PREFACE.

While the publishing of still another Baseball Guide may seem a hazardous venture when the market is already well supplied with literature of this character, it is believed this book will fill a long want—a desire for a guide that can be carried throughout the season without the inconvenience of the bulk of the ordinary baseball book.

Especial attention has been given to the scores of the World's Series of last year, pointing out many discrepancies in the figures as given out by the official scorers of these games and those furnished by a large number of baseball writers of the major league cities who covered the series for their respective papers.

Attention is also called to the comprehensive schedules shown of the National and American Leagues—the first a calendar schedule for the entire baseball season, showing all games, conflicting dates, holidays and other double game days; next, immediately following, will be found a "trip" schedule, showing starting and ending date of all sectional and intersectional games in both leagues. This is followed by the schedule by series, the official figures issued from the league headquarters, from which the preceding schedules are arranged.

The policy of this publication will be absolutely neutral—trying best to serve the interests of the entire baseball world.

While this is the first appearance of Burton's Pocket Baseball Guide, the publisher already feels assured of its permanency.

Very truly yours,

IRWIN R. BURTON, Publisher.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMMISSION.

BASEBALL-PAST AND PRESENT.

A Review of the Great Outdoor Pastime by the American League President.

Last season was the banner year of baseball. The patronage at Major League games, and throughout the cities of the National Association, far exceeded the records of previous years. In the American League the returns were far beyond expectation, but this was due, in a great measure, to the phenomenal race.

The approaching campaign gives promise of events of equal interest. Six of the eight clubs in the American League are well balanced and evenly matched. In the National, a harder struggle may be looked for than marked the race of last season. Philadelphia and New York will surely crowd Chicago for the pennant.

In the American League, the New York, Cleveland and St. Louis clubs have been materially strengthened, and are sure to be prominent contenders with Detroit, Philadelphia and Chicago for the championship flag.

One of the chief incidents of the winter was the contract made by the Philadelphia American League Club for the construction of a mammoth baseball plant of steel and cement. The grandstand will be the largest in the country, having accommodations for 10,800 persons, and the total seating capacity of the grounds will exceed 30,000.

President American League.

EDITORIAL

THE SEASON OF 1908.

On the eve of the ushering in of all other baseball season it can be said with out the slightest fear of exaggeratic that the year 1908 will witness the mospountiful prosperity the great nationgame has ever enjoyed, this in the fac of the fact that our United States have just passed through a panic in the busness world, which, it was feared by many would extend far into the new year, and as a natural consequence, would have it effect in materially reducing the available supply of "baseball" currency. But with the call of "play" on next Tuesday it is a safe prediction that any thought of financial stringency in the mind of th "fan" will be relegated in his memory an equal distance with a ninth-inning defeat for his favorite team.

That the past season far outstripped it predecessor in the matter of enthusiasm and in returns to the promoters of ou great outdoor sport will be no news to a follower of the game. The credit is du both to the business-like methods of the officers of the different baseball organizations and the hearty and enthusiastic sup port of the press.

THE NATIONAL COMMISSION.

The supreme court of baseball, the Na tional Commission, is especially to be congratulated in the masterly handling of affairs under its jurisdiction during the past year. The deliberations of this body of men highest up in the world of baseball are followed closely by baseball patrons, who look upon their decisions as final.

AMENDMENTS TO THE PLAYING BULES.

The Joint Rules Committee, at its meeting in February, amended Rule 14, section in regard to the soiling of new balls by the pitcher, striking out the words "exept the pitcher," who has heretofore been ermitted to rub gloss from a new ball in my manner he desired, the usual procedure being the rubbing of the ball on he grass or soil until the objectionable closs entirely disappeared. The unnecessary time consumed by some pitchers in his manner forced action by the committee. While the rule will most likely meet the contingency required of it, considerable time may still be consumed in rubbing a new ball with the hands to get rid of its "shine," unless umpires enforce the rule to the letter.

Rule 85, section 5, in regard to sacrifice hits, was amended by the addition of the following: "A sacrifice hit shall also be credited to a batsman who, when no one is out or when one man is out, hits a filly ball that is caught, but results in a run being scored." It has been argued, also, that a batter who advances a runner from first to second or from second to third should also be credited with a sacrifice hit.

OFFICIAL SCORING.

President Carson of the Central League a short time ago brought up the question of official scoring, in championship games, suggesting the appointment of officials for this work who would be put on a salary and governed by the league heads as umpires are at present, thereby giving uniformity of averages, scores, etc. While such an innovation may be needed in some cities, the baseball writers of a large majority of cities follow the official scorer, who is almost invariably one of their number, thereby giving the public identical accounts of games.

It is regrettable, however, that, in the It is regrettable, however, that, in the most important games of the year—the World's Series—when every player is striving to make for himself a name that will live in baseball history, uniformity in scoring is sadly lacking. Reference to this subject is made in detail under the heading "The World's Series."

THE WORD "OFFICIAL" AS APPLIED TO BASEBALL GUIDES.

While the word "official" does not appear as part of the title of this book, the iverages, schedules and rules contained herein (unless otherwise specified) come from the same source as those printed in other publications of this charater—viz., other publications of this charater—viz., those given out by the headquarters of the different leagues to the Associated Press and other like dispensers of general news matter, and published in all metropolitan newspapers. As "it is but human to err," it is probably the wiser policy not to have mistakes which creep into such a publication as this made "official."

THE BOTTLE-THROWING EVIL.

On two occasions last season this weapon of the cowardly hoodlum was exposed to national gaze, a National and an American league park being the scene of trouble, the former in Brooklyn, the latter in St. Louis. While the Brooklyn incident was devoid of bloodshed, the affair in St. Louis came very near resulting in the death of Umpire Evans, who was struck on the head with a bottle by a boy. Making the throwing of a bottle onto the playing field at any time suffi-cient cause for ejectment from the grounds should stamp out this evil. If not, then the selling of bottled goods should be discontinued.

THE WORLD'S SERIES.

Chas. W. Murphy, owner world's champions.

The Chicago National and Detroit American League teams, champions in their respective leagues, met to decide the winner of the world's championship immediately following the close of the season, the series starting on Tuesday, October 8, in Chicago.

The Cubs, winners of the championship of the National league two successive years, and breakers of the world's record for games won in 1906, were looked upon by their followers as sure winners of the world's title in their battles with the Tigers.

The Detroit fans, on the other hand, were just as confident the world's pennant would adorn Bennett Park. They had come to believe the pitching of Donovan, Mullin, Killian and Siever, with the powerful batting of Cobb and Crawford, who had been setting a terrific pace in the American league, would be irresistible. But they were doomed to bitter disappointment, as the Cubs' pitchers not only outpitched the Tiger boxmen, but also put a stop to the slugging of Cobb and Crawford, the former getting a batting percentage of only .200 in the series.

Only in fielding did Detroit surpass Chicago, then only by a small percentage, being outhit and outplayed in all other departments of the game.

The first game was probably the most exciting ever played in a world's series. Both Donovan and Overall pitched grand ball, but were handicapped by poor support, both teams seeming to be extremely nervous. Errors at critical times kept the spectators on the anxious seat, never knowing what to expect once the ball started in play. The hits were 10 to 9 in Chicago's favor, but the Tigers had only 3 errors to 5 for the The stolen bases were 7 to 2 in the Cubs. Cubs' favor, but, strange to say, not one of Chicago's stolen bases resulted in a score, while Chicago's stolen bases resulted in a score, while both of Detroit's crossed the counting station. The game ended in a 3 to 3 tie at the end of twelve innings, a sensational catch of a line drive by Schaefer from Chance's bat, on which he easily doubled Sheckard off first, ending the game in semi-darkness.

The second game, at Chicago, was captured by the Cubs by a 3 to 1 score, stolen bases by Tin-ker and Slagle both counting in the scoring. Hits in this game were even—9 to 9. Each team made one error. Pfister and Mullin were both in good form, the Cub being steadier in tight situations.

The third game, at Chicago, resulted in the Tigers again being bested, entirely through hard hitting by the Cubs. Hits were 11 for Chicago to 5 for Detroit, errors even-1 each. Not even an attempt was made to steal a base by either team in this game. Reulbach had the Tigers completely at his mercy.

The fourth game, at Detroit, again saw the Cubs on top, this time the score being 6 to 1. This was the most uninteresting game of the series, rain and snow falling during the progress of the game. Donovan was pitted against Over-all, as in the first game, but the latter's support all, as in the first gaine, but the latter's support was good, while Donovan, while pitching a fair game, had bases on balls and errors to contend with, which decided the game against him.
The fifth and last game, at Detroit, settled all doubt of the superiority of the Cubs. Brown, the Cubs' star box artist, shut the Tigers out, the base running of Slagle and Evers, with timely hitting, bringing victory.

The Series Scores and Averages.

Reference is made editorially to the lack of uniformity of daily newspaper and official scores in these games. In so important a series as the world's games it is but fair to players and public alike that the daily records and series averages should be brought to a point as nearly per-fect as possible before being given out as final. While differences of opinion regarding certain plays often arise in ball games on hits, errors, etc., in this review but two references are made concerning such plays, the other exceptions noted being on plays allowed or disallowed in direct violation of the scoring rules. Scores taken from a majority of the daily papers of four cities which had special representatives at the games were carefully gone over and comparisons made with the official scores, the figures given below showing the official scores as given out, with corrections noted following each box score. The scoring rule which seems to have been disregarded in the official figures, appears in the official playing rules as Rule 84, Section 9.

WORLD'S SERIES.

Base Stealing Records

As official records merely give number of bases stolen by each individual player, it will probably be interesting data to give the number of attempts at stealing, which will also tend to show effectiveness of catchers in the throwing department. In the following table will be noted, in order, "attempted steals," "stolen bases," and "outs":

THE 1907 NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE.

The National league race ended, as expected, in an easy victory for Chicago. Getting a good start early in the race, this great aggregation went along at an easy gait, never having to extend themselves for any length of time. Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York finished in the order named in the first division. Following is the team averages:

THE CHICAGO CUBS

President-CHARLES W. MURPHY. Manager and Captain-Frank Chance.

The World's Champions will start the coming season with the same players who went through the National League without greatly extending themselves in 1907. It is hoped the new season will uncover at least one team that will be able to push this fast bunch of West Siders, for a part of the season at least, to their limit. With two or more teams fighting for the lead in the National League the West Side park, with its greatly increased seating capacity, would be none too large to hold the fans.

The way the Cubs line up:

Slagle-Center field. Sheckard-Left field. Steinfeldt-Third base. Chance—First base. Kling, Moran, Campbell—Catchers. Evers—Second base. Schulte—Right field.
Tinker—Shortstop.
Brown. Overall, Reulbach, Lundgren,
Pfiester, Fraser, Durbin, Donahue,

Pitchers.

Utility-Hofman.

Season opens April 14 at Cincinnati. First home game and National League Pennant Raising, April 22, with Cincinnati.

THE 1907 AMERICAN LEAGUE RACE.

The championship race in the younger league was more exciting, if possible, than any fight for the flag in its history, which has been replete with sensational battles for the coveted honor.

The Chicago White Sox, getting a start early in the race, were leaders for nearly two-thirds of the season, with Cleveland and Philadelphia close behind, always fighting to pull the Sox from the top of the heap. On several occasions during the season Cleveland loomed up as a championship possibility, being close up to the top a major portion of the year. Even up to the last two weeks this team of stars had a glorious chance. But it remained for a second division team to practically put them out of the running —a western team at that, losing the last series with St. Louis before going east.

Philadelphia, playing inconsistently in the earlier part of the season, braced up in mid-season and gradually worked its way up among the leaders, the great work of its pitching staff being the feature of the team's playing.

Detroit, looked upon as hardly of championship caliber early in the race, now loomed up as a contender for the highest honors in the league. With the steady honors in the league. With the steady work of the Tiger pitchers was combined the terrific hitting of Cobb and Crawford, the timely swats of these two players landing many a game that seemed lost. It remained for the last eastern invasion to decide the championship, which was practically decided during the last series between Detroit and Philadelphia, although the Athletics still had a charge although the Athletics still had a chance should the Tigers fall down in their last stand at St. Louis. But this they refused to do. Following are the team averages:

HOW TO FIGURE AVERAGES.

While the great majority of fans take a keen interest in the averages of players and teams as given out after the end of each baseball season, an even greater interest is manifested in the averages of the different teams and players as they appear daily and weekly in the metropolitan newspapers. In order to enlighten the baseball enthusiasts who may not be versed in the different methods of figuring such averages, the following is appended for their benefit:

For the purpose of showing the batting average of a player take, for example, Lajoie's (American League) average in batting for 1907: The "A. B." column shows this player was 'at bat' 509 times, making a total of 152 hits. Divide the number of hits by the number of times at bat, thus: $152 \div 509 = .298$ 318/509. The fraction being more than $\frac{1}{2}$, the last figure is raised to 9, making .299, the figure given in the official averages. One more hit would have landed this player in the .300 class.

To find the correct fielding average of a team or player add the total number of chances offered ("put-outs," "assists" and "errors") and number of chances accepted ("put-outs" and "assists"); then divide the number of chances "acepted" by total number of chances "offered," which will give the correct fielding percentage. For example: Wagner, of Pittsburg, last year had 314 put-outs, 428 assists, and made 49 errors, a total of 791 chances, of which he accepted 742. Therefore, 742 ÷ 791 = .938, the official average.

To get correct team percentages, add total games played, then divide the number won by this total. Example: Detroit last year won 92 and lost 58 games, a total of 150 being played; therefore, $92 \div 150 = .613$, the percentage of games won.

This method can also be followed in determining percentage of games won by pitchers.

WHAT HUGH JENNINGS THINKS OF THE CUBS' PROSPECTS OF WIN-NING THE NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP WITHOUT MANAGER CHANCE.

At a time when the injury to Captain Chance's foot threatened to lay him up for the coming season, Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit American League team was asked his opinion of the Cubs' chances for the National League championship in 1908 without their leader. He wrote as follows:

Hot Springs, Ark., March 21, 1908. "On account of the confidence the Cubs will have due to being champions, I think they would win again, even though Chance may be unable to play this season.

"Donlin's return to the Giants, together with the acquisition of Tenney and Bridwell, will make the Giants a team to be feared, and the Cubs had better look to their laurels. Pittsburg and Philadelphia ought to be in the running to the end, with a possible chance of my old pal, Joe Kelley, bringing his team up with the leaders.

"HUGH JENNINGS."

CORRECT DIAGRAM OF PLAYING FIELD.

Official Playing Rules 1908

The Ball Ground.

RULE 1. The ball ground must be enclosed. To obviate the necessity for ground rules, the shortest distance from a fence or stand on fair territory to the home base should be 235 feet and from home base to the grandstand, 90 feet.

To Lay off the Field.

RULE 2. To lay off the lines defining the location of the several bases, the catcher's and the pitcher's position and to establish the boundaries required in playing the game of baseball, proceed as follows:

Diamond or Infield.

From a point, A, within the grounds, project a straight line out into the field, and at a point. B, 154 feet from point A, lay off lines B C and B D at right angles to the line A B; then, with B as a center and 63.63945 feet as a radius, describe arcs cutting the lines B A at F and B C at G, B D at H and B E at I. Draw lines F G, G E, E H, and H F, which said lines shall be the containing lines of the Diamond or Infield.

The Catcher's Lines.

RULE 3. With F as a center and 10 feet radius, describe an arc cutting line F A at L, and draw lines L M and L O at right angles to F A, and continue same out from F A not less than 10 feet.

The Foul Lines.

RULE 4. From the intersection point, F, continue the straight lines F G and F H until they intersect the lines L M and L O, and then from the points G and H in the opposite direction until they reach the boundary lines of the ground, and said lines shall be clearly visible from any part of the diamond, and no wood or other hard substance shall be used in the construction of such lines.

The Players' Lines.

RULE 5. With F as center and 50 feet radius, describe arcs cutting lines FO and FM at P and Q; then, with F as center again and 75 feet radius, describe arcs cutting FG and FH at R and S; then, from the points, P, Q, R and S, draw lines at right angles to the lines FO, FM, FG and FH, and continue the same until they intersect at the points T and W.

The Coachers' Lines.

RULE 6. With R and S as centers and 15 feet radius describe arcs cutting the lines R W and S T at X and Y and from the points X and Y draw lines parallel with the lines F H and F G, and continue same out to the boundary lines of the ground.

The Three-Foot Line.

RULE 7. With F as a center and 45 feet radius, describe an arc cutting the line F G at 1, and from 1 to the distance of three feet draw a line at right angles to F G, and marked point 2; then from point 2, draw a line parallel with the line F C to a point three feet beyond the point G, marked 3; then from the point 3 draw a line at right angles to line 2, 3, back to and intersecting with F G, and from thence back along the line G F to point 1.

The Batsman's Lines.

RULE 8. On either side of the line AFB describe two parallelograms six feet long and four feet wide (marked 8 and 9), their longest side being parallel with the line AFB, their distance apart being six inches added to each end of the length of the diagonal of the square within the angle F, and the center of their length being on said diagonal.

The Pitcher's Plate.

RULE 9. Section 1.—With point F as center and 60.5 feet as radius, describe an arc cutting the line FB at line 4, and draw a line 5, 6, passing through point 4 and extended 12 inches on either side of line FB; then with line 5, 6, as a side, describe a parallelogram 24 inches by 6 inches, in which shall be located the pitcher's plate.

Sec. 2.—The pitcher's plate shall not be more than 15 inches higher than the base lines or the home plate, which shall be level with the surface of the field, and the slope from the picther's plate to every base line and the home plate shall be gradual.

The Bases.

RULE 10. Section 1.—Within the angle F, describe a five-sided figure, two of the sides of which shall coincide with the lines FG and FH to the extent of 12 inches each, thence parallel with the line FB 8½ inches to the points X and Y, a straight line between which, 17 inches, will form the front of the home base or plate.

a play being made at home plate.

Sec. 16.—If he pass a base-runner who is caught between two bases, he shall be declared out immediately upon passing the preceding base-runner.

Overrunning First Base.

Sec. 17.—The base-runner in running to first base may overrun said base after touching it in passing without incurring liability to be out for being off said base, provided he return at once and retouch the base, after which he may be put out as at any other base. If, after overrunning first base, he turn in the direction of or attempt to run to second base, before returning to first base, he shall forfeit such exemption from liability to be put out.

Sec. 18.—If, before two hands are out and while third base is occupied, the coacher stationed near third base shall run in the direction of home base on or near the base line while a fielder is making or trying to make a play on a batted ball not caught on the fly, or on a thrown ball, and thereby draws a throw to home base, the base-runner entitled to third base shall be declared out by the umpire for the coacher's interference with and prevention of the legitimate play.

Sec. 19.—If one or more members of the team at bat stand or collect at or around a base for which a base-runner is trying, thereby confusing the fielding side and adding to the difficulty of making such play, the base-runner shall be declared out for the interference of his team-mate or team-mates.

Sec. 20.—If he touch home base before a base-runner preceding him in the batting order, if there be such preceding base-runner, lose his right to third base.

When Umpire Shall Declare an Out.

RULE 57. The umpire shall declare the batsman or base-runner out, without waiting for an appeal for such decision, in all cases where such player be put out in accordance with any of these rules, except Sections 13 and 17 of Rule 56.

Coaching Rules.

RULE 58. The coacher shall be restricted to coaching the base-runner only, and shall not address remarks except to the base-runner, and then only in words of assistance and direction in running bases. He shall not, by words or signs, incite or try to incite the spectators to demonstrations, and shall not use language which will in any manner refer to or reflect upon a player of the opposite club, the umpire or the spectator. Not more than two coachers, who must be players in the uniform of the team at bat, shall be allowed to occupy the space between the players' and the coachers' lines, one near first and the other near third base, to coach base-runners. If there be more than the legal number of coachers or this rule be violated in any respect the captain of the opposite side may, call the attention of the umpire to the offense, and thereupon the umpire must order the illegal coacher or coachers to the bench, and if his order he not obeyed within one minute, the umpire shall assess a fine of $5.00 against each offending player, and upon a repetition of the offense, the offending player or players shall be debarred from further participation in the game, and shall leave the playing field forthwith.

The Scoring of Runs.

RULE 59.—One run shall be scored every time a base-runner, after having legally touched the first three basis, shall legally touch the home base before three men are put out; provided, however, that if he reach home on or during a play in which the third man be forced out or be put out before reaching first base, a run shall not count. A force-out can be made only when a base-runner legally loses the right to the base he occupies and is thereby obliged to advance as the result of a fair hit ball not caught on the fly.

UMPIRE AND HIS RULES.

Power to Enforce Decisions.

RULE 60. The umpire is the representative of the League and as such is authorized and required to enforce each section of this code. He shall have the power to order a player, captain or manager to do or omit to do any act which in his judgment is necessary to give force and effect to one or all of these rules, and to inflict penalties for violation of the rules as hereinafter prescribed.

RULE 61. There shall be no appeal from any decision of the umpire on the ground that he was not correct in his conclusion as to whether a batted ball was fair or foul, a base-runner safe or out, a pitched ball a strike or ball, or on any other play involving accuracy of judgment, and no decision rendered by him shall be reversed, except that he be convinced that it is in violation of one of these rules. The captain shall alone have the right to protest against a decision and seek its reversal on a claim that it is in conflict with a section of these rules.

Must Not Question Decisions.

RULE 62. Under no circumstances shall a captain or player dispute the accuracy of the umpire's judgment and decision on a play.

Clubs Can Not Change Umpire.

RULE 63. The umpire cannot be changed during a championship game by the consent of the contesting clubs unless the official in charge of the field be incapacitated from service by injury or illness.

Penalties for Violations of the Rules.

RULE 64. In all cases of violation of these rules, by either a player or manager, the penalty for the first offense shall be a fine by the umpire of $5.00, and, for a second offense, prompt removal of the offender from the game or grounds, followed by a period of such suspension from actual service in the club as the president of the League may fix.

Umpire to Report Violations of the Rules.

Umpire to Report Violations of the Rules. RULE 65. The umpire shall within twelve hours after fining or removing a player from the game forward to the president a report of the penalty inflicted and the case therefor.

RULE 66. Immediately upon being informed by the umpire that a fine has been imposed upon any manager, captain or player, the president shall notify the person so fined and also the club of which he is a member; and, in the event of the failure of the person so fined to pay to the secretary of the League the amount of said fine within five days after notice, he shall be debarred from participating in any championship game or from sitting on a players' bench during the progress of a championship game until such fine be paid.

RULE 67. When the offense of the player debarred from the game be of a flagrant nature, such as the use of obscene language or an assault upon a player or umpire, the umpire shall within four hours thereafter forward to the president of the League full particulars.

Warning to Captains.
RULE 68. The umpire shall notify both captains before the game, and in the presence of each other, that all the playing rules will be strictly and impartially enforced, and warn them that failure on their part to co-operate in such enforcement will result in offenders being fined. and, if necessary to preserve discipline, debarred from the game.

On Ground Rules.

RULE 69. Before the commencement of a game the umpire shall see that the rules governing all the materials of the game are strictly observed. He shall ask the captain of the home club whether there are any special ground rules, and if there be he shall acquaint himself with them, advise the captain of the visiting team of their scope and see that each is duly enforced, provided that it does not conflict with any of these rules.

Official Announcements.

RULE 70. The umpire shall call "Play" at the hour appointed for the beginning of a game, announce "Time" at its legal interruption and declare "Game" at its legal termination.

Suspension of Play.

RULE 71. The umpire shall suspend play for the following causes:

1. If rain fall so heavily as to cause the spectators on the open field and open stands to seek shelter, in which case he shall note the time of suspension, and should rain fall continually for thirty minutes thereafter he shall terminate the game.

2. In case of an accident which incapacitates him or a player from service in the field, or in order to remove from the grounds any player or spectator who has violated rules, or in case of fire, panic or other extraordinary circumstances. Call of Time.

RULE 72. In suspending play from any legal cause the umpire shall call "Time"; when he calls "Time," play shall be suspended until he calls "Play" again, and during the interim no player shall be put out, base be run or run be scored. "Time" shall not be called by the umpire until the ball be held by the pitcher while standing in his position.

Decisions on Balls and Strikes.

RULE 73. The umpire shall call and count as a "ball" any unfair ball delivered by the pitcher to the batsman. He shall also call and count as a "strike" any fairly delivered ball which passes over any portion of the home base, and within the batsman's legal range as defined in Rule 31. whether struck at or not by the batsman; or a foul tip which is caught by the catcher standing within the lines of his position, within 10 feet of the home base; or which, after being struck at not hit, strike the person of the batsman; or when the ball be bunted foul by the batsman; or any foul hit ball not caught on the fly unless the batsman has two strikes; provided, however, that a pitched ball shall not be called or counted a "ball" or "strike" by the umpire until it has passed the home plate.

RULE 74. If but one umpire be assigned, his duties and jurisdiction-shall extend to all points and he shall be permitted to take his stand in any part of the field that in his opinion will best enable him to discharge his duties.

Field Rules. RULE 75. No person shall be allowed upon any part of the field during the progress of a game except the players in uniform, the manager of each side, the umpire, such officers of the law as may be present in uniform, and such watchmen of the home club as may be necessary to preserve the peace.

RULE 76. No manager, captain or player shall address the spectators during a game except in reply to a request for information about the progress or state of the game.

RULE 77. Every club shall furnish sufficient police force to preserve order upon its own grounds, and in the event of a crowd entering the field during the progress of a game, and interfering with the play in any manner, the visit-ing club may refuse to play until the field be cleared. If the field be not cleared within 15 minutes thereafter, the visiting club may claim and shall be entitled to the game by a score of nine runs to none (no matter what number of innings has been played).

General Definitions.

RULE 78. "Play" is the order of the umpire to begin the game or to resume it after its suspension.

RULE 79. "Time" is the order of the umpire to suspend play. Such suspension must not extend beyond the day.

RULE 80. "Game" is the announcement of the umpire that the game is terminated.

RULE 81. "An inning" is the term at bat of the nine players representing a club in a game and is completed when three of such players have been legally put out.

RULE 82. "A Time at Bat" is the term at bat of a batsman. It begins when he takes his position, and continues until he is put out or becomes a base-runner. But a time at bat shall not be charged against a batsman who is awarded first base by the umpire for being hit by a pitched ball or on called balls or when he makes a sacrifice hit or for interference by the catcher. RULE 83. "Legal!" or "Legally" signifies as required by these rules.

THE SCORING RULES.

RULE 84. To promote uniformity in scoring championship games the following instructions are given and suggestions and definitions made for the guidance of scorers, and they are required to make all scores in accordance therewith.

The Batsman's Record.

RULE 85. Section 1 .- The first item in the tabulated score, after the player's name and position, shall be the number of times he has been at bat during the game, but the exceptions made in Rule 82 must not be included.

Sec. 2.-In the second column shall be set down the runs, if any, made by each player.

Sec. 3.—In the third column shall be placed the first base hits, if any, made by each player.

The Scoring of Base Hits.

Sec. 4.—A base hit shall be scored in the follow cases:

When the ball from the bat strikes the ground on or within the foul lines and out of the reach of the fielders.

When a fair-hit bill is partially or wholly stopped by a fielder in motion, but such player cannot recover himself in time to field the ball to first before the striker reaches that base or to force out another base-runner.

When the ball be hit with such force to an infielder or pitcher that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman or force out a baserunner. In a case of doubt over this class of hits, a base hit should be scored and the fielder exempted from the charge of an error.

When the ball is hit so slowly toward a fielder that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman or force out a base-runner.

In all cases where a base-runner is retired by being hit by a batted ball, unless batted by himself, the batsman should be credited with a base hit. When a batted ball hits the person or clothing of the umpire, as defined in Rule 54, Section 2. In no case shall a base hit be scored when a base-runner is forced out by the play.

Sacrifice Hits.

Sec. 5 .- In the fourth column shall be placed the sacrifice hits.

A sacrifice hit shall be credited to the batsman who, when no one is out or when but one man is out, advances a runner a base by a bunt hit, which results in the batsman being put out before reaching first, or would so result if it were handled without error.

*A sacrifice hit shall also be credited to a batsman who, when no one is out or when one man is out, hits a fly ball that is caught, but results in a run being scored.

[*This entire paragraph added by Rules Committee in February, 1908.]

Fielding Records.

Sec. 6.—The number of opponents, if any, put out by each player shall be set down in the fifth column. Where the batsman is given out by the umpire for a foul strike, or fails to bat in proper order, the put-out shall be scored to the catcher. In cases of the base-runner being declared "out" for interference, running out of line, or on an infield fly, the "out" should be credited to the player who would have made the play but for the action of the base-runner or the announcement of the umpire.

Sec. 7.—The number of times, if any, each player assists in putting out an opponent shall be set down in the sixth column. An assist should be given to each player who handles the ball in aiding in a run out or any other play of the kind, except the one who completes it.

An assist should be given to the player who makes a play in time to put a runner out, even if the player who could complete the play fail, through no fault of the assisting player.

And generally an assist should be given to each player who handles or assists in any manner in handling the ball from the time it leaves the bat until it reaches the player who makes the put-out, or in case of a thrown ball, to each player who throws or handles it cleanly, and in such a way that a put-out results, or would result if no error were made by a team-mate.

Assists should be credited to every player who handles the ball in the play which results in a base-runner being called "out" for interference or for running out of line.

Errors.

Sec. 8.—An error shall be given in the seventh column for each misplay which prolongs the time at bat of the batsman or allows a baserunner to make one or more bases when perfect play would have insured his being put out. But a wild pitch, a base on balls, a base awarded to a batsman by being struck by a pitched ball, an illegal pitch, a balk and a passed ball, each of which is a battery and not a fielding error, shall not be included in the seventh column.

An error shall not be charged against the catcher for a wild throw in an attempt to prevent a stolen base, unless the base-runner advance an extra base because of the error.

An error shall not be scored against the catcher or an infielder who attempts to complete a double play, unless the throw be so wild that an additional base be gained.

In case a base-runner advance a base through the failure of a baseman to stop or try to stop a ball accurately thrown to his base, he shall be charged with an error and not the player who made such throw, provided there were occasion for it. If such throw be made to second base the scorer shall determine whether the second baseman or shortstop shall be charged with an error.

Stolen Bases.

Sec. 9.—A stolen base shall be credited to the base-runner whenever he advances a base unaided by a base hit, a put-out, a fielding or a battery error.

The Summary.

RULE 86. The summary shall contain: Section 1.—The score made in each inning of the game and the total runs of each side in the game. Sec. 2.—The number of stolen bases, if any, by each player.

Sec. 3.—The number of two-base hits, if any, made by each player.

Sec. 4.—The number of three-base hits, if any,

made by each player.

Sec. 5 .- The number of home runs, if any, made by each player.

Sec. 6.-The number of double and triple plays, if any, made by each side and the names of the players assisting in the same.

Sec. 7.—The number of innings each pitcher pitched in.

Sec. 8.—The number of base hits, if any, made off each pitcher. Sec. 9 .- The number of times, if any, pitcher strikes out the opposing batsmen.

Sec. 10.—The number of times, if any, pitcher gives bases on balls. Sec. 11 .- The number of wild pitches, if any, charged to the pitcher. Sec. 12 .- The number of times, if any, the pitcher hits a batsman with a pitched ball. Sec. 13.—The number of passed balls by each catcher.

Sec. 14.—The time of the game. Sec. 15 .- The name of the umpire.

AMATEUR BASEBALL MANAGERS' LEAGUE.

With the beginning of the present baseball year this league entered on its ninth year, with prospects of a more successful season, if possible, than ever before. Foremost in keeping the league in the front rank of the Chicago amateurs (and, for that matter, in the entire United States, as Chicago is not excelled in this respect) has been Al. Tearney, who is now entering on his ninth year of continuous service as its president. The league is indeed fortunate in having such an able executive, one who works for the good of the organization first, last and all the time. The league is no less well fixed in the make-up of its staff of officers-men who have the building up of the game at heart, and who receive no recompense other than the good will of the followers of our great outdoor sport. May it continue to prosper. The officers are as follows:

President-A. R. TEARNEY. First Vice-President—N. T. KELLEY.
Second Vice-President—F. M. REDDY.
General Secretary—R. H. WHITE.
Financial Secretary—J. F. MUNGOVAN.
Recording Secretary—W. D. FOY. Treasurer-A. HENRICKS. Sergeant-at-Arms-H. WELCH. Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms-F. McCARTY. Press Agent-H. FISHER.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Jos. E. White, Chairman. South Side—Chas. Weil, Jno. Hopkins, Thos.

M. Coverick, W. Weisel.
West Side—O. H. Vanderlip, C. E. Garrett,
Jno. Kozlek, H. Woolrich.

North Side-G. M. Clark, Harry Radix, P. Gallagher, M. Simpson.

UMPIRES' ASSOCIATION.

This association is held directly responsible to the league for any acts which are not in keeping with its rules and regulations. Regular meetings are held for instruction in rules, etc.

President—JOS. E. WHITE. Vice-President—JAMES MURPHY. Secretary-E. C. KUHN.

AMATEUR BASEBALL LEAGUES.

As many teams are yet incomplete it was thought inadvisable to publish only partial rosters of teams. In a later edition of this Guide an effort will be made to include the lineups of all attached teams.

Unattached Amateurs.

With the issuance of a later Amateur Edition of this Guide more space will be given to the younger amateurs of Chicago. It is now the intention to publish the names and addresses of managers and the make-up of their teams. With the co-operation of these "future champions" we will be able to add a good many pages to carry the names. Send your line-ups by mail only and follow the manner they are here published. Here are a few teams for an example:

THE COVER DESIGN.

Half-tones of John Kling of the World's Champions and Wm. Sullivan of the Chicago White Sox will be used on the outside cover of this book during the present season. The Kling and Sullivan pictures will be divided equally on the copies printed and it may be interesting to know which of these two designs will be most called for by fans who are partial to either team. The decision, of course, cannot be announced until next spring.

Unless either photo is designated in orders for books, they will be divided equally.

OUR ADVERTISERS.

While the advertising in this issue of the Guide is not heavy, due principally to the short notice on which the book was gotten together, we are nevertheless proud of the class of business we have. It will be easily understood a publication of this character could be crowded full of objectionable advertising at good rates, but, as such patronage works to the detriment rather than the success of a book of this kind, it was decided on as the best business policy to bar anything but the best.

The Monarch Sporting Goods Mfg. Co., outside cover page, is well known in Chicago and throughout the country. It has the patronage of thousands of amateurs and professionals throughout the middle west and southwest.

The Mather Game Co., inside front cover page, has had marvelous success for many years with its Indoor Base Ball Game. They are thoroughly reliable.

Edward J. Prindle, Brimfield, Mass., inside back cover, is entering on his four-teenth season of success in baseball books and his Baseball Curver. Thousands of young men throughout the United States have used his articles with satisfaction.

The Washington Shirt Co., Chicago, Ill., is too well known to to dwell on at length. Heller & Benson, tailors, in the Monad-nock block, Chicago, would be pleased to fit you out perfectly-from $35 to $50.

The Glenwood Alleys, Mountain and Luecker's popular North Side establishment, is one of the best known of Chicago's many popular resorts. The proprietors are both bowlers of national reputation.

M. Haley, manufacturer of "Razorgo" Strop Dressing, 791 Madison street, needs no introduction of anyone living on the West Side of Chicago.

J. Kraus & Co., are well known downtown cigar manufacturers. Try their famous "Strella" brand.

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

1. THE ART OF CURVE PITCHING.

2. THE ART OF BATTING.

3. THE ART OF ZIGZAG CURVE PITCHI.

4. THE ART OF BASE RUNNING.
5. BASEBALL, AND HOW TO PLAY IT.

The first four of these instructive lithandbooks are too well known to require detailed description. They are simply all right and you will say so, too, when you read them. I have sold them for years and never heard of a dissatisfied customer. But Mo. 5 is a later and better book, covering every department of the game and having in addition several special chapters not to be found in any other book. It tells how to become a professional and has a special chapter on Pitching which gives directions for throwing three special curves, which alone is worth more than the price of the book. Price of Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, 15 cents each—the four at one time for 50 cents in cash or 55 cents in stamps. Price of No. 5, 25 cents in cash or 30 cents in stamps.

THE MAGIC BASEBALL CURVER !!

This is the fourteenth season I have sold this little mechanical wonder and it still enjoys a deserved and undiminished popularity with baseball pitchers. It is the greatest invention in baseball since the discovery of the "curve" and the pitcher who uses one has the batsmen at his mercy, for it is so synthey cannot see it and they all wonder where those awful curves come from. 21 men struck out in 9 innings is its record. With it an amateur can soon beat most professionals. Price, 25 cents each, 2 for 40 cents, 3 for 50 cents. If stamps are sent, 5 cents additional to these prices.

PREMIUM OFFER: These goods all sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. To anyone sending direct to me an order for not less than 75 cents' worth of these goods at one time I will give free any single article mentioned on this page. Name the premium desired.
