Had this worthy gentleman been United States officer instead of a city officer, we should have had a long rigmarole from our veracious neighbors about custom-house interference and influence, dished up with the customary slang. And what is the difference? It will not surely be pretended that the one calls for loud anathemas while no blame attaches to the other? Away with such hypocrisy!—The people-are not to be thus guiled. As for Mr. Culbertson he may find it for his interest to exerrise his judgment in the approaching contest for himself alone, without seeking to influence that of others by his offi-

The Bulletin copies an article from the Courier in which come reflections, which we were not prepared to expect, are made respecting gross impropriety of conduct on the ordinate officers of the customs in this city.-We perceive that the Bulletin does this with great self-gratulation, attaching considerable weight to the fact, that the complaint comes from "a party print." For our own part we are entirely ignorant of the facts set forth, but as far as our personal knowledge extends, discredit them. Besides, we have too high an opinion of Mr. Gordon to believe that he could retain such a set of men. If we were satisfied he could do so, we should by no means admit the force of the plea advanced by the Courier, as an excuse. We should glory in his rejection, deeming him anworthy of the confidence of the government or the community.

A Possa. - The Boltimore Republican says: - The Philadelphia Herald objects to Robert Vaux as a director of the bank of the United States on behalf of the government, on the ground that his mind is made up on the subject of the contest which is urged by the bank against the government and the reople. We presume that no one will deny that Mr. Biddle's mind is made up on the subject, and if it he valid of jection against Mr. Vaux, we are at a loss to know why it is not equally so against Mr. Biddle."

The Editor of the Louisiana Advertiser thinks that my tamarka in rel-tion to Judge Dawson's intimacy with Mr. Gordon, were most extremely ill-timed, "hecause they appeared on the same day on which Mr. Gordon's rejection It appears that we differ in opinion on the subject.

As an impartial or just man, therefore, let him not erect a standard by which to test the character of another, by the decisions of which he himself would not be willing to abide.

Let us therefore hear no more of pamphlets "written scainst Mr. Gordon," as testimony worthy of the slightest

As for the planders or rumors which have been from time time circulties by the enemies of Mr. Gordon concerning him, but at the case as distinct and tangible charges were instituted against him, he repaired forthwith to Washington city and there substantiated the correctness of his entire official course of conduct, so manifestly and triumbhantly as to afford perfect satisfaction to the government and entance his claims to executive approbation and confidence in tuture. It is not to punish Mr. Gordon for political offences that he has been received by the Sebate, but to gratify the thance his claims to executive approbation are continued in future. It is not to punish Mr. Gordon for political offences that he has been rejected by the Schate, but to gratify the feelings of party malignity towards Gen. Jackson. The distranchisement of Mr. Gardon by the Senate of the United States therefore reflects no stigmation his char-oter, on the contrary it affords a melanchely example of a Senate descending from the august dignity of the con-script fathers off the Republic, and condescepting to gratify the vindictive workings of private malice and party revenge. But why need I mention this fact—it is well known to the Enforce of the Louisiana Advertiser, and to this whole com-monity.

FROM YIENNA.

According to accounts from Vienna to April 20, the news respecting the late rious in Lyons and the disturbances in Paris had been deemed of sufficient importance by the members of the German Congress to induce them to protract their sittings indefinitely. The German writers of the Vienna letters speak of the probability of Count Musaca Bellenhausen, the actual Austrian President of the Germanic Diet, being appointed Austrian Minister of State. They seem to attach a vast deal of importance to the expected appointment, and talk of the powerful sensations among the diplomatists, which the rumours respecting it had already produced. Vienna, which has led to the arrest of several yo rels on the 5th and 6th April, have been stated in the Belgian Senate to be 300,000 france. The Attorney General of Belgium has appealed against the lecision of the tribunal at Antwerp.

THE UNITED STATES' BANK. John Raudolph warned Congress against establishing that Bank, and the truth of his bodings seems likely to be fearfully verified. Charter a bank, said he, with thirtyfive millions of cupital, let it catablish and learn its pow and find, if you can, means to "bell the cat." It will b beyond your power, said he—it will ove awe your Congress, and laugh at your laws."

M. Randolph, if he had survived another year; would have seen his prophecy verified. Mr Adams, day before yesterday, ridicaled, on the floor of the House of Repref holding the Bank managers to account. To the Editor of the Bee:

Six—I see in the columns of the Mercantile of the 2d iffst. the names of a number of gentlemen of this Parish, inserted as openly opposed to the election of Judge Dawson—and among the number is mins. I regret exceedingly to see the names of individuals thus wantonly dragged before the public. Such conduct is uncalled for, injustifiable, iliberal, and I can say for myself, unauthorized. I sim, both a personal and,political friend of Judge Dawson. I shall vote for Judge Dawson for the following reasons:—

1st. Because I believe him eminently qualified to fill the high station to which he aspires.

2d. I have known Judge Dawson ever since he was a child. I sim about two years older—have been raised in the same neighbourhood with him and we have always maintained 40wardseach other the most friendly relations. I am sure, if Judge Dawson's opponents knew him as well as I do, they would vote with me, for I believe his very soul might be turned wrong side out, without discovering a blemish that might give him or his friends, the least cause to blush.

I am, very respectfully, yours, &c. in noting the bank managers of account.

It come the proposition to sent the Sergeant to the city of the Bank power to being "fourteen of the most respectable citizens of the Union to the Bar of the House." The, in substance, said to the House what M. R, predicted would be said—"find, if you can, means to belt the cat." The Bank has laughed at the laws, and its champion among the Reresentatives has not hesitated to hold up its (Globe.) crawe Congress.

Preparations were making in various parts of the kingdom to celebrate the King's birthday on the lest of May.

The Chamber of Deputies, says a correspondent of the London Courier, is disposing, as fast as possible, of the maters before it, preparatery to the close of the session, which ministers fix for the 10th of May. The elections will, if the session is over before or by the middle of May, be completed by the end of June, and the new chamber will probably have to meet in September or October. The new Chamber will probably be as strongly ministerial as the former one, but in consequence of a recently formed aliance between the Republican and Carlist Electors, it is probable that some thirty. Carlist members will be returned. The strength of the Opposition, however, will not thereby be materially increased as the left is likely to lose much in proportion what the right may gain. CLEARED:

The report on the tariff is to be brought into the Chamber of Deputies in the early part of next week. I am assured that several modifications, by which the reductions proposed in the projected law would be extended, are recommended by the committee; but the prohibitions are to remain unrouched until the Deputies have had the opportunity of consulting the wishes of their constituents respecting them. The labours of the Commissioners appointed by the two Governmente must, therefore, remain incomplete until the next session, when the subject will undergo full discussion, and the object to view will have become more easily attainable than hitherto.
