PRIVY COUNCIL IS HEARING APPEAL ON B.C. FREIGHT RATES

Provincial Government's Case Against Discriminatory Railway Freight Rates Opened by G. G. McGeer, K.C., at Ottawa To-day.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—(Canadian Press)—The hearing of the British Columbia appeal against "discrimination" in freight rates was begun by the Privy Council this morning. The Premier presided and there was a good attendance of the Ministers, while on the part of the Province and of the railways there was an array of officials and counsel.

The appeal of the Province is against a judgment of the Railway Commission in the case in which British Columbia asked to be put on an equal basis with the rest of the Dominion as regards rates. The judgment of the Railway Board granted part of the application and cut the "discrimination" against the coast province down about fifty per cent. on class rates and to some extent on commodity rates.

Premier Oliver is now appealing to have "the discriminatory" mountain rates abolished. Gerald McGeer Opens Case. G. G. McGeer, K.C., appearing for the province and Alberta, opened the case for the appellants. Opposing the application were P. H. Chrysler, K.C., of Ottawa, appearing for the Canadian Railways Association of Canada.

Before Mr. McGeer opened his statement Premier King asked if counsel present had been able to reach an understanding on the length of time which the hearing would take. While not wishing to suggest anything which would have the effect of preventing a complete argument of the point that the members of the Cabinet were very busy men who had no time to spare.

Mr. McGeer stated that all he was asking the Cabinet to do was to deal with general principles. He appreciated that it was impossible for counsel to deal with all the details which were introduced when the case was before the Railway Commission.

Mr. McGeer said he could not tell how long he would require, but that he doubted whether it would be possible to finish in one day. This appeal, in which McGeer was from the Government of the Railway Commission made in June, 1922. There were two general features of the British Columbia claim.

Terms of Confederation. In the first place, it is claimed that under the terms of entering Confederation, British Columbia was entitled to the same transportation and cost as was extended to other parts of the Dominion. British Columbia had entered Confederation under an agreement identical with that under which the maritime provinces had come in, but merely had the same prevailing conditions in the two sections of Canada to realize the discrimination against the Pacific Coast province.

"To build a railway and then put a tariff on it which forbids its use or the use of any part of it, is not carrying out the Confederation agreement," said Mr. McGeer. The rates from St. John to Vancouver are on a basis that those out of Winnipeg. But those from Vancouver were highest of all. This was unfair to the West, and a direct violation of the principle that there should be no discrimination against the development of business in any part of Canada.

Unjust Discrimination. "We are relying on sub-section four of section 314 of the Railway Act in this appeal," said Mr. McGeer. "This sub-section states that 'No toll shall be charged which unjustly discriminates against any locality.'"

He contended that if there was any obligation on British Columbia to meet the higher cost of construction in that province, this had been satisfied in the early days of the C. P. R. by British Columbia when that road was built.

"What is an unjust discrimination?" asked Mr. McGeer. He answered this by comparing a sugar manufacturer in Montreal with one in British Columbia. Under prevailing rates, he declared, the latter could not compete with the former in the Winnipeg market.

The rates created a monopoly in favor of the eastern manufacturer. They constituted a discrimination against men located in British Columbia and Alberta and by the provisions of the Railway Act such discrimination was prohibited.

The finding of the Railway Commission had not been based on the evidence taken but had been influenced by the action of Parliament regarding the "Crow's Nest Pass agreement," contended Mr. McGeer. He thought it rather extraordinary that the Commission should have held an inquiry for two years, and then, because Parliament decided on a certain course of action, discarded a lot of the evidence taken.

Water Competition. Mr. McGeer contended the argument that water competition in the East was a reason for allowing the coast rates to remain. (Continued on page 3.)

Tse Ping's Men Defeated in Battle By Chiung Ming

Canton, Aug. 9.—Students of the military situation in South China to-day expressed the belief that the regime of Sun Yat-sen, southern constitutional leader, is destined to be short lived. Yang's Fleet Withdraws. Amoy, China, Aug. 9.—Admiral Yang's Peking Government fleet has withdrawn to Foochow for coal supplies. Fresh troops from transports conveyed by the fleet are unwilling to fight because they have had only four months of training.

The forces of General Chang Chiung Ming, supporting the Peking Government, defeated those of Chang Tse Ping, ally of Sun Yat-sen, in battles yesterday at Chang-chow and Shihma. Both cities were looted. The southern troops retired to Amoy. Thus far they have defended the port successfully against the northern attacks by sea.

Archive Custodians. Harbin, China, Aug. 9.—Consuls representing four powers still are custodians of the archives relating to the Chinese Eastern Railway, despite the threat of Chang Tse Ping, the Manchurian dictator, to seize the records in furtherance of his plan to take over the Manchurian railway.

The also filed with Chang's commissioner for foreign affairs individual written protests against the Manchurian railway efforts to administer the Chinese Eastern land office.

On the other hand, one well known specialist in the treatment of diabetes, is of the opinion that the new serum would have slight value in comparison with insulin.

MANDATORY POWERS GOVERN JUSTLY Administration of Mandates Approved By Commission

Geneva, Aug. 9.—General approval of the administration of the mandates given by the League of Nations was accorded yesterday by the Permanent Mandates Commission at a public session closing its three weeks' hearing on the reports submitted by the mandatory powers.

The commission found that the mandatory powers have fully protected the rights of the native populations. As outlined, the measures taken by the mandatory powers against the abuse of alcohol in the mandated territories were considered satisfactory, but the Commission decided to recommend to the Council of the League an Act pertaining to the importation of alcohol into the African territory under British mandate.

The commission held that the spirit, if not the letter of the mandate would be violated if the natives were recruited for the army, as it was intended that they should be utilized only for defence and maintenance of order in Togo and Kamerun.

RESTRICTIONS IF SPECULATIONS IN EXCHANGE GOES ON

London, Aug. 9.—One of the most important developments of modern trade unionism in Great Britain is foreshadowed by a manifesto issued by the Transport and General Workers' Union and the National Union of Railwaymen which in effect signifies the commencement of an alliance between the two. This probably will be a revival of the triple alliance of labor which came to an end on what is known throughout the trade union world as "Black Friday."

TRAFFIC GOOD ON MOUNTAIN HIGHWAY Famous Banff - Windermere Road Popular With Tourists

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Tourist traffic on the Banff-Windermere Highway during the month it has now been opened has exceeded all expectations, according to the Dominion Parks Branch. Furthermore, no accident of any moment has yet been recorded.

While figures have yet to be compiled by the Parks Branch, it was announced that visitors from the United States, as well as from Canadian points, already have shown great appreciation of the new facilities for traversing the mountain scenery by automobile. The highway, with a clay base surfaced by hard packed gravel, is regarded as particularly safe, in some cases having a stretch of from five to six miles of straight road. Chalets at convenient distances supply gasoline as well as food, and if required, sleeping accommodations.

CAUSE OF HARVESTERS' TRAIN ACCIDENT AT SUDBURY IS MYSTERY

Sudbury, Ont., Aug. 9.—Physicians in attendance on passengers injured in the harvesters' train wreck near Warren, state that all are expected to recover.

A Shaw, who sold his home in Montreal and was on his way to Calgary to take up farming, is probably the most serious case. His injuries are severe contusions on shoulders, arms and head and internal injuries.

His two sons, John and Richard, six and eight, are also in hospitals with him, having been severely bruised. Mrs. Mary Lacrosse, bound from Quebec City to Winnipeg, has internal injuries.

A number of other casualties were taken to Sudbury hotels, but beyond bruises and some minor cuts they are not serious.

What caused the wreck is still a mystery. The train consisted of twenty cars in all and was hauled by one of the largest locomotives of the C. P. R. It was making 25 miles an hour when the engine felt the bump of the ties and knew it had jumped the track.

He applied the emergency and for a moment believed the train would stop on the ties, but the engine suddenly shot into the ditch and upset. Neither fireman nor engineer were injured. Directly behind the engine was a through baggage car. This served as a buffer for the rest of the train. It was smashed to kindling and baggage scattered. The next three cars contained family parties and it was in these cars that all the casualties occurred.

Physicians from Warren responded immediately and special trains carried others from North Bay and Sudbury.

Mayor Arthur, of Sudbury, was one of the physicians. "Had it not been for the fact that the cars were all steel, six of the newest type, scores would have been killed," he stated.

The injured pay tribute to the railroad officials for efficient handling. The line was cleared at 6 o'clock, but through trains during the night were detained to the Canadian National by way of Capreol and North Bay.

BELGIUM MAY NOW ASSUME INITIATIVE TO END DEADLOCK

Proposals Said to Confine Reparations to Material Damage and Suggestion That Britain Cancel Inter-Aligned Debts, As Basis For Settlement.

Paris, Aug. 9.—The Belgian Government has decided to take the initiative and directly approach Great Britain and France if the reparations negotiations among the Allies shows no signs of being resumed at an early date, says a Brussels dispatch to the Excelsior.

Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspar will come to Paris, the correspondent asserts, to propose that the reparations claims from Germany so far as France and Belgium are concerned be confined to the material damage suffered by those countries and furthermore that Great Britain cancel the inter-Aligned debts, receiving from Germany for her part the amount of money she owes the United States. On this basis, according to the dispatch, the Belgian Minister believes that passive resistance—the sole weapon of the Ruhr and Rhineland—would continue to be supported by the nation, has been received as the most depressing statement yet made to the National Legislature by the present Government. The Coalition parties view it as superfluous, in view of the present situation, and also regard it as a disappointing utterance.

The Chancellor was visibly disconcerted by the boisterous heckling of the Communist members who, when he arose to speak, hailed him as a "Traitor," "Swindler," and "President of the Ruhr Mining Company." He was continually interrupted as the address progressed, but when it was finished there was prolonged applause.

Asserting that the British draft reply to the last German reparations note contained much that was impossible, Herr Cuno said it appeared Great Britain had gone extraordinarily far in her concessions to the French viewpoint. He stated that Germany could not and would not "abandon a German land and betray fellow-countrymen."

Repeating the French statement that the Ruhr was to be freed only when the last penny was paid, and pointing out that the most vital instrument with which Germany might pay had been taken away when the Ruhr was seized, Herr Cuno asserted that if Germany's collapse was to be accomplished, "in the name of justice," she must be under no illusion.

"Submission to the merciless obstinacy of the French Government," he added, "would have to be sealed with a document which would be worse than the Versailles treaties, which weighs like a curse upon the people of Europe."

Effect in England. London, Aug. 9.—Chancellor Cuno's speech yesterday seemingly has had little effect on the British view of the dominant opinion expressed by those in authority is that the independence of Germany's industries is approached, but that the most vital factor so far as actual effects are concerned. The most welcome part of the speech was Chancellor Cuno's admission that the Government had nothing to expect from Great Britain in the way of sympathy or assistance. It is hoped this will mollify the French, who have been insisting that the present British policy is serving only to strengthen Germany's resistance in the Ruhr.

The Cabinet met again this morning and continued its efforts to formulate an answer to the French and Belgium notes which contained the virtual rejection of the British draft note to Germany.

Britain will not as yet admit the impossibility of bringing the Allies into accord for a joint reply to Germany's statement, it appears from current statements in political quarters.

No definite announcement of British policy is expected until after the Government has had an opportunity to cause public opinion about publication of the documents appertaining to the recent allied negotiations. The making public of these documents probably will be delayed until next week.

To Continue in Power. Paris, Aug. 9.—Information received in official quarters here from Berlin indicates that the Cuno Government is likely to continue in power. The retail storekeepers, dismayed by the fall of the mark, are said to be preparing to close their shops, but the Government is regarded as strong enough to meet any eventualities.

AXLE FLAW THROWS TRUCK OFF TRACK

Street Car Righted After Slight Traffic Tie Up on May Street

A flaw in the axle in the rear truck of a Joseph Street car tied up traffic on the Poul Bay line for some time this morning. The damage was righted without further incident and none of the occupants of the car were hurt.

The car was proceeding towards Four Bay when the accident happened. On May Street, a few yards past Wellington Street, the back wheels left the track and skidded right into the sidewalk, being brought to a stop at the curb. The car was leaning over slightly but was in no danger of falling.

Passengers proceeding to work this morning were delayed by the inevitable disorganization of the service, but the company soon made arrangements for cars to meet the incoming passengers who were transferred.

The wrecking crew attended and soon righted the car. Trouble was found in moving the vehicle back to the barn on account of the breakdown in the axle assembly of the rear truck. One wheel was thrown out of line.

Relief cars took off the crowd without further incident.

increased forty per cent. between the time the Government had gone out in 1920-21, and this fact accounts for the expenditure of $370,000.

Living Costs Up.

With increased cost of living and consequent salary increases and the expenses of new departments added, the Conservative Government salary total for 1920-21 would have been $3,201,000. It was explained that would have been made up by $1,555,000, the salary total set out in the Public Accounts of 1915-16; $620,000 paid out for salaries but not shown in the salary vote; $154,000 for new departments like mothers' pensions and the Workmen's Compensation Board, and $370,000 in salary increases necessitated by increased living costs.

Big Salary Saving.

While the Conservative Government's total salary bill, based on the scale it had adopted in its last year and with necessary increases added, would have been $3,201,000, the Liberal Government spent for these purposes in 1920-21 only $2,300,000. This represents a saving of $401,000.

Big cuts have been made in traveling expenses of government employees, to-day's figures prove. In 1913-14 the traveling expenses of all employees of the Conservative Government amounted to $563,000 while in the year 1922-23 the expenses of all employees amounted to $423,000.

The monthly salary bill under the Conservative Government was $47,000 and under the present Government $35,000. This big reduction was made in spite of the fact that traveling expenses to-day are estimated to be fully one-third higher than in the days of the Conservative regime.

Reductions in the number of Government employees in many departments are shown by to-day's figures as follows:

DANCE TONIGHT AT CURTIS POINT CAMP

Auto Tourists Will Be Guests of V. I. A. A.; Visitors Enjoying Swimming

For the benefit of the motor camp tourists the Victoria and Island Athletic Association has arranged a dance to be given in the harbor overlooking the Curtis Point camp this evening and cordially invites all visitors at the camp to join in the evening's enjoyment.

The athletic club is working with the camp trustees in providing attractions for the visitors and plans to stage an attraction at least once a week throughout the camping season. The camp orchestra will supply the music, and the excellent floor has been put in good shape for the occasion. A variety impromptu gala band of four-piece orchestra will play popular during the recent band concert will also be given, with log rolling, canoe tilting and centipede races included.

There are nearly sixty cars at the camp at the present time. One party last night came from Washington, D. C. Many of the visitors are taking advantage of the V.I.A.A. invitation extended to tourists to use the club's swimming quarters, and favorably comment on the ideal bathing facilities and comfortable temperature of the water.

During the past week the number of cars shipped to the Curtis Point camp has shown an increase. No fewer than 511 motor vehicles were carried on ferries crossing the gulf, the figures show. Last week the number carried was 463.

On no day during the week did the number of cars fall below seventy, and on two occasions, Saturday and Sunday, the numbers rose to eighty-ones.

railways to drop their rates in eastern Canada below those prevailing in the west. If the railways were to bring their Eastern rates, they should also lower the Western rates and permit the British Columbia manufacturers to get into the Winnipeg market. The rate on canned goods from Vancouver to Regina was $1.37 1/2, and from Windsor to St. Leonard's, Ontario, approximately the same distance, it was 66 cents. Water competition could never justify such discrimination.

Mr. McGeer contended that the railways were not sincere when they claimed that the rates in British Columbia were due to increased operating costs.

"The high rates are the result of a coldly studied design to exact from the prairies of Canada the greatest number of revenue ton miles that it will produce," he said. Instead of developing a system of distribution from the prairies to the Pacific coast with the Panama Canal, there was a deliberate attempt to put in a rate barrier, which would force grain through Fort William to Halifax and St. John's. This was resulting in a serious condition in Alberta, as he understood that the people in the Peace River district were unable to move grain on the Eastern haul.

An examination of the Canadian National from the Yellowhead Pass to Vancouver showed that its grades were superior to those on the Canadian National and C. P. R., between Fort William and Calgary and Fort William and Edmonton. Weather conditions were easier on the Pacific Coast than in other parts of Canada. It had been shown that the lowest rates in the world for railways in Canada, or on the North American continent.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY OCCUPIES ROTARIANS

Club Hears Statement on Conditions in Victoria

Herbert H. Smith, principal of the Victoria High School, who is vitally interested in the well-being of the youth of this city, gave to the Rotary Club members at their luncheon to-day, a brief industrial survey of Victoria. Mr. Smith stated that he had a great amount of difficulty in securing data upon the subject under his consideration, but that he had some few matters of importance which should come to the attention of the club, was the fact that so many of the young men of this city were leaving for other parts of the continent in search of occupation.

The fact that infant industries have such a struggle to make progress in this city probably accounts for the fact that there is so little employment for the rising generations. There is always a dearth of capital. That there will come a time when Victoria will be able, as a business centre, to keep its youth at home and give them positions, there is no doubt, Mr. Smith hopes and believes, but meanwhile some sort of action should be taken. He expressed the opinion that the service clubs of this city should take a more lively interest in the situation and bring these matters under immediate consideration.

It was mentioned to the Rotarians that samples of Victoria industries might well be regarded with a view to the enlightenment of those who might be still in doubt as to the progress being made by manufacturing concerns here. For instance, the Premier Phonograph Company of this city, originally starting in a small way, now ships to markets in the prairies and other Eastern parts. There is a large demand for the local

WEDDING YESTERDAY

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at 414 Edward Street, when Hester Elizabeth Beatrice, eldest daughter of William Beatrice, became the bride of Walter H. Hill, of Waltham, B. C., eldest son of the late Rev. Walter Hill, Cornwall, England. Rev. J. F. Dimmick performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was becomingly gowned in white Canton crepe, stood under a wedding bell of pink roses. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses and sweet peas.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hill left for Vancouver, where they will spend a few days en route to Waltham, their future home.

A programme for the welcome and entertainment of the members of the American Legion, who are shortly to visit this city, was drawn up last night by representatives of the returned men's associations of this city, at a meeting held in the rooms of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association. It is planned that a dance will arrive here on September 8-9. Committees are in charge of arrangements. Another meeting of the representatives of the returned men's clubs will be held Thursday, August 16, at 8 o'clock in the Army and Navy Veterans' rooms, its purpose being to make final plans for the occasion of the visit of the men from "across the line."

Avoid Motor Oils containing paraffin, asphalt or any other non-lubricating substance. Aristo Oil is refined by the most advanced processes, designed to remove everything in the crude which has no lubricating value.

Fluffy or Flinty?

—which kind of "carbon" comes from the oil you use?

SOME carbonaceous residue is deposited by all motor oils. That is a known fact. But there are two kinds of this so-called "carbon." One is hard and flint-like as in diamonds. It attaches to cylinder walls, piston and valve heads, and it stays. Chisels or acetylene torches are required to remove it.

An Abrasive
Being hard and gritty—hard enough to score cylinders—it acts as an abrasive, wearing cylinders, pistons, and rings. It prevents valves from seating properly. Compression is thus lost. Small particles become incandescent, causing pre-ignition, which results in "knocking" and lost power. Spark plugs, becoming coated with it, are short-circuited, and miss.

A Different Kind
Most of the small residue from Aristo Motor Oil blows out with the exhaust. What's left is soft and fluffy. Being softer than the metals, it can't cause wear. Your car runs thousands of miles farther without grinding valves. Spark plugs practically never "foul." As a pure lubricant this oil is unsurpassed. Neither paraffin nor asphalt is contained in it. It forms a tough, thin film penetrating to and protecting every part in any weather and in any motor heat. It passes every known test of perfect lubrication under all conditions that exist in motors. It's the best that a great company like the Union Oil Company of Canada, Ltd. can make.

If you want such lubrication, with entire elimination of all "carbon" damage, see that you always get Aristo Motor Oil, for sale at all first-class garages and service stations.

TEXT OF PROPOSED TREATY ADOPTED

Mutual Guarantees to Bring About Reductions in Armaments

Paris, Aug. 9.—The temporary mixed commission of the reduction of armaments of the League of Nations yesterday afternoon adopted the text of the proposed treaty of mutual guarantees destined to bring about reduction of armaments, which it will submit to the Assembly of the League in September.

Some of the important features of the project were adopted without a unanimous vote and consequently will be the subject of contention at Geneva. The text, as it will be submitted, provides for a general treaty to be signed by all the members of the League, whereby they agree to aid members who are victims of aggression or threatened invasion.

This agreement, so far as it implies the use of military force, is of continental application only, no signatory being obliged to contribute military efforts on any continent other than that on which it is situated. Thus the South American countries would not, by signing the treaty, incur any obligation to intervene in a European conflict.

The right of any state to assistance from the other signatories under this position depends upon the reduction of its armament to the lowest limit justified by the security which the agreement gives.

If a threatening state has complied with these conditions, the Council of the League, upon being informed of the aggression or the menace, will, in four days from receiving the notice, decide whether there is cause for action, and, if so, will notify the signatories to the treaty and recommend the kind of assistance which the different powers are capable of giving.

By the terms of the accord, the Council of the League may decide to apply a blockade and to call upon the signatory members for military forces or prepare a plan of financial co-operation among the members in the defence of, and with the consent of, the state that had been attacked. The Council also may appoint a committee to study the effect of the change of the combined forces contributed by the signatories.

The article of the treaty which was the subject of most contention was that relating to alliances or ententes between the small number of powers separate from the general agreement but which would be subject to the same obligations. The next privilege is that in order to enable the signatories to furnish general assistance that would immediately be effective they may conclude between two or more of them agreements complimentary to the general one. Exclusively for the purpose of mutual assistance such agreements may, if the parties desire, be negotiated under the auspices of the League.

BRITISH SOLDIERS PREPARE TO LEAVE TURKISH TERRITORY

Constantinople, Aug. 9.—With the signing of peace at Lausanne, the British army is evacuating the territory which they have held since the armistice. There will be genuine regret among all the Christian races here, and no little sorrow among the educated class of Turks, when General Harrington and his 12,000 soldiers bid adieu to the Golden Horn. For whatever uneasiness their presence gave to the new regime at Ankara, their occupation of the capital and straits has been a power for good.

Indeed, with the small French and Italian garrisons and the Yankee bluejackets from the American destroyers in the Bosphorus, the British soldiers have been the main source of security and order throughout the large area menaced by the Turks. Time and time again at Chankai, Gallipoli, at Constantinople and in Thrace, their patience has been tried by the Turk, but they have kept their rifles muzzled, their bayonets reversed and their temper in leash.

Harrington's Message
General Sir Charles Harrington, the patient and tactful commander-in-chief of the Allied forces here, has addressed a typical message of commendation and caution to his officers and men. In it General Harrington, who is beloved of all ranks for his human qualities and his constant solicitude for his men, said: "It must be realized that it is only human to expect that our departure will be heralded with a certain amount of satisfaction by the Turks. I look to all ranks to conduct themselves during this period with dignity and restraint, and to do all in their power to avoid incidents, so that the evacuation may be carried out in accordance with the high standard which exists throughout the force, and so that they may leave behind them a memory and respect for British forces which will be long-lived in Turkey and in the history of the British army."

"All have a difficult task to perform. The patience and restraint which have been exercised by the troops are beyond all praise, and worthy of the best traditions. The closing weeks may be difficult, and for this reason I ask all ranks to help me in completing the task with the dignity and high sense of duty which has so characterized the force. I have been so proud to have under my command."

LAWYERS TOP LIST AS SKYSCRAPER TENANTS

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Twenty per cent. of the tenants in American skyscrapers are lawyers, according to a survey made for the National Association of Building Owners and Managers by W. R. Ballard, of Boston, Mass.

The survey covers typical tenancy of seventy-two skyscrapers, and is said to be the first one of its kind ever made. Of the total of 3,723 tenants canvassed, 843 were found to be lawyers. After lawyers came investment houses with 370 and real estate in a close third with 325 tenants. The survey will be used in aiding prospective builders to determine the proper way to lay out floor space.

The tenants using the most space are banks and trust companies, with oil concerns next and insurance companies third, the report showed. Thirty-eight different classes of businesses were found to be housed in the various skyscrapers.

Half Cream

A short time ago a woman was asking a grocer why everything she baked was too short. She said everything was the same but she couldn't get a cake "fit to eat." Being a good friend of ours she asked if she knew that Pacific Milk is almost half pure cream. She hadn't heard of it, of course. He asked her to use less butter or lard, not much more than half what her recipes called for. We haven't heard how she came out.

CONSERVATISM SWEEPS CANADA, LEADERS ASSERT

Party Will Come Back Strong in Next Election, Big Picnic Crowd Told

Bowser Optimistic; Tolmie Denies Macdonald's "Turn Coat" Charges

Canada is being swept by a wave of Conservative feeling which will carry the Conservative Party into power at the next Federal and British Columbia elections, speakers at the big Conservative picnic at the Willows Beach yesterday evening asserted. The crowd of some 6,000 people who attended the picnic, they said, was evidence of this feeling here.

Speeches by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M. P. for Victoria, W. J. Bowser, Leader of the Conservative Party in British Columbia, C. H. Dickie, M. P. for Nanaimo, R. M. Maitland, President of the Conservative Association of British Columbia, Mrs. Genevieve Lipsett-Skinner, a member of the Ottawa Press Gallery and J. A. Aikman concluded the day's programme over which Major Gus Lyons, President of the Victoria Conservative Association presided.

Mr. Bowser, who briefly opened the speaking programme, expressed absolute confidence of success in the next election. Everywhere, he asserted, there was dissatisfaction with the present Government, and when Premier Oliver decided to give up his good salary and go to the country he would not come back.

Bowser Optimistic
Mr. Bowser asserted that "as Victoria goes so does British Columbia." He recited the provincial politics to prove this assertion, and declared that Victoria and the Province as a whole would go Conservative at the next election. He believed that Premier Oliver himself would be defeated if he ran here again, as a sentiment was evidently against his administration. The big picnic gathering, he held, was evidence of this.

Timber Conservation
Mr. Bowser came out emphatically for the conservation of timber along the main highways of British Columbia. If the Government could buy this timber at a fair price it should do so, he urged. The Province's scenery, he said, was one of its greatest assets, and would bring millions of tourists here in the future. The Conservative leader urged Victoria Conservatives to nominate at the next election candidates of "cabinet quality." This would enable him, he said, to form a cabinet of his administration. "Elect people who have been successful in their own lives, so we can form a business government that will bring the prosperity of old days instead of the present doldrums of the Oliver administration," he urged.

Denies "Turn-coat Charge"
Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M. P., referred to M. A. Macdonald's speech at the Liberal picnic at Goldstream, classing him as a political turncoat. In 1917, said the speaker, a joint committee of Liberals and Conservatives waited on him and asked him to give his name to be put forward as a candidate for the House of Commons. He refused at first, but while he was away at Regina he found he was nominated and could not refuse the honor. Previous to that time, he said, he had been in the employ of both the Liberal and Conservative Governments, and as a civil servant had taken no active part on any political side.

The speaker advocated the development of the Pacific Coast route to handle the great wheat crop of Canada, and said in this direction the Canadian National Railway could play a great part.

Canada's Place in Immigration
"In any move for immigration we should make it a condition that men working in any industry or in agriculture in this country had their condition bettered and made more satisfactory. At the same time," he continued, "if we bring in a large number of settlers and then find conditions not satisfactory when they arrive here, it is merely making Canada a stopping-off place for the United States."

The speaker advocated careful selection of emigrants with settlers from the British Isles men used to agriculture as the first choice and settlers from the United States as the second choice when the quota from the British Isles was exhausted.

Oriental Question
Speaking on the Oriental question, the speaker said one of the greatest difficulties they had to contend with was the apathy of the Easterner, who did not realize the foothold the Oriental had secured in Western Canada.

Local Appropriations
Dr. Tolmie drew attention to appropriations secured for Victoria and district, singling out the Esquimalt dry dock grant, and strongly advocated more industries for the city.

Dealing with his appointment as Dominion Conservative organizer, the speaker said he appreciated the selection as an honor to himself and to the constituency. The organization would work to a great extent through the provincial organizations, he said, and spoke in optimistic vein of the prospects of the Conservative party.

He concluded with a eulogistic reference to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, and called for whole-hearted support for Mr. Bowser as leader of the Conservative party in the Province of British Columbia.

Mr. Dickie
C. H. Dickie, M. P. for Nanaimo, praised Dr. Tolmie who, he said, was more highly respected than any other member in the House of Commons.

HEMORRHOIDS
Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles or Hemorrhoids. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 6c a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free. (Advt.)

mons. He called Mr. Meighen a "clean-cut little politician," who had kept his promises.

Mr. Dickie said a wave of Conservatism was sweeping over Canada, and would put Conservative Governments in power in every province except, perhaps, Quebec. The Conservative Party, he said, had never failed Canada.

R. M. Maitland, president of the Liberal-Conservative Association for British Columbia, opened the speaking program. He referred to Mr. Bowser as "the future Premier of the Province of British Columbia," and spoke of the outburst of party enthusiasm, which he read as a sign that the Conservative Party are coming into its own. He described the Liberal Government as "the most corrupt and incompetent that ever came into office." Conservatives in Victoria, he said, were leading the band wagon of the party in British Columbia.

Miss Genevieve Lipsett, Skinner, of the press gallery of the House of Commons at Ottawa, said the opinion of journalists in the gallery and members in the House was that the best Conservatives in the House came from British Columbia. She also prophesied that Hon. S. F. Tolmie would always occupy a high position in the party. A wave of Conservatism, she declared, was sweeping Canada.

CONSERVATIVE PICNIC DRAWS BIG GATHERING

Many Flock to Willows Beach and Enjoy Delightful Sports Programme

Willows Beach was crowded yesterday with about 6,000 people who attended the Conservative Party picnic and enjoyed the long programme of sports and amusement provided by the Conservative Association.

The afternoon was devoted to the sports and novelty events which had been arranged chiefly for the amusement of the youngsters. Huge supplies of ice cream, pop and other juvenile delights made the afternoon perfect from the kiddies' point of view. Keen competition featured the sports programme and there was a good deal of excitement over the tomboles contest in which fifty prizes were offered.

The crowning of Mrs. J. A. Aikman as Queen of the Picnic by Bowser, K. C., Leader of the Conservative Party in this Province, was a colorful feature. Over 6,000 votes in Mrs. Aikman's favor were sold, and her throne was set on a platform, the seats of the party leaders on the rostrum. Her crown was made of roses and ferns.

After the speeches by Conservative leaders in the evening programme was concluded by a dance and a fireworks display.

SPAIN WANTS BETTER TREATMENT IN FRAMING OF COMMERCIAL TREATY

Madrid, Aug. 9.—Financial and economic experts of the Spanish Government have decided to reject that part of the proposed Spanish-American commercial treaty dealing with concessions desired by the United States, because the clause in its entirety is not valid under Spanish law, and therefore cannot be admitted.

Spain insists upon liberal treatment. Imports of Spanish wines into the United States for medicinal and religious purposes, and it is declared that if the United States declines to make concessions Spain will be obliged to deny reciprocal preference to American merchandise.

If such a state continues, the United States will lose the advantage of the most favored nations treatment, which it now possesses. This, it is announced, will happen when the provisional prolongation of the present treaty terminates within two or three months.

All the other points in the proposed treaty, dealing with the rights of consuls, crews of ships and emigration, will be made the basis of special parties.

THE WRONG ADVICE.

When Mr. Frank Hodges, the youngest of the more prominent Labor leaders in Great Britain and secretary of the Miners' Federation, arrives in Vancouver to attend the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada...

Is it friendly advice? Is it even sensible advice? Will the officials who will be responsible for the manufacture of this document seriously inform Mr. Hodges that the skilled worker who comes to Canada and cannot find a job immediately sits down and counts his thumbs and weeps over his misfortune?

If that is what is meant by the report which Mr. Hodges will be asked to take back to Britain we shall say that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is trying to cut off its nose to spite its face and is barking up the wrong tree when it thinks that the skilled worker on the other side of the Atlantic, who has been out of work for a few months, will be scared because he might have to use a spade instead of a lathe.

THE TRANS-PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY.

Dr. Sutherland promises British Columbia a through highway by the end of 1924. Ever since he assumed the duties of Minister of Public Works he has manifested a keen interest in the investigations that were commenced by his successor in office.

When he expresses the view that British Columbians should see their own Province before wandering over the face of the globe and faring worse Dr. Sutherland speaks from an ample knowledge of this part of the Dominion. In a large number of cases it has been the absence of trans-provincial highway facilities that has caused the holidaymaker, who is waiting to explore the hundred and one historic and romantic sections of the Interior by road, to go farther afield.

INCONSISTENT MR. BOWSER.

Nobody will quarrel with Mr. Bowser's contention that British Columbia needs all the good roads that it is feasible to build. We shall also agree with him when he says that much of the natural beauty of Vancouver Island depends upon its timber—which he says should be preserved for its scenic value.

How does Mr. Bowser propose to spend a few millions on roads and a few more millions in the preservation of timber—now netting revenue for the Province—and perform the tax reduction act into the bargain? If he has an answer to the command of the people of Vancouver Island would like to hear it.

PROMISING, IF TRUE.

One of the most promising developments arising out of the more recent discussion of reparations is the suggestion that the Belgian Government proposes to take the initiative, and approach Great Britain and France with a new plan, if negotiations hang fire much longer.

An unofficial report declares that Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspars will go to Paris and propose that reparations claims from Germany, as far as France and Belgium are concerned, be confined to material damage suffered by those countries and that Great Britain cancel the inter-Allied debts. In return for this latter consideration the plan would provide for John Bull to get from Germany the amount he owes to Uncle Sam.

The British Government would obviously jump at the chance of coming to an arrangement of this sort; but it seems to fall too short of what France considers Germany is able to do, what she is trying to collect by her own particular process, to win much favor at the Quai d'Orsay.

If the Belgian Government is really contemplating such a course, which displays rather a different sentiment from that revealed in its reply to Britain's suggested draft reply to Germany, about the only hope of French acceptance of the plan would be because it emanated from Brussels and not from London.

PREMIER PROMISES PROBE.

Apparently the Prime Minister's doubts have been raised sufficiently to induce him to authorize the fullest possible investigation into what the Great War Veterans' Association declares to be a discrepancy between the House of Commons version of the Pensions Bill and that which finally received the endorsement of the Senate.

Until the investigating body has had an opportunity to examine the charge and hear explanations comment would be out of place. But most people who take more than ordinary pride in our system of Government will marvel how the condition about which the G. W. V. A. complains could be created without immediate detection.

Note and Comment

All the speakers at yesterday's Liberal-Conservative picnic seem to be persuaded that a gigantic wave of Conservatism is sweeping the country. Will the party adopt "What Are The Wild Waves Saying?" as its battle hymn?

Those who fear a Slavonic influx into this country should have seen the Russian men and women who reached this side on the President Madison yesterday afternoon. We venture to suggest that a finer or better educated type has not touched these shores from a foreign country for many a long day.

Internal Revenue officers in New York State are not at all sure that the bootlegging fraternity is filling out its income tax returns as honestly as it might. On that account a checking up process is about to be inaugurated. No doubt the professional burglar will watch this interference with the "liberty of the subject" with passing interest and wonder whether there will be a similar suspicion cast upon his own returns.

Mr. Lloyd George says one of two things may happen before the House of Commons meets again. Either Germany will collapse or Germany will capitulate. Meanwhile if he is the wise man that most people still consider him to be he will make the best use of his time and come out to Canada—to the Pacific Coast as well—and get a change of scene. Because he cannot expect that Mr. Baldwin is going to be very seriously exercised over anything he may say or do in connection with this subject.

Some Thoughts for To-day

Affectation is an awkward and forced imitation of what should be genuine and easy, wanting the Beauty that accompanies what is natural. Locke.

I've reared a monument alone More durable than brass or stone; Whose cloudy summit is more hid Than regal height of pyramid. Abraham Coles.

The objects that we have known in better days are the Main props that sustain the weight of our affections, And give us strength to await our future lot. Wm. Hazlitt.

Now let us thank th' eternal power, convince'd That Heaven but tries our virtue by affliction; That off the cloud which wraps the present hour, Serves but to brighten all our future days! John Brown.

What is it to grow old? Is it to lose the glory of the form, The lustre of the eye? Is it for Beauty to forego her wraith? Yes; but not this alone. Matthew Arnold.

Our Contemporaries

THE ROOT OF TRUTH. The Times—The true, the just and the beautiful have their roots elsewhere than in what can be seen. In spite of its fondness for the secular, modern education has, in one branch of study, recognized as much. Euclid and his triangles and circles have been abolished, and the way is open for a youthful Pascal to reconstruct those eternal principles out of his own head for himself.

SHORT OF SERVANTS. London Daily Mail—The meaning of the servant problem can be seen all over the west end of London, where there are large numbers of unoccupied houses standing empty because people cannot get willing servants. And yet the country is full of unemployed. So long as people are able to draw money for doing nothing, so long there will be a shortage of servants. What is the use of inventing all sorts of fanciful reasons for the unpopularity of domestic service when the true reasons are staring us in the face?

RE FORT LANGLEY

To the Editor—The article which appeared in your issue of the 21st instant, whilst interesting, is hardly accurate in all details regarding Fort Langley, an undue importance is given to the old establishment as a Hudson's Bay Post. As a matter of fact, until 1849 it was a subsidiary post, used only as a convenient point for may cutting of salmon and producing crops of potatoes for supplying other posts along the coast and for export to the Sandwich Islands in exchange for the products of that country. The few furs traded were of minor importance and were transferred to Fort Vancouver for shipment to England.

In 1848 the route over the Cascade Range via Hope and the Similkameen, which had been explored by A. C. Anderson in 1846, was opened under the direction of Henry N. Peers and Fort Hope was established as the convenient point of land travel.

In 1849 this route was for the first time used by the Hudson's Bay Company's brigades for the transportation of furs from interior points and which were in turn conveyed by water to Fort Langley which then became the centre where the outfit for interior forts were made up into convenient bales for packing on horses, the goods being conveyed from Fort Vancouver and furs transported to that point for shipment to England by the schooner "Cadboro" or by the bark "Una".

The expression used of "the building" seems rather odd, as besides the residence of the gentleman in charge, there were other buildings used as warehouses, etc. I speak from personal experience, having resided in the fort for several days in 1850 and again in 1851, the late J. M. Yale being then in charge. I may add that in my memoirs I mention that Fort Langley was named after Thomas Langley, one of the directors of the Hudson's Bay Company in London.

The story of the bagpipes seems a little improbable inasmuch as Sir George Simpson, a strict disciplinarian, was in the habit of travelling with as little impediment as possible and, therefore, a piper would seem to have been very superfluous. J. R. ANDERSON.

THE UNIT OF CURRENCY

To the Editor—Mr. Milne—like Major Douglas—whose scheme he is endorsing, to my mind has got very near the heart of things; but only "very near" it is, for the "unit" and is travelling round and round the shell, but has not yet located the "kernel".

The complexity of modern commercial life, the thousand and one ways by which we provide ourselves with the thousand and one things that we need, have hidden the fact that all we do, or can do, is to "work" and then "exchange work". There is nothing else to it; absolutely nothing. When I buy a box of matches I have simply exchanged some of my work for some of the matchmaker's.

Of course I know that a whole lot of additions have been tacked on to the price of the matches before I get them, but that does not alter the fundamental truth; nor does the fact that the actual matchmaker who made the matches I get, does not get the actual work that I expended to secure the money with which I purchased the matches.

The exchange started out with the work of each of us as individuals, and was completed so far as I was concerned when I obtained the matches. It is completed for the matchmaker when he obtains the thing he requires with the money he receives for his work.

He and I have exchanged "work" and nothing else. The same thing occurs when I buy a newspaper, or when I buy another article. The process appears complicated because there are so many different people's work mixed up in it. Nevertheless I am only giving some of my work for some of their work (and by work I mean mental work as well as muscular). That is the only thing human beings can contribute and consequently the only thing they can exchange.

Mr. Milne enumerates a number of things which he says enter into production besides labor. I would submit that he is not quite careful enough in his analysis.

Every one of the things he mentions can be summed up in his own words, "The collective result of intelligent effort in the past." If it is the result of intelligent effort, who put forth that effort? Surely it was not some machine? It must have been intelligent effort of human beings—therefore it was "human work".

Will Mr. Milne contend that scientific research and improvements in the methods of production are only labor because they were done before our time?

The printing press is a fair example of one of the "collective results of intelligent effort in the past," and what is that but the gradual evolution of "a tool" that probably had its origin in the marking of a tree by some prehistoric ancestor of ours to show which way he had gone? Mankind, so far as we have any record, has always been improving his tools. He has accepted what has gone before and built on that—always with the object of enabling him to secure more form nature than he could before.

If Mr. Milne wishes to contend that the "net" results of labor are only that proportion of the "gross" results minus the amount to be credited to "the collective results of intelligent effort," then he will have to eliminate everything in the shape of tools altogether, for they all represent "collective results of intelligent effort." Consequently all that can be credited to labor will be what a totally untrained man can do with his hands. He evidently does not mean that, for he says "these collective results of intelligent effort" are a "commercial inheritance."

Of course they are. They were paid for (or perhaps given free) when they were contributed, and are now "our" inheritance, and I presume that Mr. Milne will agree with me when I say that "our" means all of us. Now, if we all inherit it why should we be charged with it? If the accumulation of effort and knowledge in the past has handed down to the present generation the ability to produce fifty times as much with our labor as we could fifty years ago, by what line of argument can it be said that any individual or individuals are entitled to make a charge for that accumulation of effort?

Mr. Milne must also remember that all this "accumulation of effort" does not produce a single thing until the present generation gets busy on the job. It does not produce in spite of all that may be said in favor of it. It only determines how much can be produced when present-day labor is applied to it. (Concluded on page 5.)

B. C. HEADS LIST IN DIVORCE RECORDS

Decrees Granted in 138 Cases in 1922; Highest in Canada

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 8.—Marriages in Canada are successful, and families still are loyal to the "till death do us part" tradition. Divorces granted in the Dominion numbered only 544 in 1922, or two-thirds of one per cent of all the marriages contracted, according to a report just compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Based on population, the report shows, divorces numbered seven to every 100,000 persons. Divorces in the United States, according to official figures for the last year on record, numbered 112 to every 100,000 people.

"The 1922 figures," says the report, "probably indicate that the wave of divorce due to the war has reached its highest point and is now on the decline. Total divorces granted last year showed a reduction of four compared with 1921. The remarkably low per cent of divorces shows the stability of Canadian homes and institutions."

Of the total divorces granted, husbands received 316, or about sixty per cent, and wives 28, or about forty per cent. British Columbia led in divorces issued, with 138, followed by Alberta with 129 and Manitoba with ninety-seven. One province, Ontario, Edward Island, granted no divorces. Only one divorce has been granted in this Province since 1883, and that was in 1922.

The greater per cent of the divorced were residents of cities. Comparatively few applications were made among the agricultural population.

The Sandman Story For To-night

THE SEA GIANT'S CASTLE

Once upon a time there lived a Sea Giant who built his castle in the middle of the great Ocean where the waves dashed high around it and sometimes over it.

There were rocks under the sea that completely surrounded the castle so that the enemies of the Giant could never hope to overpower him or destroy his strongholds.

The castle was made of rock and the only openings looking out on the Ocean were the windows which ran around the top, but when the Sea Giant wished he could, with a magic word open the top of the castle which was really a tower and go in and out as he chose.

The word that he used was NEPO, but that has nothing to do with the story because the one that rescued the Princess—but there I must tell you the beginning of the story before I tell you the ending.

On land some distance from the Ocean where the Sea Giant had his castle a King lived in a Palace with one beautiful daughter.

Many Princes and Kings as well had sought her hand but because he loved her so much the King had found none of the suitors worthy of the Princess and so she had remained single.

But one day she had gone down to the Ocean with her maids to bathe and the Sea Giant from the tower of his castle had seen her. He fell in love with her at once, but he did not go to her father as the other lovers had done and ask for her hand.

The Sea Giant asked no favors, he took what he wanted and carried it off to his castle among the waves and no one ever was able to find where he hid her.

And so with the beautiful Princess. When he saw her he just opened the top of his castle with the magic word and hid her in one as he came near the shore.

As the Princess swam about she ventured out beyond her maids and the wicked Sea Giant caught her around the waist and before she could utter a cry, he had her over his shoulder and was swimming with her to his castle.

The poor frightened maidens were sure their mistress was drowned and they went back to the palace weeping and waiting out their grief as they ran.

IMMIGRANTS WERE EXCEPTIONAL BODY

Many Are University Graduates, While Appearance Denotes Better Class

Admiral Kovalensky, of Former Russian Navy, Was in Charge

One of the most exceptional body of men and women who ever came to these shores in one group formed part of the second cabin complement on the S. S. President Madison, docking here yesterday, a party of over 200 Russians immigrating to the United States. Under Admiral Kovalensky, formerly highly placed in the Russian Imperial Navy, the party were here assured that their landing on American soil would not be impeded. They were well within the August quota of immigrants from that land, it was intimated.

The Russian party was outstanding for the fine appearance of the members composing it. The women were without exception of exceedingly handsome appearance, and many were of more than ordinary beauty. Tall and dark with the grace of bearing of the better class of Russia the party made a distinct impression when passing before the immigration and other boards here.

To The Times a spokesman for the party said that the travelers came from Siberia via Japan, Harbin, in Manchuria, where many of them have been living with their families awaiting an opportunity of emigrating. Almost without exception they are educated, and many university graduates are among the band. Admiral Kovalensky joined the party at Shanghai and took charge of their arrangements from that time.

Most of the travelers are accompanied by their families, and numbers of children with the laughing eyes of their countrymen formed a feature of the party. While many of the party will settle at Seattle, others are routed through to points east in the United States. Canadian Customs officers remarked that it was a pity that such a fine body of men and women were not bound for this country, the band consisting of some of the finest types arriving here in many a day.

SINNOTT-JOHNSON WEDDING
Well-Known Young Victoria Lawyer Is Married

Wesley Methodist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Ruth Evelyn Johnson, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Geo. W. Johnson, of Colville Road, Esquimalt, was united in marriage to Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sinnott, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sinnott, of Selkirk Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by Rev. J. F. Dimmick, pastor of the church. Shasta daisies and white asters had been artistically arranged for the occasion by Ingeborg Smith, Mrs. Lillian, Mrs. Power, Mrs. Macadam, Mrs. Terry, Miss Cowell, Miss Rant, Miss Rose McKenna, Miss Jessie Winterburn and Miss Dorothy McAdam.

The bride who was handsomely gowned in ivory satin and French lace, over which fell her bridal veil of silk was a charming picture as she entered the church on the arm of her father. She carried a shower bouquet of Ombella roses.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. L. A. Young, as matron of honor, and Miss Helen Macdonald as bridesmaid. They were beautifully attired in mauve and pink crepe de Chine dresses. The bridesmaids wore light blue dresses of mauve and pink sweet peas.

Little Miss Rommie Macdonald made a welcome in her frock of pale blue taffeta and a pink tulle veil which fell from a white tulle crown. She carried a dainty blue basket of pink sweet peas.

During the signing of the register "Because" was beautifully rendered by Mr. F. Waddington.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the reception rooms being tastefully decorated in a scheme of mauve and pink. The young couple received the congratulations and good wishes of the guests under a bell of white flowers.

Among those who assisted in serving the dainty refreshments were: Mesdames Elliott, Schwabe, Walton, Hammill, Anderson, and Messrs. Emily Anderson, Margaret Jones, Kathleen Mulcahy, Grace and Mable Henry, Annie Armstrong and Minnie McGinley.

The bride's going away dress was of grey and blue, trimmed with white, and she wore a chic hat of blue and rose, and a handsome blue Marcella wrap with black fox.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and the bride's gift to the groom was a diamond necklace and the best man and ushers the pins.

The happy couple left on the afternoon boat for Seattle and other points, and their residence will reside at 605 Moss Street.

Professor Shatters Illusions Concerning Beautifiers and Cosmetics

Columbus, Aug. 8.—That cosmetics are a "waste of money" and that just as beneficial results are obtained by massaging the face with pure water as by using cold creams, clays and other "beautifiers" are claims voiced by Prof. Raymond J. Seymour, assistant professor of physiology at Ohio State University.

It is the rubbing and massaging necessary in the use of the "beautifiers," for which American women annually spend millions of dollars, that stimulate the skin and circulation and result in real benefit, according to Prof. Seymour.

SAY VICTORIA IS BEAUTIFUL CITY
Mr. and Mrs. William O'Hara, are camping at Albert Head for two or three days, resting after their fourteen-day motor tour, during which they have accomplished well over 3,000 miles.

Starting from Vancouver they first toured the state of Washington, calling at all the large cities en route along the beautiful highway to Oregon and San Francisco. From there they went to Los Angeles, where they were much struck by the growth and expansion of the city, and on to Santa Monica, where they passed an enjoyable time.

Homeward bound, the travelers unfortunately struck 120 miles of road in a bad condition, but continued their journey until they reached Belington, from whence they took the ferry to Sidney and arrived in Victoria to give the verdict that "of all the beautiful cities they had visited Victoria appealed most of all," unhesitatingly pronouncing it by far the most beautiful and impressive them with its general appearance of cleanliness and attractiveness.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara commented upon the extensive farming which is now taking place in California.

PRESIDENT MADISON CLIPS EIGHT HOURS OFF TIME

Made Journey From Yokohama Breakwater to William Head in 9 Days 2 Hours 35 Minutes; Has Richest Cargo an American Vessel Has Yet Brought From Orient on This Route; Many Passengers Aboard Liner.

With flag half-mast in sympathy for the death of the United States President, the Admiral-Oriental liner President Madison, Captain Quinn, docked at William Head at 1:30 standard time yesterday, completing a record trip from Yokohama in 9 days 2 hours 35 minutes. Aboard the vessel was the manager for the Admiral Oriental Line in the Orient, George McCarthy, who has come to this coast for a four months vacation.

Record Trip.

The ship left Yokohama on July 30, and the time was taken at the breakwater. The vessel encountered excellent weather the whole way across, passing the breakwater at Yokohama at 9:05 o'clock in the afternoon of July 30 and docking at William Head at 1:30 o'clock yesterday. This makes her trip 9 days 2 hours and 35 minutes from breakwater to breakwater.

Eight hours has been clipped off the vessel's previous record by this feat, and the vessel was not crowded any, so the Captain reports. No rough weather was encountered, the sea being as smooth as a lake.

Passengers disembarking here included four first saloon passengers and 100 Chinese steerage. Altogether there were 110 first saloon and 440 steerage, including 200 Russians and a number of Chinese, Japanese and Filipinos.

Victoria Passengers
The Victoria landing list included four first cabin passengers and some-thing over 100 steerage. Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Barnett, of Berwick-on-Tweed, are on their way to Scotland, returning from a six-months holiday cruise of the Orient. To The Times yesterday Mrs. Barnett expressed delight at landing again on Canadian soil, and the intention of the party to route East over Canadian lines. Of the Orient, Mrs. Barnett had little to say, beyond the fact that European Hotels under foreign management were so comfortable that traveling in China and Japan was without now even the thrill of novelty.

Mrs. Louise Hubbard, of New York, landed here also, en route home after a vacation in the Far East. Mr. R. Lawson, of this city, completed the local landing list.

In the steerage slightly over 100 Chinese were to disembark at this port. Many of these are for the former German ships now in the Panama belt and due to be operated in southern waters under Latin-American colors.

Valuable Cargo
Cargo consignment valued at $15,000,000 was brought from the Orient by the vessel. There were 2,500 barrels of silk bound for Seattle for transshipment. This was valued at $7,000,000, while the remainder of cargo for Seattle included 250 tons of vegetable oils and general commodities, valued at $8,000,000. Victoria's cargo consignment totalled 170 tons of general stuff.

Mail for Victoria comprised 52 bags, while the aircraft took 15 bags. Also going to Seattle by way of the seaplane was two photographic plates.

NOBODY'S MAN

"Why? Our farewell have been spoken. I leave you—so."
The man had disappeared behind the bonnet of the car. She grasped his hand with both of hers and brushed it lightly with her lips. Then she glided away. A moment later he was listening to her polite speeches as she leaned out of the coupe.

"My dinner was too wonderful," she said. "Do make my compliments to that dear Robert and his wife. Good luck to you, and don't rob us poor landowners of every penny we possess in life."
The car was gone in the midst of his vague little response. He watched the lights go flashing up the hillside, crawling around the hairpin corners, up until it seemed that they had reached the black clouds and were climbing into the heavens. Then he turned back into the house. The world was still a place for dreams.

Talented as he in the morning train, on his way to town, and on the other side of the bar ledge, which he gazed so earnestly at Lady Jane and Segerson had brought their horses to a standstill half way along a rude cart track, which led to a farmhouse tucked away in the valley.

"This is where James Crockford's land commences," Segerson remarked, riding up to his companion's side. "Look around you. I think you will admit that I have not exaggerated."
She frowned thoughtfully. On every side were evidences of poor farming and neglect. The untrimmed hedges had been broken down in many places by the plough, which seemed to thrust its way through embedded there for ages, stood in the middle of a half-ploughed field. Several tracts of land, which seemed prepared for winter, were covered with stones. The farmhouse gable, into which they presently passed, was dirty and untidy. Segerson leaned down and knocked on the door with his hand. After a short delay, a slatternly-looking woman, with tumbled hair, answered the summons.

"Mr. Crockford in?" Segerson asked.
"You'll find him in the living room," the woman answered, coming with a stare at Lady Jane. "Here he himself."
She retreated into the background. A man with flushed face, without collar tie, clad in trousers and shirt only, had stepped out of the parlor. He stared at his visitors in embarrassment.

two with you on business, Mr. Crockford," Jane said coldly. "I rather expected to find you on the land."
The man mumbled something and threw open the door of the sitting room.
"Won't you come in?" he invited. "There's just Mr. Pettigrew here—the set from Barnstable. His name over to look at one of my cows."
Mr. Pettigrew, also flushed, rose to his feet. Jane acknowledged his greeting and glanced around the room. It was a dingy, dirty and close-smelling strongly of tobacco and beer. On the table was a bottle of whisky, half empty, and two glasses.

"Your lease is up on March, the twenty-fifth, Crockford," she reminded him. "I have come to tell you that I shall not be prepared to renew it."
The man simply blinked at her. His fuddled brain was not equal to grappling with such a catastrophe. "You continued," she continued, "and, although small, has great possibilities. I find you are poorer each season. Have you saved any money, Crockford?"
"I have," the man blustered. "With my sheep's wages alone at two pounds a week, and a week's rain starting in the day I became a steel oil-barge for hay services. The barge is to have a capacity of 3,000 barrels, it was said."

CAPSIZED HULK OF FOUR-MASTED SHIP THOUGHT TO BE ALTA

Alta Left Los Angeles for Seattle Last February Snohomish; Has Been Dispatched to Derelect to Investigate

Seattle, Aug. 9.—Believed to be the long missing barquentine Alta, which sailed from Los Angeles for Seattle last February and has not been heard from since, the capsized hulk of a four-masted vessel floating off the Washington coast sixty-six miles south of Tatoosh Island was reported here yesterday by Captain Chris Larsen, master of the Seattle halibut fishing schooner Helene.

Immediately on receipt of the report, Captain F. C. Dodge, commander of the United States guard district here, dispatched the cutter Snohomish to the derelict. After investigation it will be destroyed as a menace to navigation.

The missing barquentine Alta was a former German sailing vessel and was acquired from the Shipping Board by the Pacific Shipping Company of San Francisco. She had been engaged in carrying lumber from Puget Sound to Los Angeles and was en route here in ballast when she disappeared. No other overdue sailing vessels are reported bound here.

ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO FLOAT SIBERIAN PRINCE OFF ROCKS

Work on the Siberian Prince is progressing rapidly despite the developments yesterday when the Pacific Salvage Company attempted to float the vessel off the rocks of Bentinck Island, where she went aground in a dense fog a week ago.

After discharging some 2,000 tons of cargo and patching the punctures in the ship's hull at the forward and after ends of the vessel, the Pacific Salvage Company's vessel Algonquin endeavored to float the Siberian Prince when the tide was at flood but were set back by the discovery of more leaks, which were filling her hold with water.

Water in the ship's hold had been practically pumped out but when pumping ceased it was found the water gained considerably on the work, so another 500 tons of cargo will be transferred to the Ogden Point docks before floating operations are commenced again.

The removal of this tonnage of cargo is necessary owing to the fact that the patching of the vessel has to be done from the inside. This means that the leak has to be located and the cargo shifted so that a patch may be placed over the hole.

When this is completed pumping will be re-commenced. Discharge of cargo commenced today, cargo of men being sent to the scene of the wreck to transfer the lumber and spelter to barges. This will be taken to the Ogden Point piers, where the remainder of her cargo will be discharged by means of a derrick.

It is not thought that the cargo will be removed before operations may be commenced about to-morrow at flood tide, it is expected.

FUNERAL SERVICES WERE HELD ABOARD PRESIDENT MADISON

Rev. Dr. H. H. Gowen Officiated at Service; Flag Ordered Half-Mast

On Friday night, when just half way across the Pacific Ocean, the news of President Harding's sudden death came as a great blow to those aboard the President Madison, which docked here yesterday from the Orient.

Radio messages, which were being flashed around the world proclaiming the death of the beloved United States president, was picked up by the wireless operator aboard the ship, and bulletined as soon as received.

Captain P. Quinn immediately ordered the flag half mast and called a funeral service in the auditorium that night. It was a large assemblage which turned out to the service.

Captain Quinn gave a brief address in which he expressed his deep and profound sympathy for the death of the president and also recalled many incidents in the President's life.

Rev. Gowen Gives Sermon.
Rev. Dr. H. H. Gowen took over the service after the opening remarks made by Captain Quinn.

In the sermon Dr. Gowen expressed his profound regret at the death of so noble a man, who said in his last address, which was read at San Francisco by his secretary after his death, "glorify the Holy name." Dr. Gowen spoke of the Christian and religious life, which President Harding led, and set an example to the children of the nation. He also spoke of the Christian spirit which had moved President Harding to call the Washington conference to discuss disarmament of the world.

The ship's orchestra played funeral selections and accompanied the hymns, which were sung by the Washington conference to discuss disarmament of the world.

Those traveling second and third class also held services for the late president.

ALGERINE FILES SALVAGE LABEL FOR $20,000

Rainier Also Files Label Against Mandasan Maru

Seattle, Aug. 9.—After having been released to United States Marshal E. R. Benn, of Seattle, by British Columbia authorities at Victoria, the schooner Rainier arrived here yesterday in tow of the tug Daniel Kern.

The Rainier was damaged in collision with the Japanese steamsip Mandasan Maru July 28, both vessels sustaining heavy damage. The Mandasan Maru proceeded to Seattle while the Rainier was taken in tow by the Canadian Salvage steamship Algerine and towed to Esquimalt.

The Canadian ship has filed a label against the Rainier for a $20,000 salvage claim while the Atlas Steamship Company, owners of the Rainier, have filed a label against the Mandasan Maru, owned by Mitsui & Co., for $200,000. The Rainier began discharging its cargo here to-day. Most of it is badly damaged by water. She will be repaired here before being taken to Seattle. The Rainier was bound from Port Angeles for San Francisco at the time of the collision, which occurred off Race Rock in a fog.

The steamsip West Jester, of the North Atlantic and Western Steamship Company, arrived here this morning with 800 tons of steel for local discharge.

The steamsip Admiral Rodman was rushed north from here to-day to carry empty cans to Southeastern Alaska ports for handling the season's pack of salmon, which cannery operators say will be fully as large as last year's. Southeastern vessels from Alaska are loading heavy salmon shipments.

Picked up in the Strait of Juan de Fuca by the tug Sea Monarch, the barque Janet Dollar was towed to Port Townsend to-day and will be towed to-morrow, after which she will be towed to Seattle to be repaired.

The Canadian National Railway's steamer sail from Port Arthur 1:00 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, and direct connections are made by the Canadian National train from Winnipeg with a special boat train from Sarnia to Toronto. MARVALE INQUIRY OPENED YESTERDAY

London, Aug. 9. — (Canadian Press)—An official inquiry into the loss of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale, which sank off the southern coast of Newfoundland on May 20, without loss of life, was opened in London yesterday.

Captain Lewis of the Marvale, attributed the stranding of the steamer to the unusual weather conditions and the abnormal current.

Nanaimo Bringing Home Football Cup

Miners Obtain Decision Over Montreal In Final For Canadian Soccer Championship, Fowler Scoring Goal Which Sends Connaught Cup to British Columbia For First Time In History; Best Team Won

For the first time in history the Connaught Cup, emblematic of the football championship of Canada, will come west of the Rocky Mountains and it remained for a Vancouver Island team to arrange for the passage of the famous mug. Last evening in Winnipeg Nanaimo's famous soccer eleven slipped another 1-0 victory over the C. P. R. team of Montreal, and secured possession of the silverware and championship. It was the third game of the series, each team having won one game previously. By a strange coincidence all three games were decided by similar score, 1-0.

It has often been stated that the best soccer teams in Canada are products of Vancouver Island's mining districts. Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Cumberland and Wellington have developed some splendid teams. Nanaimo and Ladysmith have always been upon putting first class teams on the field, and they are usually in the finals for the championship.

Ladysmith Did Well. Two years ago Ladysmith came within an ace of capturing the Dominion championship. The miners cleaned up everything in Western Canada and went to Toronto for the finals with Walter United. Ladysmith lost out due mainly to the intense heat.

Last year Nanaimo went in quest of the cup but was defeated in the first round by the Hillbursts, of Calgary, ultimate winners of the cup.

This year, however, Nanaimo left no doubt as to its superiority in the soccer world. The team has never had a reputation for goal-getting, but has always been hard to score on. It appears, from the reports emanating from Winnipeg, that the defense of the team stood up all right, but that the forward line outshone its coast form and only for the phenomenon of Nicol the Montreal goalie, the score would have been extremely heavy against the easterners.

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—A striking shot from the toe of Fowler, outside left of Nanaimo, which went skimming into the net, giving Nicol, the C. P. R. goalie, no chance to save, was the means of deciding the soccer championship of Canada. Fowler received a pass from Dickinson right in the goal mouth in the second period, and made no mistake with his shot.

It was the only goal of the game, which ended 1-0, and marked the completion of the series to determine the disposal of the Connaught Cup for another year.

Played in Rain. Playing through the first half in a heavy downpour of rain and the second period in mud and with a greasy ball which made it difficult to handle, the players put up a marvelous exhibition of football under the conditions. Despite the uncertain footing and the water-soaked ball, there were some fine football plays, some clean combination work and superb defensive tactics. Both teams excelled in their defensive tactics. They checked like fiends, and left few openings. The first half saw Nanaimo very much in the picture, and they were unfortunate in not scoring at least one goal.

The second period was a repetition of the first, with Nicol, the Montreal defender, pressing most of the way, their combination work carrying the ball in close where Nicol was called upon to save from close range on many occasions. Minto, Dickinson and Hines did useful work on the attacking line for the winners, and kept the Montreal defence worried all the way with their fast work.

Conditions Improved. The weather conditions in the second half were better, the rain having stopped, but the ground was muddy and slippery. Right from the kick-off Minto, the sensational right winger of the Nanaimo team, brought the lead to them, with a brilliant lightning play when he shot a scorcher from his wing, but the sensational Nicol dived for the ball and made a wonderful save. The ball rolled right out to Hines, who only had to tip it in, but his kick went wide. Montreal returned and gave the Western defence a warm argument, and there were some interesting exchanges, but the Nanaimo team forced the play and uncovered some pretty footwork under the trying conditions, and only marvelous defensive tactics stopped them from scoring.

The Only Goal. Dickinson was playing a splendid game, crossed over to Fowler, who, from an awkward angle, drove in a fast one from the side, which caught the corner of the net after fourteen minutes of play, and the Nanaimo team was very jubilant over their success. They were well worthy the goal won.

Deserved the Title. Nanaimo deserved the verdict, but found a stone wall defence for most of the way, with Nicol in goal, playing a wonderful game. Nicol gave one of the finest displays under the most trying conditions ever seen on any football field. He was tested repeatedly from nearly every angle. He would come to the rescue of his team when the ball seemed to have him beaten. He was given a tremendous ovation after the game, and the crowd made him come out of his dressing room to make a speech.

Home Runs Ring Death Knell of New York Teams

Ken Williams's Wallop Beats Yankee's; Ainsmith's Blow Stops Giants

New York, Aug. 9.—Both the league leaders were defeated by homers yesterday, the Yankees in New York and the Giants in St. Louis. The Giants' death knell was rung when Ainsmith knocked a home run and the Cardinals won four to three. The Yankees were beaten when Ken Williams hit a home run, St. Louis winning four to three.

In Pittsburgh, Brooklyn won the first game of a double header nine to two, but the Pirates captured the second five to two. The Cubs beat the Phillies four to two in Chicago.

In Philadelphia the White Sox defeated the Athletics five to three, while Boston and Detroit broke even in a double-header four to nothing and three to two.

Luque Is Suspended. Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Pitcher Luque, of the Cincinnati Nationals, was suspended yesterday as a result of a clash that occurred in the eighth inning of the Giants' game here Tuesday. Luque rushed from the pitcher's box to the Giants' dugout and aimed a blow at Casey Stengel. Stengel ducked the blow. Further trouble was averted by players and park policemen.

Flaws in Drive Shown by Sarazen

By Gene Sarazen

A novice could see at a glance that both positions for the drive, as illustrated in the accompanying layout, are wrong. They look unnatural—also ridiculous in fact, yet I have seen many players, apparently believing that all they had to do to play golf was to step up and hit the ball and who never received instruction of any kind, address the ball in exactly the manner shown here.

In the upper picture, or front view, the feet are too close together to permit of any kind of blow. Were you to swing the club from this position you would lose your balance and be entirely out of line when you struck at the ball. The feet should be about two feet apart, as I explained in my last pictorial instruction.

Not only are the feet too close together here, but I am standing altogether too stiffly, and too near the ball. My driver measures 42 1/2 inches long and extends at least 36 inches from the grip to the ball, for my left foot is 37 inches distant from the ball while the right foot is two inches nearer.

The lower picture, or side view, gives an idea of how loosely the club is held. This picture shows the left arm flexed at the elbow when it should be virtually in straight line with the club. The distance from the right toe cannot be more than 28 or 30 inches from the ball, whereas it ought to be 35 inches, while the left toe should be at least the same distance away if you use the square stance and 27 inches if you use the open stance.

Of course these distances are in proportion to the length of the club. If you use a club shorter than 42 inches, the other distances will be correspondingly shorter.

Eastern Team May Seek Mann Cup This Year

Winners of Montreal-Winnipeg Series May Meet Coast Champions in Fall

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—An East-West series for the Mann Cup and the Dominion championship in amateur lacrosse may be staged on the Coast in September, very probably at the Provincial Exhibition in the Royal City, which opens September 10.

Yesterday R. L. Barker, president of the Manitoba Lacrosse Association, met with Winnipeg lacrosse men, the B. C. L. A. and the executive, and the proposal was debated.

Mr. Barker says the Modified Shamrock will come to Winnipeg to meet the prairie champions, playing at the Manitoba capital on Labor Day. This would give the winners plenty of time to reach the Coast and as Westman's win over the Native Sons Tuesday night placed them fairly safe in the Coast League standing, the R. A. & I. Society will be asked to guarantee expenses of the visitors, or at least to defray a proportion of the cost.

Westminster officials feel that if the Royals win out there would be no great difficulty in securing the assistance of lacrosse exhibits, for lacrosse is usually featured at the Royal City shows and there is a two-game series arranged between the Minto cupholders and the Green-shirts during exhibition week.

Mr. Barker saw Tuesday night's game and gave his opinion that the amateurs of Montreal or Winnipeg would give either team a stiff argument.

Yesterday Dan Mackenzie, president of the Westminster team, brought the Mann Cup over and deposited it at Birks, where it is being held in trust for the league until the Coast season is over.

It is a beautiful trophy, somewhat the worse for wear to tell the truth. It is all gold and has been valued by jewelers at $2,500. Two of the goal maple leaves, draped just below the wide bowl, are missing, and the golden lacrosse sticks, originally held by four figures at the base, are also gone. Otherwise the mug is in fine repair and carries the names of half-a-dozen of most teams that have won it in the past.

Broad Street, champions of the Wednesday League Cricket Club, yesterday experienced their first defeat of the season when they tackled The Rest in an exhibition match at Beacon Hill.

Broad Street went through the regular schedule without a solitary loss, but were unable to dispose of the picked eleven from the remainder of teams in the league, and went down to defeat by 157 to 100.

The Rest, led by Ed Penndry, the splendid batting of S. L. Ward, who was responsible for 43, and Ed Quainton, who went along merrily for 41, when he was caught out by his brother, Edley off Penndry's bowling. Four other members of the side reached double figures.

Broad Street were unable to get going properly, and they found the bowling of Leighton and Dobbie rather hard to get on with. Smith, Fletcher and Penndry each managed to reach 25 before they were dismissed, but the rest of the side fatted badly.

Ackroyd was the leading bowler for The Rest, taking four wickets for 24, while Penndry's four for 40 was the best for Broad Street.

B.C.'s Wicket Fell Cheaply Yesterday

Alberta's Bowling Proved So Severe That Side Was Dismissed For Mere 83; Prairie Eleven Turned Around and Put On 207 Runs; Saskatchewan Defeated Manitoba Easily; B. C. and Alberta Now Tied For First Place

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—British Columbia's wicket suffered a severe collapse in face of the stiff bowling of Muter, of Alberta, who took six wickets for 27 runs, a really fine performance in first class cricket, and as a result the champions suffered their first defeat of the tournament. Alberta won by 207 to 83.

Saskatchewan won the other match in the Western Canada cricket tournament yesterday, defeating Manitoba by 219 to 124. After three days' play Alberta is tied with British Columbia for first place in the standing, each having won two matches and lost one. Saskatchewan and Manitoba are even with one win and one loss.

After British Columbia's terrific attack in the first two days it looked as if the side would succeed in retaining the championship, but yesterday proved that they are not invulnerable to good stiff bowling such as that served up by Muter.

British Columbia won the toss and at 10.15 a.m. Eaton-Shore and Broadfoot opened the innings to the bowling of Johnson and Murdock, the former was bowling in great form. This batsman played two good shots for a brace, each on the leg side and then shot one to the on for a six number.

With 23 on the board Muter re-joined, Murdock's bowing was judged a Yorker for Johnson and paid the penalty, after batting for exactly one hour.

Without addition, Cobbett was run out in attempting a short one, and Sparks, who was new in, was bowled first ball from Muter. The Alberta fielding was excellent. With the score at Eaton-Shore was caught at the wicket, Muter, Eaton-Shore made his runs in one hour and fifteen minutes and included many good strokes.

Muter Bowling well. Rivers arrived and after contributing 11 fell a victim to Johnson. The golden lacrosse sticks, originally held by four figures at the base, are also gone. Otherwise the mug is in fine repair and carries the names of half-a-dozen of most teams that have won it in the past.

Alberta's batting opened at 12.32. Barnett and Dobbie and Leighton, Dobbie took first over to Barnett. In Leighton's first over Thompson scored 40, with 17 runs called on leaving the field, which was greeted with a cheer.

Killick and Greaves were now partners, and with the score at 71 they looked anything but bright for B. C. Greaves was caught and bowled by Johnson, and B. C.'s tall did not wag, the side being all a few minutes before lunch for 83.

The destructive bowling of Muter was chiefly responsible for the collapse, and he rightly deserved the ovation which he was greeted on leaving the field, which was greeted with a cheer.

Alberta Goss in. Alberta's batting opened at 12.32. Barnett and Dobbie and Leighton, Dobbie took first over to Barnett. In Leighton's first over Thompson scored 40, with 17 runs called on leaving the field, which was greeted with a cheer.

On resuming Barrett and Falck were together, Dobbie and Leighton bowled. Barrett scored 28, Falck and Roughton now proceeded to make what proved to be a glorious length. He clean bowled Dobbie, and when the latter had scored but five with a beautiful leg break. The dismissal of Johnson, Muter, Appleton and Bell came in quick succession, Leighton and Dobbie continuing the good work. Rivers, who seemed to be bowling well in place of Leighton, was only bowled for three overs, netting eight runs, really good work. It caused a little disappointment when he was retired, Leighton resuming. At tea time the total was 174 for 9.

A resumption was made at 4.30, and the last wicket pair proceeded to plaster the bowling. With 47 additional runs Killick brought off his third stump of the day, a fine piece of work. Both Murdock and Barker hit beautifully, taking the long handle at times until Barker was disposed of.

The full score in British Columbia's match follows: British Columbia. Eaton-Shore, c Thompson, b Muter..... 25 Broadfoot, b Johnson..... 25 Cobbett, run out..... 6 Sparks, b Muter..... 0 Rivers, c Muter, b Johnson..... 11 Bates, b Muter..... 5 Greaves, c and Johnson..... 8 R. Wenman, b Muter..... 2 Killick, b Muter..... 4 Dobbie, b Muter..... 1 Leighton, not out..... 1 Extras..... 0 Total..... 52

Fall of wickets: 1 for 8, 2 for 23, 3 for 108, 4 for 178, 5 for 124, 6 for 142, 7 for 136, 8 for 146, 9 for 160.

ALBERTA AMATEURS LOSE THEIR CARDS

Twelve Ball Players and Three Boxers Suspended By Amateur Union

Edmonton, Aug. 9.—The Alberta branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has suspended twelve amateur baseball players and three boxers, according to the announcement made by local officials last night.

The following baseball players have had their amateur cards suspended for certain irregularities: J. E. Enright, Matt Nehring, Buzz Geddes, Chuck Henderson, O. Godfrey, P. Horne, B. Swain, W. Ferguson, Jack Starkey, N. Dodge, W. A. Sibbett and S. Chackman.

The following boxers were suspended: W. Reid, E. Chausse, John McIntyre.

The Native Sons of Canada are in their game with the C. P. R. team at the Stadium this evening and are full of confidence in their chances to win. The game is a good run and make them step lively. The game will be called at 6 o'clock.

The Sons' chucker, Curtis, claims to be in the best of shape and promises to give the C. P. R. a good run. The game will be called at 6 o'clock.

It is expected that Art Webster will be on the mound for the railroaders. The Canadians are not expected to be able to knock any chucker's offerings for safe ones.

Boxing players are asked to be at the ball park this evening at 6 o'clock to represent the Sons: Jimmie Miller, A. H. Haiman, Nachtrieb and Hoiness.

Conditions Improved. The weather conditions in the second half were better, the rain having stopped, but the ground was muddy and slippery. Right from the kick-off Minto, the sensational right winger of the Nanaimo team, brought the lead to them, with a brilliant lightning play when he shot a scorcher from his wing, but the sensational Nicol dived for the ball and made a wonderful save.

With ambition to become the world's bantamweight champion, Pedro Sarmiento, champion bantamweight and flyweight boxer of the Orient, passed through Victoria last night aboard the President Madison en route to New York.

Before leaving the Orient Pedro captured the flyweight championship by knocking out Joe Susara in the tenth round.

For two years Pedro has held the bantamweight championship of the Orient and his manager says he has the making of a world's champion. His ambitions are backed up with a willingness for work and engagements and he never tires of the training periods, always looking forward to the coming bout with the thought that some day he will be contending for the world's title.

NEW TENNIS STAR FLASHES IN VIEW

Carl Fischer, of Philadelphia, Reaches Semi-Finals After Beating Kinsey

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Carl Fischer, of Philadelphia, nineteenth in the national ranking, continued his unexpected race to the front yesterday in the tennis tournament on the courts of the Meadow Club, when he defeated Howard Kinsey, of San Francisco, eighth ranking player, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, and entered the semi-final round.

Fischer led the Pacific Coast star through the entire match, playing from every angle and position on the court, and often using a terrific net shot, with which he scored three kills in a single game. Kinsey clung to the base line and attempted, unsuccessfully, to counteract with steadiness his opponent's brilliance.

Others Who Qualified. The other players who qualified for the next to last round were: Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, N. Y., who defeated Hugh Kelleher, of New York, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2; Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, N. Y., who eliminated Brian I. C. Norton, South African star, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4, and Clarence J. (Peck) Griffin, San Francisco, who defeated Manuel Alonso, of Spain, 6-1, 6-4.

In the second round of the doubles Richards and Norton defeated S. F. Hepburn and James S. Lowry, of the Oxford-Cambridge team, 6-1, 6-1; while in the third round Alonso and Griffin eliminated Philip Neer, of PREMIER SMUTS of South Africa has been obliged to take a temporary holiday on account of illness.

CHAPLAIN AND CHANCELLOR.—The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Ignatius Sempel still acts in his former capacity of army chaplain although as chancellor of Austria he carries the burdens of state of that nation. Here he is holding church services.

DRY-LAND PRACTICE FOR WET-WATER DIVE.—Charles Green, of Philadelphia, took this remarkable flying dive over seven boys on the beach at Atlantic City for practice in high diving.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

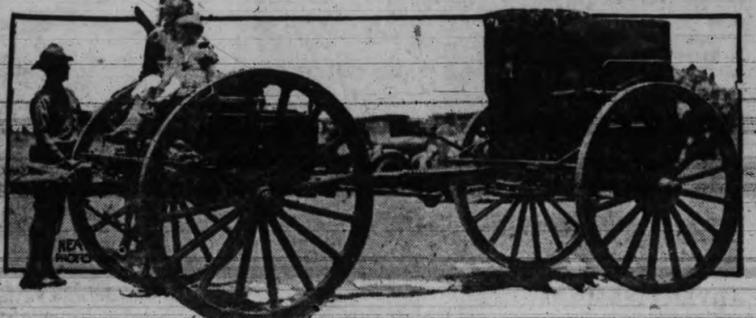

HE PROVES IT.—J. H. Van Norman, loop-the-loop artist, performed this stunt at Bridgeport, Conn., to prove that the rear seat of an auto is the more dangerous. "When a pivoted body is suddenly stopped centrifugal force overcomes gravity," he says, explaining why he is catapulted over the bike.

ALTHOUGH QUALIFIED by his degree of Bachelor of Law and admitted to the Bar at the recent examinations at Quebec, J. Austin Murphy must wait another year before he commences to practice on account of the age limit which debarbs all under twenty-one from entering upon a legal career.

LOOK WHAT CENTRIFUGAL FORCE DID!—You can call it that if you want to, but it looks like careless driving when a fellow turns a corner so fast that his car jumps the curve and knocks down a lamp post. The driver of this one was lucky enough to escape uninjured. It happened in New York.

ONLY A BURRO, BUT RECEIVES MILITARY FUNERAL.—Raggedy Ann, mascot burro of Battery F, 12th Field Artillery, was buried with military pomp at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Born Armistice Day, she was killed in a fight with pack mules. Virginia Jean and "Sonny," children of First Lieutenant Charles M. Thirkeld, rode the caisson to the burial ground.

EXCRUCIATING PAINS, CRAMPS

Entirely Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Eberts, Ont. — "I started with cramps and bearing-down pains at the age of eleven years, and I would get so nervous I could hardly stay in bed, and I had such pains that I would scream, and my mother would call the doctor to give me something to take. At eighteen I married, and I have four healthy children, but I still have pains in my right side. I am a farmer's wife with more work than I am able to do. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel that it is helping me every day. My sister-in-law, who has been taking your medicine for some time and uses your Sanative Wash, told me about it and I recommend it now, as I have received great relief from it."—Mrs. NELSON YOTT, R. MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN SAAINICH SCHOOLS

Seventeen New Changes in Teachers Arranged; Large Schools Have Two Men

"Diligence is the Mother of Good Luck" wrote Benjamin Franklin.

This explains why some persons—you know them—always seem lucky in getting what they want at a price they can afford.

Every day opportunity knocks at your door to show you better ways to live. The man you think so lucky is only alert in keeping in touch with life through the advertisements in his newspaper.

Well informed men recognize two kinds of news.

One tells us about other people's joys and sorrows and triumphs. The other—generally called Advertising—deals with our own affairs and how to get things we want or will want. Advertising is News.

You owe it to yourself to read the advertisements in your own newspaper every day.

Take the trouble to find out what today offers you in health, happiness and comfort.

Good Luck is bound to follow.

TO PRESSIGHT FOR CRAIGFLOWER SAFETY ZONE

Saanich Trustees Told to Fence Children Off Perilous Highway

The proposal of the Saanich school Board, that the Island Highway facing Craigflower School be fenced as part of urgently needed measures for safety of the pupils, was last night condemned by P. Philip, Engineer of the Provincial Public Works Department, in a letter to the Board.

The lawyer which established the rights of the Board to discharge their entire staff, for reorganization purposes, cost Saanich $2 for legal advice, the court proceedings having been borne by the Teachers' Federation as losers of the suit.

TRUSTEES CONSIDER SECESSION QUESTION

Saanich Board Finds No Grounds for Protest of Craigflower Plan

The Saanich School Board last night unanimously decided that it had no power to object to secession of any portion of Craigflower district from the Saanich school system.

the rear window to unhitch the trolley the operator overbalanced and fell a distance of some ten feet to the pit below.

Foulds fell, striking his head, and was rendered unconscious. Rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital the victim of the accident was placed on the operating table immediately where Dr. Holden worked over him unceasingly in an effort to save his life. Death took place about 11:20 p. m., while the patient was still unconscious.

The tragedy is doubly sad on account of the fact that a few days ago Mrs. Foulds and the four children were sent to Prospect Lake on holiday. In their absence he stayed alone at his home, and yesterday morning was heard to complain of feeling unwell. It is surmised by fellow employees that he was seized with a fainting fit while about to unshp the trolley of the car.

The late Mr. Foulds was 47 years of age, and had been in the employ of the B. C. Electric Railway for the past ten years. He was popular among his fellow workers and the traveling public, where his never failing courtesy earned him a high regard. He came to Esquimalt when that port was a naval base under the imperial command, and took his discharge from the Royal Navy here to enter the service of the company.

During the war he served with the Naval Volunteer Reserve, returning again to the street car service at the completion of hostilities.

An inquest on the remains will be held to-morrow at 11 o'clock, Coroner E. C. Hart announced to-day.

R. MCKIM IN "THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER"

Appears in Leading Role at Columbia for Balance of Week

Benjamin B. Hampton's powerful photodrama, "The Mysterious Rider," adapted from the novel by Zane Grey, is an example of the highest use of all of the fine arts on the shadow stage, as well as being a great, sweeping, thrilling story of love, adventure and mystery in 1921 Arizona. Once it was considered in a picture abounding in thrills and suspense, that little attention need be paid to the finer details. Those days are past in the movies, and now a hundred subtle appeals will undoubtedly add to your enjoyment of "The Mysterious Rider," which plays at the Columbia Theatre to-day and balance of the week.

The services of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, an internationally famous artist, were obtained for the production of the art backgrounds of the written titles. Mr. Earle is an student of the great Whistler, and is noted for the versatility of his brush in the fields of landscape, marine, group and portrait art. Seeing "The Mysterious Rider" is like touring the famous galleries that are rich with the work of the old masters. Combined with the wonderful musical score, Mr. Earle's paintings aid in making "The Mysterious Rider" a splendid art work as well as a thrilling, human story of romance and adventure.

ROYAL VICTORIA

"The Ninety and Nine," the Vitagraph special production which will be shown at the Royal again to-day, is an adaptation of Ramsay Morris' famous stage play of the same name. It was produced in four acts and six scenes, and was contained in one of the big thrillers in stage productions. The synopsis of scenes of the play follows: ACT I—Living room at Abner Blake's.—Afternoon late in August. "One was out on the hills away." ACT II—Same as Act I.—Evening. "I go to the desert to find my sheep." ACT III—One week later. Scene I—3:30 p.m. The railroad station. Scene II—5:45 p.m. Through Hell fire. Scene III—5:45 p.m. The railroad station at Marlow. "Now deep were the waters crossed." ACT IV—The garden at Abner Blake's.—A May morning. "I have found my sheep." From this it can be seen that the limitations of stage prevented the showing of many dramatic and thrilling scenes which are a vital part of the film. The fire scenes were artificial on the stage while in the picture the hero actually drives a train through a burning forest, passing over bridges a few seconds before the collapse. These scenes make the picture far more realistic than the play and in addition the picture contains all of the scenes and action recorded in the spoken drama.

CAPITOL

"The Man Next Door," by Emerson Hough, author of "The Wrecked Wagon," "North of 36," "4 Des-10 min. or Fight," and "The Mississippi Bubble," is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. This is one of the most famous of the long list of novels of American fiction by this popular writer. It deals with life on a great ranch in Wyoming, and tells the story of a motherless girl who is reared by hard-fisted cow punchers. Bonnie Bell Wright is the daughter of the richest cattleman in the State, and the girl is petted and pampered but never spoiled by her indulgent father, and Curly the foreman of the Circle Arrow ranch. When the girl is six, her father's friend sends her to a finishing school in the East, and upon her return the old cattleman believes that Bonnie Bell must have the luxuries of an eastern metropolis. There Bonnie Bell learns that riches do not guarantee friendships, and it is the struggle of this girl to find happiness that makes "The Man Next Door" one of the most human comedy dramas offered on the screen. The production is directed by Victor Schertzinger, is headed by David Torrence, Frank Sheridan, James Morrison and Alice Calhoun. David Torrence plays the old cattleman and Alice Calhoun his daughter, Bonnie Bell.

"DAVID GARRICK" AGAIN PORTRAYED BY FRANK COMPTON

Capacity House Greets Farewell Production; Players Are Hosts to Veterans

As everyone knows, it was Francis Compton who first produced "David Garrick," it being the greatest success of its time in London. Since then many stock companies have presented the play. It is doubtful if these presentations will measure up to the original production that Francis Compton, son of the famous London actor, and who is from a family of actors, is giving at the popular Yates Street playhouse this week. It is the stock company's farewell production for the Summer months until it opens up again in September. This week Mr. Compton and his brilliant and talented company of players will be hosts to many of the service organizations who have been invited to witness the farewell production, which was also presented here on the opening night of the theatre with great success.

The theatre was packed to overflowing last night, and those who attended thoroughly appreciated the reproduction of the great London success. It had lost none of that dramatic spirit, for the Compton company made every effort to reproduce it as on the London stage.

Encore after encore brought the actors back to the stage. People so enjoyed the play and the superb acting that they were not satisfied on one occasion until the curtain had been raised five times and the players encored.

The plot everyone knows, the play itself being woven around the story of the famous actor, David Garrick. Francis Compton takes the leading role of the great eighteenth century actor and portrays this part to perfection.

Peggy Dundas is the leading lady. Her acting sustains that polished style. Her tone is of that pleasing sound which speaks of charm and grace.

DOMINION

What is a "real man"? What is a "gentleman"? Those two terms are constantly in use in to-day's literature of several types. Whether or not they are derogated is a question to be decided by the individual reading or using them.

Webster achieved simple definitions of "man" and "gentleman" but usage makes such words more complex than the dictionary will consider. Jack London's famous novel of the prize ring, "The Abysmal Brute," has been filmed and is now at the Dominion Theatre as a Universal-Jewel special production starring Reginald Denny, the hero of "The Leather Pushers." This story has for its chief male-character a young man who is all that would be called a "real man." At the same time he is courteous, in-
