THE DAILY BEE,
PUBLISHED BY
G. P. WEISSE & CO.,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.
G. P. WEISSE. S. HARBY.
H. SCHREIBER. N. DUFOUR.
... ($12 00
... $ 00
... subscribers must give one week's notice ... they can be allowed to discontinue.

The New Orleans Bee.

OFFICE, 83 CHARTRES ST. NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 20, 1856. VOL. XVII—NEW SERIES. VOL. XXX—WHOLE NO. 10,145.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.
... Bee ... square ... week ... and ... insertion ... and ... insertion ... Advertisements inserted for ... time, will have ... charged ... for every ... time for each ... square ... insertion.
☞ The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited to advertising strictly within the line of their business, and in extent to one square every other day.

THE DAILY BEE.

... subscriptions by the Week.
... of the BEE are authorized to ... subscriptions by the week, at the ... cents.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 20, 1856

... The foundation of my preference is, that ... Fillmore has administered the Executive ... government with signal success and ability. ... has been tried and found true, faithful ... and conscientious."—HENRY CLAY.

... If there be those, North or South, who ... dissolve our administration for the North, or ... against the South, or for the South as against ... North, they are not the men who should ... entrusted with power to me. For my own part ... my country, my whole country ... and nothing but my country."—MILLARD ... Address on his landing at ... York.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS' NAMES.

... "enough fully qualified by both ... and residence, to cast the vote at the ... Presidential election, UNLESS HE IS ...

... is decidedly pessimist author ... ments in the city for the ...

... Mail failed yesterday from ...

A CONSISTENT POLITICIAN.

... perceive, in view ... condition of the ... has consented ... Louisiana, has consented ... of the State. Some of ... papers are published in the Cou... he will succeed quite as ... as he did in Maine. ... of Georgia, and ... Louisiana, the honorable ... Maine, and delivered ... of the State and most ingen... resorted to Washington ... assertion that the label ... the Democratic fold ... emphished, and only ... ing delusion when the ... transmitted to him the ... State had given ... against the Demo... been signally unfor... Northern tour. Perhaps he ... fitted better suited to ... tricks that in Louisiana. ... he was once almost idol... a powerful harvest. But ... Wright, Senator from ... Benjamin, the open, ... his party, and adve... heresies and cham... ent individuals, as the ... exceedingly apt to ... of his contemplated ... pronounced ... the Whig and ... of the former, he said ... a growing pane... Of the latter, ... party is not yet ... ed as the Whig par... sagacity to per... dividual is a nation ... Democratic ... have been reduce... and that their strug... be found, and the ... rear of ... ended "free ... rendered by the con... has thus ... the party which ... ance to the long ... the North, and ... the national best ... as a party." ... and neither its ... ensuing election ... ceived or advance ... with present ... the honorable Sena... for the nance ... trays of that ... which was ... The immediate ... part. His right ... the organization ... the Northern De... to the signs ... Whig party ... one affiliates he ... eyes to the truth, and be governed by it; act ... with firmness and energy, and we may yet ... remain a united confederacy, and in the en... joyment of the blessings it confers. The ... price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

JUNIUS.

ARRIVAL OF THE CAHAWBA.

The U. S. mail steamer Cahawba, J. D. Bullech, commander, from New York, via Havana, arrived at the Levee last evening at eight o'clock. She left New York on the 12th at noon, arrived off the Moro at 6 A. M. on the 17th, and having discharged the passengers and mails, proceeded at 11 A. M. for this place.

Among the passengers from New York for Havana were the opera troupe, just arrived from Europe for Mexico, with Vestvali at the head. The Cahawba brings no passengers or freight from Havana, owing to the Quarantine regulations at this port, merely discharging those for Havana in a steamboat which came out. The health of Havana is very good, and no further fears need be entertained for the balance of the season. Inside the bar, passed bark Ardennes, of New Orleans, bound up.

In the late speech of David Paul Brown, Esq., of Philadelphia, at Faneuil Hall, Boston, he said that both Fillmore and Frémont were tried men; the only difference was, that Fillmore was acquitted, and Frémont convicted.

We find the following dispatch in the Baton Rouge Gazette of Thursday:

No Fusion in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Reliable advices from Harrisburg state that in NO CASE will the American party of Pennsylvania coalesce with the Republican part

Mr. Buchanan's Relations with Slavery.

There needed no ghost to tell us that every effort would be made to gain all of the free States to prove Mr. Buchanan enough of a Freesoiler to be opposed to the Southern anarchists in Kansas. Documents to show his hostility to slavery are freely circulated in the New England States and the States of the Northwest; and it is because of his impartiality between Northern and Southern sentiment, that pseudo-conservatives, like Messrs. Choate, Beverdy Johnson, Pearce and Pratt, prefer to support him rather than the other candidates. Of course, such support is given upon the assumption that, in spite of his record on the Cincinnati platform, Mr. Buchanan is not the man to lend his influence to further extravagant plans of the ultra slave propagandists of the North.—N. Y. Times.

The Nashville Gazette remarks:

Just as we thought, the grand rascals at Washington prepared lying documents for the South and lying documents for the North—the former to show that he is the greatest advocate of slavery in the North, and the latter to show that he is the friend of the Freesoil constituent. What deep corruption! If the Times will send to Washington for a document, the title page of which runs: "Who commenced, and who caused it; human and Fillmore compared from the record," it will see a villainous production prepared for the south.

To the above we can add our own testimony. We have a copy of the document in question. In the South, Buchanan is represented as a proslavery, and in the North as an anti slavery man.—American Organ.

MURDER IS MOBILE.—The Evening News has the following:

Dexter Colter was shot in the right eye, at the corner of Eslava and Claiborne streets, at about half-past nine o'clock, last night, by Charles Lewis. Colter, we are told was a ship carpenter and an industrious, peaceable man, died during the night. Gray, who had been formerly in the employ of Mr. Rodrigues, as bar-keeper, but who, for some time past, has been out of business, made his escape, and was arrested by the police officer and officer Sullivan at twelve o'clock, A. M. The difficulty, which resulted so unhappily, commenced, during the Fillmore and Donelson Club meeting, Colter's refusing to treat Gray, alleging that he had spouged on him long enough. Gray afterwards followed him down to where the shooting took place, and on seeing Colter, called upon him to come over across the street. Colter refused, using several pretty hard epithets, saying that he had followed him long enough, and that he wanted nothing to do with him. Gray then stepped out from behind the shade of the trees and called out to him: "If you are a man, come over and meet me." Colter then started towards him, and Gray fired the pistol, as above stated. The case was called by the Mayor, and transferred to Justice E. B. Roulston's court by request of the Coroner.

Gray was refused bail, and was committed for trial at the next term of the City Court.

FATAL POLITICAL COLLISION.—The Manchester, (Minn.) American says:

We understand that a sad accident happened to a small party of Democrats in Cascadia, on their way home from a Buchanan pole-raising on High street, in that town, last Saturday afternoon. Four men—a Mr. Batchelder, Mr. Patten, and two men named Bean —were riding together in a carriage. The Messrs. Bean and Patten fell into a dog ure, and finally came to blows, when they jumped out of the carriage, and Patten, having a double barreled gun in his hands, discharged the contents of one barrel into the leg of the eldest Bean, just above the knee. The charge completely severed the bone, and it is probable that amputation will be necessary.

P. S. We learn that Mr. Bean died late night at 9 o'clock.

JUNIUS.

No. 14.

Editors of the Bee:—I was astonished by the following extract from a letter of a Washington correspondent to one of the leading Democratic journals of New Orleans:

It is already arranged, in the event of Fremont's election, or a failure to elect by the people, to call the Legislatures of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, to concert measures to withdraw from the Union before Fremont can get possession of the army and navy and the purse-strings of government. Gov. Wise is actively at work already in the matter. The South can rely on the President in the emergency contemplated. The question now is, whether the people of the South will sustain their leaders.

Here we are admonished of the course which the leaders of the Democratic party have determined to pursue in case Mr. Fremont is elected. They would seize the archives and the treasure of the government, and secure the control of the army and navy. They would lay violent hands on the capitol, and raise a storm to dissolve the Union, if not unsuccessful, without the slightest possible delay. Such, without the slightest possible delay. Such, without the slightest possible delay. Such