ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY

APRIL 12, 1916

CARMEL, CALIFORNIA

VOL. 2, NO. 11

Not to be Shown Here

Since last week's announcement that Albert Besnard's two great paintings would be exhibited here, it has been found necessary to send the paintings to Los Angeles from San Francisco direct. So, for the present at least, Carmelites and other peninsula residents will be unable to gaze upon these wonderful creations.

Music and Prizes

Quite a gathering of children and adults were on hand at Mrs. Carrington's studio on Friday evening for the annual distribution of prizes for proficiency in music. The splendid progress of some of the pupils was evidenced by the rendition of several difficult numbers. Pleasant little talks and refreshments took up the balance of the evening.

Cottages for the Easter vacation and for the Summer. Inquire at the "Pine Cone" office.

Bids for Construction of Carmel-Monterey Road

The following bids were filed with the Board of Supervisors for the building of the highway from Carmel to Monterey: V. M. Price, $25,424.50; W. A. Dontanville, $26,943.60; G. Snyder & Co., $25,505.60; A. J. & J. L. Fairbanks, $31,159.10. All bids were rejected save that of the first-named, which was taken under advisement.

New Fire Commission

At a recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors, a petition was presented asking for the appointment of a Fire Commission for Carmel. The board complied by appointing S. J. Wyatt, J. E. Nichols and W. T. Kibbler.

The Pine Cone fund is growing. Previously acknowledged $31.00

Election Board and Polling Place

The following have been appointed to serve as election officers for the May primary: C. O. Gould, inspector; W. E. Martin, L. H. Leidig, Helen W. Parkes, clerks; Effie A. McLean, John L. Williams, judges.

Wilson's garage office will be the polling place.

Jolly parties for the movies at the Manzanita Theatre, on Tuesdays and Saturdays, are now in order.

All Sorts of News

Ferdinand Burgdorff, who formerly resided here, and who later, after a trip around the world, established a studio at Mill Valley, recently had an exhibition of his work at Cleveland, O.

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday. The churches of Carmel extend a cordial invitation to visitors to attend the services.

The brush is being cleared from the property about Arts and Crafts Hall, and a beautiful garden is to be planted.

Their new home completed and the furnishings having arrived from the East, the Watts will move this week.

Perry Newberry was one of the speakers before the local Socialist organization at the weekly meeting Friday evening.

At Mil Arboles, Mrs. A. V. Cotton's beautiful place, next Friday afternoon from 3 to 5, there is to be a garden party tea for the Carmel Library. On this occasion it is expected that Miss Laura Cotton and her orchestra will be on hand.

The first issue of the Carmel Library Quarterly Bulletin will be issued this week. Those receiving the publication are urged to preserve the numbers, as eventually they will form a complete catalogue of the volumes in the Library.

Eugene V. Debs will speak at Monterey on Monday evening, April 24. The Socialists of Carmel will attend in full force.

School Election

The strenuous striving for votes, the racing of automobiles through our streets, and the abuse of the opposing candidate, which marked the local school election in October, were entirely absent at last Friday's election. It was an orderly, dignified affair.

Miss M. DeNeale Morgan was chosen to succeed Mrs. M. E. Hand as trustee of Sunset School, and W. T. Kibbler to membership on the Monterey Union High School board. Sixty-two votes were cast.

Carmel Library Report

March library statistics, reported by Mrs. Sydney Yard, Librarian, are as follows:

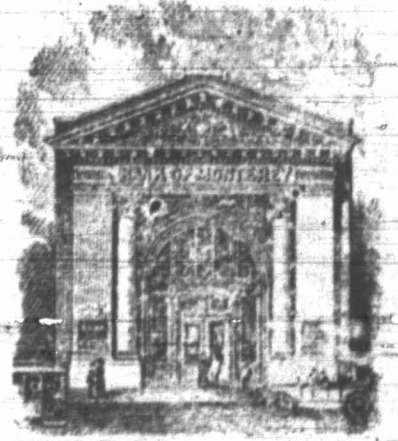

Books entered, 36; by gift 34, by purchase 2; Volumes in library 3056. Cardholders added, 19. Circulation - Fiction 354, non-fiction 160, juvenile 80, magazines 144; total 738.

CLUB NOTES

By MISS I. A. JORNEON

The Young Men's club entertained the Campfire Girls at an April First Party on that date. There was a full attendance of girls with their Guardian, Mrs. S. C. Thomas, and the young men were well represented. Interesting games were played, and when refreshments were served there were plenty of surprises suitable to the day. Cotton, little onions, cayenne pepper and other unexpected ingredients were found by the unwary. A joyful time came to an end with rousing songs, and all felt that April First was all right for a party.

The Boys' Club has an active membership of fourteen, and the meetings are devoted to reading, games, singing, and last, but far from least, refreshments. We very much need more games—crokinole, parchesi, checkers and others suitable for several to play. We desire to again thank those who assist so generously with the refreshments, but please remember that each week brings its hungry crowd.

Lost An umbrella, about a month ago, probably left in the vestibule of the Methodist Church. Reward of $1.50 will be paid for its return to Pine Cone office or to Camino Real and Ninth ave.

Easter Egg Hunt

At 9 o'clock on Easter Sunday morning, at Curtis park, on Ocean avenue, the egg-hunt will begin.

Every little tot in Carmel is invited to take part in the search. A large number of eggs will be hidden in various nooks and corners. Come and find them.

"Hung by the Neck Until Dead"

When Cotton had nothing else to do, being an observing and prolific writer, he made an entry in his diary. Telling of a custom which was in vogue in California in 1847, he wrote:

"There is an old Mexican law or usage here which has sometimes exempted from death the murderer who has reached the sanctuary of the church or been favored with some accident in the execution of the extreme sentence.

"Two desperadoes of Mexican and Indian blood were brought before me, charged with willful deliberate murder. A jury of twelve citizens, the largest scope of challenge having been allowed, was impaneled. The prisoners were convicted and sentenced to be hung. But by some strange accident or design, both knots slipped, and down they came, half imagining themselves still swinging in the air.

"The priest who confessed them, and who was present among the great crowd, immediately declared the penalty paid and the criminals absolved, and started in post haste to General Mason for his mandate to that effect. The general told him the prisoners were sentenced to be hung by the neck until dead, and that when this sentence had been executed, the knot-slipping business might perhaps be considered.

"This may seem to have been dictated by a want of humanity, but had the accident or stratagem in question rescued the criminals, not a noose in California would have held. The murderers were executed, and the crime for which they suffered vanished from the future records of the court."

Intellectual gifts are like gifts of strength, or wealth, or rank, or worldly power—splendid instruments if nobly used—but requiring qualities to use them nobler and better than themselves.—J. A. Froude.

Getting the Best

Contemporary reference to Shakespeare and his works are not all complimentary. Agitation against use of several of his plays in the schools is growing, and officials in some sections are yielding to pressure from sensitive protestants.

Let the combination of racial, moral and religious objection to plays, histories and hymns that run counter to the views of groups in the United States work out its perfect fruit, and we shall have the most neutral literary classics and text books to be found among the nations.

We Are Acquiring It

A more active community spirit is pervading many of the small towns of the country, Carmel among them. This is well for many reasons. It is well that the idea has exploded that only large cities have need for such a spirit.

Local patriotism is as much required in a place of a few hundred as in one of several thousand. It is a center, and as such it is in duty bound to do the very best it can for itself in every way—commercially, artistically, morally.

The true community spirit is not selfish. It is marked by wise loyalty, a hearty cooperation, real support to its business concerns and of its institutions, and it can and does have these desirable attributes without in any manner running down or belittling other and nearby community centers.

All together! Boost Carmel!

It might be well, in view of the fact that hundreds of persons are now visiting the Forest Theatre grounds, to clean up a bit.

Giant Redwoods

O mighty trees! magnificently bearing
Proud crests on high of ever verdant leaf!
All towering skyward in exultant daring,
Among great rivals ever first and chief!
You come as from a giant age
Throwing to Language your proud gage:
Saying, "Describe us in choice words precisely fit."
And Language, seconded by loyal Wit,
Observing the upthrust of each great shaft
Waving its streamers,
Turneth with pardonable craft
To raptures of the poets and dreamers
For help—but findeth none;—
And with her hope quite gone,
So soon as decency can well permit
She slinketh off in tongue-tied shame
Because she cannot fitly name
That wondrous sight,
Or tell aright
The Beauty, Majesty and Power of it.

A Market Report by Mr. Uchimoto

P. Cone, Esq.

Opining stomach would soon be vacuum, I enter butchery store by name of Mr. L. Dangerous Field for purpose of purchase one (1) cal's liver which I trust may be antidote. He feel regret to report this item are slightly out of stock hence it may be easily observe that this chunk of fatness will be found much more nutritious "Oh my! I could make lovely stews of this," while affectionately patting large section of bovine.

Am pleased to announce I am much chagrin, while stopping knives, to say I must pay twelve cents and three third for this, while standing on hools, hence you will, of course, realize benefits of same. I therefore compromise by making purchase of thickish slices of pork's meat, which he assure are most delicious spot to be found in Hon. pig.

Trusting you are the same.
