Declare Board Has Disregarded Commission's Recommendations

Ottawa, May 5.—Alleged disregard by the Board of Pension Commissioners of the findings of the royal commission in the matter of the Great War Veterans' Association charges against the board is given as the cause for C. G. Macneil, on behalf of the association, presenting to-day a demand to Colonel John Thompson, chairman of the Board, that he make a definite statement of the Board's intentions. Until a decision is received members of the Dominion Command of the G. W. V. A. declare they will literally camp on the doorsteps of the Pension Commissioners' office. One of the adjustment officers, Captain C. P. Gilman, remained at the Pension Board office for this purpose this morning after Mr. Macneil had delivered the letter to the chairman. If no answer is received before closing hours another member of the Dominion Command will go "on duty" at the pension office at 8.30 Monday morning. A system of "reliefs" has been planned to carry on this vigil indefinitely.

RAGE DECISION WILL AFFECT KENYA

Indians There Demand Equal Rights With White People

Decision in London Also Will Influence Dominion

London, May 5.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Within the next few weeks a decision of prime importance to the whole British Empire will be taken here on the eternal color question. Just at present the question applies more directly to the crown colony of Kenya, where the Indian residents are claiming equal rights with the white settlers as well as unrestricted admission to the country, but no secret is made of the fact that in the event of the Indian claims in Kenya being granted, similar questions will be raised with regard to Indians in all parts of the Empire.

Large deputations of Indians and Britishers from the East are now gathered in London for the purpose to settle the question at issue. Sir Robert Coryndon, Governor of Kenya, is also in London in connection with the matter.

Kenya Colony, the population of which, according to the census of 1921, is 2,529,133, consists of fertile uplands with an area equivalent to a belt about three miles wide from Montreal to Vancouver, and is capable of growing two crops a year of almost all the staple food products.
The territory, which was formerly known as British East Africa, should not be confused with the former German colony, now known as Tanganyika, which is being administered by Great Britain under a mandate from the League of Nations.

Two Deputations.
The present struggle lies between two deputations in London, one representing 10,000 white settlers headed by Lord Delamere, and the other representing 25,000 Indians, chiefly of the trading class, under President Desai of the East African Congress.

Accompanying the latter are delegates from India itself, notably among them being Rt. Hon.
Srinivasa Sastri, whose visit to Canada last year was a protest against a cut in wages for Indians in the Dominion which will be recalled.

Sastri is being strongly supported by the Government of India, and probably will be assisted during the discussions by the famous Prince Agakhan.

Held Balance.
Holding the balance between the deputations will stand the Secretary of State for India and the Colonies.

Conversations have been opened with the Duke of Devonshire, Colonial Secretary, in the matter. He will be assisted by Sir Robert Coryndon, representing the Government of Kenya, who has come to England to take part in the negotiations.

MURDERESS ESCAPED

San Salvador, May 5.—It is reported from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that Clara Phillips, the California
"hammer murderer," who was being detained there, has escaped. The report has not been confirmed.

DUBLIN FIREMEN OUT ON STRIKE ON WAGE REDUCTION

Dublin, May 5.—The City of Dublin is without a fire brigade today, the firemen having struck at noon as a protest against a cut in wages. The only members of the brigade on duty this afternoon were the captain and the lieutenant in charge.

VICTORIA CLOCKS TO GO AHEAD AN HOUR TO-NIGHT

Mayor Hayward to-day issued an official proclamation announcing that daylight saving would become effective here at midnight to-night. All clocks in Victoria will be put ahead one hour at midnight and Victorians will get up an hour earlier than usual to-morrow morning. Daylight saving will continue until September 9.

"Everyone should place his clock an hour ahead before retiring to-night, so that the early time may be generally observed to-morrow morning," the Mayor said. "The City Hall clock will be advanced an hour at midnight."

Under a by-law passed by the City Council recently the time for all purposes in Victoria from midnight to-night until September 9 will be one hour ahead of standard time. Firms or individuals failing to observe the new time will be liable to prosecution.

BRITAIN NOT READY FOR DRY LAW YET, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

When Convinced of Benefits, It Will Go Like Head of Charles I.—Temperance Reformers Watching American Experiment—Politics Often Divide Champions of Local Option—Britain, as a Whole, Treats Prohibition as a Joke

BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, O. M., M. P.
(Former British Premier)

hibited. All rights reserved.

London, May 5.—Four years ago, the United States of America, by a two-thirds majority, voted prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquor. The British House of Commons has just voted down a bill for the same purpose by a majority of 236 to 14.

America treats prohibition as one of its greatest moral triumphs. Britain treats it as a joke.
What accounts for this remarkable disparity in the attitude of two great English-speaking communities toward one of the most baffling and elusive problems civilization has to deal with?

It cannot be a fundamental difference in temperament or in moral outlook. The men who engineered prohibition in America are of our own race and kind, bred in Puritan traditions that came originally from our shores. If the evils of excessive drinking had been more apparent in America than in Britain I understand the states of the Union deciding to take more drastic action than has been thought necessary in our country.

But the facts are exactly the reverse. The consumption of alcohol in the United Kingdom before the war per head of population was twice that of the United States. The poverty, disease and squalor caused by alcohol were therefore much greater in Britain than in America. What, then, accounts for the readiness of America to forbid sale and the reluctance of Britain even seriously to restrict?

I would not care to dogmatize the subject, but will hazard two or three possible explanations. I am aside the suggestion that property owners are frightened by the sequel to prohibition in Russia. I have heard it argued that the prohibition ukase of the Czar was responsible for the Russian Revolution. That is telling the truth, for people stupefied by alcohol will stand anything. The inefficiency and corruption of the Czarist regime was so appalling that no sober nation could have tolerated it without rebellion for a single year, and when the fumes of vodka ceased to muddle
the mind the moujik, he rebelled against the autocracy that had betrayed his country in disaster. The Russian experiment in drink, therefore, contains no warning against prohibition except a very limited one that those who wish to misrule a country in safety must first of all crush it with alcohol.

CHANNEL FLIGHT WAS CANCELLED

French Aviator in Small Aero-plane Lacked Escort

Barbot's Machine Thirteen-Horsepower Monoplane

St. Inglevert, France, May 5.— George Barbot, French aviator, who started early this afternoon in an announced attempt to fly the English Channel and return in a thirteenhorsepower monoplane, returned here two hours after his take-off. He said he had turned back because the two hydro-aeroplanes which were to have accompanied him failed to appear.

Barbot is noted for his gliding exploits. It was his intention to fly today to Lymeport and back, a distance of about seventy-two miles. The flight was to be for a size of 25,000 francs offered by The Matin for the aviator flying over the Channel and back in a French aeroplane of a horsepower of less than fifteen horsepower.

DEVONSHIRE TO TOUR THE EMPIRE

British Government Makes Suggestion to Increase Empire Trade

Lord Kyslane Speaks of the Potentialities

London, May 5.—Presiding at the annual dinner of the London Chamber of Commerce, Lord Kyslane emphasized the potentialities for the development of Empire trade and said that essential foodstuffs and raw materials were procurable within the Empire to a far greater extent than ever before. The exhibition next year at Wembley would be a revelation, he said.

The Duke of Devonshire, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said the Government attached the most serious importance to the development of inter-Europe trade. It had suggested, he added, that the Colonial Secretary should take an early opportunity of touring the Empire.

Sir William Johnston-Hicks, Postmaster-General, toasting the Dominions and Colonies, promised to use every endeavor to better the communications with the Dominions.

TREMORS DISTURB NORTH PACIFIC

Four Earthquakes Recorded
Here in Period of 30 Hours

The North Pacific area is apparently in the centre of a seismic disturbance. According to the records made on the seismograph at Gonzales Observatory
there have been several tremors recorded in the past thirty hours. Yesterday allusion was made to a serious disturbance in Alaska, the record continuing for four hours. There was a minor quake obtained in the afternoon at 1.43 o'clock, and two minor ones reported this morning at 9.41 and 7.05
hours after midnight.

Superintendent F. Napier Denison believes that there will continue to be minor records made for several days, owing to the greatly improved character of his instruments, and the possibility of detecting seismic per-turbation which formerly passed unnoticed.

He is seeking standardization of records with some of the Pacific observing stations, so that closer observation may be made of the phenomenon of the earth's crust under sea off this coast.

Washington, May 5.—Two earthquakes were recorded yesterday on the Georgetown University seismograph, the second being at 3.23
p. m. and continuing about thirty minutes. Like the first disturbance, the second was described by Father Tondorf, in charge of the instrument, as of moderate intensity. He estimated the centre of the second disturbance at about 4,700 miles from Washington, which was about 300 miles farther away than the indicated centre of the first.

In Chile.
Santiago, Chile, May 5.—Northern Chile was shaken by a strong earthquake at about 6 o'clock last night,
according to telegrams received here.
No casualties are reported, but the inhabitants of Copiapo, La Serena and Valparaiso were alarmed by the shock, which is described in some dispatches as equalling that of last November in intensity. Communication with some points is interrupted.

that following the shock the ocean
receded beyond the low tide mark.

KRUPP MEN ON TRIAL BRING FORTY-THREE DEFENCE WITNESSES

Von Bohlen and Nine Other Accused Germans Spring
Surprise at Werden; French Courtmartial May Not Be Concluded Until Monday.

Werden, Germany, May 5.—The defence sprang a surprise to-day at the resumption of the courtmartial of Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and the other defendants who are charged with responsibility for the disturbance at the Krupp plant on March 31.
Counsel announced that twenty-two additional defence witnesses had been summoned, bringing the total to forty-three.

Frederick von Buelow, liaison agent between the Krupp directors and the French Economic Mission, was the first witness called to-day.

The court also heard the testimony of four French soldiers who were members of the squad which entered the Krupp plant on March 31. They gave evidence to show that the defendant Mueller, chairman of one of the workingmen's councils, was responsible for inciting the workers to attack the French troops.

With the additional witnesses called by the defence it seems possible the trial will not be completed before last Sunday, and perhaps not until Monday.

Those on trial are Dr. Krupp von Bohlen, president of the great Krupp works, five of the directors and four members of the workmen's council.
During the disturbance on March 31
out of which the charges grew, French troops fired on a threatening mob, fourteen workmen being killed and thirty wounded.

German Protest
Cologne, May 5.—Eight organizations, including all the Rhinish labor, industrial, commercial, agricultural and religious bodies and all the political parties with the exception of the Communists, have issued a joint protest against the making of the Rhinefeld French, an aim which French policy has pursued for centuries.

The protest asserts that Woodrow Wilson, as well as David Lloyd George and President Millerand, are whom helped to draft the Treaty of Versailles, have revealed France as aspiring to this goal.

Brussels, May 5.—The Belgian Council of Ministers to-day examined the German reparations proposals and unanimously decided they were unac-

WORKMEN OPPOSE BREAK WITH RUSSIA

Independent Labor Party in Britain Makes Move
Against Cancellation of Trade Agreement by Britain

London, May 5.—The Independent Labor Party is organizing this week
a movement among the workers of Great Britain to prevent the Government from breaking off relations with Russia, including cancellation of the trade agreement.

Since the Ministry recently stated in the House of Commons that the question of Russian relations was under consideration, the workers of an impending breach have been strengthened and the Labor group has announced that it is prepared to involve, if necessary, "direct action" by the workers to forestall such a step.

A Stern Note.
The Daily Herald, the labor organ, says to-day there is good reason to believe the Government has decided to send a stern note to Moscow complaining of Russian treatment of the British seamen, and that the Government will take steps to prevent the seizure of British trawlers off the Murmansk coast, the tone of communications to the British agent at Moscow and allied branches of the press.

The note, according to The Herald,
will not be couched in ordinary diplomatic terms. "As it stands at present," says The Herald, "it appears to be a declaration of war, and is likely to result in a quarrel and a rupture of both political and commercial relations."

To Act Promptly.
Clifford Allan, chairman of the Independent Labor Party, says in a statement that Labor must be prepared to act again with vigor and promptly in the event of a determination as when it took effective steps through an emergency council of action to prevent a new war at the time Great Britain was inclined to participate in the Polish attack on Russia in 1920.

EXCAVATORS SEEK TOMB OF DAVID

Archaeologists Plan Work
South of Jerusalem

London, May 5.—The recent announcement that excavations are to be made at Jerusalem in a search for David's Tomb aroused anxiety in some religious quarters here, where it was feared the work would devastate sacred sites.

The British Colonial Department,
however, has issued a reassuring statement, asserting that the actual location of the ancient City of David was not on the spot mentioned by tradition. Archaeologists long ago established the statement that the city stood on a hill triangular square of ground called Mount Ophel, south of the present Jerusalem. It is on this site, which has heretofore been of no religious interest to Christians, Jews or Moslems, that the excavations in the search for David's Tomb are to be made.

ESCAPED DEATH BY INCHES

In a complaint lodged with the Provincial Police to-day the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway complains of reckless driving across the level crossing at Colwood by automobile owners. On May 2 a motor boat the north-bound train to the crossing by 24 inches and its occupants narrowly escaped sudden death. In future, say the police, cancellation of license awaits such driving.

SEES WEAKENING OF FRIENDSHIP

Sulgrave Institution Makes Declaration About U.S.-British Relations

War Spirit Departs; Commercial Rivalry Returns

New York, May 5.—Relations between this country and Great Britain are distinctly less friendly than they have been at any previous time in the last eight or nine years, and the people of both nations display an "astounding indifference" toward each other, says the 1922 report of the Sulgrave Institution of the United States, made public yesterday. The growing apathy is attributed by the institute to the cooling of war passions and differences of opinion over the peace terms, the activities of alien organizations, the renewal of commercial rivalry, and the character of United States news sent to Great Britain.

CONSTABLE MURDER CHARGE HEARD

E. E. Trider, Calgary Traveler, Appears Before Drumheller Magistrate

Drumheller, Alta., May 5.—Charged with the murder of Constable Paris, Drumheller policeman, E. E. Trider, Calgary traveler, was arraigned before Magistrate Connor for preliminary hearing to-day.

Paris was killed when he and Chief Fletcher, Wednesday night boarded a car driven by Trider, in search of nine sacks of whisky known to be in the rear compartment, and the car crashed into a plank fence at the side of the road.

Dan B. Buchanan, Drumheller, who was in the car at the time of the crash, is held on a liquor act charge. Testifying on Saturday morning, he declared that he had asked Trider to stop when hailed by the policemen, and that when Trider continued to speed the car, neither of the officers had done anything to interfere with the wheel.

MISMANAGEMENT OF ESTATE CHARGED

Chicago, May 5.—Charges of mismanagement of the $100,000,000 estate of the late Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago were made in a bill filed in court here to-day on behalf of Lady Margaret Hyde, widow of the Earl of Suffolk and Berke, a daughter of the pioneer merchant. She asked the removal of her brother, Joseph Leiter, as one of the trustees of the estate.

Lady Hyde alleges that she was "crowded out" of a voice in the management of the estate by her brother and their sister, Mrs. Nancy Lathrop Carver Campbell of Santa Barbara, Calif. She sets forth that there originally were five trustees, Mary T. Leiter widow of Levi Z. Leiter and Joseph Leiter, Mrs. Campbell, Seymour Morris and the complainant; and that after Mrs. Campbell died, her husband was appointed. When Morris died, Lady Hyde alleged, Joseph Leiter caused William J. Farr, an employee of Leiter's office, to be appointed.

The bill asks for an accounting of the estate.

Lady Hyde charges that Joseph Leiter operated his trusteeship "as if he owned" the estate. The bill alleges that he made many important transactions without consulting the other trustees.

One-third of the great estate was left in trust to Leiter's widow. There was a specific bequest of $700,000 and the residue of a trust fund of $1,000,000 left to the eldest daughter, Lady Mary Victoria Curzon, wife of Marquis George Nathaniel Curzon of Kedleston Hall, County of Derby, England, who died seventeen years ago, leaving three daughters as heirs. The residue of the estate was to be equally divided between the two remaining daughters and Joseph Leiter.

In a last hour rush, 1,000 voters, 900 of them in the city and 100 in Esquimalt, were registered to-day with G. H. Mabon, registrar at the Court House, before registration finally closed at 1 o'clock.

"It's the biggest return we have had since the general revision in 1920," Mr. Mabon said this afternoon.

To-day's registration brings the total number of voters in Victoria city proper up to around 15,000, about the same as it was for the general election of 1920.

WORLD LEAGUE LEADERS ADVISED TO CUT EXPENSES

Paris, May 5.—In the Senate Finance Committee's report on the Foreign Affairs budget, drafted by Senator Hubert, the League of Nations is criticized for lavish expenditures and is advised to practice economy.

"The League," says the report, "is organized with a multiplicity of subdivisions, with a luxury of personnel and a prodigality of disbursements for administrative office expenses and supplementary allowances to which should be directed the attention of the administrators of the League and those charged with supervision of its finances."

Morse, former teller of the International Trust Company, Denver, Colo., who is alleged to have absconded nearly two years ago with more than $78,000 of the bank's funds, is not the man wanted, in the opinion of police officials, who claim that identification of the man as Morse has not been established.

Investigation, the local police say, has failed to confirm the suspicion that the man arrested and who gave his name as J. C. Penfold was Morse. Penfold will be released this afternoon, the police announced.

Mallek's Eleventh Anniversary

Again we announce our anniversary, and take the opportunity of thanking those who have, during the years in which we have been in business, contributed towards our unusual success.

Eleven years ago we commenced business in a small upstairs location, selling women's suits, coats and dresses at reasonable prices.

We bought for cash, and sold for cash. We also purchased in large quantities when the markets were most favorable, and by keeping our overhead expenses down to a minimum, were enabled to sell at prices hitherto unheard-of in this city.

This system of merchandising has proved to be a complete success, and has been maintained by us during our entire business career in Victoria. It has been of immense benefit to our patrons, as well as to ourselves.

We have grown, and to-day we have THE MOST COMPLETE GARMENT AND MILLINERY ESTABLISHMENT IN VICTORIA, where this long-established system is one of the strong features.

In commemoration of our Eleventh Anniversary we will offer during the week.

Is your Child anaemic?

The chief cause of Anaemia is intestinal poisoning, arising from indigestion and constipation.

The root cause of this trouble is a diet that is ill-balanced and deficient in certain vital ingredients which have an extraordinary influence on the metabolism of food. The attempt to remedy this with Iron tonics and purgatives only aggravates the condition.

Virol has been specially designed by Medical experts to supply those elements which are so absolutely necessary, and which are most commonly deficient in ordinary diet. The bone marrow in Virol is a valuable blood food and increases the number of red blood cells—supplying as it does organic iron in a form that is easily assimilated.

It is sufficiently laxative to restore regularity. Virol overcomes the sense of exhaustion and fatigue and restores tone and energy.

RAILWAYS TO HANDLE EXPRESS BUSINESS

The Field of National Lines Widened by Ottawa Legislation

Ottawa, May 5.—(Canadian Press)—A Government bill to enable the Canadian National Railway lines to do their own express business was reported from committee and given third reading in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, explained that formerly there had been the Canadian Northern Express Company and the Canadian Express Company, the latter operating over the Grand Trunk. There was also the Intercolonial Express Company, which had no connection with the Intercolonial Railway but was doing business over that railway. The Canadian Express had taken over the Intercolonial. There was one National Railway board now operating the companies and it was desired to form one company.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative Opposition, charged that W. D. Robb, formerly in charge of the motive power of the Grand Trunk Railway, who he understood, had been made vice-president in charge of the express business at a salary of $25,000 a year, had never had one day's experience in this line. How many more vice-presidents were there in such a category and earning such a large salary? he asked.

Mr. Graham replied that if Parliament wanted to interfere with the Board to the extent of learning the details of the management to be discussed in the House of Commons.

OLD MASTERS WERE SOLD FOR £92,447

London, May 5.—The famous collection of old masters belonging to the late Earl of Brownlow was sold yesterday, the sale bringing £92,447. Duxens paid £28,000 for Van Dyck's "Portrait of Anton Trieste" and £17,500 for Albert Cuyp's "The Mass of Dorchester," a record price for Cuyp's in this market. Concediano's "Holy Family" brought £9,200, Belli's "Adoration of the Shepherds" £4,200, and Gentile Bellini's "Portrait of Colloani" £3,500.

CHANGES MADE IN CHINESE BILL

Ottawa, May 5.—Proposed change in the Chinese Immigration Bill, which received third reading, were placed before the House in committee yesterday afternoon by Hon. Charles Stewart, who said that changes had been made to overcome some of the objections raised by the Opposition when the bill was previously discussed.

In reference to the appointment of a Controller of Chinese Immigration, it was now proposed to give the Governor-in-Council power to appoint a Controller or Chief Controller, an official of the Immigration Department or Customs Department. This would mean taking a man who had already been appointed by the Civil Service Commission. The Customs Department was included because there were ports where officials would be needed at which no immigration official was stationed, but a customs official was available.

Other amendments provided for the making of regulations for defining certain words and terms in the bill, and for regulating fees, etc., to be charged.

Ladner's Views. L. J. Ladner, Conservative, Vancouver South, said that in changing the clauses, the Minister proposed as one of the remedies of exclusion of Chinese from British Columbia, regulation by the Governor-in-Council.

Absolute exclusion was demanded in British Columbia, said Mr. Ladner. The House had been promised effective restriction. Mr. Ladner thought the clauses brought down by the Minister to restrict by Order-in-Council would not be sufficiently effective to overcome the ingenuity of the Chinese. The Government's definition of "merchant" would allow the admission of other than merchants. The bill was not strict enough. Dealing with the section defining who should be admitted as merchants, Mr. Stewart said it was proposed to add after merchant the words "to be defined by regulation." "The difficulty," he said, "is that if the definitions are placed in the act, the smallest loophole would be taken advantage of."

AID IS SENT TO RUSSIAN CLERGY

But Churches of Christ in America Did Not Share in Conclave

New York, May 5.—The Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America has assumed an attitude of hands off in the present religious situation in Russia. The Rev. Charles E. Macfarlane, General Secretary of the Council, said today that although the Council had been invited to send representatives to the All-Russian Church conclave held at Moscow this week, no action was taken. The Council was continuing its relief work among the Russian clergy, he declared.

Vancouver Island MAY DAY CELEBRATED BY DUNCAN CHILDREN

Special to The Times. Duncan.—The Agricultural Grounds presented a very gay appearance on Thursday afternoon when the children of the Duncan Consolidated School held their May Day celebrations. After the last few cold wet days the warm sunshine was very welcome and quite a crowd lined the railings or sat on the hill and under the trees to watch the performance. Mrs. Ruffell, who had charge of the arrangements and taught the children their songs and dances, is greatly to be congratulated on the result. Miss Clark, piano; Mrs. Macdonald, violin; and L. H. Garnett, drums, provided the orchestra.

Over 100 little girls in white dresses and colored sashes, flanked by Brownies, Girl Guides, and boys, formed a striking picture as they waited for the May Queen. She came on the arm of Mayor Smythe, with six maids of honor and two pages, and ascended her throne. The children all sang "Come Lassies and Lads," and then Mayor Smythe stepped forward and with a few well-chosen words placed a crown upon the May Queen. Two more choruses followed, "All Around the Maypole" and "May Day." The Queen sang a short solo, and the march to the Maypole, the dance round it, the twisting and pleating of the ribbons, red, white and blue, took place. There were two Maypoles, one for the children and the other for the adults. The dancing was so pretty and the dances so well done that it had to be repeated afterwards by special request.

The flag drill, done by 24 boys, under the direction of Mrs. Kelly and Miss Inches. Through the long intricate figures were one of the most striking features of the day. The singing of the "Swing Song" and folk dances by some of the other girls were most effective and showed careful training.

At the Social Club, which was the last card party of the season, the first prizes were won by Mrs. J. Roberts, Mrs. Hambley, Mr. McMullen and Mr. Watson. Second prizes were won by Mrs. A. Critchley, Mrs. Gilman, Mr. Veitch and R. Brethour. The ladies' highest bid was won by Mrs. J. Roberts, who won by Mrs. Fralick. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Hanston and Mrs. McMullen.

Special to The Times. Duncan.—The Chemist Hospital ball, held in the Chemist Athletic Club Hall, on Wednesday evening, under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Walter Nichol, was an unqualified success. The hall was gaily and effectively decorated with red and white, the hospital colors. The supper room was most beautiful with all kinds of Spring flowers. Needless to say, the supper was excellent.

AIRCRAFT AWARD PUT AT $85,000

British Company Had Claim Against United States

London, May 5.—The Aircraft Manufacturing Company has been awarded £85,000 in respect of its claim against the United States for the use of designs and machines of the de Havilland Four type. The original claim put before the investigating committee in March was for £1,000,000.

In a letter to the House of Commons the founder of the company, G. H. Thomas, describes the award as a great hardship.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

New York, May 5.—The International Police Conference closed its sessions last night with the election of Police Commissioner Joseph P. Kamp of New York as president and choosing of New York over Montreal for the 1925 convention. S. C. Dickson, chief of police of Toronto, was elected vice-president. An amendment to the constitution fixes the convention period biennially and makes the term of office two years.

Another resolution suggests the addition of police attaches to all Embassies and diplomatic missions to rank equally with the military and naval attaches. A resolution provides for a committee to take up the problem of obtaining an international agreement leading to simplification of extradition proceedings among the nations of the world.

URGES INQUIRY OF WIDER SCOPE

London Paper Suggests G.T.R. Commission Consider G.T.P. Debentures

London, May 5.—(Canadian Press Cable)—With regard to the representations to Premier Mackenzie King by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway four per cent. debenture holders on the question of their claims, The Saturday Review has a long article in which it says that more one studies the debenture holders' case the more evident it becomes that it is a good one.

At the same time, The Review says, owing to the complication involved in the relations of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Government had great justification in being misled concerning its liability regarding the Grand Trunk Pacific debentures, and practically in view of the apparent readiness of the Grand Trunk to make arrangements favorable to the Grand Trunk stock and equitable to the Grand Trunk Pacific four per cent. debentures.

The Review thinks it is desirable that the Royal Commission appointed by the Canadian Government to investigate the matter of fees and gratuities paid to the directors of the Grand Trunk Railway should extend its inquiry to the claim of the Grand Trunk Pacific debenture holders.

The Greatest Development in Footwear since Shoes have covered the human foot

STUDY THIS REPRODUCTION OF AN X-RAY PHOTOGRAPH

See how the Scaphoid Bone and the Metatarsal Bones are supported. Out of 200 bones in the human body, over 52 are in the feet. And, as if one tooth aches—it is enough so if one bone in the foot is strained or not properly supported, it causes discomfort and nerve troubles, not only local, but its effect is felt throughout the entire system.

ARCH DEFENDER SHOES WILL SOON BUILD UP YOUR FALLEN ARCHES

Not a novelty, but a high grade shoe, built on scientific, true-to-nature construction, with the utmost style to suit the most fastidious.

Webster describes Shoes as:— "A covering for the human foot having a stiff and somewhat thick sole and lighter top—usually of leather."

And that description just about circumscribes the scope and function of footwear as the world has known it in the past. Shoes have indeed been a covering—but certainly not a support to the foot—not a defender of correct formation of the bones of the foot—but merely a protection from snow and rain—cinders and cobblestones. Shoes have also been regarded as an article of adornment and as such have been objects of style and pleasing appearance—just like millinery. Shoe manufacturers have vied with each other for supremacy in quality, style and durability.

But during the past few years—particularly since the examinations for the army showed the alarming proportion of medically unfit because of foot weakness—the world has come to realize that the foot is a very important part of the human anatomy, subject to great strain and responsible for the health and happiness of the individual. Great was the shock at the revelation of hundreds of thousands of cases of fallen arches and other foot deformities during the war, and the public is now seeking shoes which "support" as well as cover the foot.

ARCH DEFENDER SHOES

For Men and Women.

Not only a scientifically built shoe, but a supremely high grade shoe.

The High Quality of Arch Defender Shoes is Unquestionable

They are beautiful shoes in every respect—beautiful in appearance, in grade of material—in excellence of workmanship. And in addition to their beauty, they are nature's true fit and arch-defenders.

IMMIGRATION QUESTIONS AND FACTS.

Under the editorial caption of "A Question to Ask Parliament" The Manitoba Free Press furnishes a pointed immigration catechism:

What does man require most to make himself a home and make himself a living? He requires land which is the source of 95 per cent. of the wealth of the world.

It may be that one hears that "Canada's Greatest Need is Immigration" wherever one goes; but the constant repetition of even this hackneyed phrase does not reduce its truth or detract from its importance.

These are the people who actually believe that the entrance of new folk should be regulated by the ability of the labor market to absorb them.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Gustave Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach declares that he never had an aggressive attitude.

the march of science has not halted. Every other day the world learns of some new contrivance that is going to revolutionize warfare and make it more horrible and devastating.

These considerations obtrude the question of the method that shall afford the most effective protection for the British Empire.

Therefore if money has to be spent on the instruments of strife and agony it looks as if the engine of the air is a better investment than the costly battleship that one single aerial torpedo can send to the bottom of the sea.

It can also be put down that the next war, if there is to be one, will hit the world when one or more powers, or combination of powers, are in a position to surprise the chosen foe.

It comes back to the point which has been emphasized on so many occasions. Unless the peoples of the world rise up in their peaceful might and give governments and politicians to understand that there shall be no more war, this otherwise not too bad world will still have to be put up with frequent attacks of nerves and the occasional disastrous flare-up.

ASTOUNDING LOSSES.

One of the bulletins just issued by the Canadian National Safety League points out that the fire losses in this country for the last week of February were $2,251,200—or more than $1,391,200 in excess of the amount for the corresponding week of last year.

These figures speak for themselves and once more emphasize the necessity of further educating the people of this country in the elementary principles of fire prevention.

One might expect an improvement in conditions generally after all that has been done to drive into the minds of the people the absolute necessity of avoiding everything in the nature of a fire hazard.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Turkey will procrastinate as long as she possibly can. But it will be found that she will hesitate before precipitating another conflict of arms.

Strangely enough the Soviet Government seems to have many more friends outside of Russia than within the borders of that unhappy country.

Out of the 706,664 orders for liquor issued on the dispensaries of Ontario last year, 623,314 were on doctors' prescriptions. We are deeply grieved about the state of public health in Ontario.

Canadian newspapers seem to be agreed that the Senate of Canada should waste no time in passing the bill which will give to British Columbia and Quebec the sole right to import liquor into the respective provinces.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Gustave Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach declares that he never had an aggressive attitude.

MORE ASSURANCE WANTED.

Calgary Herald—We need more experienced agriculturists, but we do not want even these unless the government is prepared to give to them and to farmers already in the country some concrete assurance that when they farm they will be able to make a decent living for themselves and their dependents.

IRON AND STEEL.

To the Editor:—Will you allow a former Victoria resident to enquire why Victoria is not turning a hand toward securing new industries for this Province.

It is only fair to say that the industry somewhere in British Columbia, it would be a half acre on water at West Sooke.

Personally, I was glad enough to sign it, and so have been some 10,000 of other enterprising citizens and business men.

A little boasting from Victoria will help. We need that industry, and it will be established somewhere—whether in Victoria or on the Mainland, or in Nanaimo or wherever it is hardly matters.

CITY EMPLOYEES WILL BE GIVEN SUPERANNUATION

New Scheme Will Provide Pensions for Officials, Police and Firemen

Superannuation for city employees will go into effect in July, the City Council decided yesterday.

According to figures prepared by Alderman Leeming it would cost $6,880 a year to provide a superannuation fund for City Hall officials; $4,300 for police and $4,500 for firemen—a total of $15,680.

The schemes adopted by the Council will apply to City Hall workers, police and firemen.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Gustave Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach declares that he never had an aggressive attitude.

SUPREME COMMANDER OF W. B. A. TO VISIT VICTORIA IN JUNE

The first meeting of Queen Alexandra Review, W. B. A., was held in the K. of P. Hall on Thursday evening. Commandant Mrs. C. Bloor in the chair. District Deputy Mrs. L. P. Hodgson was a visitor and member of Victoria Review No. 1 and Royal Review No. 18 were also present. Members having friends in Victoria or Vancouver who would like to attend the Marathon in Vancouver June 19 were urged by Mrs. Ritchie to give her their names and addresses so that they may receive invitations from Supreme, as only members of the W. B. A. will be admitted without invitation.

Junior Commander Mrs. Laing reported that she had received applications for junior membership from the mothers of about fifteen children, and asked members to enroll their children as soon as possible so that the little ones may take part in the reception to be given to Supreme Commander Miss Einar West on June 15. It is hoped that there will be a large class of new members to present to Miss West at the same time. It is proposed to hold a "new members" contest during the next three months, the review being divided into two sides to see which can obtain most members, the reward to be a luncheon or dinner. Full particulars will be discussed at the next meeting. After the formal closing of the review, the W. B. A. Girls' Club held a very successful "gingham" dance.

NOVA SCOTIA HEADS CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER ENGLISH

Wolville Teacher Inaugurates Novel Method to Improve Speech

Halifax, N. S., May 5.—(By Canadian Press)—Nova Scotia, long regarded as a "well of English, pure and undefiled," is about to have its waters ruffled by a spirit in the person of Rosamond M. de Wolfe Archibald, a member of the staff of Acadia Seminary at Wolfville, in a drive for better English. Miss Archibald has a brand new system of teaching the spoken word, her own invention by the way, and is credited with having revolutionized the speaking of English in the common schools of the town in which she lives.

Invited by the Canadian Press to explain her method, Miss Archibald submitted the following statement: "Were you ever challenged by a German student to better the common speech of your people? Did one of them ever call your race 'a race of slovenly speakers'? Did the thought of the economic waste of education in general that fails to make the efficient man of the cross roads equal his scientific peers in the spoken word, ever keep you awake nights? That is exactly what happened to me. With years of preparation back of me and boundless enthusiasm, I began to teach English to Canadians, following up my own preaching of the 'Canada First' I used every method I knew with the usual results, nobody was speaking correctly outside my class room.

"One day during the war, light dawned on me, I realized the swift change from a raw recruit to a finished soldier that a month of military drill produced. Then I saw that amazing folly in our methods of teaching correct speech. I reasoned: Did I learn that 3 x 3 = 9 by seeing that 3 x 3 is not 10? Did I learn first the reason why 7 x 8 = 56 or simply that 7 x 8 = 56? Why, then, continue teaching English speech by such methods? In a trice I had cast off all the inefficient methods of the past, I called my pupils to their feet, to stand at attention, to salute the flag, and to recite in concert a few correct sentences, drill fashion! How they responded! Then I sent them forth to correct errors, copying down corrections got my point of all mistakes, dissecting a sentence, calling it public speaking. The effect on their speech was marvellous. In a week of practice we had accomplished what a lifetime of theory has often failed in accomplishing.

"Then we put on weekly 'drives' during the term, awarding small prizes for 'plants' in correction. We kept in his courtesy, the lack of which on the part of any contestant caused his immediate disqualification. As a result, to-day, parents are playing the game of corrections with their children and, incidentally, benefiting by it. Public speakers throughout the Maritime Provinces, especially, are aware of note books for correction in their audiences.

"The child links up his language with his flag which for centuries has been flying in the blood of our race for the preservation of our mother tongue. He is made to feel that it is just as reasonable to make a mistake in his courtesy, as to dishonor that flag. He catches a vision of greatness in language never before realized. His motto is, 'To Think clearly and to Speak the King's English.'

"Nova Scotia is about to launch a Better English Week Drive, May 25 to June 1. Leading newspapers are giving it prominence. Teachers are flocking to the standard eager to adopt a method so simple, attractive, and philosophically sound. Educators and philosophical eminent psychologists are approving of it.

Millinery Exhibit and Silver Tea Proved Joint Success; Ward V. to Exhibit

A very pleasant afternoon was spent by members and friends of the R. O. W. I. when a silver tea was held at the home of Mrs. Wood at Millinery, the results of the institute class in millinery instructed by Miss Mercer, who was in charge of the exhibit.

Mrs. Carmichael, past president of the R. O. W. I., opened the exhibit with a happy little speech, in which she congratulated both teachers and pupils on the lovely display of hats and on the work generally accomplished by the institute since it was re-organized last year. A home cooking stall, with Mrs. Young, Mrs. Quick, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. W. Quick in attendance, realized a nice amount for institute funds. Mrs. Wood arranged a short musical programme, which was much enjoyed and in which the following ladies took part: Nicholson, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Carmichael, Mrs. Towler, Mrs. Mercer. Delicious tea was served by Mrs. Raven, Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Nicholson, assisted by members of the junior institute.

CITIZENSHIP CLASS

Novel Experiment Much Interest Being Shown in Esquimalt W. I. Venture; Mrs. Spofford Teacher

Twenty-four women and half a dozen men have been learning the principles of citizenship in the course which the Esquimalt Women's Institute initiated two weeks ago with Mrs. C. C. Spofford as instructor. Interest in the subject is increasing with each lecture, and the class bids fair to show a corresponding increase in membership before long.

At last Thursday's class, Mrs. Spofford dealt with education. She reviewed the evidences of an awakening interest in educational matters as shown by the movement fostered by the National Council of Education. Illuminating sidelights were thrown on the Provincial school system, the jurisdiction of the Council of Public Instruction, and the classification of school districts, Local administration, the powers of the School Board, the classification of school expenditures and similar matters of local interest were also discussed. After dealing with the specialized courses, such as manual training and domestic science, Mrs. Spofford surprised some of her hearers with the information that over three hundred children in the isolated districts of British Columbia were receiving elementary education through a correspondence course conducted by the Provincial Department of Education.

The roll call was based upon the information contained in the annual report of the Superintendent of Education. At each meeting one of the members is appointed to the chair, and two members share the work of secretary, for the purpose of gaining experience in these offices. A short exposition of the rules of order is also given.

After which dancing was continued until about one a.m. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Heatherington, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Lansley, Mr. and Mrs. Farby, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Schmelz, Mr. and Mrs. Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. West, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Gault, Mrs. Goess, Mrs. Laxton, Mrs. Stevens, Miss Lansley, and little Miss Delzell, Messrs. Barbour, Fraser, Fountain, Hobkirk, Pike, Spoelto, Master Gilbert Langley, and George West and others.

As the result of a very delightful bridge party given by Mrs. F. M. Bryant at her home on Linden Avenue yesterday afternoon, the funds of the O. M. Jones Chapter, I. O. D. E., will be increased by the amount of $26.50. As a result of the afternoon's play, prizes were awarded to Mrs. D. Cameron and Mrs. H. A. Stuart, while the consolation gift was given to Mrs. Hare. Among those present were: Mrs. Colgate, Mrs. Hare, Mrs. Agnes McKee, Mrs. C. B. Jameson, Mrs. D. O. Cameron, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. A. E. McKee, Mrs. L. A. Grogan, Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Gunnison, Mrs. H.  Consider the Neighbors

The week-end guest from the city woke early that morning and lay listening to the blessed quiet about her, broken only by the concert of a choir of robins, song-sparrows and wrens. She thought of the rattle and roar of the city streets, where trolleys, elevated street cars and other echoing vehicles, clattered their way along the cobblestones and asphalt. She smiled and dropped off again.

Twenty-four women and half a dozen men have been learning the principles of citizenship in the course which the Esquimalt Women's Institute initiated two weeks ago with Mrs. C. C. ROYAL VICTORIA

The Toronto Daily Star has the following to say in its editorial columns about "The Game of Life" which is the attraction at the Royal Victoria this week:

The first English super-film shown at Massey Hall last night scored a decided success. The crowds in coming out pronounced it a wonderful picture, and they carried away with them the feeling that they had not only had a fine entertainment, but had derived a certain amount of solid worth from it as well. The conception of the author was to take half a dozen children born about the year 1812 and trace the story of their lives against the background of the great events that occurred during eighty years. One of the infants selected at the outset was the child Alexandra Victoria, afterwards to become the great Queen. But royalty by no means dominates the picture. There is not, as one might possibly infer, the slightest trace of propaganda in the film nor any attempt to catch an audience and play the schoolmaster to it. When people pay the price for a pleasing beverage they do not want to have a medicine which somebody thinks beneficial palmed off on them instead. There was nothing of this about last night's film. The importance of it is that it is a super-film, and it is English—it comes to us from a new source and its success means that it will be followed by others. English-speaking countries will not be so dependent as they have been on Los Angeles. And that will be a good thing. It will be a good thing even for Los Angeles.

"The Game of Life" must have been produced at vast cost. The scenes showing processions through the streets of London, at periods as far apart as the coronation of Victoria and the Diamond Jubilee, with thousands of people costumed according to the differing fashions of the time, must be regarded as achievements in film work. The charge of the light brigade at Balaclava is one of the most thrilling sights ever pictured. Yet all these scenes belong to the plot of the story and play their part in the lives of the characters, whom the audience sees at intervals from infancy to tottering old age.

CAPITOL

Modernism does not mean so very much after all when one gets right down to the matter of considering details. Explicitly, what might be given credit as a modern mode of luxury generally can be traced back to origins in centuries long bygone. Thus is all the more credence gained by the old saying that there being nothing new under the sun. All this was among the many interesting discoveries of the corps of researchers Douglas Fairbanks put to work when he decided to make his new screen production, "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which has proved to be his most notable cinema triumph, and which under a United Artists release is now the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre.

For instance, if the present-day members of the gentler sex imagine for one minute that they are up-to-date simply because they use cosmetics, they are mistaken inasmuch as they are very old-fashioned. The "kisses" which charmed men back in the Twelfth Century, when Robin Hood had his romantic fling at setting high examples in quiver

LILLIAN WILSON TO ASSIST AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Noted Soprano to Sing at Next Wednesday Evening's Concert

Miss Lillian Wilson, the brilliant singer, in addition to taking the solo parts in Cadman's "Vision of Sir Launfal" at the Arion Club concert on Wednesday evening next at the First Presbyterian Church, will also be present in several numbers in the new revue known as "Caro Nome" from Rigoletto, The Vancouver Province, in speaking of this lady's voice, says: "Miss Wilson, whose singing was conspicuous for its gentleness and intelligence of vocalization was feverishly recalled." The musical critic of The Toronto Saturday Night—most discerning and discriminating writer—says she is the possessor of one of the most beautiful voices of the country.

Miss Wilson created a most favorable impression here when she sang at the Arion concert last December, and a treat is in store for those who attend the concert on Wednesday. The singing of this artist, the club is rendering a programme of entirely new music, the number being "Evening," the music by J. Douglas Macey, of Victoria, and the words by his sister. This charming song, full of delicate harmonies, and will be appreciated fully when rendered by the Club.

The big number of the evening, "The Vision of Sir Launfal" is written for pipe organ and piano. It is a large photograph group of the Arion Club members, showing the personnel of a few years ago, and is being presented by the window of Kent's Phonograph Store, Government Street.

"DUMBELLS" TO APPEAR HERE FOR THREE NIGHTS

The story of the Old Dumbells is an odyssey through the war-revealed her to the world. One can scarcely speak of this unique creation of Canadian soldier boys without reminiscence of many happy hours with "Red" Newcombe and Fletcher's Music Store. These merry funmakers, for to recall the Old Dumbells is to recall happy days at Mont St. Eli in a Y.M.C.A. hut where the party was first brought into existence. It was in the haze of memory, as one used to peer through clouds of tobacco smoke, the long low ranks of muddy, dirty, brown-clad men crowded together on the low benches, the flash of the rifles, the dull, drawn faces, it is to hear once more the approving roar of the fighting men as the victors of the day, the drolleries of the Dumbells flashed over the flickering candles that formed the footlights of the warm, happy atmosphere beyond.

It is to recall the thrill that the stock market brought to the Dumbells, the thrill of their first triumph, the thrill of their first triumph, the thrill of their first triumph. It is to recall the thrill that the stock market brought to the Dumbells, the thrill of their first triumph, the thrill of their first triumph.

DR. LAWSON SPEAKS ON DIETETICS

"Be an optimist if you want to be well" was the advice given by Dr. Lawson, dietitian, who gave his second lecture in the Auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

He pointed out that in these days drug stores sell more candies and soda water than drugs, thus showing that the public faith in the use of drugs is weakening.

As to recent alleged divine healing cases in this city, Dr. Lawson thought they were due to mental psychology, to an evaded state of emotion. Most of them would not stay cured after the state of exaltation had passed off.

He added that if he were heading off the sick by the power of God, he wouldn't go around with a brass band. Miracles were something which he had never seen.

Question—Was the defendant recent in advising the plaintiff to appeal against the judgment in the Yorkshire action? Answer by the jury—Yes, state fully the nature of the negligence. Answer by the jury—Knowing the grounds on which the Yorkshire action had failed and knowing, also, that no new evidence would be produced, he showed negligence in advising an appeal and also in not endeavoring to link up the entries in the bank accounts of his clients with the unimpeached securities. 8. Question—Was the defendant induced to prepare and enter into the agreement of September 14, 1921, exhibit number two, through the misrepresentation of the plaintiff, Mrs. Newcombe, or her husband? Answer by the jury—No. 9. If so state the nature of such misrepresentations. Not answered. 10. Question—Was the defendant aware when he entered into such agreement that the outcome of the proposed appeal, as to the facts, would not depend upon any representations then or previously made to him by plaintiffs, or either of them, but upon the evidence appearing in the appeal books? Answer by the jury—As a solicitor he should have known it. 11. Question—Was there a breach by the defendant of the agreement of September 14, 1921? Answer by the jury—Yes, admitted.

CATTLE SHIPS DELAYED BY ICE

Congestion on Atlantic Side Spells Loss for Exporters

Montreal, May 5.—Cattle shippers of Montreal state that the huge ice floes off the south shore of Newfoundland and the Gulf of St. Lawrence are causing heavy losses to those interested in the newly-developed export trade in Canadian cattle to the United Kingdom ports. At least twenty vessels are at present being held up in these ice fields, which but for this hindrance would be available for cattle export. Prolonged congestion spells heavy losses to exporters, said a prominent cattle shipper.

Cardena, New Union Company's Boat, Is Bound From Clyde

Trials of New Passenger Vessel for Coastwise Service Were Highly Satisfactory—Ship Left Clyde Thursday for This Coast via Panama—Cassiar Into the Discard

Another fine steamer will shortly be added to the coastwise fleet of the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia. The new coast steamer Cardena, under the command of Captain Dickson, sailed from the Clyde for this coast at 4 p. m. on May 3.

The vessel is due out here about the middle of June. The official trials held May 2 were highly satisfactory, the boat doing her contract speed of 13 knots on very economical fuel consumption, and exceeding that by nearly 2 knots, when forced. She is a steel oil-burner, 220 feet long, 24 feet beam, with cabin accommodation for 100 passengers and stowage space for 150 persons. The vessel was built by Napier & Miller, of Glasgow.

The Cardena will replace the steamer Venture on the northern British Columbia route. Famous Craft to Pass. Following the arrival on the coast of the Cardena the Venture will go on the logging run, and before the end of the season the old Cassiar will prepare for another line of life. The Cassiar is one of the pioneers of the coast service. This sturdy old vessel was built in Ballard, Washington, in 1890, and in 1901 was remodelled for the U. S. S. Company and put into service. Since then she has made 1,700 voyages for the company, each trip averaging about 600 miles. This gives her a mileage of 855,000 miles in the service of the Union Company. She is still a strong and serviceable vessel, as she was practically rebuilt in 1916. According to her log she has had only one serious accident. In 1916 she was sunk and the underwriters paid almost a total loss on her. It was after that she was rebuilt. The Cassiar was the first commander of the logging run. She has carried tens of thousands of loggers and millions of dollars in foodstuffs and machinery to the logging camps. The logging communities rise and flourish and decline as the forests were cleared away or the mines opened, developed and petered out. Her first commander, under the Union houseflag, was Captain Charles Moody, now in British Columbia. Her first pilot was Captain Galsford, now master of the company's steamer Cowichan. A. S. DeGruchy, now marine superintendent for the company, was one of her first engineers. Nearly forty thousand vessels have been officially registered in Canada since the Cassiar came under the British flag. Her official number is 103472. The present Canadian registry series is in the neighborhood of 143000.

NAVIGATION OPENS ON GREAT LAKES

Passenger Steamer Huronic Grounded Entering Harbor at Fort William

Port Arthur, Ont., May 5.—Navigation from the lower lakes end of port Arthur opened shortly before midnight with the arrival of the steamer Huronic of the Northern Navigation Company from Sarnia with passengers and freight. Grounded Outside. Fort William, Ont., May 5.—Because she struck in the mud outside the regular channel, the steamer Huronic failed to win the honor of opening navigation. She was within a few minutes of the dock before midnight, but did not tie up until 7 o'clock this morning. The Glen Isla, which tied up at Fort William at 1:30, officially opened navigation. Next came the Glen She, which entered Port Arthur harbor at 2 o'clock. Both Glen boat skippers won silk hats. About 20 boats reached the elevator sports by noon.

FORMULA FOR GOOD COMBINATION SPRAY

For years orchard and garden experts have watched the warfar against insect pests to find out the best ingredients of a spray which will be really effective both in the orchard and garden. In their opinion the requirements call for the following ingredients—Black Leaf Forty, Arsenate of Lead, Whale Oil Soap, Kerosene and emulsifying ingredients. Such a mixture, they say, means death to practically every form of insect pest that attacks orchards and gardens.

Under the name of Kero-Spray the Vancouver Drug Co. has made up the above formula in proper proportions and in concentrated form. It has been extensively used both in orchards and gardens, and its work is remarkably effective. Those who have used it say there is no better general spray on the market.

Kero Spray is sold in a mixture, one gallon of which makes 50 gallons of spraying solution. It is offered for quantity use in 1 gallon tins at $2.00; 5 gallon tins at $1.75 per gallon, and in barrels at $1.50 per gallon, these prices being F.O.B. Vancouver, with no charge for containers.

For use by gardeners and rosarians who can apply it with either spray of whisk. Kero Spray is offered in bottles making 5 gallons of spray at 40c, also in half gallon tins at $1.25. Kero Spray may be obtained at Vancouver Drug Stores, Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster. From outside points order from headquarters, 456 Broadway West, Vancouver.

The Vancouver Drug Co. are the largest dealers in the West for spraying materials—Arsenate of Lead, Lime Sulphur, Blue Stone, etc. Write for special quantity prices, giving your quantity requirements. (Adv't.)

The cableship Restorer is still alongside the fitting-out wharf getting minor repairs to her machinery. Yarrows are doing the work on the Dominion Government car-ferry Canada, which occupies the graving basin. The tail-shaft of the car-ferry is being pulled and the vessel will be in dock until the middle of next week.

WILL TAG CODFISH ON ATLANTIC COAST

Toronto, May 5.—Plans calculated to improve conditions of the fisheries along the Atlantic coast were put under way yesterday at a meeting of the International Research Commission here when representatives of France, Canada and the United States met with a view of facilitating a study during the coming Summer of the habits of the cod and the haddock.

One plan this Summer will be to tag cod from as many points as possible from Boston to Newfoundland. The cod and other rewards to all fishermen who return tagged fish.

Ferry Trials Will Be Held Next Week

C. P. R. Automobile Ferry Is Rapidly Approaching Completion at Yarrows—Fine Craft Will Shortly Link Up Bellingham With Victoria

The trials of the automobile ferry Motor Princess will be run towards the latter part of next week, it was reported by the builders to-day. The date for the engine trials has not been definitely settled upon, but in all probability, the test will be held on Friday or Saturday next.

The vessel is under contract to be delivered to the Canadian Pacific Railway by May 15 and Yarrows, Ltd., are fully prepared to live up to the terms of their contract. There will be no hitch in the delivery, it was intimated to-day.

Smoke issued from the funnel of the ferry for the first time to-day, but it was not created by the firing of the main engines. The commotion was caused by the donkey boiler, but the smoke gave the ferry a restive appearance.

The masts have been stepped and four lifeboats have been dropped in the chocks on the boat deck. A small army of workmen have been engaged on the ferry and the work will be intensified next week as the new craft approaches completion. Within a week after she has been turned over to her owners the Motor Princess is anticipated, will be operating regularly between Bellingham and Sidney.

Engines for Speed. The McAlister & Seymour Diesel engines, with which the ferry is equipped, will develop a speed of 14 knots, or better. These engines are of a type which are expected to give speed and economy and the operation of the craft will be interestingly watched.

GENOA BAY BUSY.

Genoa Bay lumber interests continue to ship largely to ports in the United States. So far this month they have sent many thousands of feet of Canadian planks to the cities across the line and into the South American countries. The Carolinian is loading at Genoa Bay for New York and Boston.

BLUE TO LEAVE.

The Blue Finnal steamship Eurdamas, on completing the discharge of her United Kingdom freight totaling 750 tons, is expected to get away at 10 o'clock to-night for Vancouver.

SHIPPING WAR CLAIMS HEARD

Canadian Steamship Company Wants $3,651,639 for Loss of Eleven Ships

Ottawa, May 5.—The claim of the Canadian Steamship Company for $3,651,639 was the most important of the five war claims in which witnesses testified before Hon. William Pugsley, commissioner, here yesterday.

The company is claiming that the loss was incurred through the sinking of eleven ships by enemy action, the amount being the difference between the actual value of the ships and the amount of war risk insurance carried when they were sunk.

The hearing will be continued in June at Montreal, where seventy-five claims are to be heard.

Other cases heard included that of Mrs. A. L. Elliott, of Carleton Place, Ont., who claimed $20,000 for the loss of her husband, who was drowned when the Lusitania went down, and $1,571 for personal effects lost at the same time. Mrs. Elliott only escaped drowning through her ability as a swimmer.

BEFORE MY BABY CAME
I Was Greatly Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydenham, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born, and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I had started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would have weak, faint spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, night or day. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I am doing what I can to recommend this good medicine. I will lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will help others take it."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, Sydenham, Ontario.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many women are poorly at such times and get into a weakened, run-down condition, when it is essential to the mother, as well as the child, that her strength be kept up. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It may be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

LARGE SHORTAGES FOUND IN CITY'S ANNUAL ESTIMATES

Leaming Discovers Big Omissions; Must Raise Rate to Cover Them

Omissions in Past Caused Bank Overdrafts, Amazed Aldermen Told

With little more than a week to get the whole city budgeted at shape, City Treasurer E. C. Smith commended today to shape the annual city estimates which are in a confused shape and in which very serious omissions have just been discovered.

As a result of the discovery of these omissions by Alderman David Leaming, Chairman of the City Finance Committee, hope of keeping the annual tax rate down to the level of last year was abandoned by Council members to-day. The latest discovery made by Alderman Leaming is that a single item omitted by city officials in compiling the draft budget amounted to $75,000, which represents almost two mills on the tax rate. Of this, however, only $48,000 will be raised by taxation the other $30,000 being covered by the city's new refunding.

Discovery of this and other omissions by Alderman Leaming, who has gone fully into every phase of the city's finances, has startled Council members, who were frankly amazed when informed of these developments. As a result, Mr. Smith has been instructed to go through the annual budget from start to finish and examine every item so that all the city's needs may be covered in the estimates.

Omissions Caused Shortages.
Omissions of various sums in the past, some of them totalling as much as $100,000, have made it impossible for the city to prevent shortages occurring at the end of the financial year, the Council has been informed.

When told of this yesterday Alderman E. S. Woodward, Chairman of the 1922 Finance Committee, declared emphatically that he and his colleagues, Alderman Gillespie and Alderman Leaming, had been assured by officials last year that every cent needed was provided in the estimates at the beginning of the year. Alderman Leaming confirmed this statement but added that he had found the estimates were not correct.

If Alderman Leaming had not discovered that important items had been left out of the estimates the city would have been short of money at the end of this year as taxation to cover them would not have been levied. Now taxes to cover all these sums will be levied, and with any thing like satisfactory tax collection only a small shortage, if any, will occur.

The omissions in question relate to payments on local improvement debts and involve the city's share of charges fixed by the Local Improvement Commission, the Council was informed yesterday.

PREMIER NOT WORRYING OVER BARBECUE CHALLENGE TO DEBATE

Premier Oliver returned to the Parliament Buildings to-day after speaking to the livestock men and others at Kamloops on the freight rates issue.

He also spoke to between 300 and 400 Revivotees and inspected the construction of the abutments for the new bridge across the river there. The bridge is to be carried on steel cylinders filled with concrete sunk down below the river bed. He went down the valley below Revelstoke and found a lot of new settlers going in there, although the clearing is heavy. The Premier said he had nothing just now to say to General McRae's barbecue challenge.

"There will be plenty of time to discuss this thing," General McRae brings up before next election," he said.

NEW HOSPITAL TO BE OPEN TO VIEW

Interesting Programme at Jubilee Next Saturday

The new building of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital will be open to visitors on Saturday next from 2 until 4 o'clock in order to draw public attention to the new hospital. On this auspicious occasion the supervisors and student nurses of the institution will act as cicerones, according to an announcement made this morning by Miss Jessie McKenzie, Lady Superintendent.

Throughout the afternoon a series of interesting slides depicting the history of nursing from the time of Florence Nightingale will be shown in the lecture room of the Nurses' Home. The Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., which has always taken such an active interest in the work of the hospital, will serve tea.

G.A.U.V. MEMBERS VISIT SIDNEY

The president, secretary and members of the executive of the Victoria Branch of the Grand Army of United Veterans paid an official visit to their comrades of the Sidney Branch last evening. In addition to the purely social side of their visit, opportunity was taken to discuss with the executive of the sister branch matters of very great importance to the movement for which the G. A. U. V. The visitors were very much impressed with the splendid quarters in which the Sidney Branch is now located. They found an enthusiastic and increasing membership very much alive to the questions of the day, including the election of the May Queen. Miss Thorpe, the candidate of the ex-service clubs, received substantial support as the result of the evening's campaign. The plans of the branch for the coming months were fully discussed.

BIG CHANGES IN CITY'S FINANCE SYSTEM IN SIGHT

Aldermen Press Plans for Remodeling; Edmonton Man Groomed for Manager

C. J. Yorath and David Mitchell, Edmonton, Boomed for Chief City Office

That the probable retirement of City Comptroller J. L. Raymur, owing to ill health, will involve extensive changes in the city's financial methods and management has become increasingly clear during the last few days, following discussions on the matter among City Council members.

As stated in these columns at the beginning of this week, some Council members are proposing that a financial expert of recognized ability and reputation be appointed to succeed Mr. Raymur if he definitely retires. It is believed since the question first arose that some aldermen are grooming C. J. Yorath, city commissioner of Edmonton, for the position of city manager. This plan, of course, would involve a complete change in the form of the city administration and the city's affairs would virtually be placed in the hands of one man with a council to advise him on matters of policy. This plan, however, is meeting sharp opposition from aldermen who are opposed to what they term a civic dictatorship.

Big Salaries.
It was learned to-day that Mr. Yorath received a salary of $9,000 in Edmonton, so that if he were appointed here the city would have to pay him that much anyway. Aldermen who are proposing his appointment are quite prepared to pay that figure, but declare that he would save more than this amount in his first year.

David Mitchell, head of the financial department of Edmonton, is another man who is favored for the appointment. He receives a salary of $4,500 in Edmonton.

Meanwhile other aldermen are proposing that the city adopt the board of control system under which a mayor and three controllers manage the civic business. Aldermen who have sounded out their colleagues on this plan believe that a majority of Council members favor a change in the present system so as to increase business efficiency in all city departments.

Mr. Raymur, who has been absent from his desk for a week, is expected to return to the City Hall shortly, when the City Council Finance Committee will confer with him and ascertain whether he wishes to retire now in view of the inauguration of a superannuation scheme, approved by the Council yesterday.

Mr. Smith Favored
In Mr. Raymur's absence City Treasurer E. C. Smith is in charge of the city's annual budget. He is expected to-day to take hold of the estimates and sort them out. Unless the Council decides to go to an outside city for a successor to Mr. Raymur Mr. Smith would be the logical man for the Comptroller's position. He understands the city's finances better than anyone but Mr. Raymur and has been instrumental in bringing about important reforms in the past.

150 FAMILIES COMING TO SETTLE IN NORTHERN B.C.

Large Immigration From Britain Expected This Year

One hundred and fifty families are to be brought into British Columbia and settled under private enterprise in the central valley east and southeast of Port George riding, W. A. Lewthwaite announced to-day following his return from England.

Mr. Lewthwaite was one of the officials of the Luse Land Co., which under Sir Clifford Sifton, settled several thousand families on 2,500,000 acres in Saskatchewan and Alberta. He has been in England on immigration work in connection with the settlement of large tracts in the northern part of the Province.

"Outside of these families the chances of getting immigrants into British Columbia now are nil," Mr. Lewthwaite said. "Those who are coming to Canada are staying in Ontario and a few are getting as far as the prairies. There seems to be a good prospect for immigration from the British Isles to Canada this year, but I found that the other Dominions are paying a great deal of attention to immigration and getting after them hard, whereas British Columbia seems to be practically unknown. The immigration authorities of London, Liverpool and Glasgow are looking for a large immigration from the country this year, but from what I could learn from any of them, British Columbia is distinctly out of it."

Mr. Lewthwaite criticized B. C. House in London on the grounds that it was not showing the activity in producing results as the establishments maintained by other provinces and countries.

"Outside of Mr. Turnbull there is nobody who seems to know anything at all about British Columbia," Mr. Lewthwaite said. "There are clerks and stenographers there who know nothing at all about this country and when persons go there like I have gone there with them and asked for information about British Columbia it is like probing into a detective mystery to get it."

Mr. Lewthwaite commended F. C. Wade, K. C., as British Columbia's representative in London, but explained that under the present organization Mr. Wade is kept too busy with international and other problems to have any time for the more detailed work which a staff well informed on British Columbia would be able to do.

"I Was Terribly Weak After Baby Was Born"

Mrs. H. McCleure, Norwood, Ont., writes:

"After my baby was born, I was terribly weak and ran down, with pains across my back. I had heard so much of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that I decided to try it. Three boxes proved enough to make me quite strong and well again. I also used Dr. Chase's Ointment for a rash which broke out on the baby, and the rash disappeared completely in a short time."

Ambassador Enters In Paddock Controversy

Asks American Amateur Union to Rescind Order Disqualifying Sprinter In Order to Prevent Crippling of Olympic Games; Paddock and Collegians Continue to Defy Ruling and Clean Break Has Occurred; War Is On

Paris, May 5.—American Ambassador Herriek, acting on the request of the French athletic authorities, has cabled to the president of the American Amateur Athletic Union suggesting that the disqualification of Charles Paddock be rescinded and that the American sprinter be authorized to participate in the international students' meet here, in order to avoid dissension that threatens to cripple the next Olympic Games and impair the authority of the athletic bodies.

Paris, May 5.—Charles Paddock's decision to continue to participate in the international students' athletic meet, despite the announcement of his disqualification by the American Amateur Athletic Union, is apt to develop into a clean break between the French Athletic Federation and the Paris University Club, which organized the competition.

The federation last night forbade French athletes to continue in the games unless Paddock withdraws, but both the American sprinter and club officials to-day that the meeting would continue.

Paris, May 5.—Charles Paddock, the only American competing in the international students' athletic meet, was again the outstanding star at the second day's racing at the Porte Doree Stadium. He won the semi-finals in the 100 metre dash handily, his time being 10.4-5 seconds, or two-fifths of a second behind his own world's record. Then, running against time, with nobody to urge him to greater speed by competition, he broke the world's record for the 75-metre dash. His time was 8.2-3 seconds, or four-fifths of a second better than the record held by Englishman, and the record held by Sweden.

The only final event completed yesterday was the Pentathlon, which was won by Contant of Italy. He was first in the 100 yard jump and javelin throw, second in the 200 metres and discus, third and third in the 1,500 metre race. His nearest competitor in these events was Svoboda, Zinner, of Belgium, was third.

Although there are 160 athletes competing in the games, it appears from the first two days' events that none of them is likely to establish new records, with the exception of Paddock.

Paris, May 5.—The French Athletic Federation last night, after a full discussion, decided to prohibit the holding of the remainder of the international University games at the American sprinter, Paddock, the American sprinter, continues to compete in them.

The federation, however, announces that it would permit Paddock to give exhibitions.

On being informed of the federation's decision the organizers of the championship games, which are in progress at the Porte Doree Stadium, declared that Paddock would run as had been arranged, notwithstanding the federation's ban.

Sarazen Gives Advice For Selecting Clubs

Beginners Should Not Overload With Clubs, But Get Accustomed to a Few at Start and Add to Equipment As He Progresses; Suggestions As to Clubs Required

By GENE SARAZEN

Selecting a set of clubs should be done with great care by any person who intends to play golf well. But the great majority of players are indifferent about this matter, and are content to take the advice of some friend. No man can play good golf who hasn't a good set of clubs; an army must be properly equipped to fight a successful battle and a golfer must have the right kind of clubs to make the shots properly.

A driver of about 42 inches long and weighing about fourteen ounces is suitable for the average beginner. You don't want a club that is too light for then you will have a tendency to hurry your backswing.

Neither do you want a club that is too heavy because you don't want to have to labor in swinging the bludgeon. A good hickory shaft with a fairly large head makes the best kind of wooden club I think.

As your game develops you will probably want to change your clubs. You will then want a driver that has very little loft in the face. I wouldn't advise a perfectly straight-faced club for it is very difficult to control the ball with that kind.

As you progress you will want also a spoon. This is one of the most useful clubs a player can have. If the lie is none too good you can use the club in place of the brassie. Often you can use it playing out of rough or even out of traps—although my advice when trapped is—"make sure to get out and forget about distance."

You can use a spoon in place of a full mid-iron too if that kind of shot looks a little too long. Harry Fardon's advice in this respect is worth remembering: WHEN IN DOUBT ALWAYS USE THE LONGER CLUB.

Having become proficient—if you have—you will have a No. 1 iron for iron is also a useful club for playing into the wind and for pitch shots to short holes averaging about 150 yards.

Unless you are a first class golfer I wouldn't advise the use of ribbed or spade clubs. The master himself—Jock Hutchison—often has difficulty controlling his "stoppage" shot. It is without doubt one of the hardest in golf and requires a wonderful sense of timing and accuracy.

Don't overload at the start with too many clubs. Get acquainted with a few and add to your equipment as you progress.

but he scored a victory over his opponent in the annual G. W. V. A. road race held last Good Friday.

A. clubhouse, Belleville Street, proceed along Quebec Street to Montreal to Dallas Road, thence to Beacon twice circling the track there, returning via Niagara and Menzies Streets, finishing at the starting point.

Those who intend to enter are asked to get in touch with Bob Travis as soon as possible.

Marks Preach Hatred

Here is a photographic reproduction of a 10,000 German mark note received from Berlin. On the neck of the man supposed to typify the new Germany is concealed a face (outlined below) popularly held to be the "vampire France" sucking the jugular vein of Germany. These marks are reported to be attracting an unusual degree of attention both among Germans and French. The latter point to the implication as typical of the propaganda which they allege is being used to stir up trouble in the Ruhr area.

BALDWIN BOOM FOR PREMIER IS WELL RECEIVED

Chancellor Finds High Favor With British Conservatives

Rival Factions Ready to Combine to Delay Labor Seeking Power

London, May 5.—By his drafting of the budget and his cleverness in answering criticism on the floor of the House of Commons, Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin greatly has enhanced his parliamentary reputation and incidentally eased the worried minds of Conservative leaders who are fearful that the ill-health of Premier Bonar Law may force him to withdraw from the premiership.

Much serious consideration has been given since the sensational parliamentary reverse suffered by the government, to the question of choosing a successor to Bonar Law, and among many of the Conservatives canvassed the name of Stanley Baldwin has been mentioned prominently.

Through a split in the ranks of the Conservatives, following the overthrow of Lloyd George, the Premier has lost some of the best parliamentarians of his party, and the Cabinet is extremely weak in skilled debaters, with the result that a tremendous burden fell on his shoulders.

His illness compelled some of his comparatively inexperienced ministers to jump into the breach, and they have performed far beyond his expectations, Baldwin the most striking example.

Stanley Baldwin is fifty-six years of age, father of a family of six, and a graduate of Harrow and Trinity College, Cambridge. He is a wealthy country gentleman, who already has served fifteen years in Parliament and six years in the Treasury.

Baldwin shares the confidence of the great bankers, such as Reginald McKenna, and the politicians similarly have a high regard for his ability in spite of the fact that he is not politically inclined.

Chamberlain Has Chance. If the Conservatives patch up their differences Austen Chamberlain might succeed Bonar Law, although Lord Derby has been more frequently mentioned, because he is a popular figure.

Lord Robert Cecil has recovered some of the prestige he lost a year ago, but he is not in the reckoning just now. Balfour practically has withdrawn from political life.

CHARING CROSS MAY GET BRIDGE

London, May 5.—Twelve years ago the City Corporation decided that London needed a new bridge over the Thames and obtained Parliamentary powers for building one South of St. Paul's.

Meanwhile the need for a new bridge has not vanished, but the corporation cannot make up their minds as to where exactly the bridge is most wanted.

At the present time there is only a railway bridge at Charing Cross, which is looked on as a blot on London's beauty.

TAMING HUSBANDS BY FEEDING THEM. ADVICE TO WIVES

Dr. Webb Johnson Urges Women Not to Give Them Red Meat

London, May 5.—Many visitors to England have for a long time suspected that some day a miracle would happen that would show Englishmen what to eat.

Dr. Webb Johnson, whose book, "Diet for Men," is being widely read, is advising women to keep their husbands from eating red meat.

Dr. Webb Johnson says that his countrymen eat far too much meat and cites the case of an habitual wife beater who was so tamed when his wife changed his diet from about a pound of meat three times a day to half a pound once a day.

Dr. Webb-Johnson's open confession about English cooks should be a lesson for the stomachs of his countrymen. He calls cooks "devil coaches" and seriously undermines the traditional English meal when he declares that "mashed potatoes, minced meat and food soaked in gravy are among the worst things that could possibly be taken."

H. G. WELLS PUT ON TRIAL FOR ABUSE OF DOTS

He Is Accused of Using Excessive Number With Felonious Intent

London, May 5.—H. G. Wells recently was "arrested" by students of the Leeds Training College, whom he had been addressing on their education in world history.

The prosecutor in a fiery speech said: "This dealer in dots must be dispatched. He is a peril to phonetics and dominos. Utopia must not have the blemish of a single dot. The world must be made safe for the domino presidents of the future."

The defense urged in mitigation that the prisoner had written only an "outline of history," and that it was a matter for congratulation that he hadn't filled it in.

"I'll do it in my head," said Wells, kissing his hand in farewell to the court.

TRUST STORK FOR GENIUS SUPPLY

London, May 5.—British scientists don't agree with Professor Terman, the American psychologist, when he says the number of geniuses in the future is destined to be comparatively few.

Scientists here think that so long as intellectual families continue to inter-marry discriminately there will be no danger of a slump in geniuses. Genius, they say, is simply a matter of heredity and quote the following families as instances:

Darwin: Erasmus, Charles and Francis were all first rate men of science. Bach: More than 200 members of this family distinguished themselves.

NEW STYLE "PUB" OPENS IN LONDON

It is called "The Rose"; Has Bright, Jazzy Colors and Radio Concerts

London, May 5.—Although many clergymen as well as confirmed drunks have been protesting against making the English "pub" less attractive because this leads to more drinking, there has been opened in a dingy, thickly populated street in East London a new style of pub.

One anti-dry organization here has tried to counteract the influence and propaganda of the prohibitionists by advocating a type of "pub" which will serve a club for working men and women.

It is also a hall in which only soft drinks are served. In this the children can stay while their elders are having their beer, instead of having to stand outside of the saloons as heretofore.

Fatal Egyptian Spell of Sinister Mummy

Deadly Old Lady's Influence Felt by Military Officers, Shipping Officials, and Museum Experts.

THE death of Lord Carnarvon and the theories which have been advanced that this was due to some secret potion or spell recalls an interesting parallel in the life of the late W. T. Stead.

In June, 1909, Mr. Stead was traveling to Portsmouth from London, on a visit to the fleet. In the same compartment he had as traveling companions, Mr. Bentley of the London News, and two Canadian journalists, A. P. Macdonald of the Halifax Chronicle, and John Nelson of the Vancouver World. On the trip he was regaling his companions with his delightful conversation on all manner of topics. It was about the time when his experiences with his familiar "Julia" as a medium were furnishing copy for not only his own publications, but for others as well. During the talk Mr. Stead said:

Lord Carnarvon.

"I have just received a commission from Munsey's Magazine to write up Princess—, mentioning the name of a famous mummy in the British Museum—and I don't know whether or not I should take the risk."

The others pressed him for particulars, and he explained that the mummy in question was a very homely lady, but she had been a princess of the Pharaoh line, and that every one who had had anything to do with her transport from the land of pyramids to England, had suffered for it. Her sinister influence had extended to military officers, shipping officials and experts in the museum. Indeed, so far did the deadly lady go in her activities that a short time previously, so Mr. Stead affirmed, a party of American tourists had felt the weight of her displeasure. One of them, stopping in front of the mummy, had exclaimed, "What an ugly old woman," and had forthwith received a blow from an unseen hand on the head, that almost stunned him.

Hence Mr. Stead's reluctance to tackle his assignment. The party were at first disposed to believe that the veteran journalist was indulging in a little banter, but he soon convinced them that he was deeply in earnest with respect to his misgivings.

It was not long after that that Mr. Stead perished in the disaster of the Titanic, and there was much speculation among those who had shared his company to know whether or not he had fulfilled his assignment and thereby perhaps, exposed himself to the displeasure of the princess.

Whatever may be the fact in that connection, a curious sidelight on the incident became known about a year after the loss of the steamer. A London periodical published a history of the mummy in question, recounting many of the sinister circumstances surrounding her career. But the most significant of all was at the end of the article where it stated that the mummy had disappeared from the museum and had been replaced by another. It was believed, so the article stated, that it had been stolen by an American collector and that it had been shipped on the ill-fated Titanic.

Fell Down in the Aisle But Not On His Argument

Hon. F. Pardee Did Not Always Enjoy His Present Safe Seat in the Senate.

Hon. F. Pardee, who now enjoys a safe seat in the Senate, did not always have that good fortune. One evening, when he was a member of parliament, in the course of a heated speech, he kicked his chair out in the aisle of the green chamber in order that he might have room for his gestures. When he finished he naturally sat down—but the chair was out in the aisle. When he struggled to his feet amid the laughter of the House, he remarked with dignity: "Mr. Speaker, my honorable friends will observe that I did not fall down on my argument."

What Lord Robert Thought of America

The other day when Lord Robert Cecil was approached by the newspapers, while he was yet on the boat, one of them thought of a very original question: "What do you think of America?"

Lord Robert was not a bit dismayed. He came back immediately with a very pat reply: "Ah, what do I think of America? Yes, yes, undoubtedly."

The King's Stamps

The stamp collectors of the world are going to hold a marvellous exhibition at London, England, within a few months.

The stamp-collectors of England are hoping that King George's collection of stamps will be exhibited.

It is not commonly known that King George has one of the most interesting collections of postage stamps in the world. The King started to collect stamps when he was a midship in the navy, and he has maintained this hobby ever since he ascended the throne.

ENGLAND'S FRAIL CRIPPLE OF ONE IDEA

Outlawed from society, condemned by the church, scorned by the exponents of respectable politics, the voice of the lame man has prevailed.

By LESLIE H. FLOYD

A FEW weeks ago, there arose in the British House of Commons a strange little man with a thin, drawn face and relentless eyes, a cripple whose sufferings were painfully obvious. Speaking with a sort of cold fury, he proposed nothing less than the gradual abolition of private capital in Great Britain. That man was Philip Snowden.

Lured by the melodious syllables, journalists, the world over, are acclaiming him an "evolutionary revolutionary"; and the phrase is, perhaps, as descriptive of his attitude as political catch words ever are. He is a Communist, who describes bolshevism as "discharged Toryism," a socialist who is known to rejoice that the Labor party did not get a majority last Fall because it might go to destructive extremes. Let no one imagine, however, that he is, on that account, a mild and compromising person. On the contrary, he is the most dangerous opponent conceivable of the established order, all the more dangerous than his loud-voiced, heavy-handed fellows. Thin-lipped, steely-eyed, merciless in debate, his type has, essentially, nothing in common with theirs.

He is, above all things, an intellectual, one in whom the triumph over physical agony has brought control, but no softness,—one in whom cold logic and theoretical benevolence have combined to produce something almost inhuman. "Insanely sane," "frozen fanaticism," "cold, intellectual frenzies," such phrases keep recurring in the shrewdest description of him.

"He has," says one observer, "as little respect for persons as a calculating machine." One is inclined to paraphrase, for his benefit, the title of another invalid of genius, the poet Pope, and call him "the wicked wasp of Blackburn."

Born in the village of Cowley, near Keighley, he entered the civil service as a young man. A bicycle accident laid him on his back, in agony, for over a year. From that trial by fire he emerged the Philip Snowden of to-day. Reading and brooding upon economic problems, he had become fiercely convinced of the need for a drastic change. The decaying fabric of society, as he saw it, must be levelled to give place to a new structure. The Snowden of that day would not have demanded a gradual suppression of capitalism. Otherwise, he is unchanged and unchanging. In 1909 the double constituency of Blackburn was regarded as being almost a private possession of the Conservative party. No Liberal would contest it. It was this fortress of Toryism that our frail enthusiast chose to besiege in the height of the Boer War fever. Without money, without health, without support, he fought it out, grimly but, all things considered, with surprising dignity and moderation. In 1908 he was elected by the constituency for it he sat until 1918, by it he was returned last Autumn.

In personal intercourse he is not discourteous; but he makes no concessions to the genial give-and-take of parliamentary life. If anything, he is least bitter to the Conservatives. Not that he hates Toryism less, but that he hates Liberalism more believing that the moderate social reforms of the latter party form the greatest obstacle to the root-and-branch policy for which he stands.

Of his private life little can be said. Here is a picture of him. He is a small thin man, moving painfully with the aid of a stick. His thin-lipped face is drawn and furrowed with pain. From beneath a magnificent brow his eyes look out, cold and steely, but enlightened now and then by a sort of enthusiasm that is purely intellectual. His voice is thin, and "has a touch of the east wind in it."

Scarcely a romantic figure. Yet he has won as his devoted partner one of the most beautiful of the intellectual women in England. Shoulder to shoulder, this handsome, vital woman and this frail cripple fight as comrades for their ideal. Surely there is romance even in academic socialism.

Scarcely a romantic figure. Yet he has won as his devoted partner one of the most beautiful of the intellectual women in England. Shoulder to shoulder, this handsome, vital woman and this frail cripple fight as comrades for their ideal. Surely there is romance even in academic socialism.

A whole history of physical suffering is graven on the pain-wracked body and deep-lined features of Philip Snowden, who needs a walking-stick to limp to and from the House of Commons.

Of his larger aims his late speech gives us, probably, as much as he cares to make public. It is said to be a steel-woman's lecture of his younger days, adapted to modern conditions. The change of communism is to be gradual, capital is to be bought out by the state, bolshevism is condemned (from a personal experience of its allurements). Mr. Snowden's world would be wonderful, perfect, and—a nightmare of exact logic. If, however, he gives no sure substitute for that which he would destroy,—if he provides no sufficient incentive for human endeavor in place of competition,—if he pulls, as it were, the roof from over our heads, having provided no adequate shelter from the stormy night that has fallen on Russia,—the fault is in the system, not in himself.

He is selfless as a sword blade. His ideals take hold upon him with the intensity of an idea fixe, and he would go to the stake for them, rejoicing. Amidst all the rattle of political jobbery, opportunism, and looseness of aims, he moves austere, a man of one idea.

Something Crawled Up Astronomer's Back

Mr. Bruce, of Hamilton, Felt the Thrill of His Life in His High School Days

MR. WM. BRUCE of Hamilton, first vice-president of the Toronto Branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, has had many adventures in his trips to Mars, via his Hamilton observatory. But no planetary exploration was ever fraught with greater excitement than that which attended him one day away back in the 'sixties when he experienced a thrill of which the most enthusiastic devotee of thrills could not complain.

Mr. Bruce was at this time a teacher in the Central School, Hamilton. On the day in question, he carried a luncheon which the maid had prepared, in the inside pocket of his overcoat. This he always hung on the inside of the door leading to the basement.

As was his custom at the noon hour, he donned his coat for the purpose of taking a constitutional and spending an hour at his city rooms where he read his newspaper and ate his lunch. He had proceeded only a short distance, when suddenly he felt something crawling up his back. Quick as a flash, he thought of the savory delicacies dear to the heart of the rodent family.

As a boy, Mr. Bruce was never known to lose his presence of mind, nor did he do so on this occasion. With wonderful sang froid, he placed his hand upon the living lump which had now reached his shoulder, and proceeded with his usual measured stride to his rooms, where blocking all exits, he used a stout club to good purpose and dealt out summary justice to the trespasser upon private premises.

The rat, which was entangled in the lining when pulled out, measured sixteen inches from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail.

World's Treasure House In Northern Canada

Jim Cornwall Says World's Future Supplies of Precious Metals, Iron, Coal, and Oil Are There.

Certainly Canada has her just proportion of successful men, those who have made a prominent niche for their photographs in politics, business, or military achievements. Judged from his usefulness to the dominion as a young nation, it is a full-length painting for Lieutenant-Col. James K. Cornwall, D.S.O.

"Jim" Cornwall is known everywhere and to everybody throughout the dominion, as well as the United States and England, as the man responsible for drawing the alert attention of the outside world to the vast undeveloped empire stretching from Edmonton to the Arctic ocean. On his trips to Europe and the commercial centres of Canada he has always preached the doctrine that the remote Mackenzie country would one day supply the world with coal, iron, asphalt, oil and precious metals, and success is now peering over the horizon.

One day at the beginning of the Klondyke rush, this big, husky pioneer came on a crowd of people waiting to get up the Athabasca river. "What are you waiting for?" he asked.

"We are waiting to get through the rapids," said the crowd.

"Then why don't you make a start?"

"It's a bad rapids, and there is no one to take a boat through."

"I'll take one through," said Cornwall; and he did—safely, though he had never been through them himself before.

When he returned there were scores of people waiting to be piloted. "Jim" named his fee, and brought them all through without a casualty. When finished he had over $1,000 in his pocket.

An Emerson Hough, the well-known author and traveler, who made a trip with "Jim" a few years ago into the far North, says: "Cornwall is the greatest man in dangerous waters I ever saw."

One week after his discharge in Quebec he was on the way back to those same "dangerous waters." For three and a half years he had been away in khaki. In this time he had won the D.S.O. and the Croix-du-guerre. "Watch his foam," say the rapids of the far north.

No Rush of Traffic But Peace of Mind

Mr. Seton Thompson, the naturalist, once told of an old Indian whom he had brought down from one of the reservations to show him New York.

He took the old man along Broadway at night, over Brooklyn bridge, on the overhead and underground railways, and so on.

At last he asked the old man what he thought of New York, and this was the reply:

"Mr. Seton Thompson, in the land from which I came we have no bridges to span our great rivers, no great white ways to spoil the darkness of the night sky, no trains under the land and over the land; but we have peace of mind."

Mr. Henry Ford is reported to have said there is a job for every man in the world. Yes, dodging his cars, perhaps?—Punch.

Lloyd George's Mother Served Tea While Assessing Son's Clients

Famous British Statesman Inherited Canny Half of His Nature From Mother, Who Stripped Visit to Attorney's Office of All Its Traditional Terrors.

In this unique and memorable Rectorial Address at St. Andrews last year J. M. Barrie described himself as being under the sway of two separate personalities. There is "the unruly half—the writing half," to whom he gave the name of M'Connachie, and there is "the half that is dour and practical and canny," who is the exact antithesis of "the fanciful half."

"Identically the same claim could be made by Mr. Lloyd George, as they who are intimate with him can readily attest," according to J. H. Edwards, in John O'London's Weekly. His physical tenement also is shared by two distinct personalities—the one a "fanciful half," and the other, as in Barrie's case, "practical and canny." And each of these tenants has his periods of ascendancy, when his ingrained characteristics find their full exercise. The "fanciful half" invariably reveals himself in the thrilling strains of Mr. Lloyd George's public utterances, with their glow of the true Promethean fire, their wealth of emotional appeal, histrionic flair, and soaring imaginativeness, as well as in his manifest ecstasy in listening to Welsh sermons and in his rhapsody over Welsh hymns.

The other personality, "the practical and canny half," assumes the ascendancy whenever Mr. Lloyd George takes his place at the conference table, in the strenuous task of bridging the chasm that divides two opposing parties.

The explanation is obviously to be found in Mr. Lloyd George's parental legacy. The immediate source of his emotional temperament, with its visionary tendencies and its ecstatic moods, is clearly derived from his father.

All through their history the Georges of Pembrokehire had been yeoman farmers. Attachment to the native soil had been the unbroken entail of each successive generation, but the break came at last with William George—Mr. Lloyd George's father—who declared in his own expressive phrase that he did not mean to spend his life "with his nose in the soil." He was too much of a "star-gazer" ever to succeed in the task of keeping his nose in the soil. He was essentially a dreamer and a mystic.

When he took to himself a wife in the person of Miss Elizabeth Lloyd, of Llanystumdwy, he found one who was his exact counterpart. There was no vein of mysticism in her. On the contrary, she was of a most practicable turn of mind, a woman of sound judgment and of marked sagacity.

After the death of her husband, she went with her fatherless children to live under the roof of her brother, Richard Lloyd, at Llanystumdwy. In later years, the little household removed from the little cottage at Llanystumdwy to a larger house in Criccieth, where David Lloyd George opened an office, after qualifying as a full-fledged solicitor. The back parlor of the house was allotted to him as his office, while the front room was used as the living-room for the household.

No one knew better than Mrs. George of the traditional dread with which the Welsh peasantry regarded a lawyer's office. For them a visit to a local attorney was like a visit to a dentist—to be resorted to only after every other expedient had proved futile.

When, therefore, her son established an office of his own, she instantly set herself to strip a visit to the "attorney" of all its traditional terrors by investing it with an atmosphere of cordiality and welcome. From the front room she could see every client that came to the door, and the heartiest of greetings was accorded him as he was conducted to the office in the back parlor.

To every caller that came there was always an invitation, after he had transacted his business in the office, to step into the front room to have a cup of tea; but, while the client would be regaling himself with so welcome a mark of hospitality, the young lawyer's mother would be quietly, yet with unerring instinct, making an assay of his worldly position. By the time he had taken his departure, she would have made a fairly accurate assessment of his resources, and as a result she would be in a position to advise her son how far he would be justified in tempering the wind to meet the necessities of his client.

Such was Mr. Lloyd George's mother—sagacious in the highest degree, sound in judgment and resourceful in emergency.

Running Too Fast For the Judge's Watch

A new—and improved version of an old story about a famous judge was told at dinner recently by the English Attorney-General, Sir Ernest Pollock.

During the trial of an action the judge reproved a brow-beating counsel by telling him that a witness was not necessarily to be regarded as untruthful because he altered a statement he had previously made.

"For instance," he continued, "When I entered this court to-day, I could have sworn I had my watch in my pocket. But then I remembered I had left it on my dressing table at home."

The judge's words were evidently overheard by several people at the back of the court, for when he got home that night his wife greeted him with:

"Why all this bother about your watch—sending four or five men for it?"

"Great Scott!" said the judge. "What did you do?"

"I gave it to the first one who came," answered his wife.

Beatty's Taxicab In Sharp Collision

I hope you were not shaken, sir, by the collision," said a young friend to the Admirable Beatty recently—on the night of the day when the gallant admiral's taxicab had been in collision with a motor car in Oxford street.

"Oh, no; I'm used to collisions, you know," replied Earl Beatty with a smile. "Besides I'm lucky."

A friend of the admiral's says: "I never heard of Admiral Beatty being involved in a collision at sea, but I know of at least three street accidents in London in which he has been concerned. But then, our streets are dangerous. Colonel Freyberg told me once during the war that he thought the trenches were much safer."

Trotzky is now broadcasting his speeches by wireless, and everybody is invited to listen in. We understand that persons found in the possession of cotton wool suitable for ear plugging will be severely dealt with.—Passing Show.

RECOMMENDS TRIP FROM VICTORIA TO NANAIMO

Leaving Victoria by motor the seventy-three miles of road to Nanaimo are hard to equal. The journey continues through a district rich in agricultural possibilities and in natural scenery, surpassed only by that in the northern and central section of the island. The drive along the Malahat is seldom missed by the thousands of tourists who annually visit the shores of Vancouver Island.

At Cowichan Lake and the river there is always profitable fishing, and Cowichan bay cannot be surpassed for its grandeur.

Leaving Nanaimo on a motor trip northward an hour's run brings one to the beautiful village of Parksville, at which point the motorist can choose a trip to the west coast of the island or continue on northward to the Campbell River district, world-famed for its salmon fishing, and also for its equally famous Elk Falls.

Should the tourist choose the trip to the West Coast a half-hour's run brings him to the shores of Cameron Lake, a beautiful sheet of water five miles in length nesting between

Cameron and Copper King mountains, with Mount Arrowmith rearing its snow-capped summit to a height of over 5,000 feet in the background.

Fishing in Cameron Lake is at its best. Continuing on his pleasure jaunt, the tourist drops over the summit of the Beaufort range into the picturesque town of Alberni, situated at the head of the Alberni canal, and continues on to Sprout and Great Central Lakes, famed far and wide for excellence of their fishing during the Summer months.

GRAY DORT CAUSES SENSATION IN EAST

The Gray-Dort has met with approval at the hands of the public and at a recent motor show in Montreal great interest was shown in the newest model.

There were eighteen new models of the car at this exhibit, and orders for early deliveries poured into the hands of the salesman almost immediately. Robert Gray, president of the Gray-Dort Motors, Limited, Chatham, Ontario, was greatly satisfied by the results of the display. Thousands flocked to see the display.

The dealers in Victoria, Cartier Bros., have been doing very well with the Gray motor. In the last ten days they have placed several cars, and bid fair to make many more sales before the month of May is out. The models the Gray-Dort makers are putting on the market now are as follows:

Gray-Dort, six-cylinder touring, six-cylinder sedan, six-cylinder roadster, six-cylinder coupe.

And the following four-cylinder models:

Phaeton, special touring, Oxford roadster, Special roadster, Standard sedan, Special sedan, Special coupe, Special coupe, Gray touring, Gray roadster, Gray-Dort delivery truck.

QUANTITY TURNOUT LOWERS NET COST

Chevrolet Dealer Satisfied Maximum Value of Dollar Realized

There are fifteen hundred Chevrolet dealers and service stations in Canada, and a proportionate number in the United States. No matter where Chevrolet owners travel in Canada or the United States, they will be assured of prompt and courteous attention and a skilled mechanic's services if necessary. It is stated by the Begg Motor Company, local agents.

The selling prices of all automobiles are based on the cost of material, production, distribution and overhead. Large volume of sales naturally reduces all these costs. Chevrolet operates on the basis of large volume, moderate margin of profit and rapid turnover. For these reasons Chevrolet cars are priced to give the purchaser the maximum in modern economical transportation per dollar of cost. By modern means up-to-date engineering, design, construction, finish and appointments. A close inspection of any of the New Superior models will bear out, in full, these statements, believe the local agents.

AUTOMOBILE MAKERS IN A NEW BUSINESS

Many of Them Manufacturing Their Own Plate Glass for Cars

Since plate-glass has been holding up the output of sedans in the United States, automobile manufacturers have decided to go into the plate-glass business.

In this way, they expect, they will assure themselves a supply of glass sufficient for the use on the large number of enclosed cars demanded to-day.

Henry Ford was the first auto producer to go into this new field of production. His factory, near Pittsburg, Pa., is being used solely to satisfy his demand for glass for his 1923 automobiles a month.

Before Ford, the Fisher Body Co., perhaps the largest automobile body manufacturer in the country, had control of the entire output of the National Plate Glass Co., but it divided its product among several manufacturers.

Now comes W. C. Durant with his announcement that he had bought the entire capital stock of the American Plate Glass Co., at Kane, Pa. The capacity of this factory is said to be between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 square feet of plate-glass a year.

The sudden enormous demand for plate-glass by the automobile manufacturers is explained by the fact that the production of enclosed cars has risen in one year from 50 to 60 per cent of the total output of all styles of automobiles. This year, due to the plate-glass shortage, manufacturers have been unable to meet an even greater demand for such automobiles. As a result those who could not get sedans, have been buying open cars and ordering all-weather tops with them as a substitute.

The two automobile manufacturers and the body company now owning plate-glass factories, it is estimated, control one-third of the country's total plate-glass output. This production is about 120,000,000 square feet a year, of which the Fisher Body gets between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 feet, Ford about 7,000,000, and Durant 8,000,000 feet.

HANDSOME CAR

One of the largest sightseeing cars built in this Province will take the road to-day in the service of the Express Taxi Stand. The car is a seven-seated sight-seeing bus, capable of accommodating 35 passengers, mounted on a new White two-ton chassis. The carriage work was executed by the firm of John Meston, of 1407 Broad Street, which has already added several neat models to the sight-seeing business in this city to various other firms.

In addition to the sight-seeing fleet was built to the order of H. B. Olsen, of the Express Taxi Stand, and embodies many notable innovations.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE, SAYS SCIENTIST

No satisfactory substitute for gasoline seems probable in the near future, said Dr. John Bowman, president of the University of Pittsburgh and director of its affiliated institution, the Mellon Institute of Research, at the Waldorf-Astoria. Dr. Bowman is of the opinion, however, that researches now under way will result in such improvements in distribution that the price of gasoline will actually decline. The quality of gasoline will also be so improved that carbonizing will be unknown. There can be no shortage of gasoline for centuries, Dr. Bowman points out, because oil exists in sufficient quantity to supply gasoline for nine centuries to come. Furthermore, the institute has, as a result of its researches, found that present processes of extracting oil from sand result in only 12 per cent extraction. The institute, as a result of this discovery, has successfully solved a method of materially increasing this percentage.

Willys-Overland Company Is Putting Out Fine Light Car

The Willys-Overland Company's Blue Bird is one of the latest additions to the motor market. It was put out during the first few weeks of Spring and has been giving steady satisfaction ever since. There is not a buyer who has had fault to find with the light Overland model.

It is a four-cylinder motor, heads separately cast, with an easy, helical timing gear, and the many other good features of a distinctly modern car. The car is fitted with an eight gallon gas tank, on the gravity system, and has a six-volt starting and lighting system. The mechanism connected with the driving of the car is, from the manipulator's standpoint, close to perfection. WEEKS MOTORS, LTD., NANAIMO

936 Fort Street

30 M.P.G. On Taxis

In Toronto the Dollar Taxi Service takes you anywhere in the city for a dollar. Experts all said it couldn't be done, and STAR CARS are doing it. A year ago they put 35 Star Sedans to work. They've averaged 30 miles to the gallon. The cars made so much money and are in such splendid condition the company is putting 100 more in service this Spring. Motor experts, including Mr. Durant himself, are all fooled at the way these Stars are standing taxi work and turning out mileage.

The STAR is a wonderful little car and its sturdiness and economy are just coming to light.

EVERYTHING UP THE MARKET IN STOCKS

New York, N.Y., May 5.—The early dealings in today's market witnessed a continuation of the rally which got under way in yesterday's late trading.

However, this strength was short lived and the buying which took place seemed to emanate chiefly from the short interest and was representative of realizing by that element in anticipation of the week-end.

After this type of demand was satisfied, the list turned reactionary again and the closing tone was irregular. Week-end trade reviews while rather optimistic in comment pointed out a growing tendency to stabilize more stabilized tone in the commodity markets due to recent unsettledness in that quarter.

We do not believe that the liquidating movement in the stock market has culminated as yet and aside from occasional rallies which are naturally to be expected, we think the list will work into lower ground and believe that advantage should be taken of bulges to make sales.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, May 5.—In view of heavy deliveries through the clearing house, the wheat market held wonderfully steady today, but export news showed limited trading.

Considerable wheat changed hands on navigation opening contracts, but there was no serious reaction. Export news indicated that the hand to mouth policy which has been predicted by United Kingdom buyers for May will be continued for June.

The wholesale vegetable prices are slightly lower in several different cases, asparagus having dropped to $2.50 for lighter grades, and the aforementioned cucumbers both and Ontario new twines are 26 and 27 cents, respectively. Cheese has been unsettled lately. Other dairy products are steady.

Total Was $159,605,687 on February 28 Last

New York, May 5.—The Ford Motor Company, Inc. has more actual cash in its treasury than any other corporation in the United States, if not in the entire world, according to figures announced in Wall Street, which place the total as more than that of the United States Steel Corporation, despite the fact that the total assets of the Ford Company are less than one-fourth the total assets of the largest steel corporation in the world.

The report also shows that the company has more cash on hand than any other corporation in the world. The company's cash holdings are $159,605,687, compared with $125,700,121 reported by the United States Steel Corporation in its last annual report of December 31, 1922.

THE ROYAL CITY CROWN ITS QUEEN

New Westminster, May 5.—The 58th milestone in Royal City May Queen celebrations was passed at Queen's Park yesterday, when, with all the pomp and splendor which has featured the event since it was first established back in 1870, Miss Betty Whiteside, daughter of Mr. David Whiteside, local member of the Provincial Legislature, was crowned.

The coronation ceremony was introduced by ex-Mayor J. J. Johnston, master of ceremonies, the crowning ceremony was gracefully carried out by the retiring May Queen. Three hundred girls and boys afterwards took part in the folk dancing, no less than fourteen may-poles being necessary for this section of the programme.

In the evening the big May Day ball was held in the Arena at Queen's Park, where it is estimated a crowd of seven thousand attended, the school children being allowed the floor up to 10.30 o'clock.

Miss Betty Whiteside was the popular choice of the girl students of the city schools, a ballot being taken so as to give any favorite the honor. Miss Betty Whiteside and her suite will take part in the Bellingham Tulip Festival on May 12.

Toronto, May 5.—The General Board of the Presbyterian Church has decided to allocate an additional $35,000 as an emergency grant to the foreign mission appropriation for the coming year. DEFEAT OF WHEAT BOARD BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

London, May 5.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The defeat in the Manitoba Legislature of the Wheat Board Bill is noted with satisfaction by the Saturday Review. The paper says: "What, which of course is the most valuable product of the prairie provinces, has during the last three or four years threatened to become a political issue in Canada. We may hope that this has now gone out of fashion. It is believed in Canada that the defeat of the measure in Manitoba will put an end to the movement."
