BLAME ROCKEFELLER FOR COLORADO CRIME

Miners' Executive Makes Statement; No Turning Back Sacrifices Too Great

CONFERENCES SOUGHT WERE ALWAYS REFUSED

Persecutions Culminated in Massacre of Women and Children at Ludlow

COMMON PEOPLE FIGHT AGAINST MONEY BARONS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 8.—John D. Rockefeller, jr., could have prevented loss of life in Colorado by favoring a settlement of the coal strike through a meeting of operators and miners, according to a statement issued to-day by the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America in session here. The statement also declares: "There can be no turning back or turning aside. The sacrifices already made are too great."

The statement reviews the strike and continues: "We deplore the loss of life, acts of violence and destruction of property which have taken place. We are for peace and the establishment of right relations between employer and employees. We have exercised our efforts at all times toward righteous dealings."

The miners asked for a conference time after time, they say, and quit work only after they had been refused a hearing. Ninety-five per cent of the men employed cease work and are still idle. The statement asserts: "The statement widely circulated by the coal operators' representatives that ten per cent of their employees were attempting to force 90 per cent, is absurd and false. The small number of employees who are still working are those who are not employed by the coal companies and the representatives of the striking employees. How long shall this battle of extermination go on? It is no longer a struggle for social justice, but instead the humble miners in Colorado are fighting the battle of the common people against the powerful corporations associated with John D. Rockefeller, jr."

Denver, Colo., May 8.—Reports submitted to the legislature to-day show that the strike in the Colorado coal fields up to date have cost the state in militia pay and supplies $691,738. A bill to give the governor authority to close saloons in times of industrial strike was passed by the senate. It is the first of the so-called strike measures to be acted upon. A similar bill is pending in the House.

FILLING JURY BOX FOR TRIAL OF CHAS. BECKER

New York, May 8.—The third section of 100 of the 300 talesmen drawn for the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, reported to-day. Meanwhile another panel of 100 names was being drawn.

NEW GOVERNOR HAS DEMOCRATIC VIEWS WITH ROYAL BLOOD

London, May 7.—The Daily Mail says this morning: "Loyal subjects will fully congratulate the sovereign's choice of Prince Alexander to succeed the Duke of Connaught. Prince Alexander has given ample proof of his possession of the qualities required for the office of governor-general. His manners and outlook of life are alike democratic. He will know how to win Canadian affections. He will be accompanied by one of the most charming of princesses, whose presence in Ottawa cannot but strengthen the ties which bind the great Dominion to the British throne."

Ottawa, May 8.—In the commons this afternoon H. R. Emmerson asked as to the truth of the report that Prince Alexander of Teck had been appointed governor-general of Canada. He said that, speaking only for himself, he hoped the report was not true. Mr. Borden said that his royal highness the governor-general had received a telegram from the imperial authorities announcing the appointment of the Prince of Teck as governor-general.

EARL GREY MEETS OLD SOUTH AFRICAN FRIENDS

Holds Reunion With John Hays Hammond and Major Burnham at San Francisco.

San Francisco, May 8.—Three men who figured prominently in South Africa during the Boer war period, held a reunion here last night. They were Earl Grey, British statesman and capitalist; John Hays Hammond, noted mining engineer; and Fred R. Burnham, famous scout and soldier of fortune.

QUEEN MARY IS PATRON OF COUNCIL OF WOMEN

British Delegates at Rome Say Englishwoman Favors Suffrage but Not Militant Proceedings.

Rome, May 8.—Queen Mary has consented to become a patron of the British council of women, according to an announcement made to-day by Mrs. Creighton, one of the British delegates at the international council here. Mrs. Creighton added that the British council was in favor of woman suffrage, but not of militant, which she considered to be an insignificant minority of the women of England.

PROVINCIAL POLICEMAN CONDUCTING BLIND PIG

H. C. Brewster Tells Vancouver Audience of Incidents Fought During Tour.

Vancouver, May 8.—A huge assembly greeted H. C. Brewster, leader of the Liberal party of British Columbia, and John Oliver, the well-known fighter for Liberal principles, last night.

Speaking of the attorney-general's statement that no Liberal would dare to repeal any legislation he had put on the statutes, Mr. Oliver said that the very first act in the volume of 1914 business was unconstitutional, having been on the Dominion books for the last twenty years. Another thing in this book is the annual grant to Mackenzie & Mann. (Laughter.)

MILITARY BALLOON IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Berlin, May 8.—A captive military balloon was struck by lightning and destroyed to-day at Zossen, 23 miles south of Berlin. The military telegraph battalion was using the balloon in wireless experiments. There were no casualties.

BACHELAT'S TRAINS 300 MILES AN HOUR

New Invention Shown Yesterday Impressed Railway Experts in London

OPPORTUNITY IS OFFERED FOR PRACTICAL TESTS

Latest Miracle of Science Result of Twenty Years' Experiments

MANCHESTER TO LONDON FORTY-EIGHT MINUTES

London, May 8.—The Standard and Express devote considerable room to describing the latest miracle of science, as shown in a city building. Emile Bachelat, an old Frenchman, is said to have produced a railway system permitting a speed of 300 miles an hour. The cars are made of steel with an aluminum base. This metal, suffering magnetic repulsion by electric magnets, which are situated under the track, holds the cars suspended in the air. A series of solenoids along the track, which are successively electrically magnetized, pull the suspended car at a terrific speed. This type of car is intended for goods and mail traffic.

The inventor suggests that it will be possible to do the present journey from London to Manchester in forty-eight minutes, instead of four hours, while the eight and a half hour journey consumed from London to Glasgow can be reduced to seventy-five minutes.

The Express editorially admits that the principle of the invention forms material for an Arabian Nights or a Jules Verne novel, rather than the prosaic circumstances of a commercial undertaking.

"It is impossible to estimate the effect of the invention if, as seems probable, it bears practical tests on a large scale successfully. The very idea will alarm the timorous and cause the ultra-conservative to dream a nightmare. It may seem madness to some and blasphemy to others, but unless the expectations are falsified, a new era has begun."

WOULD SPARE THOSE WHO HAD FAMILY CONNECTIONS

White Paper Issued Gives Record of Col. Seely's Verbal Instructions.

London, May 8.—The record of verbal instructions given by the late secretary of war, Col. Seely, to Major General Paget regarding officers serving against Ulster, was issued as an official white paper to-day. Col. Seely therein said that at the conference at the War Office Sir Arthur Paget strongly urged that in the few exceptional cases where officers had direct family connections in the disturbed area in Ulster, so that in the event of serious trouble arising their future private relations might be irretrievably compromised if they were engaged with their troops against the Ulstermen, these should be permitted to remain behind at the Curragh or elsewhere, whence they would be drafted, either on leave or in charge of department details.

Sir John French and Sir Spencer Ewart having expressed their concurrence with this view, it was decided that this course be followed. In all other cases General Paget wished to be able to say that any officer hesitating to comply with orders, or threatening to resign should be removed. Sir John French was of the opinion that such officers should be court-martialed. He had urged this a year ago on Sir Spencer Ewart, pointing out the technical difficulties and delay that might be involved, but the white paper shows that the chief-of-staff agreed with the war secretary and Sir Arthur Paget that, for the present, removal should be the course to be followed.

PRESBYTERIANS SEND MINISTER INTO CHINA

Winnipeg, May 8.—Rev. Duncan MacRae, Presbyterian minister at St. James suburb, has been ordered to South China by the Presbyterian foreign mission board. This is a new departure, as Presbyterians have always depended on volunteers for foreign mission service. Rev. R. P. McKay, foreign mission secretary, is here to secure Rev. Mr. MacRae.

HUERTA WANTS TROOPS CALLED BACK—GARRISON WOULD ADD TO DEFENCE

Mexican Government Claims Violation of Armistice in Continued Occupation of Vera Cruz—Protection of Life and Property Reason for Increasing Forces

WASHINGTON REPLIES

Secretary of State Bryan said late to-day that the reply of the United States to the Huerta protest that operations at Vera Cruz had violated the spirit of the armistice proposed by the mediating envoys, would state that this government had taken no aggressive steps, and that nothing had been done in violation of the suspension of hostilities.

Washington, May 8.—Secretary Bryan admitted early to-day that the United States government had received a note from the South American mediators seeking to solve the Mexican crisis, in which complaint is made by the Huerta government that American operations at Vera Cruz are in violation of the armistice.

Asked as to the details of the mediating envoys' note, Mr. Bryan said: "It simply sets forth what Huerta says. A reply to the note will be made."

Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Naon of Argentina and Suarez of Chile were astir early. They would not discuss the news emanating from Mexico City regarding Huerta's protest.

Officials point out that neither the United States nor General Huerta has yet entered into any formal armistice. What occurred was this:

The mediators suggested hostilities should suspend during the period of negotiations. To this Secretary Bryan replied that it was assumed there would be suspension of hostilities except to repel attack. General Huerta's answer was understood to be an acceptance but the exact terms have not been given out. Mr. Bryan has several times pointed out that this did not constitute a formal armistice, but only an assumption that hostilities would be suspended except to resist aggression.

Article VII of the Hague convention of which the United States and Mexico are signatories, provided specifically on troop movement pending mediation as follows: "The acceptance of mediation cannot, unless there is an agreement of the contrary, have the effect of interrupting, delaying or hindering mobilization or other measures, or preparations for war."

The British ambassador also conferred with Secretary Bryan as to conditions at Tampico.

ORDER AT VERA CRUZ SATISFIES MEXICANS

Vera Cruz, May 8.—Local newspapers publish prominently commendations of the American administration in the city for the restoration of order and the stimulation of business.

The work of reorganization is progressing steadily so far as the sanitation, inspecting, street cleaning, collection of back taxes and the restoration of the fiscal system is concerned. With the arrival of work, many officers from Texas, General Funston will be equipped to do more municipal work.

The quiet condition in Mexico City is restoring confidence and many Americans having interests in the capital are making short trips there to clean up their affairs. So far there is no interruption of train service.

The military situation is unchanged and the troops are making themselves comfortable in the quarters they expect to occupy for some time.

SIR EDMUND OSLER HAS PRACTICALLY RECOVERED

Toronto, Ont., May 8.—A despatch this morning from Hot Springs, Va., says that Sir Edmund Osler, M. P., of Toronto, who has been ill there for more than two weeks with congestion of the lungs, has practically recovered and will leave Saturday for his home.

ROOSEVELT WANTS TO MEET ROYAL SOCIETY

Sir Clement S. Markham Challenges Discovery of River in Brazil by Ex-President of United States.

Sir Clement S. Markham Challenges Discovery of River in Brazil by Ex-President of United States.

New York, May 8.—Adverse criticism in the London press following statements by Sir Clement S. Markham on the question as to whether Colonel Roosevelt really discovered a new river in Brazil has resulted in geographers coming to the defence of their fellow countryman, or at least counselling that judgment be withheld until further details are received.

Before sailing from Para for New York, yesterday, Col. Roosevelt stated that he had sent a letter to the Royal Geographical society in London, offering to deliver a lecture refuting the remarks of Savage Landor, who said that the province of Amazonas lacked the germ of civilization.

Should Col. Roosevelt go to London he may have an opportunity to meet the critic, Sir Clement S. Markham, formerly president of the Royal Society who has asked if the newly-discovered river is not in reality the Canama river traced further south than it had been followed before.

WOMEN PREPARED WITH DEMAND FOR SUFFRAGE

Many Are Gathered at Washington for Demonstration to Congress To-morrow.

Washington, May 8.—With but a day remaining before they will march on congress and demand the passage of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women, suffragists from all over the United States, prepared to-day for their final charge. Everything is in readiness for the demonstration and the word from the chief marshal, Mrs. George O'Dell, will set the procession in motion.

Every state in the Union will be represented. The marchers have come bearing petitions and resolutions addressed to their congressmen urging the passage of a constitutional amendment. Representative Mondell is the author of the resolution proposing a constitutional amendment which has been reported to the house from the judiciary committee.

The suffragists have been promised ample police protection, and no untoward incidents which marked the suffrage procession here on March 3, 1913, are looked for.

SPAIN PLANS TO BUILD HER OWN BATTLESHIPS

Bill Presented for Annual Credit of $7,200,000 Over Nine Years for Naval Purposes.

Madrid, May 8.—Admiral Miranda, minister of marine, tabled to-day a bill providing for an annual credit of $7,200,000 over a period of nine years to be used exclusively in building warships.

Under the bill it was intended to develop the Spanish arsenal so as to avoid having to use foreign builders in constructing battleships. The minister of marine expects that a battleship to be laid down in 1917 will be built entirely by Spaniards and with Spanish materials.

LANCASTER SERIOUSLY ILL AT ST. CATHARINES

St. Catharines, Ont., May 8.—A. E. Lancaster, chairman of the railway committee, who was obliged to take a rest from his duties at Ottawa and go away for a holiday, was unable to carry out his plans. He has been in bed since his arrival at his home here and his condition is considered so serious that he has postponed his trip, for the present at least.

GRIMSBY ELECTION CANDIDATES BEGIN

Unionist Operates on the Early Bird Principle; Liberal is Very Vigorous

CONSTITUENCY CALLS IT FISH AND JAM CONTEST

Bannister Says 'He is Plain Blunt Man, and Talks Just Like One

TWO LIBERALS OUT IN NORTHEAST DERBYSHIRE

London, May 8.—Of the three bye-elections pending, that in Grimsby is certainly the most interesting. Grimsby is scarcely a place where high thought on imperial matters is likely to be general. The whole town lives by the fishing industry, except that included in the constituency is Clothorpes, which for a generation has struggled hard to secure popularity as a seaside resort. The male inhabitants go trawling and the wives fish for holiday-makers seeking lodgings.

The late Sir George Doughty, who was a trawler owner and man of the people, coming of local Westleyan stock, had a way with him in Great Grimsby. It was said he could never be defeated on whatever side he ran, and he represented the town both as a Liberal and as a Unionist. As a matter of fact he was defeated in the January election of 1910 by a Radical, but won back the seat in the election of the following December, when his majority was 838. He had a wonderful personal popularity, and this of course was a great asset to the local Unionist cause. Now, undoubtedly, there is a good chance that the Liberals may win back this seat, which at the present juncture must be regarded as highly significant.

Both the present candidates, Alfred Bannister, Liberal, and T. G. Ticker, Unionist, are natives of the soil, or rather belong to its home-waters. The former is a trawler owner and the latter a jam maker, and the present contest is, in fact, known locally as the fish and jam election.

Mr. Bannister glories in being a plain, blunt man, who can do anything on a trawler from cooking a dinner to navigating the vessel. His speeches are of the shortest, but far from conventional.

"At whatever cost rebellion must be suppressed," is a sentence in his election address which he amplified rather startlingly on the platform. "Carson and the others ought to be shot; if I were King of England I would shoot them myself," he exclaimed, and since then his post has brought him paper firearms and a gilt crown.

The Unionist candidate starts his electioneering daily at 4 a.m., addressing meetings in the gray hours at the dock side before the men put off to sea. Seven of his eight sons are working equally hard for him. The point on which the Unionists most strongly insist is that there must be no coercion of voters.

In northeast Derbyshire John Pughright, former mayor of Mansfield, is the official Liberal candidate, but the large mining interest in the constituency has decided to support James Martin. There is therefore a split in the government vote, which is covertly regretted by both sections. At the last election it was a straight fight between Labor and Unionists, the former winning by 1,750. Major Bowden, the Unionist candidate, is popular in the division, being a strong local non-conformist, and has a good chance unless government supporters unite on one candidate.

The threatened introduction of a Socialist candidate has not materialized. In Ipswich, Suffolk, J. G. Gairson, a barrister of Wimbledon, will be the Unionist candidate, but the Liberal choice has not been made.

ALL EFFORTS FAIL TO SAVE LIFE OF HAYNES

Sydney Murderer to Be Hanged This Afternoon, Postponement Being Refused.

Halifax, N. S., May 8.—Mr. Justice Drysdale refused again to-day to interfere in the case of Haynes, the Sydney murderer, who has been sentenced to be hanged to-day. As a result of the confession made by Haynes implicating two others, the department of Justice at Ottawa was communicated with to obtain a stay of execution. The department referred the matter to Mr. Justice Drysdale, the trial judge, who advised last night that the application had not been granted.

To-day D. A. Cameron, counsel for the prisoner came to the city in a last endeavor to prolong the life of the condemned man, but his mission was unsuccessful. Haynes is to be hanged between noon and midnight to-day.

PLACING RAILS FROM DUNDARAVE ON P. G. E.

Over 30,000 Tons of Steel Ordered for Delivery This and Next Year

Vancouver, May 8.—Tracklaying was started on the extension of the P. G. E. railway from Dundarave to Horseshoe Bay this morning, said an official of the company to-day. The contractor expect to have the line completed to the Howe Sound end early next month. The section will be ready for operation by July 21.

The railway company, in order to expedite operations on the Dundarave-Horseshoe Bay portion of the route, is building bridges in advance of the track-layers. This is an unusual course and involves greater expense in transporting materials to the scene of structural operations. Timbers and steel are being floated on rafts to the different bridge sites.

Additional orders have just been placed by the P. G. E. with firms in eastern Canada for more electric locomotives and rails. Two heavy engines of the consolidated type, have been purchased from the Canadian Locomotive Works, of Kingston, Ont., and three large passenger coaches have been bought. The company already has two additional locomotives on order and has four on the north shore, two of which are in service on the North Vancouver-Dundarave run. Sufficient steel to lay more than 300 miles of track has been ordered from the Algoma Steel company, of Sault Ste. Marie, for delivery during the present year and up to the end of 1915. These consignments will aggregate between 30,000 and 40,000 tons.

INDIA CAPITAL COST 90 MILLION RUPEES

Calcutta Against Removal of Government Centre to City of Delhi

Calcutta, India, May 7.—It is now two and a half years since the change of capital was announced by the king-emperor at the Delhi durbar, and at last the government of India has tabulated an estimate of the probable cost of the scheme. In the despatch in which the proposal was first mooted, the government of India estimated the probable cost at 60,000,000 rupees.

Addressing the Imperial Legislative Council during the budget discussion, the viceroy said: "Whether the government of India were wise in mentioning a figure, in however guarded a manner, I frankly admit, open to serious doubt, and it was only after consultation amongst ourselves, and with the concurrence of our former colleague of the finance department, whose caution is known to you all, that the figure of 60,000,000 rupees was inserted in the despatch."

His excellency went on to admit that this figure was insufficient. He gave details making up a total expenditure of 76,704,300 rupees, and added: "As we are anxious to face our liabilities for starting the new city to the full, and to consider it necessary to make a special provision for contingencies and unforeseen expenditure in excess of the usual provision that has been made of 5 per cent. on the works outlay, by adding a sum of one and a half crores. The total sum now allotted to the building of the imperial city is thus 81,704,300 rupees."

The viceroy's speech has been received in a critical manner by the Calcutta papers. They point out that the revised estimate, which is nothing but a project estimate, is already, on the government's own showing, half as high again as the estimate upon which the scheme was sanctioned by the home government.

They point out, moreover, that it takes no cognizance of the ambitious railway programme which is an integral part of the layout of the imperial city, the construction of which is proposed to establish in close proximity to the new government house, or the enormous expenditure which will have to be incurred in connection with the sanitation of old Delhi.

Calcutta opinion continues to be unabatingly hostile to the scheme, and it is probable that renewed protests will be made on behalf of the Bengal chamber of commerce and by the public.

Even the German nation does not years for an opportunity to employ in action the formidable land and sea forces of which it now disposes. The risk is too great and the gain too problematical.—Dr. E. J. Dillon.

NEELY CALLS HUGHES' EFFORT VAUDEVILLE

Militia Estimates Presented; Minister Referred to as Militia-Mad

Ottawa, May 8.—The house of commons sat until midnight discussing the estimates for the militia, but no item was voted, and consideration of them will be resumed later.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier drew attention to the fact that under the closure rules of last session the estimates of a department cannot be brought up for consideration for a first time on Thursday or Friday, the two days on which the opposition cannot move an amendment to the motion to go into supply.

Col. Hughes, who was all ready to go on, looked disappointed as Mr. Borden said that other business would have to be proceeded with. Sir Wilfrid, however, said that as Col. Hughes was eager to go on, he would waive his objections.

Summing up the trained forces of the Dominion, the minister said that the militia numbered 77,000; cadets, 44,000; rifle clubs, 23,000; reservists, 500,000; organized corps, for which there was no equipment, 78,000, and trained teachers, 12,000; or a total of 728,000.

At confederation it was laid down that the maximum expenditure for militia should be 10 per cent. of the revenue and the minimum $1.3 per cent. In 1905-06 the militia expenditure had been 7½ per cent. of the revenue, in 1910-11 6 per cent., in 1911-12 5½ per cent., in 1912-13 5.1-3 per cent. and in 1913-14 the same. Thus the two years of his administration had shown the lowest percentage of expenditure in the history of the Dominion.

Further defending himself against the charge of increasing the expenditure, Col. Hughes said he had found an overdraft of $649,000 when he took charge of the department, and that in the summer of 1911 Sir Frederick Borden had ordered ordinance to the value of $4,064,000.

F. R. Carvill demanded details in regard to the overdraft, and claimed that the overdraft had been covered by money voted by the Liberals.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said if there had been an overdraft it could not have been paid without a special vote. He did not remember such a vote. Col. Hughes said that the payments made in the year 1911-12 had been $7,728,000, but that these had not been sufficient by $649,000 to pay for all the goods delivered that year.

E. W. Nesbitt, Oxford, asked for the estimates of this year, but Col. Hughes said the estimates had nothing to do with it.

"They have everything to do with it," retorted Mr. Nesbitt, and the incident then dropped.

In the evening Fred Pardee, chief Liberal whip, and other Liberal members criticized the acts of the minister. Mr. Pardee said that his whole speech breathed militancy and that the minister was militia-mad. He declared that less money should have been spent this year on the militia and more on the development of the country.

Dr. Neely, Humboldt, asserted that the people of the west were not in favor of any taxation for military expenditure. He described the afternoon proceedings as vaudeville.

It will probably be several days before the consideration of the military estimates is resumed, as other business is to be taken up to-day, and on Monday the debate on the C. N. R. guarantee proposals will commence.

Hon. Louis Coderre introduced a bill to amend the Companies act by providing for the issue of share warrants; for the issue of debenture stock in amounts less than $100, and for providing for the re-issuance of debentures which may have been pledged as security and then redeemed.

Hon. Mr. Doherty introduced a bill to amend the criminal code by constituting an offence and subject to penalty the publishing of any advertisement, knowingly containing false statements. He said that there had been a very widespread abuse of advertising of properties of various kinds for sale, which represented to be existent that which was not existent, and this legislation was designed to check such practices.

The minister of militia informed J. H. Sinclair that the government is to construct a rifle range near Victoria, B. C., the land purchased for the range being 42 acres, and the cost $101,423, including $3,451 for interest. The land was bought from R. A. Grant and from Arthur and Eleanor Lincham.

Premier Borden tabled in the house a correspondence of four premiers who advised providing aid for the Canadian Northern railway. These were: Hon. J. A. Calder, acting premier of Saskatchewan; Premier Murray of Nova Scotia; Premier Sifton of Alberta, and Sir Richard McBride of British Columbia.

Some further information of a financial character was tabled. An affidavit by A. J. Mitchell, comptroller of the Mackenzie & Mann company, states that the money received by that firm amounts to $223,467,641. No contractors' profits, he states, have been received by their behalf, except certain fully paid up common stock in the C. N. R. companies. The question as to payment for services or profits is left open for future adjustment.

The floating liabilities of the C. N. R. are placed at $16,408,122. Extensive details are given of the securities of the companies pledged as collateral for temporary loans.

IMPROVEMENT TAXES BINDING ON OWNERS

No Remission for Years Work Was Not Done, Oliphant Avenue People Hear

The property-owners on Oliphant avenue had a conference with the special committee of the city council yesterday afternoon at which there was taken up the question of the objection of the owners to paying their assessments for local improvements carried out on that street. It resulted in the committee offering to report in favor of putting in a surface drain out of general revenue.

From the record of the work in the city clerk's office it appears that on September 21, 1908, a resolution was adopted that the work be undertaken of grading, macadamizing and draining this street; that on November 20 the engineer and assessor made the usual report; that on December 2 the work was advertised; that on December 21 the assessor reported that there was no adverse petition and on motion of Alderman Henderson and Alderman Gleason an authorization by-law was passed on February 1, 1909, that on December 12, 1910, the work was reported by the engineer and assessor as complete and the assessment by-law was finally passed fifteen days later.

Thomas Jalland said that in spite of this record the roadway was not completed until last fall, and that as a matter of fact the work under the by-law was not yet finished, there being no surface drains. He said the owners had petitioned for an asphalt surface in 1909 before the work was commenced, and a petition in December, 1912, was the third at least that had been sent in. Although the by-law had been closed up in 1910 rock had not been placed on the roadway until 1911, and when it was put on it lay without a surface application for two years, rendering the street impassable for vehicles. The city was attempting to tax the people for work that was not done in the years assessments covered and for a finished work that was not yet done.

Mayor Stewart explained that it had been found impossible to get the consent of the lieutenant-governor-in-council to close up the original by-law and give the people asphalt, and so the work had had to proceed under the by-law as macadam.

City Solicitor Robertson gave it as his opinion that the work has not yet been finished because the surface drain has not been put in, and he admitted that there was an irregularity in that the consent of the lieutenant-governor-in-council to close up the by-law before the work was done had never been obtained. Mr. Robertson held, however, that any defects were cured by the fact that once debentures were issued to pay for any work and interest had been paid for one year the by-law is binding in all concerned.

Some discussion arose as to what was meant by draining the street, the owners maintaining that this could only mean surface drains, while some of the members of the committee had another opinion. J. S. Adam, of the city engineer's office, informed the committee that all that was meant was the carrying off of the storm water, and this was provided for by there being a grade down towards Cook street.

"What do you expect us to do with the surface water off our properties then?" asked Mr. Jalland. "We are not allowed to drain that or the kitchen sinks into the sewers, and all that water is lying in the soil on each side of the street. The sanitary condition is very bad in some cases."

Thomas J. Thompson declared that until the work called for in the by-law was done he would not pay his assessments, but when it was he would do so.

Ald. McNeill pointed out that the council could not remit any taxes, as the owners wished them to do. He also reminded some of them who bought under agreements binding the vendor to pay the taxes up to the date of sale that the council could not be expected to protect them.

In the end, on the motion of Ald. McNeill, it was decided to recommend that surface drains be put in, a work which will cost about $1,400. The annual assessments against the properties amount to $547, so that, as Ald. Bell, chairman, pointed out, the owners get work done to the extent of over two years' assessments.

GRAND TRUNK DITCHED PASSENGERS INJURED

Prince Rupert, B. C., May 8.—A Grand Trunk Pacific passenger train was ditched seven miles west of Rose Lake. C. C. Van Arsdol, divisional engineer, had an arm and collarbone broken, and sustained cuts on the head. Mrs. Marion Peterson, of Vancouver, was slightly injured, and is now in hospital here. Mrs. G. O. Graham, of Smithers, was pinned under a seat and almost drowned by water which was forced through the broken car. The train carried 200 people, mostly laborers. The new grade was weakened by high water and frosts. The coupling between the caboose and the passenger car broke.

WOULD AID IMMIGRANTS.

Rev. J. G. Inkster Emphasizes Responsibilities of Country With Respect to Newcomers.

"Strangers within our gates" formed the subject of a rousing address delivered last evening at the First Presbyterian church by Rev. J. G. Inkster, the speaker emphasizing the responsibility of the Dominion with respect to the immigrants arriving.

Not only had the government a responsibility to those who came, but any neglect of the newcomer and the community in which he lived might, he said, endanger the health and happiness of many others. Nine-tenths of the immobility, crime and disease were directly due to the faulty housing conditions and inadequate legislation in respect to the liquor traffic.

Children particularly were material either for good or bad citizens, and the conditions under which the younger generation among the immigrants were reared would show in time to come. In connection with this phase of the subject Mr. Inkster threw a number of excellent slides on the screen, these giving glimpses into disgraceful sweat shops, where small children were shown at work, while other pictures were of juvenile criminals before the magistrate of the children's court. For contrast were shown pictures of some of the child-laborers rescued by the Presbyterian church deaconesses and placed in the training schools in Toronto, and the reformed criminal, new tidy and honest and self-respecting, in one of the Presbyterian homes. The evils of drunkenness were forcibly illustrated.

In conclusion, Mr. Inkster pointed the moral of finding reform through the love of God alone—such love having been at the foundation of the home missions of the Presbyterian church, which have done so much toward alleviating the moral and economic condition of the poor.

THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Prince Alexander of Teck and his consort, Princess Alice of Albany, will be accorded a genuinely hearty welcome to Canada, not only because of their close relation to the reigning house but because of the many amiable qualities which have won for them widespread popularity among the people of the home land.

are strangled by taxation for the benefit of British manufacturers, that the native children are denied the benefits of education because ignorance, best suits the purpose of the dominant race, and that India is drained of her wealth steadily and relentlessly for the aggrandizement of outsiders who control her destinies.

There is no doubt that an agitation based on these allegations is being conducted not only outside of India but amongst at least a section of the Indians at home, and there is just as little doubt respecting the object of it. Whether the agitators have succeeded in sowing the seeds of a discontent which verges on sedition throughout all parts of India or whether it is confined to the aggressive element which is represented on this coast because of its desire to gain a foothold in a new land it is difficult to say.

One significant feature of the agitation which has been proceeding here for some time is the fact that a ship is about due with several hundred Hindu immigrants on board. The Times' visitors frankly admitted that the object of the charterer of that ship is to apply a final test as to the rights of Hindus as British subjects in a British country.

SCARCELY AN ANSWER.

"Possibly there may be plenty of men in Victoria and Vancouver who possess the qualities, which in the opinion of the government ought to be possessed by the Inspector of Municipalities, but possibly also none of them were available for the office."

We asked our contemporary to favor us with a candid answer to our question of yesterday and the foregoing is what we received. What is the use of dodging the issue that way? The morning paper knows that not only is it a certainty that there are plenty of men in this province competent to perform the duties of inspector of municipalities but that they are available.

PESSIMISM?

The chief government newspaper apologist charges Mr. Brewster with pessimism. This, at any rate, is a well-known variation from the usual key, which has been an accusation of lack of patriotism in everyone who had the temerity to criticize the policy of the administration. Incidentally pessimism receives a new definition. Those who disapprove of land administration and advocate an enlightened policy of colonization and settlement are pessimists.

Mr. Brewster is a pessimist in expressing the fear that this province may be called upon to meet the interest charges in consequence of its gigantic railway liability he is in particularly good company. The exposure by Mr. Borden of the financial standing of the Canadian Northern Railroad company has sent a chill down the back of every provincial premier whose government has guaranteed the company's bonds.

peessimists in this city it is due very largely to the morning paper, whose every glib assurance has been falsified. Mr. Brewster is pledged to a policy which expresses confidence in the future of the province, to be realized not by the political machine which is trying to crush the life out of it for the benefit of a few, but by the development of its resources in the interest of the many.

CALCULATEDLY CALLOUS.

There is this to be said in favor of the Die-Hards: They are not in the least afraid of revealing the real motives for their opposition to home rule. The Pall Mall Gazette, owned by a former American citizen who in the very nature of things hardly can be imbued with the spirit which moves the men who oppose home rule on principle, admits the popularity of the government's general programme and says the situation only can be met by an uprising in Ulster and the establishment of a provisional government.

HELP FOR FATHER.

Lillian Russell says that the secret of female beauty is plenty of hard work close to nature. This should cause a lot of the spring gardeners to be taken off their feet.

THE NON-COMS CHANCE.

Montreal Herald-Telegraph. If there are as many resignations of officers in some of the regiments of the British army as is rumored, many an able "non-com." ought to find his way into the higher ranks of his profession.

CALLS IT GOOD VALUE.

Manitoba Free Press. Some very wild statements are being made about the cost of the National Transcontinental railway. Some imaginative writers have the cost $275,000,000 and rising every day. The actual expenditure to date on this road has been $10,262,147.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, Wednesday, May 8, 1889.

The third session of the British Columbia conference of the Methodist church will be convened in this city on this day week at 9 a. m. Twenty-eight ministers are expected to be present, including Dr. Carman, general superintendent, who is now on his way to the coast. A neat programme of the meetings has been got out.

The local artillery corps is preparing for the sham battle on May 25 and will undoubtedly make an excellent stand against the enemy.

Bricklayers working on the Jubilee hospital have discontinued work for a few days on account of the contractors having no bricks on hand to proceed with.

Shortly after seven o'clock this morning two young men paddled out of the harbor in a Peterboro' canoe. When they had turned the buoy the frail craft capsize and both were precipitated into the cold waters. After swimming about for some time they decided the distance to the shore was too great and the best plan was to remain by the overturned canoe. After shouting for some time, they were approached by two boats and rescued.

PUTTING SALT ON THE DOLLAR'S TAIL

THE DOLLAR'S TAIL

When the manufacturer of a nationally sold article begins an advertising campaign in the newspapers he is setting a flock of dollars in motion.

They are going to be caught by some one.

The wise dealer proceeds to sprinkle salt on the tail of the dollars by letting the public know he has the goods.

He reaps the benefit of the other man's advertising by doing just a little pushing on his own account at the right time.

The caught dollars help to make for his own prosperity as well as for that of the manufacturer.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

J. Gordon Grant Will Appear in Higher Court; Charge Against Wood Dismissed.

J. Gordon Grant was committed for trial by Magistrate Jay yesterday afternoon after a long hearing on each of the three charges on which he was arraigned, namely, stealing goods, using a document purporting to be a receipt, knowing it to be forged, and making an alteration with the object of making it appear genuine. Counsel for the accused, R. C. Lowe, elected for trial before a jury, and it was expected he would make application for bail on his client's behalf before Judge Lampman.

In connection with the same case A. J. Wood was arrested yesterday for allegedly attempting to pervert the ends of justice. He is alleged to have gone to the auctioneer who sold the goods brought to him by Grant, and asked what would be his attitude towards Grant if he got his money. Wood pleaded not guilty, and the magistrate's decision was reserved until this morning.

In reviewing the case to-day the magistrate said he had come to the conclusion that although the accused came very close to the line, he did not think his action brought him within the limits of the code. It had always been considered in British courts a very serious offense to tamper with witnesses, but while he thought accused's action was an inquiry into what the auctioneer's intention was, he could not see there was any actual offer of money. The charge was therefore dismissed.

Development Association.—All Okelt in order to secure an early start on the work which is projected through the appointment of an industrial commissioner, has called a meeting for Tuesday forenoon, at eleven o'clock, in the city council chamber, when the organization of the reorganized Victoria and Vancouver Island Development association will be proceeded with, and the association will take some steps towards mapping out a plan of campaign. Notices have been sent to all the organizations interested in this work, so that the meeting will be as representative as possible.

Left $64,000 to Children.—A. D. Crease obtained probate of the will of the late Mrs. W. J. Macdonald this morning on motion before Mr. Justice Clement in supreme court chambers. The estate was valued at $64,000 about equally divided between real estate and stocks. The senator is made the sole executor and the estate is divided among the children.

Is International Citizen.—Harold A. Frost, a first-class American, who describes himself as "an international citizen," was arrested yesterday by Detectives Heather and Edens in the bushes between Moss street and Fairfield road with a fully loaded revolver in his possession. Though very poorly dressed he had over eight hundred dollars in his possession, no bill being for a less amount than $20. The man was unable to give an adequate account of himself, and was taken into custody. This morning he pleaded guilty to having a weapon on his person and was remanded until to-morrow.

Building Inspector Upheld.—The owner of the A. O. W. hall building, R. L. Richards, Toronto, will have to alter his plans for the improvement of the interior of the Princess theatre (the ground floor of the building) in order to secure a permit to carry out the work. He has plans for the improvement of the auditorium, but these do not include any change in the portion of the building occupied by the stage. The building inspector holds that the by-law compels the owner to deal with the entire space and that he cannot be issued a permit unless his plans embrace the stage as well as the rest of the theatre. In this he was yesterday afternoon upheld by the board of supervisors—Ald. Fullerton, chairman, of the fire wardens; City Engineer Rust and Fire Marshal Davis—whose decision on appeal from the inspector is final.

RUN FROM LIVERPOOL

WAS OF VERY FINEST

Rains and Fogs on Pacific Only Nasty Weather Met by Antiochus

"We did not have a shower of rain from the time we left Liverpool until we neared Singapore, and I did not have my olivins on once during the voyage."

The inward voyage of the Antiochus was exceptionally fine. Some nasty weather was met crossing the Pacific, but from the Mersey as far as Yokohama the steamship drove her prow through smooth seas and the breezes were hardly strong enough to alter the course of the smoke as it poured out of the great blue funnel.

Rush of Chinese Starts. The inward rush of Chinese has started. The Antiochus brought in 165 Orientals, 119 of whom disembarked at this port.

LINLITHGOW LOGGING

VERY SLOW PASSAGE

Fast Chilean Full-Rigger is Out 65 Days From Valparaiso

Something of a very unusual nature must have overtaken the famous Chilean four-masted square-rigged ship County of Linlithgow on her northbound trip from Valparaiso, Chile.

When the late Capt. Mueller commanded the County of Linlithgow she carried a great reputation for speedy passage. He evidently knew the way she sailed best and on one trip he brought the square-rigger to Cape Flattery 35 days out from Valparaiso, a record for the long voyage.

It is understood that the County of Linlithgow will load at Mukilteo, Wash., as will also the four-masted barque Curzon, which also is now en route to the Royal Roads from Valparaiso.

RATE FROM VICTORIA

TO 'FRISCO REDUCED

Saloon Passage Money Will in Future Be $15; City of Puebla Arrives

Local agents of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company this morning announced a reduction in the first-class fare between Victoria and San Francisco. During the past the saloon rate on the steamships Umatilla and City of Puebla was $18.50, but in future passengers will be booked for the round sum of $15, which is the lowest ticket fare to be put into effect on the Victoria-Frisco run for many years.

This reduction is expected to draw a lot of business from this port on the southbound trips. According to information received by the agents, the new rate will become effective with the sailing of the steamship City of Puebla from Victoria on Friday morning, May 15.

The steamship City of Puebla, Capt. C. H. White, arrived in port at eleven o'clock last night from San Francisco after a lengthy tie-up. She was withdrawn from this service early in the year and remained idle at the Golden Gate for a long period before work on overhauling her was started.

CAPT. FLYNN BROUGHT NO NEWS OF KOMOGATA

Capt. Flynn, master of the Blue Funnel liner Antiochus, in port this morning from the Orient, was unable to enlighten local immigration and shipping officials with news regarding the Japanese steamship Komogata Maru. The Antiochus did not call in at Shanghai and did not sight any ships crossing the Pacific. In fact, the first the captain heard of the Hindu invasion was from the pilot when he boarded the ship at William Head this morning.

The thugs, however, were scared away by an automobile driver before they had time to rob Fredericks, and the motorist carried the injured man to police headquarters, where he reported the attack.

BEES ONCE MORE

LOSE TO SEATTLE

Two Errors and a Hit Turn Tide in Eighth; St. Francis for Port Angeles

Seattle, May 8.—Lamb's error of James' ground ball, a steal, Cunningham's wild heave to centre field and Swain's two-base blow in the eighth inning gave Seattle its fourth straight victory over the Bees yesterday at Dugdale's Park.

Narveson and Schneider, the league's leading pitchers, were indulging in a beautiful pitcher's battle, and until the break in the eighth inning it appeared that the game would be another such as Sunday's battle between Vancouver and Victoria. Schneider, up to the time Seattle broke into the run column, had a shade the better of the pitching duel, Victoria gathering in but three bingles off his delivery, while Narvy allowed seven, all widely scattered.

Had James been made to hug first base, he never would have scored on Swain's hit, although it was recorded as a two-bagger, it was very scant.

In his three performances since returning from the big league, Narveson has won but one game, and that was only through his masterly pitching and his own single. The second game he twirled he lost by the score of 2 to 1 in 19 innings. In that contest an error, a steal and a single scored the winning run, while yesterday he was a loser of a hard-luck game. His pitching in the clinches was magnificent, and even the Seattle crowd sympathized with him when the two costly errors lost him the game.

Victoria's main weakness is behind the bat. Carney's arm is still bad and probably will not round into condition until the warm weather arrives. Cunningham needs more experience. A year's seasoning in the "twilight league" would do him a world of good. Catcher Hoffman, utility receiver of the Los Angeles team, may come to Victoria. Hoffman is a good catcher, and will add a lot of strength to the team.

Eugene, Or., May 8.—The University of Washington baseball team turned apparent defeat into a 2 to 1 victory in the ninth inning here yesterday in the first game of its two-game series against the University of Oregon.

Portland, Ore., May 8.—Big Ben Hunt pitched a five-hit game for Vancouver yesterday, and Broomley, of the local team, was poorly supported, although Vancouver made enough runs to win under any circumstances behind Hunt's pitching. The final score was 3 to 1.

Score— R. H. E.
Vancouver 3 10 1
Portland 1 5 0
Batteries—Hunt and Grindie; Broomley, Salveston, Murray and Perkins.

Tacoma, Wash., May 8.—Gregg held the locals safe in the pinches and the Indians won yesterday, 4 to 1.

Score— R. H. E.
Spokane 4 7 0
Tacoma 1 8 4
Batteries—Gregg and Shea; Kurfess and Harris.

Cal. Campbell had his St. Francis nine out working yesterday on the Royal Athletic grounds, and the semi-pros showed plenty of class. Steel, on first base, is fielding and throwing in sensational manner, while Gravin, Moir and McDougall, who form the remainder of the infield, played knappy ball. Johnson, a Washington boy, was playing yesterday in right field. He looks like a find. Clemenston is working much better than when he was with Victoria, while McGregor and Slaton, two slabsters, are showing up well. The St. Francis appears to be an exceptionally strong team. Sunday they will journey to Port Angeles to meet the Olympia town team. Their team for Sunday will probably be as follows: Catcher, Cox; pitchers, Slaton and McGregor; first base, Steele; second, Moir; short, Gravin; third, McDougall; outfielders, Clark, Potts, Clemenston, Johnson.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE WILL BE STRONG

Last night's meeting of the Commercial league was a decided success, five teams having already entered, while a sixth team, the printers, is expected. A handsome trophy has been donated, while each individual member of the winning team will secure a medal at the close of the season.

Officers were elected as follows: President, G. H. Bissell; vice-president, David Mout; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Jones. It was decided that Tuesday night will end the time for entries. On that evening a meeting will be held, and a schedule will be drawn up.

Two delegates from the newly-formed C. F. R. team were present at last night's meeting. They expressed their desire to enter a team but could not owing to the fact that the team was only organized to play inter-city games with Vancouver and other neighboring cities.

Any team wishing to enter the new organization is requested to be represented by two delegates at next Tuesday's meeting.

The B. C. Electric team were the latest entries.

LACROSSE TEAMS ARE DISSATISFIED

Protest Made Against Mid-Season Mann Cup Games; Oak Bays in Form

The Pacific Coast Amateur Lacrosse association has forwarded a protest to Joe Lally, head of the cup trustees, against the awarding of midseason dates to the Calgary Chinooks and the Brampton twelve for games with Vancouver for the Mann cup.

The association constitution forbids any team in a league participating in games with outside challengers during the progress of the league season. New Westminster and Victoria players are strongly opposed to the easterns being given first chance for the cup, as the Terminals are weakened this season, and both the Royals and locals have an excellent chance of winning the amateur title.

If Vancouver ignores the league constitution it will be barred from participating in further league games. Should the easterns win from Vancouver in their midseason series, and Victoria or New Westminster win the P.C.A.L.A. league, the winning team would have to make an expensive trip east to play post-season games in an attempt to regain the championship for the coast.

Oak Bay boys are showing good form in their daily workouts. Last evening almost a score of members turned out to practise, their workout lasting over an hour. Cotton Brynjolfson, former Victoria amateur star, and now a member of the Vancouver professional team, is coaching the boys, and says the team has the best talent in the city. Noel, former North Ward and Victoria representative player, announces his intention of playing with the Oak Bays this season.

Two entries have been received for the senior league, Victoria Amateur Athletic club and one other nine, which will be announced to-night. Two more entries have been received for the junior league, bringing the total number up to seven teams. The intermediate league also promises to be interesting, the latest entry into this being Esquimalt Drednoughts, who organized last night. Jack Fletcher, one of the movers in forming a club in the vicinity, states the team has some good talent, and will make a strong bid for the second division championship.

For to-night's meeting each team is requested to be represented by two delegates.

VICTORIA AGAIN WINS IN BASKETBALL GAME

The Victoria All-Star basketball five again emerged triumphant at Duncan last night by the score of 19 to 13. Victoria was slow in starting, the home club scoring 10 points to Victoria's 7, in the second half Victoria played rings around Duncan and scored 12 points, while the best the other side could do was to score 3. Bob Whyte scored the majority of Victoria's points. After the contest Duncan invited Victoria to appear again and play a return engagement, but as most of the boys are out training for lacrosse they declined to accept. Victoria lined up as follows: Menzies and McDonald, guards; Petticrew, centre; Whyte and McGregor, forwards.

Neither a peace palace, nor even a large fund for paying peace lecturers, is necessarily a step nearer to the establishment of real peace.—C. E. Maurice.

SCRAP BOOK

Birthday of William Walker, Famous "Soldier of Fortune."

Recent events south of the Rio Grande lend renewed interest to the adventurous career of William Walker, the famous and notorious filibuster and soldier of fortune whose ambition it was to overthrow the governments of Mexico and Central America. This picturesque character, whose life was more replete with adventure than that of any swashbuckling hero of "red-blooded" romance, was born in Nashville, Tenn., ninety years ago to-day, May 8, 1824. In his boyhood he was afflicted with wanderlust and an insatiable thirst for excitement, and he early became a "rolling stone." He received an excellent education, studying law in his native city and acquiring a legal knowledge that might have enabled him to win fame and fortune at the bar. He had no sooner completed the law course, however, than he determined to become a physician, and took up the study of medicine at the famous university of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon returning to America he soon turned to journalism. Next he joined in the rush of adventurous spirits to the gold fields of California, abandoning an editorial position on a New Orleans newspaper to indulge his desire for change and new experiences. After a brief career as a prospector he returned to journalism as editor of the San Francisco Herald, and later settled as a lawyer in Marysville, Cal.

The practice of the prosy profession of law could not long satisfy Walker's adventurous spirit, however, and he soon considered various projects which had in them the spice of danger which he craved. In 1853 he conceived the plan of a conquest of Mexico. Five years before, after the conclusion of the Mexican war, the United States had made a treaty with its neighboring republic whereby the Stars and Stripes were hoisted above a vast stretch of country extending from the Rocky mountains and Texas to the Pacific coast, and including Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Nevada, California and a part of Colorado. It was the opinion of Walker—shared by many Californians of that day—that the United States should have annexed the whole of Mexico and Central America, instead of a mere tract of 700,000 square miles, and he set out to remedy this mistake. At the head of an army of 170 men he set out to effect the conquest of the Mexican state of Sonora, which he proposed to use as a base of operations against the remainder of the country. The scheme was a dismal failure, and Walker then decided to annex Central America first and the Mexican republic later.

Nicaragua was chosen as the scene of operations. That country was enjoying a revolution, and the "democratic" chief Castellan, who was making war on the president, Chamorro, invited Walker to come to his assistance, promising him a large grant of land if the rebellion was successful. In 1855 Walker landed at Realajo with sixty-eight men, raised a native force, captured Granada, the capital, and made himself president. His rule was ferocious and arbitrary, and although his government was recognized by President Pierce, the filibuster soon had to flee the country and seek refuge on a United States vessel, although he burned the capital city before leaving. Later he returned to Honduras, where he took the fort at Truxillo, proclaiming that he made war on the government, not the people, of Honduras. He was captured by a British warship and turned over to the Honduras government. In September, 1860, his career came to its logical conclusion when he faced a firing-squad of barefooted soldiers, and, with his back to an adobe wall, shouted with his last breath a defiance to the "grasers."

FIRST THINGS

The first battle of the first war between the United States and Mexico was fought at Palo Alto sixty-eight years ago to-day, May 8, 1846. After a fierce conflict, in which the Mexicans proved themselves brave foemen, Gen. Zachary Taylor's army triumphed over the Mexican forces under Gen. Arista. The war was due to a boundary dispute between Texas and Mexico. President Polk's war policy was bitterly attacked in many parts of the north, and was opposed by numerous influential statesmen. Senator Thomas Corwin, of Ohio, delivered an address opposing the war, which was long considered an oratorical classic. The speech closed with the sentence: "You may carry your banners to the loftiest peaks of the Cordilleras, they may wave with insolent triumph in the halls of the Montezumas, the armed men of Mexico may call before them, but the weakest hand in Mexico, uplifted in prayer to the God of Justice, may call down against you a power in the presence of which the iron hearts of your warriors shall be turned into ashes." No such phenomenon occurred, and after a year and four months of war, in which the invaders were not once defeated, the United States acquired the territory comprising the present states of California, Utah and Nevada, the greater parts of Arizona and New Mexico and half of Colorado.

SCOTT PICTURES.

Devotees of animated photography have the opportunity now in Victoria of enjoying a veritable carnival of exciting adventure and the pictorial grandeur of a hitherto unillustrated world, the South Polar continent, as filmed by Herbert G. Ponting, F.R.G.S., official camera artist with Capt. Scott's Antarctic expedition, as these notable pictures will be shown at the Royal Victoria theatre this evening and every afternoon and evening until May 16.

The Scott pictures are the first ever exhibited of that hitherto unknown realm where Jack Frost is king. From a scientific standpoint, these pictures are unequalled, for the reason they have taught scientists things heretofore unsuspected. For instance, how a seal gets through the ice (the seal being a mammal has to come to the surface to breathe) has long puzzled researchers, who were at a loss to account for the "Seal Holes." Mr. Ponting compiled concrete evidence which for the first time satisfactorily explained the phenomenon. He caught the Waddell seal actually "sawing the ice with its teeth."

These are the actual, complete and authentic pictures shown in London for a year and in New York for six months. Mr. Ponting has arranged an inspiring story of these British heroes and Charles B. Hanford, the eminent Shakespearean actor, gives this thrilling truth of Britishers of to-day who have written their names on the heights of heroism.

"Where's my umbrella?" demanded the wife of a member of parliament. "I'm afraid I've forgotten it, my dear," meekly replied her husband. "It must be in the train." "In the train?" snorted the lady. "And to think that the affairs of the nation are entrusted to a man who doesn't know enough to take care of a woman's umbrella!"

You seldom find people ungrateful so long as you are in a condition to serve them.—La Rochefoucauld.

Not a Corn

Last week that foot had corns. But the owner read of Blue-jay. She applied it one night and the pain instantly stopped. In 48 hours all the corns came out. And those corns will never come back.

That's the story folks have told about sixty million corns. And tens of thousands tell it every day. Some of them used to pare corns, merely to relieve. Some of them tried the old-time treatments until they gave up in disgust. Now never again will they suffer from corns. When one appears, Blue-jay goes on it. There is no more pain. The corn is forgotten. In two days they lift it out. No soreness, no pain, no trouble. That sounds too good to be true. But remember, please, that a million corns a month are ended in this Blue-jay way. Why don't you let it put an end to yours?

Mr. Ponting succeeded in catching his subjects at close range—they have no fear of man—and the pictures give a graphic idea of the habits of the wild life of the icy regions.

It is impossible to mention all that is shown, but for realistic photography no one could equal the pictures of a baby penguin breaking its way out of the shell, or of the eruption of Mount Erebus, taken from a distance of fifteen miles with a tele-photo lens, or of the bow of the Terra Nova crashing through the ice, taken while Mr. Ponting was slung over the side from a yardarm.

It should be borne in mind by all Victorians that a goodly share of the proceeds goes to the fund for the dependents of the brave British men who sleep under a coverlet of snow in the far south.

GERMAN EMPEROR HERE.

To the Editor: I am a German, and I am heartily ashamed of my king and emperor, who, according to the very best authorities, has been absent from his empire for some time, and was in Victoria on the 6th instant, in order, for the sole purpose of intercepting all correspondence from the Navy League to London. He has the greatest admiration for, and, I might almost say, fear of, the gallant captain and high admiral commanding hundreds of chapters and thousands of regents with millions of members, who are ready and determined to stay at home.

In case this cruel German Emperor should, from this information, have received from this league, giving him important secrets of the British navy come here first and destroy Victoria, fired with success, he will return and take London, and will only compromise with the king of England and emperor of India, that in future all Amazonian legions and the members of the Navy League, led by the gallant captain and high admiral, shall stop interfering with the constituted authorities.

The noble captain and high admiral, Clive Phillipps-Wolley, for his watchfulness in discovering the true culprit who intercepted, or, in other words, stole the despatches intended for the home office, shall be made a peer of the realm, with a salary of 500,000 sterling per annum, for life, and a seat, for all time to come, on the admiralty board, and to be styled the first sea lord.

The information the German Emperor has received, through personally intercepting the correspondence of the Victoria Navy League, has given him the clue to the intentions of the chapter, regents and members. The importance of this information is well known to the officers and members of the German club, and especially to the German consul, and these people should be brought to trial at once, charged with assisting the German Emperor in destroying the homes of the regents and members, and the destruction of the British navy. The crime is usually punished by life-imprisonment in a dungeon, or death, and in this case both punishments should be inflicted at once.

Some of the regents have been writing love letters and by mistake these letters were dropped in the bag for the home office in London, but they were also intercepted by the wicked emperor. The naughty emperor would be pleased to return these love letters to the writers, with his comments, if he had the pleasure of knowing them. Those who wrote these love letters can have them returned by sending their addresses to the German club of Victoria.

This startling news, which was announced on May 6, came behind time, and should have been given us on April 1.

A greater victory has been achieved by the pen in this case than Wellington achieved by the sword, and a grateful nation should now award the gallant Captain and High Admiral Clive Phillipps-Wolley a peerage under the title of "Lord of the Navy League," with a pension of 500,000 a year, and a re-purchase of "Pier Island," of which he was formerly the owner, which would equal the gift of "Blenheim" by the British nation to the Duke of Marlborough.

I consider the time has come when this enormous Navy League should be classified. First, it should be the Wives of the Empire; second, the Daughters of the Empire; and third, the Children of the Empire. It would add materially to the number of chapters, regents and members.

The German Emperor has been royally entertained by the German club, but it has been behind closed doors, and he only left after the meeting of the Navy League, when he had got what he wanted.

A HUMILIATED GERMAN.

To-night and Saturday matinee and night will see the last presentation in this city by the Victoria Stock company of "The Easiest Way." This company has made many friends in a short week, so much so that a number of people are looking forward to their next production. The play chosen is a very funny farce comedy, entitled, "Are You a Mason?" To those who have seen this play, it goes without saying that they will pay a visit to the Victoria during the coming week.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

"If an Indian lurked behind every tree, still we would go!" It was with this declaration that De Maissonneuve and his little band of forty men and four women set out from Quebec 272 years ago to-day, May 8, 1642, for the site of Montreal, where they landed ten days later and laid the foundation of Ville Marie, which, after many vicissitudes and hardships and tragedies, has become the metropolis of a great dominion. Le Royer de la Dauversiere and Jean Jacques Olier share with the brave and courageous De Maissonneuve the honor of having been the founders of Montreal. The Sieur De Maissonneuve had been sent from France by a religious society to establish the settlement of Ville Marie, and reached Quebec late in 1641. It was impossible to proceed until the coming of spring, and then the governor urged De Maissonneuve to remain in Quebec, pointing out the dangers to which the party would be exposed from the hostile Iroquois. De Maissonneuve replied to these arguments with the historic answer quoted above, and the little party set out in a fleet composed of two small sailing craft and two row boats. They were accompanied by the Governor Montmagny, who formally turned over the island to the settlers. The site of Montreal had been suggested as a good one for a town by Champlain, but he died before he could put a plan for making a settlement into effect. The two decades which followed the foundation of Montreal was a period of constant watching and vigilance. Montreal was surrounded by a cruel and relentless foe which was utterly devoid of mercy, and the river was filled with their canoes. On one occasion, in 1660, only the devoted heroism of Daulac des Ormeux, a youthful French nobleman, saved Ville from utter extinction by the savage Iroquois.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, who recently visited the United States and Britain, was born in St. John's fifty-two years ago to-day, May 8, 1859. Sir Edward's trip to Washington in March was for the purpose of initiating final steps for disposing of the Newfoundland fisheries—a fish-bone—of contention between John Bull and Uncle Sam. There have been several occasions in the past when John and Sam threatened to take off their coats and go at it to settle this dispute, but wiser counsel prevailed and in 1910 this disturbing question was adjudicated by The Hague tribunal. The award settled the vexing matter, but several pecuniary claims remain to be assessed upon. The claims, growing out of the alleged illegal seizure of American fishermen, the collection of light dues and duties on fishing supplies, fines for violation of the bait and custom laws, and other matters, involve about $200,000, and will soon be submitted to arbitration. Sir Edward's mission to England had for its purpose the negotiation of a loan for railroad development, to which his government is pledged.

Sir Edward, who is still "Ned Morris" to the intimates of his youth, won the honor of knighthood a decade ago, and has been premier of the colony famed for its fisheries and its dogs since 1909. For many years he has been a dominating personality in the island which is the northern outpost of American civilization. He was educated at Bonaventure college in St. John's and the University of Ottawa, Canada, and began his public career thirty years ago, when he was admitted to parliament for St. John's West, his native balliwick. Swinerton & Musgrave of a century ago he entered the cabinet of Sir William Whiteaway. In 1895 he went to Ottawa as a delegate to discuss confederation terms for the entrance of Newfoundland into the Dominion of Canada. When the Dominion was launched in 1867 Newfoundland held aloof, but in 1895 the colony was in sore straits and knocked at Miss Canada's door, asking admittance. On that important mission Mr. Morris was accompanied by Sir Robert Bond, later his political opponent. Miss Canada may have been a bit cold to the advances of her island wooer. In any event, the deputation returned to St. John's and told the people that they would have to get along as an independent colony for a while longer. Since then the confederation scheme has occasionally been revived, but without effect, since Newfoundland is now prosperous and progressive and getting along nicely. The American tourist crop, now numbering about 5,000 a year, is a source of considerable profit, and some of the visitors have talked of the annexation of the colony

After serving in the cabinet of Sir Robert Bond, Sir Edward anticipated Roosevelt by organizing a People's party. He campaigned the colony from one end to the other in 1908, and overturned the party in power, succeeding Sir Robert Bond as premier in 1909.

B. C. E. Railway's Activities Referred to by New General Manager

The newly-appointed general manager of the B. C. Electric railway, George Kidd, came to Victoria this morning for an inaugural conference with A. T. Goward, local manager. The man on whose shoulders the mantle of R. H. Sperring has fallen together with a large number of burdens and responsibilities, looks far younger than his forty years. He has been connected with the company since 1907, when he was attached to the London office, being appointed secretary of the London board a year later. He came out to Vancouver in 1910 and up till yesterday held the important position of comptroller. His new appointment dates from May 7. His elevation to the post that was formerly forecasted by the fact that when Mr. Sperring set off for England some months ago Mr. Kidd was made acting general manager in his absence. To the Times this morning the new general manager said: "There is no contemplation of any change in the general policy of the company nor in the personnel of the respective staffs. Any changes that may be made in the near future of an incidental nature will be those which would naturally have occurred had Mr. Sperring remained at the head of affairs in British Columbia. "What I want the public, however, to realize is the huge amounts the company is spending in British Columbia. During my time as comptroller I was in the natural order of things brought very closely into touch with the finances of the company, and I was given an opportunity to realize just how much this great undertaking depends on improvements and development schemes for the good of the province. "Take this year of 1914, for instance, it is admittedly a quiet year financially, yet the B. C. Electric is this year spending three millions, which amounts to a good deal more than the estimated profits for the entire twelve months. This includes, mind you, all the departments in which we are interested, railways and lighting and power. Half of that money at least will be spent in Victoria and Vancouver Island—partly on the new Jordan River unit and street work in this city. And this is all being done at a time when profits are declining, particularly on the interurban lines."

CAROUSEL WHILE OLD WOMAN WAS MURDERED

Light Thrown by Dominion Constable on Events Leading to Crime of April 30

Some of the events, and probably contributory events, of the night on which Mrs. Frazee, the old Indian woman, was mysteriously murdered on the Songhees reserve, were related by Dominion Constable O'Connell today in the provincial police court. The occasion was the trial of aged George Gregson for supplying liquor to Indians. White of hair and lined face, Gregson pleaded guilty to the three separate charges levelled against him, stating in extenuation of his fault that he and his wife were starving, and he had no other way of getting bread. He was sentenced to four months' imprisonment on each charge, the sentences to run consecutively, making a year in all.

On the night of the murder of Mrs. Frazee, said Constable O'Connell, a spree was going on in cottages on either side of the one in which she was brutally done to death. In both cases the liquor supplied for these carousals had been furnished by the prisoner, who had been responsible for untold misery during the three years that he had lived in close proximity to the Indians. Jimmy Frazee, the son of the murdered woman, had himself gone up to Gregson's place on the night of the murder, and had caroused there all night with a large supply of gin, the officer said. Tommy George had also been supplied with intoxicant in those hours.

Constable O'Connell, who knows the Indian life and character almost as well as the Indians themselves, stated that in his opinion the mystery of the whole affair lies in the liquor that was supplied to the Indians by Gregson on the night of the crime. It had not been handed out, he felt sure, the violence would not have taken place. Gregson had even sunk to the depth of making his little son of twelve years pack liquor about the reserve, delivering it from door to door, he added. The child had admitted this fact as also had the mother, who said she warned Gregson several times not to continue his nefarious practices. He would not, however, be persuaded. When arrested Gregson was hiding under the bed, and was only hauled out by Provincial Constable Owens after a struggle.

EVIDENCE IS TAKEN ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Ernest J. Whitty's Defence Reserved; May Bring Woman From England

The bigamy charge against Ernest J. Whitty was proceeded with in the police court this morning, when W. H. Bullock-Webster, appearing for the prosecution, called two witnesses who testified that they had heard Whitty speak of his wife and family in England previous to his marriage with Miss Janet Robertson of this city. The testimony was also obtained of Rev. J. G. Inkster, who performed the ceremony at the residence of Miss Robertson in September last.

At the conclusion of this morning's evidence, counsel for the crown asked for a remand, and in support of his appeal told the magistrate that the greatest care had been taken to ascertain if the charge were well founded before it had been laid. To this end he announced, the attorney-general had wired to Sherborne, in England, where the alleged first wife of the accused is in residence in the workhouse with several children. The wire sent had been worded: "Is woman in Sherborne workhouse the lawful wife of James Whitty?" In reply to this message the clerk to the guardians, who is a solicitor, had cabled back:

"Leah Whitty is the lawful wife of James Whitty." The object of the remand, pursued Mr. Bullock-Webster, was to bring the woman Leah Whitty out to this city to give evidence, or if that course was not possible, to bring some witnesses of the alleged ceremony. He asked for an adjournment from week to week until the witness should arrive. This was granted. The first witness called by the crown was Mrs. Susan Wetherell, who stated she first knew Whitty in Knowlton, Que., in July, 1910. Both he and she were working on the farm of the Dominion department of agriculture, and they became acquainted. Whitty had remained on the farm two months. During that time he had referred on occasions to his wife and family, who, she said, were in Dorset, England. He once had said he had a good wife at home and five children and he was going to work hard to bring them out to Canada. On other occasions, stated Mrs. Wetherell, Whitty showed her letters he had received from his wife in the Old Country. Mrs. Wetherell testified that in Victoria Whitty had lived as a roomer at her home at 818 Port street. During that time he had never made any reference to his family affairs. The next witness called by the crown was William Whally, a preventive officer in the customs service. He stated that he had roomed with Whitty at the house of Mrs. Wetherell and had consequently had some intimate conversations with the accused. Among other things witness remembered Whitty saying that he did not think he would bring his wife out to Canada. He had a number of letters referred to the fact that he had a wife and kids in the Old Country.

Rev. J. G. Inkster was called, and stated that he performed the ceremony of marriage between the accused and Miss Janet Robertson at the bride's residence on King's road on September 15, 1913, under the authority of a duly attested license produced by Whitty. The conclusion of this evidence closed the case for the crown until the arrival of the alleged first wife, W. H. T. Gahan, who is appearing for Whitty, reserved his defence.

COST OF EXTENDING CITY THOROUGHFARES

Owners on Burdett and Pendergast Street Complain of Method of Assessing

Every now and then at the city hall an echo of some almost forgotten proceeding comes up. This morning the council of revision on local improvement assessment met for the first time this year, when one of the matters which came before it was that of the opening out of Burdett avenue to Linden avenue, a work which was done about five years ago. The members of the court present were Mayor Stewart, Aldermen Porter, McCandless and Sargent. City Assessor Northcott, City Controller Raymur, City Solicitor Robertson and Chief Clerk Adams, of the city engineer's department, were in attendance. Thornton Fell, K. C., on behalf of a client, Mrs. Humphries, objected to the assessment of the extension of the street on the point of the small contribution the city had made to the work. Some time before the street opening was decided on the city had purchased a lot on which Rev. W. L. Clay, D. D., was about to erect a house, this fronting on Linden avenue and backing on the then end of Burdett street. For it $2,500 was paid. There was an argument advanced at that time that the city could not include this sum in the cost of the local improvement, for the reason that it had been acquired previous to the taking of any of the statutory steps for the opening through of Burdett avenue. This morning Mr. Fell said he would not press this point, but he asked that the city live up to its agreement with the owners to pay a share of the work. The sum of $200 which the council had decided without notice or intimation to anyone to deduct from the cost, as absurd as it had been ten cents at that time the city was paying one-fifth of the cost of local improvements argues that it should deduct $500 from the amount the owners are assessed in this case. After some discussion as to the suit which was carried to the court of appeal, and would have gone to the supreme court of Canada had not the then city solicitor advised a settlement, the court decided to take off $500. Owners on Pendergast street objected to the method of assessing for the cost of opening that street through from Vancouver street to Heywood avenue, which is being placed, half on the four lots which front on the short distance, and half on the owners on Pendergast street, between Vancouver and Cook streets. Hugh Kennedy, for clients, Andrew Fairfull, W. A. Smith and other owners appeared before the court. It was argued by them that the benefits derived from the opening of the street were widespread than the assessments made, and that there is a measure of injustice in the proposed method of levy. The mayor suggested that this might be met by extending the assessments over twenty years instead of ten, by Mr. Kennedy considering that this would be an increase in cost, and thought that the city should bear part of the cost of what would be a work of somewhat general benefit. The court laid the case over for further consideration.

In the matter of Irving road, from Crescent road to Fairfield road, a deputy headed by R. L. Drury was heard. This street was passed to be graded and paved with asphalt, but the owners claim that the work is not complete and that the boulevards are not in. The case is further complicated by the fact that there are two resolutions of council as to the method of assessing the cost. On April 21, 1911, it was decided that the property owners should bear the whole cost, and on April 28 that the city should pay one-fifth. The engineer's department acted under the first resolution, which has never been rescinded. The advice of the city solicitor will be obtained. The court considered and confirmed the assessments made in regard to the following works: Gett; Government street, Bay street to Hillside avenue; government street, Discovery street to Bay street; Brooks street, from Walton street east to the end of street; Chandler avenue, St. Charles street to Fowl Bay road; Hillside avenue, Douglas street to Quadra street; Fairfield road; Richardson street to Fairfield road; Chapman street extension from Linden avenue easterly to Howe street; Brooks street, from the dividing line, between Fairfield estate and sections 19 and 68, easterly to St. Charles street.

PASSED RESOLUTION

District Meeting of Methodists Not in Sympathy with Police Commission on Sunday Question.

At the district meeting of the Methodist church, held here on Tuesday and Wednesday this week, at Esquimalt Methodist church, Rev. Robert Wilkinson presided, and there was a very fair attendance at all the sessions. Among the business was the passing of the following resolution:

"Resolved, that we, the members of the Victoria district meeting of the Methodist church of Canada, representing the Methodist of Victoria and district, hereby place ourselves on record deploring the action of the police commissioners in openly defying the law of the Dominion of Canada, known as the Lord's Day act, by sanctioning the transaction of business on the Sabbath day, thereby depriving many employees of the day of rest to which they are entitled. We also regret the fact that they have arrogated to themselves powers which by statute belong only to the attorney-general and screen their conduct behind the excuse that they are unwilling to show discrimination in enforcing the act."

VICTORIAN ABROAD WRITES IMPRESSIONS

John Dean, on World Tour, Describes Vividly Customs and People of India

John Dean, a well-known Victorian citizen who is now engaged in making a tour of the world, writes to a friend in the city from Colombo, Ceylon, describing with no mean powers of observation things and people he has seen en route. For instance, he says of Rangoon: "One of the most interesting sights in Rangoon is the motley crowd on the streets, the variegated colors of their apparel. Most of the lower class men simply wear a turban and a loin cloth, no shoes, but often a ring on one toe of each foot. They usually have very spare bodies and limbs, and when at rest they squat on their heels. "The men have a habit of chewing ground betel nut sprinkled on lime and spread on a leaf. The Burmese women dress neatly, the Indian women slovenly. All of them, however, are extremely fond of jewelry, studs, rings for noses and all sorts of fanciful pendants for their ears. The Indians in Rangoon are intensely black, the Burmese and Chinese a dull yellow. Elephants as Workers. "One of the most interesting sights so far seen in my trip was seven elephants working in a timber yard, moving teak logs 30 to 40 feet in length. Floundering up to their knees in mud & log ahead of them with their tusks, and again they will pick up a log on their tusks, at the same time curling their trunks around it, dropping it where required. It is really wonderful to see their intelligence and the way they are trained. "Rangoon boasts most, I think, of its great temple surrounded by many shrines, with hundreds of Buddhas in brass and marble. The pagoda has a circular base like a bell, gradually tapering in to a point at a height of 321 feet. It is extravagantly moulded and gilded and is considered the most sacred and the finest in Indo-China. "It is a trip of 71 miles from Rangoon to Calcutta by steamer across the Bay of Bengal. Calcutta, like all cities of India, is a great surprise to visitors, inasmuch as the more recently built sections are so substantial and up-to-date, with great open spaces and park-like areas. One distinctive feature of buildings generally in the East is the outer corridor, separated from the streets by columns and arches, the main wall of the building sitting back, veranda-like, the object of which is, of course, for shade and coolness. Another feature is that most floors are tile or concrete, as are the roofs. "The native city, which comprises the old portion, is very congested and quaint. The floor of most of the shops or stores is raised about table height above the ground and answers for a counter. On this the shopkeeper squats, cross-legged, and spreads his goods open to the street. The Holy City. "Most tourists in India follow a beaten track, which has been well mapped out to include the most interesting places, entering or leaving at Bombay. One of the most delightful places in this itinerary is Benares, the holy city on the Ganges, which is the most primitive and the least changed of all cities of India. It is noted chiefly for its position on the sacred river, its burning ghats, its monkey temple and another temple to which only men are admitted. I must explain that a burning ghat is simply a crematory, where Hindus burn their dead. These are common throughout the continent and after witnessing their manner of burning I am of the opinion that they are to be applauded for their sensible sanitary way of disposing of their dead. The body is placed on a light stretcher of bamboo and is then put on the ghats. Mr. Dean also writes of the agriculture of India. "Much depends," he writes, "upon seasonal rainfalls, and especially on the periods when they take place. Through much of the country crossed there has been a drought, giving to the land a very arid and barren appearance, relieved at intervals by an oasis or two where water for irrigation is available. At these places the precious liquid is hoisted by oxen, which work unremittantly throughout the terrible heat of summer. "Generally speaking, along the line of travel the face of the country is flat. Much of the soil is a gray, silty clay, with stretches of black soil near Bombay. It is estimated by residents that two-thirds of India is arable. Observations on People. "Speaking generally and from a limited observation, I would say that the natives are in physique about five per cent. and in weight about fifteen per cent. inferior to our own people. Mentally there is no comparison. They appear obsessed with religious superstition and observance, and seem to be pervaded with a profound gloom and sombreness. They impress a stranger as being mysterious, exalted and possessing a degree of low cunning which harmonizes well with their temperamental laziness. "The standard of living and the social status of the mass of the people, from our point of view are very low. They say Mohammedans are more liberal in the general tenor of their religion than the Hindus. "A man's a man for a' that." They attempt to do a large amount of proletrating, but the Hindus never do. The number and intricacies of the Hindu caste cannot be fathomed and scarcely studied by a mere visitor. Splendid Rule. "What a traveller can do, however, is to stand amazed at the wonderful management and control of this vast country, with its four hundred million natives, by the very limited Indian civil service, which comprises in all about twelve hundred men. Their general attitude toward the British government is well expressed by a Brahmin guide, who said to us, "The tiger and the goat may go down to the river and drink, but the tiger must not jump on the goat."
