

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy in cursive style (sōsho), written vertically on a strip of paper. The text is dense and fluid, consisting of approximately 18 vertical columns of characters. A red square seal is visible on the left side of the strip.

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy on the right side of the strip, appearing as a signature or a separate note. It is written in a similar cursive style to the main text.

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, consisting of approximately 12 lines of characters.

月池抄
Handwritten text in the left margin, including the title '月池抄' and other characters.

洋字文庫
文庫8
J214
10

