THE UNION -IT MUST BE PRESERVED. WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 14, 1885.

The mail due yesterday, failed beyond Mobile, Sal vollatile was yesterday in great demand amon whig friends. The election of a Jackson senator had come upon them so unexpectedly the evening previous, it was not until the next morning they were examed to realize the whole extent of wor consequent upon the occasion,-Far be it from us to rejoice over a prestrate for, but we von't be "hear tel on." As an error occurred in our wannouncement of the ball for the benefit of Mr. Beares, we inform the public that it will take Bace this evening at Davis's ball-room. The ball will probably be, as usual, a splendid one.

The Louisiana Advertiser and the Whig agree in calling our legislature anti-Jackson. The best commentary upon the truth of this statement, is the election of a thorough. going Jackson man to the senate of the United States,-There is a homely old English adage that says, that the proof of the pudding is in the eating, which is not altogether mapplicable on the present occasion.

Mr. Ewing the active governor of Illinois in his annual niersage to the Legistature, represents that State as rapidly dvancing to an equality with the other States. The first measure to which he calls the attention of the legislature, is n revision of the criminal code, the present one being too sanguinary. Penulties, he says, should be proportionned to the respective orimos they were enacted to repress, since when too severe, the moral feelings of the community, and de foat their object.

The financial estuation of Illinois is described as "laboring under a consuming paralysis. The expenses of the executv department of the government have been $70,000; of the judicial 3118,000; and of the legislative $210,000, besides large exita sums for variou perpeses.

In regard to the United States Bank, Mr. Ewing speaks in the most decided manner. He charges that institution with all the distress which prevailed during last season throughout the country, and designates it as a dangerous and corruptive monogoly. He recommends the formation of a State Bank as a succedancem of a national Bank,

The improvement of various parts of the State, by the construction of canals and rail-roads, and by rendering rivers navigable, is strongly urged. The union of Lake Michigan with the western waters may be effected, it is believed, by a rail way, and is recommended by Mr. Ewing as the bes, adapted to answer the purpose.

The Beggar of Bellinel Green, by Mr. Knowles, has been brought out at the Park the tree in New-York. The Times says it went off extremely well, though there was not a full house. It is a tale of romance and love; with strang, incidents and unexpected situations and changes. tae Beggar proving to be a Lord, and the generous fieryhearted peasant lover, who would have married the bedesman's sweet daughter, being discovered to be a high Baron's truant son.
