Case study

Open discussion on other forms of discovery, e.g., where do you look for wiki-related events and campaigns?

Places where there are links to Wikimedia's research related to women

1. Wiki-Meta (Celebrate Women) https://meta.wikimedia.org/wiki/Celebrate_Women

2. Wiki-Meta (Gender gap/Research)
https://meta.wikimedia.org/wiki/Gender_gap/Research

3. Wiki-Meta (Research:Index) https://meta.wikimedia.org/wiki/Research:Index

Workshop

Centralizing research: creating a research index page

Instructions #1

- Manav, Nazia, Netha, Rosie move to separate tables
- Everyone else, count off: 1, 2, 3, 4
- Everyone shifts tables:

  1. Manav's table
  2. Nazia's table
  3. Netha's table
  4. Rosie's table

Instructions #2 (brainstorming at each table)
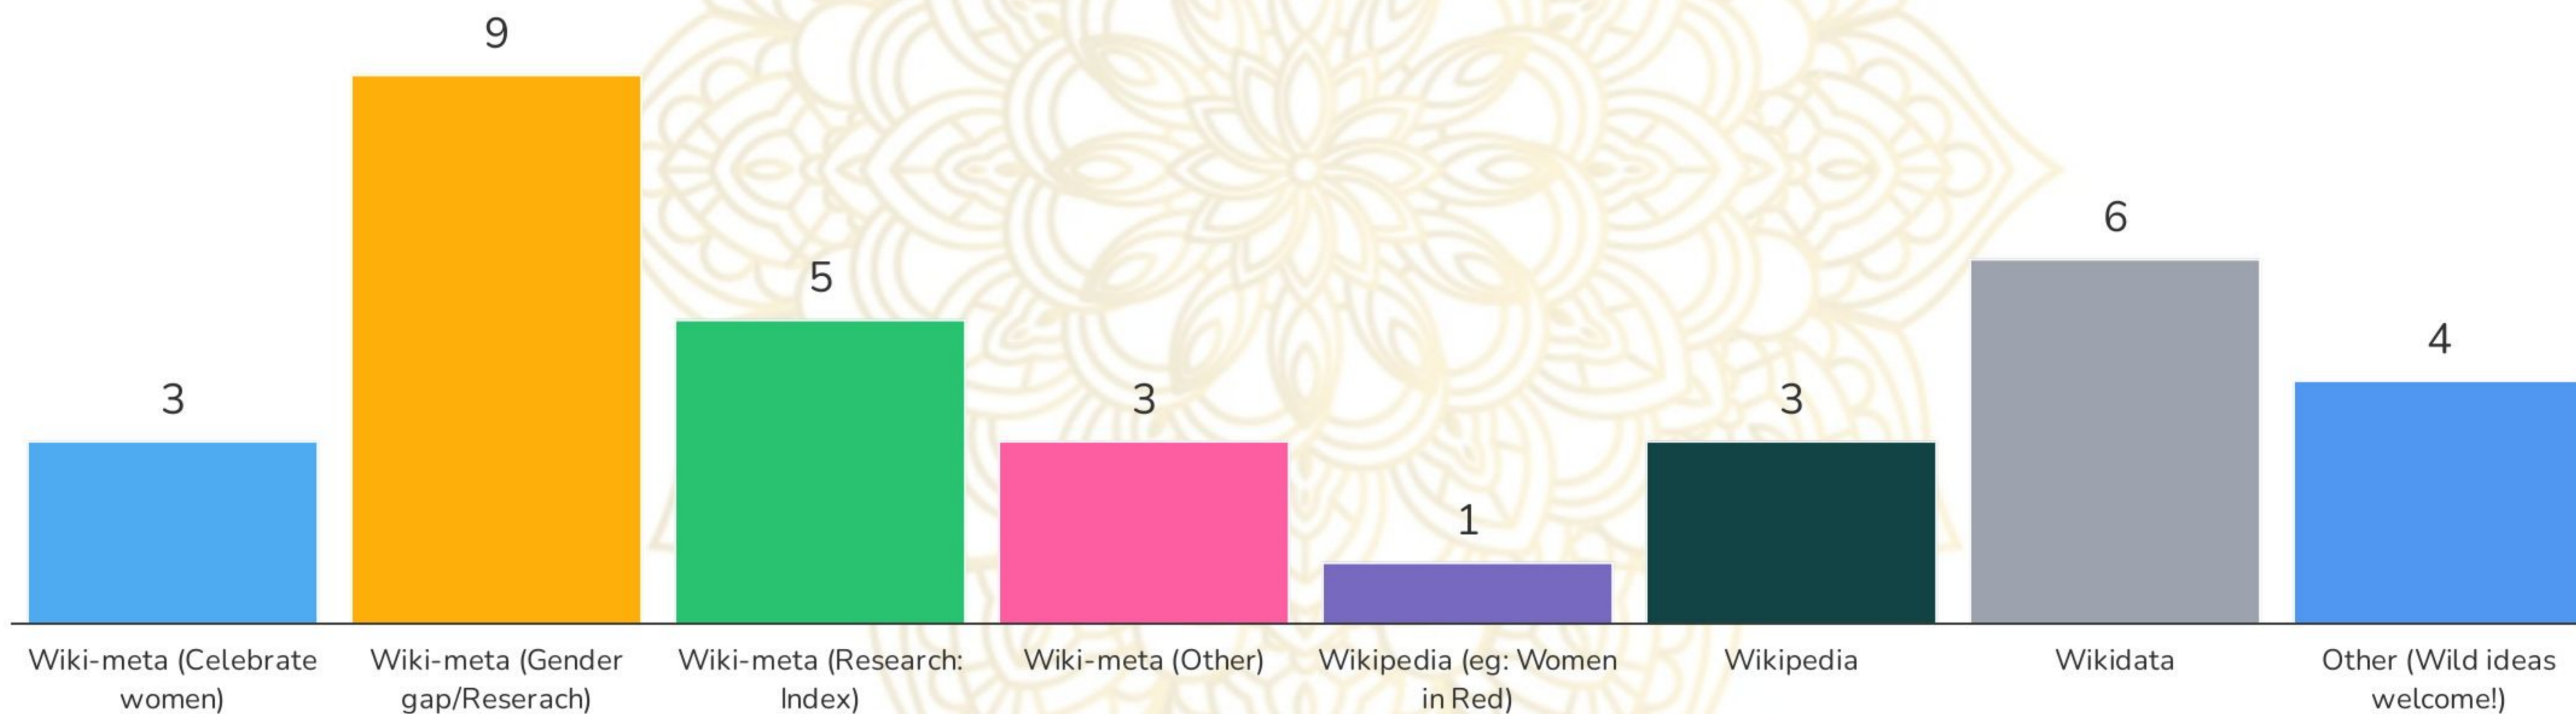

1. Discuss the pros and cons of various approaches to forming a centralized place for links to gender-based wiki research.
2. Use pens and stickies to jot down ideas and place the stickies on the white sheets of paper.

- Wiki-Meta
  - Celebrate Women page
  - Gender gap/Research page
  - Research:Index page
  - other

- Wikipedia
- Wikidata
- Other (wild ideas are okay)

Which approach to forming a centralized place for links to gender-based research seems like the best way forward?
