filming her latest picture "The White Flower," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

On the famous beach of Waikiki, under the tutelage of native masters of these fine arts, Miss Compson learned to ride the waves with the best of them.

Of the two, surf-board riding proved to be much more difficult. In the story of "The White Flower," the star plays the role of a half-caste girl, who is a complete mistress of these sea sports.

Brilliant Vaudeville Features Appreciated; Motion Pictures Also Offered

That the Pantages vaudeville and motion picture offering is winning favor in the eyes of the theatre-going public was illustrated by the large and appreciative audience which witnessed the initial appearance of the four-act vaudeville show and the principal picture feature, "The Soul Herder," presented at the Pantages last night.

Something unique was offered Victorians in the Pantagescope program of the evening, a series of real picture scenes in and about Victoria under the title of "Victoria, the City of Sunshine" was greeted with applause from those present. It is as if some magic wand had been waved over the city and a veritable picture garden set upon the screen. All beauty spots appear in the spots have been transformed and made even more beautiful.

ROYAL VICTORIA

A "Sister to Assist'er," which is at the Royal all this week, is one of the finest comedies that ever came from the "Old Country." From the opening scene of that uproarious character Mrs. May, through adventures on well-known English streets, in pubs and out, with those other famous cockney characters, "Arty, Day and Bill," the audience will be transported with joy. At the "ero of Jutland, bosom pal of Admiral Jellicoe," the other characters are also blue-blooded aristocrats, being well brought up, some of them brought up since often twice a week, but nevertheless, they find time to get more joy and cheer out of life than any titled lady or gentleman in the Kingdom.

Lios Zeilner, one of the most talented of writers of original screen stories, is the author of "Refugee," starring Katherine MacDonald, which is being shown in connection with the above feature. It is a highly romantic tale of love, adventure and intrigue in a picturesque setting of a kingdom, the star cast in the role of a countess.

CAPITOL

One of the best of British films is "Diana of the Crossways." Diana is the role that Fay Compton, the famous English actress, has chosen for her initial Canadian screen appearance. Supported by an all-star cast and cast of famous actors, it is directed by one of the best of British directors, Denison Clift. George Meredeth's popular story has been realized on the screen in a manner that is highly creditable to the Ideal Film Producers, a company of well-known London producers. The story deals with high society and court life.

"SLANDER THE WOMAN" IS FIRST NATIONAL FILM COMING SOON

How far should the law take cognizance of circumstantial evidence? This is a question that has caused endless discussion for years and will continue to cause discussion. The opposition to it in some states is so great that the courts will not hang a man for murder when he is convicted on circumstantial evidence. His crime should be proved beyond a doubt, or a person should be convicted of a crime on circumstantial evidence.

One of the finest examples of what circumstances can do to degrade the fair name of a woman is portrayed in "Slander the Woman," Allen Holubar's new First National production, starring Dorothy Phillips, which will be shown at the Royal Theatre for six days, beginning next Monday.

In this super-production of modern life, Miss Yvonne Desmarrest, portrayed by Miss Phillips, is caught in a circumstantial position which puts her in the light of a home wrecker. A jealous wife shoots a husband, and she is forced to embrace Miss Desmarrest, much against her will, and with the full view of witnesses. Added to this is the trial, a judge with an eye to publicity and votes at the forthcoming election, who brands her as morally responsible for the murder. Defenceless in the face of the evidence against her, the woman can do nothing.

But she fights. She even carries her fight to the fact that the Canadian woods. The story of how she is again restored to her former place in society makes one of the finest and stirring dramas of modern-day life that has ever been produced. It is real and convincing, and carries the moral that wagging tongues bring only evil.

Enjoy Delightful Dance and Dinner at Chamber of Commerce

Members of the Kiwanis Club and their wives held a delightful dinner and dance in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night. A jolly informal programme of songs and "stunts" enlivened the affair.

During the dinner, led by Kiwanian Dave Macfarlane with Cecil Heaton at the piano, the gathering joined in a number of rousing choruses, and took part in singing contests between ladies and gentlemen and between the different tables.

A feature of the programme was a highland fling by little Miss Cameron, who danced to the music of her father's bagpipes. Kiwanians Fred McGregor, Dave Macfarlane, McIntyre and McDowell gave a Scottish song.

Kiwanian R. Morrison treated the guests to two excellent vocal solos. Mrs. Harold Diggon, wife of the vice-president of the club, was the winner of a draw among the ladies. Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, wife of the club president, drew the winning number from a hat.

Following the dinner the guests enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

LIQUIDATION GENERAL IN STOCK MARKET

New York, June 20.—Another liquidation movement of rather large proportions got under way in the stock market in the afternoon dealings today. As a consequence some rather sharp price declines were registered. Another shading in copper metal prices were recorded and the result of this development was an active selling movement in the red metals shares. The oils were again adversely affected to some extent by a renewal of unfavorable reports touching on the supply and demand situation in the oil industry. Those entertaining lower price views were active on the selling side of the market and the various weak spots in the market due more to an absence of important buying power than to anything else seemed to offer an inducement to those entertaining bearish ideas. In view of the weak closing in the market it would not be surprising if there was another lowering in prices in the initial dealings to-morrow.

PLAN TO BRING POTATO FAIR HERE

Agricultural Group Held Annual Meeting Last Night

Although very few of the members of the Agricultural Development Group of the Chamber of Commerce were present at the meeting of that body last night in the Chamber of Commerce Reading Room, considerable business was discussed, and the attention of the members drawn to several important facts. It was decided that the group should start immediately campaigning for the next provincial potato fair to be held here.

and Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, will be approached on this subject.

The group further took action in the direction of making known to the farmers the fact that there is a curb market in Victoria. This is at a place immediately in the rear of the Victoria Public Market. Here farmers will be permitted to sell their produce from their wagons, fresh from the country. Members stated to the meeting that wherever these curb markets had been established elsewhere, they had proved a great success, both in a financial way to the farmers, and since they were advantageously situated, and stocked for the consumer. There is no middle man to eat the profit of the farmer and to keep the prices over the head of the consumer. In this way and for these reasons the Agricultural Development Group of the Chamber of Commerce believes that such a market would be an expedient venture.

Chairman J. A. Griffith reviewed the work of the year in his report, and recommended the following subjects as desirable to occupy the minds of members.

1. Assistance to producers in finding and creating markets for their goods.
2. Hard surfacing of the West Saanich Road.
3. Reciprocity with the Prairies.
4. Shipping cars of mixed vegetables to the Prairies.
5. Elimination of Chinese peddling.
6. Enlargement of the scope of the Public Market.
7. Assistance to producers in finding and creating markets for their goods.
8. Increased production.
9. Education of our citizens to the need of purchasing local grown and manufactured products.
10. Road improvements.
11. Transportation facilities.
12. Drainage and irrigation.
13. Establishment of a pre-cooling plant.
14. Establishment of a dehydrating plant.
15. Fruit inspection.
16. Public abattoir.

Mr. Griffith mentioned in conclusion that "the great gratification I have felt at the interest and assistance rendered by the members of this group during the period that I have acted as chairman, and before closing it would be an unfortunate oversight if I did not take this opportunity of mentioning the valuable assistance that has been rendered this group from time to time by C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, of Metchoin, who, as most of you know, is secretary of the Vancouver Island Farmers' Institutes, and who has been untiring in his efforts on behalf of the agricultural districts of the Island, and has never once hesitated in rendering such advice for which we have appealed to him from time to time."
