B.C. SHOWS WAY IN SOUND FINANCE, THE GLOBE SAYS

Safe Business Management, Declared an Example to Ontario

This Province Leads All Canada in Sinking Fund Provision

British Columbia during the last ten years has been showing other Provinces the way in sound financing, according to the editor of The Toronto Globe.

The Globe publishes in its issue of June 11, the following editorial, under the heading of "An Example for Ontario":

"We have been accustomed to think of Ontario as financially the soundest Province of the Dominion, with assets in mining and timber lands and in hydro-electric development and transmission plants incomparably greater than the liabilities standing against them.

"That view may have to be modified following the publication of figures on debts and sinking funds of the various Provinces by the Treasurer of British Columbia. The debt of the Pacific Coast is about a fourth of Ontario's Provincial obligations—and stands at a higher per capita figure—but the resources of British Columbia in timber and mineral wealth, either ungranted or yielding royalties and due, are probably greater in the aggregate than those of Ontario and assuredly much greater per head of population.

"But British Columbia does not depend upon future revenue from these natural resources for the money with which to meet her capital obligations as they mature. During the past decade the Province has been building up a sinking fund that has now reached impressive proportions. All the other Provinces combined have accumulated sinking funds of $20,278,889, while British Columbia has $12,139,543—in banks or in interest-bearing bonds earmarked for debt redemption. The following figures show the situation in each of the Provinces:

Table with 3 columns: Province, Total Sinking Per June 11, Funds, Capita. Rows include Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Brunswick, New Scotia, Prince Edward Isld, British Columbia.

"This is a remarkable showing. It proves that the finances of British Columbia are on a sound basis despite the necessity of spending very considerable sums to keep the Provincial railway—the Pacific and Great Eastern—in operation. The Government of Ontario might well take pattern from British Columbia in the matter of our sinking funds, which are of the most elemental sort, except in the case of the hydro-electric bond issues. These are only nominally a liability of the Provincial Treasury. As a matter of fact the interest and sinking fund for hydro issues come altogether from the users of light and power in the various municipalities. The Province should begin to make proper provision for the redemption of other parts of its debt as British Columbia evidently does."

As the rush of registration increases further additions will be made to the staff so that all the Chinese in the city can be registered within the time set by the amendments to the Immigration Act calling for all Chinese, native born or otherwise, to register and bring photographs to be filed with the registration papers.

There are two queues at the offices with from thirty to thirty-five Chinamen in each line and at some times the line has contained as many as eighty or ninety.

CHILEAN MINISTER SPEAKS FOR BRITAIN

Mexico City, June 17.—A brief note issued by the Foreign Office in regard to the Cummins incident says: "To show the prudential sentiments of the Mexican Government regarding the case of the British subject, Cummins, our Foreign Office, giving an example of the highest consideration for the diplomatic corps, has decided to wait a short period for the result of amicable efforts by the Chilean Minister for the British Government on the order for Cummins to leave."

"Falling Cummins's departure after a prudent period, the order of exclusion will be enforced." The MACDONALD SUPPORTED London, June 17.—The incident involving the attempt by the Mexican Government to expel Herbert Cummins, British agent, fixes the attention of the press to-day on Great Britain's relations with the Oregon Government. Some of the commentators declare the problem has not been well attended by this country, but the comments of all the papers support Premier MacDonald's attitude as set forth in his declaration to the House of Commons yesterday, in which he termed the action of the Mexican Government a "grave breach of international courtesy."

The Times says Mexico's measure "constitute an affront which this country will not tolerate."

According to the diplomatic correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, the Premier conferred yesterday with United States Ambassador Kellogg, presumably in connection with the Mexican crisis, and also received the Mexican representative, Rafael Nieto, to whom he made strong representations in the Cummins case for transmission to the Oregon Government.

"CONCENTRATION MINISTRY" MAY BE FORMED SOON BY MUSSOLINI IN ITALY TO SOLVE NEW CRISIS

Rome, June 17.—A great "Concentration Ministry," to include, beside Premier Mussolini, several former Premiers, among them Giolitti and Orlando, is talked of as a sequel to events growing out of the kidnapping recently of the Socialist deputy Matteotti, whose comrades have made his disappearance an issue with the Government.

Premier Mussolini, renewing his assurance that the Government would leave no stone unturned in its efforts to bring to justice all those connected with the kidnapping regardless of their station, has issued a warning to the press to be careful about publishing rumors which not only serve to work up unwarranted excitement, but might also hamper the officials in tracing the perpetrators of the crime.

A report has been current that the members of the Cabinet have placed their portfolios at the disposal of Premier Mussolini in order to leave him free either to present the resignation of the Cabinet for its reconstruction or maintain it as at present.

LOOK FOR PLAN OF SETTLEMENT

Aldermen Confer With Advisory Board of St. Joseph's Hospital No Representative Yet Appointed on Governing Body

A conference between the advisory board of St. Joseph's Hospital and three aldermen was held this afternoon. Its purpose was primarily to reach a settlement with regard to the indigent cases at the institution, for which the alternatives of a lump sum, or payment per capita is suggested. The Provincial Government has recognized the hospital for all purposes, and therefore the Council must make some provision for indigents there, but with the large liability at the Jubilee Hospital, which has just been adjusted by a lump sum per month, there has been some reluctance to accept responsibility at the other institution.

Alderman Sangster has already been in touch with the Sister Superior, and after talking over the various phases, he decided to ask the chairman of the finance committee, Alderman Sargent, and the chairman of the health committee, Alderman Ker, to accompany him this afternoon, and seek some settlement to be recommended to the City Council.

BIG WORLD POWER CONFERENCE SOON

Canadian Delegates Gathering in London to Sail Tomorrow

Ottawa, June 17.—There will sail on the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of France to-morrow from Montreal the largest party of electrical engineers and those connected generally with the electrical development industries that Canada has ever sent out. They are going to attend the World Power Conference in London, the first time that representatives of the electrical industries of the world have been brought together in a gathering of this character. The conference will continue from June 19 to July 12.

Canada will be represented at the Conference by about thirty men, about twenty-five will travel on the liner Empress of France, the others having for the purpose provided them. Among the latter are J. B. Chailles, who as secretary of the Canadian committee sailed over two weeks ago to make preliminary arrangements for the party and the convention. With the Canadian party on the Empress of France will be G. Merrill, chairman of the United States delegation, who has decided to travel with his Canadian associates by the St. Lawrence route.

CANADA'S POSITION

The power conference has been organized under the direction of the council of the British Electrical and Allied Manufacturing Association, easily the most important organization of its kind in the world, the electrical portion of it being especially strong. It has also had the hearty co-operation of every country that can boast of electrical development of any account. In this connection it is interesting to note that Canada easily leads all other portions of the British Empire in hydro-electric developments.

Canada will take a leading part in the conference, both because of her water power resources and hydro-electric developments and also because of the fact that she possesses many leaders whose high standing in the electrical world is widely recognized. Six of the papers at the conference will be read by members of the Canadian delegation. Five of these will deal with Canada's water power resources and their development and one with the fuel resources and the possibilities of their development for power and other purposes.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT

The relatively important position Canada's representatives will take is due primarily to the unique character of the country's power resources, both coal and hydro, and to the remarkable manner and extent of their development. Not only have Canadians pioneered most important phases of power production but they have achieved a high state of power consumption per capita. Canadian water powers are now developed to the extent of 3,125,000 horsepower and present indications point to a steadily increasing total year by year which it is estimated will require in the next twenty years a further capital investment of at least $1,000,000,000, much of which money will come from abroad.

FINANCIAL CONTRASTS

THE criticism of the financial policy of the Oliver Government by Mayor Hayward, Conservative, and Alderman Todd, Provincial, invites a comparison between the financial condition of the Province and that of the city.

The gross and net debts of the city are, per capita, much higher than those of the Province. Taking the gross debt, we find that in the city it is $434 for every man, woman and child.

It is illuminating also to contrast the courses of the Province and city in respect of the reduction of taxation. A few evenings ago Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, cited the case of a piece of city property which was taxed in 1921 at $125. In 1922 the tax was $288. In 1923 it had leaped to $388. In three years it had tripled.

The Provincial Government has enlarged the exemption on personal property from $1,000 to $2,000, and reduced the rate by 50 per cent. It intends eventually to eliminate this form of taxation altogether.

These steps towards the reduction of provincial taxation have been taken in the face of heavy commitments either in aid of the municipalities or on account of liabilities contracted by the former Government.

These steps towards the reduction of provincial taxation have been taken in the face of heavy commitments either in aid of the municipalities or on account of liabilities contracted by the former Government.

The money market does not share the views of Mayor Hayward and Alderman Todd regarding the financial condition of the Province. The price of British Columbia securities tells a convincing story on that count.

Mayor Hayward and Alderman Todd persistently contend that the financial condition of the Province is serious. If that is true in spite of the fact that the per capita debt of the Province, including the P.G.E. liability, is $112, or $73 without the P.G.E. burden, how do they describe the condition of the city, in the government of which they are leading factors, with its per capita debt of $288?

TO TAP THE WEST COAST

PREMIER OLIVER'S proposal to provide the West Coast of Vancouver Island with an outlet to Victoria will arouse no little interest among the people of this community and adjacent territory.

This district has recognized for a long time, that if the virtually virgin areas of the West Coast could be tapped by a direct transportation system there would be lucrative business for Victoria.

In the development that would follow, the township of Esquimalt would have a practical interest, and its support of Mr. Carlow's advocacy of much needed transportation facilities will naturally be still more emphatic now that Premier Oliver and officials of the Public Works and Railway Departments are giving their attention to the matter.

Local lumber companies can no doubt be depended upon to lend their co-operation and enter into any practical arrangement with the Government that may be necessary to bring about the desired result.

The people of Victoria and Esquimalt particularly are vitally interested in the development and expansion of business in this part of the Island, and both the Premier and Mr. Carlow are sensible of the opportunities which await the advent of a transportation outlet, without which valuable natural resources will remain unproductive.

A WELL-DESERVED COMPLIMENT

LAST Thursday's banquet to pay tribute to the outstanding success of his labors at Wembley was a thoroughly well-deserved compliment to Mr. A. W. Tolmie. In his capacity as Canadian Government Exhibition Commissioner Mr. Tolmie has erected a monument of progress at the British Empire Exhibition which should be the pride of every Canadian.

While those who have been permitted to tour the Canadian Pavilion, and learn something of the meaning of the exhibit and the work which has been put into it, find no difficulty in regarding the structure in its entirety as the "star piece" of the Fair, the most eloquent tribute that could be paid to the Commissioner and his capable staff is the size of the crowd which is to be found in every part of the Pavilion at any hour of the day.

It is quite safe to say that the various phases of Canadian national life, as portrayed in such realistic and entertaining fashion in the great Main Court, are an eye-opener to many whose conception of conditions in this great Dominion are fantastic to a degree. And profitable returns should be the reward of Commissioner Tolmie's picture of Canada as she is.

SAANICH NEEDS PAULINE

THERE is no doubt that the electors of Saanich already have made up their minds to give Hon. F. A. Pauline a substantial majority over his opponents next Friday.

By virtue of an intimate association with this part of Vancouver Island for more than a quarter of a century it has been possible for Mr. Pauline to familiarize himself with the needs of the community as a whole, and of the constituency which he has so effectually represented in particular.

By the contribution of practical and liberal service to every progressive movement, Mr. Pauline has justified the confidence which the electors of Saanich reposed in him eight years ago, a confidence which was reaffirmed in 1920, and he is able to appeal for endorsement next Friday with the confident knowledge that his work in the Legislature, as well as out of it, has been honest and fruitful effort.

As Speaker of the House Mr. Pauline has won the respect of all parties. His decisions are always given with a resolute regard for the traditions attaching to the distinguished office to which the Legislature elected him.

Among the many practical results which Mr. Pauline has obtained for his riding may be included the creation and development of the loganberry wine industry. Although the enterprise is only just emerging from its highly successful infancy, the date is not far distant when the berry-growers of Saanich will regard it as a blessing to themselves and not an inconsiderable addition to the many attractive and profitable advertisements for this part of the country.

We shall take it for granted that the electors of Saanich will make quite sure that Mr. Pauline is not disturbed in the programme of good work which he has been able to carry out, and will continue to develop, as their representative in the Legislature.

Beer by the glass in British Columbia is not necessary. Vote against it on Friday.

Put the Oliver Government in on Friday and make sure that there shall be a continuity of progressive administration. This is no time for experiments in government.

There is a political battle going on in South Africa to-day which may be the prelude to an important test of the strength and appeal of British institutions in one part of the Empire.

Mr. Despard Twigg says that if the Oliver Government remains, more social legislation will be required to help to prevent over-crowding at the poorhouse. What optimistic candidates the Conservatives selected for Victoria!

LEARNING TO LIVE

From The Manchester Guardian Education is a preparation not for industry, but for life; it is not the mere acquisition of a sufficient basis of knowledge, skill and habit to enable a boy to enter on a trade; it is the development of all the resources of a boy's character and intelligence so that he may make the most of his life, of all its duties and opportunities, of its leisure as well as of its work. It is sometimes said by pessimists that education has not made the world any happier. It may, indeed, be doubted whether men and women who have only learnt to read and never learnt to use their minds get as much real happiness out of their leisure as their illiterate ancestors got from the story-teller and the mystery play in the Middle Ages.

NIGHT

We slip the darkness round us like a shawl. Shot through with scents, as with embroidery. The pool is spread with stars, which momentarily grow brighter, as the waters lap and fall. The trees are straight here, and so very tall. Their interlaced branches top the sky. And in the garden, where the night birds cry. The flower beds, like shadowed peacocks, sprawl. We must not speak, beneath these shrouding trees. Shatter with sound this little, purloined space. That is the way for the night birds. We need not speak, who read in every breeze, in every whisper of this charmed place. Those things which some day will need words to tell.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Negatives"

(Copyright)

THOSE who love negatives will love the longest. The trouble with high colors is that they die out in their satisfaction. The advantage of the commonplace is that it lasts longer, it is ever with us.

Those who love the green grass endure longer than those who love the pretty flowers. Man cannot go from drunkenness to drunkenness, from high spot to high spot. Most of the travelling is by way of the valley. Therefore, those who love the more sombre colors and sounds will get more satisfaction out of life than those who live from thrill to thrill.

Nature herself has her bird-songs now and then, but all the time her winds are softly whispering, not sighing, and the bees are droning.

Always the unusual is on the background of the usual and we must learn to admire backgrounds if we wish to have a permanent admiration for Nature and her works.

Sometimes the wind blows and there is a high storm, but all the time there is some wind and the surf is beating.

The older one gets, the more one seeks the consolation of the drabs, for he learns that the high colors are the privilege of youth and that most of the sharp sounds and striking appearances are but delusions.

Nothing endures but the commonplace. After the day is done, the night comes on and, to those of contemplative minds, the night is more splendid than the day. The day has its lights and shadows, its striking contrasts. The night has no shadow.

The light of the day, such as the sun, is to see withal, the lights of the nights, as the moon and the stars, are not to see by but to look at. They are rather an adornment of the universe.

The hours of the night are dear, soothing, healthy restoration hours. The hours of day are hours of energy.

The night therefore underlies the day just as rest and recreation underlie all activities. This who has learned to find their satisfaction in negatives shall not be disappointed for, after all, life is made up mostly of them.

I think of all this as I look upon Nature which, in all of her energies, seems to be so quiet and passive and yet so relentless and enduring.

Whatever Nature does and produces has the unhurrying stamp of Eternity.

Champlain and His Indian Protege

IT was on June 17, 1611, that Champlain, encamped on the site of the heart of the present city of Montreal, restored to his tribe the Huron savage Savignon, whom he had with him in France. "He gave me to understand," remarks Champlain, "that he was going to lead a hard life in comparison with that which he had had in France. So he went off with great regret, and I was very glad to be relieved of him. We'll be might be relieved, for had any accident happened to him he would most certainly have found it very difficult to explain to the chiefs when he met them, were perhaps other ways in which he was relieved as well.

The Indians had with them, moreover, a young Frenchman, Etienne Bruie, who had passed the Winter in their lodges. The Summer before, 1610, after a successful fight with the Algonquins and Hurons against the Iroquois, at the mouth of the Richlieu River, this exchange had been effected. "I had a young fellow," writes Champlain, "who had passed two Winters at Quebec, who had a wish to go with the Algonquins to learn their language, get acquainted with their country, see the great lake (Lake Huron), observe the rivers, and what people inhabit it; also to explore the mines and the rarer things of this place, so that, on his return, he could give us information about all these things. I asked him if he was agreeable to it, for it was not my wish to force him to it. I went to find Captain (chief) Iroquet, who was very affectionate to me, and asked him to let me take this young fellow with him into his country, to pass the Winter, and bring him back in the Spring. He promised me to do it, and treat him like his son. He told it to the Algonquins, who were not too pleased, for fear some accident should befall him.

"When I had shown them how much I wished it, they said to me that since I had that wish that they would take him and treat him like a child of their own. They obliged me also to take a young man in his place to carry to France, in order to report to them what he should see. He was of the tribe the Ochtaguins called Hurons. They were the mere reason for treating my boy well, whom I provided with what he needed; and we promised one another to meet again at the end of June."

An arrangement of considerable delicacy this! Both sides felt the responsibilities and the risks. But acceptance of responsibility and risk were matters of routine with Champlain.

What the Huron youth saw and felt and thought in France we can only conjecture. It is probable that he was treated with care and consideration to which he had hitherto been a stranger, and undoubtedly he was the object of immense curiosity on the part of the Court, where Champlain displayed him. It is not hard to imagine the wonderful tales he would for many a year report about the lodge fires to his skeptical brother Hurons.

From Etienne Bruie, first of the race of coureurs-des-bois, Champlain received a full account of considerable value to him in his dealings with the savages. Etienne had taken with avidity to the wilderness life and appeared dressed—or rather undressed—in the manner of a red man. Never again could he reconcile himself to the restraints and suppressions of civilization and particularly of despotically governed France. Again and again he went back with his Huron friends, took wives in their lodges, and died as an Indian from a swift hatchet-stroke twenty-one years later.

His business successfully accomplished, a treaty made with Hurons and Algonquins, the free trader rivals who had flocked upstream outwitted, Champlain allowed himself a little celebration. He requested his savage friends to shoot the Lachine Rapids with him as a passenger. "To do this they prepared eight canoes to run the rapids and stripped themselves naked, and made me take off everything but my shirt. They said to me: 'If by chance your canoe should happen to turn over, as you do not know how to swim, on no account abandon it, but hold on to the little sticks that are in the middle, for we will save you easily.' I assure you that those who have not seen or heard of the rapids in these little boats that they have, could not pass it without great fear, even the most self-possessed persons in the world. But these people are so skillful in shooting these rapids that it is easy for them. I did it with them—a thing that I never had done nor had any Christian, except my youth (Etienne Bruie)."

Two former attempts had been made by Mrs. Lattery to end her life.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

$25,000,000 Per Annum LUMBERING PROVIDES THE RAILROADS WITH HALF OF FREIGHT TRAFFIC

81,000 Cars Needed to Handle British Columbia's Rail Shipments of Wood Products

IMAGINE the effect on our rail transportation systems if half their outward freight traffic were withdrawn.

Figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that one-half of the rail freight traffic is made up of forest products.

Last year the railways carried well over 2,000,000 tons of lumber, shingles and other wood products out of British Columbia.

At a low estimate the amount paid in freight exceeded $25,000,000.

81,000 Cars It took 81,000 cars to handle the lumber shipped to our rail markets last year. These cars would make up a train 600 miles long that would reach from Vancouver to Banff, Alta.

The above figures do not include the millions of feet of logs moved on public railways from camps to mills.

The railways benefit enormously by the heavy freights paid on camp and mill machinery, equipment and supplies, entering the Province.

The forest products group buys more material and employs more persons than the three or four next biggest industries put together. Both coming and going it is logging and lumbering that keeps the railway tracks from rusting.

C.N.R. BILLS ARE SUBJECT OF COUNCIL MOTION

The City Council on the recommendation of the finance committee last night joined in the fight for the C. N.R. extensions on Vancouver Island. The committee suggested that the Mayor write to Hon. Dr. Tolmie, M. P., setting out the importance to the city of Victoria that the Senate concur in the proposals of the Canadian National Railway for construction of branch lines on the Island. Night telegrams to Senators Barnard and Green and other B.C. Senators, stressing the necessity for the lines. The council agreed to the suggestions and Alderman Sargent stressed the need of sending the wires before the subject came before the Senate Wednesday. It was also decided to write to A. W. Neill, M.P., and C. H. Dieke, M.P., urging the importance to Vancouver Island of the passage of the lines.

Toronto Chinese Are Now Discussing "Humiliation Day" Great Fur Trade Exhibition Being Held in London

Toronto, June 17.—Local Chinese as yet have not decided to follow the example of their countrymen in Victoria, B.C., and observe July 1, Dominion Day, as "Humiliation Day" because of a sense of insult taken from the new immigration regulations. The offending regulations require that everyone in Canada of Chinese origin regardless of birthplace, age or sex, must report to the immigration officials before June 30 for registration. They must give photographs of themselves to the department, with a synopsis of their personal history. Fines and deportation are the penalties that await those who violate this enactment. In the Chinese Y.M.C.A. last night these immigration regulations were discussed at a meeting that was almost an indignation meeting. No drastic steps were decided upon.

HAWTHORNTHWAITTE SAYS "BUY OUT THE BREWERIES"

Labor Party Candidates and Dr. Hall Attack Plebiscite Bishop Schofield Appeals For All Anti-Beer Sale Advocates to Stand Together

"You cannot drink character in by the glass," Mrs. Graves. "The elimination of profits in liquor will eliminate the boot-legalizer," W. E. Peirce. "Buy out the breweries, and take one or two to supply this Province," J. H. Hawthornthwaite.

The enemy knows exactly where it can place its forces to win this campaign. Bishop Schofield, in appealing for unity among all temperance forces.

"You have now liquor control of the Government, not Government control of liquor," Dr. Ernest Hall.

Above are points from the five speeches delivered at a demonstration last evening at the Alexandra Hall against the beer plebiscite. The meeting, which was well attended, was arranged by the Victoria unit of the Canadian Labor Party, and its three candidates were the first speakers, followed at the invitation of the chair by Dr. Ernest Hall and Bishop Schofield.

MRS. GRAVES SPEAKS

Mrs. M. G. Graves dealt with the question of liquor and of the progress of the movement against alcohol in the present generation.

One of her epigrams was: "You cannot drink character in by the glass."

She quoted the experience of printing compositors in Munich, Bavaria, setting type with and without beer rations, and said the increased production of the men without beer had justified the change.

"The economic waste of the drink traffic is great," she stated. "Drink is the thing which is the easiest vice to control."

Mrs. Graves argued in urging temperance reform. She described the present plebiscite as a brewers' effort.

LIQUOR AND ECONOMICS

"We are now in the liquor business," said W. E. Peirce, who contended it was the beginning of the return of the bar. He alluded to the standing of the British Labor Party in temperance by pointing that it was not the desire for liquor, but the principle of profit in liquor selling they had to meet. Mr. Peirce examined the situation in parallel and also in contrast in B.C. as compared with other countries which had not abolished the saloon. They wanted to be careful that the course adopted would not be erroneous eventually. He did not believe absolute prohibition was possible. Where they as a Labor Party differed from the Government position was that they considered that the liquor business should not be utilized for the purpose of making profits for other things. He declared that elimination of profits would eliminate the boot-legalizer.

AN ECONOMIC QUESTION

J. H. Hawthornthwaite said the drink traffic was not a sentimental, but an economic one, and had to be dealt with from that aspect alone. He sketched the life of the old bar, which had, he believed, passed away. "I would like to know who asked the Government to bring in this bill?" he asked. He did not know what society had requested the bill; had any respectable citizen? If so he had never heard of it. "Instead of Government control of breweries you have brewery ownership of Government," Mr. Hawthornthwaite asserted.

Attacking prohibition he stated that the whole experience of prohibition in some of the Atlantic states had been increase of drug addicts and robberies. Now the United States had nation-wide prohibition they had appalling increase in crime—murders, burglaries and every augmentation of vice.

The brewers, he alleged, always were responsible for the present plebiscite.

"I would not so much mind," he asserted amid laughter, "if the beer was not so bad." The candidate quoted Major R. J. Burde in his attack on the floor of the Legislature last session, in support of this aspect.

"Buy out the breweries," he advocated, "not confiscate them, but buy them out and take one or two to supply this Province."

"Check," he urged, "a policy under which the breweries are dominating our Government, the pillars of the church supporting it."

Turning his criticism to the proposed measure Mr. Hawthornthwaite commented on its alleged laxity. He asserted that some regulations had been issued under the Act, but he had been unable to secure a copy of them though he had seen one. He asserted that the Order-in-Council had given powers to alter, twist and turn the regulations to allow the ministers of the Crown "to do exactly as they please."

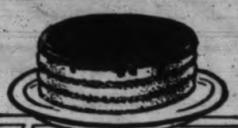

The Bill set up a ward system under which a ward could be forced to accept these beer premises, whether they liked it or not, where plugging of lists could be carried on to force the system on the public.

He expressed his surprise that none of the three parties had had the courage to deal with the matter, and said that as a labor party they must endeavor to discourage the element of profit in government sale, and decrease as much as possible the consumption of alcohol, limiting the sources of distribution.

DR. ERNEST HALL

Dr. Hall said that the Labor Party was the only one which had refused to join the "conspiracy of silence, of cowardice," with regard to the beer issue. He asserted "it is the only question before the people of vital importance." As far as he could observe the three parties had only abuse and criticism for one another.

The candidates of the Conservatives were too busy in criticism of the Oliver Government, whose candidates talked freight rates, and a new railway from Squamish to the moon, instead of enlightening their audiences on the beer issue. The third party was engaged also too largely in abuse to think of beer. As a result of the present law they had "liquor control of the Government, not Government control of it." He asserted that the beer sale plebiscite was the "most pernicious piece of legislation we have had." It was so framed that whatever was done it meant a case of "heads I win, tails you lose."

He contended in the light of Government sale no government had a right to extend facilities for drinking. "We are going to popularize drinking. This is the purpose, to get us to drink more beer," he asserted.

"They are going to flood this country with beer," he continued. "Do we want German beer gardens here, he asked."

"You cannot deal with this question of venereal diseases until you have dealt with the question of liquor," he concluded, amid loud applause.

THE BISHOP

Bishop Schofield praised the Labor Party for coming out in favor of the plebiscite's rejection. The question was not whether they were prohibitionists or not, but to be united to defeat the plebiscite. The church must be fighting the issue themselves, and let them be given credit for their policy. All temperance parties should be united because "the enemy knows exactly where it can put forces to win this campaign," he asserted. The liquor question was like a car out of control, which did not want the gas stepped out at the moment, and they must recognize Government control had gone beyond them, and must be resisted.

"Tired and Worried Nervous and Despondent"

Mrs. M. Chevalier, Belle River, Ont., writes:

"For eight years I suffered from despondency and nervousness. Sometimes I could not sleep at night for worrying and the next day I would be so tired that my work was a burden to me. I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and can say I am now entirely relieved of the nervousness from which I used to suffer, and things do not worry me as they used to."

"Dr. Chase's Ointment also relieved me of eczema on my arms, which had bothered me for three years. My house is never without Dr. Chase's Medicines."

Mme. Valda touched upon the physical and mental development to be derived from dancing and expressed the opinion that deportment and dancing of the aesthetic kind should be included in every child's education.

IS ALDERMAN OF CITY OF LONDON

Member of Most Select Municipal Body in Empire Here

Alderman Maurice Jenks, a member of the historic corporation of London, England, arrived in the city yesterday on a round-the-world tour. Head of the firm of Maurice Jenks, Percival and Co., chartered accountants of Old Jersey, E.C., Mr. Jenks has just visited his branch office in Kobe, Japan, and crossed on the liner Empress of Russia with Mrs. Jenks.

Mr. Jenks, who is now in line for the office of Lord Mayor, as the occupant of that office must have been both sheriff and alderman, was a member of the common council for Cheapside Ward when a vacancy occurred eighteen months ago, and he was returned as alderman for the ward, a position greatly coveted as an essential preliminary to the lord mayoralty. The remarkable history of the oldest corporation in the British Empire, which has seen every municipal government with the possible exception of York, England, rise, has won for it a wonderful place in municipal records.

Its future has been frequently threatened, and in this regard Mr. Jenks said to The Times that the old antagonism with the London County Council appeared to be dying away, and in fact present relations were quite friendly. In addition to its usual municipal activities, the London corporation controls tremendous vested properties in the bridges, markets and parks in adjacent counties, which serve not merely its own area, but the whole metropolitan community of millions.

The place of the Lord Mayor as a public entertainer of distinguished people, and as head of numerous funds, Mr. Jenks stated, placed the Mansion House occupant in a different position to any other municipal head in the world.

Forging Deposits in Bank Pass Book Means of Passing Cheques

The simple expedient of depositing one dollar in a Vancouver bank and raising the entry by forging the initials of the teller to fresh "deposits" was the system used by Leo F. Berstein, arrested by the police on Saturday, to obtain credit for cash advances in good Canadian currency.

Berstein registered at a downtown rooming-house as "F. Morris, New York" and tendered a cheque on a bank at Vancouver to W. J. Clubb, tobacconist, in payment for a silver-mounted walking stick and a leather cigar case.

Later the proprietor found that the cheque was useless and complained. Even before the complaint had been filed the man, wearing a Trades and Labour Party badge, was arrested by the police, being arrested by Detectives Rogers and Calwell on Friday night. Charged before Magistrate Day in City Police Court yesterday, the accused pleaded guilty to forgery, and obtaining money by false pretences, and was sentenced to one year in jail on each charge, sentences to run concurrently.

VIEWS OF LABOR ON IMMIGRATION

Reply to Letter of Mayor of Toronto Presented to City Council

Views of the Trades and Labor Council on the letter of Mayor Hiltz of Toronto to the City Council in regard to the Dominion Government's policy respecting immigration and unemployment in Canada were expressed in a letter to the City Council last night. The letter from the Labor Council and also a previous report from the Chamber of Commerce will be considered by the Legislature Committee of the Council, and a report presented.

"It is unfortunately only too true," said the letter from the Trades and Labor Council signed by Alderman E. S. Woodward, "that ill-advised immigration projects have resulted disastrously to the men and women who have been betrayed into coming to Canada in search of work; to the workers already in Canada who have been faced with additional competition for the few available jobs and to the cities who have to foot the relief bill.

"This council believes that the municipality should comply with the request of the mayor of Toronto and join with other cities in bringing the necessary pressure on the Federal Government to revise its policy, not only for the sake of economy, but also for the sake of the helpless men, women and children whose lives are wrecked by being stranded workless in a distant country."

THE MASSES
The letter charged it was a sad commentary on the men who had charge of the business destinies of Canada that such a state of affairs existed and declared men were sadly needed with a first-hand experience of the necessities of the masses.

The letter from Mayor Hiltz charged that thousands of Canadians out of work were faced with extra competition as a result of the Government's immigration policy, and called for a halt in immigration. The unemployment situation has serious as a result of this policy the writer charged, and thousands of Canadians were being forced to migrate to the United States.

Alderman Sargent suggested that a special committee be appointed to deliberate on the communication and also the one previously received from the Chamber of Commerce and this course was adopted.

"There will be an added value in that our own elections will be over by the time they have considered and reported."

Minister of Trade and Commerce Convinced of Ultimate Predominance

Since his trip to the West this Fall he has been convinced of the ultimate predominance of Pacific Coast trade in Canada's trade with New Zealand, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. T. A. Low, states in a letter read at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

THOUSANDS OF JAPANESE HURRYING ACROSS PACIFIC TO ENTER UNITED STATES

Rush Before Exclusion Law Goes Into Force July 1; Liner President Jackson Will Pass Through Victoria June 27; Mishima Maru and Nikko Maru Also Due About Same Time; Other Ships On Way

Tokio, June 17.—The last of the pre-exclusion rush of emigrant's seeking to return to the United States before the effective date of the new immigration law arrives and they are shut out, has left here. The steamship President Jackson, sailing to-day took 200 Japanese from Yokohama and that city now is bare of those who for a time thronged steamship offices seeking passage.

The President Jackson, Captain John Griffiths, is scheduled to arrive at Victoria June 27. She will proceed to Seattle. Other Japanese liners are also rushing across the Pacific with large lists of Japanese passengers and picture brides anxious to enter the United States before July 1.

The Japanese Government arranged for six additional sailings from Japan during this month in addition to the usual scheduled sailings. One additional trip is being made to San Francisco, while the Mishima Maru and Nikko Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, are due in Victoria about June 27, while the Kaga Maru, which made a quick turn around in the Orient so as to make an additional trip during June, is scheduled to arrive June 29. They will go on to Seattle. The Shinyo Maru of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line, is also making a special trip to Seattle during June.

All the large Trans-Pacific liners are carrying large Japanese steerage lists, which is unusual as the majority of the steerage passengers have been in the past chiefly Chinese.

SPEAK NO ENGLISH

Seattle, June 17.—Immigration inspectors, examining 253 Japanese, who arrived here yesterday aboard the Admiral-Oriental liner President McKinley, found scores who claimed long years of residence in this country, who could not speak a word of English, according to officers of the immigration station.

Dozens of brides and bridegrooms were among the passengers. Advice received by the department asserted 2,700 Japanese will seek entrance to the United States through this port before July 1, when the Japanese Exclusion Act will become effective.

GOODS BOYCOTTED

Tokio, June 17.—The electric supply dealers of Tokyo have agreed to boycott United States made goods as a protest against enactment of the new immigration law barring Japanese.

U.S. NOTE TO JAPAN

Washington, June 17.—The reply of the United States Government to the protest made by Japan against the Japanese exclusion section of the new immigration law is now before the Japanese Government, having been sent to Tokyo last night by Ambassador Hanhara, who had received it during the day from Secretary Hughes.

SCOUTS WILL VISIT FLEET

All boy scouts and wolf cubs with their officers will parade at 2:45 p.m. on Saturday, June 21 at the Old Drill Hall, Mendocino Street, in order to visit the fleet. As this will be the only opportunity afforded scouts and cubs of seeing the fleet, a big turnout is expected. Staves will not be carried. A color party of four will be supplied by the Third Victoria Troop.

G. H. SCARRETT, Commissioner, Victoria District.

HEROIC SACRIFICE

"They were attacked at a place called Nangia, a forest area about ten miles from the village of Peking in the province of Shashien, in Fukien Province. During the fighting Mr. Dinsmore was shot in the abdomen and badly injured, but somehow managed to escape, ultimately arriving at Shashien. He could have gone on to Yen Pingfu, a day's journey down the river, for medical attendance, but he stayed here in an heroic attempt to help save his companions in the party, who were being held prisoners by the brigands. He wired from Shashien that his wounds were not serious, but nevertheless died, due, apparently to internal hemorrhage.

James Carroll, our senior Forest ranger in that area, is now working with local officials for the release of the captives. The local Chinese military officials seem powerless or afraid to take any steps against the brigands. The Civil officials, however, are co-operating with Mr. Carroll, and through negotiations along customary Chinese lines, hope soon to receive favorable news as to the prospects of release of Mr. Mackay, Paul Lee and the others.

"Our sincerest sympathy goes out to the relatives of Jay Dinsmore. He had given many years of loyal, faithful service to the company. He was one of Nature's true gentlemen, a kindly-but-courageous soul, imbued with charity and courtesy to his fellow men. He loved China and its people; yet met death through their brutality. "It can only be hoped that lives sacrificed, such as his, may bring to the attention of our Home Government, the American Government and other nations the necessity to enforce steps whereby other foreign lives in China may eventually be adequately protected."

KWANGSI ATTACK

Two American missionaries have been slain by battling troops in Kwangsi province, according to confirmed reports received from Shanghai, and in Peking and a score of others beleaguered in the besieged city of Kwei Lin, are believed to be in serious danger. Those believed to have been killed are the Rev. R. L. Bausum, of the American Southern Baptist Mission, and the Rev. J. R. Cunningham, of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Mission. Both Mr. Bausum and Mr. Cunningham were stationed at Kwei Lin and the former is reported to have been killed in that city by a bursting shell, while Mr. Cunningham is reported to have been slain by soldiers while travelling in the country a short distance outside the city.

Further reports to the American Legation at Peking state that four more foreigners, Americans, on their way to Kwei Lin from Wuchow in an effort to relieve the besieged missionaries have been captured by bandits en route.

BANDIT RAGES DISGRACE CHINA

More Reports Are Brought by Liners Arriving from Orient

Both by the liners President McKinley and Empress of Russia, which arrived here on Sunday and Monday respectively, fresh stories are to hand in regard to banditry in China. Owing to the prevailing conditions, political chaos and lack of central authority, foreigners in the interior, missionaries and others continue to be the victims of banditry and civil warfare. The difficulty is that the central government has little control over the provincial militarists, and the military governments themselves do not control the bandits, and other lawless elements in various districts. If foreigners continue to travel in the interior, and missionaries continue to stay there, more and more of the foreigners' lives and property must continue to be sacrificed.

FUKIEN OUTRAGE

Reference to the recent Fukien bandit outrage, in which Jay Dinsmore and four other members of the staff of the China Import and Export Lumber Company were captured, was made at the annual general meeting of the company in Shanghai.

"Every possible precaution to safeguard our staff when traveling in the interior" said the chairman, C. H. Arnyed, "has at all times been observed by providing them with fast motor boats and by having them move in bandit infested areas. My parties sufficiently strong in number to afford resistance in case of attack. Despite this and other precautions, we have this month had a deplorable incident take place when a party of our staff, consisting of traveling in the regular course of duty were attacked by brigands.

The party, according to the information so far received, consisted of Jay Dinsmore, an American; Mr. McKay, an Australian; Paul Lee, a Chinese Yale graduate, and two men of our Chinese Forestry Staff, besides the usual attendant coolies and servants.

NORDBO IS LATEST TYPE DIESEL SHIP

Will Load Building Material Here For New Zealand and Australia

On her maiden voyage to this coast the Norwegian motorship Nordbo is due here June 28 to load a cargo of building material for New Zealand and Australia. King Brothers are handling the vessel.

She will first go to Seattle and will return to Victoria to load one of the largest shipments of building material that has ever left Victoria for the Antipodes in one shipment. Roofing paper from the Sidney Roofing Company, shingles, door-stocks and doors will be loaded on the vessel here by the Lenson Gunnison Company and the Lumber Company.

The Nordbo is another example of the advancement that Norwegian shipbuilders have made in the building of Diesel engine boats. The freighter was launched during December of 1923 by Harstad and Aker, which built her for the company. She is a vessel of 4,465 gross tons, 300 feet long, 33.9 feet beam and 23.3 feet depth. Equipped with the latest type of Diesel engine the vessel makes the maximum speed with a minimum fuel consumption.

SEVEN STOWAWAYS LEAP OVERBOARD; ONLY ONE CAUGHT

Six Japanese Are Thought to Have Been Drowned in Attempt to Enter U.S.

Jumped Overboard From the Alabama Maru While at Tacoma

Tacoma, June 17.—Six Japanese may have been drowned, according to Federal officials, when seven stowaways from the O.S.K. liner Alabama Maru leaped overboard from the side of the ship and attempted to swim the cold waters of the Milwaukee waterway early Sunday morning. One of the stowaways reached shore, and was arrested by immigration officials. He gave his name as G. S. Arpo, and his brother, S. Arpo of Seattle, was also taken in to custody.

A party of eight customs and immigration officers were on duty regarding the ship when the Japanese made their break to enter the United States.

Rumors had been current that a number of stowaways were concealed on the vessel and a sharp lookout was ordered. Captain K. Puchigama, of the Alabama Maru said that all members of his crew were still on board, but that the seven men whom officers saw going over the side were of the opinion that all of the seven except Arpo were drowned.

Japanese Baby is Named After Ship's Surgeon on Russia

Because he was born at sea under the British flag, a little Japanese baby, who first saw the light of twenty-four hours out of Yokohama on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia, will be registered in the parish of St. Stephen, London, England.

The baby was named Anson, after the ship's surgeon, Lieut.-Col. Anson S. Donaldson, D.S.O., M.D., of Ottawa, formerly an officer in the Canadian Army Medical Corps and later in charge of the S.C.R. at Calgary, Alberta.

ORIENT INTERCOAST SERVICE ARRANGED

Canadian Prospector Will Inaugurate New C.G.M.M. Service on July 4

Arrangements have been completed for the Canadian Government Merchant Marine's new intercoastal-Oriental service which will be inaugurated early in July. Three freighters have been assigned to this service. The first sailing will be the Canadian Prospector on July 4. The Prospector is homeward bound now from Montreal, and after discharging local cargo will follow on Tuesday night, inaugurating the new service.

This freighter will be followed by the Canadian Importer on August 2 and the Canadian Inventor on September 2. A sailing will be given in this new service once every month. The ports of call in the Orient will be Ktu Bar, Newchang, Yokohama and Shanghai.

The Canadian Planter, which was withdrawn from the Atlantic fleet, is being assigned to the Pacific fleet, and has been placed in the Australian service and will make her first sailing to the Antipodes on June 28, followed on August 5 by the Canadian Scottish.

A new schedule has been arranged for the intercoastal service. They give sailings on the following dates: Canadian Seignior June 22; Canadian Winner July 10; Canadian Traveler, August 7; Canadian Prospector, September 22 and the Canadian Importer October 20. A sailing each month is given to the United Kingdom service.

HARRISON-DIRECT LINE IS BUILDING THREE NEW SHIPS

Benefactor Brings News of New Freighters For This Run

Two new freighters and one new passenger liner are being built by the Harrison-Direct Line in England, it was learned on the arrival of the Benefactor here.

The two new freighters will be assigned to the United Kingdom-Pacific Coast service as soon as they are completed. Both the new boats are similar to the Benefactor, which is a vessel of 5,510 gross tons and capable of carrying 9,000 tons of freight.

Following discharge of cargo here the Benefactor moved to Vancouver yesterday and from there she will go to Seattle and Tacoma. The new boats are being built by the Benefactor, which is a vessel of 5,510 gross tons and capable of carrying 9,000 tons of freight.

Capt. M. G. Packe stated that the Governor, sailing from Glasgow on June 21, will bring out a large liquor over to this coast. This will be the first ship to leave the Old Country with liquor for British Columbia under the new United States regulations permitting British vessels with liquor cargoes to touch at American ports providing the liquor is destined for a port outside of the United States.

CONTINUED DISORDER IN CHINA PREDICTED BY AN OBSERVER

Seattle, June 17.—There is no immediate hope of China's economic condition being bettered, according to J. Spunt, retired cotton broker, who arrived here yesterday after spending more than thirty years in China. "The country is suffering from too much militarism," declared Mr. Spunt, "banditry against the lawless ruler." The Canton Government is showing little promise of developing into anything and there is a widespread belief in China that Dr. Sun's "reformer" and his death is being concealed.

BIG LIQUOR CARGO ABOARD FREIGHTER

C.G.M.M. Freighter Due From U.K. Next Week; Importer Leaves Montreal

It appears that the Canadian Government Merchant Marine ships are securing all the liquor freight for British Columbia from the Old Country. Every vessel that has returned from the United Kingdom in the company's new service so far has brought large liquor shipments.

The Canadian Freighter left the Panama Canal Tuesday night, and fair weather prevails should make Victoria about the middle of next week, probably a little earlier than her scheduled arrival on June 27. Advice was received from Montreal to-day stating that the Canadian Importer had left Montreal on her homeward trip in the intercoastal service. The importer will make her first sailing to the Orient in the new intercoastal-Oriental service after she completes discharging here.

RETAIATION IS IMPOSSIBLE

London Times Representative Arrives From Japan

"The Japanese have no effective way of retaliation in the present exclusion policy of the United States," said R. L. Carton, special representative of the London Times in the Far East, who arrived on the liner Empress of Russia yesterday.

"The suicide of the Japanese samurai in front of the former American Embassy, as a protest against the exclusion policy of Congress," said Mr. Carton to the Times, "was one of the features of the Oriental mind which we occidentals in this generation stirred the imagination, already at fever pitch. No wonder an attempt has been made to consider the suicide as a martyr. Apart from this well authenticated case, it is reported that there have been at least six other cases of a similar character.

"While the most radical resolutions have been adopted of anti-Japanese propaganda at meetings of 20,000 persons and upwards in Tokio, it is entirely a popular agitation, a governmental agitation. The Japanese opinion are perfectly aware they could not listen to the belligerents who talk of war, and because the whole result would be adverse to Japanese trade, as the balance of trade is against Japan in the trans-Pacific trade with America.

"These have been cases where the populace has stopped and insulted American women with objectionable remarks, similar to the incident in the Imperial Hotel dance, reported by cable recently."

Mr. Carton said that the recent general election and the exclusion act have occupied all attention, and therefore reconstruction of the stricken cities was proceeding very slowly.

Condition in Tokio are most uncomfortable, Mr. Carton said, owing to the clouds of dust everywhere in the streets between the frame houses erected after the earthquake and fire. He says reconstruction is proceeding very slowly.

Mothers!

Give the children WRIGLEY'S after every meal

A prominent physician says: "It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an anti-septic wash for the mouth and throat. Several flavors—all of WRIGLEY quality.

Huge Crowd Will Attend Opening Of Colwood Track

Adequate Transportation Arrangements Made For Opening Day of New Track

Big String of Horses on the Ground; Keen Racing Looked For; Clubhouse a Feature

Everything is in readiness for the opening of Victoria's new racing plant at Colwood to-morrow afternoon. The ponies were given their final work-outs to-day, the overnight entries were in the hands of the racing secretary "Bob" Leighton by 10 o'clock this morning and the workmen put the final touches to the track and the splendid clubhouse.

The E. and N. Railway will run one train, leaving Victoria at 1.30 o'clock. The stop will be made at Colwood Station and tickets will carry the people from there to the track.

Cameroon and Calwell have arranged to operate their big buses from their stand on Government Street between the hours of 11.30 and 2.30 o'clock. The return buses will leave for the city between 3.30 and 7 o'clock.

In addition hundreds of private owned cars will carry the racing fans to the scene of the big sporting event.

INTEREST IS KEEN Interest is particularly keen in the opening as it not only marks the beginning of racing in British Columbia for the season, but also the opening of the finest track in Western Canada.

One of the big features of the new track is the splendid clubhouse. This building is two storeys in height and has three spacious verandahs from which the spectators will watch the races.

In addition there is the grandstand, which will accommodate 2,500. The paddock is a circular affair, and the betting ring is very large, airy, open and accommodating.

HAS LOOKED AFTER FANS Ho. T. G. Coventry, who is responsible for the fine new track, has seen to it that every convenience has been provided for the public. Most people in Victoria are anxious to get out for opening day in order to see just what Mr. Coventry has provided for them.

It will be the first time that the racing folk here have had a chance to see the ponies run over a mile track. Racing in the past has been restricted to the half-mile track. Better racing is always to be found on the longer tracks.

Owing to a number of additional horses arriving it has been found necessary to erect another stable to accommodate fifty ponies. This building will be finished to-day.

NEW STRING OF PONIES U. S. Wisheart brought in a string of horses this morning that has been performing on Toronto and other Eastern tracks. It includes the following: Dr. John, Ticklish, Hinkle, Jacquelin, Humorist, Roysterer, Frances Church, Lady Monmouth, Bayler in Antuckett, Beth Page and Barb Wire.

Tan the Second and Regal Lodge, two horses owned by Pete Green, also came in this morning. The members in form for the games to be played with the teams from the British Special Service Squadron and should make a splendid showing in the afternoon.

Last night the Veterans had quite a nice game with the British Beacon's eleven. This vessel is the oiler of the sporting to the service from the British steamship British Beacon into camp last night at the Canteen Grounds by three goals to one, and this evening a big bet is laid out to Sidney to have a game there.

Ascot, Eng., June 17.—The opening of Royal Ascot to-day was favored by warmer weather than has long been experienced in England, furnishing an occasion for the display of gay toilets by the women and light summer suits by the men.

Mascot To Oppose English Boxer In Main Event Here

Boy Who Has Beaten Foley Coming From Portland Johnny Morgan to Fight

Billy Davies, matchmaker for the professional boxing contests which are to be held at the Armories on Wednesday evening, June 25, as one of the sporting attractions of the naval week celebration, was successful this morning in signing up Billy Mascot of Portland, Oregon, Pacific coast bantam champion, and Frankie Ellis of London, England, for the main event of what he considers will be the finest boxing tourney ever held in this city.

Mascot and Ellis have agreed to fight ten rounds for the bantamweight championship of the Pacific coast, and it is agreed that the contestants who are at present in tip-top shape will finish their training in this city so that local fans may have a chance to size them up.

Two other feature bouts have also been arranged. They will be between Johnny Morgan of Ladysmith, B.C., middleweight champion, and Mike O'Conner of Vancouver. These boys will compete in the eight-round semi-final.

Ernie Woodley, the Victoria light heavy, will engage in a six-round contest with Jack Mills of Vancouver. Three other good bouts will also be added to the programme.

Leonard's Diamond Belt Attracts Man With Itchy Palm

New York, June 17.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, has lost his diamond-studded belt, a gift of Tex Rickard. But it was not lost in a fair fight.

Benny loaned the belt several days ago to his sister, who placed it in the window of her store to attract customers. The lure was too strong; somebody threw a brick through the window last night and made off with the prize, valued at $3,000.

SHADE GAINS VERDICT Chicago, June 17.—Dave Shade, contender for the welterweight championship, won a newspaper decision last night at Chicago over Warnie Smith in a ten-round fight at 145 pounds. Tiltle "Kid" Herman defeated Panama Joe in a ten-round semi-windup.

FIGHTING TO-NIGHT Los Angeles, June 17.—Joe Benjamin, Los Angeles, and Dode Bercof of Seattle, fighting at catch weights, to-day completed training for their fourth round bout at the Vernon arena here to-night. Bercof is as yet undefeated since his invasion of the southland several weeks ago, taking three decisions and a draw in four starts.

Tommy Gibbons is a real family man and his chief joy is the company of his wife, Helen, and their three little boys, Tommy, Jack and Dickie.

Five Hundred Golf Players Will Play For P.N.W. Titles

Many Local Amateurs Are Going to Vancouver to Begin Play This Week

Four Pros Went Across Last Night; Willie Hunter is on His Way North

Victoria's colors will be carried in the Pacific Northwest golf championships to be held in Vancouver, beginning on Friday, by a very strong contingent of golfers. In addition to four sterling pros the Capital is sending over a fine string of amateurs. Last night Phil Taylor of the Victoria Golf Club, present P.N.W. open champion; Alex Marling of the Colwood Golf Club, the only one-eyed pro. in the business; Walter Gravin of the Uplands Golf Club, the only native born pro. in the West, and Fred Burns of the Macaulay Point Golf Club, left for Vancouver to engage in the open championship. This is as strong a quartette of pros. that any city on the coast can boast. All of them are at the top of their game at present. Taylor is playing very well, while Gravin has taken a great stride forward during the last couple of months. Marling will engage in his first tournament since coming to the coast. He is a former Scottish champion. Burns is playing a very steady game.

AMATEURS ARE GOING The Victoria Golf Club will send over the largest number for the amateur championship. "Ronnie" Scott-Moncrieff, the sensational eighteen-year-old player, is making the trip. Thornton Fell, another promising player, will not be able to go as he is away on a survey party.

Wilson will play the absence owing to a bad foot. Other players who are going include Art Beasley, Eric Burton, Capt. Madison, John Hart and P. Nation. One or two others are expected to enter before the final entries close.

Percy Cridde and Jim Woods, captain of the Colwood Club, will be the only representatives of that club, although it is hoped that Frank Thmoas, the champion, will be able to go across.

The Victoria Golf Club will not be represented. John Savident, the champion, had intended to make the trip but now finds too much business in his hands. Joe Edmunds, another representative of the Uplands state, has left for California and "Wally" Brynjolfson will be too busy with the school exams to make the jaunt.

Vancouver, June 17.—With prospects for 500 entries, the Pacific Northwest open amateur golf championship is to be played at the Shaughnessy Heights course, starting on Friday of this week and continuing until June 28, which day will be the amateur finals.

For the open event, entries will be received until Thursday, play starting the following morning at 9 o'clock. The field will be made up of the following: Black, Shaughnessy pros, who is looking after this department of the tourney, said to-day that he expected thirty pros. from the leading clubs of the coast.

In the amateur events, which are to be played at Shaughnessy and Burnaby, the best of B.C. Washington and Oregon as early as possible in California, will compete. Among them are Mrs. Harold Hutchings of Winnipeg, Miss Florence Halberstadt of Seattle and many from Seattle Salt Spring and Portland.

MAY DEFEND TITLE It is expected that Chandler Egan, who won the title in Seattle last year, will be here from Spokane to defend his trophy. Bon Stein and Le University, Tillicums and Cranleigh, which will also include Jack Westland, University of Washington star; Bryan Winter, new in-coming Seattle champion; Merle McElwaine, brilliant putter of the Seattle club; Ted Knudson and Fred Jackson. Forrest Watson, former Seattle title champion, now a resident of Spokane, is expected to come north.

Secretary H. P. Taylor of the P. N. G. A., advises competitors to file their names as early as possible in order that there may be no confusion at the end.

Los Angeles, June 17.—Willie I. Hunter, former holder of both the British amateur and Southern California golf titles, left last night for Vancouver to participate in the Pacific Northwest championships. Last Summer Hunter accepted the distinction of eliminating Chick Evans in the national amateur event, and this season seeks new fields to conquer.

Thurston, of White Sox, is Sensation of All Moundsmen

Chicago, June 17.—One of the biggest sensations of the early season in the American League has been Hollis Thurston. White Sox pitcher. Thurston's performance on the mound has exceeded expectations.

At present he ranks as the one best bet on the Comiskey twirling staff. With Urban Faber ailing, Thurston has stepped into the breach and made good with a vengeance. In a recent series with the Yankees he big fellow literally stood the Huggins outfit on its head.

Thurston came to the White Sox last year from the Browns. All told, he worked in 46 games, winning seven and losing eight. He allowed 3.12 earned runs per game and was eighth in this respect. He stood well down the list in giving bases on balls, issuing 38, only hit one batter all season and didn't make a single wild pitch.

CAN HIT WELL For a pitcher, Thurston is an exceptionally good batter. He hit 316 in 1923. Uble, Cleveland, and Walberg, Athletics, were the only hurlers to obtain a higher clouting average. Whether Thurston will keep up his good work is problematical. He may, and then again he may not. At any rate, his work has been one of the bright spots in the White Sox play to date.

British Holder of American Golf Title Called Best "Wind Shot"

CYRIL WALKER

In real rah-rah fashion, Cyril Walker, winner of the open golf championship, was lifted high on the shoulders of his admirers and carried around the course in celebration of his triumph at Oakland Hills.

Because Cyril Walker, midget New Jersey professional, knows how to control a shot in a roistering gale, he is the new open golf champion of America.

Walker was born in England and spent his boyhood days caddy for Johnny Ball, Sandy Herd, Harold Hilton and many others on the Uplands state, has left for California and "Wally" Brynjolfson will be too busy with the school exams to make the jaunt.

It is one thing to play a golf shot in a dead calm. It is quite another to play the same shot in the teeth of a howling wind.

HAGEN COULDN'T DO IT Hagen got off a tremendous drive under the circumstances and was left with a full iron shot to the green. He had judged the wind and the hole on the course. A lake of considerable proportions faces the green. It is over this lake that the second shot must be played.

Walker's drive was no better than Hagen's but just as good. Here he was facing the same test that had ruined the American star. If he got home the championship was his; if he failed it might go to Bill Melhorn or Bob Jones, who were already in with low scores.

SUZANNE IS BETTER Paris, June 17.—Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, who will defend her singles tennis championship at Wimbledon, arrived here yesterday from Nice, fully recovered from a slight attack of influenza. She said she was feeling strong enough to play in both the ladies' singles and doubles. In the latter she is paired with Miss Elizabeth Ryan.

The Wednesday Eight of the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club will entertain an Eight from the Hudson's Bay Athletic Club to-morrow afternoon under the captaincy of Col. W. T. Edgcombe. The game will start at 2.30 p.m. and will be accompanied by P. J. Byng, D. A. Vallance, J. V. Cobbe, J. P. Hibben, C. A. Goodwin, A. A. Pass, W. Tomes and H. Parsona.

New Scoring Marks Made in Test Match In Cricket in O.C.

Edgbaston, Eng., June 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—In the first test match between England and the touring South Africans which was continued here yesterday, England made 438 runs in the first innings, being a record high score against a South African team in this country, while on the other hand, the visitors made the lowest score of any test match in England, namely, thirty runs.

The only reason given for the collapse of the African team is that they have been dogged by wet wickets since their arrival and for the present match conditions have been the worst experienced. The game attracted 10,000 spectators, who witnessed a day of sensational cricket.

Capitol Presents
of Sunny Spain

In "Tiger Love" there is at one and the same time the latest picture play in which those popular featured players, Estelle Taylor and Antonio Moreno once again cover themselves with dramatic glory, and also a screen telling of that famous opera "The Wildcat" from the pen of Manuel Fenella. It is a Paramount picture which was directed by George Melford, and which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

"Tiger Love" is a vivid romance of colorful Spain. Estelle Taylor has the role of Marcheta, the beautiful young daughter of a bankrupt aristocrat while handsome Tony Moreno is cast as the fiery and notorious gypsy bandit, commonly called "The Wildcat," who falls hopelessly in love with her. In order to rehabilitate the family fortunes, Marcheta's father is forced to consent to the marriage of his daughter to Ramon, the foppish nephew of the Mayor of the town. Marcheta is kidnapped by the Wildcat's lieutenant but in the proverbial nick of time the Wildcat himself appears and rescues her. Right then and there Cupid gets in some fine work and the resulting complications that ensue when the bandit attempts to prevent the marriage of Marcheta and Ramon provide some thrilling moments.

The original opera from which the picture was adapted, by Howard Hawks was as rich with dramatic situations as a checkerboard with checks and none of these has been lost in the transference of the story to the screen. Furthermore, George Melford has dressed it up with such lavish settings and flaming backgrounds that you will be able to revel to your heart's content in the colorful Spanish atmosphere. Honorable mention must also be made of the splendid supporting cast that includes such capable actors as Raymond Nye, David Torrence, Edgar Norton and Monty Collins.

Sahara Film is Photoplay Gem as Shown at Royal

Edwin Carewe's First National production, "A Son of the Sahara," produced in the Algerian Sahara, which will be the attraction at the Royal Theatre again to-day, will show El-Kantara, the Sahara's gateway, on the screen for the first time. The Governor General of Algeria only granted permission for the company to film scenes there after considerable deliberation.

El-Kantara is situated at a point where the Atlas Mountains range is broken precipitately on either side so that it affords a narrow entrance way to the desert. The mountains tower above the road. Their height is so great and sheer that some most unusual light and shade effects are the result.

Mr. Carewe staged some of the most important scenes of "A Son of the Sahara" at El-Kantara and the unusual background will give them a tremendous added interest. El-Kantara is an important location. The location secured about Biskra as night is lost in day. In fact variety supposed to be a scarcity in the Sahara, is plentiful at Mr. Carewe's picture. The principal players in the film are Bert Lytell, Claire Windsor, Walter McGrath, Rosemary Theby, Montagu Love and Paul Panzer.

Fine Programme of Dance Music at Capitol To-night

George Ozard and his clever orchestra will provide Capitol audiences to-night with a well-balanced programme of popular dance numbers, among which will be the following: "California," "Worried," "Easy Melody," "Surprise and You," and by request the ever popular "Canadian Capers." The Capitol picture programme this week is an unusually strong one, comprising the big feature attraction, "Tiger Love" starring Estelle Taylor and Antonio Moreno. The Capitol News is also more than usually interesting, containing views of the British fleet during their Australian visit. There are also many fine views of the London Exhibition at Wembley. The Capitol comedy, "No Noise," is also above the average.

Ramon Navarro, Now at Dominion, Rose Rapidly

Ramon Navarro, who plays the leading male role in Fred Niblo's production, "Thy Name is Woman," presented by Louis B. Mayer through Metro, which is playing at the Dominion Theatre, has become one of the most popular of film stars in the short space of two years.

Born of Spanish parents, he was brought up in Durango, Mexico, where his family had settled on this side of the Atlantic. At an early age he gave evidence of unusual talents, being especially adept at music. When older he decided to take up the stage as a profession, and realizing that opportunities were far more numerous in the United States, he came north.

His ability as a dancer won him a place in the Marion Morgan dance troupe, and it was not long before he found himself in California. Rex Ingram saw him and put him in the role of Rupert of Hentzen in "The Prisoner of Zenda." He made an instantaneous success, and his acting future was assured.

He next appeared in "Trifling Women," in which he shared honors with Barbara La Marr and Lewis Stone. This served to bring Miss La Marr and Navarro to stardom.

After that came "Where the Pavement Ends," which was his first role as a real honest-to-goodness hero. Then "Scaramouche," the big Rex rose to great heights.

"Thy Name is Woman" is taken from Karl Schoenherr's play, the American version of which was by Benjamin Glazer and put him in the screen form by Hiss Meredyth. Victor Milner was photographer and Ben Carré art director.

"Are You a Mason?" Comedy Offering at Pantages Theatre

Judging by the gales of laughter which greeted "Are You a Mason?" last night at the Pantages, Mr. Compton and his popular company have evidently scored another big comedy hit. The play went with a roar from start to finish and should provide a big attraction for the remainder of the week. Mr. Compton was in excellent form as George Fisher, and was most ably abetted by Herbert Leslie, A. Legge-Willis and Stewart Clarke, as the chief fun makers. Among the ladies, Miss Peggy Dunlop was delightful in a rather slight role, while Miss Maria Goddard and Miss Catherine Macdonough each did well in their respective parts. The remaining members of a large cast in fulfilled their roles exceedingly and the whole company combined to make the play the big success it undoubtedly was. "Are You a Mason?" will be repeated every night this week with a matinee on Saturday.

Girl Acrobat Talks at Any Age in Columbia Film

In the Fox production, "No Mother in Guido Heib," at the Columbia Theatre to-day, there is a young lady named Katherine Downer, who loves to stand on her hands and to do cartwheels. Interviewing her in a conversation with her heels in the air or answer a question as to her views on an important topic while revolving with the greatest self-propelling windmill. The important detail that she is nine years of age has little bearing on the matter. Miss Downer is a born acrobat and dancer and practices her stunts and steps every day.

Malange of Concerted Numbers Offering at Playhouse Theatre

A most inviting and unusual bill is Reginald Hincks's offering this week at the Playhouse Theatre. It consists of a malange of numbers concerted and otherwise with dialogue in the most amusing kind. As a finale is a screaming burlesque on the good old time melodrama with its villain, its hero, its long list piled up by this clever little company. Ernie Petch is a host in himself, while Will Marshall is a scream as Sir Richard Cucumber and Peggy Lewis as the long lost child convulse the house. An interesting and entirely novel item of the programme is the gunnysackophone, and played by Ernie Petch. Will Marshall, Frank Allwood and Reginald Hincks. These instruments have points of interest which cannot be gainsaid.

All the boys under eighteen years of age on board ships of His Majesty's Special Service Squadron coming here this week, will be given free meals while they are in port. These arrangements have been made by the authorities of the Esquimalt Sailors' Club.

Miss Alice Pooley and a host of friends of the Esquimalt Sailors' Club are taking full responsibility for the care and feeding of the boys. The people of Victoria who care to donate provisions of any kind whatever will be thanked heartily by the ladies in charge of the free-meal service. Such eatables as hams, cakes, jellies, tea, coffee, sugar, candies, fresh fruit, bottled fruit, etc., will be welcomed by the Sailors' Club. Such donations as these should be addressed to Miss Pooley, in care of T. N. Hibben & Co., 1122 Government Street.

TORIES ATTACK LIBERAL RECORD

Conservative Candidates Address 150 People at Seamen's Institute

Attacking the Liberal Government's past administration, asserting that if the Liberal Government were seeking re-election on their "past record," that they did not have the slightest chance of getting in, Allan (Gus) Lyons, Conservative candidate, endeavored to explain to his audience last evening at the Seamen's Institute that by the deduction of the $21,000,000 guaranteed P.G.E. bonds from the gross debts of the Province, the Liberal Party only showed a debt of $70,000,000, whereas he figured it should be $91,000,000. He also stated that they had not included in the debt money invested in the Soldier's Settlement scheme, the department of industries scheme, giving financial aid to those wishing to start in business, and the "half finished irrigation projects." The inclusion of these expenditures, he asserted would more than triple the Liberal Government's debt.

He further attacked the Liberal Government's "extravagance" by comparing the per capita expenditure of other western provinces with that of British Columbia. These figures were taken in 1921 and shows British Columbia with the highest per capita expenditure. In that year, he stated, Manitoba's per capita expenditure was $18.08; Saskatchewan, $16.19; Alberta, $17.93; and British Columbia $28.64. The charge per capita in British Columbia was also high in the Liberal administration. Manitoba's charge per capita was $20.38; Saskatchewan, $18.38; and British Columbia $35.57. British Columbia's position amongst the other provinces regarding her financial condition was due solely to lack of business management on the part of the Government, he asserted.

PEOPLE'S LITTLE BABY
The Liberal Government has jealously referred to the P.G.E. as Bowser's little baby, but I am going to point out to you that it is not Bowser's baby, but the people's baby," stated H. Despard Twigg in the closing speech of the evening. "The Conservative Government went to the people on this question and were returned almost unanimously. There were two socialists in the House that year. I don't think there was one Liberal in the House, I can easily be seen that the P.G.E. is therefore the people's baby." Mr. Twigg went on to say that the baby was in his youth when turned over to the Liberal Government, and by their bad administration it had now become a white elephant.

Mr. Twigg also made reference to the social reforms that the Liberal Government had carried out. "Social reform is alright," he stated, "but social reform can get to a stage where there is nothing to carry on social reform with. If the Liberal Government is put back for another term we shall have so much reform that we will all need porpoises." He went on to say that social reform was the result of bad times, and that if there had been prosperity throughout the Province, little would have been heard of social reform. Mr. Twigg pointed out that most of the Liberal Government's social reforms contained "jokers."

Joshua Hinchliffe, before progressing with his address, gave a definition of what Conservatism meant, stating "Conservatism is steady progress and advancement toward progress, but at the same time conserving the people's rights, and the assets of the Province." Mr. Hinchliffe then went on into a description of what happened to his bill, providing that no constituency should be without its proper number of representatives over a period of six months following the resignation, death or removal of the former representative. Concluding his explanation, in which he stated the Liberal party voted solidly against the bill, he asked his audience if they thought that was conserving the rights of the people. Mr. Hinchliffe also attacked the export of lumber, stating that if the Conservative party was returned, every effort would be made to conserve British Columbia's unmanufactured logs, and to have them manufactured in British Columbia, this increasing the pay rolls of this Province and

Brother Killed In Train Wreck Pictured by Times

Mrs. George C. Clark, 313 Vancouver Street, yesterday received a message from relatives in the East notifying her that her brother, Cecil Taylor, had been killed at Worcester, Mass., in the wreck of the fast Twilight Express from Boston to New York, of which he was the engineer.

A few hours after she received the letter, she opened last night's edition of The Times to find the first picture of the wreck with the overturned engine on which her brother was killed. The picture was rushed to The Times by one of its special news services. Mrs. Balcom, wife of Capt. Sprott Balcom of Howe Street, is an aunt of the engineer. The dead engineer lived at Alleton, Mass. He leaves a wife and two children. Two other persons were killed in the wreck and scores were injured.

Soldiers Object to Sailor Caricatures

Admitting that the productions show the touch of a gifted artist, war veterans are raising their voice in protest at the caricature cut outs of the breezy tars who will invade Victoria this week on the grounds that it holds their comrades of the sea up to ridicule rather than that admiration to which they are entitled. The Jigs cast of countenance and the insane smile on the face of the tar as represented by the caricature will make no hit with the men of the British Empire Service Squadron, the executive of the Great War Veterans' Association. In fact they believe he will resent the caricatures rather than accept them as playing a part in Victoria's welcome. Therefore they have forwarded a protest to the reception committee asking that those now appearing in shop windows of the city be withdrawn.

ADDED ATTRACTION
Joe North will speak to-night in the Columbia Theatre in addition to the regular picture program. A large crowd is expected to be on hand to hear Mr. North air his political views. Mr. North will take the platform about 8:30.

SUES SLAYERS.—This is Mrs. Louise Hoagy, of Chicago, mother of three children, who has filed suit for $100,000 in Cook County Circuit Court against Nathan Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb. She charges the confessed slayers of Robert Franks invited her into an automobile, then attacked her and threw her from the machine.

SLAYER'S NURSE.—Nathan Leopold, Jr.'s, suppressed egoism led him to take part in the murder of Robert Franks, 14-year-old Chicago schoolboy, thinks his former nurse and companion, Mrs. Pauline Van den Bosch of Martinez, Calif. "He had to find some outlet—and that was the only way he knew."

IN NEW BROADCAST ROLE.—Wendell Hall, who has entertained radio fans across the continent, is shown here broadcasting his most important speech which went something like this: "I do!" Hall was groom in a radio wedding to Marion Martin, Chicago, the ceremony taking place at Station WEAF, New York. It is estimated that 4,000,000 listened in on the service.

BILLY AND MA IN TRIM AGAIN!—Billy and Ma Sunday are getting ready to hit the road again. Both are feeling as fit as ever, after a several weeks sojourn at a sanatorium in Rochester, Minn. One can see that by their latest picture taken on their arrival in Chicago. After a brief rest they will resume evangelistic work.

TO WED.—Anne Stillman, daughter of the millionaire banker, James A. Stillman, who will be married in October to Henry P. Davison, Jr., son of the late H. P. Davison, who was partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. and a leading financial figure. There is a romance of long standing, for they had known each other since childhood.

CAMPAIGN CANDY.—In the old days it was the "campaign" cigar. But Emily Smith, daughter of Governor Al Smith, New York, uses "campaign candy" to win the feminine voters, for she's out campaigning for her daddy.

WHEN SHRINERS PLAYED.—Shriners from all over the country vied with one another in freak stunts in the parade which ended their national convention in Kansas City, Mo. Here is the San Francisco delegation and its fifty-foot dragon.

CHAMPION MAIL-BAG SEWER.—Every twenty-fifth person in the United States could have a mail bag if those sewed by Mrs. Carrie Hurley, Washington, D.C., had been equally distributed. She has been "sewing a mean seam" for twenty-six years and those interested in statistics figure she has stitched 4,650,000 sperate bags.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

"MILKWEED SILK."—Sydney Joyce, picturesque 84-year-old resident of Templeton, Mass., who has produced from the glossy "silk" of the common milkweed a fibre possessing the best qualities of both silk and cotton. A number of similar discoveries have previously been announced, only to be finally discredited.

Trips to court are becoming more frequent now for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks. Here are the defendants (Leopold, left, and Loeb, right) before Chief Justice John R. Caverly of Cook County Criminal Court, Chicago, at the dismissal of the habeas corpus petition attorneys had filed in their behalf. Standing just back of them is a deputy sheriff.

SIX-MILE CAMERA FOR JUNGLE.—Captain A. W. Stevens, famed aerial photographer, and his "six-mile camera" for long-distance shooting, which will be used on the Hamilton Rice expedition which will go 3,000 miles up the Amazon River.

DOG ADOPTS DUCKLING.—Everybody knows that water will roll off a duck's back, but it here appears that a duck doesn't roll off a dog's back. "Scout," pedigreed setter of Wm. Estabrook, Syracuse, has adopted the tiny mallard as a playmate.

SPECIALTIES MAKE FURTHER HEADWAY

New York, June 17.—(By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—The market was higher during the forenoon, outside buying was more spirited and more diversified.

The news from the other side was viewed in a more favorable light. The cuts in crude oil seems to have pretty well spent their force and apparently were more or less discounted.

Railroad stocks have been absorbing quite a little profit taking of a scattered sort in the last few days, but prices still maintained at or around the best levels recorded in the recent upward movement.

We still believe that securities are in a period where price gains will be registered rather than otherwise, although in the near future sections, reluctance to follow the general market movement may be observable.

NO ELECTION IN BRITAIN IN SUMMER, STATES MACDONALD

London, June 17.—The House of Commons, after debating the Government bill for the extension of the election of tenants who do not pay their rent because of unemployment, last night rejected all the amendments proposed by the Opposition. The Government was aided by the Liberal votes and the bill, thus restored to its original condition, will go back to the House, which may either persist in the amendments or accept the decision of the Commons.

Following subsequent debate on a measure dealing with street traffic, the Government sustained an adverse vote, which, however, had no political significance.

The Labor Government will still be in power, in the opinion of Premier MacDonald. He stated in the House yesterday that he was perfectly certain that the November session would be reached without a general election.

The skin on both my head and face was red and swollen and awfully sore. The breaking out caused disfigurement, and I lost nearly all my hair."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief, and at the end of three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. Hall, Washington, Nov. 8, 1923.

BIGGEST CROWD GREETED CANDIDATE AT SPOKE MEETING

F. R. Carlow Assured Support of Fifty Per Cent of Otter Point Electors

What was said to be the largest gathering seen in the election campaign in the Esquimalt riding thus far, assembled at Spoke last night to greet F. R. Carlow, Liberal candidate in the constituency. Mr. Carlow was enthusiastically received, and spoke at length to the crowded meeting. Hon. John Hart also addressed the electors present.

"My opponent from the Conservative camp, R. H. Pooley, said that I would not get a single vote from Otter Point," Mr. Carlow asserted last night. "There are fifty electors in the Otter Point district, and I am pleased to know that there are twenty-five of these who have motored fifteen miles to hear me talk and to give me the support which I have enlisted to-night. For representation in the Government of the country, which my opponent believed to be entirely Conservative, it is indeed pleasing for me to see so many pre-occupied with the Government of the country as to the sentiments of the people everywhere," he said.

Replying to the criticism of his tactics by Mr. Pooley, as published in the morning paper, Mr. Carlow remarked that his opponent had smiled at his method of campaign. "Well," he said by way of reply, "I am glad that the people have got a smile from Mr. Pooley, for that is all they have had for the past ten years."

BENEFICIAL MEASURES

When Mr. Pooley says that the Liberal Government has not increased its business during its term of office, except by additions to the tax collecting force, he is in error, and apparently has sat for eight years without noticing the Mothers' Pensions Act, the Workmen's Compensation measure, and various other pieces of legislation which have been accomplished by the Government to the satisfaction and commendation of the people," said Mr. Carlow.

The speaker dealt with the freight question and stated that the Government by giving the continued support of the electors that they might obtain those benefits for which Premier Oliver has been striving for the past several months. Mr. Carlow also shared the truth about the Port Mann deal and General A. D. McRae's connection with it.

Hon. John Hart outlined the position of the Province's finances, saying that they were in splendid condition, and that compared to other provinces of Canada, and indeed to the Dominion itself, the people of British Columbia were in a fortunate and happy position. The sinking funds were growing, and the net debt was only $27,000,000. Mr. Hart stated, amid applause, and he went on to outline the various items which made this laudable position possible.

Following the meeting the people attending enjoyed an informal dance, a pleasing accompaniment. The social entertainment terminated at an early hour of the morning.

Five-Year Term is Given in Vancouver

Vancouver, June 17.—Five years in the penitentiary was the term given yesterday by Magistrate Shaw to Francis Miles, charged with having in his possession forged bank notes. He had a number of bank notes, running into several thousand dollars, together with a large quantity of currency, apparently cut from similar bills.

In addition, he had one United States $2 bill which had been raised to a $20, and on this the charge was based.

Third Party Speakers Find Benches Coldly Empty For George Jay Rally

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, ho! Uncle Wiggily!" loudly called Nurse Jane "Pussy" Wiggily one morning, as the bunnymaster hopped down the front walk from his hollow stump bungalow.

"Yes! What is it?" asked Mr. Longears, turning back.

"Will you please stop at the barber pig's and ask him to come up here?" went on the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Why in the world do you want the barber pig?" asked the rabbit.

"Well, he knows that though Miss Pussy Wiggily, being a muskrat lady, had whiskers, still she never shaved."

"I want the barber pig to give the front lawn grass a hair cut," said Nurse Jane. "It is getting very long."

"Oh—the grass, yes, it does need cutting," said Mr. Longears, as he looked across the lawn. "But there is no need to call in the barber pig."

"Then why will you cut the grass?" asked Nurse Jane.

"I will!" bravely cried Uncle Wiggily. "I have a lawn mower; I will cut the grass."

"Good!" cried Nurse Jane. "But be careful not to cut your pinky without that."

"Indeed, I would!" chuckled the rabbit. "And I'll be very careful. I'll hop down the street and get an ice cream cone. Then I'll come back and cut the grass."

"Do you think the ice cream cone will help you cut the grass?" asked the muskrat lady.

"Oh, no," answered Uncle Wiggily. "But cutting grass is very warm work, and the ice cream cone will make me cool. I'll soon return, Nurse."

So Uncle Wiggily went hippity-hop down to the ice cream cone store, where he bought himself a large strawberry-flavored one, and then he hopped back to his bungalow and got ready to cut the grass.

powerful than common sense prompted the latter. He could not and would not leave Phyllis alone. And so he decided on a compromise, if when daylight came no one had been up to the room, he would go; but he would wait until then. She'd feel safer once the night was over, and in the dawn he would be able to find his way outside more easily.

"And he was just going to tell Phyllis what he had decided, when he heard a sound that killed the words on his lips. A door opened below, and men's voices came floating up the stairs.

"Lie down, darling," he breathed in her ear, "and pretend to be asleep."

Without a word she did as he told her, while Hugh tiptoed over towards the door. There were steps coming up the stairs, and he flattened himself against the wall—waiting. The period of indecision was passed; unless he was very much mistaken he had heard a sound that killed the words on his lips. A door opened below, and men's voices came floating up the stairs.

"There was only one of them, he noted with a sigh of relief—but for all that silence would be essential. It would take time to find the key; it would take even longer to get Phyllis free and out of the house. So there must be no risk of an alarm whatever happened.

The steps paused outside the door, and he heard a muttered ejaculation in Italian. It was his own particular friend of the long-armed bird, and he grinned gently to himself. Apparently he was concerned over something, and it suddenly dawned on Drummond that it was the absence from duty of the long-armed bird that was causing the surprise. In the excitement of the moment he had forgotten all about him, and for one awful second his heart stood still. Suppose the Italian discovered the body before he entered the room, then the game was up with a vengeance. Once the alarm was given he'd have to run the gauntlet of the whole crowd over ground he didn't know.

But his fears were groundless; the nondiscovery of the watcher by the door took the Italian the other way.

"This first thought was to make sure that the gift was safe, and he swung open the door and saw in the darkness a grant of satisfaction as he saw her lying on the bed; then like a spitting cat he swung round as he felt Drummond's hand on his shoulder.

"E pericoloso sporgersi!" muttered Hugh pleasantly, recalling the other Italian words he knew.

"Do mind!" stammered the other, with trembling lips. Like most southerners he was superstitious, and he told that it was dangerous to lean out of the window by a man whom he knew to be drowned was too much for him. It was a ghost; it could be nothing else, and his knees suddenly felt strangely weak.

LIBERALS GIVEN BIG RECEPTION ON EVE OF ELECTION

F. A. Pauline Addresses Large Audience at Sluggots, Saanich

Hon. F. A. Pauline, late member for Saanich in the Provincial Legislature, Speaker of the House, and again a candidate in the constituency for the coming poll, last night spoke before a large crowd at Sluggots. Mr. Pauline thanked his hearers warmly for their reception of his remarks, and the support which he anticipated in the election.

He had worked, he told them, the best way he knew how through all the eight years he had represented Saanich in the Legislature, and he assured them that every day in the week, and every week in the year, was a busy one for the man who wished to do his duty to the electors. There was every indication, he said, that the fruits of his labors, might soon be realized. It was his greatest ambition to have at least a part in bringing to Vancouver Island the development of the great iron resources which belonged to its people, and the consequent wealth and prosperity which would undoubtedly follow upon such, he asserted. He believed firmly that the time was not far distant when capital would realize the value of the island's vast ore fields, and begin that industry which would once more make the country a place of which to be proud, and where a living should be assured every man and woman.

On the eve of the poll, Mr. Pauline expressed confidence that the hard work he had done would not pass unnoticed. He had been largely instrumental in putting the Saanich wine industry upon its first foundation and the rapid growth which this success for the business venture, "Vin Soliel," a beverage manufactured by Saanich loganberries, by Saanich workers and the fruit itself grown by Saanich farmers, was something that Mr. Pauline had made possible.

Mr. Pauline spoke too, of the main object of the Government was to keep its expenditure within its revenue, and with the advertisement of this policy the financial houses, as a rule the best judges of a country's standing, had acknowledged that under Premier Oliver's Government the Province had achieved marked success and placed itself in a far more stable condition.

Mr. Pauline spoke briefly upon the timber question. There had been statements made by men in the Opposition, that the logs shipped out of B.C. were working a hardship upon the people and at the same time enriching the American timber manufacturers. Mr. Pauline pointed out that it was the Government's policy to have every log possible made into lumber inside the Province, but that there was a surplus cut which kept men employed and lumber camps open, which was shipped into the United States. This was a small portion of the total B.C. timber cut, however, he asserted.

DR. RAYNOR'S SPEECH

Dr. M. Raynor, a candidate for the Provincial House in the city of Victoria, spoke in the interest of Mr. Pauline, and lauded the work done by him and by the Oliver Government as a whole. The social welfare work he particularly commended, but said that there was still much to be done in this regard, and that it was his object to accomplish at least a part of the desired change.

The speaker referred to the fine working of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and other reforms, and said that the country could not have too much of such legislation, but that the present Liberal regime was upon the right course.

Care of the health of a nation was another of Dr. Raynor's desires which he said, was all important in a country's state of vigor and growth. The nation wished to be prepared for any possible emergency. It was well to safeguard the health of its people, especially its young people, asserted the speaker, and he believed that this was a better social legislation which he advocated.

STAKE ONE DOLLAR CONSIDERATION OUT

Ald. Marchant Raises Question on Property For Elk Lake Park

The item of one dollar put as the consideration for which the city received a piece of property at Elk Lake from the Piercy Estate was struck from the John Piercy Estate Waterworks Land Purchase By-law on the suggestion of Alderman Marchant before final passing of the by-law last night. The property was presented to the city by the Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee and the nominal sum of one dollar was mentioned as the consideration for which it was turned over to the city. The consideration shown in the deed is $1.00. Alderman Marchant thought the $1.00 stated might be misleading and suggested that the two transactions be recited in the by-law. Alderman Marchant's motion for a final reading when Alderman Marchant raised the question, with the council unanimous on the $1.00 being struck out it was ordered so amended.

BOND TRANSACTION IS BEST SINCE WAR

Finance Committee Chairman Pleased With Price Given City on Refunding Issue

After Alderman Sargent, chairman of the finance committee had described it as the best sale of bonds since the war, the council last night accepted the offer of a syndicate composed of Dominion Securities Corporation, Wood, Gundy Co. and A. E. Ames & Co. on $55,000 five per cent, twenty-year sinking fund debentures. The offer was for principal and interest payable in New York in United States gold coin and in Canada in Canadian funds of the sum of $612,713.50 and accrued interest, being at the rate of 9.19 and accrued interest, payment for the bonds and delivery of same to be made in New York in New York funds. It was noted that the price at current exchange rates is equivalent approximately to 94.70 or better than the 5 per cent money of Canada.

The finance committee also recommended that the principal and interest of issue of sinking fund debentures be payable at the holder's option in local money of Canada in the Bank of Montreal in Victoria, Toronto or Montreal or in gold coin at the agency of the Bank of Montreal in New York.

FIRST SINCE WAR

As chairman of the finance committee Alderman Sargent pointed out that it was the first five per cent bond the city had sold since the war, and it was the best issue since the war, and it should be satisfying to the aldermen who have been striving to better the financial condition of the city. It was the best issue since the war, and it should be satisfying to the aldermen who have been striving to better the financial condition of the city. It was the best issue since the war, and it should be satisfying to the aldermen who have been striving to better the financial condition of the city.

DR. SCHOFIELD SEEKS COAL IN FAR EAST

Home From Investigating Fuel Resources of Hongkong Island

Dr. S. J. Schofield, professor of geology in the University of British Columbia, accompanied by Mrs. Schofield, returned from Hongkong yesterday on the liner Empress of Russia.

For the past eight months Dr. Schofield has been conducting a geological survey of the island of Hongkong under the auspices of the U.B.C., which institution occupies the unique position of being the only university under whose auspices such a survey is being made.

The chief object of this undertaking is to determine whether or not coal exists on the island of Hongkong, Dr. Schofield explained, and although it is too early to reach any definite conclusion, Dr. Schofield was most enthusiastic as to this possibility.

Silver-lead has already been mined in this region by the Chinese, and the existence of coal on the mainland adjacent to Hongkong would indicate its existence in the British colony. The survey will occupy another four years, Dr. Schofield further stated, and it is expected that Dr. Williams, professor of paleontology at the U.B.C., will go to Hongkong in the early fall to undertake the study of fossils on the island.

Dr. Schofield will leave soon for Arizona to look into some copper properties near Phoenix belonging to a large British mining firm.

BARBERS PROTEST HIGH LICENSE FEE

Letter From Association Referred to Finance Committee of Council

Arguments against the city license tax on barbers were advanced in a letter from the Licensed Barbers' Association read at the City Council last night as a result of the recent deputation. The communication was referred to the Taxation Committee with a suggestion by Alderman Sargent that it be given immediate attention. A Vancouver barber can run a twenty-chair shop for less than a Victoria barber can run a two-chair shop, the letter stated. In New Westminster and Nanaimo a barber can run a twenty-chair shop at 100 per cent less than a Victoria barber can run a single chair.

ALD. TODD REVIEWS FINANCES OF CITY

Urges Chamber of Commerce to Take Interest in Civic Affairs

A review on civic finances was given by Ald. A. E. Todd at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. The figures showed, he said, that during the last seven years the city's gross debt has been reduced by $1,626,125. He pointed out that in that term large borrowings have taken place. The bonded indebtedness on January 1, 1917, was $18,789,000, and on December 31, 1923, $17,152,865.

The city's waterworks was about paying its way. He suggested a continuation of the policies brought about to effect the improvements he claimed and urged the chamber to take an interest in such matters were elected to continue these policies.

CONTINUE FIGHT ON TOLL PHONE SYSTEM

H. O. Kirkham Again Presents Case to Chamber of Commerce

Reporting on the new telephone toll system placing Cedar Bay and Cadboro Bay in the Gordon Head zone, H. O. Kirkham yesterday stated to the directors that he believed it was imperative for the Chamber of Commerce to join other bodies in protesting against the change before the Railway Commission. He repeated arguments previously advanced against the change which he said besides being a great inconvenience was a hardship on some of the old subscribers who had paid a premium to get telephone connections.

It was decided to strengthen the hands of H. O. Kirkham in his protest before the Commission and also to ask the City Council to join with the Saanich Council in opposing the change.

TRAFFIC BY-LAW IS AGAIN CONSIDERED

One Hour Parking to be General; Parking on View Between Broad and Douglas

A one-hour parking limit wherever parking is permitted in the city was assented to by the City Council last night in further of the discussion of Streets Traffic Regulations By-law. In a redraft of the by-law, which is to be made by the city solicitor, parking on the south side of View Street at an angle of forty-five degrees, between Broad and Douglas, will also be provided for on the suggestion of Alderman Sargent seconded by Alderman Woodward. Alderman Ker's objections were voted down.

Alderman Dewar fought for the elimination of paving on the south side of Fort Street without success. Alderman Andros supported him in his fight, stating that the city should be the B.C. Electric to be considered, but the people who travel on the streets. There were more people used the street cars than there were motor cars, he said.

The clause regarding Fort Street, eventually, went through to provide for parking on the south side of Fort Street, between Government and Douglas Streets, no car, however, to park within fifty feet of the Douglas and Government Street intersections nor within less than six feet of another car, and such cars to stand within the space of seventy-four inches from the sidewalk curb.

REEVE LOCKLEY SCORES R. H. POOLEY

Esquimalt Has Yet to See Anything of Benefit From His Hands, Asserts Reeve

A prediction that he would be returned at the head of the polls in Esquimalt was made by Reeve Alexander Lockley to an audience of 100 people at the Saanich Club last night. The speaker disavowed any connection with the brewery interests, save that of a contractor. He had also contracted for work on a race track but his opponents did not make use of these latter engagements, he asserted.

The speaker paid considerable attention to R. H. Pooley, Liberal-Conservative candidate in the riding, and charged that Mr. Pooley has shirked an open nomination convention, fearing defeat. As he saw it the election in Esquimalt would be solely between himself and Mr. Pooley.

Denying outside backing the Reeve affirmed that nobody was helping in his election expenses, and said he would himself pay the whole cost. Turning to the record of Mr. Pooley, the speaker charged that Esquimalt residents were waiting yet for the outcome of any material road brought them by Mr. Pooley.

The speaker closed with a reference to the Liberal and Third party candidates, whose opposition at the polls he did not fear.
