

30 DETAINEE CAMP RULES AND STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

30-4. DETAINEE CAMP RULES.

a. You are required to comply with the requests and orders of the guard force.

b. You must submit your person and property to search upon request of any guard.

c. You will not mistreat another detainee, a visitor, a guard, or a staff member. Mistreatment includes name-calling, taunting, using provoking or threatening words, exposing your genitals, fighting, throwing objects, spitting, or otherwise assaulting any person.

d. You may not possess anything that was not provided to you or authorized for you by a member of the camp staff. This includes the possession, alteration or modification of any object that you could use as a weapon, key, or which is being used for some purpose other than as intended.

e. You may not damage, destroy or tamper with any object, property, or security device. For example, you may not break cameras, toilets, cell glass, drinking faucets, overhead lights, sprinkler systems, or clog/obstruct ventilation ducts and plumbing drainage pipes. You may not climb on any fence, wall or camp structure.

f. You must be respectful of the peace and quiet of the camp. You may not plan, participate, or agree to participate, nor incite others to participate in any disturbance of the camp. There is no yelling allowed. You are not authorized to communicate with persons not assigned to your same wing, POD, block, or building. Detainees will NOT be disciplined for touching the fence unless he is attempting to climb or dismantle the fence.

g. You may not intentionally create unsanitary conditions in the camp such as throwing, handling, smearing, or storing bodily fluids such as: feces, urine, semen, blood, saliva, vomit, or mucus, etc.

h. You must return any meal leftovers, (for example: food litter or trash, and your eating utensils) to your guards immediately after finishing your meal, or upon request of the guards. Food will not be flushed down the toilet.

i. You will get to exercise in the exercise yard per your camp's schedule or your discipline level. You can run, conduct calisthenics, and play soccer during your exercise period. You may not conduct any type of hand-to-hand combat or martial arts style training. You may lose your exercise time if you fail to follow the camp rules while in the exercise yard.

j. You will report any threats to your safety and any medical emergencies to a guard or staff member.

k. You may hang your wet wash-cloth, towel, and shorts to dry in approved areas. Take them down when they are dry or upon order of the guard. The approved location for Camp 1/2/3 to hang approved items is the cell window only.

l. You can use your ISO mat and sheet as a screen for privacy while you are using the toilet, and take it down once you have completed using the toilet, or when ordered to do so by the guard. At no time will your entire body be covered with the ISO mat or sheet. The Guard force must be able to see your head and movement.

m. When instructed to do so, you will stand behind the black line any time the bean hole is opened by the guard force. You will approach the bean hole when instructed to do so. If no black line is present, the guards will instruct the detainee to stand at the rear of the cell.

n. You will not talk during any shackling procedures.

o. You will not stand on any piece of furniture inside any cell (toilet, sink, rack, shelving, etc).

p. Your honesty, respect, and compliance with these rules will improve the quality of your life. Failure to comply will result in the loss of privileges and property as appropriate.
