EDDY GARDEN SERVICE

Fall Bulb Edition

FRIENDS!

The appreciation of garden lovers everywhere for our endeavor to supply the best in bulbs; the unusual, the unique, and the universal in bulbs, has been reflected in the growth of our trade and our organization during the past year, and in the many new friends and clients added to our circle. Our appreciation in turn will be reflected in renewed endeavor to improve and increase the service that we render, and to continue always to furnish only the best in whatever type of material may be demanded by the garden lovers.

We have been extremely well pleased at the kind reception that our 'Garden Glories from Paradise of 1929' received and the high praise that it drew from discriminating gardeners all over the country, a praise as high as that accorded by these same gardeners to our bulbs. It has been advisable to present the same catalogue in but slightly revised form, and we trust that it may receive from the many gardeners who will receive it for the first time an equal amount of attention and appreciation. For next year still better things are promised; for besides the addition of much cultural material, notes on varieties, and hints of attractive garden plans and combinations, there will be superb illustrations picturing many of the rare subjects described.

Among the many extensions of our service this season we may mention our first exhibit at the Spring Flower Shows, co-operating in the magnificent Rock and Water Garden built by the Hengel Brothers at the Philadelphia Flower Show by installing the ALTERED-GRAVITY PUMP, a device for recirculating water and one so moderately priced as to permit garden lovers of limited means to have leaping, rushing water in their garden, in cascade, waterfall, stream or fountain. We have two illustrated brochures descriptive of this device and shall be pleased to send them upon request.

At the Philadelphia Flower Show we also displayed quantities of fine Narcissus, having them shipped daily by air-mail from plantations in Virginia, and giving away thousands each day. The admiration that the size and beauty of these flowers evoked was marked, and confirms still more strongly our belief that Virginia-grown Daffodils are the best obtainable.

Of great interest to many of our patrons will be the announcement that we have made arrangements to offer from several large private collections of Narcissus, including one valued at more than $25,000.00, an infinitude of the rarest and finest Narcissus that have come from the English and Dutch hybridizers. In addition to the great number of varieties offered in this catalogue we have prepared a special list of over 300 varieties ranging through all the types from the great Long Trumpets to the daintiest of the Cyclamineus hybrids. Of some of these varieties but one or two bulbs can be offered this year; of others many more. As orders for these bulbs for 1930 delivery must be in our hands before July 15th, we suggest that you make an immediate request for this list, of which but a limited number will be issued to Daffodil fanciers. Reservations, however, can be made for 1931 after this date.

Primula enthusiasts, too, are requested to ask for our special list of Primulas ready in mid-summer, as we now have over 70 kinds under cultivation. We shall also be able to supply a selection of the rarest and finest Alpines, lists of which are now available. Individuals and Garden Clubs wishing to inspect a set of rare color plates of this material are requested to write for information.

We ask that in comparing our prices with those of other concerns you remember that quality is above price; and that our reputation has been founded upon the delivery of quality bulbs and plants. Our prices on Tulips and Crocus have been made on the basis of the increase in duty that the Tarriff bill now passed by both Houses of Congress carries. Should this bill be vetoed by President Hoover, we shall make the proper deductions upon your order.

Our hope is that the present year and the ensuing spring may have in store for each and every gardener a full measure of garden pleasure and happiness, as well as of garden experience and experiments.

INTRODUCING:

1930 to the Garden Fans of the Country

These are interesting days for the gardener, for everywhere one finds an increasing appreciation of the value of gardening and of its delights. The growth of the Garden Clubs all over the country has been marked; and the eagerness and enthusiasm with which they have sponsored many various types of horticultural problems and projects has been characteristic of American temperament. Members, through attendance upon lectures through garden pilgrimages, through reading of the multiplicity of excellent garden books, by benefit of catalogues, through the friendly interchange of garden lore "over-the-garden-wall", and through their own actual gardening labors, are acquiring the knowledge and experience which coupled with the leisure and comparative wealth of our citizens, should permit us, in time, to develop the gardening tradition of other countries and to accomplish a general perfection in garden making that has been the achievement of few in any time or in any land.

The Spring Flower Shows of this year, more numerous than ever, more resplendent yet more refined, and better attended than ever before are symbolic of the increase of interest in gardening as they are also symbolic of the increasing contribution of the horticultural industries to the general spiritual good of everyone. For the modernistic spirit evidenced in some of the gardens executed at the several shows this spring we are extremely grateful, as it is greatly to be desired that we formulate an expression in gardening appropriate to the spirit of the age in which we live; as well as to continue to imitate and adapt the styles perfected in Italy, Spain, France, England and Japan. To balance the contrasting motifs of nature and modern architecture as is essential in many modern gardens requires a truly great understanding and sympathy, and when we find such an expression as that of Kenneth Bangs designed for the Men's Garden Club at the Chicago Flower and Garden Show, we may well rejoice!

The persistence and increase of the desire upon the part of gardeners of great and small estate to enjoy the rewards and suffer the trials of rock or alpine gardening has been notable. That this desire may be transplanted into effects both appropriate and beautiful requires both taste and knowledge. The last is more easily acquired; and gardeners should extend their gratitude to those publishers and authors who have recently offered for their instruction several excellent books. Outstanding among these are THE ROCK GARDEN PRIMER by Archie Thornton, and ROCK GARDEN AND ALPINE PLANTS by Henri Correvon, the noted Swiss collector and propagator of alpinists who, with the passing of Reginald Farrer is, perhaps, the most famous authority upon their intimate lives. To those who would make their way intelligently through the many catalogues and lists now issued by specialists in growing rock garden and alpine plants, the discriminating comment of that masterpiece of horticultural writing THE ENGLISH ROCK GARDEN, by Reginald Farrer, is now and ever will be indispensable.

The popularity of Rockwell's BOOK OF BULBS continues to grow for it fills a place that no other American book of recent publication has done. Books of lesser magnitude and covering less fully certain and more fully other groups of bulbous subjects are those of A. I. Macself and T. A. Weston both of which will be found enjoyable and instructive reading. Two English publications of the past year are of especial interest with the increased demand for Tulips and Narcissus of the better types. Sir A. Daniel Hall, one of the few men qualified to write such a work today, has given us "THE BOOK OF THE TULIP" and R. F. Calvert has packed into "DAFFODIL GROWING FOR PLEASURE AND PROFIT" a marvelous compendium of valuable and intriguing material.

Are you taking advantage of the opportunities offered by membership in THE AMERICAN ROSE SOCIETY, THE AMERICAN IRIS SOCIETY, THE AMERICAN PEONY SOCIETY, THE AMERICAN GLADIOLUS SOCIETY, OR THE AMERICAN DAHLIA SOCIETY? Are you receiving their bulletins full of information on your favorite flowers, stories of their history, examples of their use in garden design, sidelights on their cultural quirk, comments on the originators of new varieties, their originations, and their hybridizing methods? Are you enjoying the fellowship of rose enthusiasts, iris fanciers, peony connoisseurs, gladiolus fans, and dahlia lovers all over the country? If not, let us know; and we shall recommend you for membership and advise you of the special offers made to new members.

To those among the gardeners who have passed their days of apprenticeship and now find delight in the creation of new varieties of flowers, plants and trees, the passing of the Townsend-Purnell Plant Patent Bill is glad news for it means that to those who after a lengthy and costly period of experimentation and waiting have produced some new and noteworthy plant, some remuneration as well as much recognition will come.

And last and perhaps most significant for garden-lovers has been the appearance of the GARRISON GARDEN CHARTS. They are the definitive answer to the numerous questions as to planting material for special effects, of color, season, fragrance, succession, height, and the innumerable other questions whose answers in the past have been difficult to find and have never been in a convenient reference form. The Garrison Garden Charts have come to the gardener's assistance and their acceptance has been enthusiastic. See page 110 for complete details.

The increasing importance of water in the garden whether in pool, stream or cascade, has led us to prepare an authoritative exhaustive booklet for all interested in water gardening in any of its forms. This catalogue will be ready for distribution for the season of 1931, but reservations should be made now as the edition is strictly limited.

THE NARCISSUS

"The Narcissus, wonderfully glittering, a noble sight for all, whether immortal Gods, or mortal men, from whose root a hundred heads spring forth, and at the fragrant odour (thereof) all the broad heaven above, and all the earth laughed, and the salt wave of the sea."

—Hymn to Demeter.

Perhaps no flower, excepting the Rose and Lily alone, has throughout all ages and in all lands been so great a source of inspiration to the poets, as has the Narcissus; and today likewise there are few flowers which bring so much happiness to so many as do these, the first yellow flowers of spring. In England they long have held imperial sway ruling the gardens of spring, as is attested by the quotation presented below from that great English horticultural journal, "AMATEUR GARDENING".

"In the homeliest of cottage gardens strong clumps of humble Daffodils flourish and bloom with prodigal freedom where they have remained undisturbed for many years. In the woodland pleasure gardens of England's noblest mansions great drifts of golden trumpets wave over the grass; in London's public parks big beds are filled with many sorts of this gallant flower of spring, and in the markets and the florists' shops countless thousands of blooms await purchasers, who will take them to their homes to fill bowls".

"Daffodils provide the English spring with one of its greatest charms, but between the humble flowers we see in the country cottage garden, and the aristocratic blooms standing in rows at the big Daffodil Shows of the Royal Horticultural Society there is a wide and amazing difference. One stands in awesome wonder at the marvelous skill with which the breeders have developed huge giants and flowers of perfect symmetry and strange color variations, all of which have evolved from those modest flowers with which the cottager has so long contented himself".

"To the botanist the breeder's novelties are of little interest, but some small inconspicuous species from the wilds of a mountainous country will enrapture him and hold him in close study".

"Most garden lovers are Daffodil lovers, but the tone and degree of affection vary almost as widely as the flowers themselves do in size and form. It is difficult for those who think of and appreciate a flower solely as an ornament for the garden or the house to take up the standpoint of the fancier who studies its points as an exhibition subject, but there is something more than mere fad in striving for a flower which has symmetry of outline, decisive color, substantial texture, and a neck which is capable of holding up the blossom to full view, because these are points which go to the making of a flower that is capable of enduring close packing. The connoisseur goes farther than is necessary from the utility point of view, but whilst he sets himself high ideals, he does produce varieties which are of greater everyday service than the old types from which he has evolved them".

"As an enthusiasts' hobby, the cult of the Daffodil becomes engrossingly interesting, to a few only it becomes profitable, but although much of their work seems to end in futility we who do our gardening purely for pleasure owe a debt of gratitude to the small band of workers who improve and extend the range of form, types and varieties".

That is an excellent comment upon the assured place of the Daffodil in horticulture today. By what right, and by what qualities, indeed, did it achieve this high place? Again it is an Englishman, who in his BOOK OF THE DAFFODIL, published in 1914, gives the most succinct and one of the most admirable passages ever written in description and praise of a flower. Rev. S. Eugene Bourne says of the Daffodil in his opening chapter:

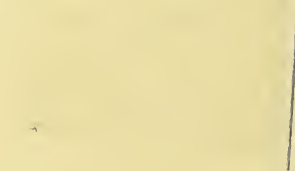

"It is a flower we cannot do without, this Daffodil or Narcissus. Whether after the popular manner we adopted the prettier and more easily pronounced word and call it Daffodil, or whether with more scientific people we keep it to the well established name of the genus and speak of it as Narcissus, it is a plant which the ardent gardener feels he must grow as soon as he sees it in some of its finer forms".

"It is a plant which has asserted itself much of late, and with good reason. Its numerous varieties supply a very real need in our gardens, and occupy a prominent position in the year's procession of beautiful flowers. Growing heartily in open ground, they delight at a time when cut flowers from the open border are very scarce; many of them rival in beauty the choicest treasures of the greenhouse and hot-house; with accommodating persistence they bloom in succession for nearly a quarter of a year—i. e. in ordinary seasons from the beginning of March to the middle of May—without exacting from us any trouble and expense in supplying them with artificial heat; when cut their flowers, most of them, last in water for ten days or even more; and although there is a certain amount of truth in the objection that it is easy from a large collection to pick out a number of sorts that are rather similar in character, it is still easier to select a very large number which are far more distinct from each other than rose from rose and carnation from carnation. Their elegance, grace, and beauty are ravishing. The Narcissus may truly be called the king of the spring garden, and all who have a garden should do homage in his court, and at the same time satisfy their own love of the beautiful by growing a well chosen collection".

It is with the endeavor and desire to extend the dominion of the Narcissus from the spring gardens of England to those of America that we have presented the comprehensive selection of Daffodil varieties found on pages 36 to 49. We have also prepared a special 34 page list of "NOVELTY NARCISSUS" with pen and ink sketches of 20 varieties, for the fanciers and connoisseurs of the country and invite them to send for it immediately, as many of the varieties cannot be supplied after July 15th.

BREEDER TULIPS

Of all the race of flowers, the Tulip family is, surely, the most democratic; and yet the Breeder with his aristocratic reserve and regal dignity seems to disdain with hauteur his more common and lowly cousins. This, indeed, is a fault easily forgiven, if fault it be. Nature here reveals to us her most lovely color combinations—colors soft and rich, and combinations rare and beautiful, like the brocades and tapestries of Oriental lands—bronze and purple, soft greys and rich wines, copper bright in hue and shining mahogany, dull browns and flaming oranges. Among these Tulips we find the bloom of the grape, the blush of the plum, and the sheen of gold and silver. Tall and stately stems bear proudly aloft their large, often enormous, chalice of perfect form and contour. It is, then, no wonder that among the Tulip lovers both here and in England, an awakening appreciation of beauty of form and color has called forth these princes of the Tulip realm from the gardens of the Dutch where long they have been treasured as the self-colored or unbroken forms of the old Florist's Tulips. Late in April or in May these will give you borders beautiful beyond compare, or they will, if forced but gently, add delightful color to the home the first few weeks of April.

Of the many hundreds of varieties we have selected those that will give to you the greatest delight, and you will find here as well as upon those pages listing the very latest introductions the finest creations of the grower's skill and art.

BIZARRE TULIPS

How appropriate the name! And how truly unusual are these Tulips with their featherings and pencillings now of black and purple upon a base of cream or sulphur, now of mahogany and yellow upon a ground of orange or brown!

These Bizarre Tulips are among the "broken" forms of the princely Breeder Tulips, in which the coloring matter in some mysterious manner has become broken into stripes and blotches. It was the Bizarre and Bybloemen Tulips in the days of the Tulip Mania of 1634-1637 that were most greatly prized and for which the highest prices were paid. Some few of these have long been hidden away in the trim and small cottage gardens of both the Dutch and French, whence a few years ago they were called forth to grace with their quiet rich beauty the gardens of another land.

Neither so tall nor so large as the Breeders or Darwins, they bloom at the same season and are excellent for grouping by themselves, together with the Rembrandts, the "broken" Darwins, or, indeed, for contrasting with some of the self-colored Breeders or Darwins. They permit, as well, of gentle forcing, and last splendidly as cut flowers.

We are presenting some of the choicest and most entrancing varieties for your consideration, knowing the joy and pleasure they will bring to you, and the quaint loveliness they will add to your garden with the advent of another spring. We call your particular attention both to our Superior Mixture, and to the Special Collection of named varieties.

ROSE BYBLOEMEN TULIPS

In these attractive "broken" Breeder Tulips we find revealed the predominating tones of reds and whites. In some the ground of white or cream is delicately stippled and splashed with cherry and pink, while in others lively flames of white dance and play over the rose and cerise of the soft rounded petals.

Growing about twenty inches tall and blooming with the late Darwins and Breeders, they make excellent border subjects, and potted and brought into flower in the home they attract much attention with their unique and pleasing appearance.

Our Special Collection offers unusual value in separately labeled named varieties; while the Superior Mixture contains many shades of these harmoniously blending Tulips.

117 Admiral Kingsbergen. 23". Bright crimson, flamed and feathered white. Its warm color, large rounded flower, and delicate poise upon its fine, stiff stem all make this a Tulip outstanding for gaiety and beauty.	3.40	31.60
118 Athalia. 28". White, bordered and feathered bright rose. Circular cream-colored base with faint blue ring, anthers black. Long flower with acuminate segments. A very large chalice, and one of the most beautiful of this group.	2.40	21.40
119 Cerise Primo. 30". Here we have a daring medley of colors, petals of white flamed and feathered with violet-purple and deep rosy-red, all overlaid with a flush of cream edged rich pansy-violet. Base white, anthers black. The flower is quite long and shapely, and of stately habit.	1.50	13.60
120 Earthglobe. (Aardglobe—Globe Terrestre.) 32". Base yellow, anthers black. Petals yellow at base, bright violet-purple edged crimson, white and some yellow stripes. Gigantic flower.	1.40	12.80
121 La Circassienne. Large flower of dark red and old-rose ground with feathers of white.	1.70	15.00
122 Parel Schaap. 23". Flower large and skillfully painted with flames and leathers of light and deep rose upon a ground of creamy white. Base white, anthers black.	5.30	48.80
123 Ponceau Sans Pareil. Rosy white ground flaked and striped with brown and violet.	2.80	26.00

VIOLET BYBLOEMEN TULIPS

If you can not satisfactorily picture the beauty of a Tulip, with dark purple flames playing over a base of parchment cream and old ivory, or of another with its stippings of golden yellow on a base of terra-cotta overlaid with silvery-lilac, we suggest that you select a few of these for your spring garden. Our Special Collection, of ten charming sorts, each distinct in its color scheme, will please those who to whom the named varieties are not familiar.

129 Amphion. 22". Underlying terra-cotta red over which is brushed a lilac sheen and all flamed and streaked with bright yellow. Base small smoke-grey with white ring, anthers black. Very lovely and unusual color combination.	2.70	24.40

COTTAGE TULIPS

Old English or May-Flowering Tulips

These late-flowering Tulips, of whose beauties we now would tell, derive their name from the fact that, for the most part, they have been found growing in sequestered gardens of homes and cottages throughout the countryside of France and England. From a few bulbs gathered in these gardens skillful gardeners, by planting in the proper soil and by skillful hybridizing, have developed the innumerable varieties of the present day, in their myriad forms and colors.

We include with these many of the new Hybrid Tulips, produced by the crossing of Cottage, Breeder, and Darwin types. These bloom at the same period and have all the good characteristics of the parent types, with the brilliant artistic shades of the Cottage and Breeders and the firmer petals of the Darwin. Others of the Hybrid Tulips will be found listed under the Lily-Flowering type. And still others we have listed with the Darwins; among these are the new introductions, those masterpieces in yellow and in white, so closely resembling the Darwins in all but their color, which reflects their Cottage parentage, that we list them as Yellow Darwins and as White Darwins, instead of as the Hybrids which they really are.

The Cottage are the best of all Tulips for cutting with their long, slender yet stiff stems, and graceful habit. Many of the varieties are unsurpassed for bedding and border planting where they make excellent effects, whether planted in small groups or in large masses. Until some of the new yellow and white Darwins are lower in price, many will wish to use the yellow and white Cottage Tulips for effecting contrasts with Darwin Tulips.

These Tulips flower at approximately the same time as the Breeder and the Darwin Tulips, during the month of May in all but the far Southern States, where they will bloom in April. Certain varieties, like some of the Darwins flower earlier than the others, but on the whole the earliest is at its best when the latest-blooming variety is just beginning to show its color.

We present a selection of Cottage and Hybrid Tulips embracing all colors, shades and tints, and all the varied forms, a selection limited to the finest and including each variety only for some distinctive merit that it possesses.

141 Adriani. 25". A fine, clear, light lemon-yellow. The flower is long and distinct. Very attractive, and of good substance.	13.00	119.00

COTTAGE AND HYBRID TULIPS

Of The Reflexed Petal and Lily-Flowering Types

The Dutch hybridists like the hybridists of every land are constantly trying, by patient and laborious crossing and re-crossing, checking and rechecking, discarding many and retaining few of their innumerable hybrids, to secure, for the gardens of all, flowers both more perfect and more beautiful and flowers distinct and new in color and in form. About 1914, after some years of hybridization by the crossing of the dainty yellow Tulipa retroflexa, distinct for its urn shape and reflexed petals, with a pink Darwin, one of these hybridists developed a new race of Tulips to which the popular name of Lily-Flowering Tulips has appropriately been given.

All of these possess reflexing petals suggesting the vase-shaped Lilies of our gardens. As these are now to be had in many colors and as they bloom together with the other late-flowering Tulips, they make a particularly beautiful addition to our gardens. Together with these new hybrids we list other Cottage Tulips that possess the recurring petals in greater or less degree, such as Mrs. Moon, Miss Ellen Willmott and a few more.

270 Adonis. A delightful bright rosy-pink. Flower quite long. Petals nicely reflexed. Very erect and gay. Award of Merit at Haarlem.	1.30	11.40
271 Alaska. Clear bright yellow, very even and soft without traces of any other coloring. The petals of this long slender bloom slightly reflex adding to its charm.	7.00	64.00

	Prices,	10	100
272 Apollo. Lovely salmon-rose. Beautifully reflexed petals.		$1.60	$14.20
273 Artemis. Its form is light and graceful and the reflexed flower is borne on a long and slender stem which will sway in the airiest breeze. Clear warm rose-pink; base of pure white.		1.20	10.40
274 Daybreak. 20". B. Soft yellow shaded purplish-violet. Elongated recurving petals.		1.80	16.60
275 Eclipse. Beautiful orange-yellow and buff shaded soft rose. The reflexed blooms are well carried on tall stems.		1.40	12.80
276 Elegans *. 28". Tall stems bear these stately flowers of dark crimson with their reflexing segments.		1.40	12.80
277 Elegans Alba. (White Crown). Charming creamy-white Tulip with narrow margin of carmine that does not deepen with the ageing bloom. Petals recurved.		2.70	24.40
278 Golden Spire *. 15". C. Enormous flower with reflexing petals of deep golden-yellow, finely edged orange-scarlet. Very choice.		1.40	12.80
279 Hebe. Deep red segments gracefully recurving. Very brilliant.		2.20	19.60
280 Leghorn Bonnet. (Elegans lutea pallida). Fine light yellow with slightly reflexed petals.		1.10	9.80
281 Mephisto. Finest red, extra tall stem. Petals attractively recurved.		2.20	19.60
282 Miss Ellen Willmott *. 18". D. Distinct soft light creamy-yellow with delightfully recurved petals. Deliciously fragrant. Elongated flower.		1.00	8.80
283 Mount Lowe. 28". A Tulip of marvelous size and color. Rich glowing pink, striped white. Tips of petals slightly reflexed.		5.60	50.80
284 Mrs. Moon. 25". D. Beautiful vase-shaped flowers carried on sturdy stems. One of the most beautiful of all the deep yellows.		1.40	12.80
285 Nectar. 26". A very effective garden Tulip of glorious fiery crimson with a base of pure white. Petals slightly reflexed. Excellent forcer.		1.60	14.80
286 Orient. 27". Petals very long forming slender recurved flowers. The very large chalice gives a glowing effect of rich warm pink slightly touched with amber at the petal edges.		3.50	32.00
287 Picotee *. (Maiden's Blush.) 20". C. A lovely pointed, white flower with edges of soft carmine-rose that broaden and suffuse the flower as it matures.		.90	8.00

289 Pride of Inglescombe. 26". C. A pure white bordered carmine-rose deepening throughout the flower with its ageing. The reflexing petals form a large long bloom that we can recommend.		2.00	18.20
290 Retroflexa. 16". A. Fine pale yellow with reflexed petals.		1.10	9.20
291 Retroflexa Superba. 18". A. Its form is very impressive and displays its beauty in severity and simplicity. The lower part of the corolla fills out roundly and delicately like an urn; then is somewhat contracted upward; and again curved outward at the point of the three outer and narrower sepals. Stem is gracefully curved. The flower is of fresh honey-yellow.		1.40	12.80
292 Sirene. 32". A charming rosy-pink, with paler pink near the segments margins; base white. One of the first and most beautiful of the Lily-Flowered Tulips resulting from the Clara Butt-Retroflexa cross.		1.20	10.40
293 Solfatare. 18". B. Distinct pale primrose with long petals curved outwards.		1.40	12.80
294 Themis. 28". The form is that of the characteristic Darwin type with petal tips somewhat reflexed. The beautiful spotless white flower is borne on a fine strong stem.		2.80	26.00
295 Walter T. Ware. 18". A Tulip whose deep golden tone is not to be surpassed. The segments of this richly colored flower are recurved above the globular cup. The petals are of extraordinary substance so that the flower lasts very well.		2.80	26.00

DARWIN TULIPS

Memories of beauties past and dreams of gardens yet to be! Pictures such as these pass in prospect and review before our mind's eye at the mention of Darwin Tulips, those symbols of loveliness and joy. Giants are they, tall of stem and large of chalice cup. Vigorous are they, healthy of foliage, strong of stem, and firm of petal. And beautiful, too, in their self-colored habits, in cardinal robes of flaming red, in regal raiment of the Tyrian hue, in dainty frocks of pink and lavender, in soft dresses of rich yellow, Spring's own color, and now in cool bridal vestments of the purest white. To change the metaphor. From these upraised cups let each and all quaff, but once, his mead of joy and ever after for his pleasure he will seek these Tulips, the bearers of the "cups that cheer but not inebriate".

	Prices,	10	100

REMBRANDT TULIPS

As have the Breeders, so, also, have the Darwins their "broken or rectified" forms, and these have long been called Rembrandt Tulips from the rembrandtesque shades in which lie their beauties. Once more popular and more generally admired because of their odd colorings and variegations than they are today, they possess a charm and beauty which have too long been lost to our gardens. We suggest that from our restricted list of the best varieties you make your selections and use them to add to your garden a note of distinction.

464 Ace of Diamonds , (Apollo.) 32". A. Rosy-lilac, striped and feathered bright maroon, occasionally flaked white; base, white. Anthers black.	1.50	13.60
465 Bougainville , 26". B. Pale rosy-lilac, broadly striped deep violet and flaked maroon. Base blue, anthers black. Fine large flower.	1.50	13.60
466 Caracalla , 21". C. White, flamed and feathered carmine-red; general light effect. Good flower.	1.80	16.60
467 Carolus Durand , 29". Rich royal purple and milky white. The markings are distinct and the ground of reddish-violet exceedingly rich.	1.80	16.60
468 Cosette , 20". On a creamy ground there are flushes of pale pink and feathers of bright deep rose, with an effect of marbling of brighter and softer tones. Very large flower. Award of Merit at Haarlem.	1.50	13.60
469 Eros , 25". A tulip of delicate coloring and lovely rounded form. Pale lilac is prettily splashed over a white ground, and there is just a trace of yellow and green at the tips of the outer petals. The base is faint lilac with deeper lilac markings. Anthers glistening black.	1.50	13.60
470 Hebron , (Hebe.) Pale lilac-white, with deep brown markings. Base white, anthers black.	1.50	13.60
471 Julienne , 23". C. Old-rose, stippled and flaked carmine-purple and white; a white base marked with blue. Flower of fine size.	1.50	13.60

DOUBLE EARLY TULIPS

These Tulips, sturdy and strong, make striking displays of color, particularly when the Spring is sunny and dry. They stand up well in inclement weather, but how glorious their blooms whenever the sun breaks through the clouds to shine upon these brilliant reflectors of its glory! When placed in formal beds or used in masses they appear to greatest advantage. One can plant them quite happily in exposed positions which their taller cousins would not brook. Quite appropriately have they been called "the Tulip with the longer life", for in comparison with the Single Early Tulips their lasting qualities are quite phenomenal. For the indoor garden and window boxes one could not desire more beautiful or more vigorous subjects. We urge you to plant more of this group of Tulips and especially to try some of the newer varieties, as these show great improvement over the former offerings, only the most worthy of which we are now listing.

DOUBLE LATE TULIPS

Among the recent advances made by the Tulip hybridizers of Holland, the Double Late Tulip may be counted a distinct achievement from the standpoint of the wonderfully well filled Paeony-like flowers and strong robust stems. With their unusual colorings they make a mass effect in the herbaceous border which can not be equalled by any of the other types for its beauty and distinctiveness. The combinations of all their excellent characteristics with their late blooming habit will surely make every Tulip fancier eager to display at least a few of these in his or her garden.

544 Bleu Celeste. (Blue Flag-Lord Wellington.) 16". D. Large violet-purple Tulip. Fine for cutting and indoor decoration, or equally good for garden display.	2.20	19.60

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

Someone once wrote, "I have the same love, the same sense of perfect satisfaction, in the old formal garden that I have in the sonnet in poetry, and in the Greek drama as contrasted with the modern drama; something within me is ever drawn to that which is restrained and classic." I think it is something of this classic nature in the Single Tulip with its prim restraint that has endeared it to us all. And for the rest there is a peculiar delicacy of texture, a fine purity of color, often a rare and pronounced fragrance, and a glowing freshness and zest in its early appearance that makes it indispensable to our gardens. And it is well, for it remains as one of the few descendants of the flowers our fathers planted in their formal beds and formal gardens. Let us be frank and acknowledge the formal nature of the Single Tulips and not try to fit them into our naturalistic schemes, for they will not be naturalized, nor have they the qualities that permit of planting in formless drifts and shoals. Use them in strict patterns to make a tapestry of color beneath the lee of shrubbery, use them to mound with pure color the squares and circles and half-moons set in the fresh green sod; spot them here and there in pre-mediated design, and make of them patterns mathematical and mazes problematical; set them to guard the garden paths in uniforms of colors crude and gay; stand them in seemingly array in your garden pots or in stiff rows in the window boxes; and realize their inherent beauty.

In our list of choice varieties will be found quite a selection of them—pale lemon, pale rose, orange, pink, carmine, scarlet, violet, white, and yellow tones. From such a palette the veriest amateur can easily make a picture to delight the eye.

VARIEGATED FOLIAGE TULIPS

These Tulips produce handsome striped and bordered leaves, are beautiful and effective, long before and long after their flowering period and are much preferable to the more common green leaved sorts for bedding and garden use. Where the same names have appeared before they designate not these Variegated Foliaged Tulips but the green leaved sorts.

MENDEL TULIPS

In 1908 two of the best known of the Dutch hybridizers, Mr. E. H. Krelage and Mr. J. F. Dix planned to hybridize the Duc van Tholl Tulips with the Darwin Tulips to combine the wonderful forcing qualities of the former with the long stems of the latter. In 1915 the first of these hybrids flowered and the results were excellent. The seedlings had stems about 16 inches long and the delicate colorings of the Darwins, and as the stock increased it was found that they forced both easily and early. All produced large flowers on tall stiff stems and had petals of remarkable substance and texture. The colors range from the darkest blood-red to fiery orange-scarlet, from light to dark pink, from lilac to deep violet, and there are varieties of true orange, salmon, yellow and even of white. Not only for forcing are these Mendel Tulips valuable, but with their delightful tones not to be found in the Early Tulips they will make a lovely addition to the garden.

From the myriad varieties we offer the following sorts which we can strongly recommend. We suggest that as the stocks are very limited you submit your order as soon as possible.

PARROT TULIPS

Bizarre and fantastic are these fringed and slashed representatives of the May-flowering family, yet lovely and delightful too. Their artistic forms and rare colorings make them especially suitable for cut-flower purposes. In the garden they are not always as satisfactory as the other types of late Tulips because, Fantasy and the other recent novelties excepted, the Parrots have more or less curling stems. These stems however permit of the most graceful arrangements imaginable for interior decoration. One of the most charming ways to use these Dragon or Monstrosa Tulips is to plant them in long drifts in front of evergreens. We are glad to be able to offer some of the best of the latest introduction, including the new type of "Crested Tulip", Sundew.

693 Sundew . (The Crested Tulip.) This new Tulip has a beautiful two-tone fringed serration around the edges of the petals and is distinctive and novel in this feature; probably the most valuable of recent introductions. The color is a pleasing cerise red. Exhibited first at the Philadelphia Flower Festival of 1928 it was greeted with great enthusiasm by Tulip fanciers.	2.20		19.60
694 Superior Mixture of Parrot Tulips *. All the standard sorts.			6.00

DOUBLE TRIUMPH TULIPS

Nor did the hybridizers neglect the Double Tulip when they were creating varieties both new and fine, for from their work has come a new race of Tulips—Tulips with great pæony-like flowers erectly carried on strong, robust stems. We suggest that you observe their superiority to the old Doubles that you long have known in your garden. The keeping qualities of the Double Triumph Tulips are excellent and in this respect equal the best of the Darwins.

TRIUMPH TULIPS

These Triumph Tulips form an entirely new type, and mark the dawn of a new era in Tulip history, an era bound to bring a revelation of beauty to the spring garden. Although the Triumph Tulips were originated about a decade ago by the crossing of various Darwins with many of the Single Early Tulips, it has only been in the last year or two that they have been available to American gardeners. There are hundreds of varieties ranging in height from the short stemmed Earlys to the tall and majestic Darwins, and in shape from the globular forms of the Single Tulips and the long-tapered or vase-shaped Cottage types to the square or pointed flowers of the Darwins. The many colors to be found among these new Tulips defies description and imagination. Not only are the plain bright shades of the Darwin parents and the rich variegated colors of the Early types reborn in these immense blossoms, but also are the exclusive lustrous shades of the Breeders recreated, enriched, and beautified by contrasts of distinct golden-yellow, olive-green, and ivory-white markings inside the flower. Those who are always eager for the largest blossoms will be gratified by the immense size of their chalice. They bloom a week or two earlier than the Darwins and have better keeping qualities. For forcing they are excellent as they may be brought into bloom from the middle of January onward.

It will be several years before the supply of these new Tulips can meet the demand and the prices will be such that everyone can have them by the hundreds, but we think that their beauty merits a trial. In Holland they have created such a sensation and speculation in them ahead has gone on such a mad and merry pace for the last two or three years as to recall the "Tulipomania" of 1634-1637.

TULIPA SPECIES

Botanical Tulips

The following Tulips are all species and many of them exceedingly rare. All are beautiful, each in an individual way, and they will be highly appreciated by lovers of hardy bulbous plants. The general characteristics of the various species, all of which are natives of Asia Minor and Central Asia—though many are now to be found naturalized in Southern Europe and other regions, these are only adopted homes—are bright colors and recurved petals. Their rightful place is in the rock-garden, where their flowers are displayed to greatest advantage, and especially is this true of the small dainty species like Clusiana, Saxatilis, Persica, etc. These Tulips do not always feel happy in their new surroundings and after two, or possibly three seasons, they may disappear. With care and the provision of suitable quarters and the proper soil, this difficulty will be eliminated and they will flower satisfactorily for you. It must be remembered, however, that a little attention is the price of their beauty, but too high a price could not be paid for it. Our selection includes all these varieties that have proven satisfactory in this country and a few novelties that are being offered for the first time.

	Prices,	10	100
756 Australis. (Celsiana .) 8-16". Spain and Southern Europe. Yellow, shaded reddish brown on the outside of petals; fragrant. April flowering. A pretty species somewhat resembling Tulipa Sylvestris .	2.00		17.80
757 Batalini. Bokhara. 5". This is truly a treasure. Its color is a clear, gentle butter-yellow—no hard or golden shade, but a true bland canary color—the right Chinese Imperial note. Of this variety, Mr. Farrar writes: "It takes up the torch of delicate beauty from Narcissus Triandus Albus , as the Angel's Tears quietly weep away." A dainty April flowering species of distinct form. Award of Merit from the Royal Horticultural Society.			20.00
758 Biflora. 5-8". A pretty little species from the Altai and Caucasus Mountains, bearing on branching stems early in March cream-colored flowers shaded outside purplish-rose and green.	1.80		16.60
759 Billietiana. (Sunset.) Orange-yellow, feathered and streaked scarlet; petals pointed; fine for cutting.	2.20		19.60
760 Carinata Rubra. An unusual purplish-red or mulberry shade.	1.80		16.60
761 Carinata Violacea. Purple, tinged violet. Attractive flower.	1.80		16.60
762 Chrysantha. (Stellata .) 4". Himalaya Mountains. Small, soft and dainty yellow flowers on short stems; exterior of petals shaded rose.			10.00
	Price, Each, $1.10
763 Clusiana *. (The Lady Tulip—The Candystick Tulip.) 10". Southern Europe. Charming sprightly flower of glistening white, with a vertical carmine flame on each petal, violet starred base. The small bloom is of a long, delightfully distinct shape. Flowers late in April. Fine for cutting and easy to force. Likes a warm, sheltered corner in deep vegetable soil. Plant eight to nine inches deep. Very well adapted to the rock garden.	1.00		9.00

	Prices,	10	100
764 Cornuta Stenopetala. (Sinensis-Acuminata.) Beautifully formed flower, lacinated like a Parrot Tulip, but held upright on a tall, stiff stem. The petals of scarlet and gold gradually narrow into a long point. A Tulip at once interesting and unique, of the type prized by the early Turks.
765 Dasystemon. 4-6". Turkestan. A dwarf, but very showy species, bearing several flowers on a stem; white, golden center. Mrs. Beebe describes this early bloomer as "a small wonder of a tulip, its leaves lying flat on the ground like a star-fish at their first coming forth and charming, fragrant blossoms opening wide, butter-yellow and white"	Each, $2.50	$5.30	$47.80
766 Didieri. Bright scarlet, base blotched black.		22.50
767 Didieri Alba. (Niphetos.) Varying from pure to creamy-white. Delightfully sweet scented. Tapering flowers of great beauty.		12.00
768 Eichleri *. 6-11". Turkestan. Large, brilliant, deep scarlet-red flowers, with base of glittering black and yellow. Extremely striking and bizarre.		13.00
769 Florentina Odorata *. (Sylvestris.) 10". Europe. The Wild English Tulip. Deliciously fragrant, butter-yellow blossoms, bronzy-brown interior, often two on the slender arching stem. Very floriferous and increases rapidly when established.		1.70	15.00
770 Florentina Major. A large-flowered form of the Wild English Tulip, and a much better plant for the cultivated border.		2.20	19.60
771 Fosteriana. 24". Bokhara. A magnificent variety, with flowers of vermilion-scarlet, center of yellow, or of maroon and yellow. Excellent for early forcing. Very scarce.	Price, Each, $3.00	2.50	22.80
772 Greigii. 9". Turkestan. A glittering orange-scarlet, black blotched center. The large goblet-shaped flower has thick, pointed, slightly reflexing petals; the leaves are mottled with brownish-purple dots. Flowers in late April and May. Requires a hot, dry situation. Sometimes a shy bloomer, but unexcelled in any collection of show varieties.		3.50	32.00
773 Hageri. 6". Attica. Dark tile-red flower shaded outside olive-green; black and yellow center. Very attractive. April flowering.	Price, Each, $1.35	12.00
774 Ingens. Large flowers of vermilion-scarlet, with base blotched darker.		9.00	84.00
775 Kaufmanniana. 4". Turkestan. Large flower of creamy primrose; exterior brilliantly marked and tinted with carmine-pink; golden-yellow center. The earliest of all Tulips to bloom. Should be planted six inches deep. Mr. Farrar speaks of it as "harbinger of Spring, which sits almost close on the bare earth in wide water-lilies of flushed rose and pearl and salmon and cream in the early morning of the year."		5.00	45.00
776 Kaufmanniana Brilliant. Splendid bright Turkish red, with yellow center. Very scarce.	Price, Each, $1.00	36.00
777 Kaufmanniana Aurora. Golden-yellow.	Each, $7.50
778 Kaufmanniana Elliot. Very large; ground of white, overrun with streamers of red.	Price, Each, $2.00	17.80
779 Kolpakowskiana. Large handsome flowers of deep golden-yellow shaded rose on the exterior of petals. As it is a collected plant it varies slightly. Very rare.	Each, $2.50	22.50
780 Kuschkensis. A fine new scarlet species from Turkestan. Extremely rare.		5.00	45.00
781 Linifolia. 7". Brilliant light vermilion-red; black base. A pleasing and effective dwarf sort that is well suited to planting in small groups where a high light is required. Grass-like leaves. Charming for the rock garden. April flowering.	Price, Each, $2.50	22.50
782 Maculata. Choice crimson species.		1.40	12.80
783 Marjoletti. Very tall flower that is excellent for cutting. Adaptable to use in rock-gardens. Pale lemon-yellow, exterior base of petals deep rose-red; splashed and edged with red and rose.		1.50	13.60
784 Mauriana. 21". Brilliant scarlet, with pure yellow basal blotch. Flowers in late April. A handsome Savoy Tulip earning an Award of Merit from the Royal Horticultural Society.		1.90	17.20
785 Micheliana. Large flower of orange-scarlet, with very large black and yellow base; leaves faintly lined with brown.		5.30	47.80
786 Montana. 5". The Mountains of Persia. A real gem for the rock-garden. Scarlet-crimson, with starred center of black and gold.		5.60	50.80

	Prices,	10	100
787 Oculus Solus. (The Sun's-eye Tulip.) 12". Southern Europe. An early bloomer, making a fine effect with its stalwart form and varied coloring of scarlet and yellow, and base of purplish-violet.		$4.50	$41.40
788 Orphanidea. 10" A distinct and pretty species from Greece, producing in April flowers of a buff orange, shaded bronze at center, petals painted.
789 Persica. (Breyntiana.) 5". Persia. Fragrant, brilliant yellow flowers with bronzy exterior petals are borne in groups of two or three on a slender curving stem. A charming variety for rockeries. Late bloomer.		4.50	41.40
790 Polychroma. 4". A dainty little species producing charming little flowers, the inner petals white and outer petals shaded bluish-grey, center yellow. Very rare.
791 Praecox. 12". Southern Europe. Scarlet, with base of yellow and blackish-violet.		2 20	19.60
792 Praestans: Regel's Variety. (Suavoelens Sylvestris.) 12". Bokhara. A lively light orange-scarlet, often bearing from three to five flowers on a scape. Flowers in early April. Price, Each, $1.50		13.60
793 Praestans: Tubergeni. Scarlet-red, dwarfed and earlier than the preceding. Rare and fine hybrid.		10.00	90.00
794 Primulina. 6". Algeria. A very fine dwarf variety on the order of Clusiana. Pale yellow; outside, reddish-pink, tinged lilac. Bronze colored stems. Late bloomer; forces well.
795 Pulchella. 4". The Mountains of Sicilia. A real little gem of distinct violet-carmine or rose-purple; blue center; very dwarf. It produces its dainty Crocus-like flowers early in April.		7.00	64.00
796 Saxatilis. 10". Island of Crete. A rare gem bearing in April flowers of a delicate rose with large bright yellow centers. Very beautiful.		17.30
797 Sprengeri. 12". Armenia. The latest of all Tulips to flower. The large flowers are bright orange-scarlet shaded outside buff and orange, anthers golden. When established, it self-sows freely. A very beautiful and showy species, charming for the rock-garden.		6.50	60.00
798 Suavoelens Alba. A very rare and delightfully fragrant pure white, with yellow center. Large flowers of remarkable beauty.
	Price, Each, $3.00	27.00
799 Tubergiana. A gigantic scarlet flower; center black.	Each, $5.00	45.00
800 Wilsoniana. Deep vermilion-red.	Price, Each, $4.00	36.00

THE NARCISSUS

Here they come, tripping along on the winds of March, the gay and sprightly Daffodils whose appearance is always the signal of the reawakening of the vernal flowers and of the rebirth of joy in the hearts of men. And with what joy it is that we watch each green spear pierce the brown earth, and wait for the tapering bud to expand and display its beauties to our eager eye! Truly is there reason why of all the flowers the Daffodil is the well beloved of the poets, and why it is the one green growing thing that Keats honors with his phrase, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

We present for your consideration one of the most extensive selections of American-grown Narcissi ever offered to flower lovers, and one that includes some of the very choicest sorts in which every fancier will delight. Only the soundest and largest double-nosed bulbs are sold.

We only suggest that you order as early as possible, and that you plant immediately upon receipt of the bulbs in the fall, for Narcissi should have as long a season as is possible in which to establish themselves. Full cultural directions will be sent with each order.

"On meadow green, by leafy hedge
In woodland shade, and rushy sedge,
By little lowly rills;
While yet the north wind blows his blast,
Before the storm and sleet are past,
Laugh out the Daffodils." Shakespear.

DIVISION I—TRUMPET DAFFODILS

Distinguishing character—Trumpet or crown as long as, or longer, than the perianth segments; often known as Ajax Trumpet Daffodils.

Class A—All Yellow.

Varieties with yellow or lemon-colored trumpets, and perianth of same or lighter shade, but not of white.

	Prices,
1200 Acrolite. Perianth lemon-yellow, petals overlapping, trumpet slightly darker, frilled. A beautiful Daffodil of great substance. Fine show flower.		10 100
Single Bulb, $1.00	$8.50	$75.00
1201 Apotheose. An enormous flower, striking and imposing, of firm texture. The broad well-closed perianth is pure canary-yellow, while the large, broadly terminating and exquisitely recurved trumpet is of a deep canary-yellow. A variety that will fulfill its present promise of being a leader as soon as it is better known.
Each, $5.00
1202 Aureole. Soft lemon-yellow perianth and bright yellow trumpet. The flower is immense and of very firm substance.
Single Bulb, 75 cts	6.50	60.00
1203 Cervantes. Creamy perianth, primrose trumpet. Its greatest merit is that it is very early and quite free-flowering.		1.50 13.00
1204 Cleopatra. Very broad overlapping lemon-yellow perianth and long bold deep yellow trumpet. A splendid large late-flowering variety.	4.50	40.00
1205 Duchanel. The giant of the Daffodils. Bright lemon-yellow throughout. One of the very finest King Alfred seedlings.
Single Bulb, $2.50		20.00
1206 Emerson. Light yellow perianth, rich yellow trumpet. A bold, handsome flower on a long stem. Forces easily.
Single Bulb, $1.00	9.00	80.00
1207 Emperor. Perianth dark primrose, trumpet deep yellow. A large flower on a strong stem. A variety that has long proven its merits for forcing, for bedding and for naturalizing. Midseason.	1.70	15.00
1208 Glory of Leiden. A very old variety that still retains its merit. All yellow, long trumpet. Flower of excellent substance and splendid as a cut-flower.		2.10 17.00
1209 Golden Spur. Perianth and trumpet rich golden yellow. Very free-flowering. Excellent for forcing and pot culture, but not so well adapted to garden use. It flowers early, and requires early planting.	2.00	18.00
1210 Herbert Smith. Sharply pointed light yellow perianth. Long fluted yellow trumpet of great nobility in form. Sturdy plant.	5.00	45.00
1211 John Farquar. Large yellow perianth; enormous trumpet. One of the latest and finest of the show varieties.	Single Bulb, $1.00	9.00 80.00
1212 King Alfred. Large bold flower of uniform golden yellow with its mouth deeply frilled. A broad exquisitely recurved and delightfully formed perianth adds to the charm of the flower. A good forcer and one of the very best of all Daffodils, possessing excellent lasting qualities.	3.00	25.00
1213 King Lear. A very free-flowering variety, a seedling of King Alfred which it much resembles in all respects excepting its lighter color tone. Highly recommended.	Single Bulb, $2.00	17.50
1214 Lord Roberts. A massive perianth and noble trumpet of uniform sulphur-yellow. Large in flower and free in bloom.
Price, Each, $2.00		17.50
1215 Minimus. Dainty little trumpet flowers of rich full yellow. The smallest and dwarfest of all Daffodils, blooming outdoors in February and March. It likes a peaty soil, and may be naturalized in rockeries or in the grass, and can, as well, be grown in pans or pots. Height 3 inches.	5.00	47 40
1216 Minister Talma. Yellow perianth, golden yellow trumpet. Large erect flower of firm texture and great lasting character. A good, vigorous, free-flowering variety that forces quite easily.	3.00	26.00
1217 Olympia. A giant uniformly yellow seedling of Emperor, both larger and more lovely than its parent. Very free-flowering and exceptionally hardy. Its intensity of color and pleasing form everywhere commands unlimited admiration.	3.50	30 00

- 1218 Prince of Wales. Light yellow, bold and free-flowering. An attractive large flower on a stem of unusual length and grace. Unsurpassed as an exhibition variety. Single Bulb, $1.25 $10.50
- 1219 Robert Sydenham. The superb outstanding, heavily frilled trumpet of beautiful golden yellow, glittering as if sprinkled with gold dust, backed by the symmetrical, soft sulphur-yellow perianth, presents an unforgettable picture. The entire flower suggests a gged proportionate beauty such as the Greeks loved to express in their masterful sculptures. The length of the stem and the quality of the foliage strengthen the first impression gained from the blooms. A ready forcer, free-flowering, and hardy. 5.00 45.00
- 1220 Sir Francis Drake. Large clear yellow. A very early flowering Daffodil with great merits either as a cut-flower or a show variety. 4.50 40.00
- 1221 Thackery. Golden yellow perianth and trumpet. A larger and much improved King Alfred. Stem long and firm. Single Bulb, $2.50 22.50
- 1222 Tresserve. Robert Sydenham is better, but some like Tresserve. Sulphur yellow perianth and large yellow trumpet. An enormous flower that forces well and is an excellent grower. An exhibition variety. 3.50 30.00
- 1223 Whistler. A carefully selected hybrid of Robert Sydenham, marvelous in size and symmetry. Bold, glistening trumpet of rare beauty, while a perfect perianth serves as a shield to enhance the grace and color of this trumpet. A leading exhibition variety whose merits commend its trial. Single Bulb, $4.00 35.00

Class B—All White.

Varieties with white perianth and with white or near white trumpets, including also the new types with pink and apricot trumpets.

- 1224 Albicans. (Sulphur Trumpet.) This is a delightful variety with a soft snowy white perianth and primrose trumpet. This is not the Albicans Moschatus of Haworth or Snowy White Daffodil of the Spanish Pyrenees, but another quite as charming. 2.50 19.00
- 1225 Imperator. The largest of all the white Trumpets now grown in America, though the English and the Dutch hybridists still have unrevealed treasures in store for us, when a greater appreciation of Daffodils calls them forth. Single Bulb, $2.00 17.50
- 1226 Madame de Graaff. Perianth white, trumpet pale primrose passing to white. Flower both delicate and refined. Its merits have long been proven. 2.00 18.00
- 1227 Mrs. R. O. Backhouse. "The Pink Daffodil". This flower of delicate distinction is most unusual and charming in color. Its flaring perianth of creamy white holds forth a beauteous trumpet, model in form, of clear shell pink, tinged slightly deeper and darker at the edges. Like all the trumpets it nods a very little, and the wonderful pink or apricot hue of the trumpet, together with the partly reflexed perianth, make it a most uncommon and delicious daffodil, a floral gem which collectors must wish to possess. Single Bulb, $50.00
- 1228 Mrs. Betteridge. Beautiful pure white flower with broad imbricated perianth. The trumpet is beautifully fluted. Single Bulb, $1.50 13.50
- 1229 Mrs. Ernest H. Krelage. Broad well closed perianth, long creamy white trumpet with exquisitely recurved mouth. The large flowers are held well erect and possess great substance and lasting character. Single Bulb, $2.00 17.50
- 1230 Mrs. Robert Sydenham. A uniform white, both of perianth and trumpet, will recommend this charming variety to all. Perfect in form, with a perianth of unusually firm texture. Better in many respects than the well-known Madame de Graaff. Single Bulb, $3.00 27.50
- 1231 Mrs. Thompson. A pure white flower, strong of stem and early in bloom. 2.80 25.00
- 1232 Peter Barr. A very enchanting white Daffodil. The perianth is pure white and the trumpet is ivory-white. A large, bold flower of firm texture. The foliage has a bluish green tint which enhances the beauty of the flower. Height 16 inches. 5.00

	Prices,
1233 President Carnot. Very handsome novelty. Creamy white flowers of large size and delightful form.	10	100
	Single Bulb, $2.00	$17.50
1234 Sulphur Beauty. Snowy white perianth with light sulphur yellow trumpet, fading to a near-white. The flowers face well forward and are more resistant than are those of Madame de Graaff. Somewhat difficult of propagation, but well worth all the effort expended.	5.00	45.00
1235 William Goldring. (Swan's Neck Daffodil.) Pale primrose passing off to white. Gracefully drooping flowers of medium size and not overmuch substance, but blooming early and establishing itself in clumps in the border where it displays a charm all its own.	4.50	40.00
1236 W. P. Milner. A miniature white trumpet and perianth, making a charming subject for rockeries. It is easily forced and lends novelty to the home in pans. Establishes itself readily and blooms most generously year after year.	3.00	27.60
Class C—Bicolor.
Varieties with white or whitish perianth, and a yellow, lemon, or pale primrose trumpet.
1237 Acolus. Snowy white perianth, large yellow trumpet, with beautifully recurved brim. Its colors are pure and its dimensions strikingly symmetrical. The flower is slightly tilted upwards so that it may present its full beauty directly to the eye. A giant exhibition variety that closely approaches perfection.
	Single Bulb, $1.35	11.50
1238 America. A large bicolor with fine white trumpet and beautiful white-petaled perianth. Beautiful and novel.	2.30	21.00
1239 Cromwell. Perianth snowy white and trumpet deep yellow. The trumpet is large and broadly terminated. A good variety for forcing and exhibition as well as for garden use.	Single Bulb, $1.35	11.50
1240 Duke of Bedford. White perianth with loose, spreading petals and long, deep yellow trumpet splendidly frilled at its mouth. Very effective and superb for exhibition. Height 16 inches. Midseason bloomer.	4.00	35.00
1241 Empress. White perianth of great substance; trumpet of rich lemon-chrome. Showy for border and naturalizing, and excellent for forcing. Its many good qualities have kept it long in popular favor. Midseason in bloom. Height 16 inches.	1.80	16.00
1242 Fair Bostonian. A bicolor of quite refined appearance, belonging to the "Giant" class, that will be planted in those gardens where the choicest kinds are ever to be found.	6.50	60.00
1243 Glory of Noordwyk. One of the best and most attractive of the Bicolors. Perianth sulphur-white, trumpet chrome-yellow, very long and exquisitely frilled at the brim. Of good size and substance, behaving well when forced, or when grown in the hardy border, or in clumps planted in and about the shrubbery and evergreens. Among the earlier flowering varieties. Height 14 inches.	2.60	24.00
1244 Glory of Sassenheim. An enlarged and improved Victoria (this latter variety we are no longer cataloguing) of pleasing deep yellow hue. The perianth is of snowy white and firm in substance. Bulbs should be planted immediately upon receipt as they do not remain good when long above ground.	2.20	20.00
1245 Grandee. A late blooming sort, rather dwarf in growth, that is especially valuable for succession. Its other qualities are not so outstanding.	1.60	14.00
1246 Horsfieldi. Perianth white, and trumpet of rich yellow. An early bloomer and effective bedder of fair merit.	1.60	14.00
1247 Madame Plomp. A bold, erect, showy flower. The large white petals of the perianth twist gracefully. A very long trumpet of rich golden yellow. Late in the succession of bloom. It stands up well.	2.30	21.00
1248 Princeps Maximus. (Ajax Princeps-Princeps.) Pale sulphur yellow perianth, deep yellow trumpet. An old early-flowering favorite that still holds its place both for indoor and outdoor use.	1.60	14.00
1249 Silver Spur. White perianth and yellow trumpet. A choice variety with particularly pleasing foliage.	2.00	18.00

	Prices,	10	100
1250 Spring Glory. Surpassingly beautiful is this flower when well-forced or well grown. A perianth of clear, sparkling white with long, firm petals. The long and large trumpet, with its reflexed brim, is delightful chrome. A vigorous grower equally adapted to forcing and to garden planting.
	$2.60	$24.00
1251 Vanilla. This is a choice tall-growing and very handsome variety, having a fine bold trumpet of deep yellow and perianth of pale enchanting hue. Flowers with Emperor and is suited as well as is that variety for forcing. It possesses an added charm of a delicate and pleasing odor.		3.00	27.60
1252 Van Waveren's Giant. Perianth primrose and campanulate in form. The bright yellow trumpet has a large open mouth delicately flanged at the brim. Huge flower of vigorous habit and very showy character. It blooms in late midseason and is gracefully carried on a stem about 17 inches tall. The oldest and still one of the best in the "Giant" class.		4.50	40.00
1253 Weardale Perfection. Perianth milk-white with broad overlapping petals. Long trumpet of primrose-yellow, enchantingly frilled at the mouth. A good grower and free bloomer that all will desire.		3.60	34.00

DIVISION II—INCOMPARABILIS

Distinguishing character—Cup or crown measuring not less than one-third, but less than equal, the length of the perianth segments. This division contains among other beauties the largest red-crown varieties.

1254 Artemis. Perianth creamy white, cup dark yellow. Very early.	2.10	19.00
1255 Autocrat. Clear golden yellow, perianth tending to reflex, cup widely expanded at the mouth. Very free flowering and especially well adapted for massed effects in woodlands or in meadow plantings. It is suitable, as well, for forcing in pots and is beautiful as a cut-flower.	2.20	20.00
1256 Bedouin. Broad white perianth, cup fiery orange-scarlet, crinkled at the brim.
Single Bulb, $1.00	8.50
1257 Bernardino. Perianth painted with cream, and the frilled and fluted cup stained deep orange-apricot. A magnificent flower borne on 22 inch stem. A free flowering, good grower that soon establishes fine clumps in the garden. We recommend a generous planting of these beauties.	3.00	27.60
1258 Croesus. Round, imbricated perianth of creamy primrose-yellow with a widely expanded deep red crown. A very fine show variety of great size. A good forcer with a flower of excellent form and great firmness of petals.
Single Bulb, $1.75	15.00
1259 Diademe. Creamy white perianth, very broad yellow crown. A choice companion for Autocrat, Blood Orange, and others in large scale or vista planting.	1.60	14.00
1260 Dosoris. Round pure white perianth, large, flat, orange-red crown. Very striking.
Single Bulb, $1.00	8.50
1261 Frank Miles. One of the finest of the yellow Incomparabilis and particularly good for naturalizing.	2.20	20.00
1262 Gloria Mundi. Yellow star-shaped perianth, widely expanded yellow crown, stained an orange so rich that it approaches scarlet at the edges.	2.40	22.00
1263 Gold Else. Two or three lovely flowers of good size on a long stem. Very early, from the same crossing as The First.	7.00	65.00
1264 Great Warley. Very large, flat, creamy white perianth with overlapping segments. Spreading cup of clear lemon-yellow, beautifully frilled. In size it almost approaches the short trumpets.
Single Bulb, $1.00	8.50
1265 Homespun. Large, rounded, light yellow perianth and rich yellow frilled crown. The dainty overlapping of the petals produces a highly refined and finished appearance. Late midseason in bloom.	2.00	18.00
1266 Lady Margaret Boscawen. A new giant-flowered Incomparabilis with broad snowy white petals and expanded crown of golden yellow.
Single Bulb, $1.00	9.00

- 1267 Loudspeaker. Sulphury white, overlapping perianth, deep orange-red straight cup. Enormous in size yet perfectly proportioned. An outstanding novelty. Single Bulb, $10.00
- 1268 Lucifer. Large, handsome, star-like white perianth. Cup intense glowing red. Splendid for the garden. Early in bloom. In woodlands stretches, nodding above the lush meadow grass, or as a cut-flower for interior decoration, this charming sor is ever cheerful and gay. $1.50 13.00
- 1269 Macebearer. Large creamy white perianth and widening cup of pale yellow banded orange-red. Single Bulb, $1.00 8.50
- 1270 Orange Glow. Yellow perianth segments and orange cup beautifully frilled. Normally four inches across, and under perfect conditions will attain a width of five inches. Perianth, broad and flat. Beauteous beyond compare. Single Bulb, $30.00
- 1271 Queen of Hearts. Superb flower; creamy-white perianth with bright red crown. Single Bulb, $1.00 8.50
- 1272 Red Cross. Cup of yellow and deep orange-scarlet, beautifully frilled and fluted. Perianth of soft yellow, segments overlapping and measuring four inches across. One of the masterpieces of the work of the English hybridizer, Mrs. Backhouse. Height 22 inches. Marvellous show variety. Single Bulb, $85.00
- 1273 Red Star. White, wavy perianth, unusually long red cup. Much superior to Lucifer. Very late in the flowering succession. 3.50 32.00
- 1274 Sir Watkin. (The Giant Welsh Daffodil.) The wide-spreading petals are of delicate primrose yellow, and the bright yellow cup is frequently tinged orange near the mouth. Very large in size and highly prized for cutting. Midseason in bloom. Height 22 inches. Very popular and deservedly so. 1.70 15.00
- 1275 Torch. Long, twisted, narrow petals; bright orange-red crown. Perianth sulphur-yellow. A very choice and novel variety. 2.30 21.00
- 1276 Whitwell. Petals pure creamy white, bold open crown of Imperial Chinese yellow. Excellent for size and texture. A friendly, substantial flower tilted slightly upwards on its 18 inch stem. Recommended for its forcing qualities in bowls or shallow pans, and for the delight and beauty it will add to some corner of the garden. 2.50 23.00
- 1277 Will Scarlet. A cream perianth rather loosely and informally shaped supporting a fine, exquisitely frilled cup, of wonderful orange-scarlet. Splendid for the garden as it holds its color well, and is persistently hardy. Very late. Free flowering and enchanting. 3.00 27.60

DIVISION III—BARRII

Distinguishing character—Cup or crown less than one-third the length of the perianth segments. This division has incorporated the Burbidge type, of which Blood Orange was a prominent member. Here will be found the most brilliant of the red-crowns.

- 1278 Albatross. Large, handsome flower, perianth white, cup pale yellow edged orange-red; delightfully frilled. A very beautiful sort. 2.00 18.00
- 1279 Alcida. One of the best among the new aristocrats. Creamy white perianth, pale yellow cup edged orange-red. The stock is very limited. Single Bulb, $10.00
- 1280 Bath's Flame. Yellow perianth, deep yellow cup with broad edge of orange-red. The petals are very long and give to the flower a distinct and outstanding character. 7.00 65.00
- 1281 Blood Orange. Pale sulphur perianth of overlapping petals, cup orange-red and fluted at its edge. Sometimes called a Yellow Poeticus, but it is much brighter than the flowers of that Division. Unexcelled for naturalizing. 1.40 12.00
- 1282 Bonfire. Very distinct novelty. Perianth cream, with delightful cup of pure rich orange. 10.00 95.00
- 1283 Brilliancy. A grand flower with its deep golden yellow perianth, and large, wide cup edged deepest scarlet. Perianth of distinct star-like form. 8.00 75.00

	Prices,	10	100
1284 Conspicuous. Large, soft yellow perianth, the short, broad cup is edged orange-scarlet. Very free flowering. A reliable variety for naturalizing. As it lasts when cut and placed in water for a longer period than any other Daffodil it is highly prized for interior decoration.		$1.40	$12.00
1285 Diana Kasner. Pure white perianth, with beautiful overlapping petals of unusually firm texture. Supported by these substantial segments is a magnificent cup of chrome-yellow rimmed with red. Very free flowering and a good forcer. One of the very best novelties. Single Bulb, $3.50
1286 Early Surprise. A startling color contrast is here presented in the vivid orange-scarlet and yellow cup resting upon a perianth of faint greenish-white. The segments are long and pointed and held apart. The yellow cup is rather flat yet quite deep and is charmingly fluted and frilled.		2.60	24.00
1287 Firebrand. The combination of creamy white petals and glowing, fluted red cups really suggests live bits of coal resting on inflammable material. A small flower when compared with some of the recent introductions but yielding its place to none for brilliancy of tone. Very free flowering when once established.		1.70	15.60
1288 Firetail. A broad, creamy white perianth of fine texture, the flat crown is of brilliant crimson-scarlet. Flowers face forward on their 18 inch stem. A leader among the exquisite red-crowned, white-petaled varieties. Stocks very limited. Single Bulb, $1.00
1289 King George V. White perianth, cup yellow finely edged scarlet. Sometimes classed as a giant Poeticus.		6.00	55.00
1290 Lady Godiva. A very charming Barrii. Perianth white, cup yellow with bright edge of glowing orange-scarlet.		3.20	27.60
1291 Lady Moore. A startling variety with its almost pure white perianth, and its cup of vivid stripes of orange at the rim and deep chrome-yellow retreating lighter toward the center. Good stem, very free flowering, and easy to force. Very effective in garden plantings.		4.00	37.00
1292 Masterpiece. Creamy white rounded perianth, flattened crown heavily stained with orange-scarlet. The flowers are well poised on the top of the 23 inch stems. Flower perfect in outline and endearing to the Daffodil lover.		2.80	24.00
1293 Miss Willmott. Large firm flower. Snowy perianth and lemon-yellow crown edged bright orange-red. Single Bulb, $3.00
1294 Mrs. Barclay. One of the most outstanding of all the better varieties. Creamy white perianth and deep lemon cup rimmed with orange. Extremely scarce. Single Bulb, $3.00
1295 Nannie Nunn. The fine perianth is of pure cream white, the segments well overlapping. Placed against this shield is a cup of the most vivid orange-scarlet which seems actually to glow and radiate its warmth. Most beautiful and unusual.		5.00	47.60
1296 Red Beacon. A most lovely flower which immediately attracts one by reason of its brilliantly lighted cup. The perianth is ivory-white, broad and firm of substance, slightly shaded sulphur at the base. The cup is prettily fluted and of intense fiery orange-red.		3.50	32.60
1297 Red Chief. White perianth, broad and well imbricated, a bold, flat cup with broad band of bright crimson-scarlet, charmingly frilled at its margin. An excellent exhibition variety.		3.00	26.00
1298 Red Guard. A harmony in apricot and orange. Pale yellow perianth flushed salmon, cup orange-red. Very distinct and certain to enchant you. Single Bulb, $25.00
1299 Seagull. Large, spreading, pure white perianth with canary-yellow cup, edged apricot. Fine for pots or bowls.		2.20	20.00
1300 Sunrise. Perianth white with a broad primrose bar down the center of each petal, and with a much expanded crown, bright orange-yellow rimmed scarlet.		7.50	70.00
1301 Watchfire. An exquisite novelty. Pale sulphur Poeticus-like perianth and dark orange cup. Never can description fail to picture the beauties of a flower less truly than in these magnificent red-crowned Daffodils.		7.50	70.00

DIVISION IV—LEEDSI

Distinguishing character—Perianth white, and cup or crown white, cream, or pale citron, sometimes tinged with pink or apricot. A sub-division into two classes sometimes made on the basis of the relation of the size of the cups to the length of the segments is not necessary in our treatise. These Narcissi are often given the name of Eucharis-Flowered Daffodils because of their dainty shape.

	Prices,
	10	100
1302 Bianca. Pure white almond-shaped segments, and soft canary cup.	$2.30	$21.00
1303 Crystal Queen. (Giant Leeds.) A large flower, often more than 3½ inches across, of great substance, with pale primrose cup passing with age to white. Tall in growth.	4.00	37.00
1304 Duchess of Westminster. Pure white perianth, cup pale canary-yellow, slightly darker at the edges, passing off to ivory white. Large star-like flower of great beauty. One of the best Leeds for exhibition. Flowers in midseason. Height 16 inches.	2.10	19.00
1305 Evangeline. A delightful citron-yellow cup resting on a firm, rounded white perianth. A very free bloomer that is really indispensable in all woodland and naturalized plantings. Height 20 inches.	1.50	13.00
1306 Hera. The pure white perianth segments seem almost joined together so perfect is their overlapping. The pale straw-yellow cup is markedly fluted, and with the slightly green base creates a charming whole. A flower both chaste and alluring.	4.50	42.00
1307 Her Grace. A nicely proportioned perianth of pure white. A giant beautifully frilled cup, that makes this the most outstanding of all the primrose Leeds, rests upon the shield of white.	10.00	95.00
1308 Lord Kitchener. Pure white perianth, very broad and flat and unusually firm in substance. Very large crown of delicate pale primrose, well open at the mouth and exquisitely crimped at the brim. A very choice variety with large flowers. Splendid free flowering habit.	3.00	27.60
1309 Mermaid. Very large flower with well imbricated white, pointed petals and a large, bold crown, delightfully flanged at the month, opening cream and passing off almost white. A charming free flowering variety.	2.30	21.00
1310 Minnie Hume. Large, broad white petals, pale lemon-yellow cup; shading to white at the center.	1.40	12.00
1311 Mrs. Langtry. Broad white perianth; cup opening pale primrose; passing to white. A fine variety to naturalize or to clump in the hardy borders.	1.40	12.00
1312 Phyllida. A giant Leeds with pretty petals of pure white supporting a pale primrose cup.	12.50	110.60
1313 Queen of the North. An extremely lovely flower, having a very broad perianth of pure white overlapping petals. The lemon cup is prettily fluted. Very strong, dwarf stems support this flower making it a superb sort for naturalizing. Produces flowers in great abundance when once established.	1.60	14.00
1314 Salmonetta. Very pretty white with salmon tinted cup. A delightful sort showing the newer development of pink and salmon tones.	3.50	32.00
1315 Silver Star. A star-shaped perianth of snowy white and a pale yellow cup, so very pale that it is sometimes classified as a pure white Leeds. Recommended as a worthy novelty because of its fine form and excellent substance.	7.50	70.00
1316 Sir E. Carson. This is a fine, strong variety with a beautiful and novel shade to commend it. On the glistening white perianth is set a large cup of delightful salmon-rose.	3.50	32.00
1317 Sirdar. Pale sulphur-white perianth, broad massive petals. Large, bold, straight crown of delicate cream deeply frilled and prettily fluted at the mouth. A very tall stemmed variety that is unexcelled for exhibition.	3.50	32.00
1318 Southern Gem. Large lemon-yellow crown, beautiful snowy white perianth. A very floriferous and handsome Leeds suitable for growing in pans and a beautiful exhibition subject. Splendid for its size and firm resistant texture and for strong tall stems.	1.80	16.00

- 1319 St. Olaf. A flower of truly remarkable beauty and size. It measures four inches across. The pure white perianth is well imbricated and supports a delicately fluted crown that is widely flattened out, being as much as an inch and a quarter across. The crown is of delicate cream margined sulphur, and shaded sulphur at the center. $2.30 $21.00
- 1320 White Colossus. A very entrancing new Leedsi of great size and greater beauty. White perianth and primrose crown.
Single Bulb, $5.00
- 1321 White Lady. White, pale canary cup with a delicately pleasing perfume. Extremely hardy and free flowering. Height 22 inches. When the breezes gently stir the flowers in the fields the rows of White Lady look like ripples on a sea of liquid silver. 1.40 12.00
- 1322 White Slave. Broad cup of pale canary, quite heavily frilled. Perianth white. A very charming flower of great merit. 2.50 23.00

DIVISION V—TRIANDUS HYBRIDS

This division embraces all the hybrids which obviously contain N. triandus blood, such as Queen of Spain, Thalia, Agnes Harvey, Cingalee, Moonshine, and other newer sorts. These are often known as the Cyclamen-flowered Daffodils because of their reflexing petals, and perianth. The flowers are more or less drooping, of elegant form, and graceful habit.

- 1323 Aibus. An exquisitely beautiful little species appropriately called the "Angel's Tears" Daffodil. It is of slender growth and produces a cluster of lovely little creamy white flowers with globular cups and petals reflexing as in the Cyclamen. Height 7 inches. As it sometimes requires a year for these bulbs to establish themselves they must consequently be left undisturbed. These bulbs are very scarce. 5.00 47.50
- 1324 Queen of Spain. One of the most beautiful and graceful Daffodils in cultivation commending itself to every possible use, from bedding and pot culture to use in rock gardens or in naturalesque plantings. The flowers vary slightly in size and sometimes in form and trumpet, but all are of a uniform delicate canary-yellow with gracefully reflexing perianth. Stock extremely limited. 5.00 47.50
- 1325 Thalia. An exquisite flower of unusually pleasant appearance, with three or four pure white flowers on a stem. This variety is really in a class of its own and through its resemblance to an Orchid has earned the name of the "Orchid Narcissus." A tall, distinct and charming introduction. Single Bulb, $1.75 15.00

DIVISION VI—CYCLAMINEUS HYBRIDS

Cyclamineus blood, like that of Triandus, imparts such a distinct form to Daffodils, that a separate division has been made for its hybrids, which have trumpets of rich yellow, straight and tube like, and perianths reflexed as in a Cyclamen. All are very early-flowering.

- 1326 Cyclamineus Nanus. This beautiful little Daffodil is the earliest of all, and is a charming flower of distinct form. The trumpet is rich yellow, straight and tube-like, and exquisitely serrated at the mouth, while the perianth is reflexed as in a Cyclamen. Invaluable for rock-work and naturalizing. Should be given a damp sandy peat soil and then left undisturbed so that it may flourish and give its dainty flowers in abundance. Bulbs extremely scarce. 5.00 47.50
- 1327 February Gold. This beautiful golden yellow variety is very free flowering. The trumpet is tinged with orange. Very early, as its name indicates. A novelty that has drawn an unusual amount of attention. Displayed in Seattle this spring. Stock limited. Single Bulb, $1.25 11.50

DIVISION VII—JONQUILLA HYBRIDS

This division includes all varieties of N. Jonquilla parentage, such as Buttercup and the many varieties of Odonus Campernelli. All the members of this group have round or rush-like foliage and are deliciously scented.

- 1328 Buttercup. Flower of very distinct, handsome form borne on a long stem. Color, rich buttercup-yellow. Broad, stiff perianth very slightly reflexing and of the same length as the trumpet, which is straight and of great substance. Very delicately scented. Single Bulb, $1.00 3.00 27.60

	Prices,
1329	Odorus Campernel Giganteus (Giant Campernel.) An enlarged and improved Simplex. Very deep yellow. Beautiful and meritorious.	10	100
1330	Odorus Campernel Regulosus. Single, rich yellow. Sweet-scented and very free flowering. The perianth and cup are both broad and spreading.	$1.80	$16.00
1331	Odorus Campernel Plenus. Double yellow. The true and rare form of the Double Campernel. The flowers are seated on stems two feet high, are quite double and number one to three on a stem. Very handsome rush-like foliage.	1.50	13.00
1332	Odorus Campernel Simplex. Very free-flowering bright yellow. Two to five florets on a stem. The Fragrant Campernel.	2.50	23.00
1333	Odorus Campernel: Golden Sceptre. This is the result of a cross between Campernel (Simplex) and Monarch. Yellow, with a very large golden cup, prettily frilled. Its fragrance tells of its Jonquil parentage but its size is so great that some classify it with the Yellow Trumpets. Only one flower on a stem.	1.50	13.00
1334	Odorus Campernel: Orange Queen. Of larger size and firmer in texture than its parent, the single Campernel. Of that deep Chinese imperial yellow that while not an orange, strongly suggests that shade. Sweetly perfumed.	5.50	52.00
1335	Odorus Campernel: Tullus Hostilus. A fine novelty, bearing two to three large florets upon a stem. Each bulb throws several flower stalks. Deep golden yellow in tone. Highly recommended.	2.20	20.00
	Single Bulb, $1.00	9.00
1336	Odorus Campernel: Twin Sisters. White, sulphur yellow cups. Very pretty and the latest of all the Narcissus to bloom.	1.50	13.00

DIVISION VIII

TAZETTA and TAZETTA HYBRIDS

These are the many-flowered sorts, mostly hybrids, from the Tazetta stock. In Class A are placed the Poetaz group, which is a hardy hybrid of Poeticus and the tender Tazetta or Polyanthus sorts. In Class B are placed Narcissus Tazetta and several related varieties. N. biflorus also belongs in this group.

Class A (Hardy Varieties)

1337	Admiration. Sulphur-yellow perianth; sulphur-yellow eye with scarlet-red border. Sturdy stems bear four to six of these lovely large flowers with their unusually fine texture. Possessed of a delicious jonquil perfume, and the lasting qualities to make it prized as a perfect cut-flower.	3.70	34.00
1338	Alsace. Petals of pure snowy white, yellow eye. A large-flowered variety bearing three pretty blossoms on a stem.	2.00	18.00
1339	Antigone. A very fine pure white perianth of entrancing beauty. Pretty lemon-yellow crown.	1.80	16.00
1340	Aspasia. Pure white perianth with yellow eye. Four to five large flowers on a single stem. Very popular and of proven merit.	1.80	16.00
1341	Bouquet Enorme. A giant Poetaz with both perianth and cup of pure white. Three to five florets upon a stem. Quite unusual.	5.00	45.00
1342	Early Perfection. A very handsome free flowering variety with cup and perianth of clear yellow. An early forcing sort.	2.20	20.00
1343	Elvira. Three to four large flowers of great substance, borne on a long, graceful stem. Broad white petals and a golden yellow cup edged orange. Delicately perfumed. A fine forcer blooming in midseason.	1.80	16.00
1344	Helios. Creamy yellow segments with pure yellow cups. Fine and free in bloom. An early variety that is excellent for cut-flower use. The strong stems bear five to eight large florets.	2.50	23.00
1345	Ideal. Perianth pure white, with a dark orange eye. Three or four florets on a stem. Very easy to flower in pots and charming for the size of the flowers and the striking contrast of its orange eye. Height 18 inches.	2.50	23.00

	Prices,	10	100
1346 Joconde. Pale yellow petaled perianth, deep golden cups. Four to five large flowers on each of the tall stems. An ideal cut-flower and excellent for exhibition.
	$3.60	$34.00
1347 Klondike. Perianth an even tone of pure bright yellow with a bright golden yellow eye. A variety of wonderful vigor and size, producing five to six giant florets on a stem. Early to midseason. Height 18 inches.	2.20	20.00
1348 Laurens Koster. A perianth of pure white with soft yellow eye. The flowers are large and often there are as many as seven upon a single stem. A strong and vigorous grower that is very easy to force in the home. Midseason in succession. Height 18 inches. The favorite of many among the Poetaz, and meriting its favor.	1.60	14.00
1349 Medusa. A delicately formed novelty that has been attracting much attention. This beauty has a large perianth of the purest white with a large, flat scarlet eye.
			Single Bulb, $2.00 18.00
1350 Mignon. White, sharply contrasted by the bright orange-scarlet of the cups. Four to five florets upon a stem. Very striking.	3.50	32.00
1351 Orange Cup. A very handsome variety that is proving its merit. Creamy yellow perianth with orange cup. Very free flowering.	1.80	16.00
1352 Sovereign. Yellow with deeper yellow cup. Five to six lovely florets upon a stem. Quite choice.	1.80	16.00
1353 Triumph. Perianth pure white, fluted golden cup. Enchanting and beautiful.
Class B—(Tender Varieties)
1354 Chinese Sacred Lily. (Tazetta Orientalis.) (Water Fairy Flower-Joss Flower-Flower of the Gods.) This fine Narcissus, so variously called by the celestials, bears in profusion chaste flowers of silvery white with golden yellow cups. It is rapid and luxuriant in growth producing several flower spikes. Planted in water with supporting pebbles they will flower in four to six weeks. The American-grown stock of these favorite winter flowers is now superior to any of the stocks formerly imported from China. We urge you to make greater use of this Narcissus. Indoor culture only, except in the extreme South.	2.00	18.00
1355 Double Roman. (Constantinople.) Large full double flowers with white perianth and orange-yellow cups. These attractive flowers are freely produced in clusters. Very fragrant and as easily grown as the Chinese Sacred Lily. Only in climates south of Charleston, South Carolina, is it safe to plant this out-of-doors.	1.60	14.00
1356 Gloriosa. Cream-yellow with darker yellow eye. Flowers very early and is of good substance. It seems to prefer to grow indoors in pots of earth or bulb fibre rather than in water and pebbles. We now, after some years, offer this again as American-grown stock becomes available.	1.80	16.00
1357 Grand Monarque. This is one of the most sturdy of the Dutch Polyanthus Narcissus. Large clusters of cream-white flowers with canary-yellow centers on stocky stems. Later in flower than Gloriosa, and requiring similar treatment. A really delightful variety for home decoration.	1.80	16.00
1358 Paperwhite Grandiflora. The true large-flowered type that has so long been a favorite for growing in the house for Winter blooming. Pure white petals, and cup equally pure. The American-grown bulbs, to insure satisfaction, will require treatment somewhat different from that given the imported stocks. They should not be planted earlier than the last of October and may, with no harm, be kept without planting until the last of February. If this later planting is observed, they will flower 100% to 150%, but if planted earlier the fact that they are too green will mean the loss of many flowers.	1.50	12.00
1359 Soleil Brilliant. This is a new cross between Polyanthus and Poetaz types, and is proving of great merit. It is much sturdier than Soleil d'Or, with better and dwarfer stems and stands up well under all conditions. The color is the same but the fragrance is more subdued and the florets are much larger. The stocks of this are as yet extremely limited.	4.00	36.00

	Prices,
1360 Soleil d'Or. The dark cluster-flowering Narcissus with its deep orange cup that has been so universally grown for many years. Heavily scented. Unrivalled for growing in the home in pebbles and water.	10	100
	$2.50	$23.00

DIVISION IX—POETICUS

These are the True Poet's Narcissus, possessing a perianth of pure or cream-white and an eye of yellow stained and rimmed with red in varying shades of intensity; among the latest of the Narcissus to bloom.

1361 Cassandra. Clear white perianth, dark red-rimmed crown. Very choice.
1362 Chaucer. Very early in flower. Fine round petals forming a pure white perianth of great beauty. Large, flat, vivid scarlet cup.	2.50	23.00
1363 Dante. Pure white broad petaled perianth. Cup citron-yellow, edged purplish red.	2.30	21.00
1364 Epic. Handsome flower with broad snow-white perianth; eye canary with picotee edge of madder-crimson.	2.50	23.00
1365 Glory of Lisse. An improved Ornatus. Large-flowered and very showy. An early variety that is very well adapted for forcing.	2.50	23.00
1366 Herrick. A very vigorous and sturdy grower, being an improved and enlarged Recurvus.	1.80	16.00
1367 Horace. Pure white perianth, conspicuous red eye. Free flowering and strong stemmed. A bit later in bloom than Glory of Lisse and fine for forcing or exhibition. Tall in growth.	2.00	18.00
1368 King Edward. Large flower with a flat yellow eye and a wire edge of orange-scarlet. Very charming.	1.90	17.00
1369 Laureate. One of the largest Poet's, petals quite fleshy and nicely overlapping; cup broadly edged bright crimson-scarlet. A little later than Horace and not quite so tall. Fine outdoor or show variety.	1.90	17.00
1370 Ornatus. Early, large, round, white petaled flowers. Yellow cup rimmed red. Unexcelled for naturalizing. Forces easily. An old favorite well meriting its popularity.	2.00	18.00
1371 Recurvus. (Pheasant's Eye.) Reflex perianth with red eye. One of the latest to bloom. It is extremely hardy and very free flowering. The parent of many of the hybrids listed here, it still possesses a beauty, and fragrance, and charm all its own.	1.20	10.00
1372 Sonate. A late flowering Poeticus of great refinement. Flat lemon eye with very narrow rim of dark crimson.	1.20	10.00
1373 Thelma. Snowy white perianth, petals overlapping; cup light yellow edged bright crimson. A truly noble flower the superiority of which has made it consistently a prizewinner at the shows.	5.50	52.00
	2.50	23.00

DIVISION X—DOUBLE DAFFODILS

This division includes the double forms of many of the other types among which are the double Incomparabilis, the double Poet's, and the double Poetaz varieties.

1374 Albo Pleno Odorato. (Gardenia-flowered Narcissus.) (Double Poet's Narcissus). Large, double, snowy white flowers possessing the fragrance of orange-blossoms and much prized for cutting. This variety should be planted as early as possible, in a good, deep, cool, not too dry soil. Rather difficult to establish but one that will repay you a hundredfold for your labour when it bursts into the glory of its bloom.	1.80	16.00
1375 Argent. (Double Incomparabilis.) Very pale primrose perianth with a double row of petals; chrome-yellow cup. A fine new Double with a strong stem. Midseason bloomer. Height 14 inches.	2.50	23.00
1376 Cheerfulness. This is one of the finest of the new double Poetaz. Very sturdy and of great substance. Perianth and trumpet of a solid, deep yellow. Stock still limited.	5.00	45.00
1377 Doubleon. Similar in type to Argent. Deep yellow, center shaded orange. Very beautiful flower borne on stiff stems 13 inches tall.	2.20	20.00

	Prices,	10	100
1378 Golden Phoenix. Light yellow, with deep golden center.		$2.30	$21.00
1379 Incomparable. (Butter and Eggs.) The old favorite light yellow. Extremely hardy.		2.30	21.00
1380 Mary Copland. A new creamy white Double with its center suffused with lights of deep orange, and bright red petals. A unique and striking flower that may be highly recommended. Very scarce. Single Bulb, $10.00
1381 Orange Phoenix. (Eggs and Bacon.) Double flowers made up of rows of snowy white petals which seem to be held in place by lacey ribbons of yellow and light orange. An old variety with atractive qualities for garden planting and for table decoration. Midseason bloomer.		2.00	18.00
1382 Perfection. A superb Double Daffodil, golden yellow in color and most symmetrical in form. The perianth as well as the trumpet is double. Choice and very rare. Single Bulb, $1.50		13.50
1383 Primrose Phoenix. A large rose-shaped flower of pretty primrose-yellow, borne on long stems. Very satisfactory.		3.00	27.00
1384 Royal Sovereign. A very beautiful novelty with white and lemon-yellow petals interspersed. Very graceful and lovely. Single Bulb, $3.00
1385 Sulphur Phoenix. (Silver Phoenix.) (Codlins and Cream.) Identical with Orange Phoenix excepting only that the interlacing petals are of pale yellow passing to white. When full-blown this makes a scintillating snow-white flower of splendid form and size. Late bloomer.		2.10	18.00
1386 Twink. Sensational show flower. Creamy yellow and orange, semi-double. The fiery glow lights up the lighter background and immediately attracts one. The stock of this beautiful variety is very limited. Single Bulb, $1.75		16.00
1387 Von Sion. (Telamonius plenus.) Short stemmed, double forcing variety. An old popular variety, the American stock of which has proven rather unreliable, inasmuch as it will bloom perfectly one year, while the next it may become split and have a greenish cast distasteful to some. It is, however, worth your repeated trial, and many find the greenish shade attractive.		2.00	17.00

DIVISION XI—VARIOUS SPECIES

This includes many of the choice and rare species such as M. bulbocodium, N. cyclamineum, N. triandus, N. junehfolius, N. gracilis, N. jonquilla, and others.

1388 Bulbocodium citrinum. (Large Sulphur Hoop Petticoat.) A very beautiful pale citron-yellow flower of dainty and graceful form. It delights in damp, sandy peat soil. These bulbs should be left undisturbed until they have established themselves. The stock of this is extremely limited. Height 7 inches.	4.50	42.60
1389 Bulbocodium conspicuum. Flowers rich golden yellow about an inch wide. The foliage is fine and rush-like. The entire impression is one of petite daintiness. Deep sheltered pockets in the rock garden filled with sandy peat soil will provide an excellent home for this rare species. 6 inches. Bulb stock very limited.	4.50	42.60
1390 Jonquilla Chrysoflora. A very small Jonquil with many flowers on a stem.	1.50	13.00
1391 Jonquilla Flore-Pleno. (The Double Jonquil.) Double rich yellow. Very fragrant.	1.80	16.00
1392 Jonquilla Juncifolius. The "Baby Jonquil." Dwarf, rich, yellow flowers, generally appearing on the stem in balanced pairs.	1.50	13.00
1393 Jonquilla Simplex. (Single Sweet-Scented Jonquil.) Very rich yellow, deliciously perfumed. Three to eight florets on a stem.	1.60	14.00

1398 Trumpet Mixture. All the fine varieties of long Trumpets.	15.00	135.00

THE HYACINTH

Can you picture a field of Hyacinths as they are grown in Holland, a field like a multi-colored checkerboard with the small rectangular beds each of its own enchanting hue and each so still and motionless set with the stiff and formal trusses that like good soldiers yield nothing to any wind that blows? Can you picture one of the old flat-bottomed boats so quietly and peacefully sliding down the canal with its jolly crew of young girls and boys sitting on heaps of the flowers just plucked from the fields and laughingly tossing them at one another in care free abandon? Can you picture a few of these Hyacinths—or many—transferred to your own garden where they will give you enjoyment equal to that of those Dutch youths and maidens?

When you have formed the picture of just how you will use them in your spring garden or what shades you desire for winter blooming in the house, turn to list that follows and there you will find all the choicest varieties in several suitable sizes.

The Novelties are catalogued in two sizes and the standard sorts in four selected sizes. The Exhibition Size presents the largest bulbs that are produced in Holland, requiring five or six years to develop; they are only to be used for winter blooming and as show flowers. The First Size is the best for home forcing, although it may be used for special bedding effects. The Bedding Size are heavy bulbs suited to make the best outdoor display. The Cynthella or Dutch Minatures throw up light graceful spikes like the Roman Hyacinths and are excellent for growing in pans, pots, and boxes; or they may be used to make a pretty border planting.

French Roman Hyacinths

Dainty loosely arranged flowering spikes sent up in great profusion. The fragrance is delightful and their whole effect is most charming. They require pot culture except in the far South and on the Pacific Coast. One of the most satisfactory and beautiful of the winter flowering bulbs and excellent for forcing, and as cut flowers. All varieties of these bulbs are very rare today.

THE CROCUS

"Have you seen my darling babes?" Spring proudly asks, as she gently withdraws the coverlet of snow and discloses to our eager sight her first-born of the year. First a toe at a time they creep out of their bed, and then more quickly into their vernal clothes. But soon are they rollicking and flirting about, playing tag on the hillside with the blustery March winds, and teasing now this visitor and now that—for precocious children that they are, they have many admirers. But there comes a morning when, as we call to pay our daily respects, we find our dear little sprites are gone; for in the night these creatures of Spring, more sentient than we, have felt the balmy breath of May and then must they "fold their tents like Arabs, and as silently steal away."

The Crocus are admirably adapted for borders and beds of varied colors, and are most suitable for carpet-beds; or with them one may make lovely lines and long stretches beneath the trees of the woodland, unique and charming clusters planted irregularly in the grass, or dainty patches of color in the upland meadow of the rockery. A delightful way to grow and enjoy these, more in vogue in Holland and Germany than here, is to grow them in pots or pans planted together with grass seed, forcing them gradually in a cool room.

1812 Vitellinus. (Graevolens.) Deep orange-yellow. Very fragrant and lovely. One of the earliest to bloom.	1.80		16.00

Autumn-Flowering Species

There are all too few bulbous plants that bloom in the late Autumn, so that we may well make up for the paucity of varieties by a liberal planting of these most beautiful Crocus. For the grass, the meadow, and the woodland species of greater beauty can not be imagined, and with little trouble you can convert your own barren spots into patches of brilliant blue, of snowy white, of shimmering gold, or of rosy-lilac as charming and as lovely as the hillsides of Switzerland where these sorts are grown to perfection.

1822 Cancellatus. Deep blue with purple pencilings on the exterior of the petals.	2 20	20 00
1823 Cancellatus Cicilius. Lilac, prettily veined purple at the base.	2.00	18.00
1824 Hyemalis. Striking white flowers with black markings. An unusual sort.	1.50	13.00
1825 Iridiflorus. (Byzantinus.) A native of Eastern Hungary. Large purple outer segments, inner segments pale lilac, lilac anthers. Very handsome and distinct.	2.20	20.00
1826 Longiflorus Melitensis. Soft lilac feathered deep yellow at the base. Anthers yellow, stigmata orange-red. Delicately scented. Fine for shaded locations.	3.00	27.00
1827 Medius. Large goblet-shaped flowers of pure lilac, handsomely veined purple at the base. Stigmata beautiful glowing orange-red. A rare and lovely sort from the neighborhood of Mentone and Spezzia.	2.50	23.00
1828 Nudiflorus. A native of the Asturia Mountains and the Pyrenees. The lovely flowers are clear rich purple.	2.20	20.00
1829 Ochroleucus. Fine soft creamy white, with bright orange base. A chaste and refined species from the mountains of Lebanon.	2.50	23.00

	Prices, 10	100
1830 Pulchellus. Lavender-blue with throat spotted orange and yellow. White anthers. A delightful little species found along the wooded slopes of the Bosphorus.	$4.00	$36.00
1831 Salzmani. A native of Tangiers. This beauty, with its pleasing lilac hue, feathered darker, will bring its mead of joy to the rock gardener. Especially suitable for a moist and shaded spot.	.80	7.00
1832 Salzmani Erectophyllus. A handsome and free flowering sort with flowers of clear purple-lilac. Stigmata and anthers orange-yellow.	1.50	13.00
1833 Sativus. (The Saffron Crocus.) This pretty species winds its trail of beauty from the slopes of Sunny Italy to the cold vales of Kurdistan. Large flowers of purplish lilac, feathered violet. Anthers orange. A beautiful slightly-scented type that is very free flowering.	.60	5.00
1834 Speciosus. Bright violet-blue, prettily veined. Light yellow throat and orange-red anthers. Large showy flowers that are unexcelled for naturalizing in grass and massing in the border, or to plant in groups in the rock garden.	.50	4.00
1835 Speciosus Aitchisonii. Long pointed pale blue flowers with sharp tapering petals. The blossoms are lightly veined with lilac and have a silvery flush on the outer petals. A late-flowering variety both choice and rare.	1.80	16.00
1836 Speciosus Albus. A white counterpart of the last named. Splendid and vigorous in growth. Very rare.	4.50	41.00
1837 Speciosus Artabir. A delightful variety with large pale blue flowers and delicate tracings of darker hue.	1.80	16.00
1838 Speciosus Globosus. A very late-flowering variety of deep dark blue.	1.80	16.00
1839 Speciosus Pollux. Pale violet-blue exterior shaded silvery white. A pleasing new introduction with lovely large flowers.	2.00	18.00
1840 Zonatus. Beautiful large rose-lilac blossoms with yellow center and orange zone. A striking beauty of delightful coloring.	.70	6.00
1841 Mixed Varieties. All these choice sorts in selected mixture.		6.00
	Per Thousand, $55.00

HARDY GARDEN LILIES

To grow perfect Lilies in American gardens is an achievement of which, until recently, few gardeners could boast. But with the stimulation of interest in these magnificent flowers and the accumulation of a large literature upon their requirements and their preferences in our own gardens, it is an achievement in which many may delight in the succeeding years. Horticultural firms have been playing their part by responding to the awakening interest and by going to the far regions of the earth to secure new and rare species and varieties suitable to the gardens of our land.

We wish to present to you our selection of Lilies as offering an almost unlimited range of possibilities for adding new beauty to your garden. Full cultural directions will be sent with each order and withal of moderate or substantial size we will include the very interesting, illuminative, and profusely illustrated book "Consider the Lilies".

Lilium Candidum Ascension or Madonna Lily

We suggest that plantings of this beautiful Lily be made in association with the light blue Delphinium "Belladonna" to realize its greatest beauty. This Lily has long been the favorite of our gardens and was valued as highly by the ancients as by us, in witness of which we have innumerable poems and pieces addressed to this flower, symbol of purity and beauty. We list only the true "North of France" grown stock which is greatly superior to the larger and more loosely arranged bulbs grown in Southern France, and is not subject to the diseases to which is the latter. The delightfully fragrant, pure white flowers with the yellow anthers borne on their tall dark green stems are one of the sights that every garden should boast. These are among the earliest of the Lilies blooming as June melts into July. We are this year offering them in three sizes at very special prices, hoping that you will be able to enjoy their beauty in greater quantities than heretofore.

	Prices, 10	100
1849 Special Stock (Very Scarce). 30-35 cm.	Price, Each, .85	7.00 60.00
1850 Extra Heavy Selected Bulbs. 28-30 cm.	Price, Each, .75	6.00 48.00
1851 Heavy Selected Bulbs. 26-28 cm.	Price, Each, .60	5.00 38.00
1852 First Quality Bulbs. 24-26 cm.	Price, Each, .40	3.00 25.00

Lilium Regale

It has not been many years since the Regal Lily was introduced into our gardens by E. H. Wilson, now of the Arnold Arboretum, but already it has captured the heart and head of all. It is without doubt one of the very finest of all the Lilies in cultivation and its popularity is indeed well deserved. The flower stems are slender and flexible, but tense as steel, growing from 3 to 5 feet tall, covered with dense, narrow foliage, and crowned with a profusion of funnel-shaped blooms, the outside of which are streaked brown shading off to pink, while the inside is flushed yellow at the center, shading off to pure white at the edge. Very fragrant and altogether lovely. Of the greatest hardiness and ease of culture. July-flowering. If you are able to plant but few Lilies let this be among them.

	Prices,	10	100
1853 Extra Heavy Selected Bulbs.	Price, Each, $1.15	$10.00	$97.00
1854 Heavy Selected Bulbs.	Price, Each, 60 cts	5.50	50.00
1855 Strong, Good Flowering Bulbs.	Price, Each, 40 cts	3.50	30.00
1856 Amabile. A rare species from Korean climes. The flowers are large and the petals reflexing. Grenadier-red, freely spotted with black and showing one or two blotches of deep chocolate near the center. Orange anthers. July flowering. Height 3 to 4 feet. Choice Selected Bulbs.	Price, Each, 75 cts	6.50	60.00

Auratum Lilies

Auratum. (Gold Banded Lily of Japan.) Unquestionably one of the finest of all garden lilies, the variety that is grown so extensively in the nurseries of old Japan, or found growing wild on the slopes of Fusi-Yama. Pure white spotted dark brown and red. A distinct gold band coming out of the center of the flower spreads up the middle of the petal. July and August flowering. Height 3½ to 6 feet.
1857 Good Flowering Bulbs. 9-11 in.		13.50	110.00
1858 Selected Flowering Bulbs. 11-13 in.	Price Each, 75 cts	7.00	60.00
1859 Extra Selected Bulbs. 13-15 in.	Price Each, $1.50	5.00	45.00
1860 Auratum: Wild Collected Stock. These are small collected bulbs from the mountain regions of Japan. They are particularly valuable because of the ease with which they establish themselves. They will produce good heads of flowers on strong spikes the first season after planting. Similar to the type in flower.
		5.00	45.00
1861 Auratum Crimson Queen. A hybrid of great merit. Its constitution is strong, and the flower is exceedingly lovely. A broad maroon-red band advances from the throat and spreads over half the center of the flower. Many dots of deep red fleck the white edges, and intensify the color of the band. Deliciously fragrant. July-August. Height 4 feet.
	Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $7.00	60.00
1862 Auratum Pictum. A distinct type showing the usual spots and gold band, though these are less intense in color, but possessing the delightful addition of crimson-tipped petals varying in richness and extent. Quite charming and a delightful novelty for the Lily Garden. July-August. Height 4 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $1.00
		9.50	90.00
Auratum Platyphyllum. (Macranthum.) This is undoubtedly the choicest and the hardiest variety, of grand, sturdy, thriving habit, possessing wonderfully bright and resistant foliage. Broad petals with band of sulphur-yellow, less copiously spotted than the flowers of the type. The spots range in color from gold to brown. The blooms, always large, often exceed twelve inches in length. We have no hesitation in calling it the King of Lilies. August. Height 4 feet.
1863 Extra Selected Flowering Bulbs. 11-13 in	Each, $1.25	11.00	100.00
1864 Selected Flowering Bulbs. 9-11 in.	Each, 75 cts	7.00	60.00
1865 Auratum Platyphyllum: Rubro-Vittatum. A very striking and distinct sort producing a red band down the petal center instead of the customary gold band. Attractively spotted with red. Unusual and beautiful in its clear and positive tones. July-August. Height 3 to 4 feet. Choice Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $3.50
		30.00
1866 Auratum Wittei. This charming sort sports a band of purest gold upon a ground of pure satiny white, and is unmarked with any spots. Anthers, orange-brown. Very fragrant and interesting to use for contrasting with the spotted varieties. Selected Bulbs, Each, $1.00
		9.50	90.00

This splendid catalogue will have over 96 pages and will be most lavishly illustrated with half tones and diagrams of water gardens, Waterlilies, Lotus, and other plants for water and bog gardens, as well as with many excellent fish and aquarium photographs.

The most comprehensive selection of Waterlilies ever offered to the Connoisseur will be here listed at the most reasonable of prices.

The fish fancier, too, will delight in the tremendous variety of his favorites here described.

STAR WATER LILIES, LOTUS, AND WATER POPPIES

Some Advance Offerings

We list here for your convenience a number of choice varieties of Waterlilies in both hardy and tender sorts, night bloomers as well as the day-flowering types. They can be planted immediately and up to mid-July, and you can anticipate your first blooms a month after planting and for a wealth of them from then until frost kills the still developing buds.

Early reservations will insure that you secure the varieties you wish as many stocks are limited. Full cultural instructions will accompany shipments. Add 10 per cent. to the price of all Waterlilies to pay for shipping charges. You can make up your own collections and on all orders for three or more varieties, postage will be prepaid.

Hardy Waterlilies

These are the central features of most Waterlily pools, blooming year after year with great abundance; the attractive flowers float on the water amid the lily pads.

PAUL HARIOT. This has a very popular yellow-orange-apricot color combination and is very attractive. May be grown in tubs or small pools. Each, $1.00

GLORY. This variety is usually called Giortosa and is one of the finest of all hardy lilies, with large blooms of bright red. The most floriferous of all. Each, $5.00

YELLOW MARLIAC. This is the great favorite with its handsome canary-yellow blooms. Each, $2.00

ROSE MARLIAC. A companion variety of attractive deep rose. Free-flowering. Each, $2.50

ROSE AREX. Large, glorious watermelon-pink. Best for large pools; this is one of the most beautiful flowers in existence. Very fragrant. Each, $3.00

STIOUX. Kaleidoscopic color combination of cream and coral. Each, $3.00

AURORA. Delightful small variety changing from lemon-yellow to nasturtium-red. Each, $2.00

JAMES BRYDON. A fine old American variety of brilliant carmine. Each, $3.00

GLADSTONE. A favorite, free-blooming white. Each, $2.00

"AN EXHIBITION OF GIANT NIGHT-BLOOMING WATERLILIES"

Tender Day-Bloomers

These provide the blue color lacking in the hardy varieties, and, standing ten to twelve inches out of the water, are most charming. They will add a note of distinction to your pool.

WM. STONE. One of the most popular violet-blues. Each, $2.00

AUGUST KOCH. This is an attractive variety of the leaf-propagating group in beautiful wisteria-violet. Immense flowers freely produced. Each, $2.50

MRS. G. H. PRING. The first large-flowered white. Each, $2.50

MRS. EDWARDS WHITAKER. The favorite lavender-blue, producing all summer an abundance of the largest flowers. Each, $3.00

BLUE BEAUTY. Deep blue flowers a foot across. Very desirable. Each, $2.50

MRS. C. W. WARD. A most charming variety of rich rose-pink. Each, $2.00

PANAMA-PACIFIC. Unique color of reddish purple, very distinctive and beautiful. One of the leaf propagators. Each, $3.00

ROSE STAR. This is one of the most attractive of the always delightful Star Waterlilies. An abundance of long-stemmed flowers all summer. Each, $2.00

PURPLE STAR. Deepest blue star-shaped flowers. Each, $2.50

RED STAR. Rich red colored flowers produced in great profusion. Each, $3.00

JUPITER. This is the Purple Zanzibar Waterlily and is of the richest blue shades imaginable. Will grow in tubs or small pools. Each, $3.00

Night-Blooming Tender Waterlilies

These offer a touch of the oriental and bizarre to your garden, as well as a touch of entrancing beauty. They rise out of the water on strong, stout stems, first opening about eight o'clock in the evening, remaining open until about eleven of the following day.

BISSET. Very free in flower. Beautiful rose-pink. Immense. Each, $2.50

FRANK TRELEASE. A favorite for its rich crimson color. Each, $2.00

JUNO. This is the improved form of the Sacred White Lotus of the Egyptians. Large flowers in great profusion. Each, $3.00

OMARANA. A choice variety of pink and white; the variegation is very pleasing. It gives a general effect of magenta. Each, $2.00

RUBRA ROSEA. This is the most floriferous of this group. Star-shaped flowers of rosy carmine, until late autumn. Each, $2.00

Backhouse Hybrid Lilies

Brocade. A most effective and very free flowering garden Lily, growing to a height of six feet. Each inflorescence carries a multitude of orange-yellow flowers, overlaid with rosy-pink on the outside and the interior marbled pink with chocolate spots on a yellow ground, with very broad perianth segments. June and July flowering. One of the new and rare hybrid Lilies.

- 1867 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $10.00
 1868 Selected Heavy Bulbs. Price Each, $7.50
 1869 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $4.00

Golden Orb. The fleshy flowers hang pendent at the end of three foot stalks. Light clear straw-yellow with green center, freely and conspicuously spotted with small crimson dots which are darker in color towards the center of the flower. At first the perianth is flat but as the pollen ripens it tend to reflex. The exterior of the flower is ribbed deep golden brown. A hybrid of Martagon and Hansoni parentage. June-July flowering. Height 3-4 feet.

- 1870 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $15.00
 1871 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price Each, $10.00

Mrs. R. O. Backhouse. One of the very best of the several hybrids raised by the late Mrs. Backhouse, receiving an Award of Merit of the Royal Horticultural Society in England in 1921. A tall stately lily growing upwards of five feet in height, bearing from 15 to 20 flowers of an orange-yellow tone, lightly spotted with purple. The general form of this gorgeous lily is somewhat reminiscent of Hansoni, but the petals are wider and stouter and the flower does not reflex to the extent that Liliun Martagon does. June-July flowering.

- 1872 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $10.00
 1873 Selected Heavy Bulbs. Price Each, $5.00
 1874 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price Each, $3.00 28.00

Sceptre. A very vigorous and late-flowering seedling of these beautiful Hybrid types. The stems reach over 6 feet in height, bearing as many as 30 flowers of orange shaded pinky-buff and freely covered with small pink dots. The flowers are distinct in their star-like shape. In every respect a Lily that commends itself to the connoisseur, yet one that as time goes on will commend itself as much to the gardener of more modest dreams.

- 1875 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $10.00
 1876 Selected Heavy Bulbs. Price Each, $7.50
 1877 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00

Sutton Court. A Lily of unusual vigor and strength, exceeding in this respect Mrs. R. O. Backhouse herself. The flowers are slightly smaller, more recurved in form, and heavily spotted with purple, while the exterior of the petal segments is distinctly shaded with pink, and the inner surface with bright and pleasing yellow. The appearance of the whole inflorescence is both distinctive and delightful. June-July flowering. Height 6 to 7 or more feet.

- 1878 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $10.00
 1879 Selected Heavy Bulbs. Price Each, $1.00
 1880 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price Each, $6.00

Seedling Forms. A large number of seedlings have been raised from time to time but are not sufficiently distinct to offer as named varieties. We are therefore grouping them together and offering them in mixtures. They are all of fine distinctive type, strong growing, free-flowering and little if any inferior to the selected named varieties.

- 1881 Strong Flowering Bulbs. Price Each, $3.00 28.00

All these Hybrid Lilies are very distinct and fine, and have been grown with marked success. They are the result of the long work of hybridization carried on by the late Mrs. Backhouse at Hereford, England over a period of more than twenty years.

- 1882 Bakerianum. (Lowi.) A pleasing half-hardy Lily from Burma. The pendulous bell-shaped flowers open greenish yellow and fade to creamy white with spots of red and brown on the inner petal segments. June-July flowering. Height 3 feet. A rare sort that will present some difficulties in growing, but difficulties that are not insurpassable. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $3.00 28.00

- 1883 Batemanniae. A very satisfactory Lily of rich, glowing apricot. The petals are unspotted. Four or five flowers are borne in a graceful umbel. Easy to grow under all conditions and in all locations. July-August flowering. Height 3 feet. Selected Bulbs, Each, 50 cts $4.50 $42.00
- Bolanderi. One of the rarest of the Lilies. Slender stems bearing three or four dainty bell-shaped flowers of deep crimson-red, dotted purple. July-August flowering. Height 2 to 3 feet. One of the most beautiful of the California Lilies.
- 1884 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $1.25 11.00 100.00
- 1885 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
- Brownii Odorum. (The True Type.) One of the finest Lilies in cultivation. Immense trumpet-shaped flowers, inside pure white set off by brown anthers; veined outside with deep purplish maroon and dark reddish brown. The flowers are fragrant and the plant is vigorous with stout, leafy stalks bearing the beautiful blooms. June-July flowering. Height 3 to 4 feet.
- 1886 Specimen Bulbs. Price Each, $1.00 37.50
- 1887 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $3.00 28.00
- 1888 Bulbiferum. A Lily rather closely related to Umbellatum but showing certain characteristics of the Tiger Lily. Like the latter it bears bulbils or little bulblets in the leaf axils. The prevailing shade is yellow-orange, the tips of each petal being slightly flushed flame-red. There is, however, some variation in color as some types are almost entirely red. June flowering. Height 2 feet. The flowers are borne in umbels of three or four. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
- Canadense. Dainty, beautiful native Lily. The wild meadow Lily of all the Eastern United States and Canada. The type shows a variation of coloring ranging from yellow through orange to red, and all of them are spotted, very densely near the center, purplish brown. June-July flowering. Height 4 to 6 feet.
- 1889 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 38.00
- 1890 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.00 27.00
- Canadense Flavum. A fixed variety with attractive soft yellow flowers, black spotted. Anthers are deep maroon. Borne on individual stems. 5 feet in height.
- 1891 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 38.00
- 1892 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.00 27.00
- Canadense Rubrum. A selected red sort of the type that shows many black spots and usually has a narrow darker red, flame running up the center of the petals. Foliage attractive. The trumpet-shaped flowers sometimes hang pendant, and sometimes stare straight at you in their bold beauty.
- 1893 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 38.00
- 1894 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.00 27.00
- 1895 Candidum Speciosum. A very rare and distinct form which is seldom found in cultivation, but is to be found in Salonika. It flowers some ten or twelve days later than the type and the flower stems are black. A very interesting variety that invariably blooms well. Grows 6 feet high and produce 20 to 30 flowers on each stem. Very vigorous. This stock grown in England is exceedingly healthy and free of all disease. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.75 16.00 150.00
- 1896 Callosum. A late-flowering Lily of easy cultivation. Its numerous flowers, Turk's Cap in shape, are orange-red in color but unspotted. Discovered some time ago in the Yangtse gorges, but still rare in American gardens. August-September flowering. Height 2 to 3 feet. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
- 1897 Carolinarum. A showy Lily with slender stems, bearing reflexed, orange-red flowers, spotted maroon. A dainty related form of Lilium Superbum. Its fragrance is particularly pleasant. July-August flowering. Height 3 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00

- Centifolium. This is a giant among Lilies, standing over 8 feet tall and producing 10 to 15 long, tubular white flowers, streaked externally with brown and flushed internally with yellow at the base of the flowers. It resembles a giant Lilium Sulphureum or Browni. Found by the late Mr. Reginald Farrer in a cabbage patch in China, it also bears the name of Farrer's No. 316 or Leucanthum Chloraster. Perfectly hardy. Flowers in July. Price, Each, $15.00
- 1898 Specimen Bulbs.
 1899 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $5.00 $47.50
- 1900 Cernuum. A rare and beautiful new species from Northeast China and Korea. The habit and growth is similar to Tenuifolium, but with much longer and more numerous grassy leaves. It bears 1 to 6 nodding lilac-coloured Turk's Cap flowers more or less spotted wine-purple. The anthers are lilac. Deliciously fragrant are these blooms borne on their stiff slender stem, and well suited to bear the vagaries of our climate. June-July flowering. Height 2 feet. Price, Each, 85 cts 7.50 70.00
- Chalcedonicum. (The old scarlet Martagon or "Turk's Cap.") Nothing is more lovely late in July than a clump of this lily in flower, with its slender stems, each bearing from 5 to 8 flowers of an intense scarlet hue. The bulbs of the true type coming from Greece are rather scarce but we have a limited supply. This is among those Lilies that sometimes require a year to establish themselves. Height 3 to 4 feet.
- 1901 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.50 22.50 200.00
 1902 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.00 17.50 160.00
- 1903 Chalcedonicum Heldreichi. An improved form with its color shading paler on the exterior of the recurved petal segments. June-July flowering. Height 4 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $3.50 32.50
- 1904 Chalcedonicum Maculatum. We believe this to be the rare variety mentioned in Parkinson's "Paradisi in sole Paradisus Terrestris." It grows as tall as Lilium Testaceum, and produces large broad-petalled flowers of a rich dark scarlet, spotted with black at the base of the petals. It is very strong and hardy and much superior to the type. June-July flowering. Height 4 to 5 feet. Price, Each, $5.00 47.50
- Columbianum. This is like a miniature Lilium Humbolti. Bright golden yellow, spotted maroon. A native of the state of Oregon, it is perfectly hardy, and easy to grow. The flowers are turban-shaped. July flowering. Height 2 to 3 feet.
- 1905 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00
 1906 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00
- 1907 Concolor. A lovely miniature Lily from Central China, growing from 1 to 2 feet high, with 1 to 10 erect star-shaped flowers in loose umbels. Glossy fiery scarlet blooms 2½ to 3 inches in diameter. Slightly fragrant. A splendid sort to use in Rock Gardens where its dainty beauty may be shown to advantage. June-July flowering. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00
- 1908 Concolor: Coridion. A handsome form from Mongolia with beautiful citron-yellow flowers spotted with purplish-brown. Very distinct and appealing. July flowering. 1 to 2 feet. Selected Bulbs, 50 cts 4.50 40.00
- 1909 Concolor: Dropmore. This lovely variety appears to be more vigorous than the type, and produces as many as three flowering stems from the same bulb. These stems reach a height of 18 to 24 inches, with as many as 4 brilliant orange-scarlet flowers. June-July. Price, Each, $1.00 9.50 90.00
- 1910 Concolor: Pulchellum. A deep crimson form of much the same habit as Concolor. June-July. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00
- 1911 Cordifolium. An odd Japanese Lily recalling L. Giganteum Himalaicum, although of smaller proportions. Attractive, large and broad leaves, unfolding crimson in color and changing to a lustrous green burnished bright copper. The flowers are of funnel-shape, slightly fragrant, and in color milk-white tinted with green at the base. July. Height 3 to 5 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 85 cts 7.50 70.00
- 1912 Croceum. Bright upright flowers of mottled orange color. A robust grower with strong stems bearing the flowers in umbels of five or more. Very hardy and easy to grow. June-July. Height 3 feet. Price, Each, 90 cts 8.00 75.00

- 1913 Davidi. A comparatively new Chinese Lily with deep cinnabar-red Tiger Lily-like flowers and graceful, narrow foliage. It is absolutely hardy and will be an invaluable addition to every Lily Garden. July. Height 5 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 75 cts $6.50 $60.00
- 1914 Davuricum. (Dauricum.) A very pretty Lily from Kamtchatka and the colder parts of North-East Africa. The open vase-shaped flowers are bright red shading yellow at the base, more or less spotted with black, and borne in umbels of 3 to 6 on a stem 3-5 feet tall. Selected Bulbs Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00

Elegans Lilies

In forms and varieties they are without number, varying in color from pale lemon-yellow to rich orange-brown, embracing various tints of orange to near-red and from soft apricot to an approach to crimson. They are all very hardy good border Lilies and especially fine for the rock-garden or for naturalizing. A selection of varieties will give you a long blooming season.

- E. Alice Wilson. A very dwarf variety, of a lemon-yellow color, shading darker at the center.
- 1915 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
1916 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 65 cts 5.50 50.00
- E. Atrosanguineum. (Van Houttei.) Best of the dark red types, showing deep crimson in the center.
- 1917 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
1918 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 45 cts 4.00 35.00
- 1919 E. Bicolor. Petals marbled and flaked with varying shades of chrome-orange, tangerine and terra-cotta. The midrib of each petal is lighter orange, while the pollen is a decided Indian red. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 35 cts 3.00 25.00
- 1920 E. Leonard Joerg. A very fine shading of apricot, with darker tints on the margins of the petals. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00
- 1921 E. Mahony. A deep, rich mahogany-crimson, with darker veinings at the center of the petals. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $1.00 9.00 80.00
- 1922 E. Marmoratum. Striking chrome-orange, suffused lighter orange near the petal tips. Dark spots of terra-cotta at the center. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00
- 1923 E. Peter Barr. An immense yellow flower with orange shadings. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
- 1924 E. Prince of Orange. A brilliant shade of orange, with a distinctive apricot suffusion. Petals heavily spotted with burnt orange toward the center. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00
- Elegans Lilies in splendid mixture. All shades and colors.
- 1925 Specimen Bulbs. 4.00 38.00
1926 Good Flowering Bulbs. 2.50 22.00
- 1927 Farreri. (Duchartrei.) A beautiful species found in Yunnan by the late Mr. Reginald Farrer on his first expedition to China, and frequently referred to in his writings as "the Marble Martagon Lily". It is a slender and graceful Lily, reaching a height of 2 to 3 feet, bearing on long pedicels as many as five recurved white flowers slightly spotted purple on the interior. It is very strong and hardy and increases with great rapidity. July flowering. Selected Bulbs, Each, $3.00 47.50
- Giganteum Himalaicum. The noblest of the Lilies. Native to the Himalayas. When well established will grow 10 to 14 feet high, bearing 10 to 20 tubular white flowers streaked inside with red-purple. Very handsome foliage. Quite hardy and especially adapted to woodland planting. July-August flowering.
- 1928 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $5.00 47.50
1929 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $3.50 32.50
- 1930 Grayi. A beautiful native species from the Great Smoky Mountains of Virginia, North Carolina, and Tennessee, bearing small, dainty, rich red flowers spotted maroon. The bell-shaped flowers are carried on tall, branching stems and the whole aspect of the plant is of exquisite grace. July flowering. 4 feet in height. Selected Bulbs, 40 cts 3.50 30.00

Hansonii. (Maculatum.) A handsome and easily-grown Lily from Korea and Japan. It bears 6 to 12 fragrant nodding flowers of massive substance coloured bright golden-yellow and spotted with brown. The foliage is attractively borne on whorls. June-July flowering. 3 to 5 feet in height.

1931 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 $9.50 $90.00
 1932 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

Henryi. This is often called the Orange Speciosum. A Lily of hardy constitution, of free-flowering tendencies and of general worthiness. The flowers are of a rich, deep orange-yellow, very telling in effect and well set off by deep green foliage. August-September flowering. 6 to 8 feet.

1933 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.75 16.00 150.00
 1934 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25 10.00 95.00

1935 Horsfordi. A beautiful hybrid resulting from a cross made by the late F. H. Horsford of Vermont, between Lilium Maximowiczii and Lilium Batemanniae, retaining the robust constitution of the former and the delicate apricot colouring of the latter. July-August. 3 to 4 feet tall. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $1.50 14.50

Humbolti. A grand Lily, growing as tall as ten feet, but usually 4 to 5 feet high, with very stout stems and many large orange-red flowers, spotted with small maroon spots. A native of our Western Coast. June-July.

1936 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
 1937 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00

Humbolti; Magnificum. When well established this species will reach a height of six or more feet. It differs from the preceding in having darker foliage and in the spots on the flowers, each of which is surrounded by a circle of crimson. It is a splendid grower and will captivate your heart. June-July.

1938 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 9.00 85.00
 1939 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00

1940 Humbolti; Bloomerianum. A miniature edition of Lilium Humbolti. Its stems are shorter and the flowers smaller. June-July flowering. Height 3 to 4 feet. Sometimes known as Bloomerianum. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

1941 Japonicum. (Krameri.) One of the few pink Lilies. A beautiful Lily quite unique in the point of color, having large trumpet flowers of a clear soft rose-pink, occasionally paler, borne one to five on a stem. June-July. 3-4 feet in height. Selected Bulbs, Each, 70 cts 6.00 55.00

1942 Japonicum Alexandrae. Very rare variety, considered by some as belonging to the Longiflorum species rather than the Japonicum. It is of dwarf growth, with flowers as large as Lilium Auratum, pure white, with a shading of green gold at the base, widely expanded and of great substance. A very beautiful sort with a faint and exquisite perfume. June-July flowering. Height 2 feet. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

Kelloggi. A rare and beautiful Lily, growing 2 or 3 feet high, bearing closely recurved pink flowers like those of the Turk's Cap Lily. Very graceful and fragrant. July flowering.

1943 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.00 18.00 175.00
 1944 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25 11.50 105.00

1945 Leichtlini. Another beautiful Japanese Lily, with slender stems and long, narrow leaves. The flowers are like Lilium Tigrinum in shape, but the color is pale yellow with purple spots. July-August. Height 3-4 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

Longiflorum Multiflorum. This beautiful, pure white Lily is similar to the Easter Lily of commerce and is a delightful acquisition to every garden. Although not supposed to be entirely hardy, no trouble will be experienced in wintering it without protection south of Philadelphia. July. Height 3 feet.

1946 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
 1947 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00

1948 Longiflorum Albo Marginatum. A very decorative form of the old type, the foliage having a distinct white margin on the edge of each leaf, giving it the appearance of a Draceana. July. 2½ feet in height. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 9.00 85.00

- 1949 Marhan. A lovely hybrid between Lilium Martagon Album and Lilium Hansonii, with the habit and shape of the former and the characteristic thick petals of Hansonii. The color is orange with red-brown spots and streaks. A vigorous grower of great beauty. June-July. Height 4 to 5 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $2.00 $18.50
- Maritimum. A rare Lily from the bogs of the coastal portion of Mendocino County, California. It is related to Lilium Parvum, but has the deepest crimson-colored flowers lightly dotted about the throat. The foliage is deep green. The flowers are numerous and bell-shaped. July. 3 feet tall.
- 1950 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
- 1951 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
- 1952 Martagon. (The Purple Martagon—Turk's Cap Lily.) A very old Lily to be found in many English gardens. When well established it will rival Lilium Henryi in growth and will bear as many as thirty purple wax-like flowers. June flowering. Height 4 to 5 feet. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00
- Martagon: Album. (White Turk's Cap Lily.) A most beautiful variety of Martagon, bearing numerous clusters of waxy-white flowers. An excellent Lily to be planted with ferns in partial shade. June. Height 4 to 5 feet.
- 1953 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.75 15.00 145.00
- 1954 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.15 10.00 90.00
- Martagon: Dalmaticum. One of the most notable and handsome Lilies in cultivation, growing even stronger than the type, reaching 5 to 6 feet in height, and bearing fine spikes with from 10 to 50 dark, recurving, bell-shaped flowers varying in color from wine-red to deep glossy purple. Very scarce. June-July.
- 1955 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 37.50
- 1956 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.50 22.50
- 1957 Martagon Dalmaticum Catanac. A beautiful and remarkable form of Dalmaticum with flowers of the deepest glossy purple-crimson, sometimes nearly black. June-July. 4 to 5 feet. Very rare. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 37.50
- 1958 Maximowiczii: Reddish Yellow. (Leichtlini.) This is a later blooming species than most of the red or yellow kinds and stronger than the yellow variety. 4 feet. October. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00
- 1959 Maximowiczii: Red. (Leichtlini.) A fine Japanese Lily of slender and graceful growth, bearing six to eight flowers of a vivid orange-red color, with dark spots. An easy grower, blooming during July and August. 4 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
- 1960 Medcoloides. (The Wheel Lily.) Its popular name is derived from the whorl of foliage below the flower stem. The flowers are of Martagon shape, but not more than three or four are borne on a stem. The color is scarlet with apricot shadings and sometimes is spotted with black. June flowering. Height 18 inches. Selected Bulbs, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00
- Monadelphium Szovitzianum. (Colchicum.) A wonderful Lily from the Russian Caucasus. When well established it will reach a height of 5 to 6 feet with stout stems bearing as many as thirty drooping fragrant flowers, in color a deep straw spotted black, anthers orange, and tipped wine at the base. June.
- 1961 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.00 17.50 165.00
- 1962 Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.50 14.00 135.00
- 1963 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25 11.00 100.00
- Neilgherrense. This magnificent Lily is the most southern species of the genus, coming from the Nilghiri Hills in Southern India. It is not hardy north of Virginia but when grown in a cool greenhouse it will open its long fragrant trumpet-shaped flowers to perfection displaying the flushed yellow of the interior. The outside is of attractive creamy-white. The trumpets are very large, sometimes exceeding twelve inches in length. August-September. 3 to 4 feet tall.
- 1964 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $3.75 35.00
- 1965 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.00 18.00 175.00

Nepalense. (Ochraceum.) A rare and beautiful Lily from Upper Burma. The ground color of the flowers varies from deep golden to pale yellow, stained in varying degrees with deep wine-purple. The petals recurve as in Lilium Martagon, but this characteristic is not constant. Not hardy except in the far South, but it makes an excellent subject for a cool greenhouse. There is great variation in the species but all of the forms are extremely beautiful. August to October. Height 5 to 8 feet.

1966 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $3.25 30.00
1967 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.50 22.50

1968 Parda-bolti. Considered to be a cross between L. pardalinum and L. humboldi; selected from among the many hybrid Lilies raised by the late Luther Burbank. It is free in growth, with a strong constitution increases rapidly. The strong four foot stems bear many orange recurring flowers of good size, in shape midway between the two parents. July flowering. Very scarce. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $2.50 22.50

Pardalinum. (P. Californicum.) This is one of the best Lilies for the garden. The stout stems are very leafy and from 3 to 6 feet high bearing many large and showy flowers, richly colored with orange centers and crimson tips, heavily spotted near the center. July.

1969 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

1977 Parvum. A charming little Lily, which, under favorable treatment, grows 5 to 6 feet high, with many small bell-shaped flowers. It is orange at the center and crimson at the tips. This is from the sub-alpine sections about Lake Tahoe, California. July. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 70 cts 6.00 55.00

1978 Parvum Luteum. A taller variety than the type bearing clear yellow flowers, beautifully spotted. Selected Bulbs, Each 70 cts 6.00 55.00

1979 Philadelphicum. A rather small, pretty Lily bearing 2 to 5 cup-shaped brilliant orange flowers, deepening to orange-scarlet at the tips of the petals and the whole bloom richly spotted with maroon. A native of North America and found from North Carolina to Colorado and in the region north as far as Saskatchewan. June-July. Height 2 to 3 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 40 cts 3.50 30.00

Philippinense. A very beautiful Lily for the cool greenhouse or or suitable for open plantings in the South. It bears on each slender leafy stem a solitary, long, white, beautifully shaped flower. Very fragrant. Quite easily grown and strongly recommended.

1980 Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25 11.00 100.00
1981 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 85 cts 8.00 75.00

1982 Philippinense Formosanum. A distinct Lily of refined and graceful appearance with long grassy foliage and exquisitely shaped, long, wide-mouthed trumpet flowers of the purest white, often externally tinged with reddish brown, but this coloration fades as the bloom matures. It is very fragrant and most charming. It requires protection when planted out-of-doors. July. Height 2 to 3 feet. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25 11.00 100.00

- 1983 Pomponium. The true type. A graceful Martagon Lily from North Italy, growing 3 feet high with as many as 10 turban-shaped flowers of a brilliant wax-like scarlet. Slender, grassy foliage. A truly beautiful sort that is all too rarely seen. June. Selected Bulbs, Each, $2.00 $18.00 $175.00
- 1984 Primulinum. A species related to Lilium Nepalense and possessing the same soft primrose coloring but without any spots or blotches of other coloring. It requires the same treatment as it is only half-hardy. September-October. Height 5 to 6 ft. Selected Bulbs, Each, $2.50 22.50
- Princeps. A hybrid resulting from a crossing of Lilium Sargentiae with Lilium regale. It is really a glorified Regal Lily with much the same color, somewhat larger flowers, and a stouter stem. Vigorous in growth, and flowering two to three weeks later than L. regale.
- 1985 Specially Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $12.00 78.00
1986 Strong Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $8.00
- 1987 Pyrenaicum Aureum. (The Yellow Turk's Cap Lily.) Very early, with many small greenish yellow flowers spotted brown and black, and bright red spots. Fragrant. May-June. Height 2 to 3 feet. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.15 10.00 95.00
- 1988 Pyrenaicum Rubrum. A counterpart of the above with flowers of orange-scarlet, spotted maroon. Foliage very attractive. May-June. Height 2 feet. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, $1.75 15.00 145.00
- Roelzi. A rare Californian Lily allied to Pardalinum and sometimes listed as a variety of this species. It grows from two to three feet in height with slender stem, and crowded leaves, both long and narrow. The closely revolute perianth is a clear reddish orange, dotted maroon. These flowers are borne in a raceme of some five to ten flowers. The flowers tend to vary somewhat so that now and again we find a yellow dotted purple. A fine Lily of great beauty that should be more commonly used. June-July. Height 3 to 4 feet.
- 1989 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 9.00 85.00
1990 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.00 45.00
- 1991 Roelzi Crimson. This is like the type but the flowers are a deep blood-red, lightly spotted maroon. With its long and slender stem this Lily is always admired. Selected Bulbs, Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
- 1992 Rubellum. A beautiful Japanese alpine species, somewhat like a small Lilium Japonicum, but with a much better constitution. It flowers very early, sometimes in late May, bearing one to four flowers of a beautiful rosy pink both inside and out, anthers orange-yellow. Sweet-scented. A delightful acquisition to the garden. Should be given the protection of deciduous shrubs. June. Height 1½ to 2 feet. Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
- Rubescens. This beautiful and distinct Lily is allied to Lilium Washingtonianum, having tall slender stalks and exquisitely fragrant flowers of tubular shape. In opening they are white, dotted purple, but ageing they turn to deeper purple. All colors from white to purple will be seen on the same stalk giving a most unusual effect. June-July. Height 3 to 5 feet.
- 1993 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 9.00 85.00
1994 Selected Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
1995 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 35.00
- Sargentiae. This is a magnificent Lily that is among the very best and in the flower succession makes an excellent sort to follow Lilium Regale, flowering some two or three weeks later. The flowers are funnel-shaped, milk-white internally but for its golden yellow throat, and externally a deep reddish brown. It is very floriferous, strong in growth and sweetly fragrant. Height 3 to 5 feet. July to August. 18.00 175.00
- 1996 Extra Strong Bulbs. Price, Each, $2.00 11.50 110.00
1997 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.25
- Sinensis Pluratum. A new variety closely resembling Longiflorum Multiflorum in the individual flowers, but more graceful in appearance. The bulbs produce three or four stems bearing numerous large, trumpet-shaped flowers giving the plant a bushy appearance. White flowers with the exterior brushed greenish brown. Although it is hardy in the vicinity of New York it is not a good Lily for planting there. One of the very finest of all Lilies for the Southern gardens. 9.00 85.00
- 1998 Specimen Bulbs. Price, Each, $1.00 7.00 65.00
1999 Good Flowering Bulbs. Price, Each, 75 cts

Speciosum Lilies

These Lilies, originating in Korea, have become, and deservedly, one of the grandest favorites as a border plant. They are of charming as well as of beautiful form. The petals are well rolled back and are distinctively spotted, and often stamped with blotches of positive color. The style is thrown out in a curved line of great grace and strength, while the stamens boldly diverge from it. The anthers are conspicuous for their size and color and extremely delicate form. The strongly waved outline and lace-like edges of the petals add to their beauty. They are possessed of excellent foliage and are very vigorous, flowering through the late Summer into the Autumn. All are of easy cultivation, and suitable for forcing or conservatory planting.

2000	Speciosum; Album Kraetzeri. The beautiful snow-white flowers have a golden-green stripe down the center of each petal and anthers of coppery hue. Both in the form of its flowers and the habit of its growth, this is one of the most delightful Lilies we possess. Height 3 to 5 ft. August flowering. The true type of which we offer stock is very scarce. Selected Bulbs.	Price, Each, $1.75
			$15.00	$145.00
	Speciosum; Album Novum. A pure white variety with a shading of green through the basal center of each petal. Yellow anthers. A good grower but not as vigorous as the Rubrum type. August-September. Height 3 to 5 feet.
2001	Specimen Bulbs.	Price, Each, $1.15	10.00	95.00
2002	Good Flowering Bulbs.	Price, Each, 65 cts	6.00	55.00
	Speciosum; Magnificum. The stems are very stout, the leaves dark green, the flowers massive, fully 8 inches across the petals, colored rich ruby-carmine, margined white, firm of substance and broad of petal. This variety is by far the most magnificent in color, form, and size of all the Speciosum Lilies. Although it is closely allied to Melpomene, it flowers earlier and is richer in color. August-September. Height 4-5 feet.
2003	Specimen Bulbs.	Price, Each, $1.75
2004	Selected Bulbs.	Price, Each, $1.25	16.00	150.00

Convallaria Majalis

- 2125 Lily of the Valley Pips. For forcing. We offer only the very best strain for forcing knowing well that our clients desire the best even though its cost is slightly higher than inferior strains. These crowns produce strong spikes of flowers, about 15 inches in height, bearing from 12 to 20 extra-large, pure white bells, delightful for their fragrance and daintiness. Delivery of fresh stock is made in November but we always have on hand these forcing pips in cold storage. Case of 250, $21.00; Case of 500, $10.00; Case of 1000, $70.00.

BULBS THAT BEAUTIFY

In the extended selections that follow we present an almost endless number of plants whose propagation is mainly by bulbs, tubers, corms, dried roots, fleshy roots, rhizomes, underground stems, and whatnot. They represent the work both of the indomitable plant collectors who have mounted to the eaves of the world—the Himalaya Mountains—and who have traversed the South African veldt, of those who have combed our own Pacific coast, and who have pierced the hidden valleys of the Andes, all in search of new and rare floral treasures to bring to beautify our gardens. They also represent the work of the patient and untiring hybridist and horticulturist from whose field laboratories have come many a fine gem for gardens other than their own.

Each of the many kinds will bring their portion of beauty and distinction to your garden, and their portion of joy and pleasure to you who grow them, feed them, and nurse them, when you contemplate them in solitude, or when you proudly display them to admiring friends.

Designations of the hardiness of the plants and their general use have been made in the descriptions, but care and protection, and your ingenuity will enable you to grow some sorts usually thought difficult and will suggest to you other uses for them. We shall send to you with each order special instructions, indicating the particular culture and care of each species and variety requires, or with which each will grow to greatest perfection. A careful observance of these directions will enable you to flower all the species and varieties catalogued with a modicum of work and trouble.

ACHIMENES

Profuse-blooming tender perennials for Summer-flowering. South of New York State they may be grown out-of-doors. They are particularly fine for planting in tubs and barrels, in which the scaly tubers may be placed. Excellent for conservatory and greenhouse blooming. These fine new varieties have been raised by a noted hybridizer and far surpass many of the older varieties in size and beauty of bloom. The plants are very vigorous in growth and exceedingly free-flowering.

2156 Purple King. A good rich purple.	3.00	25.00
2157 Supreme. Mammoth light blue flowers with white eye.	3.00	25.00
2158 Swanson. Mauve, mottled blue, with a white throat.	3.00	25.00
2159 Superior Assortment. These fine varieties in mixture.	2.50	20.00
2170 ACIDENTHERA—Bicolor. A valuable bulbous plant for the greenhouse or for Summer planting in open ground. Each flower-stalk produces from four to eight widely expanded fragrant flowers of creamy-white color with broad violet-maroon blotches. The flowers are very lasting and are borne on long stems. Treat like Gladiolus . Single Bulb, 35 cts	3.00	25.00

AGAPANTHUS

—African Lily—

2180 Umbellatus. (Blue Lily of the Nile.) A handsome Summer and Autumn flowering plant which throws up large flower stalks 2 to 5 feet in height, bearing numerous bright blue flowers in clusters, and continuing in bloom over a long period. They should be grown in tubs and are excellent either for terrace and outdoor decoration, or for conservatory and greenhouse bloom. Single Bulb, 75 cts	7.00	65.00
2181 Established plants in tubs, $4.00; $5.00; $10.00; $15.00; $25.00; and $50.00
2187 Alba. A white flowered counterpart. Chaste and lovely. Single Bulb, 75 cts	7.00	65.00

ALLIUM

—Wild Onion—

A very large family of bulbous plants including not only these ornamental and comparatively rare sorts, but also the better known onion and garlic of our vegetable gardens. A clump of a dozen or more of these bulbs in the border make beautiful patches of color; once planted require no further care, and for this reason are well adapted to naturalizing. Many of the sorts will find a happy home in the rock-garden. All bear their flowers in large clusters while many are of very imposing appearance.

2200 Accuminatum. Native. Upright heads of bright red flowers. Height 10 to 12 inches.	1.50	12.00
---	------	-------

	Prices,	10	100
2201 Cernuum. Native. Wide flat foliage and nodding heads of clear pink flowers. A fine species for planting in rock-gardens. Height 10 to 12 inches.	$1.50		$12 00
2202 Cyanium. A dwarf form with pendant heads of light blue opening in May and June. Excellent in the rock-garden.	3.50		30.00
2203 Deserticola. (Desert Onion.) The largest flowered of our native Alliums with narrow foliage and an 8 inches stem bearing a large umbel of white flowers, each petal marked with a dark midrib. Blooms in early Spring.	1.50		12.00
2204 Flavam. Yellow flowers borne in umbels from July to late August. Height 8 to 10 inches.	2.00		17.00
2205 Helleri. Crimson-pink flowers in flat umbels in early Spring.	2.50		22.00
2206 Karataviense. Handsome, broad, glaucose foliage, and large globular heads of lilac flowers, very distinct. May-flowering. Height 9 inches.
2207 Moly. Showy heads of yellow flowers. A fine naturalizing variety.
2208 Mutabile. Pretty clusters of white flowers in Spring and early Summer. 6 inches in height.
2209 Neopolitanum. Small star-like flowers of pure white with black centers. Grows in loose clusters and is effective as a filler in bouquets. Splendid for growing in Rock-Gardens.	4.50		35.00
2210 Ostrowskianum. Neat in habit; large heads of rosy flowers, generally considered the best of the genus from the point of view of garden decoration. It is the prettiest species for the rock-garden, where it will push its dainty head through the low carpeting plants. June. Height, 6 to 9 inches.
2211 Pulchellum. Rose flowers from July until September. Height 6 to 8 inches.	2.00		17.00
2212 Recurvatum. (Nodding Onion.) Grows quickly into fine clumps. The showy umbels of rosy-pink flowers gracefully nod with the passing breezes. A neat rockery plant for dry locations.	1.50		12.00
2213 Ruby Gem. The flowers are of lively rose. Very rare.
2214 Stellatum. Delightful rose-pink flowers on 18 inch stems.	3.00		25.00
2215 Tricoccum. (Wood Leek.) Beautiful flowers of purest white, borne in umbels in mid-July. Height 8 to 12 inches.	1.50		12.00

ALOCASIA

This group includes the most classic-looking of the caladium-like type, and we especially recommend them for securing tropical effects in patio and water-gardens as well as in semi-formal gardens. Tropical, so that they may be deemed hardy only in the far south, while farther north they must be used as Summer bedding plants.

2230 Indica. (Plumbea.) (Arrowhead.) A native of Borneo. This is a particularly fine subject with its stiff, arrow-like leaves of deep reddish-purple and lead-green color.	7.00		65.00
			Single Bulb, 75 cts
2231 Macrohiza. Ceylon. Plain green leaves, very erect and stiff. Reaches a large size.	4.50		40.00
			Single Bulb, 50 cts

ALPINIA Nutans. (Shell Flower.) Strong-growing tuberous plant, the heavy green leaves of which give out a strong spicy odor when crushed. The mottled yellow-orange flowers suggest sea-shells, whence the name. Semi-tropical; with same climatic requirements as Alocasia.

2240 Large clumps.	Each, $3.50	32.00
2241 Strong divisions.	Each, 75 cts	7.00	65.00
A. Formosana. A slender and more delicate type of the above, with lovely panicles of pure white flowers, slightly veined crimson. This presents an appearance both striking and dainty. Semi-tropical.
2242 Large clumps.	Each, $3.50	32.00
2243 Strong divisions.	Each, 75 cts	7.00	65.00

2260 ALSTROMERIA Aurantiaca. (Peruvian Lily.) 10 to 12 inches. A variety of Chilean Lily, with lovely spikes of golden flowers, spotted red; outer segments tipped green, inner, spotted brown. Excellent Summer cut-flowers keeping for a long time. 3 feet tall. In all but very mild sections the bulbs should be lifted over the Winter and stored in sawdust.	3.50		30.00
			Single Bulb, 40 cts
2261 A. Lutea. Similar to Aurantiaca, excepting only that the flowers are a charming light yellow.	4.50		40.00
			Single Bulb, 50 cts

AMARYLLIS

Prices, 10 100

Of the many bulbs commonly called Amaryllis there are strictly only the two following that may be correctly so called. They are much earlier in bloom than are the Hippeastrums. For other "Amaryllis" see Hippeastrum, Lycoris, Sprekelia, Sternbergia, and Vallota. Pot culture is required in all but very warm sections of the South and on the Pacific Coast. Directions for flowering will accompany the bulbs.

- 2280 Belladonna Major. (The Belladonna Lily.) The beautiful early flowering variety with flowers running from white strongly flushed pink through pure rose-pink to lilac-rose. Mammoth Bulbs, 50 cts $4.50 40.00
- 2281 Belladonna Minor. Later than B. Major, with smaller flowers, of a purer and more intense pink. Mammoth Bulbs, 50 cts 4.50 40.00

2300 AMAR-CRINUM Howardi. A true bi-generic hybrid, of which there are but a few in existence. It is a cross of Crinum Moorei with Amaryllis Belladonna, the latter being the seed-bearing plant. Its beautiful soft pink color, the immense truss of bloom that it bears, combined with the lasting character of its flowers, place it in a class by itself. Stems four feet long with enormous heads of bloom are freely produced throughout the Summer and Autumn months. In the South it may be planted in open border, but elsewhere it can be flowered beautifully in tubs and pots. Stock very limited. Strong Flowering Bulbs, $6.00 58.00

ANOMUM CARDAMOMUM. (Cardamon Plant.) This plant is decorative for its foliage only, but is of particular interest for the thick, leathery leaves which, when crushed in the hand, give out a delightful "gingery" odor. Semi-tropical.

- 2310 Heavy clumps. Single Bulb, $3.50 32.00
- 2311 Strong divisions. Single Bulb, 60 cts 5.50 50.00

AMORPHOPHALLUS Rivieri. (African Lily-Devil's Tongue.) One of Nature's freak plants. Blooms without earth or moisture, in the winter time, and attains development in about 30 days, sometimes to the remarkable height of 90 inches, with a calla-like lily 14 inches in diameter at opening and with an enormous spadix 36 inches long. The stem is green and mottled with white spots. The lily has a combination of red colors, and blooms about two weeks each year after bulb is 4 years old. It has no foliage while in bloom, but after blooming, if it is planted in the garden in either sun or shade, it will produce a very attractive palm-like plant, with green stem mottled white and small green lace-edged leaves. At night the leaves turn up their edges to catch the dew, and again in the morning they turn them down. An interesting and beautiful addition to any home or garden.

- 2320 Strong Flowering 4-year old Bulbs. Single Bulb, $10.00 98.00
- 2321 Strong 3-year old Bulbs. Single Bulb, $4.50 42.50
- 2322 Strong 2-year old Bulbs. Single Bulb, $2.75 25.00
- 2323 Strong 1-year old Bulbs. Single Bulb, $1.50 12.00 100.00

2340 ANDROSTEPHIUM Coeruleum. (Wild Hyacinth.) Fleshy leaves and stems. Pale blue flowers shaped like a small Daffodil in early Spring. 6 inches tall. Strong Collected Bulbs 3.00 25.00

ANEMONE CORONARIA

—Poppy-Flowered Anemone—

- 2350 Chrysanthaeflora. A very choice strain of semi-double Anemones, with petal-like stamens. 1 50 12.00
- 2351 Cornflower. A beautiful amethyst-lavender blue shade of a wonderful fully double strain in which all the stamens and pistils have turned to petals. Newly introduced. Single Bulb, $1.00 9.00
- 2352 De Caen. (Giant French Poppy-flowered Anemone.) Single flowers in many brilliant shades of lavender, purple, red, white, and pink. Very vigorous in growth; large flowering type. 1.40 11.00
- 2353 Hollandia. A very fine clear scarlet strain of single flowers. 1.50 12.00
- 2354 King of The Scarlets. A marvelous bright shade of red, of the same new strain as Cornflower. Single Bulb, $1.00 9.00
- 2355 St. Brigid. An Irish strain of semi-double and double flowers, with blues and scarlet shades predominating. Several rows of petals surround the black central base. 1.40 11.00

ANTHOLYZAS

Interesting plants from tropical and South Africa which in Southern climates will thrive well in open gardens, but which in Northern gardens must be started in cold frames. Very similar to Watsonias in appearance and culture.

- | | | |
|--|--------|---------|
| 2370 Aethiopica. Especially valuable as a pot-plant for Winter flowers, coming into bloom in January and February. The plants grow 3 to 4 feet high with rich, green, handsome foliage, and red-yellow flowers. | $2.50 | $22.00 |
| 2371 Paniculata. Pretty red-yellow flowers for early Summer bloom. | 2.50 | 22.00 |
| 2372 Watsoniodes. Flowers cinnamon-colored; in shape like a Watsonia. | 2.50 | 22.00 |
| 2390 ANTIGNONON leptopus. (Mountain Rose-Coral Vine.) In the South where this climber is frequently seen, it ranks as the most popular. It is a quick and rank grower with heart-shaped leaves, producing large spray-like racemes of coral-pink flowers not unlike a sweet pea. Adapted to sunny locations.
Each, 50 cts | 4.50 | 40.00 |
| 2400 APIOS Tuberosa. (Potato-Bean—Tuberous-rooted Wisteria). Clusters of deep, rich purple flowers possessing a delicious violet fragrance. Good for growing over trellises. Strong flowering Tubers. Each, 35 cts | 2.50 | 20.00 |

- | | | |
|--|------|-------|
| 2410 Japonicum. A pale-looking, dwarf-growing Jack-in-the-Pulpit. The color is in some a translucent green with white stripes and in others velvety purple with white linings. 8 to 10 inches. | 2.00 | 18.00 |
| 2411 Triphyllum. (Jack-in-the-Pulpit.) (Indian Turnip.) Unless you have Jack preaching from beneath his brown canopy in your garden it lacks something. Height 10 to 12 inches. The flower in May is followed by the attractive berries in late Summer. | 2.50 | 22.00 |
| 2430 ARRHENATHERUM Bulbosum Variagatum. Dwarf form of ribbon grass with white and green stripes. It is propagated from small bulbs. Single Bulb, 40 cts | 3.50 | 30.00 |
| 2440 ARUM Paleastinum. (A. Pictum.) (The Black Calla.) Long light green leaves, spathe of flower violet, and spadex purple-black. A very interesting pot-plant that always arouses great curiosity. Height 2 feet. Single Bulb, 60 cts | 5.50 | 50.00 |
| 2450 BABIANA STRICTA. (Blue Freesia.) A curious flower from the wilds of Africa, deriving its name from the Dutch for "Baboon", as these animals eat the bulbs in their native habitat. The flowers are similar to Tritonias or Freesias both in appearance and culture. They may be easily grown in pots. Colors range from milk-white through gentian-blue to clear purple. Mixed Varieties Only. | 1.70 | 15.00 |

BEGONIAS

—Tuberous-Rooted—

We have a dependable supply of very satisfactory stock being grown in California, and it is to be expected that, with this assurance, the old popularity of these delightful bulbs will be regained. In addition to making very fine pot-plants they are most beautiful and desirable for outdoor bedding, and are especially commendable for semi-shaded positions.

	Prices,
		10	100
2172 Trailing Tuberos Rooted Begonias. Splendid for growing in hanging baskets, or as individual specimens in pots where the branches drooping over the edge produce masses of attractive showy flowers. They may be used as well for summer bedding. The choicest colors in mixture only.
	Single Bulb, 60 cts	$5.50	$50.00
BELAMCANDA Chinensis. (Pardanthus.) (Blackberry Lily.) An old garden favorite resembling the Iris or Moraea in growth, but bearing large spikes of mottled orange-red lily-like flowers, followed by seed pods resembling a small blackberry. Height 12 to 18 inches.
2190 Heaviest bulbs.	Single Bulb, 60 cts	5.50	50.00
2191 Strong selected bulbs.	Single Bulb, 40 cts	3.50	30.00
2510 BLOOMERIA AUREA. Handsome umbels of bright yellow flowers, from which the name of "Golden Stars" is derived. Choice and rare. 12 to 15 inch stems.		1.80	16.00
2520 BOUSSINGAULTIA Baselloides. (Madeira Vine.) A rapid growing, beautiful and popular vine, covering a large space in a short time. Heart shaped leaves of a light green, with numerous racemes of feathery flowers of such delightful fragrance that it is commonly known as Climbing Mignonette.		1.50	12.00

BRODIAEAS

Beautiful native bulbs of easy culture. They produce grassy leaves near the ground, and very slender, but stiff, naked stems bearing a head of waxy flowers of great lasting character. All are pretty and are excellent subjects for naturalizing.

2530 Bridgessii. Color is a rich reddish purple. A beautiful sort somewhat like Laxa but with the sections of the flower spreading flat rather than tube-like.
2531 Californica. A giant Grandiflora with rose-tinted flowers. Exceptionally beautiful and lasting.		.90	6.60
2532 Candida. Very handsome with flowers of a delicate lilac.
2533 Capitata. (Cluster Lily—Wild California Hyacinth.) The stem is slender, capped with a head of violet-blue flowers. They revel in hot, dry places among rocks or in grit, and flower very early. 1 to 2 feet tall.		.60	4.40
2534 Coccinea. (Brevortia coccinea—Floral Firecracker.) The stems may rise to 2 feet while the tubular flowers are a vivid crimson tipped with pea-green. The resemblance to a bunch of firecrackers catches the eye at once. They prefer a loose soil, especially if it is gritty. Do well when potted.		1.20	9.00
2535 Congesta. Slender stiff stalks bear heads of waxen, translucent blue flowers which last long on the stalk. One of our prettiest field flowers. Grows from a small edible bulb called "Grass Nut". 2 to 4 feet.		2.50	20.00
2536 Crocea. Light yellow flowers in attractive umbels.		.90	6.60
2537 Grandiflora. (Harvest Brodiaea.) A dwarf, late flowering species growing from 6 inches to 1 foot tall, and bearing 3 to 10 large, glossy purple flowers of great beauty and lasting quality. The bulbs may be easily naturalized in any clay soil, especially if it is moist.		.90	6.60
2538 Hendersonii. The flowers are borne in profusion in an umbel. The ground-color is light yellow with a deep purple band down the center of each petal.		1.20	9.00
2539 Ixoides. (Calliprora flava) (Golden Star.) The flowers are borne in umbels and are of a fine golden yellow banded on the back with green. Stems from 6 to 8 inches.		.70	5.60
2540 Lactea. (Hesperoscordum lacteum) (White Brodiaea.) Close umbels of milky white to pale lilac flowers.		1.20	9.00
2541 Laxa. (Tritelia laxa) (Blue Milla—Ithuriel's Spear.) A magnificent species growing from 1 to 2 feet high. The flowers are very large and of a fine violet-purple and blue. They are borne in umbels of 20 to 50. One of the best for naturalizing.		.90	6.60
2542 Laxa Maxima. (Purple King.) Flowers earlier than B. laxa with with larger umbels holding up flowers of a very distinct and delightful shade.

	Prices,	10	100
2543 Multiflora. A large head of many violet-colored flowers on a stout, tall stem.	$.70		$5.60
2544 Penduncularis. Similar to B. laxa in growth, but producing finer flowers on long pedicels, making the umbels fifteen to twenty inches across. The flowers are of porcelain white. A splendid variety, that should be better known.
2545 Purdyi. Flatly spreading flowers with recurved tips. Reddish lilac in color and somewhat resembling Stellaris .	.90		6.60
2546 Stellaris. A low growing variety bearing starry blue flowers with contrasting white centers.	.90		6.60
2547 Volubilis. This is the most interesting of them all. The flowering stems climb up upon any support that may be near. The flowers are beautifully clustered, of a fine soft pink, and last very well.	1.40		11.00
2548 Selected Brodiaeas: In Mixture. Per Thousand, $30.00	5.00		40.00
2549 Brodiaea Collection. 200 bulbs—40 each of 5 named varieties. Our selection—packed and labeled separately.	10.00
2560 BULBOCODIUM Vernum. (The Spring Meadow Saffron.) One of the earliest and best of all spring bulbs, producing a mass of bright rosy-lilac Crocus-like flowers in early February. Very welcome for the rock-garden and especially suitable for naturalizing with such early flowers as Snowdrops, Snowflakes, and Eranthis . Height 6 inches. (See seed list.)	1.00		8.00

CALADIUM Bulbosum. (Fancy Leaved or Imperial Caladiums.) (Brazilian Caladiums.) Beautiful, variegated-leaved plants in many colors and markings adapted to pot culture, and to bedding as well, when given a sheltered position.

List and description of over a hundred varieties from which the above named varieties are taken, will be sent upon request.

CALOCHORTI

Few families of bulbous plants include the extreme variety and great beauty to be found in the native Calochorti. These are truly the "Tulips" of our Western Coast. The family presents a great range of form and the species naturally fall into several distinct groups as listed.

GLOBE TULIPS. This group is characterized by its prettily shaped and satin textured globular flowers, gracefully drooping and nodding. The plants are rather tall and slender with leaf-wrapped stems of odd shape, throwing up their blooms in late spring and early summer. They are natives of woodlands and make fine subjects for naturalizing among rocks and in shaded woods. Globe Tulips are also very satisfactory in pots and frames.

2900 Albus. (Fairy Lantern—Fairy Bell.) Drooping white flowers on stalks 12 to 18 inches tall.	1.00	7.00
2901 Albus: White Pearl. The pearly white flowers are globular and the stem tall, growing under the most favorable conditions to a height of 2 feet.
2902 Ambilis. (Golden Lily Bell.) The Yellow Fairy Lantern. Grows from 9 to 12 inches high, with branching stems and nodding, sweet-scented, bright orange flowers.	1.00	7.00
2903 Amoenus: Pink Pearl. A wondrous soft and lustrous rose pink. Very rare.	2.00	15.00
2904 Pulchellus. (The Canary Globe Tulip.) Soft canary-yellow.

STAR TULIPS. (CAT'S EARS—PUSSY'S EARS.) These, too, are dainty, slender-stemmed woodland plants flowering in May and June. The flowers are open, and, with their lining of many long hairs, remind one of cat's ears. Fine for naturalizing in rockwork or woodland.

- 2905 Lobbei. A cream colored Cat's Ear with bright yellow center.
- 2906 Maweanus. Soft lavender low-growing flower almost filled with hairs. Height 4 to 8 inches. Very good. $1.00 $7.00
- 2907 Maweanus Major. (Big Pussy-Ears.) Very fine white; dainty and beautiful.
- 2908 Maweanus Roseus. (Pink Pussy-Ears.) Flowers of delicately tinted pink. 1.50 12.00
- 2909 Monophyllus. (Benthami.) Bright yellow. 1.00 7.00
- 2910 Purdyi. (Purdy Pussy-Ears.) A very choice white, larger in size than the others.

MARIPOSA TULIPS, (BUTTERFLY TULIPS.) Mariposa is simply the Spanish word for Butterfly, and is applied to these Tulips because the eyes and markings of the flowers are so much like those on a butterfly's wings. It is a musical word given to a county and to a town in California, and we would hardly like to give it up for its English equivalent. Cup-shaped flowers, one or many on a stem, wonderfully marked with eyes, and dots, and pencillings in rich colors, are characteristic. Yet each strain carries out the plan on a color scheme of its own, and then they can be compared only with Orchids in wonderful variability of beauty. All Mariposas are simply forms of Calochortus Venustus, yet there are six well marked strains, all with the slender grace of stem belonging to the species.

- 2911 Venustus. (White Mariposa.) Large white flowers with inner segments yellow at the base and with a crimson blot near the center.
- 2912 Venustus: El Dorado. Large branching plants from 1 to 2 feet tall. Scarcely two of the flowers will be alike, varying through white, lilac to purple and again through shades of pink to deep claret-red. Flowers from 2 to 4 inches in diameter. 1.10 8.00
- 2913 Venustus Purpurascens. Resembles Vesta in habit. A superb strain with flowers from lively lilac to purple, darker on the outside of petals. 1.20 9.00
- 2914 Venustus Roseus. A beautiful strain with large flowers of creamy white suffused with lilac; a rose colored blotch at apex of each petal, a fine eye midway of each petal, and the back of petals rich carmine. 1.40 12.00
- 2915 Venustus Superbus. (Sherlock Strain.) This is an entirely new and very striking Mariposa Tulip, notable for its large flowers and its vividly marked eyes. No other is so beautifully oculated. 1.50 13.00
- 2916 Vesta Strain. The color is white, flushed with lilac or rosy purple, red at center and purple on backs of petals. A superb species with great 3 to 5 inch flowers, borne on long, separate stalks. Vigorous grower. Largest Bulbs. 1.40 12.00
Large Selected Bulbs. .60 5.00
- 2917 Smaller bulbs for naturalizing. .60 5.00

SPECIES

These are the Calochorti species of this extremely variable flower found in different sections of the West from Lower California to British Columbia, and as far east as the Great Basin.

- 2918 Catalinae. (Catalina Mariposa—Common Mariposa Lily.) Large, handsome flowers, white or lilac with a large maroon spot at base of each petal. Height 1 to 2 feet. Blooms several weeks before the other Mariposas.
- 2919 Clavatus. (Goldenbowl Mariposa—Large Yellow Mariposa Lily.) Large flowers, sometimes 4 to 5 inches across, shaped like a broad based bowl; deep rich yellow, the lower half covered with stiff yellow hairs; zigzag stems 2 to 3 feet high.
- 2920 Grecni. An erect cup of large size, soft lilac, yellow at inner base and lined with long silky hairs. A new introduction. 1.60 13.00

	Prices,	10	100
2921 Howellii. (Howell Mariposa.) Grows about 8 inches high, bearing large white flowers with green hairs on the lower inner portion. Very beautiful.		$1.60	$13.00
2922 Kennedyi. (Desert Mariposa Lily.) A rare species from the desert side of the Sierra Nevadas. Plants grow 5 to 10 inches high and produce from 2 to 4 flowers on a stem. Color brilliant vermilion, sometimes banded in black on the lower part of petals.
2923 Leichtlini. (Smoky Mariposa.) A species from the high Sierras usually growing not over 6 inches high, with smoky white flowers vividly marked with black.		.90	6.00
2924 Luteus. (Yellow Mariposa Lily.) Flowers yellow, with pencilled lines radiating from the base to center of petals.
2925 Luteus Citrinus. (Venustus Citrinus.) (Lemon Mariposa Tulip.) The flowers are a deep, rich yellow with an almost black eye, and large; the plant vigorous in growth.		.90	6.00
2926 Luteus Oculatus. (Brown-eyed Mariposa Tulip.) Wonderfully varied colors in white to rich cream. The eye is large and richly zoned; the pencilings about the base are very delicate. Flowers as large as 4 inches across, borne on a vigorous plant.		.90	6.00
2927 Macrocarpus. (Sagebrush Mariposa.) This species comes from the sage-brush regions of the Great Basin. The stem is stiff, bearing exquisite lavender flowers of large size, tinted green on the reverse of petals.		1.30	10.00
2928 Nitidus. (Purple-Eye Mariposa.) A lovely species with large, showy flowers; pale lilac with large indigo colored blotch. It is lined with many cobwebby hairs.		1.20	9.00
2929 Plummerae. (Weedi Purpurescens—Santa Mariposa—Late-flowering Mariposa Lily.) Large flowers of rich lavender-purple, lined with long, silky, yellow hairs. Grows 2 to 3 feet tall, blooming in mid-summer.		1.50	13.00

CAMASSIA

Attractive bulbous plants from the Pacific slopes that thrive anywhere and make charming subjects for naturalizing in moist woodlands, along the sides of ponds or streams, or wherever they will not be choked by too dense a grassy growth.

- | | | |
|--|------|------|
| 2960 Quamash. (Esculenta.) (Magnifica.) A rich purple color. Grows as high as 2 feet under the best conditions. Very showy in masses. Foliage is excellent. | 1.00 | 7.00 |
| 2961 Quamash: Silver Queen. Large spikes of soft silvery blue. Very pretty. One of the lighter forms of the "Common Quamash." | | |

	Prices,	10	100
2962 Leichtlini. (Sky-Blue.) A very fine deep blue that may grow as high as 4 feet, with as many as one hundred flowers, of the finest, even form, star-shaped. The blooms are about 1½ inches across. It flowers in long succession.	$1.30		$10.00
2963 Leichtlini Alba. Flowers as large but of delightful cream-white. A fine, vigorous plant which once established reminds one of a miniature Eremurus.	1.30		10.00
2964 Mixed Bulbs for Naturalizing. $35.00 Per Thousand			5.00

CANNAS

These delightful summer flowering plants will be described in variety and at length in our "SPRING BULB EDITION".

CHIONODOXA

—Glory of the Snow—

The Chionodoxa is a lovely early Spring flower and should be largely used in borders, in dotting over bulb beds, for massing on rockwork and for spreading broadcast in the grass in long ribbons or in small clumps. Once established the flower spikes will increase in size and beauty and will form attractive patches and lights of brilliant blue in early Spring.

2980 Boisseri. Intense bright blue with large, striking, snowy white center. A snowy species blooming later than Luciliae.	1.00		8.00
2981 Gigantea. (Alleni.) Large azure blue stars, remaining in bloom over a long period. An exquisite type.	.80		6.00
2982 Luciliae. Fine light blue flowers with white centers. Very satisfactory.		Per Thousand, $30.00	.50 4.00
2983 Lucillae Rosea. A soft blush-pink form. Truly a gem, but seldom seen.	3.50		30.00
2984 Naburn Blue. A hybrid newly introduced, producing extra large flowers of very bright blue. One of the loveliest of Spring-flowering bulbs in existence.		Each, $1.00	9.00 75.00
2985 Sardensis. A rich gentian blue; perhaps the finest color of all the species.		Per Thousand, $35.00	.60 5.00
2986 Snow Mantle. This is the varietal name that has been given to Lucillae alba, the pure white form of the "Glory of the Snow." These bulbs are the progeny of the bulbs collected long since by George Maw, who also introduced the type plant in 1877. It produces a carpet of white flowers in the early spring and is suitable for planting in woodland, rock-garden or wild garden, or in great patches on grassy slopes. The flowers are borne in March and April. Easily grown and very useful. Increases rapidly.	2.00		18.00
2987 Tmoli. (Tmolusi.) Another scarce variety, with brilliant blue and white flowers. Blooms later than Luciliae.	1.20		9.00
3000 CHLIDANTHUS Fragrans. Flowers resemble a dwarf Amaryllis. Clear rich yellow, very fragrant. Treat the same as any Amaryllis. For pot-culture, only, in the North.	2.00		18.00
CHLOROGALUM POMERIDIANUM. (Soaproot.) Native bulb with a curious fibrous coating. Rosettes of decidedly ornamental blue-gray foliage and tall stalks bearing open panicles of small white flowers.

3012 Bulbs for Naturalizing.			2.50 20.00
3030 CLIVIA Miniata. (Imantophyllum) (Kaffir Lily.) A pretty Lily-like plant of the easiest culture, and a most desirable house or pot-plant as it is tender. It flowers during the spring and summer months, remaining in bloom over a long period. The flowers are about two inches long and are borne in dense clusters. Colors of fine orange, yellow, buff, and orange-red.		Single Bulb, $1.25	12.00 110.00

COLCHICUM

A group of Autumn-flowering bulbs with large, Crocus-like blossoms appearing after the foliage has died down, in unending succession from September until November. Very beautiful woodland plants that may be effectively used in the lawn where their bold, delightful checkered flowers may be seen to great advantage, and where they will literally carpet the ground, or in the rock-garden for blooming at a season when flowers are scarce. They may also be used for blooming in the house without the use of either soil or water. When they have finished blooming they should be planted out-of-doors.

- | | | | |
|-------------|---|--------|---------|
| 3040 | Autumnale. This lovely free-flowering variety is often called the "Autumn Crocus." Rosy-lavender. | $3.50 | $30.00 |
| 3041 | Autumnale Album. Pure white in color. A free flowering sort that quickly establishes itself in strong clumps. | 3.50 | 30.00 |
| 3042 | Autumnale Album Plenum. A beautiful double white form that is extremely scarce and very worth-while. Single Bulb, $3.00 | 25.00 | |
| 3043 | Autumnale Major. Massive flowers of rosy-purple. Vigorous grower. Single Bulb, 50 cts | 4.50 | 40.00 |
| 3044 | Bornmullieri. A fine early-flowering type with long-tubed, cup-shaped flowers of exquisite rosy-lilac. Flowers large and of good substance. Single Bulb, 60 cts | 5.50 | 50.00 |
| 3045 | Speciosum. Large flowers of deep rosy purple. A highly commendable variety. Single Bulb, 50 cts | 4.50 | 40.00 |
| 3046 | Speciosum Album. An uncommon sort of great beauty and attractiveness. A large-flowering, pure white of very vigorous growth. Single Bulb, $3.00 | 25.00 | |

COLOCASIA

- | | | | |
|-------------|---|------|-------|
| 3060 | Antiquorum Illustris. (The Black Caladium.) India. Closely allied to Alocasia and Xanthosoma . It grows from 18 inches to 3 feet in height. Leaves heavily blotched with velvety black. A splendid plant and fine formassing. Sub-tropical. Single Bulb, 40 cts | 3.50 | 30.00 |
| 3061 | Dasheen or Taro. A splendid starchy food plant, resembling potatoes and now generally grown in Florida for the markets. Decorative foliage. Esculentum. (Elephant's Ear.) Grand tropical plant, grown for its huge exotic leaves. A favorite for specimens on the lawn. Height 3 to 4 feet. | 3.00 | 25.00 |
| 3062 | Mammoth Bulbs. 11-13 inches. Single Bulb, 75 cts | 7.00 | 60.00 |
| 3063 | Extra Heavy Bulbs. 9-11 inches. Single Bulb, 50 cts | 4.00 | 35.00 |

| 3065 | Monorhiza Nigra. Leaves velvety green on purple stems. Moderate in size. Beautiful sub-tropical foliage plant. Single Bulb, 40 cts | 2.50 | 20.00 |

CONVALLARIA MAJALIS

—Lily of the Valley—

- | | | | |
|-------------|--|------|-------|
| 3080 | Lily of the Valley Clumps. These are strong, vigorous and especially selected clumps for outdoor growing and will bring you great delight. They have been rather rare since the embargo was enacted, but now we are able to offer some extra fine clumps for November delivery. Large selected clumps. Each, 75 cts | 7.00 | 68.00 |
| 3081 | Lily of the Valley Pips. For outdoor planting. Selected stock. Per Thousand, $30.00 | | 4.00 |
| 3090 | COOPERERIA Drummondii. (Rain Lily). (Evening Star). This certainly is the most beautiful name ever given to a wild flower. In the spring a few onion-like leaves come up but they soon die down. With the first fall rains, as if by magic overnight, white flowers appear borne on stems a foot high. They have a heavy perfume which attracts many large moths in the cool of evening. A single bulb when once established will produce flowers over a long period. Excellent for naturalizing. Quite hardy. Single Bulb, 35 cts | 3.00 | 25.00 |
| 3100 | COSMOS Dahlioides. An unusual plant. A pretty dwarf Cosmos which propagates from small Dahlia-like tubers. Leaves are basal and from these rise the long-stemmed Cosmos blooms. Each, 30 cts | 2.50 | 20.00 |

CRINUMS

Stately bulbous plants with long and graceful foliage that is ornamental all the summer long, and showy umbels of white or pink long-tubed flowers that rival Lilies in their exquisite form, color, and fragrance. The value of Crinum, whether for cultivation out-of-doors or in the cool greenhouse, has never been fully appreciated. The extreme delicacy of form common to all varieties of these beautiful flowers is not the least of their attractions. The pure, exquisitely moulded outline of each petal, and each slender, tubular-stemmed, goblet-like flower, is rendered the more entrancing by the soft tints that suffuse the flowers. As cut flowers for many classes of decorative work they are invaluable. C. Moorei, Powellii, Powellii alba, and Longifolium are hardy in Pennsylvania with but the slightest of protection. All the other varieties may be grown successfully out of doors in the lower South. All make excellent subjects for summer-flowering upon lawns and terraces, when grown in large pots or tubs. We especially recommend these subjects to those of our customers living in the South or on the Pacific Coast, or to those who can grow them in a cool greenhouse, as flowers bound to give them unlimited pleasure, and to add a new note to their plantings.

3162 Tubergeni. An European hybrid with very large flowers of golden yellow. Lasts longer than the others.		3.50	32.00

EREMURUS

Foxtail Lily.—King's Spear.—Desert Candle.

These Giant Eremuri come from the distant hinterland of India, Persia and Africa, to bring variety and distinctiveness to our gardens. Just pride you will have in growing a clump of these monarchs to the perfection that they will attain. A great flower stalk eight or more feet tall rises from a crowded tuft of long, narrow leaves, and the upper two or three feet of this form the flower spike closely set with bell-shaped flowers in entrancing colors. When the flowering is over the foliage entirely disappears, only to reappear in early Spring. To fill the bare space left when the foliage dies away you may plant Asters or Gypsophilas near by and let them continue the succession of beauty.

3440 HELICONIA BIHIA. (Wild Plantain.) Native of Central America, so that it may only be grown in frostless regions, or used elsewhere as a tub or summer bedding plant. It grows 10 to 15 feet tall, resembling a banana. Green foliage, purplish stems and yellow flower-spikes. 7.00 65.00

Single Bulb, 75 cts

3450 HELLEBORUS NIGER. (The Christmas Rose.) A most interesting hardy plant, that can be grown in any sheltered position. It makes an excellent addition to the Rock Garden, as its blooms appear in November and it continues to bloom as long as the weather is open. Whenever a thaw appears in early Winter, after a period of frost and snow the brave flowers again appear unharmed only to retreat once more when cold weather again prevails. The flowers are white, suffused with pink, 2 to 3 inches across, and borne on stems 6 to 12 inches in length. The leaves are large and leathery in substance. We offer fine large clumps that will bloom late this Fall and on into the Winter. 18.00

I. XIPHIODES

—English Iris—

These are the largest of the dainty bulbous Irises and should be more widely used in our Eastern gardens. These lovely flowers, planted in groups, in the protected spots of the mixed border or rock-garden, are very distinctive and charming. As a flower for mid-summer cutting they are unsurpassed by any other. Early planting and light protection are two essentials. They bloom from the middle of June until its close. Well do they merit the name of the "Orchid of the Garden." We list but a few of the finest varieties.

Other Bulbous and Tuberos Rooted Iris

- 3930 Bucharica. A native of Bokhara. A lovely soft satiny yellow flower, with deep yellow on the broad lip of the falls. The glossy green foliage is entirely different from any other Iris and the plant looks just like a miniature corn stalk with flowers at the top and at the axil of each leaf. Unusually long in flower. Very floriferous and the finest of the Juno type. Height 28 inches.
Price, Each, $3.50
- 3931 Orchiodes. (Juno.) The foliage of this variety is similar to Bucharica, but it is much more of a dwarf and its color is deeper in tone. Height 10 inches.
Price, Each, $3.50
- 3932 Persica. (Juno.) A dwarf species of this type from Asia Minor. The color is white tinged with sea-green, and blotched purple on the falls.
Price, Each, $1.50
- 3933 Reticulata. A native of the Caucasus. The tiny bulbs are best planted in a warm well-drained position. They bloom in the early spring, just ahead of the Crocus. The color is rich pansy-violet with brilliant yellow markings, and violet-like fragrance. The Latin name means "Little Net", and fittingly describes the appearance of the outside of the bulb. The shape of the flower somewhat resembles that of the Spanish Iris. Height 10 inches.
Price, Each, $1.00

3934 Sindpers. An exquisite soft turquoise blue. Very free flowering and in bloom almost as early as I. Reticulata. Makes a fine carpeting of flowers completely covering a bed. Cold frame treatment is best for this variety in our Northern States. Height 8 inches. Price, Each, $3.50

IRIS

The various types of rhizomatous Iris, Dwarf or Pumilla, Intermediate, Tall Bearded or German, Kaempferi or Japanese, Siberica, Spuria, Unguicularis, Reglio-Onocylus, and the many Species both from the several sections of our own country and from other lands will be described in variety and at length in our "IRIS and PAEONY EDITION."

IXIAS

—African Corn Lily—

The Ixia is a beautiful little Winter-flowering bulb, with long, slender, graceful spikes of bloom. The colors are rich and varied, the center always differing in color from the other parts of the flower so that the blossoms, expanding in the sun's rays, present a picture of gorgeous beauty. Very desirable for pots. With protection in the Northern States and without it in the Southern, they may be brought into perfect bloom in the garden, where they will add a new and striking note.

KNIPHOFIA

TRITOMA

—Torch Lily—

For Summer and Fall blooming there are few plants more stately in appearance than well-grown clumps of Tritomas or "Red-Hot Pokers". Their torch-like spikes of bloom, sometimes reaching to a height of six feet, and fine grassy foliage make them conspicuous objects in any garden. They associate well with the various grasses, Cannas, etc., in jungle effects and do splendidly on the margins of artificial water courses and ponds. Once planted they increase in beauty each season and require but little attention. Hardy with slight protection. Rapid advances have been made by Dutch hybridizers in recent years as well as by American growers. We are as yet able to offer only a few of the newer named varieties.

Prices,

LAPEY ROUSIA Cruenta. (Anomatheca cruenta.) A charming little semi-hardy South African bulb, which may be planted in any well-drained sunny position. By planting it deep and giving it some winter protection it can be grown in Northern gardens. Flowering in July and August and giving a most vivid patch of color, it becomes invaluable for the rock-garden, or as an edging. The attractive flowers somewhat resemble a Freesia, but it is larger, and the leaves are broader. They may be quite easily forced and will yield an abundance of bloom. Height 8 to 10 inches. Obtainable in two color tones:

4030 Scarlet salmon,	$2.00	$18.00
4031 Light salmon-pink.	2.00	18.00

LEUCROCRINUM Montanum: These are hardy flowers springing up with the Crocus, crystal white and fragrant, from a rosette of narrow grass-like foliage. One clump will often bear fifty blooms in a season. Most unusual and very charming for rock-work. Height 4 to 6 inches. A native of our Western States.

LYCORIS

4090 Purpurea. An old introduction from Japan that has become very scarce. The foliage produced in the Spring ripens and dies away in August. Immediately thereafter the flower stalks appear producing clusters of 7 to 8 flowers, each possessing 6 petals. The bud is wine-colored changing to royal purple when expanded, giving a startling and beautiful effect. Perfectly hardy. Height 2 feet.
Price, Each, $1.00 9.50 90 00

4091 Radiata. (Nerine Japonica.) These beautiful Nerine-like flowers are borne in late Fall from November until January. The blossoms are deep scarlet-crimson, with anthers lighter, and the whole giving an effect as though frosted with silver. Like the Neriines it sparkles beautifully under artificial light. The flowers last over a long period. In Northern States it had best be used only as a pot flower or in the cool greenhouse, though in locations more southern than Pennsylvania it can be planted in open borders with but light protection.
Price, Each, $1.00 9.50 80 00

4092 Squamigra. (Amaryllis Halli) (Maige Flower.) (Hardy Cluster Amaryllis.) A perfectly hardy bulb of the Amaryllis family, producing attractive green foliage in the early Spring, which then dies away. Later the flower stalks appear, growing two or more feet tall and developing an umbel of large Lily-shaped delicate pink flowers shaded clear blue. Unusual and charming. Price, Each, $1.00 9.50 90.00

4110 MARANTA arundinacea variegata. (Arrow-Root.) Commonly catalogued as Phrynium variegatum. A plant with Canna-like foliage growing to a height of 3 feet, beautifully variegated with white. Tropical. May be used as a Summer bedding or pot plant in cold regions. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 40.00

4111 M. species. A lovely low-growing type with dark green leaves mottled creamy-white above and flushed purple below, the whole leaf coated over with a brilliant glossy green. Tropical. Hardy only in far South. A splendid foliage plant for Summer bedding.
Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00

MARICA gracilis. (The Flag Lily.) This plant belongs to the Iris family. It grows in tufts or clumps with dark green foliage that bends at the tips. The flower-stalks are like the leaves and the flowers are produced from the edges, near the tips. Flowers white, blue, and brownish within. Very interesting and valuable for Southern gardens.

4120 Strong flowering plants. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

MERTENSIA

4130 Clata. (Mountain Bluebells.) Those who admire the beautiful M. Virginia will enjoy this stronger species. It has a bushy habit, and grows at its best to a height of 4 feet. Dainty blue flowers.
Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50

4131 Pulchella. Rosettes of blue-green leaves. Stems bear a drooping cluster of beautiful clear blue bells, sometimes tinted with pink. One of the finest native blue flowers. Height 6 to 10 ins. Each, 75 cts 6.00

4132 Virginica. (M. pulmonanardes.) (Virginia Bluebells.) Indispensable flower in the garden for color effect. Porcelain-blue turning pink with age. The plant grows from one to two feet high, bearing a panicle of flowers about one inch long, in short, pendent clusters. It is splendid for the open border or for naturalizing along the woodland path, in the dale, along the brook or pond. It flowers when the Daffodils are in bloom and continues until the Mayflowering Tulips have passed away. Foliage smooth and refined. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 38.00

MORAEA

- 4150 Glaucoptis. The false "Peacock Iris" from the south western portion of the Cape Colony. While of a fragile nature, this variety is well worth a place in your garden. A wonderful white Iris-like flower with segments the size of a quarter dollar, and a blue spot at the base like a Peacock eye. Stock very limited. Price, Each, 60 cts $5.50 $50.00
- 4151 Grandiflora. Handsome bulbous plants from the Cape of Good Hope, allied to the Iris and requiring the same treatment. The flowers resemble somewhat the Iris but the standards are absent. In color they are white, shading to a light golden yellow in the center and having occasional touches of purple. Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
- 4152 Irioides. (Natal Lily.) From South Africa. A lovely Iris-like plant to which it is closely related, with numerous fan-shaped clusters of flat, tapering ribbon-like leaves and spikes of flowers 3 inches across, white marked yellow on claws of outer segments and blue on the style crests. Will stand sharp frosts and should be planted in all the Southern States. Price, Each, 75 cts 7.00 65.00
- 4153 Triscupis. Another of the southern representatives of the Iris family, coming from the Cape Colony and Natal. Lovely, delicate flowers of whitish lilac, blotched with purple. Large corms. Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00

MUSCARI

—Grape Hyacinth—

Dainty little flowers that materially aid in bringing lovely blue to adorn the garden for its Spring Pageant. Delightful varieties for planting in masses here and there in the border, for grouping in the rock garden or for naturalizing in any of a dozen places. They establish themselves very easily and then continue year after year to send up their little spikes of beauty in great profusion.

- 4170 Amethysteus. (M. Amethystina.) Loose spikes of delightful amethyst-blue. Long stems. 1.10 8.00
- 4171 Amethysteus Alba. A white counterpart of the above. Very charming and delightful in the early Spring. 6.00 55.00
- 4172 Amphibolis. (M. Freynianum.) Light blue with darker tops. One of the prettiest. 3.50 30.00
- 4173 Argaei. (M. Atlanticum.) An unusually pretty species from Greece, producing long spikes closely set with bells of bright violet-blue. 1.80 15.00
- 4174 Armeniacum. Armenia. A handsome flowering species with bright deep cobalt tones and teeth of white. Late flowering. Blooms large and exceedingly attractive. .50 4.00
- 4175 Azureum. One of the earliest of the flowering bulbs, bright blue, a blue that rivals in brilliancy the blue-bird's plumage. February. A particularly choice rock plant. .50 4.00
- 4176 Botryoides Alba. (White Grape Hyacinth) (Pearls of Spain.) Splendid for beds and rockeries. A cluster of white corals. This chaste white sort is uncommonly pretty. Per Thousand, $70.00 .90 8.00
- 4177 Botryoides Carneae. Light rose spikes. Very unusual and beautiful. Free flowering and delightful. 2.20 18.00
- 4178 Botryoides Coerulea. (Blue Grape Hyacinth.) Splendid free growing variety with a charming blue color. Per Thousand, $30.00 .50 4.00
- 4179 Commutatus. Bright blue, very floriferous and splendid for forcing and for pots to cheer the interior garden. .50 4.00
- 4180 Conicus. (M. Conicus.) (Black Grape Hyacinth.) Dark violet-blue, approaching black in color. A strong grower, blooms later than most varieties. .50 4.00
- 4181 Cosmosus. (Tassel Hyacinth.) A pretty little blue Hyacinth that is sure to prove delightful. .80 6.00
- 4182 Heavenly Blue. It taunts the bluest of the skies of early spring in its cloak of piercing blue. Real early-blooming gems. Large and fragrant flowers. Per Thousand, $30.00 .50 4.00

NERINE

Handsome Autumn-flowering bulbs from South Africa. Tender plants that make excellent subjects for late Autumn flowering in the greenhouse or conservatory. They bloom late in September on through November. During the Winter they continue growth but do not bloom, and early in May the leaves die and the bulb has its resting period until the following August. These are rather rare and lovely flowering bulbs that should be more widely used for they have a very distinctive beauty, and flower when few other sorts do.

- 4200 Fothergilli Major. Intense shining scarlet. By artificial light the crystalline cells of the petals sparkle like jewels. Flowers very freely. Price, Each, $1.50 14.50
- 4201 Hybrids. Beautiful subjects with large umbels of long, narrow, trumpet-shaped Amaryllis-like flowers in orange-pink, cerise, and salmon shades. When cut they keep for a long period in water. Once established they should be disturbed as seldom as possible for floriferousness increases with age. In assorted colors only. Price, Each, $4.00 38.00
- 4202 Sarniensis. This has long been known as the "Guernsey Lily", from the Island where these bulbs are grown to perfection. Flowers of bright crimson borne 10 or 12 in an umbel. Filaments bright red. The leaves appear after the flowers. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.50 43.00
- 4210 OPHIOPOGON jaburan. This plant resembles the Liriope in leaf and habit of growth, but it is a more robust plant, with leaves from 18 to 36 inches long. The flowers are pure white in color. It is valuable for shady locations and for growing in boxes and pots. Not hardy in the North. Excellent as a ground cover. Per Thousand $35.00 .70 5.00

NATIVE ORCHIDS

—Hardy Terrestrial Orchids—

There are few of our nature plants of such universal appeal as the various wild, native orchids found in many sections of our country and it is with delight that many learn they can be successfully planted in favorable garden situations.

- 4220 BLETILLA Hyacinthina. A beautiful Chinese terrestrial Orchid of the easiest culture in our more southern regions. Dark rosy lilac with white pleated shirt front. This is recommended as a fine novelty for our clients in the lower South and on the Pacific Coast. Each, $1.00 $37.50
- 4221 CADOPOGON Pulchellus. A dainty native orchid for growing in bog or water gardens, or useful for a semi-shaded place in the rock-garden. Magenta-pink with the lip bearded with white, yellow, and purple club-shaped hairs. Flowers borne in long racemes on a naked scape. Grass-like foliage. 3.00 25.00
- 4222 CALYPSO Bulbosa. (Calypso borealis-Cythera bulbosa.) Related to the Cypripediums and often from their resemblance called a "Lady's Slipper". A charming little orchid in deep rose or mauve, mottled and penciled in delicate pattern. Deliciously fragrant. The small bulb roots lightly in the thick beds of needles and leaves carpeting the fir woods where the flowers poise like wee butterflies on their slender stems. An early bloomer that may be easily transplanted and one that will thrive when suitable conditions are provided. Height 6 inches. 3.00 25.00

Cypripediums

Acaule. (Pink Lady's Slipper.) Grows about a foot tall, producing a large, showy, rosy-purple flower. Excellent for planting in shady and damp situations, in a dell among ferns, or along a wooded walk.

- 4223 Strong Divisions. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.00 40.00

Californicum. A true bog-plant that is rather difficult of nurture unless proper conditions of growth are provided; but a sort which once established is eminently worth-while, repaying all the extra care given it. It makes strong clumps with stout, leafy stems 18 to 30 inches tall, with yellow flowers, proportionately rather small. Native to California.

- 4224 Very Large Clumps. Price, Each, $1.50 13.50
4225 Strong Divisions. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00

Fasiculatum. (Brownie's Lady Slippers.) A low-growing sort with brownish flowers. Delicately scented as with vanilla. Western species.

- 4226 Extra Strong Divisions. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
4227 Flowering Divisions. Price, Each, 50 cts 5.50 50.00

Montanum. A lovely native Orchid found in the forest region of Northern California. It is not unlike the Eastern C. Pubescens in habit. The large flowers have white sacs and brownish sepals. Very fragrant with the odor of vanilla.

- 4228 Extra Strong Divisions. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.50 60.00
4229 Good Divisions. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.50 50.00

Parviflorum. (Small Yellow Lady's Slipper.) Very attractive small yellow flowers.

- 4230 Strong Divisions. Price, Each, 60 cts 5.00 40.00

Pubescens. (The Large, or Common Yellow Lady's Slipper.) Showy and fragrant blooms produced at the top of the stem. Grows about a foot high. Excellent for planting in small colonies, in shaded positions. Pale yellow flowers in May and June. The petals are usually twisted and are much narrower than the sepals in this variety.

- 4231 5-8 Crown Plants. Price, Each, $2.00 15.00
4232 3-4 Crown Plants. Price, Each, 75 cts 6.00 50.00
4233 1-2 Crown Plants. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 30.00

Spectabile. (C. Hirsutum.) (Showy Lady's Slipper.) The finest of our native Orchids. It grows about two feet high, bearing along the stalk several rather large roundish leaves, and on top one or two quite large rose-purple or nearly white flowers. A bog plant that will do well in moist, shaded locations.

- 4234 5-8 Crown Plants. Price, Each, $2.00 15.00
4235 3-4 Crown Plants. Price, Each, $1.00 8.00 70.00
4236 1-2 Crown Plants. Price, Each, 50 cts 4.00 30.00

- 4237 EPIPACTIS Gigantea (E. Royleana.) A native orchid bearing many racemes of brownish flowers so very similar to Lady's Slippers that this plant is often so-called, although it is a native Orchid of another species. Very easy in culture. Spreads by underground roots. June-July. $3.00 $25.00
- 4238 GOODYERA PUBESCENS. (Rattlesnake Plantain). Leaves white, finely reticulated, clustered at the bottom. Stem leaflets a foot high, bearing a short spike of white flowers. Plant in a shaded location in leaf-mold. Height 8 to 15 inches. 1.50 12.00
- 4239 HABENARIA ciliaris. (Yellow Fringe Orchid). The crowded flowers are of brilliant orange-yellow, with the petals fringed at the apex. A very striking species that is quite desirable for bog gardens, or wild gardens, or for the rockery. 5.00 40.00
- 4240 H. Hookeri. (Hooker Orchid). Yellowish-green flowers in early May. Very large showy leaves spread flat upon the ground. 3.50 30.00
- 4241 H. psycodes. (Small Purple Fringe Orchid). A delightfully dainty plant that is excellent for the rockery or shaded spot. Height 10 to 15 ins. 3.00 25.00
- 4242 ORCHIS spectabilis. (Showy Orchis). Flowers of delicate purple-pink, appearing in early spring. Suited best to shaded locations. Height 6 to 12 inches. 3.00 25.00
- 4243 POGONIA ophioglossoides. A little fibrous-rooted plant, found growing in sphagnum moss and near wet places in leaf-mold. The solitary or sometimes paired, pale rose or white, fragrant flowers are borne on stems 4 to 10 inches in height. Plants may be colonized in wet meadows. 3.00 25.00
- 4244 SPIRANTHES cernua. (Ladies Tresses). White flowers on pretty spikes 10 to 30 inches in length. Usually found in moist, open locations. An attractive species for use in many a naturalistic planting. 3.00 25.00

ORNITHOGALUM

—Star of Bethlehem—

- 4260 Arabicum. (Arabian Star of Bethlehem). A splendid bulb for indoor culture, for cut-flower use, or for conservatory decoration. The flowers are white with a contrasting black center, and possess a distinctive fragrance. 2.00 15.00
- 4261 Lacteum. This is a delightful bulb coming from the Cape of Good Hope where it is known as the "Darling Chinkerichee". Flowers milk-white. Late-flowering. The blooms when cut will last a month. (O. Thrysoides). 3.00 25.00
- 4262 Narbonensis. A hardy bulbous plant native of South Europe with heads of Brodiaea-like flowers of the purest white, keeled green. It possesses an odd fragrance. Height 12 to 16 inches. 2.00 15.00
- 4263 Umbellatum. (Common Star of Bethlehem). Beautiful white flowers for mass planting. Very fragrant and perfectly hardy. A charming dwarf variety. 1.00 7.00

PAEONIES

The Paeonies: Double, Single, Anemone, Japanese, and Tree types will be described in variety and at length in our "IRIS and PAEONY EDITION."

PAPAYER ORIENTAL

—Oriental Poppy—

These perennial Poppies rank among the most popular flowers in cultivation. Their bright colored, cup-shaped blooms, well poised on long, gracefully swaying stems lend color and grace and beauty to any planting in which they may be used.

We can recommend these many newer varieties as far surpassing many of the old sorts that your garden has known, and it is our hope that they will be used to a much greater extent in the beautification of American Gardens. Their cultivation is not as difficult as is often thought, especially if the proper planting season of early fall be observed.

	Price, Each, $1.25
4421 Mrs. Haggerty. (The Pink Kaffir Lily.) The flowers are clear pink without any suspicion of magenta or purple in the clear fresh color. It is unmistakably one of the most beautiful and hardy of all Autumn-flowering bulbs. The variety is strong and vigorous and flowers freely, sending up a succession of spikes bearing the widely expanded flowers until frost.		18.00
	Single Bulb, $2.00

SCILLA

—Squills—

Thoreau once said, "Scillas surely must have borrowed the blue of the sunniest skies for their pigment coloring," and truly you will agree with him when you see the abandon with which these early bloomers give of their best. They flourish in the sun as well as in the shade of trees, are ideal for the wild garden or the rock garden and are equally desirable for the border where they may be left undisturbed. All produce drooping bell-like flowers of great beauty.

"A Gathering of Aristocrats"

During the preparation of this catalogue, the talk at the office turned to Tulips, especially to the newer and finer varieties. Some one remarked that the various classes of May-flowering Tulips are getting to be so large, the lines of division between classes so dim and the color scale so complicated, while height, size, and blooming time are so varied, that confusion reigns in every mind that wades through our comprehensive lists in search of a good representative selection. That remark led to the query "What really would be a good selection?" and another step followed in the form of a proposal that we pool our opinions on the merits of outstanding May-flowering varieties. We then set a goal of 20 medium-priced superb sorts which must possess, irrespective of classes,

1. Very large, well shaped flowers.
2. Strong stems of about equal height.
3. Attractive color range.
4. Equality of flowering time.

That task took more time than one would imagine off-hand, but we finally agreed upon a list that had everybody's approval and which we "insiders", so to say, believe to be satisfying to the most critical expert. You will find a few of the older varieties in company with less well known kinds, because these older ones have no superior in the price range we adopted, one which we think is within the reach of any informed suburbanite who desires to plant only 100 fine bulbs or so, as well as of the plutocrat who plants 10,000.

This Is Our Choice

Full description will be found in the section devoted to Tulips; while here the symbols (B) for Breeder, (C) for Cottage, and (D) for Darwin types are used for convenience.

Books for Better Gardens

The Book of Bulbs

By Frederick Frye Rockwell is enjoying a well-earned popularity among garden-lovers; and we recommend it to all who plant bulbs of any kind as the best single book on the subject. The author, well known from his many other books including "Around the Year in the Garden" and the several "Home Garden Handbooks" out of a wealth of practical experience by means of lucid, readable text and many excellent illustrations, takes the reader in-ot the garden and reveals to him the possibilities in the utilization of bulbous types in garden development.

Graphically and authoritively the chapters deal one by one with the planning and making of bulb gardens, the naturalizing of bulbs, their propagation and their protection from insects and disease. As the pages progress they fulfill this fascinating prospect of all-the-year diversity and novelty attainable in bulb-raising; "You can have bulbs in bloom throughout the entire year. Starting with the snowdrops, scillas, grape hyacinths, in early spring, they follow through a constant succession: daffodils, tulips, bulbous irises, hardy lilies, tuberous begonias, cannas, dahlias, until the killing frost in September and October. And in November, with very little trouble and in any ordinary sunny living room, you can have the first of your winter-bulb blooms with a succession of them until the following Easter". Illustrated, 300 pages, $3.00 postpaid.

This book will be sent without charge to all patrons whose bulb order totals $40.00 or more.

Bulbs That Bloom In the Spring

T. A. Weston. Written for the amateur, this book affords all the information the home gardener requires, not only as regards the culture and flowering of newly purchased bulbs, but also in harvesting and ripening such bulbs as are planted in the fall for spring display. The chapters devoted to each of the important groups of spring-flowering bulbs cover each subject fully and provide information that the reader can easily understand. The author, who nowadays grows bulbs for a hobby, is thoroughly posted on the subject, and his writing combines the knowledge of his professional experience with the ability to impart it in a manner which, while fully instructive, is at the same time highly entertaining owing to the writer's quaint humor. It will be remembered that the author is the originator of the popular Viola "Jersey Gem".

The 60 magnificent full-page plates (eight of these in four color process) are worth more than the price asked for this charming book. Cover in four colors. Cloth, $2.15, postpaid. Paper, $1.65, postpaid.

This book will be sent without charge to all patrons whose bulb order totals $20.00 or more.

Bulb Gardening

By A. J. Macseif. The author in his preface states, "The precise object of this book is to furnish useful information and instruction which will enable those who desire to grow bulbs, tubers and corms in the garden or in the house to select suitable kinds for their purpose and environment, and to afford them treatment calculated to produce the best possible results". This is an excellent book, made particularly desirable by the numerous line drawings which explain operations and points better than illustrations might do. Illustrated in halftone and color. 223 pages. $2.15, postpaid.

This book will be sent without charge to all patrons whose bulb order totals over $30.00.

The Book of the Tulip

By Sir A. Daniel Hall, F. R. S. "Indispensable to the tulip fancier and delightful for all gardeners". This volume is based on more than thirty years' experience in the cultivation of tulips, and is primarily intended for the enthusiastic and capable amateur. The scientific aspect of the genus has not been neglected, but particular attention has been paid to the types and classes which are reasonably obtainable and of greatest interest to the ordinary general gardener who wants to grow the most attractive flowers, and to know something of their origin, cultivation and propagation. The descriptions have all been made from living specimens in the garden of the John Innes Horticultural Institution which grows the most complete collection of tulips in the world. There are 24 illustrations, of which 12 are in color, drawn from flowers specially grown for the purpose. 1929. 224 pages. Cloth, $6.25, postpaid.

Bulbs for American Gardens

By J. C. Wister. This is the most ambitious effort in the way of bulb books that has yet been published in the United States and the keen amateur gardener will doubtless appreciate it. The name of the author will influence many to invest the amount asked, for in the private horticultural world, John C. Wister is well known, not only as a garden enthusiast and writer, but also as president of the American Iris Society and secretary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society. Embracing almost 280 pages, 6 in. by 9½ in., finely printed and well bound in green cloth, this volume is at once impressive. It contains over 50 fine halftone plates and almost a score of line drawings. There are chapters dealing with General Culture of Bulbs; several on the various small bulbs for spring garden, rock garden, and wild garden; Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils, Lilies, Gladiolus, other summer flowering bulbs and the essentially tender sorts. Price $6.50, postpaid.

This book will be sent without charge to all patrons whose orders total over $100.00.

To bring more prominently to the attention of our gardening friends the outstanding merits for both outdoor and greenhouse cultivation of the new HYBRID WATSONIAS, we have prepared a special illustrated descriptive list with full historical and cultural notes which will shortly be ready for distribution. We have, therefore, withdrawn them from this edition of our catalogue. Kindly reserve your copy immediately as but a limited number will be distributed.

It is our parting wish that this catalogue may have proven interesting and have stimulated you to reach out for some of the rare, less well known things for your garden, for we wish to awaken the adventurer's spirit in gardeners, even as the Prince de Ligne wished to awaken the gardening spirit among the adventurers of his day when he wrote: "I should like to enflame the whole world with my taste for gardening. There is no virtue that I do not attribute to the man who lives to project and execute gardens".

BUSINESS TERMS AND SUGGESTIONS

The attention of our customers is respectfully called to the following business terms and suggestions, because their observance will benefit themselves and help us.

PRICES. Our prices are based upon the furnishing of only the best quality stock with our unique service. They are net and subject to change without notice. Special arrangements can be made with Garden Clubs and Flower Guilds buying together. Secretaries may write for terms.

ORDERING. We suggest that whenever possible you use the order form accompanying this catalogue or special bulletin, in submitting your order; and that you order by number as well as by name; giving full shipping instructions as to method of shipment: parcel post, express, or freight; route; and preferred time of shipment. Early registration of your order with us will enable us to have the very cream of the stock reserved for you. All orders for the new introductions in Tulips and Narcissus must be submitted before July 15th or we can not be responsible for delivery, as these are secured only upon order and as the stock of them is very limited. All orders will be promptly acknowledged, and no order is subject to cancellation except in the first week after you receive our acknowledgement.

PAYMENTS AND REMITTANCES. On orders that are accompanied by full remittance client may make a deduction of 5 per cent. of total amount of orders. On all shipments the customer pays the forwarding charges. Shrubs and plants are not sent C. O. D.; and, if so requested, will be billed to the client. We extend the courtesy of open account to responsible parties upon the receipt of suitable references. On such billed orders the forwarding charges are met by the customer, and payments are due thirty days after date of invoice. Your courtesy is here requested. Remittances should be made by check, bank draft, post office money order, or express money order; small sums may be sent in postage stamps, but currency should never be sent unless by registered letter. All remittances will be acknowledged.

DELIVERIES. Unless otherwise instructed orders received during the shipping season will be forwarded as soon after receipt as possible; and orders booked in advance will be shipped in rotation when our season opens, with reference, however, to the locality and season of the section in which each client resides. All bulbs, plants, etc., are delivered in best planting season, unless we are given preferential shipping dates to meet the client's convenience. Combined with the index you will find approximate shipping dates for most items, but as these are only approximate and depend upon season and other unascertainable factors, we cannot be held to delivery on any particular date. Failure of crops exempts us from delivery.

FORWARDING. We ship by Parcel Post, Express, or Freight as the nature of stock and the size of shipment may suggest best to us, unless specially advised by our clients. Small orders are usually forwarded by Parcel Post. Shrubs, Hedge Plants, Trees, and other dormant stock can be safely forwarded by freight, even to distant points at a considerable saving over shipments by express.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS. Specially prepared cultural directions for each subject ordered will be sent with each shipment.

SAFE ARRIVAL. A notification card precedes shipment by a day or two. We warrant the safe arrival of all goods shipped by Express or Parcel Post to any part of the United States. If a package so forwarded is damaged, injured, or lost, we shall replace the same immediately upon notification of injury or non-receipt. We must ask, however, that claims for damages be made immediately upon receipt of goods, or in the case of non-receipt one week after receipt of notification card.

ERRORS. Early ordering helps to prevent errors. Our order-filling system calls for complete rechecking by efficient supervisors so that you may be assured of accuracy. Should an error appear please notify us at once that we may rectify it. If some item is missing, do not think that an error has necessarily been made. Look first for a memorandum either enclosed with your package or sent by mail, telling you that some items of your order will follow later: items not yet ready, or not suitable for using at the time of shipment.

WHAT WE GUARANTEE. We sell only the first quality stock and believe that all bulbs, plants, shrubs, etc., offered by us are true to name, color, and description. When they prove otherwise we cheerfully replace them upon notification. We further guarantee that all stock leaves our shipping rooms in the best of condition, alive, vigorous and healthy. Any that appears otherwise upon receipt will be immediately replaced. Where responsibility for cultural failure may seem to lie with us we will assume it and make replacements. And as our business and reputation rest upon satisfied customers, we make every attempt to leave them not only satisfied customers, but loyal and enthusiastic supporters and boosters.

WHAT WE DO NOT GUARANTEE. We find it impracticable to give complete assurance that everything will grow, thrive, and bloom in your garden, because we can assume no control over contingencies of soil, climate, season, planting, and care when once the stock has left our hands.

ADVISORY SERVICE. We are always glad to help you in the solution of your garden problems, and correspondence upon them is invited. Within a year we shall add a Complete Department of Landscape Service offering several unique features. Watch for its announcement. Quite naturally we are pleased to learn of your garden successes and triumphs, but we are also desirous of learning of your less successful ventures that we may assist you in overcoming them. All such inquiries will be promptly and fully answered.
