

OFFICE 88 CHARTRES ST.
THE DAILY BEE
SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1862.

THE DAILY BEE
BY THE WREDS.
The carriers of the Red Eye authorized to receive subscriptions by the week, at the rate of one dollar.

To our friends in the North who are desirous of transmitting advertisements for publication in the Bee, we take pleasure in informing you that we have agents in New York, 118 Nassau street, New York, and 10 Cornhill street, Boston. These gentlemen will be pleased and gratified in the performance of commissions.

The Northern Mail failed yesterday from New Orleans.

THE BUREAUCRATIC ELECTIONS.
The Democrats have made their nominations for Mayor, Comptroller and Street Commissioner, being the only ones to vote for the party. We do not yet propose to vertices their ticket. The other nominees must judge of its merits, and they will be left to the option of the public, the latter shall be brought forward. Meanwhile we will consider their nomination, or are we to consider their nomination as before the election? We may as well let the independent citizens canvass at the Arcades and then and there, after considerable confusion, placed in noticeable positions, and then are only those who are elected by the people, according to the provisions of the new Charter, viz., Charles M. Wren, for Mayor; J. B. Moore, for Comptroller; J. A. Rice for Street Commissioner. As we perceive no indications of a movement by the American party to nominate candidates, we are left to the option of the public to be guided in their choice by the tickets offered at the Arcades meeting, and that will suffice.

Meantime we are in a position to act.
