Just before the battle, mother. I am thinking most of you, While upon the field we're watching,

With the enemy in view. Comrades brave around me lying, Filled with thoughts of home and God,

"Just Before the Battle, Mother."

For well they know that on to-morrow Some must sleep beneath the sod.

Chorus-Farewell, mother, you may never Press me to your heart agatn

But you won't forget me, mother, If I'm numbered with the slain. Would that I were with you, mother,

And the loving ones at home, But I can't desert our banner

Till in honor I can come. Tell the traitors all around you That their cruel works we know,

In every battle kill our soldiers By the help they lend the foe.

Chorus-Farewell, mother, &c.

- Hark ! I hear the bugle sounding,
- 'Tis the signal for the fight, Now may God protect me, mother,
- As he ever does the right.
- Hear the battle-cry of freedom ; How it echoes on the air.
  - Yes, we rally round our standard, Or we'll perish nobly there.

Chorus-Farewell, mother, &c.

THE FIDDLE .- The organ may be the king of instruments, but the fiddle is the prime minister. The very comparison is unfair; for the organ is a large collection of instruments, any one of which-that is, any one stop-is nothing when compared to a very moderate performance on the violin. Nor could an organ of five stops, the very test, successfully compete with the usual quartette of stringed instruments, with a double-base under all, to give them a substantial growl to stand upon. The organ is, it must be allowed, a sacred instrument, for the use of St. Cecilia and the heavenly choir above, and all the churches which are wise enough to use it here below. The fiddle is the only instrument, we believe, on which it is of authentic record that the Devil has played. We know that Burns has represented him as performing on the bag pipes, an instrument which should never be sounded out of his own dominions; but this is poetry. The evidence of Tartini is plain prose; the Devil appeared to him in sleep, and played so exquisite a sonata that when he

> THE SIAMESE TWINS .- A correspondent of the Macon Telegraph, who lately visited the Siamese twins, gives the following account of them :

Your readers have no doubt seen these remarkable individuals, but few of them perhaps have been to their houses, and seen them in their domestic relations.-Though united by a ligament as stong as life itsself they live a mile apart, spending alternately three days at the one and the other house, and allowing no circumstance to defer their departure from the one to the other when the regular time

AWFUL SCENES AT THE CAMPO SANTO AT NAPLES .- As an illustration of the degradation of the poor, I will mention the manner of burial in some of the "Campo Santo," or burying place. Having a knowledge that they had 365 pits to throw the bodies of the poor in every night, I gave the priest half a franc, or ten cent piece, and he lifted the stone from the pit used the preceding night; and there was a sight that would appal the worst barbarian of the worst age of the world. In this pit-about 20 feet square and about 30 or 40 feet deepwere pitched naked infants, old men, boys, girls, women, all in one indiscriminate and putrifying heap. There were probably fifty or more bodies thrown in the night before. I noticed a prettyfaced woman's head between the legs of a hideous man, bloated with the disease of which he died; and there were two babies partly covered by the same wretch. Here was projecting a woman's leg over the face of another; there another woman lay over the face of a man, with her head covered by the body of a boy .---There a man's head was stuck downwards, and in the forks of his legs a pretty girl of four years was hanging; and there, a little to one side, lay a girl of about seventeen, looking still handsome, and by the side of her a horrible creature who was blubbering up the bubbles so often seen after death. No pen can describe, no painter picture, the horrors of that hall of death. THE Express of June 18th, publishes a long article, taken from an Eastern paper, under the head of " Civilization in the Free and Slave States." We do not propose republishing the article, to the exclusion of matter that would probably be of some interest at least; besides, we believe it has already been read to the assembled masses of the Democracy of Yolo county.

The writer says: "We do not hope that the truth will open the eyes of the victims of the abolition fanaticism, but it may possibly save some from following the multitude into the dishonoring, the bloody delusion. The truth is, that negro slavery has been a curse to neither North nor South, but has been a blessing to both." The quotation will show the character of the article referred to, and those of our readers who are anxious to read an article of that character are respectfully referred to the 3d, 4th, and 5th columns of the third page of the Marysville Ex. press of the 18th ult

If we admit for a moment that slavery has been a blessing to both North and South, still we fail to see what adaptation that fact would or could have to the present great national struggle. We are not struggling for the institution nor against it, but for national existence; and if enemies of the country use the power of slavery to destroy the Government, and are likely to succeed in that destruction unless the institution be destroyed, and if nationality is more desirable than slavery, common sense would dictate that slavery should be overthrown, however great its blessings, for the sake of our Government.

The article will, of course, be appreciated by such as prefer slavery without a government, to a government without slavery; but all who believe that a government even without slavery is botter than no government, will be disgusted with it

But is it true that slavery has been a blessing to both North and South? Is it slavery that has been the blessing, or is it the products of slave labor? Is it slavery, or is it labor, that has brought into existence all the commercial wealth of which the writer speaks? If labor, would not the result have been the same had that labor been free ? Is it true that slavery has never been a curse to either the North or the South? Is war a curse, or is it a blessing? If a curse, what was the cause of that curse? The writer would answer, fanatical abolitionism. But where would our fanatical abolitionists have been if slavery had not existed.

What has been the cause of a division in the Christian churches in our country? Was it not slavery? Is concord preferable to discord? If so, has slavery not been a curse. Finally: Whether slavery has been a national evil or a national good, it has received its death blow, as an inevitable result of the Southern rebellion, and we are not disposed to cry for spilt milk.

Telegraphic News. .

The following extracts of news are from the Union of Thursday and Friday :

NEW YORE, July 5th .- The following was received by the City of Baltimore : The pirate Alabama left Cherbourg, France, Juno 16th, to engage the Kearsarge, and attacked her ten miles from shore. The engagement lasted one hour and forty minutes. Both vessels made seven complete circles in manœuvering, at a distance of a quarter to a half mite. - The fight resulted in the Alabama being sunk ----

Gaptain Semmes and a part of the crew were saved by the English yacht Deerhound Before leaving Cherbourg, he left sixty chronometers, all his specie and ransom bonds there. No one was killed and only three were slightly wounded. Three of the Ala-bama's officers and six of her crew were landed at Cherbourg from a French pilot boat, and also several from the British ship Acteon.

LATER .- It is stated the Kearsarge captured sixty-eight of the officers and crew of the Alabama.

Semmes published a statement that he had nine killed and twenty wounded. He charges that the Kearsarge continued firing after the Alabama struck her flag. FRIDAY.

Under date of the morning of July 3d, Grant telegraphs the result of Wilson's raid, which were of great importance in reducing the resources of Richmond and Lee's army Wilson completed the railroad havoc Hunter's force had begun, and though attacked by a superior force of cavalry and infantry, succeeded in reaching our lines at Petersburg. He lost about a thousand men and several guns, which was not a heavy price to pay for the destruction of the Danville Railroad. W. P. Fessenden entered upon the duties of Secretary of the Treasury and attended a Cabinet meeting.

A rebel force of about 6,000 men advanced on Harper's Ferry, which has created great excitement in Maryland and Penusylvania .---The President informs Governer Seymour that a rebel force, at fifteen or twenty thousand strong, has invaded Maryland, and attacked Martinsburg and Harper's Ferry, and is threatening other points.

He also calls upon the State of New York for twelve thousand militia a: its quota, to serve one hundred days, and on Pennsylvania for seventeen thousand five hundred troops, to serve one hundred days unless sooner discharged.

Sigel had command of Maryland Heights. General Gouch was guarding the Cumberland valley, Pa. Gen. Hunter's forces from Western Virginia were rapidly arriving, and were supposed to be pushing the rebels in the rear. The announcement that Gen. Hooker was badly wounded at Kensaw Mountain was a mistake. It was Gen. Harker, of N. Jersey. An official dispatch from Captain Winslow has been received. It appears that the French Government ordered Semmes to leave Cherbourg, at the suggestion of Minister Dayton, and then Semmes sent a challenge to Winslow Winslow claims Semmes as a prisoner. Winslow is to be promoted to the rank of Commodore.

The yacht Deerhound is charged with being a mere tender to the Alabama. It is rumored that Semmes will sail in another plaate steamer in August, supposed to be the Rappahannock.

Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors met on Wednesday last. Present, G. W. Bell, G. W. Scott, and L. N. Mering, Supervisors, and L. C. Brownell, Clerk. The following business was disposed of:

In the matter of the Copy of Survey and Map of Jimeno Grant .-- In accordance with a previous order of this Board, J. P. Bullock delivered a certified copy of that part of said Jimeno Rancho lying within Yolo county, said copy being obtained from the U.S. Surveyor General's office, and certified by said Surveyor General. On motion the same was accepted and ordered to be placed on file.

In the matter of Map of the Town of Wash-acton, —Amos Mathews, County Surveyor, presented a map of said town and adjoining ands, duly certified to, on the 15th day of June. On motion said map was accepted and ordered to be placed on file for the use of Assessor and Tax Collector. JULY 7th .- In the matter of Costs of Prosecuting and Executing Wm. Williams.-It was ordered that G. W. Bell, President of the Board be authorized to present to the Board of Supervisors of Sac. Co., for allowance and payment, the items of expenses in the pros-ecution and execution of Wm. Williams. In the matter of Vacating County Road on Lands of Bryte & Short .- The report of the viewers, Amos Mathews, John Hoagland, and Samuel Conrad, appointed to view and report on said road, was received and adopted, and that portion of said road so far as it runs through the lands of said Bryte & Short was declared vacated, and no longer a public highway; and on motion it was further ordered that Amos Mathews be allowed the sum of $5, and John Hoagland and Samuel Conrad $3 each, as reviewers, and that the Auditor draw his warrant for each one on the Co. Road Fund. A petition from Amos Mathews, S. W. Hopkins, L. Short, and many others, holders of patents or certificates of purchase of swamp and overflowed lands in Swamp Land District No. 18, was presented to the Board, asking a levy of tax to be made on all the real estate and improvements in said district within the boundaries of this county, in accordance with the several statutes passed for the permanent restoration of swamp and overflowed land, and salt marsh and tide lands donated to the State by act of Congress, said petitioners setting forth that the net of $26,000 is required to be raised from the whole of said district by said levy of tax in order to make the deficiency necessary to be raised for the reclamation of said district according to law; and this Board finding that the whole of the land in said district to be reclaimed amounts to 161,529 acres, and that 20,025 acres of the same is in Solano county, and further it is ascertained that upon that portion of said district and improvements in this county, namely, 141,504 acres, the net sum of $22,776 74 is necessary to be raised by said tax; therefore, in pursuance of the statutes, it was ordered by the Board that the sum of $246 19 be and is hereby levied upon all the real estate, land and improvements, to be reclaimed in said district within the limits of Yolo county, which is the amount sufficient to raise said net sum of $22,776 74, after paying collectors and County Treasurer's fees. Accounts were allowed to the amount of $1,200.

[ COMMUNICATED. ]

MR. EDITOR :--- I have known unfeeling boys to throw hot embers on serpents, and laugh to see them squirm. Now, that was cruel, because it was not natural for the serpents to live in the fire, and they had no affection for the embers. It may be amusing enough to see the serpents squirm, and if they can be made to do so without such an unfair advantage it is perhaps very proper. It can be accomplished by simply throwing the word traitor into a den of copperheads; and, notwithstanding that is the food on which they live, the bed in which they lie, the atmosphere that they inhale, and the material of which they are composed, still all the philosophers in the world cannot prevent their squirming; all the powers of eloquence may be exhausted; they may be addressed as friends and fellow-citizens, as gentlemen of the jury, as Romans, countrymen and lovers, and yet they squirm.

After all, it may not be so much the word, as the source from which it comes, for which reason we propose in the course of this article to let Mr. Jefferson Davis cast the word before them, hoping the result will not be so unfavorable

It will readily be seen that the foregoing introduction has nothing to do with men or democrats.

Here, then, we will change the subject and proceed with a correspondence between Jeff Davis and Governor Vance, of North Carolina, as published in the Petersburg Express of May 18th, 1864. In that correspondence Governor Vance says:

"After a careful consideration of all the sources of discontent in North Carolina, I have concluded it will be impossible to remove it, except by making some effort at negotiation with the enemy, and although our position is well known as demanding only to be let alone, it seems to me we might with propriety constantly tender negotiations." In answer to this communication Jeff Davis savs :

"I fear much from the tenor of the news I eceive from North Carolina, that an attempt will be made to inaugurate movements which must be considered as equivalent to giving aid and comfort to the enemy. You may count on my aid in every effort to spare your State the scenes of civil warfare, if the designs of these traitors be suffered to make headway. Be assured that you will have my cordial concurrence in your efforts to crush treason.'

Now, let us make a comparison. North Carolina is one of the States of the Southern "Conthievarcy;" her inhabitants are subjects of that "government;" some of those inhabitants are discontented with the management of their governmental affairs. and ask that attempts be made at negotiation ; the government is opposed to any such attempts ; hence Jeff Davis says that Vance may rely upon his aid if these traitors be suffered to make headway.

California is one of the States of the American Union ; her inhabitants are subjects of that Government; some of those inhabitants are discontented with the management of affairs, and ask that attempts be made at negotiation; the Government is opposed to any such attempts, short of an unconditional surrender of the Southern forces; hence, according to Mr. Davis, all such democrats are traitors, for they have done all that his traitors have done; and if they are traitors to the "Conthievarcy," our "Democrats" are traitors to the Union.

cordial concurrence in every effort to crush treason." Now, it will be remembered that when the South seceded they claimed that they had a right so to do, and that the exercise of such "right" was not an act of treason. They looked upon coercion as barbarous in the extreme, and none but military despots would attempt it; and even their constitution provides that any State of the "Confederacy" may withdraw therefrom at pleasure. With the "democracy," Mr. Davis s a man of profound logic ; always rightthe administration of our Government always wrong, and no one of the "Yankee nation' has capacity to fathom his profound wisdom; and we admit that we are unable to perceive how it is that the sons of North Carolina, who are loyal to the United States Government, or who are at least in favor of peace, are guilty of treason against the "Conthieveracy," unless Jefferson Davis and his followers, including his democratic admirers in the loyal States, are also guilty of treason to-wards the Government; for it appears that the North Carolinians have been guilty of no overt acts toward the rebel "government," notwithstanding they are probably opposed to "coercion," and all they want is to be "let alone;" yet the profound Davis can see no impropriety in coercing them. Whether we have illustrated the fact or not, we believe if the "Democracy" of this vicinity will carefully examine the correspondence between Vance and Davis they will not fail to discover, that according to the theory of their favorite logician, Jeff Davis, they are traitors to their country and guilty of treason by his ruling; yet we do not say that they are traitors, or that their acts are treasonable. Before concluding this article perhaps w ught to refer to local matters. We are informed that all the "Democrats" of Yolo county assembled in the Court House, in this place, on Saturday last, and listened to the remarks of eminent speakers, the most prominent of whom were the Rev. Dr. Downing and Professor Mike Woodsboth very loyal citizens-the former asserting that the WOODLAND NEWS was disgustingly loyal, and the latter that all supporters of the "Lincoln Government" were negro steal-Probably he had forgotten that the "Lincoln Government" is supported by the "Lincoln Government is that voz populi e voice of the people, and that voz populi e O. is "Jonathan," and whose subject is "Poli-TICS," as appears by its caption. "Jonathan" says, "How often do we hear the word politics used, when it grates harshly upon the ear!" I sympathize with "Jonathan," whose nerves are so delicately strung, but hope that he will be able to overcome this extreme sensitiveness. Should the war continue three or four years longer, and should he continue to write communications for the News upon his favorite theme, politics, I am sure he will so far overcome it as not to quake when this familiar theme is used. If he would go to church, and especially if he could be so situated as to attend upon the ministrations of such servants of the Most High as Beecher or Bellows, he would no doubt become so accustomed to politics, tempered and softened with the subduing influences surrounding him, that he might then venture abroad without subjecting the delicate frame-work of his nervous system to the severe trials it must now undergo. I am inclined to think, Mr. Editor, that "Jonathan" does not attend church very regularly, for he says, "Should one of our clergy chance to pray that the foes of our Government might be put to flight-that our nation's life might be spared, and that peace and happiness might reign throughout our land, they would cry out, He is carrying politics into the church."-Why, sir, the clergy who minister to us here in our little town are in the habit of using just such and similar invocations in behalf of our nation, and for peace, "and that the evil designs of the wicked might be brought to naught, and that a just and wise God would reign over all in justice and in mercy," and I have never yet heard objections raised to such petitions. But "Jonathan" complains further, and says: "Should the school-teacher of to-day teach his pupils the principles of the Declaration of Independence, to revere the Constitution, and to sustain the flag of our country, it would by them be called introducing politics into our schools." How far "Jonathan" may be from the truth in this particular I know not, having no personal knowledge inside of California schools; but that there is a party-a political party, too-in our land, who have no love for our Constitution, or for the principles embodied in the Declaration of Independence, is, beyond a doubt, true; for it is well shown that men of this party have made bon-fires and burned the Constitution of our National Government, that their contempt for it might be the better understood; whilst others, high in authority, have been inclined to question the loyalty of all who quoted the Constitution, or based their political faith upon it .---Such men would, no doubt, complain if a teacher would offer to "teach his pupils the principles of the Declaration of Independence or to revere the Constitution.' But again "Jonathan" says: "Even the star: and stripes-the emblem of our nationality-which gives protection to every American citizen, is in no favor with them."-True, Mr. Editor, and for the proof of it allow me to quote one verse of Horace Greeley's "Ode on the American Flag"-it is thus:

> "Tear down the flaunting lie; Half mast the starry flag; Insult no shining sky With hate's poluted rag."

It is very clear from the above that Mr. Again Jeff Davis says: "You will have my Greeley never regarded the American flag unless it con with much favor, accomplish an ulterior purpose; and not-withstanding the care with which "Jonathan" has drawn over him the garb of true patriotism, I think I can discover traces of the same political school. The lion's skin may fit the body, but the ears will betray the beast. "Jonathan's" version of political parties during the last war with Great Britain and the war with Mexico are too absurd to claim any attention. The fierce opposition to both are historical facts too well known to be re-Yours, PIKE. cited here.

the war the Northern army has lost fifty-one Generals-thirty-six killed in battle and fifteen from disease. So it will be seen, nearly one-third of the number die of disease. This doubtless, has been the case with the soldiers.

DIVINE SERVICE will be held at the Union Church, tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock. Methodist Episcopal Church ; the Rev. V. Rightmyer, pastor. Services every Sabbath morning, at 11 o'clock, at their place of worhip, in the Hall over Freeman & Co.'s store.

IN THE TREASURY .--- On Tuesday, says the Bee, the Board of Baaminers counted the money in the State Treasury, and found $233,-800 75 in gold and silver coin; $128,830 60 in United States legal tender notes, and $94,-685 in gold and silver coin to pay interest coupons of 1857 and 1860.

MORE HIGHWAYMEN .- A dispatch to the Bee of Wednesday says :

"The bullion wagon of the Pioneer Stage line, coming east, was robbed last night, at about midnight, by five horsemen, between Glenbrook and Swift's station. Fortunately no coin or bullion was aboard. The robbers got $140 frnm the driver, John Forbes, and two silver bars weighing each eight ounces.

LIABILITY FOR TAXES .- The Supreme Court last week rendered a decision in a tax case, which is of some importance to those who have moveable property, cattle, etc., which are being transferred from one county to another. The Court holds that the county in which the assessment is first made is entitled to the tax, and that payment in another county does not avoid the liability.

DIAMONDS. - Several months ago three stones were found at Cherokee Flat, Butte county, and sent to the only house in the United States where diamonds are cut-Crosby & Morse, Boston-for examination .-A letter just received from the lapidaries named pronounces the stones genuine "rough diamonds," and urges that careful search be made for more.

"THE PIC-NIC at Harley's grove passed off pleasantly. The Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. Davidson, of Cacheville, and an extemporaneous oration was delivered by G. P. Sprague, Esq., of this place. The audience was entertained with several patriotic songs from a choir of little folks from Mr. Davidson's school, and last, though not least, the crowd was regaled by a sumptious dinner prepared for the occasion.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER. - A man named George Selby, residing twelve miles from this city, on the Marysville road, was assassinated in his bed between one and two this morning, by some person unknown. He was asleep at the time with his wife. and though the assassin shot his victim, killing him intantly, she did not hear the report, which aroused the parties asleep in a room above. It appears the assassin entered the room and, carefully took aim so as to make sure work. No cause for the deed is known.

Since the foregoing was in type, the body has been brought to the Coroner's office, and we have some additional particulars, though nothing to throw light on the murder. Selby's wife was lying on his arm; she on the front and he on the back side of the bed. The pistol was aimed across her face, which was partially burned by the powder, the shock caused her to jump out of bed and scream without being conscious of hearing the report. She heard her husband struggle to attempt to speak, and she screamed to a man in another room to come in with a light, as she believed "George had a fit." When the light was obtained he was found to be dead. The ball from the pistol struck the murdered man full in the eye and penetrating the brain. A girl in the adjoining room heard the report of the pistol, and also heard a man running out of the house, as he ran stumbling over some chairs and stepping on a cat, causing her to squall. As there was no light in the room the assassin must have used a dark lantern .--Bee of the 6th.

JOHN BOLING, former sheriff of Mariposa county, died of consumption on the 17th ult. He was the first white man who ever saw the Yosemite Falls and Valley, which event of his life happened Boling and his party drove the savages, , who took refuge at Yosemite.

THE OTHER WAY .- A train of emi grants from California to Iowa lately passed through Austin on to the latter State. in 1850, during an Indian war, in which | The march of empire westward has reached the rugged shores of the Pacific, and commence surging back toward the East.

CHAS. M. WEBBER, of Stockton, has donated sixteen lots in that town to the Sanitary Fund The cash value of these lots is $800. The Executive Committee for the Stockton Fourth of July Celebration will sell them on the 4th proximo at auction, and hand over the cash realized to the Sanitary Fund .- Express June 30.

Ms. EDITOR :- On Saturday last the great mass meeting of the unwashed Democracy of Yolo county convened at the Court House, at about 3 o'clock P. M .- the convening of which did not even create a ripple on the still waters of our quiet village. From fifteen to twenty-five of the faithful congregated, and a few Union men were noticed in the building probably to witness the last expiring breath of the great Unterrified. The meeting was called for a "more thorough organization of the party ;" but it seemed to be really for the purpose of raising funds for campaign documents and for speakers for the coming campaign. A begging circular was read from the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, showing the great want of funds. and the necessity for taxing each member of the party voting for Downey for Governor twenty-five cents. All of which was understood and appreciated by the Convention. which raised some $17 by contribution, and appointed a committee for each precinct to act as tax-collectors.

The business of the meeting being done, and those present being exhausted and in a sinking condition, it was thought advisable to stimulate as much as the patients could possibly bear. Those "talented speakers from abroad" not appearing, remarks were indulged in by the most fluent of the faithful present.

The Rev. Dr. Downing made a few remarks. but occupied most of his time in reading from the Marysville Express; an article copied from the Old Guard claimed his attention. The Doctor endorsed the article, and recommended it to the brethren as "good doctrine and full of comfort." I will copy a few lines of the article to show you a specimen of the logic that the Doctor considered so consoling to the Democratic mind.

" More than two-tnirds of the mercantile, manufacturing, and industrial operations of the North are based upon the slave labor of the South. Strike down the slave labor and you sweep out of existence two-thirds of the commerce of the United States at a single blow !

Now, sir, the shadow of the everlasting nigger seems to haunt the Democracy by night and by day, and they cannot see him, or at least any good in him, only under the lash of the democratic slave driver, or as a chattle, to be bought and sold in the market. A citizen of Woodland in this the 19th century-a professed preacher of the Gospel-to adopt and attempt to maintain such an absurd idea. to even a democratic audience, is certainly very surprising .- Morality, religion, and even humanity itself reduced to dollars and cents.

Slave labor! Cannot a free man do as much work as a slave? Has he not got as great an inducement to labor? And, lastly, would there be any less laborers in the country if the shackles should be stricken from every slave in christendom? Substitute free labor for that of slave, and, according to the Doctor's reasoning, you "sweep from existence two-thirds of the commerce of the United States at a single blow."

In comparing the valuation of property in property of the non-slaveholders among their inhabitants equally would give to each only f all the Slave States would give to every

THE PURE MAN .- The following allusion to an incident in Fremont's life was made by J. W. Dwinelle, Esq., in a speech hefore the Lincoln ratification meeting, at San Francisco:

"But gentlemen, this is an occasion on which we owe it to the great cause of our country to expose this factious person (Fremont) in his true light to his fellow countrymen, and what I am about to say there are a thousand men here to-night who know it to be true, and thousands of others in our city and California who can confirm this truth. It is not, therefore, a charge resting upon personal character or veracity, but a charge brought against Fremont by this meeting and by California. We tell our countrymen there at the East, that Fremont is a man who regards neither his word, his obligation, his bond, nor his cath. We tell them that his character is defiled by the base betrayal of a woman who appealed to him for succor and sympathy in the greatest distress which could befall her; that he abandoned her to the Lunatic Asylum, and her child and his to the cold charity of the world. [A number of voices 'It is true !'] True ! Is not the fact notorious ? Are there not thousands of our citizens who know it? Will any one here deny or doubt it? Is not the record of shame written by an honest priest of Christ in the baptismal book of yonder church?

Should these things be hidden when a person solicits the Presidency as an honest and pure man? Ah, my friends, in that s.d, dreadful catastrophe of the steamer Golden Gate, one torn, wretched heart throbbed its last pulsation ; one poor crazed soul passed from the burning deck to a baptism of water and of fire! We send, then, this greeting to our brethren at the East : 'This man is incapable, dishonest and poluted; vote for him if you will.' It has been said to night that he would rather reign in hell than serve in h aven; but is he not now doing the devil's dirtiest work, conspiring with traitors to defect the election of a true and tried patriot to the Presidency ?"

A UNION MAN ON THE RAMPAGE. The editor of the Downieville Messenger thus ventillates an affair recently mentioned in the Union. He appears to have got his blood up:

At Gibsonville, on Tuesday, June28th, while E. M. Dewey, of this office, was with Shaue in the house where he holds his writing school, A. M. Walker, more generally and appropriately known as Gassy Walker a notorious secessionist, came in, and after making use of the usual elegant language belonging to his kind, commenced an assault upon D. with a heavy cane; but instead of giving he received a sound thrashing, raising bumps on his cabeza as large a hens' e gs. Dewey received only a few slight scratches on his head, and went about his business as usual. Walker was bruised about the head and on one of his arms. He left town shortly afterwards on the road to Laporte. It is time for the Union element of this county to take some meas ures to rid the vicinity of these brawling disciples of Jeff. Davis, and it would be the non-slaveholding and s'aveholding States no more than just, since they resort to the writer says: "So a division of all the the bludgeon, to give them a taste of the same kind of "sweet vengeance." This county is getting too small to hold certain $233; while the same division of the riches people; and the sooner they are gone the better. We suppose G--- Walker took offense at a small squib, published some weeks since, relative to the "Supreme Court" at Gibsonville. It is about time a certain class of persons found out. that this paper has changed hands within the past year, and the proprietors are perfectly able to look out for No. 1 .--Any rebel who don't believe the above statement, and feels aggrieved at anything we may say, is invited to call at our office and waltz in. We have come to the the Secessionists this side of h-1, or any other part of the Southern Confederacy, and the sooner they "sense" it the better

For once by them the negro is overlooked ; though he may labor year after year as the great producer of the country, at the division of property he is by these magnanimous Copperheads counted out. What cause but that of the present democracy would require such arguments. In the "non-slaveholding States a division among all their inhabitants," while in the "slaveholding States the division would give to every white man.' But worse than all, emphatic conclusion that we dou't care a this great producing class-these very "mud- continental d-n for the opinion of all sills" of the country-in this democratic calculation is considered as property.

Finally, the writer asks a comparison "between Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, Hamlin it will be for all parties concerned. and A. H. Stephens, Grant and Robert Lee .--The comparison, he says, is distasteful to him; he is ashamed of the contrast."

Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. Who would not say that the writer and endorser of such sentiments should have a free pass to the diminions of their much beloved Jefferson Davis? Who would wonder that they would counsel forbearance and long suffering? And who would wonder if it would require a great deal of forbearance on the partof loyal citizens to keep cool when such sympathy with treason is uttered by those enjoying all the blessings of our Government? Such is the Democracy of Government? Such is the Democracy of in silver tea spoons, belt-buckle, gold 1864.1 as expounded at the Mass Meeting on chain and gold locket. Saturday last. No marching to the tune of Yankee Doodle; no need of stars and stripes floating over the speaker's stand this year .--No, sir! the deception is being gradually thrown off.

The remarks indulged in by one of the speakers about the "nigger-stealing supporters of Abe Lincoln," are unworthy of notice. The difficulty with the gentleman is, that he is behind the age. While in 1856 it would have been a splendid Democratic argument, in 1864 it has entirely lost its force.

ROBBERY .- A most daring, impudent and outrageous robbery was committed by some thieves upon the residence of Mr. George Bradley, of Dutch Flat, says the Enquirer of June 20th. While the lady of Mr. Bradley was absent at a neighbor's, the house was entered and all the jewelry and valuables that the scoundrels could lay their hands upon was taken away, after rummaging among the trunks, boxes, drawers and upsetting the bed, they regaled themselves with the pastry which they found; strewing it over the floor. the maiden; "it is my flag." "I have fought many a hard battle under that flag," rejoined the Colonel. "Not this flag!" indignantly exclaimed the beauty, as she swept away, leaving the gallant son of Mars dumbfounded.

A GREEN customer who was a stranger to mirrors, and who stepped into the cabin of one of our ocean steamers, stopping in front of a large pier glass which he took for a door, he said :

Incensed at the still silent figure, he broke out :

"Go to thunder, you darned sassafras colored shockheaded bullcalf; you don't look as if you knew much, anyhow !"

AN "Indian" and a white man were passing along Broadway, New York, when the former espied a window full of wigs, and pointing to the owner, who was standing in the doorway, said : "Ugh-him great man ! big brave-take many scalps !"
