Mr. GLATZ, chairman of the committee to investigate the alleged improper conduct of Hon. JOSEPH W. FISHER, submitted the following report:

The undersigned, a committee appointed under a resolution of the Senate, passed March 18, 1867, charged with the duty of investigating certain slanders and alleged improper conduct, in relation to Hon. JOSEPH W. FISHER, Senator from Lancaster county, report the following as the result of their investigations in the premises:

The committee met, and after being organized, invited and directed all persons whom the committee could learn had any knowledge of the matter under investigation to appear before them. After hearing the evidence, the committee unanimously came to the following conclusion:

That the articles published in the Patriot and Union, of Harrisburg, and in the Lancaster Examiner, Express and Intelligencer, so far as they intimate or refer to improper conduct, or insobriety on the part of Hon. JOSEPH W. FISHER, are totally without foundation in fact and wholly devoid of truth.

D. 1866, to the township of Derry, in the county of Westmoreland, and the borough of Blairsville, and the township of Burrell, and the township of East Mahoning, in the county of Indiana.

Mr. SEARIGHT. I move to strike out Derry township.

Mr. WHITE. I hope the Senator from Fayette will not press that amendment. I only wish to observe that Westmoreland county is in my district; from representations of the gentleman from Westmoreland county in the other House I am satisfied that this law is desired by a large majority of the inhabitants of that county, irrespective of party. I am opposed on general principles to a special law, and I only consented to it because it was the wish of a large majority of the people there, and because they have piled my table with petitions praying for the passage of this act.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I presented a remonstrance to the Senate only a few days ago against the passage of this bill for Derry township. I took that remonstrance over to the seat of the gentleman from Indiana and told him the signers were citizens of Derry township. In addition to that remonstrance I have received several letters from citizens of that township, protesting against the passage of this bill so far as relates to their locality, and it is in pursuance of their wishes that I offered this amendment.

Mr. WHITE. I trust this amendment will be voted down. The responsibility of this whole matter will rest upon the member from Westmoreland, in the other House, and he is perfectly satisfied to incur it. He knows the will of that people, for he lives in their very midst, and I hope in view of the circumstances these amendments will be voted down.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). I perceive Mr. Speaker, that the object of the gentleman from Fayette is merely to keep himself right on the record. He, however, does not live in the town, and I take it, the Senate owes it to the member of the other House to pass this bill without further amendment.

On the motion to amend,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEARIGHT and Mr. WHITE, and were as follows, viz:

Yeas—Messrs. Barnett, Davis, Glatz, James, M' Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Schall, Seearight, Wallace and Walls—14.

Nays—Messrs. Biglow, Billingsfelt, Brewster (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connelley, Cowles, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, M'Conaughey, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, White and Worthington—19.

So the question was determined in the negative.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON BILL INCORPORATING BOROUGH OF COLUMBIA.

House bill entitled A supplement to an act incorporating borough of Columbia being referred to the House, the House refusing to agree to Senate amendments.

Mr. FISHER. I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments, and that a committee of conference be appointed.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I hope that my colleague will concede so much to the interest of the people of Lancaster county as to withdraw his motion and enable me to move that the Senate recede from its amendments. Should I fail in getting a majority then, sir, it will be time enough to urge the appointment of a committee of conference. I appeal to him to allow both sides of this question an opportunity to test their respective strength in the Senate.

Mr. FISHER. I would divide even half of my kingdom with my colleague if I thought it was right; but I think justice and every high consideration requires me to persist in my motion.

The CHAIR. I will simply state to gentlemen that the rule of the Senate is, where a majority of the Senate have voted in favor of a proposition, and a committee of conference is appointed in reference to it, it may be in accordance with the expressed opinion of the Senate.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to know whether we could not dispense with that rule, if my colleague and myself would agree?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman could obtain the consent of the Senate.

Mr. FISHER. There is no favor which my colleague could ask but for which I would stay up until midnight to accomplish; but this is a matter in which I am not alone interested. I ask for simple justice to my constituents, and I cannot compromise their rights and their interests. I would say, however, that this question will involve an almost interminable discussion if we should penetrate into the merits of it. Let me say, however, that the city of Lancaster has already opened all the streets they are likely to require for thirty years, and they were paid for them out of the treasury of the county. Furthermore, my colleague said yesterday, and I am confident he would not make an intentional misstatement, that the signatures of the commissioners to a document I caused to be read were obtained by holding them under duress. That is a mistake, sir. I did say to the commissioners that unless they agreed to one-half of the expenses, that I would do what I could to defeat the bill; but, sir, it stands to reason that only a majority of thirty-three can effectually accomplish that object. I said I would use all the powers I had to further the end if they declined my proposition; consequently, so far as compromises are concerned, I have already submitted to all that I possibly can. Our citizens generally demanded two-thirds of the expenses to be paid out of the county treasury, yet it was apparent to this entire Senate that I have come down from two-thirds to two-fifths; that is as far as I can go.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, the personal friendship between my colleague and myself is too warm for me to charge upon him anything out of disrespect, but from the very parties who attached their names to that document I ascertained that they were obliged to sign it from a fear, which my colleague caused, of losing the whole bill.

Mr. FISHER. I would state that the arrangement referred to was made after my colleague left the court house and was submitted to cheerfully.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I only repeat what I have said, that my opinion is derived from the parties themselves. The commissioners have come up here and stood behind me while I explained the circumstances of their signing that paper, and they afterwards admitted that I had stated the facts thoroughly and correctly. As to the city of Lancaster, it has not in itself anything to do with this bill. I do not care how they pay their damages; but this is a proposition which comprehends the people of the entire county, and in their behalf I protest against this wholesale burden being laid upon them.

The motion to insist upon the amendments of the Senate, and to appoint a committee of conference, was

Agreed to.

The Senate then adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate reassembled at 3 o'clock, P. M.

PRIVATE CALENDAR RESUMED.

The Senate resumed the second reading and consideration of bills on the private calendar of House bills, and disposed of them as stated:

DIVORCE OF WM. GRAY.

Pursuant to order, the House proceeded to consider House bill No. 813, an act to annul the marriage contract between William C. Gray and Lucinda Campbell Gray, late Lucinda Campbell.

Mr. BIGHAM. This is an act to annul the marriage contract between Wm. C. Gray and Lucinda Campbell Gray, late Lucinda Campbell. This really pertains to Beaver county, but the gentleman making this petition is so intimate with our people and the river men that I have taken charge of the papers in the case.

The facts are briefly these: Some ten years ago William C. Gray, engaged on one of our steamboats, married Miss Campbell, of Beaver county. She had been subject to epileptic fits and was really insane at times. It is alleged, and is so stated in the bill, that this was concealed. Mr. Gray's business being on the water, he was most of the time absent. They kept house for a few years, when her condition became such as rendered it impossible that they should continue as man and wife. With the approbation of friends all around, she was then put into the insane asylum at Dixmont. She remained there for a time, and her condition was to some extent improved. She was then transferred to her parents. That I believe was four years ago. Her mother, who has absolute control over her, persistently refuses to permit her to leave home. I presume she is right, in view of all circumstances, particularly of the fact that the husband, being engaged on the river, is much very away. But, as I said, they persistently refuse to permit Mr. Gray to have any further control over her.

I have been written to by several persons, among whom is Captain Gray, a cousin of this gentleman, and by one of the proprietors of the Monongahela House. This husband is himself on the verge of becoming insane. It was said that when the bill was lost in the House of Representatives the other day, it created so much alarm among his friends that two of them came down here in reference to it. One of them was Mr. Kirkpatrick, a member of our bar. I understand that there is hardly a doubt but that Mr. Gray will ultimately become insane, and probably an inmate of Dixmont. He has conveyed the whole of his property in trust for his wife, to her relatives. There were no children.

Briefly, it is the wish of the families all around that this divorce should pass. Mr. Gray is not a man of sufficient wealth to keep an establishment to take care of her. In this connection, I have also depositions from half dozen females acquainted with this lady during her childhood and womanhood, prior to her marriage. And it appears, although unknown to Mr. Gray, that she was undoubtedly insane before Mr. Gray made her his wife, though favored with lucid intervals.

The whole case is an exceedingly painful one, and the courts undoubtedly have no jurisdiction in the matter. This is in brief the state of facts, and the Senator from Beaver, in whose district it properly arises, can state the same facts. I have the papers here which are free to any gentleman desiring to read them.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is generally understood and admitted by all who are or have been acquainted with this lady that she was insane prior to marriage. The facts related by my colleague are accurately true. He has made provision for her during her life time. He is himself bordering on insanity, yet on account of these troubles he has desired to obtain possession of his wife to maintain and support her himself; but her family have persistently refused him, and at the present time they decline to let him take charge of his wife.

He therefore asks to be relieved, after having given for her support all he has in the world. I think this is a case in which the Legislature ought to interfere, because the courts have not jurisdiction.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

SUNDAY LIQUOR LAW.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 1061, entitled A supplement to an act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, approved the 26th day of February, 1865, relating to the counties of Berks, Letcher and Lehigh.

The bill was read.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, this bill looks as though it would make an important change in the Sunday law in regard to selling liquors. Now I live within stone throw of the county of Berks, and if there is any special privilege to be granted to hotel keepers in that county, I ask why should not the same be extended to Lancaster and other counties?

I will object to this bill unless the Senator from Berks explains the actual intention of it.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not intended to afford any special relief whatever to tavern keepers in Berks county, or any other county. I will state that the president judge of our court (Judge Woodward) is anxious that this change should be made so far as our county is concerned. This will enable us the better to enforce the law. It is well known to every gentleman that anything proposed by Judge Woodward could not be intentionally wrong. The change contemplated by this act is simply to allow a discretion to the courts in the infliction of punishment by fine or imprisonment. Some of the very best men, both as to reputation and morality, in the city of Reading and in our county at large, are very desirous of seeing this act pass. I will say for the information of the Senate that this bill has received the sanction of the Committee on Vice and Immorality in the House and that of this body.

Mr. McCONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will not pass. There are manifest reasons for it. We have a law on the subject which prevails throughout the entire Commonwealth. Why should Berks county be exempted from the provisions of that law? Are they more intelligent or moral or superior in any respect to the rest of the population of the State? Why should discrimination be made? The general law on this subject is this—I read from the act of the 26th of February, 1855, third section: "Every person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof in any court of the Commonwealth, be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than ten nor more than sixty days."

This act provides that punishment by fine or imprisonment shall in every case be inflicted. Now, it is attempted to escape the penalty of imprisonment.

If this change is to be made, I ask that it be extended to the whole Commonwealth. I inquire again, why should it be granted to Berks county? The Senator from that county proposed early in the session to legislate specially for his county in reference to public housekeeping. I will qualify that and state that it was very peculiar in its character. Since then it has slumbered.

Only last year a similar effort was made to get rid of this penalty of imprisonment in Schuylkill county. Mr. Speaker I regard this sanction of imprisonments as the strongest bulwark, the strongest munition of the law against offenses in violation of this provision.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker I did not know until I saw this bill on the calendar that Lebanon county was added. I will remark, however, that some of the very best citizens of Berks county, irrespective of party, favor this bill. In connection with this matter, I will relate an instance in our county which shows that, as the law now stands, it is to a very great extent inoperative. It is like one of those peculiar laws enacted for the total prohibition of selling spirituous liquors. It cannot be carried out. A man was convicted in our county of this offense during the term of Governor Packer, and I believe he was convicted, though at the same time innocent. Yet the judge was obliged to sentence him to imprisonment. The sheriff would not carry the sentence out, consequently he was only nominally in jail, though really out of jail. He was released on his parole, as the soldier would say, so that he was only nominally in the custody of the sheriff.

I would much rather see a heavier fine imposed, for I want to see these taverns shut up. At the same time I want the judges to have some discretion in the matter. I was entirely unaware of Lebanon county being included until I saw it.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I would simply ask the gentleman from Lebanon, in what county it was that the sheriff failed to carry out this provision of the law?

Mr. COLEMAN. It was Lebanon county, sir.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I congratulate the gentleman on representing that county.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the Senator from Adams that I do not claim this legislation because our people are any better or more intelligent than others; but there is a prejudice in the minds of the people of adjoining counties, at least I know there is in ours, against punishing an offense of this kind with imprisonment; for that reason it is exceedingly difficult to secure an indictment by the grand jury. On the contrary, there have been instances of grand juries ignoring bills simply because the punishment was disproportioned to the offense sought to be punished; and I will endorse everything said by the gentleman from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN]. Among many of our best citizens, Judge Woodward recommends this bill. And I appeal to the gentleman from Adams whether he would lend his sanction to anything which he did not think right and proper? In many counties the original law can be enforced; not so in ours. Prejudices exist there, and we cannot eradicate them in an instant. Our people consider the punishment out of all proportion to the offense. I will relate one instance in point. An individual was refused to pay his bounty tax. A couple of steers belonging to him were levied upon and placed in charge of a neighboring tavern keeper until they should be sold. In a short time the owner ascertained that the wife of this hotel keeper, during his absence, was induced by a couple of friends to give them a glass of whisky. He prosecuted him under this law, and the man was set almost crazy at the idea of going to jail. He finally had to buy this fellow off by paying him one hundred dollars. Such cases as this bring the law into condemnation, so that these justly sub- ject to its provisions escape all punishment whatsoever. We are not opposed to the law. We are just as desirous of having restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors as anybody else can be; but we ask for this law in order to insure greater good among our people. I hope the objection will be withdrawn, and that the bill will pass. What I have said was in all sincerity, and the Senator from Adams may rest assured that there is nothing else in the bill.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I sympathize most deeply with the Senator from Berks [Mr. DAVIS]. I think that he is in an unfortunate category; but, sir, it is only attributable to the ignorance prevailing among his constituents. The difficulty is not with the law; it is with popular ignorance and prejudice against the law. In a large portion of the Commonwealth, in the more enlightened portions, no difficulty whatever exists; but when the customs of the locality are in an adverse direction, it is not strange that difficulties should arise in enforcing the law. Can that, however, be urged as an argument against the law? Most surely not. It is an argument for the improvement of the morals and intelligence of such a locality, or for the exercise of missionary duties, but it cannot be urged as a reason for graduating the law down to ignorance and its concomitant vices. This, sir, is a penalty for the sale of spirituous liquors on Sunday. The punishment is at once just and moderate, and I hope that law will not be broken in upon by its repeal in the county of Berks.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill, I understand, has been examined by the Committee on Vice and Immorality. I shall, at the proper time, nevertheless, ask that my county be stricken out; but I will not make that a reason for interfering with the request of the people of Berks.

The bill being objected to, was laid over under the rules.

CONSIDERATION OF OBJECTED BILLS.

The private calendar having been gone through with, the Senate, on motion, proceeded to the consideration of bills objected off the said calendar, numbered and entitled as follows, and disposed of them as stated:

PROTECTION OF SHEEP.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to consider

No. 780, an act to extend the provisions of an act for the protection of sheep in certain counties, approved the 8th day of April, A. D. 1862, to the counties of Armstrong and Westmoreland.

Mr. SEARIGHT moved to amend the bill by striking out the county of "Westmoreland."

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, this is an act substantially for the protection of sheep. It is perfectly acceptable to the people whom it is intended to affect. The Senator from Fayette [Mr. SEARIGHT] must know that fact better than I do. The member from Westmoreland county, in the other House, and also from Indiana, requested me to urge the passage of this bill without any amendment whatever. They are perfectly willing to incur all the responsibility attached to the passage of the bill. I trust, therefore, that this amendment will not be urged, but if it should, I hope the Senate will vote it down.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. SPEAKER, this bill was laid over when it was first reached on the calendar, at the instance of the Senator from Indiana.

Mr. WHITE. And why, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I will state the reason why. I understood that he did so for the purpose of examining the provisions of this bill, and if he found it satisfactory to include his own county of Indiana. After examining it, however, he found it was not adapted to his county, and now he declines adding, yet he insists on having Westmoreland embraced.

Now, I submit to the Senate whether the gentleman has assumed a very enviable attitude in view of his action in this respect.

I am perfectly willing to do what is fair,

I am content to compromise with the Senator from Indiana. He took Derry township from me to-day, and now he wants to take the balance of the townships. I would ask the gentleman, in all seriousness, what portion of the county does he desire to act for? Let us have an understanding about this matter. Let him choose which portion he may—I am satisfied with the other?

The gentleman puts the proposition in this shape: That it is an act for the protection of sheep in Westmoreland county. Probably it might bear that construction, and it may be fair enough, but I give it this interpretation, that it is an act for the taxing of dogs, and I believe the people in that county are opposed to such a measure.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. SPEAKER, the gentleman from Fayette [Mr. SEARIGHT] has found considerable fault with me in interfering with his county, yet I submit I have been very moderate. The ground is, in a measure, neutral. We have possession of it alternately. It is connected with the county that I represent here legislatively, and the member in the other branch of the Legislature, who is elected from that very locality, and represents the sentiments of that particular district, has expressed his willingness, as stated, to assume all responsibility. I feel that these Representatives have some interest in this matter, and therefore I must oppose this amendment. The member from Westmoreland, in cases of disagreement with the Senator, naturally comes to myself to conduct the legislation for that locality. I must say that they disagree very often politically. I had hoped they would not disagree in this case, but as they do I am obliged to act for them. Colonel Gallagher has just left my side, and he said he would take the responsibility. I will also ask the Senator from Fayette does not live in the county of Indiana.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, there is no strife between the Senator and myself. I merely ask him to take one direction in this matter. Either let him go to the right or to the left, and I will take the other. I insist that no boundaries be defined; that is biblical doctrine, scriptural and christian. Mr. Speaker, I never knew that there was such a bill pending here until to-day, but the question is an old one, and I know the subject of taxing dogs is very unpopular in my county. There was a bill passed touching this matter, and it survived but one year, and was then repealed. My people are opposed to the dog tax; I am opposed to the dog tax, and I hope the majority of this Senate will oppose this attempt to lay a tax of that kind in my district. I will resist it, but if overpowered, I want it distinctly understood that I will not resist it. I am perfectly satisfied that that section, making it lawful for any person to kill a dog which has been found straying into an enclosure occupied by sheep, should apply to Westmoreland county, but to the rest I repeat I am opposed.

On the motion to amend,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEARIGHT and Mr. WHITE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Glaz, James, Landon, Lowry, McCandless, Randall, Schall, Searith, Wallace and Walls—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingslet, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Conroy, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, McCoskey, Ridgway, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, White and Worthington—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question then recurred on the passage of the bill.

Mr. SEARIGHT. It is here proposed to require assessors to assess and appraise all the dogs. That is adding a new duty to the assessors. I want the Senate to understand the full enormity of this bill, so that they can vote understandingly.

On the final passage of the bill, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. SEARIGHT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfeld, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, White and Worthington—22.

NAYS—Messrs. Glatz, Lowry, M' Candless, Randall, Schall, Searight, Wallace and Walls—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

RELINQUISHING NEW YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD ANNUITY.

Agreeably to order, The Senate proceeded to consider House bill No. 725, an act to relinquish a part of a certain annuity for the benefit of school purposes, in the borough of Susquehanna Depot, in Susquehanna county, with power to sell and dispose of school houses, et cetera, and build new ones.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to discuss this bill, but merely to state a few important facts, and I shall be willing to rest the case upon the merits of the facts. In all candor I think this bill ought to pass, and after I am done I cannot imagine that this Senate would fail to concur in that judgment. This bill has received the sanction of the Committee on Education, as it is known the New York and Erie railroad runs into Susquehanna county; it is also known that that company pays into the State treasury an annuity of ten thousand dollars per annum. In consideration of this the property owned by the company is exempt from taxation for all local purposes. I ask that to be kept in mind.

Susquehanna Depot, so called, is a village in the midst of the mountains. It was nothing but a wilderness when the railroad first came through. That road has called into existence this little village, whose inhabitants are employed upon it, and in the machine shops belonging to it. A company has located extensive establishments there, valued probably at a million of dollars. This little village comprises about three thousand inhabitants, two hundred of whom are children.

Now, I ask this Senate to look at this anomalous state of facts. The people there are poor; the railroad owns the property. There is no agricultural wealth abounding there; nothing but the artificial establishments of this company. Where, then, is the resource of this people? They have no means of their own; they cannot tax the property of the company, though it amounts to a million of dollars. Yet it is enjoined, both by the principles and institutions of our country to give its children the benefit of education. They have felt this, and about two years ago attempted to act upon it; but when they levied upon the property of this company, subsequent to their taxing, the Supreme Court annulled their efforts. They are thus deprived of schools and school houses, and they come here to-day asking you to do one of two things: either let them tax the property of the company there, so they may have the ordinary resources for taxation, or give them three thousand dollars for one year out of the ten thousand dollars annuity. They do not ask you to make it perpetual. In this very neighborhood we have the machine works of the Pennsylvania railroad company taxed for the benefit of schools. Give the people of Susquehanna county this right, and they will ask you for no aid of this kind.

Now, I have given a brief view of the facts, and I submit to the sense of justice in every man's breast whether it is not perfectly right? One fact more. Last year a bill appeared appropriating ten thousand dollars for the clearing out of one of our rivers obstructed by railroad crossing. My analogy is this, the New York road has collected three thousand people in that wild country, and the channels of education have been obstructed by the previous legislation of this State; will you help us in this exigency? I think, sir, the channel of mind is more dear to the interests of a people than the highway of commerce. I could make a speech on this subject, but I cannot give it more force than the simple narration of these facts.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] will incorporate a new section in this bill. I am satisfied that the real estate of that corporation is not protected and ought not to be. To remove all doubt, I urge him to add a clause which will remove it. That road should be in no better position than other roads.

Mr. CONNELL. I have seen the decision of the Supreme Court in this very case, and they have decided, that in consequence of this railroad company paying an annuity of ten thousand dollars, they are exempt from all local taxation.

Mr. BIGHAM. I undertake to say that is not warranted by the act of 1846. I examined it this very day, and that if the Supreme Court have assumed to decide that it is, I say that it is not warranted by the act of 1846. It would be an outrage on a population of that kind. So far as the future is concerned, I should like to have a bill prepared and sent to our committee so that we can investigate it.

Mr. LOWRY. My greatest objection to this bill is on account of the precedent it sets. The passage of this bill would open up a variety of ways to deplete the treasury; hence, therefore, a fatal blow will be given to this effort, and that the door will not be opened, long since closed to impositions of this kind. I should vote for it with very great hesitancy, but I am in favor of this company paying its proper proportion of school taxes.

If that is not the law in Pennsylvania now, we should make it so.

It is impossible for us to go out of our State, wheresoever we may, without having it thrown in our face, that we tax that road ten thousand dollars a year to let it pass over our territory. You can explain it as much as you please, that it is exempt from local taxation, but it is all in vain. I am anxious that this company should be subject to the same burden as other companies, and I am certain the State treasury will profit by it.

The CHAIR. Undoubtedly, if the company has a million dollars worth of property there.

Mr. FISHER. I think all property should be taxed and that foreign corporations should enjoy no exemption; but I would ask whether the legislation referred to was not part of a contract entered into between the Legislature of Pennsylvania and the New York and Erie railroad company—that in consideration of their paying this annuity of ten thousand dollars, they should be exempt from local taxation.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will pass. It is eminently just that we should make some amend for our misdeeds. If necessary let us repeal the prior law or let us adopt some measures to remedy the wrong those people suffer. For Heaven's sake grant this poor pittance of three thousand dollars for a grievance of twenty years' duration.

Mr. RIDGWAY. Mr. Speaker, I have no more interest in opposing this bill than any other Senator. It is the precedent that I fear. There has been a much larger appropriation this year than ordinarily, and these people will of course receive their proportion of the increase.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Lebanon, and I hope they will be weighed by this House.

Mr. BIGHAM. As for myself, I was perfectly willing this bill should pass to close up the past, and that we look anew to the future. I am certain there is a mistake about this matter. The point raised by the Supreme Court was in reference to the tax on the tonnage over this road, under the act of 1864.

Mr. CONNELL. It was long prior to that, sir.

Mr. BIGHAM. I am confident, however that may be, that they could never hold that a tax for school purposes was illegal.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. RIDGWAY] whether there is any other case in the Commonwealth similar to this one?

Mr. RIDGWAY. In answer to the gentleman, I cannot say that there is. But the principle is everything. A case will arise to-morrow, and another the next day, equally meritorious, if this bill passes.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). Mr. Speaker, I hope sincerely that a bill so important to the educational interests of a portion of our people will meet no effectual opposition. The only way in which the children, one and all, can be taught, is in this instance to appropriate a portion of the money received as the equivalent of their restriction in imposing taxes. This company is relieved of all liability to pay local taxes; the State has allotted them that privilege for this annuity, and, therefore, equity and justice alike demand that a portion of it be devoted to these people.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I will have no other opportunity, perhaps, of saying a word in justification of Pennsylvania. I am probably the only man in either branch of this Legislature who was a member in 1846—the same Legislature that imposed upon the Pennsylvania railroad company a tax of five mills per ton per mile. You see then that this New York road was not an exceptional case. It only became so by lapse of time. This ten thousand dollars was laid upon the New York and Erie road in lieu of a tonnage tax.

The SPEAKER. Could not the gentleman from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM] offer a resolution to be referred to the committee instituting an investigation of this matter?

Mr. BIGHAM. I will do so at a convenient time.

The bill was then read a third time and Passed finally.

JURISDICTION OF THE COURTS IN GRANTING CHARTERS OF INCORPORATION.

Mr. HALL, Speaker. The Chair would here state that he has received a communication from the Governor in reference to a late act passed by both Houses, conferring jurisdiction on the courts of common pleas in granting charters of incorporation.

The Chair therefore announces his intention of declaring out on all bills within the scope of this jurisdiction.

Mr. BIGHAM. I would ask the Speaker whether the Legislature is legally presumed to know the contents of that bill before it is printed?

The CHAIR. Undoubtedly. By direction of the Chair, the Clerk then read the communication from the Governor, as follows:

"Under act approved March 26th, 1867, entitled An act to enlarge the jurisdiction of the courts of common pleas of the Commonwealth, relative to granting charters of incorporation, and confirming those heretofore granted, courts have power to grant charters—

First—In all cases where the Supreme Court has authority.

Second—Companies for insuring horses, cattle, and other live stock, against loss by death from disease or accident, or from being stolen.

Third—Water companies.

Fourth—Hoop and ladder companies.

Fifth—Building associations.

Sixth—Musical clubs or associations.

Seventh—Teachers' institutes or associations.

Eighth—Hotel companies.

Ninth—Skating park associations.

Tenth—Clubs for advancement of athletic sports, including base ball, barge and fishing clubs.

Eleventh—Fire insurance companies."

Mr. M'CONAUGHY moved that five hundred copies of a bill entitled An act to enlarge the jurisdiction of the courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth, relative to granting charters of incorporation and confirming those heretofore granted, be printed for the use of the Senate.

The motion was

Agreed to.

CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LANCASTER.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to consider House Bill No. 669, an act to amend the charter of the municipal corporation of the city of Lancaster, and divide the same into nine wards. It was read.

Mr. BILLINGFELT moved to amend the second section by striking out all after the word "to," in the fourth line, to the word "the," in the eighth line, and insert the following:

"The intersection of said Queen and Chestnut streets; thence, in a line west, through the middle of Chestnut street, to the city boundary; thence along said boundary south, to the Columbia pike; thence through the middle of said pike and West King street, easterly."

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, in the early part of this session there was a bill sent here which was enacted into a law dividing the Northwest ward of the city of Lancaster into three parts or precincts, as they were then called. In the meantime, I requested my colleague to postpone his bill for some time, so that the citizens of Lancaster might prepare a general bill for the division of the city into nine wards. That bill was delayed on account of the absence of a person in whose charge it was given. As I said, the other bill passed and became a law. Subsequently the citizens went to work and drew up a bill, which is now in the hands of the Clerk, and placed it in the possession of our members. By the management of a certain gentleman from the city of Lancaster, there were certain amendments attached to the original bill, which were brought here, and to which the people of the city object, as will be shown by petitions here, representing from eleven hundred to twelve hundred citizens. In compliance with their request, I offer this amendment to restore the bill to its original character, as drawn by our citizens. I am not a resident of the city, nor is my colleague; I therefore have no personal interest in this bill; I merely wish to express the wish of the people, and by far the majority of the citizens of that city.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I promised to be brief. My colleague states the facts of the case in the main correctly; he does not give the whole facts, however. There was a petition, very respectable in point of numbers, but by no means amounting to the high figure mentioned by the gentleman. Probably six or seven hundred will embrace all the signers to that petition from the entire city. But, sir, there was a petition presented here asking for the division of the Northwest ward, the one in dispute, signed by nearly six hundred residents of that very vicinity, praying to be divided as has been done in the House. I have other petitions here, amounting in the aggregate to about three hundred names.

The SPEAKER. Have not the courts power to dispose of this matter?

Mr. FISHER. No, sir, it does not come under the law. It has been examined thoroughly by gentlemen who have paid attention, and they have come to the conclusion that the courts have not power.

My colleague, and anybody else who desires, can see on the petitions he referred to, several names given through misrepresentation of the facts, as I can prove.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Will the gentleman state how many?

Mr. FISHER. There are affidavits of several. It has been stated that the celebrated George Brubaker wanted to divide this ward for his political advantage. Mr. Speaker, I care not whether it redounds to his benefit or to that of any other man; I desire an equitable division of the ward. I have the map of the city, which I hold in my hand. In the first division of the Northwest ward there are five hundred and some odd voters; and yet there were but eleven hundred votes polled at the last election in the entire ward, so that it is clear that division embraces one-half of the whole population of the ward as it now exists. Hence the division is grossly unequal. In addition to that, I have a plan drawn by Mr. Hartman, one of the editors of the Examiner, which shows the territory proposed to be embraced in the district, both as it stood in the original bill and as it came amended from the other House. If any Senator has curiosity enough, he can examine it. It is certainly much more equitable than the plan I have here on the map of the entire city. The principal objection to that division is on account of the large number of voting population embraced in that one division. I stated that there were certain persons who signed a petition under misrepresentation. To confirm this, I will take the liberty to read the affidavit of two of them—very respectable gentlemen, living in that ward.

LANCASTER, March 25, 1867.

Personally appeared before me, a notary public, duly commissioned, the within named, Isaac Dunn and John Kahle, two of the most respectable and reliable men in the Northwest ward, to me known, who, upon their solemn oath and affirmation, depose and say as follows: That a petition was presented to them, for their signatures against the passage of the city ward bill, as it passed the House of Representatives, and requesting the bill to be altered back to its original form as it came from the committee; that the bill with the "Brubaker amendment" divided the Northwest ward into five wards, with five policemen, and that the Union party would be defeated in each one; that upon these representations they signed the petition, and now that they have learned that these statements are wilfully and maliciously false, they desire to have their names withdrawn, and expose the policy pursued to obtain signers; and further deponents saith not.

JOHN KAHLE,

ISAAC DUNN,

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my national seal this 25th day of March, 1867.

S. A. WYLLIE,

Notary Public.

You see, Mr. Speaker, the party who drew that affidavit has gone to the trouble of giving the standing of these defendants, one sworn and the other affirmed. Now Mr. Speaker, if a false representation was made to one man or to two men, I say then there is fraud in the whole transaction. But apart from that, I fall back upon my original position, that both in point of territory and population, what is known as the Brubaker amendment, is the most equitable division of the ward, and hence I oppose this amendment.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, when a city is to be divided into wards we must extend our view beyond the present. You must make allowance for the changes of the future. Lancaster city is growing rapidly and will continue to grow. The central portion of that city has been well built up; it was closely packed long ago. The other portions are being built up every day, hence we must act in view of these prospective changes. I confess that, in point of numbers, there are probably more in the central wards than in the others; but that will not destroy the force of my argument.

Now, Mr. Speaker, our division of the city runs a straight line from the central portion of the town to the extreme limits. Looking at it, you will perceive, territorially, it is a most equitable division. In point of population, I do admit that the central wards outnumber the others, but no allowance has been made for the rapid growth of the other wards. Now, sir, I ask my colleague whether the petition that he says he has in his hands has been brought here since this bill was introduced or not.

Mr. FISHER. O, yes, sir.
Mr. BILLINGFELT. I claim, sir, that my twelve hundred signers prepared that petition, after and in view of the passage of this bill. On the contrary, the six hundred whose interests the gentleman represents, signed that petition before this bill was introduced, consequently they knew nothing of its character. The only petition on file is that of the twelve hundred citizens of Lancaster city praying for the passage of this bill with the amendments I have indicated, among which is that striking out the manuscript amendment.

My colleague has chosen to call the attention of the Senate to George Brubaker and John J. Hartman, gentlemen about whom probably not two members here know anything. Mr. Brubaker is, it is true, a respectable gentleman. Personally, I am under obligation to him, but he is a politician like Mr. Hartman. I may owe favors, as I said, to one of these gentlemen. I was myself a politician at one time, but when I became the chosen representative of my constituents to this body, I threw off the garb of a politician and I assumed the robes of a Senator. I stand here in pursuance of the duty I owe, to defend the people, and I will look neither to the right or left. My leading inquiry is what are the wishes of the people, not what Mr. Brubaker or any other Lancaster politician wants. I am placed under obligations not only to the people who nominated me, but to those who elected me to guard their rights. I claim to be a Senator, sent here to represent the people of Lancaster county, and no politician. My amendment is to restore the bill to what I know the people wish.

Mr. FISHER. If the petition is produced here it will show that it does not contain half the number imagined by my colleague.

Mr. LOWRY. I will ask the gentleman from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER] whether a majority of those who ask this resolution did not desire the amendment offered by his colleague?

Mr. FISHER. I will answer that question in this wise: a proposition is made by the friends of this bill, as it now stands, calling an election by the people of the Northwest ward to decide this very matter, but those who now advocate this amendment refused positively to enter into any arrangement of that kind.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Let me say, sir, that every signer has asked for the passage of the original bill, and not one for it in its present shape.

Mr. FISHER. I will state for the information of the Senate that the four members of the House amended the bill so as to put it into the present shape.

On the motion to amend,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BILLINGFELT and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billington, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Graham, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Taylor and White—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M'Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searight, Shoemaker, Stutzman and Wallace—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the final passage of the bill,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billington, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—22.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Donovan, Jackson, James, M'Candless, Randall, Schall, Searight and Wallace—10.

So the bill
Passed finally.

PHILADELPHIA MILITARY BILL.

Mr. M'CANDLESS moved to suspend the rules to proceed to the consideration of bill entitled A further supplement to an act approved May 4th, A. D. 1864, for the organization, discipline and regulation of the militia of the first division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ms. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I trust that this bill will not be taken up at this time. I have an amendment to offer to it which I have not here. I had no idea that a proposition would be made to consider it to-day. I therefore ask, in view of these facts, that it will be laid over.

Mr. M'CANDLESS. This is a very important bill, Mr. Speaker, and we are drawing to the close of the session. None of its provisions interfere with or affect the constituents of the Senator from Chester. Next session a general bill will be offered to the Legislature, and then he may suggest any amendment he desires, but this is merely for the temporary organization of the first division of militia in the city of Philadelphia. There is at present no organized military force there, and if there should happen a riot, it would occasion great difficulty in suppressing it.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I do not want to delay the passage of this bill. If it had been made known to me, I should have been prepared to offer my amendment now. I therefore hope it will be postponed.

Mr. WHITE. I wish this bill to be put in such a shape that it cannot by any possibility fail to succeed. That class of people whose interests the Senator from Chester advocates, no doubt desire to be relieved from the performance of military service, but he, I trust, will understand that such a proposition is obnoxious to the Constitution of this State.

By general consent,
The bill was read the first time, and laid over under the rules.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, March 27, 1867.

The SPEAKER announced a quorum of members present.

On motion,
The further reading of the same was dispensed with.

SPEAKER'S TABLE.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the thirty-eighth annual report of the inspectors of the State Penitentiary for the Eastern district of Pennsylvania.

Also, a communication from the principal of the Philadelphia School of Design, which was read as follows:

PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL OF DESIGN,
WEST PENN SQUARE,
March 26, 1867.

To the Hon. John P. Glass, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

DEAR SIR—I have the honor of asking you to accept from this institution the accompanying portrait of General Jackson, as a third contribution to a State gallery of art. It was painted from an original in the possession of Evan Rogers, Esq., of this city, taken at New Orleans, in the year 1839. Mr. R. esteems it a faithful likeness of an old friend, and I beg to assure you that it is an excellent copy of that great man, who uttered the sentiment, dear to every American heart, viz: "By the eternal, the Constitution must, and shall be preserved."

Very respectfully submitted,
(Signed) T. W. BRAIDWOOD, Principal.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:
Resolved, That the thanks of this House be tendered to the School of Design for the portrait of President Jackson, and that the Clerk have the same placed in the new library.

The resolution was
Agreed to.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, March 28, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, without my approval, to the House, in which it originated, bill No. 960, entitled An act relating to the appointment of auctioneers in the county of Cumberland.

Under existing laws I have already appointed an auctioneer for the borough of Carlisle, in said county, and he has paid into the treasury twenty-five dollars for his license and given bond to the Commonwealth as required by law for the payment of whatever percentage may lawfully accrue to the State. After the appointee has thus complied with all the laws as they stood at the time of his appointment, it is hardly fair to authorize the appointment of an indefinite number of others, including the same territory, so as to make the privilege of no value.

Moreover, the county of Cumberland is pre-eminently an agricultural county, and as under existing laws any one who chooses can hold a public sale of his property without any license, the necessity for a multiplication of licensed auctioneers is not apparent.

JNO. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the House proceeded to the reconsideration of said bill.

On the evening,
Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

When, agreeably to the rules, the further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

Mr. DONOVAN, a memorial of the religious Society of Friends on military service and fines, which was read as follows, and

Laid on the table:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania:

The memorial of the representatives of the religious Society of Friends in the said State, respectfully sheweth:

That a bill now pending in the Legislature imposes a fine on all persons between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years of age, who, being enrolled and not joining a volunteer company, decline or neglect performing military duty, which, if enacted into a law and carried into effect, must operate oppressively upon the members of our religious society in Pennsylvania.

It is well known that from its beginning—more than two hundred years ago—the Society of Friends has uniformly borne a testimony against all wars and fightings, as being contrary to the benign precepts of the gospel and the express commands of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Believing ourselves bound to obey these, and to do nothing directly or indirectly that would prevent the spread or lay waste the Kingdom of the Prince of Peace, we cannot engage in warlike measures, or take part in military training or preparation.

The Constitution of our State provides that "such as conscientiously scruple to bear arms, shall not be compelled to do so; but shall pay an equivalent for personal service." In the Declaration of Rights prefacing the Constitution, it is declared, "No human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the right of conscience, and no preference shall ever be given by law to any establishments or modes of worship." This noble provision was originally made by William Penn, the founder of our State, and so long as Friends held control in the legislative councils, it was never infringed.

Now the fine proposed in this bill, to be inflicted on those who do not comply with its provisions, would be a penalty exacted from Friends on account of their conscientious scruples, inasmuch as those scruples are the cause of their non-compliance; and we respectfully submit, that there is a manifest inconsistency in first exempting persons from such service because of these being no right to interfere with conscience, and then subjecting them to pecuniary infliction because they act in accordance with their conscientious belief. Certainly to compel those who cannot bear arms because they believe it to be contrary to the religion of Christ, to pay a fine, however small, would be a direct infringement of their right to enjoy their religious belief, and an entire disregard of the clear declaration already quoted from the great charter of our liberties as citizens of this Commonwealth.

Fully convinced that it would be a sin for us, or for any others, who sincerely believe war and all military service to be contrary to the religion which breathes peace on earth, good will to men, to take any part in either, we cannot comply with the requirements in the bill, either by rendering the service called for, or by paying a fine in commutation therefor. We claim the right to keep a conscience void of offense in this as in all other matters, and that as the Almighty is the alone Ruler of conscience, human governments may not control or coerce it. To secure this, we ask no partial legislation, but equal liberty for all who are conscientiously restrained by their religious principles from participating in military training or militia service. Thus, we shall only enjoy the same rights as our fellow-citizens, who, professing that war is proper and necessary, claim the right to carry it on and willingly engage in military duty.

Past experience has shown that where such fines have been imposed on and collected from Friends, resort has almost uniformly to be made to seizures of property, which—as there are few willing to buy goods thus restricted by their religious principles from participating in military training or militia service. Thus, we shall only enjoy the same rights as our fellow-citizens, who, professing that war is proper and necessary, claim the right to carry it on and willingly engage in military duty.

other that may come before you, nothing may be enacted that will press hardly upon the consciences of peaceable and loyal citizens.

Signed on behalf and by direction of a meeting of the representatives aforesaid, held in Philadelphia the 20th day of the Third month, 1867. JOSEPH SCATTERGOOD, Clerk.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE DELAWARE RIVER.

On leave,

Mr. BILLINGFELT read in his place and presented to the Chair a bill entitled Joint resolution appointing a committee to inquire into certain alleged misapplication of the money appropriated to remove obstructions in the Delaware river by an act passed April 4th, 1866, to improve the navigation of said river.

The resolution was read as follows:

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the moneys appropriated aforesaid are about being applied contrary to the purposes intended by said act; therefore,

Resolved, (the House concurring), That a joint committee of four be appointed, consisting of two members from each branch of the Legislature, to inquire into the alleged misapplication of said fund, and for this purpose be authorized to send for persons and papers, and make report accordingly to the next session. The State Treasurer to be hereby required and directed in the meantime to withhold any further payment of said fund until the facts of the case are ascertained and the terms of said act complied with.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, so far as the interests of this Commonwealth are concerned, I deem it proper that there be some limits set to expenses growing out of this committee, therefore I move that they shall not in any event exceed the sum of two hundred dollars.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I do not apprehend any difficulty on that score—that is in reference to the pay of this committee—but to remove all doubts as to the present necessity of this bill I ask the Clerk to read the following letter:

LUMBERVILLE, March 10th, 1867.

Hon. E. Billingsfelt:

DEAR SIR—Permit me to ask a favor of you. It is this: Last winter (1866) the Legislature passed a bill establishing three commissioners for the Delaware river and appropriating ten thousand dollars to clear the same, five thousand to be expended, and in the case of New York gave one thousand then the commissioners were to receive the remaining five thousand. Now, sir, whether that money has been paid in or not I don't say, but sure I am that it was not all raised in the State of New York. I am informed, by good authority, that Sheriff Barnes and John Shouse, two of the said commissioners, paid a part of that money out of their own pockets, their living in this State, which makes it a fraud. Now, sir, knowing you to be a friend of the taxpayers, and opposed to extravagant taxation and swindle, I hope you will endeavor to have the bill repealed, especially as there is a great effort made to dam the river and make a slackwater navigation. You will see, at once, that the commissioners are not needed nor wanted, for I assure you that what they have done last summer is to obstruct the channel rather than improve it; and then these commissioners have power to grant to any of these incorporated companies the right to build dams to suit their conveniences, which they have already done at Wells' Falls, last summer. For the truth of this I can refer you to numbers, but will content myself by giving you Hiram Scarborough, of New Hope, and John Fisher, one of the commissioners, who is opposed to the manner in which the other two commissioners have acted. There was no call for any such bill being passed last winter, and it was only gotten up for the purpose of enabling Barnes and Shouse to make money out of it. Why should Pennsylvania tax her citizens to improve the channel at this time, seeing that she has twice done so heretofore, and cleared the channel sufficient for all lumbering purposes? The State of New York furnishes seven-tenths of the lumber that flows in the river, and had our representatives informed the people they would have petitioned the Legislature at once, but they have acted in opposition to the wishes of their constituents. It was thought by the people along the river that they would try to repeal it this winter, but they find our members have done nothing toward its repeal. We are also astonished to find that our members are in favor of damming the river and making a slackwater navigation, thereby destroying all the shad fisheries. If it is too late to repeal the bill, can there not be a joint resolution passed ordering the treasurer not to pay over the remaining five thousand? Believing you will do what you can I close my epistle by subscribing myself yours, most respectfully.

The motion of Mr. CONNELL was

Agreed to.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not object to the investigation hereby proposed, but I am personally acquainted with Sheriff Barnes and Judge Shouse, of Pike county. I know them to be men of honor, and of undoubted integrity, and I denounce the aspersions contained in that letter as unjust and false.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, I understand that five thousand dollars of the sum appropriated have already been expended in relation to this matter. As the law stands the residue will not be expended until New York has appropriated her share, which she has not, up to the present, done. Therefore, I cannot see any use in this committee, as no more money can be allowed by the State Treasurer until New York pays her share of the expense.

Mr. SCHALL. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this precipitate action unless charges are brought here that money has been misappropriated or is likely to be so. There is nothing before this body to justify an expenditure of two or three hundred dollars, in sending a committee up there. It will avail nothing. I protest against such action upon the mere assertion of one man, who perhaps knows nothing about it, or perhaps has an interest. I think this resolution ought to be postponed until we hear from the committee to whom it is referred.

Mr. BILLINGSFELT. Mr. Speaker, if this money is to be misapplied we cannot ask for action too soon. Should the fact, as alleged by the other side, prove different, there will be no harm done. Unless this bill pass now, there may be loss to the State Treasury of the sum of five thousand dollars. I urge gentlemen, therefore, to present no obstruction to its early passage.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, there is no evidence before this Senate that the allegations contained in that letter are true. This resolution, I conceive, should, therefore, be referred to the proper committee. If any sufficient evidence shall come before them, guaranteeing the truth of these statements, our course let there be an investigation. I will not oppose it, if any reasonable grounds are shown of their truthfulness. But I trust this Senate will not, upon the random charges contained in that letter, place an unnecessary duty upon the shoulders of the Commonwealth. As I said before, from the light I now have, I pronounce it a tissue of falsehoods, and will so believe, in the absence of anything to sustain them. I would be recreant to my duty, if I sat quietly here while the characters of two of our most worthy citizens are wantonly and maliciously assailed, without a shadow of proof. Again, I say, let the bill go to its regular course, and go to the proper committee; if there is any evidence to sustain it, I will unite with other Senators on this floor to bring about a speedy, full and complete investigation.

Mr. BILLINGSFELT. Now these charges are pending before us upon allegations made in that letter. What harm can there be in examining into the matter? I have consulted with the State Treasurer, and with numerous Senators and members of the House in regard to this matter, and they have invariably approved of some quick and decisive action. I may here remark that this very proposition is made at the request of the State Treasurer, and I hope it will not be postponed.

Mr. SCHALL. I desire to ask the gentleman from Lancaster (Mr. BILLINGSFELT) whether he knows this person—the author of this letter—does he know that he is a pilot, at the mouth of the Delaware river, engaged in the navigation of rafts, over places obstructed, in that river?

Mr. BILLINGSFELT. I do know the author of that letter personally, as to his domestic occupation I am somewhat ignorant, but, sir, I know enough of him to assert that upon this letter it is necessary that a committee should be appointed to inquire into these alleged abuses.

Mr. WALLACE. It seems to me that this is simply ridiculous. Unless an accusation comes here supported by oath or affirmation of one who is acquainted with the facts, I think we are not warranted in doing anything that might contravene the already expressed intention of the Legislature.

Mr. JACKSON. The Senator from Lancaster says he is acquainted with him. I would ask him if it is the same person who was a member in the other House some time ago, who occasioned the disgust of all sensible persons in his vicinity?

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I have been opposed to these investigating committees, generally. Now, I would not, intentionally, interfere with this investigation, but this thing is growing into a great evil amongst us. I am told that there are no less than from nine to ten investigating committees got up in this Legislature. These committees will be permitted to traverse the State on pleasure excursions or otherwise, and will come before us next session to ask to have their traveling and other expenses paid. Now, sir, I do not know what the merits of this case may be, but I do hope that it will be referred to the proper committee, and if there is any ground for investigation, that then an investigating committee shall be appointed, and not till then.

Mr. RIDGWAY. I would just like to make one statement, Mr. Speaker. I have conversed with the State Treasurer on this bill, and it is known that five thousand dollars of the money appropriated have already been squandered.

Mr. BURNETT. I would inquire if the State Treasurer has sufficient evidence to predicate that information upon. I do not permit the opinion of the State Treasurer, in the absence of any evidence, as better than that of any of us here. I therefore move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

The motion was

Agreed to.

BILLS RECONSIDERED.

Mr. LOWRY moved that the Senate reconsider the vote on the final passage of bill entitled An act to authorize the road commissioners of Mill Creek township, Erie county, to compel the owners of land fronting on Ridge road to make side walks and to straighten and open out said road.

Which was

Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. LOWRY, the further consideration of the bill was postponed for the present.

Mr. LOWRY moved that the Senate reconsider the vote on the final passage of bill entitled An act to extend the provisions of an act to prevent cattle, horses, sheep and hogs from running at large in Delaware county, to the county of Crawford and to West Donegal township, Lancaster county.

Which was

Agreed to.

Mr. LOWRY asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the Senate to amend the same by extending its provisions so as to embrace Erie county.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed that the House of Representatives has receded from its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to bills numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

No. 137, a supplement to an act to incorporate the city of Scranton, extending and defining the powers of said city.

No. 701, an act to incorporate the Enterprise gas light company.

He also returned bills numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

No. 839, an act declaratory of the statutes of limitation.

No. 1348, an act relative to the stone in the locks of the Franklin Branch of the Pennsylvania canal in Fairfield township, Crawford county.

With information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendments.

The resolution was Adopted.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, March 28, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit, herewith, a letter from His Excellency, R. E. Fenton, Governor of New York (and four enclosures accompanying the same), on the subject of the western boundary between that State and this Commonwealth, and the monuments which mark said boundary.

I cordially commend the whole subject to your honorable body as one well worthy your most respectful consideration.

JNO. W. GEARY.

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR FENTON.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ALBANY, March 25th, 1867.
His Excellency, John W. Geary, Governor of Pennsylvania:

SIR—The Legislature of this State, at its last session, authorized the agents of the University to make proper arrangements, in conjunction with the authorities of Pennsylvania, for renewing the monument indicating the western boundary line of New York. The chancellor of the University has this day addressed you upon this subject, and I commend his view to your early consideration.

Very respectfully,

R. E. FENTON.

UNIVERSITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK,
OFFICE OF THE REGENTS,
ALBANY, March 25th, 1867.

SIR—By order of the Regents of the University of this State, I have the honor to send to your Excellency a copy of a resolution adopted by the two Houses of the Legislature in April last, authorizing the Regents to arrange with the authorities of the State of Pennsylvania for renewing and replacing the monument near Lake Erie, on the boundary line between the two States.

I also enclose a copy of a report (Assembly documents of 1866, No. 191), made to the Legislature of this State on the 10th of March, 1866, by the Regent, on the longitude of the said boundary line, to which I beg to call your attention.

This communication has been delayed with the hope of sending with it the historical sketch referred to in the report; but the failure thus far to find some important documents in relation to the matter has, temporarily, as we hope, prevented its completion.

Should the Legislature of Pennsylvania concur with that of New York in authorizing the work referred to, the Regents of the University will, in behalf of this State, at any time enter into such arrangements with the authorities of Pennsylvania as may be requisite for its execution.

Yours with great respect,

JOHN V. L. PRYEN,
Chancellor of the University.
To his Excellency, JOHN W. GEARY, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania.

The foregoing, with the accompanying documents, were Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary General.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of a bill entitled An act to incorporate the Good Spring iron and land company.

The bill

Passed finally.

THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY RAILROAD COMPANY.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of a bill entitled An act to authorize the Allegheny Valley railroad company to issue additional stock and bonds, and to repeal the act entitled An act to authorize the Allegheny Valley railroad to mortgage its road and branches to complete the same, approved the 8th day of March, A. D. 1867.

Mr. RIDGWAY. I move to recommit the bill to the Committee on Railroads. I am opposed to repealing the act already passed. I voted for that bill and deemed it very liberal, and I do not see the necessity for repealing it. They have ample power under that law. I think it gives a great many more privileges than that to which I am opposed. Let it be committed for the purpose of examination. The company will lose nothing if they have a liberal bill at present which will meet all their desire.

Mr. BIGHAM. I do not object to any examination that is necessary.

On the question,

Shall the bill be recommitted?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BIGHAM and Mr. RIDGWAY and were, as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Glutz, Haines, Jackson, Landon, M'Condless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searight, Walls and Worthington—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigam, Billington, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Cowles, Lowry, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Wallace, White and Hall, Speaker—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SALE OF LIQUORS IN BERKS, LEBANON AND LEHIGH COUNTIES.

Agreeably to order, the Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of a bill entitled A supplement to an act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, approved February 26, 1855, relating to the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Lehigh.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I desire to say one word upon this bill, Mr. Speaker. I was not on the floor when the bill was previously up for consideration.

This is a proposed repeal of a part of what is called the Buckalew law, passed in the Legislature, in 1855, at the time Mr. Buckalew was a member of this House. It was drawn up by that gentleman, and operated well. Two years ago an effort was made here to alter it in this particular, with reference to Cumberland county. It was opposed by the Senate and rejected. Last year another attempt was made by the Senator from Schuyl-kill of a similar character. It was defeated, and the effort is now made to exempt three counties—to repeal the provision establishing imprisonment for every violation of the law. As the law now stands any person convicted is subject to both fine and imprisonment, and the courts are bound to inflict this penalty. It is now desired to grant the court a discretion, so as to fine or imprison.

It is said, Mr. Speaker, the law as it now stands, works badly in some sections of the country, but I think it is a wholesome law, and if we begin introducing changes into it, let them extend over the whole Commonwealth. This is a general law, embracing all parts of the Commonwealth, and why should any one county be exempt from its operations?

I do not think that a law should apply to any one part of the Commonwealth independent of other parts—that one penalty be inflicted in one county and another in an adjoining county. But such laws as this should be general. They are right, and I can see no good reason why we should alter them, so far as Berks, Lehigh and Lebanon are concerned. I do not think the gentleman from Lebanon desires that his county be exempted from the law, and I trust the Senate will do as it has on former occasions, with reference to the other counties; that is, refuse to alter it. This provision had its origin in 1856, under the supervision of Mr. Buckalew; it has, as I said, before operated well and should be continued on the statute book.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, we ask this supplement to insure a more certain enforcement of the law. As it stands now, in many of the counties, it cannot be enforced. I had in a case this very morning, where a man was prosecuted for selling liquor in violation of the law. The judge charged the jury as to the law, and the jury, after being out five hours, came in and asked to be discharged, because they could not agree. But the judge told them that the law was imperative, and they came in, in half an hour, with a verdict of not guilty. Now the judge could have imposed a heavy fine on that individual had a reasonable discretion been given, but a conviction for the first offense, subjecting him to imprisonment, could not be obtained. I hope gentlemen understand that all we look for is a law that can be carried into effect.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, whether men should be fined and imprisoned for selling liquors on Sunday, is one question. Whether the penalty should be one in Berks county, and another in Bradford county, is an entirely different thing. Undoubtedly the offense of an unlawful selling intoxicating liquors is an offense for which the penalty should be uniform in all the counties. I do not say that a man should be fined and imprisoned for selling liquor in violation of its provisions; but I do say there should be uniformity, and I will not vote to make the penalty one thing in one county and make it different right over the turnpike, in the county adjoining. If the gentleman will make a law general I will take it into consideration. If it is wrong in one county, it is wrong in all; if it is right in one, it is right in all.

Mr. SPOEMAKER. In regard to this bill, Mr. Speaker, I should like to see it become a general law, for my impression is, that by its severity parties are not convicted who would otherwise be punished. I do not know to what case the gentleman from Berks alludes. A man in Luzerne, plainly guilty under the law, was acquitted by the jury, even after they were restrained by the judge, and would have been punished, had the law been different. I repeat, I am in favor of a general law, but if that cannot be effected, I propose to give those relief who come here to ask for it. Judge Woodward, who recommends this law, is an eminent gentleman, and a personal acquaintance of mine. For these reasons, I will vote for the bill.

Mr. LOWRY. I consider, sir, that the severity of the law in this case is an absolute protection to crime. I would very much prefer that this legislation should be general; I think it should be for the whole Commonwealth. It is the certainty of punishment and not its severity that prevents crime. I think, then, that the Senator having this bill in charge has better consent to make it comprehend all the counties. The severity of the law at present pours down the neck of men more whisky on the Sabbath day than any law on our statute book. [Laughter]. Senators may laugh, but they know that is a truth, a sober, universal truth. I say the severity of the law makes juries and judges shrink from duty, and it makes prosecutors cowardly. I am in favor of a modification of the law so far as to give the judges on the bench a legal discretion whether they will send a man to prison or not for selling liquor unlawfully.

Mr. FISHER. I believe there is a great deal of force in the remarks of my friend, the Senator from Erie. I have been told by a gentleman of integrity, intelligence and high respectability, that owing to the severity of the law as it now exists, it is impossible to convict a man of this offense in Berks county. That, sir, is not the case in Lancaster county. They do convict them there every term of the court of quarter sessions, and they are imprisoned, but it so happens that in almost every instance, when he has been appealed to, the Governor has exercised the executive clemency and let them out.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I would inquire whether the present Governor has pardoned any person convicted of this offense?

Mr. FISHER. I believe there has been no convictions since his inauguration.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I know that that he refused to pardon.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, there may be exceptions, but I tell you that it is the honest conviction of my heart, that to cure this evil you must strike at the root of it, and whenever the time comes that we can strike, then I am ready. The remedy is this: Abolish the entire system of the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and wipe it out and leave no vestige of it. It is the darkest stain upon the moral character of our Government. I believe this modification, however, will to some extent, operate as a remedy in the county of Berks, at least I have been so informed. As has been said, they cannot convict now, because the penalty is imprisonment, and the juries have generally brought in a verdict of not guilty. If the matter is left to the discretion of the court, knowing as I do that they have a judge on the bench above suspicion, I believe there may be convictions, otherwise I believe there will be none; hence, as much as I dislike to vote for any measure that might seem on its face to sanction the drinking of intoxicating liquors, I shall be constrained to vote for this bill. Where they can be convicted, however, I see no necessity for a change in the law, and will vote accordingly.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, if this were made a general law, it would exactly meet the argument of the gentleman from Lancaster county, who has just taken his seat. I would leave it to the discretion of the court where ever the court believed public sentiment would not allow the penalty to be inflicted. Now, I am anxious to see this law enforced. I believe it is understood that they pay no respect to the Sunday law in Philadelphia. In Allegheny county, so far as the street door is concerned, they are, to all appearances closed. I think if this law was modified so that imprisonment would not in all cases follow conviction, that it would be enforced. I think the Legislature should remedy the injustice done the Executive by the original bill. In every instance, after conviction I have known in our district under this law, it has resulted in going to the Governor, who has uniformly remitted the penalty. This was done by the Executive in deference to the strong existing public sentiment. I think it is unkind for the Executive to be put in this position. I do not know the views of the present Governor, but under the last Executive there was an instance of eight or ten Germans being convicted in our court, and the Executive was constrained to pardon them on paying the fine. I am in favor of throwing the responsibility on the judges, and of voting a general law if it can be so modified.

Pending the consideration of the bill the Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate reassembled at three o'clock, P. M.

BILL PASSED.

On leave,

Mr. RANDALL read in his place and presented to the Chair a bill entitled An act to authorize the burgess and town council of the borough of Tremont, Schuylkill county, to levy a tax.

Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary Local.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the Committee on the Judiciary Local was discharged from the further consideration of this bill, and the Senate proceeded to consider the same.

And the rules having been dispensed with, The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

No. 1668, an act to increase the revenues of the city of Philadelphia, and to designate the classes of property exempted from taxation for municipal purposes in said city. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

RECOMMITTAL OF BILL.

Mr. BIGHAM moved that bill entitled An act to incorporate the Miners' Saving Bank of Pittston, be recommitted to the Committee on Banks.

The motion was Agreed to.

BILL REFERRED TO ANOTHER COMMITTEE.

Mr. CONNELL moved that bill entitled An act regulating interest on public accounts, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

The motion was Agreed to.

SALE OF LIQUORS IN BERKS, LEBANON AND LEHIGH COUNTIES.

Agreably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of bill entitled A supplement to an act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, approved February 26th, 1856, relating to the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Lehigh.

Mr. BIGHAM. I was substantial through when we adjourned. Mr. Speaker, my individual preference extends to the modification sought for. If the word "for" was substituted for the word "and" in the original bill, it would be exactly what is now proposed to be done; notwithstanding I would rather vote to make it a general law.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I have no desire to interfere with the local legislation of the gentleman from Berks [Mr. DAVIS], or of other counties. Its influence will more or less be disseminated through at last the six adjoining counties of Lancaster, Chester, Bucks, Lehigh, Montgomery and Schuylkill. The force of the argument employed by the Senator from Berks rests solely upon the fact that they cannot procure a jury who, under the solemn sanction of an oath, will convict. They are expressly sworn to try the case and render the verdict according to the evidence, having the instructions of the judge as to the law, and believing that is the main point upon which he bases the whole force of his speech.

Now, sir, not long since the Senator from Berks introduced a bill here making it a penal offense for any hotel keeper in his county to refuse to entertain a person on account of his color. If, then, their juries will uniformly refuse to convict persons of selling liquor upon the Sabbath, I would inquire if there can be a jury found who will convict under that bill which he introduced here to become a law? I ask for an answer to that question.

Mr. DAVIS. I have no doubt that Republican hotel keepers would come here to have Berks county excluded.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I would suggest to the Senator from Berks that in that case, whenever a conviction cannot be obtained for a violation of that law, to agree to a change of venue, so that a trial may be had in any county. Apart from that, Mr. Speaker, living so near the county of Berks, I cannot be expected to vote for a bill relieving the people of that county from a penalty inflicted upon their very neighbors, and on the people in all other parts of the Commonwealth. I therefore will relieve myself of all responsibility, if this bill pass, by an uninterrupted resistance to it.

On the final passage of the bill, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DAVIS and Mr. BILLINGFELT, and were as follows, viz.:

YEAS—Messrs. Biglum, Burnett, Coleman, Conner, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, James, McCanless, Randall, Ridgway, Schall, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace and Walls—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Browne, (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, Royer, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—11.

So the bill

Passed finally.

ORGANIZATION OF THE MILITIA IN THE FIRST DIVISION OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Agreeably to order, the Senate proceeded to the final reading of the bill entitled A further supplement to an act, approved May 4th, A. D. 1864, for the organization, discipline and regulation of the First division of the militia of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Senate go into committee of the whole for the purpose of inserting the following amendment:

And be it further enacted, That members of religious denominations who shall, by affirmation, declare that they are conscientiously opposed to the bearing of arms, and who are prohibited from doing so by the rules and articles of faith and practice of said religious denominations, shall be considered non-combatants and be excused from military duty or demands: Provided, That no person shall be entitled to the benefit of this section, unless his declaration of conscientious scruples against bearing arms shall be supported by satisfactory evidence that his department is consistent with such declaration.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Now, Mr. Speaker, this is said by the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. McCANLESS] to be a local bill. I admit that, but I think it involves a principle that extends beyond the limits of that city. Hence, I claim the right to make a few remarks in relation to it.

We are told the constitutional provision settles the question. The second section of the sixth article reads as follows: "The freemen of this Commonwealth shall be armed, organized and disciplined"—I presume for its defense—"when and in such manner as may be directed by law. Those who conscientiously scruple to bear arms, shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal service."

Now, it will be observed that the Constitution requires the freemen of the Commonwealth to be armed, organized and disciplined. That is all the freemen, I presume, that are able to bear arms. It does not mean a part of the freemen of this Commonwealth, but it means them all.

Now, it has been usual—I believe it has been incorporated in every militia bill that ever passed the Legislature—that all the freemen who were able to bear arms were not embraced in the militia bill. They are not enrolled. The colored men are not enrolled under any militia law we have had, and yet he is a freeman; he is competent to be a soldier, and a good soldier. Many men over forty five years of age are as able to bear arms as those who have only arrived at twenty-five or thirty five years. They are always exempted by law, notwithstanding that they frequently have a good constitution and all the physical vigor necessary. I, therefore, say he is a freeman competent to bear arms and he is excluded by the law. The judges of our courts are excluded by law; the clerks in these Houses are excluded by law; all the clerks and officers of the counties are excluded by law; directors of public schools are excluded by law; so that you perceive the Legislature has always exercised the right and the privilege to construe that portion of the Constitution in such a way as not to include all the freemen of the Commonwealth who are competent to bear arms. There is no power of discrimination then or you could not excuse the negro and the man over forty-five who is able to bear arms. I call upon you then to exercise this privilege a little further—to exercise this right again. If you have the constitutional power to exempt those I have mentioned, then you can exclude the man who is conscientiously scrupulous against bearing arms, and enact that he shall not be compelled to do so. Further, if he is conscientiously scrupulous against bearing arms he is equally so with regard to paying a fine that is to pay for somebody else to go into the ranks, to fight the battles for him.

These gentlemen, these Friends, who object to this enrollment and this tax, are really conscientious on this subject. They have strong, moral and religious feelings in regard to it, and as they cannot and will not fight, so they feel equally hostile to the payment of a fine; for it is nothing more nor less than paying for the services of some other man to fight. And if they are really conscientious, I am not surprised that they make no distinction between those two points.

Now, Mr. Speaker, there is another clause in the Constitution to which I will call the attention of the Senate. In the ninth article, section third, you will find that no human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience. Is not that a part of the Constitution? Is not that as binding upon us as any other part of it? I ask whether it is not interfering with the rights of conscience to compel a man to fight or pay a fine for not fighting, and to pay somebody else to fight when his religious convictions of a man are repugnant to it?

If he justly and conscientiously believes that it is in violation of his religious duty and that he cannot consistently with his duty to his God and his own conscience do either of these things, I ask, is it not a great stretch of authority on the part of the Legislature of Pennsylvania to say we will not exempt him when we at the same time excuse the colored portion of our people and men who are physically able to bear arms?

Now, the General Government, during this war, regarded this people as non-combatants; they saw the impropriety of compelling them to enter the service when they perceived that they would suffer any penalty they could inflict upon them rather than fight. When the General Government found it was entirely useless, they acted very wisely, in my opinion, by saying that they should be employed in some other way. It is well known that you cannot compel them to fight; those who are really conscientious, you may inflict upon them any penalty you choose and yet they will stand firm to their principles. If then it is consonant with our Constitution, it is only just that we should extend our authority so far as to relieve this people from the small penalty which would be collected from them. It is not a matter of dollars and cents. It is not a question of the amount they will be obliged to pay; it is a question of conscience. This State, sir, was founded by William Penn, one of the early members of this sect. It bears his name; it was they who controlled the government of this State for seventy years; it was the terms of the resolution it passed from their hands, and now is controlled by others. I say it is not magnanimous in us, when we are in the position they occupied, to force upon them against their conscience or sense of duty what they cannot possibly perform. That we have the right, I think there is no question, to exempt them. This amendment, it will be observed, is well guarded. It is probable no great advantage can be taken of it, because to do so would be to take advantage of the oath that he was conscientiously scrupulous on this matter could by that alone obtain an election. He must show by consistent words and conversation, and by the acts of his life, that he is true to his profession.

I do not know what objections will be made to this; the only one I have heard as yet is that these people share in the benefits of the Government; they are under its protection, and therefore they ought to assist in bearing its burdens. Well, sir, that applies to them no more than to other people; both the colored freemen and men. Beyond the age of forty-five, who are physically competent, are both within this category. If we can excuse a man from the color of his skin from serving in the war, why cannot we excuse a white man if his conscience is against it? There is no doubt in my mind as to the power of this Legislature in the premises, and I ask that it be justly and righteously exercised for the benefit of these people. These are my views, given as briefly as possible. I hope then that we will go into committee of the whole for the purpose of adopting that amendment.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, it is perhaps due to those who maintain the other side of the question to say a few words in reference to it. While this class of citizens deserve commendation as remarkably good citizens, it is our sworn duty to administer the Constitution as it is. In their memorial read here this morning, they pride themselves on their devotion to the country during the last five years. They allege that they have been continually loyal to the Government, and that they have aided in sustaining it. If this is so, why are they now protesting in utter violation of their conscientious convictions. They have been aiding and maintaining war and battle. But be that as it may, I merely rise to put by my interpretations upon the very words of the Constitution quoted. They are these: "The freemen in this Commonwealth shall be armed, organized and disciplined for its defense when and in such manner as may be directed by law. Those who conscientiously scruple to bear arms shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal service."

Is it possible to make any more plain what the Senator says in reference to persons over forty five, and in relation to colored persons, or any other class of citizens, does not affect this question at all. Here it is in a nut-shell: "Those who conscientiously scruple to bear arms shall not be compelled to do so, but shall pay an equivalent for personal services." This is unusually emphatic and clear. It is not possible to put in language more plainly the intention of the people. Who are those who scruple to bear arms? They are those for whom the Senator asks this exemption. Why does he ask us to exempt them? Because they conscientiously scruple to bear arms, yet the Constitution, in reply to this, says that they must pay an equivalent. On the one hand we give to the clause its proper interpretation and effect, and on the other we violate our official oaths. That is very plain. If there be any proposition in the Constitution emphatic, distinct and clear, it is this. If this be true, Mr. Speaker, then the amendment of the Senator from Chester should not and cannot prevail.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, it is perhaps due to the Military Committee who reported this bill as committed, and also to a very respectable class of our fellow-citizens, in whose behalf this exemption is sought, to state that the committee, upon notice being given by the gentleman from Chester [Mr. WORTHINGTON] that a large representation of his constituency desired to be heard and represented on this question, appointed a meeting to hear them. I am aware that a large class of the gentleman's constituents are Quakers, and, of course, as they feel on this question, so do the Friends of Philadelphia. It is known at the same time that we had a bill organizing the militia of the Commonwealth under our consideration, which had a provision somewhat similar to that he proposed to modify, and his constituents desired to have their views presented, it was the pleasure as well as the duty of the Military Committee to designate a time and place to listen to them.

It is due to the committee to say that they heard them and that they were a very intelligent delegation of this people. They presented their views and the question was well argued and viewed in all its aspects. Notwithstanding the committee were unanimous in the decision at which they arrived, namely, that this bill should be reported as committed, and the prayer of these gentlemen respectfully refused. Now, Mr. Speaker, it may be said at this time we are in a state of peace. It was said then that we were in a condition of peace, and that it was unnecessary to impose on them any odious burdens; that is all very true. But that is but a temporary consideration and should not affect a great principle. We are here in passing upon this bill in the discharge of a constitutional duty to organize the militia of this Commonwealth, and as we establish a precedent here now, we cannot fail to encounter its bad effects hereafter. Should we make a mistake—should we do that—which is a direct violation of the Constitution—that a large majority here believe are sworn constitutional duties? I was very glad to hear my friend, the Senator from Clearfield, express his views as to these obligations resting upon us, under the Constitution, to provide for the organization of all the citizens of the Commonwealth in a militia. I agree with him that we could not, by the second section of the sixth article of the Constitution, adopt these amendments. As to the argument of the Senator from Chester, that the colored citizens of this Commonwealth have not been enlisted amongst the militia who have not been heretofore provided for under the militia law of the Commonwealth, I would say that when that legislation was had their exact status was not settled; it was not determined whether they were citizens of the United States until the experience of the recent rebellion taught us they were. When those laws were passed they were organizing for a condition of war. If we were mustering forces to send them to the field we might make ample provision for them, and I doubt not that we will. However, we must do these things as we find them. The bill before us only provides for the organization of the white freemen of the district of Philadelphia—all those who are able to bear arms. If, then, a class of these white citizens are exempt on account of conscientious scruples, it is our duty to make such provision for them as the Constitution requires so to make. Can we do otherwise now than was done throughout the war? Can we do better in adopting measures of this kind than to follow the language which the General Government adopted on this subject. I append hereto, and in 1862, when there was a draft ordered by the National Government, to be conducted under the machinery which the State had established, it was provided that those who were conscientiously scrupulous about bearing arms should pay conscientiously scrupulous money.

As much as I respect the Quaker element of the country; as much as I appreciate their philanthropy, hospitality and general patriotism, I think we should be faithful to ourselves and to our duties, if we established a system which might hereafter occasion incalculable difficulties. Therefore, I shall oppose the amendment of the gentleman from Chester. I may say here at this point, that the bill comes here under the auspices of some gallant soldiers of Philadelphia, all men who have signalized themselves on many a well contested field. It is due to their energy and perseverance in preparing this bill that we have it here to day. I think it is a good bill—a bill which, if the officers under it could do their duty, would place the militia of the First division of the city of Philadelphia, in a condition to answer any of the necessities which might arise in the borders of the State.

On the motion of Mr. WORTHINGTON, to go into committee of the whole for the purpose of amending the bill as stated,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WORTHINGTON and Mr. WALLACE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingfelt, Connell, Haines, Lowry, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Stutzman and Worthington—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Brown [Lawrence], Brown [Mercer], B. Baret, Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Donnan, Fisher, Graham, Jackson, James, Landon, M'Callless, Schall, Bearht, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—21.

So the question was determined in the negative.

During the call, Mr. BIGHAM said: Allow me to say, in summing up, that in the year 1864, when the military bill was up and was so largely discussed, I fully made up my mind that it was an imperative duty not to exempt this class of people, and that as we could not do so to require them, in refusing to perform military services, to pay a military equivalent.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). So far as I understand it, it is the peremptory duty either that citizens should bear arms or should pay an equivalent. If I were conscientiously scrupulous against bearing arms, I do not think I would be conscientiously scrupulous about paying the equivalent. I think that is the Christian doctrine, that a man who is opposed to serving in person should give of his substance.

Mr. FISHER. As I believe that to pass this amendment would be to violate the Constitution, I vote "no."

Mr. GRAHAM. For the reasons assigned by the Senator from Lawrence [Mr. Browne] I vote no.

Mr. LOWRY. My view of the question is that in time of war Quakers should fight, and in time of peace there is no necessity for it, therefore I vote for the amendment.

Mr. M'CALLLESS. I am one of Cromwell's Christians, who believe in putting their trust in God and keeping their powder dry. I vote no.

Mr. TAYLOR. As much as I desire to favor that worthy class of citizens known as Quakers, I cannot at the same time vote for an unconstitutional provision, I therefore vote no.

Mr. CONNELL. Any commissioned officer is allowed, by this bill, to collect the funds himself. That, Mr. Speaker, must inevitably be a great difficulty.

Mr. M'CALLLESS. That provision is made for the purpose of getting the funds promptly, without having to go through the hands of the receiver of taxes. You will find that as you go down further in the bill that there has been a regular provision incorporated in reference to that.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, this is certainly liable to very great objections.

Mr. RIDGWAY. It is better some amendment be made here, otherwise you may have twenty men collecting this tax in the city of Philadelphia. I hope that you will strike out all parts of this bill where it authorizes anybody else but the receiver of taxes to receive the money.

By unanimous consent, the suggestions were inserted in the bill.

The bill was then read the third time, and Passed finally.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of a bill entitled A further supplement to an act relating to elections in this Commonwealth.

The bill was read as follows:

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT TO AN ACT RELATING TO THE ELECTIONS IN THIS COMMONWEALTH.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act it shall be the duty of the several assessors within this Commonwealth, on receiving their transcripts from the county commissioners, to proceed to make out a list, in alphabetical order, of the white freemen above twenty-one years of age, who they shall know, or who shall make claim to said assessors, to be qualified voters within their respective townships, boroughs, wards, or other election districts, and opposite said names state whether the said freeman is or is not a housekeeper, and if he is, the number of his residences, in towns where the same are numbered, with the street, alley or court, in which situated, and if in a town where there are no numbers, the name of the street, alley, or court, on which said house fronts; also, the occupation of the party, and where he is not a housekeeper, the occupation, place of boarding, and with whom, and if working for another, the name of the employer. Where said party is a foreigner, and claims to vote by reason of naturalization, he shall exhibit his certificate thereof to the assessor, unless he shall have voted in the township, borough, ward or district at a preceding general election; and on extension of the certificate, the same shall be marked with the letter "N"; where the party has merely declared his intention to become a citizen, and designs to be naturalized before the next election, the name shall be marked D I; when the claim is to vote by reason of being between the ages of twenty-one and two, as provided by law, the word "age" shall be entered; and if the party has moved into the election district to reside since the last general election, the letter "M" shall be placed opposite the name; and in all the cases enumerated, a tax shall forthwith be assessed against the person.

Sec. 2. On the lists being completed and assessments made, as aforesaid, the same shall forthwith be returned to the county commissioners, who shall cause duplicate copies of said lists, with the observations and explanations required to be noted, as aforesaid, to be made out as soon as practicable and placed in the hands of the assessor, who shall, prior to the first of August next ensuing said assessment, put one copy thereof on the door of the house where the election of the respective district is required to be held, and retain the other in his possession for the inspection, free of charge, of any person resident within the said election district who shall desire to see the same; and it shall be the duty of said assessor to add, from time to time, on the personal application of any one claiming the right to vote, the name of such claimant and mark opposite the name "C. V.," and immediately assess him with a tax. On the fourteenth day preceding the general election in October next thereafter, it shall be the duty of the assessor to produce the list in his possession to the inspectors and judges of the election in the proper district, at a meeting to be held by them as hereinafter directed.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the inspectors and judge of the election, together with the assessor, to attend at the place of holding the general elections for the respective election districts, on Thursday, the twelfth day preceding the second Tuesday of October, and on the other days hereinafter mentioned, and continue in open session at said place from nine o'clock, a. m., till six o'clock, p. m., of said day, to hear proof of the right of the respective persons to vote whose names are contained in the assessor's list as before mentioned, or who shall apply to them to have their names registered; and all persons who have not previously voted in the election district shall make due proof in the manner now prescribed by the election laws of their right to vote in said district, and like proof shall be made in all cases by those applying for registry whose names are not enrolled by the assessor; and it shall then be the duty of the assessor to forthwith assess said person with a tax, as required by law, on the proof being made to the satisfaction of the election board. On the list of voters in the township being complete, it shall be the duty of the election officers aforesaid to cause duplicate copies thereof to be made out forthwith, in alphabetical order, one of which shall be placed on the door of the house where the elections are to be held, and the other retained by the judge of the election, who shall hold the same subject to the inspection of any citizen of said district, until the day of the general election, and produce the same thereat; and as each person whose name is enrolled votes at said election, one of the clerks thereof shall mark on or opposite to the name "voted," and it shall not be lawful for the officers of the election to receive the vote of any person whose name was not contained in said registry made out and put up ten days before the election as aforesaid, and the reception of the vote of any person not so registered shall constitute a misdemeanor in the election officers so receiving it, and on conviction thereof, the election officers so offending shall be subject to fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 4. It shall be lawful for any qualified citizen of the district, notwithstanding the name of the proposed voter is contained in the registry, and the right to vote has been passed on by the election board, to challenge the vote of such person, whereupon the same proof of the right of suffrage as is now required by law, shall be publicly made and again acted on by the election board, and the vote admitted or rejected according to the evidence. Every foreigner shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate at the election before voting as required by existing laws, although the same may have been exhibited to the election board before registry; and on the vote of such person being received, it shall be the duty of the election officers to cause to be distinctly written thereon the word "voted," with the month and year; and if any election officers, at the place or any other district, shall receive a second vote on the same day by virtue of such certificate, the persons so offending shall be guilty of high misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, be fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court: Provided, Said fine shall not exceed one hundred dollars, and the imprisonment shall not exceed one year; and like punishment may be inflicted on the officers of the election who shall neglect or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the endorsement required as aforesaid on said naturalization certificate.

Sec. 5. On the close of the polls at the registry list, on which the memorandum of the voting has been kept as before directed, shall be sealed up with and preserved in the same manner now required by law as to the tally papers, and not taken out until after the next meeting of the Legislature, unless required on the hearing of a contested election, or for the purpose of being used at the election of presidential electors, or preparatory thereto, as hereafter provided, after which it shall again be sealed up and carefully preserved as before directed.

Sec. 6. On the Thursday twelve days preceding every election for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, it shall be the duty of the election board and the proper assessor to meet at the place of holding the general election in the district, for the same length of time and in the manner directed in the third section of this act, and then and there hear all applications of persons whose names have been omitted from the registry and who claim the right to vote, or whose rights have originated since the same was made out, and add thereto the names of such persons as shall show that they are entitled to the right of suffrage in such district on the personal application of the claimant only, and if the person shall not have been previously assessed, it shall be the duty of the assessor forthwith to assess him with the proper tax. After completing the list, a copy thereof shall be placed on the door of the house where the election is to be held, at least ten days prior to holding the same, when the same course shall be pursued in every respect regarding the receiving or rejecting the votes, marking the same on the registry list, endorsing the naturalization papers with the proper month and year, preserving the paper, et cetera, as is required by this act at the general elections in October.

Sec. 7. For every special election directed by law, and at every city, ward, borough or township election, the registry required to be kept as aforesaid may be used by the proper officers as evidence that the persons entitled to vote thereat, and said officers shall require all persons whose names are not on the registry, whether challenged or not, to show that they possess the right of suffrage at said election, but nothing herein contained shall make said registry conclusive of the right of the person to vote at such election, but the same shall be judged of and decided as in other cases.

Sec. 8. Before entering on the duties of their offices under this act, the respective assessors and inspectors and judges of the elections shall take an oath, before some competent authority, in addition to the oaths now required by law, "to perform the several duties enjoined by this act with fidelity, and according to the requirements thereof in every particular to the best of their ability;" they shall each have the power to administer oaths to every person claiming the right to be assessed or enrolled, or the right of suffrage, or in regard to any other matter or thing required to be done or inquired into by said officers under this act; and any willful, false swearing by any person in relation to any matter or thing concerning which they shall be lawfully interrogated by any of said officers under this act shall be punished as perjury. Said assessors, inspectors and judges shall each receive the same compensation for the time necessarily spent in performing the duties hereby enjoined as is provided by law for the performance of their other duties, to be paid by the county commissioners as in other cases, with a proper allowance, to be judged of by the said commissioners, for the expense of making the lists or registries hereby required to be made out.

Sec. 9. On the petition of five or more citizens of the election district, stating under oath that they verily believe that frauds will be practiced at the election about to be held in said district, it shall be lawful for the court of common pleas of said county, if in session, or if not, a judge thereof in vacation, to appoint two persons, judicious, sober and intelligent citizens of the district, to act as overseers at said election. Said persons shall be selected from different political parties where the inspectors belong to different parties, and where both of said inspectors belong to the same political party, both of the overseers shall be taken from the opposite political party; and the overseers shall have the right to be present with the officers of the election during the whole time the same is held, the votes counted and returns made out and signed by the election officers, to keep a list of the votes, if they see proper, to challenge any person offering to vote and interrogate him and his witnesses, under oath, in regard to the right of suffrage at said election, to examine his papers produced; and the officers of said election are required to afford to said overseers, so selected and appointed, every convenience and facility for the discharge of their duty; and if said officers shall refuse to permit said overseers to be present and perform their duties as aforesaid, or they shall be driven away from the polls by violence or unreasonable intimidation, all of the votes polled at said election shall be rejected by any tribunal trying a contest under said election.

Sec. 10. If it shall be made to appear before any tribunal, trying a contested election, that more votes have been polled and returned, or returned only, than there are legal voters in the district, including those who were absent from the election, it shall be conclusive evidence of fraud in conducting the same, and the entire vote of the district shall be rejected.

Sec. 11. If any prothonotary, clerk, or the deputy of either, or any other person, shall affix the seal of office to any naturalization paper and give out the same in blank, whereby it may be fraudulently used, or furnish a naturalization certificate to any person who shall not have been duly examined and sworn, in open court, in presence of some of the judges thereof, according to the act of Congress, he shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and if any person shall fraudulently use any such certificate of naturalization, knowing that it was fraudulently issued, and shall vote, or attempt to vote thereon, he shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and either, or any of the persons, their aiders or abettors, guilty of either of the misdemeanors aforesaid, shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, and imprisoned in the proper penitentiary for a period not exceeding three years.

Sec. 12. If an inspector or judge of the election shall, from any cause, be entirely unable to attend at the place or perform the duties of his appointment, he may be at liberty to nominate a suitable qualified citizen of the district to act in his stead; if from death or legal inability no such nomination can be made, it shall be lawful for the inspector having the highest number of votes to appoint a person for judge to perform the duties enjoined; and if it is the inspector having the highest number of votes who is absent, it shall be lawful for the judge to supply his place by appointment; if the inspector having the smallest number of votes is, from any cause, unable to attend, a judge of the court of the proper county shall, on the petition of three or more citizens, fill his place by appointment, and shall make his selection from the opposite political party from the inspector having the highest number of votes. Such judge may also, by appointment, in case of a vacancy in the board from any cause, fill the same: Provided, There is no person designated by law to make the appointment, and in every case the person selected shall be a sober, judicious and qualified voter of the district.

Sec. 13. Any assessor, election officer, or person appointed as an overseer, who shall neglect or refuse to perform any duty enjoined by this act, without reasonable legal cause, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars; and if any assessor or election officer shall enroll any person as a voter who he shall know is disqualified, or refuse to enroll any one who he shall know is qualified, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, be punished by fine and imprisonment, and also be subject to an action for damages by the party aggrieved; and if any person shall fraudulently alter, add, deface or destroy any registry of voters, made out as directed by this act, or tear down or remove the same from the place where it has been fixed by or under the direction of the election officers, with like fraudulent or mischievous intent, or for any improper purpose, the person so offending shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisonment not exceeding two years.

Sec. 14. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to the city of Philadelphia.

ADJOURNMENT OVER.

Mr. BIGHAM. I move, Mr. Speaker, that when this House adjourn it adjourn to meet at three o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I move to amend by adding the following: That when this House adjourn to day it adjourn to meet on Tuesday morning next, at ten o'clock, A. M., and that we hold an afternoon and evening session on Tuesday next.

The SPEAKER. I have every disposition to accommodate the gentlemen of this House. But it is approaching the adjournment too rapidly not to be aware of the value of our time here. The business is still of a very large amount, of which two veto messages are not the least important. I need not enumerate the public bills awaiting our action; they are before the eyes of every gentleman on this floor. These considerations should not weigh lightly in determining this question of adjournment now.

Mr. BIGHAM. I would so modify my motion as to meet the wishes of the gentleman from Adams [Mr. M'CONAUGHY] as to the session next week, but I infer that his amendment is no substitute for a motion for an afternoon session.

Mr. FISHER. I hope the original motion of the gentleman from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM] will prevail, and that we will furthermore have a night session. The public business requires every available hour of our attention.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to explain my amendment. Monday next and the 1st day intervening are of the utmost importance to every man of business, particularly of gentlemen of my profession. In those two days an almost impossible amount of work must be done, which will find no other opportunity. It must be known, Mr. Speaker, that I have almost invariably voted against adjournments, and, for myself, I will say that I am willing to subordinate all matters of personal or professional business for the requirements of the public, where necessity demands it. But this is a peculiar case, one which must be regarded with unusual importance. Again, the public interests will not, as erroneously thought, suffer thereby. We can hold a session's next week, which will more than counterbalance the supposed loss of time. I understand we are in advance of the other House a comparatively large number of bills. There is no doubt but that nothing will be lost by this action.

Mr. DONOVAN. I would suggest to the Senator that we are not sent here to transact personal or professional business. Ours is a duty to the State.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, nothing could afford me more pleasure than to accommodate my friend, the gentleman from Adams [Mr. COXARCH]. But he must see that an adjournment until Tuesday morning will lose us too much valuable time, which cannot be made up. We need every meeting that we can possibly hold—not only those of to-day and to-night, but of to-morrow, and of Monday. Even then, I apprehend, we will leave a considerable amount of business unfinished. It is a lamentable fact that we have not touched that public calendar for three weeks. I cannot but insist upon our holding more sessions.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I shall consider this adjournment equivalent to saying to the Legislature and the country, that we cannot adjourn on the 11th. I so regard it, and am willing to go upon the record with that opinion. Sir, all the important business of the session is behind; the appropriation bill is not touched.

A VOICE. We have not got it here yet.

Mr. LOWRY. But I say, let us get our work out of the way to prepare for it. We cannot pass it in a day; but its importance demands that we should weigh it deliberately, session by session.

Mr. FISHER. I am, Mr. Speaker, just in the straits of the gentleman from Adams. The first of April is a most precious day in our country; but I see the necessity of our remaining here. We have the interests and business of our constituents in hand, and we ought to attend faithfully and fully to them. Therefore, I am in favor of taxing every hour for the benefit of the State. I, therefore, would suggest that a session be held to-night.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I am as much in favor of performing our duties completely as my colleague [Mr. FISHER], or as any other Senator on this floor. But I am placed, by the force of necessity, in such a position that, like many others, I cannot be here on Monday, whether a session be held or not. I think it is rather late to dwell on the public interest. There has been too wide a disposition to consider private bills and ignore those of a public character. I am sure a session to-morrow or Monday will not much benefit the public. As for myself, I will remain here day and night if the interests of the Commonwealth demand I should do it.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I take it that the day of adjournment will have to be postponed for about two months. We have before us business of too great a magnitude, and of too large an extent to admit of our pressing it within the brief space already allotted. The care and deliberation which public bills require will consume a much larger time. Now, I have strong reasons, as well as other gentlemen, why I should be at home. My private concerns are as important and pressing as perhaps those of any gentleman on this floor.

But I ignore them for the time being; I am here to give my attention, my time and my labor to a judicious legislation, and for that I would be willing to sit here on Sunday if gentlemen would suspend the Sunday law.

Mr. MC CONAUGHEY. Mr. Speaker, as I have been personally referred to, I deem it just to say this. During this session I have lost but one hour from my seat on this floor, except yesterday, when I was taken down with illness, from three to four and a half o'clock in the afternoon. I would not have alluded to this but for personal reflections made in the course of debate. I have labored conscientiously to discharge my public duties to the disregard of all others. I have totally neglected my own affairs. Therefore, I can justly ask that this day, the first of April, be allowed for the imperative demands of professional business, especially as no loss will thereby accrue to the State. We will devote just as much time to public business as we would otherwise.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). Mr. Speaker, I favor this proposition for an afternoon session, but I think we can go over until Tuesday without detriment. We generally meet once on Monday, and an extra session on Tuesday will fully make it up. One other remark. Mr. Speaker, we cannot fight against the law of nature. I believe we can do more work in six hours, and do it better, than in ten or twelve. I am glad the gentleman from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] has referred to suspending the Sunday law. It brings home to our minds the necessity and value of enjoying proper rest, both of body and of mind. I trust no one would be so unwise as this day to nullify the Sunday laws. I imagine that the air we breathe in this Chamber proves very pernicious to our systems. An interval is needed of proper length to give it ample ventilation. I hope we will not contend against what must benefit our own bodies and minds, and consequently the legislation of a great State.

Mr. COLEMAN. The gentleman from Lawrence [Mr. BROWNE] served in the armies of his country and in time of war. May I ask him whether, when the enemy forced battle on the Sabbath day, he urged a state of non-resistance on those whose cause was his cause?

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). The gentleman surely does not apply that principle here. As to the air here, which we breathe, I think it is very unwholesome at night, and I am in favor of but two sessions a day.

Mr. RIDGWAY. I favor an adjournment because I think the public interests will thereby be advanced.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would desire Senators to consider the number of public bills awaiting our action. There are nearly fifty or fifty important public bills. There is not a calendar of public bills which we have entirely finished, and one of them has suffered repeated postponement.

Mr. GLATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what bills on the public calendar are of so much importance. We have passed more public bills this session than during any session I have been here.

The SPEAKER. We have never finished the first calendar under the resolution of the gentleman from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE].

There may be many bills here of no importance, but we must dispose of them in one way or the other.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I would re-echo the objection that we legislate too much, and to manifest my sincerity, I move that we proceed to reconsider the vote.

The SPEAKER. I understood the gentleman yesterday to complain that he did not get the floor enough.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I appeal to my brother Senators that I have got the floor but very seldom.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not state that the gentleman got the floor more often than he ought to have, but that he complained on that account.

Mr. SEARIGHT. The Speaker is under a misapprehension. I remarked that I didn't get the floor at that time, and that in my opinion I was entitled to it, because I addressed the Chair first. My complaints were not general, but applied to that particular case.

Mr. BIGHAM. Some several Senators have intimated to me that we are in advance of our business and have time to spare. Let me say that the appropriation bill will soon reach us from the other House, and if we do our duty we will cut down that bill some million of dollars. If not we remain here inevitably. I take it for granted that the Governor will never sign such a bill.

On the motion of the gentleman from Adams [Mr. MC COXARCH].

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MC CANDLESS and Mr. FISHER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Davis, Glaz, James, MC Candles, MC Conaughy, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searight and Stutzman—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Donovan, Fisher, Haines, Jackson, Landon, Lowry, Shoemaker, Wallace, Walls, White, Worthington and Hall. Speaker—17.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Thy original motion was then

Agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE. I move to amend by adding that this afternoon session be devoted to the consideration of private bills to which there is no exception.

Mr. BIGHAM. I will accept it with the modification, after the orders are gone through with.

The amendment, without modification, was

Agreed to.

The motion was then

Agreed to.

VETO MESSAGE.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented the following message in writing from the Governor:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, March 28, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, without my approval, to the Senate, in which it originated, bill No. 808, entitled A supplement to an act incorporating the Celebrookdale railroad company, approved the 23d day of March, 1865.

The bill provides that the bonds of said company shall be exempt from all taxes, except State taxes, until the net receipts of said centum per annum upon the cost of construction. There is a constant pressure upon the Legislature to exempt various classes of property from taxation, and in deference to established precedents I have approved sundry acts exempting property held for religious and charitable purposes. Taxation, to be just, should be uniform, and, so far as practicable, its burdens should be made to bear alike on all property in proportion to its value. The real estate of the Commonwealth having been wholly exempted from taxation by law, it becomes necessary to guard with more care the remaining sources of revenue, to the end that all necessary expenditures may be honorably met. The bill herewith returned, being in violation of these general principles, cannot receive my signature.

It has been urged that this railroad is a short one, and that the amount of taxes upon its bonds would be so insignificant as to be of no practical importance. This may be so, yet long or short, it clearly embraces the principle of exempting railroad bonds from taxation; and if the principle be once conceded, every railroad company in the State would insist upon its application to them.

I embrace this occasion to recommend to the Senate greater care in framing titles to bills, in compliance with the eighth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution, which requires that the subject of every bill "shall be clearly set forth in its title." I would feel justified in returning this bill for this cause alone. To call a bill "a supplement," will not "clearly indicate" the object, and in many cases convey no idea whatever of the contents of the bill.

J. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the Senate proceeded to the reconsideration of the bill referred to in the foregoing message.

The bill being again before the Senate,

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Coleman and Davis—2.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Cowles, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, James, Landon, Searight, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring on the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill,

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I have but a word to say, sir, before this vote is taken. That bill, introduced as it has been, a bill of these provisions to be run through under the suspension of the rules, without having been referred to a committee, without having been printed and laid upon the desks of members, without giving the members of this House any chance, whatever, to consider its provisions, appears to me one of the greatest outrages that has been attempted to be perpetrated upon this House during the entire session.

I have only been able, from hearing the bill read, to form some faint conceptions of its character and proportions. Some of its objectionable features were brought out in the discussion when it was before us last week, but the enormity of the bill remains yet concealed from our vision. What, I ask, are the provisions of this bill? Nothing more nor less than to establish one of the most outrageous monopolies that was ever asked for by any man or set of men in this community —a monopoly requiring every hoof of cattle, hogs and sheep to be driven into one particular yard, to pass through that yard and to be there inspected. Not that I object to having an inspection for cattle and for meats of all kinds; for that I would give my vote. But when you allow me, sir, at the entrance of this town, to erect a gate and compel every vehicle that passes into this town to pass that gate and pay toll, I am sure that you are committing an outrage upon the community that they should and would protest against.

The bill before us now, which has once been fairly defeated, is precisely of that character. These sweeping features in its provisions, grasp every pound of meat that passes into the city of Philadelphia, compelling it to pass through this ordeal and to empty the treasure of the State into this corporation. If these gentlemen came before us with a bill, fair in its proportions, asking us to establish a gate and toll for hogs and sheep, that bill I would be glad to give them an inspector of meat, I should vote for that bill. But when they come here asking for a bill to compel us to forsake every other yard, to compel us to pass by every other yard, and to pour our entire stock through that yard, I do contend, sir, that it is asking more than this House will agree to give. If I am mistaken in this, then, sir, I am more mistaken in my estimate of the integrity of the members on this floor than I have ever been in any set of men in my life. We know, sir, the influences that have been brought to bear on this subject. We were told that this bill would be modified to meet our views on the subject, but instead of that we are met with the same bill, containing the same obnoxious features—the very same bill itself.

Why is this, sir? Where is the influence that will reconsider the bill now before us after the vote that was taken, the very decided vote against it when it was last before the House? There is a reason for it—there is a reason, sir, for this vote, and I hold that men upon this floor will be held accountable for that vote.

I trust that if this bill has to be passed at all, it will first be printed; that its details will be laid before us, and that we may have an opportunity to examine it.

Now, if this is an honest, upright bill that any honest, upright man can support, it need not fear the light of day, it need not fear to come before us in a printed form on our tables; but if it is one of those snakes that would crawl through this House in the dark, I can see why its passage should be insisted upon in this manner.

Against this bill I must protest, and I hope the good sense of the members of this House will vote down this monster as they did before.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, we have certainly listened to a most extraordinary effort.

The gentleman starts out by saying that this bill is kept in the dark and nobody knows anything about it, and then leads off with a volume of unjustifiable invectives that have not been equalled in this house during the session. Now, I say that the gentleman from Lancaster is utterly mistaken in everything that he has uttered about this bill. Everything he has uttered in relation to this bill is mistaken in the first place, it does not require every hoof that comes into the city of Philadelphia to go into this single yard.

This bill requires no such thing; not a single hoof raised in the county of Lancaster need go into that yard, and may go into the city of Philadelphia and be sold. That is the fact with reference to this bill, as the reading of it will show. Everybody knows that the bill was not before the House before that, it was not read, and that it was under just such denunciations that it was postponed. I say that this bill looks to the protection of the city of Philadelphia against the encroachments of those who would poison us with foul meats, and it is proper and right that we should be thus protected. The gentleman from Lancaster says clearly that he has no objection to that. We do not want rinderpest, or anything of the kind, to come into our city, and we do not propose to have it if we can help it. We regard our health as too important for that.

Now, this bill provides, sir, that every ox, sheep or hog that comes into Philadelphia for slaughter shall be inspected, and I want to know what objection the gentlemen can urge against that?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. I would like to inquire of the gentleman—where are they to be inspected? Does not this bill require that they shall all be inspected in this yard?

Mr. LEE. I asked the gentleman the simple question, what objection he has to having meats that we have to eat inspected, and in reply he asks where they are to be inspected. That is no answer to my question. What is the difference where, or how, or by whom, they are inspected, so that we are secured?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that I have no objection to their being inspected; I would have no objection to the appointment of an inspector to go around to the different yards. As I said, I have no objection to the inspection; but what I object to is the compelling of everything to be inspected in that yard. What I oppose is this monopoly.

Mr. LEE. The provisions of this bill do not require that a single hoof, that a single sheep, hog, or anything else raised in Lancaster county, or any other county in this Commonwealth, need be inspected in that yard. Now, is the gentleman satisfied with a provision of that sort?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. I would like to hear the bill read.

The bill was read.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, now, sir, I think the reading of the bill fully corroborates what I have said. Any party may go into Lancaster county, into Bucks county, or into Montgomery county and purchase cattle directly for their own slaughter houses, and this yard can have nothing earthly to do with it, because it says purchased for slaughter in the city of Philadelphia. The only thing the bill provides against, and it is all we ask it to provide against, is that we shall not have this impure meat driven into our city and sold in the markets. I ask any man, any reasonable man, whether this is not right, whether it is not proper that the community should be protected in this respect? Why, I heard a man say in opposition to this bill, "if it is passed we cannot take into our markets our old cows that have lost their teeth and tails and sell them for beef, because we will have to take them to this inspector." I say that it does not even go as far as it ought to go. I say that when a man has fed his cows on swill until they have lost their teeth and tails he ought not to take them into the city of Philadelphia and sell them for beef. We also want to provide against these cattle from the west, poor and otherwise unfit for beef, being slaughtered there.

The gentleman from Montgomery [Mr. SATTERTHWAIT] objected to the bill because they could not send their little calves down and sell them to go to Jersey. There is nothing in the bill that prevents that. There is nothing that prevents the taking any cattle from the west and selling them to go elsewhere, but when they bring them into the city of Philadelphia to be slaughtered, I ask why this House will not protect us in that particular?

It is but just, proper and reasonable. What we want to provide against by this bill, is allowing the gentlemen from Lancaster, or anybody else, to drive his unhealthy cattle into Philadelphia, and sell them to the butchers, to be slaughtered there. We all know that they slaughter their best meat for their own market, and that when it is not fit for their own market, they sell them in the city of Philadelphia, with shiners and other things in the streets.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I am satisfied, after the reading of this bill carefully as it has been by the Clerk, that the House will bear me out in the assertion that I made in the outset that it is an iniquitous bill, gotten up for the express purpose, and nothing else, of creating a monopoly for this company. I have said that I have no objections to the inspection of meats. I am perfectly satisfied, and would vote for an inspector of meats in the city of Philadelphia, if it is desired. That is not what I object to. But I do object, and the reading of the bill bears me out in the assertion that I made, to requiring every hoof to be driven through this yard. Every hoof of cattle, sheep, hogs and calves must pass through that yard, be there weighed, and have the inspector's seal before they can be sold, and the violator subjects himself to a severe penalty if he does not submit his cattle there to be inspected. That is the ground of my opposition to this bill. I will agree to the establishment of yards by the half dozen or the dozen around the city of Philadelphia, for the accommodation of drovers for the reception of stock, there to be slaughtered, but I will not, sir, agree that any corporation of this kind shall establish their yard through which every hoof that comes from Jersey or from Delaware, or wherever else, must be driven through the city or around the city and be obliged to pass through that yard. Who, with common sense controlling his actions, would support a measure of this kind? I consider it an express outrage, and the gentleman who brought it here intends to perpetrate an outrage, not only upon the people of this Legislature, but upon the people of this entire community; aye, sir, to establish an inquiry at the portals of the city of Philadelphia, and were I a western man I would pass your city and put my cattle into another market—that would make you buy your beef there. No man in pursuit of his legitimate business would, I think, submit to such a monopoly as this.

Talk about your toothless and tailless cows that they have in the Philadelphia market! It is proverbial that the best cattle that are sold in the city of Philadelphia come from the county of Lancaster.

Mr. LEE. Will the gentleman permit me to ask him a question? What earthly harm can an inspection do to those cattle?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. I do not object to the inspection of those cattle. I find no fault with your inspection. It is the monopoly that is created by this immense corporation—the soulless corporation—instituted to grasp everything, and drive out of existence every other good that has been established, and to drive to poverty and ruin the men who have invested their all in the yards around the city of Philadelphia, and to pour everything into the maw of this giant corporation. There is where I find fault, and why I protest against this monstrosity.

I hope, sir, viewing this matter as it appears to my mind, and as I am satisfied it must present itself to every candid and reasoning man on this floor, that this bill will receive its quietus at the hands of this Legislature.

Mr. SHARPLES. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House for consideration before, I presented a remonstrance against the passage of a bill of this character. I was given to understand that the bill would be changed in its provisions to meet the objections to it, but I do not notice that there has been any change made.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that he has permitted a wide range of debate on the question before the House. The bill is not before the House; it is the second section, and the question is on the indefinite postponement of the bill. The Chair trusts that in addressing the House, members will address themselves to the question before the House.

Mr. JOSEPHS. Mr. Speaker, if it is in order, I would like to have a petition read. It is a petition signed by Mr. Price and other prominent gentlemen of the city of Philadelphia, representing five millions of dollars worth of property, asking that this drove yard, in the western part of the city, may be removed.

The petition was partly read by the Clerk. Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I would ask what bearing this petition has on the question under discussion. I cannot understand that it has any bearing whatever. I would like to be informed if it has. I do not see that the removal of this yard has anything to do with the bill under discussion. I object to the further reading of the petition. It certainly has nothing to do with the question before us.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps the gentleman had better withdraw his objections until the Clerk has further proceeded in his reading of it. The Chair has been unable to learn the drift of it.

The Clerk resumed the reading of the petition.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what that petition has to do with the second section of this bill?

Mr. QUITLEY. Mr. Speaker, I trust that gentlemen will allow this petition to be read. I understand that it has some bearing on the question before the House. It is signed by some of the most prominent men in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. SHARPLES. Mr. Speaker, if my remarks had no bearing on the question before the House, I do not see how this petition has.

Mr. JOSEPHS. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the petition.

On the question, Will the House agree to the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ARMSTRONG and Mr. STEACY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Armstrong, Barrington, Boyle, Brown, Chadwick, Colville, Craig, Day, Deise, Espy, Ewing, Gordon, Harner, Jenks, Jones, Kurtz, Leech, Linton, M'Creary, M'Pherrin, Maish, Mann, Marks, Meily, Meyers, Peter, Phelan, Quay, Quigley, Richards, Robinson, Sharples, Steacy, Stehman, Tharr, Wallace and Weller—37.

NAYS—Messrs. Adair, Barton, Cameron, Chase, Davis, DeHaven, Donohugh, Fogel, Freeborn, Ghegan, Gregory, Harbison, Headman, Heltzel, Hoffman, Hood, Hunt, Josephs, Kennedy, Kerns, Kinney, Kline, Koon, Lee, Long, M'Keel, Mullin, Pillow, Rhoads, Roush, Scier, Shuman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Watt, Webb, Westbrook, Wharton, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall and Glass, Sparker—42.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring, Will the House agree to the second section of the bill?

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I have listened carefully to the reading of this bill, and if I correctly understood its provisions it does create a monstrous monopoly. It seems to me that it has no parallel in the previous history of this State—a monopoly of the character that is provided for in this bill; yet the gentleman from Philadelphia denies it. He says that there are modifications and restrictions which prevent its being of this character. I know it is difficult to understand a bill by merely hearing it read from the Clerk's desk.

You cannot catch very accurately the provisions of a bill thus read. And I think that this bill is of the importance that requires that it should be printed and laid upon the desks of members, that they may see if it is of the character mentioned by the gentleman from Lancaster, or if there are those modifications and restrictions as asserted by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

I, therefore, move that this bill be postponed until Friday next, and printed and laid upon the desks of members.

Mr. JOSEPHS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that will not be done. The gentleman knows very well that if this is done it will be too late entirely to pass this bill. Next Friday will be within four or five days of the final adjournment, and there would be no use in trying to pass it then.

I hope the motion will not prevail. Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I trust that the motion will carry; if the bill is examined, I feel confident that it will not be passed, although it may be that my impressions on this subject are wrong; it may be that it is not of that monstrous character which it seems upon the reading. I trust that this Legislature will not pass a bill which appears to be of this character without having an opportunity to examine it.

Mr. JOSEPHS. Mr. Speaker, if the bill can be printed by Wednesday morning, and made the special order, I would be satisfied to have it go over until then.

I move to amend the motion by making it the special order for Wednesday morning next at 9 o'clock, and that it be printed.

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I will accept that modification.

The question being on agreeing to the motion,

It was

Agreed to.

OBJECTED BILLS ON PRIVATE CALENDAR.

The following bills on the list of objected bills of the private calendar were taken up and acted upon as stated:

No. 934, an act authorizing the gas committee of councils of the city of Philadelphia to attend all meetings of the Philadelphia gas trust.

When the bill was last under consideration,

Mr. DEHAVEN offered the following amendment:

To come in at the end of the preamble:

"And have asked the said trustees to permit their committees to be present at the meetings of said trustees, which the said trustees have refused.

At the end of first section:

"And it shall be the duty of the said trustees, and they are hereby required to permit the committee on gas to attend all their meetings."

The question being on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. DEHAVEN,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DEHAVEN and Mr. GREGORY, and were as follow, viz:

Yeas—Messrs. Adams, Armstrong, Barrington, Barton, Brean, Brennan, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Chalfant, Chase, Collins, Colville, Craig, Day, DeHaven, Deise, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Fogel, Freeborn, Gordon, Gregory, Harner, Headman, Heltzel, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Josephs, Kennedy, Kline, Koon, Kurtz, Leech, Linton, Long, M'Pherin, Maish, Meyers, Mullin, Peter, Phelan, Quigley, Rhoads, Richards, Robinson, Roush, Steacy, Wallace, Weller, Westbrook, Wharton, Wingard, Worrall and Glass, Speaker—57.

Nays—Messrs. Davis, Ghegan, Harbison, Hoffman, Jones, Keris, Kinney, Lee, M'Creary, McKee, Mann, Marks, Quay, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Stehman, Watt, Webb and Woodward—20.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring on agreeing to the bill,

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this question will undoubtedly occupy the whole evening if the Philadelphia delegation get into a regular brawl over it, as I presume they will. I just wish to say, sir, that I think the Philadelphia gas trust is composed of as honorable gentlemen as the city of Philadelphia or the State of Pennsylvania has. I look upon this bill as a direct insult to them, and I move its indefinite postponement.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, I hope this motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. DAVIS] will not prevail.

The people of Philadelphia are a unit in asking for any legislation that will tend to relieve them of this heartless and gigantic monopoly. No movement will be more popular with all classes than one that will throw some light on the management, or rather mismanagement, of the gas trust. They are at the mercy of their own servants, and ask you for assistance. Why if (as has been remarked by some of the friends of this monopoly on this floor)—why, I say, if everything is carried on so justly and fairly, is this opposition to the prayers of the people in seeking for information and enlightenment? Why do they set themselves above all law and authority? Let this Legislature take upon themselves to say that this trust is not all powerful and the people will say amen. Will their friends contend that the law making body of this Commonwealth is subservient to a private trust? Suppose it is not a corporation, as has been remarked by my colleague from Philadelphia [Mr. KERIS], and for that reason we have no right to question what they do. We had better make it such if it requires that to bring it within the pale of authority. The abuses of this trust, Mr. Speaker, have gone so long unchecked that I can truly believe that they are all powerful. Incompetent men, having no knowledge whatever of gas fitting, are appointed inspectors of metres. These men examine as to the amount of gas consumed by the people of Philadelphia, and no matter if your bills are double or treble the amount you think you should justly pay, you are at their mercy, and you must pay or be deprived of your light, and you have no redress. There is no law to reach them, even if you are certain you are being swindled. Better have a soulless corporation than so long unchecked a trust, whose powers cannot be curtailed by the Legislature of the Commonwealth.

In the name of and in behalf of over half a million people in the cruel grasp of this all powerful "council of twelve," we of Philadelphia cry for mercy.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I have no disposition to detain the House on this question, but I think I understand the matter as well as my friend on the other side of the House [Mr. GREGORY]. I know, sir, that for the last year there has been a persistent effort on the part of men connected with the government of the city of Philadelphia to bring odium on this gas trust. But they have failed and failed signally. It is merely ridiculous for any government to say that the entire people of Philadelphia are in favor of a bill of this kind. I represent as intelligent a constituency as any member on this floor, and not a single constituent of mine has asked me to vote for a measure of this kind. They have never, sir, asked me to strike a blow at honorable men in my own party who are as good as dead in another party's desire. I know that if there ever was a party question in the world this is one of them.

Mr. DEHAVEN. Mr. Speaker, my colleague brings this up as a party question. I introduced this bill at the instance of Mr. Fox, a good Republican as anybody, and a much better one than many here. I have never consulted any one of opposite politics on this question. If you will read the public press you will find nearly every day letters from the people of Philadelphia, protesting against the monopoly of this gas trust. It has been asserted that I introduced this bill on account of my gas bill being high. I disclaim anything of the kind, and affirm that there is no foundation for the assertion.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, now, sir, I did not know, really, until the present time, that my colleague introduced this bill. I was not here when it was discussed before, nor has any person spoken to me on either side in reference to the bill. This contest has been going on for more than a year. It is a prosecution against this gas trust composed of gentlemen, a majority of whom I happen to know and whose character will compare favorably with the same number of gentlemen anywhere in the State of Pennsylvania.—Those gentlemen happen to be, at the present time, all Republicans, and I do not blame the Democratic party for opposing them. Any man can go there and see what is going on in this gas trust if he will go there like a man. All the officers are willing to be sworn, and to give all the information required.

Mr. DEHAVEN. I would ask if the chief engineer and cashier were willing to be sworn?

Mr. DAVIS. They were willing before anybody that had the authority to administer an oath.

Now, I wish to enter my protest against the Legislature of Pennsylvania meddling with a trust selected for their integrity, honesty and high standing among the people. There is one from my district, and there is no superior to him in the district. They are scattered all over the city, and is this Legislature going to pass a law here, to-night, casting odium upon these men when there is no evidence, here or elsewhere, that they have ever done anything wrong?

Mr. DEHAVEN. Mr. Speaker, I perhaps know more about the gas trust than anybody else here, from an office I formerly held connected with it, and I know that there are things done in that board that are not square.

Mr. FREEBORN. Mr. Speaker, while I doubt the propriety of a committee of councils going out to the meetings of this trust, still if the position gentlemen take, that anybody has a right there, is correct, I cannot see how the passage of this act can do any harm. I know that the people of Philadelphia are apparently almost unanimously in favor of this bill, and I shall support it.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I am as much interested in the bill as any man on the floor of this House. I use the gas manufactured by this trust, and if there was any good to grow out of the passage of the bill, I would cheerfully vote for it. But there is not a man, from the beginning to the end of this discussion, who has told us how the admission of the committee could affect this trust in any. This trust is controlled for bondholders, and nobody has a right to go in there. The only way I can see for the city of Philadelphia to get control of this matter, is to pay off these bonds and take it into its own management. I would ask my friends from Philadelphia how the admission of the people can possibly have any result other than to gratify an idle curiosity?

Mr. DEHAVEN. The point is, if we can manufacture gas at two dollars per thousand and pay six per cent. interest, the people of Philadelphia ought not to be made to pay one dollar more.

Mr. LEE. That is no answer to my question, because it does not answer how this bill can affect that. The gentleman does not attempt to tell how the admission of a dozen men in the meetings of that gas trust can affect this matter. The trustees are managing that trust for bondholders. We got the money to erect these gas works and to carry on the manufacture of gas, upon the condition that this trust should be vested in these men, acting in their fiduciary capacity, and they have no right to be interfered with by anybody. If the city of Philadelphia can manufacture gas at two dollars a thousand, it does it cheaper than any other city in the Union.

Mr. KERIS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this question, this gas trust stands between the city of Philadelphia and the loan holders, and they have as good right to come here and ask that they shall be admitted to the meetings of this trust as that the council shall be admitted. In reading over this bill, I see that it says:

"And whereas, The councils of the city of Philadelphia have the power, and do elect, said trustees."

It has the power and does elect them, and it is for the council to elect good men. Now, they propose to admit twelve more. They have twelve already, and this additional twelve will make twenty-four in that trust.

On two different occasions I find that there have been cases decided against them in the Supreme Court, where they have tried to force themselves into this trust. I will again read from the opinion that I read when the question was last before the House:

It is clear, therefore, that the councils cannot now interfere without the consent of those whose funds they borrowed upon the faith of this pledge. To do so would be to strike a dangerous blow at all public credit, which it should ever be our study to strengthen and uphold. Accordingly we find that the Supreme Court has twice pronounced against any interference by council with the management of this trust.—Western saving fund vs. City, 7 Casey, 175; Western saving fund vs. City, 7 Casey, 185. I am, for these reasons, of the opinion that the trustees cannot, as to the control and management of the works, be interfered with by any ordinance of councils, and that they are entirely independent of any such legislation.

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

F. CARROLL BREWSTER,
City Solicitor.

Now, I look upon this as nothing more than a matter gotten up for the purpose of making political capital by the members of the Democratic party of the city of Philadelphia. This discussion has taken up sufficient time here to-night, and I trust the matter will be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. QUIGLEY, Mr. Speaker, I hold in my hand a report of a special committee appointed by a Republican council to investigate the affairs of this trust. That committee was composed of five gentlemen, as respectable and as trusty as any five men on this floor or in this State. In running over this report, I find that it is signed by Mr. Page, chairman, and Messrs. Hopkins, Grey, Barlow and Wagoner. There were three Republicans on that committee, and in their report, over their signatures, they say that this gas trust is rotten, and is reeking with corruption. It states in one place how by a certain contract, they made over six thousand dollars. In another place, there is testimony showing that stop-cocks were bought at forty dollars a hundred, and sold to the gas trust for ninety dollars a hundred. This is a large book, and from beginning to end, it is full of this kind of testimony. The attempt to make this a political question is a mere dodge, for gentlemen well know that the Republicans are largely in the majority in councils, and have been for years. If there is nothing wrong; if this gas trust is conducted in the manner in which it ought to be; if they deal honestly and fairly with the bondholders, and they deal justly with the people of Philadelphia, why need they object to having anybody present at their meetings? A short time ago a resolution was offered to admit the reporters for the press, but that was voted down.

Mr. KERNS. When the Democratic party were in the majority in that trust a resolution was offered for this same thing, and it was then voted down.

Mr. QUIGLEY. I am not talking for political parties at all. I find just as much fault with the trust when it was managed by Democrats as now. Here is a trust controlled to all intents and purposes by the councils of the city of Philadelphia. The trustees are elected in joint convention by the councils of the city of Philadelphia, and just so soon as they are elected they shut their doors and do not work in the dark. They do not even allow the council to examine their books. I think the public have the right to investigate the affairs of a department in the city of Philadelphia or anywhere else. Where is there another department in the city of Philadelphia where the public are refused admittance?

In all other departments the public, and the reporters for the press, can go in. Yet, the business of this gas trust, which interests, to a great extent, every man, woman and child in the city of Philadelphia, is conducted with shut doors, and not even the whole body of councilmen they would not object to it. There must be something wrong or they would not be here, and through the gentleman from the Fifteenth district, and through the gentleman from the Eighth district, objecting to the bill. It is not a party question and cannot possibly be made such. I knew nothing about the bill until it came up here. The bill was introduced by a Republican, and unless some better reason is presented than has already been given for the indefinite postponement of the bill, I trust the House will vote that motion down.

The question being on the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Mr. ALLEN, from the Committee on Corporations, reported Senate bill No. 791, an act for the better protection of seamen in the port and harbor of Philadelphia, with a negative recommendation.

Mr. LEE, Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Local Judiciary.

Mr. JOSEPHS, I hope not, Mr. Speaker. I can see no good reason why that should be done, unless the gentleman can give one. I hope the House will not agree to his motion.

Mr. LEE, Mr. Speaker, I propose to give a good reason why this bill should be recommitted. It ought never to have been reported. Under the law as it stands, if I am correct in my knowledge, the grossest outrage of which you can conceive are perpetrated upon the seamen.

Mr. JOSEPHS, Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. I want to know whether it is in order to debate a question of this kind.

The SPEAKER, It is in order to discuss the motion to recommit although not in order to discuss the merits of the bill.

Mr. LEE, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said he could see no good reason for recommitting this bill; I was proceeding to give a good reason for it. I will only say one thing further: That on last Sunday one hundred seamen that were attending a place of seamen's worship voted in favor of repealing this bill that was passed last winter.

Mr. GREGORY, Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. This has nothing to do with the recommitment of the bill.

The SPEAKER, The gentleman must confine his remarks to the question of recommitting the bill.

Mr. LEE, Then, Mr. Speaker, I hope, for the sake of the seamen who are being swindled, that this bill will be recommitted.

Mr. BARTON, Mr. Speaker, I unite my voice with that of the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE] in favor of the recommitment of this bill. It now comes before this House with a negative recommendation. It is one of the most righteous measures, in my judgment, that has been brought before this session, and coming with a negative recommendation, it would perhaps prejudice the passage of the bill. Another reason for the recommitment is that the friends of the measure desire an opportunity to present their reasons to the committee why the bill should pass, and I trust that they will be afforded this opportunity.

Mr. ARMSTRONG, Mr. Speaker, I most heartily unite my voice with the gentleman who have preceded me in hoping that this bill be recommitted. Why a bill of this character should have ever found its way into the Committee on Corporations is more than I am able to account for. By some mistake or other, it got into that committee, and there it was choked and smothered until very near the last hour of the session, and then reported to this House from that committee with a negative recommendation.

Mr. STEWART, Mr. Speaker, I would state that that bill was only referred to that committee last week.

Mr. ARMSTRONG, Mr. Speaker, I care not when it was referred; it was not the proper committee to have charge of a bill of that kind, and we now ask that it may be re-committed to a committee, so that the parties deeply interested in its behalf may have an opportunity of being heard. The seamen are a class of men that should be protected against the merciless sharks that now have them in their hands, and in the name of those seamen we ask that this bill be re-committed.

Mr. DONOHUGH, Mr. Speaker, I have one other good reason for asking that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on the Local Judiciary and that is this: The Committee on Corporations are prejudiced against this bill. I will state one fact: While the committee were in session considering the bill the Speaker of the House sent word to the committee that their actions were not legal, as the House was in session and without a quorum; and in the very face of that they voted to pass the bill.

Mr. ADAIRE, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lancaster says that this was not the proper committee to which this bill should go, I, being a member of that committee, will say I was in favor of the bill. The bill was not smothered; it was in the committee but three days; we had two hearings on the bill and it was reported with a negative recommendation. I do not think the committee had any disposition to smother the bill. The committee gave it a hearing as soon as it came before them, and the parties that were interested were heard and the committee saw fit to report it with a negative recommendation.

Mr. ALLEN, Mr. Speaker, as it seemed my duty to report that bill, and as the gentleman from Lancaster has insinuated that there was a disposition to smother it in committee. I feel it my duty to say that the bill was acted upon, as I understand, very promptly in that committee. I was present at the time and all I heard in regard to the bill was the statement by a Senator in contradiction of the statements for the bill. I must say that so far as the statements made before the committee were concerned, the evidence was in opposition to the bill. If the friends of the bill had evidence to present before the committee, I will say, sir, it was their duty to present that evidence there. Now, I take no sides against this bill; if it is proper it should pass, but I will say in justice to that committee that if there was any fault it was in not presenting the evidence to that committee before the bill was acted upon. If the members who had charge of the bill were in favor of it in presenting it they should have presented what evidence they had before the committee; but so far as any statements made before that committee are concerned, they were all strongly in opposition to the bill.

Mr. DONOHUGH, Mr. Speaker, the opponents of the bill were before the committee and were fully heard before we received word from the Speaker that our presence was required in the House; and the friends of the bill did not have an opportunity to present their reasons for the bill.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I happen to be a member of the Committee on Corporations, and I am very much surprised at the charge made by the gentleman from Lancaster. He certainly could have known nothing at all about the matter. There was no disposition on the part of the committee to smother the bill at all. The Committee on Corporations met the very night that the bill was presented in this House. The friends of the bill were heard and heard fully; the opponents of the bill did not then know that there was such a bill in the House, and the committee postponed the further consideration of the bill until the next evening, and made it the special order in order to give the opponents of the bill an opportunity of being heard. The bill was considered at the next meeting fully, and the friends of the bill had every opportunity of being heard; they were heard the first night, the opponents of the bill the next night, and the committee then reported the bill as it has been reported to this House.

do not wish to discuss the merits of the bill, but I think the Committee on Corporations, to which the bill was referred, gave it as much consideration as any other committee could have given it at two sittings. It was discussed fully; the gentleman from Philadelphia was heard fully, and the friends of the bill certainly ought not to find fault with the opponents of the bill, because they had every opportunity in the world to present their views and the reasons why the bill should pass.

Mr. ADAIRE. Mr. Speaker, I do not find any fault with the committee.

I advocated the passage of the bill, and advocated the report of the bill with an affirmative recommendation, but the committee saw fit to report otherwise.

The question being on, referring the bill to the Committee on Local Judiciary, it was

Agreed to.

BILL PASSED.

On motion of Mr. EWING, House bill No. 1574, an act relating to taxation for school purposes in the school district of Canonsburg, in the county of Washington, Reported from committee, was taken up. The rules were suspended, and the bill Passed finally.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. JENKS. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House to offer a resolution.

Consent was given.

Mr. JENKS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House, when it adjourns Wednesday afternoon, adjourn to meet at 7 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of considering House bill No. 1124, entitled, An act to authorize the formation of railroad companies.

The question being on agreeing to the resolution,

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I trust the resolution will not be adopted. This bill will come up in its regular order, and that is the proper way to consider it. I do not see why this special session should be had for its consideration. Let it come up in its regular order.

Mr. JENKS. Mr. Speaker, it is already very late in the session, members on both sides of the House are pledged to a general railroad law. The people understood that such a law would be passed this winter, and they desire this Legislature to embody their will in a law. It is now so late in the session that we cannot do so unless we take it up in the way indicated by that resolution. The bill is so far down on the calendar that it cannot be reached in its regular order. I therefore hope the House will pass this resolution, and then enable us to discharge the duty that rests upon us.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, that is just the very reason why I am opposed to this resolution. The friends of a free railroad law ought to have brought the matter before the House before this time. If they were pledged to it last fall they certainly attempt to bring it up at a very late day. I therefore trust the House will not make a special session for that purpose.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I think the reason given by the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. QUIGLEY] for objecting to this bill is a very poor one indeed. If the friends of a free railroad law have been liberal in waiting I think that is no reason why gentlemen should now say that it is too late. I think it is better than never at this time, and I trust the resolution will pass.

The resolution was Agreed to.

Mr. M'KEE, an act to incorporate the Triumph Oil Pipe transportation company.

Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. M'KEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the committee be discharged from the further consideration of the bill.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the House will not discharge the committee. The gentleman is very well aware that that bill has entire reference to my county. It has but little reference, if any, to his county. I consider it a very injurious kind of legislation, and I hope the House will refuse to discharge the committee.

Mr. M'KEE. Mr. Speaker, although it is in the gentleman's county some of my constituents are very largely interested in that county, and I desire the committee to be discharged, so that they can have a fair hearing on the floor of the House.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I will say for the information of the House that the bill the gentleman has presented is one which meets with the entire opposition of my constituents. It has reference neither to a locality in the county which the gentleman from Allegheny [Mr. M'KEE] represents, nor, with the ex-option of one or two individuals, it has no reference to his constituents. The members who were here last winter are well aware that I have always opposed this principle of tubing. I now ask that this bill may go before a committee for investigation. I hope the members of this House will do simply in this matter as they would be done by, and refer the bill where it ought to go, to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. M'KEE. If I am not mistaken, the gentleman has already passed a bill incorporating a tubing company for his own county.

Mr. ALLEN. Never, since I have been a member of this House, have I passed a tubing bill. I have always opposed the principle of tubing, and have always opposed any such bill before the House.

Mr. WIN*ARD. Mr. Speaker, I would certainly be the last man to interfere with the local legislation of any gentleman; but I have charge of a bill for a tubing company, and I understand that the people of the county through which the tube is to be run are not opposed to it. It has been in the Committee on Corporations for about six weeks, and I suppose it will remain there until the day of judgment. I am not disposed to interfere with the legislation of the gentleman from Warren [Mr. ALLEN], but I do have sympathy with any man who has a tubing bill, if that bill is to go to the Committee on Corporations; and I shall therefore vote to discharge the committee.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lycoming [Mr. WINGARD] was pumping away at the same thing for the same purpose last winter. He was, of course, disappointed, and now proposes to help anybody else to accomplish what he failed to do himself.

The SPEAKER having withdrawn his decision referring the bill to the Committee on Corporations, the question was on agreeing to lay the bill on the table.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'KEE and Mr. CHADWICK, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Breen, Cameron, Chadwick, Chase, Davis, Day, De Haven, Ewing, Harner, Hoffman, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Josephs, Kennedy, Kline, Lee, Leech, Linton, M'Camant, M'Kee, Peter, Phelan, Pillow, Rhoads, Seiler, Weller, Westrook and Glass, Speaker—30.

NAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Barrington, Barton, Brown, Chalfant, Espy, Freeborn, Harbison, Headman, Jones, Kerus, Kinney, Mann, Melly, Meyers, Mullin, Quay, Quigley, Richards, Roush, Satterthwaite, Sharples, Shuman, Stehman, Subers, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Whann, Wingard and Woodward—43.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the bill was referred to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. DONOHUGH moved that the said bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration of the bills upon the private calendar;

Whereupon,

Senate bill No. 136, entitled An act exempting the Ladies' United aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church of Philadelphia from taxation.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, I hope that will not pass. The House has already passed, by a large majority, a bill defining the properties to be exempt from taxation in the city of Philadelphia. If this is a purely charitable institution, it will be excepted under the provisions of the general bill.

Mr. DONOHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will pass. I desired to offer an amendment to that bill to cover just such institutions as this. The amendment was rejected. This is a purely benevolent institution.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of the bill as drawn by the committee, all purely charitable institutions are exempt from taxation.

I hope there will be no attempt by the members of the Philadelphia delegation, at least, to pass a bill of this character. If this is a purely charitable institution, its property will be exempt under the provisions of the bill just passed by the House.

Mr. DONOHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the House will understand that the institutions to be exempted under that bill were specified. My amendment, stating that all strictly charitable institutions were to be exempt from taxation, was not agreed to; therefore, this institution will not come within the provisions of the bill.

On the question,

Will the House proceed to the second reading and consideration of the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARTON and Mr. DONOHUGH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Barton, Baen, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Gallagher, Gordon, Harbison, Headman, Hunt, Joseph, Kennedy, Kimmell, Kinney, Kline, Koon, Lee, M'Camant, M'Creary, M'Pherrin, Maish, Markley, Marks, Meching, Mullin, Quay, Quigley, Richards, Robinson, Ross, Satterthwait, Steacy, Subers, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Westbrook, Wharton and Glass, Speaker—47.

NAYS—Messrs. Barrington, Chase, Davis, Day, DeHaven, Ghegan, Gregory, Harner, Heltzell, Hood, Kerna, Leech, Linton, Long, Mann, Meyers, Peter, Rhoads, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Wilson and Worrall—23.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill

Passed finally.

House bill No. 821, entitled an act to prohibit the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad company from running steam engines south of Lehigh avenue, city of Philadelphia.

Mr. HEADMAN. I hope this bill will not be laid aside for second reading. It is a matter that deeply interests my constituents—more so than any other portion of the State, not excepting the city of Philadelphia. If this bill should pass, it virtually cuts off all communication with the city of Philadelphia from my county. The railroad company will be compelled to abandon their depot and transfer it to West Philadelphia. As two-thirds of the road is through my county, I ask that this bill be not laid aside for second reading.

Mr. HOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been sent to the House by a select committee appointed for the purpose. I deem it of sufficient importance to ask the members of this House to seriously consider this bill. I confess I do not feel the same anxiety on the subject that I, perhaps, felt yesterday. The manner in which the Connelville railroad was disposed of, leads me to expect that this bill will meet with none other than a similar fate. This road runs for a mile through the city of Philadelphia. If this bill should happen to pass, my friend from Bucks [Mr. HEADMAN] will be obliged to ride in the horse cars that distance.

The company has already a depot in West Philadelphia. I am most seriously and earnestly anxious to see all the railroads in Philadelphia under the roof of the Central depot. I hope that the action that has been taken on this matter may be sufficient notice to all railroads in Philadelphia running in the reckless manner in which they have, that the ties is not far distant when it will be necessary for them to get into the city of Philadelphia by some other means. I believe that to be the fact, therefore I leave the matter with the House.

Mr. DEHAVEN. Mr. Speaker, the Trenton road runs about a mile into my district. I know they have run over and killed three, if not four, persons during the last three years.

I hope the bill will be laid aside for second reading.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I presume no member on this floor is so deeply interested in this matter as myself. It runs through my entire district, and accommodates four-fifths of the people residing in that district.

Mr. WORRALL. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this road kills any more persons than the Germantown and Norristown railroad.

On the question,

Will the House proceed to the second reading of the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOD and Mr. MARKLEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Cameron, Chase, DeHaven, Donohugh, Gallagher, Hood, Linton, Peter, Quigley and Sharples—11.

NAYS—Messrs. Armstrong, Barrington, Barton, Boyd, Chadwick, Chalfant, Collins, Davis, Day, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Ghegan, Gregory, Harner, Headman, Heltzell, Hunt, Jenkins, Joseph, Kerna, Kinney, Kline, Kurtz, Lee, Leech, Long, M'Camant, M'Creary, M'Kee, M'Pherrin, Maish, Mann, Markley, Marks, Meching, Meily, Meyers, Mullin, Pheban, Rhoads, Richards, Roush, Satterthwait, Seiler, Shuman, Steacy, Stumbaugh, Subers, Tharp, Wallace, Webb, Weller, Westbrook, Whann, Wilson, Woodward, Worrall and Glass, Speaker—59.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Senate bill No. 287, an act relative to livery stable keepers in Mercer county.

Passed finally.

A supplement to an act to fix the standard and denominations of measures and weights in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the fifth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

On the question,

Shall the rules be suspended and the bill read a second time?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SATTERTHWAIT and Mr. RHOADS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Cameron, Chadwick, Chase, Colville, Davis, Day, DeHaven, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Ghegan, Hood, Kennedy, Kerms, Kimmell, Kinney, Lee, McCamant, McCreehy, Mann, Marks, Mullin, Peter, Pillow, Quay, Shuman, Steacy, Stambaugh, Subers, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Wharton, Wilson, Worrall and Glass, Speaker—40.

NAYS—Messrs. Barrington, Boyd, Breen, Chalfant, Collins, Deise, Gallagher, Gordon, Gregory, Harner, Hunt, Kline, Koon, Kurtz, Linton, Long, M'Henry, Maish, Mechlign, Meyers, Rhoads, Richards, Robinson, Rouah, Satterthwait, Tharp, Westbrook and Whinn—27.

So the question was determined in the negative, two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative.

No. 1392, a supplement to an act entitled An act to incorporate the People's Accident insurance company of Pennsylvania, approved April 11, 1866.

Amended by Mr. ADAIRE, and

Passed finally.

No. 1393, an act to extend the time for the payment of the enrollment tax on an act to incorporate the Mineral exploring company, approved August 18, 1864.

Passed finally.

No. 1394, an act relating to the fees of the sheriff of the county of Cumberland.

Amended by Mr. ROUSH by an additional section allowing the sheriff of Snyder county to charge fifty cents per day for boarding prisoners.

Mr. ARMSTRONG moved to amend, "a rate not to exceed fifty cents, at the discretion of the court, for criminals or those accused of crime, for each per day, and twenty-five cents per day for each and every vagrant and intoxicated person committed to the jail, and twenty-five cents for discharge fee."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment? It was

Not agreed to.

The title of the bill was amended by inserting the county of Snyder, and act to provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Various amendments were offered, on which an extended debate was had, which will appear in the Appendix.

The bill passed the House finally as follows:

AN ACT to provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

WHEREAS, Several considerable appropriations have been expended for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, It is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now here;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired in the performance of this duty now enables the Legislature to regulate by statute the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore Section 1. Provided, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of soldiers' orphans, for three years from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal for cause as other officers appointed in like manner are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools per year, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the soldiers' orphans schools hereinafter provided for: Provided—That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any personal interest in any of said orphan schools.

Sec. 2. That the State Superintendent of soldiers' orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes, and schools possessing such good and sufficient accommodations as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care and maintenance, and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln institute, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of soldiers' orphans shall establish at least one such institution, for the reception of soldier's orphans over the age of ten years, within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve normal districts now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable in any manner for the cost of erecting, repairing or furnishing any of the institutions employed as soldiers' orphan schools.

Sec. 3. That the State Superintendent of soldiers' orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care, and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till after their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent, of soldiers' orphans, shall be valid as to the said mothers, guardians and next friends, and also upon said orphans, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent, from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institutions in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the acts of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Sec. 4. That the Superintendent of soldiers' orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor, prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming soldiers' orphan schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of the food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school room studies; he shall visit each soldiers' orphan school at least once each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Sec. 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act, into the institutions established for their education and maintenance, shall be made by conveyances and transfers to the Superintendent of soldiers' orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act, executed under oath by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead or has abandoned said orphans; but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases; and the Superintendent may require such other certificate from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the Superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Sec. 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes, for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That where he may deem it expedient to do so, the said Superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number of acres and extent of accommodations in care of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Sec. 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy, and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor, and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period, in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, or in the failure of the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges, and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said soldiers' orphan schools by the Legislature of the State.

Sec. 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in cases where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents or relatives or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Sec. 9. That all bills for the maintenance and education of soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrants drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of soldiers' orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses may be drawn by the State Superintendent of soldiers' orphans upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Sec. 10. That the Superintendent of soldiers' orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall not, later than the first day of December, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with a statement of receipts and disbursements by items and estimates, for ensuing years.

Sec. 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress and employer as shall thus be requested, and for such term as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, or if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years, in which indenture of apprenticeship there shall be included such carenants for the further education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe, and such apprenticeship shall, in all other respects not herein provided for, subject to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Sec. 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment shall be restored to the mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by said Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing and literary and industrial attainments and qualifications.

Sec. 13. That the year for all operations under this act shall begin on the first Monday of June, in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June, of the year next succeeding, and all appropriations hereafter made, shall be for the year as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the Government.

Sec. 14. That all acts, and part of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be, and they are hereby, repealed.

The memorial was read as follows:

PHILADELPHIA, March 28th, 1867.

At a meeting of the Coal Exchange of Philadelphia, held this day at the rooms of the association, the president submitted copies of a petition to the Legislature lately presented to the Senate by Mr. RANDALL, of Schuylkill county, and others interested in the coal business, as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The petition of the undersigned, citizens of Schuylkill county, and others who are interested in the coal business, respectfully sheweth, that bills have been presented to your honorable bodies with the following captions, to wit:

An act authorizing the commissioners of Schuylkill county to aid the construction of the Manufacturers' and Consumers' railroad company.

An act relating to lateral railroads in Schuylkill, Northumberland and Columbia counties.

An act relative to the furnishing and distributing of coal cars by the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company and Schuylkill navigation company.

All of which bills are of great importance to the interests of this and adjoining counties as well as of this Commonwealth, and your petitioners respectfully ask you to pass the same for the following reasons:

First. They have no competing lines of transportation for the enormous products of these rich fields, but are subject to one great monopoly, owned and controlled by British capitalists, who have no interest in common with them, but who charge such exorbitant rates upon everything carried over their road as to prevent your petitioners from deriving such fair profits on business as are enjoyed by the propertyowners in all the other districts.

Second. It is known to your petitioners, and doubtless to yourselves, that, although these British capitalists allege that they only receive a fair dividend and interest on their investments at par, they purchased all they hold at about one-half the par value, and, therefore, they receive double interest and double dividends to what is usually supposed; and your petitioners are compelled to pay these enormous sums, which are carried out of the country, and aid in building up foreign manufactories, to the great injury and destruction of those American industries which consume the products of our mines.

Third. Your petitioners have exhausted every ordinary means of relief from this oppression, and now find it necessary to construct new lines of transportation; but in so doing, they have been threatened by the agents of these foreign capitalists with punishment through their business, and in order to protect themselves, they are obliged to aid the Manufacturers' and Consumers' Anthracite railroad company, through the agency of the county commissioners.

Fourth. As a further protection, they respectfully ask you to pass the act making it a misdemeanor, &c., to discriminate against them in the distribution of cars, thereby harassing their contracts to deliver coal to the consumers, and often causing them great loss, and preventing them, in many instances, from obtaining contracts, if it is known or suspected that they are not on good terms with the officers and agents of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company.

Fifth. As the lateral railroads were chartered for the purpose of developing the coal lands, and as feeders to trunk lines, and as your petitioners had located their works on the laterals while they were operated as contemplated by their charters, and before they were leased by the foreign capitalists, who expected in this way to control the products of our mines, your petitioners respectfully ask you to pass the act requiring such appointment of time for running trains upon the lateral roads as will give each carrying company having the power to run thereon equal facilities for moving the proportion of the trade.

Sixth. The natural increase in the coal trade is so rapid that new lines will be required, even at the most moderate charges, as soon as they can be built, and by the time the Manufacturers' and Consumers' Anthracite railroad is finished there will be work enough for each carrying company.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

(Containing sixty-six names.)

On motion, the said petition was referred to a committee, with direction to examine into and report upon the claims of the signers of said petition to represent the coal trade of Schuylkill county, and to report such future action in the premises as they might deem proper.

The committee subsequently submitted the following report:

In the list of sixty-six names, there is the signature of but one person, known to the committee to be engaged in mining coal, and the colliery with which he is connected is not situated upon any of the lateral railroads controlled by the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company.

That so far from it being true, as stated in the petition, that "the petitioners had located their works on the laterals while they were operated as contemplated by their charter, and before they were leased by the foreign capitalists, who expected in this way to control the products of their mines," the facts, with the single exception above stated, they have no work.

The occupations and residences of those persons named "unknown," your committee have not been able to ascertain; none of them, however, are coal operators in the Schuylkill region. Your committee, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That this association protests against the assumption of the signers to the said petition to represent the great coal mining interests of Schuylkill county, as unjust to the members of this association, and as a fraud upon the Legislature.

2. Resolved, That the said memorial or petition, and the three bills to which it refers, were entirely unknown to the members of this association until they were introduced into the Legislature.

3. Resolved, That we are in favor of a general railroad law, with liberal provisions to induce the construction of railroads, so as to develop the resources of the State and to avoid the disastrous effects of monopolies, but that we are opposed to the proposed subscription by the commissioners of Schuylkill county to the bonds of the Manufacturers' and Consumers' Anthracite railroad company, without first being authorized to do so by a majority of the voters of the county.

4. Resolved, That the bill regulating lateral railroads, proposing to stop the cars of the Reading railroad and Schuylkill navigation company for portions of each day, and give exclusive use, alternately, to others, would cut down the carrying capacity of these roads, and seriously damage our interests by reducing our productions.

5. Resolved, That the system of car distribution now in force in Schuylkill county is just in itself and satisfactory to the trade, and the bill proposing to change it is uncalled for.

6. Resolved, That we deem it proper to give publicity to these views, and to disclaim any connection with the signers of the said petition, so that when we may have just grounds of complaint our influence shall not have been lessened or impaired by the fact that our silence now may have been construed into a tacit admission of the erroneous statements contained in the said petition.

7. Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the newspapers, and that a printed copy be sent by the Secretary to each member of the Legislature.

On motion, the report of the committee was accepted, and the resolutions accompanying the same were unanimously adopted.

On motion, it was
Resolved, That the president appoint a committee of three, to present a copy of the proceedings of this meeting, in person, to the Legislature now in session at Harrisburg.

Whereupon the president appointed as such committee Messrs. James Neill, Wm. Y. Agard and Geo. W. Hantziager.

The resolution was read as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—At a stated meeting of the board of directors of Fifteenth school section, First school district of Pennsylvania, held on Thursday evening, March 28th, 1867, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of our State, proposing to deprive the sectional school boards of the First school district, of the right now enjoyed by them of electing the members of the board of controllers of public schools, and of vesting the authority in the judges of our courts;

And whereas, We believe the proposed change to be not only injudicious and uncalled for, but calculated greatly to impair, if not ultimately destroy the usefulness of the sectional boards, and thus prove detrimental to the best interests of the public schools, we do unite in the appeal to the Legislature by the said board of controllers, as passed at their meeting on 13th instant, and with the various sectional boards; and it is, therefore,

Resolved, That we respectfully, but earnestly, protest against the enactment now proposed, and urge upon our Representatives in the Legislature to use their best efforts to procure its defeat.

Resolved, That the secretary be directed to forward a copy of this preamble and resolutions to the Senate and House of Representatives, at Harrisburg.

Mr. WALLS, a remonstrance of citizens of Union county, against the passage of a law compelling them to keep in repair a certain road.

Laid on the table.

Mr. GRAHAM, a remonstrance of citizens of Allegheny, against the passage of the bill for the consolidation of said city with Pittsburg.

Laid on the table.
The petition was read as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—In the name and on behalf of the citizens of our city, we protest against;

of the passage of the bill for the consolidation of our city with Pittsburgh:

First. Because the proposed change has not been asked for by our citizens.

Because a large majority of those to be affected by the proposed change are opposed to it.

Because, that at a convention of all the districts to be affected by the proposed change, held one year ago, out of thirteen districts represented, there was no one in favor of it, outside of the city of Pittsburgh.

Because that it will largely increase our taxation, without giving us any corresponding benefits.

Because the city of Allegheny has, at great expense, erected a large and commodious city hall, for the use of her officers and the convenience of her citizens, all of which would be useless in case of consolidation, and our citizens would be compelled to travel a long distance to transact their business with the officers of the consolidated city.

Because the citizens of Allegheny, having completed and paid for their water works and city hall (sufficient for their wants at present and for some time to come), they do not desire to be again taxed to erect a new water works for the city of Pittsburgh, or ten mills on the dollar of their assessed valuation for a long series of years, to assist the citizens of Pittsburgh in gratifying their inflated conceptions of a city hall intended to cost a million of dollars.

Because our citizens have never seen the proposed bill, and never have had an opportunity of remonstrating against the same.

Because our city finances have been so managed that the assets are now worth millions of dollars more than our indebtedness, which is not the case with the city of Pittsburgh. And we believe that nothing more or less than an attempt to compel other districts to bear a part of their debt, incurred through their mismanagement and extravagance.

Because nature has interposed a great barrier to the proposed consolidation (the Allegheny river), and in order to make the consolidation anything like complete would compel us to purchase, at an expense of millions of dollars, a large number of bridges spanning the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.

Done in joint session of the select and common councils, at their chambers, in the city of Allegheny, this twenty-sixth day of March, A. D. 1867.

Witness the seal of the city, the signatures of the Mayor and Presidents of the Select and Common Councils.

J. W. GEARY.

VETO MESSAGE.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, returning with his objections bill No. 646, entitled An act to incorporate the Union Mutual fire insurance company.

The message was read as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, April 1st, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned to the Senate, in which it originated, without my approval, bill No. 646, entitled An act to incorporate the Union Mutual fire insurance company.

The act approved 20th March, 1867, having conferred upon the courts the right to incorporate fire insurance companies, the Legislature is prohibited from doing it, by the ninth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution.

J. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the Senate proceeded to the reconsideration of the bill referred to in the foregoing message.

The bill being again before the Senate,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Fisher, Graham, Jackson, James, Landon, Lowry, Schall, Seagriff, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—24.

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILL RECONSIDERED.

Mr. SEARIGHT moved that the Senate reconsider the vote on the final passage of bill entitled An act authorizing the Governor to incorporate a company to erect a bridge over the Youngsbehy river at a point between the mouth of Dickerson's run and Taylor's fording, in the county of Fayette (said bill having been returned to the Senate by the Governor for amendment, in pursuance of a resolution adopted by both Houses).

The motion was

Agreed to.

And the bill being again before the Senate.

Mr. SEARIGHT asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the Senate to amend the bill by striking out all after the word "commissioners," in the first section to the end of the bill, and by inserting in lieu thereof two new sections providing for the incorporation of said company under the general act regulating bridge companies, approved April 14th. A. D. 1855.

The bill as amended then

Passed finally.

REPORT FROM THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

Mr. SEARIGHT, from the Committee on Education, to whom was referred a resolution of the Senate, instructing said committee "to prepare and report a bill embodying a system of common school education, equal in its advantages, and just and equitable in its taxation in every section of the Commonwealth," made a report, which was read as follows:

That owing to a pressure of other business, and the near approach of the final adjournment of the Legislature, they have not heretofore had, and are not likely to have, during the present session, sufficient time to prepare such a bill as is contemplated by the resolution referred to, and the committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject for the present.

On motion, the committee was discharged and the matter referred to the State Superintendent of Common Schools.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of bills on the PUBLIC CALENDAR.

The first bill in order was No. 892. It was read as follows:

AN ACT relating to the publication of general, local and private laws and of legal advertisements in the several counties of the Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to send to the commissioners of each county in the Commonwealth, a certified copy of each and every general law enacted by the Legislature, as soon as approved by the Governor, and also to each board of county commissioners, as aforesaid, a copy of each law specially relating to said county or its citizens.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of said commissioners, as soon as said laws are received by them, to cause them to be published in not less than one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties in such county, if there be so many printed in the county, not less than once, and at such rates for publication as may be agreed upon, not exceeding the usual charges for advertising in the aforesaid papers, the expense of publishing the said local laws to be defrayed out of the treasuries of the counties to which they apply, and the expense of publishing the general laws to be paid out of the treasury of the Commonwealth.

Sec. 3. The officers of each private corporation, incorporated by act of the Legislature, shall, before entering upon the privileges accorded by said act, cause to be published in not less than one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties in the county where said company shall have its main office, if so many be printed, a copy of said act of incorporation, the cost of which publication shall be paid out of the treasury of said corporation.

Sec. 4. The annual reports of the commissioners, auditors and poor directors of each county, together with the proclamations for the session of the courts, lists of causes for trials, election proclamations, lists of jurors, and such matters for public information, now customarily published at the expense of the respective counties of the State, shall be inserted in not less than one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties in such county, if so many be printed, at not less than the usual rates for advertising in said papers, the costs of said publication to be defrayed out of the respective county treasuries; the sheriff's sales in each county shall be published in not less than one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties in such county, if so many be printed, at not less than the usual advertising rates of said papers, the expense of such publication to be paid by the parties to the suits, as at present.

Sec. 5. This act shall apply to all general and local laws passed after the first Tuesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

Br. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, this matter has been before the Senate on two different occasions, and discussed at some length. I think it is pretty evident, if being so near the close of the session, that we cannot pass it. I think we had better take up something else.

I move its indefinite postponement.

On agreeing to the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. RIDGWAY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, James, M'Callister, Ridgway, Schall, White and Worthington—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Burnett, Davis, Jackson, Landon, Lowry, Seagriff, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and Hall, Speaker—18.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill was indefinitely postponed.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, as I have been informed, from a source which I believe to be entirely reliable, that the passage of this bill will deplete the treasury to the extent of two hundred thousand dollars, I will vote "aye."

Mr. SCHALL. Mr. Speaker, as I have been informed this bill will relieve the county treasury of about two hundred thousand dollars, I vote "aye."

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I believe the Senators exaggerate with regard to the amount of money that this bill will cost the Commonwealth. I believe it is our duty to permit the people to know what laws govern them, and that it is wrong to prevent them from having a knowledge of this fact, and then hold them liable for a breach of those laws. Such a law as this exists in the adjoining States. Whatever amount it may cost the Commonwealth the sum cannot be more profitably spent than in supporting the public press, and in enabling the people to know what laws are to govern them. I therefore vote "no."

Mr. WALLS. Mr. Speaker, all the printers in my district want this bill passed; therefore I vote "no."

Mr. WHITE. I desire to encourage the press as much as possible, but we are not in a condition to stand the expenditure which this bill will require. I believe it will cost fifty thousand dollars. The chairman of the Committee on Finance, who has given the subject some attention, says it will cost two hundred thousand dollars. I therefore vote "aye."

The next bill was No. 894.

AN ACT to regulate the publication of county business.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the publication of the treasurer's and commissioners' sales of un-settled lands, county statements, and statements of the directors of the poor, sheriff's proclamations, and all county affairs of a public and general character, requiring publication, shall be published in at least two English papers at the county seat of justice having the largest regular circulation, and when the counties are largely German, and there are German papers published at said seat of justice, in at least two of said German papers having the largest circulation.

Sec. 2. That from and after the passage of this act, in all cases of sheriff's sales of real estate in the State, except Philadelphia, the publication of notices of such sales shall be made in any two papers published at the county seat of said county, as may be directed by the attorney or party issuing or having charge of the same, upon which directions shall be endorsed on the precept of the prothonotary, and by him endorsed on the writ; and so much of any law as is inconsistent herewith is hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. That all laws relating to particular counties in the State, giving authority to the judges of the courts, directing certain papers in which legal notices shall be published, are hereby repealed.

On motion to indefinitely postpone the further consideration of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RIDGWAY and Mr. DONOVAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Cowles, Donovan, Glatz, Graham, James, Landon, Lowry, M'Callister, Ridgway, Schall, Taylor and White—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Coleman, Fisher, Jackson, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Wallace, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

So the bill was postponed indefinitely.

The next bill in order was No. 895.

It was read as follows:

AN ACT to regulate the compensation of treasurers of the different counties in Pennsylvania.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly

Daily Legislative Record.

FOR THE SESSION OF 1867.

TERMS OF THE DAILY RECORD.

THE DAILY RECORD will be furnished to Members of the Legislature and others at the following rates:

met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act the salary of any treasurer, in any county of the State, except of the city of Philadelphia and the county of Allegheny, shall not exceed the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, and that all excess of percentage for receiving and disbursing the funds of the county, all other fees and perquisites now allowed the treasurers of the different counties, together with any interest allowed for the deposit of the funds of the county, with any individual or corporation, over and above the said sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, shall be paid into the county treasury, and accounted for by the treasurer receiving the same as funds belonging to the county; and all laws, or parts of laws, inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important bill. I think it could be amended so as to meet the views and approval of gentlemen. I hope it will not be postponed.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, the reason I make the motion is this: The pay of the county treasurer is fixed largely by the county commissioners. I am willing to trust the matter with them, and allow them to pay whatever they think is right for the collection of county taxes.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, there are some counties in which the pay becomes so extravagant there should be some stop to it. In one county of this Commonwealth the pay of the county treasurer has reached the sum of twenty or twenty five thousand dollars per annum.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). It seems to me the commissioners could regulate this matter.

On the motion to indefinitely postpone, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BROWN (Mercer) and Mr. COLEMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brown (Mercer), Barnett, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Glaz, Jackson, James, Landon, McCandless, Randall, Ridgway, Schall, Seagriff, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace and Walls—18.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Coleman, Cowles, Fisher, Lowry, Shoemaker, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

So the bill was indefinitely postponed.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I shall vote to proceed to the consideration of this bill because by the law as it stands, the fees of county treasurers are often exorbitantly high. I vote "no."

The next bill in order was No. 274. It was read as follows:

AN ACT to impose the death penalty on negroes and mulattoes who may be convicted of the crime of rape upon the persons of white females.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That every negro or mulatto, his aiders, abettors and counsellors, who may be duly convicted of the crime of rape upon the person of any white female within this Commonwealth, shall be sentenced to suffer death by hanging in like manner as persons convicted of murder in the first degree; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court wherein any conviction of rape under the provisions of this act shall take place, within ten days after the sentence of the court, to transmit a full and complete record of the trial and conviction to the Governor of this Commonwealth.

SEC. 2. The Governor may commute the sentence of death, provided in the first section of this act, to imprisonment for life in the proper penitentiary, if, in his judgment, the ends of justice and humanity demand such a change of punishment, but in no case shall he commute said punishment to a shorter term than during the natural life of the offender.

On motion of Mr. BIGHAM, the bill was Postponed indefinitely.

The next bill in order was No. 189. It was read as follows:

A SUPPLEMENT to an act relating to the payment of bounties of veteran volunteers, approved the first day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That all veteran volunteers who have been regularly re-enlisted and re-mustered under general orders, number one hundred and ninety-one, from the War Department, dated June twenty fifth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and extending to April first, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and who have been honorably discharged the service of the United States, and who have not received any local bounty, nor given their credit to localities within or without this State, and who are credited to the State at large, shall each be paid a bounty of three hundred dollars by the State of Pennsylvania.

On motion of Mr. WHITE, the bill was Postponed indefinitely.

The next bill in order was 168. It was read as follows:

AN ACT relating to evidence.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and

House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the parties to any civil suit, cause or proceeding, now or hereafter pending in any court in this Commonwealth, may be examined as witnesses on his or their behalf: Provided, That this act shall not apply where the opposite party shall be dead.

SEC. 2. That no witness shall hereafter be held to be incompetent by reason of interest in any civil suit, cause or proceeding now or hereafter pending in any court in this Commonwealth.

On motion of Mr. SCHALL, the bill was Postponed indefinitely.

The next bill in order was No. 167. It was read as follows:

A SUPPLEMENT to an act entitled An act amending the law of evidence in Pennsylvania, approved the twenty-seventh day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, the necessity for this bill arises from the fact that in cases in which there are two or more defendants, those who are not called up at the trial are at the mercy of the one who is called.

This bill gives an opposite party the right to call his antagonist.

The bill was reported unanimously and with an affirmative recommendation.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to occupy the time of the Senate in remarks, but I must express my pleasure at the spirit of progress manifested by the Judiciary Committee.

I desire to call the attention of Senators to the fact that if they pass the bill they commit themselves unequivocally to the position that parties on the record may be witnesses.

I am in favor of this bill. I hope it will pass.

On motion of Mr. BIGHAM, the bill was amended by adding the following proviso:

Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to any suits brought previous to March 27, 1865.

The amendment was not

Agreed to.

On agreeing to the bill, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHALL and Mr. CATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Barnett, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, James, Landon, Ridgway, Searight, Shoemaker, Wallace, White, Worthington and Hall, Speakers—19.

Next—Messrs. Cowles, Glatz, Jackson, McCandless, Schall, Stutzman and Walls—7.
So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SEC. 3. That the testimony of the witnesses authorized by this act, may be had by deposition, or commission issued, as the case may require, with such notice to the party to be examined, and to the adverse party, as is now, or may hereafter, be prescribed by the rules of the proper court, touching or taking of depositions and testimony on commission.

The bill was Postponed indefinitely.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Surveyor General, at the time of delivering the docket, or any such descriptive list, to the prothonotary of any county, to cause such list to be published three times, in one newspaper in the county where such lands are located, and if no newspaper shall be published in said county, then in an adjoining county, for which publication the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay fifteen cents for each tract so published, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That when any party in interest, by petition, under oath or affirmation, setting forth the fact in the case, as in the affidavit of depositions read to the president judge of the court of common pleas of the county in which any tract or piece of land, or the principal part thereof, may lie, and against which any entry, directed by the foregoing sections of this act, has been made, that said tract has been paid for in full, either by the person against whom the entry is made, or by any other person for him, or that full credit has not been given for any amount paid, the said judge shall, after such notice to the Surveyor General, as he shall deem proper, proceed to hear the case of the parties, and the said judge, upon the report upon such decree in the premises, either by directing the said entry to be stricken from the record, or such other order, as to said entry, and also as to costs, as may seem equitable.

Sec. 9. That all liens due the Commonwealth for unpatented lands, after the thirtieth day of November, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, may be proceeded upon by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, in the manner directed to be pursued against defaulting public officers, by the act of April sixteenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and the supplement thereto.

Sec. 10. That all unpatented lands within the limits of this Commonwealth, including islands, whether improved or otherwise, upon which no warrant of survey has been issued, and all lands upon which a warrant of survey has been issued, but upon which a survey has not been returned and accepted in the office of the Surveyor General, which are now held or occupied by any person, or persons, who shall neglect or refuse to make application for a warrant of survey and proper return of the same on or before the thirtieth day of November, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, shall forfeit all right to title or patent on such lands under the State: Provided, That such persons may make application at any time after the thirtieth day of November, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, aforesaid, if no application for the same, or any part thereof, shall have been made by any other person under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 11. And it shall be lawful for any person, after the thirtieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, aforesaid, to make application for any such above described tract or tracts of land, or any part thereof; and in addition to the usual forms now required by law, such applicant shall set forth, in his application, whenever such facts can be ascertained, the name of the person or persons by whom such land was first held or occupied, and the date of the first improvement thereon, and by whom then held or occupied; and when such application shall have been granted, and survey thereon returned and accepted by the Surveyor General, the said applicant shall, as soon thereafter as practicable, cause the same to be published, by advertisement, at least three times in one newspaper in the county in which such land may be located, or if no newspaper be published in the county, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county, setting forth the fact of his application, and the acceptance of the same, together with the location of the land, the number of acres, and the name of the person or persons then holding or occupying the same.

Sec. 12. It shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to grant such application, and it is hereby made the duty of the county surveyor of the proper county, upon the receipt of the usual fees, to make such survey, and when proper return is made thereof to the Surveyor General, he shall accept the same; and after one year from the date of such acceptance, if no patent is returned to such applicant, or his legal representative, upon proof that said land had been advertised as provided by the preceding section of this act, upon the payment of the usual fees: Provided, That the party in possession of any of the unpatented or unreturned land specified in the tenth section of this act may, by application, issue of warrant from and return of survey to the office of the Surveyor General, and upon the payment of the purchase money in full, with all the fees and costs, together with the sum of twenty per centum on such aggregate amount, recover to his right, and perfect his title to such land; at any time before a patent shall have been issued upon the same to any other person, under the eleventh section of this act.

Sec. 13. That when any lands shall have been reclaimed and redeemed under the provision of the twelfth section of this act, the Surveyor General shall, out of the moneys received for such redemption, return to the party whose warrant of survey was first accepted by him, the amount paid by such person at the time of issue and acceptance of survey, together with twenty per centum upon the same; and his warrant shall be cancelled and placed upon the rejected file in the office of the Surveyor General, and such person shall cease to claim any right to the land under such warrant, or any patent thereon.

Sec. 14. That all lands heretofore taken up by improvement, or otherwise, upon which no survey shall have been made and accepted in the office of the Surveyor General, on or before the thirtieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and for which application and survey shall thereafter be made, the Surveyor General shall charge the amount of purchase money due on such land, with interest from the date of first improvement, or occupation, up to the thirtieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, aforesaid, the interest to be computed in the same manner and at the same rate as provided in the case of unpatented land in the third section of this act, and the aggregate amount thus found to be due shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, from the thirtieth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, until the said aggregate amount and the interest thereon is paid in full.

Sec. 15. That from and after the passage of this act, the price of all the vacant and unimproved lands of this Commonwealth, except islands, shall be at the rate of thirty cents per acre, and all islands shall be at the rate of ten dollars per acre, but no warrant shall issue for any island containing less than one acre, nor shall any warrant issue for less than the whole of any island; and no warrant of survey shall issue in any case whatever unless the purchase money and fees accompany the application for such warrant and survey, nor shall any return of survey be accepted in the office of the Surveyor General, where there is any excess of land, until such excess shall have been paid for, and no patent shall issue in any case in which more land than shall have been surveyed and included under one warrant, nor to include more than one island.

Sec. 16. That when any application for warrant and survey shall be granted, it shall be the duty of the applicant to cause the same to be placed in the hands of the county surveyor of the proper county, with fee for executing the same, within thirty days from the date of such warrant; and upon failure to do so within the time specified, such warrant shall not have any force or effect as against or warrant of survey; and no survey shall not be returned and accepted in the office of the Surveyor General within one year from the date thereof, such warrant shall be null and void.

Sec. 17. That it shall be the duty of the county surveyor to properly execute and make return of any warrant of survey as soon as practicable after the same shall have been placed in his hands, and upon failure to do so within five months from the date of the receipt thereof, he shall be liable for all damage the party making the application may sustain by reason of such default or neglect; and it shall be the duty, upon the application of any person to him, to give the location of any tract or tracts of land, in his county, that has been surveyed, accepted or patented, or that may be vacant, with the name of the person or persons to whom such survey has been granted, or patent issued, and the number of acres therein contained, together with any proper information that can be obtained from the records of his office; and for every such information or search he shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents; but where a survey may be necessary to determine the information, he shall be entitled to the usual fees for such survey.

Sec. 18. That hereafter it shall not be lawful for any person to locate, or occupy, or take possession of, any of the vacant lands of this Commonwealth, until after proper application for warrant shall have been made, and the same shall have been surveyed, returned and accepted in the office of the Surveyor General; and any person who shall take possession of any such land, or who shall remove any timber, mineral or any other valuable substance therefrom, shall, upon conviction thereof before any court of quarter sessions for the county in which said land may be, lie a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment for not more than ninety days, in the county jail for each and every such offense; and in all cases of conviction, one-half of the fine collected shall go to the informer, and the other half to the board of school directors of the district in which such land may lie, for the use of the schools thereof.

Sec. 19. That from and after the passage of this act, the Surveyor General shall charge the following fees, for the use of the Commonwealth, namely: for warrant, including return thereof, five dollars; patent on all tracts less than one-third of one acre, five dollars; patent on all tracts containing more than one-third of one acre, ten dollars; writing certificate, with seal of office on patents, when mortgages are discharged, fifty cents; every search, twenty-five cents; each calculation of money due on lands, including search, fifty cents; every caveat, or note by deputy surveyor operating as a caveat, fifty cents; issuing a citation, fifty cents; recording application, by petition or otherwise, for and making order of re-survey, one dollar; every order of the board of property, directed by the Surveyor General to the deputy surveyor, to be executed, fifty cents; entering application or petition to the board of property, together with the minutes thereon, for any other purpose than a re-survey, one dollar; copy of a draft of a single tract, seventy-five cents; connecting separate drafts into one general draft, for each separate draft therein, seventy-five cents; copy of a general draft, for each tract of land therein described, twenty-five cents; extract from a general draft, for each tract of land described, seventy-five cents; copy of drafts of lots or tracts of land, annexed to certificates of Connecticut claimants, or others, for each tract, fifty cents; copy of warrant, application or any other office right, fifty cents; copy of extract from the deputy surveyor's list of returns, and all other extracts not above recited, and relating to but one tract of land, twenty-five cents; copy of any record or paper, or any part thereof, not included in the above, for two hundred words or less, fifty cents, and one cent for every ten words additional; for certifying and affixing seal of office to any copy, draft, extract, certificate or minute, twenty-five cents.

Sec. 20. That the act of the nineteenth of March, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, entitled an act to revive and continue in force the law relating to lands upon which purchase money is due the Commonwealth, and regulating the mode of charging interest thereon, and the act of the twentieth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, directing the entry of liens, for the principal and interest due the Commonwealth for lands, held by virtue of location or other office titles, together with so much of any former acts of Assembly as are hereby altered, or are inconsistent with this act, be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the first section was amended as follows:

In the thirteenth line, after the word "with," by inserting the words, "number of acres in each tract."

Also, in the second section, by changing the word "describing," in the tenth line, to "designating."

The section as amended was

On the reading of the third section the following remarks were made:

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Chairman, I object to the general spirit of the provisions of this section. If a man has gone on a valuable section of land, of course he is more able to pay the purchase money than one who has gone upon poor lands. Yet here he is charged a rate of interest less than is charged to the man who settles upon poor land. This is wrong. We should induce settlers to go upon poor lands, and charge them lesser rates of interest than are charged those who take up valuable lands.

I propose to offer an amendment to come in after the proviso.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Chairman, I move to amend as follows:

By striking out all after the word "improvement" in the third line and inserting the twentieth line and insert the following: "On all lands where the original purchase money is at the rate of fifty-three and one-third cents or more per acre, two per cent. per annum. On all lands where the original purchase money is at a rate less than fifty-three and one-third cents and more than thirteen and one-third cents per acre, four per cent. per annum. On all lands where the original purchase money is at the rate of thirteen and one-third cents or less per acre, six per cent. per annum."

The amendment was

Agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Chairman, I offer the following amendment, to come in at the end of the section:

Provided, That no interest shall be charged upon any lands held by actual resident, settlement and improvement by the person who actually made such improvement, or his lineal descendants or widow.

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the committee rose.

Mr. WHITE, chairman of the committee on the whole, reported progress on bill No. 965, and asked leave to sit again.

The report was

Agreed to.

Mr. JACKSON moved that the committee sit again on the fourth of July next.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I move that the committee sit again on Friday next.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I have a word with reference to this bill. I think Senators misapprehend its purport. It comes under the auspices of the Surveyor General; it is made in the interest of the propertyholders and in the interest of the State. If Senators will turn to the act of 1860, they will discover there was a provision for its being renewed. This last bill has been prepared carefully, and is to correct the manifest inaccuracies and insufficiencies of the first bill. The clerks in the land office are now making out the liens that are spoken of in this bill, and they are being sent through the different counties in this Commonwealth. The Surveyor General has prepared the bill, and brought it here for consideration. I have not been able to give it the examination which it required, but I believe in the matter of advertising the lands alone, this bill will save the Commonwealth the sum of forty thousand dollars.

I trust the motion to postpone will be voted down.

I move that the Senate have leave to sit this afternoon at half-past three.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, had rather my amendment would stand as it is.

I trust the Senators will not agree to postpone this bill till the fourth of July, which will be directly killing it. It is possible that Senators have not examined the matter as carefully as would be advisable. I take it that this bill proposes to make efficient, economical and operative the bill passed in 1864, providing for the collection of sums due to the Commonwealth on the purchase money of land sold by the Commonwealth. It seems to me but justice to parties who have bought land in good faith and paid for it, that those who have bought and not paid should be obliged to pay. I trust the Senate will allow this bill to go over until Friday next.

Why, sir, I am informed by the Surveyor General that there is now due and unpaid to the Commonwealth, on purchase money of land, where surveys have been granted, and a portion of the purchase money has been paid, and no patents have issued, a sum but little below three million dollars. He also informs me that there are a large number of mortgages piled away in the drawers of the land office taken under the act of 1820, authorizing patents to issue where a portion only of the purchase money was paid. These are not filed, and hence are not liens upon the lands patented when they were taken at the land office.

He also informs me that there are thousands of acres of valuable land in the Commonwealth upon which squatters settled many years ago and never made application for survey, patent or any other land office title, and those lands remain in that condition till this day.

Now, sir, I think it is high time something should be done in this matter. The Commonwealth can, no doubt, use to advantage the money that is due to it, and at least a portion of what is due from lands ought to be promptly collected.

This bill as I understand it, too, will save to the Commonwealth, in the matter of entering liens and collections, one hundred and twenty thousand dollars, which would be expended under the act of 1864. As a matter of economy, then, this bill ought to pass. It will also be remembered that the act of 1864 makes no provision for the filing or collection of the mortgages referred to. I trust, then, the importance of this matter will secure for this bill a fair and full consideration.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this bill would be efficient in practice. Where there is no lien on the land, how can the party can be ejected from the land or made to pay the money he owes the Commonwealth. All we need is a five line bill authorizing the Surveyor General to proceed to the collection of dues. We do not want our laws so that they cannot be understood. If you pass a bill with some twenty sections it cannot be understood by the common people; if you pass a bill saying that the Surveyor General has the right to collect these moneys, and they must pay them, then it will be understood.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, my idea in making the motion I did was to give time to the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE] and others to offer amendments. I have no objection to modifying my motion.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, the whole system of legislation in regard to lands in Pennsylvania has been most unfortunate.—This bill makes confusion worse confounded. It is a long bill—one that I cannot understand and that the public will not understand. The courts will differ about it and in the end it will go to the Supreme Court for adjudication. I think with the Senator from Clearfield, we should have had a plain, clear bill of one section.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Senator from Erie if he has taken the trouble to look at the law of 1854 as it stands?

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I assisted in passing that law, and I have taken part, during my day in the Senate, in all legislation relative to these lands. My county is not much interested in this bill now, because we have come forward and paid what was due to the Commonwealth.

This is a bill that I do not understand, nor do any gentlemen understand it except those who have advocated it. I think we ought not to encumber our statute books with a long bill of this character.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, a word in reply.

I know it is very easy to find fault with a long bill, and I know we have a disinclination to consider long bills. I hold in my hand the act of 1854, page 914. I find in the first section that the Surveyor General shall make out a descriptive list of all unpatented lands and transmit the same to the probrotonaries of the counties in which such lands are situated.

I find in the fifth section that it shall be the duty of the probrotonary, upon receiving such list, to publish the same in two newspapers in the county in which the lands may be located for three successive weeks, for which publication he shall be authorized to pay fifty cents for each tract.

I find further, in the seventh section, the Attorney General shall proceed upon all liens after the first day of November, 1864.

This law seemed to be comprehensive, and under it liens are now being made out in the land offices of the Commonwealth.

In our appropriation bill we will provide for the payment of the clerks who are now making out these liens. The new law provides for a class of cases not provided for by the act of 1854. I have already mentioned that in the matter of advertising the State will be saved the sum of from forty to eighty thousand dollars. The present Surveyor General of the Commonwealth has a very competent adviser. His report has received the commendation of many landholders in Pennsylvania. I indicate these facts that we may understand that this is not a cumbersome bill.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I will not attempt to follow the remarks of the Senator.

The law of 1854 contemplates all that is required; the law as it is now on the statute books, requires that liens shall be made out and entered against lands that have not been paid for. I am in favor of simple, positive, unequivocal legislation, directing those who owe the Commonwealth to come forward and pay their dues. Such a law we now have; let it be carried out.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I will modify my amendment, so that the committee may sit this afternoon.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I am disposed to treat this bill fairly. It is due to the officers of the Commonwealth that we give this bill a full consideration; therefore, I think the proposition of the Senator from Mercer should be adopted.

On the motion to postpone the further consideration of this bill until the 4th of July next,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GLATZ and Mr. SCHALL, and were as follows, viz:

Yea—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Fisher, Glatz, Jackson, James, Lowry, McCandless, Schall, Seagriff, Shoemaker, Stutzman and Worthington—13.

Nays—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfield, Brown (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Donovan, Landon, Bandall, Bidgway, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, White and Hall, Speaker—14.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The question recurring,

Shall the committee have leave to sit this afternoon?

It was

Agreed to.

The next bill in order was No. 996.

The committee of the whole being dispensed with, the bill was read as follows:

SEC. 3. That each county superintendent, upon the assembling of the teachers' institute of his county, shall cause a roll of members to be prepared, which roll shall be called at least twice every day during the session of the institute, and all absences carefully marked, and for each which, upon adjournment of the institute, he shall ascertain the exact number of teachers who were in attendance, and the length of time each attended, and upon the presentation of a certificate at the close of the session of each annual institute, setting forth these facts, and signed by the county superintendent, to the treasurer of the proper county, he is hereby authorized and required to pay immediately, out of any money in the county treasury not otherwise appropriated, to the county superintendent, one dollar for every three days spent by teachers of the county in attendance at the institute for that year, or as much of it as may be needed—such money to be expended by the county superintendent in procuring the services of lecturers and instructors for the institute, and in providing the necessary apparatus, books and stationery for carrying on its work: Provided, That the amount which may be drawn from the county treasury shall in no case be more than two hundred dollars, but may, in all cases, be sixty dollars, if it shall appear from the vouchers presented by the county superintendent to the county auditors, as required by the fourth section of this act, that this money has actually expended for the purposes herein specified: Provided, That all boards of directors may allow the teachers in their employ the privilege of attending such institutes without making any deduction from their salaries, and that any teacher who absents himself from the institute of the county without a good reason, may have his want of professional spirit and zeal indicated by a lower mark on his certificate in the practice of teaching than he would otherwise have received.

SEC. 4. That each county superintendent who has drawn money from the county treasury for the purpose named in this act, shall file his account of all expenditures under the act in the office of the county treasury, with vouchers for the same, which shall be examined by the auditors of the county in like manner as other county expenditures, and any misapplication of funds shall be punished in the same manner as collectors of State and county taxes for like offenses are now punished.

SEC. 5. That all county superintendents, upon the adjournment of the teachers' institute, held in their respective counties, are hereby required to report to the superintendent of common schools, the number of teachers in attendance, the name of the lecturers or instructors who officiated, the subjects upon which the instruction was given, and the degree of popular interest awakened by the proceedings.

III.—Text Books in Counties.

SEC. 6. That it shall be lawful for the school directors of any county in this Commonwealth, at any triennial convention held for the purpose of electing a county superintendent, to appoint a committee to examine and assess the necessary qualifications, whose duty it shall be to agree upon and select a series of text books adapted to the wants of the common schools of the county, and present them for adoption to the several boards of directors; this action, however, to be of no hindering force unless confirmed at the annual meeting of directors and teachers held as now provided by the twenty-third section of the act of May eighth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, but when so confirmed, the books shall not be changed until the act of the next triennial convention, as aforesaid: Provided, That a majority of the boards of directors of any county may, at any time, call a special meeting of the directors of the county for the purpose of appointing a county committee on text-books, as above indicated, whose action shall be valid until the meeting of the triennial convention in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.

IV.—City and Borough Superintendents.

SEC. 7. The school directors of any city or borough in this Commonwealth, having a population of over ten thousand inhabitants, may, on the first Tuesday of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and every third year thereafter, elect, vice voce, by a majority of the whole number of directors present, one person of literary and scientific acquirements, and of such skill and acquirements as will be of the greatest advantage to the city or borough superintendent for the three succeeding school years, and the said school directors shall determine the amount of compensation for said city or borough superintendent, which compensation shall be paid by the same officers as pay the salaries of teachers in such school district, and in the same manner as such salaries are now paid: Provided, That nothing in this act shall prevent the directors of any city, or borough, from electing a superintendent to serve from the time of election until the commencement of the school year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, from filling a vacancy, should any one, from the unexpired term of said office, nor from increasing the salary of a superintendent at any time: Provided also, That the president of the board of directors or controllers of any city or borough in this Commonwealth shall, at any time, after the passage of this act, if so requested, in writing, by seven directors or controllers, call a convention, giving at least five days' notice thereof, of all the directors of said city or borough, to determine whether they will elect a city or borough superintendent in accordance with the provisions of this act, and if, at such meeting, it shall be decided to hold such an election, the said directors shall again convene at the time appointed by this section of this act, or any other time, in accordance with its provisions, and at a place fixed upon by themselves, when they shall proceed to carry their determination into effect in the same manner as is done by conventions held for the election of county superintendents, and all subsequent conventions for carrying into effect the purposes of this act shall be called in the same manner by said president of the board of directors or controllers of such city or borough.

SEC. 8. That it shall be the duty of the president and secretary of the meeting of the directors of any city or borough, at which a city or borough superintendent has been elected, to certify to the superintendent of common schools, the name and address of the person elected city or borough superintendent, in pursuance of the provisions of this act, and those of all other candidates who received votes, together with the amount of compensation fixed upon by said directors; upon the receipt of such certificate, if no valid objection be received within thirty days after the day of election, the superintendent of common schools shall commission the person so elected for the term for which he was elected, but if objection to issuing such commission be made within thirty days, the superintendent of common schools shall proceed with like power and in like manner, as he is now required to do, where objections are made against issuing commissions to persons claiming to be elected county superintendent.

SEC. 9. That from and after the appointment of a city superintendent in any city or borough in this Commonwealth, and the proper notification of the superintendent of common schools of the fact, such city or borough shall not be subject to the authority and jurisdiction of the county superintendent of the county in which such city or borough is located, except that in the matter of holding the annual teachers' institutes, as provided by sections third, fourth and fifth of this act, in which the city or borough superintendent shall co-operate, and the quota of the annual State appropriation to said city or borough, shall not be diminished by reason of any contribution to the salaries of county superintendents, nor shall the directors of such city or borough vote at any election for county superintendents.

SEC. 10. It shall be the duty of all city or borough superintendents to take a similar oath or affirmation to that now required of county superintendents, to perform, within the limits of their several jurisdictions, all the duties now by law enjoined upon county superintendents, and to discharge such other duties as the by-laws, rules and regulations of the respective boards of directors may require; and it shall be their further duty, in addition to an annual report, to report monthly to the department of common schools such facts relating to their work, and the condition of the schools under their charge, as may be required by the superintendent of common schools, and to attend meetings of superintendents called by said superintendent of common schools.

V.—Teachers' Certificates.

SEC. 11. That after the passage of this act no teacher in this Commonwealth shall receive from a county, city or borough superintendent a certificate as a teacher, who has not a fair knowledge of orthography, reading, writing, geography, English grammar, mental and written arithmetic, history of the United States, and the theory of teaching; nor shall such certificate be given to any person who is in the habit of using as a beverage any intoxicating drinks, and all certificates given to teachers shall set forth the branches in which those holding them have been found proficient, and indicate by suitable marks the degree of that proficiency.

SEC. 12. County, city or borough superintendents shall issue two grades of teachers' certificates, one of which shall be called a provisional certificate, and shall be given to applicants possessing a fair knowledge of the branches named in section eleven, or to those who, possessing a thorough knowledge of the branches, have little or no experience in teaching, and shall license the holder to teach in the county, city or borough where issued for one year, and which shall not be renewed without a re-examination, and the other shall be called a professional certificate, and shall be given only to those who possess a thorough knowledge of the branches above named, and who have had successful experience in teaching, and shall license the holder to teach in the county, city or borough where issued, during the official term of the county, city or borough superintendent issuing it, and for one year thereafter: Provided, That all so called professional certificates, heretofore issued by any county, city or borough superintendent, shall cease to be valid on the first Monday of June, one thousand eight hundred and seven, except those issued since the first Monday of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty six, which certificate shall be valid as long as others issued during the present term of the superintendency: Provided, That any professional certificate may be renewed by a county, city or borough superintendent, without re-examination, after having fully satisfied himself, by personal observation, in his or her school, of the competency and skill as a teacher of the person holding it: Provided, That this act shall not apply to the city and county of Philadelphia. And provided further, That the State Superintendent of common schools shall cause to be prepared a new grade of teacher's certificate, to be called a permanent certificate, which shall be granted by him to practical teachers holding professional certificates upon the recommendation of the board or boards of directors in whose employment the applicant shall have taught for the three preceding annual school terms, countersigned by the proper county, city or borough superintendent in office when the application shall be made and approved, after examination, if they deem it necessary, by a committee of five teachers, a part of whom may be females holding permanent certificates, if there be that body holding such certificates, but if there be none, or not a sufficient number of that grade of teachers, the committee shall be constituted wholly or in part, as the case may be, of teachers holding professional certificates, said committee to be elected by ballot by the members of the teachers' institute, at its annual session, from the same county, city or borough in which the applicant resides at the time of making the application; and such permanent certificate shall continue to be valid in such county, city or borough unless forfeited according to the provisions of this act, and shall, also, entitle the holder to teach one year in any other county, city or borough in this Commonwealth without re-examination, at the end of which time it may be endorsed by the proper county, city or borough superintendent, if, from personal knowledge, he deem it worthy held, and shall then confer upon the holder the same rank and privileges as in the county where issued; and such permanent certificate shall not be annulled upon complaint duly proven, of incompetency, neglect, negligence or immorality, made to the State Superintendent of common schools, by a county, city or borough superintendent and a committee of teachers elected and constituted as aforesaid.

VI.—Election of County Superintendents.

SEC. 13. That no person shall hereafter be eligible to the office of county, city or borough superintendent in any county of this Commonwealth, who does not possess a diploma from a college, legally empowered to grant literary degrees, or a diploma, or State certificate issued according to law by the authorities of a State normal school; a professional certificate from a county, city or borough superintendent of good standing, issued at least one year prior to the election, or a certificate of competency from the State Superintendent of common schools, nor shall such person be eligible unless he has a sound, moral character, and has had successful experience in teaching within three years of the time of his election: Provided, That serving as a county, city or borough superintendent shall be deemed equivalent to teaching, and the president and secretary of each convention of school directors, held in any county, city or borough, to elect a county, city or borough superintendent, when certifying to the Superintendent of Common Schools, the name and address of the person elected county, city or borough superintendent, shall, at the same time, state the kind and character of the evidence upon which said convention relied for proof of the eligibility of the person so elected, and the said Superintendent of Common Schools, if upon examination of the evidence presented, it shall prove to be such as is required by this act, and in accordance with section fourth of the act approved April seventeenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, shall issue a commission to the person elected as aforesaid, as now required by law; but if, upon examination of said evidence of competency it shall not prove to be such as is required by this act, or if objection be made in accordance with said section of the act approved April seventeenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, the said Superintendent of Common Schools shall appoint two competent persons, himself being the third, to examine the person so elected county, city or borough superintendent; and if, upon examination, he be found duly qualified for the office, the said Superintendent of common schools, shall issue to him the usual commission, but if not, the said Superintendent of common schools shall proceed in like manner in respect to the person receiving the next highest number of votes in the convention of directors, who, if found qualified, shall receive the commission aforesaid as county, city or borough superintendent; but if his qualifications are also found insufficient the said Superintendent of common schools shall appoint, with the advice and consent of the Governor of the Commonwealth, some other person, with the required qualifications, county, city or borough superintendent for the ensuing term of such office.

Provided, That serving as county, city or borough superintendent shall be deemed sufficient test of qualification, and the president and secretary of each convention of school directors held in any county, city or borough, to elect a county, city or borough superintendent, when certifying to the Superintendent of common schools the name and address of the person elected county, city or borough superintendent, shall, at the same time, state the kind and character of the evidence upon which said convention relied for proof of the eligibility of the person so elected; and the said Superintendent of common schools, if, upon examination of the evidence presented, it shall prove to be such as is required by this act, and no objection made in accordance with section fourth of the act approved April seventeenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, shall issue a commission to the person elected as aforesaid as now required by law; but if, upon examination of said evidence of competency, it shall not prove to be such as is required by this act, or if objection be made in accordance with said section of the act

The bill

Passed finally.

PENSIONS TO THE SOLDIERS OF THE WAR OF 1812.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill on the public calendar entitled A supplement to an act to provide for the payment of gratuities and annuities to the soldiers of the war of one thousand eight hundred and twelve and their widows, approved March thirtieth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

The first and only section was read as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement be, and the same are hereby, extended to all soldiers, or widows of such soldiers, who may have engaged in actual battle with the enemy, during said war, without regard to length of service.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GLATZ moved to amend the same by adding to the end thereof the words, "and whether now residents inside or outside of this Commonwealth."

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, it strikes me that this bill ought to fail, and that the act of 1866 ought to go with it. I understand, sir, that under the provisions of that act of 1866 claims have been put in and allowed amounting to about one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Heretofore, when bounties were only paid upon special application, it has cost the State from six thousand dollars to eight thousand dollars a year. The act of 1866 appears to be so loose in its provisions, that claims amounting to the large sums named have been presented, representing that the persons making application have complied with the letter of the law, and their claims have been allowed. It seems to me that we ought not to open the door any wider than it is opened by the act of 1866, and that we should also repeal that act, and allow parties entitled to this bounty to come in here and ask for it.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, the provisions of the act of 1866 are not now before us. I will not dispute what the Senator from Mercer [Mr. Brown] says upon that subject. This bill simply provides for a small class not provided for in that bill. Those engaged in actual battle, although out but two or three weeks, are more entitled to this bounty than those whose business was simply enrolled. This provides for those actually in battle. If there are any meritorious cases, I think it is those who fought for their country, and they ought to be protected now. I hope this bill will pass.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, whenever the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT] presents a bill here asking that a pension be granted in a meritorious case, I am willing to vote for it; but I am not prepared to make this thing general, and open the door still wider, and tax the Commonwealth to an unlimited amount.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of my friend, the Senator from Mercer [Mr. Brown], to the fact that one-half of all the expenses incurred by the Commonwealth, under the act of 1866, are for the gratuities of forty dollars. The expense cannot be so great as last year, because the gratuities are nearly all paid.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). I suppose the facts stated are true; but granting that one-half of the expense this year was for gratuities, it still leaves an expenditure of eighty thousand dollars for bounties. I am told, also, that, under the provisions of the act of 1866, parties have complied with the letter of the law, and drawn pensions, who are worth thirty or forty thousand dollars.

Mr. FISHER. What would it have cost us if we had no soldiers?

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I had a great deal to do, sir, with the passage of the law last year, and I have regretted it more than any other legislation in which I was concerned. I acted, sir, when I voted for it, from good motives, but it evidently was a mistake. It was unfortunate, probably, that the law was passed; but now the Senators from Lancaster come here and propose that we open the door still wider; and here let me make the remark that the county of Lancaster has a greater number of pensioners on the treasury than any other county; she always had old soldiers pensioned on the treasury. They had more old soldiers when this bill was passed than the rest of the Commonwealth, and have more now, I fear, than all the Commonwealth; and yet, sir, the door is not opened wide enough to let in all the soldiers from Lancaster county.

Lancaster county should not have introduced this bill; he is getting bounty enough. If I had the Record of last year here, I could show an astonishingly large number of soldiers from Lancaster. I know she is a patriotic county; she behaved well during the war and since the war. I scarcely know any person of any consequence in Lancaster county, excepting the "Old Public Functionary," who did not come forward and claim a pension under that bill; they are all "needy"; there, I hope this bill will be voted down; it ought to be voted down.

Mr. FISHER. I plead guilty to the imprecations, that Lancaster county turned out the most soldiers. The Senator from Adams [Mr. McCONAUGHY] said, the other day, that Erie was not remarkable for fighting qualities.

Mr. McCONAUGHY. I have never been aware that Erie was distinguished, in 1812, for her fighting qualities.

Mr. FISHER. The Senator from Adams thought that they were not very distinguished for their fighting qualities, even if our friend, the Senator from Erie [Mr. Lowry], tried to stop the rebellion in its incipency, by going down to see John Brown, to see if he could not close up the matter without bloodshed.

Possibly it would have been better if this bill had not been passed. I think as this law has been passed, and the door already opened, that it ought to be opened this little inch wider, so as to include the meritorious persons mentioned in this bill. I do not think that men who were out on a frolic for two or three weeks, and never saw an army, should be paid, with those who faced the music and shot and killed. I do not care, so far as the number is concerned; I am opposed to robbing the treasury as much as anybody, but I say that this class of our people should be protected—they need protection much more than many who have drawn from the treasury. I hope the Senate will bear in mind that the heaviest burden on the treasury is already passed; each of those applicants has received a gratuity of forty dollars, and I suppose the class referred to is not numerous.

Mr. LOWRY. I suppose it is fair to presume that there are widows of the soldiers of the late war, as there are heroes of the late war. We might as well pension all the county at once, and tell the tax-gatherers in that county to make out their lists, and that all over a certain age shall be entitled to a pension. I do say that the people of Erie county do not come here in shoals, as they come from Lancaster county, and grab the last dollar from the treasury, until they knock the skin off their very knuckles on the bottom of the treasury, as Lancaster has been doing, and it is time it was stopped.

Mr. FISHER. So far as grabbing at the treasury is concerned, I do not know which does the most of it. I do know that Erie county, a short time ago, undertook to make a tremendous grab on some land property for a certain purpose.

Mr. LOWRY. That requires explanation, and the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. Fisher] shall have it. I do not only attempted to make a grab, but I did make, and the Senator voted for it, and he knew what it was when he voted for it, and now he attempts to come here and throw dirty water upon me for his vote.

Mr. FISHER. I beg the Senator's pardon. I did not vote for it; I voted to give this property to the Farm School of Centre county.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I simply wish to state to the Senator from Erie [Mr. Lowry] that the Senators from Lancaster are not responsible for the passage of that act of 1866.

If there was a bill before this body now to repeal that act, I might vote for it, or for restricting it; but since that act is still in force, and may remain in force for years, the question is narrowed down to this: Shall those few meritorious persons, who fought under the flag of their country, be deprived of their bounty, whilst hundreds or thousands of others, who never were actually in service, draw their pensions?

Mr. McCONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me, there is only one question involved in this bill, and I think I shall vote for it. The provision is simply to extend the benefits of the act of 1866, to those soldiers engaged in actual battle, and the widows of those soldiers, though they may not be embraced in the act of 1866, because not two months in the service. I do not see how we can hesitate to vote for it. The State has seen fit to grant to those who were in service, and who are in actual want, a bounty of forty dollars, besides a gratuity.

Now, sir, where exists the greatest merit—in him who actually did battle and gallantly exposed his life in defense of the flag, or him who was for sixty days in the service, but never engaged in a battle? Certainly, the former class is the more meritorious, if there is to be a comparison; and why should there be a hesitation in extending the act of 1866 to that class? As to the question whether the details of that act should be more carefully prepared, I have no doubt. I am prepared at any moment to vote for an improvement to that act; I think it is incumbent upon us to do so.

There is one point where I think there should be an improvement. That act has been abused in a number of cases, and the bounty secured by persons who did not need it. It is not proper that the men who fought in 1812 for the life of the country, against Great Britain, shall be treated as they are in actual beggary, and I say the Commonwealth is right in that attitude. The Commonwealth would be unjust to herself and to her memories if she did not assume that attitude, and provide that every man who has fought for us in that war, which was vital to the interests of the country, shall not be permitted to go to the grave in beggary; that is the spirit of the act, but that question of actual want should be very carefully guarded, and I know of no way in which it could be better done than by requiring that fact to be established by a certain amount of evidence in the country in which the applicant resides; let it be certified by the judicial officers. The fact that that abuse exists does not meet the question that is raised by this bill; it is simply whether you will give this boon to that man who served two months in the war of 1812, and who may never have been in range of the enemy's guns, while you deny it to that man who fought through the war.

Mr. LANDON moved that the bill be committed to the Committee on General Judiciary, with instructions to prepare such amendments as the whole subject requires.

The motion was Agreed to.

BILL RECONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the Senate proceeded to reconsider the bill entitled A further supplement to an act passed May 16th, A. D. 1861, entitled An act to authorize the erection of a free bridge over the river Schuylkill at South street, in the city of Philadelphia, making it the duty of the chief engineer to direct the building of a bridge, and providing that the same shall have a draw thereon; said bill having been returned to the Senate by the Governor for amendment, in pursuance of a resolution of both Houses.

The question recurring, Shall the bill pass?

Mr. CONNELL asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the Senate to amend the bill by inserting, after the word "That," in the first line of the sixth section, the words, as follows, viz: "The mayor of the city of Philadelphia, the presidents of the select and common councils of said city, Charles A. Miller."

The bill was amended as then Passed finally.

RETURN OF BILL.

Mr. FISHER offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Resolved, That (the House of Representatives concurring) the Governor be and he is hereby requested to return to the Senate House bill No. 659, entitled An act amending the charter of the municipal corporation of the city of Lancaster, and dividing the same into nine wards.

The resolution was Adopted.

PUBLIC CALENDAR.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills on the public calendar, which were disposed of as follows:

House bill No. 538, an act regulating interest on public accounts.

The bill was read as follows:

SENATE BILL. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That if the cashier of any bank doing business in this Commonwealth, whether incorporated under the laws of this State or of the United States, shall neglect or refuse to collect the tax imposed by the act of February twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, upon the stockholders of said banks, and pay the same into the State Treasury at the time specified in said act, it shall be the duty of the Auditor General and State Treasurer, in the settlement of all accounts with said cashier or banks, or stockholders of said banks, as the case may be, to charge interest on all balances found due the Commonwealth, at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, from the time said taxes became due and payable to the time of said settlement.

SEC. 2. Mr. LOWRY asked for an explanation of the bill.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, perhaps it is necessary to give a little explanation of this.

The Senate is aware that a year ago the State tax on real estate was repealed, leaving the tax upon personal property. The revenue commission that met in 1865, which was made up of one from each judicial district, by an act of 1864, was abolished, and the duties of that commission devolved upon three officers—the State Treasurer, Auditor General and Secretary of the Commonwealth, they having the same powers as the old revenue commissioners had, of fixing the amount upon each of the counties. They fix an amount, which will be found in the Auditor

General's report. It was not enforced last year, because it would have interfered with all the arrangements in the several counties. By footing up the columns in the Auditor General's report, it will be found that if this is not passed, the counties of the Commonwealth will be called upon to pay six hundred and sixty-six thousand dollars.

This bill is prepared in accordance with the recommendation of the State Treasurer, who recommends that three hundred thousand dollars be assessed directly upon the treasurers of the counties. It is desired to have this detail taxation upon personal property repealed, for the reason that it prevents the perfection of the tax system in the several counties. This bill imposes the tax directly upon the treasurers; in the Senatorial districts it is less than half of what would be imposed upon them if this bill should not pass.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BURMAN] has so fully explained the merits of this bill that any further statement of its merits is unnecessary.

The remaining sections of the bill were read as follows:

Sec. 2. That the amount charged in the first section of this bill, upon said city and county above named, shall, on the first day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, be due, and payable to the State Treasurer by the city treasurer of Philadelphia, and by the county treasurer of each of the above named counties, from the treasury of the said city and counties, upon the first day of each succeeding August, and that any city or county treasurer that is in arrears more than thirty days in said annual payment, shall be charged interest at the rate of one per centum per month upon the amount so in arrears, until the same is paid.

Sec. 3. That the city of Philadelphia and the counties in the Commonwealth, are hereby authorized to collect the amount assessed as State tax for the present year, and pay it into the city and county treasury, to meet the assessment upon said city and county under the first section of this act.

Sec. 4. That the Auditor General, in settling the accounts against the city of Philadelphia, and the counties of the Commonwealth, for tax on personal property, for the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, is hereby required to settle the same on the basis of their return made by the commissioners of said city and counties to the revenue board instead of on the adjusted valuation made by said board.

Sec. 5. That the commissioners of any county of the Commonwealth in which a tax on real estate for the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six had been levied, duplicates placed in the hands of collectors, and tax in part collected before the passage of the act of twenty-third February, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, exempting real estate from taxation for State purposes, are hereby authorized to proceed with and enforce the collection of such tax the same as if such act had never been passed, and to apply the same to the payment of the indebtedness of such county to the Commonwealth, and the surplus, if any remains, to county purposes.

The bill was read a third time, and

Passed finally.

The bill was read as follows:

SEC. 4. The commissioners shall have power to fix the salary of the medical man selected as superintendent during the time he is engaged in directing the erection of the building, and also of the architect and others, necessary for the proper construction of the building.

SEC. 6. That the commissioners shall report to the Governor, before the meeting of the Legislature, the amount of money expended by them, and the progress made in the erection of the building.

The bill was read a third time, and

Senate bill No. 1237, an act relative to the trial of certain cases in cases of relationship between the presiding judge and the counsel of a party thereto.

The first section was read.

Mr. RANDALL moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill indefinitely.

Mr. McCONAUGHY. I hope not. The bill, as originally referred to the General Judiciary Committee, provided that in case the father, son or brother of the presiding judge was of counsel in a case for trial in any county, relief should be given by a change of venue. That did not meet with the approbation of the committee, but the bill was so changed as to provide that in cases where the father, brother, or son of the presiding judge, before whom a case is for trial, is of counsel in the case, the opposite party may have the privilege of another judge. Under our Constitution and laws a judge cannot participate in the trial of any case as counsel. The consequence of that is, that where a judge has been an active member of the bar, and has been concerned in a great number of cases in the county, there the rule is to call in a judge from an adjacent county to try the cases in which the judge is interested.

The case provided for in this bill is where the judge is not directly related to the cause as counsel, but where his father, brother or son is employed as such counsel. We have granted a great many changes of venue; the principle upon which they have been granted is that a party is entitled to have a trial before a disinterested tribunal; and not only so, but a party should have confidence, in going into our judicial tribunals, that he shall not be prejudiced by anything that will make the scales of justice hang unequal. It is this same principle that applies to this case. It is easy to imagine a case where there may be an undue influence in the trial, by reason of one brother being on the bench, and another brother acting as counsel before; him in that supposed case, the citizen ought not to be driven to trial before a judge whom he believes is not free of prejudice and undue influence by reason of relationship. It is to provide for such a contingency that the committee have reported the bill in its present form. It obviates the difficulties of the old bill, which put parties and witnesses to great expense in removing cases from one district to another; and it seems to me a just measure to relieve the party who believes that he cannot have an impartial trial on account of relationship, giving him the opportunity of asking that there shall be a trial before another judge.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, this strikes me as a most monstrous proposition. We will suppose that the Senator from Adams was practising in the courts of his judicial district, and that his brother was on the bench; it would be necessary, under the provisions of this law, at the sitting of every court in the district that there should be a strange judge, because this objection must arise in every case, for fear that there might be some influence exercised by the bench in favor of his father, brother or son.

Mr. LOWRY. I am in favor of a fair trial by jury, but I would inquire of the Senator from Adams [Mr. McCONAUGHY] if this is not a law to meet a particular case?

Mr. McCONAUGHY. It is not; the subject being brought before the General Judiciary in the shape of a bill giving, in a supposed case, a remedy by change of venue, the matter became a subject of consideration, and was reported not for a particular case, but as a relief in a probable contingency.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that the chairman of the committee has not considered it his duty, before this hour, to bring in a bill allowing a general change of venue on well grounded reasons; it would save a vast amount of legislation, and insure to every human being in the Commonwealth the glorious right of knowing that he would have a fair trial by jury. Whilst I see nothing very objectionable in the bill, yet I think it would be better Senators here will not ask me for a change of venue.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I do not feel like occupying the time of the Senate in regard to this bill, but when I heard it read, it startled me very much. This is a general law, in which we are all interested. This is a general law, Mr. Speaker, which—no doubt innocently—reflects upon the entire judiciary of this Commonwealth—reflects upon their integrity, fairness and uprightness. It may be that it has been introduced to correct some special evil. I do not know how that may be; but I trust Senators here will not ask members of this body to commit themselves to a proposition of this kind to meet an individual case. This is a matter that indirectly stabs the integrity of every judge in Pennsylvania. Why, sir, I can recollect cases where judges were sitting upon the bench where there were sons and relatives practicing before them; I know that my friend, the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM], can recollect instances of that character. No cause for reflection was found in these instances. We have got along very well, and do not let us take this step-to-day for a special remedy. If there is any necessity for a change of venue, let us bring it before the judiciary. I sympathize with the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY], when he says that he wants a fair trial given to every man; but do not stab the judiciary of this Commonwealth by saying that they cannot do justice; because a relative happens to be employed as counsel for the party.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] is entirely mistaken in this matter. The form in which this bill is drawn makes no stab at the judiciary. The ordinary practice shows that these cases are uniformly tried before the other associate judge.

Mr. FISHER. I would simply ask whether they have not two or three law judges in the county of Allegheny? That is not the case in other judicial districts.

Mr. BIGHAM. That is the case in the county of Lancaster, I believe, and it is the case in quite a number of the districts. It is not a novel feature at all; special courts have been sanctioned in Pennsylvania ever since the judiciary was established; cases of this kind have frequently occurred. Either you must have a change of venue or bring in an adjoining judge. It contains no reflection; I was surprised very much that anybody should think this contains any reflection; it is simply an old adage, that "blood is thicker than water." If suitors are entitled to a fair trial, they are entitled to have all suspicion ruled out.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I introduced this bill originally, and it strikes me that every judge should desire a law of that kind. I am surprised at the position of the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE]. It seems to me eminently proper, that a law of this kind should be passed.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I think there is an unnecessary sensitiveness on the part of our friend, the Senator from Indiana, on this subject. I am perfectly aware of his relationship to a gentleman on the bench, but I do not think there is anything in this bill to give occasion for sensitiveness. The operation of this bill is simply to give the privilege to the suitor, where he believes that undue bias will exist by nearness of blood, to have his case removed; but it does not provide that in all cases it shall be done. In districts where cases of this kind occur, and where there appears no disposition to use the bench or bar for selfish purposes, there will be no application of this law. It is simply a remedy to be used where the consciousness exists that justice is not dealt out fairly, and in that case it is right there should be a remedy.

Mr. WHITE. Is there not a remedy under the law for a case of that kind?

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. There is an extreme remedy, but one which should not be resorted to until patience is exhausted. These abuses exist in courts year after year, before the extreme remedy of impeachment is resorted to.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion to postpone indefinitely?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. DONOVAN, and wereas follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barnett, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Jackson, James, Landon, Lowry, McCandless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schnall, Seagriff, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Brown (Mercer),

Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Graham, Haines, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker and Worthington—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

No. 1339, an act to indemnify certain election officers of this Commonwealth for losses sustained and fines imposed on them for acting in accordance with the provisions of the act of Assembly of June fourth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

THE ERIE AND ALLEGHENY RAILROAD.

Mr. LOWRY moved that the Committee on Railroads be discharged from the further consideration of bill entitled A supplement to the Erie and Allegheny railroad company, authorizing connections with their road, on the east line of the township of North East, with any railroad from the State of New York, and on the west side with any railroad constructed or to be constructed in the State of Ohio, and also authorizing said Erie and Allegheny railroad company to connect their road within the county of Crawford with the Atlantic and Great Western railroad company, with the same legal effect as though the connection was made within the county of Erie, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the same.

Mr. RIDGWAY. I do not know what this bill is, but I would say this: There is a gentleman here who lives in Erie, and is interested in affairs there, who spoke to me, and requested that this bill should not come before the Senate. He said it was an unrighteous bill, and ought not to pass.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, upon all matters except those of railroads I represent Erie county, as well as Crawford. My opinion and wishes in this Senate are now, and always have been, since I took my seat here, respected upon all questions of a local character, except those of railroads. Upon this great question (railroads) I am powerless as an infant.

Again and again you have denied to me, as you have done older and better men than I am, who have gone before me, all legislation in regard to railroads, in my district.

It is true that I managed you, unbeknown to yourselves, and obtained a general railroad law for Erie and Crawford counties. To this extremity you should never have driven me. We have a general railroad law for my district. Our locations you understand. We lay bordered upon New York on the east of us, and Ohio on the west of us. You have a law upon your statute books which forbids the connection of any road constructed in the State with those out of the State; a law which would disgrace China.

The bill which I desire to pass is to allow our little general railroad law in the counties of Erie and Crawford to connect with any road from Ohio or New York at the State line.

This bill, if it becomes a law, will enable the New York and Erie railroad to make our city its terminus, an event, which, from necessity, must follow in case of the happening of another matter, of which I shall now speak.

The Atlantic and Great Western railroad is bound by the terms of its charter, as well as by written covenants with the Erie and Allegheny railroad, to construct, maintain and run a road from Meadville to Erie, or to connect with some road of the same width of gauge, and the point of divergence from their road "shall be within the county of Erie," "to the city of Erie." Commerce, geography and mathematical instruments join in saying that the true point of divergence should be made on the Crawford county side of the line, instead of Erie county.

I have more than once shown the Senate's maps, surveys and profiles, all bearing testimony that you did violence to your fame in refusing me this legislation, and built for your conscience with your own tongue your own hell.

Erie is a living limb on the body of the State. With or without it, and the whole body must suffer. Your injustice towards her is high as Heaven, and smells like brimstone. The Atlantic must go to Erie with her road, or she will lose every bar of iron, every chartered right, within the State.

I care not into whose hands the Atlantic and Great Western railroad may go. She can no more get rid of going to Erie, in any and every event, than I can rid myself of sin without repentance.

Go there she must, and go there she will, and it suits her interest, and every interest, whether built by her own hand, or the hand of the Erie and Allegheny railroad company, that the road should be constructed through Edinboro', and this law which you have so long so unjustly denied to me, unchains them, and takes from our limbs, and Edinboro's limbs, your hateful manacles.

When the Atlantic and Great Western railroad goes to Erie, you might as well chain a tiger with a woolen string as to keep back the New York and Erie, on its six-foot track, and the New York Central, upon its four-foot eight inch track.

Erie and commerce are bound by chains which the Legislature of Pennsylvania was paid for forging in years gone past.

Erie is bound by chains which she must break loose from or she must perish.

The building of any one of these roads to Erie is the building of all of them.

I am told, and I believe, that the railroads of Erie, particularly the lake shore railroads, keep a citizen of Erie here to whisper softly in the palm of the Railroad Committee's hands.

I care not how respectable the early life of the gentleman who whispers in the ear of the Senator from Philadelphia is, I denounce him for talking with the Railroad Committee in the dark, and his former good name will become a by-word and a reproach here and at home if he makes further interference on this subject against Erie. I advise him to say his prayers and go home, and if this bill fails to become a law, I will fell a tree upon him when he gets there.

If he or any other person from Erie county wants any honest legislation here, they can always get it of me by asking or writing for it, and that legislation, whether for the city, for corporations, or for individuals, if just, should be as free as man's salvation.

I like to see my constituents here at Harrisburg. No man will go further to yield them courtesy and attention, whether here for pastime, or upon business of their own, whether before the Legislature, or in the departments; but I denounce as infamous the practice of any corporation who keeps men here to head off rivals.

The building of any twenty miles of railroads in any part of Erie county, or anywhere in the State, is of more value to the people than the worthless lives of all the lobby.

My sands of Senatorial life are about run out, and I would advise Senators who follow me to beware. Lobbyists will bring, sooner or later, upon those who tolerate them, a dishonored grave, if not a violent death.

I represent Erie county. I would not misrepresent her material interest for a kingdom. What I say goes upon the Record. What the respectable lobbyist says in the dark goes upon an unwritten record. I settle with the people at large; he settles with the mistaken corporations, who he makes think that I am their enemy, and that he is their strength and their redeemer.

The highly respectable gentleman can always get any proper legislation that he may reasonably require for himself or those who sent him here; but I will shake every bone in his body if he remains here in hostility to this measure.

Mr. DONOVAN. Can not we build the six-foot road to Erie under the general railroad law?

Mr. LOWRY. No, sir; if the general railroad law had passed both branches of the Legislature, as it passed the Senate, then we at Erie would remain in a prison with no door, far when the general railroad law, as it is shamefully called, was under consideration, to the undying infamy of this Senate be it said, Senators voted against allowing those who "construct free railroads" to connect at State lines. In the pillory of time you—you are in danger of placing yourselves, by that vote, in infamy to your chin. Relieve your selves now, I beseech you.

I move that the Senate proceed to the consideration of that bill.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LOWRY and Mr. RIDGWAY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfield, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Lowry, Schall, Seagrist, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, White and Hall. Speaker—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Connell, Glatz, M' Candless, M' Conaughy, Ridgway and Worthington—6.
So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call,

Mr. BROWN (Lawrence) said: Mr. Speaker, this is one of the simplest acts of justice this Senate can perform. I vote "aye."

"The bill was then read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

CHANGE OF VENUE.

Mr. WALLACE moved that the Committee on the Judiciary Local be discharged from the further consideration of bill entitled An act to authorize the removal of certain cases from the court of common pleas of Cambria county to the court of common pleas of Blair county, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the same.

Mr. WHITE. This affects my district, and I cannot consent to let this bill pass without objecting to it, and objecting to it most earnestly. I have a memorial from my constituents in regard to it which I wish to have read.

Mr. WALLACE asked the Clerk to read the following affidavit:

"William H. Wilson, being duly sworn, according to law saith: I am an engineer in chief of the Pennsylvania railroad company, and am familiar with the facts and circumstances attending the accident in September, 1866, at Johnstown, in Cambria county, by which a large number of persons were injured, yet through no fault or default of the Pennsylvania railroad company, although it is endeavored in proceedings at law to recover damages from said company in the court of Cambria county. I am also familiar with the state of feeling in said county, and am well convinced that it would be very difficult, and perhaps not possible to secure a fair and impartial trial by a jury of said county; that it would greatly promote the cause of justice to change the venue in certain cases growing out of said accident, to some other county, sufficiently remote not to be affected by its local interests and feelings which the accident has engendered. I consider Blair county to be such a county, and that a fair and impartial trial can there take place.

Wm. H. Wilson.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 29th day of March, A. D. 1867.

W. W. DOUGHERTY,

Alderman.

Mr. WHITE sent the following memorial to the Clerk's desk, to be read:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

We, the undersigned, citizens of Cambria county, and sufferers by the fall of the part of the platform of the Pennsylvania railroad at Johnstown, on the 14th of September last, respectfully represent that we understand a bill has been introduced into your honorable body by the railroad company, changing the place of trial by such suitors from Cambria to Blair county. We, therefore, earnestly remonstrate against the passage of such bill.

First. Because many of us, from our injuries, and consequent loss of time (being poor), could not attend the trials at such a distance from home, nor possibly pay the accumulated expense of ourselves and witnesses incident thereto.

Second. Because there is no undue prejudice or excitement by and among the people against the company, and a fair and impartial trial, therefore, can be had in the county of Cambria.

Third. Because, if a change of venue must be had, let not the corporation, through your honorable bodies, fix the place.

And, as in duty bound, we will ever pray, &c.

Signed by Richard Morgan and wife, H. Walter, George Wagoner and others.

Mr. WHITE, Mr. Speaker, I trust the Senate will not entertain this motion to discharge this committee. I see no good reason for a change of venue in this case from Cambria to Blair, or to any other county. Many of us are familiar with the fact of an accident on the railroad platform at Johnstown last fall. Some of the citizens injured there have brought actions against the Pennsylvania railroad company to recover in damages for the injuries they sustained on account of the insufficiency of the platform which broke down. These actions have been brought in Cambria county, and his Honor, Judge Taylor, presiding in the courts of the three counties of Blair, Cambria and Huntingdon. Johnstown is in Cambria, and away on one side of the county—a populous community, not a community from which any large proportion of the jurors are selected. The county seat is Ebensburg, in a more northerly part of the county, and which does not participate in any feeling that may have arisen on the subject matter of these actions. It is asked here, upon an ex parte affidavit, that the venue be changed from Cambria county to Blair. I have sent to the Clerk's desk and have had read a memorial from many of the citizens of that neighborhood, and many of the sufferers themselves, protesting against this change. Their protests and representations are entitled to as much credit as the prayers of those who ask for this change. I trust, for this reason, that it will not be granted.

Then, again, the parties injured are for the most part poor operatives about the Cambria iron works. Some of them are the poorer citizens of Johnstown, who have to labor for a living, and have no money to spend, and who cannot stand the expense of a legal counsel necessary for the trial of the case elsewhere, and I am informed by the parties themselves, and their representatives here, that the change of venue in this case from the county of Cambria is almost equivalent to a denial of justice. This is a legal question entirely, and very recently I understand they were ruled out of court. They were tried by arbitrators; they were not men learned in the law; not judges, but decided the case according to the light presented, and found a verdict against the Pennsylvania railroad company for the damages. These parties proved they had sustained. I am informed by those who are in the interests of the Pennsylvania railroad company, that the verdicts rendered by that board of arbitrators was very reasonable. If they decided the law improperly, of course there can be no verdict at the ultimate trial at all. Then the only reason why they can come here and ask a change of venue is that they cannot get a fair jury there, a jury who will render a fair verdict.

Now, sir, you have here the fact of an arbitration, tried in the very court where the accident occurred, by men who are neighbors of the sufferers; yet, they passed upon this question, and they assessed damages, which are admitted on all hands, to be fair and reasonable. The court in Cambria county is the same court, so far as the judge is concerned, which sits in the county of Blair, and if the legal question presented by the counsel for the sufferers is not sustained, of course the case falls. If their position, however, is sustained, then, of course, the case is presented to the jury, who assess damages, and they who ask this change should clearly show here that there is no jury in Cambria county which will not give reasonable damages under the circumstances. It is a fact that the platform was insufficient, and that it was a fault of the company, of course, they were responsible, and ought to compensate these men who suffered injuries in consequence. I am satisfied that any commitments of Cambria county, the sober minded, intelligent men there, will give them exact and equal justice, and I am certain that Judge Taylor will, because they admit that fact when they ask to take it down to Blair county. Why take it to Blair county? That is the last county that I want to have it taken to, if it is removed at all. It is an excellent county, having excellent people, yet the city of Altoona is in Blair county. That city has been built up by the Pennsylvania railroad interest; it is the location of its company shops; there are many of the employees of the company there; and there is a class of people there who are likely to sympathize with the Pennsylvania company against the sufferers in this most distressing accident if they are called upon to sit as jurors, and I trust you will not seek thus to act unfairly to those poor sufferers, many of whom have been beggared by this catastrophe. I trust you will not ask us to take it from Cambria county to a county where they think they cannot get anything like justice.

Mr. WALLACE. This bill comes to me from a gentleman of my own position, at the bar—a gentleman of legal ability and integrity, if counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad. The necessity for the change of venue is demonstrated by the affidavit of Mr. Wilson; he swears that he believes that an impartial trial cannot be had in Cambria. An excitement exists there in regard to this matter. As the law stands, the Pennsylvania railroad company can remove these cases to any other county adjacent to Cambria county, through which their road does not pass. The general law provides that in all actions brought against railroad companies, venue may be changed, by either party, into any county adjacent, through which their road does not pass. It will not benefit the plaintiff to take them to Clearfield or Somerset, and compel them to pay the expenses of their witnesses there. Will it not be better for them to go to Blair county, the nearest county by railroad? If they do not desire this, let them be taken to Allegheny, or some other county, easy of access. If being granted that an impartial trial cannot be had in that county, the Senator is standing in his own light. All we wish to do here is to have them taken to some convenient county, which is Blair. If he does not concede that a fair trial can be had there, let him name the county he wishes.

But it seems to me that the contiguity of that county should induce him to go there. That a fair trial can be had in Cambria seems to be demonstrated. The Senator, for the first time during the session, gets up to oppose changes of venue, when it is an admitted fact that great local excitement has arisen there; there can be no doubt about that being a local excitement. The necessity for a change of venue is plain and clear, and I do not see why the Senate should not grant it. If they cannot have a fair trial, then send them to a county where they can.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, where the proper affidavit has been made, I am in favor of changing the venue. I shall, therefore, vote to discharge the committee.

On the question,

Will the Senate discharge the committee, and proceed to the consideration of the bill? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. WHITE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Council, Cowles,

Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M' Candless, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Schall, Searith, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and Worthington—22.

YAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne, (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Davis and White—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, the Senate seems to be determined to pass this bill, and put these people to the expense of taking their case out of Cambria county. I desire to have it taken to the most convenient place. I therefore move to amend by striking out "Blair" and inserting "Somerset."

Mr. FISHER. It will be more convenient for these people to go to Blair than to Somerset.

Mr. WHITE. I beg the Senator's pardon; it is only thirty-eight miles from Johnstown to Somerset.

Mr. WALLACE. They have a right to go to either.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. SCHALL, and were as follows, viz:

YAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Graham, M'Conaughy, Taylor and White—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M' Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searith, Shoemaker, Wallace, Walls and Worthington—18.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I think it due to these people to select some other county than Blair for the trial of their cases. They have sent a petition to me, signed almost unanimously by the people of Johnstown; they have united in the request that they shall not be tried in the county of Blair. I trust this Senate will not refuse the request of these people, who are suffering all the pains incident to an accident of this kind, and who are seeking that pitance of redress which the laws of the land give them. I trust this Senate of Pennsylvania, this body, composed of fair, intelligent men, will not refuse my constituents, suffering as they do from this accident, a change of venue where they certainly can have a fair trial. I trust you will not force us to go to a county that we do not want to go to.

What is the law now? Why, either of these parties, under the act of 1834, upon making the necessary affidavit, and going before the court, can change the venue to a county through which the railroad does not run. I read from the act of 1834, which says:

"It shall and may be lawful for either party, in any suit or action now pending, or that may hereafter be brought in any of the courts of this Commonwealth, by or against any canal or railroad company, to remove the same into the court of any other adjacent county through which the canal or railroad of such company is not located, which suits, so removed, shall be proceeded in by the proper court, in like manner, and subject to like rules and proceedings as if it had remained in the court in which it was originally commenced, and upon final judgment, res judicata executions may issue as in other cases."

That is the law of Pennsylvania. This action was brought by these people against the corporation—against a railroad company—and if that railroad company, under this law, thinks that justice cannot be done in the county in which the actions are brought, all they have to do is to go before the court and make the necessary affidavit, and the venue is changed at once to an adjacent county; and if the plaintiffs want to treat the defendants fairly, they would conform to the law as it is now found in the statute-book, and not come here and ask that the general rule be changed, and these poor, suffering men be forced to go into a county, and before a jury, where they believe they cannot have justice. Why will the Senate of Pennsylvania refuse to me, the representative of these people, the right to indicate a county where they can be tried? I move to amend by striking out "Blair" and inserting "Allegheny."

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. WALLACE, and were as follows, viz:

YAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Graham, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Connell, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M' Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searith and Worthington—15.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WHITE. I move to amend by striking out "Blair," and inserting "Westmoreland." I want to take it to Greensburg, thirty miles west, right on the line of the railroad. Certainly, Senators cannot refuse that.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. FISHER, and were as follows, viz:

YAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Graham, M'Conaughy, Searith, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace and White—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M' Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Walls and Worthington—16.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WHITE moved to amend by striking out "Blair" and inserting "Indiana."

Mr. FISHER. I call the previous question.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I want to see it go upon the Record that the Senator calls for the previous question, when I am trying to protect my poor constituents. What! call the previous question in a case like this in the Senate, when it is never usual to call the previous question except in a most extreme case. Sir, I challenge the party opposing me, to go upon the record as calling the previous question to drive this bill, or ship, or spur, against my protest, in behalf of affected constituents. I make no filibustering, no factions fight here, but only discharge my duty, and will not submit, if I can avoid it, to a gag rule against me. I ask but fairness and justice for my constituents. I trust the Senator will withdraw the call.

Mr. WALLACE. I trust the Senator will withdraw the call for the previous question. The call for the previous question was withdrawn.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. WHITE, and were as follows, to wit:

YAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Cowles Davis, Graham, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace and White—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Donovan,

Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, M' Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searith, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—18.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WHITE moved to amend by striking out "Blair" and inserting "Centre."

Mr. WALLACE. I trust the Senate will accept this. I am not tenacious as to locality. I would prefer Allegheny, and voted for that.

The amendment was Agreed to. The section as amended was Agreed to.

The bill was read a second and third time, and Passed finally.

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS OBJECTED OF BY CALENDAR OF HOUSE BILLS.

The private calendar having been gone through with the following bills, objected of the calendar were, on motion, called up and disposed of as stated:

Mr. ROYER moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 700, a supplement to an act to incorporate the Chester Creek railroad company, approved the 10th day of April, 1866.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DONOVAN and Mr. RANDALL, and were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Brown (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Cowles, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Jackson, Landon, M'Conaughy, Randall, Royer, Seaight, Taylor, White and Hall, Speaker—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Burnett, Coleman, Davis, Donovan, Glatz, James, Schall, Stutzman, Wallace and Walls—11.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill was then

Laid over on third reading.

Mr. DAVIS moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of House bill

No. 1070, an act to repeal the second section of an act authorizing the collection of a tax in Jackson township, Dauphin county, and Jefferson township, Berks county, to refund money advanced to pay bounties to volunteers.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, all I know about this bill is what is contained in the remonstrance which I find on my desk. The act of last winter provided that a tax should be levied. This bill proposes to repeal that act; hence, those men who made advancements would lose their money. These are the allegations made to me: the Clerk may read the remonstrance for the information of the Senate. I have no interest in the bill.

The remonstrance was read, as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met:

The remonstrance of the subscribers, citizens of Jefferson township, in the county of Berks, respectfully remonstrate against the repeal of the second section of the act authorizing the collection of a tax in Jackson township, Dauphin county, and Jefferson township, Berks county, to refund money advanced to pay bounty to volunteers, passed 1866.

The petitioners allege that only one man asked for and attained the passage of that act by his own private use and purposes. It will be perceived, by these remonstrances, that such is not the fact. On the 15th of February, 1866, a supplement was passed extending the bounty act of Berks county, so that all the indebtedness under the last call of the President for volunteers could be paid, and every township in the whole county availed itself of that act and paid all their indebtedness. It was but for the peculiar manner in which the money was raised in this township that the people could not pay their indebtedness under that act, as part of the money was raised by the school board, and part by the drafted men, in which the drafted men agreed that each was to pay two hundred dollars, and all those who would be exempt should receive back one hundred and eighty dollars. But some of those who were not exempt failed to pay the amount required of them, by which the committee who received the money and filled the quota would be held responsible according to the agreement, to pay back about twelve hundred dollars, of which they never received one cent. For this reason the act was passed, that the township should fill the whole quota, as had been done in the previous drafts. And your remonstrators will ever pray.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, we have heard all the allegations on both sides. I am assured by two members of the House last winter that this bill is perfectly proper, that no man will be injured by it, and that no person will be in any danger whatever of becoming liable for any money. I am assured by the members of the last House that the act could be repealed. The parties asking for the repeal pledged themselves that if anybody did become liable, they would be willing to have a tax levied. I do not understand the matter as well as the gentlemen in the other House, but I am so assured by them. They have no interest in the matter themselves. I am assured that the act passed last year was a mistake, and unjust to the people of that place, and should be repealed.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Why was that act passed last winter?

Mr. DAVIS. I cannot answer the Senator; I was not here. I am told by two members of the other House that the bill was passed under a misapprehension of the facts in the case.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. A gentleman who was here told me that he would be a loser to the extent of seven hundred dollars if the act of last winter was repealed. He advanced funds to save those men from the draft, and that act provided that a tax should be levied to enable them to refund this money. If it is repealed now, of course there is no tax to be levied for refunding the money.

Mr. COLEMAN said he objected to the bill when it came up, because he saw Dauphin county on it; it was too indefinite, he had no connection with the Berks county legislation at all in this matter.

Mr. DAVIS. I would suggest that the matter can be remedied by a slight amendment; that is, to repeal this act, so far as it relates to the county of Berks; that would confine the operation of this bill before the Senate to the township in Berks county alone.

Mr. COLEMAN. I do not know whether it is necessary until the act is examined.

Mr. DAVIS. In order to make the matter safe I would suggest that amendment. In regard to the question of the Senator from Lancaster, I do not know that he said any thing the second time that he did not say the first time. I do not know that it is necessary to answer a statement more than once. We do not desire that any person should be made to pay any money out of his pocket, if he is not responsible. If that result does follow, and the gentleman whom the Senator saw should be made to pay any money, I am willing myself to introduce a bill to have him reimbursed by a tax on that township, and everybody would be willing to have that done. This is eminently right and proper, and should be done.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I still am not sufficiently satisfied with the explanation. I would like to hear from the Senator from Berks [Mr. Davis] why the act should be repealed. What harm can it do? It is all left with the authorities of the township to do justice to these people; it can do no harm. If there is a single citizen who will be unjustly dealt with, it ought not to be repealed. I have no interest in the bill; I am not here to legislate for the county of Berks; but it is my duty to see that injustice is prevented whenever I am called to do so.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to debate this matter; and if the Senator will state his objections, once for all, I will take pleasure in trying to answer him.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I repeat, because the act of last winter was passed to reimburse men who advanced money to help those people out of the draft. Upon the strength of this, these men advanced the money. This bill proposes to repeal that act, and hence they would be left without money to reimburse them.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this matter, as stated by the Senator from Lancaster, is presented in an unfair light. The act which we seek to repeal makes it obligatory upon the school directors to levy and collect that tax, and instead of the tax being levied, to collect a sum of money to raise their quota, it is for the purpose of assisting men who paid money out of their pockets to shield themselves. Upon information I have received, this application is right, and no wrong can ensue from the repeal of the act passed last winter.

Mr. COLEMAN. I would ask the Senator from Berks to let this bill lie over, because it may be that the representative from Dauphin wants this passed. I do not oppose the Senator's legislation at all: I only want time to examine it.

Mr. DAVIS suggested that it be passed to a third reading, and then laid over.

Mr. OWLES. Mr. Speaker, I have taken some little pains to examine this section. I find that the section which this bill proposes to repeal is as follows:

SEC. 2. That the school directors of Jefferson township, Berks county, be and they are hereby required to levy and collect a bounty tax, sufficient to refund the money paid by drafted men, under the last call of the President of the United States; said tax to be levied and collected as bounty taxes have heretofore been levied and collected: Provided, That said tax shall not be collected from officers and soldiers, who may now be in the volunteer service of the United States, or who have been in said service, and have been honorably discharged therefrom.

It strikes me that this section was a monstrous proposition, and the sooner it can be repealed the better. If we passed a bad act last winter, I think we ought, on the first opportunity, to repeal it.

The bill was read a third time, and

Passed finally.

CHANGE OF VENUE FROM ALLEGHEY TO JEFFERSON COUNTY.

On motion of Mr. WHITE, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill entitled An act to change the venue in certain cases from Allegheny to Jefferson county.

Mr. WHITE sent to the Clerk's desk, to be read, the following affidavit, showing the justice of the application for a change of venue:

Jefferson County, ss:

Personally appeared before me, prothonotary in and for said county, W. W. Corbet, who, being duly affirmed according to law, deposed and said that the subject matter involved in suits in Allegheny county, between himself and Lewis Nelson, and on which he wishes change of venue, lies in Jefferson county. The property in question lies in this county, and most all the witnesses reside here; that unless the venue is changed he will have to incur a great deal of unnecessary expense in taking witnesses to Allegheny county, and that he verily believes he cannot have justice done him in said county of Allegheny.

W. W. CORBET.

Affirmed and subscribed before me March 28, 1867.

J. M. STRECK,

Prothonotary.

Mr. WHITE, Mr. Speaker, the strongest reason possible in favor of this bill is that which I shall briefly indicate. During the present session the Legislature has passed a bill which reads as follows:

That all bills for injunctions and other relief in equity, shall be filed and applied for in the courts of the county where the subject matter in controversy may exist, and should there be no one in said county on whom a writ regularly issued can be made, according to the existing laws, the same may be served on the property, or on any other county of the State, by the sheriff or other officer, to whom the writ is directed, or by his deputy; and if there should be no such person within the State, the court, if in session, or a judge thereof, in vacation, may order and direct publication of notice in such manner as may best serve to bring home notice to the respondent or respondents, and the sheriff or other officer shall make return thereof, under oath; and so much of any law or laws of this State, as is hereby altered or modified, is hereby repealed.

Thus, you will observe, Mr. Speaker, that by this general law which has been passed, and signed by the Governor, we have established the principle here that the proper place to settle a controversy of this kind is in the jurisdiction in which the subject matter of the controversy rests; we have recognized that principle. It is true the complainant can discontinue all proceedings there, and by paying off all the costs, commence de novo in Jefferson county; but that will cost a great deal, and to avoid this expenditure, he asks that this be changed to Jefferson county. That argument, in connection with the affidavit of the party, that he thinks he cannot have justice done there, should influence the Senate in granting the prayer for relief.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, we have heard the other side of this question argued during the forenoon. If the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] had been allowed more latitude we should have had it argued more elaborately in respect to the change of venue from his district. Now, what are the facts here? Why, that W. W. Corbet voluntarily goes to Allegheny county, and commences his proceeding in equity there against two residents of that county. It is true, there was a former case pending between the same parties, which had gone to the Supreme Court, and here is a certified copy of the opinion of Chief Justice Woodward. Corbet lost those cases. He was so unfortunate as not to have a good cause. The case was tried in the county, taken to the Supreme Court, has been tried, and the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] alleges that within the last week the money has been paid. I know that yesterday week one of the defendants was here. The money had not then been paid; it has not since been paid, unless under compulsion.

Now, what are the grounds here? This, you will remember, is a proceeding in equity. There is no foundation, as was alleged in the case this morning, for an assertion that there is a prejudice which would affect the jury. There is not a word in the case. It is simply a case in the district court.

Mr. WHITE. The affidavit from the parties, stating that they cannot get justice, has been read.

Mr. BIGHAM. The argument of the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE], this morning, was so decided, that I voted with him.

Mr. WHITE. Certainly; and I am much obliged to the Senator, and I want him to vote with me this time.

Mr. BIGHAM. The allegation in that case was, that there was a prejudice in the public mind, and that justice could not be done. I have received a letter from the judges of our courts, and I am going to be more cautious about these changes of venues, because the judges think it is a reflection on them, whether it is contained in the papers or not. I received a letter from Judges Hampton and Williams, desiring to know why there was an application for the removal of this case. It necessarily implies a reflection upon those courts, because the jury has nothing to do with it. It was a case in equity, and justice will be done there, unless the judges are disposed to do injustice. This is the first case in which an application for change has been made in cases of equity. All former changes have been asked for on account of supposed prejudice. This case is confined solely to the court. I know from the joint letter which I received, asking what was on file here in regard to this change, that they regard it as a reflection. Mr. Corbet commenced this suit voluntarily. If he sees proper to discontinue it, he can do so. Let him not come here to ask us to change the venue, without anything more than a general allegation that he thinks justice could not be done. The judge of the district will see that he has justice. Besides, the counsel for Mr. Corbet were here three days ago, and they say that this application is made without their approbation. My colleague knows the same facts. They say that they believe full and ample justice can be done in Allegheny county.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, the change of venue asked for in this case, I think, is simply absurd. That justice cannot be obtained by this gentleman in Allegheny county, because of any popular prejudice that may exist in the minds of the people there against him, is, to say the least, absurd and ridiculous. Now, I think that the trouble is, that he will get justice, and that he wants to go somewhere else, where justice is not so impartially meted out. This gentleman seems to have constituted himself the counsel in the matter, and I hope that the Senate will not order this change of venue, and thus cast a reflection upon the people of Allegheny county, and especially upon our courts.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think any reflection can be cast upon the judges of the courts of Allegheny; and I do not think the Senator from Allegheny will accuse me of being inconsistent. I was for the change of venue, this morning, and am now for this one. It seems to me we have passed, during this session, a general law which establishes, as a general principle, that which covers this case. Against that law, which I voted, but the Senate made the law, that the lex loci—that the law of the place—should control the jurisdiction. You compel us, by that law, passed within three weeks, to go where the case originates, to try it.

This man asks that his case (without reflection upon the courts of Allegheny) may be made to come within the terms of that general law. Will you deny it to him? He says he cannot get justice there. Assuming that the Senators from Allegheny are correct, which I do not dispute, is it any more than what you give to this man the benefits of the law which you give to every citizen of the Commonwealth—the right to go where the cause originated, in order to get at the truth? For this I am willing to vote, and shall vote, with the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE].

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I will vote for this bill, but for a different reason than that given by the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE]; I will vote for it for the reasons I gave years ago, and have always stood by. I will vote for a change of venue for any man who will hold up his hand and swear that he believes he cannot have a fair trial there, and gives a reasonable evidence that what he believes is the truth. This privilege of a fair trial by jury is a glorious thing.

Mr. WALLACE. Did the Senator advocate that doctrine yesterday afternoon?

Mr. LOWRY. Yes, sir; when the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE] was on a fair trial here, we let him blow as long as he wanted to. When the Senator began to blow about the news from Connecticut I was a little cranky, for which he has forgiven me and I him. Seriously, I think this Legislature, before it adjourns, should pass some law upon the subject of changing venues. Everybody comes here and get all they ask for, and why not make a general law? Why not give the courts power over this subject?

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, this case differs from those heretofore before this Senate. Men who are sued are obliged to answer; but this is a case of a plaintiff who voluntarily commenced a suit. There is no statute of limitation. Is it not an absurdity that a plaintiff who has the power of discontinuance, which will cost only some twenty dollars, should come here and occupy our time? Twenty dollars will pay the costs in this case. The Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] says that if any man will swear that there is a prejudice, he will vote for a change. This is a case in equity, and has nothing to do with juries; it is for the court to decide.

Mr. LOWRY. I was entirely mistaken in the case.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, it is true it was the plaintiff who asks this change of venue, but he has, in the prosecution of this suit, incurred a large amount of costs; and when he commenced this suit, he was obliged to go into the county of Allegheny and commence it, because he could not get a service upon the defendants outside of that county. He could not have served his writ in Jefferson; he can do so now, since we have passed that bill which authorizes the commencement of suits in the jurisdiction in which the subject matter lies, and you can go out of that jurisdiction to serve writs.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bills numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

Senate bill No. 1502, an act to incorporate the Pittston coal company.

Senate bill No. 1414, an act relative to the Merchants' and People's transportation company.

Senate bill No. 1596, an act to give the Chincoteague and other boom companies the right to sue for tolls and booms.

During the discussion of the bills on the private calendar, the following remarks were made:

On Senate bill No. 624.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state to the House that this bill was passed last winter in this House, but defeated in the Senate.

The circumstances which led to this bill are these: In the borough of Dillsburg, the people met and agreed to put a certain number of men in the army, and authorized the town council to levy and collect taxes for the purpose of paying these volunteers. Some six or seven individuals loaned the money to the township. The men were furnished, and then the council refused to collect and pay over the money that had been loaned.

Mr. MAISH. Mr. Speaker I think I am as well informed of the facts to which this bill relates as the gentleman from Franklin.

In 1864 there were nine persons in the borough of Dillsburg, who borrowed six hundred dollars for the purpose of putting substitutes in the army. After they had put in one man, they procured an informal meeting of the town council. In that council it was agreed to make out a duplicate and to levy and collect taxes in order to reimburse these men for procuring substitutes. The meeting was informal; there was no notice, whatever, given to the borough, although the bill alleges that due notice had been given. This allegation is entirely incorrect. No public notice had been given, and but few people knew of the meeting.

There are men in that town who have paid the sum of one thousand three hundred and ninety-five dollars to clear themselves and their sons from the draft; and whatever money these men subscribed was for the same purpose. Now, if they have failed to get their money from the borough, they come here and ask by this bill that it be returned. The amount is about six hundred dollars, averaging to the parties who petition its return the paltry sum of sixty-six and two-thirds dollars each. Two persons belonging to the town council, who were subject to the draft, ran away in order to escape it. This bill alleges that the chief burgess refused to sign the warrant. He has not refused; the warrant has been signed. This bill is to take the money from the poor widows and poor men of the town to pay the parties who originated this bill sixty-six and two-thirds dollars for procuring substitutes to keep themselves and their sons out of the draft. If I understand the temper of this House, they will pass no bill of this kind.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I have but one word to say in reference to this bill; and I would not have said anything but for the fact that I think the gentleman last on the floor is mistaken as to the facts of the case. Since the bill has been called up, I remember the action the committee took upon it. Certain parties, apparently respectable, appeared before the committee and recited the facts set forth in the preamble to the bill. They also showed that the secretary was there, and stated that he had posted the bills in the town three days prior to the meeting. The duplicates were also there, and one of them was signed by three of the town council, the others refusing. The evidence before the committee was such as to satisfy every member that the bill ought to pass, and that is my opinion from all the information I can gather.

Mr. MAISH. Mr. Speaker, I am sure I am not mistaken. The facts as I have stated are true, and I ask that this remonstrance be read to substantiate what I have said.

The remonstrance was read as follows:

WHEREAS, A bill is now pending before the Legislature of Pennsylvania, the object of which is to legalize a certain tax duplicate issued by the town council of the borough of Dillsburg, in the month of June, 1854, to collect money for the purpose of refunding to certain individuals the sum of six hundred dollars ($600), advanced by them to secure the service of two volunteers for the United States army;

And whereas, It is stated in the preamble to said bill, that "the citizens of Dillsburg, in the county of York, after due notice, held a meeting, at which they unanimously agreed that the borough authorities should levy a tax, in order to raise a bounty to pay volunteers, to free said borough from the draft;" Therefore, the undersigned, who were residents of the said borough at the time above referred to, do certify, and, if called upon to do so, are willing to make affidavit, that, to the best of their knowledge and belief, there never was any general public notice given of the meeting referred to; and further, that they never heard, until recently, that it was claimed that any such notice was given, notwithstanding there has been three attempts heretofore to induce the Legislature to impose this unjust tax upon the citizens of this borough.

And we further certify, that from the best information we have upon the subject, the meeting was very sparsely attended, which would not have been the case had due notice been given the citizens of it, as it is well known that the greater part of the people of the borough always have been opposed to the measure.

Signed by Levi Welty, Alex. Billifelt, and others.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire that the following petition may be read for the information of the House.

The petition was read as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

We, the undersigned, in reference to the bill before your honorable bodies, relating to bonnies in the borough of Dillsburg, York county, beg leave to say:

That we borrowed the money in good faith and with the assurance that the borough authorities would levy and collect a tax as soon as practicable, to pay back the money borrowed. Eight of our number belonged to the Republican, and one to the Democratic party. We soon discovered that, notwithstanding the town council had levied such a tax, that a portion of them were secretly influencing the chief burgess to withhold his signature. We next found them forming an anti-tax ticket, supported by the Democrats and a few Republicans who were always opposed to being taxed for bounty. We are perfectly satisfied that nothing prevented the collection of said tax but a desire to throw the whole burden upon those persons who borrowed the money, many of the anti-tax men having been heard to declare that those who borrowed the money, and were in favor of the war, might have the pleasure of paying it. We do conscientiously believe that political feelings and prejudices alone created the difficulty in collecting this tax.

W. H. COOVER,
G. L. SHEARER,
S. M. CHRONISTER,
H. C. SMYSER,
SOLOMON ANGLD.

State of Pennsylvania, York county, ss.

Personally appeared before me, the subscriber, a justice of the peace in and for said county, the above named W. H. Coover, G. L. Shearer, S. M. Chronister and H. C. Smyser, who, being by me duly sworn, according to law, do depose and say that the facts set forth in the foregoing petition are correct and true, to the best of their knowledge and belief.

G. L. SHEARER,
W. H. COOVER,
H. C. SMYSER,
S. M. CHRONISTER.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 29th day of January, A. D. 1867.

JACOB F. LEHNER,
Justice of the Peace.

Mr. ROATH. Mr. Speaker, I have but a few words to say in regard to this measure.

Certain parties presented themselves before the committee with statements. I asked several questions in regard to this measure, and among others whether a notice had been put up for a public meeting; the reply was, that there had been a notice put up, and the clerk was ready and willing to be qualified to the statement. I asked again, whether this money was loaned by a fair agreement between the council and the people, and the answer was in the affirmative, that the understanding was that this money should be refunded as soon as the council was able to replace it.

Those gentlemen who were before the committee were ready and willing to be qualified to the statements that they made.

I believe this is a just and correct bill, and that it should pass.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STUMBAUGH and Mr. DEHAVEN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Cameron, Chadwick, Chase, Colville, Davis, Day, DeHaven, Espy, Ewing, Frechorn, Gallagher, Gheary, Gordon, Harbison, Humphrey, Kennedy, Kerns, Kinney, Lee, Leech, M'Camant, M'Kee, M'Pherrin, Mann, Marks, Meehling, Meily, Pynpacker, Peter, Quay, Richards, Roath, Seiler, Sharples, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Wallace Webb, Weller, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Wright and Glass, Speaker—49.

NAYS—Messrs. Barrington, Boyd, Boyle, Breese, Bronnan, Challant, Collins, Craig, Deiss, Fogel, Gregory, Harner, Headman, Heltzel, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Jones, Kline, Koon, Kirtley, Lantz, Long, Henry, Muhl, Morkley, Myers, Mullis, Pheba, Quigley, Rhoads, Robinson, Satterthwait, Tharp and Westbrook—25.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill was then

Passed finally.

On House bill No. 1643.

The question was,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the grounds for this divorce before it goes through the House.

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the gentleman from Huntingdon [Mr. WARTON], I will say that I have a pe-tion on this matter which the House may hear read if they choose. I will state that the attorney in the case appeared before the committee and testified as we have heard recited in the preamble, and that the court refused to grant the petition because it was not a case within their jurisdiction.

The petition was read.

Mr. DEISE. Mr. Speaker, I dislike very much to interfere with any private bill, and I would not do so in this instance except that I can conceive upon the showing of the petitioner himself, which is merely ex parte, that he is not entitled to the legislation asked for. Divorce is a subject that should be carefully investigated in every step of the proceedings attending it. The case presents this fact upon the husband's own showing, upon his own petition, under his own oath, that the court refused to entertain his case.

And now the petition is presented without the knowledge of the wife and without an opportunity being given that she may be heard in this hall.

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will allow me to interrupt him, I will say that the Committee on Divorces made it their rule in the beginning of the session to act upon no case until notice had been given to both parties—which has been done in this case.

Mr. DEISE. Has the wife had personal notice of this application?

Mr. KINNEY. It is so certified.

Mr. DEISE. That would remove one objection, but not the other. If the laws we enact are worth anything let us have no exception. This is one of the most important steps a legislative body can take. I know neither of these parties, but I hold it to be my duty, while I am a member of this House, to oppose all applications of the character that have no more merit than is contained in the bill before us. Is it true that a party can agree with his wife, after having entered into the solemn contract of marriage, to separate, and then to file this Legislature for a divorce? Is it true that we are going to publish in the journals of this State the fact that two parties can enter into a mutual agreement to separate and then receive a divorce? If so, let us publish the facts to the world and before three hundred and sixty five days have elapsed, two-thirds of the people of this State will be asking the same privilege. Gentlemen may laugh as they please, the marriage relation is either something or nothing.

Are we going to stultify the courts? Are we going to stultify ourselves? Are we going to grant a divorce merely upon ex parte evidence? I make these remarks not alone with reference to this particular case, but with reference to every divorce case before this body. Now, what is required before a court? Not only the sworn petition of the complainant, but the testimony taken before a commissioner; and the facts set forth in the petition must not only be verified in an affidavit, but they must be proven by competent parties; and after all that is done, the court of quarter sessions or common pleas having jurisdiction in the case, can decree a divorce or not, as it sees fit.

I ask the gentleman who has charge of this bill if there is merit in it? I ask if there is any evidence before this House, except that which is ex parte? If not, I affirm and declare we are doing that which no court of justice in the State of Pennsylvania will do. We are creating a law to destroy an agreement of the most solemn and sacred character upon the ex parte testimony of the party in interest.

Here, in my place, I enter my protest against any bill of this character. It is our duty to ourselves, our duty to the women of this country, our duty to the reputation of our State, our duty to the intelligence and virtue of this great people, that we may consider this subject carefully.

On agreeing to the bill,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DEISE and Mr. RHOADS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Barrington, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Chalfant, Chase, Davis, De Haven, Gibson, Gregory, Hood, Hunt, Kennedy, Kinsey, Koon, M'Camant, M'Kee, M'Pherrin, Markley, Mechling, Meily, Meyers, Pennypacker, Robinson, Roush, Satterthwait, Seiler, Sharples, Subers, Sharp, Westbrook, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall and Wright—36.

NAYS—Messrs. Armstrong, Barton, Boyd, Breen, Brennan, Colville, Craig, Day, Deise, Fogel, Freeborn, Gallagher, Gordon, Harner, Headman, Heltzel, Jenks, Jones, Kurtz, Long, M'Henry, Mann, Marks, Mullin, Peter, Phelan, Rhoads, Richards, Routh, Sizer, Wallace, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wilson and Glass, Speaker—36.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the bill was

Not agreed to.

On House bill No. 1650.

The question was on the final passage of the bill.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, having been telegraphed and written upon this subject a number of times, I think it is proper for me to say something in relation to it.

It was entirely opposed to the bill until this man had agreed to make ample provision for his wife and child. I believe, from representations, that the connection is incompatible, and that these parties never can live comfortably together. I desire merely to say that for two or three days I have been seeking to perfect the arrangements which I believe are now satisfactory to all parties.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the committee some four or five meetings. Both parties were fully heard in regard to it, and from facts before the committee, I think it is a case proper for the consideration of the legislature. These parties cannot live together, they are so incompatible in temper. The husband has made ample provision for the wife, and I do not think there is an objectionable feature in the bill.

Mr. HEADMAN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me this is the lamest argument I ever heard. I am no lawyer, but this is the first bill of this kind upon which some lawyer here has not risen and said the court had jurisdiction. I will ask whether the court has not jurisdiction? I am surprised to hear the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE] say that because this man has made ample provision for his wife and her child he is entitled to a divorce. I will leave it to the good sense of this House whether the court has or has not jurisdiction. If the court has jurisdiction I hope some lawyer will state it.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, my attention has been called to the facts of this case; and in addition to the general facts which have been stated by the two gentlemen from Philadelphia, I believe that the court has no jurisdiction; I believe, under the circumstances of the case, relief should be granted to this man. I am told that his condition whilst in the company of his wife is rendered in every way intolerable, and that she only remains with him long enough to prevent the courts having jurisdiction on the ground of desertion. A short time after their marriage, I am informed, she left his residence without assigning any particular cause, and returned to her own home, remaining there for a considerable length of time. Afterwards, when she returned to his house, upon being questioned as to the reasons for her conduct, she said that with and by the advice of her friends she had returned in order to prevent his having a divorce upon the ground of desertion. The court is prevented from having jurisdiction in that way. So far as the facts have been stated to me, I believe this is a sufficient reason for granting the divorce.

Mr. WADDELL. Mr. Speaker, I have no knowledge of my own in regard to the facts connected with this case. I have read one or two letters from the counsel who are concerned in the matter, and they corroborate the statement made by the gentleman from Berks [Mr. JONES]. The parties, as has been stated here, are so incompatible in their temperaments that it is impossible for them to live together. The woman upon more than one occasion has left her husband's house, remained away a considerable length of time, returned, continued with her husband a few days and then again left, just as has been stated, to prevent an application to the court on the ground of desertion. It is probably her conduct has not been such as would enable him to apply for a divorce on account of rendering his life burdensome. I am not sufficiently well acquainted with the facts connected with the case to detail them. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. DOXONOR] has the papers in his possession; he had the letters to which I referred. I would like him to have an opportunity of presenting his case before the House.

Mr. HOD. Mr. Speaker, I will state for the information of the House, that I represent the case of the respondent. He was unwilling that the divorce should be granted unless proper provision was made for the woman. That provision has been made and, as I think, satisfactorily to all parties. There is no disposition to cause any difficulty in the passage of this act. I believe there is not a ground for divorce in the courts upon the reasons stated.

Mr. HEADMAN. Mr. Speaker, it has been set forth that this woman has left her husband. That is conceded; but she was driven away from his house by his treatment. She was compelled to go and live with her parents, who are in destitute circumstances, and she almost starved. By the advice of her friends she went back to his house on one occasion, and when she arrived there she found he had some other woman with him and she was not allowed admission. That is the case as I have been informed. The courts have not jurisdiction of this case simply because it is no case at all. There is no ground for a divorce. I will ask for the reading of whatever paper is permitted by law in regard to the matter, to see if there is any ground for this bill.

The gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. DOXONOR] who has charge of the papers in this matter is not in his seat.

Mr. HEADMAN. Then I hope the bill will be postponed.

The question recurring on the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PENNYPACKER and Mr. COLVILLE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Barrington, Barton, Breen, Brown, Chadwick, Chase, Collins, Craig, Day, DeHaven, Espy, Ewing, Fogel, Gibson, Gregory, Harrison, Heltzel, Hood, Hunt, Jones, Jones, Josephs, Kinsey, Koon, Lee, Linton, Long, M'Camant, M'Crean, M'Henry, M'Pherrin, Maish, Markley, Mechling, Meyers, Mullin, Peter, Quay, Quigley, Robinson, Satterthwait, Seiler, Sharples, Stehman, Subers, Sharp, Waddell, Webb, Weller, Westbrook, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—56.

NAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Challant, Colville, Freeborn, Gallagher, Gordon, Harner, Headman, Hunt, Jenks, Kennedy, Kerns, Leech, Mann, Meily, Pennypacker, Phelan, Rhoads, Richards, Routh, Roush and Wallace—23.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill

Passed finally.

During the consideration of the private calendar.

Mr. BOYLE asked and obtained leave to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Senate be requested to return to the House of Representatives Senate bill No. 724, entitled an act to perfect the title to one thousand one hundred and sixty-eight acres of land in Somerset county, owned by the Union coal and iron company.

The resolution was not

Agreed to.

The following remarks then occurred on House bill No. 679:

Mr. WADDELL. Mr. Speaker, I question very much the constitutionality of such a bill as that. If the privileges named in this law are to extend to Franklin and Cumberland the same privileges should extend to every county in the eastern part of the State. These two counties should have no advantage over others in that section of the Commonwealth. I have no objection to Cumberland and Franklin having such facilities, but if they have them, to the exclusion of other counties, they have a corresponding advantage over the remainder of that neighborhood.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, this is a simple bill. It is not obligatory that the college shall be put in either of the counties. It is only in behalf of the counties of Cumberland and Franklin, to enable them to offer some inducements to secure the location of the college within their limits. If the gentleman from Chester [Mr. WADDELL] desires the same inducement, I have no objection to his getting up a bill to the same effect.

Mr. WADDELL. Mr. Speaker, as I say, I have no objections to these gentlemen having all these advantages. But the statement of the gentleman from Franklin shows for itself. The officers of the Agricultural college should have a fair opportunity of judging as to where they will locate their institution. I apprehend there are just as good lands in Franklin county as in Chester, and just as good lands in Chester county as in Franklin. Therefore, being equal in that particular, of course, if the county of Franklin or the county of Cumberland can offer the trustees of this college a bonus of three thousand dollars to locate within the limits of those counties, they have the preponderance over every other county in their neighborhood. I say, if we give the same privileges to one county, we should give the same privileges to every other county in that section of the State, that they may stand on the same footing.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to ask the gentleman from Chester whether he desires to prevent Franklin and Cumberland counties from doing that which they see proper to do in the way of getting a college of this kind within their limits unless he leads down their bill with his own county? I have no objection to his introducing a bill of the same purport, but I do not intend to have this bill encumbered so as to prevent its passage.

If the gentleman from Chester does not see fit to present a bill it is no fault of mine.

Mr. WADDELL. Mr. Speaker, I am not aware of that. I am ascribing a fault to the gentleman for a dereliction of duty on my part. I will ask this House whether they are prepared to make this unfair discrimination. The gentleman says he does not propose to let us put on an amendment to include Chester county; he insists that Cumberland and Franklin shall have all these benefits, and no other county in this section of the State shall be permitted to enjoy them.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. I propose no such thing. If the gentleman desires to have these privileges, I desire him to get up a bill for himself.

Mr. WADDELL. The gentleman knows very well there is no use of introducing a bill to confer these privileges on Chester county at this late day of the session. Were such a bill to be introduced it would never be heard of again. If he would make the privilege free to all the counties in his section, I suppose every representative of the eastern portion of the State would vote for the bill. His measure cannot be endangered. His chances with trustees may be endangered, that is all. I will ask this House whether they will make this discrimination. If the gentleman from Franklin will give us the same privileges we will stand with him. I hope the representatives from the eastern section of the State will examine this measure for themselves.

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. It seems to me this is one of the most barefaced things I have seen. The gentleman brings in a bill at the last part of the session, just in time to get passed, giving to his county facilities for procuring the establishment of an agricultural college. And he refuses to allow others a chance to act with him in this matter. He says we may get up bills for ourselves. Now, the gentleman from Franklin [Mr. STUMBAUGH], as well as any man here, knows it is impossible, at this late day of the session, to get up a bill and pass it. He adds insult to injury.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if he has not had the same opportunity for preparing a bill that the gentlemen from Franklin and Cumberland have had.

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Yes; but we did not dream that any advantage over us would be taken.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman if he is unwilling to allow Franklin county to appropriate three thousand dollars as it pleases?

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. I am unwilling that advantage should be taken of other counties in this manner. The gentleman knows, Mr. Speaker, that it is impossible to get up a similar bill for other counties, and pass it at this late hour of the session.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. That is not my fault. Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Mr. Speaker, it is the gentleman's fault. The bill should have been brought in at an earlier day if he intended to give us an opportunity of making amendments. I repeat, this is the most barefaced thing I have yet seen.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I simply wish to say, that I represent the people of Franklin county, and not those of Chester or Montgomery. I had no right to bring in a bill for any other than my own county. This is a sufficient answer to all allegations of unfairness.

Mr. PENNYPACKER. Mr. Speaker, I would not for a moment accuse the gentleman of unfairness, but I think it would be our fault if we pass the bill. Here—shall I say a bribe? is offered for the location of an experimental farm. I do not think the House is willing to go into any such speculation.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, when this act was passed it was understood that there were to be experimental farms established, both east and west; it was also distinctly understood that those farms were to be chosen with reference to the character of the soil. The character of the soil of the principal college, in Centre county, and that of the two experimental farms should be different. It seems to me improper that the experimental farms should be located in Cumberland and Franklin, because the soil of those two counties is precisely similar to that of Centre. The people of Berks county will apply to have one of the farms located within their boundaries, but they do not wish to take advantage of their neighbors. They do not wish an act which will impliedly locate one of the experimental farms in their midst. They are willing that all should make an application in perfect fairness. As there is no reason for the passage of a bill of this sort, because application can be made without a bill, I move its indefinite postponement.

The question being on indefinitely postponing the farther consideration of the bill, It passes.

Agreed to.

On bill No. 1655.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was read in place I objected to laying it on the table. The gentleman who had it in charge informed me it was to connect the office of a manufacturing firm with their factory. I find now it is a bill that will interfere with every telegraph line in the county of Philadelphia. The telegraph lines and poles in Philadelphia are owned by the city. This bill is in every way objectionable to the city authorities, and to the citizens who do not wish poles all over their sidewalks.

I therefore move the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say this is a very simple bill; it is a matter of accommodation to the merchants and business men of the city of Philadelphia. The bill was sent to me by some of my constituents. One of the parties has a factory at Frankfort, in the lower end of the city, which is in place in an instant in communication with the office. This is the whole object of the bill. I cannot see why gentlemen should make any objection to it. Upon the next page of the calendar is a sweeping bill incorporating the Keystone telegraph company. That will be passed by the gentlemen who pretend to be so very much frightened over this little bill. Parties having control of certain telegraph lines have always made opposition to such private bills as this.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can make any statement he chooses, but the mere reading of the bill is enough to satisfy any man on the floor of this House that his statement is incorrect. This bill is not for the accommodation of a few manufacturers or merchants. It is a monopoly; it is a bill which, if passed, will interfere with the lines of telegraph now owned by the city of Philadelphia. This bill has not been asked for by anybody in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. KERNS. The firm of McCullum, on Chestnut street, desire to communicate between their office and their manufactory.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman names one firm.

Mr. KERNS. I speak of them because I know them.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I think this is asking a great deal for one firm; it is proposed to give them the right to plant their poles and run their lines in any street, alley or lane in the city of Philadelphia, and all for the benefit of one firm. Now, this firm must do a very large business, it must be a very extensive firm to require so great a privilege. I think it is very modest to introduce a bill of this kind at such a late hour of the session. If I had been informed of the nature of the bill I would not have withdrawn my objections. I know the city authorities are opposed to putting more poles in the streets of the city, and so are the people.

Insomuch as but one firm is asking this very extensive privilege, I hope that the bill will be postponed.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, upon a matter that so deeply interests the people of Philadelphia, I think more than one gentleman of the Philadelphia delegation should have been consulted. This is the first day that I knew of the bill being favored by the merchants of Philadelphia. I would like to know who they are.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, I do not think gentlemen understand this bill. The parties named in this bill desire this means of communication between their stores and their factory. I cannot understand why it is that gentlemen have not been informed with regard to this bill. I was requested, by letter, to present this bill to the House. If any gentleman desires to take the responsibility of defeating this bill he can do so.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, under this bill, this company will have the right to construct a line of telegraph through any street, or in all the streets of Philadelphia. This is granting a very large privilege. I do not think the people of Philadelphia require such a bill.

Mr. HOOD. Like my colleagues, I had no knowledge of this bill until to-day.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has had probably a hundred bills of which I had no knowledge.

Mr. HOOD. Mr. Speaker, I hope the bill will go over and be printed. I live in one of the most thickly built up portions of Philadelphia, and must certainly protest against this bill being passed without an opportunity being afforded me to read it and learn how it affects my constituents.

I therefore ask that the bill may go over.

Mr. RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, gentlemen characterizing this as a monopoly. Now, as Philadelphia is credited with monopolies, and as this monopoly seems to affect nobody but the city of Philadelphia, I hope the House will grant the monopoly for their special benefit.

Mr. WADDELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be referred to the Philadelphia delegation.

The motion was -

Agreed to.

On bill No. 1639.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ascertain whether this is an attempt to authorize more justices of the peace in the county of York than the Constitution permits. This bill does not say where Metzels lives; but if he lives outside the borough of York, then this is an attempt to evade the Constitution.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I will state that this is one of the best hotels in York. The lower floor is arranged for offices and stores. The office desired for the justice of the peace is now used by the district attorney. It has no connection with the hotel.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, if this office is not connected with the hotel then this bill is not needed, because if the justice lives at York he has a right to hold his office where he chooses.

Mr. M'CREARY. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire of the gentleman from York [Mr. BOYD] whether Justice Metzels is the keeper of the hotel.

Mr. BOYD. He is not.

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Potter [Mr. MANN] is laboring under a misapprehension. It is an act of the Assembly that prevents a justice from holding his office in a hotel. There is nothing in this act contrary to the Constitution.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I will read from Pardon's Digest.

"If any justice of the peace or alderman shall keep his stated office in any tavern or public house of entertainment, or any building pertaining thereto, he shall, for every such offense, on conviction thereof, in any court of quarter sessions of the peace, or mayor's court of the proper city or county, forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars."

This is not in a public house; it is not in any of the rooms used by the hotel. The room in which it is designed to hold the office is rented out by the year; it has no connection with the building; it is merely under the same roof.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I am satisfied the law, as it stands, is proper. A justice should not be allowed to hold his office in a hotel. But what is the difference between holding his office along side of a hotel, and holding it in a room which is under the hotel, but without no connection with the main building?

Mr. M'CREARY. I would ask how the gentleman's statement is reconciled with the title of the bill, which says it is an act to permit Metzler to hold his office in Metzler's hotel.

Mr. MEYERS. That means the hotel building.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. Speaker, this office has no connection whatever with the hotel. There is but one door to the office, and that opens to the street.

Mr. MANN. What is the necessity for the bill?

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, the necessity for this bill arises from the fact that there may be some doubts about the construction of the act of Assembly to which the gentleman alludes. I think the objection of the gentleman from Potter is not well taken.

Mr. MEYERS. The difficulty seems to be in the technical construction of the act of Assembly—whether their room is in the hotel.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill?
It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

Senate bill No. 984, an act to authorize the Southwark railroad company to renew their road on Sanson street.

Mr. MARKS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment:

"Provided, That before the said tracks for the whole or any portion of the distance, and hereby authorized to be extended, shall be used for business purposes, the said railroad company shall, and they are hereby required to take up and remove the railroad tracks in Philadelphia, on and along Broad street, from South street to Washington avenue or Prime street."

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, it strikes me that if we adopt that amendment it will interfere with the Philadelphia and Reading road.

Last winter, or the winter before last, we passed an act giving them two years in which to remove their rails from Broad street. I think the amendment will interfere with them.

Mr. MARKS. Mr. Speaker, this amendment only proposes to remove the track south of South street.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

A division was called.

Pending the division, Mr. WATT moved that the House do now adjourn.

Before announcing the result of the action upon the motion, the SPEAKER cleared his table as follows:

The resolution was read as follows:

WHEREAS, The districts lately known as the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas are without legal governments;

And whereas, There exists throughout the said districts the same disloyal spirit that struggled through four years of rebellion to disrupt the National Union;

And whereas, Security for the future demands that the dominant spirit of treason shall be crushed before the said districts shall be reclothed with power as State organizations; therefore.

Be it resolved (the Senate concurring), That it is the duty of Congress to provide said districts with territorial forms of government.

The joint resolution was

TAX ON STATE CIRCULATION.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole (Mr. GHEGAN in the chair) upon House joint resolution No. 503, instructing members of Congress from this State to use their influence to repeal the act of Congress imposing a tax on State circulation.

The joint resolution was read as follows:

WHEREAS, The right on the part of the States to create corporations for the purpose of banking, including the issue by them of paper to circulate as money, has been exercised at pleasure by the States from the beginning of the Government, and its validity is now beyond the reach of question;

And whereas, No clause or article of the Constitution of the United States gives Congress the power, directly or indirectly, to interfere with the exercise of any such right;

And whereas, The tax imposed by Congress upon the circulation of the State banks operates as a prohibition of such circulation, and was intended as such, as appears by the debates of that body;

And whereas, What cannot be done directly by Congress—for example, the taking from the States the power to charter banks of issue, cannot be done indirectly by taxation:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That in the opinion of this House said law should be repealed, and that our Senators and Representatives be instructed to use all honorable means to that end.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of our Senators and Representatives at Washington, to be laid before Congress.

ELECTION OF RAILROAD OFFICERS.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole (Mr. MULLIN in the chair) upon House bill No. 957, entitled An act relating to the election of officers and directors of railroads in the State of Pennsylvania.

The bill was read and agreed to as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any railroad company in the State of Pennsylvania to elect a president, or other officers, or a majority of the directors, non-residents of the said State.

The committee rose, and the chairman reported the bill to the House without amendments.

The bill was again read.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I hope for the sake of the railroads of the State, a great many of which are dependent for their existence upon capital coming from outside of the State, that this bill will not pass. If a citizen of another State chooses to invest his capital in a railroad of this State, why should he be deprived of a representation in the board of directors? Why should he not have the same privileges as any other stockholder in the company? He contributes his means towards the construction of the road and towards the payment of the expenses of running it. What reason can be urged against his right to be represented where he has put his capital? I think the provisions of the bill are very unjust towards every railroad in the State; for I suppose there is no road a part of whose capital has not been contributed from other States.

The bill was

Not agreed to.

PUBLIC ASSOCIATIONS.

The House resolved itself into committee of the whole (Mr. PHELAN in the chair) upon Senate bill No. 8, entitled A further supplement to an act, entitled An act relating to corporations for mechanical, manufacturing, mining and quarrying purposes, approved 18th July, 1863, extending the provisions of said act and the several supplements thereto, to any association formed for publication and sale of periodicals, newspapers, school books, books of science or art, and current and standard literature.

The bill was read.

Mr. QUAY. A bill which we passed in reference to fire companies was in similar terms to this, and was vetoed by the Governor. I do not see any use in passing this bill.

Mr. M'CREARY. I do not think that this is the same kind of a bill as that which was vetoed by the Governor. That contained, I believe, some provisions which are not in this. Some distinguished gentlemen of the State have spoken to me about this, and I agreed that I would call it up.

Mr. QUAY. As I understand, this is a precisely similar bill to that which was vetoed. It allows these associations to organize under the manufacturing law. The Governor vetoed a bill of this kind on the ground of generality. It did not sufficiently define the regulations to which the corporators to be created should be subjected.

The bill was

Not agreed to.

The committee rose and the chairman reported the bill to the House with a negative recommendation.

The report of the committee of the whole was

Agreed to.

UNCLAIMED DIVIDENDS.

The House proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 614, entitled An act relative to unclaimed dividends in insolvent assigned estates.

On motion of Mr. WADDELL, the House dispensed with going into the committee of the whole.

The bill was read and agreed to, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That if, after the first day of December, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, in the settlement of any insolvent assigned estate for the benefit of creditors, any dividend that, previous to the passage of this act, has been, or hereafter may be, declared, shall have remained, or shall remain unclaimed in the hands of the assignee or trustee, by the person or creditor to whom the same was awarded, for more than six years after the same was declared, the same shall be deemed relinquished and abandoned, and shall be and become again a part of the estate as shall be distributed among such creditors as shall thereafter appear and make claim.

Sec. 2. And upon application of any creditor of such estate to the court of common pleas of the proper county, the court shall order and direct the assignee or trustee to file his account, stating the amount of such unclaimed dividend, with whatever has accrued thereon, and such fund shall be awarded to and distributed among such creditors as shall appear and make claim before the auditor to be appointed to audit and adjust said account and award and report distribution of said fund.

The bill was ordered to be transcribed for a third reading, was read the third time, and Passed finally.

PAPER FOR STATE PRINTING.

The House proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 800, entitled An act requiring the Superintendent of Public Printing to advertise for proposals for supplying the State with printing and bill paper.

On motion of Mr. STEHMAN, the House dispensed with going into the committee of the whole.

The bill was read and agreed to, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That the Superintendent of the Public Printing shall advertise in the public papers, two weeks prior to the opening of the bids, for proposals for supplying the State with printing and bill paper; said proposals to be opened on the first day of August of each year, at twelve o'clock, at the office of the Superintendent of Public Printing, in the presence of those bidding; the Superintendent shall procure samples of printing and bill paper, as required by the State, for which the parties bidding shall name a price, that said parties will agree to furnish paper of same quality, and the award given to the lowest bidder.

Sec. 2. Samples of the qualities of the paper required will be furnished upon application at the office of the Superintendent of Public Printing, and the successful bidders will be required rigidly to conform to the samples furnished. No proposals will be considered unless accompanied by a guarantee that the bidder or bidders, if his or their proposal shall be accepted, will enter into an obligation, with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the articles proposed for, and each proposal must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the persons making said proposals are manufacturers of, or dealers in, the description of paper which he or they propose to furnish.

The bill was ordered to be transcribed for a third reading, was read a third time, and Passed finally.

SCHOOL BOARDS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication, which was laid on the table:

ELEVENTH SCHOOL SECTION,
PHILADELPHIA, April 1, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—At a stated meeting of the board of directors of public schools, Eleventh section, held Friday evening, March 29th, the following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, A bill having been introduced in the Legislature of this State, depriving the sectional boards of the right to elect their representatives in the board of school controllers, giving the judges of the courts the power to appoint the same; believing the passage of said bill would be prejudicial to the interests of the common school system; therefore,

Resolved, That the secretary of this board be instructed to send a copy of the preamble and resolution to the Senate and House, respectfully protesting against the passage of said bill.

[Extract from the minutes.]

Attest: CHARLES S. AUSTIN, Secretary.

PUBLICATION OF LAWS, &c.

The House resumed the consideration of bills on the public calendar, and proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 860, entitled An act relating to the publication of local, general and private laws, and of legal advertisements, in the several counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The first section was read and agreed to as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to send to the commissioners of each county in the Commonwealth a certified copy of each and every general law passed by the Legislature, except the general appropriation bill, as soon as approved by the Governor, and also to each board of commissioners as aforesaid, a copy of each law specially relating to said county or its citizens.

The second section was read as follows:

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of said county commissioners, as soon as said laws are received by them, to cause them to be published in one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties, if there be so many published in the county, not less than twice, and at such rate for such publication as can be agreed upon, not exceeding the usual rates for advertising similar matter.

Mr. KURTZ. I move to amend by striking out the words "of each of the two political parties, if there be so many," and by inserting in lieu of the words, "not less than twice" the word "once."

Mr. CAMERON. I move that the further consideration of the bill be postponed.

The motion was
Not agreed to.

The question recurring on the amendment of Mr. KURTZ,

Mr. M'CREEARY. I hope that if the gentleman from Centre is a friend of the bill, he will withdraw the amendment, for, if adopted, it will have the effect of killing the bill. The object of this publication is to reach the masses of the people with a knowledge of the laws. If the laws are published in one paper of each of the political parties, they will reach about all the people who are in the habit of reading. My object, and, I presume, the object of all who wish to have the laws published, is to have them published in such a way as that the mass of the people may, at as little expense as possible, be informed of the laws which are passed. If we provide that the laws be published in all the papers of a county, including those that have very little circulation, the cost will be so great that the law cannot be carried out. I trust the bill as it stands will be passed. If the people of Pennsylvania are willing to pay the members of the Legislature to come here and make laws, I think the people are entitled to the privilege of reading those laws, and knowing what they are.

If we refuse to grant the people the privilege of reading the enactments which they pay for example, we, to a certain extent, imitate the example of the tyrant Caligula, who had his decrees written in fine characters and stuck so high that no one could read them, and then visited his vengeance upon his subjects for not obeying them.

We are sent here to enact laws for the benefit of the people, and yet we publish them in pamphlet form at two dollars per copy, and even then do not circulate them for six months after their passage, so that practically our constituents are left in utter ignorance of the laws which govern them, and for a violation of which they may be made liable to severe penalties. It is, perhaps, a very necessary, and yet, to my mind, a very untruthful maxim of the law, "every man is presumed to know the law." When we consider what difficulties, yes, impossibilities, the people labor under to gain a knowledge of the law, we can see how violent is the presumption that they are presumed to know it. It is urged by some that it is a scheme to benefit the printers. Well, suppose it does benefit the printers, are we to deny a great advantage to the people for so few printers can make as much by printing other matter as they can by printing the laws.

In other States the laws are published in the papers, and if they can afford to do so certainly can. The expense is so trifling and the benefits so great that I do not see how any one can have the conscience to oppose it. I trust, therefore, that this measure, so just and so beneficial to the people of Pennsylvania, will be passed.

Mr. KURTZ. I withdraw the amendment.
Mr. M'CREEARY. I am glad the gentleman has done so.

Mr. MAISH. I move to amend by inserting "and one German newspaper."

Mr. JONES. I am sorry that the gentleman from Centre [Mr. KURTZ] has withdrawn his amendment. The gentleman from Erie [Mr. M'CREEARY] has properly said that it is the privilege of the people to know what laws we pass here. And it requires a good deal of industry to obtain this information under present circumstances; it would take perhaps half the leisure of the people of this Commonwealth to get information as to the nature of the laws passed by this Legislature during a session of three months. The people in a county, even those of the same political party, do not all take the same newspaper.

For example, in one county as large as mine, the county of Berks, there are several newspapers published by each political party; and as ignorance of the law is an excuse for its violation, I think it is the privilege of every man to be informed of the enactments of the Legislature, even though he does not happen to subscribe for the paper having the largest circulation. The bill in its present terms proposes to legislate against newspapers having a small circulation.

Yet, newspapers which have a limited circulation, have as good a right to give their readers information of the laws we pass as those newspapers which have the largest circulation. Therefore renew the amendment of the gentleman from Centre [Mr. KURTZ]. I offer it as an amendment to the amendment.

Mr. M'CREEARY. I hope the House will vote down the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was
Not agreed to.

The question recurring on the amendment of Mr. MAISH.

Mr. CAMERON. I move, as an amendment to the amendment, to strike out the words, "of each of the two political parties, if there be so many published in the county," and insert, in lieu thereof, the words, "having the largest circulation."

Mr. M'CREEARY. I hope that amendment will not be adopted.

The amendment to the amendment was
Not agreed to.

The question recurring on the amendment of Mr. MAISH.

It was

Agreed to.

Mr. WEBB. I move to amend by inserting, after the word "exceeding," in the fifth line, the words "one-half;" so as to read, "at such rate for such publication as can be agreed upon, not exceeding one-half the usual rates for advertising similar matter."

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

The third section was read as follows:

SEC. 3. The officers of each private corporation incorporated by act of the Legislature after the first Tuesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, shall, before the entering upon the privileges accorded by said act, cause to be published in one newspaper of each of the two leading political parties in the county where said company shall have its main office, if so many be printed, a copy of said act of incorporation, the cost of which publication shall be paid out of the treasury of said corporation.

Each of the courts created by this act shall have, and they are hereby vested with, full powers and authority to inquire of, hear, try and determine, agreeably to the laws and customs of the Commonwealth, all murders, rapes, robberies, arson, felonies, misdemeanors, and all other offenses which have been or may be committed within the county for which such court is created, and which would be cognizable in any court of quarter sessions of the peace and court of oyer and terminer within this Commonwealth, if committed within their jurisdiction, and to hear, try and determine all presentments and indictments for any and all offenses against the laws of this Commonwealth committed within such county, and to sentence and punish all persons who shall be convicted of the said offenses, or any of them, agreeably to the laws of this Commonwealth, and generally to do all such matters and things as any court of general quarter sessions of the peace or oyer and terminer and general jail delivery may or can do within the county for which such court is created by this act; and each of the said courts shall have a seal, with the arm of the Commonwealth engraved thereon at the name of the court.

After the passage of this act recognizances taken within the county of Schuylkill shall be taken for the appearance of the prosecutors, defendants and witnesses at the court created by this act for said county, and not to the court of quarter sessions of Schuylkill county; and from and after the first Monday of June next, the jurisdiction of the court of quarter sessions of the peace, and court of oyer and terminer of Schuylkill county, over felonies and misdemeanors, shall cease and determine, and the whole of the said jurisdiction now vested in the said court shall be, and the same is hereby, vested, from that date, in the court for the said county, created by this act; and all indictments pending and recognizances taken, in the court of quarter sessions of the peace and the court of oyer and terminer, in Schuylkill county, shall be then transferred to, and be heard, tried, proceeded and determined, in the last court created by this act, in the same manner, and with the same effect, as if the indictment had originally been found in the recognizance taken therein: Provided, That in all cases where convictions have been had, and the sentences have not been passed, the said court of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer shall proceed therein according to law, in the same manner, and with like effect, as if this act had not been passed.

That the sessions of the court created by this shall be held as follows:

In Schuylkill county, on the first Monday of January, April, July and October, and to continue four weeks if the business shall require it; in the county of Lebanon, on the first Monday of February, May and November, to continue one week if the business shall require it; and in Dauphin county on the first Monday of March, June, September and December, and to continue two weeks if the business of the court shall require it, with power to hold adjourned sessions of the said courts; and whenever, in the opinion of president judge of the districts created by this act, the public interests shall require it, he may order extra sessions of the courts in any of said counties, to be held at such times as he may appoint; and he shall have power, and he is hereby authorized, to dispense with jury courts in any county at such sessions as, in his opinion, jury courts may be dispensed with, without prejudice to the public interests: Provided, That the president judge of the court, in addition to the sessions above mentioned, the first session of the court created by this act for that county, shall be held on the first Tuesday of June next, to continue until the close of that week, if the business shall require it.

It shall be the duty of the Governor of the Commonwealth, pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, to appoint a gentleman of integrity, learned in the law, to be the president judge of the districts created by this act, who shall hold his office until the first Monday of December next, and the qualified electors of the said counties of Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill shall, on the second Tuesday of October next, elect a president judge for the said districts, according to the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth; and the said judge, so appointed or elected, shall receive for his services a like salary or compensation as the president judge of court of common pleas of Schuylkill county.

The clerks of the courts of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer in the several counties in the district created by this act shall, for the time being, be the clerks of the courts created by this act, in the counties for which they are, or may be elected, and shall receive the like fees for the like services rendered, done and performed in the courts created by this act, as if rendered, done or performed in the courts of quarter sessions or of oyer and terminer, in the respective counties; and the sheriffs, coroners, constables and marshal of police affairs shall obey and execute all lawful orders of the courts created by this act, and be subject to the like penalties for neglect or disobedience, as if the said orders or writs had been made or issued by the courts of quarter sessions, or courts of oyer and terminer of the several counties within the district created by this act, and shall, in all cases, receive a like compensation for similar services; and all reports and returns that are now required by law of courts and terminer, in the courts of quarter sessions of Schuylkill county, relating to selling liquor by less measure than one quart, tipping houses, disturbances at elections and matters relating to roads, highways or offenses of any kind, shall be made to the courts created by this act in Schuylkill county, at each and every regular session thereof, and the said court shall take such action thereon as any court of quarter sessions may or can do in similar cases.

All laws relating to the issuing of venirets for the summoning of grand and petit jurors that are now in force, or may be heretofore in force within the said district, shall be extended to the courts created by this act, and the jurors shall be drawn and summoned in such numbers and like manner as for courts of oyer and terminer and courts of quarter sessions, and as may from time to time be ordered by the said courts created by this act.

The district attorneys in Dauphin and Lebanon counties shall have the power to direct recognizances to be taken for the appearance of prosecutors, defendants and witnesses in the courts created by this act, or in the quarter sessions of the peace of the said counties, as they may think best for the public interests.

It shall not be lawful to summon a grand jury in the present court of oyer and terminer, or quarter sessions, as now held in Schuylkill county, after the establishment of the criminal court under this act, but the grand jury shall be selected for and summoned to attend the criminal courts in said county only, and in the counties of Dauphin and Lebanon, no grand jury shall be summoned in the criminal court established by this act, but all bills shall be found in the present courts of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions, after which they may, on the written order of the district attorney for the proper county, be removed into the criminal court for trial, or may be tried in the courts now existing in said counties, at this option; and if no causes have been removed into said criminal court for trial, no traverse jury shall be summoned to attend said court. It shall be lawful for the return judges in the counties of Schuylkill, Dauphin and Lebanon, to appoint one of their number in each of said counties to meet at the borough of Lebanon on the first Tuesday after the general election in October next, and make return of and cast up the number of votes given for the respective candidates for judge of the criminal court hereby established, and make return thereof to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the manner now prescribed as to the election of president judges.

The act entitled An act for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in the several courts of Somerset and other counties of the State, approved the 27th day of March, 1865, be and the same is hereby extended to Schuylkill county.

Immediately after the passage of this act the Governor of this Commonwealth shall appoint two sober, intelligent and judicious persons, taking one from each of the political parties, to serve as jury commissioners for Schuylkill county, who shall remain in office until jury commissioners for said county should be elected as provided in said act hereby extended to Schuylkill county, and who shall be subject to all the provisions of said act; and the said jury commissioners so appointed by the Governor shall forthwith proceed to select and draw jurors for the courts in Schuylkill county, in the manner directed by the said act for the courts in Schuylkill county, for the current year, and the names of the persons now in the jury wheel in Schuylkill county be withdrawn and others substituted, as directed by this act.

The question being on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. MANN,

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order, that the amendment is not germane to the subject. It destroys the original bill. I refer the Speaker to rule forty-two, which reads as follows:

"No bill or resolution shall, at any time, be amended, by annexing thereto, or incorporating therewith, any other bill or resolution pending before the House, nor shall a motion or proposition be entertained under color of such an amendment, nor shall any bill or resolution be amended, by substituting therefor, under a motion to strike out, or otherwise, any other bill or resolution, on a subject different from that under consideration, without the unanimous consent of the House."

I raise the point of order that under this rule the amendment of the gentleman from Potter cannot be entertained without the unanimous consent of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not understand the amendment of the gentleman from Potter as destroying the pith of the original bill, and is, therefore, clearly of the opinion that the amendment is in order.

Mr. QUIGLEY. I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. GREGORY. I second the appeal.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will reduce their appeal to writing.

The appeal, as written, was read by the Clerk as follows:

The House having under consideration Senate bill No. 275, entitled An act to provide an associate law judge for the several courts in the Twenty-first judicial district,

"The gentleman from Potter [Mr. MANN] moved to amend by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting in substance a proposed amendment establishing a court of criminal jurisdiction in the counties of Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill. The gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. QUIGLEY] raised the point of order that the amendment was not germane to the subject matter and changing and destroying the original intent of the bill.

"The SPEAKER decided the point of order not well taken.

"From which decision we respectfully appeal."

(Signed,) GEO. A. QUIGLEY,
Wm. S. GREGORY.

The SPEAKER. The question is, Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, on that I call the previous question.

The call for the previous question was seconded by Messrs. Marks, Freeborn, Steacy, Kinney, Espy, Chase, Ghegan, Roath, Watt, DeHaven and Mechling.

On the question,
Shall the main question be now put?

The question recurring,
Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. MANN,

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I call the previous question.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order, that the amendment of the gentleman from Potter is in violation of the Constitution of the State, and also in violation of Rule 46 of this House.

Mr. M'CAMANT. Mr. Speaker, does not the call for the previous question cut off the point of order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter as calling the previous question.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Does the Chair refuse to recognize me?

The SPEAKER. The understanding of the Chair is that the previous question cuts off everything else.

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call your attention to rule—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order now.

Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, I would like the point of order decided, whether—

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter as calling the previous question.

Mr. QUIGLEY. I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order.

The call for the previous question was seconded by Messrs. Kerns, Hoffman, M'Creary, Wilson, Espy, Watt, DeHaven, Seiler, M'Camant, Leech, Humphrey and Woodward.

The question being,
Shall the main question be now put?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLLINS and Mr. GREGORY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Chadwick, Chase, Colville, Day, DeHaven, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Gallagher, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Hoffman, Humphrey, Kennedy, Kerns, Kimmel, Kinney, Lee, Leech, M'Camant, M'Creary, M'Kee, Mann, Marks, Mechling, Meily, Pennypacker, Peter, Quay, Richards, Roath, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Steacy, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wharton, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Wright and Glass, Speaker—55.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring on agreeing to the amendment of Mr. MANN,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MEYERS and Mr. COLLINS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Chadwick, Chase, Day, DeHaven, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Gallagher, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Hoffman, Humphrey, Kennedy, Kerns, Kimmel, Kinney, Lee, Leech, M'Camant, Mullin, M'Kee, M'Pherrin, Mann, Marks, Mechling, Meily, Pennypacker, Peter, Quay, Richards, Roath, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wharton, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—55.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question recurring on agreeing to the bill as amended,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLLINS and Mr. BREEN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Chadwick, Chase, Colville, Day, DeHaven, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Freeborn, Gallagher, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Hoffman, Humphrey, Kennedy, Kerns, Kimmel, Kinney, Lee, Leech, M'Camant, M'Kee, M'Pherrin, Mann, Marks, Mechling, Meily, Pennypacker, Quay, Richards, Roath, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Steacy, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wharton, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—55.

NAYS—Messrs. Barrington, Boyle, Breen, Brennan, Chalfant, Collins, Craig, Deise, Fogel, Gregory, Harner, Headman, Heltzel, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Jones, Josephs, Kline, Koon, Kertz, Linton, Long, M'Henry, Maish, Myers, Mullie, Phelan, Quigley, Rhoads, Robinson, Roush, Satterthwait, Tharp and Westbrook—35.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The question being on agreeing to the title, Mr. MANN moved to amend so as to have the title read, "an act to establish criminal courts for Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill counties."

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, the title just read is not an appropriate one. This bill, sir, pretends to establish a court of criminal jurisdiction, with all the appropriate machinery, for three counties. But we find by the time we reach the end of the bill, that while the district is composed of three counties, the court established is to try cases in only one.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

I withdraw my amendment and make the point of order, that the previous question is not exhausted.

The SPEAKER. It is exhausted.

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I repeat that while the district is composed of three counties, the court is for only one. This court is to have the right to try all persons charged with crime in the county of Schuylkill, in every case, and there is no discretion in any officer, or any person, as to whether the case shall be tried in this court, or in the regular court of oyer and terminer or quarter sessions; but when you approach the loyal counties of Dauphin and Lebanon, then you stand upon holy ground, and must take off your shoes. Then this court is only a court in name, without power to try a single case. Here the ordinary courts retain all their powers—try for all the offenses of which they now have jurisdiction.

The counties of Dauphin and Lebanon are made a part of this district, only because their Republican majorities are sufficient to overcome the Democratic majority in Schuylkill county. It is an audacious attempt to place over the people of Schuylkill county a tribunal not of their own choice, and make them subject to judges not of their own selection. And it makes fat places for several new Republican officials—a purpose which gentlemen seem to consider the chief end of our assembling here. The Republican caucus, held last night, could devise no other means to overcome the Democratic majority in Schuylkill county. The Constitution requires that the judges of the court shall be elected by the people over whom they are to administer the law. Its plain provisions are thus evaded and violated, for no other purpose under heaven than to secure a mere partisan advantage. That is all. And you call that performing your duty with fidelity. You do, some gentlemen says; well, your conceptions of duty and mine do not, by any means, agree.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. That is a mere matter of opinion.

Mr. BOYLE. I have no opinion of the gentleman from Lancaster. Now, what I have stated is the fact, and I ask the gentleman from Potter to deny it—to deny that these two counties are not tacked on merely to vote down Schuylkill county, and to do a thing which could not otherwise be done under the Constitution.

I say, then, Mr. Speaker, that the title is not a proper one, and that some other title should be devised. Nor is the title that the gentleman from Potter suggested an appropriate one. He has labored during two sessions that I have served with him, to establish a reputation for fairness and honesty, and I gladly attest that he had entirely succeeded. I regarded him as one of the fairest and most honest man in the House; but, sir, I say with regret that I fear he has blown it away to-day with a single breath, in bringing this bill before the House by a trick, and calling the previous question, without giving any one an opportunity to say anything.

Mr. Speaker, I am in no condition to discuss the merits of the bill, even were it in order to do so. As it is not, I have merely cast my attention to this House to one feature of it, and I do hope that, even if not another word be said upon this side of the House against the bill, that for the reputation of the great Republican party which governs us, that some gentleman on the other side of the House will give us some reason why this bill should pass, and why Dauphin and Lebanon counties should be included in the bill with Schuylkill county for no other purpose but to vote Schuylkill county down. I have some regard for the reputation of the gentleman from Potter. I have, during this session, been pretty much in his hands, except upon the words "white" and "black," and I desire to hear him vindicate himself.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, the question is upon the amendment of the gentleman from Potter to the title of this bill. The amendment offered by him to the bill, I suppose, makes it necessary that this amendment should be made to the title. As it appears upon our file it is to provide for an associate law judge of the several courts in the Twenty-first judicial district, and is one of a character which are frequently brought to court in this House.

In many instances the business and duties of a judge in a district are of such an extraordinary and burdensome character that they require an additional law judge to dispose of it. It may have been proper, and no doubt it was in this case, that an additional law judge should have been elected in the Twenty-first district, and that they should have some legal authority to enable them to do so. When this bill was called up this morning, by the gentleman from Potter, he called it up as an important bill to a portion of the people of this Commonwealth. Supposing that the gentleman from Potter was immediately interested, and that it referred to his own section of country, I withdrew my objections to this bill this afternoon, to enable the member from Potter to take up the bill as it appears on the file.

Mr. DONOHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The gentleman from Northampton is out of order in discussing the merits of the bill at this time.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking on the question of the amendment of the gentleman from Potter to the title of the bill. It is to create an additional law judge in the Twenty-first district, but when, by the courtesy of the House, this bill was taken up out of order, the member from Potter asks to substitute another bill providing for the erection of an additional judicial district in this Commonwealth, confining its jurisdiction to criminal cases, by annexing two other counties. He does not come here and ask the passage of this bill as it appears on the file, but he substitutes another, by which he adds two other counties to that district, and in all its provisions, inconsistent with the bill on our file.

Now, I am aware that the point of order taken by the gentleman on the other side is well taken and that it is not proper for me to discuss the merits of this bill at this time. But I shall take the opportunity which the rules of this House will give me to spread upon the record, and to be printed in our daily Record, the reasons which induced me to withdraw the objection which I made this morning to this bill. I say, sir, at this time briefly, that the gentleman from Potter this morning called up this bill for the purpose of passing the bill as it stands upon the file, and he then declared upon this floor that it was important to a portion of the people of this Commonwealth that the bill, as it now stands upon our file, should be passed.

But instead of doing that when, through my kindness and courtesy, I withdrew my objections which I made to the bill this morning, instead of asking the House to pass this bill under this title as it appears upon the files, he now comes here and moves to strike out that title, and to strike out that bill, and substitute an entirely different bill from the one upon the record.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if the people of this Commonwealth require, through her representatives, that the criminal law of Pennsylvania should be amended for the purpose of protecting the citizens in any of its counties, I think, sir, this Legislature is competent, by general laws and general provisions, so to amend the laws as will protect the people. Are not the people of Pennsylvania a law abiding people?

Have not the people got the machinery of the Government which they can apply at any moment for their protection? Have they not the provision in our Constitution by which the fundamental law can be amended from time to time, and by which the lives and property of the people can be more amply secured? Whence, then, I ask, is the injustice and fairness for introducing, in this House, the extraordinary and unheard of substitute to a bill which in the first instance passed the Senate committee, passed that body, was brought into this House, referred to the Judiciary Committee, of which the gentleman from Potter is chairman, then passed upon, printed and laid upon our tables with provisions upon its face which no man can misunderstand, providing for an additional law judge.

Mr. MANN. Will the gentleman allow me to ask him a question?

Mr. MEYERS. Certainly, sir,

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I was told that the gentleman from Northampton says I wanted to pass this bill in its original shape.

Mr. MEYERS. He said he desired to pass Senate bill No. 275.

Mr. MANN. No, sir, I said nothing about passing it in that shape. I said I desired to call it up, and that is all I said. I want to know whether the gentleman alleges that I suggested anything about passing the bill in the shape in which it came from the Senate?

Mr. MEYERS. I reply that such was what I understood him to say; that he called up this bill and asked the unanimous consent of the House for the purpose of passing a Senate bill No. 275; and that was an important bill in reference to a portion of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. MANN. I did not even say that. I said I wanted to proceed to the consideration of it. Whoever states that I said I wanted to pass the bill as it was states a falsehood.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this amendment to this title, for the reason that the substitution of this bill in place of the original bill came before this House in such a fraudulent manner that justice and common decency demands that this House should not amend it, so that this bill shall fall by not coming within the requirements of the Constitution, that the title should agree with the bill. I shall then discuss the reasons which should govern my action upon the whole question, and state the circumstances how this bill came before the House. This bill is for an additional law judge in Schuylkill county. It is a law which the people of Schuylkill county want, and it is a bill which the members from Schuylkill county upon this floor want. It is a bill which the Senator from that district defended and advocated on the floor of the Senate, and by his word and speech, passed it there against a Republican majority. It went through the Judiciary committee of the Senate, through the Senate with a Republican majority, and the committee of the House reported the bill in the form in which they received it. Is it not easy to understand that when a bill of this character is called up, and under these circumstances, that the object and purpose is to pass the bill as it is upon our files. I say, sir, that when a bill comes into the House in this way—which comes before this House on account of my kindness in withdrawing my objections, and an attempt is made to strike out every word of the bill, and substitute in the place of it another, outrageous in its provisions, totally inconsistent with the original bill, and at variance with the criminal jurisprudence of the State—I say, sir, it is a fraud upon this House; it is a fraud upon the people of Schuylkill county; it is a fraud upon every Senator and Representative in this Legislature, and upon all the people of this Commonwealth. This bill, which is thus before us, and which does not come in the ordinary way, creating a new additional judicial district, is a fraud and despotism upon the people of Schuylkill county, in the way which the criminal law is to be administered.

Mr. M'CAMANT. Mr. Speaker, I call the gentleman to order. He is not discussing the title of the bill.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I am discussing the amendment to this title, and showing why it should not pass, so that the bill may fall.

If, then, under these circumstances, looking clearly and distinctly at the history of this bill, its passage in the Senate, its passage in the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, its passage in the Judiciary Committee of this House, its being placed upon our files as a simple bill, containing only ten or twelve lines, for an additional law judge in that judicial district, sir, how can—

Mr. WRIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I call the previous question. I don't feel like sitting here all summer for nothing.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, how can, sir—

THE SPEAKER. The gentleman from Snyder [Mr. WRIGHT] calls the previous question. Does the gentleman insist upon his call?

The call was not insisted upon.
Mr. MEYERS. I say, Mr. Speaker, there can be no misunderstanding of the position which we occupy upon this question. When we come here as representatives to make laws for our constituents to live under, let us make those laws understandingly, and let us make them, at least, honestly. If they had intended to pass this bill in the shape in which it is amended, if they intended to carry it upon political principles and partisan grounds, Mr. Speaker, you and your party in this House and in the Senate, and the Governor, had the power to do it. They have had the power over three months, in which this House has been in session, to pass a bill in that shape and form, if they had chosen to do so—printed their infamous bill and given the minority and the people of Pennsylvania time to scan its provisions. But they dared not do it.

Mr. PENNYPACKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. My point of order is that the gentleman has spoken ten minutes.

Mr. MEYERS. This bill upon our files occupies but six or ten lines, and we have substituted in its place another bill containing a dozen or more sections, each section longer than the section in the original bill, and very different. But under the whip and the lash of the previous question, so ungraciously called for by the gentleman from Potter, prevented the minority to discuss, in behalf of the people, the iniquity and unconstitutionality of this amendment.

THE SPEAKER. The gentleman's time is up.

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Speaker, this original bill was approved by the members of the bar on both sides in Schuylkill county, and sent to this Legislature for our consideration.

It met with our approbation, and all that was required of us was a provision that the Governor should appoint the judge until the next election. We agreed to that. The bill went into the Senate, was passed by the Judiciary Committee and by that body. It took its regular course, and every person seemed to be satisfied with it, with the single exception of one man, who is lobbying this substitute bill through. The people of Schuylkill county do not hold him responsible for anything that he does, nor do I hold myself responsible for his action in this matter. This man has spent considerable time here, and has made his brags that the original bill should not go through.

They may talk as they please about the crimes committed in Schuylkill county. Take the cases of murder in Schuylkill county, and compare them with any portion of the State, and you will find that they do not exceed those in many other counties in the Commonwealth. Look at the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia, and you will find that the county of Schuylkill is quite a paradise in comparison. But we do not hear anything about the murder and other crimes committed there. You all remember the fearful murder committed in York county and Cumberland county not long ago. Why are these facts, this state of things in other counties, made the basis for such remedies, and even punishments, as is proposed to be inflicted upon Schuylkill?

Sir, I think the House does a great injustice by enforcing the kind of gag law that has been in operation this afternoon, and not allowing us a fair chance on a bill which interests us so vitally as does this.

The question being on the amendment of Mr. MANN to the title,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLLINS and Mr. MANN, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. GREGORY submitted in writing his remarks on the bill, as follows:

Mr. Speaker, the most iniquitous bill of this session is the one now under consideration; infamous alike in its provisions and in the manner in which the minority of this House have been deceived in having it brought forward for consideration. Mr. Speaker, what necessity for the passage of this law can excuse the base manner by which the gentleman, or rather member, from Potter [Mr. MANX] inveigled my colleague from Northampton [Mr. MEYERS] into allowing the same to be considered? But, Mr. Speaker, the Republican majority of this House, having had this bill considered and fully considered in their secret councils, and fully knowing its tyrannic contents, cast about for a plausible tool to use for the purpose of misleading the minority, and finding none more willing than the member from Potter, he was selected for the honorable purpose of foisting, under a fair guise, a bill for the oppression of the people of Schuylkill county. Writing under the infliction of the castigations received in Connecticut and elsewhere, in the recent elections, the wrath of the Republicans had to be appeased, and who so able to bear their maledictions as the poor miners of Schuylkill county?

And, Mr. Speaker, let me here show the animus of the bill, as evinced by the suggested amendment of one of my Republican colleagues from Philadelphia, who moved to amend the title by calling it a "bill for the protection of the Molly Maguires." It came forth unwittingly and incautiously from his lips, but it nevertheless showed plainly to the minds of all that the object for the passage of this infamous bill was not for the preservation of law and order, but for the oppression of the hardworking Democratic masses of Schuylkill county. But, Democrats of old Schuylkill, I say to you waver not in your devotion to the cause of constitutional liberty, for down appears; already a light is breaking in the east, and so sure as the sun rises and sets, so sure will the Democratic party—God bless it, I am sure he does—so sure will it regain the power lost in the madness and passions of the hour, and raising our Commonwealth once more to the proud position held under its benign influence in the old days—make it as it should be, a land of liberty. Then farewell all usurpations, in whatever shape presented.

Mr. Speaker, some of my colleagues assert that when that day comes, the Democratic party will be magnanimous. True, sir, it will be; but so far as I can speak for it, I will say, we have old scores first to settle, the countless years to repay, the studied insults heaped upon us, our wives and our children—will I forgive such as have so wronged me—and my principles? Never, never, never. History will again repeat itself, and our dawn appears. It comes slowly but none the less sure. "I'll then, our beacon lights burn brightly on a thousand hills, our sentinels guard well every outpost, and ere long we shall be greeted with the cry of "all's well!" echoed from the throats of the millions of fire-fried, unswerving masses of the Democratic party. All hail, thou tribunal of liberty that knows no North, no South, no East, no West, but one grand Republic, washed by the waves of the Atlantic and Pacific, and the Gulf of Mexico; one in heart and one in every feeling that binds man to his fellow! But, Mr. Speaker, I say we shall and will have our day of settlement. Like the noble red man, the monarch of the wilds, the Democratic party never forgets a kindness nor forgives an insult.

We must have no more such scenes as we have passed through. Safeguards must be thrown around us, and when the day comes when we once more regain our power, and it soon will come, our duty bids us we must take advantage of the situation. We have been treated to a surfeit of New England idias; my friends on the other side fail to see the glories of our good old Commonwealth, and laud the fanaticisms of New England. Let them do so; I am content to wait—men of Schuylkill do likewise. Let me tell them, however, that we will have no more of the kind our day of settlement arrives. We intend then to have the country, we will ever keep, and come weal, come woe, will ever have it so. The knell of the Republican party has already sounded. There will be but one party for this Republic; none other shall exist but the one that loves liberty and dares do battle for it. We have precedents and will use them, and I will say that bigoted, puritanical New England will know them, know them well—know them as we have known them through many long days of trials and sufferings. Our duty to our children demands that we shall begeth them a land of liberty, in which to dwell together in harmony and peace; but there can be no peace, no happiness, no security, while the mighty power of the puritan holds its sway; it wars with liberty; it was bred in persecution and grew and fattened on bigotry, and like all monsters must be destroyed. The Democratic party will be the St. George, and the dragon of New England must perish. Then Mr. Speaker, we will be magnanimous—then, when history has repeated itself, will we be magnanimous, and not until then.

We never asked quarter, and until we have been revenged for our insults and wrongs, we will grant none. Our motto is: "We ask no favors and shrink from no responsibilities."

The laboring masses of Schuylkill county have been called rebels—charged with aiding and abetting in the rebelry of the South during the rebellion. False in heart, false in their party principles, my Republican colleagues know, well know, that few, very few of them would have remained, at this day, to make such an assertion, in truth, if the party of which I am a humble member, had thrown its great strength in the conflict against them. No, Mr. Speaker, we strove, as we ever did and always will, for the main tenance of our Union one and indivisible, but the evil passions of the hour—the hate, the bigotry of puritanism had full sway, and look at the result. Is this a land of liberty? No! a thousand times no! But, thank God, we soon will be again, and then, and not till then, will I say with pride, I am an American citizen—free, and the peer of any white man—the superior of the black.

I had not intended saying anything on this question, Mr. Speaker, but I should be false to my conscience, false to the oppressed Democracy of Schuylkill, false to my teachings, did I not say, as I have before remarked, that the great Democratic party, the party of law and liberty, needed no defense; but proud and defiant, would, like the snake to which we have been likened, strike with uplifted head, even with the tyrant's heel upon us, even though it crushed us in the encounter. But we have only been scotched, not killed, and the sun of our hopes, rising above the black horizon that has so long encircled us, will soon warm our timid form, and once more grateful and beautiful, but powerful in our strength, will live watchful and wary, and never, never, never shall the heel of the oppressor be planted on us again.

Proud of my Democratic constituents; proud of the old Democratic party, I will close my remarks by saying "God bless them," and give the men of Schuylkill strength to resist all overtures of reconciliation and compromise that their honor and manhood, and the rights of all their brethren, bids them reject—suffer a little longer—bear the cross a little farther, and then the dawn of promise comes, the country is purged, and we are free white men once more.

Senate bill No. 677, an act to permit an appeal from the register of Lebanon county, in behalf of the heirs of Robert W. Coleman, deceased.

It was

No. 781, an act to prevent cattle, horses, mules, sheep and hogs from running at large in Pulaski and Little Beaver townships, Lawrence county.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. HARBISON asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House to strike out that part of the bill making its provisions apply to Pulaski township.

The bill as amended

Passed finally.

House bill No. 634, an act to vacate a part of the Township Line road, in the Twenty-first ward of the city of Philadelphia.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

Senate bill No. 443, an act to divide the borough of Port Carbon, Schuylkill county, into two wards.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I hope this will not pass. I am informed by parties deeply interested in the welfare of that borough that this bill is not required for the good of its citizens. It is not required for anything of which I can learn, but a number of the best citizens are remonstrating against its passage. For election purposes the borough is not even too large; it makes but one decedent election district. It might, however, be divided so as to put the offices into the hands of different parties from those that now hold them. I hope the bill will not pass.

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Speaker, between the gentleman from Potter [Mr. Mays] and the gentleman from Lancaster [Mr. Armstrong], Schuylkill county is so well represented that after while we will apparently have no need of representation on this floor from that county. Schuylkill county seems to be a great bug in their ears.

Now, this is only a simple bill for the purpose of dividing a borough into two wards. In reply to the gentleman from Lancaster, I tell him that there are too many voters there for one district. There is no use in trying to crowd us out into the cold altogether. All we want is fair and just legislation in this House. I say this is a proper and just bill, and I hope it will pass.

Mr. QUAY. Mr. Speaker, I have only one word to say in regard to this bill. I know but very little about the merits of this bill, but it occurs to me we are going a little too far to agree to defeat a bill to divide a borough into two wards, which is located in a district from which there are three representatives in favor of it. I think we have already treated the gentlemen from Schuylkill rough enough to-day without going any further.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

House bill No. 973, an act to establish a ferry on the Ohio river, between Baden and Economy, in the county of Beaver.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Not agreed to.

No. 379, an act validating the title to real estate heretofore sold and conveyed by executors or administrators.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. DEISE asked and obtained unanimous consent of the House to amend the bill.

The bill as amended

Passed finally.

Senate bill No. 720, an act to repeal an act for the repeal of an act changing the venue of certain actions of ejectment from Armstrong to Allegheny county.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. MECHLING. Mr. Speaker, I do not know, sir, that I can say very much in addition to what I have before said in reference to this case, unless it may be for the purpose of enlightening the minds of some of the gentlemen who were not present when this bill was brought up.

This is a bill to change the venue of two actions of ejectment from Armstrong county to Allegheny county. The actions were brought in Armstrong in 1858, against persons who had settled on lands in that county in 1819, or had purchased the lands at treasurer's sale, and have lived there for forty odd years. After they had lived on those lands for over forty years, Benjamin Rush Bradford brought two actions of ejectment against certain parties for the purpose of getting possession of those lands, but against the action was tried in Armstrong county in 1863, and the verdict was against Mr. Bradford. He made a motion for a new trial, and, pending that motion, came down here to the Legislature of Pennsylvania and got an act passed changing the venue of this case from Armstrong to Allegheny county.

The motion for a new trial was argued in the district court of Allegheny county, before the judges of the same, and Judge Campbell, of Clarion county, who held the special court in Kittanning, in which this trial was had. A new trial was granted, but against the judgment of Judge Campbell. The cases were never put down for trial at all, and last year I had a bill passed changing the venue of these cases back to Armstrong county. They were put down for trial there some two months ago, and they are on the trial list now. Here is a paper, published in Kittanning, which contains a list of the causes set down for trial, from which I read:

LIST OF CAUSES

Set down for trial in the common pleas court of Allegheny county, where his honor, Joseph B. Rufin, president judge, was concerned, as counsel in the subject matter thereof, as he has certified of record to wit:

FIRST WEEK.

"B. R. Bradford vs. James Guthrie, et al., 97, September, 1858.

"B. R. Bradford vs. William M'Caulein, 98, September, 1858.

"And now, to wit: 24th November, 1866, the special court of November, 1866, adjourned to the second Monday in April, 1867, at two o'clock, p. m."

Now these cases are down for trial on next Monday, and they are of those kind of cases that cannot be tried without a struck jury.

Now, I have letters from two of the attorneys in the case in Kittanning, one of whom states:

"The sheriff takes the struck jury in the premises to-morrow, 3d instant, and unless the Legislature is determined that these cases shall not be tried as ordinary actions of ejectment and they will be disposed of at our coming court."

The other gentleman says in his letter "that the jury have been struck by the attorneys of both parties in these cases, and the sheriff has fixed to-morrow for the jury and parties and artists to meet on the lands in dispute, to view the same."

Now, that was yesterday; these cases are now pending. The jury are out upon the premises, and next Monday, when the court meets, this case will be called up for trial.

I ask the members of this House if they are now willing to interfere with this matter and take these cases out of the hands of the court where they are pending and where they will be tried next week? Benjamin Rush Bradford, as I have said before, is a very wealthy man. He comes here and asks this Legislature to take out of the hands of the courts of Armstrong county these cases which rightfully belong there. He makes the declaration before the committee, and has made it here through the gentleman who has advocated his case on his part, that he could not get a fair trial in Armstrong county. Judge Campbell, who tried one of the cases, said that he could get a fair trial, and he refused, in the district court in Allegheny county, to grant him a new trial. Now he comes here and asks the Legislature to interfere against parties who have lived for forty odd years upon these lands, men who were born there, representatives of men who died there, and their orphan children who are residing upon these premises, and are defending this action through their guardians. I ask the Legislature of Pennsylvania if they are willing to permit a wrong like this to take these cases from the county where they properly belong and force them into Allegheny county?

I appeal to the members from Allegheny county if they will allow, in their county, two weeks to be occupied in the trial of these cases that belong to another district? These cases must be tried by a struck jury, and if they are taken into Allegheny county they must strike a jury there; that jury must go upon the premises, and then they must come back and have the cases tried. The case that was tried before in Kittanning could not be tried under one week, nor could it be tried in Allegheny county in less time; the two cases would, at least, occupy two weeks of the time of the juries and of the courts of Allegheny county. I appeal to the members from Allegheny county if, under these circumstances, they are willing to have the venue changed to that county? I wish to put these cases just in the proper light. I am putting it before this Legislature if they will insist in interfering with the law; if they will let a rich man come back and compel poor men to go into another district to defend their homes.

These lands were settled in 1819, and all the witnesses who are acquainted with the landmarks are now old men and women, and if the venue in these cases is changed, they will have to be taken down to Allegheny county; they will have to be dragged from their firesides that they have sat beside for years, some of them in dotage, for the purpose of satisfying Benjamin Rush Bradford, who, because he knows that he has no justice in his cause—because he knows that he will be defeated in Armstrong county, tries to force them into another county, where the defendants cannot bring their witnesses to defend these lands. I appeal to the Legislature of Pennsylvania not to allow such an outrage as this—not to allow the rich to oppress the poor—not to allow Benjamin Rush Bradford, who owns land in almost every county in Western Pennsylvania, to come here and force these people to go into another district to defend the homes where they were born and upon which they settled over forty-eight years ago.

I say, Mr. Speaker, that I am in earnest in this matter, and, although the gentleman on the other side, in the course of his trial, has, perhaps, set up the House against me, yet, if he has, I want it to go upon the Record whether the Pennsylvania Legislature will do such an outrageous act as this.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, without saying anything as to the merits of this case, I wish to say for Allegheny county that we have certainly got as much business there as we can attend to, and we have no desire to be saddled with any further cases of this kind. I know no person in Allegheny county asking for this thing. I have no desire to enter into the merits of the case, further than to state that I do not think it is desirable to bring this or any other case from another district into the courts of Allegheny county. It is well known that we already have more business in the courts of Allegheny county than we can attend to in any reasonable time.

Mr. QUAY. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to occupy the time of the House in discussing this case generally. I went over the entire ground when the case was up before. I will simply say that the reason for asking this change is that Benjamin Rush Bradford cannot get a fair trial in Armstrong county, on account of the popular feeling against him; and in consequence of this fact, this Legislature, in 1864, changed the venue of these cases. The bill was passed and sustained both by the Senator and the member from Armstrong county.

The case had come up for trial when the member from Armstrong last winter passed a bill changing the case back into Armstrong county, without my knowing anything about it.

These cases were removed into Armstrong county, and the gentleman in whose favor recovered from Mr. Bradford, some six hundred dollars cost for the change of venue.

I hope this House will pass the bill, as it passed the Senate unanimously.

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I have persistently refrained from interfering with the local legislation of any gentleman on this floor, and I have done so because there seemed to be a rule among the members not to thus interfere. I have not done it in cases to change the venue, although in most all instances these changes of venue are wrong. But, inasmuch as the gentleman in whose county these lands in controversy are situated is opposed to this change of venue, I suppose it will not be contrary to any of the rules of courtesy if I unite with the gentleman from Armstrong county in protesting against this change of venue. I do this because I have information from a gentleman upon whom I rely, that the change of venue in these cases would prevent the defendants from getting justice at all; not because they would not have an impartial trial in Allegheny county, but from the fact that under the circumstances it will be impossible for them to go there for the trial at all.

They have the right of possession to the lands in controversy, and the witnesses to establish those claims are in Armstrong county, and any lawyer knows that a possessory title can only be established by a long train of witnesses. Many of the witnesses are aged and infirm, and whom it is difficult to move from their homes.

Mr. QUAY. I desire to call the attention of the gentleman to the fact that the plaintiff shall pay all the expense.

Mr. LINTON. Under the terms of this bill, I say that much of the expense will not be paid by the plaintiff.

Mr. MECHLING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Beaver [Mr. QUAY] has said that the plaintiff, in these cases, will have to pay all the expense. I will explain that in this way: When this venue was changed from Armstrong county to Allegheny county, the expense of the trial for a new trial, the verdict being against Mr. Bradford. As a matter of course, he had to pay the costs, as the verdict was against him. When the venue was changed, the only cost was the cost then pending. It is only the cost due at that time that Mr. Bradford had to pay.

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, even if, under the terms of this bill, Mr. Bradford was bound to pay all the legal costs accruing in consequence of these trials in Allegheny county, every lawyer knows that the costs upon the docket are but a small amount of the expense of the trial of a suit. In this particular case, I am informed, if it is removed, these parties will be constrained to take a large number of witnesses there, and keep them there. I am also informed that such is their pecuniary circumstances that it would probably be impossible for them to do so.

Mr. MECHLING. Mr. Speaker, to satisfy the members of the House on this point, I will read from the act itself; it reads as follows:

Provided, That before the change of venue here authorized shall be made, said Benjamin Rush Bradford shall give security to pay all the additional mileage, and the additional costs, caused by said removal, more than if tried in the county of Armstrong.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MECHLING and Mr. QUAY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Armstrong, Barrington, Barton, Breen, Chadwick, Chalfant, Collins, Craig, Day, Fogel, Freeborn, Gregory, Harbison, Harner, Heltzel, Hoffman, Jones, Joseph, Kerns, Kinney, Kline, Koon, Kurtz, Leach, Marks, Meily, Meyers, Mullin, Pennypacker, Phelan, Quay, Quigley, Rhoads, Roath, Robinson, Roush, Seiler, Steacy, Stehman, Subers, Tharp, Watt, Webb, Westbrook, Wingard and Glass, Speaker—48.

NAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Boyd, Breunan, Chase, Duese, Donohugh, Espy, Gordon, Headman, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Linton, M'Henry, Maish, Mann, Markley, Mechling, Richards, Satterthwait, Stumbaugh, Wallace, Weller, Wharton and Wilson—25.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question

Passed finally.

Mr. HOOD. Mr. Speaker, the Governor of this Commonwealth has invited the members of this House, without distinction, to a levee at house this evening. Out of respect to the Governor of Pennsylvania I therefore move that we do now adjourn.

On the question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOOD and Mr. LINTON, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Barrington, Boyd, Breen, Brennan, Collins, Craig, Duese, Gallagher, Heltzel, Hood, Hunt, Jenks, Jones, Koon, Kurtz, Linton, Long, M'Creary, M'Henry, Maish, Markley, Meyers, Phelan, Quigley, Rhoads, Robinson, Satterthwait, Sharples, Tharp, Westbrook and Wingard—52.

NAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Barton, Ghadwick, Chalfant, Chase, Colville, Davis, Day, DeHaven, Donohugh, Espy, Ewing, Fogel, Freeborn, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Harner, Headman, Hoffman, Kennedy, Kerns, Kinney, Kline, Lee, Leech, M'Camant, M'Kee, Mann, Marks, Mechling, Meily, Mullin, Pennypacker, Peter, Quay, Richards, Roath, Roush, Shuman, Steacy, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wharton, Wilson, Woodward, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—27.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. COLVILLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House now take a recess of one hour, to pay their respects to Governor Geary.

The motion was

Not agreed to.

No. 888, an act to change the venue in the case of George W. Schofield vs. Martin Bruges from the court of common pleas of Wyoming county to the court of common pleas of Bradford county.

The question being on the final passage of the bill.

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, it might seem a little out of the way for me to interfere in this bill, as my county is not mentioned in it, but I have this to say, that the plaintiff in this suit is a constituent and neighbor of mine; that will account for my interference in this bill. He is an old and feeble man and is not strong enough to go a hundred miles to try his suit. He is, besides, a man in poor circumstances, and not at all in a condition to go into another county for his purpose.

Now, the gentleman from Wyoming stated here the other day in his remarks, that there was only about fifty Democratic majority in that county, and there can, therefore, be no danger from a trial there. The judge of that county is a man whom no one can say aught against. There is no necessity, I say, at all, for removing the case from Wyoming to Bradford county, and I think it very cruel and unchristian for the gentleman from Wyoming to urge this case. Here is the Reverend Mr. Schofield, a Baptist clergyman of high respectability, and here is the gentleman from Wyoming, a Baptist clergyman of the highest respectability, and yet we find the gentleman from Wyoming comes here, and because he occupies a seat upon this floor goes back on his brother in the church, and attempts to send him off a hundred miles for trial; a poor old man who has not a dollar to spend for that purpose. I think there is something more in it; I think there is some pique, some personal spite between these two clerical gentlemen, and it has been hinted to me that such is the case. I have a letter from Mr. Schofield, in which he says he has nothing against the gentleman from Wyoming, but he implores this Legislature not to send him away that distance for this trial. I wish ask the gentleman from Wyoming whether there is not something beyond what he alleges is in this bill? I will ask if the gentleman from Wyoming did not propose, within four years, to be one of a party to ride Mr. Schofield on a rail because of his political views?

Mr. KENNEDY. I did not propose that, but I told the people in Foxtown township when he came up there to help form a lodge of the Knights of the Golden Circle, that if they would tar and feather him if he came again on that mission, I would pay the expenses.

Mr. KOON. Now the cat is out.

It is seen that the gentleman from Wyoming has no charge to make, nothing to allege to the contrary that a fair trial will not be had in the county of Wyoming, where he says that the Democratic majority is only about fifty, and now he pitches into a brother of the church to drag him from Laramie county, away up the river to Bradford county, where, I do not allege, he will not have a fair trial, but where he will be unable, where it will be impossible for him to get his witnesses. There is no railroad up there from the place where he lives. It is true that there is a canal, and if the gentleman will wait until navigation is open he might take a boat and in a journey of about three weeks get up there. As to the Knights of the Golden Circle, that is a mere creature of the brain.

There is no such thing in Wyoming county, or in that section. It is true that elder Schofield is a Democrat, and that is his sin, and I glory in it. He makes good conservative prayers and preaches good conservative sermons, and that is the reason why the brother in the church of the same denomination as his own, seeks to drag the feeble old man from his home into Bradford county for trial. Mr. Schofield is a venerable old man, and I do not know but the gentleman from Wyoming learned from him; I do not know but he sat at his feet to learn the Gospel; but if he did, I am satisfied he does not follow the precepts of Elder Schofield, for he always preaches right, and his prayers are such as a preacher ought to pray. I am free to say that I would leave this old preacher at home, and not send him away at the mere dictation of the gentleman from Wyoming. He is a constituent of mine, and once lived in Wyoming. I appeal to the gentleman from Wyoming to let him alone.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman intimated in the commencement of his remarks, this is rather an interference with local matters on his part. I feel it a little strange that he should interfere at all, as the only ground upon which he exonerates himself is that Mr. Schofield is now one of his constituents. But when this prosecution commenced he was not. He lived in our county and lived there a year or so after the prosecution commenced. Mr. Schofield is not the one who is prosecuted in this suit; he is the prosecutor. If my friend had been the prosecutor in the case I would have felt differently about taking him off such a distance; but it is not a difficult task at all for Mr. Schofield to travel. He has traveled this country all year. I have known the man for a good many years, and I know that he has traveled our country over and over again, and wherever he can get an opportunity to stop long enough to preach a sermon he does so.

But the Union people are unwilling generally to hear him because of his political views. It is well known that he went and formed a society of the Knights of the Golden Circle at Foxtown, and for acts of this kind the Baptists are prejudiced against him all over the country. He has prosecuted this young man for libel. This young man is one of the best citizens of Wyoming county, and would grace a position in these legislative halls. He is a young man against whom nothing has ever been brought before, and the matter brought against him now is merely on account of a letter that he wrote descriptive of the very course of this man years ago.

Even while Mr. Schofield was engaged in the ministry, a good portion of his time was engaged in horse trading and the like, and he almost always left his creditors in a bad fix. In short, he showed himself perfectly prepared to go into the work of secession. In fact he went down South to get a chaplaincy, but failed in that.

Now, these are the characters of the two men. I know them better than I know the gentleman on the opposite side of the House, and much better than he knows me, and I think if there ever was an instance in which the venue should be changed, this is one of them.

Although he says we have within fifty as many Republicans as we have Democrats in Wyoming county, which is true, we have on the present jury but six out of thirty-six, and that is one more than we had at the last court. We get from four to six as a general thing, and we are only fifty behind so far as numbers are concerned. On the grand jury we only get from one to two. That is the way in which our juries are managed. This young man has probably some two or three thousand dollars worth of property, and the old man has brought this suit thinking that he could get something out of him in his old age to live upon. If he gets the case tried in the court in our county he will succeed in it—but if the case goes where justice will be done, I think he will not.

And now, Mr. Speaker, upon the passage of this bill I call the previous question, and I hope I will be sustained by the members of this House.

The call for the previous question was seconded by Messrs. Donohugh, Ghegan, Davis, Pennypacker, Allen, Gordon, Adair, Kinney, Espy, Woodward and M'Camant.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Last winter an act passed this Legislature to give relief to the sufferers of Chambersburg. My opinion then was that, unless the State had been derelict in its duty in protecting or defending its citizens of the border counties—unless it had refused proper activity and aid for that purpose—the Federal Government and not the State was responsible for the destruction and desolation created by rebel hordes. In the progress of the discussion that position was admitted, but it was contended that it would be impossible for citizens thus impoverished to await the slow process of thus obtaining it, but that the State should give the relief and look to the Federal Government for reimbursement. That view of the case was adopted by this Legislature, by a large and positive majority, and relief was furnished accordingly.

Now, sir, my sense of justice would revolt at the partiality of a State which would afford relief to one portion of its citizens and refuse it to another suffering from like causes. Wherever similar destruction prevailed from like causes, I hold that similar relief should be applied. The action of last winter became emphatically the settled policy of the State. Now, sir, I am disposed so to vote as to have her carry out that policy, in good faith, toward all her citizens who suffered in like manner from the iron heel of rebellion, whether they be in Franklin or Adams county.

It is hardly possible for me to suppose that the formidable forces engaged at Gettysburg could have lived off the surrounding country for the length of time they did, without causing immense destruction to property, for which the citizens thus suffering were in no wise responsible. Shall we remain satisfied to say to these people that they are less under the ægis of the Government than those of Chambersburg? Shall we furnish liberal aid to citizens of one locality, and refuse it to another? No, sir. We, by our act of last winter, authorized the State of Pennsylvania to furnish relief to her citizens, the State herself looking to the General Government for a liquidation of that debt. And while the evidence of the destruction of a single home, however humble, by that arch enemy of republican government can be adduced, I will be in favor of extending to it the same pro rata of relief that has been given to its more pretentious neighbors.

G. W. KINNEY.

Mr. HOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

VENUE MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented the following message from the Governor:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, April 4, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, without my approval, to the Senate, in which it originated, bill No. 1002, entitled An act to incorporate the Masonic Hall association of the city of Reading, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of erecting a building for the use of said Masonic association and for other purposes. I have already returned to the House, with my objections, two bills of this character, and I had hoped no more would be passed. The act of 16th October, 1840, conferred upon the courts of common pleas of the several counties, authority to create corporations for any literary, charitable or religious purpose, beneficial society or association.

By the third section of the act approved May 7th, 1855, this power of the courts is so extended as to embrace Odd Fellows, Free Masons, and town and city hall associations.

The ninth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution declares that "no bill shall be passed by the Legislature, granting any powers or privileges, in any case where the authority to grant such powers or privileges has been, or may hereafter be, conferred upon the courts of this Commonwealth."

This bill, in my judgment, is in direct conflict with this plain provision of the Constitution, and cannot, therefore, be approved.

Executive approval gives no validity to unconstitutional acts, and the courts have repeatedly held that such enactments are void, and confer no rights or privileges upon the corporations. It is better for all concerned that such legislation be arrested at once, before innocent parties have been induced thereby to invest their money.

It is quite too common to insert some clause or proviso in bills of this character, not included in the jurisdiction of the courts; and then to contend that the whole bill must be made an exception to the general rule. This cannot be permitted, for it must appear that the inevitable result of such a course would be the complete nullification of that clause of the Constitution heretofore cited. The conclusion of the first section of the bill herewith returned, is as follows:

"Provided, That the real estate of the said association shall not exceed the net yearly income of twenty-five thousand dollars."

By the act approved 26th March, 1867, such associations, after incorporated by the courts, may have a clear annual income of twenty thousand dollars. This is more than sufficient in all ordinary cases, and when the net yearly income of this Reading Hall association shall be found to exceed this amount, it will be time enough for the Legislature to legalize the increase.

The following is the second section of the bill:

"Sec. 2. That the objects of said corporation shall be to provide, erect and furnish a hall or suitable building, or buildings, in the said city of Reading, for the accommodation of masonic or beneficial associations, established, or to be established there, as well as suitable for public and business purposes generally."

It must be apparent to every one that the main object of the corporation is to provide a hall for the use of the association; and the additional words, "as well as suitable for public and business purposes generally," are too vague and uncertain to give character to the corporation; and it is very doubtful whether they could be so construed as to confer any powers or privileges whatever.

I cannot allow the plain provisions of the Constitution to be evaded on such pretexts as these. If special power or privileges, not within the jurisdiction of the courts, are needed, they can be properly claimed in bills framed for the purpose, unencumbered for other powers and privileges which the courts have the right to confer; and they will be duly considered.

I can only account for the Legislature passing such bills as this, upon the ground that the giving the courts jurisdiction cannot be found in the digest, and must have been overlooked. JNO. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the Senate proceeded to the reconsideration of the bill referred to in the foregoing message.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Cowles, Davis, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Jackson, James, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searight, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—25.

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILLS RECOMMENDED.

Mr. SHOEMAKER moved to recommit bill entitled An act to protect game and fish in Luzerne county to the Committee on Domestic Manufactures.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. TAYLOR moved to recommit bill entitled An act to take the sense of the people of Indiana county upon the question of a prohibitory liquor law to the Committee on Vice and Immorality.

The motion was

Agreed to.

PURCHASE OF A BOOK FOR THE STATE LIBRARY.

On leave,

Mr. FISHER read in his place and presented to the Chair a bill entitled Joint resolution authorizing the purchase of Audubon's Ornithology for the State Library.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the Committee on Finance was discharged from the further consideration of the bill.

And the rules having been dispensed with, the bill was read a second time.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY asked what the price would be.

Mr. COLEMAN. It will cost from ten to twelve hundred dollars. A friend of mine went into a store in New York to purchase it, and was told that a copy had lately been obtained for the Duke of Northumberland, at about twelve hundred dollars. There is an edition, I believe, put off, with worn out plates, which is cheaper.

Mr. FISHER. There is no book sought for so much as this. It is a book of world wide reputation, and ought to be in the library.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CONAUGHY and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfeld, Coleman, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Glatz, James, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Schall, Searight, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Walls and White—19.

So the question was determined in the negative.

During the call,

Mr. CONNELL said: Mr. Speaker, this resolution absolutely requires the purchase of this work, without any limit as to price. If it was limited, I might vote for it; as it is, I vote "no."

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence) said he should vote "no" for the same reason.

COMMUNICATION BETWEEN LAKE ERIE AND THE OHIO RIVER.

On leave,

Mr. LOWRY read in his place and presented to the Chair a joint resolution, which was read as follows:

Whereas, a passage for gunboats between the Ohio river and the great lakes is greatly needed for the national protection and security;

And whereas, the national prosperity would be vastly multiplied by the opening of such a highway for the purposes of commerce;

And whereas, The National Congress had manifested its desire for the opening of such a channel, by ordering the survey of sundry routes; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That our Representatives are hereby requested, and our Senators instructed, to urge upon Congress the passage of an act to open such a channel by the way of the Pennsylvania Erie canal from the mouth of the Beaver river, on the Ohio, to Lake Erie, at the city of Erie, a distance of (128) one hundred and twenty-eight miles, which, in the judgment of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, can be accomplished by using the Erie Extension canal at a cost to the Government, and the same can be kept in repairs at the expense of the Erie canal company, for the use of the Government at all times, not to exceed one million of dollars.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I will state the object of the resolution in a single word. It is known that communication between the lakes and the rivers, for the passage of gunboats, is looked upon as a future necessity of the Government, and I think this will be the only chance that Pennsylvania would have to enjoy its benefits and share its blessings, and while the Government is making its surveys across the country at a cost, in contemplation, of fifty millions of dollars to the Government, it can be run through Pennsylvania at a cost of one million of dollars, and bless us and protect mankind.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

On motion of Mr. LOWRY, the Committee on Federal Relations was discharged from the further consideration of the bill, which was read a third time, and

Passed finally.

PURCHASE OF EPHRATA MOUNTAIN SPRINGS AS A HOME FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill providing for the purchase of Ephrata Mountain Springs, in Lancaster county, for a home for disabled soldiers, at a price not to exceed one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

The bill was read.

Mr. CONNELL. I would like to know something about the value of this property.

Mr. FISHER. Very well; this property is known as the Ephrata Mountain Springs. There are seventy-two acres of land there, worth in the market two hundred dollars an acre. There is a hotel built on it which has accommodations for two hundred guests, with all the outbuildings, stabling, ten-pin alley, and all the buildings that are appropriate to a summer watering place. The furniture in the house cost about fifteen thousand dollars. The proprietor of this property proposes to sell the farm, buildings, furniture, and live stock on the place, for one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars. The former owner of the property, who was formerly a member of this body, was offered for the farm and buildings, without the furniture, seventy-five thousand dollars, when gold was worth one hundred per cent. premium. I think there is no place in the State which can be purchased so cheaply as this. If we want an asylum for our invalid soldiers, I think this opportunity will not occur again for the next century.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I was at this place four years ago; it is a very beautiful place, but, sir, I happen to know something about the prices of land and buildings, and I should say that, at the outside, the value of this property was between thirty thousand and forty thousand dollars. I understand from the Senator from Lebanon that it was sold a few years ago for fifteen thousand dollars.

Mr. FISHER. This bill provides for an appropriation not exceeding one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars, at the discretion of the Governor.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was born and brought up in the vicinity of this property and have known it all my life. I understand that it was sold at sheriff's sale for fifteen thousand dollars. The buildings on this property I consider valueless for this purpose. They are not like our ordinary watering place hotels, at Cape May and other places. The right is a simple one year. As soon as the State would come into possession of that property all these buildings would have to be torn down, and we might have to spend one hundred thousand dollars to put them in order. Everybody knows what these buildings are at watering places. They are frame buildings. They might be rented, perhaps, for two or three years; but, for a permanent institution, I consider these buildings as valueless. They would have to be taken down, and we should have to put up a building creditable to the State. I hope this subject will be referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I have had apprehensions for some time that the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] was going into a fossiliferous state. With regard to these buildings, they are substantial; they are frame buildings it is true, as all buildings generally are at watering places; but I know they are in excellent condition; they are large and commodious. There are provisions made there for the accommodation of two hundred guests, and I suppose there would be accommodations there for three hundred soldiers.

But the question remains, shall we have a home for the soldiers? If this Senate is prepared to say that we shall throw these unarmed, one-legged, mutilated men out, with no protection from the Commonwealth, be it so. But, sir, if you had been in the army, and saw the sacrifices that these men made; if you had seen these men wounded, maimed, starving, bleeding, then I ask you, sir, would you have been prepared to come here and say the Senate of Pennsylvania shall make no provision for these men? I ask you to go home to your constituents and say that when this proposition was submitted to the Senate, we provided a home for these wounded and starving men, you got up here and said you would make no provision for them. Go to the heights of Gettysburg; go to the Peninsula; go to the Wilderness, to the North Anna; go to the James River, to the place where Lee surrendered, and then tell the people of Pennsylvania, that we will make no provisions for these wounded, maimed and starving men.

I believe this is the cheapest place you can provide for these men. If you are prepared to say you will make no provision for them, be it so. As for me, I am not prepared to say that these men shall be turned over to the poor houses; I would make some provision for them.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I am certainly just as willing as the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER] or any other Senator on this floor, and will go just as far as the farthest, to make provision for those who have suffered in the late war. But, sir, I do not think that in the purchase of this property we are making such provisions for the wounded and maimed soldiers, as we might do with the same amount of money otherwise expended. I think that under the guise of providing for the soldiers were providing for the owner of this property, and I shall vote against this measure. It may be that the passage of this bill would be a good thing for the owner of this property and some others, but we can provide for the maimed and wounded soldiers at less expense to the State.

Mr. FISHER. I have just been informed that there is room for five hundred men in these buildings.

Mr. MCCONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to say that the inference might be drawn from the remarks of my friend, the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER], that Pennsylvania made no provisions for the soldiers. I think that the Senator is mistaken. There are homes for them in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, both large establishments, one of which I visited a few weeks ago, and which is very commodious, and the present appropriation bill appropriates twenty-five thousand dollars out of the treasury to help these institutions.

They represent the eastern and western localities of the State. In addition to that, there has been organized, by this Legislature, an institution called the National Asylum, with General Meade for its president, and a number of the leading soldiers of the State active in it, under which incorporated citizens of the State undertake to pay into the treasury the sum of one or two thousand dollars for that purpose, and I believe that from the auspices under which that effort is inaugurated that the sum will be realized within the current year. The erection of the building is to be on Cemetery Hill. The site is selected, and if the State desires to contribute it would be infinitely better to contribute to existing institutions than to go out of the way to pay for this establishment in Lancaster. As persons from the immediate vicinity—my friend from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] from almost within sight of the establishment, give their opinion of its absolute failure, I think there can be no hesitation in voting down this appropriation for this property. I would be very slow to vote against my reasonable proposition. I may say in this connection that there is now accumulated in the hands of trustees, the sum of six or eight millions of dollars in moneys due to officers, &c., which by legislation through Congress has been appropriated specially for this purpose, part of which will no doubt be expended in Pennsylvania.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I am ready to go as far for the soldiers as the Senator [Mr. FISHER] is willing to go. I would rather take this money and buy three or four such places as that. I will undertake that the Governor will buy four or five such places for the same amount of money. Therefore, I claim that I am a better friend of the soldier than the Senator.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, in regard to buying four or five such places, if the Governor and city authorities were to go into the market and buy a place for the accommodation of the wounded soldiers, I have no doubt the price would be three times the price at which this property was sold. A. A. Adams, the Senator from Adams county [Mr. M'CONAUGHY.] He proposes to have the establishment on Cemetery Hill. I have watched the course of this legislation, and my friend, the Senator from Adams, has been working all winter to fix up a new battle of Gettysburg. He wants a monument, a hotel, and now a Soldiers' home. I tell you the soldiers would not feel at home there; they were there once, and did not get a very handsome reception. This property in Lancaster is worth every dollar that is asked for it. These people from Adams county come here and ask this Legislature to grant them five hundred thousand dollars—for what? For selling bread at a dollar a loaf, and locking up their pumps. I tell you, sir, I have been nearly five years in the army, and the meanest man that I ever met anywhere was in that county. When our tired men, worn out by marches night and day—for my command marched on the night of the first of July until two o'clock in the morning, and bivouacked on the field just before going into that battle—and an Adams county man came to me, and asked me who would pay him for allowing my men to sleep on his field? And what was my answer to him, sir? I said, "Make out your bill and send it to the President at Washington!" Said he, will he pay it? I told him, "Sir, he will pay, or say that you are a mean man to ask it." That is the character of the citizens of Adams county. They, sir, charged my men a dollar a loaf for bread, and a very small loaf at that; they locked up their pumps to prevent my men from getting water. And now, sir, the Senator from Adams comes up here and asks that protection be made for these men on Cemetery Hill. Go to that consecrated ground, and see the mangled bodies of men who stood up there in defense of the country! Then, sir, because we ask for a place which has been true and faithful as loyal—a place, sir, that is worth every dollar and more, that is asked for it—the Senator from Adams gets up and asks that it be put on Cemetery Hill. Sir, if I thought that this proposition would take a dollar out of the treasury unjustly, I would not vote for it.

You will observe by the terms of the bill that it is left discretionary with the Governor. We all have confidence in him; he will not pay a dollar unjustly. I know this property to-day is worth every dollar asked for it.

Now, think of it. There are seventy-two acres of land there, sir, that is worth every dollar two hundred dollars. They can accommodate five hundred persons. With all the outbuildings, with the furniture, which cost fifteen thousand dollars, with the cattle, sheep, horses, hogs, &c., I say the property is cheap; and if I had the money, I would not hesitate about investing it there. The grand question is, sir, shall we have a home for these poor maimed men? Is Pennsylvania going to turn its back upon the soldiers?

Mr. MC CONAUGHY. In speaking, a few moments ago, I stated facts which I suppose were immediately pertinent to the question—fact, which I supposed would be interesting to the members of this body. Why my friend, the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER], who I have always esteemed as my personal friend, should make a gross and flagrant attack upon my constituents, is to me wonderful. It cannot grow out of the relations between the Senator and myself; it cannot grow out of anything my people have done. There is an old adage, "Let the galled jaded wine." There seems to be something under this matter—something that lies deeper than any offence committed by my people. Sir, I need not reply to the assault made upon my constituents. I suppose there is no community in the world, there is no district in this Commonwealth, in which there was not be mean people. I do not mean to say that there are none in the bounds of my constituency. I remember that it was alleged that in Harrisburg a dollar a loaf was charged for bread. A very distinguished English woman, who has written with some ability, characterized the people of America in the following words, by attributing to them the character of one individual. My friend from Lancaster thinks the same way. He has picked up something, and implied that the characteristics of a single mean individual are the characteristics of my people. Sir, from such charges, I appeal to the men who fought at Gettysburg, and to the men who commanded there. They will silence the unjustifiable attack of the Senator.

But there is one thing, and with that I desire to end what I have to say. My people do not need to be scared. There are things, Mr. Speaker, which are sacred, and command the reverence of every true soul; and I know this is the case of the soldiers—noble men, for whom every true man exertains a reverence next to the reverence for his God. But, sir, if there is a mean thing on earth—a contemptible thing, which beggars language to express utterly—it is the prostituting the cause of the soldier, demeaning the high and holy name of patriotism for the base purpose of taking from the Commonwealth one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars.

Mr. FISHER. I would like to know whether the Senator from Adams [Mr. MC CONAUGHY] wishes to impute any improper motives to me in this matter.

Mr. MC CONAUGHY. I do not. But I do say that it is transparent that the bill calls for an amount in this appropriation three times greater than the estimated value of the property designed to be purchased.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that the Senator has put it in the shape he has. Now, sir, in regard to the value of this property, I state here that I have been informed, upon what I conceive to be undoubted authority, that Mr. Feather, who was formerly a member of this body, was offered, in gold-times, seventy thousand or seventy-five thousand dollars for this property. Well, sir, that was for the realty alone. Now, the gentleman who owns this property proposes to sell the whole thing; not only the realty, but the personally. Now, you know what it would cost to furnish a hotel—perhaps you do not know from experience, never having kept a hotel—but it could not cost less than twenty-five thousand dollars. Now, he proposes to sell all his furniture, all the stabling, ten-penny alleys, &c.; and I believe, as firmly as I believe anything, that this property is cheap at the price asked for it. But you will bear in mind that the Governor is required to purchase it at a price not exceeding this amount, and if he finds that it is not worth the price asked, he can negotiate the purchase at a lower figure.

Mr. FISHER. The Senator from Adams [Mr. MC CONAUGHY] seems to want this home fixed in Adams county. I tell you the soldiers do not want to go to Adams county; they have seen enough of it; and I say again, without reflection upon the Senator from Adams, that the meanest men I ever saw in the world, are located in Adams county. Go into Virginia, and the people there, although fighting against you, will divide the last loaf with you; there is hospitality there. And when we came to Adams county, I say again, they locked up their pumps, and sold their loaves of bread at a price of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars, or any amount. This, sir, is no way to make a purchase—no way for a great Commonwealth like Pennsylvania to make a purchase. I know, sir, that devils are cast out here often in the name of the soldier. I do not know that it is so in this case. But, sir, I denounce this way of purchasing property, and I call upon the other Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT] to tell us whether this bill ought to pass.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I had never put my mind to remain silent upon this subject, because of wishing to have another engagement brought on between my colleague and myself, to disturb the harmony of feeling and friendship that exists between us; and besides, when we had our last engagement, the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM] gave the assurance then that it was to be positively the last appearance of the Senator from Lancaster. But, sir, since I have been disturbed in my quietude, and called upon by the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] to give my opinion upon this subject, I cannot refuse.

The property contemplated to be purchased by this bill, viz: the Ephrata Mountain Springs, I know very well, having been born and raised almost within sight of it. In point of locality and romantic scenery, it can scarcely be excelled in the State. It is well adapted for a purpose of that kind. Its former owner, Mr. Konigsmacher, once a State Senator, converted the same into a summer resort, and was very successful in making it popular. When in full bloom, I remember very well that there were as many as eight hundred guests, and might have, at that time, brought seventy-five thousand dollars. But after Mr. Konigsmacher died, the property was sold for ten thousand or fifteen thousand dollars. It has since been completely renovated and improved, besides; through change of owners and change of prices, I think it might cost the present proprietors some thirty thousand or forty thousand dollars.

I do not wish to stand here in opposition to the advancement of the interest of my own immediate constituents, but as I have been called upon to give some estimate of the present value of the premises, I must confess that I do not think it is worth more than the amount stated by the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN]; and besides, I am unable to find that the application for purchasing the same, or anything else in lieu thereof, comes from the soldiers, whom it is intended to benefit, but solely from the persons immediately interested in the selling thereof. And if there even should be a necessity for establishing an institution of the kind, I think the price asked for seventy-five thousand and fifteen hundred dollars, is too high. I would not vote for more than half the amount called for in this bill. I will vote to refer the same to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, my own constituents have invested one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars from the proceeds of a sanitary fair for the support of an institution of this kind. The building was put up for the Western Pennsylvania hospital originally; and unless there is some overwhelming necessity—Philadelphia and Allegheny both having one of these institutions—I am certainly not prepared to vote for another.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I have learned one thing, and that is that this Senate does not care for the soldiers now, and so we will let them go. There will be a reckoning one of these days, however.

Mr. CONNELL moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present, and that it be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the motion? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FISHER and Mr. CONNELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Graham, Landon, Lowry, McConaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, White and Worthington—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glutz, Hester, Jackson, James, Schall, Seagriff and Hall, Speaker—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call,

Mr. COWLES said: Mr. Speaker, if we are to originate any system for taking care of soldiers, it ought to be a general system. So far as my observation extends, none of those invalid soldiers are in necessitous circumstances. In my part of the State all are provided for; and they are among their friends there, and receive handsome pensions from the State, and I am satisfied to let well enough alone. I am especially opposed to partial legislation.

Also, during the call,
Mr. FISHER said: Mr. Speaker, when I go to Philadelphia, on almost every street I see a man with an arm off or a leg off, grinding on a grating and grinding out his pension. In every place I visit, I am called upon to relieve some poor wounded soldier. For that reason, sir, I want to provide a home for those poor men; Senators here, who were not in the field, cannot realize the dangers and struggles through which these men passed—the days and nights in which they marched, care-worn and fatigued; and now, sir, I want to provide some home where they may spend the remnant of their days. Is the Republican Senate of Pennsylvania, that talks about the soldiers, and asks for a soldier's votes, and sends the papers to the army, and asks them to support the Republican ticket—are they going to vote this bill down, and refuse to provide a home for them? I, sir, cannot do it, and I vote no.

Also, during the call,
Mr. LOWMY said: Mr. Speaker, the soldiers do not want a home bought for them at twice its value. I vote to refer this bill.

Also, during the call,
Mr. WHITE said: Mr. Speaker, this is a bill allowing the Governor to purchase, for an amount not exceeding a certain sum, a home for soldiers. I believe in allowing in some discretion. I would like to see a home for the invalid soldiers of Pennsylvania. I have no doubt something of this kind will be ultimately adopted. But we have already made provision for the soldiers' orphans, and this is a very large draft upon the Treasury. We are making provisions for eleemosynary institutions all around the State for the support of the soldiers and their orphans, and we are doing all we are able to do in this respect. And then, again, I have discovered that the Government has incorporated a Soldiers' National asylum, and purchased property; and I believe they have inaugurated a general policy upon this subject, I think it unwise in the State, in the depleted condition of our Treasury, to do this. Again, this whole subject was referred to the Military Committee of the Senate, and I hold in my hand a report from that committee in the shape of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Military Affairs in the Senate be and they are hereby authorized and instructed to inquire into the propriety of purchasing a house for invalid soldiers by the Commonwealth, and among other places they are hereby requested to examine the adaptation of what is known as Ephrata Springs, Lancaster county, for such purpose, and to make report thereof to the next Legislature.

This makes provision for the purchase of property, and a report to the next Legislature. I therefore vote to refer the matter to the Committee on Finance.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

CHANGE OF VENUE FROM SCHUYLKILL TO LEBANON COUNTY.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled An act to change the venue in a certain case from Schuylkill county to Lebanon county.

Mr. CONNELL. This is the ordinary case, where one of my constituents did not want his case tried in Schuylkill. He has heard so much about the courts here that he does not want it tried there, because he thinks he cannot get justice.

Mr. COWLES. There were several affidavits before the Judiciary Local, very strong papers, as well as oral statements from counsel and other parties.

Mr. CONNELL. This change has not been refused at any time during this session.

Mr. RANDALL. The plaintiff here is a wealthy gentleman in Philadelphia, who is endeavoring to worry out these children—the defendants—by putting them to the expense of trying the case in another county. They do not deny that they cannot have a fair trial in Schuylkill county. I trust the Senate will not set this precedent.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, the allegation is that they cannot have a fair trial in this county. I do not think the Senator knows a great deal about this case. It is a strong case, I am assured by the highest authority in the Commonwealth. I trust we will change the venue in this case.

Mr. RANDALL. Mr. Speaker, I have no doubt the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] thinks this a strong case. His prejudices are formed against every case from Schuylkill county. He is capable of making statements upon this floor without any reason being assigned.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, my prejudices against Schuylkill county are based on strong evidence. I will repeat what I said before, that the highest authority in this Commonwealth has told me that it is a case where justice will not be done unless there is a change.

Mr. RANDALL. Who is the authority? Mr. LOWRY. The Attorney General of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, this case is an action of ejectment brought by the heirs of Mr. Loeser against Mr. Hammett. He purchased the land of Mr. Loeser, a short time before his death, and when he was insane, and not competent to transact his own business. Mr. Hammett bought this land with a full knowledge of that fact. After the death of Mr. Loeser, his heirs at law brought this action of ejectment against Mr. Hammett, to recover from him the land, on the ground that the sale that their father had made was void, by reason of his insanity. Since the beginning of this action, those heirs have tendered to Mr. Hammett all the money he paid for the land; they have offered to reimburse him, both principal and interest. It was understood that Mr. Hammett, when he bought this land, had full notice of the rights of these heirs.

Their father was a lunatic, and they brought this action, as all persons under such circumstances have a right to do, in disaffirmance of the contract made by their father. The action was brought in the county in which the land lies, and in which the question of lunacy would have been tested if raised; the county in which Mr. Loeser resided all his lifetime, and the county in which these heirs now reside. There is no allegation and no proof of the fact that Judge Ryan will not do justice to these parties; and I ask the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] to produce the sworn affidavit of any man to these facts. He cannot produce an affidavit here that Mr. Hammett cannot have a fair and impartial trial in Schuylkill county. We ask at the hands of those Senators who assume that this case should be removed, that it be placed upon the basis of other cases.

We must go beyond mere declarations when men's rights are about to be taken away from them. We should require, and we have required, it is our universal rule to require of all parties who desire a change of venue, sworn affidavits, grounding the cause either first, that the judge is not impartial, or secondly, that the jury, because of prejudice, will not render a verdict in accordance with the facts. We have, in this case, first, the fact that the land in contest lies in Schuylkill county; secondly, that Mr. Loeser resided there, and that, by the law, the place where the question of lunacy is to be tried. We have these facts, and, in the absence of sworn proof that this case cannot be impartially tried there, I trust the Senate will not change the venue.

Mr. CONNELL. That proof was here. The chairman of the Local Judiciary had it, setting forth the facts that they cannot have a fair trial in Schuylkill county.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I have heard this case represented by three counsel, and unless some case can be made out, prima facie, much stronger than has been, I hope no change of venue will be allowed.

Mr. LOWRY. The friends of this change have telegraphed for the affidavits; they supposed they would be here now, and I am willing it should go over until to-morrow.

Mr. HIGHAM. Very well; I am willing it should go on.

Mr. CONNELL moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

The motion was

Agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION A BILL.

Mr. DAVIS moved to reconsider the vote on the final passage of bill entitled An act directing the liens for moneys due the Commonwealth on lands held by virtue of location in other office titles, requiring the survey of lands so heretofore surveyed and returned to the Surveyor General, and payment to be made for the same, and relating the fees in the office of the Surveyor General.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DAVIS and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Glatz, Graham, Jackson, James, Landon, Lowry, Schall, Searight, Shickmaker, Slutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—2.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Connell, Ridgway and Koyer—4.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call.

Mr. BURNETT said: Mr. Speaker, I desire to state the reasons for my vote on this motion. This bill was passed here on a trot. I intended to take occasion, before the bill was brought to a final vote, to give my views upon it, and my objections to some of its features. Now, if Senators will examine this bill thoroughly, they will find that it adopts a very harsh measure against a very large number of landholders within this Commonwealth. So far as those persons are concerned who hold their lands by warrant and survey, the bill would not materially affect them, and so far as that class of persons in the State are concerned, there ought to be some way of collecting the money due the Commonwealth. But, sir, there is another class of persons in the Commonwealth who are very materially interested in this bill. I have reference to that class of persons—speculators, you may call them—who have resided upon the lands of the Commonwealth for a great many years, and who have cultivated farms, and yet have not a scrap of a title to the lands which they hold. Now, what does this bill propose? It proposes that all persons not having a survey and return made and patent issued before the first day of November next, shall be liable to have a warrant laid upon their farms by any land speculator in Pennsylvania; and I undertake to say that thousands of citizens of this Commonwealth who hold lands without a title will run the risk of having their farms taken away from them by land speculators for a mere song. I do not know whether or this has occurred to Senators or not; it passed here with this feature. I had a conversation with the Surveyor General, and he admitted that the bill was a rash measure. If this bill is not reconsidered, injury may be done to thousands of honest citizens in the Commonwealth.

The bill being again moved to the Senate,

Mr. WALLACE moved to go into committee of the whole for the purpose of general amendment.

The motion was

Agreed to.

In committee of the whole (Mr. SEARIGHT in the chair) the bill was read.

Mr. WALLACE moved to amend by striking out all after the second section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following sections:

Sec. 1. The Surveyor General shall forthwith place in the hands of the county surveyors of each of the counties of this Commonwealth the docket so as aforesaid made for their respective counties, and the said county surveyor is hereby authorized and required to employ a reliable and responsible attorney in said county to collect the balances due the Commonwealth upon lands in said county, whether upon mortgage by reason of warrant and survey, or resulting from actual settlement without application, and suits may forthwith be commenced, sued and prosecuted, for the recovery of such moneys, in the name of the Commonwealth. And when the moneys so as aforesaid sued for shall be received and paid over to the State Treasurer, the Surveyor General shall prepare and deliver the necessary patent, acquittance or paper to vest the title to the premises in accordance with existing laws, and for his services in collecting said moneys without suit, the said attorney shall be entitled to receive from the debtor five per centum on the amount so collected, and ten per centum upon all moneys collected after suit brought: Provided,

That no interest shall be charged upon said lands in the manner in accordance with the provisions of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections of the act of the General Assembly approved April 10, 1835, which are hereby re-enacted; And provided further, That no interest shall be charged upon any land held by actual resident, settlement and improvement, by the person who actually made such improvement, or his lineal descendants or widow: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall, in any event, be construed to deprive the Commonwealth of the lien of said purchase money and interest until the same shall be actually received by the State Treasurer. Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the Surveyor General to satisfy and discharge any mortgages held by the Commonwealth for purchase money upon land sold, upon the production to him of the receipts of the State Treasurer for the payment of the principal moneys secured by such mortgage, at any time within sixty days of the passage of this act.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Chairman, I said when this bill was up before, that I thought the machinery was too cumbersome. I voted against it, not from a personal objection, but because I saw a wrong to be remedied; that wrong was that there are large sums due the Commonwealth which should be collected, and paid into the Treasury. There is as much reason that our laws in relation to land held by survey should be concise and easily understood, as there is that the money due the Commonwealth should be paid. Now, sir, I provide, by the amendment that I offer, that the deputy surveyor shall investigate and ascertain who hold unpatented lands or lands upon which balances are owing, and give the claimants notice, that they will be compelled to pay the balance due the Commonwealth, and that the lien of the Commonwealth shall not be impaired until the money is paid into the treasury; in that way we reach directly the principal object to be attained by this bill. We are not, I trust, seeking to patch up our land system; it is to fill up our depleted treasury. How would a business man do that? He would make out his list of debtors, place the claims in the hands of reliable agents and attorneys to proceed to collect them, and as soon as he received his pay, he would give his receipt. That is what I propose to do. But the machinery of the original bill catches up the poor man, and they will have their hard earnings torn from them. I do not believe you can do what the bill provides for doing, for the Constitution will not permit you to take from a man that which he has obtained by quiet possession and improving the soil, without notice. If the parties pay the money, they are charged but five per centum for the services of the counsel; the money is paid into the treasury, and the patent is issued. If they do not pay, they are sued, then the hardship which the Senator from Monroe [Mr. BURNETT] suggests cannot happen; the Commonwealth will get its money, and the claimant will be protected. In addition to this, I provide that the rate of interest charged shall not exceed that authorized by the act of 1865, and as that is well understood and has been tested, it should be the law in this matter.

I regard the persons holding these lands as meritorious; they are adding to the wealth of the Commonwealth, and we should relieve them, if they come up and pay the balance due. In regard to mortgages outstanding, if you require these parties to come forward within sixty days and pay, then they will do it. I find no fault with the Surveyor General, but I affirm that laws governing land titles should be distinct and easily understood. When you insert in our land laws provisions like those we have re-enacted, you create the hazard of doing rank and gross injustice. I understand the prime object to be to collect the debts due the Commonwealth, and I believe the amendment I have drawn will do this.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Chairman, I have one suggestion to make for the consideration of the Senate. There is a difficulty which the amendment offered by the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE] probably does not exactly and fully meet. Now, there are thousands of acres of land in possession of settlers in this State who have no title, and there is no evidence in the Surveyor General's office of the location of those lands. That is the difficulty which arose before in the framing of the bill. Where the warrant has been issued, and the survey made and returned, of course they have evidence of it in the Surveyor General's office. But where persons have taken possession of land as mere squatters, and lived upon it for a long term of years, there is not a particle of evidence in the Surveyor's office of the location of those lands. To reach that class of cases, under the amendment of the Senator from Clearfield, would require a process of ascertaining their location. It would require a survey of all the lands of that character in the Commonwealth. I simply throw out this suggestion for consideration. Probably the amendment can be altered so that we can get at those lands for which they have no title, and of which they have no evidence in the Surveyor General's office.

Now, the question arises, also, whether that will not entail an enormous expense to have a survey made of all the lands in the Commonwealth in order to ascertain the location and the quantity of land occupied by settlers of which there is no evidence of location. The Surveyor General told me that this was a question that had presented many difficulties to the Department, and that there was no other way to meet that question than by a bill in the shape in which it came before the Senate. But it is a harsh measure, and if it stands without modification, I shall be disposed to vote against it; but I am willing and desire to second the effort of the Senator in order to collect the liens of the Commonwealth upon her lands, and the only question is, which is the best mode of enforcing it?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Chairman, I apprehend the difficulty suggested by the Senator from Monroe [Mr. BURNETT] will not be found to be great in practice. It is true, that if surveys must be made, a large amount of expense would be entailed, but I contemplate nothing of the kind; the deputy surveyor knows all about the lands in his locality.—He can find out by his maps whether tracts in a certain locality are patented or not; if they are, he need not go further; if they are not patented, then the first thing he does is to mark them down not patented, and give the settlers on then notice that they must pay. The settlers know what is coming, and go to work to raise the money.

In order to improve the land of the Commonwealth, our law says that a man, upon paying a certain sum and actually improving the land, shall have it. That man goes on and occupies the ground, in some cases, for fifty years; he has taken no warrant, nor made any application. What is he to do? He wants a title. When he finds the officers of the Commonwealth after him, from whom he has bought the land, he will at once proceed to hant up his title. How? Why, go to work under the law as it exists—swear that he has made improvements and kept them up, and filing his application, require the Surveyor General to issue the warrant. Before he can get a warrant he must pay the Surveyor General the price per acre which the law fixes as its value. In addition to this he has got to pay his fees to the deputy surveyor for return of survey. When having paid the original price, and the fees, the man comes in and pays his ten dollars for the patent fee, and the balance of the purchase money with its interest, from the time from which he had made his improvements, then the surveyor will issue his patent.

Now, says my friend from Monroe [Mr. BURNETT], this difficulty may occur; that the deputy surveyor must make surveys of all these lands. I do not apprehend that this will occur. The man notified has his attention called to the demand of the Commonwealth; before he can get his warrant, he must pay up. The moment you place in the hand of the deputy surveyor the claims of the Commonwealth three out of five of those who owe the Commonwealth will say, I must pay up, or I will lose this land, and he promptly pays.

Suppose others do not promptly pay. The man sits still. What is the surveyor then to do? Why, go and employ counsel, and place the claim of the Commonwealth in his hands. He knows where that man lives, how many acres he claims, and who are his adjoining on every side, and he brings an ejectment, to compel this man to pay the purchase money. If he does not pay, he finds the sheriff after him with a writ of ejectment. If he permits the cause to go to trial, he is ousted from the land and it is re-vested in the Commonwealth. There is no necessity for any survey. Authorize the deputy surveyor to do this, and you will get your money more rapidly than in any other way. It is based upon the same principle upon which skillful business men do their business.

The amendment of Mr. WALLACE was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

The committee rose, and reported the bill as amended.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I never like to undertake to explain anything that I do not understand, but it is impossible for me to comprehend this exactly. My impression is that the amendment offered by the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE] is a revival of the act of 1835. For the purpose of ascertaining as to that matter, I propose to postpone the further consideration of the bill till to-morrow.

The motion was

Agreed to.

BILLS PASSED.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the Committee on the Judiciary General was discharged from the further consideration of a bill entitled An act granting an appeal from the decree of divorce between John Edmunds and Philadelphia S. J. Edmunds.

And the rules having been dispensed with, The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. WALLACE, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled An act securing grants to mine petroleum from forfeiture.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

PUBLIC CALENDAR.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bills on the public calendar, which were disposed of as follows:

House bill No. 365, a supplement to the general election laws of the Commonwealth.

The bill was read,

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the first section? It was

Not agreed to.

So the bill fell.

On motion of Mr. WALLACE, bill entitled An act relating to the law of evidence was made the special order of the day, after the appropriation bill has been disposed of.

House bill No. 856, an act to permit disabled soldiers to peddle without procuring a license therefor.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

House bill No. 377, an act authorizing courts to receive certified copies of military records in evidence.

Laid over to a third reading.

House bill No. 506, an act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several officers of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I think this a very important bill. It is well understood by most Senators that at present it is very difficult for officers to know what fees they are entitled to charge, the matter has been so mixed up. This simplifies the matter. I understand it adds about twenty per centum to the rates previous to 1865, and I think it should be passed.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I know that private legislation would have been asked for had it not been understood that a general law would be passed. This bill has been prepared with care, and I think it is a bill that commends itself to the attention of the Senate.

Mr. COWLES. The bill has been carefully prepared by one of the first prothonotaries of the State, who was occupied for three or four weeks in modifying it, and I think it is entirely unexceptionable. If any Senators object to it, let them strike out their districts. So far as my district is concerned, I want it there.

On the question, Will the Senate proceed to the second reading and consideration of the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

COWLES and Mr. SHOEMAKER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Cowles, Davis, Graham, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, Lowry, Ridgway, Searight, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Connell, Glatz, M'Callister, M'Conaughey, Schall, Stutzman and White—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call,

Mr. SCHALL said: Mr. Speaker, for the reason that we have already extended the general law increasing the fees of officers to twenty per centum I shall vote against this.

In committee of the whole (Mr. GRAHAM in the chair) the first and second sections were read and

Agreed to.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to throw any obstacle in the way of the passage of this bill, if I only had the assurance that its provisions would not apply to Lancaster county. I am sure that very few Senators have examined this carefully.

I claim that on giving it a careful consideration and comparing it with the old fee bill, I am satisfied that this increases the fees more than twenty per centum. I find a number of items where the increase is from twenty to fifty per centum, and some items were one hundred per centum.

The third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh sections were read, and

Agreed to.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I offer the following amendment, to come in at the end of the bill:

"Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the county of Lancaster."

We have, to some extent, special laws there, and our county officers pay very well now. They are worth a fortune to any man who occupies them. I hope the provisions of this bill will not be forced upon our county against the will of the people. They have had this bill before them and examined it carefully, and they are all opposed to it, as far as I have heard, and I am sure that it will not meet with their approbation.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I would vote for the proposition of the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT] if I believed this bill would really increase the fees. I am assured, however, by the member from Potter [Mr. MANS], who was mainly instrumental in framing the bill, that its provisions would make the fees about what they are at present—that is, about twenty per centum over the old fee bill; besides, it simplifies the old fees. The Senator will remember that under the old fee bill the fractional system is used; this bill does away with that, and reduces it down to the decimal basis. It increases the fees about twenty per centum; possibly a very little more.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I find that the representations of the Senator from Mercer [Mr. Brown] are in the main correct. The Senate may not be familiar with the fact, but last year we passed an act extending the act passed the previous year, increasing fees of officers in nearly all the counties twenty per centum, that extended to all the counties except Lancaster, Erie and Crawford. We extended that act again this year. It is well now to have a permanent change, so as to adapt the fees as much as possible to the currency; it is difficult to make a calculation on the fractional system of six and three-fourths cents, etc.; hence, I approve the general feature of this bill. The increase is, on the average, about twenty per centum. I think it advisable to make a change in the justices' fees, as I find the constables' fees changed in this bill. I trust the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT] will not insist upon his proviso, and that we will make the act harmonious.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, we have extended the act of 1864 which increases the fees twenty per centum for another year; now, why should we go to work before that expires, and increase it again? As to the reduction of fractions to decimals, I would merely inquire, in increasing the thirty-seven and a-half cent fees to fifty cents, why not stop at forty cents? Where the items are increased to twenty-five cents, from twelve and a-half, why not stop at fifteen? Why increase seventy-five cent fees to one dollar? Where the items were thirty-seven and a-half cents before, it increases them to fifty cents. The majority of the fees are now reduced to decimals. You will find it increases the fees considerably over twenty per centum. I find, on comparing this with the old bill, that the increase is from forty to fifty per centum.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire if it would be in order to amend the amendment of the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT]? If so, I wish to except the county of Beaver, and for this reason: We have in that county a special law regarding the fees of county officers. I have not had time to examine and compare this bill with the old law, and am not prepared to say whether it increases or decreases the fees.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, in our county we have ten times as many applicants for these offices as we can accommodate, and the pay is so large that our officers can make a fortune during a single term. If you pass this bill, and insist that Lancaster shall not be exempted from its provisions, it will increase their pay at least one-third more.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, the greatest misfortune in Pennsylvania legislation is the special legislation now asked for by the Senator from Lancaster and Beaver. That is wanted in Pennsylvania, above all things, is uniformity in our legislation. The Senator, who desires to do favors to county officers at home, comes in here and makes special legislation, and the uniformity of our system is greatly marred. Now, sir, I trust that Senators here will be willing to forego any feeling of this kind, and go in for a general law applicable to all the counties in the Commonwealth. If this bill makes the fees too high, cut them down, but let it be uniform, and let it apply with equal justice and force to all. If it is good for one county it should be good for another; if bad for one it should be voted down.

Mr. GLATZ. Mr. Speaker, we have already passed a bill which increases fees twenty per centum, and I certainly see no reason why we should pass this. I merely rise to ask that the county of York be excepted.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. Mr. Speaker, I will say in reply to the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] that the county of Lancaster does not ask for special legislation in regard to the fees of our county officers. We do not ask legislation upon the subject; other counties, it seems, do so, and if they choose to have it, I have no objection. I merely say, do not force this upon Lancaster county, because they do not want it. This application does not come from the people; it is got up by the officers themselves, asking an increase, and it is at the same time treating the Treasurer of this Commonwealth unfairly, who is only to receive fifty per centum on all fees received over two thousand five hundred dollars, whilst the old law fixes the amount at seventy-five thousand dollars.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). The Senator is mistaken about that matter. Under the operations before the act of 1865, it was fifteen hundred dollars; as the law now stands, it is eighteen hundred dollars.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. This is to be a permanent increase. The act of 1864 will expire by limitation in a year hence.

Mr. BROWN (Lawrence). Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of the bill in general. I know that it has been prepared with great care. I think it is proper. We have added twenty per centum to the former fee bill.

Fees in fractional sums are exceedingly inconvenient; it is proposed in this bill to establish a new table of fees. I am in favor of the bill; but the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. BILLINGFELT] is not right in asking to have his county excepted, and for this reason: The county of Lancaster is a very large county. The county of Lawrence, which I represent, contains twenty-five thousand inhabitants, and the county of Lancaster contains one hundred and twenty thousand. In the nature of the case, the officers in Lancaster will make much more than in the county which I represent, and the same remark is true, to a certain degree, in each of the other counties which I represent here. It seems to me, therefore, that in order to make the fees of these officers as uniform as possible, we should allow the county of Lancaster to be exempted from the operations of this bill. But I wish the counties of my district to come under the operations of this bill; and I would state to the Senator from Beaver [Mr. TAYLOR], that I think his county should be included, because our counties are in a different position from that represented by the Senator from Lancaster.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I trust the proviso of my colleague will be voted down. I do not see why Lancaster should be left out in the cold.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which the lawyers' fees were cut down to three dollars. If you are going to raise the fees of officers, why make lawyers the exception?

The motion was

Not agreed to.

Mr. CONNELL moved to amend by adding a provision that the operations of this bill shall not apply to the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. LANBON. Mr. Speaker, I hope the Senator will give some good reason. It is a singular circumstance that we pass a great many laws here in which Philadelphia is excepted. Now, sir, we propose to pass a general fee bill, to regulate the whole Commonwealth. If Philadelphia is to be excepted, what good reason for it?

Mr. CONNELL. If this bill will to reduce the fees, I would not object; but I am told it will increase them twenty per centum. Our officers are making twenty-five thousand to fifty thousand dollars now.

Mr. LANBON. Very well, sir; if it will reduce the income of those officers, all right. Mr. M'CANDESS. I do not think it will increase their fees, for, under the section, there is to be a return of the amount of fees.

In Philadelphia, as stated by my colleague [Mr. CONNELL], the fees are immense, and one term of the sheriff is worth eighty thousand to one hundred thousand dollars; a portion of a court, fifty thousand to sixty thousand dollars; I would favor turning over these fees to the Commonwealth, and paying a salary, but that is impossible at present. A portion of this excess goes into the Treasury.

Mr. CONNELL. I do not find any such returns in the Auditor General's report.

The amendment of Mr. CONNELL was

Agreed to.

The remaining sections were

Agreed to.

The committee rose and reported the bill with amendments.

CHANGE OF VENUE FROM THE COUNTIES OF MONROE AND CARBON TO THE COUNTY OF DAUPHIN.

Mr. COWLES moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of a bill entitled An act to change the venue in the case of Alexander Gould, Wm. Ackerson and Henry Meeker, from the counties of Monroe and Carbon to the county of Dauphin.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURNETT and Mr. COWLES, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingtelt, Brown (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wall, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—23.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Donovan, Glatz, James, Seargent and Wallace—6.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill was read.

Mr. BURNETT moved to amend by striking out the word "Dauphin," wherever it occurred, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Lehigh."

Mr. SCHALL. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire this to be changed to Lehigh county. I do not think Lehigh county can be benefited by it; it had better go to some distant county.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURNETT and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Donovan, Glatz, James, M'Canless, Seargent and Wallace—7.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingtelt, Brown (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Shoemaker, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

During the call,

Mr. COLEMAN said: Mr. Speaker, I am in favor of the change of venue, but I insist that Lehigh county is rather too near. I would prefer that it should not go into the county I represent. Therefore, I vote "no."

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, I move to strike out "Dauphin" and insert "Northampton." There are three defendants, I believe; a trial has been had in the county of Carbon. It took one week to try one case, at an expense to Carbon county of two thousand four hundred dollars. Now, the alleged offense was committed in the county of Carbon; the death occurred in the county of Monroe, just over the line; and, therefore, it ousted the oyer and terminer of Carbon county of jurisdiction and gives the oyer and terminer of Monroe jurisdiction. Now, if we have to bear the expense of these trials, let us have them in such a court as may entail the least expense upon any county. This assessor of prejudice there, is unfounded in my opinion. There is some feeling against the defendants in the extreme western portion of Monroe, where this girl was reared and died, but that feeling does not extend over more than two townships in that county. In the central and eastern portions there is no feeling upon the subject at all. Now, I desire, if the bill is to pass, to carry the case to Lehigh or Northampton. There can be no prejudice in the county of Northampton in reference to this case. If it is tried in the Dauphin courts, it will entail an expense on my county of not less than ten thousand dollars. Now, I ask Senators, if the venue is to be changed, to change it to the court that will entail the least amount of costs on my county.

Mr. DAVIS. I am in favor of this change of venue from Monroe; I think it necessary. I shall vote for the last amendment proposed by the Senator from Monroe [Mr. BURNETT]. I received a letter to-day from the counsel of the defendants, in which he states that they will be satisfied with either the counties of Lohig, Northampton, or Berk.

The amendment of Mr. BURNETT was

Agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BURNETT and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billington, Brown (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Graham, Haines, Jackson, Lowry, McConahy, Eideyay, Royer, Schall, Shoemaker, Stutzman, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Donovan, Glatz, James, Landon, M'Cauley, Randall, Seagriff and Wallace—9.

So the bill

Passed finally.

During the call,

Mr. BURNETT said: Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to say, before casting my vote upon this bill, that this idea of changing venues has been carried to such an extent as to become a public nuisance. It is not only being applied to criminal, but to civil cases; and you have passed more bills of this kind this session, and changed more venues than you have for fifteen years before. Now, if these parties come here with a fair case, and show to the satisfaction of this Senate that these defendants could not have a fair and impartial trial in the county of Monroe, I would readily accede to the passage of this bill, and vote for it. But I pretend to know something about the public sentiment of my own county upon this question. I have made it my business to ascertain the public sentiment there upon the subject, and I am informed by gentlemen of high respectability that there is no prejudice in the county, except in the extreme western portion of it, where this girl was born and died, and that among her immediate relatives and friends. Now, the defendants, in addition to their challenges for cause, have twenty peremptory challenges, and in the exercise of all the powers with which the law arms them, it is impossible to impanel a jury in the county of Monroe, in which they could not excite every feeling of prejudice or bias. Why, sir, in the county of Carbon, where one case was tried, they only exhausted ten of their peremptory challenges, and I believe, if the case was tried in my county, they would not exhaust the peremptory challenges which they are entitled to. And I declare that the allegation that there is a prejudice in my county which would deprive them of a fair trial is without foundation in fact. Why did they lay on their oars until this late day in the session, before making any application? Then I could have had affidavits here from responsible citizens to show that my allegations were true. I oppose it because it will entail upon my county a large amount of costs unnecessarily and I trust Senators will not pass this bill over my head, and entail a heavy bill of cost upon my county, since there is no earthly necessity for it. There is no man upon the floor of this Senate who has a higher regard for a fair and impartial trial by jury, surrounded by all the safeguards which the Constitution and laws of the State throw around the prisoner, than myself. And I profess to know the condition of public sentiment upon this question; and I say to Senators that prejudice does not exist, and if you pass this bill, and change the venue, it will add a large amount of unnecessary cost to my county. I vote "no."

On motion,

The Senate then adjourned until 10 o'clock, to-morrow morning.

LAND BILL.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of a bill entitled An act directing the entry of liens for moneys due the Commonwealth on lands held by virtue of location or other office titles, requiring the survey of lands not heretofore surveyed and returned to the Surveyor General's office, and payment to be made for the same, and regulating the fees in the office of the Surveyor General.

The pending question was upon the adoption of the report of the committee of the whole.

Mr. WHITE. The report of the committee embraces, I believe, the amendments of the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE]. I confess that I have not had time to give this proposition the careful examination to which it is entitled. I have, however, referred the matter to the Surveyor General for examination, and so far as he is concerned, he entirely disapproves of the amendment of the gentleman rather than that it should be passed. He would prefer that no bill should be passed. The amendment in effect repeals the law of 1864, under which these liens are now being made out, and will ultimately be forwarded to the different counties. Without going into details, I may say that the amendment, as I am informed, revives the act of 1836, known at the Land Office as the graduating act; and in the second section the amendment provides that these claims shall only be sent to the different counties when the land is held by the original settler or his lineal descendant.

Mr. WALLACE. The gentleman is mistaken.

Mr. WHITE. I am informed by the Surveyor General that such is specifically the effect of the amendment of the Senator from Clearfield to the second section. I hold in my hand the graduating act of 1836, which the amendment proposes to revive. Without going into details, which at this late period of the session time will not allow, I will simply say that this act would require the Surveyor General to do what would be an impossibility. It provides that where the land is held by the original settler, or his lineal descendant, no interest whatever is to be charged; the list of liens for transmission is to be made out accordingly, without any interest whatever. Where, however, the land is in the hands of another party, the grantee of the original settler, interest is to be charged. In this respect, that act requires the Surveyor General to do what is practically an impossibility, and of course, in this respect, the amendment of the Senator from Clearfield, proposing to revive that act, is objectionable.

The last section of the amendment is also objectionable. In respect to mortgages given under the act of 1836 for the balance of the purchase money (which mortgages of course bear interest, and should bear interest, because they are debts legitimately due from the landholders of the Commonwealth), the amendment provides that where the mortgagor or owner of the land against which the mortgage is a lien produces the receipt of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Surveyor General shall extinguish the mortgage, or in effect shall enter satisfaction upon it. This, I apprehend, is unfair to the Commonwealth. It is simply a proposition to rescind a solemn contract which has been made between the landholder and the Commonwealth, a contract which has been uniformly recognized throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth.

Again, sir, it has been said by the Senator from Clearfield, that the effect of this bill, without his amendment, will be to make the poor land owner pay up immediately or subject his land to the grasp of the land speculator. Why, sir, as I can conceive, its effect will be precisely the opposite. The amendment of the Senator proposes to require that a list of these liens shall be made out, and sent to the Surveyor of the County, and by him placed in the hands of an attorney, who has no responsibility whatever to the State government, thus taking the collection of these claims out of the hands of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth and placing it in the hands of irresponsible parties located in the counties where the land may be.

Again, it said that it is unfair to inaugurate this harsh system against the poor man who has improved his land, and who has his all staked in it; that we should show some leniency. Why, sir, this bill does show leniency. It proposes to give an opportunity for the redemption of the land. Furthermore, every landholder in the Commonwealth is interested in having these revenues put into the coffers of the Commonwealth, because thereby the debt of the State is diminished, and the probability of his possessions being held responsible in taxes is decreased. We are all interested in the diminution of the public debt, because thereby we are, to a corresponding extent, relieved of the burdens of taxation. Hence, the proposition of the Senator from Clearfield, instead of being in favor of that poor landowner, actually makes against him.

I have only briefly indicated some of the objections to the amendment. I trust the Senate will refuse to adopt the report of the committee of the whole, and will pass the bill as it came from the hands of the Surveyor General, by whom it was carefully prepared.

Mr. LOWRY. I move that the further consideration of this subject be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say a few words on this subject in reply to what has been said by the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. WATRE]. I had no particular desire in regard to this bill other than to effect a remedy for a mischief which we all admit to exist. Debts are due to the Commonwealth by citizens of the Commonwealth. We have endeavored to collect those debts. To effect this end, I proposed that we should take the direct and efficient means usually employed by business men in conducting their own affairs. The Surveyor General and the Senator from Indiana object to the adoption of this mode. As to minor details in the amendment submitted by myself, I was not tenacious. I so said when I offered the amendment, and I repeat it. But I did affirm that it was due to those who had settled upon the lands of the Commonwealth that they should have time to pay their money; that those who had gone upon the land and made the wilderness to blossom, should not be charged with interest; that the act of 1836, with which the legal profession and the citizens of the Commonwealth generally are acquainted, should be continued as the law; that we should have no serious and important changes in regard to this matter, but that we should distinctly indicate what is the general land law of the Commonwealth.

These were my views upon the subject. They are unchanged. I regret to see the Senator come into the Senate this morning, and say that he will take the bill of the Surveyor General, or he will take nothing. I do not believe that it is the temper of the Senate to accept any such bill. I believe that its effect will be to postpone indefinitely the collection of these debts, withholding from the treasury of the Commonwealth a large amount of money, which, under proper legislation, might go there promptly.

The argument in favor of placing the collection of these claims in the hands of the Attorney General amounts to nothing. By the act of 1864, that officer is empowered to attend to this business. During the two years that act has been in force, why has he not done something? Up to the present time, not one dollar has been collected by virtue of the act of 1864. There is every reason to believe that that act will continue to be a dead letter. Hence I say that some other remedy should be adopted by this Legislature. The process to which the Commonwealth ought to resort in collecting its debts is nothing less than the simple direct business-like means adopted by business men in collecting their debts. This bill proposes a circuitous mode of action which the common people cannot understand, and which will only throw difficulties in the way of replenishing our depleted treasury.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, from the difference of opinion which exists on this subject, it is very manifest that this long bill, embracing so many matters of detail, cannot pass both branches of the Legislature at this late stage of the session. Some efficient legislation upon this subject should be adopted; but rather than a mistake should be made, it is better that nothing should be done at this session. For the purpose of disposing of this question so that we may proceed to other business, I will move that the subject be referred to a committee consisting of three members of the Senate, who, in conjunction with the Surveyor General, shall report a bill to the next Legislature.

Mr. WALLACE. I have no objection whatever to the motion of the Senator from Indiana. I do not, however, wish the responsibility of the failure of this measure to rest upon me. I believe that the proposition which I submitted as a substitute for the proposition of the Surveyor General and of the Senator from Indiana would have been an efficient measure. I agree that this bill shall go over till next session, disclaiming all responsibility as to whether the treasury is to be replenished as it should be from this source.

Mr. WHITE. With the Senator from Clearfield, I do not wish the responsibility in this matter to rest upon me. But it is our duty as legislators to act cautiously and carefully on this subject, so that exact justice may be done between the Commonwealth and the landowner.

Mr. FISHER. I am perfectly willing to take the responsibility of the defeat of this measure. I think it is an infamous measure and ought to be defeated.

The SPEAKER pro tempore [Mr. WORKINGTON]. A motion to refer the bill is not in order while the motion of the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] to postpone indefinitely is pending.

Mr. LOWRY. I withdraw that motion.

Mr. WHITE. I now move that the bill and pending amendment be referred to a committee of three members of this body, who, in conjunction with the surveyor General, shall report upon this subject by bill to the next Legislature.

The motion was

Agreed to.

GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the Senate resolved itself into the committee of the whole (Mr. WALLACE in the chair), and proceeded to the consideration of House bill No. 828, entitled An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, and other general and specific appropriations.

The first section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter named, for the year commencing on the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The second section was read as follows: Sec. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the Commonwealth, five thousand dollars for the year commencing June first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and the further sum of four hundred dollars, for the proportion of the year prior to June first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

For the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, three thousand five hundred dollars for the year commencing June first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and the further sum of six hundred dollars for the proportion of the year prior to June first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

For the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, two thousand dollars, to be computed from June first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the Auditor General, two thousand dollars, and a further sum of three hundred dollars, out of the surplus fund in the treasury on the thirteenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, from receipts under the free banking system, after paying expenses thereof, for his services in connection with said system.

For the salary of the Surveyor General, one thousand six hundred dollars, and for the present Surveyor General, the further sum of five hundred dollars, for his services in the sale of the agricultural college land scrip, under an act of April eleven, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the Attorney General, three thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Adjutant General, three thousand dollars, in full for all services as Adjutant General and member of the board of claims.

For the salary of the State Treasurer, one thousand seven hundred dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Common Schools, two thousand five hundred dollars.

For the salary of the State Librarian, one thousand dollars.

For the salary of the Superintendent of Public Printing, eight hundred dollars, and for office rent, ninety dollars, or so much thereof as may be expended therefor.

Mr. BIGHAM. I move to amend by striking out "two" in the sixteenth line, and inserting in lieu thereof "three," so as to make the salary of the Auditor General three thousand dollars.

I do not know, sir, that I shall propose to increase another item in this bill; but any one who realizes the condition of this Commonwealth understands that the position of Auditor General is now the responsible position of the Commonwealth. For every dollar of our revenue the responsibility devolves on that officer. It is a crying shame that we should expect the duties of that office to be discharged for less than we pay the heads of many other departments. The present incumbent is from a distant part of the State, and has served gallantly as a soldier. I think this Legislature will do him but a mere justice in allowing him a salary of three thousand dollars.

Mr. LOWRY. I will vote for the gentleman who has named it if he will consent to strike out the provision for "a further sum of three hundred dollars." I do not like to see such a provision in any part of this bill. I wish we could get our committee to report a bill embracing single and specific sums as appropriations for salaries, without any provision for "further sums," so that we might see at a glance what we pay each officer.

Mr. BIGHAM. I am willing to accept the suggestion of the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY], and add as a part of my amendment a proposition to strike out these words, "and a further sum of three hundred dollars out of the surplus fund in the treasury on the thirteenth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, from receipts under the free banking system, after paying expenses thereof, for his services in connection with said system."

The free banking system of the State is about "played out" at any rate.

Mr. SEARIGHT. I wish to make merely a single remark. The Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM], a few years ago, announced in the Senate, with a flourish of trumpets, that he intended to reduce the appropriations in this bill one million dollars. An now, the very first motion he makes is for an increase of salary. If he keeps on in this direction, he will increase the aggregate of appropriations one million dollars, instead of reducing it. I am not opposed to the proposition of the Senator; I wish merely to remind him of the boast he made a few days ago.

Mr. BIGHAM. By the time we get through with this bill, the Senate will be able to judge whether or not I am consistent.

The amendment of Mr. BIGHAM as modified, was

Agreed to.

Mr. HALL. I move to amend by inserting after the word "thousand," in the twenty-fifth line, the words "five hundred," so as to make the salary of the Attorney General three thousand five hundred dollars.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

Mr. CONNELL. I move to amend by striking out, in the twenty-first line, the words "one thousand six hundred," and inserting in lieu thereof "two thousand," so as to make the salary of the Surveyor General two thousand dollars.

The amendment was

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

The third section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 3. For the salary of the private Secretary of the Governor, two thousand dollars, and for the salary of a temporary clerk, at the rate of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month, so long as employed by the Governor.

For messenger in the executive department, eight hundred dollars.

For postage, telegrams, stationery and other incidental expenses, the sum of seven hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

The fourth section was read as follows:

Sec. 4. For the salary of the chief clerk in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, one thousand six hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the fifteenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

For the salary of the military clerk, one thousand two hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the commission clerk, one thousand two hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the first transcribing clerk, one thousand two hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the second transcribing clerk, twelve hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the third transcribing clerk, twelve hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of two additional clerks, each the sum of two hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars each, to be computed from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

This further sum of two hundred dollars, in the section appropriated to each of the several clerks in the State Department, shall be apportioned between the retiring and present clerk, and paid to each, according to the time of their respective service during the year.

For the salary of the messenger in the State Department, nine hundred dollars.

For postage, telegrams, freight and express charges in the State Department, fifteen hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For blank books, one hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For stationery, nine hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For fuel and lights, one hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For cleaning of offices, one hundred and twenty-five dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For miscellaneous expenses, three hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

MR. FISHER. I move to amend by striking out "nine hundred" in the twenty-eighth line, and inserting "one thousand."

MR. CONNELL. These messengers in the different departments, nine in all, appeared before us asking an increase of salary; and we have raised their pay from eight hundred to nine hundred dollars. I have seen three or four of them since, and they expressed their satisfaction with the increase. If we raise still further the salary of this one, we shall have to do the same thing for all the others.

MR. FISHER. I think the messengers in the departments here ought to be paid better. They have heretofore received eight hundred dollars a year. We now propose to give them nine hundred dollars, which is about as much as the officers around the two Houses receive for three months' services. These messengers in the departments are here the whole year, and considering the expenses of living, I think one thousand dollars is little enough to pay them.

The amendment was

Sec. 18. For the payment of the salaries of the judges of the district court, and the judges of the court of common pleas, of the city of Philadelphia, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, or five thousand dollars to each judge for the present year.

The nineteenth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 19. For the payment of the judges of the district court and the president and assistant law judges of the court of common pleas of the county of Allegheny, twenty-five thousand dollars, or five thousand dollars to each one of the law judges for the present year.

For the payment of the president judge of the Twelfth Judicial district, in consideration of the increased labor in trying the Commonwealth civil cases in the county of Dauphin, the sum of thirty-eight hundred dollars a year, and his salary to be computed at that rate from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, in full of all claims for arrears.

The twentieth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 20. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the president, additional and associate law judges of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth, except in the city of Philadelphia, the county of Allegheny and the Twelfth Judicial district, the sum of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary; each president and law judge to receive three thousand five hundred dollars salary during the present year.

The twenty-first section was read, as follows:

Sec. 21. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the courts of this Commonwealth, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, each associate judge to receive in lieu of the salary now allowed by law, eight dollars per day, for every day, not exceeding fifty, he may be employed in the discharge of his official duties, and for every such day, in excess of fifty, the sum of three dollars: Provided, That the salary of no associate judge shall be less than three hundred dollars, and the pay of the associate judges shall hereafter be as is herein provided.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I move to amend by striking out "eight" in the fourth line, and inserting "five."

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

The section was

Agreed to.

The twenty-second section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 22. For the payment of the interest on the funded debt of the Commonwealth, which will fall due on the first days of July and August, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the first days of January and February, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred sixty-seven, the sum of one million eight hundred and six thousand one hundred and thirty-four dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

The twenty-third section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 23. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, thirty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary on settlement of the account of the public printer according to law.

The twenty-fourth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 24. For the payment of the expenses of the Legislature, including the mileage of members, clerks and officers of each House, appointed for this session, and the amount authorized by law for stationery, et cetera, the sum of two hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be settled by the Auditor General according to law; and that each member shall receive three hundred dollars, and the chief, assistant and transcribing clerks of the House of Representatives, and the Senate, shall receive two hundred and fifty dollars in addition to their present salary.

The twenty-fifth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 25. For the payment of the commission appointed to inquire into the alleged insanity of Newton Champion, one hundred and seventy-five dollars, to be paid on the warrant of the Governor.

The twenty-sixth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 26. For packing and distributing the laws and journals of the Legislature, to be performed under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, thirteen hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary; and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall hereafter charge one dollar per volume for the pamphlet laws.

The twenty-seventh section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 27. For the payment to the city of Harrisburg, for supplying the public buildings with water according to the act of April twenty-eight, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty, the sum of six hundred dollars; and also for gas, for the public buildings and walks, such amount as may be found due the Harrisburg gas company, on the contract with the company; and upon a regular account being rendered to the Auditor General, who is hereby authorized to examine and settle the same, in the same mode and manner as other accounts are settled in said department, in pursuance of his charter and supplement, to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General.

The twenty-eighth section was read as follows:

Sec. 28. For the superintendent and watchman of the public buildings and grounds, the sum of three dollars and fifty cents per day, during the period of his appointment, and also for three assistant watchmen, the sum of nine hundred dollars each, to be computed from June fifteenth last past, to be paid monthly, and for the necessary repairs to the public buildings and grounds, wages of laborers employed on the same, four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be expended by the superintendent, the accounts to be settled by the Auditor General in the usual manner; and that the clerks of the two Houses be, and they are hereby, authorized to have a new slate and tin roof placed on the capitol at a rate not exceeding three thousand dollars, and to make all necessary repairs to the capitol building, except the new library rooms, the amounts to be settled in the usual manner by the Auditor General, and paid upon the joint order of said clerks: Provided, That the sum expended by the said clerks, for such repairs, shall not exceed four thousand dollars.

To C. A. Boas, for winding and oiling the clock on the capitol for one year, ending January first; one thousand eight hundred sixty-seven; and for repairing the same, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, to be paid on account certified by the clerks of the two Houses.

Mr. COLEMAN. I desire to inquire why the appropriation for the public grounds has been cut down so largely.

Mr. CONNELL. The committee could not see what was to be done with the money. There was no statement before us. One member of the committee, the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. GRAHAM], said that he would be willing to do this work for two thousand dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. It seems to me that the appropriation proposed here is much less than the appropriation made heretofore.

Mr. GRAHAM. The Superintendent of the Public Grounds asked, I believe, for an appropriation of about eight thousand dollars.

Mr. CONNELL. Eight thousand dollars. Mr. GRAHAM. The work to be done with this appropriation was the repairing of some gutting, the keeping of the grass in order, and regravelling some of the walks. Several members of the committee, myself among the number, were of the opinion that with an appropriation of a couple of thousands of dollars a good working man would be able to do all this work, and make money out of the job.

We thought we were dealing very liberally with the Superintendent of the Public Grounds in appropriating four thousand dollars.

Mr. RIDGWAY. The Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] says that this appropriation is much less than the amounts appropriated heretofore. I think it is time that the appropriations should be less than they have been.

Mr. COLEMAN. I agree with the gentleman.

Mr. RIDGWAY. We have been squandering money on this bill, not only upon the public grounds, but upon the public buildings. I think we ought to begin to economize.

The section was

Agreed to.

The twenty-ninth section was read as follows:

Sec. 29. For George Berger, fifteen dollars per page for the Legislative Record, published during the present session of the Legislature, as per contract, the amount to be certified by the Superintendent of Public Printing; and upon such certificate the State Treasurer shall pay the same; and for resetting the type of seven numbers printed before the increase of the number of copies now printed, twenty-five dollars for each number; and for making an index to the Legislative Record, the further sum of two hundred dollars is appropriated to the publisher of the Record: Provided, That the making of the index does not detain the forwarding of the bound copies more than four weeks after the adjournment of the Legislature.

Mr. DONOVAN. I desire to ask the chairman of the Committee on Finance what price was paid last year for publishing the Record?

Mr. CONNELL. The rate per page is increased, because the publisher furnishes twice as many copies as he formerly did. Last year each member received seventeen copies, while, under the new arrangement, each member receives, I believe, thirty-five copies. Last year we paid eleven dollars per page, when only seventeen copies were furnished to each member.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). I desire to say that the difference in the price per page is caused by the extra expense of paper for the additional copies furnished. As a member of the committee appointed to contract for the publication of the Record, I examined the subject carefully, and I am satisfied that this matter is right.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, this section refers to the contract between the Legislature and Mr. Bergner in regard to the publication of the Record. I understand that that contract was made for three years.

Mr. Speaker, I move to amend by inserting after the word "contract" the words, "which said contract shall not be binding beyond the expiration of the present year." I desire to repeal this contract so as to make it operative only during the present year.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). It seems to me the amendment is unnecessary. We make a new contract every year. That is the way we have been doing.

Mr. SEARIGHT. The contract now existing runs, I understand, for three years. I desire to repeal the contract so far as it extends beyond the year, so that we shall go on in the usual way making a contract every year.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Fayette [Mr. SEARIGHT] that it is scarcely germane, as the bill now stands, to insert a provision repealing a contract.

Mr. SEARIGHT. There is such a provision in another portion of the bill.

Mr. CONNELL. That was to repeal an act, not a contract. I hope the amendment will not be adopted.

Mr. FISHER. I trust this Legislature will not endeavor to tie up the hands of any future Legislature on this subject. I do not think we have power to do it. I think we have only power to contract as we go along, not to enter into a contract for a subsequent Legislature.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). It strikes me we had better let this matter alone, and let the next Legislature, if they see fit, repeal the contract.

Mr. DONOVAN. We have no power to make a contract for the next Legislature.

Mr. CONNELL. The contract with the public printer is given out for five years at a time.

Mr. SEARIGHT. If the next Legislature can make a better bargain, we ought to leave them at liberty to do it. We owe this to ourselves and those we represent. If my amendment be adopted, then, should there be an opportunity to make a better contract next year, we can do so.

Mr. MCCONAUGHY. I call the attention of Senators to the language of the section:

For the Legislative Record published during the present session of the Legislature, as per contract.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Still that does not affect the contract which has already been made, and which by its terms runs for three years.

Mr. CONNELL. I want to state the reason why this contract should be given for a term of years. No man will engage the necessary force to be here at the opening of the session, unless he is sure he is going to have the work. No man will incur this large expense with the possibility that he may not obtain the contract. We must give some guarantee of this kind in order to have a Record at the opening of the session. We cannot have any reports at the opening of a new session, unless we make a contract in advance.

Mr. BIGHAM. I do not know what this contract is, or what it purports to be. When the section comes up on second reading, we shall have fuller information, and can act more intelligently.

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

ORDERING EXTRA SESSIONS.

Mr. CONNELL. I move that there be a session of the Senate this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, and this evening, commencing at 7½ o'clock.

The motion was

Agreed to.

The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the Senate until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate reassembled at 3 o'clock, P. M.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bills numbered and entitled as follows, viz :

Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary Local.

No. 1764, an act to prohibit political processions after dark ten days next preceding any general election in the city of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary Local.

Also, returned bill from the Senate numbered and entitled as follows, viz :

No. 1544, a supplement to the act entitled A supplement to the act incorporating the Howard coal and iron company, approved the 18th day of August, 1864, which became a law on the 30th day of January, A. D. 1866, extending the time for the enrollment tax on said act.

With information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

Agreably to order,

The Senate again resolved itself into committee of the whole (Mr. WALLACE in the chair) on House bill No. 828, entitled An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, and other general and specific appropriations.

Mr. HALL. I move to reconsider the vote by which the eleventh section was adopted.

The motion to reconsider was

Agreed to.

Mr. HALL. I move to amend this section by restoring it to the form in which it came from the House of Representatives, except that I desire the appropriation still to remain ten thousand dollars instead of twenty-five thousand dollars.

The question is as to the time when this transportation department shall be abolished. The House proposed that it should cease the first day of next December. The Senate Committee on Finance amended the section by substituting June for December. I am informed on reliable authority, that the expense to the Commonwealth would not be decreased by having this earlier date. I therefore desire to modify the section, so as to fix the time at which the Governor and Chief of Transportation think they can close up the business of the department.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

Mr. FISHER. I move to reconsider the vote by which the fifth section was adopted.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. FISHER. I move to amend by striking out "one," where it occurs the second time in the eleventh line, and inserting, in lieu thereof, the word "two," so that the paragraph will read as follows:

For the salary of the clerk in the department for settling accounts of county treasurers, prothonotaries, registers, recorders, clerks of the courts, et cetera, one thousand three hundred dollars, and the further sum of two hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

I desire to place this clerk on the same footing as other clerks.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

Mr. LOWRY. I move to reconsider the vote by which the second section was adopted.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. LOWRY. I move to amend so as to make the salary of the Deputy Secretary of the State two thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, instead of two thousand dollars. The Secretary of the Commonwealth now receives three thousand five hundred dollars, and I think this increase of the salary of the Deputy Secretary ought to be made.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was Adopted.

Mr. CONNELL. I move to reconsider the vote by which the forty-first section was adopted.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. CONNELL. I move to amend the section by adding the following:

And to William Styer, for services in the room of the Speaker of the Senate, two hundred and fifty dollars.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was Adopted.

Mr. COLEMAN. I move to reconsider the vote by which the twenty-eighth section was adopted.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. COLEMAN. I move to amend the section so as to appropriate six thousand dollars instead of four thousand dollars, for repairs of the public buildings and grounds. I have been talking with parties well informed in reference to this matter, and I understand that six thousand dollars is necessary for this purpose.

These public grounds and buildings have suffered very much and need considerable repairs. I acknowledge that the present superintendent is obliged to bear the burden of the shortcomings of his predecessors. The buildings have been allowed to run down very badly. All the expenditures for these repairs must pass under the inspection of the Auditor General; and this furnishes an assurance that the money will be properly used. I have spoken to a number of the Committee on Finance on this subject, and I believe they admit that six thousand dollars is only a fair allowance for the work that needs to be done.

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

The section was

Agreed to.

Mr. LANDON. I move to reconsider the vote by which the thirteenth section was adopted.

The motion was

Agreed to.

Mr. LANDON. I move to amend by inserting after the thirty-second line the following:

And all acts or parts of acts requiring the School Department to publish their decisions and reports in any particular journal are hereby repealed.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

Mr. FISHER. I desire to move an amendment to this section. But before doing so, I will ask the Clerk to read a statement from Mr. Barrows, the publisher of the School Journal.

The Clerk read as follows:

1. The Pennsylvania School Journal has been published since 1852—some years at a loss, and some at a small excess of receipts over cost. Including the State subscription, it would not average over three hundred dollars a year to the editor for his labor since its establishment.

2. During the rebellion, it was almost the only State school journal that did not increase the price of its subscription, remaining throughout at one dollar a year, and thereby bearing its expenses.

3. It has latterly been much improved, and promises, if undisturbed, to be of greater use than ever to the school system, and more remunerative to its editor.

4. An examination of the accounts for public printing, previous to the employment of the Journal in its present official capacity, will show that the management has decreased the expenses of the School Department.

5. The amount asked in the appropriation bill for the publication of the official matter of the School Department, by some other means (two thousand dollars), is more than that this year paid to the Journal (one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five dollars), or that will be required next year.

6. The editor is willing to leave the entire control of the official department of the Journal to the Superintendent of Common Schools, without interference by himself and without limit, within reasonable bounds, as to space occupied; the space having heretofore generally varied from two to seven pages of small type matter monthly, when the law was complied with.

7. Outside of the official matter, the editor claims the control of his own columns; but he offers, as guarantee that they shall be only used for the good of the system, his nearly thirty-three years of service. The official acts of the State Superintendent shall be, at the time of their announcement, either sustained and approved, if they justify approval, or accepted in silence till the end of the year or the term, when they, as results set forth in annual reports, shall be commented on with the plainness of truth and in the spirit of a freeman. Superintendents Russell, Haines, Black, Hughes, Curtis, Hickok and Coburn, were all remarked upon in this manner; and no greater freedom of criticism is intended toward their successors. At the same time, praise and support shall be gladly accorded, whenever consistent with truth.

If the usual patronage of the State can be given on these grounds, it will be thankfully received. If not, the Journal shall continue to do its duty to a system in the progress of which both it and its editor have passed through other dark hours.

TH. H. BURROWS.

LANCASTER, April 5, 1867.

MR. FISHER. I move to amend by inserting after the amendment just adopted the following:

And that the Superintendent of Common Schools is hereby authorized and directed to subscribe for one thousand copies of the School Journal, to be distributed to the different school districts of the State.

I suppose this number will about embrace all the school districts.

MR. LANDON. The school law already provides that the Pennsylvania School Journal shall be recognized as the official organ of the Department of Common Schools of this Commonwealth, in which the current decisions made by the Superintendent of Common Schools shall be published free of charge, together with all official circulars, &c.

By my amendment, which the Senate has just adopted, it is left to the discretion of the School Department to employ what medium of publication it may choose, whether the School Journal or any other. The school law further provides:

And the Superintendent is hereby authorized to subscribe for one copy of said School Journal, to be sent to each board of school directors in the State.

Under this provision, nearly two thousand copies were taken last year; for there are nearly two thousand districts.

The amendment of the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER], if it is to be adopted, proposes too small a number. The amendment proposes to require such a subscription, while the present law simply authorizes the Superintendent to subscribe, leaving the matter to his discretion. What I desire is, that the whole thing shall be left to the discretion of the School Department; and this is the desire of the Department. Hence I trust that the amendment will be voted down and the law left as it is.

MR. FISHER. I trust that the amendment will not be voted down, and that the law will not be left as it is. There is a difficulty now existing between the State Superintendent and the editor of the School Journal; and unless there be some legislative enactment, such as I propose, the present Superintendent will not subscribe for the School Journal. Now, sir, every gentleman in Pennsylvania who has paid any attention to the interests of the common school system, knows that Mr. Burrows has for years stood at the head of that system, laboring efficiently for the promotion of its interests. But it so happens that there is a rivalry existing between the present Superintendent of Common Schools and the editor of the School Journal, and if the matter is left discretionary with the Superintendent, he will not subscribe for any copies of the Journal.

Now, sir, no gentleman who has paid any attention at all to the subject of education, can fail to know that the School Journal has been at all times one of the most efficient educational journals that we have had. A copy of this journal should go to every school board in the State; and if one thousand copies are not sufficient for this purpose, I am in favor of increasing the number. The present Superintendent of Common Schools is a gentleman from my own county, for whom I have the very highest regard; but in consequence of the unfortunate misunderstanding between him and the editor of the School Journal, I consider some legislative enactment necessary to ensure the circulation of the Journal among the different school boards.

MR. BROWNE (Lawrence). Mr. Chairman, if the present Superintendent of Public Schools does not choose to make this its perfect organ of the Department, it is perfectly proper in my judgment that he should not do so; and if he does not do so, I think the demand made here that the Legislature shall subscribe for one or two thousand copies of this journal, for circulation among the different school boards, is asking entirely too much. We now have three periodicals devoted to the subject of education and the common school system. We can support them all. If Dr. Burrows cannot sustain the cause of the School Department, I admire his candor and independence in differing with the Department. But at the same time I think the Department should be just as independent as Dr. Burrows; that it should be enabled to publish its circulars without having them subjected to invidious criticisms in the journal selected for their publication. I am, therefore, opposed to the amendment.

MR. LANDON. Taking the Senator from Lancaster upon his own statement, we ought to reject his amendment. He affirms that there is a spirit of rivalry existing between the editor of the School Journal and the Superintendent of Common Schools—I say nothing myself upon that question; and he proposes that the Superintendent shall be required by law to circulate one or two thousand copies of the Journal. Now, sir, if this rivalry causes the editor constantly to criticize and abuse unjustly the Department, will you require the Department to send out this abuse of itself? Why, sir, that would be unjust. Let it be discretionary with the Department to choose its own organ, its own vehicle of publication, and if the School Journal comes up to the demands of the age and the requirements of the cause of education, it will be selected for the patronage of the Department.

MR. LOWRY. Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that to require the Superintendent of Common Schools to subscribe for the School Journal is doing about the same thing as if you should require me to patronize a newspaper whose principles I condemn and despise. If this editor is sending out his poison to prejudice the minds of the youth of the land against the Superintendent of Common Schools, then that journal should not be circulated.

MR. FISHER. Mr. Chairman, the School Journal does not contain any such "poison," as is implied by the remarks of the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] and the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY]. Every one who knows anything about the School Journal knows that I state the fact. It has been for years the recognized organ of the common schools of Pennsylvania. Everybody knows that for thirty years, Thomas H. Burrows has stood at the head of the common school system in this Commonwealth. Everybody knows that more than thirty years ago, Thomas H. Burrows, George Wolf and Thaddeus Stevens stood shoulder to shoulder in the establishment of the common school system, and their speeches should be printed in letters of gold and put up in every school house in the land. From that day to this Thomas H. Burrows has been the peculiar advocate of the common school system. He has edited the School Journal, a publication known and read everywhere, and which has exerted the most powerful influence in favor of the common school system of our State. But now, because these happens to be some little spirit of rivalry existing between the State Superintendent and Mr. Burrows, I know that if the matter be left to the discretion of the Superintendent, he will not subscribe for that journal. And I know, sir, and you you know, and every Senator on this floor knows, that no educational publication of the State will for one moment compare in usefulness with that journal, as edited by Mr. Burrows, and read everywhere, which ought to be in the hands of every board of school directors; and I want to make it obligatory upon the Superintendent of Common Schools to place a copy in the hands of every school board. If one thousand be not sufficient for this purpose, I would say two thousand, I would say five thousand, I would say ten thousand—whatever number may be necessary—for this journal is the recognized organ of the School Department of Pennsylvania, and has been for years, and no other educational publication is worth half so much.

MR. LOWRY. Mr. Chairman, everybody knows that the Erie Gazette was the organ of the Republican party in this county.

MR. FISHER. I never knew it. I heard the gentleman deny it the other day.

MR. LOWRY. For forty years it was recognized as such; but when it turned its power in another direction, to gratify personal malice, it fell like Lucifer. So should fall Mr. Burrows or any other man who, to gratify his own public hate or private vengeance, would strike a blow at the common school system of the State.

MR. FISHER. Mr. Burrows has not done so.

MR. BILLINGHEAT. I think this matter might be reconciled by adding, as an amendment to the amendment, the Erie Gazette. [Laughter.]

The amendment of Mr. FISHER was not agreed to.

The section was agreed to.

MR. HALL. I move to reconsider the vote, by which the fifth section was adopted. The motion was

Agreed to.

MR. HALL. I move to amend by striking out, in the thirty-sixth line, the word "one," and inserting "two;" so as to make the salary of the copying clerk in the Auditor General's office the same as that of other clerks holding corresponding positions.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was adopted.

The forty-third section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 43. For the Soldiers' Home in the city of Philadelphia, the sum of ten thousand dollars.

The forty-fourth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 44. For the Pittsburg Sanitary Soldiers' Home, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, inclusive of six thousand dollars, expended out of their invested funds, four thousand dollars for introducing gas into their buildings and re-setting their boilers, two thousand dollars for repairs, and three thousand dollars for extra diet.

The forty-fifth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 45. For the instruction of indigent pupils in the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the deaf and dumb, thirty-five thousand dollars, to be paid in proportion to the number of indigent pupils from the several counties of the Commonwealth, at the rates prescribed by law, the evidence of which is to be presented to the State Treasurer.

The forty-sixth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 46. For the Pennsylvania institution for the instruction of the blind, the sum of thirty-three thousand dollars, to be paid in proportion to the number of indigent pupils from the several counties of the Commonwealth, at the rate of three hundred dollars for each pupil, the evidence of which is to be furnished to the State Treasurer.

Mr. M'CANDESS. I move to amend by adding at the end of this section the following:

And five thousand dollars to the Polytechnic college of the State of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of establishing in said college five State scholarships.

Mr. Chairman, in my judgment there is no better educational institution in the State than the Polytechnic college; and it has had but little assistance from the Commonwealth. It has been supported mainly by private contributions from gentlemen who desired the education of the energetic young men of the Commonwealth. The managers of the institution are now endeavoring to increase the number of its scholarships and enlarge its usefulness.

Mr. BIGHAM. Whatever may be the merits of the amendment, it seems to me it should not be introduced here, attached to a section relating to the instruction of the blind.

Mr. M'CANDESS. I think it will come in here as well as anywhere else.

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

There being—ayes 13, noes 14.

The section was

Agreed to.

The forty-seventh section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 47. For the Western Pennsylvania hospital, fifteen thousand dollars, to be applied to the salaries of officers, and the further sum of sixty-six thousand and eighty-two dollars, inclusive of twenty-five thousand dollars for excursions, stone work, joist, and making half million of brick, for the commencement of the eastern extension of said hospital; seventeen thousand one hundred and thirty-two dollars for furnishing the present new western extension; one thousand dollars for insurance; thirty-five hundred dollars for the erection of a stone wall in the rear of said hospital; fifteen thousand dollars for four new boilers, together with fire front, grate bars, smoke stack, et cetera, and four thousand four hundred and fifty dollars for a reservoir; and said hospital shall hereafter be authorized to charge not exceeding three dollars per week for the medical attendance and boarding of all indigent insane persons who are, or may be, committed to said institution, and that any part of any act of Assembly inconsistent herewith, be, and the same is, hereby repealed.

The forty-eighth section was read as follows:

SEC. 48. For the Pennsylvania State Lunatic hospital, at Harrisburg, for the payment of salaries and wages, and for the support of the house, the sum of sixteen thousand dollars; and for the erection of infirmaries, the further sum of ten thousand dollars; and said hospital shall hereafter be authorized to charge not exceeding three dollars per week for the medical attendance and boarding of all indigent insane persons who are, or may be, committed to said institution, and that any part of any act of Assembly inconsistent herewith, be, and the same is, hereby repealed.

Mr. BAVIS. Mr. Chairman, I have not exactly made up my mind what amendment, if any, I shall offer to this section. But I think it my duty to make a statement in regard to the alleged management of this institution, mainly for the purpose of calling attention to it on behalf of that unfortunate class who are its inmates. I have no reflection to make upon any of the officers connected with the institution. I simply wish to call the attention of the Senate, and through the Senate of the officers managing the institution, to the facts which I shall presently mention.

I hold in my hand a letter written by a young man of the city of Reading, in regard to the treatment of his father, who became insane more than three years ago, and who has been an inmate of this institution. I know him very well personally. He was a very estimable man, occupying a very good position in society.

[Mr. DAVIS here read the letter, which stated that the writer, on visiting the State Lunatic Hospital, found his father in such a condition as indicated extreme neglect on the part of those having him in charge; that his finger and toe nails had evidently not been cut for a long time; that he was using a pocket handkerchief which had been in constant use for months; that he was very poorly and insufficiently clad, although a trunk full of clothes had been sent with him to the institution. The full copy of the letter is withheld from publication at Mr. DAVIS' request.]

Now, Mr. Chairman, I merely wish to call the attention of the Senate and of the public to this matter, so that if there are abuses in the management of this institution, they may be remedied for the sake of the inmates. I will not at this time offer any amendment or oppose the adoption of the section.

Mr. CONNELL. I think, Mr. Chairman, that the proper method of remedying this matter would be to lodge complaint with the trustees of the institution, who, being nominated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, represent the public interests.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I feel that I ought to say a few words on this subject. I know very little about this institution, but it is located in my district and a number of the trustees are constituents of mine. I have visited the institution, and on a superficial examination it seemed to me very well conducted. All the inmates appeared comfortable and well provided for. If there are any charges of this kind against the management of the institution, I would suggest that the Senator from Berks [Mr. DAVIS] should move the appointment of an investigating committee, or take some means to substantiate these charges. He should not bring in here the mere statement of a man whose friend or relative is insane. Anybody who knows anything about the condition of the insane knows that they are not very competent to take care of themselves. Though the patient may have the best attendance, the physician may deem it best not to interfere with him too much. I know nothing about the truth or falsity of these charges, and I do not pretend to know much about the management of the institution, but I do think that a charge of this kind, made in open Senate, should be investigated, and if the gentleman believes that these charges come from a proper source, he should move to have the thing looked into. I do not propose to enter into any particular defense of my constituent or anybody else's constituent in connection with this matter; but I do feel that it is due to the managers of the institution that the matter should be looked into before serious charges of this kind are made.

Mr. DAVIS. I will reply to the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN]. I will merely say that the persons who have spoken to me on this subject are responsible, and if the officers of the institution desire an investigation into the matter, I will, when I am informed of that fact, move the appointment of an investigating committee. The relatives of the individuals have not desired to make any opposition to the State Lunatic asylum in any way. This matter has been brought to the notice of the Senate, and thus to the notice of the officers of the institution, in order that if any abuses have heretofore existed, they may be remedied for the sake of the inmates. If the officers of the institution take it upon themselves to deny the fact stated in the letter I have read, I shall most assuredly move an investigation.

Mr. COLEMAN. It is impossible this afternoon to know anything about that. This is a thing I never heard of before. But I insist upon it that if the Senator knows of abuses existing in any of these institutions supported by the money of the State, it is his duty to bring forward the charges and have them investigated.

Mr. DAVIS. I think that the result desired will probably be attained by what has been said here this afternoon. It was with this view that I presented my statement. If the desired result should not be attained in this way, the subject can be brought up again at some future time. An investigating committee need not be moved this afternoon. At some other time this session, or possibly during the next session, the matter can be brought up again, if it be deemed necessary.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Chairman, I feel it due to the officers connected with this institution that I should not permit this matter to pass without a few remarks. I myself have visited the institution. I know that it is well conducted—probably as well conducted as any other institution of the class, in this State or elsewhere. Dr. Curwen is a man thoroughly competent for his position. There can nowhere be found a man better qualified to manage the inmates of such an institution.

I know how easy it is for people who visit their friends or relatives in an institution like this to imagine that a great many wrongs are perpetrated upon the inmates. Any person who has been in the habit of visiting such institutions, knows that there are in such places many cases in which the insane in many cases appear to be a very great disadvantage. It is not always in the power of the officers having charge of such an institution to keep the inmates in exactly the condition in which they ought to be. The writer of the letter which has been read may have visited his father and found him in what he supposed to be a neglected condition, with his clothes torn or his pocket handkerchief in a filthy condition. But let me tell gentlemen that it is under some circumstances difficult to prevent such things. As has already been remarked by my friend from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN], it is not always proper to interfere too much with these people. They must sometimes be indulged in their fancies; and it may be the fancy of a man to be in such a state as has been described. It is the mind that you must treat, and you must deal with it according to circumstances.

Mr. Chairman, I exceedingly regret that this matter should be brought before the Senate in a public manner on so frivolous a charge as I consider this to be. I do not be-views that the presentation here of such a letter, under such circumstances and in such a manner, is the proper method of arriving at a suitable investigation of this matter. Things of this kind ought to be investigated in a proper way. They ought to be referred to the officers in charge of the institution. The directors or managers are the proper persons to investigate such matters. Or if that method of proceeding be deemed not satisfactory, let formal charges be brought before the Senate, and let a committee be appointed to investigate the subject. I do not think that a mere letter written under circumstances like these, by the son of an inmate, is sufficient to justify any one in blaming it over the whole Commonwealth that this is a badly managed institution. It is not badly managed. It is well managed; and the officers connected with it deserve the full confidence of this body and of the people of the Commonwealth. They are humane; they are kind; they are skillful; they are competent for the discharge of their duties. I venture to say that, should an investigation be made, it will be found that this institution is as well managed as any other in the State. I say again, that I regret this charge has been publicly made in such a manner and under such circumstances.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Chairman, had I entertained any such hostility toward this institution as the Senator from Chester [Mr. WORTHINGTON] has intimated that I feel, I should have asked that this letter be read at the Clerk's desk, that it might go upon the records. I preferred not to take that course, and therefore I have read it myself. I am perfectly willing that the letter shall not go upon the records. The parties who have brought this matter to my attention have not desired that a public charge shall be made. They do not desire to injure the character of any of the officers connected with the institution. But, Mr. Chairman, I know that this complaint is not a "frivolous" complaint; and when I say this, I trust the statement will be taken in the full breadth in which it is intended, as the simple and exact truth. What does the Senator from Chester know about this letter or the person who wrote it? Sir, the parties who brought this matter to my attention are as respectable and honest men as any Senators in this body, and they would scorn to make a charge not founded upon the facts.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. The Senator misunderstands me entirely on that point.

Mr. DAVIS. The Senator said that this was a "frivolous charge."

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I do not impugn at all the character of the gentleman who wrote the letter. I say that he is not competent to form a judgment under the circumstances in a case of this kind.

Mr. DAVIS. Did not the Senator say that this was a "frivolous charge?" Certainly he used that expression.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Well, I think it is.

Mr. DAVIS. I do not think it is; and if the Senator knew the person making the charge he would not think so.

The Senator speaks as if he were particularly interested on behalf of this institution or some of the officers connected with it. I do not know what that is. But when he says that any complaints are to be made, they should be made to the officers of the institution. I must say I think that would be an extraordinary mode of proceeding. The people pay the taxes that go to support this institution; it is the people who are to be protected; and if the institution is not properly managed, the people are interested in knowing the fact. Certainly, Mr. Chairman, this institution does not belong to the officers who have charge of it. They are paid for the attention they bestow upon the inmates.

The Senator from Chester undertakes to declare positively that he knows this institution is well managed. Why? Because, upon one or two occasions he visited it; and passing through it casually, without making any particular examination (for no particular examination is made upon such occasions), he found nothing wrong.

Mr. Chairman, I think that in all these public institutions, when they are receiving visitors, especially official visitors, those who have been connected with the Legislature of the State, particular care is taken that everything shall appear in good order.

One word more, sir, in reference to the remark that the charges contained in this letter are frivolous.

Why, sir, is it a "frivolous" thing that an insane man, a man in the condition of a perfect child, altogether unable to take care of himself, should have scarcely any clothing on, even in cold weather; that he should be allowed to wear, in winter time, shoes so much like his feet as to be almost bare; and that in the course of three months he should be furnished with only one pocket handkerchief?

Mr. Chairman, I considered it my duty to call the attention of the Senate, and through the Senate, of the officers of this institution, to this matter; and if I had not been met by the Senator from Chester declaring that this charge, which I make on my responsibility as a representative is a "frivolous charge," I would not have said so much as I have.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I do not believe, at this time, when we are in the committee of the whole on the general appropriation bill, is the proper time for the discussion of this subject; but I insist that if the Senator from Berks [Mr. DAVIS], after having made such serious charges against the officers of this institution, does not follow the matter up by moving the appointment of a committee of investigation, he will be derelict in his duty as a Senator of the State of Pennsylvania. Wholesale charges made in this public way in the Senate should not be made without being followed up and examined.

Mr. DAVIS. If the officers of this institution desire an official investigation into this matter, I shall certainly move it. As regards the remark that it is my duty to move it, I will say that it is the privilege of the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] as well as myself to move for an investigation. If he thinks that the officers of the institution are very desirous for an investigation, why does he not himself move it?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I do not want to be a member of such a committee.

A number of the trustees of the institution are constituents of mine, and the institution is in my district. I do not want to act in the matter at all. I insist that it is the duty of the Senator from Berks, if he has the charges to make, to move for an investigation. This thing has been sprung upon us, and I know nothing as to the desire of the trustees or resident physician. I speak from my own impulses. I have had no time to consult with any of them.

Mr. DAVIS. If the gentleman thinks that an unjust charge has been made against anybody, it is for him or the friends of the parties affected to move for an investigation. That is all I have to say.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. One word more on this subject. The Senator from Berks has intimated that I may have some interest in this institution, or that I may be connected with some of its officers. I say to the Senator that I am interested in all our institutions of this kind. I am interested on the score of humanity. The poor creatures who are the inmates of these institutions, I regard as worthy of the care and attention of the State, and she has been liberal in making provision for them. But in this particular institution I have no more interest than in every other institution of the kind in the State. I have visited on a number of occasions all these institutions. I know how they are managed. I know the condition of the inmates. I know the difficulty of taking care of them. I know how hard it is sometimes to keep insane patients perfectly clothed. The Senator may not be so familiar with this subject as medical men are.

When I speak upon this subject, I speak not from any special interest in any particular institution. I speak upon the broad ground of humanity and justice; not only justice to the inmates of these institutions, but justice to those who take care of them, who devote their time, their talents, their energies to the management of these unfortunate inmates, and restoring them to season. They ought to be treated and defended, unless they are really censurable; and if they are, I will go as far as the Senator from Berks, or any other Senator, to investigate any maladministration, and bring to proper punishment those who may be culpable.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Chairman, I once made a visit to this institution, but I have not visited it this winter. I have been through the institution probably half a dozen times altogether.

It will be observed that by this section the institution is limited to a charge of three dollars per week for each patient. Probably, with the present prices of things, this sum does not enable the managers to bestow upon the patients first class attention. I believe, however, that the general management of the institution has been such as to entitle it to the confidence of the public. There is now within the hearing of my voice, a lady who was to a large extent the founder of this institution, and who has visited it very often. The institution, I believe, has had her general supervision, and I believe it has generally been as well managed as she expected under the circumstances. That there have been instances of accidental want of attention, I do not pretend to doubt; but intentional or frequent neglect of the inmates could not, I think, have occurred without its coming to my knowledge. Most of the directors reside here, though one of them is a constituent of mine. They receive nothing for their services. I believe they are all men of high-toned integrity, and I have no doubt they endeavor to do everything that is right.

The section was

Agreed to.

The fourth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 49. For the Pennsylvania Training school for feeble-minded children, at Media, in the county of Delaware, the usual sum for each pupil, as provided by the act of incorporation: Provided, That the number of said pupils shall not exceed eighty; and the said school is authorized to charge fifty dollars per annum, in addition to the sum now allowed by law, for the maintenance of each pupil during the present year.

The fifth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 50. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Eastern penitentiary, the sum of thirteen thousand eight hundred dollars, in equal quarterly payments, on or before the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and March, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight; and the additional sum of four thousand dollars, for the payment of an additional sum to each officer; and for each discharged convict from the city of Philadelphia, or whose residence is within fifty miles thereof, the sum of five dollars, and ten dollars to each convict whose residence or settlement is fifty miles or over from the Penitentiary; and for books and stationery, for the use of the convicts, six hundred and fifty dollars, to be expended under the direction of the warden, or such thereof as may be necessary, and to be accounted for to the Auditor General.

The fifty-first section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 51. For the payment of the salaries of the officers of the Western penitentiary, the sum of twenty thousand eight hundred dollars, to be paid in equal quarterly payments, on and after the fifteenth day of the months of June, September and December, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and March, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and for each discharged convict whose residence or settlement is within fifty miles of said penitentiary, the sum of five dollars, and ten dollars to each discharged convict whose residence or settlement is fifty miles or over from said penitentiary; and for the support of the library, the further sum of five hundred dollars.

The fifty-second section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 52. For the House of Refuge in Philadelphia, thirty thousand dollars.

The fifty-third section was read and agreed to, as follows:

SEC. 53. For the House of Refuge of Western Pennsylvania, forty-seven thousand dollars, being for the following items, viz: thirteen thousand five hundred dollars for salaries, four thousand five hundred dollars deficiency in salaries for the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, four thousand dollars to complete the new gas works, ten thousand dollars for new boilers and connections, one thousand five hundred dollars for the erection of a new coal house and stables, three thousand two hundred dollars for fire plugs, pipes, hose, &cetera; four thousand five hundred dollars for repairs to the buildings, and eighteen hundred dollars for improving the laundry.

Mr. CONNELL. I move to amend by inserting the following as an additional section:

SEC. 54. For the Northern Home for Friendless Children, eight thousand dollars.

This was in the bill as it came from the House, but was stricken out by the Committee on Finance.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

Mr. FISHER. I move to amend by adding to the section just adopted the following:

For the Home for Friendless Children in the city of Lancaster, five thousand dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. I move to amend the amendment by adding the following:

For the Home for the Friendless in the city of Harrisburg, five thousand dollars.

Mr. GLATZ. I desire to add an appropriation of like sum for the county of York.

Mr. FISHER. I trust gentlemen will not burden the amendment.

I wish to make a statement in regard to the Home for Friendless Children in Lancaster, and I have no doubt my remarks will apply with equal force to the home about to be established at Harrisburg. About two weeks ago I took occasion to visit the Home for Friendless Children in the city of Lancaster. I went in when I was not expected. I wished to see the institution as it really was without any special preparations being made. I found there one hundred and seventy children, of whom, I suppose, not twenty knew their parents. They were children of all nationalities. Some of them had been picked up in the streets; some had been deserted by their parents; the parents of others had died leaving their helpless and dependent upon charity. They were well clothed, and evidently well fed; but still there were manifest indications of a want of means to carry on the institution properly. The ladies of Lancaster city have been working for years to build up this institution. There are in the institution soldiers' orphans, and all other classes of destitute children, and but for the refuge and care afforded them there God knows what would become of them. It is not a local institution; it contains children from all parts of the Commonwealth, and some from other States. I think it is a duty which the Commonwealth owes to these poor, friendless children to make an appropriation which will help to supply their needs and promote their comfort.

One other fact. It is very well known that the ladies at the head of this institution are the same ladies who were at the head of the society for providing for the wants of the soldiers, and I appeal to the gallant Senator from Philadelphia [General M'CALLISTER] to bear me out in the statement that after several of our terrible battles during the late war, the patriotic daughters of Lancaster were the first upon the ground to minister to the wants of the wounded and dying soldiers. They were among the first at Harrison's Landing; they were among the first after the battle of Bull Run; they were the very first at Antietam and at Gettysburg. In connection with the Sisters of Charity (God forever bless them for their ministering care of our soldiers!) they were prompt on countless occasions in rendering needed assistance. These same ladies have organized this Home for Friendless Children in Lancaster. They have gathered up the poor orphans wherever they could find them, and are now clothing, clothed in hand educating them. I think the State of Pennsylvania should not hesitate to contribute to aid these ladies in this labor of love.

I cheerfully accept the amendment of my friend from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN], to include the institution in the city of Harrisburg, engaged, I understand, in the same good work. Sir, I will, if necessary, vote to take three hundred and fifty dollars off the pay of each member, and give the money to this work of charity.

Mr. GLATZ. Mr. Chairman, in suggesting my amendment it was not my intention to burden the gentleman's proposition. All that the Senator has said on behalf of the Home for Friendless Children in Lancaster, applies with equal force to the home at York.

Mr. FISHER. If there is such a home at York, I am in favor of assisting it.

Mr. GLATZ. A large building has just been completed at a considerable expense, which has fallen upon private individuals.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. I perfectly agree with all that has been said by my colleague. I hope his amendment will be adopted.

Mr. NEWBY. The Senator from Lancaster agreed at the first time this session [Laughter.] I hope the amendment will be adopted.

Mr. CONNELL. I hope the committee will remember that we have already in this bill made ample provision for the orphans of the soldiers, embracing, I presume, the very orphans for whom the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER] so eloquently pleads.

Mr. FISHER. No, sir; they are not the same. Some of the children in this institution are soldiers' orphans, and some are not.

They are children picked up, without regard to where they come from, and taken care of by these—I was going to say angels; I say better than that—these women. [Laughter.]

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Chairman, I have no doubt that every word the Senator from Lancaster has uttered in eulogy of the ladies conducting the institution at Lancaster is true. I have no doubt of its beneficence, its utility, its necessity. Yet, sir, in every city of any considerable importance in the Commonwealth there are similar institutions, every one of which is just as much entitled to be recognized by the State and to receive contributions from the State treasury as the institution at Lancaster or that at Harrisburg. Now, I will say for the ladies of Allegheny city that they have, at a cost of twenty-two thousand dollars, purchased and paid for a house, which is filled with destitute children, supported by the voluntary contributions of the charitable there. The ladies conducting that institution are, I know, just as deserving of an appropriation of five thousand dollars, and would apply it just as prudently and beneficially as the ladies of Lancaster or Harrisburg.

If I had money to distribute among the various institutions of this kind in the Commonwealth, I would be in favor of giving liberally from the State treasury to every such institution. But, sir, you are aware that the late Government of the Commonwealth, in one of his annual messages to the Legislature, recommended that none of these charitable institutions, except such as were State institutions, should receive appropriations from the State treasury; and in compliance with that recommendation we last year voted no appropriation to any institution of this kind. If we open the door now by making an appropriation for one institution, we cannot refuse to grant aid to others equally worthy and equally necessitous. If we give to one, we must and ought to give to all.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Chairman, by turning to the fourth section of the bill, which has been already passed, we find fifteen thousand dollars appropriated to the Pittsburg Sanitary Soldiers' Home. We ask only five thousand dollars for an institution which is doing as much good as all your Pittsburg Sanitary Homes can do. This institution at Lancaster has its doors open, and is receiving all the friendless children that come along, no matter where they come from. They are fed and clothed and educated; and God only knows whether some of them will not fill the office of President of the United States one of these days.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Chairman, the cases are very different. The Pittsburg Sanitary Soldiers' Home is an established institution. A liberal-minded citizen of Pittsburg gave for the founding of that institution twenty or thirty acres of land, worth perhaps one million dollars. By voluntary contribution a building was erected which could not now be erected for less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. At a sanitary fair held in the city of Allegheny two years since, the sum of one hundred and eighty thousand dollars was realized; and from the proceeds of that fund the institution is now being sustained. This large and beneficent institution, the establishment and support of which have cost the State not a dollar, now comes and asks only that from the State treasury we shall make up a deficiency. The managers do not wish to impinge upon the fund designed for the maintenance of the institution. There are now in the institution about one hundred sick and disabled soldiers whose wants are kindly provided for. I think that this case and that presented by the Senator from Lancaster are very different. I may add that in the few remarks which I made a few moments ago, I did not allude to this Sanitary Soldiers' Home, but to the Ladies' Home for Destitute Children.

Mr. TAYLOR desires to ask the Senator from Lancaster whether the institution named in his amendment has ever received any contribution from the State.

Mr. FISHER. Never.

A SENATOR. Oh, yes, it has.

Mr. FISHER. I was not aware of it.

Mr. TAYLOR. My understanding is that the institution has never received anything of any consequence from the State. It is now supporting about one hundred and seventy friendless children. I think that under all the circumstances it is entirely proper that the State should appropriate to the institution the comparatively small amount for which the Senator from Lancaster asks.

Mr. FISHER. By the fifty-third section of this bill, just passed, we have appropriated in various items for the Western Pennsylvania hospital, about sixty thousand dollars. In another section, the fifty-fifth, which I suppose the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. GRAHAM] will insist must be passed, we have an appropriation for the School of Design for Women at Pittsburg.

A SENATOR. That has been struck out by the committee.

Mr. FISHER. This whole bill seems to be permeated with Pittsburg; and now because we ask a little appropriation to take care of these friendless children at Lancaster and Harrisburg—because these institutions do not happen to be in Pittsburg—earnest objection is made. Now, sir, orphan children are orphan children. I do not care whether you find them at Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Lancaster or Harrisburg. It is the duty of the people of Pennsylvania—a duty they desire to discharge—to take care of these children, no matter in what part of the State they are to be found. The people of Pennsylvania, if you would submit the question to them and let them pass their judgment upon it, would say that the Legislature ought to make appropriations to take care of these children, no matter where they may be found.

But, Mr. Chairman, if Senators think that the amount proposed in my amendment is too large—if they think the State of Pennsylvania cannot afford to appropriate that much to this institution—I am willing to reduce the amount to three thousand dollars. I want to assist to whatever extent may be possible, these ladies who are engaged in this labor of love.

Mr. TAYLOR. As the Senator from Lancaster has reduced the amount of his amendment to three thousand dollars, I trust there will be no more opposition to it. The Senate should be willing to give this institution at Lancaster, at least three thousand dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I think that this amendment comes in at a very appropriate portion of this bill—immediately after sections relating to penitentiaries and houses of refuge. The care of the friendless and homeless children is the greatest auxiliary that we can have to our penal code. If we care for and educate in proper institutions the friendless and the homeless, we save appropriations for our penitentiaries and our prisons. The care of this class is especially demanded here in the city of Harrisburg, the great railroad centre of the State, where there are more of these wanderers to be found than in any portion of the State, perhaps, outside of the city of Philadelphia. I think the appropriation asked for the institution here is but a pittance when we consider the great utility of the institution. The ladies of this city have contriuted their time and money for the erection of the institution.

Mr. FISHER. I desire to say that I accept the amendment of the Senator from York [Mr. GLATZ], and modify my amendment accordingly.

Mr. LONDON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know but that I may be in the minority on this question. I believe, however, it is a received fact that minorities are about as apt to be right as majorities. It is pretty difficult to resist the eloquence of the Senator from Lancaster, inspired as he is by the impulses of genuine benevolence, and especially inspired by the very eloquent promptings that he has upon this floor. Hence, it is with a good deal of nervousness that I venture to say a word.

But, Mr. Chairman, the "second sober thought" must prevail. Have Senators paused long enough to foot up this appropriation bill? Do they know the aggregate amount of it?

Mr. FISHER. Four million dollars.

Mr. LONDON. Yes, sir, over four million dollars.

Mr. FISHER. I am willing to reduce the pay of members three hundred dollars each to meet this expenditure.

Mr. LONDON. The aggregate of the appropriations in this bill is something over four million one hundred thousand dollars. Now, sir, we must take facts as they are, and look men in the face. We must be governed by figures. The Committee on Finance carefully considered every item of this bill, deeming it their bounden duty to cut it down, somewhere. Every man familiar with the financial condition of the Commonwealth said, "You must cut this bill down, or you will scrape the treasury to the bottom and find nothing there." In the committee a motion was made to strike out the section which has been restored this afternoon on the motion of the chairman of the committee, the Senator from Philadelphia [Mr. COVINGTON]; and if my recollection serves me, every member of the committee voted eye except the chairman. I really think it was a mistake on his part to move to reinstate the section; for it opens the door to innumerable propositions of the same kind.

Now, sir, let there be no misunderstanding of my position on this question. Where the poor are, they should be provided for; where the hungry are, they should be fed; where the naked are, they should be clad; where the freezing are, they should be made warm. But, Mr. Chairman, are we to adopt the principle that every hungry child, every naked child in Harrisburg, in Lancaster, in Philadelphia and in other parts of the State, must be relieved by an appropriation from the State treasury? If that is the principle we are to adopt and to carry out, I say not a word against it; I simply file in with my part of the Commonwealth; and when you grant your ten thousand dollars to the Philadelphia poor house, your three thousand dollars to the Lancaster poor house, your five thousand dollars to the Harrisburg poor house, I simply call upon you to grant two thousand dollars to our poor house, and a corresponding amount to feed the hungry, to warm the shivering, to clothe the naked in every county of the State; for remember that every county contributes to your treasury. If the State is to take the poor and friendless in its arms and feed and clothe them—if that is the principle—I have nothing to say against it; but let the principle be carried out uniformly and equitably.

But, sir, let me say that Pennsylvania stands far more glorious among the most glorious in her works of philanthropy. Sir, are we not feeding the hungry and clothing the naked, and caring for the friendless children? Read this appropriation bill and see what we have done. We give four hundred and fifty thousand dollars to educate seven hundred thousand children in the common schools. We give four hundred thousand dollars in one single sum to feed, and clothe, and educate those who are without homes and friends.

Sir, if this is not enough—if you must pile up additional appropriations, go on; but I want Northern Pennsylvania to be included. I do not find fault with your theory, if you can carry it out; but you must not be partial. If you think you can afford to carry out this principle, all right; but my section of the State wants to be counted in. That is all I have to say.

Mr. FISHER. The Senator from Bradford [Mr. LONDON] asks, "What have we done?" I answer, we have in this bill, increased the salaries of officers, in some instances, from one thousand seven hundred dollars to three thousand five hundred dollars.

Mr. LONDON. You voted for it.

Mr. FISHER. I believe I did, in some instances. But, sir, that is what we have done. We have raised salaries. The committee has reported an increase of the pay of members of the Legislature, being three hundred dollars more than the amount now fixed by law. But when a small appropriation is taken for the purpose of providing for the homeless, fatherless, friendless children—the orphans perhaps of men who died in defense of the liberties of the country—gentlemen get up and say, "Oh, the appropriation bill is swelling to the size of a mountain." I tell you Mr. Chairman, I tell you Senators, this is not the place to commence retrenchment. It is our duty to take care of these orphan children, as has been well said by the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLLEMAN]. By providing for these children in this way, we keep them out of the penitentiaries and house of refuge. Should they get there, they will require appropriations in another form. It has been well said that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and the principle applies here with peculiar force.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Chairman, the Senator from Lancaster certainly misapprehended my position in reference to the appropriation for which he asks. I have just as much compassion for these orphan children, these destitute ones, as any other Senator. For the maintenance of such as these, I contribute every year, I have no doubt, ten dollars where the Senator from Lancaster contributes one. I put my hand in my pocket, and I pay until I feel it. I make no point against this particular institution. I sympathize with it; I bid it God-speed. But the question at this time is one of State policy. If this institution is to be assisted, then the institution at Pittsburg, and at Philadelphia, and at Harrisburg, and at Erie—all similar institutions throughout the State—have equal claims upon us; every one of them is entitled to receive a contribution from the treasury of the Commonwealth. The question for us to determine, then, is whether we shall throw open the State treasury for the maintenance of these benevolent institutions all over the State. They were not originated, they have not been maintained by the State. They have been gotten up by private benevolence, and they were designed to be sustained by the private contributions of the lovers of humanity all over the State.

If Senators think it right for the Legislature of Pennsylvania to adopt the policy of fostering by appropriations from the State treasury all these institutions founded with the view of being sustained by private benefactions, none will more cheerfully acquiesce in such a decision than myself. I will go "as far as he who goes the farthest," in my contributions, either personally or from the State treasury, for these benevolent institutions. But, sir, we ought to pause and ask ourselves whether the policy which these propositions must initiate is prudent, proper and right.

Mr. RANDALL. I think the best way to settle this question would be to move a re-consideration of the vote by which section fifty-four was reinserted.

The CHAIRMAN. That motion cannot be made now.

Mr. BURNETT. I think I can make a suggestion. Let us, when we come to it, strike out section fifty-eight, which appropriates twelve thousand dollars to sustain the Pennsylvania State Agency at Washington, which is a sinecure—an office for which there is no necessity.

Mr. RIDGWAY. One of these institutions, the Northern Home for Friendless Children, is located in my district; but when the question was taken on reinserting the section making an appropriation for that institution, I voted "no," because I knew that the adoption of the proposition would open the door to appropriations for every similar institution in the State. I am prepared to vote against every such appropriation. On the second reading of the bill, I shall ask that the appropriation for the Northern Home and the appropriations for all similar institutions be voted down.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Chairman, the immediate subject before the Senate is an amendment offered by the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER], which is to bestow charity upon the Home for Friendless Children of Lancaster county. This institution was born in affection, and one hundred and seventy of the motherless children of want, and the fatherless children of woe, suck their nourishment from the breasts of the daughters of Lancaster at this hour. I do not like to see so many about local charities. I cannot locate the appropriations as broad as heaven's dews. It is as chaste as the fawn, and as pure as a woman who bares her bosom to nourish the orphan. I can understand what is meant by organized charities—charities that have a home upon earth—an organized hope in heaven. Individual charity is another and a different thing. Organized charity is a chartered institution. It is a divine institution, and when properly conducted is God-like in its dispensations.

There is great wisdom, Mr. Speaker, in statistics. From them we learn not only the lessons of our resources in the past, but they are a star by night for the future. By studying long rows of figures we learn not only the city, but the very number of the house where charity finds her breakfast. Charity first took up her abode in Pennsylvania in the days of Penn. She remained in Philadelphia and never washed her feet in any other locality than Pennsylvania until 1846. I speak of organized charity. I cannot give the exact figures of the amount that Philadelphia received of the bounty of the State, in the name of charity, prior to 1846. My strength was insufficient to make the measure, running back prior to 1846. This much I can assure the Senate, that prior to that period, Philadelphia received from the strong box of the State more than a million of dollars. Charity took my father's sweat and my mother's knitting needles, from the shores of the Lake to Philadelphia, before I was born. The State taxed us at an early period all over the Commonwealth, to help Philadelphia charity. I do not complain of this, but rather rejoice at it. Pennsylvania was a better State for exacting it of us, and we were better people for submitting to it.

I will now proceed, with the permission of the Senate, to give the exact amount that has been taken from the State treasury from 1846 to 1866, inclusive, in the name of charity.

The city of Philadelphia, within the periods named, caused charity to receive one million two thousand four hundred and ninety-two dollars and ninety-four cents.

Charity often walks in dangerous places in the dark. Yet, she is timid and prefers walking in the shadow of bold men and good women.

In 1852 charity went to Pittsburg, and on her first visit, she slipped in the hands of her landlady ten thousand dollars; and the good that that blessed act accomplished, will only be known when Gabriel blows his horn.

From 1853 to the present time, including the present appropriation bill, this ten thousand dollar gift has been wonderfully multiplied. Allegheny county has received for charitable purposes from the State, six hundred and thirty-one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three dollars and forty-eight cents, in all, when this bill shall have passed.

I do not allude to what she has received for her penitentiaries and prisons—I only speak for charity.

Mr. BIGHAM. Where do you get your figures?

Mr. LOWRY. I may have drawn upon fancy for figures on some other occasion, but the figures which I now give are recorded facts, taken from the Auditor General's books.

But to return. Charity first crossed the river Delaware, on the ice I suppose, on a frosty morning early in 1854, and she took out of the State treasury one thousand dollars.

Narrow-minded men and demagogues have abused charity for warming humanity outside of Philadelphia. Still she has returned to the State treasury annually for gifts more faithful than Chris Kindle! She has ever plead under the eave-drops of this Capitol. There she stands now with her thirteen year-old hair rolling down her neck, wet with the dews of heaven. We have given this maid of Delaware county two hundred and thirteen thousand eight hundred and sixty-one dollars and ninety-four cents, and thank God we will it give her more.

Charity first crossed the Allegheny river in the direction of Butler county, in a canoe, in 1859—and there she left one hundred dollars. In 1860, 1861 and 1862 she laid in the mountains of Butler county unaided. In 1863, I helped her out of the woods, and she has left in Butler county in all seven thousand dollars. In 1864, Beaver county opened her home to charity and she entered in and has dwelt there since to the tune of ten thousand dollars strong. Luzerne county baptized charity—or rather charity baptized Luzerne county in the showers of an early summer in 1865. Luzerne is missionary ground. Charity laid her first egg in York county in 1866.

Mr. GLAZT. How large an egg?

Mr. LOWRY. The egg was worth three hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Mr. GLAZT. I think there is some mistake about this.

Mr. LOWRY. Not a bit of it. York county has received from the hand of charity one thousand five hundred dollars. Here too is missionary ground. Charity has never roosted but in nine counties in Pennsylvania.

I do not complain of this. I do not censure the localities that have received it—but my heartfelt sympathies are for those that have not received it.

Senators may speak with the tongues of men and angels; but if they have not charity, they are sounding brass or tinkling cymbals. Senators may have the gift of prophecy, and understand all the mysteries of legislation, and have faith large enough to construct tunnels and remove mountains—if they have not charity they are dangerous citizens and bad law makers.

Senators may bestow all their goods to feed the poor and give their bodies to be burned, and yet if they have not faith in organized charity, it profiteth nothing. Charity suffers long and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not—is not puffed up. Charity doth not behave itself uncomely—looketh not exclusively to her own country, and is not provoked because she receives not her due. Charity rejoiceth not only when she benefits the most needy. Charity beareth all things, believeth all things, endureth all things, and hopeth all things. Charity in new locations is a child; she speaks as a child, understands as a child—nurture her and she will become strong. Let us have abiding faith in our resources as we vote for charity, for the Lord loves the cheerful giver.

But, Mr. Speaker, I commenced speaking of Lancaster, and I will return to her.

Organized charity in Lancaster received aid first from this Commonwealth in 1857, and Lancaster county has received in all ten thousand dollars. She asks for more, and she shall have my vote to obtain it.

Mr. FISHER. What is that ten thousand dollars in comparison with the amount Allegheny has received? Ten thousand dollars for Lancaster! Six hundred thousand dollars for Allegheny! Is this justice? Lancaster county pays one hundred and seven thousand dollars in taxes. Allegheny county pays sixty-seven thousand dollars for the same purpose.

Mr. LOWRY. If the mouth of charity was as open as her hand, she could give the Senator from Lancaster [General FISHER] a lesson on location, occupation, population and taxation as her justification. Lancaster county is an agricultural county. Her people are wealthy. Her location is healthy. Her occupation is agriculture. Her population is real estate—and a thousand and one things have to be taken into consideration.

The ground for the land practice of the economist is the charitable man. Good men are taxed to support the vicious as well as the infirm, and society is taxed tenfold more for support of jails and penitentiaries than for almshouses and orphans' homes. True charity is in favor of almshouses, soldiers' homes, sailors' homes, homes wherein deaf are taught to hear and the dumb to speak, the blind to see and read—and institutions wherein lunatics are made rational creatures, institutions wherein feeble-minded children are made strong-minded men and women. The Northern counties for the million children taken from our streets, and washed and combed the hair and educated and clothed three thousand eight hundred children, the outcasts of society; and has now in charge three hundred and seventy-five souls (so says Mr. Hutter), feeding and clothing and educating them in the way they should go. As a matter of dollars and cents, it is by far cheaper, in my estimation, to maintain and reclaim these poor forsaken children in this institution by the bestowal of a few thousand dollars a year, than to support them in both some prisons and criminal dungeons.

We pay about twenty per centum of the expense of that heaven-born institution, and show our gifts on houses of correction and prisons in general, which in a great measure are the offspring—the consequences, of our criminal and penurious neglect in regard to the establishment and fostering of institutions like the one of which I speak. Liberty, then, towards this, and other institutions of the kind, is true economy to the State, in my humble judgment.

The sixty-eighth section of the general appropriation bill now before us, appropriates ten thousand dollars to a new-born child of charity on the shores of the lakes. I know of no community under which a charity will take deeper root, and this, too, on the opening of the warmth of this summer's spring, than at Erie.

Mr. SEARIGHT. I doubt that.

Mr. LOWRY. I do not.

Mr. SEARIGHT. I judge of the disposition manifested by the public press in that locality.

Mr. LOWRY. The press that opposed the creation of this charitable institution will yet be ashamed of all it has said. This institution is a necessity. The commerce upon the lakes is as heavy as that upon the seas, and the population that lives upon their waters is fully as great.

The sun-burnt mariner must be protected in youth—when sick, he must be taken care of in manhood. When old age comes upon him, he must be cared for; and when his spirit sails over the river Jordan, his body must be buried in his mother earth.

Erie is to be a great city. She pleads now; but the day will come when her charitable voice will be heard as loud in these halls as that of Pittsburgh or Philadelphia.

Milwaukee has Wisconsin at her back—and charity looks after her seamen. Chicago has a home for those who go out upon the deep waters, that is cared for by the general government.

Detroit receives nourishment from Michigan. At Cleveland charity is buoyed up by Ohio. Buffalo has the State of New York to help her in her charities; and shall it be said that Pennsylvania has refused to adopt the youngest and the fairest child in prospect of all—the fairest of the ten daughters of charity of Pennsylvania?

Mr. Speaker, it is alleged that the funds in the treasury will hardly justify the passage of this bill, and that we must cut down somewhere. This necessity I admit, but the charitable institutions of the State should not suffer because of our prodigality elsewhere.

In all things else we vote away money with a hand that is prodigal and alarming. I will vote for a decrease of our pay as Senators.

I will agree to make it half of that of last year. I will vote to dispense with one hundred unnecessary officers in and about the capitol. I will vote for a reduction of the salary of every officer of the State Government from Governor down to page boy. I would favor the reduction in the number of the State Judiciary, and of their pay. I will vote to dispense with clerks and reduce the salaries of those who remain. I will vote to postpone the enlargement of the Executive Mansion, and the repairs of the capitol. I will let the public grounds around the capitol grow up with weeds—I will economize in every and any way except to take from the common schools and our charitable institutions. The Children's Home at Harrisburg should receive our aid. Give those noble women of humanity who founded it all they ask for. Give them but the drippings of the waste about this building, and you give them more than a surfeit. These women are struggling for those who have no parents to struggle for them. These women are doing more good with two mites than (Zacchaeus) did with half his estate. A full purse is generally a bad counsellor; for a majority of men who hold such purse-strings can only be reached by the tax collector. Men who withhold from charities are penny-wise and pound-foolish. They try to save as the spigot, while they let it run at the bung-hole. And above all their folly they forget the fact that shrouds have no pockets.

The statesman and economist should ever remember that individual and organized charity is the only power to keep the tax-gatherer from the peasant's door.

My observations induce me to believe that youthful charity is more profitable for humanity than grey-headed charities, whilst my reflections would leave me to favor organized charities, with small means, and in small bodies, rather than large ones in large places, with overgrown means.

Charity in small communities and in mercy's hands was never known to abuse its trust, whilst in large cities and in the hands of our own sex, the liver of heaven has been worn to serve the devil in.

In shaping the future policy of Pennsylvania, I had the power, I would increase the number of our charitable institutions, particularly in our mining and manufacturing districts, and I would promise Mary and Ruth, for every institution that they would organize upon permanent basis, for every three dollars raised by their local subscriptions, one dollar in State appropriations.

Every religious, charitable institution that you endow in the mountains and valleys in Pennsylvania, is not only a highway for those poor children to heaven, but a refuge for our own from hell.

It is far cheaper to the taxpayers of the State to fill houses of honor than houses of shame.

The house of charity is the dividing wall between good and evil. Our State is fast becoming one vast machine-shop above ground, and the poor of many in the land receive work and nourishment from beneath the surface of the earth upon which we stand.

The nature of the products of our State, and the womb of our mountains, draw around us a population from the four quarters of the earth. They are a mixed population—many of them a cross between the almshouse and the prison in the Old World. Every dollar which we give to educate the children of those who have parents, and to feed, and school, and warm, and clothe those who have none, is a wise investment, for it depopulates hell in the future and improves the society at our own doors. Crime is a burning coal which we must extinguish in youth, or in manhood it will burn our horns and cities.

Punilanimity is man's greatest weakness, and the folly of him who is opposed to charity, by the State, or organized charity in communities, should be his greatest shame and his greatest secret, for it is his greatest crime.

As legislators we had better not know what we should practice, than not to practice what we know to be our duty. God has sent upon us a nation of orphans from beyond the seas, and from Southern battle-fields. Let us take up this cross and bare our bosom to it in wisdom. Let us hold up the lambs of want, for their burthen is not intolerable. If we use those orphans right, they will prove a blessing in disguise. This burthen or this blessing, we must take upon our shoulders as we find them, and warm them in our hearts as they are given us. If we refuse to do so, we are rebels against the judgments of God, and the teachings of a Christian world, and make thieves of ourselves, if we steal our children's virtue and our own pocket-books.

To refuse willingly to take care of these orphans, is not only a crime against posterity, but it is an insult to misery, a scornful mouth at man's infirmity, and a wicked mock at human deformity.

The true way to serve the State is to walk after charity. I will praise Philadelphia and Allegheny to their face for taking for charity in their location all they can obtain; but I would censure them lavishly if they attempt to prevent me from following after them in their greatest virtue.

It is not the charitable, but the wicked heart that loves none but itself. Humanity on the Delaware and humanity on the Lakes is God's attorney-general, speaking rhetoric in silence against a wasteful State that would hesitate to tax her citizens to warm her own orphan sons and God's orphan daughters. He alone is a statesman, with a taper in his hand, who can lengthen that taper and his own days—and give long life to his own State and his own real estate, by putting all things to their best use.

I can forgive those who may have given me bad counsel; I can forgive those who, through ignorance or malice, have misunderstood me; I can forgive those who have forcibly abused me; I can forgive those who have slandered me with type and with tables of marble; I can forgive all my enemies, but I never could forgive myself, or be forgiven by the orphans' God, if I turn, by my vote, his children out of organized homes upon the cold charity of the disorganized world.

The mind, the child and the matter of all that is immortal is made from a new mould, and the pattern is broken that the same may not be re-produced. If we would save the expense of keeping the child in prison when it becomes a man, we must watch it faithfully in the April of its understanding, or the frosts of May will take fragrance from the immortal blossom. The twig when tender and crooked must be strengthened. The vessel when new must be seasoned with humanity and care. Such as we make children in thy youth, we will find in manhood. The first lesson of the child must be obedience, or it will make its second vice. Christianity, humanity, economy are triple sisters, who join hands in advising that every child of God shall have an education to the utmost of his ability and capacity. If infancy and youth be properly seasoned, they become Salmans in their teens, for the fear of the Lord is the beginning of it all. The active spirits of the orphan must be chided and curbed. The sluggish must be stimulated, and all must be taught, at the first combing of their hair, that idleness is the mother of crime and misery. As his childhood ripens he wants a counselor to advise him what occupation he should embrace—where he should board—what clothes he should wear, what books he shall read, who should be the orphan's brother and the orphan's sister. His guardian-mother angels will tell him the dangers that will beset him at every step, and he will go into the world, feeling that some good woman has real estate in his life.

When I commenced I intended to have dealt more fully in statistics and to learn from silent figures some trumpet-tongued truths. We sent to our common schools in 1866, in Pennsylvania, seven hundred and twenty-five thousand three hundred and twelve pupils. Our total expenditures for common schools was four million one hundred and ninety-five thousand two hundred and fifty-eight dollars and fifty-seven cents. The average cost of teaching each scholar per month of that year was seventy-two cents. The whole number of taxables in the State is six hundred and eighty-six thousand three hundred and forty-two. Now, I submit to any man of common sense if the money thus expended was not a wise investment. And yet it took many years, in Pennsylvania, to make our people understand that school houses are cheaper than prison houses.

Did we give charity all she is asking for we could appropriate to her this year two hundred thousand dollars, and virgin charity modestly asks for only twenty-five thousand dollars all told. The rest of this four and a half million bill is made up of items, any one of which, except the school appropriation, we can afford to reduce—these two hundred thousand dollar items. We cannot afford to cut down charity!

The farmers of Pennsylvania had better tax their hogs in their yard five cents a piece than that these items of charity and expediency should be shorn or reduced. In 1860 they had in their styrs one million thirty-one thousand two hundred and sixty-six. They have many more now, yet a tax of five cents each on what they had then would amount to fifty-one thousand five hundred and sixty-three dollars and thirty cents. The grain in the garner of the farmers of Pennsylvania in 1860 was seventy-four million one hundred and three thousand nine hundred and ninety-three bushels. A tax on this for humanity's sake would yield us thirty-seven thousand fifty-one dollars and fifty cents. In the same year we mined, in Pennsylvania, eleven million eight hundred and ninety-seven thousand three hundred and thirty-two tons of coal. Better by far tax it one cent per ton, than that one of God's immortal children should be lost through their ignorance and our crime. This one cent per ton on our coal in 1860, would yield us one hundred and eighteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-three dollars and thirty-two cents. The quantity of coal that will be mined the present year will be far greater and much more profitable. In 1860 we produced in Pennsylvania five hundred and fifty-three thousand five hundred and sixty tons of pig iron. There is not an iron master in the State that would not have made money to have paid five cents per ton on his iron, to have had the children of his own workmen educated and cared for. This tax in the aggregate would amount to twenty-seven thousand six hundred and seventy-eight dollars. The quantity of iron manufactured in 1866 has since been increased very much.

The number of passengers carried upon our railroads in 1866 was twelve million seven hundred and thirty-four thousand two hundred and eighteen (I do not include city railroad passengers, white or black). Better by far tax those who ride in our railroad cars one cent each, than that one immortal soul should perish. This tax alone would amount to one hundred and twenty-seven thousand three hundred and forty-two dollars and eighteen cents. In 1866 we moved upon our railroads and carried two hundred and forty-six million two hundred and eighty-two thousand six hundred and forty-two tons, which, at one cent per ton, would produce two million four hundred sixty-two thousand eight hundred and twenty-six dollars and forty-two cents. In 1866 we swallowed two hundred and eighty-eight million drinks of poison in Pennsylvania, which, had we taxed but one-fourth cent per dram, would amount to seventy-two thousand dollars. We paid out for these drinks, at the rate of six cents each, would amount to one million seven hundred and twenty-eight thousand dollars. This item alone would pay our State debt in two years, and our national debt, if put into a sinking fund, in a lifetime.

It is ostensibly true, yet really false that the State has met with financial losses, and, therefore, unable to be charitable in 1867. Three hundred thousand dollars the State (it is said) has lost on the tax on National Banks, which money the State had never had to lose.

The State lost one million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars by the repeal of the tax on real estate. The people, forsooth, lost this amount by keeping their pocket-books in their own breeches' pockets. Pennsylvania, with her State tax upon real estate repealed, can reduce her State debt in peace as she did in war. We can reduce our State debt this year a half million of money, and at the same time pay all proper objects of charity and State necessities.

Charity's headquarters, in Pennsylvania, are as grand as our mountains. The two earthly pillars which sustain us are the Church and State. Distinctly separate, yet invisibly one. We must strengthen them both, and weaken neither. If either should fail, it ruins the foundations of both.

The amendment of Mr. FISHER, as modified, was adopted—ayes 13, noes 11.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Chairman, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that we have homeless and friendless children in our section of the State. I cannot equal my eloquent friend from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER] in expatiating upon the woes of the soldiers' orphans, or in enlarging upon the merits and deserts of the soldier himself. But, sir, within the sound of the dinner-horn of a home house lies the orphan child whose father was buried beneath the Southern sands; yet, sir, there are those there who see that he is fed, clad and educated. Inasmuch, however, as the State seems disposed to adopt these children as the wards of the State, the recipients of the bounty of the Commonwealth—inasmuch as we have provided for such children in Philadelphia, in Lancaster, in Harrisburg, in York, I propose to hold the Senate to a line of consistency, and I move to amend by adding an appropriation of two thousand dollars to the benefit of the homeless and friendless in Bradford county. Now, sir, we shall see who will stand up for the homeless and friendless.

Mr. COWLES. I move to amend the amendment by adding two thousand dollars for the homeless and friendless in McKean and Tioga counties.

Mr. FISHER. If these gentlemen will say they have institutions established in their respective counties for the reception of friendless and homeless children—that they have such children there and are taking care of them, and have done so, by private contributions—I will vote for these propositions; because I want to take care of the friendless and the homeless children.

Mr. LANDON. We have the homeless and friendless children that need to be cared for; and we claim that if the State is to carry this class of children in her arms, she must do it in our county as well as elsewhere. I am in dead earnest in this matter.

Mr. GRAHAM. I move to amend the amendment by adding three thousand dollars for the Ladies' Home for the Friendless Children in Allegheny city.

Mr. SCHALL. I move to amend by adding two thousand dollars for the directors of the poor in each of the counties of Lehigh and Northampton.

Mr. LOWRY. I desire to ask the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LASPOX] whether there is in his county an institution of this kind regularly organized?

Mr. LANDON. We have homeless and friendless children; and we are about organizing a regular systematic institution, which this aid from the State will help us to accomplish.

Mr. LOWRY. This would enable you to organize?

Mr. LANDON. We all contribute of our substance to organize the institution; but this money from the State will aid us just as it does others.

Mr. TAYLOR. I desire to ask the Senator from Bradford whether in his county they have made any move toward providing for the friendless children?

Mr. LANDON. Yes, sir, we have "moved"; our teams loaded with wood; we have "moved" our greenbacks; and now we want to "move" the treasury. Yes, we "move."

Mr. CONNELL. It seems to be the disposition of the committee to go back to the policy of 1864 and previous years. I have the act of 1864 before me; and I move to amend by adding the following:

For the Home for Destitute Colored Children of Philadelphia, one thousand dollars; for St. Joseph's Catholic Hospital, Philadelphia, five thousand dollars.

Mr. JACKSON. I move to amend by inserting:

Two thousand dollars for the homeless and friendless in Sullivan county.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Chairman, we have in our county an institution for the support of which twenty thousand dollars has been spent within the last year. I move to amend by adding:

For the homeless and friendless in Bucks county, two thousand dollars.

Mr. CONNELL. Is that institution incorporated?

Mr. JAMES. No, sir, but we could incorporate it.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Chairman, I see the object of these various motions. According to the old maxim, "it is the last straw that breaks the camel's back;" and gentlemen are trying to overload this bill so as to defeat the several very meritorious propositions which have been already adopted. If these gentlemen can present a record showing that their respective counties have done anything for the friendless and the homeless, I will go with them in support of their propositions; but until they do so, I shall oppose them. It is a very easy matter to try to load this thing down with amendments that will kill the whole; but I offered my amendment in all seriousness; my friend from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] offered his in all seriousness; so did my friend from York. In each of our districts there is an existing institution which has been maintained for years by private charity. As to the institution in my own district the patriot daughters of Lancaster organized it four or five years ago. It has been kept up by voluntary contributions. It has been my pleasure and my privilege to contribute my mite toward supporting it. These gentlemen from Bradford county and all these other places can present no such record. Their districts have not established and maintained any institution of this kind. They propose appropriations to be given to the poor-houses. I do not ask such an appropriation for the Lancaster poor-house. This institution, for the benefit of our paupers, is maintained out of the county funds. But this home for friendless children is something entirely different. Who keeps it up? The patriot daughters of Lancaster, whose works of love and mercy are known and read of all men. There is scarcely a soldier of the Army of the Potomac who has not been the recipient of their bounty. I appeal to my friend from Philadelphia [Gen. M'CALLISTER] to bear me out in the statement that after many of our battles, these ladies came with barrels of bread, and potatoes, and vegetables of all kinds, ministering to the needs of our poor wounded soldiers.

Mr. CONNELL. Are we to pay for that? Mr. FISHER. No, sir; but these same ladies that did this work for the soldiers are now engaged in taking care of the orphans of those soldiers and of others.

When an appropriation is asked for a noble object of this kind, why should gentlemen seek to load it down with improper amendments, proposing appropriations for poor houses and for institutions that do not exist? Let me repeat to the Senator from Bradford in this body. I know, too, his object. He wants to load down this proposition with amendments and kill it. I trust, however, that the Senate, in its good sense, will see the propriety of standing by this State institution; for, sir, it is not local in its character; it takes children from all parts of the Commonwealth and even from other States. It provides for their wants, without regard to locality or nationality.

Mr. SHOEMAKER. Mr. Chairman, we have in our county an institution of precisely the same character as that described by the Senator from Lancaster. It has been in operation some four years. The citizens of the county have contributed over twenty thousand dollars toward the erection of suitable buildings, and the institution is now supporting more than one hundred of the homeless and friendless. It does seem to me that, if any institution is entitled to aid, ours deserves it. I therefore move to amend by adding:

For the Home for the Friendless at Wilkes-barre, three thousand dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. Now, Mr. Chairman, be serious in this matter, if the Senator from Bradford will modify his amendment so as to provide that for every dollar appropriated by the State, the citizens of Bradford county will contribute ten dollars for the same purpose, I will vote for his amendment.

SEVERAL SENATORS. So will I.
Mr. COLEMAN. This is the difference between the two cases. The citizens of Lancaster and Harrisburg have contributed in that proportion. With this condition attached, I am willing to vote for the Senator's proposition.

Mr. LANDON. I should wish to have the same condition attached to the appropriations for other localities. I am very willing, however, to assent to the Senator's proposition. The citizens of Bradford county are willing to contribute ten dollars for every one they receive from the State.

Mr. BIGHAM. I wish to say a word in favor of the institution named in the amendment of my colleague [Mr. GRANAM]. It is called the Ladies' Home for Friendless Children, and is located in Allegheny City. It has been in existence for probably thirty years. It was formerly located in a different situation; but in consequence of the advance of improvements, it has, within two or three years, made a new location. I have no doubt that the institution can show fifty dollars contributed by private liberality for every dollar of the appropriation that is now asked.

Mr. WHITE. Inasmuch as it seems to be the policy of the Senate to provide for this class of the destitute by State appropriations, I move to amend by adding two thousand dollars for the friendless and homeless of each of the counties of Indiana, Cambria and Jefferson.

Mr. RANDALL. I move to add an appropriation for Schuylkill county.

Mr. BILLINGFELT. There seems to be a disposition to offer amendments so as to embrace every county in the Commonwealth. Let us, then, take as the basis, the appropriation of eight thousand dollars for Philadelphia, and appropriate to every county in a corresponding proportion.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Chairman, I am surprised, and I have no doubt that that stranger happening to be in the gallery at the present time must be surprised, to learn the number of homeless and friendless children in this great Commonwealth of ours. Now, sir, I would offer an amendment to embrace the homeless and the friendless in my district, if we had any; but, sir, we have no homeless and friendless children in my district. The children all have homes and are well cared for; they do not require to come here begging. Let the counties of my district are among the worst abused in the Commonwealth.

Mr. COLEMAN. I would suggest to the Senator from Fayette [Mr. SEARIGHT] that when the Connellsville railroad is built, his district will have some friendless children.

Mr. SEARIGHT. The Connellsville railroad is built and in running order through my district.

Mr. BHOWNE (Lawrence). I move to amend by adding:

Two thousand dollars for the Orphans' Asylum School of Zehony.

This institution, which is one of the noblest charities in the whole Commonwealth, is under the care of John Passivant, whose fame as a philanthropist extends throughout and beyond the State. It has been the means of accomplishing great good.

Mr. TAYLOR. I desire to amend by adding:

Two thousand dollars for the Orphans' Home of Beaver county.

This institution is under the care of Mr. Passivant, the same gentleman who conducts the farm school for which the Senator from Lawrence has asked an appropriation.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). I move to amend by adding the following:

And two thousand dollars to each of the boards of directors of the poor in Mercer and Venango counties, and two thousand dollars for the Rouse Hospital in Warren county.

Mr. JACKSON. I move to amend by adding at the end of this move the following:

And that the appropriations made in this section shall be deducted from the amount appropriated for the payment of Senators' and Members' salaries.

Mr. LANDON. I accept all these various amendments.

Mr. DONOVAN. We have only three or four more working days of the session left; and I think that we should consider and discuss this appropriation bill seriously; not turn our proceedings into a mere burlesque.

Mr. BIGHAM. At present, we are not making any progress in this matter. There are so many amendments pending that no one can tell what they all are. I therefore propose that by common consent all our action on this subject be regarded as reconsidered; and then let the subject go over till the second reading of the bill, when we can vote intelligently and can have the yeas and nays.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Chairman, as I understand, if I now withdraw my amendment, all these various propositions will fall. With that understanding, and in order to arrive at the temper and disposition of the Senate, I withdraw my amendment, and move to reconsider the vote by which the fifty-fourth section, stricken out by the Committee on Finance, was reinserted.

The motion to reconsider is

Agreed to.

The question recurred on the adoption of the section as amended.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Chairman, if my amendment must fail, if the proposition of the Senator from Lebanon, and that of the Senator from York must fail, I hope that, at least, the Northern Home for Friendless Children, in Philadelphia, may be sustained. It is emphatically a State institution. Nobody doubts that. There is nothing local in its character. If we must lose all that we hold dear outside of Philadelphia, in heaven's name let us stand by that noble institution.

The section as amended was agreed to— yeas 16, nays 12.

The fifty-fifth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 55. For the Gettysburg Battle-field Memorial association, the sum of five thousand dollars, to be applied to the purchase of portions of the battle-grounds, the general purposes for which said association was incorporated.

The fifty-sixth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 56. For the salary of the clerk in the Board of Military Claims, the sum of one thousand four hundred dollars, to be computed from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

For the salary of the messenger to the Board of Military Claims, the sum of eight hundred dollars, and not more than fifty thousand dollars shall be paid on account of such claims in any fiscal year.

The fifty-seventh section was read as follows:

Sec. 57. For the expenses of the Pennsylvania State agency at Washington, the sum of twelve thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and the compensation of the State Agent shall be at the rate of three thousand dollars and that of the Assistant Agent shall be at the rate of twenty-five hundred per annum.

Mr. BURNETT. I hope that this section will be stricken out.

The section was

Agreed to.

The fifty-eighth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 58. For the painting, papering and furnishing the office of the Attorney General in the city of Harrisburg, the sum of twelve hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid upon the certificate of the Attorney General, and he is authorized and empowered to occupy the room in the capitol building adjoining that now used as the Supreme Court room; for re-arranging the Executive Chamber, the sum of one thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid upon the certificate of the Governor, and for re-flooring the Surveyor General's office, and for re-arranging the cases therein, the further sum of five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid upon the certificate of the Surveyor General.

The fifty-ninth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 59. To the trustees of the Saint Paul Methodist Episcopal church, of the city of Philadelphia, the sum of twelve hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be found due said church by the Board of Military Claims of this Commonwealth, for tents belonging to said church and used by the State during the rebellion, and said board is hereby authorized and required to examine and pass upon the claim of said church for the use and loss of said tents.

The sixtieth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 60. That the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the necessary expenses, including clerk hire, of the select committees appointed by the House and Senate at the present session, upon accounts to be certified by the respective chairmen, and approved by the Auditor General; and that the pay of witnesses before said committees shall be two dollars per day, and of clerks five dollars per day for every day actually employed, and usual mileage: Provided, That this section shall not be construed to authorize the payment of any witness not regularly subpoenaed before the committee, or the payment of any sum of money to any member of the committee for his services, or of any expense accruing after the adjournment of the Legislature; and to John C. Sturtevant, for extra services as clerk on committee for investigation of alleged bribery and corruption in regard to election of United States Senator, the sum of one hundred dollars.

The sixty-first section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 61. For renewing the meridian line of Dauphin county, which was displaced by the extension of the Capitol, one hundred and sixty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be paid upon the certificate of the Surveyor General.

The sixty-second section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 62. For repairs to the dwelling house occupied by the keeper of the powder magazine in the Twenty-sixth ward of the city of Philadelphia, the sum of four hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

The sixty-third section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 63. To the Antietam National cemetery, the sum of five thousand dollars, to be drawn on the warrant of the Governor in such instalments as, in his judgment, may be required in the progress of enclosing the grounds and of raising and re-enterring the remains of Pennsylvania soldiers in the same.

The sixty-fourth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 64. That all the institutions, to which appropriations are made by this act, not now required by law to report and account for appropriations, shall make a detailed report, specifying the items, under each of one or more of its principal officers, of the expenditures of said appropriations, to the Legislature, before the first day of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

The sixty-fifth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 65. That the sum of five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated for the purchase of a portrait of the present Governor, to be placed in the Executive Department, to be expended under the direction of the chairman of the Senate Committee on the Library.

The sixty-sixth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 66. For the Marine hospital of Pennsylvania, at Erie, the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the purpose of erecting hospital buildings: Provided, That the citizens of Erie raise an equal amount for the same purpose.

The sixty-seventh section was read as follows:

Sec. 67. That the sum of two hundred dollars is hereby appropriated to each of the four reporters employed on the Legislative Record in the House of Representatives, and to Henry J. Mason, T. B. Cochran, R. McDevitt and H. G. Sedman, reporters of the Senate.

Mr. FISHER. This looks to me like a very big thing. We are paying about five dollars more per page for the Record than we get it printed for elsewhere, and now it is proposed that we shall pay the reporters.

The section was

Agreed to.

The sixty-eighth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

Sec. 68. That the Auditor General and the State Treasurer be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to examine into the claim of L. M. Simon for furnishing plans, elevations, section, and specifications for the extension to the capitol, and also for furnishing plans and specifications for the extension of Governor's mansion; and allow him such compensation therefor as, after consultation with other architects, they may deem just and equitable.

The sixty-ninth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

For the erection and completion of an addition to the Governor's mansion, according to the plan and specification furnished by L. M. Simon, architect, the sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be expended under the direction of the Governor; and no portion of this money shall be paid over to the contractor for such work until he shall be in the office of the Auditor General, his bond, with two sureties in twenty thousand dollars, to be approved by the Auditor General, conditioned for the faithful performance of his contract in erecting and completing such addition.

The seventieth section was read and agreed to, as follows:

For finishing and furnishing the new library room and removing the books thereto, fifteen thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be expended by the Librarian, with the approval of the Governor and the State Treasurer, the accounts to be audited and settled by the Auditor General, in the usual manner.

Mr. COLEMAN. After all the appropriations which have been spent upon that library room, it seems to me remarkable that there should now be proposed an appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars more. It may be all right, but I should like to know how much money has already been spent on this building, and how much more we are going to spend on it.

Mr. CONNELL. The architect last year gave us an estimate of what he thought would probably be necessary to furnish the library room, that estimate embracing various items and specifications. It seems that after the adjournment of the Legislature it was found necessary to put in a new floor throughout; and, in consequence of this change, the iron pillars had to be reduced five inches in length. This alteration alone cost five thousand dollars.

Besides that, the estimates furnished last year included nothing for painting and nothing for glass, though all the cases must have glass. No estimate was made for carpet, for cutting and laying it; for freight, for stair-rods. I have here a statement of all those items not included in the estimates of last year, making, with the cost of the necessary charges, a grand total of fourteen thousand seven hundred dollars, and allowing about seven hundred dollars for incidental expenses, the aggregate is fifteen thousand dollars. The Librarian expressed to me his mortification that this additional appropriation should be rendered necessary. He said it resulted from no fault of his; that at the time there were no working-plans, everything was mere guess work. It was supposed that the estimates then made would properly finish the building. We are assured that hereafter there will be no more demands upon us for this library. We have the room there incomplete; and of course there is nothing for us to do but build.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. There seems to be a little prejudice in the minds of some Senators in regard to this building. It is admitted by those who made the estimates last year that there were a number of items not taken into account. I think that last year two members of the other house, one gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE], and another from Allegheny [Mr. STACE], were appointed a sub-committee to examine into the matter; and they made a report which they thought embraced everything. I understand, however, that the same gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE] admits that a number of items were entirely overlooked, and were therefore not embraced in the estimate then made. I do not know whether there is any fault in regard to the management of this matter. If there is, I do not think it lies with the Librarian; it must lie with the commissioners who were appointed for the purpose of contracting for this building and having it erected. In the course of erecting the building, it was found necessary to change certain parts of the plan entirely. No arrangement was made at first for having the building fire-proof and it became necessary to appropriate thirty thousand dollars additional for that purpose. The commissioners, at their own option, without consulting the Legislature, changed the plan in that respect. A sufficient amount was appropriated for that purpose. Last year there was added a skylight, which had not been embraced in the original estimate, and money was appropriated for that purpose. Now, an appropriation is demanded for the purpose of meeting expenditures which were not embraced in the estimate and the appropriation of last year. As has been remarked by the Senator from Philadelphia [Mr. CONNELL], the only question now for Senators to decide is whether they will finish that room and remove the library into it, or whether the room shall remain in its present condition and be closed up.

Mr. SCHALL. I desire to ask the Senator how much this capitol extension has cost the State up to the present time?

Mr. WORTHINGTON. The first appropriation was fifty thousand dollars. I think the next was thirty thousand dollars.

Mr. CONNELL. Thirty-five thousand dollars.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. And last year we appropriated, I believe, thirty-nine thousand dollars.

Mr. SCHALL. One other question: Was there a contract, with specifications, for the completion of the building when the Legislature agreed to make this addition?

Mr. WORTHINGTON. The contract was made by the commissioners who had charge of the matter. Fifty thousand dollars I think was appropriated the first year.

Mr. CONNELL. That was not for a fire-proof building.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. It was afterward deemed necessary to make the building fire-proof, which was not contemplated in the original estimate. Consequently an additional appropriation of thirty-five thousand dollars was made the next year, being advocated by the then Senator from Berks, Mr. Clymer, who was the father of this project. Last year it became necessary to make an appropriation for a skylight and a gallery, which had not been embraced in the previous estimates. Now, that library must be furnished. I have no doubt that this appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars will finish the whole thing. It is for us to say whether we shall lock up that building and let it remain useless after so much money has been expended upon it, or whether we shall finish it by appropriating fifteen thousand dollars more.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I do not wish to leave this building incomplete; and I do not wish fifteen thousand dollars to be unnecessary for its completion; but it strikes me that the expenses attending its completion thus far have been very great. It seems to me there has been great extravagance. I think the present appropriation is very loose in its terms. If it was provided that the whole thing should be submitted to a board of two or three competent carpenters or builders, whose duty it should be to pass on all these bills and to review all the past expenditures, with the provision that no more money shall be paid out than this board might find to be necessary, I should be willing to vote additional appropriations.

I have been in this library room once or twice. I see there is a railing running round between the columns, as if there were to be a menagerie inside. The object of that railing I do not know. I suppose that in a year or two we shall be asked to make an appropriation for the removal of that railing; we shall be told that the legislators of Pennsylvania are not wild beasts, and that the railing is not necessary. It seems to me that this whole thing should be under the supervision of some competent builders.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I will vote for any proposition of that kind which the Senator may introduce.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Chairman, I was in the Senate when the first appropriation was made for the extension of this capitol. We owe this improvement to Mr. Clymer, then a Senator from Berks. It is his monument; and Senators on the Democratic side of the chamber should not now turn their backs upon it. The first plan was to construct a building between this and the land office, and have appropriated fifty thousand dollars for that purpose. Upon examination, it was decided, and wisely decided, that this new building should not be placed there. The plan has been changed in several respects, and additional appropriations have been found necessary. But all this money has been expended, as future appropriations will be expended, under the direction of the Governor; and the accounts for all these expenditures pass under the examination of the proper officers. If we cannot trust these officers, in the name of God, whom shall we trust?

Shall we now refer to a small appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars and thus delay the work which is now on the point of completion, and this, too, when we are assured that this appropriation will cover every possible expense? Those who have this library in charge will thank you for the appointment of any committee to investigate this matter, from its origination up to the present hour. Those who have charge of the work at present had very little to do with it in the beginning. Send to Europe, if you choose, for Governor Curtin; swear him and he will tell you the matter is all right. In my judgment, sir, there has been no stealing. The men in charge of this matter have, I doubt not, acted honestly. Senators should not now higgie in regard to this appropriation, particularly those on the Democratic side of the chamber. They should recollect that this extension of the capitol is the movement of their late candidate for Governor, and that should be the last to raise their voices against it.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Chairman, I presume that when this matter comes up again on the second reading of the bill, we shall have had time to examine the question more closely. I must say that it seems to me singular that our attention should now be called to this matter by the Senator representing this district.

Mr. COLEMAN. I merely asked for information. I know nothing about the matter. I do not accuse anybody. It may be, for aught I know, that everybody connected with the work of this building has lost money and become bankrupt. I make no charges against anybody.

Mr. BIGHAM. I desire to say that for one I think we ought to congratulate ourselves on the smallness of these charges, compared with the very large prices generally paid for all kinds of Government work. I am glad that the amount is not two or three times greater than it is.

But, sir, what I rose to say was that, as we have now reached the conclusion of the bill, I hope the committee will rise, and that we shall not take it up on second reading until Monday, so that meanwhile we may attend to our local matters. To-day and tomorrow are the last days on which private bills can go to the House. By Monday, we can all have made up our minds on the questions involved in this appropriation bill, and can dispose of it with dispatch.

The section was

Agreed to.

The seventy-first and last section was read as follows:

That the sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be placed at the disposal of the Governor as a contingent fund, to be used at his discretion, if any circumstances shall, in his opinion, make it necessary.

Mr. BIGHAM. That has not been customary in appropriation bills.

Mr. SCHALL. I should like to hear what that is for.

Mr. CONNELL. The Governor thinks that there might arise a contingency in which he would want the use of a sum of money, not specifically appropriated. If he should expend any of this, he would of course present an account of the expenditure to the next Legislature.

Mr. FISHER. The President of the United States has three million dollars at his disposal at all times.

Mr. CONNELL. Governor Curtin had the disposal of such a sum.

The section was

Agreed to.

Mr. LOWRY. I move to amend by adding the following as a new section:

To Hon. Samuel P. Johnson, of Warren county, forty-five dollars for unpaid balance due upon monument erected by the Commonwealth to Complanter.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

Mr. DONOVAN. I move to amend by adding the following as a new section:

To the Home of the Sisters of Charity, Erie, one thousand dollars.

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

Mr. McCANDLESS. I move to amend by adding the following as a new section:

Five thousand dollars to the Polytechnic College of the State of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of establishing in said college five State scholarships.

In lieu of any remarks of my own upon this amendment, I ask the Clerk to read an article which I find in the Philadelphia Ledger to-day.

The Clerk read as follows:

"THE POLYTECHNIC COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.—The Polytechnic College in this city is the first established institution of the kind in this country. In Paris, the first Napoleon regarded the instruction given by a corresponding institution of the same name as of the first national importance, so much so that he protected and promoted it with great care. The scientific, technical and professional instruction this institution imparts to the young men there trained, fits them most directly to conduct works of the greatest national importance, whether in peace or war. Incorporated in 1853 by the State Legislature, with the Executive of the State officially at the head of its board of trustees, it has gone on, steadily growing in public favor, in usefulness, and ripe experience. Its schools have been and are being organized as the demand for them requires. The School of chemistry was established in 1849, and organized under the charter in 1852. Here the application of chemistry to agriculture is taught, and the examination and smelting of ores, refining of metals, the arts of dyeing and pottery, analysis, &c. The School of Civil Engineering was established in 1863, and through this, a young man with a taste for mathematics and an eye for architectural beauty, may rapidly rise to distinction in the construction of public works, railroads, canals, bridges. The School of Mechanical Engineering was established in the next year, and instructs especially in the principles of machinery, the mechanical powers, air, water, steam and electro-magnetism. The School of Mines was established in 1857, and prepares its students for all the various work of mine engineering, determining the value of mineral lands, including the best methods of opening shafts, drains, boring for water or petroleum. The Architectural School, established in 1860, with John McArthur, Jr., Edward Collins and Samuel Sloan as advisory council, teaches every part of the architect's art—foundations and roofs, arches and stairways, material and form, walls and decorations, drawing and designing. The Agricultural School, drawing its exact knowledge from chemistry, and its practical illustrations at the experimental farm of one hundred and seventy-five acres in Montgomery county, has an advisory council of one from each of the five County Agricultural Societies most immediately round Philadelphia. Military tactics and drill are also taught generally to the students.

The instruction here imparted is not an attempt to popularize knowledge, but to give scientific instruction. It has been strongly recommended by former Governors in their annual State messages to the Legislatures for the favorable consideration and patronage of that body. The graduates from some of the schools are now settled, managing works of great importance, in all the mining regions of our own State and in very many other States of the Union. The size of the classes and annual number of graduates, we are glad to find, are steadily increasing.

It is impossible to foresee or even to calculate the effects of one such institution as this upon a State like ours, or indeed upon the whole country, in developing its mining, mechanical and industrial resources. About twenty of the principal institutions in Europe have been visited within the last few years, on purpose to improve this one, by incorporating the latest improvements in the instruction given in the various arts and sciences. Among the institutions visited were the National Polytechnic Schools in Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Zurich, Karlsruhe and Munich. If anything can call out the ambition of a young man and give his education a practical and profitable turn, it surely should be in some one of the departments of an institution like this that he will be wakened up. We believe that there are many parents and young men who do not sufficiently appreciate the value of such courses of instruction as are opened to them in our Polytechnic school, and which are so exactly adapted to their wants.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The committee rose, and the chairman reported the bill to the House with the amendment.

Mr. GLATZ moved that 8 o'clock, instead of 7½ o'clock, be fixed as the time for the commencement of the evening session.

The motion was

Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the Senate adjourned till 8 o'clock, p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate reassembled at 7½ o'clock.

TO-MORROW'S SESSION.

Mr. CONNELL moved that the Senate hold a session to-morrow morning, commencing at 10 o'clock, and also a session in the afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RIDGWAY and Mr. CONNELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Graham, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—21.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Coleman, Glatz, M'Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Senright and Walls—10.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE HOSPITAL.

Mr. WORTHINGTON sent to the Clerk's desk, to be read, the following letter:

PENNA STATE LUNATIC HOSPITAL,
HARRISBURG, April 5, 1867.

Hon. W. Worthington:

DEAR SIR—Joel R. Ritter was removed from this hospital on December 22nd, 1865. If his family had any cause of complaint, as to his treatment while here, it seems to me it would have been the proper course to have made them at once, or within a reasonable time after his removal. As I did not hear the charges made, and as the statement made to me was very indefinite, I cannot give a specific and definite answer. Of this, however, I have a very distinct recollection, that Mr. Ritter had almost entirely lost his memory, that he could not recollect what he had done a few moments afterwards, and that he had to be looked after constantly to keep him neatly dressed, and in a proper condition to be seen. The attendants gave him all the care and attention he would allow them to give, and there may have been periods in the day when he may not have been as neat and his clothing as well arranged as it should have been, but that arose from no want of attention on the part of the attendants, but simply from their inability to be with him constantly, and give proper attention to the other patients and the duties necessarily devolving on them. It is easier to find fault than to keep things in their proper channel, and have them move on harmoniously; and I do not claim exemption for myself or for the attendants I employ from the common failings of humanity, but I am at all times ready to have the affairs of this hospital fully and thoroughly investigated, and have never yet, nor do I hope ever will shrink from a full examination of the treatment of the patients, or the manner in which they are looked after. Mr. Ritter was regularly bathed, his clothing was changed as often as was necessary to keep him clean and comfortable, and whatever was requisite to keep him in a proper condition was done, and it had to be done often on account of his forgetfulness, and no man ever had more kind and careful treatment than he had. The men may not have attended to him as a daughter or wife would have done, and they were frequently reminded of their duty and urged to give very careful attention to everything needed to promote the comfort, welfare and happiness of those entrusted to their charge.

Very respectfully, yours,

JOHN CURWEN.

BILLS CONSIDERED AND PASSED.

On motion of Mr. BIGHAM, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled An act to authorize the appointment of short hand clerks for the courts of Allegheny county.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. RANDALL, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled A further supplement to an act entitled An act to incorporate the Potter County Lumber, coal and petroleum company, approved the 24th day of March, A. D. 1866, changing the name thereof, authorizing them to hold lands in Northumberland county, and to purchase their franchises, timber and timber lands.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BROWN, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill entitled An act relative to a burial vault and ground in Hempfield township, in the county of Mercer.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. CONNELL, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled An act to incorporate the Asbury life insurance and trust company of the city of Philadelphia.

The bill was read a second and a third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BURNETT, the Committee on the Judiciary General was discharged, and the Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of bill entitled An act to repeal an act regulating the jurisdiction of courts in proceedings by bill, for injunction and other relief in equity, and the service of process.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. This is an attempt to repeal an act which has become a law in this session—an act of general application—and I hope this repeal is not to go through in this manner. The original bill was carefully considered by the General Judiciary, reported affirmatively, passed both Houses, and was approved. The bill now before the Senate was referred to the Judiciary, acted upon, and reported negatively. I hope, sir, we are not to undo what we have done deliberately and with care.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, this, like many other acts of Assembly, was passed without proper examination. The bill which was passed gives any law judge the authority to arrest any work of internal improvement upon any caprice. It gives them too much power, and this bill is to repeal that act.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, certainly, the reasons given by the Senator are not sufficient. That bill was drafted by one of the best judges in the State, and the reason which lies at the foundation is one which I think commendable; the act sought to be repealed to the approbation of the profession, and justifies us in retaining it. It affects my own locality to a very slight degree. It is in this, sir: In actions at law, proceedings must originate in the county in which the cause of action arises. As a universal thing, that is the law of the State. The same rule held in cases of equity jurisdiction, until a few years ago, when the law was changed and permitted proceedings in equity to originate in the Supreme Court. The act which we passed this session, replaced subjects of equity jurisdiction where they had been before, and where the rule puts all actions at law, requiring them to originate in the county in which the cause of action arose. There is no propriety in subjecting a suitor in equity to the inconvenience, trouble and expense which arose under the change of the jurisdiction from the court of the proper county, to the Supreme Court. Many of these cases occur in the oil regions; these controversies arise which are proper subjects of equity jurisdiction; and one party desiring the advantage of the other, would go to Philadelphia, and originate a proceeding in equity before the Supreme Court in banc, and compel the other party to travel hundreds of miles and employ counsel, at very great expense and inconvenience, or take the alternative to succumb and abandon his rights or yield an inequitable compromise. It is to break up an abuse of that kind that the jurisdiction in proceedings in equity is placed just where it is in actions at law.

This did not deprive persons of the right to go to the Supreme Court ultimately, because the party had his remedy by going to the Supreme Court in Error, just as actions arising in law. Thus it placed the proceedings where they properly belong.

Mr. WHITE. We changed a venue the day before yesterday on the principle which was recognized in this bill.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the first and only section?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CONAUGHY and Mr. BURNETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, James, Landon, M'Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Seairight, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and Worthington—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Browne, (Lawrence), Coleman, Cowles, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker and White—6.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill was read a third time and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BROWN, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill entitled A further supplement to an act relative to paving streets, &c, &c, in the borough of New Castle, approved the 23d day of March, A. D. 1866.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. COWLES, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill entitled A supplement to an act appointing commissioners to lay out and open a State road in the counties of Potter and Clinton, approved March 21st, A. D. 1865.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. BILLINGFELT, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bill entitled A supplement to an act relating to orphans' courts and for other purposes, passed the 15th day of October, 1840, empowering said courts to incorporate saving fund associations.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the rules were dispensed with, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill entitled An act to authorize the trustees of certain lands in Venango county, Pennsylvania, to borrow money for the development of said lands, and to perfect the titles to said lands by contesting the right at law of adverse claimants.

The bill was read a second and third time, and

Passed finally.

On motion of Mr. M'CANDLESS, the Senate resumed the second reading and consideration of a bill entitled An act for the better protection of life and property from explosion of steam boilers.

The bill was read as follows:

WHEREAS, Great loss of life and property has resulted to the people of this Commonwealth from the explosion of steam boilers, and it is desirable that a remedy be provided for the same, as far as practicable, by requiring such adjustments to steam boilers as will furnish an early and adequate alarm of danger from the low state of water therein:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and

House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Governor be and is hereby authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of three skillful and practical engineers, to examine the different appliances for diminishing the risk of explosion of steam boilers, and to report to him, as early as practicable, the appliance which they believe to be best suited for the purpose.

SEC. 2. That any person who shall, at any time after three months from the making of said report to the Governor, as above provided for, and from actual notice thereof, use or operate any steam boiler without affixing thereto the appliance recommended by said commission, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars, payable to the Commonwealth, to be collected as penalties of like amount are now collected by law.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to the passage of this bill. If it is to be passed I hope it will be amended. I believe I am just as anxious to preserve the lives of the people of this Commonwealth as any one else. I have seen bills of this nature, and, unless it is improved, it looks to me like forcing some patent right upon every manufacturer in the State. I fear that there is danger of over-legislation in this matter. You may pass all the laws you please, and apply these patents, but unless the engineer or party in charge of the boiler attends to his business it is of no account. Every intelligent man will use everything that modern science will grant him for the preservation of property, and for the protection of the lives of his employees. Therefore, I object to this bill, because it says that a commission shall be appointed by the Governor, who would, no doubt, select proper parties, but I am afraid he might not be a proper person in this branch of business, not being an engineer, and that the commission may report in favor of Mr. Jones' or Mr. Smith's patent, which would have to be applied.

Mr. M'CANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, the Senator is not stating the fact correctly. The Governor is to appoint three skillful and practical engineers, who are competent to make this examination, and make a proper selection.

Mr. COLEMAN. I am aware of that, but I think over-legislation is our difficulty here. If my boiler explodes, I can say that I am authorized to use Mr. Smith's patent, and I get rid of the responsibility, and, therefore, I ask the jury to relieve me of the responsibility, because I have complied with the law. That is the danger I see here. I am opposed to the whole bill on that account.

The second section says:

"That any person who shall at any time after three months from the making of said report to the Governor, as above provided for, and from actual notice thereof, use or operate any steam boiler without affixing thereto the appliance recommended by said commission, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars, payable to the Commonwealth, to be collected as penalties of like amount are now collected by law."

Now, I do not want to restrict this to any one appliance; but they should have the privilege of reporting half a dozen, if one is equal to the other.

In 1863 or 1864, this same bill, or one like it, was sprung upon the House, very much in the way that I have just stated; and it happened to be near the Clerk's desk, and checked the passage of that bill by a statement similar to this. The next day a gentleman called upon me, and inquired who that man was who opposed that bill, and, learning that it was myself, wanted to know why I opposed his bill. "Your bill," says I; "who are you?" "Why, I have got a patent low-water detector, to prevent the explosion of steam boilers." "Oh," says I, "that's all right. I was not aware of anything of the kind. I didn't know it was your bill." He found out the condition of things there. He brought me a model of his patent. I examined his arrangement, and he put one on my boiler; it was a good patent—the best thing I have seen. That bill, I know, was got up for that particular purpose by a particular patentee; he thought he could force this thing on the State. If that thing is to be done, I want it a little more liberal than it is. I think there is a great deal of humbug in the whole thing. This thing is like lawyers and doctors—you cannot get them to agree. If the bill is to pass, I hope the second section, at least, will be modified.

Mr. M'CANDESS. I have no objections to the Senator from Lebanon improving it in any way he desires; I desire to say at this time, also, that he presupposes a great deal in his statement to the Senate that I have an interest in some patent right.

Mr. COLEMAN. I beg the Senator's pardon; I did not mean to intimate anything of the kind.

Mr. M'CANDESS. Mr. Speaker, I did not prepare the bill or present it, and did not know anything about it until a few days ago, when I found it, and I thought it a very convenient thing. Being an engineer myself, I am certain there is a necessity for some such thing as this. To suppose that a single individual is getting this up, is to suppose that the Governor and the commission would have to be corrupted. To my certain knowledge there are hundreds of boilers in this Commonwealth that have no appliance of any kind for gagging the water, except, perhaps, the safety-valve and what they call their common gag-cock. Now, there will be a necessity for every man who owns boilers to have some kind of an appliance which will make it impossible for those boilers to explode, if such a thing is possible, and it is with that desire that I am anxious that this bill should pass. If the Senator from Lebanon [Mr. COLEMAN] will indicate any amendment which will improve it I will be happy to adopt his suggestion.

Mr. COLEMAN. I was not aware that his Senator was an engineer; I thought he was a simple hero and warrior. But if that is his profession, he perhaps knows more than I do about it. I would like to ask the gentleman, as an engineer, how he suggests to prevent explosion by a low water detector. Some say explosion is caused by electricity.

Mr. M'CANDESS. I have always thought it was caused by non-attendance, in not keeping water up.

Mr. COLEMAN moved to amend the first section by making the word "appliance" read "appliances."

The amendment was

Agreed to.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the first section?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLEMAN and Mr. M'CANDESS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Davis, Fisher, Glaz, Jackson, James, M' Candless, Schall, Searight, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace and Wells—15.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingslet, Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Graham, Haines, Landon, M'Conaughy, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Stutzman and Worthington—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. COWLES. Mr. Speaker, there is a large amount of property invested in steam boilers; the owners generally know how to take care of it; this bill is to take it out of our hands and give it to quacks, who have an interest in some worthless invention. We know that there are just as many reasons given for the explosion of steam boilers as there are men who study the thing. We are proposing now to appoint a commission of three men to study this question, consult some patent-right fellow, and hunt up some invention. These men have an interest in these things; just consider the power you are giving to three men. If the first section is carried, it does nobody any harm; but you cannot pass a more dangerous section than this second one.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the Senator will vote down this second section. I have one or two amendments to offer; but the whole thing seems ridiculous to me. I remember, when I was a boy, there used to be an idea that every horse had to be bled on a certain day; that would be just as sensible as this legislation. But if we are to do it, I would move to amend by adding the following proviso to the end of the section:

Provided, That it shall be the duty of the commission to examine any appliances heretofore submitted to them, and, if found suitable, said appliances shall be allowed to be affixed to an boiler.

The amendment was

Not agreed to.

Mr. COWLES. I will vote to have it apply only to Philadelphia and Luzerne. The Senator from Philadelphia called it up, and the Senator from Luzerne wanted it.

Mr. SHOEMAKER. Mr. Speaker, if this is a good bill, I do not see any good reason why it should be confined to any special locality. If it is a bad bill, there is no necessity for passing it at all. It seems to me, there is a great deal more talk over it than is necessary. The bill was sent to me from Philadelphia, and it struck me that it would be really a useful law, because we have all of us heard of the great number of explosions in Philadelphia and elsewhere. Now, it seems to me it is the duty of the Legislature, if they can enact a law which will prevent the loss of life by the explosion of boilers, to do so. If this bill will have that result, we ought to pass it. Whether it is better to have any penalty attached to it is another matter. It struck me that if the Governor would appoint a commission, as instructed in the bill, and they should adopt some particular plan by which the explosion of boilers should be prevented, we should really obviate these explosions. That is all there is in this bill. It may be well if this section is stricken out, and have three men appointed, and report those appliances which they think would prevent explosions.

Mr. RANDALL. Who is going to pay them?

Mr. SHOEMAKER. I suppose men can be found to do it for nothing.

Mr. RIDGWAY. Mr. Speaker, there is more in this bill than is seen on its face; there is a job behind it somewhere; and, if I don't pay, there is no doubt a party to bore the Governor to adopt some patent-right. I think we should be careful before passing it.

Mr. CONNELL. It would be rather unfair in this Senate to impose this bill on Philadelphia, when three Senators from Philadelphia do not want it.

Mr. FISHER moved that the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present, and that the matter be referred to the Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation.

The motion was

Agreed to.

CLAIMS OF COL. M'LEAN.

On motion of Mr. LOWRY, the Senate resumed the second reading and consideration of bill entitled An act to authorize the board of military claims to re-examine the claim of the legal representatives of Colonel John W. M'Lean, deceased, of Erie county.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, I may misapprehend this case, but my understanding is, that, when they wanted to raise a regiment, in order to encourage them, the Senator from Erie [Mr. Lowry] contributed two thousand dollars toward that object. Col. M'Lean took the money; he fell in his country's defense. Now, the Senator from Erie says, because he did not apply that two thousand dollars to his own purposes and the support of his family, that this board shall examine the matter and see how much money shall be applied to him.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, about the middle of the session of the Legislature, I offered and the Senate adopted a resolution instructing the Committee on Military to inquire into and make report of the claim which I allege is due from the Commonwealth to Colonel John W. M'Lean's estate.

I laid before the committee all the facts within my own knowledge, and also procured the statement of James Skinner and others relative to the claim. That committee held this resolution long—I thought too long—under advisement; and when they did report, they said by a joint resolution, prepared by them, and not by me, that the board of claims might examine it and report to the next Legislature upon a claim which Col. M'Lean made upon the State for raising the Eighty-third regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. We had asked the committee for bread due the mother and wife and the little ones of Col. M'Lean, for raising a regiment at the orders of the Governor, which regiment never was mustered into the service of the Government, although recognized, received and discharged by the State. We asked for bread which you have kept from the stomachs of the mother, the wife and children of a dead hero, until they were as lank as grayhounds, and you proposed to give their bodies a stone next winter. Seeing the disposition, either from a want of a proper understanding or a natural aversion to all claims which the soldier has upon his country, I became a little restive, and read a bill in place directing the board of claims to examine, and if not paid for, to pay—not for raising the Eighty-third regiment, but what was known as the M'Lean regiment. I called that bill up. The chairman of the Committee on the Military pitched in, and the Senate was so befogged by us both that they sent the whole subject back to the same committee, and I was very disgust, all of which Senators WHITE, FISHER and myself agreed to strike out of the Record; neither of us want ed the world to read how unjust and ignorant we were.

I was saying that both bills and the whole subject were referred back again to the committee, and it is here fresh again to-night.

Senators understand me. We are not, by this bill, asking you to pay the representatives for raising the regiment with which he fought and died, but to pay him for a regiment which he raised for you, and whose men and commander nearly died because Mr. Lincoln would not let them fight.

Mr. CHATZ. How is that?

Mr. LOWRY. On the Friday upon Sumner, Governor Curtin telegraphed Colonel M'Lean to come to Harrisburg. He came, and I came with him. The Governor offered him the appointment of Commissary General of the State; he replied, in my hearing,

I will not take it; I'll fight! A cripple can perform the duties of that office. Governor Curtin replied, go, raise a regiment and fight; and he did go and raise a regiment, at his own expense, got as far as Pittsburg, was ordered into Camp Wilkins, and discharged at the end of one month, the State then, and subsequently, paying them for their time—nothing more, and hardly that.

Mr. JACKSON. Why were they discharged?

Mr. LOWRY. Because the President said he did not want them. Cameron did not want them; Lincoln did not want them. I urged Mr. Lincoln to receive them, as they were anxious to enlist for the war. Mr. Lincoln replied to me, that "seventy-five thousand men," which he then had, "was more than he wanted, and three months was more time than he would require to put down the rebellion in;" and so poor M'Lean was sent home to his old neighbors with a sad heart.

The scales soon dropped from Mr. Lincoln's eyes and in less than sixty days after the discharge of his regiment, the first regiment, the Erie regiment, the M'Lean regiment—a new regiment—was ordered to be raised. Colonel M'Lean—part out of old and part out of new material—raised the immortal Eighty third, at whose head he fell at the battle of Gettysburg. The amalgamation, at the death of M'Lean, was left in command of Young Strong Vincent, admitted to be the brightest and bravest soldier of his age in the American army. He fell at Gettysburg, and the ring of his voice is yet echoing in the mountains of Pennsylvania.

I decline to speak of any charity bestowed by myself. This Senate has nothing to do with that. The only question is, did Colonel M'Lean raise a regiment for the State on the order of the State, and has the State paid him or his representatives for raising, equipping and mounting a regiment at Erie? This is all that there is in it.

—Mr. DONOVAN. Colonel M'Lean was a good man; a true man; and the State should pay him what they owe him. He not only fought bravely in this war, but, if I understand it right, he was a hero in the Erie war, a war that I have learned somewhat to respect.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, Colonel M'Lean was a hero in the Erie war—a war which all the courts, State and local, have baptized as a lawful war. The Erie war was a war for commerce; a war for a betrayed State; a war for a city sold to enrich men-

bers of the Legislature; a war for our country; a war for the principles of the Declaration of Independence; a war for the spirit of Cromwell; a war of the spirit of Calvin; a war which sent me here in 1861; a war which sent me back again in 1864; a war which will watch me when I go home; a war for the highway's of Harbor creek; a war for the waters of the Lake; a war for a free passage for Mill creek, for Fairview, for a free passage to the city, from the country; a war of right; the war of Erie county against monopolies; a war against incorporated rascally transported from New York, from Ohio, from the east, from the west, from hell; a war against a Legislature, who, for a few dollars, went over against the State of their birth, the State of their adoption, the State of their country's good; a war for the right; a war against the wrong; a war against a pair of bars being placed between us and market; a war for mankind; a war for competition for commerce upon equal terms; a six-foot war which, in the end, will bathe its limbs in the bay of Erie.

* Colonel M'Lean died for the principles of eternal justice; for the principles of equal rights of man to live upon the earth, and build railroads subject to the wants of the people, and not to be run over by them without good cause, when they were built. It was a war against money over brains; it was a war for bones; it was a war for character; it was a war for the sinews of our people. The element that underlies all war is resistance to tyranny, and in obedience to God we lawfully resisted as long as we could. We resisted until the Legislature sold us. The principles of the Erie war will be recognized as sure as man has a Redeemer.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Erie doubtless expects from me, as Chairman of the Military Committee, a word in explanation. Last Friday afternoon we had a discussion upon this subject, in which the matter was somewhat ventilated. Early in the session, the Senator from Erie (Mr. Lowry), in obedience to the promptings of his honest heart, introduced a resolution instructing the Military Committee of the Senate to inquire into the claims of Colonel M'Lean for recruiting a regiment which was never mustered into the United States service. From time to time that matter was examined, never, however, with the assistance of a personal statement by my friend, the Senator from Erie. The question came up here last Friday afternoon; some difference of opinion existed between the Senator from Erie and the members of the Military Committee upon the subject. A joint resolution was reported, however, by the Military Committee, requiring the board of military claims to inquire into this matter, and report to the next Legislature. That did not satisfy the Senator from Erie; the whole subject was recommitted to the Military Committee; that committee had a meeting at which the Senator from Erie appeared. At that time, after a careful canvassing of the testimony, and all the statements upon the subject, it was deemed prudent and proper to refer the final decision of the whole matter to the board of military claims, which is composed of the Adjutant General, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer. I, for one, as a member of that committee, in view of all the circumstances, was willing to refer this claim to that committee for their adjudication; as I decided them, I feel like deciding now. Some difference of opinion existed between the Senator and myself upon the subject. He, in the patriotism of his heart, saw fit to donate for the raising of the regiment, two thousand dollars. Col. M'Lean did not expend that money in the raising of the regiment, but gave it to the support of the families of those who went into the service.

Mr. LOWRY. Colonel M'Lean gave the donation to the wives and children of the regiment that did fight, and not to those of the regiment that did not fight.

Mr. WHITE. That is all right. I must be consistent in this matter; I did not think then that this was a debt which the State should pay. I may be mistaken in my judgment in that matter; but it was also stated that there were other moneys which Colonel M'Lean had expended out of his own pocket for the raising of this regiment, and if that is so, and if there is any reason why that was not paid, of course that reason should be moved, and he should be a gallant soldier, who died in his country's service, should have justice meted out to him; and in view of these circumstances, the Military Committee saw fit to report this bill as committed; and I trust, in view of the gallantry of the man mentioned in it, and in view of the condition of the orphans of that man, that we will allow the board of military claims, composed of men who have the interests of the State at heart, to examine this thing, and I am satisfied that they will not pay more than is due.

Mr. FISHER. I am not very conversant with the subject matter of this bill. I do not know what Colonel M'Lean did with the regiment that did not fight; but it so happens that I do know something of Colonel M'Lean and of the regiment that did fight. He was Colonel of the Eighty-third Pennsylvania regiment. He lost his life at Malvern Hill. It is not for me now to say anything about his record; that, sir, is on high. He laid down his life in defense of his country, and I am very sure, sir, that it would not injure the board of military claims to examine and find out whether they owe the heirs of Col. M'Lean anything or not. If they do not owe the heirs anything, of course they will not pay them. I have entire confidence in that board; but if they do owe him, I say that something should be done for this gallant man. I knew that regiment in the service, and a braver and better or more gallant regiment never went from Pennsylvania than the Eighty-third. He was not the only colonel that fell at the head of his regiment. The gallant Vincent gave up his life at Gettysburg for the defense of his country, and that regiment stood up like the best of cavalry to the stroke, and it was never known to quail when their services were required; and I think it is a duty that the Senate of Pennsylvania owes to the heirs of that gallant man, that at least his claims should be examined, and, if found to be just, this pittance should be awarded to the widow and orphans of that gallant man. But, sir, if you could enter into the spirit of the matter, and appreciate the services of that gallant band of men, with M'Lean at their head, I am sure you would not hesitate a moment to allow the board of military claims to make this examination, so that if anything is found to be due, it may be paid.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Erie (Mr. Lowry) is generally right, and I feel inclined to vote with him; but really, Mr. Speaker, I do not understand this question exactly. If the Senator has made any remarks upon the subject this evening, I was not in my seat, and did not hear them. I understand that that Senator, in the generosity of his heart, gave this colonel two thousand dollars out of his own pocket, and then, I understand that Colonel M'Lean gave this two thousand dollars to the families of the regiment. If that was correct, it was a voluntary act on the part of Colonel M'Lean, and the question under that statement of the facts is whether this Legislature ought to refund that amount to M'Lean. Who clothed the regiment, if this two thousand dollars went to the families? These points I want explained by the Senator from Erie. I am inclined to vote with him, and I believe I shall, whether I understand it or not.

Mr. LOWRY. The Senator from Fayette (Mr. SEARIGHT) and all other men shall understand me. I charge Pennsylvania with owing the mother, the wife and the children of Colonel M'Lean, for raising a regiment of men, and equipping and feeding them, while raising them.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Yes, but your two thousand dollars went towards the raising of this regiment.

Mr. LOWRY. Not a bit of it; I have submitted the highest proof that the reverse of this is the truth. The evidence is that not one dollar of the four five hundred dollar checks given to Colonel M'Lean was spent in the raising of the first regiment—the regiment that I now ask you to pay for. The evidence is that every dollar of this sum was spent on the government regiment. And this is simply the truth; I repeat it, you owe Colonel M'Lean in his bloody shroud, and I dare you before the world to be half honest, and let it go upon the Record, that I say you haggle and hesitate to pay the immortal her an honest debt. Senators shall not escape behind the shadow of my charity, or take refuge behind my sense of justice, for their own money. What has this Senate to do with the private transactions between Cal. M'Lean and myself? Will you steal my charities from a dead hero and give them to currency and make them "legal tender" to pay your debts to the plundered hero's children? A Commonwealth who would do what is proposed here would rob the orphan of his father's gift to pay a debt contracted by them in the hour of its peril. Why do you not resurrect the horse from which the dead hero fell, lead him before the State treasury; look in his mouth, swear he was given to the immortal man by some one to the State, for M'Lean to ride to our country's victory, and his own grave, to offset the value of that dead horse from the amount you owe him, before he rode the white horse of death, that your own fat horse might not be taken by the rebel's war horse's hoof and his rider in gray.

Mr. JACKSON. Hit him again.

Mr. LOWRY. Senators, you owe the mother of the most unselfish man that ever lived in the State, or that ever died, that the State might live. Will you come and tender her in payment what you owe her, or will you pay her a quinine extracted from my shadow as I parted with her child. Will you give her this to warm her stomach and steady her trembling hand as she writes you a receipt before taking the cold bath of death? What is within this State? What is above this State? What is beneath this State? What is against this State? What is before this State? What is behind this State? That she should have a stomach to crave the bread out of the mouths of these orphans of Col. M'Lean? Nay, tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Samaria, that the Senate of Pennsylvania stole a living man's charity certificate from a dead man's corpse, and forged that certificate into a receipt in full of her own indebtedness.

Col. M'Lean's body lay three years in Virginia soil, without a shroud. That body was resurrected by Col. Rogers, the last colonel of the immortal Eighty-third. The remains were sent to Erie in a mahogany coffin; a Christian burial was given them, and a grave in the cemetery at Erie grew greener throughout all time from the shower of tears which there fell.

Full grown bull dogs of the treasury, when a soldier's spirit is around, are watchful, and toothless men, when robbers in the flesh, are here. Why do you not pay your debt with Col. Rogers' resurrected charity? The folly of the idiot, the fancy of the lunatic, the frenzy of the drunkard could not have conceived of so detestable a dodge to pay an honest debt as you have invented. If Pennsylvania pays her debts to her dead heroes in this manner, it will be unhapplines for an honest man to live long in the State, and no unhapplines to die out of it. Give Cæsar's image his due; give God's image what is his. Give unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; give unto God the things that are God's; break not your promises to the widow and the children you made to the father when he entered the war; you owe the mother of Col. M'Lean; she bore him in sorrow that freedom might live, and his first cry sounds in that mother's ear as the first war gun of the rebellion; and your efforts to pay her son with his own money, which he gave to feed the wives of his own soldiers, will leave a scornful lip on the corpse of the immortal man's mother. Has Pennsylvania become covetous to rob the dead of the gifts of the living? If she has let her get down upon her marrow bones and pray loudly, or she will die suddenly, for the good opinions of a Christian world will poison her. If this bill passes, you have not, I fear, forsaken your sins against the soldier, but sin for the soldier's sake has forsaken you.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask leave to report a bill from the Committee on Coal and Iron.

Leave was granted.
Mr. STUMBAUGH reported, as committed,

Senate bill No. 1316, further supplement to an act to incorporate the Union coal and iron company, approved the 4th day of May, 1857, now the Osceola coal company, increasing the privileges of said company.

Mr. RURTZ moved that the orders of the day be suspended for the purpose of considering the bill.

Agreed to.
The bill was taken up, considered, and passed finally.

Mr. COLVILLE moved that the orders of the day be suspended for the purpose of considering Senate bill No. 1267, a further supplement to the act incorporating the city of Pittsburg, extending its boundaries, enlarging its corporations, and perfecting its municipal organization.

The motion was agreed to.
The bill was taken up and read.

The question being on agreeing to the bill, Mr. CHADWICK. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment, to add the following:

And provided further, That the Central district shall consist of the present city of Pittsburg alone, and the boroughs and townships of said Central district shall constitute the "district between the rivers;" and the votes cast in said Central district shall not be counted with the votes cast in said "district between the rivers;" and if a majority of the votes cast in said "district between the rivers" shall be against consolidation, then such "district between the rivers" shall not form part, nor be included in, the said city of Pittsburg.

Mr. COLVILLE. Mr. Speaker, I hope that amendment will not be adopted. It is a well known fact that the gentleman who offered the amendment knew that there was a delegation from the different districts of Pittsburg, which only left night before last. They came to the conclusion that this bill, as it was offered and passed in the Senate, was the best bill that could be submitted to the people of that place in regard to the proposed consolidation. The parties on the north side of the river were opposed to consolidation with the city of Pittsburg, unless the matter were submitted to one of the several districts which were proposed to be included in the proposed consolidation. After the several committees met and exchanged views, they compromised by dividing it into three distinct districts. North of the river was to compose one, south of the river another, and between the rivers the third district. As the district of the gentleman from Allegheny [Mr. CHADWICK] is to be between the rivers, and all the city of Pittsburg is included in that district, he thinks that the vote of the city of Pittsburg would have the effect to change the vote of the other districts in this proposed consolidation. That, I presume, is the principal object he has in view in offering this amendment. I hope this course will not concur in the amendment, but leave the bill as it now stands, which is satisfactory to all the parties who met here in conference in regard to the matter.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important bill—one in which my constituents are immediately and directly interested—one in which I am myself interested in every conceivable manner.

I believe that the amendment offered is right and proper. At the same time, I have no desire to clog, or retard, or destroy the passage of this bill. I am in favor of the principle of consolidation. I have always been in favor of it ever since its first inception. I am in favor of it, sir, because I believe that it will give the city of Pittsburg the opportunity, and place her in that position to which she is by locality, and by her trade and mercantile interests entitled. I am in favor of this principle of consolidation because I believe, sir, and because I know that under this principle, instead of being misrepresented in regard to her annual products, instead of having her annual products set down at twenty millions of dollars, they will be counted by hundreds of millions of dollars. I say I sympathize with the views of the gentleman who offered this amendment and I shall vote for it, but not with the view of destroying the principle of consolidation, for I am in favor of it.

Mr. CHADWICK. Mr. Speaker, I have just to say that I hope this amendment will pass. I have no desire to spoil the bill and offer this amendment simply as an act of justice to the rural district from which I come. If we are to vote with the great city of Pittsburg, it will be a grand farce. I simply ask that our district may be allowed to vote by itself.

The question being on the amendment, it was Not agreed to.

The question recurring on the bill, it was Agreed to.

The rules were suspended,
The bill read a third time by its title, and Passed finally.

Mr. M'CREARY. Mr. Speaker, I ask leave to read a bill in place.

Leave was granted.
Mr. M'CREARY. Mr. Speaker, I read in my place and present to the Chair a supplement to an act to exempt certain persons from the payment of bounty taxes.

The rules were suspended, the bill read a second and third time by its title, and Passed finally.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the orders be suspended and that the House proceed to the consideration of House bill No. 1918, an act relating to the appointment of trustees and to sale of real estate by trustees.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I call for a division of the question.

The question being on the first division, which involves a suspension of the rules generally,

It was Not agreed to.

Mr. STEHMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of privilege. I move a reconsideration of the vote by which the House passed House bill No. 940, an act to repeal an act for the settlement of the North Carbondale coal company.

On the question,
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. PENNYPACKER, and were as follow, viz:

No. 1775, an act supplementary to the act entitled An act relating to inspections, approved the 15th day of April, A. D. 1855, and requiring all lumber inspected in the city of Philadelphia to be inspected by the inspector of lumber.

The question being on agreeing to the bill, Mr. HOOD. Mr. Speaker, by this bill we want to protect two things. First, the commerce of Philadelphia, and second, the shippers of lumber. The people of Pennsylv-vania will not send their lumber to Philadelphia for market if they lose there from forty to fifty out of every ten thousand feet.

Mr. CHALFANT. Mr. Speaker, are the shippers of lumber asking for this law?

Mr. HOOD. I do not know whether the shippers are asking for it or not. I, however, know of one gentleman who is a leading man at that business, who told me that he would never ship another foot of lumber to Philadelphia unless this bill was passed.

Mr. JONES. I would like to ask the gentleman a question. Is the inspector of lumber asking for this bill?

Mr. HOOD. I presume he is. So are the inspector of flour and the inspector of beef. All this asks is that the lumber merchants may be protected in their legitimate calling.

Mr. WINGARD. Mr. Speaker, my distinguished friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia, is no doubt a man of great legal ability. In that respect I have the utmost confidence in him. But he certainly does not understand the lumber business, or he would have made a better case for the bill now under consideration.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this bill is really so ridiculous that I can scarcely regard it in a serious light. In 1835, the Legislature passed a law in reference to the inspection of lumber exported from Philadelphia, and the one hundred and fifty-sixth section, which is referred to in this supplementary act, is as follows:

"All boards, planks, timber and shingles designed for exportation from the port of Philadelphia shall be liable to be inspected at the city and county of Philadelphia by an inspector appointed for that purpose; and there, in section one hundred and fifty-nine it is provided "that the inspector and measurer of lumber may take and receive, for inspecting and examining board and plank, according to superficial measurement, twenty-five cents for every thousand feet; for inspecting other timber reduced to cubic feet, ten cents for every ton consisting of forty cubic feet," one, however, to be paid by the buyer and the other by the seller.

That act was passed in 1835, and for thirty-two years it has not occurred to the lumber inspector of Philadelphia to come to this Legislature and ask to have an inspection put upon lumber imported to the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. KERNS. Will the gentleman allow me to ask him a question?

Mr. WINGARD. With pleasure.

Mr. KERNS. The lumber that is exported from the city of Philadelphia is inspected, why should not lumber coming from foreign ports also be inspected as well as the lumber of our own State?

Mr. WINGARD. I will come to that in a few moments. The bill does not make any such distinction as that whatever, and it is not the intention of the bill to inspect lumber coming from foreign ports. Even if that was the intention, I say there is no necessity for it whatever.

It is utterly uncalled for, utterly useless, and can only be excused on the ground that the present gentlemanly inspector of Philadelphia has not made quite as much as he would be glad to make out of business. My opinion is that this is a case similar to that of the old dutch squire, who said he could not get along very well, and he, therefore, made up his mind that he would resign and strike for higher wages.

There is not a solitary petitioner for this bill but the gentlemanly inspector from Philadelphia, and the able member from Philadelphia. The press of the city has spoken out against this thing. The lumber merchants of Philadelphia had a meeting and passed resolutions hostile to this measure.

Now, sir, there can be no sensible inspection of boards, planks and square timber. If I want to purchase a board I know just as much about it, and I say it with all deference to the inspector of Philadelphia, as he does. If I want to buy a stick of square timber I can tell what kind of timber it is, whether it is sound or not, or whether it is shabby, or about as much about it as he can possibly inform me. Therefore I do not want to pay him ten cents a cubic foot to tell me that a certain piece of timber is pine, and that it contains so many feet. I can measure it myself. Then if a board is presented to me, do not I know whether it is clear stuff or cullings, and do I want to pay an inspector twenty-five cents a thousand feet to tell me that that is a good board?

Why, the city of Philadelphia receives, I have no doubt, as high as one hundred millions of feet of board a year. At twenty-five cents a thousand feet, that would be twenty-five thousand dollars into the pocket of the inspector, and that independent of the ten cents for square timber and twenty-five cents for plank. What good does this inspection do to anybody? The gentleman from Philadelphia says it is called for by the commerce of Philadelphia. I warn the gentleman that if this bill passes that the commerce of the city of Philadelphia, so far as my town is concerned, would suffer most materially; for if you tell me that I will have to pay twenty-five cents a thousand feet on all the boards that I ship to Philadelphia I shall send it somewhere else. No, sir, the commerce of Philadelphia cannot afford such a loss.

Mr. HOOD. Lumber that is shipped to Philadelphia is inspected now, is it not?

Mr. WINGARD. It is counted and inspected where it is manufactured. Every mill owner has his counter, and as the lumber comes from the saw, it is inspected, sorted, measured and piled, according to its quality. It is taken to Philadelphia, and there consigned sometimes to a member of the board, and sometimes to lumber merchants, who sell it for them. We do not want anybody to come and tell us what kind of lumber it is, whether it is good, or bad, or what. Then, again, there is an objection to this bill which comes home to us all, to every man who builds a pigeon house, who has occasion to buy lumber at all; and that is simply the fact that every dollar paid for inspection enhances the price to the consumer. The gentleman from Philadelphia says it is not proposed to increase the value of the office. I should think that twenty-five cents a thousand on boards does not make the office valuable enough then, I would really sympathize with the gentlemanly inspector who is working for the passage of this bill. But, as I said before, I think the bill is so utterly devoid of merit, and the modest request made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, in behalf of his friend, the inspector there, is so naked of merit that it is rather to provoke mirth and ridicule rather than consideration in a serious light.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman on the other side of the House has spoken in reference to a meeting that was held in Philadelphia a few days ago by the lumber men. That was a meeting held by the buyers, and the consumers were desirous of being heard before that meeting. They presented a petition there proposing, as I understand, some compromise of this matter, so that both buyer and seller might be protected as well as the lumber merchants. They refused that petition and they ordered it to be thrown under the table. Now, I have the petition here, and I ask that the Clerk may read it, that the consumer and buyer may be both heard on this question.

Now, the gentleman on the other side has said that there have been no petitions, or letters, or papers from the lumber dealers of Philadelphia in favor of this bill.

I would say that I have received letters from a number of firms, large dealers in lumber, in reference to it, and I think there is something fair in this proposition. It is not designed to increase the value of the office; no more will be paid for the inspection of lumber than at present.

Mr. COLVILLE. Mr. Speaker, there is a little secret connected with this bill, which I consider the sooner divulged the better. In the first place, the present inspector of lumber, residing in the city of Philadelphia, if I mistake not, is an appointee of the Governor. At the time that he received the appointment of lumber inspector of the city of Philadelphia, he was not aware of what the emoluments of that position were, at least not immediately. After entering upon his duties he found that the perquisites and emolument were not as great as he expected, so that the object of this bill, and the only object he can have in view in desiring its passage, is for the purpose of increasing the perquisites of that position. No one will deny that if this bill is passed it will take money out of the hands of every man connected with the lumber business in the city of Philadelphia, and will put it in the hands of this individual, the lumber inspector of the city of Philadelphia.

Now, if the friends of this gentleman, who assisted and were instrumental in obtaining his appointment by the Governor; expect to put this additional tax upon every man engaged in the lumber business, I think if they will present it in its proper light, the men engaged in the lumber business, rather than have this bill passed, will make his salary sufficient to compensate him fully. But if this bill does pass, it will be the means of giving this inspector twenty five thousand dollars per year at least, independent of the perquisites which he now receives.

I therefore, hope this bill will be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I will say but a few words. I am in favor of the postponement of this bill. I have had experience in the lumbering, manufacturing and selling business most of my life-time. I know that if gentlemen lived in a district where lumbering is carried on to any extent, they could not do otherwise than object to the passage of a bill of this kind. If there is anything that a lumberman despises, it is a city inspector. The passage of this bill would have the effect of driving much lumber, which now goes to Philadelphia, to other markets. Such would necessarily be the result. I therefore hope that this bill will be defeated.

Mr. SUBERS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from the Eighth district stated that the lumber consumers of Philadelphia had appeared before the lumber merchants' meeting and presented a petition to them to have protection in the inspection of lumber. It strikes me that that was a very singular place to go. The place for them to have come was to this Legislature.

Here is a petition from the lumber merchants asking for the passage of this bill, which I ask to be read by the Clerk.

The petition was read as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The undersigned, lumber dealers of the city of Philadelphia and vicinity, respectfully represent that the adoption of the act now before the Legislature of this State to extend the provisions of an act approved April 15th, 1864, relating to the inspection of lumber, &c., so as to include all boards, planks, timber, shingles, staves and palls, brought into the port of Philadelphia, would work serious injury and great inconvenience to the entire lumber interest; that such legislation has not been demanded by any portion of the community interested in the manufacture, sale or consumption of lumber.

We, therefore, most respectfully remonstrate against its passage.

And your petitioners will ever pray.
Signed, Samuel H. Davis and others.
Mr. GREGORY. Mr. Speaker, I do not profess to know much about this bill; but there is a little article in the Philadelphia Bulletin of April first, which gives some light on the subject, and which I will read:

MEETING OF LUMBER MERCHANTS.—A number of lumber merchants held a meeting at the Exchange this morning. Judge Morton acted as Chairman and Mr. Francis Stokes as Secretary. The reporters of the press were treated throughout with such aggravated discourtesy and rudeness that a report of the proceedings could not be procured. A Mr. Craig, the author of the resolutions, refused to furnish a copy of them for publication. A communication was read, and taken down by the members of the press, as is always the custom. This seemed to meet with the disapprobation of one or two of the individuals present, and one of them, whose plain garb was rather incongruous with his belligerent intentions, accused the reporters of theft, of having been bribed to blast the hopes of the meeting, and of conspiring to spoil the whole of the lumber trade of the city. After sinning against syntax and common sense in this humor for a few moments, he announced his intention of publishing the reporters' names "in the papers," as felons and hardened criminals, a thing we should be happy to do for him if we had been fortunate enough to procure his name, with this difference, that we should write him down as Deceitful, rather than as a thief. It is to be regretted that the respectable men who were present did not interfere to prevent this scandalous scene.

The question being on the indefinite postponement of the bill,

It was
Agreed to.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.
The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, April 5, 1867.
To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:
GENTLEMEN—I return herewith House bill

No. 1051, entitled A supplement to an act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, approved February 26th, 1855, relating to the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Lehigh, with my objections to the same.

The act of 1855 makes it unlawful for the keeper or agent of any hotel or public house to sell liquors on Sunday, and punishes the violation of the law by both fine and imprisonment. The bill herewith returned proposes to abolish imprisonment, and to reduce the minimum fine from fifty dollars to ten dollars for all violations of said act committed in the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Lehigh, leaving the penalties, as heretofore, in all the other counties of the State.

Local and special legislation is one of the serious evils of the times, and I regard it as part of my duty to discourage it in every honorable way. Bad as our legislation has become, in this respect, I am not aware of any former attempt to apply the system to the criminal jurisprudence of the State. We have now almost as many different roads and other local laws as there are counties in the State, and to introduce a like diversity in the criminal law of the Commonwealth would be intolerable, and I am unwilling to be in anywise responsible for any such movement.

If the law of 1855 is objectionable, let it be amended, or a new law substituted; but I can see no justice, and no propriety, in making the punishment of any offense in one county different from the punishment of the same offense in every other county.

JNO. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the House proceeded to the reconsideration of said bill.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

Agreeably to the rules,
The further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth also presented a message from the Governor, which was read as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

HARRISBURG, April 5, 1867.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, with my objections, House bill No. 921, entitled An act exempting certain land in Hellam township, York county, from taxation for bounty purposes, when annexed to the borough of Wrightsville, in said county.

In the first place, the title is not in accordance with the eighth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution, which requires that the subject of the bill shall be clearly expressed in the title.

The second section of the bill is in violation of the ninth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution, which prohibits the Legislature from doing that which the courts have the power to do. By the thirty-third section of the act of 3d of April, 1851, regulating boroughs, the courts are authorized to do what is proposed by this second section.

JNO. W. GEARY.

Laid on the table.
The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the SPEAKER adjourned the House until 3 o'clock, P. M.

J. S. W. GEARY.

During the consideration of the private calendar remarks were made on bills as follows:

Senate bill No. 938, an act providing for the election of supervisors in certain rural wards of the city of Philadelphia.

Question on agreeing to the bill.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I move the indefinite postponement of the bill.

The motion was seconded.

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say this is a matter in which my constituents are very much interested. If the members from Philadelphia are opposed to it, of course it is not worth the while for me to consume the time of the House in discussing this bill. Yet I would like to say something in its favor.

There must be some merit to the bill or it would not have passed the Senate. A measure of this kind is very much needed. I have letters here showing that these roads, over which my constituents travel every day, are almost impassable. They have not been attended to for four years. They should be there must be a change in the management of these roads. If they are passable at all, under the present system, they must be made so at individual expense.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I trust the motion of my colleague [Mr. LEE] will prevail. This bill entirely changes the mode of electing supervisors, and of collecting taxes.

I trust the bill will be indefinitely postponed. Mr. FREEBORN. Mr. Speaker, I will say that I, also, am in favor of indefinitely postponing this bill. The city councils have passed a resolution asking that it be defeated.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, there is not a member from Philadelphia in favor of this bill.

On the question

Will the House agree to the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FREEBORN and Mr. LEECH, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Barrington, Boyd, Breen, Brown, Chadwick, Collins, Colville, Craig, Davis, Day, Deffenen, Deise, Donohugh, Freeborn, Gallagher, Ghegan, Harbison, Headman, Jenks, Kinney, Kurtz, Long, M'Camant, Maish, Mann, Mealy, Meyers, Mullin, Pillow, Quay, Quigley, Rhoads, Roath, Robinson, Roush, Shuman, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Tharr, Webb, Westbrook, Whann, Woodward and Glass, Speaker—47.

NAYS—Messrs. Chalfant, Chase, Josephs, Kennedy, Koon, Lee, Leech, Linton, Marks, Satterthwait, Wallace, Watt and Weller—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill was indefinitely postponed.

No. 1260, an act to reduce the number of school directors in the several school districts in the county of Bradford, and to pay the same.

Mr. QUAY amended the bill.

Mr. SHARPLES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to this bill. I am sorry that I feel myself obliged to oppose it in its application to the counties of Bradford and Beaver. I am opposed to the bill because it is an innovation on our present school system. It is a breaking in upon the harmony of the general school law. A great many of the friends of education are opposed and always have been opposed to the principle of paying school directors for their services—a principle which this bill inaugurates.

If the bill passes it should be a general bill. Even then it would be objectionable for the same reasons. It has always been considered that school directors should attend to the duties of their office from motives of principle only. It is very doubtful whether such a system as is proposed in this bill should be adopted. I desire the members of this House to consider the subject well before they pass this bill.

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, the people of our county, with great unanimity, are in favor of the change proposed by this bill. The question has been in agitation for several years past. The county superintendent, who we think, is as able and zealous an educator as may be found elsewhere, is also in favor of this proposition and has written me twice on the subject, urging its passage. Opposed to it is, possibly, the school department, and the ground of their unfriendliness is that it is an innovation upon the school system of this Commonwealth.

Now, sir, I respectfully dissent from their opinions, and submit that it cannot in anywise interfere with the present established working of the school machinery. And I will say to this House, as I said to the committee, that if we know that we have arrived at perfection in the arrangements alluded to, if we have arrived at the stature of manhood and maturity in the workings of our school system, then it would be unwise to alter it in any respect. If I thought so, sir, I would not have the temerity to urge this proposition, though our people were unanimous in its favor. But I do not think so. I think we can yet improve and simplify the machinery. I think there are some unnecessary wheels and belts which create too much friction.

The superintendents are elected in the same manner as before, only with less expense. The money is collected and disbursed as before; the schools are to be visited and provided for as before; indeed everything is conducted in the same manner, only, as we believe, with far more efficiency and responsibility on the part of directors.

It may be objected that we propose to pay our directors for their services. Well, sir, what good reason can be given, that because this office is filled by the people, that therefore there should be no compensation? Why pay the officers anywhere for their services? The cause is the same. Why, as offices are removed from the more direct control of the people, should the compensation enlarge? If it is a matter of general interest and philanthropy, why not serve all officers alike? Why pay the county and State superintendents or their clerks. They, too, are engaged in the same great cause of philanthropy. Especially is this true of those called to control our orphan schools. Why pay them? Why should road commissioners—who, with us, are the guardians of the poor—be compensated? Why are offices created for the public good; and it is for their services, just as proper to expect us to devote our own time and labor in behalf of public schools, public morals and of charitable objects generally, as to expect a school director to become a "hewer of wood and drawer of water" at his own expense. I want a good reason why, in offices that the people themselves are called so frequently to fill at home, law-makers should be so parsimonious. It seems to me the servants are striving hard to be the masters in this matter.

As I have said, the people of our county are asking the removal of offices. In all legislation, purely local, this House has generally extended the courtesy to members asking it, of granting their request, unless it conflicted with some general principles affecting the rights of other localities, or of the Commonwealth. I think it has been shown that this request does not so conflict; and, lest objections might be made to compensating directors out of the school funds, we have sent them to the treasury of the township, leaving the school fund, in that respect, untouched.

Mr. Speaker, we have found in our county, that the number of directors interferes with that unity and energy requisite to direct our school affairs efficiently. Had we a board of six county or State superintendents, we should find it working in the same loose, inefficient manner; and I am not sure, sir, when we consider the comparative magnitude and responsibility of the respective positions, that it would not be quite as proper to have our common school and orphan school systems under such a board of control as the less responsible and less laborious positions of school directors.

Does this House believe such a plan would work harmoniously or efficiently? I am free to say, sir, that I think our educational system would fall into anarchy and eventual decay under such an arrangement.

It will be urged that, under the present plan, each director will take charge of one or two districts, employ their teachers and visit the schools allotted to them. That may be true, and shows conclusively to my mind that if it is safe to entrust such control to one man now, it would be equally safe to do so under our plan, and equally safe to make the proposed change. It is true, now, that one or two men really do the work and take the responsibility.

At all events, we ask, earnestly, to be favored with the provisions of this act, and if it should eventually extend over the whole Commonwealth, as I think it will, if passed, it will, in my judgment, be another step in the direction of progress and efficiency in our popular system of common schools.

The bill as amended was

Agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House suspend the rules and read the bill a third time by its title?

A division of the House was called.

Two-thirds not voting in the affirmative, it was

Not agreed to.

And the bill was

Read a third reading.

No. 1831, an act to change the venue in a certain suit from Fayette to Washington county.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I ask that this memorial be read.

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I object to the reading of this memorial for the reason that it contains a slander upon a member of the co-ordinate branch of the Government.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, the memorial contains nothing but what is admitted to have been said by the member himself.

Mr. SPEAKER decided that as the memorial, since repeated language that had been ascribed to a Senator, there was no impropriety in its being read.

The memorial was accordingly read.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to occupy the time of the House. I think the memorial is sufficient reason for a change of venue in this case.

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I think the memorial is no reason at all. I think it is clear beyond dispute there is no ground laid for a change of venue. This is a civil suit; both of the parties are Republican in their political opinions, being active Republicans in their day. There is not, I believe, a Democrat or a Republican in Fayette county who would turn his hand concerning this matter. No person feels the least interest concerning it. All that has been said about party influence being used to determine the suit is mere fabrication and imagination. I do not believe this matter is regarded by any one in a political light. As I said before, both the parties are Republican, and the counsel for the petitioner, who alleges he cannot have a fair trial before a Democratic court and jury, is himself a Democrat. I say this is a change of venue without cause.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, the statements of the memorial have not been denied. There certainly are grounds for a change of venue. The motion for a new trial in this case was not sustained in a proper way. It was gotten through political influence. The same influence may be brought to bear a second time. As there is a great deal said about juries in Fayette county, I think the venue should be changed. I will not detain the House by debating the question.

The bill was

Not agreed to.

No. 1830, an act to authorize the burgess and town council of Lawrenceville, Allegheny county, to appoint viewers.

When the bill was called in its order the Chair decided it was unconstitutional.

Mr. COLVILLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House reconsider its action on bill No. 1830. It is an act to authorize the burgess and town council of Lawrenceville to appoint viewers. The courts clearly have jurisdiction in all cases to appoint viewers, but they have no authority to delegate that power.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. I will ask for what purpose are the viewers to be appointed?

Mr. COLVILLE. To assess damages for the opening of streets.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, the courts have authority in such cases.

Mr. COLVILLE. But they cannot delegate their power.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Franklin [Mr. STUMBAUGH] is correct. If the gentleman from Allegheny [Mr. COLVILLE] will refer to page 121 he will find that.

"90." Upon the complaint of any person or persons aggrieved by any regulation under the provisions of this act in relation to the laying out, widening and straightening the roads, streets, lanes, alleys, courts and common sewers, or of the opening, grading or other regulations thereof, the said court shall take such order as may be just and reasonable, and the final order of the said court shall be conclusive:

"Provided, That like proceedings shall be had for the opening, widening and straightening of the roads, streets, lanes, courts and alleys laid out, and ordained in accordance with the provisions of this act, as are provided by law for the laying out and opening of public roads within this Commonwealth:

"Provided, also, That every jury appointed to view, review, lay out, widen, or straighten, or vacate any road, or part of road, in any borough of this Commonwealth, shall have due reference to the town plot herein authorized and directed, and to the general arrangement, plan, convenience and advantage of the borough, and shall set forth the facts fully in their report:

"Provided further, That such streets, lanes and alleys shall not be opened for public use until the damages shall be liquidated; and upon any amounts due or to become due, by borough corporations for the purposes aforesaid, interest shall be allowed and paid from the date of the adjudication of said damages."

Mr. COLVILLE. Mr. Speaker, I am satisfied the courts have jurisdiction where boroughs are organized under the general borough law. But I would ask the gentleman from Northampton [Mr. MEYERS] if there are not a number of boroughs organized without a special act, where the general law does not apply? This is the case with the borough of Lawrenceville.

Mr. MEYERS. I do not know whether Lawrenceville was incorporated under the general borough law or by special act of Assembly. If it was incorporated by special act of Assembly, it will be seen by referring to the act from which I have just read that, by application to the courts this borough can come in under the provisions of and enjoy the benefit of the general law.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, the question involved in this bill is precisely of the same character as that decided by the Governor in his veto message with regard to York county.

The SPEAKER. There is no doubt that if this bill should pass both houses of the Legislature, it would be vetoed by the Governor.

The previous action of the House was accordingly sustained, and the bill declared to be unconstitutional.

No. 1927, a further supplement to an act to protect the property of the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Philadelphia, at Fairmount, and to preserve the purity of the Schuylkill river, passed the 7th of February, 1832.

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill which, if carried out, will destroy the business of the factories from and below Norristown. It is a bill that will affect millions upon millions of property, and carried out will throw out of employment immediately thousands of my constituents. I am opposed to its being passed without amendment.

I believe that the refuse from dye houses, which is thrown into the river at Norristown, seventeen miles above the Fairmount water works, will not affect the purity of the Schenck bill water.

I offer the following amendment:

Provided, That this act shall not apply to any cotton, woolen, iron, glass or paper manufactures.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The question recurred on the bill.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I move to strike out the second section.

The motion was

Agreed to.

The question recurred on the bill as amended.

The bill was ordered to be transcribed.

BILL RECONSIDERED.

Mr. FISHER moved for a reconsideration of the vote on bill entitled A further supplement to an act to provide for the regulation and inspection of buildings in the city of Philadelphia, and for the better preservation of life and property, passed May 7, A. D. 1855.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CONNELL and Mr. SHOEMAKER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Fisher, Graham, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Shoemaker, Taylor, White and Worthington—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Davis, Donovan, Glatz, Jackson, James, M'Candless, Randall, Schall, Seagriff, Stutzman, Wallace and Walls—12.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The bill being again before the Senate, and the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the first and only section?

On motion of Mr. FISHER, the question, together with the further consideration of the subject, was postponed for the present.

THE HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA REGIMENTS.

Mr. CONNELL. Mr. Speaker, in view of the interesting discussion last evening on the history of the war, I ask that the following letter be read:

1810 CHESTNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA, April 5, 1867,
HON. GEORGE CONNELL, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

My Dear Sir—I take the liberty of writing you to inform you that there is now in this city a collection of about (2,500) twenty-five hundred works on the late rebellion for sale at the, I think, reasonable price of ($1,500) fifteen hundred dollars, and which it would be most desirable and valuable for our State to possess, and would be of particular service to the State Historian, Mr. Bates, in the preparation of his forthcoming works. And I would suggest the immediate purchase of them by the Legislature, as such a collection could never again be brought together, and includes works from all parts of the world. Will you not please present a bill to the Legislature authorizing their immediate purchase, as an offer has been made for them from a foreign country, and I think it would be a shame to allow them to go out of this State, when they can be obtained so reasonably. Pray urge this for the credit and benefit of both the State and history, and let us boast of one department in our library which cannot be excelled.

Faithfully and truly yours,
CHAS. H. HART.

Mr. CONNELL. I should like to know if it would not be advantageous to purchase these works for the use of the historian?

CHANGE OF VENUE.

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of a bill entitled An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the government, and other general and specific appropriations.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the first section?

Mr. CONNELL said: Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement. A few days ago the Senate passed a bill entitled An act to change the venue in a certain case from Schuylkill county to Lebanon county, to a second reading, during the absence of the Senator from Schuylkill [Mr. RANDALL.] Upon his return, it seems to have been sent to the House without being passed. I allowed the Senator forty-eight hours to bring witnesses up here, and have allowed this matter to go over to the last day; and, unless the bill is passed to-day, it will be lost; and I ask, as a matter of courtesy, that it be considered now. I move, therefore, that the further consideration of the appropriation bill be postponed for the present for the purpose of taking up this bill.

Mr. RANDALL. Mr. Speaker, as the Senator from Philadelphia [Mr. CONNELL] has made a statement, I would like the same privilege. When I left here last Friday, the distinct understanding was that no bills were to be called up that were objected to. Notwithstanding that, during my absence, the Senator from Philadelphia [Mr. CONNELL] called up this bill, and passed it to a second reading. It was messaged to the House, and now he endeavors to take advantage of me by passing this bill through, this being the last day.

Mr. CONNELL. There is no unfairness in that.

On the motion,
Will the Senate agree to the motion of Mr. CONNELL?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RANDALL and Mr. CONNELL, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Shoemaker and Worthington—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Glatz, Jackson, James, Randall, Royer, Schall, Seagriff, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—14.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. DONOVAN moved that the Senate reconsider the vote just taken.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DONOVAN and Mr. M'CONAUGHY, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Jackson, James, Landon, M'Candless, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Seagriff, Stutzman, Wallace, Walls and Worthington—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Haines, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker and Taylor—11.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion to postpone the appropriation bill, to consider bill relative to the change of venue?

It was determined in the negative.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate then resumed the second reading and consideration of bill entitled An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government and other general and specific appropriations.

The first and second sections were read and Agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE said there was an increase in the second section of several thousand dollars, and desired to know if it was necessary.

The third, fourth and fifth sections were read and Agreed to.

Mr. WALLACE. I believe there is an increase in this section of one thousand six hundred dollars of the bill of last year. There is an additional night watchman for two years. The messenger heretofore performed both duties. Is this considered necessary by the Auditor General?

Mr. CONNELL. I understand that it is in consequence of the valuable papers there stored. The newspapers have given notice of this, and it is thought necessary to employ an additional watchman.

The sixth section was read.

Mr. CONNELL moved to amend by making the salary of the chief clerk in the Treasurer General's office one thousand eight hundred dollars, instead of one thousand six hundred dollars.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The section as amended was

Agreed to.

The seventh section was read and

Agreed to.

The eighth section was read.

Mr. WALLACE. Here again I find a new officer—night watchman in the Treasury Department. Heretofore, those duties have been performed by the messenger at eight hundred dollars; now we give him nine hundred dollars. Will this additional watchman be necessary? Heretofore, they have got along without these.

Mr. CONNELL. The newspapers have called the attention of all the thieves in the country to the valuable papers stored there. I have no doubt it is necessary.

The section was

Agreed to.

The ninth section was read and

Agreed to.

The tenth section was read and

Agreed to.

The eleventh section was read and

Agreed to.

The twelfth section was read as follows:

Sec. 12. For the payment of pensions and gratuities, the sum of seven thousand dollars, and such further sums as may be necessary to pay to the widows and children of deceased soldiers such sum or sums as they may be entitled to receive according to law, and the act entitled An act to provide for the payment of gratuities and annuities to the soldiers of the war of 1812, and to their widows, approved the 30th day of March, 1866, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would be glad to know the reason for repealing the general law of 1866. It was a carefully considered law, and saved us a great deal of special legislation. I cannot understand the necessity for its repeal.

Mr. LANDON. I am not aware that I can explain the thing fully; but it is known, sir, that we passed that act in 1866; it is known that we endeavored to guard it carefully, declaring that the applicants, in order to be recipients, must have such and such qualities, and produce such and such evidence, and among other things, that they must be in indigent circumstances; and I venture the affirmation that when we passed that law every Senator supposed that ten thousand dollars or fifteen thousand dollars would be enough for the expenditures. By some means it will take nearly two hundred thousand dollars out of the treasury. That is manifestly wrong. We ought to be generous, but not unjust, and in order to get back to the line of justice, I am in favor of repealing that act, and let individual cases come in on their merits.

Mr. WALLACE. Then I understand that whilst last year we provided a general law for that class of persons whom we considered meritorious, we provided certain specific duties to be done by them before they received any money from the Treasury. They have come forward to the Treasury and demonstrated that there are people of this kind, and now we think that it costs too much money, and, therefore, while we were doing a just thing in 1866, we find it costs us too much money, and we must take the back track.

Now, if that act of 1866 was a good act, and these people were entitled to the money, then they are entitled to it now. It seems to me, if these people are deserving, we should not take the back track, even if it does cost us one hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year. We had better stand by the general law.

In the natural course of events, these people pass off from the list pretty rapidly. It seems to me a bad stroke of policy to wipe out of existence a general law, and permit ourselves to re-enact special laws to meet special cases. First, we are annoyed and troubled with these people in this Legislature; secondly, we will do injustice, and general laws are better than special laws.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, it will be remembered that the Treasurer has no discretionary power. An application comes forward with certain affidavits, and demands a stipend, and the Treasurer can only pay it out. An individual came forward to the Treasurer with the requisite affidavits, and at the same time proposed to sell to the Treasurer lands worth fifty thousand dollars, which he was the owner of; well, the Treasurer did not want to buy lands, yet he had to pay the stipend. The Treasurer must pay these moneys, even if he knows that nine-tenths of the men are not deserving. Will the Senate allow that to go on, or shut down upon it? I think we should shut down upon it.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I think the case can be met more readily. Let these scoundrels be indicted and punished. If officers are aware of such cases, it is their duty to prosecute every one of these scoundrels. They ought not to be permitted to exist in this Commonwealth. It is wrong, sir, that a class of people who are as meritorious as any that exist in the bounds of the Commonwealth, and who appeal to every citizen from this prejudice because there are some rascals within the bounds of the Commonwealth.

Sir, I hope this repealing clause will not prevail. There are now a number of old soldiers in this Commonwealth who fought in 1812; there are a number of such soldiers in actual want and in our poor houses. This ought not to be. The relief extended by the Commonwealth is right. That there are defects in the law, is no argument against the law. There is now a bill which came from the House, and was referred to one of the committees, which I hope will be reported to-day, seeking to remedy these defects. I admit that they exist. I think that one of the objections is the looseness with which these allegations of poverty may be established. There are abuses under our State law, and under the United States laws. All these pension laws have been prostituted and abused by villains; but that is no argument against them; it goes to show the defects which ought to be remedied. I hope, sir, we will not go back upon these men who fought; I hope the fair escutcheon of Pennsylvania will not be stained with the infamy of leaving these men or their widows in the almshouses of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, allow me one word. I agree with the Senator from Adams [Mr. M'CONAUGHY], upon this central idea of his remarks, that the deserving cases should receive attention. But, sir, is not this Legislature wise enough to draw and pass a law that shall be free from these abuses? We have a law that is abused. What shall we do? Put it down, and substitute one that will not be abused. Why, sir, the Attorney General requires every applicant to bring the sworn affidavit of two individuals, and then he swears himself that he is poor; and yet, they are drawing one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, three-fifths of which is drawn on perjured papers. Will the Senate refuse to do anything? I hope not. Talk about the Treasurer prosecuting. The spoils have gone to the devil's gin again. The land sharks goe there with a bundle of claims; what does he say to the Treasurer? He says: "It is your business to pay out the money that the Legislature tells you to." Now, I would do justice to every meritorious case, but these abuses should be checked.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend by striking out the clause repealing the act of 1866, and I have a single word to say in regard to that. If the proposition to strike out that clause does not prevail, you do great injustice to the most meritorious class of people in Pennsylvania, and to the most needy of soldiers. If we do not strike that out what will be the effect upon the poor old widow when the time comes around for the payment of her thirty or forty dollars? What will be the condition of the poor old soldier, with his staff in his hand, in July next, when the time comes for the payment of his forty dollars? And yet the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] would strike down that old man.

Mr. LANDON. No, sir.

Mr. LOWRY. That would be the practical effect. It is too late to get up another soldier's bill, and you practically deny the old man justice, because, sir, there are perjured leeches running at large in Pennsylvania. That doctrine, sir, will not do; that will not do for a Republican Senate. Here we are, sir, increasing the salaries of every officer in the Commonwealth; we are giving charity with a liberal hand, from the lakes to the Delaware. We are kind to every one except those who helped to save our country, and we hold up the thieves and the robbers in the Commonwealth as an excuse for our dereliction. I have no fears but that the Senate will adopt the amendment I have offered. I had much to do with the passage of the bill a year ago.

It is true, sir, that great abuses have crept in under that bill, and it was our duty before now to amend that bill, but it is not our duty, sir, to repeal it; it was wise and humane; it has said to the poor old man and the poor old soldier's widow throughout the Commonwealth, "If you are poor and needy, and unable to support yourselves for the remnant of your days, we will give you a small pittance." Because that act has been abused, shall we repeal the whole system, and bring back here what few remain next winter as individual cases? I trust not, sir.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, there is another objection to this repealing clause. It is always objectionable in an appropriation bill to insert a clause that repeals a general statute. It may be well in a bill of this character to repeal a law that appropriated money; but when you insert in a general appropriation bill a clause repealing a law that has no special reference to appropriating money, you are setting a bad precedent. Let the thing come up on its own merits. The arguments of the Senator from Bradford [Mr. Landon] in regard to the difficulties in carrying out this law, weigh very little. There may be defects in the law; that is a reason why it should be amended. All human machinery, in its inception, is defective; in all attempts to create new machinery there are defects in its workings. If there be good things in it we endorse it.

No Senator will deny that these are a deserving class of people; we should not attempt, then, to take away their rights, but we should attempt to improve the machinery which gives them their rights, and I hope the Senate will vote down this repealing clause.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, there have been abuses under this act nobody doubts. Possibly three-fifths of the money drawn from the Treasury, as stated by the Senator from Bradford [Mr. Landon], has been improperly drawn; but I trust the time for these abuses has passed. Certainly the expenses under that act for the coming year cannot be anything like what they have been in the past. I stated a few days ago, that one-half of the money paid out of the Treasury has been paid in the form of gratuities. That is all over. I presume there are very few claims now coming from the auditor's hands, except those that have already been adjusted. Now, suppose that there have been frauds upon the treasury, which nobody doubts, is that any reason why we should not take care of the persons who have just and legal claims? Suppose that one man in a community commits murder, are you going to hang the whole community for his crime? Certainly not. I would rather that a thousand illegal claims should pass, than that one of these just claims should be denied.

So the men who lost their legs at New Orleans; go to Plattsburg, where the eyes were shot out of those men, and then ask Pennsylvania if she is not willing to make an appropriation for their distress. Oh! you can vote seventeen thousand dollars, to men holding positions upon this floor, but when it comes to the old soldier, then, sir, there are certain Senators here that want to go back upon them. I want it to be distinctly understood that I am at all times, and under all circumstances, willing to stand up for the men who stood up for the defense of our country, and who have need, and I trust this repealing clause will be voted down, and that we will take care of the men who took care of us.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, I say emphatically now, sir, that I will not sit still and have any man assert that I am disposed to go back upon the meritorious soldier. The Senator does not, probably, wish to insinuate that, but that is the idea. The man that does not vote with him discards the old soldier! No, sir; there is as large a place in my heart for the patriotic soldier as there is in any man's heart; and it does not follow that I am going back upon the meritorious soldier because I do not want the scallawags to get his money. I conferred with the Governor upon this subject, and introduced a resolution requesting the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities to bring in a bill remedying the law of 1866, but no such bill has been brought in, and these perjured villains are still plugging into the Treasury. Why has not a bill been brought in?

Mr. GLATZ. Why did not the Senator do it?

Mr. LANDON. It is not my duty. Now, sir, I do not want to take a dime from the old man who has bared his bosom to the thunder-blasts of war, and I do not want anybody to insinuate it. He is the best guardian of the deserving man who stands between the deserving man and the horse-leech; and I am that man, sir. My friend upon the right should have a bill perfected and passed that would give the deserving man his dues, and shut out the undeserving. Now, I will vote for the repeal of that act, in order to get the thing in such shape as we all desire.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I had no intention of reflecting upon the Senator from Bradford. No man will doubt his patriotism and his regard for those who have served upon the battle-fields of the country. But it seems to me that in view of the general legislation upon our statute book, this is wrong, and that the Senate should not repeat the act of 1866.

Mr. MC CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I fully concur in what has fallen from the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. WALLACE] in regard to the Senator from Bradford. I know, sir, that his motives are as generous, and as right, and as true as those of any Senator upon this floor. We only differ as to a matter of policy. I do not wish to multiply upon what I have already remarked, but I wish to add this: I think there is a constitutional difficulty in the way of the repeal of that law. Now, sir, an amendment to the Constitution provides that no act shall embrace more than one subject, except appropriation bills. I understand that to mean, sir, that the exception is in cases of bills making appropriations; there they necessarily embrace a number of items. What is the case here? The point I make is, that this clause to repeal a law is not in the nature of an appropriation.

A bill was introduced to repeal the pension act, this winter, and discussed in both Houses, but so far, has not been adopted by both Houses. An attempt to enact it under the head of an appropriation bill is against the spirit and intent of the Constitution.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, when this subject was up before, I took occasion to say that I was willing to take the responsibility of voting for the repeal of the act of 1866. I have not changed my views. Facts are stubborn things; and what are the facts in this case? The facts are that heretofore it has cost the State six thousand dollars or eight thousand dollars to pay these gratuities and pensions. Under the operations of this act of '66 it has already cost the State, from the claims already allowed, about one million and sixty thousand dollars in one year. It strikes me that a law liable to be so grossly abused as this ought to be speedily removed from the statutes. And who is there here to say that a single meritorious case which has been brought to the attention of the Senate has been refused, when special legislation was asked? I take it that the Legislature, whenever a meritorious case is brought before them, will take pleasure in granting a pension by a special act, and it seems to me that this is where an appeal should rest. Men who are not entitled to pensions will not dare to come here and ask for an act for their benefit. But this act of 1866 seems to be a big job for claim agents.

Mr. LOWRY. That bill was not passed for any such purpose.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). I am in the habit of judging trees by their fruits; and when I find that one hundred and sixty thousand dollars have been taken out of the Treasury to pay claims which heretofore amounted to only eight thousand dollars, I judge that somebody has been making a good thing out of it.

As has been said by the Senator from Bradford [Mr. Landon], men who are rich have made out their claims and been paid. An act capable of being so abused ought to be removed from the statute book. I am not opposed to granting pensions to meritorious persons; but the idea of permitting a general law of this kind to remain upon our statute books, which allows the State Treasury to be depleted, is simply, to my mind, wrong. And I am willing to accept the responsibility of voting for its repeal.

Mr. LOWRY. Mr. Speaker, I will detain the Senate only to deny the fact that this bill was passed to give big jobs. I deny that it has been abused to the extent which Senators charge here. You would require a poor old man to come here, leaning upon his staff, and go around this hall begging for a special law for his special case. You desire men in poor houses to come to Harrisburg for special legislation, and you desire to send them back there. I desire such a thing. I desire that all meritorious cases should be reached without their coming to this Legislature under such circumstances. Because there were half a dozen thieves and robbers, gentlemen rise up and denounce the motives of those who introduced that bill.

This, sir, is all wrong. That bill of last winter is a good bill, and should not be repealed, unless a better substitute is introduced. The Senator from Mercer [Mr. Brown] advocates the entire repeal of this bill, when it is manifest that if we do that, those who are entitled to this bounty in July next cannot receive a dollar, and, before they can come here and get this special legislation, the grave will have settled their accounts. The law was humane when passed, but it has been abused, and should be corrected. Read over the law, and you will find that it was intended to be beneficial only to those who were poor and needy, and could not support themselves, and had not the means of subsistence.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I have been endeavoring to satisfy myself about this matter. I am not in a position to judge conclusively of its merits. In looking over the list of pensioners, I find there are comparatively few in my section, and in the West generally the number is quite small. Still, on turning to the law, I am not prepared to say that, if it was before us to-day, we should very radically change it. The fault is not in the law, but in the administration of it. But the responsibility is thrown upon the Auditor General rather than upon the Treasurer. If he knows of any such state of facts as the Senator from Bradford [Mr. Landon] asserts, he never would give the certificate. In my section, we are very little interested. I know a few meritorious cases, in which the parties have not seen proper to come here for special application.

My own impression is that the repeal of the law would only cause an immense swarm of these persons here. But I think the Auditor General should be more careful in the future; and I agree with those Senators who think that the principle of repealing the act in this manner is objectionable.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not see any necessity for any rhetorical flourishes upon a common sense question. I propose to make a proposition that will meet the objections here; that is to let the section remain intact, and then pass a supplement to the act of 1866, under a suspension of the rules, requiring that public officers of the Commonwealth shall pay no claims unless these claims are endorsed as meritorious by either one or both of the associate judges where the applicant resides. I make that suggestion.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I have just been writing an amendment here, which I move to substitute for the repealing clause of that section. It is as follows:

"Provided, That before any pensions or gratuities are paid by the State Treasurer, under the act approved April 30th, 1866, the application shall be accompanied by a certificate, under oath, of the associate judge of the county in which the applicant resides, or, if in the city of Philadelphia, of one of the judges of the court of common pleas of said city, that the applicant is in necessitous circumstances."

I do not desire to make any oratorical flourishes. The best tribute we can pay to the soldiers is by practical legislation here, and the only complaint by the officers of the Government is that the act of last year is too general in its terms—too uncertain in its provisions—and allows a class of persons to take money from the treasury which the Legislature never desired should be paid. Now, sir, this proviso, which I have sent to the clerk's desk, will be a guard upon the treasury to that extent: it will require a judicial officer of the county to certify that the party is in necessitous circumstances.

The SPEAKER ruled the amendment out of order, as the amendment of the Senator from Erie was already pending.

Mr. CONNELL. In reply to the Senator from Adams [Mr. M'CONAUGHY], I would say that the appropriation bill contains various repealing clauses. We have repealed an act relative to the Transportation Department. You will find those clauses all through the bill.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. That is not the repeal of a statute.

Mr. CONNELL. Practically, it does the same thing.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I desire to say, for the benefit of our friends who desire to improve the law, that we will to-day report a supplementary act from the committee which will remove the defects.

The amendment of Mr. Lowry, striking out the repealing clause, was

Agreed to.
Mr. WHITE then renewed his amendment.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. Mr. Speaker, I hope this will be voted down.

Let us not do this in a hasty manner. Let us do it carefully. I do not believe it will benefit this law one iota. Let this matter of poverty be ascertained before the court in the county in which the applicant resides.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to take up time, but this amendment meets the approbation of the State Treasurer and Auditor General. Furthermore, we ought certainly to do something. There are two objections made to the payment of these pensions; one is that there is not money enough, and another is that the officers are not satisfied that the parties applying are in necessitous circumstances, and they want this additional proviso; and if you are the friend of the soldier, you will vote for this amendment.

The amendment of Mr. WHITE was

Agreed to.
The section as amended was

Agreed to.
The thirteenth section was read.
Mr. FISHER moved to strike out the manuscript amendment at the end of the section, which reads as follows:

"And all acts or parts of acts requiring the School Department to publish their decisions and reports in any particular journal are hereby repealed."

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
The yeas and nays were required by Mr.

FISHER and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Burnett, Davis, Donorau, Fisher, Glatz, Jackson, James, M'Callister, Randall, Schall, Searight, Wallace, Walls, White and Hall, Speaker—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Connell, Cowles, Grabatz, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Conaughy, Ridgway, Royer, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor and Worthington—15.

So the question was determined in the negative.

During the call,
Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence) said: Mr. Speaker, this question has been before the committee and discussed there. The Committee on Education prefer that the amendment should not be stricken out. They prefer, in other words, that the Superintendent of Common Schools shall have the privilege of selecting his organ in which to publish the decisions of the department; that is perfectly right. There is a law upon the statute book by which two thousand copies of the Pennsylvania School Journal have been sent to the various school districts. Dr. Burrows is an independent man, capable of criticizing the operations of the School Department. The Superintendent of Common Schools wishes to have the same independence as Dr. Burrows claims. Let Dr. Burrows have perfect independency in criticizing his department; let Mr. Wickersham have perfect independency also, so that when the decisions come to the school districts, they shall not be filled with unfair criticisms. I vote "no."

Also, during the call,
Mr. FISHER said: Mr. Speaker, Mr. Burrows I know as one of the most steadfast friends of education in the State, and when he was building up the school system of the State, Mr. Wickersham was not born. I vote "aye."

The section, as amended by the committee, was then

Agreed to.

The paragraph section was read
Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, here is an increase of one hundred thousand dollars over our appropriation of last year. I presume it is warranted by the facts. I have uniformly sustained this charity, but I cannot sustain the idea creating a bureau for the purpose of conducting this thing when I believe there is a bureau in existence already which can take care of it. I move, therefore, to amend by striking out the following portion of the section: "For the salary of the inspector or examiner of soldiers' orphan schools, fifteen hundred dollars; for the salary of the female assistant inspector and examiner, the sum of one thousand dollars; for the salary of the office clerk, twelve hundred dollars;" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "And all clerical and examining duties in regard to the same shall be performed by the clerks in the Common School Department." It does seem to me we are creating a horde of officers to eat out the substance of the people. We must commence to retrench at some point. This idea of creating clerks will have to be wiped out some day. There are a score of officers created by this bill, and it seems to me, in this case, we should improve these duties upon the clerks now existing.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, the proper time to have made these objections would have been when we passed the soldiers' orphan bill, which has gone through both branches of the Legislature, and which arranges the whole organization of this department, and I think the Senator will find, if he will examine that bill, that we are adding less expense under it, as regards salaried officers, than under the original plan. We paid Mr. Burrows, the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, two thousand five hundred dollars a year; we paid an examiner one thousand four hundred dollars a year; we paid an inspector one thousand four hundred dollars a year; we paid a clerk twelve hundred dollars a year; and this bill, which provides for the organization of this department, puts the inspector and examiner together, and we pay fifteen hundred dollars where we paid twenty-eight hundred dollars before, under this very system.

Mr. CONNELL. There is a saving of one thousand five hundred dollars altogether.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Of course there is an increased appropriation for the whole thing, for the purpose of sustaining these orphans.

Mr. WALLACE. After the explanation of the Senator from Chester [Mr. WORTHINGTON], I withdrew my amendment.

The section was then agreed to.

The bill was read.
Mr. WHITE moved to amend by making the appropriation for the support of common schools five hundred thousand dollars, instead of four hundred thousand.

Mr. LANDON. The bill came from the House giving six hundred thousand dollars to the common schools, and four hundred and fifty thousand dollars to the orphan schools; the Finance Committee in the Senate left the orphan appropriation as it was, and reduced the appropriation of common schools to four hundred thousand dollars. Subsequently we reconsidered the matter.

Mr. WALLACE. This is an increase of forty five thousand dollars over last year.

Mr. WHITE. I trust my amendment will prevail. The people are largely interested in common schools. I am satisfied that the Superintendent would not recommend a larger amount than was needed.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). For a number of years we have not made much advancement in this appropriation, notwithstanding the increase of expenses. I hope the amendment will be adopted.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I should be willing to go as far as any Senator here for the purpose of increasing this appropriation, if I felt that the finances of the State would justify it at this time. When we considered the increase over last year, we thought it better to put these departments on an equality. I do really think that it would be unadvisable to increase this amount this year beyond four hundred thousand dollars. I am willing to make gradual advances, but to add such a large additional amount at once I think is injudicious.

The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the Senate adjourned until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate reassembled at 3 o'clock.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate having adjourned this morning pending the amendment of Mr. WHITE, the consideration of the same was resumed.

Mr. WHITE. In this connection I may say that I was in earnest when I made the motion to increase this appropriation to five hundred thousand dollars, and I trust the motion will prevail. As I remarked before, the bill came from the House making an appropriation of six hundred thousand dollars for this purpose; and it is to be very much regretted that the appropriation bill comes before the Senate near the close of the session. In the section of the State where I live we are largely interested in this increase.

In the district in which I live the school tax is equivalent to the interest upon the cash valuation of their property; it is the heaviest burden we have to bear, and it is right and proper that the counties in the east should come to our assistance. We assist you in many ways, and I trust Senators from eastern Pennsylvania will not refuse to come up and assist western Pennsylvania by increasing this appropriation to what it should be.

Mr. BIGHAM. I would like to vote for this amount, if gentlemen best conversant with the facts would say that they think the State Treasury would bear it.

Mr. COLEMAN. I would like to ask how much we have increased it over last year?

Mr. CONNELL. One hundred thousand dollars for the orphans, and forty-seven thousand dollars for the others—a total increase of one hundred and forty-seven thousand dollars.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment of Mr. White?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. CONNELL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Cowles, Haines, Landon, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and White—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Adam, Billingsfelt, Coleman, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Jackson, James, Lowry, McCandless, M'Conaughy, Royer, Schall, Seagriff, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—19.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WHITE. I move to amend by making it four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. I have a statement here from which I notice that that will be a very moderate increase on the present rate of distribution. I discover from the memorandum, that in 1852 the distribution was thirty-nine and a half cents; in 1853, thirty-nine and a half cents; 1854, thirty-six cents; 1855, thirty-five cents; 1856, thirty-five cents; 1857, thirty-five cents; 1858, thirty-eight cents; 1859, thirty-eight cents; 1860, thirty-nine and a half cents; 1861, forty cents; 1862, forty cents; 1863, forty cents; 1864, thirty-nine cents; 1865, thirty-eight cents; 1866, forty-one cents; 1867, eighty-one cents, worth six hundred thousand dollars; sixty-four cents, worth five hundred thousand dollars; forty-six cents, worth four hundred thousand dollars.

Deduct for normal schools.....	$15,000 00

From $500,000.....364,847

If we increase it now to four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, it will only make an increase of fifty-five cents on each taxable. Now, this is not a large increase, when we consider that the salaries of teachers have so largely increased, and I trust you will allow this increase to be made. Furthermore, I am informed by the chairman of the Finance Committee that it was his understanding that this was to be the amount. I have perfect confidence in the committee; I simply want justice done.

Mr. CONNELL. That was the understanding of one member, but the understanding of the other four was that the appropriation was to be four hundred thousand dollars. This increase might do very well, if we had not been disappointed in receiving our revenue from the national banks. By a recent decision as to the banks we lose half a million.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment of Mr. WHITE, making the appropriation for common schools four hundred and fifty thousand dollars?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WHITE and Mr. BURNETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Cowles, Haines, Landon, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, Wallace and White—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Coleman, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Jackson, James, Lowry, McCandless, M'Conaughy, Randall, Royer, Schall, Seagriff, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BURNETT inquired where the institution christened the Lincoln University was situated?

Mr. WORTHINGTON. In the county of Chester; it is a colored institution, where they are teaching teachers and persons for the ministry, engineering, and various other purposes; it is an institution sustained entirely by local exertion. It numbers about eighty-six pupils, and has met with considerable success; it has never asked anything of the State.

Mr. BURNETT. I move to strike out the words "Lincoln University," and insert in lieu thereof the words "State Normal School."

Mr. COLEMAN. This is, practically, as I understand it, "a colored normal school; the other normal schools are for the whites."

Mr. BURNETT. If this is a colored normal school, then I will withdraw my amendment.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I perceive that fifteen thousand dollars are appropriated for teachers in the normal schools—five thousand dollars more than in 1866—and it of course decreases the amount of money which goes to the education of the children. I regard this as an item of some importance. I think we have gone quite far enough in the direction of educating children in the normal schools. I therefore move to strike out "fifteen thousand dollars," and insert "ten thousand dollars."

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I hope the amendment will be adopted; I think this normal school system is a perfect humbug. Last summer I sent one of my children to a normal school; I did not discover that she learned anything, but I had to pay seventy-five dollars for a few weeks' schooling there. If these schools are not self-sustaining at that price, I think we had better abolish them.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Mr. Speaker, it will be observed that we have one more normal school in the State than last year, established in the county of Berks; and it will be observed in this very section that there is an appropriation of five thousand dollars especially to that institution; it will be observed, also, that this fifteen thousand dollars is to be divided among all the schools, so that that school gets a full share of the appropriation. Now, there is no specific appropriation to either of those schools—except this fifteen thousand dollars—as there is to the school in Berks county. I am in favor of that appropriation, because it is a new school, and I think it ought to be encouraged; the amount of money appropriated to these institutions makes but twenty-thousand dollars altogether. That school gets five thousand dollars and one-fourth of the fifteen thousand dollars besides. Now, I think the Senators upon the other side of the chamber have no reason to complain of that appropriation, especially Berks county.

Mr. WALLACE. It is not a question of locality; it is a question of taking this amount of money from the education of the children and applying it to the education of the teachers. The system has a great many enemies; there is a serious doubt as to its beneficial results. What I object to is the taking away of the money from the children and bestowing it upon the teachers.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I have no objection, if Senators insist upon it, to strike it down to ten thousand dollars.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I simply rise to correct a misapprehension in this matter. I do not fully agree with my distinguished friend, the Senator from Clearfield (Mr. WALLACE). I am generally proud to do so, but I think he is wrong in this matter. If we are to have normal schools, we ought to have good teachers. I think there should be more of these schools; I am sorry to hear opposition to that system come from any source. I do not know to whom we are indebted for the appropriation for the normal school in my county. It may perhaps come from my friend, the Senator from Adams (Mr. M'CONAUGHY), who made some remarks about the ignorance of my constituents there.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I concur with what the Senator from Berks (Mr. DAVIS) has said, that we ought to have good teachers before the schools can be of any use. My little experience in the school system of this State is that our teachers are lamentably ignorant. We certainly want some means of educating a class of young men and women for school teachers; and if this system is established we would rather increase that appropriation than to have men, fit to be the best young men and women fit to teach the children of the State.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I will be the last man in the world to say one word or throw impediments in the way of education; but from my observations, and the experience I have had, and what I have witnessed of these normal schools, I regard them as most ineffable humbugs, and I am tired of making appropriations year after year to keep up what does not do us any good. They keep the millers' system, especially in the Millersville normal school, which they pretend to introduce, and I regard it as the most ineffable humbug ever got up in the State. We have schools all over the country in which teachers can be qualified to teach, and of all the humbugs we have had in the State, I regard the Millersville system the worst of them all. You know, sir, as a lawyer, that unless a man has the elements of the law in him, mingled in his blood, science is all nonsense. You may talk about the training in the normal schools, but unless they can carry out a practical working it does us amount to a wash. So with the law; unless a man can make it of practical effect, he may read law until the stars go out, and it will not amount to anything.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, if Pennsylvania had a system entire, if we had a common school system exact in its bearings, I would be with Senators who contend that the normal school system is proper, because then we could have normal schools in all sections. But we have no such system; it is imperfect; it is not what the constitutional provision meant it to be; it is, on the contrary, a partial system. Senators in rich districts have the advantages of common schools; they have a well administered school system. Those in other sections have nothing of the kind. Those in populous districts are comparatively little taxed, those in sparsely settled districts are heavily taxed. Now, sir, this proposition to take from the education of the children, it will be seen, takes from the children of my locality—a sparsely populated portion of the State—a larger proportion than from the more densely populated parts. It was never intended by the Commonwealth to provide for the education of teachers; it is the very reverse of that. The Legislature shall, as soon as conveniently may be, provide by law for the establishment of schools throughout the State, in such manner that the poor may be taught gratis. Now, the purpose of this appropriation is to educate the poor children, not the teachers, and, I rise to protest, not against the school system, but against going beyond the limits of the Constitution. If the Senators will agree to make an entire system, that will reach and permeate every section of the Commonwealth, and shower its blessings and advantages equally upon the sparsely-settled portions, as well as upon the rich and populous portions, then I will go with them. But when you undertake to appropriate a specific amount, for special localities, then, in the name of those people who do not receive their just dues, I rise to protest against taking from my people what they are entitled to, and giving it to those who are not entitled to it. I say, give them two thousand dollars, as last year, but give no more. I do not attack the normal schools, but I say that I wish to go no further for that department.

Mr. COLEMAN. Do you not want a better class of teachers, and are not most of your teachers poor?

Mr. WALLACE. We desire as good teachers as we can conveniently get, but in our locality the teachers are usually competent to teach those who go to them; but perhaps they are not what they should be.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, allow me a word, at the command of the Senator for Erie [Mr. LOWRY]. In saying that word, I join issue with the Senator from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER], and, in utter demolition of his declared ineffable humbug, I present a short chapter of facts. Facts are unanswerable arguments, and ineffable humbings are easily demolished by an array of unquestioned facts. The simple fact I wish to allude to is this: We have a normal school at Mansfield. Some two years ago a number of young people left my section and went to Mansfield to prepare for teaching, and they enjoyed the benefactions and patronage of this Senate.

Well, sir, they staid there a year, and returned home. They have been employed in Bradford county as teachers; one of them was employed near where I live; another opened a school near the village where I live, and another opened one in another direction.

Now, sir, those teachers wrought a complete revolution in the system of teaching, and the superintendent announced that the greatest blessing to the common school system would be to have a supply of teachers from the Mansfield normal school.

Must not a man learn before he teaches? You do not expect a man to shoe a mule until he is taught? How can you expect a man to pursue any vocation until he has learned the science of the trade—the philosophy of the business? I would like to know what business is more exalted than this modeling of the human mind.

Do you want to set clodhoppers at that work? Tell me it is an ineffable humbug! No, sir; the utterance of such a thing is an ineffable afternoon fancy explosion. Mr. Speaker, these normal schools are the foundation of the common school system. When we appropriate four hundred thousand or six hundred thousand dollars for the common schools, we do not want the money taken away from seven hundred thousand children, but we want things so arranged that it shall produce the largest possible amount of good, and not waste half of it through incompetent teachers. Give us good teachers, and then our money is not wasted.

Where do you get your good teachers? From the normal school. I am going to vote for the largest appropriation for the system of education in Pennsylvania, and the appropriation to education, whether to the normal or common school, is the appropriation that goes directly to the people. I would collect this appropriation on the left and on the right, in order to increase the fund for education. If I cannot get but four hundred thousand dollars I will be thankful; but to have that produce the greatest result, you must have the best teachers, and to have them educated, you must put them through the normal schools, and there is no humbug about it.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat surprised to-day, that the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY] should employ the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] to do the work which he is abundantly able to do himself. But I suppose there is some reason. I think, sir, that the Senator from Erie has employed a journeyman that does not do his work very well. There is no man upon this floor who will go further, and labor harder and spend more money in proportion to his means, for the education of the children and teachers of the country, than I will.

But I want it to be effective; and when I speak of the normal schools as an ineffable humbug, I mean what I say, and the facts will bear me out. I have a daughter whom I sent to one of these normal schools; she was there a few weeks, and I paid seventy-five dollars. That was at Millersville, the very head and front of normal schools. I take it that is a fair sample, that being the leading institution. I say that their system of education there is certainly superficial; the boys learn croquet, and that kind of thing, but there is no solid education. When I see the practical effects of the system, I say that it is fallacious; you have to pay as much there as at a first-class college, and fall in the object for which you send your children there.

Mr. DOWRY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has for the second time alluded to the case of his daughter. Perhaps the reason for her not receiving any benefits is the same as in a case in our county. We have a man there who suddenly became wealthy by oil; he sent his daughter to a school in our county, and word was sent to the father, after she had been there some time, that he had better come and take her home. I am not applying this case to the Senator. The father went, and the teacher said to him, "you had better take your daughter home; I cannot teach her." "Why so?" said the father. Well, after some hesitation, the teacher replied, "why, my dear sir, she has not got capacity." "Oh," says the father, "buy her one, buy her one."

Mr. FISHER. That is not my situation. Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I shall not enter into any discussion at all. It is not the amount appropriated; it is merely a question of distinction between the common schools and normal schools. I think we ought to give this amount, if we give six hundred thousand dollars to the common schools. I shall vote for the amendment.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amount of Mr. WALLACE, to reduce the appropriation to normal schools to ten thousand dollars?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Biggam, Billingsfelt, Burnett, Donovan, Fisher, James, Searight, Shoemaker, Wallace and White—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Davis, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, McCandless, McConaghy, Schall, Statzman, Taylor, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—18.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The section was then

Agreed to.

Mr. BIGHAM moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which the thirteenth section was agreed to.

The motion was

Agreed to.

The section being again before the Senate, Mr. BIGHAM moved to amend the same by striking out the words, "and all acts and parts of acts requiring the school department to publish their decisions and reports in any particular journal are hereby repealed," and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "and that at least one thousand five hundred dollars of this amount [two thousand dollars] shall be expended in the manner heretofore required by law for the publication of said decisions and reports.

Mr. BIGHAM. This authorizes one thousand five hundred dollars to be expended in the manner heretofore required, and the balance to go as directed by law; in other words, that the decisions shall be in the School Journal. I am not disposed to make a sudden change in that respect.

Mr. BROWN (Lawrence). Mr. Speaker, if I were at the head of the school department, and the Legislature of Pennsylvania should insist upon it that the decisions of my department should be published in a journal which I had not selected, and which my judgment did not approve, I should esteem it as not extending the courtesy due to myself as the head of that department. I have not heard from the Superintendent of Common Schools myself, but I do know that the action which is proposed in the appropriation bill is in accordance with the deliberate conclusion to which the Committee on Education came, after hearing this matter in its various bearings. It has been urged that Dr. Burrows is so exceedingly independent that it is necessary for him to criticize the operations of the department. I am not disposed to give him the entire credit of thus being independent; I am willing that he should be applauded for that independency; but I insist upon it that the department of common schools should publish their decisions as they like, and that the Legislature should furnish whatever is needed by that department as he shall indicate. If the object is to have this periodical circulated in every school district, it is proper that the action of the department should be so presented to them that they shall be led by that knowledge to respect the school department, and to give their support to the action of the department. It is expected that two thousand copies of whatever journal is selected, will reach every school district in the State. It is now proposed that at least one thousand five hundred dollars of this two thousand dollars shall be expended for the Pennsylvania School Journal. I should like to know why they are going to expend the other five hundred dollars. When you give the Superintendent a moiety, how is he going to reach the result desired? I do not see how he is going to accomplish the object by a division of it. For my part, I am satisfied that it would be better to leave the amount to the Superintendent.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, there is a higher authority in this Commonwealth to which they and we owe allegiance, and that is the authority of law. The present Superintendent and the late Superintendent were appointed and accepted their positions when the law required that they should publish these decisions in the School Journal, and it has never until to-day, been proposed to repeal that law. Both these gentlemen accepted positions from the Governor; they undertook to discharge the duties of their office, and were bound to do it in obedience to the school law. That allegiance still continues; it is to this day the law of the land. I have had no intercourse upon this subject with either of those parties; I believe that they are endeavoring to discharge their duties as they understand them. It has been the law of the land, for perhaps twenty years, that these decisions and instructions should be circulated in a particular way. I have nothing to do with these personal matters; the editor of that journal has perhaps done more for the common school system than any one else; his whole life has been devoted to it.

When this question came up this morning I did not fully understand its bearings. When I come to understand it, and find this state of feeling, I think it is proper that the Legislature should interfere. I think that the least that the Legislature owes to a man whose life has been devoted to this cause is to say that the indirect assistance which would be given in sustaining that journal should be given. I have only a single feeling of kindness toward each one of the parties.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). Mr. Speaker, I will appeal to the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM] to modify his amendment so as to include the entire two thousand dollars. It is evident, unless there be changes, that this amendment is going to carry; the vote was a tie this morning, and the Senator from Allegheny voted for the section as it stands. I learn that there are one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two districts in the Commonwealth; the price of the Journal is one dollar, which will make one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two dollars for the issuing of it. There is an increase every way, so that it would take one thousand nine hundred dollars to place it in every school board.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I have no quarrel with the present Superintendent, nor the former. I know him very well. He is a citizen of my county, a very respectable gentleman and a man of high character, against whom no word can be said. I have not an unkind word against the Superintendent of Common Schools; I know him to be a gentleman, and abundantly qualified for his position. I would like to know if anybody has produced a copy of the School Journal in which any personal attack has been made.

Mr. COWLES. Mr. Speaker, I would say that three or four of these papers were before the committee which had bills read upon the Superintendent. They were "buried" in articles in those papers which were personal attacks upon the Superintendent and upon the decisions that he gave. I saw them myself.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, I have the highest regard both for the Superintendent and for my friend, the Senator from M'Kean [Mr. COWLES]; but at the same time, I have this to say in regard to Mr. Burrows: when the State Superintendent was mewing in his mother's arms, Dr. Burrows was working for the school system of Pennsylvania. He is the father of the system, and to him and Thaddeus Stevens the people of Pennsylvania are indebted for their system of common schools. Dr. Burrows has devoted every hour of his time to the interests of the school system of Pennsylvania; and will you strike him down now because he happens to differ with some of these mushrooms as to the system of education in Pennsylvania? I say he stood by the poor of Pennsylvania, and has inaugurated a system which is working admirably, in which the poor man's children can have the same education as the rich man's; and will you strike at him now because he criticizes some actions of the State Superintendent? I trust not. Strike at a man who has grown gray in the interest of education in Pennsylvania? I trust not.

Mr. COWLES. Mr. Speaker, the educational system of Pennsylvania is a very complicated system; there is a vast amount of machinery connected with it. The revenues which the people pour into the system to give it life amounts to millions every year. That this amount of money shall be well expended, and the people receive the benefits, has been organized a system, and put in the head a superintendent. It is his business to advise the teachers and school directors all over the Commonwealth. His instructions are laws to them; these things are the government of the whole machinery. The State has had a school journal, in which the decisions are published, and they are as much recognized as the official action of the Commonwealth as the decisions of the Supreme Court are when published by the State Reporter.

Now, then, I say it is unjust, unwise and foolish for the people of Pennsylvania and this Legislature, at the same time when we are spending so many millions, to destroy all its usefulness. The State Superintendent is utterly powerless if, right along in the same journal which is sent out at the expense of the State, we find ridicule and vituperation, not only against the Superintendent himself, but against the very instructions that he gives to the county superintendent and school directors. I have no feeling against Dr. Burrows, but I think this system should be supported, and that we should not send into the districts the means for destroying the usefulness of this money. If Dr. Burrows is so deserving of the State, let us pension him; let us vote him something independent. But I don't want to see this journal, which is abusing the system, sent broadcast throughout the State, at the expense of the system which it seeks to destroy. Do not let us enter into the quarrel of these men, if there is a quarrel; it is evident that Dr. Burrows, since he left the superintendency, has had but one purpose, and that is, that the State shall have no success under the school system, unless he is at the head of that system. I believe the present Superintendent should be sustained. If he is to be maligned, let it be at the expense of the persons maligning him. If Dr. Burrows' fame is so great, let us buy him a monument; but do not place anything upon the school system to pull it down and destroy it.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I understand the Senator from M'Kean [Mr. COWLES] to say that the School Journal made personal attacks upon the Superintendent of Schools. Am I correct?

Mr. COWLES. You are.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I was present with the Committee on Education when this was discussed there, and the Senator from M'Kean read an extract from one of the objectionable articles in the School Journal, and my understanding was that it simply contained a pretty severe comment upon the decisions of the Superintendent, and no attack was made upon the Superintendent at all; and it is probably well for the Senate not to be misled, for the Senator from M'Kean may be in error in regard to this matter.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, it is very anomalous to me that a man like Dr. Burrows, who has all his life devoted his time and attention and talent to the perfection of the common school system of Pennsylvania, should, in his old age, turn around and assail the very system which he has spent his whole life in building up. I do not believe in any such logic as that.

Furthermore, if this common school system of Pennsylvania and the Department cannot withstand fair and impartial criticism at the hands of old Dr. Burrows, I think that system must be getting weak in the knees. I say that it would be exceedingly unfair in this Legislature to deprive the people of the State from receiving, periodically, a journal which is welcome in every school district throughout the Commonwealth, coming to them, as it does, with the prestige of Dr. Burrows. I, for one, will not countenance it. If there is any personal pique between Dr. Burrows and the Superintendent, I do not intend to interfere. I intend to do justice, and vote fairly if I possibly can.

Mr. BIGHAM. Mr. Speaker, since the Senator from M'Kean [Mr. COWLES] speaks upon his own knowledge, I do not pretend to dispute with him. A gentleman equally intelligent with the Senator from Mc'Kean, and a much closer reader of this journal, I expect, told me that there was only free criticism, and that they were always treated with respect, I am in favor of independent criticism in all sorts of journals. I think we had better let the law stand for the present.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). I should like to know what kind of an organ a paper is that harshly criticises the department. One Senator insists upon it that our appropriation shall be made under the law. I insist upon it also. This being the law-making power, what we shall do in this appropriation bill will be effective as law, unless the interpretation of the Senator from non Adams [Mr. Mc'CONAUGHY] be correct; but if it be correct, I am afraid that the incorporations already made in this appropriation bill will secure the pronouncement of the proper legal authorities that the whole bill is invalidated, so that it cannot receive the Governor's signature. I say, if we can do one thing of this sort in an appropriation bill, we can do another. If this rescinding act is incorporated in the appropriation bill it will have all the force of law. And now it is a question for this Legislature to determine whether or not Adams [Mr. Mc'CONAUGHY] shall be a school organ in matter of fact as well as in name. I am opposed to the amendment presented by the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM]. I admire Dr. Burrows' independency and would not have it restricted, but I do object to that kind of independency that makes the official organ of the whole system an opponent of the whole common school system, with the chief of common schools at its head. I say the chief of common schools should be as independent as Dr. Burrows.

Mr. BIGHAM. If the Committee on Education believe this doctrine, they are fault for not bringing in a bill of this kind.

Mr. FISHER. I insist upon it, if Dr. Burrows is to suffer by these charges, I want the evidence produced, which I know cannot be done.

Mr. BROWNE (Lawrence). I have not accused him. I have taken what has been urged in his favor as a reason why we should not grant what they request. Since attention has been called to it, I want to say this: that the Committee on Education acted upon a bill, and have reported it to the Senate. That bill is one of the pending public bills before the Senate. It proposes to repeal this section of the act of 1865, which makes the Pennsylvania School Journal the recognized official organ of the common schools, and give the Superintendent authority to select.

The amendment of Mr. BIGHAM was modified so as merely to strike out the following clause: and all acts, or parts of acts, requiring the School Department to publish their decisions and reports in any particular journal, are hereby repealed.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BIGHAM and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billington, Blatz (Mercer), Burnett, Davis, Fisher, Glown, Graham, James, Mc'Callister, Mc'Conaughey, Randall, Schall, Searith, Stutzman, Wallace, Walls, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—25.

NAYS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Cowles, Landon, Lowry and Taylor—5.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call, Mr. Mc'CONAUGHY said: Mr. Speaker, for the reasons given this morning, that I think we should not introduce into the appropriation bill clauses for the repeal of separate statutes, I vote aye.

The section as amended was then

Agreed to.

The sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth sections were read and

Agreed to.

The nineteenth section was read.

Mr. LOWRY. I desire to know if the salaries of the law judges are all alike?

Mr. CONNELL. All except in the Twelfth district, and in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

Mr. LOWRY. I would like to know why a law judge in Erie is not entitled to as much as one in Philadelphia.

Mr. CONNELL. They are not supposed to perform anything like the labor.

Mr. LOWRY. That is the greatest mistake you could have arrived at upon this subject.

Mr. GRAHAM. We had that discussed a year ago, and it was decided to let it stand.

Mr. LOWRY. My county was not represented on that committee, and therefore I must be heard here.

Mr. GRAHAM. The committee had little or nothing to do with the insertion of the judges' salaries last year; it was thoroughly discussed, and this is the result arrived at.

Mr. COWLES. I recollect how this thing came about last year. In discussing this question we acquiesced, and when it went to the committee of conference the salaries were cut down. The Senate, on a fair discussion of the question, said there should be more equity.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I sympathize with my friend, the Senator from Mc'Kean [Mr. COWLES], and also with my friend, the Senator from Erie [Mr. LOWRY]. I think we ought not to discriminate between the judges of the city and country. I have been in the twentieth section. I am going to move to amend. I know my friend, the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM], may feel sensitive upon this subject, or my friends, the Senators from Philadelphia; but I represent a country district, and other Senators representing country districts have a right to feel sensitive upon this subject.—There is an inequality in this matter, and I think it is right that the representatives of the country districts should speak out. We contribute largely to the revenue of the Commonwealth, and to the patriotism and history of the Commonwealth, and the judiciary of the rural districts compare favorably with the judiciary of the city districts. I admit there may be some difference, and I am willing to discriminate to a moderate degree with due reference to the condition of our treasury. But I cannot see the justice of this discrimination to the amount of fifteen hundred dollars.

Mr. BIGHAM. I beg leave to inform the gentleman that there is nothing like this difference, and the country judges are allowed mileage, which amounts to considerable.

Mr. WHITE. That amounts to very little. The district in which I live is composed of three counties—Indiana, Westmoreland and Armstrong. In 1860 the population of these three counties was but a trifle short of one hundred and thirty thousand persons. According to the census, the population in Allegheny county in 1860 was one hundred and eighty thousand. Now, sir, in the county of Allegheny, where they have but a third more population than in my district, they have five times as many judges under this bill of twenty-five thousand dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. Are not your constituents as quarrelsome as anybody else?

Mr. WHITE. Well, sir, they want to have the persons who settle these quarrels well paid. It is for the purpose of protecting the ability of the bench, and I, represented my people, rise and ask Pennsylvania to do justice to the rural districts. I think it is proper that the representatives of the rural districts should speak out and see that justice is done. I do not want to see these reduce salaries. I do not know that we would have the constitutional power to bring the city judges down to the basis of those in the country, but it would be doing something like fairness to bring the country judges up.

Mr. GRAHAM. This section might as well be allowed to pass, and when we come to that section we can amend it.

The section was then

Agreed to.

The twentieth section was read.

Mr. WHITE moved to amend so as to make the salary of each president and law judge four thousand dollars a year instead of three thousand five hundred dollars a year. Mr. BIGHAM, Mr. Speaker, I would call the attention of the country members to one state of facts. We have had this winter and last winter constant applications for an increase of law judgeships. If you increase this amount, you put a barrier upon that for all future time. You will have the most expensive judicial system in the United States. We have twenty-nine districts now.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, the Senator knows the judges in my district. I want the Senator to tell me why every one of the five judges in Allegheny should receive five thousand dollars, and the judge in my district one thousand five hundred dollars less.

Mr. BIGHAM. Each of those five judges sit more days in the year than your judge, and do more business, and the difference in the expense of living in the city of Pittsburg and the borough of Kittanning is one thousand five hundred dollars. I have been in Judge Buffington's house; I know how he lives. He is a good judge; but I say the difference between living in the city and country is all of one thousand five hundred dollars in favor of the country, and the general law has always made this distinction.

Mr. SEARIGHT. You have no other argument but that.

Mr. BIGHAM. I simply say that the general law has always made this distinction. In reference to the time employed, I will venture to say that the judges sit more days. Mere population is not the test; the business done is the test; but we are not debating whether to diminish the salaries of the others. The committee thought this amount was the largest that the Treasury could stand.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the fact that the expense of living in the cities may be greater than in the town of Kittanning. As to the fact that every one of the Allegheny judges sit more days and do more business than the one in my district, I cannot trovert that entirely. I know something about country courts. Now, the judge in my district last year held twenty-seven weeks of regular term. These terms come around periodically. In the three counties of the district there are two consecutive weeks, commencing with Westmoreland, and then Armstrong and Indiana.

How is it in those country courts? If the room is not comfortable, it is as much as a man's life is worth to sit there eight hours a day. You, Mr. Speaker, know how it is in your district; it is the same thing there. In the city districts, the rooms of the judges are larger and more comfortable. There may be instances in the criminal court in which they have two sessions a day, but they have not the continual labor which the judges in the country districts have; and I think, if there is any class of the legal profession that earns the little pittance which the Commonwealth allows them, it is the country judges. Some Senators say that it will bring the salaries up to equal. Well, bring the others down to an equality, if you have the power; but you know that under the Constitution, when the pay of a judge is fixed by law, you cannot reduce it. Hence, I do not think we have the power to reduce the salaries at all, and the only way by which we can mete out justice is to bring them up to something like an equality.

Mr. FISHER. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] says that the judge in his district holds twenty-seven weeks of court. Now, sir, according to the published list of the courts in the county of Lancaster for the present year—always made out at the commencement of the year—we have thirty-four weeks besides business at chambers and adjourned courts. I venture to say that there is as much labor in our courts as in Philadelphia or Allegheny. Why should they not have the same amount of pay? I do not pretend to say whether the amount paid in Philadelphia and Allegheny is too large. But I say that where judges in the country perform the same amount of labor and hold court as many weeks as those in Philadelphia, they ought to have the same amount of compensation. It looks as though Philadelphia and Allegheny were going to swallow up the Commonwealth. Why should this be so? "Ye gods, upon what meat do these our Cæsars feed, that they have grown so great?" I think there should be equality in these things. If a judge in Chester county or Lancaster county, or Clearfield county, or any other county, performs the same amount of labor as those in Philadelphia, he should have the same pay.

Mr. CONNELL. There is the trouble. They do not perform the same amount.

Mr. FISHER. I challenge any one to prove to me that any city court exceeds thirty-four weeks. Show me your Philadelphia or Allegheny lists, and I will settle the point.

Mr. CONNELL. The judges of the court of common pleas there have about two weeks vacation in the whole year. They are employed either in the court of common pleas or quarter sessions constantly.

Mr. FISHER. You have three or four different courts in Philadelphia, with some half-dozen judges to perform the duties. You divide up the business, and make it a very small affair.

Mr. CONNELL. In the first place the difference in the cost of living is from eight hundred dollars to one thousand dollars; the difference in rent alone is very near that. Our judges live in houses that cost eight hundred dollars to one thousand dollars for rent. Every one knows that rents in the country are a great deal less. I particularly ask the attention of the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] to the mileage which they receive, which makes several hundred dollars difference; so there is not a difference of one thousand five hundred dollars, as expressed upon the face of the bill. The difference in the cost of living, and the mileage, explains the whole thing.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment of Mr. WHITE, viz: To make the salaries four thousand dollars?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHALL and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Browne (Lawrence), Burnett, Davis, Fisher, Glatz, James, Lowry, Schall, Shoemaker, Stutzman, White and Hall, Speaker—12.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Coleman, Connell, Donovan, Graham, Haines, Landon, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Searight, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and Worthington—15.

So the question was determined in the negative.

During the call, Mr. COLEMAN said: Mr. Speaker, I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia [Mr. CONNELL]; that there is this difference in the cost of living, and the argument that his judge only works half the year; therefore, so far as his district is concerned—not knowing anything about the others—I vote "no."

Also, during the call, Mr. SEARIGHT said: Mr. Speaker, I think there is too much disparity, but I believe that three thousand five hundred dollars is a pretty good salary for country judges; and, inasmuch as the Attorney General gets but three thousand five hundred dollars, I vote "no."

The twentieth section was then

Agreed to.

The twenty-first section was read as follows:

SEC. 21. For the payment of the salaries and mileage of the associate judges of the courts of this Commonwealth, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, each associate judge to receive, in lieu of the salary now allowed by law, eight dollars per day, for every day, not exceeding fifty, he may be employed in the discharge of his official duties, and for every such day, in excess of fifty, the sum of four dollars: Provided, That the salary of no associate judge shall be less than three hundred dollars, and the pay of the associate judges shall hereafter be as is herein provided.

Mr. BIGHAM moved to amend striking out the word "eight," after the words "now allowed by law," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "four," and also by striking out the word "four" after the words "excess of fifty, the sum of," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "three."

Mr. BIGHAM. This is a new principle to which this appropriation resorts, and a question of constitutional power. Associate judges are divided into about five classes, I believe. This proposes to adopt a different schedule, and divides them into two classes. This will double, at least, the expense to the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment? The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHALL and Mr. GLATZ, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Donovan, Graham, Haines, Landon, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, White and Worthington—14.

NAYS—Messrs. Burnett, Davis, Fisher, Glatz, James, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Schall, Searight, Stutzman, Walls and Hall, Speaker—13.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The section as amended was then

Agreed to.

Mr. M'CANDLESS moved to reconsider the vote on the seventh section, for the purpose of adding to the end thereof the following amendment:

"For the preparation of a general index of all the laws of this Commonwealth, granting charters of incorporation, and such other laws not to be codified by the commissioners appointed for that purpose, the sum of twelve hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be done under the approval of the Attorney General."

Mr. M'CONAUGHEY. I think this unnecessary. I was applied to at one time during the session, and asked to recommend this; but I think, sir, after the adoption of the joint resolution for codifying the laws, this would be an expenditure of money not desirable during the present state of the treasury.

On the question, Will the Senate agree to the motion of Mr. M'CANDLESS?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. M'CANDLESS and Mr. FISHER, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Connell, Haines, James, Landon, M'Candless, Schall, Searight, Shoemaker, Taylor and Wallace—10.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Burnett, Coleman, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Jackson, M'Conaughy, Randall, Stutzman, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—16.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The twenty-second and twenty-third sections were read and

Agreed to.

The twenty-fourth section was read.

Mr. WHITE. That fixes the salaries of members of the Legislature as established by law.

The SPEAKER. I hope the newspapers will take notice that this fixes the salaries of members at one thousand dollars.

The section was

Agreed to.

The twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh sections were

Agreed to.

The twenty-eighth section was read. Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, last year there was but a single watchman for public buildings.

Mr. CONNELL. Since that time we have had the extension to the building.

Mr. GRAHAM. My impression is that there are three watchmen paid out of the fund of the superintendent of the grounds.

Mr. WALLACE. I move to strike out the words "three watchmen," and insert in lieu thereof "one watchman." Here is an additional cost of one thousand eight hundred dollars. I move to strike out these two additional watchmen and the one thousand eight hundred dollars.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, this appropriation last year and the year before was much heavier than this. There are a certain number of men required to keep these grounds in order, whether the Legislature is in session or not. The Superintendent of Public Buildings is called upon by every head of a department for this and that thing—for desks in this place, and desks in another place; gas pipe here, and water pipe there, and all those things. That fund supplies fuel for the Auditor General's building, and keeps all these buildings in order. My proposition is that the Superintendent shall have that fund in his charge, and make a detailed report to the next Legislature; and another Legislature will know how to regulate the appropriation hereafter.

Mr. WALLACE. I desire to test the sense of the Senate upon this question. The bill of last year contained but a single watchman; this contains three. I move to strike out two of them.

Mr. COLEMAN. These are not additional officers; it is only a change of phraseology in the bill; they are officers who have been here for ten years. There is no increase here at all.

Mr. WALLACE. Then they will be drawing their money under false pretenses. The act of last year says, "for wages of labor."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WALLACE and Mr. WHITE, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Burnett, Cowles, Davis, Donovan, Haines, James, Landon, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Randall, Schall, Searith, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, Walls and Hall, Speaker—19.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Coleman, Connell, Fisher, Graham and Stutzman—6.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. COLEMAN moved to further amend the section by making the appropriation for the necessary repairs to the public buildings and grounds, and for wages of laborers employed on the same, six thousand six hundred dollars, instead of four thousand six hundred dollars; and by adding the following: "And the superintendent is hereby required to make a detailed statement of his expenditures to the next Legislature."

Mr. COLEMAN. This is about as moderate as the appropriation could be, and about as well guarded as it could be. I cannot imagine there can be any dissent to it.

Mr. GRAHAM. I would state that the bill, as it passed the House, appropriated eight thousand dollars to this purpose. We cut it down to four thousand dollars.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SCHALL and Mr. COLEMAN, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Fisher, Graham, Landon, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Randall, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Taylor, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—17.

NAYS—Messrs. Davis, Donovan, James, Schall, Searith, Wallace and Walls—7.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

During the call,

Mr. WALLACE said: Mr. Speaker, I vote "no," because, in 1863-4 and '5, less than one-half of this amount was appropriated for this purpose.

The section as amended was then

Agreed to.

Mr. DONOVAN moved that the Senate reconsider the vote on the twenty-first section, in order to restore it as it was.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DONOVAN and Mr. DAVIS, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Davis, Glatz, James, Randall, Schall, Searith and Walls—9.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsley, Browne (Lawrence), Coleman, Connell, Cowles, Donovan, Fisher, Graham, Haines, Landon, Lowry, M'Candless, M'Conaughy, Shoemaker, Taylor, Wallace, White, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—20.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The twenty-ninth section was read and

Agreed to.

AN EVENING SESSION.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY, from the committee of conference of the Senate and House of Representatives, on the points of difference between the Senate and House on the joint resolution No. 617, Senate bill relative to the revival of the civil laws of Pennsylvania, made the following report:

It is unanimously recommended to strike out in the first section in the fourth line, after the word "Commonwealth," the manuscript amendment as follows: "who, in conjunction with the Attorney General, shall act;" and to strike out in the same section, in the first line, the words "the revisors," and insert in lieu thereof as follows:

"The said commissioners, in consultation with the Attorney General of this Commonwealth," and that the Senate recede from its non-concurrence, and concur in the amendment of the House, to strike out the word "collect," and insert, in lieu thereof, word "collate," in first line in second section, and also in the amendment of the House, to strike out nine, and insert fifteen in first line in fifth section.

All of which is respectfully submitted. On motion of Mr. M'CONAUGHY, said report was twice read and adopted.

MONDAY'S SESSION.

A motion was made by Mr. GRAHAM, that when the Senate adjourn it will adjourn to meet on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The motion was

Agreed to.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Agreedly to order.

The Senate resumed the second reading and consideration of bill entitled An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government and other general and specific appropriations.

The thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh sections were read and

Agreed to.

The thirty-eighth section was read.

The question was,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CONNELL moved to strike out "twenty-five days" in the sixth line and insert "three months."

The motion was

Agreed to.

The section was then

Agreed to.

The thirty-ninth, fortieth, forty-first, forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, and fifty-third sections were read and

Agreed to.

The question recurred on agreeing to the fifty-fourth section.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, I have come to this conclusion, that the Home for Friendless Children is a very meritorious institution. I always thought so. I think so now; and certainly from my heart of hearts I wish them great success in their work of benevolence, kindness and love. The Angel of Mercy that takes up a homeless, friendless, ragged little orphan and cares for it, and rears it up in virtuous intelligent womanhood and manhood, adds much to the glory and welfare of the Commonwealth. Certainly, every high minded man rejoices in all such enterprises. Now, if the Senate wishes to grant eight thousand dollars to this institution I am not disposed to say a word against it, or vote against it. But the question comes to my mind: Can we distribute our benefactions to these local charitable institutions? This is a semi-State institution. But after we have appropriated for it we will be called upon to provide for Lancaster, and Harrisburg, and York. I have come to the conclusion that I will make no opposition to bestowing a benefaction upon the Northern Home for Friendless Children, but I hope it will stop there. I do not believe the finances of the State will allow us to pension all the poor upon the treasury. If we pension York and Lancaster, and Harrisburg, why not Luzerne, and Bradford, and Sullivan? This is all I have to say.

I move to strike out the appropriation for the friendless of the city of Lancaster, the appropriation for the Home of the Friendless in Harrisburg, and the appropriation for the friendless of York.

Mr. RANDALL moved to amend by adding the following proviso to the manuscript amendment, making donations to the homes of the friendless in Lancaster, Harrisburg and York.

Provided That the citizens of Harrisburg, York and Lancaster shall first subscribe and pay, or shall have subscribed and paid into the treasury of each home, the sum of ten thousand dollars each, to be applied towards erecting buildings, and the purchase of grounds therefor.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The question recurred on the motion of the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON].

The motion was Withdrawn.

The question was,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. McCONAUGHY moved to further amend by fixing the appropriations to the Homes for the Friendless in York and Lancaster at two thousand dollars each.

Mr. SEARIGHT. Mr. Speaker, the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] made a motion a few moments ago in which I sympathize. Terrified by the amendment of the Senator from Schuylkill, he has withdrawn it. I sympathize with the observations of the Senator from Bradford; I sympathize with these institutions. But if we open the door of the treasury now, it will establish a precedent. If we contribute to these institutions I am in favor of contributing to Allegheny and other institutions.

I therefore move to amend the amendment by striking out of the section all appropriations except that made to the Northern Home for Friendless Children.

Mr. LANDON. Mr. Speaker, last winter our Governor recommended the Legislature to cease from these miscellaneous appropriations to local benevolent institutions. We acted upon that advice last year, and removed the tax from real estate, and thus cut off at one blow our annual income to the State Treasury of one million six hundred thousand dollars. We levied an additional tax of one per centum upon corporations. That tax has been raised. The State Treasurer informs us to-day, that four hundred and fifty thousand dollars that was expected in the treasury would not be received. We have an appropriation bill that is enormously large. If we make these appropriations to York and Lancaster and Harrisburg, you are setting a precedent that will haunt you for years to come. A precedent which you will, hereafter, have to trample upon. I am satisfied to grant eight thousand dollars to the Home for the Friendless in Philadelphia. But there stop. Then you are safe. If you do not stop there you are not safe. I leave this matter to the good sense of the Senate.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am not at all satisfied that this is not the best precedent means that the State can employ for the support of the poor and indigent, and for the prevention of crime, that can be adopted. I will go so far as to say that any county that will contribute five dollars to every one that the State appropriates will save just that amount to the community in expenses for poor houses, jails and institutions of that kind. It is encouraging the wealthy and benevolent to step forward to the relief of the taxpayers. If we can, by inducements, obtain contributions from the wealthy and benevolent to aid these objects, it relieves the taxpayer.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I regard the charities of the Commonwealth as some of our proudest trophies; I shall be the last to stifle them down. But I am with the Senator from Bradford [Mr. LANDON] in this matter. We must be just before we are generous. I have, during my time in the Senate of Pennsylvania, voted continually for these charities. For the one included in this section I have never voted more than five thousand dollars, and I see no reason to-night for increasing that amount. I have heard no reason given for its increase. We have here, in the Commonwealth, a number of homes for those who are about to institute organizations for the purpose of taking care of these homeless wanderers, and they have rights equal with those engaged in a similar work in Philadelphia.

Why should we not with the capital of the Commonwealth aid in furnishing one of these homes?

The Senator from M. Kean says other sections are entitled to an appropriation if we give aid to these. But there is a very important difference between the kind of charity we would bestow and that which the State has hitherto bestowed. These homeless, friendless wanderers are found in the large centres of population. From the very nature of things, this is always the case. We must go further to look for that class of humanity to which this charity should be applied. In the section in which the gentleman resides we do not find this class of humanity—we find them only in the large cities. When men step out of the ordinary path of their duties, and devote themselves to these wards, it seems to me we should strain a point to aid them through the treasury of the Commonwealth. But, I repeat, we must be just before we are generous; we must be careful that we do not go beyond our power; we must be careful we do not strip the treasury.

Mr. FISHER. Had I been present when that amendment was offered, and had I not known my gallant and distinguished and highly esteemed friend from Indiana [Mr. WHITE] when he offered that amendment, I would have supposed he was a used-up old bachelor, that he never had a child, and especially an orphan child, and that he never knew and never could appreciate nor enjoy the feelings and promptings of common humanity, and take care of these poor orphans.

Sir, if this Senate had gone with me two weeks ago, and in a body visited, as I did, the Home for Friendless Children in the city of Lancaster, there is not a man here who, if he has a heart, that could have refused this application. Sir, I saw one hundred and seventy little boys and girls, picked up from the streets—orphans, friendless, homeless, uncared for and unprotected, that these angels of mercy had clothed and fed, and were educating to save them from vice and the ailments of the world. Yet the distinguished Senator from Indiana, a man whom I esteem—may, more, a man that I love for his many virtues of head and heart, will get up here and ask that the Senate of Pennsylvania shall do nothing for these poor and destitute, forlorn and forsaken orphans. Oh, sir, I cannot conceive of it. We vote our thousands to other objects that we had better leave untouched; and when we are asked for the little pittance of three thousand dollars to take care of these homeless ones, the Senator from Indiana rises in his seat and opposes it. "Change sides, tell it not in Gath" that the Senator from Indiana, the last man in the world who I supposed would do such a thing, has asked that the Senate of Pennsylvania shall refuse the little pittance of three thousand dollars for these poor, friendless children. It may be, in the revolutions of time, that his little ones will become orphans. God only knows. God, in his all-wise Providence, may change circumstances so that his children may ask to be the recipients of the bounty of this Commonwealth. But I cannot think that the Senator from Indiana is serious in a proposition of this kind.

Now, I wish the members of this Senate to bear in mind the fact that this is not a local institution; neither is the institution in Harrisburg a local institution. We have had to-day fluttering around these halls these angels of mercy who have charge of the institution in our midst, and they do not stop to inquire where the little ones come from. They have come from the county of Indiana, from Blair from Allegheny—anywhere, and they call them in, and like the Good Samaritans that they are, they take care of them, clothe them, feed them, educate them, and save them from the paths of vice.

Now, will this Senate of Pennsylvania refuse this little pittance? Will they refuse to aid the good work in which these angels of mercy are engaged? I trust not. I do not believe there is a man here so heartless, so cold-blooded as to refuse the little mite to this genuine, this Heaven-born institution that has been put in operation by these ladies who have sacrificed so much in behalf of these poor, friendless children. Sir, the soldiers under my command have been the recipients of the bounty of these women—God forever bless them! When the men were bleeding, and tired and worn-out, and their comrades were falling on every side, these women—these Lancaster women, if you please, these patriot daughters, the same women who are at the head of this institution, and these same ladies, women, have come to them with the bounties of the earth and have contributed to the welfare and comfort of the worn and mangled and bleeding soldiers. Yet, now, in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the Senator from Indiana, brave and gallant as I know he was, makes the miserable motion that the Senate refuse to grant this little pittance for the support of these poor orphans. Ah, sir, many of the fathers of these children are sleeping in the cold, cold ground. Their bones are bleaching in the Balm of Gethsemane, at Vicksburg, at Lookout Mountain, on the Peninsula, in the dreary Wilderness, and yet the Senator from Indiana, strange as it may appear, gets up in his place and moves to strike out an appropriation for their support. If he has a soul, if he would not gizzard instead of a soul, if he would not treat this miserable motion. I am willing to trust this matter to the Senate of Pennsylvania. I believe they have hearts; I believe that the blood of humanity throbs through their veins, and that they will not strike out this appropriation. I understand my friend from M'Keon [Mr. COWLES] asserted this evening that he was not willing to have his salary cut down for the benefit of these children. I say, cut down my salary, root and branch. Take it all, if you will, and give it to the orphan children, and it will be satisfied. Ay, sir, I would be satisfied to beg my bread from door to door, so that you take care of these homeless and friendless ones.

Mr. GRAHAM. There has been a great deal of declamation and discussion, Mr. Speaker, of a very simple proposition. Now, it is not whether the Senate of Pennsylvania has a heart, and whether that heart moves with charity, and love and kindness towards the destitute of the Commonwealth, and whether we ought to throw wide our arms and hold it out towards their destitute ones. The question is fixed. The Senate of Pennsylvania has always shown its sympathies for the destitute children of the Commonwealth. The simple, plain, practicable proposition is, whether we are to adopt as a State policy the care of all these institutions which were originated in benevolence and intended to be provided for and sustained by private charity. Now, I am just as willing to afford relief to these institutions as any other Senator here, but I do insist that every similar institution in the State has an equal right to the fostering care of the State. And if the door is opened for one institution, and the treasury is called upon to contribute to that institution, what propriety is there in saying that none of the others, equally needy, having equal necessities, shall receive a proportionate distribution of the funds of the State? That is the question we are now to determine. If it is the sense of the Senate that we are to contribute to these institutions, if we are to adopt this as the State policy, I have no objection. If we are to throw open the treasury to all such institutions, I shall insist that the Home for the Friendless in Allegheny city be included in the appropriation.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. I shall make but a very few observations on this subject. As has been said by the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. GRAHAM], the whole subject is very simple and easy to comprehend. It will be recollected that last year we adopted a similar policy. We expended the whole appropriation in local charities. The institution which stands at the head of this section has been in operation almost thirteen years. It has taken care of a large number of children. It has been well conducted. It receives children from every part of the Commonwealth. The judges of the courts have authority to send children there from the remotest county, and it is emphatically what I call a State institution. It has always been the policy of the Commonwealth and the Legislature to give yearly to these State institutions. Our penitentiaries and our institutions for the blind, and deaf, and dumb, are State institutions, and they receive a portion of their support from the Treasury of the Commonwealth yearly. We have another class of institutions which are denominated local institutions. They are sustained principally by individuals in the locality where they are situated. The benevolent and the philanthropic, and the kind hearted and generous people of the neighborhood get up these institutions for a good purpose. They exist in many parts of the State. But institutions that are not of a State character, and which are not conducted in institutions—while they are not entirely under the fostering care of the Commonwealth—cannot expect always to receive appropriations from the State funds. Yet, we must occasionally afford support to these institutions, as we find the necessities of the case require. Now, I am in favor, in all cases where these institutions are commencing their existence—where they are young and feeble, and where they require the fostering care of the Commonwealth for a time—I am in favor of the Legislature extending to these institutions some support. But when they grow to manhood and strength, and obtain the ability to discharge the duties which they have taken upon themselves, they do not require our support to the extent they did in their younger days. Now, this is the case with some of these institutions that are asking appropriations to-night. It is the case with the Harrisburg institution. It has never received a dollar from the State of Pennsylvania, and it, therefore, requires and is entitled to a portion of the beneficence of the State. The institution which is at Lancaster is of a very long standing, as I believe. It has occasionally received appropriations from the State; it has received two thousand five hundred dollars in ten years. It is a very useful institution; and, the same, too, with the institution at York.

The institution in Allegheny city, which my friend from Allegheny has urged so strongly, also received support from the Commonwealth. So it is with all these institutions, and we must confine ourselves to a particular class. We cannot extend our charities every year to them. Therefore, we are bound to discriminate. If we give to one, without a proper discrimination, we must give to all, though they may not be in a needy condition. Now, I am in favor of making an appropriation to the Northern Home for the Friendless. That institution has three or four hundred children under its care. It has one hundred and eighty-two orphans of soldiers. It is doing a great work and we cannot refuse our support entirely. They have received aid within the last year to a just extent from the bounty of benevolent people, for the purpose, I understand, of enabling their accommodations for the reception of these soldiers' orphans.

Mr. DONOVAN. They have expended twenty-seven thousand dollars this year.

Mr. WORTHINGTON. Therefore they have claims upon us. They are doing a great work.

With regard to this institution at Harrisburg, it is in its incipency. It is just commencing operations. It is erecting buildings, and they propose, if we give them the sum of three thousand dollars, that they will be able to double the amount. I am willing to give something to the York institution, but I do not wish to bestow our charity except where it is absolutely needed.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I have nothing to observe in connection with my motion. I sympathize with my earnest-hearted friend from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER] in his expression of thanks to the kind-hearted persons who inaugurated this charity, and I congratulate the ladies who have it in charge upon having so earnest and so good a representation upon this floor. I can forgive that Senator, too, when he charges me with having a gizzard instead of a heart, when I remember the interests which he represents and the heart which he has.

Now, if this was not a matter of principle—if this was not a matter of State policy—there would be no embarrassment whatever. We might open the coffers of the treasury and say to the ladies of Lancaster, and to the ladies of Harrisburg, come and take. We might dispense liberally. But while we were doing this we would hear voices coming up to us from all over the State crying "give, give," until we would have nothing to give. Now, I know the several institutions that have been mentioned here, and I have received private letters from different localities asking if it would not be possible to support a home for the friendless there; and doubtless other Senators in this Chamber have received similar letters. And so we go.

I have before me the message of the late Executive of the State upon this subject. This message was the cause of the adoption of the policy which was initiated last year. I discover this recommendation:

"It has been the habit of late years to appropriate freely annual sums for the support of local charities; and such appropriations are almost every year increased in number and amount. Houses of Refuge, Institutions for the Deaf and Dumb and for the Blind, Lunatic Asylums—those appear to me to be proper objects of State charity, because a few of them are sufficient for the whole State, and to leave them to be provided for by the local authorities would, in fact, be to deprive of protection the unfortunate classes for whose benefit they are designed. But mere local charities, however meritorious and effectual, should, I think, be left to the support of the benevolent parties who established them. It is unjust that the people of the Commonwealth should be coerced to pay taxes in order that part of the money so raised may be given to the support of local charities, conducted by private associations, especially when it is remembered that hitherto in the State have asked for such appropriations. I recommend, therefore, that no appropriations be made for charities beyond the institutions which I have specified."

It is our duty to stand fast upon the ground which we took last year, to stand fast by the precedent which we established in the appropriation bill of 1866 with reference to private charities, an appropriation bill which was made out in pursuance of that portion of the message which I have just read; and I retreat again that, in making the motion I have made, and in persisting in pressing that motion upon the attention of the Senate, I urge it upon them as the guardians of the public funds and of the public welfare. And I am impelled by no niggardly spirit; I am prompted by no disposition to do injustice. I recognize every charity and I know it is twice blessed. I know the kindness of heart of the families who have inaugurated this enterprise, but I appreciate it to be equally true that the old maxim of the law should be regarded—that we must be just before we can be generous. Mr. Speaker, we have been generous.

Turn over your appropriation bill and look at the contribution we have made for the education of the orphans of our deceased soldiers. We have appropriated five hundred thousand dollars for that purpose. That is an act of charity which makes Pennsylvania conspicuous all over the world—which makes Pennsylvania rival all her sister States in this respect—and I know the kind-hearted ladies and the good hearts everywhere appreciate all we have done. And, again, I voted as chairman of the Military Committee, this morning, for a bill for the payment of a certain class of military claims, which may take fifty thousand dollars for the coming year alone, and still they will not all be paid. If they were all paid this year, it would take possibly three hundred thousand dollars. I speak advisedly on this matter.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. What class of claims?

Mr. WHITE. A certain class of claims for officers who have raised means and recruited companies, and taken men into the service since the 15th of April, 1865, until the close of the war. That bill will doubtless be passed. It passed the lower house without objection. I trust Senators will regard these claims as being honestly made.

Mr. M'CONAUGHY. I wish to say a word in regard to the idea of State policy that has been advanced by the Senator from Indiana [Mr. WHITE]. I differ with him. I do not think it will redound to the credit and the memory of Governor Curtin that he recommended that we should depart from the policy which has hitherto existed.

I say it is the policy of modern Republican governments to establish charities. It is the policy of the State, whenever it sees the good, and generous and kind of a community entering upon a beneficent work, to give that charity an organized form, and give it also the countenance of a public support from the treasury. The State is not blind to the generosity and magnanimity of her citizens. It encourages all such beneficent institutions in their infancy, and seeks to give them a foundation and a permanence. This is the true policy of the State, and it is precisely with that object that I say we should give to the citizens of Harrisburg, who have inaugurated the Home for the Friendless existing in this city, the recognition of some support from the treasury. It is fit that in the capital of the State such an institution should rear its walls.

It is fit that in the old State of Pennsylvania, in the capital of this great Commonwealth, there should be an institution which will reflect and perpetuate this policy of the State. And so in the counties of York and Lancaster. Benevolence should be patronized and protected. The State should develop in the hearts of the people a spirit of friendliness and liberality for the poor.—Let us give them some slight token of encouragement. It is the practical policy of the Commonwealth. We have required as the condition that if these two thousand dollars shall be given, the citizens of that particular locality shall raise ten thousand dollars. We get five for one. The policy which has been recognized for years in this State is safe and sound and public-spirited. It will redound to her glory.

Mr. M'CANDLESS. I desire to say a word upon the subject of public charities that has been so freely discussed. I do not consider that they are private or public charities. I consider them public duties which the representatives of the Commonwealth owe to their constituents, and for this reason: That the history of the country for the last four or five years compelled these charities. Particularly in this case in the city of Philadelphia. The orphans in those asylums were brought there directly or indirectly in consequence of the lately suppressed rebellion. This war made thousands of orphans in the land. There are hundreds of cases, to my own personal knowledge, where soldiers have been obliged to have their children taken care of by these private charities, if you please, in the city of Philadelphia and elsewhere. Now, it is a public duty that the youth in these institutions, whose fathers died on the soil of some Southern State, should be cared for properly. The Commonwealth is the father and the mother of the parentless child, especially where the head of the family was cut off in defending the honor and integrity of the nation. I trust that these charities will be dealt out with a lavish hand.

The question being,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment of the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. WHITE], to strike out all appropriations except that to the Northern Home for Friendless Children?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FISHER and Mr. LANDON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Cowles, James, Landon, Wallace and White—5.

NAYS—Messrs. Bigham, Billingsfelt, Browne (Lawrence), Brown (Mercer), Burnett, Coleman, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Lowry, M'Candleless, M'Conaughy, Seargent, Shoemaker, Stutzman, Walls, Worthington and Hall, Speaker—21.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the amendment was

Not agreed to.

The question recurred on the amendment of the Senator from Adams, to reduce the appropriations to York and Lancaster to two thousand dollars each.

The amendment was

Agreed to.

The fifty-eighth section was read.

Pending its considerations the following remarks were made:

Mr. FISHER. I wish to say a word in reply to my friend from Philadelphia [M'CAULEY]. There are persons going down into Virginia for the remains of their friends. If they go to Washington in the summer time they have no members of Congress or other persons to whom they can apply for assistance, unless it be to the State agent. I know the agent at Washington was constantly called upon by persons in pursuit of the remains of their deceased friends. He furnished them with means of transportation and every facility within his power. Again, a soldier who has a claim against the government for bounty or back pay can prosecute his claim through the State agency free of charge. I think it is as little as the State of Pennsylvania can do to grant this small pittance for the support of the officers who are constantly ready to attend to the necessities of surviving soldiers or the relatives of the deceased.

Mr. M'CAULEY. I have nothing further to say. I desire simply to be informed as to the necessity of this expenditure. I have been credibly informed that when the Commissioner of Pensions in the city of Washington was interrogated as to the necessity of keeping up this State Agency, he replied that it was of no use whatever, and was not required for any purpose, and most especially for the purpose mentioned by my friend from Lancaster [Mr. FISHER]. In the summer season bodies are not permitted, under the law, to be interred.

Mr. FISHER. I believe there is no law in this matter. There was a general order issued by the War Department or General Grant, I am not sure which, during the war, that in the summer season bodies should not be taken up. But that order is not operative at this time.

Mr. BROWN (Mercer). As I understand, this agency is engaged in attending to the collection of claims.

The SPEAKER. The object of this agency is to assist soldiers in the collection of claims. It was established under Governor Curtin's administration. Congress has recently passed a law in relation to bounties which increases the duties of this agency to a very great extent. If there was a necessity for its establishment during the war, is there not a greater necessity after the war has closed? The agencies for the State of Ohio and the State of New York are still in existence. They have generally five or six clerks, receiving one hundred and fifty dollars a month each. Our agency has but two clerks.

The question being on the section, it was Agreed to.

Fifty-ninth section.

Mr. M'CAULEY. I now move to restore section fifty-nine as in the printed bill. This institution, as I understand, was stricken out of the section entirely. I desire to say that when in Pittsburg I visited that institution and found there quite a number of the orphans of soldiers who were in my command. This institution had taken in charge orphans from time to time during the war. They had kept them without receiving any support from the Commonwealth, with the exception of one year, when, I think, they received three thousand dollars. Now, at the rate of one hundred dollars a year each, as estimated for the care of these children, the amount would in the aggregate be more than is asked in this appropriation. I think of all the appropriations in this bill, this one is the most just.

Mr. BIGHAM. There has probably been put in the hands of Senators within a few days past a brief statement in regard to this matter.

Mr. CONNELL. If the statement to which the Senator from Allegheny [Mr. BIGHAM] refers is examined, it will be found that this institution has a claim against the State for having supported certain officers during the years 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, &c. Now, their claim for the orphans is precisely of a similar character. At this late day they come in and ask us to pay them what they have already received from their benefactors. If they have any claim for a contract for the support of orphans it must be with the superintendent of orphans' schools, Mr. Burrows. I do not see but what we will have to make an appropriation to every orphan asylum in the State. I offer the following substitute to be inserted in the place of the section:

"For the St. Paul's orphan asylum of the city of Pittsburg, the sum of two thousand dollars, and that the Auditor General and State Treasurer be directed to examine the claim of the said asylum against the State for the support of orphans, and to pay any balance which may be legally due to the said asylum.

Mr. M'CAULEY. That is very fair upon its face, but a large number of the orphans in this asylum belong to that class that is not legally excluded by the superintendent of the soldiers' homes. Now, the word "legally," in that proposition, would compel these people to say that these orphans are legally entitled to come in under the same provisions as the orphans who are now cared for by the superintendent of the soldiers' homes. I would ask the Senator to substitute "equitably" instead of "legally."

Mr. CONNELL. I cannot do that.

Mr. COWLES. If asylums are to come here and ask this Legislature to entertain their claims for the support of soldiers' orphans, I ask what kind of regard must we give to the claims of the poor old women who have to support their orphan children? If this great benevolent institution in the city of Pittsburg can come here and ask for an appropriation for the support of orphans during the last six years, every widow in the State of Pennsylvania has an equal right, ay, a much greater right to make a similar request. But she is too proud to ask for any aid when she can support her child by her own labor.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I think the reflections that have been cast upon Pittsburg are entirely uncalled for and ungenerous. This is one of the most noble charities in Pennsylvania. It is as much deserving of the sympathy, of the support, and of the contributions of the Commonwealth as any institution in Pennsylvania. I feel it is a duty to say thus much in reference to the asylum at Pittsburg.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LOWRY and Mr. CONNELL, and were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Bigham, Browne (Lawrence), Burnett, Connell, Davis, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Graham, Haines, Jackson James, M'Callister, Randall, Searight, Stutzman, Wallace, Walls, White and Hall, Speaker—20.

NAYS—Messrs. Billington, Brown (Mercer), Coleman, Cowles, Landon, Lowry, Shoemaker and Worthington—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the amendment was

Agreed to.

The section was then

Agreed to.

Mr. BOYLE, Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House to take up Senate bill No. 280, an act authorizing the commutation of the death punishment in certain cases.

Leave being granted.

The bill was read as follows:

Senate bill No. 280, an act authorizing the commutation of the death punishment in certain cases.

SECTION 1. *Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in cases of conviction of and sentence for murder in the first degree, the Governor may, upon the petition of the person convicted, grant to such convict a pardon, upon such conditions, with such restrictions, and upon such limitations, as he deems proper; and he may issue his warrant to all proper officers to carry such pardon into effect, which warrant shall be obeyed and executed, instead of the sentence originally awarded; and the terms and conditions upon which such pardon is granted, shall be specified and set forth in the warrant so as aforesaid issued: Provided, That in all cases in which sentence of death shall hereafter be pronounced, no conditional pardon shall be* granted unless a majority of the judges of the court before whom the convict has been tried, one of whom shall be a presiding or law judge, shall advise and recommend such conditional pardon.

Sec. 2. It shall be and it is hereby made the duty of the sheriffs, wardens, jailers and keepers of prisons, and each of them, to whom the custody of such would be committed if the terms and conditions of such pardon had been the sentence of the court trying him, to receive the person of the convict, under and in accordance with the terms, limitations and restrictions of the warrant of the Governor, and to do and perform those things in reference to his or her continued custody, which it would be his or their duty to do if the terms and conditions of the said warrant had been the sentence of the court in which said convict was tried.

Sec. 3. When a convict is pardoned upon conditions to be by him or her performed, or with restrictions and limitations, the officer to whom the warrant for that purpose is issued shall, as soon as may be after executing the same, make return thereof, with his doings therein, to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and he shall also file in the clerk's office of the court in which the offender was convicted, an attested copy of the warrant and return, a brief abstract whereof the clerk shall submit to the record of the conviction and sentence.

The first section was read and

Agreed to.

The question recurred on agreeing to the second section.

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment:

Provided, That the provisions of this act shall apply only to cases of conviction prior to the passage of this act."

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I hope the House will not agree to that amendment. If the gentleman desires to reach that object, he will have to strike out part of the bill; because the portion which will be stricken out is put in the bill only for the purpose of providing for future cases. I can explain the bill in a very few words. It allows the Governor now, upon his own motion, to pardon those who are now in prison under sentence of death. Some have been there for many years, and will remain in prison so long as they live, if a bill of this kind is not passed. They are liable at any time to have the death warrant signed, and be led out to execution. This bill allows the Governor to pardon them upon a condition. For future cases it allows the Governor to commute the punishment of death upon a recommendation of a majority of the court. Every lawyer knows that there are many cases where a conviction may be had upon technical grounds; but where no Governor could bring himself to issue the death warrant, because of something in the case that led him to believe the man ought not to be executed. This bill provides for just such cases. It allows the Governor to commute the punishment upon a recommendation of the court.

I hope the gentleman will not insist upon his amendment. It renders the bill of no value whatever.

Mr. LINTON. Mr. Speaker, I will not occupy much time in the discussion of this question. I understood, when the bill was prepared, it was to meet the cases mentioned in the message of the Governor, who said quite a number of persons were "now in confinement in this Commonwealth, under sentence of death;" that the Governor in commission at the time the sentence was pronounced, had failed to issue a warrant; and that in pursuance of some understanding, all his successors had also failed to issue a warrant. Consequently there were in the jail of the Commonwealth a number of persons under sentence of death.

When I first heard this bill read, I was under the impression it was to meet such cases. So far as commuting those sentences was concerned, in view of the peculiar circumstances of the case, I see no objections to the passage of this bill, but I abolish its practical effect will be to abolish the death penalty. In a majority of instances when the parties convicted have any power or influence that they can bring to bear on the Governor, the death penalty will be remitted, and some other punishment substituted. I am not yet one of those who are prepared to pursue this course. I know there is a feeling in favor of the abolition of the death penalty; and this feeling, perhaps, is growing. But I do not believe the time has come when we may take such a step. I hope, indeed, the time will never come when this will be one of the features of our criminal jurisprudence. Now, my amendment simply proposes to confine this act to cases of conviction prior to its passage. I know it is argued, under the provisions of this bill, the Governor cannot grant a conditional pardon unless the judges agree to it. If the judges think a conviction is improper—if they think the party convicted should not suffer the penalty of death, they have it in their power to grant a new trial. If they think he ought to be convicted then the necessary penalty for the crime ought to follow.

Mr. M'CREARY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the House is aware that it is passing upon a bill of very great importance. I doubt whether one-half of the members of the House know that they are passing upon a bill that has been discussed in the Legislature and the newspapers for the last ten years. It is the great question of the day whether capital punishment shall be abolished or not. We all have written and talked on the subject. I doubt very much whether the Legislature of Pennsylvania are willing, in a few minutes, to pass this law without a little further investigation. The result of this law, if passed, will be a virtual abolition of the death penalty. Now, without saying whether I am in favor of that or not, I will say that we are not prepared to pass upon the matter. A bill of this kind should be submitted to the very closest examination. We should pass upon it seriously and deliberately, for it is a very grave question.

Now, it seems to me, as the law is worded somewhat singularly, that it does not fully express its object. Therefore, I am opposed to its passage. I am opposed to the passage of a bill unless I fully understand its provisions. Again, it seems to be the instituting of a conditional punishment. There is a provision, leaving the matter with the judges: "Provided, That no conditional pardon shall be granted, unless a majority of the judges of the court where the conviction has been had, one of whom shall be the president judge, shall advise it." The result will be to bring down almost every case to the individual sympathies of the judges of the bench.

I say, we ought not to place the law in a position where he has a responsible office to fill; he is expected to carry out the law as he finds it on the statute books. After all has been carried out and sentence has been passed; whilst the whole community is in a state of excitement with regard to the matter, the responsibility is laid on the shoulders of the judge, not as a judge, but as a man—to say whether the convict shall be punished or not. As a judge, he has decreed punishment shall be meted out;—as a man, it is for him to say whether the decree of the judge shall be set aside. It is to take power out of the hands of the Governor. I say the Governor alone has sovereign power in this matter. Do you suppose there is a Governor in this or any other State, who, if he is allowed to let this responsibility rest on the shoulders of the judges, will assume it himself? That must be the result. Instead of the Governor, who has the head, taking the responsibility, you will find that the responsibility will be thrown upon the judge, who has tried the case. Do you suppose a criminal will be tried according to the strict rules of law? It will be to the interest of the court to construe all the points in the case to allow the culprit to go free. Because, after he may have been convicted, the question will come to the court, Shall this man be hanged or not? You can see the judge will so shape his courts, if possible, that the man shall not be convicted at all.

I therefore hope that gentlemen will look into this matter and not act upon it at this time. I do not say that I am opposed to the abolition of capital punishment. I must confess that, for several years past, my sympathies have been drifting in that direction. Not saying now whether I am in favor of it or not, I think we are not in proper condition to pass a bill of this importance at this time. I think the bill should be laid over.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I am unwilling to delay the House at this time; but here is a law of such vast importance that I cannot acquit myself, in my own conscience, without saying a word in its behalf. This bill is the exact copy of the Massachusetts law upon this subject. There is no ambiguity in it. It was drawn up by the ablest lawyers of the land; has been tested and found to work well. Again, it does not affect the pardoning power of the Governor. It takes from him no responsibility, where he is willing to pardon entirely. It only relieves the Governor where he is unwilling to pardon and unwilling to sign a death warrant. These are the only cases where this law affects the responsibility of the Governor. The law now stands, where the Governor of the Commonwealth may must pardon, absolutely, or sign the death warrant, or leave the man in the county jail for an indefinite period of time, without jail, or without any provision for his keeping. He cannot be taken to the penitentiary. He must remain in the county jail under the law, as it now stands. This bill is simply to provide a remedy for such cases.

I call the attention of the House to another serious fact. In a trial for murder, under the law as it now stands, an judge trying the case, becoming satisfied that the defendant ought not to be executed, will so make up his record that the man cannot be executed; and he will do so conscientiously, feeling that he is compelled; and the culprit goes free from punishment. Again, there has never been a conviction for murder in Pennsylvania where, if the judges trying the case, and the judges of the Supreme Court were satisfied that the man ought not to be executed—there never has been such a case where the accused was not acquitted entirely, through the technicalities of the law. You cannot hang a man in Pennsylvania to day, where the judges trying the case are satisfied he ought not to be hanged.

Mr. M'CREARY. Mr. Speaker, if the judges think he ought not to be hanged, I do not see why anybody should want to hang him.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, that is just what the law proposes to meet. If it is just trying the case thinks he should not be hanged, the law will provide that he shall not go to punishment. The Governor may go sentence him to some other punishment. That is all this proposes to do. It proposes to provide a remedy for existing evils. There is no doubt that criminals now go free, and are at large in this Commonwealth, because of this defect in the criminal law.

Mr. BOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that I understand the judges of the Supreme Court of the State have recommended the passage of this bill. I think the bill is unobjectionable in every particular.

The question being on the amendment of the gentleman from Cambria [Mr. LINTON], it was not agreed.

The second and third sections were then agreed to.

The title was agreed to.

And the bill ordered to be transcribed.

On the question,

Will the House suspend the rules and read the bill a third time?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. QUIGLEY and Mr. MARKS, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS—Messrs. During the consideration of bills on the private calendar, the following remarks were made on bill No. 1960, an act providing for the consolidation of the Craberry coal company and the Clarion coal company:

Mr. WHANN. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will be voted down. It is objectionable, in which my colleague [Mr. JONES] is very much interested. He is absent. I think the bill should not be acted upon at the present time. He will be here this afternoon, I presume.

Mr. STUMBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman from Berks [Mr. JONES] to say that if this bill came before the House and any objections were made to it, he was willing to have it go to third reading. As I understand the bill, it is to consolidate two companies; it gives them no new privileges.

I move that the bill go to third reading.

Mr. WHANN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to take no advantage of the gentleman from Berks. I am satisfied that the bill should go over, if it is permitted to go no further.

Mr. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I hope the motion will be voted down. The gentleman who has charge of this bill is not in his seat. I hope the motion will be voted down, so I can move to proceed to the consideration of the bill.

Mr. WHANN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is in my district, and I claim the control of it. The gentleman from Berks [Mr. JONES] can take charge of the bills in his own district. He, nor any other person, has a right to interfere with matters in my district. He has a bill here for the Clarion improvement company, which is the most iniquitous thing that has been gotten through this House. The object is to consolidate a company with another whose bill I favored him in passing. No man had a right to introduce this bill. It is a matter from my own district, and I claim the right to control it. I think there should be a disposition to respect every man's district. In view of this, I ask that this bill be voted down.

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to hear the gentleman from Venango [Mr. WHANN] take this position. I desire to see every member on this floor respected as far as matters concerning his own district are concerned. I wish to see no man interfere with matters concerning a district not his own. I hope no gentleman on this floor will interfere with legislation not his own. I ask the gentleman from Venango [Mr. WHANN], and the gentleman from Potter [Mr. MANN], if they will agree to this proposition?

Mr. RHOADS. Mr. Speaker, I have no interest in this bill. I do not know how it came up; but I do know that Mr. JONES is interested in the Craberry coal company, and that a majority of the stock is owned by the citizens of Berks county. He being absent from his seat, I think it would be discourteous to him to defeat the bill. I propose to the gentleman from Venango to let the bill go over to third reading.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the House bill bear me out when I say I never interfere with local legislation. The gentleman from Venango [Mr. WHANN] will bear me out in saying that I have invariably voted with him. But Venango county is peculiarly situated, nine-tenths of that county being lying outside of it. There is scarcely a man in this State who is not interested in it. Now, the two companies named in this bill are owned by parties out of Venango county. I do not believe there is a citizen of Venango interested to the amount of one dollar in either of these companies. I think the gentleman will not contradict me on that point. These companies are owned very largely in Berks and Philadelphia counties and in Montgomery. I take it this is not interfering with local legislation.

I trust the House will not vote this bill down because the gentleman from Venango wishes it. This bill is in charge of the gentleman from Berks, who is not in his seat. I believe it right to pass. The gentleman from Venango has not given sufficient reason for its being voted down.

The question being on agreeing to the bill, The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MARKLEY and Mr. MAISH, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Boyd, Boyle, Breen, Brennan, Brown, Chaso, Collins, Colville, Craig, Deise, Fogel, Harner, Headman, Hunt, Jones, Jones, Josephs, Kline, Koon, Kertz, Linton, Long, M'Kee, Markley, Myers, Quigley, Rhoads, Robinson, Roush, Sharp and Westbrook—51.

NAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Barrington, Cameron, Chadwick, Chalfant, Davis, Day, Ewing, Freeborn, Gallagher, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Kerns, Kimmel, Kinney, Lee, Leeb, M'Camant, M'Creary, M'Henry, Maish, Mann, Marks, Mechling, Pennacker, Pilew, Cass, Richards, Seiler, Sherman, Stehman, Wallace, Watt, Webb, Weller, Whann, Wharton, Wilson, Wingard, Woodward, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—46.

So the question was determined in the negative,

And the bill was

Not agreed to.

No. 2010, an act having reference to the paving of College avenue.

Mr. FREEBORN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I hold in my hand a resolution passed by the city council. I will ask the Clerk to read it.

The resolution was read as follows:

Resolved, That the Legislature be requested not to pass an act authorizing the curbing and paving of College avenue; and that the councils do most respectfully protest against the enacting of any law by the Legislature, providing for the paving and curbing of the streets of the said city, unless so requested by its authorities.

Mr. WORRALL. Mr. Speaker, the citizens living in this street sent the bill here.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, the argument of my colleague [Mr. WORRALL] amounts to nothing. If the citizens living on that street desire it to be paved, all they have to do is to get a majority of the property holders to sign a petition to that effect. What does this bill propose? It gives to the commissioner of highways the right to draw his warrant upon any money in the county treasury. Now is this matter conducted now? The highway department have the right to order the paving of any street, provided a majority of the owners of property in that street will sign a petition asking that the paving be done. And how are the warrants drawn? Why, the city councils appropriate so much money to the highway department—not the street commissioner.

We have heard read a resolution relative to this bill that was passed without a dissenting voice. Now, why does my colleague come here with a bill of this kind? This bill was here three or four years ago. It was defeated. Now, if the department have not stultify itself. We have repeatedly voted down bills of this kind where the councils have jurisdiction. The proper place for these parties to apply is to the councils. But there is a feature of that bill more objectionable still—the idea of allowing the commissioner of highways to issue his warrant for any amount he chooses. Does the gentleman mean to give the commissioner of highways such authority as that? We have a law regulating what shall be allowed for curbing and paving—ninety cents a foot.

Another thing; this bill is intended to compel the Girard College to pay out of its fund the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. The total cost of the work is computed to be forty-five thousand dollars. If any gentleman wants such a measure as this passed, let him apply to the council. There is the place. I trust this Legislature will not stultify itself by interfering in a local matter, as the gentleman calls it. But this is not a local matter. It interests every taxpayer in the county of Philadelphia. This bill should never have been brought before this House. I trust it will be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. WORRALL. Mr. Speaker, the residents on the south side of the street applied to have that street paved two months ago.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is mistaken.

Mr. WORRALL. The street is not paved simply because of an unwillingness to let the money go out of the treasury.

Mr. QUIGLEY. I would to ask like the gentleman a question. Does not this bill compel the Girard estate to pay twenty five thousand dollars for paving that street?

Mr. WORRALL. It does not.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I have learned one fact since I have been a member of this body, and that is, that it takes longer time to pass one Philadelphia bill than it does forty-five bills from the counties, and I move that this bill be referred to the Philadelphia delegation.

The motion was subsequently withdrawn.

Mr. SUBERS. Mr. Speaker, I will say that the opposition to this bill from the city authorities is this. It takes about twenty-five thousand dollars out of the Girard fund, in order to pave this street.

On indefinitely postponing the bill a division of the House was called, when twenty-nine gentlemen voted in the affirmative and twenty-six in the negative.

The motion was Agreed to.

BILL RECONSIDERED.

On motion of Mr. ARMSTRONG, the House reconsidered its vote on House bill No. 1848, an act to annul the marriage contract between James Edwards and Elizabeth Edwards, his wife.

Mr. WHARTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say, for the information of the House, with regard to this bill, that the parties named in this bill have been before our court; and the court has decided that it has no jurisdiction in the case because there is a mutuality about the separation. I believe the bill is a just one. The parties ought to be divorced. I hope, therefore, the House will pass the bill.

The bill was Agreed to, and Passed finally.

BILL PASSED.

On motion of Mr. COLVILLE, the House proceeded to the consideration of Senate bill No. 1840, An act to extend the provisions of an act to authorize the school directors of Chester and Delaware counties to select sites for school houses, passed May 8, 1864, and the supplement thereto, to the city of Venango.

The bill was read and Agreed to.

The rules being suspended, the bill was read a second and third time, and Passed finally.

COMMITTEE DISCHARGED.

On motion of Mr. GHEGAN, the Committee on Corporations was discharged from the further consideration of Senate bill No. 976, An act to incorporate the parties doing business at the Pascal iron works in the city of Philadelphia, under the name, style and title of Morris, Tasker & Co.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. QUAY. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That our Senators be instructed, and our representatives in Congress requested, to use all their influence to defeat the confirmation of all appointees by the National Executive who, in their opinion, have sacrificed their principles for the sake of obtaining office.

The resolution being read, Mr. QUAY moved to amend so as to make it a joint resolution.

Mr. DAVIS raised the point of order that the resolution was obliged to lay over for one day.

The SPEAKER decided the point of order well taken.

Mr. KERNS offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the hour of adjournment be extended until the orders are gone through with.

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend by striking out all after the word "resolved" and insert the following: "That this House will hold a session this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and on Monday afternoon next, commencing at 3 o'clock."

The amendment was accepted.

The question was on agreeing to the resolution of the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. KERNS].

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT moved that the House adjourn.

On agreeing to the motion,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SATTERTHWAIT and Mr. QUIGLEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Barrington, Boyd, Boyle, Breen, Brennan, Brown, Chalfant, Collins, Craig, Fogel, Freeborn, Harner, Headman, Heltzel, Hunt, Jenks, Kline, Koon, Lee, Linton, Long, M'Henry, Maish, Marks, Meyers, Pennypacker, Quigley, Rhoads, Richards, Robinson, Roush, Satterthwait, Steacy, Stehman, Subers, Tharp, Wallace, Westbrook and Whann.—39.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the motion was

Not agreed to.

Mr. WADDELL called the previous question.

The call was seconded by Messrs. Waddell, Day, Mann, Weller, Worrall, Colville, Davis, Kerns, Watt, Gordon, Kinney and M'Creary.

The question was, Shall the main question be now put?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLLINS and Mr. QUIGLEY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Chase, Colville, Davis, Day, Espy, Ewing, Gallagher, Ghegan, Gordon, Harbison, Kerns, Kimmell, Kinney, Lee, Leech, M'Creary, M'Kee, Mann, MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, April 5, 1867. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, with my objections, House bill No. 810, entitled An act to legalize the bonds issued by the school directors of Green township, in the county of Clinton, for bounty purposes, and to authorize the assessment and collection of a tax to pay the same.

I have approved quite a number of bills, apparently for the same objects as this one, and have been glad to find our people so generally inclined to honestly discharge all obligations incurred for bounties during the war. But in this case it is represented that the bond's in question were not issued for bounty purposes, but to indemnify sundry men for moneys expended in putting in substitutes for themselves, after they had been drafted. This raises a question very different from that apparent on the face of the bill, and if the facts be such as alleged, such legislation, in my judgment, should not be encouraged. Sundry statements and affidavits have been presented pro and con, and among others, a remonstrance signed by over two hundred citizens of the township to be affected, protesting against the enactment of the law. I can hardly think that this would have been done were it an ordinary case of bounties; and yet, from the conflict of evidence in the papers submitted, I have not that certain information on this point, which relieves me from embarrassment. If it be true that the bonds in question were not given for bounties, but for the indemnity of men who put in substitutes for themselves, then the township authorities had no right to issue such bonds, nor could the Legislature, in my judgment, confer upon them any such right, nor legalize assessments made for such purpose. The furnishing of substitutes by drafted men for themselves is a mere personal matter in which the township would not be interested. The Legislature cannot impair the obligation of contracts, and much less can it make contracts between a township and its citizens, where there is no legal or moral obligation on which to base them.

In this uncertainty whether these bonds were issued for bounty purposes or not, I have concluded to withhold my approval, satisfied that any future Legislature will relieve the bondholders, if it shall be made to appear they are entitled to relief under the principles herein set forth.

JNO. W. GEARY.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the House proceeded to the reconsideration of said bill.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

Agreeably to the rules.

The further consideration of the same was postponed for the present.

JNO. W. GEARY.

Mr. COLVILLE moved that the report and testimony taken by the committee to investigate the charges of discrimination made by the Pennsylvania railroad company against citizens of this State, be published in the Daily Legislative Record.

Which motion was

Agreed to.

On motion, the House then adjourned till 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House met at 3 o'clock, P. M.

The SPEAKER announced a quorum of members present.

ORIGINAL RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

WHEREAS, General and wide-spread complaint now prevails among the laboring classes, male and female, in many large portions of this State, as to scarcity of labor, the inadequacy of prices paid for the same, and the number of hours exacted as a day's work, as compared with the prices of provisions, clothing, rents, fuel, and rates of general taxation, and resulting in frequent strikes and suspension of labor, detrimental alike to employer and employed, and the community generally;

And whereas, The rights of labor have claims upon the Legislature, which cannot justly be ignored in view of the importance of the subject; therefore,

Resolved, That the Speaker of this House appoint a committee of three members, whose duty it shall be during the recess of the Legislature, to inquire into the matters embraced in the foregoing preamble, by collecting such statistics and facts as evidence as shall be pertinent thereto; and for that purpose, if necessary, to visit different sections of the State, to have power to summon before them persons to testify, and to report to the next Legislature.

The resolution was read a second time.

The question being on agreeing to the resolution,

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, I have offered that preamble and resolution at the solicitation of a very powerful organization of laboring men, and I think there is merit in it. We have been legislating here for three months, and during that time we have created a great many corporations. Most of the time of this Legislature has been taken up by a continuous wrangle about private corporations, while to the laboring part of our population but little attention has been paid. I think, sir, that the adoption of this resolution will meet with the approbation of the workmen of the State generally, and that all consideration is due from this House to that class of our population. I therefore hope the House will see fit to adopt the resolution.

Mr. LEE. Mr. Speaker, ever since I was ten years old I have earned my living by hard labor. I expect to earn it during the balance of my life in the same way. I would, therefore, be very glad if the proposition of the gentleman from Luzerne would relieve me and my co-laborers. If I can be convinced that this commission would effect any possible end to their advantage I would vote for it. But I would like to hear the gentleman from Luzerne explain how that can possibly be. In a commission, appointed by this House, can any of the amount of labor can affect the kind of labor, or can affect the price of labor? I want to know if I am an employer, if that commission is to come into my town and say to me that I am to employ a certain number or not, as the case may be? How is this thing? And I ask it with a due, and I think proper, regard to the interests of the working people. I have their interests at heart. But I do feel that all efforts of this kind, arraying capital against the people and the people against capital, are always against the people.

I have a capacity to labor to the extent of twenty thousand dollars, if you please. My capital is my capacity to labor, and that capacity is worth twenty thousand dollars.— You have, Mr. Speaker, twenty thousand dollars in cash. I have ventured upon this very preposterous supposition merely for the sake of illustration. I know there is no truth in the thing, but I desire to have the privilege of making the supposition for illustration. You have your capital, or ought to have it in cash. I have it in my capacity to labor. We are antagonistic in some way, and I want to know whether you can live longer on your cash than I can on my capacity to labor?

I think this thing of legislating as to the price of labor is simply interfering with the right to contract, and hence an absolute violation of the Constitution of the State, which says the obligation of a contract shall not be interfered with, and no law shall be made to affect that thing in any way. The effect of this whole thing would be detrimental to that class of people. I have the utmost desire to protect the interest of that class, but I shall not maintain a resolution upon this subject unless it shows to prove that it will be a benefit and not an injury to that class of people.

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, I do not suppose, sir, that any committee appointed under this resolution would recommend the interfering with any contracts or recommend the passage of any law looking to such an object. That cannot be done. It would not be wise. But I do hold that it is in the power of such a committee to collect statistics and facts bearing upon the question that would greatly enlighten the Legislature as to the relation between capital and labor. I will call the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE] to a recent rule adopted in the House of Representatives at Washington, whereby a committee was created upon the subject of labor. This same question has agitated the Legislature of New York, and the Legislature of Ohio, and I have seen by recent proceedings of these bodies, that such committees have been appointed by those Legislatures, those two great States having the same object in view. And will it be said that Pennsylvania cannot afford her representatives a small portion of time for the consideration of this matter?

Mr. Speaker, the rights of labor, as the resolution says, cannot be well ignored by the Legislature, by the law-making power. This is a proper subject for legislation. Now, I do hold that these are competent matters for the Legislature to inquire into, and to report facts, and it is well known that there is a general agitation on the eight hour law, and a committee that would gather statistics and facts upon that question would be proper. At all events, the effort seems to be due them, that the facts should be met, and inasmuch as it would probably cost the State but a trifle, if anything (I do not know as any gentleman on the committee would want pay for his time), and if this resolution is adopted, I apprehend good will come out of it. The very fact that the National Legislature has passed an eight hour law so far as the Government employes are concerned in the navy yards, &c., it seems to me should be sufficient reason why this Legislature should inquire about the subject.

Mr. RHOADS. Mr. Speaker, I hope this resolution will be voted down. The gentleman from Luzerne [Mr. KOON] says there are merits in the resolution. I confess that if I had any hopes of being appointed on that committee, I might perhaps see the merits of it, and vote for the resolution; but having no such hopes, I cannot see the merits, and shall vote against it.

Mr. KIMMELL. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that the object of this resolution is to provide for some three members of the House during the summer, that they may be enabled to reach that portion of the money that may be left in some corner of the Treasury, of which the gentleman from Franklin [Mr. STUMBAUGH] spoke so glowingly the other day. I trust that they will not be so employed, but that the resolution may be voted down, for I believe that its object is not to better the condition of the working men, but merely for the purpose of paying a certain committee of this House.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I have one word to say upon this resolution. I differ to some extent from the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia [Mr. LEE] as to the hearing and influence of a resolution of this kind upon the people.

Now, it is evident that we are continually agitating, year after year, in reference to capital, for the purpose of controlling the channels in which it shall operate. We are legislating upon the question of labor in various ways, for the purpose of protecting the interest of the man, and for the purpose of having the salaries of the laborer increased. But there is one question connected with this whole subject, which is of importance, and that is this: The combinations that are, from time to time, formed in our mining districts, by which operations are suspended, and large numbers of laborers thrown out of employment. They are not stopped in consequence of a loss of capital invested; but because the owners are not making large enough dividends to answer their purposes and their ends. The facts show that the stopping of operations from time to time, is for the purpose of attaining ends desired by the operators, and not for the purpose of the public good. It strikes me that when it comes to that, there can be no question of the propriety of attempting to remedy this matter. This is a question in reference to which the people of Luzerne county have been thrown into turmoil and danger, by reason of the large number thrown out of employment on account of the cessation of their public works, for, I believe, the purpose of aggrandizement and gain.

I know, to my own knowledge, while these tariff resolutions were pending in Congress, of many instances where public works were stopped—not because they were not paying, but because they did not choose to carry those works on upon a fair profit; and, therefore, desired to wait for large profits and aggrandizement.

I say it is proper and right that a committee be appointed, and that that whole subject should be investigated and turned upside down from the bottom; and we should see whether the corporations of Pennsylvania, whether through their rightful franchises, granted by this Commonwealth for the purpose of developing this Commonwealth, whether they are using those franchises justly, or whether they are using them only for the purpose of selfish ends.

I hope this resolution will be passed, and that this whole evil will be probed to the very centre.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the object of this resolution. Some time ago, this House passed, almost unanimously, a bill making eight hours a legal day's work.

Now, if the House pass a resolution creating a committee to investigate the subject which it would be proper to pass such a law, it seems to me that it would be simply ridiculous. Already, as I said before, this House has passed a bill making eight hours a day a legal day's work; and now the gentleman from Luzerne, for humbance or for something else, introduces a resolution to create a committee to see whether it is necessary to pass a law for something we have already done. It would doubtless be a very good thing to make capital among the laboring classes, but I do not conceive that the laboring people are so short-sighted as to be deceived in this way.

—more, however, amend by striking out "three" in the resolution and inserting "fifteen."

Mr. GHEGAN. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the amendment by striking out "fifteen" and inserting "one hundred."

Mr. WADELL. Mr. Speaker, I apprehend that the gentleman from Luzerne [Mr. Koox] has offered his resolution in good faith, and that the House should treat it as coming from him in good faith. I have no doubt, sir, as to the importance of the interests of the working classes of this Commonwealth, and I apprehend that every gentleman in this House sympathizes with these working men. If we could do anything at all to advance their interests, I think we would all be satisfied to do so. But, sir, I think, further, that the experience of every gentleman that has been in the Legislature for the last two or three years must satisfy him that no good has ever arisen from the appointment of special commissions. I had the honor of being in this House three winters ago. I then served upon one special committee, which devoted a good deal of time to the investigation of the matter before us, and went to a good deal of expense to the Commonwealth. They made a report at the end of the session, and that was the end of the committee and of the matter they had to investigate. They reported a bill in reference to mechanics and the Legislature never took up the bill to consider it, let alone passing it. I have seen special committees of this House appointed from that time to this, and I think we have some five or six more now.

But I am at a loss to see any benefit that has arisen from them. They make their reports, and that is the end of the matters they have under consideration. Yet every one of these committees entails upon the Commonwealth from one to three thousand dollars expense, depending upon the manner in which they have conducted their investigation. Just to estimate the cost attendant upon the services of the sergeant-at-arms, and the expense of bringing witnesses here, the time which we must pay them for, and I will venture to say that a special committee cannot be raised upon the most economical plan, but that will entail a thousand dollars expense, at least, upon the Commonwealth. The expense, of course, will depend much upon the magnitude of the subject to be investigated. If gentlemen are to be paid for their services (and I should not like to call upon any gentleman to devote his time, during the vacation, to serving on a committee, when he has other business to attend to, without compensating him for it), I dare say that no committee can be raised in this House at a less cost than three thousand dollars. We talk about restrictions and economy. Is this the way to practically carry out our talk? If the House thinks this resolution of any practical good, and that practical good will compensate for the necessary expense, then I say pass the resolution. But if the House thinks no good can come out of it, more than has been derived from others, then I think we should not go to the expense of raising a committee for this purpose.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Chester [Mr. WADDELL]. I have invariably opposed the appointing of committees to meet during recess. I have never known a select committee appointed by this House to amount to anything at all.

Now, I take it that the gentleman from Luzerne [Mr. Koox], who offered this resolution, representing a district comprised altogether of workmen, should know what the workmen want. If the gentleman really desired to pass this eight hour bill, why did he not introduce a bill, and press it to its passage?

It is well known to every man on this floor that I have been an ardent advocate of this eight hour system; but I agree with the gentleman from Chester, when he says that this committee will amount to nothing. I take it that every member on this floor knows the wants of his district in this respect. I know that the mechanics and workmen in Philadelphia are in favor of this eight hour system, and so am I. But the idea of appointing a committee of three gentlemen to sit during the recess, to inquire into and find out what are their wants and necessities—I say it is all nonsense. We already know what they want, and why appoint a committee of this kind? I am willing to shake hands with the gentleman from Luzerne on questions of this sort. I am in favor of anything that will benefit the mechanics and workmen. But I see no occasion for the appointment of a committee to investigate as to what are the wants and interests of the working people. We know that they want this eight hour bill, which I understand has already passed this House; and let us press it through the Senate, and not appoint a committee to inquire into the necessity of its passage.

Mr. KOON. Mr. Speaker, the bill passed by the House only applies to cotton, bagging, woolen and some other manufacturers.

Mr. ADAIRE. Mr. Speaker, I think if the gentleman will examine the eight hour bill, he will find that it applies to all kinds of labor.

Mr. KINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I move the indefinite postponement of the whole bill.

The question being on the motion of Mr. KINNEY, to indefinitely postpone the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MEYERS and Mr. KOON, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Allen, Armstrong, Barrington, Boyle, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Chase, Davis, Day, Espy, Ewing, Fogel, Freeborn, Gallagher, Chegan, Gordon, Harbison, Harner, Humphrey, Jenks, Jones, Josephs, Kerns, Kimmel, Kinney, Kline, Lee, Leech, Long, M'Kee, Mann, Meching, Melly, Pillow, Quay, Quigley, Rhoads, Richards, Satterthwait, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Watt, Well, Weller, Wherry, Wortall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—55.

NAYS—Messrs. Boyd, Breen, Brennan, Chalfant, Colville, Craig, Headman, Hunt, Koon, Linton, M'Henry, Maish, Meyers, Robinson, Roush, Westbrook and Woodward—17.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. MEYERS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

Resolved, That, if the Senate concur, the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint a special committee of seven, to meet a similar committee, to be appointed by the Senate, to inquire into the propriety of removing the Capital from the city of Harrisburg to the city of Philadelphia; the terms and conditions upon which such removal should be effected, to provide for the sale of the present capital buildings, grounds and other State property, in the said city of Harrisburg, and the assessment and payment of damages, if any, of the owners of hotel properties in said city of Harrisburg, in the event of said removal; and further to inquire in such other matters pertinent to the subject matter, with instructions to report to the said House and Senate, by bill or otherwise: Provided, That the action of said committee shall not entail any expense on the said Commonwealth.

The question being on agreeing to the resolution.

Mr. MEYERS. As appears from the reading of this resolution it is only one of inquiry; it does not propose to enact a law. The resolution provides that the inquiry shall not entail any expense upon the Commonwealth whatever. It is only for this committee to ascertain what arrangements can be made for the removal of the Capital from Harrisburg to Philadelphia.

The question being on agreeing to the resolution.

Mr. KIMMELL. Mr. Speaker, I call the previous question.

The call for the previous question was seconded by Messrs. Mann, Shuman, Freeborn, Woodward, Wright, Well, Kerns, Chase, Espy, Davis and Gordon.

The question being,
Shall the main question now be put?
It was

Agreed to.

The question recurring on agreeing to the resolution.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MEYERS and Mr. FREEBORN, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS—Messrs. Adaire, Armstrong, Barrington, Chase, Collins, Colville, Craig, Davis, Fogel, Freeborn, Ghegan, Harrison, Josephs, Kerns, Kline, Linton, M'Henry, M'Kee, Meeling, Meyers, Quigley, Rhoads, Sharples, Steacy, Subers and Worrall—28.
 NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Breen, Brennan, Brown, Cameron, Chadwick, Chalfant, Day, Espy, Ewing, Gallagher, Gordon, Headman, Humphrey, Jenks, Kimmel, Kinney, Koon, Leech, Long, M'Creary, Maish, Mann, Meily, Pillow, Quay, Richards, Robinson, Roush, Seiler, S. Shuman, Stehman, Stumbaugh, Tharp, Waddell, Webb, Weiler, Westbrook, Whann, Wilson, Woodward, Wright and Glass, Speaker—43.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. LEE, from the committee appointed to inquire into the "abuses of lottery policy dealing, and other systems of gambling in the city of Philadelphia," made report: That they held three meetings in the common council chamber in the city of Philadelphia, where they examined a number of witnesses, all of whom testified to the existence of a large number of places within the limits of said city where lottery policies are sold, and other species of gambling are practiced, some of the witnesses averring their belief that there are from two hundred and fifty to three hundred such places, and that thousands of dollars are taken from the pockets of the people weekly, and that the public is cognizant of the fact.

Your committee can scarcely conceive that laws can be passed to meet the emergency, if the present penal code does not do it. We are fully of the opinion that if the people, in conjunction with the public authorities, were to execute the laws in this regard, which are already upon the statute books, this and similar evils would soon be suppressed.

All of which is respectively submitted.

The report was read and

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth being introduced, presented a message from the Governor, which was read as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
 HARRISBURG, April 6, 1867. }

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN—Herewith is returned, without my approval, House bill No. 842, entitled An act to incorporate the Home for the Friendless in the city of Harrisburg, and county of Dauphin.

This is merely beneficial and charitable association, and as the existing laws confer upon the courts the power to incorporate all such associations, the Legislature cannot do it without a violation of the ninth section of the eleventh article of the Constitution.

I regret to interfere with such worthy objects as are proposed by this bill, but my regard for the fundamental law of the State leaves me no alternative.

JNO. W. GEARY.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. GORDON asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. GALLAGHER for a few days.

 The bill read a third time by its title, and Passed finally.

Mr. MANN, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, reported from said committee, as committed, Senate bill No. 1239, an act to indemnify certain election officers of this Commonwealth for losses sustained and fines imposed on them for acting in accordance with the provisions of the act of Assembly of June 4th, 1866.

Mr. HARBISON (Judiciary Local), as committed, No. 1519, an act to regulate the manner of running logs down the Oswayo creek, in Potter county.

BILLS IN PLACE.

Mr. LEE read in his place and presented to the Chair No. 2187, an act requiring the North Pennsylvania railroad company and the Frankfort and Southwark passenger railway company to appoint a watchman on the crossing at Berks and America streets.

Laid on the table.

Mr. LONG, No. 2188, an act to increase the fees of the sequestrator of Carlisle and Hanover turnpike company.

Laid on the table.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order, the House proceeded to the consideration of bills on the third reading.

The following were taken up and acted upon as stated:

House bill No. 1049, an act to prohibit the issuing of licenses within two miles of the First Pennsylvania State normal school, Millersville, Lancaster county, and the normal school at Mansfield, Tioga county.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was Senate bill No. 812, an act to lay out a State road in Schuylkill and Columbia counties, approved April 4th, A. D. 1866.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was House bill No. 1539, an act authorizing the board of controllers of the city of Erie to appoint a superintendent for the schools of said city.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Not agreed to.

Mr. SUBERS. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which the House passed House bill No. 1049, an act to prohibit the issuing of licenses within two miles of the First Pennsylvania State normal school, Millersville, Lancaster county, and the normal school at Mansfield, Tioga county.

The motion was

Agreed to.

The bill was again before the House, and the question being,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MANN. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to strike out the part relating to the normal school at Millersville if he objects to the bill, and let the bill stand as applying to the Mansfield normal school.

Mr. SUBERS. Mr. Speaker, I make a motion to that effect.

The motion was

Agreed to.

The title was then amended so as to read :

An act to prohibit the issuing of licenses within two miles of the normal school at Mansfield, Tioga county.

And the bill as amended

Passed finally.

The next bill was House bill No. 1264, a supplement to an act to fix the standards and denominations of weights and measures in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the 16th day of April, A. D. 1834.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Mr. Speaker, I hope that bill will not pass. I dislike to take up the time of the House on apparently a trifling measure, but it is really a serious matter. I desire to call the attention of the House, just one moment, to the effect of this bill. It requires that every basket used in the market shall have the fractional part of a bushel marked on it. Those engaged in the berry business have a good many baskets, and it is impossible to mark them so. It would subject them to a large and unnecessary tax. This bill goes on to provide that these baskets, and other measures, shall be subject in all respects to the provisions of the act appointing a sealer of weights and measures.

The effect will be that the sealer of weights and measures will have the privilege of making every one of these, and it will almost destroy the business of those who are engaged in raising berries for the market. The sealer of weights and measures may carry them off by the cart load, and the effect will be to almost destroy our business. All these vexatious regulations in the market are to the injury of the consumer as well as the producer, and I do hope that the House will not force this law upon us.

Mr. KERNS. Mr. Speaker, I believe this to be a just bill. I can really see no good reason why these measures should not be marked. I think there is merit in the bill, and I hope it will pass.

Mr. WORRALL. Mr. Speaker, I hope this bill will pass. We have been imposed upon long enough by hucksters going through the streets and selling berries from quart baskets that do not contain more than a pint. We want some protective legislation in this respect, and I hope this bill will pass.

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. The assertion that baskets purporting to contain a quart do not do so, I must say is not correct. These baskets that profess to hold a quart always do so. But we have to get these baskets of the manufacturer and we buy them by the hundreds or thousands. It is found that for fine fruit, small baskets are the best. In New York they have them of a size that six make a quart. They do not complain of it, but prefer them that way, because they carry so much better in these small baskets than they do in large ones. The only advantage in this bill is that it will give a big job to the dealer of weights and measures. It will be thousands of dollars in his pocket. It is only another one of those schemes to put money into the pocket of a public officer, and I trust it will be voted down.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WORRALL and Mr. GHEGAN, and were as follow, viz :

YEAS—Messrs. Armstrong, Breen, Chadwick, Colville, Freeborn, Ghegan, Josephs, Kerns, Kimmel, Leech, Quay, Stumbaugh, Subers, Watt, Weller, Worrall and Wright—16.

YAYS—Messrs. Adaire, Barrington, Boyd, Brennan, Brown, Day, Gordon, Harbison, Harner, Heltzel, Humphrey, Kinney, Koon, Lee, Linton, Long, M'Creary, M'Kee, Maish, Mann, Meyers, Pillow, Rhoads, Richards, Roush, Satterthwait, Seiler, Sharples, Shuman, Stedman, Tharp, Waddell, Webb, Westbrook, Wingard, Woodward and Glass, Speaker—28.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The next bill was Senate bill No. 185, a supplement to the act to incorporate the city of Philadelphia, approved February 22, 1854, relating to vacancies in elective offices.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FREEBORN and Mr. MEYERS, and were as follow, viz

YAYS—Messrs. Armstrong, Boyd, Chadwick, Chase, Davis, Humphrey, Kerns, Kimmell, Kinney, Koon, Linton, M'Creary, Meily, Pillow, Quay, Roush, Seiler, Sharples, Steacy, Stedman, Stumbaugh, Subers, Waddell, Webb Weller, Westbrook, Whann, Worrall, Wright and Glass, Speaker—30.

NAYS—Messrs. Barrington, Boyle, Brown, Cameron, Collins, Colville, Day, Eppy, Freeborn, Gallagher, Gordon, Harner, Lee, Leech, Long, M'Henry, M'Kee, Mann, Meyers, Rhoads, Richards and Satterthwait—22.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was Senate bill No. 939, an act for the better improvement of the front of the river Delaware.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was House bill No. 1478, further supplement to an act to incorporate the Moshannon railroad company, approved April 11, 1863.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was Senate bill No. 709, a supplement to an act incorporating the Epitrate and Lancaster railroad company, approved the 21st day of May, A. D. 1865, authorizing to extend said railroad to the Conestoga creek, below the city of Lancaster.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Agreed to.

And the bill

Passed finally.

The next bill was House bill No. 1633, an act to extend the provisions of an act relating to the passage of fish in the Susquehanna river, and to certain of its tributaries, and to the Conestoga creek, in Lancaster county.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

It was

Not agreed to.

The next bill was House bill No. 1663, an act to establish a depot for the sale of cattle, calves, sheep and hogs in the city of Philadelphia, and to provide for the inspection of the same.

The question being on the final passage of the bill,

Mr. SATTERTHWAIT. Mr. Speaker I wish to say to the friends of this bill that I hope they will allow us a reasonable time for its discussion, and that they will not call the previous question until we have had time to consider it fairly. I think they owe it to the House in a bill of this character, which has been pronounced to be as infamous as this. I think the gentlemen who are pressing the passage of this bill should place on the Record some reasons why the bill should pass, which they have not yet done. I therefore hope, for their own sake, they will not call the previous question. It will be remembered that the greater part of this bill—or at least half of it—passed the House under the gag of the previous question, without a word of discussion and without any opportunity whatever to amend it. I know that this bill is to pass—I see that—but I hope the gentlemen who are determined to pass it will give us some reasons (which they have so far failed to do), why it should pass.

When this bill was previously before as I gave many reasons, as I thought, and very strong ones, why it should not pass, and as yet I have heard no reasons why it should pass.
