HARDING ADMINISTRATION ON TRIAL IN NEW MEXICO

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The re-assembling of the sixty-seventh Congress tomorrow to deal with the trying problems of taxation and tariff reform finds the political leaders of both parties with their attention riveted on the State of New Mexico, where the Harding administration comes to trial before the voters for the first time since the Republican landslide of last November.

New Mexico is electing a United States Senator today at a special election called by Governor Meechem. The present incumbent is Holm O. Bursum, Republican, who was appointed to take the seat of Albert B. Fall upon the latter's resignation when he entered President Harding's cabinet.

Political leaders in Washington attach an importance to to-day's election in New Mexico which at first seems wholly out of keeping with the event. The loss of one seat in the United States Senate would neither the Republican working majority there not one whit. Even should the Democrats win to-day's New Mexican election the Republicans still would have a majority in the Senate of twenty-one—entirely sufficient for all Administration purposes.

Administration Assailed
But of far more importance than the mere seat is the prestige at stake, and to save this prestige the Republicans are making strenuous efforts to have Senator Bursum returned. The Democrats are making even more strenuous efforts to unseat him.

Both sides have sent speakers of note into New Mexico to do battle, and the State has resounded to the partisan cries of orators.

The issue is clean-cut, and it was accepted by both sides with satisfaction. Senator Bursum is making his race for re-election on the record of the Harding Administration in the first six months in office, and the policies which it has announced it will pursue.

The Democrats have gleefully accepted this challenge. Richard H. Hanna, the Democratic candidate, has attacked the Harding Administration all along the line, has paid particular attention to taxation, tariff and the soldiers' bonus. He has accused the Administration of dilly-dallying with taxation and tariff while the country marches to economic ruin, and he has charged downright evasion and lack of faith with regard to the soldier bonus.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders in Washington say privately that today's election in New Mexico is fraught with consequences far out of proportion to the seat itself.

Shadows of Events
The Administration issue having been raised, the voters are for the first time to have a chance to register their approval or disapproval of the events since President Harding came into power March 4 last. Political diagnosticians will endeavor to look at the 1922 Congressional elections by the light of what happens in New Mexico to-day.

Today's election also signifies the return to life of the Democratic organization under the chairmanship of George White. The National organization has been in a state of more or less chaos and confusion since the overwhelming defeat of last November and only bestirred itself to make this fight in New Mexico.

The Democrats will regard a victory to-day as an augury of what will happen next year in the Congressional elections, when an entire new House and one-third of the Senate comes up for re-election. The Democrats will regard a defeat philosophically.

The Republicans will regard a victory as indicating that the electorate generally approves of the Harding Administration thus far. They will regard a defeat as a distinct calamity.

The situation is complicated to some extent by the candidacy of Apollonia Sena, a Mexican, running as an independent Republican candidate against Bursum, the organization candidate. Hanna, the regular Democratic candidate, is considered exceptionally strong. He was a candidate for Governor last year and lost the State by only 3,000 votes, whereas Harding carried the State by 11,000.

OPTIMISM PERVADES SINN FEIN RANKS

(By International News Service)
DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—A more optimistic feeling over the Irish peace situation prevailed here today when the Sinn Fein cabinet met to canvass the latest developments.

Fears had been prevalent that Eamonn de Valera might break off negotiations, and Sinn Fein leaders expressed satisfaction over the tone adopted in the Irish note of Monday evening.

Most of the Sinn Feiners had no fault to find with de Valera's declaration that he sought no conditions or guarantees prior to the proposed peace parley. The Republicans say that de Valera put Ireland's case plainly up to Premier Lloyd George.

It was pointed out, however, that it was Premier Lloyd George insists upon conditions before the parley, the Irish side can make no further approaches for a meeting.

In some quarters, Premier Lloyd George's telegram of Sunday night was interpreted as a threat of war unless the Sinn Fein complied with the demand for withdrawal of all allusions to an Irish republic before the conference.

GEORGE HAS REPLIED TO LAST IRISH NOTE

(By International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Premier Lloyd George has replied to Eamonn de Valera's note of last night, it was announced officially this afternoon.

PLAN OPPOSITION TO OPEN SESSIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Opposition to congress making a move to force open sessions of the approaching conference of the limitation of armament and far eastern questions, was expressed today by Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Alabama, democratic minority leader of the senate, following a conference he had with President Harding at the White House.

POWER OF THE PRESS

(By International News Service)
TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Sept. 20.—William Jennings Bryan has felt the "power of the press." The Commoner, while on a chautauqua tour, spoke at Hillsboro, Ill. The Montgomery News, in reviewing his speech, rose up to remark that the corpulent ex-Cabinet member was a man with "slovenly sartorial habits" and went on to point out that Bryan's trousers were "baggy at the knees," as if they hadn't been pressed since he left home. When Bryan reached here he read a reprint from the Montgomery News in a local paper. At a haberdashery he explicitly specified to the clerk that his new suit must not cost more than $20.

COUNCIL ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF HARTLEY SHAW

At an extra meeting of the city council held last night in the city hall the resignation of City Attorney Hartley Shaw, to take effect October 1, was accepted. Mr. Shaw's resignation was accepted by a three to two vote. Mayor Robinson and Councilman Stephenson voted against accepting the resignation. No action was taken toward naming the successor to Mr. Shaw.

It is the general opinion that this matter will come before the council at their regular meeting, Thursday night, and an appointment will be made.

The matter of the purchase of the Verdugo Canyon water system by the city of Glendale was also discussed. Directors of the water system were present and gave their side of the question. The councilmen informally expressed their opinions as unfavorable to the purchase.

A contract for the laying of the sewer in the Verdugo Canyon district was signed by the council with Peter S. Tomich.

Banks, Huntley & Company's bid for the bonds in municipal improvement district No. 3, known as the Verdugo Canyon section was accepted. This company offers to pay par and accrued interest on these bonds. The bond issue is for $50,000 to be issued in bonds of $1,000 denominations bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent payable semiannually.

AMERICAN ENTRANTS IN BALLOON RACE

(By International News Service)
BRUSSELS, Sept. 20.—With 11 of the balloons that started Sunday in the James Gordon Bennett cup race accounted for, two American entries were still missing at noon today. They were the Belgica II, lent by Lieut. De Muyster of Belgium, to Ralph Upson, and the City of St. Louis, piloted by Bernard von Hoffman.

Fears were expressed that the two missing balloons may have been carried out over the Atlantic. It is possible, however, that they may have come down in some isolated part of Ireland.

AMERICAN BALLOON DESCENDS IN SEA

(By International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 20.—Bernard von Hoffman and J. S. McKibben, both of this city, contestants in the James Gordon Bennett cup race, are safe at Heysham harbor, Ireland, their balloon landing in the sea 15 miles east of Dublin, according to a cablegram received today by Albert von Hoffman, relative of the former.

Fighting in Majiri River District Indicates Disorders Are Now Breaking Out 175 Miles East of Bombay—British Regulars Ambushed—Ten Rebels Killed

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Ten Indian rebels were killed when a force of 70 ambushed three platoons of British troops in the Manjiri river district, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay today. The report of fighting in the Manjiri river region indicates that the Indian disorders have spread far northward of their original seat. The trouble began in the Malbar district when Moplap natives went on the warpath, evidently with revolutionary intentions. The Manjiri river flows through Hyderabad province and lies about 175 miles east of Bombay.

Notwithstanding the large number of activities that are demanding the attention of the workers in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce drive for new members, which has been going on for the past four weeks, quite a number of applications for membership are being received daily. Throughout the past week the chairmen of the different committees have been circulating among their committeemen with the result that the number of applications received is indeed encouraging to those in charge of the drive.

Commenting on the number of members that were turned in up to noon today Assistant Secretary Sanders said this morning:
"We certainly are very much encouraged with the way the workers of this drive are bringing in the applications for membership. Some of them are working night and day in their efforts.

"The results that have been secured are not as encouraging as they would have been had there been fewer outside things to demand the attention and service of the workers, but this fact only emphasizes more clearly the excellent work that has been accomplished.

"Practically all of the outside attractions will be out of the way by the end of this week, so that we intend to make next week a banner one for this membership drive. The workers are keeping next week exclusively for the work of the drive, so that the final week of the campaign promises to be the grandest membership getting week that the Chamber of Commerce of Glendale has ever known. In the meantime the workers are not idle—they are bringing in new members every day, and each day they are securing many new prospects."

In the race for memberships that has been going on between S. L. Roland, general manager of the Southern California Metropolitan Loan Association, and Mrs. C. A. Pollock, is still a neck and neck affair. The score at the present time stands, Roland 8, Pollock 6. These are the leaders in the securing of applications for membership.

Elaborate plans are being laid for the banquet that will be given at the close of the drive in Mason's hall on the evening of September 30, at which time the drive closes. Those who will be entitled to attend this affair will be the members of the various working committees, all of the new members taken in since the big rally which was held in the tent a couple of weeks ago, and all of the other members of the chamber who have secured a new member since the drive started. The ladies of the First Methodist Church of Glendale will serve the banquet on this occasion.

Union Leader Reports 4000 to 8000 Workers Are Employed—Says Strike Is Directed Against General, Union and Associated Oil Companies Only

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—At least 4000 of the 8000 strikers in the Kern county oil fields of California have returned to work, Walter Yarrow, adviser of the oil men's union, announced here today. He said the union had placed competent men in charge of wells in water leakage districts in order to prevent heavy losses while the strike is in progress.

The men idle now, he stated, are principally employees of the General, Union and Associated Oil Companies. He declared that the formation of the law and order committees, which the producers have termed "insurrection," was essentially to protect company property and maintain good order.

1052 IS THE TOTAL REGISTRATION OF HIGH SCHOOL

News students to the number of 26 registered at Glendale High yesterday. These, in addition to those previously recorded, brought the enrollment to 1052, or about 250 more than last year when the opening registration was 801. It equals, in fact, the total enrollment last year after the entrance of mid-year registrants.

The first assembly of the year was held yesterday and was attended by only the B9 students. Because of the heavy enrollment and limited capacity of the auditorium, the student body this year will have to be divided into three groups, which will mean the repetition of programs, possibly three times.

In reviewing the activities of the school, Principal George U. Moyses made announcements and comments on the activities of the week, as follows:

"Leslie Henry of Pasadena, who is a live wire, a splendid speaker and heartily in sympathy with boys, will be the speaker at the first boys' assembly, which has been called for tomorrow at the third period, or 10 a. m.

"The second teachers' meeting of the year was held yesterday and was an exhibition of wonderful enthusiasm and cooperation. Our 54 instructors realize that under the congested conditions the class program is a big and difficult problem, and they have shown they are big enough to sacrifice personal ambitions for the best interests of the school and give up the work they prefer, if need be, to do something else demanded by the situation.

"While the B9 students were meeting yesterday, the seniors, or twelfth-year pupils, were given opportunity for a class meeting, which resulted in elections as follows: Don Cameron, president; Maynard Toll, vice-president; Elizabeth Sternberg, secretary, and Victor Colburn, treasurer.

"Periods of gymnasium work and music have been so arranged that all the pupils in the school will have at least one short chorus period week under Earl Meeker. Some will have two periods. This is in addition to the regular class schedule."

BOY ON HORSE TOURING

(By International News Service)
GENEVA, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Andrew J. Abell, Jr., eighteen-year-old high school graduate, of San Francisco, recently rode into this city astride a horse and accompanied by his dog, Grit. To obtain a complete education Abell is attempting the feat of visiting every State capital in the United States within a year. His only conveyance must be a horse. He left San Francisco on March 1. Abell says a western philanthropist made him the proposition, which he is now well on his way to achieve. If he succeeds he can choose any college or university in the world in which to polish off the rudiments gained in the lower grades of learning. The philanthropist, Abell said, would pay the bills. Abell left here destined for New England capital cities.

SHERIFF STARTS AN INVESTIGATION

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 20.—Sheriff D. Boone Newell today was investigating a report made, to him last night by George M. Wilkins, a local realtor, that his automobile had been fired upon by strikers who patrolled a road in the McKittrick district.

Wilkins said he was en route to Bakersfield by way of McKittrick from a vacation trip to the sea coast. In his car was Mrs. Wilkins and their young son. When the car approached the oil fields at Templer, Wilkins said he was commanded to stop. He declared that as he was going at a fair rate of speed he was unable to slow his car down quickly, but was brought to a dead stop when a bullet pierced one of the tires on a front wheel.

According to Wilkins' declaration a second bullet crashed into the body of the car, and an instant later a volley of shots came from the hillside nearby, and he was surrounded by men wearing badges of the "Law and Order Committee" of the oil workers' union. Wilkins asserted the men represented themselves as prohibition agents "after they had seen a mistake had been made in stopping me."

STRIKERS CONTROL ROADS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Serious trouble would follow an attempt to send either guards or state troops into the Kern county oil fields, according to a party of Sacramento business men who have returned here from an inspection of properties. The party, including H. V. Roy, W. M. Hoskings, Fred Harms, D. M. Mack and F. C. Grim were held up and questioned as to their business.

These men quoted strikers as declaring that they would fight against any military forces being sent in and said that the strikers appeared to be well armed.

CALL FOR PIE FROM SAN FERNANDO FAIR

The sales table concession of the Tuesday Afternoon Club at the San Fernando Valley fair is proving a great success with a great demand for everything it has to supply. The big call is for pie, and so the members of the literary section and the Shakespeare section who are backing the enterprise are sending out an S.O.S. for pie, any kind of pie.

The cry has been passed on and every member of the club is being solicited for home-cooked food, but especially for pie.

MANUFACTURE BOOZE BELTS

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Recent arrests of bootleggers have brought to light the fact that one concern is manufacturing a special kind of leather belt for the carrying of six flasks of moonshine liquor. The receptacles for the flasks are so formed that no difference in the bulk of a person's body can be detected, when a suspect is "frisked" by officers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Carl E. Pabb, an American citizen and employee of the Mexican gulf oil company was shot and killed by Mexican soldiers in the Southern Oil Fields near Tampico last Sunday night.

GRIDIRON TOCSIN SOUNDS FOR BIG TEN PRACTICE

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—On campus gridirons in a score of Middle-West colleges the thud of the cleated toe against the inflated pigskin is being heard these bright September afternoons and the raucous exhortations of hustling and harassed coaches resound across the football field. Practice for what is expected to be the most successful season in the history of intercollegiate football in the Middle West has been under way for five days and most of the leading teams are beginning to take on a semblance of the order and precision that comes with continued drill.

Northwestern University will be the first to pry the lid off the season with a game against Beloit at Evanston next Saturday. The real opening of the season, however, will not take place until October 1, when practically all of the leading teams of this section will go into action against formidable rivals.

Under a rule which prevails in the "Big Ten" or Western Intercollegiate conference teams are not permitted to assemble for practice earlier than September 15. Accordingly but little opportunity has been had so far to judge the merits of the respective teams. Large squads have reported to all the coaches, however, and most of the mentors are bossing squads well balanced with veterans.

Chicago to Meet Princeton
Although all of the coaches are pointing their squads with the idea of a "Big Ten" championship in view, several Middle Western teams are training this fall for important inter-sectional clashes. Indiana will break the ice when it journeys to Cambridge on October 8 to joust with Harvard's doughty warriors. A week later Coach Stagg's Chicago Maroons will invade the Eastern field for the first time in years to play the Princeton Tigers. On October 29 the Maroons will meet foemen from the West, when the Colorado Aggies come to Stagg Field.

Chicago has seven games on its schedule, five of which are at home. The foray to Princeton and the annual clash with Illinois at Urbana are the only foreign battles the Stagmen will wage.

Ohio State, the 1920 conference champions, will play four games of great importance. Their first test will come on October 15, when they meet Minnesota at Columbus, and the Buckeyes must defeat Michigan, Chicago and Illinois to retain their championship laurels.

Illinois faces one of the hardest schedules in years, with five "Big Ten" games on its slate. Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio State and Chicago are teams which the Orange and Blue will meet.

Chicago Strengthens Line
Eight letter men of Ohio's 1920 champions are missing from the lineup, but despite this Coach Wilce is expected to put an exceedingly formidable eleven in the field. One of his big problems will be the development of a quarterback to replace "Hoge" Workman, the forward passing star of last year, who has been declared ineligible. The loss of "Pete" Stinchcomb, the All-American halfback, likewise is a blow to Wilce's forces. Except for "Butch" Pixley, the huge guard, and Captain "Hy" Myers, the flashy end, the Buckeye line will have to be virtually revamped.

With a number of veterans back, including "Chuck" Carney, All-American end, Coach Bob Zuppke, of Illinois, is expected to turn out a team of championship calibre. The Illinois outfit will have speed and weight and should be in the running for the title throughout the season.

Chicago's hopes this year, after 1920's rather disastrous season, are brighter, although the Maroons are claiming no championship. Twelve letter men are back, and they form a powerful nucleus for a formidable eleven. The eleven will be captained by "Chuck" McGuire, one of the best tackles in the Middle West, and will have a fast and well balanced backfield, with a powerful line.

Notre Dame a Factor

Lack of experienced line-men will be one of the chief problems faced by Coach Richardson at Wisconsin. The loss of Ralph Scott, All-Western tackle; "Red" Weston, last year's star end, and Howard Stark, a capable guard or tackle, weakens Richardson's front-line defenses. Several promising candidates are practicing with the squad, however, and the Badgers are expected to give all opponents a battle.

"Hurry-Up" Yost, at Michigan, is out to retrieve some of the prestige his teams have lost by defeats in recent years, and his prospects are the brightest they have been for many autumns. Forty-four able-bodied athletes are chasing the pigskin under the tutelage of the veteran mentor, and ten of them are letter men.

Little news has filtered in from the camps of Minnesota, Iowa, Purdue, Northwestern or Indiana, but the squads at all of these points are hard at work, and capable teams are prospected.

Indiana, which was one of the best teams in the conference last year, is expected to be a factor in the championship race this year, while Minnesota, with Arnold Oss and other stars in its line-up and the astute Dr. Williams for coach, is certain to be formidable.

Although not a conference team, Notre Dame is always a factor in Middle Western football. The Catholics will have a veteran team this year, despite the death of the great George Gipp, All-American halfback, whose passing was mourned by thousands of football fans. Coach Knute Rockne's chief problem will be the development of a quarterback to replace Brandy, the star of last year's eleven. Notre Dame's schedule calls for important games with Iowa, Nebraska, Indiana, the Army and Rutgers, as well as several minor games.

HARVARD FOOTBALL SQUAD TOTALS 100

(By International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 20.—The Harvard football squad which reported recently has been increased to the one hundred mark, and Head Coach Bob Fisher and his large corps of assistants are hard at work preparing the candidates for the opening of the season. The men, particularly the heavyweights, have found the warm weather prevailing little to their liking. Friske Brown, the hammer-throwing guard, dropped from 207 to an even 200 after a couple of sessions, and many others lost their bit of bulk.

George Owen, the crack halfback, was the only regular missing when the team came out for its initial workout. Owen turned his ankle while playing ball, but he pronounces that member in better shape than ever now. This lad, who has already played on football hockey and baseball teams which defeated Yale, and with the exception of football, beaten Princeton, should have a fine year. He is a natural athlete and bound to attract attention this fall. Owen is expected here this week.

Charley Tierney, substitute centre, will be around until the middle of next week, but Jowett Johnson, the third-string quarterback, is expected shortly. This will complete the number of letter men, who are expected back in college.

Jim Tolbert has still to change his mind about remaining in college and coming out for football. He is due soon from his home in Oklahoma. Tolbert is more likely to coach than play.

FOOTBALL TEAM HAS PRACTICE SCRIMMAGE

The first scrimmage of the football year on the Glendale high school campus took place yesterday afternoon. This was more in the way of an experiment than anything else. As near as possible the men who will represent the first team of the high school this year were played on one side, but as there are only three of last year's team, who will play this season, yesterday's scrimmage was held simply to get a "line" on the ability of the players.

The Glendale high football team will according to present plans, begin work in earnest soon. While no dates of future games can be announced, it is understood that the boys will engage in several real combats soon.

CANNON SHOT DISCOVERY

(By International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 20.—It took a battery of guns to find out that an archeological treasure was concealed in a church at Lower Halstow, Kent.

The Medway Batteries indulged in practice the other day. The concussions cracked the cement in the church, and a workman was called in to repair it. He found traces of metal under the old cement and, with visions of buried treasure, removed the rest of the cement.

What was disclosed was a beautiful twelfth-century font, evidently of Continental workmanship. The bowl was enriched with figures of a king, with crown and sceptre, and of angels with outstretched wings.

Archeologists are studying over the find, which will probably reach an ultimate resting place in the British Museum.

ELKS' LODGE HOLDS BUSINESS SESSION

No special features for the week were announced except the regular monthly dance next Saturday night, which will be informal and for members and their friends.

READING CIRCLE MEETS

At the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle which will take place as usual at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the public library on Harvard street, the reading of a new book by William Holley Smith, entitled "All the Children of All the People," will be started. Mrs. A. A. Barton, chairman, will preside and the session will be open to any woman interested in child welfare and child culture.

Ladies whose names begin with letters in the first half of the alphabet will be expected to respond to roll call with quotations.

MEXICAN MASONIC LODGE MERGER IS CONSIDERED

By LOUIS P. KIRBY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—Leading Masons in Mexico, say that the conference here between Mexican and American members of the order has resulted in an understanding through which the gulf between Masonry in the two countries will soon be bridged.

The difficulties began ten years ago and grew out of the confusion brought about by the revolutions. The tangle brought forward many complicated questions of jurisdiction, as the Masons in Mexico had become divided into two groups, one supporting the York Grand Lodge and the other the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico. In the York jurisdiction were chiefly Americans who had been puzzled as to where to cast anchor during Mexico's days of unrest. In the Valley of Mexico jurisdiction were chiefly Mexicans, who held that under the laws of Masonry grand jurisdiction in each country should be national and free from encroachment.

This contention has received the support of influential Americans in Mexico and, it is said, will receive the endorsement of the commission of American Masons in a report which will be made on its return to the United States.

Plan Merger of Lodges

If the plan is carried out as reported, the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico will be recognized by the Masonic Order in the United States, and the York lodges will accept this decision. This will mean the merging of the York Grand Lodge with the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico, and the complete union of Masonry in this country, all lodges being under Mexican jurisdiction.

A solution of present riddles will relieve Masons in Mexico of many embarrassments when they visit the United States. In the past prominent Masons would be received by their brethren in some States and not in others. As an example, Masons in Indiana would welcome as brethren York lodge visitors, while the situation in Mexico, Masons say, was exactly reversed.

Masons in Texas refused to recognize either York or the Valley of Mexico lodges, and a few other States took a similar stand, but numerous States recognized one or the other branches of Masonry in Mexico, creating a situation that was bewildering at times.

Favorable to Mexico Lodge

Steps to have a commission of Masons come from the United States were first taken by Mexico City Lodge No. 35, of the Valley of Mexico branch of the order. This lodge was formed by Americans who had reached the conclusion that the laws of Masonry required that the Grand Lodge of a country should be a national organization, with full national jurisdiction.

The coming of the commission was also welcomed by prominent members of the York branch.

In the commission sent to study conditions in Masonry here are Grand Master Andrew L. Randall, of Texas, Past Grand Master Albert Adams, of California, and Past Grand Masters A. A. Ross, Sam P. Cochran and W. M. Fly, of Texas. With the party were Grand Master Bain, of Louisiana; R. W. Humphreys, of the Texas Grand Lodge, and other noted members of the order.

The commission began its work immediately after arriving here. Representatives of the York Grand Lodge and the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico were heard, and a careful effort was made to ascertain the causes of the conditions which brought about division in Masonry in Mexico.

No announcement has been made by members of the commission as to the conclusions reached, but it is said that they have left the conviction here that they will report in favor of uniting the Masons in Mexico under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the Valley of Mexico.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about six ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which relieves bladder trouble.

Purpose Is Excellent but Only Action Makes Realization

All around you is evidence of determination—homes that are owned by the families who occupy them—friends of yours who are, and in the past have been, in no better condition financially than you, still by careful planning—and possibly sacrificing some of the minor pleasures, have acquired homes which now represent not only a sound investment, but they have eliminated the landlord and enjoy all the pleasures that home ownership affords, and in days to come if adversities present themselves they will be happy in the knowledge that they have a permanent place in which to reside. We would indeed be glad to co-operate with you, and feel if you become determined to own your own home that our photographic plan service will advise you just what to build for the money you feel justified in expending.

APPRECIATION

Glendale, Calif., Sept. 19, 1921

Editor Glendale Daily Press,
 Glendale, Calif.

Dear Sir—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Glendale, representing one hundred and fifty women, who are vitally interested in providing clean, wholesome reading for our homes and our youth, wish to commend you for the splendid editorial, "Decency," which appeared in your worthy paper of Monday, September 12. We appreciate this attitude you have taken. It rings true. We hope it may set the pace for other journals.

Very truly,

MRS. C. W. BACON,

Corresponding Secretary for W. C. T. U.

900 South Glendale avenue.

Real Estate Review

The contemplated construction of several new business blocks in the heart of Glendale's business section, plans being made at present for the erection of a $500,000 hotel at Broadway and Glendale avenue, followed by the announcement that the Concrete Hollow Tile Building Company has purchased two acres of land on the San Fernando road, and will erect a building and start installing machinery at once for the manufacture of the new process hollow tile are indicative that the city of Glendale has a future as a town of good business.

Already the downtown business section of the city is so crowded that there is insufficient room for the business houses and offices already in the city. Other businesses would establish in Glendale if there were sufficient accommodations for them. When the word is spread that a new building is contemplated in the city there is a rush to reserve office and store room. In most cases all available space in the building has been leased before the work of construction is started.

The Concrete Hollow Building Tile Company has chosen Glendale as the site for their factory after having spent several months looking over the cities of Southern California for a suitable location. Glendale, offering as it does, ideal climate, enabling any industry to function throughout the year, and unsurpassed shipping facilities was considered by the heads of the company as the only logical site to erect a factory.

All that is needed in Glendale to make it an ideal city and adequately care for the people already employed in this city and living in other cities is homes, more homes. There are hundreds of people who are anxious to make their home in Glendale but are unable to do so because of the woeful shortage of houses or even apartments. A few more houses and Glendale will have no difficulty in attaining the goal of 50,000 population in a very few years.

Gathered About Town

By O. L. KILBORN

Glendale's main water course, Verdugo wash, looks very peaceful most all the time, with its channel of dry sand, but it can be mighty dangerous after a series of heavy rains, as in February, 1914. It is a peculiar stream, if it may be called that, for a part of its length its channel lies higher than the land on either side of it. When, in 1914, its waters burst through the south bank at Howard street, they flowed, a raging torrent, down that street to Lexington drive (then First street), then west to Maryland and diagonally across to Wilson avenue (then Third street) and Brand. The Pacific Electric tracks then occupied a hump from two to three feet high all along the city from the south to the north city limits, and this kept the waters from flowing west, so they swept down Brand, inundating stores on the east side and causing considerable damage. Had the flood broken through on the north side it would have swept over a large section between Brand and the east city limits. West of Arden the south bank crumbled away until the center of the street was reached.

One large house facing south on that street went down into the flood and was quickly torn to pieces, while two others were so undermined that they tipped backward to a dangerous angle.

The waters fell, however, before further damage was done. At that time the Pacific Electric Burbank line followed the bed of the wash for two or three hundred feet just west of Brand, on a low trestle. This was broken up and made impassable.

Such overflows as this one never occurred before in Glendale and none since. It is not likely that any could happen now, as the channel has been dug much deeper by sand haulers, and walls of brush have been built up on both sides.

For three or four years after the flood, Arden avenue property would not bring any kind of a price, but that is all over now, as not the slightest fear is felt that any flood damage will ever be experienced again.

The newsboys at the corner of Brand and Broadway have a language all their own. Each yell is generally one long drawn out word. Listen to them some morning or afternoon.

U. S. HAS BIG NAVY THAT NEVER SAW SALT WATER

By T. N. SANDIFER,
 International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Uncle Sam; despite the huge battleships slipping off the ways and joining other huge ships making up the second largest navy afloat, is a "little navy man." In this respect he probably owns one of the best "little navies" in the world, literally speaking.

This navy is little, in all senses of the word, yet is a model navy, too. In fact, it is made up of model ships—models of perfection of detail and models of the largest ships that make up the real United States Navy.

It is not generally known, except to Washington tourists perhaps, that for generations back every ship in the American navy was represented by a small-scale counterpart, beautifully made. These small models have accumulated and today form an interesting study in the development of shipping, not only from a naval viewpoint but from the angle of the student of marine architecture. In fact, so valuable are these models as concrete illustrations of the advance in the science of shipbuilding that they are often requisitioned by cities far away for temporary use as group studies in that subject. Just at present a number of the models are scattered in representative groups about the public building of Washington as historical exhibits.

Cost Runs High Apiece
 The miniature navy is well represented in the Navy Department buildings, where the models are a never-ending source of interest to all visitors.

These models are in some respects much more than small replicas. Many of them are as large as a good-sized rowboat and cost several thousand dollars to construct. They are now made at the Washington Navy Yard, and the later models now under construction, which are exact reproductions of the latest type of battleship being built for the Navy, will require months to complete. They are scaled to proportion and complete to the smallest screw.

Necessary To Progress
 There is a very practical reason for this phase of naval construction. These models often serve as valuable guides to naval designers, who can get much more out of a brief examination of a scaled model than they could out of a mass of figures and drawings, which constitute the average ship's plans. In fact, before every big ship is built a wooden hull, scaled on the proportions of the contemplated vessel, is first made and tried out in the model basin of the Navy Yard here.

From this preliminary trial it is possible to determine approximately the merits of objections to the design and calculate in advance what the new ship will do when completed. In the designing room of the department itself is kept detailed models of the standard types of capital and special ships of the world, from which the designers can get ideas and concrete illustrations of the plans.

Of the completed models now on hand the Navy has replicas, varying from a foot or two to twelve feet and more, of every type of war vessel from the old-time frigate Vermont, a square-edged, 110-gun ship of 1812, to the latest airplane carrier. In between are battleships of the Maine type; destroyers from first to latest design; sub-chasers, all classes submarines, gunboats and special service ships. All in all they constitute a highly valuable "little navy."

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB

Members of the Glendale Junior Music Club assembled in the high school auditorium last night for an orchestra rehearsal from 7 to 8 o'clock and a chorus rehearsal from 8 to 9.

Although the enrollment for orchestra and chorus totals 30 to 40, not more than one-third were present for rehearsal, and the chorus leader, Mrs. Charles A. Parker, was rather disheartened at the apparent lack of interest. She says there is splendid material in the club, which has a lot of fresh, fine, young voices and which can accomplish great things if the members will come out and work.

COLUMBUS AVENUE P-T. A. MEETING

Members of the board of directors of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teachers' Association met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, president of the P-T.A. Federation, for the purpose of naming chairmen of committees and discussing plans for the coming year.

Officers of the association and committee chairmen as named, are: Mrs. C. H. Thompson, president; Mrs. G. O. Piercey, vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Torrey, secretary; Mrs. J. H. Seales, treasurer; chairman of membership, Mrs. Henry Miller; auditor, Mrs. L. C. Mead; historian, Miss Elsie Church; visiting chairman, Mrs. E. Johnson; publicity chairman, Mrs. E. L. Young; playgrounds, Miss Berua Berry; kindergarten, Miss Ina Johnston; parliamentarian, Mrs. H. V. Henry; program chairman, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton.

Following the business session, tea and cake were served by the hostess.

Announcement was made that the regular meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teachers' Association will take place Thursday at 3:15 in the kindergarten room of the school. Mrs. John Robert White will give the address of welcome, Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, will talk on the coming bond election for school purposes, Mrs. Pendleton will give piano numbers and following a short business session there will be a social hour when tea and cake will be served.

STOLEN BONDS REDEEMED

(By International News Service)

HERKIMER, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Liberty bonds stolen in a mail robbery here last January, have turned up for redemption in Washington. They aggregate $1,500. The robbery totalled more than $25,000. Three young Herkimer boys stole mail sacks from a truck in the railway station here. Discovered and arrested, the young bandits stated that some of the bonds had been thrown into the creek; other bonds were concealed in a lumber yard. From the creek a few bonds were recovered. It is believed the boys were seen concealing the bonds by someone, who, to "cash in," forwarded the bonds to Washington.

The secretary of the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association has announced that lumber production in Vancouver, B. C., for the mountain mills for the first six months of 1921 was approximately 100,000,000 feet.

21 Y. M. C. A. GROUPS ORGANIZED HERE

At the annual meeting of the Glendale District Y. M. C. A., which took place last night in the Glendale headquarters on East Broadway, Secretary Rex Kelley submitted his report of the work he has directed during the past year, which was received with appreciation and approval.

David Black, chairman of the local committee presided, and other committee members present were: C. W. Ingledue, W. B. Kirk, J. K. Gilkerson, T. A. Wright, Ed M. Lee, Arthur C. Brown, Floyd Mercer, W. D. Root, and J. S. Thompson.

Mr. Kelley expressed to the committee his appreciation of its help and support. He announced his policy for the coming year and predicted great enlargement of the work, which is now thoroughly organized and is far ahead of its schedule of last year at this time.

The meeting was also addressed by A. C. Griffith, of Azusa, chairman of the county organization. He stated that Los Angeles is the banner county of the United States in Y. M. C. A. work from the viewpoint of activities put across in its combined districts. He attributes this commanding position to the fact that it alone has departed from the county unit system and divided its territory into districts. He declared that the heart of the county work is the organized group or club.

Mr. Kelley's report showed that 21 of these groups have been organized in the Glendale district since September 1, 1920, and of these one group was composed of foreign boys. In the four-fold group system 239 boys have been participants. The program for the year had included a "mother and daughter" banquet with an attendance of seventy, nine lectures on physical fitness and hygiene attended by 1600 boys and 430 girls, talks by 55 business and professional men, 15 educational trips to industries and manufacturing plants, track meets in which 350 participated, week-end trips and mountain hikes in which a like number took part, a summer camp attended by 83 boys, and many other interesting items demonstrating that the organization is doing things and getting hold of the boys and incidentally the girls of Glendale.

Mr. Griffith also made a report of the county work as a whole along similar lines which showed that the outlook is very promising.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Try a box of Florient Talcum, made by Colgate & Co. It will satisfy you.

Every Home Should Have a supply of our sick room accessories. There is no telling at what hour, day or night, they may be urgently needed. Our sick room supplies are selected with especial care as to their quality and efficiency. They are strictly dependable and are sold at prices which are in marked contrast with those usually charged.

According to Mr. Martin he will have a temporary residence built on the property at once and as soon as that is completed will have plans for a permanent residence started. Mr. Martin has been a resident of Glendale but a short time, and in that time has become a confirmed booster for the city.

SOLDIERS SEEK BABY CARRIAGES DUE TO WIRE MISTAKE

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The ears of some pretty War Department stenographer must have burned very red recently if she was cognizant of the remark being directed at her from the lips of gruff army officers, ruffled non-coms and amused privates.

It all came about through the receipt at the Presidio of the following telegram from the War Department at Washington:

"Be prepared to receive ten carloads of army children now on their way to San Francisco. Will arrive about August 25."

The order came to Colonel Osman Latrobe, chief of the Education and Recreation branch of the Ninth Corps Area of the army, and threw that astute warrior into a commotion fit.

"Fighting Julius Caesar! What are we going to do with 'em?" groaned Colonel Latrobe.

Summoning Lieutenant Harry G. Dowdall, his aide, and Miss Anna Sassel, his secretary, the E. and R. chief asked for facts and figures as to what could be done with that many kiddies.

There was a wild skirmishing to find how many buildings would be available at the post for nurseries, how many baby carriages could be had on immediate demand, and how much milk and cream the army dairy could furnish in a pinch.

Then the colonel wired Washington: "Please furnish approximate ages of children included in ten-carload lot. Are they accompanied by nurses?"

So the colonel is commandeering warehouses instead of nurseries. The "paraphernalia" means athletic supplies and books for the army schools, which will be opened by the E. and R. Department throughout the Ninth Corps Area in October.

GLENDALE'S STATE BANK WILL OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT

The new Glendale State Bank will hold its formal opening Saturday night and visitors are cordially invited to attend. There will be light refreshments served and several speakers are on the program. The building will be open for inspection on that night.

CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF MISSING LINK IN COLORADO

By MICHAEL F. DACEY, International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 20.—Fossils of prehistoric life that may lead to the discovery of Darwin's famous "missing link" have been unearthed in a sandpit near the ranch of J. W. Scott, of Falcon, twenty miles east of this city. Scott has gathered a large collection of interesting and valuable specimens for several years, and they are now being investigated by leading scientists.

Scott's latest find is a skull, which is apparently that of a huge reptile that experts say lived before man existed. The most startling feature of this skull is the "brain case," which exceeds in measurements anything previously discovered in fossils. Scott believes the reptile skull is a "missing link"—much older, however, than the "missing link" that has been sought for centuries in connection with the Darwinian theory. He believes this piece of bone, long preserved in the sand, tells the story of the development of the reptile into the mammal.

Scott is also convinced that he has unearthed the skull of a prehistoric buffalo, which must have roamed the Western plains of America something like 125,000 years ago. The buffalo skull dug up by Scott is deeply curved, whereas, he declares, skulls of buffalo usually are perfectly flat across the forehead.

Paleontologic Lore
"I place this skull in one of the glacial periods," Scott said, "and have no doubt that it is at least 125,000 years old."

In an effort to cooperate with scientists, Scott has opened his "farmhouse museum" to I. Allen Keyte, professor of geology at Colorado College, and Dr. Keyte has forwarded photographs of many specimens to Professor Maurice Mehl, of the University of Missouri, widely known paleontologist, for classification.

Scott himself has devoted much time during the last twenty-five years to the study of the many fossils he has unearthed and expresses the belief that the Pike's Peak region contains some of the most interesting fossils in the world.

"I really believe that in this peculiar skull which I recently found," Scott said, "I have the 'missing link' between the reptile and the mammal. The large brain case is the striking thing."

He said that he believed other specimens may be found in this vicinity that will throw more light on the "missing link" theory and develop the fact that the owner of the skull was possessed of a high degree of intelligence.

The discovery that the Pike's Peak region is probably rich in fossils has led, to the addition of a class in paleontology to the curriculum at Colorado College this year.

Legion News

Two state commanders of the American Legion, Department of California, who saw service with the 91st Division, will be honored guests of the Powder River men at their second annual reunion, in Los Angeles, September 24 and 25. Baron Fitts, who lost a knee-cap while in service with the 364th Infantry, and who was just retired as commander of the Legion, and John Quinn, a former member of the 348th Field Artillery, elected state commander in August, will be the two Legion guests.

Bands from the battleships Tennessee and Oklahoma of the Pacific Fleet will aid in putting pep into the reunion of the 91st Division, to be held in Los Angeles, September 24 and 25. Lieut.-Commander T. S. King, flag lieutenant of the fleet, advised J. W. Stuphen, chairman of the reunion committee, today, that the two navy bands will be at his disposal during the gathering.

NEW HIGHWAY FROM NORTHWEST TO L. A.

The Los Angeles planning commission is considering a new road from the upper San Fernando valley to relieve the congestion on the San Fernando road, perhaps the busiest thoroughfare in all the Southland, with its many auto bus lines, business trucks and pleasure autos. The new road is to either traverse Griffith Park along the lower levels, or else be located along the east bank of the river. This proposed highway would branch off from the San Fernando road between Burbank and San Fernando, extend along the river as detailed above, pass through Ivanhoe and along the oiled road at the foot of the Pacific Electric Glendale line fill, to connect with Alessandro street and debouch into Glendale boulevard eventually, reaching the Los Angeles business district through the Second street tunnel.

GRADUATE OF YALE NOW CHINESE GENERAL

(By International News Service)
HONOLULU, Sept. 20.—Wingsen Afong, son of Tony Afong and grandson of C. Afong, wealthy Chinese merchant, of Honolulu, and at one time one of the best known men in Pacific countries, is now a General in the Southern Chinese Army, under President Sun Yat Sen, according to advices just received in Honolulu.

The young Chinese General is a product of American schools, and a graduate of Yale University. Since his graduation he has worked with his own people, in China, and has for several years been closely connected with Dr. Sun Yat Sen in the Chinese Republic.

Wingsen Afong is the nephew of Mrs. Whiting, wife of Admiral Whiting, U. S. N. (retired) of Berkeley, Cal., and has other relatives high in social and business circles of Honolulu, as well as some in the United States Army.

CHARLES CHAPLIN AT PALACE GRAND

The "Laugh King" heads the bill at the Palace Grand Theatre today and tomorrow. If you have any wrinkles in your forehead this bill is guaranteed to transfer them to the corners of your mouth. "The Kid" furnishes six real doses of tonic for any symptoms of sorrow. It's an intoxicating, laugh-provoking bit of comedy drama that surpasses any of Chaplin's former efforts. He is ably supported by the young veteran, Jackie Coogan, and promises to keep your handkerchief busy wiping away the tears of laughter, joy and sympathy.

With this joy feast is an entirely different drama which makes an appeal to our deepest feelings. It is one of intense action, human interest and real merit—an Allan Dwan production and worthy of praise.

Kinograms is the up-to-date news reel and will carry you to all parts of the globe, while the Wurlitzer will charm you with an appropriate accompaniment and a special song.

VOLSTEAD LAW IS COSTLY TO ENFORCE

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The nationwide cry for economy in Government administration justifies a re-grouping of liquor law personnel and a transfer of purely enforcement functions from the Treasury to the Department of Justice, it was asserted recently by Assistant Attorney-General Goff.

"Dry law enforcement is piling up needless expense for the Government under present methods," Colonel Goff said.

"The work of handling Volstead law violation must be put on a systematic basis.

"The jobs now done by dry law agents often have to be done all over again after cases reach the Department of Justice. This represents wasted effort and loss to the taxpayers." Best efficiency in dry law enforcement will not come until activities which are along strictly enforcement and detection lines are co-ordinated with the Department of Justice, in Goff's opinion.

The Government could make no better economy move at this time, nor one that would bring a greater degree of efficiency, he declared.

DENIES HE STOLE BALL

(By International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 20.—Alleging he was accused of "pilfering the pill," taken out of the grandstand by two burly coppers and given the "razz" by the fans, Ben Hurst, a merchant of this city, has filed suit for $10,000 damages against the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club.

Hurst, a visitor in Philadelphia at the time, says he paid $1.10 to see the brand of ball they play in that city. A batter crashed the old apple into the stands near where he sat, and the park attendants decided Hurst had tucked it in his pocket.

He denied he "duked it," but in spite of this was taken to the office, he declares, and, in consequence, suffered a nervous breakdown, deep humiliation, mortification and near prostration.

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR MINISTERS' LADIES

Mrs. C. M. Crist, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, was a guest at a luncheon and conference yesterday to arrange for the reception to ministers' wives which will take place on Saturday afternoon of conference week, or October 8. Mrs. Crist is president of the Ministers' Wives Association and the ladies with whom she was in conference were Mrs. Byron Wilson, chairman of the program committee, first vice-president and chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The reception will take place in the splendid auditorium of the new administration building on the campus of the University of Southern California which is described as simply magnificent for an affair of magnitude.

In that same auditorium will take place the reception to Bishop Leonard with which the Conference of Methodist Churches of the Southern California District will open on Tuesday evening, October 4. That will be a big function as the ministers enrolled in this conference independent of probationers number 350, and the majority will be accompanied by their wives.

As there will be several occasions during conference week when the conference goes into executive session and excludes all non-voters even to the probationers, the ministers' wives at such times have had dull periods of waiting.

Mrs. Crist says that this year the program of the Ministers' Wives Association will provide for periods of retreat at such times when the association will hold executive sessions of its own and discuss matters of special interest to the wives of pastors.

Details of the reception program have not been worked out but the association will be addressed by the bishop and other notables.
