WHITE SHRINERS TO RAISE FUNDS
Strawberry Festival Will Be Held by Masons Friday Night
The members of the White Shrine have laid their plans to hold a real, old-fashioned strawberry festival on the lawn of the Frank Bourne residence at 203 East Maple street on Friday night, May 11, to start the ball rolling to raise funds for the erection of the new Masonic Temple that is to be erected on South Central avenue and Maple street.
An elaborate program has been prepared for the occasion, with singing and other musical numbers, and besides the entertainment features of the evening there will be strawberries, cake and ice cream and lemonade sufficient for all who can attend.
The weather man has been delivering the brand of weather that is just made to order for an affair of this kind and it is hoped that all Masons in Glendale will attend and aid in making the project the success that it deserves to be.

Community Service Will Form Boys' Band
Community Service of Glendale is organizing a boys' band. The invitation is extended to all boys in the city who are interested in such an organization.
There will be no charge for membership. Howard E. Cavanah has generously volunteered to direct the band without obligation to members.
The band will meet for rehearsal at the Wilson avenue school Thursday of each week at 4 p. m., beginning May 17. All boys interested in playing are urged to be at the first meeting.
Beginners are invited to join. However, a boy, after selecting what instrument he wants to play, will have to arrange with some private instructor for lessons until he is able to read music. No time of the band rehearsals can be given to teaching an individual boy how to play.
The idea in forming the band is to provide a community organization where boys playing instruments can have a chance for work under an experienced director.
Boys may register at the Community Service headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce, 150 South Brand boulevard.

CLUB WILL MEET
Rev. Frank McHenry of Los Angeles is to speak Thursday night at the meeting of the local spiritualistic Success club at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce hall. In addition Rev. McHenry and Rev. Jennie McHenry will give messages.

DEATHS--FUNERALS
MRS. CHARLOTTE ROSS
Mrs. Charlotte Ross died Tuesday morning, May 8, 1923 at the age of 82 years.
She was a native of Ohio and had lived in California ten years and had made her home in Glendale for several years.
She had a wide circle of friends, who will regret to learn of her death.
Mrs. Ross is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy E. Davis of Glendale, and Mrs. Evelyn Clewett of Illinois.
Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Kiefer & Eyerick chapel. Burial will take place in Grand View Memorial park.
Raymond Leslie Page passed away Monday, May 7, 1923, at his home in Tujunga at the age of 28 years.
The deceased was a native of Rhode Island and for the past eight years had been in the United States navy and army. He leaves to mourn him a father, William Page.
Funeral services will be held today at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the L. G. Scovern Company, with interment at Grandview cemetery.
GUSTAVE S. J. AMTHOR
Gustave S. J. Amthor passed away at his home 2029 1/2 North Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, yesterday, May 8, 1923, at the age of 69 years.
Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers, Thursday afternoon, May 10, at 4 o'clock, with interment at Forest Lawn cemetery. Rev. P. K. Kemp, pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, will officiate.
L. G. Scovern Company will be in charge.
Carnations are picked for perfume after three hours' exposure to the sun.
The Glendale Council K. of C's, will give one of their regular dances at their club house, Saturday, May 12. Their dances have proven very popular, showing a very large attendance and everybody having a good time, young and old, and that the older members have remained until the last strains of the music died away. An added attraction for this dance is that Glendale Council's own orchestra of eight pieces will furnish the music; this alone will promise a rare treat to those who attend and a very large crowd is anticipated to give the K. of C. orchestra a fitting welcome at their initial performance.—Advertisement 5-9.

FOIL PLANS FOR BIG JAIL BREAK
Plot to Liberate Thousand Prisoners Frustrated by Officials
LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Deputy sheriffs and guards at the county jail took decisive action today to prevent the carrying out of a plan to liberate approximately 1,000 prisoners at the county jail, among them being Herbert Wilson, millionaire minister-ban-dit and convicted slayer of Herbert Cox; "Little Phil" Algulin, alleged police slayer, and Clarence "Tuffy" Reid, now on trial for murder.
The plan of the three prisoners to escape and also free any other prisoners who wanted to take the chance was revealed in a series of letters detailing the plan, exchanged between Algulin, Reid and Wilson. The trio, according to the letters, planned to attack the jail guards and turnkeys and, after killing them, open every door in the jail.
Every member of the daring trio is known to be desperate and would halt at nothing which would gain them their freedom. Two days ago Reid, while being taken to court, attempted a single-handed break by trying to shoot his guard, but was foiled in the attempt. If Sheriff William J. Traeger had not ripped the jail break plan in the bud, it would have been one of the bloodiest deliveries in the history of the county.

Wilson Ave. School Wins Baseball Game
The indoor baseball teams of Wilson and Glendale avenue schools met in a close game yesterday on the Wilson field. The game stood 10 to 10, in the eighth inning when Wilson brought in a winning score. Final score was 11 to 10 for Wilson.
Lineup for Wilson: Gerald Osier, c; Allen Lovell, p; Gerald Mitchell, 1b; Richard Randall, 2b; Noel Killinger, s. s.; Greacion Mitchell, 3b; Robert Hoek, r. f.; Frank Wycoff, c. f.; Arthur Hudson, l. f.
Lineup for Glendale Avenue: Felipe Lopez, c; Hugo Huesman, p; Geo. Okada, 1b; Joe Springer, 2b; Leonard Sunderland, s. s.; Everett Dixon 3b; Cornelius Collins, r. f.; Charles Williams, c. f.; Donald Hamilton, l. f.
H. E. Bremer and Walter F. Hanson of the faculties umpired.
The senior teams of the two schools will play today (Wednesday) on Glendale avenue grounds.

K. of P. Confer Ranks On Two Candidates
An enthusiastic meeting of Glendale Knights of Pythias was held last night at the lodge hall at South Brand Boulevard and Park avenue. The feature was the conferring of two ranks in one evening by special dispensation.
B. E. Metzger, cancellor commander, presided over the conferring of the rank of esquire on three pages, and the conferring of the rank of knight on one of them.
A team from the Los Angeles lodge, No. 2, was present and urged Glendale knights to attend the Mission Play at San Gabriel, Thursday night, May 17, when a special performance will be given for Southern California knights.

Old Gray Mare Paws Live Wire; Is Killed
COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 9.—Mrs. Frank Aisel has an old gray mare that "ain't what she used to be." In fact, the old gray mare is dead.
Mrs. Aisel tied the mare to a pole, and during her absence the steed, feeling the need of exercise, began pawing the ground, after the manner of festive equines.
The pawing uncovered a live underground wire at the foot of the pole. Contact with the wire killed the animal instantly.

SOCIAL EVENTS
Club Women Meet
From the stage whose usual beauty curtains and draperies were further enhanced by a display of Oriental rugs of great value and of wonderful coloring and texture, which were used later to illustrate the program of the afternoon, presented by John Robert White, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and presiding officer of the day, made public the report eagerly awaited by some 500 of the non-section members of the club, who staged the Carnival of Months last Saturday.
The announcement that the proceeds in round numbers were $700, with more to be heard from, was greeted with applause.
Mrs. Montgomery, in a most gracious and cordial manner, introduced Mr. White, as our fellow townsman, who had made almost a life study of Oriental rugs, and congratulated the members on having the pleasure of hearing Mr. White and seeing some of the wonderful products of the loom.
In the talk of less than an hour Mr. White reviewed the history of the Oriental rug from the cradle period to the finished modern product.
The origin, manufacturing, dyeing and significance of design were taken up in turn, exemplified by the display on the platform. The two classes, that of flat texture, with no pile, and that of cut pile, were explained. The characteristics of the rugs Caucasian, Turkoman, Turkish and Persian were shown, Mr. White taking the rugs and showing clearly the different designs whether of floral design or of historic records or religious significance. The Chinese silk rugs also were much admired.
At the conclusion of Mr. White's talk, Mrs. Kelly, chairman of the program committee, presented Miss Eileen Burke of Burbank, a pupil of Pearl Keller dancing school who gave an Oriental dance in a most artistic manner.
During the business session the secretary, Mrs. John C. Dunn, read thirty-nine applications for membership.
Mrs. Frank Ayars, chairman of the nominating committee, reported that all names of members receiving ten or more votes, which acceptance was placed on the following ticket:
For president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell; for first vice president, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery; for second vice president, Mrs. C. W. Houston; for recording secretary, Mrs. William Hunter and Mrs. George H. Rowe; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frank Ayars; for treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Plaster; for directors, Mrs. Lillian Dow, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Benjamin Holbrook and Mrs. J. Emery Sargent.
Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, chairman of the revision committee, gave notice of a number of proposed changes in the by-laws to be voted on May 22. One worthy of special mention is that the initiation fee will be raised to $25 next year.

Ammonia Powerless To Halt Dry Raids
TAMPA, Fla., May 9.—An unusual form of defense was employed by Bert Fife, living near St. Petersburg, when officers raided his homestead to demolish moonshine liquor still. It claimed was there.
Fife and his partner had a large bottle of ammonia on hand, which with this the ammonia was thrown in a stream for about 10 feet. Constable C. J. Simms was able to dodge the stream of liquid but the fumes stopped him for few seconds.
As soon as the ammonia vapor had given out the officer advanced and made his arrests.

Rich Cincinnatians Plan Elaborate Club

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 9.—The latest thing in playgrounds for the rich is to be constructed near this city, according to plans recently made public. Relinquishing its park on Grandin road, the exclusive Cincinnati Country club is to build a half-million-dollar playground in the hills east of Madisonville, where a tract of 800 acres has been acquired.

Although the country club system in the northern states has contemplated chiefly golf and other summer sports, the Cincinnati playground is to be a resort that can be enjoyed every month in the year.

The property now is largely virgin forest, but the sides of the great hills rising above the Ohio river form natural accommodation for ski-jumping, tobogganing and other winter sports. At the foot of the hills is a plain, where two golf courses will be built.

In addition, other features to be included are an artificial lake for skating, a polo field, riding stables, bridle paths, archery ranges, tennis and squash courts, swimming pools and trapshooting ranges.

When these plans are completed the resort will, it is said, be the most elaborate in the United States.

Mother Hikes 5109 Miles to Visit Son

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, May 9.—A 5,109-mile combination hike and ride through twenty-one states has been completed by Mrs. Isabelle Partington of Boston, Mass., who chose this method of journeying here to visit her son, Clyde Partington, a senior in agriculture. She had thirty-five days of actual travel on foot in the forty-six days she spent between New York and Corvallis. Her son has hiked across the continent three times. Mrs. Partington will return to Boston May 20, where she conducts riding classes each summer at a girls' camp.

4 Year Old Letter Is Finally Delivered

UCYRUS, Ohio, May 9.—A letter—over four years old—addressed to one Bucyrus firm to another, posted December 18, 1918, has just been delivered. The letter had slipped down behind the back of the postoffice tank of the receiving firm. It contained the confirmation of a telephone conversation concerning a sale of material.

STOCKS—MARKETS

NEW YORK, May 9.—The stock market displayed strength today with trading brisk. Reading sold up 2 points to 76. Eastman Kodak was up 4 points to 112. American Locomotive advanced over 8 points to a new high of 138 1/2. Baldwin yielded slightly over profit taking. Bethlehem Steel reacted at the close to below 59.

Government bonds, unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

In Grain Markets CHICAGO, May 9.—Grain prices, acting under the influence of adverse weather conditions in the grain belt turned upward again today. The close was well over yesterday's last. The trend was strong from the start. The government report on grain conditions was not regarded as bullish.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 5/8c higher. Corn was up 5/8c to 1 1/2 at the finish. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 up. Provisions shared in the advance, lard gaining from 17 to 25c at the close and ribs advanced 15 to 18c.

LARGER SCHOOL PLAN APPROVED

Glendale Avenue Building to Have Six More Rooms For Classes

The Board of Education met last night in its offices at 109-A South Brand boulevard, and for over three hours discussed matters pertaining to the local grammar school system.

Architect Alfred F. Priest of 1422 North Central avenue presented plans for the enlargement of the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school, which were officially approved. The budget provides an allowance of $79,000 for six additional class rooms, a cafeteria room and kitchen in the basement, and an auditorium to seat 600 pupils.

The thrift in use in the Los Angeles school system was explained by its supervisor A. J. Gray. He was accompanied by E. T. Smith, who also commented upon it. No action was taken upon it.

Community Service was given permission to hold a band practice in the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school building once a week. This will be under the direction of H. E. Cavanah of 130 North Orange street, director of the Cavanah Studio.

Community Players, who are directed by Mrs. Nanno H. Woods of 1222 Mills street, were given permission to stage a play at the Broadway school during June for the benefit of the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles.

Bids for kindergarten, art and penmanship supplies were referred to David Black, business manager of the school system, for his report.

A bill from the Public Service department for a dollar a month from each school having a connection to the water main exclusively for fire protection was the subject of discussion. Superintendent Richardson D. White explained that twelve of the schools have such connections and that this means an expense of $144 a year unless the city administration will cancel this charge, because of the fact that the schools occupy public buildings. Mr. Black was requested to take the matter up as soon as possible with the city council.

MORE OFFICE ROOM

The distinction of having the largest suite of offices in Glendale is claimed by Dr. W. H. Appleton of 111 East Broadway who has just taken over three additional rooms. Dr. Appleton's suite now occupies almost the entire north half of the second floor of the Central building. Besides giving the Abrams electronic treatment, he gives the actinic light treatment. He also has a complete X-ray apparatus. He came to Glendale about a year and a half ago from Seattle.

GIVEN $300 FINE

H. Julinger of Los Angeles, who was arrested about a week ago on a charge of reckless driving, was fined $300 yesterday by Judge F. H. Lowe. He paid the fine.

PERMITS IN MAY REACH $220,000

Year's Total $3,862,987 as Shown by Books at Opening Today

Glendale lacked only $435 of passing the $200,000 mark yesterday for this month's building permits. With $199,565 on the books with the commencement of the business day this mark was soon passed and the total for the first eight business days of May is now on its way to $220,000. The total for the year so far this morning was $3,862,987.

Permits issued within the past twenty-four hours include the following: John B. Tate, 6 rooms and garage, 1529 No. Bridgeway avenue, $ 5,500; Norman W. Cole, 6 rooms and garage, 249 West Stocker street, 4,200; Agatha Groen, 5 rooms and garage, 544 Spencer street, 4,000; W. H. Sullivan, 5 rooms and garage, 529 South street, 2,500; J. L. Little, addition to garage, 1232 East Harvard street, 2,000; George Schaffer, garage, 415 East Broadway, 400; R. B. Treadwell, 2 rooms; 1220 Linden street, 300; Cesare Pereira, garage, 1112 Alameda street, 200; Charles Pennybaker, garage, 1162 Raymond street, 200.

Hospital Officials On Trail of Trout

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital may have a trout dinner in the near future—and then again it may not. Anyway, C. E. Kimlin, its manager, and H. G. Westphal, its medical superintendent, departed last night for the Santa Ynez river, on a fishing expedition. They were accompanied by C. R. Taggart, an employee of the Sanitarium, and James Howarth, business manager of the Harrower laboratory.

Angling licenses have been issued this week to the following others: F. M. George, 341 West California avenue; H. C. Mullen, 215 South Pacific avenue; C. D. Peck, 616 Orange Grove avenue; Joseph A. Dunklin, 447 West Elk street; Morris E. Caruthers, 120 East Chestnut street; and Dan E. Strome of 1351 North San Fernando road.

Licenses may be obtained at 107 South Brand boulevard in the hardware store of Cornwell & Kelly, at 601 East Broadway, in the store of the Glendale Hardware company and at 146 South Brand boulevard in The Sport Shop.

MOTHERS ARE THERE

The Glendale Exchange club met at noon today at 111 South Orange street in the Golden Spanish Cafe, in advance of May 13, observed "Mothers' Day." A number of reminiscent talks appropriate to the occasion were given by a number of Exchangites.

HALTS PLANS TO FREE PRISONERS

Chinese Official Insists on Leading Troops in Chase Of Bandits

(Continued From Page 1) noticed many signs of a revival of the old Chinese secret defense societies similar to those that sprang up just before the Boxer outbreak. Aversion to foreigners is growing. In fact, the lives of foreigners in China are far from safe away from the large cities where there are compounds and military safeguards.

Foreign Prisoners Near Death From Fatigue, Said

By EDNA LEE BOOKER For International News Service SHANGHAI, May 9.—Foreign captives, including a number of Americans who were seized by Chinese brigands and carried into the Shantung mountains, are in perilous condition from exposure, lack of food and sleep and forced marches across broken country, according to word received here today from R. F. Nail of the Asia Development company.

Nail was released from duties on the Yellow river dyke project to aid Chinese regulars in running down the bandits. After talking with one of the captives who escaped Nail sent the following message from Lin-Cheng, near the Shantung border: "Just returned to Lin-Cheng from the bandits' outpost near Ys-Chen. Three thousand brigands are moving northward. Chinese regular troops are continuing the pursuit."

"All the foreign prisoners are almost dead from fatigue, hunger and exposure on the long, forced marches. They are without food or clothes."

"The bandits are willing to negotiate, but the troops are under orders to capture them; not negotiate with them."

"All the women missionaries in this region are being sent to Tsin-An-Fu for protection."

H. W. Yarick Presides Over School Board

H. W. Yarick of 347 West Wilson avenue, newly appointed president, presided at last night's meeting of the high school board of trustees. The entire meeting was devoted to reorganization of the board in order to place Attorney Albert D. Pearce of 119 West Lexington drive, its new member, on a number of committees and the approval of a portion of the list of teachers for next term. Miss Florence Knight, director of physical education for girls, was given leave of absence in order to attend Columbia University next term. The resignation of Frederick F. Bornecamp, instructor of mathematics, was accepted. He has announced his intention of attending Harvard university in order to obtain his doctor's degree.

Switzerland has thirteen golf links.

Truck Plant Secures Site for Building Here

(Continued From Page 1) equipment will be purchased for the new plant. This will make its investment in the building and equipment about $300,000 to start, it is stated.

Between 1200 and 1500 employees will be employed by this company. Most of them will be skilled mechanics. Preference will be given to local applicants for positions, but many of the workmen will be imported from the Middle West and East, where they have acquired the necessary experience. Considering three persons per family, this means an additional population of between 3600 and 4500 persons. Most of them will live in Glendale. The payroll will range between $6000 and $7500 a day or between $36,000 and $45,000 a week. This means an annual spending capacity of between $1,872,000 and $2,340,000 in the city of Glendale.

The products of this company will consist of a three-and-a-half-ton and a five-ton four-wheel drive truck for heavy hauling, and a low-down front-wheel drive truck for short commercial hauls. The plant's capacity to commence work will be two complete trucks a day or about 600 a year.

The Southern Pacific already has agreed to lay a drill track through the property. This will be ready for use before the factory building has been completed. Work upon this is to start within two or three days.

Popular Program Will Be One Feature Of Public Opening Of Robinson's Elaborate New Shop For Men

TWO BROTHERS OWNERS OF FAST-GROWING BUSINESS

Both Well Known In Mercantile World; Gain Success by Application to Work and by Giving People Service and Worth

J. A. ROBINSON and Oscar A. Robinson, sole owners and proprietors of Robinson's exclusive men's store, 114 South Brand boulevard, have both been in the mercantile business for many years but were associated together for the first time two years ago, when they opened up their store at 116 South Brand boulevard.

Prior to opening that store, J. A. Robinson had studied mercantile conditions in Glendale for two years, coming to this city in 1919, after selling out a number of successful stores in Quincy and other parts of Illinois, whose development had represented a business career of over sixteen years, dating from the time he was an errand boy in a dry goods store, at a salary of $3 per week.

Out of his meagre earnings over a period of several years, J. A. Robinson had managed by the time he was twenty-one to accumulate $300 and a certificate from Hancock county, Ill., qualifying him to teach school. While Oscar A. Robinson, having left home years before, had wound up on a truck garden at Sawtelle, after successful stages as a hand in a candy factory, sheep ranch and dairy.

Brothers Prosper From that point on, the Robinson brothers, one in the east and one in the west, prospered by applying themselves industriously to the lines they had chosen. J. A. continued in the mercantile business, in Quincy, Ill., at last accumulating enough capital to set himself up in a store of his own, after which he expanded until, ultimately, he had several high class stores.

When at last, in 1919, J. A. Robinson decided to sell out his interests in Illinois and come to California with his family, it seemed very logical that he and his brother should combine forces and enter into business together. That they took two years to make the decision, studying the field thoroughly before making the move, is ample proof that both are sufficiently conservative to look before they leap.

Since that time in February of 1921, when they opened up their first store, at 116 South Brand boulevard, their relations, J. A. Robinson states, have been ideal.

Pictures Show Robinson's Attractive Shop For Men

SHOP PERSONNEL IS EXPERIENCED

All Employees Well Able to Give Excellent Service to Purchasing Public

There are eight reasons for the success Robinson's has enjoyed in the past and hopes to enjoy in the future—the Robinson brothers and their six employees.

Miss Ruth Cannon, in charge of the boys' department, has long been associated with J. A. Robinson in his business. She was with him in Quincy and other parts of Illinois, for thirteen years, and came out to California when he did, so that she might continue to serve the organization she had served so long and so faithfully.

Elmer E. Kester, of the clothing department, has had a number of years' experience with large men's stores in Salt Lake City and Montreal. Under his charge also are hats and caps.

D. M. MacKay, in charge of the tailoring and alteration department, has spent twenty years in the clothing business, during which time he has had practical experience in every angle of it.

Wallace A. Woodbury is the young man who has turned out the attractive sign cards that have been a feature of Robinson's. He is a graduate of the Hollywood Art school and a Glendale boy. He plans to go to New York in the fall, to study commercial art further.

Such a personnel, backed up by the broad merchandising experience of J. A. Robinson himself, gives to Robinson's a solid background of training and experience—the silent partners of service.

Bad Diet Is Blamed For Sickly Children

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 9.—Predicting that, with a properly adjusted ration, "the intolerable condition of children of this day would disappear in one or two generations," Dr. E. V. McCollum, school of hygiene, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, in an address here attributed prevalence of rickets and bad teeth among Americans to the change of ancestors of the race from agricultural pursuits to other lines of industry and to failure to properly readjust the common diet.

Elaborate Music Program Is Prepared For Opening

The following is the musical program in connection with the formal opening of Robinson's exclusive men's store, Thursday, May 10, from 2 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 till 10 o'clock at night:

Women's Shoe Shop Adjacent To New Store Of Robinson's

Long & McClellan, whose new women's shop at 116-A South Brand boulevard, is next door but one to Robinson's, offers the women of Glendale the opportunity to buy shoes at home and not only save money, but save energy, anxiety and risk, and in the end get as modish a shoe as in the city.

Long & McClellan have arranged to hold their formal opening on the same day as that of the Robinson store, which will afford the shoppers an opportunity to do their shopping in the two stores that lie so close together.

There are several reasons why women should buy their shoes at home instead of going to the city, says K. S. Long. "For one thing, we are absolutely maintaining Los Angeles prices, and in many instances lowering them. We are selling for $7.50 shoes that sell for $8 in the department stores. We carry $5.85 shoes also, as well as the higher priced footwear."

Graves in Historic Old Cemetery Empty

DARIEN, Conn., May 9.—Absolutely no trace of bodies was found in the historic old cemetery on the Boston Post road here, when an effort was made to remove supposed remains of Revolutionary soldiers before the post road was widened, and the furor created among patriotic societies when the proposition first was broached seems to have been useless. Removing a dozen grave-stones of ancient date, workers found only a few pieces of metal beneath, one being a brass hinge.

Now it is believed the bodies were buried elsewhere and the stones erected for camouflage purposes in the stormy Revolutionary days when this was practically "No Man's Land."

Hen's Egg Measures Only Half Inch Long

SUPERIOR, Wis., May 9.—A hen owned by Philip Sewall has laid the smallest egg ever seen in this vicinity, according to poultry dealers. The egg measured only half an inch in length and was perfectly shaped. It was laid by a Rhode Island hen. Another egg, but a trifle larger, was laid by the same hen.

Veteran Buried With Family of Heroes

NORTH ROBINSON, May 9.—When Robert Carson, 27, world war veteran, who died here, was laid to rest his grave was dug alongside those of three of his ancestors, one of whom had fought in the Revolution, another in the War of 1812, and the third had carried a musket in the Civil war.

QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT FAIR PRICES WINS SUCCESS

Everyone Invited to Visit Store Thursday, Tomorrow, From 2 Till 5 In Afternoon And 7 Till 10 o'Clock at Night

THE formal opening of Robinson's exclusive men's store at 114 South Brand boulevard will be the occasion of a big celebration Thursday afternoon and night, May 10, at hours from 2 till 5 and 7 till 10 o'clock.

Among the many popular entertainment features will be A. M. Kelly's Shrine Club orchestra. A complete program of the various musical and other numbers will be found elsewhere on this page.

J. A. Robinson, who, with his brother, Oscar A. Robinson, owns the business, states that the new store is the consummation of an ideal he has held ever since entering business here two years ago, at 116 South Brand boulevard, which premises he recently vacated.

"Our present completely equipped quarters represent the outgrowth of two years of successful merchandising in Glendale," Mr. Robinson says. "We had faith in Glendale when we opened our first store here, and that faith has repaid us in this gratifying expansion of our business."

"We opened up two years ago on a quality basis, believing that the people of this city were in the market for good merchandise at fair prices. Our success has demonstrated that we were correct in this belief, and we intend to continue along that line."

Nationally Advertised "Another principle that has been a policy of our business has been the featuring of nationally advertised brands. Such brands must be right, or they could not be merchandised to the nation at large. Hence buying nationally advertised goods removes the risk the purchaser otherwise must take."

"In giving the people of Glendale this new store, we feel we are giving them only what they deserve—the best. Our business, built to give them this, is founded upon three principles, quality, price and service. I believe that if I fail to give a man service, I do not deserve my profit."

"A slogan I adopted sixteen years ago, in Illinois, when I first entered the merchandising business, and to which I have always adhered, is 'The customer is always right.' I have found it to be not only a slogan, but a fundamental truth of honest dealing."

"A feature of our store is that a great deal of our merchandise is manufactured especially for us, to meet our own particular standards. This gives us the many individual touches that mark the goods that come from Robinson's."

"Of course, we cannot change standards, nationally advertised products, but we individualize whenever possible. For instance, all our sweaters, bathing suits, overcoats, caps and many other articles are especially selected and manufactured for us."

"This fall a feature of our boys' trade will be caps to match the suits, made of the identical material. And we will make up caps identical with men's overcoat caps."

May & Hellman Erect Brick Building For Robinson Store

May & Hellman, contractors and builders, 109 North Maryland avenue, handled as a general contractor the job of putting up the brick building at 114 South Brand boulevard, now occupied by Robinson's exclusive men's store.

J. C. May reports that the work began January 5 and was completed three days ahead of schedule. Arthur Cressy of the Roy L. Kent company was the architect. "Among the things that add distinction to this structure," says Mr. May, "are mezzanine floor, the elaborate front and the tall plate glass windows."

Mr. May reports that his company is at present engaged upon the contract for the concrete work of the Bern-Davison-Meck-Fessel structure at the northeast corner of East Broadway and Maryland. The building is to be three stories and basement, and is to be erected at a total cost of $90,000, exclusive of value of the site. General bids will be called for next week.

Several other jobs are on the May & Hellman roster, Mr. May states.

TUJUNGA PUPILS TO GIVE SCHOOL EXHIBIT
Grammar Grade Students to Hold Festival May 25 To Display Work

On May 25 the Tujunga Grammar school will hold an exhibit and festival by the school children. In the afternoon there will be a parade starting at 4:30 o'clock from the school house and marching through the business section. The children will enter their pets and toys in this parade, and there probably will be prizes offered for the best entry and appearance.

In the evening there will be an exhibit of school work in the respective class rooms of each grade. This will not be any special work, but will be the best papers turned in for correction in the last six months of the school year, selected by the teachers. Prizes will be given for the best appearance and also for the best grade attained by the pupils. Each class will exhibit the work in its own room.

There will be a program of entertainment also, which is being arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. Clifford Cavolt and Mrs. Fred Aze.

Home-made candy will be on sale and there will be a flower booth and an ice cream booth. Later in the evening the ladies of the Parent-Teachers' association will serve coffee and doughnuts.

It is also planned to have a mummy singing if the other features of the program will permit.

Open Pleasure Park
 Tujunga's popular amusement center, the Garden of the Moon, opened Saturday night to a capacity crowd that welcomed the new features of this place with enthusiasm. Summer is now officially here and the swimming pool, another new feature of the Garden, will be open to accommodate the crowds that pack the place.

Jake Wesner's jazz orchestra is furnishing the music and all who heard this aggregation last year know the brand of tantalization they produce for the itching foot tribe.

Considerable floor space has been added to the dance pavilion. The floor has been resurfaced and polished and loges have been built for the entertainment of private dancing parties who wish to take advantage of this popular feature. Not only the dancing set of Tujunga attended the opening, but several out-of-town parties, including some from Glendale and Los Angeles were present when Dick Smith ushered in the season with a free dance. These dances captured the program at intervals throughout the evening.

Another feature was the serpentine and favors in the form of small paper hats that were distributed to the "first nighters."

A new fourteen-foot soda fountain has been installed in place of the smaller one used last year. Booths and other accommodations have also been added and still others are contemplated by Mr. Allardice and Mr. Smith, proprietors.

It is here that the Mission players will give their vaudeville show on May 21, for the benefit of the American Legion Post 250, and work on the enlargement of the stage and installation of special lighting effects is being rushed to completion. The seating capacity is being increased to nearly 1500 for this occasion, and advance seat

FERBER COMPANY OPEN NEW STORE
First of Coast Chain of Establishments Will Start Tomorrow

The opening date for the new store that has been started here by the A. Ferber Company, Inc., at 108 South Brand boulevard, has been set for tomorrow, Thursday, May 10, at 10 a. m., when this latest addition to the commercial life of the city will throw its doors open to the eager shoppers who have been awaiting the formal announcement. The occasion will be marked by a merchandise innovation that will place before Glendale housewives an opportunity to secure the newest offerings from the markets of the entire country, merchandise that has been chosen by experts with the one aim of placing before the people of Glendale something that stands as fashion's latest output at prices that are as low as they can be made consistent with the quality of the stocks.

The Glendale store that the Ferber Company opens tomorrow is the first of a chain of stores that is to be started on the west coast, and the immense buying power of the firm, which is said to be abundantly financed, permits the buyers to secure the cream of the world's markets and to offer it to their clients at prices that reflect the power of mass purchases and that will, it is claimed, effect a marked economy in the expenses of the Ferber patrons.

The motto of the firm, "Working Today for Tomorrow," typifies the spirit with which the company has ventured Glendale and that will guide it in the new stores that it intends to open in the medium-sized towns of California, and the constant touch that will be maintained with the centers of fashion throughout the United States by the A. Ferber Company, Inc., coupled with the cash system of doing business, carry the prediction of a successful career here for the new store.

YOUNG MINISTER TO BE ORDAINED
Impressive Ceremonies to Mark Admission of Ray C. Krug

A service of unusual interest will be held at the Glendale Presbyterian church tonight, when Ray C. Krug, of 1311 East Harvard street, will be ordained to the gospel ministry. The service will be carried on by a commission of ministers appointed by the Presbytery of Los Angeles. Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will preside, and propound the constitutional questions. Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the local church, will read the Scripture lesson. Rev. H. H. Fisher, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, will preach the ordination sermon. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, will give the charge to the candidate. The prayer of ordination will be offered by Rev. A. B. Pritchard, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Presbyterian church of Los Angeles. At the conclusion of the service the benediction will be pronounced by the newly-ordained minister, Rev. Ray C. Krug. This service is one of the most beautiful and impressive of all the services of the Presbyterian church.

The church, quarter, which is made up of Miss Elizabeth Morten, soprano; Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts, contralto; Dr. P. O. Lucas, tenor; and Robert S. Malle, baritone, will sing "When Morning Glids the Skies," an old Italian melody, and "The Earth is the Lord's," by Adams. Mrs. Retts will also sing a gospel solo.

Glendale Youth
 Ray C. Krug, the candidate for ordination, is a Glendale boy. He graduated from Glendale schools, Occidental College, and very recently from San Francisco Theological Seminary. The members of the local church are much interested in Mr. Krug. He began in the lower grades of the Sunday School, later united with the local church, and now, after completing his education, he returns to his mother church to be ordained to the sacred office of the gospel ministry. He is well known to older residents of Glendale and has many friends here.

Another pleasing feature of the service this evening will be that the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Krug will be dedicated to the Lord in the ordinance of baptism. Mr. Krug is under appointment as a missionary to China under the care of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. As soon as his plans are completed he and his wife and young son expect to sail for China.

NO EXTRADITION PLAN
LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Etta May Jackson, Clara Phillips' "baby sister," who has been identified as the woman arrested with the "hammer murderer" in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, will not be extradited to Los Angeles to face trial for having aided in Mrs. Phillips' escape from the county jail here last December.

Although Mrs. Jackson has been identified as the woman companion held with the "tiger woman," no effort will be made to bring her back here, Chief Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes announced.

Sales indicate that this will not be any too much. Tickets are on sale by the Legion members, and at the Garden of the Moon and are going fast. Many out-of-town reservations have been made already and it is anticipated that the tickets will be sold out before the date set.

Earl Crowell of Tujunga, who is connected with the William Fox company in the capacity of electrician, has been saved the trip to town every day for more than a week. The company has been on location at Sunland, filming a story featuring Tom Mix. This picture is a comedy-drama and most of the scenes will be taken here. The company has not finished this picture and will return to Sunland again later to "shoot" the rest of the scenes.

BAFFLING MYSTERY
SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—with the finding of the body of an ex-soldier yesterday identified by his military tag as Harry E. Sullivan, the police were confronted with one of the most baffling murder mysteries in months. The body was found on the marina near the Palace of Fine Arts.

The man had evidently been dead twenty-four hours, but a police officer who had patrolled the ground thirty minutes before the body was found declared it was not there as he passed by. The man had been beaten to death with a club.

Resourceful Youth Catches Moonshiners

ROME, Ga., May 9.—"Here's two of 'em, dad. Must I shoot 'em?" shouted William Sharon Williams, sixteen-year-old son of County Policeman Grover Williams, when he had hemmed two alleged moonshiners in a thicket on a river bank after a long chase. The boy was unarmed, but his bluff worked, and voices from the bushes were begging him not to shoot. His father was close behind and soon arrived to take charge of the prisoners. "I hardly knew what to do when the moonshiners and my boy outran me," said the father in relating the incident. "I wanted him to catch them, and then I was afraid he would. Knowing he was unarmed, I was afraid they might do away with him before I arrived. "No need to worry now, though," he concluded with paternal pride; "the lad's presence of mind and bluff worked to a fare ye well."

Motor Dealers Elect New Directors Board

The annual election of officers of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association was held yesterday at their luncheon in the Citizens' building, when the following directors were chosen for the coming year: E. B. Sutton, Stephen C. Packer, Harry E. White, William H. Court, William Tanner, O. H. Hunter and James French. The new board will meet within a few days and will organize and select its president and other officers. The plan for the establishment of a used car lot was discussed, but no definite decision was reached at yesterday's meeting.

FOUR BURN TO DEATH

DERBY, Pa., May 9.—A woman and three children whose ages ranged from eighteen months to ten years were burned to death when fire destroyed their home here. The dead are: Mrs. Mary Workman and daughters, Albert A. Edna and Bertha. A kerosene stove exploded and spread out

Threat to Electrify City in Gas Fight

PORTLAND, Ind., May 9.—A threat to electrify the entire city of Portland has been made by the Portland Chamber of Commerce in answer to a move of the local gas company to ask for increased rates. The chamber plans to launch a drive to replace all gas lights and gas stoves with electric equipment. The Portland electric plant is municipally owned.

Gardener Spades Up Part of City Street

BELLAIRE, Ohio, May 9.—Hugo Spicowich spaded up the yard in the rear of his home here. So well did he like garden-making that he continued spading out into the street. He had fifty feet of the street ready for cultivation when city officials restrained him over the room. The fire spread fast.

SLOGAN CANNOT BE COPYRIGHTED

City's "Fastest Growing" Claim Without Legal Protection

A letter that was read at the weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce yesterday, in the Citizens Building, from an official of the Library of Congress, stated that it would be impossible for the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization to secure a copyright on the slogan that has been adopted by Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City in America," as the copyright laws do not provide for the restriction of phrases of this nature with the view of restricting their use to any particular person or organization. The matter came up as a part of the agitation that was started recently to have the use of this slogan restricted to Glendale and to prevent its use by Long Beach. The matter will be taken up with Long Beach Chamber of Commerce in an effort to have that city drop the use of it, and in the event that this fails some other course will be tried.

Will Aid Musician

At the request of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones the directors agreed to lend their support to making the concert that is to be held on Thursday, May 24, to raise funds to assist in the musical education of Miss Hazel Linkogel, as big a success as possible. The Glendale Music club is planning to stage a benefit concert on that date to help in furthering the musical ambitions of Miss Linkogel, who has shown a remarkable degree of talent and who is anxious to prosecute her studies under one of the leading violin professors in the east. The Chamber of Commerce will encourage the project by placing tickets on sale in its offices and endeavoring to dispose of them.

Directors Dan Campbell and R. P. Kitterman will represent the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at a banquet that is to be given at Van Nuys tomorrow night in honor of C. T. Wardlaw.

The report of the advertising committee, as presented by H. S. McCormack, showed that the proposed booklet that is to be issued by the Chamber of Commerce is already mapped out, with the various subjects to be treated arranged in a regular schedule. The cost of the booklet came in for discussion, as it was stated by Mr. McCormack that, after the initial expense of $100 to the advertising agency that is preparing the copy and the $200 that would have to be spent on cuts and artwork, the amount left of the appropriation would only suffice to pay for about 2000 booklets, and this, it was claimed, would not be sufficient to meet the needs of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday Closing Discussed

Opposition to the Merchants Industrial Exposition running on Sunday was voiced by a committee representing the Glendale Ministerial association, and the report of the Chamber of Commerce committee that met with the Ministers in an effort to reach some agreement on the matter, was submitted by C. D. Lusby, who stated that, under the terms of the contract with H. L. Leavitt, director general of the exposition, it would be impossible to insist on closing the exposition on Sunday without laying the Chamber of Commerce and the Glendale Credit association open to a lawsuit, if not, indeed, to causing the exposition to be called off entirely. It was first agreed at the meeting of the two committees that every effort would be made to stage a program on the two Sundays that would be entirely free from any grounds for criticism, but one of the ministerial committee later withdrew from this stand, which left the matter just where it had been before the committee met. A further attempt will be made to reach an agreement that will be acceptable to the church representatives and also to the exposition management. A motion was adopted by which members of the Chamber of Commerce who have been delinquent in the payment of their subscriptions for six months will be automatically dropped from the membership rolls, after having been given full notice of the fact that they are in arrears.

The officers of the board of directors will select the executive committee that will have charge of the expansion campaign that is to open here early in June to increase the membership of the organization.

BLOCK JAPANESE PLANS

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—Blocking an attempt of Imperial valley Japanese to secure control of agricultural lands in violation of the anti-alien land act, Attorney-General Webb has ordered Corporation Commissioner Edwin M. Daugherty to deny the Imperial Growers' Association permission to issue 500 memberships at $10 each to ineligible aliens. Webb stated that if permission were granted the association to issue memberships to Japanese, the state would be in the position of aiding in defeating the enforcement of a state law.

SUSTAINS GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—Governor Richardson's veto of eighteen of the amendments placed in his budget bill by the legislature was sustained by the assembly late yesterday. Thirty-one of the increases in the budget which were also blue pencilled by the governor will be voted on.

We take pleasure in felicitating Messrs. Robinson, Ferber, McClellan & Long on the beautiful result of their efforts

Hard Luck Tale Wins Ten Year Probation

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—The bad luck of Sam Hutchinson, after all, proved to be his good luck, both in and out of crime.

In fact, Hutchinson had such a run of bad luck that he was lucky enough to get probation on a charge of being a member of a band of box car burglars.

It was after his arrest that Hutchinson's hard luck story was brought out. In the first place, when it came to entering the box cars he was always unlucky enough to get an empty one, while his pals, on the other hand, consistently entered cars in which was found valuable loot.

Then, on the night he was arrested his wife was taken to the hospital. A few days later a gas main in his home broke and his house was destroyed by fire. It was not insured.

Hutchinson's story of woe and bad luck was told when he appeared before Judge Avery. It was apparent from his story that if he were sent to prison his wife and child would be the greatest

Bootlegger's Child Almost Foils Police

HARRISBURG, May 9.—Tossing a heavy hammer with unerring aim, five-year-old Roy Swindall almost destroyed the evidence which prohibition officers were attempting to seize at his father's home in York county. When the officers approached the Swindall home the father, H. C. Swindall, picked up two jugs which are said to have contained moonshine and was about to throw them against the wall when one of the prohibition staff fired his revolver into the air, changing the intentions of the owner. A short time after the agents entered the home the five-year-old boy seized a hammer and threw it across the room breaking one of the jugs and spilling the contents. Two other jugs, however, were found.

sufferers of his wrongs. Judge Avery placed Hutchinson on probation for ten years, and if his bad luck departs he will make good, he told Judge Avery.

PASTOR LEAVES FOR NEW CHURCH

Rev. D. M. Barr Is Appointed To Congregation at Carpenteria

Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Barr and family of 706 East Harvard street, will leave tomorrow for Carpenteria, California, where they will make their future home. Rev. Barr has recently been assigned to the pastorate of the Methodist church, south, at that place. At the last annual conference Mr. Barr was appointed by Bishop DuBose to the Glendale work for the purpose of organizing a congregation in this city. The church has been thoroughly organized in the various departments, furniture purchased for the furnishing of a parsonage, and the Presbyterian church property at the corner of Broadway and Cedar streets has been bought by the new congregation, the Broadway Methodist church south. Mr. Barr was most successful in his work as an organizer, and has made many friends who will wish him God-speed in his new field of labor.

MUSIC STUDENTS WILL ENTERTAIN

Program to Show Progress By Junior Classes in Harmony

Encouragement of junior musical pursuits and activities is one of the purposes of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club with Mrs. Warren Roberts as curator, and on Friday afternoon the club women of this section are to be entertained in the music room at the Glendale Union High school by a demonstration of harmony and ear training work given by pupils of Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, music instructor. The program is to begin at 2:30 o'clock and following it the girls of the class are to act as hostesses during an informal social hour.

There will be two classes represented on the program, members of the first year class appearing first. This first part of the program will feature blackboard work, the following outline being arranged:

Figures for chords written as heard. Each part (soprano, alto, tenor and bass) sung from figures then written on the staff.

A simple melody written as heard; bass figured from hearing and written on the staff; the melody embellished by by-tones.

Keyboard harmony from dictation in major and minor keys—Lucille Harris, Lucile Beach, Leonora Rose, Mary Sherrick, Beryl Goodale.

Second Year Part

The part given by members of the second year class will include:

Modulation by common chord improvising a melody, Winifred Parker.

Modulation by common tone using a melodic figure, Frances Wyman.

(At the blackboard) Transient modulations written as heard, and placed on the staff, Lucile Allen, Gertrude Heideman.

Keyboard harmony from dictation, played, then used as the basis of a melody, Lois Olmsted.

Of particular interest is the program of original compositions, announced as:

Slavic Dance, Virginia Harsh. Romanza, Doris Davis. "Bubbles" (vocal), Jeanette Luc.

Serenade, Ramona Bronson. Lullaby (vocal), Phyllis Kuehney.

Japanese Melody, Ruth Goto. "Little Miss Tulip," Mary Sherrick.

Prelude in B Flat, Annie Moss. Japanese Lullaby (vocal), Lucile Beach.

Cavatina, Beryl Goodale. "Good-Night" (vocal), Rebecca Hodge.

"Waltz de las Flores" George McCauley.

Evening Song (vocal), Amy Bainbridge.

Berceuse, Leonora Rose. Reverie (violin), Genevieve Zimmerman.

Cradle Song, Lucile Harris. Hungarian Dance (harp), Lois Welch.

A Norse Lullaby, Lois Welch. Melody, Grace Coffey.

"The Purple Cow" (vocal), Lucile Allen.

"Cats of Kilkenny" (vocal), Gertrude Heideman.

"Windy Nights" (vocal), Francis Wyman.

Polish Dance, Winifred Parker. "My Wishes" (vocal), Winifred Parker.

Japanese Cradle Song (vocal), Lois Olmsted.

FEDERATION OF SOCIETIES MEET

Mission Workers in Annual Session; Mrs. D. L. Hesse Chosen President

The Federated Missionary Societies of Glendale and Eagle Rock churches met at the Glendale Presbyterian church last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the regular annual meeting. Mrs. L. Logie presided over the meeting, which was opened with the singing of two new songs and a devotional service.

Reports from the different churches showed the largest donation given toward the leper work was made by the First Methodist church of Glendale and the second largest by the Glendale Presbyterian church. These reports were made by Mrs. T. A. Wright and Mrs. R. W. Mottern, respectively.

Mrs. G. C. Lemon, chairman of the nominating committee, made a report announcing the officers for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. D. L. Hesse; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Robinson; recording secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. W. Mottern; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elora King.

Delivers Message

The newly-elected president, Mrs. D. L. Hesse, delivered a message urging all members to make the new year's work a matter of divine prayer and to interest as many as possible in the work and to attend the October meeting.

Mrs. J. Franklin Kelly was then introduced as the speaker for the afternoon. She gave a wonderful address on "Work Among the Lepers." Mrs. Kelly is the secretary for Southern California of the International and recording secretary for lepers and for many years worked among the lepers in India and China. Her message proved extremely interesting and instructive.

Following this part of the program a free will offering was taken to supply a chair in the new chapel which is being built in Louisiana for the furthering of this great work.

CLOTHING STRIKE ADVANCES PRICES

Contracting Tailors Agree to Workers' Demands for Higher Pay

Strikes which have been prevalent among the clothing workers of Los Angeles during the past two weeks, are responsible for the immediate advance in the price of men's and boys' clothing, declared A. Gelmor, local merchant tailor yesterday.

The manufacturers declare that most of the strikes have been started at the instigation of A. Plotkin, one time publicity agent for striking railway craftsmen, but lately the self-appointed strike manager for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

According to L. Roth, a member of the firm of Topper, Roth & Knewbow of East 9th street, Los Angeles, there are eight firms in that city engaged in the manufacture of men's and boys' wear. Approximately 500 men and women are employed.

Contracting tailors have acceded to the demands of the strikers and an immediate advance of 20 per cent in the present wage scale has been allowed.

The result has been that prices have advanced all over southern California on custom tailored clothes for men and boys.

Despite this advance however, A. Gelmor, well known custom tailor of 138 South Brand, declared that his present comparison sale, in which regular fifty, sixty and seventy dollar suits are being sold at forty and fifty dollars, would continue until May 10 after which date prices will be raised.

FORMER FOLLIES GIRL TO AID FASHION SHOW

Miss Ruth Stokes, known in the theatrical profession as Ruth Sterling, a former Ziegfeld Follies girl, has been engaged by H. L. Leavitt, director general of the Merchants' Industrial Exposition, to act as a model at the Fashion Show that is to be a part of the exposition, and to assist in directing this part of the program. Miss Stokes expects to feature a radium gown that is said to be one of the most startling creations of the world of fashion that has ever been seen.

Fighting Breaks Out Afresh Over Ireland

MONTROSE HOMES CONSUME LOTS OF LUMBER

Much Building Under Way in Montrose and Vicinity; Houses Being Built

The large amount of building activity in the Verdugo valley is proved by the quantity of lumber being hauled each month from the yard at 620 East Honolulu avenue and delivered to new homesites by the Montrose branch of the William J. Bettingen Lumber Company.

Albert E. Sullivan, manager of this branch, is optimistic in regard to the future of the whole up-country. He has watched the growth of Glendale for a number of years and predicts that the growth of Montrose will be no less phenomenal.

Already this month the Glendale & Montrose Railway Company has delivered eight cars of lumber to this yard. Four of them were unloaded last week and the other four are being unloaded this week.

"Last month was a banner month for us," reported Mr. Sullivan. "It was about twenty per cent better than March, and the best month we have had during the seven months we have been established here."

List of New Homes

Among the new homes, which have received their lumber from the William J. Bettingen Lumber Company, are the following, which are now under construction:

E. L. Robinson's six-room bungalow, on Lot 205, Glendale avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Dunderdale's five-room California house, at 646 Glendale street.

H. D. Jones's five-room house on Waltonia drive.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys If Back Pains You of Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's unwholesome waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can't injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

The Perfume of Life

BY DAY'S SHORT STORY BY Ad Schuster

Adelaide was blessed with a face, brown eyes flashing of an impudent glancing of the eyes, and the whole surrounded with a frame of black hair, cut bobbed. She walked her chin up and hummed the went. Adelaide chased the classified department of a daily.

On an automobile row, a section of the salesmanship of Adelaide, the girl had friends. As she entered one of the salerooms she passed Herman, and from that moment the life of the young man was one of yearning and hope. Herman was a writer, sent away manuscript and in hope until it came back, before his dreams had faded upon the day on which the fishers would regard him as a fish. Now they gave place to Adelaide.

Adelaide affected Herman as it does others. It set him to writing poetry in the long nights. For a while he breathed love songs to the moon. Then earned Adelaide's name and, and favored the chance of the postal service with Horis.

"How," said Herman, "she is not an editor, and does not who I am. She can't send back, anyway." Herman had out love songs on a regular schedule. Adelaide was dazed with ballads, mystified by the muse, and became inquisitive.

"Romance," the girl had always "is like a slapstick comedy, but a lot of silly blubber and inconsistencies." After months of taking Herman's luke's poetry into her system felt different. The poet put a question into her mind. There was a tall salesman of the automobile offices might have written those. Thereafter it was as if ad written them. Adelaide's played tinkly tunes, and un- all the gay melodies could hear the stately strains Mendelssohn March.

Adelaide's experiences of Herman

DAILY FASHION HINT

CREATED IN PARIS
Style claims itself in every line of this straight line dress, developed in dawn gray satin crepe, with gathered side panels that fall below the hem of the skirt and a bloused bodice brightened with a handanna kerchief. If preferred, the sleeves may be worn short, though one finds the extensions that are gathered into a straight band equally fascinating. Medium size requires 6 1/2 yards 36-inch material. Pictorial Review dress No. 1580. Sizes, 34 to 50 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

THE "NIPPED-IN" WAIST-LINE
This is an unusually dainty frock, with its semi-fitted blouse and straight gathered skirt. It is fashioned of caramel brown silk crepe and the blouse is laced down the front with gilt braid, while the neck is finished with a round collar of embroidered cerise. Medium size requires 3 3/4 yards 36-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1448. Sizes, 34 to 40 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

BEAUTY CHATS

ORANGE TIME
It is high time to repeat the once-a-year advice—prepare your system for the hot weather. In the winter we say our blood is "thick." We mean that it is rich and that the body produces more heat, though this is certainly not entirely a matter of the richness of the blood. But in the spring, especially the latter part of it, this great heat producing capacity of the body is not needed, the system does not burn up so much. It's like stoking a furnace so hard it chokes with coal and goes out. But in this case the skin breaks out in pimples.

You can take sulphur tablets, which drug stores sell, or sulphur and molasses, a more old-fashioned and more effective form of the springtime treatment. Or you can eat quantities of oranges. Any of these treatments is laxative, must be to any good. But sulphur merely thins and purifies the blood, oranges do more than this, they supply the system with a great deal of valuable matter. They are extraordinarily rich in vitamins, they are a food, therefore, to be recommended to thin or anemic people, and they are cleansing and purifying, too.

I would suggest an orange before breakfast, cut in half and eaten without sugar, sliced orange salad with luncheon, and a glass of orange juice, containing two oranges a day will not give you too much acid. If they are too laxative, take three. But keep this treatment up for one or two weeks. You will be delighted at the clearness and fineness of your complexion afterwards.

Sylvia G.—You can massage cocoa butter into the legs and arms to fatten them, but since you are twenty pounds underweight it would be best to build up all over by eating the foods that do this. Olive oil, milk and other dairy products, and as much starchy food as agrees with you, will increase weight.

Middle Age.—In addition to the treatment you are taking now, use an astringent once each week made from one part white egg to six parts water. This should be painted over the entire face and throat, after first cleansing the skin.

Relax and let the astringent dry and tone the skin for at least twenty minutes. Remove it and proceed as usual with the nourishing cream massage. Finish the treatment by closing the pores with the cold water or an ice rub.

Get the system ready for warm weather

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

A FAIR WARNING
"Dear Doctor Peters: I am 5 feet 11 and weigh 267. I have an exophthalmic goiter and had a paralytic stroke at the age of 23. How can I get thin? I crave food incessantly, and have no will power to stop. I can get up from a meal so full I can hardly move, and still want to eat. Have been told it is my nervous and goiter craving a special substance which is not sat- isfied. Especially crave candy and eat about a pound a day. My busts are extraordinarily large. Is there anything I can take or rub on them to reduce them? My abdomen hangs down to my knees and is very flabby. I do the floor exercises, but nothing makes my tummy smaller. I realize that dieting is for me, but with the abnormal craving I cannot manage it—unless I can get something to stop the craving, at least for a few days until I get started. I wish I could get lost on a desert island for a month or two. I have read some of your articles and am in hope that you are different from the people who say "well, just don't eat." It is like saying to a drunkard and drug fiend, "stop your habit." They can't and I can't. I am married, but have never had any children. I am enclosing stamps for your booklet on reducing.— Mrs. L."

Isn't this a pitiable picture? I give it as a warning, to prevent others from starting on the same path. At a long distance diagnosis, Mrs. L., I should say you are not suffering from exophthalmic goiter with its excessive secretion of thyroid, for the picture of that is just the opposite to your condition. You seem to be suffering from an under secretion of the thyroid, and probably other internal secretions, rather than from over secretions. Except from the fact that your letter shows keen intelligence rather than stupidity, you are a typical picture of myx- edema.

You should find a skillful physi- cian, Mrs. L., and be under his care, preferably in a sanitarium. You are undoubtedly the one case in a thousand obese patients who need medication. If you can't do that, then follow these direc- tions:

Get two or three good books you have wanted to read for a long while and perhaps did not have time for, go to bed and have yourself locked in your room. Have a pint and a half of skimmed milk and a medium- sized orange brought to you three times a day. This will furnish you approximately 850 calories of food during the day. Take your oranges at 8 in the morning, 12 and 7 p. m. A glass of skimmed milk at other hours. This will give you 12 meals for the day.

Stay in bed on this regime for three days at least; a week or longer will undoubtedly benefit you. I will guarantee you abso- lutely that in three days your ab- normal craving will cease and you can go on the reduction diet which we advise, and which has been sent you, without any trou- ble whatever. It may be that you will recover even without any medication.

For your bowels take, twice a day, two heaping tablespoonfuls of the non-medicated granulated agar. You will have to get this in a drug store. You can take it in water, one tablespoonful to a glass of water. Take an enema every day for a while.

When you begin to use your stored fat for your energy needs you will find that your busts and tummy will furnish the largest amount.

You will begin right away? Otherwise you might as well select your favorite hymn and get your going-away throussau ready—a simple white robe will be all you need. And your passport

GIFTS
Which would you rather a gift should be, a total surprise or something you want very much or greatly need?

We were talking of gifts in gen- eral, wedding gifts in particular. You know they say that in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, a young girl's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of pretty new clothes, approaching a couple's thoughts turn apprehensively to wedding presents for their friends who are about to follow them into matrimony.

"I just can't think what to give Mary and Sam," our little neigh- bor across the way said when the approaching marriage of her brother-in-law came into our con- versation. "Ask them," her prac- tical husband suggested. "Why, the very idea, John! You've no sentiment about things at all. Where would the surprise be, if we asked 'em?" our little neigh- bor replied.

The Other Side— They did not ask me for my opinion, but their conversation brought to my mind—

A friend who did exquisite needlework had for years before her marriage put hours of spare time into the creation of beautiful lin- ens for her "hope chest." It was the most complete chest of linen I have ever known a bride in mod- erate circumstances to begin housekeeping with, and she was justly proud of it. Her fiance had made his home with an aunt of some means, who determined to surprise him and his bride-to-be with a very nice wedding gift.

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of tea- spoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

TODAY—Los Angeles is enjoying an unprecedented era of building activity, reports William G. Cayce, Los Angeles correspondent.

TOMORROW—Portland, Oregon, is involved in a controversy over whether or not the name of its principal financial street shall be changed to "Wall Street," writes James S. Sheehy of that city.

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Never before in its history has Los Angeles real estate equaled what it is today. The turn-over in property, the opening of new subdivisions for the city and building permits for the construction of homes is little short of amazing.

Just how many subdivisions are now open real estate dealers frankly admit they do not know. They say they know how many are advertised in the newspapers, but that, in addition to those advertised, there are countless others. It is conservatively estimated that more subdivisions have been opened in Los Angeles and its environs in the last two years than in any ten years previous.

Another feature in connection with the rapid growth of Los Angeles and the opening up of new residential and business sections is that there is an unlimited amount of money available for purchasing. A thorough investigation here has revealed that more people can make substantial first payments on property than in any city of like size in the country. The amount of property that is being paid for with cash is also astounding.

In subdivisions which have both business and residential frontage, one seems to sell as rapidly as the other. In proportion to the number of lots changing hands daily, speculation is remarkably absent.

The entire subdivision activity is predicated on the increasing population and the demand for homes.

Home building in Los Angeles has broken all records for two years, and the demand has not yet been met. It also is pointed out as an important factor that more substantial homes, ranging in cost from $25,000 to $75,000, are being built in Los Angeles than ever before.

Los Angeles has more diversified architecture in its homes than any city in the world. The present leaning is toward the English cottage though the size of many of them remove them from the category of cottages, and the Moorish designs.

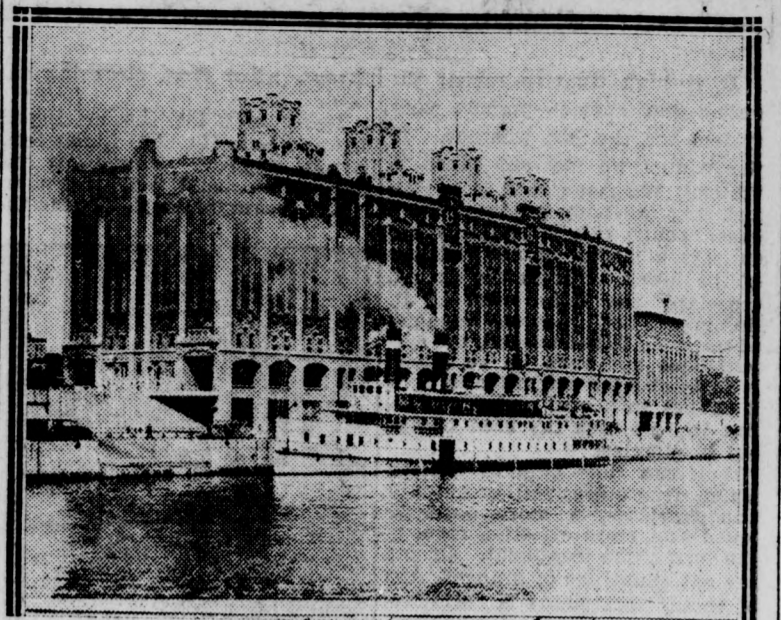

The amount of construction of all kinds for the first quarter of 1923 has exceeded the total construction of 1922 in Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati or Milwaukee. Building permits for March alone almost equaled Kansas City's entire 1922 record.

More big leases and sales of downtown business property were recorded during the first two weeks of April than in any similar period of any city in the world of the size of Los Angeles. One lease recently totaled $21,000,000 announcement of the sale of business buildings costing from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 is an every-day occurrence.

And there is no apparent letup in sight in the opening up of new acreage for homes. The development extends over nearly thirty miles north and east, and west to the beaches—17 miles away. The sales of industrial property are also tremendous.

RADIO

BY FRANK CHAPMAN

THE REINARTZ CIRCUIT

Amateurs have long known the "Reinartz" circuit to be excellent for DX work, but it is only recently that it has been adopted by the broadcast fans for their work and it has proved very efficient and not tricky. It is not an expensive outfit even when everything is bought and then mounted. In fact, it is suggested that the specially wound inductance be purchased rather than made up. These can now be bought at any der web coil. From nine to eleven slots may be used, or even more. The one I have in mind has seventeen spokes and cost $4. The first coil wound on is the tickler winding and consists of sixty turns tapped every fifteen turns. The wire is then cut and the primary started. It consists of ten turns of wire with a tap every turn, then fifteen more turns are put on without any taps except at the fifteenth turn. This is the start of the secondary. The secondary has twenty-eight turns tapped every seven turns. The taps should be staggered so all the primary taps will come in rotation. The secondary coil taps come to the right and the plate taps to the left. This will eliminate danger of these circuits becoming balled up and make for quieter operation of the set.

Coil Unit for Reinartz Circuit

large dealers as this set has become popular. However, if you wish to wind one, instructions will be given later.

The material required for this set is the spider web coil, two variable condensers .23 and eleven plates, grid condenser and variable grid leak, a hard tube and its accessories, although a regular detector tube can be used.

It is suggested that all material used be of the best as there is not much to this set and it will pay you to get first-class material. This set will take audio frequency amplification just like any other set and work fine when so connected. The form for the coil of two and one-half inches; that is, the spokes should have a solid center of two and one-half inches from the center than four and one-half inches from the outer end of the form, otherwise the turns of the coils will not be large enough for the correct amount of inductance.

LAYOUT FOR REINARTZ SET.

A panel wiring diagram is shown in the drawing, but this may be altered to suit your conditions. Remember that the reason most home-made sets do not work is because they are poorly wired. In other words, do not string your wires all over the cabinet, but conform to those of the drawing as near as you can.

The primary consists of ten taps and is connected to the aerial through the switch. The secondary switch is shown to the lower right, while the plate or tickler coil is shown to the left. This inductance is one of the purchased type, the extra switch contact for the secondary being to make the holes in the panel uniform.

If you desire to make your own inductance one can be made up on a piece of fibre seven inches in diameter and cut out in the form of spokes similar to the spider web coil. For the values given, the aerial should be about 100 feet long.

In tuning this set, vary the center and right switches until the signals come in strongest, then vary the right hand condenser and then vary the plate inductance and condenser until full regeneration is obtained. Then, as in other sets, go back and vary the various pieces until best results are obtained. The filament does not have to be burned bright.

Pointers

If you are of an experimental turn of mind try out some of the freak hookups and see what results you can get with critical adjustments. They are not for the beginner.

If you add a potentiometer to your detector set it will improve it and it doesn't require much adjustment.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S MAY FLOWERS

Uncle Wiggily was about to set out from his hollow stump bungalow one morning, to go adventuring, when up came running Baby Buntie, the little rabbit girl.

"Oh, I'm just in time, Uncle Wiggily! Just in time!" laughed Baby Buntie.

"In time for what—breakfast?" asked the bunny rabbit. "No, I'm afraid you're a bit late for that, unless Nurse Jane—"

"Oh, no, I don't mean that, I'm in time for breakfast!" said Baby Buntie quickly. "I've had my breakfast long ago. But I'm in time to have you walk to school with me. I came early on purpose."

"Uncle Wiggily hasn't time to walk to school with you," objected Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "He must go adventuring!"

"Oh, tut, tut!" kindly exclaimed Mr. Longears with a twinkle of his pink nose. "I think I'll have time to go hopping with Buntie."

"I'm so glad!" gurgled Baby Buntie. "For I want you to help me gather a few May flowers this morning—flowers for the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School."

"Ah, that is a kindly thought," said the bunny uncle. "This is the month of May. I had almost forgotten. April showers bring May flowers" is an old saying. All right Baby Buntie! Hop along and we shall go a-Maying!"

"Positively he gets younger and younger every day!" said Nurse Jane with a smile as she went in the kitchen to look at the breakfast dishes swim around in their washing water.

Uncle Wiggily and Baby Buntie hopped over the fields and through the woods. It was the time of year when May flowers should be looked for, and the little rabbit girl hoped to find enough to make a bouquet for the Lady Mouse Teacher.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, there's a red flower!" suddenly cried Buntie, and she sprang away from the bunny gentleman and rushed to pick a crimson blossom she saw.

"Be careful, Buntie! You may get your feet wet!" cautioned Uncle Wiggily. But he was too late.

Baby Buntie suddenly splashed into a mud puddle.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! I'm sinking! I'm going to be drowned!" gasped Baby Buntie.

"Nothing of the sort! You're all right, only you have gotten your feet wet!" said the bunny gentleman. He pulled Buntie out of the puddle, her paws making a funny ploppy-ploppy sound in the mud.

"No great harm done," said Uncle Wiggily, as he looked at the little rabbit girl, "though you have wet feet. But I dare say you can dry them in school."

"I got the red flower, though," laughed Baby Buntie, and she held up the crimson blossom.

"Good!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Then he found a blue blossom and Baby Buntie a yellow one, and next the rabbit gentleman found a purple flower. A moment later Baby Buntie cried:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, I guess a big gear, or something has caught me. Oh, help! help! I'm caught."

Uncle Wiggily rushed toward Baby Buntie, his pink nose twinkling very fast, but a moment later he laughed.

"I think it isn't very nice to laugh at me," objected Baby Buntie. "Not at all polite!"

"I can't help it!" chuckled Mr. Longears. "The only thing that has happened is that your dress is caught on a sharp, pointed thorn bush. No bear has you. You're just caught on some thorns."

"Oh!" said Baby Buntie, surprised, like. Then Uncle Wiggily loosened her dress and they picked flowers until they had a fine bouquet. Baby Buntie was about to hop on to school with it when, all of a sudden, with a rush and a growl, out from a hollow tree popped a real, savage, bushy black bear.

"Wuffue! Wuffue!" growled the bear. "I'm going to nibble your ears!"

"Oh, but first won't you please smell my nice May flowers?" asked Baby Buntie, very politely.

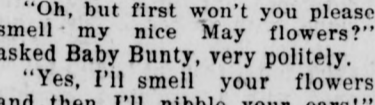

"Yes, I'll smell your flowers and then I'll nibble your ears!" growled the bear. Baby Buntie held her bouquet to his nose. And then, all of a sudden, the bear gave a howl and wowl and cried:

"Oh, my nose! My nose! A bee in those flowers stung me!" And away he ran to nodd his nose in a soft mud bank to take out the pain.

"Baby Buntie! Baby Buntie!" said Uncle Wiggily, when the bear was gone. "Was there a bee in your May flowers?"

"I don't know whether there was a bee or not," laughed the little rabbit girl. "But I do know there was a sharp, stickery thorn in my bouquet. I took it out of my dress and put it there and when I let the bear smell my flowers I jabbed the thorn in his nose. Ho! Ho! Ho!"

"Baby Buntie!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily, "I shall buy you an ice cream cone flavored with rose leaves." And he did. And if the chair doesn't go swimming in the mud puddle, getting its legs all wet, so it can't dance with the brass band, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and his leaky roof. HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

By ALBERT L. CLOUGH

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DOING AWAY WITH SELF-IGNITION
SINCE THE "KEROSENE FUEL" now in use has a lower point of ignition than the straight gasoline formerly available, self-ignition has of late proved a more serious evil than ever before, and will probably become even more so. Some of the measures for its prevention are the following: The use of compression pressures somewhat lower than were safe practice when high test gasoline was used. The avoidance of carbon deposits the effect of which is to reduce, by their low heat conductivity, the escape of heat from the cooling surfaces, and thus to permit the abnormal rise in temperature of the combustion space surfaces, which are in contact with the charges. Such deposits, if thick enough, even cause an increase in the compression pressure by occupying space which should be taken by the charge. The uniform and adequate cooling of all parts of the combustion space by complete jacketing with water that is kept in circulation, so that steam (a poor heat conductor) may not form and remain in contact with them. This includes the valve chambers and their valves, spark-plug losses and all parts exposed to the heat of explosion. The avoidance of joints between parts which are intended to be cooled and the jacket wall spaces. The use of pistons having heads of sufficient heat conducting capacity to prevent their reaching excessively high temperatures; and the avoidance of cylinder bores so large as to render practically impossible the cooling of the piston by conduction to the cylinder walls.

the other connection. This will get rid of all loose sediment. Another way is to open the radiator at the top and force water from a hose into the filler opening while the engine is running. If the radiator is clogged with incrustations which a water current will not loosen, chemical methods will have to be resorted to.

SAN QUENTIN AWAITS

LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Herbert Wilson, ex-minister, convicted of the murder of Herbert Cox, alleged to have been his companion in a mail robbery, today awaited removal to San Quentin to begin his life sentence. He probably will never be tried for attacking Deputy Sheriff Henry Purrier, nor for his attempt to escape jail, according to action taken in Judge Shenk's court when, at the request of the prosecution, the case was removed from the calendar.

ITALIANS IN ATTACK

LONDON, May 9.—Italian troops attacked a column of 1,500 native rebels near Birtagemut, killing 200 of them and putting the balance to flight, said a Central News dispatch from Rome. The Italian casualties were fifteen killed and 118 wounded.

Doctor Proves Wood Alcohol Is Beverage

TAMPA, Fla., May 9.—Is wood alcohol an intoxicating beverage? Is it a beverage at all, within the meaning of the law? Attorneys for the defense in a number of liquor cases tried here argued that it wasn't, but Dr. J. R. Harris, city health officer, testified to this effect: "Is wood alcohol a beverage?" Dr. Harris—"It is."

"Do you know of anybody using it for such purposes?" "No, but I have attended the funerals of several persons who did."

Prosecuting counsel claimed Dr. Harris' testimony established the reason for the active prosecution of liquor cases that has been waged.

SCHOOLS TO OLD STATE MEET

Athletes Will Stage Field Day at Occidental College Grounds

California high school athletes, average, year by year, are good, if not a little better than those representing other states in the union. Our record convinces me of that. What it does to do is prove it to the whole world.

Oliver, vice-principal of Occidental High school, who is in charge of the state meet to be held May 12, at Pacific Field, Occidental college, is enthusiastic over the chances of having a strong team to the interscholastic track and field championships, which are to be held on May 25, at Stag Field.

"I tell you this," said Oliver, "if the people get behind this and turn out for the meet as we expect them to, necessary $3000 will be sent to California to send athletes to Chicago who will name for themselves. Union won the annual few years back, and two to Edie Boyden of Vallejo the first places and gave his school second place in the state. Last year four California schools placed above ninth.

"I think it will be interesting to check up on the man who, if sent east, will score points. I think our around athlete would be the Huntington Beach runner, who runs the high hurdles in seconds, which certainly give him at least second place. He runs the 25 3-5, and at the meet in 25 1-5 last year, he counted on better than the pole vaults twelve feet was a time when this world's record. But times changed, and we cannot figure better than fifth. He is 5 feet 11 inches, and was won at 5 feet 10 more of Huntington Beach 12 feet 5 inches, and second. His time marks him as a candidate for a place in the high hurdles. Nash runs the 440, and as Shaw of Missouri last year, I think Nash will be on first place in the Kaer, the Red Bluff lad, the low hurdles in 25 seconds. I think he could also clear the high hurdles. Harry Smith set a national pole vault record of 12 feet 11 1/2 inches in vault, and he would be first in that event. The fact is to see that boy in action.

More Good Ones
The fact that Turner of Hollywood won the high jump at that Meeks could place second in the broad jump. Coyne, another man, puts the shot 48 feet. He should place first or second. Barnes could place second with Smith. The Manual Arts look to me to be the best half-milers in the state. Speaking of course, schools. If they run in again, they ought to place second at Chicago. Last year Kerr of Huntington placed back and won the 200 3-5. I think Platt of Polytechnic could place second in the mile.

Interest in Sprints.
It is always much interest in California has the state meet. Hershall of San Fernando, who won the 100 yard dash last year, placed second in the 100 yard dash and could probably well this year. Then Woodard, the colored Jefferson, who equaled Paddock's high school record of 22 1-5 seconds.

of Chaffey and Regil of View throw the discus 50 feet, and they could go to place well in the Chicago. Caldwell of 2 hurk the javelin 152 feet is good enough for a

The World Over

By Franklin B. Morse
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

San Francisco, within the last eight months, has had special days at its baseball park for three players, and now comes a fourth. A "popular" subscription of not over twenty-five cents from each person interested is asked. Next week there will be a special day for Harry Wolverton, for many years identified with baseball on the Pacific coast, and now manager of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League.

It has been asked what these days amount to? Are they mere toadying to a character in the limelight? Is anything gained by them? Are there not scores of other men quite as worthy, and is it not discrimination?

The answer to this would seem to be about as follows: Professional baseball on several occasions has been on trial, owing to the shady performances of some of those engaged in the business. It is no particular credit to a man to play the game right. No question about that. But if recognition is made of a man when, for many years, his influence in the game has been for its betterment, will it not get the youngster in the game to thinking that, after all, a man's actions are being watched by the fans, and that they appreciate the man who plays the game square? Will it not get him to thinking that it is worth while to do the same, and, possibly some day he will be accorded a similar honor? This appears to be the big, underlying good that comes of these special days, and it seems to be very worth while from a moral and psychological point of view.

More and more attention is being paid to athletics among the activities of the Boy Scouts of America, and those in charge of sports figure that this preliminary training in the majority of the standard track and field events, as well as swimming, will go a large way toward bettering the performances of the future, for there are tens of thousands of scouts in the country, many of whom will eventually enter the various colleges.

At Coronado Tent City, California, this idea is being fostered and systematically carried on from year to year. For instance, July 7 has been set for the annual Boy Scouts aquatic carnival, open to all members of this organization. The junior events for all scouts under 15 years of age are 25-yard dash, 50-yard dash, back-stroke, 50-yard dash, breast stroke, 220-yard relay race, and fancy diving. The senior events for all scouts over 14 years of age are 100-yard dash, free style; 50-yard back-stroke, 50-yard breast-stroke, 320-yard relay, and fancy diving.

When Jess Willard, ex-heavyweight champion, and Floyd Johnson, the young Iowa giant, step into the ring, May 12, at the Yankee Stadium in New York City, fans will witness the greatest fighting event since the Dempsey-Carpenter affair at Boyles Thirty Acres two years ago.

The proceeds of the show will be turned over to the Milk Fund of the City of New York.

Be it said to the credit of Willard that he has certainly worked hard to get himself into condition for this fight. Jess has gone about his training in an altogether different mood than when he was preparing to defend his title against Dempsey at Toledo. He is no doubt in the best shape of his career, with the possible exception of his fight with Jack Johnson in Cuba, when he took the crown from the colored man.

Floyd Johnson is a big, blue-eyed, 200-pound, 22-year-old thumper from Iowa, who has been winning fights one after another all winter until his string of victories is beginning to look really impressive. He is a fast-stepping, clever boxer, with a cracking good left jab. He is not the terrific puncher that even Willard is, or Firpo, for he is never set to deliver a K. O. wallop. True, he has flattened many of his opponents, but they have all been fourth-raters.

Against a man like Johnson, Willard's great size will work against him. He must always be punching down at his man, and it's harder to reach a vital spot under that handicap. Dempsey time and again shipped under Willard's left and got in so close that the big boy couldn't get at him—he didn't have room to work his fists. Doubtless Johnson will fight Willard by an altogether different plan of battle than that used by Jack, for Floyd does not possess the punch that was Dempsey's.

Comeback fighters, like Willard, judging by the past, have never been able to give their best after the tenth round. No matter what their physical condition, the "reserve strength" that is youth and the "will to win"—that power which enables a man to drive himself on under great fatigue—is gone in most men at thirty-five. Willard is at least thirty-seven. And there is his marriage license which gives his age as twenty-six on March 13, 1908, according to which the ex-champ is past forty years old.

They are come back very strong at that age.

SPORTS CHATTER

Charles Paddock is running in France. Naturally, the well-advertised sprinter is laughing up his sleeve and giving the A. A. U. the horse laugh. By the time the A. A. U. gets through with Charles Paddock it will be a case of "He who laughs last laughs best."

Paddock can run, of that there is no question, but he cannot upset the organized laws of amateur athletics of the entire world. The International Athletic Federation is too big to be upset by Paddock and the sprinter will be through as an A. A. U. amateur on his return to this country.

The sprinter has been breaking all sorts of foolish odd distance records in Paris. They mean nothing and furthermore are none of the records will be officially recognized by the amateur athletic bodies governing sports. Every governing A. A. DEAL, England, May 9.—More in sorrow than in anger, a British gallery looked on in passive apprehension today as three leaders of the invading team of American golfers advanced beyond the third round of the British amateur championship.

Rated in the order of their importance, they are Francis Quimet, of Boston, whose name will go down to posterity as the stripling who turned back Vardon and Ray at Brookline in 1913; O. F. Willing, of Portland, Ore., a dark horse of the lowest visibility, and Jack Neville, of San Francisco, who entered the tournament for the fun of the thing, and is now very much in earnest.

All won their matches rather easily. Quimet disposed of Percy Clough, of Bradford, 5 up and 3 to play; Neville scored over W. H. Rickardo, off Worpleston, 4 up and 3 to play, and Willing defeated Edward Blackwell, 3 up and 2 to play.

Other Results
Cyril Tolley, England, defeated Max Marston, Philadelphia, 3 and 2.
George V. Rotan, Houston, Texas, defeated F. Stone, England, 8 and 7.
Douglas Grant, formerly of California, now of England, defeated E. W. E. Holderness, 2 and 1.
R. W. Crumack, England, defeated Hon. Michael Scott, England, 2 up.
Roger Wethered, England, defeated J. J. Murray, England, 3 and 1.
T. A. Torrance, England, defeated D. Scott, England, 5 and 4.
W. B. Torrance, England, defeated Fred Wright, Los Angeles, 3 and 2.

Don't buy a new Suit... Clean the Old One

PERHAPS that old suit is beginning to look a little shabby, shiny, and out of shape. Or maybe the new one is bagging a bit, or bulging unpleasantly at the elbows. In either event let us have it a day or two, and see how smartly it will become its old self, and how much it will add to your own good appearance. You will be pleasantly surprised, too, at the extra wear you'll be able to get out of it. This holds true, also, of your overcoats, gloves, and other outer apparel. Send the whole lot of them today. A phone call will bring us. What's equally important, we will have them back to you in almost no time at all.

Suspect in Student's Death Before Jury

CHICAGO, May 9.—J. Allen Mills, central figure in the sensational investigation into the disappearance and death of Leighton Mount, Northwestern student, following a class rush at Evanston in September, 1921, arrived in Chicago late yesterday. In custody of Cook county officers and immediately was taken before the grand jury. Mills was arrested in Akron, Ohio, and brought here after having been virtually kidnaped from Ohio officers.

JAILED FOR BURGLARY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Earl B. Wilson, twenty-five, who says he came here from Omaha, Neb., last October 9, where he had been employed in the federal reserve bank, was arrested today on a series of burglary charges. He is at present employed in Sausalito. Adventure led him to become a burglar, he told police.

BURBANK CROWDS ATTEND BIG EXPOSITION

Merchants' Show at Burbank Draws Many Visitors to Attractive Booths

The Merchants' Exposition continues to draw big crowds and the mammoth tent opposite the city hall is daily and nightly thronged. The various booths appear to be doing a hand-office business and Manager Carlton has arranged many novelty and surprise features. For one thing, Losee's eight-piece band is a nightly source of joy to young and old alike, livening up the atmosphere and adding just the proper "cinema" touch. Another big hit with the patrons of the Exposition is the Colburn-Knabenshue radio balloon that flies above the tent, catching and sending down the waves in the form of a concert. While inside the tent is shown the kite balloon that made the test flight last week, and movie cameras were on the scene.

Series of Lectures In addition to other popular features, a series of lectures on community upbuilding subjects are being given by well qualified speakers. Mayor J. C. Crawford opened the Exposition last Saturday night with a welcome address, and at 7 o'clock, sharp, Losee's band gave a concert downtown after which they proceeded to the big tent and continued their program.

Prior to this, the band and a number of following automobiles, decked appropriately with banners, made a tour of the San Fernando Valley towns, Van Nuys, Leekershim and intervening territory, appraising the people of these communities of the opening of Burbank's big show. The result is that since the first of the week, thousands of people have poured into Burbank to see what it was all about—and have gone back carrying definitely in their minds that the city they have visited is wide-awake and going ahead fast.

Choral Club Active The Burbank Choral club program for May is a full one. Last night they entertained Hollywood at a Community "Sing," held in the high school. On May 13 they will give a Mothers' Day program on the grounds of the Thomas A. Edison school. On May 25 they are to broadcast a program from the Earl C. Anthony station, Los Angeles. And they will participate largely in the Music Week program of May 19-27.

Lighting a milestone at Hollywood was in a way, milestone for the club. Exchange programs between the Choralists and private organizations have heretofore been conducted, but last night's affair lifted their activities out of the personal and into the community class.

The Hollywood Community chorus is a civic organization, it is pointed out, "while the Burbank Choral club is a private organization manifesting the spirit of the community."

To further this community spirit is now the desire of the Choral club and, consequently, the civic nature of the May program is a source of deep gratification to them.

Pleasing Numbers Among the numbers given at last night's concert were selections by Charles Wakefield Cadman and Carrie Jacobs-Bond, both California composers and members of the Hollywood Community chorus. These numbers were given as an especial compliment to the Hollywood group.

One of Mr. Cadman's most popular and striking Indian compositions, "The Sunset Trail," was presented. The Carrie Jacobs-Bond number on the program was "A Hundred Years From Now."

Among other numbers given by the Burbank Choral club at last night's concert were "Hail, Smiling Morn," by Spofforth-Leslie, and "Nightfall in Granada," by Bueno.

Discuss New Head for U. S. Shipping Board

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The selection of a new chairman for the United States shipping board was discussed at the White House late yesterday between President Harding, Chairman A. D. Lasker and Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Edward P. Farley of Chicago, former member of the board and vice-president of the emergency fleet corporation, is said to be under consideration.

CONDITION OF WHEAT

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The average condition of winter wheat on May 1 was 80.1 as compared with 75.2 on April 1, the crop-reporting board of the department of agriculture announced today. This is indicative of a yield of 14.5 bushels per acre. On the estimated area to be harvested, 14.5 bushels per acre would produce 578,287,000 bushels, or 1.4 per cent less than in 1922.

On May 1 the area of winter wheat was about 39,750,000 acres, or 6,629,000 acres (14.3 per cent) less than the average harvested last year.

COMMENT That's All

China Provides Excitement Governor To Have Last Say More Thrilling Than Movie U. S. Busy Enough At Home

By Gil A. Cowan

SOME six weeks ago the writer of this column said "Look to China for the next excitement."

In the last few days the whole of America has been looking at the news accounts of happenings which seem almost impossible in this enlightened age. Chinese bandits carried away some very prominent Americans; yes, some very wealthy Americans. And if any harm has befallen them we will be looking to China in a way that is not nice to think about. If some poor unknown American adventurer were to be lost in China very little would be said about it, but when a relative of the Rockettellers and the heir to the Scripps millions gets "shanghai'd" there is something doing! American marines will be brought into service, it is reported, if they are needed. We will recollect the story of the Boxer trouble. But it took years of diplomacy to disentangle the tangle the whole world got into then.

Southern Californians may congratulate themselves on the fact that Governor Richardson did not veto the Southern Branch university appropriation from the budget bill. Of course, this writer predicted he would not, but you never can tell. The governor evidently is going to get a great deal of pleasure out of having the last word in the matter of state appropriations. At the same time there is a good deal of wall arising from the persons whose toes have been tramped on. That is to be expected.

Fact is more thrilling than fiction. Last Sunday night a man and two women in a motor car plunged through an open draw-bridge into the Oakland estuary. Sixty feet under the surface they fought themselves free of the machine. Both of the women were injured, but one of them swam to nearby piling and the man saved his companion who could not swim. You can hardly imagine such a thing happening, but it did. And should any story writer try to make you believe it so the chances are you would consider him an able writer of improbable occurrences.

Again we have the League of Nations to consider in the form of a World Court. Opponents of the latter are taking the stump to defeat the Harding-Hughes plan to plunge into an alliance which is distasteful to Americans.

The Glendale Evening News has consistently opposed the League of Nations scheme. It is nothing more nor less than a foreign entanglement and the World Court would be the same.

There is no doubt but what the world needs some method of adjudicating its problems, yet built upon the premises which England desires it would not serve any altruistic purpose.

As long as the old world continues its course of subversive diplomacy these United States can attend to their own knitting.

The flight of MacReady and Kelly across continent in twenty-four hours brings to mind the possibilities of aerial transportation again.

There is no reason why Los Angeles and New York should not be linked by a commercial air service, making the trip in daylight, over a period of two days. Great credit is due these intrepid army sky pilots who have made possibilities a reality.

Los Angeles' chief of police is going to the national convention of police chiefs this year with the recommendation that detectives be reorganized. This procedure has been advocated by the writer because it is a practical solution of learning criminal methods and faces.

It is a known fact that criminals tour the country, following the crowds, and profiting at the expense of provincial police.

When you see "The Covered Wagon," now playing in the Southland, bear in mind that Peter L. Ferry of Glendale provided one of the essentials of the picture.

His wagons and mules, which you hear of so much, were shipped to Utah by the producers for making the pictures of the caravan. Rather unusual, isn't it?

BEFORE GRAND JURY

CHICAGO, May 9.—Just why Joseph Allen Mills, a fellow student was so agitated and concerned about the disappearance of Leighton Mount that he led a party searching for the missing Northwestern University freshman, is what the state's attorney's office will insist on knowing with Mills' arrival here from Akron, Ohio, it was announced today. Mills is expected to go before the grand jury investigating the death of Mount, whose skeleton was found eight days ago. He vanished after a class fight in 1921.

EAGLE ROCK STREET LIGHTING FUND SET ASIDE

Eagle Rock Trustees Plan For More Illumination Along Thoroughfares

A street lighting fund of $2,400 was set aside from the general fund of the city of Eagle Rock, at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees, to be used for the installation of arc lights along certain main boulevards, intersections and other points where such illumination was deemed necessary. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, there is a necessity for the installation of certain arc lights along Colorado boulevard, between the intersection of Eagle Rock road and Colorado boulevard and the west limits of the city of Eagle Rock, and along Broadway to the Glendale city limits, as well as along Central avenue between Colorado boulevard and the south limits of the city; and, whereas, there are sufficient funds now on hand for the creation of a street lighting fund for this purpose:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Board of Trustees of the city of Eagle Rock, that a fund be created, known as the 'Street Lighting Fund,' and that the sum of $2,400 be withdrawn from the general fund and deposited in a fund to be known as said Street Lighting Fund. It is further resolved, that when the city of Eagle Rock shall have been finally annexed to the city of Los Angeles, that said fund hereby created shall be used by the Bureau of Light and Power of said city of Los Angeles for the purposes of installing arc lights along the streets and highways hereinbefore in this resolution specifically referred to."

Makes Recommendation Another resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on Monday night constituted a recommendation that Night Sergeant T. M. Cates, who sustained serious injuries in the performance of his duty, be retained in the employ of the city of Los Angeles, at a living wage for himself and family. It was resolved that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the city of Los Angeles, together with a letter requesting that Cates be employed as stated.

A petition was filed by A. J. Brasch to lay a cement sidewalk along his property on West Hill avenue.

W. O. Adamson and others asked that South College View avenue, between Park and Adams avenues, be improved out of the general fund. Chairman S. B. Osborne replied that the time was too short for action to be taken but that the request would be recommended to the Los Angeles City Council.

A. S. Johnson requested the board to have the northern portions of Hartwick street and Golden avenue oiled and graveled, agreeing to pay all expenses incident to the same.

Personal and Club Notes The Junior Music club will hold its second annual luncheon at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse Saturday, May 19. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock and will be followed by a program consisting of talent in the Junior Music club, it is announced.

Miss Natalie Hersom and Master Howard Mann, promising pupils of Miss Leora Johnstone of North Central avenue, recently played before the Los Angeles Examiner's broadcasting radio station.

Miss Hersom played "Valse," by Durand, and "Marche Militaire," by Schubert. Master Mann played "Indian Love Song," by Grunn, and "Minuet in C Major," by Paderewski.

Philip Wolf of 500 Oakwood trail recently held a most interesting birthday celebration, in honor of his eleventh year's arrival.

Roasting wieners and toasting marshmallows out of doors, in the twilight, were among the exciting things that made the party much fun for the fifty boys and girls who attended it. And, of course, there was ice cream.

Mrs. H. I. Cruzan, Mrs. Kaplan and the Misses Deman, Bolie and Johns were among those present.
