FOR GOVERNOR: J. B. DAWSON. FOR MAYOR, JOHN H. HOLLAND. FOR RECORDER 4 ANTONIO DUCROS. FOR ALDERMAN-5th Ward, ALFRED DUCROS.

FOR CONGRESS:
1st district—CHARLES CAYARRE'.
2d district—JAMES M. BRADFORD.

.In Act of the Legislature, approved 14th March 1820. "ART. 5. And be it further enacted, That the Mayor and Recorder shall be chosen from among the citizens who are heads of families, and resident within the city at the time of their election, and possess the other qualifications required by the existing laws." Fellow citizens, if the law requires this as a condition in completing the eligibility of a candidate for the place of Mayor, judge if respect for public manners and morals, does not more imperiously exact that it should be found in a candidate for the office of Governor.

The affair between the Government and the State of Alabama, contrary to our sincere wishes and expectations. seems to be approaching an ominous crisis. The Mobile Commercial of Tuesday mentions that, "orders have been assued from Head Quarters for the immediate marching of ten companies of U. S. States Artillery, completely equipped for the field, to Fort Mitchell in this State. This detachment, added to the troops already stationed at that post, will constitute an effective force of 14 companies; and it is ing than on any of the precoding ones since the opening.-Miss Fisher's personation of Lady Teazle, Mr. Russell's of Sir Peter, Mr. Field's of Charles and Mr. Pearson of the moralising Jeseph, were happy and fine delineations, and fully accorded, to our judgment, with the spirit of the author.

We have determined, believing as we stated yesterday, that our suspicions against Judge Overton were unfounded, to support him for the Senate of the United States. Judge Overton is, as regards talents, inferior to no man in Louisiane, and we may fairly calculate that he will fill with equal ability and with at least as much fidelity the post, as did the late eminent incumbent, Mr. Johnson, with the additional advantage that he will truly represent the feelings of his constituents upon national questions; whereas the other, from the force of habit or education, substituted his personal predelictions and views for those of the people.

We would recommend concord and harmony to prevail [in the increased atten honest Jackson man, that the party to which it claims to belong is divided, because a few deserters, without any personal influence whatever, have seen fit to raise a hubub, and to declare their pretended wrongs from the house-tope. If it does, it will find itself most egregiously mistaken. The republican party is made of sterner stuff than to succumb so ensily. It will not do to talk in such a strain; it can only

If the Louisians is sincere in its wishes to effect harmony, it would, we think, be more discreet in its language. Abusive epithets and invidious recriminations can never bring about the state of things which it vainly imagines has been marred by the impotent attempts of a few individuals, who have been governed, according to their own showing, by private feelings of hostility, and who have risked and jeopardized, the existence of a great cause from personal malevolence and pique.

We see that the name of Mr. Nicholas has, we cannot but believe with a view to distract and divide the republican party, been introduced as a candidate for the United States Senate. If Mr. Nicholas wishes to stand well with his political friends, with whose principles he professes to be attached, we would advise him to resign, and not, by a selfish ambition, contribute, to the success of an adversary, and to the defeat of a friend. His name cannot, let his claims be what they may, be substituted now in the place of Judge Overton's; consequently his continuing an aspirant must be without the least hope of success, and can only be considered as an indication of the falsity of his profession of faith.

The English Money Market appears, by the recent arrivals, to be, in some respects, in a similar condition to that of the United States. The investment of capital in new rail roads and other projects, is taking large sums from the commercial classes. Synaptoms of speculation in all branches of trade are manifesting themselves over the country. The Bank of England, since its recharter has been extending its discounts, and to this is attributed the new impulse in speculative business. Rail roads are niap projecting in France—and one particularly to unite Paris with London by a steun pover line of communication by the way of Dieppe and the English Channel up to London. This improvement would bring those two capitals within a few hours of each other.—Pennsylvanian.

A THRD TERM.

The proposition of electing Jacason for a third term, has not been received in the magner described by some of the opposition. It has many advocates and very few opponents among the adherents of the President. Though we have sustained Jackson from the first, and will to the last—though we think that the established role could not be violated for a better man—yet so fervent and determined is our abhorrence of a measure that would, in our opinion, revolutionize the government and change this republic into a virtual monarcity, that our every energy would be lent to oppose it. It is, however, necessary to anticipate such a state of things. By no man is the proposal received with more horror than by Andrew Jackson himself.—Phil. Inq.

John Randorph.—The will of this distinguished and lamented patriot will be offered for probate in the county court of Charlotte, in the course of the present month. It is generally believed that, after a long course of litigation, the will of 1832, emancipating the slaves, will be established.

John Randorph who wrote the will of 1834 has signified his intention to renounce all claims for himself under either will, and to testify the fact that Mr. Randolph was not of sound mind and accomory when he made the last will.

We know too to what authority the last assertion is made, and we must acknowledge that we regard it as improbable.

Simous Affair.—A great tunual occurred in this place last evening, which resulted in the death of one individual, and the wounding of several, one very dangerously. The circumstances were related to us as follows but we cannot youch for their accuracy:—About dusk, Win. Ward and Henry Ryrom, (the one who shot Ellis in Macon) met with a Mr. A G. Vail, whom the latter charged with leaving Macon to avoid giving testimony in the Ellis Case, and made an attack on him by choking, and slightly stabbing; after which they went to the confectionary store of Mr. Dubourg, whom they taunted and insulted, and broke a large quantity of his thecarters, tumblers, &c., and beat a Mr. Hamilton Gaither, who took, or was supposed to take, some interest in the incan wra, tumblers, &c., and beat a Mr. Hamilton Gaither, who took, or was supposed to take, some interest in the injury done to Mr. Duhourg. They then went to McComb's Tavern, where they were rude, and on being expostulated, struck the bar keeper, who ran, and on Mr. McComb's coining, as it is said, with pistols, they seized him, and pressed him back till they got into the dining room, where, it is said. Byrom or Ward, levelled alpistol to fire at Mr. McComb, and a Mr. Barclay Martin struck up the muzzle, and the contents entered the ceiting. A scuffe ensued, and another piatol was discharged, by which Ward was shot a little below the breast, and was carried off supposed to be killed, and for some time after was expected to die immediately, but is better to-day, and may recover. His recovery, however, is a present quito uncertain, as it is difficult to determine the direction of the ball, which did not pass through, or the injury done by it. It is eaid that Ward daclares his knowledge of the person who shot him, but refuses to give his name, unless certain to die. will constitute an effective force of 14 companies; and it is each that Ward daclares his knowledge of the person who shot him, but refuses to give his name, unless certain to die. Some think the pistol with which he was shot was discharged by yrom accidentally; that neither of McComb's pistols all by yrom accidentally; that neither of McComb's pistols and fact was discharged, and that both of Byrom's were. Muck indied great depredations on the house, by knocking out the windows, &c., and the bar was rendered a complete wreck windows, &c., and the bar was rendered a complete wreck and no one interfering in the destruction, though many hundreds of people were in the street. It is said Mr. McComb shot him, and that he unhesitatingly acknowledged it. It was of course in self-defence; for the necessity of it would seem inevhable. A more terrible state of things we scarcely over heard of is a civilized community, and the absence of the police all this time is unaccountable, and most disgraceful. But really the whole community were kept off, in dread, by the desperate maniac who has fallen.

The Globe asserts that Mr. Butler has made the handsomest sattlement upon Miss Kemble, that he has reinquished to her father all that she has dramatically earned quished to her father all that she has dramatically earned here in Europe, and that he is exactly one year older than this lady.

What the Kembles have earned in this country, we have no means of ascertaining; but by rough calculation. It was rumoured that they had been engaged by Price of the Park theatre at New York and Maywood of the Chesnut street theatre here for two seasons, to ect as many times at each house—and that they were paid either 10,000 pounds or guineas stefling; and to have liberty (when not immediately engaged by Price or Maywood) to conpound with the mangers of the other theatres in the States or Canada. So far then they have secured to them the sum of $20,000. So far then they have secured to them the sum of $20,000, and the engagements they have made since they arrived here, in the Canadas, Boston, Albany, Baltimore and Washington, must have filled thier coffers to an equivalent amount; for they have had keeness or capidity enough to exact in most instances, half the nightly receipts of the house, and clear benefits for themselves; and to have been knowing enough to provide private letters of introduction to some of the influential persons resident in every place where they have gone. Courtesy and fashion have there-fore aided their efforts. Many went to listen not merely from the foreign reputation of these histronists, but from the private recommendation of some of their own friends: so that attendance and applausee were deemed sacrifices to individual honor and fashionable foily.

Hence the fact and reason of their demanding half the receipts and clear benefits. Having secured the patronage of some slaves of fashion, or of some intermediate acquaintance, they were aware of their own profits accessariately and the patronage of some aware of their own profits accessariately consequently. y consequent on such a management. But this gormandizing or avaricious spirit has not always availed them.—
When engaged last senson at Baltimore, Kemble stated his terms half the house and clear benefits; but the manager finding he was at a pretty considerable loss' by the engagement, very acurately appropriated the term and substance of the clear benefits to himself.
