ADDITIONAL FACTS ABOUT JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ARE GIVEN OUT IN LETTERS

Communication From Glendale Trustees to All Boards in District Made Public, Also One to County Counsel and Reply

The first definite step looking toward the formation of a Junior High school district was taken Saturday, when Principal George U. Moyses of the high school, addressed a communication to each of the grammar school boards in the Union High school district, asking for an expression of their sentiment on the question.

Accompanying his request he enclosed a copy of a letter that he had addressed to J. H. O'Connor, of the County Counsel's office in Los Angeles, and Mr. O'Connor's reply to the same. This letter states the official attitude of the county office as regards matters of this kind, and gives interpretations of the sections which as read in the California school law are ambiguous.

Based on Resolution As stated in Mr. Moyses' letter to the various boards, the board's action is taken as the result of a resolution adopted at a joint meeting of all boards in the High school district, held on December 12, 1922, which asked the board to take the initiative when the opportunity presented itself. The Board of Trustees has been ready to communicate with the grammar school boards for some time, but have been waiting for legal advice on the matter so that no question would be raised as to the method or methods that must be employed providing such a Junior high school district is formed.

To Various Boards Mr. Moyses' letter to the various boards, dated February 16, states: "At the adjourned meeting of the representatives of Glendale City Board of Education and the Boards of Trustees of Eagle Rock City, Crescents, Tujunga, Monte Vista, Glendale Union High School districts, held in December 12, 1922, the following resolution was presented and unanimously carried:

"RESOLVED, That it be the sense of this meeting that we recommend that at such time as the present high school buildings are available the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High School district call a mass meeting for the purpose of instructing them to call a bond election for raising funds to erect junior high schools in the following places: Tujunga, La Crescenta, Eagle Rock, and the northwest section of Glendale; and we further recommend that when the proper time arrives the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High School arrange to inaugurate a Junior high school system covering the present Glendale Union High School district."

(Eagle Rock City having become a part of Los Angeles, is now to be disregarded in the consideration of school plans for Glendale Union High School district.) Pursuant to this resolution, the High School board could take no further action in this matter until conditions were changed in one of two respects: "Either the legal status, under which a Junior high school system should be organized, should be changed, or some relief should come in the housing conditions for the school."

"The legal status has not been changed. It is still as follows: "Either the outside districts must annex to Glendale or school purposes only and form one elementary district; thereby doing away with a union of districts and causing the High School board and the Boards of Trustees of Crescents, Tujunga and Monte Vista to pass out of existence; control of both High and Elementary schools of the consolidated district being vested in the Glendale City Board of Education;

"Or: "A Union Junior High system be organized by resolution of the Boards of Trustees and Board of Education of the districts comprising the Glendale Union High School district, requesting the High School board to establish a Union Junior High School system, under which each component district would have control of its elementary schools and the Board of Trustees of the present Glendale Union High School district would have charge of the Junior high and senior high grades.

"With the completion of the new high school at Broadway and Verdugo, relief has come in our housing condition, and our board feels that with the added room available in the Harvard High school they are now in a position to consider the organizing and financing of a Junior High School system, if the people so desire. "We are therefore calling this matter to your attention, pursuant to the resolution of December 12, 1922, and ask whether you wish to have the High School Board of Trustees call another conference to consider whether it is now advisable and desirable to take any action relative to the formation of a Junior High district and the inauguration of a Junior High system.

"We await your answer and should you wish to consider these matters at the present time, we shall be pleased to call a conference of the boards interested. "Very respectfully yours, "BOARD OF TRUSTEES, "Glendale Union High School."

Get Copies of Letters Each board is furnished with a copy of the following two letters which passed between Mr. Moyses and Mr. O'Connor, county counsel's office.

"Glendale Union High School, "Glendale, California, "Geo. U. Moyses, "Principal, "February 2, 1924, "County Counsel, "Hall of Records, "Los Angeles, Cal. "Attention J. H. O'Connor.

"Dear Sir: The Glendale Union High School district is composed of Glendale City, Crescents, Tujunga, and Monte Vista Elementary school districts. The question of the formation of a Junior high school or a system of Junior high schools to serve this district or any portion thereof is under discussion.

WOMAN'S LAUGH PROVIDES CLUE TO GUN WIELDER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—The musical tones of a woman's carefree laugh are expected to be utilized by the police to identify the assailant who shot down Walter Troeschel in front of his home in South Grand avenue early today. At the same time an investigation was also under way to learn why Troeschel and his wife arrived home after a short walk from their cafe to an automobile containing three men and two women which was parked in front of their residence. As they were about to enter the house, two shots were fired and the cafe owner slumped to the ground. The gun-wielder then entered the automobile and as the party drove away a woman in the party was heard to laugh merrily. Mrs. Troeschel told the police.

MAIL DUMPED ON BRITISH WHARVES

Thousands of Sacks Pile As Strikers Refuse to Handle Freight

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Foreign mail service was badly crippled today by the strike of the dock workers. Two thousand bags of mail from the United States were dumped on the docks at Plymouth in the New York. The strikers refused to handle the mail or to allow any one else to do so. When the liner Nieuw Amsterdam arrived at Plymouth, she added 3,000 more bags of mail to the 2,000 already on the docks. The cabinet met at noon to discuss the advisability of government intervention. It is understood Premier Ramsay MacDonald favors the selection of a special tribunal to mediate labor troubles. Large forces of police are on duty here and in other port cities guarding the docks. So far there have been no serious disorders. The chief fear was that fighting would break out between the strikers and the stevedores who refused to obey the strike order.

ARREST ACTRESS ON COURT ORDER

Barbara La Marr Held for Failure to Appear at Extortion Trial

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—Barbara La Marr, motion picture actress, and one of the principal witnesses at the trial of Herman Roth on an extortion charge, was ordered arrested today on a charge of contempt of court. The arrest of the actress was ordered by Justice Hanby as a result of the actress failing to appear in court today in a civil case in which she had been subpoenaed and which involved her husband, Jack Daugherty.

Two Near Death From Injuries In Crashes

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—Two persons are near death and nearly a dozen others are suffering from injuries as the result of traffic crashes during the last twenty-four hours. Those who may die are: J. J. Hayes, probable fatal internal injuries; Mrs. Clara Lefter, possible broken back. Willard Hellman is charged with suspicion of manslaughter as the result of the accident in which Hayes was injured. The accident is said to have happened when Hellman's car "side-swiped" a motorcycle and Hayes, a pedestrian, was knocked down. F. E. Bennett was arrested on a charge of failing to render aid after his machine is said to have struck an automobile driven by Fred J. Butler, who suffered three broken ribs and cuts and bruises.

BOATS CRASH IN FOG

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—One ferryboat crashed into a pier and others were behind schedule here today owing to a heavy tule fog in San Francisco bay.

SMALL FARM OWNERSHIP PROPOSED

Conference at Imperial Is Productive of Much Good, Delegates Declare

By H. THOMPSON RICH Of The Evening News Staff. Water—turgid, chocolate-hued, life-giving gift of the mighty Colorado river to California's hot-house, the Imperial valley—was the motivating, inspiring urge back of the third California farm lands conference, held in El Centro Saturday and Sunday, under auspices of the California Real Estate association, and to which Glendale sent the largest delegation of any of the twenty boards attending, thirteen live-wire boosters who lost no opportunity either to learn more of farm conditions or to advertise "the fastest growing city in America."

Of Vital Importance

The importance of this conference is realized when it is known that it is the third such called within as many months by the C. R. E. A., the first being held at Riverside two months ago and the second at Fresno only three weeks back.

Realizing that with the as-sluggard growth of our cities and the rapid subdivision of our farm lands, the problem of feeding California is becoming one of concern, President Henry P. Barbour of the association and his fellow officers have been calling these conferences to crystallize sentiment in favor of a small farm ownership campaign, embracing a drive for water development and protection on a state-wide scale.

Guthrie Is Active

Unfortunately President Barbour was not able to attend the El Centro conference, which was held at the Barbara Worth hotel, under auspices of the eighth regional district, Vice-President Everett A. White presiding. Vice-President Charles B. Guthrie, of Glendale, head of the seventh regional district, was also active in the conference, as was Vice-President C. C. Tatum of the National association, Field Secretary William E. Herren of the National association, Secretary Glenn D. Willaman of the State association, President Ray Edgar of the El Centro Realty board, Mayor Will S. Fawcett of El Centro, General Manager H. H. Clark of the Colorado River Land company, Superintendent Ray Carberry of the Imperial Irrigation district, officials of the San Diego and Arizona railway and many others.

From Many Sections

PREMIER IN ATTEMPT TO END STRIKE

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, head of Great Britain's labor movement, is expected to make personal effort at mediation of the dock workers' strike tonight. The premier is making strenuous efforts to secure peace and insure the return of the 120,000 strikers to work. Labor Minister Thomas Shaw conferred with the strikers and employers and later reported to the premier.

SENATOR GREENE IN CRITICAL CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Senator Frank Greene, Republican, of Vermont, shot in the head by a stray bullet in a pistol fight between a prohibition agent and a bootlegger suspect, took a turn this afternoon for the worse. Doctors said his condition was "very critical" and that the outcome was "very doubtful."

PROPOSES ANTI-CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—An anti-child labor amendment to the constitution was recommended this afternoon by a senate judiciary sub-committee which studied a score of proposals. The sub-committee, headed by Senator Shortridge, Republican, of California, proposed an amendment giving congress the "power to prohibit the labor of persons under the age of 18 years and to prescribe the conditions of such labor." It also would suspend any state laws interfering with the amendments.

Stock Probe Hits at High Authorities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Information of such a startling nature concerning the stock market operations of "certain high government officials" has reached the Senate oil investigating committee that it was decided this afternoon to abandon the recess previously agreed upon and hold a hearing tomorrow morning to examine a number of New York stock brokers, who have already been subpoenaed. It was intended to hold this hearing late this afternoon but because of the inability to get the brokers here in time it was postponed until tomorrow.

Launch Attack Upon Mellon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Democrats in Congress today seized upon the attack of Colonel Thomas W. Miller, the alien property custodian, upon the treasury department's opposition to the soldier bonus and demanded an investigation into the official acts of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. Representative Rainey, Democrat, of Illinois, backed up and reported Miller's charge that the treasury department "had juggled" official figures to show that the government's finances would not permit the payment of a bonus. He accused Mellon of "deliberately" furnishing Congress with figures that were wrong, that a deficit was present whereas there actually was a surplus in the treasury.

Confirm Roberts, Pomerene

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Senate today confirmed the appointment of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, as one of the special government counsel to prosecute the naval oil lease cases. The vote came after a short, spirited fight. The vote was 68 to 8. Former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio was confirmed by the Senate on Saturday after prolonged debate, and the appointment of the two attorneys opens the way for bringing the naval reserve oil leases into the courts at an early date.

Tax Bill Compromise Fails

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Frantic efforts of Republican leaders to save as much of the Mellon tax bill as they could by compromising with the Republican insurgents, fell flat this afternoon. After conferring intermittently since Saturday afternoon, the regular and insurgent conferees finally adjourned at 2 o'clock, still deadlocked.

JUDGE SLAIN IN DIVORCE ACTION

Party to Suit Opens Fire on Court, Shots Miss Wife and Attorney

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 18.—Judge W. M. Morning, district judge, was shot and killed today by Wallace P. Wallick, one of the parties to a divorce suit being tried this morning before Judge Morning. Mr. Morning fell mortally wounded, and died a few minutes later in his office. Neither the attorney nor Mrs. Wallick were injured.

Find Missing Pastor, Is Victim of Aphasia

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—A man picked up by the police wandering in the streets and muttering in unintelligible fashion, was positively identified today, according to police, as Rev. Arthur D. De Jacoby, former pastor of the Church of Tacoma, Wash. The identification of the aphasia victim cleared up the mystery of the pastor's disappearance. He had been missing since February 5 and fears had been entertained that he had lost his life. He lived a number of years in Africa, and is there thought to have contracted a strange malady which affects his memory. Rev. H. C. De Jacoby, of Escondido, Cal., wired that he would arrive today to take his son home.

NAVY'S HEAD QUILTS 'TO RELIEVE ADMINISTRATION OF MORE EMBARRASSMENT'

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Declares He Will Not Resign; Cabinet Official Says 'White House Must Do All Talking'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby resigned today because of his connection with the naval oil leases—marking the first break in the Coolidge cabinet as a result of the scandal that has rocked the country.

The retirement of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is expected to follow, although information was lacking this forenoon with regard to his status. Following a visit to the White House this morning, Roosevelt said he would not resign.

Denby placed his resignation at the disposal of the president in order to relieve the executive and the administration of further embarrassment incident to his remaining in the cabinet.

Resignation Is Cause of Big Sensation

The president has accepted the resignation—although no official announcement was made at the White House to this effect. It is understood, however, that Mr. Coolidge's decision to accept the resignation was conveyed to Secretary Denby at 10 o'clock this morning by E. C. Clark, personal secretary to the president.

Formal announcement of Mr. Denby's resignation and the president's acceptance probably will be made at 4 o'clock this afternoon. For some unaccountable reason, the White House apparently decided that it should not be announced officially today, although the facts leaked out during the forenoon and created a profound sensation throughout the capital.

It was suggested that one reason for delaying the announcement was that the president desired to announce at the same time the appointment of a successor. It was widely reported this morning, and accepted in many quarters, that Charles B. Warren of Detroit would step into Denby's shoes. Warren has been in frequent consultation with both the president and Denby in the last twenty-four hours.

The resignation of Denby came almost simultaneously with the inauguration of the government's legal proceedings to recover the oil lands which he signed over to Secretary of the Interior Fall two years ago, and which Fall subsequently leased to Sinclair and Doherty interests.

Roosevelt Declares He Will Not Quit

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt called at the White House at 12:30 o'clock. He had previously requested an appointment with President Coolidge.

"I didn't know until this morning that Secretary Denby had resigned," said Roosevelt. "Immediately upon learning of it I asked for an appointment with the president. Whether I will have anything to say or not depends upon my interview."

Roosevelt was with the president about a half hour. When he emerged from the president's office he said:

"I have just seen the president and I am NOT going to resign. Denby himself declined steadfastly to discuss any phase of his retirement, referring all questions to the White House. He left the navy department at 11 o'clock and announced he was going home. He looked careworn and tired, but said he was going to enjoy his birthday anyway. He is 54 years old today."

The resignation of the secretary was demanded one week ago today by the Senate by a vote of 47 to 34.

Shortly after it was announced at the White House that Denby's resignation had been handed to the president, newspaper men and photographers gathered about his office in the naval building and demanded further details of the secretary's retirement. Attaches said that Denby would have nothing to say.

A few minutes later Denby left his office by a side door to evade the correspondents and started to walk toward the central part of the city. He was followed by the correspondents on foot and automobiles. They finally cornered him about a block from the navy building.

White House Must Do Talking, Says Denby

While movie cameras clicked, the secretary was "interviewed," but he had scant information.

"What's the dope on this?" one reporter asked. "No dope at all," Denby replied with a broad smile. "You'll have to get all the dope from the White House. I haven't a thing to say and won't have until later this afternoon."

"But the White House says you've put in your resignation," the reporter persisted. "Then the White House will have to do the talking. Anyway, you should not bother a man so much on his birthday. I'm 54," he added proudly, while congratulations were extended.

"Are you going to the White House any more today?" he was asked. The questioning was becoming too personal and the smile faded from the face of the secretary, but it was back again in an instant. "Oh, I don't know," he said. "Maybe I will. Right now I'm going home."

"Are you going to have a birthday party?" was the final question. "Yes," he replied. "We have a birthday party every day at my house."

And away he went—alone—as the reporters and cameramen turned away.

Here's Denby's Letter of Resignation

Denby's letter to the president, under date of yesterday (Sunday) follows:

"My Dear Mr. President: "Heretofore I have verbally expressed to you my deep appreciation of your strong message in regard to the Robinson resolution. "No one appreciates better than I how difficult your situation has become. I fear that my continuance in the cabinet would increase your embarrassment. Therefore I have the honor to tender to you my resignation as secretary of the navy."

"As there are a few pending matters which should receive my personal attention, I suggest that my resignation be accepted as of date of March 10, 1924. "It will always be a gratifying thought to me that neither you nor anyone else has at any time advised me to resign. "I assure you again of my appreciation of many courtesies you have shown me and of your last great act in refusing to accede to the demands of the Senate that you ask my resignation. "With cordial regards to you and Mrs. Coolidge, and best wishes, always, I am, "Sincerely yours, "EDWIN F. DENBY."

Midnight Conference at White House On Oil Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—On the heels of sensational new developments in the naval oil leasing which include the issuance of subpoenas for a number of New York stock brokers plans for the Senate public lands committee to hold a meeting this afternoon for further examination of witnesses were suddenly canceled this morning.

Considerable mystery attached to the decision against continuance of the hearings today. The new subpoenas were decided upon (Continued on page 7)

L. A. Grocer Murdered and Robbed Following Terrific Fight With Thug In Store

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—M. K. Torrosian, grocer, was brutally murdered and robbed, apparently during a battle with one or more men, believed to be bandits, it was revealed today when Torrosian's body, with three bullet wounds was found in a rear room of his combination store and residence in East Pico street by police detectives who had been called by early morning customers who failed to find Torrosian in his store.

The first theory of the crime advanced by the police was that Torrosian had returned to his store this morning from the wholesale market, followed by two bandits, who slew him when he resisted their efforts to rob him. Skinned knuckles on one of the dead man's hands proved a terrific struggle preceded the shooting, the police said. Several bloody finger prints were also found.

The cash register of the store was found to have been robbed, with some money strewn about on the floor.

Discuss Plays
The selection of a play to be presented in the spring by the members of the drama department of the Tuesday Afternoon club was the important business taken up at the regular meeting of the department, held Friday afternoon in the palm court. The meeting convened at 2 o'clock, with the curator, Mrs. Max Lynn Green, in charge.

Granville Sturgess, who has been engaged as coach, was presented and gave a review of a collection of four modern plays, from which the clubwomen selected two for consideration. The following plays were reviewed and discussed: "Miss Lulu Bett," by Z. Gale; "Just Like Judy," by Ernest Denny; "His Husband's Wife," by Z. A. Thomas; "You Never Can Tell," by Bernard Shaw.

The two plays selected for consideration, after a lengthy discussion and a vote was taken, were "You Never Can Tell" and "Miss Lulu Bett."

A special meeting has been called for Tuesday night, February 19, at 7:30 o'clock, to be held in the clubhouse, when a definite decision on one of these plays will be made.

Church Address
The Women's Foreign Missionary society at Casa Verdugo Methodist church were addressed Friday night by Mrs. Margaret Hatfield, as her sister, Miss Helen Gilliland, who was scheduled to appear, was not present, owing to severe illness.

Mrs. Hatfield, who was born in South America, talked of the mission work in Montevideo, Uruguay, and showed in illustration, a number of slides of the many beautiful public buildings of the city, the parks and statutory and churches.

The Cranston school, in which Miss Gilliland has been an active worker for six years, has been established for fifty years, and has only recently completed a new building. She gave some interesting lights on the spreading of atheism, so unusual in these southern countries, and showed a few pictures demonstrating the work being done by the Y. M. C. A. in the way of playgrounds.

Mrs. E. E. Masters presided at the meeting, and Mrs. J. C. Lennox led the devotions. Mrs. B. D. Jones sang a soprano solo "The Jesus." Miss Gilliland is scheduled to speak at one of the coming meetings of the organizations.

P. E. O. Affair
Members of Chapter B. A. P. E. O. were delightfully entertained Friday night, when the B. I. L.'s, the husbands of the organization, were hosts at a chicken dinner at the Oak Tree Inn on Verdugo road.

The dinner hour concluded with the reception of new B. I. L.'s, who mysteriously faded away and again appeared in costumes of their sister P. E. O.'s.

The latter part of the evening was spent at the Charles B. Guthrie home on Grand View avenue.

An enjoyable feature of the evening was a group of songs by Mrs. Frank Arnold, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Ripley.

Those enjoying the affair were Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Araoff, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown, Rev. and Mrs. Charles M. Calderwood, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Miss Eleanor Flynn entertained a number of friends recently with a Valentine party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Flynn, 1125 East Windsor road.

The Flynn home had been decorated for the occasion in a red and white color scheme. The decorations were artistic arrangements of red and white carnations. The chandeliers had been shaded with red crepe paper shades, casting a soft rosy glow in the various rooms. The table decorations were also carried out in the same color scheme with a fringe of red paper around the table and white lace doilies bordered with red fringe, red bon bon baskets, and floral centerpieces of red carnations. During the refreshment course dainty heart shaped cakes were served.

The afternoon was devoted to music and games and a social time.

The guests present included Jean Leitch, Virginia Phillips, Marjorie Goodhue, Catherine Wever, Haxel Marxmiller, Evelyn Johnson, Rosalie Mudgett, Dorothy Alexander and the hostess, Eleanor Flynn.

AUTOS CRASH IN FOUR ACCIDENTS

Woman, Asleep at Wheel, Hits Telephone Pole; 3 Are Badly Hurt

Four automobile accidents were reported to the local police yesterday. In three of them personal injuries were sustained by the unfortunate victims.

Frank Young, 2311 Fargo street, Los Angeles, drove his Ford into a Pacific Electric car on Brand boulevard, in the morning. When Captain W. A. Lovington arrived to investigate, the street car had gone, the wrecked machine had been towed to a garage, and Young had proceeded on his way via the Pacific Electric bus. He stated that no personal injuries had been reported.

Two accidents occurred shortly after 3 o'clock. In the first, a car driven by J. Hallisy, 1430 Logan avenue, Los Angeles, struck Edward Raya, 437 Fernando court, at the junction of Gardena avenue and Los Feliz road.

The boy had his left leg broken and was badly cut about the face. Eye witnesses of the accident reported to the police that Hallisy was not to blame for the accident, but that the boy had darted out in the road directly in front of the approaching machine.

In the second Mrs. Helen Bartholomew and two children of 1335 Caruso avenue, Hollywood, were brought to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital by Los Angeles officers, as the result of Mrs. Bartholomew going to sleep while driving and the machine striking a telephone pole, on San Fernando road. Mrs. Bartholomew suffered a broken arm and the two children were badly cut and bruised.

The last accident reported was a collision between two machines driven by Harold Pimlott, 1433 McCadden place, Los Angeles, and C. E. Brown of 447 Windsor road, at the corner of San Fernando road and Park avenue. Mrs. Brown and her daughter were badly shaken up, and it was reported that the girl's back was wrenched. Mr. Brown suffered bad cuts around the head.

The meeting is to begin at 10 o'clock, and in addition to Mrs. Ballagh's talk there will be a study of John La Sarge.

Give Card Party
A card party will be given on Tuesday night, February 19, at the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, under the auspices of the altar society of the Holy Family church. It is announced.

Mothers! Listen a moment. When your child's tonsils are swollen and congested it is evidence of constitutional abnormality. Nature is trying to rid the body of accumulated poison, caused primarily by organic irregularities. The nerves which supply the organs involved are invariably pinched where they emerge from the spine. The Chiropractor can detect and remove this pressure, permitting a proper supply of nervous energy which affects normality.

Cutting out those important essential little organs affords only temporary relief at the most. Your cause of trouble still remains and will manifest in other parts and in other ways. Chiropractic removes the cause. Think it over and SAVE THE TONSILS.

A fuller explanation and demonstration will be cheerfully given which is certainly worth your while.

OMAR SHRINE IS HOST AT DINNER

Supreme Officer Entertained at Reception Held in Masonic Temple

Daisy S. Davis, of Chicago, supreme worthy high priestess of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, was the honor guest on Saturday night at an elaborate turkey dinner and reception tendered by the members of Omar Shrine No. 9, in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock to the honor guest, all officers of the Sixth Shrine and officers and members of the local shrine and a number of visitors from San Diego, Omaha, Neb., and a number from other Southern California cities.

An elaborate decorative scheme was carried out with a profusion of daisies and greenery and yellow candles, planned by Olga C. Bourne and her committee. A shower of daisies were suspended from the chandeliers, nearly reaching to the tables. Artistic arrangements of daisies formed centerpiece for the banquet tables. Clever place cards, consisting of a daisy with a tiny yellow candle in the center, were used. Larger yellow candles were placed at regular intervals on the tables among the daisy centerpieces.

Poem to Mrs. Davis
Daisy S. Davis, supreme worthy high priestess, and D. Ripley Jackson, watchman of the shepherds, led the procession to the banquet tables, followed by Evelyn G. Pierce, worthy high priestess, E. E. Ford, supreme watchman of the shepherds, officers of the Sixth Shrine, members and other visitors, all being seated. "The Doxology" and the lights were turned out and candles lighted during the singing of the following song to the tune of "Sweet Bunch of Daisies":

"Daisy S. Davis, our heart things true
You and Your Watchman,
Our guests tonight,
Daisy S. Davis, you—
Our heart's delight."

After the banquet a short business session was held with the worthy high priestess, Evelyn G. Pierce, in charge. At this time several candidates for membership were initiated.

Program Presented
At the close of the business session a delightful program was presented, including a toe dance by Eleanor Marek, who also presented the guest of honor with a gift from the members of Omar Shrine. D. Ripley Jackson gave two solo selections, and Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce gave three readings. Mrs. Wenzel also favored those present with two vocal numbers. The feature of the program was the minuet dance given by eight members of the Shrine dressed in old fashioned costumes. Mrs. Maude Smith directed this part of the program. Those taking part in the dance included Mesdames Maude Smith, Mae Warwick, Bertha Weyell, Anna Marek, Ina Luring, Ann Clark, Elvina Jergensen and Libbie Cuttings.

Verdugo City Launched As Throngs Of Well Wishers Hear Plans Of Promoters

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Out in the green Verdugo hills Saturday afternoon there was an unusual birthday party, attended by upwards of a thousand residents of the La Crescenta valley. Really, it ought have been called a "christening," but there was no bottle of wine brought forth to be broken.

Instead an impressive flag-raising ceremony on Verdugo mountain, appropriately carried out by members of Verdugo Hills post, No. 288, American Legion, served to announce to the world that Verdugo City had been established with a business center at Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues.

H. N. Fowler, a resident of that section, might be termed improprosario of the event, although he has the co-operation of seventeen other civic boosters who have pledged their time and money to making their community a better place in which to live. In addition to that they are thinking of incorporation of a sixth class city, the establishment of a local planning commission, a sanitary commission, a public safety board and a realty board.

The affair was the result of several weeks' intensive work on the part of the people who were very conspicuous Saturday afternoon. Under a circus tent on Honolulu avenue the gathered throng of well wishers heard Mr. Fowler outline the work ahead of Verdugo City, following an invocation by Rev. A. H. Keiso.

Aged Pioneer Honored
"Mama Nanita" Verdugo, reputed to be 118 years old, a native daughter of the early days who once owned this entire section, was accorded an ovation, having been accompanied to the celebration by her daughter and granddaughter. The venerable woman bowed appreciatively to the rising spectators.

E. L. Sullivan of the Verdugo Hills post had charge of the flag raising; Kelly's Shrine club orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. Joseph Belanger was among the many called upon who responded in behalf of Montrose. Numerous well known people were present.

Mr. Fowler, during the course of his remarks, brought out the fact that "Verdugo City Association of Commerce" was a name approved for incorporation by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. He stated that the county board of supervisors assured him that Honolulu avenue from Montrose to Sunland would be widened so as to make a 90-foot roadway.

Also, a charter for a bank has been obtained. The services of the county planning commission has been enlisted. A Mardi Gras carnival is being planned for the near future, the proceeds of which will be divided between the La Crescenta Women's club and the American Legion post.

Civic Co-operation
"People do not realize the possibilities of this great valley," said Mr. Fowler in the course of his remarks. "We intend to operate with our neighbors to the west, the north, the east and the south. It is the intention of our organization to improve this immediate zone and to obtain needed improvements."

"The birth of a city," as the event was heralded, brought memories of Van Nuys, Montrose, Culver City and other thriving towns which in the last decade have come to more than local fame. The spirit of enterprise was evident on every hand, with patriotic decorations, signs and windshield banners proclaiming "Verdugo City" to the world.

Changes in other parts of the store have been made possible by the additional room provided. On the first floor the space formerly used by the shoe department has been filled by the notion department, and a greatly enlarged bed and table linen department now fills the place formerly used by the notions.

Offices Are Needed
The art needlework department has been moved from the mezzanine floor to the third floor, and the offices, formerly on the third floor, will be placed on the mezzanine.

The millinery department on the second floor is now twice as large as before, and has three French rooms used entirely for exclusive hat modeling. The space formerly used by the beauty parlor is now devoted to lingerie.

Unveil Newest Model
The big event of the evening was the unveiling of "699." This event was sponsored by James A. Geever of the Nash factory, who addressed the crowd and "introduced" the new car. Geever's speech was well delivered and well received. He was introduced by J. B. Matthews, sales manager in Los Angeles, of the Nash factory.

Style Show At Pendroy's Reveals Latest Note In Spring Fashion Dictates

Saturday afternoon's style show at Pendroy's Department store, held in honor of the opening of the newly constructed second floor annex, was one of the most successful events of the kind Glendale fashion enthusiasts—in other words, Glendale's feminine populace—have ever enjoyed. The second floor of the store was crowded with spectators all afternoon.

Miss Vivien Alsbaugh, a regular employee of the millinery department of Pendroy's, vied with Miss Dorris Osman of Eagle Rock, a high school girl, for the attention of the audience. Throughout the afternoon the two beautiful and talented young women presented dozens of costumes from Pendroy's wonderful stock of spring wearing apparel, showing the new bright colors and latest fashions.

Miss Helen Kapus and Mrs. Alexander, both regular members of the Pendroy staff, entertained throughout the show with piano duets and solos. No finer store room can be found in Southern California than the second floor of Pendroy's as it now appears. The commodious addition, which has been connected with the former second floor room by wide archway, is carpeted, like it, in gray, soft to the foot and pleasing to the eye. The new room is decorated in French gray and all the fixtures carry out the gray effects. The room contains as fine and modern a shoe department as any store in Los Angeles, its wicker chairs with bright tapestry upholstery furnishing an unusual and attractive feature.

Stage for 'Kid' Shows
The children's department has also been moved to the annex, and, in addition to the other attractive features of this department, a stage has been provided, to be used for children's entertainments that will be presented under the auspices of the store from time to time.

An absolutely new and up-to-the-minute beauty parlor occupies one corner of the new room. Its spotless white walls and furnishings form a startling contrast to the gray tones of the rest of the room. Each of the five compartments in the beauty parlor is in charge of an expert, and each compartment is fitted for doing every kind of work, so that a customer need not move from place to place.

Community Players Plan Social Dance
Glendale Community Players are planning a social dance, to be given Wednesday night, February 20, in the club rooms at 130 North Orange street. Music will be by the actors' orchestra. In addition to dancing there will be cards and Mah Jongg.

During the evening a wedding present will be presented to one of the players, Mrs. Francis McClintock, formerly Miss Mildred McCoubrey.

Mrs. Nell Few is social hostess, Mrs. Almira Bullock refreshment hostess and Mrs. Edna Graham is in charge of the orchestra.

Newcomers to Glendale are invited to these affairs, held the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Dedicate New Nash Home With Dance; Latest Model Is Unveiled For Guests

A thousand joyous Glendaleans helped the Nash Sales company to dedicate its new building at 1234 South Brand boulevard Saturday night. It was a happy party from first to last, and launched the company upon a career of what was earnestly hoped and expected by all those present will be an unprecedented success in the new location.

The building was all that had been anticipated, and more. And the "Fashion Show," exhibiting various Nash models, with particular emphasis on the famous "699" model, was received with enthusiasm by the crowd, and proved not only interesting, but instructive in the way of showing just what the latest fashion is in automobile hardware.

The large service room in the rear of the building had been prepared for dancing, a polish having been applied to the floor that made it almost equal to a regular ballroom floor. Kelly's Shrine band was at its best, and the popularity of the punch booth attested the quality of the beverage.

Unveil Newest Model
The big event of the evening was the unveiling of "699." This event was sponsored by James A. Geever of the Nash factory, who addressed the crowd and "introduced" the new car. Geever's speech was well delivered and well received. He was introduced by J. B. Matthews, sales manager in Los Angeles, of the Nash factory.

Donald C. Barbee of the company will hold open house all this week, in order to better care for the numbers of people who attended the opening Saturday. The establishment will be open every night and a general invitation is extended to the public to pay it a visit.

World's Unfit Given Chance to Make Good

Basing his sermon on the parable of the workers in the vineyard, as found in Matthew 20, Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, yesterday morning declared that the underlying lesson of the parable is that Christ is seeking to give another chance to the men who are regarded as unfit, the men who stand around in the market place offering their services unsuccessfully to the world. "Go and work for me" Christ says, "and I will give you an opportunity to prove your worth to the world."

The altruistic motives that were first revealed in the ministry of Christ, Mr. Kemp declared, are more in evidence and are more actively followed today than at any previous period in the world's history, overshadowing the idea that life must be measured solely in the terms of the bankbook. "Christ never attempted to overthrow the social, economic or political systems of society as he found them during his lifetime," declared Mr. Kemp. "He sought to help men to carry on and fight their battles and to do their work in the world, and we need a working church to convert the world to a willingness to assume the burdens that must be carried today."

In "This Freedom," now showing at the Glendale theatre, the theme is a woman's home life versus her career. The author of the novel from which the photoplay is made is A. S. M. For record number of sales "This Freedom" has been eclipsed only by "If Winter Comes," according to reports from book agents throughout the United States. Seldom in the history of modern fiction has the theme of a novel aroused the interest that has been manifested in the English author's latest work.

American Legion's Views On Compensation Measure Explained By Commander

Provisions of the bill now before Congress to provide adjusted compensation for veterans of the world war were explained in an address by D. C. Kemp, commander of American Legion Post No. 8, Los Angeles, that was broadcast over the radio to thousands of listeners all over the southwest. Commander Kemp is a resident of Glendale, making his home at 1951 South San Fernando road. The address, which defines the American Legion's viewpoint on the bill, follows:

"Friends of Radioland:—Perme on behalf of the American Legion to publicly express to the Los Angeles Examiner our appreciation of their co-operation in placing before you for your careful consideration certain facts and conditions in regard to the Adjusted Compensation bill now pending before Congress.

This bill provides that every American World War veteran up to and including the grade of captain in the army and the marine corps and lieutenant in the navy is entitled to an adjusted service credit of $1.25 a day for service overseas, or afloat, and of $1 a day for home service. From this credit must be deducted $60 representing the discharge bonus given to every man on leaving service. Service must be computed between the dates April 5, 1917 and July 1, 1919.

"This bill arranges for the payment under a method which would benefit not only the individuals compensated but the country as a whole. The veteran who is entitled by reason of his length of service to more than $50 may take his compensation in one of three ways: First, a twenty-year endowment paid-up life insurance policy; second, a contribution toward building or buying for a home or a farm; or third, a contribution toward a vocational or industrial education. If he is entitled to $50 or less he must accept compensation in cash.

"The first three options, which would apply to the preponderant majority of veterans, represent investments which would make for a better, stabler and more prosperous citizenship among the 4,000,000 men and women who would directly benefit by them. There is no opportunity or chance by which these values could be dissipated by unwise or uneconomic use or investment. Life insurance, homes, farms, education—the money must go into these things. No sounder investments could be suggested.

Despite the fact that the Legion's fight for adjusted compensation is but one item in a great program of accomplishment which has benefited the country in countless ways, the anti-compensation propagandists have consistently portrayed the Legion as only a money-hungry band of mercenaries seeking to loot the national treasury. The Legion they picture is a one-purpose organization—nothing more than a selfish national conspiracy to get a "bonus." The truth is, as those who are informed know, adjusted compensation is but one phase of the Legion's present activity. The plan of adjusted compensation did not find birth in the American Legion. Long before the American Legion had taken form as a definite organization and long before the first national convention of the American Legion, the Congress of the United States had taken up the question of adjusted compensation.

"Halted Red Menace The Legion has become recognized as a dividend paying factor for the whole country. The Legion destroyed the red menace to America. It won a victory on the battlefields of America of almost equal importance to the one it won on the battlefields of France. It kept America safe after the war by presenting a solid front to the agitators of Bolshevism who in 1919 were seeking to overthrow the government. The Legion became the bodyguard of the Constitution of the United States. It was the Legion more than any other single factor which

Tax Collector Explains Points To Be Observed In Filing Return On Income

Answering thousands of inquiries that have swamped the Internal Revenue Bureau, Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell outlined for the information of the 250,000 taxpayers who must file returns during the next three weeks, an explanation of questions in connection with the preparation of an income tax return which seems to be puzzling citizens who must report and pay tax on 1923 income.

"To determine his net income a taxpayer must first compute his gross income. Regardless of the amount of net income, upon which the tax is assessed, a return is required of every individual whose gross income for 1923 was $5,000 or more. Gross income includes salaries, wages and compensation for personal services rendered, and gains, profits and income from professions, vocations, trades, businesses, commerce, sales or dealings in property, real or personal, or the transaction of any business carried on for profit, or gains or profits, and income derived from any source whatever. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc.," said Collector Goodcell.

"Four General Classes "Taxpayers may be divided into four general classes—the wage earner or salaried class, business, professional and agricultural. All compensation for personal services received by a salaried person or wage earner is income, including salaries, commissions, bonuses, fees, pensions paid retired employees, and tips.

"The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales, together with income from investments and from incidental or outside operations or sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases and cost of goods sold. To reflect net income correctly in business in which the production, purchase or sale of actual merchandise is an income-producing factor, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

"The lawyer, doctor, architect, author, dentist, clergyman or other professional man must include all fees, salaries and compensation for professional services.

"The farmer is required to report as gross income all profits derived from the sale or exchange of farm products and livestock, whether produced on the farm or purchased and resold. The fair market value of groceries or merchandise exchanged for farm products must be included, also profits from renting a farm on the crop-share basis, and the rental and sale of lands."

"Hundreds of requests are being received daily by the Internal Revenue Bureau for rulings and advice upon abstract cases or prospective transactions involving questions of income tax and profits liability. These requests have become so numerous and the insistence on prompt action so great that Collector Goodcell outlined a new policy which will govern the consideration of these requests.

"A quarter of a million taxpayers must file income returns within the next three weeks or become delinquent, and the congestion has reached the point where we are compelled to adopt measures that will enable the bureau to function properly," Collector Goodcell said yesterday.

"The revenue acts of 1918 and 1921 depart widely at many points from prior law or practice and have given rise to new questions of such importance, complexity and number that the resources of the bureau are no more than adequate to advise taxpayers promptly of their present liabilities arising out of past transactions," the collector continued. "It is impossible to answer every question which the invention or ingenuity of the inquirer may devise without neglecting the fundamental duty of determining liability upon the basis of actual happenings. Under these circumstances the administrative necessity is obvious of giving precedence over abstract or prospective cases to actual cases in which the taxpayer desires to know what are his immediate liabilities under the law."

"Tells Conditions It will be the policy of the Internal Revenue Bureau not to answer any inquiry except under the following circumstances, the collector announced: The transaction must be completed and not merely proposed or planned.

"The complete facts relating to the transaction, together with abstracts from contracts, or other documents, necessary to present the complete facts, must be given. The names of all the real parties interested (not "dummies" used in the transaction) must be stated regardless of who presents the question, whether attorney, accountant, tax service or other representative.

"A request for a ruling must be signed by the taxpayer, or, in case he is represented by an attorney or agent, the request must be accompanied by properly executed power of attorney. Banks, however, will not be required to furnish powers of attorney with respect to inquiries affecting their depositors.

"A copy of a ruling addressed to a taxpayer will not be furnished to his attorney or agent unless the bureau is specifically authorized to do so by the taxpayer.

We Certainly Appreciate the Welcome Glendale Gave Us

The officers, owners and employes of the Nash Sales Company, Inc., unite in thanking the hundreds of Glendale people who helped us open our new headquarters at 1234 South Brand boulevard Saturday.

We are proud of our splendid salesroom and unexcelled service department; we are proud of the personnel of our organization and prouder still of the car we sell, of its beauty and power, its quality and all around supremacy in every way; But, more than anything else, We Are Proud of Our Friends.

On account of the large crowd, we were unable to accommodate everybody as we would have wished, so we have decided to continue our Fashion Show and hold OPEN HOUSE for ALL THIS WEEK.

WAR VESSELS TO REPAIR BOILERS

4 Battleships, Unable to Run Under 'Full Steam,' to Be Overhauled WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The battleships, Wyoming, Utah, Arkansas and Florida, having been found to have boilers that will not stand the strain of "full steam," have been ordered back to the United States from Panama for repairs, it was announced officially at the navy department today.

Officials explained that the vessels were not in any sense obsolete, but would be as good as new as soon as necessary repairs have been made.

IMPERIAL MEET PROVES SUCCESS

Local Delegates Play Big Part In Conference on 'Back to Farm'

(Continued From Page 1) served in the Barbara Worth hotel, complimentary from the Imperial county Associated Chambers of Commerce, Imperial valuedly from fresh strawberries to asparagus and through turkey to ice cream, each board was allotted a one-minute "home town" talk. Glendale was represented in this talk by President Peter Hanson of the local board, who said: "It is natural we should have the largest delegation at the conference, being the fastest growing city in the association and the first large board in the state to be 100 per cent."

Local Delegates Busy Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale favored the large audience at this banquet with two songs, "Until" and "Annie Laurie," bringing down the house with his strong tenor-baritone voice. He was followed by the "Glendale yell," a la whistles, led by W. L. (Smiling Bill) Twining, Charles B. Guthrie of Glendale. The vice-president of the seventh regional district, spoke later in the evening, declaring: "This is the first time I have been in the Imperial valley, but will not be the last." Mr. Guthrie also spoke Saturday afternoon, his subject being "Home Ownership as Related to Farm Lands." The conference went on record as wholeheartedly favoring the Boulder Dam project, passing a resolution to this effect and also

Cuban Sugar Crop to Total 3,600,000 Tons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Cuban cane sugar production for the 1923-24 season will reach approximately 3,600,000 tons, according to estimates received by the department of commerce and made public today.

That is about the 1922-23 crop, described as "ample, although not of record breaking proportions."

Prices, which took a spectacular rise in the United States last spring, are about 5.75 cents a pound at the beginning of the Cuban sugar grinding season, compared to an average of 5.102 cents for the seven months ending in November 1923, the department of commerce learned.

Blame Oil Gambling For Franc's Decline

PARIS, Feb. 18.—France has an oil scandal which may rival the one at Washington, according to accusations made in the press today. It was claimed that French speculators lost one billion francs dealing in Royal Dutch and Mexican Eagle oil stocks in violation of the law, and that these speculations contributed to the sensational decline in the value of the franc.

Governor Pinchot Is Petitioned to Run Oil Deposits Claimed To Be World's Largest

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Kansas farmers are circulating petitions asking Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania to enter the presidential race on the Republican ticket, according to State Senator H. R. Green of Moline, Kas., in Chicago, en route home from the national farm congress in Washington.

Senator Green said farmers in his home state approved Pinchot as an executive and had confidence that his administration of the farm loan bank laws and others already enacted would relieve the present agricultural distress.

Chief article of diet of the whale is the squid or cuttlefish.

Auto Accidents Take Heavy Week-End Toll

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Four persons are dead today, one dying, twenty others suffering from injuries and five motorists in jail as a result of week-end automobile accidents in San Francisco and vicinity.

The dead are Anna Takahashi, 14; Jack Aiello, 12; William R. Lake, 65, and Edith Brewer, 8. The Brewer child was killed and her mother, Mrs. A. L. Brewer of Winlock, Wash., perhaps fatally injured when their automobile was struck by a train.

JANUARY'S LABOR DECREASE SLIGHT

Department Report Reveals Increase Over Same Month Last Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Despite the personal lessening of production, industrial employment decreased only 9 per cent in January over December, the department of labor announces.

This estimate was based on reports from 7,849 establishments in fifty-two manufacturing industries, covering 2,552,742 employees, whose total earnings during one week in January were $65,481,467.

These same establishments in December reported 2,575,172 employees and total payrolls of $68,850,028, indicating a decrease of 4.9 per cent in payroll totals and a decrease of 4.1 per cent per capita earnings in January.

Comparing January with the same month last year, there was an increase in the twelve months interval of 1.3 per cent in number of employees, 6.8 per cent in total wages, and 5.5 per cent in per capita earnings.

Increases in employment in January over December were shown in eighteen of the fifty-two industries. Women's clothing industry led in increased employment in January with 10.1 per cent. Other seasonal increases were 5.4 per cent in men's clothing and 2.5 per cent in millinery and lace goods.

More chewing tobacco. The chewing tobacco industry increased 8.4 per cent, while the automobile tires, agricultural implements, iron and steel industries had increases ranging from 4.7 per cent to 2.8 per cent. In three industries there were large increases in employment in January—stoves 15 per cent, confectionery 13 per cent and dyeing and finishing textiles 10.3 per cent.

Car building and repairing, carriage industry and the brick, glass, cigar, foundry and machine shop and rubber boots, all showed from 7.7 per cent to 5 per cent decreases in employment.

NEW DRUG STORE STAGES OPENING

Crowd of Visitors Throngs Brown Pharmacy On East Broadway

Brown's Pharmacy held one of the most successful openings Saturday afternoon in Glendale has ever enjoyed. The beautiful store room at the northwest corner of Broadway and Maryland street was crowded almost all day. Three times during the day E. E. Brown, the proprietor, who celebrated the event by giving away boxes of candy and other favors, had to send out for new supplies of candy.

The store is modern and attractive in every way, with a fine and complete stock. It will be under the personal management of Mr. Brown, who formerly operated the Park Avenue pharmacy on South Brand boulevard. Clyde Morrison, whose business, the Morrison Prescription pharmacy, was bought by Mr. Brown, will be in charge of the prescription service. Mr. Sorrensen, formerly with the Ahlman Drug company, is in charge of the modern fountain lunch section of the business.

COMMENT That's All

Prosperity on Every Side Get Your Share Of It Optimism and Industry Our Traffic Emergency

By Gil A. Cowan

If you desire to become a contributor to the program of prosperity of Glendale—get out in your car some sunny afternoon and take a look around. Visit each and every corner of the city and see what is going on.

Over to the northeast some really imposing foothill homes are being built. The same is true in the northwest section of Glendale. Down along the Southern Pacific railway you will find new evidence of industry. Throughout the city you will see apartments, duplexes, bungalow courts, as well as single dwellings, being built.

In the business district there are new stores, other businesses expanding. There are offices being furnished in new blocks. Improvements are being made in equipment in many establishments.

Glendale is growing as never before, you can see it in the feeling which finds expression in some quarters, that it is not growing fast enough. Really, what do we expect who live in this city?

Glendale can only expand so fast, otherwise it would be built of boom material—which it is not. Real and steady growth is substantial, and ready to stand the test. Investors in Glendale's future make no mistake provided, of course, they are in position to protect their "margins" if dealing on a "shoestring." No city in the world is paved with gold; you cannot make money without substantial investment and basis of good economic demand for that in which you are trading.

If you are a "grouch"—and recently we have heard one or two—take a little of what a psychologist calls "introspection." See if it isn't something you have done which is to blame—not Glendale.

In the meantime Glendale is going STRAIGHT AHEAD. If you are not participating in its prosperity, let it be said that you, yourself are to blame.

Optimism is a quality to be admired in any man. So is a grain of salt. An overdose of either is not so good. We like to read optimistic editorials. The Pasadena Star-News editor has the following to say about Pacific Commerce:

"Westward the center of world commerce takes its way. The Pacific Ocean is becoming the leading commercial ocean of the world. The tide of trade has turned from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Dr. Alexander Hume Ford, secretary of the Pan-Pacific Union, makes assertions to this effect. Facts confirm that Mr. Ford in saying these things. Vast quantities of farm and orchard products grow in Canada and in the western portion of the United States, are sent by water through the Pacific—either via the Panama canal to Europe or the eastern seaboard of the United States, or across the Pacific to the shores of the Orient. China and Japan are steady customers of the United States, and commerce with Oriental countries, across the Pacific, is gaining steadily.

California is the axis of this huge commercial expansion. The great ports of this state pass enormous quantities of commodities, exported and imported across the Pacific, or coast-wise via the canal, to and from Atlantic ports. This trade yearly grows. Its continued growth California and the whole Pacific West will be benefited immensely. The ports of this state are destined to become the commercial front doors of the nation."

The San Francisco Journal editor writes of the "general traffic emergency" as follows:

"From all over the country comes complaint about the situation of ordinary traffic forced upon the people by the increased popularity of the automobile. Every large city is rapidly approaching the point of absolute traffic congestion and something will have to be done about it. The establishment of some one-way streets and the entire prohibition of parking cars in busy thoroughfares are probably the two things that promise most immediate relief. But even that can only be temporary in view of the steady and enormous increase of the traffic. There seems to be no point of saturation for the sale of cars.

"Pedestrians may soon come to the point of considering taking up their residence in houseboats on the water if they are pushed any farther. The objection to this plan would be that it would interfere with their usefulness as pedestrians. If they should really come to the point of making a fight for their rights they would have an irresistible line of attack on the ground of proportional rights. There really seems to be no reason why one man in an automobile should be allowed to occupy as much space as twenty men on foot. A fair comparison of the speed of their respective goings would give at least that result. It becomes monotonous to pedestrians to have to wait at every crossing for an interminable procession of automobiles to pass and then to dart across before the next string catches him.

"Altogether the problem presents more angles pressing for solution than any other ill that now besets the public. This traffic is already running far beyond the capacity of the streets. It is injuring the business of the merchants by making it difficult for the public to approach their stores. Customers must get to a merchant's store before they can buy his goods, and if the hazard of getting there is made too great they will be very much inclined to stop coming before the door. Also it is not to be overlooked that a certain percentage of those who desire to approach

CHRIST CENTRAL FIGURE OF AGES

Man's Redemption Forms Topic of Discourse by Rev. W. E. Edmonds

Presbyterians yesterday were back in their "auditorium beautiful." Large crowds were at both services which taxed the capacity of the house. There was a fine musical program by the regular church quartet. Eldon Bengtson rendered a special number on the cornet. The pastor, W. E. Edmonds, preached from the text in Rev. 1:5: "Unto Him." A resume follows:

"The word of God deals with one theme, namely, redemption, and this living stream flows from the living side of a person, and His name is Jesus Christ. Christianity has one book which is an infallible revelation and this book is the Bible, which is able to make men wise unto salvation through the faith which it proclaims in a risen Christ.

"Christ is the central figure of all the ages. All history partakes in Him. He is the rallying personality of all Christianity. Not an organization, not a doctrine, or a code of ethics. What the sun is to the solar system that He is to the world. 'He is the light of the world.' He will draw all men unto Himself. He not only gives the believer hope, but He is the hope of the world.

Boundless Resources
"He is the Christ of boundless resources. He is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all we can ask or think."
"He alone is the glory of the church. Not mere numbers. Not a physical building, nor creeds or dogmas. He is the living head, and all true believers are members of His body. He is the preserver and the presenter of His people. He is able to keep them from falling and to present them faultless at the last great day. He removes all the ground of charge that was against us; He was condemned in our place. In God's sight Christ is seen instead of us.

"Three things Christ does for every child of God. He loves them. He washed them from their sins through His own precious blood. He exalts them to become a kingdom of priests. This is the anthem of praise in the glory, and will have the response here and now, through riches of grace in Christ Jesus."

Southern Secretaries Visit Orange Display

E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, attended the monthly meeting of the Association of Southern Commercial Secretaries that was held at San Bernardino Saturday. Regular business routine took up most of the day, and it is planned to hold a meeting in Los Angeles next month at which directors of Southern California Chambers of Commerce will be present with joint meetings with the secretaries at which the various problems confronting the organizations will be studied.

tion of the law upon the following points:

"One—We understand that the three districts, Crescena, Tujunga, and Monte Vista may annex to Glendale City for school purposes only, thereby forming one district under the control of the Glendale City Board of Education in which junior high schools may then be formed at the discretion of the Glendale City Board of Education. In this case, we understand, the Boards of Trustees of the Glendale Union High school district and of Crescena, Tujunga, and Monte Vista Elementary school districts will cease to exist as boards of trustees.

(Please give the section of the law covering the matter given above.)

"Two—That a union junior high school may be formed as given in Section 1750-A.

"In the elementary districts comprising our Union High school district, Crescena, Tujunga, and Monte Vista have each three trustees, and Glendale City, a city board of education of five members, making a total of fourteen trustees. What would, in this case, constitute a majority of the boards of trustees as given in Section 1750-A?

"Three—If the Union junior high schools were established as provided in Section 1750-A, could the high school board build a junior high school upon sites already owned by one or another of the elementary districts comprising the high school district, or must they first lease or purchase such sites?

"Four—If one or more junior high school sites were purchased and junior high schools placed thereon in one or another of the elementary districts comprising the high school union district and this district or districts later withdrew to form a new high school district, would they own the junior high school sites and buildings in these elementary districts?

PLAN FOR WINTER SPORT CARNIVAL

Three Days of Icy Frolic at Big Bear and Baldwin Lake Subdivision

Big Bear and Baldwin lake winter sports will be enjoyed by several thousand people February 22 to 24, according to a representative of the Big Bear Pines subdivision at his Glendale office, 249 North Brand boulevard. Of course nature may intervene and furnish a brand of weather unsuitable to winter pleasures, but if all goes well in that regard there will be a huge crowd; as is shown by the large number of reservations made already at the Big Bear camps.

Big Bear Pines is right at the center of the sports planned for this occasion. Many Glendaleans have recently purchased lots in the tract. It offers pretty pine-covered level lots, with fine water and streets, sold on easy weekly payment terms at a total price of $200.

The new road to Big Bear lake greatly shortens the distance and eliminates the steep grades. Due to this fact it is said more activity is apparent at the lake than ever before.

Claims Children Are Physically Deranged

That the majority of children in the public schools are suffering from some functional derangement, is the declaration of Dr. John K. Gilkerson, chiropractor, of 111 East Broadway.

Dr. Gilkerson, who is a devoted student in his profession, says on this interesting subject: "These functional derangements are laying foundations for future ill-health. Thousands of children have spinal derangements from various causes, which make health in later years impossible.

"These conditions are overlooked by the regular examiners and can easily be corrected by a chiropractor as a result of which untold functional disorders can be avoided.

"Enlarged tonsils are reduced, adenoids and other growths disappear, and various affections of the throat, pharynx and nasal passages are corrected without the use of the knife, thus avoiding operations with their dangerous after-effects."

Irish Parliament to Air Graft Scandal

DUBLIN, Feb. 18.—A government scandal, involving wireless contracts and a plot against the late Michael Collins, probably will be aired in the Dail Eireann at an early date, it was learned today.

Reports are current that when the charges are made publicly, certain well-known public figures will be accused of attempting to obtain funds from British sources in order to "double-cross" Collins.

For "atmosphere" in moving pictures as many as 8,000 people have been rounded up in Canada.

Legionnaires to Aid in Reforestation Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—American Legion posts throughout California may aid in the reforestation movement now under way in the lumbering sections of the state, according to Morgan Keaton, state adjutant of the organization.

Planting of community forests is under way in Minnesota, with the aid of the Legion, and the same idea is to be proposed to California ex-service men. Among the various tree-planting programs the plan to set out trees along the proposed Victory highway from the Nevada state line to San Francisco is heartily endorsed by the Legion officials.

Move to Repeal State Physical Education

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—Agitation in Southern California, more particularly in Redlands, to repeal the compulsory physical education law in the public schools, today was characterized by Dr. Herbert R. Stolz, state supervisor of physical education, as "another hopeless attempt to strike out one of the most beneficial laws on the books by a few disgruntled parents."

It is reported that more than 1200 signatures have been obtained in Redlands by Mrs. E. C. Heron as members of the Parents' Protective league, which it is said, is formed to secure repeal of the present law. Charges are made that the physical exercises are too strenuous. This charge is ridiculed by the authorities who state that the program ranges from absolute rest to those who require it to active competitive games for those who are able to undertake them.

BEHAVIOR COUNCIL

Pupils assume responsibility in matters of behavior at the Gordon School, Cleveland. A "behavior council, consisting of a representative of each room in the school, formulates whatever rules it considers necessary for safety and order. Guards elected by the pupils enforce these rules, and in cases of extreme misbehavior the teachers may be consulted. European lobsters are nearly always sent to market in the fresh state.

FATHER O'NEILL'S

Former Glendale Priest

 Throat Against Illness

In a priestly figure with snow white beard and hair, up at Oxnard, Glendadians would scarcely recognize the young man who came to Glendale almost a quarter of a century ago to found the Holy Family Catholic church, which stands today as one of the strongest Catholic organizations in the southland.

W. B. KIRK

But it is the same Father James S. O'Neill, whose heart still beats true to Glendale and his host of Glendale friends, to whom he writes "I am longing for the sunshine of the Verdugo hills amid the fogs of Oxnard." It was twenty years ago that Father O'Neill came to California from Boston on account of lung trouble. Glendale brought perfect health and not until he went north a year ago did he suffer throat trouble, which necessitated his wearing a beard to protect his throat. This hair and beard have turned snow white during the past year.

In the northern city Father O'Neill is keeping up his active interest in civic affairs, and is at present advocating the doing away with the hundreds of stray dogs around Oxnard.

Local Elks to Stage
 Pasadena Initiation

Officers and members of Glendale Elks lodge No. 1289, together with the prize-winning Glendale Elks band will go over to Pasadena Tuesday night and put on the initiation work for the Crown City club, it is announced.

Exalted Ruler James Appfel urges that all members who can possibly join in this excursion do so, as an entertainment is being prepared for the local delegation by Pasadena which will be well worth while.

On Washington's birthday—Friday night—the monthly dance for the Elks and their guests will be held and Secretary Willis Kimball announces that members should apply for guest cards at once in order that suitable arrangements may be made for their accommodation.

Constantinople Proves to Be Most Interesting City
 Visited On Foreign Trip

From the land of Caliphs and of the Star and Crescent comes today's letter from W. B. Kirk. He writes January 21 from Constantinople. "We have reached the land of the Caliphs, of the Star and Crescent, and have seen no more interesting city in all our travels than Constantinople. And we came near 'passing it up' and going on to Pireus on 'The Asia.'"

"We had a view of the city by night as we went by it on that boat on Monday evening, the fourteenth. We were held up for a while by the authorities in the sea of Marmora and the circles of lights higher and higher, extending for a long distance, were very pretty. The weather was cold, however, so we couldn't remain on deck long to see it.

"We passed on into the Bosphorus early in the evening and when we arose on Tuesday we were ploughing our way through the Black Sea with no land in sight. It was 150 miles north to Constanze, past the Bulgarian coast, where they have a harbor or two, and we reached there about noon. We could see that it was a well-built town rising on a hill above the sea. It is the only Rumanian port of consequence but a good one, with substantial quays and elevators.

"We were forbidden to land. Our purser sent our names to the officials with a request for permits for us to go ashore, but they were not received. They seem to be very particular and fussy about foreigners just now, and as their vice costs $10 for each passport none of us wanted one that bad.

Emigrants for America
 "Quarantine consumed the afternoon, anyway, but on Wednesday morning we began to load our 350 immigrants for America. Garbed in winter caps and clothes, many of them with high pointed astrachan caps of Rumania and Russia, they were a healthy looking bunch and not half as bad as I had expected to see.

"Maybe the governments are weeding them out and are getting a better lot than many we have been receiving. I am told that a large proportion of them are Jews, their organizations furnishing money and help for them, which others are not able to obtain. I didn't see any sad farewells or partings over the long separation.

"After lunch the young Oxford lad and I decided to make an effort to see a little of Rumania. So we bluffed our way past the soldier guards and were off. It was so cold that ice covered the walks and snow lay all about. The ice in the streams was thick enough to cut and wagons hauling the big cakes of it again carried us back to our boyhood days. It

 Authentic News For Fashion's Devotees

The Beau Brummels of Glendale are devoting much serious thought to the purchase of new straw hats, to go with the Easter Sunrise services and other signs of spring. Above are shown a few fashion hints from the pen of Cartoonist Al Buescher.

By GIL A. COWAN
 Of The Evening News Staff.
 A new game for Southern California! T. Edison Smith, boy inventor of Main street, no doubt thought out the idea while Al Buescher drew the pictures herewith.

Smith had one idea. Al had another. The latter shows us the new styles, which are making their appearance. No brim will be too wide, no crown too high or no color too loud, says Buescher after doing his best to make 'em look wide, high and loud.

"My game," says T. Edison, the boy inventor, to his Southern California friends, "may be properly called Birdie. It is very similar to Beaver, played by our British cousins.

Explains "Birdie"
 "You see, or rather when you see a new straw hat, as you walk along with your friend on Brand Boulevard or Broadway, you say 'Birdie.'"

(No reason for calling the birds, except that back east where T. Edison Smith hails from the first bird of a season is some event.)

"Your friend also cries 'Birdie' when a straw hat appears on the horizon and the first one having spied five birdies, is entitled to a soda water at the other's expense."

Right now the haberdashers report there aren't five straw hats in Glendale, but another six weeks of sunshine and the styles will change. We have to wait out here for Noo Yawk to say so, however.

Advance Information
 Asked for an explanation of the "birdie" game, T. Edison Smith said that "Beavers" are bono hoko pokus in Glendale. There are not enough Beavers, or bewiskered gentry, to keep interest in the game.

But there are a lot of old straw hats—and some new ones to be bought. The most distinctive style of the coming season is known as "the flatfoot Sennit," a hat with a higher crown and a broader brim than any shown in a decade.

What a nice looking bunch of "birdies" those hats will make.

Adjusted Compensation Bill Will Form Topic at Legion Meeting

Glendale citizens will be given an opportunity to hear first hand the merit of the adjusted compensation bill which the American Legion is sponsoring for passage during the present session of Congress.

The meeting, under the auspices of Glendale Post, No. 137, American Legion, will be held in the Harvard High school grounds at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, February 23. A committee composed of L. D. Fish, F. C. Butler and D. L. Todd was appointed to arrange for the meeting at the last regular session of the Legion.

Several prominent speakers will be invited to attend, and there will be a band to enliven the occasion. This meeting is in line with the work being done by the Legion throughout the country toward educating the people and enlightening them as to what the so-called "bonus" bill really provides. A mass meeting of this nature in Los Angeles last Saturday was a distinct success.

Police Chief Will Report
 On Provision of Safety
 Signals In School Zones

By AL DIX
 Of The Evening News Staff.
 The matter of providing safety zones for Glendale school children, under discussion for several months, and recently brought to a head by the killing of Ramona Aney, 8 years old, in front of the Central avenue school, will undoubtedly receive the early consideration of the City Council.

One month ago the question came up for discussion and it was referred to John D. Fraser, chief of police, for investigation and report. Chief Fraser has made his investigation and is now ready to report to the council his findings. He has given a great deal of time to the study of the methods in operation in various large cities to protect the lives of the school children, and his suggestions will be a synopsis of the plans which in his opinion are best suited for the city of Glendale.

Favors Stop Signal
 His chief recommendation will be the installation of a new design of a stop sign, which, in his opinion, he states, will be the most effective in accomplishing the desired results. It consists of a large printed sign which is strung across the street from two poles, and is operated from the ground by ropes and pulleys. The sign will read "Stop—School," and underneath, the rate of speed which is authorized by law for motor vehicles passing a schoolhouse. This sign would be under the supervision of the school janitor, who would lower it in the morning and raise it at night.

Chief Fraser believes that it would compel more obedience on the part of drivers recklessly inclined than the pavement signals, which are proving impractical in Los Angeles. This sign would be in the direct line of vision of all drivers, and any operator of a machine disregarding it would be subject to arrest and punishment.

No Excuse for Driver
 On the face of it, Chief Fraser's suggestion looks good. There would be no cause for any driver to say that he did not see the warning signal, as may honestly be the case in the present system of signals in vogue. If a car driver pays attention to all the signs displayed on the side of the road, he is very apt to have an accident with another machine through not looking where he is going. If drivers who were convicted of disregarding the signal were given stiff fines or jail sentences, it would probably have a wholesome effect in stopping other violators, so Chief Fraser thinks.

His recommendations to the council will be made in a short time and immediate action is looked for.

Offers Signals Free
 A firm in Los Angeles has communicated with the chief of police to place pillar signals with intermittent lights in Glendale at no cost to the city. These can carry any sign that the authorities desire, and the pillar is paid for by an individual or firm whose advertisement appears on a space left for that purpose. The light is operated by acetylene gas, and the entire cost of upkeep is approximately $20 per year. It is possible that these signals may be considered before final action is taken by the council.

The need for more motor officers is apparent every day by the complaints received at police headquarters of speeders who are tearing by schoolhouses in the city at rates varying from twenty to fifty miles per hour. When the four new officers are on the force a more rigid enforcement of the law in this respect will be permissible.

CLUB WILL HEAR
 DR. CARL PATTON

Noted Divine Will Address Members at Luncheon Tuesday Afternoon

Dr. Carl Patton, pastor of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles, will be guest and speaker tomorrow at the Tuesday Afternoon club luncheon at the clubhouse. Dr. Patton, who is a prominent minister in the Congregational denomination, is recognized as an eloquent speaker, and tomorrow the club women will hear him talk on "The American Language."

Following the luncheon there will be a club meeting in the auditorium at 2:30 o'clock. The entertainment of the afternoon will be given by John B. Ratto, impersonator.

Works Before Audience
 Mr. Ratto's performances are said to be full of action and life. His program is miscellaneous, each number logically follows the preceding one, making a panorama of associated characters. He presents his characters in "make-up," penciling in full view of the audience, telling an appropriate story the while. Penciling finished he turns to the table mirror, adjusts his wig and faces about to surprise his audience with the accuracy of a character different in appearance, speech and actions, with a personality all its own.

Events earlier in the day will be the meetings of the Fine Arts and Bible departments at 10 and 11:15 o'clock in the morning.

Robbers Overlook $20 Bill In Victim's Pocket In Midnight Holdup

The presence of mind on the part of Miss Julia Goetz, 1201 North Central avenue, in slipping her diamond ring into her shoe, and evident hurry of the robbers, saved her and K. H. Goetz from serious loss when held up by two men at the corner of Arden avenue and Brand boulevard early Sunday morning.

They were on their way home from a dance, and noticed two men sitting in the waiting room. When half way across the street the men shouted, and thinking that they wanted to ask a question, the couple turned around to look into the faces of two gangsters. Miss Goetz slipped her diamond ring into her shoe when she saw they were being held up.

Overlook $20 Bill
 The bandits took Mr. Goetz' purse, but neglected to take a $20 bill in his vest pocket. There was but $5 in the purse. A gold watch he was carrying was rejected by the bandits as it has Mr. Goetz' initials engraved on it. They also refused to take some small change which he offered them.

The robbers saw Miss Goetz place her ring in her shoe, and demanded that she give it to them, but Mr. Goetz threatened to make a fight if they attempted to get the ring, and the bandits, after hurriedly talking the matter over between themselves, meanwhile keeping the victims covered with their revolvers, turned around and disappeared in the darkness.

The matter was reported immediately to the police, and Lieut. Nunn, Sergeant Kenyon and Officer Claxton rushed to the scene. Mr. Basses, Dwight Miller, Vermer Jacobson, Clarence Schatz, Jack Cosgrove, Claire Morrow, Robert Kelso, Waldemere Randall, Samuel Peck, Robert Tay-

Layer Cake	15	25
3 Vegetables*	15	225
5-lb. Beef Roast	30	150

*A revelation, "amazing," "wonderful," "almost unbelievable," and "imagine it" were typical remarks of women who saw these remarkable tests on the range which cooks with the gas turned off. Yet such tremendous savings of gas, time and effort are now the regular daily experience of everyone who purchased a Chambers Range during the week.

Come in and see the Chambers Range in all-white or black-and-white which exactly fits that space in your own kitchen.

*The three vegetables were cooked at one time over one burner, in a three-section pot. Each one cooked 1 hour 15 minutes, or 225 minutes total, on 15 minutes gas—fifteen times as long as the time gas burned.

The results of these tests only show what great savings and convenience are experienced in every Chambers kitchen. To delay the buying of your range means just that much more waste. Come in tomorrow and let us show you how to let a Chambers Range pay for itself.

WHITE SOX FACE RE-ORGANIZATION

End of Season Finds Owners Working to Discharge Obligations

With the winter season of the Triple A and San Fernando leagues at an end baseball for Glendale is somewhat up in the air.

It is no secret that Grant Leischner and Frank Kerwin, owners of the Glendale baseball plant, which is second to no semi-pro park in California, have had hard sledding. They invested their own money and did not have the backing of any civic organization, which is done in so many towns to insure a fast ball team. But for the foresight that they displayed in "planting" enough money to take care of the running expenses and pay the salaries of the players it is doubtful if they could have weathered the season.

Their most pressing obligations now are for material which entered into the construction of the park and grand stand, and unless some amicable arrangement can be made it is probable that either one or both of them will have to drop out.

Most of the Glendale's White Sox players will return to organized baseball for the summer. The notable exception is Chickie Hawks, who has asked Judge Landis to place him on the retired list at his own request. He finds that owning a thriving trucking business pays better than baseball.

May Form New Team

There is strong talk of taking the White Sox players who are not going back into baseball and the stars of the Glendale K. C. team, together with other amateur stars, and forming a proper Glendale team to go by the name of Glendale All-Stars. If this goes through there will be baseball at San Fernando road every Sunday as the team would play only home engagements.

There has been considerable antagonism to the policy of the White Sox owners in some quarters owing to the fact that local boys have not been given much of a chance on the Triple A team. Frank Kerwin, who is secretary of the Southern California Baseball Managers' association, is in close touch with all ball players in Southern California who are open for contracts, and naturally he signed these players with a reputation in place of local untried players. That his judgment may have been faulty in this respect is evidenced by the poor showing the White Sox made in the past season. Their hitting has not been heavy, and Arnold Crandall has not turned in many wins, although he is slated for the Angels this year.

Many argue that Walter Heidler, local hurler, is every bit as good as Doc's southpaw brother, and kept asking that he be given a chance to display his wares. As it has turned out the showing made could not have been much worse, and Kerwin might have developed some local talent that would have been able to hold its own in the Triple A class.

In this day and age baseball men have a hard time making it pay owing to the superfluity of cars and the tendency for the family to spend the week-ends at the seaside or in the mountains. Unless a team can deliver winning ball and hold its own against all comers the job is well-nigh hopeless.

Local fans hope that something will be done that will assure Glendale of good fast ball this summer, as a city of this size ought to have a team that ranked among the best in Southern California.

SCHOOLS DIVIDE TWO CAGE GAMES

A double header in boys' basketball was played off Friday afternoon between the intermediate schools on the courts at Glendale avenue, the senior game going to the visitors with a score of 21 to 10 and the home team winning the junior game with a score of 12 to 8. A friend came into our write shop yesterday afternoon, apparently to help himself to one of the variety of arguments which are always kept handy for visitors so inclined. Call him Jerry, for that is just what we do call him when there is no hostile argument going on. Other times, other names.

Jerry had been to a basketball game the night before. Says he, "That was a great game. You missed something if you didn't see it."

We confessed to being absent, but told Jerry we had read the paper and saw that Whoozis, substituting for Whatsis, was retired early in the game with a dislocated shoulder, had made 11 points, a good evening's work for an ambitious sub. Then the fun began.

"Papers All Wrong

"Aw, the papers never get anything right. Whoozis couldn't have made that many points or the score would have been bigger than it was, because Blink and Blunk scored five or six points. And besides, Whatsis never had his shoulder dislocated, it was his wrist. The papers never get anything right. I saw the whole thing."

Jerry said his seat was about half way back in the hall, which, of course, is more advantageous than the ones occupied by reporters up in front where they are right on top of every play. Chances are that Jerry's memory of points scored and other details is more reliable than a detailed score sheet, too. Then again it may not be. Of course, it makes no difference to the paper whether or not games are written accurately. Anything to fill up the space. That's why men are hired to write such things. But—the first thing Jerry did next day was to get the paper and read

Sport Snap Shots

By JACK KEENE

According to reports from all sections of the country, basketball, amateur, scholastic and collegiate, is enjoying another big season. Games are well attended and the play of high caliber. All of which makes it more tragic than ever that basketball has not been given the popular support and organization advantages of football.

Boston may not have a pennant-winning team the coming season—chances are more than remote—but there ought to be some good baseball in that town, for the first season in several, and a real scramble between the Red Sox and Braves for popular favor.

Lee Fohl and Bobby Quinn announced in the clearest manner that they hope to have something besides uniforms on Fenway field next season when they put through the trade for Bill Wamby and Steve O'Neill of the Indians. From the Red Sox standpoint the trade was a profitable and popular one, apparently. Then the Beaneaters bought Bobby Veach, slugging Tiger outfielder, outright. They paid something like $50,000 for Studley Lee, Tulsa infield sensation. It is still rumored in the Hub that Urban Shocker of the Browns will wear a Sox uniform next season.

The acquisition of Dave Bancroft to manage the Braves was a tenstrike on Boss Mathewson's part. The Brave owners are still working on other deals aimed at stretching the club.

All in all, things look rosy for the Boston fans.

Talk of Rogers Hornsby changing uniforms before April 15 seems to have died down. Probabilities are now that he will be a member of the Cardinal infield again the coming year. Which probably is the best thing for the game.

Training Starts for Oxy Baseball Teams

Baseball practice has officially started at Occidental, with Coach Wilkie Clark at the helm. His husky wahoo brought out many candidates for the varsity and frosh teams. Suits have been issued and practice is in full swing now. Coach Clark made a championship team out of raw recruits for Occidental in '11 and '12, when the Tigers kicked both Stanford and California.

Manager McDonald has arranged a series of exciting practice games, and the conference season opens for the Tigers April 12, with Whittier on the Oxy diamond. As yet several varsity men are still in track training, and will not appear on the baseball diamond for a few weeks.

Argue, Powers, Fulton are the players on the track team. The following men are candidates for the varsity: DeMandel, Smith, Lindquist, Tanaka, Westlund, Ebers, Norton, Tanner, McInnes, Lindley, Hazelton, Hess, Argue, Powers, Fulton. The frosh team finds Teachout, Brobst, Mishkin, Archer, Randall, Godet, Hammersly, Condie, Gregory, Neely, all doing their stuff.

Match Depalma and Swede Flash Sig Haugdahl Will Appear on Ascot Track Against Italian Demon

Sig Haugdahl, who pilots his space annihilator at a speed slightly in excess of 180 miles per hour when in a rush, has been signed by George Bentley, of Ascot, to appear against Ralph De Palma a week from Sunday, February 24, as a counter attraction to the classic scheduled for the same day at Beverly Hills speedway.

The war is being waged merrily with a barrage of good coin of the realm being laid down by the opposing forces to keep the enemy from making a raid and stealing away the star performer. Bentley was angling for some time with Tommy Milton, but the deal appears to have fallen through, as he is scheduled for the speedway classic.

This is one case where the public benefits, instead of suffering. The eyes of the entire sport world will be turned toward Los Angeles on February 24 when all the racing drivers in the world who have any claim to greatness, will be seen at one of the two tracks in operation that day. It will be interesting to watch

GLENDALE LOSES TO HARBOR TEAM

San Pedro Blanks Locals As Triple A Schedule Is Terminated

With an entirely new lineup, due to the departure of the Coast and Western leaguers who have been playing with the White Sox all winter, Glendale was blanked yesterday by San Pedro in the closing game of the Triple A schedule, 6-0.

Jack Burns had his regular lineup in the field and the big leaguers, with Ken Douglas on the mound, played a wonderful game of ball. But three hits were secured by Glendale—singles by Barnell, Peters and Dill.

San Pedro only made seven hits off Dill, but managed to bunch them to good advantage, which, assisted by six errors of his supporters, proved his undoing. He also gave eight men free transportation to first.

With the schedule over, there has been no definite announcement made of the plan to be followed to give Glendale baseball from now on. It is probable that an independent tilt will be staged here next Sunday. The score of yesterday's game:

SHELL OIL WINS TWELVE STRAIGHT

There is no valid reason why Hornsby should be sold by the Cardinals. He is half the team Rickey needs him. The Cardinals do not need to unload him to protect themselves financially. He is a popular hero in St. Louis.

On Hornsby's part, he is not kicking on salary. He is as big a toad in the St. Louis puddle as he would be in the New York pond. A lot bigger, if anything.

The only thing that has been given as a reason for a possible deal concerning him is the fact that he and Rickey disagreed last season on club rules, etc. This matter can be ironed out—if it is not now settled satisfactorily.

And his sale would be almost a death blow to the Card's chances and their popularity at home.

Dutchmen Trim Union Tool Co. As Star Hurler Holds Foes Helpless

Fred Fairbanks turned in his twelfth straight win for the Shell Oil club in the Triple A circuit and incidentally materially assisted his team mates in collecting the $450 first place cash money which goes to the winner of the flag.

The Dutchmen, under Josh Clarke and Billy Feinstner, lost their first two games, but since that have annexed an even dozen in a row. Beginning next Sunday they will play Sawtelle, who finished second, a three-game series to have the aspect of a "Triple A" world's series.

Union Tool was not able to shove a scorer across on Fairbanks, while his team mates were pounding the offerings of Haycox for fifteen safeties. The Dutchmen's star hurler was in command of the situation all the way through.

Glendale Dollars Spent In And For Glendale

Capitalists from many sections are being attracted to Glendale as a city with a future, and hence a good place to invest money in big buildings and big business ventures.

Glendale's future doesn't depend entirely upon these capitalists, nor upon the real estate dealers and subdividers, nor upon any class of citizens or individuals. Glendale's future is entirely in the hands of the citizens and, as the rapid growth of the city in the past has been the result of their loyalty, faith and optimism, so the future of the city is in the hands of these same people, the wage earners, the salaried people, the retired men and women, all who constitute the buyers. All must realize that we cannot live unto ourselves, but each family must be a spoke in the wheel of progress. Each is dependent on the other, and the humblest wage earner must do his part in the work of Community Building if Glendale's destiny, as we see it, is to be realized.

Every family has daily needs that must be supplied, and money must be spent to supply them. No matter how unpretentious the manner of living, food and clothing must be purchased. Loyal Glendale citizens in all walks of life spend their allowance for necessities and luxuries, so far as possible, in Glendale. SLOW TO SPEAK, PASTOR'S WARNING

Word Hastily Given Forth May Send Friend Away, Says Rev. Cole

Yesterday morning a large audience heard the sermon at the Central Christian church by the pastor, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, on "Vain Religion," in which the following statements on the "use of the tongue" were made: "Let every man be swift to hear and slow to speak. Many folks are like wireless instruments, arranged to catch the utterances of instruments that come out of the same factory, but making nothing of other sound waves which have equal significance. Half of our trouble comes from the fact that we are not attuned to the language in which others express themselves. We do not have the habit of listening for the things that other folks want to say, but for the things we ourselves want to hear. The very crown of charity is to have ears and eyes and heart open to other peoples point of view and form of expression. To be good listeners is far better than to be fine speakers. "We should be slow to speak, because the instant we have stated our position we have made it hard to give fair consideration to new evidence. The word that hath gone forth," says the law of the jungle, "changes all trails. We should be slow to speak, because sometimes we will be called upon to take a position before we find out all the facts. There must be a clear head, must understand, that our reasons may prove strong. We must be slow to speak, because a word hastily spoken may send our friend away lost and broken. Oh, the tongue hath no man tamed. Only God by His spirit can change our bitterness to sweet. A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul, but words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in pictures of silver. If any man thinketh himself to be religious while he bridleth his tongue, but deceiveth his heart, this man's religion is vain."

EXPLAINS POWER OF SPOKEN WORD

Occult Science Pastor Tells Path Toward Mastery Of Soul Problems

On Sunday night, the members and attendants of the Occult Science of Christ church, 313 South Orange street, listened to a helpful and interesting sermon on "The Power of the Spoken Word," delivered by Rev. Arthur A. Moore. Rev. Moore said in part: "On the path toward mastery of the problems that are so puzzling to the student of silent forces, we find that throughout all time the keynote of progress has been to know thyself. To understand one's self is to accept the responsibilities of not only this present life, but resolve to benefit by whatever lessons one may have learned in other expressions on one's evolutionary journey. Therefore, though knowledge is power, by all means get understanding of the proper method of applying the knowledge for self-help or in assisting others."

Sacred Trust "The power held by the one who understands the truth of his own spirituality in relationship to his mind and body is tremendous, and it must be understood and accepted as sacred trust. All things come from God, and are a lesser expression of the higher nature that is the cause of that which is expressed. This is also true of the spiritual man and he, in expressing himself to better understand his own contemplations, or in thoughts for the benefit of others, realizes that that which emanates from his mind as thought and emotion, and from his body as words, are the messengers—for good or evil. "As the spiritual man is clothed with various garments of finer and coarser substances, so do the pure beams of light that radiate from the God-Self become coated with the coarser color vibrations as they pass through the channel of mind. Thoughts and words are expressions of the character of man who gives them manifestation."

Nature of Motive Rev. Moore concluded his sermon with the words: "The power given the spoken or unspoken word depends upon the nature of the motive actuating the person speaking at the time he speaks. The idle word spoken without consideration is but to say: "I am standing on a firm foundation and assume the responsibilities of my own thinking. Giver of all good, try me and let me prove my statement in my life and show my strength!" So do the effects become manifest in the lives of those to be assisted by one who knows the Power of the Spoken Word. The planting of a noble ideal in the mind of another and the being able to watch that soul arouse and awaken to his own capabilities is ample reward, and is humbly accepted in thanksgiving by the speaker of the Spoken Word of Power."

STEWARDSHIP IN LIFE'S MYSTERIES

Man Must Give Accounting of Work on Earth, Claims Rev. Livingstone

"Stewards of the Mysteries of Life" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. J. C. Livingstone at the morning service at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. His text was "Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful," taken from Paul's letter to the Corinthians. "We must recall," said the speaker, "that in writing this letter, Paul was moved by the spirit of dissonance of that time. Man has peculiar attitude in life who does not administer his life as though he had to give an account of himself. What the world calls business is men's stewardship in the world of men. A field of stewardship that knows nothing of co-operation and knows nothing of the outside world, is composed of 'one talent.' "You cannot interpret the teachings of Christ without the spirit; the world calls it foolishness, but the world recognizes that it is the only thing; foolishness to me is but strength and power to the stewards in the mysteries of Jesus Christ."

An anthem, "The Lord Is God and King" (Linwood), was sung by the choir. Miss Beatrice Sasse sang a soprano solo, "Angel of Light, Lead On" (Graff). "Tents and Altars" was the subject chosen by the pastor for the sermon at the evening service.

Steamer Captured by Mexican Rebel Force

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—The passenger and freight steamer Coahuila has been seized by Mexican rebels at Manzanillo, Mexico, according to wireless reports to the Radio Corporation of America. The boat is operated by the Mexican Navigation company, between San Francisco, Los Angeles, Mazatlan, Manzanillo and other Mexican and Central American ports. Seizure of the vessel has shut off communication by wireless with the American consul at Manzanillo with the government at Washington, according to the reports received here.

Southern California

Game Law Decision

SANTA ANA, Feb. 18.—In a written decision, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams has sustained the contention of County Treasurer J. C. Joplin with reference to the state game refuge law, and declared that the law, so far as it applies to inclusion of private lands in a game refuge without compensation or consent, was unconstitutional and void. The decision, which reversed a recent justice court judgment, wherein Joplin was fined $25 for hunting doves upon his own property in Game Refuge 4 C, definitely establishes victory for Joplin in the latter's test of the game law, since the court's ruling in the case, if it has been established, is not appealable.

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 18.—Development of a port here for Orange county commerce is only a matter of time, according to Linn L. Shaw, developer, who is

$5000 for K. C. College

Council, the $5000 scholarship, voted for the institution at the last state convention will be presented to the school, it was announced today.

Foreigners in Films

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18.—Foreigners are filling the ranks of filmdom, from the lowliest extra to the most expensive directors and stars. Producers declare it is due to their popularity. In some studios if one does not speak Russian, Polish, German or French, he or she is "out of luck." And the Europeans are filling positions that not long ago American-born men and women held.

Plans Jury Probe of L. A. Harbor Leases

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18.—Declaring there appeared to have been "gross irregularities" in the granting of certain leases in the harbor district, and calling upon Mayor George Cryer and the city council to furnish him with complete evidence concerning the deals, District Attorney Ass. Keyes has requested the immediate impeachment of the new 1924 grand jury to make a complete investigation of the leases. While Keyes did not mention any specific details, it was understood that he referred to the lease granting the Pan-Pacific Construction company, and E. L. Doheny's Pan-American Petroleum company.

FRESNO, Feb. 18.—Congressman H. E. Hailed as a signal victory for local irrigators who have fought to free the Kings river water and power development from alleged strangulation in enlargement of the national park, this new move by Barbour became known in a telegram from him read before the Pine Flat executive committee in session here.

THE NERVOUS CHILD—No. 1

In these papers on the nervous child I am not going to consider the serious nervous disorders, but the functional disorder known as nervousness. This ordinary nervousness may later go into more serious nervous diseases. That is why it is important to correct it.

There are many causes of nervousness in children. Let me enumerate them. First, inheritance; second, lack of proper parental care; third, imitation from associations, parents or others; fourth, physical causes such as indigestion and under-nourishment; fifth, other physical causes such as obstructive adenoids and tonsils, defective eyesight, decayed and painful teeth; sixth, still other physical causes such as over-excitement, too little sleep, over-fatigue.

Let me comment briefly upon each of these causes. First—the inheritance: There is no doubt that unstable nervous systems can be inherited as well as other physical defects; but in a large majority of the cases, inheritance is blamed when the environment and training are at fault. In other words, nurture or training is more often the cause of nervousness than nature or inheritance.

Second—prenatal cause: If the expectant mother is neglected, and has not the right nourishment and other things necessary for her well being, it is probable that the baby will suffer from lack of vitality as well as the mother, and his nervous system will suffer in this general lack of vitality.

Third—imitation: Parents who are nervous and irritable will nearly always have the same type of children not only through imitation, but because of actual injury to the child's nervous system from these associations. Parents must realize that children are like mirrors. They reflect their associates and surroundings.

Fourth—physical causes such as defective eyesight, obstructive adenoids and tonsils, worms, decayed and painful teeth: These physical causes can be predisposing causes to nervousness through undermining the general health and nutrition, as well as being direct causes for nervousness. These can also cause what we think of as the opposite of nervousness, the phlegmatic, stupid child. Needless to say, all these physical abnormalities should be remedied.

Fifth—Emotional causes, such as over-excitement, fears, shocks, etc.: Many cases of nervousness are caused by sudden frights

The skirt may be developed in one of the fashionable woollens, and the blouse in crepe or silk broadcloth. It has a square neck and short kimono sleeves, slashed at the top and bound with braid. Medium size requires 2 3/4 yards 44-inch material for the skirt and 2 yards of 36-inch silk for the blouse.

ELBOWS

Elbows are always a problem. They seem to get dirty as fast as one's hands, and they are not nearly so easily kept clean. They chafe at the first touch of cold weather, and the skin becomes so dark that no amount of scrubbing will make it soft and pink again. The only thing to do with bad elbows is literally to soak them in grease.

You needn't waste expensive cold cream on your elbows; one of the best cosmetics ever made is plain white lard. This is cleansing and nourishing. It may help to grow hair on faces that have a tendency toward superfluous hair, but it can only do good to the elbows.

The first treatment always is to scrub the arms and elbows with hot water and soap, and to rinse them with hot water. This opens the pores so the cream can penetrate more easily. Now rub thoroughly with lard, or if you dislike its odor, with olive oil, or almond oil, or cold cream. If the elbows are very bad indeed, rub them with lanoline or cocoa butter. These two greases are very heavy and rather hard to work in unless they are previously warmed. They are the best, however, for a very dry or very chapped skin.

A good normal treatment for elbows during winter weather is to rub them first with grease, and then to scrub this out with warm water and soap. The skin is left practically free from surface oil, but the advantage is that the washing takes no oil from the skin. This part of the skin needs as much oil as possible; in fact this method is the best one to use all winter, for the elbows can then never become chapped and dirty.

If your elbows are very bad you had better give them a variation of the cosmetic glove treatment. That is, scrub them with hot water and soap and rub them full of some fairly heavy grease, leave a thick coating of the grease over the surface and tie up all night.

Mary A. C.:—After the pores have become disturbed it will take a long time to contract them, but you will be helping the condition if you take a daily full bath. This will relieve the pores of the face. Always complete any cleansing of the complexion by dashing very cold water over it until the skin glows from the reaction, or better still take an ice tub.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a person or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A FLIRT
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man 22 years of age. I stayed in the country for about a year and during that time became acquainted with a girl whom I liked very much.

Now I live in the city and since living here have been with this girl several times. I have learned to like her very much with the exception of one thing. When I go places with her, for example, to a show, she pays more attention to the other young men around her than to me. I have told her of my love for her, and she says she loves me? Would you advise me to mention it to her?

Also would you advise me to get her an engagement ring? Or do you think she is untrue to me? If I get her a ring, which do you think she would prefer, platinum or gold? CONSTANT READER.

The girl probably flirts and over mild heat, then add to it the contents of a three-pound can of tomatoes, one large peeled onion finely chopped, one large green sweet pepper seeded then chopped and one garlic button, also chopped. Simmer this mixture for twenty minutes, stirring occasionally to keep smooth. (If your local grocer does not carry chili powder, write to me, enclosing a stamp, and I will tell you where you can buy it by mail.)

Tomorrow:—Answered Letters

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Who's Who in the Day's News

MAJ. GEN. GEORGE O. SQUIER
The recent retirement from active service in the army of Maj. Gen. George O. Squier, chief of the signal corps, means that he will devote all his time to his scientific studies and inventions. He is now ranked as one of the foremost scientists in the field of radio and is noted for many inventions of value, especially in telegraphy.

Maj. Gen. Squier won recognition here and abroad through his invention of "wired wireless," while made multiplex telephony possible. A patent on his multiplex telegraphy system was taken out by him in 1910 and filed in the name of the people, Gen. Squier thus waiving the opportunity for financial reward on it.

Gen. Squier was graduated from West Point, class of 1887, and has seen continuous army service since then. During the Spanish-American war he was chief signal officer of the Third Army Corps, and served in the Philippines throughout the insurrection.

In 1916 he was recalled as military attaché at London to organize the air service for the army. He founded the Signal Corps School at Leavenworth, Kan., and has represented the government at many important conferences, including the conference for the limitation of armament in Washington.

During the World War he was decorated by Field Marshal Haig with the Order of Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George and received the Distinguished Service Medal, U. S. A., and the Italian decoration, Commander of the Order of the Crown.

My advice is to forgive her and drop this unfortunate matter entirely.

Cherry Snow

Cherry Snow: Soften one table spoon of granulated gelatine in one-half cup of cold water. Drain the juice from one can of cherries and bring it to the boiling point in a saucepan. When hot add this juice to the gelatine with one-half cup of sugar and the juice of one lemon. Turn into a bowl and when nearly set beat it to a froth. Now fill glasses with alternate layers of this frothy mixture and halves of cherries. Top with three whole cherries. (Contributed by Mrs. C. M.)

Bread Griddlecakes: Break stale bread into small pieces. You will need two cups; cover this amount with soup milk and let stand overnight. In the morning put the soaked bread through a wide-meshed sieve and add to it one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of soda and one-half cup of flour (mixed). Beat the mixture well and add one beaten egg. Fry as any griddlecakes. If you use an aluminum griddle you will need no grease, which is quite a help (in fact, any aluminum utensil is an excellent purchase.)

Ham Mexican Style: Buy either one whole, or one-half ham. Some women buy a ham jointly with a neighbor, then divide it. Take enough cold water to cover the ham and add to it one-half cup of sugar and one tablespoon of Chili Powder (for a whole ham, however, you will need two tablespoons of Chili Powder and one whole cup of sugar). Let the ham soak overnight in this water and in the morning simmer in a covered pot in the same water. Allow twenty minutes to the pound in boiling it. When cooked in this manner, remove it from the water, take off skin and sprinkle with a little black pepper. Bake thirty minutes in a hot oven, to brown the outside. (Contributed by Mrs. C. M.)

Tomato Sauce for Cold Meats: Blend two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of flour, one teaspoon of salt and two teaspoons of chili powder; melt this mixture

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Titles of present-day song hits are no more weird than those of half a century ago!

That is the contention of Thomas F. Boyle, San Franciscan, who was in his heyday as a singer in 1870.

"Tapioca" was the title of a hit in 1873, and the caption meant nothing at all, according to Boyle.

"See That My Grave's Kept Green," "Empty Is the Cradle, Baby's Gone," "There's a Letter in the Candle," and "The Little One That Died" were songs that swayed Western pioneers.

In 1879 "What an Education Has My Mary Ann" won every music lover. Other hits of that time were "Grandfather's Home," "Fogarty's Christmas Cake" and "Only to See Her Face."

The saddest song of all in the early days was a favorite of Boyle's, entitled, "The Flower from Mother's Grave."

The official "tear bringer" of fifty years ago was "Mama, Tell Me Where Is Heaven?"

In 1877 Boyle achieved particular fame singing a love song entitled, "I'm Waiting, Essie, Dear."

"Songs of today are quite like those of half a century ago," declares Boyle. "A song to be popular in the old days had to have a little humor, some sentiment and a hitting melody, which, I think, is true of today."

The mystic isles of the South Seas, where they plan to take great riches by harvesting from the floor of the Pacific Ocean a huge deposit of pearls, is the goal of three ancient San Franciscans, whose combined ages aggregate 230 years.

Plans for the treasure expedition are now being made, and a tiny craft, bearing the trio, will shove off here shortly, bound for the land of hidden pearls.

Captain Robert C. Nye, 80, veteran whalerman and general adventurer, will head the expedition. With him will sail Tom Bowlin, who is only 74 years old, and William Woods, just 66. Woods is a veteran of the sea, and Bowlin was one time champion boat steerer of Pacific whalers.

Nye and his companions recently purchased a cutter discarded by the navy. It is only forty feet long and is almost fifty years old. Hard work by the three seamen has turned the cutter into a schooner, which is now equipped with diving gear and other apparatus to be used in the pearl quest.

A full supply of provisions has been loaded on the boat, and as soon as California poppies cover the hills surrounding San Francisco Bay the three ancient mariners will cast off on their long trek upon the Pacific.

"I leave him all the money he owes me, which amounts to thousands," said the man who died here after a long residence. The bequest was made to Attorney Jay Monroe Latimer, who lived at the Wilson home for more than fourteen years.

write diatribes against those who do not believe. Others become advocates of blue laws, and not a few blame the cigarette as the prime cause of all crime.

Dr. Smithson said that the following sentence recently appeared in a manuscript sent to him from San Quentin: "Material possessions on a grand scale, as a rule, connote a lack of that more enduring prosperity which signifies character."

A prison inmate who had a story accepted by a magazine wrote to Dr. Smithson as follows: "This work gives me that faith which causes a fellow to long for the day he will swing through the gate and back into the open—not simply a longing for freedom and the joys it will bring, but that intense desire to go back, clean the slate and prove there is still something under the surface worth salvaging."

Captains of the transatlantic liners, are, as a class, martyrs. Not only do they have the responsibility of the ship's safety in their hands, but they must also be host. In the latter capacity, they must, of course, face the thousands of questions of inquisitive passengers.

The captain of one North Atlantic liner was bothered by a young woman who was always inquiring about the possibility of seeing a whale. A dozen times she besought him to have her called if one hove in sight.

"But, madam," the captain asked her, rather impatiently, "why are you so eager to see a whale?"

"Captain," she answered, "my desire in life is to see a whale blubber. It must be very impressive to watch such an enormous creature cry."

On another ship a portly woman of ever smiling expression baited a captain who was off the bridge after many hours consecutive duty because of the heavy fog in which the ship vessel was running.

"Captain," she asked, "is it at all foggy right here?"

"How in the hell do I know, madam? I don't live here!"

This story concerns a Sunday school band of Christmas carol singers. They sailed forth on Christmas Eve to sing at the houses of various members of the congregation. They were generally well received, and, in addition to donations of money, they were often treated to refreshments.

It was decided to risk a visit at the home of an old man who had some of the characteristics of Scrooge, and the band formed under his bedroom window, singing a well known carol. In a few minutes the window was opened and the favored one's nightcap appeared.

"How many are there of you?" he asked.

"Twenty," was the hopeful response.

"Very well," he said, "throwing a large pailful of water over them, 'divide that among you!'"

'ROYAL MOUNTED' CATCH SLAYERS

Fugitives Captured After Two Year Chase

The men who figured in the most recent exploit of the Royal North-western Mounted Police of Canada: In the rear—Matsey Klengben, Eskimo interpreter; William Koehn, and Special Constable Havent. Middle row—Corporal W. V. Bruce, Inspector C. D. La Nauzen. In front, the prisoners—Ulukssak and Simisiak.

"And they got their man." That's a line in every story about the Royal Northwest Mounted Police of Canada, the stalwart men in red uniforms who supply material for so many movie plots. The latest exploit of the force is the capture after twenty-eight months of trailing of two Eskimo, Simisiak and Ulukssak, who murdered two French Canadian priests, Rouvier and La Roux. They were trailed through the Arctic Circle and then brought back by a party headed by Inspector C. D. La Nauzen, a hero of the World War, whose dog "Mike" was his constant companion.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

A MODERN MAID SPEAKS Men may write me sonnets to my eyebrows or my nose. Or write me silly nothings in a hyperbolic prose.

The hat from the White House seems to have covered up about all the others that have been shunted into the ring.

We run the risk of offending our readers with a bromide by saying that we believe that J. B. Razor of Rochester, N. Y., must be one of the sharpest men in that town.

While the development of military airplanes in this country has been delayed we have high-fliers who break not only world's altitude records regularly, but the length of time in the air records as well.

If we believe the newspapers, an old man flew from the western border of Texas to Kansas City, Mo., the other day without touching the ground. He had no new-fangled airplane, but rode astride the cable of his corncob. The journey was taken without the expenditure of a nickel for petrol because the corncob and its solitary passenger rode on the wings of one of those cute little cyclones.

The old man believes he was up about ten hours. He was delighted to find himself in Kansas City, because his daughter lives there and he had intended to make the trip anyhow.

Such incidents are so common, if we believe newspaper reports, that they no longer rouse any sort of excitement. It is said many people in the cyclone belt have always traveled that way. It would be downright irksome and monotonous for them to travel in Pullman cars amid the smoke and cinders and colored palmists.

When a man in that country wants to go to St. Louis or Cairo, Ill., he puts on his Sunday clothes, packs his grip, kisses the wife and kids good-bye and goes out and sits on the roof of his barn. Of course the cyclone may be a few hours behind time, but the same is true of many of the local trains on the small railroads. Then the cyclone offers an added advantage in that it always makes up time and never fails to arrive at its destination ahead of schedule.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ICE CREAM "Uncle Wiggily! Oh, ho, Uncle Wiggily!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Yes! Yes! What is it? Are you in danger from the Fuzzy Fox?" shouted the rabbit gentleman, as he stopped twinking his pink nose in front of the looking glass. He ran to the kitchen, whence had come Nurse Jane's voice.

"No, no! The Fuzzy Fox isn't here nor the Woozie Wolf, either!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. She wiped from her tail a little pancake batter which had splashed there by accident when she was getting Uncle Wiggily's breakfast. Then she looked at the rabbit gentleman and asked: "When are you going adventuring?"

"Very soon," replied the bunny. "I was about to hop away when I saw you calling. I thought something was the matter."

"Something is the matter," went on Nurse Jane, with a smile, "but it isn't so very much. You know I am going to have a little company of animal ladies here today."

"Yes," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "I heard you say something about that."

"Well," Nurse Jane said, "I was going to give them ice cream and cake for lunch. The cake part is all right, for I have baked lovely chocolate one with coconut custard in the middle and—"

"Oh, Nurse Jane! Please may I stay to the party?" begged the rabbit.

Uncle Wiggily was very fond of chocolate cake with cocoanut custard in the middle.

"You may have some cake if you will go get the ice cream for me," promised Nurse Jane. "Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman, promised to bring me the ice cream, but he seems to have forgotten."

"I'll go to his ice cave and get it for you!" quickly cried Uncle Wiggily. Putting on his warm fur coat, he pulled his cap down over his ears, off hopped the bunny rabbit gentleman to the ice bear's cave.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted Mr. Whitewash, when he saw the rabbit gentleman sliding down on a cake of frozen snow. "Glad to see you! Have an icicle?" and the polar bear held out a long one.

"Thank you, no! I came for Nurse Jane's ice cream," answered the rabbit uncle. "She says you promised to bring it."

"Bless my rubber boots!" laughed the polar bear. "I forgot all about it! You see, I've been so busy putting sharp points on icicles to tickle jumping jacks with that I didn't remember Nurse Jane's ice cream. But I have it all ready for her, if you don't mind taking it."

Uncle Wiggily, the polar bear gentleman, was very busy. When he wasn't helping Jack Frost make snowballs he was freezing ice cream for parties.

President B. F. Mears Resigns in Controversy Over Community Issues

At a special meeting of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce, C. C. Campbell, vice-president, was chosen to head the organization, following the resignation of the president, B. F. Mears, who withdrew from the office following controversy over some important community issues. A motion that a new president be elected was lost when several members objected on the grounds that a special meeting should be announced for that purpose, and Mr. Campbell will serve until an election is called.

Incorporation of Sunland and Tujunga as one city, sixth class, was discussed. A plan for selecting city trustees was also brought out, the general opinion being that the Tujunga-Sunland territory should be divided into five districts of equal extent, if incorporated, and one member of the board elected from each district.

Monte Vista Park Sign
A sign bearing the words "Monte Vista Park, Sunland," has been furnished by the county for erection near the state highway and Sherman avenue, with the provision that the people of Sunland place it.

Plans have been made for starting work on the new Baptist church at Sunland. The building committee, consisting of Dr. Glenn H. Hammond, Leo Smith, N. B. Lancaster, C. H. Cottage and W. M. Bloomfield, have formulated plans which they expect to carry out immediately. The church will be in the Lancaster tract.

Members of the Sunland Women's club were guests of the Tujunga Women's club Thursday afternoon at Tujunga. Miss Mary A. Rhodes of the state federation of women's clubs was the principal speaker on the program. Her subject was "History and Landmarks of the Los Angeles District."

P.-T. A. Plans Program
Many interesting features of entertainment have been added to the program to be given by the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association February 19, at the Monte Vista school auditorium, Sunland. Among the speakers expected are Mrs. Shelton Blaisell, district president; Mrs. Zorn, secretary of Los Angeles county; Mrs. Dalton, emblem and magazine; Mrs. H. B. Henry of Glendale, Mrs. Pauline Hurley and Mrs. R. L. Hamilton.

The celebration will be in honor of the first birthday anniversary of the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association and the twenty-sixth anniversary of the National Parent-Teacher association, and the birth anniversaries of Lincoln and Washington. A cake bearing one candle and one having twenty-six will be served.

Occidental college students are to be given an opportunity to learn newspaper writing. Through the efforts of Dr. B. F. The aim of the class is to give those students desiring a course the fundamentals of newspaper work.

The class will study news articles, editorials, make-up, composition, leads, advertising, printing of the paper and the planning of a complete newspaper. Already over thirty future cub reporters, both men and women, have enrolled in this course and it is proving very popular. Regular college credit is given for the work.

Constantinople Is a Most Interesting City

(Continued From Page 1) and was soon passed. Beautiful beach homes and apartments with backgrounds of hills and trees were seen, other large buildings of unknown classification came into view slowly, and as we entered the Marmora sea with the full view of the city before us we came to a full stop and had a fine opportunity for studying the panorama which lay before us and which has been described by innumerable writers as one of the most beautiful sights of the world.

"The many large domes and minarets of the mosques add to the picturesqueness of the scene, and the lay of the city, as it rises on the hills on both sides, adds it very materially. To the left or east was Scutari, in Asia Minor. Many rowboats ston surrounded us and 'stuck around' until we came to anchor after inspection an hour later.

"The larger boats all have to lie out in the harbor here, as there are few docks. As the Turkish officials came aboard and were inspecting our passports and visas I told them frankly what we had heard, that they were requiring inoculation against the plague, had closed the only American hotel, required much time and red tape to get a visit out of town, etc., and that if such was the case and tourists were not wanted, we didn't want to leave the boat except for a few hours.

Scout Leaders' Institute To Train Executives In Principles Of Leadership

To bring the spirit of scouting to every boy and man in Glendale is the aim of the scout leaders' training institute, to be held Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday afternoon and night, March 6, 7 and 8, at the Harvard Street high school, under the auspices of the Glendale District Committee, Verdugo Hills District Council, Boy Scouts of America.

"Service, Satisfaction, Happiness" are the key words to the purpose of the institute, which has been arranged by Prof. George U. Moyses, department head, Lyman Clark, district chairman, Roy L. Kent, president of the council, and Harvey R. Chesman, Boy Scout executive.

Neat folders telling of the institute state that "it is to provide men of character to lead the boyhood of Glendale and to give to the boys of Glendale the wonderful national program of Scouting."

The institute is to be open to all men of good character, who wish to be of service to boys.

Program is Outlined
Outlines of the sessions are given as: Thursday night, March 6, 7:30 o'clock, Scout songs; address, "The Boy Scout Program;" attended to, and would have no trouble at all. So we came ashore in a rowboat, were taken in tow by a small Turkish boy as interpreter, and after being annoyed by frequent inspections and worried by a nondescript crowd of "hangers-on" for an hour or so we finally reached the hotel, now regarded as the best in the city, "The Tokatlari."

"It is European, but they have a good dining room, so we are doing very well at a total cost of $10 to $12 a day. We received five or six letters and Christmas cards from friends here which have gladdened our hearts, but you don't know how cold and desolate a Christmas card looks alongside a good news letter. Mails are so slow and news so scarce in all the Levant that, whenever you have any friends here, write them letters!"

Another of Mr. Kirk's letters will be printed at an early date.

organization of men into troop; the patrol system, of troop administration; the troop council of boy leaders; Scout advancement demonstration; games and light refreshments.

Saturday night, talk on stars; campfire program, yells, songs, jokes, inspirational talk, patrol stunts, stories.

On the folder is a message, entitled "Your Opportunity." It reads: "Not only in the field of Scouting, but in all fields of boys' work there is a crying need of trained leadership.

"With this need in mind this course has been planned to 'put over' the largest amount of helpful material in the shortest possible time.

"Scoutmasters, assistant Scoutmasters, troop committeemen, Sunday school teachers, church boys' department men, boys' work committeemen from lodges and clubs and prospective boy leaders (18 years of age or over) are invited to attend.

"An excellent faculty of experts will be at your service.

"In exemplification of troop organization and the model troop, we men will take the part of the boys. We will ourselves learn Scout methods in a practical way by being formed into a model troop, etc. Let us be boys again for a little while and play the Scout games and sing Scout songs with the Scout executive as leader. It will be lots of fun for us and we will also better understand Scouting from boys' standpoint.

Report Burglaries to Police; Bike Thefts

The number of burglaries reported to local police headquarters over the week-end was lighter than has been the case for several weeks past, but with a holdup and several accidents wherein the injuries were more or less of a serious nature, the blotter is unusually heavy.

The home of C. M. Daggett, 320 West Lomita avenue, was entered Saturday afternoon, and soon after, W. P. Kennedy, 371 West Lexington, reported that his home had been broken into, followed closely by another complaint from F. G. Snyder, in the same block, at 365 West Lexington, that the back door of his house had been forced between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Although the complete list of articles missing has not been furnished the detective bureau, the loss consists mainly of jewelry and small articles of clothing, such as ties and handkerchiefs.

An epidemic of bike thefts seems to have struck the city, as an even dozen were reported stolen on Saturday and Sunday. In most cases the thieves ride the bicycles around and then desert them. In most cases the owners recover their property.
