

SITUATION

- UNCHR reports that the number of Syrians seeking refuge outside the country has reached ca. 1,610,000. As hostilities intensify along the borders, the influx of refugees into neighbouring countries continues, with Lebanon receiving the largest numbers in the past week.
- In addition, 4.25 million Syrians are currently internally displaced according to UN Agencies and NGOs. Of these, 1.25 million concentrate in Aleppo and 705,200 in rural Damascus. The UN Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) also reports that approximately 235,000 Palestinian refugees are displaced in Syria. Humanitarian aid organisations also warn about the widespread disruption of healthcare services in the country.
