By action of the Trustees of the University, the General Faculty includes all members of the University's teaching force above the rank of instructor and all general administrative officers of the institution. In the President and the General Faculty is vested final authority (under the Trustees) over all matters of University policy and activity. At present the legislative functions of the General Faculty are vested in the Faculty Council. Under the General Faculty the colleges and the schools have separate faculties and administrative boards, which have final authority over matters pertaining solely to such colleges or schools. In the following list are included the names of all members of the General Faculty who have not been listed under Officers of Administration and the names of all instructors. The names are arranged in alphabetical order. The date following the name indicates the year of appointment. The word clinical used in a title indicates that the individual has only part-time teaching duties in the University.

THE UNIVERSITY

Historical Sketch of the University of North Carolina

The University of North Carolina, provided for in the state constitution in 1776 and chartered in 1789, laid the cornerstone of its first building in 1793 and opened its doors to students in 1795. It thereby became the first state university in the United States to admit students and send them out into the nation bearing a state university diploma.

The origin of the University may be traced to Section XLI of the North Carolina Constitution of 1776, which declared that "all useful learning shall be duly encouraged and promoted in one or more universities." Sponsored by William Richardson Davie, "father of the University," the University was chartered by the General Assembly through an act passed December 11, 1789, which declared that "in all well regulated Government, it is the indispensable duty of every Legislature to consult the Happiness of a rising Generation, and endeavor to fit them for an honorable Discharge of the Social Duties of Life, by paying the strictest attention to their Education." On December 21, 1789, the General Assembly passed an accompanying act providing for the erection of buildings and for the support of the University through escheats and arrearages due the state.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees was held at Fayetteville on December 18, 1789, to accept Benjamin Smith's offer of 20,000 acres of land. The first regular meeting of the trustees occurred at Fayetteville on November 15, 1790, as required by the charter. In 1792, a committee headed by Frederick Hargett selected New Hope Chapel, now Chapel Hill, as the site for the University. On October 12, 1793, Davie, as Grand Master of Masons, laid the cornerstone of Old East, the first building. Formal opening exercises were held January 15, 1795, but the first student did not arrive "on the hill" until February 12. For two weeks he was the student body. At the end of the term there were two professors and forty-one students.

The University began its career with a gift of land warrants for 20,000 acres, cash amounting to $2,706.41, and a loan of $10,000 (afterward converted into a gift) made by the legislature in 1791 as a result of the interest and leadership of Davie as a member of the House. By constant struggle and periodic appeals for private benefactions, the institution grew despite general poverty, opposition to taxation, denominational hostility, and sectional controversies between eastern and western North Carolina. The General Assembly made no specific appropriations for its maintenance until 1881, but through the act passed in 1789 it exempted the University from taxation and made it the beneficiary of escheats and arrearages due the state; and in 1867 it appropriated $7,000 to pay to officers indebtedness incurred during and immediately after the Civil War.

Before 1804, the University was under a succession of "presiding professors." This was not a satisfactory system, and in 1804, Joseph Caldwell was elected the first president. Under Caldwell (1804-1812, 1817-1835), the University grew from a small classical school into a creditable liberal arts college. After 1815, natural sciences were placed on terms of equality with the humanities.

When Caldwell was succeeded by David L. Swain in 1835, the University was widely known as a center of sound scholarship and teaching. During his long tenure (1835-1868), Swain devoted his administration to a program of drawing the institution and the state close together. More emphasis was placed on subjects designed to prepare men for public service—history, law, rhetoric, and public speaking. The ideal of public service overshadowed general culture prior to 1860. During these years, the enrollment of the University reached a peak of 456 (1858), and its alumni included one president of the United States, one vice-president, seven cabinet officials, ten United States senators, forty-one representatives in Congress, fifteen state governors, and many state judges and legislators. From 1814, when a University alumnus first became governor, until the present time, twenty-eight of the forty-five governors of North Carolina have studied at Chapel Hill.

The University remained open during the Civil War, although most of its faculty and students joined the Confederate armies. Reconstruction, however, closed its doors for five years (1870-1875). Through the efforts of the alumni and Mrs. Cornelia Phillips Spencer, a Chapel Hill resident, the University was reopened in 1875.

By the constitution adopted in 1868 the General Assembly has "power to provide for the election of Trustees of the University of North Carolina, in whom, when chosen, shall be vested all the privileges, rights, franchises and endowments thereof in anywise granted to or conferred upon the trustees of said University; and the General Assembly may make such provisions, laws and regulations, from time to time, as may be necessary and expedient for the maintenance and management of said University." The governor of the state is, ex-officio, president of the Board of Trustees.

The same constitution, in connection with "Benefits of the University," further states: "The General Assembly shall provide that the benefits of the University, as far as practicable, be extended to the youth of the State free of expense for tuition; also, that all the property which has heretofore accrued to the State, or shall hereafter accrue, from escheats, unclaimed dividends, or distributive shares of the estates of deceased persons, shall be appropriated to the use of the University."

In 1875 the University reopened with the Reverend Dr. Charles Phillips as Chairman of the Faculty (1875-1876). From 1876 to 1953 the University has had eight presidents, each of whom has contributed to its expansion and progress. Dr. Kemp Plummer Battle (1876-1891) reorganized the University (1876), established the first summer normal session in the South (1877), secured the first regular appropriation for maintenance (1881), and wrote a two-volume history of the University. George Tayloe Winston (1891-1896) "made its campus the dwelling place of dynamic democracy and a citadel against the forces of intolerance and bigotry." Edwin Anderson Alderman (1896-1900) opened its doors to women. During the administration of Francis Preston Venable (1900-1914), the University's financial condition, improved, the physical plant was considerably expanded, athletics were encouraged, and creative scholarship was required of the faculty. The brief administration of Edward Kidder Graham (1914-1918) was notable for the enlargement of the University's service to the state, increased resources, and a strengthening of student morale.

In the summer of 1917 the University was the recipient of a legacy from Mrs. Mary Lily Kenan (Flagler) Bingham, which amounted to $75,000 per year for twenty-one years, after which the principal was given outright. The "Kenan Professorships Fund" thus established is, according to the will, to be "perpetually used . . . for the purpose of paying the salaries of professors" who are to be known as "Kenan Professors," the bequest "being given in the interest of education of the youth of North Carolina." Elevation to a Kenan Professorship, with its corresponding salary increase, made on the basis of distinction in research, in teaching, or in service to the University and the state, is an honor which, since 1918, has been given to fifty-three professors, twenty-five of whom are still active. Through the years the Kenan Fund has enabled the University to retain on its faculty and to attach to it scholars and teachers of wide reputation and recognized leadership.

The administration of President Harry Woodburn Chase (1919-1930) was marked by rapid physical expansion, and achievement of an international reputation for high standards of scholarship and freedom in research and teaching. Student enrollment increased rapidly, and maintenance appropriations reached $894,379 in 1928-1929. Increasing emphasis was shown in social sciences and graduate work. The Graduate School was reorganized in 1920, the University of North Carolina Press was incorporated in 1922, and the Institute for Research in Social Science was organized in 1924. Early in the decade professional schools of engineering and commerce were inaugurated.

Under President Frank Porter Graham (1930-1949) University progress continued. The administrative consolidation of the University of North Carolina, the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro, and the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh into the University of North Carolina was effected in 1932. New schools and divisions were added at Chapel Hill—Library Science in 1931, the General College in 1935, and Public Health in 1936. The Institute of Government became a part of the University in 1942, the Communication Center was established in 1945, and the School of Education, discontinued in 1933, was re-instituted in 1948. New departments were added—City and Regional Planning in 1946, Radio in 1947, and Religion in 1947. In 1949, the $3,000,000 Morehead Building and Planetarium was completed.

The Division of Health Affairs, organized in 1949 for the purpose of integrating the work of all of the health professional schools and the hospital, includes the schools of Medicine, Public Health, Pharmacy, Dentistry, and Nursing; and the North Carolina Memorial Hospital. In 1950, a School of Social Work and a School of Journalism were established, and the School of Commerce became the School of Business Administration.

In the development of the consolidation process, Robert Burton House was selected by President Graham and duly confirmed by the Trustees in 1934 to serve as Dean of Administration of the University at Chapel Hill. In 1945, Dean House's title was changed by the Trustees to Chancellor of the University at Chapel Hill and Vice-President of the University of North Carolina.

In World War II the University rendered noteworthy service. Some 20,000 officers and cadets in naval aviation were trained in the United States Navy Pre-Flight School, established in 1942. A naval R.O.T.C. unit, established in 1940, still continues, and a Navy V-12 program was set up. Army and Army Air Corps groups were also trained.

Upon the appointment of President Graham to the Senate of the United States in March, 1949, Controller W. D. Carmichael, Jr., became Acting President; and in February, 1950, Gordon Gray was elected President, assuming office in September, 1950. President Gray's administration has seen continued growth of the physical plant of the University, the opening of the North Carolina Memorial Hospital, the Dental Clinic, the Nurses' home, and a unit of the State Tubercu-lois Hospital, The Gravely Sanatorium. Under his guidance, the University is operating an F. M. Radio Station and has secured an Educational Television license. Over a million dollars in private gifts were secured for building the transmitter, and the station is now in operation.

With the growth of the University has come a need for the re-defining of the relation of the faculty to the University. On November 6, 1942, the General Faculty authorized the appointment of a committee, under the chairmanship of Professor John M. Booker, to study faculty government and prepare a report embodying a uniform set of principles defining the powers, duties, and status of the various divisions which constitute the University. The committee, known as the Committee on University Government, submitted its report in sections during the next eight years. On May 10, 1950, the General Faculty adopted, in its entirety, the new instrument known as "Faculty Legislation on University Government," with the provision that it go into effect in January, 1951.

The chief departure from previous legislative practice in University Government made by the new legislation is in its establishment of a Faculty Council as the governing body. The Council, elected for three-year staggered terms from all the divisions of the University and embracing all ranks of professorship on a proportional basis, has assumed all the legislative functions of the General Faculty except the power to amend the "General Faculty Legislation." Consisting of ex-officio and elected members, the Council meets on the first Friday of each month during the academic year for the transaction of University business. Names of the present Council, together with the dates of their terms, appear on pages 11-13.

Growth of the University at Chapel Hill is depicted in enrollment figures. In the fall of 1920 students in residence numbered some 1,300; in 1930, 2,700; and in the fall of 1941 enrollment reached 4,108—up to then an all-time high. Because of the G. I. Bill and the general pressure for university and college education at the conclusion of the war, enrollment at Chapel Hill in 1948-1949 reached 7,603, the highest figure to date.

With expanded facilities in the Division of Health Affairs, the Library, the School of Business Administration, the Law School, and the Departments of Chemistry and English, the University has already embarked upon a new era of service to the state. With a bright past and the opportunities for an even more brilliant future, the University of North Carolina looks ahead with confidence and challenge.*

SUMMER SESSION

Many of the regular courses as described in this catalogue are offered during the summer session with the same credit value. In addition to this, special courses, institutes, and workshops may be offered.

Department of Naval Science

A Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit is maintained at the University of North Carolina under the provisions of Public Law No. 729, which authorizes such units at fifty-two colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Detailed information on the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit is in Part IV of this catalogue.

Department of Air Science

With the cooperation of the United States Air Force a course in Air Science has been established at the University. Under this program students may enroll in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps for a four-year course of formal instruction in Air Science.

Detailed information on the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Unit is in Part IV of this catalogue.

Admissions

Undergraduate students may be admitted to the General College, to the School of Pharmacy, to the College of Arts and Sciences, to the School of Business Administration, to the School of Education, to the School of Journalism, to the Dental Hygienist Program of the School of Dentistry, and to the School of Nursing. Application blanks for admission may be secured by writing the Director of Admissions. Applications along with complete records should be submitted at least fifteen days before the opening of the semester in which a student desires to enroll.

WOMEN STUDENTS: Women students are eligible to enter the following schools and curricula as freshmen: the School of Nursing, the School of Pharmacy, the Medical Technology curriculum, and the Dental Hygienist Program of the School of Dentistry. They are eligible to enter the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration, the School of Education, and the School of Journalism on the same bases as men. Applications for Dental Hygiene are secured from the Dean of the School of Dentistry; others, including applications for the School of Nursing, from the Director of Admissions. Women who are permanent and bona fide residents of the Chapel Hill township and those interested in Medical Technology are eligible for admission to the General College.

AGE: Each applicant must be sixteen years of age before or by the actual date of his first registration.

CHARACTER: Each applicant is required to furnish satisfactory evidence of good character.

HEALTH: Each new student before his arrival at the University is required to send to the University Physician a medical history properly completed by his physician. The health questionnaire is furnished by the Office of Admissions. Each registrant is also required to have a physical examination by the University Physician immediately before the period of his first registration. A former student who has been approved for readmission to the University and who has been away from the University for a year or more is required to submit a medical form and to be examined by the University Physician before registration.

ADMISSION TO FRESHMAN STANDING

Formal application for admission to freshman standing in the General College, the School of Nursing, the School of Pharmacy, or the Dental Hygiene Program may be made by a certificate showing graduation or its equivalent from an accredited high school with fifteen acceptable units and a satisfactory recommendation from the school last attended. For specific requirements for admission to the School of Nursing, to the School of Pharmacy, and to the Dental Hygiene Program, see the catalogues of those schools. Fifteen units are required for admission to the General College and the School of Pharmacy. Of these, ten and one-half must be in academic subjects and must include four in English, two in one foreign language, one and one-half in algebra, one in plane geometry, one in history of the United States, one in a natural science. The remaining four and one-half units are elective. Not more than four units in vocational subjects may be allowed toward admission. Specific foreign language requirements are found in the curricula outlined on pages 116-123. A student may be admitted with a deficiency of one-half unit in algebra, one unit in plane geometry, and two units in foreign language if he presents fifteen other acceptable units.

REMOVING DEFICIENCIES: The algebra deficiency may be removed by passing Mathematics 7, 11, or 15 here, or by a special examination given by the Department of Mathematics. A deficiency in plane geometry may be removed by a special examination given by the Department of Mathematics, by a course offered by the University's Correspondence Division, or by summer work at an approved high school. A deficiency in a foreign language may be removed by passing the elementary part of the language here. It is very desirable that applicants with deficiencies try to clear these during the summer immediately preceding the fall opening at which they expect to matriculate. All entrance deficiencies must be removed before registration for the fifth semester in residence, not counting the summer session.

A graduate of a non-accredited high school, or a mature student who cannot meet the formal requirements, may qualify for admission by a special entrance examination.

The right is reserved to reject the application of any applicant who ranked in the lower half of his graduating class in high school. For cause, the Committee on Admissions may disapprove any application for admission.

ADMISSION OF NON-RESIDENTS: An applicant who is a non-resident of North Carolina may be required to supplement his application and transcript with a personal interview with a representative of the University, a written examination, and other information requested by the Committee on Admissions.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Persons twenty-one years of age or over who cannot meet the requirements for admission as degree candidates, or others desiring to improve themselves professionally, may be admitted as special students, with the approval of the dean of the college concerned, to pursue a non-degree program. Application is made through the Director of Admissions, and satisfactory evidence of the student's ability to profit from the program desired must be furnished. The applicant should have an interview with the dean having supervision over the work to be taken.

Special students are on probation. Anyone enrolled in the University as a special student is required to carry at least fifteen hours of work unless he has permission of the dean concerned to carry less. They are required to pass all of their courses in order to be eligible to continue in the University.

ADMISSION TO THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES AND TO THE SCHOOLS OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION, EDUCATION, AND JOURNALISM

Admission to the College of Arts and Sciences and to the Schools of Business Administration, Education, and Journalism is based upon the satisfactory completion of the first two years of college work given in the General College of this University (pages 111-123) or its equivalent certified by another institution of recognized academic standing.

Satisfactory completion of the first two years of college work is interpreted to mean that a C average or better is achieved. Provisions may be made for the removal of a deficiency in the exact requirements of the first two years.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

A person seeking admission to the University on the basis of work at another recognized college or university is required to present a properly certified transcript of his record at that college or university at least fifteen days before the opening of the term in which the applicant desires to enroll. Application blanks may be secured by writing to the Director of Admissions. Each transfer student must submit a fee of $5.00. If the applicant is not accepted, the fee is returned; if he is accepted and enrolls as a student, the fee will be applied against the bill at his first registration; if he is accepted but does not enroll, the fee will be forfeited regardless of the reason involved.

Each transferred record will be evaluated in terms of requirements here. A transferring student is expected to present at least a C average on the work taken at other institutions. A course passed with the lowest passing grade at another institution does not give hours credit toward graduation, but may be used to satisfy a subject requirement in the University. No credit is allowed for work done at non-standard or non-accredited colleges and universities unless a substantiating examination is passed here in each subject for which credit is sought. Any record submitted for advanced standing may be rejected in whole or in part, and validating examinations may be required in any or all subjects.

Applicants who have ever attended for any period of time a college or university are required to present properly certified transcripts or records of such attendance. It will be considered a violation of the honor code if in his application for admission any applicant makes a false statement with reference to previous college or university attendance in order to gain admission on the basis of a high school record alone.

The University is not an accrediting agency. It accepts the accreditation of the North Carolina State Department of Education in so far as high and preparatory schools and colleges (junior colleges or four-year institutions) are concerned. Outside of North Carolina the University depends upon the accreditation of the departments of education of the various states, upon the accreditation of the state universities or institutions of comparable rank, and upon the accreditation of regional accrediting agencies.

ADMISSION TO GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS AND THE SUMMER SESSION

For the requirements for admission to the graduate and professional schools, the applicant should address his inquiry to the dean of the school in which he desires to enroll or consult the special catalogue of that school. For admission to the summer session only, the applicant should write to the Director of the Summer Session.

The College Year

The college year is divided into fall and spring semesters of approximately seventeen weeks each, and a summer session divided into two terms of about six weeks each. Currently the school of Medicine and the School of Dentistry are operating on the quarter system. There are recesses at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter.

Religious Influence

The deep concern of the University for the religious life of the student is symbolized by the centrally located YMCA and YWCA building. Functioning in the heart of the campus and led by outstanding directors, these Christian Associations minister to the student body. In addition to their own programs and services, the YMCA and YWCA serve as channels of communication into the campus for the various denominational groups.

The churches of Chapel Hill, representing most of the denominations, provide an effective ministry to the students in their services of worship and weekly religious programs. The larger denominations also make available, through their state and national boards, the services of young pastors who work exclusively with students. These pastors, having official faculty recognition, work in close cooperation with the campus religious agencies.

The University has recently established a Department of Religion, offering courses in the history, literature, and interpretation of religion. All students thus have the opportunity to study with competent professors who can lead them to a better understanding and appreciation of their religious faith.

The Council on Religious Life, whose chairman is the Chancellor of the University, includes in its membership the deans of the colleges, chairmen of departments, college pastors, YMCA and YWCA directors, and other key persons on the campus. The Council, divided into four committees, serves to coordinate all religious activities, to provide counseling service for students, to supervise chapel and convocations, and to sponsor new approaches to religious emphasis among the students. The Department of Religion is a direct outgrowth of this Council's study and interest.

Physical Education

A thorough physical examination is given to students at the time of entrance. All students are classified on the basis of the examination, and an effort is made to adapt the program to the individual's particular needs.

Physical education is required of all undergraduate men two periods each week for the first two years; and of all undergraduate women two periods each week for the first three years. A two-semester-hour course in hygiene is required of all freshmen. Upperclassmen are offered the opportunity to major in the field of health and physical education.

Athletic sports and all kinds of physical activity are encouraged. The program of intercollegiate athletics includes a great variety of seasonal competitive games, with the idea of promoting maximum participation by members of the student body.

In addition to intercollegiate athletics the University fosters an unusually extensive program of intramural athletics. During the 1954-1955 school year the program involved 65 per cent of the male student body. Every effort is made to provide each interested student with the opportunity to participate in a healthful form of competition with his fellows and to learn teamwork and good sportsmanship.

Medical Attention

In order to provide proper medical attention for the student, the University employs five full-time physicians and maintains a well-appointed infirmary, with a modern X-ray unit under the direction of a full-time technician, and with a laboratory for diagnostic purposes under the direction of two full-time technicians. The infirmary is under the immediate supervision of the University Physician and is provided with ten experienced nurses who are under the general supervision of a head nurse. At the discretion of his attending physician a student may be admitted to its wards, and for such services as may be rendered by the staff no charges are made. But the student will be required to pay any additional service (consultation, special nurses, and operations), recommended by the attending physician and approved by the parent or guardian.

THE DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

An integrated Division of Student Affairs was approved by the Board of Trustees on July 1, 1954. It is the purpose of the Division to coordinate and promote the work of all University services and organizations affecting the welfare of students—that is, all University relationships with students other than formal instruction.

The Dean of Student Affairs is the administrative head of the Division. It comprises the following offices and activities: Admissions; Records and Registration; Student Financial Aid, including scholarships; Student Activities, including the Student Union, the Y.M.C.A., and Y.W.C.A.; the Student Health Service; the Testing Service; special counseling services, including the Offices of Adviser to Foreign Students and Adviser to Veterans; the Office of the Dean of Women; and Housing.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

No detailed code of rules is designed to govern student behavior. High standards of morality under the Honor System and of gentlemanly conduct under the Campus Code constitute the core of student responsibility and policy. The student councils, consisting entirely of student members, are the responsible courts in which violators of the Honor System and the Campus Code are tried. If a student is found guilty of violating the Honor System or the Campus Code, he may be suspended from the University for an indefinite period. Indefinite suspension is the established penalty, although there has been some variation in sentences from one student generation to another. Among the offences traditionally requiring suspension are cheating, stealing, lying, drunkenness, and gambling.

Officers of the Student Body, 1955-1956

DONALD O. FOWLER .....	President of the Student Body
JOHN S. STEVENS .....	Vice-President of the Student Body
JOAN PALMER .....	Secretary of the Student Body
JAMES E. MARTIN, JR. ....	Treasurer of the Student Body

The student body of the University is self-governing, its functions being both disciplinary and administrative. These functions are exercised by executive, legislative, and judicial branches of representative government under a student constitution.

* Absent on leave, 1955-1956.

The executive department consists of the President of the Student Body, assisted by the Vice-President and the Secretary-Treasurer, all elected by the student body at large.

Legislative power is vested in:

Student Legislature. This body is the legislative branch of student government and is composed of fifty members elected annually. In addition to enacting nearly all the rules governing students here at the University, it has the responsibility for the annual budget of operations, for the supervision of certain committees, and for the proper performance of many constitutional duties.

Women's Residence Council. Composed of representatives elected by the women students, the Residence Council is responsible for drafting rules for women students and for coordinating women's activities.

The judiciary comprises the Student Council, the Men's Council, the Women's Council, and special councils for dormitories and fraternities.

The following three councils serve as governing bodies for specific campus groups:

Interdormitory Council. The functions of this agency are the regulation of living conditions in the men's dormitories and the maintenance of good living standards by dormitory residents.

Interfraternity Council. As the governing body for social fraternities in the University, this council attempts to further the ideals of fraternities through the unification of programs and action of the various chapters on the campus.

Panhellenic Council. This group is composed of representatives of the six campus national fraternities for women and the stray Greek organization. A clearing house for common problems and the regulating group for rush week, the Council also plans and directs various projects throughout the year.

TESTING SERVICE

The facilities of the University Testing Service are available without charge to all University students to assist them in selecting an appropriate academic major and ultimate vocation. Students who request this service receive a comprehensive series of tests and are interviewed by experienced vocational counselors. An occupational information library is maintained for student use. Students who are having academic difficulties, who are in doubt as to a suitable academic major, or who have been unable to make satisfactory long-range vocational plans may find these services of particular value. Additional information on this service may be found in Part V of this catalogue.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

Through its placement facilities the University aids students and alumni in solving the problem of postgraduate employment. Registration is voluntary, and there is no charge for the service.

The Placement Service, while primarily concerned with employment opportunities for students and alumni in business, industry, and government, serves as a coordinating agency for all campus recruitment. The professional schools assist directly in the placement of their graduates.

Students should register for placement early in their senior year even though they have a job or may enter military service immediately following graduation. Registration with the Placement Service assures a complete and permanent personnel file, including a summary of college activities and confidential ratings from faculty members, which is available to employers upon request.

In addition, student-employer interviews are arranged on the campus throughout the year, and occupational information and company literature are available for student use. The Placement Service also makes available information regarding postgraduate scholarships, and temporary summer employment.

For prospective employers the Placement Service arranges interviews with students and faculty members, supplies a personnel file for students interviewed or recommended, and attempts to answer inquiries about unregistered alumni.

PUBLICATIONS

The Publications Board of the University is the publishing agency for two student publications—The Daily Tar Heel and The Yackety Yack. Composed of two faculty members appointed by the Chancellor, four student members elected by the student body, and a representative of the Student Legislature, the Board has complete control over the financial policies of the publications under its jurisdiction. These publications are financed by appropriations from student fees and by advertising. The editor of each is elected by the student body, and he appoints his staff.

The Daily Tar Heel, published since 1893, is the student newspaper and appears six times a week. The paper is completely edited and prepared by students and gives opportunity for practical experience to students interested in the journalism and business phases of newspaper work.

The Yackety Yack is the yearbook. This publication presents in pictorial form a record of campus achievements and activities during the academic year.

Tarnation and the Carolina Quarterly are the other major publications. Tarnation, the campus humor magazine, appears four times during the academic year.

The Carolina Quarterly is an independent student publication, devoted to providing a literary outlet for young writers at the University. It is not under the jurisdiction of the Publications Board but is financed through subscriptions and advertising. A faculty committee composed of five professors in the field of the humanities serves as a permanent consulting board and selects the editor and business manager each year. The Quarterly appears each December, March, and May and features fiction, poetry, and articles by young writers both in and out of the University.

EXPENSES

The University reserves the right to make, with the approval of the proper authorities, changes in tuition and other fees at any time.

Tuition and Other Fees for Each Semester

Each student whose bona fide residence has not been established in North Carolina for at least the six months immediately preceding his first registration in the University must pay a higher rate of tuition than that paid by a legal resident of North Carolina. The residence of a minor is that of his parents or guardian. The residence of an adult remains with his parents unless he has independently set up one of his own.

Bona fide residence in North Carolina means that the student is not in the state primarily to attend the University and that his status as a resident has not been set up merely as a technical bar to the higher tuition charge. Mere ownership of property or payment of taxes apart from residence does not qualify one as a resident, nor may a student qualify by living in North Carolina the six months immediately preceding his first registration unless he continues so to live during the whole period of his stay at the University.

Students are presumed to know their correct residence status and to state the facts concerning it truthfully on their application and registration blanks. Students in doubt should state their cases in writing to the Chancellor, preferably in advance of registration. Students who misrepresent the facts of their residence status for the purpose of defrauding the University will be dealt with as are all other violators of the Honor System.

The tuition rates for students registered in the General College, College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, School of Nursing, Curriculum for Dental Hygienists, School of Business Administration, School of Journalism, School of Social Work, and Graduate School are as follows:

Residents of North Carolina, each semester .....	$ 75.00
Non-resident of North Carolina, each semester .....	250.00

In addition to the tuition charge, the fees payable at the beginning of each semester are listed as follows:

FEES:	General College, Arts &amp; Sciences, Journalism, Nursing, Education	Business Administration	Social Work and Graduate	Dental Hygiene

Dental Society .....				3.00
Laundry Deposit .....	20.00	20.00	20.00	20.00

The matriculation fee covers use of physical education facilities, infirmary, library, cost of registration, and membership in the Athletic Association. Membership in the Athletic Association entitles students to become members of intercollegiate athletic squads with supplies and equipment furnished. Members are also entitled to the use of facilities, both as participant and spectator, limited by the capacity of the facility. The student activities fee covers general campus activities supported by all regular students. The reading and materials fee applies only to students registered in the School of Business Administration, and the Dental Society fee only to students registered in Dental Hygiene.

Laboratory Breakage Deposits

Students taking certain courses in chemistry, pharmacy, and medicine are required to make a deposit to cover breakage of equipment, use of more than normal expendable supplies and materials, and depreciation on unusual equipment. These deposits range from $7.00 to $15.00. The unused portion of the deposit is refunded at the end of the semester.

Application Fee

Each application for admission to advanced standing must be accompanied by a transcript evaluation fee of $5.00. If the applicant is not accepted the fee is returned; if he is accepted and enrolls as a student, the fee will be applied against his bill at his first registration; if he is accepted but chooses not to enroll as a student the fee will be forfeited.

Charges for Credit Obtained by Examination

Students who take examinations for credit for advanced standing will be charged $1.50 for each semester hour of credit secured by examination.

Delayed Registration

Any student registering later than the time appointed for his registration must pay an additional fee of $5.00. No appeal from the late registration charge will be granted, unless the delay results from circumstances clearly beyond the student's control. Such an appeal must be made in writing to the Chancellor, must show justification for the delay in registering, and must bear the approval of the dean of the division of the University in which the applicant is enrolled.

Transcripts of Record

One transcript will be furnished without charge. Additional transcripts will be furnished only upon payment of $1.00 for each copy.

Graduation Fee

The graduation fee is $10.00, payable when application for degree is made. A cap and gown rental fee of $3.25 is made to recipients of bachelors' degrees, $4.25 to recipients of masters' degrees, and $6.00 to recipients of doctors' degrees.

Refunds

A student withdrawing within the first week of any semester is charged only a registration fee of $7.00. If he withdraws after the first week, his bill will be prorated on the basis of one-tenth for each week (or part of a week) he attends. No refund will be made after the ninth week of any semester.

Payment of Bills

Bills for the fall semester are payable at the time of registration. Application for a room should be made to the Dean of Women, and should be accompanied by a deposit of $10.00.

Rooms are rented upon the basis of the entire scholastic year. Payment is made in two installments, the first of which is due September first. The amount of each installment is determined by the annual rental price of the room and the length of each term.

Holders of jobs are required to maintain a scholastic average of at least C from year to year. Jobs off the campus, in Chapel Hill homes and in business firms, are not assigned by any committee or division of the University. Such work is secured by the efforts of the student, the Director of Student Aid helping wherever possible. All inquiries about an application for work should be mailed to the Director of Student Aid before March 15, after which the jobs are assigned.

It is difficult for first-year students to do self-help work and carry successfully a full schedule of academic work. They are urged to devote full time, if possible, to their studies and related activities.

The Committee assigns the available jobs to those who, in its judgment, are most urgently in need of financial aid and who show high scholastic achievement. Each applicant is notified by personal letter of the Committee's decision on his application.

REGULATIONS

Special Notice to Students

This catalogue, issued in the spring of each year, is intended to give such a description of the work of the University and such a digest of its rules as are needed by the students. Neither the courses announced nor the rules given are valid beyond the succeeding year, for before the end of the succeeding year a new catalogue will have been issued superseding all previous catalogues. Ordinarily a student may expect to be allowed to secure a degree in accordance with the requirements of the curriculum laid down in the catalogue in force when he first entered the University, or in any one subsequent catalogue published while he is a student; but the faculty reserves the right to make changes in curricula, as in rules, at any time when in its judgment such changes are for the best interests of the students and the University.

Registration

All students are expected to register in accordance with the plan of registration established for the current year. All students registering here for the first time will report for physical examination to the Infirmary and present at registration a Permit to Register card which includes clearance by the University Physician. Students failing to present this clearance at registration are liable to an extra charge of $5.00.

Registration for credit for any course is limited to the first four full days of instruction of a semester unless the late registration is approved by the instructor concerned and the dean.

Payment of Bills

Bills for the fall and spring semesters and the summer session are payable at the time of registration or at the Cashier's office on the first class day of the semester or summer session and thereafter according to a schedule announced. Failure to pay or to make proper arrangements for payment results in the assessment of an extra fee of $5.00.

Delayed Registration

Any student registering later than the time appointed for his registration must pay $5.00 as an additional fee for delayed registration. No appeal from the imposition of the late registration charge of five dollars will be granted unless the delay results from circumstances clearly beyond the student's control. Such appeals must be made in writing to the Chancellor, must show justification for the delay in registering, and must bear the approval of the dean of the division of the University in which the appellant is enrolled.

Arrangement of Courses

Attention is called to the reduction of credit for freshman and sophomore courses when taken late in the student's career. Only half credit is allowed if a required freshman course is taken after a student begins his junior year or if a required sophomore course is taken after he begins his senior year.

No student while in the General College will be allowed to take fewer than five full courses a semester, unless he has the permission of his dean. Students who have a scholastic average of "C" in the preceding semester may take six courses representing not more than twenty semester hours. For six courses representing more than twenty semester hours, a scholastic average of "B" in the preceding semester is required. A student may not register for seven courses.

For students in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Education and the School of Journalism, a student must carry fifteen hours of work in order to be regularly enrolled. He may carry more than seventeen semester hours of work only if his scholastic average for the preceding semester was "C" (1.0). In order to carry more than eighteen semester hours of work his scholastic average for the preceding semester must be "B" (2.0). In no case can he receive credit for more than twenty semester hours in a semester.

A student desiring to change his courses must make written application, which, after approval by his faculty adviser, will be considered by the dean. The written permission of the dean must be presented at registration.

The listing of a course in the catalogue does not obligate the University to give the course in any particular year.

Changes in registration are limited to the first four full days of instruction in a semester.

There is a requirement that the full work of the last year shall be done in residence at this University.

Assignment of Rooms

The rooms in the University dormitories and accommodations for families are assigned to men students by the Director of Housing. Women students are assigned housing accommodations by the Office of the Dean of Women.

The University reserves the right to require any student whom, for any reason, it considers an undesirable tenant to vacate a room in the University dormitories.

In order to retain his room for the next scholastic year, each student must file with the Cashier before April 30 an application and a deposit of $10.00 as an option. The rooms thus applied for will be retained until September 1, when first payment of rent is due. The option deposit will be forfeited in case the applicant does not himself pay the rent, or make proper arrangements to pay, and occupy the room. New students should make application for a dormitory room as soon as notification of acceptance is received from the Office of Admissions (for undergraduates) or from the office of the dean of the appropriate school or college to which application had been made for admission for others. Room reservation fee for both new men and women students is $10.00.

Bills are forwarded to women students for room rent early in the semester. Women students are responsible for room rent for a semester once a room assignment is made.

The right to occupy a room is not transferable and terminates with the expiration of the lease. Any attempt on the part of an occupant of a room to sell or transfer his right to occupancy will be considered a fraudulent transaction and will result in forfeiture of the room by the new lessee.

The occupant of a room will be held directly responsible for any damage done to his room or to its furniture.

No pets shall be kept in the University dormitories and Victory Village. Breach of this regulation leads to forfeiture of the place of residence.

Conduct

By order of the Board of Trustees the faculty is directed to discipline or dismiss from the University any student who is known to engage in drinking intoxicating liquors, gambling, hazing in any form (presence at hazing is regarded as participation), or to be guilty of dissolute conduct. See also Student Government, pages 67-69.

Students persistently neglectful of duty, or addicted to boisterous conduct or rowdiness, may be required to leave the University.

Students, unless bona fide residents of Chapel Hill, when suspended from the University for disciplinary reasons, must leave the campus and Chapel Hill within forty-eight hours or forfeit the right to readmission at any time.

Attendance

Regular attendance at class is a student obligation—an obligation to himself and to the state of North Carolina. It is his obligation to know the rules governing class attendance, to know his attendance status in all classes at all times, and to transmit from the Central Office of Records to his instructors official notice of excuse from class.

A student will be reported to the dean of the school or college in which he is registered when he has been absent without excuse three times in a single class. An absence during the two-day period immediately before or immediately after University holidays will be counted two absences. Unexcused absences from laboratory or from class on the day of a scheduled quiz or examination will result in failure of the work missed.

When a student has three unexcused absences in a single class the dean of his school or college will notify him that he is on attendance probation for the course. Four unexcused absences will result in the student's being dropped from the course by his dean with the grade of "F".

Absences from class with cause may be excused only by the University Physician or the dean of the school or college in which the student is registered. Request for excuse from absence, except absences excused by the University Physician, will be made to the dean of the school or college in which the student is registered. The dean will forward authorizations for excuses to the Central Office of Records on a form provided by the latter office, and the Central Office of Records will issue to the student an official excuse for presentation to his instructors. Instructors will accept only excuses issued in this way. Excuses for absence may not be granted later than one week after the student's return to class.

No student may receive credit for any course unless he has attended at least seventy-five per cent of the meetings of the course, except by permission of the administrative board of the school or college concerned. A student who has not met this minimum attendance requirement may not take the final examination in the course without the consent of the instructor concerned and the approval of the dean of the school or college in which he is registered.

A student who is on the honor roll is exempt from regulations governing class attendance except those pertaining to absence from laboratory or quizzes and examinations and to minimum seventy-five per cent attendance in all courses.

The faculty is responsible for enforcement of attendance regulations. In order to discharge this responsibility properly, members of the faculty will: (a) explain the attendance regulations during the first week of every class; (b) keep an accurate daily record of attendance; (c) report promptly to the dean of the school or college in which the student is registered the name of any student who has been absent three times without excuse; (d) report promptly to the dean of the school or college in which the student is registered the name of any student on attendance probation who is absent without excuse; and (e) accept only excuses issued by the Central Office of Records.

The grade of a student who quits a course without the permission of the dean of his school or college is recorded officially as "F".

The grade of a student who drops or is dropped for other than disciplinary reasons from a course in which he is failing at that time is recorded as an "F" unless, in the judgment of his dean, his failure was caused by circumstances beyond his control.

The dean of the school or college in which the student is registered will determine whether a student may remain in residence after having been dropped from or having quit one or more courses.

Examinations

COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS

Only a student who is a candidate for honors is now required to take a comprehensive examination. This examination is in the field of the student's major.

QUIZZES

By action of the faculty, quizzes are not to be given during the last six days of any semester.

SPECIAL EXAMINATIONS

Special examinations for the removal of conditions and for advanced standing will be given in 1956 as shown below:

Monday, September 17

8:30 A.M.	11:00 A.M.
Economics	Education
Romance Languages	English
Zoology	German
2:00 P.M.	4:30 P.M.
Geology and Geography	Comparative Literature
Psychology	Greek
Art	Physics
Physical Education	Sociology

Tuesday, September 18

8:30 A.M.	11:00 A.M.

Latin	Business Administration
Journalism	Philosophy
	Dramatic Art
2:00 P.M.	4:30 P.M.
Music
History	Any examinations made
Mathematics	necessary by conflicts.
Political Science

A special examination may be taken as scheduled above by a student who has received the condition grade Cond. A student may take the examination with the class in the same subject at any regular term examination within one calendar year after he has made the grade of Cond., provided he has no conflict with a course regularly taken by him in the term. A senior who makes a grade of Cond. in his last term of residence is allowed to take a special examination for removal of the Cond. by special arrangement between the instructor and the dean concerned. The grade Cond. becomes F if the student fails to pass a re-examination within one calendar year.

Special examinations for students who have been officially excused from regular examinations because of sickness, or who have been absent for some necessary cause and are therefore excused, may be held at suitable times fixed by the Central Office of Records and the instructors concerned. Such examinations must be taken within one calendar year of the date of absence, except for graduate students who may remove grade Abs. within one calendar year from the date of their next registration at the University.

To be entitled to take a special examination within a term, at the September period, or at a regular semester examination period, the student is required to file a written request in the Central Office of Records before the time for the examination.

Papers handed in at a special examination by students who have been officially excused from the regular examination will be graded by the usual system; all others will be marked "passed" or "failed."

REGULAR FINAL EXAMINATIONS

Regular written examinations are required at the end of each term in all courses except those whose nature makes written examinations unnecessary. Approval of such exceptions must be secured in advance from the Chairman of the Faculty.

Papers written in final examinations are not to be carried away from Chapel Hill to be graded.

Final examinations except in laboratory practice may not be held at any time other than those specified in the preceding regulations.

No examinations may be held later than 7:00 P.M.

All examinations must be held in Chapel Hill.

In exceptional cases arrangements can be made to take examinations in absentia. There is a fee of $10.00 for each such examination. Applications for examinations in absentia should be directed to the dean of the school in which the student is registered.

Examinations should be limited to a period of three hours. In courses in which a considerable portion of the examination is of a practical nature the instructor may extend the time at his discretion.

The examination schedule at the end of each semester having once been fixed cannot be changed, and the examination must be held at the time shown on the schedule.

No students other than the following may take the examination in any course: (1) regularly enrolled members of the class whose names have been reported from the Central Office of Records to the instructor as having registered in due form for the course; and (2) those whose names have been reported from the Central Office of Records as having the right to take special examinations in that course.

Any student absent from an examination without an official excuse, from the University Physician or his dean, or present and failing to submit examination papers is reported absent. This mark is equivalent in every respect to grade F or failure and is so recorded in the Central Office of Records. Authorized excuses from an examination are issued by the Central Office of Records.

Each student is required to subscribe his name to the following pledge or its equivalent on every paper: "I hereby certify that during this examination I have neither given nor received aid." The instructor will not report a grade for any student whose examination paper lacks this pledge.

Standing

After the close of each semester, reports of the standing of all students in all their studies are sent to parents or guardians. The reports are based upon the following system of marking:

UNDERGRADUATE AND ## PROFESSIONAL

A—Excellent

B—Good

C—Fair

D—Passed

F—Failed

Cond.—Conditioned

Inc.—Work Incomplete

Abs.—Absent from Examination

GRADUATE

P—Passed

F—Failed

Inc.—Work Incomplete

Abs.—Absent from Examination

The grade Inc. may be converted into one of the other grades by completing within a period of one calendar year such additional assignments as may be required by the instructor in the course. A grade of Inc. not so converted becomes F.

When a student has shown marked deficiency in the use of English in any course, his grade in that course may have attached a "composition condition" (cc). This condition, while not affecting a student's eligibility for continuance in the University, must be removed before final credit will be allowed. A student who receives such a condition must take a diagnostic test before the middle of the following semester, and his registration for the next semester following this semester may not be completed until he has taken the test. If this test shows that the student needs to take a course or laboratory work to remove his condition, he must proceed actively and systematically toward the removal of his condition in the second semester following that in which he receives it. The Secretary of the Committee on Conditions in English Composition will determine those who need remedial work.

A student must attain a grade of D to pass in any study. Grade Cond. indicates that the student is conditioned but may remove the deficiency by special examination as explained above. A satisfactory re-examination changes the grade Cond. to D. Students receiving grade F must repeat the study to receive any credit for it.

Any student, after conference with the instructor concerned, may appeal from a "course grade" by presenting the appeal, in writing, to the dean of his school. Such appeals must be made not later than the last day of classes of the next succeeding regular semester. The dean will refer the appeal to the administrative board of his school and the chairman of the department concerned. Final decision will be made by the administrative board and no change of grade will be made except as a result of decision by the administrative board.

ELIGIBILITY FOR GRADUATION

To be eligible for graduation, a student enrolled before September, 1947, must secure a grade of "C" or higher on at least half of his work; a student first enrolled in or after September, 1947, must secure an over-all average of "C."

Interpretation of this ruling:

(1) A student who completes the required courses but with grades which do not entitle him to his degree will be allowed to take additional junior-senior courses until he meets the requirement of the rule.

(2) A transfer student with advanced standing will come under this rule. In and after September, 1947, an over-all "C" average in the work presented is required for admission to advanced standing.

In the transfer of grades from another institution, work with the lowest passing mark is counted as work passed but not as hours credited toward graduation.

(3) To be eligible for graduation, a student must meet the requirements for the degree as they are defined by the college or school which awards it.

(4) Every candidate for a degree must present at least a "C" average (one quality point for each semester hour undertaken). The result obtained by dividing the total number of quality points by the total number of semester hours undertaken must be 1.0 or higher. The quality points per semester hour are given as follows: A=3 quality points, B=2 quality points, C=1 quality point, all others=0 quality points.

(5) Hygiene grades are counted toward quality points but physical education grades are not counted.

(6) Grades transferred from another institution are not considered in computing the "C" average for graduation.

RANK BY CLASSES

A student to be ranked as a sophomore must have passed at least twenty-four semester hours; to be ranked as a junior, at least fifty-two semester hours; to be ranked as a senior, at least ninety semester hours.

During his fourth semester a student is transferred to the Upper College of his choice provided: (1) he has no entrance deficiencies; (2) he has completed, or has in progress, all of his freshman requirements; (3) he has a qualify point average of 1(C); (4) he has taken the English Proficiency Test.

The normal period of enrollment in the General College is four semesters. The maximum period, in the absence of exceptional circumstances clearly justifying extension by special action, is six semesters. A student with an academic average below "C" and enrolled in the General College after his fourth semester must limit his registration to those courses which are listed in the Catalogue as General College requirements or electives.

ELIGIBILITY FOR CONTINUED RESIDENCE

An undergraduate student, in order to be eligible to continue in the University, must qualify according to the following requirements: freshmen must pass six semester hours in the first semester and twenty semester hours in the first academic year. Sophomores (and others in the General College except freshmen) must pass nine semester hours in the first semester and twenty-one semester hours in every two consecutive semesters. A student shall be transferred from the General College to a school in the Upper Division only when he has attained an overall academic average of "C". A student shall not continue in the General College for more than six semesters unless the Dean of the General College authorizes the continuance in writing with a statement of reasons for the special action. To remain eligible in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Education, and the School of Journalism, a student must pass a minimum of nine semester hours in any one semester and twenty-one semester hours in any two consecutive semesters.

Ineligible persons are not to be considered members of the University. To restore eligibility a student must complete a prescribed amount of satisfactory work in the summer session of this University or through the University's Correspondence Bureau. An additional full course over the minimum number of courses required to remain in the University must be taken if the student is to make himself eligible by correspondence or summer work in this University. A student may not make himself eligible by taking work at another institution, unless approval by his dean and the Director of Admissions is secured in advance.

In case a student has been handicapped by circumstances beyond his control, he may, with the permission of his dean, appeal in writing for readmission by the Readmissions Committee of the school in which he was last enrolled.

No student who fails to qualify under these regulations may be readmitted to any division of the University except by vote of the Readmissions Committee of the school in which he was last enrolled. The student must present written application for readmission to his dean before the opening of any term. Action upon such application is taken by the proper Readmission Committee. A student not in residence at the end of the preceding semester must apply for readmission through the Director of Admissions.

Withdrawals

If a student wishes to withdraw at any time other than the end of a term, a formal withdrawal, which is prerequisite to honorable dismissal or re-entrance to this institution, must be approved by his dean. Such a withdrawal will be approved only after full investigation of the circumstances and after the lapse of twenty-four hours from the time the first application is filed with the dean. The withdrawal form after approval by the dean must be filed promptly with a recorder in the Central Office of Records, No. 1 Hanes Hall.

If a student withdraws after the middle of the semester and is reported as below passing in three or more courses, that semester will be counted as a semester in residence in all computations of his requirements for readmission. If a student withdraws before the middle of the semester, it will be left to the discretion of the dean as to whether or not that semester is to be counted as a semester in residence. The dean's verdict will be indicated specifically on the form used for withdrawal.

To a student withdrawing within the first nine weeks of a semester, tuition is refunded on a pro-rata basis.

Fraternities

Students may join fraternities after registration at the opening of any semester, provided they are eligible under the special regulations of the faculty as announced by the Standing Committee on Fraternities.

Transcripts of Record

Honorable dismissal has reference to conduct and character only. It will not be granted unless the student's standing as to conduct and character is such as to entitle him to continue in this University. Furthermore, in every statement of honorable dismissal full mention will be made of any probation, suspension, or other temporary restriction imposed for unsatisfactory conduct which is still in force when the papers of dismissal are issued.

Statement of record has reference to the recorded results of a student's work in the classroom. It will in every instance contain all the important facts pertaining to the student's admission, classification, and scholarship. In particular, no partial or incomplete scholastic record (for example, with failures omitted) will be given without clear evidence that it is partial or incomplete. If the student's scholarship has been such as to prevent his continuance in this University or to make him subject to any probation, suspension, or other temporary restriction which is still in force at the date of the record, a plain statement of any and all such facts will be included. Such information will be given as will make clear the system of grades employed, the number of exercises a week devoted to each course, etc.

Transcripts of record, except the first, which is furnished without cost, will be made upon payment of one dollar ($1.00) for each copy desired.

Intercollegiate Athletics

The University is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and its rules necessarily conform to the rules of the Conference.

Regulations Governing Dramatic, Musical, Debating, and Other Leading Activities of the Student

1. No student will be allowed to take part in dramatic, musical, debating, oratorical, or similar events entailing absence from the University if his parents (or guardian) object to such participation.

2. Any student who was in attendance at the University during a previous semester must have passed, during his last semester of attendance, satisfactory examinations upon at least six hours, or their equivalent, before he will be allowed to represent the University in any dramatic, musical, debating, oratorical, or similar event of a public nature, or in any other leading activity.

3. Any student reported as deficient in a majority of his classes during the course of any semester may be prohibited by the dean of his school from participating in any dramatic, musical, debating, oratorical, or similar event, or any other leading activity, until such deficiency is removed.

4. There shall be a scholastic requirement of twenty-two semester hours, half C grade or better, during the preceding two semesters of residence, or twenty-five semester hours, half C grade or better, if summer school or correspondence work is necessary in addition to two regular terms.

5. No team or club will be allowed to be absent from the University more than ten lecture days in any semester.

General Statement

During his freshman and sophomore years in the University at Chapel Hill every student is a member of the General College with the exception of students entering the schools of Pharmacy, Nursing, and the Dental Hygiene Program of the School of Dentistry.

* Resigned, November 14, 1955.

† Acting President until March 1, 1956.

‡ Acting President beginning March 1, 1956.

§ The Chancellor, the Director of Admissions, and the Dean of Student Affairs are ex officio members of the Board.

|| Dates indicate expiration of terms.

* Absent on leave, 1955-1956; replaced temporarily by Edgar Alden, A.M.

†† Representative of the Advisers on the Administrative Board.

The studies in the General College are intended: (1) to offer experience in a sufficient variety of basic and liberal subjects to constitute the foundations of that general education which is regarded as essential to balanced development and intelligent citizenship, (2) to supply opportunities for the discovery of intellectual interests and occupational aptitudes, and (3) to provide preparation for later collegiate or professional training. These studies are, specifically, English composition and literature, a foreign language, natural science, social science, mathematics or Latin or Greek, and hygiene. The options within these requirements appear below in the summaries of the several programs. The student thus takes certain courses basic to all programs of study and in addition chooses other courses in anticipation of advanced work in special fields or on the basis of other personal considerations. If he knows what his later program of study is to be, he can in nearly all cases choose a subject in that field as part of his work in the General College. If he does not know what his program is to be, he may take the general program leading to a degree in arts and sciences, business administration, journalism, or education with the assurance that he can reach a decision during his undergraduate career and make necessary changes with minimum loss of time.

The members of the General College are of four distinguishable but overlapping types: (1) those who will proceed to the usual academic degrees at the end of four years, (2) those who will enter professional schools after three or four years, (3) those who are preparing for teaching or scientific investigation, or both, and (4) those who will take less than a complete academic program. Through the advisers the General College attempts to assist each student in appraising his qualifications and objectives and, within the limits set by its standards and resources, undertakes to adapt its offerings to his interests and needs. Thus a deficiency in a foreign language or mathematics may be overcome by taking the elementary courses. In the converse case of mastery in preparatory school or otherwise of work offered in college, the student is encouraged to meet the collegiate requirement by examination. Those who have responsibilities which limit the time available for studies are allowed to take less than the normal academic program. Those who attain distinction in the normal registration are permitted to take additional courses so as to enable them to enrich their programs or to graduate at an earlier date. By such means the College encourages each student to start with the work which he is prepared to do and to go forward with it in the way that is most appropriate in his individual case.

Upon satisfactory completion of the work of the General College, the student will normally enter one of the divisions of the University which administer the curricula of the junior and senior years. The College of Arts and Sciences offers curricula in (1) the liberal arts subjects, (2) mathematics, chemistry, geology, physics, and bacteriology (each with its special Bachelor of Science degree), (3) pre-law, pre-medical, and pre-dental programs, with and without the A.B. degree, (4) medical technology, (5) public health, and (6) industrial relations. The School of Business Administration presents curricula preparatory for the various careers in (1) business, (2) foreign trade and the consular service, (3) other governmental services, and (4) law. The School of Education offers curricula leading to careers in teaching, administration, and supervision. The School of Journalism provides training for newspaper work and related careers.

Naval R. O. T. C.

The Naval R. O. T. C. is an officer candidate training program through which qualified students may obtain commissions in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps, or in their reserve components.

The courses taken in the Department of Naval Science by a student who completes the normal program prescribed by the Naval R. O. T. C. for four academic years represent twenty-four semester hours or eight semester courses. All of these courses are credited in the student's permanent record. Five courses may be counted as electives as follows: (1) Two naval science courses may be taken as General College electives. (2) Three naval science courses may be substituted for other courses normally taken in the junior and senior years. This substitution must involve one course in a department allied with the major and one non-divisional course in the College of Arts and Sciences or, in the other undergraduate schools of the University, such distribution as each school may require. The other three naval science courses are credited as net additions to the minimum requirements for graduation.

Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class

The Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class is an officer candidate program designed to train men who can assume responsibility as commissioned officers. The training is given in two summer training periods of six weeks each. At the completion of that training, and upon graduation, the trainee may be commissioned as an officer in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class does not have class work or drill during the University's normal academic year. The University allows elective credit, counted as part of the requirements for graduation, to students who complete the summer training courses with marks corresponding to the academic grade of C. The credit is three semester hours for each six weeks of summer training.

Students interested in enrollment in this program may apply to the Marine Officer-Instructor at the Headquarters of the Naval R. O. T. C.

Air Force R. O. T. C.

The Air Force R. O. T. C. program is an officer candidate program through which qualified students may earn commissions in the U. S. Air Force or the U. S. Air Force Reserve. The courses taken in the Department of Air Science by a student who completes the normal program prescribed by the Air R. O. T. C. for four academic years represent twenty-four semester hours. During the freshman and sophomore years there are four two-hour courses; in the junior and senior years there are four courses of four semester hours each. All of these courses are credited in the student's permanent record. The equivalent of five courses may be counted as follows: (1) Freshman and sophomore air science courses may be counted as the equivalent of one General College elective. (2) Other air science courses may be counted as the equivalent of four courses normally taken in the junior and senior years. The substitution for junior and senior courses must involve two courses in a department allied with the major and two non-divisional courses in the College of Arts and Sciences or, in the other undergraduate schools of the University, such distribution as each school may require.

Students who enter the Air Force R. O. T. C. program are expected to continue throughout the first two years at least. At the end of two years they may elect to request enrollment in the advanced program or to withdraw. Those who take the third year's work enter upon it with the understanding that normally they must take both the third and fourth years.

Credit by Examination

Provision is made for students who present proper credits to take substantiating examinations for advanced standing in whatever subjects the Dean of the General College may deem advisable. This opportunity is open to those who have taken, in high or preparatory school, work which is approximately equivalent to some of the studies in the General College and, at the discretion of the Dean, to others who present evidence warranting an examination. The passing of such examinations will enable the student to take during his first year the next course in the subject on which he is examined or to take other subjects not ordinarily pursued by freshmen. Formal application for examinations of this sort should be made to the Dean of the General College fifteen days in advance of the date of registration so that he can arrange for the examinations. No charge is made for these examinations. There is a charge, however, for credits obtained by examination.

If a student by a placement test or by some other criterion is placed in advanced work and if he completes the advanced work (one or more courses where the courses are in sequence) with an average of C or better, he will be given credit for the omitted freshman work with the grades that he makes on the advanced work; if he completes the advanced work with less than a C average, he will be relieved of the requirement of the freshman work omitted but will not receive hour credit for the omitted work.

Transfer To An Upper College

The work in the General College normally requires two years. Toward the end of his fourth semester the student is transferred to the upper college of his choice provided he has met the following requirements: (1) has no entrance deficiencies, (2) has passed or has in progress all required Freshman work, including hygiene and physical education, (3) has earned a quality point average of 1.0 (C) exclusive of physical education, and (4) has passed the English Proficiency Test. A student may be transferred at his request at the end of the first year in the General College, provided he (1) has no entrance deficiencies, (2) has passed all Freshman work (37 semester hours) towards the degree, including hygiene and physical education, (3) has a quality point average of 2.0 (B) or above, (4) has passed the English Proficiency Test, and (5) is acceptable to the college or school of his choice.

A student who has completed four semesters in the General College and has not been transferred to an upper college because of failure to meet the minimum quality point average of 1.0 (C) will be allowed to continue his registration in the General College, but will be permitted to register only for those courses listed in the catalogue as General College required or elective courses. A student who has completed six semesters in the General College and has not met the minimum requirements for transfer to the upper college will not be allowed to continue his studies in the General College without applying for and receiving the written permission of the Dean of the General College setting forth the restrictions under which he will be allowed to register.

Guidance of Students in the University

The University conceives education to be directed toward the best development of each individual and accordingly seeks to study each student in terms of his background of experience and his potential-ities of interest, ability, and cultural needs. Each student is the special charge of a General College adviser.

Before admission of the student, the University obtains from him and his school principal information concerning his personal history. This information is made the basis of a cumulative personal record of each student. To it are added placement test scores, results of physical examination, grades in courses, record of activities, etc. This record is available to the student's General College adviser from the time the applicant is accepted until he is transferred to an upper college. Then it is available to the departmental adviser in the major fields of study chosen and to the vocational adviser.

In this way the University tries to deal with each student from admission to graduation as an individual personality about whom a responsible adviser has the needed information. In using this information the personal interest and experience of the adviser may be supplemented in case of special need by members of the general administration competent in such special fields as health, financial aid, vocational guidance, and religious and moral problems.

The College of Arts and Sciences consists of the faculty of the Division of the Humanities, the Division of the Natural Sciences, and the Division of the Social Sciences. It offers the junior and senior years of work leading toward non-professional bachelor's degrees in the areas of the humanities, the natural sciences, and the social sciences, and specialized pre-professional programs as a basis for advanced study in law, medicine, public health, and dentistry.

Admission Requirements

Students are admitted to programs of study in the College of Arts and Sciences after they have successfully completed two years of college work either in the General College of the University or in another comparable, fully accredited institution. In addition to this minimum requirement, a student must have an academic average of "C" on all college work undertaken before he can be accepted in the College. He must also have had the pattern of courses required in the General College; or in the case of students transferring from another college where this pattern was not offered, he must take during his residence in the College of Arts and Sciences those courses necessary to complete this pattern.

Basically the pattern is:

English 1, 2, 21

Foreign language 3, 4, 21 if the student is continuing a language taken in high school; or 1, 2, 3, 4, if he is beginning another language

Social Science 1, 2, and one sophomore elective in social science
Three courses in natural sciences with laboratory or advanced mathematics, at least one course being in biological and one in physical science

Mathematics 7, 8 or 11, 12, or 15, 16, or two courses on the appropriate level in Latin or Greek

Six sophomore electives, including any approved military science credits

Physical Education 1, 2, 3, 4

Hygiene 11

A more detailed statement is given on page 116 of this catalogue.

In exceptional cases provision will be made for students who cannot meet the exact requirements, either to take the needed work here in the General College or to take examinations to prove that they are able to carry the work in the College of Arts and Sciences. In no case, however, will a degree be conferred without the completion of the full entrance requirements of this University either by examination or by certificate and the completion of the full course as required for the degree concerned.

Persons twenty-one years of age or over who cannot meet the requirements for admission as degree candidates or who wish to improve themselves professionally may, with the approval of the Dean of the College, be admitted as special students to pursue non-degree programs. Such students, except when special exception has been arranged, are required to carry a normal class load. They must pass all of their courses in order to be eligible to continue in the University.

Procedures and Regulations

A student upon entering the College of Arts and Sciences normally selects a degree program and chooses a subject matter in which he will do his major work or selects one of the special programs leading to the A.B.-LL.B., the B.S. in H.E., the B.S.P.H., the B.S.P.H.N., the S.B. in Medicine, the S.B. in Dentistry, or the S.B. in Medical Technology degree. Students working on one of these special programs and all special students are advised by the appropriate divisional adviser in the College. All other students are under the direction of advisers from the departments of their major subjects.

If required freshman courses are taken after the student begins his junior year, or if required sophomore courses are taken after he begins his senior year, only half credit is allowed. This does not apply to transfer students, provided they make up their deficiencies as soon as possible.

A student must carry fifteen semester hours of work in order to be regularly enrolled. He may carry more than seventeen semester hours of work only if his scholastic average for the preceding semester was C (1.0). In order to carry more than eighteen semester hours work his scholastic average for the preceding semester must be B (2.0). In no case can he receive credit for more than twenty semester hours in a semester.

There is a requirement that the full work of the last year must be in residence at this University. A maximum of two courses taken by correspondence through the Extension Division of this University is allowed during the last year.

In order to remain eligible to continue in residence in the College, a student must pass a minimum of nine semester hours of work in any one semester and a minimum of twenty-one semester hours of work in any two consecutive semesters. The Readmission Committee of the College will consider only those cases where students have failed because of circumstances clearly beyond their control but which are remediable at the time of application for readmission.

In circumstances where students, under conditions that made the securing of academic credit impossible, have gained a knowledge of the content of courses offered in the College, credit for such courses may be secured by special examination. Such an examination must be taken before the beginning of the last semester or full summer session of work toward a degree, and application for the examination must be approved by the department in which the course is offered and by the Office of the Dean of the College at least thirty days before the examination is taken. For students not in residence in the semester preceding their last one in residence, special provisions for application for the examination may be arranged by the Office of the Dean of the College.

It is the responsibility of each student in the College of Arts and Sciences to familiarize himself thoroughly with the regulations and requirements of the College. The departmental advisers and the staff of the Office of the Dean will gladly assist the student, but the responsibility for meeting the requirements of the College as they are stated in official publications rests with the individual student.

Military Science Credits

Students enrolled in the Air Force R. O. T. C. program or in the Naval R. O. T. C. program are required to carry nine semester hours of work above the minimum graduation requirements, leaving five semester courses of the military program which may replace courses in the non-military portion of the student's schedule. For students in the College of Arts and Sciences, the junior and senior military science courses may replace non-military science courses in the following patterns:

For Air Force R. O. T. C. students, four courses replace non-military science work, these four courses replacing two allied courses and two non-divisional courses. Such a student takes a minimum of 16 non-military science courses in the College.

For Naval R. O. T. C. students, three courses replace non-military science work, these courses being divided between allied electives and non-divisional electives. Such a student takes a minimum of 17 non-military science courses in the College.

Requirements for Degrees

The College of Arts and Sciences offers work leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts, to the degree Bachelor of Science, and to certain specialized and pre-professional degrees. The particular requirements for these degrees follow. For all degrees, an average of C and grades of C on at least eighteen semester hours of work in the major are required, and the particular pattern of courses required for the particular degree must be met.

Bachelor of Arts

To secure the degree of Bachelor of Arts the student must meet each of the following requirements.

(a) A minimum of 126 semester hours credit, including hygiene and physical education.

(b) A minimum of forty courses, twenty of which should be of junior and senior standing.

(c) An over-all average grade of at least C. (For the method of computing the C average, see page 106, section on Eligibility for Graduation.)

(d) A distribution of courses during the first two years that corresponds to that of the General College of the University, and a distribution of courses in the junior and senior years that meets the student's particular major pattern for the requirement that approximately one-third of his work be in one major department, one-third in allied courses, and one-third in non-divisional courses.

Allied courses are those which are offered by the departments of instruction which appear in the same division as the department of major interest. Non-divisional courses are those which are offered by the departments of instruction outside the division which lists the department of major interest.

(e) A satisfactory major. A student must meet the department's requirements for an undergraduate major, as they are listed in the Description of Courses of this catalogue. He must secure a grade of C or higher on 18 semester hours of work in his major. Grades lower than C will not be acceptable in the major for students transferring from other colleges. For transfer students the number of hours taken here in the major must carry grade of C or better in the same ratio as the number 18 is to the total number of semester hours required in the major. The work of some departments will be found in more than one division; courses in such departments, however, cannot be counted both as allied to the major and as non-divisional. A course that is listed in the major department and another department must count toward the major.

It is also understood that a student shall have the right to submit to the head of a division a program of his own, which may be at variance with the regular divisional arrangement, and, if it is approved by the Advisory Board of the division and the Administrative Board of the College, he may follow it toward the appropriate degree.

Information about the divisions and their offering toward the Bachelor of Arts degree follows:

THE DIVISION OF THE HUMANITIES

GLEN HAYDON, Ph.D., Chairman
 LYMAN COTTEN, Ph.D., Secretary

The departments of instruction included in the Division of the Humanities are as follows:

Art	History
The Classics	Journalism
Dramatic Art	Music
English	Philosophy
General and Comparative Literature	Radio
Germanic Languages	Religion
	Romance Languages

GENERAL STATEMENT

After a student has selected his department of major interest, that department must require of him a minimum of six whole semester courses, or the equivalent in whole and half courses, and may require a maximum of eight such courses. In the allied departments of the division the student must take at least five such semester courses and may take eight, distributed between at least two departments; not more than four of these divisional courses may be taken within one department. It is required that the student take from departments in the other divisions at least five and not more than seven whole semester courses, in all a sufficient number of courses to make a total of at least twenty whole semester courses over and above the full requirements of the General College. Special programs may be submitted by students.

PROGRAM FOR HONORS WORK

A student in one of the departments in the Division of the Humanities may, as the result of distinguished work, be awarded a degree with Honors or Highest Honors.

I. Application. At the end of the sophomore year or the beginning of the junior year the student with a good record for courses in the General College may become a candidate for honors by applying to the head of his major department, or to the chairman of the departmental committee on honors, with whom he will confer on a unified program of work. A student is required to show on his registration form the honors course the second term before he plans to be graduated. The student who fails to register with his departmental adviser for honors before the end of the final registration period which begins his senior year may be admitted to candidacy only upon application to the Advisory Board of the Division.

II. Requirements. The candidate for honors is expected to give evidence of ability to do work which in quality and quantity can be judged as outstanding. In addition to a good general knowledge of his major subject he must secure an intensive understanding of that special field which will form the background of his essay. To this end he should do, in term and in vacation, a large amount of reading additional to that assigned in his regular courses. (For reading courses see below, Part IV.) A grade average of B in the major subject will normally be considered as a minimum. The following are the formal requirements for a degree with honors in the division:

1. Written comprehensive examination.
2. Essay. This essay, which need not be a piece of original research, must be submitted in typed form by May 1 of the senior year.
3. Oral examination. This examination, one hour in length, will be limited to the student's special field.

All of the honors work must come up to a standard of excellence to be determined by the departmental committee, which shall have charge of the administration of the requirements, and shall have the power to demand that a student return to his regular status. The candidate showing a superlative degree of ability and industry will be awarded Highest Honors.

III. Adviser. To guide him in his reading and in the preparation of his essay a member of the staff of his major department will be assigned the candidate for honors as a special adviser.

IV. Exemption from Classroom Courses. The candidate for honors may receive credit for two reading courses. Such courses, with the exemption from class attendance and the requirements of regular courses, should usually be taken during his senior year, though the departmental committee, on the recommendation of the special adviser, will have power to modify such procedure. Only one of the reading courses may be taken during the junior year, not more than one of them may be taken during a single semester, and both of them must be counted as belonging to the major subject. The candidate who, upon his own initiative or the decision of the departmental committee, abandons working for honors, or who fails to satisfy all the formal requirements for a degree with honors, may receive, with the consent of the departmental committee, credit for the reading courses which he has completed.

PROGRAM FOR HONORS IN WRITING

A student in the Department of English, Dramatic Art, or Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures may work toward a degree with Honors in Writing. The purpose of the program is to encourage and assist able and promising students interested in writing, through stimulating association with others of like mind and through the help and guidance of several qualified advisers with varied points of view. This program is under the direction of a University committee on Honors in Writing.

Students are admitted to the program, on the basis of high academic standing and proven ability in writing, during their senior year, on application to the committee. Application should be made at the end of the junior year through the chairman of the department of the student's major.

Requirements for a degree with Honors in Writing:

1. High academic standing (at least a B average in the major), and completion of the normal program for the major in his department.
2. Successful completion of the honors course, which consists of writing a work of excellence in scope and quality under the direction of an adviser and in consultation with the committee. The committee is the final judge of the acceptability of the work for Honors in Writing.

The Honors course will run throughout the year, and carry a total credit of 3 semester hours (1½ each semester). It will be counted as an additional course in the major, but may not be substituted for any of the requirements in allied or non-divisional fields.

3. No other writing courses are specifically required, but the student will normally be expected to have taken during his junior year a course in the particular field of writing in which he specializes. During the senior year he may be advised to take a course in a field other than that of his specialty. The following are approved for this purpose: English 53, 54; Dramatic Art 155, 156; Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures 78, 79.

The student will work under the direction of the interdepartmental committee on Honors in Writing and will meet with the committee and the other honors candidates in regularly scheduled seminars. He will also have as his immediate adviser the representative of his major department on that committee.

THE DIVISION OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

GORDON WILLIAMS BLACKWELL, Ph.D., Chairman

CARL FRASER BROWN, Ph.D., Secretary

This division includes the following departments of instruction:

Economics	Philosophy	Psychology
Education	Physical Education	Sociology and
History	Political Science	Anthropology
Library Science

Psychology 24 and 25 may be counted only as a natural science.

Business Administration 71 (unless Economics 74 has been taken), 160 and 190 may be taken for credit, but all other courses in business administration carry no credit toward a degree offered by the College of Arts and Sciences, except in programs of majors in economics, psychology, and industrial relations. Only Education 41 and Education 71a of the courses given in the School of Education, and Library Science 122 and Library Science 123 of the courses given in the School of Library Science may be taken for credit in the College of Arts and Sciences.

GENERAL STATEMENT

This division requires the student to complete a minimum of six whole semester courses or the equivalent in whole and half courses in his chosen department of major interest. If, however, essential foundation courses in the major department have not been completed in the General College, a maximum of eight such courses may be required in that department. From five to seven courses in allied departments within the Division of the Social Sciences are required, and from departments in the other divisions at least five and not more than seven whole semester courses, in all a sufficient number of courses to make a total of at least twenty whole courses over and above the full requirements of the General College.

PROGRAM FOR HONORS WORK

The program for honors work in the Division of the Social Sciences is substantially the same as that in the Division of the Humanities.

THE DIVISION OF THE NATURAL SCIENCES

ARTHUR ROE, Ph.D., Chairman

HAROLD GRIER McCURDY, Ph.D., Secretary

The following departments of instruction are included in the division:

Botany	Mathematics	Psychology
Chemistry	Philosophy	Zoology
Geology	Physics

GENERAL STATEMENT

The general requirements in this division are as follows: from six to eight courses, or the equivalent, in the department of major interest; from five to seven courses in allied departments of the division; and from five to seven courses in departments in other divisions, not to exceed a total of twenty courses. The dean is authorized to make such adjustments as are necessary in order that a student with a major in science shall not have to take more than the standard number of hours for graduation.

Bachelor of Science

For those students whose interest is in the applied sciences and who wish to enter seriously upon the pursuit of the specialized knowledge and techniques of the sciences, the University offers several curricula leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science. Each of these provides for specialization in a particular science, accompanied by the necessary instruction in related fields of science and a minimal requirement of work in English, foreign language, and other non-scientific fields. These curricula are:

Bachelor of Science in Bacteriology
Bachelor of Science in Chemistry
Bachelor of Science in Geology
Bachelor of Science in Mathematics
Bachelor of Science in Physics

Requirements for these degrees are given in the headnotes to the Description of Courses of the departments concerned (beginning on page 191). In designing programs of study based on these departmental statements, students should also consult the statements for the various divisions, given in the preceding section of this general statement.

PROGRAM FOR HONORS WORK

The Program for Honors work in the Division of the Natural Sciences is substantially the same as that in the Division of the Humanities.

Special Programs

PREPARATION FOR THE STUDY OF LAW

Students preparing for the study of law may do so in one of the following ways: (1) they may take the regular four-year course leading to the A.B. degree, choosing subjects proper to their purpose; (2) they may take the special courses leading to the A.B.-LL.B.; (3) they may take three years of academic work without the bachelor's degree in view, but careful regard to meeting the exact requirements of the school they plan to enter.

Students who intend to matriculate in the School of Law of this University may plan their courses in such a way as to secure the A.B. and LL.B. degrees in six years instead of the seven years required for the two separately. For the A.B. they must complete, before matriculation in the School of Law, the courses outlined below in the General College and the College of Arts and Sciences, with an average of C or better, and, in addition, the first year of law to the satisfaction of the School of Law. The LL.B. degree is then secured by completing the remaining two years of law.

Students taking the academic subjects listed in the combined A.B.-LL.B. program are hereby notified that the completion of the required academic courses does not necessarily mean admission to the School of Law. If it is necessary to limit enrollment, preference will be given to applicants with superior records, considering both the quality and amount of pre-law work.

PREPARATION FOR THE STUDY OF MEDICINE OR OF DENTISTRY

Students preparing for the study of medicine or dentistry should spend as much time in securing a well-rounded cultural education as their age and financial resources permit. If possible they should take the regular four-year course leading to the bachelor's degree. If this is not practicable they may take the special course leading to the S.B. in Medicine or the S.B. in Dentistry, or they may take three years of academic work without the bachelor's degree in view, but with careful regard to meeting the specific requirements for admission to the medical or dental schools. In general it seems desirable for students who are preparing for medicine by taking courses leading to the bachelor's degree to select either chemistry or zoology as the major field of study, but the completion of a major in another department may still provide adequate preparation. In order to do this he should take courses in the premedical sciences in the first two years in the General College, namely Chemistry 11-12, 31 or 11-21; Physics 24-25 or Botany 41 and Zoology 41. In the College of Arts and Sciences he could then follow whatever his interests may direct and still complete adequate and necessary work in biology, chemistry, and physics prerequisite to the medical curriculum.

Because of the widening social and economic interests of the medical and dental professions, students preparing to enter either profession should take, in addition to the requirements in the sciences, as many courses as possible in history, literature, economics, philosophy, and psychology.

* English 32 or 33, or a music or art elective or Religion 28, may be substituted for English 31.

† At least one of these courses must be chosen from the physical sciences or mathematics.

Because there is not sufficient space in the medical and dental schools to admit all students who meet the quantitative standards, and because more than average intelligence and aptitude are required for the satisfactory completion of the medical or dental curriculum, the quality of the student's work is of the greatest importance. All students interested in the study of medicine or dentistry should attempt to stand in the highest third of their academic classes.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN MEDICINE OR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN DENTISTRY

The University recommends that each applicant for admission to its School of Medicine or to its School of Dentistry prepare himself as fully as his age and resources permit. If possible, he should secure a bachelor's degree before beginning his professional study. If this is impracticable, he may secure excellent preparation by completing the academic curriculum outlined below leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Medicine and Bachelor of Science in Dentistry. Each degree is conferred upon the satisfactory completion of the first year of work offered in the School of Medicine or the School of Dentistry.

NOTE: Students pursuing the academic subjects listed below are hereby notified that the completion of these courses does not necessarily mean admission to the School of Medicine or of Dentistry. From the rather long list of applicants are chosen those who are deemed the most promising material for admission to the schools. No arrangement exists for granting the degree of S.B. in Medicine or S.B. in Dentistry for work in any schools other than these. Therefore, in order to secure the S.B. in Medicine or S.B. in Dentistry, the student must complete the first year of work offered in the School of Medicine or of Dentistry, and in no other such school. To be eligible for either degree at least the last year of academic work must have been done in this institution.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

In order to meet the needs of the medical profession in North Carolina and to provide adequate training in medical technology for the young men and women of the state, the School of Medicine of the University of North Carolina offers jointly with the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of North Carolina two programs leading to the baccalaureate degree in medical technology.

The first of these programs, which has been in operation by the College of Arts and Sciences for a number of years, consists of a four-year collegiate curriculum followed by a year of practical experience and training in a hospital to qualify the student for an examination offered by the American Society of Medical Technology. The additional year of medical training does not necessarily have to be taken at the Memorial Hospital of the University of North Carolina, and the successful completion of the collegiate portion of the program does not guarantee admission to training in the hospital.

The following courses constitute the four-year academic program for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology:

*English (4 courses) .....	12 hours
†French, German, or Spanish 3-4, 21 .....	9 hours
Freshman social science (2 courses) .....	6 hours
Hygiene and physical education .....	6 hours
Freshman mathematics .....	6 hours
One elective in the humanities .....	3 hours
Physics 24-25 .....	8 hours
Chemistry 11-21, 43, 61; 146 or 44 or 62 or 64 .....	25, 26, or 27 hours
Botany 41 .....	4 hours
Zoology 41, 42, 105 .....	12 hours
Zoology 110 or Public Health 135 (Parasitology) .....	3 or 2½ hours
Bacteriology 132 .....	7 hours
Pathology 52 .....	3 hours
Elective (not science) .....	12 hours
Elective (free) .....	12 hours

At least 18 semester hours of grade C or higher are required from the following: chemistry courses numbered above 31, zoology courses numbered above 42, bacteriology and pathology courses.

NOTE: After the completion of this program, a year of practical experience and training in a hospital will be necessary before the student can qualify for the examinations offered by the American Society of Medical Technology.

A new program leading to a B.S. in Medical Technology, all portions of which must be taken in the University of North Carolina, designed to be completed in four calendar years, has recently been instituted at the University. In this program the student takes a prescribed curriculum for three years in the General College and the College of Arts and Sciences of the University. His fourth year consists of a twelve-months course in medical technology in the School of Medicine. Students who complete the first three years of this program are hereby notified that the completion of these courses does not necessarily mean admission to the twelve-month course in medical technology in the School of Medicine. Only the most promising applicants can be chosen to fill the limited number of vacancies in the medical technology course. The schedule of academic work for the first three years of this program follows;

FIRST YEAR

Chemistry 11-21 (or Chemistry 11-12, to be followed by 31 in second year)	French or German or Spanish 3-4
English 1-2	Social Science 1-2
Mathematics 7-8	Hygiene 11
	Physical Education 1, 2

SECOND YEAR

English 21	Chemistry 61
English 31 or 32 or 33 or Fine Art	Zoology 41- 42
French or German or Spanish 21	Humanities elective
Chemistry 43	Social Science elective

THIRD YEAR

Bacteriology 132	Zoology 110 or Public Health 135
Bacteriology 104	Two non-science electives
Biochemistry 101	Free elective
Zoology 105

FOURTH YEAR

Twelve-month course in medical technology in the School of Medicine of the University.

NOTE: Provision has not yet been definitely assured for this program for 1956-1957.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN PUBLIC HEALTH* AND BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN HEALTH EDUCATION

Foundation training for students interested in careers in public health is available through the School of Public Health in conjunction with the College of Arts and Sciences and with the School of Education.

Satisfactory completion of one of the above degrees prepares the student for certain positions in public health and for admission to graduate work leading to the Master of Science in Public Health or, after work experience, the Master of Public Health degree.

* After fall semester 1955-1956, this degree will be administered by the School of Public Health.

The program of work for the baccalaureate degrees consists, at the Upper Division, of a core of general public health courses, courses in a public health specialty, and related courses. Since the program varies with the degree—Bachelor of Science in Public Health or Bachelor of Science in Health Education—each individual's work must be planned with a faculty adviser in the department of the major. For further detail see the catalogue of the School of Public Health and the School of Education and address inquiries to the Dean of the School of Public Health.

For students in the General College who are planning to work toward either the Bachelor of Science in Public Health or the Bachelor of Science in Health Education the following are recommended:

Professional Program

The professional program designed to meet the certification requirements has been organized around three areas of study—The School, The Pupil, and Teaching (The Practicum). The content of the course, which of necessity cuts across these areas, has been organized to eliminate unnecessary duplication. The materials used and the activities engaged in through these courses offer a variety of individual and collective experiences. Schools are visited, classrooms are used for observation of student growth, teachers are interviewed for professional development, community activities are observed.

The following professional courses are listed in the catalogue for credit toward graduation:

Elementary Students:

- Ed. 41. INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDY OF EDUCATION (3). (The school, the pupil, and teaching).

his adviser. Completion of General College requirements (freshman and sophomore years) is a prerequisite to enrollment in the School of Education and to admission to courses in education designed to develop in the student the competencies needed for effective guidance and teaching of young children.

Men students may enter the University as freshmen. Their General College program should include, where possible, two courses in American history, two courses in geography (principles and regional), an introductory course in political science, and a course in music appreciation or a course in art appreciation. These courses can usually be worked into the program of the student in meeting General College requirements.

Women students may enter the University as juniors and go directly into the School of Education provided General College requirements have been met. Women who are planning to transfer to the University after two years at some other institution should plan their freshman and sophomore programs to meet General College requirements and to include the courses in history, geography, political science, art, and music mentioned above. Women admitted to the University with marked deficiencies in these courses and in General College requirements will find it necessary to take an extra term to meet graduation requirements and to complete courses needed for teacher certification in a particular state. The summer session before the junior and senior years as well as the summer following the senior year may be used for this purpose. Students who plan their program properly may transfer to the University after two years in some other recognized institution and complete the work in the regular four semesters of two academic years.

Specific courses for the junior and senior years are selected in consultation with an adviser in elementary education. Not all students will have the same courses during the same semester. Variations will occur because of differences in freshman and sophomore programs and because of individual needs of students. All students, however, must meet graduation requirements of the University and must include all courses required by the state of North Carolina for certification as a Class A teacher in the primary or grammar grades.

Elementary certification requires the following subject-matter credits. Many of these should be completed during the first and second year of the college program.

General Statement

The School of Journalism, founded as a department in 1924 and changed to School status in 1950, offers a two-year course leading to the A.B. in Journalism.

Students who have completed two years of liberal arts courses are admitted provided they have met the requirements of the General College and have a C average. Because of the nature of class and laboratory assignments, students should be able to type with reasonable skill, accuracy, and speed.

The School also offers a major in journalism, leading to the A.M. degree, in the Graduate School and a graduate minor for candidates for the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees in English, history, political science, psychology, and sociology. Graduate minors for students in other departments may be arranged after consultation with the department chairman and the Dean of the School of Journalism.

The academic program of the School of Journalism, including the two years of liberal arts required for admission, is designed to provide students with 1) a basic liberal education, 2) an understanding of the responsibilities of a free press in a democratic society, and 3) a fundamental knowledge of journalistic techniques.

Students are encouraged to acquire a background in the humanities, the social sciences, literature, and the natural sciences while preparing for journalism careers. The program of the School prepares students for editorial and advertising positions on newspapers and magazines, for radio and television news writing posts, and for a variety of positions in the broad field of mass communications.

The undergraduate professional program in the School of Journalism consists of eight courses in journalism (20 courses are currently offered), two in American or North Carolina history, two in political science, and one in economics plus electives selected to meet the requirements for the A.B. and the individual interests of the student.

Students planning to enter the School of Journalism are advised to meet the General College social science requirement by taking Social Science 1 and 2, and Political Science 41. Journalism staff members are available to advise pre-journalism students concerning elective courses in the General College. Students planning to transfer from other institutions are urged to note General College requirements and meet them in their institutions.

The School of Journalism Foundation of North Carolina, Inc., was established in 1949 to promote the advancement of professional education for journalism at the School of Journalism. Income from the Journalism Foundation endowment is expended for that purpose at the discretion of the dean.

Journalism and pre-journalism students interested in extra-curricular activities in line with their academic program are encouraged by the School of Journalism to work on The Daily Tar Heel, student newspaper.

For further information see course listings on pp. 286-288 and write to the Dean of the School of Journalism for the separate journalism bulletin.

North Carolina, not until 1919 was there established a comprehensive, well-organized business curriculum. In that year the General Assembly, in conformity with the recommendations of the President and the Board of Trustees, enacted the legislation which resulted in the organization of the School of Commerce. The name of the School was changed in 1950 to the School of Business Administration. The School occupies a place in the University organization coordinate with other professional schools and the College of Arts and Sciences.

The School was admitted to membership in the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business in 1923. This is an organization dedicated to the promotion of high standards in professional education for business. Membership is based on the number and caliber of the faculty; the thoroughness of the academic program offered; the content and breadth of the curriculum, both in general education and in business; the financial support of the school; and the physical facilities provided for carrying on the work. The undergraduate course of study, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, covers a period of four years and is designed to give a foundation of general education in the natural sciences, the humanities, and the social sciences, as well as to supply a professional background to those who intend to engage in business administration.

For those desiring work at a more advanced level in business administration, the degrees of Master of Business Administration, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy are offered through the Graduate School.

Purpose and Policy

The phenomenal industrial development of the South in recent years has produced an imperative need for trained businessmen. The School of Business Administration, in a large sense, is the expression of the University's desire to serve this need. Substantial support has been accorded the School by both the University and the state as a whole. The School has been provided with a well-qualified instructional staff. New quarters, consisting of a quadrangle of three buildings offering outstanding classroom and laboratory facilities, were occupied early in 1953.

The teaching policy of the School assumes that effective education for business responsibility should consist not only of development of understanding of the principles and methodology which govern the organization and administration of individual business enterprises, but also of an understanding of the problems and the larger relationships of the economy as a whole. In his attempt to master the more specialized aspects of business, the student is not permitted to lose sight of social and other cultural values. Instead, the curriculum in business administration is founded upon the realization that an effective career of business leadership must be based upon a broad cultural foundation. The exacting demands which face the modern business executive require that he possess more than a high degree of professional competence in technical and specialized aspects of business administration. He must also have a broad grasp of general business fundamentals and must have a full awareness of the economic, social and human forces which form the background against which his business career will be pursued. In short, the effective business executive must, first of all, be a responsible, informed, and perceptive citizen.

For these reasons, the various programs in business administration have been carefully formulated to maintain a balance between the equally important needs of general education and of professional education for business responsibility. Whenever possible, therefore, the plan is followed of presenting the subject matter of the various courses from the point of view of the administrator, always bearing in mind that his field of interest includes the broad external relationships as well as the internal administration of his business. Adherence to this point of view enables the student to consider the problems and practices of business in a broad perspective.

Programs leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration are carefully coordinated with the required two-year program of the General College, described on pages 119-20. The undergraduate programs in business administration place further emphasis upon intellectual breadth through requirements that each of the possible majors in business administration draw upon a background offered by the seven required "core" courses in fundamental business subjects and that they be supplemented by appropriate elective courses in areas other than business administration and economics.

The "core" courses which are required of all candidates for the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration are:

Economics 70	Statistics
Economics 81	Money and Banking
Business Administration 91	Business Law
Business Administration 130	Industrial Management
Business Administration 150	Personnel Relations
Business Administration 160	Marketing
Business Administration 180	Corporation Finance

These core courses, plus the required program in the General College during the freshman and sophomore years, described on pages 119-20, form the background for more intensive concentration in one of the majors in business administration. These majors include Accounting, Banking and Finance, Business Economics, Industrial Management, Insurance, Marketing, Personnel, Statistics, and Transportation and Traffic. Combined majors in Business Administration-Radio and Business Administration-Law are also offered. Specific details of requirements for each of these majors are presented in the catalogue of the School of Business Administration. In every case, in addition to advanced courses in his major and electives in business administration or economics, a student will be required to select certain free elective courses chosen from areas outside the School and designed to give educational breadth.

Department of Economics

The Department of Economics is administratively and educationally a part of the School of Business Administration and provides instruction as an integral part of the program of the School.

In addition, the Department offers, as is customary in other universities, undergraduate and graduate programs in economics in the College of Arts and Sciences and in the Graduate School, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy, for those students desiring to specialize in economics.

Reserve Officer Training Corps Program

Regularly organized units of the Air Force R. O. T. C. and Naval R. O. T. C. are maintained at the University. With careful planning, it is possible for a student to complete successfully the requirements of either of these programs coincident with an undergraduate curriculum in business administration in four academic years. More complete information is available in the catalogue of the School of Business Administration.

Special Students

Not infrequently persons already engaged in business careers feel the need of additional special training but are unable to spend a relatively long period at the University or cannot provide proper credits for admission as regular students. The School of Business Administration will admit as special students certain applicants who are twenty-one years of age or over. Such an applicant should submit a statement from his employer or former employers concerning the term, nature, and quality of his work. Self-employed persons should submit a resume of their business experience. A personal interview with the Dean or Assistant Dean is also recommended. Veterans who apply for admission as special students and who wish to qualify for assistance under one of the governmental educational programs must receive the specific approval of the Veterans' Administration. All special students are admitted on probation and are not candidates for degrees.

Stenography

No credit toward a degree is given for proficiency in stenography, but every student is urged to acquire facility in typewriting before graduation. A knowledge of shorthand is often valuable for persons entering the field of business after graduation from college.

Graduate Study

Professional education in business administration at the graduate level is offered for college graduates with undergraduate majors in business administration as well as for students who have been awarded undergraduate degrees in other fields. A student's initiative and analytical and creative powers are developed and tested to a degree impossible of attainment in the undergraduate years. Certain courses have been developed exclusively for graduate students; some, designed primarily for the encouragement and guidance of research activity, are conducted informally and on a basis of close personal contact between professor and student.

The School of Business Administration offers through the Graduate School the graduate degrees of Master of Business Administration, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy. The Department of Economics offers through the Graduate School the programs leading to the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy with a major in economics.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy may take a major in either business administration or economics and a minor in the other field.

Graduates of other institutions desiring to enter as candidates for advanced degrees should submit their records, together with application for admission, to the Dean of the Graduate School. For further details, see the catalogue of the Graduate School.

The Bureau of Business Services and Research

The Bureau of Business Services and Research is an agency of the School which cooperates with The Executive Program, the University Extension Division, private business firms, foundations, and trade associations in organizing and extending the services and facilities of the School of Business Administration to the business community of North Carolina.

Through a faculty advisory committee, the Bureau assists in forwarding the research objectives of the School. The Bureau also acts upon requests from North Carolina business and industry which seek assistance in the solution of business problems. It administers adult educational projects for business executives. These include short courses, institutes, and conferences held both on the campus in Chapel Hill and in towns and cities throughout the state. The Bureau acts as consultant for business firms and associations seeking to establish research and training programs. It organizes consultant services and schedules speakers from the staff of the School.

The section of this catalogue devoted to the Extension Division provides more detailed information on adult education projects conducted by the School. (See pages 383-393.)

The Executive Program

In the fall of 1953, the University established a new program of advanced study in business administration for men in management—The Executive Program. This program is designed for persons already carrying major executive responsibility. All areas are presented from the top management point of view to increase general effectiveness of executive performance. The over-all objective is the development of broad-gauge senior management personnel.

The program is not a series of self-contained units; instead, attention is devoted to cases and problems which involve several areas. The emphasis is upon (a) the development of an understanding of the problem of all divisions of the business, and (b) an approach to the solution of these problems from the top management point of view.

The program consists of a combination of eight alternate "week ends" and two one-week periods of full-time residence. Each applicant for admission should be nominated by his employer and sponsored by him. Admission is highly selective; successful business experience weighs heavily in the selection.

For further details regarding this program, write to: Willard J. Graham, Director, The Executive Program, School of Business Administration, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Library Facilities

In addition to the splendid facilities afforded by the general library of the University, the School of Business Administration is equipped with its own collection of more than 30,000 volumes. Housed in the newly constructed west wing of the Main Library, the Library of Business Administration and Economics offers extensive modern research facilities and a commodious reading room. Noteworthy are the special materials in the field of Industrial Relations, the collection of periodical publications in the various fields of business, and state and federal government publications. The Library of the School is a regular subscriber to 125 scholarly and trade journals. It also receives gift subscriptions to nearly 400 additional publications. Thirty special informational services are available, including such services as the Bureau of National Affairs, Standard and Poor's Corporation, Moody's, Fitch's, and Commerce Clearing House. A sizable annual appropriation assures that the collection will be well maintained and kept current.

A special librarian is in charge of the Library of Business Administration and Economics. The staff is prepared to aid students in the collection of materials for research work. Through cooperative relationships with other libraries in the state and nation, the Business Administration Library is able to assist in obtaining material which may not be currently available in the University. Special library privileges including access to the stack rooms and private carrels may be accorded graduate students.

Lectures, Observation Trips, and Clinics

Valuable supplementation to the regular curriculum is furnished by lectures by prominent businessmen and educators who are invited to the University for this purpose.

In addition to formal lectures, the School periodically arranges for business leaders to come to the University for informal discussion of current business problems in their respective fields to provide the student with a clearer understanding of actual business practice.

From time to time classes in business administration visit neighboring factories and other types of business firms to gain firsthand insight into business operations.

Endowments

In July, 1946, the Business Foundation of North Carolina, Inc., was established. Its articles of incorporation provided: "The objects and purposes for which the corporation is formed are to aid and promote, by financial assistance and otherwise, all types of education, service and research for business and industry at or through the School of Commerce and other departments of the University of North Carolina . . ." The substantial funds of the Business Foundation are a source of great potential strength for the School of Business Administration as grants to the School may enable it to command important additions to the staff and provide facilities for more effective business research in the region.

An endowment was received by the School in May, 1947, through the Business Foundation, when Mr. Ralph C. Price and Mrs. Kathleen Price Bryan established the Julian Price Professorship of Insurance as a memorial to their father. It is the purpose of the Julian Price

Endowment to provide funds for "instruction in any or all phases of life insurance." Provision was made, moreover, that any excess income "shall be applied to expenses of research in said School . . . or toward scholarships." The first holder of the Price professorship was named in 1948, and at the present time the insurance program is rapidly growing in importance as its contributions to the training of leaders in the insurance field proves its worth.

In October, 1951, the Business Foundation accepted a generous gift from the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company. The income from this endowment is to be made available annually to the Trustees of the University by the Foundation for support of instruction and research in the field of banking. Under this endowment a distinguished professorship, known as the Wachovia Professorship in Banking, has been established in the School.

At the annual meeting of the Business Foundation in November, 1951, the directors voted to recommend to the University's Board of Trustees the establishment of two additional distinguished professorships in the School of Business Administration. These are known as the Reynolds Professorship and the Burlington Professorship. The income from generous gifts of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company and of the Burlington Industries, Inc. to the Business Foundation is made available annually to support instructional and research work of the persons appointed to these professorships by the University. The current holder of the Reynolds Chair is in the field of Human Relations in Industry and that of the Burlington Chair in the field of Marketing.

The Reynolds Student Investment Trust

In October, 1952, Mr. Charles H. Babcock generously gave the University a sum of money to establish an investment trust to be managed by a Student Governing Board composed of selected students qualified to make sound investment decisions. In creating the trust, Mr. Babcock said, "It is hoped that the investment trust to be set up will serve as a useful teaching medium in Economics and Finance courses. It should bring additional realism and responsibility into the classroom, thereby being of practical benefit both to the student and the professor. The investment management problems presented should be a stimulus to investment thinking even though the student does not plan a career in banking or finance." One-half the income arising from the operation of the investment trust is to be donated to the Chapel Hill Community Chest and the other half added to the corpus of the fund.

Scholarships, Fellowships, and Assistantships

Two teaching fellowships in economics, each of a value of $1,350, are awarded annually by the Graduate School through the School of Business Administration. The recipients may be called upon to teach or to perform other duties not to exceed one-third of their time. Applications should be made before March 1 to the Dean of the Graduate School.

There are a number of Business Foundation Scholarships and Service Fellowships of varying amounts for M.B.A. candidates, application for which should be made to the Dean of the School of Business Administration before March 15.

The attention of entering freshmen is directed particularly to the Marvin B. Smith Scholarship for students in the School of Business Administration described on page 87.

Scholarship opportunities for students majoring in accounting and planning careers in public accounting are offered by the Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. Scholarship; the two scholarships of the North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants; all of which were established in 1953; the Williams Urquhart & Ficklin Scholarship, established in 1955; and the Strand, Skees, Jones and Company Scholarship, established in 1955. The North Carolina Accounting Faculty Scholarship, established in 1953, is available to students majoring in accounting. These are annual scholarships, each amounting to $300. Applications should be submitted to the Chairman of the Accounting Scholarship Committee as early as feasible but not later than June 15.

The Ernest H. Abernethy Fellowship in Southern Industry, of an annual value of $1,000 was established in 1944. This has recently been supplemented to a total amount of $1,250. The holder is required to do research in an industry of importance to the South and to prepare a thesis as a result of the study.

The General Electric Scholarship, of an annual value of $500, was made available to a junior majoring in accounting and/or finance in 1953.

The Westinghouse Achievement Scholarship, also for $500 per year, is available to a rising senior in Business Administration.

Two graduate research fellowships in motor transportation, valued at $1,000 each, and an undergraduate scholarship of $500, were made possible by a grant received from the Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., of Winston-Salem, North Carolina in 1955.

A scholarship amounting to $500 was made available by the Great Southern Trucking Company in 1955 to an undergraduate in the area of motor transportation.

A number of graduate and undergraduate assistantships are awarded each year. The recipients are expected to perform such tasks as grading papers and conducting laboratories.

Detailed information regarding all of these awards may be obtained from the Dean of the School of Business Administration.

Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma, recognized by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business as the national scholarship society in Commerce and Business, maintains a chapter, Alpha of North Carolina, at the University. Those students who rank scholastically in the highest 10 per cent of the senior class and the highest 3 per cent of the junior class may be considered for membership in this organization, although the number selected is generally less than indicated by the foregoing figures.

Admission

For requirements for admission to the School of Business Administration, see page 62. For the curriculum offered in the first two years while the student is formally enrolled in the General College, see pages 119-20.

Courses and Curricula Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Bachelor of Arts in Economics

A description of courses offered by the School of Business Administration and Department of Economics is given in Part IV of this catalogue. A list of the core courses required of all degree candidates in Business Administration is shown on page 156. The several curricula which lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration are described in detail in a separate catalogue of the School of Business Administration, which may be obtained by addressing a request to the Dean.

General Statement

The Graduate School offers opportunity for further and advanced study by those who have already completed a college course, in the fostering of research, in training students to become investigators and teachers in special fields of learning, and in the application of research methods to the problems of society, government, and industry. The University of North Carolina has been interested in research for more than a century and has made contributions in science, the social sciences, and the languages. Through its research clubs and learned journals, as well as through publications and other contributions to learning made by members of its faculty, the University has acquired the authority to give advanced instruction. For this it is competent from the standpoint both of the personnel of its faculty and of the material equipment in libraries and laboratories.

Instruction leading to the master's degree was offered at this institution previous to the American Civil War, and such higher degrees were granted in course. Formal action with high standards in requirements was taken in 1876 to establish a system of graduate, as distinct from undergraduate, instruction. The first doctor's degree was awarded in 1883. A Graduate Bulletin, issued in 1885, showed that nearly all departments offered advanced courses. The number of students during those years was small, but the work accomplished in both the humanities and the sciences was of distinguished quality. Given distinct status in 1903 and the leadership of a dean, the Graduate School has experienced steady and, since 1920, rapid growth.

The institution is a member of the Association of American Universities. The Graduate School annually publishes a bulletin, entitled Research in Progress, which records analytically the scholarly contributions of the faculty and graduate students. The School operates the Bureau of Appointments, which supplies facilities for placement.

Work for advanced degrees is under the supervision of the graduate faculty. Under authority delegated by the graduate faculty, the immediate direction of the Graduate School is in the charge of an Administrative Board, of which the Dean is chairman. Special requirements and regulations made by this board are outlined in the catalogue of the Graduate School, which is published annually and is the official publication of the Graduate School.

Curricula and Degrees

The degrees under the supervision of the graduate faculty are the Master of Arts (A.M.), Master of Science (S.M.), and Doctor of Philosophy. Degrees of Master of Arts or Master of Science are offered in the fields of anthropology, art, bacteriology and immunology, biochemistry, botany, chemistry, classics, comparative literature, dramatic art, economics and business administration, education and physical education, English, geology and geography, Germanic languages, history, journalism, mathematics, music, oral surgery, orthodontics, pedodontics, pharmacology, pharmacy, philosophy, physics, physiology, political science, psychology, Romance languages, social work, sociology and rural sociology (including recreation), statistics, and zoology, and in the special curricula in comparative linguistics, folklore, industrial relations, and personnel administration. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is offered in the fields of anthropology, bacteriology, biochemistry, botany, chemistry, classics, comparative literature, economics and business administration, education, English, geology and geography, Germanic languages, history, mathematics, music, pharmacy, philosophy, physics, physiology, political science, psychology, public health, Romance languages, sociology, statistics, and zoology, and in the curricula in comparative linguistics and industrial relations. Minor programs for the doctorate may be obtained in the curricula in folklore and personnel administration.

Professional graduate degrees are offered in art (Master of Arts in Creative Art), communication (Master of Arts in Communication), dentistry (Master of Science in Pedodontics, Master of Science in Oral Surgery, and Master of Science in Orthodontics), education (Master of Education and Doctor of Education), library science (Master of School Librarianship and Master of Science in Library Science), music (Master of Music), nursing (Master of Science in Nursing), public health (Master of Science in Public Health, Master of Public Health, Master of Science in Sanitary Engineering, and Doctor of Public Health), recreation administration in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology (Master of Science in Recreation Administration), regional planning (Master of Regional Planning), and social work (Master of Social Work).

The Curriculum in Comparative Linguistics

The Administrative Committee: The Dean, Chairman; Professor Eliason, Secretary; Professors Gaskin, Holmes, Keller, Lane, Linker, and Ullman.

In this curriculum the facilities available within the University for the study of comparative linguistics and philology are organized. It is possible for students to submit programs of study in this subject leading to the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. It is also possible for those with majors in language to secure a minor in comparative linguistics.

The Curriculum in Folklore

Administrative Committee: The Dean, Chairman; Professor Hudson, Secretary; Professors Gillin, Holmes, Keller, Johnson, Schinhan, and Stoudemire.

The facilities of the University available in the Departments of English, Germanic Languages, Music, Romance Languages, and Sociology and Anthropology have been mobilized in the interest of students who desire to undertake a major or a minor in folklore. A candidate for the A.M. degree may secure a major and a candidate for the Ph.D. degree may secure a minor in that subject.

The Curriculum in Industrial Relations

Administrative Committee: The Dean, Chairman; Professor H. D. Wolf, Director; Professors Adkins, Blackwell, Calhoun, Green, A. K. King, and Wager.

This curriculum is based on the concept of industrial relations as an area in itself. It is selected from the course offerings of the School of Law and the School of Business Administration, and from the Departments of Economics, Sociology, Political Science, Psychology, and Education. The graduate major leading to the degrees of Master of Science in Industrial Relations and Doctor of Philosophy is in the area of industrial relations rather than in a single department. Definite areas of specialization within the several departments, however, may be selected for concentrated study. When pertinent to the individual graduate program, the minor may be selected from more than one department. In all instances a common content of essential courses selected from the offerings of the several departments is required.

The Curriculum in Personnel Administration

Administrative Committee: The Dean, Chairman; Professor Wager, Secretary; Professors Adkins, G. G. Ellis, A. K. King, Jocher, and H. D. Wolf.

This curriculum mobilizes the instructional resources having relation to personnel administration which have developed in the Departments of Economics and Business Administration, Education, Political Science, Psychology, Social Work, and Sociology. Opportunities are afforded qualified students to select programs of study which cut across departmental lines. Students may also choose definite areas of specialization within the respective departments which provide programs of concentrated study.

Summary of Requirements For Professional Degrees

Requirements for professional graduate degrees, under the supervision of the Graduate Faculty, are described in the Graduate Catalogue and in some special catalogues of Schools and Departments concerned. Since these requirements differ in some respects from those summarized above, the special catalogues for the following should be consulted: School of Business Administration, Department of City and Regional Planning, School of Dentistry, School of Education, School of Library Science, School of Nursing, School of Public Health, School of Social Work, and the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures.

Catalogue of The Graduate School

For information concerning the graduate faculty, fields of research, fellowships and other aids, expenses and tuition, and for regulations governing courses of study, credits, admissions, examinations and higher degrees, references must be made to the special catalogue of the Graduate School.

General Statement

The School of Law, now in its one hundred and eleventh year and with a regular faculty of eleven plus six lecturers, offers a three-year course leading toward the degrees of LL.B. and J.D. It is on the approved lists of the North Carolina Board of Law Examiners, of the Regents of the State of New York, and the American Bar Association. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools.

While greater emphasis is placed upon North Carolina decisions, statutes, and practices than upon those of other states, legal materials are studied as a part of the Anglo-American common-law system. Thus the school prepares its students for practice in other states as well as in North Carolina.

Candidates for admission to the School of Law must have completed, with a C average, a minimum of three years of work acceptable toward a baccalaureate degree at an approved college or university. If this work has followed the combined degree program offered by the College of Arts and Sciences or by the School of Business Administration of this University, the student may receive the bachelor's degree in Arts or in Business Administration, as the case may be, upon the satisfactory completion of the first year in law. Though, as indicated above, students may be admitted to the School of Law on the completion of a minimum of three years of college work, the School recommends completion of the work for a degree before entering upon the study of law.

Applicants are also required to take and receive a minimum score on the Law School Admission Test. Details may be found in the Law School catalogue.

Beginning students are admitted to the fall semester or to the Summer School, but not to spring semester.

The curriculum covers a period of six semesters.

The School of Law is located in Manning Hall. The Law Library, in the charge of two trained law librarians and a staff of assistants, now exceeds 75,000 volumes.

The students of the School of Law are regularly enrolled in the University, enjoy all the educational privileges of University students, and are amenable to all general University regulations and to the special regulations of the School.

The summer session of the School of Law offers opportunities for students to supplement the work of the regular year by additional courses, some of which are not otherwise available, or to shorten the calendar period of study for the law degree. The summer faculty normally includes as visiting professors distinguished law teachers from other universities.

Opportunities for individual work are afforded to especially qualified students through membership on the student editorial staff of the North Carolina Law Review.

For further information, write to the Dean of the School of Law for the separate bulletin of that school.

Historical Background

The School of Medicine was established in 1879 under the direction of Dr. Thomas W. Harris. A course in theoretical and practical medicine was offered under the preceptorial system, but the plan was found impracticable and was abandoned in 1886. In 1890, a more orderly and logical arrangement of the subjects in the medical course having developed, it became possible for an institution without clinical facilities to offer instruction in the preclinical subjects, and the school was reopened with Dr. Richard H. Whitehead as Dean and Professor of Anatomy. Under his guidance it soon won recognition for thoroughness of instruction and excellence in scholarship and has since continued without interruption to its growth. At first the course covered only one year, but in 1896, the medical course having been extended in the better class schools to four years, a two-year course was inaugurated. In 1900, the School of Medicine was incorporated as an integral part of the University and was reorganized to meet the requirements of the first two years of the full four-year course leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine. In 1902, it was expanded into a four-year school, and the clinical subjects of the third and fourth years were offered in Raleigh under the direction of Hubert A. Royster as dean. After a few years of successful operation this plan had to be abandoned in 1910 for lack of financial support, and the clinical years were discontinued. The expansion now nearing completion provides again for instruction in the clinical years, this time on the campus at Chapel Hill. With the opening of the fall session in 1952 a junior class was admitted. In the fall of 1953 four classes were in training and the first class graduated in 1954. The School has received the approval of the Association of American Medical Colleges and of the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

Preparation For Medicine and Requirements For Admission

Students preparing for the study of medicine should secure a broad cultural education. Specific requirements for admission to the School of Medicine must be met but emphasis is placed on the attainment of a liberal education leading to the completion of a four-year course and a B.A. or B.S. degree. Alternate plans which are less desirable are a special course leading to the B.S. degree in Medicine and a three-year plan of academic work without regard to the Bachelor's degree. If the latter plan is chosen, careful regard should be given to meeting the requirements for admission to the School of Medicine.

It is because of the widening social and economic responsibilities of medicine that students in preparing for this profession should take as many courses as possible in the humanities, arts and social sciences. Students are encouraged to select their majors freely in accord with their desires and interests but with the general effort to gain a broad background in fields other than the sciences related to the study of medicine.

Three years of accredited college work (96 semester hours or 144 quarter hours). This period of study should include as minimum: 8 or more semester hours (12 or more quarter hours) of inorganic chemistry; 8 semester hours (12 or more quarter hours) of organic chemistry; 8 semester hours (12 or more quarter hours) of biology; 8 semester hours (12 or more quarter hours) of physics (which must have required trigonometry as prerequisite); English—such knowledge as is ordinarily required of a candidate for a degree in college, usually courses required of freshmen and sophomores—12 or more semester hours (20 or more quarter hours); foreign language—such knowledge as is ordinarily required of a candidate for a degree in college (a minimum of three courses for college credit, or 9 semester hours).

There is not sufficient space in the medical schools to admit all students who meet the quantitative standards. For this reason, and because it requires more than average intelligence and aptitude to complete satisfactorily the medical curriculum, the quality of the student's undergraduate work is of the greatest importance. All students interested in the study of medicine should attempt to stand in the upper third of their academic classes.

While a high grade of scholarship is probably the best criterion for predicting achievement in medical school, the personal qualifications of applicants are of the highest importance. Moral character is the most important prerequisite for entering the medical profession. No school wishes to train prospective physicians who lack ethical standards or a sense of social responsibility.

All admissions are decided by the Dean and a special committee on admission, after approval of credentials by the Director of Admissions. The Dean and the committee reserve the right to select from the entire list of approved applicants those who in their judgment are best qualified for the study of medicine.

Medical Curriculum

The course in medicine embodies a four-year curriculum. The catalogue of the School of Medicine provides a description of the courses.

Special Students

In addition to teaching medical students and graduate physicians various departments in the Medical School offer instruction to students in related professional schools and the Graduate School. Students interested in such instruction should consult the head of the department concerned.

For further information, please write to the Dean of the School of Medicine for the special catalogue of the School.

General Statement

Instruction in pharmacy was offered at the University in the School of Medicine and Pharmacy from 1880 to 1886 and 1890 to 1894, but very few students elected the course. Finally, in March, 1897, in response to urgent requests made by the pharmacists of the state, the present school was established, and Edward Vernon Howell was appointed Professor of Pharmacy and Dean.

The School in 1925 obtained exclusive use of its present building, Howell Hall of Pharmacy. This building contains 35 rooms and 22,000 square feet of floor space.

The minimal offerings of the School are based on four years of study which lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy (S.B. in Phar.).

The School was admitted to membership in the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy in 1917. This organization was formed for the promotion of thorough scientific work in the profession of pharmacy. It maintains high standards for membership based on the number and training of the faculty, the thoroughness of the work offered, the quality of the curriculum, the number of students, the financial support of the school, and the facilities for carrying on the work.

The School of Pharmacy of the University of North Carolina is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education as a Class A school. The School is fully accredited by all state examining boards.

Freshmen are admitted by certificate from accredited schools or by examination. Candidates for admission as transfer students must have credit for the academic courses in the first-year curriculum in the School of Pharmacy, substituting credit in Zoology 41 for Pharmacy 1, Pharmacy 10, and Pharmacy 15. Each application for admission must be approved by the Director of Admissions of the University before the application can be considered by the Committee on Admissions of the School of Pharmacy. Applicants should appear at the School of Pharmacy for interviews with the Dean. Applications should be filed as early as possible, preferably in the period between February 1 and March 1. The fall semester, beginning in September, is the only period for which beginning and transfer students are accepted.

A student who has completed one or more years of accredited work in a recognized school of pharmacy and submits satisfactory evidence of having completed the entrance requirements and courses equivalent to those prescribed in the curriculum required for the degree of S.B. in Pharmacy may be admitted with advanced standing and proceed for this degree. The minimum requirement of residence for a degree is a period of two semesters within the period of twelve months. A full year's work comprising at least thirty semester hours must be completed by a transferring student. Beginning January 1, 1938, the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy has required of its member colleges that students transferring from a non-pharmaceutical college must spend a minimum of three years in a standard college of pharmacy in order to be graduated with a degree of S.B. in Pharmacy.

The School of Pharmacy is compelled by its physical facilities to limit the number of beginning and transfer students.

The School of Pharmacy recognizes that its graduates may elect to pursue one or another of related but definitely different forms of pharmaceutical practice and has provided such specialized training.

Graduate degrees offered in the School of Pharmacy are administered by the Graduate School of the University of North Carolina. These degrees are Master of Science (S.M.) and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.). The three majors available are pharmacy, pharmaceutical chemistry, and pharmacognosy.

For further information, please write to the Dean of the School of Pharmacy for the special catalogue of the School.

General Statement

The School of Public Health is the fourth oldest professional school of its kind in the United States and one of ten North American schools accredited by the American Public Health Association. It is a member school of the University's Division of Health Affairs, which is the focal training and service point for an integrated statewide health program.

The special disciplines of public health are biostatistics, epidemiology, public health administration, health education, public health nursing, sanitary engineering, maternal and child health, parasitology, community nutrition, and mental health. Preparation of students in these special disciplines and in the subject areas basic to public health—physical, biological, and social sciences—is a major objective of the School. The final goal of instruction is the production of interdisciplinary public health teams—skilled in working together as a team and with the community for the solution of community health problems and for the long-term goal of total community health.

Toward this end many communities of the state and their agencies assist as field centers and laboratories for student-faculty teams from the professional school. For longer periods of field experience, training units have been established in twenty-nine city, county, and district health departments in North Carolina and thirteen other states.

The School of Public Health also enjoys the active cooperation of the State Board of Health at Raleigh. Members of that staff give lectures and exercises in their special fields, and students have an opportunity to observe and study at first hand the practice, methods, and materials of an efficient state level health organization. Relationships are maintained too with the Institute of Statistics at North Carolina State College in Raleigh, with Duke University and Duke Hospital in Durham, and with Watts Hospital in Durham. The staffs of the U. S. Public Health Service, the Children's Bureau, and other agencies of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare participate in the teaching program of the School of Public Health through lectures, discussions, consultations, and research.

In addition to its academic responsibilities, represented by departments for each of the disciplines mentioned above, the School of Public Health has two other major functions: research and service to the state and region. Research is conducted by all departments and intensively by the non-academic Department of Experimental Medicine. Similarly, all departments render field service to the state.

Graduate degrees offered by the School of Public Health are the Master of Science (S.M.), Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.), and the following professional graduate degrees: Master of Science in Public Health (M.S.P.H.), Master of Public Health (M.P.H.), Doctor of Public Health (Dr.P.H.), and Master of Science in Sanitary Engineering (M.S.S.E.). All requirements concerning these degrees are administered by the faculty of the School of Public Health with the approval of the Administrative Board of the Graduate School.

An undergraduate degree, Bachelor of Science in Public Health Nursing (B.S.P.H.N.), is awarded to graduate nurses who comply with all requirements of the public health nursing course and who have had the required years and courses in college. There are also a four-year program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Public Health (B.S.P.H.) and a four-year program developed cooperatively with the School of Education for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Health Education (B.S. in H.E.). The first two degrees are administered by the College of Arts and Sciences, the third, by the School of Education.*

The School of Public Health administers the Certificate in Public Health (C.P.H.) and Certificate in Public Health Nursing (C.P.H.N.).

For more detailed information concerning preparation and admission requirements and proposed curricula leading to degrees, see the special catalogue of the School of Public Health.

General Statement

While the North Carolina Dental Society had given considerable thought to the organization of a School of Dentistry even as early as 1921 in the appointment of the first Dental College Committee, it was not until 1947 that a basic dental survey of North Carolina was authorized by the Society. The General Assembly of 1949, having studied the findings and recommendations of the survey, appropriated funds for the establishment of a School of Dentistry.

The new building of the School of Dentistry is an integral part of the total building program of the Division of Health Affairs, including the new Memorial Hospital, Tuberculosis Hospital, wings to the School of Medicine for the teaching of the basic sciences, School of Nursing, and the intern and resident quarters.

Dentistry in North Carolina has been given a signal opportunity to make a contribution to the health sciences in its close working relationship with the Schools of the Division of Health Affairs and the Memorial Hospital. Students of dentistry and medicine will attend comparable basic science courses, and they will be required to meet equally high academic standards in all areas.

Each class will be limited to fifty students. Priority in selection of students will be given to residents of North Carolina, and secondly, to residents of the Southeastern states.

A two- and a four-year curriculum for the training of dental hygienists was activated in the fall of 1953. Girls who have graduated from high school are permitted to enter this program for training. The two-year curriculum will lead to certification, while the four-year curriculum will lead to a bachelor's degree.

Preparation for Study of Dentistry and Requirements for Admission

Students preparing for the study of dentistry should spend as much time securing a well-rounded cultural education as their age and financial resources permit. If possible they should complete the regular four-year course leading to the A.B. or S.B. degree. If this is impracticable they may take the special course leading to the S.B. in Dentistry, or they may take three years of academic work without the bachelor's degree in view, but with careful regard to meeting the specific requirements for admission to the School of Dentistry.

Requirements for Admission

Three years of accredited college work (96 semester hours) are required for admission. This period of study should include eight or more semester hours of inorganic chemistry; a course in qualitative and in quantitative analysis; eight semester hours of organic chemistry; eight semester hours of biology; eight semester hours of physics (which must have required trigonometry as a prerequisite); and English—such knowledge as is ordinarily required of candidates for a degree in an approved college (usually the courses required of freshmen and sophomores).* In addition, courses in volumetric quantitative analysis, comparative anatomy, vertebrate embryology, and modern physics are recommended.

Because of the widening social economic interests of the dental profession, students preparing to enter it should take, in addition to the requirements in the sciences, as many courses as possible in social science, history, literature, economics, philosophy, and psychology.

There are not sufficient facilities in the dental schools of the country to admit all students who meet the quantitative standards. For this reason, and because it requires more than average intelligence and aptitude to complete satisfactorily the dental curriculum, the quality of the student's undergraduate work is of the greatest importance.

National Aptitude Test

All prospective students must complete the National Aptitude Test, given by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association, before they will be considered for admission to the School of Dentistry. This test will be given in Chapel Hill and at centers in other states at designated intervals. Additional information regarding the test may be secured when application for admission to the School of Dentistry has been completed.

Personal Qualifications

While a high grade of scholarship and digital dexterity are probably the best criteria for predicting achievement in dental school the personal qualifications of applicants are of the highest importance. Moral character is the most important prerequisite for entering the dental profession. No school wishes to train prospective dentists who lack either ethical standards or a sense of social responsibility.

* While a modern foreign language is recommended, it is not a requirement for admission to the School of Dentistry. However, all high school deficiencies must be satisfied as they pertain to admission to the University.

Dental Curriculum

The course in dentistry embodies a four-year curriculum following admission to the School of Dentistry. The catalogue of the School of Dentistry provides a description of the courses and other details pertaining to the study of dentistry.

Dental Hygiene Curriculum

A two-year curriculum leading toward a certificate and a four-year curriculum leading toward the degree of B.S. in Dental Hygiene are offered. The regular School of Dentistry catalogue gives complete information regarding curriculum, costs, and other items of information. This catalogue may be secured by writing to the Director of Dental Hygiene, School of Dentistry.

General Statement

The School of Nursing offers a four-year curriculum leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing. The program of studies is designed to provide well-organized learning experiences leading to the graduation of students who have acquired the necessary knowledges, skills, attitudes, and appreciations to function effectively in beginning positions of the profession, including public health nursing.

The program of studies covers two academic and two calendar years. Courses are planned to include the social, biological, and physical sciences, the humanities and nursing. Provisions are made for students to receive selected learning experiences in the hospitals, clinics and a variety of institutions and agencies in the state. Through these planned experiences students acquire the understandings essential to maintenance of health, prevention of disease and the care of those who are sick.

The School of Nursing also provides opportunity for graduates of diploma programs to receive comparable preparation. The length of this program is determined on an individual basis, depending in

General Statement

The School of Social Work has developed from an earlier School of Public Welfare which was established in 1920 in accordance with the University's policy of meeting the varying needs of the state and the Southern region. In 1931 the School of Public Administration enlarged and extended the program for the training of qualified persons for public positions. An essential division within that school was the Division of Public Welfare and Social Work. In 1936 the Division of Public Welfare and Social Work became a Division of the Graduate School and in 1950, by action of the Board of Trustees, it was named the School of Social Work. The School of Social Work is an accredited member of the Council on Social Work Education.

Its program for the training of psychiatric social workers is approved by the American Association of Psychiatric Social Workers.

The School of Social Work consistently has emphasized sound training for the operation of the social services, whether those services are under public or private auspices. However, by reason of the nature of many of the problems in non-urban areas, there has been special reference to the unique opportunities for training workers for services in those areas.

Opportunity is offered for concentration, in the second year of the master's program, in public assistance, child welfare (including foster care, adoption and institutions), family counseling, psychiatric social work, medical social work, and the correctional services such as casework in prison, and courts. Training in social agency administration is available as well as for community welfare organization and social welfare research.

The work offered leads to the degree Master of Social Work. The applicant must have received a bachelor's degree from a college or university of recognized standing, with eighteen semester hours in the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, psychology, and sociology, at least six semester hours of which must be in advanced courses in one of these fields.

The Master of Social Work degree is based upon a two year program, consisting of two semesters of the first year followed by the second term of summer school and the fall and spring semesters. Admission to the first year is in September, while the second year program begins in mid-July and is completed the following June. There is a period of supervised field work in each year of the program.

The School of Social Work is located in Alumni Building.

The students in the School of Social Work are regularly enrolled in the University and are amenable to all general University regulations and to the special regulations of the School.

For further information, please write to the Dean of the School of Social Work for the separate bulletin of that School.

General Statement

The School of Library Science opened in September, 1931, as a unit of the University of North Carolina. Made possible by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation, it is the culmination of a series of library science courses offered in the summer and regular terms since 1904. The School is accredited by the American Library Association and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Quarters for the School, comprising rooms for laboratory work, lectures, and seminars, a stack area for the School's library, and offices for the teaching and administrative staff, cover the entire top floor of the west wing of the University Library.

The town school system maintains a high school library and an elementary school library available for observation. Within driving distance of from thirty minutes to two hours are the State Library; the Library Commission headquarters; the school and public library systems of Durham, Raleigh, and Greensboro; and the libraries of Duke University, The North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

The School offers four programs: an eighteen-semester-hour undergraduate program for students interested in preparing for positions as teachers and librarians in the smaller public schools; a basic one-year program for college graduates preparing for beginning positions; and two masters' programs, one for public school librarians and one for work in any type of library.

Applicants may enter the School at the beginning of any term, but the beginning of the summer session or fall semester is recommended in order to insure a full program of work. Some courses have prerequisites which cannot be taken unless the curriculum is begun at one of these times.

A bachelor's degree from an approved college or university is required for admission to all of the programs leading to a degree. A reading knowledge of modern languages is essential to satisfactory work in many types of libraries and very desirable in others. Latin is important as a basis for other languages.

Eighteen semester hours in an approved library science program is a prerequisite for admission to the programs for the degrees of Master of School Librarianship and Master of Science in Library Science.

A minimum residence of two semesters in the University of North Carolina is required for any degree. Students who are admitted with advanced standing in library science must complete in the School or in another division of this institution an equivalent number of courses approved by the Dean. All work credited toward a degree must be completed within a period of six years.

The courses of the regular session are repeated in the summer session. The same requirements apply as in the regular session.

The present demand for professional librarians is unusually great. Requests are received almost daily from various types of libraries in this country and overseas for recommendations for all sorts of positions. Although the School cannot guarantee positions for its graduates it assists them not only in securing their first positions, but in advancing to other positions later.

Application for admission to the School for either the regular session or the summer session should be made as far in advance as possible of the session to be attended. Application should be made on forms which are secured from the Admissions Officer, School of Library Science, The University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

For further information regarding the undergraduate courses see Department of Library Science, Part IV; for the graduate courses see the special catalogue of the School.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

In this section are listed and described all courses offered in the regular sessions of the University except those in the professional schools of Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health, Library Science, and Social Work. For courses in these schools see the special bulletins.

The requirements for majors are shown, after the faculty lists, in connection with the materials concerning the various departments.

The work of the University, except in the Schools of Medicine and Dentistry, is arranged and offered on the semester system, the regular session being divided into two approximately equal parts called the fall and spring semesters. The summer session is divided into two terms.

Work is valued and credited toward degrees by semester hours, one such hour being allowed for each class meeting a week for a semester, laboratory or field work counting one hour for each two hours of work in laboratory or field, and work in studio (art) counting one hour for each three hours. In the following announcements of courses the numbers in parentheses following the descriptive titles show the credits allowed in semester hours. Except in the case of courses meeting regularly three times a week, the number of actual hours a course meets will be found in the description of the course. The meetings of a few advanced courses, however, are arranged by the professor in charge.

In the event that required freshman subjects are taken after a student begins his junior year or required sophomore subjects after he begins his senior year, such subjects carry half credit only.

Courses numbered from 1 through 99 are for undergraduates only; those numbered from 100 through 199 are for advanced undergraduates and graduates; those numbered from 200 to 400 are for graduates only. Courses in chemistry for undergraduates are grouped by decades under the headings inorganic, analytical, organic, etc. Undergraduates may not take courses numbered above 200 except by special permission of the instructor in the course and the chairman of the department. Permission must also be secured from the Dean of the Graduate School and the dean of the college involved. Courses numbered from 1 to 100 carry no credit toward any advanced degree.

General Information

The Air Force R. O. T. C. unit constitutes a regular department of instruction within the University. It is known as the Department of Air Science. Academic credits toward degrees are allowed, as in other departments.

Air Force Commissions

Cadets successfully completing the requirements for a degree and the Air Force R. O. T. C. course of instruction are commissioned Second Lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve. All who are commissioned, with the exception of Veterans, are then called to active duty. After one year of active duty, they may apply and compete for Commissions in the Regular Air Force.

Emoluments

Advanced students (third and fourth year) are allowed a monetary allowance in lieu of rations which amounts to a total of approximately $525.00. This is in addition to uniforms, books, and training equipment, all of which are furnished the students at government expense. For attendance at summer camp students receive in addition approximately $105.00.

Course of Instruction

Air Force R. O. T. C. is divided into two phases, the basic course during the freshman and sophomore years, and the advanced course during the junior and senior years. Qualifications for admission to the basic phase are not difficult to meet. However, admission to the advanced phase is by selection. Standards are high and cadets with the better academic and leadership records who are qualified to fly, and desire to fly, are given first consideration. The generalized curriculum is designed to train junior officers for the Air Force. Graduates of the program may undertake specialized training after they have been called to active duty.

Basic Course

Male students in the freshman class who are physically qualified, American citizens, and not yet 24 years of age, may take the basic courses in Air Science as a requirement toward graduation. Credit may be allowed for six months or more of honorable service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard.

Advanced Course

The advanced course consists of two years of instruction and a summer camp which will normally come between the first and second years of the advanced course, i.e., between the junior and senior years. A student must have completed the basic course, or have had twenty-four months honorable active service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard to be eligible for enrollment in the advanced course and must:

- a. not have reached 26 years of age at the time of initial enrollment;
- b. be physically fit as evidenced by a physical examination;
- c. successfully accomplish an Officer Qualification Test;
- d. have at least four academic semesters to complete before graduation;
- e. be pursuing a normal four-year course with the intention of securing a degree;
- f. sign an agreement (contract) in writing to complete the course;
- g. be in good academic standing with the University.

Academic Credits

Cadets who successfully complete the Air Science courses are granted 24 semester hours credit. This credit may be substituted for five of the courses required for the degree as follows: one elective course in the General College and four elective courses in the upper colleges.

Cadets are advised to consult their advisers and deans or department heads concerning appropriate substitutions.

Grading System

The status of each student in the Air Force R. O. T. C. is that of an officer candidate. Evaluation of his abilities is not based entirely on the grade he is awarded for classroom recitations, oral or written, but includes his attitude and ability as a leader during the practical drill periods. A student's potential value as a leader is demonstrated to an important degree by his response to the entire scope of military instruction and military procedure as portrayed by his interest, conduct, alertness, orderliness, classroom and drill attendance, neatness, care of his uniform and equipment, and similar related matters.

The student's final grade is based on an evaluation of those attributes combined with his academic standing.

Texts and Equipment

The federal government provides all necessary texts and equipment to carry out the Air Force R. O. T. C. program.

Uniforms

Uniforms for all enrollees are furnished by the government. The uniform is similar to that prescribed for officers in the regular service and consists of both summer khaki and winter wool, including coats, shoes, and all accessories.

Uniforms must be worn at specified drill periods and may be worn at other classes and exercises.

Enrollment and Continuance Requirements

The general requirements for enrollment and continuance in the Air Force R. O. T. C. are that the student be a citizen of the United States, be physically qualified as prescribed by the Department of the Air Force, execute a DD Form 98 "Loyalty Certificate for Armed Forces Personnel," be accepted by the institution as a regularly enrolled student, be under 24 years of age at the time of enrollment in the basic course, and that he successfully complete such general survey or screening tests as are given to determine eligibility for admittance to advanced courses. A student entering with advanced standing by reason of one year's military service may enroll at an age which will enable him to complete all requirements for a commission before his twenty-eighth birthday. Enrollees in the advanced course must agree to complete the course of instruction offered unless relieved by the Department of the Air Force.

Deferment

A quota for deferment from induction into the armed services is assigned each year to the Air Force R. O. T. C. at this University. These deferments are allotted to individual enrollees who maintain satisfactory grade averages. Such deferred students are exempt from service in the armed forces while pursuing the Air Force R. O. T. C. program and, in general, until graduation from the University.

Summer Camp

The advanced camp consists of a four-week period of intensive applicatory training in general and specialized military and

Air Force fields, and normally is attended by the advanced course student during the summer—between the two academic years of the course. Attendance at summer camp will be considered an integral part of the A.F.R.O.T.C. course of instruction offered the first semester of the senior year.

Art courses taken in the junior and senior years permit concentration in art history, art education, painting, sculpture or graphic design.

For graduate programs in art history, creative work, or art education, see the Graduate School catalogue.

The Department of Art reserves the privilege of keeping examples of the work of any student.

As a part in the program of the study of art are student group trips to art galleries. The cost for these trips is $20 to $30.

For courses in ancient art see archaeology courses listed under the Department of Classics (page 233).

The work offered in the Department of City and Regional Planning leads to the degree of Master of Regional Planning. The normal course includes three semesters of residence study, a summer of internship, and a thesis.

The demand for persons trained in the field of city and regional planning considerably exceeds the supply. Requests are received daily from private consulting firms, and from planning agencies at the local, state, regional and national level, in all parts of the country, for persons holding the master's degree in planning.

A bachelor's degree from an accredited institution in one of the following fields is required for admission: architecture, business administration, economics, engineering, geography, history, the humanities, landscape architecture, law, political science, psychology, public administration, or sociology. Applicants holding undergraduate degrees in fields not listed above may submit their credentials for consideration.

The program leading to the master's degree, and opportunities in the field of city and regional planning are described in detail in a separate bulletin of the Department of City and Regional Planning, which may be obtained by addressing a request to the department.

Curriculum leading to the Degree of A.B. in Journalism: The course of study for the first two years is the same as that required of other candidates for the A.B. degree. Students are advised to meet their social science requirement by taking Social Science 1 and 2 and Political Science 41.

The professional program of the School of Journalism consists of eight to ten journalism courses, four of which are specified; two American history or North Carolina history courses; two courses in political science, one in economics, and electives to complete hours and courses for the A.B. degree. Secondary concentration in one of the social sciences or in some other related academic field is encouraged.

The four journalism courses required of all candidates for the A.B. in Journalism are 53, Introduction to News Writing; 57, News Editing; 161, History of Journalism; and 184, The Press, the Constitution, and the Law.

Journalism assignments must be typewritten; therefore it is essential that each student be able to type with reasonable skill and speed.

Students who have an undergraduate major in journalism or the equivalent may earn the A.M. degree with a major in journalism through the Graduate School. Areas of interest in the field of communication available to graduate students include history of journalism, media research, and international communications.

A graduate minor in journalism is available for candidates for the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees in English, history, political science, psychology, and sociology, and the M.A. in Communication.

Students interested at present or in the future in the graduate program may obtain additional information from the School of Journalism Bulletin, the Graduate School Catalogue, or by consultation with the Dean of the School of Journalism, 202 Bynum Hall.

† Absent on leave, 1955-1956.

The courses in music are designed to serve four purposes in the University: a) to provide thorough training in the practice, literature, theory, and history of music for the student who elects music as his major subject in the liberal arts curriculum leading to the A.B. degree; b) to provide a solid foundation for the student who wishes to do graduate work in the more scholarly, technical, or creative aspects of music; c) to provide the essential background in professional and allied subjects for the student who chooses to teach music or follow some related career; and d) to provide students in other departments with elective courses in music designed to add cultural value and enjoyment to the general liberal arts program.

Course leading to the A.B. degree with music as the major: Students who take music as the major will modify the regular program for the first two years in order to begin music their first year. They normally will take English 1, 2, a foreign language, Music 11-12 and 14-15, and mathematics or Latin or Greek. Courses in the regular freshman program postponed to make way for the music courses are taken at some later time. Similar arrangements will be made in the sophomore year to provide for Music 31-32, 44-45, and 47-48.

The undergraduate major in music consists of from eighteen to twenty-four semester hours beyond the freshman-sophomore requirements and includes Music 48, 61, 64, 71, 74, and 101. Attention is called to the special requirements in applied music as stated on pages 301-2.

Course leading to the A.B. in Education degree with music as the major: Candidates for the A.B. degree in liberal arts with music as the major may qualify for state certification in public school music by taking certain additional courses in general education and music education. These courses ordinarily require one additional semester of work, or one summer of work during the four years. As an alternative the student may qualify for state certification in the usual eight semesters by taking an A.B. in Education (see pages 141-47) with music as the major. In either case, requirements for the major are the same. At the beginning of the junior year the student must decide whether he will elect the A.B. or the A.B. in Education program. Individual requirements in the curriculum are worked out in conference with the student's advisers in music and in education.

Honors in Music: Students interested in becoming candidates for the A.B. degree with honors in music should read the general regulations governing the honors program in the Division of Humanities and should consult the chairman of the Department of Music for specific modifications of this program as applied to music.

Course leading to the B.M. degree: The department offers the B.M. degree to students meeting the applied music requirements in conformity with the National Association of Schools of Music. This degree is awarded in conjunction with or after the A.B. degree in a five year program. Students must satisfy the requirements for this degree by giving such public recitals and by passing such examinations as may be specified by the department. Students interested in this degree should apply to the Department of Music for particulars.

Applied Music Requirements

The courses in applied music are open to students in any department of the University. This work is regarded not only as technical training in performance, but also as a comprehensive survey of the standard literature for the particular instrument or ensemble group. Credit is based primarily on the stage of advancement and the number of lessons and hours of practice a week. Credits to meet the requirements for high school teachers' certificates are reckoned on the basis of 1½ semester hours for one lesson a week per semester.

For those whose major is not music a total credit not to exceed six semester hours may be counted under electives in the A.B. curriculum. Those whose major is music will offer at least eight semester hours in applied music but not over sixteen semester hours in this field, of which not more than eight may be ensemble courses. All students with majors in music, unless given special permission by the chairman of the department, continue individual instruction in applied music throughout the four years. Students planning to teach instrumental music in the public schools will arrange their schedules for the study of the wind and stringed instruments in consultation with the department.

The general prerequisite for entrance into the first-year courses is the ability to perform music rated as grade three for the particular instrument. A specific course of study for any instrument will be sent upon request. Student who are not yet at grade three level will repeat the preparatory course without credit until they qualify for the freshman course. The candidate for the A.B. degree with a major in music must complete as a minimum the freshman course in his chosen field of applied music. Students electing some instrument other than piano for their work in applied music must demonstrate sufficient pianistic ability to enable them to meet the practical requirements of the course to be pursued. This is interpreted to mean the ability to play at sight hymns or compositions of similar difficulty, and to utilize the basic techniques of keyboard harmony.

Students majoring in music for an undergraduate degree are required to participate in appropriate musical organizations of the department and their scheduled concerts, and to attend the weekly student recitals.

FEEES

Fees of individual instruction are: $33.75 per semester for one lesson a week; $67.50 per semester for two lessons a week. Fee for one daily practice period (room with piano), $5.50 per semester; fee for two hours daily practice, $9.50 per semester. Other fees in proportion. Fee for six hours practice a week on Reuter four-manual organ, $28.25 per semester; on Allen or Reuter practice organ, $22.50 per semester; on Estey practice organ, $11.25 per semester. Arrangements for applied music are made in the office of the Department of Music on the second day of regular registration and the day following.

DEPARTMENT OF NAVAL SCIENCE

Professor: R. C. BURNS, Colonel, USMC

Associate Professor: J. H. GRAVES, Commander, USN

Assistant Professors: H. C. CULBRETH, Lieutenant Commander, USN, H. W. CHIL-DRESS, Lieutenant, USN, A. H. JOSSELYN, JR., Lieutenant, Supply Corps, USN, G. F. GOOD, III, Captain, USMC, B. F. WARNER, Lieutenant, USN, W. E. HILDE-
BRANDT, Lieutenant (junior grade), USNR

General Statement

The purpose of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps is to provide a steady supply of well-educated junior officers for the Line and Staff Corps of the Navy and Marine Corps, and to build up a reserve of trained officers who will be ready to serve the country at a moment's notice in a national emergency. Students enrolled in the N.R.O.T.C. are of two categories—regular and contract. All procedures, benefits and requirements described hereinafter apply to both categories of N.R.O.T.C. students unless specifically indicated as pertaining to only one of the two types.

University Status

The Naval R.O.T.C. Unit is a recognized department of instruction within the University (Department of Naval Science). Full credit toward degrees is granted Naval Science courses as in other departments.

Military Status

N.R.O.T.C. students wear the uniform only on such occasions as prescribed by the Professor of Naval Science. Normally, this will be at drills, ceremonies, and on cruises. In addition to the ordinary requirements of gentlemanly conduct, they are subject to naval discipline and must conduct themselves at all times in a military manner when under naval jurisdiction, that is, when attending naval science classes, drills and exercises, and during summer training periods.

With the exception of the above described instances, N.R.O.T.C. students are in the same category as other students of the University.

Status on Graduation

Contract students: After completion of their academic requirements for a baccalaureate degree and the four years of Naval requirements, which include the summer training, contract students are commissioned as ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve or second lieutenants in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. They are eligible for call to active duty as indicated below under "Draft Deferment."

Regular students: Upon graduation, regular students are commissioned as ensigns in the U. S. Navy or second lieutenants in the U. S. Marine Corps. They are normally required to serve on active duty for a maximum period of three years. At the end of this period they may request to remain on active duty as career officers. If they do not so request, or if not selected, they are released to an inactive status in the Reserve.

Summer Training

Regular students: All regular students are required to take two summer cruises and one summer period of aviation-amphibious indoctrination, usually of eight weeks' duration each. The cruises are made on board modern warships. The aviation indoctrination is usually conducted at Corpus Christi, Texas, and the amphibious indoctrination is usually conducted at Little Creek, Virginia.

Contract students: Contract students are required to take only one summer cruise during the summer between their junior and senior years, the cruise being of approximately six weeks' duration.

Travel expenses for both regular and contract students from the University to the summer training site and return are furnished by the government. In addition, all students receive active duty pay during summer training amounting to approximately $75.00 per month.

Emoluments

Regular students: For regular students the cost of tuition, fees, and textbooks is paid by the government. Necessary uniforms are provided and students receive retainer pay at the rate of $600 per year.

Contract students: Contract students receive no emoluments during the first two years in the program. During the last two years they receive a subsistence allowance which amounts to approximately $27.00 a month. They are issued the necessary uniforms and Naval Science textbooks at no expense.

Eligibility Requirements

A candidate for the N.R.O.T.C. must:

1. Be a male citizen of the United States.
2. At the time of his enrollment, if a minor, have the consent of his parent or guardian.
3. Be not less than seventeen nor more than twenty-one years of age on July 1 of the year in which he enters the program.
4. Gain his own admittance to the University.
5. Agree to remain unmarried until commissioned.

6. Enter into a contract with the Secretary of the Navy, agreeing to accept a commission, if offered.
7. Be physically qualified, in accordance with the requirements for the U. S. Naval Academy.
8. If a contract student, agree to serve two years on active duty upon completion of college training, if called by the Secretary of the Navy.
9. If a regular student, agree to accept a commission, if offered, and to serve for three years as an ensign, U. S. Navy, or second lieutenant, U. S. Marine Corps.

Special Procedures

Contract students are enrolled by the Professor of Naval Science upon their own application and are subject to selection and physical examination at the University within a limited quota as assigned by the Navy Department to each University. These students are taken primarily from the entering freshman class at the beginning of the fall semester.

Inasmuch as the selection of contract students is completed during the first week of the fall semester and in view of the fact that the contract quota is limited, all students who desire to be considered for the N.R.O.T.C. program should apply previous to the first day of classes in the fall. An application is not binding, and, even after enrollment in the program, a contract student may withdraw from the program, without prejudice, upon his own request at any time within the first two years.

Regular students enter the N.R.O.T.C. through a nation-wide Aptitude-for-Learning test and selection system conducted by the College Entrance Examining Board, Princeton, New Jersey, and the Navy Department, respectively. The competitive examination is conducted in the late fall of the year, approximately nine months before enrollment of the applicant.

Transfer from contract to regular status: Contract N.R.O.T.C. students may compete for regular status and if selected will be enrolled as regular students without loss of standing.

Draft Deferment

A student enrolled in the Naval R.O.T.C. will be deferred from the draft (Selective Service of 1948 and Universal Military Training Act of 1951) if:

1. He pursues the Naval R.O.T.C. course for four full years, including the summer training period applicable to his status as contract or regular student.

2. As a contract student, he signs an agreement to accept a commission, if tendered, to retain this commission for a period of six years and to serve not less than two years on active duty as an officer, if called by the Secretary of the Navy.
3. As a regular student, he signs an agreement to accept a commission, if tendered, to retain this commission for a period of six years and to serve not less than three years on active duty as an officer, if called by the Secretary of the Navy.

Curricula

General: In order to obtain a commission either in the U. S. Navy, U. S. Naval Reserve, U. S. Marine Corps, or U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, students are required to obtain a baccalaureate degree and complete twenty-four semester hours in the Department of Naval Science. During each semester every student is required to attend two laboratory periods of one hour's duration each week. By the end of the sophomore year every student must have satisfactorily completed one year of mathematics through trigonometry. In addition, each regular student must complete one year of college physics. Every student must achieve proficiency in written and oral expression in accordance with the standards of proficiency set by the University. Three separate curricula in naval science subjects are offered, leading to commissions in the Line of the Navy, the Supply Corps of the Navy and the Marine Corps.

Teaching Fellow: R. H. DAWSON

Graduate Assistants: YVES LAULAN, E. L. PINNEY

The requirements for the A.B. with a major in political science are Political Science 41 (or the equivalent), at least two additional exclusively undergraduate courses (selected from Political Science 42, 51, 52, 53, 86, and 87), and a sufficient number of other political science courses to make a total of eight. The courses must be distributed among at least three of the several fields of political science; (1) local, state, and federal government in the United States; (2) public administration; (3) foreign and comparative government; (4) international law and relations; and (5) political theory and jurisprudence. There must, however, be a certain degree of concentration in one of these fields.

Also, in choosing allied courses, selections should be made which support the field of concentration. These requirements can be met and still allow an assembly of courses dealing with a specific geographic area such as Latin America.

* Absent on leave, 1955-1956.

† Professor, Emeritus.

‡ Burton Craigie Visiting Professor of Jurisprudence, 1955-1956.

Students who have shown exceptional competence are permitted to pursue a reading program in lieu of two regular courses. This modified course of study, if completed satisfactorily, leads to the A.B. with Honors in Political Science.

Training for Public Administration

Professional training for such positions in the public service as general administrators (including city managers), public personnel specialists, and public financial administration specialists is offered by the department at the graduate, rather than the undergraduate, level. However, the student may obtain through an undergraduate major in political science the necessary foundation for entrance upon an administrative career in the United States government. He may also obtain the foundation for graduate professional training in public administration.

Since government requires many kinds of skills in its staff, students may prepare for entry into the public service through many departments of the University. In recognition of this, and regardful of the special needs of the public official, the Division of Social Sciences of the College of Arts and Sciences has recommended that students planning to enter the public service, regardless of undergraduate major, incorporate the following courses in their programs, consistently, of course, with other College requirements: Political Science 41, Economics 31-32 (or 61), Psychology 24-25, Political Science 101, History 22 or 72 or 114, Economics 74 and 170, and English 52.

The department will be glad to advise students interested in preparing for the public service.

Undergraduate students intending to major in psychology are advised to include courses in biology, physics, mathematics, sociology, and anthropology in their studies. Although the emphasis in undergraduate study is not on specialization within the field of psychology, programs for majors with varying directions of interest may appropriately vary somewhat. Students who anticipate graduate training as preparation for teaching and research might include Psychology 122, 126, 130, 140 or 144, 146 and courses in biology, physics, and mathematics as well as in the social sciences. For a professional career in personnel or psychometrics: Psychology 130, 131, 132, 135, 136, 148, 181 and courses in mathematics, economics, and business administration. Students who plan to enter the profession of clinical psychology might include Psychology 122, 126, 130, 140 or 144, 141, 145, 146, 148 and courses in physiology, educational-vocational guidance, sociology, and anthropology. Details of the student's program are planned with his adviser.

For graduate students the emphasis is not on specific courses as such but rather on different areas of competence, in which progress is assessed by examinations. In consultation with his adviser, the student plans a program of study and research adapted to his needs and interests. More detailed information is given in mimeographed materials available upon request from the Department of Psychology.

Practicum experience in advanced psychometric techniques is available to qualified students in connection with research projects of the Psychometric Laboratory. Project directors in the laboratory are Thelma Gwinn Thurstone, Professor of Education; Thomas Jeffrey; John Mellinger, and John Kelton.

Personnel and material facilities for graduate level professional training in clinical psychology are available both on and off the campus. Practicum experience in diagnostic and therapeutic procedures is available to qualified students through the University Memorial Hospital. The department participates in the clinical training programs sponsored by the Veterans Administration and the United States Public Health Service.

The student is referred also to courses in educational psychology, statistics, neurology, physiology, sociology, and anthropology listed by other departments of the University.

Some courses will be given in alternate years, as demand warrants.

*DEPARTMENT OF RADIO, TELEVISION, AND MOTION PICTURES

Professor: EARL WYNN

Associate Professor: †R. F. SCHENKMAN

Assistant Professors: J. S. CLAYTON, J. M. EHLE, JR., WESLEY WALLACE, JOHN YOUNG

Instructor: ROSS SCROGGS

Interests of students pursuing a major in the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures fall under the following categories:

- (1) writing; (2) speaking or acting; (3) the planning of programs; (4) the production of programs; (5) ‡commercial aspects of the media; and (6) the operation of equipment.

* See the Graduate School catalogue for information concerning the graduate program of the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures.

† Resigned, July, 1955.

‡ A student may major in the School of Business Administration and take his non-divisional electives in the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures. See the special bulletin of the School of Business Administration.

The course work, laboratories, and extracurricular activities of the Department are planned with three objectives in mind: to give the student an opportunity to secure a broad educational background; to provide him with a survey of the media; and to offer him an opportunity to explore those phases of radio, television, and motion pictures in which he is most talented. Our aim is to help prepare the student first as a thoughtful, responsible human being and second as a skillful artist, teacher, and/or practitioner.

Certain aptitudes and backgrounds on the part of the student are necessary to his successful pursuit of the RTVMP major. Attempts to discover these backgrounds and aptitudes are made through a qualifying examination taken the first semester of the sophomore year; observations of the student's extracurricular activities in radio, television, and motion pictures especially during his freshman year; most careful observation of all classroom and laboratory work; and private conferences with his adviser and instructors. A student who plans a major in the field of radio, television, and motion pictures is advised to take RTVMP 58 during the first semester of his sophomore year and RTVMP 59 during the second semester of his sophomore year.

Requirements for the B.A. degree with a major in radio, television, and motion pictures consist of a minimum of twenty courses beyond the General College requirements, six of which are required in the major field.

Upon the recommendation of the departmental adviser, the student shall elect five to nine courses in allied departments of the Division of the Humanities; and five to nine courses from other divisions.

Students interested in working for Honors or Highest Honors in the field of writing or in other aspects of radio, television, and motion pictures should see the chairman of the department at the end of the sophomore year and not later than the registration period for the first semester of the senior year. (See p. 130.)

Candidates for Honors will be permitted to take seven courses toward the major instead of the regularly required six courses.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGION

Professors: BERNARD BOYD, A. S. NASH, J. P. HARLAND, A. C. HOWELL, P. H. EPPS
Assistant Professors: EMMANUEL GITLIN, W. H. POTEAT

The first function of the department is to further an understanding of the origin, development, and significance of the Judaic-Christian tradition. Thus the department is primarily concerned with the Biblical literature, the history of religious thought, and the implications of Christianity for current thought and practice. The department seeks further to relate the study of the Bible and religion to the work of other departments in the belief that Christianity is relevant to the whole of knowledge. For this reason, courses in religion are offered not only by instructors within the department, but by others in related fields.

Any student who plans to major in religion should consult with the department chairman as early as possible to insure proper arrangement of his course of study. If, for instance, the student plans further study at a seminary or graduate school, he will want his program to accord with recommendations of the American Association of Theological Schools. If, on the other hand, the student is in the School of Education, he will want to qualify for accreditation for high school teaching of religion along with some other subject. However, many who seek a major in religion may not plan to follow either of these courses professionally and use the services of the department to gain through their liberal arts education an aptitude for church leadership. Students who intend to find employment in such diverse fields as agriculture, industry or commerce, but who do not desire to work on a professional degree during their undergraduate years, may choose to major in religion. Consequently, there is no fixed set of courses for an undergraduate major. Each student, after taking the basic courses, Religion 28 and Religion 30, builds on this foundation a program of study appropriate to his present needs. For example, a major in religion for a student whose primary interest is in education, whether in school or church, will consist of the following courses in the department: 31, 45, 80, 81, 95 and 103.

Programs of study leading to M.A. and Ph.D. degrees are not presently offered but will be proposed in the future. Plans have already been made for courses of study which provide a minor in religion for M.A. and Ph.D. candidates in other fields. The purpose of such courses is to furnish future teachers of, for example, education or philosophy or sociology with a context of study that will enable them to see the place of their special field of interest in a Christian view of man, history and society.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY

Professors: E. W. NOLAND, H. D. MEYER, S. H. HOBBS, JR., R. B. VANCE, G. B. JOHNSON, KATHARINE JOCHER, G. W. BLACKWELL, W. B. SANDERS, J. P. GILLIN, N. J. DEMERATH, REUBEN HILL, D. O. PRICE, J. L. THIBAUT

Associate Professors: HARRIET L. HERRING, J. J. HONIGMANN, G. L. SIMPSON, JR., H. L. SMITH

Assistant Professors: J. L. COE, JOHN GULICK

Instructor: H. D. SESSOMS

Part-time Instructor: ETHEL M. NASH

Teaching Fellow: DOROTHY E. PITMAN

Graduate Assistant: JOHN L. GRANT

The courses in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology reflect a two-fold objective with the inseparable tasks of seeking to understand man and society and social behavior, and to prepare the student for participation in social research and social guidance. For the undergraduate, sociology may serve as preparation for the mature understanding of his social life as the basis for citizenship as well as for pre-professional training in the social sciences or professions.

Undergraduate major: Sociology 51 and Anthropology 41, usually taken in the sophomore year, are required of all majors and are prerequisite to other courses in the department except where otherwise indicated. *Majors will plan their courses, with the help of an adviser, according to the following schedule:

Sociology: Sociology 56, five other courses in sociology, seven allied courses, seven non-divisional courses. A student majoring in sociology may take as many as three courses in anthropology as an allied field.

Anthropology: Anthropology 122, five other courses in anthropology, Sociology 56 and six other allied courses, seven non-divisional courses. A student majoring in anthropology may take as many as three sociology courses as an allied field.

Sociology-Anthropology (split major): three sociology courses (including Sociology 56), three anthropology courses (including Anthropology 122), seven allied courses, seven non-divisional courses.

Recreation Leadership: Sociology 56, 75; four courses from among 173, 176, 177, 178, 179; one additional course in Sociology.

Through proper selection of courses in the major, allied, and non-divisional fields:

Sociology majors may prepare for positions with the federal, state, and local governments, for some types of personnel work, for social work as case work trainee, for recreation leadership,† and in other applied areas; or for graduate work in sociology, rural sociology, social psychology, social work, personnel, and other specialities.

Anthropology majors may prepare for positions as museum assistants, as research assistants in cultural anthropology and prehistoric archaeology, as government employees, especially in technical assistance programs, and for other lines of endeavor as well as for graduate work in anthropology.

The Sociology-Anthropology split-major prepares a student for public school teaching of social studies if all requirements for a teacher's certificate are completed. A student who wishes to qualify for a position in the public schools should consult the School of Education.

Electives: Students desiring one or more undergraduate elective courses in the department may take Sociology 51, 52, 53, 62, or Anthropology 41. Sociology 51 or its equivalent is prerequisite for all other courses in sociology except where otherwise indicated. Anthropology 41 or its equivalent is prerequisite for all other courses in anthropology except where otherwise indicated.

* Sociology 52 is not creditable within the six-course major in sociology-anthropology. Transfer majors will usually lack Anthropology 41 which is creditable in the allied field when taken by sociology majors; likewise Sociology 51 is allied for anthropology majors.

† Other departments and schools contributing to specialization in recreation leadership are physical education, dramatic art, art, music, city and regional planning, social work, education, political science, economics, and business administration.

Graduate Degrees: The A.M. and Ph.D. degrees are offered in sociology and in anthropology. (The rationales and requirements for the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees are explained in the Graduate School Catalogue.) It is the purpose of the graduate program to provide the best possible professional training for sociologists, anthropologists, and, in conjunction with the Department of Psychology, for social psychologists. Candidates for the A.M. or Ph.D. degree in sociology or anthropology may minor in rural sociology, any of the other social sciences, or in the related fields of statistics, planning, public health, and social work. A minor split between two fields is possible for the Ph.D. degree with special permission of the Graduate School.

The A.M. degree in rural sociology is offered and candidates for this degree may minor in general sociology, anthropology, or any of the other social sciences.

Two graduate degrees affording emphasis on recreation leadership are offered: The Master of Arts degree in sociology with concentration in recreation leadership and the Master of Science degree in Recreation Administration (see further description at end of this section under "Recreation Leadership").

Students in other departments may take a minor for the A.M. or Ph.D. degrees in general sociology, rural sociology, or anthropology if appropriate prerequisite courses have been completed. Minor courses should be selected through consultation with the chairman of the department.

Courses in rural sociology and anthropology are grouped separately following the courses in general sociology. Anthropology courses carry the designation "Anthropology" on registration forms and recreation leadership courses carry the designation "Sociology" on registration forms.

General Statement

By means of correspondence instruction, television and radio, extension classes, non-credit adult education programs, library service audio-visual education, lectures, interscholastic activities, the fine arts and publications, the University is relating itself closely with the life of North Carolina. The University campus is now virtually continuous with the boundaries of the commonwealth.

Starting as a Bureau of Extension in 1912 under the leadership of Dr. L. R. Wilson, former University Librarian, the idea of University extension was clarified and expanded during the administration of the late President Edward Kidder Graham. In 1921, in conformity with standards established by the National University Extension Association, the work was organized as a major division of the University by President Harry W. Chase.

In his inaugural address, November, 1931, former President of the University, Frank Porter Graham defined the purposes of university extension thus: "It is the function of the state university not only to find its bits of truth and teach the truth gathered from scholars everywhere, but to carry the truth to the people that they may take it into their lives and help to make it prevail in world affairs. It is the ideal of the University Extension Division to make the resources of the universities, the discoveries of science, and the findings of the social scientists available for the people of the commonwealth."

The Extension Division is the administrative agency through which are conducted the extension activities of all the University's departments. Within recent years, moreover, the Division has developed programs of adult education. Other educational services are being offered men and women whose formal schooling has ended but who still desire to continue their education regardless of higher academic awards. In meeting the demands of this group, the future of the University Extension Division as an agency for adult education holds the greatest promise of development.

Separate catalogues and announcements of the various services are published by the University Extension Division, including Correspondence Instruction, Audio-Visual Materials for Schools, Colleges, Churches, and Adult Study Groups, Program Services, School Tests and Materials, etc.

Bureau of Art Extension

The Department of Art offers, through the cooperation of the Extension Division, extension classes and correspondence courses in the history and appreciation of art. Institutes on art education are sponsored jointly with other state agencies and organizations. A lecture service is available. Circulating art exhibits may be secured on a loan basis. The annual North Carolina School Art Exhibition is conducted in cooperation with the Woman's College.

All of the special exhibitions in the Person Hall Art Gallery are open to the general public.

Bureau of Audio-Visual Education

The audio-visual materials and services of the Bureau of Visual Education are available to all schools, colleges, civic groups, and other agencies on a non-profit basis. The services are designed primarily to aid any group with the selection, distribution, and utilization of educational films and other audio-visual materials to fit their needs. A recent development which provides duplication of magnetic tape recordings has been added.

The Bureau of Visual Education now operates an adult film project in conjunction with the North Carolina Library Commission. Films for community programs, business and industry and other adult groups are made available each month to a number of public libraries participating in this project. These films cover such subjects as human relations, fine arts, international affairs, and personnel relations. Anyone interested in this service will be furnished detailed information on request.

A Film Forum on World Affairs is sponsored for adult groups by the University Extension Division. The film forum consists of meetings in each of which a film is shown to focus attention on one major issue of American foreign policy or a problem of world peace. Film forums in areas such as music, art, and human relations may be arranged on request to suit the needs of individual groups.

The Bureau of Audio-Visual Education is also prepared to offer advisory services and information on other types of film discussion programs, audio-visual materials, equipment, and services. The film rental services are described in the University Extension Bulletin, Vol. XXXV No. 1, "Audio-Visual Materials for Schools, Colleges, Churches, and Adult Study Groups."

Bureau of Class Instruction

Extension courses in regular University subjects are offered in communities throughout the state. These courses are taught by members of the University faculty and, when all requirements are met, give the same credit as courses in residence. Those not wishing degree credit are also eligible to enroll in extension classes. The classes usually meet one evening a week for sixteen weeks. An individual or group wishing to organize an extension class should make written application to the University Extension Division, giving the following information: probable number of enrollments, academic qualifications of persons who wish to join the class, course desired, when and where the class wishes to meet, and who will have charge of local arrangements.

The services of a full-time Professor of Education in Extension Teaching are available for graduate instruction and other professional services in county and city school systems.

In cooperation with the School of Education, the Division administers the Charlotte Graduate Center.

Bureau of Community Drama

The services of the Bureau of Community Drama are available to all schools, colleges, and communities throughout the state. Suggestions and advice on play production and direction may be obtained from this bureau.

Assistance is given in organizing, play selecting, the designing and making of scenery, costuming, and make-up and lighting. Arrangements may be made for assistance in the direction of a chosen play.

The bureau has at its disposal more than two thousand volumes of playbooks, books on acting, play production, little theatre organization, playwriting, stagecraft, lighting, costuming, make-up, etc. These are loaned upon payment of the postage and packing charges. By giving practical assistance to those interested in writing and producing plays, the bureau is seeking to promote and encourage dramatic art in the schools and communities of North Carolina and to stimulate interest in the writing of native drama.

The Head of the Bureau serves as Executive Secretary of the Carolina Dramatic Association.

Bureau of Community Music

The Department of Music offers the following services: (1) leadership for community sings; (2) formation of community choruses; (3) lectures on public school and community music; (4) piano, violin, organ, and chamber music recitals; (5) advisory service to schools; (6) concerts by the University Symphony Orchestra, the Symphonic Band, and the University Glee Clubs; (7) extension courses in music appreciation; (8) annual clinics for piano teachers.

Bureau of Community Organization

The services of this bureau consist of consultation and assistance to North Carolina localities in the expanding field of community organization. Cities, towns, and rural communities alike are facing serious problems of community coordination and effective citizen action for community improvement. A number of localities already have community councils or councils of social agencies to help meet these needs.

Plans of the Bureau of Community Organization include the preparation of materials for local leaders, conferences and institutes, assistance in local fact finding, demonstration projects, a state-wide advisory committee on Community Organization, and collaboration with national agencies and with community organization programs in other states.

The Institute for Research in Social Science cooperates with the Bureau in conducting research activities.

Bureau of Correspondence Instruction

All information and regulations concerning correspondence courses offered by the University are contained in the Catalogue of Correspondence Instruction issued separately. This includes information for those interested in adult education and those desiring courses for degree credit or teachers' certification credit. The University of North Carolina accepts 30 semester hours' extension credit toward an undergraduate degree. It is expected that the last year's work will be taken in residence. Special cases will be handled individually.

At least one course each semester is supplemented by television lectures over station WUNC-TV, Channel 4.

Bureau of Economic and Social Surveys

For years the staff in Rural Sociology of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology of the University has been collecting data on social and economic conditions in North Carolina. This material is available through loans from the library, articles in The University of North Carolina News Letter, and bulletins which record the results of a number of county surveys. The News Letter, which is edited by S. H. Hobbs, Jr., assisted by members of the Institute for Research in Social Science, appears fifteen times each year.

Bureau of Educational Research and Service

The bureau is maintained through the cooperation of the School of Education. The several members of the faculty of the School offer to the state the following services: educational tests and measurements; school surveys; teachers' appointments; advice and counsel with reference to school buildings, equipment, and general administrative problems.

SCHOOL TESTS AND MATERIALS OFFICE

Most of the better known and most valuable standardized school tests are collected here for prompt distribution at publishers' prices. Both time and transportation costs of these tests may be saved by ordering from this office.

A committee composed of members of the staff of the School of Education serves in an advisory capacity in evaluating new publications and in approving those best suited to meet specific needs in different school situations.

A catalogued listing of tests and materials may be had upon request by writing to, School Tests and Materials Office, Box 1050, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Bureau of English Extension

In cooperation with the Department of English, the Division conducts professional services for teachers of high school English. The North Carolina High School English Institute is held each summer. The head of the Bureau serves as executive secretary of the North Carolina English Teachers Association and managing editor of the North Carolina English Teacher.

Services to teachers and students of English provided by the Bureau include: (1) Publication and distribution of the North Carolina English Teacher (four regular issues and the annual Student Issue). About 1,300 teachers and 2,100 students are served directly by the publication. (2) Professional meetings and conferences with estimated combined attendance of over 1,000. (3) Committee activities of the North Carolina English Teachers Association, co-ordinated by the Bureau. (4) Maintenance of exchange service with other state and regional associations. (5) Answering inquiries. (6) Keeping permanent records of English-teaching activities.

Institute of Industrial Relations

Established in the spring of 1946, the Institute serves as the coordinating agency of the University and the Extension Division for the promotion and direction of educational programs in labor-management relations and programs of workers' education. Short courses, workshops, and institutes are conducted in cooperation with representatives of both management and labor organizations.

Bureau of Lectures, Short Courses, and Institutes

The University conducts a lecture bureau for the purpose of aiding schools, civic clubs, and other organizations in obtaining speakers and public forum leaders. Addresses for special occasions, such as school and college commencements, are also arranged upon application.

No fee for lecture service is charged, but the traveling and incidental expenses of the lecturer are to be defrayed by the organization for which the lecture is made. Lecture courses and public forum programs also may be arranged. An Extension Bulletin on "Program Services" is available without charge.

From time to time the University has held at Chapel Hill and at other places short courses or institutes for various organizations and groups. These consist of an intensive training program or course ranging in duration from one day to two weeks. The program is composed of a specialized series of lectures, discussions, and demonstrations directed by leading speakers and teachers secured from the faculty of the University and from the state and nation. Short courses have been offered to public health nurses, welfare workers, parents, realtors, photographers, bankers, insurance agents, members of the State Press Association, the North Carolina Medical Society, and other organizations.

In addition to those mentioned above, the Division will be glad to aid other organizations or groups in arranging for a short course, institute, special meeting, or convention.

North Carolina Music Program and Institute of Opera

The services of Dr. Norman Cordon, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Association, are available to schools, colleges, churches, and other community and state organizations. Cooperative services have been given to the North Carolina Symphony Society, the Carolina Folk Festival, the Chapel Hill Concert Series, the North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, and the Grass Roots Opera Company of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs.

The radio program "Let's Listen to Opera" is being broadcast weekly over station WUNC-FM and station WMIT-FM to large appreciative audiences.

Dr. Cordon also conducts the Opera Film Forum as a part of the Division's adult education program.

Bureau of Recreation

This bureau offers service in public recreation and leisure time problems through the department of Sociology. Bibliographies and reading lists on the subject of sociology, community organizations etc., are provided upon request. The Bureau Head serves as Consultant to the North Carolina Recreation Commission.

Bureau of School Relations

The University Extension Division, through this bureau, offer service to the high schools of the state by means of annual contests in debating, public speaking, and academic subjects, and through the agency of the North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute.

The North Carolina High School Debating Union is the medium through which assistance in debate is offered. This organization was established in 1912-13. Approximately one hundred high school discuss some important question each year. The district winners come to the University in the spring to compete in the final contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup.

The High School World Peace Study and Speaking Program was started during the school year 1946-47. About two hundred high schools have participated annually in the discussion of such subjects as: "What is the Responsibility of the United States in World Affairs?"; "How Can We Help to Build World Peace in the Atomic Age?"; "What Have Been the Achievements and What Are the Prospects of the United Nations?"; "How Can the United Nations Prevent Communist Aggression and Preparation for Aggression?"; and "The Future of the United Nations in Helping to Build World Peace."

The high school contests in academic subjects are conducted jointly by this bureau and by the several University departments concerned. Academic contests are conducted in Latin, Spanish, French, physics, and mathematics. Tuition scholarships for one year in the University are now offered to the winning students in these contests.

Approximately 250 high school students and faculty advisers come to the University in the fall for the two-day sessions of the annual North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute.

COOPERATIVE SERVICES

Bureau of Business Services and Research

Extension of educational resources of the University to business and industry is accomplished by means of cooperative arrangements with the Bureau of Business Services and Research of the School of Business Administration. (See section of catalogue on the School of Business Administration for a description of this agency.) The Extension Division sponsors and services the adult education program for businessmen developed by the Bureau.

The most frequent components of this program are "Management Institutes" which are conducted annually in conjunction with trade associations of various lines of business such as bankers, realtors, wholesalers, furniture dealers, etc.

The program also includes conferences and short courses in functional areas of business management such as accounting, personnel, production, and insurance. These are conducted both on and off the campus for the benefit of business firms irrespective of trade lines.

The School of Business Administration has reserved specially equipped rooms and facilities for adult education programs. A branch office of the Extension Division has been established in these facilities to enable it to render service more effectively.

The Communication Center

The Communication Center is primarily a laboratory to the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures. Through such services, however, as WUNC radio, recording, graphic presentation, and still photography the Communication Center provides an extension of the University to the people of North Carolina. (See Communication Center pp. 394.) By means of these communication tools and WUNC-TV, much of the University's vast well of knowledge may be visualized, auralized, and distributed through North Carolina, providing thus a wider educational opportunity for those who wish to learn.

Extension Department, University Library

The aim of the Extension Department of the University Library is to encourage discussion of current political, social, and economic problems, as well as to assist in the study of good literature. Reference material is supplied for such study.

One section renders assistance with programs and reference material, usually of a literary nature, to women's clubs and study groups, for which service a small charge is made. Another section renders assistance to schools, both students and teachers, as well as to other individuals not organized in group study. This material is usually on current problems of a political, social, or economic nature.

North Carolina High School Athletic Association

The North Carolina High School Athletic Association is the agency through which assistance in athletics is offered. This association conducts state high school contests in football, basketball, baseball, track, swimming, six-man football, golf, and tennis. The high schools compete in districts for the honor of representing the eastern and western sections of the state, and the teams winning the sectional contests meet in the finals to determine state championships.

North Carolina Symphony Society

Dr. Benjamin F. Swalin, Director of the Symphony Society and Conductor of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, is also Professor of Music in Extension. The North Carolina Symphony receives a biennial appropriation from the General Assembly, and is a cooperating service of the University Extension Division. Its headquarters are on the campus of the University and the Director of the Extension Division is President of the Symphony Society.

Division of Health Affairs

In cooperation with the Division of Health Affairs, the Extension Division conducts postgraduate medical and dental courses both on and off the campus. Short refresher courses, workshops, and conferences for public health officials, nurses, health educators, dietitians and other professional groups are held each year. Plans are being made for the development of a Pharmacy extension program, in cooperation with the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

DIVISION OF HEALTH AFFAIRS

The Division of Health Affairs of the University includes the Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, Public Health, Nursing, and Pharmacy, and the North Carolina Memorial Hospital. It was established for the purpose of integrating and correlating the work of these professional schools and the hospital in their teaching and research programs within the University. Equally important, the Division through its Administrator and Advisory Board will attempt to correlate the teaching, research, and service functions of the University Health Center with the hospital and health agencies and services throughout the state.

Administratively the Division is under the direction of a full-time medical administrator, with an Advisory Board on which are the deans of the various professional schools concerned and the Director of the Hospital.

The growth of recreation throughout the nation, and the demand for recreation leaders, centered interest in the University on its responsibility to train leaders for this field. For some time in the University at Chapel Hill there has been opportunity to train for recreation leadership. At the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, curriculum interest is centered around the training of leaders for recreation in industry and rural life. The course interest at the Woman's College is in the training of community recreation leaders and workers in youth-serving agencies.

The All-University Division is designed to coordinate services, cooperate in the development of curricula, and integrate programs and activities.

The Division works in close cooperation with the North Carolina Recreation Commission and the North Carolina Recreation Society.

The Communication Center functions as a laboratory for the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures and as a production agency for the University and the state. It operates an FM educational radio station, WUNC; a photographic laboratory; a graphics laboratory; radio production studios; a recording studio; and a television and motion picture production laboratory. These facilities are used by students in the instructional program of the Department and for the production of programs and materials for use at the University and to extend the University to the people of the state.

WUNC

WUNC is a non-commercial educational FM radio station licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to the University of North Carolina. It is in its fourth year of operation. A gift by the Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company of a 10,000 watt transmitter has permitted the station to increase its power to approximately 16,000 watts.

The operating staff is composed entirely of students participating voluntarily. Programs of an educational nature exclusively are broadcast by the station. In addition to locally originated programs, the station broadcasts features from the network of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, the British Broadcasting Corporation, French Broadcasting System, and programs from other United States and foreign production agencies. Approximately 50% of WUNC's programming is serious music.

The Photographic Laboratory

The Photographic Laboratory of the Communication Center serves the photographic needs of most of the various departments and divisions of the University, including the Division of Health Affairs. The demand for its services has increased yearly, showing a sharp rise during the past year as a result of increasing needs for medical photography. The Photographic Laboratory also serves as the workshop for the instructional program in photography.

* Term expired December 31, 1955.

† Beginning January 1, 1956.

The Graphics Laboratory

The Photographic Laboratory operates, in addition, a graphic arts service for the purpose of supplying posters, graphs, charts, and illustrations. For the time being this service is supplied only when requested. At such a time as the demand justifies, full-time service will be offered.

Radio Production

Radio production at the University of North Carolina may be considered under three general categories:

The first is a function of the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures: to offer the opportunity for students enrolled in radio production courses to participate in creative work through which and in which they may learn about themselves and the world of which they are a part.

In the Department, opportunity also exists in radio production for the learning of specific techniques now employed in the commercial field of radio, for absorbing through outside reading and through classroom participation something of the heritage which has produced our present day forms, and for building criteria which will permit the development of a deepened appreciation and criticism of what is being produced in the field.

In the Communication Center, programs are produced with the hope that they are appropriate to the aims and objectives of a great university. The Communication Center has been encouraged by its sponsors, by its listeners, by the community, and by the awards of critical groups in the field that it is in part consistently realizing these objectives. Students, faculty members, townspeople, and visitors have had and will continue to have an opportunity to participate in this endeavor which is perhaps best characterized by the name of one of its program series, the American Adventure, carried this year coast-to-coast on NBC.

Recording

During the past year, the recording studio of the Communication Center has produced over 500,000 feet of magnetic tape recordings, and has cut over 500 separate discs. Contents of these transcriptions have varied from simple 20-second spot announcements to thirty-minute dramatic productions aired on national networks. The recording studio is equipped to record on tape or disc, or to make transfers from tape, disc, or film including synchronous tracks for films. It functions as a laboratory for the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures and as a service to the campus.

Television and Motion Picture Laboratory

The Communication Center also operates a studio, control room, and cutting room for motion picture laboratory production. Equipped with lighting units, 16mm motion picture cameras, and editing equipment, these facilities will be used in the instructional program of the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures and for program research and experimentation. The studios and camera equipment of WUNC-TV are also used for laboratory instruction.

Research

The Communication Center is not primarily a research organization; however, the need is recognized for research in the mass media of communication particularly through the cooperative efforts of production experts and social scientists. In matters of research the Communication Center will cooperate closely with the University Institute for Research in Social Science, the School of Journalism, and the Department of Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures.

The University Testing Service was established in 1937 primarily for the purpose of administering and scoring tests and for test research. Its activities were greatly expanded, beginning in 1945, as the result of a contract with the Veterans Administration to provide vocational guidance for veterans. Since that time, more than 8,000 veterans, many of them partially disabled, have been tested and counseled. As the result of a decision by the University to extend these same services without charge to students, vocational counseling of University students has become one of the major functions of the University Testing Service. More than 3,000 University students have received a comprehensive battery of tests and a series of interviews with vocational counselors on the Testing Service staff. The vocational guidance program for students has been especially designed to be of maximum assistance to those students who have been unable to select a suitable academic major, who are uncertain about their vocational choice, or who are encountering serious academic difficulties.

In addition to the test scoring and test research work, which have been carried on since 1937 and have been facilitated by the use of an I.B.M. scoring machine and graphic item counter, the University Testing Service has engaged in several closely related activities. A remedial reading program has been operated for the benefit of University students who wished to improve their reading skills. A cross indexed occupational information library is maintained for the use of University students who wish to acquire detailed information regarding job requirements, duties, rates of pay, training courses, and employment outlook. The University Testing Service is an approved agency for the administration of seven national testing programs and participates in testing projects sponsored by other universities and colleges and by such organizations as the State Department of Public Instruction, the State Education Commission, and the North Carolina College Conference.

The University Testing Service assists and works in cooperation with other departments and agencies of the University in administering, scoring, and interpreting tests; arranging for specialized testing programs; compiling and analyzing test data; and reporting the results of testing and counseling for those students who request it after completing the vocational guidance program.

The Folklore Council was organized in September, 1935, to promote the cooperation and coordination of all those interested in folklore and to encourage the collecting and preserving, the study and interpretation, the active perpetuation and dissemination of all phases of folklore. Folklore is defined by the Council as embracing all cultural aspects of folk life.

The Council represents a reorganization of The Institute of Folk Music, which was started in September, 1931, and which now becomes a division of the Council. It was found that there was need for a comprehensive organization to unify and stimulate membership of the former Institute of Folk Music.

FUNCTIONS OF THE INSTITUTE

As defined by the Council, folklore embraces all cultural aspects of folk life. In all lands the latter is closely allied to, and interwoven with, music in its various manifestations: as song, dance, or religious worship.

The Institute of Folk Music has varied, though related, aims:

1. The collection and preservation of indigenous material, as found in the various regions of the state.
2. The perpetuation of traditional songs, dances, and hymns through teaching traditional music in the schools and communities, as well as organizing county folk festivals and "old-time-music" conventions.
3. The scientific study, analysis, and interpretation of all the collected material.
4. The furtherance of composition based on folk music.

The Department of Music collaborates in the accomplishment of these ends, not only indirectly through its instruction in theoretical and applied music, but more particularly through courses in folk music and comparative musicology which are designed for the training of workers in this field. To further these studies, the Music Department has in addition to a rather comprehensive collection of books on folkmusic, a representative library of recorded folksongs from the various sections of the U. S., including those of American Indian tribes. Besides all these there are songs and ballads of the most important European countries, as well as the comprehensive collection of Ethnic music of Africa, Asia and the Pacific Isles, recently issued by Columbia Recording Company.

The Institute of Government grew out of the classroom of a professor in the University of North Carolina in the 1920's. It developed into a program of action supported by city, county, state, and federal officials in North Carolina during the 1930's. It became an integral part of the structure of the greater University of North Carolina in January, 1942.

The Institute of Government unites public officials, private citizens, and students and teachers of civics and government in a systematic effort to meet definite and practical needs in North Carolina.

(1) It seeks to coordinate the efforts and activities of city, county, state, and federal officials who have been working for one hundred and fifty years on the same problems, for the same people, in the same territory, in overlapping governmental units, without coming together in systematic and continued cooperative activity—in the effort to eliminate needless duplication, friction, and waste.

(2) It seeks to bridge the gap between outgoing and incoming public officials at the end of their two- or four-year terms by organizing and transmitting our steadily accumulating governmental experience to successive generations of public officials—in the effort to cut down the lost time, lost motion, and lost money involved in a rotating governmental personnel.

(3) It seeks to collect and correlate for each group of public officials the laws governing their powers and duties now scattered through a multiplicity of books to the point of practical inaccessibility in constitutional provisions, legislative enactments (including public-local and private laws), municipal ordinances, and court decisions—in the effort to make them conveniently available for practical use.

(4) It seeks to collect and compare the different methods of doing similar things arising out of the initiative and resourcefulness of officials in a hundred county courthouses, three hundred city halls, and scores of state departments and federal agencies—in the effort to raise the standards of governmental performance by lifting the poorest practices to the level of the best.

(5) It seeks to bridge the gap between government as it is taught in schools and as it is practiced in city halls, county courthouses, state departments, and federal agencies.

(6) It seeks to provide the machinery for putting the people in touch with their government and keeping them in touch with it.

(7) It seeks to build a demonstration laboratory and clearinghouse of governmental information to which successive generations of officials, citizens, and students and teachers of government may go to see demonstrated in one place the methods and practices in government they would now have to go to one hundred counties, about three hundred cities and towns, and a score or more of state departments to find—and would not find practically available for use when they had reached these sources.

The Institute of Government is working with officials and citizens and the schools to achieve the foregoing objectives through comparative studies of the structure and workings of government in the cities, counties, and state of North Carolina, by staff members going from one city hall, county courthouse, state department, and federal agency to another, collecting, comparing, and classifying the laws and practices in books and in action. It is setting forth the results of these studies in guidebooks, demonstrating them in laboratories, teaching them in training schools, keeping them up to date, and transmitting them through a clearinghouse of governmental information for officials, citizens, and teachers of civics and government in the schools.

The School of Law and the Institute of Government

The School of Law and the Institute have embarked upon a program through which the School of Law and its students will receive the benefit of the specialized experience of the members of the Institute staff. From time to time they will, as Lecturers in Law, teach significant portions of the School of Law courses which have heretofore been taught by Mr. Coates—Criminal Law and Procedure, Municipal Corporations, Legislation, and Family Law. It is believed that this marks a significant development which will contribute much to the training of students for civic leadership and public office, as well as for professional competence.

The Department of Political Science and the Institute of Government

The Department of Political Science and the Institute of Government are co-operating in a program through which the Department of Political Science and its students will receive the benefit of the specialized experience of the Institute of Government and its staff. From time to time, as Lecturers in Political Science, they will teach particular courses and conduct seminars within the field of their particular competence, under the rules and regulations of the Graduate School.

The Department of Political Science believes that this marks a significant development which will contribute much to the training of its students for civic leadership and public service as well as for professional competence.

The Institute for Research in Social Science was founded in 1924 by Howard W. Odum who served as Director for the first twenty years. Its relation to the central administration of the University is somewhat analogous to that of the schools and major divisions of the institution.

A board of governors is composed of representatives from the University administration, the social science departments, and other agencies within the University with which the Institute cooperates. This body determines basic policies, with details of administration delegated to the Director and staff. An executive committee of five members, elected from the board of governors, acts for the board between meetings and handles certain matters for the board.

Major functions of the Institute are: (1) to encourage and stimulate research in the social sciences at the University of North Carolina and to map out a coordinated and integrated research program; (2) to serve as a center for discovering and developing personnel in social science research, achieving this purpose in collaboration with the several social science departments of the Graduate School; (3) to serve as a center for cooperation with other agencies toward the development and testing of procedures for making social science research of more functional value.

The research staff of the Institute is drawn from the fields of anthropology, business administration, city and regional planning, economics, history, journalism, medicine, political science, psychiatry, social and clinical psychology, social work, sociology, and statistics.

Senior staff in the Institute is of two types: (1) staff members (research professors and research associates) who are engaged in research within the scope of the Institute; and (2) staff affiliates who have a semi-formal association with the Institute, as, for example, a consultant or a member of a research planning committee. Staff members generally have the rank of professor, associate professor, or assistant professor in the University with all their privileges and obligations. Approximately one-third to one-half of their time is allocated to research, with the remainder devoted to teaching in one of the social sciences or related departments. In addition, part-time arrangements are made with other individuals, usually on the University faculty, in accordance with the research programs developed from year to year.

Junior staff of the Institute consists of: (1) research fellows who are mature graduate students equipped by training and experience to carry on special research assignments usually under individual or committee direction; (2) research assistants who serve on annual appointment, generally carry four-fifths of a graduate study program, and assist in Institute research projects or serve in staff capacities under supervision, thereby securing valuable experience and training.

Regionalism and the achieving of an understanding of the State and the South have been dominant themes in the research program. During the past decade, however, the Institute has added to its earlier and continuing research program a widening variety of behavioral science research financed largely by foundation funds together with research projects sponsored by federal agencies. Current research may be grouped under communication, community, complex social organization, demography, economic behavior, folk cultures (including the American Indian), human relations industry, marriage and the family, personality, political behavior, public opinion, race relations, small group behavior, social aspects of health and medical care, southern regional and North Carolina studies (culture, history, industrial development, regional development, rural life), urban studies.

The Institute is housed on the third and fourth floors of Alumni Building, in one room of New East Annex, and in two rooms in the main Library.

In cooperation with the Institute of Statistics, the Institute sponsors a social science statistical laboratory with Daniel O. Price as Director and George E. Nicholson, Jr., as Associate Director. With its services available to all social science faculty members, the laboratory (1) advises on all phases of quantitative methodology, using consultation from the staff of the Institute of Statistics; (2) provides editing, coding, and computing services; (3) serves in a liaison capacity with the sorting and tabulating units of the Institute of Statistics; (4) conducts research designed to develop and test new quantitative concepts and techniques.

A Small Group Laboratory, consisting of an observation room equipped with binaral sound equipment and research offices, is located on the fourth floor of Alumni Building. It is under the supervision of John W. Thibaut in social psychology. Besides providing a locus for the Organization Research Group, this laboratory is used for the research of other members of the faculty and by various departments and schools in training in observation and interviewing.

Under the direction of John Gulick, the Institute has established a Cross-Cultural Laboratory in the western part of North Carolina.

Here is developed basic information as well as personal contacts to facilitate field collection of data concerning people of several cultures: Cherokee Indians, isolated mountain whites, urban communities, and so on. The laboratory facilitates graduate training in field research techniques, as well as providing a site for continuing research by members of the faculty.

A departmental library, housed on the fourth floor of Alumni Building, gives easy access to books, journals, and other publications in the fields of anthropology, city and regional planning, social work and sociology. It also provides facilities for reading and study.

The central office, in charge of the Assistant Director, coordinates secretarial and clerical services, personnel policies, fiscal operations, purchasing, travel arrangements, and editing and preparation of research manuscripts for publication.

Additional information and application blanks for appointment to research assistantships may be obtained by writing to the Director, Institute for Research in Social Science, The University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The Institute of Latin American Studies brings together the courses relating to Latin America offered in various departments of the University. It offers an undergraduate major, which is in effect also a major in one of the recognized departments. The Institute also offers programs in Latin American studies for the master's degree (see statement in the offerings of the Department of Political Science, p. 325).

The undergraduate program of courses is intended to provide a basis for graduate work in Spanish, history, or political science. It will be of significant value to students who wish to enter the Foreign Service of the United States or to engage in Latin American trade.

In the Latin American field the University of North Carolina has a rich collection of books, many of which were secured through grant from the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation. A considerable amount of recording equipment has been secured for intensive language instruction in Spanish and Portuguese.

The Institute of Statistics is a research agency of the University established in 1945 to stimulate and strengthen the University's program in statistics on all its campuses. The Institute under the direction of Gertrude M. Cox and associate director, Harold Hotelling, works through departments and agencies which exist under the regular administrations since it is an inter-campus activity. Through sections organized on respective campuses, it plays a major role in assisting local administrations to create, maintain and strengthen departments, and administers grants and contracts which have had to do with statistical theory and practice. It brings distinguished scholars to the University from other centers throughout the world to do research, teaching and occasional lecturing and is instrumental in organizing summer sessions and conferences. It encourages various separate statistical groups to work together for mutual benefit in teaching and research.

An Advisory Council made up of prominent leaders in business, universities, industries, public and private organizations and the professors from North Carolina and other states, advises in charting the general program of the Institute of Statistics, assists in procuring and investing supplementary funds and interprets to industry, government and others the purposes and potentialities of the Institute.

The theory and technique for obtaining knowledge by the methods of deductive inference have been the source of fruitful study for several thousand years. On the other hand, the problem of obtaining knowledge about the world in which we live by inferring general causal laws from specific observable events has received serious and concerted attention only within the present century. Research workers in all fields which demand interpretation of data began to develop methods and techniques to solve their problems. Gradually it became evident that a body of techniques and ideas stemming from a central intellectual problem was being pursued and developed in diverse fields, which demanded such techniques for progress in that special branch of known knowledge. Accordingly, some research workers began to study the problems independently of the particular application, and there developed from these researches a body of ideas which have resulted in profound and important practical and theoretical results. For example, the combinatorial mathematics needed for the design of a field trial for efficient discrimination among the yields of several varieties of cotton may also be applied in medical research and in the sampling of human populations to obtain, more quickly and cheaply than by a complete enumeration, information needed for proper government administration. The same statistical formulae have been used to infer prehistory from skull measurements and to distinguish between plants of similar species.

These are problems of statistical method. They are parts of the general theory of statistics, which has in recent years taken on a coherent unity superseding the earlier heterogeneous ideas and formulae adapted to scattered specific needs. The theory of statistics, as now understood, includes not merely formulae and methods for combining observations and drawing inferences from them, but also the design of suitable experiments and projects for collecting data, so far as the same considerations apply to diverse fields of application. It uses a great deal of higher mathematics and rests essentially on the theory of probability. It also has relations with philosophy through the theory of inductive inference.

In Raleigh the Institute cooperates with the Department of Experimental Statistics which is organized in the School of Agriculture and which engages in much close consulting work with the Agricultural Experiment Station and Engineering School. Besides training graduate students, whose chief interest is in application of statistics to such areas, it engages in cooperative research activities with government agencies and with industry throughout the state. In addition to conducting a graduate training program and granting M.A.

and Ph.D. degrees in Experimental Statistics, the department conducts the undergraduate teaching of statistics and offers a B.A. in statistics.

In Chapel Hill the Institute works with many groups. The Department of Statistics is organized within the Graduate School and is principally concerned with research in theoretical statistics and the training of students for M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. The department has research projects sponsored by the Office of Naval Research, United States Air Force and other organizations such as the Ford Foundation in the area of probability and statistics, which provide opportunities for graduate students to conduct research leading to the Ph.D. degree and receive stipends for their graduate study.

The Department of Biostatistics in the School of Public Health, the Social Science Statistical Laboratory and the Psychometric Laboratory are other organizations in Chapel Hill, which, together with the Institute of Statistics, engage in cooperative research activities. Through the Institute of Statistics, contact between members of the various groups is maintained and encouraged. Uniting the strengths of several departments and campuses, the Institute in its membership and staff represents a resource in statistics of great distinction.

Regular work in dramatic art at the University of North Carolina was initiated by Dr. Frederick H. Koch in 1918. The same year he founded The Carolina Playmakers. The theatre building which is now their home was remodeled and dedicated to their use in 1925.

The Playmakers serve the purposes of both a laboratory organization and a community theatre. The faculty of the Department of Dramatic Art, assisted by students, is the working staff. The busy program of activities between September and June each year includes four major productions of old and modern dramas, classical and popular, and four experimental productions of new scripts, both one-act and full-length. Major productions and experimental productions are given during the summer session. The acting, scenery, lighting, costuming, stage-management, as well as much of the designing and directing for these plays, are done by students, principally those enrolled in the department. During the school year the Playmakers frequently tour one of their productions through towns in North Carolina and neighboring states, and each summer a large number of students take acting and staff engagements in off-campus productions such as The Lost Colony, Unto These Hills, Horn in the West, and Wilderness Road.

Membership in the Playmakers is open to graduate and undergraduate students from all classes and divisions of the University and to citizens of the town and neighboring communities. Any person desiring membership can earn it simply by taking part, in any capacity, in the Playmakers' activities. Roles in the plays and positions on the production staffs are assigned through competition. Playmakers who complete a specified number of work units in at least two divisions of theatre activity are eligible to receive a mask (pin) award. Persons who do outstanding work, usually over a period of two or more years are given a Special Award. The Roland Holt Silver Cup and the Joseph D. Feldman Award are presented to students for distinctive achievements in playwriting.

ESTABLISHED LECTURES

GEORGE ALEXANDER HEARD, Chairman

The John Calvin McNair Lectures

This lectureship was founded through a bequest by the Reverend John Calvin McNair of the Class of 1849. The series was inaugurated in 1908 by Francis H. Smith, the first in a line of eminent thinkers which has included Henry Van Dyke, Arthur Twining Hadley, John Dewey, Roscoe Pound, William Louis Poteat, Harris Elliott Kirk, Robert Andrews Millikan, George F. Thomas, Arthur H. Compton, Kirtley F. Mather, William Ernest Hocking, Edmund W. Sinnott, and Charles A. Coulson.

The plan and purpose of the lectures are stated in the will as follows: "They shall employ some able Scientific Gentleman to deliver before all the students then in attendance at said University a course of Lectures the object of which Lectures shall be to show the mutual bearing of Science and Theology upon each other and to prove the existence and attributes, as far as may be, of God from nature. The lectures, which must be prepared by a member of some one of the Evangelic denominations of Christians, must be published within twelve months after delivery, in either pamphlet or book form."

The Weil Lectures

An unendowed lectureship on American citizenship was established by the University during the year 1914-1915. The families of Vol Weil and Henry Weil of Goldsboro later generously endowed the lectures as an annual series called the Weil Lectures on American Citizenship.

William Howard Taft delivered the first lectures. A group of distinguished world citizens has followed him, including William Bennett Munro, Edward A. Ross, William Allen White, Charles A. Beard, Harold J. Laski, Felix Frankfurter, and Henry Wallace. Among the more recent speakers have been T. V. Smith, Richard B. Tawney, Robert M. MacIver, Eleanor Roosevelt, Edwin G. Nourse, Robert A. Taft, Zechariah Chafee, Jr., and Galo Plaza.

The University Library contains nearly 750,000 volumes. Including manuscripts, pamphlets, maps, microfacsimiles, recordings, clippings, prints, etc., the count of holdings is approximately 3,722,487 pieces. Bound periodicals account for 145,000 volumes; and the rate of growth of the Library averages about 40,000 volumes a year through purchase, gift, and exchange. Periodical and other serial subscriptions number about 5,000.

The General Library building, situated at the south end of Poll Place facing South Building, was erected in 1929 and expanded in 1952 to provide an air-conditioned bookstack containing 511 carrels for faculty and graduate students, additional general reading rooms for faculty studies, and special facilities for rare books, manuscripts, North Caroliniana, maps, documents, graphic arts, the Bull's Head Bookshop, and the School of Library Science. Located on the ground floor are the Southern Historical Collection, Rare Book Room, Photo duplication Service, Extension Department (for off-campus service), Bull's Head Bookshop (browsing, rental library, and sale of current books), Assembly Room, Map Room, and Graphic Arts Collection. The first floor, entered directly from the front of the building, provides general service through a Reserve Book Room and General College Library; and special collections of North Caroliniana and Business Administration and Economics. The North Carolina Collection is the most complete one of its scope—housed in a beautiful reading room contiguous to the general stack. This room is flanked by the Sir Walter Raleigh Rooms furnished as in 1600, and the Early Carolina Rooms equipped as in 1740. The richness of the North Carolina Collection and its quarters bespeak the generosity of several important donors—John Sprunt Hill, Bruce Cotten, Preston Davie. The Librarian's Office is located on the first floor. Exhibition cases on this floor, as well as on the ground and second floors, display special materials or illustrate topics of current interest. The second floor contains the General Reference Room, Loan Desk, card catalogs, Documents Department, Current Affairs Reading Room, and departments of the Bibliography Division (Order, Serials, Cataloging). The third floor houses the School of Library Science (including a departmental library). There also are individual studies (assigned for one-year periods to persons writing up the results of their research), conference rooms, and seminar rooms (not assigned on regular class schedules).

Special Collections of importance include: the Southern Historical Collection (2,750,000 manuscripts); the North Carolina Collection (62,000 volumes and 115,000 other pieces); the Hanes Collection recording the development of the book, including 650 incunabula and some 2,000 manuscripts or other items; the Whitaker Collections of Johnson, Dickens, Cruikshank, Thackeray, costume plates, Shakespeare folios; the William Henry Hoyt Collection of French History (Napoleon and his times); the Nolen Collection of city and regional planning; the Chester N. Gould Collection of Scandinavian literature and philology; the Preston Davie Collection of Raleighana, Caroliniana and early Americana; the Bruce Cotten Collection of North Caroliniana; the Archibald Henderson Collection of Materials Relating to George Bernard Shaw; the Samuel A. Tannenbaum Shakespeare Collection; the Bowman Gray Collections on World Wars I and II; the Burton Emmett Collection of Graphic Arts; the Thomas Wolfe Collection; together with unusual collections of American drama, dramatic manuscripts, Spanish drama, Folklore, Latin American studies, Southern literature, Romance languages, maps, prints, and graphic arts.

The Library, a member of the Association of Research Libraries, has extensive bibliographical resources, including a joint catalog with the Duke University and other libraries. The libraries of the three University campuses, together with the Duke Library, have published union checklists of their holdings in certain broad fields such as science and social sciences. Other checklists are projected. In 1955 an intercampus borrower's card for faculty and selected graduate students was inaugurated. Frequent messenger service, including truck delivery, and a cooperative acquisitions program further cement interlibrary relationships in the region. Interlibrary borrowing is handled by the Reference Department, lending by the Circulation or Extension Department. The Photoduplication Laboratory serves further to meet immediate needs for scarce research material.

Except for libraries of the Division of Health Affairs (Medicine, Public Health, Nursing, Dentistry, Pharmacy) -- which are fully accessible to the entire campus -- the University Library system is under the centralized administration of the University Librarian. In addition to the rooms and collections already listed in the General Library building, the University Library includes the following professional and special libraries: Law, Chemistry, Geology-Geography, Mathematics-Physics, Music, Sociology-Anthropology-Planning. Also a part of the University Library are several departmental collections which are staffed by non-Library personnel: Art, Botany, Institute of Government, Library Science, Psychology, and Zoology. The Curriculum Laboratory of the Department of Education is not classified as a library at this time.

THE UNIVERSITY NEWS BUREAU

ALFRED GUY IVEY, Director
 JAKE WADE, Associate Director
 DELL HOYLE, Staff Writer

The University News Bureau is the official news distributing agency of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. It is responsible for the gathering and dissemination of town and campus news to the several press associations, to the newspapers in North Carolina and throughout the country, to radio and television stations and to magazines and other information media.

The main offices of the News Bureau are in Bynum Hall. The sports division, with Jake Wade in charge, is in Woollen Gymnasium.

In the fall of 1918 the News Bureau was established with a full-time director for the first time in the history of the University. Prior to that, news stories from Chapel Hill were sent out by the professors of journalism and student correspondents.

Four men have directed the University Bureau since 1918: Robert W. Madry, Lenoir Chambers, Louis Graves, and A. G. Ivey. Mr. Madry was the first director from 1918 to 1919, when he resigned to enter the Columbia University School of Journalism. Later he worked on newspapers in Paris and New York, and returned to become director of the News Bureau in 1923, continuing in that position until his death in 1955. Lenoir Chambers, now editor of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, was director of the News Bureau from 1919 to 1921, and Louis Graves, now contributing editor of the Chapel Hill Weekly, was director and professor of journalism from 1921 to 1923.

The present director, A. G. Ivey, is a member of the Class of 1935, Nieman Fellow in Journalism at Harvard University (1951-52), former associate editor of the Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel and former executive editor of the Shelby Daily Star. He has been director of the News Bureau since September 1, 1955.

It has always been the policy of the News Bureau to send out all significant and worthwhile news about the University, whether favorable or unfavorable. The University Administration has never imposed censorship on news from Chapel Hill. This means that the operations of the University have been an open book. The result is that the people of the state are confident that they will be informed of the day-by-day activities of their University.

The Institute of Fisheries Research was established by action of the Board of Trustees September 29, 1947. The function of the Institute is to make practical application of biology and other sciences, including economics and marketing, to the problems of the fisheries of North Carolina. It endeavors through scientific research to arrive at a better practical understanding of the conditions that impede development of the state's marine fisheries and of the principles that should govern the application of measures of conservation. The establishment of the Institute rests, then, on the belief that not only those engaged in fisheries and related industries but also the state as a whole will profit from the applications of science and economics to the problems of the fisheries and other marine resources.

It is believed that proper rules of conservation of fisheries resources are not best arrived at by mere hit-or-miss methods or by the sincerest effort to satisfy now one and now another group having special interests and necessarily limited knowledge. There is needed, as seems generally recognized, more basic knowledge concerning our resources. Facts are wanted, rather than casual theories, as to what actually governs the abundance of fishes and shellfishes, which show continual changes with decrease and increase of numbers. Understanding is wanted concerning what directs the movements of particular groups of fishes, so that desirable or undesirable kinds are here or there, from season to season and from year to year, in unpredictable fashions. This, in turn, means that more should be known about the underlying physical, chemical, and biological conditions and their changes, reflected in fluctuations of basic food supplies, salinities, temperatures, currents, stream discharge, and oceanic circulation. It is assumed also that properly conducted scientific and economic studies may be helpful in promoting efficient and more profitable practices in exploitation, processing, and marketing of fishery products.

The interest of the University and the state in applications of marine biology and in fisheries began more than half a century ago with the establishment by the University of a summer laboratory at Beaufort through the Department of Biology and with active cooperation from the State Geological and Economic Survey, partial predecessors of the present Department of Conservation and Development. This laboratory developed into the Fisheries Biological Laboratory operated by the federal government. Despite its services and potential usefulness, experience has proven that this laboratory cannot meet the full practical needs of the state.

In 1947, the University again interested itself in the problems of the fisheries. With the effective cooperation of the Department of Conservation and Development and its Division of Commercial Fisheries, it has established a laboratory for fisheries research at a favorable location near Morehead City. Its inauguration was made possible by a four-year grant from the Knapp Foundation, Inc., of New York, conditioned on matching contributions from the state. The grant from the Knapp Foundation was "A tribute to Joseph P. Knapp's lifelong interest in the betterment of mankind." The matching on the part of the state for the first biennium was accomplished by giving the Institute direction of an appropriation made by the legislature of 1947 for a survey of off-shore shrimping grounds and a part of the appropriation from the same legislature for the rehabilitation of the oyster and other shellfish. The cooperation of the Commission for the Survey of Shrimping Grounds and of those concerned with the oyster industry made this possible. The legislature of 1949 made an appropriation through the Department of Conservation and Development, to match the grant to the University from the Knapp Foundation for the biennium 1949-1951. Since 1951 the legislature has made appropriations directly to the University for the operation of the Institute.

Meantime, with financial aid from an alumnus, Mr. George Lurcy of New York, matched by a grant from the General Education Board, there had been undertaken a Survey of Marine Fisheries of North Carolina. The report of the Survey was published in February, 1951.

The Institute will contribute to the educational program of the University by offering practical training and guidance for graduate students.

Courses in hydrobiology and fishery science are described in Part IV of this catalogue under Department of Zoology (page 377).

The Research Laboratories of Anthropology were established October 7, 1939, for the purpose of sponsoring archaeological and ethnological studies in North Carolina and the Southern states. In addition to its own research program, it serves to coordinate these activities among other organizations and functions as a central repository and research center for cooperating agencies. Its present collection of basic data exceeds 1,000,000 items and is considered to be one of the primary sources for archaeological research in the South. The central office of the Laboratories is situated in Alumni Building with processing laboratories and storage files being housed in Venable Hall.

 THE MOREHEAD PLANETARIUM

Gift of John Motley Morehead (Class of 1891), the Morehead Building contains the Memorial Rotunda, Faculty Lounge, University Room, and a dining room for official functions of the University. Among the paintings from the Morehead collection permanently hung in the Rotunda are Rembrandt's portrait of his sister and many other valuable works of famous artists. Two large galleries flanking the Rotunda provide space for temporary exhibitions.

The scientific portion of the building contains the sixth Zeiss Planetarium installation in the Western Hemisphere, the first one in the world to be owned and operated by a university. A realistic reproduction of the sky of thousands of years past or hence as seen from any position on earth is produced on the sixty-eight-foot perforated stainless steel dome of the chamber which seats 490 visitors in concentric circular rows. Spectacular productions given since opening on May 10, 1949, have included "Star of Bethlehem," "By Rocket To Mars," "Birth and Death of the Earth," "Easter, the Awakening," and many others. Public demonstrations are given every evening in the week at 8:30; on Saturdays at 11:00 and 3:00; Sundays at 3:00 and 4:00. Special presentations for school children are given on Wednesdays and Thursdays at 11:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M. by reservation. A new program is given each four or five weeks. The Planetarium is used also for University classes in astronomy and navigation.

Associated with the Planetarium are two large scientific exhibit rooms and one of only two thirty-five foot orreries of the solar system in the world. In the first seven years of operation, 675,000 visitors attended the Planetarium presentations.
