

REGINA LAWYER TO STAND TRIAL

Regina, March 29.—Harold Fisher, a Regina lawyer, was committed today for trial on what is said to be a record number of charges for the West sixty-five, including forgery and uttering. The reading of the charges occupied forty-one minutes, the police magistrate and the clerk of the court taking the task in relays. Fisher stood erect with his hands in his pockets, gazing out the court window, during the first fifteen minutes. Tiring of the position, he draped himself over the rail of the prisoner's dock and at the last of the ordeal he was propped up in the corner against the wall. A total default of more than $20,000 is charged against Fisher. Fisher left Regina last Summer and was arrested in England and brought back to Regina. Though he has pleaded not guilty, he asked for trial by jury, a signed statement written by himself while an inmate in the police cells admits stealing two cheques for $5,000 and $1,000 respectively, forging endorsements to them and uttering them by depositing the cheques to his personal account in the Standard Bank was read in court and admitted as evidence.

OVER 1,500 DELEGATES

Toronto, March 29.—Delegates are registering in such numbers for the National Conference on Education and Citizenship to be held in Toronto April 4 to 7 that it seems certain that more than 1,500 will have completed their registration by Easter Monday. On that date special associate registrations will be made available for any interested individuals who may wish to register. The local committee has decided that individuals not representing any organiza-

They are Professor Emmanuel de Margerie, of the University of Strasbourg, and Professor Henri Hauser of the University of Paris. France is taking a particularly keen interest in this conference and is sending six of her most noted educationists.

At a special convocation on Friday, April 6, the University of Toronto will confer honorary degrees on Sir Michael Sadler, Sir Henry Newbolt, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Prof. Margerie and Prof. Hauser.

New Orleans Officials Adopt New Plan for City Employees

New Orleans, La., March 29.—Married men employed by the city were thrown into consternation to-day with the announcement by Commissioner Murphy that hereafter their pay cheques would be mailed to their home addresses instead of being handed to them in person. Long arguments and objections counted for naught. "Every city employee from the Mayor down is going to get his cheque at home," Commissioner Murphy said. "Every member of the Commission Council is in the same fix as the street laborer on this move. The money belongs in the home and I am going to do my best to put it there, and then if some of the wretches cannot keep it there, that is their fault."

New Zealand Government Candidate Wins By-election

London, March 29.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The victory of the Government candidate, McMillan, over Sir Joseph Ward, former Premier of New Zealand, in the by-election in Tauranga may have an influence far beyond New Zealand politics, The Times says. Premier Massey had announced that if the verdict of the polls was against his Government he would probably resign. The Times says that New Zealand could ill afford the expense of two elections in four months.

Scrymgeour, Scottish M. P., Did Not Accept Liquor From Sailors

London, March 29.—A party of sailors traveling by train in a train offered a drink from a flask to Mr. Scrymgeour, the prohibitionist member of the House of Commons for Dundee. He refused the offer and looked at him more closely and finally recognized him and invited him to breakfast with them. Scrymgeour accepted the invitation and asked the sailors to read with him a chapter from the Bible.

GIRL ACCUSED OF THEFT ENDED LIFE

Branford, Ont., March 29.—"Tell the Duke I did not do it." Tortured by fear of facing disgrace at school through allegations of dishonesty which, it is claimed, she admitted at the time they were made, a sixteen-year-old girl, Miss Green, eighteen-year-old student at Branford College, died to-day from a wound inflicted by herself with a small knife three weeks ago.

FULLY JUSTIFIES MEDICAL RESEARCH

Too Soon, However, to Say Whether Banting Discovery Is "Peak"

Many Problems in Handling It Worked Out: Pasteur Led Way

Toronto, March 29.—In his noted lecture on Alpine Peaks of Medicine, Prof. J. J. R. MacLeod of the chair of physiology in the University of Toronto, dealt with the latest developments in curative medicine, that of the discovery of insulin treatment for diabetes.

"The discovery is very recent and it is therefore impossible to judge its magnitude," said Prof. MacLeod of insulin. "It is not peak, he admitted, as compared with the peaks attained by Lister and Pasteur though it may be a high hill."

Continuing he said: "Our perspective at the present time does not allow us to formulate any judgment as to whether it is the peak, but we have been dealing with it as an application of the work growing up in recent years on the functions of the ductless glands."

"These ductless glands produce something that enters the blood and it is necessary for the proper combustion of blood. One of these ductless glands is the pancreas. It has been the opinion for many years that the disease condition of this gland is the cause of diabetes."

"It has been surmised that the pancreas contain internal secretions which keep down the blood sugar, and while it has been in the minds of men for many years, no one could prove it absolutely."

"It is a great achievement for Dr. P. G. Banting and Mr. Best to have done the crucial experiments. Dangers of Overdosage. "It was a great achievement by Dr. J. B. Collip, guided by Banting and Best, to succeed in producing a product that can be administered to a patient with safety, provided one takes cognizance of the effects of an overdosage, for insulin is highly potent."

"The dangers from overdosage were pointed out by the doctor who worked and eliminated before they were applied in the clinics. It is the teamwork of a number of men for many years, but the work has been worked out as it has."

"To teach and conduct research work is the function of a University, and the work of a research center is to increase as in the last few years."

In his introductory remarks to his subject, "Alpine Peaks of Medicine," Prof. MacLeod asked his audience to direct their attention to the Alps. Only a few peaks were visible from a distance—and they were in ranges. The peaks were in the Alps, but were lesser hills. The peaks might be considered the great achievements of the workers.

Biology was born in 1543, said Prof. MacLeod, and the sciences rising then were those of anatomy and physiology. Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood, received considerable attention, at the hands of the speaker, who detailed the theories held before the time of Harvey of the function and action of the blood.

It was thought then that the food was carried to the liver and there converted into blood and endowed with material spirits. From the liver it was carried to the right chamber of the heart by the great vein. In the right chamber it ebbed and flowed through the great veins of the body, but some of it sweated through the pores of the heart into the left chamber. Some of it was carried to the lungs and there expelled, and also some gases were taken in by the lungs and carried to the heart.

Harvey changed all that, expounding the theory afterwards, confirmed that the blood from the tissues went to the right side of the heart, thence through the lungs and back to the heart and from there it was again sent on its round to the tissues.

Harvey would never have been successful if it had not been for his

COLD WEATHER TALK IN ONTARIO

Toronto, March 29.—With this part of Canada shivering with zero and, in many places, below-zero temperatures, the joy-killing prediction is being pressed by local prophets that there may be no Summer at all this year. Away back in 1816 a whole year passed during which there was no Summer, they argue. There was frost in every month of the year and a snowstorm in June in the northern part of the United States. Green things were killed. Indian corn refused to ripen. England and other parts of the world likewise felt extreme cold in the Summer, with the same effect on their productive capacity.

Sir Frederick Stupart, Director of the Meteorological Service of Canada, when asked his opinion of such a prophecy, said: "This is most uncertain weather in the world, and no man can tell what it is going to do. It is not reasonable to imagine that there will be no Summer, but at the same time any one who says there will be Summer is guessing from what happened last year and the year before."

"All Advertising is Retail and Local"

"All advertising is retail and local in the end no matter where printed or by whom paid for," writes James H. Collins, business expert.

Every manufacturer or distributor who advertises should tack that sentence over his desk and read it over before he plans a campaign.

Unless your message is retail and local, it misses the mark, for final sales are both retail and local.

The daily newspaper, being essentially local, and the great mouthpiece for the retailers, is obviously the medium for the thoughtful manufacturer who is looking for sales where market conditions are favorable.

WEAKENING GERMANY'S CASE

If Germany expected to gain the sympathy of the world by attempting to prove that the occupational policy of France and Belgium has more political than economic significance the announcement which has just been issued by the invading nations will have shattered her hopes.

Public opinion in Great Britain was undoubtedly on the side of France at the outset. Mr. Bonar Law's warning that her policy would be "disastrous, not only to Germany, but to herself, and even to the economic life of Europe" has not weakened the sympathy which the great majority of the people and a considerable section of the press have betrayed from time to time.

For instance, this is a sample of editorial comment from an influential weekly published in the heart of industrial Worcestershire:

The question that suggests itself to a very large number in this country, at the moment, is: "Would France's abstention from compulsive action against Germany have brought results any less disastrous than those our Government can now foresee?" The experience of the past four-and-a-half years shows that Germany would never have met her reparation obligations unless forced to do so.

Other newspapers take a similar attitude. In many cases the simple argument is advanced that if Great Britain had supported France and Belgium Germany would have found it considerably more difficult to have met the invasion with the policy which she has pursued.

WHILE WE WANT MEN

Two young men of staunch physique and about twenty-five years of age reached Vancouver the other day from India after having served a little more than eight years in the British army.

It goes without saying that some of the problems with which Canadian immigration officials are confronted from time to time involve ticklish questions of procedure and command extreme caution.

particularly young men who bear the obvious stamp of health and good character, to say nothing of service in the army, present themselves for admission to this country and definitely announce their intention to get work of any kind and be satisfied with what offers for the time being.

WILL MR. ASQUITH GO TO LEEDS?

Those who suggest that a few months out of the political limelight have resulted in even a partial loss of his political sagacity may take Mr. Lloyd George's prompt acceptance of the invitation which the Liberals of Leeds extended to him and to Mr. Asquith to be present at a gathering round the festive board—obviously in the interest of a reconciliation of the two wings of the party—as a new assurance that the ex-Premier still has both eyes and ears open.

Mr. Lloyd George told his prospective hosts to "fix the date most convenient to yourselves and Mr. Asquith" when he signified his willingness to be present at the function proposed.

Meanwhile the ex-Premier has played his cards in such a way as to place the onus of making the first tangible move towards reconciliation a success or failure squarely upon the shoulders of Mr. Asquith.

For these and other reasons, not the least of which is Mr. Lloyd George's possible intention to capitalize the somewhat peculiar attitude of the people towards the Government's policy in several respects, Mr. Asquith's future, the future of his following, and the future of British Liberalism in the wider sense are inextricably involved in the decision which he is now called upon to make.

GOOD FRIDAY MUSICAL FEATURES AT SOME LOCAL CHURCHES

As has been the custom for years past this season of the year, choir, organist and choir, after much work and careful preparation, are again offering special music. Almost in every church throughout the city some sacred work will be rendered or a concert given on

For the occasion the choir will be augmented to sixty voices and the solos will be in the hands of W. H. Jacques and Ivor Blake, tenors, and J. W. Petch and R. Petch, basses. The work will be given under the direction of the organist, Harold Davis.

Emmanuel Baptist Church.
Special music has been arranged for the Friday evening concert to be given in Fernwood Road Emmanuel Baptist Church, and the programme promises to be unusually attractive. The choir numbers will include anthems by Sullivan and Goss, and from the cantata "Crucifixion," Goss, and from the oratorio "Messiah," Mendelssohn, while Mrs. L. F. W. Moore will play a violin solo, "Canon" (Bohm), and that excellent cornet player, G. H. E. Green, will give a solo. This excellent concert will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Christ Church Cathedral.
Sir John Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be rendered in the cathedral at 8 o'clock on Friday. This fine work is a meditation on the Sacred Passion of the Holy Redeemer, and is written for two solo voices (tenor and bass), and chorus.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian.
An interesting new work, "The Announcement," has been prepared, and will be sung in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church by the choir on Good Friday evening at 8:15. This cantata is probably all the more interesting because it comes from the pen of a composer of our own day—R. Deane Shure—and will be sung in Victoria for the first time. The verses are by Rosset E. Mitchell, and the music is a masterly descriptive of the scenes portrayed.

The choir will be under the direction of Jesse A. Longfield, and the vocal numbers will be sung by Miss Beth Simpson, soprano; Mrs. J. A. Longfield, contralto; E. W. Francis, tenor, and Kenneth Angus, baritone.

First Congregational.
At the First Congregational Church on Good Friday evening the Passion cantata "The Darkest Hour," which has been sung the past two years with great success will again be given. This work is by Harold Moore, the well-known English composer, and is a composition embodying music and a highly descriptive character portraying the scenes attendant upon Christ's last days up to and including the agony.

Well-Timed Gasoline

Has a "Follow Through"

THERE'S a marked difference in the way gasolines explode. And it's important that you know.

One kind explodes instantaneously—detonates. It depends on a single crash for the power to drive the piston.

Union Non-Detonating Gasoline explodes in a different way. It thrusts the piston by a long, sustained impulse. It has a "follow through"—exerts a steady pressure throughout the entire stroke.

Detonation Less Efficient

A crashing explosion is less efficient than one that's prolonged.

It limits the compression because of the tendency to explode prematurely. It causes vibration, which means wear and tear.

The Sustained Explosion

The prolonged explosion of Union Non-Detonating Gasoline provides progressive, sustained impulse.

It permits increased compression in your motor, for compression, as all authorities know, is limited by the tendency of fuels to detonate.

Increased Efficiency

Increased efficiency is dependent on compression, the complete burning of the fuel and smooth impulses.

Therefore Union Non-Detonating Gasoline gives a new "lift" on the hills, more speed on the straightaway and a smoother, stronger rush in the "pick-up."

And there's less wear and tear because vibration is reduced.

This higher efficiency means economy also.

Union Non-Detonating Gasoline is always uniform. It doesn't disintegrate, thus doesn't deteriorate in storage. It has all the power when you use it that it has when it leaves the Union plants.

So there are several reasons for Union Non-Detonating Gasoline.

St. John's Anglican.
This church, noted for its excellent choir and many recitals, will conclude its morning evening services two organ offerings, by the organist, Jennings Burnett, the choir rendering some choruses from the "Crucifixion," which was given in the church on Sunday evening last, and some vocal solos. The Easter services will have among the numbers the anthem "As It Began to Dawn," and Miss Wise, organist. An offering will be taken in aid of the new choir gowns. The cantata will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Wesley Church.
Of the many fine cantatas written by one of America's eminent composers, George Fredrick Root, "Under the Palms," which has proved the most popular, perhaps because it is so splendidly arranged for Sunday school and choir, and the strong rhythmic choruses are heartily enjoyed by the children.

The work is suitably arranged to give special parts to the various sections of the Sunday School, and together with Wesley choir, will be rendered at 8 o'clock on Good Friday evening.

Centennial Methodist.
Maunders' Easter cantata "Olivet to Calvary" will be rendered by the Centennial Methodist augmented choir on Good Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The choir has studied very diligently this beautiful work, in order that the various scenes portrayed in the cantata may be correctly interpreted, so that a rare musical treat to all lovers of sacred music will be assured. The solos will be sung by Mrs. H. Parsons, Mrs. F. L. Tupman, and Messrs. Stephenson and Tupman. Mr. Edgar Adams will be at the organ, with F. L. Tupman conducting.

WOULD CONQUER MOUNT LOGAN SOON, HIGHEST IN CANADA

Canadian Alpinists are planning soon to conquer Mount Logan, 19,850 feet, the highest known Canadian mountain, members of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada were told at their seventeenth anniversary dinner at the Dominion Hotel last night by A. O. Wheeler, director.

Ballot for the choice of activities for this year is not complete yet, he said, but so far the vote shows three to one in favor of Lash Valley, near Moraine Lake, for climbing the Ten Peaks. Mr. Wheeler said he protested against the Spray Lakes Development Scheme, claiming that by converting the lake basin into a power source there would be destroyed a beautiful valley which is the main thoroughfare to scenic centres of the southern Canadian Rockies.

Capt. Westmorland told of the Mount Everest 1922 expedition and the difficulties of bringing up supplies. He said oxygen was used as a stimulant in the rare atmosphere at the high levels, but its use created a problem as it developed appetites which it was impossible to satisfy.

Major Logan gave an eulogy of the mountains and their floral beauties.

Other speakers were Col. Greer, Miss Bruce, Lindley Crease, K.C., Mrs. R. D. McCaw sang and Miss Bradshaw played. The floral decorations were by Miss Cowell and Mrs. Longstaff, with daffodils and violets from Mrs. Wheeler's garden at Sidney.

STAINER'S FAMOUS CANTATA TO-NIGHT

"Crucifixion" Will Be Rendered at St. Columba

Music-lovers will be justified in anticipating an enjoyable evening at St. Columba Church, Oak Bay, by attending the rendering of Stainer's "Crucifixion." This work has been carefully prepared by a chorus of selected voices.

Soloists are F. L. Tupman, tenor and R. J. Edmunds, baritone. Both are well known in Victoria for their ability and power to interpret work of this nature which they undertake.

Given at the same time will be "Inflammatus," from Rossini's "Stabat Mater," with solo-taken by Mrs. Mary McCoy Jameson, L.T.C.M., whose voice should be heard to excellent advantage.

Jack Smith, pupil of Mr. Gurney, will be at the organ, and the conductor will be F. J. Mitchell.

The doors will open at 7:15 o'clock commencing at 8 o'clock prompt.

TO CONDUCT THREE WEEKS' EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN IN CITY

DR. C. S. PRICE

A three weeks' evangelistic campaign will be conducted by Dr. Price at the Metropolitan Church. Most successful and inspiring services have been held by him in the Southern States, and it is anticipated that a great revival will be the outcome of his visit to this city. Many cases of faith healing have followed his visits to the various cities, and it is anticipated that similar occurrences will be the result in this city. Cases of blindness were cured, while paralysis and lameness have been cured through his faith healing.

DIABETES CURES LIMITED ONLY BY INSULIN SHORTAGE

Difficulty of Getting Quantity Prevents Treatment of Hopeless Cases

Lack of Funds Prevents Extension of Production at Laboratories

Miraculous results in the treatment of diabetes with insulin are limited only by the shortage of the extract, doctors in charge of its administration explain.

During the twelve months since the success of the treatment was first announced the hopes of literally thousands have been raised, but except in a comparatively few cases they have not been fulfilled—owing to the lack of the preparation from several reasons.

Two main reasons for the shortage are advanced by the authorities responsible for the production of the extract.

(1) Lack of sufficient equipment and accommodation in the Connaught Laboratories at the University of Toronto, where it is now manufactured, to produce large quantities of insulin. A large amount of raw material is necessary to manufacture a small amount of insulin and the room is inadequate.

(2) Lack of standardized prescriptions for its production by manufacturing chemists.

In order to insure absolute safety in administration the potency of the extract must be standardized before licenses to manufacture can be given to manufacturing chemists. The discoverers of insulin are now doing all in their power to get a satisfactory standard.

The shortage could be quickly met by the Federal Government making a grant to the Connaught Laboratories, which would permit them to speed up production of the extract for the whole Dominion.

In the meantime the doctors who are handling insulin are unable to treat even all the more severe cases. The result is that if a patient's condition is hopeless for any reason it may be necessary for the medical men in the face of their own consciences and humanity to turn their "thumbs down" in order that even the smallest amount of the treatment may not be spent on a hopeless case, but that it be available for others.

TAKES NO PART IN POLITICAL CONTESTS

Canadian Council of Agriculture Makes Attitude Clear

Toronto, March 29.—The Canadian Council of Agriculture, at its annual session here yesterday afternoon, settled doubts as to its attitude in regard to politics by passing a resolution stating that the Council would take no part in the conduct of any future campaign for the election of candidates to Parliament, leaving the local organizations to deal with the matter as they found expedient.

Members expressed the view that the position of the Council in the political arena had been the subject of considerable comment and many rumors. In 1921, it was recalled, the Council formed a co-ordinating committee, which was a base of operations for the Progressive Party of Ontario, and which sent out speakers and literature, and the opinion was expressed by some of the members that the Council would do better to adopt a neutral position in political matters.

Opposition to this attitude was expressed by some of the members, but their objections were finally overcome and the resolution was adopted unanimously.

After pointing out that the constitution as revised in July, 1919, aims chiefly to encourage the study of economic, social and political problems by the farming population and to promote unity of action in matters of common interest, the resolution concludes:

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Council shall in future not take part

WRITE INSURANCE HERE WITHOUT MEDICAL EXAMINATION

Majority of Canadian Life Companies Make Innovation

Toronto, March 29.—The majority of life insurance companies in Canada are writing policies on individual lives without the customary medical examination. The limits under a single policy have been raised to $2,000.

This latter action would seem to indicate that so far the experience has been satisfactory and also to suggest the possibility of going away with the medical examination entirely, although this action has not been thought of as present.

As far as can be learned this innovation by Canadian life insurance companies was prompted by the success of group life insurance.

In connection with this experiment it can be stated that medical examination is required by law in the United States so that companies over there will not be taking up this feature of the business at present. It has been stated by insurance men that people taken indiscriminately would be just as good risks as those medically selected, and cases have been proven many times.

This new feature of the business is being heralded favorably among insurance agents because of the practical elimination of rejections from medical unfitness. The questions asked under the new scheme are practically the same as would be asked by a doctor. The course is put on the risk and if he should make mis-statements at the time of insuring it would probably be reflected when the time came for collecting the insurance.

Taxation.

The committee which was appointed yesterday morning to draft a resolution bearing on George Langley's protest against the taxation of option trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange by the Manitoba Government, yesterday afternoon brought in the following resolution, which was endorsed:

"Whereas, protests are being made against the imposition by the Provincial Government of taxes upon commodities, or transactions, which tends to pass beyond the taxing jurisdiction of the province contrary to the spirit of the British North America Act.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Canadian Council of Agriculture asserts the necessity of holding at an early date a conference of the different taxing authorities in the Dominion for the purpose of defining their respective spheres of tax jurisdiction."

Rafferty and MacPherson were yesterday's main speakers. One day Rafferty accidentally emptied his pipe on a keg of powder, and when he came down it was on the instalment plan.

Mac's grief was genuine, but finally he dried his tears and went to notify Mrs. Rafferty.

"Is this the widow Rafferty?" he asked, when a woman appeared at the door.

"This Mrs. Rafferty I am, but no widow Rafferty," she snapped.

A business-like gleam came into MacPherson's eye.

"An' how much will ye bet?" he demanded.
