The hydraulic mining in the north is believed to have a great future before it. A large ditch is being constructed for the Guggenheims, and several miles of steel plying are to be used to carry the water for the hydraulic process. There will be 1,590 men employed till the fall of 1908 in the undertaking. Mr. Morris says Dawson of to-day is quite a different camp to what it was in the a different camp to what it was in the past, but after a study of the present conditions and preparations being made, one cannot help but come to the

By the time the matter was taken up for discussion another communication was read, this time from J. E. Smart.

Secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association, complaining of a scarcity of water at the race track and urging the council to give all possible aid to the association to provide an adequate supply.

In connection with the latter communication Mr. Raymur stated that it would take six weeks to lay a main to the grounds, and that it would cost at least $2,000.

Ald. Ross suggested an artesian well, but several of the aldermen did not think this course would be any cheaper than laying pipes to the race track.

Ald. Hall—"It is no use the secretary of the association writing to us for help when we have no money to spare. The best thing we can do is to lay the mit.

The expense of such an undertaking as this can hardly be realized except very roughly. This piping alone can only be handled singly, three lengths only be handled singly, three lengths only fill a flat car. Then the work of hauling on arrival in Dawson will be expensive, and tax the whole motive power there. It is said that to complete this ditch it will take 1,500 mers, until the fall of 1908.

Jialian Who Killed Man on Train Tells Story of Shooting.

Goodland, Kan, June 24.—John Bello, the Italian who killed a man and wounded two women passengers on a train east of here, told through an interpreter the story of the shooting.

Bello asserted that he committed the murder in his sleep as the result of a dream. His story, dramatically told, with many and almost tearful protestations of honesty, follows:

"My wife and children and I and Patsy Leganbradi and his wife and children lived in Genoa. We deeded to come to the new world and grow rich, as we heard it was easy to do. We landed in Boston from the White Star liner Cymrica few days ago and took a train for the West. We were on the way to California. In central Europe, where the rose is said to be cultivated for comnercial purposes, the flowers may be grown in greater profusion, but we take eave to doubt whether in southern Germany, Austro-Hungary or Bulgaria, such a high standard has been reached in rose cultivation as in Victoria, where the love of the beautiful in form, color and texture is the inspiring motive of culture. That this is the natural home of the rose is proven by the testimony of an authority who seldom makes a mistake in selection. Nature herself. The wild or dog rose blooms in season by the wayside, adding its sweet fragrance to the charm of our woods and lanes and by-ways. It is only in the hands with art, or rather where art that results closely approximating to for many years been noted among the of the Pacific Coast as the home of the rose. We believe it is only within recent years that intelligent and painstaking attention has been paid to rose culture. The general result is that the flower gardens of the city have become the most delightful and to strangers within our gates the most ap-preciated of our assets. This is a pursuit that from the point of view of either the utilitarian or the aesthete ought to be encouraged. On Friday next the annual rose show of the floral association will be opened. The enterprise ought to receive liberal encouragement and patronage. All things the successes already achieved by the association have been all that could be expected. But there is yet room for improvement and much be learned in the art of rose no duction and cultivation. The floral wealth of Victoria has caused exclamations of surprise and delight from multitudes who have visited this city in the past. By emulation and example and by profiting from mutual experlence there is not the slightest doubt whatever that results can be attained which will add materially to the fame of Victoria as the residential city of

Have we got down to the level of New York, Philadelphia and other United States cities? Is it true that Canada will never turn a government out unless it can be proven that its members and hangers-on were guilty of boodling or graft? If so, then it would be well to furl the national flag and drape the national monuments in

A BLUDGEON FOR THE LORDS.

It seems that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is neither going to mutilate nor reform the British House of Lords out of existence. That is the inference we gain from the text of the resolu-tion he has given notice of in the House of Commons. The Premier has simply followed the example of President Roosevelt and taken a Big Stick in his hands, which he will swing over the Lords to remind them of what may happen should they persist in opposing the expressed will of the popular chamber, which of course is the House of Commons. It is true there is an intimation that the term of the Commons may be reduced to five years in place of the present term of seven, which will give the electorate more trequent opportunities of expressing their opinions upon any question that may arise of great public moment. That he plainly an intimation that public sentiment and not the House of Lords shall in future be the ultimate court of appeal. If the Lords should prove stiff-necked upon the subject of question of home rule for Ireland, tha term of its effective opposition to the popular political sentiment of the years, because the life of a parliament could not be prelenged beyond five years, the period of life allowed to the Canadian House the British North America Act. This would be a welcome reform to the country at large, we imagine, as the London Town. For imstance, he writes: "Take the case of the Quebec bridge. The Dominion government could heavily subsidize it, but not a dollar would they give to the New Westminster bridge."

Now the fact is that the Quebec bridge Company (which were subsidized by the provincial government) had their bonds guaranteed by the Dominion government, and the bridge was made over to the Dominion government to secure them at the same time has indulged in the

A SCIENTIFIC THIEF.

Amazing ingenuity was shown by thief who visited the Terminus Antwerp, the other day. He occupied a front room over the offices of a firm of stockbrokers, and during the night broke a hofe through his floor, and by lowering an umbrella caught the fall-ing mortar. He poured a function of gen, produced such intense heat that he soon melted the locks of the safe, and purloined $4,000. He left next morning by an early train, and is still at large

A Thoroughly Up-to-Date Apartment House in Victoria Is a Necessity

And it is proposed by the Directors to Call for Tenders shortly for the Erection of a High-Class Building. It is the intention to erect same on Modern Lines on One and One-Quarter Acres of Bishop Cridge's Property, on Carr Street.

The Building itself will occupy a space of about 120 Feet Square, and will be surrounded by Well Laid Out Gardens and Tennis Courts, etc. There will be about Sixty-Five Suites of Rooms in the proposed Building, running from one large room and bath room to five rooms and bath room.

The Company is capitalized for $250,000 00, but only half of this amount will be sold at present; the other half to be sold later, if another building on similar lines is built.

As the Directors are anxious to have the Building finished as soon as possible, all those who are thinking of applying for stock are asked to communicate with the Company's Brokers right away. As this will doubtless prove a safe and very profitable investment, the allotment of Stock now being made will be taken up in a very short time. Numerous applications for Stock have already been made, and a large number of people have signified their intention of applying for Rooms in the New Building.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland Addresses Chinese Mission--Yellow Men's Interest in Western Methods.

"Everywhere you go in China you can tell that things are changing. There have been more changes in the last five have been more changes in the last five than in the previous ten thousand years." So spoke the Rev. Dr. Suther-land, general missionary secretary of the Canadian Methodist church in an address which he delivered at the Chin-ese Mission church last night. Dr. Sutherland returned yesterday by the Empress of Japan, from the Orient, where he had been attending a confer-erce at Tokio.

"Not very long ago a prominent Chinese statesman said that the hope of his country lay in Jesus Christ. It was to help to fulfil that hope that the missionaries were sent to the Far East."

"Mr. Suttlesland then went on to speak of the Candidian Methodist Mission established in the Far West of the country. Our mission," he said, borders on Thipet in the extreme west of the empire. Its chief city is Chentu. In this part there is the same anxious desire for learning. In that province we have nearly fifty missionaries. More are wanted and in a very short time we shall have a hundred there. The immigrants are men who have had good homes and who intend to lead a religious life. The Archdeacon who is working in this district, has just returned from the old Country, where he has been asking for men and money. He brought out 53 men to work in the diocese of Saskatchewan to work as catachists, but he forgot all about the St. Andrews. Brotherhood. And yet how it would have helped him in his scattered district. Even now every Sun hay the director of the Brotherhood could hold a weekly service in scattered villages. Then it would be possible to reach the lonely man fitten niles away from anyone. But this will not always be lonely. Some day a township will grow up around this man and he will be prepared then to raise up the standard of Christ in the midst of the newcomers. By this means Divine service will then be the rule and not the exception. This result can be effected by an organized system like the Brotherhood of St. Andrews."

So you can trace his down-fall to the day when he joined the corner by with the intention of showing these youths that he is more of a man than they are even in their evil days. The remedy which the speaker proposed to keep such youths from their evil ways was that the parents should show a greater interest in their recreation. He showed how much greater a mother's influence was than a father's, but admitted that the most effective influence of all was that of the junior boys, themselves well trained in the principles of the Brotherhood. The discussion was continued by Mr.

OAK BAY COUNCIL WILL MAKE REQUEST

Surburban Municipality is Not Prepared to Vote Money for Exhibit at Winnipeg.

The Oak Bay municipality council held its regular fortnightly meeting in the Foul Bay school house last evening with Reeve Oliver in the chair and a full attendance of the other council-lors. The time was principally accu-pled with business of a routine nature. The sewer regulation by-law was given its second reading, and as several of the clauses therein were found unsatisfactory it was referred to a committee for revision. The clause which created the greatest difference of opinion was clause ten, which provided that all houses must be connected with sewer-age, providing a sewer line passed the

Mr. Newton was also of this opinion, and after a full discussion it was finally decided to amend the clause so as to give the council the power of making it optional in extreme cases.

A report was read from the engineer A report was read from the engineer on the alleged nulsance on Hampshire road. The engineer stated that if it was only desired to remove the surface trainage a sewer was not needed, but nevertheless he outlined a system of sewerage in case it should be so desired. This system was, however, deemed inadequate, and it was refered to the engineer for a final report on a more adequate system. It was not not a more adequate system. It was not wise matters he should have an assistant.

The Mayor Mortey said that he was entirely opposed to the amendment. The regulations were greatly needed for cubby-holes and back passages which made proper police control impossible.

City Plumbing Inspector Shade was upointed temporarily as inspector of ouse plumbing and sewerage connections in the municipality.

A letter was read from F. A. Devereux concerning the name of the road leading to the golf links from the Foul Bay road. Mr. Devergany stated Foul Bay road. Mr. Devereaux stated that it was now known under a variety of names, the latest addition being Dalias road. He pointed out that this was more serious than would appear at first sight, and recommended that the council take immediate steps in the matter. It was finally referred to a committee with rower to accommittee with rower to accommitt ommittee with power to act.

A report was also read from the engineer concerning the progress of road construction work. He stated that the work was progressing most satisfactorily, and at a cost much less than formerly anticipated. He pointed out, however, that as yet all work had been done by manual labor, and that before any action be taken a commit-tee be appointed to interview Mr. Shall-cross explaining the facts of the case. A letter from Herbert Cuthbert, sec-A letter from Herbert Cuthbert, secretary of the Tourist Association, was then laid before the meeting. Mr. Cuthbert asked the municipality to contribute $100 towards the placing of Vancouver Island fruit exhibits in the various fairs throughout the prairie provinces this summer.

ANOTHER GIANT LINER.

The Hamburg-Amerika Line has ordered a new vessel for the Atlantic service, which is 16 be larger than the White Star's Adriatic. The new floating monster will have a displacement of 29,700 tens, and will probably make the first vesses in 1999.

The reason for constructing such enormous vessels is the tremendous increase in Atlantic traffic and the novel requirements of travellers. The vessels are the American ship Arthur Sewall, one of the largest wooden American sailing of the largest wooden American sailing ships affect; the French ship Barengere, which sailed from Glasgow direct for Seattle May 24th; the British barque Caithness-shire, which sailed from Shiolds May 24th; the British barque Glencairn, which sailed from England May 10th; and the American England May 10th; and the American schooner William Nottingham from England May 16th; and the American schooper William Nottingham from New York, March 3rd. These vessels are all bringing loads of general freight. There is much speculation among the shipping men as to whether the Glencairn or the Cathness-shire will arrive first. The fact that they sailed only four days apart makes the race between the two ships close.

WILL BRING SUGAR:

Canadian-Australian line The Canadian-Australian line will send the steamship Aparima to Victoria' and Vancouver about November with a cargo of eight thousand tons of raw sugar from Queensland and the Fiji islands for the British Columbia Sugar Refinery.
