FRENCH FOIL ATTEMPTS OF GERMANS SOUTH OF ST. QUENTIN AND ON NEW FRONT WON IN THE VERDUN REGION

Greater Part of Ground Taken by Enemy in Rush East of Gauchy Recaptured by Petain's Troops; German Attack Was Made on Front of 800 Metres; Paris Report.

London, July 19.—The French front in Northern France again was the scene last night of an unsuccessful attempt by the enemy on a small front. Few days pass without an effort on the part of the Germans to get back some of the valuable territory which was wrested from them in the spring offensive or to make local inroads elsewhere on the French lines.

A new field was chosen for an attempt of this sort last night, the first really sharp attack for some time in the field of the great Hindenburg retreat of last March being delivered just south of St. Quentin. The German Crown Prince chose a front nearly half a mile in extent where the French occupied a hillock to the east of Gauchy. General Petain's forces were taken aback at first by the intensity of the drive and yielded some ground in the first line. They rallied quickly, however, and drove the Germans out of the greater part of the occupied positions.

Official Report.

Paris, July 19.—German troops made an attack last night on a front of 800 metres south of St. Quentin. The War Office announced this afternoon that enemy troops gained a footing in the French first line, but were expelled from the greater part of these positions by a counter-attack.

A German counter-attack to regain ground captured by the French near Aumont Wood, on the Verdun front, was defeated.

A DRIVE AGAINST ENEMY SUBMARINES

A. H. Pollen Predicts Naval Blow Will Follow Appointment of Geddes

New York, July 19.—A great naval drive against the German submarines is predicted by Arthur H. Pollen, British naval expert and critic, following the appointment of Sir Eric Geddes as First Lord of the Admiralty. Sir Eric's succession as civil head of the British navy was characterized yesterday by Mr. Pollen, who is at the Vanderbilt Hotel here, "as the most important single political event that has taken place since the beginning of the war."

"This war is a sea war," said Mr. Pollen, "and the efficiency of the British navy depends upon the higher command, and that in turn depends on the ability and character, energy and imagination of the civilian chief of the Admiralty."

"It has been quite obvious from the first that the ablest man Great Britain could produce should be the First Lord of the Admiralty. The miracle is that that man has been given the post. Geddes has made good and the final step will not be long delayed. We shall see a rejuvenation of many branches of Admiralty activity. Once Geddes assigns definite tasks to officers of the younger generation, built on better principles of war and with their judgment ripened by the innumerable errors which the elder generation have committed in the last few years, I think they will work wonders."

"For the first time since February it seems to me reasonable that while the enemy submarines may cost us heavily in ships and goods and men, we can definitely hope it will be impossible to end the war by them."

See Essentials.

"The secret of Sir Eric's success seems to lie in the rarest of gifts—the power of perceiving the essentials of any situation, however complicated, with great simplicity. If genius is the gift of seeing things as they are, Geddes is a genius of the first order. He is entirely impersonal in his handling of men and things, and quite fearless and relentless in seeing that what he wants done is done."

"It is said that before Sir Eric was in the Admiralty a week the whole place had become unrecognizable. The tangled growth of years was swept off the ground as by a prairie fire, so that heads of departments found they could communicate with one another by telephone or by walking across a corridor. Where previously it had taken ten days or a fortnight to get their opinions on paper, urgent matters of policy under the Geddes system often were decided in seconds. The curious thing about Geddes is that while he shatters traditions, blows office rules into the air and rebuffs department heads of a hundred cherished adjuncts to their authority, he excites no opposition and makes no enemies."

TORONTO BANK CLEARINGS.

Toronto, July 19.—The bank clearings here for the week ended to-day were $42,927,518. For the corresponding week last year the clearings were $45,252,618, and $42,103,580 in 1915.

STATES WILL NOT BE REPRESENTED AT PARIS CONFERENCE

Washington, July 19.—The United States has been invited by the Entente Governments to participate in the Entente conference to be held in Paris some time this month, but it has been decided that for the present it will not be necessary to take part in such meetings not directly affecting this country's part in the war.

It was explained at the State Department to-day that while this course was followed at present, it was not to be taken as an indication of a permanent policy.

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS PARDONED BY WILSON

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson to-day issued pardons for the 15 woman suffragists who were serving sixty-day sentences in the workhouses at Occoquan, Virginia, for picketing in front of the White House.

Secretary Tammany said the pardons must speak for themselves, and that the White House would have no statement to make of the President's reason for his action.

BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE AT TOP OF FORM AND READY TO DEAL NEXT SMASHING BLOW AGAINST THE ENEMY

British General Headquarters in France, July 16.—(Delayed.)—The British front has been particularly interesting for the past few days, both because of the presence here of the King and Queen, and of the general expectation of a great offensive.

The great contrast between the present conditions and those prevailing last February is startling. The British then were fighting doggedly in the worst conditions imaginable, whereas now the weather is favorable and all other conditions make for optimism.

The effect of big movements, such as the American republic's rounding into form, the failure of the German submarine warfare to accomplish its much-heralded object, the internal eruption in Germany and Russia's return to hostilities are felt in every trench and dugout, but the soldiers' deepest sensibilities are touched by what is concrete and nearest him. The "wallpaper" of Fritz at Messines was not militarily important but humanly it was encouraging and must be rated above larger things in its effect on the morale of the army. The officers and men feel sure of themselves as a fighting body.

Top of Form.

There was appropriateness in the final examination of the forces by the King at what may be fairly reckoned the very top of their form and on the eve of a maximum effort.

The impression of British strength gained in a few days at the front under these circumstances is simply overwhelming. Everyone knows the larger units which Britain has on her line in France. There are five armies on the fighting line, highly organized and perfectly supplied and supported. Adequate factories at home for shells and guns co-ordinate with a transport system that the enemy has never been able seriously to interfere with. There is absolutely no limit to the big guns, machine-guns, ammunition and auto transports.

To Allies' Advantage.

The development of the barrage and other forms of artillery fire with the accessories of air observation and photography has greatly reduced the high cost of an offensive. The percentage of casualties now is lower than on the defensive and, as the offensive hereafter inevitably must lie with the Allies' arms, this established principle will act greatly to the Allies' advantage.

The French continue to make marvellous use of their "75" field piece, whose value lies in its stability, which is derived from its recoil and counter recoil.

To visit Albert, Peronne, Bapaume, Arras, Vimy Ridge and intervening points, topped off with Messines, where the writer saw a great display of aeroplanes, with some fighting accompanied by artillery liveliness, is an unforgettable experience, especially in brilliant weather. It gives the conviction that what the British have done so far is merely a prelude. This is not saying that the Germans are going to scurry out of Belgium, but merely that the British are now absolutely at their best and ready to deliver their most telling blows. While this expectation is fully justified, the people must be prepared for long waits between attacks. No way has yet been discovered to "break" an offensive continuous in trench warfare.

VANCOUVER AIRMAN FELL AT TORONTO

Toronto, July 19.—Flight Lieutenant E. A. Amstutz, of Vancouver, training at the Armour Heights aviation camp, North Toronto, fell with his machine from a height of 70 feet yesterday afternoon and is now in a hospital with serious face and head wounds.

Majority Parties in Reichstag Agree on A Peace Resolution

Amsterdam, July 19.—The Berliner Tageblatt says the committee of the majority parties in the German Reichstag have unanimously decided to move their peace resolution. Previously the committee was divided, two members of the centre and one Liberal disagreeing with the majority. The Tageblatt says that in the Reichstag 221 deputies will vote for the peace resolution.

SEAT OF RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT MAY BE MOVED FROM PETROGRAD TO CITY OF MOSCOW; STEPS AGAINST TURMOIL

Petrograd, July 19.—At an extraordinary session the Cabinet is discussing a proposal to transfer the seat of the Provisional Government to Moscow.

London, July 19.—The situation in Petrograd continues troubled, but the Provisional Government apparently has decided to take hold with a firm hand and have it out with the ultra-extreme elements which are keeping the city in a turmoil. Martial control has been established and drastic measures seem to be the order of the day.

Meanwhile the Cabinet is considering a proposal to transfer the seat of government to Moscow to remove it from the scene of turmoil, and also it is announced that the general assembly of workmen, soldiers and peasants will be held at Moscow, "to prevent interference from an irresponsible section of the Petrograd garrison."

To Avoid Interference.

Petrograd, July 19.—M. Tsereteli, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, and members of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates said yesterday that the general assembly of workmen and soldiers and peasants would be held at Moscow to prevent interference from the irresponsible section of the Petrograd garrison.

Guns in Position.

Petrograd, July 19.—The buildings of the general staff and the Winter Palace square here are headquarters for the Government troops, who are bivouacking there and have posted cannon. The general feeling is that the decisive stage between the forces of order and disorder is rapidly approaching.

At a joint meeting of the Workmen's, Soldiers' and Peasants' Council a resolution was adopted in regard to the ministerial crisis to the effect that the departure of certain Ministers can not be made the pretext for depriving the government of the support of the revolutionary democracy. On the other hand the resolution declares that the resignation of Ministers makes it imperative for the democracy to re-determine its attitude regarding the organization of power.

Therefore a general assembly of councils of workmen and soldiers and peasants must be convoked and such an assembly will meet within a fortnight, hence to discuss the organization which is to replace the cabinet Ministers. Meantime all power must be concentrated in the present Government, which must act in conformity with the decisions reached at the last general congress.

In Control.

Petrograd, July 19.—Via London, July 19.—The Provisional Government controls this city to-day as completely as the Bolsheviks appeared to control it yesterday.

SIR THOMAS WHITE DISCUSSED NEW YORK AS BORROWING FIELD

Ottawa, July 19.—Sir Thomas White returned to Ottawa at noon to-day from Washington. To the press he stated his visit to Washington had been of the most satisfactory character. The subject discussed with the American Secretary of the Treasury was the international balance of trade between Canada and the United States and of its redress by Canadian borrowings in New York. Sir Thomas stated that the representations he made were received by Mr. McAdoo in a spirit of the utmost cordiality and good will towards Canada.

Sir Thomas declined, as he always does, to discuss in advance his financial plans, but it is clear that he is well satisfied with the result of his mission. Later the Minister may make a financial statement in the House.

AMERICAN DEPARTMENT REDUCES ITS ESTIMATE

Washington, July 19.—Secretary Redfield, appearing with his bureau chiefs to-day before the House Appropriation Committee to explain the need of the Department of Commerce for deficiency appropriations, surprised the Committee by reducing his estimate for administration of export licenses from $70,000 to $35,000 for the present fiscal year.

ENTENTE SOCIALISTS ARE CALLED TO MEET IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Paris, July 19.—At a meeting of the French parliamentary Socialist group, at which Albert Thomas, Minister of Munitions, was present, it was decided that it was of the greatest importance for Socialists of the Entente countries to come to an agreement on all points which might eventually be discussed at the Stockholm conference. Accordingly it was resolved to call a preliminary conference in Paris of representatives of the Socialists of the Entente countries.

RUSSIANS POUND WAY INTO NOVICA AGAIN; EAST END OCCUPIED

After Stubborn Fighting South of Kalusz, Galicia, Brusiloff's Troops Enter Village They Were in Before

Petrograd, July 19.—Russian troops again have driven into the Galician village of Novica, south of Kalusz, and now occupy the eastern end of that place.

London, July 19.—With the two chief matters of interest for observers here to-day the declaration of German policy to be made in the Reichstag to-day by Dr. George Michaelis, the new German Chancellor, and the Russian drive in Eastern Galicia, news came from Petrograd that Russian troops had forced their way once more into the Galician village of Novica, south of Kalusz, occupying the eastern end of that place. This is not the first time Russian forces have been in Novica. The initial impetus of the present drive carried them into

CALLS FOR EVERY AVAILABLE VESSEL

American Correspondent Urges States to Send Ships to Allies

New York, July 19.—Charles H. Greyst, correspondent of The New York Times on the French front, makes a strong plea for every available American ship to be sent to European waters in order to combat the German submarine menace. In support of this appeal he cables the following article:

London, July 18.—The change at the Admiralty, by which Sir Eric Geddes succeeds Sir Edward Carson, calls attention to the submarine conditions, and there has been a sharp revision of opinion in the last few hours as a result of the re-examination of facts and figures. The Prime Minister's recent assurance had a sedative effect on the public mind; but discussion by well-informed persons, particularly in banking and commercial circles, in the past few days, has brought out conditions that are disquieting.

The confidence in the submarine situation appears to have had no foundation more substantial than the hope that some scientific means was surely in the way of being found to put the enemy submarine finally and entirely out of business. The syllogism is that the United States is a wonderfully inventive country and the United States is now a belligerent. Ergo, the United States will invent a solution for the submarine problem.

Rate of Destruction.

"That part of Britain which wakes up somewhat ahead of the rest of the country has suddenly grasped a fact so simple that it ought to have been realized and acted upon long ago. The average man has been thinking about food, which has been plentiful, or thinking about Germany's threat to reduce Britain in two months. Five months have elapsed and Britain is none the worse off."

"What has escaped attention and what is now brought to the fore by the change at the Admiralty is the inexorable fact, which anybody with knowledge of the rule of four can cipher out for himself, that at the present rate of construction and destruction there can not possibly at the end of a few months be shipping enough, unless British commitments elsewhere are considerably curtailed, to feed Britain and France and maintain the present armies in the field."

"As for conveying the armies of the United States to Europe and maintaining them, it would simply be out of the question. The loss of ships by submarines totals 600,000 tons per month, more than the total of new construction. There is no possibility whatever of the construction overtaking the present rate of loss in time to avoid a peace being forced on the Allies."

"What is wanted, therefore, is to largely increase the destruction of U-boats. The British Government is, and the American Government ought to be, eye to eye with the fact that the Allies have got to find a way to curb the enemy submarines or lose the war—a way not yet found nor even approached, except experimentally."

"The damage by submarines has been reduced, but every single ton of shipping effective against the submarines ought to be sent to European waters without a single hour's delay."

"No military verdict short of marching into Berlin can take the place of a death blow to the German U-boat. Every craft capable of operating against the enemy submarines ought to be sent over here at the earliest possible moment."

The situation in the Novica region is taken here to indicate the tenacious character of the offensive planned by General Brusiloff. It is regarded as sufficiently proved that the Russian general staff is determined to push the attack as far as possible, utilizing the aggressive spirit of the reorganized revolutionary armies.

There has been a lessening of the speed of the drive. There has even been a recession at one point where Austrian and German reserves were thrown into the fray in an effort to stop the Russian on-rush, which was threatening to roll up the entire Austro-German line from Galicia down through the Roumanian mountains and plains. But observers here look for the weight of the Russian blows to be increased, regarding this as possible now that the supplies of munitions have been so greatly augmented.

CONSCRIPTION BILL TO SENATE SOON

Expected Commons Will Give It Third Reading Before Sunday

Ottawa, July 19.—It is probable the Military Service Bill will receive third reading in the Commons before the end of the week. It will be taken out of the committee stage to-day. Under the rules of the House a day is supposed to intervene between the committee stage and third reading, but the measure probably will be proceeded with by agreement on Friday. Before the end of next week it should be through the Senate.

According to the Ottawa Citizen, negotiations looking to the formation of a union Government are still in progress. If they are successful it probably would mean a considerable curtailment of the seasonal programme, such proposed legislation as the new Franchise Act and the Highways Bill, being dropped. The Citizen says:

"The efforts by the Government at present are being directed towards effecting some agreement with an element of the Liberals, but no very substantial headway seems to have been made as yet. On the Liberal side there is much doubt as to whether anything will come of it. Some are willing, but fear being classed as renegades. Among the rank and file of the Conservatives there also is considerable opposition to anything favoring a union of forces with the erstwhile enemy, but if the Prime Minister can bring it about his recalcitrant followers will soon be reduced to a condition of silence."

"There are no doubts that a federal franchise bill debarring naturalized aliens will be introduced, though in some way the situation may be got at. The Soldiers' Franchise Act is likely to be amended to facilitate the soldiers voting overseas."

AMERICAN UNITS ARRIVE IN PARIS

Paris, July 19.—American naval and medical missions and a number of American ambulance workers arrived here to-day from the United States.

AMERICANS ENTERTAINED.

London, July 19.—Two hundred and fifty Americans, members of the British army and navy, were entertained to-day at Holland Park by the Red Cross committee for American soldiers and sailors.

MERCHANT FLEET OF FRANCE UNDER CONTROL

Paris, July 19.—Anatole de Monzie, the newly appointed Under-Secretary of Maritime Transport, has obtained the Cabinet's approval for the institution of a general control over the mercantile fleet of France. The decree instituting the measure refers to the increasing diminution of tonnage due to the submarine war as necessitating intensive and rational use of the whole fleet.

FISHERIES INSPECTOR DIES.

Nelson, July 19.—John McLeod, for seventeen years Dominion fisheries inspector for East and West Kootenay, died at Nelson yesterday, aged 77 years. He was born at Stormway, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1851. He lived for some years at Guelph and Kincardine, Ont. George A. McLeod and John D. McLeod, of Vancouver, are sons. Miss Lillian McLeod, of the Attorney-General's Department at Victoria, is a daughter.

GRAIN COMMISSION SITS AT MONTREAL

Hears Representatives of Millers, Corn Exchange and Labor Unions

Montreal, July 19.—Local millers, members of the Montreal Corn Exchange and a representative of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council conferred with the Dominion Grain Commission yesterday afternoon on war measures for the handling of the Canadian grain, particularly wheat.

The millers' representatives, Brigadier-General Labelle, W. A. Black, and W. W. Hutchins, contended that there either must be trading in options or fixed prices to give the miller protection in financing and in selling. If the trading in options were continued, speculation should be restricted to recognized grain dealers and no business should be taken from such speculators as young men and women clerks, as it was reported had been done on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. If there were to be fixed prices there should be either a flat price for each grade or maximum and minimum prices for each grade, the same prices to prevail by agreement both in the United States and Canada. If the maximum and minimum system were adopted there should not be more than five cents a bushel difference between the two. Mr. Black suggested that a fair maximum for No. 1 Northern would be $1.75 a bushel at Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg.

The members of the Montreal Corn Exchange, represented by Joseph Quinlan, said they would prefer to buy their coarse grain in the open market in Winnipeg if cars could be guaranteed, but if the Commission wished all buying to be made through a bureau appointed by itself the Corn Exchange members would work harmoniously with the Commission, the Commission to guarantee carriage. Trading in options was most desirable but should be restricted to bona fide grain merchants, farmers to be allowed to sell in the option market only their own crops.

J. T. Foster, who appeared for the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, while acknowledging that the war was partly responsible for the increase in prices, said the increase in bread in Montreal had advanced beyond all reason. Though one loaf sold at 12 cents per pound and a half and another at 12 cents per pound, they were really made from the same dough. The price of bread had advanced 70 per cent, and bread was dearer here, where wheat was grown, than in Europe. Peculiarly enough, bread had dropped a cent a loaf the day after the Commission had met here. In St. Hyacinthe the production of a co-operative bakery had reduced the price per loaf 2 cents.

MOVING PICTURES FROM WILDS OF PROVINCE

Cleveland Citizen's Hunting and Fishing Trip Will Provide Publicity

Vancouver, July 19.—British Columbia as a sportsman's country is likely to get some excellent publicity as the result of a combined hunting, fishing and photographic trip which M. H. Murch, a wealthy financial broker, of Cleveland, is to start next week. Mr. Murch and his party are due at Banff on July 25, and will stay in the province until October or later.

The feature of Mr. Murch's trip is that instead of the ordinary camera with which most parties are provided, he is bringing a "movie" camera with him and an expert to operate it, so as to get moving pictures of the fishing and hunting of the province and a record of the outstanding incidents of the trip.

After a visit to Fish Lake and the Kamloops district Mr. Murch is to come to Campbell River in time for the tyeo or King salmon fishing. The tyeo puts up a fight that betrays his size and his fame as the king of salmon, and Mr. Murch is hoping to be able to film the picture of the catching, fighting and landing of some of the speckled monsters. Campbell River fishermen sometimes get tyeo of sixty pounds and over, and their landing is quite an exciting event. Another interesting subject which Mr. Murch wants to take a film of is the sight of salmon jumping up the waterfalls on their way to their spawning grounds.

After seeing the sights in the fishing districts in some of the southern parts of the province, the party is to proceed to the Cassiar district to hunt moose, grizzly bear and other big game.

Another interesting visitor to the province, is Mr. Simson, of the staff of the Natural History Museum at Oakland, Cal., who is to arrive in a couple of weeks to collect natural history specimens. Mr. Simson also is to make a trip to the Cassiar as he is commissioned to bring back specimens of the Stone Mountain sheep of that district.

INVITATION DECLINED BY HON. R. ROGERS

Would Not Testify Before Manitoba Agricultural College Commission

Montreal, July 19.—The following communications have passed between the McLeod-Teller commission, which is considering the evidence given before the Galt commission at Winnipeg, and Hon. T. C. Norris, Premier of Manitoba:

"Montreal, July 6, 1917.

"Hon. T. C. Norris, Winnipeg.

"Being desirous of bringing the inquiry to an end, the commissioners have named Tuesday, July 10, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House, Montreal, for a hearing respecting the report of Mr. Justice Galt re Hon. Robert Rogers. Please acknowledge.

"L. J. LORANGER, Secretary of the Commission."

"Winnipeg, July 7, 1917.

"L. J. Loranger, Montreal.

"Received your wire dated yesterday. I feel that the purpose and scope of your commission does not involve any provincial interest, and consequently there is no object in this province being represented or heard. Permit me to point out that Hon. Mr. Rogers several times was given an opportunity to submit any relative evidence to the Agricultural College Commission, but he declined such invitation. This commission is not yet dissolved. Would not the proper course be for anyone having any new or additional evidence bearing on the situation to make application to the Agricultural College Commission to hear and consider such evidence? It occurs to me to suggest that if you desire competent counsel and one who is familiar with the case, your commission could not do better than retain Hugh Phillips, K. C., of this city, who acted for this province before the Galt Commission.

LOANS TO FARMERS IN UNITED STATES

Washington, July 19.—Five per cent loans to farmers under the Federal farm loan system are being approved by the Federal Board here at the rate of $800,000 a day, the Board announced today.

With more than $100,000,000 affected by applications for loans that are still awaiting issuance of charters to the organizations of which the borrowers will be the members, the Board up to the close of business on July 15 had chartered 432 farm loan associations, whose loans aggregate $20,699,337.

These associations have an average membership of eighteen farmers each, the average loan to the individual farmer being $2,250.

OVERCROWDING OF TORONTO STREET CARS

Toronto, July 19.—A cable to Hon. L. B. Lucas, Attorney-General of Ontario, yesterday conveyed the information that the Privy Council has decided that the overcrowding of street cars is not a criminal offence nor a public nuisance. This judgment was given on the appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Riddell, of the Ontario High Court, who entered a conviction against the Toronto Street Railway Company, holding that overcrowding of cars was not only a public nuisance, but a menace to the public health. It was in 1911 that Mr. Justice Riddell found against the company and after much delay the case was taken about a year ago to the Court of Appeal, which upheld the judgment given at the trial. The company then took the case to the Privy Council.

CANADIAN TIMBER FOR THE UNITED KINGDOM

London, July 19.—In the House of Commons yesterday Sir John Fleming asked the President of the Board of Trade to relax the regulations prohibiting the importation of Canadian timber and to allocate space in requisitioned vessels. He also asked that Canadian timber importers be granted liberty to increase their January prices.

Mr. Roberts, in reply, said the controller of timber had been trying to reduce the restrictions on Canadian timber, but tonnage difficulties had delayed the matter. Import licenses were obtainable now for shipment in neutral sailing vessels from Canada, but not possible as regards steamships. He hoped to arrange the increase in the January prices shortly.

MESOPOTAMIA INQUIRY LEFT TO ARMY COUNCIL

London, July 19.—Announcement was made in the House of Commons yesterday by Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the Government had decided not to proceed with the proposed judicial inquiry into the report of the Mesopotamia campaign. The soldiers would be dealt with by the Army Council in the ordinary way and the decision announced as soon as possible.

The Government had refused the resignation of Baron Hardinge, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, which had been tendered thrice. If it had been in the power of the Government to refuse the resignation of Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain as Secretary of India, Mr. Bonar Law added, it would have done so.

The House last night declined to interfere further to force the resignation of Baron Hardinge. By a vote of 175 to 81 the House rejected a motion by John Dillon to adjourn with a view to forcing the hands of the Government to accept his resignation for his connection with the Mesopotamia campaign.

CONSCRIPTION BILL ON FRIDAY AGAIN

Ottawa, July 19.—After midnight the Government moved the House of Commons into committee to consider the Military Service Bill.

Both Mr. Carvell and Mr. Graham said they had no objection personally,

FOUND BARBAROUS PLOT IN KANSAS

Kansas City, July 18.—Federal chemists and bacteriologists to-day inoculated guinea pigs with cultures obtained from specimens of court plaster believed to be impregnated with tetanus germs and alleged by the authorities to have been disseminated throughout Kansas by peddlers as part of a plot to plunge the state into an epidemic of disease.

Inflamed Eyelids

HEAT and fullness of the lids, feelings as though there were sand in the eyes—these are the symptoms of inflammation and granulation of the eyelids. Besides the discomfort and suffering there is danger of the sight being permanently injured by the scraping of the granules across the surface of the eye.

ARIZONA IS FIRM AGAINST I.W.W.'S NOW

Elaborate System of Picketing to Protect Warren Mining District

Bisbee, Ariz., July 18.—Beginning to-day every stranger entering the Warren mining district must bear a passport from the mayors or recognized commercial bodies of certain designated cities if he wishes to pass the civilian guards posted along the roads in this region by Sheriff Harry Wheeler without being subjected to a searching questioning as to his business by the guards to prevent members of the Industrial Workers of the World or their sympathizers from entering the district, and the passport idea was hit upon as a means of avoiding unnecessary annoyance to tourists and other reputable citizens.

Issuance of passports by the Douglas Chamber of Commerce was started to-day. At the request of Governor Campbell, Sheriff Wheeler announced that passports also would be recognized when signed by the chief of police, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of El Paso or the mayor of Tucson. This will enable tourists traveling by automobile along the borderland highway to pass through the district.

As time went on and she did not come the father began to worry slightly and came to the Vancouver police. He informed them that he felt the girl was staying with friends, and the discussion dealt chiefly with the best method of getting her home. No thought ever came to the parents that the girl would even contemplate doing the terrible act which it is thought she did.

No information was gained of her whereabouts until workmen entered the old factory on Twenty-ninth Avenue yesterday afternoon and were horrified to see the body of a girl. The police were notified immediately, and as the body was found just inside the city limits, Detective Denning, of the Vancouver force, was placed on the case.

He found that the body had lain there for many days. The revolver which was beneath the body was a .32 calibre and had contained but one shell, the one which had been sufficient to end the girl's life. The bullet was fired into the forehead.

It has been impossible to gain much information from the parents. The mother is prostrated and is under the care of a physician, while Mr. Urquhart is in little better condition. The girl had been absent from home for ten days, and it is thought she committed suicide immediately after she left.

TORONTO INQUEST CAUSES SENSATION

Toronto, July 18.—Sensational evidence was given by Mrs. Clara Gordon, of Toledo, Ohio, at the inquest opened last night before Coroner Graham into the death of seventeen-year-old Florence Cook, who died with her uncle, Harry Ellis, an undertaker here. The girl died in a hospital here on July 2, the cause of death being entered on the hospital records as "septic poisoning and heart paralysis."

Mrs. Gordon, an aunt of the girl, came here from Toledo to attend the funeral. She stated that when she arrived at the Ellis home Mr. Ellis informed her Florence had been seized with an attack of appendicitis, but peritonitis had developed and it was too late to operate. Subsequently she had found Mrs. Ellis moaning and raving and repeating to herself: "What will I say to my father?"

At Columbus. Columbus, N. M., July 19.—The men deported from Bisbee last Tuesday and now held here are settling more or less into a routine under the direction of an army officer assigned to have charge of them. They are being supplied with tobacco and stamps if they are without money, and several who were deported from Bisbee without adequate shoes are to receive these necessities. The families of Bisbee men deported and now interned here are being cared for by the Bisbee authorities, according to Representative Rosa McKay, of the Arizona Legislature, who is here. She said many were afraid of violence and had begged her to use her influence to have troops stationed in the streets.

RAID BY BRITISH ENEMY WAS WORSTED IN AIR FIGHTING

London, July 19.—The following official report was issued last night: "We carried out a successful raid last night in the neighborhood of Fresnoy. Several of the enemy were killed and their dugouts bombed. "Owing to the clouds there was little aerial activity yesterday until the evening, when a number of combats took place, in two of which large formations were engaged on each side. In the course of the fighting eight German aeroplanes were downed and six others were driven out of control. Another enemy machine was shot down by our fire from the ground. Four of our machines are missing."

GERMAN STATEMENT ON GERMAN SAVINGS

RULES OF HEALTH FOR DYSPEPTICS

There are two ways by which people who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, flatulence, etc., can overcome the trouble. First, as practically all cases of the above are directly or indirectly due to the use of indigestible food, they can eliminate from their diet all foods which ferment and form acid, such as all starches and sugar and foods containing them, thus prohibiting bread, potatoes, fruits, and most meats. About the only safe foods are gluten breads, animal and vegetable protein, or white meat of chicken or turkey. This diet is almost a starvation one, but it is somewhat of a relief. The second way, which appeals especially to those who like to eat hearty meals of good food, is to eat whatever is reasonably digestible, neutralize the acid and stop fermentation by the use of a good antacid such as bisphosphate of magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work without pain or hindrance. Owing to its simplicity, convenience, and effectiveness, this latter plan is now being adopted, instead of the old-fashioned, expensive, weakening starvation process. In this connection it is interesting to note that since the widespread use of bisphosphate of magnesia was established, many druggists have arranged to supply it in 5-gr. tablets, 2 or 3 of which are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder form and are much more convenient to carry.

BODY OF GIRL WAS FOUND IN FACTORY

Eighteen-Year-Old Daughter of Vancouver Parents Missing Ten Days

Vancouver, June 19.—The body of Georgina Urquhart, of South Vancouver, an 18-year-old girl, was found yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock by some workmen who happened to visit an old factory on the corner of Nanaimo Road and Twenty-ninth Avenue, just inside the city limits. The girl had been dead for about ten days.

Georgina, who was the daughter of Frank Urquhart, a customs officer who resides on Nanaimo Road in South Vancouver, left home about ten days ago, according to the best information the police can obtain at present. It was thought at the time she left that she had gone to stay with friends, and every day the parents looked expectantly for the return of their daughter.

As time went on and she did not come the father began to worry slightly and came to the Vancouver police. He informed them that he felt the girl was staying with friends, and the discussion dealt chiefly with the best method of getting her home. No thought ever came to the parents that the girl would even contemplate doing the terrible act which it is thought she did.

CALIFORNIA "TANK" COMPANY'S PROFIT. Sacramento, Cal., July 19.—A dividend of $1,500,000 is to be declared by the Holt Manufacturing Company, of Stockholm, Cal., holders of patents of the famous caterpillar tractors which have been so extensively used in the making of war "tanks," it became known to-day when application was made to the state corporation commissioner for permission to issue stock.

This dividend is out of a surplus of more than $3,000,000 and is to be paid in stock to holders of common shares. The application asked for permission to issue 15,000 shares, representing $1,500,000. Commissioner Carnahan granted the application. WHAT CANADA NEEDS.

A contemporary remarks, apropos of the proposed convention of Western Liberals, that it would be "better for Canada if the War Liberals would unite with Sir Robert Borden until the war has been won."

When the war began Sir Robert Borden, pliant in the hands of Mr. Rogers, chose to make Canada's share in it a party political affair.

Thus, instead of inviting the co-operation of his political opponents and the ablest men of the country outside Parliament as he should have done, Sir Robert, at the instigation of Rogers, was setting the stage for a political campaign.

The second Canadian Division was delayed months because there was a dispute in the cabinet over the awarding of contracts for motor transport trucks.

hospitals service had to become the subject of a special inquiry by commission. All these and many more unfortunate developments—including the mess made of voluntary recruiting, which was held up last spring at the behest of certain big interests—were due to weak leadership.

It was not difficult to do these things, not for a leader of courage and resolution. But Sir Robert was temperamentally unqualified for the post, as unqualified as Sir Herbert Tupper, for instance, in his own party, was qualified. He did not realize that he was the leader of a country at war.

RETURNED SOLDIERS. It is unfortunate that the Special Committee of the House of Commons on returned soldiers was unable to agree on the subject of control in the discharge of one of the paramount obligations of the state.

From the report of the committee it is apparent that no definite, comprehensive plan has yet been evolved for dealing with the returned soldier problem. This is most regrettable.

The state should have had this situation in hand two years ago as it was its duty to do. The tendency noticeable in newspapers supporting the central Government to shift the chief responsibility for delay to the Provincial Governments is mischievous for it is encouraging the policy of drift which has been the order at Ottawa for the last three years.

THOSE ENGINE CONTRACTS.

We trust the Boards of Trade and B. C. Manufacturers' Associations will investigate the reasons of the Imperial Munitions Board, whatever they may be, for not awarding contracts in British Columbia for the construction of engines for the twenty-seven vessels to be constructed here.

In the light of Mr. Yarrow's remarks the question which naturally arises is: Wherein are the conditions governing the construction of engines in England for the Imperial authorities not applicable to British Columbia? Why should the terms be made prohibitive here by attaching conditions more drastic than are specified in England for similar work?

The more carefully we read the newspapers the less we wonder at the high cost of living. In Vancouver a short time ago hundreds of tons of food were cast into the harbor.

Those who advocate conscription of man-power, but oppose the full mobilization of this country's resources for war, are taking long chances in imposing conscription to all who oppose Sir Robert Borden's compulsory military service measure.

Tommy in France. They were a very tired battalion and a very Cockney battalion, and when they spoke to the members of the battalion who had met them their speech was rich with epithets.

The spokesman of the weary ones answered shortly and sweetly: "Bin fer! Why we've walked over nearly the 'ole o' France, and wot we ain't walked over we've got in our sand-bags."

ly been touched. Why not try the profiteers? Last year they contributed only 6 1/2 per cent. of the Dominion's revenue.

The Labor Department of the Dominion Government further reports that the stocks of meat in cold storage throughout the country are excessive and prices should come down.

Neutral contiguous to Germany resent the idea of their profitable business of feeding the Huns being interfered with by the Allies. They claim that anything they sell to the Germans is home-produced, but of course do not mention the obvious fact that the more they are permitted to import the more they can sell to the hungry Huns at war prices.

A GREAT WEEK. Manchester-Guardian. It is a week since the battle began with the capture of the Vimy Ridge, and in spite of weather about as unfavorable as an advance as could be imagined, it seems to be even slower of improvement in France than here—it has been incomparably the best week that we have ever had in the land war.

The day things are going, one of these days the petition "give us this day our daily bread" will have to be addressed to the combines.

They were a very tired battalion and a very Cockney battalion, and when they spoke to the members of the battalion who had met them their speech was rich with epithets.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, July 19, 1892.

There have already been landed in Victoria 20,685 sealskins, which were caught on the coast between California and Alaska.

Capt. Whitelaw will commence work on the wrecked steamer San Pedro next Sunday or Monday, and he expects to have the steamer on the beach before many days have passed.

Fined $10.—Charles Brown was today fined $10 by Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court on a charge of having behaved indecently last evening on Cormorant Street.

For the Blind.—The following subscriptions to the National Institute for the Blind have been recently received by the Bank of Commerce: Staff, Customs Office, $15.75; C. Coigdarippe, $5; O. Akre, $5; Friend, $1.

Alterations at City Hall.—Alterations were in hand today to adapt the former wiring inspector's office for a committee room, on account of the noise from street traffic preventing the transaction of business in the committee room overlooking Pandora Avenue.

Seamich Tax Sale.—The Seamich tax sale, which closed yesterday, netted about $15,000, which with the $30,000 of delinquent taxes received prior to the sale, will help materially in financing the municipality in the current year. About 12 per cent. of the lots did not reach the reserve set, and will pass to the municipality.

Makes First Trip.—The first automobile trip over the new Four-Mile Creek road to Port-Alberni, was made by W. M. Holt, with his Chevrolet. At the Nanaimo road junction with the new road there is a sign advising drivers that the new road is not in fit condition for automobile traffic, and all drivers would do well to heed the warning, for the upper part is in pretty rough condition.

Business Men's Excursion.—The business men of the city who are availing themselves of the opportunity of taking the excursion to the west coast of the Island will leave the city on Saturday evening at 11 p.m. on the Princess Maquina. The cruise is under the management of the Board of Trade so far as the business men of Victoria are concerned and those who have not as yet obtained reservations should do so immediately from the board secretary.

Soldier Returns Home.—Harry Hanson, son of Charles Hanson, Commercial Hotel, Poplar Creek, has returned from the French battlefields on convalescent leave. He was gassed slightly, but thought so little of it that he did not report the fact. About three months ago he was gassed and his lungs showed signs of irritation and he was sent home to recuperate. After a short stay at Poplar Creek he will go to the Balfour sanitarium.

Caught Black Bass.—Yesterday two small Japanese boys spent a large part of the day fishing for black bass off the Outer Dock. They caught 114 lbs. and sold them at a Chinese fish shop for $4. They had the fish sold before five o'clock. The bait they used was live perch, which they caught from the dock in the inner harbor in the neighborhood of the city wharf. The fishing was done from a boat not far from shore. This is only one of many similar catches made by Japanese in the same neighborhood. The fish are splendid food and at 35c a pound are cheap food.

PATROLMEN FIGHTING FIRES IN INTERIOR

Sizzling Heat, Strong Warm Winds and Absence of Rain is Report

In the weekly report of the Chief Forester the fire situation throughout the interior is indicated to have become extremely hazardous in view of the absence of rain and the prevalence of strong warm winds with temperatures in the nineties.

The Nelson district is stated to have been the worst hit with no less than nine fires, four of which only had been brought under control by the end of last week. A number of patrolmen have been placed on duty, while special attention is being paid to the railways.

Three fires are reported from the Vernon district, one of which near Long Lake has occupied the attention of a fire crew for a whole week. With a maximum shade temperature in the Lillooet country of 96 some local showers have occurred and the total of five fires for the present season has not been added to.

Five additional fires in the Hazelton district have all been extinguished with little trouble while Fort George has not been free of any recent outbreaks. A preventative factor in this locality is the still green vegetation, the hazard being considerably less than in some of the more southerly parts of the province.

FIRE CHIEF DAVIS

GIVES GOOD ADVICE

Advices Greater Care, Ingenuity and Resource in Preventing Conflagrations

Chief Davis, of the Victoria Fire Department is sending forward to the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs an article on the work and objects of an up-to-date department, extracts of which are given here. The article in part reads as follows:

"We are attempting throughout our different associations, and individually, to make strides in improving the general conditions which we as fire chiefs know to exist. In spite of all this the idea of fire prevention and inspection by members of the uniformed force has moved very slowly until just recently. A good idea or example does not fight its way to adoption. It requires organization, practical facts and application to carry it to success. It has only been within a comparatively recent period that one of the most prolific sources of waste, that caused by 'fire,' has received the slightest attention.

Businessmen Not Careful. "I would like to ask, what effect do you think it would have upon our fire loss throughout the Dominion of Canada if our businessmen would display the same ingenuity and resource in regard to this great subject as they devote to other features of waste in their own businesses. If our businessmen had to struggle along without insurance I venture to say that safeguards and precautions which they take in their own business would be greatly increased, with the result that a very remarkable reduction in our fire losses would take place.

"I simply mention this to show that one of the reasons that our fire losses are so great is that our businessmen are not as careful as they might otherwise be. I am safe in saying that over 70 per cent. of our fires are caused through carelessness.

Daily Inspections. "Therefore I say, let us have our daily inspections by the members of our uniformed force. Who is better able or qualified to act as a fire prevention inspector than the trained fireman? If I may be permitted I will give an outline of what we are doing here in the city of Victoria, B. C., with a population of 55,000, along the lines of fire inspection. These inspections are showing beneficial results in the way of reduced fire loss in this city.

"In 1915 I inaugurated our fire prevention and inspection bureau with card system. Since then our fire losses have decreased over 40 per cent., which will show as follows: "1914—Without inspection bureau, loss, $46,922.31. "1915—With inspection bureau, loss, $29,950.68. "1916—With inspection bureau, loss, $29,675.68. "1917—With inspection bureau, loss (up to June 1st) $11,675.50.

Education Necessary. "Education is what is necessary, and to those who refuse to be educated, then I have no hesitation in saying: Enforce your fire prevention by-law, if you have one. If you have not, then let me recommend that upon your return home you immediately take this matter up with your officials and by all means impress upon them how important it is to have a by-law of this description. Then you are armed with proper authority to go on any premises at any time and hour and make your inspections. From that on, commence to educate your people through the press that fire prevention and daily inspections by members of the uniformed force is to be the slogan of your department.

If this was done by every fire chief throughout the Dominion of Canada, I am positive that we should see at the end of twelve months a decrease of over 50 per cent. in annual fire losses.

A marriage was celebrated at Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday when Dorothy Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brindley, and Mr. Harry Hunter, eldest son of Capt. and Mrs. James Hunter, of St. Andrew's Street, were joined in marriage. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, and wore a lovely costume of pale fawn taffeta. Her bouquet was of bridal roses. Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter are taking up their residence at 426 Niagara Street.

Mr. Footitt is well-known on the mainland as honorary secretary of the Yorkshire Society of Vancouver, a position he has held for several years. He has also been the organizer of numerous patriotic benefit nights under the auspices of the Yorkshire Society during the last three years. The honeymoon is being spent in Victoria, and afterwards the couple will return to Vancouver. Mr. Footitt is proceeding almost immediately to Toronto to join the Flying Corps, and Mrs. Footitt will reside at Shaughnessy Heights.

Two popular members of the Empress Hotel staff, Miss Nora Geake and Mr. William Youlder, were married yesterday at St. John's Church. The ceremony took place at 1 o'clock, Rev. P. A. P. Chadwick performing the rite. The bride was given away by her brother, Harry Geake, and Miss Eva Youlder, a sister of the bridegroom, was her bridesmaid, while Miss Dorothy Geake made a charming bride. The rite was witnessed only by immediate relatives and close friends. The bride wore a smart suit of sand-shade cloth and a pale blue blouse, her fawn-colored hat having touches of the same blue. After the wedding there was a small reception and wedding breakfast at the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Youlder, Pandora Avenue. Immediately afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Youlder left for Vancouver and Harrison Hot Springs, where the honeymoon will be spent. After September 1 they will be at home to their friends at 131 Piggard Street. Among the handsome gifts received by the bride was a suite of oak furniture, the gift of the Empress friends of the couple at the Empress Hotel. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl pendant.

RACE TRACK STORY WITHOUT PRECEDENT

Supreme Offering of Filmdom is Famous Play "The Whip"

The picture par excellence, the supreme offering of filmdom, is "The Whip," the screen version of the famous play that ran for three years in London and for over two seasons in New York City when it was produced by Wm. A. Brady.

Afterward the play had a run of two years in Australia and a career without a precedent in every part of the English speaking world. It was translated into French, Russian, German and other tongues, and always with enormous success. It is showing all week at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The vastness of the play has been immeasurably increased by the resources of motion picture art. Given such advantages of original magnitude, "The Whip" offered a rarely inviting subject for picturization at the hands of Maurice Tourneur. Tremendous effects have been secured, as for instance, the gigantic train wreck in which a whole train was smashed to bits at a huge cost for the sole purpose of securing one scene for this picture.

The story is of the race track, and the intrigue revolving around a famous racehorse named "The Whip." This intrigue involves an impetuous "gentleman" and his adventurous partner, a handsome young man in love with the charming daughter of the horse-loving judge who owns "The Whip" the jockey who rides and idolizes the horse, and the unsophisticated and pretty sister of the jockey.

Jane—"Please, ma'am, I want to leave." Mistress—"What for?" Jane—"I've got a place in the munition works." Mistress—"Well, all I can say is, if you drop shells about like you drop the plates, you won't be there long."

"TRUTHFUL LIAR" STRONG PLAYLET

Dramatic Acting of Miss Leila Shaw Wins Acclaim From Pantages Audiences

Leila Shaw, who is appearing this week in "A Truthful Liar" at the Pantages, has been on the stage since she was 5 years old. Never mind how long ago that was. She is English, old chap, having been born in Lannon, and is unique in that she has no living relatives and no home. Which is perhaps one reason why she dotes on children, has had scores of foster little ones in many cities in the United States and Canada with whom she corresponds. She also carries the photographs of many of them with her. She says she likes vaudeville much better than stock in which she worked for many years. Miss Shaw is a celebrated dramatic actress and "The Truthful Liar" is a swift, tense bit of drama telling an original and fascinating story. She appears in the role of an actress-wife of a lawyer, who appeals to the governor for a pardon for a client of his accused of murder and to be hanged in the morning. The governor contends, as the charge is the murder of a woman, that no man kills a woman to save his honor and his family's good name, that it is always the other way about. The lawyer and his actress-wife put up a job on the governor, placing him in the same position as the one accused, and succeeded in securing the pardon sought for.

Miss Shaw's blonde beauty and smartness captivates throughout. She is convincingly frivolous, and plays her role with a fine spirit. Strong individuality mark her acting, and she works the big scene up to the climax in splendid emotional crescendo, to which the audience makes instant and flattering response.

Harry Manners and Jay Collins are worthy of the highest commendation in support, the one as the governor and the latter as the lawyer. This week's Pantages bill is altogether good. Miss Hamlet is the title of a travesty on the immortal drama of the same name. It has been modernized, with slang set to music and a chorus of pretty girls added to make it more palatable to vaudeville patrons. It is one of the cleverest travesties seen in many months, and is the source of much amusement. Swain's cats and rats offer the most unique combination of animal novelty ever presented, wherein rats and cats work together in perfect harmony. The boxing match between two cats is the funniest thing one can imagine. Howard, Kibel and Herbert offer a singing and comedy patter number that pleases the large crowds. Nash and Nash present a singing offering that is well received. The last of the new series of official Canadian war films is being shown on the Pantages screen this week. Special interest has been created by the views of the destruction of the German zeppelin L-21, which was brought down near London. A week hence, the first authentic motion pictures of the arrival of General Pershing and his staff on French soil will be shown.

THE DEAN AND THEOSOPHY.

To the Editor:—I would claim your generosity for space to protest against the recent attack of Dean Quinlan upon Theosophy, bracketed as it was with other forms of religion, which, to quote your report: "he held up as a subject for condemnation." In this aim the very reverend gentleman has singularly failed; for, unfortunately for him, what has really been held up to public condemnation is simply the unprecedented procedure of the Dean himself. Might I suggest that before repeating the effort he would be well advised to consult a dictionary and learn, at least, the elementary meaning of his subject. The fact that God's presence is: this is the sum total of all we know. Can the well-known erudition of the Dean vouchsafe us any further information—apart from ecclesiastical make-believe, or "revelation?" Humanity may study that presence feverently in the workings of its eternal laws, with infinite benefit to the race—laws which control the unfathomed depths of a limitless eternity—but operate in silence. This latter fact is one from which the wisdom of the Dean might derive a wholesome and salutary hint.

RETURNED SOLDIERS

OBJECT TO CHARITY

Nevertheless, Admit That Money is Necessity to Provide for Men Coming

A number of letters which have the name of the Returned Soldier at heart have been suggested to the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association that they be permitted to organize a Tag Day for the funds of the institution. This matter was taken up at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening last and a list of all was decided against in view of the oft-repeated desire on the part of the Association to refuse charity, no matter in what guise it might appear.

Charity and Necessity. Many discussions have taken place on the subject, there being two distinct factions in the ranks. The one has clearly indicated that indiscriminate gifts in coin are to be combated, since the question of all requirements for the man returned from the front is a matter in which Governments alone should be concerned.

On the other hand, many of the members do not look at it in this light at all, for in their opinion there is a sense of duty on the part of the public to the man who has fought, and a great many people looked upon an opportunity for an occasional money gift as an outlet for their patriotism. The issue, then, became one of charity versus necessity, with a final decision in favor of a Tag Day with a condition.

President Duggan, who was recently appointed to the chief executive office, took the matter in hand very skillfully and explained to the meeting that so far but a mere handful of men had returned to the city from the front. Look at the question as they would, some of their members would live to see the day when Governments would arrive at such a state of perfection that private individual and collective initiative in the interest of the returned soldier could be lightly disregarded. He pointed out that to the city of Victoria in the very near future there would be many more disabled "Tommys" returning. What were they going to do for them?

GREAT WAR VETERANS

TO TAKE UP THE CASE

Charges Against Member of 88th Band is Subject for Investigation

Reference was made at the meeting of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association on Tuesday evening to a letter which appeared in the correspondence columns of the Times on Thursday last. The writer was A. Rumsby, bandmaster of the 1st Canadian Reserve Battalion, 3rd Command, Hastings, Eng. It was interpreted by the Association as an answer to the charges laid at the meeting of the organization held some two or three months ago.

At that time one of the bandsmen who had returned to Victoria lodged a complaint and pleaded for speedy action. He stated that the band of the 88th went to England fully equipped with German music, not to mention Hungarian rags, while the supply of Canadian themes was a negligible quantity. Even the Anthem of the Dominion was less in evidence than the alien scores.

Serious Allegation. The Association at that time was told by the bandsman that he had been punished in England for refusing to play the German music, in fact he had left the band, returning to his place when the item was over. In the letter referred to Mr. Rumsby stated that the man was removed on account of drinking and that he had no alternative but to take him before the commanding officer.

NO COMPLAINTS.

A young countryman was recently engaged by a milkman in London as journeyman. On the second day after he had commenced to work for his new employer he unaccountably resigned his situation. An investigation showed that after washing the cans the day before, the water, as was usual, was left in them. But instead of the cans which he should have taken, he put the day's milk into those having the washings, and started on his round. On coming back again he learned his error, and resigned at once rather than face the customers.

CROP PROSPECTS ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Says 25 Per Cent. Better Than Last Year

Crop prospects on Vancouver Island are practically assured of an increase in yield of twenty-five per cent. over last year. Such is the conclusion, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture has arrived at from personal observation. While, as he says, the serious winter conditions did not permit the season to get off to a good start in the generally accepted agricultural sense, the backward spring was tempered with a good deal more moisture than usual. This fact to a large measure set off the adverse balance created by the hardest winter experienced for many years.

Better Than Ever.

"Late planting found the soil in such a condition that the crops responded in the most healthy manner and the stage in which the present warm spell caught them was most fortunate. Mr. Scott is a little apprehensive as to the effect of a long-continued hot, dry spell, declaring that a good rain now would if anything tend to raise the increase percentage yield above mentioned. At no time, as far as he remembers, have the hay and grain crops on the Saanich Peninsula given a better showing than they do to-day, while conditions generally have advanced encouragingly.

Fruits of Education.

As to the noticeable benefit of the educative systems promoted by the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Scott became at once enthused. On the Saanich Peninsula in particular there had been better farming methods employed. There had been a greater regard paid to the value of good seed. Much more intelligence had been employed in the preparation of the ground. The absence of slipshod methods in this most vital aspect of the agricultural industry was a good omen and he looked for still greater things from the study of the more scientific side.

Mustard—Cheap Seed.

There was still a note of warning to be sounded in the choice of seed. It was false economy indeed to go in for cheap seed. Inferior varieties were bound to contain alien matter and the presence still of wild mustard in many parts of the Saanich Peninsula was proof that this troublesome factor had not been entirely eradicated. With that small exception, however, the locality referred to held great promise for the best crop for many a year.

Gone to War.

In the region of Duncan there was the same report. All farms in operation were just smiling with their wealth of crop. This district of the Island, however, had been very hard hit in the matter of its men folk. So nobly had the Duncan locality responded to the call to arms that its reflection was found in the number of farms deserted. This was the more unfortunate in view of the fact that labor generally was so extremely scarce that it was a matter of impossibility to get the idle land under crop.

The largest agricultural community on Vancouver Island, the Comox and Courtenay districts, came in for special commendation from Mr. Scott, since there was a magnificent development of the dairy industry in addition to an expansion in the matter of hay and grain crops. The business of the creamery, too, had kept pace with the other branches of rural industry.

Splendid Response.

Speaking of the island crops as a whole Mr. Scott firmly believed that the outlook at the present time was a great tribute to the industry of the considerably weakened man power. It had gone to show that the farming communities were realizing that a great national duty rested upon their shoulders, they had gone to their increased tasks with a will.

The labor question was still a problem of considerable magnitude and it would require no small amount of organization among the farmers themselves to meet the difficulties ahead. Nevertheless, agricultural progress, with good profit in the offing, was usually productive of schemes equal to combating even so difficult a matter as labor shortage in the autumn of 1917.

WEALTH AND WASTE.

Rubbish-heaps and waste have provided the world with wealth in greater measure than the richest gold mines ever known.

The average person may be apt to regard the above statement more or less sceptically. Nevertheless, it can truthfully be said that when an article ceases to be of value for one thing it can be always converted into some use for another.

Every day millions of money are extracted from waste. The refuse and garbage of our towns are turned to good account. After the extraction of the grease by special process the residue dried and powdered makes a valuable fertilizer, which is sold at enormous profit to farmers. In London alone it is estimated that over a million tons of refuse are carted away every year.

Breadcrumbs are swept off tables and thrown to the sparrows or into the dustbins. If every family in London wastes only an ounce of crust and crumbs a week, the total amounts to 2,500 2-pound loaves, each costing 6d., of 42 10s. a week. For a year the waste would represent over 110 tons of bread!

The revenue from the Bradford Corporation's grease factory amounts to nearly £50,000 per annum. This sum represents what other people have thrown away. No less than 120 tons a week of valuable grease are extracted from the waste products in the wool industry.

Properly organized, every particle of house waste could be turned into money, and through money into usefulness. The city of Glasgow makes an income of £10,000 a year from fertilizers made from city waste.

Table Jelly From Old Boots. The United States imports £500,000 worth of waste rags annually, just to make writing paper. Until recently 1,400,000 tons of flax were burned or allowed to go to waste in the States every year, but now a process has been discovered whereby the flax can be used for making paper, with a consequent saving of nearly a million pounds per annum.

which, converted into glucose, is turned into spirit by a patent still.

If by any chance you should happen to be admiring some very fine carved marble, it would not strike you that the so-called marble might easily be sawdust! Wonderful imitations of valuable woods and marbles have been made from sawdust, and even experts have been deceived at first sight.

Spirit, too, can be made from sawdust. The blood of animals gives albumen, an indispensable factor in many industries. From its most beautiful buttons and other articles of adornment are made.

The toys one sees in shop windows are frequently manufactured from decayed meat, fish and fruit, whilst skin pulp is sold as sizing for paper, ivory, and horn.

The re-making of old clothes is one of the most prosperous industries in this country. Old suits are torn to pieces, the wool and the cotton being chemically separated. The wool is then washed, dried and re-spun, and made into a spick-and-span tailor-made suit.

Scrap leather is used for various purposes, including manure, the manufacture of heels, glue, dolls, children's shoes, washers, etc. Sometimes the greases and tanning materials contained in the leather are extracted to be used again. Burnt leather is a material much in demand for use in the "hardening" of metals.—Tit-Bits.

ONE FOR MISS PERKINS.

Young Miss Perkins, whose beauty is equal to her bluntness in conversation, was visiting at a house, where, among other guests, was the eldest son of a rich manufacturer, who was commonly looked upon as a very eligible husband.

The talk turned on matrimonial squabbles. Said the young man: "I hold that the correct thing for the husband is to begin as he intends to go on." "Say that the question was one of smoking. Almost immediately I would show my intentions by lighting a cigar and settling the question for ever."

"And I would knock the thing out of your mouth!" cried the imperious beauty.

CALLED AGAIN

The manager of a factory makes a practice of giving all his old clothes to one of the laborers, who is in poor circumstances.

A few months ago the manager told him to call at his office, as he had a cast-off waistcoat for him.

When he examined the gift at home he found in one of the pockets a ten-shilling note. "After a little study he decided to say nothing about it—just then, anyway. A month later he went up to the manager, and the following conversation took place:

"I've just called to tell you, sir, that in one of the pockets of that waistcoat you gave me a month ago I found a ten-shilling note."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the astonished manager; "and you mean to tell me, my good, honest workman, that you've brought the money back?"

"No, sir," answered the laborer, "not exactly. I've called for another waistcoat."

Nakusp Gets Constable enroute

Nakusp Gets Constable.—The town of Nakusp has again got a provincial constable, and the residents sleep easy o' nights. Since Constable J. M. Smith joined the pavy the town has been without an officer, and the destruction of the Rothwell residence brought matters to a climax. The Attorney-General was appealed to, and he responded by transferring Constable Morgan Pearson, a returned soldier, from Vancouver.

FLIERS' DECALOGUE

PENNY BY A YOUTH

Ten Commandments to Guide the British Naval Aviator on the Somme Front

At the conclusion of a day's aerial fighting on the Somme front a certain officer of the Navy-that-Flies was asked how he felt about it, writes a London correspondent of The New York Times.

"Wa-al," he drawled, and paused, growing in his mind for metaphor, "it's jest like stealing candy from a kid."

Making all allowances for poetic license, this is a very fair illustration of the spirit in which the Navy-that-Flies went about the business. On the other hand there were few who took a graver view of their responsibilities.

Among the possessions of one of the naval squadrons co-operating with the Army-that-Flies along the front is a foilscrip manuscript notebook bearing the superscription "Notes on Aerial Fighting." The youthful "author" of these notes will never handle pen again, but he has left behind him a document that is, in its way, one of the epics of war literature. It has since been printed (in expurgated form) and has doubtless found its way into textbooks and treatises on the subject. But to be appreciated to the full it should be read in the original round, rather boyish, handwriting, within hearing of the continuous murmur of the British guns and the drone of a scouting fighter passing overhead.

It contains ten commandments, which, for a variety of reasons, need not be recapitulated here. But the introduction epitomizes the spirit of them all.

"The man who gets most flummox in his lifetime is the man who observes these commandments and fights with his head. The others either get killed or get nerves in a very short time and the country does not get the full benefit of having trained them."

In Time of Trouble. The commandments conclude with the following exhortation: A very pleasant (sic) help in time of trouble is to put yourself in the enemy's place and view the situation from his point of view. If you feel frightened before an attack, just think how frightened he must be!"

The Navy-that-Flies possesses for its "pleasant" help an awesome volume of some 946 pages, (not counting addenda), entitled "The King's Regulations and Admiralty Instructions." Yet in all its pages there is not one clause which can compare with this leave sentence, for this is Youth speaking to Youth, for the guidance and comfort of his soul.

Now in one of the squadrons of the Navy-that-Flies there are three flight leaders, and the sum total of their ages is 59. The youngest, whatever his birth certificate may testify, looks something under 16. Of him it is related that in his early youth, having brought down a hostile machine within the British lines and captured the two occupants (with Iron Crosses complete), he approached a certain General, demanding transport for his prisoners—covering them with the while with an automatic pistol.

"Transport?" said the General. "Who do you want to take them?" "To my squadron headquarters," was the grave reply. "I'd like to keep 'em for a bit. I'd like the others to see 'em."

"Damn it," replied the General. "They ain't canaries. Certainly not. Send 'em to the cages with the rest of the prisoners," or words to that effect. The victor flew sorrowfully homeward and on arrival gave it as his opinion that professional jealousy was the ruin of the junior service.

They are not given to talking overmuch of their achievements, in the hearing of a stranger within their gates. The second youngest of the trio admitted, contemplating his cowhide boots, having "done-in" twelve hostile machines in single combat—and lapsed into agonized silence. "Of course," said the third, coming to the rescue of a comrade in palpable distress, "N., the star Frenchman, is the fellow to talk if you want to hear some good yarns."

WHITE-SWAN SOAP IS A HOME NECESSITY

W. J. Pendray & Sons Started Business Career in Victoria in 1875

"James Woolcock has been soap-maker for over thirty-three years with the firm of W. J. Pendray & Sons, Limited."

This is not an extract from the provincial archivist's records, but it might very well form a part of the history of the province, for in these days of keen business competition and larger opportunities for capable men it is somewhat noteworthy to find such a continuous record of faithful service. The firm started on its soap-making career as long ago as 1875, which is a little longer than most Victorians care to remember, although even at that early date some of the present prosperous firms saw the light and began their careers of industrial usefulness. The firm was established by the late W. J. Pendray, the initial enterprise, being carried on in a small wooden shed near the present Weller-Brogg factory on Humboldt Street. The business some years later was moved to the present location of the Empress Hotel laundry, and, when the site was sold for the purpose of building the big C. P. R. hotel the factory was moved eight years ago to Laurel Point, where, in conjunction with the British America Paint Co., it has three acres of land and admirable waterfront facilities.

The firm has manufactured "White Swan" products throughout its entire history, until the name is a household word throughout the whole of the western part of the Dominion. There is a warehouse at Vancouver and another at Calgary; two travelers work out of Vancouver and four in Alberta, and altogether there are over twenty-four on the payroll—a noteworthy part of Victoria's industrial population.

Naphtha Soap. One of the principal products is White Swan naphtha, used for laundry purposes, and possessing the desirable qualification that it makes soiled clothes specklessly white without boiling, while it does not injure the most delicate fabric. The fame of this particular brand has spread like wildfire over the west, and it is not surprising to hear the report of J. C. Pendray, the manager, himself a Victoria product, that the sales during the past year have increased by over fifty per cent.

There are three large vats, with capacities of 60,000, 40,000 and 20,000 respectively, and even with the continuous operation of these facilities it seems to be impossible to keep up with the orders, so great is the demand.

The firm has other specialties, such as White Swan washing powder, which already has pushed its way to the fore-ground; water-glass, for preserving eggs, now being sent out by the car-load; ammonia, another washing requisite; blue, for blueing clothes; washing soda; liquid soap, etc. Those residents of the Island who do not know that such things are made in their midst had better get busy right away, and it might also be well for them to discover the fact that these home-made products are far superior to the imported variety.

It is an important point to remember, too, that tallow contains glycerine such as is used in the manufacture of munitions, and as tallow enters largely into the manufacture of soap, every purchaser of soap is "doing his bit" towards the cause of the Allies.

A special thing in connection with White Swan manufacture is that the tallow is refined before the manufacturing process, and all impurities are then eliminated, instead of during the process, as with other brands. This is one of the little things that are not accounted of much importance by other manufacturers, but which are big factors in making the White Swan brand so pure and acceptable to the public—and, after all, that is the great thing. Alberta Business Grows. The firm also makes a "Pearl" brand for the hard water of Alberta—and for salt water, too, for the matter of that, for the ordinary soap will not lather in salt water, as many bathers know to their cost. The Alberta business of the firm, by the way, is growing by leaps and bounds. It is satisfactory, indeed, to find that a Victoria product has made such magnificent headway on the prairies.

The raw material comes from great distances—coconut oil from Australia, bean oil from China, resin from New Orleans, caustic soda from Great Britain and soda ash from England. These raw materials have tremendously advanced in price since the beginning of the war, owing to the lack of tonnage, and they are very difficult to get, even at that.

Mr. Pendray employs no Orientals—a fact to which he points with especial gratification. An important department of the soap factory should not be overlooked, viz., the printing of the labels and cardboard boxes. Four presses are in almost continuous operation, and some of the splendid color work that the firm turns out must be seen to be appreciated.

No house on Vancouver Island or in the west should be without the White Swan products. The argument that a product is home-made is not necessarily the last word on the subject, but when, in conjunction with the fact there is the additional advantage of quality and price, as in the case of the White Swan brand, nothing more need be said as to the desirability of the greatest possible patronage—and where should patronage begin, in that case, but at home.

SUNSHINE RECORD. Victoria Succeeds in Being Moderately Cool While Interior Points Suffer From Heat. If the forest fires in the district continue to postpone their annual outbreak and the weather continues in its present cheerful manner until the end of the month, July, 1917, will leave a record for itself as being one of the sunniest months in the history of Victoria. So far, from the 6th inst. up to the present, there has been hardly a fleck of cloud to interrupt the proceedings, and Mr. Denison at the Observatory reports an average well over 14 1/2 hours a day of unimpaired sunshine of the first AI Victoria quality.

Fortunately temperatures are not so easily moved up and down in Victoria as the variable weather-conditions might like, and despite the almost unparalleled record for the month to date the city and the Island generally is reveling in cool breezes while the people of the less fortunate interior are collapsing under heat that hovers round the 100-degree point. The highest point touched locally this month has been only 84. This was last Saturday. At Grand Forks there has already been experienced 100, and the mercury is still crawling up. The results will be rather serious in many places if the heat fails to abate. Last year July was even cooler in Victoria, the highest point touched being 79.5 on the next to the last day of the month.

The following is the weather report of the Victoria Observatory, Gonzales Heights, from July 11 to July 17, inclusive: Victoria—Total amount of bright sunshine, 102 hours; no rain; highest temperature, 81 on 14th; lowest, 48 on 11th; Vancouver—Total amount of bright

WOMEN AND GIRLS FOR SERVICE IN OKANAGAN

That the crops in the Okanagan Valley are going to be bumper ones is the report given to the Deputy Minister of Agriculture this morning. Mrs. J. C. Kemp, the secretary of the Fruit Registration Bureau, Carter Cotton Building, Vancouver, has just completed a visit of inspection of the whole district. Her mission has been largely concerned with the question of labor supply. Inquiries have enabled her to gauge the demand in the matter of volume, length of service, points of supply, the amount of wages paid and the accommodation in sight.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made for the harvesting of the crops of the valley by the employment of women and girls and while there is not an immediate demand for helpers there is already some work to be done. The middle of August is the time set for work to be commenced in earnest. From that time on until the middle of November the harvesting of the main crops will require all the available help that can be secured.

In order to avoid confusion the labor situation is being dealt with from Mrs. Kemp's office in Vancouver and the Victoria registry will conduct its arrangements in harmony with the mainland central office. Applications should be sent into the local office, when due representation will be secured for this city by joint action.

In view of the fact that the raspberry crop in the Hammond, Hatzid and Mission districts is at its height, those women and girls who are anxious to get into harness right away may be engaged for this work immediately and then be transferred to the Okanagan Valley as soon as the raspberry season comes to an end. Labor is urgently needed for the berry crop so that there should be no difficulty in finding billets.

MANY CAMPERS NOW RUSTICATE AT THE SUMMER RESORTS

Cordova Bay is Favorite Haunt For Those Fond of Beach

Only recently a tourist from the Californian orchards of the south paid Victoria a visit and being greatly attracted by the city itself determined to prolong his sojourn...

The stranger was warmly much impressed, remarking that his knowledge of Victoria, by hearsay and what he had read on many occasions...

Not only do American travelers from the south voice the praises of Victoria's beaches. Not even the old-time rivalry between this city and Vancouver could prevent one of the University berry-pickers from remarking...

At Cordova Bay the number of cottages that have been taken for the summer compares very favorably with that of last year, although the renting of them in reality did not commence till the first week of July...

On arrival at the Bay one is immediately informed by the signs which confront the visitor that all his wants will find ready attention. Four tea rooms are there to cater to his wants...

Cordova Bay is unlimited in the attractions it offers. Not only for a week-end picnic but for summer camps its situation is most advantageous...

What a variety of pleasures are there at hand for the youth who is impatient to expend that surplus energy that even recent examinations have not been able to exhaust?

No greater can be found than a bay no greater swimming pool can be found than a bay such as Cordova on a bright afternoon when bathers of all ages are out fropping...

Added to all these inducements to camp life in the vicinity of Mount Douglas can be mentioned the fact that all the wants of the model housewife in a summer cottage are supplied at the very door...

Last but by no means least in importance of the factors that add greatly to the popularity of Cordova is its ease of access. One may reach it from the city in a very short time either by bus or rail. The Canadian Northern line which was recently opened for both passenger and freight traffic from Alpha Street in the Burnside district to Patricia Bay passes within a few hundred yards of the Bay...

Those who prefer to travel by bus may also be accommodated, as several lines ply between the city and the environs of Mount Douglas. Travel until recently has been decidedly light. But since the advent of the holidays it increased...

Many Families There. Among these Victorians who with their families and friends are now rustivating at Cordova are: Mr. Carter, of the Carter Electric Company, Mr. McNeil, of the Acme Press, A. A. Aaronson, Dr. Ernest Hall, Dr. S. G. Clemence, Carl Pendray, H. F. Norris, C. W. Bradshaw, Charles Richardson, R. Hetherington, Mr. Gibbs, of the B. & K. Milling Company, Mr. Yule, F. J. Norris, P. BAPCO PRODUCTS LEADING THE WAY An Industry That Has Developed Into a Very Important Institution

When entering Victoria Harbor on the extremely comfortable steamer Princess Adelaide one of the most prominent features of the landscape is the factory of the British American Paint Company, decorated here and there with the conglomerate word "Bapco," which is readily discovered by those with strong detective instincts as being derived from the initials of the firm.

Upon being asked the usual question, "How is business?" Mr. J. C. Pendray, the managing director of the company, replied with a quizzical smile, "Well, I should reply with the optimistic slogan, 'Business as usual,' but while we are not living up to our record of four carloads a day, I certainly do not see anything disheartening in the situation. Our products are marketed in such a wide territory that we are not, probably, affected so much as a strictly local concern would be. Our factory has run full time all summer and the hard situation has simply developed in us a determination to get a bigger share of the business that is left, and to do our share toward showing that Western Canada's industries can well take care of Western Canada's needs." With a chuckle he ended. He is young and enthusiastic, this Mr. J. C. Pendray, a Western Canadian born and bred.

Materials From All Quarters. When Mr. H. J. Pendray was asked if the visitors could see the making of paint from the beginning to the end, he smiled. "The real beginning, I fear, would be a wide quest for you," he said. "The raw materials from which we make our paints and varnishes are drawn from the four quarters of the world. We get our umbers from Turkey, siennas, from Italy, and ochres from Southern France, but they are all neutral on our dock. Lead and linseed oil are home (Canadian) productions. There are several colors we get from England. We call on the Southern States for turpentine, while China furnishes various oils. Most of the gums for varnishes are supplied by New Zealand, though some are from the Philippine Islands, the coast of Africa and other gum-producing places. You see that many men of many complexions labor before we can furnish you paint for your house and varnish for your floors."

Massive Machinery. Passing into the factory proper, there is an impression of massive, ponderous machinery, driven with tireless energy, crunching and grinding, stirring and mixing the materials so that they will flow smoothly under the painter's brush. One of the most interesting machines is a huge sort of dishpan in which a grindstone goes round and round. "The chaser weighs a ton and a half," said Mr. Pendray, meaning the grindstone. "We get our lead in powdered form. It is put in here with the proper amount of oil. The oil and lead must be thoroughly amalgamated and the machine mashes it properly. It then passes through grinders, etc., through the floor to the coolers in the room below, where it is drawn off in tins for shipment." The dry color room is next. Here is the practical application of the test tubes in the laboratory above. Here are made chrome yellows, blues, greens and vermillions from chemicals.

Manufacturing Colors. "We do not import all our colors; we manufacture some." He picked up two test tubes, each containing a colorless liquid, and poured the contents of one into the other—the result, a deep, rich yellow. "That is," he said, "chrome yellow formed by bi-carbonate of soda and nitrate of lead." He exemplified the formation of a blue. "Sulphate of iron and potassium ferricyanide. That followed a green, and he quickly ran the gamut of all the shades of the various colors. "Our color room is simply the best tubes magnified a thousand times," he added. Adjoining the chemical laboratory is the factory office. If the main office is the head, here is the heart of the work. Every department of the factory is linked to this office. Not only this, but the reports of the branches of Vancouver, Calgary and Edmonton are centered here. Records are in such shape that J. C. Pendray has at his fingers ends the activities of each department and the movements of goods at the various warehouses.

Great Iron Mixers. In the ready mixed paint department are the big vats, with great iron mixers, ceaselessly stirring, blending pigment with oil to the proper consistency. The paint here passes through screens to the floor below, where it is canned ready for labelling. Ventilated rooms are devoted to the tin department and the printing department, respectively. "They are necessary adjuncts of our business," said Mr. Pendray. "There are so many items in their lines that when we want them we wait them at once, and can't be hampered by delays. We make most of our cans, and do practically all our printing. Even our color cards, that formerly we were compelled to send East for, we now do at home. What printing and lithographing we send out is done in the West. Western artists make our drawings, Western engravers our plates, and so on down the line." The varnish department is a factory itself. It comprises a group of buildings somewhat isolated. Here is a contrast. No whirling wheels or powerful machinery greet the eye. Paint may love the force of pounding and grinding machinery, but varnish must be wooed by the warm charms of fire and steam. The varnish gums are cooked in huge kettles over open fires, at a high temperature. They are then stored in iron tanks to age. Linseed oil is boiled in great tanks of half a carload capacity. Three days are allowed for boiling when it is pumped into the settling tanks. There is, seemingly, nothing to look at but vast numbers of huge tanks and a maze of pipes. Through these pipes the oil or varnish is pumped to its allotted receptacle, or flows by gravity to its resting place. It is only after a visit to the varnish maker's room, where the repeated "ribbings" and tests are made that the utmost care and delicate precision is realized that must be exercised in this silent working of fire and steam on gums and oils.

Lacquer for Salmon Cans. Lacquer is made in large quantities. "Practically all the lacquer used in coloring the salmon cans of B. C. is made here," said Mr. Pendray. "The manufacture of printing ink is one of our latest adventures, and for which we are finding a responsive market. B. C. papers are generally loyal to B. C. products," he concluded. "The warehousing and storage facilities are very ample. The docks are large enough to accommodate a shipload of material, and there is generally some boat from the Sound or up the Coast loading or unloading. The British America Paint Co., Limited, was established in 1906, buying out the Canada Paint Co. interests in the West. The brothers Pendray went to work in the factory when quite young, and have practically grown up in it. They absorbed the details of the business at an enthusiastic and impressionable age, and have now taken full charge. Mr. J. C. Pendray has been president and general manager since the incorporation. Mr. H. J. Pendray is secretary-treasurer and superintendent of the factory. The office and warehouse at Vancouver have been maintained from the beginning. Later a warehouse was established in Calgary for better service to customers in Alberta. This growing satisfactory and trade increasing rapidly, a warehouse was located at Edmonton. These distributing facilities are a great factor in the development of the business of the company. The British America Paint Co., Ltd., is a Western concern that is well equipped to supply Western needs. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Agen and Miss Florence Agen, of Seattle, are staying at the Empress Hotel.

ARE PREPARED TO UNDERTAKE BUILDING OF MAIN ENGINES

Coast Plants Want Investment Covering Installation of New Equipment Protected

While no contracts have yet been placed with British Columbia machinery plants for the construction of main engines for the Government steamers building on this coast there is still a possibility that one of even two firms may undertake the manufacture of the engine. In figuring on these engines the British Columbia firms are faced with the prospect of having to install additional costly machinery without the investment being protected by the contract.

Could Do Work.

There is no question that the British Columbia plants could build these engines as efficiently and as rapidly as they could be turned out by the older established plants in Eastern Canada, but in view of the prevailing unsettled conditions of both labor and material, the coast plants do not feel justified in entering on contracts at a fixed price and containing penalties for late delivery and no protection against strikes.

Messrs. R. R. Gray Chisholm and T. A. Russell, representatives of the British Ministry of Shipping and Imperial Munitions Board, respectively, who, while on this coast, virtually awarded contracts for the manufacture of steam winches and other auxiliary gear which will mean the initial expenditure of nearly half a million dollars on the coast, are now on their way back East via Prince Rupert.

Contracts Expected.

It was officially stated by these gentlemen before leaving that the great majority of articles required for the outfitting of the wooden steamers would be secured in British Columbia, and that when details were completed, the orders would be placed through the local office of the Imperial Munitions Board. It was realized that the manufacture of the main engines presented the greatest problem, owing to the size of the machine-tool equipment required for its production, but they expected that one, or perhaps two firms, would undertake the construction of the engine on the coast and thus preserve the way for future developments. Up to the present time, however, no agreement has been reached with the British Columbia Metal Trades Association for the construction of main engines on this coast.

Norman Yarrow, manager of Yarrow, Ltd., Esquimalt, while appreciating the courtesy extended to his firm by Messrs. Chisholm and Russell, who used every means within their authority to arrive at a satisfactory agreement, says that it is regrettable that no contracts for main engines were placed here prior to the departure of the Munition Board's representatives for the East. It was not due to the lack of facilities of the engineering plants, but due to the terms offered.

"Under the prevailing unsettled conditions of both labor and material," said Mr. Yarrow, "our firm does not feel justified in accepting large contracts at a fixed price containing penalties clauses for late delivery and no protection against strikes, which contracts involve a large sum of money and extend over a lengthy period of time."

"We are prepared to start immediately and energetically, guaranteeing due diligence, with the construction of some of the main engines required on the same conditions of contract as engines are at present being built in England for the Imperial Government.

Expend Large Sums.

"In order to cope with the work of constructing main engines in the time required, we should have to expend a sum between $35,000 and $40,000 for new shop and machinery equipment."

"Should any unforeseen delays occur during the course of the work, the presumed profit on the contract would be a great extent lost, due to the heavy charges for late delivery resulting from the delay. The profit, only being looked for in the event of expenses of the additional necessary equipment."

"When the main engine work is completed, we should have a shop and equipment on hand, the profits on the main engine contract having paid but little towards it, and probably not sufficient other work to justify the addition, which would then result in an increased overhead expense, and it is doubtful whether we could get as much as 50 per cent of what we paid for the machinery, remembering that now is the most expensive time to purchase equipment."

"I am confident that some of the main engines could be built in British Columbia as efficiently and as rapidly as same could be built in Eastern Canada, and it is only a matter of the adoption of satisfactory terms to meet the prevailing unsettled conditions, to see the British Columbia engineering shops humming with activity in constructing some of the main engines for the local vessels now building."

Boiler Contracts.

In connection with the Munition Board's programme for this coast, it is understood that a large proportion of the boiler contracts will be placed out here. The Victoria Machinery Depot proposes to undertake boiler construction on a large scale. C. J. V. Spratt,

HOLT LINE CHARTERS TONNAGE FOR PACIFIC

Last of Regular Blue Funnel Liners Puts to Sea To-day From Nanaimo

With the departure of a 6,000-ton liner from Nanaimo to-day the last of the regular ships of the Blue Funnel Line has been temporarily removed from the trans-Pacific trade.

For the purpose of taking care of its Pacific business the Blue Funnel Line, through Dredwell & Co., North Pacific agents, has already chartered a couple of steamers which will be loaded with freight on this coast for delivery in the Orient. One of these vessels is a neutral, the Swedish steamer Nippon, chartered by the Swedish East Asiatic Company, but the destination of this freighter is as yet indefinite, as the agents have not been notified regarding her future movements. At the present time the Nippon is loading cargo on Puget Sound.

The other chartered vessel is now crossing the ocean, and with her arrival on this side she will be loaded direct for Oriental ports.

As a sort of stop-gap, the company has been chartering space aboard vessels operating in the trans-Pacific trade. The steel sternwheeler recently completed by Yarrow, Ltd., of Esquimalt, the delivery of which was entrusted with the Blue Funnel Line, was shipped to the Orient by the motor-ship George Washington.

Local importers are informed by the local agents that the Victoria freight liner is fully due here from Seattle, approximately 200 tons having been shipped on the Star Steamship Company's freighter Rapid Transit.

This freight was to have been delivered here by the Border Line motor vessel Wakana, but was delayed owing to the stranding of that vessel. Repairs are now being made to the Wakana, and it is expected that she will again be in commission this week-end.

CASE OF BLUE FUNNEL MASTER RECONSIDERED

Admiralty Again Decides to Issue Secret Orders to Capt. James Riepenhausen

Liverpool, July 19.—After refusing for nine months to issue their secret orders to Capt. James Riepenhausen, the Blue Funnel Line, on account of his ancestry, the Admiralty have now changed their minds.

Capt. Riepenhausen is again to receive the official confidential instructions without which no captain can now take a ship to sea, and will shortly command a new ship.

When the case was discussed in the House of Commons it was pointed out on behalf of the Admiralty that the instructions could only be issued to masters who were British subjects, and were the sons of parents who, at the time of the son's birth, were themselves British subjects by birth or naturalization.

Capt. Riepenhausen, a master mariner in the service of Messrs. Alfred Holt & Co. of Liverpool for ten years, was born in Scotland. His father was born in Hanover a few weeks after Hanover was separated from Great Britain.

At the age of 12 the father settled in Scotland, became a merchant, captain, was naturalized and married a Scotswoman.

Until May, 1915, Capt. Riepenhausen received the Admiralty instructions without question.

Capt. Riepenhausen is well-known in Victoria. For a number of years he commanded Blue Funnel ships plying in the British Columbia service, last being with the steamship Ixion, which vessel he brought out on her maiden voyage.

HOSPITAL PT. WHARF NOW BEING UTILIZED

Giant Derrick Handling Lumber for Ships to Be Built by Foundation Company

The area south of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway bridge is now being utilized by the Foundation Company, Ltd., as an assembling ground for the lumber to be used in the construction of wooden steamers, five of which are to be built by this concern at its local yard south of the bridge. At this point a giant steam-operated derrick has been erected and is now engaged in removing the lumber from the scows and hoisting it to the top of the rocky knoll from where it is conveyed on a specially-constructed runway by means of rollers to the level ground below, where it is skidded into the desired location pending removal to the shipyard proper by a narrow-gauge railway.

Lumber is now being handled here in large quantities and new stocks of shipping material are continually assuming shape on the old Indian Reserve.

Now that the Cameron Genes Mills Shipyards, Ltd., have started the ball rolling by laying the first keel at the Point Ellice plant, it is understood that the Foundation Company is preparing to get down to the actual construction of ships. The plant is in shape to go ahead with the contract at any time, although additional machinery has yet to be installed, and the keels are on the site.

JAPANESE LINER DETAINED BY FOG

N. Y. K. Ship Held Off Swiftsure Bank on Completing Voyage From Orient

Heavy fog off the entrance to the Straits of Juan de Fuca held one of the mail-liners of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha outside the Cape this morning with the result that the steamship will be several hours behind schedule in reaching port from the Orient.

Up to noon the steamship had not been reported passing in the Straits, but as there is a possibility that she may have slipped through a break in the fog without being sighted, her arrival is expected this afternoon. Completing a fifteen-day run from Yokohama the liner was off Swiftsure Bank at an early hour this morning, further progress being barred by the dense atmosphere which completely obliterated the entrance to the Straits.

The captain of the Japanese ship refused to take any chances by running the gauntlet, and after cruising slowly around in the open for 4 1/2 hours he commanded to anchorage off Swiftsure. Wireless messages received by the agents yesterday stated that the ship would reach William Head at 9 o'clock this morning, but at that time the possibilities of delay through fog had not been taken into consideration.

Owing to the delay the Japanese boat will not be able to reach Seattle until tomorrow, as it is improbable that she will be in a position to leave here for the Sound to-night. The liner has 589 tons of general Oriental freight for discharge at this port, part of which is consigned to Vancouver. Included in the 5,500-ton cargo for the United States is a valuable consignment of raw silk manifested to New York. There are 204 passengers on board, and of this number 100 will disembark here. The next outbound liner of this fleet destined for the Orient will sail on Saturday.

DRY SQUAD MAKES BIG HAUL OF SAKI

Beer, whisky and salt that had not been put under customs seals was seized on Tuesday night in the cabin of a Japanese tramp steamer at Tacoma.

The raid was made after a longshoreman, who had become drunk on saki, had been located by the police. Quantities of saki under bond for shipment to Vancouver were included in the ship's cargo, and some of this had been removed from bond or broken.

PREPARING TO RESUME

The C. P. R. steamer Princess May is preparing to resume service to Northern British Columbia. She will leave here early next week for the mainland and is due to clear from Prince Rupert and Anxox. The triangular service of the C. P. R. will be resumed on Saturday.

CRICKET MATCH GOES TO PRESIDENT'S TEAM

A. Askey Performed Hat-Trick; Allen Played Nice Innings; Interesting Game

The cricket match played yesterday at the Jubilee Hospital grounds between two picked teams captained by the president and secretary of the Victoria and District Cricket Association, fully realized expectations regarding the interesting contest that would result. The president's eleven won by 131 to 85.

Considering that the match was played in mid-week and not on Saturday as usual, the attendance was very gratifying and a nice little sum was realized for the fund of the I. O. D. E., designed to purchase sporting equipment for the boys at the front, the good work benefiting to the extent of approximately $12.50, the amount being raised by contributions on the field.

Allen made by far the highest score of the match and played very fine cricket for his 65. Another notable performance was that of the hat-trick by Askey with the assistance of Davies, Hill and Payne who each, in succession, held a catch of three consecutive balls from the Garrison bowler. Davies played a creditable game, giving only 26 for two wickets and making 22 runs. The only other batters whose scores ran into double figures were Patten and Welch. The former made 23 and the latter 16. Following is the full score:

BANTAMWEIGHT CHAMP. GIVEN OPPORTUNITY

George Thompson, who is about as well-known and as popular as Charlie Chaplin on the Pacific Coast, has found an opportunity. He is negotiating with John Wagner, the Racine promoter, for a match with Joe Burman, the Chicago sensational bantamweight, who has scored nineteen knockouts in thirty-five battles in the East.

It took Thompson many months to be able to pick a scrap. Incidentally he is the undefeated bantamweight champion of the Pacific Coast. In sixty battles he has never met his superior, and he has met the best of them in the West. Whenever one of the boys on the Coast is convinced that he ought to wear the bantamweight crown, George makes him think he is mistaken.

So Thompson went to Chicago, where he tried his hardest to arrange for bouts with the best bantams in the country. But managers had heard of the West Coast boy, who is probably the speediest batter in the ring, and refused to recognize his demands. Chicagoans think, however, that George has in Joe Burman a nut he cannot crack.

"After I meet Burman I am going to challenge the whole bunch over again," said Thompson. "I should like to meet the winner between Johnny Ertle and Young Smokey. Give me a chance to show what I can do, and I'll be the world's bantamweight champion."

JOHNSON EXONERATES BAKER FROM CHARGE

Chicago, July 19.—J. Franklin Baker, third baseman with the New-York Americans, was exonerated of alleged tampering charges by President Johnson of the American League, last night.

Baker, in a letter to the league executive, denied that he had attempted to induce Pitcher Allen Sothern, of the St. Louis Club, to desert organized baseball. On the contrary, he said, he had advised the young pitcher to remain with St. Louis.

COLONIST, WITH AID, PERMITTED TO WIN

The Colonist's previous experience with the Times ball-losers evidently imbued them with a hearty respect for the baseball prowess of their rivals, for, to avoid the defeat which they knew to be inevitable if they confined the personnel of their team to lead slingers, they slipped over a crack High School boy as a pitcher.

Righteous indignation alone at this reprehensible action caused The Times to bat him all over the lot for six runs, and pity evoked at the heart-rending disappointment emanating in simple, child-like frankness from the faces of their rivals, actuated them in easing up and permitting their opponents to gather ten runs in the last innings. The final score was 10 to 7, not as it was reported elsewhere in a report that mental chaos following intense jubilation over such a victory fails to excuse in the smallest degree.

PLAY AT ROYAL ATHLETIC.

The baseball game that was to have been played at Beacon Hill between the Colonists and the Metropolis to-night at 8.30 has been switched to the Royal Athletic Park diamond. The change is a welcome one because that is undoubtedly the best field in town and the calibre of play ought to be improved accordingly.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.

There will be a meet of the Equimant Gun Club of Sunday morning next at the club grounds, Admiral's Road at 10 o'clock. The club issues a general invitation to anyone interested to put in a little practice with the clay pigeons. Shells will be provided on the grounds.

CHICAGO AND BOSTON IN CRUCIAL SERIES

With a rift of twenty-one points separating them from the Red Sox, the Chicago White Sox were able to take only a breath yesterday before they entered what undoubtedly is their hardest series to date. To-day they will take on the Boston bunch, who simply refuse to be counted out of the race.

Completely ignoring the fact that more than once they have been more than sixty points in the rear, the champions have simply refused to let go. Several times when the pitchers seemed to be faltering it appeared to be only a question of how much Charles Comiskey would charge for the world's series seats, but each time the White Sox have allowed the gap to be narrowed.

The White Sox got an even break when they met the Red Sox on the Boston grounds. If they can hold on to their scant lead until the Barry minions hit Chicago they should go into the coming series with more confidence than when they met the champions at Fenway Park. The fact that the Browns have given the Red Sox a terrible taste in the series they are just completing doesn't speak well for the scoring-ability of the Boston band.

TY SETS REMARKABLE RECORD IN BASEBALL

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—Ty Cobb, since joining the Tigers on August 30, 1905, has up to July 11, hit for the grand average of .370. During that period he has on 49 occasions scored four-hits in one game. One of these was in the world's series against the Cubs, when he obtained four hits off Pitcher Peister. On four occasions he has scored five hits in a game.

He has taken part in 1,630 games, and in only 36 of these has he gone hitless, while he has 674 thefts to his credit. He has been to bat 4,988 times, scored 1,187 runs, and connected for 2,254 hits. Of the latter 354 were doubles, 177 triples and 69 home runs, for the total of 2,137 bases.

VICTORIA GUN CLUB SHOOT NEXT SUNDAY

The Victoria Gun Club will hold its second shoot of the season next Sunday, the 22nd instant at the club grounds, Colwood, near Florence Lake. The second and third legs of the DuPont Trophy and the second leg of the Womera wrist watch will be completed, and there will also be practice shooting open to all. Shooting will commence at about 11 a. m., and continue all day. Shells can be procured on the grounds as usual.

PHILLIES TIPPING SIGNALS?

There is an interesting little argument going on behind the scenes in the National League. Some time ago Manager Mitchell, of the Cubs, is said to have told a story concerning the Phillies. According to this story the latter team, when on its home ground is employing signal tipping methods. Some quote Mitchell as saying that Chief Bender, behind a partition in center field, has been spotting the catcher's signals with the aid of field glasses and has been tipping off the Philadelphia batsmen by moving a letter or number in the fence. A great many people regard the yarn as just loose talk, but there are others who want the matter investigated.

APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS AND PRUNES

Are The Four Fruits Used in Making "Fruit-a-tives"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good." On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives" is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ARIZONA NOW HAS BASEBALL STRIKE

Raiding by outlaw Arizona ball teams upon the Pacific Coast League came to a sudden halt at Los Angeles yesterday when players were warned they might be used as "strike-breakers" in border mining towns. Jack Ryan, veteran pitcher of the Los Angeles Club, who had signed with the Ray Club, experienced such a change of heart to-day and patched up his differences with Manager Killifer and Owner Powers. According to reliable authority, Ryan had already purchased his ticket to Ray; strike possibilities loomed too threateningly.

According to word reaching Los Angeles, Bert Whaling, well-known in the Pacific Coast and National Leagues as a catcher for Vernon and Boston, ordered the Bisbee team out on strike with the miners there.

Smelter companies at Hayden, Ray, Bisbee and other Copper Queen mines are behind the ball teams. Players are given nominal positions to fill during the week days, but are at liberty on days games are played.

CHAMPIONS MEET.

Milton Harnden, the Ferndale grappler, who holds the world's lightweight wrestling title, and Walter Miller, world's champion middleweight, will meet at Bellingham July 25 in a match for the middleweight crown. This is the second meeting between these wrestlers, Miller winning a decision after two hours and fifteen minutes of wrestling. Miller has agreed to make 145 pounds ringside while Harnden probably will weigh about 140 pounds.

CONGOS' TEAM.

The following team has been selected to play for the Congressional 'C' in their league match against the Navy at the Canteen grounds on Saturday: W. Speak, C. Speak, J. Collett, T. Howland, G. Silburn, J. Lomas, G. Austin, J. Eason, E. R. Lock, J. Fuller and E. Cull. Reserves: H. Moulton and G. Baker.

FIGHT DRAW BUT CAMPI HAS SHADE

Harry Anderson Makes Clever Californian Step Lively 'All the Way'

Vancouver, July 19.—Eddie Campi, the little wizard from California, shaded Harry Anderson, of Vancouver, in the main bout of a tournament on Wednesday night at Seattle, but Dan Salt's bantam could not pile up enough points to gain a clear decision. Campi showed the same wonderful cleverness and speed of former contests, but the Seattle boy met him half way. Campi's lightning jabs found their mark often on Anderson's features, but Harry retaliated with a few stiff blows and was in the milling all the time. The bout was a whirlwind affair, as a bout usually is when Eddie Campi is one of the opponents, and everybody went away pleased with the finish.

Dick Wells, the sturdy batter from Cincinnati, bested Sid Mitchell, the pride of the Antipodes, in a mill filled with action mainly because of his work in the first round. This bout made a great hit with the fans, as the boys were active from bell to bell. Lloyd Madden showed much of his old-time form when he gained a shade over Lonnie McIntosh, the rangy S. A. C. graduate, after a good contest. The Frankie Sanders-Charley Givens bout did not live up to expectations, the boys failing to show much action. It was an even thing all the way. Frankie Rogers slipped the "K.C." to Red Murray in the third round of the curtain-raiser, Murray getting enough of Rogers's game before the third session was finished.

BREWING OF BEER TO BE INCREASED

Chancellor of Exchequer Announces Permission to Add One-Third of Amount for This Quarter.

London, July 5.—Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons to-day that the Government had decided to permit the brewing during the quarter ending September 30 next of an additional amount of beer not exceeding 2 1/2 per cent. of the amount allowed for that quarter. This action, he said, was taken owing to the greater consumption during the summer months and the difficulties caused by shortage in large centres of population and in the counties where crops are being harvested.

MINISTER ADDRESSES LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

"Conservation of Life" Discussed by Hon. Dr. MacLean at Luncheon

Declaring that the needless deaths in peace time exceed those caused directly by war, the Hon. Dr. MacLean, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education in the course of an inspiring address delivered before the Victoria Rotary Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day impressed his hearers with the importance attached to the movement for the conservation of life that is being discussed over the whole North American Continent.

"It is natural," said the doctor, "that the world should to-day be interested in this great movement. So much life is being destroyed; so many men are being sacrificed on the fields of battle that we at home would be failing in our duty to the nation did we not give this question our most earnest consideration. Figures show us that there are eight deaths each hour as a result of the European conflict, yet you will be surprised when I say that twelve deaths are recorded each hour as a result of preventable diseases."

Commenting also, he referred to the great advances that have been made in science toward the extermination of many destructive diseases. He pointed out that in ancient times more soldiers perished with death as a result of disease than those who gave up their lives at the mouths of the enemies' guns. To-day, however, only one out of every fifteen deaths that occur in the armies of Europe is traceable to sources of contagion.

Starting Figures. "Yet," declared the Minister, "in spite of what has been done there is more to be accomplished. In Great Britain in 1915 out of 300,000 births, 100,000 infants died before attaining the age of one year. Sir William Osler who might well be termed the Dean of the British medical profession, has said that out of that 100,000, 30,000 have been the victims of inheritable transmissible diseases. What is our remedy for this? Greater education. There must be a closer understanding between fathers and sons and between mothers and daughters in order that the young generations may fully understand the obligations resting upon them to become physically sound and healthy citizens."

The speaker then proceeded to show by statistics that much of the infant mortality of the world is directly traceable to home surroundings. And he pointed out that it, therefore, falls upon intelligent people as a duty to work unceasingly until conditions are made such in the homes of the nation that the environment of the youth shall be only such as shall be beneficial to his development as a healthy member of society.

Alderman Peden, introducing the subject of Dr. MacLean's address, called attention to the fact that Victoria is practically the only city of any size in this part of the continent that has not been an active factor in conservation of life work. He stated that the league was only in its infancy in the city, but that its effect would soon be felt if it were supported by the citizens as he was sure it would be. He concluded with the assertion that in a week's time he expected to see every member of the Rotary Club affiliated with the conservation of life movement.

ST. JOHN'S S. PICNIC

Annual Outing Took Place at Goldstream; Happy Event Attended by 200.

The annual picnic of St. John's Sunday School took place on Tuesday in brilliant weather, the place visited being Goldstream. To carry the party numbering some 200, a special train was chartered, and a start was made from the E. & N. station at 9:30 a.m. Goldstream was reached about 10 o'clock and the party dispersed to find recreation and rest in various directions. After lunch an excellent programme of sports was gone through, into the spirit of which both children and grown-ups entered with the utmost keenness, the heat of the day notwithstanding.

A hearty meal was served in the pavilion at 4 p.m., followed by the distribution of the prizes, and the return train left for Victoria at 7 p.m., bearing its crowd of tired but happy youngsters and adults. It was pronounced on all hands to be one of the best picnics St. John's has ever had, and best thanks are due to the band of devoted workers as well as to all those who so generously contributed to the funds.

NEW FOLDER

Victoria and Island Development Association Issues Pamphlet on Victoria for Visitors.

The Victoria and Island Development Association has just issued a new folder, "What to See and Do in Victoria," with a visitors' daily programme, printed in red and black lettering.

It contains a sketch map which appears to have escaped revision, as no indication of the new paved road to Mount Douglas Park appears, and the car line on Cook Street leading to the Fairfield and Hollywood districts is omitted.

The pamphlet was put in the hands of the printer before the present Commissioner took office, and he will doubtless overhaul it before the whole edition is printed.

ACCEPT INVITATION TO ATTEND MEETING

City Council and Other Public Bodies Will Listen to Speeches

A number of public bodies have been invited to attend the public meeting to-night at the auditorium of the Girls' Central School under the auspices of the Household Economics Committee of the Local Council of Women. The Mayor and Council have accepted the invitation and it is expected that the meeting will be a representative one.

Addresses are to be given on a number of phases of the food conservation question, especially in regard to its application locally. A number of well-known economists and students of the food conservation question have promised to speak.

Anti-Waste Army
It is interesting in this connection to see that the officers of Winnipeg's new Anti-Waste Army have pledged themselves to:

- Conduct a campaign in thrift in dress.
- Barter handkerchiefs this summer to save on blouses.
- Carry small parcels from stores.
- Abolish trails in dress.
- Wear cheap, substantial footwear.
- Break up the egg combine.
- Keep tabs on garbage cans.
- Give up automobiles to save gasoline.
- Be an expensive candy because of Britain's need of sugar.
- Agitate for abolishment of gambling in wheat.
- Refuse to eat veal and lamb.
- Garden instead of golf; grow food on vacant lots.
- Appeal to the government for appointment of a food controller.
- Cut out ice, cream and cake.
- Stop ordering food by phone.
- Form clubs for purpose of preserving fruits and vegetables.
- Wage war on elaborate hotel menus.
- Buy standard instead of fancy leaves of bread.

Petition Government to permit sale of oleomargarine.

Urge Government to mobilize Canada's food supply, establishing a central control to govern prices.

Appeal to Ottawa to establish Government abattoirs and cold storage plants, or if private ownership is continued, to limit by statute the period of storage.

Demand a reduction to the lowest minimum of the amount of grain used in breweries and distilleries.

Limit the amount of white or patent flour which may be milled from wheat.

Organized Campaign.
Four hundred housewives of Winnipeg met last Friday afternoon to discuss ways and means of entering on an organized campaign against extravagance and wastefulness in the homes of Winnipeg. The Winnipeg Daily Press has been enlisted, and "Food Saving Hints," "Random Shrapnel" by Advance Guard, "Shrapnel" which come in the "Anti-Waste Army" column.

Each of the four hundred recruits who flocked to the banner last week was commended to start out the following day to get further recruits. The forces of wastefulness are destined to defeat. Mrs. W. S. Hamilton is organizer in chief with the rank of field marshal, and Miss Cornell and Mrs. Campbell as her aide-de-camp and a lieutenant-colonel respectively, are marshalling the women to the standard.

CALL FOR HELP

Prairie People Appeal to the Agricultural Department; Difficulties of This Province Pointed Out.

The Agricultural Department of the Provincial Government has received an impassioned appeal for labor to help to garner in the crops of the prairies. There is feared a great shortage and a consequent loss of crop.

While the Deputy Minister in his reply has sympathized with the prairie people, he has pointed out the fact that the situation in this province in the same connection is one attended by numerous problems, the only solution of which so far has been the continued increase in the number of women and girls enrolled for "war service."

While it is expected that there will be a small exit to the prairie provinces the idea was generally discouraged and the hint given to the inquiries that any labor taken from British Columbia would add to an already complex situation facing the farmers of this part of the Dominion.

USEFUL SAVING
Recent By-election Cost Compares Very Favorably With That of Last Year.

In compliance with the statute, E. J. Bawden, returning officer, in the recent by-election, has handed to Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, a certificate of the re-election.

The cost of the election was $2,944.75, and with the fees to the Returning officer and election clerk the total amount spent on the election was 2,504.75.

This may be fairly compared with the by-election held on March 4, 1916, when another Minister of Finance was the candidate of the then Government in opposition to the present Premier. On that occasion the expenses amounted to $3,444.57, so that in the present case the saving effected has been $860.22.

NEW ARRIVAL Moire Underskirts at The Beehive.

RELIGION AND LABOR PITCH VOICE BATTLE

Street Worshippers Said to Interfere With Deliberations of Laborites

When a representative from the Trades and Labor Council waited upon an official at the Strangers' Rest recently in an endeavor to come to some arrangement for the exposure of the Gospel to conduct their nightly meetings at a spot a little further removed from Labor's hall of deliberation, he was met with the reply that the religious services were doing a great deal more good for mankind than the Laborites. There was no desire exhibited on the part of the Labor representative to discuss the relative merits or demerits of either party to the issue and in consequence he went away with very little satisfaction.

Higher Tones.
Since the interview, it was stated at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night, the volume of sound from the little band of worshippers had by no means decreased and if anything a higher note seemed to have been struck. So serious had the matter become that representations to a police officer had been necessary, but here again the man in blue had been shown the permit granting the stand to the unofficial gentlemen of the cloth. He was helpless and the matter remained.

The necessity of closing the windows of the Labor Hall last night to exclude the conflicting tones at the expense of the entry of Victoria's pure air, brought the matter under discussion from another point of view.

It became a question as to whether it might not be necessary for the various Trades Union Locals to remove their headquarters to some other building where peace and quietude might be ensured. It was pointed out that it would be a pity for the many rooms of the De Cosmos Block to be vacated, when by a spirit of co-operation exhibited on the part of the street worshippers such a serious undertaking could be avoided. This latter proceeding would not be followed until every effort had been exhausted to convert the "offenders" to a more reasonable view of the situation happily created.

DIED OF WOUNDS
Sergt. J. W. Cornick Passed Away in France Last Month; Lived Here Six Years.

The death is reported from wounds of Sergt. J. W. Cornick. He passed away in France on June 14, according to a notification received by his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. Stevenson, of 1728 Bank Street.

Sergt. Cornick, who had been employed in the post office, left Victoria in March, 1915, with the Western Scouts. He was born in Dorsetshire, England, thirty years ago, and lived in Victoria for six years. His wife had been living in England for the past year.

Call of Fire.—Damage to the extent of $700 was done to the building and contents at 237 Government Street this morning by a fire occasioned by a spark from the roof. The fire worked down into an attic, and had spread considerably by the time the firemen arrived. The house belongs to the Sawcett estate, and is occupied by Miss Annie J. Fawcett.

OBITUARY RECORD
By special dispatch from London, England, has come the news of the death at Weston-Super-Mare of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Turner, wife of Arthur Turner. Mr. Turner is a son of J. H. Turner, acting agent-general for British Columbia. The deceased lady was 46 years of age.

The death occurred yesterday of Mrs. Roberta Sidworth, who passed away at her home, 761 Front Street. The deceased lady, who was the wife of Mr. George H. Sidworth, was 61 years of age, and was a native of Glasgow, Scotland. She came here four years ago, for some time formerly having lived at Strathroy, Ont. Besides the husband there survive one brother, Andrew Lee, of Wilmamack, Ind., and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes T. Sharp, of Victoria, and Mrs. John Lamont, of Michigan. The funeral has been arranged to take place on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, Rev. Robert Connell to officiate. The remains will be sent to Strathroy, Ont., for interment there.

The funeral of Mrs. Helga Simonsen, who died on Monday, took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the Sands Chapel. Many friends and relatives were in attendance. Rev. Wm. Stevenson officiated. Mr. Griffiths sang a solo, "Abide With Me." The pallbearers were Messrs. G. Crowthers, W. Hrynjoloff, T. K. Anderson, and J. Havel. Burial was in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Creston Valley Strawberries.—The lack of moisture in the Creston Valley is being blamed for a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the strawberry crop, which was estimated earlier in the season at 20,000 crates. There has been an abundant supply of labor, women and children in large numbers augmenting the people in the valley. The growers will receive about fifty per cent. more for their crop this year than last.

J. ARTHUR NELSON TO LIBRARY TO RESUME ANSWER MANY QUERIES ITS TRAINING CLASS

Examination for Discovery in Libel Suit to Be Reopened by Order of Judge

Preliminary Course Given Extending Over Six Months' Term

The libel action brought by John Arthur Nelson against Bradstreet's Company for $50,000 proceeded another step on its legal journey this morning. It will be recalled that on the examination for discovery Mr. Nelson refused to answer certain questions put to him by John R. Green, solicitor for the defendant Bradstreet's Company. The examination was broken off somewhat abruptly, Mr. Green indicating that he would apply to a judge in chambers to compel Mr. Nelson to answer.

Mr. Justice Murphy decided that the plaintiff again attend for the continuance of the examination and call all he knows about the matters concerning which Mr. Green desires more light. From the pleadings, the Bradstreet Company averred that Mr. Nelson had "spent several months in jail" and in giving the particulars under order of the Court they stated that this referred to a jail sentence at St. Louis in 1901, which they alleged, he had served after a jury trial and conviction for fraudulent use of the mails.

Mr. Green questioned Mr. Nelson as to this particular term in jail, but Nelson, while admitting "he knew all about it" refused to answer beyond stating that "he was not the man." These particulars, however, he must now give as directed by the judge this morning. Similarly had Mr. Nelson refused to recite the details of a ranch transaction of some $28,000 at Cow Lake, Oregon, in which the Bradstreet Company alleged he had victimized his father-in-law. He was ordered to give full answers in this connection.

Light is also to be shed on matters arising at San Diego, Santa Paula, Cleveland and elsewhere and he will be required to acknowledge or deny his alleged signatures on certain promissory notes in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1902, produced by Mr. Green. Mr. Justice Murphy ordered that Mr. Nelson attend at his expense overruling preliminary objections raised by Frank Higgins, his solicitor. There are some ninety questions in all.

Mrs. Jenkins Home.—Trustee Mrs. Jenkins has returned from the convention of the National Educational Association, held last week in Portland.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Library Commissioners it was decided that the training class which had been discontinued during the absence of the librarian should be recommenced.

Certain changes have been made in the length and scope of the course, and the new regulations demand among other things that candidates educationally must have a matriculation standing or its recognized equivalent. The course extends over a period of six months, and forms an initial training only for the junior branches of library work. Students shall submit to the regular working schedule of the library staff and within these hours be subject to the directions of the librarian. Classes commence on the first of September, and all applications must be filed before August 15.

Anyone, particularly interested in the course should personally see Miss Stewart, the librarian, for information and advice.

The Carnegie Library Training Class was first started in 1913, and altogether twelve students have passed through. Five of these at the present time are on the library staff. Two have taken the complete training elsewhere, two are intending to go this autumn to do likewise and one of the girls has gone to New York to take up library work there. Yet another of the girls is attending the university with the idea of preparing herself the better for a responsible library position.

Formerly the library course here extended over a period of eleven months' duration. The newly-advertised course, it will be noted, lasts for only six months.

STUDENTS' CLAUSE IS RECONSIDERED

Words "Divinity Students" in Conscriptio Bill Include More Than Thought

Ottawa, July 19.—Consideration of the Military Service Bill was resumed in committee of the House of Commons this afternoon shortly after the House met.

Replying to a question by Hon. Charles Maclellan, Solicitor-General Meighen said there was a provision in the Bill allowing professional men of military age called out time to wind up their business.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux repeated his inquiry as to the payment of the insurance premiums on policies held by men called to the colors.

He said the question was a serious one for many people and the Government, either through the excess premium or through the loss of the policy, was making the insurance a hardship.

Hon. Charles Maclellan said the smaller insurance companies were not able to take such losses and the maximum premium was fixed these companies might be put out of business.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley said he had been informed that the United States Government has assumed liability for insurance up to $4,000.

Sir Robert Borden said there was much force in what Mr. Pugsley had said. The Finance Minister had just returned from Washington and he would take the question up with him.

Sir Robert Borden then moved that the clause exempting clergy and divinity students be reconsidered.

On further consideration, he said, it had been decided that the words "divinity students" included a wider body of persons than was thought at first.

Moreover, it covered a class a large number of whom did not desire exemption. It was suggested that those students, with other students, should be left to take advantage of exemption granted by the tribunals.

Sir Wilfred Laurier questioned the meaning of the word clergy. The two great denominations, Anglican and Roman Catholic, had ordained priests whom they called the clergy.

Sir Wilfred Laurier suggested that all divinity students who already have commenced or will have commenced their courses before the bill is formally sanctioned should be exempt.

Sir Sam Hughes opposed the exemption of the clergy as a class.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that if the clause were restored to its original form a large number of young men who ought to be exempt would be affected.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux suggested that all divinity students who already have commenced or will have commenced their courses before the bill is formally sanctioned should be exempt.

Sir Robert Borden replied that if the Government had proceeded under the Militia Act and selected men by ballot there would have been no possible exemption of divinity students.

Under this bill they could claim exemption by the tribunals.

VICTORIA'S POINT OF VANTAGE

THE PATHFINDERS' ROUTE

The dark line shows the proposed route of the Evergreen Highway in the United States. The line from El Paso, Texas, to Maine has already been logged, and the duty of the motorists will end at El Paso, where they will arrive in about one month's time, proceeding to Los Angeles, Cal., to disband.

UNDERSTOOD IT.

"Do you know anything about palmistry, Herbert?" she asked. "Oh, not much," he answered, with the air of modesty which is not intended to be implicitly believed in. "Not a great deal, although I had an experience at the club last night which might be considered a remarkable example of the art to which you allude."

"You don't mean it?" "Yes, I happened to glance at the hand of a friend of mine and I immediately predicted that he would presently become the possessor of a considerable sum of money. When he left the room he was richer by twenty-five pounds."

PHARAOH'S KINE.

A good story is told of an old crofter who appeared before a commission to apply for a reduction of his rent. The number of cattle on the farm led a sheriff to observe that surely the croft could not be in such a bad way as its owner would seek to show.

"Och! och!" said the old Highlander, "you should see the beasts for yersel!" "What are they like?" queried the sheriff.

"What like are they? Why, sir, they're as lean as Pharaoh's kine." "How lean was that?" pawkily asked the sheriff, doubtless thinking that he had cornered the applicant. Like a flash came the answer: "So lean that they could only be seen in a vision."

COWICHAN FIRE NOW

WELL UNDER CONTROL

Report to the Forest Branch This Morning Includes One New Outbreak

The latest information reaching the Chief Forester this morning indicated that the forest fire which has been raging in the neighborhood of Cowichan Lake for more than a week past, had been brought under subjection. The almost providential absence of a breeze has been the main factor in preventing the outbreak reaching one of the most valuable tracts of timber in British Columbia, situated almost within a stone's throw of the affected area.

With the continuation of the dry spell and the number of camping parties continually increasing more than ordinary precaution should be exercised for the prevention of fire. The careless throwing away of a lighted match or negligence in leaving a camp fire only partially extinguished, may easily lead to the loss to the province of many thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber.

A fresh island fire has broken out in the Comox district, the logging crew of Camp No. 2 have been busily engaged in fighting the flames and have been successful in limiting the damage to a very small area and no further trouble is anticipated. The fire at Spruce Lake is now well under control and no danger of its spreading is suggested in the report to Chief Forester Grainger this morning.

TAXING ELECTRICITY.

Mexico City, July 19.—The tax of ten centavos on each electric light globe throughout Mexico, has been rescinded by President Carranza and replaced by a tax of 10 per cent of the cost of current to the consumer for lighting purposes. (An current consumed for power purposes a tax of 3 per cent on the price paid by the consumer is imposed.)

MORE IRRIGATION

THAN EVER BEFORE

City Using Three-Quarters of Million Gallons Above Average

The city is using about half to three-quarters of a million gallons of water daily during the drought, more than ever before, the average consumption for the year 1916 being 5,050,000 gallons per diem, and the maximum about 5,750,000 gallons in the summer of last year. For several days past the daily consumption has averaged 6,500,000 gallons. There are two reasons which account for the increased consumption over former summers, the lower water rates generally and the special irrigation rates. The water is used over a larger area than before on account of increased production.

The actual increased revenue to the city is small, however, a large quantity being used for boulevard maintenance, and the reduced rates have cut the revenue on water sold to a very small figure. However, the abundance of water from the Lake refiners it possible to supply any quantity of water which may be required. This is the third summer that the full supply has been available, and the first that there has been any marked increase in demand prior to the month of August.

At the meeting of the Civic Streets and Sewers Committee to-morrow afternoon the settlement reached with Oak Bay. A report will be discussed, and further steps taken to decide what procedure shall be adopted to advance the repaving scheme. The Aldermen will sit later in private session as a special wages committee to deal with salary increases.

Assessment Proposal. Mayor Todd has sent to the Aldermen the following suggestion for incorporation in the Municipal Act with regard to assessment: "No city or municipal assessor or court of revision shall in any one year increase the assessed value of any piece of land, which, under the same description appeared on the assessment roll in the preceding year by a greater amount than the sum of $500 unless a 10 per cent. increase in the valuation of the land over the assessment of the previous year would amount to a sum exceeding $500, in which event an increase may be made to an extent not exceeding 10 per cent. above the assessment of the preceding year."

L. M. O'Leary Goes to Join Motor Transport Service at Front.

L. M. O'Leary, son of Captain and Mrs. William O'Leary, Work Street, left this afternoon for Vancouver, to join the motor transport service at the front.

He is in his 26th year, and has lived at the family residence here for the past twenty-four years, being brought as a child from his native place, North Sydney, Cape Breton.

He was employed at the B. C. Electric Railway as an assistant storekeeper for the past seven years. The sentiment of his colleagues is expressed in the presentation of a beautiful wrist watch, a gold mounted pen, and razor case.

Committed for Trial.—Gambian and Berami, two Hindus, residents of Saanich were to-day committed for trial by Magistrate Jay. The men were arraigned on a charge of having stolen a quantity of hay of over the value of $10 from one, Hartman Smith.

Much Money Raised.—The statement of Treasurer Walter J. Rhead of the British Columbia War Relief Committee is an interesting document, showing as it does that the smelter workers of Trail have contributed a little short of $100,000 to this worthy cause—the great bulk of which went to the Canadian patriotic fund, Red Cross, Belgian relief, ladies' auxiliary, etc., says The Trail News. One feature that stands out for economy of administration is the secretary's expenses for the two years, which amount to the insignificant sum of $6.70—showing that practically every cent contributed to the fund by the workers of Trail goes directly for the purposes intended.

Logging Near Alberni.—Several new logging camps are now in operation in the Alberni district. Recently the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company opened a new camp at Copper Island to obtain cedar logs for their shingle mill. They have installed a large amount of first class machinery. The addition of this camp makes the total number of three now supplying the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company with timber. The West Logging Company is operating east of Alberni, where their new main camp is located, and are also maintaining No. 2 camp at Murdoch's landing, where some of the finest timber in the district is being cut. Two weeks ago a new camp was opened at Grappier Creek, near Banfield, to supply the new Acme Shingle Company. In addition to these main camps there are a number of hand loggers supplying the needs of small mills and making booms for the larger plants at Port Alberni.

"I'm trying to get back to my poor old father," whined a tramp. "He ain't seen my face for ten long years." "I believe you're speaking the truth," muttered the man he had approached. "Why don't you wash it?"

ROYAL OAK HOTEL LICENSE DISCUSSED

Criticism of Conduct of House is Full and Free

The Saanich License Commissioners were engaged yesterday for five hours in conducting an inquiry affecting the renewal of the license of the Royal Oak Hotel. Eventually at a late hour an adjournment was taken till to-morrow evening, in order that the counsel interested might make an offer as to the future conduct of the premises. The Commission indicated clearly to the lawyers what they intended to have done, but did not wish the matter-public till a voluntary offer was forthcoming from counsel.

Is License Necessary?

The immediate cause of the proceedings was the recent prosecution of the licensee, Harry E. Morton, which had been dismissed on appeal for allowing liquor to be served to a girl under 16 years of age, and other charges under the code. In recommending the commissioners to deal with the question, Chief Little had reported that he considered the license was unnecessary owing to changed transportation conditions, and being in a farming district, was no longer required.

In accordance with the arrangement made at the previous meeting, Reeve Borden, although present, had withdrawn from the chair. Councillor Jones had been appointed in his stead, and was thereupon formally elected as chairman. The other sitting commissioners are, Councillor Henderson and Commissioner Knowlton.

"Very Loosely Run."

The proceedings throughout were enlivened by exchanges between counsel, and frequent directions from the chair to conduct the proceedings in order, and with some expedition. "In examination by H. G. S. Heisterman, for the Commissioners, Chief Little described the hotel as 'being very loosely run, and most of the business seems to be done at night after closing hours. Motor cars are in the habit of coming from town into the yard, or pulling up outside, then the lights are turned off.' These cars, said witness, contained both men and women, and remained for 15 minutes to three hours. He believed the better course would be to abandon the license, as circumstances had changed, and the license was no longer needed. Morton, in his opinion, could not make a living out of the local trade. A number of residents had urged the closing of the house as licensed premises. Mr. Powell, for Morton, pressed him to state who the complainants were, to give their names. He declined, a course in which he was sustained by the chairman.

The Chief then went into the evidence of the recent case. In cross-examination witness absolutely denied that he had obtained drink after hours personally from the licensee.

He maintained, in answer to further questions, that the hotel stood in a different category to other hotels in the municipality, which were needed.

Reeve Borden leaned over at this point to speak to Mr. Heisterman. "I object," interrupted Mr. Powell, "to the Reeve coaching Mr. Heisterman."

Both men named smiled, and continued to confer when necessary to the end of the proceedings.

Licensee's Evidence.

Harry Morton was called, and gave his story of the incident which led to

BOARD RESERVES ITS JUDGMENT FOR WEEK

License Commissioners Hear Further Evidence Regarding Olympus Cafe

The adjourned meeting of the License Commissioners, called to hear further evidence regarding the management of the Olympus Cafe was held yesterday afternoon in the City Police Court. Several witnesses testified concerning the character of the house in question, and the Board, having heard the entire evidence, reserved judgment until the next meeting that will be held July 25.

Inspector's Evidence.

Inspector Gregg, referring to his note book of 1916, gave evidence to the effect that on July 23 of that year a man by the name of Montgomery was found on the premises drinking whiskey after the hours of closing. Mr. Bancroft, manager of the cafe, had stated at the time that the liquor was brought into the house by the man and had not been sold to him. On March 2 of the same year Mr. Gregg recalled an incident when the patrons of the cafe had spent a night of carousing, carrying their hilarity beyond all bounds. One woman had had a glass of water thrown in her face by a drunken associate.

Thomas Healey, Inspector of police, stated that the cafe in question was habitually patronized by "loose" women. On February 18, 1916, the witness while passing the Olympus had seen a man go reeling to the street, a severe cut being noticeable over his eye.

The Defence.

Mr. Bancroft, in defending himself, replied that he had ejected the man on account of his misbehavior. It was necessary for the witness to use force in order to protect himself from the drunken man's attacks. Mr. Bancroft then proceeded to explain that he was aware of the reading of the law and did not consider that he had violated it. Personally he was never responsible for the liquor chests being unlocked after hours, and he certainly did not order the waiters to serve the glass of whiskey referred to by the inspectors at the previous session of the inquiry. Speaking of the women who were said to frequent the cafe, the witness stated that he was powerless to eject anyone so long as they behaved themselves, unless he received special instructions from the city authorities.

Cross-Examination.

Questioned by C. L. Harrison, who appeared for the city, Mr. Bancroft said that he had a sub-lease of the Olympus from Mr. Quagliotti, and that he paid the stated rent besides the license fee for the sale of liquor.

"Then you are selling liquor under Mr. Quagliotti's license?" was the next question; to which, however, the witness did not reply.

"Have you a bartender's license?"

"No."

"And nobody on the premises has a bartender's license?"

"No."

"Yet you have a bar?"

"Yes, a service bar, but not one where customers stand to be furnished with liquor."

H. A. MacLean, K. C., counsel for Mr. Bancroft, at this point objected to Mr. Harrison's questions on a matter which the defence claimed was entirely irrelevant to the issue, namely, that the cafe had been run in an objectionable manner.

Being Hounded.

Mr. Bancroft in concluding his evidence stated that the license inspectors were attempting to hound him. He said that they visited his cafe on their rounds every morning and censured him on matters that were allowed to go unnoticed in other houses.

There being no further evidence offered by either side the Board decided to reserve its judgment until Wednesday, July 25, when the next meeting will be held.

License Commissioners Hear Further Evidence Regarding Olympus Cafe

The prosecution, witness instructed his son not to sell intoxicants, to the girl in the party, thinking she was too young. There were four in the party including Messrs. Lowe and J. Montgomery. Later, drinks were served in his room to Montgomery.

A register was kept, though not often filled up, except when the people stayed the night. This contained the names of some of the leading people in British Columbia, judges' wives, etc.

"I used to do a splendid business," he said, "but it has now fallen off on account of the slanderous statements which have been made. I have put up meals for city people at all hours of the night, often for supper parties coming out from town after the theatres are out. These people as a rule do not register, still they form an important part of the business of the house."

Refused to Sell.

"I have refused scores and scores of times to sell liquor in any form to persons conducting or attending entertainments in the Royal Oak Hall lest there should be disturbances. I have been in the hotel for four years and there has never been a blow struck in that period in the hotel. I have been congratulated by leading people in Victoria on the way in which the hotel has been conducted."

He alleged that the Thiel detective agency had dogged his footsteps last year, at the direction of some officer of the municipality. After three visits they had reported to the authorities that the impression existing that witness ran a wide-open house was erroneous.

Witness alleged animus against the Chief of Police with whom he had not been on friendly terms for a year and a half. Previous to that time, in 1915, he served Little and former Constable Owens with gin and gingerbeer, which was drunk on the municipal hall steps. There was a woman present. Witness further alleged that before the quarrel, Little had frequently used his hotel to secure liquor.

Reeve Borden.

From Reeve Borden both Mr. Powell and T. M. Miller, for the Silver Spring Brewery, failed to get much. However, they did elicit the fact that the Reeve had refused to transfer the license to an applicant on behalf of the brewery company, as requested by Mr. Miller on several occasions.

"Why did you do it?" queried Mr. Miller.

"I exercised my discretion," replied the Reeve.

"Personally I am opposed to licenses," the Reeve went on, "but I am without prejudice, and can deal in justice with complaints about the conduct of licensed houses."

J. S. Brandon, on behalf of the owner of the house, J. Durrant, urged the commissioners not to act hastily, and not to extinguish the license on the eve of prohibition.

Mr. Powell argued that the charges against Morton were not proven. After hearing counsel's addresses, the Court went into private session. Later, it was announced a conference with counsel had been held, as a consequence of which an offer would be expected at the adjourned meeting to-morrow.

Canadians will rejoice that Jack Munro, ex-pugilist and ex-member of the Princess Pats, has met with good fortune through his discovery of a spectacular silver vein on a claim near Elk Lake in Northern Ontario. Munro went overseas with the original Princess Pats and served with them through the heavy fighting until badly wounded. He returned to Canada some months ago with his right arm useless from wounds received. The ex-pugilist is a Canadian, having been born in Cape Breton, where he worked in the Dominion Coal Company's mines. Later he went to the Western States, but returned to Canada when the Cobalt boom broke out. He prospected all over Northern Ontario, finally settling down at Elk City, where he became mayor of the city and is still regarded as the best mayor it ever had. At one stage of his public career he fought Jim Jeffries for the world's championship, but was defeated.—Montreal Journal of Commerce.
