ORI

295.63

$\mathbb{T H} \mathbb{E} \mathbb{D} \mathbb{E} S \mathcal{A T I R}$ OR

Sacred deluitings

of THE

ANCIENT PERSIAN PROPHETS;

IN THE ORIGINAL TONGUE;
Together with
THE ANCIENT PERSIAN VERSION AND COMMENTARY

OF THE Fifth Susan;
CAREFULLY PUBLISHED

- BY

MULLA FIRUZ BIN KANS,

WHO HAS SUBJOINED A COPIOUS
$G \mathbb{L} \mathbb{O} \mathbb{A} \mathbb{R} \mathbf{Y}$
Of the Obsolete and Technical Persian Terms:
TO WHIR IS ADDED
An English Transition
of the Desâtîr and Commentary.
IN TWO VOLUMES.

VOL. II. printed at the courier press, by J. f. de jesus-

$$
\begin{aligned}
& 1818 . \\
& \because \because a \cdot 1 \quad \because \end{aligned}
$$

$$
\begin{gathered} 015275 \cdot 43 \\
i+1 i 5 \\
44205
\end{gathered}
$$

TO BRIGADIER GENERAL

Sir JOHN MALCOLM,

K. C. B., K. L. S.

late minister plenipotentlary to the

Sir,

THE uniform kindness and attention with which you have honored me for so many years, and the grateful memory of the zeal with which, on so many occasions, you have promoted my interest and views, would of themselves have pointed out yous: name as that with which I should be most proud to adorn my volumes, were not the same distinction called for by your unrivalled knowledge of the history and manners of the East, which has been displayed for the benefit of your country, and, let me add, no less of ours too, both in your admirable writings, and in your numerous successful embassies and negociations. Your romantic bravery, and successful daring in the late brilliant campaign, if faithfully recorded, might seem to make history encroach on the province of poetry. The generous' praise of the noble and illustrious person' who guides our

Eastern Empire, is but an anticipatio of the voice of impartial posterity:
That you may long live to enjoy the honors which you have gained in arts and in arms, and to diffuse the generous feelings which have led you to glory, is the ardent prayer of

Your very humble and ## faithful Servant,

MULLA FIRUZ BIN KAUS:

Bombay,
2d May 1818.

PREFACE.

$T$H E following pages contaic one of the most singular morks that has ever appenred in the east./ The Desatir professess to be a collection of the writings of the diferent Persian Prophets, whe finuthshed from the lime of Mahabad totine cipe of the fifth Suant, being fifieen in muaber; of whom Zerdusit, or Zoreaster was the thirtecnith and rie fifit Sasan the lasf. The fifth Sasan lived in the time of Khusro Parvez, witu kis contemporary wihthe Limperor Heraclius, and died only nlne yrars before the destructinn of the uncient Persian monarchy. The wrilisgs of these fifteenprophetsare in a tongue of which mo other vestige appears to jemain, and which would have been unineclligible without the assistance of theancient Persian iranslation. It is quite a different language frou the Zend, the Pelisevi, nud the Deni, the nont eclebrated of the dah eis of nncient Persia, The old Persian translation was made by the fifila Sasan, who ling added a commentary, in which some difficulies of the originat text are expounded. The commentary displays a very subtleand redned metaplissics.
'lhis work, though knowa to have existed as late as the reign of Shah Jehan, had eluded the search of the curious in oriental history and antiquities in later times. I'benfitution of the Enropean rorld was first directed to it by Sir William Jones, a man of whom Enghand is justly prond, and whose profound knowledge of Persian history and litcrature, entitles all his remarles on these subjects to the highest attention. That tecomplished writer, in his Sixth. Andiversary Discourse delivered before the Asiaticis Suciety " Ub the Persians," after explaininghis own peculiar qualifications for the task $n$ hich he had undertaken of unfolding the nullquilies of Persia, contioues; " And since I have maturcly considered " the questions which Imenp to discuss, you will not, I am persuaded * suspect my testimony, or think that I gotoo far when I assure you, that "I will assert nothing positively which I am not able satisfactorily to "demonstrate" He then remarks, that it had long seemed to him nnaccountably strange, Ihat althnugh Egypt, Yemen, the Chinese, and India had their monarchs in very early times " yet Fersia, the most delightfule

" the most conspact, the most desirable country of them all, should have
"t remained fur so many ages 'unsetlted and disunitad. A fortunnte dis-
"6 covery," he adds, "for which I pas first indebsed ta Mir Mulammed
" Husain, one of the mast intelligent Muselmans in India, has at one disas sipated the cloud, and castagleam of light of the primeval history of st 1ran, and of the humun race, of which 1 had long despaired, and which " could hardly have dawned from any other quarter.
" The rare and interesting tract on tevelve different religions, entilled "t the Dabistan, and composed by a Mubammedan traveller, a native of ${ }^{46}$ Cashmir, named Mohsan, but distinguished by the pstnmed surname
" of Fanior parishable, begins, with the wonderfully curious chnpter on "t the religion of Ilushang, which was long anterior to that of Zerä.
" cusht, but had continued to be secretly professed hy many tearued
" Persians, erth to the author's time; atid several of the most çaincnt "f,
"thrm, dissenting in many points from the Gabrs, and persecuted by the " ruling powers of their country, had retire d to India, where they com" piled a number of books, now extremely ecarce, which Mohs:n had.
" perused, and with the writers of which, or with many of thrm, he had "contracted an intimate friendship, From them he learned, that a *. powerful monarchy had been established for ages in lran brfore theac..
" cession of Cayumers; that it was called the Malatadian dynasty for is " reason which will soon be mentioned; and that many princes, of whom "bulor Haha beli, had raised their empire to the zenith of human glory.

"If wecin rely on this authority, witich to me app-ars unexceptionabie;
"the Iramian monarchy must trave been the oldest in the" world."
After some new and valuable remarks on the ancient binguages and characters of Iran, Sir William Jones proteeds to characterise the religion of the Desatir and Dabistan in the following words, Which will form the best introdiction to these volumes.
' "The primeval religion of Iran, if we rely on the authorities addu${ }^{4}$ ced by Mohsan Fani, was that which Newton calls the oldest (and
* Asiat : Res: Vol. I1. pp. 48-4!. Octavo Ldition.,

If It may be juctly colledithe noblest) of all religions: 'A firm belief * that one supreuce God madr he aorld by his power, and cominualiy

- governed il by his prividince; a pious fear, love and adoration $n$.
- him; adue reserence for parcots and aged persons; a fraternal affeo.
\& tion for the whole human species, and a compassionate tenderness even * for the brute creation;' A system of devotion so pure asd eublin ${ }^{\text {e }}$
" could hardly among mortals, be of long duration: and we leara from
" the Dabistan that the popular worship of the Iranians under Hushang,
": wis purely Sabiun; a word of which i cannot offer any certain ety"
" mology, but which has bern daduced by grammarians from Suba, on
"hoat, and parilcularly she acaf of hosven, or the celestial bodie:, in " the adoration of thich the Sabian ritual is helieved to have, consisted-*Thereis a descriplion, in the learned work just mentiuned, of the se-
"Feral Persian temples dedicated to the sun and planets, of the image
" adored in them, and of the magnificent processions to them on pre"' ecribed festirals; one of which is prohably represented by sculpture io the ruined city of Jemshid. But the planetary worship in Persia "s scems only part of a far more complicated religion, which we now "find io the Bndinn provinces; for Alohsan assures ts that, in the opi"s nion of the heat inf rused Parsians, who professed the fnich of Hush"angy distingisished from that of Zeratusht, the first mounrels of Irnna 's and of the whole carth, was Mahabad (a word apparent:y Sanicrit), " wha divided the people into four orders, the religions, the military, " tho commercial, aid the servile, to which he assigned names unques. " tionably the game in theirorigin with those now ejplied to the four ". primary classes of tie ilindus. Thiry added, that he recrised from the "Crentor, and promulgated among men, a sacred buok in a heaventy - langirge. to which the Muselman anthor gives the Alabic title of DC" sntir, or regulutions, but the ociginal name of which he has not asen.
" tioned; apd that fourleen duhabuds had appered, or wauld appear,
" in human shapes fur the governafut of this world. Now when we " know that the flindus belirge infoureen Alenus, or cetestial persons " ages wilh simitar functions, the flest of whom left a book of regula. "tions or diaine ordinances, "hach they hotd equal to the Veda, and "the lanyuage of wiltultey believe in be thint uf the Gods, we can - hardly donlit that llie first corruption of the purest and oldege relifion "twas the system of Indian theology insented by the Branmon, and "prevalent in these tearionies, where the hook of Mahabad, or Meny, " is at this moment the staudird of all religious and moral duties. The " accession of Cayumers to the throne of Persia, in the pighth or ninth * century before Christ, secms to have been accomp..nted by a considerable revolution both in government and religion; he wat most probably of a different race from the Mababadians who preceded bim, and begno perhaps the new system of mational faith which Hushang, whose names it bears, completen; bat the reformation was partial,
"for, while they rejected the enmplex polytheism of their predeces-
"s sors, they retained the laws of Mahabad, with a supersitious vene-
" ration for the sun, the planets, and fire; thus resembling the Hindu * sects called Sauras and Sagnicas, the second of which is very nume*
c" rous at Benaras, where many agnihotias are contidually blazing,
" and where the Sagnicas when they enter on their sacerdotal office kindle, with two pieces of the hard wood Semi, a fire which they keep lighted through their lives for their nuptial ceremony, the performance of solemn sacrifices, the obsequies of departed ancestors, and their own funeral pile. This remarkable rite was continued by " Zeratusht, who reformed the old religion by the additien of genii, or "angels, presiding over months and days, of uew ceremonies in the ve" neration siewn to gre, of a new work which he pretended to have " received frum hesven, and above all by establishing the actual adora" tion ofone supreme Being. He was born, according to Molisan, in " the district of Rai; and it was he ( uot as Ammianus asserts, his pro" tector Gushtasp) who travelled into India, that he might receive " information from the Bralmans in theology and ethics. It is barely " possible that Pythagoras knew him in the capital of Irak; but it ${ }^{\text {e }}$
"Grecian sage must then have been far advanced in years; and we " have no certain evidence of an intercourse between the two philoso"phers. The reformed religion of Perfia continued in force till that " country was subdued by the Muselmans; and, without studying the " Zend, we have ample information concerning it in the modern Per-
"s sian writings of several who professed it. Bahman always named Zc" ratusht with reverence; but he wns in truth a pure theist, and strong-
" Iy disclamed any adoration of the Lire or other elements; he denied " that the doctine of two coseral principles, supremely good and su-" premely had, formed any part of his faith; and he often repeated  with emphasis the verses of Firdansi on the prostration of Cyrus and " his patermal grandfather before the blazing altar; 'Think not that they
- were adorers of fire; for that element was only an exalted object
- on the lustre of which they fixed their ejes; they humbled themselve's
- a whole week before God; and, if thy understanding be ever so litlle
- pxerted, thou mure acknowledge thy dependeace on the Being su-
'premely pure.' In a story of Sadi, dear the close of his beautifut

" Bustan,

" Euatin, concerning the idol of Somanath, or Mahadeva, he:con-

* founds the religion of the llindus with that of the Galirs, cnlling the "Brammon not only Moghs (which. inight be justified by a passage in
" We Alesnavi) hat even readery of llic Zand and Parend; Now, whe-$\because$ ther this confucion procected from real or pretended innorance I "cannot decidp, but am as wrll convinctd that the ductrines of the Zend
"were distinct from those of the Veda, as $I$ am that the religion of the " Brahmans, will whon we conperse every day, prevailed in Persia, ${ }^{6}$ before the nccespion of Cayumers, whom the Parsig, from respect to " his memory, consider asthe first of men, allliough they believe in an
"t universal deluge before hia ruign."
"With the religion of the old Persians their philosophy (or as much "" as we know of it ) was intimately connected; for they were assidu-
" aus observers of the luminaries, which they adored, and establisthed,
" according to Mohsan, who cinfirms in some degree the fragments of " Berosns, a number of artificial cycles wi th distinct names, tihich scem
" to indicate a khowledgge of the perind in which the equinoxes appear "to revolve. They are said also to have known the most wonderful
"t powere of nnture, nut thence to have acquired the fame of Nagiciabs.
" and 4 enchanters &c."
After a few observations on the mystical thenlogy, the monumentsof sculpture, and the sciences and arts of the ancient Persians, the learned author concludes. "Thus has it been proved by clear evidence and plain " reasoning, that it cowerful monarchy was eftablished in Iranlong be" fore the Assyrian or Pishdadi gorernment ; that it was in truth a Hindu " monarchy, though if nny chuse to call it Cusean, Casdean, or Scythian " we shall not enter into a debate on mere names; that it subsitited many ${ }^{46}$ centuries, and that ils history has been engrafted on that of the Ilindus " who founded the toonarehies of Ayodhya and Indraprestia; that the " language of the first Persian empire was the mother of the Sanscrit; " and consequently of the zind and Parsi, as well as of the Greek, Latin, " and Gothic, that the language of the Assyrians was the parent of the "Cbaldaic and $\dagger$ Pnmivi.."

It is not surprizing that, the deliberate jadgment of so enlightened an enquirer as Sir William Joneg, and the inportant conclusions to which the disquisitions fountied in the facts contained in the Desatir evidently led, should liave excited a yery strong desire to discover and bring to light a 4 Asint. Res: Vol. II pp. 58-69, $\ddagger$ Ibid P . 64 .
volume an precious to history. This wish has been ofien and atrongty. expressed by the persons who were hest qualifird to appreciate the valuo of such a work. But the testimony contained in the Discourse of tha Most Noble the Marquis of Hastines nt the public visitation of the College of Fort William on the 15th July 1816, is that which is most highly gratifying to the Editor, not unly ns being the apinion of a nobleman profoundly conversant with the histury and apirit of the East, but as ron. taining a flattering complisnent to the Editor himelf; "Among the " Jiterary notices of this sear," utys the Governor (ieneral, "there is "s one, which, although not edited under the immediate allspices of "t this Institution, or even of this Government, is, nevertheless so great a " hiterary curlobity, that 7 canuot refrain from bringing it forward, by 46 public mention, on this occasion. Iallude to that interesting work, "* the Desatir, which bad for some time been lost to the literary world, unat til a copy was almost accidentally recovered by the learnid Clief "Priest of the Parsee religion at Bombay. A trabslation into Linglish & " a glossary of the obsolete words has been prefared under the supetin"tendence of the Moolla, and in this state the work is now inthe press * at that presidency. The Desatir, which purposts to be a collection of " the works of the elder Persian prophets, will he peculiarly an object of " curingity with the learned of Burope, as well as of this country, for is is 4s unquestoonally the only relique which exists of the literature of that " period of Perfian history, which is familiar to us from its connection or with the history of Greece."
Where a work comes before the public with such high pretentinns, it is but seasonable to expect that some account should he given, not only of. the mention which has been made of it by the writers of past ages, but of the way in which the copy from which it is now pinated was originally found.
The Desatir is known to bave exiated for innny years and lias frequently been referred to by Persian writers, though as it was regarded as the Sacred Volume of a particular sect, it seems to have heen guarded with that jealous care; and that incommunigntive spirit that have particularly distinguished the religious sects of the Dast. We can only fairly expect therefore, that the contents should be known to the followers of the sect. It is accordingly quoted by Behram Feriad, the author of the Sharistan! Char Chemen, who dourished in the reign of Akbar, and died about AD. 1624. in the reign of the Emperor Sehangir. This author, who ap. pears to have been a natior of shiswz, though outwardly a Musselman, Was really a Parsi, of rather a disciple' of Azer-Keiwan, a philosoptical Thical ascetic, who founded a new sect on the foundation of theana eient Parsi tenets. The Desatir mas knonn to Hakim-ibni-Khatifute Tebrizi Mubammed Husain, the allthor of the Burliani Kntin, the best dictionary extant of the Persian language, who livit in the age of Shath Jeban s and at that time the credit of the Desatir must have beenhigh, since he often quotes the commentary as his authority for words in the old Persian. The author of the Dabistan, who seems to have flourished in the reigns of Jehangir and Shah Jehan, frequenlly mentions the Desatir, and indeed aduptsit far lis guide in the necount which he gires of the religious dynantics of Mahabsuand big successors.

As to the copy from which the present edition was printed, it is carefully taken from that in the possession of the Edicor, Mulla Firuz, being the only manuscript of the work known to exist. It was purchased at Isfahan by his father about forify fise years agn, from one Agha Nuhammed Taher, a bookseller, who, understunding that the Editor's father was an Indian Parsi, brought it to hiun for sule, induced by the words Kitabi Gabri (a Gabr Book) which were written on the cover. Kaus, the father of Firuz, had been sent by the Parsis of Indin en travel in Persla for the parpose of unking anme enquirien regnrding the rem, pant of the Parsis in that country ; and particularly in seareh of materinls that might enable him to settle the disputes wlich prevailed among the Parsig of India concerniug their computation of time; the difference of a complete month having taken place in their modes of recknning, during the longinterruption of intercourse between the Parsis of India and those of Persia; a circumstance which had produced a schism nt Surnt some following the Killendar of the Parsis of Kerman, others that which had been in use for some centuries among the Farsis of Iludin. This harmless schism still continues.
Some years ago this worls altencted the notice of the Honornhle . Tr nathar Duncan, the late Governo of Bombay, $n$ gentleman whone friendship the Editor had the happiness of eajoying fur a loug perind. He had devoted mach of his attention to the manbers und institutions of the East, and was equally distinguilhed for the zeal with which he hima self prosecuted these enquiries, and for the libernlity with which he patronised those why did. Mr. Duncan was struck with the character of the work, and after various enquiries regarding its aullienticily, of which the satisfied himself, resolved to steal some hourg from public buciness to devote to the task of translating the Du:atir; a labor in which at varinus periody during the course of nearly fire grare, he was assized by the Editor.

In the year 1811, Mr. Duncan was advised to leare Bombny, in ennsequence of his decinimg, healith. Still faithful to his resolution of conpleting the translation ot the Desalir, which he had resolved to present to his Majesty as the most valunble tribute that lie could offer him on his seturn from the Fast, he gained the Editor's consent to accompany him to the Isle of France that he might assist in the translation which was nutr considerably advanfed: but the death of MIr. Duncan, before be could embark, deprived the Editor of one of his most valued friends, and put an end to this plan, which had occupied some of his latest thougits, when nearly one half of the work was fiushed. The part which lio translated has, it is understond, beren sent to England with his other papers. Tt is to bo regrelted hiat Mir. Duncan did not lige to cumplete a work for which he was every way so well qualified.

Sonn after thisevent, when General Sir John Malcolm wns collecting materials fur his History of Persia, the accounts which lie had treard regarding the Desatir, and the high opinion of its value entertained by Sir William Jones, produced some enquiries ohich terminated in lis expressing to the Eiditor his decided judgment that it should be given to the public io the original, that its preteasions and merits, such an they were, might meet with a more complete and fair investigation than it was pos, sible for them in receive while the work remained in manuscript ; and in deed, as far us has yet appeared, shut upina single copy, Forilie favnurableterms in which the Editor and his plans are menioned by Sir John Malcolm in various parts of his admirable History of Persia, the Editor returns that gentieman his most grateful thanks.

The opinion of the historinn of Persia, which bad so much weighe with the Editor, and was likely to have so much with the public, ted to the present publication. The text of the Desatir is now printed eatire, a. long with its Persian translation and commentary, under the care of the 1:ditor, who has laboured with unwearied zeal to leave nothing undone on his part, that coold render the work complete. To the original work he has added a glossary of sucls nncient and technical words as occur ia teold Persian transtation, and to those who make the langunge or antiquities of Persis their study, this glossary, the fruit nf many years' observation, nay not be estecmed the least valuable paft of the volumes. The whole he commits to the judgment of the learned.
I's the Right Hunurable the Gusernor in Council of Bombay his most gratcful thanks are due for the liberal patronage they have affurded to ahin Publicalion.

Nór can he conclude this Preface without returning his acknowledgmento to Mr. Erakine for the valuable atsistance received from him in tanny instances during the progress of this undertaking.
With these observations the Editor delivers to the publica work which onr-many years has been his favorite study. Unless his partiality for it migicadshim, hetruetathat it will be received ag a valuable addition to the historical and literary nunalsof the East. The few years of his life Elant may yet remain to him the inteoris, to devote tothe completion of an - Epic puem an the Conquest of India by the Britisll," on which he has for many yenrs been employed, and which lie has nenrly brouglte to a close.
If hisiname is to be known to future ages and to be enrolled among the omall number of pocts whose works have survived the touch of time, ho fundly loges that it may be conveyed to pasterity by the same worlc which records the unrivalled triumplis of British valorg and that, by she' fortunate ascociation, his fame may perish only with the memory of Britishglory.

Bombat, 2d May 1818.
-The Georgenameh.
$\left.\right|^{\prime \prime}$

SUBSCRIBERS

TO THE DESATIR

his royal highness

THE PRINCE REGENT,

TWO COPIES.

THE MOST NOBLE
THE MARQUES OF HASTINGS, K. G.
GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.
SIX COPIES.

THE GOVERNMENT OF COMBAY,

one hundred comes.

B. $\quad \stackrel{\dot{\Delta}}{\stackrel{\Delta}{\dot{~}}}$

Anstruther, Sir, A. Recorder $\begin{aligned} & \text { Bax, John, Esq. } \ldots \ldots \ldots \\ & \ldots . . . .1\end{aligned}$

Ashburner, Luke, Fen. $; \ldots .1$
Apcar, Mr. Arratoon, ... ...
I Barnes, Venerable the Arch. Ardaseer Framjee, ... ... l Adam, Wm. Esq. Chief Sec. Briges, Captain John, ... 1 to Govt. Bengal. ... ... 2 Brown, George, Esq. ... 2
Anderson, G, W. Esq. 'K'aira. 1 Babington, Stephen, Esq. ... 2
Ardaseer Dhunjee Shah, ... 1 Bruce, Cajt. William, ... 1
Agnew Major, ... ... ... 1 Baird, P. C. Esif. ... ... 1
Alves Lientenant, ... ... 1 Boyce, Mr. William, ... ... 1
Anderson, Mt. Esq. Deputy Bellino, Mr. Charles, ... ... 1
Regr. Sudder Adawlut, Bhicajee Merjec, ... ... ... 1
Madras. ... ... ... ... 1|Berzoorjee Nanabhoy, ... 1

Kennedy, Captain, Vass. ... ifNepean, the Pirpht IIon'ble
Kempt, Mr. R. ... ... ... 1
Keys, Captain Charles, ......
Keate, Thomas, M. Esq. ...
Ǩennedy, Richard M. D. Esq.
Kennedy, Col. M. ... ...
Keath, J. II. Esi. Dep. Com. mercial Kesidcut at Salum.
Kaikhosroc Sorahjee, ... ...
L.

Library of the Sitrary Society of Bombay, ... ... 1
Lithgow, Colonel James, ...
Low, Lieut. Jnhn, ... ... 1
Law, C. Esq. Post MasterGiri.
Latureiro Mr. Mencique Jort.
Limjee bhicajer, ... ... ...

II

Balcolm, Brimadier Girneral Sir Jolm, K. ('. I3. M. L. S. and I. I. 1

Sir Eran, Bart. Goveruor of Bomhay. 3
Newbolt, the Hon'ble Sir John Kt. Chief Justice of Madras. ... ... ... ... ... 1
Nightingall, (ieneral, Licut. Nir Miles K. A. IB. Commanderin Chicf, Bomhay. 2 Newnham, Wilham Esq. Secretary to Gort. liombay. 1
Vewnham, Thomas Esq. Madas Civil Establishment. 1
Newnham, Fenry Esq. Een2al Establishmont. ... l
Yoton, Brajamin Esis. ... 1
S:upicr, Capi. ... ... ... $\boldsymbol{2}$
Sicol, lin ur. liol. ... ... l 0
Oliser, Hm . Esiq. Remisier
Comurt of Sudider Adawlut, Madras. I

Malcolm, David, Esq. ... ... 1
Marhride, John David, 11. 1'.
L. Profecsor of Arabic in the Unicersity of Oxford. 2
Wacklin, Ilugh (ivorge. limp. Advocate (icm. Bombay..... 1
Michie, Licut. Jomathan,. .11

- Morris, Jolin Esq. ... ... 1

Morison, John Esig. ... ... 1
MeMurdo, Capt. J. Resident at Aujar. ..... ..... os
Mellraith, Mr. ... ... ... $]$
McDonald, Lient. O. ... ... 2
Munro, James Esq. Register Zillah Court at Dharrimpooram Coimbalore, Madras. ... ... ... ... ... l Reid, J. H. Enq. ... ... I
Macan, T. Esy. Calcuttia ... : Romer, John Ery. Jtadre N
Martin, R. Esq. Calcutta.... 11 Magistrat., Surat. ... ... 1
McVeigh Mr. Schoolmaster, 1 Russell, licut. Coloncl, ... J Mrerwanjee Nowroozjec Ma. nockjee,...

|  | T. |
| :---: | :---: |
| Robinson, the Rerd. Thomas, Pocna. | Taylor, Doctor John, ... 1  Towsey, Capt. Edward, ... 1 |
| Fiuttonjee Bomanjee, S. | $\left\lvert\, \begin{array}{ccccc} \text { Thompson, } & \text { Capt. } & \text { 17th Dra- } \\ \text { goons. } & \text {... } & . . & \ldots . & . . \\ 1 \end{array}\right.$ |
| .. 1 | W |
| Smith, Lianel, Brigadier General, Puona. ... ... ... 2 | Warden, Francis, Esin. Chief Secretary 10 the Govern- |
| , bart, dihn, Esq. ... ... 5 | nt of Bombay. ... ... 2 |
| Stewart, Captan John, | Wedderburn, John, Esq. Ac- |
| Sitephensun, R. E. Lsq. ... 1 | countant General. ... ... 1 |
| teuart, Robert, Esq. | Wade, the Revd. N. ... ... 1 |
| Suinton, George Esq. Sec. to Governmeat Bengal. ... 2 | Willock, Capt, Henry, Chargé d'affaires at the Court |
| Sawers, J. Esqu. ... ... ... 2 | of Teheran, ... ... ... 1 |
| S.aly, Major H. Wr. ... ... 1 | Wilkine, William, Esq. ... |
| Stannus, Captain, ... ... l\| | Woodhouse, Ollyett, Esq. ... 2 |
| Suiherland, James Esq. third | Woodhouse, Mr. Richard, ... 2 |
| Judge of the Provincial | Williams, Monier Capt. Sur - |
| Court of Circuit and up- | veyor General. ... ... 1 |
| Syyed Mohummed Clloe |  |
| $\text { Yezdey, } . . . \quad . .$ | Judge and Magistrate at Mangalore. ... ... ... 1 |
| rd, Esq. ... 1 | Y. |
| Tod, Captain - | Young, Licutenant Colonel, |
| Invey, Captain | Calcutta, ... ${ }^{\text {... }}$.. |

In England Subscribers to the number of Fifty have been acquired by the Editor's friends. ..... 50

'Additional SUBSCRIBERS' to the DESATIR:' received

 . since the foncroing list was printed.

[THEBOOK  of the ## prophet, THE GREAT ABAD.]

1. DET us,take refugè with Mezdân from evil thoughts which mislead and afflict us.
2. In the name of Shemta, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Kind, the Just !
3. In the name of Lâreng !
4. The origin of Mezdam's being none can know. Except Himself, who can comprehend it?
5. Existence and unity and identity are inseparable properties of His original substance, and are not adventitions to Him.

Commentary. Whence it is clear that-alhough your substance is not adequate to the discovering of things till you are affected by the quality of knowledge; while as, soon as ${ }^{\text {you }}$ are so affected, such discovery becones practicable; yet that the same is not the case with God, (Yezdan) as He knows every thing by his own sulstance without the intervention of qualities.
a. This title is not in the original and is added to make the first Bork uulform with the others. All the titles of the Books have been added by the , Persian tranalatur or by some traniscriber; as the names given in them to the various prophew are those of the translation, not of the original.
[Note of the Translator.]
6. He is without beginning, or end, or associate, or foe, or like unto him, or friend, or father, or mother, or wife, or child, or place, or position, or body, or any thing material; or colour, or smell.
7. He is Living, and Wise, and Powerful, and Independent and Just: and his knowledge extends over all that is heard, or seen or that exists.
3. And (, alb) existence is visible to his knowledge at once, without time: and from Him nothing is hid.

Commentary. 'The perfection of his knowledge consists in this, that it has no dependence on time : and it appertains to his greatness that nothing a ppears as past, present or futipre ; the whole progress of time and. length of duration, with the events which, succeed: ing each other in successive portions, mark its divisions, are visible to God at one moncnt: not as in our knowledge which we receive by broken portions; some of events that are past, some of such as are now visible, and others of such as are to come.
9. He doth not evil & abideth not with the *evil-inclined. Whatever He hath done is good.

* Persian Note, He zoishes not' for evil, and is not an evil-wisher.

10. In the name of Lareng!
11. The Simple Being, without hope of return, of his own beneficence.and. love of good, first of all, ćreated a substance free and unconfined, unmixed, immaterial, not subject to time, withowt body or aught material, or dependence on body, or matter, of quality, named Behnam, whose title is the chief of Angels.
Commextary. Hail to the Bomulful God! the Bestower of goo.l, the Benevolent, the Just', the Friend of Bounty: who without the supplication of pelitioner, or the prayer of one to ask, or the entraly of eutreatercalled forth Being! To His grace, there is no bound! Know Hin as the One worthy of praise!
12. He *is wholly excellence, and geodness altogether. By him (Gpd) created the substance of $\dagger$ Amshâm; with + Mânistâr the - Governor of Souls, \& $\dagger$ 「ânistâr the Governor of bodies.
Pensian Aotes. *Bchnän called the first (Thiiria orj) Intelligence und the first (Khish or) Reason.
$\dagger$ Amshian. The second Inelligence and dnycl.
$\ddagger$ Ministàr. Rewâmbud. Manstâr is the name of the Soul (or Spirit) who guards the highest heaten, aid who is siled Rewidimudd, or, chicf of Souls.

+ Tanistât Tendmbîd. The looly of the highest heaven is called Tânistîr ; and Tenạm-bud, or chief qf Bodies', is lis tille.

13. And by *Amshâm (he created) $\dagger$ Fâmshậm and ${ }_{\ddagger}$ Ferârjâm anid $\uparrow$ Sâmâzhậm.

Perstan Notes. *By the Angel Amshâm, who is the second (Khiid or) Intelligence.

+ Fâmsham is the name of the heaven immcdiately below the highest. .'
$\ddagger$ Ferâjâm, the name of the Soulof that hearen.
+ Sámâzhâm the Body of the heaven.

14. In this manner by each Intelligence he created another Intelligence, and a Soul, and a Body, till he completed the system of the Heavens.
15. As for example *Ferensầ, \&千Lâtînsâ, and $\ddagger$ Armensâ.
Persian Nores. *Ferensá, lhe Intelligence of the sphere of R(ǐiân (Saturn).

+ Lâlinsä̈its soul.
$\ddagger$ Armensâ its Body.

16. And Anjuindâd and Nejmâzâd and *Shîdârûd:

Persian Note: And the Intelligence of the sphere of Hormusd (Jupiler) is Anjumdad, its Soul Nijmô${ }_{\text {sâd, }}$ its Rody Shîdûrâd.
17. And Behmenzâd, and Fershâd and Rizbâdwâd:

Peristan Note. These are the Intclligencei the Soul, and the Body of the sphere of Behruim (Mars)!

18: And Shadârâm, and Shadâyâm and Nishâdirsâm.
Persian Note. The Intellignice, Soul and Body of the sphere of the Sann.

10: And Nirwân and Tirwân and Riz- : wân:

Persian Note. The" Intelligence, Soul and "Body of the heaven of Nahid (Venus).
20. And Irlâ's and Firlâs and Warlâs: 'Prrsian Notr. The Intelligence, Soul and Body of the Sphere of Tir YMercury)...
21. And Fernûsh and Werṇ̂sh and Ardùsh he did create.
Persian Note. The Inteilligence, Soul and Lody of the Sphere of the Moon.
22. Of their excellencies and number little is said; seeing that the Angels are innumerable.
23. The heavy-moving astars are many, and each has an Intelligence, a Soul and a Body.
24. 'And in like manner every distinct division of the heavens and planets, hath its Intelligences and Souls.
25. The number of the Intelligences, and Souls, and Stars, and Heavens, Mezdâm knows.,

26. In the name of. ${ }^{b}$ Lareng!

$a$ The heavy-moving atars are the fixed stars, in contra. distunction to the planets which have been befure enumerated. Transl:
of A name of God, meaning the Being free from qualities.

6; $\quad \therefore$ THE BOOK OFTHE
27. The whole Spheres are round, and are pure, and never die.
28. Neither are they light or heavy, cold or hot, moist or dry.
29. They have neither growth nor decay, desire nor'aversion.
${ }^{4}$ 30. They do not possess the susceptibility of assuming or putting off an aspect; of being broken or joined.
Commentary. They cannot be torn or sewn, brooken or mended, rent or united!
31. They are ever reyolving in their orbits; and their tevolution is self-directed: since they are living and susceptible of knowledge.
32. And in that ${ }^{\text {a Mansion }}$ there is no death, nor birth, nor assuming, nor putting aside a form.
33. The inferior (terrestrial) world #e made subject, to the superior (ur celestial) wiorld:
534. In the name of Lareng!
35. Intelligence is not dependent on Body; but the Soul 'receives its" perfection from the Body.
36. Heaven is the abode of Angels, the city of Souls, and the place of Spheres.

> A fn the Heavens. Truns.
37. Whosoever approaches the* Angels, sees the substance of the Lord of the World;

- Pensian Note. Who are the Intclligences and Souls of the spheres.

38. The rapture thence arising no transport of the lower world can equal: the tongue cannot. express, nor the ear hear; nor the eye see such ecstacy.
39. In the Hearens there is pleasure such as none but those who enjoy it can con-. ceive.
40. The lowest degree of (enjoyment in) hearen is such as is felt by the poorest of men when he receives a. gift equal to this. whole lower world.
41. Moreover the pleasures that arise in it, from the beauty of wives, and handmaids, and slaves, from eating and drinking, from dress, and fine carpets and commodi-ous seats is sucb as. cannot be comprehended in this lower world.
42. Ta the Celestials the bounty of the Most High Mezdâm hạth vouchsaf̣ed a body which admitteth not of separatıon, which doth not wax old, and is susceptible neither of pain nor defilement.
43. In the name of Lareng'!
'8. THE BOOK OF THE
44. Fernû́sh* is the repository of the iṇfuences of the upper Spheres;
*Persian Note. The Intelligence of the Sphere of. the Moon.

Commentary, Fernash, who is the Intelligence of * the Sphere of the Moon, showereth down on the simple elements, the forms, accidents, and qualities which he hath collected by his own powers through the medium the revolutions of the spheres, and the conjunctions of the planets, and the aspects of the stars.
45. Seeing this place is under the Intelligence of the Sphere of the Moon.
46. Varnûsh *iṣ the fashioner of forms.

* Persian Note. The Soul of the sphere of the Moon.

47. Below the sphere of the Moon was made the place of elements. ,
48. Over the Fire, the Air, the Water and the Earth were placed four Angels :
49. Anirâb, and Hirâb, and Semirâb and Zehîrâb.
50. Whatever things are compounded of the elements are either impermanent of permanent.

Commentary. What retaineth itsform, is permanent; what doth not is impermanent.
51. The impermanent are fog, and snow, and rain, and thunder, and cloud, and lightning and such like.
52. Over each of these there is a Guardian Angel.
53. The Guardians of the fog; and snow, and rain, and thunder, and clouds, and lightning, are Milrâm, Silrâm, Nilrâin, Mehtâs, Behtâm and Nishâm, and so of the otherṣ.
54. And of the permanent compounded substances the first is the Mineral:
55. Of it there are many species, as the ruby, and the sapphire and such like.

- 50. And these have Guardians, such as Beherzâm and Neherzâm.

Persinn. Note. Beherzain is the protector of the ruby; Neheraim of the sapphire.
57. The next is the Vegetable, of which too there are many species, as the cypress and the plane, whose Guardians are Azer: wân and Nuzerwân.
58. The next is the Animal, of which too there are many species, as the horse and man:
59. And of them too each hath its Guardian, as Ferârish and Ferzenrâm.
Persian Note. The former the protector of horses, the latter of Mankind.
60. Each of these three* children hath an àctive and intelligent $\dagger$ soul.

THE BOOK OF THE

 mal.

- Freeand independent.
- 61. In the name of Lareng:- -

Mezdâm separated man from the other ànimals by the distinction of a soul, which is a'free and: independent substance, without a body, or any thing material, indivisible and without position, by which he attaineth the glory of the angels.
$\therefore$ 02. By His knowledge He united the Soul with the elemental body,
63. If one doth good in the elemental body, and possesseth usefut knowledge, and acts aright, and is'a Hirtâsp, and doth nopt give pain to harmless animals;
Pershan:Nots, The name Hirtassp is appleed to the zorshipper of Yezdàn woha refrains from muich eating, and sleep from the love of Gcd.
a- Nore by Mulpa Fiiûz. Ir the 6 'iat verse some worls of the tranplation seem to have been omitted or mistaksin. by the trauscriber; Wherefore the humble Fy aza, according to the best uf his poor undermanding, has remindsed the traitislation conformable to the text and inserted it ahnye; the original translation is as under. "In the name of Yezdala," "'The Mighty' Yezdân belected Man firom she other Ani" muls and by giving hime a- ginrions Sonl which is atioliude. ". pendent substancé, and free from thatier and jorm, indivi. y "c sible, not having ppaition, wilhnut a borly, and of which it " casinut be predicated that it, has a body, without begine os ning and without end, unbounded and immense, and in it of is centained the excellence of the Angetr."."
04. When he putteth off the inferior body, I will introduce him into the abode of Angels, that he may see Me with the nearest angels.).
: 65. And if he be not a Hirtâsp, but yet. is wise and far removed from evil, still will I. elevate him to the rank of Angel.
66. And every one, afcörding to his, knowledge and his actions, shall âssume his place in the rank of Intelligence, or Soul, or Heaven, or Star, and shall spend eternity in that blessed abode.

6\%. And every one who wisheth to return to the lower world, and is a doer of good, chall, according to bis knowledge, and conversation, and actions,' receive something, either as a King, or Prime Minister; or some high office, or wealth;

68, Until he meeteth with a reward suited to his deeds.'
Commentary. He s.yys that he will meet with an end corresponding to his actions in his'new state of . exaltation, The prophet abâd, the boly, on whom and on his faithful followers be the grace of $Y$ ezdinn, enquired, o Merciful Judge! and O Just Preserver! Virtuous Kings, and rulers, and the mighty are altack-* ed by diseases in their bolies, and wilh grief on acgount of theier relaions and connections, and so forth. Hort is this;' and wherefore?-The Lord of the World, the Master of Existence made answer :
69. Those who, in the season of prospe.: tity, experience pain and grief, suffer them. on account of their words or deeds in a: former body, for which the Most Just now punisheth them.

Commentary. It must be remarked that when anyone has first done evil and next good, and has entered into another body: the Granter of desires, in this new state, grants him his desires: and moreóver, in conformity to His justice, makes him suffer retribution for his offence; and suffers nothing to pass without its return. For, should He omit any part of the due retribution, He would not be Just.
go. In the name of Lareng.
Whosoever is an evil-doer, on him He first inflicteth pain under the human form: for sickness, the sufferings of children while in their mothers' womb, and after they are out of it, and suicide, and beinghurt by ravenous animals, and death, and being subject: ed to want from birth till death, are all retributions for past actions : and in like manner as to goodness.
Commentary. Olserve that he says that every joy, or pleasure or pain that affects us from birth till death, is wholly the fruit of past actions which is now reap. ed.
71. The lion, the tyger, the leopard, the panther 'and the' wolf, with all ravenous animals, whether birds, or quadrupeds, or creeping things, have once possessed authority : and every one whom they kill hath been their aider, or abettor, who did evil by supporting, or assisting, or by the orders of, that exalted class; and having given pain to harmless animals are now punished by their own masters.
72. In fine, these Grandees, being, invested with the formis of ravenous beasts, expire of suffering and wounds, according to theif misdeeds: and, if any guilt remain, they will return a second time, and suffer. punishment along with their accomplices:
Commentary. And mect with due retribution, till in some way their guilt is removed: whether ạt the first time, or the sccond time, or the tenth, or the hundredth time, or so forth.

73. In the name of Lareng ! $\cdot$

Commentary. The Lord of the World speaks thus to the great prophet Abâd;
74. Do not kill harmless * animals, (Zindbâr) for the retribution exacted by the Wise on their acts is of another sort : since the horse submits to be ridden on, and the ox, the camel, the mule, and the ass.bear burdens. And these in a former life were men who imposed burdens on others unjustly.

* Persian Note. The Zindbâr are the luarmless animals that do not destroy $0^{0}$ thers: such as the horse, the camel, the mules the ass, and others of the same kind.

75. If any one knowingly and intentionally kill a harmless animal, and do not meet with retribution in the same life either from the Unseen or the earthly ruler, he will find punishment awaiting him at his next coming.
76. The killing of a harmless animal is equal to the killing of an ignorant, harmless man.
77. Know that the killer of a harmless animal is caught in the wrath of Mezdâm.
78.. Dread the wrath of Dai. (God.)
78. In the name of Lareng!

If a ravenous animal kill a harmíess animal, it must be regarded as a *retaliation on the slain: since ferocious animals exist for the purpose of inflictipg such punishment.

* Persian Note, It is a punishment on the, animal killed, and an atonement for blood spill, 'and a retribu. tion for the misdteds of the slain. .

80. The slaying of ravenous animals is laudable, since they, in a former exiskence. have been shedders of blood, and slew the guiltless. The punisher of such is blest:

Commentary. For to punish them is doing good, and walking in the way of the commands of the. Great God. Whence we perceive that be enjoins ravenous animals to be put io death, because to be killed is their punishment.
81. In the name of Lareng!

Such persons as are foolish and evildoers, being enclosed in the body of yegetables, meet with the reward of their stupidity and misdeeds:
82. And such as possess illaudable knowledge and do. evil, are enclosed in the body of minerals;
83. Until their sins be purified; after which they are delivered from this suffering, and are once more united to a human body : and according as they act in it, they again meet with retribution.
84. In the name of Lareng!

If a man be possessed of excellent know: ledge, yet follow a wicked course of action, when this vile body is dissolved he doth not get another elemental body, nor doth his soul soul get admittance into the upper abbde, but his evil dispositions becoming his tormentors, as:ume the form of burning fire, of freezing sniow, of serpents, dragons and the like, and inflict punishment on him :
85. And far from the happy abode, and from Mezdâm and the angels, and from a material . body, he broileth in tormenting flame; and this is the most horrible stage - of Hell.

- Commentany. He next addrcsses the ho!y Abâd;

86. Say thou, May the Lord of Being preserve thee and thy friends from this great. torment.

8\%. In the name of Lareng!
When hungry and sleepless'you fix your heart 'on the Lord of Being, separating yourself from this elemental body; you see the Heavens, and the stars, and the angels, and Gód.
88. Again you return to the material body: and when this lower body is dissolved, you once more reascend to that height which you have surveyed, and semain there for ever.
89. In the name of Lareng!

In prayer, turn to any side: but it is best to turn to the stars and the light.

Commentary. He says, that, to that Being who is whout phice, you may pray in all directions; and that the prayer is good whithersoever you turn in "praying to $\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{i} . \mathrm{n} \text { : but nevertheless that it is best to pray towards }}$ the stars and lights, and that prayers made towarils the stars and celesti: 1 hminaries are most açeptable.
90. Chuse a wife: and look not on the bedfellow of another; neither lie with her:
91. Inflict punishment on evil-duers:

- g2: Break not your bargain", and do not take a false oath :
- 93. Whatever an offender doth to another doweve so unto him:

Commentapy. He says, the punishment must be proportioned to the offence, so that a slight punishment should not be inflicted on a grievous offence as a retribution, nor a grievons punisament on a slight offence. That if any one be slain with a stone it is indispensably necessary that the slayer should, in like manner, be Lilled with a stone; and if withia sword, with t sword.
94. Drink not so much of the sense-destroyer as to becona iatoxicated.
95. The property of an *impotent person deliver to an upright man till he attaineth his reason.
*Persiay Note. Fromminorily or defect of reason.
Commentary. This signifies that when the child becomes a mant, what was given in trust be restored to him.
96. The property left by the father and mother, divide equally among the sons and daughters: and to the wife give a little, ${ }^{\text {c }}$
97. Shew kindness to those under' you, that you may receive kindness from Mez: dâm:
98. The Lord of Being created bis servant *free: if he doth good he gaineth heaven; if evil, he becometh an inhabir tant of hell.
*Persidn Note. So that he can chuse goed and evil and do them. .

Commentany. Since, the Most Just has conferred on his creature the faculty of distinguishing good from evil, and given him power to incline to either : hence, if he do good according to the commands of the Just God. (Dadar), in whom there is nolling but good and excellence, the highest heaven, the choicest heaven is bis abode: while if he be of evil dispositions he finds his seat in hell. It is plain that praise-worthy or blamea. ble actions, good and bad conduct are the peoplers of heaven and hell : and that the orders of the incomparable God are like the prescriptipns of the plysician. Whoever observes the adpice of the lienevolent, the Wisc, escapes affiction, and by a little forbearance attains everlasting health : while the disease of him who does not attend to it encreases. The physician of course is not answerable for eitber his health or sickness.

[^0]
PROPHET, THE GREAT ABAD. 19

99. Evil proceedeth not from the God of Existence, and He loveth not evil.

100. In the name of Lareng!

The Superior Beings and the Inferior 'Beings'are the gift of the Giver:-they cannot be separated from Him : they have been, are, and shall be.
Commentary. Seeing thapthe Bountiful takes not. back what He gives; for that is the property of the avaricious and rude man.
101. The world, like a radiation, is not and cannot be separated from the sun of the substance of the mighty God.
102. The lower world is subject to the sway of the upper world,
103. In the beginning of it's revolution 'the sovereignty over this lower world is. committed to one of the slow-moving stars.
104. Which governeth it alone for the space of a thousand years;
10.5. And for other thousands of years each of the heavy-moving stars, and swiftmoving stars becometh it's partner, each for one thousand years.
106. Last of all the moon becometh its associate.
Commentaby. For a thousand ycats, like all the - rest. 107.
107. After that, the first associate, will get the sovereignty. .

Commertary. So that we may call the star which first supported the regal authority, the first king : and that star which in the second thousand years, was it's -pariner, the second-king: because, after the lapse of the regal reign of the first king, this second becane hing: For it is said that at the termination of the rule of the first king, the first pariner, who was originally the partuer of the first king, becomes king.
108. The second king goeth through the shme round as the first King; and the uliers are in like manner his associates.
109. Last of all the first *king is for a thousand years the partner of the second king.

* Perstan Note., The period of whose reign is now past and gone.

110. Then the period of the reign of the second king is also past.
111. And understand that the same is the course as to all the others.

Commentary. For every one of the fixed stars and plancis becomes king, and is each ruler by. itself fur one thousand years, and for other thousands along with partners.
112. When the Moon bath been king, and all have been associates along with it, and it's reign too is over, one Grand Period is accomplished.
113. After which the Sovereignty again returneth to the first king, and in this way there is an eternal succession.

Commentary. The beginning of the Period being from the first hing; and it's conclusion with the moon.

114: And in the beginning of the Grand Period, a new order of things commenceth in the lower world.
115. And, not indeed the very forms, and knowledge, and events of the Grand Pe : riod that hath elapsed, but others precisely similar to them will again be produced.

Commentany. He says that, in the beginning of the Grand Period, combinations of the elements commence, and figures are produced that, in appearance, and in their acts, deeds and speech are similat to tie figures, knowledge and decds of the past Giand Revolution : not that the very, same figures are produced; since the bringing back of what is past in not fitting: for were it desirable to bring such back, why were they broken and destroyed? The Grand Arlificer does nothing of which He repents Him.
116. And every Grand Period that cometh resembleth from berinning to end the Grand Period that is past.
117.0 my chosen Abâd! in the Begin'ning of this Grand Period thou, with thy bedmate, didst survive; and none other was left : now Mankind proceed from thee. Commentary, Commentary. It is to be rolserved thatat the con'clusion of'a Grand Period, only two persons are left in the woild, one man :nd one woining all the rest of "mankind perish: And herice mankind derive their ort. gin from the woman and man who survive, and from whose loins numbers issue in the new Grand Period. Hence He says to Albâd, The origin of mankind is from thec, and all proceed from thy root, and thou art the father of them all.

-118. In the name of Lareng!

- Commentiary. He addresses the blessed Abâd;

119. The most blest of men are such as. are obedient to and followers of thee.
120. The dearest to Mezdâm is be who acteth according to thy injunctions
121. Whom 'thou expellest, him Mezdâm expelleth.'
122. Thou art the chief of Mankind.
123. Thy followers shall many years be sovereigns in the world.
124. Know that the :world shall never enjoy such happiness as in the time of the princes of thy religion.
125. As long as Mankind do not commit exceeding evil, thy religion, which is the mercy of Mèzdậm; shall not lose it's ruleŕr.
126. The extirpation of thy religion from among Princes is one of the torments of Hell upon Mankind.

127. In the name of Lareng!

Commespaby. He now gives some information regarting the Neit, that ane to anisn;
128. A Band will appear who are knowers and duers of good, mortifying the senses. (Tipasbûd).
Commentary. Tiparmenns solf-denial in the way of God and his worship, in respect to abstinence in eating, dinking and sleep. And one who exercises such abstinence is ealled a Topishord and Hirtarsp.
329. And this Bund are in a blessed road.
130.: And there is a different Band who know and do good, without practising austerities, and who investigate the real nature 'of things by the guidance of reason, and live as Sirdâsp.

Persian Note. The Sirdasp are such as seèk good without mortifying their bolics in derotion.

Commentary. The Sirdâsp is that searcher after God; who seeks Him without (subjecting himself to) abstinence in food or sleep, and without (affecting) solitary seclusion; who attempts to explain hidden things by the guidance of the understanding; and who does not deem it lawful to hurt any thing having life. The two classes that have been mentioned are distinguished. as the enlightened and the guides.
131. A Band next succeed, who know good, and practise evil; véxing harmless creatures.

Commentiary. The distinctive mark of this band is that they love knowledge and ingenuity: and yet vex harmless animals; and stain t!eir mouths with the blood of unoffending creatures, and fill their bellics wih them.
132. There is a Band that mingle together seruzrâm, and nirurâm and jirazrâm.
Commentary. What first shines on the heart in worshipping Yezian is callud Seruzrâm: and evidence that is agreeable, to the undertanding, and the words consonant to reason are cilled Nirûrim: while the remark which is absurd and not founded on reason is called Jurazrâm: and by these the pure-hearted are distinguished.
33. One Band say that except the substance of God there is nothing immaterial.
Comaentary. The distinguishing mark of this class is that they hold that all the angels are bories and material; but that the essence of God is free and independent.
134. There is another class that say that Mezdâm is matter.

Commentany: And these materialists infer that God bas a human form and such like.
135. And some hold that Mezdâm is a Temperament.

Commentart. Which is a power peculiar to body: 136. One class deem themselves prophets, in spite of their molesting harmless creatures.
137. Without kindness to harmless animals and self-mortification, none can arrive at the angels.
133. Such abide beneath the sphere of the moon, and by virtuc of their little self: mortification, following their own fancies, liken what they see to other things, and thus come to act wrong.

Commentary. He says that one class citeem themselves prophets and messengers of God. But as withoat nortifying the hod, throwing off bad dispo itions aisd accumulating goo.l works, the chicf of which is Dimanity to harmless animak, it is impossible to ascend the spheres and reach the sfars and angels; and as this class have not fulluwet such a course, hence, from the deaciency of their morifitiation and from their not Javing endored suficient sufiering, they sec some light below. the sphere of the moon : and their somil not have ing gained the ascendency orer the imagination, they fashion what things they observe acrording to the crrations of their own inasinations this suiting their Inowledge to the sysiem of their fancies: and they do not discover the reat nature of what they see, but following the image which their fasey has conceived fill from truth into destruction, fald diár duwn their follurers itho perdition.
139. One class observing that men are miserable, confine themselves merely to not killing them.
140. For there is a class that deems the Lilling of a man praisewortby.

Commertary. By this he marks out a class, who, in order to appease the Migbty and Angels, kill ${ }_{4}$ men with the sword, and put tliemselves to death; suppos. ing that God will be gratitied.
141. Some founders of Gects say, My religion shall never be destroyed.,

Commentany. He here points at a class who say:, to their disciples, Our religion passes not away; do, not desert it:
142. And wars will arise among them.

Commentary. He indicales that conficts will a i.e. in the religions of these founders of Sects, and innowators in religion, and that they will fall out together; and that wheie there are many sects in one religion, and whit re many shoots procect from one rout, cach brancla'. deems the other bad.
143. There is a class of men that have a little knowledge, but are not doers of good; and one of sulch as do some good, but have not much knowledge of good.

- Comantiapy. He here marks a class who are followers of the wise, but do not profit by their precepts: and wother similar class who deem theinselves pure, and bave a littice of gooil works, but yet are not wisc.

144. And there shall be so many Sects and Princes that volumes, shall be filled with then.'
145. O'À bâd! Thou chosen of Mezdân? Wxcept the Fersendaj (the Abadirn faith) there is no road to find the Self-Existent. By this road every one of the class of Huristârs, and Nurisptârs, and Suristârs and Ruzistars shall gain heaven, and find a station according to his works.

Commintany. Fersendaj is the mame of the RoIigion of Mah-abay ( or the (ireat Alail)-In Pelldevi The Iluristârs are called dihurnân-They are the Mo-: beds and Hirbst! whose duty is to guard the faill, to confirm the knowledse and precepts of religion, and to establish justice:- The Vuristâts in Pelleri are mamed Rehtishtarinn, and areibe Princes and Warriors who are called to grandeur, and superiority, and command, and worldy sway. The Suristats in Pehtevi are de-: nominated Washteryûsbin, and are devoted to every kind of business and emplorment: The liuzistârs are. in Pehlevi stiled Howhenshan and are artizans and husbaidmen. And you cannot find any man not included inn these chaves:

146, In the name of Lazeng!

- Every one who labourethoin explaining. the Fersembaj, shall gain a bigh place in heaven.

1:4. Pe confudenty assured that, the Fer. sendâj is trut.

- Commentary, He says to Mankind,-Kmow, ye: all contidently, and be well asoued, that the retigion. of the blesul abid, (on whene soul and one whoe followers, be besings anmumbred of the Wi e, is the ithaight and true soatl. Let him whe has any undirmanding'
- standing, and is in doubt, observe how for this hato lowed religion is superior to all olher Sects, and that tho oller course possesses such purity and sweetness. If he desires unfailingly to see atid bnow what has, Heen revealed, it may be done it two ways; Cither let himbecome a llirtasp and by suffering pain discover the real nature of things with the mind's eye; or let him become a Sirdasp and comprehend the real nature of tinings by evidence.

1!3. In the name of Iareng!

Commentary. He addresses the human rack;
140. Stand in dread of guilt, and deem the smallest offence great : for a slight ailment becometh a dreadtul disease.

Commestarx. For the dieurder that at first is slight, is cured if manesed atconding to the prescription of the physician: but if trated lighty, or il no physician be consu'ted, it speedily encreases and cones to such a height as 10 pass the power of remedy. Now the advice of prophets, Re, itrs or N:uteds, resembles that of the Ploysician. Ifaiman le greeved for bis offenes and cheave unto purity, and make choice of rejentance, he escapes frem his di-ordct: but if he does not, theri" he reaches a place whete his misery becones everlast. ing.

130. De not without hope bf. His mercy.

Commevtary. lle says, Anoid evil in it's begin. miar, and whatever youma have bome unwittingly, alion it of aided repent of it. Ahd be not withont bope from the merry of Cod; for He is kind and merciful. Ite afilicts :oot itis servart from wruth. He rerems.
bles the teacher, who when the scholar atlends not to learning, chastens him with a rod for his good.
151. When each of the Sharistârs completeth it's revolution or entereth it's Mansion, celebrate it as a Festival.
152. Regard the Ascetic and the Sage as your friend, and obey their injunctions.
153. At the birth of a child read the * Desâtirr, and gire something in the road of ${ }^{\text {d }}$ Mezdâm.

* Persian Note. The Book of God.

154. A corpse you may place in a vase of aqua-fortis, or consign it to the fire, or to the earth.

Commentary. The usage of the Fersendajianstegarding the dead was this : After the Soul had left the body, they washed it in pure water, and dressed it in cleaa and perfumed vestments: they then put it into a vase of aqua-fortis, and when the booly was dissolved, carried the liquid to a place far from the cidy and poured it out: or clse they burned it in fire, after attiring it as has been said; or they made a dome, and formed a deep pit rithin it, which they built and whitened with stone, brick and mortar; and, on its elges, niches were constructed and platforms erected, ou fhich the dead were deposited: or they buried a vase in the eatth, and enclosed the corpes in it; or wurich it in a coflin in the ground; And in the estima-
d. In the road of Mizumam: that is for Ged'e aake, in cha. rity. Trans.
tion of the Fersendajians, the most eligibte of all these was the vase of aqua:fortis.
155. After any one hath died, read the Dẹsâtîr, and give something to the worshippers of God, that the soul of the departed may attain beatitude.
156. To Mezdâm there, is nothing more pleasing than charity.
157. Make atonement for the offence. which you may have committed.
158. Do good; and grant assistance to those of the same faith (, hem-fersenj).
159. Take from the thief the double of what he hath stolen; and after beating him with a rod, throw him for some time into prison.
160. But if he will not anend, let him be led round the city, and let him be, employed in bearing heavy burdens. : .

Commentaby. According to the religion of the Princes of the Fersendajj faith, if a person be talsen a second time in theft, he is led with disgrace about the city, which operation they call Rukâz : after which, as a punfoment, they beat him with a slick, place fetters on his feet, and make him carry brick and mud for repairing houses, and keep himn always dibagrecably employed in such labours.

Propret, the grent abad.
31
10.1. One guilty of adultery ?s $_{\text {s }}$ to be punished by being beaten with rods ard led about the city; and if still he be not re strained, make him an eunuch: a married woman must be imprisoned.
Commentary. He says, if a married woman has been beaten with rods, and led shont the town for lying with anolber man, and yet again lie willh a man, she must be put into perpetual confinencent.
162. After performing the worship of Mezdam, worship the Planets, and kindie lights unto them.
103. Make figures of all the planets, and deem them proper objects to turn to in worship:
164. One class of men bere below falsely, deem themselves happier than those above. 'Consort not with such'.
105. Earthlings cainnot be equal to Ce-lestials;
166. The Soul of man is however celes'tial ; and hence, wben' by piety and worship, it hath been separated from the inferior body, it may nevertheless, become like unto them.

Commentary. He says, that though the Soul be. celestial and though if it be wise and act well, it becomes like the celestials after it departs from the body:
yet that it does not become better and happier tilar they. Hence we perceive that it cannot, while below, attain equality with the Celestials; and that those who make pretences to any superiorily are deceivers and false teachers.
167. O'Abâd! That is the word of Mezấm which an Angel bringeth on thy heart.
168. Or what thou hearest from Mezdâm when thou leavest the body (ncmidâi) along. with the Chief of Angels.

Commentary.: Nemiden is to leave the eartbly bọ dy , and again return to it : and also means to attain to a knowledge of the truth of things (or Inspiration). He says, The speech of God is not breath and does not possess sound: And that is Inspiration which descends on the heart through the intervention of an Angel, of that is learned of God when you have left the body: And this inspiration after you rejoin the body you commit to words and deliver forth by the breath of speech:
169. Thou hast seen me and heard my words; convey these my words to all my servants below.

Commentaity. Since the Celestials and Supernale are all obedient, and such as are near Yezdan have no need of an earthly prophet. , 170. After thee Jyafrâm will revive thy religion', and will be a mighty"prophet.

Commentary. Hence He declares to the blessed Abâd, As this holy Religion in consequence of the wickedness of men will be corrupted and fall, Jyâfrâm, one of thy race, will revive thy religion, and diffuse it anew among mén; and he is a miglaty Prophet .

THE BOOK

OF THE  PROPHET JYAFRAM.

L$\xrightarrow{2}$ E $\underset{T}{ }$ üs take refuge with Mexdâm from evil thoughts which mislead and afflict us.
2. In the name of Stramtâ, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Loving, the Just.
3. In the name of Hermelir, the bestower of daily food on all living, the protector of the good.
4. Praise be unto the Self-Existent who first created the ${ }^{\text {afree world, }}$ and next.the world of bodies.
5. Look and behold ! O Jyafrà̀m son of Abadâritd, how at the command of the Most High God (Mezdâm), the *Lord of Bodies, enclosing all bodies within his circuit, ẹver revolveth;

* Pemsiar Note. Ċalled. tèn-sâlar, Ten-bud, Tenunten, Tenten, Tehemfen, being the Great Sphere. b a The free world is composed of the Angels, Souls and Intelligences, who are free from the incumbrance of body. - b All these names helong to the Ninth or Higheat Heaven: they siguify chief of bodies, leader of bodies, body of. bodies, body of body, the incomparable body.

6. And carrieth the other spheres along: with him from East to West ;
7. Although the revolution of the spberes. below the Great Sphere, is, by the decree of the Creator, from West to East:
8. And in the sky among the slow-revolving stars;
9. As the Ram, the Bult, the Two-forms, the Crab, the Lion, the Bunch of corn, the . Balance, the Scorpion, the Bow, the Goat, the Water-bucket, the Fish;,
10. And in like man'ner, in the lower heavens are the moving stars,
11. Sinûshîr, Berhesti, Belrâm, Heramîd, Benîd, Kaleng, Fâmshîd;
12. And these are my chosen servants, who never have been and never shall be disobedient.
Commentary. He says that the spheres, in spite of neejr miagnitude and vicinity to God, are not exempted from his orders; and from time without beginning when they were created, even unto the end of eternity, never have disobeyed and never shall disobey. The first time that I was called to the world above, the heavens and stars said uǹto me, "O'Sâsân! we have bound up our loins in the service of Yezdân, and never wilhdraw from $\mathrm{it}_{3}$, because $\mathrm{II} e$ is worthy of praise : and ve are filled witl astonishment how mankind cau wander so wide from the commands of God!".

PROPHET JXAFRAM.
13. Next the fire, and air, and water ${ }_{2}$ and earth ;
Comarentary. He says, after the sphere, the four elements were created.
14. And from the mixture of these the Mineral, the Vegetable and Animal.
Commentary. God made and created.
15. All are actively employed by the art of the Most High.
16. In the name of the Beneficent, the Bestower of daily food on all living; the Protector of such as do well.
17. I have said ${ }^{c}$ that I first of all chose Abâd, and after him I sent thirteen prophets in succession, all called Abad.
18. By these fourteen prophets the world enjoyed prosperity.

Commentary. When you add Abâd to the thirteen prophets who succeeded him, they make fourteen: And the faith of them all was similar to that of the Mehabad, and they were followers of Mehabâd, and thus made hingdoms flourishing. Praise be on Abadd; aud on these Abâds !
19. After them the kings, their lieutenants, preserved the world in happiness.
20. When a hundred zâd of years had
e12. The sense would require this to be "I say unto thee." passed passed under their sway, Abâdârâd, resigì̀̀ ing the sovereignty, devoted himself exclusively to the worship of Mezdâm.

Commentary: It is to be observed that the follow: èrs ćf the Fersendầj Religion coallce a thousand times a thousand years a Ferd, and à thousand Ferds a Fr erd ; and a thousand Werds a Merd, and a thousand Merds a Jád, and three thousand Jâds a WFád, and two thou-, sand Wads a $\underset{\text { sad }}{ }$; so that, following this computation, the kingdom remained with the Dynasty of Abâdians for a hừdrèd Zâd of years. When this number of years was elapsed, Alâdârâd, the last Princè 'of the Abadians, having found mankind bent on evil, resigned the government, and went into retirement: and so effectually did be escape the observation of men, that no one knows where he went. In consequence of his abdication the world fell into confusion, and the works of the preceding kings were destroyed. ' . Then the good men went to Jyâfrâm, the ṣou of Abâdârâd; tho was a recluse like his fathers and who, fiom his fondness for retirement, always lived remote from Manikind, and incessantly occupied with the worship of the Deity, and required him to assume the sovereignly, twich however he declined, until the illustrious, Book - came down to him;
21. In the name of the Beneficent; the Bestower of daily food on all living; the Rewarder of such as act well.
22. O Jyâfrâm, son of Abâdârâd; sincê thy father hath resigned the, royal power, do thou now assume the Government, and adorn the Fersendâj Religion.
23. I haye chosen thee for the work of prophecy, and have graced the Fersendâj by thee.
24. And lo! make the words of Heaven which $!$ have sent unto thee, a portion of the *Desâtîr.
*Pensian Nore. Which is the Book of the blessed Mehalad:: -
25. And keep well the way of Ferzâbâd, for it is the religion of God; and this taith shall never be lost from among the $\mathrm{Mez}_{\text {. }}$ dâmians.
26. Whoever is the friend of God (Nûshdâi ), shall walk in this road.
27. In the name of the Beneficent; the Bestower of daily food to all living, the Rewarder of those who act well.
28. The Necessarily-Existent!

Commentary. Whose Being is neceisary; the Un-doubledly-existing, Ever, ${ }^{\text {d }}$ "uing, Eternally-stable, 1 m -nutable-of-necessil $y$, wilhout begiuning or end, existing without the attributes of first or last, who has been, is; and slall be, and to whose everlastingness and eternity there is no beginning, nor commencement, nor end, nor limit, nor bound.

Commentary. Splencor of Splendors, brightness of brightnesses, corruscation of corruscations, shining of कhinings, blaze of blazes, illumination of illuminations; the being from whose light the abode of lights has derived its light, and from whom the abode of splendors has received the splendor of existence, and except from whose brightness the abode of brightness has no brightress, and from whom the city of corruscations roceives its power of corruscation, from whom shining shines, and without whom blazing does not blaze, from the. glory af whose essence proceeds thẹ illumination of .illuminations.
30. Among the adored worthy of ado: rattion!

Commentary. And among the forshipped most worthy of Worship. Let those who areasupplicated by the great for their grandeur supplicate him with their whole grandeur ; and most fitting it is that the lauded should'laud bim, and the mighty render unto him. prayer and praise.

31. Lord of Lords ! .

Commentary. King of Kings, Emperor of Em.. perors, Ky of Kys, Dara of Daras, Judge of Judges, Chief of Chiefs, Greatest of the Great! The abode of Lordliness is his servant! the residence of Kings is his worshipper, the cily of Royally is proud to abey lim! Princes place their hopes in his Gate, Daras look for protection from his grace; his glory is the Judge of , Judges !

32, The Exalted!
Commentary. High over the'Lofly ! Snblime over the Great! The Pestower of exaltation on the abode of exaltation, and the Elevaler of the residence of elevation, the Raiser of the city of sublimity', who gipes grasdeur to the city of grandeur.

33. Of wonderful Praise!

- Commentary. Grand worship and mighty thanks. 'giving; the praise of the place of praise of cilizens, the olject of prayer to the place of prayer in the narrow lane, the silbject of worship to those 'whip dwell in worship in the habitation of thanksgiving.

34. Of supreme Splendor!

Commentary. And striking light, and unlimited brightness, and strong blazing, and respleadent shining, mighty manifestation, and magnificent clearness, and wonderful brightness, and boundless glory; seeing that the splendor of the splendor-pestowers, the brightness of the givers of brichtuess, the tight of the enlighteners and the blaze of the emblazoners, and the glashing of the dashers, and the manifestation of the manifesters; and the glory of the glorifers, and the illumination of - the illumanators, 'and the visibility of the displayers - proceed from Ilim.

35. Of splendid Brightness!

Commentañy. And shining light, strong glare, ex. ceeding splendor, and great illumination: for the splen' dor of the abode of spleriuut proceeds from Him, and the source of shining shines from Himp; the city of illumination He illuminates; Ile gives light to the foun: tain of light, and brightness to the city of brightness; the land of glory He glorifies; the place of splendor is splendid from lis refulgent essence.

36. Of mighty Mightiness!

- Cominentary. Ańd vaśt vastuess, and grgat grent: hess, and lofty loftiness; änd high highness; and exaleed exaltation, and sablime sublimity, andiafful ayfulmess; so that the mighty are mean, and the vast. litle, and the lofty depressed, and the exalted humble, and the, high low, the grand grovelling, and the sublime lowly, ${ }^{\text {and }}$ and great small, and the tall short, and the broad yarrow, and the deep is as a ford unto Hin.

37. Of entire Perfection!

Commentary. And unlimited excellence, and come plete righteousness:- for He bestows perfection on the perfect, and lighteousness on the right.

38. Of, unbounded Bounty!

Commentary. And the never-failing Giver, the perfectly Gencrous: for, from His board no created thing is wilhout its pertion, or was or shall be.

39. Of wide-diffused Goodness !

Commentary. And extensive excellence, and long worth, ánd broad beneficence, and profound gladness.: whose goodness reaches to all places, whose worth extends every where, and whose excellence spreads from the one limit of existence to the oller.

40. Of glorified Light!

Cómmentà̀ry. Of exquisite splendor, strong brightness, grand blazing, and głorious effulgence. Him you* must avore; for illumination of heart falls on the illus: minated from Him ouly.

[^1]
PROP̈HET jŸAFRAM.

derfulness, is undoubted before all, and his grardeur acknowledged by all; His grandeur is necessarily cone'

- fessed by all Beings within the limits of creation.

42. Of conspicuous. Effulgence!

Commentary. Manifest light, conspicuous brighto mess, and blazing effulgence; for every thing is seen by His light, and is produced from $H$ is splendo; and from His brightness receives being, and takes existence from His intense blaze, and becomes visible from His effulgence.

43. Of intense. Mightiness!.

Conmentary. And grand exaltation, and subline sublimity, and enduring greatness; since Chiefs, and Rulers, and the Exalted, and the Great, and the Mighs ty, atid those who lift high the head, dare not disobey Him, and cannot withdraiv their heads (from olediences - unto Him).
44. The Bestower of what is suitable.

Commentary.. And the gift of agreeable sensations to the soul and body; for knowledge, and the gift of what is suited to cherish the body, proceed from .His excellence; since the greatness of His, bounly canaot be expressed.
45. Of extensive Empixe.

Commentary. And wide dominion; for there is no limit to Hiscreation, and no bounds to what He has:made.

46. Of resplendent Goodness!

Commentaryo And manifest excellence, and evio dent benevoleace; for whatever is seen with the eyes, ©

4 -THEBOOK OF THE eqobserved by the mind, or undersiood by the judgment is, a ray of His goodness: and His goodness has no ;bounds, and is without limits.
47. The blessed Giver!

Commentary, And the happy and glorious essence; for blessedness; and goodness, and bounty, except of Him, are none.

48. Of high Purity?

Commentaiy. And surpassing Worth, and pure greainess, an l whose glorious abode (* Kyabadit) is free fiom impurity : fortic dust of uncleanness falls not on the bem of his garment, nor on the mighy that are nigh unto him, even the Limpyeerlists. (Ryanistani).
49. The Lord of Brightness !

Commentany. Which is shed abroad: and the Lord of the seat of Lordsliip, which is the place of añ.' gels, and the city of Angels, and is not hid fiom the pe. netrating.

,50. The universal Creator!

Commentary. The Maker of all things that be: The power of creation is inherent in His essonce, and whatever is created is suitable to the Creator $;$ and $n$ hat. ever is produced; its production is right.

51. First of the First!

Commentary. The beginning of beginning wlich bad no first, the beginning of which beginning cannot be found; and of eternal duralion without end.

- 52. The Creator of Essence!'
-48: These térms Kyabadi and Kyanastani are applied to ghope apove the Nupth or Empyrean Heaven.
Commentary.

Commentary. The Maker of that which makes every - Hing what it is $;$ thre producir of essence; the former of that destinctive essence which makes a thing what it is.

53. The Exhibiter of Identity !

,Commentary. And persomility, and being, and self, and existence; and lle is the Creator of all idientities; and none other but He.

54. Providence of:Próvidences!

Commentary. And Lorid of Lords, Guardian of Guardians, end Protector of Protectors.
55. Wonder of Wonders!.

Commentary. The causer of wonder to the #pre derful, the Creator of the place of wonders: and, of all wonders, the most wonderful is His essence. .
60. The Creator of Grace!

Commentary. Most graceful of the graceful; the Creator of purity, purest of the pure, the pure Creator of purity ; the Creator of praise and the object of all praise.

57. God of Intelligences!

'Commentary. Lord of Understandings, Creator of ${ }^{\prime}$.

58. Lord of Souls!

Commentary. Who is the Master Creator of them.' 50. The Independent of the Indepen: äent Commentary. The free of the free; who made the independent independent, and on the free bestowed free: dom.

'60. God of the upper Sphetes!
Commentary. He is Keeper of the higl heaveds; and Lord of the sublime spheres.,

61. Lord of the lower Elements !

Commentart. And supporter of the four essences.

- 62. Lord of the yet unconnected Ele: ments! 1
Commentart. Ruler of the four essences while yet detached: the onconnected elements he connected to being, and separated the forar essences from non-texisd tence.

63. Lord of the connected Elements.

Commentary. Master of the four elements whest mingled. He is Lord of the united elements, and the Uniter, and Bestower of Cohesion, and the Mingler of them. And the four elements canuot be mixed together but by his power.
64. In the name of Hermehr, the Bestower of subsistence on all living, the Prow tector of the Good.
65. Excellence, Worthiness, Beneficence; Goodness."
$P_{\text {ehsian }}$ Note. Hamestení, ramesteni, shamestenij samesteni. These zords all sis
66. Must be'comprehended! must be comprohended! must be comprehended ! Must be comprehended !
07. Godhead, Unity, Perfection, Attributes!

Bis. Must be comprehended! Must be comprehended! Must be comprehended! Must be comprehended!

Commentary. Hesays; that it is to be remarked that God exists, and is One. And his Unity is not within computation; it is beyond computation. Ard he possesses all excellencies in perfection. His names are many, as, according to one, ninety nine, and according to another, a hundred: and in like manner they are said to be a thousand, and a thousand and one pames : some of them have alteady occurred in vari'ous' parts of, the Book of Melậbad. But even. this 'greatest number is imperfect, for they are not contained in number. Name, which they also call rad, is.either a name of substance, or a name of property, or, as they call it, of quality. Besides these there are three classes of names currently bestowed on Him. For in imposing names on objects regard is had either to the predication of the existence of a negation, which they call the substantial name (nam e gouher) as Pure: or it depends on the predication of somp existing property, which can be fully conceived of itself, which is the name of quality (narn e ferozel), as Liting : or it is derived from something existing, the meaning of which depends on $\therefore$ something besides itself, which they call the active name $\therefore$ (nam e kirdar) as for exar'ale Creator.
60. Life, Knowledge, Desire, Power; -must be compreheñed.

Commentary. He is living and His life is not dependent op soul, or life, or body, He is' self-living; and all gther living things are dependent on him. The knowledge !of Yezdấn is suich that he never gras Nescient : and it is free from all doubs. There is no suyle particle in existence which He does not know. He knows the very grains of the sand and this knowledge $t$ He.has had from all eleruity. The volition of God is such that, whatever has been created is in consequence of His volition. If the inhabitants of the world wished to annibilate a sitngle hair from the world, or to. add one; they cannot without this volition. And the power of God is such that whatever He wishes to make He can make, extept One like Hiuself.
70. The Word of God, the Book of God, ,the Angel of God, the Prophet of God, muṣt be comprehended!

Commentialis. The word of God is not from'the throat, nor the palate, vior the tongue. It is a will and expression without any of these.' . For at: the. command of God, the chief of 'Antrels, Bethinen, sprung into existence ; and with that pen '(Behuen'), by the hand of His omnipotence;', He wrote the world. And there are two books of Yezdań. The name of the first is Do-Gith, 'rwo-Worlds, and it they call the ,Great Book ; or in the haguage of Heaven; Ferz-Devartir, or the Great Desâtir; which is the Gieat Vulume of Yezdân. And the other Book is olled Desûtîr, the doctrines of which :Mehâbatd and - the other prophets fiom Mehabâd down to mé dave revealed. And it is a doctrine whictitazes on the beart, not a breath of the voice. But this breathof the voice is its mould, for the purpose of in'pressing the hearing of j1. And in the heavenly tomgue llis is called: Derick Desâtír, the litule Lesâtur; as'beitg the Lỉtle Book of God!' Now the greatest of His Prophets is the understanding; for it is the message-bearer of Yezdann, and the medium of communication between God and created beings, and was raised up.in order to bring in all existences whether, free or dependent, above or below, and is the nourisher of all. And this'; in the language of the Desâir, is the Ferz Ferjîshwer, the mighty Prophet, or according to - the Deri Parsi ltre Mehin Pyghanber ( or Great Prop phet:). And the second prophet is Man; and he has been raised up if order to bring in those below.
71. Oldness and.Newness, Stability, Instability, must be comprehended!

Commentary. By oldness He understands Intelli- 'gence, Soul and Heaven, for they are old; and there is no beginning of their manisfestation: and the last is the dwelling-place of angels, and of such as are near unto 'God. And that is new which is made and unmade of the elements below the sphere of the moon, and is again united and disunited: the essence of the elements 1 however is old. And in the lower word the soul alone is stable, for every thing else undergoes change. And the woild above is itself stable and firm, and our dwell"ing is there. And whatever is formed from an onion with the elements is unstable, for we are come here as to .is sarket.a
72. The World, ino Iohabitants, the Fres, the Dependent, must be comprehended!
73. Intelligence, Soul, Heaven, Stars, must be comprehended!
a To acquirc what may be uscfub and dhen departo

- j ${ }^{2}$. Fire, Air, Water, Earth, must be comprehended!

75. The nature of the Elements, their principle, their form, and ${ }^{*}$ Meteors, must be comprehended!
*Pensian Note. Such as rain, clouds, and so forth . which are between heaven and earth.
76. Mineral, Vegetable, Animal; Hux mankind, must be comprehended !
77. Good, Evil, Justice; Tyranny; must be comprehended!
Combentany. And comprelend that whatever is the work of God is good, and that aft the eyil which you commit proceeds from yourself. And distinguish good às beipg good, and bad as bad. And reduce Giot the opulent man to poverty, and hold it good for him, and deem this evil tobe good, And do not consider sugch exil deeds as good. And understand justice, which is the busipess of the Most Just, and accuse Him not of tyranny $\mathrm{E}_{\mathrm{E}}$ for thus the servant brings injury on his own soul. Apd know that to kill harmless Rnimals is tyranny, and call it not justice,
78. Reward, Punishment, Heaven, Hell, must be comprehended!
79. Merit, Crime, Love, Anger; must be comprehended !
80. The Prophet, the Prophet's Succes: sor, the Enquirer, the Wise,
81. Must be comprehended! Must be: comprehended! Must be comprehended! Must be comprehended! Must be comprehended!:
82. In the name of Hermehr, the Prowider of daily food to all living, the Protector of the good.
83. In time past when Mankinu did evif, Abâdârâd disappeared from among them; 84. And in consequence of his withdrawing they endured sufferings;
84. UntilI settled thee in his room.
85. Now do thou adorn the ${ }^{*}$ Fersendáj by the $\dagger$ Ferseñdâj., , *Pensian Notes. The followers of the Fersendaj Religion.
tThe Religion of Mehabâd.
86. O my prophet! the sovereignty, together with the glory of adorning religion, shall remain many years among thy children. - 88. When this religion is dissipated, My prophel Shaikiliv shall afterwards arise.

Commentary. He here informs Jyâfram, the' serwaut of Yezdan, that after the destruction of this high-ly-praised religion, Shaikiliv will arise, and again reveal to Mankind this blessed religion, and strengtheu the bouse of Yexdin.

THE BOOF

OF

SHET SHAIKILIV.

1. ET'us take refuge with Mezdần from evil thoughts, which mislead and afn flict us!
2. In the name of Shamtâa, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Loving, the Just:
3. In the name of Hermehr;' the Provider of sustenance, the Protector.
4. O Shaikilîv, son of Jyâlấd! After the glory of the Jys had extended to one aspar of years, mankind became depraved; Jyâlâd departed from among them.
Commentary. It is to be remarked that the first of the Jys is Jyafram, whom God made the ornament and glory of the Fersendaj; ; and that the last of this heiesed race was Jyalad, who retired from the world in consequence of the depravity of mankind. The followers of the Fersendâj religion call a bundred thousand SAtâm, and a hundred Salâms, Simar, and a hundred Simars, Aspar. The family of the 'Jys protect. ed the religion, and exercised the savereiguty for one aspar of years.
5. Now, thee have I chosen, and sent theo. on the work of prophecy: Glorify Me in manner following;
6. In the name of Hermehr, the Bestower of sustenance, the Protector.
7. Thou art exalted, O our tord!
8. From Thee is praise, and to Thee is praise !
9. Thou art necessarily-existent, and there is nought self-existent but Thee.
10. Thou art worthy of the adoration of adorers, and none is worthy of the worship of worlds but Thee!
i1. Thou art One, excelling in glory;
11. And of mighty praise:
12. And Thy light exceeding powerful and brilliant;
13. And Thy grandeur passing great;
14. Thy perfection is perfect;
15. And Thy bounty complete,
16. And Thy goodness most expansive,
17. And Thy splundor very glorious,

19: And Thy dignity extreme,
20. And 'Thy effulgence most bright,
21. And Thy mightiness very powerful,
22. And Thy generosity most cheering,
23. And Thy world-of-body (tënistân) very capacious.
Penstav Note. Thy wanld of forms, the cily of, bodies, bodies, the place of created thing's, wery spacious and long and broad and deep.
24. Thy goodness most shining,
25. Thy substance most excel!ent,
2. $\dot{6}$. Thy world of Intelligences very pure,
27. Thy world of Souls very glorious !
28. Thou art Mighty!
29. The Creator of All!

Persian Note. If ithout materials or time (diman. 'Zish)

Commentany. It is to be observed that Time (di$m a n$ ) is a portion of the revolution of the. Great Hea. ven, and the relation of one flecting and unfixed subject with another fleeting and unfixed subject; as for example, the relation of new events and fresh occurences in the world, with the revolution of the Heavens and the motion of the sptheres. And in the super. nal language they call it Zirwan.
30. First of the Foremost, and Beginner of Beginners.
31. Bestower of being on all essences;
32. The Manifester of all thats.

Persian Sote, The Creator of alt its, the Producer of all theres, and the Entightener of the place-ofthat.

33. Cause of Causes,  34. Preserver of Preservers?

35. Creator'of Wonders, and of whatever is most wonderful among wonders!
36. Maker of the Pure, and of whatever is purest of the Pure!
37. Worthy of the worship of Intelligences, who are the makers of substances, free from locality, and place and position.
38. For they are Lights free from all affections,
39. And they have attained felicity and proximity (to God.)
40. O Worthy of the adoration of Souls unconfined by existing' in place !
41. Although they shed illumination on bodies!
42. Director of Bodies!
43. Yet ndt so as to be united or mingled with them;
44. Who takest on interest in the World of Intelligences!
45. From Thee is their beginning, and towards Thee is their termination!.
46. Worthy of the worship of all the in-fluence-shedding Bodies of the Spheres, which are far removed from dissolution, and from assuming or laying aside their forms;
47. And Worthy of the worship of the Splendors which enlighten and are exalted!
48. And Worthy of the worship of all the Elements, whether pure and unmixed, or impure and mixed !

49 Thou art Pure, 0 Worthy to be praised! O Author of Life! O Bestower of Being! O Thou who recallest from evil to good! O Thou of spotless purity! O Guardian of the Angels of the Greater Spheres! O Light of Lights! O Lord of Eternity and of the revolutions of Time !
Commentary. Eternity (Bubaish) the relation of stable with unstable, as the relation of the Heavens with Intellig nces : And revolutions of Time (Roukesis) the relation of urstable nith stable, as the relation of the revolutions with the spleres.
50.- From Thee is Eternity without beginning: And to Thee Eternity without end!
51. Thou art the Causer of All, and of every thing, whether having the attribute of substance, or unsubstantial, whether quantity or unity, the maker or the made.
52. Thou art the accomplishment of Desires!
53. Thou hast immersed the pure substances in the oceans of Thy effulgences.
54. The eyes of purity saw Thee by the lustre of Thy substance.
55. Dark and astounded is he who hath seen Thee by the efforts of the Intellect!

Commentary. He nays, that he is dark and confounded who would see Giod as He is, by the light of the understanding: seeing that the undertanding, Lowever sublime, cannot discover Him as He is: And this proceeds not from the weakiness or imperfection of the understanding, Int from the greatness, the exaliedness and dignity of the essence of the Goverinor of the World.
56. By Thy perfection, Thou art exalted. above all that is visible through Thy resplendence.

Commentary. He says, Throigh Thy excellence and perfection Thon abidést higher, than cye $c . n$ see by means of the effulyence of Thy assence and Thy resplendent being.
57. Insomuch that nothing can approach or be united unto Thee; and nothing can be detached from Thee!
Commentrary. He says, the discriminative nature of God is the ensence of Ilis substance, and is not external to or sepurable from Him. For, His sell-existence is the essence of His substance; inasmuch as nothing caninany tespect be joincdor united, or concrived as joined or united to Him. Things therefore receive ex: istence and being in this sort : they have an, absolute dependence and cling firmly on the being of God, and there is a light reflected on them from the most Just, the Beslower of Existence; but not so that being is to be understood as a quality essentially inherent in or united wilh them.
58. 'Thou hast become hidden from the very brightness and extreme brilliance, and excessive light of Thy splendor.
59. And among the most resplendent and powerful and glorious of Thy servants who are free from inferior bodies and matter, there is none Thy enemy, or rival, or disobedient, or cast down or annihilated!

6o. Mankind cannot extol or duly praise, in any respect suitably to their excellence, even the meanest of them who stand in the lowest degree.
61. Then how can they worthily extol Him who swallowed them up in the effulgence of His Majesty which is very glorious, and melted them in the shining of His Greatness which is very vast?
02. His worshippers are dejected from their inability to attain the beight of His Majesty.

C3. That man is a perverter of truth who wio imagineth that likeness, or quantity, or locality, or body, or any accident among accidents, or any property among propertiès can be predicated of Thee;
04. Save from necessity, or as a form of speech, or for the purpose of intimation.
65. Thou art Exalted and Exçellent!
66. Thou, O God! art such, that, save Thee, there is none other worthy to be lauded. Light of Lights! Highly to be extolled! Remover of Evils!
67. The pure Substances are moved by affection towards Thee !
68. The Lofty who are invested witt. being, are subject to Thy power!
6. The pure Souls repose their hope in Thee.
70. Thou art exalted, and art that which hath no limits, and can be bounded by nothing.
71. I pray unto Thee shower down upon me Thy blazing light !
-22. And speak unto me words that may teach me the knowledge of Thy secrats which are admirable ;
73. And aid me by light, and vivify me by light, and guard me by light, and unite me unto light!
74. I ask of Thee, $\mathbf{O}$ Worthy of adora, tion! and long to belrold Thee, and to descend into the ocean of Thy Mightiness.
75. Succour, O Thou who art worthy to be adored! the band of light: and purify their inner parts, and mine: and cleanse them and me to everlasting of everlasting !
76. In the name of Hermehr, the Provider of sustenance, the Protector.
77. O Shaikilîv! when thy religion falleth, Yàsân the prophet of Yezdân will revive it.
73. Every prophet whom I send, goeth forth to stablish religion, not to root it up.
79. Thy religion is the religion of the Great Abâd (Ferzâbàd), and other prophets shall succeed in that religion, till they make it pure.

80 And this religion I never will root up; and well-doers shall reach me throurgh this religion for ever and ever.

THE BOOK

08

SHET THE PROPHET YASAAN:

1. Det us take refuge' with Mezadán from cvil thoughts wbich mislead and distress us!
2. In the name of Shemta, the Bountiful; the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Just.
3. In the name of the Merciful God (Daî).
4. Know, $O$ Yâsân! spn of Shai Mehbûl ${ }_{\wedge}$ when one simârsâr had elapsed under the dominion of the Shais, thy father saw the wickedness of mankind, and went out from among men.

Commentary. Because these prophets could not with patience look upon wickedness, and were offended at evil-doing.
5. Now have I chosen thee for prophecy: Arise! Enlighten the religion of the Great Abâd (Perzâbâd), and praise Me in this wise ;
0. In the name of the Merciful God (Dai.)
7. O Wortby to be worshipped of me and of all that bave being, whether those *below or those †above.
*Persian Nores. Which are discoterable by the fite senses.
+Which are intellectual and not discoverable by the. 'senses.
8. O. Bestower of Souls and of Intelligences!
9. O Creator of the essence of ${ }^{\text {a }}$ supports and stays!
10. O Necessarily-Existent !
11. O Thuu who showerest down benefits!
12. OThou who formest the heart and Soul!
13. O Fasliioner of forms and shadows!
14. O Light of Lights ! Mover of what. ever revolveth!
15. Thou art the First! For there is no priority prior to Thee!
16. Thou art the Last! For there is no posteriority posterior to Thee!
17. The Angels labour in vain to attain the comprehension of Thy grandeur !
18. Mankind are baffled in attempting to a Literally, Cdlumns and rooto, The subatratum that is auppostd to sumtain qualities.

shet the proplier yágân.

understand the perfection of Thy substance!
19. O Worthy to be lauded! Deliver us from the bonds of terrestrial matter!
20. Rescue us from the fetters of dark and evil matter!
21. Diffuse over our Soul's the effulgence of Thy splendors !
22. Shower down on our Souls the gladness of Thy signs!
23. Intelligence is a drop from among the drops of the ocean of Thy place-of-siouls.
24. The Soul is a flame from among the flames of the fire of Thy residence-ofsovereignty.
25. Thy substance is a heaving substance whence boils' forth the substunce of swils, without place, without downuess, not con-- nected, not separated;
20. Which is free from defects, and ties, and imperfections.
27. Exceeding Great is the Necessari-ly-Existent-One, insomuch that the eyes cannot discover Him, nor the thoughts conceive Him!
28. Thine are Grandeur and Praise !
'29. And with Thee are withholding and bestowing; and to 'Thee belong liberality andistableness.

30, Fxceedingly Great is Mezdim: for in His hands are the Souls of all things; and towards Him do they return. .
31. In the name of the Merciful God (Dai).
32. Mezdáh is not a substance, and is not unsubotantial; and is more exalted than aught thou canst conceive.
33. And notbing resembleth Him: and He is like unto no thing.-
34. He is One; not one that can be num. bered.
35. He hath no like: and nothing existeth like unto Him.'
36. He liveth; not by a soul, and life, and body. He liveth of Himself.
37. He is All-wise without reffection; and ignorance bath no influence over His knowledge.
38. He is Lord of His wishes: whatever He hath desired He hath done: and will do whatever He listeth.

3g. He is All-lowerful! Whatever He willeth willeth He cando ; and is staid in nothing except in creating one like Himself.
to. His excellencies are manifold, and cannot be numbered.
41. He created unnumbered angels: of these the First is Bahtman: for all Intolligences and created things are under his hand.
Pershav Nore. The First Intelligence.'
42. Next Manistar who is very Mighty und the Leader of all Souls.
Pesmsan Note. The Soul of the Jighest Sphene.
43. Next Ten-bûd, and he is the Chief' of all Bodics.

Commentary. And T'en-bûd is the name of the uppermost sphere.
44. Spirits, Bodies, and what is bodily, substances, and things unsubstantial, are all created by Him and his blessing is on them;
45. In an especial manner upon Saturn, and Jupiter, and Mars, and the Sun, and Venus, and Mercury, and the Moon; and on the Great Abiàd, and the Abâdians, and on thee $O$ Yasan! who art now chosen from among Mankind; and thy followers shall assuredly be saved.
46. And those who are saved remain in in heaven for everlasting; the guilty in dire= ful ${ }^{a}$ hell.
47. In the name of the Merciful God (Dai).
48. Purity is of two kinds reat and for.mal.

- 40. The Real 'consisteth in not binding the heart 'to evil ; and in cradicating all. wicked passions.

Commentary. As, for example, ill crpelling .anger and lust from the heart.
50. And the Formal in cleansing away what appears evil to the view. - Comaentary. Such as uncleaunesses, and thingy unsecmly to the sight.
41. And this last purification is performed by the water of Yefter.

Commentary. Yelter is water which has its matural colour, surell and taste; which has no bad smetl: And if there be none bich, rosiq water and so tiveth are" pure; nay these last are pecullarly pure.
52. And the water of Kurd is that which is suitablé to a body.

Commentaux. They call Kurd-water, that which a Persfan marginul Note in the original. As punishment is nut eterant, He dues sut moy tvirimanus Hell, but calla at direful.
cieanses bodies, and is suilable to them: thus a river is suilable to an eliphant; and for a man as much as can cover bium. from head to fuot; and for a hair, the mallest quantity.
53. Wash thy body, of thy face, hands and feet in water.
54. If thou canst not, imigine that thou 'dost.

Commentary. Imagine fith thyself, I have wasted my body, or head, hands and feet.
55. Thion come before the Shesh-kakh and pray.

Commentary. The Shesh-bakh are the stars antid the fire which yield light.
56. After praying to Mezdâm direct thy' prayers to the Shesh-kâkh, that they may convey thy prayers to Mezdâm.

- 57. If during prayer a devout man stand before the others, and the rest stand behind; 'tis well.

58. If thou canst not effect this, conceive it.

Commentarf. Imagine that thou hast been so saying thy prayers.

50, Besides this, whenever thou scest a Shesh-kâkh, bend in prayer;

Co. And every day pras four times, or thrice, or twice, or once at least, without fail.

Commentary.

Commentary. It is to be remarled that there apa several kinds of prayer. One of these is the Ferzy zemiâr or Great Prayer, which is in this wise. A per, son stands before any thing that burns, folds his aring belore him, bends his head down to pis navel and agrain raises Linuselfs he next once more beads down his head? lays one hand upon it, and removes thai hand; lays chis other hand on this head, and then raisiug up his head, joins his two hands, phacing the fiugrers agninst, egch other, the two thumbs excepled, which he keeps disengaged. He next paces his two thumbs on his, eyes, extending the extremities of his fingers as far as they can reach over the crown of his head, and bends down his head to his breast: He then taises up his tead, and afterwards lies down on the grount, / licing his hands and knecs on the ground in surth a way, that his forchead reacles the earth: alt:r which he plices first one side of his face, and then the other side of his face on the ground. Next he stretches himelf out, and lice like a $\log$, as if asleep, white his breast and bully, as well as his thighs, rest on the ground, his arms straight cut, and the palms of his hands flat on the carth: he first lays his forebeall, then one check and next the other cheels on the ground: atier which he sits on his two feet, and then with his feet crossed ander him. Next he sits crouching on his feet, clenches his two fists, and places his head on them. He now rises, and opening toth bis hands, raiots then up. This prayer: vith all the ceremonies whinh 1 have enumerated, must be directed to none but Yezdân. By taking away or diminishing some of them, it becomes proper for the Shesh-kakh. In this prayer a passage on verse of the Diesutit ahould be recited. Whea the prayer to Yeadan is fuished, it is right, in honour of the Shesh-kakh, to plice the head on the ground a second time, to lay the forehrad on the earth, to recite the praises of the Shesinbakh, as they are contained in the Desitir, and to entieat it to convey to Yezdan the prayers offered to him. And, if the prayers be offered betore Fire, let the worshipper $\$ \mathrm{scy}$, O Creator of Ailer (Fire)! convey my prayers to Yezdin): seeing that Fire has no soul ; and in the same way if belore Water. And the most laudable made of prayer is far a wise and good man to recite these prayirs first, while the crowd stand behind and repeat them alter him; and at they cannol do this, let them imagine that they have done sQ. And whenever you see any lhing that gives light, whether by day or night, incline your head. And every day say your prayers four times, or three times or twice. 'Ihe first time is from dawn till sumise: the second is mid-day: the third, at the time of the selting of the world-enlightening sun : the fourth is midnight. And if you cannot eflect this, you must at least pray once unfailingly when the sun rises.

1. Reverence the four Elements, yet da not therefore lay thyself under constraint.

- Comentany. Observe that he says, Whenever you see fire, water, or the pleasant eurth you must incline your head, and in like manner as 10 gentle and strong winds: and defile not the carlh; yet, nevellheless do not pul yourselfunder unnecessury construint. 'Thus, allhough tire is the greal itluminator, you my kindle it under your bette, and, when you have company, you may ligho a candle from it, and carry it belore you in a dark night. In like manner, in cases of necessity, you may extinguish it, but it must be with wnter; and as long as you can, you must let it burn firewool, thorns, such dry sticlss as are dried naturally, and so forth. The second Element is Water : y ou must not defile the ban's of a running atream, nor pour out water in bad placesa Yet it is necessary to was! the bolly with it, and to ease yourself in it, during long voyages made by water. And as to the air, there are many spe.ls that spoil it, and such should nint lie prdiduced; yet, where they are inevit ble, llicy are not to be kept near at hand, but to be removed to a distance, to that side towards which the wind blows. And the Earth nivit not be defiled or dirtied; yet a place munt of necessily be allowed for the purpose of throwing out into it; the excretions that proceed fröm both siles.

62. In the name of thic Mcrciful God!
63. O Yâsân! I say unto thee, the cortuption of thy religion Gilshah will remove:
64. And he will wax so great that he shall be called the Father of mankind, and shall become a mighty prophet.

THE BOOK

- ${ }^{\mathbf{F}}$

SHET THE PROPHET GILSḢAH:

1. LeT us take refuge with Mezdîn from evil thoughts which mislead and distress us!
2. In the name of Shatitai, the Boun-, tiful, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Just!
3. In the "name of the + Lofty One, the $\ddagger$ Giver, the §̧Just, the $\|$ Lord.
*Prnstiv Nores. lin the nume, sign, kinozitedge, "aind compretersision of things; and the mewiory and perception ef the sensises.

+ Greal, Lofty, of exalled sezereignty; and pomp.
$\ddagger$ The Bestiouer,'the Liberal, the Bountiful, the Giver.
§The Just who deals out to each according to his words, comiersation and knowledgre, and talk, specch and wisidon': and, according to Kis deeds and acts, and do. ings good or bad, right' or wrong, praistecorthy or blameable, giies auto cach retitibution, und retaliation and puinishment.
#The Lord, Mister, Guardian'; the Mighty, the High, the Hsad and Chief.

4. O Ferzînsâr ! son of Yâsânâjâm: when ninety and nine salam of years had passed under the sway of tlie Yâsânians; mankind became evil-doerş, and Yâsânâjî̀m withdrew from among them.

5, And now mankind are without any head and in disorder; and have hecome like ravenous beasts, as at the end of the period of the reign of Shàemekhbul, and Jyílâd, and Abûdârrâd.

Commentary. They say that in consequence of the retreat of these princes, the affairs of mankind wel $t$ into confusion, and men fell on each other like demons, the strong slaying the weak, till illy lost the very sentiblance of men and became wild beasts; when Jyafrâm, Shâikiliv and Yâaín were sent of Giod as prophects. And at the period of the abdication of the lientenant of the great prophet, that is Yâsânâjàm, the affairs of the race of man, in like manaer, went into similate disurder. They overturned the beneficial regulations of ancient kings, and abandoned the ways of men to such a degree, that they wandeted over the hills and willds like beasts, while the towns, bouses and streets were converted inio a waste; until Ferainsar, the som of Ifibánịijan, whom they calt Gilshah and Giomert, was sent by the benevolent and merciful Ruler of the work, on the work of propliecy; and-that bessed prophet inctiued men to justice, so that the father educa e.d the son, and thight him the rond in whiok in no , amd religisn and virlue. He trained mankind in such institutions, taught thein the nurture of has manity, and techained then from their savage state, whense it was that they huth him to be the Father of Mankind. The band that did not come into the right rood and the true raligion, were called Div (drmons) in co.sequence of their birbarons hife, and the sliyer of bianck was one of thein.
0. Thee have I selected for prophecy. Revive the Religion of the prophet of prophets the Great Abâd.
7. And worship Herfesrâm (Saturn) in this sort, that he may lend thee his aid.
8. In the name of the Lofty One, the Giver, the Just, the Lord!*
9. Thine is purity, and to Thee is praise !
10. O Mighty, Wise, Strong, and Powerful!
11. Obedient unto thy Creator:
12. Revolving in the love of a most pure passion.
13. In the revolutions of thy Sphere, which is free from the affections of division, of assuming a new share, of putting off a shape, or of taking a straight course.
14. Thou art the Prince of the Higher Sphere, lofty and dignified!
35. Who sittest aloft in dignity !
10. Profound of thousht! the receptacle of reflection! Jofty of purpose.

1\%. Lord of Unity and of steady action !

[^2]18. And of profound thoughts, and of multitudinaus works!
1.9. And of large bounty !
20. Thine are Sovereignty and Pomp!
21. He who created thee, and $i_{0}$ the Creator of All, is Mighty !
22. And gave thee refulgence, and inlightened Aill!
23. And sent forth upon thee a portion of his awful light!
24. And next, according to his will, assigned thee a course which is everlasting!
25. And placed thee high in the lofty eminence of the seventh Heaven!
26. I pray of thee $O$ Father! Lord! that thou ask by the splendor of thy Soul,
27. from thy Father and Lord, thy Prime Cause, and Lover,
28. the Intelligince that glorified thee with light,
29. and of all the free and blazing lights that possess intelligence,
30. that they would ask of their Father and Lord, the Intelligence of all Intelli-' gences; the first created Intelligence,
31. the most approved wish that can be-" asked of the Being, most worthy of all

Being

Beings to be adored, the one worthy of the worship of mankind, the Stablisher of All;
32. to make me core of these who approach the band of His Lights, and the secrets of His Essence: and to pour light on the band or Light and Eplendor: and to magnify them, and to purity them and us; while the world endureth and to all ternity, so let it he !
33. In the name of the *Lofty, the Giver. the Just, the Lord!
34. O Fcrzinsâr! thou art the prophet whom three sons obey.

Prensay Noite. Tlie Mineral, Vegelable and Aniv mal Kingoms.
35. And the four mothers are under thy sway.
Penshan Note. The Four Elemmits.
30. Siâmer thy son and My friend have I selected for prophecy, that a prophet too may be subject to thee.
37. After thee Hurshad the son of $\dagger$ Siàmer is my prophet to support thy religion.

[^3]
THE BOOR

OF

SHET THE PROPHET SLAMETT.

1. IET us take refuge with Mezánm against evil imaginations, that mislead and distress us.
2. In the name of Shemtai, the Bounti., ful, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Just !
3. In the name of Mezdâm!
4. O Siàmer, son of *Ferzinsâr, thou art' a prophet nigh unto Me: Extol $\dagger$ Ferzins râm in this wise;

* Prisian Notes. Sidmek the son of Gilshah.
$\dagger$ Ferzinram, Hurmasd (Jupiter).

5. In the name of Meadâm!
c. Thine is purity ; and praise be thine;
6. And from thee, on the pure Souls;
7. O very Mighty and Excellent! the Ferzinram of the Spheres;
g. Of high dignity ! the Father and Lord of Felicity !
8. The Medium of Blessings!
9. The Gieat Soul! the Merciful Father and Lord!
10. The Great, the Bountiful, the Cond Bpicuous and Blest! .
11. The tinghty of passing mightiness !
12. Who spreadest refulgence wide ibtoad!
13. Lord of Knowledge, and Patience, and Justice, and Excellencies;
14. And the Author of good disposicions:
15. And of the excellencies of dispositions:
16. Of mighty capacity : the redresser of wrongs :
17. Devoted to thy Creator:
18. Revolving in the love of Intelligence;
19. In the circle of a Sphere that refuseth to admit of the affections of disunion, or of assuming a new form, or of putting it off, or of moving in a straight line.
20. Great is thy Creator! the Creator of All!
21. The liluminator of thee, the Enlightener of All,
22. And thy Succourer, and thy Blesser, and thy Mover, who is very Great,
23. elevated thee, of the affection of His exceeding love,
24. from they place, for thy happiness.
25. Thy revolution is profitable, s'lower- , ing down blessings, excellencies a a filia:ties.
26. He assigned thee a lofty place of rest in the Sixth Sphere;
27. Of thee $\dot{I}$ ask happiness in both abodes:
28. And I ask of thee, O Father and Lord of Felicity! thou who rainest down justice and goodness:
29. That thou wrouldst ask of thy Father aud Lord, the Author ot thy Being, thy Beloved;
30. Who is the Giver of Light, the free Intelligence, Most Excellent ;
31. And of all unembodied Intelligences that are nigh (unto Ilim), free from the stain of matter and jts bonds;
32. That they would ask a wish suitable,
33. to the eternal world, which is free from mutability,
34. from their Father and Jord, and their Author, the first-cieated, the Intelligence of All;

Commentary. The Intelligence of Inteligencos, the Intelligence of all Intelligence.

3y. That he would be pleased to ask in this wise from the Being most worthy ta be adored of him, and most worthy to be flored by the Reings worthy of adoration, wo thy to be adored by Mankind:
38. Light of Lights, who shewest the profitable religion to all that move;
39. Lord of brightest glory, and of most overpowering light;
40. Of most exalted praise; Creator of All!
41. Bestower of Life, Self-Existent, great is His magnificence !
12. That He may make me one of those near unto Him ; and one of the Band of His Lights, and of those who are admitted into His Secrets:
43. And remove from me all evils, both of soul and body;
44. And grant me the effulgence of glory from the band of light and brightness;
45. And bless them and us, and purify them and us;
10. World without end.
47. In the name of Mezdâm!

O Siâmer! I will call thee aloft, and make thee My companion : the lower world is not thy place.
48. Many times, daily, thou escapest $l / 0.1$ the body, and comest near unto Me.

Commentary. For as Siamek's bodj, of ueditation and mortification in the wh had become like'n vest unts him, when ho wa pixul with a desire to visit the nuserls and Yealdar, lie forn al the iondy many times a clay, and repaited to the place of his wishes; : nd at the command of God again returned back to his bedy.
49. 'Therefore will I release tlice from thy terrestrial body, and makeathee sit in My company $:$
50. And I will leave as a memorial one proceeding from thee; and no one shall be wise like lim.

Commentiny. Here Ile informs Siâmek, quhen I cill thee alolt, I will leave in the lower world, thy son Hosheng, who uill become a most wise prophet, insonuch that no man will equal his wistom and greatuess. After lhe revelation of this remakable propinery, siâmerb lazing been sluin by Beings, men inshape, but demons in mind, and delivered trom the bolly and the bouls of the boily, reached the City above, and the seat of knowlelge: and these demon-men mot with retribution and retaliation in battle from the hand of the Peshdîl ( or Ju-ticiary), nad most just prophet, tha knonledare-adorned llosheng.

THE BOOK

OF SHPT

SED-WAKHSHUR* HOSNENG

1. Let us take refuge with Mezdîm from evir thoughts that misleadiand vex us.
2. In the name of Shemt $\hat{u}$, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Mcrciful, the Just!
3. In the name of Mrtadum the Creator of Wisdom !

- 4. O Hurshad son of Siamer! $\dagger$ Thou art My chosen prophet! and to thee have I given knowledge and wisdom:

5. And thou art the teacher of the prophets that shall some after thee.
6. Maintain the religion of lerzalb:id:+
7. And praise Manistrâm, §uho is thy Guardian, in this namner ;
8. In the named of Meadim, the Creitor of Wisdon!
*Sri-wakhishtr, an epithet of Hualeng, sigming ing Ilun. died propliet. thobheng onn of Sintark, lers.
tThe Persidu has Buaurbill则, both meaning the Great Alials.
-Beliaña,
9. On thee be praise, and the holiness of Mezdâm and His felicities;
10. O Nighty! Wise! Powerfal! Des* troying! Victorious!
i1. Refulgent Father and Lordl Manisrim of the Sphere!
11. Evcr-obedient to thy Crciut. ".
12. Revolving is the affection of ly ben loved Intelligence!
1.4. in the circle of thy sphere which re:fuseth to admit of disunion of parte, or to receive a new form, or to change an old one; or to move in a straight litie:
13. Thou art the courageóus, whose weapons are direful! Thou shearest stoutly,
14. Lord of Anger and of Power!
15. The stern Terrifier!
16. The Inflamer, that makest the blood to boil!
17. That brandishest the sabre!
18. Mighty is He who created thee, and enlightened thee !
19. Who clotbeth thee in the garb of terror, and grandeur, and sovereignty!
20. And who raineth down splendors on. thy Soul! •
p3. Insomuch that thy revolutions, which äre ever performed rejoicing, arc put in motion by Him!
21. He gave thee an abiding place in the hicth heaven!

2f. I ask of thee that thou break in pieces the enemies of the Lord of Truth;
$2 c$. And that thou ask of thy Father and Lord, thy Creator, the object of thy love, who is the overpowering I ight;
27. And of all the powerful and near Lights which are free Intelligences,
28. That they ask of their Father and Lord and their Creator, who is the First created, and the Universal Intelligence,
29. A wish suited to Intelligences who are free from change,

3o. That he would ask of the One worthy of his praise and of the praise of All: of Him worthy of the worship of worlds, the Lord of Being, the Stablisher of All;
31. That he would make me one of those who approach near unto Him, and of the Band of His Lights, and of the Company of those who are admitted into the secrets of His essence!
32. Let him glorify the Band of Light and and Refulgence, and bless them, and Euify them and us;
33. While the Universe enduretb for ever, so be it !
34. In the name of Mezdâm tur Ǎuian r of Knowledge!
35. After thee Tekhmûred shall Le a prophet;
30. And I will never remove the gift of prophecy from among thy children:
37. But, to everlasting, will raise up prophets from thy race.
38. And to whomsoever I shew the way unto $\mathrm{Me}_{2}$ I bring him by this Religiona

THF: BOOK

0 or

SHET THE PROPHET TAHMÛ́Ȧ.

$\times$ET us seek refuge with Mcydàm fromyevil imaginations which mislead and harass.
2. In the name of Shemta! the Bountiful! the Beneficent! the Merciful! the Just!
3. In the name of the Almighty Mezdâm!
4. O My Prophet Tekhmurred son of *Hurshâd! Do thou make strong the Religion of the Great Abâd.
5. The Sun is thy supporter: him have I commanded to aid thee! Do thou therefore pray unto him in' this wise ;
6. In the name of the Almighty Mezdâm!
7. Thou rejoicest in the living Intelligence, the Everlasting of Lights !
8. Most resplendent of Beings, and amplest of Stars !
-Tahmuras, son of Hosheng, Pers
9. Praise be on thee: and the grace of Mezdâm, and His blessing!
10. O Thou Most Mighty Diffuser of Light, Ever-revolving, Most lilest, who . derivest thy splendor from thy * Crestor!
*Penszan Note. Who created thee withore subp stance or time.
11. Revolving in the abundant lore of the greatness of thy Creator,
12. In the circle of thy sphere, which is - without rent, which neither assumetl a new shape nor putteth off an old one, nor taketh a straight course.
13. Thou O Sun! art powerful in thy blaze, glorious in thy lustre, the burster of darkness;
14. Head of the World! King of the Stars!
15. Mightiest of Beings above!
16. Maker of the day, according to the commands of the Most High !
17. Protector of the great lights that have bodies!
18. May the Supreme "Behrâd enlarge thy bright and glorious body!
10. O Intelligent and Wise! WideaYızáar. Pcre. spreading, greatest of the pure Wardens of the brilliant Lights !
20. Lieutenant of the Light of Lights in the world of Bodies!
21. Thy light most of all approximateth Yie light of His Majesty!

Cormentary. That'is, the Majesty of God, the expre ion referring to His altribute of Light of Lights. $_{\text {in }}$
22. Thou art a symbol of His greatness;
23. A sample from among the samples of His lustre ;
24. Thou art as a proof of IIIm upon His servants;
25. Of Ifin* who hath bestowed on thee thy light over bodies when thou illuminatest them;
20. And of IIim who blesseth thee.
27. By the power of fFeryâr thou hast become blest: Thou, gourest out thy light on the Stars:
28. And thou takest not from them the garment of splendor and light:
20. Nighty is He who traced out thy form, and kindled thy lustre:

[^4]30. Who maketh thee revolye in the love of H.s Majesty !
31. Who gave thee a stationin the fourth heaven;
32. And maketh thee abide in the midst of perfect order.
33. 1 ask' of thee, 0 . Father and $L q u$ "d $d=$ Grandeur,
34. Lord of Heat, Author of the powers. of the Senses ;
35. Cause of whatever is produced anew, and Creator of the Seasons;
36. To ask through the medium of thy active soul which beameth with glory;
37. From thy Creator, and the object of thy Love,
38. The Origin of thy motion, Him whose shadow and talisman thou art ;
39. And from all the majestic and glorious Lights which are free Intelligences;

4Q, That they may ask a wish suiced to the eternal world, which is pure, free from novelty and change,
41. Of their Father and Lord, their Creator,
42. The nearest Light, the most glorious of created Beings, the universal Intelligence, mightiest of created Beings, and First;
43. That he would ask, in this sort, of the Being worthy to be praised of him: yind worthy to be worshipped of those wha are themselves wothy to receive worship;
${ }_{44}$ The Final Limit of causes, the Lord that giveth union to Worlds;
45. The Limit and Staplisher of All !
46. Light of Lights! Worthy of the adoration of every Intelligence, Soul and: Body, whether celestiai or material, compounded or simple:
47. Most Perfect in combining;
48. The only Mezdârâm,* Self-existent whose sovereignty is Majestic!
49. That he would illuminate my Soul with pure lights, adurable knowledge, and lofty excellence :
50. And make me one of those nigh unto Him, who are filled with His love;
51. And guard me from all miseries whether of soul or body;
52. And give unto me glory, as unto the• Band of Light and Brightness;

[^5]53. And bless and sanctify them and 175 fur ever. Amen (Terâj.)
Commentary. Teruijis a word ued when one praised another or wislie him some blessing, fint im. ite a desire or hope of its being granted : Anill, win onc's well-being is prayed for, the petition is accom, 3 ini, dhy that expression.
54. In the name of the Almyghty Ncti- dâm!
55. After thee, Jermshar is My prosphet;
56. Him have I chosen for (the establishment of) Arts,
57. And I will shew bim the excellencies of the World.

* Jemshid, Ress.

THE BOOK

or

SHET THE PROPHET JEMSHID.

i. TAET us také refuge with Mrezdâm Wromevil, thoughte that mislead and distress las!
2. In the name of Shemtâ the Bountiful! the Beneficent! the Merciful! the Just!
3. In the name of the Art-creating Mezdâm!
4. O Jermshâr, son of *Tehmûred, Thee have I chosen; Stablish thou the religion of the Great Abâd:
5. Thou art an exceeding great prophet ;
6. And I have taught thee all manner of Arts, and adorned the world by them:
7. My light is on thy countenance :

Commentany. The light which l have given is on thy face, that whocver sees it man know that it proceeds from Me, and may discover the light of My unity.
8. And do thou speak precisely according to. My words.
9. My word is on thy tongue:

* Jematidid on of Tabmura.

Commentary. Since I am the Creator of: in 't, and thou hast no word but mine:
10. Me thou seest, Me tionn 'mar:st, Me thou smellest, Me thou timest V/, incia touchest.

Commcatany. For in every thine nod in a. . action thou hav Ne with tire: and lin . 1 in every timine nond in overy plicer: hus 1 amen grandeur of the Uni's of My Being will in watow. and comprehembert at the spindor of Ay exite ce, and hearest My word trom all in cerery thine, sitice all are in search of Me: and sume lent M. in every than, and hast tisted the flavour of ly lnowledge, and ant nigh unto Me.
11. What thou gayest that I say: and thy acts are My acte.
12. And I' s: eak by thy tongue, and thou speakest to Me;
13. Tuough Mortals below imarine that thou speakest to them.
Comanerany. Thou att so devoted to Me that thou allendest to none dis.
14. Adore Ferchengirâm* that thous mayst receive help from her:
15. Lo! the praser I have sent. Thus Pray;
10. In the name of the art-creating Mezdâm!

* Nalid, Pers. the planet Venus.

1\%. Thine is purity : and on Thee be the blessing of the Lo.d!
18. O mighty and admirable Lady! Mistress of knowledge! and Lady of action!
10. Ferchengirian of the Splacre (Hengam !
20. Happy Defuser of Light!
21. Dignified and Resplendent!
22. Eissence of Splendor!
23. Reaplendent Beluved!
24. All-delighting and Pure:
25. Ornament of Joy, Fricnáship and Goodness !
20. Obedient to thy Creator,
27. Revolving in the Luve of thy Beloved,
28. Who is pure and independent!
20. In the revolution of his sphere free from disjunction, and change of form and from a straight course!.
so. High clevated is thy Creator, thy Stablisher, Ife who mightily impelleth thee in thy spherical course,
31. Of his great affection and love:
32. Who by his love retained thee in thy course, thyself being impotent.

Commentary. By the expression impotent be doge not intimate that the sphere has not a voluntary and self-directed motion: He only means that the moticn of the sphere is a dance caused by the"pure radiance and bright light which proceed from it. Earr forire denives its original stock of light from it ${ }^{\text {d }}$ Cuand. ; from each communication of radiance the Hesten , ceives the power of motion! and from ras ${ }^{1} \mathrm{c}$ "ra, aequires the capncily of a new radiation, by $u^{\prime \prime}$ thy $r i$ which effulgence it moves.
33. He hath assigned thee thy place in the third Sphere.
34. I ask of thee, $O$ Most Blest in the two *abodes!
35. That thou ask of thy Father and Lord, of the Cause of thy being, the free Intelligence,
30. That he would ask of his Father and Lord, the Cause of his being, the Best of ${ }^{-}$ created beings, the Universal Intelligence,
37. A wish suited to the Eternal World,
38. (Which is) pure from alteration or change,
39. That he would ask of the Prime of Time, the Self-existent,
40. The Most worthy to be adored by the worthy to be adored, the Stablisher of All,

[^6]41. The Esseace of Essences,
42. Thar He would illuminate my Soul? and smooth my difinculties,
43. That He would draw me near unto Him,
44. That He weuld enlighten the Bande. of light and splendor,
45. And bless them and us, and purify them and us,
46. For ever, and to cyerlasting of everlasting.
47. In the name of the Art-creating Mezdâm!
48. Thou wilt be asked, By what dost thou know God. (Mezdân:),
49. Say, By what descendeth on the heart.

Commentany. Since that is kinowledge that flows on the heart of the wise from liezdin.
50. For, could that be proved false, Souls would be utterly helpleos.

Commentary. For worldlings can never succeed in fabifying that, however much they may atlempt it: for that knowledge is truth, and from it proceed innumerathe miracles.
51. There is in thy soul a certain know. ledge, which, if thou disply it to mankind, they will tremble like a branch agitated by a strong wind :
52. Whoever knoweth thy words, his prayer is accepted:
53. If thou be asked, Have you. seen

Mezdâm ?

54. Say, How should I know a God (Merkhâd) whom I never saw ?
55. I would not enjoin the worship of a God whom I could not shew.

Commentany. He says, $O$ Jemshifi! I cannot know God till I brhold him. For a blind man, even though wall intomed, does not in truit know colours as they really are, hourf oll speaking lie call them Hacs, white, red and yellow, and knows of what colour eve y thing is, since he has lienrd and recollects. Still however he does not really know what yellow is, or what red is. So tbat were God to reitore to him his sight, and before he had been tanght to distinguish colour:, were he to be shewn sky-hlue, and totd, this is black, he could not te tuic whether they toid him trath of falselin od. In like mamer it is evident that a man must necessarily be ignorant of the properties of him whore be has not seen: and hence, until a prophet has seen the essence of the One-who-has-no-properties, he never can explain its nature to men, or command them to - porship. And atter he has seen it, nohody will lend their bolief, until he gives proof of the fuct by shewing it to others. It is therefore indispensable for a prophet that he be able to conduct onheri in the way, that they too moy perceive thal substance, and be released from doubr. Now a sect in tlie reign of t' at friend of Yezdin, the Emperar Parviz, the son of the Emperor Hurmazl, the equal in dignity to Yezdan, held what has been saiit to be incarrect: wherellpon 1 ditecled them to submit to certain ansterilies in the way of God: and a! of them being se, arated from their bodies, belield Yezdân and those iwho strround him, after which they remened back into the bedy.

THE PROPHET JEMSMID.

50. The Wise hold the existence of created things as a proof of the being of Mezdám:

Commentary. And by means of ciented existence know the Creator.
57. And thou, by the light of the Creator, seest and shewest what is created. 58. I created the world an Individual.

Commeatany. For the whole world is an Individual: Its Body which is composed of all bodies, is called the Universe (Tehim); lis Soul con-ints of all Souls and is valled the Cay-of-Sonls (Rewengird); And its lntelligence is composed of all Intelligenc's and is called the City-of-Understanding (Hoshgird). This is the Great Man. When you have contemplated this World so wonderfil, still it is but a single one of H is worshippers. If you open the eye of yuir heart you will perceive thet the heaven is the skin of this great Individual; Kywan (Suturn) the spleen, Barjish (Jupiter) the liver, Belnâm (Mars) thg gail, the Sun the heart, Nahid (Venus) the stomach, 'Tir (Mercury) the braie, the Aloon the fungs, she fixed Stars and the Mansions of the Planets the veins and nervee, the fire the warmth of his motion in themeny of God, the air his breath, the water his smeal, the carth the Aplace on which be steps as lie walk, die lightring his Aaugh, the thonder lits voice, the rain his tears, and organised bodies the worms in his belly: white his Soul is composed of the Souls above and below, and lis Intelligence of the Intelligences above and below. Man therefore shoull not rest salisfied with being a belly-worm; but eyght to strive to become a Soul. The substance of what has been explained is contained in the Hanejit̂r, which is a portion of the Desâtir writ: ten in the Limrâni tongue, and which I have followed in this exposition;
59. The world is an idea of the Selfo existent,
60. Non-existence is the mirror of exis* tence.
61. Without the light of the Self-existent, Nothing is.

C2. His light extendeth over All, and conferreth being on all existences.
03. The choicest of all effulgences is the shining of knowledge on men of understanding.
6.1. By a single flash of the Creator (Jinai), buth worlds became visible.

Commegrany. The one of which is immaterial and not in time; the oilher the material woild. Both deo sirevif eir being from the sulemdur of the Sun of the Essente of the Mor Just.
 and visible, is unity in respect to the Unity. of God (Hilud), for nothing else hath being.
66. The Perfect seeth unity in multiplicity, and multiplicity in unity.

- Commentary. One Sect conceil the lieally. Existent in the works of the Crcation; do not perceive the Realiy: Existent, but observe the Creation; dem the created to be separate from the Really-fixitent, and recLon the Itemlly-Existent difiernt from the creation: and this class are called Ferjind Shai which means " of infeior place". The second is the Sect that see the Really-Existent, but not the Crention; and lhis class is suicidal: they are called Semrâd which moans United (Giidwend). The chicf dass see the Really-Existent, and observe the Creation through IIim, and mark God in whatever exists: those who are of his class de not believe that to discover unity in muhiplicity, and multiplicity in uni'y is any obstruction to a knowledge of real unity : the mane of this blessed class is Semrûd Semrûd which mears Uaited-in-Unity (GeidwendGerdwend).

67. O Jermshâr*! thou seest God (Ferkhâd) in his servant, and the servant in God: 08. With thee unity does not obstruct multiplicity nor multiplicity unity.
68. Say unto mankind, Look not upos the Self-Existent with this eye: ask for arolher eye.

Commpntany. That is, the eye of she lemet,
70 How should they not see Him the is God? (Ferkhâd).
71. That person is born blind who saith that He cannot be seen.
72. He is blind from the womb who cannot perceive the Self-existent in this splendor which is His.
73. They have a cataract on their eye who cannot see Him.

7 th The Perfect Man reacheth God (Hilabràm) as the line of the circle returnetla to the point whence it began;
75. So hast thou returned unto Me ;
70. And bringest in whomsoever thou listest :
77. The roads tending to God (Semâsâs) are more in number than the breathings of created beings,
58. How can he, who knoweth not himself, know the Lord?
79. True Self-knowledge is knowledge of God (Sermâshâs).

THE PROPHET JMMFHDD.

89. Mankind comprebend according to their' knowledge, and thou speakest according to thy knowledge. Speak then tha ${ }^{\text {athere }}$ according to their knowledge, that they may understand.
90. Mezdâm is hid by excess of light.
91. The World, is a Man, and Man is a Wor!d.

Commentary. For they term the World t'e Cireat Man (Meli-nuerd), and the Vast Man (Mehin Merdum), and the Vait World; and Man they call the Microcosin or Little World (Kehin Jehân), because he is a type of it, and because there is found in Mana sample of whatever exists in the Great World. And able men have written books to point out the resemHances between these two worlds; as for example, that the hody is the sky; the seven members the seven planets; the twelve passages the ten and two Minsions; the fuur secreions the four elements, and so forth, as ingenious men have explained them. Itwo have written a celblorated bouk on this suliject under the name of Do (iiti (lie two Wollis), full of admirable wisdom which 1 bave derived from the moit exalted lutelligence: and in the eminent Book of the $f_{d}$ mons prophet, $t^{\prime}$ le King of Kinge, Jenslifi, there is a great deal concerning lie Unity, which only distin. guislied dsectics (Ilertacp) can comprehend. Arbion the subjert of this transcendent knowledse I have alo composed a great volume called Pertûestinn (the Minssion of Lighr), which I have adornerd by evidencts deduced from reason, and by texts from the Disatir and Avesiá,

A vestâ, so that the Soul of every man may derise ylensure from it. And it is one of the Books of lise feceets of the Great God.
83. In the name of Mezd...i. the Creator of Arts !
84. Now Mankind have become evil doers, and have taken the rond of ravenous beasts;
85. And know not thy worth ;
80. And comprehend not the meaning of thy words, and moreover insult thee :
87. And have forgotten the blessinge thou didst ask for them :
88. Now I will take thee away from the midst of them, and it is fitting that they remain under the hand of Dizakh* the Tasi。

Commentary. That is of Deltak who was of the race of Tâz the son of siâmck. He paid assiduous worship 10 Yezdîn and the stars, on which account Jezdân granted him his wishes. During his reign he annoyed harmless animals. One of lis chief crimes was his puting torleath his own father, and Jomshid and Atebîn. Finslly, as be became an evil doer, God cast him down from his state, and sent him to Hell.
89. I will bring thee near unto Myself, and du thou abide ever with Me;

[^7]THE PROPRET JEMSRID: 101
si Thou art not well whilst far remove 1ed from-sia Watch when thou comest nigh unto Me. 9:5-And as'a punishment upon Mankind; for that they heard not thy words, they shall endure much calamity. After which I will send Ferisdum* on the work of pro. phecy;
93. That be may jevive thy religion, * Ecridun, Pere.

THE BOOK

OF

SHET THE PROPHET TERTOUN:

LET us takerefuge with Mezdatm from evil thoughts which mislaad and distress us !
2. In the name of Shemta, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Just !
3. In the name of Mezdân the flelper!
4. O Perisdûm son of Atebir,* I have taken pity on Mankind and on harmless antmals, and have chosen thee, who art my friend, for prophecy: and have made the world obedient unto thee.
5. Revive the religion of the Great Abad (Ferzâbâd).
0. Charms such as, till now, no one hath known, + have I taught thee.
7. Worship Hemlrâm $_{+}^{+}$that he may be thy aider in knowledge.
8. Lo! I have sent for thee, the form of his praise.

> * In the Persian, Feridun the oon of Atelin!.
> + Many of his charms are said to be atill knowno > + Temi An is Tir (Mercury).
$\dot{\mathbf{g}}$ In the name of $\mathrm{Mezd} \hat{\mathrm{u}} \mathrm{m}$ the Helper!
10 Thine is purity, and on thee is the 'blessinć of Mezdâm.
'1. O Mighty! Good! Wise!
1:- Wather and Lord! exalted Temirâm of the Sphere!
13. Intelligent!'Active! Sagacious! Inventive! True!
14. Sage of the Heavens!
15. Sage among the Miglity !
10. Sage of Worlds !
17. Lord of Wonders !
18. Communicator of Secrets and Won? ders!
19. Treasurer of abstruse knowledge !
20. Conductor to learning !
21. Aider of the huge stars, according to their temperaments!
22. Who rainest down quickness of comprehension, and knowledge, and an acquaintance with the essence of things !
23. Obedient unto thy Creator,
24. In the revolution of thy Sphere, which is free from susceptibility of disjunction, or of assuming or laying aside its form : or of deviating into a straight course;
25. In the love of thy holy Beloved!
26. High is thy Creator, thy Ftumivator, the Imparter of hidden Secrets.
27. Who poureth down the light that guideth thee to eternity:
28. Who hath assigned thee a place in the Second Heaven.
29. O Ever-ready to guide!
30. I ask of thee that thou ask of thy Fav ther and Lord, and thy Creator and BeIoved, who is an Intelligence,
31. And of the disembodied Intelligences which are the-Lights elevated above inferior principles,
32. That they would ask a wish suited to the Intellectual World which is free from change ;
33. And of their Father and Lord, their Origin, most worthy to be praised of all created Beings, the Universal Intelligence;
34. That he would ask in this sort of the Universal Creator, the Stablisher of all Beings and Essences, worthy of the adoration of worlds, the Causer of Causes ;
35. That he would exalt my Soul, and bring me near unto Him;
30. And speak unto me, and turn aside from me the evil of this abode and of that zbode; -
27. A Ard illuñinate the band of Light and : Splundor, and bless them and us, and puris:-... fy them for ever and ever. So be it.
38. In the name of Mezdam the Helper!
39., O Perisdûm*! Prouhets never mislead :
40. Their words and deeds aro from the command of Mezdâm ;
41. Whonsoever speaketh evil of Jermshâr, $\uparrow$ bring him to a proper sense: 42. Jermshâr is my companion.

Comventany. The evil band revile Jemshid the propher, the King of Kings. Bring this b:ad to a pro-- per armor, Mant they, muy not desigmande as Bad, that mighty proplet who in now my cimpunion, and re. lenead froma the hody and from bodily affections. Instrucs with your tongue' and your hand him who sloes not atend to your. liur prophets never err, since he who is chooren of Yealtan never devintes into the ceil faith. It is related that Jemsibis (who is ma sy aloo. gether) having widhlrawn from the enciety of makinid, and being soon atter stript of lis (earlhly) clothing ly the lients of Bespresasp, Delb-nk oriered his matvants to revile Jeth, and aserithe to him wicked spreceltes and actions, therel)y to cstiblioh talje religions. X'es-dian therefore commands them to donist fram this evil talk, and siys to his prophet Feridon, the lizghly giited, that he must restrain men from it Ho firther hiforms the prophet and King of Kindes Fghilherenesalted nature ;

$$
\text { * Firiàû }, \text { Peta. }+ \text { Jemasidid, Pris. }
$$

43. Now, thy sons shall become mahalious, and shall find retribution at list:
44. And they shall notattain the object of their wishes: I will specdily give it to Miruzâd;

Commentary. He informs the propliet, The and Seln will become refractory and meet with suitable ret ibution : they will aim at flo surercignty of the kingdom of Irân, but unsuccestully : Hhateritory If will bestow on Menuclielir:
45. And after thee Miruzad shall be a prophet ;
46. And thou art one of the mighty Prophets. I have shewn thee hidden secrets; and I have given thy race supremacy over the world.
47. I have made thee prophet and king over the whole world
48. Thy posterity I have raised to Sovereignty.
Commentary. For the Prophet, the King of Kings of the age, lividad the world into three parts, and gave them to his sons, and the Sovereiguty continued in their race.

[^8]
THE BOOK

```
bF SHET
```

THE, PROPHET MENUCHEHR.

LE T us take refuge with Mezdâm - from evil imaginations which miskad and harass us!
2. In the name of Shemta, the Beneficent! the Lountiful! the Mercifal! the Just!
3. In the name of the Only Mezdinn!

- 4. O Miruzâd son of *Sershâd, I have
- exalted thee over Sîmı̂r and $\dagger$ Tîstûl; and now have T chosen the for prophecy and sovereignty! Adore thou the Moon.

5. In the name of the One Meadinn!
6. Thine be praise; and on thee be the blessing of Herjem. +
7. O Very Mighty! Learned! Wise and Good Moon (Ferhem) of the Sphere!
8. Thou art the one whom they worship amongst us, O Moon!

* Wenuchichrann if I j. P. Prs.
$t$ ie mand Jur, Pels lirj whe the supposed ancestor of th Iran'e, Tur it lime durdille.
$\ddagger$ Iizdán, ders.

9. Minister of the Suli and his Yicegerent! Bestower of coldurs !
10. Who ridest on the Splare! The friend of the very mighty cuerestials 1
11. Key of the Heavens which readity obey!
12. Guardian of the Elntnent of Wator !
13. Lord of Moistures, whethicr as to the assuming or putting off of figbre!
14. Obedient to thy Cfestor!
15. Revolving in the dircle of thy Sphere which is unaffected by intersuption or injuJy!
16. In the love of thy beloved Intelligence!
17. Glorious is thy Creator and Exalter!
18. Who raineth down the lights that confer on thee the state of eternity !
19. Who hath given thee rest in the first Heaven!

Commentary. He says the first Heaven, meaning the Elemental Heaven; because of His goodness he would intimate to his terrentrial secvants, that they should reckon from below upwards.
20. O Ever ready to aid! I ask of thee a benefit;
21. That thou wouldst ask of tby Father aîd Lord, thy Creator, who is an Intelligence 'and thy Beloved;
22. And of all the active Intelligences; Which are bights free and independent of The affections of matter;

玉3. That they would ask a wish suited to the world that is free from accident and change;

24, And (that they would ask) of the the Orjgin of their Being, the first-created Existence, the nearest Light, the Uaiversal Intelligence,
25. That he would ask oi the One worthy of his adoration, and worthy to be. adored of such as are worthy of adoration! of IHim who is worthy of the adoration of Worlds!
20. The adorner of the nests of Deing !
27. The Former of the Entities of the whule of them!
28. Iord of Bountics and Splendor! The Necessarily Existent!
20. That He would purify me by the affusion of his pure light;
30. That He would purify me and bring me near unto him;
31. And glorify nie far away from all calamities whether of Soul or Body;
32. And glorify the band of light and splendor,
33. And purify them and us; and tlers. them and us ;
34. For ever and crep, So be it
35. In the name of the One Mezalim !
30. After thee will come a prophel Kylaserv* by name, who will fill all with amazement at his freedom from worldly affections; And he will be the companion of Mezdâm.

- Ky Khueron, Pess:

THE BOOK

OF SHET

THE PR゙PDHET KY-KHUSROU.

1. DET us take refugé with Mezdàm from evil imaginations that mislead and distress us!
2. In the name of Shemtit, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Just !
3. In the name of Mezdàm the Creator Thof the free (disembodied spirit).
4. O my Prophet! Kailaserv son of Hirtâussh,* thou art high exalted near Me!
5. Thy heart is never separated from Me for the twinkling of an eye.

0 . Thy Soul is an angel, and the eon of an angel: and so I have given thee a great and exalted angel, nained Intelligence.
Commentany. Which He says, thou art an angel and the son of an angit, two things many be observed: the one that as, in truth, Intelligence is the first father, be t.llw Ky Khusron, thou art the son of that Mighty Angel : and the other that in saying, thou art the son of an ang 1 , He calls si.westh an angel from his excellence; For the Soul when it separates from the lower body and returns back to its own native place, becomss like an angel, and assumes the rank of an angel.

> * The Pergian has! "Ky Kluusruu son of Siâwakislı."
7. Finally I will place thee near Myself, along with Ferhûshbưd.*
8. Thou art not absant boen before Me for one twinkling of an cye,
9. I am never out of thy heart:
10. And I am contaired in no thing, but in thy heart, and in is beart like thy heart.

Comaneatary. For 1 un contalacd ine the liesest that is pure like thy heart.
11. And I am nearer unto thee than thou art unto thyself.
12. O My friend! Do thou make stromg the religion of the Great Abad, who is the greatest of prophets and that religion which. is My own religion.

13: For they can find no straight road towards Me except by this religion.
14. I have given thee such support and protection in the lower world, that a return of thanksgiving is indispensable uporz thee ;
15. For I have bestowed on thee celestial endowments, have given thee a Minister like Destar, and a warrior like Rustâl. $\dagger$

> * Bhimin, Pers
> + D s an and Kastom, Pers.
10. And dignified thee with such distincmon, that, in spite of all thy power, thou didst beep far away from women, nor. didst ever mingle with them; but day and might didst bind thy heart to Me.
Commentary. Obeeve tha', by the crepesing, tlinu dilst not lulk vil women; He mei.n', diblet wot enjoy womon in the watia wil mencomense and have connenion ist' women. Kiy khu oulhad inhis pone $t^{\prime}$ at never las limi conned on wih woich. His asceli, i; il $i$, crlebnatel.

17. In the name of Mezlâm, the Cre.tor of *unembonid Brings!
18. 'Thou didst ask, Who are the luw r angels? Tell me.
10. Tue semtient principles of all bordies that act aright, are lower angels Commpstany. Fine he ponen thintere, limer, sum't, by the command of teatin, ale ll aryants w ll esoul, who in lic Mamanch o. the K beg lon of the Bur'y.
20. And I have taught thee all know-

[^9]Irol grs :
ledges: thy knowledge is a ray of $\mathbf{M} y$ knowledge, and thy action a sample of My action.
21. In the name of Nezdard, the Crestor of unembodied Being !
22. I have made thee viotorious ovet thine enemies; and liave bestowed on thee whatever of external and internil excellence was useful.
23. Now thou art not satigied with coming unto me from timo to time, and longest to abide continually nigh unto me.
24. I too am not satisfied with thy $a b$. sence :
25. A!though thou art with Me , and I with thee, still thou desirest, and 1 desire, that thou shouldst be still more intimately with Me ;
26. Resign the Lower World to *Tinâsp; for the glory of Mezdâm is upon him.

Commentary. When the faculties of intelligence, sight, and taste chusea mean, and when justice bas neither excess nor deficiency, $t$ it is called the glory of Yezdin ; and, without ibis glory of Cod, no man is worthy of royalty.

* Lolirapp, Pero.
$\dagger$ This relatea to the doctrine of all virtue lying in the sidat between tiro Extremes.

27. And Tìnâsp shall have a worthy son, in whose time the Mighty Prophet Hertûsh* thall come.
28. And his Book is Enigmatical and Unenigmatical.

- Zirtû,ht, Pers.

116

TUE BOOK

SHET THE PROBIET ZIRTÛSITT

1. $L$, E T us seek renlige with veration from evil imaginations which motisleadand distress us!
2. In the name of Sheinta, the Rountiful, the Betrefieent, the Meroifil, the Just !
3. In the name of Mezdam!
4. O Hertûshâd son or *Heresfetmâd, I have selected chee for prophecy :
5. And have communicated to thee My Word in firce ways ;
6. One in dreams, and that is the †Vakbrijkûmeh;
7. The second in dozing, and that is # Arváviâst:
8. The third in waking when thou hast separated from the body, and passed with an angel above the heavens;
9. Thy soul reacheth Me.
10. All the speech which I hape bestowed on thee is of two kinds;

* Zuturit an uftairntimail, Peis.

4. Yik an wimel, l'ers: Bu kos Deams:
₹ Fulke zaki, fors.
5. The Enigmatical and the Unenigmatical ; Cause thou the enigmatical and unenigmatical to be alike.
6. Do no work but according to the Desâtîr.
7. I have unfolded to thee the secrets of being altogether.
8. Now thou knowest the past, the present and the future:
9. Unto whomsoever I grant the gift of prophecy while waking, to him do I deliver the religion of the Great Abad.
10. This religion is My Beloved.
11. Whosoever is separate from it, it proceedeth from his not discovering the meaning of My word.
12. The meaning of My word can be found only while waking.
13. Say unto Vishtadd from Me, O King of Kings ! How many things have I given thec, that thou mightest be received of all Mankind!
14. First, A prophet liłe $\dagger$ Hertûrâsh, My friend and acquaintance;

$$
\text { - } \mathrm{G} \text { ishtarap, } P .
$$

$+Z e r t u ́, h, P$.
21. Next, A son like Sepehnâd,* who is a Sage Mobed and a General ;
22. Again, A Minister like lemisâd $\dagger$ who knoweth the Secrets of all the Spheres
23. And moreover a kingdom like Finds for thine abode;
24. And in consequence of this dignity all Princes have become thy vassals.
25. In the name of Mezdâm!
26. Now, OMy Friend! thou hast come near unto Me , and I have made thee near unto Me. Ask whatever thou listest, that I may answer.
27. In the name of Mezdâm!
28. Thou hast asked, O Mighty Lord! How didst thou create the world?
29. Know, OMy Friend ! that the essence of the Self-existent is one, and without what or how.
30. Being is like light; and light becometh visible.
31. His greatness belongeth to His per-。 fections; Intelligence, and Soul, and Body are created.

```
- Iffend ar. P.
t. \man!, P
$I=2.:P.
```

32. As I have said in the Book of the Great Abad.
33. W'hen the Sphere began to revolve by the light of $\mathrm{M} z \mathrm{zdâm}$, four elements and three children were produced.
34. And these three children are dependent on the four mothers; they on the Sphere, it on the Soul, it on Intelligence, and it on Mezdâm.
35. Whatever is on earth is the resemblance and shadow of something that is in the Sphere.
36. While that resplendent thing* remaineth in good condition, it is well also with its shadow.
37. When that resplendent object removeth far from its shadow, life removeth to a distance.

33 Again, that light is the shadow of something more resplendent than itself;
39. And so on up to Me, who am the Light of Lights.
46. Look (ihereforc) to $lezdàm who causeth ihe shadow to fall.
41. In the name of Mezdim!

- The protolype diar is in the Splitre.

42. Now a Wise Man, named Tiânúr* will come from Nurakh $\dagger$ in order to consult thee concerning the real nature of things.
43. I will tell thee what he askethe and Uo thou answer (his questions) before he putteth them.

Commentany." It is said that when the fame of the excellence of the nature of Zertasht had spread all over the world, and when Isfendiar went round the world, erected fire-temples, and raised domes over the fires; the wise men of Yunan selected a Sage named Iutianûsh, who at that time had the superiority in acquirements over them all, to go to Irân and to enquire of Zertusht concerning the real nature of things. If he was puzzled and unable to answer, he could be mo prophet; but if he returned an answer, he was a speaker of truth. When the Yunâni Sage arrived at Balkh, Gushtasp appointed a proper day, on which the Mobeds of every country should assemble; and a golden chair was placed for the Yunâni Sage. Then the beloved of Yezdan, the prophet Zertusht advanced zuto the midst of the assembly. The Yunani Sage on seeing that chief said, "This form and this gait can"s nit lie, and nought but truth can proceed from "them." He then asked the day of the prophet's nativity. The prophet of God told it. He said, "On of such a day, and under such a fortunate star a deceivks er cannot be born." He next enquired inte bis diet

[^10]and mode of life. The prophet of God explained the whole. The Sage said, "This mode of life cannot "suit an impostor." The prophet of Yezdân then said to him; : I have answered you the questions "which you have pit to me; now, retain in your " mini what the famed lunani sages directed you to " enquire of Zertusht and disclone it not; but listen " and hear what they ask; for God hath inforned me "r of it, and hath sent, his word unto me to minful. it ." 'The Sage said, "Speak.l' Thercupon the prowhet Zertushic ordered his scholar to repeat the following texts;
44. The friend of acuteness will say unto thee, The Nurakh *Sages ask, What use is there for a prophet in this world?

- 45. A prophet is necessary on this account, that men are connected with each other in the concerns of life;

46. Therefore rules and laws are indispensable, that all may act in concert ;
47. That there may be no injustice in giving or taking, or partnership ; but that the order of the world may endure.
48. And it is necessury that these rules should all proceed from Mezdâm, that all men may obey them.
49. For this high task a prophet must be - raised up.

$$
\text { * Xuisin } P \text {. }
$$

129

THE BOOK OF SHEC

50. He will ask thee, How can we know that a prophet is reaily called to his offee?
51. By his knowing that which others do not $k$ now :

52 And by his giving you information regarding your own heart ;
53. And by his not being puzzled by any question that is asked.
54. And (by this) that anothes canpor io what he doeth.
Commentalr. For, when lie is askel for miracles, he performs them, alid no other can.
55. And they* have discovered that a Mighty King, a searcher of high knowledge, will arise, and will love them exceedingly: they will ask of thee, Who is he?

- Prasfan Note. The Yindani Sages.

Commentary. Mention the name and marlis of him whom this band of sages have discovered by their knowledge, their good-deeds and perspicacity of lieurt.
56. That King will be the son of a King of the race of Vishtadt the King of Kings:
57. When the Hirásis* shall do evil, and slay their king, Mezdâm shall convey him, though a Hirasi, to Tûpâl.§

+ Gushasen Pers.
$\ddagger$ Irmi- Pes.
Iftum Pers i.e. Greere. The name of R.am was rhiefly appiled to the Aeiatic duminions of the luwer (ercek Enpir.

THE PROPHET ZERTÛSHT.

38. And that King shall become a very wirtuous, accompiished and wise King; and shall in the end give his Book to the. Hirâsis;
so. That they may insert it in the Desian sir.

Commeatary. By dinis the distinctity indieates the King Sekander, who was the son of the King of Kings Uarab, the son of the Kiner of Kings Behman, exalted as hate Filts Intelligence: When the Irânis were guily of criminal acts, one of which wes the revolt of the two persons who slew King Dárab, liing Sehander reyenged them on the lainis. Finally, by the command of fezdâl, and with consent of the Alobeds, he made his book a portion of the Desâtir. That Book is the iuspired wolume which the pophet of God Zertusht asked of God that heshould send down as his hook for the purpose of advice; that when the time of Sclandes should arrive, the Destârs might exhisit it, and he being gratified with it, liecome mooe attached to the faith of the Puc. Veztan, approving of the request of his prophet, sent douna part of his word in thetorm - of an Alvice to Subander? and the King piliced it, sealed with the seals of die Dentors, in t e Ireasary. When Sckander gained the ascentency in lian, Peri-. dukht Roushemek* and the Destûrs delivered that volume into his lands. He heard it read, applauded the religion of Abad, (on which be bles ingrs), prai-ed

[^11]
12\%

THE BOOK OF SHET

the greatness of Zertusht and the tiuth of that-Religiong and commandar the Mobeds that they shonds make that book a portion of the Deâ̂̂r. That Sacred volume ig known under the name of Sekander, as it was foe tris in tristion chint it was revealed to Zertushe; amil lio begiming of it is, "In the name of the Gii erablinions. "Jedge Mezdâm."
60. And when that King cometh in Airûs,* he will cause the Books of the $\mathrm{Al}=$ ràsis to be translated into the Numbtaif tongue.
61. Hence the Sact of Internal Illumination will arise among the Nurakhis, as well as that of Reason.

Comantafix. The Secl of Gashespians of Irân and Yimin is a mediam between the Illuminated and the Rationalist. Wha n Selsibiter came to Irân, he foumd that the Gn-thespians of Iran were the better and fivior: and he tomad that they had such power that, whin they plased, they lefl the body, which they treatedlas a garmacnt. And begides them lie saw another chiss of men in Ifin, who, br means of renson and medingion (nivilid), "thicoveridthe real nuture of things as they anfir lify exist; a d there was no stich dass of men in Xuant: Having cullected all their books he (ramblocl theon inte the L'unáti and Kami tongues. I etheng ghe his Prime Nimister (Destûr) aril Teich.

- 1 in ras.
+ Yüan, lios
- Linat is ma in & betler than the Gusheapions of Yunan.
ert the tille of the chief Mobed and Sage, and made luim the Head of the Nirnudis. From this time forward the Sect of Rationalists prevailed among they Yunanis and liumis.

52. When the Nurakhi heareth these words from thee whom I! have sent, be will enter into thy Faith, and become a worshipper of Me? dâm.

Conamentary. When the Yunani Sage head all these words, he entered into the Faith, and studied knowledge and wisdom under lie beloved of God, Zertusht the prophet: and the king of kings Giushtâsp bestowed on him the Oflice of Chict of the Hirbeds of Yunan, and of the Mobeds of that country. The accomplished man having returned back to Yunanbrought orer the intabitants to the religion of that blessed prophet.
63. In the name of Mezdâm.
64. O prophet and friend! Hertûsh son of Heresfetmâd! When Senkerâkâł $\dagger$ arrived, he was turned into the right road by one fershem of the Navîsshand ${ }_{+}^{\text {and }}$ returned back into Azend.§

Commentary. Chengercngac!eh was a Sage ra. nowned for his acuteness and wisdom, and the Mobeds (wise-men) of the earth gloried in being his schulars.

[^12]When he heard of the greatness of the proptet of Yezdan, Zertusht the son of Isfentemân, he came to Irân with the intention of overturning the Good Religion. When he reached Balkh, before he had dropped a single word fiom his tongwe, and before he had asked a single question, the prophet of Yezdan, Zertusht, said into him, Commit not to your tongue what you have in your heart, but keep it secret He them addressed a Sage who was his disciple, myirge, Hend to him one section (Nisli) of the Awesta. In this itesn sed section of the Awesta were found the quevtions of Chengerengacheh with the answers, whioli He (God) himself had communicated to the proplet; forewarning lim, that such a person, of such a hame would come; that his first question would be this, and that the answer was to be so. When Chengerengacheh saw this miracle, he was converted to the Good Faith, and returning to the land of Hind remained steady in this blessed religion. May Yezdan the Bountiful grant to us und our friends this best of Faiths!
65. Now a Brahman named Birâs* will come from Azend very wise, insomuch that there are few such persons on earth !
66. He, in his heart, intendeth to ask of thee, first, Why is not Mezdâm the immediate maker of all things having being ?
67. Say thou unto him; Mezdâm is the Maker of all things; and used the medium of no instrument in bestowing exis-

[^13]tence on the Chief of Angels; but in regard ' to all other existences he made use of an instrument.
Commentary. The First Intelligence received being from the Bestower of iseing without the intervention of any instrument; while all ollier beingrs received existence by the intervention of instraments and media.
68. And this intervention of being, degree after degree, doth not proceed from any inability in Mezdâm to create (directly).
60. The cause of it is that one class of existences hath not the capacity of receiving existence but through a medium;
70. And some classes not without the intervention of media, and others classes not without many media.

Commentary. He snya, that in truth, all hingg in the realin of being have been created of Yezdàn; but int such wise, that, in the bestowing of existence on soma created beinga, He. used no instrument or medium, and there He operates inunedintrly; while in others He made use of an instrument and a mediam. But the use of an instrument or medium through different degrees does not proceed from any odefect or incaparily in making of creating on the part of Yezdàn; but arises solely from the nature of some created dhing which have nat the capacity of receiving existence except througha medium ; while others have not the power of absaming existence but through several media; and many have not the capacity of receiving creation except through many media: just as the bat, in order to receive the light of the excellent sun, requires the intervention of the light of the venerable moon: and this does not arise from the sun's not having the power of showering down illumination & light, but from this, that the bat has not the power and capacity of cnduring the nowerfol light of the resplendent sun without some

1 enquired of the Highest Angel, and Grearcil Cherub and the General of the Angels, Why did Yennimit entrust all things to your Majesty; and in like manaer through your Majesty to others; and in hike manner through these to others again? He answered, O Fifth of the Sâsanns! It does not become the rank of Majesty and the grandeur of Sovereignty that the Monarch in person should manage business directly, and enter into trilling details. It is fitting that he should chuse one of his servants who is adorned with extraordinary skill and eminent sagacity, and in possession of high talents, and entrust him with the affairs of sovereignty and the exercises of beneficence towards the subjects, that he may manage affairs according to the instructions of the King ; that the superintend all concerns of importance, and consign the rest to be managed by * Deputies, allotting to each his respective department : and that these Deputies should, for the better dispatch of business, appoint other agents, til! all the business shall be disposed of and terminated according to the wish and orders of the King. Now all this happy dis posal and arrangement proceeds from the king by the hands of his agents and officers, whether effected nihout any medium or by means of a medium. This being

Being understond, kunw farlher, that Yezlầl is cerRaiuy of exceed ng misth, and of independe.a grandeur, and power and loy $y$ : and that of the exisiences whin in are then nient ant creat-d, a d which requile somelhing wi hat themelses to their b ing an I perSection, the e are mayy degree, differing loth as to multi ude and founess, grodtress \& b dinces: that thercefore is is not becoming that the Noce:warily Exintent should conce in limself personally withat the er degrees: it is beter that estolild create one Being of the highest exceine:ce, and deliver over to him the keys of the Magazines of his Sovereiguts ; and that in like m.neer this Being stound appoint agents directly or remotely for tiose de rees on degie $\times$ that have been mentioned: and that thece la t should actain the sume manner. As for example, ti.e celestial angel, and the stars that helong to the superior woill, the lerrestial angels, and material matures, mineral forms, and the soul and energy of vegetible, and of an mals, a dof men, thas are all of the lower worlh, have each an overseer appoint $d$ and guardians for maintaining the real sovereignty, in order* that all may be conducted agreeably to Goil, and be obedinat unto Him. Now ol this is arranged tyy the Stif-Lxitent in the hest possible manner; ard since the -substance is better than the accident that is dependent on it; and as indepondent sub tances having no place and no concern with material es ences, are more rxellnt and better than such eswences as are depentont on I lace and matter; so Yezdâu selected me, ayl 11 in like mane everted monergies : and terrestril popliots, in contorniny with this constimion, establishoil the Oflice of Royalty and the Visierslip, and the Ollice of Gencrul, and Nobility and so forth.
71. Again he will enquire, Why is the fire below the firmament, and the air below the fire, and the water below the air, and the earth below the water ?
72. Say thou, The heaven ever revolveth and its revolutions produce heat;
73. Hence the fire is placet below the firmament ; because if any thling but fire were there, it would be consurned by the heat resulting from the revolutions of the firmament.
74. Next cometh air which is a thin, yielding body; for, were it thick and unyielding, animals could not breathe, nor move backward and forward in it.
75. The water he created next and placed it on a level with the earth ; since were the earth full of water, not only below but above, as it is of air, animals would be unable to breathe; and eating, and sleeping and sitting could have no existence.
Commentary, Since all would be drowned.
76. He in the last place produced the earth and stablished it, and bestowed a particular constitution on every animat and vegetable, and mineral, and assigned to each an office.
ad) 77. In the name of Mezdân.
78. He will next ask the history of the subm ssion of the Animals to Gilshadeng* and of their conversation with men. Then say unto him;
79. Mezdam selected Gilshadeng & made the animals subject unto him;
80. So that that prince divided them all into scken classes;
81. First, Grazing Animals, and he gave the sovereignty of them to the horse called $\dagger$ Ferjeng.
82. Secondly, Ravenous Animals, and the sovereignty over them he bestowed on the lion called the Bold.
83. Thirdly, Birds, and he gave the rule over this class to the Zadrus (Eemurgh Pers.) called the Sage.
84. Fourthly, Birds of prey, and the rule over this class he gave to the Eagle, stiled. the Mighty.
35. Fifthly, Water Animals, and the command over them he entrusted to the crocodile denominated the Powerful.

- Gildiah, Pers.
+ The Perian has Rakhish, a white and red, Black or कhite, or, in general, any hotec.

86. Sixthly, Crawli g Aumals, and the chiefship of them he bestowed on the dra* gon named the Strong.
87. Seventhly, Insects, and the authority over them he cunferred on the bee, called the Swert.
88. From these seven kinge who were suhjeet to Gilshadeng, seven Sanges having come to the king of kings, solictiek Todress from the tyranny of Mankind.
89. First of all, the wise camel suid, $O$ prophet of Mezdam! In what consists the superiority of mankind over us, to entitle them, in this manner, to exercise ty ranny over us?
90. Let them speak that we may hear; and let them hear what we have to sar.
91. A Sage, Huresteh* by mante, lit up his voice; There are many prouts of man's superiority over them: one of these is Speech, a faculty which they do not pus* sess.
92. The camel answered, As for speech, if the object of speech be to make the hearer understand, animals too possess speech.

- Khejebteli, Pas.

93. And an account of the speech of animals is contained in the Book of Gilishnâr and *Siâmer. Enquire, for they too understand it.
94. Hutristeh said, The speech of man is plain and intelligible, and what camels speak is hidden.
95. The came? replied, Animals too possess" ar. intelligible tongue: because thou dost not understand it, dost thou imagine that it is unintelligible?
96. Ignorant that thou art! Thy deficiency ariseth from that very circumstance which thou deemest thy excellence.
97. Thou sayest that the speech of animals is unintelligible, and that the excellence of man's is that it is intelligibie; whereas the hearer receivelh the same benefit from both; and both possess clic same quality :
98. Now if any one speak even much in an unintelligible tonguc, he is not understood, while he is comprehended if he speak in an intelligible one.
99. And'as there is no necessity for men to speak the language of animals; so there is no necessity for animals to talk the language of men.

* Glohah und S sunck.

10n. And seest thou not how the speech of the inhabitant of the West giveth a sound not to be understood by the inhabitant of the East; and in like manner that of the native of the East to the native of the West?
101. One who doth not understand the speech of another is not therefore justified in calling it an unintelligible language.
102. Hûristeh said, You have been ordained for our service.
103. The camel answered, And you also have been ordained to bring us water, and grain, and grass.
104. Hûristeh said nothing in answer.

Commentary. flis articulating tongue was confined wilhin his lips from necessity.
105. Then the sage ant* came forward and said unto Gilshadeng, $O$ prophct of Mezdim! King of animals and of mankind! I wish to be informed wherein consisteth the surpassing excellence of man above animals.

* Pershan Not's. the entoy of the Bee Shitha (the Sis cet).

100. A sage, Shasar by name, hastily answered, One proof of the decided superiority of man over them is the excellence: of his shape and his upright deportment.

TIE PRGPHET ZIRTUASIT. 135

10\%. The wise ant replied, The intelli- $\because$ is gent do not pride themseives on shape, and yet we are all on a level in regard to the combina'ions of the members of our body.
108. And even you, when you would -praise any beautiful Person describe her as being stag-eyed, as having the gait of a partridge, or a peacock's waist ; whence it may be understood that the superiority is ours.
Commentany. For when men wish to praise, tbey compare a thing with somedhing linat is of a higher kind and superior to it, marking some similitude between it and the form and figure of that more clevited nature. When mankind therrfore compare themeliss Withanimnis, it is evident that must be becture animals are better than they.
109. To this Shasar returned no answer.
110. Next the knowing fox, taking up the speech said, What superiority in arts doth man possess?
111. The wise Jewànshir answered, The superiority of man consisteth in the good dress, and agreeable food and drink which they formerly had, and at the present time in their covering their obscene parts.

Cox.

Commentally. It is to be remarked that formerly is used here because in the time of the venerable Gilshah, mankind did not use good clothing or food, and the term formerly iefers to the time of Shet Yâsanâjâm,* and the time prior to that; while the time downwards from that is denominated the present time, which includes the period when the natural parts were covered: for Gilsiah and his disciples, of the leaves of trees and the skins of dead animals and of ravenous beasts made a covering for the obscene parts; and in his time, there was no other covering but these.
112. The wise fox said, In former times your clothes were of wool, and hair, and skins of animals, and still are so.
113. And your sweetest food is from the vomit of the bee;
114. And animals do not require any covering for their natural parts; for all that requireth to be covered, is covered naturally ;
115. And, if it be not, Mezdâm hath not directed them.

Comanntarx. To cover them.
116. Jewânshîr replied, It ill becometh you to join in this controversy; you who cruelly tear each other to pieces.

[^14]117. The fox rejoined, we have learnt this practice from you, for Jilmîs slew Tilmîs.

Commentary. It must be known that Shet Gilshale had in has family two sons named Jiluis and Tilmîs, and two daughters Akimar and liakisar. To Tilmin, lie gave to wife $A$ kimar who was of an elegnet form, besides being good and agreeable; and Hakisar, who thas not so beautiful, he married to Jilmis. Jilmis was instigated by love, and passion inflamed by envy, to slay diluîs his brother, by dasling a huge stone on lis head while he was asleep, whence, by the curse of Gilstah and his own mindeeds, he wan catt into *he:I. In allusion to llis, the for gives Jewansher to underbitand scornfully, and by way of reproach, that it was from mana kind that animals learned murder, and vice, and sub-. jection to lust, and indulgence in anger.
118. Moreover, ravenous animals live on flesh; but why do ye fullout with each o-- ther ?

Commentary. ITe says, beasls of prey naturally. feed on flest, and hence they devise the death of anit. mals; but since men do not neccssarily live on flesh, why do they kill even cach other?
119.. And whereas you became evil-do. ers, the Hirtasp, retiring far from you, dwelt with us in hill and waste;

[^15]120. And we are his servants.
121. Jewânshîr returned no answer.
122. Next the sagacious spider coming forward said, Wherein consisteth the superior excellence of man ? 'Tell us that we may know it.
123. The sage, Simrâsh by name, said, Men understand talismans, and charns, and magic arts, and such like, while animals do not.

124 The spider answered, A nimals exceed men in these respects; knowest thru not that crawling things and inseof's build triangular and square houses, without wood or brick.
125. Behald my work, how, without loom, I weave fine cloth.
120. Simrâsh replied, Man can write and: express his thoughts on paper, which animals cannot.
127. The spider said, Animals do not transfer the secrets of Mezdâm from a living heart to a lifeless body.
128. Simrash hung down his heid from shame.
129. The wise tortoise next advancing said, said, What proof is there of the superiority of man ?
130. The sage, named Shalish-herta said, Kings and ministers, and generals, and physicians, and astronomers afford proofs of man's superiority.
131. The tortoise said, Animals too pos-' sess the classes that you have mentioned.

- 132. Observe the sovereignty of the bee and of the ant in their kind:

133. And attend to the visiership of the fox;
134. And recollect the generalship of the elephant;
135. And learn medicine from the dog, who healeth wounds, by licking them with bis tongue;
136. And the "cock is an astronomer, who knoweth right well the time of the day and night.
137. On hearing these observations Sha-lish-herta remained silent.
138. Next the sage peacock, sailing in, said; What proof is there of man's superior dignity?
139. The wise visier, Vizlür by name, said, said, Mankind possess the faculty of judgment and discrimination.
140. The sage peacock answered, If during the darkness of a single night, a hundred sheep have young, cach knoweth its own lamb; and in like manner each lamb knoweth (its motber).

Commentadiy. And innsto its motier; ad hin kind of instinct mankind do not possess.
141. The wise Vizlûr said, Men are br.ar -
142. The sage peacock answered, They are not bolder than the lion.

Commentany. for when wariont would paise themselvey, they compate themselves to the lion.
143. Vizlur had nothing to reply.
144. Next the wise Hưmâ advancing said, Where is the Sage who will afford me a proof of man's superiority ?
145. The sage named Mezdam-hertaiendeh, answered, One superiority of man consisteth in knowledge, as by means of it he ascendeth from a low to an exalted station.
140. The wise llama said, If you pride yourselves on this, animals too possess it; since by it they distinguish the flower from the thorn.
147. The sage Mezdam-hertaiendeh roplied, plied, Knowledge has a root and branch. Tou have got the branches; but the root of knowledge consisteth in the sayings of thet prophets, which belong to man alone.
149. The wise Huma said, This benefit we too possess, and each tribe hath different customs;

149 And in like manner as among you proplets reveal their prophecies, among us there are counsellors, one of whom is the bee.
150. The sage Mezdâm-hertâiendeh said, The heart of man attaineth self possession, and effecteth an union with the soul, and by means of knowledge is elevated to the glorious nature of the angels.
151. The wise Huma answered, We animals likewise become tame.
152. The sage Mezdâm-hertaiendeh replied; Yes, It is true. Yet your perfection consisteth in attaining only a single one of the qualities of man, while man's perfection consisteth in attaining the mature of disembodied spirits.

Commentary. That in of Intelligences and Souls.
153. The wise Huma said; True, yet in spite of this, in his putting to death of animals and in similar acts, he resembleth the beasts of prey, and not the angels; for they are not guilty of such deeds.

Commentary. He speaks of the slaying and oubjecting of animals, and the giving of pain and trouble to animats, of which men have mrde a trade; though such is not the conduct of angels, bue the practice and witure of savage beasts. Min, therefoce, approxima', wio claims they may assert to thal high distinction.
154. The sage Mezdâm-hertaiendeh said, It is right to kill- ravenous animals, just as it is to open a sick man's veins.

Commentary. For the whole world is one body, and the killing of an animal like that in question, is like diminishing the blood in the body ; And as diseases would prevail if this blood were left in the booly, so if ${ }^{*}$ the blood of ravenous beasts were not shed, they would affict many animals, all of which are parts of this huge, animal ; and hence it is laudable to shed their blood, for the confort of this body.
155. The prophet of the world then said, We deem it sinful to kill harmless animals, and no man lath authority to commit this wicked act.
150. Were all ravenous animals to enter into a compact not to kill harmless animals, we would abstain from slaying them, and hold them dear as ourselves.

- 157. Upon this the wolf made a treaty with the ram, and the lion became the friend of the stag; ;

158. And no tyranny was left in the world: ' $\because$ ' ' ' . "
159. Till Desh-birreh* broke the treaty. Comaentary. And began to kill animals.
., 160. In consequence of this his misdeed, nobody observed the treaty, except the barmless animals.
160. This is the dialogue that passed concerning the grand Secret.

Commentary. The object of this fable is to recommend self-knowldge and self-controul; man having the ascendency over other animals only by speech, ingenuity, isnowledge aad suitable conduct.
102. When you . have expounded this matter to him, he will become of the true faith, and be converted to your religion.

Commentary. It is said that when Biás, the Hindi, came to Balkh, Gushiasp sent for Zertusht, and informed the prophet of Yezden of that wise man"s coming. The paphet said, May Yczdân turn it to good! The Emperor then commanded that the Sages and Mobeds should be summoned from all countrics. When [^16]they were all assembled, Zertusht came from his place of Worship; and Biâs, also having joined the assenibly;' said to the prophet of Yezdân; O Zertusht, the inhabitonts of the wolld, moved by the answers. and cxpounding of Secrets given to Chengerengacheh, are desirous to adopt thy ieligion. I have beard, moreover, of many of thy miracles.' I an a Hindi man, and; in my own country, of unequalled knonldige. I have in my mind several secrets, which I have never entrusted to my tongue, because some stay that the Ahermans (devils) might give information of them to the iado lators of the Aherman faith: so no ear hath beard them, except that of my heart. If, in the presence of this assembly, you tell me, one after another, what those secrets are that remain on my mind, I will be converted to your faith. Shet Zertusht baid, O Bias, Yezdan communicaled to me your secrets, befure your arrival. He then mentioned the whole in detail from begimning to end. When Bias heatd, and asked the meaning of the words, and had them explained" to him, he returned thanks to Yezdân and united himself to the Behdin, after which he returned back to Hind.

163. In the name of Mczdàm! O Zir-, tusht! my prophet! After thee shall Simkendesh $\dagger$ appear, and afterwards the First Sâsân, the prophet, shall come and make thy Book known by a translation.

[^17]
THE PROPHET ZIRTUSSHT:  344

164. And no one but he shall know the meaning of my words.
Conmextart. Hence it was that Shet Sasait made an interpretation of the Book of Shet Zeriusht agreead bly to ite sense.

126

BOOK OF INSTRUCTIONS

Fon  SEKANDER.

1. E I us take refuge with Mezdâm from evil thoughts which mislead and distress us.
2. In the name of Shamta, the Bountiful, the Beneficent, the Kind, the Just !
Comhentary. This is the Book of Advice for Sekander which Yezdân sent down at the desire of his prophet Zertusit, as has been already relited.
3. In the name of Mezdâm, the Giver of Wisdom!
4. O Simkendesh son of *Nishal! Mezdâm hath exalted thee to royalty and empire. Do thou, of thy exalted wisdom, bestow splendor on the religion of the Great Abad, who is the greatest of prophets.
5. And because the affairs of the + Hirasis went, in many respects, ill, I carried thee a way into $\ddagger$ Nasûd.

> - Sekander aon of Dêrâb. Pers, > + Iránis Pers.
> $\ddagger$ Rúm. Pers.

Commentary. By this he means, Thy descent is from the king of Irân: when the Iranis became evildoers, 1 removed thee amay from that race, for thair punishment.
B. Place not a stranger over ${ }_{\ddagger} \mathrm{Hirâ}$ for it is thy house.
7. If thy army inflict any suffering on the good people of Hirâs, make atonement and satisfy them; else shall I ask an account of thee.
8. In the name of Mezdàm the Giver of Wisdom!
9. Mezdâm shewed kindness unto man, in that he created him of the second rank of angels.
Commextary. The angels of the second rankare

10. And deputed along with bim fn Angel of the first class', Intelligence by name.
11. And bestowed on him§ instruments of the lower world, together with certain of the fnferior angels;
12. Of which angels one is in the liver, and is called Temperament: another Life,
$\ddagger$ Lall. Pcrs
$ 1. e. Schzen and corporeal facullien.
and his abode is in the heart; and another is Soul, who dwelleth in the brain.
13. And he bestowed servants on them.
14. Now life is affected by two evils, Lust and Anger. Restrain them within the proper mean.
15. Till Man can at fain this self-controul, he cannot become a celestial.
10. And soon a proplet will come, virs cuous and wise, Sấsân by name.

THE BOOK

OF

SHET SASAN THE FIRST.

1. $\mathbf{L}_{\text {ET }}$ us alke refuge with Mecầm 4 from evil imaginations which mislead and afflict us!
2. In the name of Shemtâ, the Bountiful, the Deñeficent, the Merciful, the Just!
3. Let us ask assistance from Mezdâm, the self-Existent, the Uncompounded, the Artificer of qualities!
Commentany. In a trance, I beleed my sage and respected ancestor who said, For the better interpretation of the Book which Yeidann lath sent unto me, do thou make use of some intelligent words, even though they may be such has occur in the translation of the respected Deantir. I have therefore inserted, after tho translation, such illustrations and proofs us seemed to be conformable to reason. On that account we cite the expressions used by the King, the Most Just and First' * Legislator, the Instructor of the legislating prophets, the adorner of knowledge, Hoslieng, in the JawedanKhirid, + in the exposition of the words which the Sun spose to that exalted Being.
4. The Necessarily-existent is the Creator of the conditionally-existent.
[^18]
THE BOOK OF

Commentary. The explanation is this, Whatever is conceivable is either necessarily-existent, or conditionally existent, or necessarily non-existent. Fior if we regard only the narure of things, abstractly, undoubtedly whatever does not possess the possibility of non-existence is necessarily-existent; and what has not the capacity of existence, is necessarily non-existent, as for example, the union of two opposites; while, what en: joys the capacity of either, is conditionally-existent. Now this conditional exislence (cor exiatiol in pobibin

 Creator of the supposed possifie sting. Cor, if it poss sessed an equal tendency to existence and to won-exsistence, wilhout any difference whatever, it is plain, at a single glance, and without any necessity for reasoning, that in that case it must require some power to give it existence, and this power is to Maker: And on the other hand supposing that this tendency were notegial, atill it cannot possess necessary existence or white is ealted Girwer; for, if it did, then it could not be contingent (as was supposed). And again supposing that its tendency were stronger to exitence than to nen-existence, but still without reaching the degree of neces-saty-exitence ; in that case, this superior tendency cattnot co-exitt with contingent being: for if this possibility of existence joined to this superior tendency, ils supposed propeity, did not incline to non-existence, it must be necessivily exi-tent, and not contingent. If onf the other liand it possese el a superios tendeticy fo non-existence, this tendency, though imperfect, mnst of necessity prevail, white the inferior tendency towarits existence would be of no arail ; And this a moments re-

Reclion, without the necessi's of nny argninent, evidently

- shews cannot be the cesc, and is impussible. Hence it is plain that what is potentul or contingent, in every case requires a maker and former, who, unthl he hay being, cannot confer being on any thing elsc.

This introductory proof heing established, it may next he remarkod, that no manner of doubt or uncertainty aripes, regarding the existence of contingent existencee, such as events and compound substances. And as to those conlingent existentes which have for their maker a necessurily-existent being, there is in like manner no diffeculty. Fite iis en thuse of which the maker is contin. gently existent; lie ton munt liavo $n$ maker; who likewise, if he he not necessarily -existent, must haven Mrker. The chain of creation therefore cither remches to the necessa. rily-Existent, which is what I mish to establint, or we must reason in a circle. And we reason in a circle when we make two contingent existences the makers of each other, which is impossible; seeing that the maker must undonbtelly exist previonsly to the thing made: And hence, if two conlingent existencen reciprocally made each other, it would inevitably, follow that both muat be prior to each other respectively, and that each ranked before the other; which the slighest exercise of the understanding shews in iee a manifest impossibility. And if it be supposed that the chain of contingent existences is. unlimited, c.ach contingent heing having a maker, andit again a maker, without end, this is impossible: for then it would follow, as an inevitable consequence, that a number which is the evens of the chain, should be at once even and odd; while al the same time it in necessary that the number in quetion should at once be susceptible of being halved, and not admit of being halved, which cannot be?

The exposition is as follows. If the unlimited chain exists in the way that has been mentioned; it is necessary that the contingent existence, which is the begin ning of that chain, stand in the first degree, and its maker in the second degree; and in this way every one of the units of the chain will bave its fixed degree; 23 for example the third arid fourth; and some of these units of the chain are in the chass of eddh, ort the first, third, fifth, and seventl, and porie in the class of evens, as the sccond, fourtl, bixth \% 4 - ightil : and it cannot happen that two units of the evens or two units of the odds, be side by side of each other; for every odd is inevitably succeeded by an even, and every even by an odd; as the first by the second, and the third by the fourth. In proportion therefore as there is an even, there must also be an odd, and the converse. The number of the units of the odds, will, therefore, be equal to the number of the units of the evens; and, hence, the number of the units of the odds wilt be the half of the total of the chain. The number of the units of the chain must, therefore, be even, since it has a perfect half.

After this explanation let us suppose that it is necessarily uneven; since when one unit is taken from the clain, it is shorter by one than the first clain. Bus this ton being composed of the units of the evens and the units of the odds must be even; And this chain being even, it follows that the first chain inust be odd; seeing that its half cannot be equal to the lialt of the first clain; and, at the same time it qannot be less. For were it less, it would be less by one, whence it would necessàrily follow that the second chain would be two units less than the first, whereas only one unit was omitted : and bence the first clain would at once be even and odd, as, at the same time, having and not having a perfect half. This impossibility unayoidably accompanies the supposition of the unlimited length of the chain. Hence it is necessary that it terminate at a maker, who shall himself have no maker, and He is the Necessarily-Existent, which it was my object to prove.

Again Sed-wakhshur," in the Jawedân Khirid says; Suppose the chain to be unlimited, if from the beginning of ththechain we take, for example, ten units, then the one chain would, be left shorter than the ob ther by ten: and if we compare and apply this chain to the other, so that the first link of the one chain should be applied to the first link of the other, and the second to the second, and so forth, it cannot be conceived that there should always be found a link of the first chain corresponding to one of the secend; else it would necessarily follow that the chain which wats whole would be equal to the chain that was not whole, which the slightest reflection shews to be impossible. The lesser chain therefore must terwinate somewhere, and the excess of the longer chain must in like manmer reach a termination, which (on the given hypothesis) would be absird.

And farther the teacher of the propheis lays it down in the Jawedan Khirid, that all and every contingent existence, which has seçeived being, bithout excepting one single contingent existcuce; does really exist; because the whole, and entire and complefe parts of it have being; and it is a contingent existo ence because it is composed of contingent existences, Now it is clear that it must have a maker and former : and that maker is either the whole body of contingent existences, or a part of it, or something external to it, The first is impossible, for it would necessarily follow that that whole existed previous to itself. And the second too is impossible, for the maker of the whole must be the maker of every individual part. If ther fore a part were the maker and creator of the viviole, the part must be the creator of itself, whish is ing wisibe. The third supposition agrees with miy notion, because the Being which is exclusive of the whole must necessarily be The Self-Existent. There are a thousand similas proofs in the Jawedan Khirid contrived by the know? ledge-adorned prophets, whereof five hundred relate to the false reasoning of the circle and five hundred to the fallacy of the chain. Moreover, Sed-wakhshûr in the Great Book of Jawedann Khirid, remarks in explanation of the words of Shet Khûrshid" who says;

[^19]
THE BOOK OF

5. There are not two Self-Existents.

Commentary. For, ifthere weretwo Necessarily - Existent beings each pos essing the essential qualitics of the other, then their sense of diversity, in respect to each other, must be owing to the intervention of something external to their natures; hence they woul 1 be dependent on something external, so far as regards their identity and consciousness of diversity. But we have seen that every thing dependent belongs to the class of contingent existences.

Whe Sun.

If is itso remarked in the same volume, that if there were many Self-Exivents, they must necessarily, as - direct consequence of this multiplicity, be contigent existences, as las been proved. Now every contingent being requires a maker; and the maker of this multiplicity cannot be of the same essence as they are. Fur, it has been shewn that the maker of every contingent. existence must of necessily be something different from it, must precede it in point of existence, and cannot be a. portion of it ; for the maker of the whole must of course be the maker of the surphosed part. Nor can this unaker be any thing erermal ; for then the oase wauld necessarily come under that of the oirclo, or of the chaing. and so has already been proved to be impossible. And, in the same way, from the muliapicity in nunber of the Necessary, Existents, it would unavaidably follow, that there was a contingent being without a maker, which is inpossible.

And again it is written in the respected Volume the Jawedân Klirid, that if there be two . Necessarily. Existents, it is necessary that each of then shonld be Omnipotent oycr all, passible existences, for defen: of power is not a quality of the Godhead. Hence, at ofien as the one desires ane lhing, and the other desire: the contrary, if it pe supposed that the wish of hoth is effected, thent two opposites are reconciled: and if the wish of neilher is efficted, then it follows shat tu'o opprosice wishes are both frustrated: and if the wish of one be superion, the other must be inferior $i: 1$ pawer, and want of poner cimmot appertin to Go theid. MI my siquifar reatiouniare are in that ulensed Vulume.

It is farther said in that most excellent of Books, is explanation of the words of the world-enlightening Sun;
6. Ahertutsher* is not subject to Novelties.

Commentary. For the Self-Existent is not the abode of novelty or new things, since every neiv thing or novelty that arises is conditionally-existent ; and every thing that is conditionally existent deperds on this Maker or fashidner ; but the Necessarily-Existent is not conditionally-existent, or deperndent, ami, therefore, never was new or fiesh prodiced. Wern it poysilile for him to have a new quality, that quality shlist linve an originator; and that independent originator and puiverful maker must be the necessary essence, which is the First and Oldest. And whatever is, in its essence, independent, and free, and Omnipotent, must also possess the qualities of First and Oldest; and it cannot be that any thing, but itself, should be the cause of newness and freahness to any quality that belongs to it : for otherwise it would evidently follow that the Necessarily. Existent would be subject to something else, and dapendent on it, and derive some of His perfections from another; but as the qualities of Yezdan the Supreme are perfect qualities, this is a supposition that is inadmissible. The Necessarily-Existent therefoce is not subject to novelties or innovations.

And Sed-Wakhghur in the Jawedan Khirid, in explanation of the words of the gloriously refulgent Sun, saith;
7. Ohernûshramt is uncompounded,

```
* Yezdar Pers.
+Yez.ân Pere.
```

Commentiar: He says that whatever is, is either compound or simple. Whatever substance can be divided ur broken into parts may be pronounced cornpound; and if it capnot be divided or made into parts, it may be recognised as simple. Now, that the Necessarily. Existent is simple, there are many proofs. In -she first place, every compound is dependent on its parts; and again, its being is posierior in time to that of its parts, as reason requires that there must be parts, before the compound can gxist. But whatever has these tivo propexties isc'ependent. Hence the NecessarilyExistent is not compounded.

The second proof in, that if He were composed of parts, His partsmust be eilher necessarily existent or contingently existent. As to the first supposition, it is impossible that there should be a multiplicity of Neces-sarily-Existents. On the second supposition, every 6uch part must have no application to the NecessarilyExistent Being, sceing that the Original Creator first cxisted of Himselfand afierwards bestowed being on other exintences. But if the Neoewnatily. Existent were the maker of His nwn , parts, it would necesmnily follow that Ife existed betore His parts, whereas the parts must precede the compound, which can exist only through the Necessarily-Existent: seeing that whatever is con-tingently-existent, must derive its being from something necessarily-existent. And hence, if this Maker were any thing but the Necessarily. Existent, the NecessarilyExibtent must exist before His parts by two degrees, which is imposoible. He cannot therefore be comepound.

And in the same way that it is proved that lle is not compound, it may be shewa that He is not corporeal; for for every thing having a body is susceptible of divilios in length, breadth and depth, and may be divided ints plits, as halves, three parts, or four or so forth; and whatever hias parts is dependent. Hence the NecenarilyExistent cannot be body : since it is plain that were the holy Yezdan body, He might be divided into parte, the union of all which pares would be the cause or his be. ing. But every thing having Jeen created by Hims, if you suppose that such pares do not exist, you necensarily eorme to the conclusion that He feo does not exinh, and so the would be contingently and net mecensintly existent.

But as He has no body so neithar lins the place nor position. For whatever is in place or position is either body, or a part ol body, or a quality of body; and body and the parts of body are liable to division ; whereas the Self- Existent is not subject to divisibitioy, nor susceptible of being broken into parts. And as to the qualities of body, they depend on body for their being, and are zubservient to it. And whatever is subservient to another is contingent. The Selt-Existent therefore is not body nor corporeal, and He has no place nor posision.

Hence too it fullows that the Necessarily-Existent is not an accident, which they call Tawer. For accident inheres in body, and if you suppose borly not to exist, accident too ceases to exist; and as He is not body, so He evidently is not accident (tawer), which is dependent on borly. And ferther, accident or cuality is an existence which is the predicate of something else, as blackness, whiteness, taste, smell, anci thie like; and whatever has these qualities is condingent ; whence it may be understoud that the Nocomarily. Eixisteat is not sien with the eye that is in the heal! for what is vini. ble'ro the bodily eye must be in position ; since whatever is' visible must be opposit: fo, or what way be termed opposite: to the seer; and whatever is ansinnited must have position. But it las been satislactorily proved that the Self. Fixistent has no position, so that lle 'cannot be visilhe to the eye of the body, lont oniy to the mind'seye. When I hive beft the edementary body, passed the world of bodies, and talien may station above the circle of contingent" existenc $s$, lhave scen the Light of ligitestrinelh icsant budy, nor carporeal, nor quality, shine on me wihhout place or position: and that glory is such that ite properties cannot be expressed by tongue, nor can car liear, nor this cye see them. And Itaught the souls of such as are travellers on this roadd to separate from the body. And I mynelf attained that lappy state, through the faith of wy forcfathers.

The teacher of propleses, in the Jawedan Khitid, when explaining the words of the Sun, the bestowet of pleasure, says;
8. Being is an cssential property of the Most Just.

Commentaky. He saya that tho Necernaily.Ex. istent is a selfeexistent essunce. dind all beings that enjoy existence may be considered as of three classes. One of these classes is that of the being that is derived from allother being, and which owy ils existence to something external to itself, such as "dependent existences. A seçond is the being which is a quality of platter, and yet is produced out of it. The third is that being which is sclf-existent, and which cannot be come:

Cluat is abupe the Nias if Ileuvell.
prehiended.
prehended. An instance of these three classes of beins is light; for sowe bodies are resplendent from a light which proceeds from something external tothem, and which light they receive from something el of ; ins tho illumination of the earth frow the Sun : and fome shing by a light that is different from their essence, und yet id inseparable from their essence, as the light of the vene rable Sun : and the third is Nine shining amthonturs Light, which is Light of its owil sorence, Hik (rum my thiug else; and of this laxt mentinged Lighle the Nects-satily-Existent is an example: They, wrole nit ininh lint asscation is, that, if the being of the NeceasarilyEsisent proceeded from any tifing but lin own essence, it would be a quality: and quality is a property of that in which qualities inhere, and is dependent on it: and whatsoever is dependent on another, is contingently exi tent; and every contingent being must have th oause. Hence it the being of the Necessarily-Exisfent proceeded from any thing but llis own essence, He must have a cause : and He cannot be the cause of His own being ; for that is impossible, as is evident without the necessity of any argument or reasoning; since it would inply that the existence of the Necessarily-Existent was prior to Himself. And as His being is not a quality of His essence, so $n$-ither can it be a portion of it : for it hav been clearly demonstrated that the Necessarily-Existent has no parts. His being therefore is self-existent, as His essence is pure being; and His essence is such that it cannot be conceived as not existing. Moreover, the being, which is not essential, suggests a suppo-ition of binity; and were His being sach, Xezdîn would be a compounded Being, and whint is cormpound is contingenty existent. And in the same why, were being muperadded to llis essence, it would consequently be subject to accidents; and wire it subject to accidents, it must fillow that this being, having a dependence, must be deppendent on something else, and comnected with it by some cause. Inence it must necessanily have a causer. But if this cause were his esse:cial soul, it whold, of course, follow that the cause of his existence was previous to hisbeing, since the cause of the existence of any thing must necessarily precede its being made. The being of the Necessarily-Existent therefore, mintis: His, femential sout.

- And the prophet, in the Jawedah Khirid, in explanation of the words of the Vicegerent of Yezdin over bodics" has said;

g. Qualities are essentially inherent in

 Mezdâm.Commentary. He says that the qualiies of the Necessarily. Existent are essentially inherent in His pure essence; what, in dependent existences, proceeds out of essence and quality, in urcessany-rxistences beines found ia their essence. Fier, if the had qualitica superadded, and. not essendially inherent, it is clear that whatever is not essentally existent must be an addition of something else; and were the ensence of the Most Just invested with gralities that are perfedt in spite of their beng superadded, them, ns whatever has nom its perfection from being essemtially inherent, is subject to imperfectionand defect; and as impertection cannot exist in a pure ensence, it !unst follow that periect qualitics are essentially inherent in a pure essence: junt as the knower is in the sond of knondedge, not heme-[^20]ledge superadded to his essence. And it is clear flat whatever is not essenti lly inherent in the Necornailys Existent is dependently eaistent. If the qualines of Yezdán, therefore, were not ensentialy existent in Hia easence, they would be dependently existent; and hence Yezdan's perfections would proceed from what is dependently existent: but whatever owes its perfection to anty thing but itself is dependently niat necessarily existent; a supposicion which fx inactmisible.

And moreover Sed-wakhshar iy the Book of Jawedan Khirid, in the explumation of the who its ofthe realgety Sun ever-worthy io-be lauded, bas said;

10. Meadâm knoweth by perfect preans.

Commentary. He says that the Necessarily-Existent is periectly Omuiscient of His own essence. For $H e$ is free from matter and its uffections; and whinever is tree from muter possesses knowledge, since mater and what is material are the impediments of kuowledge. And the Divine Essence is acquainterl, in a perfect degiee, with the particles that change, and witb such as are unchanging, &ithat in a transcendent degree, since it knows their causes thoroughly and with the most periect knowledge. But it is indispensalle that he who knows causes with peffect knowledge, should know what is necessary in them, by means of his own essence ; for it is not fitting that be should know particles from their changes; otherwise he would ieim from them at one time that they exish, and at anohiher time he would discover from thom that they for nimerint.y Eirch the dividuut, therefore, would be nceu by lime under a different a-pectas it had explemieg or Hon-exibtence, and the one of these two aspeos dued nof comist with the o. ther; whence it liould follow thut the Necergarily.

Exitant must have llis essence changed according as one furm or another was presented; which is not fitting, since the is nat subject to imperfection but knows particles in a perfect way. And Sed-wakhohur writes suuch on this subject. Sehander, during lis reign, translated into Yunâni this Great Book, and afterwards other Books: and I bave here given an extract fromit that the young student might underatand if, and know his (ioll (liadar) by proofs deduced trom reason. Lt hinu ulterivards, with God's assistance, go on to the large commearary which have witten on the renpected Denatir, und draw all his knowl. dge from it ; after which Int hist, with the graco of lasd devote himaclf to the norship of Yeadûn and by means of seclusion, and watchfulness, and fasting and medication on liczdòn, let him see Yezdann, and those who are nigh unto the Moit Just ( Dadar).
11. The Lord is the Creator of the First Intelligence, the Maker of the Soul; the Adurner of the superior budies, the Producer of the eluments, the Mingler of the four elements.

Commentany. The prophet Tahmuras, the bindit of evil-disposed soul, in the book of Berin licileng. (i.e. superlative knowledge ), zuys, in rxplauation of the following words of the key of the licaven*; who said unto hime
13. The Necessarily-Existent is one, without multiplicity.

[^21]Commentary. For it is unity that excludes moith? plicity fiom His essence or qualities ; since number ind its essence is necessarily maniold and compored, and zhence bears on it a mark of depenuen e. Now degien dence is an essential properly of sependen-exi tence, and of imperfection in quality. And did He powess the quality of multiplicity, it would inevitabl Mlow that the same thing was at once th: Creaior anit thio created; the Maker and the made ; for He if the Crealor and Maker of all things, and mint, Nierelure; bo the Creitor and Maker of His own qualifire, Muil in Uemangonesed of qualities camnot at once be the recipieat and author of its own qualities: for the same thing camuot at once be thé giver and receiver of being. A Creator indeel, from the very circumstance of his being a Creator, must necessarily have made something; but it doesinut necessarily follow because a thing is made; that there was any necessity for its being made; and it is impossible that the same thing shoutd be necessary and not necessary to another* thing. And farther the prophet, the remover of evil-disposed demons, says, that one thing only can proceed from real unity: seeing that if two things proceeded from it, the place of origin of each of these two must necessarily be different. For the place of origin of the one must be different from the place of origin of the other; hence, of these two places of origin, one mast be separate from it? and it too must have a catse, and if we direct our attention to this cause, we shall find that it necessarily leads us either to the eirole or the chain. And it will not do for any one to say, that if this proof were sound, it would necestrily

- The sense in the preceding aentence is far form liehig ditures.

S̀HET SASAN THE FIRST.

 165follow that not even one thing could proceed from. real unity : for that it any thing could proceed out of unity, it must of course proceed from some place of origin, and as the place of origin is related both to the maker and made, as being betweeh them, it too must have a cause, and that then the case must necessarily beiong eilher to that of the circle or the chain. We answer that by the ferm place of onigin, we do not understand a real place of origin, but only that by the intervention of which there is a connexion between the cancr and thesfiect, aud which relation is neither made nor fashioned, not that we mean to affirm that there is any actually existing place of origin. And the proplict, the binder of demons, has added much on this subject, which it is unnecessary to introduce here.
And farther in the Book of Beri Ferheng (transeendent knowledge ) it is said, in the explanation of the words of the reverend Moon, that,

13. The First Intelligence was created.

Commentary. He says, having proved that the pure lezalan is perfect unty, and that only one thing can proceed frou perfect unity, hat thing winst of necessity be the First Intelligence; since it camot be a body, for body is compound, and the Creatormust be the maker of each of its individual parts, since other* wise he certainly could not be the maker and perfect fashioner of the whole: and hence if the First-created and First-made were componnd, the Maker mu-t be the maker of each part, and thus a multiplicity of things would necessarily proceed fromperiect unity. Nor can the First-created possess any of the parts of borly : for yo oue part is independent, or stable in itself withont some other; and no dependent existence is captble of creating and making. The First-createl, ton, mont, have a maker and plice of creation, that fliwelian of connexion may reach to the Necessarily- $\dot{\text { infi-knt, as }}$ otherwise the chain must assuredly rise upward. And the First-created inost be such that mo dependent ex-s istence precede him ; hence also the Iitst-created cannot be a soul, seeing that even soul is not stabl, but is dependent and affected by matier in iferation. Hence it is plain that Inteligence, first of aill, received dependent being, but is not body, nor ank pat of dialt, not dependent on body, nor material, anil in its being and action is not dependent on body, or what is material ; and the wise look for nothing more than this in Intelligence. And on this head the prophet, the restainer of demons, has many observations: after which he remarks that the moon said;
14. And this Intelligence createth one Intelligence, one Soul, and one Body : and the other Intelligences do the same.

Commentary. It must be understood that the First Intelligence was created by the Author of Being, and that blessed angel was distingnished by three aspects. First as having a spiritual existence; next a necessary existence from something different from himself; and lastly from its essence having a contingent existence. And by menns of his spiritual being, which is altogether excellent, he created the second Intelligence who, in his essence and quilitics, is free from imperfiction and defect, and impropriety, and dependance on mafter: and by means of his necessary existence from something external to bimself, that existence being glorious anm dignified dignif:ed in regard to its essential existence and necesfsary being, and defective in respect to its existing by sompthing out of itself, he created the soul of the Uppermost Sphere, who is exalted in respect to the independence of his essence on matter, though defective fin regar.l to tie depen lence of his perfections on matter : and hy means of his contingent essence, which is the original seat of the fower dependent qualitie, and the canse of the lower and inperfect relations, he extricated the body of the sphere of spheres, which, both as to And, in like onanner, fiom every lntelligence another Intelligence and Soal, and Celestial Bidy proceeded, by mens of the existence of the three aspects that have been mentioned, and according to the form that hat been explained; and so on till we arrive at the Intelligence of the heaven of elenents; and to this last a special power was assigned, derived from the motion and course of the heavens, and the conjunction of the slars, and the aspect of the'stars; and he showers down forms, and idens, and accidents, and qualities, on the simple elements. And the demon-bindingt prophet has much on this subject.

And the demon-binding prophet farther says, the Mlonn said unto me;

15. Each class hath its guardian angel.

Commentary. In explanain of this it is writen, that that is cilled Light which is visible of itself, and can also tinake other things visible; and the Guardian of Guardians is called the Lightof Lights; and all other independent and free Beings among Intelligences and
 The Sphere of the Moon.

+ Tahmuras.

Souls are held to be Light; since they are visible of their own essence, and are known to their own soul by their talent of clearsightedness, and they can become the cause of being to all things; But it is not so with bodily faculties whether visible or hidden, which though the causes of other things being perceived are not the causes of being known to themselves; and though the discoverers of perceptions, which are the means of tile discovery of terrestrial things, they are not the manifesters or illuminators of their own souls. And na faculty can be the cause of the krowledge of its own soul. As, for example: Nothing is dincovered by the unassisted faculty of sight; and no owe says that any thing is gained by mere sight : but whenever the says of light falling upon a mirror are reflected and affect the eye, the sight is affected; for the mere organ of the eye is not the seer; the seer' is a power which must reside in the organ of the eye, and which power is invisible.

And he farther say, in the same book, that every ded scription of class or genus, whether celestial or elemental, compounded or uncompounded, must have some Guardian from the seat of light. For there first of all showers down and shines on the Protectors and Guardians, from the lights that are above them, a re. splendent shower of light, which to them is altogether contingent; And these lights have different relations. Hence arise innumerable relations among material bodies, as to things connected with body, which bear selazion to those lights and guardians.

And in that Holy Book he farther says, that bodies are the shadows of independent lights, and thint the shadow is dependent on the light. Aud that hance it happens, in consequence of the imperfection in the confnexion of light with bodies, that they cannot discover their own essence, but enlighten what is without them. But permanence is tho mark of independent existence; for knonletye and all other qualities attend its subfotance, but aever ran be fonmil in bodies.

And firrtier the Deanon binding prophee says in the same book ; the sphere-t ated Monot said unto me;

16. Intelligences are without beginning.

Commentaily. He uext says, thint no Intelligences her of retene exivence, or new made or new cteated. For arw. created and new. firmeal existences mast necessarily acame a firmand laty aside a firm; and the assumbing and leaving off: form can only liave place int a compound that has two puts, or that poisessean a quality made up of two qualities, and which can exist only in a booly having parts ; a proposition that depends on the truth that the same thing camoot, at the same lime, le bath the lashionter and creator, and the created. And every uew or new fonderd exivence most have its material priouriph. (maydi) previons to it, and mont be subsequent to its pirmeiple; whereas lutelligences have no material substanco.

And larther the prophet, the himberof-demons, in Hat Mighty Book says, that Intelligences are ever th tecetion ame jor such quatities of provection comuretred "ith deprophent existence as they pionsess. For it has sion of a hing requines: material principhe (monem), - Wh la a a y almin the powibility of its now exntelne - iy Fance porion of the reschation of the circle of eter-

THE BOOK OF

nity. But this can have reference only to temparal exs intence. Now Int-iligences, in consequenee of hein independence, are free from the affections of time: fīk what is called temporal can exist only in time, which in a partion of the revolution of the highest aplere: whereas the being of Intelligences is not comerect with time; and to asoribe existence in time to the First hire telligence would lead to reasoning in a circle ; because in this point of view, time would be dependerit on the Spliere, while the being of the spliere is dependent on the being of the First Intelligence. And the -demonbinding prophet has many proofs to the sathe pirpose.

The prophet who adorns the woils Jemshif, has a book called Ferisin-urwend (the Supernal Eseence). In that mighty volume he says, Shet Beliram said unto me;

17. The Sphere hath an active soul.

Commentany. The science-adorned prophet next snys, that the splieres possess an independ nt soul which mikes them acquainted with the universe; for thiny ponsess the quality of revolving in n volumary orbit: नhd whatever enjoys that quality minst have athoul that comprehends the Universe. Fot it id to be oberved that if the revolution of the spheres be not velnutaty, it ranot necestarily either be involuntiry, ( hatapuri) or nitural (maneshi); and it can beneither, Hor the spleres revolve in a spherical course ; zind whateger moves in a splierical orbic for ever, mast (ond fo a fixed object und mesin desert is. Now were their motion mithmit, it would nireessarily follow that the same (hing was ut oince soighit and shomed by nature ; and it is unnectasary to waste words in explosing the abourdity of shechastige puostion. Again, that the heaveus do not moveliy any intor Yroiuntary (slampuri) motion is plain from this, that Ginvolumbary notion is lhe motion of a thing contrary to iter natural tendency; whence, ats it was proved that the heavens are not grided by any nstural instinct or natural tendency, it is equal'y evident that neither is their motion involuntary. For as acientific men, who have erected observatoriwn, havo diwiovered the mulliplicity of the spheres frum the separate motion of each, the man of acience knows that no one sphere can commmuinte involuntary action to any other; for no one sphere is so gitnated as by its motion to affect another. And again, it caunot be that the motion of thl the spheres should be involuntary: fire the impromsing of involunary action can have place in bodied only by moans of a body whose soul is geenter and stronger than that of the smatler hody : and there is no boily whose soal is larger or more porverful than the soul of the sphere of *spheres. Hence it follows that the or otion of the heaven of heavens is not involuntary. And, as it cannot be that one portion of the I'niversal spheres should have an independent sonl, and ono portion not; it follows, that the revolution of the Ualversal Ilvavene muat be voluntary.

Alld since the motion of the spheres is voluntary, it fullows, that hicy must have active souls which can, comprehend the univorse. For in all voluntary motion it is requisite that there should be anotive, an object of pursuit, and/a thing desired; that the ngent, actuated by this yotive, object and desire, may undertake the voluntary action. And this motive cannot be supplied by any force ofimagination, or of any bodily faculter, all of which present only separate lhings and substances: $\%$ for whatéver is discovered by means of the bodily faculd ties is partial; and whenever any cause that operates in the being of a thing is partial or local, which necessarily supposes liability to change and alteration, thit thing must necessarily be subject to change or tevolution. If, theretore, the final motive of the action of the souls of the heavens in their voluntary actiors which produce motions, were things discovered by bodily faculties; then, of a certainly, the course of the heavens could not, consistently with such a supposition, be everlasting or uniform, so as not to be subject to be affected by any change or alteration. Hence these motions must have been produced by an unlimited knowledge that comprehends unlimited objects. And, if what is understood reside in the undertanding; then, as the occupation of place necessarily supposes, in the nature of the occupier, a proportion corresponding to the place occupied, it cannot be rightly applied to matters or things that are, in their nature, unlimited.

* The nimh heaven.

The heavens, too, besides having souhs that comprebend the universe, the relation of which souls to the spheres, corresponds with that of the uetive soul to man, likewise possess bodily facultiou called Bandars; and these Bandars themselyer, by mentis of limgination and conception, becomy the original seat of the partial motions exhibited by the heavens ; for universal kntorledge is not fitted to be the grigin of partial and limited motions : since the aflection of universat knowledgo is equal towarts all its portions, and lience lif is requiaite, wherever partial and local motion coxist, that they shonld he derived from and supported by partial and local kniml ledge, which can be receivel only by horliIy organt: and these faculites in the heareng gocup)
'ty place iwhich in men is luld by conce, ition. Alld the efe faculties exist in prey partiofe of the heavens, chice a simple hody is not composed of patio dilleing frour eatch olther in their nathre. If, therefore, any one faculy existed in one part of the heavens differint from that existed in any other, there woull, of course, be varicty willout nuy runac of valicly. These powers of the hearens.
Antl the virtue-nde ned-mroplee says, in the Feráalnuruend, Shet Belliraws naid unto me;
18. The human soul is independent, indivisible, without beginning or end.
 tive soul is an inclepiendent now simplin submennee, pansessing the property of bes'nwing motion; it is called man, and tulked of as $\boldsymbol{I}$ and thou. That angel has a comnexion with hodr, the comnexion of watching over or thinking for it, but withomt penetrating live body or being mixesd with it. Hence we say that, to nue who attende to the underatanclings, the cliarest of anll winges is his own existence and" reali'y: and the desiner in slecp, the drunken mand during intuxication, he who is awnhe during his waking, the sobor man wile it a state of soboriely, maxy. he ighomme of any dhay cher, bim, camoet be jegorant of or unnequaic ted will his on" existency Hence we need int promer ar evidence of one's awn prist nce. lion the properis of a prata is that it bea inidalle terin by which the enquire may arrive at uline hie werks, mod ther mester rruch hiat tio. wards which. lut moves. But it a prot were givin of one a uwn exibtence, the proof wnulf le a mididie inern or medium between a single individual, and self woul merety come to self, self always be placed by self Hence it is improper and absurd to attempt a proof of the existence of one's self.
Since then you know with unerring certainty that you are yourself, we may ventire to affirm that the Sou is a substance not an accilent. For we all know that whatever possesses being, except only the holy Yezdân, is either substance or accident. And wherever abeing depends on any thing different from itself, that other is necessarily in itself judependent of it. As for example, the form of the throne is dependent on the existence of the gold ; for if the gold had no existence the form of the gold could have none. Such existence, is called subservient and dependent, and if the celestial tongue tawer (or accident). And were it not as has been explaised, it would be independent, and selfstable in its own being, withont dependence or reliance on any thing else that confers firmness, such as go'd as has already been explained, and which last they call suostance, or in the celestial tongue forofier.

These matters having thas betn explained in detail, it is plain that (tawer or) aecident in a property superinduced on or received from iomething different from itself, and which lat mentoned thing must be independent and stable of itelf, io order that it way be the recipient and support of that accidet! (or taweh). The substance, man, is the revipient of proception and seison : and figures and notions are drawn tpon it, and again erazed out of it ; a property which doed nut belong to accident ( or taver ). The soil theiefore cannot he an accident; and not being an leoident, it myat necesssarily be as substance.

SHET SASAN THE FiRST.

Again it may be affirmed that the soul is not boily; or the body is always composed of parts, and nay be Tivided into very small and minute portions, and that to such a degree that, even when it can no longer be divided or cut by a kuife, or sword or the like, 'yet rea. Fon teils us that it is still divisible. For, if three minute parts , be placed beside each olther, and if the patt which is in the middle prevent the two parts which are on the two sides from meeting together and being ix contact with each other, this middle piece must evidently have two sides, one towards the piece on the right side, and the other in contact with the piece on the Ifft side; andench of these two boolies on the sides thas also two sides, the side louching the middle piece and the side on the opposite direction: and whatever fias two sides, and is susceptible of being applied to any thing else, is divisible. But if the piece in the middle offered no resistance, so that the two side pieces were to meet, then nothing could intervenc; and from the meeting of these two, there would ensuc a conjunction and a connexion ; whereas a muntial penetration of two bodies ix an innpossililifÿy; sueving ahat, siace one thius only can exist at gice in one phace, it is impossible that two things should exist at one lime in the same place. For, it is just as if, when une was sitting in a place, another were ty come and sit down on the"same spot, yet so as not tif incomumble the finst or press him, and in such soit that the iwo should have room enough, just in the fane way as the one had, at the same time that the place hat not been at all racreased in lengli, breadih, depth or capacity, which is alssurd. Hence exery componad body must be auserpible of divivion, and every thing material, which is boin or surported by body, is in like matiner subject to diviion s sine the division of place implies the divisibility of what i in the place and occupies the space.

We may next affirm, that the diseinctive easence of unity is indivisible, and has no divisions, pirts or portions. For to conceive it as divided into pasts saguld be mere fancy and imagination, not reason : and liat does not admit of divivion can have no place in what admits of division, sud cannot be contained in it. Fur wherever a thing is divisible and allmits of being divided, as time and space, you may of coursn conceive it as being divided or separated. But no intellectual notion is susceptible of division, or separation. Whene it is plain that the soul is simple and not material. For the soul is the seat of the essence of unity, and that essence of unity resides in it: and if unity were a loily, or bet longed to body, then, upon rny division of body or what belongs to body, the simple essence would atso, of necessity, be divilled, since that which rexiles in the portion that is sepirated, must, in triath, reside in that fragment, not in the total; and, whonever any thing resides in the whole, that which resides in earh part is distinct from that which resides in any other part; whence would necessarily ensue the Alivision of that which resides in place. And herice if is cleat that the soul must be simple.

In the next place we assert that tho and ive soul is ancient, wot neuly created or proilagal: Hegiuse every new production or creation must have ite mivial principle previous $t ⿱$ it : now were not the sonl ancient, it would be asaterini and copporal, not indeprideg and free. But the evidences and proulo of its independence: and ficedom are'manilevt.

We next say that the soul is stable, and, on the desiruction of the body, does not suffer similar decay, but * remains eternal. For whatever derays must, before its decay, possess a susceptiblity of decay; and his susceptibility manst reside somewhete. But it cannot ex. ist in the essence of the thing which* decays; since the possibility of decay.must exist after its destruction ; nud it is clear that the thing itself dues not remain atier its destruction: hence if the soul cease to exint, it necrssaily follows, that the place in which the posibility of decay resides, must be somelhing differem from the soul, and yet that thing must be the essence of the soul, in order that the possibility of the de truotion of the soul may be permanent in it: betanse it is inconsistent with reason, that a hing, differemt foonanother thinge, should be the permanent seat of the possibility of decay of that other thing. It would therefore inevithly follow from this reasoning, that the sonl was a compound and material substance; but sufficient proofs of the independence of the soul on matter have already been given; it must therefore be eternal.

And the Soul is permancunt of its own nature, and active by means of its"organat; for it hnows itself, and this selli-knowledge it never can receive through its organs, for then tlyey yould be the medium belween it and its essence ; Mut, whatever observes by means of organs, can gmpreliend neither iself nor its organs, as the fight does not see the sight, and so forth. Aoneover fie some eren di-covers eriors in the bodily senses, agal separates their tumb from their cerors.
*There amenre tis bo somath ng defective or omited here in the niginal.
$\dagger$ Literaly, Tculs.

Hence it is plain that the soul does not acqute this knowleige by the medium of these organs. For how can that be taken from a faculty which does not belong to it?

The soul, too, is not perceived by the bodily senses ; for they discover nothing but body and what belongs to bady : and the soul is neititier body nor corporeal. And the mode in which the soul acts by its instrmenes is plain, as it perceives by its faculties, and excites motion by means of veins, sinews and the like.

And the tilent-adorned prophet says, Sliet Behrâm said unto me;
19. The soul migrateth from one body to another. Those who are in all respects free see the Lord: those who are lower abide in the Heavens: and those who are still lower go from one elemental body to another.

Commentary. The talent-adorned proplet next says, that pleasure consists in enjoying agreeable sensations; and pain, in feeling disagreeable seasations. Now feeling in its essence is one of the qualities of soul ; and hence, the soul, after its scparation from body, may stilt be susceptible of pain or pleasure. Though the body and its faculties are necessary for tie perception of the various different objects of serife, and are the means by which the soul comprehends the puikerse, and are indispensable as instruments, yet thoy ro pot permanent: whereas intellectual pleasure atid pain yre more permanent, especially after the diasolution of the body. * + * * * secing that a feeling in fimpys more perfect in proportion to the stability of tho percipient faculty; and the essence of the Soul is more stable than the bodily senses: hence its feelings muit be more permanent than those communicated liy the body : because bodily faculics sce and know only what is external and sensibl,, whereas he intellectwal powersare exerted inteinilly. And their perceptions are more perfect too, than the perecptions of sense ; beranse intellectual perceptions lanse riferwee 10 independent existences, as universals, intuligences and l'exdàn; while the perecptions derived from the botily senses are such as colours, lights and smells; and it is plain that, of the two classes, such as are independent are the more exalted.
$ Some wordo liere are unintelligible.

It being establistied that the thing perceived, the net of perception and the percipiett are all most encellent in intelletenal perceptions, it follows that intellectural pheasure must be more perlect thim bodily pleasure, and that bodily pleasure is not to be compared to it. Fior what aflinity have ideas reccived through the senses wilh independent existences, and especially with the Self-Existeat? That class, therefore, which is mighty among the mirhly, and fiortmato among the fortunate, those who have reached the limits of perfection in ant and speech, certainly altuĭn the world of lights; and lower than them is the foriunate band who having indeed escaped from the testrgint of the elements, yet have not nttained the on.nexpnise of space free fromplace, of the Independent, vut reach, all of them, the partisular heaven to whiga they haje gained an affinity : und all find pleasure is $_{2}$ the excollent forms and delighteful qualioies that exi.u in the soul of the splieres. And such as have not escaped from the thraldon of antural constituion, but who at the sume time have a surpassing goodines, go from body to body in a state of progressive im. provement, till they reach the state of release. And this progression they call ferhengsar. Such as have been wicked enter into the bodies of speechless animals according to their various dispositions: and this they call nenssár. Aud some enter into vegetables, and this is tengsir: and sometimes also they are enclosed in minerals, and this is called sals and sengsair. And these are the several degrees of liell. And the knowledige-adorned prophet hath spoken much on this subject. On this head I have not written one of a thousand of the words of that exalted being.

There is a Book of the chosen of the incomparable lzed, the vencrable prophet and king of kings, Feridûn, which is called the Honneristan; in which he says, 1 crept out of the lower body, and ascended into the Heavens; and in descending, made some cinquities of Tir (Mereny), who gave answers my queptions. One of them is the following,
20. The heavens have neither rent nor seam.

Commentany. The very mighity one says, there are different quarters of the heavens, as it is said that such an one moves to such ath "airl: and tbat fowards which he moves camot be the soul of a non-existence, since non-entity eannot bo the yubjet of indication. This being established, it may be adiled yat thin thing called airt, cannot be a purely intellectual rot onf; since [^22]nothing purely intellectual can be susceplible of sensibe indication; and no motion can be directel towards a merely intellectual existence. Whatever, therefore, is subject to indication, and such that motion fray be directed towards it, must be possessed of some huality. But any thing from which airt is indicated, and in the direction of which it is seelt, and whence it is specially noted, cannot be susceptible of separation. For, as the being in motion moves over the nearest particle of airt he must necessarily do one of two things; He must either move from an airt or to an airt: from which alternative it necessatily follows that one particle of airt must be the totality of airt, which is impossible. And ia like manner were it divisible or separable, motion might be directed towards no-airt: that, is towards nothing, which is impossible.

In the next place the Lord (Khawend) of the Spheres must necessarily be a perfect and circular body, since the fixing the position of every thing depends on hime and it is necessary that he slonild regulate the centre, not that the centie should regulate him, on account of the succession of eternal revolutions on one point.

It is necessary too that he be not compounded of difierent bodies, seeing that then he would be liable to composition ard disfolution. And the Lord of the Splieres canurgh be di hisible, since were be liable io division he must inevitally be allected by two motions, one towarde being, and one towards non-entity, and two (opposile simaphancous) motions are inpossible.

Know, too, tha heat is a power which aspires to ascend from the centre: that cold is a power which from above strives to approach the centre: that heaviness rules ovef cold, and lightness rules over heat: and thint the Lord does not move from above downward, nor fem below upward, whence he is not necessarily eitber leavy or light, hot or cold: that the motion of the Lord of the Spheres is round the center, and his aspect is circular: for he is not compounded of different bodies, as of parts, that he should have an up and down.

* Khawend. The Ninth Ittar n or Iehernten.

Know farther that whaterer is liable to encrease necessarily requires food $\%$ and whatever requires food must be liable to assume and lose its form ; and has a susceptiblity of division or junction. But the Lord is not liable to encrease, and has no need of food, and being free from the necessity of taking nourisliment, he is not liable to the assumption or loss of form,

And the Yezdanis call the Lord of the Spheres Tehemten*. And the Almighty Just One has not creat. ed him of the elements: He has conferred being on that blessed essence from another substance which they call the fifth element: and no change or injury can affect him to all eternity : and he is the obedient servant of Yezdân, never having in any instuice disobryed, from the time without beginning when liy wis created. The blessing of God be npou him?

The prophet of the incompira le 1. .d, Feridnin, in the Book called Huneristuat, hasfrany proofs on the subject which I have toucheil.

The benevolent prophel Matecheher in the Book called the Danishsate (or Nivenive ( knowlè ge) suys, Berjish $\ddagger$ said unto me,

* Tehemer, The immense boily.
+ The Treasury of Kanwledge.
$\ddagger$ The guardian angel of the b ynet Jupiter.

21. The elements, however mingled, are either permanent or impermanent.

Commentary. It is to be observed that there aro four elements, the positively light, hot and dry, which is fire; the comparatively light, warm and moin, which is air; the comparatively heary, cold and moist, whioh is water; and the positively heavy, cold and diy, which is cartl. The water is of the shape of a ball, the baif of which being broken is filled with water; so that the water and carth together compose one ball. And as the elements penctiate into and affect each other, a sort of middle nature is produced which is called constitution or temperament. If a body that is mined with a temperament has the probability of subsisting for a protracted time, and of retaining its compound subsstance. it is called permanent or perfect; it not, then imperfect or impermanent. And amoug the imperfect compounds are the middle exintences called Niwar-eNivâr (ncteors of the air): for air mised with water is mist; and fire mixed with earth, smoke, and such like. And there can be no temperament so purely equalized that the clements in it should be exacily equal in quantity and mode. And in proportion as temperament more neary approaches equality, the soul bestowed on it by ye orfgimator of being is more perfect. The oljects of all oulfers the most remote from equality of temperáment ard minerals; then vegetables; after them, moving thifgs and manhind. And, in tile view of theintelligeny these three chitdren participate in the anctive soul of the Universe. As to the four cilemenits, the illustriph prophet, in the admirable volume called Danishsar( or the essence of knowled.re ), gives many proofs and illustrations, and offers many observa-tion- om their creation, composition and decomposition, Whiring we abstain from repeating, as our intention is thate dirfy ane fisould not be able to peruse the speculations (datirt) which I have written on the Desatir; and this tramilition should first of all be read by every Yezdani, liat he may comprehend a little of the Most Just and of His Creation.

184 THE BOOK OF
22. Let us ask help of Mezdâm, the selfexistent original Essence, the Uncompound ed, the Creator of qualities!
23. O Ferdinâs, son of *Derwentâs!
24. I have chosen thy service;
25. And; on thy account, have overlooked the crimes of the Hirâsis.
20. Certainly I wili raise up my favoured one,

Persian Note. The King of Kines, Ardeshir,
27. from out of you that he may assugne the government.
28. And be ye ralers over the inhabitants of the earth ;
29. And let the sovereignty long remain among you.
30. Now I have made hee a very wiso prophet;
31. And thy son shall sythet exalted personage:

* Azer:â:ân, son of Iârâh forr

32. And, for thy sake, the kingdom shall enjoy prosperity;
33. And thou art the prophet of the world:
34. And I have sent thee to all mankind;
35. And thy race shall publish thy faith in fints* and elsewhere;
36. Wor they are thy vice-gerents;
37. And all of them shall be good and pious.
38. Make thy heart joyful, for I have granted thy desire.

Commentany. lt is to be remarked that when Sckander couquered lrain, sî̀-ân the son of l'arab relired before his fathee's brother, and went to Hind; where he exercised the worship of lezdâu in a cavern. Yezdan! looked upon that exalted personage with favor, and selected him for pmphecy, und said: For thy wake have It forgiven the sius of the Irinis, of which the greatest was the murder of Dârâb. And now I will raise up one of thiy relatives of the/Kypui race, a man upright is word and deed, that be ma fissume the government of the kingdom, and so you nty be delivered from those kings that are on every liand, and may escaper fiom subjection, and the chiefs of he wold auhmit to your sway as in forghes times, fid the sovercignty remain longe

- among you. 'Tly on will sce that kingdom-griaping monarch, and y fik the counlry-of citiox populinus through thy exceflence. Y'hou ant the prophet of the f Irin. Pery earth, and thee have I sent for the deliverance of the mmi. Thy sons will spre abroad over Irân and ofber teglions the faith acceptahle to Iezath, whinel is th ine thunt liny will be perlect, known of lizdân, workets of bunwhes, and masters of retsoning and algument.

And when this exalted prophet died in Hind, he had a sun named Jiwâna-p, who is known as the segond Azersâsân, and resemblicd his respected father figtumo ledge and practice. He, by the directions of wife thm? trious prophet, the mighty dzersaisin, went to Kabutistan. For the prophet of Yezdâl liad said unto lim, Find out Ardeshir, of the race of Behman, and deliver unto him my Book. Ardesliar ruled all Irân in the time of that jersonage, and, in a dream, saw the mighty Sa. an, who informed him of the state and condifion of the secondsa ath. Animated by the hopes so inspitert, the King of lran went to Kabulistât, and after a thousund entreation, hitving succeeded in bringing that thensoeil being to the prosperous residence of Jotakhar, he constructed an iminenseb monasfery, adocned with the figures of the stars, and laving fireflemplen on different sidies, and assignelthat Rlondiog peraotage a hiditation there. Ald form chat umbe day awifule that collection of relleions housen dopented on tie dengendaits of thint miglity prophet; noil by metnis if the tallawere of the succes-or of the reverend propheof, have the hingh of the lialntable world beenome rubjectlo drdealif, the king of kings.
39. Let us ask aid from Myzdam, the seifexisting Essence, Hueompounted, the Artificer of qualities :

- Sengeristân.

Compentary. Through his Essence.
40. Stablish the faith of Ferzâbid

Commentaly. The expression which is eveywhere used by Yezata', "stablish the faith of the Great Abatl", does not meat that the religion was frmed by Abail. To me it is clear that it maty be den minated the faith if a,ing-to- Vezida, sinee the foith which lealls to llim must be pleasing to Yeadan. This faith acceptaisle to Yeziân was revcaled to llial liy the great Yezisl, and in this faith did all the prophints - Come; and the doctrine of albal are not only plasing to Yealan, but belung to Yezilan. And liailan ne'ver overturns this faill; for a change of orders proceeds from the orderer having repened of his first ordern, wherens perfect hnowledge can give no otdir of which it can repent. And it cannot be alleiged that a difficrent knowledge is requisile for different times, seeing that good knowledge and actidn are commendable at all times; and nothing is desirable but what is right. Now no lighter fuith than this can be given, as is evident to the fuir encquirar and merlulone in westigator: and Yezdan lias given mankiad a fulth to which diney may resort at all seasons. When a Y'edanisi is askel, What is the faith? he innst answer, The finith acceptable to Yezdan, or, am a Yealani. But, ill circumstances in which tere is risk, tho conce..luent and hiding of hiv faill in urecessary.
41. And now let me inform thee what thingr will beffll mankind :

42, And thou inform thy children
 Circal stoid.

THE BOOK OF

that they may warn themselves and the good, of these dreadful calamities;
43. And may shun these distresses;
44. Many men will arise and from them HirAs hath nothing to dread.

Commentury. For some established a code of Law among the *Shodyars, and sought preeminence among that class. Thereafter there was a Man who called them all unto him and said, $I$ am the son of Yezdan. At length they slew him, and thereafter his religion was publistred: And, at the present day, the Rûmis are of his faith.
45. And a man will come, who will lead astray, and falsely call himself a prophet ;
46. And will not save his life from thy men.

Commentary. He here means Mani the painter, who came into Iran in the time of the king of kings, the emperor of emperors, the slayer of the 'lnzis (Arabs), Ardeslir of the race of Shapyr: He has a book in which were innumerabla figures, suchas, a figure having a man's body and cleptiant's feeh hand no forth. And the said, thene are celestial aggels; and he gave permission to slay harmlesk animaly and deened it indispensable to abstain froii women. The emperor shápûr was the disciple of the iecond /Sliel saian, and liad learned his knowledge from that :Yge. He exguied of Mani, What reason cin you hav for killing harmless animals and for abofinenve fromatwomen? Mani

* The Jehadi, or Xehado or devir (What (ollora alludee to Clariy, athswered, In order that animals may be removed awny, and their pure souls escape from their implure bodiess. and return again to their oun proper abode; and that can be effected only by their being killed. And abo. stivence from wonen is to be observed; that the present - race may not be preserved, and that souls may hot pass from their own residence, into this defiled allode: King Shapur replied, How can (the souls of all) animals excape by means of this bunting and slowgher, since a portion of animals hating life are producel nithont copulation; as mosquitors from the leaves of reeds and sueh like: and in the sume: manter ofliers, such as flies; are produced in their senson. How cm these be removed away and destroyed? The fire, the air, the whter, the earth camoo be removed away: and how can such souls as ate thited with regetahles and minerals be separated from them? You enjoin too to keep flar from pomen. What does it avail to keepaway from wonten, if desire does not forsake the lieart? But those sonls of . which you have apoken, when they return into the bodies of men and act nell, arn firend and rise into heaven: and it the rece, of man dues net continuen to "xint, to what bestower of freedom cent therg loe allieds ta the collversation drewfout into leturily, Shâpur said; Whicha of the two is preferayle, desilution or prpuloushess? Mani atswered, T(e solitude of botlies is the puplomInusuess of souls. Sifpur saicl, Twell me thou; Wuyld the slayitg of thee be source of prpuldunarsy or desolation? He answerny It would be the desolation of my body, ant the perproistress* of my sothl. The lisug ne kings said, Auryainer ta thy words will I net big thee. He was then difen ${ }^{\text {ripun }}$ the forturate ussembly, und the men of the city with stones, and bricks, and stavef? and fists slew him, and tore his hody and limbs to piecer.

47. And again another misleader will come and teach, that women and property should be enjoyed in common.

Commentary. By this he means Mazdak, who aruse in the time of the king of kings, Gholad, and was the founter of a neiv sect. He taught, it is most unjust that one should not nssi $t$ motier of the same faith and it is improper that one believer should be possessed of effects, while his fellaw believer is withont property. It is necessaty, therefore, that those who are of the same failh should divide their wealth equally with each other. Nor is it seemly that one man shculd have a wife with a beautiful countenance and elegant shape, while another's is ugly. It is indispensably requisile therefore that every such person should comminicate his handsome wife, for a time, to the other, and take. that other's had favouted wifo in returnis And needy: men who come from the citiss of other kinge, for at aliak time there was no heggariu die country of trein, cling to his doctrines: mid gueh ais yere the rimer of lust attaclied themselves to him. Nolliewan wau dipherased at this innovation, for hat tad bech the disaiple of the venerable sasail. And aqine My cuencetram aulong the disciples of the respected Siakin had a conferuge with Maztiak, thll they convicted hitu df fatstiod xed erroi in all his retiets and lithgritiohe. Wie following is a epeciaten of the confecrice, Nuahte An humsulf sind untohim, If you give lifin shin Más bontho the toil the same bire with him who has noufoiled, is it opprenton.

He answered, "Yea. Nushirwân said, How then can you give the property collected by the labour of one person to another who hath had no tronble ubout it? He then asked Mazdak; If a mon comes and lahours a piece of ground, and waters it, and sows seed, shall that ground belong to him or to the person who ha s endured mo toil in dressing the ground? He answered, To the labonrer. Nushirwan said, Why do you give tlie wife of one man to another, and thus mix seed? He then anid to Mazdak, If one man slay another, whin ought to be the retribution on the slayer. Mazdak repliad, It would not be well tosbyy him ; fire thought the slayerdoes evil, we should not. Nushirufth suid, if we do not kill hial, life may kill ten more. Is it beat that one ar ten should be slain? Ile then said inse hist, $O$ wisked man! The sect which thqu hast formed in destuctive of the sovercignty and govermment, as well as of all order and obedience, since it would destroy al| distince. tions among men, would cover wilh darkuess all relations of descent and extractian, and lead men to prey upna encts other like wild benotm. Au the king of kiang, Gliobul, had muds: ant, ngreament with Nuyhirwath, the imperial prince, to deliver up Muzdak to him, if he refuted liim in aigungent; the king of kings now accordingly gave lim $A p$ to the young imperial prince to bring him to his eny.

Commentany: In these words He gives the prophet an assurance, For thy sake will I remove the calamity of subjection from the Jrânis, and will give them a good kiog, and exait the royal religion. Yet they will dea sert the road. Athd the wanderings of the Irânis are evident; for they often revolted from their kings and passed the fire-pencil over the eyes of Hurmazd ${ }_{j}$ and committed similar acts.
51. And they will embroil the father and son together.

Commentary. This points ion the fact that Behamm Chobin struck money in the name of Khosron Parvez, and thereby excited the jealoussy of the king of kings (i. e. (lurimazd)
52. And slay the kings of kings, my Parvez.

Commentary. At the utiliappy period in question, the Iranis at the instigation of Ferrukh-zad, that Ahriman in buman shape, revolted from the king of kings, and having placed on the Gernifar throne, Glifibad the sorr of the leing of kingy, Heparated the scoul of the lant of the world, the friend of Xeedlin, lropa his hodly.
53. And they will nont hear the words of thy children who are n $y$ tongue.

Commentart. Fot whateref thy sobs eay, they speak with my tomgue. And du ling these vicked transactions of the limian the reapelyed fathor of the enditer of this booly the fourth Azch Saisio, selit epistles to them to tho fortanate abode, bumpthey heeded there not. And ne the poriod of the efoplt he coldressed an the race of Khosrout; but be did not attend to him.

- On two occaions; once before the expedition of Parvez, and isciun after his return from bam with the aumy, did he: write liters to Behram, who world not obey thett, and returned for answer to the laterr of the epistley: "What the fionternint of the prophet says is erue. I kinow it: but thedunt anal ambition of reigning inpel me onward. Wherenpon the reverend sa an, having his reecentment kiadled, replied; "Thon never wilt be satididel wihl sovereiguty until thon flest towards 'lemralin* which thon wilt never rewh, and until thon fallest under a Tomudian daryger." And when they dagered Pavez fom the throne and gave the diadem to thhirnyel, my resperted bither as welt as the writer of this book sent themepindes. They answered; "These ment are taking the part of their relations, and we well know that nobody wishes harm to his fienets. Besider, the word has been harased by you. One behnani dymasty came and filled the throge; and in the doum of tho prophots came another, the a ad the erovermane ' deetween firm." Upou this my and the fimity of sifin who were in letahar, And that utighty lezeltimi fophet addieseded !hem and sate, "Behold the signo of ril divyare come. Thate is now

* Tourar

84. While they are so engaged, there shall arise a man among the *Tewarjis.
85. By whose followers, the diadem, and the throne, and the government, and the religion shall all be overthrown;
86. And the mighty shall be subjected ;
87. And instead of an idol-temple, or of the fire-temple of the house of $A \mathrm{~b} \hat{\mathrm{~A} d}$, shall be seen a place $\dagger$ toward which prayer is directed, but stript of its images.
Commentary. The house that is among the Tazis in the sandy desert of the Hamawârs, buill by Ahad, in which were the images of thestars: that house, he says, shall become the place fowards which prayers are directed, and the images shall be removed from it.
88. And around is brackish water.
89. And afterwards they will subdue the fire-temples of Madir, and whatever is in them, and Yenfyd and Niw6l, $\oint$ and the great places.
90. And their Lawgiyer shall be an elo. quent man and his words finvolved ;

B1. Every one may turnthem to any side,

* Tazio. Pera. They are tlie Avabee
+ This propinecy of ilie origim sad progrese of Matiome-in certanoly sufficientiy divfinet?
$\ddagger$ Madain, Pers.
§ Tús and Balkh.

62. And that religion is a sea that is tempestuous on every side,

B3. So as to drown its own ship.
6.4. Afterwards they shall fall out with each olher,
65. And the wise men of IJirtis and others shall come in unto them,
90. And there shall remain of that faith only such a proportion as there is of salt in flour.

- Comucntany. Lie mans that the ltanis sceing nothing left lor it, shall, as well ns othicre, adopt the religion of the faze, and shall raise up rects, ho that among these sects, there shall he lell of that laith only according to the vilgat expres-ion, in the proportion of salt to flour, as he sulliciently explains.

C7. In the sects that shall rise up, thou shalt find nothing of that seligion but the name.
68. Afterwards, the Deminds* shall come and wrest the asfendency from them;
60. And thoushalt see these sects exhibit the fire-temple jht the 'Jaklisit religion.
70. And their month shill be the chimney ot the firétemple.

Whise D) muds, Pers. T'emmed'n, ner ceriainly the 7 artara Thic have already beca lixquintly releried tu.
t Ta i, recz
71. And it shall come to pass, at that time, that they shail talk of Mezdâm and $\dagger$ Berdâm;
72. But they shall worship earth ; $\ddagger$
73. And day by day shall hostility encrease among them.
74. Then shall ye benefit by it;
75. And surely if there remaineth a single moment of the Grand Revolution, I will raise up one of thy people;
76. And will restore to thee thy religion and tibnour ;
77. And nevermore will $\mathrm{I}_{1}$ take away prophecy and pre-eminence from among thy children.
78. And I will cause the §Hezumbs to flee from dread of you, as the mouse and cat do into holes and hiding places from the paws of the rat and of the lion.
79. And after thee I w Il send the fifth Sàsân to prophecy.
so. Let us seek help from Mezdam, the pure Essence, the Uncomparnetied, the Creator of all propertic

+ Y: z. Ân and Ahriment altudes to the setintality and Irvidiy mindedians af the Mit acimul.

6 lazis, Pers,
81. Mezdâm hath chosen thee for prophecy;
82. And thou art one of the great prophets;
83. I have sent thee (who like all the former prophets art the Lord of a Book) unto all the inhabitants of the lower world.
84. Invite all to the faith of the great Abâd.
85. Every one that doth not come, shall be an inhabitant of hell.
86. Thou didst pray, $O$ Lord of the World ! Confer the royalty on my seed!
87. I will raise up Herdevir,* and select him for sovereignty.
88. Let us ask help of Mezdâm, the Pure of essence, the Uncompounded, the Creator of qualities!
89. Every one whose soul maketh choice of equity, when he throweth off the body', shall arrive at me.

Commentary. Bejit observel, that the angel-souled, intelligeme bodied prophet, Ky Khosrou, the son of Siavusslo in the book Scrûshi-kerdur (angel-practice) says, The respectable + Nalid said unto me r,O. In every thing a medium is best.

* Ardeshîr, Fers.
$t$ The planci Vema.

Commentary. He says, When the force of the une derstanding is excessive, it draws towards artifice and Hearled curaing ; if deficient or litte, it becomes folIy or stupidity; while the midalle state, which is the cammeridalle one, is good sense or wistom. In like matuer -lie streng(th of desire in its excess draws to passion, and is called lust ; in its deficiency, it is frigidity; while the medium is abstinence, chastity, modesty. And if the influence of courage be excessive, men get the hahit of flying out on all occasions, and are called quarelsome and lray seekers; if it be in defect, they are denominated cowards; while those in the middte thetween the two are brave or spirited. Every soul in which is found this glory of Izcd, that is, jusiice, acts aecording to what is ju-t and right, and when it leaves the body goes to join the angels and is united to God. And the angel-minded prophet lias many similar observations.
91. Let us seek hel p from Mezdân, the Pure of essence, the Uncompounded, the Creator of qualities.
92. All that I have told thee will, in its appointed time, come to pass, in the face of mankind.
93. After thee, the fifth Sitsfin is my prophet.

THE BOOK of the ## RESPECTED SASAN THE FIfftt.

1. Det us take refuge with Mezdâm from evil thoughts which mislead and'afflict!
2. In the name of Shamta, the Beneficent, the Liberal, the Gracious, the Just !
3. In the name of Mezdâm!
4. OArdenâs* the fifth * * * * * **
5. Now have I chosen thee for prophecy;
6. And thou art my friend; hide not the right road.
7. And the right road is the road of the Great Abàd. $\dagger$
8. Blest is his religion.
9. There is no one who secketh Me, and findeth Me not ;
10. And there is no one who doth not know of My existence;
Conmentary. Or who believes that I do not exict.
11. All know Me according to the capacity of their understanding;
12. Something they say, and something they imagine;
13. And think that right which they believe.
14. And this error proceedeth from two things:
15. The one ignorance, the other ambition.
16. Now shew unto mankind thy right road.

Commentary. He says, O Sasan the fifth, there is no one who loves me and seeks me that does not find me according to his wishes. All seek me, and find me in proportion to their capacity; and there is no sect which siys that I do not exist. They all deem what they profess to be soind and true; but they do not judge aright. The reason of this is twofold. One, and the chief, is ignorance, which, from defact of knowledge, deems that to be right which is wrong. The other is ambition which inclines them to make men follow them, causing them to affect preeminence and to take a lead; and as they possess no direct means to gain such aseendency, they are obliged, in the first place, by deceit, by afllicting harmless animals, and by foolish doctrines, to corrupt a sect, after which they direct is.
17. In the name of Mezdâm!
18. Thou hast beheld the wicked Hirasis who have slain* Herjîwar.

```
* Pars Parielz.
```

RESPECTED SASAN THE FIRST.

10. Him whom I exalted have they cast down.
11. But they shall not obtain that for which they have perpetrated this .wicked deed.
12. And in place of benefit, I will send them wretchedness. ..
13. I decmed them happy in the love of their princes.
14. $\mathrm{t}^{*}$ * * $*$
15. Lo! they shall meet with retribution from the $\ddagger$ Tasis.
16. They shall reap the harvest of their misdeeds from men dressed in §green, and men dressed in black;
17. And the avengers are a greedy band;
18. Who quarrel with each other, and are evil-doers, and do not what their great one hath spoken;
19. And who kill their chief men for gain:

[^23]20. Their piety is to slay harmless animals ; their prayers to copulate.

So. And Nimkar§ too shall become overpowering.
31. When their religion shall have lastod a thousand years, it shall be such, in consequence of divisions, that, were their Legislator to see it, he would not know it again.
32. And thou shalt see the Hirtâsis such that no one shall bear a wise speech from them.
33. If they speak truth they are harassed;
34. Instead of sensible words they are answered with weapons of war.
35. From the wickedness of mankind did it arise that such an angel-tempered \|king was taken from the Hirtasis.
30. O Sâsân! evils await thee.
37. Thou art My prophet.
38. If mankind follow thee not, for them is it evil, not for thee.

Commentary. For the honour of a proptret doces not arise from all men obrying him and raiting linm to & Pers. Tamudin, alrady explained as Tusall, of the comitry heyour the Oxus.
|| Khostou Parvez.
the sovereignty: and it is not My wish that you should by all be deemed wortily of exaltation, and considered as announcing the truth.
39. The good will come into thy path;
40. And the gift of prophecy shall always remain among thy seed.
41. Lay not affiction to heart, for Mez. dám will give it an end,
42. And, in the end, the oppressors shall flee from your Avenger, as the mouse from hole to hole.

Commentany. At the time when Yezdán sent this, his lumble adorer, to Merv in the time of Parvêz, my respected father received this revelation from the world above, and the grandees and the king of kings also saw it in a dream, and, coming in a body, atlached themselves to my sect. And the Most Just elevated me aloft so many eimer, 'that I cannot reckon them; and these elevations are still continued. And I beluid the place-of-bodies like a dopa in the ocean of souls: and I saw the place-of-souls like a drop in the place. of-intelligences, and the phace of intelligences like a drop in the ocean of the Divine Essence.

prop

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { (ix }
\end{aligned}
$$

(y (

$$
\begin{aligned} & \text { " }
\end{aligned}
$$

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { an dr }
\end{aligned}
$$

范
-

F

(הצ
\%
(
jos

$$
1 v
$$

$v 3$
.

جهـا
5

j مشیْ
1

,
b

j آ;
(
(

和

 ( هو د ل بنه ( ) ا جـر'

 . Vr هو ستشا

 ( $\|^{1}$, د شُ ري

 ( " رم ; د ينــا ر (

$$
\begin{aligned} & \text {, }
\end{aligned}
$$

wy

路

1 زسهـ
عشَ

N
號 ب an = $\boldsymbol{f}^{r}$,

(
保

שمس

和 A ( ) ( هx ( ח

(

號 的

His

ן

號

كـر د

 ( نو یr ( " ?

*

ॠ

 ( $\cos ^{1}$

$4 v$

 ,
 ( (

 $ ( ت ا 1 ر .

بحتـا ع

هك
 الم

(

居
غ

:
(i)

40

 ( نا با يسته هستي ) (
 شهريك ب! (j)

 , أ ( )
 ;بان جهـا J ا, . ,

 ( ) (部

准 ( kang و و (
$i j$

尼

娄 草
（这j）
（j）（j）

（

4.
:

 هوت ت

 هn

11

 و (

 (
 (

 دو ，
 هِمشْشو د هور＂

 ا
 مُهغني א

位路性 ا دهد د！ذسهت הك
-1
' ا

 ه

 جانس كـ (Kوj ( (

رجا نب

گ̌غنت (

- v

.
جسها ني (

 بوع 隹
*

(
(
"

 , ك كو זب w:
 بكس بع
 )
 1. نهو

 msun

（號

地屏

$\bullet$

.

, (
وز
(\%

f-
(

"
, ك ك ك

- \%
(

$$
d o^{\prime}
$$

－هn

$$
\begin{aligned} & \text { ( } \\
& \text { ( } \\
& \text { 大的 }
\end{aligned}
$$

-

 S S ;

 וو یرو, د شث: زد د ( غ
 ع رداضْ

و هغتعو دوتّهوت

 ,

(
( ك
;

 t.

برجني Ax
(

仿

组
ز
(l ein

 يّه هيز

 زبا ده
 ,
 هو

PM

 (
 ;i
pr
بُ (莯

عز

(

(
(
(
(

. J J ه
ro
今'
 (

 ز ؛ذ "位

 هk هب دالدا

 S r6
(

('
 , شوركت و عنظمت ( جها ( بنظهو

Mis

(ز) .

Ni
 ' با غi J, 1

 .
程 ri

,
,

زا عم عتل سهf

؛
(
.
.

.
$\cdot 6 \cdot$
"

يصر رتت زهــات ت

رط
(\% وァر ( سو ر سة̈ـا $)$ ,
 ا هـل كثشتشو ز ه ,

rg
。

 ( )

 jon (

 , ر ششو ( سلدi

$\mathrm{m}_{1}$
促

 .
 تز

 ©

$$
\mu_{v}
$$

. Lin ( Jo
 ( ${ }^{\prime l}$ ) سر وشضي

 بُ هو j
 ; f و زی
 , با بص

My

 S.

 ا ! $J^{\text {! }}$ , ور
 ( Y ما ; $6^{+2!}$
＂
＂ （ （ （ ， （ ）

 ．
 ，共 J位號
$\mu$
"

عنصקر ?'د با
-ه:

i آ بست
آ ذi

(
$m \mu$
ر!

(

 Fici

يعني ' زمور رت l'

 " ! ; د"

MF

 V ${ }^{\prime \prime}$

 Sم تمسلسل ! ! ( ز;
 ( ${ }^{\prime \prime}$

 بمكس
$\mu^{\mu}$
تششهُ

*     *

باببز

( )
ار بأب دال دا زنه زها امدا بي قال ( ز با
 ; ${ }^{1} \mathrm{~J}$ د ( $\widetilde{S}^{\text {( }}$
${ }^{*}$
 ( (ر) ( ) . ( رو ( نســا لا, ( رو! (

 S
 ?

 ح

$r 9$
S بغت天 , .

 :艮 ( )
$P_{A}$

(

,
,
ما همب , سییي و
,
 !

14
,

,

$$
\text { بهر رو به } 5 \text { رار, ( ر, }
$$

„ֶا

s جو

PV
بُكَسْ و, هـز

 بغتّح د ال وضم هم: -
 ' كُ تهג با رباب! !
屏
$r$ (ختشند ( (
 هما حبا ا, اد

 (

 ( )
 ( $i, l i s) \quad$ : 10

Yo

 علم أ زحضرت

( د انششســا , (

 .
$\mathrm{r}^{\mu}$

 ( ذا ذه آ با د (
(

بی

كو ينه (

.

Pr

,

(

و多多
$\mu$

 , i"

 , و د ر و

 ب! با ( m ( O, ( $\boldsymbol{P}$
 "
 ( هر (
 $\cdots$

 زا

 هركت جز دي كه ا ز

 j

人

و!

( ج ج (
(

جو هر

(jほ) (j) ( $\dot{z}^{(j)}$

 جل

10
（，㬐，
 （（ （（

 （（

 ． ＇

18

 كنــا 8 با ز

- (

ا

هـ (

$i^{\mu}$

الهُ

伍
آ آ اجزاست (!

( )

بهـ

عاشیف ( ( بغ آي!

;
و وس '

和و
洗

لز

(

 مهrكت ( به (; .

 ( هُهَ (
 : ( بر כ ) ( ( برهو ته (

 هx
 it it

范
( 63

(
برَ
أُغْ , اجمب ll

I ,
,
( آ
 ت ;

ب دخو 2 بت j أ . ز
 وبهرهنْ
 S
 , ا ا
 (0) (

و بلمند (1)
 و تًا زي j

 عiع (1)
 ; ; ; أ
 (4)

组 ＂$\because$

（

 أز! ? ( عأ

جو

回 ( $1 ; 1$ )

(
( (1
 1 ( 1 ( ا
 ;

P!
 (115) (1)

 ¢ ?

*

 m'

常
＂

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { plo }
\end{aligned}
$$

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { وتْنا و ا }
\end{aligned}
$$

$$
\begin{aligned} & \text { ( }
\end{aligned}
$$

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { 信 }
\end{aligned}
$$

18

Digitized with financial assistance from the Government of Maharashtra on 28 September, 2015

[^0]:    c To the wife give a little; i. e. on the death of her lius. baud. T!ans.

[^1]:    41. Of infinite Greátness !

    Commextary. And entice mightiness: His wonderfuluess,

[^2]:    -In the ariginal. the amme Persian notes are repested hire, and at verse 33 no at verse 3. It is hooght unmeceasiaty to reptat thear agall.

[^3]:    - The same explanntions are given here as in Verse 3. and wre therefore not repeated. Transl.
    +In the Persian Hualiĉag the sun of Siâmik.

[^4]:    *There seems to be aome error in the 25ih and abilh Verees, I reallas if the vowere tulssn awny, and tako the An kas as words of reiteration.
    $\dagger$ Yezdan, Pcre.

[^5]:    * Yezdan, Pero.

[^6]:    - In learer or earito

[^7]:    * Deh-ak, Pers. Taz is the supposed father of the Tazis or Araba. He ta beter kriona as Daliak.

[^8]:    * Meruchelr, Iess:

[^9]:
     atracuon; or topure yirta.

[^10]:    * Tutiánush, $P$.
    + Xunân, $P$. Buel is Greece.

[^11]:    * Peridukhs menna, Dangiter of the Farries, or firydug'tur; so Pariz dehf.ing chath, whence Paryunia; k.u. Dhriok, for linte mendar, whenre Raxua Sue was the daughier of Darab and wife of Sekands.
    she

[^12]:    - The Aralis and Persinas imagine that Aristolle was Alexunder's Pume Mriniser.
    $t$ Chengetrengehth Peis.
    $\pm$ By one Nisk (or Sicturn) of the Awerta Pers.
    5 Hind Pers.
    Wben

[^13]:    * Bias Pere undoubtedly the celcbrated Vias or $\mathrm{V}_{\mathrm{j}}$ aia.

[^14]:    * Gibhali wan the son of Yâafuâain in whose time man. kind fol thto wrikeinean and disorder. Gishah ia sume mellolle refommet their silnation, but stil they were nuck keo coshlated than they hat been in the proceding uges.

[^15]:    * Thin story of Jilmísiand Tilmis bears a atrong reaembance to Cainand Abel in scripture, as pellat to Habeland Irabil in the Kuran.

[^16]:    - Dehak. Pers.

[^17]:    * Since they were upoken in a Persian languege wl.ich he did not underaland.
    + Sekander:

[^18]:    * Khobrou Beohdiad va Prahdid. Pers.
    t Eternal Lutellyencon
    Commentary.

[^19]:    *Sed.wakh.hur, which signifis "hundred propliets" is' a name of Hualieng, He is sooll after called " the tacher . of the prophetr."

[^20]:    " i. e. I'lit Sun.

[^21]:    * i. e, The Muor.

[^22]:    * I have aulopted this Aronofl wayt, the ware of wheh bas pouding tetar.

[^23]:    + This 23d verie has no Percian tranalation and to me is nombelligible.
    - 7 Tras Thzis.
    § She men in. pereon are the Syodn or deacendente of Man' honyert. 'The nllusion to men in bluck is atill kept un anmong the fire worshippers of Paraia, whe celled the Mrumumane, Siahjameh, clad iu black.

