AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

A COMPOUND REMEDY, designed to be the most [illegible] that can be made. It is more than [illegible] Sarsaparilla, as combined with other substances of still greater alterative power than Sarsaparilla itself. Hence, for the cure of [illegible] Blood Diseases, it is confidently offered to the public as the most effective remedy that can be obtained. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that those who try it will find in it the potent alterative power which they require. Innumerable certificates of its virtues, from men and women of the highest character and responsibility, have been received by the proprietor, showing that it is a remedy of immense service to this large class of sufferers. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Tetter, Pimples Blotches, Tumors, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Female Weaknesses, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, and Diseases arising from the impurity of the Blood.

It is compounded with the greatest skill that can be found in the country, and is the best remedy for the cure of all such complaints that has yet been offered to the public. Many of the cures it has performed in the spring and summer have been truly astonishing, and the evidence of them is so universal and unsuspicious, that the most skeptical must believe. Every one is now convinced that the blood is the fountain of life, and that all diseases of the human body may originate in the impurities of this fluid. Expel these impurities, and perfect health must follow. Ayer's Sarsaparilla will do this as far as it can be done through the blood. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling diseases are nipped in the bud, and the seeds of others are sown. Here we introduce the medicine to the system, which, when it finds disease, begins to cast it out. By purifying the blood, it carries health to every part of the body. Thus it cures all those diseases which arise from impurity of the blood, and which, when that fluid is corrupted, burst forth in eruptions and ulcerous sores, through the skin, or infect the whole mass with scrofula, rheumatism, or some other form of disease. Such cases require the use of the internal remedy, aided by the outward application of the Sarsaparilla, to cleanse the skin of its impurities, and restore the blood to healthy action. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy for these cases. But why should we enumerate? Every one knows the virtues of Sarsaparilla, and deserves much, the reputation this compound has obtained for it. Nor does the world have been unjustly deceived by preparations of it, partly because [illegible] have given it a trial in the form of mere extracts, [illegible] of the virtues of the article, and partly because many preparations, pretending to contain Sarsaparilla, have had little or none of it, or so small a quantity as to be valueless, or any thing else than a reliable alterative. For many years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for a dollar, when the fact is that no such [illegible] can be made. Nothing but the concentrated virtues of the best Sarsaparilla can be relied on, and even this, when not combined with other more powerful alterative substances, is comparatively worthless. Hence the general inefficiency of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which are in the market, and the consequent distrust which has been created against the name itself. Sarsaparilla is a valuable remedy, when its full medicinal virtues are secured by the use of this concentrated extract, and not otherwise. This compound Sarsaparilla, and in the best manner we can, but we do not claim for it the power to cure all the diseases which require alterative medicines. We do not make this claim for any single preparation. But we do claim that it will do more than any other alterative yet known to mankind, and more than enough to compensate for all the praise we have given it. We have abundant proof that it does all we claim for it, and we know that it has never been found to do.

Female Collegiate Institute,

ON

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL

FOR YOUNG LADIES,

Under the Superintendence of Madame ED. LOCQUET,

No. 202 Camp Street,

BETWEEN JULIA AND ST. JOSEPH STREETS.

THIS establishment, founded by Dr. and Mrs. Mc. Dowlay, [illegible] will commence its seventeenth session on MONDAY, the 9th of September.

Mme. Ed. LOCQUET, assisted by her sister, Mme. FRANCOIS LOCQUET, will use her best endeavors to continue to merit the confidence reposed, for so many years, in her predecessors.

Professors of the highest talents are employed in all the branches, both useful and ornamental. Piano, Music and the study of the Solfeggi, will be taught exclusively by the Mmes. LOCQUET, whose reputation as professors of music has been so well appreciated by the numerous families who have favored them with their confidence.

The French language, the native tongue of these ladies, and the acquirement of which is now indispensable to a good education, is taught with the utmost care, and is spoken in the Institution. Young ladies will therefore find in their constant intercourse with these teachers every facility possible for perfecting themselves in this language.

The establishment, always so commodious and well ventilated, has recently been entirely renovated, with the utmost regard to the comfort and health of the pupils.

Mme. LOCQUET respectfully invites parents and families to call and visit her school, where prospectuses, with all other information which may be desired, can be obtained.

Letters of inquiry will be promptly attended to by the Principal. sep7 1y

ACADEMY

Canal street, No. 123, between Dauphin and Burgundy streets.

THIS Academy, founded by Mr. G. Soyer, is about half-year to resume, with the assistance of Mr. C. Lepraitre, a graduate of the University of France, its 28th session. The establishment, which for years deserved its reputation, will be conducted on a much more extensive plan in all the branches with the assistance of able professor. A classical and commercial education will be imparted to the pupils, including the study of the ancient languages, to suit parents with whom private education is preferred. Book-keeping, now an indispensable qualification, will be taught by Mr. Lepraitre or Mr. Soyer. The pupils will be taught to use the instruments suitable to the study of Geodesy and Surveying.

Book-keeping being now an indispensable qualification, Mr. Lepraitre will attend to a regular course from 5 to 6 o'clock, P. M. A month's notice must be paid in full. The classes open on the 1st of October. sep6

53.....BOURBON STREET, N. O.....53

Conducted by

G. J. ROBIN.

THIS establishment, founded in 1836, has long held a high position in public opinion as one of the leading institutions in the South of the United States.

The plan comprises a general and extensive system of education. Pupils are admitted at six or seven years of age, and continue till they are prepared for their future pursuits in life. They are distributed into classes, according to their capacities and acquirements.

The premises are, perhaps, the best to be found in the city, with ample space for exercise and recreation, and every convenience for an institution of the kind.

The professors are gentlemen of talent, chosen with care. Good order reigns in the establishment, and strict attention is paid to the moral conduct and improvement of the pupils.
