5,250,000 WORKERS IN BRITAIN REPRESENTED AT GLASGOW CONGRESS

Big Labor Gathering Now in Progress; Bunting, Presiding Officer, Says Ministers Responsible For Agitation For Direct Action

Glasgow, Sept. 8.—The great question before the British Trades Union Congress, the nationalization of the coal mines and the method for bringing it about, direct action being urged by a powerful group of mine workers, was not pre-judged by the president of the Congress in his address before the opening session of that body here to-day. G. B. Stuart-Bunting, secretary of the Postmen's Federation, who is acting as the presiding officer, indicated that the parliamentary committee had resolved to leave the decision entirely to the Congress. He charged the Ministers with responsibility for the agitation in favor of direct action, declaring that their conduct, especially that of Mr. Lloyd George, had "destroyed confidence and provoked suspicion that the Prime Minister, to tide over a temporary difficulty, was ready to make promises without the intention of performing them."

President Bunting declared it was urgently necessary that labor increased its productivity, but he decried that "war wages" was reflected in the situation, even in a lower industrial output. He exhorted the trade unionists not to impair public confidence in them by calling unofficial strikes and repudiating agreements. He expressed confidence in the speedy advent of a labor Government, and said it was necessary to earn the nation's respect.

President Bunting denounced the hostility against Russia as thoroughly unpopular with the British working class. The world congress of labor called to meet at Washington this fall, he referred to as "an immense project, a great and bold idea."

The present congress, considered the greatest ever held in Great Britain, with numerous problems vitally affecting labor to be threshed out in debate, comprises 850 delegates representing approximately 5,250,000 workers.

M. P.'s Thars. Virtually the entire Labor Party of the House of Commons is present at the Congress and will participate in the various debates, including those on resolutions affecting nationalization of the banks, a shorter working week, mothers' pensions, a capital levy for paying off the war debt, recognition of the Police Union, housing reforms, and finally, the problem of the industrial output.

The action of the Congress on the resolutions, it is said in political circles, will be the most valuable indication of how the thinking workers are represented by the trades unions, will act in the coming political campaign.

It is expected that Robert Smillie and Robert Williams, who champion the direct action proposal, but they will be met by antagonists such as Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Joseph Havelock Wilson, John Robert Clynes, James Henry Thomas, William Thorne and William Braxton, when the question is raised, which, it is understood, will occur to-morrow.

AN ANCIENT NIAGARA HAS BEEN DISCOVERED
Mighty Falls Thought to Have Existed Thousands of Years Ago

Thorold, Ont., Sept. 8.—What is thought to have been a second mighty cataract of Niagara has been discovered at Thorold by Doherty, Quinlan & Robertson, Ltd., contractors on the third section of the new Welland Canal.

After twenty feet of solid clay had been excavated near the upper end of this section, the rock bed was found to be very smooth on the edges and well worn.

BARON BERESFORD DIES IN SCOTLAND

Served Empire in Navy For More Than Fifty Years

Received Many Honors and Sat as Member of Commons

London, Sept. 8.—Admiral Baron Beresford died Saturday night while on a visit to the Duke of Portland at Langwell, Caithness, Scotland. Death was due to apoplexy.

Lord Charles Beresford was born in 1846, the son of the fourth Marquis of Waterford. He spent more than fifty years as an officer in the British navy and was created a Baron by the King on January 1, 1914, choosing the title of Baron of Metemeh and Curraghmore.

He entered the navy in 1869, joining H. M. S. Britannia as a cadet. While serving on H. M. S. Defence he jumped overboard when the ship was lying in the Mersey and saved the life of a man who had fallen into the water. For this he was given the Royal Humane Society's medal. A few years later he plunged into the water while his ship was at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, and saved the life of a marine who had fallen overboard. For this the Royal Humane Society added a clasp to his medal. Another life was saved by him in Dublin Bay, for which he was rewarded with another medal.

While a British fleet commanded by Admiral Seymour was bombarding Alexandria in 1882, H. M. S. Temeraire went aground, and was in considerable danger from the guns of the forts.

Lord Charles Beresford, who was in command of the gunboat Condor, was ordered to render her all the assistance possible in getting her floated, and when he had done the work allotted to him he started on something that was even more to his taste.

An order was given, and in a moment those who were watching saw almost with horror that the Condor was being fired at from three muzzles of the guns of the Marabout.

Albanians Bitterly Fighting Against Troops From Italy

Paris, Sept. 8.—(Havas).—Anti-Italian disturbances continue to spread in Albania, according to dispatches to newspapers here, it being reported that a detachment of 300 Italians was annihilated at Kastri recently. Advices say that the Albanians intend to send delegates to the Peace Conference to demand that their country be granted autonomy.

VETERANS INSIST GOVERNMENT CONSIDER THE BONUS PLAN

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—"Matters have come to a sorry pass when the Government may appoint a commission to inquire into the horse-racing game but will appoint none to deal with the needs of the returned soldiers," said Lieut.-Col. Purney, president of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, commenting on the refusal of the Government to establish a Royal Commission to determine the practicability of further financial assistance in the re-establishment of the returned soldiers.

Col. Purney said that given a proper opportunity, the Association was prepared to submit a "vigorous plan which would accomplish the desired purpose with a startling modicum of expenditure."

Great disappointment at the attitude of the Government has been expressed by the officials of the Great War Veterans' Association here. The final decision of the Government was communicated by the Prime Minister last Friday to the Dominion executive committee of the Great War Veterans' Association and was received with indignation, as the request had been considered, "in view of existing circumstances," as quite reasonable.

Acting upon a mandate from the annual Dominion convention held in Vancouver last July, the Dominion executive committee recently waited upon the Prime Minister and urged the creation of a commission to deal with the widespread demand for a bonus to returned soldiers. Sir Robert Borden stated that the Government was not prepared to give favorable consideration to any project which would involve further expenditure than that already proposed for the work of the veterans, but that the request of the Association for a commission would be dealt with in an early date. The executive committee of the veterans then deputed a special committee to remain in Ottawa and wait this decision. The Prime Minister, however, in his final announcement, stated that it was not consistent with the responsibilities of the Government to inquire into facts already within its possession.

Numerous Telegrams. Judging from the numerous telegrams which have been received in Ottawa at the national headquarters of the Great War Veterans' Association and by members of Parliament, the various branches of the Association are not consistent with the decision of the Government with regard to the bonus.

Forty Sailors Injured; Ship Will Sail North as Intended

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Reports of the death of three members of the crew of the super-dreadnought New Mexico, flagship of the new United States Pacific Fleet, and the injury of forty in a fire aboard the vessel here last night were confirmed to-day by officers who directed the fire fighting.

Admiral Rodman was said to have announced that a board of inquiry would be assembled on the vessel at once, but he did not believe her schedule sailing for Seattle at 6 o'clock this evening would be delayed.

MAYORS OF PROVINCE SAY PRICES MUST COME DOWN

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—At the expense of the Provincial Government and upon the call of Attorney-General Farris, the Mayors and Reeves of twenty-seven British Columbia municipalities met in an anti-high cost of living conference at the courthouse here this forenoon. As a direct result resolutions containing the demands of this Province for "action" to combat the increasing commodity prices, excessive profits and hoarding will be laid before the Ottawa Government within a few days. The Attorney-General himself will present the British Columbia demands, first making effort to have representatives of other provinces concur and collaborate.

GENERAL PERSHING RETURNS TO STATES

Great Greeting Accorded Commander on His Arrival in New York

New York, Sept. 8.—General Pershing arrived back from France and stepped ashore here at 9:20 a.m. to-day from the steamship Leviathan, formerly the German steamship Imperator.

ROUMANIA WILL SIGN PACT AS PREPARED BY ALLIES OR NOT AT ALL

Supreme Council Informs Bucharest Government It Will Not Be Allowed to Make Reservations in Signing Treaty With Austria

Paris, Sept. 8.—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference to-day informed Roumania that she must sign the peace treaty with Austria without reservations or abstain altogether from signing. The Roumanian peace delegation has not yet reached a decision on the matter.

The Roumanian delegation on Saturday sent a note to the Peace Conference declaring that its intention was to sign the Austrian treaty with reservations. The Supreme Council this morning took the Roumanian note under consideration, the result being the decision that there must be no reservations.

Invitations will be available from the golf clubs for those officers who desire to play, both from Mr. Daniels' party and the officers of the battleships. Facilities will be provided at the Royal Athletic Park for sailors' amusements.

WOMEN DISCUSS FILM CENSORSHIP

Local Council to Ask for Appointment of Provincial Board

The much-voiced question of the censorship of films coming into British Columbia was raised by the Local Council of Women, when that body met this morning for the first time after the summer recess. The discussion arose in connection with a complaint made as to the showing of the film "Common Clay" at a local theatre, the contention being that the moral tone of the picture was such as to have a pernicious effect on young people.

After considerable discussion it was decided to ask that a delegation be sent from the Provincial Executive of the Council to interview the Provincial Government with a view to having the duties of censorship carried out by a Board of Censors, such Board to include women as well as men. In the course of the discussion the jurisdiction of the Municipal authorities was cited, the best being prevalent among the members that the Mayor as Chief Magistrate had power to prevent the showing of an film or play of questionable morals, or in any other way objectionable.

A suggestion that vaudeville acts should be censored before being included on the bills of Canadian theatres was also broached, and will be taken up by the Equal Moral Standard Committee of the Council.

CARTIER MONUMENT UNVEILED BY KING

Messages Reached Montreal Saturday From Many Points Throughout Empire

Montreal, Sept. 8.—From the King, from points throughout the Empire and from every province of Canada came greetings on Saturday on the occasion of the unveiling of the monument in this city to Sir George Etienne Cartier, first Prime Minister of Canada in the Empire. South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and Newfoundland, sent messages that told that the works of Sir George had gone beyond the confines of the Dominion and had played a mighty part in the development of the Empire.

The sister provinces, especially those in the west, acknowledged in the greetings that it was Cartier to whom the very existence of the western provinces was largely due, nor did they forget that it was his vision that the fact of a great country stretching from the Pacific to the Atlantic was owing.

The status was unveiled by King George, who, at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, pressed a button, causing an electric current to pass through a trans-Atlantic cable which released the drapings and displayed the monument to those gathered at the spot.

The King's message was as follows:—Unveiling the Cartier monument, which ceremony, thanks to the marvellous agency of electricity, I am able to perform at a distance of upwards of 3,000 miles. I am glad thus to join with the people of Canada in commemorating the centenary of their illustrious fellow-citizen, whose name will ever be closely associated with the progress and prosperity of the Dominion.

PRINCE OF WALES MAY VISIT INDIA

Unlikely Heir to Throne Will Visit Australia Next Spring

London, Sept. 8.—The National News is informed that nothing is known either at the Colonial Office or among the Royal entourage to bear out the Australian report that the Prince of Wales will visit Australia next spring. On the contrary, it is considered as most unlikely. There is a good reason to believe that the Prince will go to India before visiting Australia. It is expected that the King will shortly direct that an official statement be issued on the subject.

Cape Town, South Africa, Sept. 8.—(Reuter's)—The success of the visit of the Prince of Wales to Canada has stimulated interest in his Empire visit to South Africa. The cable dispatches from Reuter's correspondent accompanying the Prince in Canada are published promptly in the newspapers and the Prince's doings and receptions there are a particular topic of conversation. Everywhere the question is being asked: "When is the Prince coming to South Africa?" He is assured of the heartiest welcome throughout the whole country. The Prince's message of sympathy following the death of Premier Botha was greatly appreciated by General Botha's friends.

CIVILIAN FLIERS WIN MONEY PRIZE

R. H. Depew Gets Principal Prize For Toronto-Mineola Aeroplane Race

New York, Sept. 8.—Although Major R. W. Schroeder, pilot of a Vought VE-7 training plane, was named officially as winner of the American Flying Club's international handicap aeroplane contest and reliability race, which was held between Mineola and Toronto during the week of August 15, R. H. Depew, a civilian flier, who piloted the Curtiss JN-4-D plane, was announced as winner of the first money prize of the $10,000 to be divided among the civilian winners, as a War Department order prevented military entrants from competing for cash prizes.

To determine the winners, the Club's contest took from the Government's records the theoretical performance of each machine with a maximum useful load of fuel, oil and passengers. This load was used as a basis for determining the relative performance of the machines with the load actually carried.

The prize money offered by John M. Bowman, of New York, will be divided among Depew, C. S. Jones, Roland, Rohlf, Roy Moore, L. W. Bertand, C. A. Schiller, O. S. Palmer and W. C. Barker.

190 WILL ATTEND OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Gathering Will Consider Industrial Situation; Will Open Next Monday

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Announcement has been made of the names of the delegates who will attend the National Industrial conference, which will deal with industrial relations and labor laws, and will open in Ottawa next Monday, September 15. The list is not complete on either side, but there will be in all seventy-five employers' delegates and an equal number of spokesmen for employees, together with a third group of representatives of municipal representatives, members of the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations; members of the Labor Sub-Committee of the Dominion Cabinet; representatives of returned soldiers and others.

Sir Robert Borden will open the conference and will act as chairman. Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, will act as vice-chairman. It is expected that the various Provincial Premiers also will attend. Among those invited is Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the new leader of the Liberal Party, who will speak on the opening day immediately following the address by the Prime Minister.

Colonel David Carnegie, London, England, formerly ornance adviser of the Imperial Munitions Board, who since last spring has been following closely the development of the British industrial policy, and comes over to Canada to give the Conference first-hand information respecting the Whitley plan of joint industrial councils, which has made such remarkable progress in Britain during the past year.

An American.
W. Jett Lauck, of Washington, secretary of the United States War Labor Board, who is intimately acquainted with the most recent developments in the field of industrial relations in the United States, also will address the Conference.

Others who, during the past two years has served as secretary of the Dominion Cabinet, and who was for eight years Assistant Deputy Minister of Labor, will act as secretary of the Conference.

The employers' list of delegates includes many of the best known names in Canadian industry, and is representative alike of all branches of business and industry in Canada and of all parts of the country. The Government has given the fullest possible freedom to employers and employees to select their own delegates and the choice has been made on the one hand by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, the Canadian Fishermen's Association, the Canadian Mining Institute, the Canadian Association of Builders and Contractors, the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, the Canadian Credit Men's Association and the Electric Light Association, and on the other hand by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

In a Body.
The members of the Canadian Railway Board of Adjustment, No. 1, being six representatives of employers and six employees, will attend the Conference in a body. There will be four delegates present from the Civil Service Federation, representing the public service of the Dominion. The financial interests will be represented by three persons chosen by the Canadian Bankers' Association. There being no organization made up of farmers, it was found impossible to secure representation of employers and employees interested in agriculture on the same basis as other industries.

The Government was desirous that agriculture should be represented, and five delegates accordingly have been selected through the Dominion of Agriculture, on behalf of the farming interests of the Dominion.

MRS. J. H. ALBERTSON WAS HARDLY ABLE TO GET A GOOD BREATH

Her Only Regret Is She Didn't Commence on Tanlac Sooner

"So many people who suffered the same way I did, obtained relief by taking Tanlac that I finally decided to see what it would do for me and the results are, I am enjoying as good health in every way now as I ever did in my life," said Mrs. J. H. Albertson, who lives at 459 Kingsway, Vancouver, the other day.

"I suffered for a long time before I made up my mind to give Tanlac a trial," continued Mrs. Albertson, "and now since taking this wonderful medicine, the only regret I have is that I didn't commence on it sooner than I did. My stomach was in bad condition, and for two or three hours after eating I would be perfectly miserable on account of my food souring and causing gas to form. Sometimes this gas would get up into my chest and cause my heart to palpitate, and I would hardly be able to get a good breath. Then, at times I would have had cramping spells. I was so nervous that the least thing would upset me, and I never sleep very well. I also suffered from headaches, and frequently had severe pains in the small of my back. I finally got so weak and run-down I was hardly able to get about."

"That was the condition I was in when I commenced taking Tanlac, but a few bottles of this wonderful medicine have made a big change in me in every way. In fact, I feel like a different person entirely, and am enjoying as good health as I ever did in my life. I have a fine appetite, and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I am never bothered with indigestion or sour stomach. I am hardly ever bothered with nervousness now, and I sleep just like a baby every night. I am as well and strong as I can do all my household work without the least trouble. Tanlac certainly has proven a great blessing to me, and as long as I live I will praise it for the good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Adv.

SALVAGE MILLIONS FROM SEA'S DEPTHS

British Admiralty Recovers 440 Vessels and Property Worth $250,000,000

London, Sept. 8.—The salvage of 440 vessels and the recovery of property valued at $250,000,000 is the record in four years of the Admiralty Department which, under Rear Admiral Philpotts, has been conducting salvage operations in home and foreign waters. The department came into existence in the autumn of 1915 and finished its last contract this week. This was the salvaging of an American steamer at Fenarth.

From the beginning of October, 1915, to the end of November, 1918, British allied and neutral vessels totalling 1,521,551 gross tons have been salvaged. Suggestions have appeared now and again that weird appliances were being employed in this salvage work, but only principles already existing, although vastly improved, have been used. The Admiralty relied wholly upon steamers with extraordinary pumps and a series of six lifting lights, connected from boom-hoppers, which can support a strain of 2,000 tons with three-inch wires.

In one instance, indeed, where a collier was sunk at her anchorage at Rosyth, they lifted her and the weight was then 2,700 tons—a figure which before the salvage department was created would have been regarded as impossible. Within three months the collier was in commission again, notwithstanding that she had been submerged for seven months. The collier was sunk at Rosyth, slightly diverged from. This was at Folkestone. The troopship Onward caught fire and was scuttled, and, in the absence of captains on the quay, arrangements were made for disengaged railway engines on the shore to haul the wreck upright. During one of the pushes on the western front when Boulogne Harbor was a vital link in the lines of communication the grain ship Araby grounded in the fairway and broke her back.

The salvage fleet promptly cut her in halves and brought the halves across to England, thus clearing what might have proved a disastrous obstruction in the way of a projected attack.

In the case of the Laurentic, from which bullion valued at $5,500,000 was recovered by the destroyers were employed to race around the waters at top speed and so create a wash in which one or two of the stranded vessels slid off.

Similar methods were used to refloat the United States transport Naragansett, which stuck on Hembridge Ledge, Isle of Wight, and was in danger of breaking her back.

One of the smartest pieces of salvage linked with seamanship relates to a U-boat which was displaced of 700 tons which was sunk in Liverpool, ran into a heavy fog and grounded off the northeast coast of Ireland, four of them within a radius of half a mile. The U-boat was a lighter and the whole boat was taken in tow and brought to the mouth of the Tyne. There the submarine slipped from the tow and was grappled up and brought into the harbor.

When the armistice was signed the Salvage Department was engaged in raising a U-boat that, having become entangled in the British defensive nets, had "touched off" a mine and gone to the bottom. A diver who descended for examination and to secure the crew again sank to lighter and the whole boat was taken in tow and brought to the mouth of the Tyne. There the submarine slipped from the tow and was grappled up and brought into the harbor.

COBALT MINERS ARE WORKING ONCE MORE

Cobalt, Sept. 8.—The miners' strike, which has been in operation here for six weeks, is over. The Miners' Union held a mass meeting here yesterday afternoon and decided to call off the strike and to accept the terms offered by the mine managers. The men returned to work at 6 o'clock this morning.

The meeting yesterday was a very spirited one. The executive of the union recommended that the strike be called off, but in this it was opposed by the radical element, which put up a desperate fight for the continuance of the strike. The radicals, however, were outvoted on the issue.

A mass meeting of the miners was held last night and ratified the settlement. The strike involved 23,000 mine hands and a loss of about $2,500,000 in production.

BRITISH LEAVING NORTH RUSSIAN AREA

Operations There Designed Merely to Cover Withdrawal of Troops

London, Sept. 8.—(Reuter's).—In reference to the allegations recently published that the public was being misled in regard to the British policy in North Russia and that offensive and not defensive operations are being carried on there, a high official of the War Office, interviewed by Reuter's, said there had never been the slightest intention of deviating a hair's breadth from the policy of evacuation, which was proceeding satisfactorily with the help of relief forces.

The sole advance was General Jackson's advance of ten miles, which was purely a local affair and executed strictly in accordance with sound principles of defence. The official added that when it was found that the ports of Russia were closed by the British troops would have left.

A Home Recipe for Wrinkled, Saggy Skin

The famous saxonite lotion recommended by beauty specialists for removing wrinkles and sagging skin can easily be made at home. Ask your druggist for saxonite soap. Dissolve the powder in a pint of witch hazel. Dissolve the powder in the witch hazel and bathe the face, neck and hands in the solution. Results are remarkable and instantaneous. The skin tightens, and this naturally reduces the wrinkles, as well as creases of folds about the neck, cheeks or hands. The tissue beneath the skin also becomes firmer and more solid.

One feels much refreshed and exhilarated after using this truly wonderful preparation. Many women look five or ten years younger after using this only a short time.

WINNIPEG WORKERS DEMANDING BAIL

Want Strike Leaders Out of Jail; Nova Scotia Miners

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Yesterday was known as "protest Sunday" to the working people of Winnipeg, and several meetings were held in different parts of the city in protest against the holding in custody and the refusal of bail to the eight strike leaders arrested during the recent strike and committed for trial. A large mass meeting was held in the Winnipeg Rink yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Labor Defence League, and another meeting in the Columbia Theatre. This latter was the regular Labor Church meeting; in addition to these there were meetings held at Transcona, Morse Place, Elmwood, Norwood, Weston, St. James and Fort Rouge.

At all meetings resolutions were passed protesting against the court's refusal of bail to the imprisoned men.

In Nova Scotia, Sydney, N. S., Sept. 8.—T. S. McLaughlin, secretary of District No. 24 of the United Mine Workers of America, Robert Baxter, president of the District, and David Ryan, vice-president, all of whom are here from Glace Bay, have approved the plan to call a general strike in Canada if the leaders in the recent strike in Winnipeg are not released from jail on bail by September 17. A statement to this effect was made to the press by Mr. McLaughlin. He stated also that the proposal to have the United Mine Workers of America in Nova Scotia go out on strike in the event that bail is still refused to the Winnipeg strikers has been endorsed by the locals in Cumberland County, at Inverness, New Waterford, Sydney Mines and in the Glace Bay district word has yet to be received from Pictou County locals.

CANADIAN OFFICERS DINED IN LONDON

Men Back From North Russia Entertained by Colonel Leckip

London, Sept. 8.—What probably will be the last social meeting in London of Canadians fresh from the fighting front took place Saturday when Colonel John Leckie entertained those officers who, twelve months ago joined with him for the Stranraer expedition.

Colonel Leckie also included among the guests officers representing the French and Italian forces who were with the Canadians. It was striking to note in the oratory that there was throughout intense sympathy and goodwill towards Russia, the health of the unhappy country being drunk fervently.

Behind the host was displayed a Bolshevik flag captured by the Canadians.

One of the guests, Lieut. Horlicka, now a Canadian officer, who originally served with the Polish Legion, was captured by the Germans and later was captured by the Bolsheviks.

PICTURES FROM HUMAN HAIR.

A large model of a British battleship, recently on view at a London exhibition of war trophies, had its "wireless" installation made from a girl's hair.

Thirty years ago watch-guards made from women's tresses were fashionable, and a few specimens may be seen even to-day in some jewelers' shops.

In 1882, again, an exhibition was held in London of pictures made of human hair. This artistic fad was imported into this country from the Far East, where it has been practiced for centuries.

Japanese and Chinese artists work these curious pictures on all manner of substances—gold, silver, ivory, velvet, and hard, sweet-scented wood. The details of the workmanship are exquisite, the colors are brilliant, and the hair lengths—into several portions of certain very fine light and shadows.

Given as Wedding Dowries.

In St. Kilda hair ropes are used for climbing the cliffs in search for sea-birds' eggs. To obtain the material for these ropes takes many years, and they are highly prized by such of the islanders as are fortunate enough to possess them. A hair climbing-rope is in the nature of a family heirloom, and is frequently handed down to the eldest daughter as a wedding dowry.

Similar ropes are not unknown in other countries. One of the most remarkable of these is mentioned by Sir Frederick Treves in his book entitled "The Other Side of the Lantern."

He describes it as lying curled up like a gigantic caterpillar within the great Buddhist temple at Kioto. It measured 300 feet in length and three inches in diameter, and was made up of contributions from the heads of many hundred of thousands of Japanese women. Long ago it was used to drag timbers to the building and to hoist them into place, and now it is carefully preserved, a sacred relic, within the vast edifice it helped to raise.

Weight-Lifting Locks.

The hairs of the head, when plaited together, are exceeding strong. 1818 a certain Mme. Gobert, who gave an exhibition before the Prince Regent in London, coiled her hair cable-wise round a blacksmith's anvil weighing 400 pounds, and swung the mass of from backward and forward like a pendulum.

Although new modes of hairdressing have puzzled the human ingenuity to the utmost, savages are most fertile in the invention of hair contortions. Moslems have been known to shave away all their hair save a small clump in the centre, which they think will serve as a handle by which they may be lifted up to heaven.

Natives of the New Hebrides twist their hair into as many as six hundred whorls. The person who can show the greatest number of these thin hair cords is regarded as one of importance, and is revered accordingly.

Papuan wear large bones entangled in their hair, but Maoris go one better and only allow sharks' teeth to be used. The Inokuns, a savage West African tribe, train their hair into a great rising not less than twelve inches in height, and then let it fall backwards, fan shaped.

In Samoa the women dress their hair to a shape somewhat resembling a gigantic royal crown. On the top of the crown, which is upheld by numerous thin bones or twigs, they place a wreath of garlands.

A wealthy Kaffir trains his hair into a cone, open at the top, and what the Englishman stows away in his trousers pocket the cunning Kaffir puts in his hair.—Tit-Bits.

The House of Commons possesses a post office of its own, which deals with over two and a half million postal packets—to say nothing of a tremendous number of telegrams—during a single session.

MERVILLE'S FIRST-PRODUCE.

Just a little less than six months ago an endeavor was made to apply the Empress of Asia community settlement theory at Courtenay. Scarcely were the doors of the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa pronounced the scheme unsound economically. It had been tried elsewhere, in less ambitious fashion, perhaps, but it had failed. And if the soldier-farmer desired to avail himself of the loan provided by the Federal Soldier Settlement Act it would be made to him as an individual applicant qualified to receive it. There could be no lump sum for a community, although potentially self-sustaining and replete with diversified callings.

To be eligible for a loan the soldier required to pass the requisite agricultural test set by the Examining Board. Because of this unalterable rule the Asia proposal was subjected to modification. The Provincial Land Settlement Board came to the rescue and purchased the Courtenay area. It was agreed that the project for the time being should be treated as a Provincial one. The purely agricultural part of the plan could be developed. Along this line the Land Settlement Board framed its plans. A transformation has taken place. Logged-off lands of six months ago are fast losing their non-productive appearance. A desolate waste has been translated into a promising township of over 300 people.

On Saturday last Merville—the name chosen for Canada's pioneer community soldier-settlement—shipped its first produce. Hence, if 150 returned citizens can do this at Courtenay similar results may be expected at Creston, where the Land Settlement Board has established Soldier Settlement No. 2. Even the Minister of the Interior eventually may conclude that the community plan is worth Federal recognition in the community sense.

"SUICIDAL."

The description "suicidal and likely to be fraught with grave consequences," applied by Captain G. A. Huff, mayor of Alberni, to the withdrawal by the Dominion Government of the lifeboat from the Banfield life-saving station, is none too strong. With the sombre record of the West Coast waters before us and the knowledge that within a short time the season of trials, difficulties and dangers of navigation will have arrived, the Government's action is nothing short of a tragic blunder. Possibly the Government has forgotten the wreck of the Valencia, not to speak of other marine catastrophes in that region, but the Department of Marine and Fisheries knows that it was in consequence of that wreck that a road was built along the West Coast for a considerable distance, life-saving stations were established and a power lifeboat installed at Banfield. The cost of these measures was heavy, but no cost can be too large where the saving of human life is the end in view.

The Vancouver Province puts the case very aptly in its protest against the withdrawal of the lifeboat in the following comment:

"If the life-saving station at Banfield was not intended to be permanent why were scores of thousands of dollars spent upon it and upon the road communicating with it? The life-saving station has been well ordered and admirably maintained. It is in complete telephone communication with the West Coast points, including the Cape Beale lighthouse. Why has the Federal Government determined to abandon it? Since 1906 there have been continual increases of sea movement along the West Coast. Hundreds of motor craft of all sizes permanently ply in these waters; the outer reaches of all the large sounds spreading to the sea are in the season filled with fishing craft. Many have been rescued from serious predicaments by the Banfield life-saving outfit. Again, there is every probability that voyaging along the West Coast will increase as the years go on and lands become settled.

"The reason given by the Government is that it is difficult to get men to man the lifeboats and look after the life-saving station. Along with the lighthouse-keepers these men suffer from the cheese-paring policy of a department which should know better. The difficulty is a money difficulty, and it appears to be a case of economy without reason. The termination of the war has set free large numbers of naval reserve men and other seamen. If necessary men could be obtained from eastern Canada or from the coasts of Britain. The life-saving station at Banfield should not be closed."

To this we might add that considering the possible consequences of the Government's action the "money difficulty" is no difficulty at all. It is many times more important that every provision should be made to protect the lives of our seamen and passengers on our ships than, for instance, that Rumania should be given millions of Canadian credit in order to boost the export trade of certain classes of Canadian business.

PREFERS A RECEPTION.

The intimation from the Prince of Wales of his desire that a public reception be held at the Parliament Buildings on the morning of September 24 is in strict accord with his course since he landed in Canada. The British Throne is a democratic institution, based upon the will of the people without regard to class and official distinctions. The type of that people is the average citizen and that is the person the Prince of Wales desires to see and for him to see whom his visit was expressly and specifically intended and planned. More than that, the Prince desires it from his own choice, apart from reasons of policy, and any arrangement which puts him behind a hedge of exclusiveness or makes him the victim of social climbers is in poor taste and an obstacle to the success of his tour.

Another thing. We read the other day that in one of the receptions held in the East the Prince's right hand was shaken so much that it refused to function and he had to use his left hand. This is altogether probable. We have known of public men who after that ordeal have had to undergo medical treatment for days. Victoria ought to spare the Prince this persecution, or at least minimize it to such an extent that it will not spoil his visit. Like most other young men of his age he would be quite satisfied to take the will for the deed.

CARSON AND NORTHELIFFE.

There would be more point to Sir Edward Carson's attack on Lord Northcliffe if it were not for the fact that Sir Edward himself has a little bee in his own bonnet. The Ulster leader described the newspaper monopolist as "the greatest absentee Irish capitalist and the greatest example of an Irishman who under the Union has made untold wealth in England." He may be perfectly right; but Sir Edward would be no less a friend to Ireland were he to devote more of his energy and ability towards the discovery of a plan by which the Irish fly may be removed from the Empire ointment.

Sir Edward says Lord Northcliffe loves man-hunting. His newspaper campaigns during the last decade, moreover, establish the fact that he very often bags his quarry. The procedure has its advantages for Northcliffe, but for the nation it has serious drawbacks, because it may easily place any public official at the mercy of the Northcliffe whim.

Incidentally, the clash between Carson and Northcliffe is another indication of the frailty of alliances with Printing House Square. Not very long ago Northcliffe was an ardent champion of Carson and his ways, and his press modestly claimed credit for Carson's translation to Mr. Lloyd George's Cabinet. In the gay days of ancient Rome it became a commonplace that those whom some of the Emperors singled out for favor made their wills as soon as the imperial regard began to manifest itself. Whenever Nero, Caligula or Commodus intimated his esteem for any of his satellites that unhappy patrician invariably began to wind up his affairs and prepare himself for the inevitable tragic variation of the imperial whim. The men whom Northcliffe has favored have had the same experience. His Lordship eventually appears to grow weary of seeing their names in his paper, and therefore orders their summary elimination, so that his capricious fancy may be gratified by new idols—and victims.

LORD BERESFORD DEAD.

The death of Lord Charles Beresford removes a picturesque figure from British public life and ends a distinguished naval career with which Victoria has an intimate personal connection. In his early days in the navy Lord Charles served on the North Pacific station as a midshipman, and is still remembered by old-timers for his vivacious ways. As a sailor he first won signal distinction for his handling of the sloop Condor in the bombardment of Alexandria, in which he brought his small ship so closely under the forts that their guns could not be trained upon it, his manoeuvre winning from the admiral the tribute, "Well done, Condor!"

By sheer ability Beresford won his way to the rank of commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean Squadron and commander-in-chief of the Channel Squadron and promotion to full admiral. His talents, however, were not confined to his naval activities. He entered public life and for years, in Parliament, was a strong advocate of aggressive naval measures. He was the chief opponent of the policy of Lord Fisher and during his long duel with that bold and resourceful chieftain British navaldom was divided into what was known as the Fisher and Beresford schools.

Beresford condemned the Fisher plan of abandoning the overseas distribution of naval strength, at the same time, of course, demanding adequate provision for European waters. There was very much that was personal in the feud between the two great sailors; it was largely a clash between two naturally antagonistic, forcible personalities. Fisher proved the stronger with the powers that be, but with his retirement as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty in 1910 and his succession by Sir Arthur Wilson, Beresford was satisfied and harmony reigned again.

CLOSED SEASON FOR SEVEN YEARS.

Nothing but time will show whether the new international fisheries treaty will do all that is hoped of it. Although it does not go so far as a number of witnesses who appeared before the International Fisheries Commission wished it to go, its provisions ought to save the famous Fraser River run from passing into history altogether.

Of particular importance, of course, are the regulations which provide for an annual closed season of twelve days and the limitations set upon traps and purse seines. For instance, during the years 1920 to 1926—both inclusive—it will be unlawful for any person to catch or kill salmon between July 20 and July 31 in each year. In other words, for the next seven years it will be possible for the greater part of what is left of the annual run to reach the spawning grounds in the upper waters of the Fraser.

Experts have prescribed the prohibitory period as the only effective means by which a valuable international asset might be saved for posterity. The results of the first closed season will be watched on both sides of the border. In the meantime it is satisfactory to note that the persistent recommendations of Fishery officials in Canada, and in British Columbia particularly, have been heeded, and that the two nations are convinced of the necessity of drastic action.

JOBBER'S DENY PLOT TO RAISE PRICE OF FLOUR

Increase Ordered By Mills Before Authorized By Canada Wheat Board

PRICES NOT SET BY VICTORIA DEALERS

Flour jobbers to-day characterized as unfounded allegations issued from the Parliament Buildings at the week-end that they had conspired together to raise the price of flour in spite of the refusal of the Canada Wheat Board to sanction an increase. They classify as "ridiculous" the statement that their attempts to put up the price of flour were frustrated by the action of the Provincial Government, saying that the increased price never went into effect and that it was cancelled before the Government took any action.

The jobbers are particularly incensed over insinuations that there is an "inner ring" of them which have been trying to manipulate prices to the disadvantage of the consumer. They explain that all these charges came from any foundation, as the prices the jobbers and wholesalers here are allowed to charge are fixed absolutely by the mills in the east. At present the responsibility for price rises rests entirely on the Wheat Board, as that body took over that function a short time ago when the Government placed under its control the handling and marketing of the entire Canadian wheat crop for this year.

Representatives of some local mills to-day, and issued the following statement in explanation of the situation: "The statement that the British Columbia wholesalers advanced the price of flour illegally, and were acting in collusion all over the Province is absolutely untrue in every particular."

"As a matter of fact the British Columbia flour jobbers have nothing whatever to do with fixing the price of flour. This is a matter entirely in the hands of the flour milling companies at their head offices in Winnipeg. When any change in price takes place, the British Columbia representatives of the different mills are advised of the change by wire, and prices altered in keeping with these instructions."

"A meeting of the millers was held in Winnipeg on August 25, at which it was decided to raise the price of flour from $10.75 per barrel of 4-49 pound sacks, the cash export price on track Victoria, to $11.15. Instructions to this effect were wired to all British Columbia representatives of the different milling companies. This advice was duly received by the Canadian Wheat Board advancing the price of milling wheat to the flour mills from $2.24 to $2.30 per bushel in store Fort William, this being an advance of six cents per bushel on wheat over last year's fixed price."

"On August 30, four days later, British Columbia mill representatives received further instructions, which cancelled the rates ordered on August 25, because the sanction of the wheat board had not been received, but that the matter would be taken up at the next meeting of the wheat board to be held in Ottawa on September 8."

Loss Money on Flour.
 "To show the small margin of profit allowed them by the millers the local flour jobbers would point out that the present price paid by jobbers of flour in carload lots on track Victoria for cash is $10.75 per barrel of 4-49 pound sacks. Or rather to retailers the jobbers prices are as follows:

"Ten barrel lots, for cash f. o. b. warehouse, $10.50 per barrel.
 "Less than ten barrel lots, for cash f. o. b. warehouse, $10.95 per barrel.
 "If delivered to the retailer, 10 cents per barrel, is charged."

"From this it can be seen that the flour jobbers gross profit runs from 1 per cent. to 4 per cent., which does not commence to cover the expenses of doing business. These jobbing margins were established by the Canada Food Board in conjunction with the mills and have been in effect ever since the food board was established and are still in effect to-day."

"The announcement of the increase of 40 cents a barrel in the price of flour was made here on August 26 by the local representatives of the milling companies on the orders telegraphed from their head offices, the local millers explained at their meeting to-day. This announcement of flour price increase followed the increase made by the Canada Wheat Board in the price of wheat from $2.24 a bushel to $2.30.

 New Price Discarded.
 On August 30, however, local representatives of the flour mills received the following telegrams from their head offices: "Discard flour price given in telegram of August 26. Board won't sanction. Revert to old list. Board considering price. Likely advance at an early date."

The local dealers to-day announced that no flour was put out here at the advanced price which was announced on August 26.
 The Wheat Board is meeting to-day in the East. From information supplied by the head offices of the mills, it is likely the Board will order the 40 cents put on the price of flour here to follow the increase made in the price of wheat. This is the first meeting of the Board since the price of flour was advanced too previously, in the expectation that the Board would order it.

The price of flour has already been put up by the Board's authority in Montreal, and the head offices of the milling companies have informed their representatives here that there is no doubt that the increased price will be immediately made effective on this coast as the freight rates are exactly the same from the Middle West to Montreal as they are to the Pacific Coast.

COMPLETE DETAILS FOR PENDING VISIT

On arrival Capt. Martin, C.M.G., R.N.R., will make his official call on Admiral Rodman, and it will be returned later at Naval headquarters at Esquimalt.

In regard to facilities for citizens to visit the ships, the committee announced to-day that the matter had been taken up with Captain Troup, and the committee hopes to make an announcement with regard to transportation, either to-morrow or Wednesday. The ships, as already announced, will be open from two o'clock to six o'clock.

By Wireless.
 Secretary Daniels notifies President Cochrane that he will radio-graph him when the squadron enters the Straits of Puca.
 Those attending this morning's meeting were Premier Oliver, Capt. Martin, U. S. Consul R. H. Mosher, Alderman Harvey, on behalf of the city; John Cochrane, President of the Canadian Club, and Frank Sehl, Secretary of the Club.

With reference to arrangements for sale of tickets for the Canadian Club supper on Thursday evening at the Empress Hotel, members of the Club are notified that supper tickets may be obtained only at Cochrane's Drug Store, where the secretary will conduct the sale to-morrow from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.; Wednesday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.; and Thursday from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Any tickets remaining after 1 p. m. Thursday will be allotted to new applicants for membership in the Club in the order in which applications are received.

inent members of the Union Party have interceded with the Prime Minister for a re-consideration of the attitude adopted by the Government. Inquiry Imperative.

"The Great War Veterans' Association has 'played the game' on this question," stated President Purney, "but no recognition is given to this fact in the attitude assumed by the Government. There is no disposition upon the part of the veterans to make any demand which would tax the financial resources of the country, but the desire for a more equitable programme of re-establishment has become so generally insistent as to make a thorough investigation of the schedule imperative."

Adjustment Possible.
 The Dominion secretary-treasurer was authority for the statement that the information had been conveyed to the Government in the matter and that the Ministers had not denied the Association the privilege of further discussion upon the subject. He also stated that no campaign would be instituted calculated to embarrass the present administration, as adjustment was still possible.
Toronto Meeting.
 Toronto, Sept. 8.—Urgently demanding a gratuity of $2,000 for every returned soldier, about 5,000 returned men in Queen's Park here yesterday afternoon pledged themselves to "sleep, eat and drink gratuity" till the Dominion Government should grant the demand for the $2,000. The crowd agreed not to accept anything less than this sum, since a compromise would "show weakness" in the demand. The meeting had been hurriedly called by large placards on prominent street corners.

Beneath the notice calling the meeting was a smaller one, advising returned soldiers to proceed to the Queen's Park meeting with rifles and bayonets. Whether this was meant seriously or not, the advice was not followed.
 J. Harry Flynn, a returned man, who stated that he was on the staff of the High School of Commerce, was somewhat violent in pressing for the demand of the veterans.

By Force
 "Let us form an organization for the purpose of getting this grant," said Mr. Flynn. "Let us make a peaceful demand and if it is not answered I say let us take it by force. If there are riots, the fault will not be with the returned men—Use your power, talk gratuity and force them to give us our rights."
 Mr. Flynn declared that the granting of $2,000 to every man who had fought in France or Flanders would not bankrupt the country, but it would bankrupt the country if 500,000 returned men had to go on in the present condition, "which is created by newspapers and politicians."
A Boycott
 He strongly resented an editorial in a local morning paper opposing the suggested gratuity, and threatened that the returned men would boycott the paper, and "if necessary would stop the sale of that paper."
 Mr. Brockbank, secretary of the Toronto branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, was one of the speakers.

 Before the gathering dispersed a general invitation was issued for all returned men to meet this forenoon at 11 o'clock and proceed to the City Hall to interview Mayor Church.

At Calgary
 Calgary, Sept. 8.—The news of the refusal of the Dominion Government to meet a committee of the Great War Veterans' Association on gratuities fell like a bombshell among the veterans here and an indignation meeting largely attended was held yesterday afternoon, at which a strongly worded resolution was passed insisting that the Government meet the veterans' committee. It was planned to hold a public demonstration next Sunday, which the Prince of Wales, who will be a guest here then, will be asked to attend.
 The Calgary veterans feel very keenly the attitude of the Government, since it was with the Calgary branch that the first proposal for a gratuity originated.

LUMBER FROM THIS PROVINCE FOR HOUSES IN UNITED KINGDOM

London, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—F. C. Wade, Agent-General of British Columbia, interviewed by The Daily News, said that hundreds of thousands of mill cut fir wood houses could be imported from British Columbia in a short time and erected in Britain within a few days of arrival, and thus relieve the housing problem. Mr. Wade admitted that architects and builders would oppose the importation, but such houses, he said, would be more damp-proof and cheaper than brick, even adding the cost of freight.

VICTORIANS TO HEAR
"JOHN AYSKOUGH"

Foremost English Catholic
Author Will Lecture
Here

Right Rev. Monsignor Francis Bickerstaffe-Drew, chaplain to the British forces, and a prelate of the Catholic Church, arrived in Victoria this afternoon, to lecture to-night here at St. Ann's Academy on "Life and Literature."

Monsignor Bickerstaffe-Drew is a Count of Rome, a Duke of Italy and Companion of the Order of the British Empire. He is also a Knight of the Holy Sepulchre, Protonotary Apostolic, has the Cross of Pope Leo XIII "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice," the personal Jubilee Medal of Pope Pius X, the coveted Mons medal of the first British expeditionary force in the great war and is the only Englishman who may wear the Star and Chain of the Societe Archeologique of France.

It is as "John Ayscough," author of "French Windows," a dozen novels and scores of other literary productions that millions of readers in America and Europe recognize the achievements of Monsignor Bickerstaffe-Drew.

"French Windows," Monsignor says, "does not even profess to be a war book. It is a collection of little vignettes of peace torn from the sterner pages of the war, and its name is intended to imply that those vignettes are windows opening into the great heart of the French people."

"I always wrote," he explains, "I wrote at school and as a child. But my first printed novel was 'Two Fair Ladies,' published by Samuel Tinsley in 1879, when I was 21 years old. It is long since out of print.

Monsignor Bickerstaffe-Drew was born in Leeds, Yorkshire, in 1858. His father was Rev. Henry Lloyd Bickerstaffe, his mother was daughter of Rev. Pierce William Drew of Youghal, County Cork. It is possible that the unflinching humor that runs through so many of his writings came from his mother's country.

He went to the Edward VI grammar school at Lichfield, a seminary that produced many such notable men as Dr. Johnson, David Garrick, Addison, and the antiquary, Elias Ashmole.

Attended Oxford. Thence he was sent up to Oxford. That was in 1878, and in October of that year he became a Catholic and was immediately taken away by his people.

He then went to London, where he entered the Catholic Seminary of St. Thomas at Hammersmith, and was ordained a priest in the Kensington Pro-Cathedral in 1884, and became an assistant priest there.

In those days he saw much of Cardinal Manning. Incidentally he became Catholic chaplain to the barracks at Kensington and thus it was that he acquired the idea of a military chaplaincy which he put into effect in 1888. In 1899 he was appointed senior Catholic chaplain at Malta, which he retained until 1905, and which he held again in 1909. In 1902 he was created private Chamberlain to Pope Pius X and in 1904 domestic prelate to the same pontiff. Other ecclesiastical honors were later conferred upon him, and in 1912 he was made Protonotary Apostolic.

Meanwhile, as John Ayscough, he was acquiring widespread fame in Macmillans, Temple Bar, Household Words, the Argosy and other then popular magazines. Later his famous works appeared by which the world knows him.

DISTANT PLACES HEAR OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

Cockle, Ayrshire, Scotland, has heard of Vancouver Island, its attractions and also of the Victoria and Island Development Association, for today there came from J. Lamberton, of that place, a request to the Association for descriptive information about the Island. This is being supplied by a number of the organization's pamphlets.

Miss B. Hoole, of Vevey, Switzerland, has also heard of the Island, and today a letter arrived from her asking information about fruit-growing on Vancouver Island. Her request is also being complied with.

The head offices of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association at Seattle on special request are being supplied with a quantity of pamphlets dealing with the motor trip from Winnipeg to Victoria.

COULDN'T BLAME HIM

He was not a Scotsman and he was not a Jew, but he had very clear-cut ideas on economy. Having proceeded in an old "growler" to his house, which, it should be noted, stood alongside a churchyard, he took no heed of the fact that it was very late or that the roads were terrible or that the weary cabby was drenched to the skin.

"What is the legal fare?" he asked as he alighted close by the churchyard gates.

"Two bob, sir," replied the cabby. "Right," said the economic one. "There's half-a-crown; give me sixpence."

The cabby forked out the sixpence, and then, taking one of his lamps from its stand, he shone it upon the horse.

"One minute, sir," he said. "You'd recognize that 'orse again, wouldn't you?"

"Yes; it's a white horse with a short tail, and a deuced slow horse, too," replied the other. "Just so," agreed the cabby. "Well, he'll recognize you, too, an' 'e'd kick my brains out if I offered to carry you again. That's all I wanted to say, sir, except that my deuced slow white horse with a short tail an' me both 'opes that the next time you comes to this churchyard you'll be drawn by a deuced sight slower 'orse, an' that 'e'll be a black horse with a long tail. Good night, sir; I'm goin' to drink yer 'ealth."—Tit-Bits.

Rev. A. P. Du Cave has arrived here from England.
Brigadier-General Odium was in the city on Saturday.

George M. Darlow, of Buffalo, N.Y., is registered at the Empress Hotel.
James Coleman, of Brantford, Ont., arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shaffer, of New Hampton, Ia., are guests at the Empress Hotel.
Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. A. de M. Bell, of Ottawa, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Miss N. McLeod who has been enjoying a ten-day's vacation here as the guest of Miss Marion Case, left yesterday for her home in Vancouver.
Mrs. John Cochrane and Miss Cochrane have just returned home after a three weeks' visit to friends in Vancouver, Bellingham and Seattle.

Miss Mildred Ross, of Victoria, who spent eighteen months overseas nursing in various hospitals in England and France, has again taken up her duties on the teaching staff of the Vancouver schools.

James M. Macoun, C. M. G., Chief of Biological Division, Geological Survey, Ottawa, Ont., and Mrs. Macoun, are visiting Mr. Macoun's parents, Prof. and Mrs. Macoun, of Sidney.

Mrs. C. F. Beaven announces the engagement of her second daughter, Geena Crossley Grey to Kenneth Hume Dennis, of Seattle, formerly of Belleville, Ont. The wedding will take place about the middle of the month.

Mrs. A. H. Cree, of Oak Bay, went up to Shawigan yesterday to join her two small sons and her mother, Mrs. Suddaby, who have been holidaying at the Lake for the past few weeks. The whole party returned to town last night.

Capt. J. J. Montfith, M. C., 2nd C. M. R., of the soldiers' settlement at Courtenay and his sister, Miss Isabel Monteith, of Victoria, are spending a few days with their mother, Mrs. Douglas Wright, at Coquitlam, previous to Captain Monteith's marriage, which takes place this month to Miss Marjorie Mowat, of Enberdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson, of Uplands, have been spending the week-end in Seattle as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bordeaux. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson arranged a motor trip to Rainier National Park in their honor, the party leaving Seattle by automobile on Saturday morning and returning yesterday.

Victorians will be interested in the marriage which took place at Bend, Oregon, U. S. A., on September 2, when Adeline Sheila, youngest daughter of L. E. Kennedy, of granddaughters of T. S. Kennedy, of Victoria, became the bride of Joseph Davis, 11th Co. Artillery, U. S. Army, of Bend, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. M. Johnson.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Saturday Miss Matilda Henrietta Nex, daughter of A. R. Nex, of 660 Montreal Street, became the wife of Edward Price Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roe, of 1121 Chapman Street. Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay performed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Gladys supported by Robert McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Roe left after the ceremony for Brentwood for their honeymoon. They will make their home in Victoria.

Mrs. J. W. deB. Farris will accompany the Attorney-General when he leaves for the East this evening. Mrs. Farris will attend the installation of the new Chancellor at Queen's University on October 16, at which ceremony she will represent the Board of Governors of the U. S. University. While in the East, Mrs. Farris will also avail herself of the opportunity to visit the eastern universities to study the system of education, particularly with regard to that for women students.

Capt. A. T. MacLean, M. C., has returned from overseas where he has served with distinction for over three years. He left here with the B. C. Leavers, serving in France with the 12th Field Company Engineers until 1917, when he was appointed to act as orderly officer to Brig.-Gen. William B. Lindsay, C. M. G., D. S. O., chief engineer of the Canadian Corps in France. Capt. MacLean, who is a Victoria officer, will enter the S. C. R. at Vancouver, as assistant to W. A. Robertson, supervisor of re-training in the S. C. R.

On Sept. 1, at 1167 Twenty-sixth Avenue East, Vancouver, the home of the bride, Miss Annie M. Derry, of Glasgow, Scotland, and John B. Hart, of Cumberland, E. C., were united in marriage. Rev. William Litch, Ruth Morton Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Miss Christie May Sutherland and Miss Marjorie Annette Edwards acted as maids to the bride, and Mrs. Derry was supported by Thomas D. Stark. After the ceremony the wedding party motored to the Hotel Vancouver, where a wedding luncheon was served. At the conclusion of a short honeymoon trip the happy couple will make their home at Cumberland, B. C.

CHAPTER'S FETE AN ATTRACTIVE EVENT

Nearly $300 Netted For Work of Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter

Much encouragement was imparted to the work of the members of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I. O. O. F., by the success of the bazaar held under their auspices at the Nurses' Home of the Jubilee Hospital on Saturday afternoon. Although the unfavorable weather of the early part of the day compelled the abandonment of the idea to make the event an outdoor fete, the transference of the various stalls to the spacious assembly room at the Home caused no loss of attractiveness. The charmingly-decorated booths were well patronized, and as a result of the affair a sum in the neighborhood of $300 was realized—half of which will be devoted to the Chapter's work and half towards the cost of a new operating table for the Jubilee Hospital.

Formal Opening.
Mrs. Henry Croft formally opened the fete at 3 o'clock, her brief address congratulating the Chapter for its practical interest in child welfare work. She was followed by Mrs. R. S. Day, who brought from an anonymous friend a donation of $10 for the Milk Fund, and who spoke a few words on the work of the chapter. A note of impressiveness was added to the opening ceremony by the presence of Miss Sybil Mason, Chapter Standard-bearer, with her standard.

Leveled Wars.
The many patrons were welcomed by Mrs. W. M. Ivel, the regent, Mrs. Norman Paul and Miss J. W. Tolmie, who constituted the reception committee. At the entrance "Vimy," a son of Muggins, an audaciously collected for the chapter's milk fund, the contents of his box totalling $31.45. Delicious cakes and cookies were sold at the stall presided over by Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Knepp, Mrs. Knutson and Miss W. Greig; dainty novelties found ready sale at the hands of Miss Jean Tolmie, Miss Kitty Fraser, Miss Leslie Gallier, Miss McElhinney and Miss Mochout. Mrs. Harvey, in charge of Miss Hughes, was won by Merle North and J. D. Jones respectively. Flowers were sold by Mrs. Bryant, Miss Emily M. Hall, Miss Mochout, Miss Mrs. Harvey, candy by Miss K. Johnston, Miss Jones and Miss George, assisted by a bevy of small maidens including Kathleen Farris and Virginia Paul.

Attractive Raffles.
Numerous dainty novelties were raised during the afternoon, the handsome dolls, hats made by Mrs. Ivel and packed in charming little chintz-covered hand-boxes, were won respectively by Eunice Owen and Mrs. J. D. Maclean. Fortune-telling, a lucrative source of revenue, this feature being in charge of Miss E. Tolmie, assisted by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Conacher. The generous goose, in charge of Mrs. Chester Brown, Miss J. W. Vantreight and Miss Mary Greig, proved a popular attraction. Afternoon tea was served in the lecture-hall, this popular feature being in charge of Mrs. York, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Hall, and the Misses Bannerman, Blankenbach, Lee, Johnston, Edith McKenzie, May Archibald and Mrs. Cunn. Ice cream was dispensed by Miss B. Lunie, Mrs. Greig, Miss Grimmer, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. and Miss M. Silburn.

Added pleasure was imparted to the occasion by the delightful programme of music rendered by the Foundation Company Band, stationed on the verandah of the Home. The success of the affair redounds greatly to the credit of the general committee composed of Mrs. Ivel, Mrs. J. B. Langford, Miss E. Tolmie and Miss McKenzie, who with the conveners of the numerous attractions worked indefatigably to ensure its success. The Chapter wishes to extend its thanks to all who assisted in any way either by donations or personal service.

WHITE FEATHERS SENT TO WOMEN
Manchester, England, Sept. 8.—Demobilized soldiers are getting even with young women who in the early days of the war would write them anonymous letters containing white feathers.

Numerous young women employed on tram cars, in factories and shops, were taking over men's jobs and refusing to give them up. A few of the women have taken the hint and given up their jobs.

For half an hour the father had been lecturing his son on the evils of late nights and late rising in the mornings. "You will never amount to anything," he said, "unless you turn over a new leaf. Remember, it's the early bird that catches the worm!"

"My boy," came the reply, "that worm hadn't been to bed all night; he was on his way home."

Thus did they mock thee—thou the world's fair jester— Because thy cap and bells were set aside.

To jest thou hadst shed thy motley. They have laughed and laughed at thee. Wherein the odds do fight against the challenger.

Five years ago thy face didst want a smile, Thy eyes were stern . . . but thou didst laugh again. Yes, by the sacred beard of good St. Denis.

Thy metal throat didst crack so grim a jest That all the listening hills of war-swept Europe Rang with the echoes, and the bruised earth Quivered beneath the thunderous joy of it.

Oh, humors, thou wert not chary of thy humor, But from the reeking depths of thy-hot wit Flungst thou, with lavish hand, a rich profusion Of fiery quip and steel-tipped epigram; Speeding thy sallies with so true an aim That more didst see the point of thy fierce mirth Than couldst find heart to share its drollery.

FRANCE.
(August, 1914-1919.)
Five years ago they scorned thee— France the jester. Thy laughing lips (so ran the taunt) were blanched, Thy quaking limbs echevred Dame Fashion's novelties In favor of more sombre garb, as though Already thou didst mourn thy second Downfall.

Thy vaulted treasures thou, with trembling hands, Didst bury deep. Fear, like a withering blight, Lay thick upon thy bustling city streets And chattering, tumbler-clinking boulevards.

"France," quoth the Prussian papers, "laughed no more. Her memory is not so short but it can span The meagre space of four and forty years!"

Thus did they mock thee—thou the world's fair jester— Because thy cap and bells were set aside.

To jest thou hadst shed thy motley. They have laughed and laughed at thee. Wherein the odds do fight against the challenger.

Five years ago thy face didst want a smile, Thy eyes were stern . . . but thou didst laugh again. Yes, by the sacred beard of good St. Denis.

Thy metal throat didst crack so grim a jest That all the listening hills of war-swept Europe Rang with the echoes, and the bruised earth Quivered beneath the thunderous joy of it.

Oh, humors, thou wert not chary of thy humor, But from the reeking depths of thy-hot wit Flungst thou, with lavish hand, a rich profusion Of fiery quip and steel-tipped epigram; Speeding thy sallies with so true an aim That more didst see the point of thy fierce mirth Than couldst find heart to share its drollery.

TO HAVE NURSE OF VICTORIAN ORDER

Metchosin, Colwood and Langford Women's Institutes Consider Project

Public meetings in connection with the Women's Institutes of Metchosin, Colwood and Langford took place last week to elect a committee for the purpose of considering the question of appointing a nurse of the Victorian Order for Colwood, Langford, Metchosin and surrounding districts.

The meeting at Colwood on Tuesday was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hickford, who, after giving some facts as to the necessity of a nurse, called on Miss Furshaw, head nurse of the Saanich branch of the order, to address the meeting. She explained in detail what was being done in Saanich, and answered many questions asked. The report of the members who had canvassed the districts for donations and subscriptions was very encouraging, and the meeting felt quite in order in sending a resolution to the Metchosin meeting that a nurse for the district should be appointed. The names of those appointed to serve on the committee were: Colwood, Madames Peatt and Neal; Langford and Goldstream, Mrs. Welsh; Luxton and Happy Valley, Mrs. Sutton.

At the meeting at Metchosin on Thursday the Rev. Mr. Swanson took the chair and addressed the meeting on the subject in hand. The canvassers for the districts reported that all those called on were favorably disposed to having a nurse and willing to help with subscriptions. After some discussion and hearing of the resolution from Colwood the meeting decided to have a nurse jointly with the other districts.

The remainder of the committee was then appointed as follows: Metchosin, Mrs. Brown and H. C. Helgeson; Rocky Point, G. Ball; Albert Head, F. Higgs. The meeting then adjourned and a committee meeting was held, those present being Madames Brown, E. Peatt, Welsh, Sutton and Neal, and Mr. Helgeson. It was proposed and carried that Colonel Hart should be asked to act as president of the committee, Mr. Helgeson being elected as vice-president and Mrs. Neal as secretary-treasurer, and that steps should be taken to secure a nurse as soon as possible.

The many patrons were welcomed by Mrs. W. M. Ivel, the regent, Mrs. Norman Paul and Miss J. W. Tolmie, who constituted the reception committee. At the entrance "Vimy," a son of Muggins, an audaciously collected for the chapter's milk fund, the contents of his box totalling $31.45. Delicious cakes and cookies were sold at the stall presided over by Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Knepp, Mrs. Knutson and Miss W. Greig; dainty novelties found ready sale at the hands of Miss Jean Tolmie, Miss Kitty Fraser, Miss Leslie Gallier, Miss McElhinney and Miss Mochout. Mrs. Harvey, in charge of Miss Hughes, was won by Merle North and J. D. Jones respectively. Flowers were sold by Mrs. Bryant, Miss Emily M. Hall, Miss Mochout, Miss Mrs. Harvey, candy by Miss K. Johnston, Miss Jones and Miss George, assisted by a bevy of small maidens including Kathleen Farris and Virginia Paul.

Numerous dainty novelties were raised during the afternoon, the handsome dolls, hats made by Mrs. Ivel and packed in charming little chintz-covered hand-boxes, were won respectively by Eunice Owen and Mrs. J. D. Maclean. Fortune-telling, a lucrative source of revenue, this feature being in charge of Miss E. Tolmie, assisted by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Conacher. The generous goose, in charge of Mrs. Chester Brown, Miss J. W. Vantreight and Miss Mary Greig, proved a popular attraction. Afternoon tea was served in the lecture-hall, this popular feature being in charge of Mrs. York, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Hall, and the Misses Bannerman, Blankenbach, Lee, Johnston, Edith McKenzie, May Archibald and Mrs. Cunn. Ice cream was dispensed by Miss B. Lunie, Mrs. Greig, Miss Grimmer, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. and Miss M. Silburn.

Added pleasure was imparted to the occasion by the delightful programme of music rendered by the Foundation Company Band, stationed on the verandah of the Home. The success of the affair redounds greatly to the credit of the general committee composed of Mrs. Ivel, Mrs. J. B. Langford, Miss E. Tolmie and Miss McKenzie, who with the conveners of the numerous attractions worked indefatigably to ensure its success. The Chapter wishes to extend its thanks to all who assisted in any way either by donations or personal service.

WHITE FEATHERS SENT TO WOMEN
Manchester, England, Sept. 8.—Demobilized soldiers are getting even with young women who in the early days of the war would write them anonymous letters containing white feathers.

Numerous young women employed on tram cars, in factories and shops, were taking over men's jobs and refusing to give them up. A few of the women have taken the hint and given up their jobs.

For half an hour the father had been lecturing his son on the evils of late nights and late rising in the mornings. "You will never amount to anything," he said, "unless you turn over a new leaf. Remember, it's the early bird that catches the worm!"

"My boy," came the reply, "that worm hadn't been to bed all night; he was on his way home."

Thus did they mock thee—thou the world's fair jester— Because thy cap and bells were set aside.

To jest thou hadst shed thy motley. They have laughed and laughed at thee. Wherein the odds do fight against the challenger.

Five years ago thy face didst want a smile, Thy eyes were stern . . . but thou didst laugh again. Yes, by the sacred beard of good St. Denis.

OLD ENGLISH FAIR ON WEDNESDAY

Attractive Event at Government House to Aid Navy League

The "Old English Fair" to be held at Government House grounds on Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock, by kind permission of the Lieutenant-Governor and Lady Barnard, is in aid of the funds of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League, for the purpose of maintaining the two Seamen's Institutes—the Connaught Seamen's Institute and the Royal Naval Institute Sailors' Club, and the Boys Naval Brigade. Premier Oliver will open the fair in the absence from town of Lady Barnard.

If the people of Victoria wish to see this work carried on, and also to be the premier city in the Dominion of Canada in maintaining a Boys' Naval Brigade thus establishing in this city a training school both for the Navy and Merchant Marine, to be followed by a training ship for the boys of Western Canada, they will have an opportunity on Wednesday, of contributing generously to the funds which are necessary to "carry on."

The many special features will include the following: Afternoon tea under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Gray; ice cream, Mrs. Norman Lee and Mrs. Hargreaves; Spinning Jenny, Mrs. Ley; Toy Balloon Parade, Mrs. T. A. Johnson; Toys, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Travis; Touch and Take, Mrs. Seymour Greene and Mrs. Gordon Smith; Aunt Sally, T. Wright Hill; Ping Pong Table and Guessing Competition, J. W. A. Legge-Wills; Flower Stall, Mrs. Beaven and Miss Flower; Naval Curios, Mrs. Rans; Blindfold Boxing, a grand attraction, George Bushby; Candy Stall, Mrs. Evans; Clock Golf, Miss Thomson; Tennis, mixed doubles, Mrs. Rickaby and Mr. McKeechie; Bowls, Bowling Club; Donkey rides, Young Punnett; Try Your Luck, Mrs. R. H. Pooley; Membership Table, Mrs. A. Thomson; Fortune Telling, Mrs. Deig; Remnant and Samples, Mrs. Purser; London-criers, Mrs. Shalleross and Mrs. Curtis Sampson.

It is hoped to arrange for a PUNCH and July show. A big fraction will be the Foundation Band under Bandmaster Lou Turner, which will play from 2.30 until 4.30 p.m. It is hoped arrangements can be made for a Home Produce Stall, if helpers can be obtained, who will volunteer their services.

G. W. V. A. LEADER

MAKES STATEMENT

Secretary States Men's Attitude on Bonus to M. P.'s

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—The demand of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada for an increased bonus and the steps which have been taken by the Association in this regard have been laid before the members of Parliament in a statement to every member by the secretary of the Association, G. C. McNeill.

In his letter Mr. McNeill states that the step has been taken because of erroneous reports which have been given circulation, and this means has been taken to place the matter in a proper light before the members.

Growth of Demand.

Dealing with the growth of the demand for an increased gratuity, Mr. McNeill says the soldier settlement plan did not appeal to every one, but no corresponding provision was made for those not agriculturists. The vocational training available was not adequate to solve the problem; the housing scheme offered no immediate relief; some families who crossed the Atlantic during the war were repatriated at the public expense, while other equally as deserving were left to shift for themselves; employment in a manner which discriminated against certain classes of men, and disabled men could not secure insurance to protect their dependents, and all of these facts accentuated the uneasiness and fostered the demand for a bonus which would enable every man to undertake his own re-establishment independently and in a manner to suit his individual need.

A Square Deal.

What the men want is "a square deal," states Mr. MacNeill. The men realize that much has been done in solving a stupendous problem, and the criticism of the generous assistance which has been given returned soldiers.

However, thousands of the demobilized army have been seized with the fear of a precarious living in the future.

Mr. McNeill states that after some controversy, the matter came before the Dominion convention of the association, when as a final compromise the establishment of a representative tribunal was urged. This body was to investigate the matter thoroughly and impartially and report to the Government. The report submitted by the tribunal, which returned soldiers agreed to abide by the findings of this tribunal. The resolution on this subject and the subsequent correspondence has been submitted with the letter by Mr. McNeill. The Dominion command, he states, felt that the modified request submitted to the Government was not unreasonable, and adverse decision can only result in further dissatisfaction and discontent.

For Opportunity.

"Mark you," says Mr. McNeill, "the request has been solely for a fair opportunity to present for thorough investigation various schemes most studiously prepared, and which offer positive solution of a vexatious problem with a modicum of expenditure.

"This Association, founded upon high ideals of loyalty and service, has offered the country a sure bulwark against the menace of revolutionary disturbances, and a period of grievous unrest, but care must be taken to maintain the confidence of the returned soldiers in the established legislative institutions. It is hoped therefore that no misrepresentation will be permitted in the House of Commons of the request which has been placed before the Government by the Association."

FARMS IN PRUSSIA WILL BE SEIZED

Berlin, Sept. 7.—The Prussian Minister of Agriculture has empowered the local communities to seize farms whose owners refuse to enter labor contracts with their employees or who fail to live up to the wage scales and other terms fixed by contracts. The lands to be seized are to be administered by the respective communities for the common good.

Tokyo, Sept. 8.—Six thousand five hundred arsenal operatives have struck, demanding higher wages. Troops have been called out to guard the arsenals throughout the country.

At a certain hospital they are having a good laugh at the expense of a certain physician who had sent a patient home as convalescent. He instructed the man's wife to call on him next morning at the hospital and report. In due time she called and said: "He has been feeling very badly. I do everything I can to please him, but nothing seems to satisfy him." "But you wouldn't say his condition was critical, would you?" demanded the doctor. To which the woman replied: "It's worse than critical; it's abusive."

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unarmored tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Drunks in Court—Alexander McKenzie, who was arrested on Johnson Street Saturday night by Constable Wilkinson, pleaded guilty in Police Court this morning and Magistrate Jay imposed a fine of $5. Chanda Singh, arrested on Pembroke Street, and charged with the same offence, was remanded until to-morrow.

Navy League Tag Day To-day—Taggers were on the streets early this morning with their collection boxes appealing on behalf of the local funds of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada. Response to their appeal was generous and it is anticipated that by night-fall a goodly sum will have been raised for the benefit of the League's work among local seamen for the continuance of the work of the Boys' Naval Brigade.

Repair Island Highway—The attention of the Department of Public Works has been called to the condition of the approach to many of the bridges on the Malahat Drive by the Victoria and Island Development Association. There are dangerous conditions existing on the road at many of the approaches where the gravel has been worn away by motor car wheels. The Department is preparing to give immediate attention to these spots, it has informed the Association.

Vancouver Boosts Island Trip—J. R. Davison, publicity commissioner of Vancouver, has inaugurated a campaign to advertise and boost the Vancouver Island Hanner Tour which is being held in Victoria. The special rate from Seattle to Victoria by the island and back to Seattle by way of Vancouver. Vancouver has started an extensive advertising campaign in Seattle in favor of the trip. Mr. Davison declares that the travel resulting from the special rate will be of great advantage to Vancouver as well as to Victoria and the Island.

Should Notify Change of Address—Returned men who have completed vocational training under the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment or whose course has been discontinued, are advised to hand in any change of address to the vocational officer in their district. This is for the purpose of notifying the Pension Board. Failure to report removal from one city to another, often results in pension cheque going astray and, apart from the loss of time to departments concerned, may result in inconvenience and hardship for the men and their families.

Charged With Desertion—Douglas H. Ball, formerly a bank clerk of Ottawa, who served for 255 days in the Air Force, was charged in the City Police Court this morning with desertion. He pleaded guilty but stated that he had acted under a misapprehension. Following his discharge from the Air Force because he was not physically fit for that service, he joined the E. F. When the armistice was signed he crossed over to the United States, not realizing the seriousness of his step. He worked in Seattle until his deportation was requested by the military authorities. A fine of $250 was imposed by Magistrate Jay or six months' imprisonment.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Agnes Roberts was held in Holy Trinity Cemetery, North Saanich, Saturday afternoon. The services were held at the residence of her son, Mr. Sam Roberts, Sidney, at 2 o'clock, and where an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. J. W. Flinton, assisted by the Rev. T. M. Hughes. One of the largest congregations for many years attended to pay their last respects to the deceased. The church being taxed to its fullest capacity. Beautiful floral offerings covered the casket and hearse. The choir was in attendance and sang two hymns, viz. "On the Resurrection Morning," and "Nearer, My God to Thee," also the 90th Psalm. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: H. P. Doane, T. R. Smith, Frank Norris, C. Mosses, M. E. Hewitt and James Critchley.

The funeral of the late Edward Newcombe Lee, who passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Friday, took place yesterday afternoon. A short service was conducted at the family home at South Salt Spring Island by the Rev. Mr. Deans. The cortege then proceeded to St. Mary's Church, where the Rev. A. Alkana, assisted by C. Abbott, officiated. The hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." The service was largely attended by relatives and friends and the numerous beautiful flowers, the church being taxed to its fullest capacity. High esteem of respect in which the deceased ex-soldier was held. The pallbearers were: Wm. Furness, Gavin Mowat, Wm. Furness, Wm. Nightingale, Percy Hotel and Thomas Akerman. Interment was made in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Dance—Agricultural Hall, Saanich, Friday, September 12, under auspices of North and South Saanich Agricultural Society. Here the augmented orchestra. Refreshments, B. C. E. Railway Interurban leaves Saanich midnight. Gonzales Chapter—Monthly meeting of Gonzales Chapter will be held on Tuesday, September 9, 10:30, at headquarters rooms. Agenda: Receiving report of delegate to national annual meeting and regular business. Members asked urgently to attend.

At a meeting of the Retail Clerks of Victoria to discuss with their delegate, E. R. Woodward, of the forthcoming National Industrial Conference suggestions and policies to be advocated, a hearty vote of approval in his selection was passed. After a full discussion of his views and suggestions from the meeting, a committee was appointed to embody in concise and tabulated form the resolutions passed. The following was the form of the recommendations subsequently handed to Mr. Woodward, which he was urged to strongly support:

1. That in view of the present cost of living, $30 per week for fifty-two weeks in the year represents the smallest amount necessary to provide support for an average family in any degree of comfort and decency, and should constitute the standard minimum wage. 2. That a normal working week of forty-four hours for employees should be recognized and established, and that the practice of overtime working should be discouraged as being inconsistent with national economy of distribution.

The nationalization of railways, electric storage plants, grain elevators and similar public utilities, and encouragement of the co-operative movement should form part of an organized program of action likely to bring about a far-reaching reduction in the cost of living. 4. The establishment of a system of national insurance against sickness, invalidity, unemployment and old-age we consider essential in order to dispel industrial unrest, which is in great part due to the uncertainty of the conditions under which the working classes now exist. 5. The conservation of life and the value of the human asset was one of the great lessons of the war. The high and birth rate being more important than that even national education should be equally free. Hospitals, sanitariums and all institutions for the conservation of life should be nationalized. The costliness of the present systems to the individual leads to the neglect of sickness and disease and discourages parenthood. 6. That the fact that there is not a single labor member in the House of Commons has a most disquieting effect upon the masses, and is an present electoral system. The adoption of the principle of proportional representation based on a more equitable form of adult suffrage in Federal, Provincial and municipal elections is a reform that admits of no delay. A system of compulsory registration and voting similar to that which obtains in Australia is suggested.

7. That a permanent system of national, district and local industrial councils be inaugurated on the Whitley model, to settle industrial disputes, but that so long as labor continues to be considered as a commodity to be bought and sold the workers must retain their collective right to withhold their labor from the market and to the use of the strike as a final means of securing justice. 8. That the freest possible access to land and natural resources be the first essential to increased production and national prosperity. Taxation of urban and rural land values is urged as a means of decreasing wages and stabilizing employment by forcing land and all its resources into their fullest use.

Rev. Mr. Chadwick referred to the opportunity for service among boys by forming the Y. M. C. A. and young people's organization in the churches. "Unless we find among our citizens young men such as you are who will feel the call of the hour to devote any evening of a week to take in hand the moral and physical training of service to growing boyhood of this community, we overlook one of our greatest needs and render some of the more boys who have of good opportunity you have for business. The more boys you have of good opportunity the more risks you are able to write."

Danger of Ruts. One of the old-ruts-young business men like you get into is ignoring the influence of the churches. Did you ever face the question, would it be possible for you to carry on your business without influencing the church? You couldn't do it. Yet I fear a great many of our business men do not realize this and don't admit it. Every business man has a duty towards the church to perform. I feel there is a shrugging of shoulders when there is a proposal of the church to some business man in this city. "Gregory, who could refuse the solicitation of life insurance agents for 130 years," added Mr. Chadwick. "But, some lucky agent is getting him in the end."

Fred M. McGregor said it would be a good thing for the Board of Trade and a few other business organizations in Victoria to have a similar address given them. J. W. Hudson moved a vote of thanks. Among those present were: P. M. Kline, president; H. M. S. Bell, secretary; J. W. Hudson, J. P. Norman, W. E. G. McLagan, W. Lovell, J. B. Warnicker, J. W. O'Neil, J. W. Hudson, John H. Croft and E. Lewin.

COTTAGE GARDENERS' SHOW. Keen competition was shown in most of the classes of the 14th Cottage Gardeners' Show, which was held at Tillicum School Saturday. In addition to the garden produce which was exhibited there were some fine exhibitions of good rabbits and chickens. The show was opened by F. A. Pauline, M.P.P. Refreshments were served during the day under the direction of Mrs. MacLachlan and W. S. Butcher, and the proceeds derived from these and also from the auction of products, which took place at the close of the show, will go to the fund for the Saanich District Nurses. The committee, of which R. H. Huddleston was chairman, deserves great credit for the energetic way in which it carried out its work.

HEARD REPORT OF NATIONAL COUNCIL

Mrs. de Pencier's Statement Tendered at Local Council Meeting

A comprehensive report of the business achieved by the National Council at Regina was presented at the Local Council meeting this morning in the form of a paper from Mrs. A. U. de Pencier, of Vancouver, who represented the Victoria Local Council at the annual meeting. One of the most important matters taken up at the National meeting was the matter of child welfare, the Council passing a strong resolution urging the Dominion Government to institute a National Baby Welfare Week throughout Canada, and also asking for the creation of a Child Welfare Department of the Federal Bureau of Health.

Standing Committees Reduced. The proposed adoption of a distinctive flag for Canada, the establishment of Minimum Wage Boards throughout the Dominion, the censoring of vaudeville acts, suffrage matters, and the use of the Union Labels of the Typographical and Bookbinders' Unions were matters which received the attention of the delegates at the National Council meeting and were recapitulated in Mrs. de Pencier's report. She also stated that after the next annual meeting in September the number of standing committees will be cut from nineteen to nine. The personnel of each committee to be increased to meet the added work.

Among the letters received at this morning's meeting was one of resignation from Mrs. Parsell, of Saanich, who has been forced through ill-health to give up active membership in the work of the Council. In accepting her resignation the Council expressed its sincere regret, coupled with the wish that her health would soon recover sufficiently to enable her to resume her former activities. The Council then adjourned until two o'clock.

APPROVE SITE OFFER

New Westminster Ratepayers Vote For Western Canada Cordage Company Plan. The ratepayers of New Westminster on Friday approved by an overwhelming majority, the gift of a site to the Canada Western Cordage Company for the establishment of its factory in this city. Out of the comparatively small vote of 239 all told, only thirty were cast against the proposal.

The next step is for the Council at its meeting to-morrow evening to reconsider and finally pass the by-law. In the meantime Mayor Gray will go to Victoria with officers of the company to straighten out the matter of tax exemption. As has been stated, an appropriation of $200,000 as a loan to the company, the provincial executive did so during the summer of 1918 and twenty years' exemption from taxation, but the latter concession was inserted without the consent of the company and it is understood there will be no difficulty in having it withdrawn.

OAK BAY SELLING PROPERTIES AT TAX SALE TO-DAY

Oak Bay municipality held its tax sale to-day when one-third of the sixty-five properties put up were taken by buyers for investment or building purposes. The other two-thirds were taken over by the municipality. Intending purchasers of Oak Bay properties will be given a chance to acquire any of the properties taken over by the municipality for the charges against them at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, which will be the last day of the sale.

He was a green Scottish lad, and one of his duties was to answer the telephone. When first called on to do so, in reply to the usual query, "Are you there?" he nodded assent. Again the question came, and again and yet again, and each time the boy gave the answering nod. When the question came for the fifth time, however, the boy, losing his temper, roared through the transmitter: "I've been chewing one of the springs for the last five minutes."

The Smiths were at dinner. The second course was brought on, and there was a period of silence, broken only by the sound of fork and knife. Then Smith looked up. "What is this?" he asked, pointing to the joint. "The butcher said it was spring lamb," replied Mrs. Smith. "He is right," granted Smith. GOLDWYN PICTURE OCCUPIES ROYAL

First Four Days Will See Pauline Frederick in "The Fear Woman"

Interesting—always and at times vividly dramatic, Pauline Frederick's newest Goldwyn picture, "The Fear Woman," which comes to the Royal Victoria to-night for four days' engagement, embodies a distinct novelty in cinema. Its denouement is not only completely unexpected but is moreover true to feminine psychology. When Helen Winthrop (Pauline Frederick) deceives the man she loves into thinking the worst of her and then, when she is sure that every one else shares his belief, suddenly lets him see the truth—this makes for perplexing drama and confirms popular belief in woman's baffling mental processes.

Consider the case of a girl who breaks her engagement to marry a man within two minutes of the ceremony; who leaves her home to seek diversion among strangers, and all because she is haunted by the fear of an hereditary weakness. She meets at a resort the foolish, fat son of an equally fat and foolish mother who, in desperation, summons her lawyer to talk common sense to Percy.

Think of the girl when she is confronted by the lawyer, who happens to be the man she cast off—and still loves. Does she tell him she does not care for the fellow who is dangling after her? Or does she say that she has never forgotten the lawyer? Not in the least.

Helen Winthrop deliberately holds him at bay, parries his inquiries with biting sarcastic remarks and altogether plays at being a sphinx without a secret. Not only that: she plans to put him to a test far more exacting than she ever dreamed would be possible. Deliberately the girl pretends that the curse of her ancestors—drink—has taken possession of her. When her new-found friends shrink from her and the mother of Percy glances over Helen's supposed downfall, she is thrilled by the faith her lover shows in her. This is her supreme triumph. Laughingly she casts off her mask, recalls the play of "David Garrick," in which intoxication is simulated with heart-breaking effect, and lets the truth shine from her eyes—and ginger-ale in her glass tells its tale.

This is the brilliant climax in "The Fear Woman" and Pauline Frederick blends comedy and tragedy with superb effect.

"CODE OF HONOR" HAS SCOPE FOR ARTIST

Florence Reed Turned From Music to the Stage; at Variety

It was a trick of adversity that gave Florence Reed to the stage and screen, as Miss Reed herself confesses, and paternal bereavement that prevented her following the profession of music instead. Miss Reed is the daughter of the late Roland Reed, the well known actor, whose death found her and her mother alone and without visible means of support.

"My father had never any intention of my becoming an actress," recently confided Miss Reed to an interviewer. "During his lifetime I was kept entirely away from theatrical people and was educated with the thought that some day I should become a pianist. I love music, and playing the piano is my greatest hobby. Because my father had been Roland Reed, the brilliant actor, they gave me a position on the stage at $100 a week, though heaven knows I wasn't worth half of it. But I have worked very hard ever since that time, though, of course, I have never had a 'cracker-and-garret' time in my life."

Miss Reed's statement as to her hard work and diligence is well borne out by her activities both on the screen and the speaking stage. Her success in "The Wanderer" was quickly followed by a triumph in Chu Chin Chow and then by a starring engagement on Broadway. Miss Reed is making six pictures for United Picture Theatres, Inc. in the first of which, "Her Code of Honor," this remarkable emotional star will be seen at the variety theatre this week. On this offering Miss Reed is quoted as saying: "It is the best picture I have ever made."

"WITHIN THE LAW" IS SURE OF WELCOME

Trickery of Lawyers Is Portrayed in Film This Week at Columbia

"Within the Law," featuring Alice Joyce and Harry Morey, the greatest legitimate stage successes for a decade, started its run at the Columbia to-day.

There are numerous reasons why the silent dramatization of Bayard Veiller's wonderful story should and will meet with popular favor wherever it is played. The characters in the play run the entire gamut of human emotions. That ever-burning question—the salary that should be paid to department store girls in order that they may follow the straight and narrow path of virtue—is vividly portrayed by Alice Joyce, who, as Mary Turner, a department store girl, is arrested for stealing from her employer.

Mary Turner is accused of a theft committed by another store employee. Notwithstanding her protestations she is convicted and sent to prison for three years. But before starting her trip to Sing Sing she is granted an interview with Mr. Gilder, the proprietor of the department store, her accuser. She first begs for mercy, which is refused, and then she gives him the solution of stopping the store thefts.

"Pay your girls more than six dollars a week," she tells her former employer, "that will stop the thefts, and save the girls." He sneers at the advice and she is led away.

While in prison Mary discovers another astounding fact. While taking up the study of law in her cell she realizes that there are many ways of breaking the law and yet remaining "within the law." A clever lawyer may devise many ways to circumvent the law, she discovers, and still keep his client out of jail.

This discovery is made use of by Mary upon her release from prison. Without funds, she is thrown on the bounty of members of the underworld, forgers, burglars and a woman parasite. She is their adviser. They break the law continually, but still remain "within the law."

Aggie Lynch, the parasite, enslaves a man of wealth. She suggests blackmail by selling back to him the love notes he has written to her. Mary shows that the better way is a breach of promise suit. The result is the same, but the consequences differ. Aggie gets her $10,000 by settlement of the breach of promise case. She remains out of prison, where she would have gone had she attempted to sell her letters directly to her admirer.

Mary herself obtains $30,000 from two real estate swindlers who first attempt to swindle her. She keeps the $30,000, laughs at the swindlers and remains "within the law."

Both the honor and dishonor of the underworld are admirably shown. Joe Garson, noted as a forger and the lover of Aggie, falls in love with Mary. He watches over her, protects her in every way, and for years "goes straight" for her. Eventually he dies for her.

SONG AND DANCE

CYCLE AT ORPHEUM

Week-end Bill Will Assure Large Crowds For Royal

Amelia Stone and Arman Kalix will present at the Royal Victoria, Friday and Saturday, with a Saturday matinee, an Orpheum bill which gives promise of being of great variety, a sentimental song revue for two by two. It is entitled, "Romance," and consists of five selections in song and dance under the well chosen cycles of the question of "What Is Romance?" "Romance Parisienne," "Romance of the Little Band of Gold," "Sammy's Great Romance in France," and terminating with "Mr. Romance—I Found You." The act is embellished with proper scenic and lighting effects, conceived by Mr. Kalix, who also collaborated with Allen Woolf in writing his present offering. Stone and Kalix are both from the musical comedy stage, and their vaudeville successes prior to the present engagement, were scored in "Mon Desir," "Mon Amour" and in "Marmelle Caprice."

What the quick witted Frenchman is to the hurried traveler, Harry Breen is to song. In the former, in less time than it takes to talk about it, almost any form of etable can be served. Harry Breen is a rapid fire song writer. He is also a poet of no mean ability and as a monologist he is always capable of reaping a harvest of laughs.

"The Fear Woman"

The romance of a beautiful girl who sacrifices everything to win the man she loves. "The Fear Woman" pays the price of fear and wins the love she lost. You will live every minute of this picture, and share our pleasure of you seeing and us giving a good production.

She is supported by Benton Hessler and an excellent cast.
Galli-Curci as everybody of course knows is the greatest coloratura soprano of the day, and to be favorably compared with one she is prominent in her field, is not only a great tribute, but a considerable handicap as well, for much is expected of the person receiving such a tribute, but Miss Sybil Vane, however, seems to have no difficulty, and lives up to it with a vengeance. Miss Vance's repertoire is extensive.
Fads and fancies from danceland will be the offering to be presented by Jean Bell and Lollie Wood. These two young women are of exceptional grace, and have gathered together a series of delightful and altogether different examples of terpsichorean art. Their costumes are a feature.
Maleta—Boncont, violin virtuoso may safely be classed among the foremost violinists now appearing in public. Her tone is full and refined in quality, her intonation flawless and her bowing elegant. She will make a splendid feature on this week's bill.
The picture section of the Orpheum programme and the musical setting at the hands of the Royal Orpheum orchestra will continue to be one of the bright spots in the Orpheum bill.

"Someone pulled the bell-cord!" shouted the conductor. "The express knocked our last car off the track! Take us four hours before the track is clear!"

TOOK REFUGE ON ROOF OF THE JAIL

Douglas Fairbanks in Story
With Thrills on Dominion Stage

Filled with a desire to get out into the world and do something, young Teddy Drake, a typical New Yorker, goes into the West and presently the opportunity offers itself on the train running into Sonora, Mexico. Teddy encounters Manuel Lopez, leader of an outlaw band, who is being pursued by the sheriff of the county. Drake changes clothes with the bandit, enabling him to elude his pursuers, and Drake himself leads the enforcers of law and order a merry chase, until he is finally rounded up in the town of Sonora, where he takes refuge on the roof of the county jail, which is the last place the sheriff thinks to search.

Mr. Fairbanks' support in this picture is exceptionally strong. The leading woman role is in the capable hands of Marjorie Daw, the cute girl with the nursery rhyme name. William Wellman, recently ace in the Lafayette Flying Corps, the ever villainous (speaking in screen terms) Frank Campeau, Edythe Chapman, Albert McQuarrie and Ted Reed all appear.

"Er—er—some of the facetious gentlemen in the congregation," said the minister, as the deacons prepared to take up the collection, "have been in the habit of dropping trouser buttons into the plate. MIGHT I suggest that, in view of a recent arrival at the vicarage, they substitute safety-pins for the time being?"

LOTS OF VARIETY IN PANTAGES BILL

New Vaudeville Programme Is Lively With Novelty and Clever Turns

A lively bill of vaudeville, filled with novelty and cleverness, is on the boards at the Pantages Theatre this week. Not for weeks has there been so much of general interest, and it has been a very long while since a programme of variety has been offered in this city that has been so well balanced in quality from end to end. There are seven acts on the bill. They are snappy and show class in their particular lines.

A whirlwind dance spectacle with songs and rich music provides the feature offering which closes the programme. It is entitled "The Kremlin of Moscow," and the settings depict angles of this famous structure which before the Russian Revolution was revered by the whole of the people. The act opens to show a group of peasants kneeling in devotion before the church. It is snowing. When their prayer is finished they spring to their feet in a whirl of dancing and song that is incomparable. Throughout the act the seven or eight performers are to be seen in their native costumes, some of which are gorgeous in their effects and give a picturesque touch to the act. Much cleverness is shown in the arrangement and presentation of the dances, and a violin solo by the leader is one of the pleasurable features of the offering. A pantomimic novelty, fresh from a triumphant run in Europe, comes along with the show as the special added attraction. This is presented by the LeGrohs, and is a fast and finished number which takes the audience by storm. Aside from the remarkable feats performed, this woman and two men interject a lot of wholesome comedy into their offering. This is one of the really big acts in vaudeville.

Marie Fitzgibbon is also in a class by herself. She is known as "the great, big, story teller," and has a personality that wins for her at once a confidential position with her audience. She tells dialect stories in an inimitable way and sings just a little to show that she has a sweet voice as well as an active mind.

Chisholm and Hreen have a comedy skit entitled "The Cave Man," which is based on the old, old story that a worm will turn. It is a competition between love of the gay, white lights of the city and that of the slow philosophy of the country. It is an original conception of the ancient theme and puts the punch into the last three lines of the turn. Dorsch and Russell are two especially clever men who introduce under the title of "The Musical Railroaders," a spectacular scenic novelty that, for originality of conception, ingenuity in admirably executed musical selections and cleverness in presentation is one of the best offerings of the kind in vaudeville to-day. The Panama Trio are three colored maids who have a pleasing knack of offering song numbers that makes a hit with audiences, and McNamara and Clinton are a man and maid, giving a comedy singing, dancing and talking turn of unusual merit. The Pantagescope offers a bright film comedy.

MUSICAL COMEDY COMING TO ROYAL

One Week Hence "Honolulu Girl" Will Appear in City

Henry Aheana, leader of the troupe of Hawaiian musicians, dancers and singers with Norman Friedenwald's musical comedy, "My Honolulu Girl," which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, September 15 and 16, tells many folk-lore stories of the volcano Kilauea which is now in action during the progress of the play. "That volcano is almost human," he says. "When I was a child I often sat at my mother's knee while old Kilauea was rumbling and belching forth lava and listened in exquisite terror to the tale of 'Pele,' the Goddess of Fire. According to the story 'Pele' lived deep in the bowels of the volcano crater and the rumbling was her voice raised in anger.

"We were told that in the olden days before the Americans came to enlighten us the natives, hearing the rumble of the volcano would seek to appease the wrath of the mythical Goddess of Fire, by throwing live goats and sheep into the crater. Occasionally they sacrificed a child."

"Knickerbocker Buckaroo"

It took six solid months to make "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," the biggest and best Douglas Fairbanks picture ever produced.

Six months, many thousand feet of film, hundreds of actors, magnificent sets, the lease of a complete railroad system, engines, cowboys, Mexicans, New York clubmen, pretty girls, villains and—

Douglas Fairbanks!

The longest, the most pretentious, the funniest, the most exciting Fairbanks picture ever attempted. Every foot of film is packed with punch and laughter. It'll make you gasp and laugh and applaud and yell for more when the 6,700 feet is run. And you'll talk about it for weeks!

It cost a quarter of a million to make. It means the best evening's enjoyment you ever had.

BRIDGE ACCIDENT
ON THIRD STRUCTURE
Damaged Craigflower Bridge Is Third to Occupy Site on Victoria Arm

The misadventure to the third Craigflower bridge takes the memory back to the early days of the winter of 1854-55. Previous to that time the only route was by water, with the difficulty of negotiating the Gorge. The bridge, to judge by Mr. Mackenzie's journal, appears to have been only a temporary plan, but like the school it proved much easier to build than to receive payment therefor. Numerous applications had to be made to the Colonial Department before any satisfaction could be secured.

Second Bridge at Craigflower, Predecessor of Structure Recently Damaged in Automobile Accident.

ple Point, on a site selected by Governor Douglas, naturally hastened construction of a bridge, and the work went on concurrently in the winter of 1854-55. Previous to that time the only route was by water, with the difficulty of negotiating the Gorge. The bridge, to judge by Mr. Mackenzie's journal, appears to have been only a temporary plan, but like the school it proved much easier to build than to receive payment therefor. Numerous applications had to be made to the Colonial Department before any satisfaction could be secured.

The busy motorist who will hereafter use the bridge when it is repaired will have a shorter and better route over the hill than was provided before the cut off, now in course of improvement. This cut off slices a considerable corner from the grain field between the high road and the Craigflower house. The original intention was to have carried the road west of the buildings on the south side of the road, behind the bluff, and kept on an even grade to the Four Mile House, but the Government surveyor decided otherwise. Greatly to Mr. Mackenzie's annoyance the road was cut through between the house and the farm buildings. This increased greatly the cost of fencing. It was necessary to explain this item to the Directorate of the Puget Sound Company in London, and his journals indicate the feeling of the Farms Superintendent at the time at what he considered an unnecessary expense.

As now planned, the road will curve at the bridge, and pass over the bluff at an easier grade than hitherto.

Presents Swings.
The Canadian Western Fuel Company, Nanaimo, has kindly presented to the city the swings erected in the cricket grounds for the amusement of the children in Labor Day. These swings were made by the Company Mine Rescue Association, the material being supplied by the company. A committee of the City Council is considering the best place to erect the swings. This summer the Millstream Park has been largely used, and Newcastle Island, which has been closed for some years, was thrown open to picnic parties, several of the Sunday Schools taking their annual outing there.

Have Your Teeth Attended To.

It is to men in particular that this warning to have dental troubles corrected is especially directed. Men whose occupation keeps them in the open in all weathers should consider the matter with the carefulness it deserves, for to them physical fitness is of paramount importance—and a man cannot be physically fit and mentally alert if his teeth are in a state of unwholesome decay.

Now—before winter sets in—is the time to give the matter of dental work the attention it deserves.

For dentistry of value and quality come to this office.

Chose Officers.
The High School students met on Wednesday afternoon, says the Ladysmith Chronicle, and elected officers for the ensuing term: Preliminary prefects, Miss B. Davidson and Sulo Matson; advanced Junior prefects, Miss E. Nicholson and G. Bryant; matriculation prefects, Miss D. Carpenter and E. Lone; school presidents, Miss R. Brightwell and C. Jones; secretary-treasurer, T. Quayle. The money remaining from last year was handed over to the new treasurer. It was decided to hold an opening social evening at 8 o'clock on September 12, for which refreshment and amusement committees were appointed.

Carnival of Flowers.
The Carnival of Flowers to be held in the Athletic Club, Nanaimo, next Wednesday is being looked forward to as an event of double interest. Firstly, because of the fact that the entire proceeds will be devoted to the new hospital; secondly, because the general public are invited to participate.

New Telephone Cable.
Ten men are now engaged in stringing the new cable for the B. C. Telephone system in Ladysmith and they expect to spend four weeks on the job before it is completed. The old cable had begun to give way in many places, and in order to avoid trouble in future it was found necessary to replace it with stronger wire. After the work is completed in Ladysmith the men will be employed in replacing fifty miles of cable along the Island Highway.

Sale of Mill.
Mr. Dan Kilpatrick has sold the Courtenay Sawmill to Messrs. Cliffe and Macdonald of New Westminster and they will take it over next week says the Comox Argus. A substantial payment on the deal has been made. Messrs. Cliffe and Macdonald run a big box factory and also a condempary at New Westminster. It is their intention to renovate the mill and add very largely to the plant so that the capacity can be enlarged. A box factory is also on the horizon. The site is an excellent one for factory purposes, being on the Courtenay River so that all shipping in and out can be done by boat. It will be alongside the new condempary.

Selects Nurse.
The Courtenay Branch of the Q.W.V.A. have enrolled Sister Mary Brown as a member. Miss Brown was matron of Cumberland General Hospital when war broke out and almost immediately offered her services. She has a fine war record. In addition to her service in England she spent two months in France and 23 months nursing in Salonika. She has recently returned and is staying with relatives at Union Bay.

Cumberland Hospital.
The Alexandra ward of the Cumberland General Hospital has been remodelled and brought up to date. The work has now been completed.

In North of Island.
Hugh Stewart, M.P.P., accompanied by Capt. Richardson has completed an inspection of the northern part of his constituency recently.

At Nimkish River there is a logging camp with 350 men working. At Beaver Cove Pulp Mill there are 350 men employed and an investment of several million dollars. At Duncan Bay a logging camp employs 300 men with an investment already of a million and a half dollars.

They found active preparations for the re-opening of the old Squash coal mine at Alert Bay. This mine was worked some time ago but owing to local conditions of transportation and sale being unprofitable it was closed down. With the greater demand for coal and better trade conditions this is now being reopened.

At Powell River land to be subdivided on which the men working at the paper mills can grow stuff for their own needs and the wants of the settlement. While there is fair land here, up to date all vegetables and produce has had to be imported. The Government intend to give every assistance in this project it is said.

When germs attack the lining of the nose, make you sneeze and gag—when later on they infest the bronchial tubes—how can you follow them with a cough syrup?

You can't do it—that's all. Cough syrups go to the stomach—that's why they fail.

But Catarrhose goes everywhere—gets right after the germs—kills them—heals the soreness—cures the inflammation—makes Catarrh disappear. Not difficult for Catarrhose to cure, because it contains the essences of pine balsams and other antiseptics that simply mean death to germs. VERY GOOD TIP, TOO.

"Everything all right sir?" asked the waiter.

The diner nodded, but still the waiter hovered near.

"Steak cooked to suit you, sir?" he asked again, presently.

Again the diner nodded.

"Potatoes the way you like 'em, sir?"

"Yes."

Another period of silence.

"I hope that you find the service satisfactory, sir?"

"Are you asking for a tip?" demanded the diner.

"Well, sir, of course we get tips sometimes, and I've got to go to the kitchen for another party, so—"

"So you'd like a tip now to be sure of it? Well, I'll give you one."

"Yes, sir."

"Here is the tip. I have a powerful voice that I am capable of using. If anything is wrong I'll let out a roar you can hear in the kitchen. If you don't hear it you can know that I am dining in peace and comfort and not in the least regretting your absence, for it's no fun to have to pass verbal judgment on every mouthful I eat."

"But the tip?"

"That's the tip, and a mighty good one it is, too."

VISCOUNT GREY OF FALLODON
AN APPRECIATION
By A. M. Drysdale in The London Daily Chronicle

Viscount Grey is Britain's most representative man in this sense, that he has those virtues which, though they may not be characteristics of the typical Briton, are those which the British people most admire and which they like to think of as peculiarly British. Unfriendly critics no doubt believe them to be as rare among us as they are among other nations.

But if we wish to find another European statesman of equal and similar candor, fairness, direct speech and abhorrence of mere sentimentalism or gush, we are obliged to go back to an earlier Englishman who was also in his day Foreign Secretary—Canning.

Most foreigners are surprised when they learn that Canning was a Tory leader, for his European reputation made him the idol of such universal Liberals as Heine. In Viscount Grey's case there is no incongruity between foreign and domestic record to explain away. He never changed his Party, as Canning and Chamberlain did—to the advantage, it may be, of their country, as it was certainly to the enlightenment and the benefit of the associates whom they joined.

A European Liberal.

He is all of a piece—a British Liberal as well as a European Liberal. Canning without Canning's ambition and weakness for intrigue, as clear-minded, as simple in his public aims, as lucid in his exposition of them, as courageous and tenacious in their pursuit, and with the same rare and invaluable gift of being able in a controversy to put himself in the other fellow's position.

It was this last gift which made Canning a power in even the most hostile councils of Europe, and which, without bad faith, enabled him again and again to put his enemies abroad in the wrong when the public opinion of the world was called upon to judge between them. The same gift—or perhaps one should rather call it a moral endowment—in the case of Lord Grey made it impossible for the Germans at the Balkan Conferences in London, in 1912 and 1913, to produce disagreement or themselves to stand out of the agreement which his fair-mindedness dictated. Here, everyone felt, as Prince Lichnowsky afterwards said, was the justice of a judge. The all-roundness of his view—left no loophole for charges of dishonest bias. Everyone who has heard him speak in the House of Commons is familiar with this overwhelming impression of candour and largeness of mind which he conveys with so little apparent effort, with, in fact, the quiet force of all natural things.

Unfamiliar Honesty.

So effective was this honesty in defeating the lawless ambitions of Germany, and so unfamiliar is it in diplomacy, that the Germans at last came to the conclusion that it was in reality an ingenious form of the old cunning usual in diplomatic negotiations; a profound development of trickery of which only the English, the most political of peoples could be capable. Mere honesty confuses an over-clever and suspicious person, and the German statesmen got themselves and the world into the calamities which began to operate in 1914 by their failure to believe that Lord Grey is a man who actually says what he means and means what he says.

Some of them, I am told, now suspect that he arranged the Ulster preparations for rebellion and the incendiary acts of the militant women five or six years ago in order to tempt Germany to go to war.

Resemblance to Canning.

Why I have insisted upon the resemblance of Lord Grey's personality to that of Canning is not only because it is obvious, but even more because Canning is the best-known of all our diplomatists among Americans. The man who shares with President Monroe the honor of having called the South American Republics to their status of independent nations was as patriotic an Englishman as ever lived, but he held, and his conduct was in accordance with his theory, that you can serve your own country even better in the end by taking counsel with other countries, by sympathizing with their difficulties, and giving as well as taking, than by always demanding recognition of your own predominance. So with Lord Grey. He wishes to see some constructive moral change produced in the intercourse of nations as a result of the war. The understanding between Canning and Monroe affected the course of world policies. There is an even more intimate understanding between President Wilson and Lord Grey. Both are equally concerned for the progress of mankind.

It is a great thing for the world that the intellectual and moral forces of the two most earnest believers in the League of Nations are now to be brought together in one place and given the direction of a common mind.

The world's most crooked river is the Jordan. It wanders nearly 220 miles in order to cover sixty miles.

STRAITH-TWO JACKS HAVE ROUGH LUCK IN CHAMPIONSHIP

Umpire's Decision in the Seventh, Bad Accident to Sid Elmer and Injury to Alex Straith Help Three to Two Defeat at Hands of Wallaces

The breaks were dead against the Straith-Two Jacks in the game with Wallaces at Vancouver Saturday, and by a win of three to two, the Vancouver men secured the provincial baseball championship. An accident which resulted in Sid Elmer sustaining a broken ankle in the fifth innings, a sprained ankle for Alex Straith in the third innings and Umpire Murray's bad break in failing to call the correct decision on a Vancouver baserunner were all contributing features in the Straith-Two Jacks defeat.

Victoria Was Leading. The Victoria champions had the lead up to the sixth innings through two runs scored in the third stanza, but the Vancouver men in the seventh added two to the one they chalked up in the sixth.

Umpire Murray, previous to the game had agreed that before giving a decision on third base he would let Sid Forstie follow the play and make the call and Sid called Wallace's runner out in the seventh. The Vancouver man himself evidently knew he was out for he made for the benches without questioning Sid's call. Murray, however, turned round and called it safe. That the decision was handing it to the home nine is shown by W. C. Jones, the Vancouver official scorer's account of the game. Jones says: "Umpire Murray made a bad call on a close play at third in the seventh, which resulted in a run for Wallace. The base umpire called on the runner out, but Murray said he was safe. 'Duck' also made a bad guess when he called Zaccarrelli out on strikes in the ninth inning."

Sensational feinting stunts were furnished by Joffie and Mennis, the rival shortstops.

Should Have Won. The Island team put up a good argument, and with ordinary baseball luck a few of the breaks they should have won, but Wallaces were strong in defence in the pinches. Two Jacks got their two runs in the third inning, when they took advantage of Sid going at top speed for the ball, stepped into a hole just as he was about to get the ball. He went down, breaking his ankle in doing so, but he got himself up and made another twenty feet to the left and Larson scored. "Block" came in when Bever suffered from an attack of "lapses noodle" on an infield out. Two Jacks had nine men stranded on the runway, which shows up well in the defensive play of the new champions.

Plucky Play. Sid Elmer pulled off one of the pluckiest pieces of work seen on a baseball field for many a long day. Manson made a hit along the foul lines and Sid going at top speed for the ball, stepped into a hole just as he was about to get the ball. He went down, breaking his ankle in doing so, but he got himself up and made another twenty feet to the left and Larson scored. "Block" came in when Bever suffered from an attack of "lapses noodle" on an infield out. Two Jacks had nine men stranded on the runway, which shows up well in the defensive play of the new champions.

After the game the Victoria players gave three rousing cheers and the Wallaces nine but the Mainland players showed no inclination to leave the ground, and make a response. A party of the Foundation club made the trip to Vancouver and were vigorous rooters for the S.T. J.'s.

Table of baseball statistics. BARON BERESFORD DIES IN SCOTLAND (Continued from page 1.) Fort and engaging in a duel with them. For a time those who witnessed the incident almost held their breath, expecting to see the frail little craft sink, with a well-placed shot inside her.

GLAD TO BE HOME After the first greetings were over General Pershing made this statement to the Associated Press: "There isn't anything of consequence in the circumstances like these. It is overwhelming, overpowering. To say that I am glad to be home is superfluous. I accept this name of the brave fellows who came over and served to the best of their ability, making our success possible."

LEAGUE LEADERS

SET A HOT PACE

Reds and the White Sox Have Little to Fear for Safety Positions

New York, Sept. 7.—Although neither the Cincinnati Nationals nor the Chicago Americans set a fast pace at the head of their respective leagues last week, nothing like a winning streak was forthcoming from any of their near contenders which would bring them closer to the leadership. Even by maintaining a 500 average in games won and lost during the remaining three and a half weeks of the season, the Reds and White Sox would have little to fear for the safety of their top positions. Including to-day's contest, Cincinnati has a lead of 5½ games over New York, while Chicago is 7½ games in front of Cleveland, with Detroit a ½ game behind the Indians.

WRIGHT AND JAP NET WONDER WIN TITLE

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Sept. 7.—Beals Wright, the famous Davis Cup player, and Kumagai, the Japanese tennis wonder, defeated Vincent Richards, the young Californian, and Neer, the Northwest champion, 6-3, 6-2, in the final doubles in the international tennis tournament here Saturday.

In the final consolation, J. G. Emerson beat Henderson, the Canadian tennis expert, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Best, of Toronto, and Westbrook, the Detroit champion, defeated Mrs. Bickle, of Toronto, and Harold Taylor, of Cleveland, in the mixed final, 7-5, 6-4.

Mrs. Bickle beat Miss Best in the ladies' final, 8-6, 6-4.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The Grand Circuit races open here today in connection with the New York State Fair, five events being carded for the day. These include the Matron Stake for three-year-old trotters with a purse of $1,825; the Chamber of Commerce stake for 2,000 pacers, with a purse of $2,000; the 2:09 and 2:16 trot for purses of $1,000 each and a 2:12 trot for amateur drivers, with a silver loving cup as the prize.

CANADIAN MILE RECORD IS BEATEN AT TORONTO

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Joey Ray, of the Chicago Athletic Association, beat the Canadian one-mile record in winning the one-mile handicap race at the Exhibition Grounds Saturday in 4 minutes 14 2-5 seconds. The best previous Canadian record was 4 minutes and 20 seconds. The world's record is 4 minutes and 12 3-5 seconds.

The mile bicycle final saw Osterlitz, of New York, the United States champion, an easy two-length winner over Harold Rounsall, of the Toronto Classics. Rounsall was three wheel lengths ahead of Taylor, the New York Athletic champion. Norman Webster, Alberta champion, was fourth. Time, 1:44 3-5.

SEVEN NEW CHAMPIONS AT WINNIPEG SPORTS

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Seven new Manitoba athletic champions were crowned Saturday at the second annual meet of the Winnipeg Electric Railway. Cyril Coffey won the sprint championship by defeating Miller, the former champion, in both the 100 and 200 yard races, completing the jumping crown by placing first in both the high and broad jumps. Jack Beckett won the mile and half-mile championships in easy style, while Tom Towns, of Brandon, had the distinction of lowering the colors of Joe Keeper, the famous Indian runner, in the three-mile event.

Freddie Johnson cleaned up the three bicycle races in the style. No records were broken.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Edgewood, Sept. 8.—Assessment work done on the claim of W. J. Banting at Lightning Peak showed up a quantity of very rich ore. The owner has gone up to the claim and if the prospects are as represented will at once set men to work developing, says the Nelson News.

It is reported he has 2300 ore in considerable quantities, and a sample taken haphazard when it was in inferior ground tested 225 ounces to the ton. Mr. Banting has already a ton sacked at the mine ready for shipment to the steamer landing at Edgewood.

There was a small stampede from Edgewood when the news of a strike on Mr. Banting's claim became known and a number of mineral claims have been staked by J. A. O'Reilly and others, and by this time all the ground in the vicinity has been staked and recorded.

J. Black, who is interested in the Leamy claim, Lightning Peak, left on Wednesday for Trail, with bulk samples of the ore now on the dump. If the assay equals expectations a shipment will be made to the Trail smelter.

At the Waterloo mineral claim, rich carbonates, going from 4,000 to 5,000 ounces of silver per ton, have been found, and it is reported the owners have about a ton of this stuff ready for shipment.

J. Cordiana is working a force of four men steadily on his property, and is doing good development work. The ore found is of good shipping value.

W. A. Calder's claim has been continuously worked, and the showing of ore is improving as depth is being reached.

Assessment work is being done on all the claims owned by Dr. Yeld and other Edgewood people.

Goat Creek.

Tom Forrest, who is associated with B. E. Loring, the Indian Agent at Hazelton, in the Forest and Loring Group of mineral claims at Goat Creek on the Telkwa River, has left Smithers to carry out assessment work on the claims in question.

Consolidation Planned.

Rumor has it, says the Interior News, that, except for final arrangements, a complete consolidation has been effected on the Roche de Boule, Delta and Highland Boy properties. It is reasonable to suppose that this consolidation will eventually result in solving the transportation problem of the latter mentioned properties and give the Roche de Boule the tonnage of ore to guarantee the erection of a mill large enough to be in keeping with the shipping possibilities and facilities.

North Star.

D. Zarelli of Prince Rupert has returned from a visit to his mine, the North Star, at Alice Arm, bringing a fine chunk of ore for the exhibition. He left the ore on the wharf and someone seeing its value picked it up and carried it away. It carried about $2,000 a ton in native silver. O. Beener brought down a piece of ore which goes about $700 to the ton from the Climax Mine, in which he is interested. Mr. Zarelli says that he expects to ship ore this fall from his mine. It is right alongside the railway and looks very good. The other mines of the district are showing up well and great interest is taken in the properties by outsiders who are visiting and looking over the prospects.

Cariboo Mining.

J. D. Galloway has returned from the Cariboo and states that considerable useful work is under way there. He anticipates that there will be a revision of the Placer Lease Act, and it is about time. The Minister of Mines is now acquainted with conditions and should be able to realize how that district is being held up by the system of placer leases.

Freddie Lee, Sandon.

A contract for a new crosscut on the Freddie Lee silver-lead property at Sandon has just been let by A. W. McCune, Jr., who is in charge of the McCune interests.

The present crosscut, on which work has been proceeding for a considerable time, with the object of catching the vein, does not quite satisfy Mr. McCune in the matter of direction, and he believes a new crosscut from the present one will be the shortest way to the vein.

Black Prince.

A car of silver-lead ore from the Black Prince Mine, near Slocan City, has been shipped, bound for the Trail smelter. The car spent the week-end at South Slocan, where J. T. Tipping, owner of the property, who had come into Nelson, rejoined it last night with the intention of sampling it.

This is the first shipment to be made from the mine this season. The Black Prince is located on the divide between the Coast and Springer Creeks, and has been quite extensively developed under its various regimes.

The workings give 500 feet depth on the vein. The best car of ore ever shipped from the Black Prince was mined by Mr. Tipping, and gave returns of 200 ounces of silver per ton.

Good Specimens.

Messrs. Ben Peterson and Railton have brought to Smithers some fine specimens of ore down from Sunrise, Empire and Hazelton claims on Nine Mile Mountain. One sample across a 4-foot face ran 22 per cent lead, 6.1 per cent zinc and 48 ounces of silver, whilst a sample representative of a hand sorted ore taken from a carload ready for shipment went 61.5 per cent lead, 7.5 per cent zinc and 85 ounces of silver. The latter sample was taken by Mr. Galloway, of the British Columbia Department of Mines.

Ore Sampling Plant.

A strong supporter of the proposal for an ore sampling plant, but on radically different lines from the plan outlined by Hon. Martin Burrell, Dominion Minister of Mines, is J. T. Tipping, of Slocan City, owner of the Black Prince property, and one of the best known mining men of the Kootenay.

"A single large plant, costing $150,000, located at the Coast, would be much use to us here in this district as if it were in New York," said Mr. Tipping, in a week-end interview. "The man who wants to have 100 pounds of ore tested wants a plant that is accessible, for he is not strong on paying the heavy freight charges to the Coast, and he would like to be present, if possible, to see his ore through."

"An ore sampling plant at the Coast will be very handy for properties on the Coast, but for the Kootenay, the real mining region of the country, it will be of hardly any use."

"The idea of a single big plant for a territory so extensive as the Province of British Columbia, and with such radically different conditions in general character, is altogether wrong."

"What the Department of Mines should do is to split that appropriation into three parts, and set up three different plants, costing $50,000 each. One of these plants, situated in this district, would do all the work required, and at a reasonable cost to the mine owner or prospector."

More normal conditions in District 18, U.M.W. of A., comprising Eastern British Columbia and the Province of Alberta, are the case according to reports received by the Minister of Labor. Thirty-one of the leading coal mines of the district are again being worked. This represents sixty per cent of the total output. While some opposition still is being experienced by officials of the United Mine Workers from advocates of the One Big Union idea, the resistance of the latter appears to be declining.

Mining Exhibit.

A feature of the Vancouver Exhibition this week will be a mineral exhibit of British Columbia ore being assembled by the British Columbia Chamber of Mines. The growing importance of the mining industry in the Canadian West is well illustrated by the increasing attention it is receiving on such occasions. The Britannia and Granby Companies will display copper in the form of a sheet. Mine will show gold ores; the Drum Lummon Mine and other properties, gold and copper; the Hedley Mines, gold ores; the Bowens Mines, copper, and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada will enter a large educational exhibit of minerals.

May Reopen Mine.

The Sechart Mercury Mine which has been idle for some time, has been purchased, it is stated, by Capt. E. H. Mansfield, who proposes to install a distillation plant to procure mercury on the ground. The property is well located for transportation, being situated on an island in Barclay Sound. The mercury content is about 2.5 per cent. If this mine becomes a producer it will be the second in British Columbia to produce quicksilver.

An inch of rain on an acre of land would fill more than 600 barrels capable of holding forty-five gallons each.

A MOTHER OF SIXTY-TWO.

So far as can be gathered, the honour of being the mother of the biggest family in this country belongs to the late Mrs. Mary Jonas, of Chester, who had thirty-three children-fifteen pairs of twins and three singly born.

Every child was born alive, and the record is inscribed on a headstone in Chester Cemetery, where this champion is buried.

Thirty-four children were born to Mr. William Bonnet, of York, but in this case they were divided between three mothers. Of the first marriage four children were born; of the second, twenty-six, including triplets and twins; and of the third, four.

These records, however, are completely outclassed by that of an Italian woman, Signora Giolotta, of Nocera, Naples, who, in nineteen years of married life, gave birth to fifty-nine boys and three girls. In nine years she had eleven sets of triplets, three times she had four at a birth, and on one occasion she gave birth to five boys and a girl.

The case is quite authentic, and seventeen years ago a petition was presented to the Italian Government asking for an annual pension for the woman who had established the world's birth record.—Tit-Bits.

The new recruits were drilling, and they were all very keen; one man especially did everything with an energy which made the N.C.O. tired, and eyes strictly "frog," and never noticed that he had left his comrades several paces behind.

The N.C.O. swallowed hard, and then called sweetly, "Say! You! When you get there, send us a picture postcard."

The thickest skinned animal is undoubtedly the whale. Nowhere is its skin less than several inches thick, and in some parts it is said to be nearly two feet.

A postcard sent by a woman at Coventry to a friend at Gillingham Kent, in August, 1907, has just been delivered. By a coincidence the writer of the postcard was staying with the addressee when the postman delivered it twelve years later.

SOLDIERS AREA IN SAYWARD VALLEY. J. E. Armishaw Says District Will Be Chosen For Settlement

Assurances have been given to the residents of Sayward, Vancouver Island, that the next area opened by the Provincial Land Settlement Board on the Island will be in the vicinity of that community, according to J. E. Armishaw, while the co-operation of the Dominion soldiers' settlement department is expected in the development of the agricultural lands of the district. "Drained by two rivers, the Salmon and the White, the Sayward district offers excellent opportunity for those who desire to engage in agriculture," declared Mr. Armishaw. "There are 40,000 acres of land available, and the Provincial Government are now investigating the possibilities of the district. We have been assured that the next area to be opened by the government board will be in our district. "Already a number of veterans have made arrangements with the Soldiers' Settlement Board to engage in farming at Sayward and the future success of the district is assured. "Sayward," continued Mr. Armishaw, "has a unique record in the war, and one of which we are justly proud. Out of a population of 100 males, 38 men went to the front. All but one, George Carney, survived the conflict, although several were wounded. A beautiful honor roll has been prepared, inscribed with the names of those who offered their services to the Empire, and this roll Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture has consented to unveil on the occasion of his visit to Sayward to investigate the agricultural resources of the district. "Much of the 40,000 acres of first-class land in the district has been improved from time to time, and representations are being made to the federal board to secure these places for returned men. While here I was fortunate in being able to assist in concluding loans amounting to approximately $30,000 from the Government for soldiers who desire to take up land there. Negotiations are under way for additional loans to veterans of a similar amount. "Six veterans, including myself and two sons, and F. Hart, A. E. Morton and H. Bradley, have taken up 500 acres of land, which we intend to work on a co-operative basis. We intend to erect a small sawmill to cut our own lumber and are opening a general store as well. We will also establish a small power plant to furnish electric light and power for our own purposes."

HOME PRODUCTS FAIR IS ASSURED SUCCESS. Big Attendance and Fine Exhibits Promised for Week of September 22-27

That the 1919 Home Products Fair will far outstrip last year's exhibition in point of excellence and attendance is the confident feeling of the fair management. It will be remembered that last year's attendance broke all records and the exhibits were of a very attractive and instructive nature. Attention is called to the fact that the fair week is from September 22 to 27 inclusive, and prospective exhibitors are requested to make arrangements for their exhibits in plenty of time, so that booths can be allotted and the exhibits in place before the opening day. The management is averse to having carpentering work done on after the doors are thrown open to the public, as it creates a bad impression among the visitors and causes them a considerable amount of inconvenience. The Home Products Fair is a Vancouver Island affair, and exhibits from all the leading industries on the Island will be shown. It is promised that a considerable number of new features will be added to this season's attractions. G. I. Warren is manager of the Fair, and the present Fair headquarters are
