THE DAILY BEE.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 20.

In the great possiting match which has now begin in Binepe, the sympathies of Americans are, we presume, without exception, on the side of France and Bardinia. There is no possible claim which Ametrican archive to the friendship, the respect, or the kindly wishes of our countrymen. The government of that empire, its traditions, in towrishle policy, the past history—all milliate against such claim. The House of Hapsburg has realed by force and terror, and whafever its sway has extended, it has been consolidated by dire acts of cruelty and oppression. Its name is synonismus with fraud, perfuly, from gaspotism and unrelenting rigor. In Italy, Austria has governed interally by the sword. Her power over that miscoverned and abused people would not be worth an hour's tenure, were it not perpetually enforced by a resistless military domination. Throughout the Lombardo-Venitian provinces, and in all the presentions anonexed to Austria by the treaty of Vienna, the freedom of the Italian races has been crushed out, their movements, actions, and all most their very thoughts subjected to an ever watchful system of espionagd. The slightest manifestation of independence, an obnor lous cookade, an untimely display of approbation at a popular sentiment, the feed less use of the word "theory," in fact a shadow of sispicion, well or il founded, are punished by banishment, confeccion, the scourse, or the scoffick. Austria has applied to Italy, with renewed ferocity, the pittless crucities practiced in Hungary. The imperious and inscreadle signed of Francis Joseph understands and appreciates no other method of subduing a rebellious nation save by merciless severity.

The kingdom of Sardinia has evinced attoined to course in bodily confronting the Austrian tyrant, and though in the war of lists has was wholly unable to withstand the enormous military resources of her enemy, and had to abandon the rest of Italy to its fate, the ealigtened monarch who succeeded Charles Alessen has never wholly relinquished the idea of being the leader and champion of the Italian people in another struggle to free themselves from the hateful bondage of Austria. Victor Emanyer, has evinced prudence and sagacity in biding his time: In waiting until the haughty and intractable Hapsburger should bring upon himselfa more formidable enemy—one who has a less than the continue unfavorable.
