GERMAN TEXT, on Double Pica body.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments were instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; That whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the People to alter or abolish it.

THE HISTORY OF THE KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN

... the year 1701 the King died, leaving a young son, George II, who was crowned in 1727. His reign was marked by the War of Spanish Succession, which ended in 1713 with the Treaty of Utrecht. This treaty recognized the Spanish succession of Philip V and the independence of the United Provinces. The Hanoverian dynasty, which had begun with George I in 1714, continued with George II and then George III in 1760. The American Revolution, which began in 1775, led to the independence of the United States in 1783. The French Revolution, which began in 1789, led to the execution of King Louis XVI and the establishment of the French Republic. The Napoleonic Wars, which began in 1803, ended in 1815 with the Battle of Waterloo. The Congress of Vienna, which met in 1814-1815, established the Concert of Europe, which maintained peace in Europe for several decades.
