No Action Taken On Sunday Licenses

Only three members of the Board of Selectmen were present at the regular meeting this week and very little business was transacted. No action was taken on the petition of Arthur L. McGrory for license to conduct moving picture shows on Sunday evenings at the Odd Fellows Opera House at East Weymouth. The remonstrants were out in large numbers at the hearing, but there is a division of opinion.

Ward Three House Destroyed

The house of William C. Scott, 79 Phillips street, was almost wholly destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, caused, it is thought from an overheated stove. The smoke awoke Mr. Scott's children, whose cries awakened the other members of the family. A boarder pulled in an alarm from box 35. Combination 3 and the East Weymouth pumping engine responded. The house was a mass of flames when the department arrived. Mr. Scott and the other members of his family did not have a chance to save anything. There was an insurance of $3000 on the house and $1000 on furniture.

LEAGUE GAMES LAST NIGHT
At Rockland last night Rockland defeated St. Marys of Cambridge 25-15.
At Brockton the Oke club defeated the Y. M. H. A. 33-28.

WIN HOLIDAY GAME

The Weymouth basketball players opened the New Year by defeating the Y. M. H. A. five of Brockton in a close and interesting game at Bates Opera House the holiday afternoon. The local quintet won the contest by their ability to shoot baskets from the foul line, a department of the sport in which they had been sadly deficient heretofore this season. Both teams scored the same number of baskets from the floor, Weymouth led in fouls seven to three, this margin being enough to give them the edge in the final count.

The banner crowd of the season was out to witness the clash, interest among the spectators was keen; verbal clashes between the rabid partisans of each team were many. All in all the game brought out more rivalry than any other of the season. Sheehan's fine playing in the first half gave Weymouth the lead 13-10 at the call of time. In the second period the visitors outscored the home team with baskets from the floor, but in their anxiety to win evidently forgot many of the rules. Referee Holland called them for repeated violations, the local players took advantage of their opportunities scoring six points from free tries. Fox led the visitors in scoring with six points, Miller and Smolensky both played well. Sheehan played his usual sterling game and led both teams in scoring with eight points to his credit. Danny Silva celebrated his return to the sport after a week's suspension with two fine shots. Barrett's fine work stamps him as the leading center of the district. Garnen and Curtin both played well.

WEYMOUTH BEATS OLD RIVAL

The local five won from Cohasset 16-6 in a tight game in the shore town Friday evening. Weymouth's basket shooters showed a surprising reversal of form over their previous game of the week. Every Weymouth player worked from start to finish to hold Cohasset to a low score. "Bill" Barrett was high scorer with three baskets and a foul for a total of seven. Sheehan with two double counters and a point from the foul line, played his usual first class game. Both of Joe's shots were wonders. Jack Gannon played a fine defensive game and caged the ball for two of Weymouth's points besides. Hughie Dolan is considered one of the greatest defensive players in the game today, his work Friday night showed that his reputation is deserved. Capt. Curtin played a stellar game throughout the contest. Many of his friends believe his playing to be his best effort of the season to date.

Martin, Morley and Brickett excelled for the losers.

FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

The Weymouth Football Association held their third annual meeting Sunday afternoon in Forrester's hall, South Weymouth. More than 100 members attended the most enthusiastic business sessions ever held by the organization.

The first business of the afternoon was the election of a captain by the members of the squad. Frank Mauro one of the most versatile and best liked athletes of the town, was chosen unanimously to lead in 1924 the team that Weymouth fans expect to win the Old Colony League championship.

New Banking Quarters At South Weymouth

With the beginning of the new year 1924 South Weymouth particularly and Weymouth as a whole can be justly proud of a new banking institution; its handsome new building, the second to be completed and occupied during 1923. The last day of the month two banks, the South Weymouth Savings Bank and the Weymouth Trust Co. that have for a long time occupied the Fogg Opera building, moved into a new building just completed on Pleasant street, opposite the fire station. It is a handsome, square, brick building with light trimmings that will not only afford each bank an increased space for conducting their respective business, but give them light, airy and very pleasing surroundings to work in. New Year's day proved a gala one for both banks and their many friends. From the middle of the cool, snappy, winter day until the closing hours after 9 P. M. a steady procession of people passed thru the doors and inspected the new quarters. The building has one entrance, but just inside this door there are two more, that serve two separate institutions, keeping them apart and distinct. If one passes into the right hand door it is the Weymouth Trust Co. and the first glimpse is very impressive. To your right is the treasurer's desk, easily accessible if you wish to see Mr. Grieves. Beyond is the closed in yet cheery and handsome office of the president of the company, Mr. Heald. From the treasurer's desk to the rear of the building are the tellers' cages, three in number, roomy and each one a separate unit. In the rear of these are the desks of the office clerks. Before passing thru the gate one finds on the fireproof wall that runs thru the middle of the building, a glass shelf for customers' use, and a small private room one can use to open his safe deposit box. You then approach the new vault with its imposing door, the pride and pleasure of the whole institution. The door is a massive affair, weighing over 16 tons, yet at the appointed hour and time will move as easily as any door. It is so well hung and balanced. Its protective features are modern and of very latest style. Inside are boxes of different sizes to suit the cus-

A THOUGHT
If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.—Matt. 18:14.

If thou art wise thou knowest thine own ignorance, and thou art ignorant if thou knowest not thyself.—Luther.

WRITE CLEARLY
"Why was not my letter printed in the Independent?" inquires some irate correspondent from time to time. Well, there may be several reasons, including improper matter, but the main reason is that you do not write it so that the editor can use it without rewriting it. Remember that the linotype operator goes at a high speed and that he has no time to stop and decipher words that are not plain. No newspaper is willing to tie up a machine while deciphering some hieroglyphic called a word or trying to make sense out of some sentence. And the editor has no time to spend in marking over and making readable your copy or in rewriting it. Now, honestly, if you have something you think worth saying through the columns of the newspaper, don't you think it is worth writing plainly and according to the newspaper rules. And don't you think, if the editor is willing to give the space, too, and pay the expense of printing your communication, that you should at least furnish him "good copy"?—St. Petersburg (Fla.) Independent.

SPECIAL EDITIONS
Helena (Ark.) World
Since the Anniversary Edition of The World was issued there have been requests for copies from widely separated sections, and these requests have been followed by receipt of special editions of all sorts. Before us now are the Christmas edition of the Warren, Ark., Eagle Democrat, containing twenty pages in two sections, and a very interesting tercentenary edition of the Weymouth (Mass.) Gazette and Transcript. The latter publication carries a great deal of interest for us here in the Mississippi Valley because of its undoubted "breath of New England" which is always refreshing to a Westerner.
It is interesting to note that the Gazette and Transcript says "Weymouth was the first town in America with a government 'of the people, by the people, and for the people'; the first town with an American democracy."
There is about the edition, despite certain crudities of arrangement and make-up, a dignity which comes only from culture and pride of ancestry. The country would be all the better for more of both.

THE SUNBEAM FURNACE
If you could cut a "Sunbeam" furnace in half you would find that it has the following features:
Solid cast, oxidized register
Extra large warm air outlet gives greatest volume warmth
Over-size castings insure perfect warmth in every room
Full length cast smoke-pipe extension
Large radiator provides greatest radiating surface. Double-seal joints Enlarged radiator opening insures perfect combustion and fuel economy Large combustion dome insures perfect combustion. Radiator properly supported
Big feed door (same on all sizes) makes firing easy
Two piece fire pot with wide cup joints will outlast a solid pot twice its weight
The short feed section makes firing easy
The "Sunbeam" vapor pan provides humidity
The high, roomy ash-pit provides greater capacity for ashes. Is easily cleaned
Full width ash-pit door makes removal of ashes easy Every joint in castings and casings is sealed air tight. "Sunbeam" furnaces do not smoke.
"Sunbeam" furnaces sold by M. R. Loud & Co., Columbian Square, South Weymouth.

GIRL SCOUTS
The Girl Scouts of South Weymouth need a permanent home. Why Well it's this way. The directors of their previous meeting place have been very kind and the girls appreciate it, but they are growing and need more room and more opportunity to use their headquarters.
You see after two meetings in the same place and the same night—then some one else with a prior right needs the place and the Scouts have to meet on the Village Green, the Fire House or perhaps not at all. Then there is a pet project to talk over; they agree on an extra meeting next week.—"Well, can we meet here?" "I don't know. I will have to find out." "How will you let us know?" "I will have to write you all cards. Can you do this, secretary? There are only about forty cards to write." Etc.
It's not conducive to the child's growth to spend all its energy seeking for shelter. The troop had to take some steps in the direction they wanted to go, so they have staked a claim at the old Howe school, with the kind consent of its trustees and with some money and lots of work, they can take root and grow. At present they haven't any light, heat or furnishings, but they have a roof—and for that they are glad.
You consider, as a rule, your most desirable citizens, those who establish permanent homes. So it is with them. They need a home and a helping hand. A group of adult workers are about to form a troop committee. In other towns, where the Scout work is farther advanced, this committee becomes a local council and sponsors all the troops in the community. And because we believe in the future of South Weymouth, we know that soon such a council will have to be formed here.
The future of the forest are the seedlings that you plant today. The future of your town are the boys and girls that today, full of life and energy are looking for an outlet for that energy. Give them this opportunity to find themselves. This is a big organization there are many thousands of Girl Scouts and 12,000 women workers of which, only three percent receive pay. Please think it over. Our lone troop needs your help. Our one troop may then grow into many troops and the slogan be on its way, "Every girl a Scout".
If you would like to help make your Scout headquarters permanent send your best wishes and what financial help you can to the Weymouth Trust Co., and you will be forwarding a work which promotes for your young people: banding together for a common object, friendly competition, outdoor activity, an understanding and interest in the works of God, nature, and community service, all meaning cleaner lives, happier homes, contented citizens and a greater South Weymouth, because of the Girl Scouts.

ILLITERACY

Reduction of illiteracy in America will be discussed for the first time as a subject at a national conference of representatives of educational movements, to be held in Washington Jan. 11-14. The American Legion will be one of the principal bodies participating and one of three sponsoring organizations.

According to the Legion's viewpoint, education is the keynote of the war, out of which the Legion was born, showed an alarming condition of illiteracy in all sections. When the census takers of 1920 reported that nearly 5,000,000 men and women were unable to read and write, the citizens began to realize what the soldiers had learned, when comrades at their side had to be taught the meaning of the simple commands, forward and halt.

The United States stands eleventh in illiteracy among the enlightened nations of the world, yet we speak of it as a nation of enlightenment and progress. If nearly 25 percent of the men drafted for the World War could neither read nor write, as war records showed, we can take from those figures that there are four times the illiterates in the nation as reported by the federal census.

By action of the last three annual conventions of the American Legion he veterans' program of education has become one of its prime movements. Promulgation of this has been carried on through the American Commission, of which Mr. Lowell is head, and he claims an important part for the commission's work in recent educational development of the nation.

American Legion workers have already taken the lead in work among illiterates in many communities.

WATCH OUT!

Indicting as soviet propaganda the motion picture film, "The Fifth Year", American Legion members in Binghamton have requested Commissioner of Public Safety, Howard R. Fuller, to view the film before permitting it to be shown in a local motion picture theatre. The commissioner himself is a member of the Legion post. The Legion men declare that the film is sponsored by an organization known to be inimical to the form of government in this country and that the board of sponsors for this body is composed of those who have been, or are under surveillance of the government for bolshevistic tendencies. The film is being exhibited in the United States "for benefit of the orphaned children of Russia". The Legion men contended that the penal law of the state comprehends any such attempt to teach disrespect for existing governments.

The American Red Cross will cooperate with the local Legion Post in an effort to secure the adjustment of all outstanding Compensation Claims of ex-service men.

Miss Margaret MacCarthy of the New England Division of the Red Cross will be at the Legion Headquarters on Fridays from 2 until 4 p. m.

Miss MacCarthy will be pleased to meet all ex-service men or their families who may have an unadjusted compensation claim against the U. S. Veterans Bureau.

MORE WINTRY

The first real snow storm of the winter came last Friday, but only a little of the snow remained Wednesday. Then a little more snow, rain and sleet.

Wednesday morning was the coldest of the winter, from 0.1 above to the prediction was that the cold spell would be of short duration.

Children have enjoyed a little coasting and some skating.

But the days have begun to lengthen and the first of March is only eight weeks away.

Today—Bare ground and sunshine. Cold wave predicted for tonight.

RESULT OF TAG DAY

A tag day was held Dec. 22, 1924, for the purpose of raising funds to flood the ponds for ice skating in Weymouth.

Four young ladies under the supervision of Mrs. Bertha Mae Gibson were out at 6.45 Saturday morning with a few assistants hailing early risers and asking them to "buy a gallon of water".

The girls were out just two hours and the "water buyers" were very plentiful. A sum of $53.23 was raised which will be enough to take care of the Weymouth ponds for the winter if the firemen will be good to us and not ask "us" to "dig a little deeper".

After the money was collected the four young ladies who were team captains turned their money over to Miss Alice Ashton, who was made custodian until the time to go to the town office.

At 1.30 the girls counted the money which is now in the hands of the town treasurer, John H. Stetson.

We sincerely thank all "water buyers" and hope they all will enjoy the skating this year.

AT NASH'S MUSIC STORE

They put it up to John McCormack this year to select the world's most representative popular song. There were thousands of contestants for the honor and innumerable new tricks of lyric and tune. Altogether the jolly tenor was as embarrassed by riches as the man to whom falls the duty of selecting the Folies chorus. But finally, Mr. McCormack, judging on the general beauty of sentiment and melody, awarded the crown to "Wonderful One", a song written by Paul Whiteman, orchestra leader; Dorothy Terris, lyricist, and Marshall Nolan, motion picture director, three masters of their arts. The decision summed up "Wonderful One's" merits as those of sincerity, simplicity and real musical quality.

"The song of the year holds both dancer and the singer", declared McCormack, and to show his approval he recorded "Wonderful One" on the Victor record No. 961. This record can be bought at Nash's Music Store, East Weymouth.

GEM THEATRE

Through the blazing forest the engine of the old locomotive makes its way. Flames lick at the side of the cab in which a plucky girl and a brave lad face a terrible fate. The smell of burning timber is in the air; trees fall on all sides, making passage difficult. On the successful termination of their trip rests the safety of hundreds in the town beyond,—in Reginald Barker's production "Hearts Aflame" at the Gem on Saturday, Jan. 5. Also special vaudeville.

There isn't any particular interest bestowed upon the average street walk in New York's lower East Side. There are thousands of them. But when it becomes known that a child is carelessly dragging around a rag doll that has $200,000 worth of diamonds sewed up in its lining, she is naturally the most sought after youngster in the quarter. This is what happens in "The Darling of New York" at the Gem Sunday.

"The Broken Wine" comes Wednesday. It is one of the season's finest. Three act of vaudeville and the ninth round of "Fighting Blood".

BEAN—WENTWORTH

An engagement of interest to many Weymouth people is that of Miss Beryl Ethelwyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Bean of Quincy, to Mr. Fred Wentworth of Weymouth formerly of Cambridge. Miss Bean is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Loud of School street, pastor of the East Weymouth branch of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Mr. Wentworth has attended the Bible training school in Nyack, N. Y., in his preparation for missionary work.

BEST MATERIALS TO CHOOSE IN VARIOUS UTENSILS FOR KITCHEN

Wise Choice and Careful Use Pays With Kitchen Utensils.

It would be difficult to advise any housekeeper to choose kitchen utensils exclusively of one material or another, as each different material has its special uses, its advantages and disadvantages. One usually needs, for example, aluminum or agateware saucepans; several baking dishes of earthenware, with possibly a set of individual ramekins or custard cups; an iron skillet and muffin pan; some steel paring and carving knives; glass measuring cups; and wooden cutting boards.

The United States Department of Agriculture gives in brief form the following characteristics for the various materials used for kitchen equipment:

Aluminum Is Durable.

Aluminum is light in weight and color. It does not rust, and is very durable. Disadvantages are that it is darkened with use, and affected by alkalis and acids. Alkalis, such as washing soda and strong soaps, injure it. Aluminum should be cleaned with weak acids such as dilute vinegar, sour milk, or a fruit acid; it may be scoured with whiting or fine steel wool.

Earthenware heats evenly. It is less noisy in use than metal, and comes in a great variety of shapes. Baking dishes of earthenware may be used for both cooking and serving. It has drawbacks in that it chips and crackles, and is heavy to handle. The glaze which protects the porous clay underneath is easily cracked by changes of temperature and careless handling; then the dish absorbs fat, moisture and dirt, and cannot be kept clean.

Enamel and agateware are smooth, easily cleaned; attractive in appearance, not affected by acids or alkalis, good for storing as well as cooking foods, if well cared for. The glaze chips, exposing an iron or steel surface which may be affected by water and acids and thus injure food. The chips themselves may get into food and be swallowed with it. Always handle gently, otherwise the glaze cracks. Toughen new pieces by filling with cold water, bringing slowly to the boiling point and letting the water cool in the dish. In poor grades the metal foundation sometimes bends easily and causes the enamel to crack and chip.

Glassware Is Smooth.

Glassware is smooth, unaffected by foods, and shows what is happening during the cooking processes. It is suitable for storing food. Ordinary glassware is easily broken and chipped. A special kind is made for baking. To toughen ordinary glassware, cover it with cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and cool in the same water.

Iron and steel grow better and smoother with careful use. Iron takes and keeps an even heat. It is heavy, and rusts easily, thus losing its smooth surface. To prevent rust, cover new utensils with fat and bake it in; keep them in a dry place. When storing for a long time, cover with paraffin or an unsalted fat, or wrap in newspaper.

A well-tempered steel knife takes and holds a sharp edge. In the best knives, the steel extends through the length of the handle and is fastened to it by rivets. When the knife is merely stuck in the handle it soon works out. Clean steel knives by scouring with bath brick applied with a moistened cork, then wash and dry. Keep the handles out of water as much as possible. Store where the cutting edge will not be hit or rubbed by anything hard. Keep knives sharp.

Tin is not affected by weak acids or alkalis unless the plating is injured. It is light in color and fairly inexpensive. Tin melts easily; if scratched the surface underneath rusts. There are two kinds of tin, plain tin and block tin. In both there is a plating of tin on an iron or steel foundation. Plain tin is light in weight, easily bent, and cools quickly. Block tin is heavier, more durable, and holds the heat longer. Great heat on empty tin makes it warp and also melts the plating.

Wood is less noisy and less hard than metal. It is, however, absorbent; it warps, cracks and darkens. It is useful for spoons, butter paddles, cutting boards, chopping bowls, potato mashers and rolling pins. Wood makes comfortable handles because it does not press so hard against the hand or transmit the heat so quickly as metal. It is good for cutting and chopping boards because it dulls the knife less than a harder material. In cleaning do not soak; wash quickly, using a scourer rather than soap; rinse and wipe dry; use as little water as possible. Rub down occasionally with sandpaper or steel wool. Store in a cool, dry place.

Caring for Utensils.

Proper care and storage of utensils mean longer and better service. Scraping and scouring scratch metal and chip glaze. If food is burned or stuck on, soak or boil in a solution of washing soda unless the dish is aluminum. Wipe off soot and grease with soft paper. Wash utensils in hot, soapy water, rinse in hot water and dry thoroughly. Exceptions are gears and bearings in egg beaters, ice cream freezers and other mechanical utensils, which should be wiped clean rather than put into water and should have a drop of oil occasionally. Cooking dishes, pitchers, milk bottles and jars are best cleaned with suitable brushes or mops. Store utensils by hanging or putting on convenient, accessible, and well-spaced shelves near where they are to be used. Keep them where it is light and airy, not in dark, unventilated cupboards.

VARIOUS GOOD WAYS OF COOKING RABBIT

Sausage Fat Will Give a Particularly Nice Flavor.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Before cooking, a rabbit should be washed carefully in cold water and patted dry with a clean towel, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It may then be stuffed and trussed if it is to be cooked whole, or cut into 8 or 10 pieces. Young, tender rabbits may be simply dredged with flour, salt and pepper and fried in fat, like fried chicken. Sausage fat gives a particularly good flavor to fried rabbit.

Many dishes may be prepared after stewing rabbit till tender. For a rabbit pie the meat may be cut from the bones in large pieces, the broth thickened and the whole served with either a pastry or biscuit crust. Any broth not used makes excellent soup. For rabbit salad the meat may be mixed with celery in the same proportions as chicken salad—two parts of diced cold cooked meat to one part of chopped celery and one-half part of salad dressing. Baked rabbit may be served as a stew by adding potatoes, carrots and onions when the meat is partly cooked. The liquid in which the stew is cooked should be thickened.

A spiced rabbit stew appeals to many persons. The seasonings consist of 6 slices of bacon, chopped, a minced onion of medium size, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, and 1 tablespoonful of cloves in a bag, all covered with boiling water and stewed slowly together till the rabbit is tender. A brown sauce is made separately and poured over the rabbit, which is then simmered 2 hours.

Never put food hot into the refrigerator.

Never hang pictures on brightly-colored walls.

Orange jelly is excellent to put into layer cake.

Red pepper should be used with great moderation.

Use the odds and ends of bacon or salt pork for flavoring for bean or pea soup.

Anything whatever that saves steps in the preparation of meals is not an expense, but a necessity.

RENEWED TESTIMONY
No one in Weymouth who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Weymouth woman's voice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Weymouth resident can doubt. Ask your neighbor!
Mrs. Agnes Harper, 172 Broad street, Weymouth, says: "I was troubled with my back and kidneys. My back was stiff and lame and ached most of the time. My kidneys didn't act right and caused much unrest. I read of Doan's Pills and used them. I had exceptional great benefit." (Statement August 22, 1916).
On February 11, 1917, Mrs. Harper said: "I always keep a box of Doan's Pills on hand and use them whenever my back or kidneys bother me. At these times a few Doan's always rid me of the attack."
Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Harper had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be decreed; that the care and custody of said minor children be given to your libellant; that an allowance be decreed to your libellant for the support of herself and said minor children.

NEW BUILDING

tomers' various wants properly guarded by the heavy door, a daytime guard and two keys are necessary to gain admittance to a box. In the rear of the section for these boxes is a separate apartment for the safe keeping of the bank books and records.

Above the vault is the directors' room that will afford a good place apart from the activities below to transact their business.

The interior decorations of the bank are very attractive with its indirect lighting and with the many handsome floral gifts.

The basement affords ample storage room for the bank.

At the occasion of its opening nearly all the officers of banks of nearby towns attended and extended congratulations. It is estimated nearly 900 people visited the new building on New Year's day.

The following officers of the Trust Company were present to show the visitors thru their new offices, to each lady a rosebud was given and the gentlemen received cigars:

Arthur C. Heald, president George L. Barnes, vice-president George W. Perry, vice-president William W. Grieves, treasurer John H. Stetson, assistant treasurer Directors, George L. Barnes, Fred T. Barnes, Walter L. Bates, J. Leonard Bicknell, James D. Bosworth, D. Frank Daly, John R. Dwyer, William L. Hawes, Arthur C. Heald, Charles T. Heald, Edward W. Hunt, Joseph Kelley, George W. Perry, Charles H. Pratt, Almon B. Raymond, John H. Stetson, Theron L. Tirrell, Edward K. Whitmore, and Gordon Willis

The door to your left as you enter the new building brings into the new banking location of the South Weymouth Savings. At your left one finds the office of the treasurer and beyond him the office of the president. A partition and several customers' windows separate the public banking space and that of the bank force. The space provided for the office force is larger, more convenient and attractive with its new equipment and furniture. The latest steel case holds in a compact and small space the 30,000 odd accounts.

The vault, new, massive, and ready to store not only the bank's property but your own if you wish a safe deposit box is the very latest thing in convenience, safety and protection.

Over the vault is the directors' room and on each side of the vault are customer's rooms and small offices.

The admirers and well wishers of this institution are many as evinced by the many who called on New Year's day and extended their congratulations.

Many beautiful flowers that were floral gifts from admirers and good wishers made it a very attractive scene on New Year's day.

President R. Wallace Hunt and Vice Presidents E. J. Pitcher and A. B. Raymond were all active in showing visitors about as were many of the following trustees:

J. Frank Martin, Elbridge Nash, Matthew O'Dowd, Thomas V. Nash, Walter L. Bates, Freeman Putney Jr., Arthur C. Heald, George W. Conant, Gordon Willis, Walter R. Field, Howard H. Joy, Frank E. Loud, Theron L. Tirrell, R. Wallace Hunt, Braman A. Bennett, Ellis J. Pitcher, H. Wilbur Dyer, Almon B. Raymond, George L. Barnes, Fred T. Barnes everywhere in vases were another attraction on the opening and with orchestras playing in the directors' rooms it was a scene and time not to be soon forgotten.

The officers, directors, and trustees are to be congratulated on their foresight and desire and fulfillment of an ambition to give the people of this locality a modern and up-to-date and model building.

Vice-president John F. Reardon in presenting sweaters and letters to members of the team, spoke of the sacrifice of time and effort made by each player that the town of Weymouth might be worthily represented in district football. He also told of the obligation felt by every officer of the association towards the players who so willingly worked for the success of the team.

Mr. Reardon, in his genial way, also dwelt on the start of town football in Weymouth when the players themselves dug down for the expenses of the visiting team with not a uniform to be seen, nor goal posts, nor lines.—fortunate indeed to have a football to play with.

The reports of the various officers were read and accepted.

Fred C. Waite, so long head of the football association, felt that business reasons would prevent his accepting the position for another year. He was presented a rising vote of thanks for the time and effort that he has given to football for the past three seasons.

William Hannaford, one of the younger business men of the town, was elected president for 1924. Mr. Hannaford is a former football player and is well known thruout the section as a sport follower.

James A. (Tate) Monroe of Lovell's Corner was chosen as vice-president; E. Leo Madden, last year's secretary, was chosen as treasurer. John Horace is the new secretary.

The following, together with the officers and board of management, will comprise the executive board for next season: Dennis Petze, George Marshall, John Upton, W. W. Hackett, Daniel Santry, John F. Reardon and William Martin.

Arthur L. McGrory, president of the South Shore basketball league, who was a member of the board of management in 1923, found the cares of both sports too exacting. W. W. Hackett, treasurer and worker during the past season, together with Philip Welch and K. L. O'Neil, will carry on the work of managing the team for another year.

With many new faces in the lineup enthusiasm high amongst both players and fans, prospects are bright for a bigger and better association and a stronger and faster team in 1924.

Friends of Tony Visco will attend the amateur bouts to be held in Eagle hall, Brockton, tonight. Tony is scheduled to appear in the 147-lb. open class.

Christmas numbers of the horse papers are (it and are being eagerly perused by followers of the light harness performers.

At the meeting of the managers of the South Shore basketball league held Sunday in Charlestown it was voted that players who fulfill their league obligations be permitted to play with any other team they may have opportunity to, as advocated in this column in last week's issue.

Boston papers are giving district basketball more publicity than sporting events in this section usually receive.

Charley Cotter is seeking bouts for Hughie Ramsey. Several others in Charley's stable will soon be ready to jump thru the ropes.

South Weymouth has two good hockey teams waiting for favorable weather. Are there any others in the different sections of the town? Write "Touchdown" care of the Gazette for games.

The Weymouth Collegians won their opening game in the newly formed Mayflower league from the St. Edwards of Brockton. Slattery and "Soup" Dugan excelled for Weymouth.

The Brockton Times sporting department sponsored the new league of junior teams, feeling that an association promoting clean sport amongst the youngsters as the South Shore Association has done in uplifting the ranks for the professional teams. Thru the efforts of Bill Shields the local five gained admission; now their many followers are rooting hard for them to top the heap in the league.

Some of last week's dailies condemned Capt. Jack Fitzgerald of the Boston college hockey team for what they termed unsportsmanlike conduct. Fitz's offense consisted of showing up a loophole in the rules that neither the officials nor the sport writers had previously been able to detect. Capt. Fitzgerald is a son of Michael Fitzgerald, superintendent of the Cambridge public schools, and a former resident of Weymouth.

On Sunday last a hockey team recruited mostly from members of the Weymouth football team played the strong Webster club team of Rockland to a 1-1 tie at Reed's pond, Rockland.

CHURCH LEAGUE

Saturday night the Weymouth Universalist five won again in the basketball league of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth defeating the Wollaston M. E. and continue at the top with five straight victories. Christ church five of Quincy has won all four of its games. The East Braintree M. E. is in League B, but has won only one of its games.

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION

The Massachusetts Legislature for 1924 convened on Wednesday with the same officers as in 1923. Weymouth is represented in the Senate by Walter Shuebruk of Cohasset and in the House by Prince H. Tirrell of South Weymouth.

Gov. Cox in his address recommended biennial sessions of the Legislature; the extension of the budget system to all cities and towns; the use of the $2,000,000 in the treasury from the special poll tax for some worthy memorial to the men and women who served from Massachusetts in the World War; an appropriation of $25,000 to help defray the expenses of the National G. A. R. convention in Boston next August; and several unpaid commissions.

BIRTHDAY OF COMRADE

David Dunbar, the very efficient officer-of-the-day of Reynolds Post, 58, G. A. R., for several years, reached his 58th birthday on Wednesday and was remembered by his comrades and members of the W. R. C.

Joint Installation

G. A. R. and W. R. C.

Loyalty to comrades is strikingly illustrated in the Grand Army posts of today. In each ward of Weymouth Reynolds post has a member of the relief committee, and at each meeting there is a report from absent members. There is a strong bond of friendship among the members.

At the annual installation of officers for 1924 on New Year's day 18 of the 37 members were present. The installing officer was Town Clerk Henry A. Monk of Braintree, a past commander of Gen Sylvanus Thayer post, who was assisted by Adjutant Waldo Turner of Reynolds post as officer of the day. It was a public installation, being largely attended by members of the Woman's Relief Corps Sons of Veterans and other patriotic orders.

These officers were installed; each taking his oath "on the honor of a man":

Commander—Francis A. Bicknell
S. V. C.—Michael J. McGrath
J. V. C.—George T. Hunt
Surgeon—Dr. William A. Drake
Chaplain—Bradford Hawes, P. C.
Officer-of-day—David Dunbar Officer-of-guard—William H. Moran
Quartermaster—Elbridge Nash
Adjutant—Waldo Turner, P. C.
Quartermaster Sergt.—Joseph Ford, P. C.
Sergeant-major—Andrew Culley, P. C.

For the first time officers of the Sons of Veterans assisted at the installation, occupying the chairs when temporarily vacated by the regular officers.

On behalf of an unknown friend, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring presented Commander Bicknell a handsome bouquet of flowers.

The oratorical endurance contest of Chaplain Bradford Hawes and Adjutant Waldo Turner was continued with a double header, the former reciting "Pilgrim Fathers" and Daniel Webster's address at Plymouth Rock, while the latter gave "The Reunion of the Boys of '61", and "The Man I Knew I Killed". Addresses were made by the installing officers and others, and "America" was sung.

At 5.30 an excellent supper was served by a committee of the Woman's Relief Corps headed by Mrs. Caroline Sewell, who was assisted by Mrs. Mary Woodbury, Mrs. Anna Fisher, Mrs. Josephine Lovell, Mrs.

Annie Litchfield, Mrs. Margaret Green Mrs. Lilla Goodwin, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mary Goodwin and Mrs. Bessie Wood.

In the evening the Grand Army and other patriotic orders were guests at a public installation of the new officers of Reynolds Woman's Relief Corps. The installing officer was Mrs. Carrie F. Loring of the local corps who is a past department president, who was assisted by Mrs. Fanny E. Wheeler as conductor and "the four Js from Roxbury" as color bearers, viz: Mrs. F. H. Jewett, Mrs. E. S. Jones, Mrs. A. W. Jose and Mrs. W. F. Jordan.

These officers were installed:
President—Estella W. Richards
S. V. P.—Mary E. Clark
J. V. P.—Mary Greeley
Secretary—Clara Maynard
Treasurer—Ida L. Keene
Chaplain—Eliza Ferris
Conductor—Mary White
Assistant conductor—Lizzie Burr
Guard—Lucy Pratt
Assistant guard—Bertha McFarlan
Patriotic instructor—Mary Talbot Press correspondent—Elizabeth Abrams

Musician—Mary R. Flint
Color bearers—Jennie Keene, Fannie Murphy, Delia Caulfield, Alice Sholes

Following the installation there were brief addresses by Rev. K. A. Handman, Comrade Monk, Mrs. Loring, Commander Bicknell, Commander Hawes of the S. of V., Mrs. Nellie Loud, President of the D. of V., Mrs. Annie Batchelder, President of the Ladies Auxiliary, and others. The retiring president, Mrs. Abrams was presented a purse of gold, Mrs. Caroline Sewell, chairman of the executive board was presented a gold piece Mrs. Richards received a handsome bouquet from her board of officers and the installing suite were remembered with gifts. The ice cream served at supper was donated by the associate members of the Post.

As usual much of the success of the installation was due to the patriotic marches played by the musician Mrs. Flint, who can always be depended upon. The absence of Mrs. Mary Mahoney was felt, sickness keeping her away. Some of the comrades were also missed, Burrell, Denton, Loring, Spear and others.

DEMAND FOR AUTO LICENSES

Will you let the renewal of your auto license go long again?

I don't think so!

Many waited this year until last Saturday or Monday and then found it an all day's job.

Boston stations were overcrowded as usual, the good travelling making the demand for licenses much larger in January than heretofore.

The new registry in the Mutual Building at Quincy proved a great convenience to many who did not put off the renewal until the last moment but since last Friday there has been a big rush, oftentimes 500 in waiting. The insurance office of Alfred La Breeque in the same building has proved a great convenience to many having assisted in filling out blanks and obtaining plates for busy people, which has been greatly appreciated, and should be remembered. Probably the rush is now over, but there will be daily applications. The Quincy numbers are between 160,000 and 170,000.

Registrar Goodwin denies that there is a shortage of new number plates. "We have not run out of plates and we will not", he said. "Even if we should run out of plates we will issue permits which will authorize owners to make their own temporary plates."

"There is no excuse for an automobile owner not to have 1924 plates on his car at the present time. The only man who has any excuse is he who sent in his application and the required fee before the first of the year, and he hasn't much if he mailed it after Christmas because he had been warned repeatedly not to do so. We have sent out plates four days ago which have not been delivered yet because of the great volume of holiday mail."

NEW DEPUTY

Samuel T. MacQuarrie of Quincy, the retiring master of Rural lodge, has been appointed deputy grand master of the 26th Masonic district which includes Orphans Hope and Wessagusset lodges of Weymouth and the lodges at Braintree, Randolph and Quincy.

QUINCY AVENUE TIMETABLE

"We assure you we are very anxious to do everything possible to meet the desires of the car riding public in your district. We must always make sure, however, that the cost will not exceed the benefit and that the cost can be collected in a reasonable fare."—H. F. Fritch, assistant general manager Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co.

Mr. Editor:
Presuming that the foregoing statement is made in good faith, the writer desires to ask why then should not the street car company change the leaving time of the cars at Allen street and Quincy avenue as has been repeatedly urged in the Gazette-Transcript?

This one act would be good evidence that the company is disposed to do SOMETHING "to meet the desires of the riding public". Surely this little consideration should not cause any anxiety on the part of the company as "to the costs exceeding the benefit!"

Here's an illustration of the way the dear public is being inconvenienced—not to say abused by the present arrangement: recently when passengers from the Braintree car were rushing to catch the car on Quincy avenue the writer observed an aged lady making great effort to get the same car. When the party were about at the bridge they had the pleasure (?) of seeing the car start away and sail up Watson's hill, which meant, of course, a half hour wait standing out in a nice northeast breeze from off the frozen Monatiquot.

The aged lady was so exhausted she would have collapsed only for the support of one remaining rail of a much demoralized fence—which slim accommodation, by the way, happens to be furnished by the town and not by the street railway company.

Will the company "meet the desires of the riding public" enough to allow 5 or 10 minutes more time for patrons to change cars at Norfolk Square? Why not arrive and leave on the hour and half hour?

SNOWBALL PARTY
The Young People's Social Union of the Union church of Weymouth and East Braintree held a very interesting snowball party and dance on Monday evening to welcome in the New Year.

There were a number of interesting and pleasing surprises in store for the evening's entertainment. Mrs.
Frank Hopkins and Mrs. Copeland played two duets which were very much enjoyed by those present. An artificial snow man and snowballs to knock his straw hat off was another surprise. Very delicious ice cream served in snowball form by the refreshment committee was somewhat unusual.

The Union voted to appoint Miss Barbara Mosher, chairman of a committee to entertain the Social Club with a dance some time in the coming year. Miss Mosher is to select her own committee.

It was also decided to hold a pop concert similar to the ones held every year for the last three or four years. All members should work together to make this concert a success for the committee is planning to make it one of the biggest affairs of the season.

SUPPER AND PLAY
The Girl Scouts of South Weymouth
Troop 4 gave a supper and play on Thursday at the Universalist church.

The object was to raise sufficient money to equip their new headquarters at the Howe school, Torrey street.

The supper was solicited and served by the girls and the play was a threeact comedy entitled, "Why they gave a show and how" directed by Mrs.
Estelle Metcalf. The cast of characters was as follows:

Claire Vernon Francis Holt
Rose Carey Mabelle Barcello
Ann Thompson Gladys Banks
Joan Bliss Gertrude Rayner
Molly Owens Geraldine Barcello
Evelyn Dorothy Andrews
Bella Katherine Wieting
Sybil Alma Roache
Grace Dorothy Peterson
Sally Phyllis Barcello
Harriet Florence Thomas
Maud Jane Whitten
Isabel Edith Metcalf
Scout 1 Geraldine Oaks
Scout 2 Gertrude Banks

Between the acts, a solo by Miss Mabelle Barcello and a cornet solo by Miss Marguerite Sweet. All did splendidly in their parts.

There were a large number of tickets sold, thanks to the efforts of the girls and they deserve much credit for their performance. The girls who helped make the evening a success were called upon many times during the preparations to prove their Scout spirit of faithful cooperation and their Scout laws of loyalty and cheerfulness, willingly giving up other pleasures to do their part toward the evening's success.

SLIGHTLY NERVOUS

An English barrister, after a particularly trying day, came home with his nerves on edge, and at once sought refuge in his own study, well away from the noises of the household machinery.

He sat down by his fire and was gradually getting calmed down when the cat, which had been sitting there, too, got up slowly and walked across the room.

The master turned on her and said, indignantly: "Now, what are you stamping around here for?"

Why Does It?

The head of the office was in a thoroughly bad temper and, moreover, he had just broken his glasses, and could only read with difficulty the figures the clerk put before him. "Just look at this 9" he roared. "It's exactly like a 7." "The figure is a 7, sir," said the clerk. "Then," roared the old man, "why does it look like a 9?"—Yorkshire Post.

BENT OVER.

She used to have a fine carriage. Yes? But now she has that automobile hunch.

Can Depend on Him.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard," said The Stinging Hiram Dunkle; "Snooze," the youth replied, "she's broke. 'But I'll go to an uncle.'"

Curbing Their Eloquence.

First Attorney—Your honor, unfortunately, I am opposed by an unmitigated scoundrel.
Second Attorney—My learned friend is such a notorious liar—
Judge (sharply)—The counsel will kindly confine their remarks to such matters as are in dispute.

A Ripping Time.

"How do you feel?" asked the physician, who had been called to attend the seamstress.
"Oh, sew, sew, but seam worse to-day and have stitches in my side."
The doctor hemmed, and told her she would mend soon.

Sympathetic.

"Is your husband good to you, Lizzie?"
"Good to me? Yes, sir; yes, sir! Dat husband o' mine jes' spends all his time sympathizin' with me becuz I has to work so hard."

A Victim of Science.

Beggar (at door)—Yes, lady, science demands many a victim. I myself am such a victim.
Lady—Poor man! How was that?
Beggar—Yes, they got me on the fingerprints.

MEAN THING

Mr. Dauber said my face was classic. What is classic? Oh, most anything old.

Learning to Swim.

Wife had called at the office. "And what," asked indulgent hubby, "does my angel want today?" "A pair of water-wings."

Sympathetic.

"I once knew a man who went hungry in order to buy feed for his horse."
"I can understand his feelings. The other day I reduced my lunch to a single hot-dog sandwich in order to buy gasoline."

Not So Stupid.

"I've met several other people from your city," said the Bostonian, "and every one of them said: 'Where is it at?' 'Where is what at?' demanded the New Yorker.

An Inventor.

"Pa, what is an inventor?"
"An inventor, my boy, is usually a man who has thought up a way to do with machinery some task that he is tired of doing himself."

Feet and Shoes.

Mr. Oldbi—I am a self-made man, sir. I began life as a barefoot boy.
Kennard—Well, I wasn't born with shoes on, either.

Costly Aids.

"It keeps me poor."
"What does?"
"Trying to make other people think I'm rich."

WILBUR THEATRE

The attraction beginning Monday, Jan. 7, at the Wilbur theatre, Boston, is William A. Brady's glorious musical success, "Up She Goes", which comes here following its successful run at the Lyric theatre, Philadelphia. This is the piece that recently celebrated its first birthday, having first been presented to public view a year ago last fall at the Playhouse, New York, where it ran through the whole season.

Its success has been due to the presence of those essentials necessary in any musical comedy to gain immediate popular favor and hold it. It has youth; it has romance; it has genuine comedy of both line and situation; it has fine music, rhythmic and melodious; it has just a touch of sentiment that is perhaps the more enjoyable because it hovers around for a time and disappears.

Now there is a reason for "Up She Goes" having these essentials: it was written by three men who not only know what they are doing, but who are able to do that thing well, Frank Craven, author of "The First Year", wrote the book, which is enhanced by an amusing plot, philosophical and satirical even though it be; Joseph McCarthy supplied the lyrics, and Harry Tierney the music.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE

"Whispering Wires", the melodramatic thriller that is now at the Plymouth theatre, Boston, opened there on Christmas, and the Boston dramatic critics hailed it as an unqualified success. Their unanimity in praising this melodrama as the best of its kind so far produced is rather unusual. Maybe they liked the play because its advent was heralded truthfully for just what it is—a real old-fashioned melodrama.

That the average playgoer's liking for melodrama will never be appeased would seem to be a fact from the rush of theatre-goers to see "Whispering Wires". Of course they had been educated to the thriller class of play by "The Bat" and "The Cat and the Canary", which wetted their appetites for this form of theatrical fare. When many of the Boston dramatic critics declared "Whispering Wires" was a far better play than either of its two predecessors the rush for seats was on and will undoubtedly continue for many weeks to come.

The hours at the Weymouth post-office are from 7 A. M. to 7 P. M. Mails arrive at 7.09, 9.48, 11.44 A. M., 1.19, 1.58, 4.33 and 5.47 P. M. Mails close at 6.45, 9.15 and 10.30 A. M., 12.15, 4.15 and 6.15 P. M. There is a direct mail to East Weymouth at 12.55 P. M.

ADVERTISERS—PLEASE

Please forward copy for advertisements as early in the week as possible when you desire a change—Monday or Tuesday when possible.

It is IMPORTANT because the four pages printed on Friday are always overcovered,—last week we were forced at the last moment to omit two to three columns of news all in type, to accommodate advertising.

We find it necessary to print four pages of the paper on Tuesday with 15 columns of advertising, and on Wednesday four pages more, and on Thursday four pages more. Therefore we should have your "Ads" early.

BATES OPERA HOUSE

Manager Arthur L. McGrory is to offer a real star attraction at Bates Opera House Friday and Saturday with special matinees Jan. 4 and 5. The world's famous wonder worker including a company of clever artists, featuring Mme Zelma, the mysterious lady in black, in telepathic astrological vision. This noted woman gives readings that are guides to success, wealth, health and happiness; gives warnings of trouble ahead and foretelling the most favorable periods of prospective enterprises; she reveals to you a knowledge of your true self; showing you your individual adaptation. With the aid and the information thus gained you can marshal your every effort upon the correct objects. Through Mme Zelma's marvelous powers and advice the separated are brought together, foes are made friends, lost property is recovered, the mist is brushed away from business ventures, and while she gives dates and facts and figures, visitors sit dumfounded at the revelations made to them. She calls you by name, tells you when you were born, even to the day and hour, and every time she makes a mistake in telling you the date of a coin, she will make you a present of a silver dollar. Besides herself and Prof. Ozarf, the master mind, there are a variety of special acts staged by finished artists.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Of unusual interest to those who care for the better things of the stage is the announcement that Otis Skinner will appear at the Colonial theatre, Boston, in Melchior Lengyel's satirical comedy, "Sancho Panza", adapted from Miguel de Cervantes' famous story, "Don Quixote de la Mancha". Mr. Skinner will come to the Colonial theatre next Monday, Jan. 7, direct from the Hudson theatre, New York, for a limited engagement of three weeks. The entire supporting cast that shared with him the honors of the New York engagement will appear in Boston.

"Sancho Panza" is an elaborate production, rich in color and movement, with singing and dancing and effective groupings of some fifty players. It has been staged by Richard Boleslawsky of the Moscow Art theatre. The special music has been composed by Hugo Felix, well known for his "Pom-Pom", "Lassie" and "Marjolaine". The dances have been arranged by Bert French of the New York "Music Box Revue", and the entire production costumed by James Reynolds, costume designer for the Ziegfeld "Follies".

SHUBERT THEATRE

Constance Binney, in "A Perfect Lady" at the Shubert, has established herself as one of the toasts of the holiday season. Pretty Miss Binney sings and dances her way into the hearts of playgoers at every performance of Laurence Schwab's gay, musical comedy and the splendid cast surrounding her contribute greatly to the entertainment. George Gershwin's lilting music is not only delightfully played by cafe and hotel orchestras all over Boston. "Virginia", "It's the same old story", and the other musical numbers in A Perfect Lady are of the humming and whistling sort and are high above the average of musical comedy. Sammy Lee's expertly staged numbers, sung and danced by one of the prettiest and snappiest chorus ensembles seen in this city this season, with the girls costumed exquisitely, round out a show that has reached a high mark of holiday popularity.

MANY 50 YEARS MARRIED

The astrologer who studied the stars and planets for Jan. 1, 1874, might have predicted that persons married on New Year's Day or New Year's Eve would live to enjoy many years in double harness, for golden weddings have been very numerous in Weymouth and vicinity this week, including:

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Joy of South Weymouth who are on a honeymoon trip to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Keene of North Weymouth, who had several surprises.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jones of Quincy, prominent in the business life of the Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus King of Quincy who are on a trip to the Pacific coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus E. Shaw of South Weymouth were 60 years married on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Studley of Rockland celebrated their golden wedding on New Year's day.

1873—KEENE—1923

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Keene gave them several surprises on New Year's eve. The first call was from members of Pilgrim circle, of which Mrs. Keene has long been a member. This visit was made during the afternoon and was a complete surprise and before leaving they presented her with $10 in gold.

In the early evening relatives and friends called. Later came a delegation from Reynolds W. R. C., of which Mrs. Keene is treasurer. Hardly had they recovered from these surprises when in walked representatives of the Wessagusset club of which Mr. Keene is a popular member. All brought gifts of gold. Other gifts of gold were unable to be present. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fancy crackers were served. Mr. and Mrs. Keene are occupying the new bungalow which they recently erected on Shaw street, North Weymouth, and they have the congratulations and best wishes of all their friends for many more anniversaries.

THANKS AND APPRECIATION

Weymouth Post, No. 79, the American Legion, extends to the people of Weymouth its hearty thanks and sincere appreciation of the cooperation it has received during the year 1923.

During the year just past, we have been called on in many ways to help the ex-service men and their families. Many of those comrades of ours are still undergoing treatment in our government hospitals. Thanks to the cooperation of the people of our town we were able to successfully put through our several entertainments from which funds were realized to carry on this work. Realizing that there is yet much to be done, especially during these winter months, we know that with such friends and such assistance as you of the Town have given liberally and unflinchingly, we will be able to help in the many ways in which we are called on every day "For God and country".

The Post is especially grateful to the teachers and pupils of our schools who, week after week, sent to our Auxiliary, candy, fruits, cigarettes and other good things to be sent to the hospitals. They did not fail us, and if we were to say "Thankyou" for the expression of this kind token of remembrance and cooperation, it would be as small as the merest particle of dust, when compared with the gratitude which those of our comrades expressed to our Auxiliary who called on them at the hospitals when they learned from whence these goodies had come.

Along with our expression of thanks to the teachers and pupils of our schools, goes our lasting gratitude also to those of the town who donated for members of the Auxiliary and of our Post who have journeyed to our hospitals to brighten for a moment the trying life of our suffering comrades by the distribution of these donations to them.

To the town officials, to the merchants of our town, and to our good citizens also, we express our deepest regard and thanks.

This is the message we desire to send forth at this time when we have just celebrated the birth of Him who came on earth to assist man and save His life for the salvation of his fellow men. Let us rejoice during this season. Let us pray fervently for peace on earth and good will to men.

At present the charge has been 13 cents per kilowatt hour. After Jan. 1 the rate will be 7 cents per kilowatt hour with a minimum charge of 75 cents per month. —A military ball by the Enlisted Men's club at Fort Revere was held New Year's eve at the Service Club at Hull.

—On or about Jan. 30, according to official notice, the Gurnet light station at the entrance of Plymouth harbor will be changed from the double lights which have shone forth for more than a century, to a flash light, which will be of 37,000 candle power and displayed from the southeast tower. One flash is to alternate with a group of two flashes every twenty seconds. After the new signal is installed the northwest tower will be removed and what has been a prominent day mark for coastwise traffic since 1803 will vanish.

MEMORIAL PARK

Editor Gazette-Transcript: In a recent edition of your paper appeared a commendable letter by Benjamin F. Smith, relative to consideration by our town as regards a park or playground which should serve as a memorial to our heroic living and dead of the World War and previous wars.

At the last annual town meeting an article in the warrant called for consideration of the subject matter herein expressed, and a committee was appointed by the Moderator for such duty, as per the action of the meeting. Inasmuch as the humble writer sponsored the article may I join with Mr. Smith and other interested citizens in the hope that the committee appointed is functioning?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain, respectfully,

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Last week the first rank of Camp Fire was explained. The second rank is the firemaker's rank. The girl must have earned fourteen required honors and twenty more honors she may elect. These are in addition to the one for the first rank. A few of the honors necessary are to know the principles of elementary bandaging, to know all the verses of the Star Spangled Banner, to have prepared a meal, this includes purchasing the food, cooking and serving the meal, and care of the fire. The candidate must have learned the firemaker's desire which is:

As fuel is brought to the fire
So I purpose to bring
My strength
My ambition
My heart's desire
My joy
And my sorrow
To the fire.
Of humankind
For I will tend
As my fathers have tended
And my fathers fathers
Since time began
The fire that is called
The love of man for man
The love of man for God.

—The next best thing to getting all the machinery under cover is to see that all metal parts are well covered with grease and all wooden parts well painted.

PRATT—SHERIFF

A Quincy paper reports that a pretty home wedding took place Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sherriff, 22 Stewart street, Quincy, when their daughter, Mrs. Walter F. Pratt of 56 North Anna Louise, became the bride of Arthur Lincoln Pratt, son of Mr. and street, North Weymouth. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Eric I. Lindh, pastor of Bethany Congregational church, the double ring service being used. The wedding music was played by Walter F. Pratt, father of the groom.

Miss Ina J. Sherriff, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Lawrence F. Pratt, brother of the groom, best man. James Sherriff of Quincy and Obe B. Derr of Bethlehem, Penn., were the ushers.

The bride's dress was Spanish lace over taupe satin, and she carried a bouquet of orchids and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore brown satin charmeuse. The groom's gift to his bride was a string of pearls and a ring and cuff links to the best man. The bride presented the bridesmaid with an amethyst ring.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, the couple being assisted in receiving by their parents. The house was prettily decorated with narcissuses, carnations, palms and potted plants. Guests were present from New York, Philadelphia, Lynn, Woburn, Boston, Weymouth and Quincy.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington Mr. and Mrs. Pratt will reside in their newly erected home, 50 North street, North Weymouth, where they will be at home after March 1. The groom graduated from Wentworth Institute and is now one of its instructors in the science department.

Motor Fire Truck Put Out Of Commission

The motor pumping engine at the Central Fire Station at East Weymouth was put out of commission on Tuesday in answering an alarm, and it may cost about as much to make it as good as new as a new truck would cost.

In response to an alarm from box 119 on East street at 2 P. M., the apparatus came down King Oak hill and made an attempt to turn into Green street to cross the railroad. In the driver's seat was Robert T. Whitmarsh, the regular chauffeur, and the only other fireman on the truck was George Bachelier.

Persons at the Weymouth Heights depot say the truck was not travelling very fast, perhaps eight miles per hour, but the street was in terribly icy condition and the truck had flat smooth tires with chains only on the rear wheels. Chauffeur Whitmarsh was unable to make the turn, or check the machine, and it almost dashed into the depot. The front wheels went over an embankment in front of the depot and both were snapped off when the truck came to a stop. Both Whitmarsh and Bachelier held to their seats and escaped without injury.

It was not known until the next day how much the truck was damaged. All night long it remained where it stopped, under guard, and there were many visitors, some as late as 3 A. M.

Supt. Johnson of the Street department was early notified of the disaster and assistance requested, but his men were not able to do much until the next morning. There was only one good wheel, one of the rear ones, but a spare wheel was obtained from the South Weymouth station, and runners from a sled were put under the front axle. Without much difficulty the apparatus was then towed to its station. Fortunately this was accomplished while the snow was on the ground, for the sun and south wind had carried off most of the snow at noon.

Some difficulty was experienced in getting the truck into the Central Fire Station, but it was soon accomplished. Chief Engineer Colyer was unable to estimate the damage to the truck, but called in a representative of the manufacturers, who has not yet rendered a report.

It is thought that the chassis is broken on both sides. Not only is the front axle broken off at both ends, but one of the rear wheels is smashed, bolts and rods broken and the machine wrenched.

Chief Colyer has made temporary arrangements for the companies at Weymouth and North Weymouth to "cover in" at East Weymouth in case of fire.

Apparatus from North Weymouth and Weymouth answered the ill-fated alarm from Box 119, which proved to be only a slight fire in one of the buildings at the plant of the Weymouth Art Leather Company on East street; loss about $100.

Again yesterday morning the firemen were summoned to the plant of the Weymouth Art Leather Co., by an alarm from Box 119. The sprinkler system extinguished the fire before the department arrived.

MEETING OF SELECTMEN
Again on Monday no action was taken by the Selectmen on the petition of Arthur L. McGrory for a license to run moving picture shows on Sunday evening at Odd Fellows Opera House.

The Selectmen set aside the following hills for coasting:
Ward One—Bradley road and Lovell street.

Ward Two—Pittam street and Commercial street.

Ward Three—Keith street.

Ward Five—Torrey street.

Plans have been prepared by the State Highway Commission for the widening of Bridge street, which were submitted to the Selectmen on Monday. The plans call for a 60-foot street very much needed to accommodate the Boston and South Shore travel.

ROBBERY ATTEMPTED
Francis L. Denning, manager of a grocery store in Washington Square, reports that an attempt was made last Saturday night to rob him of the day's receipts. He says two men followed him to his home on Audobon road, but he arrived first.

Soon there was a knock at the door and when he did not respond the men forced an entrance and assaulted him.

Outcries brought F. J. Taylor to his assistance and the men beat a retreat and escaped. The police have no clues. Denning had over $250 in his pocket.

HOLY NAME SUNDAY

The Holy Name Societies of the town united in a service on Sunday at the Sacred Heart church in observance of Holy Name Sunday. The sermon was by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Holland and there was appropriate music. At the solemn benediction Rev. P. J. Dawson was celebrant, Rev. J. B. Holland deacon, and Rev. Fr. Durant of South Weymouth subdeacon. The music was under the direction of Chaplain Driscoll.

The cold wave was not as severe as expected. A thermometer registered 8 above at Commercial Square.

EVERY DAY

The above inscription is already in place over the entrance to the new Parish School on Commercial Street. Certainly a good motto for pupils and others.

Joint Installation Legion and Auxiliary

Before a crowded hall and with many invited guests, who included Selectmen Theron Tirrell, W. M. Tirrell, W. A. Dasha and Mrs. Lynch; the clergy, represented by Rev. Handanian, Veazie and Storey; representatives of the patriotic societies in Weymouth, Comrades Culley, Ford, Turner and others of Post 58, G. A. R. S. of V. and the auxiliaries, the new officers of Post 79, American Legion, and the auxiliary were duly installed into office on Wednesday night at Masonic hall.

Nearly 150 sat down to a banquet at 6:30 consisting of this menu: grape fruit with cherry, chicken and lobster salads with mayonnaise, cold meats, scalloped potatoes, pickles, olives, rolls, lady fingers and macaroons, orange and raspberry sherbet, assorted ices and coffee. The tables looked attractive and all enjoyed the eats.

The officers of the auxiliary were installed first, and the retiring sergeant-at-arms Mrs. Draper with her staff of young ladies dressed in white carrying large flags in true military style executed their parts well.

The retiring president, Mrs. Warren, turned the exercises over to Mary E. Murphy, the state department representative for Norfolk county. Mrs. Murphy then installed Mary K. Haviland as president for the new year.

Then the first and second vice-presidents, Leah B. Rockwood, Sylvia L. Johnson; secretary, Pauline Dowd; treasurer, Edith Rosnell; historian, M. Christine Flynn; sergeant-at-arms Helen A. Donovan, who were conducted to their respective positions by the sergeant-at-arms and martial airs on the piano by Miss Alice Peers.

The chaplain, Susan M. Mowry, was installed and the importance of her duties and obligations were told. The officers installed, Mrs. Murphy turned the gavel over to Mrs. Haviland, who in her characteristic way, said she would see that order was maintained and asked for loyalty and co-operation of all the members.

Mrs. Warren then presented Mrs. Haviland with a president's badge and Mrs. Haviland promptly returned the honor by pinning on Mrs. Warren a past officer's badge. Then taking a box that looked very much like a shoe box, hoping that if it was shoes they would be worn out in work for the Legion. Mrs. Haviland told Mrs. Warren that the corners represent north, south, east, West and represented all the members of the auxiliary, the latter said she accepted it from all those points and from those in the middle. The box proved to contain a handsome pocketbook.

Mrs. Murphy spoke of the fine work the Weymouth Auxiliary had done in its hospital work and other things. It had been the liveliest post in her district.

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien of Hyde Park, department president of Massachusetts, was presented with a large bouquet of carnations. She said it was a pleasure to be present and urged for a slogan the coming year these three words, each of which she explained at length, loyalty to your auxiliary, co-operation among the members and service to all.

Due to the lateness of the hour and necessity of the installing officer to make train connections the exercises of the Legion were brief.

The commander for 1924 is Irving E. Johnson, who is well known in all parts of Weymouth, who has been a hard and faithful worker for Weymouth Post, who should in the coming year receive the sincere support of all ex-service men and as he attempts to carry out the slogan for 1924, the busiest, the liveliest, and most prosperous yet experienced by the local post. Duly inducted by Col. J. P. J. Herbert of Worcester, past department commander of Massachusetts, Commander Johnson responded. He was glad there was no time for him to make a speech and that he had been ordered by an auxiliary officer not to, he did not see how he could.

To the other stations these officers were installed:

Vice Commander—Henry Cote
Adjutant—E. W. Berchtold
Finance Officer—Alexander Tanguy
Historian—Pasquale Santacroce
Chaplain—Herbert W. Rockwood
Sgt.-at-arms—Joseph A. Delory
War Risk officer—George Gloster
Employment officer—Bryan Leonard

Executive committee:
Ward 1, Harry Desmond
Ward 2, Alfred Sheehy
Ward 3, Leo Cote
Ward 4, William Connell
Ward 5, Clifton Healy
Trustee relief fund—Dr. J. H. Libbey.

After which Col. Herbert made an interesting and forceful address. He referred to the fact that in the Legion one knows no rank and how Bryan Leonard as he member of the executive committee of the State Department for this district and in charge

Prosperous Year for The Union Church

The annual meeting of the Union Church of Weymouth and Braintree, Inc., was held Wednesday evening with a large attendance.

The supper at 6:30 was in charge of the following committee of the Social Club: Mrs. Herbert Poore, hostess; Mrs. J. Herbert Walsh, Mrs. George A. Walker, Mrs. C. C. Temple, Mrs. Edgar Bolles, Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. Fred Belyea, Mrs. Emma Taylor, Mrs. Laura Allen, Mrs. Phillip Cook, Mrs. Clarence Cassidy, Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mrs. Asa Phelps, Mrs. Ronald Osgood.

Taking the gavel at 8 o'clock the pastor, Rev. J. Caleb Justice called attention to the fact that it was made out of wood from the old historic building of the Hollis Street church, erected in 1778, where the theatre now stands, and that had been towed on lighters from Boston and became the first house of worship of the Union Church in 1810.

In his opening prayer the pastor feelingly expressed thankfulness for all those who thru the years had been faithful and laid well the foundations of the church.

The following reports were then given and accepted with applause because of the unusual splendid showing of each society: Mrs. Edgar H. Bolles for the Flower Circle, Mrs. William Cassell for the Ladies Benevolent Society, Mrs. Ralph S. Carr for the Mother's Club, Mrs. George D. Bullock for the Social Club, Miss Dorothy Smith for the Young People's Social Union, Mrs. J. C. Justice for the Braintree Friendly Aid, Mrs. Clarence Rich for the Benevolence department, Miss Martha Loud for Religious Education, Mrs. C. C. Temple for the music, Mrs. Charles T. Crane for the Woman's Board of Missions, treasurer of Benevolence Howard B. Hall; Roger P. Loud, church treasurer; Morrell Allen, assistant treasurer; George A. Walker, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The clerk, Roland M. Reilly, reported twelve baptisms and 38 additions to the church membership in 1923, bringing the total membership of the church to 255. For the kindergarten, Mrs. Fred B. Watson reported, and for the primary, Mrs. Newman Page, Ralph Chabourne, superintendent, reported for the entire Church School that the new scholars received in 1923 numbered 103, present enrollment of scholars 353, officers and teachers 35, making the total enrollment of the Church School exclusive of the history of the school, George A. Walker reported a bequest of $1000 from the Faxon estate for a parsonage fund and Arthur Rhorer, Fred Belyea and Charles T. Crane were elected Parsonage Building Committee.

Rev. J. Caleb Justice in his pastor's report briefly reviewed his pastorate of the past four years in Union Church. Since Jan. 1, 1920, when the church membership was 147, 175 new members have been received, while 27 have been removed or passed to the Great Beyond, making the total today of 255, nearly doubling the membership. The largest number in the history of the church prior to 1919 was 130 in the year 1880. Our new members have entered heartily into the church life and program, composing 75 per cent of the officers and teachers of the Church School and making possible by their large attendance the splendid success of the Thursday night meetings.

During these four years we have tried various methods for the Sunday evening services, such as fine musicals, public open forums, exchange of preachers, and just the plain preaching service, but have found that nothing succeeds so well for that particular service as the sermon by the pastor, illustrated by motion pictures. These are always of a spiritual nature and bring out the main points of the gospel message.

During the past year over 700 calls have been made by the minister, completing the circle of the parish once, with many hospital and special calls in cases of illness, I am very thankful for the constant and splendid work that I everywhere find that our church people are doing, for the fine spirit of co-operation manifested among you all for the Union Church spirit that is inclusive, not in the least exclusive. The welcome you are extending all the time to new people is a welcome that comes from your hearts.

I want again to express my thanks to you for the fine Ford coach, not alone for the beautiful gift itself, but because it revealed to me that you care. It was really the greatest event in my life since I married my wife. I feel that I belong to you and you to me in a very special way, and my sincere prayer for the New Year is that working together for the Kingdom of Christ, 1924 may be the best yet in Union Church.

During the course of his remarks the pastor paid a high tribute to Deacon and Mrs. Charles T. Crane by saying, "I hope never to grow old, but always remain young like Deacon and Mrs. Crane." The sentence won instant applause.

The following officers and chairman of departments were elected by secret ballot for the ensuing year:

Clerk—Roland Reilly
Deacon for three years—Edgar H. Bolles
Treasurer—Roger P. Loud
Assistant treasurer—Morrell Allen
Treasurer of Benevolence—Howard B. Hall
Trustees for three years—Alexander K. Bates and Philip R. Cook
Auditors—Charles R. Hill and George Hall
Nominating committee for 1925—Herbert Poore
Education department—Miss Martha Loud
Missions—Mrs. Clarence Rich
Music—David Rankin
Social service—Mrs. W. A. Manson Church committee—Charles R. Hill
Mrs. Edgar H. Bolles
Miss Martha Loud

A THOUGHT

He that giveth, let him do it with simplicity.—Rom. 12:28.

That which is given with pride and ostentation is rather an ambition than a bounty.—Seneca.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

The weekly newspaper has found quite a respectable place in American literature, the state college at Ithaca points out this week in calling attention to home paper week which will be observed throughout the state February 3-9. Nor are these writings confined to the bits of verse which have appeared from time to time, praising the home town paper. A number of American novelists have used the country weekly as a background for their stories, and some have made it quite play the leading role in their tales.

Few readers of Booth Tarkington's "A Gentleman from Indiana" will forget the fighting editor who served as hero, while all lovers of David Grayson will recall the gentle old editor of "Hempfield."

Perhaps the truest picture of an American country weekly is found in the long short story, "The Pioneer and Pattenbury" by H. Payson Dowst which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post of February 7, 1920.

A spritely tale, but one showing not quite the familiarity with the country print shop that Mr. Dowst does in his story, was "A First Class Fightin' Gall" by Tom P. Morgan, which appeared in the Country Gentleman in serial form from February 26 to March 12, 1921.

Mention should also be made of the entertaining series on "Live Country Newspapers," which appeared in various issues of the Country Gentleman from January 3, 1920, to September 25, 1920.

The American Magazine seems to have a warm spot in its editorial heart for the country weekly, for it has printed several interesting stories about country editors. One of the best appeared in the issue of June, 1922, entitled "The Autobiography of a Crank," by W. O. Saunders.

For a really thoughtful analysis of one can not do better than to read the purpose of the country weekly, article "Opportunities for the Bush League Greely" which appeared in "The Outlook" for November 30, 1921. During the past few months two books attempting to make something of a serious study of the country newspaper, have appeared. One is a little volume called "The Country Newspaper," in McClurg's national social science series edited by Dr. Frank McVey, president of the University of Kentucky. Another, published by Appleton, is "The Community Newspaper" by Harris and Hooke. This latter publication not only attempts to analyze the part of the small newspaper in community life, particularly in the suburban town, but is also a text book on the suburban newspaper.

SELECTMEN INVITED

Rev. J. Caleb Justice invites the Selectmen, police and others to a Sunday night moving pictures, in the following open letter:
Board of Selectmen,
Town of Weymouth, Massachusetts.

My fellow-citizens:—At the recent public hearing which your Honorable Board so courteously gave on the question of granting Sunday theater licenses, two citizens, one a clergyman, the other a theater manager, criticised the church's use of motion pictures on Sunday evenings.

I think that at that time I clearly pointed out the difference in how the pictures are used Sunday evenings by a commercial house for entertainment and by the church—an incorporated "Charity"—to teach moral truth.

But I desire that your Board see the actual proof of what I said. To this end I have arranged to show the picture: "Lest We Forget" at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening, February 3, in the Union Church. It is the type of picture that is positively barred from the theaters for Sunday showings by the District Police. There are numerous drinking and liquor saloon scenes, people under the influence of intoxicants, two murders, a violent death, a train wreck, etc. While on any Sunday evening during the winter seasons of the past four years my distinctive method of preaching by the use of motion pictures could be easily seen, I have chosen this picture because of its extreme nature as containing nearly all of the popular objectionable features, for this demonstration.

I hereby invite your Honorable Board to be present Sunday evening, February 3, to see exactly how I shall use this picture to teach "Patriotism." The very distinctive province of the Christian church will thus be brought out.

I am also inviting the State Police, Weymouth Police Department, School Committee, theater managers, and clergymen to be present and with you sit in judgement.

Trusting that you will accept this invitation in the interest of fair play, I am Cordially yours,
J. CALEB JUSTICE

GEM THEATRE
"Who's Guilty?" This is the question that agitates the audience until the very last in one of the strangest mystery plays ever seen on the screen in which in turn every character is suspected almost engulfed in the net of evidence then released. The solution comes in a dramatic climax as surprising as it is sensational. The picture is "The Acquittal" at the Gem Saturday.
"The Eagle's Feather" at the Gem Sunday is a story that is different. It throbs with the spirit of the great out-of-doors and the love interest will hold the attention of the patrons from the opening scene to the final fadeout. She was a prisoner in a castle tower! Could she dare take the desperate chance of marrying an unknown man even though it offered refuge from the peril that shadowed her. See Katherine MacDonald here Sunday in "Refuge".

Miss Hyde will read and the songs of Robert Burns will be sung by soloists from New York, Boston, and Quincy. There will be a chorus and a Scotch costume dancer. The Imperial Orchestra of Wollaston will furnish music for the ball.

Grace E. Burnham is the newly installed matron of Braintree chapter, O. E. S., with Frank E. M. South as patron. Jewels were presented to Grace M. Bryant, the retiring matron and Herbert A. Bryant, the retiring patron.

There were 21 tables in play at the auction bridge party of the Co-chato club last Friday afternoon, the high scores being made by Mrs. G. H. Wetherbee Jr., Mrs. Edward A. Haskell, Mrs. E. Battey, Mrs. H. F. Knight, Mrs. George A. Walker, Mrs. Grace Stevens, Mrs. William Whall, Mrs. Harry W. Bond.

Mrs. William E. Rowe was the special guest on Tuesday of the Woman's Club of Scituate. The afternoon was devoted to interior decorating with Miss Mary H. Northend as speaker. There was also a millinery display and music.

The Neighborhood Whist club of Holbrook street held its ninth party on Dec. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Cody. Winners of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Dugan. The tenth party was held Jan. 2 at the home of Mr. Powers for Mrs. Foley of Braintree. Winners for the evening were Mr. Thornley of Montclair and Mrs. Brown of Hobart street.

Dr. Feri Felix Weiss will address the Woman's Club of Rockland on Jan. 18, at the high school auditorium on "The Sieve". Mrs. Mabel Fiske Barstow of Malden will lead the singing.

The engagement of Miss Helena B. Hobart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Hobart of Commercial street, Braintree, and Lowell R. Buckner, son of Mrs. Olive D. Buckner of 26 Georganna street, has been announced. Charles Buckner, who died recently, was a prominent Boston banker, and the family lived in Boston and Brookline until about four years ago. The young people have a large circle of friends who are extending congratulations.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Margaret Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dale of Brookline, to Chester Delano, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Delano of Plymouth. Miss Dale is a graduate of the Boston School of Physical Education and is the physical director at the Y. W. C. A., Boston.

A bridge and Mah Jong party is to be held at the home of Mrs. Gilbert N. Pennock at Braintree Friday afternoon, Jan. 18, under the direction of Mrs. Etta S. Hollis, chairman of the hospitality committee of the Philergians to raise funds to be used in connection with the 25th anniversary Feb. 19. A basketry class is being formed under the direction of Mrs. Amy L. Harrison, chairman of the art committee.

Miss Viola G. Brown, who is spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla., has taken a position as soprano singer at the Presbyterian church of that city. Miss Brown has also given concerts at the church Dec. 17, Jan. 4, and 5. There was a large audience and Miss Brown was called back many times. The hit of the evenings was Miss Brown's original arrangement of "Carry me back to Old Virginia" for violin, having a very difficult movement in double stops. Miss Brown has several more concert engagements for this month including readings, singing and violin work.

MONDAY CLUB
After the customary opening exercises of the Monday Club on Monday President Mrs. Jewell extended a hearty welcome to the many members of Old Colony Club who were the guests of the afternoon.

A carefully prepared paper on current events, dealing particularly with conditions in foreign countries was read by Mrs. Perley Buchanan. Maud Huntington Benjamin is no stranger to the Monday Club and her name on the program always insures a delightful and worthwhile entertainment. This time she gave that play which has made such a spectacular success, Channing Pollock's "The Fool", and stamp of approval to Mrs. Benjamin's interpretation of the play. To gauge her success as an artist it was necessary only to make a survey of the faces of her audience. Deep interest, close attention, a certain tenseness, and at times deep emotion—all were depicted there.

A pleasant social hour followed, with Mrs. Leon J. Didon as hostess. On January 18 there will be a luncheon and whist in Grand Army hall and for those members who do not wish to play cards other games and amusements may be enjoyed.

VILLAGE STUDY CLUB
The Village Study club held their regular meeting in the vestry of the Second Universalist church on Monday evening, Col. F. G. Bauer, president, opening the meeting. The program for the evening was impersonations, readings and vocal selections taken from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night Revels", with Dr. Francis A. Poole, king; Miss Grace Simmons, queen; Prince H. Tirrell, jester; Ralph Klingeman, herald. Preceding the reading of scene 3, act 2, of "Twelfth Night", with Prince H. Tirrell as clown; Henry Stowers, Toby; and Arthur H. Taylor, Andrew; the song "Good King Wenceslas" was sung by a chorus. A reading "Two Gentlemen from Verona", from act 2, scene 3, was given by Prince H. Tirrell and Henry Stowers, the chorus singing "Ye Spotted Snakes" from "Mid Summer's Night Dream". Mrs. Henry Kohler as Rosalind and Prince H. Tirrell as Touchstone, read "As You Like It", and Mrs. Henry Kohler and Miss Helen Simpson dancing the "Cushion Dance". Mrs. Ralph Klingeman contributed a solo. "King Henry the Eighth" was read by Col. Bauer as Cardinal Wolsey, and Arthur Taylor as Cromwell, Mrs. William H. Barnard soloist. In the concluding number the entire chorus wrapped in sheets, entered the room which was candle lighted and marched around a cradle singing, "What child is this?"

At the close of the program refreshments were served including wassail and wafers. Miss Helen Simpson and Ralph Klingeman directed the affair.

CITIZENS ALLIANCE
A largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee of the Citizens Alliance, Weymouth branch, was held at the home of Allan C. Emery last Friday evening. District representatives of the women's and men's committees of 100 were also present as well as the ministers of all the Protestant churches in town.

The work of the Alliance was shown to have been successful even beyond expectations and from every part of the town encouragement was given to proceed on the principle of the organization, namely, to support the enforcement of the laws of town, state and nation, as the course of good citizenship and patriotism and the way to preserve our American form of government. Plans which promise much and are calculated to encourage the officers of the law in their efforts were made for the future. Reports of the success which Springfield and Beverly have had in stopping the illegal sale of liquor in their communities, notwithstanding the inadequacy of Massachusetts enforcement laws were highly gratifying.

SHOE FACTORY ENLARGEMENT
Work is well under way on the new four-story building being erected by the Stetson Shoe Co. at South Weymouth near its plant on Main street. It is of brick and mill construction providing the maximum of light. It is 50 by 100. The architect is Edward L. Nichols of Boston and the contractor, Fred Curtis of North Abington.

Col. Edward H. Haskell of Newton, who died suddenly in California on Tuesday, was father of Edward A. Haskell of Weymouth. The deceased was prominent in business, political and charitable enterprises in New England. He served with distinction in the Civil War, being born in Gloucester Oct. 5, 1845.

TO THE NEW YEAR

One song for thee, New Year,
One universal prayer:
Teach us—all other teaching far above—
To hide dark Hate beneath the wings of Love.
To slay all hatred, strife
And live the larger life!
To bind the wounds that bleed;
To lift the fallen, lead the blind
As only Love can lead
To live for all mankind.

—From Songs of the Soil

WITH THE FUNNY MEN
BEATS THE DEVIL

Two Irishmen had visited St. Paul's cathedral. One was from the country and had been taken to the famous building by his friend, who wished him to be duly impressed by its grandeur. As they came out the resident of the city said:
"Well, Mike, and phwat do you think of it? Isn't it grand?"
"Pat," said the one from the country, "it hates the devil!"
"That," said his friend, "was the intention."

The Next Train.
"John," said the commuter's wife, "what train does Mr. Lawnmower take to town?"
"He takes the one after mine."
"If he takes the train after yours, how do you know what train he takes?"
"Because that's the one I take."

UP TO HER.
He—There's a report going around that we are engaged.
She—Can't you stop it?
He—I'd rather verify it, if you haven't any objection.

Firms to Trust.
A pretty good firm is Watch and Waite.
And another is Attit Early and Layte; And still another is Do and Dairet. But the best of all is Grin and Bairett.

No Need of It.
"Say, stranger," said a man traveling in Kansas, "why don't they put up a sign, 'Dangerous' down here at this ford? I drove through there just now and came near getting drowned."
"Well, now, I guess everybody that goes across finds out it's dangerous, so we don't need no sign."

The Test.
Lawyer (at court)—I do not know whether the woman understands English.
Judge—Try to borrow money from her. That will be a good test of how far she understands English.—London Tit-Bits.

Realism.
The Grover—You seem to have a bad cold.
Film Fan—I have. I went to see "Caught in the Storm" at the Celluloid Palace last night and it rained all through every reel.

A Good Man.
Miss (to Mary, about to be married)—And where did you meet your young man, Mary?
Mary—Oh, at uncle's funeral, mum. He was the life and soul of the party.—London Tit-Bits.

WHERE A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND.
She—Tell me about your early struggles.
He—There's not much to tell. The more I struggled the more the old man laid it on.

A Difference.
The haughty son of wealth requires Mint sauce as well as mutton; The humble tramp begs for a shirt To sew upon his button.

Give Me a Cuba Stout.
"Your husband denies it," said the doctor, "but isn't it true that he smokes between meals?"
"No," replied the patient's wife. "He eats between smokes."

A Solemn Duty.
Passenger—Yes; I'm off to Bar Harbor.
Friend—A pleasure trip?
Passenger—No; merely going to bring my wife home.

Guesswork.
"Every time we have a guessing game little Willie wins."
"Hereditly explains that. Little Willie's father is a doctor."—The Spur.

Would Be Expected.
Caller—Is the editor in?
Office Boy—No.
"Well, throw this poem in the wastebasket."

Compromise.
He—You kept me waiting for over an hour.
She—Yes, but just think, I might not have come at all.

An Irish Bull.
An Irishman, discussing doing things "before breakfast," said: "I never do anything before breakfast, and if I do I always have breakfast first."

Keep your system in fighting trim!

YOUR liver, kidneys, and other organs are engaged in a constant battle against infection and body poisons. When they are sluggish these poisons "back up" and collect in the blood. Headaches, backaches, constipation, dizziness, biliousness, foul breath, and coated tongue are the danger signs. Don't neglect them. Drive out the poisons. Help the fighting organs—the kidneys, liver, bowels and pores of the skin. Keep them healthy and active with

GAME FORFEITED One of the best basketball games played in this district was brought to a tame end by the action of the referee at Brockton Wednesday night. The spectators were unanimous in declaring the contest one of the fastest ever seen in the hall, supporters of both teams condemned the abrupt and hasty decision that awarded the game to the Okos. Curtin, Sheehan and Barrett starred for the local five. Capt. Curtin's defensive play, holding the speedy Riordan scoreless, was one of the high lights. Barrett shot in hard luck most of the evening, but managed to corral five points at that. Sheehan played his usual sterling game. Connolly and Riordan played well for the home team. Higgins was high scorer of the game. The play that caused all the trouble appeared to be an accident. Sheehan tripped and fell while going down the floor, Higgins and Connolly crashed on top of him. Referee Fay called a double foul, changed his decision and called the foul on Sheehan. Joe and the official gabbed a bit about it. Mr. Fay banished him from the game and soon after awarded the contest to the home team. Manager McGrory claims that at no time was he aware that the game was about to be forfeited and that he was ready to continue with a substitute in Sheehan's position. McGrory will take steps immediately to bring the entire affair to the attention of Commissioner George Hoyt. The summary:

Young of Quincy, former president of the Old Colony Gentlemen's Driving club, attended the meeting of the Grand Circuit stewards held at Syracuse, N. Manager McGrory will stage one of the big games tonight at Bates Opera House when the local outfit will meet the Rockland Five for the first time this season. The visitors have been going well of late, winning easily from St. Mary's in their last league start. A large delegation of fans from the shoe town are expected to be on hand to watch their favorites perform. Manager Bowker has a fast team on the floor this season. Earl Heal of Bangor, Maine, is making his first appearance in Weymouth tonight as a member of the Rockland quintet. This star player has been a big addition to the visiting team. "Tacks" Connell, veteran of many a hard fought game, will jump center. The famous "Iron Man", Felix Sney, will be on hand. Fitzgerald, Haddie Johnson and Nate Baker comprise the rest of the team.

C. M. A. MEN'S CLUB The regular monthly dinner of the Men's Club of the Clapp Memorial Association was held Wednesday evening. A goodly number sat down to a good roast lamb supper. The speaker of the evening was John H. Edmunds, State archivist, whose subject was "Captain Kidd, Pirate or Gentleman". The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides. The speaker was introduced by Representative Prince H. Tirrell, who said that probably few knew how complete and well conducted were the state files. That it was possible in a very short time to locate and answer the most difficult question. And in these files one could find many interesting things, plots, romances and clues that would serve a nucleus to an exciting story. The speaker had many interesting sidelights and old records that probably give us more information and perhaps a different light on this famous character, Captain Kidd. 46t BASKETBALL Something new in the basketball line will be given the fans on Jan. 24, when the Clapp Memorial will play Grimsbow's Hawaiian team of the New Bedford Textile School. This team is considered one of the fastest light aggregations playing the game today. Besides playing basketball the six players form an orchestra and play Hawaiian music on native stringed instruments. Before the game and between the halves the audience will be entertained with tumbling and pyramid building. After the game there will be dancing in the hall with real Hawaiian music. Mr. Grimsbow, the manager, has many friends in Weymouth as he was formerly employed in the Harlow drug store at Weymouth Landing.

BRAINTREE POINT -There was a joint installation service of the Braintree Point Welfare Club and the Braintree Point Women's Club on Wednesday. Furse and Selectmen Avery and Neal of Braintree. The installation exercises took place immediately after the supper and were conducted by the Rev. JOINT INSTALLATION (Continued from page one) of tonight's installation, a sergeant over there under him, tonight ordered him to help install the officers of Weymouth Post.

He was glad to do, to be here and pointed out that of late we have heard much of the Legion's selfishness and as he reviewed the preamble of the constitution, such a condition was impossible. Only two points came anywhere near such a point and to help each other. He hoped that in the coming year all would give the new commander their hearty support, convince the local authorities that the Legion was a good thing for every community. Dancing followed the exercises, the music being furnished by Hall's orchestra.

DIPHTHERIA TEST

Dr. O'Donnell, State Health officer, will be at the Weymouth High school building Saturday morning from 11 to 12, to assist the school physician in making tests, free of expense, relative to diphtheria.

Circulars have been forwarded to parents and guardians requesting them to fill out coupons authorizing the test.

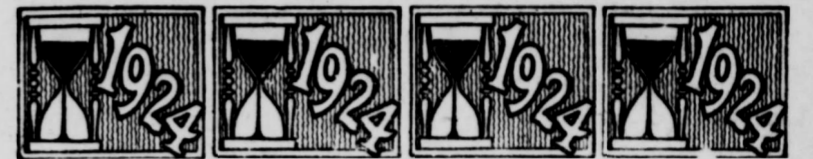

The department of health claims that diphtheria can be practically wiped out by a new method of vaccination.

Is your child safe from Diphtheria? The doctors claim that they can determine those that are safe and those that need the vaccine, by a simple test. This test is free from all danger, and will not make your child sick. It leaves no scar. It requires the placing into the skin of a drop of test liquid.

If the test shows that your child is safe, nothing further need be done. If it shows that the child may catch the disease, three injections of vaccine will almost surely give a life-long protection.

The test and vaccine are harmless, no matter how young the child.

2. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.

ST. JAMES THEATRE
A play that is sharply and sensation-ally "different" is promised next week at the St. James where George A. Giles will present the Boston Stock Company in "The Crooked Square", a melodrama by Samuel Shipman and Alfred C. Kennedy. The play was originally produced by Mrs. Henry B. Harris at the Hudson theatre with Constance Binney, the noted stage, screen star, in the leading role. The play will be seen at the St. James for the first time outside the boundaries of Broadway.

"The Crooked Square" relates to the far-famed Times Square of New York city, hub of all that is super-metropolitan in the metropolis and typical of the good and the bad that make up the soul of a great city.

—Now, if one could only borrow enough money to pay what debts one incurred through Christmas, one might be able to raise enough to carry one over New Years.—James K. McGuinness.

—Fear that the French dirigible Dixmude "may never land" seems to involve a doubt concerning the accuracy of the old statement that "what-ever goes up is sure to come down."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—A Chicago taxi-driver reported that a young woman held him up with a pearl-handled revolver and stole $34.80, his day's takings. Is there no honor among highwaymen?

—Aunt Ada's axioms: Kindness furnishes the key that unlocks human hearts.

STREET RAILWAY SURPLUS
While considerable criticism has been directed against the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. for investing funds in outside stocks, there should be more criticism because the trustees have pleaded a shortage, and at the same time have raised a "depreciation fund" of three to four million dollars. This has been done by town appropriations, Weymouth's assessment one year being $28,000, which it seems now was entirely unnecessary. Such a large depreciation fund in cold cash does not seem necessary. The time is near at hand for a reduction in fares.

GOOD WILL ADVERTISING
"Reporting on the public relations committee work in the past year, P. S. Arkwright, chairman of the meeting of N. E. L. A. held recently at Tampa, Florida, brought out the fact that nearly every company heard from in the Southeast is active in new business and good will advertising and that most of the advertising appropriations are going into newspaper display with a scattering here and there of billboard and motion picture advertising, direct-by-mail advertising being utilized by the majority of companies to supplement their newspaper space. It was the opinion of the committee that newspaper advertising is bringing the best results, billboards falling into second place, motion picture advertising coming third and direct-by-mail advertising last of all."

Several new boxes have recently been added to the fire alarm system and are included in the list of boxes printed this week.

Weymouth Post, A. L. Proud of Achievements

To the Citizens of Weymouth:
Weymouth Post, 79, American Legion, starting its sixth year of activities, feels that in view of the generous support of the citizens of Weymouth that a statement showing our financial condition and a word or two regarding our Post and its plans for the future would be of interest.

The American Legion is the only veterans organization in the country that takes in all veterans of the World War, providing he or she can show an honorable discharge and agrees to abide by the constitution; race, religious creed, political affiliation, previous rank in service, have no standing within the Legion. The preamble of our constitution sets forth the principles upon which the Legion is founded and gives an idea of the wonderful aims and possibilities that the Legion is striving for. Our constitution preamble reads as follows: "For God and Country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a 100 percent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and goodwill on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, Freedom and Democracy and to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by devotion to mutual helpfulness."

The question has been raised: Are Legionnaires living up to these high ideals or are they associated together for selfish aims? From the space devoted to late in the papers one would gather that the only thing the Legion was interested in was a raid on the treasury. Many mis-statements have been made and politicians have used the subject to further their own standing, often to the injury of the Legion. The Legion is doing thousands of things every day throughout the whole country for the benefit of the community, state and nation. The Legion has the power to do more good for the safety of our country than any other organization. Countless incidents can be related where Legion Posts have stepped in during times of trouble and distress, rendering assistance in preserving order and relieving suffering and we believe that an active Legion Post is an asset to any community which cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

What has Weymouth Post done?—you may ask. To be sure our efforts have not stood out as prominent as we might wish. We have had several handicaps to contend with. First, the arrangement of our town has held back that get together spirit. Second, the lack of suitable headquarters to hold meetings and entertainments, and third, the lack of realization among ex-service men that the Legion is the greatest veteran organization in the country and that it is an honor and privilege to be able to wear the Legion button. Weymouth Post has done a great deal to overcome sectional feeling in the town; it has assisted the G. A. R. in carrying out Memorial Day exercises, has provided military funerals for all Weymouth boys that died for their country, has seen that their names will be perpetuated in the history of Weymouth by having certain squares named in their honor; conducted memorial services at the time of President Harding's death; aided in celebrating the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the Town; remembered all needy ex-service men at Christmas time; whether Legion members or not; contributed to the support of the Salvation Army, American Red Cross and for our own Weymouth Hospital and other worthy causes; aided ex-service men to obtain employment and assisted those in need; organized a band that is a credit to the Post and Town; promoted field days and band concerts with the idea always in mind to be of benefit to the town. Weymouth Post has felt the handicap of not having quarters of its own and this fact has kept many from joining the Legion as they felt that the Legion had little to offer them. We are going to have a real membership drive next month and have been assured by certain citizens and business men that means will be found within a short time to finance quarters of our own. Our dues at the present time are but two dollars a year and of this $1.50 goes to national and state headquarters to carry on the big things the Legion is doing.

We feel that a perusal of the following financial statements will show that our funds have been wisely and conservatively handled and one to be proud of.

SUPPER BY MEN

The Teachers Club of the Union church of Weymouth and Braintree held their monthly supper on Wednesday evening. In spite of the unusually stormy weather the supper was served to over forty members and their friends and was voted a success by all those attending.

An unusual feature of the supper was the fact that the entire meal was arranged by the men, and not the ladies, as is usually the case. They gathered all the material, did all the cooking, all the serving and removed the dishes and tables themselves. Several of the ladies did, however, furnish pies, for which all were very grateful.

A short business meeting was held after the supper, during which the report of the secretary was read, approved and accepted, and various other matters of business were taken up and acted upon.

Ray Palmer then gave a very extensive lecture on "Aviation" by the use of stereopticon lantern slides. These slides showed various phases of aviation from the time the Wright brothers began their experiments.

A type of German zeppelin was shown, similar to our Shenandoah. This type will be found to have more commercial value than any other. Views of the Shenandoah were shown and a birdseye view taken over Washington, D. C., and one showing maneuvering into the hanger at Lakehurst, New Jersey.

A detailed picture of the hangar was shown with the Shenandoah in her berth with the various tracks and tackle necessary.

Sunday License For Moving Pictures

Sunday movies are assured at the East Weymouth Opera House for at least one week, as the Selectmen at their regular meeting on Monday voted to issue a license to Arthur L. McGrory for Sunday evening, Jan. 20. Report has it that only three of the five Selectmen voted and that the vote was 2 to 1 in favor of granting the license.

Had Chairman Theron L. Tirrell voted in the negative, a tie vote would have defeated the application. Alfred W. Hastings, the member from South Weymouth was prevented by ill health from attending.

There was a largely signed remonstrance against granting the license and many appeared at the public bearing in opposition, but apparently had no weight with the board.

The remonstrants propose to continue the fight, and have called a special town election at a referendum vote shall be taken on granting licenses for Sunday

Inasmuch as a new petition acquired every week for a movie license, the opposition appear at each meeting of the men.

Arthur L. McGrory, the proprietor of the East Weymouth Opera announces two shows for the Sunday at 4 P. M. and 8 P. M. has secured as a feature "What a Wife Learned". In there will be three vaudeville

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

A roast beef supper was enjoyed Monday evening by the Merchants Association of Washington Square and East Braintree, about fifty being in attendance. The committee, Messrs. Hunt, Clark and Fogg were assisted by Mrs. McDonald.

The Association went on record against the increase in fares on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

A committee on membership was appointed and requested to get busy. After discussion it was voted to hold special sales in March and committees were appointed.

The general sales committee held a meeting Thursday evening in the office of the South Shore Insurance Co. On this committee are Messrs. Chubbuck, Connell, Wilbar, Clark and Hall and Mrs. Alexander.

NEW BOND ISSUE

Weymouth Light & Power Co. has petitioned Department of Public Utilities for authority to issue $250,000 in six percent ten-year bonds. Company now has $510,150 in promissory notes outstanding and wishes to issue longer term bonds to take care of maturities of the notes, which are due annually, until such time as it can issue shares of stock.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY

The Holy Name Society of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Weymouth, held its regular monthly communion service last Sunday morning with its usual large attendance. Miss Margaret G. Dwyer, who is the organist for the society, presided at the organ in her usual able manner. She was assisted by three violinists; Harry McCusker, John Ahearn and Lawrence Corridan. Leonard Riley rendered a vocal solo. Miss Dwyer played the offertory. She is a coming musician, being a student at the Faelton Conservatory of Music, Boston.

It is an encouraging sign that the public service corporation which Weymouth Light & Power Co. has recently reduce the price of lighting. The company says it is possible because of the increase of electricity. These appear on page five is of interest.

There were only 233 marriages of whom 113 were males, 120 females. Four were over 90 years of age, 24 others over 80.

During the year there were 171 marriages.

WEYMOUTH, JANUARY 18, 1924

A THOUGHT
Servants, obey in all things them that are your masters according to the flesh; not with eye service, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord: whatsoever ye do work heartily, as unto the Lord, and not unto men.

—Col. 3, 22:23

The organization of capital for the sake of dividends and the unionization of labor for the sake of higher wages are both morally wrong. No class of men has any moral right to organize against another class of men, except for the good of society. The organization of capital and the unionization of labor to the end that society may be the better served are both legitimate and commendable. No business institution or fraternal or religious organization, that is not serving society, has any moral right to existence in this republic.

CONFERENCE CALLED
A definite movement is now under way right here in Boston looking to stem the tide of lawlessness, especially as regards the 18th Amendment. There is to be a big conference on Jan. 21, beginning at 12.30 with a business men's lunch meeting at the Boston City Club and at this meeting plans will be formulated whereby business and professional men can place themselves in line to assist in purging our state of existing conditions.

Very brief addresses will be made by Colonel Charles R. Gow, president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and Charles Sumner Bird of Walpole; while Hon. George W. Wheeler Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, will represent Connecticut; ex-Governor C. E. Milliken the state of Maine; and ex-Governor C. B. Kimball of Kimball & Colwell Company, Rhode Island. Any business or professional man can obtain tickets for this lunch meeting by writing or telephoning New England Citizenship Conference, 4 Park street, Boston; telephone Haymarket 6140 and remitting $1.50 for the lunch.

In the evening at 7.30 o'clock there will be a mass meeting in Symphony Hall for men and women, beginning with a short band concert. Among the speakers here will be Governor Channing Cox, Hon. Homer Cummings of Stamford, Conn., Fred B. Smith of New York. This Symphony Hall meeting is free, and tickets can be obtained by applying at the New England Conference, 4 Park street, as above noted. Every thinking man or woman who has been disturbed by existing conditions can place himself or herself squarely in line to help start a drive which can mould public opinion in our state by attending and getting others to attend. Similar conferences are being held in New York, Illinois and other states and have come into existence as a result of the desires of President Coolidge as expressed by him in his various utterances.

WHY ADJUSTED COMPENSATION

Here is an outline of the Legion's case for adjusted compensation. It summarizes the points which Legion officials have stressed for four years in presenting the Legion's argument to the President, the Congress, and the country. Every Legionnaire and every ex-service man should read this carefully. Then—tell the public. Legion posts have helped a great deal by getting their local newspapers to publish accounts of the case for compensation. This digest is well adapted to such use.

A debt is owing the ex-soldier and ex-sailor.

1. The war was not won by the uniformed services alone. Capital and labor performed services universally recognized to be as patriotic and necessary to victory as the services of soldiers. Men were legally exempt from military duty on that assumption and were assured that they rendered the greater service to their country by remaining apart from the armed forces as members of the great industrial army which supported the fighting forces.

2. Equal service was not equally rewarded. There was a great discrepancy in pay between those in uniform and the civilian war worker and war contractor—between the members of the fighting forces and those of the industrial forces. This disproportionate payment increased the cost of the war by several billion dollars. To pay this cost a national debt has been incurred.

3. The returned soldier is bearing his share of the burden of paying off this debt, which was contracted for the prosecution of a war which yielded enormous sums in increased wages and profits to those who stayed at home, but imposed a distinct economic handicap on the soldier.

4. The soldier asks no reward for his services while in uniform. But returning home, he asks that, in providing for himself and his family and in bearing his share of the national debt, he be given economic equality with the man who stayed at home. The soldier has not had this equality because of the superior economic position attained during the war by those who did not go.

5. Therefore a debt is owing, and some adjustment of compensation or equalization of economic value is due the soldier to balance the scale in the daily economic struggle between him and his competitor who did not fight and by reason of that fact was able to improve his economic position at the expense of those who did fight.

KITCHEN CONTEST
A kitchen improvement contest has been started among the kitchens of Norfolk and Plymouth counties by the Norfolk County Agricultural school. Six prizes are offered. Changes made need not be elaborate. More efficient arrangements, better heights of working surfaces, floors, ease in caring for them, are to be considered. Each kitchen is to be scored at the beginning and end of the contest, and prizes awarded on a basis of improvement. The contest will run from Feb. 1 to April 30. Miss Beatrice T. Burr, home demonstration agent of the Norfolk County Agricultural School, is in charge.

WORD SCOFFLAW WINS PRIZE

The purpose in offering $200 in gold for one word to apply to the drinker of liquor made or obtained illegally was to stab awake his conscience and the public conscience to the fact that such lawless drinking is, as President Harding said, "a menace to the Republic itself."

It was felt that the atmosphere surrounding lawless drinking might thus be changed, and instead of being considered in some circles a smart thing, it would become "bad form."

The interest in this quest has proved much greater and more widespread than was thought possible. Letters have been received from all 48 states, and many places outside the Nation—
6234 letters in all, submitting over 25, 000 words.

The judges, Rev. E. Tallmadge Root, secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, A. J. Davis, regional superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and D. King have been much impressed with the deep earnestness of those responding, the majority evidently being more interested in helping the cause than in winning the contest. After careful study, the judges concluded to use these five guides in their choice of the word:

1. Preferably one or two syllables.
2. Preferably beginning with "S" - "S" - words having a sting.
3. Not an epithet for the drinker as such, but for the drinker of liquor made or obtained illegally—the lawless drinker. "Law" not "liquor" is the basis.
4. Applying to violations of all law and not limited by its meaning to the Prohibition law only.
5. Linked up with the statement of President Harding:—"Lawless drinking is a menace to the Republic itself" or with the statement of the judges of the American Bar Association in their warning to the American people against those who "disobey and SCOFF AT THIS LAW, or any law."

The judges have decided that the one word to apply to the lawless drinker is "Scofflaw", and as the word was sent by two contestants, the prize will be equally divided between Henry Irving Dale of Shawheen Village, Andover, and Miss Kate L. Butler, Dorchester House, Dorchester.

And now to promote the general use of this word, prizes of $200 in gold, divided $100, $50, $25, $15, $10 will be given for the best statements of not over one hundred words why the drinker of liquor made or obtained illegally should be called a "Scofflaw".
The same judges will act. Letters must be postmarked before 12 P. M., Thursday, Jan. 31. Mail statements of not over one hundred words to
D. King, Granite Trust Co., Quincy, Mass.

KNOCKS AND BOOSTS

By Nick Quad
It is not often that a barber talks, but when he does there is no mixing of words. Of course a talkative barber is hard to find. And this one is no exception. A man (you could never guess his name) had an appointment with him not long ago, and they both kept it. In fact the man was getting hard of hearing on account of the way his locks kept dangling over his ears, partially obstructing the sound waves that couldn't pierce the thick growth of hair.

The man gained his seat and appeared inoffensive and docile enough.
The kind of haircut, size of hat, color of necktie, married or single, questions were asked and answered, and the job proceeded forthwith. A plaintive, faraway, woe-begone look flashed across the artist's face as he resumed the conversation.

The man asked in a sympathetic tone if his friend's gout or rheumatism were coming back on him. "No!
It's the women", he said sadly. The thought came to the man that perhaps his girl had given his friend the gate, or perhaps his wife had caressed him with a rolling pin.
"They are temperamental", said the man, not wishing to intrude further into his sorrow.

"That's not it", said the barber, discerning his patron's thoughts.
"Ever since Nelson and his clock left Jackson Square there is no way to tell the correct time, except by the sun, and the sun don't always appear.
We have firebells that should ring at 12.30 every day, but that's neither here nor there. Sometimes they do —more often they don't. There's no telling the domestic difficulties that arise from cold dinners, or from food half cooked. The doctors and lawyers are getting both by here. Now if an air whistle was blown promptly at 29 minutes past 90 seconds after 12 every noon there would be less sorrow and more peace."
After the barber had said a word or two more he saw a sun in the general direction of the

C. M. A. NOTES

In bringing Bert Grimshaw's Hawaiian troupe to Weymouth next Thursday night the C. M. A. have surely booked one of the most unique basketball games ever staged in this section. This is the first appearance of this famous team in or near Boston and a great treat is in store for the fans. This troupe are not only crackerjack basket tossers, but are adept at tumbling and music, playing on the native steel guitar and ukeleles.

Their modus operandi is unique and nearly always successful. Just when the customers are comfortably settled their ears catch the strains of dreamy, tropical music and out of the court dash Grimmie's athletes, strumming away on native instruments. A couple of handsprings, a few more tunes and they are ready to play basketball.

By this time the opposing team, its senses dulled by intriguing music redolent of silvery beaches where brown skinned maidens dance in the moonlight, is more fit to step out for a dreamy waltz than a basketball game and before it regains consciousness it usually finds itself trailing the Hawaiians by several points.

As soon as their opponents begin to shake off the effects of the ukelele-guitar cocktail the Hawaiians turn a few flip-flops, build a couple of Egyptian landmarks and again place them under the mystic spell.
Toward the end of the game, however, the Hawaiians, fatigued by their efforts to entertain the customers and put the Indian sign on their rivals, begin to slow up. At the same time the effects of Honolulu ball room classics, Grimmie's dazzling uniforms and the breath-taking tumbling stunts begin to wear off the opposing team and the tide turns.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Otis Skinner at the Colonial theater, Boston, in his new production, "Sancho Panza" has received the unanimous approval of the Boston critics and the public, and the biggest engagement of his career is the result. Every seat in the Colonial was sold for every performance after Monday evening, and the latter part of the week hundreds were turned away.

Of the new play, which is Spanish in setting and based on Cervantes'
"Don Quixote de la Mancha", Mr.
Parker of the Transcript said in part:
"A feast of line and color, excellent fooling, full-bodied acting... from beginning to end, everyone seemed to agree it was unusual. Now and then eyes glow to the sheer magnificence of the spectacle."

Mr. Skinner's Boston engagement will positively end on Saturday, Jan.
26, for he must go to Philadelphia, and the play will not be seen anywhere else in New England this season. There are, therefore, only two weeks more of the present Boston engagement.

ANNOUNCES

A REDUCTION IN RATE

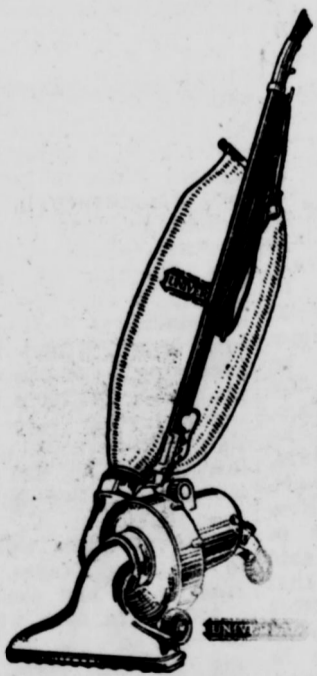

For Electric Service For House Lighting

Price $39.50 to $59.50

Cost to operate:

At the time of the announcement of our previous reduction in lighting rate we hoped to be able to announce a further reduction prior to this date. An increase in our taxes of all kinds to over $48,000, an increase of over $22,000 over the previous year, together with unforeseen extraordinary expenses at our station calling for over $6,000, and various other unavoidable increases in operating expenses made a rate reduction impossible up to the present time, if the company were to continue on a self supporting basis.

The steady increase in the amount of business we have had together with the growth which we are working to secure by adding new customers to our lines, and increasing the number of uses of electricity, make us feel warranted in announcing on all electricity used for lighting after April, 1924.

It has been our policy in the past to make these reductions as conditions warrant, and we believe our customers realize that in order to give service, make necessary extensions and improvements the company must be kept on a self supporting basis. A bankrupt public utility is not an asset to any community: This reduction of 1/2 cent per Kwh. will save our house lighting customers approximately $4,000 per year, and the company can only overcome this loss by doing more business.

We trust that this reduction will still further stimulate the more general use of electricity in the home, wherever it will save time, drudgery and inconvenience.

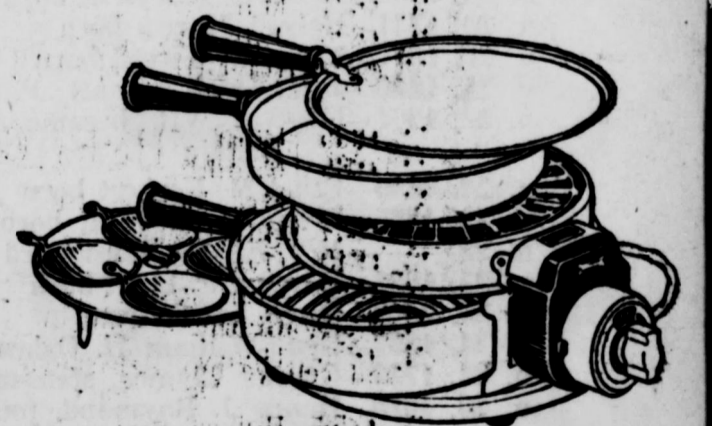

In this connection we wish to call your attention to many labor saving appliances which make housework so much easier and more pleasant. A few of these appliances are illustrated herewith, and we would appreciate the opportunity to demonstrate these or any other electrical appliances in your home. We can arrange for a free trial and easy monthly payments if you desire.

NOMINATED FOR HALL OF FAME

Those who remember Rev. Fred A. Line, a recent pastor of the Universalist church at South Weymouth will read with interest the following clippings from the Tribune of Tulsa, Oklahoma, under date of Dec. 30, 1923. The Tribune nominates two ladies and two gentlemen of Tulsa for the Hall of Fame and prints a half tone and sketch of Miss Helen Line, daughter of Rev. Mr. Line. The sketch reads: Miss Helen Line of Tulsa, because she is preparing to be a minister, and will be a good one, too. She gave evidence of that fact a year ago when she occupied the pulpit of her father's church in Tulsa to the satisfaction of the congregation. She preaches again this morning at 11 at the Majestic theatre, where the Rev. Fred A. Line's co-members of the All Souls Unitarian church worship each Sunday. She is visiting at home during the Christmas holidays. She is a senior in the arts and science course of the University of Chicago and upon receipt of her diploma she expects to enter a theological seminary to complete her training for the church. In college she is one of the leaders in student activities. Her brilliant mind and intense interest in affairs of the school easily make her one of the outstanding figures on the Midway, the giant campus of the Chicago school. From this outline of her hopes and plans you might gain the impression that she is not a typical American girl, but her friends say that she is, that she has the same taste in clothes and other feminine things as her sisters-at-large, and the interest in athletics and other activities of the normal, modern girl.

In the Club department of the Tribune is the following write-up: Though she is building every hour of her life and everything that she is and does toward the rather unusual feminine goal of ministerhood, you wouldn't suspect this fact in the least in talking with Miss Helen Ethel Line, candidate for the ministry in imitation of the example of her father, the Rev. Fred A. Line of All Souls Liberal church.

Instead of the prim, angular person whom one is rather inclined to expect, Miss Line presents the appearance of a typical attractive college coed. Her blue eyes are laughing, lips quite willing to smile, her dark hair is slightly waved, cheeks innocent of rouge, but not of powder, and her costume indicates a real interest in pretty clothes. She confesses somewhat ruefully that she is nearly always mistaken for what she is, a would-be divine, and that when she fares forth from the University of Chicago to occupy some pulpit in a nearby town she is often ignored at the railroad station by the welcoming delegation until elimination of the other arriving passengers shows her to be the one sought.

Miss Line's reason, or at least one of the reasons, for wishing to enter the ministry is refreshingly different—it is that she "enjoys it, all of it, thoroughly." Living behind the scenes has not dimmed her interest in the clerical profession. And of course she believes there she, personally, can be of the greatest service and use.

Miss Line will take her father's place Sunday morning and will preach on "The Evolution of Christianity" at the morning service of worship of the All Souls Liberal congregation at the Majestic theatre. She is holidaying at home from her studies as a senior at the University of Chicago.

Since she was issued a license to preach over two years ago, Miss Line has preached on an average of once a month in churches in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. She has filled the pulpit at St. Paul's church on the Midway in Chicago, the largest church of the denomination in the city, and is active in the church's Bible school, young people's societies and as president of the Clara Barton Missionary society. Because of the pressure of her scholastic duties, she was forced to resign during the fall the position as state supervisor of Sunday School work. She is president of the Women's Speakers club and vice-president of the Classical club. She is combining with courses leading to the bachelor of arts degree courses in public speaking, sociology and Bible which will be useful in her career. During the next two years she will work for the bachelor of divinity degree in a theological seminary connected with the university.

Never Has Stage Fright
Miss Line will be a preacher in the Universalist church whereas her father is a member of the clergy of the Unitarian church. Both churches belong to the Federation of Religious Liberals, however, and have interchangeable fellowship.
Stage fright is unknown to Miss Line. And she doesn't mind at all preparing sermons.

STATE FEDERATION NOTES

By invitation of the Woman's Charity Club, Mrs. Joseph C. Otis president, the midwinter meeting of the State Federation will be held on Feb. 29 in the Methodist Episcopal church, corner Berkeley street and Columbus avenue, Boston. Delegates credentials will be issued on Jan. 29. Resolutions to honor the late Mrs. George Minot Baker, the beloved president of the Federation, will be presented at this meeting by a special committee including Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney of Wollaston, a former president; Mrs. George O. Jenkins of Whitman and Mrs. William H. White of Wellesley Hills.

The state executive board has voted that a fund in memory of Mrs. Baker be established of voluntary contributions from clubs and individuals for the MacDowell Colony at Peterboro, N. H. Mrs. Baker was an accomplished musician. Mrs. Frederick G. Smith of Somerville, first vice-president of the State Federation, has been attending the General Federation board meeting in Washington during the week. She had the pleasure of nominating Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, the state president for general Federation director for Massachusetts, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Baker. She also presented to the General Federation the Memoirs of Julia Ward Howe, the gift of the Wintergreen club of Boston, Dr. Ada C. Bowles, president. Massachusetts has honored Mrs. Howe by furnishing a room in her name in the General Federation headquarters in Washington.

To the Honorable the Judge of the Probate Court in and for the County of Norfolk:
Respectfully I belid and represents Dorothy Ridgely Odone of Weymouth, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Francis A. Odone now of New York City, county and State at New York on the third day of August, A. Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be decreed; that the care and custody of said minor children be given to your libellant; that an allowance be decreed to your libellant for the support of herself and said minor children.

PARKS NECESSARY
 Editor Gazette-Transcript:
 The park or playground proposition for the town, to be located in East Weymouth, appeals to so many citizens that I, like my predecessors, B. F. Smith and John H. Moran, ask for a little space. Those two citizens had recent letters in the Gazette on the subject.
 As an ex-Service man myself, and in touch with hundreds of others of the service and not, I wish to add our absolute approval of the general project also. We consider parks and playgrounds as among those things which go to make towns, as churches, schools, stores, home, factories, etc., help make up the town.
 Furthermore, the last annual town meeting voted that the moderator appoint a committee of ten to study this matter of playground. The committee was appointed by the moderator in good faith, and the chairman has, up to this date, ignored his duty and the meeting of the committee has never been called.
 It is regrettable that town affairs and the matter is decidedly such, sometimes fall into such hands. Let me suggest that, regardless of the action of the chairman of the committee, the hundreds who are interested in the park continue their interest. If you, dear reader, approve kindly pass the word along. Boost the park!

A SAFE TEST
 For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Pills. They are strongly recommended by East Weymouth people.
 J. W. Snow, 73 Chard street, East Weymouth, says: "I strained my back lifting some time ago and it affected my kidneys and caused backache. Mornings my back was lame and sore and when I raised up quickly a stitch took me in my back. I had to get up that night to pass the kidney secretions and they were highly colored and burned. I also had headaches and dizzy spells. I read about Doan's Pills and used two boxes and they cured me entirely."
 On February 9, 1921, Mr. Snow said: "The cure Doan's Pills gave me some time ago has been a lasting one."
 Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Snow had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOME DECORATION

Weymouth housewives who wish to be thoroughly up-to-date are making the most of their opportunity to register for the state course in "Interior Home Decoration". This course is offered under the auspices of the Division of University Extension, Massachusetts Department of Education, and is open for enrollment to all residents of Weymouth and vicinity at a small charge which covers the cost of literature and materials. The class will meet at the Nevins school, South Weymouth, for the first time today, (Jan. 18), at 2 o'clock.

The course is exceedingly practical and consists of six lectures as follows: color and planning of color schemes; wood work and wall treatment; floors and floor coverings; pictures; lighting fixtures and lamps; table covers, dollies, sofa pillows, and bric-a-brac. Miss Lillian A. Phillips, formerly instructor of applied art at Simmons college, will be the instructor of this course.

These subjects will be studied with reference to their suitability, durability, cleanliness, and artistic effect. The problems may easily be worked out by any woman in her own home.

The course is designed to be of value to the housewife of moderate or limited means in helping her to be better able to choose those things best suited to her needs which tend to comfort, beauty, and economy in the home.

Interested persons may attend the first meeting of this class without assuming any obligation to enroll. Enrollments will be accepted at this meeting. Only a nominal charge will be made for the course.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Miss Edith Hollis, whose home is at Webb street, has become an enthusiastic honorary member of the Soange-ta-ha Campfire and is to act as their art and craft guide. At the council fire there were 168 honor beads awarded amongst the members. The Wynona Camp Fire Girls entertained the Aetna Camp Fire Girls at a Christmas party. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, after which presents were exchanged. Then games were played and music was enjoyed by all.

Miss Ruth Shaw entertained the Isha Camp Fire Girls on Friday, Jan. 4, at her home on Hobomack road. Plans were perfected for a play which will be given later in the season. A musical program was then carried out, consisting of piano solos by Thelma Salzeberger and Helen Roulston, and a piano duet by Ruth Shaw and Thelma Salzeberger. After this the hostess served dainty refreshments.

ENGLISH WOMEN TO LEARN HOW TO MAKE PAPER-GUMMED DRESS FORMS

Gummed-Paper Dress Forms Are Aid to Home Sewing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

As a result of a recent visit to the United States Department of Agriculture, an Englishwoman has become so keenly interested in the making of gummed-paper dress forms as an aid to home sewing, that she intends to introduce this labor-saving device to English housewives as soon as she returns, through the medium of women's institutes. Miss Minnie Zimmerman, the visitor, is president of the Loughton Women's institute in Essex, near London, which has about 370 members. As there are over 2,000 similar local women's institutes scattered throughout England, and as it is required that members "give as well as get" instruction in practical new ways of doing things, the paper dress form seems likely to be taken up widely in England as it has been in the United States. Thousands of women in this country, especially those in rural districts who cannot get help with their sewing, have made dress forms according to instructions given by extension agents so that they can fit their own clothes more easily and remodel old garments.

Applying Gummed-Paper to Living Model.

Exchange of Instruction.
Miss Zimmerman spent some time with extension and home economics workers in the department studying the organization of work for farm women, the methods used and subjects taught, with a view to adapting some of our ideas to English needs. An exchange of instruction was tentatively arranged for when three of our home demonstration agents on their return after completing scholarship in France will be taking special courses of training in England. These agents will go to the Loughton Women's institute to learn glove making and other leather work, and give, in return, demonstrations in making paper-dress forms, bottling pectin extracts and packing one or two attractive canned products.

Aim of English Institutes.
In describing before a group of extension specialists the plan and scope of the women's institutes in England, Miss Zimmerman explained that the aim of these organizations is social as well as educational. Women of various interests and in different walks of life are urged to join them for the sake of community solidarity. The regular meetings are social in nature, including lectures, pageants, historical, musical and dramatic entertainments, folk and period dancing and similar features in which all can participate. In addition there are a great variety of classes conducted in which any woman, who wishes to, can learn to do or make something which saves expenditure or by which she can earn money. Such work as making rush mats, gloves, bags, upholstery, umbrella covers, blouses, white-washing or soldering is in great demand. The institutes resemble extension work in that voluntary local leaders do a great deal of the actual instruction. They attend special training classes at their own expense and must pass tests before they can qualify as instructors. One-half of the expense of conducting the institutes is raised locally, the remainder is borne by the British department of agriculture, but the state support is to be withdrawn.

Fixed Annual Charge.
The institutes differ from our extension groups in that a fixed annual charge of 2 shillings is made, and there are other small fees for class instruction and for any refreshments served at meetings. Apparently no meetings occur, either in the daytime or evening, without the customary English cup of tea, but the usual charge of 3 pence seems to be cheerfully met by all of the many members who find that both the social and educational aspects of the institutes add much to their enjoyment of life.

DIFFERENT WAYS OF USING CRANBERRIES

They Help Greatly to Replace Fruits and Berries

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cranberries have many uses in addition to the traditional sauce or jelly that accompanies the Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys. Coming on the market, as they do, when cold weather begins, they help to replace the fresh fruits and berries that have disappeared from the menu, and furnish fruit acids and other valuable constituents needed in the diet.

Cranberry sauce is, of course, the easiest use for these berries, because it takes but a few minutes to cook the cranberries and sugar sufficiently. When made with a small amount of water the sauce will be firm enough to turn out of molds when cold. Any good cookbook gives directions for making cranberry sauce to accompany turkey or other poultry. When cranberry jelly is preferred the sauce must be strained. Cranberry ice or sherbet, made with the juice of fresh berries, is often served with the meat course instead of the more common cranberry sauce.

Either the sauce or jelly may be stored, like any other preserves, in sterilized glasses covered with paraffin. It is then useful as a spread for bread, as a sandwich filling, in tart shells for desserts, on ice cream or plain blanc mange, on shortcake, as a sauce for hot cake-like desserts such as cottage pudding or puffs, with pancakes, in jelly rolls, layer cake or chafiotte russe.

In addition to being spread on shortcake, cranberry sauce can be combined with biscuit dough in several ways. Served in a baking dish, covered with a biscuit top, it becomes "cranberry cobbler"; spread on a square of biscuit dough, such as one makes for Dutch apple cake, and then baked, it makes a cranberry cake, which many people would prefer to a tart or other pastry.

Cranberry pie may be made of cranberry sauce or cranberries, either with or without raisins. When equal parts of raisins and cranberries are used it is often called "mock cherry" pie. Cranberry pies are usually made without a top crust, although a lattice of pastry strips may be used, or a meringue may be spread over the top and delicately browned. In a variation of "mock cherry" pie, chopped, pitted, cooked prunes are substituted for raisins.

Cranberries may be introduced in many dishes where cherries would be used in the spring. A hot steamed pudding, made by a biscuit dough recipe, is excellent if one cupful of cranberries is stirred in for each pint of flour. Cranberries may be used in richer steamed puddings with more eggs and other ingredients; they may be put into baked or boiled bread puddings, "cabinet" or stale-cake pudding, or plain batter pudding. Most of these desserts require a sauce of some sort. A soft "hard" sauce is excellent with any of them, or a liquid sauce, such as foamy or lemon sauce, thickened with egg and cornstarch, or cranberry sauce itself. Cranberry soufflé can be made if it is not necessary to economize on eggs. Steamed brown bread may have cranberries in it.

Candied cranberries are easy to make and have many uses. The United States Department of Agriculture has a recipe for preparing them which will be furnished to those interested. They can be put into many of the desserts mentioned instead of fresh cranberries, and used in all the ways in which glazed cherries are used. Dropped in batter and fried, candied cranberries make unusual fritters as an accompaniment to meat or for a luncheon dessert. They are good on or in ice cream, in cake icing, on cookies, in mixed fruit gelatins, in coffee rings, buns or other raised doughs; dipped in sweet chocolate, or eaten just as they are.

A very good cranberry relish or conserve can be made of cranberries, sugar, raisins, orange peel and juice, vinegar, sugar and spices. The proportions are about the same as in other fruit conserves containing oranges and raisins.

BASKET BALL AND OTHER SPORTS

WEYMOUTH DEFEATS ROCKLAND

At Bates Opera House Friday night the Weymouth A. A. defeated Rockland 24-20 in one of the cleanest and hardest fought games played in the hall this winter.

Rockland's scoring ace, Earl Heal of Bangor, Maine, opened the scoring with a long shot from midfloor and soon added another point from the foul line. Joe Sheehan shot two fouls in successive tries. Bill Barrett sunk a nice basket from a difficult angle for Weymouth's first tally from the floor, then aided by nice passwork Bill dropped in his second twin counter. "Tacks" Connell, Rockland's elongated center, hopped a long shot from the side. Roscoe Litts added a point with a free try. Jack Gannon added two more to Weymouth's total with a pretty shot. Heal shot a foul. Connell counted again with a fine shot. Capt. Curtin got away from Heal long enough to pop in an easy double counter. Connell got a foul as the period closed with Weymouth leading 11-9.

The visitors opened the second half with a rush. "Haddie" Johnson grabbed the ball on the tip-off and dropped it in. Heal caged his third foul in as many attempts. Gannon counted at full speed while under the basket; a difficult shot and worthy of the applause it received. Fitts got going five and scored with a left hander. Connell got away with another nice shot, which Gannon immediately duplicated. Bill Barrett added a point from the foul line and Fitts added two more points with another good shot. The "Iron Man" shot a foul for his first score of the game. Barrett with a nice display of floorwork came down the sideline and popped it in. Joe Sheehan came to bat with the longest shot of the game for a clean basket. Fitzgerald got away from Fitts and tallied with an easy shot. Sney added another foul to his small total. Weymouth endeavored to hold the ball in the final minutes of play, but "Tacks" got hold of it long enough to cage his fourth basket.

Connell and Heal were the shining lights for the visitors, but for Curtin's sterling work on defense, Heal's total would have been far larger. All the local players seemed a bit better than usual. Gannon's return to form evidently was most pleasing to the fans. Barrett was high scorer for Weymouth with Gannon close on his heels.

COLLEGIAN BEAT BRIDGEWATER

The Mayflower league game played as a preliminary to the Rockland-Weymouth South Shore league contest at Bates' Friday night proved a runaway for the local quintet. Manager Shields' outfit showed speed and then more speed coupled with dazzling shots in the first half which ended 20-0 in their favor.

The pace slackened long enough in the final period for the visitors to garner four baskets. Slattery was top shot for the locals. Coffey, Coyle and Dugan all played well. Matthews was good enough to get three baskets of the visitors with little assistance from his teammates.

In the opening game Friday at Bates Opera House the Y. M. H. A. 2nds of Brockton, a Mayflower league team, defeated the Owls by a close score. The game was fast and furious from start to finish. Referee Daniele let both teams get away with anything and everything. With a more capable official on the job the lighter Owls would not have been so greatly at a disadvantage.

Shimelovich and Caplan did well for the winners. Sammy led both teams in scoring with four baskets and two fouls for a total of ten. Joe Coleran and Dorey starred for the Owls; Dwyer contributed one fine shot.

SPORT NOTES

Danny Silva has been suspended from participation in South Shore league contests for the balance of the season. Manager McElroy has signed Roscoe Fitts, ex-Harvard star, to fill Danny's shoes. In his first appearance in a Weymouth uniform the former Crimson athlete more than made good. While at Cambridge, Fitts starred in baseball, football and basketball.

Some of the district net fans feel that the league is functioning mainly for the benefit of a few referees. It is too bad that many of the preliminary contests should be ruined by incompetent officials when a capable man is present in the hall. Many of the spectators who cheerfully pay their way are as interested in the performances of the kids as they are in the so-called big game.

The Collegians suffered two defeats on Monday and Tuesday nights. West Bridgewater and East Bridgewater were the teams that turned the trick. After the trimming handed East Bridgewater at Weymouth it is surprising to find them on the long end of a 35-23 score.

Curtin played a fine game against Heal Friday night. The boy from Maine is counted one of the best players in the game today.

Whitman has clinched the league championship for the first half.

A meeting of the executive board of the Weymouth Football Assoc. will be held next Tuesday evening.

Athletic games among boys of high school age are seldom followed by ill results when properly regulated and supervised. However, too frequent competition is usually harmful. Last week's basketball summaries show that one high school boy played two games in one day.

Edward Sullivan of South Weymouth is billed to appear tonight (Friday) in the amateur bouts held in Eagle hall, Brockton. Eddie cleaned up the 118-lb. open class at the last show. His many friends expect him to repeat tonight. Joe Serrielli of East Weymouth is entered in the 160-lb. open class.

James F. Young of Quincy and Harry C. Thayer of South Braintree are among the officers chosen by the Metropolitan Driving Club of Boston for 1924. Both were formerly active in the affairs of the Old Colony Driving Club.

BIG COMEDY AT BATES OPERA

This Saturday afternoon and night the management offers one of the finest of picture programs. The top-line feature is "Potash and Perlmutter" with Barney Bernard, Alex Carr and Vera Gordon.

As an extra added attraction Charles Chaplin in "The Pilgrim" is the offering.

The matinee prices 10 and 20 cents; the evening prices 15 and 25 cents—at these popular prices, the theatre's capacity should be bested.

At Bates Opera House a four-reel feature production, rich in true humor it provides entertainment that appeals to all classes of theatre-goers and again reveals Chaplin as the greatest living pantomimist.

Thrills, humor and pathos permeate every foot of this film that at once convulses and intrigues the onlooker.

The story is that of an escaped convict who wends his way to Texas after donning the clothes he has stolen from a minister. At the small town where he leaves the train he is mistaken by the congregation of the church for the young minister who had been assigned there.

This is "The Pilgrim" unwittingly forced into the pulpit and taken into the home of church leaders. The complications that follow are screamingly funny. There is a precious situation concerning a plum pudding and a derby hat, while Charlie's pantomimic rendering of the story of David and Goliath from the pulpit, without the aid of subtitles, is a bit of incomparable acting.

As for more about the plot—no! It is too delicious a picture to be spoiled in the telling.

Persons living in the towns and cities which are being visited by the famous Ziegfeld Follies on tour will have an opportunity to see the chorus girls, who figure so largely in the revue, by visiting Bates Opera House Saturday.

A score of the Follies beauties take part in the elaborate cabaret scenes in "Potash and Perlmutter", a First National picture produced by Samuel Goldwyn. In addition, there are ten choristers from the cast of the Music Box Revue, the annual production which is the nearest rival to the Follies in New York.

"Potash and Perlmutter" was directed by Clarence Badger from the famous play by Montague Glass. The leading roles are portrayed by Alexander Carr, Barney Bernard and Vera Gordon, with a supporting cast including Martha Mansfield, Ben Lyon, Eduard Durand, Hope Sutherland, De Saca Mooers, Jerry Devine, Lee Kohlar and Lee Donnelly. Frances Marion made the adaptation.</

THAT MELLON BILL

Senator Corman of Detroit has this to say in opposing the Mellon plan: "Had the present law been in force, I would have saved nearly $2,000,000 and if your present proposal of a maximum of 25 percent in surtax had been the law, I would have saved nearly $4,000,000; so I do not see where the country gains by creating these enormous savings for those well able to pay."

Mr. Beal is the original jitney man in this section. He first established the route between Rockland and the North Abington station eight years ago and when the street railway lines were suspended between Rockland and North Hanover, Assinippi and Queen Ann's Corner he took over that route as well. He has operated the lines successfully and has given excellent service.

VOL. LVIII NO. 4

WEYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1924

PRICE SIX CENTS

Membership Drive By American Legion

Those of you who read the very interesting article in last week's paper regarding the accomplishments of the local Post of the American Legion remember that in that article Commander Johnson mentioned the fact that soon there would be a membership drive started.

Plans for this drive are now underway. It's going to be the biggest thing of its kind ever seen in this town. Before the bell rings for the last round every ex-service man in town is going to be asked, "Will you join the Legion?" and his answer will be down in black and white on the record cards.

This is going to be more than a drive; it's going to be a census of all the ex-service men in town; and as a census, it is going to be of value not only to the town, but also to the Legion, as it will tell just where each and every prospective Legionnaire may be found.

The Post is not alone in making plans for this drive. There is a committee formed of some of the most aggressive and prominent citizens of the town. This committee is working with the membership committee of the Post and some of the ideas and suggestions which come from the citizens are of such a nature that the success of the campaign is almost assured right now.

The members of this committee are working hard. They are interested in the Legion and we believe that if a check was made of the roster of this committee against the list of names of people who during the war sold Liberty Bonds, worked for the Red Cross, and did all those necessary things here at home the result would be that you would find the same names appearing on both sheets.

That's the kind of people who are behind the Legion and can any ex-service man afford not to be a member of this great organization?

We are going to print some reasons why every ex-service man in town should say "Yes" to the question, "Will you join the Legion?" We hope to start these reasons next week, and the column will be called "Reasons Why."

The good of belonging to the Legion is so apparent to us that we are going to pass it along with the hope that whatever we say will be accepted in good faith and that some of it may find its way to the back of the heads of some of its readers, so that those ex-service men not now members may be brought into the bunch.

DROWNED THROUGH ICE

David Russell, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of East Weymouth, was drowned in Lakecrest pond, near his home Sunday afternoon, when he and a little girl, Vera Virta, age 8, broke through thin ice 100 yards from shore. Albert Goldsworth of 441 Middle street, East Weymouth, heard their cries and ran to their aid. He saved the girl after diving for her several times, but was unable to find the Russell boy. The Weymouth police recovered his body two hours later. The girl was unconscious for half an hour, but was resuscitated with a pulmonator.

MEN'S CLUB SUPPER

The members of the Men's Club of the Union church held their regular monthly supper in the church dining room. A very good roast beef supper was served to about sixty of the members and their friends.

After the supper a short business meeting was held, followed by a general get-together of the club and the men all sang those good old songs that will always be sung "When good fellows get together."

Dr. Mark Ward then spoke on his experiences in his missionary work. Dr. Ward served as a doctor in one of the base hospitals in Turkey during the World War. One of his experiences was a talk with one of his Turkish orderlies, who was under the impression that the time was coming when there would be a great war between the Christians and the Mohammedans and that all the Christians would be killed. The Turks get this information from their Koran, or bible, and believe in it faithfully.

He was at one time captured by the Germans and detained in one of the prison camps under guard. He was aided in his escape by some Austrians, who were friendly with us at that time. He made his escape through Switzerland and worked his way back to the United States, where he entered the army.

Dr. Ward has done much to get the Christians out of control of the Mohammedans and in some cases out of Turkey altogether. He understands this subject thoroughly and gave a very interesting and practical lecture.

The first of a series of entertainments to be held, one in each section of Weymouth, and made possible through the income of the "Tufts Fund" will be given by a group of Boston Symphony Orchestra musicians, assisted by Doris Emerson, soprano, and directed by Georges Laurant, at Fogg Opera House, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, at 8 o'clock. Admission by ticket only. Tickets are free and may be called for on Saturday, Feb. 2, at Town Office, Tufts Library, Herman Collyer's, M. R. Loud & Co. Do not phone orders for tickets. Children under 16 not admitted. Seats not occupied by $1.50 will be given to any waiting.—Advertisement

MOTOR THIEVES STILL ACTIVE

Motor thieves are again active in Weymouth and Braintree.

It has been the practice of those attending services at Union church of Weymouth and Braintree to park their cars upon the hill back of the church and this was the case Wednesday evening.

While the men were at the church supper the thieves were at work and rolled one of the cars, a large, heavy sedan, down the extremely steep hill behind the church and were evidently ready to drive or tow the car away when they were either interrupted or frightened away. The car was in such an out of the way place that the owner's son stumbled upon it only by accident, and had great difficulty driving it back up the hill through the church yard and to the street.

This same thing has happened on more than one occasion and should be thoroughly investigated and means found to put a stop to it.

ADVERTISERS—PLEASE

Please forward copy for advertisements as early in the week as possible when you desire a change—Monday or Tuesday when possible.

It is IMPORTANT because the four pages printed on Friday are always overcrowded,—last week we were forced at the last moment to omit two to three columns of news all in type, to accommodate advertising.

We find it necessary to print four pages of the paper on Tuesday with 15 columns of advertising, and on Wednesday four pages more, and on Thursday four pages more. Therefore we should have your "Ads" early.

Telephone Company To Enlarge Plant

Another indication that Weymouth is growing is shown in the decision of the Telephone Company to enlarge its plant on Middle street to double the present floor space. Work has already commenced on the evacuation.

The addition to be built on front of the present office building will be 32x26 feet. It will be one-story with basement and will provide a terminal room, a boiler room a retiring room, a kitchenette and a locker room.

WEYMOUTH MAN PRESIDENT

The annual banquet and ladies night of the Old Colony Grocers and Provision Dealers Association was held Wednesday evening at the Town Hall, Braintree.

While the ladies were being entertained in Memorial hall by a five-piece orchestra, the grocers elected the following officers:

President—E. A. Hunt of Weymouth

First vice-president—B. B. Sylvester of East Weymouth

Second vice-president—F. M. Bryant of Weymouth

Clerk—H. W. Mansfield of South Braintree.

Treasurer—O. A. Bridgman of South Braintree.

Executive committee—R. T. Howe of South Weymouth, W. F. Alden of Whitman, C. F. Brown of South Weymouth, Fred Stowell of South Weymouth, and W. Spellman of Whitman.

A caterer's supper was served and the entertainment was by the Chester Concert Company. The Wholesale Grocers Association was well represented at the banquet.

MIDNIGHT COLLISION

Near Central Square at midnight Saturday or early Sunday three persons were injured in a collision between an auto operated by Joseph Mack, 36, of 33 Trenton street, East Boston, and a trolley car. Mack suffered a broken leg, numerous scalp wounds and fractured arm. In the car with him was Miss Anna Greenwood, 23, of 260 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, and Alfred Wiggin, 38, of Allston. The woman received a broken leg and minor injuries, while Wiggins has a fractured arm, scalp wounds and possible internal injuries. All three were taken to the Boston City Hospital.

BOY SCOUT DANCE

An assembly dance, which should be of unusual interest to all on account of its appeal, will take place on Friday evening, Feb. 1, in Fogg Opera House, South Weymouth. The Boy Scouts of America, Old Colony council, are making a drive for funds and this dance is being given for their benefit under the auspices of the various clubs and organizations in South Weymouth.

MEETING OF SELECTMEN

Again on Monday the Selectmen voted 2 to 1, to grant Sunday license for Jan. 27 to the Gem theatre at Weymouth and the East Weymouth Opera House.

No license could be issued to Arthur L. McGroarty individually, as he is not the lessee of the East Weymouth Opera House.

The Selectmen signed the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting and Town Election. The warrant contains nearly 100 articles, including a revision of teachers' salaries, purchase of playground near High school; appropriation for new schoolhouse at North Weymouth; to purchase land on Great Pond; branch library at East Weymouth; permanent sidewalks; to rebuild Broad street between Central Square and Jackson Square; to rebuild Washington street between Lincoln Square and Washington Square; to print a valuation book, etc., etc.

A THOUGHT

Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Prov. 27:1.

Tomorrow, didst thou say? * * * 'Tis fancy's child, and folly is its father; wrought on such stuff as dreams are, and baseless as the fantastic visions of the evening.—Cotton.

MANY TAKE THE TEST

At the high school Saturday over 800 children, mostly of school age, were given the Schick test by Dr. George O. Donnell of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, assisted by Drs. Fraser, Emerson, Guild, Libby, Doucette, and W. H. Drake, the school nurse, Miss McDavitt, visiting nurses Mrs. Pratt and Miss Corliss, Miss Georgia Cushing, the dental nurse, Miss Conroy, and a corps of school teachers.

In a letter to parents and guardians the department says:

"Diphtheria can be practically wiped out by a new method of vaccination. Is your child safe from diphtheria?"

"We can determine those that are safe and those that need the vaccine by a simple test. This test is free from all danger, and will not make your child sick. It leaves no scar. It requires the placing into the skin of a drop of test liquid.

"If the test shows that your child is safe, nothing further need be done. If it shows that the child may catch the disease, three injections of vaccine will almost surely give a life-long protection.

"The test and vaccine are harmless, no matter how young the child.

"If every baby, eighteen months of age, is vaccinated against diphtheria, the disease will not be seen any oftener than small pox."

To the Honorable the Judge of the Probate Court in and for the County of Norfolk:

Respectfully libels and represents Francis Cositore alias Alfonso Cositore of Weymouth, in said County, that he was lawfully married to Josephine Cositore, alias Josie Cositore, now of the City of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, at said Weymouth, on the tenth day of August, A. OLD COLONY DRIVING CLUB SEVENTEEN YEARS OLD

At the annual January meeting of the Old Colony Driving Club held in the Fogg Opera House the election of officers for the 17th year took place and was marked with enthusiasm.

Parker C. Hobart, who presided in the chair as president during 1923 showed himself as being one of the most popular men ever holding office. He developed many new ideas and displayed great and interesting energy during his whole term. He was succeeded by Sandy Roulston, who held office of vice-president last year. Mr. Hobart is a charter member. Mr. Roulston has the reputation of being an unusually keen and active business man and with his abundance of new ideas 1924 promises to equal, if not surpass all previous seasons of the club's prosperity.

The new vice-president is Gordon C. Green, owner of the South Shore Coal Co. of Hingham. He has been an exceedingly active and enthusiastic member of the club for over eight years and no member doubts his ability to bring the club even to greater popularity by his part in the administration.

Secretary and treasurer M. C. Sproule, who has so efficiently and so zealously filled that office for several years was re-elected unanimously and one ballot was cast for his return to office.

The new board of directors consists of Parker C. Hobart, Stacy G. Benson, Charles Cavanaugh and Clarence Hobart.

Horsemanship is returning to its own by leaps and bounds this year and the club promises the greatest card of races and best entertainment as a whole that its sixteen years has been fortunate enough to produce. Watch for the opening announcement. The annual formal ball and supper will be given in Fogg Opera House on Feb. 25. The horsemen's banquet comes in March and will be held in Masonic Temple, East Weymouth.

The Old Colony Association of Universalists met at Brockton on Tuesday, Jan. 22, beginning at 3 P. M. with sermon by Rev. S. E. Franc of Plymouth, followed by business meeting and election of officers at 4 P. M. Dinner at 6.30. At 7.30 P. M., addresses by Rev. John D. Brush of North Weymouth and Victor A. Friend of Melrose on the subject: "Our men and the Christ crusade".

On Sunday, January 13, Mr. Dowson spoke on the controversy between Modernists and Fundamentalists now engrossing the attention of the public, and explained its importance as showing the strength of the theological position of the Universalist church which it has held for so many years and the wide acceptance of the truths which it has always taught. He pointed out the advantages of liberal religion as being: (1) The enjoyment of the fullest intellectual liberty for preacher and people; (2) The discarding of usages and doctrines that have been outgrown; (3) A simple and intelligible gospel in place of the complicated and unreasonable system known as the traditional "plan of salvation".

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Third rank of Camp Fire is the torch bearer. For this rank a girl must have shown the qualities of a good leader. It was hard for the founders of Camp Fire, Dr. and Mrs. Guhick, to give requirements for this rank. The requirements given are that the girl shall be fifteen years old, and she must have won twenty additional elective honors. The qualities necessary are that the girl shall have shown powers of steady leadership or real craftsmanship, "she must be loyal and dependable as well as liveable and likeable. She must have learned how to get along amicably with others both in work and in play. In other words she must be a good team-worker, trustworthy, cheerful and unselfish." It takes a long time for girls to develop the necessary qualities, for very few possess them all. The last requirement is that the girl know the torch bearer's desire, which is, "That light which has been given to me I desire to pass undimmed to others".

The Actate Camp Fire Girls held a short business meeting last Tuesday evening. They voted since all members cannot come on that evening, to have their meetings Thursday afternoon. They are making preparations for a ceremonial meeting to be held some time soon, the exact date to be decided upon at their next meeting.

—Superintendent Rogers of the "Middleboro Home" has a number of good rooms that are not "working" at the town's poorhouse. He believes the town should have a revenue from them and has advertised them to let to men with board. This is a new idea in town home management.

WHY ADJUSTED COMPENSATION

Here is an outline of the Legion's case for adjusted compensation. It summarizes the points which Legion officials have stressed for four years in presenting the Legion's argument to the President, the Congress, and the country. Every Legionnaire and every ex-service man should read this carefully. Then—tell the public. Legion posts have helped a great deal by getting their local newspapers to publish accounts of the case for compensation. This digest is well adapted to such use.

A debt is owing the ex-soldier and ex-sailor.

II

This debt has been acknowledged by the country and payment has been promised to the veteran.

1. In the national elections of 1920 and 1922 a majority of the candidates of all parties for national legislative offices campaigned and were elected on platforms which contained the statement that an adjustment of compensation was due the veterans and should be paid. The late President Harding, as a candidate, placed himself explicitly on record as favoring the passage of the Adjusted Compensation Bill. Candidates who declined to go thus on record in nearly every instance were defeated at the polls.

III

The country wants this debt paid.

1. The people of twenty states at general elections have voted in favor of adjusted compensation.

2. The legislatures of 23 states have petitioned Congress to enact the federal adjusted compensation bill.

3. The governors of thirty-three States called on the President to sign the Adjusted Compensation Bill when it was before him.

4. The legislatures of twenty-two States have acted favorably on state legislation of a similar nature.

5. The House of Representatives has passed the adjusted compensation bill three times, the last vote being 333 to 70.

6. The United States Senate, through its finance committee, has approved of this bill three times, the Senate as a whole passing it once by a vote of 47 to 22.

7. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a national organization which has been a consistent and active opponent of compensation, polled local chambers of commerce throughout the country on the four options of the bill. The result was 4,116 votes for and 2,657 against adjusted compensation.

8. The American Federation of Labor and many other organizations of large membership have endorsed the bill.

9. In addition to the American Legion, every recognized national organization of war veterans, from Civil War down, has endorsed the bill and urged its enactment.

IV

The country can afford to pay this debt; the funds are available.

1. In 1921 and again in 1922, though a majority of American people and a majority of their representatives in Congress favored the adjusted compensation bill, the measure failed of enactment because of the plea of the Secretary of the treasury that the finances of the country were not equal to the obligation. If this were the state of affairs in 1921 and 1922 it cannot be the state of affairs today. The Treasury reported a surplus of $300,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923. In his last communication to Congress on the subject the Secretary declared that the surplus for 1924 would be so great as to permit of a reduction of income taxes in the amount of $323,000,000.

2. The officially estimated cost of adjusted compensation is approximately $80,000,000 a year for the first three years. Therefore, the Treasury surplus of free funds for 1924 will be enough to pay that year's installment on the nation's debt to the veterans four times over. Compensation can be paid and taxes reduced $243,000,000 in 1924.

The bill now before Congress arranged for the payment of this debt in ways which would benefit not only the individuals compensated by the country as a whole.

1. The veteran who is entitled, by reason of his length of service, to more than $50 must take his compensation in one of these three ways:

- (a) A 20-years-endowment paid-up life-insurance policy, or
- (b) A contribution toward building or paying for a home or a farm or for improvements on a farm, or
- (c) A contribution toward a vocational or industrial education. Or if he is entitled to $50 or less he must accept his compensation in cash.

2. The options (a), (b) and (c), which would apply to the preponderant majority of veterans, represent investments which would make for a better, stabler and more prosperous citizenship among the 4,000,000 who would benefit by them. They offer no chance by which these values—which represent money that is owing the soldier and which the country desires shall be paid to him—may be dissipated by unwise of uneconomic use or investment. Life insurance, homes, farms, education—the money must go into these things. No sounder investments could be suggested.

3. In the transaction comparatively little actual money will change hands. Credits simply will move from the Treasury into 4,000,000 individual investments in discharge of an actual and acknowledged debt which the nation owes to 4,000,000 men who bore arms in the World War and as a consequence suffered an economic disability which can be and should be made good in part without further delay.

The Cost of a Car

is no measure of its value

These are the things to consider

THE cost of a car depends in large part on volume and efficiency. It is no criterion of value. Studebaker builds 150,000 fine cars yearly. All of them are Sixes. The main costs are divided by that enormous output. Thus at prices of $975 and up we offer the utmost in quality. We offer maximum values. Don't judge these cars by prices. Under other conditions they might cost twice as much, yet offer less than these.

Some major costs

Quality cars require costly facilities. Studebaker has $50,000,000 invested in modern plants and equipment. $8,000,000 in drop forge plants alone. $10,000,000 in body plants, to carry out the Studebaker standards.

There are 12,500 up-to-date machines employed to build these cars. Some are enormously expensive.

Few outputs justify such facilities. Then parts must be bought outside, and profits paid to others.

Studebaker engineering costs $500,000 per year. That to us is $3.33 per car.

Our Department of Research and Experiment employs 125 skilled men. It makes 500,000 tests per year to maintain our standards.

Our Bureau of Methods and Standards fixes the requirements for every part and detail. 12,000 inspections are necessary for each car to insure against flaws and mistakes. We employ 1,000 men to make them.

Cars like the Studebakers cannot be built without such facilities, such research, such care. Yet enormous output alone makes them possible at Studebaker prices.

The best we know

Studebakers represent the best we know. And with our army of engineers, with our wealth of experience, we probably know what is best.

We use 35 formulas for steels. Each is best suited to certain parts, as proved by years of tests.

On some steels we pay the makers a bonus of 15% to get them exactly right. There is no room to excel us there.

* * *

We machine the entire surface of each crank shaft, as was done on Liberty Airplane Motors. That extra cost is heavy. But thus we get ations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

Open cars have real leather cushions. They cost, over imitation leather, about $25 per car.

No closed cars could be more luxurious. That lining of Chase Mohair is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. A velour lining would save about two-thirds that cost—up to $100 per car.

Note how every detail denotes infinite care. That, as you know, is expensive.

Note the completeness of our larger models. The nickel-plated bumpers, extra disc wheels with cord tires, a steel trunk, a courtesy light. These are rare extras, even on the costliest cars.

Nothing is stinted

Compare part by part with any rival cars. Studebaker will show you some scores of advantages.

Then consider Studebaker history. For 72 years this name has stood for quality. When people rode in carriages, Studebaker built the best. Now those same traditions are applied to motor cars alone.

Consider Studebaker records. Mark how these cars in service have multiplied demand, until people last year paid $200,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

* * *

Consider their service records. One Studebaker car, built in 1918, has run 475,000 miles. It is still in active service. It lately made a mid-winter trip from Los Angeles to New York. That means 80 years of average service, of 6,000 miles per year.

What more can you dream of in a motor car than the Studebakers offer?

Just Go and See

Studebaker is today the leader in the fine-car field.

Studebaker builds more quality cars than any other concern in the world.

Buyers of fine cars last year spent over $200,000,000 for Studebaker models.

The demand for Studebakers has almost trebled in three years—as people found them out.

Then go see them. Compare them with any car you will. Don't spend $1,000 or over without knowing what Studebaker offers. You owe that to yourself.

that perfect balance, that absence of vibration.

We use more Timken bearings than any other car which costs under $5,600. They cost considerably more than ball bearings.

These facts apply to all Studebakers, of all styles and sizes. The materials used in all chasses are alike.

Beauty—Luxury—Finish

The Studebaker coach work has been famous for decades. No one can excel it.

The finish is produced by 26 oper-

I HEARD A VETERAN SAY:
(Dedicated to Brig. Gen. John J. Bradley.)

"There's a ghastly humor lurking
When they tell us, 'War is Hell',
Tell the men who did the fighting,
Fired the shot and felt the shell,
God! What do they think we're made of
When they say we 'want to fight',
We who lived the fearful horror
Of war's black and hideous night,
Do they think we long to listen
To a comrade's dying moan,
Conscious that at any moment
A worse fate may be our own?
We could tell them gruesome stories
That would make their blood run cold;
We could paint them hellish pictures
Of the half that's not been told.
We too know the joys of living,
We too dream of home and love;
Though the soldier's chosen symbol
Is the eagle—not the dove.
Any army man would suffer
To insure one hour of peace;
Gladly would he die tomorrow
If his death would make war cease.
But this pacifistic preaching
Makes us tremble, for we know
It has never saved a nation
From a grim, determined foe.
There is danger too in listening
When they tell us 'War is Hell'
For it may make cowards of us,
Cringing from the shot and shell.
They would misconstrue our motive
Should we tell them peace must lie
In a strong and loyal army—
Soldiers trained to fight and die.
Steady then! Eyes front for service—
For if trouble should arise
They will quickly call upon us
And we'll make the sacrifice.
—Grace Davis Vanamee

Mrs. Marion Chase Baker, of various pieces of proposed legislation for which the State Federation hopes to have the endorsement of the various individual clubs. These include proposed bills on the following subjects: midwifery, nursing, child welfare, agriculture in dominated by a spiritual background.

chosen, including "Gypsy Song"; Car-

NEXT WEEK IN HISTORY

Birthdays of Weymouth People and Persons
 Notable in History—Anniversaries of Great

Thou crownest the years with Thy goodness
 The pathways of Thy feet drop fatness
 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness;
 And the hills are girded with joy.—Psalm 65
 We feel Thy calm at evenings hour,
 Thy grandeur in the march of night;
 And when the morning breaks in power,
 We hear Thy word, 'Let there be Light'.
 —Samuel Longfellow, 1864

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

- That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present co-operation with the League and participate in the work of the League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which

- Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Articles X and XVI.
- Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
- Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by Act of Congress.
- Propose that membership in the League should be opened to all nations.

HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of them in this locality, and good reason for it.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, after years of backache suffering, days of misery, nights of unrest, the distress of urinary troubles, when she finds freedom?

Many readers will profit by the following:

Mrs. Emma Howes, practical nurse, 327 Commercial street, East Braintree, Mass., says: "I have used Doan's Pills for disordered kidneys and lame back. I have also recommended them to my patients and I have never heard of anyone not getting excellent benefit. In my case the results couldn't have been better and I have great faith in Doan's". (Statement given March 20, 1917).

On February 10, 1921, Mrs. Howes said: "I use Doan's whenever my back and kidneys do not act right and a few always relieve me".

Sixty cents, at all dealers. Foster-McClellan Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

ADVERTISE

Few merchants really have the proper appreciation of what advertising means to them. A writer in an exchange aptly puts it in this way:
If a man spoke to his wife only once a month or every two months, she wouldn't even recognize his voice, says an exchange. Yet some business men advertise once a month or every two months and then wonder why they don't get more business. Advertise every week. Remember "the used key is always bright". The store that tells the public what it is doing every day is the store that gets there in the end.—New Bethlehem (Pa.) Leader.

BASKET BALL AND OTHER SPORTS

COLLEGIANS 36, OLDTOWN 14 The Weymouth representatives in the Mayflower league won their third game in the series by defeating Abington at Bates Opera House, Friday night. The local players had a good night and had no trouble in defeating the five from the famous football town. Frank Slattery put it all over his visiting namesake, popping six nice goals from the floor. Bill Shields took Coffey's place at forward in fine style, contributing two baskets and two fouls for a total of six points. "Soup" Dugan, "Hughie" Coyle and Capt. Gunville all outplayed their opponents. Arthur Barry's collection of stars have not done as well in their league contests as was expected of them. The summary:

WEYMOUTH A. A. DEFEATED Manager McGrory's Weymouth five were defeated 31-22 at Rockland Opera House last week, tying up the series between the two teams. A deciding game will probably be played. Jimmie Shields, substitute, got into the game in Sheehan's absence and made good with a vengeance, three baskets and two fouls for a total of ten. Jack Gannon has evidently returned to last year's form; Gannon, when right, is one of the best shots in the game. Curtin played another fine game against Heal. Rockland's ace got three baskets in the first half, every one a long shot; after that George held him safe. "Red" Fitzgerald held Fitts to a big, round goose egg. Bill Barrett was plainly off form, displaying the poorest game he ever played in a Weymouth uniform.

Heal, Connell and Sney excelled for Rockland. "Tacks" annexed five baskets and was a power on defense, repeatedly breaking up Weymouth's passing game. The famous "Iron Man" was booed as usual by thoughtful fans. Felix evidently thrives on abuse. His nine points were the margin by which Rockland won. The summary:

WEYMOUTH A. A. At Bates Opera House last Friday the local five won easily from Bunker Hill council, K. of C., 37-25. Weymouth grabbed the lead at the outset and were never in danger, leading at the half 20-12.

Roscoe Fitts, jumping center, was the outstanding star of the contest, with seven baskets from the floor. Gannon was close on his heels with five. Jim Shields' sterling work at Rockland earned him the chance to appear on the home floor. Curtin, Sheehan and Barrett all played well. "Hughie" Murphy and "Snappy" O'Connell were the shining lights for the visitors.

Both the Owls and Collegians were victorious in the preliminary contests The summary:

Referee, Ruby. Scorer, Welch. Timer, Mielbye. Time, two 20m periods.

In the opening game the Owls had a walkaway, winning as they pleased from St. Joseph 23-6. Coleran with six baskets from the floor was easily the star of the farce. The summary:

Referee, Mahoney. Scorer, Welch. Timer, Mielbye. Time two 15m periods.

In the preliminary game at Rockland last week the North Weymouth Owls took the measure of Curt's famous Whirlwinds 16-13. The local players had the game well in hand from start to finish and would have won by a more decisive score, but for Ash neglecting to cover Mahon. Riley starred for the Owls. Coleran and Dwyer both did well. Dorey was well covered by Snell and failed to get a point. Mahon was the big noise for the losers. The summary:

WEYMOUTH A. A. 23, OKOS 14 In an unofficial game played at Music hall, Brockton, the local shoosers registered a win over Joe Downey's Okos in a hard fought game. The difference in the score indicates an easy win for Weymouth, but the game was easily the toughest tussle that the local players have participated in this season. At the half the Okos led 7-4, Weymouth annexed 19 points in the second period, the minutes. Barrett led Weymouth in jury being scored in the last few scoring; Curtin, Gannon and Fitts outplayed their opponents all the way. Shields again showed that he is a valuable player for any manager to have in reserve.

Jackie Reardon, Brockton favorite, led the Okos for points, Higgins and Sheehan played good basketball. The summary:

WEYMOUTH BEATS WHITMAN Fred Crowley's pets went down to defeat Monday night in an unofficial (not a league) game played at the Town Hall, Whitman. The bitter cold weather kept many enthusiasts at home and what promised to be the best attended game of the season was witnessed by a handful.

Weymouth, greatly strengthened by the addition of "Tacks" Connell and Earl Heal of the Rockland five, presented the strongest team that has worn the local uniform this season. The boy from Maine turned in a stellar performance, caging the ball eight times from all spots and angles, two of them from almost the length of the hall. Earl fairly outplayed the versatile "Kid" Cochrane and that in itself is no mean performance.

"Bill" Barrett played rings around Whitman's idol, Mike Johnson. The famous Mike scored but once, his lowest record of the year. Curtin and Gannon both played well. "Tacks" was a wonder on defense, repeatedly breaking up Whitman's pass work. The summary:

SPORT NOTES Arthur Barry, Abington's famous fan, has gathered together a good crowd of net stars to represent Abington. Given a little more teamwork and Arthur will have a winning combination.

Bernard "Red" Fitzgerald, of Rockland's best athletes, centers Georgetown University this week. His many friends expect Fitz to star at the Southern college. He played football, baseball and basketball in Rockland and proved adept at every sport.

Jack and Peirce Fitzgerald are playing great hockey for B. C. this winter.

The South Shore league. Their place will be taken by Randolph. Manager Farrell announces that he has secured "Fiddle" Worley and Leo Martin for outside players, with Charley Kiley and "Sledge" Collins for home talent, with the fifth man to be chosen later.

George Barnard has a new one in his row of stalls at the South Weymouth track. It is rumored that the new steed is that well known gelding Black Anthony. The owner is said to be a prominent resident of South Hingham.

John O. Reay, chairman of the committee in charge of the New England Horsemen's banquet to be held at the Copley Plaza Feb. 13, wants all the local horsemen who intend to be present to make their reservations as soon as possible.

Coleman, star of the Owls, is as clever a shot as any of the younger players. Joe's most glaring fault is a tendency to hold the ball instead of passing it.

Many of the friends of Mike Meara, well known South Weymouth sportsman and fox hunter, are urging him to enter his famous hound against Ch. Roamer and the other star dogs of this district in the hunt now being arranged. Local nimrods feel that Meara's dog would give a good account of himself.

Skating is good. Now is the time to sharpen the steel blades. An afternoon on runners is better than all the body builders and tonics on the druggists' shelves.

Manager "Spink" Dunleavy of the Plymouth five has decided definitely not to enter the South Shore league. Plymouth fans are supporting the team well, he says, and he doesn't care to have other managers or a board of managers telling him how to run his outfit.

Earl Heal, playing his fast game in a Weymouth uniform turned in a sparkling performance at Whitman on Monday night. Eight double counters against a player of Cochrane's ability is real shooting.

Manager McGrory has booked the Purple Collegians of Worcester for the star attraction at Bates' tonight. The Purple five are one of the fastest quintets in the state and have played and defeated many of the premier teams in New England. Most of the players are ex-Holy Cross stars of other years. Last year they furnished one of the best contests of the season, tho defeated by a small score.

Satyananda Roy At South Weymouth

Satyananda Roy is coming to the Second Universalist church, South Weymouth, Sunday evening. He is a member of the National Congress of India from the province of Bengal and is studying the Christian religion at Tufts college. Mr. Roy is, by chance, the friend not only of Robin-dramath Tagore, the famous poet of India, but also of M. K. Gandhi, the Indian Nationalist, who is now in prison charged with sedition against the British Government. He speaks on Gandhi.

A solemn-faced and sad-eyed man, swarthy of complexion and wearing a white turban, comes as he recalls from the book, "M. K. Gandhi—A sketch of his life and career".

The man Gandhi is a shadow-name which echoes confusedly in our ears a menacing unrest among India's millions, and carries with it the vague knowledge that this sober fellow, with the slight chin and determined mouth was not long ago thrust into prison as the great leader in the Nationalist Non-Cooperative Movement of India.

The name Gandhi recalls to our mind the unrest among three hundred and twenty millions of the world's people. America is vitally interested in a movement affecting so large a part of the world's population.

We have been inundated with stories, some colored by British propaganda, and others still hot from excited minds of the disciples of Gandhi. The utterances of a man who has served a native congress of India as representative of his people and who has been intimately acquainted with Gandhi and Tagore, the two great leaders of the Nationalist movement in India will, therefore, be of deep interest to the American people.

In order that the public may be afforded the opportunity of hearing the great question in India from one who knows better, probably, than any other Indian in the United States today, the true situation of his native land.

Mr. Roy, who was formerly associate pastor of the Church of the New Dispensation at Calcutta, India, and active secretary of the Bramo Samaj which is closely related to the Unitarian and Universalist denominations in thought and universality of religious teachings, is to be the speaker Sunday evening, Jan. 27, at 7.30 o'clock at the Second Universalist church at South Weymouth.

Gandhi as a leader is unique, indeed, in the world's history, for they do not incite their countrymen to war, but to a passive warfare new to humanity—the sullen, obstinate, unbreakably heroic spirit of non-cooperation.

Mr. Roy is a typical representative of young India—India awake and yearning for a realization of her nationalist hopes. India seeking for what Australia and Ireland have already won, India determined to govern her own millions as a free state in the great British Empire.

Mr. Roy was born in Calcutta, the home of Tagore. Mr. Roy has the right, moreover, to wear the "Sacred Thread", the insignia of the third highest caste in India and evidence of his descent from the royal line of the "twice born".

This distinguished right, however, the young Hindu has renounced, for as a member of the Bramo Samaj, the great movement of young India for better social, religious, and educational conditions, he has discarded all class distinctions as unworthy of a worshipper of God. He is, furthermore, affiliated with the church of the world-famous Indian leader of the last century, Keshub Chendr Sen, a relative of the third founder of the Somaj and has been its national secretary.

Mr. Roy is one of the national leaders of the Bramo Samaj—a movement that, by curious coincidence, had its birth in India at the same time that Unitarianism first appeared in New England. Among the great New England writers who have been influenced by, and in turn influenced, the Bramo Samaj have been Dr. William Ellery Channing, a founder of the Unitarian movement, and Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Gandhi has found the Samaj a decisive factor in his life as an influence. The Bramo Samaj, then, is a religious, social, and educational movement which stands in the same relationship to Hinduism as the Universalist and Unitarian movements bear to the Christianity.

"Gandhi in prison—India goes marching on" is a subject which will be of interest to every member of the human family and Mr. Roy in presenting his lecture at the Second Universalist church, South Weymouth, Sunday evening gives for the first time his latest impressions of the Indian problem and Gandhi. Mr. Roy will appear in his native costume.

A special musical program for the evening has been arranged with Mrs. Florence King Mae Murray, soprano soloist.

BOY SCOUTS

According to the reports sent into headquarters by Deputy Commissioner E. Emery White for the Braintree district court of honor, the following scouts have successfully passed merit badge examination: John Cummings in cooking, Harin Kingsbury, swimming; Henry Cutting Merriam, cooking; Henry Heffernan, handicraft.

Arthur Allen Eddy, deputy commissioner of Weymouth, is planning to hold a court of honor for Weymouth boys the first week in February.

The monthly meeting of the scoutmaster council, South Shore division, was called by the president, E. T. Cleaves yesterday (Thursday), in the vestry of the East Weymouth Methodist church. The meeting was preceded by a supper, served under the direction of Deputy Commissioner Eddy. Acting regional executive for New England, B. Wikel, was the speaker of the evening.

Lt. Ernest Vaughan is at work preparing for the organization of a Sea Scout Reserve in port of Weymouth and Braintree.

The patrol leaders school which has been carried on this year by Louis Barcello Jr. of South Weymouth, will have its next meeting in the Boston Y. M. C. A. Saturday, Jan. 26, at 2 P. M.

How to Make Toast

If you like toast with a rich brown crispness outside and a soft fluffy freshness inside, slice the bread a bit thick and toast over a quick flame. If you prefer it crisp and dry throughout, cut the slices thinner and toast over a slow flame. Toast is more delectable when the crust has been cut from all four sides before toasting.

With gas as a fuel, and with the right kind of gas toaster, it is easy to control the flame, and anyone can make toast of just the right degree of crispness to suit individual preference. Try it once, and you will agree that gas is the ideal fire for toasting—convenient, efficient and economical.

Rev. Justice Accepts Challenge

Editor Gazette-Transcript: That there is a difference between the clergyman's use of "Moving Pictures" to preach religious and moral truth in a Sunday evening service in the Church when only a collection is taken to defray expenses and for charity, and the theater manager's use for entertainment where admission is charged for commercial profit—that there is a very radical difference is my contention.

It is easy to account for personal prejudices. As we live and learn we get rid of a lot of them. But the prejudice who clings tenaciously to a prejudice, closing his mind tight to any chance of enlightenment, cannot fail to raise a doubt as to his sincerity.

Not long ago I used the feature entitled, "Father Tom". A kindly parish priest in order to raise money is tempted to gamble by entering his fast horse in a race.

The motion picture producers have long since entered the field of morals and religion. In more than half of the worth-while features on the silver screen there are references to the Bible, filial affection, prayer, unselfish service for others, devotion to duty or church life, while honesty, integrity, courage are given their rightful appeal.

Even a murder, a drinking scene by its insidious suggestiveness may be one thing in the theatre. I can take those same scenes and use them as a bitter warning and a righteous lesson of indignation to root out the causes of such filth and scum from our social well being.

When I have said above, I do not cast any reflections on the legitimate theatre entertainments during the commercial days of the week.

Children are very nice observers and they will often perceive your slightest defects. In general those who govern children forgive nothing in them, but everything in themselves.

RECIPE FOR MAKING DIXIE RELISH

Putting Up Supply of Dixie Relish.

Club girls, under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges, put up a great many novel products according to standard "4H" recipes furnished by extension leaders.

Dixie Relish. 4 tablespoonfuls mustard seed. 2 tablespoonfuls celery seed (crushed). 1/2 cupful sugar. 1 quart vinegar. 1 quart chopped cabbage or choyotes. 1 pint chopped sweet red pepper. 1 pint chopped sweet green pepper. 4 tablespoonfuls salt.

HINTS SUGGESTED ON BAKING Ovens Are of Varying Sizes and Construction and Same Results Not Always Obtained.

Ovens of varying sizes and construction do not always bake in the same way, even though the thermometer may record the same temperature in every case.

The larger sizes of loaf, roll, muffin, potatoes and such usually require lower temperatures for longer periods, and the smaller sizes higher temperatures and shorter periods, other things being equal.

A half-pound sponge cake or angel-food cake baked in a Turk's head pan (center tube) stands a comparatively high temperature better than does the same weight of cake baked as an ordinary loaf.

SPECIAL CLEANING FOR LACE

Directions for Washing Curtains or Collars Given by Department of Agriculture.

Certain articles in the wardrobe and household require special cleaning if their use is to be properly prolonged. Among these comes lace.

Measure before washing if, as in the case of curtains or collars, it is important to keep the original size and shape. Very delicate lace should be basted carefully on a piece of cotton cloth and washed on that to prevent straining the lace.

Lace may sometimes be cleaned by covering it with warm French chalk, allowing it to stand overnight and then shaking thoroughly.

Liver gravy may be flavored with lemon juice, onion or vinegar. No carpet with a canvas back should ever be broken over the line. Outdoor luncheon sets made of unbleached muslin are delightful to embroider. To whiten knife handles which have become yellow with age, rub with fine emery paper.

SCHOOL LUNCH MUST BE MADE ATTRACTIVE

Quite Important to Avoid Unwholesome Foods.

Growing children have special needs in the way of food. Even when they eat all their meals at home, it is no easy matter to see that they are properly fed, and when they eat part of their meals at school the difficulty is far greater.

The composition of the batter or dough largely governs the baking temperature. A plain loaf cake containing comparatively little sugar, egg and fat (i. e., a "cheap" cake) requires greater care and a more gradually applied heat than does a richer cake; it should, therefore, be put into a cool oven in order to get the best results.

Supplying the proper kind of food at lunch must be considered in connection with the other meals of the day. Breakfast, dinner and luncheon or supper must together supply a large number of different substances, each of which has a special use in the growing and active body of the child.

A Poorly Selected School Lunch.

supplied by milk, some by cereals, and some by fresh vegetables and fruits and other food materials. The daily diet as a whole must therefore include a variety of food materials, but no one meal must necessarily include them all.

In the case of the well-nourished and carefully fed child it is more important, says the United States Department of Agriculture, that the school lunch should contain no unclean nor otherwise unwholesome foods than that it should be perfectly balanced, for what the midday meal lacks the other two can supply.

Little Girl's Dress.

A little girl's blue silk dress is exquisitely made in a very simple and becoming style, with here and there a dash of erise in appliqued medallions.

To Keep Flowers Fresh.

Household flowers will stay fresh longer than usual if you put a few slices of white soap into the water in which they are kept.

Prick the Skin.

If you prick the skins of apples before putting them into the oven to bake, they will not burst and will retain their shape.

ALL AT THE FAIR

By MOLLIE MATHER

MISS FAITH lifted the cookies from the oven with almost tender touch. "Seems," she remarked timidly, "as if these cookies might take a fair prize. Got 'em down to a science, Elbert Toll says, when I give him one to taste."

"Won't you have a cookie, Miss Meredith?" Marta leaned forward in the old rocker that was part of the kitchen furnishings. She liked to sit here companionably, while her country hostess cooked and talked.

"Speaking of the county fair, now, wouldn't you like to go? Be a real change for you and entertainin', Eb. Toll is going to drive over in his big car; going to exhibit his dogs. He's got lots of money, Miss Meredith, an' it wa'n't all left by his pa. He's a good lawyer."

Miss Faith tinted a faint pink, with the embarrassment of her next suggestion: Eb. has taken an awful fancy to you—please, Miss Marta, don't be offended. He was telling me yesterday, when you was getting on your hat to ride with him, what a fine young lady you were. The old Toll place is the nicest one in town."

Marta came forward to look into the elder woman's face. "Dear," said Marta, impulsively, "put the very nicest cookies in your prettiest basket. I'm going to call up Mr. Toll and ask him to let me ride with him to the county fair—and your cookies are to be placed there on exhibition."

"You just must influence those judges to give the bluest-ribb ribbon to Miss Faith," Marta smilingly told him. "You know they deserve the prize."

"I'll see what I can do," the big man promised. "I will amuse myself," Marta told Eb. Toll, "and find my way later to the car, where you have parked it. And if I should not be here at five, when you are ready to return, be sure that I have found some other Hilltown, who has consented to take me home beforehand."

"I will take the cookies to the booth," Mr. Toll offered. The petted dogs proved to be averse to exhibition; their master stood troubled before their howls of indignation. "We will have to take them home," he said to Marta. "I have an important committee meeting to attend for a time, in the main building. Would you mind placing the dogs in the car? They will wait there content."

Near the hour of five, when a cold fall of rain made warm shelter inviting, Marta sought again the blue car, and settled herself among its cushions, the now joyous dogs beside her. John Roberts, bored with his hours of attendance upon three old, happy relatives, thought that he would rest in his car until the ladies might be ready to join him for the homeward ride to Hilltown village.

Upon attempting to open the door of his car he was confronted by two growling dogs who forbade him entrance. John stared; then he stared some more, though not aggressively, for a strange young woman gazed at him through the window of his own car and asked coldly what he wanted.

John's lips curled humorously. "This being my car," he mildly explained, "I thought I'd like to drive it." The young woman sat up and endeavored to quiet the angry animals. "Mercy! she cried, "do you suppose I've made a mistake in the car? It is so exactly like the one I drove over in from Hilltown—I thought I had the right location."

John Roberts looked about. "I fancy I see your car a bit farther down. No occupant. Mistake quite natural, under the circumstances."

It also seemed natural that the lonely young man in a strange place should linger to talk with a young woman from the village which he had been visiting; natural that when Marta learned the name of his aunts that she should decide to wait to speak with them.

John Roberts talked of his happy boyhood days there—talked of his business in New York city—how he had grudging this day's idleness, how now he was repaid and recompensed for all the dullness. He had not expected to say the last—Marta's blue eyes some way compelled him. And she told of Miss Faith, and her joyless life, of the cookies, and the prize that she was certain must come to make her friend happy. And when three quaint old ladies came walking toward the blue car they found two smiling young persons to welcome them.

"Why, it's Miss Meredith!" the oldest aunt exclaimed. "Now, we must all ride home together."

So the blue car moved out through the gateway—a fine looking young man on the front seat, a pretty girl beside him; three old ladies chatting together behind; at either window a dog's watching eager face.

Poor Eb. Toll! Faith's matchmaking scheme was to be frustrated. She was caressing a prize blue ribbon some time later when a pretty young woman bent over her shoulder. "Miss Faith," said the young woman softly, "you will have to teach me your skill in cooking. John and I are to be married." The man who followed Marta into the room smiled down at Miss Faith. "You are not the only one who found a prize at the county fair," he said.

THE HOME PAPER IN VERSE

A series on the Country Weekly published in promotion of Home Paper Week, Feb. 3-9.
Home paper week, which will be observed throughout New York state February 3-9, does not seek to discourage the reading of city dailies and magazines. It seeks only to point out that the home weekly is a community institution and renders quite a different service from those other publications, printed at a distance, and a service which they cannot possibly render. This peculiar service and the sentiment, if you please, which the thoughtful resident of the smaller communities has for his home paper are well set forth in these verses, the writer of which is unknown to the Weymouth Gazette.

I read the daily paper,—read the state and foreign news,
Of the doings here and yonder, and of leading statesmen's views,
Read of wreck, and fire, and murder, baseball, politics and crime,
Marriages and births and dyings, all the happenings of time.

Read the whole edition over, from the first page to the last,
News and comments, facts and fancies things to come, things of the past
Then aside I trust that paper for it's no more good to me,
Half the things that I've read over soon my memory will flee.

Then I get the home town weekly, and with keen and eager eye,
Read the news it has to tell me, news that's never dull nor dry,
For the news that's in that paper tells of folks I know and love,
Folks who are both friends and neighbors and whose goodness I can prove.

Tells of school, and church, and college, lodge, society and store,
Town improvements, council's doings, squibs and personals galore.
Having read this good town paper, read and swelled myself with pride.

I crank up my ancient flivver and through town and country ride,
Far away sometimes it takes me, into other towns and states,
Where I may take notes and figures and make mental estimates.

'Then returning to my roof-tree, call my neighbors to my side
And declare "So help me Hannah, here I ever will abide,"
And with each returning Friday, eagerly I watch and wait,
For the postman who is bringing the old weekly to my gate.

Oh, must have the great dailies, magazines and trade reviews,
But the thing that makes me happy is the home-town weekly news.

THE PITY OF IT

The tragedian came bursting into the smoking room of the theatrical club.

"Hurrah, hurrah!" he shouted loudly. "I've just signed a three-year contract! Ten pounds a week and all expenses paid by the manager!"

"I'm jolly glad to hear that, old man!" said one of the members, jumping to his feet. "When do you open?"

"September 1, in Cape Town," was the answer.

The friend shook his head dismally. "The ostrich," he said, in pitying tones, "lays an egg weighing from two to four pounds."—London Answers.

WOES OF A NEUTRAL

The Guest: Bad business, eh? Why, your hotel is full and I've known you to make money with half the number of guests.

The Landlord: Yes, but those were American tourists. These you see now are nothing but a lot of busted kings.

Mary's Little Hen.
Mary had a little hen,
But she was very queer;
She laid like fun when eggs were cheap,
And quit when they were dear.

Vacationing.
"Next year," said Jones, "next year I'm going to take a real rest; that's me."

"Going to the country?"
"No sir! Going to stick my car in the shop for overhauling, scuttle my launch, send the dog to a kennel, ship my wife to the seashore, put on my overalls and stay home."

Imported Humor.
Reported conversation between two Englishmen:
"I put some turnip seed in the ground," said one, "and up came some cabbage."

"That's nothing," replied his companion. "I buried a cat and up came a sanitary inspector."

On the Safe Side.
Husband—My wife does nothing but ask for money—it's $5 one day, $3 the next, and so on.
Solicitor—What does she do with all this money?
Husband—Nothing. I don't give it to her.

THE REASON.
For breath our gas bills never pause,
Those sprinters fast and fleet,
Perhaps they run so fast because
They have so many feet.

Same Old Human Nature.
We fear no gold-brick game today,
No green-goods man can bring dismay,
But—whisper—jays must have their larks.
A lot of us bought German marks.

Musical Education.
"Yes, my daughter's musical education was a profitable venture," said father.
"Really?" questioned a friend.
"Yes, I managed to buy the houses on either side of my own for about half their value."

Saving Trouble.
Motorist (after hitting pedestrian)—You were trying to cross in the middle of the block.
Pedestrian—What difference does it make? If I cross at the corner you will knock me into the middle of the block, so we might as well begin there.

Something for All.
"So you don't approve of Sunday baseball. Don't you think the people should be allowed to enjoy themselves on the Sabbath?"
"Aren't they doing that now? The rich have their golf clubs and the poor have their automobiles."

EXONERATED.
You come home all hours of the night.
No, my dear, only one hour each night.

Art and Nature.
A people by dissension struck
Exclaimed, "We revel in hard luck.
We have no earthquakes ready-made.
Let's wreck the land without their aid!"

Unorganized.
"How's the new minister getting along?"
"All right, so far. You see he hasn't been here long enough yet for us to decide which faction is going to be for him and which against him."

Making Up for Lost Business.
Patient—Twenty dollars to have two teeth pulled? Great Scott! I usually pull about ten.
Dentist—Yes, but you yelled so much that the patients in the waiting room all left.

Movies

AT BATES OPERA HOUSE

The management of Bates Opera House announces that beginning Saturday night, Jan. 26, and every Saturday night thereafter there will be held a grand movie ball.

This announcement will undoubtedly meet with universal approval, especially so when the music will be furnished by George Abell and his orchestra.

An exceptional moving picture program will be presented, consisting of the very latest and best photoplays secureable.

The prices are 15¢ for children, 25¢ for adults; while 55¢ for dancing should prove very attractive.

GEM THEATRE

Jackie Coogan's first Metro picture, "Long Live the King", playing at the Gem theatre Saturday, is an unusually beautiful picture, plus Jackie's wonderful acting, lives up to all the advance praise made for it all during the six months of its production. Beautiful sets abound in this production; sets built at a great cost. These and Jackie and the story and the cast round out a great and thrilling picture, which none should miss.

There is an extraordinary treat coming to the patrons of the Gem theatre Sunday. It's Norma Talmadge in "Smilin' Through". The production has long been hailed as the greatest achievement of Norma to date. You simply can't afford to miss it.

"Held to Answer" is playing the same day.

The bigger a palace a man lives in the harder it is to make it seem like home. Wealth and luxury bring no happiness to the old man in "A Chapter in Her Life" at the Gem Wednesday until a little child comes to destroy the emptiness and brings real life into it. For a good laugh see Larry Semon in "The Gown Shop" the same day.

AT BATES OPERA HOUSE

This Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon at Bates Opera House the management offers a photoplay program that should attract an exceptionally large attendance.

The program is so arranged that the children will find many pleasing features.

Two big features, Colleen Moore in "Broken Hearts of Broadway" and Richard Talmadge in "Thru the Flames" also a Buster Keaton comedy will make up the offering.

Prices for the matinee are 10¢ for children and 20¢ for adults. Matinee starts at 2 o'clock.

The Lovell's Corner Improvement Society will hold a chicken pie supper in the Community Building tonight. The committee in charge are: Mrs. Annie Turner, Mrs. Charles White and Mrs. Bowdoin Smith. The following menu will be served: chicken pie, mashed potato, peas, rolls and coffee, ice cream and apple pie. Following the supper an entertainment in charge of Mrs. Bert Doble will be enjoyed.

—Master Toria Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Lake Crest was drowned in Whitman's pond Sunday afternoon. The funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Rev. Mr. Rogers of Boston University supplied the pulpit at the Porter church Sunday.

—Gifts were received last week for the "old home" table which was in charge of Mr. Rea at the Improvement Fair, from Mrs. Catherine Hawes Matheson of North Weymouth, and Miss Lena Spilstead of Whitman.

—Mr. Thorpe of Wamp, South Carolina, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stever of Pleasant street.

—Irwin Hawes has been confined to his home by illness the past week. —Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tinkham of Whitman have been the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt of Pleasant street.

—Rehearsals are being held for a minstrel show to be given under the direction of Charles White for the benefit of the Improvement Society.

—Vegetables, unlike the hired man will work for you much better if you let them keep their jackets on. Cool potatoes this way, and other vegetables too, if you can.

Senator Walsh On Sterling Towner Bill

Every man, woman and child is (or ought to be) interested in education. The Gazette is pleased to print a recent speech given in Congress by Senator David I. Walsh.

No bill pertaining to the educational system of the country has created so much aggressive support and vehement opposition as the measure known formerly as the Smith-Towner bill, but more recently as the Sterling-Towner bill. The bill has been pending in Congress over four years; hearings have been held from time to time and repeated efforts made to have it debated and voted upon. The reason why no action was taken during the last Congress was because President Harding was known to be opposed to the measure.

The bill appears to be much misunderstood, and therefore it may be interesting to state briefly what is being urged for and against this measure. I shall present what I understand to be the main arguments of both sides and later my own conclusions.

I. The bill establishes a department of education, with a secretary in the President's Cabinet, and authorizes an appropriation at the outset of $100,000,000. Increasingly large annual appropriations would follow to encourage and assist the several States where the educational system is weak and the teachers poorly trained, it is claimed, would be greatly benefited. The advocates of the measure insist that the duties and privileges of American citizenship are not affected by state boundaries; strong states should assist the weaker; to neglect a proper training of any number of the citizens of our country, in whatever state they may reside, is to endanger the nation as a whole. The opposition has been determined and vigorous. The chief attack against the bill is centered around the opposition to "Federal control" of education. It is claimed Federal interference or assistance would mean injection of political partisanship into education. It is urged that if the national administration be Republican or Democratic, the secretary of education, who would have a position in the Cabinet, would be selected primarily because of his political rather than his educational qualifications. There would be constant changes of leadership and policies, for a secretary of education of one political faith, however capable and efficient, would not be retained when a national administration changed, because it is inconceivable that a President would have at his Cabinet meetings, where party and administrative policies are discussed, a Cabinet officer unsympathetic politically; that Federal control would lead to opportunities for political propaganda through the school system in favor of the national political party which may happen to be in power. The placing of education under Federal control would lead to the Europeanizing of our school system, and open the door to methods similar to the Prussianized system of Germany; that it would expose our school system to the meddling interference and influence of a Federal bureaucracy at Washington likely to be out of sympathy and touch with local conditions.

II. It would provide for the distribution among the poor states, where educational standards are low, of public money raised by the more prosperous states. The opponents answer such arguments by calling them an appeal to the "belly" of the states; it is an attempt to sacrifice the freedom of the state for its "belly"; it is an appeal to certain states, by means of a bribe, to surrender their birthrights, which, under the Constitution, are severally entrusted with safeguarding of education within its borders. What state in the Union would willingly and without reward surrender the control of its school system to Washington and its bureaucracy? If none has or would in the past, is not the method of appropriating money to be distributed to certain states in the nature of a bribe to such states to surrender their control?

III. The richer and more prosperous states have in the past and today do make contributions and have done so ungrudgingly to pay the cost of public improvement in other parts of the Union, such as highways, agricultural development, and the like.

These contributions of proportional small amounts, it is said in reply, did not necessitate the surrender of what is called a nation's birthright. Shall the complete control of education within the states remain within the states as a power never surrendered to the Federal Government, or shall it be vested in a department at Washington, functioning through a political appointee? That is the real issue, the opponent insists.

IV. Many educators favor the bill. Among the organizations supporting it are the National Education Association, the American Federation of Teachers, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, various mothers' and teachers' organizations.

On the other hand, here is what some educators say: John Hopkins University sees in the bill "a most dangerous usurpation of power in Washington that would undermine the rights of the people."

President Butler of Columbia University says, "It is a bill to establish an army of bureaucrats in Washington and another army of inspectors roaming about the country on the land that will fail to accomplish any favorable improvement in the education of our people."

President Hadley of Yale, "The bill is quite a long step in the Prussianizing of American education."

Opinions of many others indicate a sharp division and an increasing opposition among educators.

THRONGS IN NATIONAL PARKS

Nearly 1,500,000 Persons Visited These Playgrounds During the Season of 1923.

Nearly 1,500,000 persons visited the national parks and monuments, the grand national playgrounds set aside by congress for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, in the 1923 season, according to a statement made by the Interior department. Much rivalry has existed between the various parks as to which would prove the most popular, and the honor goes to Rocky Mountain National park in Colorado, which had a visiting list of 218,000. Yellowstone National park, Wyoming, takes second place with 138,352 visitors, but Yellowstone's record is perhaps the most noteworthy, as the great park does not lie as close to great centers of population and the season lasts for only three months. Yellowstone's nearest rival was Yosemite National park, in California, which had 130,046 visitors. Mt. Rainier National park, Washington, had the greatest increase, jumping from 70,376 visitors in 1922 to 123,708 in 1923. Other parks having more than 100,000 visitors were Platt National park in Oklahoma, with 117,710; Hot Springs National park, Arkansas, with 112,000, and Grand Canyon National park, Arizona, with 102,166. The smallest attendance was at Mt. McKinley National park, Alaska, thirty-four hardy visitors having made trips into the park over the difficult trails with saddle and pack outfits. The national monuments drawing the heaviest attendance were Muir Woods, California, which attracted 91,253, the Petrified Forest, Arizona, 45,475, and the Scotts Bluff National Monument, Nebraska, 20,000.

HE RELIES ON HIS MEMORY

Blind Student in California High School Recites After Hearing Lessons Read.

Twelve years in school and has never seen a textbook. That is the record of Leroy Calvin Hendricks, a student in the University of Southern California high school, who has been blind since birth.

Calvin was graduated from grammar school in 1920. There were two other blind students in his class and the trio shared the distinction of being the first blind students to be graduated from a public school west of Chicago. They used the Braille system while studying their textbooks, but recited with the other students who could see.

Since his entrance to high school three years ago Calvin has not used the Braille system, except for taking class notes. His mother reads all of his lessons to him and he relies upon his memory for his class recitations. He now is taking a general course, consisting of public speaking, English and political science, but intends to specialize in harmony work when he gets in the university. It is his ambition to become a great pianist, and those who have heard him play claim that he is already well on his way.—Los Angeles Times.

Insured Against Fun Films

A novel insurance policy has just been issued by Lloyd's underwriters, says London Tit-Bits. It insures cinema-goers against death from excessive laughter while in the theater. Recently several persons have been so affected by the hilarious nature of highly amusing films as to need medical attendance, and in more than one case death has resulted.

The policy which, in the sum of £500, covers a period of six months and has been taken out by the Associated First National Pictures, Ltd., to cover similar occurrences in the case of their new films.

While in no case has the proprietor of a picture theater been held liable for any untoward result of mirth upon the audience, the present policy is said to have been taken out to reassure the public and as a step forward in making the theater safe for hilarity!

China's Wheelbarrows

China is said to be just a preliminary yawn and stretch. A recently returned traveler says: Almost all the freight in Tsinanfu, a walled city of 300,000 inhabitants at the land end of the Shantung railway, in China, is moved in wheelbarrows. Some of the loads are thus conveyed distances of 15 to 20 miles a day. Wheelbarrows also handle passenger traffic. "My lady" frequently returns from her shopping tours with her bundles on one side and herself on the other. Half a dozen people may ride in front of a puffing and perspiring coolie. The wheel is in the center of the load, which aids in balancing the barrow. If it is unusually heavy, another man or boy helps to pull by means of a rope or strap thrown across his shoulders. In a very few instances a mule is the assistant, but it requires a man to lead the mule.

Busy Pocket Gopher

That busy little animal, the pocket gopher, the Geomys bursarius to scientists, is very numerous in the Yosemite National park and they pile up many mounds of dirt as they push out the development of their underground runways.

Professor Grinnell says he estimates the million gophers in the park carry to the surface each year enough loose dirt to fill 160 freight cars, and, so long as the work is done in the open prairie and not in the farms, the little animals are performing an important service in the economy of nature in turning over and mixing up the soil.—Ohio State Journal.

THREE OF A KIND

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(©, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

FOR several years Marcia Glen, Cora Bassett and Jerry St. Claire had taught adjoining rooms in the Webster Grammar school and were popularly supposed to possess similar tastes along all lines.

Only in one respect did they differ, and that was on the subject of the most desirable spot in which to pass the annual summer vacation.

Had you eavesdropped from Mrs. Bates' living room one June evening as the three chatted on the porch you would have heard them expressing their opinions thereupon along with Mrs. Bates' other boarders, from the Trumbull twins to Lacy Haskell, the eccentric bachelor who was so well-to-do that he had two halves of cantaloupe every morning by special order.

Marcia delivered herself definitely. "My hay fever will not stand any place but Bretton Woods. You know that, girls. I do wish you both—"

"It's futile to urge me," interrupted Cora briskly. "The surf, the crowds, the boardwalk—oh, what you miss shutting yourself up in the mountains! Ocean Grove for mine!"

Jerry, the youngest of the trio, swung a trimly shod foot from the couch hammock. "L," she told them, "am trying a new place. Oh, another Adirondack lake, of course."

This matter disposed of, the three turned to other subjects. One thing leading to another, the imminent wedding of a mutual acquaintance was arrived at.

"No more European trips for her," sighed Cora. "Her future husband doesn't make the money she does now!"

"What she can see in him worth the loss of her freedom and good times, beats me!" declared the decisive Jerry. "When I find a man that's such a paragon I'd sacrifice my entire life to be with him, I'll—I'll marry him."

"You're safe for a while," laughed Marcia comfortingly. "I fancy we all are. Our married friends are not a stimulant to imitation. I wouldn't marry the best man living!"

"Nor I!" said Cora.

"Nor I!" said Jerry, explosively.

The morning following Marcia's arrival at her usual boarding place in the White mountains she spent in putting away her carefully assembled wardrobe. That afternoon she selected a crisp, cool organdie, flounced and sashed, descended to the veranda and ran into Lacy Haskell imperturbably regarding Presidential peak and looking very attractive in flannels.

He explained his presence vaguely, but straightway dated up Marcia for tennis that afternoon, and from that moment proceeded to make such inroads upon her time that she lay awake nights wondering. Particularly as he had let her know almost deliberately that he never intended to marry, was a confirmed woman-hater and an inveterate egotist!

Three days later he was giving the boardwalk procession at Ocean Grove a critical survey. By his side Miss Cora Bassett beamed and glowed. True, Lacy had just been telling her of his pet aversion to marriage and the female sex in general. Yet wasn't he full of plans for the next few days which included her? Who could tell what might fall out? Cora all but clung to his arm, laughed heartily at his jokes, sent him oblique, coquettish glances.

Somehow or other, when Lacy from the stern of a canoe looked at the slim, knicker-clad Jerry his patter about confirmed bachelorhood and distrust of her sex sounded rather lame. In the days that followed he found himself involved in a strange predicament. Jerry did not respond as the other two had to his attentions and the cooler she grew the more he wished she wouldn't.

He wanted Jerry for his wife and wanted her very much.

One afternoon—and he noticed it shortly after the arrival of the mail—Jerry was so very uppish to him that his hopes fell thuddingly and he decided to know the worst.

She had already promised to go canoeing and he held her to her word. Guiding the craft to a sheltered cove sweet with evergreens, he rested his pommel across the gunwales and gazed somberly into Jerry's blue-gray eyes. Listlessly he put the age old question, sadly sure of the answer.

Followed a silence—then bitter speech from the girl. "Are you playing with me as you did with Marcia, and, as I heard 'this morning, with Cora as well? They both write how only the most desperate measures warranted off a proposal."

Whatever were Lacy's inmost thoughts, he kept them to himself and rose like a hero to the occasion. There was but one road to take, that of confession, and he traveled it gallantly from beginning to end. Twilight was dimming the lake when Jerry saw fit to forgive him, and they were started on their homeward way when Lacy, lifted to the seventh heaven, grinned teasingly.

"Perhaps my experiments did fall with the other two"—he did not let Jerry share his mental reservations in the matter—"but how about—"

"The third?" asked Jerry coolly, "meaning me? Oh, I merely said I wouldn't marry the best man living!" And what could Lacy say?

LOOKING FOR SINGING BIRDS

Customers Are Zealously Searching Among the Canaries in the Salesrooms.

Canary-bird salesrooms at this season are filled with whispering women straining their ears to detect a singer, pausing now and then to glare at some other customer who is looking for the same bird. Confronted with the hundreds of small cages standing around the wall and with the air filled with a chaos of song, it's no small job to pick out the birds actually singing, says the New York Sun and Globe. The large sign: "No Birds Exchanged" makes the customer all the more tense.

Then, when she's found the singer and the color of the plumage suits, some one else is likely to "listen in" on the same bird. Harried between the doubt it has just the right voice and the fear the other person will buy the bird, she casts dark looks at the intruder. Then, too, there's the attendant who constantly moves among the cages and, detecting a good singer, takes it out of the $3.58 row and puts it in the $10 "selected" class.

Desperate after hours of listening and indecision, the customer points to a cage and takes the prisoner home, trusting to luck after all that he's a singer.

WRZOS IS POLISH FOR ROSES

But Capital Newspaper Man Thought It Was Flower Peculiar to Poland.

There is at least one newspaper man in Washington who will not forget again soon that a rose is just as sweet under any other name; but he will have to live down the circumstances attending his tardy recognition of that fact.

When General Haller, the Polish military hero, visited the White House he announced he was going to place a wreath at the base of the statue of Kosciuszko, the Polish patriot, whose statue stands at one of the corners of Lafayette square. Asked what kind of wreath, General Haller replied it would be a wreath of Wrzos. Whereupon the newspaper man, indulging in language somewhat too flowery, wrote that the Wrzos was peculiar to the soil of Poland as the heather is to that of Scotland.

When the wreath appeared it was of pink rosebuds, peculiar to the soil of hothouses around the national capital, wrzos is Polish for the rose.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Skyrocketing" the Price of Chairs.

Everyone knows how exorbitant the prices of genuine antique furniture frequently are. The purchasers are generally rich and don't often dispute the price, and the supply is rarely equal to the demand. In a recent court case, says London Opinion, a witness who was a furniture dealer testified as follows:

"In October, 1920, I went to Sudbury hall, Lord Vernon's place in Derbyshire, to bring to town ten Chipendale chairs and two settees that we had bought. In a few days we sold them to Messrs. Dighton."

"What did you pay for them?" asked the examining lawyer.

"About six hundred pounds."

"How long was it before you sold them to Messrs. Dighton?"

"About six weeks."

"For how much?"

"One thousand four hundred pounds."

"And then they were sold to Mr. Shrager for three thousand pounds. What do you suppose Lord Vernon would think of that—a profit of two thousand four hundred pounds the dealers made out of his chairs in a few weeks?"

What indeed!

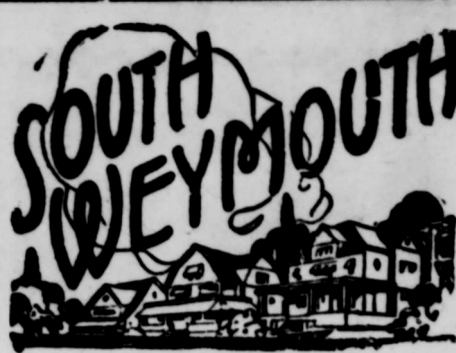

Strength of Eggs.

Wonderful provision has been made by nature for the protection of eggs against breakage by building them on the principle of the arch. The fact that no one can break a hen's egg by squeezing it between his hands so long as he applies the pressure in the direction of the long axis of the egg has led to certain experiments with a special apparatus. The eggs were placed point upward on a scale, and pressure was applied by means of a lever and jack. Brown eggs proved stronger than white ones. They broke under a pressure that averaged 155 pounds. White eggs broke under an average pressure of 112.5 pounds. The shells were found to be from .013 to .014 of an inch thick. Since the average diameter of the eggs used was 1 1/8 inches, some idea can be gained of the strength that the egg owes to its structural form.

Strange Companions.

A correspondent at Sydney, N. S. W., sends the following strange story: More than three years ago a tortoise crawled into the grounds of Marango Chase, Morpeth, New South Wales, the residence of Capt. D. J. Marshall. At the same time a bat appeared. The tortoise and the bat were friends, and their association caused much amusement. After wandering about the grounds for three months, the tortoise left, followed by the bat.

Neither the tortoise nor the bat was seen again for three years, but recently Captain Marshall was astonished by the reappearance in his grounds of the tortoise and the bat. During their absence they had made a new friend—a magpie, and the queer trio now live in amity.

MANY INCREASES
Why direct all the opposition to the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. for increase of fares, and allow the gasoline stations to increase prices from 17 cents to 20 cents per gallon in a few weeks. Why not protest against the increased prices for theatre tickets, for banquets, for apples and fruit, etc. It should be noted at this time that trains on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. are being run close to schedule time.
