The town wants light!
No more harmful glow had been struck at the interests of the town for years than relegating the town to darkness.

The demand for light does not necessarily mean light in the positive sense of the word, but it means that the town wants lights that will burn as per contract.

The recent elections in prominent western cities show surprising gains for the democrats.

The death of Col. Henry A. Thomas, which was announced in the morning papers, was not unexpected, but it is nevertheless a sad conclusion to a young and useful life.

The selection issued their warrant yesterday for a special town meeting to be held in Odd Fellows Opera House, East Weymouth, Friday evening the 11th.

The first article in the warrant beyond that of the choice of moderator, and all of them were in the warrant for the annual meeting.

The second article in the warrant is in regard to the election of a street committee.

The third article in the warrant is in regard to the election of a street committee.

The fourth article in the warrant is in regard to the election of a street committee.

My Lady's Breakfast is Well Served.

Stale bread for breakfast is barbarous; hot, yeast-rien rolls are dyspeptic.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food and makes delicious hot-bread, hot biscuit, rolls, muffins or griddle cakes whose fragrance and beauty tempt the laggard morning appetite, and whose wholesome and nutritive qualities afford the highest sustenance for both brain and body.

There are cheap baking powders made from inferior ingredients, which are exceedingly harmful to health. Their use is not only dangerous but also makes a very palatable and a dangerous element to food.

At the time of the building of the new home on the same place on the same day, Mrs. Kingman was in the city and was unable to attend.

Prof. J. H. Macdonald, pastor of St. Paul's E. Church, was the officiating minister at the funeral.

Mrs. Kingman was a daughter of Joseph and Nancy Pratt and was born in East Weymouth, Aug. 21, 1818.

cooking, when an ingredient has lost its strength, you use more than the receipt calls for. When buying, it pays to get fresh goods. That means full strength and your money's worth. This is especially true of coffee. Roasted coffee, exposed to air, quickly loses strength, and double the quantity is required. Many women pay as much for cheap coffee as Chase & Sanborn's famous "Seal Brand" would cost. Seal Brand is shipped in air-tight cans on the day it is roasted. You get the full strength. Try it once!

do something for others, and he put himself to it. That is the beauty and glory of giving, whether it be speech, the signature, the endorsement or whatever it may be—that one puts himself into it and he always improves himself.

I speak now, as I draw to a close, of the witness he made as patriot: My friend Thomas could have been more exuberantly than myself and others that associated with him, more patriotic here. But that meant to him not an effervescent display of emotion. The manifestation went deeper. He fought in battle fields where noble souls were laid down; he fought in the rights among mankind! He fought in council chambers where wise men deliberated, and taxed their deepest wisdom in the light of his knowledge and common-sense.

In other words, he put thought into his demonstrations; and that is what we all want to do. Was there a little circle of women cherishing associations and memories of the Revolution?—he was with them, and when they were ready to spiken their life and their action. Did the Grand Army have a camp-fire, where the songs of southern lands came up, and the life and drum were heard?—he was with them, and when they were ready to sing a veteran, understood the purpose and results of the Civil war. I have listened to speeches from him that went to the hearts of the Grand Army, until they were ready to sing a veteran, understood the purpose and results of the Civil war. tempt to peel how it all came out for the public good, for society, for the Commonwealth and the beloved republic.

There is the testimony of the man of affairs steady and did not drift; he commands and is not slave. Circumstances may crowd, heavy burdens may pile up of responsibility and duty, but the virile spirit of the man of the world has to mould into higher forms. It is found at the front.

My friend was a leader. There was confidence placed in him because of that strong, objective spirit which led him to laugh and mock at the obstacles and difficulties of life, but to face them with a smile, and approach them with equal vigor. Wrote success on your face, and the cold frown of circumstances melt into the faster-time of resurrected possibilities.

What a network of organization we represent, gentlemen! you in your individual spheres and he in his. I should be proud to have been a part of it. It is a network of responsibility and carefully performed duty you represent; and at the center of it radiate the intelligence and a prevailing spirit. I have this in mind, and you in it, a man of affairs steady and did not drift; he commands and is not slave. Circumstances may crowd, heavy burdens may pile up of responsibility and duty, but the virile spirit of the man of the world has to mould into higher forms. It is found at the front.

End of "Ben Hur" Run.

Klaw & Branger's famous production of "Ben Hur" which has been scoring each service of phenomenal triumphs at the beautiful Colonial Theatre in Boston since its remarkable run on Saturday, April 20, and on Tuesday, April 23, begins a brief engagement at the Columbia Theatre in Weymouth, where it has not yet seen "Ben Hur" must now leave this amazing spectacle will be seen nowhere else in New England or any other section.

At the Colonial one may see and hear Ben Hur, Messala, Simonides, Isera, Esther, Herib, Arab and the other most interesting personages in the great tale of the Christ and witness the sensational chariot race presented in a manner never before shown upon our stage. It is the acme of realism—a most thrilling spectacle. The tableaux in "Ben Hur" have never been equalled in the theatre. The scenes simply fill the auditorium while the certain is and when the music is heard the last glorious picture there is no disposition to do such a commonplace thing as to applaud for the soul has really been touched and one quickly leaves the theatre with a glow in his heart.

HOT TOWN MEETING.
Opera House at East Weymouth Crowded.
Town Votes for a Schoolhouse and Electric Lights.

Weymouth is an exception to most towns in regard to special town meetings. There are events of rare occurrence and as a rule when held are well attended. In the mass of people in the hall at the Opera House, East Weymouth last Friday night will stand on record as a genuine record breaker for attendance and enthusiasm.

Early in the evening the hall was well filled and as the hands on the dial indicated the hour for which the meeting was called, Town Clerk John A. Raymond read the warrant of four articles and the meeting was ready for business.

The first article was for the choice of a moderator, J. C. Howe placed Louis A. Cook in nomination and he was elected by a single ballot.

The second article was for a schoolhouse at North Weymouth which the town voted in favor of at the annual meeting, but owing to a technical error in recording the vote the action of that meeting was null and void.

F. H. Torrey submitted a motion substantially the same as that carried at the previous meeting.

The motion, which was condensed, was to raise $25,000 by ten notes of $2,500 each, the first to mature in 1911 and one each thereafter until 1920, for the purpose named, i. e., to erect a schoolhouse in North Weymouth suitable for the accommodation of 250 pupils and that a committee of five persons other than the school committee be appointed to carry the same into effect. Mr. Torrey made a fine plea for his motion and was immediately followed by C. R. Greely in opposition.

Mr. Greely argued that the sum was too large and it was not time for the town to enter upon the construction of expensive brick buildings and in conclusion submitted a substitute motion that $20,000 be raised and a wooden building be erected.

Alvah Raymond whose vote used to be heard in town meetings, but who has been silent for some time, next got the floor and showed that the old time vigor and wit is still there. Mr. Raymond spoke of the importance of doing justice to North Weymouth which is just entering upon a new era in its development with a promise of a growth which should be encouraged and by all means the school-house should be built on the lines laid down in the original motion.

Preston W. Lewis next got the floor and began to speak on the question but the noise and jam in the hall disturbed the proceeding and it became evident that new arrangements must be made as the members who were outside were clamoring to get in.

The stage was cleared of the paraphernalia which encumbered it and the best arrangement possible under the circumstances was made to accommodate the crowd. The stage was packed with people and those on the floor rearranged so there was a little more degree of comfort.

On order being restored, Mr. Lewis was allowed to proceed and made a fine plea in behalf of North Weymouth and its new schoolhouse.

Francis A. Bicknell came next in order.

LOUD-FISKE.
Former Weymouth Man Weds Springfield Young Lady.

Mr. John Herman Loud, organist of the Harvard Church, Brookline, and the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Loud of Commercial street, Weymouth, was united in marriage to Miss Myra E. Fiske of Springfield Tuesday evening. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's parents at 1029 State street. Rev. Dr. J. L. B. Trask, pastor of the Memorial Church, performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Myra Fiske, and Mr. Oliver B. Loud of Dartmouth, a brother of the groom, acted as groom's man. The ushers were Mr. Harry L. Reed and Mr. E. Ellis.

The bride's gown was of white applique silk, over-point of apron and the bridesmaid wore gray crepe de chine over plink silk. The drawing-room was decorated with palms, ferns and lilies, and the parlor palms were trimmed in yellow and green. The ceremony was followed by a reception.

The groom was formerly organist at the Union Congregational Church of Weymouth and Braintree, and was for five years organist of the First Congregational Church of Springfield. He is a member of the Royal College of Music of England, the American Guild of Organists and the Society of Musical Composers. During his European tour, he studied under Gullstrand.

Mr. and Mrs. Loud will reside in Brookline.

Piano Purchasers, Attention!
Isn't this the question you wish to solve before you purchase a piano? Where can I get the best possible value for the least possible money? Isn't it from the dealer who buys for spot cash, and gets all the discount, who has a small expense, and is satisfied with a modest profit?
Now that is the position I am in, and to prove it all you need to do is to see what you can do elsewhere, and then come to me, and I fully believe I can save you quite a few dollars on the same grade of goods.
I sell pianos on the easy rental system; no terms can be easier than mine. If not convenient to call, drop me a line and I will communicate with you.

BANK TO OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS.
CUBA AND THE CUBANS.
The following letter from John A. Connell formerly of East Weymouth, but now located at La Gloria, Cuba, will no doubt be of interest to our many readers.
La Gloria, Cuba, April 23, 1901.
Dear Sir: I take this opportunity to write to your valuable paper on Cuba, its growth and future prospects.
This large island of Cuba is especially well adapted to growing stock and bee keeping. The late war did an immense harm to these industries but they are fast getting into shape again. As the Cuban wears a straw hat from January to January, so the busy bee gathers honey all the year round.
Here is a good opportunity for young men and young women with some means and who are not afraid of work to acquire a competency. The Cubans as a whole welcome the American and fully appreciate what the United States has done for them since the occupation of the Island.
More than $2,000,000 has been expended for government improvement and recently $50,000 was appropriated for a school-house at Matanzas.
A large part of the Cubans are in favor of annexation and removal of the duty on sugar. Could this be done, a majority of the people would vote for it within forty-eight hours.
Trusting you will pardon me for sending so long a letter, I am,
Yours very respectfully,
JOHN A. CONNELL.

PROPOSED NEW BANK BUILDING.
The second floor has been designed with special reference to its use for town offices and the town has taken a lease of it for a term of years as per vote at the annual March meeting.
The assessors will have spacious accommodations with a broad street view and running the entire length of the building on the Cottage street side.
The house now fronting on Broad street is being removed to the rear of the lot and will front on Cottage street.
Loring & Phelps, 53 State street, Boston, are the architects of the new building and it promises to be not only a marked step in the way of modern architecture for the village but will fill a long-felt want both for the bank and town business, as the town is to occupy the second story when completed.

The selectmen will have a fine room in the center of the Broad street front and also other rooms.
The water office will also be on the Broad street front and at the west end. This floor, like that below, will be provided with all modern conveniences for business and comfort and the present plans are to have the building completed for occupancy before another winter.
The building will have a frontage of sixty-two feet on Broad street and thirty-nine feet on Cottage street. The outside material will be gray Philadelphia brick with sand stone trimmings.
There will be a high-posted and dry basement which will be utilized for storage and heating purposes, with a complete record of the bank.
Its first deposit was the sum of $195.73 on the 1st day of April, 1872, and now instead of that one deposit book they number many hundred, and the $195.73 has swollen to over $1,000,000 with a guarantee fund of nearly $50,000 and a surplus of over $35,000.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN
DIRECTORS ROOM, VAULT, PUBLIC, PRIVATE OFFICE, BANKING ROOM, ENTRANCE HALL, TOILET, VESTIBULE.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN
PRIVATE OFFICE, VAULT, ASSESSORS OFFICE, WATER BOARD, SELECTMENS OFFICE.

THE EAST WEYMOUTH SAVINGS BANK and the Town Will Do Business More Conveniently.

Thousands of People Turn Out to See the Defender Make a Record.

For months the people of East Weymouth have been looking forward to the time when the Defender should be completed and formally make her debut as a competitor for honors among the hand engines of New England.

At Bates avenue and waited for the signal. A sharp whistle at the factory and a rush in 1 minute and 37 seconds the water of Hook and Ladder 2 deluged the building.

At 6 o'clock a party of forty, including the invited guests and others, sat down to a banquet at the Hawthorne, and Landford Jordan did himself honor in the men served.

At the conclusion of the banquet the party repaired to Engine hall where the closing exercises of the party were held. Several hundred people were in attendance.

At 10 o'clock the Defender was next placed in position at the reservoir and the Defender made her debut as a competitor for honors among the hand engines of New England.
