NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN POLITICAL FIELD

New Ministers of Meighen's Cabinet Took Office To-day

Nine New Ministers With Portfolios and Two Without Portfolios and Seven Former Ministers With Portfolios and Two Without.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—(Canadian Press)—The Prime Minister, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, had a couple of surprises when he announced his new Cabinet this morning, after the Ministers had been sworn in by the Governor-General, who returned to the city at 8.15 from Kingston.

R. B. Bennett, K.C., of Calgary, succeeds Right Hon. C. J. Doherty as Minister of Justice, and Dr. R. J. Manion, of Fort William, becomes Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. Both of these men had been prominently mentioned, but more recently it had been intimated that neither was likely to be included in the new Cabinet.

Six Ministers, Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, Justice; Hon. J. D. Reid, Railways and Canals; Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce; Hon. R. W. Wignmore, Minister of Customs and Excise; Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration, and Senator P. E. Bloudin, Postmaster-General, have retired.

There are nine new Ministers with portfolios and two without portfolios. The new men are J. A. Stewart, Lanark, Minister of Railways and Canals; H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, Trade and Commerce; R. B. Bennett, K.C., Calgary, Justice; Dr. R. J. Manion, Fort William, Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment; L. P. Normand, Three Rivers, President of the Privy Council; J. B. M. Baxter, St. John, Minister of Customs; L. G. Bellefleur, K.C., Quebec, Postmaster-General; Dr. J. W. Edwards, Frontenac, Minister of Health, Immigration and Colonization; Rodolphe Monty, Montreal, Secretary of State, and Edmund Bristol, K.C., Toronto, and James Wilson, Saskatoon, without portfolios.

Not Changed. The portfolios in which there is no change are: Prime Minister and Minister of External Affairs, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen; Finance, Sir Henry Drayton; Militia, Hon. Hugh Guthrie; Marine and Naval Service, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne; Public Works, Hon. F. E. McCurdy; Agriculture, Hon. S. F. Toimie; Labor, Senator G. D. Robertson; Sir Edward Kemp; and Hon. E. K. Spinney (Yarmouth and Clare) remain as Ministers without portfolios.

The post of Solicitor-General remains to be filled and an announcement as to this portfolio is expected in a day or so.

Right Hon. C. J. Doherty is to be appointed to another office, but as yet Premier Meighen has not indicated what that office will be.

To Senats. Of the old Ministers who retired, Hon. J. A. Calder, Hon. J. D. Reid and Sir George Foster are understood to be slated for the Senate, and Hon. R. W. Wignmore for another appointment outside. Senator Bloudin, retiring Postmaster-General, is already a member of the Senate.

Not Sworn Yet. Ottawa, Sept. 21.—(Canadian Press)—Three members of the reorganized Meighen Cabinet have yet to be sworn in. They are: R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, the new Minister of Justice; Dr. R. J. Manion, Fort William, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment; and James Wilson, of Saskatoon, Minister without portfolio. It is understood that they are, or will shortly be, on their way to Ottawa and that they will be sworn in soon.

NEWSPAPER MEETING. Calgary, Sept. 21.—The semi-annual meeting of the Western Daily Newspapers Advertising Managers' Association took place at Banff on Monday and Tuesday. A large number of the western newspapers were represented.

Explosions in German Town Killed 800 People

Mayence, Germany, Sept. 21.—Eight hundred persons are reported to have been killed and many injured to-day by explosions in the Badische Anilin- und Fabrik Works at Oppau, near Frankenthal, in the Rhine Palatinate.

Telephone and telegraph communication with the Worms-Frankenthal section was cut by the explosions and details were difficult to learn.

Paris, Sept. 21.—One thousand persons are reported to have been killed and several thousand injured at Oppau, near Frankenthal, in the Rhine Palatinate, through explosions in a chemical products plant, according to a Mayence message. To the Havas Agency, received here to-day, the town of Oppau itself was entirely destroyed by the explosions, the force of the shocks was felt for a distance of nearly fifteen miles around. In Mannheim one person was killed and about fifty injured. The cause of the catastrophe is not known.

Solid Liberal Phalanx to Go From B. C. to Bury Tories, Macdonald Says

M. A. Macdonald, K.C., M.P.P., president of the British Columbia Liberal Association, who came to Victoria to take part in the opening of the new Liberal Club last night, declared in his speech that the Meighen Government has been dead for some time as it has not been functioning for the last two years.

He predicted that British Columbia would send to Ottawa a solid phalanx of thirteen members in opposition to the Government.

BURGLARIES ARE GROWING NUMEROUS

Race Week Brings Crop of Reports Prowlers Take Advantage of Owners' Absence

Two burglaries, and several attempts at burglary were perpetrated last night on houses in the residential quarters of this city, it was learned to-day.

A thief entered the home of Mrs. Pashley, 712 Vancouver Street, and removed a quantity of jewelry, gaining entrance by cutting a wire screen from the pantry window.

The house of David Leeming, 1044 Terrace Avenue, was entered and a valuable collection of diamonds and other jewelry taken, while the family was absent.

Mr. Walker, of 1641 Linden Avenue, was aroused by a thief in the night, who was seeking entry at the back door. The owner opened a window and elicited the response that the man was looking for a lawyer—a Mr. Russell, from Vancouver.

Several other minor attempts at entry were recorded, and a number of cases of suspicious prowlers were reported to the police station. In some cases accurate descriptions were obtained by the owners, but in most the prowlers and thieves were either unseen, or seen too dimly to permit of description. The police are working on the clues.

HART ORDERS TAX SALE DELAY

Minister Acts to Protect Miners in Lien Case

Orders for postponement of the Provincial tax sale in Nanaimo from October 12 to December 1, was ordered to-day by the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

It was explained at the Parliament Buildings today in connection with the postponement of the Nanaimo sale that the Hon. John Hart, determined to protect the rights of some 550 miners and other workmen who are employed by the Pacific Coast Coal Mines Co., Ltd., has obtained judgments on their liens against the company to an aggregate of $71,326.71.

Under these judgments sale of the property was some time ago authorized by the courts, and is to take place on November 1. The valuable Morden and Squasquah properties of the big coal company will be put up for sale to satisfy the claims of the lien-holders.

The company is delinquent with its Provincial taxes and these properties are to be put up for tax sale on October 12.

As the rights of the lien-holders might be adversely affected if the tax sale was held prior to the sale ordered by the court, and as there is no authority for withholding any delinquent property from tax sale, Hon. Mr. Hart issued instructions to the collector at Nanaimo to hold the sale on December 1 instead of October 12.

A judgment and execution for $4,500 obtained by the Workmen's Compensation Board is also protected by this postponement.

PAPERS COMMENT ON NEW CABINET

Views Expressed on Changes Made by Meighen

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—Commenting on the re-organized Meighen Cabinet, The Winnipeg Evening Free Press says:

"Of the new Government it can be said that it is itself the best proof of the plight in which the ministerial party finds itself. Apart from filling the Quebec gaps, Mr. Meighen has achieved nothing while they can become real Cabinet Ministers. It will be necessary for them to win a victory at the polls—something which not even the most optimistic of them expect to do. The very best they can hope for is that they will elect enough members to make a fair showing in the next House, enough to give them a starting point for their future operations. They undoubtedly entertain a hope for another coalition."

Calgary Herald. Calgary, Alta., Sept. 21.—The Calgary Herald, after pointing out that neither Manitoba nor Saskatchewan has a portfolio in the new Meighen Government, commented on the new Cabinet as follows:

"It is inevitable that the West should be more interested in the Western nominations than in the names chosen from the Eastern provinces. From some points of view it is difficult to say that the slate will strengthen the administration, throughout the entire Middle West, although it may be assumed that the selection of Mr. Bennett will increase its debating power. The inclusion of Dr. Manion will be well regarded in Ontario and also by men who served overseas, and probably by the gentlemen selected in Quebec who better known there than we can appreciate at this distance."

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 21.—William McNamee, chief inspector for the Canadian Northern Telegraphs, while traveling forty miles an hour on a gasoline speeder, collided with another car going in the opposite direction, and is in hospital suffering from concussion of the brain. LEGION FORMED BY VETERANS

Action Taken by Provisional Committee in Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The Canadian Legion of Veterans, which is designed to form a medium through which all Canadian ex-service men and women may unite as members of one veterans' organization, becomes a definite unit as a result of action taken at a meeting last night of the provisional committee. However, while the members of this provisional committee voted to proceed with the organization of the Legion, they at the same time stipulated that such an organization should constitute only a holding body "until such time as amalgamation becomes an accepted fact."

Enrollment in the legion will begin on October 15.

EARLY AGREEMENT ON MANDATES IS DESIRED

Geneva, Sept. 21.—Lord Robert Cecil, representing South Africa, after plainly indicating to the Political Commission of the Assembly of the League of Nations to-day that he thought the claims of the United States respecting mandates could be satisfied, withdrew his demand that terms of the "A" and "B" mandates be fixed at once.

It was pointed out that the "A" mandates were so tied up with the Treaty of Sevres that it would be impossible to proceed immediately to adopt them. But Lord Robert insisted that the "B" mandates, concerning the former German African colonies, could be fixed at once.

Tariff For Revenue In Interests of Producers and Consumers Is His Followers' Ideal, Says Mackenzie King; He Urges Economy.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—Hon. Mackenzie King opened the Liberal Federal election campaign in Ontario before an audience of 8,000 in West Toronto last night, making a declaration of policy and a reply to the recent speech in which Premier Meighen announced the election.

Stating the attitude of the Liberal Party on the tariff question, he said:

"The Liberal policy is that of a tariff for revenue, in the interests of producers and consumers, not a tariff in the interest of combines, monopolies, trusts and mergers, such as a tariff based primarily on the principle of protection is all but certain to be."

Stating economy and retrenchment to be one of the planks in the Liberal platform, Mr. King said there was to-day "a great need of a fresh accounting with respect to our national liabilities and assets."

Mr. King maintained that Premier Meighen sought to narrow the issue down to that of the tariff. "But let me tell him," he continued, "that it will take more confusion than he and his colleagues are capable of creating by spoken or printed word to cause the people to forget his many arbitrary and autocratic acts of government."

Strong condemnation of the Government's attitude in refusing information to Parliament respecting expenditures on the Government railways and the merchant marine was voiced by the Liberal leader.

Referring to the challenge made by Premier Meighen in his London, Ont., speech, that Mr. King definitely state his position in relation to the platform adopted by the Liberal Party convention in 1912, Mr. King replied by quoting from his speech on that occasion. It was that he regarded that platform as respects all matters of policy, not less than all matters of religion, that he believed there is no truer saying than that the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. In reference to the question which he has propounded, no one knows this better than Mr. Meighen. I do not propose, by any acceptance of the letter, that the spirit will never get the Prime Minister desirous, to be false to the spirit of the Liberal Party, or to any of the policies laid down by its members in convention assembled."

Economy. "The Liberal Party stands for economy and retrenchment," said Mr. King. "We stand for unbiased auditing of the finances of this country, and you will never get it until you have a change of Government."

"The railway question in this country is not an issue between Government ownership and private ownership. With the nationalization of the railways, public ownership is not having a chance," maintained Mr. King.

Fielding Applauded. Hon. W. S. Fielding made an exceedingly popular speech. He termed the defeat of the Meighen Government the greatest crime ever inflicted against the country. There would be no Fondry barrier if reciprocity had been carried and cattle would have gone on to the States. The Liberal Party would revise the tariff downward.

The meeting, from a political standpoint, was a marked success. Mr. King, who spoke of Mr. King as the man who soon would use his great experience in industrial questions in the settlement of industrial unrest, Major Straight said he was ever ready to sacrifice party for the country if need be.

Disolution. Respecting Premier Meighen's announcement of an early dissolution of Parliament, Mr. King said that if the truth were known, he would be found that, having held on to power against the will of the people to the point at which his own party press had broken out into open rebellion, and the Liberal Government's following could no longer be relied upon to give him support in the House of Commons, he preferred defeat of his party in the country to its defeat in Parliament; he preferred to appear before the people as a Prime Minister holding office rather than as a Prime Minister who, in office, had suffered defeat. Once the war was over and demobilization of the Liberal Party had consistently and persistently advocated the right of the people to a general election.

Without a Friend. "The Government of Mr. Meighen was from the beginning a Government without a friend," he said. "This is the Government which battered and

PRINCE OF WALES TO TOUR INDIA

London, Sept. 21.—There is no question as to the Prince of Wales visiting Canada on his return journey from his tour of India, as he will follow the same route home-ward as of his outward voyage, namely, via the Suez Canal.

The foregoing appears in the official announcement, which states that the arrangements for the tour are practically completed, and that the recent events in India have in no way affected the proposed programme.

The battleship Renown, which is to make a trial run next week, will sail for Gibraltar on October 24. The Indian staff will join the Prince's party at Bombay.

The Renown is stocked with stores necessary for receptions, in addition to the needs of those on board. Included in these stores for the use of the officers are 155,000 cigarettes, 2,600 dozen bottles of wine and 2,000 cigars, in addition to the 5,000 cigars to be taken by the Prince himself. For the men there are 5,860 gallons of rum and 4,000 gallons of limejuice.

The Renown will have a goodly supply of mascots, eleven black cats to be taken along for good luck.

KU KLUX KLAN IN U. S. DENOUNCED

Declaration by Head of Missouri Free Masons

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—The Ku Klux Klan was denounced as destructive of free government, peace and harmony by W. W. Johnson, grand master of the Centennial Grand Lodge of Missouri, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, in an address at the lodge's annual convention yesterday.

"As the impression seems to prevail in some sections," he declared, "that the Masonic fraternity is directly or indirectly associated with this (Ku Klux Klan) secret organization, it is well that the seal of disapproval be positively placed by this grand lodge upon this secret organization," he said.

Not Recognized. "We cannot as Free Masons and good citizens recognize the right of any secret society or combination of men to assume the right to administer law and to inflict punishment on their fellowmen. Such an assumption is subversive of our republican institutions and contrary to the great principles of Free Masonry.

"An organization that practices censorship of private conduct behind the midnight anonymity of mask and robe and enforces its secret decrees with whips and tar and feathers must ultimately merit and receive the condemnation of those who believe in courts, open justice and good citizenship."

MURDERER TOOK LIVES OF THREE

Father, Mother and Daughter Killed in Michigan

Dowagiac, Mich., Sept. 21.—The bodies of three persons, apparently killed with a heavy club while asleep, were found in their home near here yesterday. The victims were William Monroe, forty-five; his wife, Mary, forty-two, and their daughter, Neva, seventeen years old. Another daughter, Ardith, ten years old, was found unconscious in her bed.

The authorities believe the three were killed last Sunday night, neighbors reporting that none of the family had been seen about the Monroe farm since Sunday. No clue has been found as to the assailant or the motive for the crime.

Physicians believe the younger daughter will recover, although she was still in a semi-conscious state last night.

PROFITS FOR CATTLE SHIPPERS

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—(Canadian Press)—That fat cattle can with profit be shipped overseas in increased numbers from Canada, provided the movement is properly regulated, is asserted in a bulletin on the subject just issued by the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

From the middle of March to the middle of August, says the bulletin, 40,000 head of Canadian and United States cattle have been slaughtered at the Birkenhead and Glasgow markets and ocean freight space for cattle is being booked months ahead. The shipments, it is reported, have as a whole, been satisfactory.

The schedule of costs on cattle from boat to trade at Birkenhead shows an average of 16s. 4d. per head, or if shipped through to London, of £1 14s. 6d. per head.

Considering the peculiarities of selling methods in England, it is recommended as a first essential to a permanent trade that shipping organizations should have a competent representative on the British market to further their interests. Based on a scrutiny of prevailing rates, cost of feed and margin allowances it is estimated that the overhead cost on a 1,300-pound steer from Alberta to Liverpool or Glasgow, including selling charges, amounts to $45.50, or $13 a hundredweight.

G. T. R. APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Montreal, Sept. 21.—It was stated by Eugene Lafleur, counsel for the Grand Trunk Railway, yesterday afternoon, that following publication of the majority decision by the Arbitration Board declaring shares of the railway to be worthless, consultations had been held here by the Grand Trunk counsel, and an unanimous decision arrived at that an appeal should be taken from the findings. Advice to this effect had been sent to the representatives of the shareholders in London, and a decision was expected within a few days. Mr. Lafleur stated that an appeal would probably be taken direct to the Privy Council.

"In this way," said Mr. Lafleur, "the cabined intimation that there would be a double appeal was probably an error."

As soon as definite word was received from London preparations for the appeal would be made.

STATEMENT MADE BY ARTHUR GRIFFITH

Dublin, Sept. 21.—(Associated Press)—Arthur Griffith, "Foreign Minister" in the Dail Eireann "Cabinet" and chairman of the plenipotentiaries appointed to the proposed conference with the British representatives, said yesterday in an interview that the question was whether the British Government was sincerely seeking peace or merely trying to sell Ireland a gold brick.

"The Government's reply to do Valera's last letter," he added, "will indicate the answer to that question. If it seeks to impose preliminary conditions to the conference, that will be conclusive proof of its belief that it can play on Ireland the confidence tricks of its predecessors—successfully worked in turn on the Ireland of O'Connell, Butt and Redmond."

"Obviously, there can be no settlement unless as an outcome of an unfettered conference, and if the British Government does not want an unfettered conference it does not want a settlement. It is only play-acting in the hope of deceiving the world."

Navy and Trade

Replying to a question as to whether a settlement should cover the issues of the navy and free trade, he said: "All such should be covered by the treaty."

"If the long conflict is to be ended," he continued, "it must be ended, not temporarily or vaguely, but permanently and definitely. There is a real chance to-day of ending the oldest war in the world and establishing an enduring amity between the combatants. There will be no chance to-morrow if the British Government tries to play false."

$20,000,000 FOR ONTARIO'S NEEDS

Half Raised in Canada and Half in United States

Toronto, Sept. 21.—Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, has awarded a total of $20,000,000 22-year 6 per cent. bonds, $10,000,000 for Canadian and $10,000,000 for New York payment. The United States lot goes to a syndicate of Boston and New York bankers. Their tender on the issue was 106.608, which gives a cost to the province of 5.48 per cent.

POSITION OF LIBERAL PARTY STATED BY LEADER IN TORONTO

bandaged, with new splints and props freshly applied, now comes before the people seeking an expression of their confidence. It has waited long enough to wait no longer to take the step.

"The right to a general election has been denied to the citizens of our country for a period longer than has obtained in the United Kingdom or in any of the other self-governing Dominions of the British Empire; longer than has obtained in any of the countries of the Allied and Associated Powers, with the exception of Russia; longer than has obtained in neutral countries, or even in former enemy countries.

The issue. "Confronted with an indictment so unanswerable, is there not something lacking in the vision of the imagination of a Prime Minister when he tells the people of Canada that the issue of the election which he has last been compelled to concede is solely that of the tariff?" asked Mr. King. "In the mind of the Prime Minister the tariff may be the issue. In the mind of the people, however, the issue is the Prime Minister and what he and his colleagues represent—autocracy and extravagance in the management of public affairs.

"Men and women from all parts of Canada will tell you that the greatest of the problems of this country to-day is the problem of the cost of living, of which at the present time the cost of government is far and away the most important contributing factor. In the solution of the problem of the cost of living, the tariff and its far-reaching consideration.

"It is, however, but one of many considerations and not less important than the tariff in this connection is the Government which the tariff is to be revised.

Debt. The speaker pointed out that conditions in Canada to-day was very different from the conditions of ten years ago the national debt of Canada had amounted to some $340,000,000. To-day the national debt of the country is $1,125,000,000. The cost of the debt is $2,350,000,000.

Mr. King said that in estimating the price at which freedom and liberties had been preserved by the war, "no financial obligation imposed on our own or succeeding generations can ever equal or compensate the extent of sacrifices as measured in terms of human lives."

"Conceding that, approximately $2,000,000,000 of the debt was due to the war and forgetting any unnecessary expenditure or waste, the fact nevertheless remains that Canada carries to-day a mortgage of $2,355,000,000, whereas, ten years ago the national debt was $340,000,000. The interest alone of the present debt is $44,000,000 annually, whereas ten years ago it was only $12,500,000. Failure to meet the interest on the public debt would spell insolvency and bankruptcy of the nation," he said.

National Railway. Referring to the Government obligations incurred by the taking over of the Canadian National Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway, he said:

"For the moment, I shall speak only of the annual charges on the Treasury. In consequence of those acquisitions," he said, "I shall refrain from making mention of the colossal amounts which would have to be paid were these systems to become the property of Canada free of all outstanding obligations.

"Last year the deficit on account of Government owned and operated railways amounted to some $50,000,000. This year the deficit has reached some $70,000,000. It is now taken for granted that the deficit for the coming year will be in the vicinity of $100,000,000. Sir Joseph Flavelle has warned the nation that for a period of years to come it may expect recurring deficits of possibly even greater amounts."

Mr. King continued that the total amounts voted for expenditure during this fiscal year were over $500,000,000. He feared the census would not show Canada's population 5,000,000, but if it did it would mean taxation for Federal purposes alone of something over $62 per head.

To All Classes. "It is in the name of the home and its needs that the Liberal Party makes its appeal to all classes in this country," he declared.

"Once come to believe that, wherever you find it more difficult to live and to do your full duty by those who are nearest and dearest to you, you are experiencing something of the effect of the increased cost of government and you will realize where, in all these questions of finance, of trade, of transportation, and of defence are of direct concern to you and wherein you are interested in putting out of office a Government which has lost all true perspective in the matter of public expenditure, and returning to power a Government pledged above all else to a reduction of the burdens of taxation through rigid economy and retrenchment and policies which have for their beginning and end the home and the well being of home."

"I might quote many reasons why it is useless to expect economy or retrenchment from any Government, of which the present Prime Minister is the head.

Two Points. "I shall mention only two. During the period of the war, some billions of dollars were loaned to the government and spent by the Government of which the Rt. Hon. Mr. Meighen was a member.

"The second point I wish to mention is that in the course of the period of the war, and for that matter in the period since, many new branches of the administration were opened up and as a last remedy emergency drafted into the public services. The ship of state in Canada to-day is burdened with unnecessary cargo and covered with barnacles which add materially to the cost of government."

An Accounting. "Apart, however, from barnacles and unnecessary cargo, there is great need to-day of a fresh accounting with respect to our national liabilities and assets. There is every ground for believing that in the desire to make the showing as favorable as possible, many existing services and undertakings are being placed on the credit side of the national ledger which ought to be on the debit side.

"It is now nearly three years since the war ended, and we are still spending millions on demobilization account. No one really knows where the country stands in the matter of its undertakings and obligations, or the wherewithal to meet them. No one will ever know so long as concealment is rendered possible on the part of those who are responsible for waste and extravagance.

Information Needed. "Serious as has been the extravagance and waste of the present Government, even more serious in its national consequences has been the attitude of the Prime Minister and his colleagues with respect to the time honored and fundamental right of the people's representatives in Parliament to an accounting for every cent of public expenditure. It is not going too far to say that in the attitude he has adopted with respect to the right of Parliament to information on certain classes of public expenditure Mr. Meighen has taken a position wholly subversive to the doctrine of responsible government.

With the exception of expenditures necessitated by or arising out of the war, there has in recent years been nothing comparable in Government outlays with the amounts paid out on account of the National Railways and the Government Merchant Marine.

Refused. "Amazing and incredible as it may appear, the present Government not only has refused to give full information to the people's representatives in Parliament regarding serious public expenditures, but Mr. Meighen has gone the length of asserting that it is not in the public interest that such information should be given in answer to inquiries in the House of Commons, and for two years past the Government has arbitrarily maintained this attitude.

Two Groups. "You have on the one side a small group of the Government's own friends exercising complete control in the expenditure of millions upon millions of the public funds and expected by statute from persons of ability, and you have on the other the small group comprising the Government itself, the few men who exercise political control, shielding their friends from the possibility of exposure on the floor of Parliament in the matter of these vast transactions, and denying to representatives by statute from persons of ability, expended the right of information as to the nature and amount of expenditures and the methods adopted in connection therewith. The situation is so extreme that it seems altogether unbelievable and yet I have stated the exact position. I venture to say that nothing comparable to it will be found in any other free country under the sun.

The Reason. "Notwithstanding the Government's attitude in the House of Commons," Mr. King continued, "before the session was over, members of the Liberal Opposition were able in the proceedings of one of the committees of Parliament appointed to deal with railway matters to elicit sufficient information with respect to these questions to disclose why the Government might well have desired to refuse to give to Parliament the information requested. It was shown that, with the exception only of the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, three-quarters of the members of the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways were also directors or the presidents or managers of some important industrial enterprise, the business of which related to what, in the nature of supplies, equipment or insurance, might be required by the Government Railways and Merchant Marine, and that some of these gentlemen were directors of such companies.

"Let me make my position exactly clear. I am making no charges against the companies concerned, nor do I wish to be considered as reflecting, either directly or indirectly, upon the integrity of any of the directors concerned. It is the Government that I am concerned with, and the manner in which it has been conducting the public business of this country.

"Political Muskrats." "I venture to express the opinion that our country's affairs are not being controlled by the people of Canada through their duly elected representatives, but that the existing control is that of a baneful combination of political muskrats and industrial plutocrats who are working together

VARIETY
 When Thomas H. Ince selected the cast for "Lying Lips," the tremendous drama of life and love which has been announced as the feature attraction at the Variety Theatre, this week, he chose a number of starred players who would comprise an all-star cast in every sense of the word.
 House Peters, who was selected for the leading male role of Blair Cornwall, a sturdy Canadian cattleman has been one of the outstanding figures of the silver screen for a number of years.
 His work in "The Great Redeemer," a recent Maurice Tourneur production, was hailed as one of the triumphs of the year. It is said that the creation of the role of Cornwall affords him even greater scope and opportunity to create an unforget-
 Florence Vidor, who is co-starred with Peters, has been cast as Nancy Abbott, a luxury-loving daughter of an aristocratic English family, strong in the matter of lineage but weak financially. Miss Vidor is of striking beauty and unequalled dramatic talents.
 Joseph Kilgour, who assumes the role of Willie Chase, is a favorite of

CAPITOL

They take no chances in inaccuracies in these modern days of the motion pictures.
 For children's hospital scenes of "Wealth," in which Ethel Clayton will appear at the Capitol Theatre all week, one of Chicago's best known physicians was chosen as technical supervisor. Chicago mothers will be sure to recall this man who treats in the picture the same sort of cases which engaged his attention as a specialist in the children's diseases of Illinois kiddies. "Wealth," however, deals with a very engrossing dramatic story telling of a young wife's struggle to escape the parasitism which has bound her husband to his wealthy mother with chains of gold. It is a William D. Taylor-Paranount production with Herbert Rawlinson in the leading male role.

"NIOBE" AT LITTLE THEATRE

The well-known tale of Pigmellion and Galathea has been used as the theme around which the extremely ludicrous comedy of Niobe has been written. Contrary to some impressions gained from the title, the play is not a Greek play but is a skit on the old Greek legend in which Niobe
 the wife of King Amphion, owing to her incessant crying is turned to stone. Some three thousand years after, in the drawing room of Mr.
 Peter Amos Dunn in London the status comes to life and the situations created by her presence in Greek costume are above all extremely funny. It has been said that there are more laughs per night in the play Niobe than any other, sufficient to say here that it only has three rivals in the field of humor being

FOUR ACTUAL STARS PRESENTED

"The Child Thou Gavest Me"
 Now at Royal

"The Child Thou Gavest Me,"
 which started a four-day engagement at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-day, contains a story so human in quality and the situations are so natural and so smoothly developed that the entire production seems to be an interesting period lifted right out of life. It is a John M. Stahl production and released by Associated First National Pictures, Inc.
 The story is based on a highly dramatic and very exciting episode which supposedly transpired in Belgium. Without drawing upon either the spectacular or the sex element, Mr. Stahl in this picture has given the screen a subject that exceeds even the high dramatic standard set by "Sowing the Wind."
 Mr. Stahl apparently exercised painstaking care in his selection of the cast for this picture, which contains an assemblage of players who are suited perfectly to their roles and are of all-star calibre. Lewis Stone, Barbara Castleton, William
 Desmond and Richard ("Itchie") Headrick head the list with such well-known figures as Adele Par-rington, Winter Hall, Helen Howard, Mayre Hall and Ruby McCoy in their support.
 The picture is one of the most fascinatingly staged that it has ever been our fortune to witness. While the pretentious interiors represent a considerable outlay of money—visible to the layman's eye—there is a notable absence of vulgarity, and good taste abounds throughout. The exteriors are rare specimens of landscape beauty.
 "The Child Thou Gavest Me" contains every element necessary to a perfect picture, in which category we are compelled to place it. The suspense holds the interest from the start to the climax, which is one of the most novel ever seen on the silver sheet.
 In addition to the feature one of the most interesting pictures is for a short subject that has been shown in Victoria for some time will be "The Log of the Lamergeria," showing some very fine local scenes of Vic-

"FLOWER OF THE NORTH" IS NOW COMPLETED

The filming of "Flower of the North," the Vitagraph special production by James Oliver Curwood, has been completed to the final shot. The exceptionally large cast which Director David Smith led out into the woods and mountains of northern Oregon has returned to Hollywood, California, after several weeks absence from civilization. The actors are tanned and weather beaten, but as a result of their labor several thousand feet of exposed film has been shipped to the Vitagraph studio where it will be turned over to the cutter, titler and art editor to be rounded into a finished, masterpiece motion picture.

"Flower of the North" is a splendid example of the combination of the great factors necessary to a successful motion picture play: a capable cast—headed by distinguished stars; a gripping, worth-while story by a world-famous author and a skillful, experienced director. All these requisites are to be found in the production of "Flower of the North." The super-excellent cast is headed by Henry B. Walthall, who was the hero in "The Birth of a Nation," and who has since headed his own company, and Pauline Starke, whose work in "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," another Vitagraph production by Mr. Curwood, "Salvation Nell" and other big productions, has gained her wide recognition and immense popularity.

James Oliver Curwood has a world-wide fame for his virile stories of the great Canadian Northwest and has done for the land "north of 53" what Kipling has done for India. The director is David Smith, who directed "The Courage of Marge O'Doone" and "Black Beauty" for Vitagraph—one of the foremost motion picture directors in the country.

FAMOUS DUET AT CAPITOL

More than passing notice must be given to the operatic presentation as programmed this week at the new Capitol. There is included among the musical numbers the famous grand duet from "Martha," first produced at Vienna in 1847, by Friedrich von Flotow (1812-1883). In this duet is included that wonderful melody, "The Last Rose of Summer," which has been sung or played even more than the beautiful "Home, Sweet Home," both inspirations and both yet to be imperishable, "through the sands of time." Flotow was a son of a member of the nobility at Teutendorf, Mecklenburg. He went to Paris when a young man and there studied under Reicha. His first incontestable success was with "Die Matrosen," produced at Hamburg, when he was 31 years of age. After a series of more or less fortunate ventures his ballet "Lady Harriet," written in 1843, found much favor. This afterwards he rewrote and gave it the name of "Martha," his most genuinely and widely popular work. Strange to say it took nearly eleven years for this opera to reach London, where it was known as the "ever popular." In its original form and also in the English version the time of the action is supposed to be in the reign of Queen Anne—the early part of the 18th Century. In the title role was the great favorite Adeline Patti, whose singing of "The Last Rose of Summer" made the beautiful aria known throughout the world. It is to-day as fresh and popular as it was over seventy years ago.

The duet is in the second act of the opera, and is sung in English by Miss Lillian Wilson, as Lady Harriet, and Victor Edmunds, as Lionel. The Capitol orchestra, under conductor Leslie Grossmith, is also playing during the week the exceedingly melodious Gavotte from Sir Arthur Sullivan's "The Gondoliers," and a march from the pen of Arrighetti Hunt, one of the first violins of the orchestra.

WALTER HAMPDEN'S TWO LEADING WOMEN

Walter Hampden will have two leading women during his transcontinental Shakespearean tour this season, Mabel Moore and Mary Hall, both of whom have occupied the same positions in his company for three years. Miss Moore will play Ophelia in "Hamlet," Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," Desdemona in "Othello," and Mary in Charles Rams Kenned's "The Servant in the House," while

THE NEW CABINET.

Whatever fate may be in store for the party over which the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen presides the Prime Minister will doubtless recall the fact that the political history of this country contains a reminder of several Cabinets whose re-organization on the eve of an election failed to captivate sufficient public imagination to stave off defeat.

One of the interesting if somewhat pathetic features of the new Cabinet is the absence of Sir George Foster whose association with every Conservative Premier since Confederation is a record which should earn for him a kindly note from the political historian.

In Dr. Manion the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment finds an administrator with an experience of the needs of the returned man born of a close association with him on the battlefield.

As far as the West is concerned Mr. Meighen has doubled British Columbia's Cabinet representation. And although the new distinction for Mr. H. H. Stevens may be a short-lived one this Province owes something to the Prime Minister for establishing this highly desirable precedent.

Taking the new Ministry as a whole the Prime Minister himself surely will not experience any particular elation over his handiwork. At least he cannot expect to earn the title of an expert Cabinet maker as a result of his renovation.

Party has merely taken on a little more Conservative ballast which the people will recognize as such without the slightest waver of a mind already made up.

A GOOD LEAD.

All the more attention should be devoted to the proposal of Mr. Samuel Gompers to rouse Labor and the general public from "its complacency with regard to the coming armament conference" now that it is definitely settled that Mr. Lloyd George will not be a popular drawing card in public meeting in the United States.

UNWANTED SENSATIONS.

Only a comparatively small number of people in the world are permitted to understand the intricate ramifications of medical science; but the majority of the people are exposed to the clumsy experimentalism who camps upon the fringe of practical discovery in an effort to convert his immature deductions into pecuniary gain without thought or consideration for those whom he selects for his prey.

NEW QUARTERS.

It is an appropriate augury that the Liberals of Victoria should have established themselves in their new home simultaneously with the firing of the first of the local campaign guns by supporters of the Hon. Mackenzie King.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There comes a dispatch from Moscow which would seem to convey the impression to the general public that the Soviet Capital has taken the palm for speculation. All of which goes to show that even the Bolshevik stronghold cannot refrain from imitating the doings which go on all the time in hated "capitalistic countries."

The Hudson County Grand Jury has been asked to investigate the Carpentier-Dempsey bout to determine whether it was a boxing exhibition or a prize fight. It is argued that if the Grand Jury could establish the fact that it was a prize fight all those who had a pecuniary interest in the contest could be indicted. We refer the Jury to the condition of Carpentier at the end of the fourth round in order that it might establish the angle from which to commence its investigation. Meanwhile the genial Georges is asking for more.

From the recent international anti-alcohol congress held at Lausanne a resolution warmly supported by the large American delegation present was sent to the Swiss Government to the effect that in the opinion of the congress it would be good for the health of the Swiss nation if alcoholic drinks were absolutely abolished.

"Some people have said 'I wonder if Calder has become a Tory?' I want to tell my Liberal friends that I am just as much a Liberal to-day as ever I was. When this thing is over I shall be just where I was when I got into it. But for the time being I have dropped these things to help the winning of the war.

and playing into each other's hands. "There are some evils in the curbing of which publicity is more effective than secrecy. Evils of waste, extravagance, of fraud, of graft in the use of public moneys belong to this class.

"With respect to public expenditures, the Liberal Party demands that only the best economy and entrenchment, but also the fullest publicity.

"Mr. Meighen is very aggressive in his attitude toward all who do not express their views on the tariff in language identical with his own. In his first public address after he became Prime Minister he spoke of those who did not see eye to eye with him as Bolsheviks and nation wreckers.

"Mr. Meighen knows very well that no matter what views men and women may hold theoretically on the merits of the tariff and protection, no Government charged with the duty of administering the nation's affairs would find the abolition of all tariffs under existing conditions either patriotic or possible.

"It is for the principle of a tariff for revenue that the Liberal Party has stood in bygone years; it is for that principle that the Liberal Party stands to-day, and it is for the principle of a tariff for revenue that the Liberal Party will continue to stand if returned to power in the present contest.

"There need be no mistaking the position of the Liberal Party as respects the tariff. It regards the tariff not as an end in itself, but as a means to an end. That end, according to Liberal policy, is to be accomplished by making such revisions as are required to give effectiveness to the tariff as one of the means of realizing the revenues necessary to carry on the government of the country.

"Greater Production. "It is revision for purposes of increase of production, this to be accomplished by facilitating more extended development of the industries based on the great natural resources of our country—agriculture, mining, lumbering and fishing, etc.—by making the necessary instruments and implements of production available where possible at lessened cost.

"It is revision for purposes of decrease of the cost of living, to be accomplished through rendering possible increased production in the manner already described, and by making certain of the necessities of life available to the people at lessened cost.

"In other words, the Liberal policy is that of a tariff for revenue, in the interests of producers and consumers, not a tariff in the interests of combines, monopolies, trusts and mergers, such as a tariff based primarily on the principle of protection is all but certain to be.

He referred to the appointment of Liberal Unionists and Conservatives to the Board of the Cabinet and other Government positions, saying: "It is nothing but a disgusting and degrading rewarding of political support by an administration that has been so compromised by its ill-mated following that it could be held together only by the promise of life positions to the greater portion of its more active members. Was it not the Tory leader, Walpole, who said that "Every man has his price." It would seem almost that we had a young Walpole at the head of affairs in Canada to-day.

and humorously declared that he had not yet met a Conservative in this country who had the faintest idea that the Meighen Government would be returned to power.

He criticized Mr. Meighen for not having gone to the country when he first made Premier. The Prime Minister's idea of government, he said, was entirely at variance with the democratic ideas of the present day.

Mr. Fielding stated that a few years ago, if any party attempted to spend money without submitting accounts to the Auditor-General, a report would have spread that they were striking at the very root of parliamentary government. But this Government refused to allow the accounts for its vast expenditure on railways to be submitted to the Auditor-General.

Automatic. The former Finance Minister strongly criticized the Government's methods in refusing information to that act as a condition. The automatic attitude of Premier Meighen was also shown in the closure, which his Government was ever ready to adopt when in difficulties in the House.

"We could have put reciprocity through by adopting that gag in 1911," Mr. Fielding asserted, "but Laurier said: 'No, I found in the Parliament, I will leave a free Parliament.'"

"The defeat of reciprocity was the greatest crime ever committed against this country. Fordney Tariff. "The cattle growers did not seem to realize what reciprocity meant until recently, when the Fordney bill was passed by the United States Congress. Under reciprocity, cattle were on the free list. When Premier Meighen says the United States has raised a barrier against Canadian goods he is wrong. Mr. Meighen and his party raised the barrier when they defeated reciprocity."

He accused the present Government of putting off tariff revision from year to year. He had appointed a Tariff Commission which had traveled over the entire country but accomplished nothing. Less of a Burden. "It would be possible to make the tariff much less burdensome on the people, particularly the poorer classes, without injury to industry, and the Liberals, when in power, would do this. Free trade was part of the divine order of things, but was not feasible now. There was, however, need for tariff revision."

They had materially lowered the tariff under Laurier's regime in spite of what the Conservatives said. He urged every effort to relieve unemployment, and said he did not wish to make political capital out of the present labor situation, but it was time when soldiers who had defended this country were not able to earn a living.

Railways. Mr. Fielding said he had some anxiety as to the success of government ownership of railways, but now that the roads had been taken over he was not in favor of handing them back as some suggested. Public utility must be given a fair trial and public confidence in the management of the roads must be restored.

Refusal of the Meighen Government to grant information in respect to the railway management did not tend to increase public confidence.

New York Police Used Their Batons The New York, Sept. 21.—Bryant Park was the scene of another disturbance last night when police swarmed into it to disperse a crowd of unemployed, attacking with night sticks many who did not move fast enough, beating them over the heads and shoulders. North of the park, a large number of men were thrown to the pavement.

The police charge was made when six elderly women, members of a charitable organization known as "The Sun and Shiners" began to distribute sandwiches among men who sleep in the park.

The women were jostled during the encounter, and Mrs. Eleanor Chapman, aged ninety, was carried away by friends. She said she would file assault charges against policeman who participated.

"The men were driven out of the park and the food was eventually distributed on the sidewalk. Police said they broke up the crowd because it was "obstructing traffic."

THE STARS INCLINE, BUT DO NOT COMPEL. HOROSCOPE WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1921. (Copyright, 1921, by The McCrear Newspaper Syndicate.)

Menacing stars have power to-day, according to astrology, aspect, while Venus alone is in kindly way. "It is a lucky wedding day and should always be friendly to the bride."

There is a good sign to-day for the stars and those who play in them. "The actors prophesy that an unusual number of dramas will be offered this season, for the public will demand better entertainment than ever before."

According to ancient lore, this should be a lucky planetary way under which to wear new clothing. "Mediators and arbitrators should profit, while this configuration prevails. Changes in fashion will be so radical that business will be brisk. It is predicted."

This is not a favorable day for those who seek employment, as it will be wise to wait before making any decisions that will be binding. Choice of work to-day may not be a happy one.

It is not an auspicious time for beginning any new enterprise since there are still many obstacles in performing initial work. "Saturn returns during this rule of the Autumn equinox, and the action in these papers and the action in the world, to say the least, a very high-handed manner of dealing with the voice of the people," said Mayor Porter.

OBSELETE REVOLVER CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Race Track Cashier Fined $20 for Carrying Arms Without Permit

That the revolver he was carrying was unsafe, and had to be confiscated was the decision handed down to-day in the trial of Humphrey C. P. Bradford, race track cashier, who was fined $20 in the police court to-day for failing to have an individual permit for firearms.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the accused and entered a plea of guilty to the charge, stating, however, that the cashier was not regularly in possession of the weapon, and that four armed guards were employed for that purpose. As it happened yesterday the guards left the car one block from the Merchants' Bank, where the shooting accident took place, and the accused was carrying the gun to the cashier's office.

The gun was a Colt pattern .410 of an old style with a hammer touching the firing pin at all times. The contact with the steps drove the pin on the primer of the cartridge, causing the explosion. The gun was ordered confiscated.

Edward Grierson and Frederick Smith were each fined $5 for parking cars in front of a theatre entrance.

COMMISSIONER HALL WOULD STOP RACE TRACK GAMBLING

Motion to Ask Authorities for Suppression Defeated

An expression of opinion on gambling was read to the city police board last night by Dr. Ernest Hall, whose recommendation in the form of a motion, however, failed to carry.

"Since not a small percentage of interest attaching to the proceedings at the police court, centre upon gambling," he stated, "it might not be out of place for the commission to express its attitude towards gambling in general, and in order to focus this matter the same with consultation with my fellow commissioners, prepared a resolution which fully expresses my personal views."

"I have had certain figures given me, which I have been unfortunately unable to verify, that the amount of money that changed hands during the recent race meet in Victoria was $500,000 on the first day, and gradually increasing to $800,000 on the last day of the meet. This money I am given to understand is largely won by professionals who follow the race track, and more about the merits of the horses and the general manipulations of the business than do the local people who bet. Thus the immense sum of money is taken out of the city and nothing received. I have therefore proposed the following resolution:

"Whereas gambling is detrimental to the development of general business, and tends towards the demoralization of our people. We therefore consider it advisable that our Federal Government enact stringent legislation leading to its suppression. I move therefore that the resolution be placed on our books, and a copy sent to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa."

DECRIES ACTS OF COMMISSIONERS

Mayor Porter Says Hall and North Were Too High-handed

The action of his brother police commissioners, Dr. Hall and Mr. North, in refusing even to recognize the petitions and correspondence sent to the Board by prominent citizens and public organizations, such as bankers and business men and the Trades and Labor Council, asking for fair treatment of the local detective staff, is deeply regretted by Mayor Porter, who this morning informed the Times that he had no knowledge of any of the contents of the documents or even to what they related, the other commissioners having refused to deal with them and failing to bring them to his attention as chairman of the Board.

Mayor Porter since last night's meeting has seen the documents, which are in the clerk's hands. "As chairman of the Board, I should have had the privilege of hearing these representations from the people and they should have been dealt with in the usual way by the Board," he remarked.

"It would have been quite optional with the Board, after reading the communications and petitions to deal with them as the majority saw fit. The other commissioners have abused their privilege as representatives of the people in refusing to produce and read these papers and the action in, to say the least, a very high-handed manner of dealing with the voice of the people," said Mayor Porter.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY Victoria Times, September 21, 1896. Blue jackets and marines have arrived for H. M. S. Comus, who crossed the continent on a special train from Montreal. The annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. will open at the Temperance Hall to-morrow. William Wilson died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last evening, aged 94 years and 10 days. He was father of Alexander Wilson and Alderman William Wilson, of the well known firm of A. & W. Wilson, Broad Street. He was a Scottish stonemason, who worked on many public buildings in the East, establishing himself as a builder in Quebec City.

MAKE PILGRIMAGE TO BURRINGTON COMBE A remarkable pilgrimage has just taken place to the cleft rock in the Mendip Hills, in Somersetshire, where Augustus M. Toplady, seeking shelter from a sudden storm, found the inspiration for his world-famous hymn: Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee. More than 10,000 people took part in the pilgrimage—a wonderful tribute to the appeal of a really popular hymn. It is hoped that permission may be obtained from the lord of the manor to inscribe the words of the hymn on the face of the rock, on which a memorial of Toplady is also to be placed. The vicar of Burrington conducted a service, standing on a ledge of the rock. The sweet singing by the mass of people gathered in the amphitheatre facing the rock was a feature of the service. The pilgrims came from places as far apart as Dublin, Falmouth, Swindon, Birmingham, and London. The hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung twice, and many of the pilgrims were moved to tears. —And Its Author. There must be many people to-day who cherish a real affection for the hymn and yet know nothing of its author. Augustus Montague Toplady was born at Farnham, Surrey, on November 4, 1749, and was educated in part at Westminster School, graduating at Trinity College, Dublin. He was converted by a sermon from James Morris, a follower of Wesley, in a barn at Westminister. His hymns have by some critics been placed on the same level as those of Wesley, but nowadays it is generally felt that this was appraising them too highly. Should Decorate—Mayor Porter this morning emphasized the value of window decorations by local business men in connection with the exhibition as an excellent means of advertising. He referred to the extensive campaign of advertising undertaken by New Westminster and Vancouver during the fair weeks there and expressed the hope that more business houses in the city would set out special window displays featuring the fair colors, green and gold.

THIRTY PERSONS WERE KILLED BY STORM IN SPAIN Cuhnos, Spain, Sept. 21.—Dispatches received here late to-day from Motilla del Palancar announced that thirty persons were killed and twenty-seven injured as a result of Monday's tempest. One hundred families were made homeless.

$60,000 FOR DYKES Government Also Votes $15,000 to Protect Pacific Highway From Serpentine River. Sixty thousand dollars for the Matsqui-Dyking Commission to carry it on was voted by the Government in executive order the Premier to-day. This money will go to meet past obligations on work done several years ago. No new funds are made available; it was said. To drain surplus waters from the Serpentine River basin $15,000 was granted to the Surrey Council. The Premier explained that draining will protect the Pacific Highway against high water conditions.

FIRE OFFICIAL PASSES George O. Lund, Chief Engineer of Local Fire Department, Died To-day. George Olof Lund, chief engineer of the Victoria Fire Department, died at his home, 2109 Chambers Street, this morning, aged 66 years. The late Mr. Lund was a native of Christiania, Norway, and had been a resident of this city for the past thirty years, being employed in the Victoria Fire Department for twenty-nine years. He held the position of chief engineer for ten years. He leaves to mourn their loss, one son, George Edgar, a stepson, Leslie, one daughter, Miss Lund, at home; also two grandchildren, orphans of the late George Lund who was killed in a mass of six hundred pounds of carved dairy product has therefore aroused the interest of all the visitors to the exhibition.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED TO-DAY. Nuptials of Miss Eleanor Margaret Wallis and Victor M. Lawson.

One of the prettiest and most interesting weddings of the early Autumn was solemnized at St. James Church, James Bay, to-day at 2 o'clock, when Eleanor Margaret Wallis, daughter of the late Richard C. Wallis, M. P. P. for Alberni, and Mrs. Wallis of St. John Street, Victoria, became the bride of Victor Middleton Lawson, an old friend of the late Archibald celebrated the nuptials before a interested gathering of friends of the young couple.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white flowers and sprays of trailing flowering clematis vine. The bride who was given in marriage by her mother, entered the church on the arm of Magistrate George Jay, an old friend of the family who had given her mother away at her marriage. She made a charming picture of girlish beauty in her lovely imported gown of white silk embroidered net over crepe-de-chine, with train of white satin lined with flesh-colored chiffon. Her veil of white net with appliqued embroidery and lace was pinned to the hair under a coronet of orange blossoms, and a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses completed the bridal toilet.

The bridegroom, wearing a suit of black satin, trimmed with heavy applique, with a hat of antique panne velvet and ostrich feather fantasia. The service was fully choral and during the signing of the register R. Mackenzie sang "The Psalm of Love."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Asters and flowering vine wreaths were used in the decoration of the reception rooms and in the dining-room where the buffet luncheon was served. The many beautiful wedding gifts received by the young couple evoked much admiration. Mr. and Mrs. Lawson left on an automobile tour of Vancouver Island, the bride traveling in a smart suit of navy blue tricot, faced with grey crepe-de-chine, hat of blue and grey panne velvet and becoming fur wrap.

Hundreds Viewed the Latest Fashions at Hudson's Bay Store. FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT. PRINCE JOSE'S JOURNEY Part VI.

The sweet-singing bird flew down, for its wings were free from the white satin that covered its body and perched on the table beside which Jose stood.

"Yes, I was once a mortal," it said, "long years ago I sang a great deal in those days, for I was happy, and when, just before my wedding day, I dressed in my bridal clothes, he made me everything and ready, I sang out my heartfelt happiness."

"The magician of the enchanted forest must have been passing in some disguised form, for in that forest the window of my room swept a whirling wind and took me in my bridal clothes, and I was borne away by him, and he was still young, though I had been in that forest slinging at the bidding of its master."

"You shall gaze into the mirror and repeat the magic word that will break the spell," said Jose, as he opened the box, careful not to look into it himself.

Fluttering to the box the bird looked in and three times repeated the magic word, and he was still there appeared a pretty girl in her bridal dress and the bird had disappeared.

"Come," said Jose, wondering if he had not better have let the bird remain a bird after all, for he knew this must be Melissa, the sweetheart of the old shepherd, and she was still young, while the man who had waited and watched all these years was an old man.

He did not need to be told it was the Princess, for he looked it from the crown of her golden head to the tips of the tiny pink satin slippers, and as he looked into her pretty blue eyes, he knew that he had found the girl he wanted for his wife.

Just as the sun came up the three visitors left the enchanted forest. They found at the entrance the big white birds asleep, just as Jose had left them.

Taking the mirror from its box Jose waved it in front of the sleeping bird and repeated the magic word three times.

It was well Jose stepped back, for in place of the three big white birds he saw three white horses prancing about as if impatient to be off.

Jose placed the Princess on one and Melissa on another, and on the third he leaped, and off they went, with Jose's horse leading the way, for well he knew the old shepherd would be waiting for him by the tree where he had left him.

All the time Jose was wondering what would happen when Melissa bade for Jose to get on his horse and in the heart of the old shepherd lover for the young girl would be as deep as on the day she was stolen from him.

When they rode up to the old shepherd, he cried out his sweetheart's name and, though he had grown old and his hair was white, he leaped from his horse and jumping from her horse, she threw herself into his open arms.

Then from under his ragged green coat Prince Jose took the box with the magic mirror, "Melissa," he said, holding out the box, "there are two ways left. You can become a fitting mate for your lover, or change him into the youth you love."

"I would not change him," answered Melissa. "He has been faithful all these years. I will become an other Prince to prove to him I still love him, though he is old."

When Prince Jose rode with the Princess Olga to her home to return her to her parents, he learned that she was the very Princess his father had selected for him to wed, and as they were very much in love with each other by this time he carried the Princess back to his home as his bride.

PERSIAN LAMBSKINS NOW A COMMERCIAL PRODUCT OF CANADA

Willows Exhibition Featuring Famous Karakul Sheep. Nearly every woman in Victoria district who ever resided in the Prairie Provinces has, at some time or another, clasped as her most prized possession either a toque or coat of Persian lamb, and Victorians also are having articles trimmed with this beautiful fur.

All these will be interested to know that, for the first time in the history of the Victoria Exhibition, they are able to see for themselves the stock which produces these unique pelts, so utterly beyond the artistry of the most skillful furrier to imitate.

New In Canada. In the most prominent stalls of the sheep section of the Fair are arrayed a number of black-faced sheep, bearing shaggy coats of long hairy black or grey wool, brought to Victoria for educational purposes by O. H. Patrick of Calgary.

It is the offspring of these animals, known as Karakul sheep, which contribute the glossy close-curl fur so valued by millinery for its wonderful durability, warmth and beauty. Many stories of a gruesome nature have been circulated as to the slaughter of mother sheep necessary to secure perfect skins, these tales representing the Bokharan tribesmen, who developed the breed in the mountains of Turkestan, as ruthless and shortsighted in their eagerness for gold.

Expensive Importation. Such tales are exploded by the demonstration now on view at the Exhibition. It is pointed out that the breed is so highly valued by the men of Turkestan that, before the twenty-six animals which originated the Karakul herd could be got out of the country a few years ago, no less than $60,000 had to be spent. It is therefore obvious that no inducements would cause the tribesmen to shatter their flocks to gain a few dollars for pre-natal lambskins, even though such were superior.

See Actual Skins. As to this latter, skins of crossbred males, killed shortly after birth at the Calgary ranch are shown to those interested, and the samples are of as fine and close a curl as anything ever seen in made up condition. The exhibiting of these animals at the Willows is as frankly for the promotion of sales as are the motives of the exhibitors of the ordinary classes of cattle, but there is this difference, the Karakul breed of sheep being something entirely new on this continent. Mr. Patrick is seeking to bring about a widespread distribution of small flocks of these animals, so that Canada may, in a few years, raise a sufficient number of pelts to supply the demand, thus creating an entirely new industry.

A Hardy Breed. There are a number of remarkable features claimed for these Karakul sheep. They are unusually hardy, having originated in a land where the climate is even more severe than that of the Prairie Provinces. They give a meat of the highest grade, which has earned the public commendation of the Army and Navy. They are also a naturalized Canadian, and they come to marketing weight with great speed.

The greatest point being the value of the lamb pelts. It is noted that, no matter what the price of wool, the price for Persian lambskins is much greater than the combined return from the slaughtering grade of any other breed of sheep.

Breed Facts. Naturally all the pelts offered are those of crossbred males, as females are too valuable to kill, while, on the contrary, males not thoroughbred are of no value for other than pelt or meat.

Breeders are interested in the fact that the percentage of lambs dying is remarkably low, while crossbred and pure-blooded ewes drop twins with great frequency.

Another interesting point is that Canadian experiments have shown that the best sheep breeds for crossbreeding are the Karakul rams are the course-wooled Lincoln, Leicester or Cotswold varieties, which normally receive a lower price for their fleeces than that secured by the finer merino types.

The Famous Sheep. Karakul sheep are the animals from which Persian lamb fur is obtained. The young ones are killed a few days after birth, and the skins removed for him by the tree where he had left him.

Since the last sheep came out in 1914 the Kurds swept through the Bokhara. Then the Turks invaded the district. Inquiries are already coming to the American Karakul owners from Bokhara interests who wish to obtain pure bred animals.

The finest ram was obtained by Dr. Young after much difficulty. He traveled hundreds of miles to obtain a perfect type, and he examined thousands of sheep. He finally found a perfect specimen in the flock of an elderly sheik, who refused to be interviewed. The doctor was informed that the sheik's face was badly swollen from a decayed tooth. Dr. Young persuaded him that as he was a medical man, he could relieve him without pain.

"If you do," said the sheik, "you can have anything you wish, but if you don't, you die."

"Fortunately," the doctor reported to his colleagues, "I had a quantity of cocaine. I treated the gum and deadened and took the tooth out. The old chief would not believe it had gone until it was shown him."

Overcome with gratitude the chief ordered that Dr. Young be given his choice of the Karakul herd. He picked the prize ram, gave the sheik another dose of cocaine sufficient to kill two ordinary mortals, and instructed his caravan to go quickly.

"We must be far away in twenty-four hours, for when the cocaine effects are worn off the sheik will be looking for us," he said. So they fled and got away in safety.

There was a wrong which lay in the past. She owed him something for that. She could not blame him for all he had suffered then.

"Miles," she spoke his name faintly. "What are you thinking about? Why do you look at me like that?"

Faversham laughed, a cruel laugh it seemed, and stooping, he kissed her on the cheek.

"Ten years ago I was a vain, blind, little fool," she answered humbly. "He let her go, and followed her to the door. She looked back to take a last glance round the room."

"I shall always love it," she said, "because you came back to me here." Faversham's eyes followed the direction of her gaze, and fell upon the smouldering ashes that half-filled the grate.

"Ashes of the past, she had called them. Already they were but grey, shapeless shadows. A pity one could not so completely burn out memory and the restless longing for revenge. The drive to the station was very silent. Just before the taxicab stopped Mrs. Dundas said impetuously: 'I don't want to go now, Miles. I feel somehow as if I shall never see you again.'"

LOGGING ACCIDENTS

G. M. Cornwall Here to Secure Support for Pacific Logging Congress.

To secure support for the Pacific Logging Congress at San Francisco October 28 to 29, George M. Cornwall of the Timberman, Portland, was in the city yesterday attending the sessions of the Canadian Forestry Association.

He announced that one of the objects of the conference is to secure a standardization of donkey engine whistles throughout the six western states and British Columbia, so that the loggers may know the calls in passing from one district to another, and so avoid accidents in the woods.

A visit will be paid by the delegates to some of the famous California redwood forests during the convention.

Among the delegates will be Commissioner H. Gilmour, of the Workmen's Compensation Board of B. C., and A. P. Allison, of Vancouver, the latter of whom will read a paper on "Logging Flumes for Large Timbers."

Ponies Race Well In Spite Mud and Rain

Outsiders Did Not Stand Much Chance Against Public Choices at Willows Yesterday Although Track Was In Bad Shape; Three Horses Finish In Almost Dead Heat In Fifth Race; Derby Day To-morrow.

Wind, rain and mud failed to prevent plenty of spectacular racing at the Willows track yesterday. If ever a day was created for the mudders it was yesterday. Long shots were expected to figure prominently in the money but favorites ran very true to form and showed just as consistently in the slop as they have done on the firm surface.

Three thousand fans braved the inclement weather to wager on the horses. It was surprising the manner in which the money flowed on to the favorites. Stanley H., Choirmaster, York Lassie, Clover Junia and Cancion were the greatest odds-on choices that have ever faced a barrier in this city.

Stanley H. and Cancion performed in winning style, while Clover Junia had to be content with second place and York Lassie just managed to show. Choirmaster failed lamentably in the fourth race. Usually a consistent performer, he was expected to find the mud to his liking but he could not get going.

A Hot Finish. The fifth race provided the feature run of the card. With the mud flying, the rain coming down in torrents, three horses, Review, Leo Enfield and Goldie Rose, flashed under the wire separated by a couple of inches. It was a wonderful finish to a good race.

Review was the public choice, but did not seem to be running to form in the opening furlongs being some distance back from the leaders. On the last turn, however, Wilson put Review under the whip and came through with a terrific finish. In the last few strides Review caught Leo Enfield and obtained the decision by a nose. Goldie Rose was a nose in rear of Enfield.

Stanley H. Again. Stanley H. with young Hurn in the saddle, won the third race just as he pleased. The mud did not stop this fast bay from showing his heels to the rest of the field. Gray's Favorite just had enough to hold off Like Jake in a drive for second place. Cancion was brought home a winner by Wilson in the first race. Although inclined to bear out on all turns and covering much more ground than necessary, Cancion was game and had no trouble winning. Eddie Tranter tried hard but lacked the speed. Mineral Jim was third.

The Best Payer. Clover Junia, the favorite in the second race, came with a fast rush in the stretch but could not overtake Daisy N. which had jumped to the front at the start and held the lead all the way. Daisy N. paid the best money of the day, a two-dollar straight bet returning its owner $18.45.

Choirmaster disappointed his followers in the fourth race. He was a heavy favorite but finished among the also rans. Tilotson, from the McGregor stable, a third-choice, was the best mudder of the day. He ran away from the field in the first half mile and won just as he pleased, being well ridden by Mulcahy. Lola, the second favorite, obtained place with Bevo third.

Hurn could not keep York Lassie, the favorite in the sixth race which was over one mile and a sixteenth, from running wide at the turn and Lowe, mounted on Miss Sedalia, took advantage of this. Lowe brought his mount in an easy winner and York Lassie had to be content with third place, being well ridden by Mulcahy. Lola, the second favorite, obtained place with Bevo third.

Jockey Lowe brought home his second winner of the day in the final race when he put Deckhand, the favorite, under the wire to a popular win. The mud did not bother Deckhand who came to the front on the second lap and won easily over Ruth Harrigan, ridden by Neal, Shendoah finished third.

Derby Day To-morrow. To-morrow will be Derby Day at the Willows and Herb Fullerton, the presiding judge, announces a splendid card. Some of the fleetest thoroughbreds at the track will be pitted against each other. Yesterday's results were as follows:

First race—First, Cancion (Wilson), paid straight $2.35, place $2.50, show $2.25; second, Eddis Franzer (Williams), paid $4.45, show $2.50; third, Mineral Jim (R. Small), paid show $2.85. Other horses: Kio, Lantern, Chrome, Doctor Dooley, Coffee John, Tuscan, May Dawn.

HUNTER AND ARMOUR STILL IN RUNNING

British Golfers Won Matches in U. S. Championship Golf Tournament Yesterday

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 21.—The second battle of the links was waged over the field of the St. Louis Country Club to-day with a certainty that half of the golfers would be extinguished at the end of thirty-six holes of fighting for the national amateur championship now held by Chick Evans, of Chicago, who is defending his crown, and who will meet Richard Bockenamp, of St. Louis. T. D. Armour, of Scotland, who defeated Lee Steil, of Seattle, in the first round, five and three, to-day meets Bob Gardner, of Chicago, who has not only won the title twice but took Cyril Tolley to thirty-seven holes in the British championship last year. Willie Hunter, the British champion, meets James Maroon, a St. Louis public-links product.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—Survivors in the first rounds of match play yesterday in the National Amateur Golf championship at the St. Louis Country Club included three former title winners among them Champion Chick Evans and Willie Hunter, British champion. Bob Gardner and Francis Ouimet, the former champions, had to extend themselves to win, however. Ouimet met a tartar in Max Marston, of Philadelphia, but after finishing the morning round three down, he shot a 34 the third nine and finally won two and one. Gardner started well and reached the first turn three up to Clark Spitz and second round. According to an announcement made yesterday play in the first and second rounds must be completed by October 1. The third round is to be played off prior to October 3 and the semi-finals and finals will be decided before October 15. Three-quarters of the difference of the handicap will be allowed.

The draw for the first round was as follows: Mrs. Philbrick vs. Miss Tate; Mrs. Holland vs. Miss Pitts; Mrs. E. Heisterman vs. Miss J. MacLeod; Mrs. Burton vs. Mrs. Gore; Mrs. Hutchins vs. Mrs. Pierce. There were ten byes.

The following was the result of the drawing for the second round: Miss Tuck vs. Mrs. Green; Mrs. B. Wilson vs. Miss A. MacLeod; Mrs. Lennox vs. Miss Sayward; Mrs. E. Todd vs. Mrs. Goward.

Armour Had Hard Start. T. D. Armour, Scotch invader, also was successful, defeating Lee Steil, of Seattle, 5 and 4, but not without valiant resistance by the Pacific Coast player. The American shot at 36 in first nine, repulsing the Scot 2 up as he took 38 strokes. Then the Scot not only evaded affairs but obtained a lead of three holes before luncheon. Steil fought back valiantly in the second round, but finally succumbed at the 32nd hole.

Old Country Soccer System For Victoria

Intermediates to Be Embraced in Second Division; Seniors Will Be Known As First Division; Winners of Second Division and Cellar Team of First Division Will Change Places at End of Season.

Football in Victoria is to be operated on a similar basis to that which has proven such a success in the Old Country. Instead of having senior and intermediate leagues, the Victoria and District Football Association will form two divisions. The first Division will include all the senior teams, while the Second Division will comprise the Intermediates and other elevens which were unable to gain admission to the senior circuit.

By this new system the officials of the association hope to overcome the difficulties which are experienced at the first of each season in regard to acceptance of new candidates for senior company. In future all new teams will have to appear in the Second Division and prove their worth.

New York, Sept. 21.—The game of leap frog between the New York and Cleveland teams for possession of first place in the American League found the easterners in front to-day. A four point margin represented their advantage. Cleveland's dislodgment from first place came about when the Boston Red Sox yesterday attacked two of the world's champions' pitchers in an eighth inning batting rally for six runs and victory, while the Yankees were winning from Detroit. The New York Giants' lead in the National League was cut to three games by the Chicago Cubs, who won in the tenth.

Through misunderstanding the Veterans' card has been confused with the bouts which had been planned for Friday night at the Crystal Theatre for the benefit of Frank Slavin. The Police Commissioners refused to grant a permit for the Friday show, but they had previously given the Veterans permission to go ahead, and last evening did not take any action to stop them.

The Police Commissioners refused permission for another boxing card on Friday night, but did not interfere with to-night's bouts, for which they granted permission several weeks ago. ## SMELLS FOREST FIRE 25 MILES AWAY

B. C. Government Now Uses Sensitive Instrument to Protect Forests

Sensitive instruments, which can smell a fire at a distance of twenty-five miles are now used by the B. C. Forestry Branch in its work to protect the forests from destruction. R. V. Stuart told the Forestry Convention at the Empress Hotel late yesterday. His lecture on mechanical improvements in fire-fighting was illustrated by screen slides.

Airplane scouting also plays a leading part in fire protection campaigns along the Coast, he said.

Other improvements include the new portable pump, equipped with 1,000 feet of hose, which driven by one cylinder, pumps 45 gallons of water a minute a distance of 275 yards and throws a stream 50 feet high and 60 feet long.

Portable wireless outfits are used to keep fire-fighters in touch with one another. The range of these outfits is from 50 to 150 miles. Three land stations have been supplied with wireless telephones, Thurston, Vancouver and a point 75 miles north of Vancouver. When atmospheric conditions are favorable the range of these stations runs up to 100 miles. The one at Thurston Bay has reached even 150 miles.

LIBERALS OPEN HEADQUARTERS

Event Synchronizes With the Opening of Federal Election Campaign

A powerful battery of fighting speeches was delivered in the opening of the Federal election campaign, which synchronized with the opening of the Victoria Liberal Association headquarters in the Kent Building last night.

William W. Ivel, President of the Victoria Liberal Association, presided, and Hon. John Oliver and Arthur H. Cox, secretary of the association occupied the platform with him. The meeting was largely attended, and cabinet ministers and crowds of people in all walks of life were present.

The speakers included Premier Oliver, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, M. A. Macdonald, K. C., Senior Liberal member for Vancouver; J. B. Clearhue, member for Victoria, and William Ivel. The speeches were interspersed with songs by Mrs. Merton and Miss Middleton, both of whom were given a great reception, and dancing and refreshments followed the speech-making. All the speakers agreed that the committee and particularly the ladies, were to be congratulated on the very comfortable arrangements of the rooms and furnishings. It was agreed that the Liberals had the brightest and neatest club rooms in the city.

The unconstitutional manner in which the present so-called government at Ottawa is holding office, and the precipitation of a general election before redistribution has taken place; the heavy taxes that are collected by the Federal government and the comparatively infinitesimal return received by British Columbia and other outstanding deliberate acts of misadministration were emphasized by the various speakers.

Mr. Ivel spoke briefly, and said that the establishment of the excellent Liberal headquarters in Victoria was the realization of a hope he has cherished for many a long day. That the Association possesses such a comfortable home to-day was due to the individual effort and co-operation of the members. It was a splendid example of the unity and strength of the organization. The speaker touched on some of the present political failings of the government at Ottawa, and he prophesied that the Liberals would have an unqualified victory at the polls in November.

"The Liberal Association rooms will always be open to all Liberals and those who wish to become acquainted with the principles and policies of the great Canadian party," said Mr. Ivel.

J. B. Clearhue, M. P. P. for Victoria, spoke very briefly and to the point. After complimenting the Association on having such splendid quarters he intimated that the rooms would soon become the centre for serious debate on national problems, and in this respect it was the duty of every loyal citizen of Canada to take heed of the political weather-vane and to guard against all surprises.

Canada is passing from the lull of inactivity following the war to an era of industrial activity and development, which, if properly nurtured, will lead to wealth for not only a few but for all, said the speaker.

Mr. Clearhue declared that when the election took place, in November the people of Canada would find three parties going to the polls, the Liberals, the Farmers and the Liberal Unionists and others. He warned the people of Canada to think deeply and to think twice before electing a candidate for whom they would vote at the next federal election.

The Minister of Finance, Hon. John Hart also complimented the association on its new home in which action would be taken as to the words spoken in the best interests of the Canadian nation. It was quite appropriate that such a home for Liberalism should be opened on the eve of a great election which meant so much to Canada's future, he declared.

Looking back over history there was never at any time such a period of stagnation in industry or such an army of unemployed as at the present time, the Minister said. "It is possible for the people of Canada to make history repeat itself, and to bring back again such a wave of prosperity as swept over the country following the return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896."

The Coalition Government had been placed in power at Ottawa when all parties had but one aim in view—the winning of the war. All factions united and worked for the one purpose, the Minister submitted.

Re-Construction Fight.

"We now have, however, another fight before us—the fight of reconstruction and re-establishment and for this purpose we must have a government in power made up of men who have proved their ability to deal with the problems with which the country is confronted.

"The time had arrived when all those who believe in the principles of the Liberal party should again identify themselves exclusively with that party." A call was issued by Mr. Hart to all Liberals to render

SMELLS FOREST FIRE 25 MILES AWAY

B. C. Government Now Uses Sensitive Instrument to Protect Forests

Sensitive instruments, which can smell a fire at a distance of twenty-five miles are now used by the B. C. Forestry Branch in its work to protect the forests from destruction. R. V. Stuart told the Forestry Convention at the Empress Hotel late yesterday. His lecture on mechanical improvements in fire-fighting was illustrated by screen slides.

Airplane scouting also plays a leading part in fire protection campaigns along the Coast, he said.

Other improvements include the new portable pump, equipped with 1,000 feet of hose, which driven by one cylinder, pumps 45 gallons of water a minute a distance of 275 yards and throws a stream 50 feet high and 60 feet long.

Portable wireless outfits are used to keep fire-fighters in touch with one another. The range of these outfits is from 50 to 150 miles. Three land stations have been supplied with wireless telephones, Thurston, Vancouver and a point 75 miles north of Vancouver. When atmospheric conditions are favorable the range of these stations runs up to 100 miles. The one at Thurston Bay has reached even 150 miles.

TO SECURE RELIEF FOR SAYWARD AREA

Transportation to Be Improved in Valley; Mr. Armishaw's Candidature

Following consultations with officials of the Department of Public Works, J. E. Armishaw, of Sayward, who was in the city yesterday to secure relief for settlers, announced that a promise of relief had been given in connection with improving transportation.

In a statement to The Times he said:

Needs of District.

"I came here as the representative of the Sayward Progressive Association to interview Government officials with regard to transportation matters, which are in a deplorable condition. While we have good roads the residents are unable to use them because the bridges across the Salmon River and the White River have collapsed. This condition has existed for three years, and the settlers are discouraged, and threatening to leave.

"We have recently held our first agricultural show which was a great success, considering the handicaps of the farmers. It is a great pity the Ministers of Public Works and Agriculture did not see the display. So far the present ministers have not visited Sayward, and a great welcome would be accorded them.

"The chief engineer of the Department recently visited Sayward with regard to public works, and expressed his interest in me as highly pleased with the district. We still look for the extension of the Island Highway to the district.

"The past year was the best for all crops, and livestock, and if these bridges were repaired or replaced Sayward would be a very contented district, as the majority of the settlers are making good.

"In acknowledging the progress made I would thank The Victoria Times for publicity given to the Sayward district.

"Turning to his candidature for Comox-Alberni in the great by-election, Mr. Armishaw said that his candidacy as Farmer-Labor had been endorsed by many progressives, and he was out to fight for honest government and progressive development, for the abolition of the Soldier Settlement Board, and a more equitable re-establishment policy for returned men, and fuller protection for war widows and orphans.

Mr. Armishaw claims that coal mining from a lad to early manhood at Springhill, Nova Scotia, fifteen years in business in Nova Scotia and British Columbia, and ten years farming in Sayward have qualified him to represent the interests of the northern part of the Island. Asked his claims to labor representation as pointed out he still held cards in two unions where he had followed his trade.

He left on the Vancouver boat last evening to commence an active canvass with his wife of the riding. Most of the travelling will have to be done by launch.

Says Her Recovery Is Almost Like a Miracle

From Helpless Invalid to Complete Restoration of Health, Strength and Happiness Is Wonderful Change Mrs. Root Experienced in Three Weeks—Statement One of Most Remarkable On Record.

"Just a week before I started taking Tanlac I was down in bed so crippled up with rheumatism I could not move without help. My son had taken Tanlac, and it had done him a world of good, so one day he brought home a bottle and said, 'Mother, I want you to take this.' When I had finished that bottle, I felt like a different woman, and by the time I had finished my second bottle, I was out in the garden hoeing.

"Tanlac has simply done wonders for me; it almost seems 'like a miracle.' This is the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Jennie Root, residing at 1409 Powers St., Portland, Oregon, and is only one of tens of thousands of well-known men and women who are daily testifying to the powers of Tanlac.

"My appetite is just splendid now and just to-day for the first time in years, I felt so hungry that I had to eat just a piece of pie between meals. In fact, I can't remember the time that I have felt as well as I do now. I have not only regained my health and strength, but I have gained fourteen pounds in weight. To tell you the truth, I wouldn't exchange the benefit I have received from Tanlac for the best ranch in Oregon, and I will praise it as long as I live."

SWEDISH SAILORS DRIFTED IN SHIP'S BOATS NINE DAYS

Marooned on Island They Existed on Coconuts; Landed at San Francisco

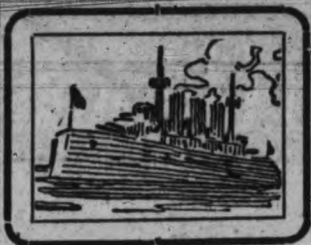

San Francisco, Sept. 21.—Twenty-five members of the crew of the Swedish barque Mont Blanco, which was burned in the South Seas several months ago, reached San Francisco yesterday aboard the liner Marmora from Manila. The sailors, following the burning of their ship, landed in small boats on an island and were marooned there for fifty-four days, existing on coconuts and other food obtainable on the island. They were nine days and nights on the open sea in the small boat before reaching the island, they said.

GALE INCONVENIENCED SHIPPING ON SOUND

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 21.—The southeast gale that swept the Lower Sound yesterday drove the purse seine fishing vessel Athena ashore near the Hillside cannery, in Port Townsend bay. The receding tide left the vessel high and dry, but she has escaped damage. The Port Townsend city float broke adrift in the gale, but later was recovered. Several scows, including one loaded with coal for Port Casey, had to be towed to Haddock because of the violence of wind and seas. The barquentine Anne Comyn, bound for Port Blakeley to load lumber, was fowed in by the tug Forrest T. Crosby, but off Marrowstone Point the Crosby had to turn back and bring the vessel into Port Townsend bay.

MASTER OF EXPORTER WILL TEST FINDING OF NAUTICAL COURT

Capt. Wm. Bradley Files Papers and Case Will Be Heard September 26

Vancouver, Sept. 21.—The decision of the marine court of inquiry which investigated the stranding of the Canadian Government steamer Canadian Exporter on Willapa Spit, on July 31, and which suspended the master, Captain W. M. Bradley, for six months, is to be challenged by the latter. Papers have been filed to bring the matter before the Supreme Court on September 26. D. E. McTaggart is appearing for Captain Bradley. The basis of the appeal is that no charges were preferred against Captain Bradley, and that he was given no opportunity of presenting a defence.

The steamship San Juan, bound from Cristobal for San Francisco, gave her position as 1,308 miles south of San Francisco, or approximately 2,000 miles from Estevan Point.

WEST HAD FULL SHARE OF TRAVEL

Head of C. P. R. Passenger Service Speaks on Tourist Trade

While the past season's tourist travel has not been so great as in the previous year, considering the prevailing financial conditions there is no room for complaint. C. E. E. Usher, head of the Canadian Pacific Railway passenger department informed The Times last evening. Mr. Usher, as president of the Canadian Forestry Association, presided over the convention of that organization at the Empress Hotel, sessions having also been held in Vancouver.

PIANOS ARE REMOVED FROM IMPORTER'S HOLD

Good music, it is said, may still be extracted from the nine carloads of pianos which were stored in the hold of the steamship Canadian Importer when she was helpless drifting in the Pacific. All the pianos, as well as a large percentage of the lumber cargo, have been removed from the ship and are now stored in the dock warehouse. A few of the instruments, it is claimed, became waterlogged, but the larger part of the shipment is believed to have escaped damage.

PREMIER OPENS FIGHT AGAINST MEIGHEN; SAYS TARIFF NOT THE ISSUE

Even Forget Decency.
He told of how things were run at the last Dominion election when he went to the polls and found that his name was not on the list. He had to go and take an oath before he could get his ballot to vote. At the same time men and women of all sorts and unknown were going in and on being required only to make a declaration were given ballot papers.
"You have in power a Government that is disregarding the franchise in compelling voters lists for the coming election," he went on.
"Liberals Started Prosperity Before." "Set up the tariff issue, the Premier said that the Conservatives with their high protection policy were in power for eighteen years after 1878 and that they brought no prosperity to the country and he and others of his age could remember how men at that time were forced to work for $4 and $5 a month. But when the Liberals came into power in 1896 with their tariff revision, Canada was started on a period of prosperity under Liberal rule such as she never had before.
"Other Counts Than Tariff."
"Premier Meighen says that the tariff is the issue in this election," the Premier went on.
"But this election is not going to be fought on the question of protection against free trade. Free trade under the present conditions of debt in the country is a transportation of money to you that it is impossible for the Government of Canada to give free trade under present conditions. It will tax every resource of the people of Canada to meet their obligations."
"So we may dismiss from our minds the proposal that is being made that is to be fought on the issue of free trade and protection."
"B. C. Pays More Than Share."
The Premier said that some of the other issues on which the Premier Government must face the people of B. C. in this election include the claim for Better Terms. He pointed out that the people of B. C. because of the heavy import duties on raw iron through its lack of industrial development have contributed to the revenue of Canada through the customs a larger share proportionately than the people of the more populous and older established provinces of the East.
"Rail Rates Unfair to B. C."
He explained that under the Terms of Union of this Province with Confederation construction of a transcontinental railway was called for. But for the construction of this, B. C. had to contribute to the Dominion $600,000 acres of valuable land in the Peace River, lands which are now giving indications of great value because of their oil.
"In spite of that, for over thirty years the people of B. C. have been compelled to pay a higher price per ton for freight transportation than the rest of Canada," the Premier went on.
"Was that carrying out the Terms of Union? Even on the new national railway without grades, as their heaviest grade is four-tenths of one per cent, we are paying the high rates."
The Premier declared that when he went to Ottawa to discuss the B. C. E. question, the Government informed him that they were not prepared even to discuss the taking over of this road.
"Get Too Much on Whisky."
He also attacked the Meighen Government for its failure to assist B. C. in carrying out its new liquor policy, although the people of this Province had voted for it.
"To work out the problem of Government control of liquor voted for by the people of B. C. it is necessary for the Government here to have control of the sources of supply," the Premier said. "Yet when I went to Ottawa to ask for the legislation in accordance with the vote of the people, I was denied that legislation."
"Tax Aimed at B. C. and Quebec."
He explained that the high price of liquor here is due to the heavy tax imposed by the Dominion Government. He pointed out that on every bottle of whisky sold here the Dominion collects $1.75. He said that this tax is unfair to both B. C. and Quebec, the two provinces handling liquor.
"Prohibition or no prohibition, I want to say to you that the incidence of this taxation is taking away from the people of this Province an excess of several million dollars a year more than is being taken away from the people of other provinces," the Premier went on.
"Something Personal."
He then said there was something of a personal nature between Premier

LEADING CITIZENS SUPPORT QUARTET

Four Detectives Backed by Influential Petitions

A copy of the first petition that was rejected by the Board of Police Commissioners last evening was offered to The Times by a body of citizens, after the meeting. They expressed extreme indignation at the action taken, with the plea made on behalf of the ratepayers and prominent financiers signatory to the document. The petition, which was not read in the council chamber of the police board last night, reads as follows:

Plea for Department.

We the undersigned residents and taxpayers learn with regret, not unmixed with a feeling of alarm, that it is the intention of the Board to effect certain changes in the detective and police force of the city by either removing or altering the status of some officers of long and proved standing and service.

We would point out that in the present condition of public unrest throughout the world, following on the heels of the war, it is extremely dangerous to interfere with settled conditions except for very grave reasons. Also we would point out that Victoria, of all the coast cities, since the war, has been particularly immune from a class of undesirable persons who have flocked into other cities, with resultant robberies, assaults, burglaries and even murders.

It is our firm conviction that this immunity has been secured to Victoria through the efficiency, good judgment and caution of our city detective and police forces.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, chyme, and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief. But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia. This is not an ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisulphate of Magnesia, which you obtain from practically any druggist in any powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It instantly neutralizes the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sends the close gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You will find that provided you take a little Bisulphate of Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow. Moreover, the continued use of the bisulphate of Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. (Adv.)

REMARKABLE MEETING OF POLICE BOARD

Majority Carry Out Policy Regarding Police Changes

MUCH INTERRUPTION FROM SPECTATORS

Dr. Hall Says Electors Can Shortly Challenge Policy

With heads crowding in over sills, with the fire escape jammed from top to bottom, the door propped open and long queues standing to be within earshot, the Board of Police Commissioners last night voted to dismiss four detectives, abolish two offices, and reduce the detective staff to less than half. The Commissioners conducted business to the running accompaniment of mingled cheers and boos from an excited and shouting crowd. This action was taken by Commissioners Dr. Ernest Hall and Joseph North, over the head of Mayor Robert J. Porter, who bitterly opposed to the action, and against the recommendation of Chief of Police John Fry.

The scene was one that had not been enacted at a previous meeting in the annals of the Police Commission of this city, and the noise at times rose to an uproar with the voices rising into a scream when Commissioner North announced his stand. The meeting had been called for eight o'clock, but as early as six o'clock numbers of the public were beginning to fill the hall. All sections of the city were represented, including many ladies, who occupied seats in the front row. The Board transacted a number of business before coming to the decision which led to the subsequent uproar.

The matter of the dismissal was first brought up when Arthur, who was acting as secretary to the Board, asked if the Board would hear a number of petitions that had been presented in connection with the suggestion that the number of members from the detective force, and the abolition of offices.

Dr. Hall stated that he did not wish to hear any petitions. "When our reputations were in danger of being shattered, and our lives ruined, in the recent court trials, and we were being hounded from our positions, no petition, no petition, no petition, came forward for us," he stated. "I move we do not receive any petitions." Mr. North seconded.

Says He Is Threatened. "I disagree with you," stated the Mayor. "This petition is signed, I understand, for I have not seen it, nor do I know what it contains, by a number of prominent ratepayers of this city."

"I don't care," stated Mr. North, "when I run I am supported by a large majority (jeers), yes, a very large majority, over 1400 votes. If people would only give me a chance to do something for them—they don't see it now (more jeers). I had threats handed to me to-day, I don't like them, but I won't be scared or intimidated."

Mr. North was cut short by the Mayor putting the motion to reject the first petition, that from the citizens of the city, and to reject the petition carried, with the Mayor being recorded in the negative, and in favor of hearing all petitions.

All Refused. "I have also a petition from the 'Trade and Commerce Council,' announced Mr. Hallam. The Board took the same action with this, rejecting it unheard, with the Mayor in dissent. "I have also a letter from Mr. A. Crease," stated Mr. Hallam. "Same way," stated Mr. North. "I have also a letter from Chief of Police Fry, on the same subject," stated Mr. Hallam. "Same," began Mr. North, but Chief Fry jumped into the breach and was successful in saving his letter from the official gullotine, and which is given in extenso elsewhere.

Heavy Work. After the letter had been read Chief Fry stood up and augmented his remarks with a further explanation of how the change would affect the force. "There are 150 miles of streets to be patrolled, not eight hours a day, but twenty-four hours a day, and this takes relief. The detectives cannot all be on the streets at the same time, for that whole twenty-four hours."

Dr. Hall then opened the chief subject of the evening, the suggested dismissals from the detective staff. "Since this Board has taken office it has endeavored to keep the efficiency of the force up to the highest possible standard," he stated. "I stated some time ago there would be no dismissals in any reorganization that might take place, but certain developments have taken place and I now find that certain dismissals will have to be made."

The reorganization of the force is one which in the estimation of the majority of our citizens is long overdue," said Dr. Hall. "May I call attention to the fact that reorganization of the police force was the main purpose of the meeting."

Mr. North seconded this motion. Mayor Porter interjected: "Chief Fry, is this your recommendation?" Chief Fry answered: "Two weeks ago I was taken to your office, your workshop, and do you remember what you said to me?"

"I said, if I remember, Mr. Fry, we have every confidence in you as our chief of police, and I do think if there is a charge, any man—men who have been appointed long in the service, I think these men should be given an opportunity to answer and state their case." (Cheers.)

plank of Mr. North's platform, and upon this he was elected at the head of the poll, and also please remember that the most consistent and apparently the most popular statements made by Mr. North have not been publicly challenged. It is for me but to state the fact that the public placed me here to conduct public business, and I propose to do this to the best of my ability in the public interest.

Forced "a Crisis." "I had hoped that we could have carried on a few months longer, but recent events have precipitated a crisis that must be dealt with immediately and firmly. Curried has been subjected to court proceedings. Two commissioners have been made the sport and play of those who apparently favor the procedure of the Commissioners. Surely a self-respecting public sentiment demands action."

"Since the present Commission has taken office we have had but one thing in mind, and that is to bring the force up to the highest possible point of efficiency that can be combined with reasonable economy."

"Complete Uniformity." "In matters of policy we have had certain disagreements of opinion, but in the ultimate purpose of efficiency I am happy to state there has been complete uniformity. With regard to the question of salaries, the Council, based upon the deplorable condition of the city's finances, has given us no little opposition, and His Worship, being the representative of the Council, has consistently opposed any increase of salaries. After consultations with the Mayor upon this point, notwithstanding that salary increases was one of Mr. North's pre-election pledges, I am of the opinion that we overstepped the reasonable mark in the resolution moved by Mr. North, and seconded by the Mayor, of a three per cent. month increase, which in further discussion we agreed to a compromise of one-half of that amount, thus lessening the anticipated expenditure, and the saving of between three and four thousand dollars per year," said the Doctor.

Not Co-Operating. "The Commission has realized that between the two departments, the uniformed and non-uniformed, there has not existed that complete harmony which should characterize our police force. It is our aim to effect a better understanding and more harmonious working conditions we have decided to put the Detective Department more directly under the Chief of Police. Mr. Fry, and do away with the position of Inspector of Police, now held by Mr. Perdue. It is by no means a novel proposition, for under the old system of former Commission. We are also of the opinion that the position of Deputy Chief, now held by Mr. Palmer, is unnecessary, and can be abolished without causing any loss to the force."

"The abolishing of these two offices will save the city $4,500 per year," said Dr. Hall. "We are further of the opinion that our Detective Department is heavily overloaded. In correspondence with the Police Department of Vancouver, I find that according to population we have almost double the number of detectives to Vancouver, and it is admitted by all police authorities that the over-burdened force is a heavy burden on the city's finances. We have therefore decided to reduce our detective force to what we consider is consistent with the requirements of the city. By this reduction we will still further economize to the extent of $5,580 per year."

Other Costs. "Over against these items we must place the salary of the morality officer, and the additional amount granted to Miss Wark on account of her increased expenses, which will amount to $2,000. This will give us a saving of $5,580 per year. This reconstruction must come as welcome news to the anxious City Council, and the over-burdened taxpayers, all of whom are in favor of this plan."

The commissioners believe that in this somewhat radical move they are acting in the public interest. They regard exceedingly, if such alterations work hard on any one but personal preference must always give way to the public welfare," concluded Dr. Hall.

A Mayor's Interview. "It is with great regret, then, that I now move that the Chief of Police be abolished at the end of the year," the doctor said.

Mr. North seconded this motion. Mayor Porter interjected: "Chief Fry, is this your recommendation?" Chief Fry answered: "Two weeks ago I was taken to your office, your workshop, and do you remember what you said to me?"

"I said, if I remember, Mr. Fry, we have every confidence in you as our chief of police, and I do think if there is a charge, any man—men who have been appointed long in the service, I think these men should be given an opportunity to answer and state their case." (Cheers.)

"Good old mayor—that's the stuff." "Well," stated Mr. North, "when I started this—(Cries of 'You!')—yes I started it, and I am going to clean them, including Mr. Perdue's resignation, which is not passed yet—and I am going to include Detectives Carlow, Macdonald and Siciliano, to take effect at the end of the year." "Folks, this has given me a whole lot of worry," continued Mr. North, "and cost me a lot of money. The only trouble with me is I am being in the last dirty bit of work in the courts cost me $400."

then we would have something to investigate. I have got nothing now but street rumors and gossip and if you fired all the men you would still get rumors and corner gossip."

"Especially in this city," assented the Mayor. "We could do without the office," continued the Chief, "and retain the man—at the same wages."

"I want no hedging—even from you, Chief," broke in Dr. Hall. Chief Fry evaded all efforts. "The police are in an uproar and have been for some months," stated Chief Fry. "There are twenty-four hours duty in every day—and I am not recommending it."

Resolutions Go Through. The motion to abolish the office of deputy chief at the end of the year was then put and carried, with the Mayor still in dissent.

"I move that we abolish the office of the Detective Inspector at the end of the year," stated Dr. Hall. "I will second that," stated Mr. North "and also that Detectives Carlow, Macdonald and Siciliano be given three months notice, to leave at the end of the year."

"What is your opinion Chief," asked the Mayor. "They are very important positions," answered the Chief. "There are no alternatives at night and three in the day—they cannot all be on at the same time."

"Do you think you require them all," asked Dr. Hall, "and why is it necessary for them to work two by two for protection?" "It is the wish of the city prosecutor for the sake of evidence, one's man word is as good as another, they must have two to give evidence."

"But Miss Wark is working alone, and doing very much better work than any of them," stated Dr. Hall. "There was dissent in the galleries. Order was established after a while. "That is not a very popular subject evidently," observed the Mayor (laughter).

"Miss Wark works among women and children and not against criminals," replied the Chief. "and she does not touch criminals at all," assented the Mayor. "Chief, are you in favor of this recommendation that the detective inspector office be abolished?"

"I cannot recommend it," stated Chief Fry. "I consider Mr. Perdue one of the ablest officers in Canada," stated the Mayor, "and I think this would be a very serious mistake" (cheering).

The motion to abolish the office at the end of the year was then put, and carried over the head of the Mayor, who rendered a most emphatic "no" to the voting.

"I move that Carlow, Macdonald and Siciliano get notices that their time expires at the end of the year," stated Mr. North. "I second that," assented Dr. Hall. A renewed outburst of jeers and boos broke loose and lasted for some time.

When it subsided Dr. Hall continued, "and I want to be clearly understood that these men's resignations are not called for until the end of the year. Before that time there will be a municipal election. You will have the privilege of voting on this as a plebiscite. I will go up again for office and you can vote whether you like this programme or not."

Opportunity For Review. "If you put in a Mayor in favor of an overturn, our Commissioners in favor of the old regime, you will not get this. This is the most unpleasant duty I have ever been confronted with and the most unpleasant one that could fall to the lot of any public official. But I believe we are acting in the public interest and for that reason Mr. North and I are for making this radical change." (Cries of "Have'n't they characters, same as you?")

Dr. Hall continued: "This will come as a plebiscite before the electorate, and that will put the responsibility on the citizens of Victoria. The Mayor disagrees and he has a right to do that; so in the election you will have a chance to give your views; it is the most democratic and proper way, and if I am defeated I will be very thankful."

Would Like Charges. Before putting the blanket motion to dismiss the three detectives at the end of the year Mayor Porter stated: "If there are charges against these men I have never heard of them. My fellow-Councillors may have sources of information not open to me, but I have no league behind me."

"If there are charges against these men I want to hear of them. To treat them in this way is nothing short of contemptible." Loud cheers followed.

"I am going to tell you, you have never yet had a public meeting until we took office," stated Mr. North, "in secret ex-Chief Langley was given $500 as salary."

The Commissioner got into an argument with a spectator at this stage which caused a commotion. "May I ask in future that any complaints be submitted in writing," asked Chief Fry. "I agree with you, and it should be done to-night," stated the Mayor.

The meeting then adjourned, after having been in session one hour and twenty-five minutes.

Chief Fry gives Word of Warning. Time Is Not Suitable for Experiment, He Says. Chief of Police John Fry, after the rapid rejection of the petitions submitted and filed unread, read a letter to the Board of Police Commissioners last evening. Permission to submit his plea was won for the Chief by a very determined stand taken by Mayor Porter. The letter read:—

Serious Outlook. "I most respectfully ask that you will take into serious consideration that the responsibility of successfully policing this city rests with the Chief of Police; to whom the citizens as a whole look to, and expect that the laws will be carried out fairly and without prejudice to all members of the community."

"With the approaching Winter, the unemployment question, the signs of unrest, the lawlessness which is rife in most neighboring cities and the comparative immunity from crimes of a serious nature within our own city, which speak volumes for the efficiency of my Department."

"Very few, outside of experienced police officers have the faintest idea of the manifold tasks and problems with which the Department is confronted both night and day, and it is so easy to lie back and criticize; therefore I would respectfully ask that your honorable body will give the most profound consideration before making any drastic changes; experience is not acquired in a day, and we cannot afford to experiment at this time."
