Officers And Directors Outline Season's Activities For Tuesday Afternoon Club

WOMEN HOLD SESSION TO DECIDE ON POLICIES

Luncheons and Programs to Be Among Features of Organization

By KATHERINE V. SINKS

The board met from 10:30 till 2:15 o'clock and discussed and formulated plans, which when executed will convert the Tuesday Afternoon Club into one of the most perfect women's organizations in California.

Every board member was present and all curators with the exception of two met with them for the conference on plans for the coming year.

Formulate Plans The board met from 10:30 till 2:15 o'clock and discussed and formulated plans, which when executed will convert the Tuesday Afternoon Club into one of the most perfect women's organizations in California.

With the opening of the club year in October the schedule of meetings every Tuesday afternoon or regular club sessions and programs will be inaugurated. On the first and third Tuesdays, preceding the regular meeting hour, a luncheon will be served in the banquet room to club members.

Announce Plans During the luncheon the clubwomen will entertain special speakers and at the hour for the regular club meeting they will adjourn to the auditorium for the business session and program.

In connection with the regular club meetings every Tuesday afternoon it was announced that during the next year the club meeting will open at 2:30 o'clock and that business will be transacted until 3 o'clock when the president will be at liberty to close the meeting and introduce the program chairman, who, in turn, will introduce the program artists.

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, who is to serve as program chairman, has been allotted a bigger program for the coming year than any program chairman has ever had at her command. At yesterday's meeting she announced the program.

Mr. Bode urges all who desire to take part in these tournaments to make their registrations early.

William Bode, chairman of the committee of Community Service in charge of the forthcoming series of tennis tournaments, announces the following personnel of his committee: George E. Farmer, Frank Balthis, Howard Butlerfield, Miss Mary Barbara Taylor and Miss Lillian Shattuck.

Republicans To Face Cut In Majority

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Opponents of the Harding administration, both within and without the Republican party, were jubilant today over the election of Magnus Johnson, the farmer-labor candidate, to the seat in the United States senate which Knute Nelson, a Republican, occupied for more than a quarter of a century.

Johnson's election has reduced the Republican majority in the Sixty-eighth Congress to only six votes, compared with twenty-one in the last Congress. Assuming that a Republican successor is named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Dillingham of Vermont, the new Congress will have fifty-one Republicans, forty-three Democrats and two Farmer-Laborites.

Senator Henrik Shipstead, who defeated Frank Kellogg last year and will be Minnesota's senior senator in the next Congress, has already lined up with the "La Follette progressives," and it is expected here that Senator-Elect Johnson will follow his lead.

ASTRAL SOUL MATE AIDS DEFENSE

Accused Woman Plans to Offer Pretended 'Affair' At Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—The remarkable defense to be advanced by Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich when she is placed on trial for the murder of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, rich Milwaukee manufacturer, was revealed in part today, the police said. That an "astral soul mate" is to be the chief factor in the accused woman's defense was part of the story reaching the authorities.

Though faithful to her husband, according to the story that will be told in Mrs. Oesterreich's defense, it is said she nevertheless is alleged to have pretended that she had an affair with another man with whom, as the chief episode of her so-called astral episode, she "had taken a trip to San Francisco."

While the police have not revealed the case against Mrs. Oesterreich, it is now reported that their theory of a "mystery man" as a factor in the case was built up around this astral character.

STOCK MARKET STEADY

NEW YORK, July 17.—The stock market closed steady today, many issues advancing in the final trade and showing net gains for the day.

William Bode Selects Aids To Promote Tennis Tourney

COLORADO FLOODS GROW

FARM-LABOR CANDIDATE WINNER

Magnus Johnson Chosen to U. S. Senate by About 50,000 Plurality

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—Two members of the farmer-labor party now represent the state of Minnesota in the United States senate following yesterday's election which resulted in the selection of Magnus Johnson to succeed the seat left vacant by death of the late Knute Nelson.

Governor J. A. Preus, the Republican candidate, conceded his defeat at midnight. Johnson's plurality is expected to reach 50,000.

The other Farmer-Labor member from Minnesota is Senator Henrik Shipstead, elected last fall at the regular elections. The majority of Magnus Johnson over J. A. O. Preus will probably reach 65,000, early morning returns showed. Of the 3,521 precincts of the state reporting early today, 2,353 gave Johnson 213,562 and Preus 178,126, a lead of over 35,000 for Johnson, with a third of the state to hear from.

Favors Soldier Bonus Johnson piled up a majority of over 4,000 in St. Paul and lost Minneapolis, Preus' home, by only 341 votes, in spite of the fact that Republicans expected that city to give Preus 20,000 lead to go out in the country with.

The remaining vote to hear from in the state is practically all a farmer vote, which it is believed will go even more heavily than reported precincts for Johnson, who is a farmer and who has benefited by the disastrous slump in wheat prices on the Minneapolis chamber of commerce the last week.

Johnson favors a soldier bonus and probably will follow the policies of Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, leader of the Republican insurgents.

Presents Suggestions To Minimize Raids

PEKING, July 17.—Three proposals designed to minimize in the future the chances of further disastrous raids by Chinese bandits on railroads are urged by the Linchong Indemnity Commission which has completed its investigation of the holdup of the Shanghai-Peking express in which many foreigners were captured and held for ransom.

OFFICIALS CONFER

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt conferred today with the commandants of the navy yards on the Atlantic coast to work out plans for the scrapping of the battleships and cruisers which the navy must dispose of under the 5-5-3 naval treaty.

MINING TOWN AFIRE

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 17.—The mining town of Anyox, six miles north of Prince Rupert, is ablaze, according to wireless reports received here today from the steamer Griffo, of the Granby company. The message gave no details.

Hunt For Slayer Of Man Believed To Have Been Locked In Poison Gas Plant

WHITTIER, July 17.—Firmly convinced that a killing had been committed by the hitherto unheard-of method of "gas murder," deputy sheriffs today sought clues in the slaying of F. A. Farnsworth, prominent Whittier man, whose body was found yesterday in a fumigation plant, where he apparently had been held a prisoner until suffocated. An intention today was to photograph finger prints on the gas tank in the lethal room. Discovery that the dead man's clothing had been removed and a sum of money was missing, spurred officers in their hunt. Farnsworth, who was 54, is survived by his widow and a son.

Trapped in Fire, Five Families Are Rescued With Difficulty

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Five families narrowly escaped death when the two story apartment house in which they lived in east Eighth street was completely destroyed by fire today which did damage estimated at $15,000. The families were only saved from the burning building by nearby residents and pedestrians who rushed into the burning building, awakened them.

One of the tenants, Mrs. Marguerite Cunningham, almost lost her life when she delayed leaving the building in order to save a few personal belongings.

Senator Brookhart In Favor Of Congress Aid To Farmers

NEW YORK, July 17.—United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, will go to Washington at once to demand a special session of congress to enact legislation for the relief of American farmers, he announced this afternoon. Senator Brookhart has just returned from Europe where he investigated agricultural and economic conditions in fifteen countries, especially soviet Russia.

Most notable of the conclusions formed by Senator Brookhart from his investigation are thus summed up:

LATEST NEWS

M'ADDOO CALLED TO TESTIFY FOR MORSE WASHINGTON, July 17.—Former Secretary of the Treasury William Gibbs McAdoo took the witness stand today to testify for the defense in the trial of Charles W. Morse, New York financier and shipbuilder, and his three sons, under federal indictment for conspiracy to defraud the government during the war.

SENATOR JOHNSON SAILS FOR AMERICA LONDON, July 17.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson of California, departed for home today after making an investigation of European conditions. Senator Johnson refused to give an interview, but said that his views would be presented to some extent in a speech he will make in New York shortly after his arrival. The speech will be written on shipboard.

SEEK LOCATION ON WHICH TO BUILD TOWN SPOKANE, Wash., July 17.—Burke, Idaho, destroyed by fire last Friday, may not rebuild on its present location, reports received here today indicated. Both the Northern Pacific and Oregon-Washington railroad companies, which own the greater part of the land on which the town stood, are said to be opposed to rebuilding on the old site. The townsite is in a narrow canyon surrounded by a forest. It is likely a new location will be sought.

HEAVY LOSS TO PROPERTY IS REPORT

Huge Dam, Holding Back Large Amount of Water, Menace to Denver

DENVER, July 17.—Property damage which cannot be estimated was caused by a succession of cloudbursts in the vicinity of Parker, Colo., late last night, causing the flood waters to overflow the Castlewood dam, fifty miles south of this city, sending a flood down Cherry creek, inundating several smaller towns and threatening the entire Cherry creek valley.

Fear that the flood waters, which were pouring over the Castlewood dam would undermine that structure, caused flood warnings to be sent out by telephone and messenger to residents of Frankton, Parker, Melvin, Sullivan and the lower sections of Denver. Residents and farmers of these sections spent the night on nearby hills.

At an early hour this morning the flood waters were still rushing over the huge dam and the situation remained unchanged. With the great dam holding back billions of gallons of water, officials said, that in the event the dam should break, the entire valley would be wiped out including a large section of Denver.

John E. Field, who engineered the building of the Castle Wood dam, said this morning that while the structure was sufficiently strong enough to withstand whatever strain the lake behind it could build up under ordinary flood conditions, the rains of last night from mountain streams had rushed into the lake so quickly that it was impossible to reach the spillways which lie in the center of the wall and that the danger was increased because of this.

"If the Castle Wood dam ever breaks, though," said Mr. Field, "it will flood Denver and the towns between Castle Wood to an almost unbelievable extent. Parker, Frankton and Sullivan and the other towns would probably be wiped out entirely, and terrific damage to Denver would result."

Guards have been placed by the city and county along Cherry creek with instruction to immediately flash to Denver any signs of danger.

Hundreds of lawns and basements throughout the city were flooded. Cattle and livestock were swept down-stream and the damage to farm lands will run up into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Several deaths have been reported from throughout the state, but an accurate estimate of loss of life cannot be made at this time.

Damage Is Heavy PUEBLO, Colo., July 17.—Cloudbursts and heavy rains which swept the south portion of this state late last night caused heavy damage as thus unestimated, the death of at least one person and paralyzed telephone, telegraph and rail communication.

Seven Millions Slowly Starving Says Official

BERLIN, July 17.—"It is conservatively estimated that 7,000,000 German men and women are slowly starving to death as a result of the industrial crisis and the fatal plunge in the value of the mark," declared Dr. Heinrich Bruuns, German minister of labor, in an exclusive statement to International News Service today.

"They are people who were converted into paupers because the income upon which they formerly could have lived comfortably for a whole year will not buy bread for one week under present conditions. Then, there are millions living solely upon old social insurance premiums.

"The fall of the mark has reduced the sums—once sufficient for all necessities—to ridiculous pittance that will not buy a single newspaper today.

"We have 400,000 actually unemployed, but in addition there are millions comprising what the late Dr. Walter Rathenau called 'victims of hidden unemployment.' These millions are like the ballast of our industries and trade. They are kept at their jobs either at full time or part time, as the result of demobilization legislation."

SEEK WOMAN IN MYSTERY MURDER

Secret Information Causes Police to Hunt for 'Dark' Suspect

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—A woman, described as "dark" and wearing a long flowing black cape and hat to match, was sought by the police today after receiving secret information that she may be able to explain the mystery death of Redman L. Patterson, Chicago business man, whose badly decomposed body was found in a room of a fashionable Hollywood home yesterday.

The "secret information" is said to have come from a person who saw such a woman leaving Patterson's home about a week ago, the time he is believed to have met death either by poison or being shot.

Preparations were made today for a post-mortem examination of Patterson's body, with hopes of uncovering the exact cause of his death.

Convicts Take Yacht In Dash for Freedom

POCOMOKE CITY, Md., July 17.—Search for the stolen yacht Sunbeam, in which four escaped convicts are believed to be speeding toward the Virginia Capes, was instituted in the Pocomoke river and Chesapeake Bay, by C. E. Byrd, the Sunbeam's owner.

The convicts, after escaping from the Pennsylvania eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia, are thought to have taken the yacht last Sunday evening and headed toward Norfolk to join the rum fleet.

HEALTH FOOD CONCERN TO ADVERTISE CITY BY PRODUCTS

Markets Discovery Made by Blind Man; to Operate On Large Scale

GLENDALE gets another industry, a going concern, which is being moved here from Bakersfield. It is a health food factory owned by Dr. R. H. Schwartz of Bakersfield and A. H. Kellogg of Fresno, both of whom have been here for several days completing negotiations for the purchase of the Victor Manufacturing Company buildings on San Fernando road in the heart of Glendale's industrial district.

The principals of the corporation left the first of the week for San Francisco and Bakersfield, making arrangements for the installation of modern package machinery and the transfer of the present equipment from the Kern county seat. Their plans have not been divulged to local people, but it is understood they intend to operate on a large scale, manufacturing patent breakfast foods.

"Brown Betty" is the name of their principal product, a discovery made by Charlie Miller, a blind man, of Bakersfield, who met success in developing the business on a small scale, it is reported. Other foods will be handled here, however, to be used principally in sanitariums, it is understood. The intention of the firm is to make Glendale another Battle Creek in health food productions, the same as it has become famed as the Pacific portal of health through the upbuilding of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Product Satisfactory Incidentally, the Glendale Sanitarium already is using the "Brown Betty" food among its dietary delights, and, according to C. E. Kimlin, business manager of the institution, it is very satisfactory. He predicts a great future for the manufacture of health foods here, there being a large demand for such products.

This is the second breakfast food establishment for Glendale, the Los Angeles Milo Wheat factory being located here. Several other food products also are manufactured here, the conditions being ideal climatically and otherwise, it is reported.

To Advertise City Two other factories recently have moved from up state to Glendale, the Glendale Engineering company formerly having a plant at Modesto and the Rogers A-Drive Truck company coming here from Sunnyside.

The manufacture of package goods, however, is of great advertising value, for bearing the name of Glendale they are bound to attract attention to this community as an ideal industrial and home city, it is pointed out by those in touch with the situation.

Glendale Art Association To Hold Social Meeting

A social meeting of the Glendale Art association is announced for 8 o'clock Thursday night, July 19, at the Public Library on East Harvard street.

Mrs. Peter Krasnow, late of New York, who is now a resident of this community and a member of the Glendale Art association, will talk on "Community Art," maintaining that children should be given the best in art or nothing, that there can be no compromise in this field.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Morning Ceremony
At a quiet ceremony taking place this morning, Tuesday, July 17, 1923, at 11 o'clock, in the Church of the Angels, Los Angeles, Miss Ethlyn B. Stowe, daughter of Mrs. Elsie L. Stowe of 363 West Lomita avenue, became the bride of Edward Charles Coslett, formerly of Fort Williams, Can. Rev. Harry Thompson, rector of the Church of the Angels, read the Episcopal service which was witnessed only by immediate relatives on account of the recent death of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Albert H. Cleveland.

Those present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Elsie L. Stowe, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peart, and master Arthur Peart, Albert H. Cleveland, David A. Cleveland, and Miss Charlotte Cleveland, all of Glendale, and Miss Mary B. Cleveland of New York City.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, 363 West Lomita avenue, after which Mr. and Mrs. Coslett left for a trip through Southern California. Upon their return they will be home to their many friends at 1400 Fremont avenue, South Pasadena.

For the past two years, Mrs. Coslett has been connected with the South Pasadena High school as study hall director and vice-principal and will continue in that capacity.

Mr. Coslett has been engaged in business in Los Angeles since his return from service in the world war.

Dinner in Park
William Baker of the Escrow Department of the Glendale avenue branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank was pleasantly surprised Sunday when Mrs. Baker entertained a number of friends with a picnic dinner at Brookside park in the celebration of Mr. Baker's birthday anniversary.

The long dinner table was artistically decorated in pink and white. A large white birthday cake artistically decorated with pink sweet peas and the words "Sweet Sixteen" formed the centerpiece for the dinner table.

Following the dinner which was served at noon, the afternoon was devoted to a swimming party.

There were about forty guests present including employees of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank and Mr. and Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. J. Young of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Martin of Santa Ana. Mr. Martin is an old friend of Mr. Baker's, having been associated together in business several years ago when both were residents of Canada.

Fraternity Hosts
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Imler of 336 West Park avenue were hosts Saturday night at the regular monthly business meeting and social gathering of the alumni chapter of the Sigma Alpha Pi fraternity of the California Institute of Technology. More than forty persons were present, the evening being spent in cards, music and dancing.

ELKS BAND WILL PLAY AT PICNIC
Plans for the annual picnic of the Glendale Merchants' association, that is to be held on Wednesday, August 15, at Verdugo park, were advanced at the meeting of the association in the Citizens building yesterday when City Manager W. H. Reeves stated that he had succeeded in securing the Elks band for the occasion, switching the band from its regular Friday night concert at the Glendale Union high school to the day of the picnic. The Elks band is at present playing weekly concerts at the high school under an arrangement with the city, and the presence of the band at the Merchants' association picnic insures the success of the musical side of the day's entertainment.

Up till the present, the work of arranging the picnic has been in the hands of the trustees, Mr. Butts, Owen C. Emery, W. P. Potter, W. H. Hooper and H. S. Webb, but the details are increasing at such a rate that it has been found necessary to proceed with the appointment of committees at once, and these will be named within a few days. The Haddock-Nibley company, owners of Verdugo park, have granted the association the use of the park free of charge for the entire day of the picnic, and it is the aim of the officials of the association to make the day one of the biggest events of its kind ever staged here.

It is planned to ask Mayor Spencer Robinson to proclaim a general holiday on August 15, in order to permit every member of the city's industrial community to attend the picnic, and it is hoped that all of the city's stores will be closed on that day.

New members admitted to the association yesterday were R. E. Corrigan, Dodge agent; Ted Covell, Burbank Planning Mill; and Dr. Harry B. Brown, 118 West Wilson.

Legion Auxiliary
It is the hope of the Glendale American auxiliary to send a delegation to the state convention at Eureka, August 26 to 30, according to reports from the auxiliary meeting last night in the legion hall on East Broadway.

Mrs. Margaret Keating, president, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for a special meeting shortly, for the initiation of new members.

A food sale is to be given to raise funds to send the representatives to the Eureka gathering.

Luncheon-Cards
Mrs. Edwin S. Dodds received as guests yesterday at her home at 421 Gilbert street, members of the Monday Afternoon Five Hundred club.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock upon a table bright with beautiful flowers from Mrs. Dodds' garden. Other flowers decorated the various rooms.

Prizes for the card games went to Mrs. Mary Griggs, Mrs. E. W. Cizek and Mrs. G. M. Johnson.

In addition to these women Mrs. Margaret Keating, Mesdames Leroy Bradley, S. H. Waller, Emil Johnson and J. B. LaRock.

Dinner for Bride
Miss Helen Appleton of 721 East Windsor road, whose marriage to Richard Graue, announced on August 1, will be the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Granas, of Montana street, Los Angeles. Sharing the honors of the occasion are Beatrice Granas, little daughter of the hostess and Helen Tannenbaum, who will be flower girls at the wedding which will take place in St. James church in Los Angeles.

League Gathers
The Women's Union Label League No. 400 will hold its regular business meeting tomorrow evening, July 18, at the Old Fellows' hall at 8 o'clock. The newly-elected president, Mrs. H. Black, will preside. All members are urged to be present.

Girl Scouts Meet
Troop One, Glendale Girl Scouts, will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Marjorie Hart, 220 North Isabel street. The members of the troop are planning many little activities for the summer.

Meeting Tonight
Announcement is made that the J. O. C. class of the Pacific Alevue church will hold a regular meeting tonight with Mrs. E. B. Adams of 521 South Pacific avenue. Mrs. Harry Hobensack will be assisting hostess.

POCKET MICROSCOPE
Magnification up to 225 times is possible with a new pocket microscope.

GET CHANCE TO GO ON VACATION

Boy Scouts Have Offer to Attend Outing at Lake Arrowhead

"All Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills District, owing to special arrangements made by the committee on camping, will be given one more chance to attend the ten day period from July 21 to July 30 at Camp Roy-Kent near Lake Arrowhead," stated Frank C. Ayars this morning. Mr. Ayars is chairman of the Boy Scout camping committee. In telling more of the new arrangement he said:

"The Camping Committee feels that there are a large number of Boy Scouts who for some reason or other have found it impossible to attend either of the three camping periods that will come to an end on July 19, and who may now find it convenient to go especially this last period of the camp. It is our desire that every Boy Scout in the Verdugo District be given an opportunity of going on this wonderful camping trip with its swimming, boating, fishing, hiking, games, contests and 'swell' eats."

"The Scouts who have already attended the camp know what a fine time they had and there are a number of these who have spoken to return another ten days. They will be permitted to go up once more if they still desire. Such remarks from the boys as—'The greatest camp ever,' 'Bully good eats,'—'Say man, I caught almost the limit of fish.'—'Can't we stay longer?'—etc. etc. are attributed to the Scouts.

Athlete in Charge
"A special Headquarters Troop will be organized at the camp under the personal leadership of Walter Wescott, star athlete and football captain of the University of California, Southern Branch. Scouts who come to the camp without their Scoutmaster will be permitted to join the Headquarters Troop and will be provided with selected sport for their own camp."

Parents are urged by Mr. Ayars to see that their boys be given every encouragement to attend the camp.

"The training alone they receive is almost a priceless asset to the rounding out of a dependable, self-reliant future citizen," he added.
Scouts are urged to get their Scoutmaster's O. K. and then to either mail or bring in person to the District Scout office the application for reservation together with the $2 registration fee. The Scouts will leave Saturday July 21 for the last period at Camp Roy-Kent.

BIG VARIETY IN SALE OFFERINGS

Pendroy's July Bargains Are Luring Many Buyers to Department Store

"Out of all proportion to expectations is the enthusiastic way R. H. Smith, manager of the Pendroy store characterizes the opening of the great fourteen day July sale yesterday.

Attractive offerings were on display in all departments on the various floors and crowds of summer shoppers thronged the store all day. With the opening of the store this morning the crowds for the second day of opportunity began to swarm through the store building and it is predicted that the final day will close one of the outstanding sale successes in the store's history.

"Such enthusiasm" says Mr. Smith, "shows that Glendale people are delighted to shop in Glendale when they can get quality merchandise at satisfactory prices, and that's what we're offering in this big mid-summer sacrifice."

COMMENT That's All

$100 Worth Of Daily News Developing Artists Here Germany Fears Revolution Labor Prices Reach Peak
By Gil A. Cowan

NEWS, news from everywhere, piles up in the editorial basket, and only a part of it to be used. And when the editorial staff gets through mulling over the grist, we like to sit down and see what they have left out of the paper. Fact is, about $50 worth of news is left out every day, while nearly $100 (cost price to us) information is chucked into the news columns. And this doesn't include mechanical, white paper or distribution costs, either!

Like as not you never realized that you are reading $100 worth for two cents or less a day in The Glendale Evening News. It is selected with the greatest care, too, for only that which is particularly suitable for Glendale readers' enjoyment is given space.

In addition to the artists' exhibitions continuously carried on, the Los Angeles Museum is building up a wonderful catalog of paintings, sculptures, prints and scientific objects.

Recent accessions in sculpture include "The Girl and the Gazelle" by Bouchard, and "Charity" by Dalou. They are bronzes possessing great charm. A dozen new prints also have become residents of the museum where thousands of Southern California connoisseurs enjoy a comfortable afternoon without cost.

At the present-time two summer exhibitions are being held, one of paintings by Taos artists and the other of Allied Artists of New York.

And it is fitting to say that in this environment art is being developed in Southern California.

Dr. Heinrich Brauns, German minister of labor, in a copyrighted interview with International News Service, yesterday painted a critical picture of conditions in Germany. We have heard the story before from private sources of information, and yet it seems impossible to view the conditions the same way Berlin reports make out.

But, to be fair, there is the doctor's view. "The next few weeks—perhaps days—must bring either a permanent and healthy readjustment of wages, or chaos. There is no alternative."

"The physical capacity of our workers is rowing less and less because of the ever-growing food shortage. We must turn back huge food shipments from our harbors. Ship after ship, laden with food, imports, return to the ports of the origin with the precious cargoes untouched, because we cannot cash to pay the huge amounts in foreign currencies demanded for these imports. Just now great shipments of potatoes from Holland for the half-starved population of the Ruhr had to be turned back because we had not the money to pay for them. The health of the people is being undermined steadily. Mortality is growing at an alarming rate."

"Surface appearances are deceiving. The longer passions are pent up the more furious they will be when they burst forth. The French revolution was a long time coming, but it lasted for years. The same is true of the Russian revolution."

"German workers simply cannot go on living in this terrible state of uncertainty which is caused by the devastation of our money. Prices invariably surpass the rises in the value of the dollar. This necessitates constant wage increases. But is the use of millions of paper marks for the workers, when the circles of price increases, to continue?"

So much for Germany. Let's get back to Los Angeles, where plasterers and carpenters and bricklayers are being paid $12 to $18 a day and sniffling at ham and eggs as plebeian.

We have no "row" with them, for undoubtedly our educational system has led to a shortage in hand workers. Personally, I believe it would be difficult to get a job at $18 a week in an office comparable in exertion and ability necessary to draw $18 a day in the building trades.

The Saturday Evening Post very tritely points out the danger of a "buyers' strike" if prices continue to soar. And if this country gets to a point where building is prohibitive the craftsmen will have wished they had saved their shekels.

May we not suggest, therefore, that those who are earning good salaries today be careful and save their money. Also they should not be "kidded" into the idea of asking another nickel from the public for labor when peak prices already are being paid.

With the farmer and the clerk underpaid, the workman may expect that wages are going to come down if he doesn't treat the rest of the public right.

Urges Superintendent Of Prisoners' Camps

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Stringent regulations to prohibit convict laborers from securing narcotics, intoxicating liquors or firearms, and the erection of a new state post to be known as superintendent of Prison Road Camps, are among the chief recommendations made by Julian H. Alco, San Francisco prison welfare worker, in a report filed with the State Highway Commission relative to the operation of convict highway camps under the newly-enacted law which becomes effective August 17.

TUESDAY CLUB TO HAVE BIG YEAR

Officers and Directors in Session Make Plans for Activities

sonnel of her committee, which was approved by club executives. She will be assisted by Mesdames Edwin Cleophas, Alma Gibbs, Roy Ballagh and E. B. Sutton.

From the fund provided thirty nine programs will be secured. This mean on the average of four a month, two of which will be feature affairs.
For the first program, given on President's Day, the first meeting in October, the Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles will present "Lullabies, Songs and Dances of the Nations," written by Mrs. J. H. Ballagh of Glendale, founder of the Matinee Musical club, and at present chairman of its creative section. There will be ten persons appearing in the presentation.

Another feature of yesterday's gathering was the report given by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means. She stated that she and her committee have raised $6200 during the past year. During her recent absence the Home Economics section, under the leadership of Mrs. T. G. Widemeyre raised $335.70 and in addition paid $20 for ten card tables for the clubhouse.
It is the plan during the next year that all benefit affairs given by any of the club members or sections will be handled directly through Mrs. Montgomery. This will provide for several large benefits and do away with so many smaller money-making plans.

Following the board meeting, officers and curators met in the tea room for luncheon. There were present Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president; Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Houston, second vice-pres-

Realty Man to Boost City on Oregon Trip

H. C. Barr, of the C. M. Realty company, 114 West Broadway, left yesterday for Oregon, to dispose of his holdings there.

Mr. Barr will make the trip by motor, stopping at auto parks all along the line, going and coming, advertising the C. M. Realty company's listings of homes, lots acreage and income property, as well as boosting for Glendale as the fastest growing city in America.

The entire trip will consume about six weeks, Mr. Barr states, making his return to Glendale somewhere about September 1.

During the luncheon hour informal talks were given on vacation trips by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, who with her daughter Kathleen, recently returned from an outing at Coronado; Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, who is home from a trip as far north as Vancouver; Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. J. E. Sargent, Mrs. H. C. Wilcox and Mrs. Roy Ballagh, who recently visited Yosemite; and Mrs. Frank Ayars, who was a recent visitor at Lake Arrowhead.

Mrs. William Hunter, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Ayars, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. E. Plasterer, treasurer; Mesdames H. E. Bartlett, Lillian Dow, J. E. Sargent, E. W. W. Hayward, J. T. Crampton, A. A. Barton, directors.

And the following curators: Mrs. H. A. McPherson, Arts and Crafts No. 1; Mrs. W. C. Wattles, Arts and Crafts No. 2; Mrs. Max Green, Drama; Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, Literary; Mrs. C. G. Putnam, Maids and Young Matrons; Mrs. Warren Roberts, Music; Mrs. A. Brandstater, Parliamentary; Mrs. Walter W. Jones, Shakespeare; Mrs. T. G. Widemeyre, Home Economics; Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Fine Arts.

Mrs. C. H. Temple, curator of the Bible section was unable to be present, and it was only this morning that Mrs. S. J. Gans gave her acceptance of the curatorship of the Americanization, Legislative and International Relations section.

Penn Star Slated for Majors

WALTER HUNTZINGER

SCRANTON, Pa., July 6.—(Special)—Walter Huntzinger, who has starred on the mound for University of Pennsylvania, is said by many scouts to be the most promising hurler in college ranks, and he is almost certain to join the New York Giants this summer. Huntzinger is a big fellow and a right hander. Last season the lad won twelve successive games for Penn and this year he has won nine of twelve contests he has engaged in.

In twelve games in 1923 Huntzinger has held his opponents to 2-1-2 runs a game and has held the hits down to 5-1-6 a game. He ran his string of successive wins for the two seasons to sixteen before he was defeated by Princeton in a game in which he held the Jersey men to six hits and lost only because of misplays of his team mates.

Huntzinger is not only a good baseball player, but he is said to be the best basketball player that has ever been developed at University of Pennsylvania.

GIANTS' JOURNEY IS RATHER ROUGH

New York Has Hard Time to Hold Lead; Yankees On Easy Street

By ARTHUR STREWE
For International News Service

NEW YORK, July 17.—The dream of New Yorkers of again seeing a world's series of their own is rapidly becoming a nightmare these days.

While the Yankees are sailing along on a smooth sea to Pennantville, the Giants are finding the going very rough, and unless they take a decided brace in their playing they will find themselves shipwrecked.

The Giants have seventy-one more games to play, and fifty of them are with the western teams. To date, the Giants have played their western rivals thirty-eight games, and of these have only annexed twenty victories.

They Fall Hard

When the Giants went west on their last trip they had what appeared to be a commanding lead, but they fell by the wayside and came home barely in first place. They increased this advantage by winning from the Phillies and Braves, who have given them little opposition this year, but when the western teams again hit the Polo grounds, the needed punch to outdistance their rivals was lacking.

Today the Giants are three and a half games in front of the Reds and four and a half games ahead of the Pirates, their keenest rivals. At the rate the Reds have been going there is a chance they may get closer to the top before another five games are played.

By winning their last two penants, the records show that the Giants always were able to fight their hardest when the opposition was keen. They have fought better on the road than at home, but always had the needed punch.

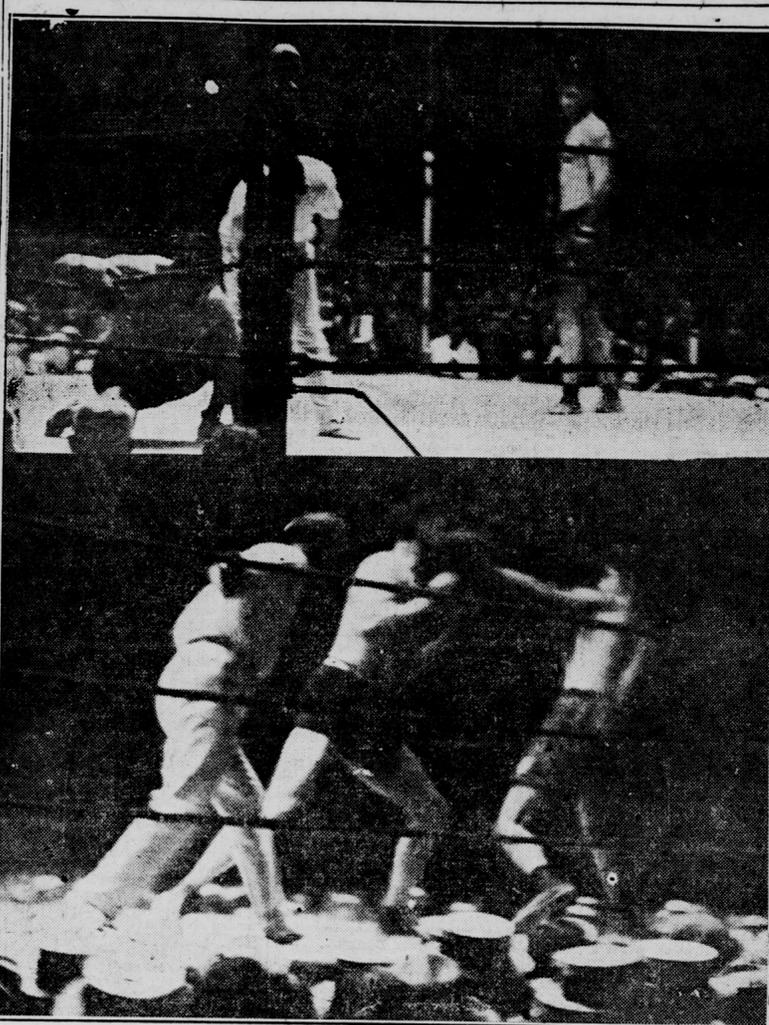

Invasions West Next

Next week the Giants start another tour of the west. If they fail as they did on their first trip, the National League bunting will likely fly in either Cincinnati or Pittsburgh.

McGraw this year is not getting the pitching he did in the last two seasons. He has no consistent winner among his slabmen. They have been twirling in-and-out baseball, winning one day and losing the next. The old fighting spirit also is not with the team, and McGraw must instill the old pep in his athletes if he wants to cop his third successive hunting.

The Yankees have an advantage of twelve games over the Indians, and at the rate they have been going it looks as if they will "cash in" in October.

Pictures of Firpo-Willard Fight

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Young Paul Wanor of the San Francisco ball club continues to be the bright particular star of the Pacific Coast league just at the moment by reason of his Pacific Coast league just at the moment by reason of his batting. With the close of the 13th week of play he led the league with an average slightly better than .300 per cent. If the youngster can keep up the pace, which is very doubtful, he will be the best thing with the willow wand that ever stepped out to the plate in this neck of the woods.

With the rowing season over among the colleges and the final game of baseball played, the books have been closed all over the country for the summer and when they are again opened it will be the chapter headed "Football." A lot of preliminary preparatory work is in progress and football coaches, contrary to the general idea, are not permitted to loaf during the summer. This period is almost as busy a one for them as is the actual season itself.

Standard Oil Beats Night School Team

The Night School nine, leaders of the Twilight league, dropped their first game last night on the Glendale Union High school grounds, being humbled by the Standard Oil boys to the tune of 20 to 12, reports R. Ernest Tucker, secretary of Community Service, under whose auspices the series is being played.

Tonight, on the High school grounds, the Christian Church and American Legion nines clash. The Twilight league baseball games are always begun at 7:30 o'clock and continue for seven innings.

Indian Hurler Shuts Out League Leaders

CLEVELAND, July 17.—Coveleskie of the Indians blanked the Yankees throughout here yesterday, and the tribesmen walked away with the first game of the twin bill, 6 to 0. Coveleskie held the Huggins crew to six safe wallops. The Indians poked out twelve hits. The Yankees made two errors.

Cubs' Pitcher Star Beats Giants, 7 to 4

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Cubs trimmed the Giants in the first game of a double-header here yesterday, 7 to 4. The slab work of Toney Kaufman of the Brains, who held the world's champions to seven scattered blows, featured the melee.

Tonight the Jensen's Drugs will meet the Knights of Columbus.

TAGGING ALL BASES

With all the customary sparkling pessimism, the Giants split a twin bill with the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 4 and 3 to 1. Bentley accounted for the second game win.

A seven run rally in the third frame was too much for the Pirates, the Robins winning 8 to 4.

The St. Louis Cardinals got to Philly pitchers for 22 hits and gained an easy 13 to 7 victory.

Coveleskie's pitching gave the Cleveland Indians a 6 to 0 shut-out over the Yankees in the first of a bargain bill, but "Bullet Joe" Bush tucked away the second for the Yankees, 11 to 7.

The Browns made it four in a row from the Boston Red Sox, winning four to one.

Loses Trousers, Also Watch, Chain, Coin

The theft of a pair of khaki trousers was the subject of a complaint yesterday afternoon to the Glendale police department. They contained a Hampden watch and chain with a $2.50 gold piece as a charm and about $2 in change. They were taken from a house under construction at 119 West Laurel street while Max Meyer of 1004 Maple avenue, Los Angeles, was busy in another room plastering.

KEARNS STUDIES ARGENTINE BOUT

Dempsey's Manager Considers Rickard's Offer for Fight With Firpo

NEW YORK, July 17.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, today is "thinking over" Tex Rickard's offer to stage a meeting between Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo in Argentina in October. Fight fans predicted that Kearns would turn down the offer. Rickard's hope is that the fight would draw an $800,000 gate—half to go to Dempsey—if staged in South America.

Kearns believes Dempsey, in his next appearance, will draw a $1,500,000 house if the fight is staged in either New York or Jersey City, and was expected to so inform Rickard today. Failure of Rickard to get Dempsey's name to a contract to fight Firpo will result, it is believed, in Kearns signing up for a match with Harry Willis, negro aspirant to the heavyweight crown, the battle to be staged at the Yankee stadium here on Labor Day.

Lightweights Battle

Charley White, loudly claiming that he is the logical opponent for Benny Leonard at this time, will battle Ritchie Mitchell in a fifteen-round encounter here tomorrow night. White is favored in the betting.

Monday night will see Leonard in action against Lew Tendler at the Yankee stadium. Promoters announced today $250,000 worth of tickets already have been sold and predict another $100,000 before the gong sounds.

Fans have paid $200,000 more for seats for the Gene Crippen-John Dundee contest, which is set for July 26 at the Polo grounds—a record price for featherweight contests.

Because certain fossils have been found in Madagascar geologists believe coal deposits exist there.

Welcoming Our Visitors

The Pacific-Southwest has the highest and lowest points in the United States—Mt. Whitney and Death Valley—and practically every scenic attraction between. It is the Land of Out-of-Doors.

To this Mecca come visitors from everywhere, to revel in our scenery, to marvel at the fertility of our valleys and to admire the industrial enterprise of our people. First they come as our guests; later, to make this their home.

Through its Office in Los Angeles—the gateway for these visitors—the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank greets them and is able to assist the communities it serves to secure desirable new citizens from among them.

RAILWAY TICKET AGENT BLUNDERS

Failure to Find Glendale on Map Rouses Ire of C. C. Secretary

When Jacob F. Welz arrives in Glendale this Saturday, from Cleveland, Ohio, to visit his son, William E. Welz, of 1717 Hillcrest drive, he is going to have a picture taken of the place and send it back to the ticket agent in the eastern city, who told him there wasn't any such place as Glendale on the map—and forced him to buy a ticket through to Los Angeles.

When Welz, junior, received a letter from his father to this effect, he burst out laughing, and has been wearing a broad smile ever since. Thinking he had a good joke on E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, he dashed over to his headquarters and laid the matter before him.

Sanders blows up. Mr. Sanders immediately waxed wroth, to think that with all the advertising Glendale is getting—and some of it costing real money—they didn't know back in Cleveland there was such a place, and couldn't find it on the railroad map, especially as Dr. Jessie A. Russell was back there two weeks ago boosting Glendale with all her might.

Welz, junior, thinks the ticket agent was up late the night before his father called to get the ticket, and hadn't rubbed the sleepy-bugs out of his eyes—or else he needed a new pair of specs.

Mr. Sanders took the matter very hard, and assures the people of Glendale that he will lay it before President Harding on his forthcoming visit to this city.

"No ticket agent can fail to find Glendale on his darned map and get away with it!" he says.

Meanwhile, Welz, senior, en route from Cleveland to Glendale—that is to say, Los Angeles!—is wondering if the Limited will slow down sufficiently as it passes through "the fastest growing city in America" for him to jump off.

WITNESS PARADE OF MOVIE STARS

Governor Richardson Reviews Film Favorites in Big L. A. Spectacle

Hundreds of Glendale people were among the crowd which lined Los Angeles streets last night to see the electrical parade given in connection with the Motion Picture exposition. It is estimated 100,000 people were downtown for the event.

In addition to the beautiful floats scintillating in the glare of the "klieg," hundreds of motion picture cowboys from the Mix and Universal and Lasky ranches rode their prancing steeds through the canyons of skyscrapers, revealing that the western spirit may still be found despite the encroachment of New York and Chicago population.

Governor Richardson "reviewed" the parade from the Red room in the City Club where he was dining with the Southern California Dailies publishers. At this meeting it was determined to form a buyers' organization for the purchase of print paper, it being announced that foreign importations had aided materially in reducing coast prices.

MRS. HARDING IS WORN BY TRIP

Remains in Bed All Day Monday for Rest After Constant Travel

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT HARDING TO SEWARD, Alaska, July 17.—President Harding back-tracked on his own trail from Fairbanks to Seward today where he will rejoin his ship. The southward journey over the government railroad is slightly faster than that northward due to the slowness of the roadbed; the antiquated equipment and the extra precautions given to secure presidential safety.

Mrs. Harding, showing signs of travel weariness from the four weeks of constant riding on trains, motoring, shopping and innumerable receptions which kept her on her feet in excess of the doctors' allowance, remained abed all of Monday resting and recuperating.

While her condition is said not to be alarming, nevertheless the strain has been such as to cause the president to be anxious to get out of the interior and get back to the comparative quietude of the transport Henderson with the least delay possible.

I. W. W.'S ARE HIT BY STATE COURT

Enjoins Organization From Functioning; Hearing to Be Held July 25

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—All I. W. W. activities in California were legally brought to a standstill late Monday when Superior Judge Charles O. Busick signed a temporary injunction restraining the organization from functioning in this state. Judge Busick's action was taken after suit had been filed by District Attorney J. J. Henderson, empowered to act for the state by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

The temporary injunction names July 25 as the date when the I. W. W. must appear in court here to show cause why the restraining order against them should not be made permanent in California.

TWO KILLED AND 3 OTHERS DYING

Tragedies Point to Need of Elimination of Grade Crossings, Says Club

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Two dead and three dying as a result of Sunday's crash between a Pacific Electric train and an automobile at Arlington avenue and Exposition boulevard were cited today by the Automobile Club of Southern California as a new, important and tragic argument in its campaign for the elimination of grade crossings.

Two families are broken up by the fatal accident. Mildred Thorkelsen, 16, junior in Compton high school, is dead. Bernice, 18, and Irene Thorkelsen, 17, her sisters graduated in June from the same school, are both unconscious. They may die. Mrs. William F. Morgan is dead. William Morgan, her husband, is lying at the point of death.

Municipal legislation affecting domestic animals, particularly dogs and cats, is scheduled for discussion commencing at 7 o'clock tonight in the council chamber at the city hall.

The City Council has promised to confer on the subject with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Kulp of 1234 Viola street, William Rogan of 304 Lorraine street and Harry A. McPherson of 607 North Central avenue, a committee representing the Glendale Dog Protective association.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"Soul of the Beast" now showing at the Glendale Theatre, is considered by critics one of the greatest human interest pictures ever made. The story is by C. BOOTLEGGERS IN ALASKA PROSPER

Rank Alongside Bankers in Financial Weight and Social Prominence

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 17.—"Bootlegging," which is fairly common in Alaska even as in the United States, is growing more pronounced nearer the seacoast and the Canadian border where smuggling is comparatively simple. In the interior towns moonshine is obtainable even as in the United States. Corn meal and dried peaches are the favorite ingredients deeper in the interior.

Even as in the United States, the bootlegger is often the most prosperous citizen of the community, ranking alongside the banker. In one town President Harding visited which shall remain nameless there was a turnout of all the automobiles of the town to accommodate the presidential party for the usual parade around town. Two cars in the line of nondescript make were especially noticeable for their unusual polish and expensiveness of make. They were profusely decorated with the words "Welcome." Both cars were well back in the line, the president riding in a much less smart conveyance which aroused some comment until discreet inquiries revealed the fact that the new cars belonged to the town bootlegger and Alaskan delicacy, evidently thought it unfitting to place them in front.

MAKING MONEY DAY AND NIGHT

German Printing Plants Are Turning Out Marks by Ton, Is Reported

BERLIN, July 17.—Forty-one German printing plants, working day and night, disgorged 17,563,818.142 marks worth of fresh paper money every hour during the first week in July, according to figures available today. The total paper currency circulation on July 7 was 20,241,782,966,000 marks, an increase of 2,950,721,616,000 over June 30.

The aluminum coinage in circulation increased in the same period from 1,000,000,000 marks to 20,242,000,000.

The printers are working in three shifts every day in the week.

EDITOR GETS HIS WISH IN DEATH

Wants to Die in Harness and He Does; Head of American Magazine

NEW YORK, July 17.—The paramount wish of John M. Suddall, editor of the American Magazine, was to "die in the harness." Last night it was fulfilled.

When he was told three months ago that he was suffering from cancer and that his life was limited.

"If you will resign and rest," the physicians told him, "you may live a year, but if you keep at work you will not last more than three months."

He made his decision without hesitation. Two weeks ago he went bravely to the office for the last time.

Orders Revision in Department Budgets

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—State departments in this city were busily engaged today in re-vamping their annual budgets, after a visit paid the various state agencies in the bay district by Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, Governor Richardson's budget-maker.

The author of the economy budget went over the financial documents of virtually every state bureau here, being assisted in her work by R. R. Braden, newly appointed member of the board of control. He renewed her demand that 10 per cent of all appropriations be placed in the unbudgeted reserve to prepare against emergencies next year.

The suit of the state railroad commission to test the right of Mrs. Pierce to divert revenues of that board to the general fund will probably be brought early this week.

BANK DIRECTORS PAY SIX PER CENT

Glendale State Bank's Report Shows Big Growth Since Foundation

The directors of The Glendale State bank, at their semi-annual meeting held on July 11, declared a six per cent dividend for their stockholders, and the reports presented to the board showed that the bank now has total deposits of $1,085,000 and total resources of $1,200,150.59, showing a growth of more than $50,000 average for every month that the institution has been in existence.

The bank has on its books at present more than one hundred active accounts for every month since it was first opened for business. The payment of the dividend is regarded as an extremely creditable achievement by President A. R. Eastman and his board of directors, and many friends of the bank and of its officials have congratulated them on the showing made during the year and a half that the bank has formed a part of Glendale's industrial community. The quality of the service rendered by the bank, which has the slogan of being Glendale's own home bank; has been the main factor in establishing the institution on its present sound footing in the commercial life of the city.

EFFORTS TO HEAL FILIPINO BREAK

Law Enforcement Officer, Friction of Cause, Offers His Resignation

MANILA, July 17.—Officer Conley of the American law enforcement squad resigned today thus removing the immediate cause of friction between the Philippine cabinet and Governor-General Wood, but the joint resignation of the cabinet of which Governor Wood has been informally notified is still pending. It is understood the cabinet members are insisting that Governor Wood define his attitude. It was stated authoritatively today that the cabinet notified Governor Wood through Senator Osmena that if the governor maintains the same attitude as during the Conley case they will formally submit their resignations.

Governor Wood conferred at length with Secretary of the Interior Laurel and the latter will probably withdraw his resignation presented last week. Conley said he resigned voluntarily in order to prevent embarrassment to the governor-general.

Boxing and Wrestling Bouts Will Feature Program at Thursday Show

Harry James, Glendale's talented monologist, heads the program of entertainment featuring the stag affair to be enjoyed tomorrow night by Knights of Columbus and their friends at the clubhouse at 330 East Lomita avenue.

The program is to begin at 8:30 o'clock and will last for four hours. In addition to Mr. James' contributions there will be songs, boxing and wrestling and smokes. There will be five four-round boxing bouts, among the boxers being Pat Mulligan, former welterweight champion of Canada, who will meet Pat Mulcahey of Glendale, former welterweight champion of Montana.

WILL TAKE BIDS ON SCHOOL WORK

Additions to Doran Street Building to Be Subject at Board Meeting

The Board of Education will meet tonight in its quarters at 109-A South Brand boulevard to receive bids for the addition to the Doran school.

The budget adopted before the recent bond election for $500,000, includes a total of $38,950 for the improvement of this grammar school. This is divided as follows: Four additional class rooms, $28,000; sanitary unit for entire building, $7000; additional furniture, $1600; heating plant for old building, $1600; moving kindergarten, bungalow, $500; piping grounds, $250.

Sends Out Contract For Traffic Police

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Will G. Marsh, director of the State Motor Vehicle Department, announced today that boards of supervisors of the state are being mailed contracts by his department covering the employment of traffic officers as provided by the 1923 Motor Vehicle Act.

The new law provides that upon the submission of a list of names from their respective counties the Chief of the Motor Vehicle Department may make appointment. The officers so appointed in accordance with the Motor Vehicle Act are empowered to enforce all of its provisions.

District Attorney Lovejoy of Fresno County has announced, however, that he will bring suit to test the constitutionality of the new Motor Vehicle Act when it becomes effective August 31. Lovejoy holds that the state is usurping extraordinary powers when it reserves the right to appoint an officer paid by the county.

SIX ACRES AND LARGE TWO-STORY COLO-NIAL HOUSE
High up, overlooking three ranges of mountains, and the valleys between, also with a clear magnificent view of the Pacific Ocean and Catalina islands. The acreage is highly improved to lawns, flowers, shade and fruit trees—two garages and servant's house separate. The home itself is a large Southern Colonial Home, true to type in all details of design and architecture. The porches, sun room and all the windows are so built that from every point, both outside and inside a magnificent view is obtainable. The living room, which is spacious and high ceilinged, has a huge fireplace, French windows and doors, which open on to a porch about twelve feet wide. The breakfast room has long, circular shaped windows and doors also opening out on porches which lead to gardens. There are five fireplaces, one of them being in this room. The dining room has the Sun room opening directly from it. The Sun room makes the ideal winter sitting room of the house. A butler's pantry, thoroughly Modern Kitchen, Maid's room and bath, also a cloak room and extra toilet complete the down stairs arrangement. Upstairs a sewing room, three bedrooms (one of them a sleeping porch), two bath rooms, linen cupboards and more porches. Two flights of stairs lead from the first to second story. Then there is an attic and a good solar system heating plant. In the basement is a laundry room, a furnace room, and good furnace also a cold storage room. The house is five years old. Price $50,000. Terms most reasonable to responsible buyer.

BUYING A HOME?
READ THIS FIRST
Here is the best buy we have had for a long time for the man who wants room for his family, for garden and chickens or for to build income in the future.
The lot has a frontage of 80 feet, depth 166 feet; it is fenced, with space for children's play ground and another for chickens. Beautiful lawn, orange, grape fruit, apple and plum trees, nice garden growing.
The house is modern; living room, dining room, bed room, sleeping porch, kitchen, bath, screen porch with laundry tray. Not new, but in excellent condition.
In the back yard is an up-to-date tent house, with floor, a real place for the children to sleep, with electric lights and everything to make it comfortable. Large garage.
The location is ideal, close to grade and intermediate schools, not far from high school.
Fortunately for the buyer, we are able to offer this place at a price lower than that of anything in Glendale which

MOTOR TRIP IN NORTH ENJOYED

R. W. Meeker and Daughter; Miss Mildred at Home From University

R. W. Meeker and daughter, Miss Mildred Meeker, 1320 East Colorado street, returned Sunday from a most interesting motor trip which took them up into the northern part of the state into the territory where Mr. Meeker spent his childhood, as he is a native son of California.

Leaving Glendale June 30, they motored leisurely up the coast stopping at various places of interest, eating clams at Pismo beach and enjoying the holiday spirit of Independence week with its picnicks along the roadside. Reaching the bay cities they spent several days sight-seeing in Oakland and Berkeley and then motored on to Sonoma county where they visited friends and relatives at Camp Meeker and Sebastopol.

Wonderful Scenery They enjoyed the wonderful scenery along the Russian and Eel rivers and spent several days at Eureka with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dodge, whose acquaintance the delegates to the California General Federation of Women's clubs made at the convention in June.

Perhaps their visit to the big trees was the most interesting part of the trip, although Miss Meeker found much to interest her in seeing the basketry of the northern Indians and a number of Indian collections.

Returning to San Francisco they spent several days taking in the parks, theatres and famous restaurants of the northern city.

Mr. Meeker and daughter will leave today for San Diego, where they will join Mrs. Meeker and family who are spending the summer at Coronado.

LIST BOOKS FOR SCHOOL COURSES

Textbooks for Coming Year Are Catalogued for Local Students

Crossed Plains In 1857
With Harney Expedition

By KATHERINE VIRGINIA SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff

AS the long line of 300 or more clumsy covered wagons of the Harney Expedition slowly wended their way across the dreary plains of the mid-west in the year 1857, there was one young teamster, twenty years of age, in whose heart burned the real fire of the pioneer spirit.

Today that same boy, now past 86 years of age, is a resident of Glendale at 118 East Park avenue, and is to be one of the honored members of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club. His name is Jeffrey Wisner Gillette, well known to the early residents of Los Angeles city and county, where he lived for fifty-three years.

It was the young Jeffrey, a New York minister's son, who drove one of the covered wagons west on the Harney expedition. Born in Elmira, N. Y., November 1, 1837, the boy came west in 1855. He was residing in Kansas during 1856 and 1857, and following the massacre of 147 adult immigrants by Mormons and Indians the Harney expedition was sent west for protection and young Gillette was hired as a teamster.

Six Months' Trek Leaving Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in May, the vast train moved slowly across the barren lands, arriving in Salt Lake, Utah, the following October, six months later. At that time the state of Utah stretched from the Missouri river to the Sierra Nevada mountains, and the privations and dangers of the cross-country wagon trip were many.

Upon arriving in Salt Lake, Mr. Gillette and five other companions, who had saved up a little money, journeyed on foot some 800 miles to Placerville, Calif., where he engaged in mining. However, an injury he received to his right arm when 13 years of age prevented his continuing mining, so he came to Southern California.

That was sixty-two years ago, and he tells with interest of stopping at the ball park by Alaskan pioneers yesterday. It is made of moose hide, studded with nuggets of virgin gold and is a thing of beauty in addition to its intrinsic value. The president was visibly affected upon receiving the token and responded feelingly telling of his great love for the dog, which is one of the binding principles of Alaskan brotherhood.

C. B. Guthrie and A. W.
Twice at Picnic

The Masonic beefsteak dinner held at Verdugo park last Saturday, under the auspices of the local Blue Lodges, has produced a phenomenon—in that the genial countenances of Charles B. Guthrie and A. W. Tower appear both at the left and at the right of a photograph taken on the premises.

The photograph, which is on view in the south window of The Glendale Evening News offices, 139 South Brand boulevard, is creating no end of comment. All day long, groups collect in front of it and search until they have found the dual likenesses of Messrs. Guthrie and Tower, then hazard conjectures as to how the phenomenon might have occurred.

Both Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Tower declare on their words of honor that no one doubled for them, and the photographer solemnly avers no double-exposure stunt was employed.

And There They Are! Not yet the fact remains that two of Glendale's leading citizens appear twice in the same picture, despite a fundamental law of physics to the effect that no object can occupy more than one space at one time.

When interviewed on the subject, both principals in the controversy adopt a mystified attitude, as though they, themselves, were the most perplexed of anyone over the astounding phenomenon.

Will this deep mystery ever be solved? That is the question, the burning, befuddling question that is adding the brains of all Glendale.

Decrease Shown in Child Labor Ranks

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—A total of 9,957 children, or 3 per cent of the total number in the state, are classed as child laborers in a report made public today by State Labor Commissioner Walter C. Mathewson. The report covers children between the ages of 10 and 15 years.

Mathewson's report shows that during the past decade the number of children employed in industry has decreased 2.4 per cent.

LADDIE BOY

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 17.—A $400 dog collar for Laddie Boy was presented to the President at the ball park by Alaskan pioneers yesterday. It is made of moose hide, studded with nuggets of virgin gold and is a thing of beauty in addition to its intrinsic value. The president was visibly affected upon receiving the token and responded feelingly telling of his great love for the dog, which is one of the binding principles of Alaskan brotherhood.

CHAFFEE'S READY

About 1000 Persons to Meet
At Brookside Park in Annual Picnic

Chaffee's grocery and market No. 30 at 115 North Brand boulevard will be closed tomorrow while its employees enjoy themselves at Brookside Park, Pasadena, at the annual picnic.

About 1000 persons, representing employes from each of the seventy stores and members of their families, are expected to attend the affair.

"This is our twelfth annual picnic," stated T. L. Totman, local manager, this morning. "Last year the local store won three first and two second prizes. Yes, we always have a good time."

The schedule includes a ball game between the office and the warehouse, races and sports of all kinds, free swimming in the plunge and dancing on the tennis courts until midnight. Glendale will be the rendezvous at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for the delegations from Hollywood and San Fernando.

Attend From Glendale
Basket lunches will be enjoyed at noon. Coffee and ice cold soft drinks will be provided by the company, which also pays each employee's salary for the occasion.

Glendale will be represented at the picnic by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Totman, 2603 Hermosita avenue; Mr. and Mrs. N. W. McBryde, 126 North Louise street; Mr. and Mrs. C. Lindemann, 537 Stocker street; Mr. and Mrs. B. Knittle, 1220 South Central avenue; Mr. and Mrs. H. Chapman, 311 East Chestnut street; Mr. and Mrs. E. Jordan, Miss Gladys Jordan and Forrest Jordan, of 503 North Maryland avenue; Ralph Eckles of 328 North Orange street and William Shinner of 334 Salem street.

Doctor Building New

Dr. A. E. The house is modeled on the English type of architecture, and is on a lot 66x175.

Dr. and Mrs. Mack came to Glendale three months ago from Omaha, Neb. He is at present practicing his profession in Los Angeles, but it is possible that he will open an office in Glendale in the near future.

Candy Hit by Auto,
Goes to Hospital

"Jimmy" McClain, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. McClain of 1135 East California avenue is now at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital with two broken ribs.

Unknown to members of his family, he left his yard about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and with a friend walked over to the city hall. While crossing Broadway, he was struck by an automobile, which is alleged to have kept going and failed to stop to render assistance. His parents were notified of the accident after the lad had been taken to the hospital.

"Jimmy," it is understood, was on his way to a store to buy candy.

Hauling Prisoners to Jail Costs $240,000

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—Declaring that the cost of transporting prisoners to San Quentin and Folsom prisons during the biennial period just closed approximated $240,000 and that present indications point to an expenditure of nearly $300,000 in this case, the light instead of being trained heavenwards, should be pointed in some diametrically opposite direction.

Deeper and Deeper
Rumors that a fleet of annexationists were preparing to land on Glendale from Los Angeles have been scouted by those who recall the defeat administered to these plotters by Venice a few days ago, but this suggestion is not without a certain amount of probability when it is considered that the annexationists will very soon have no place to light but in Pershing Square with the rest of the fan-tails and pouters. The searchlight is supposed to reveal their advance.

Police Department
Announces Changes

Several changes in personnel were announced at the Glendale police department. Following the resignation of L. R. Hollingsworth of 2615 1/2 Morgan street, Los Angeles, as motorcycle officer, Patrolman Ralph Baugh of 461 Dryden street was transferred to the motorcycle squad. Detective Charles P. Blake of 810 East Wilson avenue was selected as relief man for the motorcycle squad. W. J. Young, who expects to move from Los Angeles to Glendale, was appointed a regular patrolman.

Lumber concerns use more motor trucks than any other line of business, with 1000s second.

PROBING PUZZLE OF SEARCHLIGHT

Mayor Robinson Believes It
Is Hunting for Site of
New S. P. Depot

The mystery of the flickering searchlight continued to puzzle many Glendale people again last night, as they watched the long beam slashing back and forth across the sky, and some of those who watched it were positive they had solved the puzzle.

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is one of those who believe he knows what it is all about. He asserts that some Southern Glendale realtor is keeping a night watch for some of the new population that is swelling the number of Glendale's citizens beyond the 40,000 mark, and that this real estate man is getting ready to sell the newcomers houses and lots as soon as they land here, whether they come from Mars or Michigan.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, on the other hand, believes some one down in the southern part of the city is hunting for the depot site with a searchlight, but this contention is denied by S. S. Gilhuly, who maintains that, if such is the case, the light, instead of being trained heavenwards, should be pointed in some diametrically opposite direction.

Grabs Deputy's Gun;
Shoots Officer Dead

HARRISON, Ark., July 17.—John Sullivan, alias Johnson, escaped prisoner from the Oklahoma penitentiary, yesterday shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Walter Casey following the recapture of Sullivan after a jail break here at noon.

Sullivan, held for highway robbery, left the jail and was pursued by county officers and a posse. The fugitive was located hiding under a house and returned to jail. Immediately after he seized the deputy sheriff's revolver and shot the officer.

Rubbish Fire Brings Out
Safety Needs To Protect
People And Business Section

By GIL A. COWAN

AN inconsequential blaze of rubbish at the rear of the new Lawson building, corner Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue late yesterday afternoon, attracted a large throng of shoppers and business men who saw the clouds of smoke. Further than that it revealed several things of interest to the property owning public.

First, the protection walls thrown about the new Security Trust & Savings bank building at Brand and Broadway are a menace to traffic, a woman being trapped in the middle of the street and escaping death by a narrow margin when the long ladder truck of the fire department swung around the corner.

Second, the business section does not have sufficient fire plugs to fight a blaze without tying up traffic, while the customary fire hydrant standards are not built into the outside walls of the new Lawson block, although ample fire protection is afforded from the inside, according to J. W. Lawson.

Remove Rubbish!
Third, the practice of merchants and contractors dumping rubbish in close proximity to buildings should be watched by fire inspectors and orders for its removal should be complied with. This is no criticism of the Kress company which is unpacking stock at the rear of its store room in the building, for they were following a long-established precedent in Glendale of using alleys for public dumps.

Fourth and lastly, both the firemen and the policemen are to be congratulated at their immediate response, although Mr. Watson pointed out he had difficulty in making himself understood over the telephone when reporting the location of the fire. Perhaps it would be well for Glendale to invest in a fire alarm system which would definitely locate larger structures, such as business blocks, churches, schools, etc., which sometimes defy the person reporting the fire in giving the address.

Lose Valuable Time
For instance, a stranger or newcomer might discover the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school on fire. Not being acquainted with the streets there are nine chances out of ten two or three minutes would be lost in locating the blaze.

Both motorists and pedestrians should make it a point to clear the way for fire equipment, it being noticeable that police officers yesterday afternoon had to hold the line at Brand boulevard and Broadway, as well as at Wilson avenue and Brand.

To revert, however, to the barn like structure built around the excavation where the Security Trust & Savings bank block will rise, it would appear that the contractors have taken a large amount of liberty in occupying the block and the danger of those who must use the street.

Certainly it was not built for the accommodation of fire trucks, the drivers of the machines, which careened around the corner yesterday afternoon, will tell you.

MAY USE SCHOOL FUND ON STREETS

Payment of $35,000, as
Urged, Would Mean Cut
In Teachers' Pay

The Board of Education may legally pay for street work. An admission of this fact was made yesterday by Richardson D. White, superintendent of the grammar school system. He added, however, that the only fund which may lawfully be used to cover this expense is that utilized for maintenance and teachers' salaries.

He stated that, if the local board should have approved the payment of $35,000 for street work, as recently suggested, it could mean nothing else than a reduction in salaries for the entire faculty. He stated that street work can not be paid for out of funds raised by a bond issue under an interpretation of the present school law.

Dust and Deviltry
TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

Kodiak Charlie lifted his feet to a mahogany desk, put his thumbs in his armpits and registered ease and affluence.

"You were asking," he said, "how I got my name. I wouldn't tell it to anyone else and not even to you had things turned out differently. As it is, I've wanted to get it off my mind for some time." The principal figure in a hundred shady deals smiled with embarrassment. "Believe it or not, it has been on my conscience."

Some years ago, before the adventurer had turned broker and realty operator, Charlie Hanson journeyed to Alaska looking for an opportunity to make money. After a season wasted in searching for gold which refused to be found, he assembled all of his assets and made a trade for a piece of land on Kodiak island.

Here there was long and green grass and a plentiful crop of berries. Charlie was shrewd enough to sense a chance in agriculture and stock raising. The land was cheap, so he added to his holdings, built a comfortable home and gave himself ten years to make a stake.

Because of the explorations made by the National Geographic Society and the subsequent taking over of the place as a park, "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" is known now to thousands of Americans. In those days it was largely a land of story. Men were little concerned with this wonderland of the peninsula, its fissures and the smoking Katamai; they were too busy seeking enough wealth to take them back to the States in style. It was then that Katamai, the volcano, spoke for itself and obliterated the hopes of Kodiak Charlie.

A foot of dust, as fine as talcum, settled over the island and on the farm of Charlie. In places it was a foot thick. The pasturage of which the farmer had been so proud was covered as with a dirty snow, and every growing thing but the trees was hidden from sight. Charlie packed up his belongings and hurried to Nome.

"It was there," said Charlie, "I met Fred Perkins from Missouri with a pocket full of money and a worthy ambition. I showed him the official reports of the crops on the islands, gave him the dope on money to be made in berries and stock, and sold him the farm. Yes, it was a dirty trick, but he never asked me about the volcanic ash and I sorter figured that to mention it would be to introduce an unpleasant topic. He was so sure he could make a go of it as a farmer I was willing to believe him. I'll say this for him, though, he was shrewd. When we had finished I had some of his money and he had the farm for a half of what it was worth before the volcano got busy. We were both satisfied, but Fred hadn't seen the place.

"Then I saw Mamie, Fred's wife, and I almost went back on the deal. She was so trusting and confident, so full of hope, that I hated to think how she would feel when she saw the acres of dust. I felt so bad I just pocketed my money and hit out for the States without so much as saying goodbye to anyone."

Kodiak Charlie half closed his eyes and smiled into the tobacco smoke above him.

"Did you ever hear of the dust, much theory?" he asked. "The idea is that if you cover the ground with fine soil or dust the weeds and small grasses won't get a chance and the strong grass and plants will come up all the better because the competition has been removed."

"Well?" "Well, that sweet-faced Mamie, Fred's wife, was a farm school graduate. They own most of the islands now, bought it up cheap in the year of the big dust, and are raising the best crops it ever had. I got a letter from Fred, sorta half apologizing for the low price he paid for the farm.

"If it hadn't been you were trying to stick me," he said, "I'd have given you what the place is worth. If you're ever broke you can come up here and pick berries."

"That blessed pair of innocents knew about the dust all the time!"

Tomorrow—Grammar and a Lesson.

DAILY FASHION HINT

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

OUT-OF-DOORS SMARTNESS

A certain way to attain out-of-doors smartness is to invest in this sports frock of flannel and krepeknit. The plaited skirt is made of flannel, 3 3/4 yards, 36 inches wide, being required for the purpose. The blouse is fitted at the hips with a deep band of self-material and ornamented with a hand embroidered monogram. It is sleeveless, for the absence of sleeves is one of the surest paths for smartness this season. Two yards of 36-inch krepeknit are required for the jacket.

Pictorial Review Sleeveless Jacket No. 1838. Sizes, 16 to 20 years, and 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 30 cents. Skirt No. 5126. Sizes, 24 to 36 inches waist. Price, 30 cents.

EMPHASIZING THE CORRECT SILHOUETTE

A frock that adds much to the smartness of the season's wardrobe is this design in plain and figured cotton crepe. The front and back of the design are perforated to be cut through so that the center section may be made of contrasting material. The idea is an exceedingly smart one and often finds expression in the silk crepes and novelty satins. In medium size the model requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch plain and 1 yard 36-inch figured material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1600. Sizes, 16 to 20 years and 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

Embarrassed Ana: An excessive amount of perspiration on any part of the body may be partially arrested by astringent treatments. If under the arms, follow the bath by rubbing into the skin a powder that has astringent properties. Any powder may be made astringent through adding a small amount of salicylic acid. Your druggist will do this for you.

Mrs. T. H. D.: You can purchase every possible invention in the line of hair curlers at any of the big department stores. They are usually found in the sections grouped about the notions.

Katharine K.: Circles around the eyes usually indicate some internal disturbance. If they appear only at intervals it is possible that you have been lacking sleep or the liver is out of order. If they are persistent a physician should prescribe for the condition causing them.

Bertha P. S.: Very few women have their faces enameled any more as it shows that it is artificial. Improve your skin by keeping it clear through good health, exercise and sufficient bathing.

Mrs. Meg. T. H.: If you included your address with the request for the hair tonic formula I should have been glad to have mailed it to you. Repeat the request and I will send you a self-addressed envelope instead of a post stamp which can be easily dropped out of a letter, thereby causing still another delay.

John Jacob S.: If it is natural for you to have a heavy beard it will not be ugly as it will be in accordance with your type. You should not destroy this growth without injuring the skin also.

Vivian: The salts solution you have been using is too drying for your skin. If you find that it clears the skin, however, follow the bath with a cold cream massage, then rinse in cold water. The cream and massage will help smooth those forehead lines, but the real solution lies in overcoming the frowning habit.

Devoted Reader: You are not in good health, or you would not get these pains. Your weight is far below normal, which is another proof of impaired health. Better have your doctor advise you.

Mary Ellen: Cocoa butter might make your legs a little fatter, but the best way to develop that part of the body is through exercises. Try walking around on the toes, which is excellent for rounding out the calf of the leg. You can also walk up and down your room as you are dressing.

Anxious Tom: Possibly the trouble is rheumatic. Be advised by a doctor. Soaking the feet in hot water before going to bed, or hot water with epsom salts in it, would help.

Tomorrow—Perfumes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

Peas, Beans and Lentils
It used to be thought that because the legumes were high in protein they could serve as a substitute for milk and for other animal protein. But animal experimentation has shown that the protein in legumes is an incomplete protein, the same as the protein of seeds, and will not suffice to build up animal tissue if used alone.

Like the grains, the legumes are splendid, useful foods and should be used for variety, but they are not to be depended upon for their protein (used alone).

The navy bean has a characteristic carbohydrate content which is difficult to digest, and in many cases much discomfort by gas. Remember this when you give them to your children.

Soy beans, a Chinese bean which is now also used in America, are a very valuable source of protein and fat. They have so little starch that they are especially valuable as a protein and fat source when the starches have to be limited, as in diabetes. The sprouted soy beans are used in the famous Chinese chop suey dish. They are a good source of the vitamins.

Potatoes
The potato is one of our most important energy foods and has a good content of the alkali mineral salts and a fair content of iron. It is one of our most valuable foods, and, fortunately, one that we never tire of. The potato is the anti-scurbutic and the anti-neuritic vitamins, which apparently withstand heat more than the anti-scurbutic vitamins in the other foods. After potatoes were introduced into Europe and used in liberal quantities, the number of cases of scurvy was markedly lowered.

Potatoes have an unjust reputation as a fattening food. Weight for weight, they are less fattening than bread. There are three ounces of potato for 100 calories, compared to two ounces of bread for 100 calories. The reason potatoes have gotten this unsavory reputation for producing fat is because they are usually accompanied with a very liberal amount of butter or gravy, both of which are high in calories. So it's the company they keep that has caused the scandal.

The protein of potatoes, while not very high—only 10 percent of their total food value—is a protein of very good value. More

Dried Potatoes
Dried potatoes have the same value as the fresh potatoes as an energy food, but drying of course destroys most of the vitamins. Because a large proportion of the valuable salts and vitamins are right under the skin, largely with the eyes—the part that is capable of growing—potatoes should not be pared before cooking. Not even for mashed potatoes. It is better to cook them with the skins on and then remove the skins and mash, because it is almost impossible to pare a potato close enough so that some of the vital elements are not lost.

Baked Potatoes
Baked potatoes are usually considered the most wholesome because they are meagrier; but if cooked until the skin becomes very tough a large part of the minerals and vitamins are still leaching out. This objection, of course, is overcome if the skins are eaten. They are good roughage, too, so that is a good plan. The skin itself has no particular value—it is only what sticks to it that is valuable.

The Dasheen
The dasheen is a South American tuber which has recently been introduced into the United States by the Department of Agriculture. It is little richer in starch and protein than our white potato, and as it is so easily grown it is going to form a valuable addition to our diet. Its qualities are about the same as the potato.

The Root Vegetables
Beets, carrots, radishes, turnips, onions, parsnips, etc., should be included in our diet often because, having a high content of water, they are not concentrated foods and they have laxative properties, mineral elements and vitamins.

Most of these vegetables if ground fine are more delicious raw than they are cooked. In this way all of their vitamins and mineral salts are saved.

HAVE YOU READ YOURS?
Is this true of your policy? Did you know that certain theft and fire policies protect also against the loss of a machine if it is being transported on a ship or on a train and the ship sinks or the train collides?

Did you know that certain theft policies would not protect you if your own chauffeur stole the car? That they would not protect in case the loss of the car occurred at the time of a riot?

A Bitter Lesson
If statistics could be gathered as to how many people who have insurance policies have ever made an effort to find out what is in them, I think they would be startling.

Of course most of us come through all right. Either the policy never has to be paid or we never run up against the clauses that would make trouble for us. But what a bitter experience it must be when one learns too late something one should have found out when the policy was taken out.

"What do you think of it?" he asked the celebrated literary critic to whom he took a copy for examination.

"Well," replied the other, warily but warily, "the stuff you rejected must certainly have been rotten."

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am fourteen years old. A certain boy has asked me to go to the show with him and my parents say I may not go. My girl friends are only fourteen years old and they are allowed to go any time. Don't you think my parents are wrong in forbidding me when the other girls do it? RED HEAD.

Your parents are right, because you really are too young to go to shows with boys. I realize that other girls of fourteen go, but that is no sign that their parents are as wise as yours are.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am about to be married and I am undecided in regard to my wedding dress. I have a pretty white voile summer dress which has just been finished and also a brown silk dress. I like one as well as the other. My sister thinks I ought to be married in silk and mother thinks it would be better to be married in white. We will just have a simple home wedding. Which dress would you advise? BRIDE-TO-BE.

Since you have a white dress, I would advise you to wear that. White is the bride's color.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman twenty-four. I was married for six years, but I am free now. I came to my mother's home with my little girl last June and then I met a man about thirty-nine years old. We went together for a month or two and he did not care to go places with me and so we broke up. A week ago he came down to my mother and asked to see me. We were to have been married this month if things had gone all right. During the time I did not see him, I met a dear friend of mine with whom I had gone before I was married. He went away to work and I have not seen him for four months, but I get letters from him two or three times a week. He says he is saving for us and when he comes back he is going to take me with him. He is twenty-four years old and very good to my little girl. She loves him. They say his father drank so much. He says he loves me and I love him very dearly. My folks like the man of thirty-nine and I want to marry him, but I can't for I do not love him.

Please tell me what to do in a case like this.

TRUE LOVE NEVER DIES.
It would be most unwise to marry the man of thirty-nine since you do not love him. I would certainly advise you to wait for the man you love if you feel confident he would make a good husband. The fact that his father drank means nothing if he himself is free from the habit. Of course if you marry a drinking man you will make yourself and your child utterly miserable.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years of age and will be a freshman next year. I have bobbed hair, blue eyes and am considered pretty by many of my friends.

I am going with a boy friend one year my senior. He is good-looking and considered to be among the rich people of this city.

Many of my girl friends try to win his love. They tell things about me which are not true and now he is beginning to believe them. Lately he has been acting rather distant toward me. Please tell me how I can win back his love.

My dear girl, don't blame other people for your failure to keep the regard of the boy you like. He probably is fickle and has turned from you to new interests, just as he left another girl to go with you. It would be useless to try to win back his love, because if he love you he will come back voluntarily and not because of any effort you have made.

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I am a young woman 21 years old and am engaged to be married soon. My fiancé loves children, but I do not. I don't think I could stand to have children about me after I am married. I do not want to disappoint him, but I feel as though I cannot have any children. Should I tell him this before we are married? I am afraid he will hate me for it if I do, and I love him dearly. Your advice will certainly be appreciated. CURLY.

You may love the man you expect to marry, but you certainly love your fiancé more. If you loved him deeply his wish would be your law and you would sacrifice your own feelings rather than disappoint him. Since he loves children and you do not like them, your tastes differ too much to warrant marriage.

The only thing for you to do is to tell the truth and stand the consequences. It would be most unfair to marry feeling as you do, without preparing your fiancé for your lack of interest in children.

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I am a young woman 23 years old, and I have been married almost a year. Before marriage my husband was very affectionate and preferred to stay home and make love to me to go to shows and to visit to other friends. At that time I could not get him to go anywhere. Now, instead of being loving, he seems to be satisfied with just a little love, and he reads a great deal and is always suggesting that we entertain some friend for dinner. I can't understand the change in him, because he is perfectly faithful to me and never seems to want to go anywhere without me. He is also good about giving me money and he likes to have me wear good clothes.

What do you think is wrong? Do you think my husband has ceased to love me? TROUBLED BRIDE.

You really have no reason to think your husband has ceased to love you merely because he no longer cares to be so affectionate and because he seems to like the things which were distasteful when he was courting you. Very often husbands turn out that way. Be very thankful that you are the one your husband seeks for companionship, because that is the best possible result of marriage.

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I have been married five months and I have been invited to chaperone several couples on a winter roast. To tell the truth, I have not much faith in myself as a chaperone. What would you advise me to do under the circumstances?

Since you do not feel competent to chaperone the young couples, tell the girl who asked you to do so that you want her to excuse you from it. Say that you appreciate her inviting you, but you do not feel you can go.

A countryman on his first visit to New York came out of the Grand Central station into the confusion of Forty-second street, and after standing somewhat bewildered for a few minutes, walked over to a traffic officer and said:

"Mister, I want to go to Central Park."

"All right," said the officer. "You can go this time, but don't you ever, ever ask me again."—Everybody's.

TODAY—Paris Pedestrianism Perilous; Tax on Bachelors Is Proposed. TOMORROW—West Fights Express Rates; California Wants Reduction; Say Companies Profit Heavily, by Elias H. Martin, San Francisco Correspondent.

By ALICE LANGELIER For International News Service

PARIS, July 17.—About the hardest thing to do in Paris is to cross the street. The pedestrian is an object of pity. It is estimated that 100,000 vehicles pass daily before the Place de la Concorde at the entrance of the Champs Elysees between the hours of 3 o'clock and 7 in the evening. At the crossings of the rue de Richelieu and the Grande Boulevards, 65,700 pass daily during the same hours, and where the rue de Rivoli joins the Place de la Concorde the number is not much less—57,500. In view of these figures it is surprising to believe that, in all the total number of people injured in street traffic during the last year was 6,678, with 8 killed. The other hundreds of thousands had bad frights.

It will pay to get married if the proposed tax on bachelors is imposed upon lone Parisian men. It is being discussed in French judicial circles as a result of the enforcement of such a law in Madagascar. According to the law, bachelors would be subjected to a heavier tax than that imposed on families without children, but both would be forced to pay an additional income tax.

In the future visitors to the Paris catacombs will not carry around a little handle to light their way through the gruesome pile of bones. Modern electric lights recently have been installed through the winding passages filled with the remains of Parisians. Another innovation is the entrance fee of one franc in the place of a little card issued by the Prefecture de Police which used to be sufficient to admit the tourist to the underworld.

"Sing your way to health," says Monsieur Frossard, of the Sorbonne. The exercise develops the chest and strengthens the diaphragm to such an extent that many artists have lived to a good old age. BILLY WEICKER'S

Yesterday, you remember, Billy was trying to get his wife to take a trip with him. "Well, you see," said Nannie, "I have to make myself to light by washing my hair and manicuring my hoofs and horns, and then there will be my farewell visits to pay."

"Your coat can be cleaned in ten minutes by rolling in the sand and shaking yourself well. Besides that is the use of having every hair just go when before you have been out on the road twenty minutes most likely it will be full of burrs and splashed with mud? As for your friends, say good-bye to those we meet on the way out, and leave good-bye for the rest. Tell them your husband had important business and hurried out."

"I'll tell them no such thing when you haven't any business to attend to! I won't tell them an untruth just to make a good excuse! Men are always saying they have important business to look after or an engagement when they want an excuse to get off without telling where they are going."

"Why, Nannie! I never heard you make such a long speech before or be so suspicious. It isn't at all like you, and goes to show that you are tired and nervous and need a trip. Well, just tell them that your husband hurried you off without a moment's notice. They will all believe that, for they know what a crusty old codger I am, and that I always browbeat my wife."

"I'll not tell them that, either, for that would be a worse untruth than the other story. You are never cross to me, and I won't stand it to hear you run yourself down. I'll just get ready and make no excuses to anyone. I'll guess I have a perfect right to take a trip at a moment's notice without notifying all the animals in the whole barnyard!"

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Billy.

"You certainly are getting spunky in your old age! And I soon shall begin wondering where my gentle little Nannie has gone."

"You won't have to look far, for I am going to stick to you wherever you go after this. You see what leaving me at home has done—turned me into a disagreeable old goat."

Here their conversation was interrupted by Billy Jr., Daisy and their twins, who had just come from a swim in the stream, looking as glossy and clean as if just from under a currycomb.

(Tomorrow I will show you just how naughty the twins could be and how their grandparents broke the news of their journey.)

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

OIL AND ELECTRICAL APPARATUS

Too Much Oil Is Better Than None at All Do not neglect to give your generator and starting motor the little oil that they require, but do not give them too much or apply it in the wrong place. The bearings of magnetos and generators need about five drops of thin oil each 50 miles as a rule, although some bearings are packed in grease instead and the driving-end bearings of some generators are automatically oiled from the crankcase splash. If generator-shaft bearings run dry of oil, they soon wear enough, so that the armature no longer clears the pole pieces, but rubs against them and is ruined. The danger of overoil-boards, which holds the spring. Kindly explain how to fix this.

Answer: You are doubtless right in locating the trouble within the starter-drive case, as it appears that the motor turns over all right, but the automatic engagement of the starter-pinion with the fly-wheel gear does not occur, and, therefore, the engine is not cranked. The weighted pinion on the motor shaft should be perfectly free on its threaded sleeve, so that when the motor starts it will not turn on the sleeve at first, but keep from turning and thus be carried along the threads of the sleeve until it comes into line with the fly-wheel gear and meshes with it. Most likely there is a little grease or dust on the threaded sleeve, which holds the pinion enough, so that it turns with the sleeve and thus fails to reach the engaging position. We suggest that you remove the cover and wash off the threaded sleeve with kerosene until the pinion is perfectly free upon it.

Clutch and Gear-Shifting Troubles R. P. writes: The cone clutch of my car troubles me by slipping, although I have had a new lining put on. I also find it very difficult to change from high to second gear, it being necessary to speed the engine considerably before making the shift. What advice have you to offer?

Answer: Are you sure that there is nothing which prevents the clutch from fully engaging, such as an incorrect adjustment of the pedal connection, which permits the pedal to hit the floorboards or its stop, before the driven clutch member is fully seated in the driving member. If you find nothing wrong in this direction and the clutch leather is of the proper material, put on correctly and well dressed with neat-foot oil, the probabilities are that more spring pressure is required. Your instruction book gives the method for securing this. As for difficulty in changing down from high to second speed, we know of no car which is free from it.

There seems to be no set quota as to the Scotch coming into the country.

Ninety-eight per cent of the people in this country aim to obey the laws, but some of them are poor marksmen.

Boston bootleggers wear tin coats. Out in Kansas they wear tar and feathers. It is all a matter of taste.

What difference does it make if the last young heifer of the western plains gives up its sweet young life in the interests of gastronomy? The scientists have just discovered a substitute in elephant meat. In some countries elephant meat is the piece de resistance of every meal. The possibilities of the idea are enormous. Ringling Brothers could feed the entire country for one week and there are plenty of circuses and zoos. Elephant meat is, by the way, very durable. It wears exceedingly well.

A double porterhouse steak off an elephant means something. It isn't one of those Broadway cafe porterhouse steaks that look like a black leather carcass, but a real piece of meat. It takes much longer to eat elephant meat than any other sort of meat in the world except owl meat. When an owl is boiled three or four days and then served, it is possessed of great tensile strength, and after a person has eaten an owl he loses his ambition for food for at least three weeks.

Elephant meat is said to have a delightful nutty flavor for the reason that elephants subsist entirely upon peanuts during the summer months.

"How high am de humility today?" asked a hall boy in our apartment house. That boy doesn't know that there isn't any such thing as humility any more.

The hairdressing trade has a new czar in the person of a New York permanent waver. What Will Hays is to the movies, he is to the hair business, and he is backed by an organization of hairdressers which is nation wide in its importance. The reason for appointing a dictator was that, apparently, everybody was getting into the hairdressing profession. Many private chauffeurs adopted

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ORANGE JUICE

"My goodness! I wonder what has happened?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily one day as he hopped down the stairs in his hollow stump bungalow. The bunny rabbit gentleman thought he would see his breakfast ready for him on the table.

"Nurse Jane not down yet—something must be the matter!" thought Mr. Longears.

Then, as he noticed how still and quiet it was in the bungalow, he said thought came to the rabbit gentleman.

"I hope the Fuzzy Fox or the Woolzie Wolf hasn't toddled in and carried off Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy," whispered Uncle Wiggily.

But he need not have worried about this, for a moment later, a weak voice called from the kitchen.

"Uncle Wiggily, I am too ill this morning to come down and get your breakfast. I have such a headache. Do you think you can get yourself something to eat?"

"Why, of course I can!" cried Uncle Wiggily, trying to speak in a jolly voice. "I used to camp out once upon a time, with Uncle Butter, the goat. And you should see the breakfasts I used to cook! Not only can I get something for myself, Nurse Jane, but I'll bring up your breakfast also. Stay in bed until your headache stops."

"Oh, I couldn't eat a thing!" sighed the muskrat lady housekeeper in a faint voice.

"Not even a little grape juice?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "I will try to squeeze you out some orange juice in a glass, couldn't you drink it?"

"Well, I might take some orange juice," squeaked Nurse Jane. "But I don't like to trouble you, Uncle Wiggily. Get your own breakfast and don't bother about me!"

"If I would do that!" cried Mr. Longears. "I guess you've bothered with me often enough when I didn't feel well. Now you just lie there quietly and I'll bring you up the orange juice."

"Thank you," sighed Nurse Jane.

Uncle Wiggily went to the kitchen and after opening about forty wrong cupboard doors he found the oranges, a glass and the jigger which takes the juice out of oranges.

Uncle Wiggily was squeezing out the orange juice for Nurse Jane, when, all of a sudden, there was a noise at the back kitchen door. At first the rabbit gentleman thought it was the cow lady, bringing the milk and

Salinas Will Stage Pageant of Nations

SALINAS, July 17.—"Footsteps of Four Nations," a four-period pageant of nineteen episodes, based on the history of Monterey county, will be given in the patio of Salinas' magnificent Spanish-Colonial high school the evenings of July 19 and 20 as an innovation in the California Rodeo and Salinas Big Week festivities, July 18-22. In recent years outdoor pageantry has been found the most popular method of acquainting friends and strangers with the history and attractiveness of a community, and the Playcrafters and amateur dramatic organization of Salinas, has constructed this pageant as a special attraction of the festivities. In the eleven preceding annual celebrations there has been no such feature.

No one saw the accident. Officials of the plant here gave no explanation for the explosion.

Furniture Plants to Locate in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Five big furniture plants, with an investment totaling several millions of dollars, are in prospect for San Francisco. This announcement was made today by Charles Walton, assistant director of the Industrial Department of the Chamber of Commerce, upon his return from Chicago and other Mid-West trade centers. Walton declared that one of the five manufacturers is a headliner in his particular industry, the contemplated plant to occupy four or five acres and to be housed in a four story structure.

Loganberry Crop Is Left to Rot on Vines

SALEM, Ore., July 17.—Approximately 14,000 tons of loganberries are due to rot on the vines in the Willamette valley this season, according to word received by the Chamber of Commerce from representative growers of the district. The packers have informed growers that they will not accept loganberry offerings this year and that the very limited pack being made is for orders already on hand. The cannerymen are not packing futures, but are meeting only present demands.

SUNLAND VISITORS BEATEN ON SUNLAND LOT

Washington Cubs Walloped In Errorless Ball Game By Sunland Team

The Washington Cubs came out for some baseball revenge Sunday, having been smeared with an awful pasting on their last appearance, but Sunland couldn't see it and won this pastime as well, 3 to 1, the smallest score turned in from the Monte Vista park grounds for several weeks.

Both teams played errorless ball and showed plenty of snap and speed on the bases. Sunland had a new man at short in place of Bush, name of Allen. His first appearance was good, although he did not have many chances, getting two putouts and one assist.

Bidwell had a good day on the hill, and allowed the Cubs only seven hits. Sunland got ten hits off the combined deliveries of Aguilier and Margowitz. The Cubs did the heavy batting, getting five of the two-base hits turned in. Dutch Brandstetter, Sunland's hitless wonder, drove off the only two base clout registered by the home team.

Visits In Chicago

Mrs. H. B. Tilton of Walnut Drive left for Chicago where she expects to spend six weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herron of Sunland and Mrs. Tom Webber of La Habra have left on a motor trip in the Yosemite Valley.

The radio receiving set equipped with an amplifying horn at Rice's confectionery was the center of interest during the last two big prize fights just staged. The Dempsey-Gibbons match returns were received round by round and Sunland was deserted for the time being except for the radius of the horn's carrying power, and the store and dining room and grounds were packed. Picnickers at Monte Vista park enjoyed this treat.

LA CRESCENTA MUSIC PUPIL TO PLAY FOR RADIO

Piano Student to Be Given Tryout on Broadcasting Station This Week

On Wednesday night of this week little Miss Elma Ruth Kiehl will have a try out over the Times broadcasting radio.

Elma Ruth is a piano student of no mean ability and studies under Miss Hauber. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kiehl of Altura avenue.

Mrs. Sharp of Prospect avenue is entertaining Mrs. Shelton and family of Los Angeles. They expect to be here for a month or six weeks.

Mr. McAsker of West Montrose avenue is enjoying a visit from his niece Dr. Harwood of Oklahoma City. Dr. Harwood is accompanied by her little daughter Doris. Needless to say, though this is their first California visit, they are already very enthusiastic over our climate and scenery.

L. A. BUILDING TO SET NEW MARK

Official Predicts City to Pass 20 Millions in Its 1923 Construction

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Predicting that Los Angeles will pass the $200,000,000 mark in its 1923 building activity, Roy L. Balaan, chief clerk of the city building inspector's office, has announced that during the year to date permits have been issued for new buildings having a total valuation of more than $102,000,000.

It is anticipated, from indications to date, that before another month has passed, the phenomenal building program of the entire year of 1923 will have been eclipsed in the 1923 building record.

California Doctors Having Hard Times

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—California doctors are so healthy that the state's M. D.'s are finding it difficult to make a living, according to statistics announced by the state board of health.

The annual doctor bill per person last year was only $6.89 and the average salary of a physician was $3000.

Wilson's Daughter With Ad Agency

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of former President Woodrow Wilson, has chosen to embark on a business career with a Washington advertising agency. She will continue her social work during spare hours.

BURBANK INCREASE BANK'S CAPITALIZATION

Growth of Deposits Compels Enlargement from $50,000 to $200,000

The capital of the Burbank State bank is to be increased from $50,000 to $200,000, it is announced, the increase being made necessary by reason of deposits having approached the $500,000 mark.

Since the law requires capital stock to be increased when deposits have reached ten times the above action was compulsory.

Of the $200,000 capitalization, it is understood that $100,000 will be fully subscribed and paid for at once, while the balance will be issued as desired.

When it is considered that the Burbank State bank has been in operation less than eighteen months, this progress is seen to be the more remarkable.

Bachelors Organize

"In unity there is strength" might well be the motto of the Bachelors' club of Burbank, recently organized. Many are wondering if they have banded together for offensive or defensive purposes!

Among the young bachelors organizing under the banner of "single blessedness" are Harry L. Klein, manager of the Review printing department; J. B. Brown, cashier of the Burbank State bank; J. B. Pardieck, president of the Genevieve Jackson Branch company, and Clifford H. Thompson, a local attorney.

"Social uplift" is given by the organizers as the object of their organization, but there are those who are of the opinion that this slogan covers a multitude of objects.

The organizers aim to have a membership of fifty or more and desire to have all interested non-attached males of twenty-one or over communicate with them at the earliest moment.

Burbank Booklet

The Burbank advertising booklet, prepared and put out by the Chamber of Commerce and the Realty board, orders the peruser to "Investigate Burbank!"—and aids in the investigation by holding a reading glass across the front cover, under which one may clearly see the Andrew Jergens' soap factory, while a similar reading-glass held across the back cover reveals a close-up of the Moreland Truck plant, as seen by airplane.

Across the top of the inside top pages one sees a realistic picture of a long train of covered wagons, winding across the prairie and the desert, to the "golden west," and at the bottom of the page is a reproduction of the modern west, as depicted by a scene from San Fernando boulevard as it passes through Burbank.

The inner pages show street scenes, groups of business buildings, also industrial plants, residences and apartments, public buildings, clubs and other institutions of this city.

Taken altogether, the booklet is very well gotten up and should give the prospective settler a very favorable impression of Burbank. The job is a credit to those who produced it and something for the entire community to take pride in.

TUJUNGA PLAN FORMATION OF FIRE DISTRICT

Warden Explains Law Dealing With Organization of Protection Units

At the meeting of residents to determine some action for protecting Tujunga from the inroads of fire, deputy county fire warden Norman Johnson advised the formation of a fire district that would include territory to the east far enough to meet the fire district that is being planned by La Crescenta and Montrose, and to the west to include Sunland.

Mr. Johnson is engaged at present in organizing fire protection districts under the new law passed at the last session of the legislature. According to the bill, as interpreted by Mr. Johnson and explained to the meeting, the board of supervisors may call a mass meeting in the community for the purpose of forming a fire district. At this mass meeting if there is no opposition to the organization of the district, the supervisors may declare the district formed. In the event of opposition an election may be called to settle the question.

If formed, the expense of the fire protection district would be paid from the county tax fund, as meetings. It is stated that there are districts at present operating a fast chemical truck with two fifty-gallon tanks and force pumps and other fire-fighting equipment at a very small increase in the tax rate. Such districts have one man on duty day and night.

Need Two Trucks

Mr. Johnson discussed and explained different means of fire protection at some length and expressed himself of the opinion that the needs of this community would require two chemical trucks, one to be stationed at Tujunga and one at Sunland. He also suggested and recommended that a chemical truck be kept at Montrose to supplement the apparatus maintained at La Crescenta under the able direction of Fire Chief Young.

Mr. Johnson explained that the chemicals used in an ordinary engine are primarily for the purpose of forming a gas to force the water out of the container, and have no special value in subduing the flames directly. The water is the agency that performs this, forced in the flames by the force of the gas formed by the chemical meet in the container. Some of the smaller extinguishers do use gas to smother flames, but not the type carried on trucks.

The type of engine recommended by the deputy county fire warden has two forty gallon chemical tanks with hoses, mounted on an ordinary chassis of a twenty horsepower automobile.

James Blain, deputy fire warden for the Tujunga district with Leo L. Lang, was appointed by the meeting to prepare a resolution asking the county supervisors to institute such means as are necessary to form the proposed fire protection district.

Supervisors Will Act

Everett C. Carlson was appointed to take the matter before the Sunland and Tujunga chambers of commerce. Mr. Johnson stated that the supervisors are ready to proceed but desire a formal request for action to come from a representative organization in the territories affected. The districts thus organized are under the full control and administration of the county supervisors.

The system of keeping the chemical extinguishers in the office of Deputy Fire Warden Lang has been discontinued since the recent fire that destroyed the Tujunga restaurant. In future they will be kept in front of the fire warden's office, where they may be reached and used by anyone on the first alarm of fire.

Occasional grass fires continue to keep volunteer fire fighters in practice. Carelessness has been the cause of at least two recent brush fires where permits had been issued to clear lots and burn rubbish. Deputy Fire Warden Long threatened to refuse to issue permits if greater care is not exercised.

Clean Up Lots

The best protection against brush and grass fires is a clear lot and yard, with all the dry grass and brush removed. This was recognized by J. O. B. Bodkin, who put the thought into words and asked the Chamber of Commerce to organize a "Clean-Up Week," the chamber recognized the value of the suggestion and announced July 22 to July 29, inclusive, as the week. The rest is squarely up to property owners and renters.

A. Bessolo, district commander of the thirty-second district of the American Legion, addressed Post 250 at the last meeting at Legion hall. His subject was the inception and organization of the American Legion and the work it has done, especially the legislation which the Legion has been instrumental in securing.

The question of the housing of the branch county library also was discussed. At present Post 250 is allowing the use of a portion of the front of Legion hall for the purpose, without remuneration for same. The books and magazines are kept in cases and on tables which are moved against the wall out of the way when the floor is needed for a meeting or dancing.

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a motion carried instructing Secretary Fisher to write to the county library officials, asking them to provide some means for fencing off the books with a wire partition or a railing. This would permanently lessen the floor space of

EAGLE ROCK DAHLIA GARLAND FOR PRESIDENT

Gift to Chief Executive of Nation During Visit On August 3rd

When President Warren G. Harding passes through Eagle Rock on his way from Glendale to Pasadena, on or about Friday, August 3, he will be greeted by a massing of children along Colorado boulevard; and when the long procession of automobiles halts for a moment, a representative of some prominent civic organization will present the first citizen of the lawn with a great bunch of varicolored dahlias—a token that Eagle Rock, as "the dahlia city," is giving our chief executive of its best.

Such, at least, is the tentative plan for greeting the president of the United States on that historic occasion, now less than a month ahead. Representatives of all civic bodies of the section, however, may be reached with suggestions on the subject; or anyone with an idea of how best to greet President Harding may telephone the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

School Decision

Following a conference between the president of the Central school Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. J. C. Reiter, and representatives of local civic organizations, it has been decided to do nothing further regarding the elementary school situation until after the opening of the fall term, this with the understanding that two or three additional bungalows be provided.

The decision was reached after full consideration of the matters involved, it being felt that more can be done when it is seen just what accommodations are going to be necessary.

Those representing the locality in the conference were H. M. Bruce, president of the Improvement Association; Mrs. Walz, West end P.-T. A.; Mrs. Ada Jones, East end P.-T. A., and Dr. Sinclair, Chamber of Commerce.

Social and Personal

Picture of the wedding of John Cammack to Miss Lena Horn of Illinois were shown at a local theatre last week. The pictures were taken at the home of Mrs. W. J. Roach of Hollywood.

H. M. Bruce and family spent the week-end at Laguna Beach. Lloyd Shuler, who died Saturday, July 7, 1923, at his summer home at Hermosa Beach, was a brother of Harry Shuler, 122 East Sycamore avenue.

The parlor of the Presbyterian church is being redecorated by Charles E. Stevens, under the auspices of the women of the church.

Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer, director of the local Community Players' organization, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. William A. Lyman, from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Clements of 5144 North Peyton avenue are enjoying a two weeks' trip in the northern part of the state.

E. Ford, who, with his son, has been teaching music in Los Angeles for twenty years, has moved to Eagle Rock and taken a studio at 208 South Central avenue. With Mr. Ford, in addition to his son, is a daughter, who has been before the public for a number of years.

The members of the Presbyterian church have called as their pastor Rev. William Middleman of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle, Wash. The appointment came as a result of Rev. Weatherall's inability to rally from his long illness sufficient to resume the pastorate.

Veteran Educator to Have Long Vacation

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—After serving in the state educational department for 25 years without a break, Job Wood, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, will leave on August 1 on a six months' leave of absence.

The veteran educator was granted a leave of absence by Superintendent Will C. Wood, who appointed Sam H. Cohn, assistant superintendent, to fill the deputyship during his absence.

The clubhouse and most of the members of the Post and Auxiliary are not in favor of it, especially in view of the fact that no rental is charged for the space.

A plan for erecting a small building on the north end of the Legion's property was discussed.

Auxiliary Meeting

The last meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Lila Begue. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Aiken, Thursday evening, July 19, at 8 o'clock. Important business will be brought up.

The Auxiliary recently gave a card party for members and their friends at Legion hall, which was well attended. Games, five hundred and dancing occupied the evening. Refreshments were served.

The new owner of the Garden of the Moon, W. W. Wilcox, has added two rows of seats on the floor surrounding the dancing platform. He is arranging the projecting room into a private office for himself, and will string colored lights in the oak trees that overhang the pavilion.

Federation club day, July 23, at the Monroe Doctrine exposition in Los Angeles, will bring out a delegation of Tujunga Women's club members who are planning to attend. Mrs. D. E. Mills will go as substitute for the president, Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, and will be accompanied by the secretary, Mrs. Theobald.
