1. In compliance with General Headquarters' letter dated 3 April 1951, same subject, there is transmitted herewith information concerning elections and campaigns in the Tokai-Hokuriku Region to supplement three previous reports forwarded this month.

2. The Legal-Government Section's surveillance of campaigning in Aichi, Gifu and Mie prefectures indicates that in the Tokai area of this Region Socialist candidates are refraining from injecting international issues into their campaigns, as is evidenced by inclosure 2.

3. Since the compilation of this headquarter's report dated 12 April 1951 the Communist Party in Ishikawa has entered a candidate for governor, namely, Heiichi UMEDA, age 45, occupation farmer, residence Kanazawa city, Ishikawa.

Rec'd. 19 Apr 51

Translation of Yomiuri-Shimbun, dated 11 April 1951

SUBJECT: Prefectural Election

HOKKAIDO:

The contest for Hokkaido Governorship between Mr. Tanaka and Mr. Kurosawa is an interesting one. The former is the present Governor and backed by the progressive forces and the latter represents the conservative camp in Kokkaido. The election of Mr. Tanaka as Hokkaido Governor four years ago meant the defeat of the Liveral Party and, in addition, liberals were knocked down completely by socialists in last year's election of councillors. That is why conservatives in Hokkaido are desperate now in launching election campaigns, though the voting day is still far off.

Taking advantage of his official post, Governor Tanaka during the past four years travelled almost throughout this vast island and, therefore, his name is popular even among school children. At the same time, the Governor is only 39 years old and such a lucky man as having started as a minor official of the Hokkaido Prefectural Government. His unusual success in life attracts labor unionists, young men and women, on one hand. On the other, Mr. Kurosawa, because he has just recently been set free of controls by purge ordinances, is much handicapped by the fact that for five years he has been an incapacitated man politically; however, he is also a man of such great success as to have made himself the organizer of the big carted of dairy products, which is widely known as the manufacturer of "Snow-marked Butter." This butter is considered the symbol of industry in Hokkaido. The above is why Mr. Kurosawa is strongly supported by men of over 40 and the members of agricultural cooperatives.

The general conclusion is that the two rivals are conterting on even terms.

The traditional mission of Hokkaido Governor, since Kaitaku-Shi or "Governor in charge of the development of Hokkaido" (former name of Governor) was created, has been the over-all cultivation of this whose northern land, and both of the said candidates promise their service, in case of becoming the head of Hokkaido, according to the above tradition.

When Liberals took power, Socialist Tanaka was unable to keep in good contact with the cabinet, and the Hokkaido Administration was put in a political vacuum at the same time. That is why, in order to settle this political chaos, the Socialist Governor though he had denounced "banqueting politics" according to his political belief, was some times forced to invite politicians to dinner parties at restaurants. To date, Mr. Tanaka achieved the exploitation of electric power, the development of milk industries and the promotion of small enterprises to such an extent that anyhow the people recognize that he did what he is obliged to do as Governor.

Mr. Kurosawa, who studied agriculture in Denmark and is being backed by the Liberals, and his supporters are seeking more votes with the slogan of "Here is an agricultural expert and he is popular with Tokyo politicians." Mr. Tanaka, in the face of these strong attacks from the Kurosawa camp, and regardless of the Japan Socialist Party's favorite platform of three-point peace principles, adopted the slagan "Which way do you prefer, a 'has-geen' like Kurosawa or me, a man of splendid future?" This slogan is regarded as being aimed at diverting the public attention from the present poverty to a future prosperity.

IWATE Prefecture:

The governorship is being contested by 4 candidates, among whom outgoing Governor Kenkichi KOKUBU (backed by the Liberals and the Democratic Parties) and Mr. Ichiro YONAI (Socialist representative) are the most hopeful. But, taking advantage of his official post, Mr. Kokubu is drowing ahead. While governing this prefecture, the conservative candidate spent twenty days monthly in visiting various corners here and there and this made his face very popular. That is why, though two-third of whole the prefecture is still covered with snow, he is not at a loss now how to go on a stumping tour in a hurry.

Mr. Yonai well recognizes the possibility of his rival's successful election and, therefore, his declaration for candidature is aimed solely at saving his face. Though he is fully utilizing the Socialist Party's network throughout the prefecture, victory is far from his hands. Mr. Kokubu is clever enough to have announced that he will not join any dialogue debate with Mr. Yonai because the latter is an excellent orator. Because the name Yonai means literally in Japanese "Kome" or rice, Mr. Yonai crys, "Farmers, please vote for 'Kome'".

AKITA Prefecture:

Here is a three-man race and Mr. Tokuji IKEDA Backed jointly by the Liberal and the democratic Parties, Mr. Yajiro KOBATA Supported by Socialists, and Communist candidate Kiyoshi SUZUKI are the running champions, This conservatives-progressives contest is said connected closely with the conflict within the conservative camp. Mr. Ikeda emerged from the situation so that in connection with the naming of outgoing Governor Hasunuma as their candidate, Messrs. Hakuei IKEDA and Ryutaro NEMOTO, basses of the Liberal Party, are quarrelling with each other. Mr. Ikeda is only a substitute.

Mr. Obata, because he has been the chief advisor to Mr. Hasunuma, is rumored to have entered the election rink with the aim of playing on behalf of the outgoing Governor and making his own use of the preparation for electioneering he made as the chief advisor. Mr. Hasunuma is officially in a position to back Mr. Ikeda however, he is privately in a mood to go with Mr. Obata. This dilemma darkens the election campaigns in this prefecture very much. The Japan Socialist Party also is suffering the same dillemma, namely, it has been forced to "shoulder" Mr. Obata who has no connection with the revolutionist camp. This dilemma is caused by a "no money and no good man" situation within the party and is being sharply criticized by leader of Akita Prefectural Branch of the Japan Socialists Party, Michiyo HOSONO, as indicative of the fact that the party's official ordinances are neglected there.

This JSP's inter-party conflict is the ground on which communist candidate SUZUKI stands. He all but won the Governorship of Akita Prefecture four years ago and the votes for progressive candidates will be divided. It is feared, therefore, Mr. Obata may not be able to monopolize those votes and instead Mr. Ikeda, representative of the conservative camp, will first reach the goal.

YAMAGATA Prefecture:

The game is going on between Mr. Michio MURAYAMA (the outgoing Governor and representative of the conservative camp of this prefecture) and Mr. Saburo UNNO, socialist. Because the latter was lated in starting election ectivities, the former is getting ahead.

What is interesting to us is the campaigns of communists there. Their proposal for cooperation has been rejected by all; however, they are busy with scattering posters and bills in favor of Mr. UNNO in quite a disregard of election ordinances prohibiting such a distribution campaign.

The Socialist Party is angry at the communists' illegal supporting activities and, consequently, the progressive camp of Yamagata Prefecture is in chaos now.

FUKUSHIMA, MIYAGI and AOMORI Prefectures:

The elction of only prefectural assemblymen and municipal heads will be carried out in the above prefectures.

So many candidates are running on the ticket of conservative parties thug, the party authorities are far from placing their comrades' election campaigns on a systematic basis. This is called a tragic scene.

1. 9-280	1. This section has been advised that Governor HOSODA, Tokujyu, of Oita Prefecture has submitted his resignation effective 2 April 1951 although his term of office does not expire until 12 April 1951. He is to be a candidate for re-election. 2. Strong sentiment exists among local Japanese leaders that incumbents should resign from public office before seeking re-election, on the grounds that failure to resign before campaigning would be using their public office for personal gain. Example shown in paragraph 1. is only one of many instances in Japan in which government officials have resigned prior to the expiration of their terms of office in order to be candidates for re-election to the same office. 3. It is the opinion of this section that an effort should be made to change this attitude through educational advice by Japanese agencies such as the Local Autonomy Agency and National Election Administration Commission.

From: Civil Affairs To: GS Date: 27 Feb 1951

1. For your information the following is a survey of the possible candidates for the office of governor and their political affiliations in the April election in the prefectures of Kanto Region:

No election of Governor will be held in Gumma, Saitama and Chiba.

Ibaraki: Yoji Tomosue, present governor, independent (conservative) will run. Tomosue refused to join the Liberal Party so he could run with the joint support of conservatives. Social Democrat Party might not participate in the coming election due to the lack of appropriate candidates although Goro Manda, business man depurgee, is rumored to run. Sozaemon Yanagawa, independent depurgee, is also rumored to run.

Tochigi: Jukichi Kodaira, present governor, was designated by Liberal Party as their official candidate. It is rumored that opposition parties may be designate one of the three below:

Kyoji Funada, Peoples' Democrat, House of Representatives
Daihachi Onuki, Social Democrat, lawyer
Kiyoshi Kimijima, ex-Governor, depurgee

Tokyo: Seiichiro Yasui, present governor, independent (conservative) will run with the joint support of Liberals and Peoples' Democrats. Kanju Kato, central executive committeeman of the Social Democrat Party will run also. Three or four more candidates might run but will not be strong enough to beat the above two. CP kindly offered their support to Social Democrat candidate but were bluntly refused by the Social Democrat Party; therefore, CP might designate their own candidate.

Kanagawa: Iwataro Uchiyama, present governor, independent (conservative) was asked by Premier Yoshida to join the Liberal Party. However, he will be designated by both Liberal and Peoples' Democrats. Social Democrat Party is now trying to find candidates.

Yamanashi: Katsuyasu Yoshie, present governor, independent (Liberal) will be supported by Liberal Party. Peoples' Democrat Party is rumored to designate one of the following: Daisuke Yasuda, ex-Asst Chief of the Maritime Bureau, depurgee, and Hisashi Amano, Diet member. The

1. (contd) leftists of the Social Democrat Party are thinking of Jiro Usui, an old-timer of the party.

Nagano: Torao Hayashi, present governor and Social Democrat, will again be supported by the party. The conservatives who were defeated in the last election are now having meetings to decide their candidate. At the meeting held on 2 February it was decided to designate Tokuya Furuhata, Diet member, but according to the opinions of the Diet men of the Liberal Party, Chiju Katagiri, present chairman of the prefectural assembly, may be designated.

Shizuoka: Takeji Kobayashi, present governor, Liberal, and Hisao Saito, head of general affairs division of the prefecture, Liberal, are running. Koyabashi and Saito are fighting and the party is split into two groups. The prefectural branch of the Liberal Party held a noisy, rowdy meeting from which Kobayashi's followers retired leaving Saito's group who immediately endorsed Saito. Kobayashi has requested Saito's resignation as head of general affairs division of the prefecture but Saito has refused to resign. It is contemplated at this time that both Kobayashi and Saito will be candidates, Kobayashi as an Independent. The concensus of opinion is that Saito will be elected. There is talk of the Peoples' Democrats and Social Democrats joining forces to support Y. Takeyama, Peoples' Democrat, present House of Representatives member.
