THE CHANCERIE.

H E Office of Records of Chancerie (commonly called the Rolls) hath diuerle Records of diuerle and fundry Natures, beginning with some part of King Richard the third ; and so from thence drawne downeward to the present.

The Records of Chancerie are diuided into these kindes, viz. 2. Close Rolls. 3. Bundles.

PATENTS.

In the Patent Rolls are contayned all Grants made from the King to the subject, B which Direction for fearch which passe vnder the great Seale of England : that is to fay, Perpetuities, fee Fermes, fee Simples, Gc. Leases for Life, Teares, or at Will. Grants of Liberties. Licences, and Pardons of Alienation. Presentations.

All & Annuities.

Speciall Lineries. Speciall, and Generall Pardons.

Pardons of Velarie.

Licences of all forts, which passe the Great Seale.

And on the backfide of the faid Rolls(called Patent Rolls) are inrolled and indorsed these things following : that is to say, Commissions for the Peace. Commissions for Gaole Deliverie. Commissions for Oyer and Terminer. Commissions to enquire post Mortem. And all the special Commissions which passe the Great Scale.

CLOSE ROLLS.

The next sort of Records of Chancerie are called Close Rolls : In which are contayned tayned these things following: that is to say,

- 1. All Indentures, which are acknowledged in Chancerie betwixt partie and partie, SubieEts.
- 2. All Recognizances, which are acknowledged in Chancerie betwixt partie and partie, Subjects.
- 3. All Deeds whatsoeuer, acknowledged in Chancerie betwixt parties, SubieEts.
- (The faid Indentures, Recognizances, and Deeds being on the back of the Roll indorfed: And diuerfe special Writs on the infide thereof.)

Besides these severall kinds of Close Rolls, there be diverse other Rolls, which because they can challenge no other, or rather more proper station, I thought good to place here: viz.

The Foreigne Roll, called the French Roll, contayning Treaties betwixt this Kingdome and Foreigne Estates, and Treaties of Entercourse, &c.

The Roll, called the Lord Treasurers Roll, or (most commonly) the Fine Roll, wherein are B2 contayned contayned the Patents of all Escheators, Customers, Controllers, Searchers, Vlnagers; and briefely, all such Patents as passe the Great Seale, and are in the gift of the Lord Treasurer for the time being.

The Roll contayning the confirmation of Liberties and Grants made from the King.

The Parliament Roll, wherein should bee written all Acts of Parliament.

The Roll called Watfons Roll, contayning diuerfe Grants and other things confufedly and promifcuoufly layd together; which one Watfon (fometimes Clarke of the Great Seale, that is to fay, betwixt the thirtieth and fortieth yeares of the late good Queene Elizabeth) did for fix or feuen yeares together keepe in his Cheft, and vpon his death they were found, and brought into the Chaple of the Rolls.

There is likewise (or should be) a perfect Roll of the Creation of the Nobilitie, in which all Creations might bee inrolled : which I hold to be the rather necessarie, for that many Grants haue beene past to one man, some whereof, vnder one Title, others vnder vnder another, of Office, or Nobilitie (as the partie hath beene aduanced;) which incertaintie of the Patentees Title, caufeth more expence, and fearch, then otherwise would be, if this Roll were duely kept.

The Roll contayning all Iudgements, Decrees, and difmissions of Caules in the Chancerie, with some other few Rolls, which I omit, as being of little vse to this present purpose.

BVNDLES.

The third fort of Records of Chancerie, are called Bundles: In which are contayned these things following, viz.

1. The Files of Bills and Answeres in Chancerie.

2. The Files of Corpus cum causa, with the Bayles vpon the same.

3. All Writs of Certiorare, with the Certificates vpon the fame.

4. All Attachments, Proclamations, and Commissions of Rebellion, and Transcripts of Iniunctions.

5. The Bundle, called the Scire facias Bundle, wherein are filed all Writs of Scire facias, Audita querela, Ex graui, querela, and their Tranferipts. B 3 6. Staple

11. The File of Certiorare Bills, wherein are filed all Bills that are exhibited in Chancerie for Certiorare:

All Writs de Coronatore, & viridiario elegendo.

All Writs of Dower, and fuch like, as are for the Prince.

13. The Efcheators Bundle, wherein are contayned all Inquisitions, taken eyther by vertue of Writ, or by vertue of Office.

15. The Bundle of Bills figned, wherein are contayned all Bills figned by the King, which passe the Great Seale by the said immediat Warrant, without passing the Priuy-Scale at all.

OBSERVATIONS TO BE HAD. in search of Chancery Records.

First you shall vnderstand, that there be some few Grants which were neuer inrolled at all, but remaine amongst the the Bills figned: As that of 3 1. of Henry the eight, to Thomas Lord Audley, Lord Chancellor of England, concerning Sampkins Lands in Essew; with some others, which for the most part are notwithstanding inrolled in the Exchequer.

Next note, you shall loose your labour, if you search in the Chaple of the Rolls for any Grant from the King, which passed the Great Scale but within foure or fiue yeares last past: for they are not, or (at least) vse not to be brought ouer thither so speedily.

But in the meane time, are either with the Riding Clarke (who is one of the fix Clarks of the Chancerie, and takes his turne to doe that feruice) for his yeare (that is, to haue the controlling of all Grants which paffe the Great Seale:) Or elfe (if they be paft him) they are in the Office of the Petty Bagge: As are Inquisitions post Mortem, and diverse the like, till they can be transmitted to the Chaple of the Rolls. And yet the Clarkes of the Chaple can as sufficiently make the faid search for you, as any other; and for the like Fee, &c.

Further obserue, that there be diuerse Inquisitions post Mortem, which are not to bee found in the Chancerie at all, by reason of some Omissions, and yet notwithstanding, are to be found in the Exchequer, by reason of the correspondencie betwixt those two Courts (as I shall shew in his place hereafter.)

And for such Omissions, yee may redresse them, by transmitting the said Records (by Certiorare) out of the Exchequer vnto the Chancerie (as occasion shall require.)

Further, if you haue occasion to haue a Copic of any Patent, Roll, or Bundle, to plead or shew in Euidence; you must eyther exemplifie the same, or else (at least) take a Copie of the whole Record, though there bee many other things contayned in the same, which concerne not your present purpose, or businesse'; and haue the same exactly examined, that Oath thereof may be made, at the pleading of the fame : Besides that, it must be subscribed by a Clarke of the said Office, vpon such examination by him so 1 3/ 3 Ser fort made. EXEMPLIFICATION.

F any Grant which hath beene past the Great Seale, be inrolled, and containe more mens Estates then one; Which Originall Grant can remaine but in one mans hands : Or in case where the Originall is lost, you would exemplifie the same : you must first search in the Chaple of the Rolls for the Inrolment thereof; which being found, any Clarke of the Office may engrosse the fame : And when it is engrosfed, you must get it examined with the Inrolment, by two Masters of Chancerie, who must testifie their said Examination vnder their hands. And then (it being readie for the Great Seale) you must beare the Docquet thercof vnto the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Scale, to examine and peruse the same : Which being by him allowed, it may passe the Great Seale, and bee exemplified.

BRHE Office of Records of the Tower of London, is a Member or Limme of the Office of the Rolls of Chancerie; and was made and ordayned onely, to receive all the old Records from the Chaple of the Rolls of Chancerie, at fuch times as the Master of the Rolls should thinke fit to disburden the Chaple, and fend fuch Rolls as whereof there is lesse vse (by reason of their Antiquitie) ouer to the Office of the Tower.

The Office of the Tower, by reason of the antiquitie of Records contayned in it, hath some Records, the like whereof are not in the Chaple of the Rolls: viz.

And in the Bishops Visitation, with his Chancellor or Commissarie; with referuation onely to the peculiars, together with the benefit of generall Visitation.

Note, that by reason of the familiaritie betweene the Bishops Commission, and the Arch-Deacon, commonly you may finde Wills, not being of Prerogative nature, so some (sometimes) with the one, as the other.

The like Rule is of Administrations in the Diocesse.

Onely note, That sometimes you shall finde Wills proued, and Administration granted in several Diocesse (quoad) vnto severall parts or parcels of the estate of the Defunct, lying and being at the time of his death so separate and divided: And sometime those which of right are proued, or granted and recorded in the Prerogative, to be likewile called to be proued or recorded in the proper Diocesse.

For Priviledges of diuerse kinds.

And these, by custome and continuance, have attained to such reputation, that not-notwithstanding the Records should bee lost, yet the Remembrance or Prescription of them holdeth his wonted force and validitie.

And (which is most strange to me) that notwithstanding there bee many times, in many cases, Records to cleare the Prescription in question : yet, in pleading, they doe often vie no other arguments, but the memorie of Man, which may erre. And therefore I could wish, that the seuerall Registers of all Diocesse, would collect all such Records; that thereof there might bee a perfect Volume digested, for Succession.

But alas, if most of these Immunities, Priviledges, and Rights, were graunted at the first, and generally afterwards confirmed by the Popes Visitant in England: (as I partly know, and am otherwise induced to beleeue the same.) Where may I then say, these Records are to be found, so perfect as at Rome? Where (I have heard credibly) that they bee very carefully preserved at this houre; and would

(if they might be had) cleare many tedious and expensive Suits for matter of Prescription. And if they whom it chiefely concernes, would be at the charge thereof; I durst vndertake (with Gods affistance) to bring them all exemplified faithfully into England within three yeares.

Thus omitting to speake of any Record concerning Matters of Matrimonie, which is Twynne with matter of Contract (hauing no other naturall Mother then Court Christian) because it is cuery man's Learning, I passe it ouer, with all other their Records; which tend not to the enucleating of Title, and Estate. And if any one answer, that the Confirmation, or Nullitic of Marriage, toucheth many an ones Free-hold and personall Estate very neerely; and therefore would not bee so flightly pretermitted : I reply, touching Marriages questionable vpon Propinquitie of Blood, Pre-contract, want of Age in eyther partie, indirect accomplishment, Disparitie, want of Confummation, or Disabilitie of the Minister marrying the parties, with the like proceedings, dings, tending to Separation, or Nullitie; you shall search in the Proper Diocesse generally; and sometimes, with the Register of the High Commission. But the Mildemeanors themselues in surreptitious Marriages, are (of later times) for the most part, to be found in the Star-chamber. And for the Solemnization of the Marriage it selfe, fearch the Parochiall Register : Which, because it is sometimes vncertaine, in regard that the Marriage performed by Facultie. of Licence, may alter the place; it were not amisse, that all Church-Wardens might be enioyned to present (quarterly) euery particular Marriage, celebrated in their Parishes respectively.
