RUSSIANS DRIVE IN GALICIA; HEIGHTS IN CARPATHIANS TAKEN

Brusiloff's Troops Captured a Fortified Position and 4,500 Austro-Germans in Direction of Halicz; Forces Led by Grand Duke Nicholas Advancing Near Ognott, on Front in Caucasus

Petrograd, Sept. 6.—Russian troops yesterday captured an Austro-German fortified position in the region of the Lower Gorodenka in the direction of Halicz, Galicia, and drove the Austro-Germans toward the northwest, says an official statement issued to-day.

The number of prisoners taken in this fighting so far amounts to 4,500 men, among whom are about 2,000 Germans.

The text of the statement follows:

"In the direction of Halicz, near the lower Gorodenka, our troops captured a fortified position of the enemy and drove him to the northwest. The number of prisoners taken there so far amounts to 4,500 men, among whom are about 2,000 Germans.

"In the Carpathians our advance continues. Our troops have captured a series of heights.

"Caucasus front.—Near Ognott our troops are advancing and inflicting great losses on the enemy. West of Ognott we found corpses of our soldiers mutilated by Turks.

"West of Lake Van British armored motor cars drove out the Turks from the villages in the region of Chukhur Norshen."

German Admission.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—Russian forces, says an official statement issued to-day, have pressed back the centre of Archduke Charles' front between the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester river in Galicia.

HINDENBURG STILL

DECEIVING GERMANS

Despite Developments Gravely Declares Military Situation of Germany Favorable

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.—A telegram received from Berlin says that in view of the forthcoming convocation of the Reichstag, there was held yesterday a conference between Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and the party leaders.

The chancellor declared that Field Marshal von Hindenburg, new chief of the general staff, and General von Ludendorff, the field marshal's chief of staff, agreed that the military situation was favorable.

It was stated there was no thought of raising the age limit of liability for military service.

A BRITISH MAJOR

INJURED AT BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Major W. C. Campbell, a British army officer, and Theodore de Kruifas, a Harvard student, were injured seriously by the fall of an aeroplane to-day at the Curtiss aviation school. The machine fell about 600 feet. Major Campbell's skull was fractured and several ribs were broken. De Kruifas was not so badly injured.

NEW WAR LOAN IN GERMANY FAILURE; SUBSCRIPTIONS OFFERED IN FIRST TWO DAYS FAR BELOW FORMER LOANS

London, Sept. 6.—Subscriptions to the fifth German war loan during the first two days indicate that the loan will be a failure, according to reports from Berlin to the Exchange Telegraph Company via Amsterdam. The returns for the first two days were far behind the totals raised in corresponding periods for previous war loans.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—Subscriptions to the fifth German war loan continue to be received in large amounts. Corporations have subscribed 29,000,000 marks (only $7,500,000).

The German disaster in the Verdun region and the successes won by the entente powers led observers in the entente countries to expect that the fifth German war loan would be a failure. These expectations were strengthened by the announcement that the loan would be issued at 86, and would bear

FURTHER PROOF THAT GERMANS ARE HUNGRY

Berlin Officials Think It Necessary to Claim No Riots Have Occurred

Berlin, Sept. 6.—The newspapers to-day publish a statement obtained from a "competent authority," declaring that recent reports current in foreign countries that there had been hunger riots in Germany were absolutely false. In fact, it is said, not one person has been killed in Germany on account of the question of supplies.

The denial is in reply to stories printed in French newspapers alleging that seven women had been killed in Berlin, that 20 persons had been killed at Meissen, Alacee, and that the king of Wurtemberg had intervened to stop the riots at Stuttgart.

STATES TORPEDO SANK KARLSRUHE

German Officer Who Was Second in Command Tells of End

London, Sept. 6.—Captain Aust, who was second in command of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, has published a book entitled "War Adventures of the Karlsruhe," stating that on November 4, 1914, when the Karlsruhe was lying in latitude 10.7 north, longitude 55.25 West, she was torpedoed by an invisible craft and sank immediately with her commander and many of the crew. Thus is solved one of the most puzzling mysteries of the sea brought about by the war, as it is the first definite news of the destruction of the German cruiser.

Censors in Germany Have Closed Down on von Reventlow

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.—The Tages Zeitung, of Berlin, says that its naval expert, Count Ernest von Reventlow, has been forbidden to publish anything of any kind for the duration of the war without submitting it to the censor and being provided with an imprimatur. The newspaper adds that this is equivalent to silence.

London, Sept. 6.—Prince Bernard von Buelow, former imperial German chancellor, after a visit with Kaiser Wilhelm, has hurriedly gone to Athens, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch based on reports from Berlin.

ON ANNIVERSARY OF THE MARNE BATTLE VICTORY DRAWS NEAR

On this day, selected by the French as the anniversary of the week of fighting in September, 1914, known as the Battle of the Marne, the entente nations do honor to the heroic French army, to Gen. Joffre, its great leader, and to his brilliant army leaders, in memory of their victory near Paris. The growing power of the allied nations, not yet at its full, emphasizes more strikingly day by day the statement made after that fight, that Germany lost the war at the Battle of the Marne.

Revolutionists Suspect Three of Favoring Germany; Von Schenck to Leave

Salonica, Sept. 6.—Greek revolutionists to-day continued to apprehend persons suspected of favoring Germany, three members of the Chamber of Deputies and eight other persons being arrested to-day.

Provision has been made for his safe conduct.

AN EXCHANGE BETWEEN ROUMANIA, BULGARIA

Berlin, Sept. 6.—An arrangement between Roumania and Bulgaria is being effected for the mutual return of diplomatic representatives from the belligerent nations. It is planned to send the members of the legations and consulates of Bulgaria, Germany, Austria and Turkey in Roumania and other subjects of those countries in a Roumanian ship to some designated port on the Black Sea, where they will be exchanged for the Roumanian representatives in Bulgaria and Turkey and other Roumanians residing in those countries.

ROUMANIANS TOOK GREAT QUANTITY OF FOOD AT SEPSI-SZENT-GYORGY HUNGARY; DOBRUDJA BOUNDARY HELD

Bucharest, Sept. 6.—The capture of prisoners and supplies and the repulse of attacks against Roumanian positions are announced in a statement issued by the war office to-day, which reads: "We captured at Seps-Szent-Gyorgy more than 500 wagons containing foodstuffs and forage and a completely equipped hospital."
"In the upper Maros valley (Transylvania) the enemy used dum-dum bullets. We captured 7 officers and 640 men."
"On our southern front (Roumania-Bulgarian border) superior enemy forces attacked the bridgehead of Tuztrakan ten times, but each time were repulsed."

Important Centre of German Communications North of the Somme Will Change Hands Soon; Battle Proceeds About Ginchy; Brave French Troops Are Holding Their Gains South of Somme

London, Sept. 6.—British troops again pushed forward north of the Somme last night. They gained possession of all of the Leuze wood, the war office announced to-day.

Fighting continues between the Leuze wood and Combles and in the vicinity of Ginchy.

The text of the statement follows:

"Artillery on both sides has been active north of the Pozieres and around the Mouquet farm, north of the Somme. Last night we discharged gas successfully opposite Gommecourt.

"Last night we gained possession of the Leuze wood. Fighting continues between the wood and the town of Combles and around Ginchy.

"Yesterday our heavy artillery effectively shelled the enemy's positions in the Polygon wood, east of Ypres."

REVENTLOW KNOWS BRITISH INFLEXIBLE

Article Probably Led to German Censors' New Order Regarding Him

Berlin, Sept. 6.—Count Ernest von Reventlow, writing in the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, says:

"The chief elements of Great Britain's success in all her wars, in a military respect only to a larger or smaller degree, but politically and economically to the limits of her resources, have been her tenacity and stubbornness. It is these qualities, apart from her insular position, that have made her what she is. For this reason, it is not only futile for us Germans, but, on the contrary, it leads to results exactly the reverse of those hoped for, to indulge in threats and similar talk."

"We find such threats in Dr. Paul Rohrbach's latest article. He speaks about the destruction of London by zeppelins in case Britain should refuse to revert to the old international law. The idea of the destruction of London is by no means unpleasant to contemplate, but to speak of these and similar things publicly after the manner of the ancient precepts is, particularly in view of the British character, worse than useless. Indeed, we must fully recognize the importance of the Anglo-Saxon tenacity and energy, since the outcome of the war will depend entirely on whether or not we are stronger than the British in these respects."

Amsterdam, Sept. 6.—A British aeroplane to-day, bombed, Zeebrugge, destroying a German submarine at the German base there, it is reported.

Mr. Foddy, with Alden R. Taylor, representing the Allied Machinery Company, a munitions manufacturing concern subsidiary to the financial corporation, is supervising the shipment from Vancouver to Vladivostok for the Russian government 117,000 tons of steel rails and fishplates. This is the largest single order of freight which the transportation concerns of the North Pacific have ever been called upon to handle it is said. Probably it is the largest order ever placed by the Russian government at one time with Paris, Sept. 6.—The positions newly won by French troops in the region of Denicourt and Bernys, south of the Somme, were attacked several times by German troops last night. Their assaults, the war office announced this afternoon, were broken by the French fire.

In the Verdun sector German artillery yesterday evening directed an intense bombardment against Fleury, east of the Meuse, but the French quick-firers prevented the German infantry from advancing.

Beated Admission.
Berlin, Sept. 6.—The town of Clercy, on the Somme river, three and a half miles northwest of Peronne, has been captured from the Germans by troops of the entente forces, says a statement issued to-day by the army headquarters staff.

The German war office is very slow in admitting the loss of Clercy. The town was captured last Saturday by French troops in General Foch's new drive, and the fact was announced by the French war office in a statement issued on Saturday night.

Of the rails and fishplates, which are manufactured at Johnstown, Pa., and Joliet, Ill., 550 tons went aboard the Kenkon Maru, which sailed at the week-end.

All the rails are of the odd weight of 67½ pounds. The C. P. R. uses an 80-pound rail, and the New York Central system uses at certain points a rail of 120 pounds.

It was under the auspices of the International Corporation that W. F. NO LABOR CONGRESS WITH GERMANS PRESENT

Birmingham, Sept. 6.—The proposal made by the American Federation of Labor that a labor and peace congress be held simultaneously at the conclusion of the war was rejected last evening by the British Trades Union Congress by a majority of 750,000 votes. An acrimonious discussion was provoked by the talk of co-operation in the American Federation of Labor's plan to hold a labor and peace congress at the same time, owing to the fact that the American proposal includes the bringing together of workers from Germany and her allies. Most of the delegates, in discussing the congress, declared that it was impossible for Britons to meet workers of the Central Powers for a friendly discussion of labor programs until the German democracy disavowed the methods of terrorism employed by the German government in submarine and zeppelin attacks on undefended ships and cities.

BABY-KILLERS FROM GERMANY BURIED

Newspapers of London Express Varying Opinions Regarding Propriety of Honors

London, Sept. 6.—The crew of the zeppelin which was destroyed last Saturday night during the raid on the east coast of England will be interred this afternoon with the appointed military honors at Potter's Bar burial ground, about 14 miles from Cuffley.

The morning newspapers express varying opinions regarding the propriety of a military funeral.

The Express says: "We hope the decision to give a military funeral to the zeppelin death-dealers will not be carried out. Would you give a military funeral to the man who sank the Lusitania?"

The Graphic says: "If these men are to be interred with the same honors as accompany the burial of our greatest heroes, the moral sense of the nation will resent another outrageous example of official obtuseness."

The Times calls the objections "indecisibly petty," and adds: "The flying men of the two people have a mutual respect for each other due to the danger of their calling, which is something quite apart from the feeling in other branches of the service. This mutual respect has led to special treatment on both sides, and for our part we are quite content to leave the soldiers to order matters in their own way."

The Daily Mail says: "The honor of a military funeral is not conferred by the British government or people, but by the Royal Flying Corps, which is the best judge of what consorts with its honor. The airship was brought down by them and they have in effect claimed the bodies of their foes."

GERMANS UNABLE TO STOP FRENCH, BRITISH

North of Somme Combes Will Fall Soon; Gains South of River

Paris, Sept. 6.—The following official statement was issued last night: "On the Somme front, despite the bad weather, our troops continued to progress, and during the day secured important advantages."

"North of the river, following a series of brilliant actions in which our troops gave proof of their irresistible spirit, we pushed our line into the district east of Le Plorent. We reached the western outskirts of the Anderlu wood, took by storm the Hospital farm and the Rainette wood, captured part of the Marrières wood, and occupied, to the northeast of Clerly, the extremity of a hill traversed by the road from Bogahevans to Clerly."

"We also strengthened our positions north of the river, connecting them with the eastern bank and taking the village of Ommecourt-le-Clerly, which is entirely in our hands."

"The war material taken since September 3 in the north sector includes 22 guns, of which 24 are heavy guns, two bomb throwers, two trench guns, an important stock of 150 millimetre shells, one captive balloon, and a large number of machine guns. We have not yet counted the prisoners captured on Tuesday."

South of Somme.

"South of the Somme, the battle proceeded the whole day with extreme violence. The enemy multiplied his counter-attacks, launched in mass at a great number of points along our new front, notably southwest of Barieux and southeast and south of Belloy. Notwithstanding the repeated efforts of the enemy, we maintained our lines and inflicted abject losses on him."

"Between Vermandovillers and Chilly we carried a salient and numerous isolated positions held by the Germans."

"East of Soyecourt, an attack by our troops gave us a line of German trenches and enabled us to reach the outskirts northwest and south of the Denicourt farm."

"The total number of prisoners taken since yesterday south of the Somme has reached 4,047, including 55 officers. In the same southern sector 4 heavy guns and 100 machine guns fell into our hands."

"The total number of prisoners taken since Sunday on the French front of the Somme, north and south, is 6,550, and the number of guns 56, including 28 heavy guns."

"There were intermittent cannonade on various parts of the front, rather violent east of the Meuse (Verdun district), in the sectors of Fleury and Chenois."

Gains by British.

London, Sept. 6.—The following official statement was issued last night: "Today's fighting resulted in further strengthening of our positions in the Leuze wood, north of the Somme, of which we now hold the greater part. Sixty more prisoners were taken. The weather conditions are not preventing our troops from pushing forward, and they are in possession of all the ground between the Palfement farm and the Leuze wood, and between the Leuze wood and the outskirts of Ginchy."

"During the day we bombarded the enemy's positions in the vicinity of the Hohenzollern redoubt, opposite Givenchy and south of Neuve Chapelle."

"Yesterday, despite the unfavorable weather, our aeroplanes carried out successful reconnaissances in co-operation with our artillery."

MORAL EFFECT OF ROUMANIA'S ENTRY

Valuable Result Was Influence in French and British Trenches

Paris, Sept. 6.—The newspapers print interviews with officers and men back from the front and letters received from men along the battleline indicating how the news that Roumania had entered the war on the side of the entente was received by the men in the trenches. One letter, written by a soldier on the Somme front, reads:

"I was north of the Somme at a place alive with artillery when the news came. A battery commander bounded from his underground shelter and shouted to one of his comrades who was taking a cigarette break that he had just received by telephone. He then went on repeating gayly everywhere the news, which passed from gun to gun."

"Men gathered in groups, shouting enthusiastically. One second lieutenant was ordered to run to a little wood 200 yards away to tell the British batteries. When he returned he said the British also had just heard the news and made him stay and celebrate by drinking a glass of champagne. This gave the French officers an idea to do the same, and the soldiers also began clinking glasses. It was a moment of fine, noisy joy, while no attention was paid either to German shells or aeroplane flights."

"Further forward a large number of batteries of 75's celebrated Roumania's action by firing a volley of twenty-nine shots at the German lines. In such a long-bitterly-monotonous war as the present such an event is valuable not only in itself, but also for the hope which it awakens and the diversion which it brings. The French soldiers in the shelters and trenches are always discussing the military situation and the probable length of the war. Their optimism almost always dominates their pessimism, yet many no longer believed that Roumania would come in. Even those who still believed it did not expect it so soon."

"Not for a long time had such good news been received, and, therefore, it had a great effect on every one. The commonest peasant soldiers discussed sensitively on the consequences and opportunities of the event. I saw a 'pulu' meet comrades and discuss with happy emotion the news. 'The end is not far away, old fellow.' They are done for,' and 'This time we shall get them' were some of the expressions they used."

Germans Informed.

"I saw wounded in the field hospitals who were rejoicing at the news and I learned that the information had been transmitted to the Germans by means of placards hoisted above the trenches and ironical notes tied to projectiles that had been made explosive."

"At Amiens special bulletins were posted and the excitement lasted till late at night. French and British soldiers drank to Roumania together and men embraced. In a certain hotel several sergeants were quarreling and calling each other names, but the news reconciled every one and hands which had been ready to strike were clasped heartily and champagne was ordered."

7,246 JOINED COLORS IN MONTH OF AUGUST

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Recruiting for August totalled 7,246, as compared with 8,675 for July, 10,796 for June, 15,099 for May, and 32,819 for the record month of March. The falling off in recruiting for August is about what was expected by the militia department, considering all the circumstances of increased labor demands and harvest requirements.

The total number of recruits since the outbreak of war has now reached 261,593, of whom 153,785 were enlisted since January 1 last. Alberta took the lead last month among the military districts in regard to the number of new recruits. That province provided 1,125 new men. To date the total for Alberta since the outbreak of war is 34,855.

Ontario supplied last month 1,549 recruits, of which the Toronto military district enlisted 965, London district 672 and Kingston district 591. Quebec province recruited 620 men, the Maritime Provinces 659, Manitoba and Saskatchewan 451, and British Columbia 628.

NINE FOR VERDICT AGAINST ROBLIN

How Jury at Winnipeg Divided on Evidence Against Ex-Ministers

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—Inquiries to-day of members of the jury which tried Sir Rodmond Roblin, George R. Colwell and J. H. Howden, former provincial cabinet ministers, disagreed and were discharged yesterday, show that they stood eleven to one for conviction of Colwell and Howden and nine to three for conviction of Sir Rodmond Roblin. The jurors who opposed a verdict against Sir Rodmond Roblin were Percy Webb, a farmer, who was foreman of the jury; James Chisholm, a farmer, and S. Pomeroy, of the suburb of St. James, manager of a real-estate agency.

RAIDS ON TRENCHES DEMAND QUICK WORK

French Detachments Ordered to Take Germans Alive for Information

Paris, Sept. 6.—A correspondent sends the following from a point some distance removed from the region of the Somme, where the big offensive is in progress:

In the shelter of the trenches, block houses and mine entrances the danger at the front is not extreme except during attacks and demonstrations, though the cannonades, rifle fire and bombardments with trench weapons do produce a daily list of casualties. Across "no man's land" it is rare that one catches a fleeting glimpse of the enemy. But a general, effectively to conduct his army, must know exactly what passes in front of him in the enemy's lines; he must know the number and character of his opponents, their strength, their morale, their position and their movements.

WOMAN KILLED HER HUSBAND AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Iva Barnes confessed to-day, the police say, that she shot her husband, James R. Barnes, to death while they were strolling in Washington park last night. The woman, who had been estranged from her husband, told the police that he had attempted to strangle her and that she fired the shot to save her own life. Three bullets entered his head.

N. Y. HAS TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS STILL TO FACE

New York, Sept. 6.—Prospects of settling the differences between the employees of the subway and elevated railroads and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company looked a little more favorable to-day, although neither side has receded from its uncompromising position. The labor leaders have decided to pass the responsibility for calling a strike to a mass meeting of union employees to-night. There still is hope, however, that even if the meeting votes to strike an action will be taken until Mayor Mitchell and the public service commission have an opportunity to see what can be done through mediation.

ATLANTIC CITY CONVENTION.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—The 49th annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association opened here to-day with representative women from all sections of the country in attendance. Mayor Bacharach welcomed the delegates at the opening session in St. Paul's church.

Try Magnesia For Stomach Trouble

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity. Prevents Food Fermentation.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppermint, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble. In some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little magnesia—not the ordinary carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisulphated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drug-gist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in your stomach, which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little bisulphated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover—the continued use of the bisulphated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

CONGRESS ON RAMPAGE.

The United States congress has decided to strike a blow at the allies because the great republic is not permitted to conduct unrestricted trade with Germany at war rates. It is said the action of congress has created consternation because it portends a trade war. But we doubt whether Britain and her allies will be greatly alarmed. The act of retaliation is aimed at shipping; it cannot strike a blow at shipping except through American ports. Nor can it affect shipping without having a corresponding effect upon the shipment of American products. Americans are doing a big business, the biggest in the history of their country, with the allied nations. A blow at shipping also will be a blow at this business, and if congress does anything that will affect deleteriously the big interests therein concerned there will be a roar that will shake the halls of congress. Furthermore, all the ports in America are not in the United States. If shipping from U. S. ports is affected by act of congress, it easily can be transferred to other ports. Congress may forget for a moment, as it has done more than once in its history, that it is possible for a nation given over entirely to selfishness and materialism to bite off its nose to spite its face. So much for the purely material side of the case. There is another side. The republic of the United States always has professed a great and abiding admiration, even affection, for the sister republic of France. That fair land today is struggling to free herself from the ruffianly embraces of a brutal ravisher. The Hun at the beginning of the war openly declared his intention of making an end of the republic of France. The United States, apprised of his determination, hypocritically professed her sympathy for a sister in distress, but now with an election pending and for the base purpose of gaining votes, congress decides upon action which, if there were any possibility of it becoming effective, would be equivalent to placing a deadly weapon in the hand of the brute who is striking at the heart of brave, heroic France.

THE BREWSTER WRIT.

The Brewster writ is worrying the premier and his supporters very much. This is not to be wondered at. The premier knows, if some of those behind him in the campaign do not, that he has no chance of winning in that branch of the writ referring to the over-payment to the Pacific Great Eastern. In regard to the life of the legislature Mr. Bowser was the first to voice a doubt about the date of its expiry, and he has not resolved that doubt yet. As late as last week, at the meeting in the theatre, he stated that he still has it, although he slightly shifted the ground upon which it was entertained. A great many foolish questions are asked in the government press and by speakers on Bowser platforms as to what will happen in certain eventualities—what Mr. Bowser will do if elected, how it is proposed to carry on the affairs of the province in face of the writ, and the like. The main fact, which it is sought to ignore, is that there is a doubt as to the date on which the thirteenth parliament ended. Depending on that is the question whether the bill extending the life of the House to June 1 was passed in time to be effective. If it was, then the doubt is dispelled and there is no fear of any of the legislation of the session being called in question, including the workmen's compensation act, about which bit of legislation so much is being heard now but against which the premier and practically every member on that side voted when any member of the opposition proposed it.

If the legislature died at midnight of March 14, then the bill extending its existence did not pass in time and it, with the supply bill and every other act assented to after that date, is just so much waste paper. Mr. Bowser was in doubt as to the facts; he is in doubt still. Why, then, did he not take the constitutional means of having the question determined? Having failed in his duty in that connection, why did he not assist Mr. Brewster when the leader of the Liberal party, acting as a loyal citizen, sought to have an interpretation given, and why does he continue to abstain from any step towards ending the doubt he owns to be still in his mind?

The doubts were not expressed to the premier, according to his own statement, immediately before the date at which they came to public notice, but several weeks in advance. There was no reason why he could not have had the by-elections held and the session called long before they were, so that the work of the House could have been disposed of before March 14, and the verdict of the people then sought. Even with the delay that took place, there was no reason why he could not have submitted a reference to the court of appeal early in March, and had a decision in time to have avoided any question being raised. For the trouble that is being caused all through he, and he alone, is to blame.

An offer has been made by Mr. Brewster's solicitor, Mr. Hall, to facilitate the hearing of the action. It was made last June in time to have had the matter disposed of before long vacation began, and it is renewed in a letter which the Bowser organ here declines to publish after inviting a communication. In his letter to the Colonist Mr. Hall says:

"It was ascertained at the last session of the legislature, as a result of the presence and action of the opposition members that: "1. Contrary to law about $6,700,000 had been paid out of public moneys to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company. "2. Contrary to law, the entire share capital, $25,000,000, had been issued to the promoters. "3. Legislation was jammed through, over the protests of the opposition members, to lend $8,000,000 more to the company without anything being done to remedy the misappropriations. "4. Resolutions introduced by the opposition members asking for a judicial investigation were voted down. "5. Notwithstanding it appeared from the reports of the government's own engineer of railways that the prices charged by the promoters against the public funds were nearly double the amounts paid to the sub-contractors who did the work; it being shown that one item carried as an 'asset' in the company's published figures was a combination of losses by sub-contractors amounting to over one million dollars and representing moneys which the promoters actually charged for and received out of public funds. "In despite of all this proof the Bowser government continued to force through legislation against protest and has voted expenditures which will exceed revenue by at least seven million dollars, and, in frantic efforts to retain power, are menacing the solvency of the province. "For relief against this intolerable condition of affairs Mr. Brewster has had recourse to the courts for the actual protection of every resident of British Columbia; the courts being, as stated by Lord Justice Farwell in 1911, the only sure bulwark of the subject against executive aggression. "Now, in answer to your questions: We will bring before the court all material facts so that a definite decision can be pronounced as to the status of our provincial institution, and will loyally assist in giving full force and effect to the decision of the court. "If Premier Bowser's course has been so oppressive and unconstitutional that the decision of the court goes farther than you expect, even you, I think, will have to admit that the blame rests on the head of the premier who, in his selfish lust for power, is not restrained by consideration of either law or justice."

We are told by an eminent neutral authority that only an extraordinary coup now can save the central powers from an overwhelming disaster. That thought seems to have found an abiding place in the minds of authorities who regret exceedingly that they are not neutral—Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. The question is being asked if von Hindenburg, a man well stricken in years who thus far has displayed no capacity except a capacity, given the required material, to strike ponderous blows, can execute such a coup. The German people seem to be slowly gathering doubts upon the subject, as they are not pouring their shackles into their country's coffers to cover the latest war loan. And the allied thrust in the west is making progress notwithstanding the prestige von Hindenburg has acquired in Germany. Russia, too, continues to gather in Teutonic prisoners by the thousand daily to the detriment of the prestige of the new commander-in-chief. So that if von Hindenburg does not hurry his coup along he himself may be the recipient of a coup from his master the All-Highest.

The fact long has been apparent that Hon. Alex. Stewart intended to make use of the Johnson street bridge matter to assist his candidature in this city. The Bowser organ had been paying the way for an announcement on the subject long before the fact was known that Mr. Stewart intended to enter the government, at a time when the Mayor was assuring his friends that he had no intention of accepting his present position, although he already had reached an understanding with Mr. Bowser. The question is engulfed in a fog therefore, and that fog should be cleared away before the city commits itself to an undertaking that appears to be designed chiefly for the benefit of a coterie of real estate speculators closely allied with the administration. The ratepayers of Victoria are not so placidly situated at this time that they can afford to "put up" in order to give Bowser speculators a chance.

Two years ago to-day the retreat of the Germans on the Marne was definitely under way. That battle was one of the decisive engagements of the war, as has been pointed out in these columns more than once. The splendid work done by the French on that occasion, when the Hun had got dangerously close to their capital, marked the beginning of the end for the enemy. The Germans, beaten back from the gates of Paris and forced to retreat, at that time took up the line occupied more or less steadily until the present British and French offensive began to move them further towards their own border. It is an anniversary to inspire our troops and to strengthen every citizen of the empire in the determination to sweep Prussianism out of existence.

The habit of playing fast and loose with the truth which is distinguishing the premier in the present campaign seems to be contagious. His candidate in South Vancouver, a mistress of the gavel at that, has been circulating libellous untruths about his opponent in the course of his canvass, and now faces a libel suit in the event of his failure to apologize. Association with the premier seems to have a deteriorating effect.

If George H. Barnard, M. P., was telling exactly what he knew about the writ last evening at Hollywood he must have been asleep for the last few months. He never heard of the premier's doubts, apparently; all he knows is that the bad Grits tried to talk the House out one night—he put it in February—but that Mr. Bowser nobly carried on. For a candidate for the bench of this province Mr. Barnard should show a better acquaintance with facts.

The Colonist ingeniously confesses that there was a time when black clouds loomed over its political horizon, for it says, in effect, that now the sun is beginning to break through and the prospect is more pleasing. However, 'tis but a dream, a vision of the night, the one balm that comes to comfort the harassed soul of even a Bowser editor in these days of tribulation and extremity.

Shades of Gladstone and Beaconsfield! Bowser candidates in Victoria have taken to likening themselves, and being likened by over-zealous friends, to the great dead of the empire. But then the four of them will be politically dead after the fourteenth, with which consoling thought the public may excuse the presumption of the comparison.

Sir Robert Borden has decided, wisely, we think, that he cannot come west just yet. He has troubles enough in his east to worry over without putting his feet in the west, where political chaos from a Tory point of view reigns. After the 14th of September Sir Robert will see still stronger reasons why he should keep away from British Columbia.

A large revenue from the water branch of the department of lands was claimed by one of the Bowser candidates at last night's meeting in Hollywood. No mention was made of the fact that the expenditure of the department is three times the revenue derived from its operations.

Von Kluck, an extinct meteor, comforts the Huns with an assurance that peace may come suddenly. Quite true—if truth suddenly permeates the German mind. But even Germans seem to have concluded that peace when it comes—and may the day not be far off—will not be dictated by Germany from London, or Paris, or from anywhere.

Constantine, king of the Hellenes, is ill. The course of events has made him sick that he just feels like throwing his crown in the Aegean. His majesty might follow the example of his royal brother the Fox of the Balkans, and take refuge in a country where the Hohenzollerns still dominate.

The allies continue to smash ahead on all fronts notwithstanding the appointment of Hindenburg to supreme command of all the Teuton forces. The hero of the nail-studded wooden statue will be losing his status, too, if he doesn't watch out.

THE DAWN. (July, 1916.) What though the curtains of the night be drawn And dark the shade wherein thy people dwell? I hear the thousand voices of the dawn Awake melodious thy praises to tell. Belgium! the morn is breaking. O'er the hills The sun's swift arrows of effulgent day Hasten to banish the cold mist that fills The Valley of the Shadow. Soon the way Will bright appear before thy bleeding feet. And lead thee back unto thine heritage. Then shall the dear-bought land be doubly sweet; Then shall thy children read the glorious page Their fathers wrote for them; and the dear blood Of martyred women work thy lasting good. —Leo Chiozza Money, in Westminster Gazette.

A TUPPER: A TORY; AND "AN INDIAN." Toronto Globe. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, a born and bred Conservative, declares to the world that in the present election in British Columbia he is supporting the Liberals against the Bowser government, whose Tory premises accept, and acts on, the political maxim that "it is necessary to grease the palm of an Indian."

in revolting from a Tory whose ideal in politics is "to grease the palm of an Indian." The "Indian" with the "itching palm" is everywhere in all the provinces, in white skin far oftener than in red. And whose political morality meets the "necessity" of "greasing the palm." That is the curse of political life, the bane and the baseness of the party system. One would wish, as The Globe devoutly wishes, that in all parts of Canada political leaders of both high and low degree, Liberals as well as Conservatives, showed as sincere respect for their party's good name as Sir Hibbert Tupper exhibits in breaking with his party when his party's leader lowers both himself and his government to the level of the palm-greased "Indian."

Foresters Meet To-night. — Court Vancouver, No. 5755, A. O. F. will hold their regular meeting in small A. O. F. hall to-night. ☆☆☆

Band Concert.—The mayor stated in council last evening that the band of the 143rd Battalion, C. E. F. would give a performance in Beacon Hill park next Sunday afternoon. ☆☆☆

Civic Labor Bureau.—During August the City Employment and Relief Bureau has sent out 60 women to steady work and 148 to day work. It put men in 245 positions and women in 298 positions. Of the men, 95 were sent to city work, 28 were skilled workmen, 8 went to steady work and the rest to casual employment. Besides these 235 certificates were issued to men to go to the prairies for the harvesting. ☆☆☆

Form Whist Club.—Far West-Victoria Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, at their last meeting decided to form a whist club, which will be held in the K. of P. hall each Tuesday evening commencing on September 12, to which all members and their friends are invited. There was also business of importance transacted, the most important being the changing of the night of meeting to the 2nd and 4th Thursday in each month. ☆☆☆

Picnic at Prospect Lake.—A very enjoyable basket picnic was held under the auspices of the Congregational church Y. P. S. C. E. at Prospect Lake on Labor Day. The party, which numbered over eighty, left the city by the 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. trains, the majority traveling by the former. Arriving at Prospect, a suitable spot was chosen and the party then dispersed until lunch time. A delightful meal was served by the social committee, in charge of Miss Hughes. The afternoon was spent in bathing, boating and games. At 5:30 p. m. supper was served, and at its close, short speeches were made by Rev. Charles Croucher, pastor, and H. E. Morris, president of the society. The party returned to the city by the 8:45 train, everyone having had a most enjoyable time. Miss Hughes, convener of the social committee, and Miss Nellie Sowercroft, who had charge of the arrangements for the day, are to be congratulated upon the successful manner in which they carried out their duties. ☆☆☆

SMOKE NUISANCE BY-LAW

Measure Received Initial Attention in City Council Yesterday.

The smoke nuisance by-law made some progress in the city council last evening, although it was not reached till almost the last moment at the end of a long sitting. Therefore it did not receive quite so much attention as it deserved.

Alderman Johns contented himself with a brief reference to the information collected from other cities on the abatement of nuisances from stacks, either in the form of smoke or fumes, and the by-law was then taken through the preliminary readings.

Dr. G. A. R. Hall had reported, as requested, with regard to the chemical fumes: "I am of the opinion that, while the inhaling of these fumes for a short space of time might not be deleterious to the health, the inhaling of a considerable time or for a short time at frequent intervals would produce irritation of the respiratory tract which would eventually result in chronic inflammation of the mucous membrane, weakening the same and in this way would render persons more liable to other affections."

The by-law, as drafted, scarcely touches the question of chemical fumes, the admission being made in council that the law as it stands in British Columbia is not strong enough to deal with the issue, and the language of the ordinance now proposed is simply "effluvia," which is a term subject to various interpretations.

Under the circumstances it appears to be recognized that the administration of the measure will be difficult and troublesome.

PROHIBITION MEETINGS

Series of Open-Air and Other Gatherings Arranged.

The prohibitionists have a series of open-air and other meetings arranged for the week which intervenes before election day. The first will be held on Thursday evening in Broad street, between Yates and View, the speaker to be Rev. S. J. Thompson. The audience will be treated to a magic lantern display and band music. At the same place and time the following evening Rev. Dr. Osborne, of Toronto, will speak, and J. W. Bengough, the famous prohibition advocate and well-known cartoonist, will also take part. There will again be lantern slides and music. G. H. Hardy will address a special labor man's meeting which is to be held in Broad street on Saturday night.

On Sunday there are to be five meetings. E. A. Henry, of Vancouver, is to speak at a meeting at St. Columbia church, Oak Bay, at 11 a. m. Simultaneously, at 3:45 in the afternoon, there will be a meeting for men in the old Victoria theatre, and a meeting for women and children at the Metropolitan Methodist church. The former will be addressed by Ben Spence, who will speak on the bill, and by G. H. Hardy, the labor representative. The meeting at the Metropolitan church will listen to J. W. Bengough, who will illustrate his talk with cartoons. The evening meetings on Sunday will be at 7:30, one to be at St. Columbia church, Oak Bay, to be addressed by Rev. E. A. Henry. The other is to meet at the Broad street stand, and will be addressed by G. H. Hardy.

Monday will be marked by another street meeting at the same place, commencing at 8 o'clock. G. H. Hardy will be the speaker.

The parade, of which notice has already been given, will take place on Tuesday. The men's section of the parade will start from the Y. M. C. A., and the women will leave the Y. W. C. A. at 7 o'clock. The procession will culminate in three meetings to be held at the Congregational church, the First Presbyterian church, and the Metropolitan Methodist church.

Wednesday will be observed by an all-day prayer meeting, arranged by the W. C. T. U. to take place in the rest room of the Y. W. C. A. from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., and at 8 o'clock in the evening there will be meetings in all the churches.

MORE VICTORIANS AMONG WOUNDED

Latest Casualty List Contains Names of Soldiers Known Here

In the latest casualty list appear the names of several men who are quite well known in Victoria. Lieut. H. Whyte, of the 4th Division, left Conak about the end of June with the 102nd Battalion. He reached France about August 12, and was wounded on September 1, within less than three weeks of making the trenches. The young officer, who is twenty-seven years of age, and who only last December was married to Miss Green, also of this city, is the step-son of the late Dr. R. Irving, of Victoria. Both his parents are dead, but two relatives, A. A. Green, an uncle who went with the 88th Battalion; and Frank Green, another uncle who lives in the Cowichan Lake district, are well-known on the island. Mrs. Muir, of Robertson street, is an aunt. Lieut. Whyte graduated with B. Sc. degree from McGill some four years ago. He afterwards took up surveying, serving his time with Messrs. Goro & McGregor, and qualifying about eighteen months before the war. He passed both British Columbia and Dominion surveyors' examinations.—Mrs. Whyte lives at Sun-set avenue, Shoal Bay.

Second Lieut. W. S. Barton, who was reported wounded on September 1, is in the hospital in London suffering from concussion. He is the son of A. S. Barton, of this city, and left here with the 103rd Battalion in July, being one of six officers transferred to France shortly after arriving in England.

A dispatch from London last night says: Lieut. H. Whiteside, of the King's Liverpool Regiment, now reported missing and previously posted wounded, is a son of H. Whiteside, a marine engineer at Victoria, B. C.

Pte. John E. Robinson, whose name appears among the wounded in to-day's casualty list, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Robinson, 1351 Pembroke street. He has been admitted to hospital suffering from shell shock. Pte. Robinson left Vernon with the 62nd Battalion and went to France with one of the late drafts from that unit, having been at the front only a few days before disabled. He is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, coming to Victoria some five years ago with his parents. Worked with Hasty's delivery and the C. P. R. telegraph as messenger prior to joining the 50th Gordon Highlanders not long after the outbreak of war. He will be 21 years old this month. A brother, William, who was wounded early in the war, is still under the doctor's care. His father is an employee of Sir John Jackson, Ltd.

INTERESTING ADDRESS

Miss Wynne Talks to Members of Victoria Nurses' Club; New Officers Elected.

An interesting address, which was listened to with the utmost attention and appreciation, was given last evening before the Victoria Nurses' Club by Miss Wynne, who has charge of the sub-normal school. Great regret was expressed by the chairman at the close of the clever and instructive talk that so few members were present to benefit by the address, but a very cordial vote of thanks was tendered on behalf of those who had heard.

Several matters came up for discussion at the meeting. Owing to resignation some new officers had to be appointed, Miss Grimmer, the school nurse, and formerly vice-president, succeeding Mrs. Thomas as president in the retirement of the latter. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Ivel were elected 1st and 2nd vice-presidents respectively. The constitution was re-cast, and it is hoped to bring the subject up again at the usual meeting to be held the first Tuesday in October at the Royal Jubilee hospital.

RESULT IN YUKON

Anti-Prohibitionists Have Majority of Three Votes for Entire Territory.

A dispatch from Dawson says "Final returns from the prohibition contest received yesterday show one of the closest contests in the history of the territory. Figures announced unofficially by various polling officers give the wets a majority of only three votes for the entire territory. It is possible the dries will contest the election, in which event a recount will be made by a judge of the highest territorial court bench.

Three out of five districts or counties of the territory went dry. The dry counties are Southern Yukon or Whitehorse district, Klondike district and Bonanza district. The wet counties are North Dawson and South Dawson. The wet majority of North Dawson was 47; South Dawson, 29. The dry majority in Bonanza district was 52; Whitehorse district, 3; Klondike district, 9. Polls in the territory carried by wets, 13; by dries, 19."

Vote to Hut Fund.—The Saanich council last evening voted $100 to the Y. M. C. A. but fund at the front. ☆☆☆

Purple Star Lodge.—Purple Star lodge, No. 194, I. O. B. A., will hold their regular meeting in the Orange hall, Yates street, at 8 o'clock to-night. ☆☆☆

Notice of Motion Posted.—The notice of an amendment to Hired Vehicles Consolidation by-law of 1914 is given by Alderman Dilworth on the city hall notice board to-day. ☆☆☆

Milk By-law.—The milk regulation by-law, amending the 1914 by-law, was before the council last evening, and passed two readings. All the municipalities have now fallen into line on the subject. ☆☆☆

Jack Arnold is a comedian all the time. 'I don't know what you want a story from me for,' he remonstrated when this popular member of the screamingly funny duo of Beaumont and Arnold, which made an instantaneous hit on this week's bill at the Pantages, was asked for some press matter for the Victoria papers. 'I can't see why people want to interview actors anyway, because I don't believe anyone reads those interviews but actors. It is the same way with the criticisms of the shows each week. We all buy the papers Tuesday and look for the write-up of our act. If it's good, we say, 'Well, there's a fellow who appreciates good talent, he should be in New York.' and if we get a roast, it is something like this: 'Well, what do we care, it's only one man's opinion. As long as the booking agents like our act, we should worry.' But we are sore

MISS BERTEE BEAUMONT Who, with Jack Arnold, is presenting the screamingly funny sketch, 'The Doctoreens,' at Pantages this week. as thunder just the same, and think there must be something wrong with the dramatic critic not to appreciate our 'wonderful gifts.' 'No, I am afraid I have nothing to give you for nothing of importance ever happened to me except on the day of my birth. That was a long time ago, it is old stuff now. Why don't you interview the Garnett Brothers, the acrobats? There are a couple of boys who simply reek in adventure and romance. They come from Brazil, where the 'nuts' come from. Then, there is Holmes and Wells in the Door Step act. Do you know that girl was actually found on a door-step? Sure—that's where they got the idea for their act—they are using the very same basket she was found in. 'Oh, yes, I know where you can get a whale of a story, but I guess it is about a shark. You know they do a lot of roller coasting on the waves down at the Hawaiian Islands. You tackle that one of Clark's 'Royal' friends with the big grin, he's got something that will make a hair-raiser for your readers. 'Well, so long; hope you get a good story from some one. You don't want to overlook the Lucier Trio or the Perkinoff and Rose Ballet. This last named bunch will tell you something that will keep you right up on your toes.' 'Some story' that Jack Arnold gives one, and one is inclined to like his act better. Anyhow, this week's bill at the Pantages is generally considered to be one of the best yet, and it is probably very much as Arnold says about people reading the interviews. They want to see the show for themselves.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

To-night is the last chance that the people of Victoria will have of witnessing the great East Indian photoplay, entitled 'The Haunted Manor,' in which the popular Broadway star, Iva Shepard, plays one of the strongest emotional roles of her wonderful career as a successful actress. She takes the role of Zoe Trevor, an American adventuress, who lives in luxury as the favorite of a high-born Indian rajah. Having stabbed one of the rajah's servants in the heat of passion, she is forced to flee to America to save herself from a marriage with the rajah as the price of his silence. She married a good man, but decides that her past makes her unworthy to be his wife, and plans to leave him before their happiness can be shattered by the appearance of the rajah. Her pretended death, while she hides awaiting a chance to escape, the introduction into her husband's life of two beautiful rivals for his love, the accusation of one of them as the slayer of Zoe, which leads to her husband being accused of murder, and the arrival on the scene of the rajah, unfolds a powerful story, which makes this picture a splendid vehicle for this clever stage favorite. Two good comedies and appropriate music on the pipe organ makes this a very attractive programme which should not be missed by the followers of good photoplays.

MANY REFORMS URGED BY DR. ERNEST HALL

Independent Candidate Delivered Last Pre-election Appeal Last Night

Dr. Ernest Hall, independent candidate, last night at the old Victoria theatre delivered the last of his pre-election appeals, summing up his attitude on the several questions of conscription of men and their wealth, woman suffrage, prohibition, government ownership of fire insurance, home rule in city matters, government labor bureaus (all of which he favored), and advocating a revision in matters medical, educational, political, material, and moral. For nearly two hours he spoke on these subjects, only twice having any interruptions.

His utterance that 'The best and noblest of our boys have gone forth, leaving the scrubs and the runts, the criminals and dunces, who should have been sent out first,' was resented by a man in the audience who called out: 'How is it that you are not there yourself?' 'I'm over age!' retorted Dr. Hall. 'According to what you said you are a runt yourself. If it means me it means you, too,' said the voice. Dr. Hall checked the speaker with an angry: 'Here. That's enough!' 'There's probably an example of what intemperance does,' he said turning to the audience. The remark was evidently resented by others, but the interrupter chose to be silent.

G. D. Christie was in the chair. The proceedings commenced with brief addresses by Mrs. Gordon Grant, who asked the electors to pass the bill granting franchise to women. Women were the chief teachers of man. Two-thirds of the teachers in British Columbia were women, which proved that the electors believed the sex to have at least a fair amount of intelligence. The war had taught the nation the stronger side of both men and women, and their mutual dependence. Women were still prepared for service in any emergency of danger to the nation. They would also take their share in the work of rebuilding when the war was over.

J. Patrick spoke in behalf of prohibition. He complained that both parties were just as anxious to keep the prohibition advocates off their platforms as they were willing to admit the woman suffrage supporters. Both parties in Victoria were looking for votes on all sides. In Esquimalt and Saanich the candidates showed a different spirit, and openly admitted the People's Prohibition Movement to place its claims before the electorate. He admired a man like Dr. Hall, who had the courage of his convictions. The bill, he explained, would wipe out the bar, the grocery store, the club. It did permit a man to drink in his own home, and if it was right to drink at all it must be right to drink in one's own house. The significance of prohibition in bringing about industrial efficiency was outlined.

Mr. Christie criticized the Liberals for not holding another convention prior to the election to give an opportunity for the choice of Dr. Hall as a member of the ticket. Mr. Brewster had been afraid to do this, because he saw that the old ticket would not be renominated.

Dr. Hall opened his talk by answering in the affirmative a letter which he had read asking if he favored conscription. Yes. He favored conscription both of men and wealth. There was conscription needed to fight enemies at home as well, some of which were just as bad as any German. Man-to-day was out for freedom and independence. He did not want to give over his conscience for safekeeping to another. There were in the Conservative ranks the strongest of Liberals. There were also, he regretted, the worst of Liberals. He did not claim that he would bring about all the reforms to which he was calling attention. He merely wished to broaden their vision to the higher attainment possible by the state. Victoria was annually paying out about $390,000 in fire insurance premiums, for instance, and last year got back $300,000. This was a distinct loss of $90,000, not including the payment of the upkeep of the fire department. Fire insurance as well as other kinds of insurance should be in the hands of the government. Fire Chief Davis was one of the best chiefs God ever made. He might easily administer the work.

Dr. Hall read a list of names of shareholders of the Jingle Pot mine to show that the 'dollars of Victoria's citizens who purchased its coal were pouring into the coffers of the Germans, England's worst enemy. The government should take over this mine and run it for the people of British Columbia. No corporation should be able to put a gold value on paper bills, he claimed in an attack on the banking system. They should pledge their credit in co-operation, and keep their interest at home. The present system of education was also attacked. The expensive part of schooling should be in the lower grades. In its beginnings it should be so varied that the boys and girls would early have the chance to find out what best suited them. And they should be educated separately when they grew older with an idea of developing the woman ideal as well as the man ideal which now dominated the whole system.

The reduction of unemployment through the establishment of government labor bureaus such as existed in New Zealand, etc., was advocated. Only some such system would assist the soldier when he returned from the war. Direct legislation, the very essence of which was presented in Mr. Bower's bills now before the people for prohibition and woman franchise, was explained. Someone in the audience demurred that initiative, referendum and recall were 'very expensive' means of legislation, but Dr. Hall contended that it could not be more expensive than the present system. Besides, it saved confusing big issues with politics. Woman suffrage, for instance. The law of the sea was 'Women and children first.' Why not the same chivalry on land? The soldiers were to have the vote. Life-giving was nobler work than life-taking surely. Then why not votes for women?

Dr. Hall also advocated the establishment of the medical profession under government control. With free doctors, like free schools, people would go when they first became ill instead of after disease was in an advanced stage. 'Every surgical death should have a coroner's inquest just the same as death from unknown causes,' he declared.

Finally Dr. Hall dealt with the liquor question. Forces were either creative or destructive. Liquor was destructive. Alcohol only existed in nature where there existed a state of rottenness. The topmost part of the brain, the spiritual part, had been the last to develop in man, and was the last firmly established and the easiest to wreck. It was there alcohol did its work. Had the beer-drinker ever given any ideal to the world? No. Idealism and race vitality went down together. The world cringed because Nurse Cavell, a non-combatant, was killed by the Germans. But every day alcohol was responsible for the death of children, non-combatants, and no one said anything. 'Remember election day, and keep it holy. Vote for prohibition!' concluded Dr. Hall. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

F. A. PAULINE WOULD HAVE INDUSTRIES

Constructive Address by Liberal Candidate to Electors at St. Mark's School

The Pacific coast badly needs to have the iron industry developed. They have superb ore and the best of coal; but there are no iron or steel works. Everything is in their favor to make pig iron cheaper than it is made in the United States. All that is required is capital and courage to effect a wonderful development. The ore is not surpassed even by Michigan, and the fuel is already world-renowned.

Mr. Pauline always has something of a constructive nature to say at his meetings, and the one held last night at St. Mark's hall, Boleking road, was no exception to the rule. F. Dempster Liberal candidate for the city, spoke on behalf of the Liberal candidate for Saanich. They were given a good hearing and at the close several questions were satisfactorily answered.

Blast furnaces, rolling mills, and everything necessary to put on the market one hundred tons of manufactured steel every day would cost only a million and a half dollars, according to Professor Galloway of Cardiff, and when it was going it will be a permanent asset," continued Mr. Pauline. "The profit would be from six to fifteen dollars a ton, yet the government in its annual report still says there is no market for iron ore. So far as the iron industry is concerned the government is as dead as the proverbial door nail.

Mr. Eberts at first made fun of the idea of an iron and steel industry, but now he says it is a serious matter. He said that I charged him with being negligent in this, but I did not do so. I knew that he knew nothing about it. "The government," as being spending millions in every direction, but I would like to spend a little to establish industries. That is what the country needs. Most of the money that has been spent by the government is gone and there is nothing to show for it. In the iron and steel industry the investment of a million and a half would create a permanent asset which would bring money to the province and give employment to a large number of men. Whenever I have an opportunity I bring this matter before the people of British Columbia. It is a reflection on us that this wonderful wealth right at our door has been made no use of so far. In the report of the department of mines there are beautiful pictures and scenic assets galore, but none of them are of any practical use. I suggest that all mine to increase in every way the industries of British Columbia.

Mr. Pauline then took up the matter of technical education. It was no good, he said, to turn a boy loose with only a general education. Boys were looking for positions who were not able to do anything. They had no lever with which to force their way through life. The establishment of technical education would keep the boys from drifting away to other countries.

Leonard Tait at a recent public meeting charged that the Liberal party was responsible for the election and by inference tried to show that it was an unpopular thing to bring it on now. Of this, however, the Liberals were innocent, for they had only two representatives in the House and had absolutely no say in the matter. A year ago last March they had been galvanized into activity by a large picture of Sir Richard McBride on the front page of the Colonist and they had at that time commenced to prepare for the election.

Hon. Mr. Eberts had stated that he spread reports to the effect that his ancestors were of German origin. There was absolutely no truth in this. He never referred to anything of the sort, either on the platform or on the street. Mr. Eberts had told his audience all about his ancestors and relatives. He said that of his great uncles had died at Lundy's Lane, but that was not an issue in the present campaign.

It was better not to drag in either federal or imperial questions, but to confine themselves to the vital questions of the day. Eberts had introduced the submarines into the campaign. Submarines were sometimes called tin fish and it was possible that the late minister was trying to draw a red herring across the trail. What they were interested in just now was whether or not it was wise to send Mr. Eberts and the rest of his crowd back to the legislature for another five years, or put in Mr. Brewster and his colleagues to take their places.

One point was a live issue all over the province and that was the abolition of political patronage. Political patronage had been used by Mr. Bowser and his friends for coercive purposes. It was the Liberal policy to do away with political patronage and leave every man free to exercise his franchise in his own way. True, Mr. Bowser said that if this was done there would soon be no Liberal party, but he also said that he was sufficiently a man of the world to know that a certain amount of "greasing" was necessary. The two statements convict him of what they knew to be the case, that political coercion was rampant in the province.

Mr. Pauline then dealt briefly with some of the men whom Mr. Bowser was supporting or whom he had rewarded, with particular reference to Price Ellison, Dr. Young and J. P. Shaw. He refuted the suggestion that the Liberals had no platform and no policy. The fact that the individual members had some ideas of their own was in marked contrast to their opponents, and there was no fear that they would turn out to be rubber stamps. The candidate then suggested that steel shipbuilding should be encouraged, for nothing would serve after the war but the latest and most up to date steel ships.

All rail connection with the mainland was another subject on which Mr. Pauline was very emphatic. He declared that for twenty million dollars less than had been expended on the Canadian Northern a railway could have been built through a new country to Vancouver Island by way of Bute Inlet and Seymour Narrows. A ferry would have connected the island with the mainland at a point where there would be no danger of interruption of communication by an enemy in time of war.

Henry C. Hall gave a clear and interesting speech in support of the Liberal policies. He said that in the city of Victoria they thought a great deal of Mr. Pauline, and he was sure when they returned home as their member they would have a man of integrity to represent them in the House. The cities took the lead at the by-elections and showed the government that they were on their last legs. Illegality was running through the whole affairs of the province, and had it not been that the province was immensely rich, the government would not have been able to put off the evil day as long as they had.

The chairman made a few remarks and the meeting closed in the usual way by the singing of the National Anthem.

BEACONSFIELDIAN CANDIDATES APPEAR

Two of Bowser Supporters in City Likened to Great British Tory Statesman

There was but a small audience of the electors living in the Hollywood district present in the Margaret Jenkins school last evening to listen to the Bowser candidates—or, rather, three of them, the mayor having decided that his duty called him to the council board. Capt. McIntosh was in the chair, all he said being that he was there to listen and not to speak.

Ald. Dilworth heard the call of the council and assured the audience that he was trying to fill two positions. He impressed upon them that he was in a great hurry to get to the city hall, but he did not cut his speech short—for him—on that account. He excused himself for not speaking at the meeting in the Union Bank building a few nights ago on the score of not thinking it business to talk to people when they were tired and should be at home in bed. He was no orator, he admitted, but then he had brains and could use them.

As an old farmer he believed he was closely in touch with that industry and knew its needs; he also knew the city and its needs; he was fearless. On the question of shipbuilding he presented the electors with the formula: more ships, more industries, more diners palis. He told a story of a man who wanted to establish an industry here and found himself confronted with the high prices of land, which condition, he said, would be obviated by the scheme of the government giving long-term leases of lands on the old reserve. The alderman declared that what Victoria wanted was a good car service and a good car ferry; it was up to the government to see that the railway went through. With invincible optimism he expects the C. N. P. car ferries to travel from "some point near New Westminster"—he says it is 60 miles in two hours!

The Liberals were accused by the speaker of blackmaling the government, though it did not appear that he meant just what he implied by the word. He asserted his own independence. Said he: "The government that is in power may be bad enough, God knows, but I can't see where you are going to better yourself. I am a man with a mind of my own. I ain't no rubber stamp; there is a little snap and life in my veins."

Ald. Dilworth elaborated his wonderful scheme for the "reformed" colonies which he is confident the government will take up and formulate. You first take a large tract of land, you put buildings on that land, and then you put a man in there who knows how to farm. The returned soldiers should be put on that land, have the privilege of going on it, and be paid a good living wage, while waiting how to conduct a farm. They should have houses in which to have their families and schools for their children. It might be that some soldiers would change their minds and go to other occupations, but others would come in to fill the houses in their places, so that the houses would not be lost; they would be a permanent investment.

Reynold Hayward thought an apology was necessary for his lack of experience as a public speaker, but he took courage from the early essays of Lord Beaconsfield in that line. Perhaps in time he would be listened to as that statesman was, he suggested with a smile. He stuck up for the Bowser government as a business one, and instanced the shipbuilding act as one of the measures which proved this. Leonard Tait confessed to being what one might term a free-will Conservative, who had never flattered in his belief in his party. He failed to explain how it is, being so, that he comes to support a government which such Conservatives as Sir Hibbert Tupper shares not to be Conservative. Mr. Tait made an excursion into the realms of finance, but all he did was to read off vague general statements as to the amounts the government had spent in thirteen years. He incidentally spoke of the large revenue from the water branch, but he did not tell his hearers that the cost of administering that branch is 304 per cent. of the revenue. George H. Barnard, M. P., presented a sandwich of federal and provincial politics, with very little either of meat or bread. In the course of his remarks on election irregularities he did not remember to say anything about his use of a certain forged telegram at a meeting in the old institute hall. Mr. Barnard has a high opinion of the Bowser crew; Mayor Stewart he appears to put in a class with Beaconsfield and Gladstone. He wound up with a discussion on the writ which revealed either a lack of knowledge of the facts or a skilful evasion of some of the facts. Mrs. Spofford spoke in behalf of the suffrage vote. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

WHITE FEATHER IMPERTINENCE.

To the Editor,—I would like to know if it is possible for our young boys to be protected from the attacks of some very cowardly young ladies who seem to think it very clever to accost them and present them with a white feather? Last Sunday on the way home from church a boy who is only just sixteen and who has through a recent serious illness become medically unfit, was stopped by one of these very patriotic young ladies (who I venture to doubt never help in any real-patriotic work) and given a white feather. On his attempting to explain facts he was greeted with a nasty sneer. As his only brother has been in active service since the commencement of the war, and he himself has been most anxious to enlist, even in spite of his age going up for medical examination, and being rejected as unfit it is pretty hard to stand. I think this should be stopped, even if it requires police intervention.

Sept. 5. A MOTHER.

QUESTIONS FOR MR. THOMSON TO ANSWER.

To the Editor:—I attended Mr. Eberts' meeting at the Agricultural hall at Saanichton on Monday evening, when Mr. Thomson made what appeared to me two very remarkable statements. One was in regard to Mr. Pauline's proposition to encourage the iron industry of this province. The reason Mr. Thomson as a business man gave why we should not and could not encourage the iron industry here was because there was a concern in the United States making a million dollars a day profit in the iron industry. The other statement was in regard to the shipbuilding industry of this province. He declared that they are building ships 200 ft. in length, 40 ft. beam and 18 ft. deep that will carry 1,500,000 ft. of lumber each. What myself and many others would like to know is, when does Mr. Thomson look forward to seeing the iron industry here, when it is not practical to start it now because some foreign concern is making a million dollars a day profit, and since when a ship of the following dimensions—200 ft. in length, 40 ft. beam and 18 ft. depth—was capable of carrying 1,500,000 ft. of lumber? WORK FOR ALL.

To the Editor:—The parrot cry of the Colonist for weeks past has been: "Look at the prosperity we are enjoying in the province; work for all, not an able-bodied man out of a job." Has it ever occurred to the Colonist that every able-bodied man worth a pinch of salt is in the trenches or making a beline for some? Does the Colonist grasp the fact that the federal government is paying the wages of 35,000 British Columbians, paying maintenance to 10,000 wives, and keeping from 10,000 to 15,000 children? Suppose the war ended to-morrow and 35,000 workers returned a month later. What kind of work does the Colonist propose to find for these men and the thousands who will be let out from the munitions factories? I should advise the Colonist and the other craven bunch to think it over, bearing in mind the fact that 35,000 civilians out of a job is a vastly different proposition from 35,000 soldiers demanding the right of existence. The boys will just as easily avast one Kaiser as the other, unless he is swatted on the 14th. "Keep right along fighting at fifty cents a day, boys. We'll keep the home fires burning at $500 a month and rich legal pickings, but if you show the least inclination to thwart us in our desire for power 'your wives and children shall be jeopardized." Spare thing. Pooley said it.

ALIENS IN MINES.

To the Editor:—In your issue of last Saturday I noticed letters regarding the employment of Austrians in some of our Vancouver Island coal mines. These letters have set the public thinking, and I personally took the trouble to find out if such scandalous practice prevailed. As a Canadian citizen and a Britisher I regret to state that such is the case. Austrians are working at present in the coal mines and many a Britisher or Canadian cannot get employment at these same mines. We are sending our sons to bleed and fight our enemies in Europe and yet harboring their kin on this very island. What will our soldiers say when they return to find such disgusting conditions exist? Are we under the British flag or not?—It is intolerable and would not be tolerated anywhere else in the British empire. This is not a political question; it is a national issue. What is Mr. Bowser doing to allow such a scandalous state of conditions? It would be folly to assume that he has no knowledge of the employment of these Austrians. The electors would like to know a little more about Alvensleben and expect Mr. Bowser at his next meeting in this city to explain and throw a little light on this matter. In conclusion it is a burning shame that these Austrians are employed in our own mines to the detriment of Britishers and Canadians, and the accusing finger can only be pointed at the premier, who is responsible, to allow such practice. I ask the electors of Victoria to ascertain from the premier at his next meeting if these assertions are true. MINER.

Sept. 5.

FROM "ANOTHER MOTHER."

To the Editor:—May I ask for a little space in your paper. I have read the letter "A Woman's Voice," written by A. Moberly and I, like the writer, am a mother, but of four children. I am also, like her, the wife of a husband who drinks to excess and am deeply interested in the prohibition question. I have tried everything I could to stop my husband from drinking, and I may say, thousands of other mothers and wives have tried and are trying, but without success. If, as the writers claim, drink is a disease, why not treat it as such? And prohibition seems to me a good treatment for the complaint. Prohibition, when put in force, must help those that drink to excess and those that suffer by them so doing. The writer says she has been able to keep the liquor out of the house, but under prohibition will not be able to continue doing so. If she kept out the liquor in one form she certainly got it in another form and all the sad experiences that go with it. I think to see a mother trying to keep the children from realizing the fact that their father is a drunkard is indeed a pitiable sight. My experience is that there is neither peace nor happiness in a drunkard's home.

I hope the information the writer gives is correct—that prohibition is a step towards a more drastic law. We cannot do it all in one step, but only by persevering can we overcome this dreadful evil. This is a provincial law and can only prohibit in this province, but when the provinces are all lined up we shall, I hope, get a Dominion law that will fully cover all that "A Mother" is afraid of. As I understand the people that are behind this movement are not influenced by selfishness, political greed or any of the other causes named, and I cannot understand a woman suffering as the writer claims she is suffering using such words in connection with a body of people that are seeking to bring about a condition that would give help and happiness instead of the existing evils that so many more mothers are suffering from at the present time. We must admit we have seen many many homes ruined by drinking liquor to excess, and the liquor men themselves know they have had a long innings. Give the other side a try now and see what they can do. Is it possible for them to do worse? Right must win though by degrees.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR RAILWAY GUARANTEES.

To the Editor:—Mr. Bowser appeals in imminent speeches urging the electors "not to criticise the government for carrying out the very railway policies which they had unanimously called upon the administration to pursue, by defeating every Liberal nominee in the general election of 1912."

That statement is so unfair to the 38 per cent. of the wisest electors, who voted against the government's folly in 1912, to control the policy of railways for which the cost was to be provided by provincial credit, that the following facts should be published in fairness to voters: They will remember that such sterling Conservatives as the Hon. Capt. Tatlow (then minister of finance), the Hon. F. Fulton, Sir Charles H. Spiller and many others besides the Liberal leaders, strongly opposed that foolish and reckless guarantee. Yet all were in favor of sound railway development on prudent principles. They rightly strove to safeguard British Columbia from the dangers lurking behind exploiters of the Mackenzie & Mann type.

Before the McBride administration commenced their railway policy" in 1906, I was asked by Mr. McBride to give notes and suggestions based upon nearly 30 years' experience in agreements between British railways, contractors and others concerned in extending railways. Those were given in typed memorandum to Premier McBride, Mr. Bowser and other ministers, including Capt. Tatlow and Mr. Fulton, showing how necessary it was to safeguard the public by protective clauses which would have saved British Columbia many millions of dollars.

Yet, regardless of constitutional rights which it was Mr. Bowser's greatest and highly paid duty to uphold, he without the knowledge of the other four cabinet ministers drew up and with Premier McBride signed the notorious agreements with Mackenzie & Mann, and tried to railroad them through the executive council, but neither Capt. Tatlow nor Mr. Fulton would submit.

Premier McBride and Mr. Bowser imposed a "whirlwind election" upon electors from whom they concealed the grave fact that Capt. Tatlow as minister of finance had told the executive council directly these agreements were made, that he was sure the province would have to pay, as the treasury had been called upon to pay for every guarantee (e.g. Sidney, Shuswap, Skeena railways), and no railway in America had been able to start at a profit. Still Messrs. McBride and Bowser persisted in guilting the electors by promising that "not a cent would have to be paid," and that the coming of the Canadian Northern Pacific railway would double the price of real estate. The fact is that the rake-offs taken by Mackenzie & Mann through the con-

MOSES B. COTSWORTH. New Westminster, Sept. 5, 1916.

The fat and forty old lady had piled the tram conductor with so many questions that he was beginning to think that mother-in-law jokes had substantial foundation in fact. "Can you tell me on what cars I can use these transfer tickets? They hit me up some-what." The conductor winked at another passenger and replied: "It's really very simple, madam. East of the junction by a west bound car is an exchange from an east bound car is good only if the west bound car is west of the junction formed by the said east bound car. South of the junction formed by a north bound car an exchange from a south bound car is good south of the junction if the north bound car was north of the junction at the time of issue but only south of the junction going south if the south bound car was going north at the time it was south of the junction. No difficulty at all, ma'am." By this time the old lady was speechless.

KAMAKURA MARU IN FROM THE FAR EAST

Capt. N. Kawashima Here for First Time in Ten Years; Good Trans-Pacific Trip

Encountering considerable fog off Cape Flattery the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Kamakura Maru was slightly delayed in completing her inward voyage from China and Japan. With clear weather yesterday Capt. Kawashima expected to make William Head at 8 a. m., and forwarded a wireless to that effect, but as the liner approached the entrance of the Straits of Juan de Fuca heavy banks of mist impeded her progress, and she was put about two hours behind. By 11 a. m., however, the Kamakura Maru was tied up at the outer docks.

Capt. N. Kawashima is making his first voyage to the North Pacific coast in ten years, replacing Capt. Kusano in command of the Kamakura. He was formerly mate of the Iyo Maru when that vessel was regularly engaged in the transpacific service. Before taking over the Kamakura, Capt. Kawashima was master of the Hakueta Maru, and for some time has been plying in the Yokohama-Calcutta service. Capt. Kusano has been given the command of the new Japanese freighter Toba Maru, built for the European trade.

The Kamakura Maru brought in 23 saloon, 12 second cabin and 174 steerage passengers, the latter including 22 Russian refugees. M. Mussey, accompanied by Mrs. Mussey and son, returned by the liner after completing a tour of the southern part of Japan and the interior of China. Mr. Mussey is professor of economics in the Columbia University, and has been studying economic trade conditions in the Orient. He is bound to New York. Mr. Baldwin, representative of the Standard Oil Company at Shanghai, Yang-tze river, is also bound from China to New York. He had nothing to say with reference to the development of the interests controlled by the Standard Oil Company in China. Other first class passengers aboard the Kamakura Maru were Leon Feldman, Mrs. A. C. Cushing, Mrs. P. McKenna, Mrs. C. F. Stone and L. S. Hedges. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and Mr. Humes came ashore at this port, and 14 Japanese and 4 Chinese steerage passengers also landed. For Victoria the liner carried 524 tons of freight, the largest shipment being 2,319 chests of Japan tea.

The Puget Sound cargo amounted to 6,703 tons, including 19,108 chests of Japan tea, 11,150 mats of white rice and 3,028 bales and cases of raw silk and silks goods, the latter being valued at approximately $1,500,000.

The Kamakura Maru will leave Victoria about 6 p. m. for Seattle.

TEUCER ARRIVES OUT

Blue Funnel Liner Reached Liverpool Labor Day After Circling Globe.

After circling the globe, the Blue Funnel Liner Teucer, Capt. Walter Yarwood, laden with a full cargo of foodstuffs from North Pacific ports, arrived at Liverpool on Labor Day. On her voyage west completed, the Teucer left the Mersey during the spring of this year for the Orient via the Cape of Good Hope, and following her arrival at Hongkong she was ordered to load Oriental freight for British Columbia and Puget Sound. She arrived at Victoria toward the latter part of June. For the homeward trip she loaded cargo at Seattle and Tacoma and proceeded to San Francisco to complete, finally steaming for Liverpool via the Panama canal.

ARABIEN IS COMING.

The Danish steamer Arabien, which is under charter to the C. P. R., sailed from Vladivostok on Sept. 2 for Vancouver. At the present time the C. P. R. has under charter four freighters to handle freight between Vancouver and Vladivostok, the others being the Norwegian steamer Strinda, and the Japanese freighters Unki Maru No. 5 and the Kenkon Maru No. 3.

THOR TAKEN OVER BY NEW CHARTERERS

Collier Completes Last Trip in Service Between Nainaimo and San Francisco

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—The Norwegian steamer Thor, which for the past year has carried coal for the Western Fuel Company to their bunkers on the Oakland estuary from Nainaimo, B. C., arrived yesterday with 7,000 tons of coal, making her last trip. She has been chartered by the Grace Company for service from San Francisco for Honolulu and South American ports, for a period of six months with option for six months longer. The Norwegian steamer Tanager, which arrived at Oakland last month from foreign waters, where she had been chartered, will replace the Thor.

The Matsun steamer Lurline arrived in port six days and nineteen hours out from Honolulu. The vessel brought a big cargo of island product and 63 passengers in all classes. Bringing 2,300 barrels of salmon, the barque Albert entered the harbor 55 days out from Bristol Bay. As soon as the salmon is unloaded the Albert will undergo an overhauling and then load lumber for Australia. She sails under charter to the Vance Lumber Company.

The steamer Enterprise arrived in port from Hilo and brought five passengers and a large cargo of island products.

With a number of wireless operators aboard who have spent a year in the government wireless stations in Alaska, the United States collier Saturn arrived in port and went direct to Mars Island.

NUMBER OF SAILING SHIPS SHORTLY DUE

Edward R. West, Inca, M. Turner and Puako to Load at British Columbia Ports

The American schooner Edward R. West, 782 tons, Capt. Braiding, is listed bound from Fremantle, Australia, to Gray's Harbor and thence to British Columbia to load lumber for South Africa. It is not yet known whether the schooner will load at Chemainus or Vancouver. She left Fremantle on June 28, and given 75 days in which to make the run up from the Antipodes, should be reported off Gray's Harbor, where she will receive orders to come here.

The five-masted American schooner Inca, Capt. Rasmussen, bound from Melbourne, Australia, is now expected to put in an appearance at any time to load lumber on account of the Cameron Lumber Company at Genoa Bay for South Africa.

Another schooner on passage here from Australia to load lumber at Genoa Bay for South Africa is the M. Turner, which vessel is looked for before the end of the month.

These vessels will be followed here by the barquentine Puako, which is under charter to load lumber at Genoa Bay for Australia. This vessel left Victoria in May last with lumber for Port Natal.

CANADA MARU ON PASSAGE FROM ORIENT

Q. S. K. Liner Steams From Yokohama Two Days Behind Schedule; Hawaii Sails

Q. S. K. agents have been notified by cable that the Japanese liner Canada Maru sailed from Yokohama on September 2 on her twenty-fourth inward voyage to Victoria. For some unexplained reason the Canada Maru got away from the Japanese port two days behind schedule, so instead of arriving on September 15 she is looked for on Sunday, September 17. The liner carries a good list of passengers and a capacity cargo for all ports.

At 6 o'clock last night the Japanese liner Hawaii Maru, of the O. S. K. fleet, left the outer docks on her sixth outward trip to Yokohama and Hongkong. The Hawaii Maru cleared from this port eighteen days late, this being accounted for owing to the long detention of the ship at Yokohama on her inward voyage. While at Seattle and Tacoma the Hawaii loaded 10,000 tons of general cargo and left with every square inch of her hold space taken up.

Capt. Kanan and his officers expect to be transferred to another ship following the arrival of the Hawaii at Yokohama, as Capt. Saito and the original complement of officers have already been released from quarantine at Nagahama. It was understood that the change would only be temporary.

The Japanese freighter Kunajiri Maru, an extra boat in the service, which was expected to come to Victoria to discharge cargo, has passed in bound for Seattle. The steamer left Yokohama on August 17.

PRIZE COURT DECISION

Oregon's Perishable Cargo to Be Sold; Commissioner Appointed.

Mr. Justice Martin, sitting in the prize court yesterday afternoon, ordered the sale of certain perishable articles which had been taken from the schooner Oregon. The cargo consisted of corn, leather, shoes, coffee, sugar, cigarettes and cigars and other goods, and practically the whole of it will be sold. It was ordered that a commission do issue to the marshal to conduct the sale.

For purposes of the prize court Oswald H. C. Barton, chief clerk of the supreme court, has been appointed by Mr. Justice Martin to be a commissioner. The payment of the fees and expenses of the marshal in connection with the case will come up later, two days' notice to be given to the court. The law provides that the proceeds of the sale must be paid into court and this will be done.

SAYS CROCKER LAND DOES NOT EXIST

Fitzhugh Green, of McMillan Expedition, Claims Peary Saw a Mirage

New York, Sept. 6.—Ensign Fitzhugh Green, U. S. N., who accompanied Donald B. MacMillan in 1913 on his expedition in search of "Crocker Land," reached here yesterday on the Danish steamship United States from Copenhagen. He confirmed previous reports that "Crocker Land" does not exist.

Green said he accompanied MacMillan on his three months' trip from Cape Thomas Hubbard, where their ship was disabled, out over the Polar Sea toward where Rear Admiral Peary claimed to have seen Crocker Land.

Peary, according to Green, claimed to have made his observations about 120 miles from the Greenland coast. MacMillan and Green traveled 150 miles and favored by clear weather, they determined from observations and careful soundings that what Peary had seen was a mirage. This belief was further confirmed, Green said, by the fact that they themselves saw mirages.

In company with Dr. Maurice C. Tanquary, Jerome I. Allen, wireless operator for the MacMillan expedition, and Dr. E. O. Hovey, who led an expedition to MacMillan's relief in 1915 and joined him at Etah, Greenland, early this year set out on a 1,300-mile dog sled journey to a southern Greenland post. Dr. Hovey, after going sixty miles, returned to his ship. The others continued, making their way to Denmark. Dr. Tanquary and Allen preceded Ensign Green home.

Ensign Green will go to Washington on Monday to report his observations to the navy department.

PORT AUTHORITIES MEET

Pacific Coast Harbor Experts Confer Together at Vancouver.

Important questions dealing with harbor development, freight rates, etc., are being discussed at the third annual convention of the Pacific Coast port authorities, in session at Vancouver. F. L. Carter Cotton is president of the convention and W. D. Harvie, secretary of the Vancouver Harbor commission, is acting as secretary.

Representatives of other port authorities present include G. B. Hogarth, B. Ziegler and C. B. Moore, Portland; Judge Rensberg, Capt. Dolber, Seattle; T. S. Williams, H. B. Green, San Francisco; S. McClay, J. A. Fullerton and R. C. Hodgson, Vancouver.

The most interesting paper read at the opening session yesterday was one by Clarence H. Matson, of Los Angeles, on "The Effect of the European War on American Shipping." The "Waterfront Switching Problem" was the subject of an interesting paper by Judge Rensberg, of Seattle.

To-morrow the convention is expected to adjourn and the delegates will proceed to Montreal where the main convention is to be held.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULES.

A change in Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamers plying in the Alaska service is announced. The two vessels affected are the City of Seattle and Spokane, the former being now posted to sail from Seattle on Sept. 11 and every 12 days following, and the Spokane on Sept. 17, and thereafter every 12 days. The former schedule for the City of Seattle placed her sailing date Sept. 7, while the Spokane was announced for Sept. 14. The change will remain in effect indefinitely.

TIDE TABLE.

Table with columns: Date, Time of High Water, Time of Low Water, etc. for September.

The time used in Pacific standard, for the 19th Meridian west, is counted from 8 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of lower low water.

Equipment.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 1.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

THE TIME BALL

The time ball on the Belmont building will be raised half way at 12.44 p. m. to the top at 12.55 p. m., and dropped at 1 p. m. daily. F. Napier Denison, superintendent, the Observatory, Gonzales Heights.

SPORTING NEWS

EASTERN BATTALION HAS HOCKEY STARS

Toronto Unit Applying for Franchise in Eastern Professional League

According to Eddie Rodgers, who is now confined in the base hospital at Toronto, the 228th Battalion is seeking a franchise in the National Hockey Association. Sponsors for the battalion have written to President Quinn asking that the battalion, now recruiting at Toronto, be given a franchise in the association for next winter. This battalion will hardly be at full strength before the spring, and the granting of a franchise would mean renewed life to the association. There will be a scarcity of several players this season. The players have left nearly every club to join the army. One man has left the Montreal Wanderers and several have enlisted from Toronto, Quebec and Ottawa, while the strong defence of the Flying Frenchmen are all now in khaki.

The 228th could present the two McNamars, Rodgers, the Keats brothers and Percy Lesuer, of the professional ranks of last season, while they have also a number of men who figured prominently in Ontario amateur hockey associations.

M'LOUGHLIN WILL NOT QUIT TENNIS

New York, Sept. 6.—Although twice defeated in his attempts to win back the tennis championship, which he lost in 1911, Maurice E. McLoughlin, of Los Angeles, has no intention of giving up the game and hopes to play in the next national tournament.

"I am quoted every year," said the Californian, "as saying that I have played my last set of tennis, while as a matter of fact, I have made no such statement. While my business does occupy most of my time and attention, I think I will find time enough to play a bit, even though it is not for the championship."

"Any man who has been an athlete and then enters a business career with its confinements indoors knows it is impossible to keep his physical condition perfect. That has been my trouble. If I set the opportunity I will return to the next and tournament play. Even if I knew I could not hope to win the title back, I would play for the love of the sport."

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD DEFEATS FAVORITE

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—At the end of the second day's play for the amateur golf championship of the United States, the metropolitan district had five contestants left in the match play at the Merion Cricket Club. The West has three players in the South has two players. Baltimore two, Philadelphia two and Pittsburgh and Boston one each.

There were two upsets. W. C. Fowner, Jr., the medalist and former title holder, lost on the home green to C. E. Buxton, of Huntington Valley, and E. M. Byres, of Albany, was put out by P. T. Jones, Jr., the 15-year-old boy, 3 and 1.

The hardest match of the day was won by John G. Anderson, of Siwaynes, one up in 37 holes after Sawyer missed an 18-inch putt for win on the home ground.

EIGHT THOUSAND SEE CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

Incomplete returns from the Welsh-White fight show that the receipts were something more than $30,000, which is ample to cover the expenses, and that there were about 8,000 persons in attendance.

The confusion arising from the accident as the crowd was gathering has caused considerable delay in getting exact figures.

MANY SWIMMING RECORDS BROKEN

Kruger, Langer and Kahamoku Make Fast Times in Honolulu Meet

Honolulu, Sept. 6.—The world's record for the 100-yard back stroke swim was broken here Monday by Harold Kruger, who made the distance in 1 minute, 14.5 seconds, according to announcement made by Amateur Athletic Union officials.

The A. A. U. officials also announced the following new records established at the meet which ended Tuesday night: Ludy Langer, of Los Angeles, made a new American record in the 500 yards, which he swam Friday night in 6 minutes, 11 seconds. Langer broke the American record for the 1,000 yards first night by swimming it in 13 minutes, 7 seconds. This was in the 880-yard race which Langer continued to the 1,000 yards with official timing. Langer's time last night, 5 minutes, 28 seconds, in the 400 yards dash, was announced as "a probable" American record.

Ten Cann, of New York, won the 220 yards in 2 minutes, 29.1-5 seconds, defeating Herbert Vollmer, of New York, who apparently was off form. In the national 100-yard championship, Monday night, which was won by Duke Kahamamoku, who tied his own world's record, Vollmer and Cann finished fourth and fifth.

NORTHWESTERN BOSS DISCUSSES OUTLOOK

Robert Blewett Says Circuit May Include Eight Clubs Next Year

"Taking all things into consideration, especially the handicap of the weather, the Northwestern League season was considerably better than expected," said President Robert Blewett at Seattle. "We got through the schedule without a break and will be on deck next year with at least a six-club circuit and possibly eight."

"Three clubs will more than break even. These are Spokane, Butte and Tacoma. This is a decided improvement over 1915, when Tacoma was in bad shape and the war upset calculations in Victoria and Vancouver."

"Butte and Great Falls have helped the league and are ready to go ahead in 1916. They have already sent in their money for protection."

"Helena is anxious to be in the league next season and Billings and Missoula are also under consideration. The addition of two more cities in Montana will give us eight clubs and break long jumps."

"The business meeting of the league will be held in Spokane September 8 and 9. Spokane was selected because it will save the Montana delegates crossing the mountains."

BODIE STILL LEADS.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Ping Bodie, San Francisco centre fielder, hammered the ball as hard as ever last week and as a result retains his position at the top of the Pacific Coast Baseball League batters with an average of .326. Justin Fitzgerald, San Francisco, is batting .345, but is not given the lead, as an injury kept him out of the game several weeks.

GOLF MEETING.

There will be a general meeting of the United Service Golf Club in the office of P. R. Brown, Broad street, tonight at 8 o'clock.

TEALEY RAYMOND GETS HIS RELEASE

Veteran Seattle Shortstop and Manager to Become Free Agent To-day

Tealey Raymond, for eight years an idol of Seattle baseball fans as shortstop and later as manager of the Giants, will be released to-day by President Dugdale, of the Seattle club. Raymond's connection with the Seattle club will be severed at his own request.

Like most ball players who have served a number of years on one club, Raymond wants a change. He figured that another position would be beneficial to both the club and himself, and Monday he asked Dugdale for the papers which would make him a free agent. The Seattle president took the matter under advisement, but later said that he had made up his mind to grant the request of the little Giant manager. The release was handed Raymond yesterday.

Raymond is a familiar figure in baseball on the Coast. Born in California in 1883, Tealey opened his baseball career in Los Angeles fourteen years ago. He went to Portland in 1904, from where he journeyed to Everett in 1906. He was with Spokane in the same year. In 1906 Raymond was given a position on the Peoria, Ill., team, where he played for a couple of years before going to Seattle in 1912. Raymond played shortstop on the Seattle champion squad of 1910, and assumed the managerial reins in 1912, when he led the team to the league championship. Again in 1915, when his club looked to be hopelessly outclassed, Raymond brought the club out of the cold cellar and noosed Spokane out for the league title. The other years in which he was manager, the Giants finished in second, third and fifth place.

FRIAR FROCK MAY NEVER RACE AGAIN

New York, Sept. 6.—Followers of the turf were surprised and somewhat disappointed yesterday by the announcement that Friar Rock, the famous 3-year-old, is not to be raced again. John E. Madden, who last week bought the Rockland colt from August Belmont for $50,000, declared that he will send the horse to the Hamburg place breeding farm in Kentucky. It had been expected that Friar Rock would be entered in the Realization stakes at Belmont park next Saturday.

BURNABY LAWN BOWLERS COMING

A match will be played on the green of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club at Beacon Hill next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, between four rinks representing the Burnaby club and an equal number from the local club. Victorians are becoming gradually interested in the lawn bowling game and no doubt a large number will be on hand next Saturday to witness the games.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Johnny Evers, captain and second baseman of the Boston Braves, is out of baseball for the remainder of the season.

DODGERS CONFIDENT OF WINNING PENNANT

Every Man on Club Working Hard to Capture National League Flag

The Chicago Daily News comments as follows on the Brooklyn Trolley-Dodger's chances of winning the National League pennant:

"Why Brooklyn should win the National League baseball championship can be told with intelligence only by a man who travels with the team, watches it closely every day, knows what every man is doing in the game, understands the dispositions of the players, their habits and what they think of their prospects of winning the coveted pennant."

Robert Ripley, whose famous sporting cartoons appear on the sporting page of the Daily News, is traveling with the Dodgers, studying their work and writing of their progress in the league scramble. He has been keeping in close touch with the players, and Manager Robinson predicts they will take the title and be able representatives of the Toner circuit in the world's series with the club that carries off the flag in the American League.

"Confidence is half the battle," said Ripley when here with the Dodgers. "I mingle with them on the train and in the hotel and there is not a single player who does not think the team will win the flag. They are brimful of confidence and are acting that way on the field. They do not think there is a pitcher in the league good enough to beat them and that is probably why they hit so hard and timely. Eighth and ninth inning rallies are frequent and they have been winning for the Dodgers because the blows made in these batfests are for extra bases. Every man seems to crack the ball with a powerful punch."

"Not only the fielders are effective with the bat, but the pitchers have been doing their share to help win the games. Smith, Dell, Coombs, Cheney and Pfeffer are not weaklings as batters and I have seen them come up with men on the bases and drive them home. This, I think, has had a great deal to do with Brooklyn's position in the race."

An Ideal Manager: "The handling of the team is one of the important features of the club's struggle. Manager Robinson is ideal in his position. There is not a man on the team who does not obey his orders religiously and who would not exert himself to the utmost limit to win. He mixes with them as an ordinary player on the trip, keeps them satisfied and does not ride them when a blunder is made."

"It was a blow to lose Jimmy Johnston. He is a wonderful fellow, and playing the best game of his career. On this trip he was leading the team in batting and also in base running. He is the fastest man on the team. Jake Daubert may not be much use to the club any more this season. His leg gives him lots of trouble and does not seem to improve. The club has missed him, but Lew McCarty has been doing remarkably well at first, a position he never played before. His hitting has also been praiseworthy."

"The outfielders have been doing noble work for Robinson, especially in pulling down long hits with men on the bases. They have made what seemed like impossible catches. Besides they are hitting. Stengel has struck a streak that has caused comment throughout the east, and he is slugging southpaws as freely as right-handers. The outfielders, Wheat, Myers, Stengel and Johnston, are fast on the bases and that is why the Dodgers score a lot of runs."

"Jack Coombs is a wonderful assistant for Robinson, in addition to pitching great ball. He is not a strong athlete because of his sickness, but he is able to go in once a week and give a swell exhibition as he did when he blanked the Cubs with one hit. Where

JOHNSTONE DEFEATED FOR NATIONAL TITLE

Norris Williams, a Former Champion, Beat Present Holder Before Large Crowd

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 6.—For the second time in his short career on American courts, R. Norris Williams Jr., of Philadelphia, won the National Tennis Club singles championship at the Forest Hills courts here yesterday, when he defeated Wm. M. Johnston, of San Francisco, the 1915 champion, in a five set match, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

The match was hardly up to the tennis expected from these two players. The play was witnessed by ten thousand spectators.

JOHNNY AITKEN WINS CINCINNATI SWEEP

Cincinnati, Sept. 6.—Johnny Aitken assumed a lead over Dario Resta at the 168th mile and won the first annual 300 miles sweepstakes at the New Sharonville track Monday. Wilbur d'Alene was second, while Frank Galvin, far behind, drew down third money.

One accident marred the day's sport. Gilbert Anderson while in the stretch run on the 168th mile skidded and dived into the fence. His car turned turtle and he was dangerously injured. His mechanic, Bert Shields, suffered a fracture of the thigh and internal injuries, and his recovery is doubtful.

Aitken's time for the race was 3 hours 5 minutes 27 seconds, an average of 57.06 miles an hour.

HAS TYPHOID SYMPTOMS.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Arthur Nohf, one of the left-handed pitchers of the Braves, was under observation in a hospital to-day with symptoms which raised fears of typhoid fever. He has been ill since the Braves returned from the west last Friday.

Have you any typewritten postage stamps among your collection? "Long Island" the island off the coast of Asia Minor which was taken from the Turks in the spring of this year, has issued typewritten stamps. Each stamp is edged with dots—colours down the sides and horizontal lines of periods top and bottom. Within the frame thus formed is the inscription "G.I.L. Long Island Postage Revenue," and the value of the stamp. The stamps also bear the name of the administrator in red ink or indelible pencil. Long Island is not the first British possession to issue such stamps. The claimant for this distinction is Uganda, where 21 years ago the Rev. E. Millar, of the Church Missionary Society, issued typewritten stamps at Mengo.—London Chronicle.

"I suppose you think a republic is ungrateful." "No," replied Senator Sorghum; "this republic has always treated me all right. And there have been times when I got to thinking about what it has put up with, that a republic seems downright patient and forbearing."

SUFFRAGE NEWS FOR POLITICIANS

Laying aside all questions of right, you who are politicians must realize that woman suffrage is only a question of time. It is coming. It has already come in three provinces and in England. Asquith has admitted that any franchise reform bill must include suffrage for women. Soon, very soon, women will be voting throughout the world. Women to-day are asking for the help of every man. They want the help of the politicians. In the day when equal suffrage comes, will you be known as a man who kept silent when enfranchisement was in the balance, or as a man who was not afraid to speak out in favor of woman suffrage, and who is willing to trust his mother and his wife with the ballot which he trusts to his fellowmen?

BUNGLING AND GRAFT IN MILITIA DEPARTMENT

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Recruiting is practically at a standstill because the impression has got abroad that the Borden government never intended the three hundred thousand limit to be taken seriously anyway. It was what you might call a bluff. When Premier Borden said five hundred thousand he meant it in a Pickwickian sense. Lately the Government has been visited by a gleam of common sense. The necessities of an army of three hundred and fifty thousand men are so great that the list of supernumerary officers has been cut down. These gentlemen will draw pay no longer for their superfluous services. They were mostly friends of the party or sons of friends and they were put on the pay roll while the paying was good. Now that the paying is not so good and they got their bit, they may be expected to drop out gracefully. There has never been any trouble at any stage of the game in getting supernumerary officers—they are thicker even than honorary colonels. The real difficulty has been getting private soldiers to do the work and the fighting at $1.10 a day, while supernumerary officers, who had no idea of running risks or incurring hardships, were drawing three dollars a day and up.

SUES FOR HAT

If a man leaves articles to be cleaned and does not call for them within a specified time, can the articles be sold in order to reimburse the cleaner, or must they be kept indefinitely at the will of the customer? That is a question which Judge Lammman has under consideration at the present time.

John Konidares was this morning the defendant in an action in the county court brought by Fred. L. Smith to recover the sum of $15, which he claimed to be the value of a Panama hat which he left with Konidares to be cleaned. When the hat was left the plaintiff was given a card on which was printed, among other things, a notice that if the goods were not called for within thirty days they would be sold. Konidares waited from April 17th until May 27th and then sold the hat for $1.50. Soon afterwards Smith called for the hat, which he was told had been sold. He consulted his lawyer, W. H. Whitaker, and then the defendant had gone to the second-hand store and purchased back the hat for $2, but Smith claimed it was not the right one and demanded $15 in settlement.

His honor said that Smith was undoubtedly entitled to the sum of 25c, the difference between the cost of the cleaning and repairs to the hat and the sum realized for it when it was sold. Whether the defendant went beyond his rights in selling the hat could not say. Mr. Whitaker is looking up precedents and then it will be decided whether the plaintiff is entitled to more than the sum of 25c.

A meeting of the Daughters of the Empire held yesterday afternoon in the headquarters, Fort street, was addressed by Francis R. Jones, organizing secretary of the Overseas Club, who is at present visiting in the city. Mr. Jones' talk took the form of an appeal for tobacco and cigarettes to be sent to the men at the front, although incidentally he told many things in and out of the army in the Old Land. He explained that he had been sent by the Overseas Club on a tour of the world to raise funds for the furtherance of the Tobacco fund. The Overseas club had spent large sums in forming organizations for the shipment of tobacco to the soldiers. Canadian brands were now being furnished to the Canadian soldiers, who had protested against the British brands furnished them in the beginning. Everyone had endorsed the movement to provide the men with good smokes. For twenty-five cents could be sent through the organizations what cost an individual soldier 50c. There was also now an arrangement whereby anyone sending $5 could have forwarded through the Overseas Club five $1 packages on ten fifty-cent packages. Postcards with the sender's name and address were always enclosed by the Overseas Club, together with a box of matches, so that the recipient would have no trouble in acknowledging the gift.

CANADIAN RAILROADS FEELING RECOVERY

Montreal, Sept. 6.—The gross earnings of the railroads in Canada in August established a new high record for the month and a new high record for the recovery movement that set in about this time a year ago.

POLITICAL NOTES

The event of the campaign so far will be the mass meeting of electors to be held this evening in the old Victoria theatre, when H. C. Brewster, leader of the Liberal party; Charles McDonald, Vancouver; John Hart, George Bell and Henry C. Hall will be the speakers.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock by Ald. W. G. Cameron, promptness in commencing being necessary on account of the number of speakers. As the capacity of the theatre is limited and standing is not permitted it will be well for those who want to be present to go early. Seats will be reserved for women in the front rows and in the boxes.

In the adjoining constituency, F. A. Pauline has a meeting at Oak Bay tomorrow evening, in the Oak Bay theatre, and A. W. McCurdy has a meeting of the Esquimalt electors in Colwood on Friday, the Metchoin district on Tuesday evening, and one in Esquimalt on election eve.

Mr. Brewster and Mr. A. Macdonald are to address a meeting in New Westminster on Saturday evening in the interests of the election of David Whiteside, Liberal candidate in the Royal City. Sir Hibbert Tupper is to speak with Mr. Whiteside the night before election day.

The Spanish Column is a bright and new sheet which is being published in that constituency in support of F. A. Pauline. George Vallance is the editor of it. There seems no reason why the little paper should not become, after election, a permanent newspaper of independent comment, devoted to the service of the settlers in Spanish.

In the Interior motion pictures are being shown as part of the Bowser election campaign. These are of industrial and agricultural scenes, and are apparently of the same kind as the railway construction pictures which the Bowser candidate in Spanish has been showing as an argument why he should be re-elected. Mr. Bowser is shown picking a flower on the government grounds here and Hon. William Manson is pictured in the act of gazing at an ornamental hedge. At some places the same reception has been given to the premier's presentation as was given by a theatre full of soldiers here when his counterfeited presence was thrown on the screen.

The statement is presented on the sheet that there are 152,000,000 acres of agricultural lands available to the homesteader in British Columbia. No hint is given that in order to make this total the snow-covered summits shown in the pictures are included. The Merritt Herald, commenting on the run of the scenes in that city, asks why there were not a few reels depicting the crowds of people in front of the Dominion Trust building, demanding their money when the bank turned away empty-handed, the result of Mr. Bowser's illegality and original neglect of the interests of the people.

The Omicron Herald says: "Hon. W. J. Bowser's chief claims to the premiership are: greasing palms, outsharking the shark and joy-riding with the joy-riders."

Says the Prince Rupert News: "Bob" Green seems to be the most cheerful of the Bowser prophets in regard to the result of the election. Bob's prophecies will be just as far wrong as were his actions in regard to the Kaiser Island deal which caused his retirement from the McBride government.

PLOT TO BLOW UP AMERICAN CRUISER

Paris, Sept. 6.—Several arrests have been made in connection with a plot to blow up the American cruiser Des Moines while anchored at Barcelona, according to advices received here today. The Spanish destroyer Villa Mill was berthed in close proximity to the Des Moines. When informed of the conspiracy, Gen. Alfau, governor of Catalonia, hastened to Barcelona and the arrests followed.

AMERICANS SAVED WHEN S. S. KELVINIA WAS SUNK

Washington, Sept. 6.—Consular reports to-day on the sinking of the British steamship Kelvinia on Sept. 2 by a mine or torpedo while en route from Newport News to Glasgow, say that 23 Americans were aboard and were among those saved and landed later at Glasgow. It is presumed they were multeters. The sinking was reported earlier but made no mention of Americans.

UNCLE SAM DEPORTS

MANY UNDESIRABLES

Some Sidelights on the Alien Quarters of New York

New York has perhaps no rival in the world as a cosmopolitan city, and as a haven for the wanderer. So perhaps the qualifications of a man who has knocked round the world and played many parts finds the best field for usefulness in that city, and particularly in the life of a member of the deportation service of New York, which state co-operates with the federal authorities in expelling objectionable people from the United States.

On board the Kamakura Maru, which berthed this morning, was Leon Feldman, a man who has had many strange employments since as a small boy he left a little village in Roumania and ran away to sea. He speaks a number of languages, and has been in every port from Port Said to Manila, and almost every country. He certainly maintains the traditional ban placed on the Jewish race, to which he belongs.

Mr. Feldman has been taking a number of Chinese and one Filipino back to the Orient under deportation orders. Hence his presence on the Kamakura Maru. He says that the situation has considerably changed since the great flood of immigration used to sweep in to Ellis Island year after year, now dimmed back by the European war and diverted into military channels. It is a strange life, he says, watching the underworld of New York, the criminals and the wretched, returning the undesirable back to their countries, or their states to prevent them becoming public charges in state institutions. The causes of crime, the appalling contrasts between rich and pauper, and the sad thread of privation which unites the poorer classes together, have to be probed in the course of the work.

Mr. Feldman looks for better times for the oppressed Hebrew race in Roumania from the war reconstruction, and has no sympathy for Zionism, saying that the Jews would rather remain where their homes are now, provided greater liberties are given by non-

Anglo-Saxon countries. Vast sums have been raised in the Jewish societies of New York for their suffering co-religionists in the war-stricken countries of Europe.

WASHINGTON HEARS GREECE WILL STRIKE

Washington, Sept. 6.—Diplomatic circles here received a report to-day, considered reliable in every way, that Greece will enter the war within a short time on the side of the entente.

The same source predicted the entry of Roumania into the war three days before it actually occurred. Other reports reiterate the possibility of important developments in the Balkans involving the continuance of Bulgaria as one of the Teutonic allies.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

London, Sept. 6.—The casualty lists for the first two weeks of August show that the British army lost 600 officers killed, 1,702 wounded and 304 missing, a total of 2,596. This brings up the losses since the beginning of the war to 38,922 officers, of whom 11,442 have been killed or died of wounds; 24,680 wounded and 2,800 missing.

The service at the graveside was an English ceremony, conducted by army chaplains. The sounding of "taps" was the only military feature.

WILL B.C. SUBMIT TO THE HUN?

British Columbia electors are confronting a great conspiracy. Driven clear across Canada, the whisky makers and sellers are making their last stand in this province. On the result of the election on September 14, they know their fate will largely depend.

THE B. C. PROHIBITION ACT

1. WILL ABOLISH THE BAR.
2. WILL ABOLISH DRINKING CLUBS.
3. WILL ABOLISH DRUNKENNESS.

The British Columbia Act will save for war purposes, or for business, $11,000,000 per year. It will make a sober, prosperous Province.

It will get rid of an extravagant, wasteful traffic that does no good to anyone except private monopolists whose sole concern is to get the money of private citizens and give them nothing but the opportunity for selfish indulgence in exchange.

ROUMANIA GOES DRY TO HELP US WIN THE WAR

Sale and Consumption of Alcoholic Liquors Forbidden

Bucharest, Aug. 31.—The police commissioners have forbidden the sale and consumption of alcoholic liquors in all establishments throughout Roumania under penalty of severe punishment.

"LUXURIOUS TREACHERY"

The British Columbia whisky combine have spent thousands of dollars advertising the fact that soldiers at the front are ordered drink.

The late Sir Victor Horsley, the famous British surgeon whose death recently took place in Mesopotamia, writing to a Winnipeg newspaper apropos of the passage of Prohibition in Manitoba, says: "The most distressing part of this

(the Mesopotamia) campaign is that the directors of military operations are practically all whisky drinkers, and, therefore, wish the soldier to drink too. Out here in this torrid climate they actually still issue rum instead of food and sterile water, and as a result we now have cholera, dysentery, and diarrhoea to contend with. Anyone would suppose that no military medical history had ever been written or published.

"Our gross failures and stupidity are in my opinion due to the whisky affecting the intellectual organs and clearness of our leaders. Of course they do not realize that alcohol in small doses acts as a brake on their brains. If they did, then they would have sufficient loyalty to follow their king's example.

"Fancy to yourself the position—the king the head of the army. As he went teetotal for national safety, every military mess ought to have followed him. Not one did! It is a repulsive exhibition of selfishness and luxurious treachery of our country."

BRITISH AND FRENCH GAINS NORTH OF THE SOMME RIVER

ALLIES WILL SETTLE BALKAN QUESTION

Size of Russian Army Assisting Roumanians Makes That Sure

London, Sept. 6.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at Petrograd telegraphs as follows regarding the entry of Russian armies into the fighting besides the Roumanian army: "We are on the eve of the greatest event in the history of the east—no less a matter than the settlement of the Near Eastern question, which has vexed the world ever since the fall of the Byzantine empire. Yet its settlement is merely a side show of the tremendous world-wide issues that the German attack upon modern civilization has raised. "The position is simple enough when the facts behind the turmoil are known. The Balkan peninsula to-day is exactly like a rat pit at the moment a lively ferret jumps into it. The Russian terrier is just being loosed into the Balkan rat pit, and there is a good deal of squeaking and rushing about to see if there is not some way of escape. There is no doubt here that the result is only a question of more or less time. "According to my information, the size of the Russian terrier entrusted with this side show is ample guarantee that the results will be swift and complete."

The above map indicates how the British and French are closing in on Combrès, an important centre of German communications north of the Somme. The most advanced line indicates the present position of the Anglo-French front. By noting the positions of the several other lines the reader may judge of the ground gained in the various thrusts since the great offensive was launched on July 1.

AN INCREASE IN CANADA'S REVENUE

Expenditures During the Five Months Ended August 31 Less

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—An increase of $24,000,000 in the total receipts and a decrease of $5,000,000 in expenditures apart from the war was the Dominion's record for the five months ended August 31, as compared with the corresponding period of 1915. This constitutes a net betterment of nearly $30,000,000. This, says Sir Thomas White, exceeds the budget expectations of last session. The ordinary public works account for the period shows a reduction in expenditures of $2,000,000 and the public works capital expenditure declined $5,000,000. Capital expenditure on railways and canals, which is the largest item from the receipts and other sources of income the principal of the war expenditures for the fiscal year will have been met to an amount of from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. The balance of the war expenditures, of course, must be met by borrowing.

DUMPING OPPOSED BY BRITISH LABOR

Trades Congress Urges British Government Protect Workmen in United Kingdom

Birmingham, Sept. 6.—The Trades Union Congress, representing nearly 2,500,000 organized workers of the United Kingdom, took an important and unexpected step to-day by adopting, with a majority of more than 1,000,000 votes, a resolution virtually endorsing the principle of protection. The resolution asks for "the adoption of methods for restricting or preventing the importation of cheap manufactured goods produced at lower rates of wages and under worse labor conditions than prevailing in this country." Although these words themselves accept the principle of a protective tariff wall, the protectionists among the labor delegates and in other circles are not inclined to regard the workmen as having been won over to a complete change from free trade. One of the labor members of the House of Commons said the meaning of the resolution was merely that measures should be taken to investigate the origin of goods and conditions under which they are produced with a view to preventing the unloading of cheap goods in this country after the war, which is much feared.

BRITISH MAILS VIA CANADIAN TERRITORY

Has Been Decided Passage Across Maine Will Be Stopped

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—The British government has decided to send all the mails reaching Canada from the United Kingdom by Canadian railways, and will drop the use of routes in the United States, over which considerable mail has been carried in the past. The National Transcontinental railway, operated by the Canadian government, will carry all the mails from Britain up from the Atlantic coast after the new Quebec bridge has been completed. It is said that the contracts with the C. P. R. and United States lines are to be cancelled.

CANADIAN MILITARY COUNCIL IN ENGLAND

Sir Sam Hughes's Plan to Overcome Overlapping Among Major-Generals

London, Sept. 6.—(By F. A. McKenzie).—A military council attended by seven high Canadian officers under the chairmanship of a major-general, who from the first has done excellent work as representative of the Canadian militia department in London, was held to-day. Later the council probably will consist of ten members, and it is expected to be the solution of a somewhat difficult situation regarding the higher commands among the Canadian forces in England. The only question remaining is whether the imperial authorities, who naturally have the last say regarding training and disposition of all troops, will agree. It is Major-General Sir Sam Hughes's plan, and it is hoped that the unpleasant overlapping among the various Canadian major-generals, which certainly has caused friction, will end.

RESIGNATION OF TIZSA DEMANDED

Members of Hungarian Independence Party Shouted for It in Diet

London, Sept. 6.—According to a Budapest telegram, says the Reuter correspondent at Amsterdam, yesterday's session of the Hungarian diet was an extremely stormy one. When Premier Tizza entered the House he was greeted with loud shouts of "resign!" from the party of Count Michael Karolyi. The three other opposition parties remained quiet. When order was restored, Premier Tizza, who was repeatedly interrupted, said the attitude of the Roumanians was without precedent in the history of the world, and that he hoped measures which had been taken would shortly bear fruit. "Roumania will not escape her fate," the premier is quoted as declaring, "I am confident that we will win this war on all fronts. Our duty is to maintain the unity of Hungary in its fight for existence." Ex-premier Andrássy agreed that the entire energy of the nation should be exerted in the fight, which was in self-defence, but criticized the manner in which the government carried on its business, and its lack of foresight. The position of the country, the premier said, was serious, but not critical, and while he had confidence in the outcome, there must be a new leadership. The party led by Count Karolyi is known as the Hungarian Independence Party. It represents the great body of people in Hungary who realize that ever since the beginning of the war Austria has sacrificed Hungary, by placing Hungarian troops on the most hotly contested parts of the front and by giving the interests of the Austrians in all things precedence over the interests of the Hungarians. The party has grown rapidly of late, many adhering to it as a result of the growing distress and discontent in Hungary.

TO ITALIAN FRONT.

Rome, Sept. 6.—The American ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page, has received an invitation to visit the Italian front, which he has accepted. He will be accompanied by both military and naval attaches of the embassy.

INQUIRY AFFECTING O. C. 141ST BATTALION

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Lieut.-Col. D. C. McKenzie, of the 11st Battalion, Fort Frances and Port Arthur, has been suspended temporarily from his command pending a military inquiry. The details of the inquiry are not available here, though it is intimated that the matter is not of extreme seriousness.

BELIEVE BRITISH HAVE THE BREMEN

Opinion of People in London; Doubts Creeping Into Germans' Minds

New York, Sept. 6.—The general opinion in London is that British naval ships captured the German submarine Bremen, according to passengers who arrived yesterday on the liner Cameronia. The Bremen is believed by Londoners to be safely stowed away in some British port. Germans Doubtful. "Travelers from Germany," says a dispatch to the Morning Post from Copenhagen, "report the Germans themselves as doubting whether the submarine Bremen, supposed to be on the way to the United States, will ever be heard of again." According to their statements, the general opinion in Hamburg is that the Bremen already had left Germany for the United States, when the Deutschland arrived in the United States, as then stated by President Lohmann, of the Ocean S. S. Company, which owns the Deutschland and owned the Bremen, and that his later statement, made on the occasion of the return of the Deutschland, that a second vessel was then starting on her voyage and was "now in the open sea," really referred to a third submarine merchantman.

STATES AND JAPAN'S DEMANDS ON CHINA

Washington Govt. Intends to Seek Details From All Sources

Washington, Sept. 6.—Details of the secret Japanese demands on China will be gathered by the state department from all available sources. The Root-Takahira agreement of 1908 provides that Japan and the United States shall notify each other if any event threatening the status quo in China takes place, but as yet this government has had no official word from Japan about the demands, which are felt to have a decided political nature. Japanese Charge Tanaka said to-day that while he had not received the text of demands, he thought those published to-day might be essentially correct. The acts of reparation for the Cheng Chiatun incident themselves he thought natural for such a serious trouble, though he was surprised at the inclusion of rights of instruction in the army and schools, as he said these rights have been long recognized. The question of "special rights" seemed to him entirely too vague for definition, though that, too, he said, had been recognized by China already.

MILITARY HONORS FOR GERMAN AIRMEN

British Bury Baby-Killers; Great Crowd Drawn by Event

London, Sept. 6.—A great crowd gathered to-day to witness the funeral of sixteen members of the crew of the zeppelin which was brought down during the raid last Saturday night. In view of the strong protests made against the burial of the German airmen with military honors, a strong force of police was on duty to maintain order. The whole route to the cemetery in the little village of Potter's Bar, where the bodies of the Germans were buried, was lined with police. Spectators began to arrive by train, automobile and bicycle long before noon, and seized on the hill near the entrance to the cemetery as a point of vantage. Others gathered in nearby fields for entrance to which farmers made a small charge. During the night a common grave was prepared for the men, and a smaller one for the German officer.

HIGHER PRICES, STEADY SESSION, AT CHICAGO

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, Sept. 6.—Opening prices for wheat were from one and a half to two cents higher and the market acted steadily throughout the session, the volume of business being noticeably lighter than yesterday. Broomhall's cable reported the Liverpool market strong on unfavorable crop reports from this country and Canada and the demand good. Argentine reports of weather conditions unfavorable for the new crop and markets firm and higher prices looked for. The domestic news was of a bullish nature and the market closed steady.

GOOD TONE RULED AT N. YORK TO-DAY

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, Sept. 6.—There was a good tone to the stock market to-day throughout the entire session and advances were general. Steel common absorbed a large amount of business and sold up to 1 1/2, a new record figure. Activity was most pronounced in the industrial issues, the rails showing a disposition to lag. Breadstuffs was an exception, however, and advanced to 1 1/2, but later lost part of this gain. Closing prices were steady and the gains were fairly well maintained.

MONTREAL STOCKS

(By F. A. Borden & Co.)
Montreal, Sept. 6.—Strength in the local market to-day was general, the highest prices being reached during the morning session, after which profit-taking brought about a fractional setback. Dominion Bridge was the strongest stock and was quite active. Iron was the strong feature in the steel group, while Steel of Canada sold off a point from yesterday's high figure. The steamship issues continue strong, the preferred showing a gain of over two points to-day. The whole market had a strong appearance at the close, which was generally above yesterday's high level.

PRESBYTERY HOLDS SEMI-ANNUAL RALLY

Rev. R. A. Gibson, of Sidney, Receives Call From Nanton, Alberta

The semi-annual meeting of the Victoria Presbytery convened yesterday evening at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Rev. Joseph McCoy, the moderator, presiding, and the following being present: Dr. W. L. Clay, Rev. R. A. Macconnell, Rev. Dr. H. N. McLean, Rev. Dr. MacInnes, Rev. S. Landy, Rev. A. T. Munro, Rev. J. C. Inaker, Rev. Dr. McPhee, Rev. Dr. Wilson (superintendent of missions), Rev. Thos. Oswald, and Rev. W. L. Macrae, Messrs. D. Stewart, William Dunst, G. E. Davidson, elders, were also present.

Matters of detail were dealt with both at last evening's meeting and this morning. The Presbytery is setting again this afternoon for the completion of business and the hearing of reports. The chief matter of general interest last night was the "Home Mission Report" read by Rev. Dr. Clay. This showed that all the mission fields were supplied with missionaries during the past six months, and provision made for the supply of all stations during the ensuing half year.

A call to Rev. R. A. Gibson, of Sidney, by the congregation of Nanton, Alberta, was considered. The congregation of Sidney was cited to appear for their interests in that matter on September 19, at St. Andrew's church. The meeting on that occasion will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Just before adjournment for the noon hour to-day Rev. Dr. Clay moved a resolution in effect that the Victoria Presbytery should reaffirm its adherence to the principles of prohibition, expressing its approval of the bill passed at the recent session of the legislature and to be voted on by the electors on September 14, and enjoining the ministers and members within the bounds of the Presbytery to support the bill and secure the largest possible majority in its favor at the forthcoming election.

The motion was seconded by Rev. J. G. Inkster, who said that some measure should be taken to apprise the public of the misleading statements of the anti-prohibitionists who succeeded in winning an ear by posing as favoring the abolition of the "bad" yet opposing the measure as a "bad bill." The motion was passed unanimously.

Rev. Dr. MacInnes moved that the court express its sympathy with the woman suffrage referendum. This motion was seconded, but discussion on the matter was deferred until later in the day and no vote was taken.

Rev. Robt. Macconnell was appointed convener of a committee to act on the matter of the equalization of expenses.

COUNTY COURT CASES

Three Actions to Be Heard Tomorrow by Judge Lampman.

In the county court this morning the case of Bell vs. Grubb was set down for trial on the 28th instant. Davies vs. Gilchrist will be tried on the 28th.

To-morrow Judge Lampman will hear three cases. Aldridge vs. The San Juan M. and M. Co., the Union Bank of Canada vs. Fraser et al, and Grayson vs. D. Morton Co., Ltd.

IMPORTANT CASE REGARDING DOCTORS

Judge Lampman Decides in Favor of Profession in County Court

Judge Lampman sitting in the county court this morning decided that a doctor who gave up a case was allowed to collect for the part of the time during which he attended the patient, and he expressed the opinion that no self-respecting doctor would continue on a case if his orders were disobeyed.

While there was an implied contract in the case where a doctor attended a case of accouchement, yet if the patient did not obey the orders of the doctor it was she who broke the contract.

The case in point was an action brought by Dr. A. B. Hudson against Charles Fairall for the payment of the sum of $15 for services rendered in attending the defendant's wife. The doctor left certain directions as to the care of the child, which were disobeyed. He then wrote a letter giving up the case and suggesting that it was the duty of the nurse to see that his orders were carried out, but in this case it had not been done. Later he had sent a bill for $15, the regular charge for services being $25.

Charles Fairall, the defendant, in his evidence, said that two other doctors who had attended his wife since Dr. Hudson gave up the case, had taken a different view and had not insisted on the same treatment as that which had been neglected and which gave rise to the action. He had had to pay Dr. Book $15 for his services.

The court took the view that as the most important part of the services had been rendered by the doctor he was entitled to collect the $15, and he gave judgment accordingly with costs set at $8. O. C. Bass, who appeared for the plaintiff, asked that the costs be set low as all they wished to do was to establish the rights of the profession.

PATRIOTIC WORK

Miss C. W. Merritt Tells of Object of Queen Mary's Needlework Guild.

A special meeting of the women of Victoria interested in patriotic work was called recently for the purpose of hearing Miss Constance Welland Merritt, honorary secretary of the Queen Mary's Needlework Guild in Canada, who came here in the interests of that body and gave a very interesting talk to a number of ladies who met at the Empress hotel. The object of the Guild, she explained, was to afford some avenue of usefulness for those who by force of circumstances were forced to stay at home, and prevented from joining the ranks of the Red Cross and other energetic patriotic bodies. It was at the suggestion of her majesty the queen that the guild was established, each woman of the empire being appealed to contribute some garment that would be of use for the refugees' families, those of the soldiers and sailors, the more needy hospital, or wherever privation or accident had made the need imperative. The response had been very good, and during the first few months of the war her majesty received a million garments. Donations continued to be good. Some of the institutions which had received assistance were enumerated, as follows: No. 1 Canadian Stationary Hospital, Royal Flying Corps, British women interned in Austria, Queen of the Belgians' Hospital, Salonica hospitals, Rawal Pindi Hospital, Buzrah; Italian troops, hospital in Mesopotamia, Verdun Emergency Fund, Red Cross, Rouen Casualty Clearing Stations, British East Africa forces, Australians, trawlers and many others.

Miss Merritt remarked that a full account of the work of the Queen Mary Needlework Guild in Canada was probable in pamphlet form on application to Miss C. Welland Merritt, "The Roxborough," Ottawa.

Some discussion took place after Miss Merritt's address, and the visitor was informed that early in 1915 Mrs. J. Bennerman, convener of a New Year's gift from the queen, had forwarded through the Bank of Montreal to Lady Williams-Taylor several hundred garments. Later, money earned by the raffie of Queen Mary's petticoat, was expended in material to make up into garments, the Camosun Chapter, I. O. E. D. E. undertaking the work and sending forward a very fine donation which was subsequently acknowledged from Buckingham Palace. The Camosun Chapter, as the mother chapter of the I. O. E. D. E. in Victoria, was requested to continue in touch with the guild and take charge of an annual birthday shower in its behalf. Mrs. Henry Croft and Mrs. Andrew Wright, honorary regent and regent of the chapter, promised to bring the suggestion before the chapter, and a cordial vote of thanks was passed to Miss Merritt for bringing the work once more before Victoria women.

AFTER-THE-WAR IMMIGRATION

The war has served to restrict, well nigh to terminate, emigration to the United States, and as a result of this condition wages here have advanced to unprecedented figures. What labor enjoys now it will, in all probability, seek to maintain; and the restriction of immigration will gain in popular support. There is a possibility that at the close of the war laws will be passed in Europe to prevent emigration, for every available man, woman and child will be needed, not merely to assist in the rehabilitation of the devastated countries, but to bear their proportion of the burden of taxation. Meanwhile the "hyphen" has presented the immigration question to the American people in a new light. It is about time that the whole question of immigration were taken up by congress from the point of view of economics and patriotism, rather than prejudice and politics. The United States must soon formulate a permanent policy with respect to this question.—Boston Transcript.

Prohibition in Seattle

THE REAL FACTS OF THE CASE (Compiled from official reports of the County Auditor)

The Prohibition legislation of the State of Washington provides for the limited importation of liquor by residents from points outside the State. The law provides for importation to be made only on permits issued by the County Auditor, thus assuring full government control of the shipment. A permit provides for the importation of only 2 quarts of whisky or 12 quarts of beer on one shipment. Only one permit is issued to any individual during any period of 20 days.

Under this limited importation regulation the following table notes the number of permits issued to residents of Seattle for 8 months.

Table showing number of permits issued in Seattle for 8 months: January 2,110; February 4,269; March 6,250; April 6,228; May 7,883; June 11,717; July 13,122; August 18,901.

NOTE—The above record is for the city of Seattle only and does not take into account the permits issued for Spokane, Tacoma and other large cities of the State or the numerous smaller towns and the rural districts.

BUT THIS IS NOT ALL!

The Washington law also provides for the importation of liquor by druggists on special trade permits.

On June 19 last Mr. Cornelius Osseward, a Seattle druggist, stated in an address before the Washington Pharmaceutical Association that the importation of liquor into Seattle only on druggists' permits for five months totalled as follows:

- WHISKY—42,601 gallons, or more than one pint for every man, woman and child in Seattle.
BRANDY—Half an ounce for each person as above.
GIN—One-third ounce for each person as above.
WINE—One and a half ounces for each person as above.
BEER—One bottle for every 2 1/2 persons as above.

TIE VOTE UPON BRIDGE MOTION
Alderman Bell Makes Strong Indolment Against Two Colleagues
WARM DISCUSSION OCCURS IN COUNCIL
Mayor Submits Todd Resolution for Reconsideration, but is Defeated

Throughout this year the harbor committee had attempted to do something, but had accomplished very little. Alderman Todd knew more about the bridge than any man in that council, or out of it, and the harbor committee's advice to council had been dictated by a desire to bring the best issue out of a difficult situation.
Going over the figures and the resolutions, the alderman pointed out that the motion of June 13 did not transmit the scheme as it stood to the members of the government, but simply asked for their interposition in bringing the railway companies into agreement. "I have voted for the latest resolution," he concluded, "on its dead merits, because we have not received an explanation. Bridges may involve serious results, and sometimes may be very dangerous matters, and therefore we must not make a hasty agreement. For instance we do not want a faulty agreement like that of 1915."
