One Million

That is Yearly Volume of Tourists Victoria Can Soon Have If We Want it; What Mr. Staneland Learned in New York

ONE MILLION tourists a year. That, in the judgment of Police Commissioner Staneland, back from New York, will more than solve Victoria's ill and imaginary ills. He says such a volume of travel is not far off.

Consider how rapidly tourist travel grows on this Pacific Coast with a little encouragement.

Frank Waterhouse, head of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, says that up until two years ago there had not been more than 100,000 visitors a year in Tacoma. Then the Chamber of Commerce spent $25,000 on advertising. This was followed by a jump to 350,000 tourists in 1922 and 500,000 this last season.

Vancouver handled a million tourists this year, Seattle around a million and a half. More than 140,000 tourists visited Victoria during the last season. They spent $2,000,000 here and made business better than it had ever been before. Four years ago the tourist traffic through Victoria ran 50,000 a year. In 1922 it was 100,000. Six thousand motor cars and 25,000 passengers were brought over by the ferries this year, an increase of exactly 100 per cent. over last year.

An industry that can show 100 per cent. increase a year is an industry worth cultivating.

Frank Gioima on the authority of railroad executives, especially Southern Pacific, says there will be another 100 per cent. increase next year. That's what the railroads are already preparing for.

Victoria's tourist business has now reached a stage where it is limited only by transportation facilities. Transportation companies are now on the rush building new boats to cope with it.

Victoria could not have a better reputation than this city has among the big men of New York, is the word brought home by Commissioner Staneland.

"The garden city of America," is how Commissioner Waldo spoke of it to Commissioner Staneland at the Waldorf-Astoria. Commissioner Collier interrupted to add that they were recommending Victoria to their wealthy friends in the East. It turned out that both men had been here last summer in the swarm of visitors.

Both millionaires, with the best connections in New York, they are devoting their whole time to perfecting the New York police system as their duty to their city and country. Commissioner Collier has spent $20,000 of his own money working out a traffic plan for the city. This is just to emphasize that Victoria has made good friends with the right kind of people.

How one beauty feature of Victoria is remembered and appreciated by visitors after they return to their homes was borne in on Commissioner Staneland. "Both these leaders in New York's life mentioned Butchart's Gardens here to me as one of the features of their trip," said Commissioner Staneland. "They both visited Benvenuto and the gardens' beauties and the public spirit of the Butchart's are memories they cherish and speak of."

WILLIAM H. BRITTEN TAKEN TO VANCOUVER

Britten, who was held here for deportation on alleged irregularities as to his entrance to the United States and who was freed of a bigamy charge in a recent trial here on a technicality, surrendered himself yesterday to Immigration Commissioner Luther Weedlin and was taken by immigration officers to Vancouver, B. C.

During the trial on the charge of bigamy, testimony by Britten revealed the fact that he had married Miss Elizabeth Walsh, a Spokane school teacher, and ten days later he wed Mrs. Daisy Meacock, of Seattle at Victoria. He said the second marriage had been caused by "Mrs. Meacock's hypnotic spell," but the Federal judge in rendering his decision last Saturday stated that "no evidence was presented to show Britten was under a hypnotic spell at that time."

NO PAYMENT TO G.T.R. SHAREHOLDERS

Canadian Government's Attitude Made Plain to Old Country Committee

London, Oct. 31.—The request of the junior stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railway for a compassionate allowance has been declined. Lord Askwith, chairman of the junior stockholders' committee, had a long private conference yesterday with Premier King, Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. George M. Graham, and he submitted to them the junior stockholders' case. Lord Askwith, it is understood, made no legal claim, but pressed for a compassionate allowance. He was informed the Canadian Government was not prepared under present circumstances to entertain such a claim. The taxpayers of Canada, Lord Askwith was told, were, if anyone, those who were entitled to a compassionate allowance. Canada had taken over the road to prevent its going into bankruptcy. The Canadian people were meeting heavy railway deficits and, while it was not paying, it was unlikely the Canadian Parliament or the Canadian people would look favorably on the proposal to allow a compassionate allowance to Grand Trunk shareholders. In taking over the Grand Trunk, Canada had not acquired a profitable enterprise. Lord Askwith was told, but a burden and liability. Advised to Hold Stock Lord Askwith asked if, in the event of the Grand Trunk being in a position to pay dividends, the claim of the junior stockholders would be recognized. "The Grand Trunk stockholders, he was stated in reply, would be well advised to hold their stock. Then if in the time came when the road was in a position to pay a dividend, the matter could again be considered. Lord Askwith questioned the legality of the Order-in-Council under which the property was transferred. To this the reply was that the Order-in-Council was merely the final expression of the act of Parliament authorizing the transfer. However, if the Grand Trunk stockholders felt any doubt about the legality of the Order-in-Council, the Canadian Government would be prepared to authorize the issue of a fiat to allow the courts to decide whether the Order-in-Council was legal or not.

MONEY FOUND NEAR WHERE BODY OF MAN WAS DISCOVERED

Saskatoon, Oct. 31.—Lying under a sheet of oats in what appeared to be a pool of dried blood, $95 in bills, a tobacco sack and a handkerchief were found on the University of Saskatchewan farm yesterday within 450 feet of where the charred body of a young man, with a bullet hole in the skull, was discovered on October 3. The finding of the body, was made by University farm hands. ### NEW YORK PAPERS PAY TRIBUTE TO BONAR LAW'S WORK

New York, Oct. 31.—The newspapers here pay outstanding tributes to the memory of Andrew Bonar Law, former British Premier, who died yesterday. The Tribune says he was justly "lauded as a high-minded and patriotic political leader, not a talker, pursuing unwaveringly what he considered to be his duty, fair, honorable and honest as the daylight." It says he succeeded in politics because he disarmed distrust and created confidence and that his won his way by dint of character. "The World, after paying a tribute to his character and achievements, says he is remembered affectionately by supporters and opponents. ### MILLERS TESTIFIED AT GRAIN INQUIRY

Made Complaints About Wheat Grading; Hudson Bay Route Condemned

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Claims of injustices and discrimination that render milling a very hazardous business in Ontario were presented by the Dominion Millers' Association before the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission here yesterday afternoon. Several millers asserted they were constantly victims of "skinned grades" of grain. They wanted to be able to buy the average run of the mill, and as they claimed there was no protection in buying even from the public terminals as compared with the private milling houses. Chairman Turgeon called attention to the evidence of farmers at some points on the prairies in favor of mixing since they otherwise could not find a market for their inferior grades. He asked the millers' witnesses what remedy they would suggest. They said they would abolish mixing of the commercial grades.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE MINES

Jefferson Group
The Federal Mining and Smelting Co. is also satisfied with the result of its explorations at the Jefferson group, on Dome Mountain, twenty-three miles east of Telkwa, on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, in British Columbia, that it has paid a substantial deposit on the property and has undertaken to spend $500,000 in further development. This work will consist of sinking a shaft to at least 300 feet, fifty-five feet, and driving levels in both directions at each 100 feet. The compressor is now in place and development work will proceed much more rapidly. A considerable amount of work has been done, and as more men will be employed as the levels are started. An assay office has been erected. About ten miles of trail had to be broken to the property, and the first work next Spring will be to convert this into a good wagon road.

ROUTES CONDEMNED

A. A. Wright, expert in water and rail transportation, now in the lumber business, attacked both the Hudson Bay route and the proposed St. Lawrence Deep Waterways project. Both, he said, were swallowing funds required to develop present facilities, but he denounced the expenses on the Hudson Bay route as criminal folly. The chairman called his attention to the fact that the government and all parties were pledged to develop the Hudson Bay route and had made progress in that direction.

The campaign has been conducted quietly over a period of months by the organizations favoring prohibition and the legal sale of liquor, but in the closing days large numbers of meetings are being held and every effort is being made to impress the voters with the importance of the issue. The vote will be taken next Monday on a preferential ballot which permits expression of opinion on the continuation of the present system of prohibition, on the sale of beer through Government licensed premises and on the establishment of Government control and sale of liquor.

FOR PEOPLE TO DECIDE

The Government is taking no stand in the matter, its attitude being that the matter is now before the people and the decision as expressed by the vote must be put into effect by legislation at the earliest possible date. Should there be demanded a change in the act, it is probable the Legislature will be called together before the end of the year or immediately after the New Year.

Speakers

Dr. Michael Clark is taking a prominent part in the campaign on behalf of the Moderation League, and is urging the people to adopt Government control. Many local ministers are carrying on an active campaign for prohibition and they are assisted by Rev. Dr. J. Shearer, of Toronto, and others. Hon. Frank Oliver is to address a prohibition meeting here Thursday night. Only the five choices on the ballot will be counted next Monday, and should there be no clear majority over all others for any one proposal it may be week before the result is known.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AND WIFE Suing FILM MAGAZINE

Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—Douglas Fairbanks, motion picture actor, and his wife, Mary Pickford, announced last night that they had wired in New York to file a libel suit immediately against an eastern film magazine which recently printed a report that they were having a divorce. Fairbanks' husband had quarrelled over another woman.

ANTHROPOLOGISTS ASKED OPINIONS

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Smithsonian Institution is not yet prepared to accept the theory of J. B. Harrington, one of its scientific investigators, that he had found near Santa Barbara, Calif., the bones of a pre-Neanderthal man. Although for the most part reserved in their comments, the anthropologists and other Washington scientists make no secret of their reluctance to treat the California discoveries as epoch-making. The careful study of them has been made.

PREMIER BALDWIN SPOKE AT SWANSEA

Swansea, Wales, Oct. 31.—Addressing a political meeting here yesterday, Premier Baldwin dealt almost entirely with trade and unemployment questions, but he gave no details of his contemplated protectionist policy beyond saying it was under examination and that he still thought the changes he had proposed for fighting unemployment were essential. "We must not be exposed to the merciless attacks of foreign competition," said the Premier, "while our competitors can shield themselves behind the walls of their high tariffs."

TRADE UNIONS MAKE CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

London, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Reports from forty-six industrial centres in which the Trades Union Congress Council in conjunction with local members of the labor organization conducted a "back to the unions" campaign, are regarded by the council as refuting the assertion that the campaign has been a failure. Twenty-one and a half million leaflets were distributed, thousands of meetings were held in work-shops, in addition to big demonstrations. The result of these efforts, the council declares, was the beginning of an influx of new members justifying a further greater effort.

SPENDING AND RETURNS

With the authority of the Cabinet behind him Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Minister of Health, informed an audience at Canterbury on Saturday night that the British Government contemplated spending £50,000,000—and if necessary a further £50,000,000—upon schemes for the purpose of assisting the unemployed during the coming winter.

Although substantial amounts of this huge sum will be appropriated for and no doubt used upon a number of productive enterprises, it goes without saying that the nature of the situation which the Government has been called upon to face will be responsible for the diversion of a very large part to projects that are merely intended as stop gaps—uneconomic from the outset.

In the consideration of unemployment schemes, especially where such enormous sums are earmarked for expenditure, it seems extraordinary that there has been as yet no concerted effort on the part of the Government at Westminster, to co-operate with the Dominions in an effort to distribute a large part of the surplus population of the Old Country to Canada and Australia and to other parts of the Empire on a wholesale scale "f.o.b. destination."

We are being continually informed that the greatest stumbling block in the way of many healthy young men and women who would make excellent and productive citizens of this country is the transportation cost and the inability to furnish the wherewithal to keep body and soul together for the first months in the new land. To argue from the point that £100,000,000 would give 2,500,000 people two hundred dollars apiece is to project an interesting if impractical speculative phase into the question. Yet when it is boiled down to a more feasible basis and one realizes that if £25,000,000 could be set aside for sending people to Canada no fewer than 250,000 potential Canadians could start thinking about it with $500 in their pockets.

There is an answer in this more practical view of approaching the question of the distribution of British peoples to the query that is sprung upon the reading public of Britain from time to time as to whether Canada is losing her affection for the Commonwealth tie through her increasing economic relationship with the United States.

Which naturally suggests that if the nervous imperialist wants to make sure that the political eraser will never be applied to the imaginary line which separates Canada from her neighbor he can support all measures which have for their object the sending of more British money and more British citizens to this country.

BOYS' WORK

Realizing that the youth of to-day will become a vital factor in the work of civilization tomorrow, the Y.M.C.A. is devoting a large proportion of its resources to the training of boys for the responsibility they eventually will have to assume. It is paying special attention to the development of material which will be of use in helping the boys' movement in Europe which never needed such help so urgently as it needs it now. In view of these circumstances special interest is attached to the public meeting under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. to be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to-morrow evening. This gathering will be addressed by Mr. Frank Moran, son of Robert Moran, the well-known shipbuilder. Mr. Moran successfully conducts a boys' school on Bainbridge Island and is deeply interested in all forms of boys' welfare work. Last year he visited Europe, is familiar with the pressing need of juvenile training which exists there and will have a message of importance on this subject to deliver to the meeting.

STAY IN CANADA

Many people seem to think that British Columbians are pouring over the border into the United States and immediately into lucrative positions. An impression has got abroad that our neighbor has some mystic source of illimitable employment to which an endless stream of workers may go and become tolerably affluent. Such a condition is all nonsense. The boom through which the United States is passing is not conducive to good. It cannot last.

On this subject the President of the Building Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor has something to say. The report which he made to the Portland meeting of this branch speaks of the "rainy day" being near at hand for the building industry and the urgent necessity of preparing for it. It declares:

Prevailing conditions are not conducive to good. This boom will see its end before we are aware; competition will again assert itself among all the elements of the industry; material manufacturers will slacken production in accord with demand. Mechanics are being taught in great numbers. This demand will recede until we have reached 100 per cent. of normal and consequently only one in each three will find work. We must prepare to meet that inevitable condition.

Canada's case—and it can apply to British Columbia as well as to the country as a whole—was admirably presented to Vancouver businessmen by Miss Charlotte Whitton, secretary to the Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce and a delegate to the Triennial Conference of the Canadian Women's Press Club, which met here a week or so ago. She answered the disciples of blue ruin in her declaration that "we are not a nation staggering under the 'whisper of death,' but a country 'well worth our life and any sacrifices that we may make for it.'

There are plenty of reasons why British Columbians should not turn their backs upon their own Province. There is no necessity to go further than the records of the provincial Department of Labor to discover that this part of the Dominion is all right and worth working for. Information from this source indicates that industrial conditions are so sound that the labor outlook for this winter is more hopeful than it has been for years. There is no "whisper of death" here.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Every decent individual would strenuously object to anything savoring of coddling the criminal. It is generally felt, however, that our penal institutions would become disproportionately costly if the most humane measures of correction were not employed.

In this connection the suggestion which the Canadian Bar Association has recently made with respect to the treatment that is usually meted out to prisoners awaiting trial is an extremely important one and should be considered in the light of the fundamental principle of British law. To put it briefly the Association recommends that these unfortunate people should be detained in separate institutions instead of being compelled to associate with convicted criminals. There is no coddling in such a proposal. The prisoner is presumed innocent until he is proven guilty; but if he is obliged to taste the deserts of the guilty in advance he has been punished before he has been tried. Such degradation is unjustifiable and only makes correction more difficult in the event of conviction.

Obviously the man or woman awaiting trial is in a different class and, as The Toronto Globe points out, deserves appropriate treatment. Yet because of lack of attention it not infrequently happens that the place of temporary detention is worse than the penitentiary to which the convicted prisoner is sent.

HOW WE PROGRESS.

Adding to the general controversy as to the nature of the next war is the description of the latest terror in aerial engines of destruction. This is part of a dispatch from London that relates progress in scientific means of conflict that will almost make sport of the warfare as understood by those who shivered and suffered in mud-soaked trenches:

The most fearful air weapon yet devised is being made secretly, to rain the transport planes carrying enemy troops. This new terror will be heavily armored and will be launched from a dirigible resting at a great height. Without guns or any weapon save a knife-like cutting bow, the pilot of the "ram" will plunge down on the huge troop-carrying plane of the enemy. Just before he reaches his objective, by operating interior mechanism, he will draw in his telescopic metal wings. Then, with his own plane as projectile, he will dive at the vulnerable wings or control surfaces of the enemy aircraft. Through them he will cut and rip his way, and the great battleship of the air will reel earthward to destruction. The pilot will then press a button. The wings will extend. The sudden plunges will be checked. And by starting a powerful interior engine the pilot will be able to bring into action shielded air screws, and by means of these he will be able to climb and rejoin the mother airship.

Nor is the senior service to be outdone. Here is another aerial monster that has been designed to get in its work on and over and under the waters of the sea:

A new seaplane capable of firing a torpedo weighing three-quarters of a ton at a tremendous speed has been constructed to the order of the Admiralty. The machine can travel to its objective at 140 miles an hour and maintain a speed in the air of 103 miles an hour. A special device of elevators enables the seaplane to swoop down almost to the water to deliver the torpedo, while its great speed presents a very difficult target to anti-craft gunners. Under the fuselage was a dummy torpedo weighing over 1,300 pounds.

It is a striking commentary upon the world's outlook towards an international brotherhood of man to think that some of the brightest minds, less than five years after the ending of the most diabolical carnival of slaughter in history, should be working overtime to discover means that will murder at less cost in quicker fashion.

Some Thoughts for To-day

Happy the heart that keeps its twilight hour,
 And, in the depths of heavenly peace reclined,
 Loves to commune with thoughts of tender power.

Thoughts that ascend, like angels beautiful,
 A shining Jacob's-ladder of the mind!
 Paul H. Hayne.

Think not the good,
 The gentle deeds of mercy thou hast done,
 Shall die forgotten all; the poor, the prisoner,
 The fatherless, the friendless, and the widow,
 Who daily owe the bounty of thy hand,
 Shall cry to Heaven, and pull a blessing on thee.

Nicholas Rowe.

Our Contemporaries

PROTESTANT TEACHERS IN QUEBEC
 Montreal Star:—The effect of the convention on the teachers themselves must be something of a tonic, a reviver of disheartening hopes, a balm for shattered illusions. No profession in the world has greater need for or more deserves such a stimulus. There must be some deep inspiration and loyalty in these teachers when they can meet to discuss the betterment and the ethics of a calling, in which they receive the pittance of a laborer.

DAIRYING IN NOVA SCOTIA

Malifax Chronicle:—Dr. Ruddle's advice should be of service in stimulating new enterprise in the industry. Nova Scotia has already made very gratifying strides in the development of dairying, especially during the last ten years. But, as Hon. Mr. Motherwell remarked the other day, this Province is admirably fitted for dairying purposes, and it should not be too great an ambition to strive for—to make it the Denmark of Canada.

EMPLOY WHITE LABOR

To The Editor:—The lumbermen are putting forth their reasons why they should have a more favorable agreement with the Government as to royalties when the present agreement expires in 1924. The interests of the people of British Columbia demand that if any change be made it must be in the nature of another substantial advance if they are to be permitted to continue operations under the conditions as at present obtain. There are vast great stands of commercial timber on the continent are found in Washington and British Columbia, with brief whites in our lumbering Province. We are faced with the facts that the mills and camps of Washington are staffed entirely by white labor, with the result that the volume of money in circulation in the neighboring state from that industry is more than double the amount derived from our lumber industry. If the lumber magnates will persist in invoking the aid of the Privy Council to defeat the wishes of the Government and people of British Columbia there are various ways whereby we can trim their wings that this most important resource may be developed and the Province reap the benefit of said development. The idea of leaving our enormous debt for posterity to pay is unworthy of the race and manifestly unfair to our children. It is to be hoped that the Government will stand to their guns and insist on the employment of non-brief whites in our lumbering and coal mining industries. The raw material is here, and unquestionably belongs to us. The Government have the remedy in their hands and by the adoption of a sane and just policy it is possible to remove our entire debt in the next ten years. CANADIAN.

SAANICH AND NORTHWEST SEWER

To The Editor:—Referring to a report in The Times stating that a meeting of Ward Two ratepayers and Ward Seven ratepayers had been held in Tillamou School on Friday evening and had passed certain resolutions regarding the Northwest sewer debt owing to the city of Victoria, might I point out that Ward Two ratepayers are quite able to call their own meetings in their own district to discuss this problem, and that the meeting in Tillamou School had nothing to do with Ward Two. If any Ward Two ratepayers were present at the meeting, then I venture to predict that you could count the number on the fingers of one hand.

I do not pretend to know the feelings of the majority of voters in Ward Two on the question of the Northwest sewer, but I do know that they will deprecate the action of a small coterie in endeavoring to make a municipal political issue of the question, hence their evident desire to have the vote taken at the January election instead of November 17, when the question can be considered in all its aspects at meetings convened for that special purpose. It is the experience of cities and municipalities that money bylaws do not receive the attention they deserve at the yearly elections.

From information available, I understand that a resolution was passed by the present Saanich Council, about three weeks ago, to the effect that the council was in favor of paying the city of Victoria, the amount of $12,000 and interest, amounting in all to about $63,900. Not one member of the council voted against the motion and it passed unanimously.

It appears to me that the diehards, who are intending to oppose this payment, do not wish to discuss the question on its merits as to whether it is good business or not, but wish to quibble on the actions of previous councils in dealing with Victoria. Previous councils may have made mistakes in the method of handling this question, but I do think that the sum of $63,900 is a reasonable amount to pay the city of Victoria for the purpose of having (Concluded on page 7.)

"KEEPING UP THE LIZZIE" DRIVING MEN TO DRINK

Manitoba I.O.D.E. Hear Address on Extravagant Tendencies of the Day

Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—"Keeping up the Lizzie" is driving men to drink and desperation, and the matter of "keeping married" is a bigger problem to many than that of "getting married," declared Mrs. Colin Campbell, in her presidential address read at the semi-annual meeting of the Manitoba provincial chapter of the Daughters of the Empire here yesterday.

"Canada to-day lacks leaders, men and women, because the mothers of my generation have failed to do their duty in the fat years of Canada. It was large weddings, elaborate trousseaus and establishments with two or three servants (more than their mothers ever boasted) required to look after the costly wedding gifts which run in value from $1,000 to $16,000. The result to-day is ruin in many of our homes," she declared.

The report was read by Mrs. Wilson, secretary of the chapter, in the absence of Mrs. Campbell through illness.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the retention of British harvesters in Canada and requesting all chapters to appoint welcoming committees who would extend a welcome to newcomers to the Dominion and render them all assistance possible.

FORESTERS STAGE MASQUERADE DANCE

Wonder Array of Costumes in Event at Chamber of Commerce

Upwards of 100 couples, all of whom were gaily dressed for the masquerade, made the Ancient Order of Foresters' ball, staged at the Chamber of Commerce last night for the entertainment of delegates at the convention to be held here next summer, a picturesque event greatly enjoyed by all those participating.

The many comic characters, including a realistic Hotentot appropriately partnered by a vivacious Topsy, a sprightly seamstress stepping right out of a Saturday page of "comics," Maggie well-supported Jiggs, Huckleberry Finn, Simple Simon and many others, entered into the spirit of revelry. The elaborate national costumes and the wonderful silk costumes worn by Mr. and Mrs. Leeman, who carried off the prizes for the best dressed couple, added to the brilliancy of the scene. Mrs. Black, as Maid Marion, and Mrs. V. Holmes as Robin Hood, as the Foresters' representatives in the competition for fraternal orders, led an impressive grand march in which the bewildering array of dancers paraded in the presence of a Christmas pantomime company.

Prizes were awarded as follows by Mrs. David Spencer, Brigadier-General Clark and A. M. D. Fairbairn: Fraternal, Mrs. Black and Mrs. V. Holmes; national, Mrs. Law and W. F. Glover; best dress, Mr. and Mrs. Leeman; comic, Mrs. Ferguson and Suec; Stenson's chocolates, Miss Odium and Mr. Schmelz; original, Mr. Berryman and Mrs. Vetch; Tombs prizes were won by C. W. Sawyer, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Aldridge and Mr. Leeman.

R. B. Law and Arthur Manson capably discharged the duties of masters of ceremonies.

GERMAN DIVORCE DRAMA RECALLED

By Engagement of Princess Monica Pia to Archduke Joseph Franz

London, Oct. 31.—Drama and romance are associated with the announcement of the engagement of Princess Anne, youngest daughter of the ex-king of Saxony, to the Archduke Joseph Franz, eldest son of the Archduke Joseph of Austria.

Nineteen years ago she was the most talked-of child in Europe. Her mother, the Crown Princess of Saxony, eloped with a tutor, named M. Giron, from the court at Dresden in December, 1902. Later, little Princess Anne, Monica Pia, as she was called, was born.

The Crown Prince of Saxony forced his wife in February, 1902, and then began a battle for the possession of Princess Anne.

Every attempt to obtain the princess failed, and the mother kept jealous guard over her daughter until 1908, when the little Princess was given up. Some months after her mother was married secretly at the Strand register office, London, to Signor Tessell, an Italian music master.

Margaret Jenkins Parent Teachers' Association last night held the opening dance and card party of the season in the auditorium of the Margaret Jenkins School.

About one hundred people were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and cards. The prize winners at five hundred were Mr. and Mrs. Bengough, Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Adie.

Findler's Orchestra provided an excellent programme of music. At the supper interval, George J. Carey, president of the Association, took the opportunity to make an appeal for increased membership and greater interest in the work of the organization.

A radio concert will be staged by the Association in the school building on November 15. The lady members of the Margaret Jenkins P.T.A. will meet at the school on Tuesday next at 2.30 p.m. in connection with the bazaar, to raise funds for the furtherance of the work of the organization.

YOUR HOME AND YOU
By HELEN KENDALL
COURTESY IN PUBLIC

The car was crowded. Every seat was taken, and the little chubby woman, who got on at the corner and stood up, grasping an elusive strap that was far above her head. With a heavy package under her arm, she hung and swayed, turches this way and that, almost lifted off her feet by the effort to reach the strap, and struggling to keep her balance. She kept looking down with an apologetic half-smile at the comfortably seated passengers, mutely begging them to be patient with her. But the stolid man in front of her bent deeper into his outspread paper, and the plump lady on her right only moved over to make a bit more room for her squirming little boy.

Presently the car went round a curve with startling suddenness, the seat to the left, stepping on the absorbed man's toes and almost depositing her package in the lap of a pretty girl. But the absorbed man, after an upward indignant glance, dropped lower behind his paper, and the pretty girl stared straight ahead of her with a frozen look of annoyance.

Why are so many people who can be so charmingly courteous to their friends so utterly rude in public? If the man hidden behind his paper had been introduced to the pleasant little lady hanging to his seat, he would have leaped to his feet and offered her his seat; or if she had chance trodden on his foot and apologized ungraciously, I could not help feeling that in that case the little stout lady would have acted like a human being, making room, lending a steady hand, smiling with understanding tolerance. To be sure, there are many women and men who do exhibit public courtesy; but I'm afraid there are many more who don't.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," she ejaculated. "Well, it's not granted," she snapped ungraciously. "What do you think of that for rudeness?"

FIRST WOMAN LORD MAYOR IS ELECTED

Norwich, Eng., Oct. 31.—This city has the honor of naming the first woman lord mayor of England. Several small towns have had women mayors, but no city aspiring to the importance of being governed by a lord mayor has hitherto chosen a woman for the post.

The dignity now has been bestowed upon Miss Ethel Colman, daughter of the late J. J. Colman, M.P., a member of the well-known mustard-making firm.

Ladies' Guild for Sailors.—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors will be held in the Connaught Seamen's Institute to-morrow afternoon at 2.45. All members are urged to attend as plans will be made for the sale of work and home cooking to be held on Saturday at the store next Terry's, Fort Street. Donations for this sale may be brought to the meeting, or if more convenient, left at the store on Saturday morning.

Noted Social Economist to Give Address on Friday

An outlet for the sewerage from over 800 acres in Saanich. Even if the cost of the sewerage system is $2,000 for completion of boundary sewers, which would require to be included in any further by-law put forward for installation...

It may be quite true that just at the present moment it would be unwise to endeavor to foist a large sewer extension on any portion of Saanich, but the time is certainly opportune to clinch this agreement with Victoria...

The cost to the municipality would not exceed the sum of 12-3 cents per 100 or 25 cents per 100 of assessment per year until paid, and when sewers come to be installed in special areas there would assuredly be a contribution of the cost of the Northwest sewer paid to Victoria...

If Saanich goes on the way it is doing it will soon be full of old ones and dead ones. The young and middle-aged progressive people cannot afford to remain in a district of people who do not wish progress...

THE SPIRITUAL FREEDOM OF THE CHURCH

To The Editor:—An article on the "Spiritual Freedom of the Church," written by my friend, the Rev. Professor R. E. Welsh, D.D., of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, has recently appeared in a number of papers across Canada...

With all that he affirms respecting the spiritual liberty of the church in relation to its own standards, consistency of doctrine, as well as its independence of the secular power or legislature I am in hearty accord. He quotes, with emphasis the declaration of the United Free Church of Scotland of her rights...

"In all matters of doctrine, worship, discipline and government," including the "right to unite with other churches" and that "the decision of the Assembly is final." Then he proceeds to accuse those in the Presbyterian Church in Canada who demand a referendum to the people on the question of organic union with other churches of "strangely substituting the Presbyterianism which they profess to preserve."

Dr. Welsh cannot be ignorant of the fact that whatever right the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada might have to consummate union with other churches without the consent of the membership (personally I think it has none) it abandoned that right at the very outset of the present negotiations by adopting the declaration of its committee that a "union to be real and lasting must carry the consent of the entire membership"; nor can he be unaware that in 1905, said: "The negotiations the Assembly has reiterated that abandonment of its assumed right by calling for the votes of the members, and surely he cannot be unmindful that on a third occasion the Assembly affirmed the right of the people to be heard, when in 1917 it declined to go forward but to await such light as might come through the "growing experience of the people and the lessons of the war."

In addition to these declarations of the Assembly that union with other churches is a matter for the people to decide, let me quote, for the benefit of Dr. Welsh and your readers, a few of the utterances of leading advocates of organic union on the subject. The late Dr. Patrick, whose address of greeting to the Methodist General Conference started the movement in 1905, said: "The question is not for the ministers and elders only, but for the people"; and in 1906: "From first to last the question must be a people's question."

That same year Dr. Falconer (now Sir Robert) said: "It would be utter madness to go forward to the people with it. It is absurd to think that the Assembly can force its will on the people."

When the Assembly was considering the second referendum in 1915 Dr. Herridge declared: "The matter must go on, the question must be put to the people, if the vote is not more decisive than the last vote I would oppose taking further action." Now, in the face of these statements of leading supporters of organic union, in the face of repeated declarations of the Assembly, in the face of two referenda ordered, taken and recognized by the Assembly, Dr. Welsh makes the belated discovery that the members of the church have no right to be consulted in the matter of their rights as well as the courts of the church. He even goes further and charges those of us who are seeking a more authoritative basis for the union with an attempt to "subvert the Presbyterianism we profess to preserve."

Mr. Editor, in a matter that vitally interests the church, the dignity and the honor of this land and day one's personal references or opinions are of little weight. Twenty years' close study of the matter, and the fuller part of that period in sympathy with the promotion of the effort, has not convinced me that the organic union of the northwest is to the advantage of the Kingdom of God. Nevertheless let me here repeat, what elsewhere I have said, that, as no man's judgment is infallible, if another vote of the people be taken, and that vote disclose any material weakening in the opposition to the union, I shall say nothing more against its consummation.

W. LESLIE CLAY, St. Andrew's Church, Victoria, B. C., October 30, 1923.

SAANICH'S OBLIGATION

To The Editor:—The burning question that is agitating the Saanich electorate, is the question as to whether Saanich was committed in any way, or was a party, to incurring any liability in co-operation with the City of Victoria in the construction of the so-called northwest sewer. The people of Saanich, neither by petition nor by agreement, nor by any money-by-law, ratified by the electorate, either during the commencement of this sewer system or at its completion were a party to the incurring of any liability on the northwest sewer system. Either the Saanich municipality owes $60,000 or does not. If it is responsible, why so much quibbling? No one knows better than Reeve Watson, that Saanich does not owe Victoria one dollar; yet she was led into this situation by the then clerk of Saanich municipality, in 1920 writing to the City Council of Victoria to send in their account of what Saanich's share of the northwest sewer amounted to.

This was the first intimation that Saanich electorate ever heard of any liability on the northwest sewer. It is not passing strange that the Reeve and his Council, in the year 1920, failed in their duty to investigate the facts of the case before the agreement of 1922 was entered into. When it was submitted to the hard-headed Saanich electors this by-law was defeated, and properly so. Reeve Watson is again endeavoring to submit this agreement of 1922, without any publication of the reasons or going to the polls on the seventeenth of next month, just short of two months' time prior to the regular municipal election and at extra cost unnecessarily incurred, is it not apparent in trying to pass this agreement by a catch vote that he is afraid this stunning block, injected into general election for fear his political ambition might be jeopardized.

I challenge Reeve Watson or Councillor Brooks. The only remnants of the council implicated in the 1922 agreement, to produce any petition of the ratepayers of Saanich, ratifying the commencement or the completion of the said northwest sewer, completed in July, 1916, according to official files in Victoria's City Hall.

I challenge Reeve Watson and Councillor Brooks to produce copy of any by-law ever submitted for the ratification of any liability in this sewer controversy from the files of Saanich as provided by section ninety-six of the Municipal Act, either during the commencement or the completion of the northwest sewer.

I challenge the mayors and councillors of the City of Victoria, either the present council or any other preceding council to produce any agreement signed by the Saanich Council and ratified by the Saanich ratepayers obligating Saanich to any payment on the northwest sewer, a sewer system as outlined by Reeve Watson and Councillor Brooks in that agreement of 1922, which, if passed, will commit Saanich to build sewers in the City of Victoria at Saanich cost under Victoria's guarantee, and Saanich will have to pay the bill before any connection can be made with any sewer system in Saanich. That intolent 1922 agreement limits the amount of sewerage that may enter Victoria's sewers.

J. M. KELLIE, 616 Gorge Road West, Oct. 29, 1923.

PLEA FOR VACCINATION

To the Editor:—Having been asked to express my reasons for advocating vaccination against smallpox, I would be grateful if you would grant space in your columns for this letter in which I shall endeavor to state my reasons.

In the first place, I fully believe in vaccination as the best preventive of smallpox, otherwise I would not advise it. My belief is founded on the scientific theory of immunity, on authenticated statistics and on practical personal experience.

In this letter I do not intend to touch on theory or reports and statistics of others; I wish to keep from all hearsay evidence and depend for my argument upon personal experience, plain facts and incidents which have occurred in Victoria under my own observation during the last six years. I will not refer to my former experience. I will state only facts which can be verified locally.

Before proceeding further, I must first define what vaccination is and what it is not, and tell how the operation of vaccination should be carried out. When I use the word vaccination, I mean successful vaccination. Vaccination consists of the inoculation through the skin of vaccine followed by an inflammatory process, beginning with redness of the area of inoculation followed by the formation of a pustule which dries to form a scab, the scab in course of time falling off, leaving a pit or depression, which leaves a permanent scar. During this process at the time of pustulation the patient feels sick and there is some rise of temperature, the whole process taking about ten days to completion. Any primary vaccination which does not go through the above-mentioned process is not a successful vaccination. People sometimes claim to have been vaccinated but can show no scar. They have been scratched, impotent vaccine has been rubbed in and the vaccination has not taken, there is no scar and there is no protection against smallpox. Secondary vaccination is the vaccination of a person who has had before been vaccinated. Secondary vaccination is milder than primary. It passes through a different and shorter process and often leaves no scar at the area of inoculation. On the 10th of this month I vaccinated twenty children in the Children's Aid Home. All those who were vaccinated before suffered no discomfort and their arms are well. Those who were not vaccinated before went through the usual course and they still have scabs attached which will not fall off for another week.

Now as to the procedure of the operation of vaccination. The doctor who vaccinates should always consider that the inoculation of vaccine is an operation, and every care should be taken against sepsis. In the first place the vaccine must be pure potent vaccine, prepared by reliable makers. I prefer vaccine prepared by Parke Davis Company. From personal experience I have always found it to be pure and reliable. This vaccine is contained in hermetically sealed, sterile glass tubes. With each tube is a steel point, also hermetically sealed in a glass tube. The first procedure in the operation is the washing and sterilizing of the area where the vaccination is to be made, preferably by the use of a very hard brush; this must be cleaned with alcohol. When the alcohol has evaporated, the vaccine is ejected onto the patient's skin from the tube by squeezing a small rubber bulb which is applied to the tube, the end of the tube having first been unsealed. One or more drops of vaccine having been placed on the skin, the steel point is taken from its tube and a few shallow scratches are made on the skin through the drops and the vaccine is then rubbed in with the side of the steel point. No blood should be drawn. The vaccine is then allowed to partially dry, when an absorbent cotton or light sterile dressing, the patient being told to keep the spot covered and dry for a few days before changing the dressing. This is the method that I follow and I have never found any harm occur when the patient obeys instructions. I have seen a very bad arm where a lady took off the dressing and prodded the blister with a hat pin. I have also seen a few bad arms where children pulled off the dressing and picked the spots with unsterile nails. These were not vaccine inflammations, but those caused by sepsis. These cases, however, are rare and are due to the use of unsterile hands or unsterile instruments toward after effects whatever. In fact, I have never seen any disease or disability consequent to any vaccination which I have ever done, and I have done many hundreds.

Now allow me to give my experience of smallpox in relation to vaccination. I have seen only one case only of cases which I have seen and which can be verified in our own city. Victoria, in spite of being a seaport city, has not had very many cases of smallpox during the past six years. I can only recollect seeing forty-one cases during that time. Of these cases, forty-four patients had never been vaccinated and five were adults who had once been vaccinated in infancy. One household three unvaccinated members had smallpox, two children of the family who had been vaccinated did not take smallpox, though they remained in the house all through the illness of the others.

Another family of four, of which two had been vaccinated and two had not, both unvaccinated members took smallpox, while the others escaped. Another family of three, of whom two were vaccinated, and one vaccinated, the unvaccinated both took smallpox. The one vaccinated escaped.

Another family of three, one only who was not vaccinated, took smallpox while the others escaped. Another family of six, all unvaccinated, all took smallpox. I need mention no more. I cannot believe that in all these cases quoted that it was mere chance that the vaccinated alone escaped while the unvaccinated took the disease.

Now regarding the protection afforded by vaccination of persons already exposed to smallpox infection, if vaccination is done immediately, protection is assured, if delayed a few days it is uncertain, while if delayed until the symptoms of smallpox appear, it is useless.

For example, a family of five and two visitors, all unvaccinated. One took smallpox. I vaccinated all the others immediately and none of them took the disease. Another family of five, all unvaccinated, one took smallpox, all others very immediately vaccinated and these all escaped. Another family of four, all unvaccinated, two took smallpox, the other two were not vaccinated until after they had been exposed to infection for a whole week; these two took smallpox in a modified form. I could mention many more cases of vaccinated contacts escaping the disease, while those contacts who had not been vaccinated took smallpox. There are two such cases in hospital at present. I had all other known contacts vaccinated. These were overlooked and both now have smallpox.

To return to the five vaccinated persons who contracted smallpox. These persons were all vaccinated, vaccinated only once in infancy and were attacked long after the time that the protection by primary vaccination is reputed to last.

I have never yet seen a vaccinated child with smallpox, nor anyone who had been vaccinated within seven years. From my experiences, as stated, I draw these conclusions: (a) That successful vaccination protects against smallpox for six years. (b) That revaccination is necessary to assure protection after six years. (c) That immediate revaccination of contacts affords protection. (d) That vaccination properly carried out, does not produce disease or disability.

These, then, are the reasons why I advise that all unvaccinated persons be vaccinated, and all who have not been recently vaccinated should be vaccinated. I know that there is difference of opinion and opposition to this advice. There are differences of opinion in all walks of life, political, religious, legal, as well as medical. I respect opposition provided always that it is fair, with opinions founded on facts and not hearsay, provided it does not degenerate into personal attack, into gender strife and rude innuendo.

I give my advice, as it is my duty to do, faithfully for the good of the community, assured that my advice is right.

ARTHUR G. PRICE, Medical Health Officer, Victoria, B.C., October 30, 1923.

FINGERPRINT CAMERA NEEDED BOARD DECIDES

Criminal Investigation Branch to be Aided by Camera Section

That the work of the criminal investigation branch of the city police force was being seriously impeded through the lack of a fingerprint camera was the contention of the board of police commissioners at a special meeting of the police board last night. The commissioner saw the camera in action in New York. He said that its acquisition would cost $50 and that the results would be invaluable.

Photographic records of fingerprints are taken on glass, metal, and even in the most inaccessible dark corners, could be secured with a fingerprint camera, he said.

Mayor Hayward, in the chair, agreed to the proposal and the motion carried. The board members last night, Dr. Ernest Hall being out of town.

Expect to Save

Dealing with the financial report Commissioner Staneland stated that the expenditure for the year was $77,919, and this indicated a saving of $3,500 at the end of the year. Prisoners' upkeep and transportation items were the largest items, the secret service fund showing a credit balance, and the contingencies fund showed a surplus of $49,775. With some cash in hand, clothing accounts would be slightly overdrawn, he intimated.

Pay High Tribute to Mr. Bonar Law

High tributes to the work of Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law were paid by Premier Hon. John Oliver and other members of the Legislature yesterday when the House formally placed on record its regret at the death of the former British Premier.

"Mr. Bonar Law's record will go down in the history of the Empire as a record of service of the highest kind," the Premier asserted. "It is the record of a man who rose from a position of comparative obscurity to a place at the very head of the Empire. There is no doubt that his services to the Empire in peace and in war were of supreme value."

The death of Mr. Bonar Law is particularly unfortunate at this time, when the Empire, struggling with many serious problems, needs the combined wisdom of its greatest statesmen to solve them, said J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, in expressing the feelings of the Opposition members.

He remarked that W. J. Bowser, Leader of the Opposition, had been born in the same town as Mr. Bonar Law—Wroxton, New Brunswick—and regretted that Mr. Bowser was not in the House to pay his own tribute to his distinguished fellow-townsmen.

Firemen Hosts at Hallowe'en Ball

Function at Armories This Evening in Aid of Band Instruments' Fund

When the doors of the Bay Street Armories are opened this evening to admit the participants at the annual Hallowe'en ball, the surprise will be in store for the guests.

The ball will take the nature of a Hallowe'en festival, and while costumes will be appreciated, it is optional. A fifteen-piece orchestra will render a programme of music that has been selected with great care for the occasion. The dance programme will include all the latest "hits" of the season.

The object of the ball is to secure funds for the purchase of band instruments. Stating in March of this year the members of the Victoria Fire Department decided to form a brass band. Under the tuition of Albert Rumsby their efforts met with fruition, and now the city firemen are the possessors of a first class band organization.

B.C. SECOND IN MANUAL TRAINING, DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Many More Students Receiving Practical Training, New Figures Show

British Columbia stands second only to Ontario now in manual training and domestic science work in public schools in Canada, according to figures made public to-day by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education.

Numbers of students receiving manual training in British Columbia increased substantially during the year 1922-23. Dr. MacLean's figures show. In the past year 12,217 pupils attended manual training classes as against 10,511 in the previous year. Pupils receiving manual training in elementary schools numbered 10,507 this year as against 8,930 last year, while those in high schools numbered 1,544 this year as against 1,578 last year.

"These figures rank British Columbia second in Canada, Ontario being the only province which does better," says a statement given out at the Department of Education to-day. "In Ontario the Government pays the whole cost of equipment in three yearly instalments while the Government of British Columbia pays fifty per cent of the cost."

Efficient Instructors

The attaining of British Columbia to the status of efficient instructors who have been selected from a class of practical craftsmen and trained at Saturday classes conducted by the Department of Education to teach and appreciate the educational outlook.

Girls receiving domestic science training in this Province also have increased in number. The total number attending domestic science classes this year was 5,546 as against 5,103 last year. Elementary school pupils numbered 4,784 this year as against 4,578 last year and High School pupils, 1,662 this year as against 1,456 last year.

Instruct Teachers

These figures rank British Columbia second only to Ontario in domestic science education in Canada. Ontario pays the full cost of domestic science equipment while British Columbia pays half the cost. Saturday classes for domestic science teachers, similar to those for manual training teachers have been organized in British Columbia and marked progress is reported to result.

There are now seventy-nine manual training centres in British Columbia and fifty-one domestic science centres. At the manual training centres sixty-seven instructors are employed as compared to sixty-two last year and in the domestic science centres forty-nine instructors as against forty-six last year.

BUSY TIME FOR SOLDIER ADVOCATE

Many Applications to be Placed on Pension List From Ex-Soldiers

A busy time is assured the Soldier Advocate for Vancouver, George H. Sedger, in preparation of cases for presentation to the Federal Appeal Board, according to the number of applications for pension status and also applications of ex-service men not at present receiving pensions who believe they are entitled to be numbered among the pensioners.

Captain Money, of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, announced that many requests are coming into his office which are turned over to the Soldier Advocate, and the same report is made by the other soldier organizations. The appeals are made more urgent owing to the fact that the men applying are suffering from after effects of gas or similar disabilities and are unable to do heavy work.

Of the $2,300 handed over to the Community Chest Fund for relief among veterans and dependents only about $30 is now left to meet cases of urgent need.

COURT OF REVISION RESUMES SITTING

Taxpayers Hasten to Save Surtax on 1923 Taxes

The Civic Court of Revision on the assessment roll for 1924 resumed its session this morning, Aldermen Todd, Walker, and Windy, presiding in the cases. Alderman Todd, chairman of the court, indicated at its adjournment that there was still a considerable amount of business to be done and he did not know when the sessions would conclude. However, there is no immediate hurry, as the court no longer has a time limit specified by statute.

Taxpayers who always leave the payment of taxes to the last moment to secure any accurate estimate of those who have not paid by nightfall will suffer the eight per cent surtax. It is impossible at present to secure any accurate estimate of the percentage of taxes paid.

The opportunity to be admitted to the voters' list for the city ended at 5 o'clock to-day. The court is to state, the household list had to be closed.

Building Permits For October Are Around $88,000

Building permits for the month of October totalled thirty, as against thirty-nine in September, but the amount shows a substantial gain over the month of September, when permits aggregated less than $40,000.

This month the total will run around $88,000, the chief stimulus to this amount being the issuance of the permit for the American Memorial Hall, for $65,000. The only other large permit issued in the current month was that for the renovation of the Filter and Leiser warehouse, damaged by fire, a total estimate of $15,000.

Fourteen permits were issued for private garages, about one-half of the total for the month. The remainder of the permits being for alterations of existing structures.

The aggregate of permits within the city for the current year is now nearly $900,000.

OAK DAY RESIDENT CLAIMS SHARE IN STOOKER PATENTS

James C. Watson Seeks Declaration of Rights in Stooker Patents

In an action opening in the Supreme Court to-day James C. Watson, Oak Bay, brings suit against Howard Caulfield, of this city in respect to the Caulfield Stooker patents and the rights thereto. H. A. MacLean, K. C., appears for the plaintiff, who seeks a declaration that he has an interest in the invention known as the Caulfield Stooker, and in any patent issued or pending in regard to that invention; and in the exploitation of the same. The plaintiff also asks an account to be rendered of transactions in the past, and alternatively that remuneration be granted for his, the plaintiff's, services, in connection with the development of the invention. A. M. Whiteside of Vancouver, appears for the defence.

The subject matter of the suit deals with the invention of Howard Caulfield, who patented a stooker-which was designed to supplant present-day methods of performing that phase of the harvesting. Plaintiff seeks a declaration that he has a definite interest in the furtherance of the invention and that he be granted remuneration for work said to have been done in that regard in the past. The hearing proceeds.

POLICE READY FOR PRACTICAL JOKERS

Special Measures Taken to Protect Property From Damage in Halloween Pranks

Special precautions to protect property and householders from the depredations of practical jokers, in consequence of the recurrence of the Halloween masquerade for the "compeandering" of everything movable will be taken by the city police this evening.

The police are not blind to the fact that Halloween celebrations are signalled by youngsters with firecrackers and other aids to create excitement, and their operations will not obstruct the legitimate merriment of youngsters who refrain from wilful damage. It is against the operation of gangs of the other youths, however, that the police are to be fully directed. Past years has shown that big boys have been responsible for damage done to property. Last year damage to the extent of many hundred dollars was occasioned and this year the police are determined to stop the long chain of damage reports that are an aftermath of the festive season.

The fire department, a heavy sufferer in the festivities every year, is joining hands with the police this year to see that the "false alarm" jokers are taken into custody. The police will be right on the trail of those whose merriment leads them to senseless damage this evening.

MAN INQUIRIES ABOUT VICTORIA

Publicity Bureau Directors Hear of Effectiveness of Advertising

The effectiveness of the advertising campaign of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in placing Victoria more and more to the fore was demonstrated by the number of letters which were read at a luncheon meeting of the directors of the Publicity Bureau this afternoon. Replies from many of the Canadian Emigration Agents in England, all of whom have received supplies of literature, were read.

L. M. Davenport writing from Spokane, says:

"It is always a pleasure to direct guests to your wonderful country. If we work together there is no limit to the amount of business we can create in the West."

P. T. Watt, of the Hotel Frye, Seattle, writes stating that it was a pleasure to co-operate in sending people to Victoria as those who took the trip expressed on their return sincere thanks for the advice given.

"We have always worked on the theory of keeping tourists in the Pacific Northwest as long as possible, and we are very much pleased that the transportation to Victoria has been so greatly improved as to make it easy for visitors to drive their own cars to your city," he states.

Canada's Advantages

F. Maclure Schlanders, F.R.G.S., Commissioner of the Border Chamber of Commerce, comprising Ford, Walkerville, Windsor, Sandwich and Ojibway, Ontario, writes:

"We congratulate you on your efforts to retain in Canada so many of our people who, while they have not yet seen Canada, are lured by good publicity to tourist resorts in the United States. My own opinion is few people would be in Canada at any season of the year were they actually familiar with its 'advantages' for both Winter and Summer enjoyment."

From California

Included in the letters read at this afternoon's luncheon was one from Berkeley which stated that the writer planned to "dispose" of his property and make his home in Victoria. In this connection it was mentioned that nearly 30 per cent of the prospective settlers listed last month were from California. In addition to the inscription in French

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, Oct. 31, 1898

The scientific world is divided over the credibility of Louis de Rougemont's adventures. It is an impressive thought, however, that nothing in them is impossible.

The death occurred at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday of Dr. Furrer, who had been in practice for some years at Kamloops.

L. M. Davenport writing from Spokane, says:

"It is always a pleasure to direct guests to your wonderful country. If we work together there is no limit to the amount of business we can create in the West."

P. T. Watt, of the Hotel Frye, Seattle, writes stating that it was a pleasure to co-operate in sending people to Victoria as those who took the trip expressed on their return sincere thanks for the advice given.

Football Boxers to Get Hook in Future

Victoria and District Football Association Puts Down Its Foot on Rough Tactics; Youson and Owens As Well As Wests and Veterans Censured For Their Poor Sportsmanship; Referees Instructed to Banish Offenders in Future

Footballers who in future endeavor to reproduce for the benefit of the fans the Dempsey-Firpo fight instead of using their feet on the pigskin, are going to get smacked all over with punishment, according to a decision reached at the meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association held last evening.

Of course, the punishment will depend entirely upon the powers of discernment of the referee. The reason the two players who mixed things with their dukes on Saturday did not draw down a suspension last evening was the fact that the referee did not see the fight. His report contained no mention of the two-round affair, so the league officials had to pass it over with nothing more than a vote of censure.

Didn't See a Thing Referee Okewell, who was in charge of the game between the Victoria Wests and Veterans on Saturday, attended the meeting at the request of "resident Robertson. He submitted a written report on the game, but there was nothing out of the way in it. When questioned as to why no mention was made of the boxing exhibition he stated that he did not see one.

The association was balked at handing out suspensions, but decided to censure severely both Frank Youson, of the Wests, and Chris Owens, captain of the Veterans, for their fantastic display.

The association decided to go farther and hand out letters of censure to both the teams. White Owens and Youson were the main offenders, there was a number of regrettable incidents during the afternoon.

All Clubs Must Be Good All clubs in the first division will be notified that repetitions of such occurrences as those of last Saturday will not be tolerated and that drastic action will be taken to punish future offenders.

The referees' association is to be asked to see that its members keep a sharp lookout and that any players who in future fight or attempt to fight must be banished from the game at once.

The fans will welcome the decision of the association to stamp out all rough tactics. Scenes such as those enacted on Saturday do football no good.

Spectators Must Keep Back In order that the spectators may be kept from getting too close to the players, the association will instruct the referees to order the spectators to keep back from the sidelines and to stop the game until they comply with the orders.

The draw was made for Saturday's games, which will be as follows: First Division Navy vs. Moose at canteen grounds, referee Robbins.

Equilibrium vs. Veterans at Royal Athletic Park, referee Alcock. North Wards vs. Sons of England at Beacon Hill, referee Payne. Victoria Wests a bye.

Junior Division High School vs. Oklands at Victoria West, referee Lock. Saanich Thistles vs. Victoria Wests at Central Park, referee Okewell.

The first division games will start at three o'clock, with the juniors kicking off at 2:30 o'clock. Holiday Game It was arranged at the meeting last night to start the game between the International Longshoremen of Vancouver and the picked Victoria eleven at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. The local team is now being selected.

Ed. Archibald, of Toronto, whose pole vault record, 12 feet 5 inches, was established in 1908, depicted here extending his congratulations to Irving Francis, formerly of Hamilton Collegiate but now a student at Toronto Varsity, on his achievement of setting up a new mark. Francis cleared the upright at 12 feet 7 inches, which is his new Canadian record.

Three American Competitors Have Not Been Beaten

Hoppe, Schaeffer and Cockran Win Their Matches in Balkline Billiards

New York, Oct. 31.—The three United States contestants in the world's 18.2 ball billiard championship swept through the first three matches without a defeat, each gaining victory at the expense of an invader from Europe. To-day, however, will bring defeat to one United States player in the Hoppe-Cockran match this evening. Hagenlacher and Conit meet this afternoon.

New York, Oct. 31.—Welker Cockran, Los Angeles, defeated Roger Conti, of France, 5-0 points to 4-5, in the second match for the world's 18.2 ball billiards championship last night.

Jack Schaeffer, of San Francisco, won the slowest played game in the history of the championship last night from Edouard Horemans, of Belgium, 5-0 points to 4-5.

Horemans was in fine stroke and took a lead in the fourth inning with a run of 99. He held the lead until the twelfth inning, when Schaeffer, with a run of 88 forced to the front. Horemans became nervous and unsteady then and threatened only twice with a collection of 65 in the sixteenth inning.

All three of the American players now have won matches from the trio of European players in the tournament. Willie Hoppe having defeated Erich Hagenlacher, of Germany, Monday night.

Cubs Give up All Hope of Securing Hornsby in Trade

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The Chicago Cubs will make no further attempts to arrange a deal for Rogers Hornsby, star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals and 1923 batting champion of the National League. President Veeck, of the Cubs, announced yesterday after a conference in St. Louis on Monday with President Bredon, of the Cardinals.

Fire Threatened Big California Speedway

Beverly Hills, Cal., Oct. 31.—The Beverly Hills Speedway, midway between Los Angeles and Santa Monica, and the scene of national automobile races, was for a time threatened with destruction yesterday when flames ate over more than one-eighth of a mile of the wooden saucer track. The fire was brought under control after burning an hour, near the northeast bleachers.

The track will be re-constructed immediately and be in fine shape for the annual Thanksgiving races. It was announced by A. M. Young, secretary of the speedway association. The fire spread to the track when wind carried beyond control a blaze started by weed burners.

Gertrude and Norman Visitors to 'Frisco

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Two of the world's foremost swimmers have been here in the last few days. Gertrude Ederle, the sensational 17-year-old New York swimmer was here at the week-end returning to her home in the East from Honolulu, where she broke several world records. Columbia's Crew is Confident of Victory To-day

Schooner's Ballast Readjusted and Her Speed Improved in Trial Spin

Halifax, Oct. 31.—Capt. Ben Pine and the crew of the Columbia are confident that the American challenger for the international fishing schooner championship will win today from the Canadian Bluenose in the second race of the ocean classic and tie the series.

They have this confidence because they took their vessel out yesterday afternoon readjusted her ballast and found that she pointed higher in windward work, was quicker in stays and generally was a different boat from the Columbia of Monday.

There was not enough windward work Monday to allow judgment of the relative merits of the schooners on this point of sailing.

Looks Like a Breeze It was a dark and fortifying over-head last night and a blow seemed to be in the offing. The weather forecast said: "Fresh to strong westerly winds."

Application was made on behalf of the Columbia yesterday for permission to have a diver add a piece to her rudder, but the sailing commission decided that it could not be done during the series.

Wrestler Collapses

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—A wrestling bout between Jim London, Greek champion, and Andreas Costaneros, Spaniard, here was stopped and the decision awarded to the former last night. The Spaniard, who is a physician, declared Costaneros to be too exhausted to continue.

The Spaniard scored the first fall in twenty-three minutes with a combination wrist lock and body scissors. For more than an hour he struggled desperately to resist arm lock applied half a dozen times by London, finally succumbing when he lost consciousness. He was unable to return to the mat to try for the decision.

Edmonton Wins Title by Calgary Default

Calgary, however, will remain in the running for junior rugby honors, as the guarantee for the Saskatchewan contingent to play the Canucks here on Saturday in the Western semifinals, was raised to-night and all preparations for the game have been completed.

Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—Jack Dempsey's profits from his bout with Luis Angel Firpo have given him and his manager Jack Kearns full title to a large apartment house here which the pair took over early in the year, according to announcement yesterday by the bond house that handled the deal. The fighter and his manager bought the property subject to a bond issue. With his recent clean-up from the Firpo bout, Dempsey called in $100,000 of the outstanding bonds, giving Kearns and he full ownership of the building.

Bays Bolster Squad For Titanic Battle

Champions Will Face Garrison at Willows on Saturday in Senior Rugby League, and Hard, Grim Struggle Is Expected; "Windy" Tormie, Angie McInnes and "Cotton" and Wallie Brynjolfson Will Be Back in Line-up; Garrison Are in Great Shape

Rugby fans look for a titanic clash on Saturday afternoon when the teams representing the J.B.A.A., last year's champions, and the Garrison, newcomers to the game this year, clash in the only senior league fixture of the day. The scene of the battle will be the Willows oval; and the kick-off will be at three o'clock.

Interest centres around the ability of the Tommies. They have only played one game this season, and in it they were defeated by the Oak Bay Wanderers. Many who witnessed the game are of the opinion that the Garrison was outclassed and that it is equal in speed and aggressiveness to the present leaders of the league.

Those who are handling the Bays are firmly of the conviction that the Garrison is the team they must beat to get in the running for their fourth consecutive title. They believe that they will have a far harder game on their hands this week than they encountered last Saturday.

Rounding Up Players Bob McInnes, who is directing the Bays, has sent out his scouts to round up some of the old stand-bys of the team so that it will be in top form for the coming fray. Several weaknesses were noticeable in both the back division and the scrum last Saturday and an effort will be made to remedy these.

"Windy" Tormie, "Cotton" Brynjolfson and Wallie will return to the pack and their weight, experience and speed should round out a splendid scrum. Angie McInnes will pull on his legs and at centre-three-quarters, which will greatly bolster the backs.

Tommies Have a System The Tommies have been training hard and are in great condition for the game. They are given some splendid coaching and their forwards are exceptionally powerful, fast and full of fight. Penderay has moulded the pack into fine shape and he has developed a system which will take some beating.

It is expected that a big crowd will witness the game, which will be refereed by Charlie Cowan.

Rep Team Practices Owing to the fact that the Horse show building is undergoing repairs the first practice of the rep rugby team called for last night had to be postponed. The practice will be held next Tuesday evening and all players who are anxious to catch the rep team will be asked to turn up. The Selection Committee will meet immediately after the workout and pick the squad that will oppose Victoria on the following Saturday in Vancouver.

All players participating in the McKechnie Cup series this year will be numbered. The numbers of the hockey players. This will enable the fans to follow the players more easily.

A Friendly Game Owing to the fact that there will be no Senior League fixture here on November 10, the Bays have given being in Vancouver, an exhibition game will be played between fifteen representing the Army and Navy and the civilian club. The exhibition will be held next Tuesday evening and all players who are anxious to catch the rep team will be asked to turn up. The Selection Committee will meet immediately after the workout and pick the squad that will oppose Victoria on the following Saturday in Vancouver.

Donoghue Leads By Two Wins in Race for Honors

Steve Rides Two More Winners Than Elliott; His Majesty's Horses do Well

London, Oct. 31.—The "racing luck" of His Majesty's stable, which was at its ebb-tide in 1920, when the Royal colors were out in front on only five occasions during the flat racing season, has shown continual improvement since that year, and although the present season has more than a month to go before racing on the flat gives way to the "over the sticks" performers, no less than sixteen years ago purses aggregating £1,837 were earned by the King's five winning horses; in 1921 four winners contributed £2,146 in purses; last year the number of races in which the Royal colors were first across the winning line was increased to ten, with purses aggregating £2,694, while this season, up to October 1, the ten horses in His Majesty's stable had won sixteen races, with a total value of £9,943. The most important race in which the purple, gold and scarlet colors were carried to victory this season was the Royal Hunt Cup, one of the most popular races at Royal Ascot, which Weatherly won, an outsider in the betting, won from a field of twenty-five.

Elliott Two Behind Up until the first of the month Steve Donoghue had ridden the most winning mounts, with seventy-four to his credit, just two more than C. Elliott, and between whom the struggle for supremacy has waged all season. Elliott's percentage of winning mounts is greater than Donoghue's, however, being 48.8, compared with 47.9 for Donoghue. Victor Smyth, in third place, with sixty-three firsts, has an average of 19.81. B. Carlsake 23.69, while the jockey, however, having won forty-three of his 165 starts, making his average 26.06.

Smythford is the leading sire up to Oct. 1, twenty races, valued at £22,252, being credited to his line; Tracery is in second place, with thirty-six races, valued at £23,325, followed by The Tetrarch, with thirty-two and £28,395. Next in order are Sunstar, Lemberg, Son-in-Law, Sunfast, Hurry On, Phalaris and Polyamelus.

Farmer was too experienced for his younger opponent and took eight of the ten rounds. Farmer used a straight left to the face with telling effect throughout the fight. Otto Robinson, 145, ran in six rounds from Louie Wain McDonald, 172, in the semi-windup.

Hurricane of Thrills in Picture at Capitol

"Rupert of Hentzau," the photodramatic sensation of the year, which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, is hailed as a hurricane of thrills and moments of suspense. The story in itself is a thrill a minute, but in the screen adaptation the imagination does not have to be stretched at any time as the wonderful portrayal of the principals, coupled with the faultless direction leaves nothing to be desired from a thrill standpoint. It is absolutely guaranteed to keep even the most blasé on the edge of their seats through every foot of the film.

The most wonderful cast ever assembled for any single production were given the principal roles. The public have become so fed-up on these so-called all-star casts that being skeptical every time they hear the word used, but a very pleasant surprise awaits them in "Rupert of Hentzau," as each of the principals have actually been starred in numerous productions. Included in this galaxy of stars are: Elaine Hammerstein, Bert Lyell, Lew Cody, Claire Windsor, Hobart Bosworth, Bryant Washburn, Marjorie Daw and a number of others who have already endeared themselves to the picture-loving public.

Giant Plays Role of Army in "Why Worry"

It is a good thing for Luis Angel Firpo, the Bull of Pampas, that he established himself as South America's fighting champion before Harold Lloyd released his latest laugh provoker—"Why Worry?" Otherwise he would have a dangerous rival in Colosso, "a hermit from the mountains of South America," who is certain to make a big hit in "Why Worry," which plays at the Dominion Theatre this week.

Colosso is a small fellow—if you look at him from an aeroplane. He is only 2 feet 3.14 inches tall; weighs 460 pounds, and wears size twenty shoes, each of which weighs twenty pounds.

Colosso was not a fighting man until Lloyd introduced him into pictures. Then he became furious. Of course, no offense is pointed at the picture-loving public.

Gorgeous Gowns in "Enemies of Women"

The gowns worn by Alma Rubens as Alicia, Duchess de Delille, in Cosmopolitan Corporation's production of the Vicentean comedy, "Enemies of Women," which is showing at the Columbia for the last time to-night, are intriguing to the least. They express a sex-drank period in Russian society life and a woman reeling under the emotions of the period.

First there is a cloth of silver lined with dull blue, a formal evening gown. Its skirt is cut quite short in front, sloping to a court train, heavily edged with fur. Fur forms two arm-lets on each arm, connected by chains of pearls. The bodice, a mere strip of silver at the back, is the inspiration for a gorgeous panel of bead work on each arm, extending to the floor, done in Russian mood. With this is worn a Russian head-dress of silver and pearls.

Next in gorgeousness is a gold cloth gown, with tightly fitting bodice and trousers for foundation. A swinging skirt of silver net, edged in fur, and alluring, unattached sleeves of the net, starting at the elbow and extending to the floor, where they form a sweet ensemble of drapery with the skirt, are features of this costume.

Pantages Bill is Entertaining One

Nancy Fair Has Feature Act; Trella Company Offer Thrills to Patrons

A bright entertaining programme was offered to patrons of the Pantages Theatre last night when a five-act bill was performed for the first time this week.

A feature picture titled the "Self Made Wife," played by an all star cast, opened the programme following an overture directed by Tony Jensen.

The vaudeville offerings were of the best, and proved most entertaining from the trapeze act to the juvenile performance, which proved a popular number. Of the five acts, Nancy Fair in "Hits From the Hits," and the Trella Company in the sensational cycle novelty were outstanding.

Nancy Fair gave some clever impersonations, including the leading character in the play "When East Meets West."

Nancy Fair's aptitude for impersonation was to the best advantage. Miss Fair possesses a high soprano voice, and is accompanied ably by her partner on the piano.

The Raymond brothers in a double trapeze stunt thrilled the audience in the opening number, while Lonnie Nace amused the patrons with her witty songs and humor.

The Boston Babes is the title under which the four juvenile artists travel, and they offer a programme of vocal solos and terpsichorean features.

The Trella Company gave a wonderful cycling performance. They showed perfect control of their machines, and made their act a pleasing number to conclude an exceptionally good programme.

Famous Soldier Band of Funmakers at Royal To-night

Three-Day Engagement to be opened by "The Originals" in First Class Revue

There is one theatrical organization visiting us year after year that we never tire of and that is the "Originals," that internationally famous band of funmakers, a number of them behind the lines in France as the Third Division of the C. E. F. Entertainers and which comprises the largest majority of the original "Dumbells" and some other artists.

The boys will be here to-night at 8.30, also to-morrow and Friday night, at the Royal-Victoria Theatre with their entirely new production, "Rapid Fire," said to be without precedent in the history of revues in this or any other country. It is an attraction entirely different from any other entertainment before the public, and is a magnificent jewel of scenic and lighting effects, etc. Among the several distinct and novel surprises is a magnificent jeweled curtain, containing thousands of small stones and especially imported from Paris. It is an exact replica of the one used in the London production of "The Hippodrome," and the first of its kind to be seen in Canada. Special settings have been carefully arranged.

What a unique and versatile company the "Originals" have, with different members of the company to work out and supervise the different ends of the show, it is truly a self-producing organization. There are dances arranged by Alan Murray; music-arranged—and costumes designed by Leonard Young, the company's managing director; scenery worked out by Ted Charter and Jack McLaren; skits written by Fred Fenwick, Ted Charter, Charlie Owen and "Red" Newman; lyrics by Bertram Langley; musical arrangements by Jack Ayre, the musical director; sketches by Bill Tennant, Bob Anderson, Jerry Brayford and Percy Campbell; concerted acts by Arthur (Jock) Holland and Tom Founar; while our friend, Jimmie Goode, conducts all his own line of unusual darkey humor. Gene Pearson, a popular new member of the "Originals," who has been with them since their conception of female impersonations and possesses a marvelous natural soprano voice.

Charming and ultra smart in its presentation, "Rapid Fire" is the smartest of revues. It contains everything desired in honest humor, music, and artistic settings. It is put across with a maximum of skill and pep by an organization of artists who know how to entertain and entertain with tremendous success in every town and city it has already played. Throughout the programme of twenty-five numbers many of them are particularly noteworthy, opening with an Egyptian scene, a burlesque on King Tut and his wives, with "Red" Newman as the ruler of King Tut. Many splendid concerted numbers, including a brilliant one of the Mounted Police, called "Monty of the Mounted," which is a real gem.

Sheridan's Great Masterpiece Opens at the Playhouse

"The School for Scandal" is Notable Attraction Opening Here To-night

To-night sees the opening of that immortal comedy, "The School for Scandal," at the Playhouse. This is by far the most ambitious effort yet attempted by the Compton Comedy Company, but we are assured that it will prove to be the most successful and satisfactory. The production is to be given a lavish mounting, and the large cast, with a diversity of tasteful and beautiful costumes, will carry the audience back into the picturesque days of the eighteenth century.

The brilliance of this play, which has kept it in the foremost rank of English comedy for two centuries, need not be enlarged on. As a tonic for depression and as an enlivener after the fatiguing business of the day, "The School for Scandal" will be found to meet all tastes. As Charles Surface, Mr. Compton will have a part in the strongest contrast to his role of last week, Miss Peggy Dundas, as Lady Teazle, will be satisfactorily cast, whilst Herbert Leslie as Sir Peter is certain to come up to all expectations. Miss Agnes Burton, Bruce Eedlin, William Marshall, George Durham, A. Legge-Willis, Alec McPhillips, G. Gibson-Gunn and Miss Ursula Macfarlane and Winifred Maguire are all cast in suitable roles. The production is causing the liveliest interest and the largest advance sale yet experienced at the Playhouse.

SAANICH ELECTORS TO HEAR ADDRESSES

Will be Told How Delay Causes Interest to Mount up

The Northwest Sewer By-law, to be submitted to the electors of Saanich two weeks from next Saturday, will be the subject of careful explanation to the ratepayers during the next two weeks.

In spite of the fact that the interest charges are mounting up steadily, owing to the fact that twice the ratepayers have rejected money by-law to pay this liability, there is a strong opinion in the district favorable to the delay of the by-law until the annual election in January.

The opinion was crystallized into a resolution adopted at a meeting last Friday, and is certain to be voiced when the issue is raised and appears on the platform in the next few days.

Meetings have been called on Thursday at Cloverdale and Tolmie schools, at which members of the council will speak.

As there is a gathering of the Central Ratepayers' Association called at Royal Oak School on Friday, it is expected some expression of opinion on this subject will be heard at that time.

Owing to some doubt as to the exact figure to be placed in the by-law, a statement has been asked from the City Hall, showing the interest due up to December 31. It will be a striking commentary on the way in which interest piles up, when the difference between the original cost in 1913 and the situation ten years later is placed before the ratepayers.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick, rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which stimulates and makes a habit of taking help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By using Jad Salts, your physician examines your kidneys at least twice a year. (Adv.)

THOMAS FRENCH, METALLURGIST, IS BACK IN SPOKANE

Thomas French, the well-known metallurgist, formerly for many years a resident of Nelson, B.C., where he built the Patriotic electrolytic zinc plant with the support of the British Columbia Government, arrived in Spokane recently from the East and expects to remain in the neighborhood indefinitely. During his absence he has been the victim of asthma and comes West to seek relief. Since leaving the Northwest he has been connected with Page-Hersey Tubes Ltd., as consulting metallurgist and chemical adviser, in charge of expert work in the company's plant at Guelph and Welland, Ontario and Coburn, New York. Just before coming West he was engaged for some time in New York advancing the interests of a new process for recovery of iron after treatment for galvanizing. Mr. French has been in charge of the Nelson zinc plant from 1916 to 1919—Mining Truth.

Mr. French used to be a regular visitor to Victoria when associated with the Nelson zinc plant.

FROM ALBERTAN SIDE OF PEACE RIVER DISTRICT

Improved Access by Railway Would Bring Coal Down to Coast

Albertan coal may be an increasing factor in the markets of the coast cities in competition with that produced in the Vancouver Island and Nicola Valley collieries, if the Canadian National Railway proceeds with the suggested connection between Grande Prairie and Brule Lake, a line which would tap a valuable coal field.

The situation is explained by L. S. Edwards, manager of the Revillon Wholesale Company at that point, who is now in the city. He says coal is delivered from Edmonton to Grande Prairie, a 400-mile haul, at $9 per ton retail, and that when the railway is built southward through rich coalfields the cost will be much less. That link, when it is supplied, will result in the placing of coal in Vancouver at a much lower figure.

Mr. Edwards says the district is very fertile, but held back by want of transportation. There has been a large influx, but some have become discouraged owing to the problem of getting their produce out. On the whole, however, the season has been satisfactory.

The physical character of the country may be judged by the fact that it is possible to drive a car for long distances along the prairie trails and this at a time when there is very little money spent upon the roads by the Government.

WOULD MODIFY RULE ON LICENSE FEES

To the legislative committee of the City Council has been referred a resolution sent by the Council of Nanaimo to the Premier asking that license fees be modified in every municipality in the Province.

It seeks to give greater latitude in dealing with the funds which accrue from the grants in aid to municipalities from motor licenses, and says in part:

"That the Provincial Government be urged to amend section two of the Municipalities Aid Act so that the municipalities of the Province shall be at liberty to use their share of the license fees collected under the Motor Vehicles Act for the purpose of reducing the local improvement assessments upon any street or portion thereof, as they may see fit."

MORE HONORS FOR NORTH WARD CADETS

Efficient Corps Has Carried Off Four Trophies This Year

Thanksgiving!

To the boys it spells a thud of a toe meeting the old football.

Sister links the day up with a new late autumn costume, or a fashionable fur or a new winter hat, or that heavy sweater all the girls are wearing.

Brother trots out the new ulster and is quick to enjoy its warmth as the sun falls lower on the bleachers.

Father has his mind on the house, the winter supplies of fuel and vegetables, the furnishings and repairs.

Mother thinks about the Thanksgiving bird and its surrounding retinue of good things to eat and drink. Her hour comes when the pleasure seekers come trooping home.

In fact, all the family have a hundred desires to gratify as the day of Thanksgiving rolls near.

To everyone at home the newspaper should be a constant guide and reliable friend.

The fourth prize won this year by the cadet corps of the North Ward School was presented by His Honor Lieut.-Governor W. C. Nichol, when he handed over the silver cup donated by the Vancouver Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E. for the most efficient and best drilled school cadet corps in the Province.

Cadet-Captain Blair received the cup from His Honor on behalf of the corps and its instructor, Lieutenant H. W. Creelman.

Other trophies won by the corps this year are the Lieutenant-Governor's shield for competition amongst public schools only, the shield presented by the British Campaigners' Association, and the shield presented by Lieutenant-Colonel Forsythe. Forty medals have been awarded to the boys in addition to these prizes.

Mrs. W. Curtis Sampson, of the local I.O.D.E., representing the donors of the cup; Lieutenant-Colonel Forsythe, representing the British Campaigners' Association; and Mr. Litchfield representing the Board of Cadet Schools, all congratulated the corps and its talented instructor on their remarkable successes.

Makes a Family Sufferer of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and cures about 80% of all coughs.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give a complete satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto.

SAYS HONESTY OF STEEL PROMOTERS BEYOND QUESTION

Mrs. Smith, Answering Mr. Clearihue's Attack, Warmly Defends Landahl Backers

Canada Must Prepare to Welcome Thousands of Britishers, Lady Member Says

Britishers who are promoting the establishment of an iron and steel industry in British Columbia, through the Coast Range Steel Company, are men of unquestioned integrity, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal Member for Vancouver, asserted in the Legislature yesterday when she answered J. B. Clearihue's attack on the Company's "propaganda."

"I deplore the fact that any names should have been brought into the discussion," Mrs. Smith remarked in referring to the statements of the Junior Member for Victoria, that the Coast Range Steel promoters were not confining themselves to the facts in their propaganda. "If a cause is unworthy it will not stand investigation," Mrs. Smith went on. "Nothing need be said about it. We can pass it over."

My experience in England showed me that the people behind the Coast Range Steel Company are men of worth and character, and of the highest standard, men whose position has not been questioned, whose veracity has not been inquired into.

"If it has been investigated how do you know it cannot be questioned?" interjected Major Burde, Independent Member for Alberni.

"There has never been any reason to enquire into it—that's the answer," Mrs. Smith retorted.

"That's a good one," Major Burde remarked.

"A very good one," Mrs. Smith agreed. She added that she hoped that progress would be made in the development of British Columbia's vast iron resources and that a great iron and steel industry would be established. She was confident, she said, that there would be no disposition on the part of the government to quarrel with interests which were seeking to establish such an industry.

Foresees Prosperity

Mrs. Smith, seconding the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, said she looked forward to new prosperity in Canada as a result of this year's record-breaking crop. The boom in Western Canada's great lumber industry, she added, would contribute to this prosperity.

Mrs. Smith believed, she went on, that the people of British Columbia were enjoying a greater feeling of confidence now than they had felt for some years.

She urged the House to consider the plight of the British Columbia coal industry which is suffering as a result of American fuel oil importation.

Many Immigrants Coming

Mrs. Smith said she felt that her recent immigration mission to Great Britain had been quite satisfactory. "Conditions over there are such that when people complain here I hardly see what they have to complain about," she went on.

She pointed out the serious unemployment problem facing Britain and of the necessity of keeping large numbers of people by government doles. The dole system, she declared, had many disadvantages, but without doles it was difficult to visualize what would happen in the old country.

"Industry is paralyzed, markets are shot to pieces, and it will be some time before the European situation permits business to get back to normal," Mrs. Smith declared.

British people, she said, are only managing to "carry on" under these conditions and with a staggering load of taxation.

Many Wish to Emigrate

"The idea of people emigrating to Canada is taking root in the British mind," Mrs. Smith proceeded. Many Britishers, she stated, felt that they could find prosperity in Canada.

Numerous Britishers who came to Canada this year to work in the grain fields, will settle here, Mrs. Smith declared. Out of the 11,000 harvesters who came here, she stated, only 200 were undesirable.

Canada, Mrs. Smith asserted, offered wonderful opportunities to these men, as to all British immigrants. She urged that machinery like the Land Settlement Board, and public organizations already in existence, should be used to handle British immigration.

Would Welcome Britishers

Canadians, Mrs. Smith emphasized, should welcome British people and let them see that they are wanted here.

"Looking forward to the future, I can see only prosperity like that we enjoyed from 1895 to 1911," Mrs. Smith affirmed. "We have in this country, a golden opportunity for people to go on the land. It is said that prices of farm produce are too small. What is needed is co-operation on this question. I hope, too, that Great Britain will purchase her produce here rather than in foreign countries."

Governments, Mrs. Smith said, cannot do everything. "Something is left to the imagination of the people," she asserted. "What we need is to organize for social effort and make people who may come here feel more at home and that they have come to a land that is willing to welcome them, a land where they can make good if they are willing to work."

Must Absorb Immigration

Mrs. Smith appealed to Canadians to face the necessity of absorbing British immigration. "Canada, she said, should be willing to allow all Britishers of good character to come here. In Britain, she stated, the impression prevailed that many parts of Canada were opposed to British immigration and wished to close the doors to it. Such opinions, she asserted, were fortunately confined to very small groups. Britishers, she said, had the right to seek prosperity in Canada.

"It is our duty to make Canada safe for those already here, to prepare the ground for those who will come and to make it possible for every man to earn a living in this, the greatest gem of the British Crown," she affirmed.

Mrs. Smith urged that lands be thrown open to Canada for settlement. Instead of the old slogan, "Look after the cities and the country will look after itself," Canada, she argued, should adopt the slogan, "Take care of the country and the cities will look after themselves."

Referring to the movement of people from Canada to foreign countries, Mrs. Smith declared that Canada needed, not "lip patriotism," but a patriotism that would build up the Dominion and restore normal conditions.

R. H. Pooley, Conservative member for Esquimalt, adjourned the debate.

CENTRAL B.C. COAST DISTRICT SHOWS PROGRESS

B. Brynildsen Says Fisheries, Pulp Plants and Mines Busy

"I think our section of the Province has the most satisfactory economic condition of any in British Columbia," said Mr. Brynildsen, pioneer merchant of Bella Coola, to The Times at the Dominion Hotel. He will not stand investigation, Mrs. Smith went on. "Nothing need be said about it. We can pass it over."

My experience in England showed me that the people behind the Coast Range Steel Company are men of worth and character, and of the highest standard, men whose position has not been questioned, whose veracity has not been inquired into.

Fisheries

Speaking of fisheries, Mr. Brynildsen said the run of sockeye salmon on Rivers Inlet was exceptionally good, and the canneries there put up nearly full packs. At Namu Cannery, on Pittsburg Sound, over 70,000 cases of salmon were canned this season. At the Bella Coola Cannery the total pack for this year is approximately $5,000 cases of salmon of all kinds. The two canneries at Bella Coola and also one cannery operating at Kinsquale, are doing fairly well. The cannery and cold storage plant at Butedale, on Princess Royal Island, now operated by the New England Fish Company, had a very satisfactory season. A large quantity of fish is held there in cold storage.

Timber

Turning to the timber situation, Mr. Brynildsen remarked that considerable timber had been cut this year. Handloggers particularly had done well. The large pulp and paper plant at Ocean Falls is using over 5,000,000 feet B. M. logs every month and there is now at Ocean Falls and vicinity in boom and raft about 70,000,000 feet of logs.

The pulp plant at Swanson Bay operated during the greater part of the year to its full capacity. Shortage of the water supply occurred there. The plant is now closed, pending the reorganization of the company.

Mining Situation

"More real prospecting for minerals has been done in our district," remarked Mr. Brynildsen, "this year than for some time, with good results. The mine at Surf Inlet has operated full time during the year. A great deal of improvement work was executed, and this plant, with considerable new machinery installed, had made a satisfactory output. Some 250 men are employed there steadily."

The fruit and garden crops throughout the Bella Coola valley this year have been very good, Mr. Brynildsen said.

HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta and Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture, will be offered the position of chief organizer of the Federal Liberal party. He has recently been in Britain on behalf of the Dominion Government.

RHINELAND IN REVOLT.—On October 21 a republic was proclaimed in the Rhineland by separatist leaders, which so far as has swept almost everything before it. This map shows the area involved in the coup and its relative position to the rest of Germany. So far the revolt has been accompanied by practically no bloodshed.

HONORED.—Few women have held government diplomatic posts. One is Mrs. Henrietta Potter James of Philadelphia, who is an official and duly accredited vice consul from Nicaragua.

MAKES MARS MAD!—Following destruction of all of Germany's big guns under terms of the reparations treaty, allied forces are putting "finishing touches" on what was once the Krupp proving grounds at Essen. Photo shows some neat work on Big Bertha turrets, lying amid their shelled and dynamited ruins.

NEW AIR AMBULANCE.—Soldiers injured in battle, hereafter, will be transported to field hospitals in this Fokker-style ambulance aeroplane built for the United States army air service. Right: An interior view of the ship showing cot arrangement and first aid equipment.

A BIT OF ACTION.—Syracuse and Pittsburg universities battled fiercely at the Yankee Stadium, New York, with a big crowd looking on. Syracuse won 3 to 0 by kicking a field goal. This action photo of the game shows Bowman of Syracuse making a run that was good for twenty yards.

IN LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.—Even the sidewalks soon may walk in the metropolis—that is, the "subway sidewalks." This is a model of the moving walk that may be installed in place of the famous Times Square Shuttle.

SUCH IS LIFE!—When you take your girl to the dance this coming season she's liable to spring something like this on you. It's the latest in dancing slippers, just out in London.

GREATEST!—Alexander Archipenko, having completed work on a bust of the president of Czecho-Slovak, is now on this continent, where he will show Americans his great skill.

LUCKY KITTENS.—A cat may look at a king. But a kitten may play with a president. In fact, two of them are now enjoying the privilege. Here they are: Blackie and Tiger. They were sent to President Coolidge by a Boston admirer. Bashful when they were first introduced to high society at the White House, they soon became very friendly with the president and his family when they were alone. Now they are favorites.

GREEK PRINCESS WEDS.—Princess Olga, of Greece, daughter of Prince Nicholas, married Prince Paul, of Serbia, cousin of King Alexander, of Yugo-Slavia, at Belgrade on October 22.

DECORATIONS.—Miss Evelyn Smalley, daughter of G. W. Smalley, New York, is credited with being the most decorated woman war veteran. She was two years under fire as a nurse. Her most recent honor was from the Legion of Honor.

BRRR! THE FROSH TAKES A BATH.—Lake Mendota serves as first assistant in having activities at the University of Wisconsin. When the freshman gets unruly he gets an unceremonious dunking in its cold waters. The unwilling bather in the picture is a frosh who got too fresh with the sophs.

SANTA'S COMING!—"Bob" was the fighting man of our family," says W. E. Fitzsimmons, brother of the famous fighter. In the quiet of his Philadelphia home he paints toys Santa will deliver on Christmas Day.

DR. EDWARD A. RUMELY'S appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States for a review of his case has been refused. Dr. Rumely, formerly publisher of the New York Evening Mail, was sentenced to the Federal penitentiary for failure to report his indebtedness to the German Government during the war.

FOUNTAIN FOR FOUNTAIN PENS.—A veritable watering trough for fountain pens is the latest aid to higher education at the University of California. More than 1,000 students a day fill their pens at it, consuming more than a quart of ink every five hours. It works like the old-fashioned water fountain in chicken yards. The co-ed shown in the picture is Miss Claire McCarthy.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Sandman Story

For To-night

LITTLE REDDY FOX LISTENS TO GRANNY'S STORY

Little Reddy Fox was a very clever little creature. He had learned to hunt very young in life and his parents were so proud of him that they wanted Granny Fox to hear how smart her grandson really was.

"Tell Granny how you make all the other foxes wish they were as smart as you, Reddy," said his mother one day when Granny came to pay him a visit.

Reddy was not at all backward in bragging for his father and mother and so he bragged to Granny.

"I found all the plumpest ducks and there wasn't one left for the other young foxes," bragged Reddy. "They are all very cross with me and say I am greedy—all but Reynard, and he says I am the smartest fox around but that I work too hard and he is going to tell me where to find a house full of plump chickens. I guess he likes me because I am so smart." And Reddy wagged his tail and strutted around before his Granny, hoping she would say she agreed with Reynard.

"I like you, Reddy," said Granny Fox, wiping her spectacles. "I would not take too much stock in what Reynard told me. He might be like Mr. Wolf flatterer. Mr. Bear, although Reddy was very proud, he did love to hear a story and in a minute he had forgotten to brag and was listening to tell him about Mr. Wolf and Mr. Bear.

"Well, a long time ago," began Granny Fox, as she started knitting. "There was a man named Mr. Bear, who always had enough to eat because he knew where to go and there was Mr. Bear, with plenty to eat but a prisoner. And in the morning when the shepherd came he found Mr. Bear.

"What did he do to him?" inquired Little Reddy Fox.

"Oh! the shepherd shut him up in a big cage and made him old tricks and there he had to live the rest of his days. He could never run over the fields and through the woods again."

"Now, if I were in your place," said Granny Fox, "I would not listen to Reynard. He is flatterer you. And I would not think I was so smart. I could not be fooled, either, for Reynard may be like Mr. Wolf, trying to get you into a place where you will never get out of the way to get his meals."

"I never thought of that," said Reddy Fox.

"No, I know you hadn't," said Granny. "You were too busy thinking how clever you are. But remember this, Reddy, some of the time there is always some one else who is a little smarter than the one who is too sure of his own cleverness."

On a Raincoat

A Scot whose name was Macintosh and who was proud of the fact that he was directly descended from the chief of the clan, was having a taxi driver.

The man with the meter talked loud and harshly and it angered the Highlander.

"Do you know who I am?" he demanded, proudly drawing himself up to his full height. "I'm a Macintosh."

The taxi driver snorted.

"I don't care if you're an umbrella," he said: "I'll have my rights."

never took but one fat pig or lamb at a time.

"On the other side of the mountain lived Mr. Wolf and he was pretty lean and hungry looking. He did not like to work very well, either, and he was very jealous of Mr. Bear's cleverness, because it interfered with him."

"Mr. Wolf thought that Mr. Bear was always getting ahead of him at the farms and that if Mr. Bear had not been there before him he would not find so many traps and things when he arrived which made it hard for him to get anything to eat."

"So one morning he trotted around to Mr. Bear's house and told him he thought he did not look very well. 'You work too hard, Mr. Bear,' he said. 'Now I can tell you where there is a place in the side of a hill full of sheep and young lambs and at night time there is no one to guard it. You could get enough to last you for a long time and then take a rest. Mr. Bear, you need it, for as I said you do not look a bit well.'"

"And foolish Mr. Bear believed Mr. Wolf and trusted with him that night to the place he had told him about. And sure enough there he found, just as Mr. Wolf had said, plenty of lambs and sheep."

"But no sooner was he inside the fold than Mr. Wolf swung the door and fastened it on the outside. And there was Mr. Bear, with plenty to eat but a prisoner. And in the morning when the shepherd came he found Mr. Bear.

never took but one fat pig or lamb at a time.

"On the other side of the mountain lived Mr. Wolf and he was pretty lean and hungry looking. He did not like to work very well, either, and he was very jealous of Mr. Bear's cleverness, because it interfered with him."

"Mr. Wolf thought that Mr. Bear was always getting ahead of him at the farms and that if Mr. Bear had not been there before him he would not find so many traps and things when he arrived which made it hard for him to get anything to eat."

"So one morning he trotted around to Mr. Bear's house and told him he thought he did not look very well. 'You work too hard, Mr. Bear,' he said. 'Now I can tell you where there is a place in the side of a hill full of sheep and young lambs and at night time there is no one to guard it. You could get enough to last you for a long time and then take a rest. Mr. Bear, you need it, for as I said you do not look a bit well.'"

"And foolish Mr. Bear believed Mr. Wolf and trusted with him that night to the place he had told him about. And sure enough there he found, just as Mr. Wolf had said, plenty of lambs and sheep."

"But no sooner was he inside the fold than Mr. Wolf swung the door and fastened it on the outside. And there was Mr. Bear, with plenty to eat but a prisoner. And in the morning when the shepherd came he found Mr. Bear.

"What did he do to him?" inquired Little Reddy Fox.

"Oh! the shepherd shut him up in a big cage and made him old tricks and there he had to live the rest of his days. He could never run over the fields and through the woods again."

"Now, if I were in your place," said Granny Fox, "I would not listen to Reynard. He is flatterer you. And I would not think I was so smart. I could not be fooled, either, for Reynard may be like Mr. Wolf, trying to get you into a place where you will never get out of the way to get his meals."

"I never thought of that

A WOUND IS AN OPEN DOOR

Absorbine Jr. enables you to shut the door quickly.

The skin is Nature's own protection against germs. When it is bruised, broken or cut, that protection is withdrawn. The door is open. As quickly as possible Nature closes it by forming what we call a scab and renders you comparatively safe against infection. But this scab sometimes takes days to form and until it has fully sealed the wound, even until the wound has thoroughly healed again you must furnish the required protection yourself. A few drops of Absorbine Jr. in the water will give you an antiseptic wash that will kill all possibility of infection and help nature to heal the wound. As well as being a very powerful germicide, Absorbine Jr. will draw out the inflammation and bring instant relief. Absorbine Jr. is antiseptic, germicide and liniment in one container—handy to keep always in your travel, easy to carry around if you travel. $1.25 at your druggist's.

SPEAKS OF VALUE OF CONGRESS TO PACIFIC NATIONS

British Representative at Meeting of Scientists in Victoria

The Pan Pacific Congress proved of inestimable benefit in bringing men of science together from all parts of the Pacific, and if the recommendations of the different sections are carefully considered by the governments concerned and put into effect the value of such conferences will be proved and established. Mr. Hugh E. Marriott, well known British mining engineer, who has just returned from the congress, stated:

The congress began August 12, in Melbourne, and ended in Sydney, September 2. Mr. Marriott, who was one of the British representatives and chairman of the Radio section of the congress, is now on a tour of the work for the British Institute of Mining and Metallurgy to perfect a federation of British mining and metallurgical engineers. He will visit all of the universities in the Dominion for the Imperial College of Science and Technology, of London, to make arrangements for students from the Dominion to do research work at the Imperial College in London, where exceptional facilities are offered. He has already toured New Zealand in this connection.

Speaking of the Pan-Pacific Congress, where the whole of the Pacific nations were represented with the exception of South America, Mr. Marriott said the value of such meetings of representatives of all nations around the Pacific demonstrated the fact that the apparently vast problems which all nations face could best be met by personal discussion and an exchange of ideas, which helped towards a solution which would be almost unattainable by correspondence. By discussing the many matters that came before the congress they found that some of the greatest problems were really matters of small moment when the nations' representatives got together and thrashed them out.

Men of science got together, he stated, and exchanged ideas which in these busy times when people had not time for intensive reading would otherwise not be exchanged. The congress would prove of great economic value in that it would eliminate a duplication of scientific effort. Until the recommendations had been submitted in detail Mr. Marriott was loth to enumerate much of the work of the congress but referring to the radio section he said recommendations were made which if the nations of the Pacific carried out would prove to the advantage of the Pacific as regards shipping and meteorology.

The geology section presided over by Dean Brock, he said, was the most widely attended section and the most active of the whole congress. The hygiene section he described as another highly important section with speakers coming from as far as South Africa to address the meeting.

WANTS DIRECT ROAD

Resident Here From Uclulet Seeks Outlet to Alberni

The appeal for communication with the outer world voiced by all West Coast residents is echoed by an arrival at the Dominion Hotel from that section.

Richard Johnson, store manager of Uclulet, who arrived in the city Monday on the steamer Princess Maguinn, stated that communication with the outside world is urgently needed by way of the long promised West Coast road, continuing from the present highway at Sprout Lake to Uclulet by way of Kennedy Lake and the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Appropriations have been made for connection between Uclulet and Tofino, for a road which has been particularly constructed and which received the endorsement of the Good Roads League in convention at Vancouver during August.

Mr. Johnson declares, however, that this will only be a palliative of the situation, and that a road must be constructed through to Alberni before the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway has powers is constructed from Great Central Lake to the West Coast.

He reports a fairly good fishing season, with a large export of herring from his district. He says the Japanese are buying a good deal of land in this district, which must create a racial problem in the future.
