

MUCH OPPOSITION TO NATIONAL INSURANCE SCHEME IN ENGLAND

Bitter Controversy Over Insurance Against Sickness and Disability.

Friendly Societies, Employers, Servants and Doctors Against It.

Time for Beginning Its Operation Is Extended Until July.

London, March 9.—For an act that passed through parliament without a division, that is without any member registering a vote against it, the national insurance scheme against sickness and disability has set up a record for the extent of the controversy that has raged around it.

The friendly societies, which have insurance benefits of their own for members, started the trouble. They feared that the bill, by forcing their members to contribute to the government scheme, would induce them to leave the societies. This was settled by approved societies being allowed to administer the act so far as it dealt with their members.

Then came the opposition of mistresses and servants, who, besides objecting to contributing their 6 cents weekly each for the insurance of the servant, raised a cry against the necessity of sticking the necessary stamps in a book.

Opposition also came from large employers of labor, chiefly in the cotton districts of Lancashire, who held that the extra tax would deprive them of their profits.

Other classes have taken up the cry against the bill, the Socialists among them, as they wanted a system to which the working man would have to contribute, the state and the em-

SAYS HIS WIFE WARNED HIM

Grace Tells Police Spouse Dreamed of Her Former Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., March 9.—"I might kill you at any time, Gene."

This is what Eugene H. Grace claimed his wife, Mrs. Daisy Obit Grace, charged with shooting him, told him one morning after she had emerged from slumber that had been troubled with unpleasant dreams.

Grace, it is said, told his attorney yesterday all about the nightmares that he said his wife had been having for three weeks prior to the shooting. The attorney said Grace told him that when Mrs. Grace talked about in her dreams her former husband, Obit, who died in Philadelphia, was the central figure, and that he appeared to be menacing her.

Were these dreams real or feigned, is the question that is puzzling detectives and other trying to clear the shooting mystery.

Mrs. Grace still maintains her innocence while the police have reported that attorneys soon will make an effort to have the court agree a rubber stamp in making another bond, even at a larger figure than that on which she at first was released.

Her husband shows improvement or grows no worse, it is said, endeavoring to have another bond named will be made today.

SLAYER OF 27 MEN IS TO DIE

Former Tyrant of Haiti Sentenced to Pay Death Penalty.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, March 9.—Gen. Jules Colou, the former military tyrant of Haiti, was condemned to death today by a jury in the criminal court on the charge of having been the principal author of the fusillade of March 15, 1908, in which ten persons, including three of his own brothers, were shot to death.

The accomplices of Colou were acquitted. The date of execution has not been settled.

Gen. Jules Colou, who at the time of the outbreak in Port Au Prince in 1908 was military commander of the district, was chiefly known for his tyranny. He was at that time known to thoroughly hate all white people and he threatened to "carve out the hearts" of all his enemies.

He is absolutely illiterate, and while he was in office used a rubber stamp in signing documents. He betrayed his brothers, Massillon, Horace and Pierre Louis, to President Alexis on March 14, 1908, and personally directed their execution on the following day.

Altogether on that occasion he killed twenty-seven men in less than an hour, but only ten of these murders were included in the charge against him.

HAS GIVEN FORTUNE TO "HOLY JUMPERS"

CHICAGO, March 9.—Duke M. Farson, a wealthy broker of Chicago, has given up his business and turned all his wealth over to the religious movement known as the Holy Jumpers.

He is a member of the Holy Jumpers, and he hopes to have the loose ends gathered up by May. Then he will devote his entire time to missionary work.

HUBBY IS TOO GOOD, AND SO WIFEY DESERTS HIS HOME

Says If He Had Scolded or Beaten Her She Would Have Loved Him.

Divorce Grows From "Awful, Monotonous Goody-Goody Business."

Oakland, Cal., March 9.—Edwin Hirsch, a wealthy Irvington merchant never stays out late at night; he doesn't use tobacco nor drink liquor. He is a very even tempered man. He never scolded his wife nor used profanity in her presence.

And now he has no wife. The court here today granted Hirsch a decree of divorce on the grounds of desertion.

"If you only had beaten me occasionally," Mrs. Hirsch said to her spouse the day she went away, "I might have kept on loving you. Or if you had found fault with me, scolded me, broked on a dish or a chair occasionally—anything but this awful, monotonous goody-goody business."

Then she shrugged her shoulders, snapped her fingers and ejaculated: "Bah!"

"How strange, isn't it," Mrs. Hirsch asked her husband as she stood in the doorway just before leaving him forever. "Loving me men are never nice, and nice men are—scolded—lovable?"

Then she went out and closed the door behind her.

Hirsch sat sighing.

HOPE THAT SCOTT WON

Britons Refuse to Give Amundsen All South Pole Honor.

Peary Predicts Controversy When Englishman Is Heard From.

London, March 9.—Capt. Roald Amundsen's triumph is generally acknowledged here as being complete and the Norwegian explorer is hailed as the conqueror of the South Pole. Many Britons, however, for the time being are still clinging to the hope that Capt. Scott's return will furnish a dramatic climax to the Antarctic story.

The Royal Geographical society, while not questioning in any way Capt. Amundsen's feat, is awaiting news from Capt. Scott before committing itself by sending congratulations to Capt. Amundsen.

In the meantime, if the Norwegian explorer has any further secrets to reveal, he is reserving them for publication through the same channels that he has hitherto used.

Rear Admiral Peary, Sir Ernest Shackleton and Dr. Charcot are all prominently displayed in the newspapers as supporting the surmise that both the British and the Norwegian explorers may have reached the goal, and that each of them remained in ignorance of the other's success.

Peary Expects Reply. "Some word is likely to be heard from Capt. Scott at any moment," said Rear Admiral Peary, who announced today his intention of resigning. He will be 70 years old this year.

It is probable that the lord mayor's decision to retire has been brought about by the recent creation of the municipality of Greater Berlin, in which Berlin proper is combined with all the suburban municipalities. Dr. Karl Steinhilber was elected Feb. 27 mayor of the larger municipality.

Detroit Catholic Church Burns. Detroit, March 9.—Fire today destroyed the Catholic church in this city. The property loss is estimated at $60,000.

PRUSSIAN MINERS STICK TO DEMANDS

Will Strike Next Week Unless They Get 15 Per Cent Wage Increase.

Berlin, March 9.—After a meeting today at which the replies of the mine owners to the demands of the men for an increase of wages of 15 per cent were thoroughly discussed, the leaders of the Socialist Miner's union issued a proclamation stating over 200,000 miners would go on strike in the Westphalian coal district next week, unless the mine owners reversed their decision not to accord the advance asked for.

There appears to be very little hope of the mine owners acceding to the men's demands, and the effect of the government to bring about mediation are now declared by the miners to be too late.

The miners in the Hanover coal district have followed the example of those in the Westphalian and Silesian coal fields and today demanded a monthly minimum wage of $22.

ATTITUDE OF PRESIDENT

Thinks People Should Give Verdict on His Administration.

Republicans and Democrats Expect Illinois Will Go Democratic.

(By Willis J. Abbott.) Washington, March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The speech of Secretary Stimson at Chicago seems to have roused Roosevelt and his followers to a degree of indignation verging on wrath. Yet, after all, it was but a mild and dispassionate statement of the reasons why President Taft believes that he should subject the record of his administration to the test of an election.

It happened that I went to Chicago in the same car with the secretary of war. In the course of that journey, a gentleman who had but a few days before lunched at the White House, and who is himself an idolator of Roosevelt, told of the way in which the president himself explains his present attitude.

"During the luncheon," said this gentleman, "the question was put (Continued on page 6, fourth column.)"

After this he went to the Union League club for luncheon and a short speech. At 3:30 it is planned for him to address Jewish residents in a West side theater, later going to the Chicago Press club for a short address.

His most important appointment is for this evening at the banquet of the Swedish-American Republican league, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the battle of the Monitor and Merrimack. Here the president is expected to make an important campaign speech.

SIX MEN LOSE LIVES WHEN LODGING HOUSE IN CHICAGO IS BURNED

One Leaps From Fourth Floor—Others Found Dead in Building.

Vivid Tales of Peril With Locked Door as Feature, Are Told.

City Building Commissioner Works on Case With Coroner.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Six men lost their lives in a fire which attacked a Clark street lodging house here today.

One of the six, Thomas McMahon, a painter, jumped to his death from the fourth story. The bodies of five others were found where they had been suffocated or burned to death.

The flames spread quickly through the building and the firemen hardly had arrived before men were rushing from the lodging house. Some were trapped in their beds.

The establishment housed 125 men, according to the proprietor. When the flames were discovered many of the men were on the upper floors, remote from assistance.

The first alarm carried with it the report that one man was killed. Subsequently the number of dead was increased by one or two at a time, as the firemen penetrated further into the building.

Many of the men, after escaping from the lodging house, left the scene so that it was impossible to determine how many still were in the building when the fire was gotten under control.

Oscar Arsen, 35 years old, jumped from a window on the third floor into a lifeline held by firemen on the side. (Continued on page 2, third column.)

HIKES ACROSS THE STATE TO PAY UP OLD BOARD BILL

John Johnson of Minneapolis Walks All the way to Hillsboro, N. D.

Hillsboro, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Conscience stricken because some years ago he had beaten a restaurant named Anderson out of a board bill in Fargo, John Johnson of Minneapolis walked all the way to this place, dragging a hand sled. He says he is hunting for Anderson. He came to pay the bill, and if he fails to find his man, will turn the money over to some charitable institution.

Disappointed in not locating Anderson here, Johnson continued his restitution journey to Cooperstown. The man appears perfectly rational in every way.

The city of Duluth and the section of which it is the center was given special recognition by the board of managers of the Minnesota State Agricultural society at their session at Hamline yesterday.

It was the sense of the managers that Duluth as the third largest city in the state should be entitled to a special day at the coming state fair and Wednesday, Sept. 4, 1912, was officially designated "Duluth Day." A special effort will be made to interest the people of the Zenith City and to arouse their local pride to the extent of having the attendance on their day equal that of St. Paul and Minneapolis day. The amusement committee of the board also expressed an appreciation of the importance of Duluth by going on record as favoring the engagement of the Duluth band for the fair if proper financial arrangements could be made. These decisions were made without solicitation on the part of C. P. Craig, the Duluth members of the fair board, but were due somewhat to the high esteem in which the board members hold the Duluth representative and his valuable services on the board. Mr. Craig expressed himself as being very much pleased with the action and assured the board members that he would secure the citizens of Duluth would respond with added interest in the Minnesota state fair of 1912. The six days of the fair were formally designated as follows: Monday, Sept. 2, Labor day; Tuesday, Sept. 3, St. Paul day; Wednesday, Sept. 4, Duluth day; Thursday, Sept. 5, Old Joliet and Pioneer's day; Friday, Sept. 6, Automobile day; and Saturday, Sept. 7, Automobile day.

ployer paying the whole of the amount required.

Medical Men Up in Arms.

The most serious and sustained opposition to the bill, however, has been that of the medical men, 21,000 of whom have signed a declaration that they will not accept the bill under the act. The chief objection of the doctors is that no adequate remuneration for the medical men could be obtained under the act; that it would in fact amount to a $1 yearly "tax" on each patient. The bill also provides that the doctor, who places their names on the list of those agreeing to attend patients under the act, shall be a matter of argument between the local medical committee and the doctor. The medical men, however, point out that the committees consist of perhaps thirty members and three of whom would be medical men, so that the chances of adequate remuneration are the remotest.

The medical men also object to the control by friendly societies, chiefly because they believe well-to-do people would creep into friendly societies and get medical attendance at the same rate as the laborers, a great healing organization, which is known here as the contract system. This already prevails in certain districts, chiefly among the miners, who contribute to a fund out of which the medical man attends those contributing for a fixed salary.

Those doctors who, in face of the decision of the great majority of their profession have agreed to act under the bill are being derided as "blacklegs," and the campaign is being carried on with as much vigor as a strike of trade unionists.

Counter Campaign Started.

The government has started a counter campaign to bring home to every household in the land that it was to a radical government that they owed what they believe to be the blessings of a great measure of a great healing organization. Mr. Lloyd George opened this campaign at a meeting in the London opera house since the medical profession, he contended that the doctors were no longer under the control of the friendly societies, and as to remuneration the bill set up an independent authority on which the doctors would be represented and which would frame the terms. The insurance committee could not arrange the terms for paying doctors without consulting the local medical committee representing the whole of the district and the contract system, an appeal to the insurance commissioners. Should the medical profession refuse to act, all the safeguards inserted in the act for their profession would be wiped out at once and the act would be as alive as ever.

The money allocated to medical benefits would be handed over to the insured persons through their societies and the doctors would once more find themselves face to face with the friendly societies, the membership of which would be increased by 10,000,000.

The act was to have been proclaimed on May 1. The time has now been extended until July 1 and an effort has been made to have the date further retarded.

Talk About Ownership.

New York, March 9.—Whether Norway owns the territory surrounding the South Pole, which has just been discovered by Capt. Amundsen, has already been to be discussed by authorities on international law covering the ownership of Arctic and Antarctic lands.

Discovery 1778, when Capt. Cook's expedition planted a flag in the Antarctic, explorers of many nations have carried the flag of their countries to various points approaching the South Pole. It is generally believed the land in the Antarctic will be regarded in much the same way as the Spitzberg archipelago which is inhabited by men of various nations and is now regarded as a joint possession of all mankind.

Seventh Ward Does Not Get Share of Street Lights.

Because the Seventh ward is larger than any other ward in the city, residents living on the hillside are compelled to get along without the necessary street lights. This condition was brought out last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the West End Hillside Improvement club at the South school building, which is held west and Tenth street.

Alderman William Bernard, who took an active part in the meeting, told the members that the annual appropriation for street lights is divided equally among the wards and the city council to appropriate the money according to the population of each ward in the city. In this way, he said, a larger ward would be able to receive its share of improvements during the year.

Several street lights in the vicinity of Tenth and Tenth street are very much needed at present and the matter will be brought up at the council meeting Monday. The city will also be asked to install a drinking fountain near the Ensign school, some time this spring. Alderman Bernard was instructed to bring up the matter at the next council meeting, and demand immediate action on the various necessary improvements.

The council in the sixth ward will be asked to co-operate with Alderman Bernard and it is probable that the members of the club will renew the campaign for restricting the Sixth ward street lights. According to the recent municipal election, the seventh ward is much larger than the other wards in the city.

The members also considered the proposed coffee sewer, but the committee was unable to make its complete report at the meeting last evening. The members were instructed to make a final report at the next meeting. The assessing of the adjoining streets to the sewer was taken up by the committee and the final report of the city engineering department will be made at the next meeting.

of international law at Columbia university, points out that leading authorities have taken the position that discovery alone does not suffice to give good title to a new, unoccupied land, and that the customs of nations for centuries have crystallized into a sort of law of nations that in order to perfect the right given by discovery it must be followed by general occupation.

Prof. Moore says that the task of effective occupancy of the territory of the land surrounding the South Pole would undoubtedly prove more difficult than its discovery and that the quest for ownership would never be brought up to the joint commission on arbitration for settlement.

Tell of Locked Door.

Survivors told vivid tales of their escape from death, in which a struggle to break down a locked door was the chief feature. One of the men, Frank Hickey, a painter from Roches, N. Y., declared that with a crowd of fifteen men he tried to force a door to a door at the rear, but found it locked.

"We beat upon the door," said Hickey, "but could not break it down. Finally all of us got back to the second floor and to the fire escape. The counterweight would not work, and we were compelled to slide down a chain and to the ground below."

The fire started in a small room in which excelsior for the bunks was stored.

WAITING ONLY FOR WARM WEATHER.

"We will have to wait until the weather gets warmer before we will be able to finish the cut-off on Twenty-first street," said Mr. J. H. Murray, 127 South Sixth street, yesterday afternoon, when he was seen by the East for the curve tracks and it is probable that they will arrive here within a few weeks. It will be impossible, however, to do anything until the ground becomes softer than it is now."

Mr. Murray, in speaking of an early completion of the new cut-off, said that it was not probable that the work would be finished before May 1. The cut-off on Twenty-first street was started last fall and the men finished one track from Superior street to Third street. The work was then delayed until spring by the failure of the soil to arrive.

The cut-off, when finished, will be a great convenience to the residents who live on the hill and who wish to stop off in the business district of the West end, without making a round-about tour.

The new system will make a transfer point on Twenty-first avenue west, besides the one on Grand avenue.

bit slow about schemes to reform the law and constitution, but the students arose to greet that sentiment, President Taft said:

"And be a bit slow about that, too, for we wish to see the best method of expressing approval than by college yells."

President Taft's appearance before the students, to whom he was introduced as "Chief Progressive of the nation," was the first public event of his two days' visit to Chicago. Within an hour after he arrived from Toledo the president was in conference with Illinois politicians, including Governor Charles Deneen, and Ray C. West, chairman of the Republican state central committee. Later he talked with Governor Deneen also.

Addressing the students, the president said:

"I would not discourage you in your efforts toward progress. All I ask is that you apply the test of human nature. Progress always is made by the better educated boys. Because you get jolts don't think the whole world is against you. One man does not make a multitude any more than one swallow makes a summer."

"The only thing the country can do is to make more perfect the equality of opportunity. The opportunity that comes to Americans today is greater than that which comes to any other people in the world."

Study how for 125 years the law and constitution have worked, and reason out why we have survived and prospered. The president said that the most enduring, you will find after a while that it is best and going to stand another 125 years. I don't know how many years—because we are people who are not content with the advantage of self-restraint, and who solve under momentary impulse. That's what makes this country great. That's why can tell the people the truth."

WOMEN'S SPECIALISTS

We are no newcomers. Have cured thousands of men in Duluth. Treat men only. All our knowledge and skill is confined to diseases of men. We are in Duluth for twenty years. If you go to others they have less experience in men's diseases. We guarantee our cures.

BLOOD POISON

various manifestations of this disease are: skin eruptions, ulcers, rheumatism, etc. It is a dangerous disease and should be treated at once. Our treatment is the only one that cures it.

NERVOUS DECLINE or weakness of the nerves and nerve centers, is a common disease. It is caused by a general weakness of the whole nervous and male systems. No man can be strong and manly if his nervous system is impaired. We cure it by restoring the blood, and when the proper circulation is restored, the patient is cured.

CURE VARICOSE VEINS BY DISSOLVING PROCESS

You feel the cords to be thick, varicose and painful; you have a dull, dragging pain extending into the abdomen or down the legs; that is a varicose condition. The veins are overfilled and dilated with poisonous blood. In time your whole blood is saturated with poison; this poison is by and by goes into the nerves, makes you nervous, easily tired, fagged out, broken down, melancholy, drowsy and much of your ambition will be lost, your vitality weakened and you feel that you are not the man you ought to be. Many men have brought on a rupture through the neglect of this condition. The disease is often associated by Hydrocele, Large Prostate, Stricture, Bladder Trouble and the whole train of associated troubles. We found out that in cutting out these veins patients were not cured. We worked for operators do; at last we came to it, by accident—instead of cutting we dissolved diseased condition, and this method is as superior to the old-fashioned butchering and drugging as the modern electric light is to the old-fashioned candle. Once this condition is cured, the patient will stay cured forever.

CATARRH AND LUNG TROUBLES

The Progressive Medical Doctors are among the most skillful specializing physicians of this country. They have invented a medicine for catarrhal and lung diseases which is not equaled by any other. We use it with the Roentgen machine, and there is nothing which helps a patient more than this. Any one suffering from Catarrh and other lung troubles should not hesitate to consult us at once, for we have to our credit the cures of many hundred patients during our 20 years of activity in Duluth. Think of how many people have developed quick consumption from catarrh and death from bronchitis!

SKIN AND CATARRH DISEASES

are a bad blood which had carried poison for years. It appears in the form of eczema, often in pimples of the face and back; those pimples will form scars which will stay for life and sometimes a birthmark. A scab, a wart, to fester with little or no pain in the beginning; later the sore grows and with it the pain; often no attention is paid and from these things fatal cancers develop. Many a man has lost his arm, his leg, and often his life, just through mere neglect. We have saved many a man's leg and cure you of all skin troubles.

$20,000,000 FOR THE HARBOR OF SEATTLE.

Seattle, Wash., March 9.—Twenty million dollars will be spent in port improvements in Seattle in the next five years, according to an estimate made by Brig. Gen. H. M. Chittenden, U. S. A., retired, president of the Seattle port commission. Of that sum, $12,500,000 will come from public funds, private enterprises contributing $8,500,000 more.

Of the public funds $8,100,000 was provided in the bond issues authorized Tuesday; the federal government has authorized $2,775,000; the state, $200,000; assessment districts, $1,100,000; and the county, $1,775,000.

ORDERED TO STAY HOME; MAN SHOTS HIMSELF.

New York, March 9.—Wilfred Bloom, an employment agent, recently ordered by a magistrate to be at home with his wife every night by 9 o'clock, shot and killed himself. He had had domestic difficulties and the court had given him the choice of a workhouse sentence or the 9 o'clock schedule. He left no note explaining his act, but friends say he worried lest he infringe on the court's order. He was 45 years old.

bluntly to the president as to his relations with Mr. Roosevelt. His answer ran in about this wise: "I served under President Roosevelt, as you know in many capacities. Our relations were always most cordial. He was an ideal chief, helpful in suggestion, inspiring in direction. Never was there a man more loyal to his subordinates than he. I never clashed during his administration and at its end he made me president of the United States. But maintaining as I do my big regard and esteem for him, I believe that as president I owe it to the nation to act according to the dictates of my conscience and my reason. I have tried so to do. The records of my administration is open to the scrutiny of all the people, and I think it only right to ask that a verdict be rendered upon it by a vote on my candidacy for re-election. It does not seem to me that the mere action of a party convention in accepting or rejecting my candidacy is the sort of verdict I am entitled to ask. I should be given the opportunity to present my case to the whole people, and it is for that reason that I am seeking a renomination."

Earnest and Determined.
My informant said that the little speech the president addressed to his guests was impressive both in manner and in dictum, and that none present failed to recognize his earnestness and at the same time his determination not to be drawn into a personal controversy with his life-long personal friend and present political foe.

Here in Washington there is scant belief in the ability of Roosevelt to arrest the nomination away from Taft.

$100 Reward, $100

The finder of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages. That disease is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known. Catarrh is often a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. It is cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure, which acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the system. Resisting Catarrh is doing his work. The proprietors have secured One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for circulars to J. C. HENNEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Even the rapid fire proclamations from Senator Dixon's headquarters have made but little effect upon congressional sentiment. But I found in Chicago that political circles there were filled to the utmost circumference with Rooseveltism. Secretary Stimson's able address, though widely heralded as the opening gun of the Taft campaign, was delivered in a small hall and that was scantily filled. The secretary suffered, as well as the cause he represents, by the apparent identification of the Taft movement in Illinois with "Billy" Lorimer. Not that the junior senator has not his host of friends. He emphatically has, and they are politically powerful. But to put it in a mild way, Senator Lorimer is discredited. He has a fight on his hands and is looked upon askance by members of his own party who foresee that the attaching to his election will cost the Republicans the state. The eagerness of the Lorimer faction to attach themselves to the Roosevelt people, who are both numerous and noisy, are losing no opportunity to emphasize what they call an unholy alliance. It was pointed out the first time before a meeting in Chicago of the Rev. John Wesley Hill, who was the principal speaker with Secretary Stimson, before a meeting of the Lorimer league.

Hope to Keep Senatorship.
Illinois Republicans seem to be quite reconciled to the idea of losing the governorship and the electoral vote of the state in this fall's election. They cling, however, to the hope that the gerrymander of the state may give them the senatorship. Whether this hope is well founded or not depends largely upon the astuteness of the Democratic campaign managers. For the past few years the Republicans in Illinois Democratic organization have been quite content to be in the minority in the state legislature, and have in fact nominated so few candidates for the legislature that if all were elected the party would still be in the minority. In Illinois the election law permits "plumping" votes. That is to say, there being three assembly rules for electoral reform this one has been seized upon by the bosses and made to serve their own purposes. During the prolonged period of bipartisan control of the state, a period which reached its culmination in the election of the Republican Lorimer to the senate, by machine Democratic votes, this system has been used to keep the Democrats in the minority. There seems reason to believe that this unholy coalition has now been broken. If it has there is a chance, rather a faint one, that the Democrats may capture the legislature and elect their senator.

On the Republican side the senatorial candidates are the present incumbents, Shelby M. Cullom, L. Y. Sherman, a well known lawyer, and Thomas H. Magill, an educator whose friends are fond of referring to him as the Woodrow Wilson of the Republican party.

Chief Objection to Cullom.
Habitués of Washington need not be told the chief, indeed the only valid objection to the re-election of Senator Cullom. According to his party creed, there can be no opposition to his record, which is singularly clear of scandal or of taint. But he is doing one more to the pathetic list of public men unable to recognize that nature itself puts a limit on the period of a man's usefulness in public station. The late Senator Platt, when he became actually senile, Senator De Witt was narrowly approached a like misuse of power and of place. Senator Tillman today, not forty years, but because of physical weakness is almost valueless to the state he represents, and of which he is about to ask yet another term. Senator Cullom has practically succeeded Platt as the valetudinarian of the senate, and while the argument is an ungracious one, it is still properly urged that he should retire.

The primaries, which are advisory only and which in the Lorimer election were flouted and set aside, will be held on April 9. In my judgment Mr. Sherman has rather the best of the situation on the Republican side. On the Democratic side the only avowed candidate is J. Hamilton Lewis, whose fame for eccentricity is nation-wide, but who, under a foolish and affected exterior, conceals a mind at once shrewd and brilliant. The name of Representative Henry T. Rainey is mentioned often in Washington as a senatorial possibility, but I found little sign of activity in his behalf in Chicago.

The Probable Candidates.
In all probability Governor Doneen will be renominated and in equal probability beaten for re-election by the hostility of the Lorimerites. On the Democratic side the aspirants are Samuel Aleschuler, easily the leading Democrat in the state, next to Carter H. Harrison, the veteran mayor of Chicago, and Edward F. Dunne, ex-mayor of the chief city. The chances favor Aleschuler, partly because of his wide popularity, but chiefly because Dunne, in a moment of pique, refused to abide by the action of the convention which nominated Harrison over him for mayor.

Washington is watching the Illinois situation with marked interest. Not since 1892 has the state gone Democratic. But there is a robust conviction among Democrats and a resigned heller among Republicans that after twenty years that record will be repeated.

AT THE AUDITORIUM

The initial showing of photo plays at the Auditorium was well received, and those who saw them went away pleased.

The seats are so arranged that one has plenty of "show room" and feels comfortable. The large, spacious room with the exhaust fans affords fresh and wholesome air every six minutes. The check rooms for ladies and gentlemen are at their disposal, for which there is no extra charge.

The men may retire to the smoking room at will, while women have the use of the rest room, which is tastefully furnished. It will always be the policy of the management to eliminate all objectionable features, and all patrons are assured that courteous treatment will be the rule. The owners of the Auditorium (L. Hammel & Co.) have personal charge of the rink now, as their manager, W. L. Downer, has resigned.

Mangled in Sawing Machine.
Algoma, Wis., March 9.—While assisting in operating a sawing machine in the town of Apaupee Ernest Haegoe, aged 19, was caught in the fly wheel and shafting and drawn onto the saw and probably fatally injured. His left hand was cut off and he got several deep cuts in the chest, exposing the lungs.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the methods of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformly and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy of your druggist the genuine only, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package; one size only, price, 50 cents per bottle.

AUTO OWNERS ARE PLEASSED

Duluth Tourists Delighted to Hear of Improvements on County Roads.

Miller Trunk Probably Most Used of Roads Out of City.

There has been at this time to be more work done on county roads during the coming season than in several years.

This is mighty pleasing to Duluth automobile owners, who have long been anxious for better road conditions about the city.

While a great part of the roads for a distance of about ten miles out of the city are in very fair shape, Duluth owners state that within they begin to go beyond this distance, the conditions are poor.

The Miller Trunk highway will be repaired again this year. This is one of the most important roads leading out of Duluth for on it Duluthians go to the range and the range people tour to the Zenith City.

Last year a good deal of money was expended upon this road and mistakes were made which will not be made again this year.

The road was not in as good shape as it was the year previous but with the money to be expended upon it this season it should be better than ever.

This year the county will spend about $270,000 for roads and bridges. This amount is at least $20,000 more than was ever expended in a single year before.

Engineer Coe for the county board was re-elected last week at an increased salary. This act on the part of the board shows that the members of the board expect to do much road improvement work during the coming spring and summer.

WORKING FOR ROAD MEMORIAL

Highway From Washington to Gettysburg Will Be Named After Lincoln.

Emphasizing its practical character and supplying cost figures to show that the $2,000,000 appropriation would be sufficient to build a seventy-two-mile road from Washington to Gettysburg, the advocates of the Lincoln memorial highway contributed much information to the library committee of the house of representatives at the March 5 hearing given Congressman Borah's measure. At the many questions put to those who appeared before the committee it was plainly evident that the highway was not something which interested Chairman Clayton and his associates.

An eloquent sentimental appeal for the highway was made by Gen. John E. Black, chairman of the civil service commission, who in the course of his remarks said: "At our annual encampments we have unceasingly urged the proposition to have the proposed Lincoln memorial highway in the form of a great boulevard from Washington to Gettysburg, and if it is built, it will be only a question of time before it is extended to Richmond, binding the North and South."

NEW MODELS BEING SHOWN

Mutual Automobile Company Has Latest Types of Well-Known Makes.

The Mutual Auto company is showing the newest models of the several types of the Chalmers-Detroit, the Overland, the Hudson and the Thomas Flyer automobiles.

The new model of the Overland, rated at 20-horse power, seating five passengers, equipped fully with wind shield, top, lamps, including freight, is less than $1,900, is attracting much attention.

The car is built along graceful lines that speed to spare. It is claimed by those who have tried it out. The model on exhibition in the show room of the local company is finished in black, nicely striped and is equipped with fure doors.

This automobile shows that a good product can be turned out and placed in the hands of the customer at less than $1,900. Fully equipped, freight and all, it comes to about $245.

For many years manufacturers have tried to put out a car of this kind, but they have always allowed some part of the machines to suffer, either the workmanship, the finishing, the motor or some other equally important part. Heretofore the cheap car has always seemed to have a weakness

NEWS OF THE AUTO AGENTS

Imperial Car Being Featured; Kissel Car Chassis Attracting Much Attention.

Stearns Car in Demand; Jackson Popular; H. D. Vestal Here.

The Electric Service & Repair company is featuring the Imperial, a medium priced automobile built at Jackson, Mich.

This company also sells the Richmond, the Locomobile, the Rauch and Lang electric, the Adams Bros' truck and the Auto Kleer of the same make. Because the Imperial is a medium-priced car and because the managers of the Electric Service & Repair company believe it to be one of the best cars on the market at the price, they are pushing its sale with great success.

The Imperial "beats up the hills" to use an expression of one of the demonstrators drivers, and on the road the car has a faculty of allowing others a clean sight of the rear axle.

The car costs from $1,250 to $1,750. It comes in different shapes and sizes and is said to be an ideal car for country roads, being strongly built and having a high clearance.

The Electric Service & Repair company occupies the new garage recently erected on East First street.

Many visitors to the Interstate garage at Nos. 5 and 7 East First street, are admiring the stripped model of the Kissel car, an exhibit from the splendid new showroom. The chassis was exhibited at the New York, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis shows.

J. T. Paacha, manager of the company, states that never before business prospects so good. Mr. Paacha has visited a number of the shows and he says that people will buy more automobiles this year than last.

The Interstate people are also agents for the Palmer-Singer and Royal cars. A new feature in the paint shop recently installed and placed in the hands of an expert. The shop just now is busy painting as many Duluthians after having their cars overhauled and repainted.

The Duluth Auto supply company reports the sale of several models of the new Stearns car. This car, it is claimed, has a very satisfactory record, but with the new Silent Knight motor, it is said to be more reliable than ever. The company reports inquiry strong and prospects for a sharp selling season during the year. The company also has one of the best tire repair shops in the Northwest.

M. W. Turner, the automobile and vehicle repairer, is now acting as agent for the Jackson and other well known makes of automobiles, reports the sale of several cars during the week.

Mr. Turner has shipped a number of cars to the range and several local people have Jacksons coming early in May.

H. D. Vestal, representing the Republic Rubber company of Youngstown, Ohio, and with a branch office at Minneapolis, is here during the week calling on local agents. The Republic tires are among the best known and most satisfactory tire made and they have always been popular with Duluth motorists. Mr. Vestal states that he does not look for an increase in the cost of tires this year.

BIG GROWTH OF TIRE BUSINESS

Eight Million Tires Have Been Manufactured During Past Five Years.

An estimate of the number of tires manufactured in this country in the past five years is $399,000,000. It is figured that since the beginning of 1907, the tire industry has marketed in the neighborhood of $399,000,000 worth of tires, the yearly output being as follows: 1907, 300,000; 1908, 1,050,000; 1909, 1,350,000; 1910, 2,000,000; 1911, 2,300,000. Total, 8,000,000.

Although 1911, as will be observed from these figures, was the biggest year for tire makers in the history of the industry, the demand for tires but that 1912 will beat it. In fact, the demand for approximately 4,000,000 tires is expected.

CAMPAIGN IS SUCCESSFUL

All Large Cities Now Enforce the Muffler Cut-Out Law.

The far-reaching effect of the campaign inaugurated a year and a half ago by the Touring Club of America against the use of the muffler cut-out on motor cars is evidenced in an order recently issued by the local government board of London, which will end the cut-out nuisance in the world's metropolises March 21.

Simultaneous with the action by the London authorities is the introduction of an ordinance by John H. Roehen, a member of the board of aldermen of the city of New York, which, if adopted, would make it illegal to operate an automobile in the city streets with the muffler cut-out. It is a singular coincidence that the cities of New York and London have only lately taken steps against the indiscriminate use of the cut-out, although scores of cities and villages throughout the United States have heretofore taken such action.

SOME REASONS FOR USING MOTOR TRUCKS

Reasons for investigating and using the motor truck are given by a well known manufacturer. The following are the points he makes.

"Because it will increase the efficiency of your delivery system."
"Because it will give you prestige."
"Because it will help to increase your business."

"Because you will be able to cover a large territory in a given time."
"Because the motor truck is not affected by the winter weather."
"Because the motor truck will work for you every day in the year."
"Because of your entire organization is judged by the way you deliver your goods."

"Because you are able to get unbiased opinions from manufacturers."
"Because you can make an investigation of both the gasoline and electric market affords wide range of capacities and bodies both in electric and gasoline types."
"Because the motor truck is a certainty to insure its every day use."
"Because you can use it for 100,000 miles up to Jan. 1, 1912, for 99,999 miles, and had been sold since the inception of the industry."

"Because each motor truck takes the place of two horse-drawn wagons, and a greatly increased percentage will be covered by the farmer."
"Down in Texas the San Antonio Automobile club has held over 200 members since the first of the year."
"In Maine the roads question is receiving comprehensive treatment, brought about through the efforts of the Maine Automobile association, which a year ago sent the message of a trunk line highway bill. Commissioner of the State of Maine of Portland sums the situation in these words:

"It behooves us to build the best wearing road under existing traffic at the least possible cost. We believe that a concrete road from four to six inches thick, surfaced with a bituminous material mixed with sand or fine gravel, will solve the problem of the road. No other form of construction is so durable and such a road is very low, and it can be resurfaced at a moderate cost."

Motorcycle Notes.
The Bakerfield, Cal., Motorcycle club is planning a convention of motorists of San Francisco and the surrounding country to plan for an annual race meet.

It costs William Shauger, R. F. D., carried by motor at Evria, Ohio, only 15 cents a day and requires but three hours each day to deliver mail to nine or ten mail boxes on his route.

The official officers of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, blue and white, have been adopted by the New York Motorcycle club for club pennants.

With $200,000 in the state treasury of Illinois for the improvement of public roads, motorcyclists in that state are deploring the fact that the last legislature failed to make any provision for its expenditure. No action will now be taken until 1913.

Joe Kegel of Freeport, Ill., recently hitched his motorcycle to a hohled and white steamer just "walked away" with it.

Pittsburg now has a new motorcycle club, which is preparing to affiliate with the F. A. M. It has been named the "Happy Days" Motorcycle club.

The Muskegon, Mich., Motorcycle club is planning to join the Federation of American Motorcyclists.

Even "20 below" is not too cold for enthusiastic motorcyclists. Orrin Gamnager, a messenger of Minneapolis, Minn., rides from fifty to sixty miles every night.

In order to increase their membership the Duluth motorcycle club has selected two teams which will compete for members until April 7. And the losing team pay for a banquet to the winners.

Daily motorcycle races were added to the recent festivities of the Mardi Gras celebration at New Orleans.

Ten motorcyclists of Topeka, Kan., have already "sneaked up" for the tour of the Short Grass Motorcycle club through forty western states during the coming summer.

Forty riders attended the second anniversary meeting of the Maryland Motorcycle club at Baltimore recently.

Harrison Tellow of Elgin, Ill., has equipped his motorcycle with skates and says he enjoys "coasting" and "skating" on the ice.

Studebaker Automobiles

are Built on Honor

A Quiet Advertisement to Men Who Think

E-M-F '30' Touring Car, $1100

Amid the noise of much automobile advertising, we will speak quietly. We have something to say. We want men who think to listen.

This is our story: We are building E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" automobiles—building 50,000 of them this year—and selling them to men of moderate means and also of large means, but all alike in one particular. They investigate, criticize, make comparisons and prove the value of what they buy. They think.

Years of honest dealing and skillful manufacturer have given the name Studebaker a great prestige. It stands, as a fine man does, for honor and square dealing. It has become a principle. Into every E-M-F "30" or Flanders "20" automobile built goes the reputation and integrity of that name and what it stands for.

We Build for You

Think a minute. Our cars are built with a single purpose. To furnish the most of automobile value in design, quality and every days good service for the least cost. We are not catering to those few who buy where they can spend the most money, nor to any indiscriminate purchaser. But we build for you, Mr. X (let us have your name and we will use it) who know the worth of a dollar and who are looking for the best value, dollar given for dollar spent, on the market.

Yes, we could make cars cheaper. Others whose resources are smaller do so. We could make their cars and sell them for less money than they do. But what kind of a car would we offer to you then? A light fragile car to spin merrily for a time and then develop a spasm of weakness and lead an invalid existence until discarded.

To that we will not turn our hand. Our cars are Studebaker cars.

Materials Which Give Long Life

In E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" automobiles go the highest quality steels and other materials it is possible to buy. The big mills make steel for us in accordance with our secret formulas. We build practically every part of the cars in our own plants. For instance, there are 252 drop forgings in every E-M-F "30," 226 in every Flanders "20." You will appreciate what that means for strength. Incidentally, it means that we have our own forge plant—it's a wonder, too—or we couldn't afford to do it. Similarly, our foundry, our body plants, our steel stamping plant, our extensive laboratories all co-operate to give us heavy manufacturing advantages and economies.

Put Studebaker honor and square dealing into the best automobile factories in the world and what must the product be? Absolutely beyond question the best automobile values you can buy. That's what we sell you when you buy an E-M-F "30" or Flanders "20."

There are no freak features in either car. Every important part in their design and manufacture is used by a big majority of the best cars built. In them you buy the sum of engineering skill, standardized.

Records Prove It

During the past summer stock Flanders "20" cars won:

- 1—World's Speedway Records 1-20 miles;
- 2—Most important hill climbs in the country in record-breaking time.
- 3—The severest reliability runs held in the United States.

Further, a stock Flanders "20" did 1280 miles pioneering between Seattle, Wash., and Hazelton, B. C., over trails where in many places neither vehicle nor horse had been. It is a record. No other car last year approached it.

The E-M-F "30" won 1st, 2nd and 3rd places in the Savannah Tiedeman Trophy race, the only event in which we entered the car. If you are interested in further details, ask any man who has driven an E-M-F "30" or knows the car.

A story of honest and square dealing. This is the Studebaker story. It's all true. Send for our booklet, "First to Hazelton," and other of our interesting literature.

Crookston, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first school consolidation ever effected in Polk county was carried by a vote of 59 to 73, Friday at Eldred, when the voters in School Districts Nos. 41 and 159 in Boone, 68 in Andover and 254 in Vineland, held an election on the proposition. The only opposition came from some residents who would have over five miles to send their children, and from some who thought it was a move for the benefit of Eldred. Some Promises Made by the Press Agents for Coming Attractions

AT THE LYCEUM

The offering at the Lyceum next Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16, will be "The Red Rose," a musical comedy in three acts, by Harry B. and Robert B. Smith, with music by Robert Hood Bowers, which has made a sensational hit in New York city at the Globe theater. The production is under the personal direction of John C. Fisher, the noted producer of "Florodora" and "The Silver Slipper" and many other big musical successes. The company is unusually large and is said to include some stunning young women. There are twenty-eight musical numbers, with a variety of popular song hits and others of greater musical worth. From a scenic and costume point of view, "The Red Rose" is said to be a sensation. Money has been spent lavishly. It is, in short, a drossmaker's and milliner's delight. The story tells the following tale: A young American studying art falls in love with a model, Lola. His wealthy father objects to the marriage. Stormy scenes follow, but in the end, Dick Lorimer, the young American, obtains some pictures taken by a moving picture syndicate, showing the antics of his father with a young art student. This, coupled with the discovery that Lola is really a baron's daughter, enables Lorimer to overcome his father's objections, and the last act ends with a scene reminiscent of "Sappho" when the student carries his fiancée up a flight of steps and they walk away in true Viennese musical comedy style and are married.

The cast includes some of the best known musical comedy artists and is said, by those who should know, to be on the whole superior to the one which played New York city. This is easy to understand, as it has not been organized as a "road" show and will only be seen in the larger Southern and Western cities. The only one and two-night stands this company will play are those necessary to break jumps between the larger cities. One of the features of the performance is the "Students' Glee," a sensational dancing number which is now the talk of New York.

Not in many years has any comedy production elicited such high praise from the dramatic reviewers of New York, Chicago and other principal cities.

As was received by George M. Cohen's famous comedy, "Get Rich Quick" which was "It amused immensely an audience that is the hardest in America to please." The New York Post said "It scored an undoubted success." The Chicago American wrote "Such hearty laughter never before heard in a Chicago playhouse, and more recent, 'The Heartiest, loudest, longest laugh in many years.' This comedy hit will appear at the Lyceum soon.

Al H. Wilson will play an engaging part in the near future in his new song-adorned comedy, "It Happened in Potsdam," which has met with considerable success in the larger cities. The reviews of the performance indicate it as the best entertainment he has ever presented.

Many admirers of this clever singing German dialect comedian will be pleased at the opportunity of again witnessing his delightful work and enjoying the charm of his singing voice. The scene of the story is set in Potsdam, Germany; the summer residence of the present Kaiser Wilhelm; and concerns the adventures of a native of the soil with a party of American who are congregated there.

During the action of the play, Mr. Wilson will sing some of his successful melodies, the most prominent being "Her Smiles Make You Part From the Girl You Love," "Loves of Bygone Days" and "Songs of Old Fatherland."

There are few musical comedies on the road today that have met with the same success wherever presented as that of "The Newlyweds and Their Baby" has. The piece comes to the Lyceum with a big company of sixty fan-makers, phenomenal runs in New York, Chicago and Boston, this play established a standard that has gone down on record for successful business.

The reason for this success lies in the certain effectiveness, snappiness and action, both to the story and music, which, like good old wine, improves with age.

The chorus in one of the charming features of the "Newlyweds." Good looks alone was not considered sufficient cause for an engagement by the management—ability to really sing, dance and wear good gowns gracefully, was insisted upon and out of 600 applicants only 35 were able to qualify. Forty of these were selected and are now one of the big factors in the success of the play.

MR. AND MRS. FREDRICK VOELKER, At the Empress Next Week.

tour will originate on the Orpheum circuit. That combination of musical genius—the Six Kirksmith Sisters, strenuously object to being announced as an importation. The six young women are from New York, and they are exceedingly proud of both facts.

AT THE EMPRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Voelker in their classic musical offering, "Twilight in the Studio," will headline the bill which comes to the Empress for a week's engagement commencing Sunday afternoon.

In speaking of the engagement of these distinguished artists, the New York Journal said: "It is a matter of congratulation to Sullivan in the fact that they have secured Mr. and Mrs. Voelker for their circuit. Mr. Voelker is unquestionably one of the most artistic violinists that has ever appeared in vaudeville, and many people, prior to his appearance in this field, predicted that he would not be successful in the musical and un-musical mangle. On the contrary, however, his success has been wonderful, even those not musically inclined recognizing the worth of his art. Mr. Voelker is a German by birth of French and Russian parentage and while but a boy his love for the violin caused him to be sent to the Raff Conservatory in Leipzig, where his proficiency soon earned him a concertmaster's position. He later succeeded the celebrated Muller Berghaus at Hamburg. After several years of concert work in Europe, he came to America in the latter part of 1907, where he has since been connected with some of our foremost symphony orchestras. Mr. Voelker is fortunate in having as an accompanist, his talented wife. In "Twilight in the Studio," for which Mr. Voelker has provided one of the most beautiful stage settings ever seen in vaudeville, he presents a unique feature entitled, "A Musical Evolution," exemplifying the three stages of the development of a musician. First there is Boyhood, with its early struggles, seeming like a tragedy to the pupil but with its semi-comic aspect to the older onlookers. Then comes Youth, showing the confidence bordering on conceit of the young man who has studied a few years and considers himself a master of the violin. He is for a moment a member of "The Two Pucks." He is practically born on the stage. He has spent his life in the profession. Miss Lewis is a superbly well known in musical comedy, and her story of ill treatment at home was not substantiated, the ill treatment consisting chiefly of a desire on the part of his parents to put an end to his propensity of playing "hokey," but Mr. Newberger thought favorably of the boy's talents as a singer, dancer and mimic, and he consented, finally, to take him as a pupil with the promise of an ultimate engagement if he proved his worth. The boy then told Mr. Newberger about his little schoolmate, Amelia Claire, who generally appeared with him, and the girl was also taken in as a pupil. They showed great promise and learned so rapidly that in a few weeks their manager was able to make good his promise, and he started down for his conduct. He said that he had taken part in school and church entertainments, and he begged Mr. Newberger to put him on the stage.

Mr. Newberger was impressed with the boy's earnestness, and telephoned his parents, who arrived on the scene, much to the lad's chagrin. season's newest recruits to vaudeville and in a short time they have developed one of the biggest laughing hits in months. It is claimed. They are programmed "The Prime-Center Cut-Ups" and their interpretation of these characters is said to be thoroughly rustic and a rare delight in rustic characterization. Both comedians sing and dance in "Rube's" style and their patter is said to be immensely laughable. In all the cities on the circuit, they have met with wonderful success. As a juggler with decided favor and it is anticipated that they will receive an enthusiastic reception during their engagement in this city.

Lawton, the clever juggler, who is making an exclusive tour of the Sullivan & Considine circuit, has this far made an enviable record and cities where heretofore the audiences have cared but little for juggling, they have been highly pleased and entertained with everything in general, he is wonderful, it is claimed. His work covers various skillful feats, from manipulating billiard balls to Japanese balancing stunts. He is a juggler during the entire number he does not allow his audience to lag in interest for a moment. He also introduces numerous novelties, original and striking, and this combined with his lightning-like rapidity of his work, wins him great favor with his audience.

"The New Boarder," a comedy playlet as presented by Gertrude Dion Magill company, is expected to be one of the laughing hits of the bill. "The New Boarder" possesses a well-defined plot about which the author has woven a bright fabric of comedy. The lines are said to be bright and witty and the situations are developed naturally and are all actors of ability who are said to fit their roles and present the playlet with all the vim necessary to its success.

An audience always take rare delight in a good German comedian and youth who has studied a few years and considers himself a master of the violin. He is for a moment a member of "The Two Pucks." He is practically born on the stage. He has spent his life in the profession. Miss Lewis is a superbly well known in musical comedy, and her story of ill treatment at home was not substantiated, the ill treatment consisting chiefly of a desire on the part of his parents to put an end to his propensity of playing "hokey," but Mr. Newberger thought favorably of the boy's talents as a singer, dancer and mimic, and he consented, finally, to take him as a pupil with the promise of an ultimate engagement if he proved his worth. He said that he had taken part in school and church entertainments, and he begged Mr. Newberger to put him on the stage.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Two very youthful performers are expected to create no little comment among Orpheum patrons next week. They are Seymour Felix and Amelia Claire two very lively youngsters who will headline next week's bill. These two youthful prodigies, under the management of A. Newberger, have been one of the sensations of the circuit this season. They imitate such people as Richard Carle, Buck and Fulton De Haven and Parker, Montgomery and Stone, Irene Franklin, Jeff de Angelis and others. The children, they are said to have a remarkable gift of mimicry, and to be very clever dancers and singers.

The story of how the children came to enter vaudeville is interesting. One morning, about two years ago, the lad ran away from home and walked three miles to present himself at the office of Mr. Newberger, to whom he complained of ill treatment at home. He strongly objected to the stern rules laid down for his conduct. He said that he had taken part in school and church entertainments, and he begged Mr. Newberger to put him on the stage.

Mr. Newberger was impressed with the boy's earnestness, and telephoned his parents, who arrived on the scene, much to the lad's chagrin. The boy's story of ill treatment at home was not substantiated, the ill treatment consisting chiefly of a desire on the part of his parents to put an end to his propensity of playing "hokey," but Mr. Newberger thought favorably of the boy's talents as a singer, dancer and mimic, and he consented, finally, to take him as a pupil with the promise of an ultimate engagement if he proved his worth. He said that he had taken part in school and church entertainments, and he begged Mr. Newberger to put him on the stage.

EAST BUTTE CONTINUES TO MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Now Ready to Produce Copper in Competition With Any Company.

Tuolumne Likely to Resume Payment of Dividends in August.

Butte, Mont., March 9.—(Special to The Herald).—Of the independent producing companies in this district none is making a better showing than the East Butte, and in the course of a few months the company will be earning a good profit on its operations. For several months improvements looking to the reduction of cost have been in progress. It is now claimed that the company is in a position to put copper on the New York market in competition with the leading producers of the country. The condition of affairs has been very largely brought about by Manager Oscar Rolin, who is a practical mining man and who has got the happy faculty of winning the confidence and esteem of every man in the employ of the company. The improvements just completed and those in course of completion mean considerable to the future of the company. In the next few months the smelter will be in a position to turn out 1,500,000 pounds of copper every month at a cost around 9 cents a pound. The smelting plant recently finished and one of the most important improvements made in the past few months. With it the dust is carried back to the blast furnaces for retreatment, bringing about a saving of about 5 per cent of what was formerly a complete loss of about 8 per cent of the mineral content of all ores treated. This process is largely automatic the cost of operation is comparatively light. This will, it is realized, add considerably to the earning power of the company. The plant has a capacity of treating 100 tons of the dust every twenty-four hours. It is located at the junction of the smelter and close to the tunnel beneath the new dust chamber which was completed a week ago. The sintering of the dust is the most modern preparation of the material and is a vast improvement on the process in operation in many of the big mines of the country. No foreign material is mixed with the dust, heat alone being used as a sintering agent. The dust is elevated to the floor above and it is automatically fed into the sintering trough, which is of the endless belt variety. The trough moves along mechanically the dust passes beneath a gasoline flame and is carried to the upper part of the mass into fusing. As it passes along the intense heat is forced through the mass by a downward movement of the trough, which is rapidly revolving. The heat causes the moving trough is a series of grates. By the time the trough has moved to a point where the dust is dumped, the fused mass into a waiting car, the dust has become comparatively light and is conveyed to the blast furnaces where it is again treated. In the process of fusing the dust is reduced to about 10 per cent of the sulphur and much of the eliminated.

MILL SITE FOR INSPIRATION

Expected It Will Be Definitely Announced at an Early Date.

Officials connected with the Inspiration Copper company of New York assert that the exact site for the new mill, which is to be erected for the treating of the ores of the Inspiration and Live Oak companies, which properties are being controlled by the Inspiration Consolidated Copper company, will be finally decided before March 15. As soon as the exact location will be announced, the construction of the mill will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. As already announced, the Inspiration proposes building a concentrator with a capacity of 5,000 tons per day, which will enable it to produce 60,000,000 pounds of copper a year. At a cost of 6 cents a pound, and 1 1/2-cent copper there would then be a margin of profit of 4 cents a pound, or $1.50 per ton, or an amount equal to $5.00 per share. Good results are being obtained from the experimental mill, which is considerably in excess of 30 per cent in the case of the Inspiration, and 20 per cent in the case of the Live Oak. It is believed that after six months' operations cost of production will not exceed 3 1/2 cents a pound.

LARGE ORE BODY HAS BEEN PROVED

Discoveries in Briggs Workings of Calumet & Arizona Developed.

Bisbee, Ariz., March 9.—While the ore body at the Inspiration mine is being maintained by the Calumet & Arizona company development work is also going steadily on. Early in the winter there were some good strikes reported in the Briggs workings as they are being extended. These were on the 1,300-foot level and since that time the body has been proved. While this body is not wide, it is very important and has already been cut for a distance of more than 250 feet. The ore is of good quality sulphides and the development that is being carried on here is resulting in the opening up and proving of a new territory. The old Mag shaft is not only far from being exhausted but is yielding up new discoveries of ore bodies one of the most important of the recent ones being the result of new work on the ninth and eleventh levels. The extent of these ore bodies have not been determined but they have been explored far enough to show that they are extensive and important.

ACTIVITY IN IRON RIVER DISTRICT

Scores of Companies Working and Many Properties Being Developed.

The Lake is shipping from the stockpile, which is being removed to make room for a railroad spur to the new shaft. The rock is being milled in the Terminal street mill. A regular production will likely not occur before about June 1, when an initial output of 500 tons daily may be expected. The stockpile will be cleaned up and such rock as is yielded by present development work will also be shipped to the Terminal street mills to save a rehandling later. The volume of such rock will not be large. The new shaft has been opened for service from surface to the ninth level and will go into commission following the completion of the new shaft rockhouse almost attained. Development is showing a continuation of the excellent copper measures opened in the past, and all of the newer openings between the third and ninth levels are in exceptional copper ground excepting occasional stretches such as are met with in all our mines.

EBERHART'S SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY. It's not easy to discover just what Governor Eberhart wishes people to understand as his sentiments on the presidential primary.

It has a very deep, a very vital and a very necessary interest for in wage scales on a European or Asiatic basis lurks a deadly peril that may destroy society itself.

At a recent Roosevelt demonstration Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, a recent and unexpected convert to the Colonel's cause, and Governor Stubbs of Kansas, a more ancient retainer, made addresses in which they devoted most of their time to an attack on their party's prostitution of the tariff system.

It was time profitably spent, too, for there is much to be said about that. The Republican party has turned the tariff into a machine for creating special privileges which have given birth to plutocracy at one end and pauperism at the other.

Let him call an extra session of the legislature, charging it with the duty of passing a presidential primary law. Such a session could be held within the month, and it would cost little.

It is within Governor Eberhart's power to give this state such a law.

to be about $800 a year. In other words, they found that that is the least possible sum on which an American laborer's family can be maintained in decent comfort and in such conditions that the laborer's children may be expected to become desirable citizens.

As society is made up of individuals, and as its strength depends upon the condition and environments in which these individuals live and upon their opportunities for education and self-supporting industry, society's interests in the minimum wage are clear.

It may not be easy to fix the absolute minimum. A family can be kept alive on a very small sum.

An Asiatic family can be kept alive for a month on what it costs to subscribe to The Herald for a week. But the minimum wage should be more than enough to keep life in the body. It should be enough to provide education, books, music, pictures, lectures, entertainments—all that is needed to feed mind and soul as well as body.

Ill fares the nation which has a class in its population which it is content merely to keep physically alive.

Just below that minimum wage begins the danger line, and the situation continues to grow more dangerous to society the lower the wage scale is permitted to fall.

When it gets down to a point where, as in Lawrence, the average earnings of heads of families are but $400 a year, a condition is created that is an actual and terrible menace to the security of society and the well-being of the nation.

In such places, where the wages are enough only to keep body and soul together, and scarcely enough for that, other sources than the husband's income must be drawn upon. So the wife goes into the mill, taking her children with her; or else she fills her house with boarders.

In either case the situation is vicious. If the wife works, the children are denied a mother's care. If the children work they are robbed of the joy of childhood and made old before their time.

If the house swarms with boarders it ceases to be a home, and the well-being of society is undermined in its most vital part—home life.

Has society an interest, which it should exert through government, in a minimum wage scale? It has a very deep, a very vital and a very necessary interest for in wage scales on a European or Asiatic basis lurks a deadly peril that may destroy society itself.

At a recent Roosevelt demonstration Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, a recent and unexpected convert to the Colonel's cause, and Governor Stubbs of Kansas, a more ancient retainer, made addresses in which they devoted most of their time to an attack on their party's prostitution of the tariff system.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the open court system. The opinions of contributors are not necessarily those of the Herald.)

To the Editor of The Herald: The spread of golf and curling is a splendid thing because it gives grown-ups more playtime. It would be another splendid thing if the Tired Business Man, instead of letting his muscles atrophy and his being grow stale because he has no better outlet than what the theatrical manager, with a decidedly insulting estimate of the T. B. M.'s mental capacity, sees fit to offer him, would take up country walking and manage to steal an afternoon a week for it.

Lack of play makes young Jack a dull boy, and lack of play makes old Jack an ossified and petrifying frump—a nuisance to himself and everybody around him.

Play is a pretty big word, and it means a lot more than leapfrog. Body and mind both need play. Going to the playhouse where a good farce, melodrama, comedy or even tragedy is being produced is excellent play for the mind; and don't be afraid if besides amusing you and entertaining you it makes you think a little, for that's play, too—play for the mind. Don't be afraid of good lectures, either; they help the mind to play. And a good sermon once a week won't hurt you a bit, either. There are sermons being preached right here in this town every week that are as stimulating and bracing and uplifting as a breath of fresh air to poisoned lungs.

But don't content yourself with mental play, any more than you should content yourself without it. Get bodily, physical play, too. Fish, hunt, walk, play golf, pitch quoits, join the curling club and curl, make a garden in your back yard.

Don't ossify. Don't atrophy. Don't petrify. An ossified, atrophied and petrified human being is an interesting object as a curiosity, or would be if there weren't so many of them because of the amazingly ridiculous idea that grown-ups shouldn't play—but don't be one.

Play! If Uncle Sam were to adopt the New Jersey idea and dock the president for the time he spends away from the White House, Taft would have to serve another term to get a full year's pay out of the job.

WHAT SHOULDN'T COURT. Said Col. Roosevelt: "In 1904 I should have felt badly if refused the nomination, as I wanted the seal of public approval placed on my acts in trying to carry out the work of my predecessor, who had been elected by the people."

To which the New York Sun adds: "And how does he suppose William Howard Taft would feel in 1912?"

An apt retort, truly. But neither in Taft's case nor Roosevelt's should the American people, in fixing upon their choice for presidential nominees and for the presidency be swayed by consideration for the personal feelings of the candidates.

For if they were they'd have to nominate and elect everybody who would be disappointed if he were not nominated and elected, and that, of course, is impracticable.

Meanwhile the Republican campaign shows a tendency to lapse into a contest between an irritated judicial temperament and an aggravated judicial temper.

HOME. The tenderest thoughts of all civilized peoples cling around that word "home". The grown man or woman, worn with the world's toil and trouble, looks back to the old home as a place of peace and plenty and comfort and well-being, and those who have the faith and the hope of heaven to lighten their souls along the way look forward to the Hecateer and reflect upon it the glory and beauty of home—the nearest thing to heaven that they ever know on this earth.

The home can be—should be—a place of rest and peace and comfort and love and forbearance, an inspiration always to higher and better things. Yet here are some of the things that poor, misguided, wretched human beings turn their homes into.

A hermit's cave, where only the family abide in selfishness without the human contact of friendly visitors which every home needs.

A beast's lair, to which a drunkard husband and father comes reeling home to sleep in swinish stupor.

A debating forum, where ceaseless wrangling strains nerves, lessens strength, shuts out hope and everything else but misery and bitterness.

A boarding house, which the man of the house uses only for the convenience of board and meals.

A place of slavery, where a good woman toils unceasingly and unthanked, with less consideration and reward than the black chattel slave had from his master, to whom he represented a property value.

A house of dread, where a brutal tyrant wreaks upon his defenseless dependents a vicious resentment of the world's contempt for him.

A theater of tragedy, where a neurosthenic woman spends her hours in tears and wailing and complaint.

A place of torture, where a raging woman uses that deadliest of weapons, a poisoned tongue, to make life a burden to her hapless husband.

A battlefield, where two human beings, grown apart in thought and purpose and sympathy, wage the deadliest of all wars—that which kills love and self-respect.

A sink of carousal, where lightminded wife or husband permits dissipation and debauchery to enter and profane the holiest place outside the altar of God.

A miser's counting house, where a niggardly husband haggles with wife and mother over penny costs of housekeeping.

A show place, where ostentatious display smothers comfort and destroys real home life.

MORE ECHOES OF HARMONY.

The Soft Pedal. Sauk Centre Herald: The governor of Minnesota who declared right out loud for Taft six weeks ago, now bears down hard on the soft pedal and says that while Taft is his personal choice the administration will keep hands off. He made that remark today after Roosevelt got into the contest. Comment is unnecessary.

Not Strong for Eberhart. Le Sueur News: Governor Eberhart says that he indorses Taft, and will make a campaign for him. If the right man gets into the race for governor in Minnesota, and it looks as if it would be "Little Willie" who will have enough snow to shovel from his own door step. The farmer of Minnesota do not take kindly to Taft for trying to palm off Canadian reciprocity, nor will they take kindly to Eberhart for "butting in" where he is not needed, and where the county is not strong for Eberhart anyhow.

Progressive Minnesota. Northfield News: Governor Eberhart posed as a Progressive before the Farmers and Merchants association in Duluth last week. He declared that Minnesota was a progressive state, and that the constructive legislation passed within the last few years—the rate legislation, pure food and drug laws, and others, practically all of them, however, were placed on the statute books before Governor Eberhart came chief executive of the state. Governor Eberhart's administration has been especially noted for progressive legislation, or even a business administration of its various departments.

Death Bed Repentance. Sauk Rapids Sentinel: Governor Eberhart says that what the state of Minnesota needs is a business administration, not a political administration. "Very good. But in this case it sounds too much like a death bed repentance."

Mistake. Gaylord Hub: Two mistakes for the people to rectify at the coming election—Taft and Eberhart.

Showing Its Hand. Luverne Journal: Dark and devious are the ways of the machine. Now they are engaged in an attempt to create bad blood between Sam Gordon and William Lee. Both are Eberhart candidates for the governorship. Which goes to show that they are both sensible men.

St. Cloud Times: St. William E. Lee at Crookston gave out an interesting talking issue with Governor Eberhart who said in his address at Duluth yesterday that Minnesota had a good business administration. Lee says that the business management has been decided upon. The people of the state know this very well. Eberhart's administration has been a "personally conducted tour" by Ed Smith to boost the political fortunes of the present governor.

Consistency. Virginia Virginian: Governor Eberhart has declared for President Taft, which merely makes him consistent in his policy of sticking to the boss as a whole.

THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLT AT LAWRENCE. Richard Washburn Child in Collier's: The Commonwealth is paying thousands of dollars a day to keep nine hundred armed men in a city which had been abandoned by the strikers. At the beginning of the strike it had no police organization, and it had no police department. Massachusetts herself is angry. The truth was known, if the tariff people and the people who are supposed to have given her citizens, were allowed to "distributed" to a handful of men, leaving the thirty-thousand workers of Lawrence where they are bare subsistence in the mills and starvation outside, and if, in addition, it were realized that the charges which had been attracted from Europe by Massachusetts would be under still.

Housewife's Job as Important as Husband's. Ida M. Tarbell in the American Magazine: Marriage is a business as well as a sentimental thing. It is a business partnership which brings grave responsibilities, and this, in our present state of civilization, is a very serious thing. She becomes a partner in an industrial enterprise. Her function is spending. The probability is that she will learn to make a check correctly, and has no conscience about the extravagance of her buying. When this is true of her she at once puts herself into the rank of an independent economic unit. It is common enough to hear women arguing that this close grappling with household economy is unbecomingly worthy of them. Why keeping track of calculating how much butter and milk to buy is any more narrow-minded than keeping track of the quality of cotton or wool or iron and steel? It is hard to see. It is a kind of a problem. Moreover, it has the interest of being a very independent personal problem. Men are not under the dominating effect which others have planned for or results in which they have no share.

A Case of Faith Cure. Henry Van Dyke in Scribner: The Asthmatic was awakened from a sound sleep by a terrible knock. He got out of the window. He gasped: "I am choking to death." He was the Mystic spring from bed groped along the wall for the knob of the door, but could not find it. Then he touched the glass. "It is fastened," he cried. "I can't find the catch. It will not move up or down."

"I shall die," groaned the Asthmatic, "unless I have air. Break the window-pane!" So the Mystic felt for the footstool, over which he had just stubbed his head, and used a corner of it to smash the glass.

"Ah," said the Asthmatic, "with a long sigh of relief, 'I am better.' There is nothing like fresh air." The morning roused them slowly, and they lay on their backs looking around the room. The windows were closed and the shades drawn. "But the glass door of the book-case had a great hole in it."

"Not at all," said the Sceptic. "It was the doubt cure. The way to get rid of a thing is to doubt it."

"I think," said the Asthmatic, "that it was the nightmare, and that mischief was done by the doubt cure. We have traveled enough, and yet we have found no better air than we left at home."

So they went back to the certain village, and continued their disputations very happily for the rest of their lives.

The Punishable Sin. Life: It appears that in Paterson, N. J., they recently arrested a young man and a young woman for forcing the turkey trot, and the court imposed a fine in each case of $25. The young man said the fine. The young woman, 18 years of age, being unable to pay the fine, was sent to jail for fifty days.

O. J. Justice. And good old Anglo-Saxon law. The girl was in effect punished for her poverty.

Imagined. The daughter of Messrs. Morgan or Rockefeller or Guggenheim or Carnegie going to jail for fifty days for dancing the turkey trot!

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Gospel of the Square Deal. The truly good man is anxious to be just to his neighbor first and to be kind to him afterward. This is getting the moralities in their proper order. I want no one to send me hothouse grapes or lace valentines till he has justified my just bill against him. I prefer a living salary throughout the year to a sumptuous donation party at Christmas. In other words, Justice takes precedence of charity in my desires and in those, I believe, of most right-minded men.

In the eighth century B. C. there lived a prophet who put forth a definition of religion that appears as wonderful a definition of genius as the art of Phidias or the science of Aristotle. The prophet's name was Micah and he said: "The Lord requires that thou shalt do justly, and shalt love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

The Lord demanded first of all that men be just in their dealings with their neighbor. It is just the primal demand that men make of each other. The rich sometimes wonder why the poor are so discontented. The rich are designed to help the working class. They cannot see that the kind-hearted plans fail to arouse enthusiasm in the beneficiaries. The Lord, like everybody else, want justice first. He would not have charity unless there was a decent wage than all the moral torments and pleasure parks and band concerts that the boss can devise.

It is raining on one occasion at a mass meeting designed to aid some charity Jacob Rills looked at a placard which read: "Charity is the fruit of a multitude of sins" and exclaimed, "It's time to take that cover off."

There is a widespread disposition to agree with the sentiment that education or philanthropy must expect to have its eyes nose and ears in the mouth. If what is given to the public represents sharp practice on the part of the donor, the charity of extortion, legal or illegal, the applause is faint today and it is going to get fainter all the time.

It is becoming ethically sensitive to the way in which money is got no less than to the way it is given.

It is more flattering to one's self-esteem to have money given to one as a philanthropist than it is to stand for or have handed justice to all. There are some who are so generous as to give the poor a square deal in the first place. Illustrations of this general principle are numerous. The case of Capt. Dreyfus of the French army was not wholly faded from the public mind. After the trial the victim was pardoned and released from his cruel and unjust imprisonment. The novelist Zola wrote to Mme. Dreyfus: "It is revolting to obtain pity when one asks for justice, and all some are concerned to bring about this last indignity. The judges, wishing to strike the innocent in order to satisfy the guilty, seek refuge in an act of horrible hypocrisy which they call mercy."

Have you ever known parents who would crush out a child's initiative, ignore his tastes, browbeat him generally and then give him a party or outing devised wholly after the stereotyped pattern of his parents and at which the youngster was expected to be delighted, or appear as an ingrate? It would be more honest treatment of the child if the parents should have shown some slight expression of opinion in regard to matters vital to their happiness.

Justice is not the whole of the moral structure that a good man may try to build but it is a mighty important foundation stone. Until one is pretty firmly grounded upon it he cannot decently add the upper stories of mercy and of benevolence.

A Political Steel Report. Kansas City Star: At the time the Steel corporation absorbed the Tennessee Coal & Iron company, the officers assured President Roosevelt that it did not cost more than the cost of the steel business of the country. The "expert accountant" for the committee evidently thought to make a hit with the Democratic members when he asserted that the big corporation controlled 90 per cent of the steel holdings. Apparently he was more leucostic of providing political campaign material than of getting at the truth.

Actual figures of calculating the percentage of business controlled by the big corporation to add the total capitalized value of seven steel companies to that of the United States Steel corporation passed over six months ago, limiting the hours of labor for women and children to fifty-four hours a week. Except for the argument that much work can be done by increased efficiency in fifty-four hours, there can be no doubt whatever that the Massachusetts mills are put at a disadvantage as compared with other states where more hours are allowed, just as they are already at a disadvantage because of heavier taxation and more stringent legislation. The intent of those behind this bill, however, was not to reduce the wages paid, but to shorten the hours. The mill owners knew what they were going to do. They knew they had a foreign, childlike body of workers to deal with. They proceeded to show the view of the ordinary manufacturer that other captains of industry in Massachusetts have almost universally condemned them. They planned to give no effective notice about reducing the hours when the hours were reduced. The reduction came as a surprise.

The decision was announced by means of a "clipped" pay envelope. It bounded together the nations of Lawrence and it was taught the speakers of a hundred tongues and dialects an English vocabulary, including such words as "wages," "militia," "stick to the tariff," "Schedule K," "a protection to American standards of living among the laborers is fidetodoh, as a lot of us have always suspected; that the Lawrence are painfully, but probably cruelly low; that the industry used to get along well enough, when it was smaller and should be prosperous and doing more harm than the good it did, finally, that arrogance invites anarchy, and does more harm than the good it does to a few thousand workers in Lawrence.

New York Sun: Stella—What is the matter? Cholly—I wish you'd tell your father he's gotta quit kickin' me aroun'.

Woman. Satire: Generally speaking, a woman is—generally speaking.

Quite a Preachment. Ladies Home Journal: Henry was at college. He had been spending somewhat too freely, and he was short. It was near the holidays, and he hated to write home for money. As a last resort, he pawned his dress suit to tide him over.

When the time came to leave for home the suit was still unredeemed. He knew he would need it at home. He hurriedly redeemed it at the last moment, packed it in the grip and was off.

His mother was helping him unpack. She came to the coat. "Henry, what a dress! 'What is this ticket on your coat for?" "Wax, mother," he replied. "I went to a dance the other evening and had my coat checked and putting away his garments. Finally she lifted out the trousers. They were in do, were tickets. "Henry," she exclaimed, "what kind of a dance was that?"

The New Nationalism. Life: I believe in trade, but I believe in publicity of campaign expenditures, but I believe in regulation and not destruction of great corporations, but I believe that congress should be powerful enough to support labor as well as to ever sacrifice to "dignity"—if stiffness is dignity, which it isn't—it is played, your grown-up needs to play just as much as he did before he became a grown-up.

THE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL REVOLUTION

New Democracy Is Born in the United States—Plan to Make Industry Truly the Servant of Society, and to Provide a Distribution of the Social Surplus That Will Give Comfort and Happiness to the Greatest Number Possible—Impulses and Aims of the Movement Now In Progress.

THE NEW DEMOCRACY: An Essay on Certain Political and Economic Tendencies in the United States. By Walter E. Weyl, Ph. D., New York: The Macmillan Company, 1912.

After rebelling successfully against royal tyranny, this nation turned to the opposite pole of an individual liberty which, in its exuberant conquest of a continent of apparently boundless resources, gave birth to a co-operating capitalism which, even in the face of theoretically complete political liberty, placed society under tribute and exacted a new revolution. This time toward economic liberty which shall be social in form rather than individual, and which, by safeguarding the social interest against the unchecked and unbridled power of the individual, will work more truly toward real individual freedom than the political liberty which the patriot fathers devised.

and knew not what to do with it, how to appropriate it, or how to guard it. Our unseeing society took the vow of chastity and gave away all it had to the rich.

The trust in the business world is a trust in the trust-builders, in the men on the ground, in the men who are the backbone of the industrial system. It is a trust in the men who are the backbone of the industrial system. It is a trust in the men who are the backbone of the industrial system.

A STUDY IN PARLIAMENTARY TACTICS

By SAVOYARD.

It was a tactical mistake on the part of the Democratic majority of the house of representatives to jump through that body the reform of the metal tariff schedule by an appeal to an exercise of the veto. It was poor politics in every respect to rush through the house, under whip and lash, this vitally important measure. The worst of it is, it is a precedent that will be followed in the future. It is a precedent that will be followed in the future.

Plg Iron Kelley was the nominal leader of the Democratic minority, but never designed to perform except when the speaker, being from the same state and both high protectionists, there was a possibility of a tie. Kelley was a man of exceptional ability, but his limitations were exceptionally clear. He was a man of exceptional ability, but his limitations were exceptionally clear.

DR. WALTER E. WEYL, Author of "The New Democracy."

the globe. The congestion aided in the spread of vice and infectious disease.

The brilliant, imaginative impulse of the conquest that impelled the pioneers, that impelled the pioneers, that impelled the pioneers.

Meanwhile, the new democracy is rising to correct, even while he is writing, the evils of the industrial revolution. It is the socialization of industry, the socialization of industry, the socialization of industry.

But jamming through the metal schedule in what was practically only a time for deliberation, and that is not the worst of it—the circumstance that it was done in haste, and in haste, and in haste.

The city, conceived in an individualistic society and composed of men who minded their own business and nothing else, had grown up like one of its own rugged newbays, unshaped, reckless, and wild.

The slum, like the grim, malevolent ogre of the fairy tale, was feasted with children, ground out, destroyed and corrupted in their weakness, and thrown aside in their adolescence, like a dry log.

It is a brilliant, vivid and startling picture which Dr. Weyl draws of the industrial revolution, which has come out of these processes, with its vanities and its weaknesses. He does not spare society for its part in the creation of this plutocracy.

There was no more bloody shirt episode in the history of the United States. On Cox's motion, the clerk began to read the bill for amendments under the five-minute rule, and before the sitting closed, it was reported from the committee and passed the house.

The basis of this growth of an arrogant and triumphant plutocracy was an inherited individualism, hardened by the struggle to conquer a continent and make its riches available for immediate enjoyment by the spoilers.

Every thinking, patriotic citizen should read this remarkable, sane, vigorous, interesting and suggestive book.

MAY BEGIN WORK THIS YEAR ON NEW FEDERAL BUILDING

Structure Will Cost $700,000—$85,000 Building for Two Harbors.

Duluth's Building Record for February Was a Favorable One.

Construction work on Duluth's new $700,000 federal building and a similar structure costing $85,000 planned for Two Harbors will probably be started this year, according to Congressman C. B. Miller who is in Duluth today.

The bills covering the appropriations for these buildings have been prepared and will be reported in about two weeks. There is little doubt in the mind, said Mr. Miller, "but what the bill will pass and that work on the new structures will be started this year."

Postmaster Cook, L. M. Willets, collector of customs, and others having quarters in the present federal building have been asked by the treasury department to submit figures showing how much room they will need in the new building, so that plans may be drafted accordingly.

Duluth stands among the leaders in a comparison of the building operations of sixty-seven cities of the United States for the month of February, 1912, as compared with 1911. Construction News, a trade publication, publishes the list which shows that Duluth made a gain of 58 per cent over the corresponding month of last year.

The Twin Cities, however, show a heavy loss. The decrease in Minnesota for February was 49 per cent and in St. Paul, 75 per cent. The aggregate increase for the entire country was 24 per cent. During the past month, sixty-nine permits were issued for improvements to cost $114,230 as compared with fifty-four permits at $72,428 in 1911.

Construction News says: "It is gratifying to note that notwithstanding February was the coldest that has ever been known, building operations all over the country showed a gain of 24 per cent over the same month a year ago. Official reports from sixty-seven cities show that during the month just closed permits were taken out for the construction of 12,425 buildings, aggregating a total investment of $17,559,217, against 12,425 buildings, aggregating a cost of $12,229,957 for the corresponding month a year ago, a decrease of 30 per cent and an increase of $5,329,260."

It was announced this week that the Hamm Brewing company will soon commence the erection of a 4-story modern brick building at the northeast corner of Sixth avenue west and Superior street. The estimated cost is $60,000. The building will front 50 feet on Superior street and will run 110 feet deep. The foundations will be built to sustain six additional stories. Plans are now being prepared. Work will probably be started April 1.

A local architect is preparing plans for the new building for the Order of Yasa, No. 170, Swedish United Sons. It will be an eight-story building and swimming pool in the basement and with an auditorium on the first floor and club rooms on the second.

Ellerbe, Round & Sullivan, architects, are preparing plans to remodel the Wade corner. Central avenue and Cass street. The block is owned by Edward Dornedy and will house a new bank which has been organized at West Duluth. Wieland & Wade will occupy half of the lower floor. The cost of the remodeling will be about $4,000.

Svenson Bros. of the West end are having plans prepared for a 3-story and basement brick store and office building at Twenty-third avenue west and First street. The estimated cost is $25,000.

Anthony Puck, architect, has advertised for bids for alterations to the building of Alex. Held & Co., at Virginia, Minn. The bids will be opened in a few days.

Work will soon be started on a two-

TRANSFERS ARE SCARCE No Trading in Business Property Reported During the Week.

Loans in Good Demand, Promising Future Building Activity.

While the real estate market was moderately active during the past week, sales were perhaps as numerous as in the past few weeks, there was a dearth of transfers and no trading to speak of in the business property. Except for the usual business in acreage, dealers report but a little trading and that was practically confined to the residence district.

Inquiry holds strong and with the approach of the season of spring activity there is every indication that there will be a brisk movement. Realty dealers who are engaged in the loan business say that money is in good demand and this is taken as a good omen. The loan market has been strong for some time.

Fred C. Harris, superintendent of the Zenith Furnace company at West Duluth, this week purchased from John H. McLean the southeast corner of Sixteenth avenue east and Fourth street, which is occupied by a handsome residence. The property fronts seventy feet on Sixteenth avenue east and 100 feet on Fourth street. Mr. Harris paid $11,500.

A house and lot on the lower side of West second street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenue west, fronting fifty feet, was this week sold by Olaf Lundberg to Frank O. Anderson. The consideration was $2,300.

Elbert Walker & McKnight company closed the sale of 104 acres near French river, to a Cedar Rapids, Iowa purchaser. It will be resold to actual settlers. The same firm also has given options on a large tract of land near Nemadji station on the Soo to parties in Minneapolis who intend to colonize the district west of Cook postoffice, was also made through their office this week. The firm reports a large number of small cash payments; balance just like rent.

Charles De Woody, of the department of justice in Chicago refused to confirm the report that the whereabouts of Mrs. Lindsay and her son had been divulged. Other witnesses are expected to be heard by the federal grand jury in its inquiry into the charges that Hanish had violated the law by causing the transportation of improper literature from state to state through the medium of a book detailing the doctrines of his cult.

FEDERAL SLEUTHS STILL NABBING LAND SWINDLERS

Portland Real Estate Operator Arrested on Charge of Sending False Advertising Through the Mails.

Duluth and Minnesota investors may find it to be of more than passing interest to know of some of the new moves which the federal authorities have made in bringing to justice the swindling land promoters who have made use of the United States mails in the furtherance of their frauds.

This week in San Francisco, according to press dispatches, P. C. Lavoie, a real estate operator of Portland, Or., was arrested by a United States deputy marshal on a charge of having used the mails to defraud. Lavoie is alleged to have made misrepresentations regarding land in Oregon which he offered for sale.

Lavoie was at one time secretary of the Vancouver, Wash., Commercial club, in which position he got a lot of publicity. He resigned to become sales manager of a Portland real estate firm, but soon resigned to commence operations on his own account.
