HISTORY OF KENT COUNTY, State of Michigan.

HISTORY OF KENT COUNTY, MICHIGAN.

The region of country now known as the State of Michigan has been a conspicuous figure in the history of the New World for well nigh two hundred years. In the efforts of the French to gain and maintain a strong foothold on the continent, they early took advantage of the easy communication with the interior, furnished by the St. Lawrence River and the lower lakes, and eventually pushed their discoveries, as well as colonies and military posts nearly half way across the continent. The site of Detroit was soon recognized as a strategic point of importance, and became a base for operations farther north and west, as well as an important member of a series of military posts by which it was proposed to unite the Gulf of St. Lawrence with the Mississippi River and the Gulf of Mexico; and thus confine the English speaking colonists to a narrow region principally along or near the Atlantic Coast.

or near the Atlantic Coast. But the struggle for supremacy on this continent was settled in favor of the English, and Michigan, from being a French province for nearly one hundred years, became a British dependency in 1763, and continued so until the close of the Revolutionary War, when the chain of great lakes became the boundary between the colonies and the mother country, although formal possession was not fully relinquished until 1796. Prior to this time the shores of the great lakes had been examined and a number of trading posts established, around which gathered in some instances a few families, but beyond Detroit to the west and north scarcely any thing was known of the interior of the country for some time after the opening of the present century.

Michigan was at first included with a vast and undefined region west and north of the Ohio River, under the general name of the Northwest Territory. This, after the organization of Ohio, was known as Indiana Territory until 1805, when Illinois Territory was instituted and Indiana Territory embraced only what is now the State of Indiana

Upon the admission of Illinois as a state in 1818, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin were attached to and known as Michigan Territory. During the territorial existence of Indiana, it was for convenience divided into several territorial counties, of which the most easterly one, named in honor of General Wayne, included all of the lower peninsula of Michigan; and upon the separation of Michigan from Indiana this name attached to the older or principal settled part; so that it is proper in a sense to say that all of the counties of Michigan are off-shoots from Wayne County.

Up to 1820 Detroit contained only a few hundred inhabitants, and outside of what is now Wayne County they were still few and far between. General Cass was Governor of the territory which now began to attract public attention on account of its eligible situation, the wealth of its forests, its soil and minerals. In 1821 by a treaty with the Pottawatomies, followed by a similar one with the Ottawas, each tribe ceded a mile square of their lands, to be selected by the President, upon the condition that a teacher and a blacksmith were to be maintained upon these tracts at an expense of $1,000 per annum, for the benefit and instruction of the Indians. The carrying out of these stipulations was placed in the hands of General Cass, and Charles C. Trobridge was commissioned by him to arrange the details. The Pottawatomie station was located on the St. Joseph River, and the Ottawas at the rapids, on Grand River; and this became the nucleus for the future County of Kent.

PIONEERS AND EARLY SETTLEMENT.

There was a tradition among the Indians, of a white man having visited the rapids on Grand River a hundred years or more ago; but so far as is now known, to Rix Robinson, who settled at the mouth of the Thorn Apple, as an Indian trader in the year 1821, belongs the distinction of being the first white man to locate within the limits of Kent County. A Mr. Isaac McCoy, an agent of the Baptist Missionary Convention of the United States, visited Grand Rapids in 1823 with the view of securing the benefits of the Indian Grant for the body represented by him, but failing in some of the arrangements he staid but a stort time.

In the following year Rev. Lewis Slater, a Baptist Missionary, came with a blacksmith and two other whites, and erected a log residence and a log school house, the first ever put up at the Rapids.

school house, the first ever put up at the Rapids. In 1826 Louis Campau, a native of Detroit, but for ten years an Indian trader at Saginaw, came here for the purpose of making it his permanent home. He also established trading posts at Kalamazoo, Muskegon and several other points. From this time until 1833, a brother, Toussaint Camau was also with him much of the time. Rapids from time to time, but the lands were not in the market, and the Indians held full possession. In the year 1833, however, a land office was established at White Pigeon. David Tucker and Gideon N. Gordon had established themselves at Granville in 1832, and Mr. Mursoc at Lowell in 1820, but in 1833 things began to wear a different aspect—at least half a dozen families had settled within Wyoming Township. Mr. Campau and Luther Lincoln entered the first tracts of land; Lincoln securing the site of the Village of Grandville, and Mr. Campau a portion of the present site of the City of Grand Rapids, lying east of the river and south of Bridge Street. In this year also came Joel Guild, Barney Burton, Eliphalet Turner, Ira Jones, Jonathan F. Chubb and others, many of whom are mentioned in the proper place in the township histories. proper place in the township histories. It was in the Spring of 1834, however, that the great influx of emigrants commenced, and the little hamlet, where only a few acres were cleared, at the foot of the rapids, suddenly became quite a village. A saw mill had been erected on Indian Creek during 1833. Mr. Slater was teaching a school, a small Catholic Church was built on the west side, under the guidance of a Rev. Mr. Barrigus, but in the Winter of 1833-4 it was removed to the east side at the instance of Mr. Campau. In the Spring of 1834 the Town of Kent was organized, and the work of founding and organizing a civilized community in the wilderness seemed fully accomplished. Prominent among the arrivals of that year were: Richard Godfrey, Robert Barr, Louis Morau and Lovell Moore. What is known as the Kent Company was formed, and immediate steps were taken to utilize the vast water-power at the rapids, and to extend the village north from Campau's purchase.

GEOGRAPHICAL SITUATION.

The County of Kent is thirty-six miles in length from north to south, and twenty-four in width, and lies in the southwestern portion of the "Lower Peninsula." The center of the county is about six miles northeast of the City of Grand Rapids, thirty-three miles east of the nearest point of Lake Michigan, and about eighty-seven miles north of the southern boundary of the state.

By the United States Survey the range or meridian line, from which all the townships of the state are numbered east or west, was fixed a few miles east of the center of the state, and just east of the City of Jackson, while the base line, starting near the City of Detroit, runs due east and west about forty-eight miles north of the boundary line dividing Michigan from the great States of Ohio and Indiana. From these lines the townships embraced in Kent County are numbered 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 north, and the ranges 9, 10, 11 and 12 west. Within its limits therefore, are 24 full townships, 864 sections or nearly 552,960 acres; less; of course, the amount of the surface embraced in the numerous small lakes. After excluding lands exempt (in round numbers) a full half-million of acres are annually returned for taxation. Kent County is bounded on the north by Newaygo and Montcalm Coun-

Kent County is bounded on the north by Newaygo and Montcalm Counties, east by Montcalm and Ionia Counties, south by Barry and Allegan Counties, and west by Ottawa and Muskegon Counties.

STREAMS AND LAKES.

Kent is an unusually well-watered county. Grand River, the largest stream within the state, enters the east side of the county about eleven miles from the southeast corner, flows west about six miles, then in a northwesterly course about fourteen miles, next southwest for about six miles, nearly due south for four miles, and thence in a southwest course for about eight miles, leaving the county at a point nearly due west of the point of entrance. This stream makes few short turns in its course of about forty miles through the county, but changes its direction by majestic sweeps. In early times it was navigated by flat boats from Jackson to its mouth, and by steamers as descent of about fifteen feet in less than two miles, was an effectual bar to passage of all crafts except in a full stage of water. The head-waters of this noble stream are within less than fifty miles of Lake Erie, and after meandering through seven counties, and a distance of perhaps one hundred and seventy-five miles, its waters mingle with those of Lake Michigan, being the largest contribution made to that great inland sea, which has a coast line of about seven hundred miles. Within the City of Grand Rapids the immense motive-power, the grandest in the state, has been largely utilized, and either bank is lined with mills and factories of large size. and great variety.

mense motive-power, the grandest in the state, has been largely utilized, and either bank is lined with mills and factories of large size, and great variety. Next in size in the county is the Thorn Apple River, which, entering the south end of the county eight miles from its southeast corner, flows north until it falls into the Grand at Ada. This is a very rapid stream, from forty to sixty yards in width, and from its great descent furnishes almost unlimited power, which has been partially utilized at several points.

Flat River, which enters Vergennes Township, and follows a very serpentine course for some eight or ten miles, is a stream rivaling the last in width, and furnishes a most magnificent power at the Village of Lowell. It has not the rapidity and amount of fall belonging to the last, but is, as its name indicates, often a sluggish stream. It, with some of its upper tributaries, are much used for running saw-logs.

much used for running saw-logs. Rouge River, rising in Muskegon County, enters Kent County through Tyrone Township, flowing mostly south and east, falls into the Grand in Plainfield Township, near to the village by that name. This stream by reason of the great amount of fall furnishes an amount of power scarcely second to the Thorn Apple. Running as it does almost its whole length through pine lands, it, with its principal tributaries, have played a most important part in the development of this county.

The principal creeks in the county tributary to the rivers named, are-Black Creek, rising in the north part of the county and flowing southeast into Flat River; Cold Water, or Little Thorn Apple, rising in Ionia County, and flowing west into the Thorn Apple River; Plaster and Buck Creeks, rising in the south and southwest part of the county, and running northwest into Grand River; and Duke Creek, rising in the north part of the county, and flowing southwest and uniting with Rouge River. There are several others of nearly equal importance, but which will not be here mentioned. These streams and their tributaries throughout the most part of their length have furrowed out valleys for themselves of considerable depth in many instances, but of no great width. In many instances abrupt hills rise on either side almost from the river's bed, from fifty to one hundred and fifty or more feet, leaving scarcely any room for bottom lands, while in other cases there are first and second bottoms of considerable width. Plateaus, or terraces, showing that the rivers in days long gone by occupied a much higher level than the present, and shifted and changed their courses, sorting and arranging the materials over which they flowed just as they are doing to-day in a much more confined area, At "The Rapids," Grand River has cut down through the overlying "drift" and into bed rocks, and limestones, sandstone, slate, shales, and plaster rock " or gypsum are found at many points on one or both sides of the river, covered from sight in most places by the debris from the surrounding hills. Buck and Plaster Creeks have also in a few places cut down through the drift and exhibited gypsum by a natural exposure. One of the most remarkable features in the surface configuration of the county is its system of small lakes, more than one hundred and seventy of which are deemed of sufficient importance to be located on the map. With the exception of Paris and Wyoming Townships, none are without one or more of these little seas, and some of them can show twenty-five or more These little reservoirs of fresh water vary in size from three or four acres to five hundred or six hundred acres. They vary as much in other characteristics as size. Some are beautiful little gems, with well-defined sandy or gravelly beaches, while others are surrounded in whole or in part with marshes, which are more or less rapidly encroaching upon the water, showing that at no very distant day these lakes will be obliterated, as numerous others have been; and a marsh capable of bearing a heavy growth of tamarack, white cedar or swamp ash, will take their places. Some of these lakes are of considerable depth (fabulous depth if you will believe all the stories), and are well stocked with valuable varieties of fish, either artificially or naturally.

Among the more important of these lakes is Reed Lake, about three miles east of the city of Grand Rapids, an inviting summer resort, reached by the horse cars; Silver and Bostwick Lakes, in Cannon Township; Nagle, Crooked, Pine, and Muskrat Lakes, in Grattan Township; Wabasis, Scrum, and Horseshoe Lakes, in Oakfield Township; and Lincoln Lake, in Spencer Township. Besides these there are several others of nearly or quite as much importance as some named, but space forbids further notice. Many, if not all these lakes, are subject to a change of level, and some observers déclarethat these fluctuations occur at the same time as changes are noticed in the great lakes, and from this and their great depth is inferred some sort of a subterranean connection with Lake Michigan; but as there is probably not a lake in the county whose surface is less than one hundred feet above that of Lake Michigan, nothing is more improbable than the hypothesis advanced. There can be no doubt but that all of them are affected in greater or less degree by long continued drouth, and sooner or later by periods of great rainfall.

GEOLOGICAL FORMATION, MINERAL DEPOSITS, ETC.

This county is situated upon the western outcrop of what is termed the "Michigan Salt Group," a formation considerably above (geologically speaking) the saliferous rocks of other parts of the country. In the central part of the "lower peninsula," occupying the greater part of twelve or fifteen counties, is the "Michigan Coal Field," the western limit of which is, according to Winchell, not far from the east line of Kent County. West of this line the coal measures appear to have been carried away by some vast denuding force at the same time perhaps as the depths of Lake Michigan were being plowed or scooped out. West of Ionia County the first rock in position would be, according to the authorities, the subcarbonifarous limestone, which is met with for the first time in a natural exposure at the Rapids; and although it has a slight dip, generally, perhaps, towards the center of the coal basin, under which it passes, it could probably be found any where in the valley, above the Rapids, at no great depth below the surface. The stratified rock exposed at the Rapids is described as occurring in thin, irregular, gently undulating beds, much broken up, and embracing frequent partings of clayey and bituminous matter, and as being more calcareous at the top than lower down, where it becomes more or less arenaceous or sandy, and even includes patches and considerable belts of sandstone. The known thickness of this belt is not less than fifty-one feet from the exposure downward, while it is supposed that the uncovered portions on the bluffs may add something to this. This rock is but slightly fossiliferous, although a considerable number of brochiopods, and the spines and teeth of fish have from time to time been discovered. Pyrites and some beautiful specimens of calcite crystals have also been found. These beds yield a building stone valuable for rough as well as dressed work, but its chief use is for burning into line, which is being done on a considerable scale.

This limestone formation appears to rest immediately upon the "Michigan Salt Group," of which the gypsum beds are the most important features, and by all odds the most valuable mineral deposit yet discovered in this part of the state. These beds, which are supposed to underlie the whole of the valley from the city to the county limits (and are even supposed to underlie the whole state), have perhaps an average (aggregate) thickness of near twenty feet. The order at several of the worked beds seems to be first commencing at the top with masses of reddish gypsum, sometimes called the "boulder bed," interspersed with limestone and shales, followed by flinty limestone and shales, water limestone and shales, followed by five or six feet of plaster, which is separated by a few inches of shale from the lower and principal bed of gypsum, often thirteen feet or more in thickness. This last is the purest and most important member of the group. Some portions of the shales are strongly impregnated with salt, and small masses of rock-salt are found interspersed with the gypsum beds. The beds on Plaster Greek, and also on Buck Creek, near Grandville, are worked by stripping, the overlying earth, gravel, etc., being from ten to twenty feet in thickness ; while the beds on the west or northwest bank of Grand River are worked by a drift under the bluff, where it is from seventyfive to one hundred feet in height, and what are known as the " plaster cases," ten to fifteen acres in extent, are objects of much interest to numerous visitors.

Half a million dollars or more are invested in seven mills and quarries, the annual product of which amounts to near half a million dollars' worth of land plaster, and the calcined, or stucco plaster. The land plaster, it is said, aggregated about forty thousand tons, and the stucco, amounting to sixty thousand barrels per annum, giving employment in mills and mines to about three hundred workmen.

Near Grandville, sandstone of a quality suitable for building purposes is being quarried both above and below the plaster bed, to what extent, how, ever, was not learned. As early as 1833, Hon. Lucius Lyon sunk a salt well, and for two or three years carried on the manufacture of salt, but with this experience, and after the investment of about $20,000, it was found unprofitable, and abandoned. Fifteen years later several other gentlemen of means sunk wells and manufactured several thousand barrels, but could not make it profitable in competition with the superior facilities enjoyed in the Saginaw Valley, and it was abandoned.

SURFACE, SOIL, TIMBER, ETC.

A comprehensive survey of the County of Kent would find it an undulating plain, in nearly the center of which the Grand River had worn a valley from 125 to 175 or 200 feet in depth. A very small proportion of what is known as the uplands would be found outside of these two extremes. The highest railroad summit in the county is reported at about two hundred feet above the river. Into this central valley nearly every section of the county is drained through numerous cross valleys, along some of which the bluffs seem nearly, or quite as high as along the principal valley. There are few hills (strictly speaking) in the county, and where some bold prominence, seen from a valley, seems to tower above the landscape, it will generally be found backed by table land fully as high, and of which it formerly formed a part. There is a great variety of soil, from the merest beds of sand, to rich sandy loams; large areas of almost purely vegetable matter, large bodies of stiff clay, and considerable tracts where the surface seems to be almost entirely gravel, ranging from fine to coarse. In some instances the trans-ition from one variety to another is very sudden, giving in a small compass every variety of soil. The fine lands in many instances, and especially where there is a considerable admixture of hard woods, are found to be very fertile and well adapted to most farming purposes. As a whole the county where there is a considerable admixture of hard woods, are found to be very fertile and well adapted to most farming purposes. As a whole the county will compare favorably with almost any in the state, and lying within what is known as the 'fruit belt,' the county will ever rank well up among the agricultural and horticultural portions of the state. About one-half of the members of the 'State Pomological Society' reside within this county. There is a small amount of pine in most of the townships of the county, although there are but few pine groves of much consequence south of the Grand River, excepting in Wyoming, Paris, and Byron Townships. In several of the northern and northwestern townships, pine may be said to be the leading timber, and in two or three of them perhaps, there are, or have been, more pine trees than all other kinds put together. Next to pine, been, more pine trees than all other kinds put together. Next to pine, perhaps, white oak is the most generally diffused variety of timber, while in a number of towns, beech and maple or the sugar tree are the prevailing timbers, quite generally accompanied, however, with several other varieties, as bass-wood, ash, elm, and white-wood. Black and burr oaks are found in great abundance in many parts of the county.

Lumbering has always been one of the prominent interests of the county. It is estimated that more than 75,000,000 feet of lumber, valued at about $900,000, is manufactured at Grand Rapids in a year, while the amount manufactured on the railroads leading to the city, and which is owned or controlled here, would nearly or quite double the amount. It is obvious, however, that this heavy drain must soon exhaust the forests within reach.

THEN AND NOW.

A comparison of the "day of small things," with the present advanced position, will not be devoid of interest. It will be seen in the history of Kent Township, that in 1834 the revenue of the town, then embracing the entire county south of the river, was $66.50; and that $45.12 was sufficient to "grease the wheels of government," for the first year. To-day we find the taxes levied by the state and county in the City of Grand Rapids alone warende $40.000 exceeds $40,000.

Owing to the destruction of the public records at an early day, we are un-able to present a statement of the financial condition of the county prior to 1845.

From the supervisors' record for that year we present the following, which shows the estimated wealth of each township then organized, with the state and county tax charged to each. The nine townships then organized, em-braced the whole of the county, which has since been divided into twentyfour towns.

From this we may very appropriately pass to the tax roll and taxes levied against each subdivision of the county for 1875, and can thus see how the material interests of the county have developed in thirty years.

It is probable that the tax-roll in both instances is less than one half the real value of the property listed.

Horses and cattle under one year, and sheep and hogs under six months old were not enumerated.

The report of the wheat, hay, potatoes and fruit crops for 1873 was not near as favorable as for 1870; the wheat falling behind one hundred and thirty-five thousand bushels, or fully twenty-five per cent., owing to the very unfavorable season.

HISTORY OF ADA TOWNSHIP.

Ada is one of the "interior" townships, its northwest corner being the center of the county. It lies south of Cannon, west of Vergennes, north of Cascade, and immediately east of Grand Rapids Township. The center of Ada is nine miles from the county seat, on a bee line.

SETTLERS AND ORGANIZATION.

The first and only settler of Ada for a number of years was Rix Robinson, who located at the mouth of the Thorn Apple as an Indian trader, in 1821. He appears to have been the pioneer of the county or first white man who made the county a stopping place for several years, and made Ada his home until his death, which occurred in 1875.

We are unable to obtain reliable information of any other persons taking up their residence in Ada prior to 1836, though it is probable there were a few as early as 1834 or 1835. Some confusion of names, dates, and events, seem to have occurred in previously published accounts. The township was not organized until 1838, and certainly no election was held in it prior to that time, and all records of town meetings prior to 1842 seem to have been lost. Sidney and Torry Smith came as agents of I ucius B. Lyon, and erectéd a block-house about the mouth of the Thorn Apple, in 1836, but did not bring their families till the following season. Torry Smith's family consisted of his wife and seven children, of whom J. H. Smith, the present hotel keeper at Ada was one. When the Smith families arrived in 1837, several acces-sions had been made to the small colony, a fine paper village had been laid out, speculation ran high, and corner lots were deemed great prizes. Of those who came prior to the Spring of 1837, certainly were Edward and Nelson Robinson and Whiting Fisk, Benjamin Beach, Rawson Ward, and Hamilton Andrews came about the same time. Rix Church and a brother, and Hiram Laraway, settled about the same time. And onneh and a biotnet, Cascade Township, once associated with Ada. Edward Pettis, Mr. Crow, Loring Hill, Hiram Rhodes, John Dugal, and Alexander and Peter McNaughton, and A. H. Riggs, were also in about the same time.

John and William Spence, Samuel Bass, Miles Randall, came as early as 1838. Simeon D. Holt, Peter McLean, R. G. Chaffee, and others, came about the same time. Sidney Smith did much of the town business for many years, and the town was name for his estimable daughter, Miss Ada Smith, now Mrs. James Miller, of the City of Grand Rapids. At a town election in 1842, the first one of which any record appears to have been preserved, sixty-three votes were cast. For Supervisor, Norman Ackley received thirty-two votes, and was thus elected by one vote.

For Town Clerk and Treasurer, Nelson Robinson received sixty-three votes.

Rix Robinson, Perry Hill, S. D. Holt, Edward Cook, Wm. L. Granger, and Henry Laverty, were also persons noted for various positions. At a general election in November, one hundred and thirty votes were cast, which would look like a large vote for that early day, but it must be borne in mind that Ada at that time included Cascade and Caledonia, a region that has not less than 4,500 inhabitants to day.

Among the present town officers are : Supervisor—R. D. Chaffee ; Clerk— Nicholas Therry ; Treasurer—Michael Johnes ; Commissioner of Highways —John Keena ; Superintendent of Schools—Ervin Booth ; School Inspector

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

The principal streams are the Grand and Thorn Apple Rivers. The former enters the town though the south line of the town about one mile and a half from the southeast corner, and flowing in a northwesterly course leaves the town at its northwest corner, thus leaving about one-fourth of the town south and west of the river. The Thorn Apple enters the town near the middle of the south line, and flowing northeast for about one mile unites with the Grand. Several small streams rise in the township and fall into the Grand River, and fully one-half of the surface of the town, especially in the south and west portions, is very hilly and broken. Chase's Lake, in the northeast part of the township, is the only one of consequence in it. The prevailing timber is oak; and oak openings and a somewhat sandy soil generally prevail, a large per cent. of it being quite

Persons who had purchased lots could obtain no titles, and all was brought to a stand-still. The village of to-day is on a different site and of much later growth, having been platted about the time of the completion of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad. It possesses excellent water power, partially improved, and two of the best grist mills in the county—the "Ada Mills" and "Kent County Mills." In the village are one Methodist, one Baptist, and one Congregational Church; one hotel, one dry goods, one drug and grocery, and one grocery store, a wagon, and two smith shops, etc., etc.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STANDING.

In 1845, Ada then including two other townships, presented a tax roll of $52,947, which in 1875 (for one-third the area) has been swelled to $445,132. Its population, which in 1850 was 503, was twenty years later 1,427.

Its population, which in 1850 was 503, was twenty years later 1,427. Its live stock, in 1874, was 458 horses and mules, 31 work-oxen, 505 milch cows, and 392 other cattle, 1,438 hogs, and 3,445 head of sheep. Its farm products, for 1873, were: wheat, 29,345 bushels'; corn, 25,190; other grain, 16,384; potatoes, 15,298 bushels; hay, 1,808 tons; wool, 13,647 lbs.; butter, 48,610 lbs.; and its orchard and garden products were valued at $2,163.

HISTORY OF ALGOMA TOWNSHIP.

This township is in the second tier from the west side, and is the second in the tier from the north line of the county. Solon Township is north of it, Courtland on the east, Plainfield on the south, and Sparta Township on the west, and the town center is about fifteen miles from Grand Rapids, in a direction a little east of north.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Smith Lapham came to this township in 1843 from Washtenaw County, and settled in the southeast corner of the town on Rouge River, where the Village of Rockford now stands. Two pioneers by the name of Morton and Village of Rockford now stands. Two pioneers by the name of Morton and Nelson Hunter settled on the hill just east of Rockford about the same time. No one ventured farther north until 1845, when Joshua Briggs and family, and John Davis and family, settled a mile or two farther up the river; and Henry Hensel and Henry Shank and their families settled still a little farther up the river. Benjamin Pettingill and N. B. Pettingill settled in the northeast corner of the town also in 1845, and so did a family of Longs and a Mr. Turner a Mr. Turner.

Among these were William Thornton, Albert L. Pickett, Morgan Allen, John H. Jacobs, and John Hamilton. Other early settlers, the date of whose arrival we have not learned, were Henry Morningstar and sons, Jacob Ife, John Boyer, John M. and James Smith, Daniel Youngblood, James Barnes, Francis Emmons, Andrew House, James Mosher, and John Dome. VILLAGE OF ROCKFORD.

There were two saw mills erected here in 1844-5, and a post-office established in 1845; a store, opened by White & Rathbun in 1848, and an extensive grist mill in 1852, but the village was not platted until 1856, when it was known as Laphamsville. In 1865 it was replatted, and name changed to Rockford; and in 1866 it became an incorporated village, which was find contained for indepitents. The place has wade rapid progress since changed to Rockford; and in 1866 it became an incorporated village, which we find contained 582 inhabitants. The place has made rapid progress since the completion of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad in 1867, and to-day contains about 1,300 inhabitants. In 1845, Smith Lapham carried the mail to and from Plainfield in his pocket once a week. Miss Amy Lapham taught the first school in 1845, and a school district was organized in 1848. In 1846, Dr. R. L. Blakely was the first physician, and Rev. James Bullard, Conversion in the first physician in the first physician in the school district was bullard,

In 1846, Dr. R. L. Blakely was the first physician, and Rev. James Bullard, a Congregational minister, was the first preacher. The first public house was opened in 1851 by Harvey Porter. The first marriage was that of Miss Harriet Lapham and Isaac Baker, in 1845, and the first birth in the place was Eva Baker, in 1846. A newspaper was started in 1859, but soon suspended. Something of the business and importance of the place may be inferred from the following partial enumeration of the business houses, etc.: One printing office and newspaper, the Rockford Register, founded February 8, 1871, C. H. Cowdin, editor and proprietor, appears to be in a flourishing con-dliton; one bank, "The Rockford Exchange Bank"; one iron and brass foundry, one jewelry store, two good hotels, the Stinson and Lapham houses; two drug stores, five dry goods stores, two hardware stores. three grocery two drug stores, five dry goods stores, two hardware stores, three grocery stores, two millinery and notion stores, one boot and shoe store, one furniture store, two livery stables, two grist mills and one saw mill, one sash and blind factory, etc., etc.

of much consequence, however, except Camp Lake, a narrow sheet of water nearly one mile in length, and lying in sections 7 and 18. Tamarack and white cedar marshes are not unknown in the township.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STATUS.

In early days the extensive pine forests in the township were its principal attraction, but as these became exhausted, and farms began to be opened, it was discovered that husbandry would pay, perhaps better than lumbering; and to-day many fine and profitable farms are found in the township.

In the year 1850 the entire population of the town was set down at 233, which was swelled in 1870 to 1,959, and to-day this has been augmented to about 2,600.

In 1845, Algoma and Plainfield together were valued at $40,437, which is only a tithe of what this township can show alone to-day. In the matter of live stock, the township exhibits to-day 282 horses and mules, 95 oxen, 344 milch cows, 237 other cattle, 363 hogs, and 700 head of sheep. Its produce for 1873 was: Wheat, 12,115 bushels; corn, 14,990 bushels; other grain, 10,215 bushels; potatoes, 7,233 bushels; hay, 843 tons; wool, 2,405 pounds; butter, 22,430 pounds; maple sugar, 800 pounds, and orchard and garden produce valued at $1,215.

HISTORY OF ALPINE TOWNSHIP.

Alpine is one of the western tier of townships, the third from the north end of the county, with its center about nine miles from the City of Grand Rapids:

It is bounded north by Sparta Township, east by Plainfield, south by Walker Township, and west by the County of Ottawa.

SETTLEMENT-ORGANIZATION.

It was attached to Walker Township until the year 1847, although a few persons had located within its precincts as early as 1837. The Wright family, consisting of the parents and five sons, who settled on the south line of the town in that year. Three years later, John Coffee and Richmond John Coffee and Richmond Gooding settled in the west part of the township, and Jacob Snyder and John Plattee settled near its southeast corner. Near the same time Turner Mills and family settled on the east side of the town, and some three or four miles north of Plattee. In the next five or six years Edward Wheeler, C. D. Shenich, Casper Cordes, William H. Withey, John Colton, John Tuxbury, Sherman Pearsall, James Boyd, H. A. Dennison, Stephen Schaefer, and a number of others, entered the town.

The first town meeting and election occurred at a school house near the southeast corner of the town, in the Spring of 1841, when there were elected : Supervisor—Edward Wheeler.

Clerk-C. D. Shenich.

Treasurer—Casper Cordes. Justices—William H. Withey, John Coffee, John Colton, John Tuxbury. The present town officers are : Supervisor—Henry D. Wedge.

Clerk—G. D. Miller. Treasurer—Lewis Williams.

On the east side, upon Mill Creek, and especially in the northeast corner this was the case, but an acquaintance with the township generally will show that the name was a misnomer. More than half of the surface was clothed with heavy timber, beech and sugar abounding. A few small lakes and numerous swamps are found. The soil even in the pine lands is demonstrating its capacity to yield good crops, and much of the town is of the same character as the town north of it, and about as good as can be found in the county for grain and ell north of it, and about as good as can be found in the county for grain and all kinds of fruits. There is a small cluster of houses, a mill, hotel, and two or three shops on the Grand Rapids and Newago Railroad. At Alpine Station, which scarcely claims to be a village, and this and Englishville, where the same road crosses the town line between Alpine and Sparta, are the principal "business centers." There are several grist and saw mills on the creek in the eastern part of the town, but doing less business than in an early day, when timber was plentier.

Its live stock, in 1874, was put down at 457 horses, 72 work oxen, 687 cows, 645 other cattle, 760 hogs, and 3,937 head of sheep. Few townships in the county surpassing it in amount of stock.

Its agricultural products also make a very favorable showing; thus: Wheat, 36,197 bushels; corn, 31,080 bushels; other grain, 43,306 bushels; potatoes, 16,365 bushels; hay, 3,525 tons; wool, 20,677 pounds; butter, 56,220 pounds; maple sugar, 18,325 pounds; and its orchard and garden products were valued at $9,236.

HISTORY OF BOWNE TOWNSHIP.

This is the southeastern township of the County of Kent, the center of the town being nearly 25 miles from the City of Grand Rapids. This town-ship is immediately south of Lowell, and east of Caledonia, while Iona County is on the east of it, and Barry bounds it on the south.

The principal water course in the town is Coldwater Creek (or Little The principal water course in the town is Coldwater Creek (or Little Thorn Apple), which enters the southeast corner of the town and flows west across the town, keeping within one-quarter to one mile of the south line of the town. In the eastern part of the town is Duck Creek, and in the western Harris Creek, both tributaries of the Cold Water, and both rapid little mill streams. There are about a dozen small lakes in the town, none of them perhaps over half a mile in length, while there are numerous swamps, some of them of considerable size.

In the eastern and northern part of the town timbered lands, clothed with beech, maple, bass-wood, ash, etc., etc., prevails, and some of the surface is quite level, while in the southern and western parts it is frequently very roll-ing, and some oak openings are found. The soil of the town is generally esteemed as being very fertile.

HISTORY OF BYRON TOWNSHIP.

Byron Township is situated in the southwest corner of Kent County, and is numbered five north aud twelve west. It is one of the oldest towns in the county, and is bounded north by Wyoming, east by Gaines Township, south by Allegan County, west by Ottawa County, and the center of the township is about twelve miles from the county seat.

EARLY SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

Nathan Boynton located a farm in Byron Township in the year 1835, but being taken sick, his brothers Jeremiah and William Boynton began his improvements for him, and they became citizens of the township in the year improvements for him, and they became citizens of the township in the year 1836, settling in the northwestern part. They were followed in 1837 by John Harmon, Harmon Kellog, and James B. Jewell, and perhaps a few others, and soon after by Mr. Ella Judson, Larkin Ball, Peter Golden, Eli Crossman, Amalek Taylor, Alden Coburn, and Benjamin Robinson. William Olmstead came to the town in 1840, and soon after Samuel Hubbel, Joseph Gallup, Henry A. Vannest, Oliver Harris, Ezekiel Cook, E. R. Ide, and James K. McKenny. • As will be seen in the notice of Wyoming Township, Byron was organ-ized in 1836, and the first town meeting was held at the house of C. H. The principal water courses in this township are Rouge River and Cedar Creek.

Rouge River enters the township from Solon, in section 30, flows at first southeast, then northeast to section 23, where its course changes to southeast, then due south, passing into Plainfield Township at Rockford. This being a rapid stream of good volume, makes it a most valuable mill stream, and a rapid stream of good volume, makes it a most valuable mill stream, and besides, passing nearly its whole length through pine lands, millions of feet are annually cut by the numerous mills upon its banks, and still other millions of feet of logs are run down for the markets below. Cedar Creek enters the town from Solon and Nelson, near the northeast corner, and unites with the Rouge near the center of the township. It is also a valuable mill stream. The township is generally rolling, and along the streams it is very much so. Perhaps fully one-half the township was originally fine land, or principally pine, while in many places pine is mixed largely with other woods. The soil is quite variable, and even where pine is plenty there is a degree of fertility apparent not always found in pine lands, and they are found capable of yielding bountiful crops of cereals. Lumbering has, however, heretofore, been the chief interest of the township. Several small lakes are to be found in the northwest part of the town, none of them

A vast change has taken place since that time. Fruitful fields every where abound, and the hastily built shanty has given place to the comfortable cottage or more pretentious mansion. Two railroads cross the township. The population in 1874 numbered 1,504. In 1873 the town produced over 27,000 bushels of wheat, 29,000 of corn, about, 25,000 of other grain, over 3,000 of polatoes, 2000 tons of hay 8,000 nounds of wool over 51,000 nounds of butter and 2,000 tons of hay, 8,000 pounds of wool, over 51,000 pounds of butter, and 40,000 pounds of maple sugar, or about 33 pounds for each man, woman and child, while the value of its orchard and garden products was over $8,000. In the way of live stock, it had 469 horses and mules, 116 work oxen, 626 cows and 586 other cattle, 618 head of hogs, and 2,331 sheep. The real and personal estate for the purpose of taxation is valued at $33,0,33, which is not more than one-third of its real value.

HISTORY OF CALEDONIA TOWNSHIP.

This is one of the southern townships of Kent County, and has Cascade on the north, Bowne on the east, Barry County on the south, and Gaines Township on the west of it. The town center is about 21 miles southeast from the county seat.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

The first settler in the town is said to have been Mr. Asahel Kent, who settled on the "Gull trail," in section 35, in the year 1838. He opened a settled on the "Gull trail," in section 35. in the year 1838. He opened a public house, which at that early day became known far and wide. In 1839 this was the only house on the road for a distance of 17 miles. James Min-sey also came to the town in 1838, and among other very early settlers were Peter McNaughton, John Sinclair, Orsemus Rathbun, Hiram McNeil, Eber Moffitt, Levi Tobey, John Pattison, O. B. Barber, Henry Jackson, William H. Brown, Warren S. Hale, Lyman Gerrald, Justus G. Beach, Loren B. Tyler, M. P. McNaughton, Norman Foster, Roswell F. Tyler, John Camp-bell, William G. Wooley, and Frederic B. Thompson. The town was set off from Ada in 1840, and the following were the first officers:

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Thorn Apple River flows through the center of the township from south to north, and is here a very rapid stream, shut in frequently by high hills or bluffs, that reach almost to the water's edge, leaving no bottom lands. For some distance on either side of the river the surface is much broken, and indeed a large portion of the surface of the town is quite rolling. There are some eight or ten small lakes in the town, the largest lying about one and a half miles east of the Village of Alaska, is about one mile in length, and one-quarter to one-half miles in width, and well stocked with a variety of fish. On the east side of the river oak openings prevail, and the soil is sandy, and in many places full of gravel, but seemingly quite fertile. West of the river a heavier or more clayey soil prevails. There are several tamarack swamps (formerly shallow lakes) nestled among the hills. Agricul-tural pursuits meet with as good returns in this town, perhaps, as any where Thorn Apple River flows through the center of the township from south to tural pursuits meet with as good returns in this town, perhaps, as any where in the county. A large portion, particularly of the west half of the town, was heavily timbered.

VILLAGES, ETC.

Alaska, situated on the Thorn Apple, about one mile from the north line of the town, is the leading village, and seems to be an enterprising place; has a daily mail, and runs a hack twice a day to meet trains at Hammond Station, on the Grand River Valley Railroad, some five miles westward. The village has a population of 275 or 300, one hotel, two dry goods, one headware one further and one grace two saw and one grist mill hardware, one furniture, and one grocery store, two saw and one grist mill, and a cabinet and furniture manufactory, employing at times 30 to 40 hands. There is a Methodist and a Baptist Church in the place, and a graded school. Caledonia Station has about 175 inhabitants, a United Brethren Church, two dry goods and a drug store, one shoe store and one harness shop. It has a wood working establishment, turning out large quantities of bowls, fork and rake handles, and such wares. The last town meeting voted to hold the meetings at Centerville or Cale-donia Center, in future. It is a small place, nearly in the center of the town, having a hotel, two stores, a smith and wagon shop, and a grist and a saw mill.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STATUS.

This town, which had but a few inhabitants in 1840, had, in 1874, 1,680. In 1845 its tax-roll amounted to $40,625, and in 1875 to $414,789. The Grand River Valley Railroad runs through the southwest corner of the town, and with Hammond Station in easy reach, furnishes a convenient means for transporting all surplus products to market. The produce in 1873 was: Wheat, 30,249 bushels; corn, 29,800 bushels; other grain, 20,434 bushels; potatoes, 9,858 bushels; hay, 1,826 tons; wool, 12,784 pounds; butter, 47,230 pounds; maple sugar, 12,777 pounds. The live stock was: Horses, 441; oxen, 78; cows, 498; other cattle, 559; hogs, 734; sheep, 3,232 head.

HISTORY OF CANNON TOWNSHIP.

Cannon Township, Kent County, is south of Courtland, with Grattan on the east, Ada on the south, and Plainfield on the west. The center of the town is 15 miles northeast of Grand Rapids, and its southwest corner is the geographical center of the county.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

This town was originally associated with Plainfield. Its first settlers were Andrew Watson and A. D. W. Stout, and their families, who settled there in the year 1837. Isaac Tomlinson, sen., came in 1838, and William M. Miller in 1839. After this the stream of emigration set steadily toward the town-ship. Among those coming in at an early day were Rev. Mr. Frieze, Mr. Rood, James Thomas, and Oliver Lovejoy, in 1840. In 1844, Ebenezer C. Smith, M. A. Patrick, and Mr. Samuel Steel. In 1846, Mr. John Hartwell, Dennis Hine, James Dockrey, John C. In 1850 Gaines had a population of 319, which had increased to 1,273 in 1874. In 1845, Paris, which included Gaines, presented a tax-roll of $54,357, while in 1875 Gaines alone shows $436,730. In agricultural products this township is but little behind the best. In 1873 it produced 26,772 bushels of wheat; 30,240 bushels of corn; 27,912 and Patrick, Michael Mathews, and Frederick A. Marsh. Peter and George W. Teeple, also came to Cascade in 1837. George Teeple built the second house near Cascade, Mr. Cook having built the first. Among other very early settlers were : Peter Whitney, of Ohio, who set tled at Whitneyville about 1840, followed by a father and brother, Zerah, and Ezra Whitney, in 1842. E. D. Bear Creek, the principal stream of the town, rising in the northeast corner, flows south about four miles, and then turns abruptly west for six miles, and falls into Grand River about the town line. It has a great deal of fall, perhaps near two hundred feet in twelve miles, and furnishes remark-ably good motive-power for a stream of its size.

In section one is a noble hill rising pretty abruptly near one hundred feet above the high lands around it, and furnishing a grand view of the land-scape for ten to twenty miles in almost every direction. It is strikingly visible for five or six miles in several directions, and is well named "Prospect Hill," though sometimes known as "Ball Hill," from a former owner. The top of this hill or knob is probably little less than three hundred feet above Grand River, and the view from its top is well worth a trip of many miles.

HISTORY OF COURTLAND TOWNSHIP.

Courtland Township is in the second tier of townships from the east side of the county, and is the second from the north line of the county, and has Nelson on the north, Oakfield on the east, Cannon on the south, and Algoma on the west, and the center of the town is about twenty-one miles from the county seat.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

Courtland was originally organized in 1839, and then included six con-gressional townships. Barton Johnson settled here in May 1838, and is regarded as the first white man to make it his home. Alexander Dean and fifteen others are reputed to have come next, in the Spring of 1839, and settled in the town. A town meeting was at once called at the house of Barton Johnson, and the town organized, Philo Beers being elected Supervisor, and Thomas Addison, Clerk.

Other early settlers were: Horace Colby, Phillip Becker, two Thompson brothers, John Austin, Sabin Johnson, David Haynes, Benjamin Botsford, Laurens Austin, Iram Barnes, James Kinyon, Anson Ensign, a Mr. Rounds, Zenas B. White, and a Mr. Hunting. At one time this township, with Oakfield was erected into one, known as Wabasis, by some error of the Legislature. Among its present officers are

The town is destitute of any business centers, and is without railroad con-nection, although the Grand Rapids and Indiana R.R., runs nearly parallel with its west line, and has three stations within about half a mile of the town line.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

Agriculturally Courtland ranks high. Of live stock it shows, 371 horses, 73 head of work oxen, 432 milch cows, 459 head of other cattle, 522 hogs, and 4.283 sheep. Of fruit and garden products it produced $3,136 worth in 1873; also 23,080 bushels of wheat, 28,284 bushels of corn, 28 344 bushels of other grain, 11,748 bushels of potatoes, 2,368 tons of hay, 15,568 pounds of wool and 27.723 pounds of butter of wool, and 37,723 pounds of butter. In 1874 its population was 1,237, a high average where the population is entirely rural.

HISTORY OF CASCADE TOWNSHIP.

This township is situated south of Ada, west of Lowell, north of Caledonia, and east of Paris Township. It is Town 6 North, and Range 10 West, the center of the town being about ten miles southeast from Grand Rapids, on what is known as the old "Gull Road."

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Lewis Cook, from New Jersey, is reputed to have been the first settler with-in the present limits of this town, followed in the same year by Hiram Laraway, a brother-in-law, and in 1837 or 1838, the little band was strength-ened by the addition of Edward Linen, James May, John Farrel, James and Wm. Annis, David Petted, Michael Eardley and his brothers Christopher Apple River passes through the town from south to north, dividing it nearly through the middle, and as both streams have furrowed out deep channels, the country on either side is characterized by precipitous bluffs and numer-ous deep ravines near the rivers and some of their small tributaries. Along the bluffs of the creek are numerous pine and cedar trees, though there are no pine lands in the town worthy of the name. The soil varies from very sandy and a sandy loam, to a stiff clayey soil. A considerable portion of the timber is oak openings, with here and there tracts of heavy timbered land, where beech, maple, ash, and bass-wood abound. There are several insignificant lakes, and a few tamarack swamps in the town.

Cascade is the principal business center of the town, and has perhaps twenty-five families. It was laid out about 1845, and owing to the rather extraordi-nary water power here it was at that day predicted that it would rival Grand Rapids. GROWTH-PRODUCTS.

This township had about 350 inhabitants in 1850, and 1,157 in 1870. In 1855 it was assessed at $159,400, and twenty years later at $417,055. In 1873 it produced 29,067 bushels of wheat; 20,995 bushels of corn; 20,651 of other grain; 11,514 bushels of potatoes; 1,658 tons of hay; 12,430 pounds of wool; 47,285 pounds of butter; 13,532 pounds of maple sugar, and $3,200 worth of orchard and garden products.

It had, in 1874, 363 horses, 415 cows, 539 other cattle, 600 hogs, and 3,028 head of sheep.

HISTORY OF GAINES TOWNSHIP.

Gaines Township is one of the southern civil divisions of Kent County, its Grand Rapids. Paris Township is north of it, Caledonia is east, Allegan County on the south, and Byron Township bounds it on the west.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Alexander Clark, who now resides at Kelloggsville, settled in the north part of Gaines Township in the Spring of 1836. His nearest white neigh-bor was Abram Laraway, in what is now Paris Township, about five miles away. In the Fall of the same year, Alexander L. Bonk settled in the same neighborhood with Andrew and Rensalaer Mesnard. In the Spring of 1837, Foster Kelley, Orson Cook, Charles Kelley, and Joseph Blaine, came to the Foster Kelley, Orson Cook, Charles Kelley, and Joseph Blaine, came to the township. CITY OF GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, now the second city of the state, was scarcely known as a village forty years ago. In the Spring of 1834, when the Town of Kent was organized, the town meeting was held in one of the two or three houses belonging to whites within the present city limits, and only nine votes were cast, this being the vote for the whole territory now embraced within the county lines.

One year later, at a town meeting, the highest vote for any candidate was twenty-six, and this was presumably the total vote at the time. At a meeting for delegates to form a state constitution, held during the same year, forty-one votes were cast, this still being the vote for the whole county, or at least all south of the river, there being still but one voting precinct. Small as was the place, and inconsiderable as were the number of votes polled, it was really an important point at that time; and when the constitution was framed and about to be imported to the precise it must be precised by framed, and about to be submitted to the people, it was "Provided, however, that the returns of the several townships, composed of the unorganized Counties of Ottawa, Ionia, Kent, and Clinton, shall be made to the clerk of the Township of Kent, in said district, and said township clerk shall perform the same duties as by the existing laws of the territory devolve upon the clerks of the several counties in similar acces."

the same duries as by the existing laws of the territory devolve upon the clerks of the several counties in similar cases." Another item of importance to the incipient city, and which did much to give it the start of all other points in the west part of the state, was that it was made the point for payment to the Indians of their annuities. There was a large village of the Ottawas at the Rapids, which was a favor-ite resort of the red men, and hundreds flocked here to trade, and were often furnished goods on credit till pay day.

The immense water power at the Rapids was instantly seen by the pion-The immense water power at the Rapids was instantly seen by the pion-eers to indicate that nature had destined this to be a stirring place, besides, the city located here would be at the head of navigation. Eastern capital-ists saw this, and lent a helping hand. What is known as the Kent Company was formed in 1835, and purchased lands on the east side, above Bridge-street, and known as the "Kent Plat." A large number of hands came on under contract to open a canal or mill-race to the head of the falls, under the guidance of Lucius B. Lyons, N O. Sargent, and others, and a year or so later Solomon Withy came with his family and ten workmen, under con-tract with the company. to burn 5 000 000 bricks on their plat tract with the company, to burn 5,000,000 bricks on their plat.

tract with the company, to burn 5,000,000 bricks on their plat. Great expectations were aroused; village lots were bought at an enormous figure, the fame of the village suddenly went abroad, and hundreds flocked to it, and by April, 1837, it was claimed that Grand Rapids contained one thousand two hundred inhabitants. Suddenly, and without warning, came the crash of 1837; and people who believed themselves on the high road to fortune, and with plenty of inflated currency in their pocket, found themselves almost reduced to beggary. It was several years before the Village of Grand Rapids recovered from the shock. It nevertheless continued to improve, and by the year 1850 took upon itself the name and airs of a city, with a population of two thousand six hundred and sixty-nine, while the entire county numbered nine thousand eight hundred and eichty-three.

county numbered nine thousand eight hundred and eighty-three. A small steamboat was built by Richard Godfroy, to operate below the Rapids, in 1836, and in 1837 one was constructed to ply above the Rapids; both of them, however, were short lived.

A newspaper, the Grand River Times, was founded in 1837.

In 1843 a foot bridge was constructed across the river, and two years later a wagon bridge, soon followed by others. In 1854 a plank road was built to Kalamazoo, and was counted a greater event then than the completion of a new railroad would be to-day. Two banks were established in 1847, but were soon compelled to suspend.

THE PRESENT CITY.

The population, from two thousand six hundred and sixty-nine, in 1850, had increased to eight thousand and eighty-five in 1860, and to sixteen thousand five hundred and seven by 1870, to twenty-five thousand nine hunthousand new number of and seven by 1870, to twenty-new mousand mine num-dred and eighty-nine in 1874; and is doubtless more than thirty-two thousand in 1876; and at the late rate of increase it will exceed one hundred thousand before the close of the century. Thus, from 1850 to 1860, the population was nearly trebled; from 1860 to 1870 it more than doubled, while since 1870 it has about doubled again in less than six years; and the business of the place has increased in even a greater ratio than its popula-tion and has in it features that indicate even greater process for the future tion, and has in it features that indicate even greater progress for the future.

ITS TRADE.

Grand Rapids commands the trade of a large area of country, and it is said that no city of its size can show an equal number of retail establishments, of which there are one hundred groceries, some which do a wholesale busi-ness as well. The houses dealing in dry goods, fancy goods, clothing, millinery goods, and gents' furnishing goods, number about seventy. The boot and shoe stores number thirty; the drug stores, eighteen; bakers and confectioners, eighteen; and numerous other lines of trade are more or less

NEW BUILDINCS.

During the year 1875, it is reported that two hundred and fifty-eight new residences and forty-six additions to dwellings were made, and that forty-eight brick stores, and twenty-three wooden ones were erected in the same time; and that the shops, barns, and warehouses, would swell the whole number of new buildings to four hundred and forty-two. Of these buildings, many were fine and substantial. About seventy-five of them were of brick, and the total cost is figured up at $1,018,940. One of these buildings, erected by Col. E. S. Pierce, on the corner of Pearl and Monroe Streets, at an expense of $75,000, would be counted a creditable building in any city of the land.

WATER WORKS.

In the year 1873, the city commenced the construction of an efficient system In the year 1873, the city commenced the construction of an efficient system of water works, which were completed during 1875, at an expense of $341,000. These works were designed not only for the supply of an ample amount of pure water for domestic use, but for protection against fire. The powerful engine and pumps used were constructed in this city, by Butterworth & Lowe. It has been found that this engine, by working six hours out of the twenty-four, and with but twenty-five pounds of steam, is capable of supply-ing the daily wants of the city. A reservoir capable of holding six million gallons of water is located on the highest point within the city. The water in this basin, when full, will be one hundred and seventy-seven feet above the Grand River, and more than one hundred and fifty-four feet above the pumping machinery. The works are so arranged that the advantage of pumping machinery. The works are so arranged that the advantage of direct pressure from the pumps, or the effect of the head of, water in the basin alone, may be used as desired. The pressure from the basin alone is sufficient to throw water on to the highest buildings in the lower part of the city through hose attached direct to hydrants. This system includes about nineteen miles of supply and distributing pipe varying from four inches to twenty inches in diameter.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department of the city, as at present organized, is believed to be in a high state of efficiency. It embraces a force of sixty-five men, forty-five of whom are on part pay, while twenty are constantly employed. The apparatus consists of three Steam Fire Engines (Silsby make), two Champion Extinguishers (or Chemical Engines), six hose carts with seven thousand five hundred feet of hose, one hook and ladder truck, and one supply wagon. The department has also connecting with the engine-houses a fire alarm telegraph with twelve miles of wires leading to seventeen alarm boxes distributed over the city.

STREETS, STREET CARS, ETC.

The records of the Board of Public Works shows that there are over one hundred and twenty-nine miles of streets now opened in the city, of which over sixty miles have been graded, and about fifty-two miles of them graded and graveled or paved with wood or stone. There are also within the city about thirteen miles of sewers, mostly brick or vitrified pipe. The improve-ments, within the user VST including the contrasts president which whether ments within the year 1875, including the contracts previously made but completed in this year amounted to about $90,000, and there are under con-tract for the year 1876 an amount of work that is estimated at $122,000, to be expended on the streets alone.

There were at the close of the year 1875, thirteen miles of street railway in operation, furnishing easy access to almost all parts of the city for a nominal sum.

RAILROADS.

By 1855 it was thought the young city was able to sustain a daily paper, and A. E. Gordon founded the Daily Herald. In the following year, Taylor & Barnes issued the Daily Enquirer. These two papers were soon merged, and known as the Enquirer and Herald. which was the forerunner of the present Daily Democrat, which appeared in refe in 1862.

The Grand Rapids Eagle was founded in 1844, as a weekly, but became a daily in 1856, under the auspices of A. B. Turner, and is still published by A. B. Turner & Co., and is Republican in politics.

The Grand Rapids Times, daily and weekly, was founded in 1870. It is published by Tarbox & Smith, is Independent in politics, and has attained a published by Tarbox & Smith, is Independent in politics, and has attained a large circulation in a short time. Besides these three, each daily and weekly, and each apparently in a flourishing condition, there are several weekly papers, as follows: De Standard, established in 1875, by Schram & VanStrien. (Democratic.) Michigan Staats Zeitung (German), founded in 1864. Saturday Evening Post, David N. Foster, proprietor. Established in 1873. Vrijheids Banier (Holland, Republican). Established in 1868. De Wachter (Holland,) Religious, semi-monthly. Organ of the True Dutch Reform Church. Founded in 1868.

HOTELS.

Grand Rapids surpasses any place of its size in the number and capacity of its hotels; there being no less than forty-four in the future and capacity them of a capacity to accommodate from one hundred to five hundred guests, and several of them kept in a style not easily surpassed. Among the more conspicuous are "Sweet's Hotel," the "Marton," the "Rathbun," the "Com-manual" the "Forde." mercial," the "Eagle," etc., etc.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There are in the city more than eight thousand children of school age, of whom about three-fourths attend school.

There are in the city thirteen school buildings, of which nine are of brick, and many of them tasteful as well as commodious and substantial structures, and are reputed to have cost from $10,000 to $80,000 each.

The Central High School is a famous land mark that will attract the eye when several miles away, standing as it does, on one of the highest points in the city. This school is in charge of Professor E. A. Strong, Principal, reputed to be one of the best teachers and most accomplished scholars in the state. In this school a course is pursued calculated to fit students for entering college. Professor A. J. Daniels is the very popular superintendent of all the city schools, with his office in the Central School Building. In the Central School Building is kept the museum of the Kent Scientific Institute, in which will be found a most instructive and extensive collection of specimens from almost all departments of nature. Under the care of the Board of Education is an extensive Public Library of about eight thousand volumes, free to all citizens, and accessible every day, Sundays excepted.

CHURCHES

There are in Grand Rapids no less than twenty-five churches, many of which are imposing edifices, costing in several instances from $50,000 to $90,000 each; and the total value of church property as given in the City Directory is set down at $651,000, which does not include all, as there are a few for which no report has been rendered. The total membership is represented at 14,000, of which the Roman Catholics are the most numerous, the membership in three churches being set down at no less than 9,000, which of course includes the children of all Catholic parents, a rule that does not apply with other sects.

The following tabular statement will be of interest.

The Township of Kent, the original or territorial town, embraced all of numerously represented, including the inevitable saloons, of which there are about ninety in the city, and none of them are known to be starving for want of customers.

The numerous large manufacturing establishments of the city are of course all wholesale dealers in their respective lines, but besides these there are numerous jobbers in various lines of goods, doing a large business. Among these are three wholesale confectioners; four exclusively wholesale grocers; two of notions; one wholesale drug store; two paper dealers; three provision dealers; two in saddlery and hardware, and eighteen wholesale liquor dealers.

ITS MANUFACTURES.

Large and important as is the heavy and increasing trade of the city, its chief distinction, and the real foundation of its prosperity, is in its manufactures.

In another place is a tabular statement of the manufacturing establish-ments of the county, two hundred and fifteen in number, as reported in 1874; but this is short of the truth to-day, both in number and amount of products. The number in the city alone, to-day, is about one hundred and twenty-five, employing nearly four thousand hands, and turning out manufactured articles valued at more than $6,500,000, or more than was accredited to the whole county in 1874. The following is a list of the number and kind, and products, of the leading manufacturing establishments:

The first railroad to reach Grand Rapids was the Detroit and Milwaukee R.R., in July, 1858. The next was a section of the Grand Rapids and Ind. R.R., in 1867, and this soon furnished an outlet to the north and south as the first had done east and west. Trains arrived on the Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids R.R., in 1869, and on the Grand River Valley R.R., in 1870. Since that date two others, the Chicago and Lake Shore, and the Grand Rapids and Newaygo Roads have been completed, and another line or two put under contract. Few cities of its size have a grander network of roads radiating from them, and few furnish their roads with more business in proportion to population than does this city.

NEWSPAPERS.

A very good index of the character for enterprise of any community is to be found in the number and character of the newspapers it supports. A newspaper of late days has come to be looked upon as a necessary adjunct of every village of any pretensions, or that seriously contemplates being of any consequence.

We find that so early as April, 1837, the Grand River Times was founded among a people, many of whom had not an acre of cleared land or scarcely a roof above them. George W. Pattison was the venturesome proprietor whom it is said brought his press from Grand Haven upon a sled drawn by dogs upon the frozen bosom of Grand River.

After several changes of proprietors and a few changes of name, we lose sight of the Times.

the county south of the river, and appears to have been organized at the house of Joel Guild, April 4, 1834. This appears to have been the legitimate forerunner of Grand Rapids Township, which retained the records, but merely changed the name. Grand Rapids Township is south and west of the geographical center of the county, and lies north und east of the city limits, to which some three and a half square miles of the town has been surrendered ; the remainder of the corporation domain, about seven square miles, being originally a portion of Walker Township.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

The first settler within in what is now the Town of Grand Rapids, was Ezekiel Davis, who settled near Reed Lake, in 1834, followed almost immediately by Lewis, Ezra, and Porter Reed, David S. Leavitt and Robert Mc-Barr, George Young, Simeon Stewart and James McCrath, appear to have arrived in 1836; I. W. Fisk, Matthew Taylor and Robert Thompson, settled in the town in 1837. Mr. Fisk erected a hotel near Reed Lake, known as the "Lake House." There were doubtless several other families, whose names we have not obtained.

names we have not obtained. The first and second town meetings of Kent Township were held at the house of Joel Guild, which was within what is now the City of Grand Rapids, on the site of the city national bank, and was within what was after-wards, Walker Township. The records of this primary and momentous town meeting are in the hands of the present town clerk of Grand Rapids, Mr. Henry H. Haven. The first entry reads as follows:

"ORGANIZATION OF THE TOWN OF KENT."

"At the first annual township meeting in the Township of Kent, held at the house of Joel Guild, agreeable to an act of the Legislative Council of the Territory of Michigan, Rix Robinson was chosen moderator, and Jonathan F. Chubb, clerk pro tem., after which the following persons were elected to office, viz.: Rix Robinson, Supervisor.

Eliphalet Turner, Town Clerk. Joel Guild, Barney Burton, J. H. Gordon, Assessors.

Ira Jones, Collector.

Luther Lincoln, Poor Master.

Louis Campau, Barney Burton, Luther Lincoln, Commissioners of Highways.

Mys. Myron Roice, Ira Jones, Constables. I. F. Chubb, Overseer of Highways. Voted, that a fence five feet high (the distance between the rails for three feet high, six inches), shall be a lawful fence.

Voted, that Luther Lincoln, Jonathan F. Chubb, G. H. Gordon, and Barney Burton shall serve as fence viewers. Voted, that this meeting be adjourned until the first Monday of April next, at the house now occupied by Joel Guild.

Town of Kent, April, 1834.

RIX ROBINSON, Moderator. JONATHAN F. CHUBB, Clerk, pro tem."

Of these first officers elect, Rix Robinson resided within the present limits of Ada. Gideon H. Gordon, Jonathan F. Chubb, Luther Lincoln, and Myron Roice (Roys), lived within the present limits of Wyoming. Barney Burton lived in Paris, and Louis Campau, Ira Jones, and Eliphalet Turner, within the limits of what is now the City of Grand Rapids. Except the settlement at the mouth of Flat River, every settlement in the county was represented in that list of officers, and Grandville seems to have secured the lion's share.

Rev. L. Slater had been appointed a Justice of the Peace, and before him the officers elect took their oath of office, Mr. Turner being first, on the 7th of

At the town meeting held April, 1835, it appears that there was an election for county as well as town officers, and the following votes were cast :

Coroner-Lawrence Vanderwaker	18
Recorder of Deeds—Stephen Vicary
Recorder of Deeds-Stephen Vicary	13
Treasurer—Theodore C. Shelden
Register of Deeds-J. W. Willard	17

The following very interesting record also appears the first thing after the record of the oaths:

This day Asa Fuller personally came before me at my office and applied for license to be granted him to be joined in wedlock with Susan Dwennel, both of this place, and being duly sworn as to his lawful right to be joined in wedlock to the above named Susan Dwennel, and finding no legal objections thereto. I therefore granted license for any never percent to king the Asa Fuller thereto, I therefore granted license for any proper person to join Asa Fuller and Susan Dwennel in wedlock.

Given under my hand the day and year above mentioned.

ELIPHALET H. TURNER, Town Clerk.

At a meeting held in 1835, to elect delegates to form a state constitution, the full vote seems to have been forty-one. It is reported that the whole number of votes cast at the first town meet-ing was but nine, but as there were thirteen positions to fill, besides fence viewers, which made seventeen, every man present was accommodated with an office; three of them two offices apiece, while Barney Burton and Luther Lincoln were decorated with three each.

By the next year the population of the county had greatly increased, forty-one votes, as will be noticed, being cast; and 1835-6 saw a vast change in the condition and immediate prospects in the infant community known as the Town of Kent. In 1836 a new town was set up, called Byron, with headquarters at Granville.

The name of this town was changed to Grand Rapids, in 1842. The principal officers for the current year are :

Supervisor-Henry McCormac.

Clerk-Henry H. Havens. Treasurer-Mr. Barr.

Justices-Erastus W. Knapp, James H. Martin, James Ewing.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Most of the township is rolling, and a considerable portion very hilly, and Most of the township is formig, and a considerable portion (cry miny, and generally oak openings or heavy timber. A half a dozen or more small lakes dot its surface. The only one, however, of much consequence, is known as Reed's Lake, which is much the largest, being about three-fourths of a mile wide by about two miles in length. It is finely stocked with fish, and has wide by about two miles in length. It is inlery stocked with hish, and has been long a summer resort for pleasure seekers.; a hotel and grounds, with boating facilities in season, are among the attractions, and a small steamer glides over its placid bosom. The lake is in a southeast direction, about three miles from the center of the city, and a splendid drive may be enjoyed

HISTORY OF GRATTAN TOWNSHIP.

Grattan Township is one of the eastern tier of towns, and its center is about twenty miles northeast of Grand Rapids, and nearly the same distance northwest of Ionia, and is on the state road from Grand Rapids to Ionia. The town has Oakfield Township on the north, Ionia Township to the east, Vergennes Township on the south, and Cannon on the west.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

This town was largely settled with natives of Ireland, and when set off from Vergennes in $1\overline{8}46$, it was the intention to have named it Churchtown, but by a mistake of the Legislature, this name was given at first to Cannon, and Grattan was bestowed upon this, in honor of the distinguished orator, whose countrymen were so largely interested in the development of this spot in the wilderness

Dennis and John McCarthy are said to have been the first white men to take up their abode in the town, during the year 1843, Richard Giles also came in the same year. The immigrants for 1844 were, Luther B. Cook, Converse Close, Wm. Smith, Henry Green, Jared Watkins, Anthony and Alanson King, Volney W. Caukin, Wm. McCarthy, and Michael Kennedy. In 1845, came John P. Weeks, Orson Nicholson, Wm. Byrnes and Anson Green. In 1846, came Russel Slayton and Dudley Newton. Among others who arrived prior to the organization of the town, were Milton C. Watkins, Erastus W. Beason, Thomas J. Morgan, Joshua Fisk, Wm. C. Stanton, S. H. Steel, Wm. Beaurman, Jedediah H. Wood, and Barlow Barto. The first town meeting was held in April, 1846, at the residence of Con-verse Close, when twenty-three votes were cast, and the following, among other officers, were chosen for the first year. Dennis and John McCarthy are said to have been the first white men to Clerk—Volney W. Caukin.

Treasurer—Erastus W. Beason. Justices—Samuel H. Steel, John P. Weeks, Wm. Byrne, Luther B. Cook. As early as 1848, the Catholics had built them a small church near the replaced by another, and this being destroyed by fire in 1868, was at once rebuilt, and is now one of the finest country churches in the state.

Among the present town officers are: Supervisor—John Nixon.

Clerk-Nathaniel Smith.

Treasurer—Silas Ward. Justices—Sewall Abby, John W. B. Smith, Dennis McCarthy, Jas. Bush.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Grattan in the number and size of its small lakes is not sarpassed by any town in the county, unless it is Oakfield. There are at least twenty-five of these, varying in size from thirty acres to three hundred acres each. Some eight or ten of these find a natural outlet through Seley's Creek, the only stream of note in the town, and which empties into Flat River in Ionia County.

The town presents considerable inequality of surface, and great variety of soil. It has some pine lands, more oak openings; while a considerable portion is heavily timbered. Tamarack marshes are numerous, but agri-culturally it ranks high among the townships of the county.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STATUS.

In 1850 Grattan had about 600 inhabitants, and in 1855 it was valued at about $187,000. In 1870 we find it with a population numbering 1,297, and appraised for the purposes of taxation at $533,148 in 1875. Grattan Center is the principal business center of the town. It is a place of about twenty-five families, one church, one hotel, a grist mill, saw mill and machine shop, one drug, and two dry goods, and a grocery store, two wagon-makers and two smith shops. The mill and machine shop is situated on Seley's Creek, the outlet of numerous lakes, and has an unfailing and constant supply of water, these lakes acting as reservoirs for storing power for dry times. In 1845 the tax roll of Vergennes (then including Grattan,) was but $168,775.

The first marriage in the town occurred in 1844, an Ionia County Justice standing just over the line and officiating, while the happy couple were just within the bounds of Kent County. 'The first white child was Marshal King, son of Alanson King, born December, 1844, and the first death was that of a little son of Isaac Springer, in the Autumn of 1846.

Agriculturally Grattan makes a fair showing. Its wheat crop in 1873 was 39,705 bushels, corn not stated, other grain 33,015 bushels, potatoes 17,527 bushels, hay 2,368 tons, wool 26,569 pounds, cheese 1,725 pounds, and butter 59,735 pounds.

In live stock it showed in 1874, 537 horses, 32 oxen, 531 milch cows, 541 other cattle, 714 hogs, and 5,383 head of sheep. These are larger figures in proportion to population, than in most towns of Kent County.

HISTORY OF LOWELL TOWNSHIP.

Lowell Township is one of the eastern tier of towns, and second from the south end of the county. Its principal business point is nearly twenty miles a little south of east from the City of Grand Rapids. North of Lowell lies Vergennes Township, on the east it is bounded by Ionia County, south by Bowne, and west by Cascade Township, Kent County.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Clerk-M. Patrick.

Assessors-Lewis Robinson, T. I. Daniels, and John M. Fox.

Collector—Porter Ralph. P. W. Fox, A. D. Smith, O. H. Jones, Jas. S. Fox, and Everet Wilson were also elected to office.

It was not until the Spring of 1848, or ten years after the first town meet-ing, that Lowell was separated from Vergennes and organized by itself—the Village of Lowell, then known as Dansville, having been platted the year before. The officers elected were :

Supervisor—Cyprian S. Hooker, Clerk—Timothy White. Treasurer—Henry Church.

Justices—C. S. Hooker, Daniel McEwen, S. P. Rolf, Ira A. Danes. The town officers for 1875–6 were :

Supervisor—R. Hunter, Jr. Clerk—J. W. Weeks. Treasurer—M. C. Walker.

Justices-R. Hunter, Jr., M. M. Perry, C. H. Leslie, D. H. Denise.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Grand River flows across the north side of the town at about an average distance of one mile from the north line, and Flat River, coming out of distance of one mile from the north line, and Flat River, coming out of Vergennes about one and one-half miles from the east line of the town, unites with Grand River in the Village of Lowell, furnishing a vast motive power, which has been largely utilized. A number of small lakes, of which Pratt Lake is the largest, are to be found in the south part of the town, which is generally high table land and mostly clothed with heavy timber. Near the river, on both sides, are ravines through which small streams find their way from the high lands to the river, and on the other side there ap-pears a series of bluffs, from one hundred to two hundred feet in height. These bluffs or bills, are clothed for the most part with oak, and the soil is

These bluffs or hills, are clothed for the most part with oak, and the soil is frequently quite sandy or gravelly, but taken as a whole, Lowell compares favorably in point of fertility and annual production with other towns in the county.

VILLAGE OF LOWELL,

Daniel Marsac platted the Village of Lowell in 1846 under the name of Dansville, which name it continued to wear for about ten years. It was platted on what was known as the " University Grant," being a tract selected by the state under a grant by Congress for the founding of the Michigan University, and the title of the state was not extinguished until 1850 or after,

When Edwin Avery, of Ionia, purchased it of the state was not extinguished until 1850 of after, when Edwin Avery, of Ionia, purchased it of the state. Mr. Cyprian Hooker erected the first frame house here, about 1846, which is said to have been the first of the sort in the township, and in the following year he erected a grist mill in the village, which now began to assume some importance. A post office was established here in 1848. Additions now began to be made to the village, but it was not until the year 1861 that it become an incorrorated village. became an incorporated village, indeed the whole town appears to have had but 214 inhabitants in 1850.

The first village officers were : President—Cyprian Hooker. Recorder—Charles A. Blake.

Treasurer—Simeon Hunt. Marshal—J. Chapman. Assessor—Cyrus Hunt. Trustees—Wm. W. Hatch, J. B. Shear, Arvine Peck.

At the time of the incorporation of the village, the town contained a population of about 1,100, which in 1870 had increased to 1,503, and to-day is estimated at more than 2,200. The village officers for the current year have been:

hundred, village included.

ave been: President—C. G. Stone. Recorder—J. H. Weeks. Marshal—Robert Marshall. Assessor—R. Hunter, Jr. Treasurer—C. M. Devendorf. Trustees—C. H. Crow, M. M. Perry, Wm. Pullen. Lowell as a place of trade and for its manufactories has become the most proveduct rillers in the generative and is design a really because business for a important village in the county, and is doing a really heavy business for a place of its size. There are two extensive grist mills, a woolen mill (not now in operation), two extensive planing mills, and a sash, door and blind factory, a manufac-tory of agricultural implements, a carriage and wagon factory, saw mill, etc. The trade of the place is represented by five dry goods houses, some of them also selling clothing and boot and shoes; one clothing establishment; four millinery and notion stores; two boot and shoe stores; five grocery stores; three drug stores; three hardware; three meat markets; one furniture store (large); one cooper shop (large); two livery stables; a national bank, and one printing office, that of the Lowell Journal, now in its eleventh volume, and in a flourishing condition. The village contains five churches, a high school, and four ward schools. The Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad is on the south side of Grand River, held a group the generator of Lowell and around the depot has a half a mile or more from the center of Lowell, and around the depot has grown up quite a village, with factory, hotel, and stores. This is sometimes known as Segman, though regarded as a part of the Village of Lowell. We have seen that in 1850 the population of Lowell Township was little more than two hundred; to-day it is estimated at about three thousand eight to its shores. A street railway is in operation from the city to this miniature inland sea, and during the summer season the cars make regular trips. Grand River runs within half a mile or less of half of the east side of the town in its great bend to the northward, and after flowing across the town of Plainfield, barely cuts the northwest corner of the town, and then keeps within half a mile or less of the west line of the town for five miles.

There are no streams of any considerable size in the township. The soil of this township is not so good as some others, though some of it is first class. A portion of it is heavy clay, but much of it a sandy loam, very valuable for either cereals or fruit raising.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

The Township of Grand Rapids being contiguous to the city, must of course enjoy some advantages, such as convenience to market, etc., not enjoyed by all parts of the county. It has also lost several good square miles of its domain.

In 1845, the tax-roll, the township being then intact, was only but 127,520. This has since increased, and is reported for taxation at $127,520. $890,599, and the population, which was but four hundred and sixty-one in 1850, was 1,650 in 1870.

In the matter of live stock, it had : horses, 384; oxen, 30; milch cows, $4,549 worth.

Lowell may be regarded as the third point in the county where the white man made a lodgment-Daniel Marsac of Detroit, having come among the Indians near the present site of the Village of Lowell, in 1829, although it is reported that he did not build a house, or get a regular trading post estab-lished till two years later. At this time Rix Robinson was at the mouth of the Thorn Apple, nearly ten miles lower down, and Lewis Campau and a few others at the Rapids.

In those days "Indian trails" were the only roads, and "dug-outs" or rafts, the only means of transportation.

The next person we learn of as settling in Lowell was Lewis Robinson, in 1836, followed in the same year by Kodney Robinson, a brother, who had been living at Blendon, Ottawa County, for a year. About the same time came Philander Tracey and Luthur Lincoln, who had previously located at Grand Rapids.

In 1837, Wm. VanDusen, Samuel P. Rolf, Mathew Patrick, Ira A. Danes, and Charles Newton settled on the north side of the river. It is reported that a school was organized here as early as 1838 taught by Miss Caroline Beard.

Miss Caronne beard. On the north side of Grand River and along the valley of Flat River, seems to have been the principal focus for the immigrants, and a sufficient number were in to organize a township in 1838, and although a majority of those participating lived within the limits of the present Town of Lowell, the town was cailed Vergennes, and included both Lowell and Bowne, or towns 5, 6, and 7. Among those elected to office in 1838 were quite a number residing in the vicinity of the village site of Lowell. They were :

hundred, village included. In 1845, the entire wealth of the region, now comprising three townships, was but $68,755; to-day that of Lowell alone is ______. The wheat crop of Lowell Township, in 1873, was 31,573 bushels; corn, not stated; other grain, 18,237 bushels; potatoes, 9,776 bushels; hay, 1,759 tons; wool, 9,158 pounds; butter, 47,065 pounds; maple sugar, 22,092 pounds; orchard and garden products, $5,262 worth. Of live stock it has: horses, 337; oxen, 72 head; cows, 432; other cattle, 129, 156 sheep 2,156

432; hogs, 526; sheep, 2,156.

HISTORY OF NELSON TOWNSHIP.

Nelson is comparatively a new town, and one of the northern tier of towns in Kent County. It is bounded north by Montcalm County, has Spencer Township on the east, Courtland on the south, and the Town of Solon on the west. The center of the township is about twenty-five miles in a straight line from the county seat. The number of the congressional townships which the civil township embraces is two, north and west.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

The first white settler in this township appears to have been William H. Bailey, who made his home there in 1851. John S. Jones also located in 1851, These were soon followed by John M. and Josiah Towns, Charles H. Leake, George Hoyle, George N. Stoddard, D. B. Andrew, and George Stout, H. M. Stanton, Riley Smith, Samuel Punches, N. R. Hill, John N. and Andrew S. Tindall, John and Elisha Dean, H. D. Streeter, James and Bradford Baily, Joseph Wood and Thomas Almy, Simpson Anderson, Cyrus Stillwell Harlow H. Stanton, Moess E. Ross, J. B. Smith Church Bailey. Stilwell, Harlow H. Stanton, Moses E. Ross, J. R. Smith, Church Bailey, Peter D. Buck, and Amos Bessey. The interesting ceremony of organizing this township took place in October, 1854, and the first election occurred in April following, at the house of Charles H. Leake, with the following result :

Supervisor—George Hoyle. Clerk—George N. Stoddard. Treasurer—Charles H. Leake.

Justices of Peace-Samuel Punches, Sampson Anderson, Cyrus Stilwell, and Harlow H. Stanton.

We are unable to determine the population of the township at this time; but five years later it amounted to about one hundred families The principal town officers for the year 1875-6 are :

Supervisor-Mindrus H. Whitney.

Clerk—A. V. Sliter. Treasurer—David B. Stout.

Justices of the Peace-Nicholas R. Hill, Jason Squires, M. H. Whitney, and Edward Grosvenor.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC., ETC.

Perhaps fully one-half of the area of this township was pine lands origi-nally, with beech, maple, oak, and other hard woods, clothing the remainder, or interspersed with pine. A few cedar and tamarack swamps will be found in the town, especially in the northeastern portion. The soil, though generally sandy, is of a far superior quality to most pine lands, and is in fact deemed excellent for general farming and fruit raising. It is gently undu-lating, or inclining to plat. Several small lakes, as Pine, and a portion of Sand Lake, lie within its boundaries. The northeast corner of the town-ship is watered by Black Creek, flowing to the southeast; the northwest portion of Duke Creek and its tributaries flowing to the southwest, and the southwest corner by Cedar Creek. No streams of much size are found in the township. The land is among the highest in the county, and in general characteristics much resembles Solon Township on the west. About one-third of the village of Cedar Springs, spoken of in connection with Solon Township, lies within this township, and at this point the town meetings are held. The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad runs through the western portion of the township for four miles, with Sand Lake and Perhaps fully one-half of the area of this township was pine lands origi-

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

Although a new township, which was without an inhabitant in 1850, and but four hundred and sixty in 1860, it showed one thousand one hundred and but four hundred and sixty in 1800, it showed one thousand one hundred and two in 1870; and 152 horses and mules, in 1874; 96 work oxen; 184 cows; 184 other cattle; 167 hogs; 513 head of sheep, and $3,050 worth of orchard and garden products; 5,889 bushels of wheat; 7,090 of corn, 7,374 bushels of other grain, and 1,565 tons of hay. In 1855 the aggregate value of the real and personal property amounted to $27,791. In 1875 the personal is $26,675, and the real estate at $359,358, or $386,033 in all.

HISTORY OF OAKFIELD TOWNSHIP.

Oakfield is one of the northeastern townships of Kent County, being the second from the north end of the county, having Spencer Township on the north, Montcalm County to the east, Grattan Township on the south, and Courtland Township on the west. The center of the township is about twenty-five miles from Grand Rapids.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

The first white man located within this town, in the year 1838, when Hon. William R. Davis established his home in section nineteen. About one year later, William Thornton, afterward sheriff of the county, and Stephen S. and Isaac Tower, moved into the town. For about three years no further addi-tions were made to the pioneers, when Thomas Crinnion and David J Gil-bert appeared upon the scene of action. Sheldon Ashley came in 1844, followed in 1845 by Erie, Harry, and Giles McArthur, three brothers. Morris Hart, Nathaniel W. Mock, John Davis, Levi White, James Elstley, William Datament and Designing Pattern H William Peterson, and Benjamin Potter, all came in prior to the organization in the Spring of 1849. At an early day Oakfield was associated with five other towns, situated to the west and north of it, and later was organized with Courtland as Wabasis Township, but in the Spring of 1849 it became an independent subdivision under its present name.

The first officers were :

Supervisor—Thomas Spencer. Town Clerk—Harry McArthur. Treasurer—Harry Osgood.

Justices-Thomas Spencer, Harry D. Pond, David J. Gilbert, William M. Gould.

The first birth in the town was William H. Davis, son of Hon. William M. Davis, April, 1840, and the first marriage was Miss Hannah Tower to Zenas G. Windsor, which took place in August, 1840. Isaac Tower erected the first frame barn in the town, in 1840, and William Thornton the first frame house, in 1841.

Among the present town officers are : Supervisor—Harry McArthur. Clerk—Edward Jones.

Treasurer-William Brown. Justices-Henry Lilly, Ruffin Caukin, Lewis Tower.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

There are some pine lands in the northwest corner, a strip on the south side of the town, and scattering pine in several places, but the body of the town is what is termed oak openings, with very little sugar and beech, or heavily timbered lands in its borders. Not less than twenty-five lakes will be found on the maps, some of them small, it is true, while Wabasis, Scrum, 26,798 bushels of other grain ; and 7,850 bushels of potatoes ; 1,360 tons of hay; 15,730 pounds of wool, and 1,400 pounds of cheese. It had in 1874: 421 head of horses and mules; 73 work oxen; 365 cows; 365 other cattle ; 548 hogs, and 3,396 head of sheep.

HISTORY OF PARIS TOWNSHIP.

The Township of Paris is situated immediately south of Grand Rapids Township, and for one mile at the northwest corner it is bounded by the city limits. It has Cascade Township on the east, Gaines on the south, and Wyoming Township on the west. The center of the town is but about five miles, therefore, from the center of the city.

SETTLEMENT-ORGANIZATION.

Some of the earliest settlers of Kent County located in Paris Township. It is claimed that Joel, Edward, and Daniel Guild, Barney Burton, and James Vanderpool, first located within this town, in 1833. Benjamin Clark and Abram Laraway settled in the town in 1835. Jacob Miner and James Patterson settled in the northeast part of the town in 1836, and Orleans Spaulding and Philanzo Bowen came in the same year. Nicholas Carlton came in the year 1838; Hiram H. Allen, Robert Barr, Stephen Hinsel, Hezekiah B. Smith, John Kirkland, James Ballard, Joseph R. Palmer, Pal-mer Allen, Joseph J. Baxter, De Witt Clinton and Robert Shoemaker, Alvin H. Wansey, and Jared Wansey, all seemed to have come to the township

Barney Burton erected the first log house and barn in the town, and after-wards the first frame house.

The first town meeting for the organization of the Town of Paris, was held at the house of H. H. Allen.

The following were elected as the first town officers: Supervisor—Joel Guild.

Clerk-Hiram H. Allen.

Treasurer-Robert Barr. Justices-H. H. Allen, Hezekiah B. Smith, Barney Burton, Alexander Clark.

Com. of Highways-Joseph Blain, Jacob Patterson, John Kirkland.

Among the officers serving for 1875-6 were : Supervisor—Samuel Langdon.

Clerk-Evan Hendershot

Treasurer-Everet H. Hurd.

Justices-Wright C. Allen, Seley S. Buck, Samuel Langdon, A. C. Barclay. As late as 1838 there was but one road through the township, and that the Kalamazoo Road. When the whites began to come in, there was no regular settlement of Indians, but about 1840, a colony of them was formed not far from the present site of Bowen's Station. This band, a few years later, sold their lands and disappeared.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

The surface of Paris varies from level or gently undulating to very rolling, and its timber varies from well timbered pine lands and oak openings, to very heavily timbered lands, in which beech, maple, bass-wood, ash, elm, etc., very heavily timbered lands, in which beech, maple, bass-wood, ash, elm, etc., abound. There are heavy clay soils in various parts of the town, but more especially in the central and southeastern parts; while light and sandy soil prevails more largely in the west and northerly parts of the township. The town is without lakes, but several large marshes are found within its area, and as near every variety of soil as will be often met with. Plaster Creek, which rises in Gaines Township, enters this town in its southeastern part, and flowing in a northerly direction for three and one-half miles, then takes a nearly west course until it leaves the township. Four or five small tributaries of this stream rise in the eastern and northern por-tions of the town, furnishing ample drainage, while the southern or south-tions of the town, furnishing ample drainage, while the southern or south-western side of the stream seems almost devoid of tributaries. In former days, Plaster Creek was made to do duty as a mill stream within the town-

A plank road was completed on the west line of this town, leading from Grand Rapids to Kalamazoo, in 1854. This for about fifteen years, was re-garded as a very important thoroughfare, but with the multiplication of railroads, it became of less importance, and to-day only a few rotten and worn out planks and disused toll-houses tell of its greatness.

Paris Township is too close to the head of the market to maintain much of a business center of its own, and so Bowen Station and Kellogville, as villages, are not destined to amount to much.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STANDING.

In six years after the organization of the town (then including Gaines) it had a tax roll amounting to $54,357, and in 1850 a population of 521. In 1870 its population numbered 1,543, and its personal and real estate was estimated (at about one-third of its real worth), at $462,040.

Its comparative value as an agricultural town is high, showing a large average product of all the principal items. In 1873 it produced 20,803 bushels of wheat, 32,283 bushels of corn, 29,026 bushels of other grain, 23,754 bushels of potatoes, 2,651 tons of hay, 10,358 pounds of wool, 400 pounds of cheese, 22,092 pounds of maple sugar, and $3,992 worth of orchard and graden products and garden products. Its live stock consisted of 560 horses and mules, 42 work oxen, 553 cows, 553 head of other cattle, 584 hogs, and 1,995 head of sheep. Many excellent and finely kept farms are found in the town.

HISTORY OF PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP.

Plainfield is one of the four central towns; its southeast corner being the geographical center of the county. It is immediately north of Grand Rapids, east of Alpine, west of Cannon, and south of Algoma Township. It was early settled and early organized. The center of the town is nearly ten miles east of north from the county seat.

Justices—Daniel North, Samuel Baker, Z. G. Winsor, George Miller. Highway Commissioners—A. D. W. Stout, Warner Dexter. School Inspectors—Z. G. Winsor, Ethiel Whitney, Cornelius Friant.

The principal town officers for the current year are :

Supervisor—Hallis Conkle. Clerk—Elijah Filkins.

Treasurer—Henry Plumb. Justices—Nicholas R. Johnson, Norman Richardson, George Curtis, Mr. Wise.

VILLAGES.

There are no villages of much size in the township. Plainfield, the largest, is situated on the Grand Rapids and Ionia State Road where it crosses the river at its most northerly bend, and contains about twenty-five families. There is an Episcopal church, a hotel, two small stores, a smith shop, etc. The post office is named Austerlitz.

At Belmont Station, near the center of the township, and on the Grand Rapids and Indiana R.R., there is a post-office, a fine hotel, one store, a smith shop, and twelve or fifteen families.

A small portion of the Village of Rockford is also within this township. There is a flouring and saw mill in the southwest corner of the town, on Mill Creek, and several mills upon Rouge River within the town.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

It is said that this township took its name from a number of small prairies or level plains within its borders. These were annually swept by fire started by the Indians, in an early day. Notwithstanding the name, and some very beautiful natural meadows, there is scarcely a more broken or excessively hilly portion of the county, than is to be found in the southeast corner of the town, as well as on the north side of Grand River, and on both sides of the Rouge.

sides of the Rouge. The timber varies from oak openings to very heavy, with here and there a good pine forest, especially in the northwest part, and the soil from the light sandy to stiffest clays, most of it, even where sandy, being of that loamy character indicating great fertility. There are several small lakes also in the northwest part of the town, the largest, Island or "Pine Island," in Section 7. Grand River, sweeping to the northwest, enters the town near its south-east corner, and from Plainfield Village, where there is a substantial bridge, it runs nearly west for almost three miles, then bending to the southwest leaves the town nearly at its southwest corner: and leaves nearly one third of leaves the town nearly at its southwest corner; and leaves nearly one-third of the town on its south side.

Rouge River entering the town near its northeast corner, flows in a south-westerly direction till it unites with the Grand River about half a mile below Plainfield Village.

Numerous small tributaries find their way from the high lands by rapid descent, into both of these streams, adding much to the inequality of surface and picturesqueness of scenery.

GROWTH, PRESENT STATUS, ETC.

Plainfield has demonstrated its adaptability for general farming purposes, as well as fruit raising. The products reported in 1874 were wheat 25.050 bushels, corn 32,872 bushels, other grains 23,693 bushels, wool 6,628 pounds, orchard products valued at $8,056.

Its live stock for 1874 was 441 horses and mules, oxen 54, cows 562, other cattle 414, hogs 499, sheep 2,156. In 1845 the real and personal property was valued at $40,437, which had become over $260,000 in 1875, and its population had increased to about 1,500 in 1870.

HISTORY OF SOLON TOWNSIP.

Solon is one of the newer subdivisions of Kent County. It is in the northern tier of towns, and in the second tier from the west. It is numbered-IO North of Range II West. On the north lies Newaygo County, Nelson Township is on the east, Algoma south, and Tyrone Township on the west. By the nearest traveled route the center of the township is more than twenty miles from the county seat.

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Tradition divides the distinction of making the first settlement within the limits of this town, between Mr. Beals and Mr. J. M. Rounds, who located within its limits during 1854. About the same time three brothers, John, Martin, and Robbins Hicks, from Ohio and Indiana, settled within its limits. J. D. Watkins located in 1855. Near the same time, Edward Jewell, John F. Parge Andrew Fluent Murror Deliver Observed Schemer 2014 John E. Roys, Andrew Fluent, Munson Robinson, Obadiah Smith, Ansel Rogers, and many others came in.

In the year 1857 the township was detached from Algoma, and organized as an independent township. The first officers were:

- Supervisor—Edward Jewell.
- Clerk—John E. Roys. Treasurer—John D. Watkins.

Justices—Andrew Fluent, Munson Robinson, Obediah Smith.

For several years the town meetings and elections were held near the center of the town, at school house number 2, until the year 1865, when the township head-quarters were removed to the Village of Cedar Springs. Swnship head-quarters were removed to the Village of Gedar Springs. The township officers for 1875-6 are: Supervisor—Edward Price. Clerk—D. C. Lyle. Treasurer—E. J. Roys. Superintendent of Schools—J. C. Chapman. Justices—J. C. Chapman, Edward Price, N. F. Slawson, C. S. Ford.

and Horse Shoe Lakes are among the largest in the county, and with the and Horse Shoe Lakes are among the largest in the county, and with the exception, perhaps, of Grattan, it presents the largest lake surface of any town in the county. Tamarack swamps are also numerous. The soil bears the usual characteristics of oak opening, and is generally light, though con-siderable bodies of it are counted of excellent qualities, and fine crops of wheat and other cereals are produced. The surface of the town is generally rolling, and a remarkable bed or two of marl have been worked to advantage. There are no prominent business centers. Near the center of the town is a small place called Podunk, with two stores, two smith shops, a grist mill, on Wabasis Creek, the outlet to the largest lake in the town. The Grand Rapids and Greenville Railroad, graded several years since, but still incom-plete, is to pass through the center of the town. There are three post-offices in its limits.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

Although a few persons made this their home at an early day, settlement can hardly be regarded as having commenced in earnest until 1845 or 1846; since which time it has made good progress, and in point of population and products it compares favorably with many older towns. In 1870 the popu-lation numbered one thousand and ninety-two, and the personal and real estate is estimated at about $840 or an and the personal and real estate is estimated at about $840,000.

It produced in 1873: 25,384 bushels of wheat; 29,651 bushels of corn:

SETTLEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Mr. George Miller and family are reputed to be the very first settlers within the present limits of the township, arriving in the year 1837. Others came during the same year, and among them James Clark, Thomas Friant, Warner Dexter, all settling in the vicinity of the Village of Plainfield. In the follow-ing year Cornelius Friant, Zera Whitney, and Gideon H. Gordon, settled in the same neighborhood, and Daniel North in the southwest part of the town. Among the other settlers coming in during the years 1837-8, were Zenas G. Winsor, Ethiel Whitney, A. D. W. Stout, Andrew Watson, Henry God-win, Dumas Francisco, Jacob Francisco, Samuel Baker, and a few others.

The first birth and death occurred in the family of Mr. George Miller in 1838, when twins were born and shortly died.

It appears that a rude school house was built near the present site of Plainfield as early as 1837 or '38, and that the first town meeting, occurring in April, 1838, was held at said house.

The first officers elect were: Supervisor—Zenas G. Winsor. Clerk-Edwin A. Morris.

Treasurer-James Crawford.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Solon is mainly high table lands, somewhat flat in portions, especially in the east and southeastern parts of the township, but more undulating or rolling in the central and western portions. About two-thirds of its area was originally a pine forest, much of it as valuable pine as was to be found in the county. In many portions, however, where pine is the prevailing timber, beech, maple and oak are interspersed, and a quality of soil is found far above the average of pine lands in value for all agricultural purposes ; in short, it is found in many cases to be the best quality of wheat land, yielding thirty and even forty bushels per acre in some instances. The township is well watered by Duke Creek and its branches, together with Cedar Creek and other small tributaries of Rouge River. On one or more of these streams, small though they seem, are valu-able mill cites the have been particulty improved.

Able mill sites that have been partially improved. A half a dozen small lakes, varying in size from ten to one hundred or more acres, are to be found in the township. Among these is one sometimes known as Lapham Lake and Long Lake, which is in the southwest corner of the town.

Formerly the principal interest of the township was lumbering, and numerous portable and stationary steam mills for nearly twenty years have been slaughtering the virgin forests, but these are already being exhausted, and fewer mills are in active operation than half a dozen years since. There are still about a dozen lumber and shingle and stave manufacturing estab-lishments in the township, principally in and about the Village of Cedar Springs. By the last census these are shown to give employment to one hundred and sixty hands, and to turn out over $200,000 worth of products.

VILLAGE OF CEDAR SPRINGS.

The second village of the county, is located on the line of Solon and Nelson Townships, and about one mile from the south line of these townships. This remarkable village was first platted in 1859, but remained a small and rather unimportant place until about the time of the completion of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, when it made wonderful progress. It was incorporated by the Legislature in 1871, and to-day contains about one thousand five hundred inhabitants. The Methodists, Baptists, and Congre-gationalists have each good church edifices, and the Roman Catholics are preparing for the erection of one for their use. The village contains five hotels, one bank, a valuable graded school, building costing near $20,000, about a dozen dry goods and general stores, groceries, boot and shoe stores, two livery stables, etc., etc. two livery stables, etc., etc.

The village also sustains a live local paper, the Cedar Springs Clipper, now in its seventh volume; L. M. Sellers, editor and proprietor.

The village officers for 1875-6 are : President—H, C, Russell. Recorder—H. S. Gardner.

Treasurer—E. Hinsman.

Treasurer—E. Hunsman. Assessor—H. W. Slawson. Marshal—J. Bullock. Trustees—E. J. Roys, G. B. Congdon, J. D. Clark, W. Barkley, L. W. Torrey, W. F. Andrus.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

Twenty years ago Solon, as a subdivision of the county, was without an existence, and in 1860 its population numbered but three hundred and ninety-three; while in 1870 it was nine hundred and sixteen, and in 1876 it numbers about two thousand.

In 1865 the real and personal estate of the township amounted to 61,287, while to-day it amounts to 8488,827; and the taxes levied in 1875 for state, county, township, and school purposes, amounted to more than $8,800.

$5,800. The grain produced, according to the last census returns, was : wheat, 2,267 bushels; corn, 4,405 bushels; other grain, 5,085 bushels. There was also 3,731 bushels of potatoes, and 1,046 tons of hay, but it will be remem-bered that the farming interest is just in its infancy.

HISTORY OF SPARTA TOWNSHIP.

Sparta is one of the western tier of townships of Kent County, and the second in the tier from the north end of the county, Tyrone being on the north of it, Algoma on the east, Alpine on the south, and Ottawa County bounds it on the west. The center of the town is about fifteen miles from the county seat. It is numbered twelve west and nine north.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

The first man to enter this town with a view of making it his home, appears to have been Mr. Clark Brown, who located his land in September, 1844, although he did not build his house or bring his family until the Spring following; and when he returned to his claim he found that Lewis W. Purdy, Lyman Smith, Joseph English, and Norman and Edwin Cummins (the two build her deviated on the town of the town of the town of the town of the town. last were young men), had already settled in the township, and were to be near neighbors. Mr. Cummins, the father of Norman and Edwin, came in the Spring of 1845, as did John Symes, Elihu Rice, Anthony Chapman, and Wm. Rogers. During that year, and early the next, several others moved in, and among them were John M. Balcom, now hotel keeper at Sparta Center, and his brother, M. H. Balcom, and Charles Hatch. Mr. Purdy and Lyman Smith did not remain many years in the county. The former started for California, and lost his family on the way, when he returned, and now lives in Detroit, while Mr. Smith lives at Traverse Bay. Mrs. Purdy was the first white woman in the town, while William Rogers, son of William and Margaret Rogers, born in 1845, was the first white child born in the town. During the Rebellion he lost his life in the army. Mr. Hatch, the father of Charles Hatch, died in April, 1847, which was

Mr. Hatch, the father of Charles Hatch, died in April, 1847, which was the first death occurring in the little community. During the year 1846, the settlers in the town were more than doubled in number. Among the settlers of that year were J. E. Nash, Edward Wylie, Myron Bird, William Blackall, John Gillam, David Martindale, Mr. Calet, Amidan and Hiram Myers. Among others who came to the township within the next two years, may be named Z. M. and C. C. Hinman, R. D. Hastings, G. B. Stebbins, Phillip Slat, and many others. The first town meeting was held at the house of Clark Brown, Esq., in the Spring of 1846, and every voter in the township, twelve in all, were present. The election was in part as follows : Supervisor—Lewis W. Purdy. Clerk—John M. Balcom.

Clerk—John M. Balcom. Treasurer—M. H. Balcom.

Charles Hatch was elected a Justice of the Peace. Other officers not learned.

The next meeting was held at the house of David Martindale, nearer the center of the town, Mr. Clark's residence being on the south line of the town. At this time the town included Tyrone, which was not detached until store, two smith shops, one wagon, and one harness shop, a good graded school building, two churches, one grist, and one saw mill.

Lisbon, situated on the west line of the township, about one-half of it being in the County of Ottawa, is also a thriving village, with a most beau-tiful location, and was first settled in 1846 by John Pintler, of New York. A post-office was established here two years later, with Mr. Pintler as post-master, and the place was known as Pintler's Corners until 1859. It contains a hotel, several stores, blacksmith and wagon shop, a grist and saw mill, and three churches, graded school, etc., etc. The village was incorporated during the year 1869.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STATUS.

Sparta is a prosperous township. In 1850 it contained about three hun-dred inhabitants, which in 1874 had been swelled to one thousand five hun-dred and eighty seven.

area and eignty seven. Its principal products for 1873 were: wheat, 28,383 bushels; corn, 22,796 bushels; other grain, 41,899 bushels; potatoes, 12,316 bushels; hay, 2,787 tons; wool, 10,359 pounds; maple sugar, 50,407 pounds. It had 472 horses; 130 head of oxen; 017 cows, and 758 other cattle; 459 hogs, and 2,563 sheep; and its orchard and garden products were valued at $6,454, while the products of its manufacturing establishments in 1870 ware relied at $40,600 were rated at $40,500.

HISTORY OF SPENCER TOWNSHIP.

This town is in the extreme northeast corner of the county, and the center of the town is not less than thirty-five miles in an air line from the county seat. Spencer is bounded on the north by Montcalm County, east by the same, south by Oakfield, and west by Nelson Township.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

An old trapper by the name of Lincoln built his shanty on the banks of a lake in this town, and for a number of years was monarch of all he surveyed. Cyrus B. Thomas settled in the town in 1846, and Henry Stroup in January, 1848. The next settler we hear of was Matthew B. Hatch, who came in 1853, and was soon followed by Jacob Van Zandt, William H. Hewitt, B. G. Parks, Daniel Haskins, S. B. Cowles, William T. Parshal, and Daniel Has-kins. It was not, however, until 1861, that the first town meeting was called. The town was then called Celsus, but was soon named Spencer, after one of its early settlers. The result of the first election was: Supervisor-Freeman Van Wickle.

Clerk—Henry A. Freeman. Treasurer—Daniel Haskins.

Justices-William W. Hewitt, Edwin D. Clark. Commissioners of Highways-W. W. Hewitt, F. Van Wickle,

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Spencer has perhaps a larger proportion of pine lands than any other in the county, and is of less value, agriculturally, perhaps, than any other civil division of Kent County. About ten small lakes are laid down on the maps, the largest, Lincoln Lake, being about one and a half miles in length, and half a mile wide, and is pronounced a handsome body of water. Black Creek is the principal stream in the town. It rises in Sand Lake or vicinity, on the north line of Nelson Township, and trav rses Spencer diagonally from northwest to southeast, and with its small tributaries furnishes an outlet for all the little lakes of the township, to Flat River, and also a valuable highway for millions of feet of pine logs that supply the mill, on its banks, but by way of Flat into Grand River.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

Spencer can not boast of any villages, and is without railroad connection with the outer world; it is however, settling up quite as rapidly as some of the other towns.

The personal and real estate in the town was valued at $197,500 in 1875, against $55,396 ten years ago. The population was ofailed at 197,304 The town produced 3,897 bushels of wheat, 6,215 bushels of corn, 4,785 bushels of other grain, and 3,348 bushels of potatoes, in 1874. It had 106 head of horses, 340 head of cattle, 184 hogs, and 223 head of sheep.

HISTORY OF TYRONE TOWNSHIP.

Tyrone Township lies in the northwest corner of Kent County, with Solon on the east of it, and Sparta on the south. The center of the town is about twenty-two miles from the county seat. It is numbered ten north and twelve west.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

It would seem that the first settler within the limits of this town was Mrs. Eliza Scott, who settled on the west line of the township in 1849, for the purpose of boarding the hands then engaged in opening the state road from Grand Rapids to Newaygo, She was followed the next year, by Lot Fergu-son, and soon after by Alfred Bonner, in the same vicinity. In 1852, Jacob Smith and Harlow Jackson settled in the same vicinity, and the year following Lohn Thompson and Locarb Kies also become and the year following, John Thompson and Joseph Kies also became citizens.

Uriah Chubb, Leander Smith, James Blackall, and Asa Clark were also pioneers, the latter settling in the southeast corner of the township.

north to south. Within half a mile and one and a half miles from its east line, two considerable tributaries of this stream enter it from the east, while two smaller ones, having their sources in T rone, drain the middle and western of the town. There are two or three small lakes in the western part of the town, but not of sufficient importance to claim much attention in a county where such abound. The eastern portion of the town, bordering upon the river, is quite rolling, as is generally the case throughout the entire length of the stream.

VILLAGES.

Casnovia on the west line of the township, or rather lying on both sides of the western line of the county, and Tyrone Station, are the only villages in the town.

Casnovia has a population of about 300. It was settled by Lot Ferguson in 1850, has several stores, a smith shop, a steam saw mill, etc. A post-office was located at the corners in 1853.

Tyrone Station is a small place with perhaps 200 inhabitants, two stores, a stave and heading mill, and a saw and shingle mill. The village has sprung up since the advent of the railroad.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STATUS.

Although but about twenty years since the first attempt to subdue the un-broken wilderness, the town can show really fine farms. In 1573 there were raised 4,227 bushels of wheat, 6,215 bushels of corn, and 4,262 bushels of other grains, 4,948 bushels of potat es and 7,675 pounds of maple sugar was manufactured. The chief interest however, is lumbering.

HISTORY OF VERGENNES TOWNSHIP.

Vergennes is one of the eastern tier of towns, lying on the north side of Grand River, its center being about fifteen miles from Grand Rapids. It is bounded on the north by Grattan Township, with Ionia County on the east, Lowell Township on the south, and Ada Township to the west of it.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

Sylvester Hodges is accredited with being the first settler within this town Sylvester Hodges is accredited with being the first settler within this town during the year 1836, although it is reported that he first settled in that year in Lowell Township, planting the first apple trees and helping to build the first house in that village. James S. Fox made his appearance also in 1836, and John Branagan, Emery Foster, Alexander Rogers, Wm. P. Perrin, Thompson I. Daniels, and Lucas Robinson, in 1837. The year 1838 brought in Silas S. Fallass, J. Wesley Fallass, Newcomb Godfrey, Amos Hodges, Eliab Walker, Christopher Misner, Morgan Lyon, Alfred VanDeusen, and Benjamin Fairchild Benjamin Fairchild.

Rodney Robinson, M. Patrick, John M. Fox, Porter Ralph, Everet Wilson, George Brown, Charles Newton, Henry Daines, P. W. Fox, A. D. Smith, O. H. Jones, and James S. Fox, also moved into the town prior to its organization in 1838. The first town meeting was held in April, 1838, and the following among others, were the officers elect : Supervisor-Rodney Robinson.

Clerk-M. Patrick.

Treasurer—Porter Ralp. It is said there were but about twenty families in the town at the time of its organization. For several years the pioneers were compelled to go to Kalamazoo, Grandville, or Ionia for their grinding.

Among the present town officers are: Supervisor—Jacob Walker. Clerk—John L. Covert.

Treasurer—Patrick Carey. Justices—Dennis Driscal, Mr. Miller, John L. Covert. Highway Commissioner—Milton Hendrick.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

This town has but a few small lakes, and is watered by Flat River, which enters the town near its northeastern corner, and meandering back and forth crossing the line several times, pursues a very serpentine course the length of the township, and crosses the south line about one and a half miles from the southeast corner. This tream, with numerous small tributaries, drains nearly the entire town. The surface in the eastern and southeastern portion is very rolling or broken. The timber is mostly of the character known as oak openings, with a few sections of heavy timber, a few tamarack swamps and a small quantity of pine. The soil is mostly heavy, and for general farming seems well adapted. Eagle Creek, the largest stream in the town emptying into Flat River, rises in, or at least furnishes an outlet for Eagle or Nagle Lake, which pro-jects into the town a small distance on the north side. This stream is a valuable little mill stream. Falliburg founded by L. Wesley Fallass about the year 1840, is the only nearly the entire town.

Fallisburg, founded by J. Wesley Fallass about the year 1840, is the only village in the town, and it is not a place of great importance, having one store, a grist and a saw m ll, a smith shop, a good school house, etc., etc.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION

Vergennes, at that time including Grattan, was valued upon the tax roll in 1845 at but $68,775, but is now valued at $637,847, and had a population in 1870, of 1,369. In the matter of live stock this town showed in 1874, 455 horses, 25 work oxen, 496 cows, and 507 other cattle, 620 hogs, and 4,018 head of sheep. It produced of wheat 38,690 bushels, corn 29,720 bushels, other grai 20,616 bushels, potatoes 9,615 bushels, hay 1,854 tons, wool 17,178 pounds, 1,721 pounds of butter, and its orchard and garden products were rated at $3,157.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Sparta is one of the best agricultural townships in the county, about fivesixth of its surface being heavily timbered land, and the remainder along the east side, and especially in the northeast corner, being pine lands. The leading kinds of timber are maple, beech, bass-wood, ash, elm, white, black, yellow or red oak. There are several swamps, where black ash, white cedar or tamarack, or all together, are to be found in swamps in the north or northrolling lands, with very little waste.

Rouge River, running mostly through the eastern tier of sections, is the principal stream. Nash Creek, running across the town from the southwest, falling into Rouge River about one mile east of Sparta Center, was formerly improved as a mill stream, but the opening up of the country has greatly diminished its volume.

There are no lakes demanding notice in the town.

VILLAGES.

Sparta Center is a village of about five hundred inhabitants, and although begun at an early day, and known as Nashville, after Mr. J. E. Nash, the first settler, it did not make much progress until the location of the Grand Rapids and Newaygo Railroad gave it a grand impulse. It is now a thriving place, with three general stores, one boot and shoe and one hardware

In 1855 the first town meeting was held at the only school house township. This was in the west side of the town, near the residence of Mrs. Scott.

At this meeting the following named persons were chosen to conduct the affairs of the town

Supervisor—Uriah Chubb. Clerk—Albert Clute.

Treasurer-Harlow Jackson.

Justices—Patrick Thompson, Albert Clute, Uriah Chubb. At this time there were scarcely voters enough to fill all the positions.

Since that time, however, great changes have taken place.

The present town officers are :

Supervisor-Henry I. Barrett.

Clerk—James S. Tozer. Treasurer—George Heinsley. Justices—Uriah Chubb, Lyman V. Hoag, Ammon Fox, Lafayette B. Burch. School Superintendent—Luther Seymore. Commissioner of Highways—Horace B. Chubback.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Perhaps fully one-half of Tyrone Township was originally pine lands. Along the Rouge River on the east, and extending quite across the north part of the town are extensive forests. The remainder of the town was mainly clothed with heavy timber, and the soil is counted among the best, and especially esteemed for fruit raising. The town is well watered by Rouge River, which crosses the town from

In the matter of wheat it is only surpassed by Grattan and Bowne Townships, and in quantity of corn is only surpassed by three towns in the county.

HISTORY OF WALKER TOWNSHIP.

Walker, situated immediately west of Grand Rapids City and ownship, has Ottawa County on the west, Alpine Township on the north, and the Grand River for its southern boundary, Nearly two-thirds of the corporate limits o the City of Gran Rapids has been carved from its territory.

SET ILEMENT, ORGANIZATION, ETC.

Like Grand Rapids, this township is so intimately connected with the early history of the Villag and City of Grand Rapids as to be difficult of separation. The earliest inhabitants of what was organized as Walk r Township in 1838, were the earliest settlers of the incipient city, and for the first few y ars had one voting precinct, one common township, with its had-curverent in the village. Division Street being the eastern h undary of what quarters in the village; Divi on Stre t being the eastern b undary of what was afterwar I known as Walker Township. Of thos set ling outs de of the city limits was Mr. Samuel Whit and numerous family, in the yer 1836. In the same year came Jesse mith and family, John J. Nardin and family, and Robert Hilton and a Mr. Bemis.

Other early settlers were John Hogadone, Joseph Denton, Wm. W. Ander-son, John Harrington, Henry Helmka, Harvey Monroe, Patrick and Stej hen O'Brien, James Murry, Lovell Moore, Isaac Turner, Harry Eaton, Isaiah Burton, and several others. The first town meeting was he d at a school house near the r ver, and within the present city. This resulted in the selec-tion of the foll wing as first officers of Walker Township, April, 1838: Supervisor-Lovell Moore.

Clerk—Isaac Turner. Treasurer—Harry Eaton.

Justices-Rober Hilton, Isaac Turner, Ira Jones, Isaiah Burton. Walker as first organized, included Alpine, which, however, contained but few families for several years, but became an independent township in 1847. The principal officers for the current year are :

Supervisor-A. A. Wils n.

Clerk—Edwin Manly.

Treasurer-John Dougan.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

Walker may be said to be bounded on two sides by a noble river, facing which on the east and south side of the town there is a range of hills set back from the river, and leaving a "bottom" generally from one-eighth to one mile wide. In many places these hills are very abrupt and a hundred feet or more in height. The uplands back of these hills varies from gently undu-lating to quite rolling. Some pine, mixed more or less with other timber, at an early day crowned these hills, and spread over a sandy belt that extends from no theast to southwest, nearly across the township Back of this, toward the west and northwest part of the town, heavy timber generally prevails, and several extensive swamps make their appearance. Much of the north and west part of the town is a clay soil, interspersed with a sandy loam of much fertility.

Indian Creek, which henters the town from the middle of Alpine, flowing south for a couple of mile- and then east till it falls into Grand River about the Detroit & Milwaukee R. R. bridge, is the most considerable stream in the town after the Grand. Several smaller ones flow south from the centr 1 part of the town, through gradually deepening ravines to the river. There are no lakes of any consequence in this town, and it is without villages, its population being entirely rural.

GROWTH AND PRESENT STANDING.

This town is making very successful progress on the road to prosperity. Except two extensive pl ster mills, in the south part of the own, there is but little ma ufacturing done within its boundaries; b t its agricultural and bortion the south of the so horticultural impor ance stands out prominen ly, and many fine farms are to be seen. In the year 1845 the town exhibited a tax roll amounting to $56,480, which in 1875 foots up $637,847. In 1855 the population, includ-ing a part of Grand Rapids Village, was 823, which in 1870, exclusive of the village, was 1,675. Its productions in 1873 were, in part: Wheat, 22,806 bushels; corn, 28,157 bushels; other grain, 24,297 bushels. Potatoes, 20,151 bushels; hay, 2,707 tons; wool, 8,026 pounds; maple sugar, 8,060 pounds; orchard and garden products, $22,015 worth. In live stock it showed: Horses and mules, 412 head; oxen, 12 head; milch cows, 563; other cattle, 918; hogs, 647; sheep, 2.053.

HISTORY OF WYOMING TOWNSHIP.

Wyoming Township lies on the south side of Grand River, and on the west line of the county. It is of Town No. 6 orth and Range 12 west, and is bounded north by Walker Township and the City of Grand Rapids, east by Davis Township, south by Byron, and on the west by Ottawa County. About three sections off the north end of the Congressional Township is cut off by Grand River, and made a part of Walker Township for civil purposes.

SETTLEMENT AND ORGANIZATION.

Although one of the oldest settled portions of the county, it was attached to and known as Byron Township from 1836 to 1848, when it was separated from Byron and named Wyoming, after one of the counties of New York.

David Tucker and Gideon H. Gordon are reputed to have been first to settle in this township, as early as 1832. In 1833 Luther B. Lincoln, Joseph B. Copeland, Wm. R. Goodwin, Jonathan F. Chubb, Myron Roys, and Henry West, settled in the township. In 1834 came Carlos A. Abel, D. C. Britton, Cyrus Jones, Roswell Britton, Julius C. Abel, Ephraim P. Walker, Abraham Cyrus Jones, Roswell Britton, Julius C. Abel, Ephraim P. Walker, Abraham Bryant, and Josiah McCarthy, and settled at or near the present site of the village of Grandville. Geo. Thompson, Robe t Howlett, and Alvah Wanzar, also settled within the town during that year. In the next year Edwin Feakins, Charles H. Oakes, I. A. Brooks, Thomas Buxton, Ransom Sawyer, Richard Moore, Justus C. Rogers, Eli and Erastus Yeomans, and Manly Patchen, were added to the list of settlers, many of them locating at Grand-ville. In 1836 Dwight Rankin, Hiram Osgood, Orrey Hill, James Lock-wood, Nathan White, Jacob and Charles J. Rogers, lo ated in the town.

Many of these have died or moved away; still a few of the pioneers remain. This town, under the name and style of Wy ming, was organized in 1848, although under the name of Byron for twelve years, the headquarters of the town had been at Grandville. In fact, within the prese t limits of Wyoming was for several years nearly all there was in population and improvement of the town of Byron, so that strictly speaking, Wyoming was organized in 1836 under the name of Byron; and the new town organized in 1848 was given the old name. The first officers under the town name adopted in 848 were as such at an early day. Plaster Creek also passes through the northeast corner of the township, and furnishes power for running the plaster mills erected on its ban s. Several smaller streams are also found in the town erected on its ban s. Several smaller streams are also found in the town tributary to these, or following directly into the Grand. But one of the chief features of the township is its immense beds of plaster, probably un-derlying most of the township, and found out-cropping into beds of the creek and known to the Indians before the advent of the white man, and for m ny years extensively worked in half a dozen places.

THE VILLAGE OF GRANDVILLE.

This vilage, now containing about 400 inhabitants, was the point or nucleus from which the township was settled, and in those ear y days was believed to be the rival of Grand Rapids; and with a superior site, beautiful surroundin s and good water power, many persons supposed that Grand-ville was bound to take the lead and keep ahead; but fate otherwise ordered.

The first Congregational Society in the county was organized at Grand-ville in 1838. The village has three churches, a valuable school building and graded school, a hotel, and the usual complement of mechanics, shops, etc. A valuable merchant and grist mill, and the plaster mills in its imme-diate vicinity, are of themselves sufficient to give importance to the place.

GROWTH AND PRESENT CONDITION.

It has been mentioned that Wyoming was one of the first towns that commenced to be settled up, but was first named Byron.

In 1845 this town was valued at $69,563, a mere trifle in this day, but representing a good deal of property at that time. In 1875 the property in the town was rated at $524,128, or nearly eight times as much as there was in the two towns thirty years ago.

In 1850 the population was five hundred and forty-three, and this in 1874 had become two thousand and eight. The live stock in the town in 1874 was: horses and mules, 451; oxen, 60; milch cows, 558; other cattle, 360; hogs, 479; sheep, 1,895. Produce for 1873: wheat, 20,668 bushels; corn, 31,240 bushels; other grain, 13,906 bushels; potatoes, 14,195 bushels; hay, 1,576 tons; wool, 8,717 pounds; cheese, 2,650 pounds; maple sugar, 7,446 pounds; orchard and garden products worth $2,255.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES.

EBENEZER DAVIS was born in the State of Maine, in the year 1800; removed to the State of New York in 1818, and to Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1836, and a few years later settled near Grandville, where he still resides. He was married in New York, in 1825, to Miss Eliza Baker. They had six children born to them in New York, and two in Kent County, making four sons and four daughters, named as follows : Reuben E. Elmira M., James N., Jerome G., Horace W., Lucy Jane, Emeline B., and Eliza S. Davis, all now living and six of them married. Elmira M. is now Mrs. J. H. Knowles, and Lucy Jane is Mrs. Charles L. Moody. Mr. Davis is an active, well-preserved man of his age; has filled the office of justice of the peace several terms, and been elected town supervisor four times, and filled minor stations of trust.

REUBEN E. DAVIS, eldest son of Ebenezer Davis, was born in New York State, in 1826, and removed to Grand Rapids with his parents in 1836. He was married to Miss Mary S. Scott, of Kent County, in 1862. They had born to them three sons and three daughters, as follows : Walter S., Maggie E., Jesse L., Emma E., R. Harry, and Clarrissa Winnifried Davis. MYRON ROYS, of Wyoming Township, was born in Sheffield, Berkshire County, Mass., in 1808, and came to White Pigeon, Mich., in May, 1833, where he met with a brother who had preceded him the year before, and was then engaged to go and work for Ball and Wright, of this county. The brothers set to work in June, 1833, in constructing a dam and building a mill on Buck Creek, in Wyoming Township, where Weston's mill now stands. Mr. Roys located the farm he now lives on, a short distance east of Grandville, in December, 1833, and kept batchelor's hall for several years. In May, 1841, he was married to Miss Ann McCray, daughter of James McCray, of Grandville. They had born to them four sons and two daugh-ters. Mrs. Roys died in February, 1870, in the fiftieth year of her age. Mr. Roys was one of the nine voters who helped organize the Town of Kent, and was elected constable at that election.

Dr. H. O. WESTON, of Grandville, was born in Onondaga County, New York, in 1824. He was the son of Ezra Weston, and was married to Miss Levina Rockway, of New York, in 1841, by whom he had one child, a daughter, who is now Mrs. Gordon Fisk, of Fisk Lake, Kent County, Michigan. Mrs. Weston died in 1846, and the Dr. was married the second time to Miss Laura Jackway, also of New York, in 1849, and removed to Grandville, Kent County, in 1853. He has a son and two daughters by his last wife, all now at home. Dr. W, has been a practising physician for twenty-three years, and is also one of the proprietors of a valu-able flouring mill, and the owner of sixty or seventy acres of very valuable placter lands on which he as recently erected extensive nexter wills run but plaster lands, on which he has recently erected extensive plaster mills, run by Patterson, lived with him for twenty-five years, or until she died, in 1864, aged seventy-seven years, but remarkably vigorous. She was much esteemed as a nurse, and was widely known among the pioneers as a most useful woman.

STEPHEN B. DAVIS, of Paris Township, was born in Upper Canada, in 1814, his father, Daniel Davis, having removed to that place from Connecticut, a few years before. In 1838 he was married to Miss Lovin Quackenbos, and with her and five children removed to Paris Township, in 1850. Their children are Elizabeth (now Mrs. George Auble), Truman, Daniel, Abraham, Annie (now Mrs. George Lewis), Delia (now Mrs. James Lewis), Stephen, Joseph, Edith L., and Althea L. Davis. Mr. Davis has a very valuable farm of one hundred and sixty acres, a fine view of which will be found elsewhere in this Atlas.

GEORGE W. TEEPLE, of Cascade Township, and one of its earliest settlers, was born in New Jersey, in 1810. After residing in New York a few years, he removed to Wayne County, Michigan, in 1827, and to Kent County in 1837. He was married to Miss Samantha Cooke, in Wayne County, in 1832. They have had born to them twelve children, of whom five sons and four daughters are still living, the youngest being just of age. Among their children were one pair of twins and one set of triplets, four out of the five still living.

J. H. WITHEY, of Cascade Township, was born at St. Albans, Vermont, in 1831, and came with his father, Solomon Withey, to Grand Rapids, in May, 1836. Mr. Withey was married to Miss Laura Abel, of Cascade Township, in 1857, she dying in 1861. Mr. Withey took for a second wife Miss Mary L. Duncan, of Ada. She has two sons and four daughters. When Mr. Solomon Withey came to Kent County, in 1836, he brought with him two hired girls and ten work hands, he having a contract with the "Kent Company" to make 5.000,000 bricks. In 1838 he took charge of the Exchange Hotel, which stood where the Bridge-street House now does. In 1842 he was elected sheriff, and removed to the court house, and was there residing when it burned down. He died in 1851. and was there residing when it burned down. He died in 1851.

HENRY HOLT, of Cascade Township, was born in Connecticut, in 1803, and removed to New York in 1827. He was married to Miss Lorancy M. Potter, of Herkimer County, New York, in 1831. She dying in 1836, he was married in 1837 to Miss Mary De Witt, of same county. Mr. Holt has had five sons and five daughters born to him. A son, Mr. H. H. Holt, is now Lieutenant Governor of Michigan. A daughter, Gertrude, is now Mrs. Densmore, of Ada. H. Gaylord Holt now lives at home. Miriam, another daughter, is now Mrs. Johnson, of Cascade. Charles F. is owner of the Cascade Magnetic Springs. Helen G. Holt, another daughter, is still at home. Mr. Holt is the owner of a magnificent farm of four hundred and fifty acres, one of the finest on Thorn Apple, a view of which will be found in another place.

N. R. HILL, of Nelson Township, was born in Monroe County, New York, and after residing in Ohio for a time, came to Nelson Township with his wife and two children in 1856, and platted and named the Village of Cedar Springs, lying partly in Nelson and partly in Solon Townships. Mr. Hill is a justice of the peace, an office he has filled ten or twelve years. He has also been supervisor of his town five or six terms, and a member of the Legislature twice, and takes a lively interest in public affairs and the pro-gress of the thriving Village of Cedar Springs.

W. W. BAKER, of Plainfield Township, was born in Pennsylva-nia, in 1818, whence he came to Ohio, and thence to Kent County, in 1846. Commissioner of Highways-N. Shoemaker, Dwight Rankin, James B. Jewell.

School Inspectors-L. D. Abbott, J. C. Rogers.

Justices-Erastus Yeomans, Roswell Britton.

The total vote at the first general election appears to have been 101, six-teen years after the settlement of the township had begun.

CHARACTERISTICS, SOIL, ETC.

An important feature of this township is a plateau or second bottom extending almost across the township, and varying in width from one to two miles. This was largely covered originally with burr and white oak timber, with a gravelly soil, and regarded as among the very best in the county. The present river bottom is generally much lowe than this plateau, and generally from one-fourth to one-half mile in width. This burr oak plateau was first sought, and is now almost entirely occupied with farms, and largely devoted to wheat culture. East and southeast of this plateau is a large swampy tract but partially reclaimed, and on the higher lands to the south are belts of fine timber, some of it originally quite heavy, but now mostly cut off. Probably one-fourth of the town was originally pine lands Wyoming is without lakes, and its principal stream after Grand River, which forms its northern boundary for four miles, is Buck Creek, which runs diagonally across the township from southeast to northwest, and entering the river near the village of Grandville. This is a valuable mill stream, and was improved steam power.

JEREMIAH BOYNTON, one of the pioneers of Byron Town-ship, was born in the State of New York. in 1814; came with his parents to Ohio, in 1817, and to Byron Township, Kent County, in August, 1836. In 1841 he was married to Miss Harriett Wilson, then of Wyoming, but also a native of New York. They had born to them two children, Ellen L, now Mrs. Cross, and Harriett E., now Mrs. Pratt. Mr. B. served his town as supervisor and treasurer, and was esteemed as a useful and upright citizen, who died a few years ago. His widow, Mrs. Harriett Boynton, with her son-in-law, Mr. Pratt, still occupy the old homestead, a fine half section farm.

WILLIAM BOYNTON, also one of the earliest settlers within the limits of Byron Township, was born in New York, in 1818, and reached Kent County with his brother Jeremiah. In the year 1840 he was married to Miss Orpha Jewell, daughter of James B. Jewell. To them nine children were born, four of whom, two sons and two daughters, are still living. His son, W. F. Boynton, married Miss Sarah Little, of Ohio, and resides on the old homestead, a view of which will be found elsewhere in this Atlas.

MINER PATTERSON, of Paris Township, was born in Steuben County, New York, in 1819, and removed with his parents to Washtenaw County, Michigan, in 1828, and to Kent County, Michigan, with his mother and brothers, Jacob and James Patterson, in the Spring of 1837. He was married July 4, 1848, to Miss Sally A. Spaulding, who had come with her parents from Seneca County, New York, in 1836. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson have three sons and two daughters. Mr. Patterson's mother, Mrs. Rachel CALVIN THOMPSON, one of the early settlers of Courtland Township, was born in Guilford, Chenango County, New York, October I, 1820. His father, Jarius Thompson, was a native of Massachusetts, and came with his family of nine children to the West, and settled in Jackson County, Michigan. The subject of this sketch, in 1843, came farther west to back for heard for him to cound. Backdon a shift noted look for a home for himself, arriving at Grand Rapids, then chiefly noted as a great trading point for the Indians. Here he was directed by the large hearted and generous John Ball, to the Town of Courtland, where he fo nd a country better than his most sanguine expectations, and at once located a farm in sections 25 and 36, where he now resides. Mr. Thompson was married to Miss Drusilla White of Oakfield, in June, 1846, by whom he had three children, two sons, John and William Thomas, both steady and in-dustrious men, and one daughter, Mary, an amiable young woman. Mrs. Thompson died August, 1861. In November, 1861, Mr. Thompson was married a second time to Miss Jennie Harbaugh. Mr. Thompson has been supervisor of his town, and filled several other positions. He is a man whose word is his bond, and although having had little of this world's goods to start BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES—CONCLUDED.

with, he has been quite successful, and after helping his sons to a good farm each is still counted the wealthiest man in the township.

ROBERT BARCLAY CORNELL, of Courtland Township, was born in Onondaga County, New York, in 1824, and left an orphan at five years. He visited Ohio in 1844, Albany, New York City, Newport and Providence, Rhode Island, and Fall River, Massachusetts, in 1847, and came to Grand Rapids in 1849, and voted for H. R. Williams, the first mayor of the city. He was married to Miss Margaret Delaney of Ionia; in 1851, by whom he had five children. named respectively: Frank G., Charlie H., Ford W., Cora E., and Hattie M.Cornell, the latter now dead. In 1867 he was married a second time to Caroline Ferguson of Holly, to whom one child, Ray B.Cornell, has been born. In 1851 he went to California by way of Chicago, the Mississippi River, and the Isthmus of Darien, and engaged in mining and gardening for a couple of years, at Placerville, when he returned home, via Panama, Aspin-wall, and the usual mail route to New York City. In 1856 he purchased the farm on which he now resides, and built a fine house on the same in 1872. See view in another place.

M. B. HINE, of Cannon Township, was born in New York in 1828, and removed to Kent County in 1847, his father, Demas Hine, having come in and located a farm two years previously. Demas Hine was one of the first justices of the peace elected in the town, and held the position almost continuously until his death in 1872. His widow still resides with her son on the old homestead. M. B. Hine was married to Miss Ann Hartwell, daughter of Robert and Anna Hartwell, in 1850. They have two daughters. Mr. Hine is Postmaster at Imperial Mills, and is also President of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. of Kent County.

WILLIAM HARTWELL, of Cannon Township, was one of the early settlers, having come to the town in 1847—His father, John Hartwell, having come the year before. Mr. Hartwell was born in New York, in 1824. He married Miss Haskins, daughter of Sidney B. Haskins, one of the first settlers and merchants of Cannonsburg, but formerly of Connecticut. Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell have two sons. They have a fine farm of two hundred and forty acres, a view of which will be found in another place.

LEMAN H. CHAPMAN, living one mile south of Cannonsburg, is the second son of John C. Chapman, of Cedar Springs, who came from New York to McComb County, in 1837, and to Kent County in 1845, and was married to Miss Mary A. Cannon in the same year. L. H. Chapman resides on the old homestead, a view of which appears elsewhere.

TUNIS HARTWELL, son of John Hartwell, came from McComb County to the vicinity of Cannonsburg at an early day, and was married to Miss Paulina Cannon, by whom he had one son, George Hartwell, now at home. Upon the death of his first wife, he was married to Mrs. Mary J. Burlingame, formerly Miss Chapman. Mr. Hartwell died several years ago but the widow and son still reside on the homestead one mile south of the Village of Cannonsburg.

Elder E. W. NORTON, of Sparta Township, was born in New York, in 1819, and removed with his parents to McComb County, Michigan, in 1826, and to Kent County, in 1851, and settled near the line dividing Sparta and Alpine Townships, in 1854. Elder Norton has been a minister of the Freewill Baptist Church for thirty years. He was married in 1839, to Miss Minerva Gardner, by whom he had three daughters and two sons. After her death he was married to Miss L. A. Compton of Plainfield, by whom he has three sons and two daughters. The oldest son lost his life in the army. The other children are all living.

Z. M. HINMAN, of Sparta Township, was born in Madison County, New York, in 1822, and was married to Miss Martha Hotchkin in 1848, and removed to his present home in the same year. They have but one child, now the wife of A. B. Cheney, Esq., Loan and Insurance Agent, of Sparta Center. When Mr. Hinman came to Sparta it was nearly all a wilderness, but few neighbors on the south and none on the north of him.

W. H. TAYLOR, of Sparta, was born in Cayuga County, New York, in 1816, and was married to Miss Ursula A. Sprague of that place, in 1840, and settled near Lansing, Eaton County, Michigan, in 1841, whence they removed to Sparta, Kent County, in 1854. Mr. Taylor was one of the first settlers of Eaton County, and filled some official position much of the time. Since coming to Kent County, he has been a member of the Legislature, and afterwards assistant assessor of internal revenue for five or six years. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have had six children born to them, of whom a daughter and son are now living. The daughter is Mrs. H. H. Wylie, Mr. Wylie being Deputy Sheriff of Kent County. The son, Franklin Adelbert Taylor, is still at home. They have a finely improved farm of one hundred and twenty acres, from the elevated parts of which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

BENJAMIN GILLAM was born in New York, in the year 1816, and removed to Sparta, Kent County, in 1850; having purchased land the year before. He was married to Miss Annie E. Mapes, daughter of Barney Mapes, of Sparta, they having come to the town in 1848. Mr. and Mrs. Gillam, have one son and two daughters, one of the daughters being Mrs. John A. Elder, of Sparta. A view of their homestead will be found on another page of this atlas.

J. E. NASH, of Sparta Center, was born in Massachusetts, in 1820, and removed to the farm on which he now resided in the Village of Sparta Center, in the year 1846. Mr. Nash was married to Miss Augusta Waite, of Kent County (but formerly of New York) in 1855. To them four sons were born, and Mrs. Nash dying in January, 1873, he was married in December, 1873, to Lita Gardner, of Kent County, by whom he had one daughter. Mr. Nash has a fine farm of two hundred acres adjoining the village. He has served as supervisor of the town eight or nine years. first to Genesee County, Michigan, and then in 1846, to Sparta Township. His father was William Blackall, well known to early settlers of the town. Benjamin Blackall was married to Miss Mary E. Smith, daughter of Benjamin Smith, one of the pioneers of Grand Rapids, where he landed from Canada, in 1836. Mr. and Mrs. Blackall have had seven children, four sons and three daughters, of whom two ons and one daughter only are living.

CHRISTOPHER C. HINMAN, born in Madison County, New York, in 1830, removed to Sparta Township, in 1848. He was married to Miss Julia Jacobs, daughter of Benjamin F. Jacobs, of Grand Rapids, in 1855. Mr. Hinman first settled with his parents, Noble and Priscilla Hinman, at Sparta Center. Theyhave three children, a daughter and two sons, all at home. They live on a finely improved farm of one hundred and sixty acres, about four miles southwest of Sparta Center.

CLARK BROWN, one of the earliest settlers of Sparta Township, was born in Connecticut, in 1810, but lived in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, until 1832, and for a few years at Lapier, Michigan, and came to Kent County, in 1844, when he located his farm and moved on it in the Spring of 1845. He was married to Miss Lucy Edmunds, of Delaware County, New York, in 1832. They have ten children, eight sons and two daughters, two sons and a daughter being still at home; all the rest married and doing for themselves. When Mr. Brown located his land in September, there was not a white family in the town, but upon returning in February next, he found three families and two young men had come in. For a year or two, Mr. Brown was kept almost busy showing new comers and prospectors lands. If a man desired to become a bona-fide settler, he was at once given the right hand of fellowship, but if he was a speculator, he was likely to be shown through all the swamps in the town, till becoming disgusted, he left.

GARUS P. STEBBINS, one of the early settlers of Sparta Township, was born in Madison County, New York, February 10, 1807; and his wife, Eliza L. Stebbins, was born in Chenango County, New York. December, 20, 1813. They were married in September, 1833. Their children with dates of birth, are as follows; William G., August 3, 1834; Charles L., August 3, 1838; Andrew J., October 14, 1840; Eliza C., October 20, 1845: Ellen V., April 27, 1849. William G. Stebbins, who was married to Miss Lovica Gillam, died February 24, 1876. Mr. G. P. Stebbins was made a captain in the 65th New York Regiment of Infantry, in 1830, and serving three years, was promoted to be major, and at the end of two years resigned in favor of domestic life and agricultural pursuits, which he followed in New York until 1846, when he removed to Sparta Township, then an almost unbroken wilderness, but which has since been made to blossom as the rose.

SHERMAN M. PEARSALL, an early settler in Alpine Township, was born in Cayuga County, New York, in the year 1817. He came with his father, Michael Pearsall, to Troy, Michigan, and from thence to Kent County, Alpine Township, in 1842. In 1841, he was married to Miss Catherine Baily, of Pontiac, Michigan, but a native of Cayuga County, New York. They have had born to them the following children: John Ball, Celina E., Wyant Adams, Bailey C., Esther J., Herbert Adelbert, George Sherman, and Perly Wilbur Pearsall. Of these John Ball died in the army, Wyant Adams was accidentally drowned in a lake adjoining the farm, Bailey C., of disease, and George Sherman, when quite young. Esther J. is now Mrs Miner. Mrs. Pearsall's step-father, Joseph Wood, was lost on a trip from Detroit to Coffer Harbor, in 1847. The vessel was taken in a storm and never heard from afterwards. His wife (Mrs. Pearsall's mother), who is now nearly ninety-one years old, has made her home at Mr. Pearsall's about twenty-eight years.

WM. BIRDSALL, an early settler in Alpine, was born in New York in 1814, his father, W. B rdsall, being one of the pioneers of Erie County, N. Y. In 1839 he was married to Miss Selina Hawley, of New York City. They removed to Walker Township in 1846, and in 1848 to their present home in Alpine Township, at which time there was no other road than an Indian trail leading to their place. They have had thirteen sons and one daughter, of whom the daughter and five sons are living. Mr. B. lives on a finely improved farm, and follows gardening and fruit raising, having a fine orchard. He sold about 600 bushels of peaches alone in 1874, since which his trees, in common with many others, have died.

J. W. FISK, one of the pioneers of Grand Rapids Township, was born in Connecticut in 1805; removed to Wayne County, Michigan, in 1835, to Ada in 1836, where he kept notel in a block house for a year or more. He was married to Miss Filindi Farwell, of Rockford, N. Y., in 1833. Their children have een four sons and three daughters, as follows: Maria J., now Mrs. G. D. Albright; John P., Rugen C., Harriet A., now Mrs. Wm. Laraway; Gurdeon M., Whiting E., and Mary Isabel Fisk, now Mrs. Alfred Crawford. Of these, John P. lives in Iowa, and Rugen C. in Big Rapids. The rest reside in Kent County. When Mr. Fisk settled near Fish Lake there were but three houses between the Rapids and Yankee Springs.

PORTER REED, was born in Herkimer County, N. Y., in 1812, and was married to Miss Polly DeLong, of Lichfield, N. Y., in October, 1833, and removed to Grand Rapids Township in July, 1834. Children were born to them as follows: Julia Maria, August 22, 1838; Gibson D., July 31, 1840; Thomas E., May 4, 1847; Ransom B., August 23, 1854 Julia was married to Daniel Devendorf. Mr. Porter Reed died in July, 1857, and Mrs. Devendorf in May, 1868. Thomas E. Reed married Mrs. Mary Walker, daughter of Hampton L. Walker in 1867, and Gibson D. Reed married Miss Emma Wait, of Kent County, in 1859. Mrs. Reed was married in April, 1861, to Mr. Horatio Randall, late of Herkimer County, N. Y. There were three of the Reed brothers, Lewis, Ezra and Porter, with their families, and Ezeki I Davis, known as Judge Davis, who came about good store building in the place. In 1844 his father, Chas. Rathbun, and family, came to Kent County, and securing a small frame building on Monroe Street, soon enlarged it into what is known as the Rathbun House of today. Geo. B. Rathbun was married in 1859 to Miss Emily Tucker, of La-Grange, Indiana. They reside on a well improved farm a short way from the city limits and near Fish Lake. They have but one son, Amos M. Rathbun.

MARTIN S. TUBB, of Grand Rapids Township, was born in Chenango County, New York, in 1816, and came to Grand Rapids in June, 1837, and for three years was in the employ of George Young, and Lewis and Porter Reed. In 1840 he was married to Eliza Jane Kemp, by whom he had three children, Cornelia A. and two twins, who lived but a few days, when they and the mother both died, in March, 1843. In November, 1843, Mr. T. was married again to Elizabeth Wood, to whom was born as follows: Tunis C., November 3, 1844; Margaret S., January 11, 1847; Jane S., December 17, 1848; Simeon D., May 19, 1851; Lysander D., March 23, 1854; William B., March 15, 1856; J. Francis, July 4, 1859. His second wife died August 26, 1866, and he was married the third time May 19, 1868, to Jane Morgridge. Upon marriage with his first wife, in 1840, Mr. T. moved upon the farm where he still resides, on section 22, in Grand Rapids Township. He has been overseer of the poor for eleven consecutive years, and held other minor town offices.

ANTHONY BODEN, of Paris Township, was born in Derbyshire, England, in 1814; came to America with his parents in 1830, and settled in Wayne County, where his father died, in 1831, and in 1836 he came alone, following an Indian trail, to Kent County, living in Grand Rapids for about ten years, when he located his farm of two hundred and forty acres, in Paris Township. In 1837 he was married to Miss Honora McMann, of Grand Rapids, to whom was born the following children : Catharine E., Margaret A, Joseph L., Ann, Mary, and Elizabeth Boden. Margaret A., Joseph L., and Ann, are married and living in Kent County, while the others have deceased.

PHILLIP F. COVELL, of Walker Township, was born in Calbott. Vermont, December 12, 1811, and was married May 26, 1839, to Miss Maria Abbott, of Ogden, New York, and moved to Kent County in 1845. The r children were: Addie M. Covell (now Mrs. Elliott C. Ånderson, of Illinois), Emma H. Covell, Mattie E. (now Mrs. Alva Loúckes, of Walker Township), Lottie A. (now Mrs. John Ream, of Grand Rapids), and Frank Covell. Mrs. Covell died in November, 1857, and Mr. C. was married a second time to Sarah Hogadone, by whom one child, Chester Covell, was born. Mr. C. first came to the county in 1836, and r mained about one year, when he returned for a wife. He first settled in and help d organize the Town of Alpine. He was collector for the town half a dozen years, lived for some time in the City if Grand Rapids, and about eighteen years since he removed beyond the city limits into Walker Township, where he has been pursuing the avocation of a farmer very successfully. A view of his fine premises will be seen in another place.

L. D'OOGE was born in the Province of Zealand, February 14, 1816, where he learned the trade of painter. In 1838 he married Johanna Quintus, and in the year 1847 emigrated to America, arriving in New York, October I. At this time, being unable to speak English, and knowing but little of the customs of the country, he was unsuccessful in business for three or four years, losing what mone he brought from Zealand. He moved west in 1849, and settled in Ravenna Township, Michigan, where he wned eighty acres o wild land. He erected a log hut, and remained there two years. Mr. D'Ooge and P. J. G. Hodenpyl owned and worked the first mill in Ravenna Township, which was not a success, owing to the newness of the country. This left Mr. D'Ooge without money, and he was obliged to accept the position of United States mail carrier from Grand Rapids to Muskegon, a distance of fifty miles, going on foot, and receiving for his services $2.50 per week. In 1851, Mr. D'Ooge was met on theroad by Rev. DeKeunick, Catholic priest, of Grand Rapids, who induced him to remove his family to the city, and paint the new Catholic church, on Monroe Street. He continued to work at his trade until 1852, when he engaged in the mercantile business on a small scale in a frame building built by h mself, on the corner of Monroe and Division Streets ; also built a small residence, and afterwards two stores. He leased the large plat of ground for ten years, at $75 per year, and by thus improving it attracted business to that part of the town. During the crash of 1857, Mr. D'Ooge made an assignment, in order to pay his creditors dollar for dollar. He resumed business, and retired in 1869, and his time is now employed looking after his fents, etc. Mr. D'Ooge has five children living, viz. : Martin L., Nellie, Maria J., Jennie C., and Benjamin L. The former is now Professor of Greek in the Ann Arbor University, and well known in Michigan. A view of Mr. D'Ooge's residence can be seen on another page of this Atlas.

HENRY MCARTHUR, of Oakfield Township, was born in Summit County, Ohio, in 1816, and married to Rosanna Harper in October, 1837, and removed to Oakfield Township, Kent County. n October, 1846, and settled on the land where he now resides, and has opened and made a fine farm. Mr. and Mrs. McArthur have had four children born to them, as follows: Almira, January 31, 1839; Orange, August 12, 1842; Clinton H., January 5, 1852, and Ella A., October 20, 1854, all living except Clinton A., who died in infancy. Mr. McArthur has filled several offices of trust in the town, and is the present Supervisor. In early days he was engaged in school teaching, and many persons in this and adjacent towns owe much of their advancement to his early instruction.

SILAS D. HORTON, of Oakfield, was born in Orange County, New York, in 1828, and came to his present home in 1849, and was married to Miss Phœbe Rowley, January I, 1856. They have had the following children: Willis E., born October 24, 1856; Ella, December 15, 1860; Edwin, December 6, 1862; Mary S., December 29, 1865; John B., August I, 1868, and Jennie Horton, born March 2, 1870. Mrs. Horton died of consumption, June 19, 1874. A view of Mr. H.'s residence will be found elsewhere.

JOHN GILLAM, of Sparta Township, was born in the State of New York, in 1818, and came to Kent County in 1846, having previously married Miss Rosilla Taggart, of New York. They have three children: Lovica, now Mrs. Wm. G. Stebbins; and Mary, now Mrs. Andrew J. Stebbins; and a son, Alfred Gillam. The country was almost an unbroken wilderness when Mr. Gillam landed in Sparta, now he has a farm of one hundred and sixty acres splendidly improved. A view of this is shown elsewhere.

BENJAMIN BLACKALL, one of the pioneers of Sparta Township, was born in Utica, New York, in 1825, and removed with his parents, the same time and were the first settlers in the township.

G. W. DICKINSON, of Grand Rapids Township, was born in Granby, Mass., in 1809. He was married to Miss Louisa Raynsford, of Massachusetts, in 1833, and removed to Ionia County in 1835, and to Kent County in 1851. Although living in Ionia, he bought the tract where he now resides in 1835, when there were but two frame houses in Grand Rapids. He built a saw and grist mill in Ionia, 15 miles from a settlement in 1837. While residing in Ionia he was town clerk for five years, and made justice at the first town meeting in Otisco Township, and was Supervisor of Grand Rapids Township in 1857. They have two sons and one daughter.

GOUVERNOUR B. RATHBUN, was born in Cayuga County, N. Y., in 1820, and came to Kent County at the instance of his uncle, A. D. Rathbun, who was then Postmaster at Grand Rapids, and with whom he engaged in mercantile pursuits for a number of years, and erected the first HENRY C. HOGADONE, of Walker Township, was born in Canada, in 1823, and removed to Walker Township, Kent County, in 1839. Mrs. Hogadone, formerly Miss Phœbe J. Phillips, was born in 1827, and came to Kent County in 1844, and was married in 1851. They have the following children, to wit: James H., Edward D., Nella L., Rena P., and John B. Hogadone. Mr. H. was one of the pioneers, and found but little in his neighborhood except wolves and Indians, but he has lived to see the savage wilderness transformed to fruitful fields all around him.
