MACDONALD FORECASTS UNIVERSITY SOLUTION WITHOUT NEW TAXES

First Speaker of Session Finds Demand Throughout Country For Economy "For the Other Fellow"; Country Emerging From Post War Quagmire, He Says; Foreign Bond Deals of Hon. John Hart Make Good For Province Now That Exchange Is Back to Par.

The problems before British Columbia public men and citizens generally at the present time, were dealt with in the Legislature this afternoon by Dr. K. C. Macdonald, Liberal member for North Okanagan, in moving the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

"There is a demand for economy all over this Province," Dr. Macdonald said. "But like the cry of 'back to the land,' it is always for the other fellow and the other's fellow's constituency. There is a demand for service as great, if not greater, than in any other Province. And increased service means increased taxation."

"I believe that this Government has been honest and efficient in its administration. Mistakes have been made, but without mistakes there is very little progress. The laws which have been placed upon the statute books have incited humanitarian ideals and the principle of justice and equity, and the record of this Government has not been unworthy of a great Province and a great people."

"This Province and the Dominion generally are gradually and surely emerging from the quagmire of post-war conditions in a most satisfactory manner and the people are looking hopefully forward to a period of greater activity and business rehabilitation."

"The return of the Liberal party to power in Canada has had the effect of once more instilling confidence in the people, that the period of progress made under Liberal rule following the advent of the Laurier Government to power in 1896, will be repeated and that more popular and democratic government will be established, tending to a solidifying of East and West such as has not been experienced for some time."

"The return of the Liberal party to power in Canada has had the effect of once more instilling confidence in the people, that the period of progress made under Liberal rule following the advent of the Laurier Government to power in 1896, will be repeated and that more popular and democratic government will be established, tending to a solidifying of East and West such as has not been experienced for some time."

"I am particularly glad that it is the intention of the Government to take steps to ascertain the value of the lands mentioned for University purposes and as to how these lands may be best dealt with so as to produce the maximum of value," he said.

"The claim is made and I believe not without merit that a loan can be raised without placing any additional burden upon the tax-payer, by pledging as security the 3,000 acres of land at Point Grey which would provide sufficient capital to meet the cost of erection of suitable buildings and the cost of removal to Point Grey."

"Personally I feel that three thousand acres of land adjacent to a city like Vancouver and which would be found to have an actual value, to say nothing of a potential value which should make financing of the University possible and urgent, is the first thing to be done is to have the project fully gone into by a competent commission, and if found that the claims advanced are correct, there should be no difficulty in finding a domestic loan for this purpose, and the people who so readily signed petitions asking the Government to do these things, and who, no doubt, feel they should be done, would unquestionably be ready and willing to subscribe for that loan."

"My belief is that the University being such an asset to the City of Vancouver, and their citizens enjoying such advantages as they do in the matter of cost in sending their sons and daughters to a university (concluded on page 4.)

LONDONERS TO VOTE TO-MORROW

To Choose Members of Their Local Government Issue Between Economy and Extravagance

London, Oct. 31.—The liveliest political campaign London has known in many years will come to an end today and to-morrow when several million men and one million women living in the county will have an opportunity to vote at the municipal elections. They must select holders of 1,562 seats on the twenty-eight borough councils which constitute the local government of London.

Among other things this local government controls the expenditure of the taxpayers' money and because the boroughs now ruled by the Socialist Party are groaning under taxes 80 per cent above those fixed in the other boroughs, the campaign fight is particularly bitter.

Clear-Cut Issue. The high expenditure complained against induced a combination of municipal reformers and progressive tax payers to pit their candidates against the Laborites, under whose banner the Socialists and Communists are waging their campaign. This has made the issue a clear-cut one between economy and extravagance. There are 2,500 candidates for the 1,562 seats. One thousand candidates are Laborites and the remaining 1,500 are running on the economy platform.

Statements About Murder of Girl Are Cause

Quebec, Oct. 31.—Rising on a question of privilege in the Legislative Assembly of Quebec yesterday afternoon, Premier Taschereau moved, seconded by Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture that John E. Roberts, editor of a Montreal weekly paper, "The Axe," be arrested and brought before the bar of the Legislature on Thursday, November 2, to answer to a charge of "violating the honor of the Legislature."

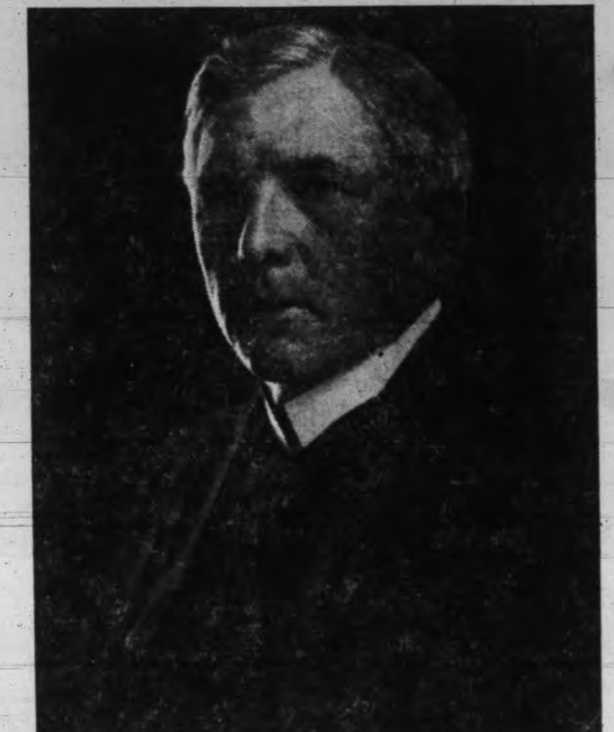

FISHERIES TO BE DISCUSSED

Ottawa Cabinet Has B. C. Report Before It

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press)—The report of the commission which investigated the fisheries of British Columbia may be taken up when the Cabinet meets this afternoon. This report has been on the table for some weeks now, but has not yet been reached.

Another matter under consideration is the amount of Canada's contribution to the Empire Exhibition. This depends more or less on the amounts which the various provinces are willing to expend on the exhibition. The Cabinet may also take up the question of suspending the coasting laws in order to introduce American competition into the grain carrying trade on the Great Lakes. Before his departure for Australia, Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, intimated that action along this line might be taken.

PARTIES ASKING WOMEN'S VOTES

Realized in Britain They Are Strong Influence

Women's Liberal Federation Issues Manifesto

Special to The Times London, Oct. 31.—With the first fireworks of a short election campaign ended and with a lack of policies to give it immediate impetus, several party headquarters have turned their attention to the women voters, of whom there are approximately 9,000,000 in an electorate of a little less than 21,000,000. Will they vote as their men? That question is heard at the centres of all parties. In the Newport by-election, where the issues were almost identical with those of this general election, they did not.

When it became known that Bonar Law's meeting for women only at the Drury Lane Theatre Thursday promised such success that his managers turned down 10,000 applications for tickets, the Lloyd Georgians obtained another large theatre for a meeting Saturday morning, also for women only.

Posters. The first shipments of election posters to the provinces began yesterday and it was found many of them carried an appeal to women. One of the show girl type, attractive for any kind of an advertisement, bore this caption, "Wise men admire the wives who vote for the Unionists."

Manifesto. Yesterday also came the first women's statement of principles when the Women's National Liberal Federation put out its manifesto. Its chief point was that the Unionists should not blame Mr. Lloyd George for the mistakes of the Commons, when they had such a huge majority under his Premiership and could have thwarted the Government's plans if they had wished to bolt the coalition. The leaders here are faced with no choice of selection between the party managers when women obtained their first vote in the United States. While they have had the franchise for a number of years, the women never have had a chance to utilize it in a real general election. The 1918 test was a coupon affair, with no choice of selection between the older parties.

It was during the Lloyd George-Bonar Law regime, whether they could help it or not, that living conditions were most distasteful, from which the Independent Liberals deduce that women will not vote for either the Unionist or National Liberal party, but will swing to the Grey-Asquith crowd.

The women remain, however, a great puzzle, and all sides are seeking their support keenly this week.

NEW YORK FIRE TOOK SEVERAL LIVES

Five-story Manufacturing Building Burned

New York, Oct. 31.—Search was made to-day for the bodies of several working girls believed to have lost their lives in a fire that last night destroyed a five-story manufacturing building in Brooklyn. One man jumped from the fifth floor and was killed, and eight others, one of whom was seriously injured.

HELD IN PRISON BY BOLSHIEVIKI

C. A. Solly, Free Again, Reaches Constantinople

Women's Liberal Federation Issues Manifesto

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—After forty-seven days in an underground cell of the Russian Bolshevik Cheka at Tiflis, under arrest as a "commercial spy," Claude A. Solly, a representative of the Shell Trading & Transport Company of London, arrived back here. With him arrived Lieutenant-Colonel Dodge, who was trading privately in Georgia, and Mr. Lawrence, representing the Imperial Foreign Corporation, both of whom also had been suffering imprisonment. Two other British traders, Edwards and O'Dell, are still captives.

Mr. Solly gave an account of his experiences. He was seven months in Georgia representing the Shell Company. During the first few months he had no difficulties, but on August 2, without warning, he was summoned by the Georgian Cheka at Batum "to see the President."

Held Without Charge. After three days' detention, during which period he was not charged with any offence, he was conducted to Tiflis by four armed guards, accompanied by a man carrying his confiscated documents.

On arrival at Tiflis he was taken to the Russia Cheka, and placed in a cell twelve feet below the ground, with no outside ventilation, abundant

ARMED MAN HELD CUSTOMS AT BAY

Capt. Freeman Seized Customs House at Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert, Oct. 31.—At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, the Federal Government buildings were opened, Captain Freeman yielding to the officials after a paper signed by Fred Stork, M. P., had been given him, promising an investigation into alleged wrongs.

Prince Rupert, Oct. 31.—Threatening to shoot if any attempt was made to dislodge him, a man, said to be Captain Freeman, skipper of the launch Narbethong, armed with a rifle, has taken possession of the Customs House here and is holding customs officials at bay. Freeman, it is said, had a long standing alleged grievance against the Federal Marine Department. This morning he entered the corridor of the Customs House armed with a loaded rifle and warned Appraiser H. T. Cross and other officials not to pass.

The Customs House remained locked all morning. Efforts to approach Freeman have met, it is alleged, with the threat that any attempt made to dislodge him, would be resisted.

Belfast, Oct. 31.—A delegation of 200 is on its way from Belfast to England to-day to put the claims of Ulster before the British voters.

FRANCE MAKES NO DEBT PLANS WITH UNITED STATES

Paris, Oct. 31.—The French Government is inclined to regard France's war debt to the United States as lying in abeyance pending some definite development in the reparations problem, it was indicated in authoritative quarters here.

ITALIAN STEAMSHIP IS REPORTED SINKING SOUTHEAST OF AZORES

Land's End, Eng., Oct. 31.—The Italian steamship Teti, bound from Huelva, Spain, for Norfolk and Baltimore, is sinking at a point southeast of the Azores, according to a wireless message from the vessel received at Lloyd's this afternoon. The message gave her position as latitude 37.30 N., longitude 23.33 W. No particulars were given. It is not known here whether the Teti carried any passengers.

FIRST MEETING OF BONAR LAW CABINET

New British Premier in Downing Street Residence

Slight Lull in Election Orators' Campaign

London, Oct. 31.—There has been a slight lull in "big gun" election oratory.

The new Prime Minister moved into his official residence in Downing Street yesterday and will hold his first Cabinet meeting to-day. He is still experiencing difficulty in completing the Ministry.

Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Birkenhead, in their recent speeches at Glasgow, made great play with the mediocre political capacity and attainments of the new administration. The Prime Minister had gathered around him as compared with those who remained loyal to Lloyd George. The personal attacks on the new administration have caused considerable angry feelings on the part of the Prime Minister's lieutenants, the campaign they are feeling their inferiority in oratory in comparison with their opponents.

STANLEY BALDWIN SPOKE TOO FRANKLY

Moreover, Stanley Baldwin, who is Bonar Law's chief lieutenant, is generally thought to have been somewhat tactless when he declared that there would be no immediate reduction in taxation. Altogether, in the Bonar Law's election stock seems to be in a falling market, while the Lloyd George stock, the newspapers assert, is rising.

Carson's Attitude. Lord Carson, in a letter to friends in Belfast, makes his first political pronouncement in this campaign, expressing the fervent hope that the Government will come into power in Britain, which will be thoroughly loyal to the Irish settlement as contained in the Act of 1920 as far as the six Ulster counties are concerned, and declaring that he wishes to bring home to the minds of the British electorate that the single aim of the Northern Irish Government is to promote even still closer relations between Ulster and England.

THIRTY WOMEN ARE CANDIDATES

Ask Electors to Send Them to British Parliament

Description of Characteristics of Some of Them

London, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Rather curiously few of the women candidates who contested seats at the last general election have again come forward on this occasion. The only one to do so, indeed, appears to be Miss Annie Garland, who was unsuccessful in Portsmouth in 1918, and is now changing her luck, as an Independent Liberal at Darford.

Lady Astor is again seeking the vote of Plymouth electorate, where she won the seat in a by-election. Her record in Parliament has received sufficient day to day notice. Whether the novelty of being represented by the first woman ever to become an M. P. will still appeal to the dwellers in the great dockyard town will be duly revealed.

MRS. WINTRINGHAM SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Mrs. Winttingham, who successfully contested the Louth by-election in Lincolnshire upon the death of her husband, the dean of that constituency, is standing again in that constituency. She made no public service. During the war she was commanding in France of Queen Mary's army auxiliary corps "the Waacs," as they were popularly called.

Miss Eleanor Rathbone, standing in the Toxteth Division of Liverpool as an Independent, belongs to a well known Mersey-side family. She was one of the earliest agitators for the vote for women but insisted upon the agitation being constitutional and non-militant.

Among the would-be newcomers to Parliament among the womenfolk are Mrs. Coombe Tennant, who stands as a Coalition Liberal in the constituency of the City of London for years by that one-time notable politician, Sir Charles Dilke. Mrs. Tennant has done a great deal of public service. During the war she was commanding in France of Queen Mary's army auxiliary corps "the Waacs," as they were popularly called.

FASCISTI CELEBRATE IN ROME WINNING OF CONTROL IN ITALY

Big Procession in Capital City; New Cabinet Ministers Take Oath of Office; Groups of Fascisti Invade Homes of Nitti and Others.

Rome, Oct. 31, 12.45 p.m.—Groups of Fascisti to-day invaded the homes of former Premier Nitti, Count Valmi, Deputy Nicola Bolibacci, the Communist leader, and Arturo Labriola, the Socialist former Minister. Socialist literature and other pamphlets were confiscated. Signor Nitti is absent in Southern Italy.

Rome, Oct. 31.—Benito Mussolini, the Fascisti head of Italy's new Government, was in his office at 8 o'clock this morning to begin his active work as Premier. An hour later he and his colleagues in the Cabinet were received by King Victor Emmanuel and individually took the oath of office.

Rome, Oct. 31.—Rome awaited with eager expectation to-day the formal entry into the city of thousands of the Fascisti who were called from all parts of the country over the week-end in support of the Fascisti demand for control of the country. It was decided last night, however, that not all the throngs of Fascisti who had made their way to the vicinity of the city should participate in the triumphal march, the idea being to limit their number to 15,000 with the route of the parade passing by the Quirinal for a tribute to King Victor Emmanuel, to march through the main streets to the Unknown Soldier's tomb and then a demobilization and the return of the demonstrators to their homes in various parts of Italy.

FATHER VAUGHAN DIED IN LONDON

Famous Priest Became Ill Three Months Ago Died Peacefully at 8 a.m. To-day

London, Oct. 31.—Father Bernard Vaughan, one of the most prominent Jesuit priests in the world and a brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan, died here to-day.

Father Vaughan became ill two or three months ago at Sheffield, but recovered sufficiently to be removed to the Jesuit College at Putney. There he was able to get about in a rolling chair.

The famous priest was bedridden only three days before the end. His brothers in the Society of Jesus were around his bedside when he died peacefully at eight o'clock this morning.

Several years ago Father Vaughan toured through parts of Canada, Alaska and the United States, and later lectured in Japan, where he addressed the House of Peers.

Father Bernard Vaughan, who visited Victoria some years ago, was a son of the late Col. Vaughan, of Portfield, Herefordshire, and brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan.

He was educated at the well-known Catholic school, Stonyhurst, in Lancashire. He took an active and conspicuous part in the civic and religious life of Manchester and London. Twenty-one years ago he went to Farm Street, the Famous West End Catholic church, and worked among the poor. He became a national figure for his series of famous sermons on "The Sins of Society," preached in 1906. He has of late years toured extensively in America and Japan, and also has lectured in China, Italy and France.

As an author he was perhaps the foremost of the English-speaking Catholics and the church in his works. He gained an international reputation for his outspoken addresses, attacking the levity in modern society and its responsibility by people of position.

MAKE OFFICIALS RESPONSIBLE FOR CITY'S SPENDING

New Regulations to Remove Responsibility From Finance Committee

Amendments to city by-laws which would remove from the Finance Committee all responsibility for expenditures if they should be provided for in the annual city budget has been drafted by city officials, and will be considered by the City Council immediately, it was announced at the City Hall to-day. Drafting of this legislation is the result of the present charge against Mayor Marchant and members of the Finance Committee, wrongfully paying $100 to Police Commissioner W. E. Stanstead, to cover his travelling expenses from Toronto to New York recently.

Under the new regulations, which are being put into formal shape for the consideration of the Council, it will not be necessary for the Finance Committee, as at present, to sign all expenditure warrants. When any expenditure is provided for, either in the annual estimates or otherwise, and the necessary vouchers signed by the heads of the department responsible for the money can be paid without the consent of the Committee or the Council. All vouchers, however, will be signed by the City Comptroller and this is made responsible for these expenditures.

If these regulations are adopted, Finance Committee members explain, city officials will take full responsibility for the city expenditures. As matter of fact, the Finance Committee now approves all warrants brought before it by the city officials and cannot, on account of the enormous volume of business involved, investigate each warrant. It simply approves the official's action. Some times in the case of small current expenses the money has actually been spent before the Finance Committee approves the warrant for it.

The Finance Committee is still adhering to its determination not to

To Hold Throne Till Turkish Peace Is Made

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—Abdication of the Sultan is temporarily out of the question. A truce has been arranged with the Nationalists whereby his status will be held in abeyance until after the conclusion of peace in the future.

This information was given to the Associated Press by the Chief of staff, representing Rafet Pasha, Turkish Nationalist Military Governor of Thrace, who yesterday conferred with the Sultan in his palace.

His Proposal. The Sultan proposed to Rafet that the Angora Assembly be dissolved after the conclusion of peace, that to be followed by a modification of the constitution.

Rafet approached the Sultan for his unfriendly attitude toward Anatolia, whereupon the Sultan countered by mentioning the military occupation of Constantinople.

The Mistake That millions have corrected

As most folks know, brushing teeth in old ways proved most disappointing. Teeth still discolored, still decayed. Beautiful teeth were seen less often than today. Tooth troubles came to 49 in 50.

Millions of people, nearly all the world over, have found a better method. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show one of the results.

All due to film

Most cloudy teeth and most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, despite all brushing, very few escaped those film-caused troubles.

Two new methods

Then dental science, after long research, found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Then these two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

Now advised by dentists the world over. All druggists supply the large tubes.

TWO KILLED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION

Four Injured at Auto Station in Iowa

Knoxville, Ia., Oct. 31.—Two persons were killed and four were seriously injured when a tank in a gasoline filling station here exploded last evening. The dead: Marsh Black, 71-year old station employee, and Mrs. Leonard Bradley of Okaloosa, Ia. The injured are Leonard Bradley, Richard Bradley, William Hamilton and James Mulky. Richard, five-year-old son of the Bradleys, is not expected to live, and the recovery of Hamilton is doubtful.

The Bradleys were having the gasoline tank in their car filled when the explosion occurred. The cause of the blast was not determined. COUNT SFORZA, AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE, RESIGNS

Paris, Oct. 31.—Count Sforza has telegraphed his resignation as Italian Ambassador to France to President Mussolini. He explains that in his view the new Government should have in such posts men in thorough accord with its policies.

"I express for the new Government the most cordial good wishes," the Ambassador's telegram read, "but in a foreign policy which is really a policy and not simply a group of likes and dislikes, everything is interdependent, and men who on all subjects are in accord with the ideas of the Government should occupy these most delicate posts."

GOLD SHIPMENTS TO MONTREAL

New York, Oct. 30.—(Canadian Press)—There is a possibility that the present premium on Canadian funds in New York may divert to Montreal some of the gold shipments which have been coming to this market from the Old Country, says The Wall Street Journal. The paper says local foreign exchange bankers are puzzled as to why gold has not already been shipped to Canada instead of to New York.

The present premium on Canadian funds continues The Journal, "is from one-eighth to 5/32 of one per cent, and the market could absorb a considerable amount of bills without any great reduction in the premium. Avoided cost which would be incurred by shipping to Canada would be only one or two days' loss of interest on the metal. British banks could ship to Montreal and get their credits in Canadian dollars, which could be sold in this market at $1.125, or fractionally better."

UNEMPLOYMENT IN ALBERTA

More Are Idle Now Than a Year Ago

714 Men Have Registered in Calgary

Calgary, Oct. 31.—Unemployment in Alberta is worse to-day than it was at this time a year ago. An increase of 200 in the number of men and women listed as unemployed in Alberta, compared with the same period last year, is reported by Provincial Government Labor Bureau authorities. At the present time 1,448 men and women are registered as unemployed. Men are still flocking into Calgary from all quarters, with the expectation, it is said, of being cared for by the city during the winter. Men to a total of 714 have registered up to date, while in Edmonton the unemployed total fewer than 200.

FIELD FOR AUTHORS IN THIS COUNTRY

Creative Work Needed, Says B. K. Sandwell

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Bernhard K. Sandwell, of McGill University, Montreal, addressing the Canadian Club here yesterday in the interests of the Canadian Authors' Association, of which he is secretary, said conditions in Canada up to the present had not been such as to inspire Canadian writers with the necessary stimulus, either critical or economic. Canadian criticism, he said, was too little concerned with shaking off traditional shackles and in opening up paths to a free, creative future.

It was to the man on the street that he said he looked for the real impetus to Canadian literature.

LAPOINTE HEARD AT GENEVA

Defends Canada's Right to Representation in League Council

Geneva, Oct. 30.—Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries and a member of the Canadian delegation at the International Labor Conference, today strongly defended the right of Canada to a permanent seat on the Executive Council.

He also vigorously opposed inclusion of the United States among the six countries which would be given permanent seats in the Executive Council under the proposed expansion of the Council from 24 to 32 members.

Canada and India now hold permanent seats, but both would be excluded in the reorganization. Mr. Lapointe argued that the military strength should not be regarded as a standard.

ONTARIO LED AT FRUIT SHOW

Took Most Prizes in Overseas Section of London Event

Toronto, Oct. 31.—According to a cable received by Hon. M. Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, Ontario has secured the most prizes at the Imperial London Fruit Show in its overseas section, open to growers and exporters of fruit in any part of the Empire other than Great Britain and Ireland. Fifteen classes were called for, and Ontario growers captured eleven firsts, nine seconds and one third.

Ontario exhibitors sent over twenty-seven lots of six boxes each, and took away one medal, with cash prizes totalling $74.

YOUNG MAN HELD AFTER MURDERS

His Mother and Step-father in Minnesota Shot

Virginia, Minn., Oct. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wirtanen were the victims of a double murder last night, and Toibo Aho, 22, son of Mrs. Wirtanen by a former marriage, is held by the police without charge.

About two hours after the crime Aho, it was said, called the police to the home.

Aho stated that the double murder was committed by a man who ran away immediately after firing the fatal shots. The police refused this explanation and Aho was taken to police headquarters. He is the oldest in the family of six children and opposed the marriage of his mother to Wirtanen.

MRS. E. SUTHERLAND DIED IN LADNER

Ladner, B. C., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Ella Sutherland, for fifty years a resident of Ladner, died at her home a couple of days ago. She was born in Yorkshire, Eng., eighty years ago, and came to the Delta via Cape Horn in a sailing ship. She is survived by two brothers residing here.

POT OF GOLD COIN WORTH $48,000 IS UNEARTHED

Somerset, Ky., Oct. 31.—A pot of gold coins of early English date was found on the farm of Dave Jones, near here, it became known today. State officials, who are hoarding the money pending investigation as to the original owner, estimated the pot contained $48,000 at present gold prices.

GENERAL ELECTION IN NEW ZEALAND

Polling Expected to Take Place December 9

Manifesto Issued by Premier Massey

London, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Reuter's Wellington correspondent cables that it is understood a general election will be held in New Zealand on December 9 and will consist of three-cornered contests between Reform, Liberal and Labor candidates.

Premier Massey has issued an election manifesto, stressing the necessity for some arrangement with Great Britain and the other Dominions, concerning the proper naval protection on the Pacific.

He also advocates a vigorous immigration policy, providing for substantial encouragement in the form of assistance to citizens of the United Kingdom desiring to settle in New Zealand.

The Premier declares a stand must be made against anything in the nature of revolutionary Socialism.

TWO MINUTES OF SILENCE NOV. 11

Armistice Day Observance Throughout the Empire

Service on Parliament Hill in Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The two minutes of silence will, by the express wish of the King, be observed throughout the British Empire on Armistice Day, November 11. Premier King has received a cable to this effect from the Duke of Devonshire, Colonial Secretary.

Incidentally, the cable is practically the first official message sent to Canada by the former Governor-General, by the loss of his post in the Bonar Law Cabinet.

The British Government will also hold a special service in commemoration of the cessation of hostilities by the Canadian Government. While details are not yet completed, a service will be held on Parliament Hill and wreaths laid at the foot of a cenotaph to be erected at the steps leading up to the House of Commons.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur is used like cold cream. (Adv.)

A. W. COPE AIDS LLOYD GEORGE

Dublin, Oct. 31.—A. W. Cope, Assistant Secretary for Ireland and the official mainly responsible for the Anglo-Irish Treaty, has resigned his office and left the civil service to accept the post of chief organizer of the electoral campaign of Mr. Lloyd George.

CHARLES LEE HEAD OF MANITOBA COLLEGE

Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—Professor Charles Lee will continue to act as president of the Manitoba Agricultural College until the end of next year's term. It was decided by the Board of Directors here yesterday that the position was made vacant when Hon. John Bracken left it to become Premier of the province.

VANCOUVER ISLAND DUNCAN TO HAVE A JAM FACTORY

Steps Toward Development in Cowichan District

Special to The Times. Duncan.—A very important special general meeting of the Cowichan Creamery Association was held in the Agricultural Hall, Duncan, attended also by several members of the Cowichan Fruit Growers' Association. John Evans, president of the Creamery Association, was in the chair and the attendance was over one hundred.

Subject to the Fruit-Growers' Association signing up the required contract and putting up the required capital to install the equipment necessary to operate a jam factory, the Creamery members by an overwhelming majority agreed to embrace that industry amongst their other activities.

The meeting was called at this time to give the Creamery plenty of time to make arrangements to handle the coming season's fruit crop.

W. M. Fleming, Agricultural representative, has a fairly complete census of the acreage in the various kinds of fruits within the radius of the Creamery's activities, and by the time the plant is installed these records will be complete.

Home is Bought. Major Fanning has bought Dr. Beaver's residence at Cowichan Bay, and with his mother and sisters will live there shortly. The new family will be an acquisition to the musical circles of this district. Dr. Beaver and his family will leave for the South before the end of the month.

To Castleside. Mrs. Florence Yates, widow of the late Hubert Yates of Cheam, Surrey, England, and daughter of Mrs. David Ford, of Duncan, was quietly married at St. Paul's Church, Golden B. C., on Oct. 24, to Joseph Albert Turner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner, of Corbridge-on-Tyne, England.

Mrs. Turner has returned to Duncan for a short time in order to settle up her affairs and will then join her husband at his home in Castleside, B. C., where he is secretary of the School Board and takes an interest in everything affecting the welfare of his district.

TOUR OF BENEFIT TO MEN ON FARMS

C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, Methosin, Visited Central B.C.

Special to The Times. Methosin.—C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, a member of the Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes and president of the Methosin Farmers' Institute, has just returned from a successful trip made in connection with the Advisory Board and agricultural matters concerning Central British Columbia.

The tour extended from Prince Rupert, embracing Terrace, Forest Dale (South Bulkley), Topping, Francois Lake, Grassy Plains, Ouisia Lake, Wisteria, Smithers, Endreore and Chilliwack also being visited. In all, fourteen very successful meetings were held at the points mentioned and Mr. Whitney-Griffiths stated that undoubtedly the right moment had been selected for the visit. The opportunity was taken advantage of to organize more Farmers' Institutes, and committees were formed to complete details.

A very interesting and important incident in connection with the series of meetings was the fact that a special committee was sent from the Board of Trade at Prince Rupert to look into the cattle situation and to discuss the prospects generally of trade being developed from points south of the G.T.P. to the Prince Rupert terminus.

Many farmers were induced to enter potatoes in the provincial potato fair to be held shortly at Grand Forks. A full report of business accomplished in connection with agricultural matters will be given to the press at the earliest opportunity.

WANT STATION NAMED LANGFORD

Special to The Times. Langford.—A matter which has caused considerable discussion among people of Langford and Colwood districts has terminated in a strongly worded petition again being drawn up and circulated among the residents for signatures.

The majority of Langford and Colwood residents take exception to the fact that the E. & N. station situated at Colwood should be named "Colwood Station," this being the cause of a great many mistakes. Strangers looking for someone living at Colwood alight at Langford, only to find themselves a few miles out of their way. Colwood has the C.N.R. station, rightly named, in its midst.

Copies of the petition have been placed at the stores at Langford and the post office at Colwood, and will in all probability be presented to the proper officials with a strong request for immediate action.

PROFESSOR SPOKE ON PENDER ISLAND

Special to The Times. Pender Island.—The United Farmers held a meeting in Port Washington Hall, at which Professor Boving of the University of British Columbia gave an address.

The second whist drive was held at Port Washington, about the same number of people being present as before. The first prizes were won by Miss M. Tolpott and C. Price, and the booby prizes by Miss H. Logan and H. Aucherterion. The evening finished with a dance.

OUR "CAUSE CELEBRE"

Victoria is acquiring a great deal of unenviable and unnecessary prominence throughout Canada and elsewhere from the prosecution launched against the Mayor and members of the Finance Committee on account of the grant of $100 towards the expenses of Police Commissioner Staneland's attendance at the recent Police Convention in New York.

OLIVER REPLIES TO SUN EDITORIAL

Says Certain Parties Wished to Force Sale on P.G.E. of Booming Grounds

"Regarding the attack made upon me by The Vancouver Sun having reference to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway," Premier Oliver said in a statement issued to-day, "as an example of the unfairness of this attack, I quote from the editorial in question as follows:

EFFECTS OF U.S. TARIFF STUDIED

A Barrier to Importation of Canadian Wheat

Washington, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press)—The emergency tariff law, providing a duty of 35 cents a bushel on wheat, has affected only the trade in Northern Spring wheat produced in the upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys in competition with Canadian wheat of the same variety, according to a formal statement made public to-day by the United States Tariff Commission.

HALIBUT CATCH IN MONTH WAS 2,155,000 POUNDS

PREMIER'S JOB AWAITS THE WOMAN WHO GOES FOR IT
Montreal, Oct. 31.—"Don't be afraid of being called a shrieking sister or a bluestocking—when women want anything they have to talk and say what they think," was the advice given by Judge Emily Murphy, magistrate of the juvenile court, Edmonton, to the members of the Montreal Women's Club yesterday.

MOOSE LODGES WILL HOLD BIG HALLOWE'EN DANCE THIS EVENING
The final selection of judges for the Moose Halloween masquerade ball to be held in the Caledonia Hall to-night just about completes the preparations for this ambitious event. HALLOWE'EN DANCE AT VICTORIA COLLEGE
The Halloween dance at the Victoria College last night was the occasion for the display of many beautiful and original costumes. It was a fancy dress affair, and although not every one donned varied garb, the effect of the scores of bright and bizarre colour schemes, and very picturesque scenes. The college itself with its high-ceilinged rooms, and its paneled walls, its broad stairways and spacious halls, lends itself most delightfully to an affair of this sort. The more old-fashioned the costume, the better it seemed to suit the surroundings.

You see, the chap was like as if he was dazed. Like as if he was walking in a trance. Just did what he was told and said nothing. So we played it up on that, my missus and I; we just sort of took him along without consulting him or seeming to take any notice of him. It was too late to do anything that night when we got up to town. He made a bit of a fuss, lost his temper and swore I was trying to hinder him; but my wife managed him a treat; by Jove, she was marvellous with him, and we got him round to our flat and put him up for the night. I pushed him off to bed early, but I heard him walking up and down his room hours after after talking to himself—talking in tones of horror—'Me! Me! Me! Adulterer!'

part there. I had to get back to my chambers. He turned round on me a face grey as ash, absolutely dead grey. I'd never seen such a color in a man's face. He said, 'Yes, I'm off,' and sort of fell over his stick into the cab. The man, who was already in, righted him on to the seat and said 'Paddington to the driver who was at the door, shutting it. I saw through the window. 'Sabre! Old man, are you ill? What's up? Shall I come with you?' 'He put his head towards me and said in the most extraordinary voice, speaking between his clenched teeth, as though he was keeping himself from yelling out, he said, 'If you love me, Haggood, get right away out of it from me, and let me alone. I mean I know him. We're going down together.'

"I said, 'Sabre—' 'He clenched his teeth so that they all bare with his lips protruding. He said, 'Let me alone. Let me alone. Let me alone.' 'And they pushed off. 'I tell you what I'm going to do, I'm going down there to-morrow. I'm frightened about him.' Haggood had said to his friend of the effect on Sabre of Sabre's action against him: 'He's crazy. The roof's fallen in on him.' And that was all right, Sabre's grief. But it was not so. There are degrees of calamity. Dumounded, stunned, against Sabre would not have believed that conspiracy against him of all the powers of darkness could conceivably worsen his plight. They had shot their bolt. He was struck and in. He was in the crucible of disaster and in his heart where the furnace is white.

"But they had not shot their bolt. The roof had not yet fallen on him. They had discharged but a petty bolt, but a mine to effect a breach. The timbers of the superstructure had bent and cracked and groaned. Their bolt was not the roof crashed in the four sides of his world tottered and collapsed upon him, with the words spoken to Sabre by that man who approached and took him aside while he stood to take leave of Haggood. 'The man said, 'I dare say you know me by sight, Mr. Sabre. I've seen you about the town. You're the coroner's officer at Tidborough. You're rather wanted down there. I've been to Brighton after you and followed here and just took a lucky chance that you would appear. This part. You're rather wanted down there. The fact is that young woman—that's been living with you's been found dead. Sabre's face took then the strange and awful hue that Haggood had marked upon it. 'Found dead? Found dead? Where?' 'In your house, Mr. Sabre. And her body dead with a bullet in her back. 'Found dead? Found dead? Off, dear God... Catch hold of my arm a moment, and I'll tell you what I mean. You go, say. Can't you? Found dead? What do you mean, found dead?' 'Well, sir, that's rather for the coroner. He's waiting at the inquest to-morrow. That's what you're wanted for.' (To Be Continued.)

A Remarkable Palace of Antiquity

These early Cretans were of a race akin to the Iberians of Spain and Western Europe and the dark whites of Asia Minor and North Africa, and their language is unknown. This race lived not only in Crete, but in Cyprus, Greece, Asia Minor, Sicily and South Italy. It was a civilized people for long ages before the fair-Nordic Greeks spread southward through Macedonia.

At Cnosos, in Crete, there have been found the most astonishing ruins and remains, and Cnosos, therefore, is apt to overshadow the rest of these settlements in people's imaginations, but it is well to bear in mind that though Cnosos was no doubt a chief city of this Aegean civilization, these "Aegeans" had in the fullness of their time many cities and a wide range.

the far more extensive Neolithic civilization which is now submerged under the waters of the Mediterranean.

mains as old or older than any of the pre-dynastic remains of Egypt. The Bronze Age began in Crete as soon as it did in Egypt, and there have been vases found by Flinders Petrie in Egypt and referred by him to the 1st Dynasty, which he declared to be importations from Crete.

Stone vessels have been found in Crete of forms characteristic of the IVth (pyramid-building) Dynasty and there can be no doubt that there was a vigorous trade between Crete and Egypt in the time of the XIIIth Dynasty. This continued until about 1000 B.C. It is clear that this island civilization arising upon the soil of Crete is at least as old as the Egyptian, and that it was already launched upon the sea as early as 4000 B.C.

The great days of Crete were not so early as this. It was only about 2500 B.C. that the island appears to have been unified under one ruler. Then began an age of peace and prosperity unexampled in the history of the ancient world.

Secure from invasion, living in a delightful climate, trading with every civilized community in the world, the Cretans were free to develop all the arts and amenities of life. This Cnosos was not so much of a town as the vast palace of the king and his people. It was not even fortified.

The kings, it would seem, were called Minos always, as the kings of Egypt were all called Pharaoh; the king of Cnosos figures in the early legends of the Greeks as King Minos, who lived in the Labyrinth and kept there a horrible monster, half man, half bull, the Minotaur, to feed which he levied a tribute of youths and maidens from the Athenians. Those stories are a part of Greek literature, and have always been known, but it is only in the last few decades that the excavations at Cnosos have revealed low close these legends were to the reality.

All Modern Conveniences.

The Cretan labyrinth was a building as stately, complex and luxurious as any in the ancient world. Among other details we find water-pipes, bathrooms, and the like conveniences, such as have hitherto been regarded as the latest refinements of modern life. The pottery, the textile manufactures, the sculpture and painting of these people, their gem and ivory work, their metal and plaster work, is as admirable as any that mankind has produced. They were much given to festivals and shows, and, in particular, they were addicted to bull-fights and gymnastic entertainments.

Their female costume became astonishingly "modern" in style; their women wore corsets and flounced dresses. They had a system of writing which has not yet been deciphered.

It is the custom nowadays to make a sort of wonder of these achievements of the Cretans, as though they were a people of incredible artistic ability living in the dawn of civilization. But their great time was long past that dawn; as late as 2000 B.C. it took them many centuries to reach their best in art and skill, and their art and luxury are by no means so great a wonder if we return to the disaster nor who inflicted it; but somewhere about 1,400 B.C. Cnosos was sacked and burnt, and though the Cretan life struggled on there rather lamely for another four centuries, there came at last a final blow about 1000 B.C. (that is to say, in the days of the Assyrian ascendancy in the East). The palace at Cnosos was destroyed and never rebuilt nor re-inhabited.

Possibly this was done by the ships of those new comers into the Mediterranean, the barbaric Greeks, a group of Aryan-speaking tribes from the north, who may have wiped out Cnosos as they wiped out the city of Troy. The legend of Theseus tells of such a raid. He entered the Labyrinth (which may have been the Cnosos Palace) by the aid of Ariadne, the daughter of Minos, and slew the Minotaur.

The Iliad makes it clear that destruction came upon Troy because the Trojans stole Greek women. Modern writers, with modern ideas in their heads, have tried to make out that the Greeks assailed Troy in order to secure a trade route or some such fine-spun commercial advantage. If so, the authors of the "Iliad" hid the motives of their characters, artistically. It would be about as reasonable to say that the Homeric Greeks went to war with the Trojans in order to be well ahead with fleet that for 3,000 years they were immune from invasion, that for a thousand years they were at peace.

Was It Legend or Fact?
Century after century their artisans could perfect their skill, and their men and women refine upon refinement. Wherever men of almost any race have been comparatively safe in this fashion for such a length of time, they have developed much artistic beauty. Given the opportunity, all races are artistic. Greek legend has it that it was in Crete that Daedalus attempted to make the first flying machine, Daedalus (— cunning artificer) was a sort-of-romanticized summary of mechanical skill. It is curious to speculate what germ of fact lies behind him—and those—wason-wings that, according to legend, melted and plunged his son Icarus in the sea.

There came at last a change in the condition of these Cretans, for other peoples, the Greeks and the Phoenicians, were also coming out with powerful fleets upon the seas. We do not know what led to a station on the Berlin to Bagdad Railway.

The Vengeance of the Greeks.
The Homeric Greeks were a healthy barbaric Aryan people, with very poor ideas about trade and "trade routes"; they went to war with the Trojans because they were thoroughly annoyed about this stealing of women.

It is fairly clear from the Minos legend and from the evidence of Cnosos remains, that the Cretans kidnapped or stole youths and maidens to be slaves, bull-fighters, athletes, and perhaps sacrifices. They traded fairly with the Egyptians, but it may be they did not realize the gathering strength of the Greek barbarians; they "traded" violently with them, and so brought sword and flame upon themselves.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH HOLDS ANNIVERSARY

Pleasant Programme Recalls Founding of Church 33 Years Ago

On the occasion of its 33rd anniversary, the St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, held an anniversary service last night. The auditorium was prettily decorated with flowers, and a well arranged programme was enjoyed by a large audience who attended on this occasion.

Addresses interspersed with musical offerings comprised the programme. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Dr. A. E. Mitchell who selected a suitable theme for the occasion. Dr. Mitchell is at present pastor of the Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, of the First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Robert Connell, of St. Saviour's Church, and Rev. J. F. Dimmick, of the Methodist Church, brought greetings to the gathering from their congregations.

The only minister living in Victoria to-day to see the laying of the corner stone of the church was present. Rev. Dr. John Campbell who spoke of the past, and touched upon the work of the late Rev. Dr. MacRae, a great friend.

Rev. David McLaren and Rev. Thomas Menzies, M. P. P., both spoke at the anniversary service dealing with the needs of the churches.

The addresses were interspersed with vocal selections by the following: Miss Jean McGowan, Miss Humphries, Miss McLaughlin and Miss Barlow, with Miss Lambert and Mrs. Cotford as accompanists.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the services.

WILL ISSUE BOOK ON INDIANS OF WEST COAST

Interest in the native legends of Vancouver Island has for many years been largely restricted to the scientific men who have conducted investigations on the island. However recently a book from the pen of Alfred Carmichael was published, and now Louis C. J. Matthews, of Port Nitinat, who is now at the Strathcona Hotel, announces to The Times that he has gathered a considerable mass of material relating to the West Coast Indians, and particularly to those around Nitinat and Clooose, which he proposes to put into book form, and publish with illustrations.

He has gathered a mass of original matter which he believes can be of considerable service in saving from oblivion legends and customs of a fast disappearing generation.

THE BAIRN'S BREEKS

The Duke of Atholl, told this story from the Highlands the other day. "An aristocratic old lady in the Highlands," said the Duke, "hired a crofter's boy as page, and gave him a livery that was to be worn only on very special occasions. "One day she gave a dinner party. As she entertained her guests in the difficult ten minutes before the meal was served, a tumbled head was stuck into the dining-room and the voice of the new page asked: "Please, ma'am, am I to wear me ain breeks or yours?"

FRANCONIA IS SPORTS SHIP

Largest Floating Athletic "Field" in World on New Cunarder Just Launched

A wonderfully equipped and spacious sports deck is notable among the many new features on the new Cunarder Franconia, recently launched in the United Kingdom for the trans-Atlantic service. An area of some 6,000 square feet on G Deck, extending the whole width of the ship will be devoted to an enormous swimming pool, a gymnasium and a squash racket court. The Franconia's swimming pool will be longer than the Pompeian pool on board the Berengaria, which is widely known as one of the largest and most magnificent pools afloat. On the side of the deck, and running parallel with it, will be the squash racket courts with an upper gallery which will afford room for a large number of spectators. On the other side will be a gymnasium fully equipped with all kinds of athletic appliances and electric devices for therapeutic treatments. Inasmuch as the Franconia has been constructed to make cruises of considerable length, arrangements have been made whereby she will do her own washing, instead of having to wait until arrival at port. Her laundry is of an extensive character, and the finest of its kind afloat. It will be capable of dealing with several thousand pieces of linen per day. It will be fitted with washing machines of various types, hydra extractors and drying appliances, ironers and presses, all being driven by electric motors. Another interesting feature of the saloon accommodation is the provision of a card room which will doubtless delight the numberless card enthusiasts. In the second class several of the staterooms have been provided with private baths. The Franconia like many of the new Cunarder ships of the past. The first of that name having been sunk by an enemy ship. She is the ninth of the fourteen vessels laid down in the Cunard Company's post war programme. Her dimensions are as follows: Length 620 feet, breadth 74 feet, depth 45 feet, gross tonnage 10,000, average sea speed 18 knots. She accommodates 330 first, 420 second, and 1,000 third class passengers, and her officers and crew will number 416. The Franconia is driven by two sets of steam turbines of the latest Brown Curtis marine type, arranged to work with super-heated steam of 260 deg. Fahr. and driving twin screws through double reduction helical gearing. The deck machinery including the capstans, windlass cargo winches and steering gear are all electrically operated.

JAPANESE CONSTANT PACIFIC TRAVELER

K. Tsunoda, Oil Expert on Shidzuoka, Completes Thirty-seventh Trip

A record was set for the total number of times a passenger had crossed the Pacific last week when O. A. Poole, a New York tea merchant, arriving here on the liner President Jackson, completed his seventy-fourth trans-Pacific voyage. His record is one that will stand for some time, but K. Tsunoda, representative of the Nippon Oil Company, of Japan, who arrived here yesterday afternoon on board the N. Y. K. liner Shidzuoka Maru, claims the Japanese record. Mr. Tsunoda has completed his thirty-seventh trip across the Pacific, and in December will have made his total thirty-eight. Mr. Tsunoda, who is the American representative for the Nippon Oil Company, which has its head office at Tokyo, has just returned from a visit to Japan on the Shidzuoka Maru. He says that business conditions in Japan at present are in a very depressed state. The export trade is suffering he explained, and Japan depends on her export trade to European countries and the American continent. High prices prevail everywhere in Japan he went on to explain, and with high prices they have not a chance whatever to compete with countries producing at a lower cost. Referring to the oil company he represents, he told how Japan depends on the outside market to supply two-thirds of her demand for gasoline and other oil products. The Nippon Oil Company supplies about one-third of the demand at present, but finds that they require a wider field if they are to compete with other companies, as Japan uses up large quantities of gas oil in the present, but finds that there are large numbers used for fishing. For this purpose he has returned to America to negotiate and endeavor to obtain some petroleum property in the Southern States of Mexico. Mr. Tsunoda is returning to his native country again in December. This will be his thirty-eighth trip across the Pacific ocean, and although he is not out to break any record, there is no doubt that he does a great deal of traveling for his company between the two countries. Capt. Ide, of the Japanese navy, also came across. He will, but when reaching the entrance to the Straits of Juan de Fuca their comment turned in an entirely new direction, for they ran into a strong southeast breeze, and before long the sea was running high and huge waves commenced to change the pleasurable trip into a stormy one. "To make things worse, as the vessel neared quarantine a thick mist settled over the water and the port officials were unaware of her position until she was almost at the dock. Capt. T. Iwamoto made his first voyage here as commander of the Shidzuoka Maru, but he knows the Pacific route, having been here many times in the capacity of chief officer on N. Y. K. vessels. The Shidzuoka Maru discharged 60 tons of cargo at Victoria, part of which was consigned for Vancouver. The cargo consisted of porcelain and rice. She carried a first class passenger list of 18, while her steerage was 16 passengers. Four Chinese and Japanese got off at Victoria. The saloon passenger list is as follows: S. Araki, D. Hakata, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hotta, Miss T. Hotta, Capt. T. Ide, N. Kodama, S. Miyatake, I. Murao, Mrs. S. Suetake, Miss Y. Suetake, K. Takaya, Mr. and Mrs. Takeda, I. Tani, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tateishi and K. Tsunoda.

LIQUOR RULING DISASTROUS BLOW TO U.S. SHIPPING

Passenger Business Driven Away, Says Pacific Mail President

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—The recent ruling of Attorney-General Daugherty that the Volstead Act prohibits vessels flying the American flag from carrying intoxicating liquors is one of the most disastrous blows the U. S. Merchant Marine has received in some time, according to Gale Carter, president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, who is here on a business and pleasure trip. Mr. Carter said that the Daugherty ruling will surely drive the passenger business from American vessels to those flying foreign flags, U. S. shipping already having felt the effects of the ruling. He said that nothing could prevent the foreign ships from getting the bulk of the passenger business. The Star of Scotland, last of the Alaska Packers' Association fleet to arrive from the North came into port yesterday from Karluk with 58,892 cases of salmon. It was said the salmon catch this season is far in excess of last and the total 1922 pack amounts to 1,212,773 cases and 7,580 barrels. The steamship Walter A. Luckenbach, which was in collision with the tanker Lyman Stewart October 7, in Golden Gate, will sail for the east coast Wednesday. The freighter will carry an exclusive cargo of California products consisting of canned and dried fruits, beans and nuts, and will make the voyage under high steam in order to land the cargo on the east coast before Thanksgiving.

DESTROYER PATRICIAN BERTHED IN HARBOR

Canadian Naval Unit Again Flying Ensign In British Columbia Waters; Forbidding In Her Black Paint, Speedy War Craft Docked Last Night at Esquimalt After Thirty-Day Passage From Halifax.

H. M. C. S. Patrician, rakish and as trim as ever, except that she presents a more forbidding appearance in her coat of black paint, replacing the war grey of her former visit, is again flying the Canadian naval ensign in Esquimalt harbor. Just thirty days out from Halifax, the Canadian destroyer, "with a bone in her teeth," passed Fisgard Light about 7 o'clock last night and with naval precision fetched up at the dockyard jetty. Lieut. Commander Charles T. Beard, commander of the Patrician, after safely berthing his command, went ashore and paid his respects to the naval officers at the Dockyard establishment. Putting on an extra spurt of speed the destroyer made Esquimalt Harbor several hours ahead of her scheduled time of arrival, the vessel being looked for about midnight.

Has Skeleton Crew. The destroyer, which will be permanently stationed at Esquimalt, and utilized for the development of a volunteer naval force, came out from Halifax with a skeleton crew. She has a total complement of about thirty officers and men, while her usual complement is ninety. Her officers are: Lieut. J. W. W. Beard, who will take over the command of the Patrician with the taking over of the active naval command of the Esquimalt Dockyard by Lieut. Commander C. T. Beard, boarded the ship at San Pedro and came north on her.

British Columbia is well represented in the ship's officers. Lieut. Presey's home is at Duncan, B. C., and he is glad to be back in home waters. Eng. Lieut. Commander Jefferson, who is in charge of the engineering of the Patrician, was formerly on the staff of the Royal Naval College at Esquimalt, who went east some months ago to join the vessel. Lieut. Creevy hails from Vancouver and was here with the Canadian squadron. The Patrician sailed from Halifax on October 1 and the trip of approximately 8,000 miles was completed in thirty days with five days in port en route. She touched at Bermuda, Jamaica, Cristobal, Balboa, La Libertad, San Salvador, Acapulco and San Pedro. Had Mishap. While at San Pedro the Patrician suffered a slight mishap. During a dense fog a vessel collided with her and left a few dented plates amidships on the starboard side. The damage is very slight, but will mean a few days in the hands of the ship repairers here to make it right. The destroyer Patrician joined H. M. S. Capetown at La Libertad and she remained with the cruiser from the West Indies station until beam of Monterey, when the Capetown left her temporarily. Capetown Due Thursday. The light cruiser Capetown is now expected here Wednesday night or Thursday. It was stated today on board the Patrician that the Capetown will remain at Esquimalt until November 12, when she will leave here for Comox for gun practice and will also pay a visit to Vancouver. The Patrician will accompany the Capetown during the cruise in B. C. waters. The British cruiser due here is under the command of Capt. Edward R. Jones. Lieut. Harold Joyce is second in command, and Eng. Commander Charles Gerrard is in charge of the engineering. Lieut. F. R. Gow, a Halifax man who has served for a number of years in the Royal Navy and latterly on H. M. S. Constance, at the Bermuda station, and who took the place of W. A. Vidcombe, the gunnery officer, who was taken ill while en route from Halifax to Bermuda, will be transferred while here to the cruiser Capetown. The Patrician brought a large number of pets, including cats, gazelles and parrots, rated as ship's mascots. A Bermuda kitten, which is the pet of the officers' mess, keenly felt the change in temperature and remained here. J. D. Lawrie, district intelligence officer and senior naval officer at the Esquimalt Dockyard, and George Phillips, civilian head of the station, boarded the destroyer this morning to welcome Lieut. Commander Beard and his officers to the port.

MAYOR AND THREE ALDERMEN ELECT SPEEDY TRIAL
Appearance of Counsel on Behalf of Attorney-General Creates Surprise

An unusual turn in the proceedings against Mayor Marchant and three members of the Civic Finance Committee took place in the County Court chambers before His Honor Judge Lammiman this morning, when J. W. Dixie, solicitor for the Attorney-General's Department, appeared on behalf of the Crown. The occasion was an application by Mayor Marchant and Aldermen Eugene S. Woodward, David Leeming and Richard W. Perry for speedy trial, without the intervention of a jury. D. S. Tait and H. W. Davay appeared for the accused, whose bail was continued to the trial date, fixed for Tuesday in next week.

Mr. Dixie announced that he did not know who would appear for the Crown at the trial. The intervention of the Attorney-General's Department came as a surprise to-day, it being expected that the prosecution in the lower court would carry the hearing through. Frank Higgins, K. C., was not present.

D. S. Tait and H. W. Davay for the accused pressed for a speedy trial at the first open date. It was ascertained that the evidence would not be transcribed until Friday and that Monday was a court holiday, Tuesday being finally agreed upon for the hearing. Mr. Tait pointed to the delay in the transaction of city business as the main desire of his clients for haste.

MONDAY AT POST OFFICE.

The Victoria Post Office will observe Thanksgiving, a legal holiday, and all letter carrier deliveries will be suspended for the day. Money order tickets will be closed all day. Registration and general delivery tickets will be open only from 8 a. m. till 10 a. m., and postage stamps will be sold during these hours. The evening street letter box collections only will be made. Owing to the suspension of letter carrier deliveries on the Monday, on Saturday afternoon of this week the letter carriers will make a delivery, and the money order department will be open as on regular week-days.

SCOTTISH SETTLER PLEADS FOR WORKER IN MAIDEN SPEECH

Kenneth Campbell, Nelson Member, Announces His Stand
He Urges Hard Work and No Shifting of Burdens

Kenneth Campbell, who came out from Scotland a little over a decade ago, made his maiden speech in the Legislature this afternoon. "Coming as I do, more or less recently, from my constituency to a place in this House, I may perhaps claim to know somewhat of the minds of the people in my riding," he said. "I have one interest above all else in this House, that is to see that the condition of the working man is improved in every possible way. I am therefore particularly gratified to know from the speech from the throne, that amendments are to be introduced to extend and supplement that admirable work now done by the Workmen's Compensation Board. I trust that the benefits now granted will be substantially increased in accordance with the repeated requests of labor unions and Liberal associations throughout the Province."

Optimism For Mining.
"Coming as I do, from a constituency situated in the heart of a great mining district, the encouragement and proper development of the mining industry is of the greatest possible interest to me. This not only affects my constituency but several of my honorable friends opposite. A note of high optimism was struck at the mining convention held in the city of Nelson last Summer, and I am glad to say that the present trend and development of progress in the mining seems to indicate that this optimism was not misplaced.

"In this connection I may, in passing, refer to the fact that up to the present time, this year, 250,000 tons of ore was mined and treated in the district referred to. I can only ask the Government of which I am a supporter, to lend their best and constant support to the mining industry generally, and to the prospector particularly."

Road Policy Pleases.
Mr. Campbell congratulated the Minister of Public Works for the thorough and efficient manner in which he is carrying out a programme of road development in the interior of the Province. He declared that the people of Nelson, irrespective of political affiliations, have nothing but commendation for the manner in which the Government has known requests have been promptly met by the Minister.

Forest Losses Deplored.
"Regardless of party, everyone in this House deploras the great loss caused to our forests last Summer, and especially the loss of life by the fires that raged in practically every area of the Province," Mr. Campbell went on.

"We all realize that every possible safeguard must be taken to maintain and protect this great source of natural wealth, and therefore we welcome the suggested amendments to the Forest Act which will make provision for more adequate protection. As a result of some experience actually existing I would suggest that personal responsibility be placed on every individual citizen."

As for the P. O. he said he did not have any extensive knowledge of this serious and very important problem, but he believed citizens of the interior thought there should be serious and honest co-operation between all parties and all elements in the community to find the best possible solution for this problem. "There are two things we need to-day in British Columbia above all else—co-operation and hard work. Mr. Campbell continued, "It is the duty of each one of us here not to shift burden, or obligation, or responsibility to our neighbor, our fellow citizen, our minister, or our Government. There is no golden panacea for all our ills. We have a great Province, a good climate and great resources, but undeveloped. If we adopt our ideal honest and persevering toil on the one hand and co-operation in public life on the other, then we shall have fulfilled the mandate we have in this House for the people."

Skaters All Ready For Arena Opening

To-night's the night for the skaters. At 8:15 o'clock the band, which is rated as being the only Western rival of Sousa's, will play forth, the young man will say to the young lady, "May I have this band with you?" and the longest season in the history of the Arena will be under way.

Since the announcement in these columns three weeks ago of the opening date of the Arena there has been feverish activity among the skating fraternity. Skates and boots have been hoisted from the cellar and given a careful once over. In some cases new outfits have been decided upon while other folks are going to make the old ones hang out for another year.

Look For a Big Crowd.

It is expected that close on to 1,000 skaters will be on the ice this evening when the band begins to play. Opening night is one of the red-letters on the skater's calendar. They all like to be on the pond for the first spin of the season. The record for opening nights was set before the war when over 1,100 skaters jogged about on the pond. Last year 800 skaters enjoyed the fun. This year, however, the skating public has been greatly augmented and it is expected that the attendance will roll up close to the thousand mark.

The engineers of the Arena have been working for a first-class making ice, and they assure the skaters of a good sheet to-night.

The Arena band is being augmented for the occasion and a special program of the latest skating hits will be rolled off by the bandmen.

Skaters this year are assured of four months of continuous skating. If the Victoria hockey team should kick through with a championship the season will string out for another couple of weeks.

Manager Patrick is figuring on opening the Arena on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. Monday is always a closed day at the rink, due to the fact that the Victoria Skating Club and the amateur hockey league has the rink booked for the holiday next Monday and the fact that the rink will not be used by amateurs it will in all probability be opened for general skating.

TORONTO BUCKS ON DEAL FOR LALONDE

Charlie Queerie, of St. Pats, Talks Hotly of Canadiens' Manager

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The Lalonde matter is not settled, said Charlie Queerie, of the world champion St. Patricks, Monday, and the fact that Lalonde would go to Saskatoon for two players.

That yarn got Charlie Queerie of St. Patricks long before breakfast and brought dispatches from Saskatoon and Calgary denying their end of the story. Fred Bents, the Saskatoon manager, says he knows nothing of any Joliat-Gagner deal and Lloyd Turner, the Calgary "boss," says he hasn't even got a player by the name of Gagner. The only player in the West whose name resembles Gagner is Art Gagne of Edmonton Eskimos.

Now for the Toronto end.

Will Oppose the Deal.

"Dandurand is not going to get away with this Lalonde thing," remarked Charlie Queerie to-day. "You don't suppose I am going to allow this trade for Joliat and Gagner, do you? If Dandurand is trading Lalonde for Joliat and Gagner, I will oppose it. Dandurand is foolish like a rabbit. Dandurand is foolish like a fox, that's how foolish he is. If he takes Joliat it is only to beat the N.H.L. rule, which says that unless there is a flat trade for a player in an outside league waivers must be obtained on the player it is proposed to sell. That is to prevent good players from going to poor players coming in. I told Dandurand that his story of a straight trade for Joliat was all bunk and that he was getting something on the side and he was lying."

The St. Patricks offered to give him what he was getting from Saskatoon for Lalonde if he would let Newway come here. Dandurand won't get by with this deal. You watch the fireworks."

All Signed Up.

St. Patricks have signed every man of last year's team. All but Noble was signed last Spring, and Noble was signed up last week. The team reports here Nov. 20, and leaves for the West Nov. 28.

Ren. Randall the veteran utility man should have a good year. He has been working at the arena all summer, and during leisure hours has been playing indoor tennis on the big floor.

"I'm in the pink and ready to go right now," said Randall to-day.

Jackson, the Bluesnose forward, who was here with Stackhouse last Winter, will likely be brought back for another trial but Stackhouse is not likely to be brought up again."

SAY GORDON FRASER TOO GREEN FOR THE SEATTLE DEFENCE

Gordon Fraser, the youngster of the Seattle team, is too green to hold down a regular defence position on a Coast League team, writes Leo H. Lamm in The Seattle Star. In this seven-man game the rover helped out the defence considerably, but in the new style the burden will be on the two defence men and the goalie. The Seattle team can't take chances with using a green youngster as a regular. Fraser is expected to develop in time, but with the class of opposition that Seattle will find this year from Victoria, Vancouver and the pro league teams, a strong team will have to be put on the ice or the Mets will be lost in the shuffle.

Wednesday Football League Leaders Will Have to Be on Their Toes To-morrow

To-morrow several changes may occur in the Wednesday Football League. The Garrison are hitting on all eleven now and while Weilers will have Livingstone back on the field Sweeton will still be missing from centre half.

The other game will be between Hudson's Bay and Fitz. Should Fitz win they will tie with the Bays for the bottom of the heap.

The Garrison and Weilers play at Work Point with Locke as referee, while Fitz and the Bays will appear at the Royal Athletic Park with Payne handling the wheeling play.

Fitz will line up as follows: Jasper; Grimes and Grimes; Robbins, Gibson and Sharrock; Sharock, Robinson, Erskine, Warren and Boden. Reserves, Lynn, Anderson, and Clarke.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Jack Dempsey and his manager Jack Kearns, had made their plans to invade Europe the first of the coming year until Kearns read in the newspapers this morning that Siki, the battling Senegalese, was coming to America. Now the trip is somewhat problematical.

Kearns has received an offer from a syndicate of London business men for Dempsey to meet the winner of the Joe Beckett-Siki fight in London on December 7. There also were offers of theatrical engagements for Dempsey in Europe. Dempsey's trip abroad still is on if Siki is whipped by Beckett, in which case Dempsey will meet Beckett. Kearns said, But if Siki wins and comes to America, Dempsey's trip probably will have to be cancelled.

GIANTS LAND BEST MINOR LEAGUE STAR

Jack Bentley, of Baltimore Orioles, Bought by McGraw For Unnamed Price

New York, Oct. 31.—The New York Giants have purchased Jack Bentley, left-handed pitcher and first baseman, from the Baltimore International, for a substantial sum of money and some players, according to an announcement made to-day.

Bentley, who had led his league at bat, has been sought by big league organizations since 1919 when he became Manager Dunn, of the Orioles, was reported to have refused an offer of $100,000 for the southpaw last month.

Bentley was at one time with the Washington Senators. After seeing service in the war he was released to Baltimore. The Giants will use Bentley as a pitcher. The players to be given in addition to the money paid for Bentley were not announced.

New York, Oct. 31.—Having attained strength to stand on their legs without support, the Professional Golfers Association next year will provide cash prizes out of its own funds instead of accepting donations from individuals as it previously had done.

At the same time the committee will consider the proposal of dividing the country into two sections, each and west, as a preliminary elimination in keeping the field of entrants in the national championship tournament down to 150. Seventy-five players of each section would be qualified to enter for the titular event.

V. I. GIRLS WINS

The ladies' basketball game between teams representing the V.I.A. and D. Spencer's Ltd. played at the Victoria West gymnasium last evening, resulted in an easy win for the V.I.A. ladies by 20 to 2. The big score was due to the fact that Spencer's team were minus the services of three of their regular players, whose places were taken by junior players. Their combination was much inferior to that of the V.I.A. girls who have already played together several times this season.

CAPITOL

Had "Way Down East," which is at the Capitol Theatre, been prepared for the screen by any other director than D. W. Griffith, it would have been a rugged production with a tale of abiding interest, but would have lacked much of the distinctiveness that one observes in the picture as it is now shown. Assuredly there would have been none of the wonderful effects that are of Griffith invention and the story itself would not have been amplified or given such detail as is now to be observed. In other words, there would have been lacking the Griffith touch and it is that which has brought him to the position he occupies to-day in the estimation of every person who has ever seen a motion picture—the genius of the cinema. Griffith leads. He is the pioneer. He never rests content. What was good enough yesterday is discarded by him to-day and he is always seeking perfection. "Way Down East" consumed nearly a million feet of film in the making, and then the picture was cut down to a paltry 14,000 feet, later to be reduced still further in order to provide a compact and impressive story. When the completed product was shown on the screen there was still much to be done in providing appropriate and thematic music. And all the time he is considering new photographic details for future work. Long ago he created, perfected and introduced such inventions as the "close-up," the "switch back," the "fade out," the "long shot," "mist photography." In recent years he has brought to attention the beauties that lie in exquisite tinting, not of the picture but of the screen during the showing of the film. Color photography has not been overlooked by him and in "Way Down East" there is an exquisite picture showing Miss Lillian Gish in a magnificent evening gown. The picture always wins applause. But the "close-up" will probably be all ways most closely identified with the Griffith name. That as an innovation made a sensation in the picture world. At first it was a failure for the photographer did not quite realize what Griffith desired and the heads of the players did not show at all. But that was soon remedied and the "close-up" was quickly adopted by every other director. The list of Griffith improvements is most extensive but they are only incidents in his perfected art.

COLUMBIA

"Shame," the William Fox special which has been looked forward to by many who have heard of the tremendous impression it made in New York, was shown for the first time here yesterday at the Columbia Theatre. It more than fulfilled expectations. The story is absorbing; the acting is impressive. The scenic effects are wonderful. "Shame" fulfills promises made for the progress of motion pictures during the past year. It sets a new standard in the dominant field of entertainment. The story is that of a young man of great wealth and importance in one of the big shipping interests of San Francisco. He is made to believe that his mother was not a white woman and that he is a half-caste. A disreputable trader who claims to know the truth threatens the young shipping magnate with exposure unless he will join in a gigantic smuggling enterprise. David Fielding indignantly refuses. The thought of mixed bloods torments him more and more intensely after the birth of his baby. Finally, he takes the child and flees from civilization to the snowfields of Alaska with his mother and the secretary who follows into Alaska and across the snowfields. They are attacked by wolves, and the secretary jumps from the sled, rifle in

ROYAL VICTORIA

Mack Sennett has evolved a new and popular pastime in "The Crossroads of New York," his latest six reel comedy-melodrama, which is being released through Associated First National Pictures, Inc., and will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day. It is the pastime of a quick getaway.

The plot revolves around the fortune of James Flint, Wall Street power and man of wealth. The financier has not only fallen hard for a Broadway vamp, but finds that he is involved beyond his financial depth. In his philanthropic heart he offered to finance a musical show in which she was to play the part of a girl of how fast that lady could spend money.

Faced by this situation, James decided upon Alaska as a nice, cool place where musical comedies had never established themselves. His quick departure left the management of his affairs in the hands of his nephew Michael, a graduate from the country, who is the main figure in the plot. The youngster has to deal with several villains who aspire to the old man's wealth and makes a success of his job, but only after a series of thrilling dramatic and humorous incidents that include the smashing of a Broadway show and a riotous scene on the New York Stock Exchange.

Mack Sennett's new-found art of making serious dramas with a humorous vein has never been put to a better test than here. The production has been set with a lavish hand and some of the scenes merit to sensational heights—in their effect. Twelve prominent players appear in the cast.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Playhouse show number seven will be a return to musical comedy in potted form with the first part made up of specialty turns, following the type of entertainment that proved so popular during the first two months of the operation of the house under the new management. Mr. Hincks has chosen for his vehicle this time the tuneful comic opera "The Wizard of the Nile," and with Mr. Ernie Petch in the title role the theatre-going public can rest assured that show number seven will hit a high mark in entertaining circles.

Proceeding the potted opera will be vaudeville—turns, consisting of a musical presentation by Bob Webb followed by two delightful song numbers by that winsome little miss, Marie McLaughlin, and concluding with an extremely funny one-act playlet entitled "A Shot in the Dark" in which the characters are T. J. Goodlake, D. Dumbleton, Agnes Stuart, Robertson and Vivian Coombe.

The cast for "The Wizard of the Nile" is perhaps one of the strongest that has yet been presented and includes Ernie Petch, Bob Webb, Reginald N. Hincks, Jack Gillan, Dave Dumbleton, Eva Hart, Agnes Stuart, Robertson, Dorothy Sehl, Marie McLaughlin and Gipsy Switzer.

Playhouse show No. 7 will start to-morrow.

"EVERY GIRL" TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Miss Mayme Bell Famous on Stage and Workshop

Here's a girl who is willing to change her dainty party gowns and sheer lingerie for the rough and ready overalls of the working man.

She is Miss Mayme Bell, one of the bewitching beauties with the "Every-girl" Company.

She is young and pretty and very talented in the art of terpelchore. But singing well, acting naively and looking like a million dollars are not her only accomplishments. During her spare time, Miss Bell studies applied mechanics. She wants to don overalls and "go to it" good and strong.

"During the strenuous war times that we have just past through," said Miss Bell, "like most members of my sex, I felt that the women of the country should learn something practical—so they could take the men's places in the world. Consequently, I took up mechanics. Of course, now the strain on the working power of the country has been eliminated, but I like mechanics so well that I don't want to ever give it up. I hope soon to be as good a mechanic as there is in the country. Then I shall say good-bye to the footlights."

"Everygirl" will be at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 6, 7 and 8, with special matinee on Monday, Thanksgiving Day.

CYCLONE SPREADS TERROR IN "THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

Perhaps the most remarkable storm scene ever pictured on the screen, is that which spreads a terror in, and practically destroys an entire village erected for, "The Old Homestead," a new Paramount picture directed with signal success by James Cruze. Twenty powerful wind machines, aided by a fire engine, were employed in this exceptionally realistic elemental disturbance.

The storm that wrecks the town of Gamzey is a humdinger. The village was a good sized one of forty or more houses and all were erected for destruction by the hurricane and deluge. Their roofs are blown off, their shutters torn away, and their chimneys fall. But the old homestead stands like a rock—symbolic of the indestructibility of the greatest institution of civilization—the home!

Twenty wind machines and a four-inch pipe line with a fire engine pumping the water from a nearby river, over a distance of three quarters of a mile, formed part of the equipment for producing the greatest storm scene that has ever been filmed. According to experts, this Paramount picture which will come to the Dominion Theatre next week entailed a greater amount of ingenuity and difficult work for all concerned than almost any picture that has been made.

The rain was visible three quarters of a mile back from the cameras. At a different period, the set was covered with snow, and when it is remembered that the village consists of about forty houses and several streets, the magnitude of this will be realized.

The four seasons of the year are represented—from Spring to Spring. Thus the appearance of the set had to be altered accordingly and with the final storm much of it was destroyed. The population of the village is practically kept intact throughout the picture. Each resident presumably lives in the village and special houses or stores were assigned to all. When the action of the old homestead is about to start, they flock to the scene just as real villagers would do.

PRIZE BEAUTY

MISS WINIFRED B. MACINTOSH

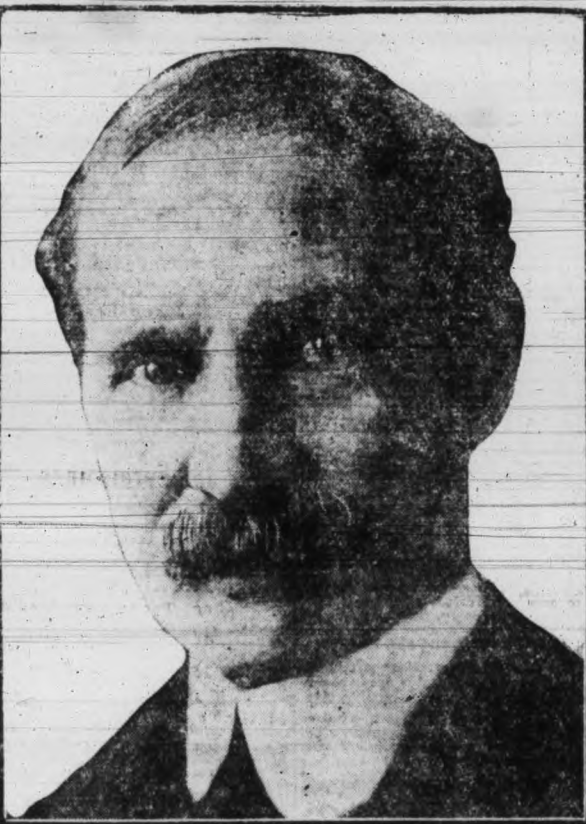

London, Oct. 31.—A crippled girl has been crowned England's beauty queen. She just kept on smiling wittily. When a newspaper here announced the beauty contest, some of her friends at home in Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire, sent in her picture. There were thousands of entries. But Miss MacIntosh's eyes won.

TO DISTRIBUTE JERSEY CATTLE FROM VICTORIA

Arrangements for distributing high-class Jersey cattle in British Columbia are being made by J. F. Graves, owner of Walkiki Farm, Spokane, who is here conferring with Hon. S. F. Tomlin on the matter. It is planned to use Dr. Tomlin's famous Bradford Farm as a distributing point for these cattle. A consignment of one or two cars of Jerseys will arrive here within a few days.

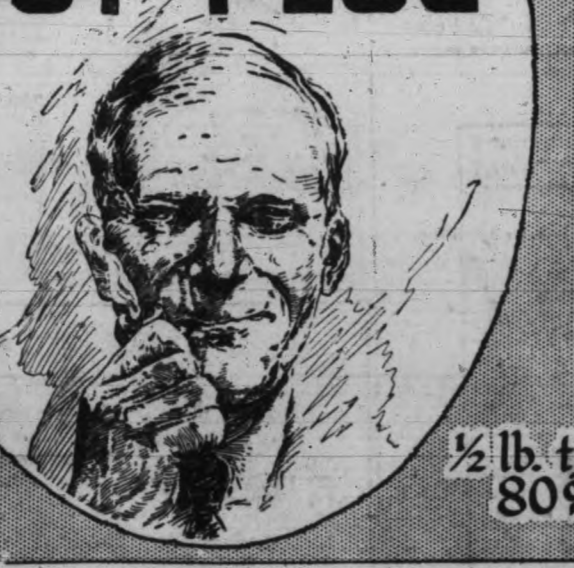

The Walkiki Farm is the largest Jersey cattle breeding establishment in the Northwest and its herds have been brought to a high standard by careful breeding and the purchase of the best blood lines.

NOISY FOWLS OUSTED FROM PUBLIC MARKET

Screeching chickens, which have been annoying Public Market patrons of late will be placed outside the market in a new shelter prepared for them, in accordance with new market regulations approved by the City Council last night. "The chickens have been making a nuisance of themselves lately," Alderman Joseph Patrick, Chairman of the Public Utilities Committee, explained to the Council. "The idea is to put them outside where their screeching will not be heard and where their feathers will not make a mess."

COUNCIL HOLDS Dullest Session

Patrick-Woodward Tilt Saves Aldermen From Boredom

The City Council last night held the dullest meeting since it came into power at the beginning of the year. No business of any importance was discussed, and only a small bickering between Alderman Joseph Patrick and Alderman E. S. Woodward, and a few biting remarks by Alderman E. B. Andros about the way Alderman John Harvey was presiding kept the members from being bored.

The tilt between Alderman Patrick and Alderman Woodward was provoked by the proposal that the Council confer with directors of the Community Chest on the advisability of the city endorsing the new joint charity scheme. Alderman Patrick favored this conference, and Alderman Woodward opposed it. Soon Alderman Woodward was saying that Alderman Patrick was "excited" and "irresponsible," and Alderman Patrick was denying both charges with equal vigor. Alderman Woodward replied that this was typical of his honorable friend.

By this time rules of order had gone by the board and Alderman Harvey, presiding in the absence of the Mayor, evidently had despairing of keeping his colleagues within any bounds at all.

Finally Alderman Andros protested, addressing Alderman Harvey he remarked, "If you are elected Mayor next year, as you hope to be, I hope you'll keep better order than you are doing now."

This did not stop the row, but finally Alderman Woodward carried the day. Instead of being represented at a conference with the Community Chest directors, the Council will refer the Community Chest plan to its Finance Committee.

"The Finance Committee is not the Council," Alderman Patrick observed significantly. "The Committee can deal with a lot of things without referring them to the Council, but it is not the Council after all."

ALDERMAN TODD RAPS CITY'S PESSIMISTS AND TROUBLE MAKERS

Alderman A. E. Todd, at the City Council meeting last night, warmly denied the statements of "pessimistic persons" that "aldermen are communally quarreling among themselves."

"I would like to point out to those pessimistic persons who are trying to make as much trouble as they can in this community that the Reverend Lands Committee (of which he is chairman) has worked together for two years and dealt with a very controversial subject, and all its reports have been unanimous," said Alderman Todd, presenting the new land price list prepared by the committee. "The committee has held more than 190 meetings."

ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS ASSOCIATION

(By J. Eades Ward, Provincial President for British Columbia.)

The Army and Navy Veterans' Association in the province is holding an assembly of veterans of former campaigns, and was established in the year 1866. It has branches in all parts of the British Empire.

Its members include veterans of the Fenian Raids of 1866, 1870 and 1871; the Red River Expedition of 1870; the Fenian Raids of 1885; the Boer War, the South African, the Boer War and veterans of the Great War.

Can veterans of the Empire forget the names of the Khaybar, Balaklava, Majuba Hill, Abyssinian campaigns? Would any association, military or naval, place on its records these names and the sufferings of our men who took part therein?

Do you remember the devotion and self-sacrifice of our nursing sisters in the hospitals of the Boer War, and the nursing sisters in conjunction with the 16th Canadian Scottish and the 5th Regiment are holding a Grand Armistice Memorial Ball at the Armories, for the purpose of obtaining Victoria's contribution towards the erection of a National Memorial to commemorate the nursing sisters of the C.E.F. who gave their lives while serving overseas.

ARMISTICE HAPPENINGS

Do you remember the glorious achievements at the taking of Passchendaele?

Do you remember how your heart and spirit swelled with the tales of the victory and the sufferings of our men who took part therein?

Do you remember the devotion and self-sacrifice of our nursing sisters in the hospitals of the Boer War, and the nursing sisters in conjunction with the 16th Canadian Scottish and the 5th Regiment are holding a Grand Armistice Memorial Ball at the Armories, for the purpose of obtaining Victoria's contribution towards the erection of a National Memorial to commemorate the nursing sisters of the C.E.F. who gave their lives while serving overseas.

If you can take tickets and be present, your help will make Victoria's contribution a worthy one.

Tickets are available in the principal stores of the city, and from members of the 5th and 16th Regiments.

This story is told at the Amputation Club.

Three B. C. men—one well-known Victorian—included—on being in-validated home stopped off in Toronto and were given a more time by a party of overseas friends, and taken down to the train for the West. A drawing-room having been reserved for them, they were bundled in and given bottles of "Restorative" to "see them over the Divide."

One of the three had lost both legs above the knee, another had lost one leg below the knee. All three had been provided with the latest and most approved substitutes.

After the train pulled out our friends proceeded to dispose of themselves for the night. They removed their own parts and set them in their new compartments. There in their nakedness the four substitute members stood in a row, a most unusual sight.

Sitting on the edge of the berth, in dismembered state the boys discovered that they had no soda. The bell was rung, and the door opened by a black-faced porter, who, on seeing the amputation display, uttered a yell and closed the door.

Our surprised friends rang and rang without response, until at last the sleeping-car conductor came to their assistance. They demanded soda and wanted to know what in what was the matter with the porter. The conductor laughingly replied that on the previous trip west the porter had found a man in that particular drawing-room dead in bed. The porter had protested against taking out

STALE NEWS

"I've got great news for you," cried Jack.

"What is it?" asked Cousin Jennie.

"I'm going to marry, May Pretty-man."

"Shaw! That's not news. She asked me a month ago if I'd be her bridesmaid."

"HAD A NARROW ESCAPE"

"I never realized until a few months ago how risky it is to neglect a cold in the chest. I have always had such good health, that a cold either in the head or chest, while unpleasant, never gave me any worry. Outside an occasional cold, I have never known what it was to be laid up even for a day in all my life, until last December. One afternoon I got a chill and no matter how close I got to the stove, I couldn't seem to get warm. This chill was followed by a cold in my chest. As usual I neglected it and it kept getting worse and worse. Finally I had to go to bed and send for the doctor. His examination showed that I had pneumonia and a bad case at that. By careful nursing on the part of my husband, my children and some friends, I managed to pull through, but the doctor told me I had a narrow shave. And here's where my troubles began. While I was now out of danger, I was anything but well. I was still very weak from the effects of the pneumonia. Although I had lost little of life and energy before my sickness, I was now worn out and tired all the time. I slept fairly well, more because I was exhausted. But my sleep didn't refresh me because, while I appeared to be asleep, I was conscious most of the time of what went on around me. Although all kinds of tempting dishes were prepared for me, I had no relish for food. This sickness had already undermined my health to such an extent that I was a living skeleton. I was getting discouraged as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. 'I wonder if Carnol wouldn't build you up,' a friend said one day, 'it did me a world of good, I was completely run down and you can see for yourself how well I look today. Why don't you try it? Thanks to this friend's advice I am in perfect health again, as healthy and as full of life and vitality as I have ever been.'

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, and if you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 9-622

OAK BAY COUNCIL FAVORABLE AFTER BOARD IN PRINCIPLE

Further Consideration to Be Given Legislative Draft Before Sanction Ratified

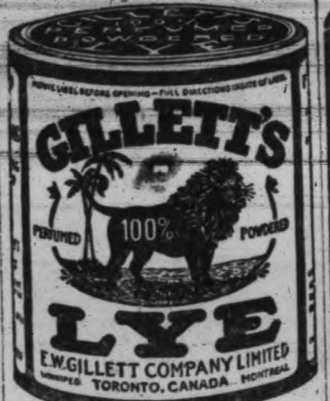

Following an exposition of the benefits that would accrue from the creation of a Greater Victoria Water Board, the Oak Bay Council in regular session last night approved of the principle and tabled the matter for further consideration of the draft of suggested legislation to effect the change.

The Water Board project was outlined by Alderman A. E. Todd, Cuthbert Holmes, Alderman Richard W. Perry, Alderman David Leeming, Reeve Watson, J. M. Kelle and Ed-win Tomlin. The subject received the undivided attention of the Council for over an hour, in which time the principle was ratified. It was held essential, however, that the Greater Victoria Water Board and its functioning should be kept free from municipal politics.

Considering a number of routine matters the Council was informed by the municipal solicitor that it could not be forced to open up roads shown on the plan, unless such roads were to the public interest. The decision came in response to numerous applications for opening up roads charted but unmade.

The Council will answer two requests for the use of the Oak Bay park area for athletic purposes by referring that the Council has not yet settled its final disposition. Requests for two additional street lights and certain repairs asked were referred to the works committee for action.

The Council received an invitation to be represented in the Armistice Day commemoration ceremony and accepted. The approval of the closing of certain unmade streets in Oak Bay Park was received as passed by Order-in-Council.

jected to delay incident to transmission by transoceanic mail. Each has its own peculiar field of usefulness; the cable letter serving for such correspondence as is out of immediate urgency but which should be disposed of within a day or two, while the week-end letter will serve for communications of still less urgency, but nevertheless sufficiently important to require their transmission in quicker time than can be done by the overseas mail service.

An instruction to Chinese soldiers reads: "If the rifle is broken use the butt, if the butt breaks use the fist, if the fist fails use the teeth." If the enemy pulls out your teeth, tell him he is no gentleman.

At times in each month I remained in bed, the pain was more than I could stand, and to walk was almost impossible. I used about $50.00 worth of other medicines, but with little result. Now I am completely better, after using only five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."
