LUSITANIA SUNK OFF COAST OF IRELAND

BATTLE OF HILL 60 STILL IN PROGRESS

Huns Using Gases; British Papers Urge That Counter-Measures Be Adopted

ARTILLERY ENGAGEMENTS TO THE NORTH OF YPRES

Enemy Gained No Ground by Attack at Bagetelle, in the Argonne

London, May 7.—The battle to decide the mastery of Hill No. 60 and the desolated country around Ypres has not reached its final stages yet.

The fighting in Flanders finds the Germans still making use of asphyxiating gases, and there is a noticeable current running through the British press which insists that the Allies should adopt counter-measures at once.

Paris, May 7.—The French war office this afternoon gave out the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"The Germans delivered an attack yesterday at the close of the day at Bagetelle, in the Argonne. It resulted in complete failure."

"On the remainder of the front, particularly to the north of Ypres and in the region of Vanquois, there have been violent artillery engagements."

London, May 7.—The British war office issued the following communication last night:

"There is nothing to report on the British front except the recapture by us yesterday evening of more of our lost trenches on Hill No. 60, southeast of Ypres, and that fighting still continues in that locality. Elsewhere the enemy has shown no disposition to attack."

AUSTRIA PREPARING TO DEFEND HERSELF

Paris, May 7.—Austria is continuing to make extensive preparations for defence against a possible attack by Italy, according to a dispatch to the Petit Parisien from Turin. Railway service was suspended for six hours last Friday and Saturday at Graz and Laybach to permit the passage of military trains carrying artillery and ammunition to Trieste.

Considerable German forces are said to be at Graz awaiting transportation to Zagreb, Croatia, and thence to Bosnia and Dalmatia.

RAIN HAS FALLEN IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Winnipeg, May 7.—Soaking and highly beneficial rains fell during the last twenty-four hours over most of Manitoba, much of Alberta and parts of Saskatchewan. Showers have been fairly generally over the latter province. The weather has been cool, with light frost in some localities, but the frost has done no harm. Conditions could not be much better for the growing crop, although rain still is needed in southern and southwestern Saskatchewan. In Manitoba wheat has got off to so good a start that it will take very unusual conditions to check it.

THOSE LIQUOR TAXES.

London, May 7.—An agreement has been reached between the Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George and representatives of the liquor trade in the matter of the proposed taxes on beer and spirits. The statement is made that the chancellor has agreed to drop all the new taxes in the form originally proposed by him.

BARRED FROM MAILED

San Francisco, May 7.—A strong protest from Great Britain to the United States government against the Hindu revolutionary paper, Hindu Ghadar, published here, resulted yesterday in the barring of the newspaper from the United States mails when addressed to post-offices in India, Canada, Great Britain or Australia.

BOBO AT CAPE HAYTIEN

Cape Haytien, Hayti, May 7.—Dr. Rene Bobo, leader of the revolutionary movement against President Guillaume, rode into Cape Haytien yesterday at the head of a strong detachment of cavalry. The town was occupied a few days ago by two of Bobo's generals.

Fighting is going on between the government forces and the followers of Dr. Bobo at Limba and Grande Riviere.

HAS MADE HER LAST VOYAGE; LUSITANIA

JAPAN AND CHINA WILL NOT GO TO WAR

Republic Has Decided to Grant Demands Made by Tokio Government

FURTHER CONCESSIONS WERE MADE BY JAPAN

Tokio, May 7.—War with China has been averted, according to authentic authoritative assurances in official circles here. It is declared that China had decided definitely to grant the demand of Japan. The news, when made public, caused great demonstrations by the pacifists, but the city generally did not enthuse.

Peking, May 7.—It was ascertained here to-day that the Japanese government yesterday presented to the Chinese minister at Tokio a note warning him that China must accept the demand of Japan.

Tokio, May 7.—A dispatch to the Nichi Nichi from its Peking correspondent says that the Chinese government informed Japanese Minister Hiroi last night that it desired to arrange a settlement of the demands in such a way as to avoid a rupture.

Peking, May 7.—"Japan's policy," says the Peking Gazette, "is to extort the entire body of her demands while avoiding the odium of Europe and the United States for exacting from China through an ultimatum."

Tokio, May 7.—Baron Kato, Japanese foreign minister, is understood to have informed the ambassadors of other powers that the ultimatum to China which was set to expire at 8 p.m. on Sunday, was accompanied by additional modifications of Japan's demands, notably the questions relating to munitions and advisors, which interested the United States.

The impression prevails that the influence of the Elder Statesmen resulted in further concessions being made to China in the belief that the lasting interests of the empire could be served best by convincing the powers that Japan is guided by a spirit of justice and a desire for the preservation of peace in the Orient.

TWENTY-ONE KILLED; FORTY-FIVE INJURED

New Orleans, La., May 7.—The death toll of the Hesperus which devastated Acadia parish, in southwestern Louisiana, and Coshama county, in Northwestern Mississippi, yesterday, stood at twenty-one to-day. All but one were negroes.

Forty-five more persons are known to have been injured in Acadia parish. Estimates placed the property losses there at $250,000.

LIEUT.-GEN. W. DE HORSEY IS DEAD AT LONDON

London, May 7.—Lieut.-Gen. William Henry Beaumont de Horsey died last night at the age of 89 years. He entered the army in 1844, became a major-general in 1878 and retired in 1883. He was decorated for gallantry in the Crimean war.

SUBMARINES SANK TWO BRITISH SHIPS

Candidate and Centurion Sent to Bottom Off Coast of Ireland

MEMBERS OF BOTH CREWS WERE SAVED

London, May 7.—The British steamship Candidate was torpedoed by a German submarine yesterday off Waterford, Ireland. The members of her crew were saved.

The steamship Candidate was of 3,828 tons net register. Built in Glasgow in 1906, she was 398 feet long. She was owned by the Harrison Steamship Co. of Liverpool. She arrived at Liverpool on April 9 from New Orleans.

London, May 7.—The British steamship Centurion was torpedoed by a German submarine off the Irish coast yesterday. Her crew was saved.

The Centurion was attacked about the same time that the steamship Candidate was torpedoed off Waterford, Ireland. The Centurion was bound for South Africa and the Candidate for Jamaica.

The Centurion was 339 feet long and her net tonnage was 3,854. She was owned by the Harrison Steamship Co. of Liverpool.

RUSSIANS DISPUTE THE TEUTONIC CLAIMS

Have Been Pushed Back at Places but No Great Victory Gained

London, May 7.—The Russians show no signs of accepting the German claim that a crushing defeat has been inflicted upon them in Western Galicia.

That the Russians have been pushed back many miles further across the Donajec, and now across the Wislola rivers, which roughly parallels the Donajec fifteen miles to the eastward, all the dispatches from German and Austrian sources insist, but the British newspapers still refuse to concede a great victory to the Austro-Germans, although they admit that a great tentative success has been achieved.

There is great faith in Britain in the recuperative powers of the Russian forces and the disposition for the moment seems to be to suspend judgment on the question of whether the Russians, if driven from Dukla Pass, will be forced to abandon their advance against Hungary, and, indeed, their positions in Western Galicia. At any rate the argument is being made by British observers that the Russians should have no trouble in holding their line on the river San, in Eastern Galicia, especially as their flank would now be covered by Przemysl.

Co-incident with the Austro-German claims of victory in Galicia, there has been a marked increase in the rumors of Italian intervention.

All Passengers and Members of Crew of Lusitania Were Saved

London, May 7.—The Cunard company has ascertained definitely that all the passengers and all the members of the crew of the Lusitania have been saved.

ITALY IS ON POINT OF ENTERING WAR

Under Instructions From Berlin, German School at Rome Has Been Closed

Rome, May 7.—Upon receipt of a dispatch from Berlin, the German school in this city suddenly was closed yesterday afternoon. The teachers, with a number of German newspaper correspondents and several German families, left almost immediately for Germany.

The Vatican has advised all German and Austrian ecclesiastics and theological students to leave Rome immediately.

London, May 7.—Reuter dispatch from Athens says that a telegram from Constantinople states that the Italian government has recalled the teachers in Italian schools at the Turkish capital.

Subjects of the Triple Entente powers who remain in Turkey are being concentrated at Constantinople by the authorities with the view to their removal to Asia Minor.

Rome, May 7.—The Austrian Embassy has issued a denial that Baron Goluchowski has been entrusted by the Vienna government with a special mission to Rome.

The railroad administration announces that forty passenger trains on the principal lines have been abandoned because of difficulty in obtaining coal.

Rome, May 7.—Asserting that the hour is near at hand for a momentous decision by Italy, the Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, deprecates in the strongest terms the war it believes probable. The paper protests against "the fury of degenerate nationalism which desires war for war's sake, hiding from the majority of the nation the dangers of participating in this mad and reckless venture." It urges Europe like an earthquake, which lightly accepts war for war's sake without asking its justice, necessity or opportunities.

TEN KILLED.

Rome, May 7.—Ten persons were killed last night in an explosion which blew up a powder factory at Fontana Liri. The explosion caused a panic in the village and troops intervened to restore order. A rigid investigation is being conducted by the authorities.

PRESENTED TO DAY.

London, May 7.—Reuter's Telegram company has received a dispatch from Peking saying that the Japanese ultimatum to China was presented to the Chinese government this afternoon.

BOMBS DROPPED ON CONSTANTINOPLE

Athens Dispatch Says Three Russian Aviators Flew Over Turkish Capital

WARSHIPS ATTACKING AT THE DARDANELLES

Paris, May 7.—The first attack during the war on Constantinople is reported in an unofficial dispatch from Athens. It is said that three Russian aviators flew over the city, dropping several bombs which are believed to have caused extensive damage.
The message says also that the Russian Black Sea fleet bombarded the Bosphorus on Wednesday. Several Russian shells fell within ten miles of Constantinople.

Dardanelles, May 7.—The artillery exchanges between the warships of the allies and the shore positions of the Turks continue. Some vessels are firing from the Gulf of Saros. The town of Maldoz was set on fire yesterday.

Paris, May 7.—The Official Gazette of the navy department published to-day an account of the landing of French troops on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, which confirms previous reports that the purpose of this enterprise was to make a diversion while the main landing force was going ashore on the Gallipoli peninsula.

A regiment of colonial infantry was put ashore at Kum Kale, on the Asiatic side, and attacked a greatly superior force of Turks.

The Official Gazette says that the French took 500 prisoners and then retired to their ships, having fulfilled their mission of engaging the attention of the Turks while the main landing operations were being carried out in force on the European side.

WERE OUTNUMBERED BUT VICTORIOUS

Tiflis, May 7.—It has been officially established in Tiflis that the Turkish forces who recently, under the command of Thali Bey, occupied Dilman, numbered 15,000 men. This shows that their numerical strength was greater than that of the Russians and even in the final battle the Turks outnumbered their antagonists. The trophies taken by the Russians were a complete hospital outfit and enormous quantities of stores. It is not yet known how many prisoners were taken. The Turkish commander and the members of his staff all had narrow escapes from capture.

STERN MEASURES.

Paris, May 7.—The Petit Parisien says it has been informed that the government will introduce a bill prohibiting absolutely the manufacture, sale and transport of all alcoholic drinks during the progress of war. Even beverages containing a slight proportion of alcohol, it is understood, will be prohibited.

Lusitania, on Way From New York to Liverpool, Was Caught Ten Miles Off Old Head of Kinsale, Ireland; Remained Afloat for Twenty Minutes.

Many Vessels Hurried to Assistance of Sinking Ship; Small Boats Carrying Passengers Taken in Tow; Attack on Big Vessel Was Made About 2 p. m. To-day

London, May 7.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, which sailed from New York on May 1 for Liverpool with 1253 passengers on board, was torpedoed about 2 o'clock this afternoon at a point about ten miles off Old Head of Kinsale, Ireland, and later went down.

New York, May 7.—The New York office of the Cunard line announced this afternoon that the Lusitania had been sunk.

The Lusitania sailed from this port last Saturday, May 1, and carried, in addition to her own large passenger list, 163 passengers transferred to her from the Anchor liner Cameronia. The news of her sinking was given out by the local office of the Cunard line and was based on cable advices from the home office of the company in Liverpool. Three dispatches were made public by the line, reading as follows:

"We received from the Land's End station news of repeated distress calls made by the Lusitania asking for assistance at once. Big list. Position ten miles south of Kinsale. Subsequently received telegram from Queenstown that all available craft in the harbor had been dispatched to assist."

The second message to the local office read as follows: "Queenstown, 4.50 p. m. About twenty boats of all sorts belonging to our line are in the vicinity where the Lusitania sank. About fifteen other boats are making for the spot to render assistance."

The third cablegram was dated Liverpool and read:
"Following received by admiralty: 'Gilly Head, 4.25 p. m., several boats, apparently survivors, southeast, nine miles.' Greek steamship proceeding to assist."

London, May 7.—It is believed that the passengers of the Lusitania are safe. No details of how they may have been rescued, however, are at hand. A message received says it is not known how many of the liner's passengers were saved.

Relief was sent out immediately from Queenstown. It is believed a reasonable length of time before going down, it is possible that some of the rescuing ships got to her side. It is believed that the Lusitania's watertight bulkheads would tend to keep her afloat.

The presence of German submarines in the trans-Atlantic lanes of travel has been indicated by the sinking during the past few days of other British vessels off the Irish coast.

London, May 7.—The presence of German submarines off the southern coast of Ireland and along the line of travel the Lusitania would follow in going to Liverpool was made known in a dispatch from Glasgow last night, which notified that the British steamship Cherbourg had been torpedoed in the Atlantic off the Irish coast. This was on April 25. Two other vessels were sent to the bottom more recently, the Centurion and the Candidate. Their destinations lead to the belief that one or more German submarines had been operating in the lanes of trans-Atlantic travel. It may be that they were waiting for the Lusitania and in the event while attacked, such other vessels as came within their range.

Washington, May 7.—President Wilson was informed of the sinking of the Lusitania, and White House officials showed keen anxiety to learn whether any American lives were lost. No comment was made.

New York, May 7.—When the Lusitania sailed she had aboard 1,253 passengers on board. She was carrying 1,000 tons of war materials. She had been caused by the Lusitania in the morning papers of Saturday an advertisement warning intending travelers that a state of war existed between Germany and Great Britain and her allies, that the zone of war includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles, that in accordance with notice given by the German government, the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk at 2.33 this afternoon off Kinsale.

Queenstown, May 7.—News received here from the steamship Lusitania at 3.35 p. m. said that before sinking her lifeboats were over her sides.

Queenstown, May 7.—Immediately after the news of the torpedoing of the Lusitania had been received here the admiral in command of the naval station dispatched to the scene all assistance available. The tug Warrior, Stormcock and Julia, together with five trawlers and the local lifeboat in tow of a tug, were hurried to sea.

Liverpool, May 7.—The Echo has been informed that a message to the Cunard line reads as follows:
"The Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk at 2.33 this afternoon off Kinsale." (Concluded on page 4.)

GERMANS SHELLED DRESSING STATIONS

Canadian Machine-Gun Team Occupied Cottage Within Enemy's Lines

London, May 7.—Sergeant Larkin, of the Second Battalion, First Brigade, lying wounded at Cardiff, confirms the assertion made by many Canadians that the German dead were so numerous after the enemy had been repulsed in the charges leading up to the great attack that the Canadians piled up the bodies as parapets.

"The German artillery fire was so heavy that it was more like machine gunfire," says Sgt. Larkin. "It is a curious fact that in the preliminary German attacks not one of our men was brought in suffering from bayonet wounds. The Germans damaged us with shell or rifle fire, but would not risk coming to us at close quarters. They either ran away or stood still and screamed for mercy."

"The Second Battalion at the end of Friday had six officers killed, six wounded and missing and twenty-four wounded. The Germans had absolutely no feeling for the wounded. They shelled the dressing stations and blew the fellows lying there wounded with antiaircrafts. Some of our motor ambulances also were blown up. "German prisoners seemed utterly fed up with fighting. Several Saxons told us that they would sooner be back at work."

"One of theluckiest things was done by a machine gun team of the Second Battalion. They occupied a cottage in broad daylight, within the German lines, and planted a machine gun, under Capt. Hooper. Eventually they were driven out, Capt. Hooper is wounded and missing."

Pte. Wyckham, writing home, says: "I do not know what they are going to do with what is left of the Canadians. We lost everything but our rifles and ammunition. I got through without a scratch, although I had to go half a mile over open fields in full view of the Germans. They put two machine guns on me and just plastered that half mile with shrapnel. "Those of the Canadians who remain are anxious to get busy again. I have lost a pal or two and am anxious to get even."

OFFICERS WHO WILL GO WITH SECOND CONTINGENT

Ottawa, May 7.—When the Second Contingent leaves for the front under Major-General S. B. Steele, the Ontario Infantry brigade will be under command of Col. Lord Brooke; the Quebec and Maritime Provinces brigades will be under command of Col. J. Landry, of Quebec, and the Western brigade will be under command of Col. H. D. B. Ketchum, of Winnipeg.

Major-General Steele's staff will include Capt. C. W. Cochrane, of Toronto, son of Hon. Frank Cochrane, and Capt. Roy Montague, son of Hon. W. H. Montague, of Winnipeg. Dr. Warnock, M.P. for MacLeod, has joined the remount department and will be located at Montreal for some time. The contingent will consist of about twenty-two thousand men.

DESCRIBES FIGHTING AROUND ST. JULIEN

Toronto Corporal Says Germans Set Gas Free at Certain Chosen Points

London, May 6.—A corporal from Toronto now in the Cliveden hospital recovering from a shrapnel wound in the jaw, told a correspondent the story of his battalion. "We were in reserve when the fighting began," he said, "and we moved forward right to St. Julien and dug ourselves in under fire. C and D companies advanced, reinforcing the other troops on the right. We saw nothing more of them, but it is reported they suffered heavily. This is uncertain, as rumors spread freely in a great fight. "A and B companies moved up to a high hill position occupied by some German trenches, which the enemy abandoned on our advance under very severe artillery fire. Part of A company then joined some British troops and apparently escaped lightly. We held our position. There was no direct German infantry attack upon us but there was continuous big shell and infantry fire day and night. We could see all the big charges like a panorama under our feet. "Continuous fighting went on on our right, around St. Julien. No gas was used against us, poison gas being employed only at certain picked spots. There were many aeroplanes operating at night, but the extraordinary thing was that the British and German machines seemed to go up at different times, and, so far as we could see, never fought each other in the air. We lay in our trenches, suffering constant casualties from the terrific German heavy shells. They had our range. "We maintained our rifle fire at every opportunity and our great chance came

REPORTED THAT ENEMY'S EFFORT HAS FAILED

Geneva, May 7.—The Tribune de Geneve has received a dispatch from Vienna saying that the desperate effort of an Austro-German force of 250,000 men to break through the Russian centre at Gorlice has failed. The losses have been heavy and the Austro-German forces were compelled to retreat to the west of Neusandau. German troops continue to arrive at Cracow and the fighting near there is said to be the most cruel of the war. The Vienna telegram relates also that an Austrian army corps under Archduke Eugene arrived on Wednesday at Noravitz, ten miles from the Serbian frontier. "TO COMMAND. London, May 7.—General Sir Henry Rundle, governor of Malta, was yesterday appointed to command one of the six new British armies now being formed.

Kidney Disease Cured Sworn Statement

Of Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Who Gratefully Gives All Credit to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

It is one thing to make big claims for a medicine and quite another thing to produce irrefutable evidence that it actually cures in serious cases. We prefer to let the cured ones speak for themselves, and that is why you find in almost every newspaper the report of someone who has been cured by the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. To-day we present the sworn statement of Mr. Wesley Maxwell. When a man goes to this trouble in expressing his gratitude there can be no question of the benefit he has received. Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Orangeville, Ont., writes: "I have been using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I must tell you that before I started using them I could only make water with the greatest difficulty, and had very severe pains in the back. I am completely cured now by the use of these pills. Before that I used a lot of doctors' medicines without any benefit that I could see. I am thankful for being cured, and can recom-

STUBBORN FIGHTING IN EASTERN ARENA

Russian Ambassador at Washington Authorized to Contradict Enemy's Reports

Petrograd, May 7.—The following official communication was issued last night:

"An engagement took place near Libau (on the Baltic), with German torpedo boats."

"There were skirmishes which resulted favorably for us south of Mitau (Courland), and near the village of Besigola."

"On the right bank of the Orzyca on the evening of the fourth we repulsed an impetuous attack by the Germans which had been prepared for a fierce fire lasting an hour and a half. We inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

"East of the Miawa railway we succeeded by a surprise attack in the capture of the farm of Pomikany. Yesterday the enemy made incessant but abortive attacks, lasting six hours. In front of the farm, which still remains in our hands, the Germans left about 1,000 dead."

"All is quiet on the left bank of the Vistula."

"In Galicia the battle between the Vistula and the Carpathians was continued yesterday with great obstinacy. Covered by heavy artillery fire, the enemy continues to concentrate forces on the right bank of the Donajec. The enemy's main efforts were directed towards Bleck and Jaslo."

"Our troops were severely tried, owing to the superiority of the enemy's artillery; but the enemy also suffered heavily under shrapnel and rifle fire which he attempted to attack."

"In the direction of Stry during Tuesday we developed our energies on the positions near Mount Makowka. The number of prisoners made in this action amounts to 2,000 men, including forty officers. The retreating enemy was thrown back a considerable distance. Along the course of the Upper Lomnica we gained some successes yesterday morning."

Washington, May 7.—The Russian embassy received the following dispatch from the Russian minister of foreign affairs yesterday:

"The reports from Berlin and Vienna of victories gained by the Germans and Austrians in Western Galicia, are absolutely unfounded. The battles that are progressing in that region give no foundation whatever to talk even of a partial success of our enemies. You are authorized to contradict most emphatically the reports spread by the Germans."

London, May 7.—Reuter's version of the last Berlin official communications contains additional details of the fighting in the Eastern zone. After the statement in the original communication that the enemy advanced against the German bridgehead on the Pilica river without success, the Reuter version says:

"We bombarded the fortress of Grodno (about 150 miles northwest of Warsaw) last night."

"In Western Galicia rear guards of the retreating army offered a desperate resistance to the allied troops under General von Mackensen, which broke down on the heights on the left bank of the Wisloka river above and below the mouth of the Ropa river."

"We not only forced a crossing of the Wisloka at several points, but firmly put our hands on the Puka pass, the road and the place."

Vienna, May 7.—The Austrian southern wing has crossed the Wisloka river. The Russians are retreating eastward to Lempok pass, it is claimed.

An official communication issued last evening by the war office said:

"At 1 o'clock this afternoon the last Russian positions on the heights east of the Donajec and the Binta rivers were gained by our troops."

"Tarnow was captured by us at 10 o'clock this morning."

SAYS GRAIN CROP WILL BE VERY HEAVY

Ottawa, Ont., May 7.—Sir William Mackenzie, head of the Canadian Northern railway, who has returned from a trip over the western lines of the railway, brings glowing reports of the crop situation and weather conditions in the prairies.

"Conditions out there could not be better," he says. "The crop already is two weeks ahead of what it was at this time last year. From all present indications there should be a record-breaking grain crop throughout the west."

NO ELECTION IN FRANCE DURING PERIOD OF WAR

Paris, May 7.—As a result of a discussion as to whether a parliament should continue in session throughout the period of the war, the group on the left, presided over by Emile Combes, and the Union Republicain group decided to take action toward this end. They came to a decision that a permanent session was necessary to assure uninterrupted collaboration with the government.

WILL HOLD INVESTIGATION

SHELLS SET FIRE TO VILLAGE OF KRITHIA

Correspondent Describes Operations Which Followed Landing of Troops at Dardanelles

London, May 7.—The Dardanelles correspondent of the Chronicle has sent the following under date of April 30:

"During the early fighting the Turkish positions ran from the crest above Maidon to the crest above Bokali. The allied forces were along the shore at the mouth of the valley and occupying the Zesmak valley."

"The allies then extended their positions along the northern ridge, whereupon the Turks' position on the southern ridge became extremely dangerous because it was commanded by fire both from the warships and landing forces."

"On April 28 the point of interest was the southern tip of the peninsula, where forces were landed in Morito Bay and north of Kaba Tepeh. During the forenoon these troops occupied the district extending a distance of about a mile and a half from the point of the peninsula."

"At midday the allied batteries began a general advance. The Turks repelled from their positions a mile from Krithia, which village the guns of the fleet had sent afire earlier in the day. Just north of this village is Achibaba Peak, seven hundred feet high, which dominates the region and was the chief obstacle to the allied advance. The Turks retreated gradually in that direction from their positions in the southern part of the peninsula. Their movements were followed easily from the sea, especially because of clouds of dust thrown up by moving batteries, and later the artillery duel was plainly observed."

"Before evening the allies had stretched their line across the peninsula, showing an advance of another mile and a half, while the Turkish forces had retreated to the outskirts of blazing Krithia. By nightfall the village virtually was in the hands of the allies and the fleet was shelling Achibaba preparatory to an attack upon the positions there. The same afternoon there was activity also in the northern position below Kaba Tepeh. Evidently good progress was made in thrusting the force across the peninsula there with the object of commanding the narrows from the heights above."

"At this time a firm footing had been gained by the landing forces, which ensure the allies control of the tip of the peninsula and the entire western side."

DEPARTING JAPANESE WERE NOT MOLESTED

Mukden, via Peking, May 7.—The Japanese consular orders issued on May 3 resulted in a general flight of Japanese from Mukden the following day. The value of a gold yen increased thirty silver cents, and a rich harvest was reaped by exchange brokers. All Japanese civilians except a few bankers and railway officials now have left the city.

All classes of Chinese viewed the exodus with stolid indifference, not insulting or molesting in any way the persons leaving the city.

Although the natives are deeply perturbed, the city remains absolutely quiet. Japanese troops occupy strategic points in Mukden, while Chinese soldiers are reported to be moving into position to the south of the city. Many of the residents in that district are coming north.

GENERAL BOTHA WILL TAKE WINDHOEK SOON

Cape Town, May 7.—The following official communications were issued yesterday:

"General Botha has occupied the important railway junction of Karibib and other stations (German Southwest Africa). He expects to occupy Windhoek very soon. Large quantities of rolling stock, including seven locomotives, were taken at Karibib."

TO STOP EXPORT OF COTTON.

London, May 7.—Great Britain has requested the government of Egypt to prohibit the export of cotton to all ports other than French, Russian, Spanish and Portuguese.

Foreign Secretary Grey informed the House of Commons yesterday that he expected this prohibition to be operative very shortly.

NUMBER NOT LIMITED

Sydney, N. S. W., May 7.—Recruiting shows no signs of slackening. Prime Minister Fisher, replying to a question as to whether the Commonwealth intended sending an increased number of men to the front, said today: "Our offer is unlimited. We shall train and equip men to the best of our ability and provide means for getting them speedily to the front."

GOING TO FRONT

Kingston, May 7.—Lieut.-Col. Perros, Acting Commandant at the Royal Military College, will leave for the front early next month. He is an officer of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers.

MORE CANADIANS HAVE GONE TO THE FRONT

Strathcona's Horse, Canadian Dragoons and King Edward Horse Have Crossed Channel

Ottawa, May 7.—It is rumored on good authority that Strathcona's Horse, the Royal Canadian Dragoons and the King Edward Horse have crossed over to France under the command of Brigadier-General Seely, and will form a fourth infantry brigade with the other brigades of the expeditionary force. It is stated that these regiments, which were organized as cavalry, have expressed their readiness and willingness to take their place in the firing line as infantry.

Strathcona's Horse is a Winnipeg regiment, of which one squadron was mobilized at Winnipeg. The other two squadrons were raised from western cavalry regiments and were organized as infantry at Valcartier. The regiment is under the command of Lieut.-Col. A. C. Macdonnell, D. S. O., of Winnipeg.

The Royal Canadian Dragoons' headquarters are at Toronto and St. John, Que. The unit also was brought up to force by recruiting at Valcartier. The regiment is in command of Lieut.-Col. C. M. Nelles.

The King Edward Horse is made up of men from the Overseas Dominions, who have been residing in England. There are many Oxford and Cambridge scholars and a good number of Rhodes men.

The three regiments will make up a total of about eighteen hundred men, and they probably will be brought up to the strength of a brigade by other Canadian battalions. It is possible that the Sixth Battalion, Fort Garry Horse, will form another part of the brigade. The sending of the cavalry regiments as infantry leads to the belief here that a similar use may be made of the mounted men mobilized in Canada.

ODENWALD STOPPED BY SHOT ACROSS BOW

Washington, May 7.—The state department has replied to the German ambassador's complaint that the German steamship Odenwald was "attacked" when she attempted to leave San Juan, P. R., without clearance papers. The reply was not made public, but it is understood to be confined almost entirely to the reports of the military and port authorities, telling how the Odenwald was warned not to leave port and that when she did start out she was brought to bay by two blank shots and finally a solid shot across her bow.

PRICE WAS ABOUT $1,000,000

San Francisco, May 7.—At a price said to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, the Shell Company of California has purchased the interests of the Trumbull Company of refining process from the Trumbull Company, of Los Angeles, according to announcement here by R. H. Gallagher, manager of the local office of the Shell Company. The deal involves only the executive use of the company's processes and does not include any of the Trumbull Company's refineries or properties.

THE LUSITANIA.

The torpedoing of the Lusitania marks the measure of horror to which the Huns are capable of going in pursuance of their attempt to dominate the world.

The Lusitania was torpedoed early this afternoon off Kinsale Head, not far from Queenstown.

The incident will do more than anything the savagery of Germany has done yet to confirm the determination of the allies to destroy Prussianism.

ITALY ON THE VERGE?

Notwithstanding the vigilance and incessant activities of Prince von Buelow, the expensive and extensive propaganda of German agents, the Berlin, Vienna and Constantinople claims of victories after victories at every point on three fronts, the threats and cajoleries of the Kaiser, Italy seems to be definitely on the eve of intervention in the war on the side of the allies.

There is only one way in which the people of the province can benefit from the exploitation of their resources, and that is by legitimate development.

The campaigns in German Southwest Africa is nearing an end. An official dispatch from Capetown reports the capture by the Union forces of the important railway junction of Karibib.

From the military standpoint the circumstances are propitious for Italy's intervention. The German and Austrian offensives are conducting a gigantic offensive movement against Russia from the Baltic Provinces to Bukovina.

pretensions of the Berlin and Vienna military authorities that struggle has not reached its climax. Italy has two million men under arms with every service equipped to the most minute detail.

If, as now seems assured, Italy enters the war, the intervention of Roumania will not be delayed any longer. Between the two is an understanding regarding offensive and defensive action.

Assuming that Italian intervention is a foregone conclusion, a sharp stroke by Germany may be looked for any moment. This may come in the form of a dash into Switzerland in order to obtain control of the Alpine passes, and by threatening Italy in Lombardy prevent the invasion of Trentino in full force.

In the economic war Italian intervention would be of great advantage to the allies. Germany and Austria obtain the bulk of their war supplies through Italy and Roumania, particularly supplies of copper.

Defenders of the provincial administration maintain that it is not correct to say that if concessions of resources granted to companies on long-term leases on condition that industries be established are not utilized according to agreement, they are wasted or squandered.

From the military standpoint the circumstances are propitious for Italy's intervention. The German and Austrian offensives are conducting a gigantic offensive movement against Russia from the Baltic Provinces to Bukovina.

Union troops were landed at Wallfish Bay, the littoral of which is owned by Britain, and after occupying Swakopmund, the terminus of the German east and west railroad line, proceeded slowly but methodically in the direction of Windhoek, driving the enemy before them.

meanwhile another invasion was in progress from the south. Union troops defeated the enemy at Warmbad, Kalkfontein, Keetmanshoop and Gibeon, all on the railroad line.

NO ELECTION. Dispatches from Ottawa to-day report a change of opinion regarding the prospects of an election.

The cabled announcement that it is the desire of the King that no ceremonies of any kind shall mark the anniversary of his birth probably had some effect upon the election wire-pullers.

Germany, with her back to the wall, is not fighting "according to the rules." The Kaiser, when he became convinced that Great Britain would not stand by and see weak nations harried and crucified, crushed and absorbed, in order that Germany might attain "her place in the sun," plainly intimated that the war would be carried on "with tooth and claw," and in defiance of protests in the name of humanity.

Washington, May 7.—News of the torpedoing of the Lusitania struck official Washington like a bomb. While disposed to await full details before expressing opinions, all administration officials realized that the incident was probably the most serious Washington has faced since the beginning of the war.

London, May 7.—A dispatch from Liverpool to the Exchange Telegraph company says it is not known how many of the Lusitania's passengers were saved.

Los Angeles, May 7.—Five persons from Los Angeles were aboard the Lusitania. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Campbell Johnson, Terrance Gray, Stewart Gray and J. P. Gray. The latter three came from Oakland.

New York, May 7.—Charles H. Sumner, general agent of the Cunard Line, said when the Lusitania sailed that the trip was not attended by any risk whatever, as the liner had a speed of twenty-five and a half knots and was provided with unusual watertight bulkheads.

Queens town, May 7.—According to a report received here the first S.O.S. call was sent by the Lusitania at 2:15. The read: "Want assistance; listing badly."

Ottawa, May 7.—The sinking of the Lusitania caused some anxiety here on account of the fact that a contingent of Canadian nurses was dispatched recently. It has been learned, however, that the nurses sailed on another boat.

Ottawa, May 7.—Harold Mayne Daly, of Vancouver, minister of the interior, was a passenger on the Lusitania. He was dispatched to look after delivery of supplies to the Canadian soldiers in England and Flanders so they could vote in the coming Dominion election.

My Kirmer Arrow Wheel
You ask me why I'm smiling as I draw my cheque to-day. 'Tis because I feel just like it. I have got a full week's pay. As you know, my work is distant from the wife and kids at home. Yet I'm never late arriving, why you ought to see me come. Just a sailing o'er the highway on my Kirmer Arrow wheel. You have seen a swallow skimming, well then that is how I feel. No more tramping for this chicken, no more waiting for the train. On my wheel I'm independent and a happy lad again.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

At a representative meeting of electors opposed to the present provincial government, held in Philharmonic hall, the following candidates were unanimously selected to contest the city at the next general election: Hon. Robert Beaven, Mayor Grant, Dr. Milne and F. G. Richards, Jr.
An old landmark is soon to be removed from the Upper Harbor, the steamer Wilson G. Hunt, which has so long been lying on the beach, having been purchased by Mr. Levi Chen, of San Francisco.
Collector A. R. Milne, who has been absent for several weeks, returned to Victoria last evening from the east. He says he found in the east no reference in the newspapers to British Columbia matters.
Business Meeting.—A very important business meeting of the Victoria Temperance Poster committee will be held in the restaurant of the Y. W. C. A., commencing at 8 o'clock.
Water Act in Railway Belt.—By a proclamation published in this week's B. C. Gazette the Water act is to be enforced within the limits of the railway belt from this date.
Land by Auction Sale.—There is to be an auction sale of crown lands at McBride on Tuesday, May 25. The lands which are being offered are in the valley of the south fork of the Fraser river, in the vicinity of McBride.
Extend North Vancouver.—In accordance with the legislation of last session, which gave authority to the city of North Vancouver to take in district lot No. 272 and the foreshore in front of it, a proclamation appears in this week's B. C. Gazette giving effect to this procedure.
British Israel Association.—The Victoria branch of the Imperial British Israel association will meet on Tuesday, May 11, at 8 p. m., in the Congregational church building, Quadra street, Mason street entrance, first floor. The general public will be welcome.
Emmanuel Baptist Church.—On Sunday special services have been arranged in honor of "our mothers," at Emmanuel Baptist church. Rev. William Stevenson will preach in the morning on "Mary—the Mother of Jesus," and in the evening on "The Hand That Rocks the Cradle."
Monthly Meeting.—The Victoria Christian Endeavor union will hold their monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. After the usual business has been transacted, Miss Henderson of the Fairfield Epworth League will deliver an address. Heads of the various missionary societies are cordially invited to attend.
Maccabees Whist Drive.—A very enjoyable whist drive was held recently by Victoria Hive No. 1, Ladies of the Maccabees, after the regular review in the K. of C. hall, Fort street. Prizes were won by Mrs. Rosseter and Mrs. Parks (first and consolation prizes respectively), and by Mr. Higginbotham and Mr. Weber (for the gentlemen).
Red Cross Work.—Red Cross workers are constantly busy at the Temple building, where, under direction of the various chapters in charge during the week, the work of cutting out garments, rolling bandages, etc., is proceeding steadily. The Esquimalt Chapter, I. O. D. E., which was in charge yesterday, has turned in 42 pairs of socks and 17 bed-jackets this week.
Civil Service Examinations.—Civil service examinations for the federal civil service will be held next week in the hall at the northeast corner of Douglas and Pandora streets, and will be as usual, under the conduct of Rev. Dr. Campbell. The preliminary will be held on Tuesday and the qualifying and final examinations on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
For Garrison Church.—Everyone is reminded of the concert to be given to-night at Lampson Street school in aid of the Esquimalt Royal Naval and Garrison church. Rev. W. Baugh Allen, rector, will preside, and a varied programme including songs by men from H. M. C. S. Rainbow, and other vocalists, instrumental selections and slight-of-hand performances, will make up the evening's entertainment.
Street Car Transfers.—As there seems to be a misapprehension in the minds of some people as to the issue of transfers by the street railway after the introduction of the "tango" eight-for-a-quarter tickets on Monday it is explained by Mr. Goward that transfers will be refused only with the use of the new tickets.
Boy Scouts' Concert.—The Victoria boy scouts will give a concert on Tuesday evening, May 11, at St. John's hall, Herald street, assisted by the 50th Gordon Highlanders' pipe band and the following ladies and gentlemen: P. The proceedings will commence at 8 o'clock. J. Hinton will act as accompanist.

These are the Federal Trust Company, Limited, now the Federal Mortgage Corporation, Limited; the Intercolonial Trust and Investment Company, Limited, now the Intercolonial Mortgage Corporation, Limited; the Mainland Trust Company, Limited, now Mainland Properties, Limited; and Western Imperial Trust, Limited, now Western Imperial Company, Limited.

Tenders for Timber.—The chief officer of the province is inviting tenders for the purchase of two lots of timber. One is for the purchase of license x384, to cut 640,000 feet of fir and cedar on 50 acres adjoining lot 18, Maurelle Island, Sayward district, and the other is for the purchase of license x112 to cut 112,000 feet of fir on an area adjoining lot 4203, Oke-over arm, New Westminster district. One year is allowed for the removal of the timber in both cases.
Identity Established.—The provincial police have been advised from the Vancouver office that a man named Anderson, of that city, is practically certain that the companion of Houdermann, drowned at Sooke Harbor on Sunday morning, was his sixteen-year-old son. The lad was working on the west coast with a timberman and the description which the police have been able to obtain of the second Sherman, whose body has not yet been recovered, would seem to fit in with that given of young Anderson.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.
Many and varied are the picture-plays that are to be seen at the Majestic theatre to-day and to-morrow. They comprise one of the most entertaining and interesting shows seen for a considerable time and all who see it will be convinced that the management is caring for the wants of those who attend this picture house. The Constable's Daughter is a very fine picturization of the life and ways of society, and shows much that is not commonly known. A Keystone comedy, featuring "Fatty" is one long scream and pleases both young and old. Many scenes from all parts of the world are depicted among which are some fine views of Earl Kitchener's army, and the first and only scenes of the submarine disaster off the coast of Honolulu. An exciting semi-Western comedy drama completes this all-feature bill.

VARIETY THEATRE.
"Pretty Mrs. Smith," starring Fritzi Scheff, is a charming society comedy-drama written by Messrs. Oliver Moroso and Elmer Harris. The play has been gorgeously staged to mark the debut into photoplay work of this illustrious star, and also the initial production of The Oliver Moroso Photo-play company.

No expense has been spared to make this a memorable picture, and particular attention is directed to some of the scenes, which are in every way realistic. The trip to Africa, the ocean liner, docks, ocean views, dancing parties on board ship, and some exquisite moonlight scenes are in this picture. Miss Scheff worked for days at a fashionable country club, getting interior and porch views, and some excellent pictures on the golf links. The scenes of "Pretty Mrs. Smith" in a hotel seeking refuge, were made in the magnificent Hotel Alexandria. Throughout the play Miss Scheff exhibits a wonderful array of artistic costumes, specially designed for this role, and a crystal robe worn in a fire-side scene will attract plenty of attention and admiration. The beach scenes and the views on the lake add a touch of summer life which will be welcomed.

DOMINION THEATRE.
In bringing thrills and trills of laughter for his patrons at the Dominion theatre the management this week has come near to creating a record even for this highly reputed picture playhouse. The featured attraction, Robert Warwick in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," is admittedly one of the most successful plays produced in recent years and one of the very finest of the World Film's famous feature productions.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine" is of course the play that brought both its author, Paul Armstrong, and its producer, Mr. Leibler, both fame and fortune. From Thursday to Saturday Dominion playgoers will be thrilled by the superb acting of that prime-film favorite, Robert Warwick, supported by a World "star" cast including the five-year-old film wonder, Little Madge Evans. The action starts with the incident when Rose Lane, riding in a railroad parlor car, is insulted by a fellow passenger. She is defended by a handsome stranger, who, assured that she will not be further molested, disappears from the scene. Rose has fallen in love with her savior, and her love does not diminish with the lapse of three years. One day, visiting Sing Sing, among the convicts she recognizes her deliverer in the person of Lee Randall alias Jimmy Valentine, who is suffering imprisonment for a crime of which he so convincingly pleads ignorance, that her father, the lieutenant-governor, secures his release.

On the Same Bill,
Last but far from least, is the one and only Charles Chaplin, who in "His

We have heard a good deal about a wonderful long-distance gun which the Germans are said to have in reserve, but an official communique issued from Berlin shows that this has been easily out-gunned by guns in the possession of the despised Yankees. Butcher Gets Two Years; Aust One and a Half; Martin's Term Served

After a short retirement yesterday afternoon the jury selected for the second trial of George F. Butcher, charged with assaulting a girl aged seventeen years, returned a verdict of guilty on the third count of the indictment, being the least serious of the three on which he was charged. Butcher was sentenced by Mr. Justice Morrison this morning after scathing comment on his behavior, to the longest term the code provides, on the count on which he was guilty, namely, two years.

J. S. Brandon made a plea for leniency for the prisoner, and called a builder named Whiteman to testify as to the prisoner's character. Following the testimony the crown prosecutor, Mr. Herchmer, obtained admissions from Whiteman that he had interfered with a witness between the first and second trials. Whiteman's explanation was that two automobile drivers had spoken to him and had, he believed, made overtures to try and have the trial stopped. His lordship said he would give Whiteman some advice free. Putting the best construction on the man's intentions, said his lordship, he would warn him never to attempt such a thing again, as he would get into serious trouble.

Addressing Butcher his lordship said he intended giving him the longest term the code allowed. The prisoner should appreciate the very narrow escape he had had through the leniency of the jury.

"I hope," said his lordship, "that you will have the decency to leave the country when you are released. It is necessary that you be confined so that you may meditate on the tremendous wrong you have done this young girl and her family. The incarceration may alter your disposition, and I hope you will come out of jail a changed man. If you have a spark of manhood I think you would be glad to disappear somewhere."

Giles Martin, convicted of having stolen goods in his possession on the launch Belle R. at Sooke Harbor, was sentenced to the term in prison he has already served while awaiting for trial. He has been in jail since January 20. Ernest Miller, for the prisoner, presented evidence of character from the mayor, and two former mayors of Blaine, where the prisoner's home is. There was also evidence to show that the prisoner supports his mother. His lordship took these facts into consideration, as the crown had no record against Martin.

In the case of Jerry Aust W. C. Morcsby made a plea for leniency, to which his lordship was unable to give consideration. The prisoner was sentenced to serve one-year and six-months for theft of goods at Sooke Harbor and a similar term for assaulting a police officer. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Little Miss Suzanne Sicklemore, a pupil of Pavlova, danced herself into the affections of the audience by her dainty grace and wonderful skill. She floated about the stage like a fairy in the movements of the dances she gave, and displayed talents that fit her for a professional career. As a recall number in the second part of the programme she gave Pavlova's beautiful "Invitation to the Dance" in a perfect manner.

Miss Muriel Dunsmuir and Miss Theresa Mesher were gracefully attractive in their gavotte, Miss Phyllis Davis was her own inimitable self in her contributions to the programme, and Miss Ross and Mr. Bowby, of Vancouver, two accomplished dancers, were seen in several of the latest steps.

The chorus numbers were all excellently done and presented entrancing pictures of youth and beauty. The programme opened with one of them, in which the girls were all dressed as flowers, and Miss B. Macpherson, as a tiger-lily, sang the solo of "The Flower Garden Ball." Particularly popular was the "Sister Susie" number, where the curtain rose on half a dozen girls industriously treading their sewing-machines, while Miss D. Leighton sang the alternative and tongue-twisting chorus about Susie's efforts at sewing shirts for soldiers. A very pretty scene was the last, "Bubbles," Mrs. R. H. Pooley singing the song from "High Jinks" swinging in a balloon with the chorus dancing below. There were hundreds of tiny balloons floating about the stage, and the final picture was a delight to the eye. "Gilbert the Filbert," sung by Mrs. W. Rochford, was another chorus number which was greatly liked. Miss Freda Kendall led in a sailor's hornpipe chorus and Mr. Campbell in "September Morn."

Mrs. Brougham sang a French chanson and responded to recalls with a couple of ballads, singing in perfect voice and with much expression. She was the recipient of a wealth of flowers at the close. In fact, there were bouquets and baskets of blooms for all the principals of the evening.

In every detail the production was an artistic one, and the greatest credit is due to everyone concerned in it.

"STOP, LOOK, LISTEN" A DELIGHTFUL SHOW

Amateurs Give Performance That Would Do Credit to Any Professionals

An evening of the utmost enjoyment was spent by those who attended the performance of "Stop, Look, Listen" at the Royal Victoria last evening. It is quite within the truth to say that very many an attraction has come here with professionals from Broadway which had not a tittle of the merit or the finish of the bright little show which was put on for the joint benefit of a fund to furnish tobacco to the sailors in the North Sea fleet and to assist in the support of Miss Kathleen Dunsmuir's field kitchen, which is rendering such admirable services at the front.

The object and the personnel of the performers were together able to bring out a full house, and one which showed thorough appreciation of the several numbers which were staged. Each and every one of those who took part did their best, and once more the women demonstrated that they can on occasion dispense with the aid of manking—or very nearly so. Graceful dancing, charming stage pictures and finished singing combined to make the long programme a delightful one. With all that and despite that an encore was demanded for every item, the stage management was so good that there were no waits between the numbers and the performance was over by 11 o'clock.

Miss Muriel Dunsmuir and Miss Theresa Mesher were gracefully attractive in their gavotte, Miss Phyllis Davis was her own inimitable self in her contributions to the programme, and Miss Ross and Mr. Bowby, of Vancouver, two accomplished dancers, were seen in several of the latest steps.

LIFESAVING SOCIETY AND SCHOOL SWIMMING

Deputation Will Wait on Trustees Next Wednesday; Margaret Jenkins School

The city school board is to be asked at the next monthly meeting on Wednesday to take steps with regard to teaching the children of the city to swim.

A deputation from the Royal Life Saving Society will wait upon the trustees and urge the advantages of inculcating the most valuable art of swimming to the pupils. Probably it will be necessary for provision to be made out of the regular school hours, as the curriculum does not provide for any instruction of this character.

Last year the bathhouse was taken up and a provisional arrangement made by which an instructor was stationed at the city bath house at the Gorge at regular hours daily, and this system has been found to be the easiest and cheapest way of giving the children the desired training.

A report will doubtless be presented by the special committee to the trustees on the celebration of Empire Day, which falls two weeks from to-day. Anticipations of the early conclusion of the Margaret Jenkins school contract warrant the expectation that the board will be able to take over the school buildings at the next meeting, both the heating contract and the building itself being ready for the transfer.

CREATED A DISTURBANCE

Two Men Arrested for Assault in a Hotel Bar and Sent to Jail.

George Francis and William Morrison were the principals in a disturbance in the bar of the Northern Hotel, Yates street, yesterday afternoon which ended in both being arrested by Constables Bishop and Phillips. Morrison made a savage assault on Bishop while being arrested, and Francis attacked John Morgan, proprietor of the hotel, in addition to making use of bad language.

In police court to-day Francis was fined $20 and costs or one month in jail for the language, and for assaulting Mr. Morgan he was ordered to spend a month in jail, to commence at the expiration of the other sentence.

Morrison was accused of being a vagrant, and the charge was proved by Constable Bishop and Detective Turner. The man had worked but four days since December last, spending his time about saloons, begging for drinks. He will spend the next two months in jail.

SERIOUS CHARGE

American on Trial for Grave Offense Elects to Go to Higher Court.

The charge against William J. Davis, held under remand on a charge of bringing a woman into the country for improper purposes, was amended in police court to-day, and the man now stands accused of exercising influence over the movements of the woman. On this he elected to go to the higher court, and evidence was taken from the woman.

Mrs. Daisy Ash testified that she had met the accused in Hoquiam, Tenino and Tacoma, and at his suggestion she came over here in the latter part of April.

Davis sent the woman a telegram from Seattle and it became necessary to have this produced from the C. P.

AT TELEGRAPH OFFICE. CITY PROSECUTOR

Harrison informed the court that the local agent refused to do so without a subpoena. Detectives Sergeant O'Leary went down to the office and returned with the report that the agent not only refused to produce the message without a subpoena, but would not do so until he had communicated with the manager in Vancouver.

Magistrate Jay intimated that if the telegram was not produced to-morrow in response to a subpoena, he would grant a bench warrant for the company's agent, and stated that the company could not withhold the message if the courts demands its production.

The case was adjourned until the morning.

A distinguished R. A. was making a sketch of a picturesque farm house, when the farmer coming up inspected the picture. Highly delighted at its accuracy he inquired of the artist what he would charge for it, or one like it. "Oh," said the R. A., "I won't charge you anything. But I tell you what; you shall give me, instead of money, one of those nice-looking little smoking pipes I see yonder"—pointing as he spoke to a fine litter running about. "Eb, man!" exclaimed the farmer. "But do you know what they pigs he worth? Why, they be worth ten shillin' apiece!"

New parson—"And what is your husband, Mrs. Brown?" Mrs. Brown—"Well sir, 'e ain't exactly a policeman, but 'e goes with 'em a good deal."

TWO LACROSSE LEAGUES FORMED BRYNJOLFSON WILL COACH HOME

Dowsell Cup for Junior League; Lester Patrick a Pro. Referee

Junior and Intermediate lacrosse will flourish here this season, if the efforts of the Victoria Lacrosse association meet with the approval of the local enthusiasts. At last night's meeting of this body it was decided to form Junior and Intermediate leagues. There will be no Senior City league, but all players who do not qualify for the representative league will be eligible for the Intermediate section. This means that there will be more lacrosse than ever this year, as at least a dozen teams have promised to enter the proposed leagues. The juniors will compete for the Robert Dowsell trophy, while a suitable cup will be put up for the Intermediates.

It was also announced that Cotton Brynjolfson had been signed to coach the home players of the local representative squad. Bob Springer will have entire charge of the club and Brynjolfson will assist him in rounding out the attack. It was given out that the Junior entries must be sent into Secretary R. H. McInnis by Thursday next, while the Intermediate teams have two weeks from last night in which to complete their preparations. Just as soon as the entries for the different sections have been received the schedules will be drawn up and arrangements completed as regards the grounds.

Vancouver, May 7.—Lester Patrick, of Victoria, was yesterday appointed official referee to the British Columbia Lacrosse association, and will handle all matches in the coast professional series.

Con. figures on carrying some twenty men in all, and among them will be at least three men from the east. He is still hopeful of securing "Newy" Landon and Billy Fitzgerald, and either Harry Hyland or some other home man of equally strong scoring proclivities, but let it be known that the easterners will be on exactly the same level as the home performers in the matter of the "divvy."

Will Practice To-night. There were present at the meeting, in addition to Mr. Jones, Harry Griffiths, "Bonnie" Allen, Billy West, Dophe, McLaren, Davy Gibbons, "Dot" Crookall, Davis, Bob Murray, "Fat" Painter, Peacock, "Smiler" McQuig and Harry Pickering, and these, with possibly two or three others of the local contingent, will be out to-night at Athletic park for their first practice, £30 being the hour set by Harry Griffiths, who will coach the team this season.

FOUR MATCHES IN DISTRICT LEAGUE

University School Won From C. M. R. by 14 Runs; Five C's Meeting

Four important matches are booked for tomorrow in the Victoria and District Cricket league. The local clubs have been greatly strengthened since the opening matches, a week ago, and it is expected that a few surprises will be uncovered. Victoria A1 eleven will play Abbotons on the latter field, while Victoria A2 will meet the Civic Service team. Civil Service and 14th Regiment clash. The Congregational club will clash with the Garrison.

A meeting of the Five C's Cricket club will be held at Christ Church cathedral schoolroom, Quadra street, this evening at 7 o'clock. All members are asked to attend if possible. The team to represent the Five C's Cricket club against the Navy, in a friendly game at the Canteen grounds on Saturday will be as follows: F. C. Payne, A. E. Lea, H. Greenly, R. V. Lea, G. Laemling, J. J. Fletcher, F. Gibson, G. Nicholls, H. S. Radcliffe, E. Cotton, J. Clowes. Reserves: J. Feakins, J. Nicholas, W. H. Carr, W. Moss. All players are asked to catch the car from the corner of Yates and Government streets at 1.40 p. m.

A very enjoyable cricket match was played between the University School and the C. M. R. on Wednesday afternoon. This match resulted in a win for the School by 14 runs, the scores being 66 to 52. For the School Finlayson and Cutbert had top scores of 33 not out and 26. For the C. M. R. Randolph, not out, and Manning 13 headed the scores. The innings were as follows:

Albion v. Victoria First, at Albion ground.
Victoria Second v. Civic Service, at Jubilee Hospital.
Civil Service v. Fifth Regiment, at Work Point.
Congregationals v. Garrison, at Heywood avenue.
Albions will probably give Victoria First team a strong game, and may even beat them.
Victoria Second v. Civic Service should result in a win for the latter.
Civil Service against Fifth Regiment will probably be the lightest match of the afternoon, with the odds in favor of the Civil Service.
Congregationals gave Victoria First team a rare scare last Saturday, and their match with the strong Garrison team is sure to be an interesting one. It is possible that the Congos may go one better than they did last week.
Five C's have no league match this week, but will play the Navy at the Canteen ground.

GERMANY ANGRY AT THE WHOLE WORLD

By Neutral in London Times.

Neutrals have their full share of Germany's hatred, especially since the "blockade" was announced. In the early days of the war the Germans hoped to win neutral sympathies, and left nothing undone to obtain them. Having failed in their aim, they have now resorted to means more familiar to them, and try to frighten neutrals by sinking their merchant ships. "If we cannot be loved we must be feared" is the common argument.

Of Italy they speak little, but think much, and I am convinced that if Italy ever sides with the allies, England will cease to be, for some time at least, their most hated enemy. All their contempt, all their animosity, and all their violent reproaches will be addressed to the country they would already call disloyal and treacherous if they were not afraid. Their secret hope is that at the end of the war they will be in a position to show Italy that she chose the path which led to her own destruction.

Every American of non-German birth to-day is looked upon as a masked Englishman. As long as the Germans hoped they could use American influence for their own ends they were extremely careful in their attitude towards the United States, but now their reserve is gone, and they openly say that America also has betrayed them. The fact that many American firms are making money by exporting ammunition and other war material, which are used to kill brave German soldiers is commented upon with the utmost indignation.

As to Scandinavia, the Germans know that their methods of warfare have to a great extent lost them the sympathies which they formerly enjoyed—chiefly on account of Scandinavian fear of Russia—and that, especially in Norway, their friends are few. They accuse Norway of being ungrateful for the Kaiser's admiration of Norwegian fjords and scenery, and for all his visits and many gifts to the country. In fact, there is but little left of the Kaiser's influence in Norway.

Heidelberg Full of Wounded. On my way back to England, I visited Heidelberg, Cologne, and Essen. Heidelberg is much changed; the university is open, but lectures are attended only by students who, for one reason or another, are not drilling or with the colors. Berkeo, the comfortable old restaurant, so typical of student life, is empty in the evening. The hotels on the heights, and the countless villas along the picturesque Neckar valley, are mostly filled with wounded soldiers, formerly students of Heidelberg, who have been allowed to spend their period of convalescence in their old haunts. Trainloads of barbed wire are dispatched to the Rhine towns and stored in the most easily accessible places. Strong, partly-cemented trenches are being built to the west of Coblenze. People are asking themselves why these trenches are necessary while their armies are fighting in France and Belgium. "What is wrong, and where is it wrong?" is the constant question; and the farther south one goes the greater the nervousness becomes.

Among German cities, Cologne has doubtless, to care for the greatest numbers of wounded. Thearrison of the fortress has gone, and troops now only pass to and from the western front. In the evening some of the streets are kept very dark, especially around the cathedral. Quick-firing guns are placed on the roofs of many houses and also in the cathedral tower. In spite of official denials I know this to be a fact. One of my countrymen living in Cologne has seen them used on two occasions against hostile aircraft.

The famous Krupp works at Essen are working harder than perhaps any factory in the world. Sundays and holidays, night and day, the work goes on; the government orders must be executed. About 50,000 men are now working in shifts of eight hours each. Most of them are liable to military service, but have been left at their work. Of the 17 in guns nobody seems to know much, but it is believed in Essen that by this time still bigger guns are in existence, ready to be used when opportunity occurs. The Esseners are very proud of the works, and consider themselves the backbone of modern war-mad Germany. The western and southern parts of Essen are guarded with the most modern and powerful anti-aircraft guns.

Scarcity of Metals. Metals have increased enormously in price. Lead and copper are especially expensive. Objects made of lead and copper are collected at special central depots, whence they are forwarded to the proper quarters. Large quantities of old printing blocks, used specially for music, have been sent in for patriotic purposes. The scarcity of lead is not to be compared with that of copper. To judge from official reports, the large quantities of copper which Germany still possesses would enable her to carry on the war for many years, but a short time ago, when staying in a neutral country, I found that German agents were offering to buy copper at prices 10 times higher than current rates if by any means they could have it transported to Germany. From other sources I have reason to believe that the supply of copper is causing the general staff the gravest anxiety. I heard that the head of the well-known engineering works in Mannheim, Heinrich Fens & Co., Dr. Karl Lanz, who financed and built the first air cruiser of the Schutte-Lanz type (Professor Schutte being his intimate friend and adviser), had expressed serious fears with regard to copper.

Rubber and Petrol. There is also a serious scarcity of rubber, which cannot be obtained from any quarter. Few private motor-cars are now in use. Unless owners had in

There is a style and grade of Holeproof for every occasion and every purse—cotton, cashmere, silk and silk-faced. All are made from the best yarns the world affords. Surely you want such hose.

These ripples scarcely disturb the even tenor of our days. The real danger is that the calmness of our surroundings may induce an excessive optimism, which will be followed by severe reaction as the magnitude of the struggle is better appreciated. The philosophy of a Mahomedan friend, who said he was convinced that the allies would win, therefore he did not worry himself about stages in the war, is admirable in its way, but it is hardly the spirit in which the empire will emerge completely successful from the war. The man who does things makes mistakes, but he never makes the greatest mistake of all—doing nothing.

HON. BOB ROGERS ON THE RAMPAGE

Reasons Why He Wants a General Election as Speedily as Possible

M'BRIDE AND ROBLIN MAINLY RESPONSIBLE

Rogers Checked for the Present; Possibly an Election in September

Ottawa, May 5.—The idea of a general election this year has not been abandoned. The date has probably been shifted from June to September. The government believes, past experience being considered, that September is its lucky month.

Outside the hunch that the month they came in on in the month they ought to try it again, the party has several other good reasons for favoring September. By that time the war will be over or the end of it will be in sight and hearts will be caught on the rebound. The sense of relief will be so great that Canada will return the Conservative government to power in spite of its shortcomings. This theory, which leans heavily on the reflex action of public opinion, is being loudly proclaimed by the psychologists in the cabinet and the party at large. The Honorable Bob Rogers, who is not a psychologist but a plain everyday politician who wants an election when he wants it and not three months afterwards, says that this is all piffle. He hasn't much use for an outfit of psychologists who can't recognize the psychological moment when they see it.

All sorts of arguments have been employed to persuade the minister of public works that September is the month of destiny but to all such arguments he has substantially replied: "Why did you make me minister of public works if you didn't trust me to know when to work the public? Which is a riddle that takes a lot of reading. The minister of public works, so the Honorable Bob argues, is generally put there to keep his ear to the ground, to know when it's time to back up and when it's time to get out and holler. He may be short on psychology but he is long on human nature. He can always tell when the boys are hungry and when it's hard to hold them in line any longer. His acquaintance is with the workers of the farm when the chances are best to turn another trick. Why is the Honorable Bob minister of elections, ex-officio, if his advice is not taken? It's a sort of touch for Bob. He saw a chance get by last fall. Is he to see another one go glimmering?

By virtue of his position as the clearing house of party politics, the minister of public works faces the facts and faces them first. When Sir Richard McBride visited Ottawa not long ago, he hit him straight as the honing pigeon to Bob Rogers' office. Although he had business with the other Bob who heads the government, he saw Bob Rogers first. Then the two Bobs got together, thus making a pair of Bobs, and they told Sir Richard that it was going to be hard sledding and that he had better put off his election for another year because British Columbia, as it stood, could not do better for the Conservatives and would inevitably do worse if it started something. This explains why British Columbia is hung up by the seat of the pants until the Ottawa government is ready to take it off the hook.

Similarly, it has been the fate of the Honorable Bob to listen to the tales of woe from Manitoba. The feet of him who bringeth bad tidings from the Roblin government with its wobbling majority of three or four have worn holes in the carpet in Bob Rogers' inner office, and it's Bob Rogers that knows it. His colleagues don't seem to realize how important it is that the election be brought on while the Mantoba election machinery is in friendly hands. But the minister of elections does. He knows what a hoodoo Dr. Montague is. He knows how near the edge the Roblin government totters and just how long it will last after the royal commission to investigate graft in the new parliament buildings gets going. It will last, according to the Hon. Bob's calculations, just about as long as a feather does in a certain place not mentioned on the railway time tables. There was some very coarse work done up there and Sir Rodmond Roblin would never have pried into it if the Lieutenant-governor, who is a Liberal, hadn't pushed him at it. Rumor has it that the Honorable Bob is so little sure of his own popularity in Winnipeg that he has offered to take over Sharpe's seat in Lisgar if Sharpe should be disposed to retire from public life. The point is that the Winnipeg bunch who claim to have learned their tricks from Bob, are looking for a goat, and Bob may be it. On the other hand, the Honorable Bob is not a man who waits for punishment. Like the Germans, he wants to begin the drive first.

Common sense, as you will observe, is with the Honorable Bob in dealing an election before the Borden government gets one black eye in Manitoba and another in British Columbia. Common sense, we repeat, is with Bob, but the extraordinary circumstances are against him. The extraordinary circumstances—general—they outweigh even the prospect of a poor crop in the Northwest and the probability that the longer the people reflect on the army scandals and the graft tariff the worse they will feel against the Borden government. The Honorable Bob's political instinct is to grasp opportunity by the forelock, to snatch the flower victory from the nettle defeat—a mighty small flower, by the way, and a mighty big nettle—but the consensus of opinion in the country is against him, not to mention the duke, who is above parties and represents honor, decency and a number of things like that. It is inconceivable that his royal highness, who is more concerned with the dignity of the British empire and the fair name of Canada than he is with the tactical advantage of either party should sign the warrant for a general election before the lists for the unorganized territories are ready. The duke does not lend himself to thimble-rigging games. As the lists for the territories cannot be ready before July, a June election is said to be out of the question. Some people say Bob might as well have cried for the moon last June. Meanwhile he has hired bill boards, bought up cab-drivers, laid out concrete emplacements, and shown other signs of frightfulness in anticipation of the dread event.

In various ways, the Honorable Bob has tried to rush his colleagues off their feet if they listen to the protests of decent people all over Canada against an election in war time, also to the still small voice of conscience, they will temporize. They have not promised anything, but they have not made any bad breaks. They have not set a date, but they have formed a hope. The Honorable Bob is a great man for fixing a time limit. The minister of public works will be the last man to go over to a Micawber policy of waiting for something to turn up. If the war collapses, if the allies win an overwhelming victory—then an election, but if not September and then some, perhaps. That's as near as the good guessers can make it.

In the closing days of the session, the Honorable Bob used the "injustice and tyranny of the senate" in appointing six scrutineers to hold a straight election on the battlefield as a rod to chastise his enemies in the Borden cabinet. According to Bob, the people were demanding "in tones of thunder" the dissolution of a parliament that couldn't handle the senate any better than that. The tones of thunder, coming by way of Bob Rogers, whose oratory makes firecrackers of lightning flashes, did not impress the House of Commons to the extent which might have been expected. In fact, Premier Borden wore a quizzical smile all through the thunder-storm, and this was taken to mean that Bob would not get his own way. Perhaps he won't. Hence his insidious remarks.

It becomes more apparent daily that the plan to take the votes of the soldiers at the front is neither practicable nor dignified. Brushing aside the possible objections of the British government and General Joffre to distractions which might slacken discipline and interfere with the success of the war, it is absurd to think that the soldiers would interrupt their headlong charges on the Germans to drop a ballot for candidates not named, on issues they know nothing about. The duty of the scrutineers, as laid down in the act, is to get the ballots of the soldiers. It is not stated anywhere that they are to bring away German bullets, which is liable to happen if they get near enough to the firing line to hold a competent election. Besides, there is always danger of a shell putting the ballot boxes out of business. Moreover, the ballot boxes run extraordinary risks of capture and detention on their way back to Canada, such risks being not necessarily from the Germans. The only perfect ballot box in existence, a ballot box nobody can beat, has been offered for the last twenty years to the governments of both parties and the inventor's head has turned white with discouragement. And even his ballot box, supposed it should be used, is not built for war conditions.

The opinion gains ground that the soldiers at the front will vote when they get home, but not before. If they get home by September, there may be an election then. If they don't get home by September, there may be an election or there may not. Meanwhile the casualty lists continue to come in, and it would be an insult to the soldiers to consider them in the light of a sporting event. There is probably nobody in Canada so anxious as to count deaths with a view to their effect on the voters' lists. H.F.G.

The mind of the scholar, if he would have it large and liberal, should come in contact with other minds.—Longfellow.

My Corns

Were Ended This Way

Countless women have told other women about Blue-jay plasters. Now a million corns a month are ended in this scientific way.

Women who know Blue-jay do not suffer corns. When one appears, they put a Blue-jay plaster on it. That ends the pain. In 48 hours the corn is gone forever, with no soreness left.

If you can't believe it, ask your friends. Half of them have probably ended corns with Blue-jay. If you still doubt it, ask us for samples. Try them on corns of your own.

Don't coddle corns. Don't pare and keep them. Don't use old-time treatments. A famous chemist has made corns utterly unnecessary. That sort of torture is a thing of the past.

The new baby had proved itself the possessor of extraordinary lung powers. One day baby's brother, little Johnny, said to his mother, "Ma, my little brother came from Heaven, didn't he?" "Yes, dear," answered the mother. Johnny was silent for a minute, and then he went on, "I say, ma!" "What is it, Johnny?" "I don't blame the angels for slinging him out, do you?"

"Is there any mail for John or me?" inquired the man at the counter. "You're strangers to me," retorted the postal clerk. "Do you suppose I can tell people's names by looking at them?" "I don't see that it makes any difference if I am a stranger. Look and see if there is any mail for John or me—J-o-h-n. O-r-r M-e-e." He got his letter from a much-subdued postal clerk.

WILL CONSIDER THE RESTRICTION OF SALE

Social Service Commission Will Have Before It Saskatchewan Proposal on Liquor Control

At the meeting of the Social Service Commission on Monday the members will take into consideration the restriction by the government of the hours of sale on licensed premises during the war, with a view to making a representation to the government asking for some restriction in British Columbia. With that end in view Rev. William Stevenson has secured a precept of the Saskatchewan legislature, and is submitted by Premier Scott that a proclamation was issued on March 22 last providing for the closing of all public bars and wholesale premises at 7 p. m. on and after April 1, also ordering the discontinuance of the sale of liquors in club premises and in dining cars operating in the province from the same hour.

Accompanying is the gazetted proclamation, and application will be made at the forthcoming session of the legislature for formal approval of a measure submitted by the government along the lines in the attached memorandum.

The Saskatchewan government's proposals are as follows: (1) The issue at once of a proclamation cutting the hours of retail liquor sale to 7 o'clock, beginning the evening of April 1. (2) To convene the legislative assembly on May 10 and submit to the House a measure of which the outstanding features will be the abolition of all bar and club licenses from July 1, 1915, until the end of the war, and taking over by the government of the wholesale liquor business throughout the province immediately the measure is passed and assented to.

(3) Providing a measure that following the ending of the war the bar and club licenses shall not be revived except as the result of a referendum on the question to be taken at the time municipal elections held after peace is declared, but not earlier than December, 1916, a majority vote to decide, and the provincial franchise to be adopted before the referendum; the government to supply the ballot and the ballot boxes and to provide most carefully framed safeguards against any irregularities such as personation, false declarations and the use of liquor or any other improper influences; and for the more secure discouragement of improper practices, appoint a public prosecutor to follow and prosecute infractions.

(4) Providing a measure for the maintenance by the government under a commissioner having status similar to that of a provincial auditor of a liquor dispensary or dispensaries in each city or town where at present wholesale licenses exist, to be known as Saskatchewan dispensaries for the sale of liquors which must not be consumed on the premises and under regulations as to quantities, size of package, etc., as were embodied in the Liquor License Act, 1908; the question of establishing such dispensaries in towns and villages where at present wholesale licenses do not exist, to be determined by local option of votes taken on the date of the municipal elections in December, 1915.

(5) Provide that in the year 1915 on presentation of a petition signed by twenty-five per cent. of the number of electors who voted at the next preceding provincial elections, a provincial referendum shall be taken to decide the continuance or abolition of the proposed dispensaries.

IN RIEL REBELLION

Colonel Walker Powell, Veteran Soldier, Dies at Ottawa Home; Brother-in-law of Major Walsh.

News was received yesterday by Major Walsh, attached to the Victoria Volunteer Reserve, that his brother-in-law, Colonel Walker Powell, a veteran of the Riel Rebellion, passed away yesterday morning at his home in Ottawa.

Colonel Powell, who was 87 years of age, had an active career. He was appointed deputy adjutant-general of militia for Upper Canada in 1862, and was deputy adjutant-general for the Dominion—headquarters in 1868. In 1873 he was made acting adjutant-general. On his retirement in 1896 he was thanked in general orders for his important public services, particularly in connection with the Trent affair.

In connection with the withdrawal of the imperial troops from Canada in 1871, and the two rebellions in the northwest territory. He was recommended for a C. M. G. in 1885, and had much to do with the establishment of the Royal Military College, Kingston, being for some time president of the board of visitors. In 1887 he was sent on a trade mission to the Hawaiian islands. Having entered the First Regiment Norfolk Militia in 1847, he was the oldest officer in the volunteer militia in the whole Dominion.

Little sister had not been well and had been especially trying to small Johnny all day. Finally his patience came to an end. "Mother," he asked, "don't you want little sister to be a good wife like you when she grows up?" "Of course," said his mother. "Well, you make me give everything to her cause she's littler'n me. But you're littler'n father, and when he comes home you say—'Here's your slippers and magazine, dear'—and before his mother could move Johnny tore his train of care from the screaming baby. "If we don't begin to train her she'll be a terrible wife," he said as he slammed the door.

At a meeting of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. held yesterday it was decided to reduce the staff for the summer to the very smallest limits, consistent with the proper conduct of the building and the work without closing them down altogether. This meeting took the place of the regular monthly meeting.

Following out this line the services of the physical director, H. G. Beall, an engineer and one caretaker will be dispensed with for the summer months. This leaves four officers to carry on the work of the association in all its activities until the fall, and to do this they will have to depend upon the voluntary assistance of members.

The board discussed the situation in regard to the special appeal now being made to the public for subscriptions, which so far has not had as fruitful results as was hoped for. The number of persons appealed to runs into the thousands, but of these only eighty-three have contributed to the funds of the association, and while a greater part of what was subscribed has been paid in cash, the aggregate sum will not go far towards reducing the indebtedness it is now laboring under.

At a meeting of the guarantors it was agreed to wire to the Great West Life Assurance company a statement in regard to the result of the canvass so far, and to send to it the amount collected in part defrayal of the heavy arrears owing to that company.

The canvass will go on indefinitely until everyone in the city has an opportunity to do their share in aiding the association. The canvassers are not able to devote the whole of their time to the work, so that it takes a long time to get over the ground. It is hoped that by the time the entire community has been canvassed a sufficient sum will be subscribed to place the association in a secure position, and enable it to carry on its work among young men without having to cut down the staff as is now necessary.

"I hope you don't associate with that man I saw you speak to in the street just now." "Associate with him? What do you take me for? That man, sir, is one of the most rascally, corrupt, sneaking, underhand, low-down, villainous, and depraved scoundrels that ever managed to keep out of jail." "I know it. But why are you on speaking terms with him at all?" "Well, I'm—his lawyer."

SOOKE WATERSHED.

To the Editor—In view of the conference to be held between the city council and representatives of the E. & N. Ry. Co. to arrange terms of purchase of Sooke Lake watershed, which must necessarily be acquired, and at a time when all interested parties would find further liabilities extremely difficult to meet, I would respectfully suggest, in view of the many and valuable concessions granted to said company, namely, free water to their hotel, free taxes on same, the use of Store street for railway purposes, and numerous other concessions which need not be mentioned here, and also the fact that a pure water supply will greatly assist the said company, as well as the city in general, that strong representation be made to said company to grant title free of all cost to the city of Victoria for the said watershed.

CANADA'S BLIGHT.

To the Editor: Is it right and is it possible that a country like Canada, blessed so lavishly with nature's bounty, can be so mismanaged, so tinkered with, and robbed by its government that its sons will hesitate to speak of their nationality? It looks like it when its leaders will take advantage of their country in its time of trouble by enriching themselves at its expense.

'Tis a glorious charter, Deny it who can, When breathing the words: "I'm an Englishman!" We might forgive the mistakes, the shortcomings, the tinkering, but to steal from Canada now is like picking the pockets of our wounded soldiers, whilst you are pretending to succor them.

Magnificent harbors, waterways, soil, timber, fisheries, minerals, all in abundance; yet degrading poverty at our very doors.

While an immediate election would mean the "Restoration of honor," legislation, honesty instead of graft to the front, and free Canada from these corrupt pilfering governments, but at what cost?

Surely no government in the world has ever shown itself so utterly callous and depraved as to ask soldiers on the battlefield with the dead and dying round them to vote for this or that party in politics? I never heard of such a thing and I ask Canadians to at once stop such indecency for the credit of their country. I hope Kitchener will designate it "callous impudence," and he will. From a young and prosperous country where millions from all parts of the earth were flocking to harvest its resources, it is now a country people are flocking away from like rats on a drowning ship, away from destitution and misery in anger and disgust that men totally unfit are put into power, who misuse Canada for their own purposes, and that of their friends: It is, "You help me up, then I'll pull you up." This is the game played in Canada to-day. One rogue helping another.

DISGUSTED.

CAPTIVES' LIFE ON GERMAN LINER.

A passenger on board an English vessel which was captured by the Kron Prinz Wilhelm writes:

One morning about 10 o'clock smoke was seen on the horizon, and in no time the Kron Prinz Wilhelm was upon us. We had 10 minutes given us in which to pack, which packing having been done we hung about until 5 o'clock, when we boarded the K.V. We were on her four weeks, and were then shipped on to a collier, where we remained another week. We got into this port last night and were sent ashore at 8 o'clock with no luggage. I have been waiting all day for my things. They have 222 sailors and officers still on the collier in port, and the government will not let them land, and will not land our luggage either. We had a very bad time as prisoners. The worst was the night, as we were shut down below with no light, and the portholes screwed-down and covered with a cloth, and we were forbidden to open them or to lift the curtain. I was not nervous, but the others were. They were always expecting us to meet an English battleship and go into action, and since the commander has pledged himself not to give up the vessel, but to sink her, we should have gone down. Fortune-telling was a great amusement. I told many, and the first day we were there said we should either be prisoners five days or five weeks; we were just the five weeks. Betting was also a great pastime as to when we would get off. They used to bet me a bottle of beer we should go off in two days, and I used to bet 100 bottles to one we would not, and always won. The joke was, all had to drink water, as no wine or beer was given to us. To me it was one huge joke, and I did my best to help cheer up all the others. There was a very nice little Belgian officer on our boat who found great consolation in my words of the Germans. I was sorry for him. He was in the Congo when the war broke out and came home to find no trace of his mother and sisters, and he himself has lost tremendously through the war. I am of course very glad it is over, as we were only given second-class accommodation. All the first-class is filled up with coal. There is enough coal on the Kron Prinz to last six months. All the prisoners had the same accommodation, including the emigrants and crew, and we were shut down in a very small space, and with nothing open. The smell was awful, and there were bugs in the cabins, hundreds of them in some; as we had no light, we had to let them bite, but there were so many we caught them in the daytime too. I never want a like experience again.

LUSITANIA WONDER OF MARITIME WORLD Appearance of Cunard Liner Caused Race for Supremacy in Size of Liners Heralding a new type of vessel for the trans-Atlantic trade, the Lusitania was launched from John Brown's shipyards at Glasgow, in 1907.

Twenty-one days out from Sydney, N. S. W., the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Phillips, berthed at the outer docks yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Fine weather was encountered during the greater part of the voyage. After clearing from Auckland, N. Z., the big ship ran into heavy head winds.

The night after leaving Honolulu the wireless operators on the Makura picked up a radiogram from one of the coast stations which told of the "Lucy" into the trade, the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie held the record, and it was with a feeling of pain and sorrow that the Kaiser had to relinquish all claim to the coveted title.

The Lusitania was one of the first Atlantic liners to have turbine engines installed. She has two turbines and two reciprocating engines. She was designed for a speed of 25 knots, but had attained the remarkable speed of 26.3 knots for a short time. The Lusitania held the record for the shortest run, but some time ago her sister-ship, the Mauretania, snatched from her the honor of holding the west-bound record.

A certain major bought a horse from a dealer, and shortly afterwards the following conversation was heard: "You have swindled me with that horse you sold me last week? 'How so?' asked the dealer, very much surprised. 'Well, I only had him for three days when he died.' That's very strange, I owned him twenty-three years, and worked him hard every day, and never knew him to do a thing like that before."

MAKURA HAS SUMMER VOYAGE FROM SYDNEY Passengers Grieved Over Canadian Losses at the Front; Brought Performing Seals Twenty-one days out from Sydney, N. S. W., the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Phillips, berthed at the outer docks yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

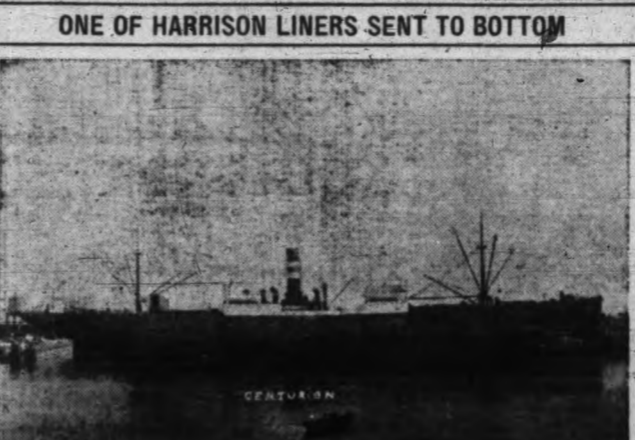

The Makura had nine first-class passengers for this port. The saloon passengers were as follows: Miss A. E. Gibson, Mrs. L. Tyndale, H. R. Colborne, Mrs. M. Marcellino, Master J. Marcellino, Miss M. Marcellino, E. K. Nott, Mrs. S. C. Nutt and T. S. Mitchell.

Stowed in the after well of the Makura was a troupe of performing seals, which has been traveling through Australia on the VAGUEVILLE stage. One of the seals is from a New Zealand rookery, while the others are from the Seal Rocks, in San Francisco bay. They left here about eight months ago on the Makura and having finished their contracts in the Antipodes the owner has brought them back to this continent to give performances.

CENTURION INAUGURATED HARRISON SERVICE HERE Both the Harrison liners which were sent to the bottom to-day by the underwater fighters of the German navy had sailed Victoria on similar occasions. Of the two probably the Centurion was the best known, as she inaugurated the Harrison direct service from Liverpool to Victoria in the spring of 1912. Since that time she has been here on two occasions.

San Francisco, May 7.—That English or American captives on Japanese boats playing residents of Reykjavik and Pacific coast ports will not be replaced by Japanese officers as a result of the new Seaman's bill was the inference drawn here to-day by the announcement that Captain Ernest Bell remains command of the Toyko Kisen Kaisha liner Tenyo Maru when it steams from San Francisco on its next voyage. The question of replacing British captains with Japanese officers was to have been decided at a meeting of company directors in Tokyo late in April, but no word of the action taken has reached here.

San Francisco, May 7.—Traffic through the Panama canal during March was considerably greater than for any preceding month. A total of 136 seagoing vessels passed, carrying 625,957 tons of cargo. This is between one-third and two-fifths more vessels than used the canal in any preceding month and 185,190 more tons of cargo, exceeding previous records by over forty per cent.

CONFER UPON ISSUE OF SOOKE WATERSHED

Much Additional Information Secured From Owners of Land Involved

The question of Sooke watershed was thoroughly canvassed by the city aldermen and representatives of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway this morning at a conference which lasted nearly two hours.

No decision, however, was reached, and the subject will be taken up again at a meeting of the council in committee. The object of the meeting today, following the visit paid to Sooke Lake on Tuesday, was to gain further information of the character of the watershed of the timber upon it, and a mass of detail which would be a guide to the price to be paid and the quantity of land to be taken. For this purpose Mr. Solly brought a timber cruiser, who was thoroughly familiar with the circumstances prevalent in the watershed, which approximates 15,000 acres, and over which few persons except cruisers and hunters have travelled.

All the members of the council were present except Alderman Okell, and the mayor expressed his satisfaction at the conclusion with the value of the knowledge gained in the discussion. There is not much business before the streets committee of the council today except with regard to the paving of the provinces of Canada. There is a special section set aside for the exhibition of British Columbia features, including an extensive mineral exhibit comprising 175 tons. This exhibit was at the exhibition at Ghent, Belgium.

There is in the exhibit an illustration of Vancouver harbor, Mr. Despard says. The arrangement of the Canadian exhibit has caused much pleased comment, and during the first days Mr. Despard said the place was crowded beyond capacity. The exhibit is laid in sections with a panoramic background, but so gradual and complete that it is very difficult to distinguish where the painting begins and ends, as apart from the objects, the farming, timber, coal and gold and other mining operations are shown, a model train with an engine two and one half feet in length always hauling grain to the prairie elevators, indicates the prosperity of the Dominion.

Mr. Despard says he met Commissioner Herbert Cuthbert and J. S. McCallum at the exhibition, and that they were engaged doing good work on the ground and in the city, spreading the advantages of the British Columbia capital among the visitors to the exhibition.

STRAWBERRY CROP PEST
Information to Be Diffused on Depredation of Weevil to Local Growers.

The discovery of the strawberry root weevil in the strawberry crop at Gordon Head, by R. C. Treherne, the Dominion entomologist in charge of the Agassiz field laboratory, will lead to a better part of the strawberry crop and R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturalist, to the Gordon Head district, to-morrow, and they will speak at a meeting of the Fruitgrowers' association this evening.

Mr. Treherne has made a special study of this evil (Othiorhynchus ovatus), and his investigations have shown that the control of the evil is dependent on cultural methods and the system of cropping. It is the intention of the experts to explain the situation to the growers, and the best means to combat same. A visit is also being paid to Keating, to meet the strawberry growers in that district, where similar explanations will be given. Mr. Winslow will speak on the Californian pear thrip.

PTE. ROSS CORBITT HAS BEEN WOUNDED

Lieut. Macdowall Wounded and a Prisoner; Pte. South in Wounded

In the most recent casualty list is the name of Pte. Ross Corbitt, who went from Victoria with the first Canadian Expeditionary force. Corbitt is wounded. A native of Toronto, Ont., the young soldier came here several years ago, and for some time was employed by the Grieg-Stein Co., now out of existence. In February, 1914, he joined Prince, Cairns & Jackson, being an employee of that firm until the declaration of war last August. He was about twenty-five years of age. He lived for some time at Craigdarroch Park, and for a short time at the Ritz hotel.

Pte. John H. South, R. E. No. 2, whose name appears in the list of wounded with the Fourteenth Battalion, Montreal, was born in British Columbia, and for some time lived in Victoria. More lately he went to Ladysmith, B. C., from there, however, going to Montreal to serve apprenticeship in some machine shop, preparatory to completing his training as an engineer.

A cablegram has been received by A. Rochfort, of this city, from Lieut. D'Oyly Rochfort, who left here with the Fifteenth Gordon Highlanders, stating that he is safe at Exeter, England. Lieut. Rochfort was with Major Lorne Ross, Capt. Ayer, Capt. Herriek McGregor, and others who were in the recent fighting, and is one of the few officers who escaped injury.

D. H. Macdowell, of this city, this morning received a cable from Sir Richard McBride stating that Colonel Hall had conveyed to him the information that Lieut. Macdowell, who enlisted with the 58th Fusiliers regiment and left here with the first Canadian Expeditionary forces, is wounded and in prison. Lieut. Macdowell was with the Seventh Battalion in the recent fighting at Ypres.

ELKS ENTERTAINED

Musical Selections Enliven Club Meeting; Fiancé Dance on May 27.

Eight new members were initiated at last night's meeting of the Elks in their club rooms at the Campbell block. After the general business had been transacted the members were entertained with band selections by Mr. Heater, while the Elks Trio rendered several very pleasing selections. Mr. Oswald presided at the piano and also sang several songs.

Judge Lampman has promised to address the Elks at their next meeting, a week from next Thursday night. The first fiancé dance will be given at the club rooms on May 27.

The late Mr. Fyfe was 62 years of age and resided at Beachy road, Oak Bay, for the past two years. He went about a fortnight ago to Vancouver on business, and while on the boat was seized with sudden illness which confined him to his room for about ten days in Vancouver. A few days ago he returned. It is probable that yesterday's fatal collapse was owing to the weakness subsequent to his recent illness.

A widow survives here; also a daughter, Mrs. Survery. The deceased had visited the city off and on for several years past, at first being a traveler for Messrs. Findlay, Smith & Company, of Montreal, and latterly for the Import Woolen company.

The remains will be shipped by the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver, for interment there, where a brother of the deceased resides.

MAKES AN APPEAL TO VICTORIA LADIES

Urgency of Helping the Unemployed Women is Presented

The Central Employment Bureau issues the following statement with regard to the women's department:

"The conditions revealed by the records taken in the women's department are as follows: 76 per cent. of the women registered are in immediate need of work; 42 per cent. having children or parents dependent on their earnings, 29 per cent. though without children, having husbands out of work, both husband and wife sustaining on casual employment quite inadequate to support them, the remaining 14 per cent. being women over 30 entirely dependent on their own earnings.

"Seventy-nine women are calling at this office more or less regularly seeking day-work. The greater number of these are unable, for various reasons, to be away from home at night.

"Cannot the ladies of Victoria provide work for these women? Many are economising by doing their own work, who, with perhaps a little sacrifice along other lines, might still employ help. Is it not a patriotic duty if they are compelled to subsist on charity, they will be permanently injured in efficiency, moral fibre and self-respect. Moreover a proportion of them will never rise again from the pauper class. While there is some gratification and some gain to the character of those giving charity, there is, beyond the temporary relief from fear of starvation, nothing but pain and lasting injury in its effect on the recipients.

"Will the women of Victoria rally to this call for self-denying service? For the sake of these other women who are struggling so desperately to keep their footing, will they not refrain from doing anything themselves that they can possibly afford to pay someone else to do? One hears of ladies who are still able to pay the old prices for labor, insisting on having it done for less because so many are out of work. If they will employ two women to do the work that used to be done by one, this is all right, the working women would themselves welcome any such plan. But, while one hesitates long before admitting that it can be possible, indications point to the existence of some; a very small minority, who are securing a pecuniary benefit from the misery and need of others less fortunately placed than themselves. Seeing that these women have to be bread-winners for their homes—where the men are out of work, they should, wherever it is possible, be paid the full wage. They, as well as the men, are unable to get the usual amount of work, therefore they need more money, not less, for the employment they can secure."

If it be a duty to respect other men's claims, so also it is a duty to maintain our own.—Herbert Spencer.

LUSITANIA ATTACKED WITHOUT WARNING

Great Ship Sank Quickly, Says Cunard Co.; Covered by Insurance

Liverpool, May 7.—The Cunard Company this afternoon issued the following statement: "The whole concern of the Cunard Company is for the safety of the passengers and crew. The material loss does not count, as it is covered by insurance."

The Lusitania was torpedoed without warning and sank almost immediately. It is known that a large number of large boats of the ship are afloat. Every effort is being made to obtain the fullest information, which will be published immediately upon receipt.

New York, May 7.—Late this afternoon the Cunard line made public the following dispatch from Liverpool: "Following received by admiralty: Lusitania, 4:20 p.m. Several boats, apparently survivors, southeast nine miles. A search is being made to assist."

London, May 7.—Several boatloads of survivors of the Lusitania now are being towed into Kinsale by a Greek steamship.

New York, May 7.—The weather is favorable for the work of rescuing the passengers, according to information contained in a cablegram received by the Cunard line from Queenstown. The message stated: "Weather here beautifully fine. Wind southeast, light."

Of the 1,253 passengers aboard, 490 were in the first cabin, 602 in the second and 361 in the steerage.

New York, May 7.—Some of the first-class passengers who sailed on the liner were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams, Boston; A. H. Adams, New York; W. M. Adams, New York; Miss Anna Allen, Montreal; Miss Gwen Allen and Maid, Montreal; M. N. Allen, New York; James Baker, England; Miss M. A. Baker, New York; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. B. Bartlett, London; J. J. WHEAT MARKET BROKE ON FOREIGN ADVICES

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Chicago, May 7.—The all-important influence in the wheat market was the sinking of the Lusitania. This news was received just as the market was weakening, and it proved a genuine bear influence, breaking prices three cents.

It was naturally a very nervous market, and surrounding factors in the domestic situation kept favorable to sellers. The export business of a million bushels or more at the seaboard yesterday is regarded as a set of a natural demand from abroad and discounted by the high price. Argentina is reporting bad weather and poor quality grain, but this is offset by shipments of five million bushels for the week. The official crop figures for May received at the close of yesterday's trading and bearish. Even Liverpool explains easier feeling due to belief in big official crop estimate on this side.

GERMANS HAVE LOST 60,000 SINCE MAY 1

Are Finding Operations in Western Galicia Costly; Big Battle Going on

Petrograd, May 7.—One of the greatest battles of the war is raging to-day in Galicia, in the region lying between the Carpathians and the Vistula river. At the same time the Germans have assumed the offensive at various points in Poland with the evident hope of preventing the Russians from sending reinforcements to the hard-pressed troops in Galicia.

A large portion of the vast Teutonic forces massed along the Donajec river is now at grips with a Slav army south of Jaslo. Still another Austro-German army has been sent to the northeast to attack Slav positions on the heights commanding Tarnow. South of Jaslo the Teutons are engaged in a strategic movement intended to cut off and encircle the Russian force in the region between Lupkow and Dukla passes.

Estimates received here to-day from Przemysl fix the German losses in Galicia alone, since May 1, at 60,000. The fighting progressing in Galicia is characterized by the war office as being "as bloody as any on the eastern front since the spring operations were started."

SEVEN LOST LIVES WHEN TRAWLER SANK

Grimsby, Eng., May 7.—The trawler Don was sunk in the North Sea on Thursday, seven members of her crew perishing, according to the survivors of the disaster who arrived here to-day. It is believed that the Don was a victim of a mine.

VIOLENT FIGHTING

Lemnos, May 7.—The fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula has been of the fiercest possible character. Up and down the rugged coast the tide of battle has ebbed and flowed, with the result that the allied troops have driven the Turks before them from Seddul Bahr and spanned the peninsula along the line of trenches some ten miles from its tip.

MUST SERVE FOURTEEN YEARS

Halesbury, Ont., May 7.—Tom Sykes, a German Pole, pleaded guilty yesterday to having lighted a fuse in an attempt to blow up the Nipissing Mining Company's powder magazine in February, thereby endangering the lives of hundreds of persons. He was sentenced to 14 years for lighting the fuse, 2 years for conspiracy and three months for theft of provisions, the sentences to run concurrently.

WILL TRY TO KILL ANOTHER

New York, May 7.—The letter-writing murderer who killed five-year-old Eleanor Cohn and four-year-old Charlie Murray, has written to the Murray boy's mother telling her that he will commit another murder when the present excitement over the child's death subsides.

GERMANS STILL OPTIMISTIC

Rome, May 7.—Final rejection by Austria of Italy's terms, with all indications pointing to immediate war, were reported here to-day in special dispatches from the frontier. The papers here displayed the dispatches in their biggest type, but despite this the optimism of the German embassy here seems undiminished.
