

GLENDALE AVENUE

SHALL IT EXTEND FROM MONTROSE TO SECOND STREET, LOS ANGELES?

Considerable interest has been aroused by the action of the Greater Glendale Development Association looking toward the naming of the highway leading from Ivanhoe bridge into the business center of Los Angeles "Glendale Avenue." There is already a street of that name in the big city, extending north from Sunset boulevard a few blocks and then merging with Alessandro street. A little further north, at the entrance of the P. E. tracks into the concrete-walled cut, Ivanhoe avenue turns off to the left from Alessandro street and leads out over the hills northwest, past Silver Lake, and on to Ivanhoe Bridge. Some of our citizens think it will be a fine plan to get the engineering department of Los Angeles to agree to give the name Glendale Avenue to Lake Shore Avenue, starting at Second St., on north, including the present Glendale Ave., Alessandro St. as far as Ivanhoe Ave., the latter street to the bridge, Brand Blvd. from the bridge to the Glendale city limits; then to have the Glendale street department give the same name to Brand as far north as San Fernando Road, lay out a connection from there to the present Glendale Ave. at the cemetery, then change the name of Verdugo Road from its junction with the present north end of Glendale Ave. to the latter designation as far north as Montrose. Then we would have a continuous Glendale Avenue from Montrose, all the way through Glendale and through Los Angeles as far south as Second St.

Is such a plan worth thinking about? Some say it is.

CARPENTERS' LOCAL ELECTS OFFICERS

The Glendale Carpenters' Local elected officers at the regular meeting held Tuesday evening. The following were chosen to fill the various offices: Lee Murdock, president; G. C. Slate, vice-president; P. Wells, financial secretary; Ed Kirri, recording secretary; Ed Evans, treasurer; C. A. Thompson, warden; R. R. Fifield, conductor; W. S. Hartley, trustee for 1-year term; Ivan P. Goodrich, trustee for 2-year term; Bob Henry, trustee for 3-year term.

BURTONS' NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. M. Burton have returned from Murietta Hot Springs reporting much benefit from their sojourn there. Mr. Burton has discarded his cane, is able to wear a shoe on his rheumatic foot and declares he and his wife now have lots of pep to put into their building program; for they have purchased property in Casa Verdugo which they will speedily improve with a modern, up-to-date five-room bungalow, meanwhile occupying a small, four-room cottage now on the rear of the place. He is quite enthusiastic about his purchase on which is considerable fruit, a garden, and many desirable features.

SHIP LAUNCHING

Students in the science classes taught by Miss Martha Brown in Glendale High—there are ninety of them all told—are to have a treat next Saturday provided they take advantage of their privileges. Miss Brown has been invited to bring them to Long Beach to witness the launching of the ship "Kedrin," a large government vessel worth about $1,700,000. The occasion will be of exceptional interest to the boys of her classes because several weeks ago she went with them to Long Beach and the party was shown this same vessel in process of construction, looking at the riveting of the parts and all the industrial work being done upon it. The man who acted as their guide told Miss Brown he had never served a nicer, more intelligent, well-behaved bunch of young fellows than her students, which, naturally, pleased her very much. She herself admits in strict confidence that they are the finest students she has had in a long time. She does not yet know just how many will go to Long Beach, whether by auto, well chaperoned, or by trolley car. If any of the parents choose to go she will be glad to have them join the party.

STUDENTS ELECT

OFFICERS FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR CHOSEN BY STUDENT BODY AND GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Student Body of Glendale Union High School elected officers for next year on Tuesday. The successful candidates were: Carroll Parcher, president; Miss Garnet Peters, secretary Student Body; Wm. Winfield, secretary of finance; Arthur Campbell, secretary of assemblies; Frank McGillis, secretary of athletics; Paul Hutchinson, secretary of debating; Wm. Kelly, yell leader. These officers will not assume their duties until the opening of the first semester in September next.

Interrogated as to the policy to govern the officary and members of the Student Body the coming year, President Parcher said no radical changes will be made. A different system of preserving order will be followed. It will be in the hands of the faculty and the students will lend them hearty co-operation. No backward step will be taken but advances will be made wherever practicable.

Girls' League

DEATH OF MILTON H. FRISBIE

Milton H. Frisbie, who had been a resident of Glendale for ten years, passed away Wednesday evening, June 9, 1920, at his home, 826 East Harvard street. He had been an invalid for many years following a stroke of paralysis and was about 70 years of age. He was a native of Ohio and had lived in California for twenty-one years. He is survived by his wife and by a daughter, Mrs. Zaida O'Neill, of Santa Barbara. Funeral arrangements, which will be in charge of the Scovern Company, will be announced tomorrow.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE

The last of the series of card parties, which have been given for the benefit of the building fund of the Holy Family Catholic Church, took place Wednesday evening at the White Inn. Sixteen tables were prepared for cards and there were a considerable number of guests who did not play. Dancing completed the evening's program and dainty refreshments were served. The party was in charge of the young women of the church, the hostess committee of arrangements including: Miss Susan Wendell, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Frank Salmacia, Miss Edna Lawson and Miss Farrell. Those present report an unusually delightful social evening.

SURPRISE SHOWER

MISS CARRIE PORTER HONORED BY LADIES OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

An exceedingly pleasant affair took place Wednesday afternoon at the hospitable home of Mrs. E. H. Willisford, on North Orange street, which has been the scene of so many delightful social events, when about forty ladies gathered to do honor to Miss Carrie Porter, of 405 East Harvard street, whose marriage to Geo. F. Colson will occur Saturday evening.

Invitations had been issued to a "miscellaneous shower" and the gifts were many, varied and beautiful. Interest was intensified by the fact that the shower was a complete surprise to Miss Porter.

By request Mrs. Chappell sang "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Annie Laurie," accompanied by Mrs. Von Oven. Mrs. H. W. Yarrick read the recipe "How to Cook a Husband." Each lady was handed a card from a box of indexed recipe cards (one of the gifts) and wrote thereon from memory one of her favorite recipes, thus providing more pleasant souvenirs of the occasion to be kept by the bride-to-be.

The entertaining ladies were: Mrs. E. H. Willisford, Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. S. R. Frazee and Mrs. W. D. McRae.

Miss Porter has been an active worker in the Congregational Church ever since its organization, having been one of the charter members, and she has always taken a great interest in civic affairs. She has a large circle of friends who wish for her all joy and happiness.

WEATHER FORECAST: Partly cloudy tonight and Friday.

THIRTEEN MINUTE CONVENTION SESSION

DELEGATES WILL RECONVENE AT 4 O'CLOCK TO HEAR REPORT OF RESOLUTION COMMITTEE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 10.—The Republican Convention held a thirteen-minute session this morning and then recessed until 4 o'clock this afternoon to give the Resolutions Committee time to complete the platform.

When the convention opened, Senator McCormick from the rostrum announced that the sub-committee of the Resolution Committee, which was working the treaty planks, had reached an agreement and he asked for an adjournment. The "noes" made the most noise but when a rising vote was taken the adjournment carried. It was apparent that spectators were joining in the oral vote.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

PRACTICALLY COMPLETED EXCEPT THE MEXICAN AND TREATY PLANKS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, June 10.—The platform committee of the Republican Convention has completed the platform except the Mexican and treaty planks. The draft contains these provisions:

Condemnation of the administration's conduct of the war and failure to make timely preparations.

Gives the Republican Congress credit for providing for the enforcement of prohibition.

Indorses labor's right to collective bargaining.

Favors government initiative to prevent strikes and lock-outs.

Blames the Democratic administration's financial policies for high prices and promises an earnest and consistent attack on the high cost of living by avoiding inflation of currency and other means.

Advocates simpler tax laws.

Makes no specific promise of a bonus to soldiers but promises "to discharge the obligations a grateful nation should fulfill."

Pledges governmental economy.

Indorses the Cummins railway law.

Reiterates the party's belief in a protective tariff.

PLATFORM CONDEMNS PEACE TREATY

COMMITTEE AGREEMENT TO PLANK REACHED AFTER A STORMY SESSION AND THREATENED BOLTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, June 10.—The sub-committee preparing the treaty plank for the Republican National Convention reached a unanimous agreement shortly before noon after a highly stormy all-night session in which bolts for a time seemed imminent.

The plank agreed upon provides:

For the condemnation of the peace treaty and league of nations in their present form, and commends the senators who defeated the treaty.

The statement that any agreement with any foreign nation must be in conformity with American ideals and with the policies of Washington and Monroe.

A statement favoring an international court to settle disputes between nations.

The agreement was finally reached at a conference attended by Ogden Mills and Senators Smoot and Borah. There is nothing in the plank intimating in any way that the Republican party favors treaty ratification in any form and absolute silence is maintained on that point.

Before the agreement was reached it had been proposed to throw the whole treaty question before the main resolutions committee, taking it away from the sub-committee.

This was prevented by Chairman Watson's protest. He declared the matter was so delicate it should be settled behind closed doors broadly intimating a bolt was in prospect. The agreement was a surrender by reservationist forces led by Murray Crane.

The full Resolutions Committee must approve the plank before it goes to the convention.

When Senator Johnson was advised of the agreement he declared there were international bankers in Chicago who had intended to write the platform and nominate the candidate. He said that this agreement had defeated these men in their attempts to write the platform and he hoped they would be similarly defeated in their attempts to nominate the candidate. When asked if this meant an end to rumors of a bolt or a third party, Johnson merely answered that he could not say.

Some observers thought that the apparent surrender of the reservationists was a strategic move to throw the treaty question onto the floor of the convention, defeat the plank agreed upon by the Resolutions Committee, and eliminate Johnson entirely from the list of candidates.

FIRE AT MIAMI, ARIZ.

MIAMI, Ariz., June 10.—The building and stock of the Miami Commercial Company, the co-operative organization of copper company employees, was destroyed by fire early today with a loss of $75,000. Defective wiring is believed to have been the cause.

READING CIRCLE

COURSE FOR THE YEAR COMPLETED AND ORGANIZATION SOON TO ADJOURN

A fine attendance featured the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the City Library on Harvard street Wednesday. Mrs. H. V. Henry reviewed an article in the June Scribner's written by Nathan Batchelder in reply to one by Prof. Sharp, published a short time ago on "Democracy in Education." Professor Sharp believes that the public schools make for American democracy and this belief is the basis of his argument against the private schools. Nathan Batchelder takes issue with him and declares that putting children together in public schools is not necessarily teaching them democracy; that many private schools have much to offer.

Mrs. Barton made a little talk on education in general and a plea for votes at the Grammar School bond election Friday.

A letter from Mrs. Ewing, State President of the Mothers' Congress and Federated Parent-Teacher Associations, thanking the Glendale organization for its help in the recent State Convention and its reception to delegates, was read. A very nice letter from the leader of the Circle, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, was also read.

At this meeting the Circle completed its reading course for the year, the last chapter in its last book, "The Development of the Child," being devoted to the profession of motherhood. It was a very interesting chapter and stimulated lively discussion.

At the last meeting of the year, which will be held next week, Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, will review some of the books recommended for summer reading.

PINK AND LAVENDER LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. M. Brown entertained Wednesday with a prettily appointed luncheon at her pleasant home at 416 North Kenwood, carrying out a pink and lavender scheme in the flowers with which the table was centered and in other accessories. Covers were laid for Mrs. Stamps, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Widmeyer, Mrs. Hollister, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Arthur Cross, Mrs. Charles Guthrie, the hostess and her mother, Mrs. J. K. Hall. The guests remained for a social afternoon.

MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. CAMPBELL ARRANGES TO PARTICIPATE IN PICNIC

Members of Chapter L of the P. E. O. to the number of about thirty gathered at the beautiful home of Mrs. Margaret Campbell in North Glendale Wednesday morning at 10:30. Mrs. Ann Bartlett, Mrs. May M. Emery and Miss Waunita Emery were the assisting hostesses. The morning was devoted to business which included arrangements for the participation of the Chapter in the picnic to take place in Sycamore Grove early in July in honor of the Supreme President of the Order, which all Chapters of Southern California are expected to attend. At noon a delicious luncheon was enjoyed and in the afternoon a fine report of the convention in Los Angeles was given by Mrs. Fern Roberts, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Lee Weller, the other delegate. The trip to Mrs. Campbell's home was a pleasant little excursion and the members who went were enthusiastic about their delightful day.

MARY JANE GILLETTE TENT

The Mary Jane Gillette Tent of Daughters of Veterans held a well-attended and most interesting meeting Tuesday evening in the G. A. R. Hall. Mrs. Jennie Phillips was initiated into the Tent, and several applications were acted upon. Hereafter the meetings will be held in Hurtt's Hall, on Broadway, opposite the City Hall, the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 8 o'clock. All daughters and grand-daughters of veterans of the Civil War are urged to become members of this patriotic order, and any visiting Daughter of Veteran is cordially invited to attend the meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Todd have sold their home at 1208 South Glendale avenue and are now in the market for another home either an improved place or a lot on which they will build.

COUNTY TAX LEVY

SUPERVISORS PROMISE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS 46C PER $100—MAYBE MORE

Richardson D. White, Superintendent of City Schools, received a telephone message from County Superintendent Mark Keppel Wednesday afternoon to the effect that the County Supervisors still have under consideration the subject of increasing county taxes for school purposes. Up to the time he talked with Mr. White no final decision had been reached, but they had agreed to increase the levy for elementary school purposes at least 22c or from 24c to 46c, and there was a possibility they might make it the 50c asked for in petitions sent to the supervisors.

Mr. White stated the 22c increase per $100 of valuation would immensely relieve the situation and he thought it probable the Board of Trustees of City Schools, which is to meet Thursday night, would proceed to act on the matter of teacher appointments and salaries, basing their action on the 46c. The Los Angeles Board of Education has granted all teachers, both elementary and high, a flat raise of $300. Should the Board of Trustees of City Schools in Glendale follow that example salaries here would still average $200 below those which are being paid to city teachers. Mr. White said living costs might be somewhat lower here, but not enough lower to overcome the $300 difference that has always existed between salaries there and here.

The next matter of outstanding interest concerning elementary schools of Glendale is the small bond election next Friday when citizens are asked to vote funds to complete the building program now being carried on. Mr. White says the action of Los Angeles in voting on June 8th $6,000,000 for elementary schools by a vote of 14 to 1 has greatly encouraged school authorities here although no protests have been registered against the bonds thus far. A vote of about the same proportions was cast in Los Angeles on the 8th for $3,500,000 high school bonds.

MORRISSEY—WEBSTER

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Webster of 205 East Acacia avenue were advised by telegram yesterday of the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Faith Webster, to Edwin Morrissey, at San Francisco. The groom is a playwright who has been to New York City to arrange for the production of some of his plays. On his return to the bay city he wired his bride-to-be to meet him in San Francisco and their marriage took place as stated. Mrs. Morrissey has been a feature writer at the Ince Studio. Mr. and Mrs. Webster expect to soon have advices as to the plans of their daughter and son-in-law.

BONNIE JEAN COMES TO STAY AT JOHN D. COLE'S

Born, Sunday, June 6, 1920, to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cole, a daughter, who was given the name of Bonnie Jean. Both mother and child are doing well. They are at a private sanitarium kept by Mrs. W. L. Rambo, formerly of Glendale, in West Hollywood.

HOSPITAL PLANS

STOCK SELLS READILY AND CONSTRUCTION WILL BEGIN ABOUT JULY 1ST

Subscriptions of stock in the Glendale Research Hospital already amount to nearly $50,000 and actual construction on the building is expected to begin about July 1st and will be rushed to an early completion according to A. L. Baird, one of the directors of the hospital. Mr. Baird says the publicity given the hospital through these columns has borne good fruit. As fast as the public becomes acquainted with the details of the organization subscriptions follow.

Those in charge are very well satisfied with the co-operation extended them by the people of Glendale. Representatives of over a hundred Glendale families are stockholders in this hospital which proves that the people appreciate the need of such an institution and are willing to subscribe liberally from a humanitarian as well as from an investment standpoint.

BRANCH LIBRARY NOTES

The Branch Library has recently acquired a few specially noteworthy books.

"Parnassus on Wheels" and the "Haunted Bookshop," by Christopher Morley, both the gift of Mrs. Turek, are delightfully entertaining. Written in the form of romances, they are much more, being full of quaint humor, philosophy of life and sound literary criticism.

"Mary-Marie" is the title of the last book of the late Eleanor Porter. It is a sweet story, containing some wholesome lessons. It is worth while reading especially for any married people who are contemplating a divorce. The publishers of "Mary-Marie" offer a prize of $100 worth of books for the best poem describing the heroine.

"The Great Desire," by Alexander Black, to quote Lyman Abbott in the "Outlook," interprets dramatically the different desires that control us and the different answers which our would-be public teachers give to the question, "Why are we here?" It is a book the reading of which requires thought.

"The Clanking of Chains," by Brinsley McNamara, is a story of Sinn Fein, depicting conditions in Ireland and will appeal especially to those interested in the Irish situation and familiar with Irish history.

A number of good school stories by Barbour have been added to the juvenile collection and "Nancy Lee's Namesake," the last in the Nancy Lee series, by Margaret Warde.

Mrs. Danford held her last book review of the season at the Branch on June 4th.

These reviews have been so much appreciated and enjoyed by those who attended them that it is planned to resume them in the fall and meantime we shall all try to pass the word on to others, that they may be shared by as many as possible next season.

BELGIUM RISES

Belgium is setting a fine example to the rest of Europe. The Belgians have gone to work, thus establishing a substantial basis for the credit which the country is seeking in the money markets. Discount some of the glowing reports sent out from Brussels and Antwerp, if you will, on the ground that they are to be expected when a borrowing campaign is on. The fact appears to be that the Belgians have gone about the work of reconstruction in their country with vigor and intelligence. A New York banker who is studying financial and economic conditions in Europe reported this week from Belgium that the country is rapidly recovering from the destruction and disorganization wrought by the war.

It may be admitted that Belgium was better situated than some other countries to go to work. Then, that may be disputed and good arguments to the contrary be presented. The outstanding fact is that the Belgians have not concerned themselves with politics to an extent that has interfered with their going to work in mines, fields and factories. They have not yowled for help while wearing themselves out in warfare against their neighbors. When the war ended Belgians put away their swords and guns. Others of the victors are fighting among themselves. That is one reason why famine and pestilence stalk through their lands. Belgium is giving a demonstration of the value of work both for its own salvation and for winning respect and trust of others who are in a position to help the worthy.

NUTS TO BE HIGH

Now it is the British profiteer who has seized an opportunity to wring a bunch of dollars from the American consumer. He has chosen Brazil nuts as the commodity in which to operate. Wholesale nut dealers in New York have received information that the Brazilian nut crop has been bought up by a London syndicate, with the result that prices have been raised and the supply for New York has been arbitrarily cut to one-fifth the normal quantity, in spite of the fact that the crop is much larger than the year before. Prices in Brazil are said to American nut eaters could easily resolve to eat no imported nuts, if they have to pay exorbitant prices for them, but this would afford no guarantee that American nut growers would not base their asking price on figures fixed by the English syndicate for the Brazilian product. The consumer must exercise discretion. If Brazil nuts are too dear let him eat "English" walnuts from California, pecans and peanuts from the south and hickory nuts from the forests of the middle and northern latitudes. OBREGON FRIENDLY TOWARD THE U. S.

By RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MEXICO CITY, May 19. (By Mail.)

In one respect at least, it is confidently believed that the foreign policy of the new Mexican revolutionary government will differ radically from that of the late lamented Venustiano Carranza. This change of policy lies in the matter of Pan-American relations.

Carranza was obsessed with an idea, conscientious or otherwise, that he was destined to go down in history as the man who had defended the rights of all Latin-America against the predatory designs of the "Colossus del Norte"—namely, the United States. At times his policy indicated that he even dreamed of an alliance among the Latin-American nations. Carranza sought to create the impression in Central and South America that Mexico constantly was being made the victim of unwarranted attacks from the United States. With this theory as a background he endeavored to draw South America into an attitude of sympathy for Mexico, as well as antipathy toward any Mexican policy which emanated from Washington.

Mexico City newspapers which reflected the official viewpoint frequently spoke of the "Carranza Doctrine"—a doctrine which supposedly aimed to unify Latin-America in all matters political, social and commercial. To achieve this aim, Carranza employed a form of propaganda which, though it may have had some effect, certainly bore few evidences of subtlety.

An occasional attack upon the Monroe Doctrine was one form of campaign. Sometimes it was accompanied by a suggestion that an exclusive Latin American doctrine would be more satisfactory. This mode of propaganda did not always arise from Mexico City sources, even though it had its inspiration here. Carranza, through his ministers abroad, was in touch with certain Central and South American citizens, who, at intervals, could be depended upon to direct an attack upon the United States.

However, Carranza's propaganda functioned chiefly through his Foreign Office. Its mode of operation was illustrated particularly well at the time the Jenkins case was in the public eye and the State Department in Washington had resumed its note-writing activity.

Scarcely a day passed but what Carranza's side of the story, illuminated by statements of how the United States again was abusing Mexico, was sent from the Mexican Foreign Office to the Mexican legations throughout Latin-America. These cabled reports were to be given out either in the form of interviews or direct statements to the Latin-American press. All press comment, either Mexican or American, which was favorable to Mexico in any degree, was assembled and cabled to South America. In turn, South American opinion which favored Mexico and attacked the United States, was collected at this end and given to the newspapers of the capital for home consumption.

This form of procedure was general, but always found stimulus when some prominent "issue" arose between Mexico and the United States.

General Alvaro Obregon, the leader of the revolution which ousted Carranza, has declared himself opposed to such a policy and he is being taken at his word. Obregon appreciates, first, that the new government should strive for recognition from Washington at the earliest possible date. He has announced that American capital would be welcomed in Mexico and protected. Moreover, the revolutionaries may desire, at some future date, to negotiate with the United States for a loan. And Obregon, it is believed, is broad-gauged enough to realize that a policy of hostility toward the United States is not the best method to attain these things.

In the opinion of foreign diplomats here, if Obregon has seen the fallacy of Carranza's foreign policy, and is prepared to modify that policy, it will mean much for the betterment of Pan-American relations.

KINGSTON, Jamaica. (By Mail.)

The worst drought for decades is on. In some country parts, stock is dying, crops are burnt out, and the peasants are raiding properties having tanks to get a supply of water for domestic purposes. The drought will affect next year's sugar and banana crops.

"The level of prices," says Prof. Joseph French Johnson, economic expert, "should range downward for the rest of the year." Should? They should have ranged downward right after the armistice and kept dropping until now. Men should be virtuous. The world should be happy. Should, but—

A bill introduced in congress to distribute surplus cannon and guns from the U. S. army to communities gives hope to towns who asked for German trophies. Every town may get at least a rifle.

BASE BALL NEWS

GLENDALE BEATS ALHAMBRA 8 TO 4—HONOR FOR LEFTY HERMAN
 The Glendale High School ball team defeated Alhambra Tuesday afternoon, 8 to 4. Citrus Union High is to play Alhambra tomorrow afternoon and if Citrus wins it will be tied with Glendale for the Central District championship, and these two teams will play off the tie at an early date. If Alhambra wins, Glendale will be the champions without any further playing.
 Every year an "All Southern" team is made up after the season ends, also a second team. The first is composed of the best players, taking their batting and fielding averages for the entire season, in each of the nine positions, and the other the second best players. The records are made up from the scores of all the games played by teams of the Interscholastic League of Southern California. It is thought "Lefty" Herman, Glendale's crack first baseman, will be the choice for this position in the "All Southern" and Coach Hayhurst will recommend Wilde for left field position and McGillis for third base. San Diego's pitcher is easily the choice for that position and it is thought Fred Jenkins will win out for pitcher in the second team. These two teams do not play any games, as their positions are simply honorary.

CAMP COOKERY

MISS ELLEN HANSON TAKES STUDENTS TO BROOKSIDE FOR PICNIC LESSON
 Wednesday afternoon Miss Ellen Hanson, head of the Domestic Science Department of Glendale High, chaperoned pupils in her two cooking classes to Brookside Park for a practical demonstration in camp cookery. All the viands taken with them including the salad, escalloped potatoes, caramel cake and caramel ice cream were prepared by the girls. On arriving at the picnic grounds fires were made and the girls entertained themselves in a variety of ways until the hard wood with which the fires were fed had burned down to a bed of glowing coals. They were then ready for the chief delicacy of the feast which was designated as "kabob beef." As a preliminary each girl had provided herself with a fairly straight and stiff green stick one-half to three-quarters of an inch thick. From this the bark had been removed for about ten inches and the white under surface made smooth and fair and whittled to a point at the end. On this stick were threaded alternate slices of round steak one inch square and green onions, previously seasoned with salt and pepper. When broiled to the taste of the cooker, these were eaten with buns. The escalloped potatoes were, of course, warmed and the girls made hot chocolate. When the feast had been cleared away the girls gathered around the fire a second time to toast marshmallows and each girl told a story or did some stunt for the entertainment of her classmates. About twenty-five were in the party, Miss Hanson being assisted in chaperoning the girls by some of the mothers who were delighted to have the chance to go along.
 The pupils attending were: Esther Black, Ruth Nicholson, Lucille Woods, Etha Harding, Helen Woods, Mildred Singleton, Alice Farrow, Josephine Farnham, Dorothy Baird, Fern Curtis, Henrietta Heide, Marguerite McGuire, Eleanor Foster, Gladys Thistlewhite, Elaine Frances, Frances Goldsborough, Katherine Gray, Lucille Nelson.

KENSINGTON PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Kensington Club was thoroughly enjoyed by about thirty of the regular attendants yesterday. Leaving Brand boulevard at 9:30 the party motored over to Griffith Park, not stopping till they had reached the "end of the trail,"—in other words, the last picnic grounds on the western side. 'Twas a beautiful place under the immense spreading live oaks along the sparkling waters of the Los Angeles river, and the clean, white sand was ideal for the children (?) to romp in to their hearts' content. The well-filled baskets consisted of all the "goodies" that make a picnic dinner perfect.
 The guest of honor was Mrs. Margaret Jenkins of Hermosa Beach. Mrs. Jenkins was instrumental in organizing the Kensington Club in March, 1914, when she was a resident of Glendale. While the Club is the Sewing Society of the N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, any one not a member of the Corps may also attend the meetings, which are held the second Wednesday of each month, sometimes in the G. A. R. Hall, but usually in the home of one of the members. At the next meeting, July 14th, Mrs. Gertrude Griffin will be hostess at her home, 205 West Acacia avenue.

LOS ANGELES' POPULATION INCREASES 80 PER CENT

The result of the 1920 census as regards the population of Los Angeles was received last night and it shows an increase of 80.3 per cent, from 319,198 in 1910 to 575,480 in 1920. Many Los Angeles people fully expected a total of 700,000 for the big city, as shown by a recent school census. But as San Francisco's 1920 population is given at 508,410, as compared with 416,912 in 1910, an increase of only 21.9 per cent, Los Angeles will make shift to seem satisfied.

Touching the high spots, Chambers said that in the state last year $46,000,000 had been spent for educational purposes alone. Next year, he said, it "looked like the total would easily reach fifty million and continue after that to grow rapidly annually."

Chambers suggested as practical remedies uniform accounting as between cities, as between counties and he hoped some day between the states; also an expenditure limitation law applied not only to counties but to cities and to the state government.

"The people, governors and legislatures," declared the controller, "should go very slowly in the matter of assuming new functions, new obligations. The time has come to reorganize and simplify. This would mean that many proposals or objects would not be unworkable, but it would mean that a government, like an individual, should go according to its purse. There is a disposition, too, to take on fads and fancies, frills and fluting; to give money to this unfortunate class and that unfortunate class, but we should remember that among unfortunate classes worthy of due consideration were the taxpayers themselves."

TRAINING FOR GOVERNMENT WORK

LAKE TAHOE, Cal., June 10. (United Press.)—State Controller John S. Chambers, addressing the California Bankers' Association convention here today on "The Business of Government in the State of California," advocated the training of men and women to fill governmental positions.

The business of government, said Chambers, should be carried on as nearly as practicable as the business of a corporation.

Briefly reviewing the early financial history of California, the speaker asserted the state government has grown without particular purpose or design, like Topsy.

"It was as though a man had built a square house and from time to time, with no thought of architectural design or economy in service, had added a bay-window here, a porch there, a room somewhere else, until at last he had a great rambling structure, tremendously costly to build and tremendously costly to maintain."

What was needed, he declared, was reorganization, the simplification of governmental machinery. This would mean, he said, the elimination of useless units and consolidation of others in natural groups. He asserted the state of California

Mrs. Albert De Berry arrived Monday from Texas to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. Heald, of East Lomita. Mrs. De Berry was accompanied by her daughter, Dorothy.

S. A. Melcher and daughter were driving south on Glendale avenue in their Buick yesterday when they were driven into by a Ford going west on Wilson avenue. Miss Melcher's arm was hurt and the car had a broken fender, spring and axle. The Ford was not damaged.

Members of the Glendale Ministerial Association have tendered to the graduating class of Glendale Union High School an invitation to attend a special service and hear a baccalaureate address delivered by Rev. E. H. Willisford at the First Methodist Church in this city the Sunday evening preceding commencement.

Mrs. J. C. Pyle and son, Jack, of 108 East Chestnut street left Sunday night for Boston. It is twelve years since Mrs. Pyle was there last and she has been homesick for a visit. She expects to find a good many changes but to have a very pleasant summer, it being her plan to leave for California about the first of August.

Ernest Robinson and wife have returned from a few weeks' vacation during which they visited San Francisco and other California cities, as well as resorts. Ernest has severed his connection with the Hurd & Berry Company and is working in the Glendale Chaffee meat market this week while Manager Ellis is in Riverside, making arrangements to move.

A Mr. Green reported to police headquarters last night that as he was driving his machine north on Verdugo Road he met another machine in which were four men and one of them threw a rock at him, smashing his windshield, then sped on. He did not know whether it was an attempted holdup or not and did not wait to see, but speeded up his machine and got away as fast as possible.

John Strother, one of the newcomers, has identified himself with the business interests of Glendale. He came to this city last fall from Alva, Oklahoma, where he had been engaged in ranching and live stock growing, and had also served for four years as sheriff. He has now associated himself in the real estate business with Hal Davenport, the well-known operator at 1243 South Brand boulevard. He is enthusiastic about our city and predicts for it a great future which he will be glad to have a part in making.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin and sons, Jim, Jack and Dan, with Mr. and Mrs. George Reeves, and sons, Billy and Jack, of Van Nuys, motored over to Pomona last Sunday where they joined in the tenth birthday celebration of Robert Bolinger. The picnic dinner, such as all Hoosiers know how to provide, omitting nothing from fried chicken down to ice cream, was enjoyed in beautiful Genasha Park, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bolinger and sons, Walter, Robert and Donald, of Pomona, and the Griffin and Reeves families.

Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker was a guest at the reception recently given in Los Angeles for Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sprague, who are to leave the first of July for a trip around the world. Mr. Sprague is president of the "Playactors Club" and is distinguished among dramatists. Mrs. Sprague is the daughter of a Persian nobleman and a woman of fascinating personality. She will be remembered as the lady who gave at the Tuesday Afternoon Club a few months ago an interpretation of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayam.

MADNESS BEFORE OR AFTER?

Every day, here, there and elsewhere, as appears in the news, ouija boards, table tappings, spirit rappings, ghostly materializations and communications are making new victims of mental malady. Some merely suffer depression of mind evident in despondency or hypochondria. Some commit suicide, this being really the shortest route to discovery of the mooted domain of spirits. Some are carted to asylums. Some devote more and more of their time to spirits by the medium of ouijas, or other mediums which are more expensive, and lose friends and livelihood. All this would be sad if it were not amusing—or would be amusing if it were not sad.

It is fair to demand of our many professional and adept psychologists whether in their refined diagnosis this lack of mental balance, this mild or extreme dementia, is a result of ouijas and other machinery of spookeries, or whether the uncontrollable desire and determination to plunge into the mystical and inexplicable were not certain invitation of mental totter.

A GLENDALE HOSPITAL FOR GLENDALE PEOPLE

Have you investigated this proposition? Have you fully considered Glendale's need of such a hospital; the prestige it will give to the city? Have you thought of it as an investment?

Many of Glendale's successful and conservative business men and citizens have looked into this matter fully and have been pleased with the possibility of Glendale's having such a hospital and the opportunity of becoming stockholders.

Ask Us About It?

It's a simple proposition. Plans were prepared and a site secured and the Glendale Research Hospital was incorporated for $100,000. Permission was secured to sell stock at par ($100 a share) and this is now being done. You can pay for your stock in monthly or quarterly installments if you wish. Work on the hospital will soon be commenced.

If you are in any doubt about this proposition your questions will be answered at our business office, 131 South Brand Boulevard, or phone Glendale 408.

OUR OPPORTUNITY IN MEXICO

If bubonic plague, reported in Vera Cruz, gets out of control of the Mexican authorities the country cannot be saved from a disastrous epidemic without assistance from the United States. Our efforts would be not altogether altruistic, either, it may as well be confessed; we could not afford to have pestilence raging at one of our doors. We should go in from selfish as well as from benevolent motives and the fruits of our labors assuredly would be not merely the sanitary organization of the neighbor republic.

It has been demonstrated in other places where our sanitarians have operated to the benefit of native populations as well as to our own safety that enduring foundations of good relationships, political and commercial, have been laid. It is not inconceivable—it is, rather, to be expected—that intervention in Mexico to eradicate pestilence and teach the people how to be healthy would completely eliminate from the Mexican breast hatred of Americans. That is a consummation much to be desired. It is worth risking much in the beginning to achieve.

The new government below the Rio Grande may not be deterred by pride from asking assistance of the United States, but, should it be, our government ought not to delay in tendering its services and if need be dispatching forces to rescue Mexico from the plague and relieve of the menace which its unchecked progress would be to the United States.

Having accomplished its mission, the American sanitary corps would leave the Mexicans as astonished a people as were the Europeans when we departed from France without having exacted material reward for our decisive participation in the great war. Then we should begin to draw enormously valuable dividends of gratitude and respect from the Mexican people. That is worth performing much to obtain. And in any event, the bubonic plague must not be permitted to thrive in Mexico.

FOCH FOR PRESIDENT?

Rumors that President Deschanel's fall from his train window was due to a brain lesion—a stroke—and that there is a possibility he may be unable to continue the duties of the presidency have been followed by the suggestion—in America—that Marshal Foch may be elected his successor. There being no vice president in France, a new election would have to be held.

Unless the French psychology has undergone a remarkable transformation since the days of Boulanger there is little prospect of the marshal being chosen. It would savor too much of "the man on horseback," that dread of French republicans. The French presidency may be more or less of a figurehead position, but no one expected it to remain so had Clemenceau been elected. And with Foch in the chair it might be the same.

William Hedges of 121 East Park avenue, who went to Fort Scott, Kansas, several days ago to look after property interests, writes to his wife that he has had the time of his life since arriving in the old town, which he had not seen in 11 years.
