Explanation of Tables

Two enumerations were made of petroleum bulk stations and terminals (Standard Industrial Classification industry number 5092) in connection with the 1963 Census of Business. The first enumeration was conducted in 1962 in advance of the major part of the 1963 Business Census in order (a) to supply the Office of Oil and Gas, U.S. Department of Interior, information urgently needed for planning the allocation of petroleum products in case of national emergency, and (b) to distribute the workload over a longer period for both the reporting companies and the Bureau of the Census, thus facilitating the more efficient use of limited resources. This enumeration provided measures of gallonages sales, capacity, and inventories, by products, together with information on plant facilities.

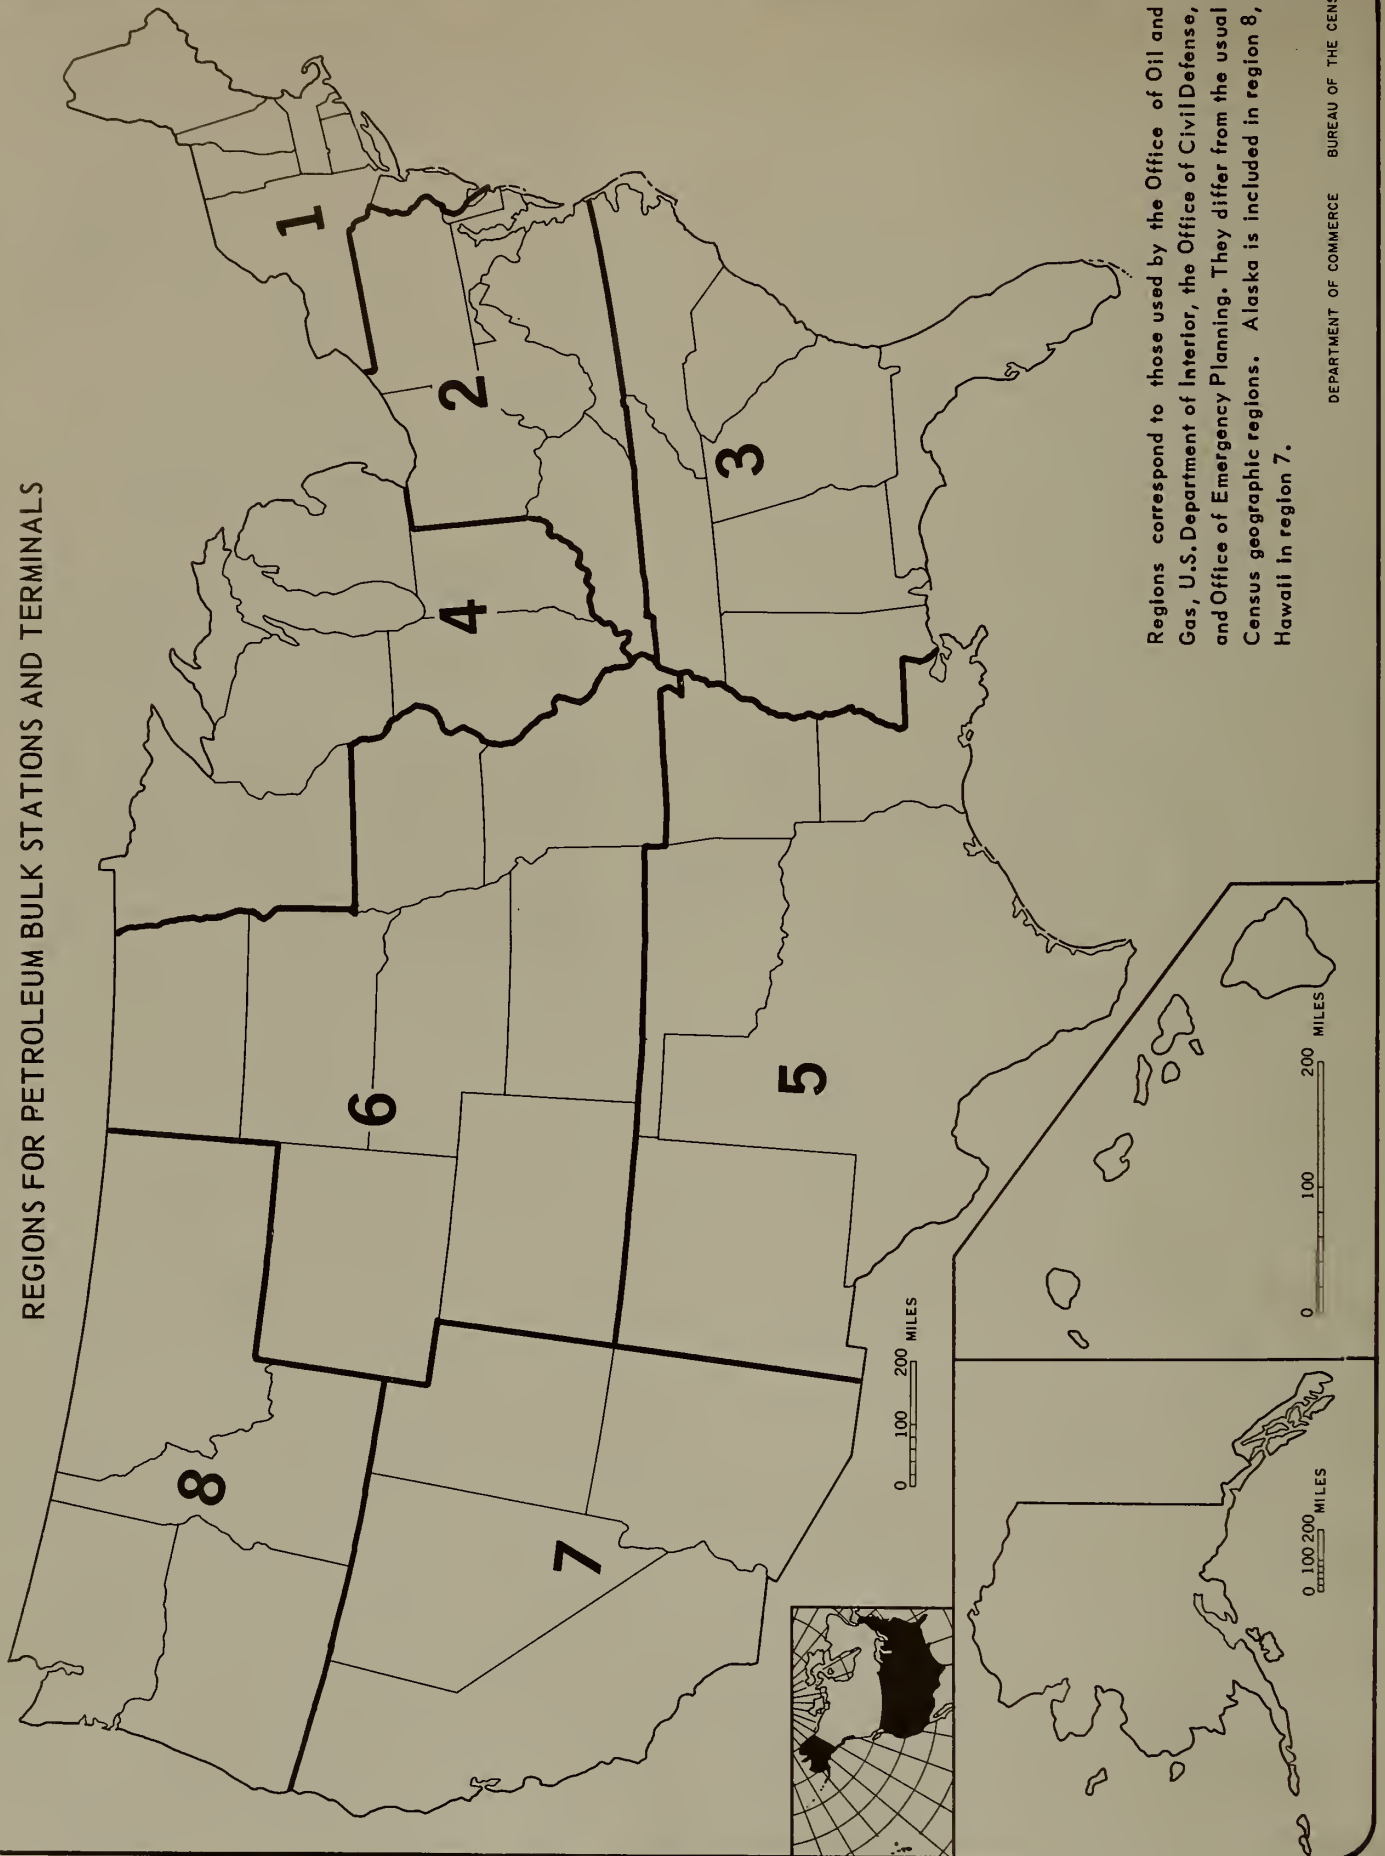

The second inquiry was conducted as part of the regular enumeration in 1964, and covered operations during the year 1963. This enumeration was designed to supplement, rather than repeat, items of information developed in 1962, as it measured dollar sales, payroll, and employment; inquiries common to other business census questionnaires. Capacity was measured in both enumerations.

The two enumerations differed to some extent, hence comparisons between the findings for the 2 years are qualified. The first covered all petroleum bulk station and terminal facilities operated in 1961, or in the first quarter of 1962 that were in the business in 1958, plus new (since 1958) facilities in existence in 1962 that were operated by companies which had one or more bulk stations or terminals in 1958. Not covered in 1962 were facilities constructed after 1958 and operated by companies who had no bulk stations nor terminals in 1958. The second enumeration included all facilities operated at any time during the year 1963.

The reporting unit differed slightly between the two enumerations as "relay or lock-up" points (product storage facilities without employees) were reported separately in 1962 but in 1963 they were included with bulk plants of which they were a part. This latter tended to overstate the number of bulk stations in 1962 as compared with 1963, or earlier censuses.

Results of the 1962 enumeration were published in a separate report of the 1963 Census of Business under the title "Petroleum Bulk Stations and Terminals" (BC63-WS6). The tables of that report are reproduced in this chapter—tables 7 through 14. Tables 1 through 6 present information developed in the regular enumeration, 1963.

REGIONS FOR PETROLEUM BULK STATIONS AND TERMINALS

Regions correspond to those used by the Office of Oil and Gas, U.S. Department of Interior, the Office of Civil Defense, and Office of Emergency Planning. They differ from the usual Census geographic regions. Alaska is included in region 8, Hawaii in region 7.

PROVISIONS OF LAW RELATING TO THE 1963 CENSUS OF BUSINESS

(From Title 13 United States Code)

SECTION 131. The Secretary shall take, compile, and publish censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades, service establishments, and transportation (exclusive of means of transportation for which statistics are required by law to be filed with, and are compiled and published by, a designated regulatory body), in the year 1954 and every fifth year thereafter, and each such census shall relate to the year immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, That the censuses of manufactures, of mineral industries, and of other businesses, including the distributive trades and service establishments, directed to be taken in the year 1954 relating to the year 1953 shall be taken instead in the year 1955 relating to year 1954.

SECTION 191. (a) Each of the censuses authorized by this chapter (other than censuses of population) shall include each State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and as may be determined by the Secretary, such other possessions and areas over which the United States exercises jurisdiction, control, or sovereignty. Censuses of population shall include all geographic areas referred to in the preceding sentence. Inclusion of other areas over which the United States exercises jurisdiction or control shall be subject to the concurrence of the Secretary of State.

(b) For censuses taken in the Virgin Islands, Guam, or any possession or area not specifically designated in (a) above, the Secretary may utilize or adopt census data collected by the Governor or highest ranking Federal official, when such data are obtained in accordance with plans prescribed or approved by the Secretary.

SECTION 224. Whoever, being the owner, official, agent, person in charge, or assistant to the person in charge, of any company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or organization of any nature whatsoever, neglects or refuses, when requested by the Secretary or other authorized officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, whether such request be made by registered mail, by certified mail, by telegraph, by visiting representative, or by one or more of these methods, to answer completely and correctly to the best of his knowledge all questions relating to his company, business, institution, establishment, religious body, or other organization, or to records or statistics in his official custody, contained on any census or other schedule prepared and submitted to him under the authority of this title, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than sixty days, or both; and if he willfully gives a false answer to any such question, he shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 9. (a) Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, may, except as provided in section 8 of this title—

(1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or

(2) make any publication whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual under this title can be identified; or

(3) permit anyone other than the sworn officers and employees of the Department or bureau or agency thereof to examine the individual reports.

Appendix B

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Active proprietors of unincorporated businesses—These data are computed by crediting sole proprietorships with one proprietor and partnerships with two proprietors for all such businesses operated at any time during 1963.

Administrative offices and auxiliaries—See “Central administrative offices and auxiliaries servicing wholesale establishments.”

Bad debt losses—Respondents were instructed to report the amount of receivables written off during 1963 as uncollectable.

Bin space—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Brokerage or commissions received—Merchandise agents and brokers were instructed to report the amount of brokerage or commissions received on transactions negotiated for the account of others during 1963. The amounts are included in the tables under the heading “Operating expenses (including payroll),” footnoted accordingly.

Central administrative offices and auxiliaries servicing wholesale establishments—A central administrative office is an establishment primarily engaged in general administrative, supervisory, purchasing, accounting, and related management functions performed centrally for establishments of the same company. An auxiliary is an establishment primarily engaged in performing supporting functions of a service nature for establishments of the same company, rather than for the general public. Examples of auxiliaries are: Storage warehouses; garages; repair shops; research, development, and testing laboratories.

Commission bulk stations—See “Petroleum terms.”

Commodity-line sales—See “Sales terms.”

Cooperatives—See “Form of organization.”

Cooperative bulk stations—See “Petroleum terms.”

Cooperative grain elevators—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Corporations—See “Form of organization.”

Country grain elevators—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Employment and payroll terms:

Employment size—Analyses of wholesale trade by employment size provide data for a maximum of 13 employment-size groups of establishments, based upon the number of paid employees during the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1963. Active proprietors and partners of unincorporated businesses were not regarded as employees in determining the employment size of establishments. These employment-size groups are as follows:

- 1 paid employee
- 2 paid employees
- 3 paid employees
- 4 or 5 paid employees
- 6 or 7 paid employees
- 8 or 9 paid employees
- 10 to 14 paid employees
- 15 to 19 paid employees
- 20 to 49 paid employees
- 50 to 99 paid employees
- 100 to 499 paid employees
- 500 to 999 paid employees
- 1,000 paid employees or more

Establishments with one paid employee or more sometime during the year, but none during the workweek ended nearest November 15, are included in the “1 paid employee” size class.

Payroll, entire year—Payroll includes salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, and vacation allowances paid during the year to all employees. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners of unincorporated businesses. Payroll is reported before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, dues, etc. Payroll is not limited to “taxable” payroll as reported on IRS Form 941.

Payroll, workweek ended nearest November 15—This item consists of payroll, as defined above, paid to persons on the payroll in the pay period ended nearest November 15, 1963. Establishments with a pay period other than a week were requested to adjust the figures to a weekly basis.

Paid employees, workweek ended nearest November 15—Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll for the workweek ended nearest November 15. Traveling salesmen are counted as employees of establishments from which they operate or are controlled.

Establishment—An establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted. An establishment is not necessarily identical with the “company” or “enterprise” which may consist of one or more establishments. Census of business figures represent a summary of reports for individual “establishments” rather than “companies.” (Enterprise Statistics reports, Series ES, will be issued at a later date covering the censuses of business, manufactures, and mineral industries.) A separate report was obtained for each location where business was conducted, including each location of multiunit organizations. Each report was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted.

Where two activities or more were carried on at a single location under a single ownership, all activities generally were grouped together as a single establishment, and the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity, with all data for it included in that classification. However, separate establishment reports for each of the different activities were reported in the census where (1) distinct and separate economic activities (for which different industry classification codes were appropriate) were conducted under the same ownership at a single location, and (2) where conditions prescribed by the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual<sup>1</sup> for recognizing the existence of more than one establishment were met.

The “number of establishments” shown in this report is the number in business at the end of the census year.

Form of organization—Each establishment included in the 1963 Census of Business was classified into one of the following legal forms of organization:

Individual proprietorships—These are establishments owned by one person.

Partnerships—These are establishments owned by two persons or more each of whom has a financial interest in the business.

Corporations—These are establishments other than cooperatives owned by an organization or company legally incorporated under State laws.

Cooperative associations—These are establishments owned by an association of customers of the establishment, whether or not they are incorporated. In general, the distinguishing features of a cooperative are patronage dividends based on the volume of expenditures by the members, and a limitation of one vote per member regardless of the amount of stock owned. The establishments are open to the public as a rule, but are patronized primarily by members of the association operating the business.

Other legal forms—These are establishments whose legal form of organization is not one of those defined above. Included in this group are estates, receiverships, joint ventures, etc.

Grain elevators—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Independent bulk stations—See “Petroleum terms.”

Independent country elevators—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Individual proprietorships—See “Form of organization.”

Inventories (end of year) at cost—Inventories consist of stocks of merchandise for sale at the end of the year, at cost value rather than at sale price. Inventories are reported on an ownership basis and all merchandise owned by reporting establishments are included, even though some may be held by others for sale on consignment. Goods owned by others are not included.

Legal form of organization—See “Form of organization.”

Line elevators—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Liquefied petroleum (LP) gas stations—See “Petroleum terms.”

Multiunits—See “Single units and multiunits.”

Operating expenses (including payroll)—Operating expenses include payroll as well as other overhead expenses of the establishments and a prorata share of any general office expense, but the term does not include the cost of merchandise purchased for sale, nor income or excise taxes. Any withdrawals by owners or part owners of unincorporated businesses are not included.

For merchandise agents and brokers, entries under column heading "operating expenses" represent the amount of brokerage or commissions received during 1963 on sales, or purchases, of merchandise for the account of others, rather than total expenses incurred by them.

Paid employees—See "Employment and payroll terms."

Partnerships—See "Form of organization."

Payroll—See "Employment and payroll terms."

Petroleum terms:

Petroleum bulk stations—These are establishments primarily engaged in marketing gasoline, kerosene, distillate and residual fuel oils and having bulk storage capacity of up to 2,100,000 gallons. They receive their supplies primarily by truck, transport, or rail—rather than by tanker, barge, or pipeline—and are primarily engaged in marketing products to retailers, to industrial accounts, and to farmers. Bulk stations located at refineries are included when they are operated as separate establishments.

Bulk stations are classified on the basis of ownership and method of operations as independent, commission, salary, or cooperative. Data are shown separately for each type of bulk station in table 2 of chapter 6.

The terms "bulk station" and "bulk plant" are used synonymously in this report.

Independent (single unit) bulk stations—These are bulk stations owned and operated independently by other wholesale establishments. This classification does, however, include bulk stations operated under the same ownership with retail service stations if the company operates only one bulk station. It does not include bulk stations owned and operated as cooperatives (see below).

Commission bulk stations—These are owned by multiunit concerns (firms operating more than one bulk station) but are operated by a commission agent who has a proprietary interest in the business. Operators of these stations generally are paid commissions and have responsibility for the payment of various overhead costs, delivery expenses, and payroll.

Salary bulk stations—These are bulk stations owned and operated by multiunit organizations on other than a commission basis.

Cooperative bulk stations—These are bulk stations (single unit or multiunit) owned and operated by cooperative associations. Many of these establishments are primarily engaged in selling petroleum products to farmers.

Petroleum terminals—Included here are two classes of facilities engaged in marketing gasoline, kerosene, and distillate and residual fuel oils: (1) All facilities having total bulk storage capacity of 2,100,000 gallons or more, and (2) facilities of smaller capacity which receive their supplies primarily by tanker, barge, or pipeline.

Liquefied petroleum (LP) gas stations—Stations and terminals with bulk storage capacity and primarily engaged in selling liquefied petroleum (LP) gas to dealers, wholesale distributors, or to industrial and commercial accounts (including Government and military).

"Refiner-marketer" or "other" ownership—Petroleum bulk stations and terminals are also classified on the basis of ownership either as "refiner-marketer bulk stations, terminals" or as "other bulk stations, terminals." "Refiner-marketer bulk stations, terminals" are owned and operated by petroleum refining companies primarily for marketing their products, and in this respect are similar to manufacturers' sales branches. "Other bulk stations, terminals" are marketing facilities not owned by, or affiliated with, organizations maintaining refineries.

Storage capacity—Storage capacity represents the bulk storage capacity (shell or water capacity) at establishments primarily engaged in marketing refinery products and LP gas at wholesale. Establishments operated as bulk stations or bulk terminals and located at refineries are included where they are operated as separate establishments. Facilities operated as integral parts of refineries are not included. Space in pipelines, tankers, tank cars, tank farms, public warehouses, and space leased to governmental agencies, including the military, is not included. Storage capacity is measured as of December 31, 1963.

Proprietors—See "Active proprietors."

Receivables—Accounts and notes derived from the sale of merchandise and services, and outstanding on the books of reporting companies—before deducting reserves for bad-debt losses—as of the end of the year. Receivables sold to banks, factors, etc., are excluded.

Refiner marketer—See "Petroleum terms."

Refrigerator space—See "Warehouse and storage space terms."

Sales terms:

Sales—Sales include merchandise sold, and receipts from repairs and from other services to customers, whether or not payment was received in 1963. Sales are net of deductions for refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Total sales exclude amounts other than those received from customers, such as income from investments, rental of real estate, etc. They do include local and State sales taxes and Federal excise taxes collected by the wholesale establishment directly from customers and paid directly by the wholesale establishment to a local, State, or Federal tax agency. Gasoline, liquor, tobacco, and other excise taxes paid by the manufacturer and passed along to the wholesaler are also included.

Sales do not include wholesale sales made by manufacturers, retailers, service establishments, and other businesses whose primary activity is other than wholesale trade. They do, however, include receipts other than from the sale of merchandise at wholesale (e.g., service receipts, retail sales, etc.) by establishments primarily engaged in wholesale trade.

Although the count of establishments in this volume represents the number in business at the end of the year, the sales figures include sales of all establishments in business at any time during the year. Sales shown for agents and brokers represent the value of the goods involved in the transactions rather than commissions received or earnings.

Sales by class of customer—Sales of merchant wholesalers, manufacturers' sales branches and sales offices, merchandise agents and brokers, and assemblers of farm products are analyzed according to customer classes as outlined below.

Sales to industrial, commercial, etc., users—While the wording of the inquiry varied to some extent by reporting form, respondents were instructed to report under this classification the approximate percentage of their total sales, 1963, to industrial, commercial, professional, institutional, and governmental users, public utilities, railroads, restaurants, hotels, contractors, builders, and similar types of business concerns that normally buy for business use rather than for resale of the goods in the form purchased.

Sales to contractors and builders are measured separately for establishments in the lumber and building materials trades and in the electrical goods trades. Also in the electrical goods trades, sales to public utilities and those to governmental bodies are measured separately.

These variations from the general pattern are identified in footnotes to the tables.

Sales to consumers and farmers—Instructions provided for reporting under this classification sales to household consumers, to farmers, and to individual users, including sales to the respondent's own employees.

Sales to retailers—Instructions provided for reporting here sales to retailers of all types (retail multiunit organizations, independent stores, department stores, cooperative stores, etc.). Sales of food and related products to restaurants, however, are included under "sales to industrial, commercial, etc., users," not here.

Forms used in enumerating establishments in the automotive and electrical goods trades provided for reporting sales to repair shops separately. Such sales are included under "sales to retailers" but identified separately in footnotes.

Export sales—Instructions provided for including sales made direct to buyers in foreign countries or through their agents in this country. U.S. firms operating foreign branches were instructed to include any transfers from the United States to such branches. Sales to buyers in U.S. possessions are not considered as export sales.

Coverage and limitations of class-of-customer data—Recognizing the fact that not all wholesale firms maintain records of their sales by customer classes, respondents were instructed to report in terms of percentage of their 1963 sales, rather than exact dollar sales. Instructions further provided that where book figures were not available, respondents were to provide their best possible approximations. As may be determined by a comparison of the data in the two sales columns of the tables, not all respondents reported on this basis. The first sales column of tables in chapter 4 of this volume covers all establishments in the classification, including those not analyzing their sales; whereas, the second is limited to sales of those reporting the analysis. Coverage for any classification is measured by the relationship between the two sales figures. Data are generally withheld for classification in which coverage is less than 70 percent.

Class-of-customer data contain an element of judgment; hence, are not as accurate as information readily available from company financial statements. The results, however, represent a combination of information from company records, and information based on judgment of those most familiar with the subject.

Sales by commodity lines or product classes
—See “Explanation of Commodity Line Tables” in the introduction to chapter 8 of this volume.

Sales size—In the 1963 Census of Business, wholesale trade analyses by sales size are designed to provide data for a maximum of 11 sales-size groups for establishments operated the entire year. For the purpose of these tabulations, an establishment is classified as an entire-year business if it operated 10 or more months during the year and was in operation at the end of the year. Seasonal establishments, which normally operate for only a part of the year, are treated as “entire year” or “not entire year” on the basis of the length of time the establishments were owned rather than the length of time they were open for business during the census year.

For purposes of sales-size tabulations, the entire-year establishments have been classified into sales-size groups depending on the value of sales and receipts reported for the year 1963. These sales-size groups are as follows:

$20,000,000 or more
$15,000,000 to $19,999,000
$10,000,000 to $14,999,000
$5,000,000 to $9,999,000
$2,000,000 to $4,999,000
$1,000,000 to $1,999,000
$500,000 to $999,000
$300,000 to $499,000
$200,000 to $299,000
$100,000 to $199,000
Less than $100,000

As the class interval descriptions indicate, the establishments were classified by sales-size group after the reported sales and receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. Each report was rounded by striking off the hundred, tens, and unit digits from the reported dollars. One, representing one thousand dollars, was then added to half of the reports.

Single units and multiunits—An establishment was classified as a single unit if it was operated by a firm which operated only one wholesale trade establishment in the United States. An establishment was classified as a part of a multiunit firm if the firm operated more than one wholesale establishment in the United States. Two or more wholesale establishments under the same ownership constituted a multiunit regardless of the kind of business or type of operation of the establishments.

The following single-unit, multiunit groupings are used in these tabulations:

Single Units:

1 establishment

Multiunits:

2 establishments

3 to 5 establishments

6 to 10 establishments

11 to 25 establishments

26 to 50 establishments

51 establishments or more

Standard Industrial Classification (SIC)—This is a classification system developed under the auspices of the Federal Bureau of the Budget. Reference: “Standard Industrial Classification Manual,” Executive Office of the President, Bureau of the Budget, 1957, and supplements.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA)

Storage capacity—See “Petroleum terms.”

Terminal grain elevator—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Warehouse floor space—See “Warehouse and storage space terms.”

Warehouse and Storage Space terms:

Occupiable warehouse floor space—This item measures under-roof floor space—occupied or unoccupied—of wholesale establishments, excluding space occupied by interior walls, permanent aisles, elevator shafts, stairways, offices, receiving and stripping platforms, etc. Floor space was measured as of the end of the year.

Refrigerated space—Net piling space, 50° F. or below, for storing commodities. This is inside space measured from wall to wall and from floor to ceiling, less space for ventilation (outside of piling), coils, aisles, posts, sprinklers, etc. Refrigerated space is measured for the food and related trades only.

Bin space—Rated bin capacity, in bushels, for storing loose grain.

Coverage and limitation of warehouse floor space data—Each of the warehouse floor space tables is divided into three parts, as follows:

The first part, consisting of three data columns, presents information on the number of establishments, sales, and inventories for all establishments, including any without warehouses or storage space.

The second part, consisting of seven data columns, in tables 1 to 5 and four columns in tables 6 and 7, presents information for establishments reporting 500 or more square feet of floor space. This portion of the table provides the means for relating inventories and sales to warehouse space for the various types of operation.

The third part, consisting of three columns, shows the number, sales, and inventories of establishments not reporting as much as 500 square feet of warehouse floor space, or not supplying answers to this inquiry. This part of the table encompasses several classes of establishments. Included, for example, are small businesses and those whose merchandise was of such a nature as to require little warehousing. Also included are establishments who normally do not carry stocks, establishments that rely on the services of public warehouses rather than providing their own space, and establishments handling goods not normally requiring under-roof floor space. Finally, establishments that might have maintained warehouse floor space at the end of 1963 but failed to record it on the census form are included here. No distinction among these various classes is made in the table.

Space data as recorded in the tables are somewhat less than they would have been had all establishments reported on this inquiry. Moreover, had wholesale establishments reported all space controlled by them, the amount would have been short of that required to warehouse all goods in wholesale trade, as some stocks are located in public warehouses, some are held in bond, some are in transit, and some are in producers' warehouses awaiting delivery.

Table 7, chapter 5—This table covers only the wholesale food and related products trades—food wholesalers, sales branches of food processors, food brokers and agents, and assemblers of edible farm products. It is limited to information for establishments reporting 500 or more cubic feet of cold storage space.

Country grain elevators—These are distinguished from terminal grain elevators in that they buy grain direct from farmers, delivered primarily in trucks or wagons. Included here are establishments handling grain through properties commonly referred to as "elevators" and which are primarily engaged in buying and selling grain or in buying and assembling grain for shipment to central markets. Many country grain elevators sell feed, seed, fertilizer, and other supplies to farmers in addition to buying and shipping grain. Establishments primarily engaged in selling supplies to farmers are classified as retail establishments and are not included here.

Country grain elevators are classified as independent, line, or cooperative elevators.

Independent country elevators—These are country elevators operated by firms, other than cooperatives, with only one such establishment during the census year.

Line elevators—These are distinguished from independent country elevators in that two or more are operated by the same ownership.

Cooperative elevators—These are country grain elevators owned and operated cooperatively by farmers.

Terminal grain elevators—These are elevators with sizable storage space selling grain received primarily by rail or barge rather than direct from farmers via truck or wagon.

Terms denoting size:

Employment size—Establishments are classified by size according to the number of paid employees as of November 15, 1963. Owners of unincorporated businesses, even though they may have been actively engaged in the business, were not counted as paid employees in determining employment size, nor was their compensation included in payroll. Establishments with no paid employees during the workweek ended November 15, 1963, are included in the smallest employment-size bracket.

Revenue size—Establishments are classified by revenue size in 1963. For the tables in this volume, revenue figures were rounded to thousands of dollars before establishing the size classifications.

Space size—Household goods warehousing establishments and general warehousing and storage establishments are classified by square feet of space, refrigerated warehousing establishments by cubic feet of space, and food locker establishments are classified by size based upon number of individual lockers installed.

In all size tabulations, establishments which did not operate for the entire year were not classified into size groups. Separate data are shown for these establishments.

Appendix C

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS

Wholesale trade, as defined in major group 50 of the 1957 edition of the SIC Manual and its supplement<sup>1</sup> issued in 1963, and as covered in the census, includes establishments primarily engaged in selling merchandise to retailers; to institutional, industrial, commercial, and professional users; or to other wholesalers; or in negotiating as agents in buying merchandise for or selling merchandise to such persons or companies. Importers selling merchandise at wholesale in the U.S. market and exporters are included in wholesale trade.

Establishments covered by the census were assigned a kind-of-business classification in accordance with the SIC code. However, because in some instances a more detailed classification is required for census purposes than is available in the SIC, additional kinds of business have been identified by the Bureau of the Census within the SIC categories.

It should be noted that kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications. Most businesses sell a number of kinds of commodities. The kind-of-business code assigned generally reflects either the individual commodity or commodity group which is the primary source of the establishment's receipts or some mixture of commodities which characterizes the establishment's business. Thus, the classification of establishments by kind of business generally does not make it possible to determine either the number of establishments handling a particular commodity or the sales of that commodity.

For example, the "groceries and related products" classification excludes establishments selling some food if the sale of food is not the primary source of receipts; moreover, even though establishments are classified in "groceries and related products" some of their receipts may be derived from the sale of non-food products.

An indication of the extent to which commodities are handled by different kinds of business will be published in Series BC63-WS, Commodity Line Sales.

The data in this report for a number of SIC groups have been subdivided, making it necessary to arrive at SIC major group totals by addition. The SIC system provides for grouping all wholesale establishments into 38 classifications. However, the census, while observing the SIC classifications, identifies an additional 21 major kinds of business. These 59 classifications are further subdivided in some tabulations to show information for a total of 140 individual kinds of business as indicated below. Classifications which are subdivisions of SIC industries are separately listed but are described only when clarification is required.

MOTOR VEHICLES, AUTOMOTIVE EQUIPMENT (SIC 501)

Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of new and used passenger automobiles and other vehicles, automotive parts and accessories, equipment for filling stations and garages, and tires and tubes for passenger and commercial vehicles.

Automobiles, other motor vehicles (SIC 5012)

—Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of new and used passenger automobiles and other motor vehicles. Dealers primarily engaged in selling road-type commercial trucks, truck-tractors, truck-trailers, buses, semitrailers, and related vehicles are included. (Automotive establishments primarily engaged in selling at retail to individual consumers for personal use and also selling a limited number of new and used passenger automobiles and trucks at wholesale are classified in retail trade.)

New and used automobiles (SIC 5012 part).

Trucks, tractors; road type (SIC 5012 part).

Automotive equipment (SIC 5013)—Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of new and used automotive parts and accessories, and filling station and garage service equipment. Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale sale of tires and tubes are classified in "Tires, tubes" (SIC 5014).

Tires and tubes (SIC 5014)—Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of tires and tubes for passenger and commercial vehicles.

DRUGS, CHEMICALS, ALLIED PRODUCTS (SIC 502)

Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of drugs, drug proprietaries, druggists' sundries, and toiletries; paints and varnishes in paste or powder form or ready for use; and chemicals and allied products, not elsewhere classified, such as acids, ammonia, industrial and heavy chemicals, dye-stuffs, industrial salts, insecticides, naval stores, plastic materials, rosin, and turpentine. Establishments primarily engaged in distributing ammunition and fireworks at wholesale are classified in "Amusement, sporting goods" (part of SIC 5099).

Drugs, drug proprietaries, druggists' sundries (SIC 5022)—Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of drugs, drug proprietaries, druggists' sundries and toiletries. Surgical, medical, and hospital supply houses are classified in "Professional equipment, supplies" (SIC 5086).

General-line drug wholesalers (SIC 5022 part).—These are distinguished from specialty-line drug and toiletries wholesalers on the basis of their commodity-line mix. Drug wholesalers were classified as general line if they reported a substantial portion of their sales on "Pharmaceuticals, antibiotics, druggists' chemicals, biologicals, botanicals" and "Proprietary products, toiletries, druggists' sundries", and if annual sales volume was $1 million or more. Other drug and related products distributors were classified as "Specialty-line pharmaceutical, cosmetics, toiletries" (SIC 5022 part).

Paints, varnishes (SIC 5028)—Establishments primarily engaged in the wholesale distribution of paints and varnishes in paste or powder form or ready for use. Glass and wallpaper are frequently handled as important secondary lines.

1963 CENSUS OF BUSINESS
MANUFACTURERS' SALES BRANCHES AND SALES OFFICES
FOOD, TOBACCO, AND KINDRED PRODUCTS

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Please complete and return this form in the envelope provided.

If filing by the due date causes undue burden, a request for extension should be directed to the Jeffersonville Census Operations Office, Jeffersonville, Indiana.

This report should cover only the establishment identified in the address block.

If calendar year records are not available, fiscal year reports for periods ending between October 31, 1963 and February 29, 1964 are acceptable.

If book figures are not available, enter your best estimates.

A separate report is required on this form for each sales branch and sales office operated during 1963. Each sales office without stock should be reported separately as well as each sales branch carrying stocks of merchandise from which deliveries are made to customers. Sales branches and sales offices located at plants or administrative offices should be reported on this form where separate records are available, or if substantially accurate reports can be prepared. Employment, payroll, inventories, and operating expenses reported here should not be included in manufacturer's plant reports (MC series). Sales, however, will to some extent duplicate shipments on your plant reports.

Only sales branches and sales offices as described above should be reported on this form, as separate reports are required for other establishments (plants, retail stores, or other places of business) of this organization.
