PREFACE

THE publication of this Volume has been somewhat delayed by the death of my father—si monumentum requiris, perlege—nevertheless, continuous progress has been made, both with it and with the final Volume, for nothing would have been further from his wishes than that any departure from our previous standards should be permitted. In this connection I may perhaps draw the attention of readers to the fact that, in Volume I there were on an average forty-three biographies per page and in Volume II forty, whilst in the present one these figures have again been reduced to thirty-eight, showing that the work gains steadily in fullness as it proceeds.

Before referring most gratefully to the new helpers who have come forward since Volume II appeared I must express deep regret that, by an unaccountable oversight, the Rev. G. R. Woodward, formerly of Gonville and Caius College, but now resident at Highgate, has in the two previous Prefaces failed to receive that recognition which his unstinted labours on behalf of the Alumni deserve. This occasion also affords a tardy opportunity of acknowledging the help derived from the invaluable Indexes to Probate Acts published by Messrs Matthews.

The following persons have ungrudgingly placed at my disposal the results of their researches into the biographies of alumni occurring principally in this Volume—information which in the main has been inserted in the text, but which occasionally, owing to its fullness, has had to be deferred for inclusion in the Appendix: Miss Helen B. Cam, Mr J. Beresford, Mr J. R. Glencross, Mr I. E. Gray, Mr F. B. Mason, Mr Carew Hervey Mildmay, Mr W. M. Myddelton, the Rev. B. A. Marsden, Mr W. Pierce, Mr H. A. Roberts, Mr W. L. Sargant, Mr R. South, Mr C. J. Stonebridge, Mr Charles H. Thompson.

The Appendix has again derived much benefit from the work of numerous readers interested in particular families or in certain surnames, those whose names follow having corrected or supplemented statements appearing in the first two Volumes: the Rev. H. E. D. Blakiston, D.D., President of Trinity College, Oxford, Col. Charles E. Banks, the Rev. R. Percival Brown, the Rev. A. Curtois, Mr Edward B. Driffield, Dr Henry C. Drury, Mr T. E. Edmondson, Mr F. R. Gale, Mr C. S. James, Mr Walter J. Kaye, the Rev. J. R. Magrath, D.D., Provost of Queen's College, Oxford, Mr A. G. Matthews, Dr G. C. Peachey, Mr Charles Sayle, Mr W. F. C. Suter, Mr J. B. Whitmore, the Rev. R. J. Wood.

Finally, may I take this opportunity to express once more my deep sense of gratitude to those numerous helpers already referred to in past Volumes for the continuation of their support and encouragement, and also to remind all into whose hands the work may fall that corrections and additions for inclusion in Volume IV will be welcomed during the ensuing year?
