"THE UNION must be preserved," WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7,1836

The weather of yesterday was so cold that many persons had resort to winter clothing and fires. We find that the cold weather has a'ready commenced in

The citizens of East Tennésses and of Virginia are detarmined to second the efforts of our merchants in that road. to connect New Orleans by railroads with the Atlantic cities. A company has already been formed in Lynchburg, Va; to continue the road from Tennesses to that city-whence it will be continued to Petershurgh, and thence onward to Baltimore, by the Fredrockstors line; and the citizens of Exporting and importing merchants cannot but perceive the probable or almost certain advantages of having regular packets owned by companies, instead of boats owned by individuals to trade at stipulated periods with the cities indicated on the Mississippi and Ohio. Exporting merchants can secure the produce of the west at the stock of the control of porting merchants can secure the produce of the west at the other matters as they may deem necessary in the present only an object of importance to the Texas on the romant is not not an object of importance to the Texas themselves, but of interest to the citizens generally of the United States—What shall be the results of that consultation, we can conspiciure with more than probability, from having conversed with those intimate with the affairs of Texas.

Texas and of the United States: for these is very little doubt.

A mail route has been established between First Jessop and Nacogdoches. It will probably be counciled with some point on the Brassos river, Taxas. The mail leaves once a week. Texas and of the United States: for there is very little doubt of the above alternative with Texas, in declaring itself a

This is indeed union—the conventional union of interests, that will secure effectually the political union of the country.

Concernation as well as well have York or Phy. adelphia, the interests of the hank's themselves would be materially promoted; and the conventiences of those thin the critical and trayed through the west be considerably and returns intimediately to fluorops. In manifestating who trade and trayed through the west be considerably increased.

Greater confidence would be placed in the gentleman, a public of new was given him at Gadaby's hy increased.

Greater confidence would be placed in the citizens of Washington. Parting digners were also solvency of our banks; and the interior trade and extended the citizens of Washington.

A gentleman yesterday showed us a Kentucky apple, as a matter of ourselly. It was produced in the orchard of Mr. Marshal Waymouth of Louisville: it measured 14 inches in cureumatance; and weighed 15 ounces. But he only showed to the citizens of New Orleans and New York, and lefenning the citizens of Texas and this contary, has resolved in resident this city; and devote his time and learning of Great Britain.

of their notes in some of the principal cities. We had alluded to the fact that a branch of one of our banks was carnestly solicized in St Louis, from the fact that the state of Missouri has never chartered a bank; and the constant intercourse between that city and this. That arrangement was anhappily refused.

There are three of our banks whose notes are negociable at some of the deposit hanks in the Atlastic cities; but this is not sufficient for the extent of the business of the court in course. It is possible places in the carnes are negociable at some of the carnes for the extent of the business of the court in course. No doubt all the banking institutions of Louisiana are on a solid foundation; and their credit is generally good.

But as the banking capital has been increased to 60 millions—if we include the allowed stock of the Atchafa
