TURKS ASK DELAY OF TWO WEEKS BEFORE SIGNING OF TREATY

Suggest Meeting of Conference in Eight Days; Would Use Interval in Striving to Reach an Agreement; Curzon Spoke Plainly When Treaty Presented.

Lausanne, Jan. 31.—Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation to the Near East Conference, asked the conference to-day for a delay of two weeks before the signature of the peace treaty and a delay of eight days before a meeting of the conference Commission. The interval would be employed, he explained, in striving by every means to reach an agreement.

Lausanne, Jan. 31.—A long consultation among the Allied delegates in an endeavor to maintain a united front against the Turks preceded the opening of the Near East Conference to-day. It was said the British would probably be disposed to grant the Turks some days for reflection.

All the Allied delegates, including the Americans, agreed that the negotiations could not be long protracted. Lord Curzon, in beginning his address to-day, said the primary object of the treaty was to bring to an end the terrible war which had desolated eastern Europe and large areas of Asia for more than eight years and thus enable all the various armies, whether Allied, Turkish or Greek, to go back to their homes. The treaty also was designed to enable the Turkish state, which was vanquished in the war with the Allies but victorious over Greece, to resume its place as a consolidated state and re-enter the comity of nations.

Lord Curzon said everyone regretted there had not been an agreement as to every clause in the treaty, but time was pressing and Europe, and indeed the whole world, was waiting, not for further debates, but for results. Therefore, it was felt to be in the public interest that the proceedings should be brought to a termination, as he hoped they might be, by common consent.

Lord Curzon said the treaty was intended to build up relationships of amity, goodwill and friendly intercourse on equal terms between the Turkish state and the other parts of Europe.

Three Objects. "Peace, reconstruction and co-operation are the three objects," he said. He added that the question was how far the conference had succeeded in obtaining them in the document presented to-day. He was far from thinking the labor had been done in vain, as a considerable amount of suspicion which had hung about the earlier meetings had been blown away by the news of Lausanne.

Compromise. The British Foreign Secretary declared with vigor that it was not possible for the Turkish delegation or the Angora Government to claim that they were being confronted with a surprise or a menace. The Allies had endeavored to frame the treaty not by methods of dictation but by conciliation and compromise.

However, the Allies had reached the unanimous agreement that results could not be expected from further meetings of the conference commissions and sub-commissions, and accordingly they drew up in the form of a definite treaty the essential conditions for peace.

FRENCH AND BELGIANS PRESENT ULTIMATUM TO GERMAN MINISTRY

Brussels, Jan. 31.—Belgium and France will present to the German Government in Berlin at 6 o'clock this evening an ultimatum demanding for the last time that Germany fulfill the reparations programme and execute the Treaty of Versailles, it was announced here this afternoon.

Dusseldorf, Jan. 31.—The reaction of the Germans, particularly in Berlin official circles, to General Degoutte's warning that the French and Belgians had come to the end of their patience and that the occupying forces were ready to take "whatever time and measures" were necessary to enforce their policy, was awaited here to-day as the Allies strengthened their position.

Midnight will see the expiration of the two-week moratorium recently granted Germany for the payment of her 500,000,000 gold mark reparation instalment. Whether the French will make the default the occasion for putting into effect the expected Ruhr customs barrier and the cessation of coal shipments eastward had not been announced this morning.

It is reported the German Minister of Railways, for the Berlin Government, has forbidden the German press from carrying out any orders of the French and Belgians. The decree also forbids the workers to operate in the equipment of coal and timber out of Germany to either France or Belgium.

Coal output in Ruhr area rapidly falling. Dusseldorf, Jan. 31.—Coal production in the Ruhr Valley is rapidly decreasing. The available yesterday was 22,000, less than the normal number. The scarcity of empty cars is becoming acute. Only 100,000 available yesterday for the entire valley. Coal is accumulating at the pit heads.

The Cologne-Berlin main trunk line telephone and telegraph cables were severed to-day in several places near Essen. That city is completely cut off from the remainder of Germany.

A message from Coblenz announced that thirty-four German civil officials were being expelled to-day from the Rhineland under the Rhineland High Commission.

NO EXTENSION OF OCCUPATION. London, Jan. 31.—Apparently basing their statements upon General Degoutte's warning to Germany, some of the British correspondents at Dusseldorf assert that the French ultimatum will send Berlin into a panic, equivalent in spirit if not in form to an ultimatum, demanding removal of Wilhelmstrasse's policy regarding the Ruhr district.

HELPS TO DIRECT RUHR OPERATIONS; GENERAL WEYGAND

MEASURES ANNOUNCED IN OPENING SPEECH OF SESSION IN OTTAWA

embargo on Canadian cattle in the United Kingdom is a source of great satisfaction. It was materialized in the various agricultural matters, such as the mixing of grain in private terminal elevators, the marketing of farm products, the development of the livestock industry and the possibilities of further diversification in our Canadian agriculture.

FARM INQUIRY BY COMMITTEE

"The adverse conditions which with agriculture generally is confronted in many parts of Canada, despite the abundant crops of the past year, render it desirable that a special committee with powers to make recommendations be appointed to look into the various agricultural matters, such as the mixing of grain in private terminal elevators, the marketing of farm products, the development of the livestock industry and the possibilities of further diversification in our Canadian agriculture."

SETTLERS INVITED TO WORK LAND

"The matter of securing an increasing flow of desirable settlers to develop the large areas still available for cultivation in Canada has had the serious consideration of my advisers. Additional advertising and general publicity campaigns have been launched in Great Britain and the United States, and an opportunity offers to other lands from which a suitable class of settlers may be attracted. In other particulars the activities of the Department of Immigration and Colonization are being expanded."

"The time for the usual decennial revision of the Bank Act having arrived, a measure for that purpose will be laid before you."

REDISTRIBUTION MEASURE SOON

"Having regard to the recent decennial census, a readjustment of the representation of the provinces in the House of Commons as required by the British North America Act is due. A bill will be introduced for that purpose."

Postal Conference.

"In pursuance of the announcement made in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the last session, a postal conference with the United States was held at Ottawa in the month of December last. The results of the conference were embodied in a new postal convention which has been in force since January 1. It is a pleasure to report that re-arrangements were made not only for extending and improving the international postal service, but also for conveyance for parcel mail from Canada through the United States to all South American countries."

Vimy Ridge.

"The Government of France has graciously offered to the Canadian Government a tract of land of 250 acres on Vimy Ridge, at the site selected for the erection by Canada of a monument commemorating the exploits of Canadian troops in the Great War. This gift has been gratefully accepted and a bill approving the agreement has been duly introduced in the French Parliament. An appropriate resolution expressing Canada's appreciation of the action of the French Government will be offered for your acceptance."

STRICT ECONOMY IS STILL THE RULE

"Members of the House of Commons. The Public Accounts for the last fiscal year and the Estimates for the coming year will be submitted at an early date. Strict economy in all public expenditures continues to be a necessity of the existing financial situation."

"Honorable members of the Senate: Members of the House of Commons: Since you last assembled, Canada has harvested the largest wheat crop in history and an abundance of other kinds of grains and fruits. "May the Divine Providence which has vouchsafed this basis of our material prosperity guide and bless all our deliberations."

LONDON MAY HAVE OMNIBUS STRIKE SOON

London, Jan. 31.—London is threatened with an omnibus strike. Despite the strong advice of the Transport Workers' Union, the men have voted five to one against it. The proposed reduction is two shillings a day for drivers and sixpence for conductors, with a subsequent sliding scale, according to the cost of living. Fifteen thousand workers are affected by the proposed reduction.

WOMAN OFFICIAL

San Francisco, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Mary Ranitz Schwab, who thirty years ago visualized the United States as "the Promised Land" upon her arrival here from Russia as an immigrant, will be sworn in as San Francisco's first woman assistant city attorney here to-day.

LORD KINNAIRD DIED IN LONDON; WAS SEVENTY-FIVE

London, Jan. 31.—Lord Arthur Fitzgerald Kinnaid, 75, a prominent figure in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, died yesterday. His death is believed to have been hastened by the sudden death of Lady Kinnaid a few days ago.

WINNIEG MAN AND WIFE DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Winnipeg, Jan. 31.—Victims of pneumonia, N. E. Kohl, for thirty-five years manager of the Main Street branch of the Moose Bank, and his wife, died Mr. Kohl, who was taken ill Sunday, died early to-day, while his wife died yesterday after an illness of only one day.

ONTARIO LEADERS HAVE A DEBATE

Premier Drury and Ferguson, Conservative Chief, in Duel at Legislative Session

Toronto, Jan. 31.—The Leader of the Conservatives and the Leader of the Government met yesterday in what was really the opening battle of this session of the Ontario Legislature. No words were wasted in felicitating one another. G. Howard Ferguson criticized the Government as a whole, and the majority of the Ministers individually, and was followed by Premier Drury, who stoutly defended his regime, his associates and himself and countered by attacking the record of Mr. Ferguson, both as a Minister of the Crown, and later as Leader of the Opposition, paying particular attention to Mr. Ferguson's speeches during last Summer and Autumn.

CATTLE EXPORTS ARE GROWING

Ontario Finds Good Demand in Britain Since Embargo Lifted

Toronto, Jan. 31.—The Provincial Department of Agriculture is eagerly awaiting the results of the shipments of cattle to Great Britain since the embargo was lifted a few weeks ago. The only word received so far is that there is a good demand for Canadian cattle and export agents here are fairly active buyers in the stockyards.

FOUND GUILTY

Seattle, Jan. 31.—Charles A. Sullivan, formerly a captain in the Seattle police department, who was suspended on charges that he had misappropriated money, was yesterday afternoon convicted of grand larceny by a jury. The jury, which deliberated four hours, found that Captain Sullivan had misappropriated a cheque for $555 sent to the city to pay for the care of seamen.

SUPPORT IS GIVEN YOUNG MIGRANTS

Children From Britain Will Help Build Up Western Australia

London, Jan. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable)—At the annual meeting of the Child Emigration Society yesterday, William G. Ormsby-Gore, Under-Secretary in the Colonial Office, announced that the Overseas Settlement Committee had decided, subject to the sanction of the Treasury, to contribute half the capital expenditure for new buildings which the society is erecting in West Australia, provided the contribution would not exceed £2,500, and also to make certain contributions per head to the maintenance of the children over a period of five years.

NO FRENCH COAL PROTEST TO BE MADE TO BRITAIN

Paris, Jan. 31.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—With regard to a report published in London to the effect that the French Government proposed to protest to the British Government against the sale of British coal to German buyers, it is authoritatively stated here that there is not the slightest truth in it. It is understood that the purchasers of the coal are private firms and individuals and there will be no protest from France.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

PARLIAMENT RESUMES.

The second session of Parliament since the last Dominion election, which opens at Ottawa this afternoon, finds the Government a little more comfortably situated in its proportion of the membership of the House of Commons than it was last year.

The actual position of the Government, however, is not as difficult as this alignment on paper might suggest, on account of the extremely limited common ground between the two main opposition parties.

But there is one possible meeting-place between Progressives and Conservatives which is not to be overlooked, and that is the subject of the public ownership of railways.

Redistribution will be the chief business of the new session. This will be based upon the census of 1921 and the quota will be one member for every 38,000 inhabitants.

In some quarters it is believed that another important measure will be the decennial revision of the Bank Act, but there is a strong opinion that nothing should be done in that direction until after a searching investigation by a competent committee of Parliament.

THE FATEFUL DAY AT LAUSANNE.

Although the delay must be getting on the nerves of the delegates to the Lausanne Peace Conference, the sense of utter failure which had begun to threaten all sorts of dire calamity in the Near East has been relieved this morning by the request for further time by the leader of the Turkish delegation.

Coupled with this significant development is the publication of a note from Premier Poincare to Mustapha Kemal Pasha in which the Quai d'Orsay counsels moderation and declares that France is in the mood to make such further concessions as may be necessary to preserve peace.

We shall be told, of course, that the Entente once more is ready for the shroud. The European scaremonger will attend to the obsequies and announce a new policy of French aggression in Germany.

Without more tangible reasons for the Poincare note the worst complexion that can be placed upon the incident is that Turkey has been given additional courage in her temporizing procedure. None the less the Angora Government must know that Britain is not likely to retreat from the position definitely taken by Lord Curzon at Lausanne.

THE ISLAND'S REPRESENTATION.

Under redistribution British Columbia will be entitled to an additional member of the House of Commons. Where the new constituency will be established has not been determined yet, but its creation and other considerations will involve a general readjustment of this Province's electoral amendment.

BRITAIN ACCEPTS AMERICAN TERMS.

After the little ripple of excitement which Mr. Stanley Baldwin's statement at Southampton seemed to have caused on both sides of the Atlantic general satisfaction will be experienced by the British and American people over the fact that John Bull's debt to our neighbor across the way will be funded forthwith.

A MATTER OF BUSINESS.

Every taxpayer who intends to express his opinion upon the concession which the Canadian Pacific Railway is asking in respect of the Empress Hotel should remember that the company has paid $110,000 in taxation on its other property in Victoria during the last four years—last year's impost alone accounting for more than $31,000.

It can also be repeated with full force and emphasis that the Empress Hotel remains open all the year round when ordinary observance of purely economic considerations would justify its closing for perhaps six months.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It would be an unfortunate thing for Europe if the Allied front were to break up at Lausanne as well as on the Ruhr. Premier Poincare's note to the Turkish Government furnishes plenty of material for speculation at a critical juncture.

William Randolph Hearst surely touched the wrong button when he authorized it to be proclaimed abroad that "Britain at least tries to pay what she owes." He must have run out of poison ivy.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Winslow Border Cities Star—Social service work is a present day necessity. It is a definite recognition of the complexity of modern urban conditions. It goes further, and says that no man liveth unto himself, and that each of us is his brother's keeper.

A CLEAN-UP SHAM. Gueish Merald—Much was expected of Will Hays, who at the time of the Hollywood scandals was created a moral censor of films and those who make them, but his admission of Fatty Arbuckle to the ranks again, after the scandal in which he at one time figured, has by no means assured the public that Hays is possessed of the backbone or the power to do very much that is worth while in cleaning the Augean stable.

Other People's Views

PRICE OF WATER.

To the Editor:—Ex-Mayor Marchant in last night's Times says: "Quickly by their supplies through one large meter, and retail to their citizens, with the proviso that they shall not charge less than the City charges to its citizens."

"EAST OR WEST, HOME'S THE BEST"

To the Editor:—I cannot leave Victoria without passing a few remarks on behalf of the S. S. Electrician crew, with regard to the popularity of the city of Victoria. I should say, than Mrs. Smith, and within ten seconds I guarantee that all your troubles will be temporarily banished.

On entering the institute, one sees a magnificent billiard table in the centre of the room to the left of which is a huge book-case containing every possible kind of literature. Passing through this room one is amazed to find an absolutely perfect model drawing-room, in which you will see a few persons seated round the hearth, perhaps engaged in conversation with Mrs. Smith and without one exception, smiles of absolute contentment are to be seen on all faces.

Thus from the above remarks it will be seen that the above motto, which I respect "East and West Home's the Best," which is prominently placed on the billiard room, is quite typical of the city of Victoria, and in conclusion I wish to thank Mrs. Smith, on behalf of my confederates for one of the most enjoyable evenings spent abroad. All best wishes for its continued success.

EMPIRE HOTEL.

To the Editor:—As a member of the Victoria City Council, and as a taxpayer, I would like to favorably recommend to the public the two Empress Hotel buildings. Everyone, familiar with the circumstances, agrees that the Empress Hotel, up to the present, has been a good bargain for the city of Victoria.

In the interests of Victoria, it is earnestly to be hoped that on Monday all those citizens who are favorable to the by-laws will turn out and cast their ballots in order that the majority may be a decisive one.

GREATER VICTORIA WATER.

To the Editor:—Permit me to express a few comments on the proposed scheme. It is regrettable that the promoters of the idea did not take as great care to safeguard the interests of the consumer and owner of land as they did to protect the interests of the proposed corporation.

As for rural sections, few are without water, some have their own water system, while others have unfailing springs which only need harnessing, to supply water for all time. It often happens that the only reason why these springs are not tapped, is lack of capital on the part of the owner, and if the owner cannot install the necessary piping now, how can he install same for water main system and at the same time pay for water and sewage?

but the Saanich water rates are prohibitive for irrigation by open furrows while the cost of overhead system would be too great on a large scale.

MR. POOLEY'S SPEECH

To the Editor:—With reference to the speech made by Mr. Pooley last evening and published in the press I wish to discuss the statement that he reported to have made to the effect that a Mr. Johnson had obtained before the public accounts committee that "Captain Harbor had shown him a copy of an order for whisky to be sent to the Battalion accompanied by the remark that he would make $500 on it."

When it was pointed out that political capital might be made out of the fact that orders were given to my firm while at the same time I was president of the Liberal Association resigned the latter office. My business has been naturally of more financial importance to me than my political office.

Mr. McDonald & Muir have since received a further order for their goods as the direct result of the reception of the public gave their whisky.

In regard to Mr. Pooley's cheap reference to graft, may I be permitted to say that any commission which I made as agent in the business referred to in the earlier part of this letter is surely on all fours with the commission which any insurance agent makes on the insurance he is successful in obtaining for his company, or the commission of any bond salesman, or, in fact, any business.

May I ask that this letter be given the same prominence as Mr. Pooley's statements.

FRIENDLY HELP ANNUAL MEETING

Of its twenty-eight years of existence, the year 1922 proved one of the heaviest in its demands owing to the prevalence of unemployment and consequent suffering, according to reports presented yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Friendly Help Association. The meeting was held in the headquarters located in the Market Building, with Lady McBride in the chair and a large attendance of members and interested friends.

Mayor Hayward, the Bishop of Columbia, Mrs. Schofield, president of the Local Council of Women, Rev. Wm. Stevenson, Alderman Woodward, Mrs. William Grant and Mrs. D. Gordon all spoke briefly in congratulatory vein of the organization's work, paying tribute particularly to Miss Lawson, the secretary.

President's Report
 Lady McBride, in her presidential address, referred to the anxiety and many difficulties encountered during the past year. Although unemployment and consequent distress had been rife, the Association had been able to care for every case which came to its notice. Happily the outlook industrially was now brighter, although there were still a number of unemployed in the city. Reference was made to the introduction of the Community Chest scheme in which, after mature consideration, the Association decided not to join. But ardent Victorians to show their sympathy with the association, had in December, entirely unolicited, sent in over $900. Six new members were added to the ranks of the association, while others employed the time with sewing or fancy work. These meetings are specially convened to promote friendship among the girls working in the city. The new officers for the year, elected last week, were as follows: President, Miss Gillespie; vice-president, Miss Raven; musical director, Miss Birch, and pianist, Miss Stewart.

Report of Recording Secretary.
 The recording secretary, Miss Sara Spencer, reported as follows:
 "The Friendly Help Association still in its twenty-eighth year is still functioning with its usual vigor. Twelve regular meetings and one special meeting have been held during the year, with an average attendance of seventeen or sixteen members. During the early part of the past year the work of relief was heavy, especially after the civic relief was discontinued. On an average, 459 persons were helped each month. But conditions are now much better than they were at this time last year."
 "During the last two months all cases of single men have been referred to the Salvation Army. The Salvation Army is better equipped than any other organization in the city. The Friendly Help Association refers to the Salvation Army the amount spent on these cases, and is very glad to rely on an organization that is able to investigate these cases so efficiently."

"Has Become a Habit."
 "Though there are the old and infirm who will always need help, and though many require only temporary assistance, yet there are many whom the Friendly Help Association has become a habit, who subsist with ease into the apparently never-ending stream of the needy. The Friendly Help Association is realizing more and more the fatality of handing out temporary relief. If during this coming year a few of these 'habitual' problems could be solved, something worth while would be accomplished."
 "Not that nothing in that line has been accomplished, however. There have been many tangible results. Many people have been forwarded to the proper authorities; several mother's pensions have been adjusted and many families have been made self-supporting; and through the efforts of the workers and visitors a new feeling of responsibility, a desire to do so much better and to improve home conditions have been awakened. The many letters or grateful thanks received during the year show that much good has been accomplished."

Miss Spencer proceeded, after reviewing the attitude of the Friendly Help Association to the Community Chest.
 "Some of the workers thought that owing to the Community Chest Drive the Christmas contributions to the Friendly Help Association would not be as generous as in the past year. One contributor in sending a cheque for $100, said that though we had not seen our way clear to joining the Community Chest yet she felt that the idea was a good one, and would work out in time. We received several anonymous gifts of large sums as well as generous cheques from societies and organizations. "We were very grateful for extra contributions as the Christmas work was heavier than usual. This year 304 hampers being sent out by express—and 12 delivered—from the committee. Mrs. Pilgrim and her capable committee as usual managed this work."

Miss Lawson spent a much needed two months' holiday in the East during the year. Mesdames Pilgrim and Watson took charge.
 "We also thank The Times and Colonist for the amount of space we have always been given. This publicity has been invaluable."
 "Red clothing may I take this opportunity of publicly thanking Mrs. Pilgrim for her kindness in keeping the secretary's records during four months absence in the summer."

Financial Statement.
 The Friendly Help Society's total receipts last year amounted to $12,570.45, the Society's annual financial report, showing that $4,420.25 was granted by the City Council, and $5,223.95 was made up by donations. The Society's expenditures amounted to $11,445, leaving a balance of $1,125.75. The largest expenses were for groceries, fuel, and milk.

 Paying the Carfare

"Let me pay."
 "No, let me pay it, please."
 "Oh, no, I've got it right here."
 "But, truly, I want to get this bill."
 "Indeed I want. Your nickel isn't any good. This is my affair."
 And so it goes, while the disgusted conductor waits, and the car is held up for the moment.
 Are you one of the millions of women who are asked about who shall pay the carfare? If so, do sure you are a conductor of the habit this very day. To argue over so petty a conductor's conduct is to put oneself in the feminine class that gets ridiculed in the comment. It is really too small to talk about, and far, far too petty to argue over.

AGAIN PRESIDENT OF KUMTUKS CLUB

Miss Lottie Bowron was re-elected president of the Kumtuks Club at its annual meeting last night, when a large gathering of members met at the headquarters, 628 Vancouver Street. Officers elected were as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. H. P. Hodges; corresponding secretary, Miss Wigley; recording secretary, Miss Marjorie; treasurer, Miss McLaren; directors, Miss Jessie Brown, Miss Alma Russell, Miss Taylor and Miss Macrae. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the retiring officers and executive.

Miss Bowron in her review of the year's work stated that eighteen luncheons had been held with six evening business meetings, and during the Summer "picnic" gatherings at which business had been transacted. Reference was made to the happy relations established with the men's service clubs, joint luncheons having been held with the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. Material help had been extended to the Friendly Help Society, the Protestant Orphanage and to the Merville Relief Fund. Miss Russell presented a gratifying financial statement.

Encouraging reports were given by the conveners of committees as follows: Finance, Miss Macrae; Welfare, Miss Wigley; Music, Miss Lugin; Publicity, Miss McLaren; Legislative, Miss K. Bradshaw; Municipal, Miss Roberts; Entertainment, Mrs. Cree.
 Correspondence included greetings for the New Year from the Washington State President of the American Federation of Business and Professional Women, who also extended warm invitation to the club to send a representative to the national convention to be held in Portland, Oregon, in July.
 After some discussion the club unanimously decided to accept this invitation and a fund will be established for the purpose of sending a delegate. Many other matters of importance to the club were also discussed at length.

Members were reminded that the club is acting as hostesses to the tourists and visitors in the city on Monday evening next at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, this being one of the series of weekly entertainments planned by the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber.

The St. John Ambulance Association in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A., will commence a first aid class for men at the Y. M. C. A. Building at 1.30 o'clock Thursday evening. A lecture will be delivered by Dr. Gordon C. Kenning. Further particulars may be obtained by application to the honorary secretary, H. W. Edvardson (phone 4995Y), or W. McGuire, physical director, Y. M. C. A.

After returning from the rink last night to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Edna Peaty was greatly surprised when she was met, on entering the house, by a number of her friends, who had gathered together for the purpose of celebrating her twenty-first birthday. At about 11.30 refreshments were served, after which dancing was resumed until an early hour. The arrangements were in the hands of Misses Dorothy McVilvie and Nora Kelly. Present were Mesdames W. Melville, J. B. Peaty, J. G. Simpson and the Misses Edna Peaty, Dorothy Dorothy Peaty, Dora Dixie, Ada Moffat, May Simpson, Julia Allan, Kathleen Simpson, Jessie Widdowson, Helen Boyce, Mary Mitchell, Jean Black, Marjorie Estlin and Reta Kelly, and Messrs. W. Hahn, W. Erickson, A. Squires, G. Woodridge, H. Estlin, J. Simpson, Mr. Query, Ed. Westin, L. Smith, W. Riley, R. Melville, O. Fowler and T. Wellburn.

"Another thing, the woman of poise and experience learns to accept small favors graciously. If her friend who precedes her into a street car drops two fares into the box, she should acknowledge the courtesy with a nod and a smile, and at some other time return the small attention."
 "Bess always quarrels about the carfare, but lets whoever will pay the luncheon check!" grumbled a young man whose sister is one of the five-cent offenders. "But let's be together. If one woman invites another to luncheon, she naturally appropriates the check; otherwise both women quietly contribute to the bill. So go along and each pays her own check." Just where this foolish custom of protesting about carfare originated, who can say? But let's be together, all of us, and stop it. Let's either pay our own fares, without question, or pleasantly accept the payment of our fares by a friend who has invited us. It is really too small to talk about, and far, far too petty to argue over.

CHINESE GENERAL'S DAUGHTER WAS HERE

Miss Charlotte Wu to Fit Herself as Educationist
 Exemplifying the spirit of the young womanhood of old China, Miss Charlotte Wu, daughter of General Chin Eu Wu, one of China's military leaders and at present commissioner of defence of Kiangling, China, passed through the city a few days ago, and will devote the next five years to study at the Central Wesleyan College at Warrenton, Mo. Her purpose is to fit herself to carry on educational work among the women of her own nation.

Accompanying Miss Wu was Miss E. Murray who, after having spent twenty-six years has been engaged in educational missionary work in China, and who is principal of a girls' boarding school in the Kiangling. This school is supported by the Women's Society of the Methodist Church, and has equipment to care for 200 girls.

The position had its humiliations. But if Andre-Louis would hope to dine he must be content with his wife as an hors d'oeuvre.
 "And so," he said, controlling a grimace, "the robe yields not only to the sword, but to the broom as well. Be it so."
 It is characteristic of him that, having made that choice, he should have thrown himself into the work with enthusiasm. He had been in the position of a master's library, which was made up of a dozen or so treatises on fencing by great masters. At the end of a month it suddenly dawned upon M. des Amis that his assistant had developed into a fencer with whom it became necessary to exert himself if he were to escape defeat.
 "I said from the first," he told him one day, "that Nature designed you for a swordman."
 "To the master be the glory," said Andre-Louis.
 His relations with M. des Amis had meanwhile become of the friendly kind, and he was now beginning to receive from him other pupils than mere beginners. M. des Amis, a chivalrous, open-hearted man, had watched his zeal by increasing his wages to four louis a month.

Andre-Louis was in the gardens of the Palais Royal, the universal rendezvous, on that Sunday morning in Paris when the new world of disincarnated and airy, carrying with it dismay and fury.
 He beheld a slight young man with a cool, marked face lean to a table outside the Cafe de Foy, a drawn sword in his hand, crying, "To arms!" and then upon the silence of astonishment that cry imposed, this young man poured a flood of inflammatory eloquence.
 Enthusiasm swept the crowd, a motley crowd made up of all the women of every class, from vagabond to nobleman, from harlot to lady of fashion.
 Andre-Louis looked on, and grew afraid. This crowd, he felt, must be restrained. That hot-headed, irresponsible stutler would have the sense of a mad dog, and might do something were done. The young man, Camille Desmoullins, later to become famous, leapt down from his perch, shouting, "To arms! Follow me!" Andre-Louis advanced to occupy the place of the stutler, and he suddenly face to face with a tall man beautifully dressed.
 Thus face to face, each looking into the eyes of the other. Then Andre-Louis laughed.
 "That fellow, too, has a very dangerous gift of eloquence, M. le Marquis," he said.
 "Gallows bird!" he was answered. "I shall tell the Lieutenant-General that you are to be found in Paris."

"God bless my soul," said Andre-Louis. "Will you talk like that of Lieutenant-Generals when Paris is likely to tumble about your ears, or take fire under your feet?"
 A rush of men hurried against him, swept him along with them, do what he would, separating him from the crowd of which Andre-Louis had slipped. The horsemen swept down upon the mob, dispersed it, and borne thence, and amongst them was Bertrand des Amis, himself—like all who lived by the sword—an ardent upholder of the noblesse, trampled to death under hoofs of foreign horsemen launched by the noblesse and led by a nobleman.
 To Andre-Louis four men of the people brought that broken body of one of the earliest victims of the revolution that was now launched in earnest.

The ferment of Paris which, during the two following days, resembled an armed camp rather than a city, delayed the burial of Bertrand des Amis until the Wednesday of that eventful week. Andre-Louis succeeded to the fencing school in which he was himself so well established as an instructor.
 And so, one fine day in early August, he received a visit from Le Chapelier.
 "I have news for you, Andre. Your godfather is at Meudon. There have been fresh disturbances in Brittany."
 Not until Sunday was Andre-Louis able to satisfy a wish which the impatience of the intervening days had converted into a yearning. Dressed with more than ordinary care, his head elegantly coiffed—Andre-Louis mounted his hired carriage, and drove out to Meudon.
 It was into the presence of a peevish and rather somnolent M. de Ker-cadieu that Andre-Louis was ushered. He was unprepared, as he had never been the custom at Gavrillos.

 "What do you want here?" growled M. de Kercaidiou.
 "No more than to kiss your hand, monsieur my godfather," said Andre-Louis, submissively, bowing his sleek black head.
 "You can't. You'll never make me understand how you came to render yourself so—odiously—notorious—in Brittany."
 "Ah, not odiously, monsieur!"
 "Certainly, odiously. It is said even that you were Omnes Omnia, though that I cannot, will not believe."
 "Yet it is true."
 M. de Kercaidiou choked. "And you confess it? You dare to confess it?"
 "What a man dares to do, he should dare to confess—unless he is a coward."
 "Oh, and to be sure you were very brave, running away each time after you had done the mischief, turning comedian to hide yourself, doing more mischief as a comedian, provoking a riot in Nantes, and then running away again, to become God knows what—something dishonouring to the affluent look of you. My God, man, I tell you that in these past two years I have hoped that you were dead, and you profoundly disappoint me that you are not!" He beat his hands together, and raised his shrill voice to call—"Benoit!"
 "Benoit, the door. M. Andre-Louis Moreau to the door!"
 The tone argued an irrevocable determination. Pale and self-contained, but with a queer pain at his heart, Andre-Louis heard that dispiriting and then another voice, a crisp, boyish voice, cut in.
 "Uncle!" it cried, a world of indignation and surprise in its pitch, and then: "Andre! And this time not a moment of gladness, certainly of welcome, was blended with the surprise that still remained."

SAFEST FACTS ON WATERWORKS OF VICTORIA AND DISTRICT

Supply of Greater Victoria Water District As Already Developed; About Twenty Million Gallons Available Daily Which Is Not Yet Utilized; Canavan Report On the Irrigation of the Saanich Peninsula.

No issue during the sixty years of the city's corporate life has engaged so much attention, has caused so much litigation in the highest courts, and has such vital influence upon its future than its water supply.

To-day, with a first class supply of mountain water, the limited population of the city is faced with the absolute necessity of raising more revenue from the undertaking, to make the burden of fixed charges less irksome, while the country districts are in urgent need of a domestic supply supplemented in some small fruit areas by the imperative demand for water for irrigation purposes.

The situation in this area has become exceptionally complicated by the existence of a private water company operating in part of territory secured to the city by the wide franchise of the Act of 1873, in the territory to be embraced in the Greater Victoria Water District are also two municipalities buying in bulk from the city supply, and distributing to their own consumers, a government system using public water, and two private water companies, one of which is using public water, while the other has its own undertaking.

A-Complicated Position. The financial aspect is just as complicated as the physical condition, both public loans and private share interests having to be harmonized in dealing with the situation. The financial clauses are naturally engaging a great deal of attention in the discussion before the series of public meetings. The municipal services are claimed to be operated at a profit, but municipal public enterprises are generally operated on the basis of trying to make the undertaking break even, and as advances in rates have recently been brought into operation, it is assumed that the profits are in the nature of adjustment, because any substantial profit would immediately entail a demand for reduction of rates by the consumers. That principle does not apply to private companies, and yet to judge from recent budgets, one company is not making a profit.

An examination of the reports of the seven interests concerned as vendors of water in the Greater Victoria water district shows that the character of service, and wastage vary very greatly. Existing contracts will afford the fullest scope for test and comparison, and the commissioners proposed to be set up under the scheme. Assuming that the city waterworks is valued at $4,000,000, and deducting about $700,000 for debentures which have been paid off, it may be assumed that the investment of water in the Greater Victoria works Co., the Dominion Government and the two small water companies may be set down at $7,000,000.

Under the Act, the water supply of the south end of the island will be placed under the jurisdiction of what is known as an Administration Board, which is to be composed of the Mayor and three members of the Victoria City Council, the Reeve and one member of each of the councils of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt.

The Supply. From the earliest days it was necessary to select from the three fundamental methods by which water is supplied to large urban areas, and in the case of the Victoria water district there was only one course. The stratification was adverse to the use of artesian bores, and there being no large river on the island emptying into the sea near Victoria, the only plan open

The city's modern water system was installed in May, 1915, the following being some of the details connected with the installation: Area of former Sooke Lake, two square miles. Area of watershed of Sooke Lake, 22 square miles. Storage of present dam, with 12-foot raise, 5,555,000 gallons. Elevation at top of the dam above sea level, 547 feet.

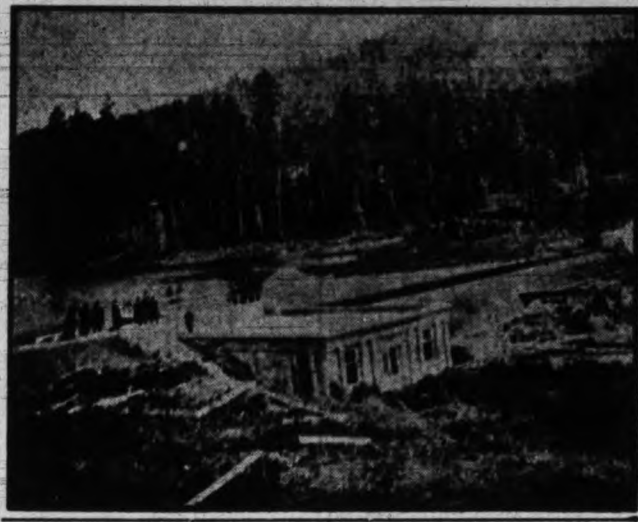

Later development contemplates addition of run-off from Leech River and 45-foot raise, when the capacity of the dam will be 17,350,000 gallons. Continuous daily flow available from present dam, about 21,000,000 gallons. With 45-foot raise of lake referred to, daily flow available 50,000,000 gallons. The conduit connects Sooke Lake with the reserve reservoir now established at Humpback of reinforced concrete, 42-inch internal diameter, twenty-seven and a third miles long, on a grade of 1 foot in each thousand feet. Capacity of Humpback reserve reservoir, 136,000,000 gallons. Watershed area of that reservoir, 670 acres. Elevation at crest of the dam, 322.3 feet above sea level.

THE SMALLER SYSTEMS

Sooke Harbor. Concrete pipe from Sooke Lake, with 100,000 gallon tank at Sooke, from which the water is distributed. Forty consumers are connected. Sidney. Source, wells and springs near Mount Newton, eight-inch mains with metered services, and several supply tanks. The supply is 100,000 gallons per day.

William Head. Twelve-inch steel pipe for 4 1/2 miles, with ten-inch cast iron pipe balance of the way to the Quarantine Station. Forty consumers on route are reported. Installation from Sooke main at Station Road, was made in 1913 by Dominion Department of Public Works.

AT THE INTAKE, SOOKE LAKE

was to use natural catchment grounds with a supply by gravitating therefrom.

Rather singularly one of the catchment areas rejected by the Bulkley report of 1872, upon which the city eventually went to Elk Lake for a service which lasted from 1874 to 1913, was part of the present Goldstream territory of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, while another area examined and rejected was the valley of the Millstream, which in after years was tested as the only serious rival to the Sooke Lake catchment area.

There is little question that had the city authorities in the early eighties undertaken to tackle the supply for the growing area across Victoria Arm, not then within the limits, obtained a clear definition of its service extensions. From that date begins the long controversy which split the city into factions for nearly a generation, eventually forced the Legislature to define the terms of expropriation later rejected by the ratepayers, and to a long law suit terminated in the highest court of the Empire.

Sooke Waterworks. The Sooke waterworks, the largest single undertaking upon which the municipality has embarked, and which with land damages has cost the ratepayers $2,577,000, has proved a very much more costly scheme than any engineer ever expected. The controversy with the Esquimalt Waterworks Company forced the natural tunnel route under the hills to be abandoned for the route round Mount Shepherd, entailing a more expensive maintenance of the flow line to Humpback. Had the tunnel scheme been adopted, it is believed that it would have led to litigation with the water company. Then there was the protracted difficulty with the contractor, entailing expensive lawsuits, eventually won by the city before the Privy Council, and thirdly—and the one which has occasioned the greatest resentment of all—is the excessive land damages awarded by arbitrators for areas submerged by the enlarged lake and the reservoir at Humpback and also for the right of way.

The Esquimalt Waterworks Company being already in the field in the western suburbs, there was no business offering en route to the city, but two opportunities were available to sell water obtained at so great an expense. The one was the supply of water to the settlement at Sooke Harbor, where some of its public spirited citizens organized their own company, and have

The Esquimalt Waterworks Company shows assets valued at about $2 million and a half, of which the permanent works and improvements are appraised at $1,138,859, and

OVERLOOKING HUMPHACK

The two municipal customers of the city, Oak Bay and Saanich, who handle their own distribution, have about 3,300 active services, Oak Bay having 1,210 and Saanich 2,150 with 400 extra in Summer time. To summarize the city in addition to its own service, for which the ratepayers are paying annually about $100,000 interest charges apart from maintenance, this has customers for water in Oak Bay and Saanich, to the Federal Government (for the William Head scheme) and to the Sooke Harbor Water Company.

shows a credit in the profit and loss account $235,000 accumulated by the shareholders abandoning their profits over a term of years. It is considered that apart from operating expenses the earning power of the company is five per cent on $1,500,000.

The district covered embraces all the territory west of Victoria, Arm from Goldstream eastward, including the whole township of Esquimalt, the Victoria West district within the city (and thus all present and future development in the industrial reserve immediately west of the harbor, and minor connections in view of the fact that it has thus practical control of the industrial area contributory to Victoria, both on Victoria Island and Esquimalt Harbor, the company is in a particularly strong position. Its plant is reported to be in excellent shape.

At the extreme northern end of the Saanich Peninsula is located the Sidney Water Company, a small proprietary concern with 3,774 shares taken up of its share capital. The assets are valued at $45,185 and the source of supply is from wells and springs two miles out of Sidney. The supply of 100,000 gallons a day. The town is rapidly developing industrially and it is recognized that more water must be obtained to supply the needs of an operative system, which apparently at the present time requires additional capital to make extensions.

The district, partly in Saanich Municipality and partly unorganized, which lies between the area of the Saanich Waterworks and the Sidney Water Company, is one of those which demands most urgently water, both for domestic supply and for irrigation. Unfortunately the bulk of the area within the municipality is burdened with heavy taxation, and in spite of improving marketing facilities by way of an co-operative fruit association and the Victoria Public Market it is asserted that farming is not a paying proposition. Thus the farmers and the fruit growers, to which recently has been added the new industry of seed growing, are chary of any water scheme which entails the burden of taxation. Recognizing that this is one of the most fertile tracts for the activities of the proposed Water Board, the Board has promised a special relief for long frontages such as agricultural lands. To the inhabitants of the rural part of Saanich the Water Committee is making a special appeal.

The district is by nature unorganically divided, and is irrigated by the gathering grounds around Elk Lake, which was for many years the source of supply for Victoria, and which is estimated that the capacity available is about two and a half gallons per day. There is a considerable watershed around the city of Victoria, which would assure the purity of the supply. With the exception of a report made in 1918, which extended reference follows, there is very little information upon which to base an estimate of the amount of water which would be required for irrigation purposes in the territory named, and which includes the fertile Keating Valley, regarded probably as the finest for soft fruits on Vancouver Island and readily accessible by paved roads.

The Saanich Plan. A summary of an address given by the late H. W. E. Canavan, M.C.S.C.E., before the Board of Waterworks in 1914, contains some interesting facts as they pertained to the irrigation of Saanich. Necessary figures quoted for concrete and steel pipe, as well as operation and fixed charges are subject to the effect that is consequent on the change in economic circles in the period that has elapsed.

LAST YEAR'S CONSUMPTION

In 1922 the total consumption of water from the Sooke waterworks after deducting flushing services, amounted to 1,117,447,754 gallons, or 1,117,447,754 gallons, or 1,117,447,754 gallons in 1921. The water used in the city totalled 720,452,691 gallons; in Oak Bay, 109,817,500 gallons; in Saanich, 254,200,000 gallons; for Express Hotel, 54,915,000 gallons; Quarantine Station, 16,859,562 gallons; Sooke Harbor Water Company, 58,000,000 gallons; Saanich Water Company, 112,500 gallons.

Mr. Canavan spoke strongly in favor of the irrigation of the whole of the arable land of the Peninsula, and gave a comprehensive review of how this could be accomplished. It takes next the position of the neighboring municipalities. 1. Esquimalt came into being after the water franchise had existed for 27 years, and must have water for its growing industrial importance. 2. Oak Bay appears to be well supplied under the present arrangement, but has been significantly free from serious fires. 3. Saanich has a fair service, rapidly expanding in its suburban area and in Gordon Head, and the Canavan project suggested should be served on the basis of one acre foot per acre. This he suggested could be done at a cost between $50 and $75 an acre or even as low as $50. Wooden pipe would serve, but a combination of wooden stave and concrete pipe for the more permanent.

ESQUIMALT COMPANY

The Esquimalt Waterworks Company obtains its supply by gravity from Goldstream 12 miles northwest of the city, with a watershed of 12,000 acres. Within this area are five lakes with a combined available capacity of 2,400,000,000 gallons. The water from the lakes is carried to what is known as Japan Gulch Reservoir, in open ducts, where it supplies now to the Electric Company's plant at the rate of 9,000,000 to 12,000,000 gallons per day before entering the reservoir. From this reservoir, which is about ten miles from the city, the company obtains a gravity supply by means of a 24-inch steel main. The amount of available supply at Japan Gulch Reservoir is 9,000,000 gallons daily. In addition to the storage basin at Japan Gulch, supplies can also be obtained from Thetis Lake, about 5 miles north of the city, which is also owned by the Esquimalt Waterworks Company. The lake has a watershed of 1,250 acres, with a capacity of 12,000,000 gallons. The lake is connected with the company's system by a single line of 30-inch steel pipe five miles in length.

VALUE OF IRRIGATION

Crops grown on the Boise Irrigation project within the last ten years have aggregated $20,000,000 in value, or an average of $3,000,000 per year, according to the announcement of the United States Reclamation Service. In 1921 the total value of all crops marketed in this project was $4,503,340, of which $1,252,252 were vegetables and truck garden products. The second item in value was hay and forage, with a total value of $1,100,000. Fruits and nuts came next with a value of $475,197, and other grains and seeds produced $305,743 of the amount.

ent lines would be best. Concrete, he continued, would be practically infeasible and could be built on the ground with water-tables at hand. Taking the average yield per acre of the combined fruit and root crops of Saanich the speaker found that if the 20,000 acres were irrigated under irrigation with the result that even half the average yield was met, this would mean a production of $5,000,000 per annum for the whole area, all of which was tributary to Victoria. If the cost of the installation, and operation with fixed charges were applied on the basis of $50 an acre over a twenty year term this would mean $250 an acre from which a yield of from $100 to $500 could be conservatively expected.

It has been found that systems of concrete ditches, steel fluming and stave pipe distribution to lots of twenty acres or more cost from $50 to $75 an acre. On the lands in question, which must be irrigated with domestic water too, I think that a combination of stave pipe and concrete pipe for distribution would perhaps meet the requirements and be more economical than any other and more permanent. Cement pipe of small diameter could be made on the ground where materials were at hand. These can be made to withstand heads of 100 to 150 feet. While the life of concrete pipe is from ten to twenty years, concrete pipe is practically everlasting," Mr. Canavan said.

A SPECIAL SYSTEM

In addition to the older organized companies existing in the neighborhood, the city has begun to sell to the Saanich Water Co., to supply that subdivision at Sooke.

would be only $250 per annum an acre. To this, of course, must be added an annual charge for maintenance, operation and depreciation, usually $5 per acre foot used. This would bring the amount to $7 or $8 per acre foot per annum. Roughly, the revenue therefrom should be $300 to $500 annually per acre. Assuming Mr. Canavan's estimate to be correct with regard to the Saanich peninsula, there is at present no satisfactory date on which available area to be irrigated in the Methoquin and adjacent districts, where small fruit farming is developing.

The only important source of water supply in the area of the proposed board not yet developed is that of Millstream, which was there investigated by engineers acting for the city for the late Arthur L. Adams in 1907. He aimed to supply Victoria with water, 100 gallons daily at a cost of $1,200,000. While considering the quality good, Mr. Adams believed that the opportunities for storage and distribution were not as extensive as the situation warranted.

Some of the principal natural occurrences from the foregoing summary. Take first the city's position: 1. A fine supply, ample for domestic, industrial and fire protection purposes. It does not require to be a power proposition because the power supply is in the hands of the public service corporation, supplying light, power and street railway transportation. 2. It has a fixed charge on the undertaking equal to $4 per capita per annum of its population. 3. It must sell metered water in an area where population is limited by industrial expansion. 4. Any enterprise planned to bring the farmers into the city, which would be beneficial to city interests. 5. The city controls also a dormant watershed.

Take next the position of the neighboring municipalities. 1. Esquimalt came into being after the water franchise had existed for 27 years, and must have water for its growing industrial importance. 2. Oak Bay appears to be well supplied under the present arrangement, but has been significantly free from serious fires. 3. Saanich has a fair service, rapidly expanding in its suburban area and in Gordon Head, and the Canavan project suggested should be served on the basis of one acre foot per acre. This he suggested could be done at a cost between $50 and $75 an acre or even as low as $50. Wooden pipe would serve, but a combination of wooden stave and concrete pipe for the more permanent.

From a fire protection standpoint in the area of the Greater Victoria Water District where there is no fixed water supply, experience has shown that almost every residential fire has led to combustion of the house, the fire getting too much headway for effective control.

While decoration and design emphasize the new models, special significance is given the choosing of their excellent fabrics, and as for the line of fashion, the waistline is low, the bodice straight and the hip snug. The plain or novel skirt is entirely a matter of individual preference. Suffice to say all are indeed distinctive.

One model is of a very fine quality all-wool turtleneck, the coat fits the hip in true cuff-like fashion, the collar is long and rolled, the sleeves are finished with narrow soutache fancy looped braid. The skirt is two-piece with pockets, gathered back, and has a narrow belt, fancy buttons and is lined with red crepe de chine, $49.50.

Another Box Coat Model of fine quality turtleneck has panelled effect and is heavily braided with novel black silk braid; the choker collar and flare cuffs add a distinctive touch; the coat fastens with a novel buckle and is lined with shot silk, $49.50.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, January 21, 1928.

Seattle: Twenty-five passengers of the ill-fated steamer Corona, which was wrecked off Lewis Island on January 23, arrived here yesterday afternoon on the steamer Alki, which rescued them from the lonely island.

According to advices received by the Warminster, the Inter-Island Steaming Company's steamer Kaala, with a cargo of 2,000 bags of sugar valued at $11,500, was wrecked on January 15, the steamer being entirely broken up and the cargo destroyed.

MUST ENLARGE THE LIBERAL CLUB

Must Provide Additional Accommodation; Future Social Activities

So successful has been the development of the Victoria Liberal Association that at the Central Executive meeting Monday evening it was decided to take steps to enlarge the club premises.

Under President Carlow the club has been steadily increasing its membership, and that of the component ward associations. As a result there is insufficient room for meetings and social engagements, so the executive decided to obtain plans and specifications for the alterations.

The executive planned also for a monster social gathering at the Armonies on February 13, to which 5,000 invitations will be issued. Applications should be made to members of the Central Executive for tickets. A fifteen piece orchestra will be engaged, and there will be dancing and other attractions.

OHIO LUMBERMEN TO COME FRIDAY

Will View City's Bigger Industry as Guests of Lumber Manufacturers

Victoria lumber manufacturers on Friday afternoon will be hosts to about one hundred members of the Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, who are en route to the coast with a view to better acquaintance with Western lumbering conditions, the Pacific Coast now being the prime source of supplies for Ohio state.

The party will arrive on the afternoon boat from Seattle, and will be met by the members of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers' Association.

In automobiles the guests will be transported to the large mills on the upper harbor, and later witnessing the operations and the handling of the large Douglas fir logs, the party will be entertained at the Empress Hotel, returning to Seattle after a three-hour stay.

During next week it is expected that Victoria will be visited by a large number of the Pacific lumber retailers, who are visiting the Coast as members of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association, which has its headquarters in Winnipeg, and have recently been in convention there.

This party is expected in Vancouver on Saturday evening, coming from Prince Rupert by boat.

BESSIE DOLLAR AGAIN HELPLESS

Drifting With Damaged Rudder 1,800 Miles From Kobe

Freighter Pomona, 400 Miles Away, Goes to Her Aid

Apart from the report picked up by the Canadian Government wireless that the steamer Bessie Dollar was drifting helpless about 1,800 miles from Kobe, Japan, and that the steamer Pomona was proceeding to her assistance, no further information was available up to a late hour this afternoon concerning the disabled Robert Dollar vessel.

The Bessie Dollar is making her first trip from Vancouver to the Orient since she effected repairs to the burst main steam pipe, which mishap occurred when eastbound in December.

The vessel is under the command of Capt. George McPhail and loaded a cargo of lumber and general freight at Vancouver for Japan and China. The rudder of the Bessie Dollar is reported to be damaged. When the steamer Pomona, operated by the Admiral Oriental Line in the Alaska Pacific route, will get a tow line aboard and take her to the nearest port on the Japan coast for repairs.

SOVIET RUSSIA OPENS FRONTIERS

Cunard Steamship Company Is Granted Transportation Concessions

Cable advices to this continent from the Cunard head offices in Liverpool to-day announced that the Soviet Government had given permission to the Cunard Steamship Company to open an office in Kharkov, the capital of Ukraine, for the purpose of arranging transportation by Cunard steamships to and from Soviet Russia.

The concession has already been acted upon, it is announced, as a Cunard office has been opened in the Ulics Sverdlova, Kharkov. This is the first steamship office to be opened in the capital of Ukraine since the war, and the announcement is taken as being of considerable significance as regards the policy of the Soviet and Ukrainian governments in thus co-operating with steamship lines in aiding Russians to leave the country.

Kharkov, in addition to being the capital of Ukraine, is in the heart of the "Ukrainian" emigration district from which thousands of Russians emigrate annually.

Officials Pleased With Progress on Automobile Ferry

Framing Operations Were Completed Yesterday When Grant Hall and D. C. Coleman Inspected Construction Work at Yarrows, Ltd.

The automobile ferry building for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Yarrows, Ltd., was yesterday afternoon inspected by Canadian Pacific officials at the Esquamalt plant.

The members of the party who visited Yarrows yesterday were: Grant Hall, First Vice-President; D. C. Coleman, Vice-President in charge of Western lines; Capt. J. W. Troup, Manager of the B. C. Coast Steamship Service, and H. E. Beasley, General Superintendent of the Esquamalt & Nanaimo Railway.

Messrs. Grant Hall and Coleman were in the city yesterday in connection with development work on the Vancouver Island lines of the company and they accepted an invitation from Norman A. Yarrows, manager of Yarrows, Ltd., to look over the plant and note the progress that has been made on the new ferry for the Bellingham-Vancouver Island service.

Satisfaction Expressed. The Canadian Pacific officials were pleased with the progress made on the ferry and personally expressed their satisfaction to Mr. Yarrows, who conducted them over the plant. They also inspected the work on the steamer Princess Beatrice, which is being repaired at Yarrows following the recent mishap in Kingcombe Inlet.

Framing Completed. The framing of the new ferry was completed simultaneously with the arrival at the plant of the Canadian Pacific party. This stage has been reached in excellent time as it is less than a month since the keel was laid and the weather has not been at all favorable toward progress in construction.

The ring of the wooden shipbuilders' tools at the Esquamalt yard is a reminder in miniature days when the wooden shipbuilding industry was at its peak in Victoria. A considerable force of men are now engaged at the Yarrows shipyards, as in addition to the construction of the ferry a number of men are busy working on the Princess Beatrice repairs.

Planting to Start. The next stage on the ferry will be the ceiling and planking and by the time this work and the engine-bed is well advanced by the latter part of February, the vessel will be ready to start on her new route as scheduled in May.

ENLARGED SCOPE BEING URGED FOR SHIP COMMISSION

Halifax Workmen Opposed to Britain Building Canadian Vessels

Halifax, Jan. 31.—A resolution asking that the Royal Commission appointed to inquire into an alleged shipping combine on the Great Lakes be enlarged in scope that it might investigate why orders for Canadian vessels had been and were being placed in Great Britain instead of Canada and that it might make suggestions for changes in policy, regulations or other means of securing and for preserving to Canadian shipyards the business of building Canadian vessels was passed by the employees of Halifax shipyards here yesterday.

The resolution also placed the Halifax shipyard employees on record as convinced that in the interests of Canada as a whole, it was undesirable to suspend the coasting laws and thereby permit United States vessels "strafe to the prejudice of Canadian shipping. The resolution stated that the employees noted with satisfaction the appointment of a Royal Commission by the Federal Government to inquire into and report on this subject.

Even now the steamship Highland Heather is on the coast and this vessel has first-class accommodations for 24 passengers and a similar number of intermediate cabins. The ship has been fully booked for the homeward voyage.

CUSTOMS RULING IS AIMED AGAINST CANADIAN YARDS

Duty Levied on Equipment Going Into U. S. Ships in Foreign Ports

Designed to aid American shipbuilding and repair plants, and incidentally to increase the number of the Canadian ship repair yards, an amendment has been made to the United States customs regulations whereby a 50 per cent duty is levied on all equipment and repairs to American vessels at other than United States ports.

Equipment and repairs to American vessels engaged in the coasting and foreign trade. Equipment, repairs, repair parts of the materials to be used or the expense of repairs made upon a United States vessel engaged in the coasting or foreign trade, or intended to be so engaged, are dutiable and consumption entry must be made for them at the port of first arrival in the United States.

Vessels under the authority of the Shipping Board as ordered to proceed without the payment of duties and vouchers presented in accordance with T.D. 59285. It will not be necessary for masters to procure consular invoices, but they should file with the entry in lieu thereof receipts showing the cost of the above items.

Entry, the amendment requires, should be preceded by an affidavit by the master of the ship covering the cost of equipment or repairs and a form is provided. The amendment covering the entry of merchandise by appraisement was made under the authority conferred on the treasury by the act to permit such entry in specific cases. It follows: "Article 299 of the Customs Regulations of 1915 is hereby amended to read as follows: "Article 299. By appraisement, merchandise damaged by fire or marine casualty on the voyage of importation; merchandise recovered from wrecked or stranded vessels; household effects used abroad and personal effects, not imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement for purchase, not intended for sale; articles sent by persons in foreign countries as gifts to persons in the United States; tools of trade of a person arriving in the United States; personal effects of citizens of the United States who have died in a foreign country; tools of trade of a person entered by appraisement, as well as merchandise valued at $100 or less, for which the consignee is making an invoice or to state the value. The consignee shall furnish, however, any bills or statements of cost in his possession and declare under oath that he has no other information as to the value of the merchandise.

THREAT OF BOYCOTT AGAINST VANCOUVER BY PRINCE RUPERT

Northern Citizens Resent Efforts to Transfer Floating Dock

Prince Rupert, Jan. 30.—That it might be advisable to institute a boycott against Vancouver merchants, Vancouver goods and Vancouver people and institutions if the persistent hostility to this port is continued by the people of that city, was stated with much emphasis at the Board of Trade Council here. It was pointed out that there was a general feeling throughout the city that Vancouver's action in regard to the drydock and to Prince Rupert generally was not what should be expected from a sister city.

One or two members suggested getting in touch with the Vancouver Board of Trade in connection with the matter, but the general opinion expressed was that there should be "no truck or trade" with Vancouver if it was found that they were trying to get the drydock removed to that place.

It was decided to write to Sir Thornton and ask if representations in regard to the dock had been made and if so by whom, and to write the Vancouver Board of Trade and ask if they had taken any action, a strict boycott should be instituted against everything emanating from Vancouver, and that business should be turned to Edmonton or Winnipeg or Seattle or other centres. The most bitter hostility is being manifested. It is pointed out that Vancouver is getting nearly all the business that is done here now, and that the action suggested in regard to the removal of the drydock can be considered only as an unfriendly action.

NEW COLLECTOR OF VANCOUVER CUSTOMS

Appointment of G. A. Allen to Succeed Late Col. Carey.

Vancouver, Jan. 31.—Official announcement is made of the appointment of G. A. Allen to the position of collector of customs for the port of Vancouver. Mr. Allen has been in the Canadian customs service for 40 years and his appointment is the result of a long and successful career in the service of the Government.

Mr. Allen joined the Government service in March, 1883, at Montreal. In 1889 he went to Windsor, Ontario, where he was stationed for fifteen years. Then he was transferred to St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, for two years, and in 1904 was sent to New Westminster to take charge of the B.C. Revenue Department where he was amalgamated. When the late collector, Col. Carey, died in April, 1922, Mr. Allen was appointed acting collector and has administered the office since. His appointment is as from November 1, 1922.

Chinese Segregation Question and Separation of Sexes Referred To

That the City School Board had adopted its policy of separate schools for the Chinese in the interest of greater efficiency and not with the intention of segregating the two races was the assertion made by Magistrate George Jay, Chairman of the Board of School Trustees, before a joint meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Associations of the city, held in the High School last evening. The speaker commended the work of the P. T. A. and its value in bringing teachers and parents in closer touch.

The men will be taken out in motor trucks and put in bunk houses along the road. Special coaches will go with them to prepare meals and see that the men are well cared for. All the men will have to supply will be their own blankets.

Race For Amateur Laurels Warms Up

Shells and Pacifics Will Resume Their Battles for City Supremacy at Arena Tonight — Inter-city Games Prove Locals as Good as Any Team on Mainland

Interest in the amateur hockey race has been stimulated as a result of the inter-city matches played between the two Victoria clubs and leaders in the Vancouver senior league. These games proved that the locals are as good as any team on the mainland and can produce and that when the play-off for the British Columbia championship is held in Victoria will have a good chance of winning the honors.

The first home game in two weeks, the Mets will play the pre-rieur league to-night in a contest which has all the earmarks of being one of the most interesting of the year. Saskatoon held Vancouver to a tie Monday night in the North. This evening the visitors will endeavor to humble the Seattle men in their third start in the West.

The chief figure on the Crescents line-up will be the imposing form of Neway Lalonde, one of the great men of sport. Lalonde is the Ty Cobb of the hockey game. He is the Babe Ruth and George Slizer of hockey. Seattle fans know him well—the great French player having performed in the local rink as a member of the Flying Frenchmen of Montreal in a world series. To-night Lalonde is the spinal vertebra of the Saskatoon team, and it is Lalonde that Muldoon and his players will have to watch.

In none too good shape for the game, Seattle is not the least bit over confident. In the past the Mets have taken these skirmishes with the prairie leaguers too lightly, with disastrous results. To-night the local skaters will be "bearing down." "We are minus the service of Roy Wells Balanced. The Shells and Pacifics are evenly balanced and although five games have been played it is impossible for anyone to predict the eventual champions. Four games remain to be played and if the teams keep going at their present pace a present each team has won two games and drawn one with two losses to their credit. All the games have been decided by the odd goal.

The officials of the Amateur League were anxious to see how the teams stacked up against the Mainland sextettes and arranged several games. The Pirates were brought over from Vancouver and the Shells went after them good and plenty and sent them back home with a trimming. The Pacifics journeyed to Vancouver and the Shells were beaten by a close score after getting off to a bad start. Last Wednesday the Young Liberals, leaders in the Vancouver League, came to town and fought with the Pacifics, winning out by a goal 20 seconds before time. The Pacifics showed that they are just as good as the best Mainland team.

Resume Their Fight. To-night the Shells and Pacifics will resume their battle for supremacy at the arena. Both teams have been training hard all week and reports from their managers indicate that every man is in tip-top form and just clamoring for a chance to go. It looks as though the team that gets the breaks will come through with the marshmallow.

Two other games will be staged at the arena to-night. The first game, the Eagles and Weller's being billed to face each other. A win for Weller's will keep them in the race, putting them up even with the Colonist. If Weller's lose the Colonist will be able to collect the Hudson's Bay Cup, emblematic of the Commercial League championship. Both clubs are ready for the whistle and the Eagles are quite determined to put this game in their win column.

The Commercial League game will be called at 8 o'clock with the Pacifics and Shells hooking up at 9 o'clock. At 10 o'clock a Junior League game will be staged between the Crusaders and High School for the Hudson's Bay Cup, emblematic of the Junior League championship. The Junior teams will be as follows:

Crusaders—Coleman, goal; defence, Carter and Fitzer; forwards, Price, Adams, F. Sutton, Jackson, Simmons and Holder.
High School—Champion, goal; W. Locke and West, defence; Locke, McDonald and Foster, forwards; substitute, W. McDonald.
Clem Loughlin will handle all the games.

CANADIAN SKATER WINS SENSATIONAL RACE FROM JEWTRAW

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Charles Gorman, of St. John, N. B., won the 220-yard, and Harry Kasky, of Chicago, the one-mile, event on the opening programme of the third meet of the Adirondack Gold Cup skating championship series on Pontiac Rink here yesterday.

Charles Jewtraw, of Lake Placid, fought out the 220-yard event shoulder to shoulder with Gorman throughout the race, but fell as the line neared the finish line, and was forced out of position. Paul Forsman, New York, finished second, and Edward Gloster, Toronto, was third.

GIVES WEIGHT AND WINS

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—Joe Benjamin, of San Francisco, light-weight, defeated Jack Josephs, welter-weight, of Minneapolis, in a fiercely fought main event at the arena last night. They met at catchweights. Josephs probably outweighed Benjamin by five pounds.

Seattle Mets Are Bit Leary Of Saskatoon

Great Battle Expected on American Ice To-night; Fraser Replaces Rickey

Seattle, Jan. 31.—Now come the Crescents of Saskatoon to do battle with the aspiring hockey men of Peter Muldoon.

Their first home game in two weeks, the Mets will play the prairie leaguers to-night in a contest which has all the earmarks of being one of the most interesting of the year. Saskatoon held Vancouver to a tie Monday night in the North. This evening the visitors will endeavor to humble the Seattle men in their third start in the West.

Carpentier Will Get Chance to Measure Beckett's Chin May 14

Paris, Jan. 31.—Georges Carpentier will meet Joe Beckett, the English heavy-weight, on May 14 in London, according to Francois Desamps, Carpentier's manager. Afterwards, according to L'Auto, Carpentier and Desamps will sail for the United States to witness the Johnny Kilbane-Eugene Criqui bout. While in the United States Desamps will try to arrange a fight for Carpentier with Harry Greb to take place probably July 22.

Rickey and Rowe is not in the best of shape," Muldoon said on the eve of the battle. "But we will win if the boys play the hockey they know how to play. The Crescents will be hard to beat, but we are confident of taking their measure."

Muldoon hints that his gladiators have been cautioned to keep a weather eye out for Lalonde. With Matte, Cooke and goal tender Herbert, Lalonde is the chief cog in the Saskatoon machine, and Capt. Frank Foryston is confident his team can win if it stops Lalonde.

Gordon Fraser to Play. With Rickey definitely unable to play, the youthful Gordon Fraser will sit out at right defence to-night. Roy will flank him as long as he holds up, and that will be quite a while, for Bobby never quits until they carry him out.

Riley and Walker will hold forth on the wings to-night, with Foryston centre and Holmes at his old station. Morris, Briden and McCarthy will do utility duty.

It being the first game here in a couple of weeks for the home club, the fans are planning on giving the boys a merry welcome.

The probable lineups follows:
Seattle: Goal..... Hebert
Rowe..... L. Defence..... Matte
Fraser..... R. Defence..... Smith
Foryston (C)..... Centre..... Lalonde (C)
Riley..... L. Wing..... Crawford
Walker..... R. Wing..... Cook
Morris..... Utility..... Rose
Briden..... Utility..... Mats
McCarthy..... Utility..... Scott

COLWOOD LADIES

The five-card eclectic competition of the ladies of the Colwood Golf Club which has been closed on January 31 has been extended until February 23 owing to the unsettled weather.

In his sixth lesson Sarazen illustrates the finish, or follow-through of the brassie shot. He calls particular attention to the position of the shoulders at end of swing. The twenty-one-year-old marvel of the links tells in plain language how the duffer or advanced golfer may attain the acknowledged perfect form. But Sarazen says, perfect form cannot be reached without constant practice. Every golfer or prospective golfer should read these articles by Sarazen and study the illustrations, then clip them out for future reference. They are the most instructive and interesting series on golf ever published.

By GENE SARAZEN
World's Champion Golfer

Notice in this picture that at the end of the swing with the brassie the entire weight is now on the left foot.

This shows the shock of the blow has been transferred to the left. The body is thrown well forward, but not ahead of the left foot.

A complete follow-through enables one to hit the ball hard naturally. Notice that in swinging clear through the entire right side of the body is forced into the stroke.

Also note the big difference in the position of the right and left shoulders. The right shoulder is dipped considerably while the left is held high.

The club extends directly across the shoulders. The clubhead should be allowed to follow through naturally after the ball is struck. The follow-through should be clear through into the position shown here you are bound to hit the ball hard.

Remember the feet are not shifted during the swing. The weight is simply transferred entirely to the left foot.

Note how the elbows are held closely to the body all the way.

Tom Loughran Fails to Lift Greb's Honors

American Light-heavyweight Champion Receives Judges' Decision

New York, Jan. 31.—Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, successfully defended his American light-heavyweight title last night against Tommy Loughran, youthful Philadelphia challenger, in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The judges' decision displeased a minority of the fans. The fight was slow. Greb fought as typically of his style as he could, swinging without discretion and butting his head, for which he was constantly cautioned. Loughran's cool and clever defence kept Greb from being entirely himself and kept the challenger from severe punishment, but it also kept him out of the title.

It was not until the tenth round that Greb struck out boldly, but he was unable to do much damage. The challenger did not take the lead until the next—the last—round, and in the 15th far surpassed the champion in all departments, rocking Greb once with a hard right to the jaw.

A Defensive Puzzle.

Loughran was a defensive puzzle in the first round and in the second he poked several stiff lefts to the champion's face. The challenger added a few more in the third while Greb pranced wildly about swinging without effect.

He exchanged more evenly during short rallies in the fourth. Greb landed two hard right jabs during the quiet fifth but was cautioned to stop butting with his head. Greb tried unsuccessfully for an opening in the sixth.

Greb remained baffled in the seventh but in the eighth the champion quickened the pace finding the challenger willing to exchange. Greb had the edge of some loose fighting in the ninth.

Greb Opened Up.

Greb tore out wildly in the tenth. He smashed into Loughran's stomach hurting the challenger and slowing him up, but in the eleventh both took it easier. Greb had the better of hard exchanges in the twelfth, but was again warned to stop butting.

Greb attacked in the thirteenth, was amazed when Loughran lashed out with both hands to the body in the fourteenth, but soon quieted the challenger, however, and won the fourteenth.

Loughran rocked the champion in the last round when he made his best showing.

CHARLIE PADDOCK

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—Charles W. Paddock, world's champion sprinter, is in the best condition of his career and he will have a better chance this season to break records than ever before, according to Coach Dean Cromwell, of the University of Southern California, who is in charge of Paddock's training.

"Paddock should have the greatest year ever experienced by any sprinter," said Coach Cromwell. "I have never before seen a runner in finer condition after a year's lay-off. He is in as good shape now as when he raced at Antwerp."

PHEW! FOLKS MUST BE CAREFUL WHEN THIS COP IS ON HIS BEAT

Montreal, Jan. 31.—Arthur Giroux, provincial constable, broke some world's weight lifting records here yesterday. He raised with both hands from the ground and over his head weights of 221½, 241 and 250½ pounds.

Another record was broken when, using both hands, Giroux hoisted 223½ pounds in the air. Finally he lifted from the ground to the level of his chest four iron dumbbells attached together, whose combined weight was 530 pounds.

POCKET BILLIARDS

New York, Jan. 31.—Carl A. Vaughan won his second consecutive victory in the national amateur pocket billiard championship yesterday by defeating Humboldt Fisk, New York, 128 to 94.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 31.—Harry D., fine chestnut sailing straight race and his 12th victory in 16 starts this season at Tijuana, yesterday set what officially is the Tijuana track record for a world record for horses of his class.

Harry D. has run on all kinds of tracks, slow, sloppy and heavy and holding, and has been worse than third in only two races. In two races he ran second with a total of 674, while his father owned 668.

MARY PICKFORD
 IN A NEW PRODUCTION OF HER GREATEST SUCCESS
"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"
ALL NEXT WEEK

on all the dates arranged for the Irish tenor.
 "He is one of the finest operatic artists of the day" in the judgment of Ernest Newman, and in Russia, before the days of the Tsarist downfall, Rosing was famed as one of the finest impersonators of the role of Lensky that the Royal Petrograd Opera House had ever known. In America, Rosing on his first visit, last season, created a great sensation. Deems Taylor, the noted American composer and critic, said of him: "His interpretations are as effective as Chappin's and better than Swartz's." Chappin, the veteran basso whose concert fee is five thousand dollars a night, is at present winning great acclaim with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York. Rosing is married to an Englishwoman and to her able coaching he attributes in no slight degree his extraordinary success.

MARY PICKFORD COMING TO CAPITOL IN PICTURESQUE ROLE
 Danny Cupid will keep secrets for his victims most any place in the world excepting Hollywood. Shaw Lovett, assistant director for Mary Pickford in her notable new production of "The Storm Country," a United Artists release coming to the Capitol Theatre for one week commencing February 5, is convinced the mecca of film folk offers no encouragement to those desiring conjugal secrecy. After taking every precaution to insure himself the utmost privacy, he married Miss Lucille Fish at the home of his mother, with only members of his own family and a few close friends, sworn to secrecy, in attendance. But somebody saw Mr. Lovett's name among those listed in the marriage license column. Even then it was necessary to resort to third-degree methods to make the fact of the wedding known. Miss Geraghty, daughter of Tom Geraghty, well known scenario writer, was bridesmaid and John S. Robertson, Miss Pickford's director and the bridegroom's step-father, acted as best man.

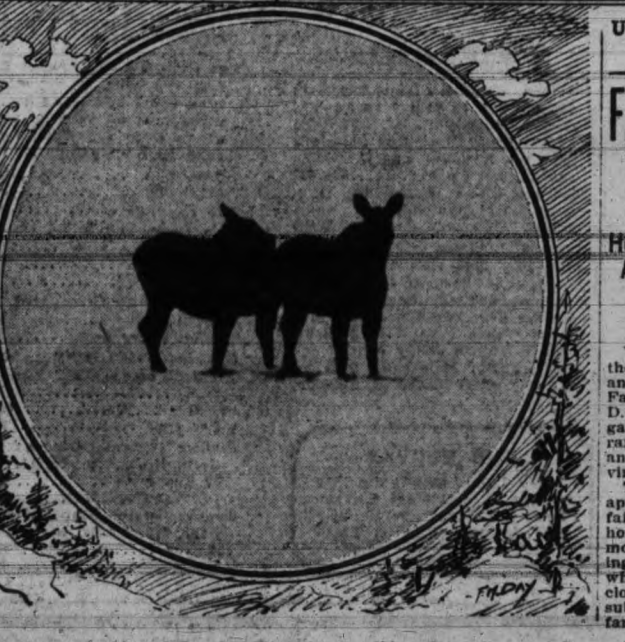

WHO IS ORNSTEIN? TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY
 (By George J. Dyke.)

By George J. Dyke.
 Paul Rosenfeld says: "Leo Ornstein is a mirror held up to the world of the modern city." Of all the artists of the ultra-modernism (the artist) in the realm of music of the present day, perhaps, no greater discussion of his creations has issued forth than has been the case with Leo Ornstein and his compositions. His first real works are like fragments of some cosmopolitan of caves and towers of steel. They are like sensitive surfaces that not only record the clangors, but all the violent forms of the city. The picture of very Niebelheim, the herds of slaves herded by giants. They give the alarm of dawn's awakening, and the commands and cries of the bell, the whistle, the signal, the hurrying masses of humanity, the shrieking and grinding of loaded trains, the laboring noises of the port and river are all embodied therein. As Springtime is, so is Ornstein. He is the striving to relegate himself to all clamor and noise. His music is the music of a birth that is the tearing away of grave clothes grown to the body, and more headstrong, it is a thing germane to all beings born into the age of steel. His "Poems of 1917" are full of the wallings and rockings of little old Ghetto mothers, and the "Dwarf Suite" series are the expressions of groping, fumbling youth, the music young in all its excess, its violence, its griefs, its joys, and its trembling strength.

COLUMBIA
 "Oathbound" is the attractive title of a William Fox picture, starring Dustin Farnum, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.
 The story, written by Edward J. Le Saint, is said to be a thrilling tale of river pirates on the Pacific Coast. The scenes are laid along the river front at Santa Barbara, where the hero is a millionaire shipowner, his brother, who has fallen into the hands of crooks, and the millionaire's wife. Around this develop a story of crime, courage, cowardice and cupidity which should

LEO ORNSTEIN
 Mr. Ornstein is a brilliant composer-pianist now on tour, playing to crowded houses. In most cases people are turned away. Recently in New York he played twice to 3,500 people, and every seat was sold. Ornstein will give one concert only here at the Capitol Theatre, on Friday next, at 8.30 o'clock.

TO REVISE HISTORY FOR B.C. STUDENTS
Dr. Mack Eastman Will Himself Rewrite "World Progress"
 Vancouver, Jan. 31.—The chief history book which students at the University of British Columbia have been using as a textbook, is to be revised for B.C. students by being rewritten from a Canadian viewpoint, it is announced by Dr. Mack Eastman, head of the department of history at University.
 Dr. Eastman will undertake the re-writing himself.
 "The history department has been trying for several years to get either a first-class textbook on general world history by a British author or else to have one of the best American textbooks revised from a British standpoint," Dr. Eastman said in a statement issued to-day.
 "Arrangements have finally been made for the revision and partial re-writing of West's 'World Progress,' a very high-class American textbook published last year. The new University calendar will announce the impending change in the textbook for this course."
 "Robinson & Beard's European history, 'Our Own Times,' which has been the textbook used, is a sequel to Braested & Robinson's high school text and the pair together form possibly the highest class textbooks covering that field in the English language. Unfortunately the 1921 edition spoiled the second volume somewhat because the concluding pages were hastily written and a little out of perspective.
 "It is not anti-British, however, as may be seen from the frontispiece, which gives the keynote of the book. It shows victorious British troops entering Bapaume.
 "While no student has ever been asked to read these concluding pages and while professors lecture on the subject from their own viewpoint, yet the department has been endeavoring for years to effect an improvement."
 Two other Western Provinces, which have appointed special committees of history experts to recommend the best possible general history, have narrowed down their choice to these two texts, Robinson & Beard's "Our Own Times," and the revised West's "World Progress."
 The question of Canadian and British tradition being properly maintained in school and university textbooks was discussed at the recent session of the British Columbia Legislature.

man who would advance was he gave his time and his intelligence to the study of the higher branches of the work. He had been impressed with the improvement in livestock in the Province, but he felt that livestock men must still study the improvement of their herds and also the question of controlling the better marketing of their wares.
 In his opinion the sum placed at the disposal of the Department of Agriculture for subsidizing agricultural fairs was inadequate for the work done by these exhibitions. He also made a suggestion that exhibitors should look upon a fair more as an opportunity for advertising their products than as an opportunity for realizing prize money.
 The Minister was of the opinion that the limiting of classes in livestock to be exhibited should not come from contributing Governments, but from associations who understood the conditions of their own districts. He had found that many men made a practise of importing breeds that were practically unknown in the district, merely for the sake of the prize money offered. In instancing poultry in this connection, he questioned whether the showing of ear-load lots of prize poultry through a chain of fairs had any beneficial effect on the poultry industry in any of the districts affected.
 In conclusion, he rather deprecated the custom of special grooming and preparing animals for show purposes. This, he thought, had the effect of deterring the smaller breeder from attempting to show his herd in competition with the more privileged large breeder.

ROHING WILL BE PRESENTED TO VICTORIANS FEB. 5

D'Alvarez, Moiseiwitch, two of the greatest favorites of the public of the British Isles, are now known to Victorians. A third equally popular artist, Vladimir Rosing, is to visit the city about February 5, for his first concert here. "When they asked me if I did not think you were a wonderful singer," wrote George Bernard Shaw to Rosing, "I replied that you were not a singer at all, but a whole band." While it is in London that Rosing has appeared most—he has given as many as a hundred recitals in a season, and has sung in all sorts of places, from the Royal Albert Hall down—he is known throughout the length and breadth of the country. In Ireland his popularity is such that when John McCormack fell ill, Rosing was called in as a substitute, and gave recitals and revolt comes in the first "Piano Sonata," all telling their different tales in innumerable emotions and with wonderful forcefulness. Ornstein's music is never vague. What he feels, what he hears, he constructs irrespective of all rules and procedures. Harmony with Ornstein seems something different to any other composer. His piano colors are at times "rhythmic" and violent and "improvisata," the highest and lowest registers of the piano clash with startling effects. Rhythms, battle convulsively, and in the "Sinfonietta," five rhythms are to be found warring against each other. Melodic curves sing ecstatically over troubled and mottled counterpoint in the piano and violin sonatas. Hon. E. D. Barrow Advises Against Importing Exhibits For Fairs

Special to The Times.
 Vancouver, Jan. 31.—Speaking to the delegates to the twenty-second annual meeting of the North Pacific Fair Association yesterday, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, gave wholesome advice on the arranging of exhibits to the livestock and poultry exhibitors of the Province.
 The Government, said Mr. Barrow, appreciated the value of agricultural fairs, but it was concerned as to how it could do the necessary money for encouraging them. Farming was passing through a period where only the man who made a close and exhaustive study of the subject would progress. The average farmer could hold his own, but the Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone. Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. (Adv.)

Armed Germans Demonstrate Against French

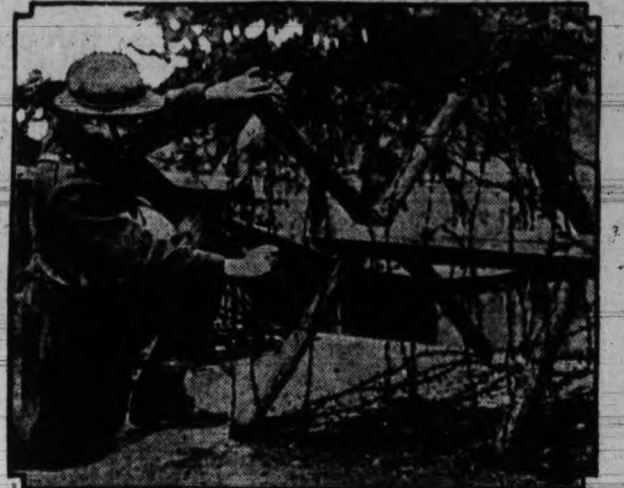

In Berlin, Munich and other large German cities, huge demonstrations have taken place against the French invasion. Here are a group of former soldiers who need only uniforms to appear as they did in the World War.

History Repeats Itself

French Barricade Essen Suburbs

This photo of the French advance into the Ruhr shows a French infantryman at work on barbed-wire entanglements outside the Essen stronghold.

Duncan Marshall
Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture, will represent Canada's interests in connection with the legislation covering cattle imports, which will be brought down in the British Parliament in February.

T. A. Low
M. P. for South Renfrew, and Minister without portfolio in the cabinet the late Hon. W. C. Kennedy as Minister of Railways.

Sir James Loughheed is mentioned as probable chairman of the divorce committee of the Senate.

M. J. Stiklorius
led the Lithuanian irregulars when the "Iron-Wolf Corps" drove the French garrison of 200 from Memel, East Prussia. He now rules this former League of Nations territory.

James Malcolm
Liberal M. P. for North Bruce, may succeed the late Hon. W. C. Kennedy as Minister of Railways.

What Have They Decided?

The German attitude, whether of armed resistance or passive non-cooperation, will be decided by these three master minds. Left to right, Hugo Stinnes, great industrial magnate; Von Hindenburg, and Bertha Krupp, proprietor of the great munition factories.

The French Occupation of Essen

Here is the first photograph of the actual entry of French troops into Essen to reach this city. It shows a squadron of cavalry passing the railway station.

Jugoslavia's Reorganized Army

Jugoslavia is bound by treaty to support her ally, Rumania, in case of aggression. These automatic riflemen of the reorganized Yugoslav army may be called on to turn their months of drilling to practical account.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

Preparing for War in Europe

Active troops movements are reported near the Polish-Russian frontier. On the left are members of the Red army which Trotsky has under arms. Polish recruits (right) are being drilled for the warfare which may break out at any time.

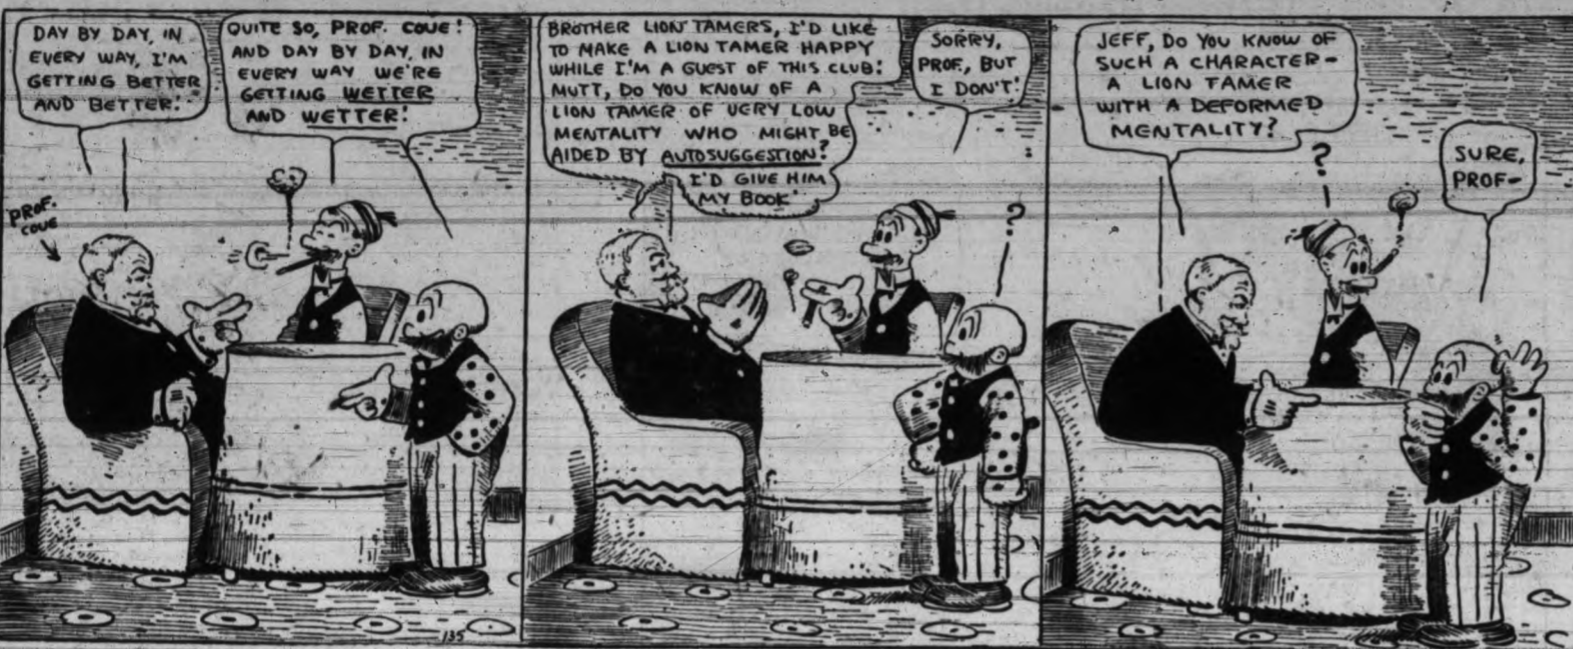

George Yphantis
escaped from his home town, Ordo, in Asia Minor, when it was burned by the Turks. Making his way through Russia, he reached the United States, and then came to Canada. He is now attending Wycliffe College, Toronto, paying his way with money he earned by designing stained glass windows.

Gen. von Ludendorff is reported to be at Muenster, where German Reichswehr are concentrated, and to have reviewed troops in anticipation of possible action against the French occupation of the Ruhr.

A 10-minute talk on Physiology which may make you ten years younger

It is a practically universal law of Nature that any muscle or organ which is not exercised regularly, sooner or later gives trouble. Yet we neglect the very ones on which health and life depend!

NINETEEN years ago Metchnikoff, famous scientist at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, startled the medical world with his announcement that in the human colon lay the secret of life and health.

The colon, or large intestine, is a hollow tube about four feet long, equipped with rings of muscles like a set of clamps. By contracting one after the other, these muscles force the contents of the tube along.

The colon is never empty. Into it drains the waste which the body must get rid of—dead cells, poisonous acids, waste from food which the body cannot use.

His famous paper 20 years ago started the medical world

How the body removes this waste

The muscles of the colon must keep all this waste moving—otherwise it decays and generates deadly poisons which soak through into the blood and flood your whole system.

Premature age, loss of vigor and vitality, skin and stomach troubles are the result. And as the body grows weaker, the way is left open for serious and even fatal disease.

That is why constipation is so dangerous. That is why the first thing your doctor wants to know—no matter what you consult him for—is: are these muscles acting regularly—freeing you of the poisons that gather in your system?

What this does to the muscles of your arm, Fleischmann's Yeast does to the muscles of your intestine—gives them normal, healthy exercise

Why is constipation so prevalent today?

The reason is simple. We inherited our bodies from ancestors who ate an abundance of the raw foods of the forest. Such foods created a bulk which gave the muscles of the intestine plenty of work to do, exercising them regularly and constantly. Today our civilization demands more delicate foods—marvellous in variety and in taste—but leaving the muscles of the intestine with too little work to do. This makes them weak and flabby—just like the muscles of your arm without exercise.

Drugs only increase the trouble

Seventy-five million dollars is spent every year in America alone for cathartics and purgatives. Yet such drugs not only cannot cure constipation—they actually increase it. They make the muscles act, it is true, but they do it by nervous irritation. That is not exercise. Each time it happens, it leaves the muscles weaker than before.

THESE FACTS have been substantiated by some of the best scientific brains of the country, many of whom have been engaged in research on Fleischmann's Yeast during the last three years.

The only way to relieve constipation permanently is by giving these muscles natural, healthy exercise.

You can take your choice: either treacherous drugs which only make matters worse, or natural exercise of the intestinal muscles as nature intended! Either a losing battle with poisons that sap your vitality and cloud your brain—or the joy of vigorous lasting health!

Gently, regularly, they respond—easily and naturally the waste is moved along and out of your system!

Your own physician will heartily endorse this principle of regularly exercising the intestinal muscles as the only way to relieve constipation and all its evils.

Fleischmann's Yeast is in no sense a purgative and does not produce immediate violent action.

It must be eaten regularly to secure lasting results.

You couldn't run a race unless your leg muscles had been regularly exercised—neither can you keep healthy without regularly exercising the intestinal muscles

The simple food that is restoring health to thousands

Everywhere physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast today—not as a medicine, but as a fresh corrective food which gives the intestinal muscles regular, natural exercise.

Every cake of Fleischmann's Yeast consists of millions of tiny living plants, which mix with the waste products in the colon, softening them, and increasing the bulk of the waste. This greater bulk gently encourages the muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

Our delicate modern foods leave the intestinal muscles with too little work to do plain, or dissolved in water, milk, or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal, or the last thing at night. If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep in a cool, dry place for several days. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast. All grocers have it.

Eat at least 2 or 3 cakes a day—

Appetite and energy restored—

Yeast is the richest known source of Vitamin-B, on which health and vigor so largely depend—it is inexpensive and easily available. Men and women troubled with loss of appetite and energy, or faulty digestion, have found that these troubles disappear when they eat Fleischmann's Yeast regularly.

By helping to "tone up" the whole system, and at the same time keeping it free from poisons, Fleischmann's Yeast enables you to eat more, and to get more benefit from the food you eat.

Skin and complexion cleared—Skin troubles are often danger flags of lowered vitality—generally associated with constipation. Fleischmann's Yeast is now established as a food which corrects the basic cause of many disorders of the skin.

That ruddy glow of health, that freedom from such unhealthy skin conditions comes only from perfect health within. Fleischmann's Yeast rids you of these disorders by increasing the number of white corpuscles in the blood and keeping stomach and intestines in a natural, healthy state.
