IRISH REPUBLICANS ABANDON ARMED FIGHT

POACHERS ESCAPED AFTER THRILLING CHASE ON COAST

Capt. John Courage and Three Fishermen of Fishing Schooner Siloam, Through Misunderstanding, Got Away From Kuyquot Before Fishery Patrol Arrived; Malaspina Brings Story of Chase.

While fast sea patrols were scouring the West Coast and seaplanes scouting from the air in search of Captain John Courage and the surviving members of the crew of the fishing schooner Siloam, the American fishermen succeeded in eluding capture by boarding the fishing schooner Jennie F. Decker at Kuyquot and getting clear away to sea.

The men of the alleged fish poacher are probably safe ashore at Seattle as the Jennie F. Decker was headed for that port when she cleared from Kuyquot.

Men Escaped.

The Dominion fishery patrol steamer Malaspina arrived in port here at 11.30 a. m. to-day from the West Coast without the men she was supposed to have captured.

It was through a misunderstanding that the Malaspina failed to get the men she was searching for, Captain Holmes Newcomb, of the Malaspina, on Thursday received a wireless message from the United States life-saving tug Snohomish advising him to proceed to Kuyquot to get the four men required.

The wireless message indicated that the fishery officer McLoud and Provincial Police Officer Anderson had apprehended the men.

The Malaspina was at Port Alice, where an inquest had been held over the body of James M. York, Seattle fisherman, who was killed as the result of rifle fire from the Canadian patrol ship.

Interpreting the message to mean that Capt. Courage and his three men were at Kuyquot, Capt. Newcomb left Port Alice direct for Kuyquot, arriving there at 5 p. m. Thursday night, only to find that the four men wanted had left Wednesday morning on the fishing schooner Jennie F. Decker, ostensibly for Seattle.

Seized Once Before.

Capt. John Courage, the skipper who was in command of the Siloam, is the same man who was in charge of the Valiant which was seized by Capt. Newcomb when he was in command of the William Joffe about eleven years ago.

Had Live Fish Aboard.

There is no doubt about the Siloam being in Canadian waters, according to Capt. Newcomb. It was off Cape Cook when she was surprised by the Malaspina.

"She was about one mile offshore, with gear down and live fish aboard," said Capt. Newcomb in discussing the incident this morning.

Ignored Orders to Stop.

The Siloam was sighted by the Malaspina at 11.30 a. m. on April 24 on her starboard bow off Soledad Island. The Malaspina fired a warning shot at the Siloam, which had made off, and the whistle was sounded to inform the fishing vessel that she was being fired upon.

The whistle was ignored, so three blank shots were fired from the six-pounder forward. The fleeing fisherman ordered to heave to and to show his hands.

"What the hell do you want," angrily shouted Capt. Courage. "I am a captain of a fishing schooner, and I am not going to stop."

Volley Fired.

As the master of the Siloam refused to surrender, Capt. Newcomb ordered four members of his crew to fire with rifles.

The first volley was deliberately sent wide, and when the Siloam still persisted in her efforts to get away, a volley was fired into the pilot house.

Capt. Courage rushed out of the pilot house shouting that a man had been killed, and the Siloam was then hoisted to. The crew of the Siloam put the wounded man into a dory with his belongings and pulled towards the Malaspina. The wounded man was taken aboard and given immediate attention by Mr. Williams and Mr. Redford. In the meantime Capt. Courage and his three men had returned to the Siloam, which was being taken in tow by the patrol steamer.

Vessel Scuttled.

The fishing vessel was scuttled, and the four men were taken aboard the Malaspina. It was out of the question to continue the chase at that time, two entering the body of the third entering the shoulder. After putting into Port Alice, where an inquest was held, the Malaspina continued the search, only to find that the four men had made good their escape in the Jennie F. Decker from Kuyquot.

Seaplane Searched.

One of the Federal Government seaplanes from the Vancouver air station, with Chief Constable A. T. Stephenson, of Nanaimo, aboard, arrived in Victoria last night after a rived in Victoria last night after a

NO ELECTION YET FOR B. C., ASSERTS SPEAKER PAULINE

He Denies Patronage Charges as More Conservatives Have Got Jobs

Starting Increases in Fundamental Industries; Show Big Boom Starting Here

There is no Provincial election in sight for B. C., yet, Hon. F. A. Pauline, Speaker of the Legislature and member for Sagnich, told his constituents at St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, last night. He denied that an election was to be rushed on the strength of Premier Oliver's success in the freight rates fight.

"As far as I know the Liberal party does not intend to appeal to the people until the proper time arrives," Mr. Pauline said. "The Government has something like two years to run yet."

He referred to the patronage question. "It is a difficult question, but I think we stand very much better on it than our opponents," he said.

He told of the revision of the lists of justices of the peace recently and how in making up the new list for his constituency he included the six old justices who were still in service and had appointed five new ones. Of this eleven, he declared six were Conservatives and five Liberals.

As for appointments to liquor Board offices, there were sixty applications from his constituents. He said the recommendations for four had been made.

THREE BOATS OF LOST SHIP ARRIVE AT ANGOLA PORT

Walfish Bay, Southwest Africa, April 27.—Three boats belonging to the wrecked Portuguese steamship Mossamedes have arrived at Port Alexander, Angola.

The Portuguese mail steamship Mossamedes grounded several days ago at Cape Frio, Southwest Africa, and was abandoned. Yesterday it was reported no sign of her 427 passengers, including 22 women and 25 children, heavily attired, had been found up till then.

FIVE BOMB ATTACKS ON RUHR RAILROADS DELAY TRAIN SERVICE

Dusseldorf, April 27.—Five separate bomb explosions on Ruhr railroads during last night cut railway, telegraph and telephone communications and temporarily disorganized traffic. French headquarters said the explosions had caused the most serious damage since the beginning of the occupation.

During the confusion the Germans made a series of efforts to run the customs barrier into interior Germany, but large quantities of goods which the Germans were trying to get through were seized by the French.

The explosions tore up sections of track and blew down the wires alongside in each instance. In one case, near Bonnann, a French troop train, heavily loaded, had a narrow escape. The explosions cut the line from the eastern Ruhr to Dusseldorf, which is much used for troop movements and the carriage of supplies. Four other lines were cut in the vicinity of Hattinger.

The destruction will delay transportation for several days while the damage is being repaired.

Besides the cases of violence the French authorities report that an attempt was made to wreck a passenger train near Mayence by placing huge pieces of iron and steel on the tracks.

The German efforts to run the French customs barrier into unoccupied Germany resulted in the largest haul of merchandise made since the beginning of the occupation. The French seized six motor trucks loaded with silk valued at 15,000,000 marks that had left the mills at Wovikler. The Germans claim a trap had been set for them in this case.

A truckload of scissors and knives and other fine cutlery was seized in the same district. This consignment was valued at 700,000,000 marks. Two trainloads of goods also were seized last night while trying to run the blockade.

German Proposals.

Berlin, April 27.—It appeared extremely doubtful today whether the German Government would arrive at a definite decision this week respecting the nature of the proposals it will submit for the Entente's renewed consideration. Chancellor Cuno's deliberations thus far have been confined to informal conversations with the Reichstag leaders and representatives of industry and finance.

Motor Row Loses Leading Member

Henry A. Davie Had Been in Business Here for Decade

Henry Angus Davie, one of the best known automobile men in Victoria, passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital this morning, following an operation for abdominal trouble early this week. It was realized when he left the operating room little hope was held out for his recovery, his condition being very serious. He was 55 years of age.

Early Career.

Mr. Davie was a native of Sunderland, England, the tenth son of a family of thirteen. On leaving school he became apprentice to John Dickson & Sons, Ltd., Marine Engineers and Boiler-makers. Six years' indentures gave him a thorough grounding in his trade, and at the age of twenty-three enabled him to secure a first-class Board of Trade certificate.

The following eight years he spent afloat as "guarantee engineer" in the service of the same firm. The custom is that new engines are guaranteed by them for a period of twelve months, during which time they are in charge of either the firm's employees or other engineers approved by them. So successful was he in this work that he was secured the seven seas. European waters from the Baltic to the Black Sea, the Indian Ocean, the China and Japan Seas, and the Atlantic Coast of America from Montreal to the River Plate.

By 1899 he settled in Sunderland and married Miss Ethel Atkinson, who started in business for herself as general engineer, repairer and millwright. About ten years later he was advised to come to Canada for Mrs. Davie's health.

INQUIRIES MADE BY U. S. CONSUL AT VANCOUVER

Washington, April 27.—Frederick M. Ryder, United States consul at Vancouver, B. C., was instructed by Secretary Hughes to-day to investigate the firing on the American schooner Siloam by a Canadian fishery patrol, which resulted in the death of J. M. York, a member of the Siloam's crew.

Consul Ryder telegraphed the Department confirming reports that the schooner had been fired on and said York was "said to be an American citizen."

According to reports, the Siloam failed to stop at the first signals from the patrol vessel, which then fired a solid shot into the craft. The Siloam was accused of poaching in prohibited fishing waters, but until Consul Ryder definitely established the facts, the State Department will not decide what action, if any, should be taken.

NOT PERFUME JOB, MANSON SAYS OF LIQUOR HANDLING

Prune Juice Blending Charge Exploded by Attorney-General

Third Party Talk of "Rotten Grafters" Merits Slap, He Says

B. C. in for Big Expansion; Calls Pooley Talk Piffle

The Government of British Columbia has no apologies to make for the way it has been handling liquor control, Attorney-General Manson said last night at St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, where he appeared with Speaker Pauline.

He also touched on General McRae's third party which he called "this non-descript thing."

"I am rather proud of the administration of the Liquor Board of this Province," Mr. Manson said. "Is there anyone here who thinks that the handling of liquor is a particularly dirty clean job? The perfume that attaches to the liquor trade is not that of mildew's taint."

"When I look office the idea I had was that if I didn't handle the liquor business, the liquor business would handle me and the Oliver Government. I made up my mind that if the Oliver Government went down I would not go down through my handling of the liquor act."

"I can look any man in the face and tell him that I am not ashamed of the administration of the liquor act."

The Attorney-General said that he had had employees who had turned traitor and also vendors and others who had countenanced those things that they should not countenance in enforcing the act and they had been dealt with in such a way that others would not follow their example.

He said that the Government was perhaps disappointed with the choice (Concluded on page 15.)

Archbishop of York Addressed
Duke of York and Bride

London, April 26.—In his address to the Duke of York and his bride at the marriage ceremony in Westminster Abbey yesterday, the Archbishop of York said: "To this great crowning day of your lives you have come, attended by the august, moving memories of the hallowed places and by the kindly thoughts and wishes of a nation. Before this host of witnesses, seen and unseen, you have offered your love to one another and to God. You have received from Him at this altar a new life in which your separate lives are now made one, until death. Will you take and keep this gift of wedded life as a sacred trust? Sacred it must be, for your love and God's love are with it. With all our hearts we wish that it may be happy. But you cannot resolve that you shall be happy; you can and will resolve that it shall be noble. You will think not so much of enjoyment as of your achievements. You will have the great ambition to make this one life now given you something rich and true and beautiful."

The inspiration and strength to fulfil this sacred trust will come from God. The nearer you keep to Him, the nearer you will keep to each other, so let the deepest part of your lives be that which you most truly share together, and let your loyalty, each to the other, be the strength and gladness in loyalty to Him.

Welfare of People.
"You, Sir, already have given many proofs that you care for the welfare of our working people. You have made yourself at home in their mines, shipyards and factories; you have brought the boys of the work-shops and public schools together in free, frank companionship; you have done much to show your own sense and increase the public sense of the honor and dignity of labor. And you, Dear Bride, in your old Scottish home, have grown up from childhood among countryfolk, and friendly with their simple and unpretentious life. So have you both been fitted for your place in the people's life."

The nations and classes which make up our Commonwealth too often live their lives apart. It is, therefore, a great thing that there should be in our midst one family, which regarded by all as in a true sense their own, makes the whole Empire kin and helps give it the spirit of one family life. It is your privilege to be members of that family, that central home. Let the example be ever before you of Him who, though Lord of all men, is yet their brother, and who was content to be among His brethren as one who serves.

"Through all the changes and changes of this mortal life, may God's love overshadow you. His power protect you. His spirit guide you. His peace enfold you."

Message From Ottawa

Ottawa, April 25.—A message of congratulation from the House of Commons was sent to the Duke of York and his bride. The message was brought up in the Commons last night by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, Conservative member for St. John, N. B.

Premier King stated that, realizing the significance of the pleasure of the House, Governor-General Byng had been asked to convey the nation's good wishes. Mr. King thought, however, that it would be proper to act on Mr. Baxter's suggestion and accordingly moved that a second message of congratulation be sent on the part of the House of Commons.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen seconded the motion. Canada, he said, was not only devoted to the Empire, but felt a personal regard toward the royal family.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, in supporting the motion, said that inasmuch as the Duke of York had married a Scotch lassie, his happiness was assured.

The Prime Minister thereupon asked Speaker Lacombe to give effect to the desire of the House in this matter.

Reply to Congratulations.
Toronto, April 27.—In answer to his cablegram from the House of Commons yesterday received the following reply from the Duke of York: "The Duchess and I thank you and the citizens of Ontario for your kind cablegram."

PRAYER BOOK REVISION.

London, April 27.—The House of Laity of the National Assembly of the Church of England decided yesterday to give general approval of the revision of the Anglican prayer book. The House of Bishops of the National Assembly a week ago approved the proposed revision, but were being dissatisfied on the question. The House of Bishops last week also unanimously approved of the proposed revision of the Prayer Book.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother put in a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women back the gray hair disappear, and men who value their eye color, and men who value their eye color, which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair, it has a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. (Adv.)

TO STOP RUM RUNNING.

Ottawa, April 27.—Asked if the Government intended to introduce effective measures to stop rum running, the Prime Minister yesterday afternoon replied that the Government was exercising every possible care to see that the regulations were carried out. Up to the present it had not been possible to use more effective means. Some of the criticisms of Canada's part in the matter, the Premier added, were a bit founded. He would, however, call the subject to the attention of the Minister of Justice.

SIR R. HORNE RECTOR OF UNIVERSITY

Aberdeen Students Made Him
Procession

Aberdeen, Scotland, April 27.—Lively scenes were witnessed at Aberdeen University yesterday when Sir Robert Horne was installed as Lord Rector. After delivering his address, Sir Robert was captured by the students, placed on an Egyptian throne on a yellow painted milk cart converted into a golden chariot and drawn by a pantomime camel consisting of four students. Sir Robert's hat was taken from his head and a yellow head-dress to represent that of King Tutankhamen was substituted and a crimson-wrap was put over his shoulders.

ALBERTA COAL $9 IN ONTARIO

Ottawa, April 26.—(Canadian Press)—"If I am right in my calculations—and I can see no error in them—Alberta coal of the best quality can be sold at retail in Toronto, allowing $1.50 to cover profit and delivering locally at $3 a ton." M. J. Butler, of Oakville, Ont., five years Deputy Minister of Railways and three years general manager of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, told the Commons Committee investigating the coal situation this morning.

Mr. Butler based his statement on direct shipments of coal in heavy trains from the Alberta mines to the point of destination and with equipment to provide quick handling.

SAYS GERMANY MUST MAKE A FRESH START

Dandurand Expresses Views
in Senate at Ottawa

Ottawa, April 27.—Senator Dandurand, Government leader, speaking in the Senate yesterday afternoon, declared Germany had deliberately depreciated her currency to avoid reparations and could not expect outside help until her currency was placed on a sound basis. Germany had broken faith in the past and would in the future, he said, believe the Allies to be divided, but she could afford to continue to act with insincerity and arrogance. It was a great regret that a knockout blow had not been given that country before the armistice. She must be made to admit that she was lost and then it was possible she might redeem herself. She must wipe out her fake currency and start afresh by taking gold stored away in that country and putting it in circulation.

GREAT INCREASE IN CANADA'S TRADE

Ottawa, April 26.—(Canadian Press)—During the fiscal year ended March 31, Canada's total trade increased nearly a quarter of a billion dollars. Total trade during the year was $1,748,530,880, an increase over the previous year of $246,840,887. Export trade developed to a greater extent. For the twelve months exports of Canadian merchandise were $922,229,443, or $191,988,763 over the previous year. Imports were $826,301,437, an increase of $54,852,124.

The running time between London and the Russian capital will be thirty-six hours. It should be possible for a passenger to leave England after breakfast, lunch in Amsterdam, and arrive in Berlin before dark.

Charges of Fraud Among Enforcement Agents
Washington, April 27.—Prohibition troubles from bootlegging to allegations of bribery in several states, accumulated here to-day and engaged the attention of high officials of at least three federal agencies, the Treasury and Justice Departments and the prohibition enforcement headquarters. DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

"When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. He is now three years old, and has had no return of the trouble since."

BREAKFAST AND BUSINESS.

If nearly four score of Victoria's businessmen can meet at breakfast at eight o'clock in the morning and transact business in the interest of the community as a whole we can say without hesitation that there is a more hopeful prospect of progressive unity hereabouts than has hitherto existed.

GRANTING OF NATURALIZATION.

Is there being shown by Canadian Federal authorities just a little too much timidity as to the sort of immigrants who shall be admitted to our country? While professing a keen and very sensible desire to increase the population, is not Ottawa at the same time somewhat inclined to take steps which may easily result in keeping out many who would make good citizens and whose presence would be in every way acceptable?

The question is prompted by the recent debate in Parliament over the requirements for naturalization. Time was when any person of reasonably good character could get citizenship papers for the asking as soon as he had put in the necessary period of residence in the Dominion.

In such a world as this has become certain precautions are well enough. But should not the remedy be exercised at the border, if at all? Is there any logic in admitting a man to Canada, permitting him to remain here indefinitely, and then refusing him his citizenship papers because he is not satisfactory?

As matters stand, a county judge may hear applications for citizenship, and recommend them or otherwise, but the decision rests with the Secretary of State, who is supposed to have an investigation made before signing or refusing to sign the papers.

The proposal now is to eliminate the county judge from the process altogether, the argument being that his work is practically useless because his recommendation is not acted upon without an independent inquiry.

Is there not some danger involved in substituting for this plan a secret inquiry conducted by nobody knows exactly whom, and followed by a decision nominally by the Secretary of State; but, in practice, by one of his departmental employees?

KEEP SMILING.

From time to time "eminent authorities" warn us not to eat this or drink that if we want to escape cancer or some other equally cheerful calamity. One of these profoundly busy gentlemen has just discovered that the individual who uses soap and face powder exposes himself and herself to grave risks of death dealing diseases.

It would be a good thing if some of these clever individuals would not publish their entirely personal opinions on these subjects so freely as they do. Simple folk get terrified as soon as the magic words "eminent authority" hit them in the eye.

Moreover, if we were to take notice of all the various and contradictory prohibitions and cautions that are broadcasted every day we should all be compelled to keep ourselves perfectly still in our rooms in hesitation over the perils that beset our daily lives.

TO-NIGHT'S CHAMBER MEETING.

It ought not to be necessary to remind the members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce that all who can make it convenient to do so should put in an appearance at the annual general meeting that will take place in the auditorium this evening.

THOSE STRANDED VETERANS.

Although it is more than four years since the armistice was signed the repatriation of Canadian soldiers who took their discharge in Great Britain still remains a problem.

It helps nobody and does not solve the difficulty to point out that these men have no real claim on this country. They were warned of the consequences of taking their discharge on the other side of the Atlantic; but sight must not be lost of the fact that they were originally members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and fought for their country.

BANGING THE TELEPHONE.

Some people try to remember telephone numbers and meet with a fair amount of success. Others make a poor fist of it and take a chance. In some cases those young ladies who perform a very exacting task at Central remind us that they are not immune from error.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We hope Vancouver will kindly note how Victoria took its breakfast this morning and at what time.

If nearly eighty businessmen can meet at eight o'clock in the morning and do good work there is every reason to believe that the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce this evening will be well attended.

It is now reported from London that there is an obvious decline in the public business of selecting a bride for the Prince of Wales. Rumor and speculation have had a good innings and the heir to the Throne has said nothing. It is his turn next.

Lord Robert Cecil has finished his American tour as the exponent of the League of Nations. He has faced important and critical audiences. It is too early to judge the success of his mission. One can be satisfied, however, that he carried it out with seriousness and sincerity.

THE WOMAN'S DOMINANCE

WILL ADOPT GIRL GUIDE WORK IN JUNIOR CHAPTERS

Provincial Chapter Opposed, However, to Submergence of I.O.D.E. Identity

P.-T. A. OBJECTS TO WAR PICTURES

By Times Special Representative
Vancouver, April 27.—To meet the need that has been felt for a definite programme of work for the junior chapters of the I.O.D.E., the Provincial Chapter, in session yesterday, passed a resolution urging the junior chapters to adopt the Girl Guide programme of work.

Considerable discussion preceded the adoption of the resolution. There was in evidence a decided feeling of objection to any step which would back to the great movement, the Girl Guide chapters, many members warning of the difficulties which might follow such a step. As was pointed out by several speakers, the identity of the junior I.O.D.E. Junior chapters must be retained. There was also the possibility that at some future date the question of the jurisdiction of such proposed Girl Guide chapters might arise and create complications. The whole tenor of the discussion, however, lauded the aims, objects and accomplishments of the Girl Guide movement and the motion of Mrs. Power, of Vancouver, advocating the adoption of its programme was unanimously endorsed.

American vs. B.C. Fruit.
The action of the Vancouver Municipal Chapter concerning Mrs. King-Brown's campaign into the prairies was endorsed. At the request of the fruitgrowers of the Okanagan and Fraser Valleys, Mrs. King-Brown will tour the prairies urging the women to postpone their canning until the British Columbia fruits reach the market, thus giving Canadian growers a chance to compete with American importers of fruit. The British Columbia farmers, many of whom are returned soldiers, addressed an appeal for support to the I.O.D.E. and the consent of the National Chapter to this action will be solicited.

A Victoria member urged the meeting not to submerge her own sentiment entirely, and at her suggestion a proviso was added to the effect that the endorsement of the British Columbia fruitgrowers' plea was made conditional upon the quality and packing of the local fruit being up to standard.

Object to War Pictures
A letter from the Parent-Teacher Federation of Vancouver setting forth objection to the inclusion of "Canadian Artillery in Action" and "The Defence of the Victoria Wood" in the collection of pictures presented by the order to the schools on the grounds of "their injurious effect upon the sensitive minds of children" was received with a murmur of surprise. On the motion of Mrs. W. H. Beison, of Victoria, the letter was laid on the table without comment or action. The Provincial Chapter's request for information concerning the much-criticized history textbook at the University of British Columbia was received and filed. Dean Kinkead stated that the history in question is to be dropped from the curriculum in the Spring of 1924, which is the Sunday preceding the National Chapter meeting. It will be set aside for special services of intercession for the work of the order.

War Memorial.
The report of the War Memorial Committee was given by Mrs. O. L. Boynton, who said in part: "At the National annual meeting, held in Vancouver last June, the general assembly passed a change of name. Originally the Memorial contained seven clauses; for various reasons other than financial, it was found wiser to eliminate all but three. Our Memorial, therefore, has three clauses only, as follows: burials in Canadian Universities, overseas post-graduate scholarships, and placing war memorial pictures in the schools of the Dominion. The first two have been in operation since 1921 and during the past few months the last has been completed with, one thousand collections of pictures having been distributed to the various provinces. The collections are alloted." (Continued on page 14.)

MRS. W. D. TODD BACK FROM TOUR

Transportation and Co-operation Are Guiding Factors

A most interesting account of her three weeks' tour in connection with the B. C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, is given by Mrs. W. D. Todd, who returned to town this week.

Leaving Victoria on April 1 Mrs. Todd made the Sayward Valley her first objective, and found there, instead of the deep drift of snow which her friends had predicted, spring already installed with wild lilies and the rosy blooms of the currant on the green valley slopes.

At Sayward Mrs. Todd was accorded a most enthusiastic welcome, and after a highly successful meeting, proceeded to Whistler and Cortes Island, then to Quathiaski Cove, on Campbell River. Courtenay, Comox, Cape Lazo, Cumberland and Union Bay were all the scenes of interested gatherings, following which the Mainland was visited, meetings being held at Point Grey, South Vancouver, Lynn Valley, and Central Park.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY OF HOSPITAL MEETS
The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital was held yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home, Mrs. Rhodes presiding. The bills were ordered paid, and a cheque for $500 was handed over to the Hospital Board towards the rebuilding of the greenhouse. A cheque for $100, this being part of the tag day collection, was sent to Dr. Fraser for the Dr. Hasell Memorial Fund. A discussion followed to arrange for the membership campaign, which will commence on Tuesday, May 8, when members of the Auxiliary will be stationed at Spencer's to receive members' dues, and new members for 1923, and give receipts.

The purchasing committee was authorized to buy bolts of white and colored flannelette, there and other materials for the sewing society, which meets on first and second Wednesdays. Any members of the public who are willing to help with daughter, and making the girl feel neglected, awkward and unpopular. The boys, who would ordinarily have gone joyously about with their friends, were held spell-bound by the brilliant banter of the mother, which amounted to a sort of flirtatiousness, to which they were blinded because of her motherhood.

PALMOLIVE

YOUR HOME AND YOU
By HELEN KENDALL
Mother and Daughter

Two suburban neighbors, pleasant women both, sat chatting over their filet croquet. Said one of them: "Young Mrs. Archer is wonderful, isn't she? She looks very little older than her daughter, Patty, and she is even more popular with the young boys. They fairly swarm around her house, and I see Mrs. Archer talking and laughing vivaciously with them. Patty tells me the boys are all simply crazy about her mother."

"The other woman looked a little serious."

"How about Patty herself? Is she popular?" she asked. "Somehow she seems a shy, diffident young girl to me—a little ill at ease and subdued. Yet she used to be a lively, merry little child, full of gay spirits. I wonder if her pretty young mother isn't overshadowing her into the background."

"I knew a similar case years ago. A pretty woman, flattered by being told that she looked very little older than her daughter—like her older sister, you know—simply took the center of the stage at all their home and club doings, monopolizing the attention of the young chaps who would otherwise have been attracted to her daughter, and making the girl feel neglected, awkward and unpopular. The boys, who would ordinarily have gone joyously about with their friends, were held spell-bound by the brilliant banter of the mother, which amounted to a sort of flirtatiousness, to which they were blinded because of her motherhood."

"Such women are a positive drawback to their daughters and hamper them instead of helping them. It is splendid for a mother to be on jolly terms with young fellows, but when she uses them to feed her vanity instead of treating them as friends of her child's life, she is keeping that child from developing into a buoyant, self-confident, happy young woman."

ROYAL VICTORIA

The English comedy success "Me and My Gal," with Betty Balfour, England's famous comedienne, will be shown again today at the Royal. Betty Balfour, who takes the part of Squibs, the flower girl, is now established foremost comedienne in England and there is no doubt that on her first appearance in this city she has created for herself a niche in the Hall of Fame, as far as animated pictures are concerned. This picture deserves to be popular because its comedy is homely and clean. Many fans in this city have preferred it to either moving picture "Alfa Button" and "The Better Ole," the two most popular English successes.

DOMINION

A party is in progress. Present are unbacked females with butterfly souls, debutantes in daring costumes, carmine chorus girls with greedy eyes, foolish flappers fluttering through flames and attended by aged cavaliers.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Capitol—"Prodigal Daughters," "Robin Hood," "Me and My Gal," "Columbia"—"The Young Rajah."

and sleek parlor pythons, dancing male frogs and two-carat muggle puppies—and gayer among them all is Swiftie Forbes (Clara—Swanson) the most vivid character in "Prodigal Daughters," a Sam Wood production, which will be on view at the Dominion theatre all this week.

"Prodigal Daughters" is a swift-moving story of what happens when young women are permitted to carry lathenkeys, keep their own hours, drink, smoke, jazz and defy every convention revered by the old-fashioned type of women. For "Swiftie" Forbes, it means the "end of the world," in a manner that will thrill the audience.

CAPITOL

Countless inquiries are being made as to what elements enter into the motion picture sensation, "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which Douglas Fairbanks is bringing to the screen.

According to Mr. Fairbanks himself, this latest of his truly epochal photoplays which is now being shown at the Capitol theatre, under the United Artists release, is a combination of fact and fancy, a vital drama depicting the chivalrous and romantic spirit of the Twelfth Century, comprising an enchanting mixture of the fairy tale and a gorgeous display of the valorous deeds of eight hundred years ago, so that the people of today easily can grasp it. It is, in short, the presentation of an impression inspired by historical facts and with a beautiful historical background.

It was no small task to conceive or perfect the integral parts which make up this masterly cinema achievement. Primarily it required five months to gather and available data on the Norman period before the first step could be taken toward actual work of producing the picture.

This exhaustive research work was undertaken by a corps of recognized authorities on the various subjects involved and headed by Dr. Arthur Woods.

When came time for the architects, engineers, painters, art directors and builders in general to start their work of executing the plans, this extensive research had inspired, they had all the available historical facts to guide them, but were still given a wide latitude for the legendary qualities which are essential to the construction of an "atmosphere" for such a drama. The dreamer was summoned to embellish his brush and pen in order that there might be created dramatic proportions; an engrossing story with a co-ordinated plot.

Therefore, so far as the story is concerned, it has all the imaginative charm of perfect fiction with a historical background and yet replete with romance and thrills, poetic and artistic touches.

As we see the great Victorian banks in Robin Hood, as presented by Mr. Fairbanks, gives vivid impression of the spirit of chivalry as it dominated England eight centuries ago. It is an enlightening visualization of a spirit of stirring times bygone in "terms" which the great actors in this ultra-modern age will understand, appreciate and enjoy.

COLUMBIA

Rodolphe Valentino's latest pet is a cub lion. The star doesn't do any more petting than is absolutely necessary for the scenes in "The Young Rajah," his new Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Columbia theatre today, and in which the cub is being used. However, the animal was inclined to be somewhat "catty" at times and was not to be trusted too far.

"THE GAME OF LIFE" TO BE PRESENTED HERE SHORTLY

One of the big scenes in "The Game of Life" is an English Derby in crinoline times. We see the Victorian thousands who thronged the course and here and there the strange figures of the booties and jockeys of the old sporting days of the fifties.

We find Travers, the plunger, here, and also those inevitable character, Cobblers and The Nipper. It is here that Travers makes his bid for fortune and plunges every cent he has on an outsider in the big race at 50 to 1 against, and then the actual running of an English Derby of 70 years ago.

And the remarkable thing is that while we feel ourselves dipped into

England of the boisterous days of the '50s and marvel at the strangeness and the wonder of it all with the booties and the jockeys, the crowds, the Queen in the royal box, and the extraordinary race, at the same time, when we see how Travers plunges his last penny on a horse and how Walker, the widowed promoter, steers Travers on to the outsider that he thinks hasn't a chance in the world to win, we realize that it is only the clothes, the styles and the times that have changed, and that the people of the days of the '50s and Thackeray are no different from those of today.

"The Game of Life" comes to the Royal next Tuesday for its premiere Canadian showing after smashing all English cinema records in London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Edinburgh and other points and being hailed as the greatest picture ever made.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discovered the use of harmless drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarcked Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer troubles them. They are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarcked Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrector, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acids, prevent fermentation, without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarcked Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

bers than ever. Fred Fenwick, Charlie McLean and Alan Murray offer new and delightful female impersonations. Betram Langley is again singing the famous "Flora Danca," assisted by four maids in crinolines, and four men in silken breeches and powdered wigs. The famous Old Dumbell quartette, with Jerry Brayford, Bill Tennant, Tom Young and Betram Langley, are as delightful as ever, while Bob Anderson, former star of the first division party, Ivor Ayre, the popular musical director, and Percy Campbell, are all favorites in the new show.

PLAYHOUSE TO OPEN DOORS NEXT MONTH

Owner Makes Arrangements With Head of Stock Company

Another page is soon to be added to the story of the chequered career of the building formerly known as the Princess Theatre and now more recently as the Playhouse, Yates St.

The owner, R. Richards, has taken a direct hand in the negotiations on this occasion looking to its re-opening as a place of amusement. Mr. Richards, who resides at Toronto, spent about $26,000 about nine years ago in bringing the premises into conformity with the regulations for theatres. It had previously been used for dances, public meetings and similar activities.

Various stock companies occupied the premises for a number of years, with fluctuating success, until the return of Mr. Hincks last year. Mr. Hincks came out to the city in September, and as a result the Playhouse was re-opened under Mr. Hincks' direction. It recently closed owing to lack of support. The situation decided Mr. Richards to pay another visit to Victoria and more recently as the Playhouse, Yates St.

He told The Times that he had considerable discouragement in theatrical quarters in Vancouver and Seattle, owing to the fluctuation fortunes of enterprises here in recent years. Eventually he was able to reach terms with the Compton Company, which will open a stock engagement here on May 9. This organization has had a very successful career, Francis Compton, the manager, being one of a distinguished stage family, his father and grandfather having been prominent actors, and an aunt and sister are on the stage in leading companies. Other members of the family have written for the stage, and Compton Mackenzie, the brilliant novelist, is a near relative.

MORNING TILT IN ONTARIO HOUSE

Col. J. A. Currie Crossed Swords With Hon. D. Carmichael

Sitting of Legislature Lasted Until 4.10 a.m. To-day

Toronto, April 27.—The Ontario Legislature sat until 4.10 this morning, the night being occupied with estimates. There were tense moments about three o'clock this morning when Colonel Currie, Minister representing the Government on the Hydro-Electric Commission, enraged at the attitude and remarks of Colonel J. A. Currie, Conservative, Southeast Toronto, left his seat and headed in the direction of the Toronto. But for the intervention of Hon. Harry Mills, Minister of Mines, a scene unprecedented in the House might have been witnessed.

The matter arose during the consideration of supplementary estimates for the night being occupied with estimates. There were tense moments about three o'clock this morning when Colonel Currie, Minister representing the Government on the Hydro-Electric Commission, enraged at the attitude and remarks of Colonel J. A. Currie, Conservative, Southeast Toronto, left his seat and headed in the direction of the Toronto. But for the intervention of Hon. Harry Mills, Minister of Mines, a scene unprecedented in the House might have been witnessed.

Colonel Carmichael at last leaned over to Mr. Mills and spoke to him. Colonel Currie suspended Colonel Carmichael, knew something about the matter which was up and wanted to know where he got his information.

Information Asked "Perhaps the Minister of Power can give us some information," said Colonel Currie in an insinuating tone of voice.

"Don't you take that line with me," replied Colonel Carmichael.

"Don't talk to me like that, your senior officer. You will get a court-martial," fired back Colonel Currie.

Colonel Carmichael protested, and Colonel Currie, with some heat, exclaimed: "Don't think you can put it over on me, and you can't lick me either."

"You dirty scoundrel," said Colonel Carmichael, and he left his seat with the evident intention of reaching that of the local member Currie.

After Mr. Mills had intervened, Colonel Currie, thinking he had been called a "dirty skunk," called out to Colonel Carmichael: "He's a double skunk."

"Order, order," cried several members. "The excitement had increased by this time, Colonel Carmichael explained he had not used the word 'skunk' but 'scoundrel,' and Colonel Currie demanded withdrawal from the work."

"I withdraw," said Colonel Carmichael, smiling.

"Then I will," declared Colonel Currie.

BRITISH SHIP IS HELD BY PACK ICE

New York, April 27.—The British steamer Cymric Queen, a vessel of 2,400 tons was reported by wireless this morning ashore in pack ice at a place estimated to be about five miles from Point St. Esprit, on the Cape Breton coast.

It is stated that the Cymric Queen, formerly the Astley Hall, was in no danger, but had asked for assistance.

Freighter Brush Fast Breaking Up

ALGERINE WILL BE ALONGSIDE THE WRECK TO-MORROW

Stranded Freighter Brush Is Pierced Amidships and Fast on Reefs

Bound to the assistance of the stranded Nawsco Line freighter Brush, which left here shortly before midnight, was this morning well to the south of Cape Flattery. In giving his position this forenoon, Capt. J. M. Hewitt reported to the Pacific Salvage Company that he expected to be alongside the wreck by noon to-morrow.

The Algerine was dispatched to Coos Bay in response to a request by the owners of the Brush. She is the only vessel on the coast that is fully equipped with gear for difficult salvage operations.

Tug Goes to Scene. The Algerine was dispatched to Coos Bay in response to a request by the owners of the Brush. She is the only vessel on the coast that is fully equipped with gear for difficult salvage operations.

The freighter, running in a fog and believed to have been pierced amidships and hung fast on the rocks. This fact will make it possible, in the view of marine men, to salvage the vessel and much valuable equipment that she has aboard.

Wireless material, worth many thousands of dollars, will be saved.

Captain G. G. Mitchell, his wife and the 35 members of the crew were rescued without incident when the ship struck the rocks yesterday. They are being quartered here pending instructions from the agents of the company.

Salvage Steamship Algerine, Bound for Wreck, To-day Ordered to Return Here—Vessel on Reefs Near Coos Bay Being Battered to Pieces and Beyond Salvage

The freighter Brush, of the Nawsco Line, which yesterday morning struck the reefs off Cape Arago, near Coos Bay, is fast breaking up and is beyond salvage, the Pacific Salvage Company, of this city, was advised by telegraph from the owners this forenoon. Following the receipt of this message the salvage company wireless the Algerine, which left here last night for the scene of the wreck, to abandon the quest and put back to Victoria. The Algerine is now heading back here and is expected to-night.

The company's steamer Cuba from the South will arrive here six days later. This vessel was due here Saturday. She will make a quick turn around and will sail on May 8.

WANT LINE FROM PORTLAND TO B.C.

Oregon Commission Investigating Differential in Rail Rates

Salem, Ore., April 27.—On its own motion the Oregon Public Service Commission will investigate the differential rates of the Southern Pacific Company on dried fruit as between California points of supply and San Francisco compared with the rate from Salem and other Oregon points into Portland. It is claimed here that the difference is much to the advantage of the California growers.

In California the rate per hundred from San Jose and other points to San Francisco is only seven cents and this applies to carload lots. In Oregon the rate from Salem to Portland is 15 cents, and this does not apply to lots of less than 100 lbs.

Officials of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative Association have asked the Portland Chamber of Commerce to endeavor to have a waterline established from Portland to Vancouver, B. C., to offset the advantage of the California growers in their water shipments from San Francisco to Vancouver. The Oregon Growers also are moving for water transportation on the Willamette River from Eugene to Portland, or at least from Salem to Portland.

NEW STRUCTURAL NOVELTIES ON S.S. BELGENLAND

Many New Features Represented in Newest Red Star Liner

There are many structural novelties on the new 27,000-ton transatlantic liner Belgenland, which on April 14 last, reached New York, completing her maiden voyage from Antwerp, Southampton and Cherbourg.

In her dining saloon the conventional table-d'hotel service has been abolished. In favor of complete restaurant service a la carte, without extra charge. Continental waiters take the place of the old-time table steward. The chef is from a fashionable European hotel. The bills of fare are printed in French as well as English.

The Belgenland was designed to cater to the most exacting tastes in ocean travel. This is done in the finest possible setting at sea.

Two Children's Playrooms. The Belgenland has capacity for 2,700 passengers, of whom 400 can be accommodated in first cabin. Her public rooms are notable both for their size and elegance. The ship has all the accepted features associated with monster liners: A swimming pool and Turkish bath, a palm-court, large lounge, drawing-room for women, an elegantly fitted smoking-room of large size, and a children's playroom and electric elevators in both first and second cabins.

Other novel features is the unusual breadth of the promenade deck, and a glass enclosure of this deck with bulwarks sufficiently low to enable the passenger to look out upon the sea with unobstructed view while still reclining in a deck chair.

Another structural novelty is a specially designed glass screen of small panes as clear as crystal—the only one of its kind on a ship—between dining saloon and ballroom, or reception hall.

Comfort in Staterooms. The Belgenland has no less than thirty-two suites with private baths, and eleven with private sitting-rooms as well. Various combinations of suites with private sitting-room, private dining-room and bath can be arranged.

All first-class rooms are fitted with beds of special design and construction, of mahogany or other fine woods. Every bedroom in first and second-class has a permanent supply of running hot and cold fresh water. In the bedrooms are novelties such as davenport that become beds, buffets that may be converted into washstands, Pullman upper berths for children, clothes' closets with innovation fittings, including rods, on which a large number of garments can be hung in a limited space, combination washstand and dressing tables fitted with adjustable triple mirrors, heated towel racks, angle showers, indirect ventilation, steam heat regulated by thermostats which cut off or turn on the heat at a given point, electric fans, and walls specially constructed to deaden sound.

Gymnasium and Sports Deck. On the boat deck is a first-class gymnasium, an open space for outdoor sports, a photographic dark-room, a conservatory, kennels for pet dogs and a rug-drying room.

The Belgenland's second cabin has broad promenade and sports deck, a very large veranda cafe which on occasion can be used for dancing, a handsome smoking-room, a children's playroom, a gymnasium, a dining-room fitted like that in first cabin, with small tables (seating capacity, 310 persons), a library and a large lounge, the two latter looking out on the promenade deck and having bay windows like those in a spacious house.

In third class there are a total of four public rooms, as follows: Two dining-rooms, seating 750 passengers at one sitting; a lounge, full width of the ship and 100 feet fore and aft, very attractively finished in white enamel and teakwood trimmings; upholstered seats, small tables and movable chairs. The walls are decorated with colored pictures of European and American scenery. This room will be available for concerts, etc., and is provided with a mechanical piano and a large gramophone. Adjoining is a smoking-room for men. There is also an enclosed veranda, a third-class lavatory.

Third class sleeping accommodation is all permanent, enclosed and private, with a washstand in every room, cork linoleum floor mats, enamelled iron beds with thick mattresses and wire springs, white walls, good ventilation, electric light and steam heat.

No Race Suicide Here

The Coie family, numbering fifteen from Coleford, England, recently arrived at St. John aboard the Montcalm and are enroute for Alberta with a Canadian Pacific conducted party to take up one of the company's ready made farms. There will be no shortage of labor on the farm they take up.

Coblenz, April 27.—An order from the Allied authorities for coal coke, or interferes with the execution of such orders, is made liable to five years' imprisonment under a new ordinance adopted by the inter-Allied Rhine-Ruhr Commission. Orders previously issued must be filled within five days after the promulgation of the ordinance.

New Canadians Start For Canada

A Busy Scene at the Liverpool Dock. THE facilities for handling outward bound passengers at the Canadian Pacific dock at Liverpool, England, are as perfect and speedy as any in the world. As will be seen from the picture above of future Canadian citizens boarding the "Montcalm", the travellers pass from the street and railway station levels to waiting rooms of the dock side, and crossing the bridged wharf, board the ship by the saloon deck where they are received and assigned to quarters. Their baggage is handled from below and with despatch. A travelling belt carrier operated by an electric dynamo eliminates the necessity of many noisy and slow moving winch hoists which, when used and not too carefully operated, are the cause of many trunks and boxes being damaged, so that the baggage is carefully loaded and stowed. It is usually planned to have all the passengers aboard at least half an hour before sailing time, and the gangway is down for their reception about three hours before that time unless special trains are scheduled to arrive earlier. As for other dock-side facilities, the Montcalm commenced to take on coal and discharge cargo, mostly package freight, at six o'clock of the morning of a recent arrival. By 2.46 in the afternoon she had taken 1,000 tons of coal into her side bunkers, and at the same time she was unloading 1,700 tons of freight, this being discharged by 7.15 the same evening.

TOURISTS ATTRACTED BY GOTHENBURG FAIR

In view of the prominence given to the forthcoming ter-centennial Jubilee Exposition of Gothenburg, the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Limited, reports an unusually large number of bookings on its steamships engaged in the Montreal-Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg service.

To cope with this exodus of tourists, the Canadian Pacific announces the following weekly sailings from Montreal to Southampton. The trip is made to Gothenburg via London.

Carrying the first contingent of tourists for Gothenburg, the Minnedosa will leave Montreal on May 9, followed thereafter by the Melita on May 23 and the Margien on June 2.

By way of Liverpool and Hull, the company schedules a weekly service commencing with the sailing of the Montcalm on May 4, the Montrose on May 11 and the Montclair on May 25 from Montreal, and the new Montclair on May 18 from Quebec.

Alternative trips from Quebec to Hamburg, Dungeness, Portmer, will be available by the Empress of Scotland, the Empress of Britain and the Empress of France. From Hamburg, there is an attractive trip to Malmo, Sweden and thence by rail to Gothenburg.

DISPUTES ACT OF BARRISTER

Relation of Solicitor and Client Subject of Suit

The case of Newcombe vs. Green is being heard to-day before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald with a special jury.

Mrs. Sarah Newcombe, of Saanich, is suing John R. Green, a local lawyer, for the return of $1,500 alleged to have been entrusted to him to pay a judgment, and also for damages for alleged neglect.

Mrs. Newcombe, according to the statement made to the jury this morning by her counsel S. F. Hankey was a stockholder in the National Finance Co. and when this concern failed she was sued by the Yorkshire & Canadian Trust Co. for the remaining payments on the stock. She lost the suit and it is alleged Mr. Green persuaded her to appeal. She lost the appeal, and paid it from funds other than those entrusted to Mr. Green. Now she seeks to get the $1,500 returned.

It is alleged, for the defence, that she deceived her counsel, Mr. Green, and misrepresented the facts to him, and that this was the reason he advised the appeal. As to the money, he puts in a counter-claim for his services. The defendant is represented by W. C. Moreby.

Local Machine For Road Surfacing To Be Tested

Engineers of many municipalities of British Columbia and the nearby States are evincing interest in the novel road surfacing machine Saanich is about to introduce to service. This is expected to radically cut the cost of applying hot liquid asphalt or heavy oil dressings to highways, and is the result of experiments by Road Superintendent G. G. Girling, his son and David W. Johnston, the latter was Saanich Municipal Engineer prior to going overseas, and is now in business on the Lower Mainland.

One of the important factors of the new equipment is the successful devising of extreme slow motion to the heavy unit, a speed of not more than half a mile per hour is necessary, and this must be maintained with extreme regularity in order to prevent the deposition of patches of undue thickness of asphalt. An equipment specially built in Victoria will be put to test to-day, the first official trial being set for 10 o'clock on Monday morning, when engineers and councillors will witness tests on Quadra Street hill.

PESSIMISM WILL PASS AWAY FROM VICTORIA

Arrangements Made to Stage Pageant at Beacon Hill

"The Passing of Pessimism" will be the title of the Pageant to be staged in Beacon Hill Park on Friday, May 25. This was decided at a meeting of the pageant committee last night. The spectacle, which will combine beauty with comedy, is due to the suggestion of Major W. J. Taylor, who has written the manuscript. The music is being specially composed by J. Douglas Macey. About four hundred people, all of Victoria, will take part.

The trial of "Yankee" and "Old Sprits" will occur in front of a Greek temple which will be erected on the green. The scene will open with the entry of the chorus of children and others. The Fairy Godmother of Victoria will arrive and announce that the spirit is being specially composed by J. Douglas Macey. They will be found guilty but will be let off with an exhortation to repent and mend their ways. The Godmother, in company with the Queens will pay homage to the Fairy. The music is pleasant and will end with singing and dancing.

The members of the pageant committee are: Herbert Kent, chairman; J. Douglas Macey, secretary; Messrs. Hodge, Bell, Shaw, Allwood, J. C. Newbury, Sparks, Taylor, Redbourne and Dean.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A clean charge sheet, without even a motor parking offence, was handed to Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court to-day.

A fire alarm rung from the corner of Hillside Avenue and Cook Street at 10.15 last night gave the engines a needless run. There was no blaze in progress. It was found.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE.

In support of the Y. W. C. A. campaign Messrs. David Spencer, Ltd., have arranged an effective window, symbolizing the arrival of a friendless girl in the city, whom the portals of the Y. W. C. A. are invitingly opened by a strapping figure, a womanhood with outstretched arms.

POLICE SCORN HIDDEN TRAP

In response to several complaints that "police traps were unfair" in relation to speeding proceedings, Magistrate Jay explained to-day that Sunday's operations were the result of open pursuit on the Island Highway when the officers on foot motor cycle rode down on their quarry. Constables Owens and Irving patrolled the road between Parson's Bridge and the Four-Mile Hill, Provincial Police men reaching a speed of 50 miles an hour in pursuit of the speeding motorists. Five prosecutions followed.

MRS. KINSMAN'S DEATH

Pioneer Resident Passes at Residence of Daughter

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, after two years' illness of Christina Kinsman, widow of the late John Kinsman, an alderman of this city for many years. The late Mrs. Kinsman died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Hall, 306 Linden Avenue, Fern in Grove, Ontario, on May 11, 1858, she came West in the early days to join her husband, traveling via the Isthmus of Panama, and arriving in Esquimalt Harbor on the Brother Jonathan, in company with other pioneer settlers. She had been a resident of this Province for sixty years.

There remain to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. G. L. Milne, Mrs. Richard Hall, and Mrs. J. E. Ashwell, also two sons, J. E. Kinsman and W. H. Kinsman, and a brother, Edward Hunter, of Winnipeg. There are also fourteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 3.30 when Rev. Leslie W. Clay, D.D., will conduct the service at the residence of Mrs. Richard Hall, 306 Linden Avenue.

The remains of the late Catherine Halliday will be laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery to-morrow afternoon. Service will be held at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, at 2 o'clock, when Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson will officiate.

The remains of the late Lin Hing Wah were laid to rest yesterday afternoon. The cortege proceeded from the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, at 3.30 o'clock, to the Chinese Cemetery, where the usual service was held.

The last sad rites for the late Mrs. Alice Catherine Wilkie were performed on Wednesday at Port Langford in the presence of her family and a number of her old-time friends she was laid to rest beside her husband in the family burial plot. The cortege went by motor car from New Westminster, where Murchie & Sons had charge of the final arrangements. The solemn service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Bell, of Colliedwood, formerly pastor of Langley, and an old friend of Mrs. Wilkie, and Rev. Alexander Dunn, a pioneer Presbyterian minister, was also present. A profusion of lovely flowers had been placed in the casket. A touching and a mute testimony of the affectionate regard in which she was held. The pallbearers were Mr. O. B. N. Wilkie, of Victoria, and Walter Wilkie, of New Westminster, two sons, and Messrs. Otway J. H. and Arthur Walter Wilkie, Eugene Harper and Cecil McCombie, grandsons. A noted forebear of Mrs. Wilkie was her grandfather, Rev. James Bentley Gordon, the Irish historian, whose History of Ireland is always quoted in the British House of Commons as the most impartial history of that country.

IGNORED GIRL WAGE LAW, PLEADS GUILTY

Working girls and women are getting real protection under the British Columbia Government's minimum wage law.

In Vancouver, Mrs. Margaret McKenzie, lessee of the Hotel Vancouver Annex, has been haled into court because Mrs. Wilkie says that she was working the operator seven days a week, and after his return on Monday she failed to post up the orders of the Board so that employees could know to what they were entitled.

Mrs. McKenzie pleaded guilty, and the judge fined her $25 on each of the three counts.

Besides, the judge ordered the back pay as well as overtime pay that has been owing her.

TELLS ENGLISH PEOPLE NOT TO COME TO CANADA

Council to Act to Counteract "Damnable and Damaging Publicity"

"Damnable and damaging" publicity which will hurt the reputation of Victoria and Canada among prospective British immigrants is contained in a letter published in a recent issue of Lloyd's Weekly, Alderman John Harvey informed the City Council to-day.

The letter, which painted a gloomy picture of conditions in Canada, was signed by T. Holden, of Fort Street, Victoria. No such name and address appear in the Victoria directory, Alderman Harvey stated. He demanded that the Mayor investigate the whole matter, and attempt to counteract the damage done by the Holden letter.

According to the Lloyd's Weekly correspondent, "deserted villages, whole streets of shops and houses being unoccupied," the letter declares. Unemployment all over Canada is bad, but conditions in British Columbia are worst of all," the letter adds.

The letter writer emphatically warns English people against coming to Canada, and includes anyone who comes to this Western part of Canada under present conditions is nothing short of a criminal act," he says.

On account of the large circulation of Lloyd's Weekly, Alderman Harvey declared, the Holden letter will do a great deal of harm. "It's the most damnable and damaging article I have ever seen," Alderman Harvey asserted.

Other aldermen agreed, and the Mayor promised to take the matter up with the publishers of Lloyd's Weekly. Alderman E. S. Woodward warned the Council not to be hasty. He added that no one could say that Victoria had been prosperous last winter.

LIQUOR PRICE CUTS MAKE BEHOLDERS MARREL AND BLINK

They Are Not for Residents, However, But for Foreign Crews Going Away

Ocean Ships to Be Lured Here to Outfit With B. C. Merchants

Cheapest prices in liquor since the unrestricted days of before the war have been announced along the waterfront.

The new prices, quoted by Government vendors, are so low that persons to whom they were furnished to-day rubbed their eyes and said there must be some mistake.

The new prices do not hold good for everybody, however. Officers and crews of ocean vessels trading with foreign ports are the only ones who can take advantage of them. Liquor at these cut prices will be sold by Government stores only for ships' stores, to satisfy the customary demands of members of the crew for medicine and daily allowance as beverage while they are making their trip.

The new prices have been put into effect by Attorney-General Manson with the object of stimulating foreign vessels to come to British Columbia ports, instead of going to Puget Sound cities, and to do their business with British Columbia merchants when they do their outfitting and buying of supplies for voyages across the ocean have been found in their liquor in the Orient and at various other ports along the main trade routes of the world.

It is believed that many of these boats will now come here when they learn that they can get their liquors at the usual prices.

Some of the cut rates on the usual reputed quart bottles made to attract foreign shipping here are: Black and White, $1.55 a bottle; Catto's Pen Year Old, $1.55; Ambassador, $1.60; Antiquary, White Horse, Canadian Club, each $1.50; Dewar's White Label, $1.25; Doctor's Special, $1.40; Gilbey's Spey-Royal, $1.25; Haig and Haig, $1.55; House of Lords, $1.41; Johnnie Walker Black Label, $1.71; B. C. Special, $1.34.

The usual prices of most of the foregoing liquors run from $4.50 to $5 a bottle.

If foreign boats will buy their whisky in greater quantities they will get it in prices which range from $5.50 a gallon for Catto's in draft to $11.19 for Grant's B. C. whisky, two-year-old will be sold at $5.08 a gallon and Seagram at $7.33 a gallon. Other liquors will be sold at similarly cut rates. Gordon's gin can be got at 61 cents a bottle, and Gilbey's at 62 cents per cent. overproof Jamaica rum will be sold at $3.20 a gallon.

Quart bottles of Champagne, Moet & Chandon will be only $1.76.

DELEGATION WAITS ON MINISTER TO PRESENT PETITION

Browning Harbor Residents Want Better Graded School

A delegation comprising A. H. Menzies, Mrs. T. Fry, Mrs. E. Corbett, Mrs. E. Pollard, and A. Hamilton of Pender Island, waited upon the Minister of Education yesterday to present their sentiments regarding the establishing of a new school on Pender Island, and also a petition signed by 42 residents.

The resolution reads as follows: "We, the undersigned, petitioned that you build a new school at Port Washington, and also that it has been advised that you have one school on Pender Island, and the undersigned petitioners humbly pray that you leave the present school as a two-room school and build a new school for the following reasons:

"Your Department and the Department of Public Works have recently completed considerable sums of money improving the present school building and opening a short road to Otter Bay, a part of the Port Washington district.

"The closing of one room of the Pender Island school would mean a reversal of your policy in creating a graded school, and involve the loss of all past expenditure, as two new buildings would have to be erected, and the present building would be practically worthless except as a school.

"The present building is as near the centre of the district as possible, and closer to Port Washington than to many other parts of the district, the distance to Port Washington is the same as to Browning Harbor and to Otter Bay, about two miles, and one family lives a good mile beyond Browning Harbor and farthest point Port Washington children have to come is just two miles, or one to two at Otter Bay have slightly further to come, the school is one half mile from Hope Bay.

"Your petitioners can think of no good reason why a good graded school, properly and centrally located here, should be abandoned and two new buildings erected, making it harder for the teachers and an injustice to the pupils, also involving the payment of more taxes.

"The school attendance is only at the minimum at present, but there are plenty of younger children coming on, also the prospect of new settlers."

WILL OF MRS. COLLINS IS UPHELD BY COURT

A decision upholding the will of the late Mrs. Amelia Collins was rendered yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice Gregory, immediately upon the close of the evidence.

The will was attacked by Mrs. Emma Hood, a sister of the deceased, on the ground that Mrs. Collins was subject to mental delusions. "If there is anything in this," remarked the Court, "then Mrs. Hood has given more apparent evidence of possessing mental delusions than any testimony offered here shows to have been the case with the late Mrs. Collins. The sisters disliked each other and Mrs. Hood had not been near her for years. It would have been astonishing if Mrs. Collins had left her anything."

As to Miss Elizabeth Lang, the chief beneficiary under the will, Mr. Justice Gregory said she had evidently known absolutely nothing of the terms of the will or of the intention of Mrs. Collins until after Mrs. Collins was dead.

The costs of the action were given against Mrs. Hood.

"RESTHAVEN" IS SCENE OF TRAGEDY
Body of Elderly Woman Hanging in Room Cupboard

Visited in her room at the Resthaven Sanitarium by friends shortly before 5 o'clock last evening the body of Miss Hannah Jane Green, 1132 Queens Avenue, was found hanging in the cupboard above her bed. Clothing had been twisted into a rope to make the noose. With the exception of a slight bruise under the chin, there were no marks found on the body, and no trace of violence or disorder in the room. Miss Green was 48 years of age.

Up to three weeks ago the victim of the tragedy resided with friends here. Then she went on a visit to relatives at the Resthaven institution. Miss Green was known to have been dependent for some time past, and is said to have been troubled with her nerves. Following the discovery of the tragedy by an attendant, Dr. Beale, of Sidney, was notified, and pronounced the death a case of heart failure.

The coroner's inquest will be held there at 4 o'clock to-day.

Mrs. W. C. Nichol Takes Out Life Membership

From the interest shown in the Young Women's Christian Association membership drive it is evident that the people of Victoria have just awaited this opportunity to show their appreciation of the high aims of this organization by giving it their moral and financial support.

Great credit is due the decorating committee for the artistic manner in which the drive headquarters at 656 Yates Street has been treated. At the ten-hour yesterday, when filled with people, it presented a most attractive appearance. The musical programme supplied by Miss Ede and Miss Morton was greatly appreciated by the visitors.

Scarcely had the doors opened yesterday when word was received that Mrs. W. C. Nichol, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor, had taken out a life membership through the Cathedral team, along with the message that

McMILLAN LOOMS UP AS BILLIARD CHAMP

Has Established Good Lead on A. P. Woodward, Canadian Title-holder

Vancouver, April 27.—Jack McMillan, champion in English billiards for British Columbia, showed further improvement last night in the 5,000-point match with A. P. Woodward, Canadian champion, and concluded the night's play with a lead of 417.

The local expert had a little the best of the luck during the evening, seldom finding the balls in a difficult position when he went to the table and usually leaving the most difficult shots for his opponent.

McMillan had breaks of 115 and 99, while Woodward's best effort was a 34. McMillan made just 31 visits to the table to amass the 625 points which formed the night's assignment.

It is important that the eyes never leave the ball before it is struck, nor should the head ever be lifted in making this shot.

UNDER THE SOUTHERN CROSS; AUSTRALIA AS IT IS TO-DAY

The Australian Bush and Bush Life
By A. C. Cummings, a Canadian Newspaperman.
SIXTH ARTICLE

The Bush dominates Australia. How shall one describe it? A whole generation of minor poets has been hard at work attempting to do it. Yet it cannot be said that any of them has caught the spirit of it even as well as Pauline Johnson or Carmen or Lampman caught the atmosphere of those Gothic glooms that are the Canadian forest, the shadows and sunlight that set its rivers agleam or the cold beauty of its snows.

Henry Kendall is the acknowledged best of the Australian nature poets—he certainly wrote some pieces full of inspiration, but one reads him and then sees the reality only to feel that he has fallen far short.

English writers like Douglas Sinden and others have given descriptions of the Bush, placing emphasis on its weirdness and its melancholy—here is a sample:

"Some can see no beauty in our trees without shade, in birds that cannot fly, in flowers that have no perfume, in beasts that cannot walk on all-fours. Yet the dweller in this wilderness, whispered to by its myriad tongues, learns the language of the barren uncouth, and can read the hieroglyphics of the haggard gum-trees blown into odd shapes, distorted with fierce hot winds or cramped in the cold nights when the Southern Cross freezes in the sky. The Bush then interprets itself to the poet of its desolation."

To an extent this description is true enough. But it is only a small part of the truth. The Bush is not always weird nor is it always melancholy. True, the white ghostly arms of the trees seem shriveled into fantastic shapes by the intense heat, and the tatters of bark hanging about their trunks in the off-season—Australian trees never shed their leaves—gives them an unkempt appearance. Ring-barking or cutting round the tree in order to kill it, thus facilitating clearing, together with the inevitable forest fires, all add to the mournfulness of the picture at times. Further, the knowledge that when you enter the bush you always risk treading on a snake, gives one certain repugnance that one never feels in the Canadian wilds amongst the bears and the porcupines.

Yet with all this the Bush is supremely beautiful—and unique. Between its strange trees the little ochreous trails lead you in Spring to the knowledge of hundreds of tiny fairy flowers, each utterly unlike anything you may see in the Northern hemisphere—flowers like the native orchids, the dillwinia, the fan-petal-daisy, the spider-flower, lady's-lace, the native fuschia, and hosts of others as delicate and apart as the shy violet of an English lane.

Amongst the eucalypts the wattle throws its golden glory on the ground after a few brief weeks of early Spring, and later in the year the waratah, like the sound of a trumpet, blows red defiance through the forest aisles. Then, when Summer heat burns up all this beauty, the bush itself becomes a wonderful symphony of those colors that one most frequently sees in Japanese prints—a symphony of ethereal blue and silver, the dim blue of forest depths shot through with incandescent sunlight and the ever varying less branches of trunks, standing out with such distinctness that they look as if etched into the very air itself.

No Australian painter—and there are many who have tried—has yet trapped upon his canvas the colors the Bush in its summer-time spreads daily before him.

Unlike the forests of British Columbia, or of Quebec, the Australian bush has little or no undergrowth. One can easily penetrate it, and though it has little animal life—the rat, the snake and the wallaby are the chief—it has a large never-resting human population drifting through it every day in the year.

"Sundowners" making their "out back" men down on their luck and "out-back wallaby," "swaggers," with their packs on their back and "billy" in their hand, seeking work and often pray for a fat man searching for lost stock—all may be met with from time to time camped beside the track.

It is a common picture, when the brilliant Southern stars are coming out in the still evening over the tree tops, to see the red-soll track through the Bush, the little wandering fire and dark silhouette of a "swagman" preparing his dinner by the boiling pot, and the "billy" for his night meal. He makes his bed on the ground, he curls up in his blanket beside his tiny stove and the tree above him, and he sleeps through the warm night in peace and security.

He may be a shilling in the world, but he has not a care either. The Bush is all before him, kindly and sheltering, and he knows he has only to appear at sundown at the nearest station or farm for food to be forthcoming for that day's needs at all events.

The hospitality of the Bush is often abused, but no matter how often, it is never lacking. Because the Bush can be grim and terrible as well as warm and sheltering, and those who know it best are readiest to help those waylaid by it.

When the waves of after-the-war unemployment submerged Australia, as it did most of the rest of the world, thousands of out-of-work men, the Bush and the back-to-back, hunting for whatever might tide them over a "bad spell." They found little, if it is true, for wool prices had "slumped" and the drought was bad-eyes; they managed to get a daily meal and they survived until Winter drove them back to Sydney, and the hospitality of the Government saved them again. On most of the big stations "out back" there is a hut for the sun-downer when he arrives at the end of his day's tramp.

Life in the interior is rough and hot. Temperatures reach 112 at times, and the artesian water as it pours from the earth is often scalding. The bush and the back-to-back are the standing menace—for weeks a sky of glass, blue and cloudless; sometimes a passing thunderstorm which serves only to fill the galvanized iron water tanks which are the most prominent feature of Australian farm-houses in the drought sections; but do not save the crops or the farmer from, perhaps, ruin.

It would be quite wrong, however, to assume that Australia is a land of drought. Not only South Wales, in spite of its heat, has large areas of wheat lands and areas suitable for mixed farming where the rainfall is always sufficient, but the irrigation schemes being built in the dry areas and these will enable the farmer to defy the worst that the heavens can do to him.

In point of fact, Australia has almost every climate there is. You can find the torrid zone in the north, where the banana and the sugar cane grow, and the Canadian snows in Tasmania, where on the hills the temperature is rarely above freezing point in Winter. It is a mere legend that the Australian has never seen snow. Many Sydney people spend their Christmases on Mount Kosciuszko, and with skiing and snowshoes, one could not tell the one were not spending it at Revelstoke, B.C.

However, the weather is all-important to the pioneer of the Australian Bush. Given only enough rainfall and he can face the isolation of his lonely life with courage, if not with pleasure. The Australian pioneer lacks neither grit nor a bornness. He makes sometimes a bare living but he is always hopeful. The spirit of the Bush seems to have entered into him, and he follows the Trail of Life, always sure that there is something better for him just a little around the next turn of it.

TIMES BOOK REVIEW

"Inter-America" is a magazine published in Spanish by Doubleday, Page and Company, of New York. It enjoys a large circulation in South America. In the March number appeared a translation of an essay, "Culture and the Modern World," originally delivered as an exchange lecture at the University of North Dakota by Professor Henry W. Wright of the University of Manitoba. This is an interesting example of the spread of ideas—a lecture is given by a Manitoba professor in a Dakota university, is printed in the quarterly journal of that institution, always sure that the Trail of Life begins to circulate widely throughout South America.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Authors' Association will be held in Toronto on April 27 and 28.

There must be some subtle connection between the ability of certain English authors to write novels that are best sellers in the United States, and the fact that their wives were Americans. In the case of the late American, the best seller here was "The Broad Highway" and whose latest is "Peregrine's Progress." Is the husband of a New York girl whom he married before he wrote his first great success, E. Phillips Oppenheim, that perennial producer of best sellers, married a Boston girl, Cosmo Hamilton, whose novels and plays enjoy equal popularity, married a girl from California. Mr. Hamilton, though he has lived on this side of the Atlantic long enough to become thoroughly Americanized, is a native of London. The fact that he and Mrs. Hamilton make their home in New York perhaps indicates a 50-50 compromise.

Breaking the traditions of centuries, the famous Passion Players of Oberammergau are going to the United States to save their beloved village from starvation. Mr. Raymond C. Schlinder, of New York, after months of negotiation, has signed a contract for the public appearance of one hundred of the principals of the Passion Play caste in New York and other cities. The play at Oberammergau, while a great artistic success last Summer, was a financial failure. Anton Lang, the wonderful actor who played the Christ, received only 21,000 marks for eleven months' rehearsing and acting. After nearly a year's toil, he was unable to buy a pair of shoes, which cost 25,000 marks in Oberammergau. It is estimated that the cost of the American tour will be about $250,000.

William Patterson White, whose new western novel, "The Wagon Wheel," has just been published, has spent the Winter on his ranch at Tularosa, New Mexico. From the front gate in the east pasture to his house is ten miles, and from the house to the back gate is five miles, which is tolerably roomy even for a devotee of the great open spaces.

SANDWICH MEN QUIT IN PARIS AS THEY WISH A REST

Paris, April 27.—One by one the picturesque sightseers of Paris are disappearing. The latest in the sandwich man, whose job is usually considered that of a lazy person, but the union of sandwich men, say the work is too hard for any lazy individual so their members have decided that they shall quit, to take a long rest.

One, however, with a little more initiative than his colleagues, has invented a new kind of board, to be carried on a long stick illuminated at night. The men who formerly hunted cigar and cigarette butts along the boulevards also are no more. Now cigar butts are left in the streets to be swept away.

Cosmo Hamilton, the novelist and playwright, whose aristocratic profile is so familiar to the readers of his diatribes against the various forms of modern jazz-mania, believes that women do not usually indulge in "mischief-making" from a sinister purpose, but as a hobby, and as a social asset." He says: "It is not, of course, called mischief-making by the women themselves. Some give it the name of 'Gossip,' others invest titles for it such as 'A Community Spirit,' or 'The Desire to Be Familiar with the Innermost Affairs of the House Next Door as an Aid to Psychological Research.' It is evident that Mr. Hamilton as a New Yorker, by adoption, has lost nothing of the caustic style which he first employed in his satirical jibes against the English nobility, while he was still a Londoner.

FIVE WORKMEN KILLED TO-DAY IN LONGVIEW, WASH.

Longview, Wash., April 26.—Five men were killed to-day when a scaffold on which they were working fell from the roof of the Hotel Monticola, under construction here.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream. (Adv.)

"FAITH" SUBJECT OF SERMON AT ARENA

3,500 Attended Faith Healing Service Last Evening

Dr. Price Addresses Second Meeting in Chinatown

Before an audience of some 3,500 people Rev. Dr. C. S. Price, evangelist, delivered his sermon on "Faith" last night, appropriate at this time because of the alleged lack of faith in many of the people who come to the stage for healing at the services. "There is not a lack of faith in Victoria as is obvious by the demonstrations of the past two weeks, but there are many who need more faith in the power of God before they can be healed," Dr. Price asserted. It was to these people that his sermon was specially dedicated.

Before delivering his address Dr. Price related a remarkable incident which took place at the Metropolitan Church yesterday afternoon. A woman, Mrs. Wright, of Sidney, had come to the city to hear Dr. Price, be prayed for, and be cured through faith. She had been confined to her wheel chair for a great number of years, due to paralysis. She was prayed for at the service and received her healing. Rising from her chair at the close of the service she walked from the building, followed by her daughter wheeling the vacant chair.

Had Suberb Faith

The driver of the Sidney stage came up to Dr. Price at the close of the service and asked if Mrs. Wright had been cured. For the moment he did not remember the case, but when her trouble was explained to him and the wheel chair mentioned he knew the woman the stage driver was asking for. "She told me to come and pick her up and take her home after the service," stated the driver. "But she told me she would not have her wheel chair with her after she had been prayed for."

"That is faith," said the evangelist, who went on to relate about a woman who asked him if she should keep up her medical attention after she had been touched by the power of God. "The most surprising incident of the evening, however, was the demonstration of a little boy who had one leg shorter than the other. He could not walk properly, but after being prayed for he received a healing. Last he testified to this effect by running up and down the building without a limp in his steps. His leg had also grown to the same length as the other."

"Faith must precede healing," said Dr. Price. "You can't feel a book until you touch it, how then can man feel Jesus Christ if he does not accept him as his Saviour. The thing to do is to take Jesus Christ in faith." "Feeling is not conversion," he continued. "The first act of a really true rejuvinated man is to accept Jesus Christ at his word and promises and accept him as his Saviour. What's true in rejuvination is also in the Baptism of the Holy Spirit," declared the speaker. "Baptism won't come until you give yourself in one hundred per cent consecration. The trouble with some of us is that when we pray for consecration we make a mental reservation of some sin that we do not wish to relinquish," Dr. Price contended. "If you want consecration you will be willing to do anything for Jesus Christ," the speaker said.

One Gateway

"The Holy Spirit will never enter any man except through the gateway of faith. The key that has been given us to unlock the gate of heaven is the key of faith," Dr. Price asserted.

The Sermon

"I feel a power within me when I am praying for the sick," said Dr. Price, "but it is not magnetism but the power of God. Many made the mistake of thinking that hope for healing or pity is faith," said the speaker in his sermon.

A Miracle

"One miracle of this campaign is the way God has sustained me through my faith," declared the speaker. "It is a spiritual problem that faces us today. Too many of us are seeking physical salvation," he continued. "Any man, woman or child who dedicates all to Jesus Christ absolutely and without reservation whatever, will receive his healing as he promises. His word is 'Yes' and 'Amen' forever and ever," the speaker concluded.

Healing

Thirty-nine were the number of persons prayed for last night, and the faith which these people had was a splendid response and demonstration as to the effect the sermon had upon them. Hardening of the arteries was one ailment which was said to have been cured, while two young ladies who came to the stage went away feeling physically better, they said. One of them had a crooked spine, and she said she knew that she had been healed.

Many other maladies were cured by the power of God, it is said.

At Chinese Theatre

Some 150 answered the altar call at the Arena, but this compared with the number at the Chinese Theatre meeting was small. Again some four hundred desired to come to Christ, and after three altar calls the evangelist preached a short but simple sermon and went on with prayer for the sick. A noticeable feature of many sick people who came to the stage was the large number of Chinese affected with consumption. The faith apparently was great at the theatre, no less than eight men being prostrate on the floor at one time. Eyesight was restored, it is asserted, and paralyzed limbs regained their power, deaf ears opened and numerous other healing including two remarkable cases of eczema. Some 800 attended the Chinese meeting. When Dr. Price entered the building he was vociferously applauded.

Testimony

A remarkable and demonstrative testimony was that given by the interpreter's wife, Mrs. Lee, who had been prayed for at the first meeting. When she was brought to the stage she collapsed in a heap when she tried to sit up. Friends had to prop her up with pillows, and following the close of the meeting she leaped to her feet and walked from the building. She had been affected with tuberculosis of the lungs for three years, leaving her in an extremely weak condition.

applause when she walked down the aisle to the stage to give her testimony. She told the audience last night that she had been completely cured. This was also applauded.

PUBLISHERS MET IN NEW YORK

Newspaper Men Rejected Proposal of Typographical Union

New York, April 27.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association adjourned yesterday afternoon after taking two important steps in connection with its labor policy and re-electing all its officers for the ensuing year.

The first labor measure adopted was a resolution refusing to negotiate with the International Typographical Union under the terms of an amendment to the union's constitution which provided that union printers and mailers employed in the same plants should negotiate jointly, that all agreements so reached should expire concurrently and that abrogation of an agreement by a strike or lockout in one department should terminate the agreement affecting the other.

This provision the publishers announced as a "sympathetic strike provision."

The other labor measure adopted was a resolution to broaden the association's support of printing trade schools. A report of the Macon, Georgia, printing school declared students had been discouraged by union printers, who waged "vicious" assaults on the plan.

The resolution provides for the establishment of regional schools in several sections of the United States and Canada, the schools to be supported primarily by newspapers in the various regions.

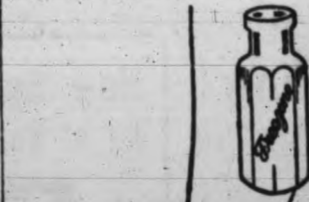

Appointment of a committee to take up the question of establishing a bureau of audit was authorized, the committee receiving power to establish such a bureau if it should be found advisable.

Committee on Radio

The following were named by President Paul Patterson of the Baltimore (Md.) Sun as a standing committee on radio, pursuant to a resolution adopted on Wednesday: Chairman, C. F. Mooney; Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal; W. A. Strong, Chicago (Ill.) Daily News; E. B. Piper, Portland (Ore.) Oregonian; Daniel Nicoll, New York Mail; Louis Hancock Newark (N. J.) Sunday Call; Elzey Roberts, St. Louis (Mo.) Star; Rowe Stewart, Philadelphia (Pa.) Record; Amos E. Carter, Fort Worth (Texas) Star-Telegram; and H. S. Scott, Detroit (Mich.) News.

An Architect's Part in Modern Construction

Contributed by the Victoria Branch of the Institute of British Columbia

What is an architect? It must be understood that many people have but a hazy idea on the subject, and if they were confronted with the question no doubt they would find the architect's part in modern construction...

No one would suggest that a doctor's interest in a case ceases once he has written out a prescription. The few words he has jotted down on a piece of paper may appear trifling in themselves, but when we consider that they represent years of study in his profession and that they may mean the difference between life and death to his patient, their significance is very apparent.

It is very similar with the architect; his sketch plans, or preliminary studies as they are called in the profession, are but a portion of his work, the commencement of his services in the building scheme on hand that only cease when he has issued the final certificate to the contractor, and the building is taken over by its owner.

Many Different Schemes. It is not infrequent for an architect to prepare several sets of preliminary studies, before the final design is decided on, which is not surprising when we consider the infinite number of arrangements that can be worked out for even small house plans.

Of the many varieties of buildings the average architect is called upon to design, none appeal to the general interest so much as the house or "home." Every year seems to show an increasing interest on the part of the public, judging by the number of Ideal Home Exhibitions that are held, to say nothing of the numerous publications devoted to the subject.

attainment of the ideal house of their dream when the time comes. To these, meanwhile, the question "does it pay to employ an architect?" should be well worth a little consideration.

To begin with, the intending house builder would do well to consult an architect before deciding on the choice of a site. This is not always done, of course, but the advice which he should be able to give as to the suitability of the site for the proposed building, the approaches, drainage and other matters would be very valuable at this stage.

Need of Wise Planning. It is not difficult to pick out houses—some even in the best residential districts—on a beautiful city—which illustrate the need of a wise choice in the selection of a site. It may be that some question of drainage has necessitated the house being built on the high portion of the site close to the south boundary, whereas it is obvious that if it stood nearer the north boundary all the best rooms could have been provided with abundance of sunshine from the southern exposure.

Let us assume that the selection of a site has been made, and proceed with the consideration of the plans of the house. In most cases the intending house-builder will give the architect instructions as to the number of rooms required, and possibly the approximate sizes. It results, not in the architect too closely to any sizes or disposition of rooms, but, having given him the essential requirements, leave the interior arrangements of the plan to him.

Other Reasons for an Architect. But if there is satisfaction in having one's house expertly designed, and given an individual character, there are also other good reasons for the employment of an architect. These should appeal to the sound business sense of every intending home-builder.

contemplated by the home builder it will, of course, be necessary to plan more spacious reception rooms than would be required for ordinary family purposes, or to arrange for the hall entrance and other rooms to be thrown together on certain occasions. These are perhaps rather obvious matters; there are many others too numerous to mention, but all requiring due consideration in the working out of the successful house plan.

Bungalow Book Plans. Any intending home-builder who may be thinking to save an architect's fees by adopting plans taken from a "bungalow book," or drawn up by a contractor, would do well to ponder before taking such a step. Take the book designs first; many of these were planned to meet quite different conditions than those prevailing in Victoria.

As to contractor's plans, no matter how good and reliable a contractor may be, it is not his business to prescribe in a case of illness. He is not specially trained in the niceties of planning proportions and details that go to make up the modern house.

Other Reasons for an Architect. But if there is satisfaction in having one's house expertly designed, and given an individual character, there are also other good reasons for the employment of an architect. These should appeal to the sound business sense of every intending home-builder.

Plenty of Sales—Not Enough Profits

Business was good, sales fairly large—but profits were not all they should be.

Such was the situation with one of the big packing houses. The executive microscope was applied and among other unfavorable things found were:

Too heavy sales of goods on which there was little or no profit and too little selling pressure on profitable lines.

Neglect of spots that were natural markets. Once the defects were visualized the remedies were applied, sales began to mount and profits became normal.

These are the days of scientific selling. It pays to push the goods that show reasonable profit, and it pays particularly to cultivate markets where sales possibilities are best.

Newspaper advertising is the easy road to all the people in all markets—and newspaper advertising and scientific selling go hand in hand.

The great increase in national advertising in the newspapers reflects the tendency of the times.

SAVE BIRTHRIGHT AND PROSPERITY, PATTULLO URGES

Business Increase Here Due to Timber Industry

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, to-day made a signed personal appeal to citizens to protect their birthright and future prosperity.

"This is 'Save the Forests' week," he said. "Every week should be 'Save the Forests' week. The experience of last Summer has, I hope, driven home to every individual in British Columbia the imperative necessity of extreme care, especially during the approaching dry season. The ounce of prevention is still the pound of cure. It is impossible for the most efficient and skilled fire forces to prevent serious losses once a fire is well under way.

"Last Summer there were men in the service who received permanent physical injury and others who actually aged through their unremitting services to save the forests, but in spite of all that can be done, in the final analysis the real result rests with the people themselves.

"British Columbia cannot afford the immediate drain in dollars and cents, nor the future drain on our timber heritage on such a scale as occurred last year.

"We are at the present moment enjoying a season of prosperity. This is due more largely to the timber industry than to any other resource. We therefore appeal to the people to protect their own birthright to the fullest possible extent."

of members of the Liquor Control Board, but after his year's experience in office he thought the situation was different and now they were getting pretty good satisfaction. He declared that the only indictment against the liquor administration was that in the hurry-hurry of organization in two months they had got some liquors in that were not of the delightful quality and flavor that some of the critics would have.

"But there was not one dollar's worth of liquor bought that was not good liquor in every sense of the word, except in the point of age," he went on.

The Pooley Criticism.

He replied to attacks that R. H. Pooley, member for Esquimalt, has been making particularly that in which he asserted that some of the liquor was so bad that he knew of one man who had got his face paralyzed drinking it.

"Mr. Pooley is talking just ordinary common piffle," Mr. Manson went on. "Any man can get his face paralyzed if he drinks enough. We carry the very finest liquor anywhere in the world and we give it at a price lower than Quebec, when you take the difference in freight rates into consideration.

As for liquor prices he said the Government looked on liquor as a luxury, and so had put a moderate luxury price on it. Some persons, he declared, would have the price lower; others would have it higher. A happy medium has been set, he asserted.

"Suppose you undressed it to rock bottom prices, would that be good for the morals of the people?" he asked.

As for the charge of dealing through agents, he explained that old-established firms such as Pither & Leiser and Rithet's had been agents for distilleries for 25 to 50 years, and it was not to be supposed that the Scottish distilleries would take away their exclusive agencies after all this time to give them to someone else.

He pointed out that James Paterson, Government purchasing agent, refused to deal with mushroom agents, but when buying had dealt with London agents, especially during the approaching dry season. The result was that the Government had been buying liquor at the lowest price of any purchasers anywhere.

He cited a case where the Government had been buying Rhodrick Dhu at $2.00 a case less than what the Hudson's Bay Co. a long established liquor buyer, had been paying for that whisky.

A Complete Report.

Mr. Manson told how when the Legislature met he said that he was going to put all his cards on the table and let the public see all the details of the business. The result was that he filed a most complete report of the liquor department, showing everything that had been done.

He declared, however, how let down when he should have arisen and back the Government's effort to have Ottawa shut off the demoralizing private importation, but instead he delivered a 45-minute speech on what he called the travesty of the liquor administration.

"I have a reputation in my own community before I got this job, but suddenly when I am in office they discover that I am most immoral and that there is scandal after scandal under me," the Attorney-General went on.

He then took up an unsigned pamphlet Mr. Pooley is issuing about the liquor administration.

"Mr. Pooley should be ashamed of this pamphlet," Mr. Manson said. "That is not worthy of a Britisher to publish that kind of stuff."

Diametrically Opposed.

Mr. Manson pointed to two items in the Pooley pamphlet referring to himself, declaring that the truth was diametrically opposite to what was in the pamphlet.

One of these charges had to do with the alleged shortage of 500 barrels of beer out of a private warehouse at Prince Rupert. Mr. Manson declared that the files show that there had not been a shortage of a single barrel, and this was proved by the records in the wholesale house at Edmonton, the records at Prince Rupert and the records at the Customs Office at Prince Rupert.

"With the possibilities we have in B. C. it is surely worth our while to devote ourselves to something bigger than what Mr. Pooley is delving in," he went on.

Another Pooley item had to do with the part an alleged bootlegger, Jack Miller, had to do with organizing the demonstration at Prince Rupert to the Attorney-General when the first went to his own town after accepting office.

"The records show that Miller was not in Prince Rupert but in Vancouver at the time and that the procession was led by the Conservative mayor of Prince Rupert, the president of the Conservative Association and practically every prominent Conservative in the City of Prince Rupert," Mr. Manson said.

Prune Juice Charges.

Taking up the Pooley prune juice charges, in which he asserted that Government blenders were mixing and selling the mixtures as first-class stuff, Mr. Manson said he had investigated and found that the Government had bought only two kegs of prune juice and these were bought in prohibition days under Col. Schlater, and the Government had still got these two kegs of prune juice.

"From the way Mr. Pooley has been talking you would think that there had been enough prune juice to demoralize the whole Province," the Attorney-General said.

Mr. Manson deprecated the animosity on the part of many persons towards politics and the faddism on the part of the public which sends them scurrying around like boys over the landscape grasping at butterflies.

"It will be of no interest politically, socially and religiously if as Liberals and Conservatives we adhere to some of the sound principles that have been handed down to us by our forefathers," he went on.

The Third Party.

"This nondescript thing, the third party, will make confusion and not make any improvement in our Government.

"How many people there are who take no part in our public life, but who are willing to believe any slanderous thing that is spoken around the corner about a public man?

"The day is past, and I say it of both parties, when a man can go into public life for the graft that he can get out of it. Of the men who are at the top in the Dominion or the Province, very few have anything to show for their public services. The majority of ministers of this Province are in the Government at a personal sacrifice, because they were urged into public office by the people of their community, and they felt that if their people thought so much of them and made that demand there was that responsibility on them for public service."

Referring again to the "nondescript thing," Mr. Manson said "this thing which has broken on us in this Province is led by a man who says that the men in public life are machine politicians and rotten grafters."

"Let me say that when any man in this Province stands up and who has had no experience, who has not been here for long, and who has not been known for the part he has taken in the public life of this Province and says that it is time for him to back it up," he went on.

"This Province is fortunate in the quality of men who sit on both sides of the House," he added, declaring it was possibly by accident that it was so as it came about by the revolt of 1916 when the people of the constituencies rose up and put forward new men, largely young men.

The Ministers' Charges.
As for personal attacks on ministers, Mr. Manson said that the people of Victoria know them as they all lived here, and they mix with them, had business and social dealings with them.

"What would you say to the man who would call them grafters, these men whom you have a chance to know and form your opinions of?" he asked.

"The answer should be an indignant slap to such a man for making such a contemptible statement.

"Take the history of the last six years of the Government in B. C., and you will find that the standard of efficiency in public affairs has been distinctly above the efficiency of the average business."

Mr. Manson said there might have been minor mistakes, but far fewer than those in any business during the same period. He declared that in public life a man's worst enemies were his friends, for the man in public life did know that friends came and press those things that should not be done.

"Don't forget when you criticize the Government that you are criticizing yourselves," he said. "You are the people who ask the Government to take the responsibility and undertake measures. The Government of B. C. has travelled too fast and listened too much to the people of the Province and taken too much on its shoulders."

URGЕ APPEALS IN NARCOTIC DRUG CASES

Montreal, April 27.—"Because while all judges are learned, some are more so than others," members of the bar are preparing to protest to members of the House regarding the proposal that the Government should take away the right of narcotic drug prisoners to appeal to the Court of King's Bench from lower court decisions.

"Unnecessary," is the advocates' opinion. They would have the Court of King's Bench hold special sessions for drug appeals once a fortnight instead of meeting once in three months as at present.

Birds of paradise, famed for their beautiful plumage, are closely related to the crows.

An Expensive Province.

Mr. Manson pointed out the immensity of the duties of the Government of B. C., with the great area of the Province, the small and scattered population and the varied resources and climate all necessitating special Governmental machinery.

"But B. C. has gone through its worst time, and from every standpoint conditions in the Province are improving," he went on.

He drew attention to the great development, in mining in the North, particularly that of the Premier and other mines around Stewart and in the Babine country and Hudson's Bay Mountain. He declared that when a few more of these mines get under way and begin yielding revenue to the Province the Government might be able to give the people reduced taxes.

He asserted that there was not a person in the audience so old but what he should not see 700,000 persons, more than the entire population of B. C. now, settled on the rich agricultural lands that stretch out from Prince George and Vanderhoof.

"Vancouver Island is in some ways a disgrace," he went on. "It is the oldest part of the Province, and is just alive with possibilities waiting for development which are still waiting."

Business improvement was showing up in such a way that this Spring and Summer will find the Province short of labor to carry on the work that was to be undertaken.

"Outside capital has got its eyes on B. C.," he added. "The Premier mine for one thing has attracted the eyes of the financial centres and of the whole world. These hard times have just prepared us for taking advantage of the possibilities, the privileges given us as citizens."

STUDENTS TO STAGE ANNUAL DISPLAY

The annual physical training and gymnastic display of the Victoria High School students will take place on Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5. This event has been anxiously awaited by all students, and judging from the sale of tickets, the school gymnasium will be crowded both nights.

A programme has been drawn up, and contains several items of extraordinary interest. Prominent among these will be the typical country dances, including the English country dance and the Scotch cotillon. The boys' gymnasium squad, well known for their capability in this line, will also provide part of the entertainment. Their exhibition includes work on the horizontal bar, horse and parallel bars. Classes have been massed to present such displays as wand drill, club and dumbbell drill, and Swedish drill. Other dances include duster dance, "Violet," solo dance, aesthetic dance and "Valse Gracieuse." As some months have been spent preparing for the display, the students are well acquainted with each of their offerings. A splendid musical accompaniment has been arranged, and several artists will assist in this capacity. Major Barnett Harvey and Miss Sylvia Mantley, the school's physical instructors, are in charge of affairs and they have worked hard to make the display an unequalled success. Tickets are still on sale at Dean & Hiscock's Drug Store, Yates and Broad Streets.

UNIVERSITY CONGREGATION.

The Assembly-Hall of the B.C. University will not seat more than the graduates and their guests as nearly two hundred students will take their degree this year. No invitations will be issued therefore to members of Convocation unless they apply by letter to the Committee of Ceremonies before May 5, and only personal invitations can be sent to each member.

A POOR EXCUSE

They met after a lapse of many years. The recognition was mutual and their greetings were cordial. "How lovely to see you again! Why, you've scarcely altered a bit." "So glad, and you, too, are hardly changed. Let's see, how long is it since we last met?" "It must ten years." "Time flies. And why have you never called to see me?" "My dear, just look at the weather we've been having!"

"I Was Run Down"

"Body was completely covered with Boils"

"If you have ever had boils, you know how painful and annoying they are. I had them all over my body. I was completely run down as any one could possibly be with a bad case of nerves. What I needed was building up. After reading descriptions of different preparations, the one which appeared to be the best for me was Carnol. It has simply performed miracles for me. Four bottles have done more than months of travel abroad. I feel like a two-year old. I sleep eight hours every night and eat three good meals a day. My skin is like a baby's, free from blemishes of any kind and I have now almost forgotten that I have ever had such things as nerves. I want everybody who is ailing to know about Carnol, because I have such faith in it. I believe it will cure any human ill!"

Mr. J. H. Mc. C. Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle of him and he will refund your money. I-622 (Adv't.)

GYRO CLUB FAVOR NEW COURT HOUSE

Gyros Out to Elect Their Candidate as Queen of Contest

The regular business gathering of the Gyro Club was held last night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 6.15. E. V. Finland occupied the chair. The meeting favored a resolution recently adopted by the Victoria Bar Association, calling for a new Courthouse in this city. Moral support to the Moose convention to be held here for three days in June was promised by the Gyros in response to a request to that effect. That 5,000 Moose members were expected, the meeting was told. By a 30-7 vote the Gyros voted in favor of a resolution of the Tourist Group of the Chamber of Commerce calling for an unconditional vote of $25,000 by the city to the Publicity Bureau. The Gyros paid a silent standing tribute to the memory of the late Gyro John S. Bartholomew, who lost his life tragically a few days ago. Harold E. Edworthy and Victor Charles Graham were elected members. Under the guidance of manager Jack Barton the Gyros will swing in to the support of Mrs. Styles Schell for the Maytime contest.

NO ELECTION YET FOR B. C., ASSERTS SPEAKER PAULINE

"There is nothing in that patronage cry," he went on. "There is only charge and there is something in it and that is that we don't look after our own people enough." The West Coast Road. As for the West Coast Road, Mr. Pauline said he thought the construction of the whole thing was beyond the power of the Government at the present, as it was a difficult piece of construction. He explained that there would first be required a trestle 500 feet long across Jordan River. Then between Jordan River and Port Renfrew there were numerous rifts to be bridged at great cost. "But we should adopt some policy whereby the Province and the Dominion should decide to spend no much money each year in pushing forward that Jordan River-Port Renfrew highway," he went on. "I am right in accord with Mr. Pooley in his advocacy of that West Coast road. It stands as a reflection against the City of Victoria that after all the years that have gone by and the millions of money that have been spent, we haven't got any farther with that West Coast road than Jordan River."

"We are approaching better times. The dark clouds that have hung over us so long are passing and the silver lining is growing brighter day by day. We have a duty in this Province to carry on, yet we believe in this great Province, believe in its future and let us show that we have faith that we can make good."

Minerals and Timber.

Mr. Pauline said that mineral production in B. C. last year amounted to $32,000,000, or $4,000,000 more than the year before. "This year we will double that increase," he went on. "We will probably run over $40,000,000." "Timber is booming. In 1916 the offshore export of lumber was $45,000,000 feet. In 1922 it was $73,000,000 feet. With the same percentage of increase this year it will be $50,000,000 feet. "Log scaling in 1916 was 1,250,000,000 feet. In 1922 it was 1,839,000,000 feet. Royalties in 1915 amounted to $251,000; in 1922 they amounted to $1,203,000. Stumpage in 1915 brought in $67,000; in 1922, $258,284. "This shows in all that period a steady and wonderful increase in timber industry of this Province. We now have logging camps opening in all directions, mills all busy and they are all full of orders. "We may hope reasonably that this prosperity will be reflected in our cities before long. If you have personal conditions on the outside they will create prosperous conditions on the inside. "The agitation for tourist traffic advertising is a good thing in its way. But it won't fill the bill entirely, with that tourist development you must have industrial development. We have not been able to keep the people here because we have not worked for them to do. We cannot attempt to solve the problem by tourists alone. It has not been done. It will not do."

Must Develop Resources.

"The Government has done as much as they can do to remedy these things, but the people themselves have got to work out these problems. We have not yet made use of the wonderful resources of iron which are on and adjacent to Vancouver Island. I have been talking iron for seven or eight years continuously. The Government is now seriously looking into the question of iron resources. The Dominion Government has taken a hand and the two governments are looking into the iron resources of the Province. Seventy-five per cent. of the iron resources of the Pacific Coast of North America are in B. C. I am hopeful that it will not be very long before a start is made in the development of the iron resources of this Province. No nation occupies rank as a first class nation until it utilizes its iron. One way we can stop that huge annual levy on us through freight rates is by making hundreds of things we use instead of importing them across the continent or from over the seas. "We are negligent of our duty if we citizens of B. C. remain apathetic much longer. That one thing that would do us on the map and prevent your young people from having to go away from home is to create the numerous industries that go with the iron and steel industry."

P. G. E. Cast. Mr. Pauline told how the P. G. E. legacy was costing the Province $3,000,000 a year to carry with something like $40,000,000 sunk in it. "The worst of all is that it doesn't pay and we can't make it pay," he went on. "Nearly $31,000,000 was spent on it before this Government took office. It is a millstone around the neck of the Province and there is the Conservative Government. The charge of extravagance in connection with it lies at the door of the

CONSERVATIVE PARTY AND WITH NO ONE ELSE

"With this annual charge for the P. G. E. we could remit a very large part of the direct taxation on the people of B. C. to-day. The revenue from income tax and personal property tax is about $3,800,000 a year. Interest, sinking fund and deficit on operation on the P. G. E. is nearly $5,000,000 a year."

FRIGHT RATES. VICTORIAN FINDS STRICK SCRUTINY OF FOREIGN VISITORS

Restrictions on the movement of civilians in the Saar, and Ruhr districts, and generally in the whole of Western Germany under French occupation is reported by Carl Zimmermann, who returned yesterday from a European trip. Mr. Zimmermann, who has long resided here, says that after visiting his native Switzerland, he went to Basle to plan a tour down the Rhine right through to the Ruhr. He ran into difficulties from Strasbourg north, both in the Saar, and Westphalia. The activities of visitors are closely scrutinized, he states, and their presence is not welcomed. At Cologne he found a very strong British sentiment, and a distinctly English atmosphere in the chief hotels. Mr. Zimmermann believes that the Swiss hotels have not yet recovered from the war effects, many of the most famous ones doing practically nothing, though this should not apply to the conditions at Zurich, where the Winter sports were in progress at the time of his visit gathering hundreds from all parts of Europe and America. Mr. Zimmermann formerly lived in Paris, and London, and so renewed acquaintances with many old friends here and on the city's prospects during his Brussels, about four hours in the air, passing over some of the cemeteries where lie the heroes of the Great War.

CARMICHAEL NEW REALTY LEADER

Real Estate Board Elects New Officers; Arrange Annual Meeting

Alfred Carmichael was elected President of the Real Estate Board of Victoria at the Board's meeting yesterday afternoon. Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Major H. Cutburt Holmes; second vice-president, J. C. Bridgman; secretary, Harold D. Patterson; and executive, C. T. Cross. Beaumont Boggs, P. R. Brown, A. R. Wolfenden, Fred Landberg, James Forman, F. G. Purser and Alderman R. H. B. Ker. Mr. Carmichael will succeed P. R. Brown. The president has been at the head of the Real Estate Board twice before and has for many years taken a keen interest in its work. Optimistic reports on conditions here and on the city's prospects during the next few months were laid before yesterday's meeting of the Board. Members declared that they were expecting a big improvement in conditions in the near future. Arrangements were made yesterday for the Board's annual meeting, May 2. A feature of this meeting will be an address on "Succession Duties With Reference to Effects on Land Titles" by H. H. Shandley, of the legal firm of Elliott, Maclean and Shandley. Egypt was the first country to have a military organization, about 1820 B. C. The first agricultural exhibition in the United States was held at Georgetown, D. C., in 1810.

HELP ASKED FOR MEMORIAL AVENUE

Trees Planted in Memory of Those Who Fell in Action Care of Chamber

Brig.-Gen. R. P. Clark will head a band of workers from the Chamber of Commerce to renew the tree planting operations on Memorial Avenue to-morrow afternoon. It is expected that there will be a large turnout of willing workers to aid in the general Spring cleaning that is planned to be effected. It is noteworthy in this connection Italy has now 500,000 trees under cultivation in Memorial Avenues throughout that land, each bearing the name of an Italian soldier who fell in the war. Trees have been symbolic of strength and manly virtue ever since the days of the Greek Olympic games when a laurel wreath was handed to the victor of the day.

WARD SEVEN CLUBS WANT CENTRAL HALL

Representatives of the various service and other organizations in Ward Seven, Saanich, will gather at the Tillicum School, at eight o'clock on Tuesday next to discuss the pooling of interests to construct a community hall that would serve the needs of all organizations in the area. It is pointed out that there are a number of organizations in Ward Seven, and very little facilities in the way of meeting places. A jointly owned hall would remedy this state of affairs, it is declared, and the meeting is planned to discuss the point.

FOR FINISHING SHINGLES THERE'S NOTHING TO EQUAL SHINGOLEEN "A Bapco Product"

The expense entailed in finishing shingles is large enough to warrant a great deal of care in the selection of a finish that will be positively satisfactory.
